New Deal n the New Deal the plan to reform the US economy after the Great Depression, introduced by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

♥ THE NEW DEAL

Before he became president, Franklin D. Roosevelt promised "a new deal for the American people" that aimed to end the effects of the Great Depression. This promise became the New Deal (1933-1940), a huge program of social and economic reforms. Laws were passed to control the banking system and the financial markets, to protect the rights of labor unions, to give assistance to the poor and unemployed, and to build cheap housing.

New Delhi [-'deli] the capital of India, part of the city of Delhi.

New England a region of the northeastern USA, including the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Connecticut. It was one of the first parts of America to be settled by Europeans, and contains many Ivy League colleges.

New Englander [-'ɪŋɡləndə] n a person who comes from or lives in New England.

newfangled [nju:'fæŋɡld] adj [idea, gadget] that is new but unnecessarily complicated (disappointing use).

new-found adj [energy, confidence] that has been recently discovered, or discovered again □ She has a new-found sense of pride in her ability.

Newfoundland ['nju:fəndlənd] a province of eastern Canada, on the Atlantic, consisting of the island of Newfoundland and the coast of Labrador to the north. ABBREVIATION: NF. SIZE: 406,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 568,474 (Newfoundlanders). CAPITAL: Saint John's.

New Guinea a large island in the Pacific Ocean, north of Australia. The west part (West Irian) belongs to Indonesia, and the east part is the Independent State of Papua New Guinea. SIZE: 800,000 sq kms.

New Hampshire [-'hæmpʃə] a small state in the northeastern USA, on the Atlantic coast. It is famous for its attractive scenery. ABBREVIATION: NH. SIZE: 24,000 sq kms. POPULATION:

- 1,109,252 (New Hampshire). CAPITAL: Concord.
- New Haven [-'heɪvn] the largest city in Connecticut, USA. It is a major port, and Yale University is situated there. POPULATION: 130,474.
- New Jersey a state in the eastern USA, on the Atlantic coast, south of New York. It is heavily industrialized, and the most densely populated state in the USA. ABBREVIATION: NJ. SIZE: 19,479 sq kms. POPULATION: 7,730,188 (New Jerseyites). CAPITAL: Trenton. MAIN CITY: Newark.
- newly ['nju:lɪ] adv newly qualified/painted etc recently qualified/painted etc.
- newlyweds ['nju:lɪwedz] npl a couple who have recently gotten married □ The newlyweds left on their honeymoon.
- New Mexico a state in the southwestern USA, containing many mountainous and desert areas. ABBREVIATION: NM. SIZE: 315,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,515,069 (New Mexicans). CAPITAL: Santa Fe.
- new moon n the moon at the beginning of its four-week cycle, when it is very thin.
- New Orleans [US nu:'ɔ:lɔɪnz, GB ,nju:'ɔ:lɔɪnz] a major port and commercial center in Louisiana, USA. It is famous for its jazz and blues music, and for its annual carnival. POPULATION: 496,938.
- news [nju:z] n -1. information about recent events □ a piece or bit of news □ Have you heard the news about Mary? □ I have some good/bad news for you. □ News is coming in of riots in L.A. □ Mark wrote telling me all his news. ■ that's news to me a phrase used to say one did not know something and is a little annoyed at not being told it sooner. ■ to break the news to sb to tell sb some bad news □ I had to break the news of his father's death to him. -2. RADIO & TV the news a program on the radio or television that reports recent important events □ I heard about the earthquake on the news. □ His arrest made the 6 o'clock news. □ a news broadcast/report. ■ to be in the news to be mentioned a lot in newspapers, on television etc □ McLeod? Yes, he's been in the news a lot recently.
- news agency n an organization that collects news and sells it to newspapers, magazines, television companies etc.
- newsagent ['nju:zeɪdʒənt], newsagent's n GB a store where newspapers, magazines, candy, cigarettes etc are sold.
- news blackout n an order issued by a government or military authority, forbidding the reporting of news from a particular place or about a particular event.
- news bulletin n a short program of news on the radio or television.
- newscast [US 'nu:zkæst, GB 'nju:zkɑ:st] n a news program on the radio or television.
- newscaster [US 'nu:zkæstr, GB 'nju:zkɑ:stə] n a person who reads the news on the radio or television.
- news conference n a meeting held by an official or a famous person to answer journalists' questions □ The President held/called a news conference.
- New Scotland Yard n the headquarters of the Metropolitan Police, the police force in London.
- newsdealer ['nju:zdi:lə] n US a person who runs a store selling newspapers and magazines.
- newsflash ['nju:zflæʃ] n GB a short radio or television program that announces an important item of very recent news, usually in the middle of another program.
- newsletter ['nju:zletə] n a short printed report produced regularly for the employees or customers of a company, or members of an organization.
- newsman ['nju:zmæn] (pl newsmen [-mən]) n a reporter for a newspaper or a radio or television station.
- New South Wales a state in southeastern Australia, on the Pacific coast. It is Australia's most densely populated and economically important state. SIZE: 801,428 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,731,926. CAPITAL: Sydney.
- newspaper ['nju:zpeɪpə] n -1. a set of large sheets of printed paper that is published every day or week and contains news, photographs, advertisements etc; a company that publishes this □ a newspaper article □ a daily/national newspaper □ I used to work for a newspaper. -2. old newspapers, usually when used for purposes other than reading □ a package wrapped in newspaper.
- newspaperman ['nju:zpeɪpmən] (pl newspapermen [-mən]) n a journalist who works for a newspaper.
- newsprint ['nju:zprɪnt] n cheap rough paper on which newspapers are printed.
- newsreader ['nju:zri:də] n GB a person who reads the news on the radio or television.
- newsreel ['nju:zri:l] n a short news film with a commentary that used to be shown in cinemas.
- newsroom ['nju:zru:m] n an office at a newspaper or a radio or television station where news is collected and prepared for publication or broadcasting.
- newsheet ['nju:zʃi:t] n a small newspaper, usually consisting of one or two pages.
- newsstand ['nju:zstænd] n a place where newspapers are sold, especially a very small store or a box on a street.
- newsworthy ['nju:zɜ:θɪ] adj [event, remark] that is important or interesting enough to be reported in the news.
- newt [nju:t] n a small animal like a lizard that lives partly on land and partly in water.
- new technology n the use of computers and other automatic systems in business and industry.
- New Territories [US ,nu:'terətɔ:rɪz, GB ,nju:'terətɔ:rɪz]: the New Territories part of mainland Hong Kong, leased by Great Britain from China and due to be returned with the rest of Hong Kong by 1997.

New Testament n the New Testament the part of the Bible that describes the life of Christ and the early history of Christianity. NOTE: Compare Old Testament.

Newton ['nju:tɪn], Sir Isaac (1642–1727) a British scientist, astronomer, and mathematician who discovered the law of gravity.

new town n in Britain, a town that has been planned and built all at the same time, especially using government money.

new wave n a group or movement in politics or the arts that deliberately uses new ideas □ He is one of the new wave of crime writers.

New World n the New World North, Central, and South America.

New Year n -1. the time when people celebrate the beginning of the year □ We're spending New Year with my in-laws. -2. the New Year the first few days or weeks of next January □ I'll see you in the New Year. □ New Year celebrations. ■ Happy New Year! a greeting used at the start of a new year.

NEW YEAR

In the USA, Australia, and Britain people have parties on New Year's Eve (December 31) to "see in" the New Year. When the clocks strike midnight, everyone wishes each other "Happy New Year" and hugs or kisses each other. A traditional song, Auld Lang Syne, is often sung. The next day, New Year's Day (January 1), is a public holiday in the USA, Australia, and Britain.

New Year's Day n the first day of the year, January 1.

New Year's Eve n the last day of the year, December 31 □ a New Year's Eve party.

New York (City) [-'jɔ:k-] the largest city in the USA and the most important financial center in the world, in New York State on the Atlantic Coast. ABBREVIATION: NYC. POPULATION: 7,322,564.

New Yorker [-'jɔ:'rɪkər] n a person who comes from or lives in New York.

New York (State) a state in the northeastern USA. ABBREVIATION: NY. SIZE: 128,400 sq kms. POPULATION: 17,990,455. CAPITAL: Albany. OTHER MAJOR CITIES: Buffalo, New York.

New Zealand [-'zi:lənd] a country consisting of two large islands (North Island and South Island) in the southern Pacific Ocean. SIZE: 270,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,500,000 (New Zealanders). CAPITAL: Wellington. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: New Zealand dollar.

New Zealander [-'zi:ləndər] n a person who comes from or lives in New Zealand.

next [nekst] ◇ det & pron -1. the next time/flight the first time/flight after now or some other time that has been mentioned □ I'll tell him the next time I see him. □ What's next on the agenda? □ The next (person) to arrive was Paul. □ "Next, please," said the doctor. ■ next month/year the month/year after this present one □ There's a meeting next Friday. ■ the week after next the week that follows the next one. -2. the next room/page/street the room/page/street that one comes to first □ Take the next turning on the right. □ We missed our stop and had to get off at the next one. □ These are too small, can I try the next size up?

◇ adv -1. [happen, go] immediately afterward □ What happened next? -2. [meet, visit] again □ When I next saw him he was looking much older.

-3. the next best/biggest the one that is a little less good/big than the one just mentioned □ Our next oldest child is Sally. □ Mining is the next most important industry.

◆ next to prep -1. beside  etc □ She sat down next to me. □ It's the tall building next to the hardware store. -2. closest to sthg in order □ Next to cooking, I enjoy gardening best. ■ next to nothing almost nothing □ I know next to nothing about computers.

next door adv [live, go] in or to the nearest house, room etc on either side of another house, room etc □ I'm just going next door. □ Our house is right next door to the park.

◆ next-door adj one's next-door neighbor the person who lives next door to one.

next of kin n LAW one's closest living relative or relatives □ The next of kin have been informed.

NF ◇ n abbr of National Front. ◇ abbr of Newfoundland.

NFL (abbr of National Football League) n the NFL the organization in charge of professional football in the USA.

NG n abbr of National Guard.

NGO (abbr of non-governmental organization) n an organization that is not financed by a government.

NH abbr of New Hampshire.

NHL (abbr of National Hockey League) n the NHL a league of US and Canadian professional hockey teams.

NHS n abbr of National Health Service.

NI ◇ n abbr of National Insurance. ◇ abbr of Northern Ireland.

Niagara Falls [naɪ,æɡərə] a large waterfall between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario on the US-Canadian border. It is about 50 meters high, and is a major tourist attraction.

nib [nɪb] n the small pointed metal part at the end of a pen through which the ink flows onto the paper □ a pen nib □ a gold nib.

nibble ['nɪbl] ◇ vt to take small bites from  □ She was nibbling an apple. ◇ vi [animal, person] The squirrel was nibbling at or on a nut.

◆ nibbles npl small things to eat with one's fingers at a party, e.g. nuts or potato chips.

NICAM ['naɪkæm] (abbr of near-instantaneous compound audio multiplexing) n a system for transmitting high quality sound along with a normal TV picture □ a Nicam stereo TV.

Nicaragua [US 'nɪkə'ra:gwə, GB '-rægjuə] the largest country in Central America. In the 1980s a civil war was fought there between the left-wing Sandinista government and the right-wing Contras. SIZE: 148,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,900,000 (Nicaraguans). CAPITAL:

Managua. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: córdoba.

nice [naɪs] adj -1. [dress, house, food, day] that one finds pleasant to look at, be in etc □ She looks very nice in that dress. □ It tastes very nice. □ It's nice out today. □ She's really nice to work with. □ It was so nice to see them again. □ It's nice that you were able to come. ■ have a nice day! a phrase used to say goodbye, especially to customers in a store, restaurant, hotel etc. ■ nice to meet you! a greeting used when one is introduced to somebody. -2. [person, remark] kind and friendly □ He's such a nice man. □ She's always been very nice to me. □ It was nice of you to help with the cleaning. □ That's not a very nice thing to do! ■ nice and warm/quiet etc warm/quiet etc in a way one finds pleasant (informal use) □ It's nice and comfortable here.
◇ adv a nice hot bath/meal etc a hot bath/meal etc that one finds very pleasant □ What I need is a nice cold drink.

nice-looking [-lʊkɪŋ] adj [boy, girl, car] that one finds attractive.

nicely ['naɪsli] adv -1. [dress, decorate] in a way one finds attractive □ The room was nicely furnished. -2. [speak, ask, behave] in a pleasant, kind, or polite way □ If you ask her nicely, I'm sure she'll lend you the money. -3. we are managing OR doing nicely we are pleased with the way things are going. ■ that will do nicely a phrase used to say that one can accept or use something that somebody is offering, especially money □ "Can I leave you a $20 deposit?" — "Yes, that'll do very nicely, thanks."

nicety ['naɪsəti] (pl niceties) n the niceties small precise details of how to do things □ the social/legal niceties.

niche [US nɪʃ, GB ni:ʃ] n -1. [in a wall] a shallow hollow place in a wall, usually for holding a small statue or lamp. -2. [for a person] a suitable, safe, or comfortable position or job □ Joan soon found a niche for herself in accounting.

niche marketing n marketing aimed at a specialized, usually small, market.

nick [nɪk] ◇ n -1. a short thin cut in the surface of something, e.g. one's skin, usually made by accident □ The knife had made a tiny nick in the table. -2. phrase in the nick of time at the last possible moment □ They arrived just in the nick of time to catch the plane. ◇ vt -1. [chin, skin, piece of wood] to make a nick in <sthg> □ He nicked his chin OR nicked himself on the chin while shaving. -2. GB [money, car] to steal <sthg> (informal use) □ My wallet got nicked at the pub.

nickel ['nɪkl] n -1. CHEMISTRY a hard, silver-white, metal element used in plating objects and making stainless steel. SYMBOL: Ni. -2. FINANCE a coin worth five cents in the USA and Canada.

nickname ['nɪkneɪm] ◇ n an informal name given to somebody or something. ◇ vt to give <sb>/sthg a nickname □ New York is nicknamed the Big Apple. □ His first name is Charles, but he's nicknamed "Chuck".

nicotine ['nɪkəti:n] n a poisonous addictive substance found in tobacco that leaves a brownish-yellow stain □ nicotine-stained fingers.

nicotine patch n a small strip of material containing nicotine that can be stuck onto one's skin, used by people trying to give up smoking.

niece [ni:s] n a daughter of one's brother or sister; a daughter of the brother or sister of one's husband or wife.

Nielsen Ratings ['ni:lsən-] npl the Nielsen Ratings in the USA, a set of statistics that show how many people watch the most popular television programs.

Nietzsche ['ni:tʃə], Friedrich (1844–1900) a German philosopher who was against Christianity and democracy. His most important work is Thus Spake Zarathustra.

nifty ['nɪftɪ] (compar niftier, superl niftiest) adj that one likes because it is well made, useful, and attractive (informal use) □ That's a nifty little computer you have there!

Niger ['naɪdʒə] -1. a country in northwestern Africa, north of Nigeria, consisting mainly of the southern Sahara Desert. SIZE: 1,267,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 8,500,000 (Nigeriens). CAPITAL: Niamey. LANGUAGE: French. CURRENCY: CFA franc. -2. the Niger (River) a river in northwestern Africa, flowing through Mali, Niger, and Nigeria into the Atlantic Ocean.

Nigeria [naɪ'dʒɪəriə] a country in West Africa, on the Atlantic coast. It is a major exporter of oil. SIZE: 924,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 95,100,000 (Nigerians). CAPITAL: Abuja. MAIN CITIES: Lagos, Ibadan. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: naira.

Nigerian [naɪ'dʒɪəriən] n & adj: see Nigeria.

Nigerien [naɪ'dʒɪəriən] n & adj: see Niger.

niggardly ['nɪgərdli] adj [person, gift] that one thinks is not generous enough (disapproving use) □ He was offered a niggardly amount as compensation for his injuries.

niggle ['nɪgl] ◇ vt -1. [problems, doubts] to worry or annoy <sb> slightly, especially for a long time. -2. [person] to criticize <sb> all the time about small and unimportant things. ◇ vi -1. [problems, doubts] There's something that's been niggling at me all day. -2. [person] Stop niggling at me!

niggling ['nɪɡlɪŋ] adj [pain, doubt, criticism] that is slightly worrying or annoying and that one cannot stop thinking about.

nigh [naɪ] adv near, especially in time (literary use). ■ well nigh almost.

night [naɪt] n -1. the time between the end of one day and the beginning of the next, when it is dark □ It rained in OR during the night. □ The job will take all night. □ A room costs $50 a night. □ a night flight. -2. the darkness after the day □ Night was falling. -3. the part of the night before one goes to bed, especially when it is used for entertainment or enjoyment □ Did you go out last night? -4. phrases at night in the evening □ I'm always in bed by 11 o'clock at night. ■ night and day all the time without stopping □ I've been working night and day to get the job finished. ■ a night off an evening when one does not have to work □ It's the housekeeper's night off tonight. ■ to have a night out to spend an evening outside the home, enjoying oneself □ What you really need is a good night out. ■ to have an early/a late night to go to bed early/late □ I've decided to have an early night tonight.

◆ nights adv most nights; every night □ Nights I like to read. □ He works nights.

nightcap ['naɪtkæp] n a drink, usually alcoholic, that one has before going to bed.

nightclothes ['naɪtkləʊz] npl the clothes that one wears in bed at night.

nightclub ['naɪtklʌb] n a place where people can drink, dance, or see a show late at night.

night depository [US -dri'pɒzətɔ:ri, GB -'pɒzi:təri] n a hole in the outside wall of a bank where customers can leave money and checks after the bank is closed.

nightdress ['naɪtdres] n = nightgown.

nightfall ['naɪtfɔ:l] n the time when it gets dark at night □ Make sure you're back home by nightfall.

nightgown ['naɪtgaʊn] n a loose dress worn by women in bed.

nightie ['naɪti] n = nightgown (informal use).

nightingale ['naɪtɪŋgeɪl] n a small brown bird known for its beautiful song.

Nightingale ['naɪtɪŋgeɪl], Florence (1820–1910) a British nurse who set up a hospital for soldiers during the Crimean War. She helped to develop nursing as a profession.

nightlife ['naɪtlaɪf] n the different activities and events, e.g. bars, nightclubs, or theaters, that are available in a particular place at night for entertainment □ The town has plenty of/no nightlife.

nightlight ['naɪtlaɪt] n a small lamp or candle used to light a bedroom, hall etc at night.

nightly ['naɪtli] ◇ adj [event, visit, broadcast] that takes place every night □ a nightly news program. ◇ adv [happen, appear, visit] every night □ Miss Akade performs twice nightly at the Apollo Theater.

nightmare ['naɪtmɛə] n -1. a dream that is frightening □ I started having terrible nightmares. -2. a situation or experience that is very difficult or unpleasant □ Getting to work today was a real nightmare.

nightmarish ['naɪtmɛəriʃ] adj [experience, journey] that is frightening and unpleasant.

night owl n a person who often likes to stay up late to work, read, go out etc.

night porter n a person whose job is to stay at the reception desk of a hotel at night when most of the staff have stopped work.

night safe n GB = night depository.

night school n classes that take place in the evening, usually for adults □ I learned Spanish at night school.

night shift n a fixed period during the night when employees in a factory, hospital etc work; the group of people who work during this time □ He's on the night shift this week.

nightshirt ['naɪtʃɜ:t] n a long loose shirt worn by men in bed.

nightspot ['naɪtspɒt] n a nightclub or other place of entertainment that opens at night.

nightstick ['naɪtstɪk] n US a long stick used as a weapon by policemen.

night-time ['naɪttaim] n the time when it is dark □ Owls come out at night-time.

night watchman n a person whose job is to guard a building or workplace at night.

nightwear ['naɪtwɛə] n clothes that are designed to be worn in bed.

nihilism ['naɪlɪzəm] n the belief that personal freedom is more important than all social, political, and religious institutions.

Nikkei [nɪ'keɪ] n the Nikkei (index OR average) the average of the current price of the shares of 225 Japanese companies sold on the Tokyo Stock Exchange.

nil [nɪl] n -1. nothing; zero □ We've kept price increases down to almost nil. -2. GB SPORT a score of zero in soccer and some other games □ We lost two-nil.

Nile [naɪl]: the Nile (River) the world's longest river, flowing through Uganda, Sudan, and Egypt into the Mediterranean Sea.

nimble ['nɪmbl] adj -1. [fingers, person] able to make quick, light, neat movements. -2. [mind] able to think quickly.

nimbly ['nɪmblɪ] adv [move, step, climb] see nimble.

nine [naɪn] num the number 9; see also five. ■ nine times out of ten almost always.

nineteen [ˌnaɪn'ti:n] num the number 19; see also fifteen.

nineteenth [ˌnaɪn'ti:nθ] num 19th; number 19 in a series; see also fifteenth □ the nineteenth century.

ninetieth ['naɪntiəθ] num 90th; number 90 in a series; see also fiftieth.

ninety ['naɪntɪ] num the number 90; see also fifty.

ninth [naɪnθ] num 9th; number 9 in a series; see also fifth.

nip [nɪp] (pt & pp nipped, cont nipping) ◇ n -1. [by an animal] a small painful pinch or bite □ The dog gave me a playful nip on the leg. -2. [of liquid] a small amount of alcoholic drink □ a nip of brandy. -3. phrase there's a nip in the air it's slightly cold. ◇ vt -1. to catch <sthg> between two sharp points or edges □ I nipped my finger in the door. -2. to bite <sb/sthg> without doing much damage □ The dog nipped me on the ankle. ◇ vi GB to go somewhere quickly and for a short time (informal use) □ I'm just nipping into town/out to the post office.

nipple ['nɪpl] n -1. [of a person] one of the two pinkish-brown circles of skin on one's chest. A baby sucks milk through its mother's nipples. -2. US [for a baby's bottle] a rubber or plastic piece on a baby's bottle, through which the baby drinks.

nippy ['nɪpɪ] (compar nippier, superl nippiest)

- adj* [weather, morning] rather cold □ It's a little nippy out this morning.
- nirvana [nɪəˈvɑ:nə] n -1. RELIGION in Buddhism and Hinduism, the highest spiritual state. -2. a place or state of complete happiness.
- nitpicking ['nɪtpɪkɪŋ] ◇ n the act of paying too much attention to unimportant details (disapproving use). ◇ adj: his nitpicking attitude.
- nitrate ['naɪtreɪt] n a chemical used mainly as a fertilizer for growing crops.
- nitric acid [ˌnaɪtrɪk-] n a powerful chemical that is used in the manufacture of fertilizers and explosives.
- nitrogen ['naɪtrədʒən] n a colorless gas that forms most of the air we breathe. SYMBOL: N.
- nitroglycerin(e) [ˌnaɪtrəˈglɪsərɪn] n a powerful liquid chemical used to make explosives.
- nits [nɪts] npl the eggs of a tiny insect, the louse, that can live in people's hair.
- nitty-gritty [ˌnɪtɪˈgrɪtɪ] n to get down to the nitty-gritty to start talking or thinking about the most basic and important aspects of a problem.
- nitwit ['nɪtwɪt] n a silly person (informal use).
- nix [nɪks] US (informal use) ◇ n nothing. ◇ adv a word used to say that one disagrees with something □ He said nix on our plan. ◇ vt [plan, decision] to reject <sthg>.
- Nixon ['nɪksən], Richard (1913–1994) US President from 1969 to 1974. He resigned after the Watergate scandal.
- NJ abbr of New Jersey.
- NLF (abbr of National Liberation Front) n the NLF any revolutionary movement whose aim is to win independence for a country or region.
- NM abbr of New Mexico.
- no [nou] (pl noes OR nos) ◇ adv -1. used to show that something is not true □ "Would you like some more?" — "No, thanks." □ "That's what you said." — "No it isn't!" -2. used to show that one will not do, allow, or accept something. □ "Can I watch TV?" — "No, you can't." -3. no later/bigger etc than... not later/bigger etc than a particular maximum time or amount □ This computer is no more expensive than the old model.
◇ det -1. not any; not one □ No other battery looks like it or lasts like it. □ I have no choice but to tell her. □ There's no time to lose. □ No two prints are ever the same. ■ there's no telling what might happen it's impossible to tell what will happen. -2. not a □ She's no fool! □ It's no easy job.
◇ n -1. a negative answer □ Was that a yes or a no? -2. a vote against something. ■ the noes have it the majority of people have voted "no".
- No., no. abbr of number.
- Noah ['nouə] in the Bible, the man who built the ark, a large boat, to save his family and two of each kind of animal when the Earth was flooded.
- nobble ['nɒbl] vt GB -1. to drug  illegally so that it runs slower in a race. -2. to try to influence  by bribing or threatening them.
- Nobel [nouˈbel], Alfred (1833–1896) a Swedish scientist. He invented dynamite, and established and funded the Nobel prizes.
- Nobel prize n an international prize given every year to somebody who has done important work for science, medicine, economics, literature, world peace etc □ the Nobel peace prize.
- nobility [nouˈbɪlətɪ] n -1. the nobility the people of the highest social class who have titles and own land. -2. [of somebody's character, appearance] see noble.
- noble ['nəʊbl] ◇ adj -1. [person] who is honest, brave, and helps other people without thinking of themselves □ That was a noble gesture! -2. [bearing, statue] that looks impressive and dignified. -3. of noble birth belonging to the nobility. ◇ n a person who belongs to the nobility.
- noblesman ['nəʊblmən] (pl noblemen [-mən]) n a man who belongs to the nobility.
- noblewoman ['nəʊblwʊmən] (pl noblewomen) n a woman who belongs to the nobility.
- nobly ['nəʊbli] adv [act, behave] see noble.
- nobody ['nəʊbɒdi] (pl nobodies) ◇ pron not a single person □ There's nobody here. □ Nobody asked you! □ "Did you talk to anyone?" — "Nobody in particular." ◇ n an unimportant person (disapproving use) □ He's just a nobody!
- no-claim(s) bonus n a reduction in the cost of a car insurance policy that is given if no claims have been made during a particular period.
- nocturnal [nɒkˈtʃ:rnəl] adj -1. [visit, voyage] that happens at night □ He used to take long nocturnal walks. -2. [animal] that is active at night □ Badgers are mostly nocturnal.
- nod [nɒd] (pt & pp nodded, cont nodding) ◇ n a movement of the head forward and back □ She gave an approving nod. □ With a brief nod in my direction, he left the room. ◇ vt to nod one's head to move one's head forward and then back, to show that one agrees to, approves of, or wants to encourage something. ◇ vi -1. to nod one's head to say "yes" □ I asked him if he'd understood and he nodded. -2. to point to somebody or something by nodding one's head □ The chairman asked who was responsible and Jean nodded in my direction. -3. to nod to sb to nod one's head as a way of saying "hello" to sb □ He nodded to me as I passed.
- ◆ nod off vi to fall asleep for a short time.
- node [nəʊd] n -1. [on a diagram] a point where two lines cross each other. -2. [on a plant] the place on the stem of a plant where a leaf or bud grows □ a leaf node.
- nodule [US ˈnɒdʒu:l, GB -ju:l] n a small lump on a person's body or on a plant.
- no-go area n GB [for women, the police] an area where it is dangerous for particular people to go; [for the public] an area to which police

- and soldiers are preventing people from going.
- noise [nɔɪz] n -1. a sound, usually made by an animal or thing rather than a person □ Did you hear a noise? -2. loud and unpleasant sounds that disturb people □ There is a lot of noise from the construction site.
- noiseless ['nɔɪzləs] adj [appliance, exhaust] that does not produce any noise.
- noiselessly ['nɔɪzləsli] adv [move, close] see noiseless.
- noisily ['nɔɪzɪli] adv [play, call] see noisy.
- noisy ['nɔɪzi] (compar noisier, superl noisiest) adj -1. [child, crowd, machine] that makes a lot of noise □ Do you have to be so noisy? -2. [city, party, room] that is full of noise □ It's so noisy in here.
- nomad ['nɒməd] n a member of a people that has no fixed home but camps in different places.
- nomadic [nɒ'mædɪk] adj [person, tribe] see nomad.
- no-man's-land n a piece of land between the territories of groups or countries that are fighting.
- nominal ['nɒmɪnəl] adj -1. [leader, head, Catholic] who has a particular job or status officially but does not carry out the particular role □ a nominal head of state. -2. [fee, charge, price] that is small compared with its true value or cost □ We were charged a nominal rent.
- nominally ['nɒmɪnəli] adv a word used to say that somebody or something has a particular status officially but not in reality □ Nominally, the country is Communist.
- nominate ['nɒmɪneɪt] vt -1. [candidate, work] to suggest <sb/sthg> as a candidate for an official position or an award □ She's been nominated as a Republican candidate. □ The book has been nominated for several prizes. -2. to choose <sb> for an important job □ He was nominated (as) chairman OR to the chairmanship.
- nomination [ˌnɒmɪ'neɪʃn] n -1. [of a candidate, book] the act of suggesting somebody or something as a candidate for an official position or an award □ This week we can expect nominations for the Presidential race. □ The Oscar nominations held few surprises. -2. the act of choosing somebody for an important job □ the nomination of another woman to a senior Cabinet position.
- nominee [ˌnɒmɪ'ni:] n a person who is nominated for a job or an award.
- non- [nɒn] prefix added to words to mean not □ non-French nationals.
- nonaddictive [ˌnɒnə'dɪktɪv] adj [drug, medicine, substance] that is not addictive.
- nonaggression [ˌnɒnə'ɡresʃn] n the idea that countries should not attack each other □ a policy of nonaggression □ a nonaggression pact.
- nonalcoholic [ˌnɒnælkə'hɒlɪk] adj [wine, beer] that contains little or no alcohol.
- nonaligned [ˌnɒnə'laɪnd] adj [country, state] that does not support a larger country or group of countries, especially a world power.
- nonbeliever [ˌnɒnbɪ'li:və] n a person who does not believe in God.
- nonchalant [US ˌnɒnʃə'leɪnt, GB 'nɒnʃələnt] adj [remark, behavior] that seems to show that somebody is calm and not worried about something □ He seems very nonchalant about his future.
- nonchalantly [US ˌnɒnʃə'leɪntli, GB 'nɒnʃələntli] adv [say, behave, look] see nonchalant.
- noncombatant [US ˌnɒnkəm'bætnt, GB ˌnɒn-'kɒmbətənt] n a person who does not take part in actual fighting but is involved in a military struggle in an indirect way.
- noncommissioned officer [ˌnɒnkə'mɪʃnd-] n a low-ranking officer in the armed forces, e.g. a corporal or sergeant, who did not join the army as an officer.
- noncommittal [ˌnɒnkə'mɪtl] adj [person, answer, attitude] that does not express any firm ideas or intentions □ He was very noncommittal about the whole thing.
- noncompetitive [ˌnɒnkəm'petətɪv] adj [sports, games] that do not involve competition with other people.
- non compos mentis [-kɒmpəs'mentəs] adj to be non compos mentis to be unable to think clearly, often because of mental illness (technical or humorous use).
- nonconformist [ˌnɒnkən'fɔ:məst] ◇ n a person who thinks or behaves in a way that is different from that of most other people. ◇ adj: a nonconformist politician/attitude.
- noncontributory [US ˌnɒnkən'trɪbjətɔ:ri, GB -jʊtəri] adj [pension plan] that is paid for by the employer rather than by contributions from the employee.
- noncooperation [ˌnɒnkəʊpə'reɪʃn] n a way of protesting to people in authority by refusing to do work that one is not officially required to do.
- nondescript [US ˌnɒndɪ'skrɪpt, GB 'nɒndɪskrɪpt] adj [house, color] that is so ordinary that one cannot think of anything interesting to say about it.
- nondrinker [ˌnɒn'drɪŋkə] n a person who does not drink alcohol.
- nondrip [ˌnɒn'drɪp] adj [paint] that is very thick and so less likely to run down the wall or the brush than ordinary paint.
- none [nan] ◇ pron -1. not any (used to refer back to uncountable nouns) □ I went to buy some bread but there was none left. □ "Do you have any money?" — "No, none at all." □ His new record has none of his old brilliance. ■ (I'll have) none of it! I won't allow it! □ I tried to buy him another drink but he would have none of it. -2. not one person or thing (used to refer back to plural nouns) □ They had none left. □ None of us really knows OR know the answer. ◇ adv none the worse/better not any worse/better than before (used with comparative adjectives) □ She's none the worse for her adventure. ■ to be none the wiser to still not understand something □ He explained to me how it works, but I'm still none the wiser. ■ to be none too pleased/smart to be not at all

- pleased/smart □ They agreed, but you could see they were none too happy about it.
- nonentity [nɒ'nentəti] (pl nonentities) n a person who lacks personality and is unimportant.
- nonessential [ˌnɒnɪ'senʃl] ◇ adj that is not completely necessary □ nonessential spending/items. ◇ n something that is not completely necessary.
- nonetheless [ˌnɒnðə'les] adv in spite of this □ She is very busy, but she will try to contact you nonetheless. □ The deal has already been signed. Nonetheless, it is still possible to negotiate new terms.
- non-event n a planned event that turns out to be very disappointing □ The party was a complete non-event.
- nonexecutive director [ˌnɒnɪg'zɛktɪv-] n a director of a company who is not an employee of that company.
- nonexistent [ˌnɒnɪg'zɪstənt] adj [chance, address, person] that does not exist □ Security is so poor as to be almost nonexistent.
- nonfattening [ˌnɒn'fætɪŋ] adj [food] that is nourishing but does not make one fat.
- nonfiction [ˌnɒn'fɪkʃn] n writing that is based on fact, e.g. a biography □ I prefer to read nonfiction.
- nonflammable [ˌnɒn'flæməbl] adj [material] that will not catch fire or burn easily.
- noninfectious [ˌnɒnɪn'fekʃəs] adj [disease] that cannot be passed from one person to another.
- noninflammable [ˌnɒnɪn'flæməbl] adj = nonflammable.
- noninterference [ˌnɒnɪntə'fɪərəns], nonintervention [ˌnɒnɪntə'venʃn] n the act of avoiding any involvement in a dispute, war etc □ They have decided to adopt a policy of nonintervention.
- non-iron adj [fabric, shirt] that does not crease and so does not need to be ironed.
- nonmalignant [ˌnɒnmə'lɪgnənt] adj [tumor, growth, lump] that will not cause serious illness or death.
- nonmember [ˌnɒn'membə] n a person who is not a member of a particular club or association.
- nonnegotiable [ˌnɒnɪ'gəʊrɪəbl] adj [salary, conditions] that is fixed at a level or in a way that cannot be changed by discussion □ These terms are nonnegotiable.
- no-no n something that is considered to be unacceptable (informal use).
- non-nonsense adj [attitude, approach] that is concerned only with the practical and important aspects of something.
- nonoperational [ˌnɒnɒpə'reɪʃnəl] adj [machine, factory, service] that is not working.
- nonparticipation [ˌnɒnpɑ:'tɪsɪ'peɪʃn] n the act of not taking part in a particular event or project □ The Games were marred by the nonparticipation of the Soviet Union.
- nonpayment [ˌnɒn'peɪmənt] n [of tax, rent, debt] a failure to pay somebody the money that is owed to them □ You know you can be arrested for nonpayment of fines.
- nonplussed [ˌnɒn'plʌst] adj to be nonplussed to be so surprised or confused that one does not know what to say.
- non-profit US, non-profit-making GB adj [organization, charity] that is run to help people rather than to make a profit.
- nonproliferation [ˌnɒnpə'ɹɒlɪfə'reɪʃn] n the limiting of the spread of nuclear weapons by international agreements □ a nonproliferation treaty.
- nonrenewable [ˌnɒnrɪ'nju:əbl] adj -1. [contract, agreement] that cannot be renewed when it ends. -2. [resources, fuels] that exist in limited quantities that cannot be replaced when they have been used up □ nonrenewable sources of energy.
- nonresident [ˌnɒn'rezɪdənt] n -1. [of a country] a person who is visiting a particular country but does not normally live there. -2. [of a hotel] a person who uses the facilities of a hotel but does not spend the night there.
- nonreturnable [ˌnɒnrɪ'tʃ:nəbl] adj -1. [bottle] that cannot be returned to the seller for money when empty. -2. [deposit] that will not be refunded in any circumstances.
- nonsense ['nɒnsəns] ◇ n -1. an idea, suggestion, comment etc that one thinks is stupid or untrue □ His accusations are utter nonsense. -2. behavior that one thinks is stupid and annoying □ Stop this nonsense now! -3. spoken or written words that do not make any sense □ You're talking nonsense! ■ to make (a) nonsense of sthg [of a claim, promise] to cause sthg to appear untrue or worthless □ This report makes nonsense of what officials have been saying. ◇ excl used to show that one thinks a comment or idea is silly or untrue □ Nonsense! I don't believe a word of it! □ You, shy? Nonsense!
- nonsensical [ˌnɒn'sensɪkl] adj [scheme, argument] that one thinks is stupid or ridiculous □ It would be absolutely nonsensical to try to leave now.
- non sequitur [-'sekwətə] n a statement that is not connected logically with what has just been said, and is therefore confusing.
- nonshrink [ˌnɒn'ʃrɪŋk] adj [fabric, garment] that will not shrink when washed.
- nonskid [ˌnɒn'skɪd] adj [tire] that is designed to reduce the chances of skidding.
- nonslip [ˌnɒn'slɪp] adj [mat, sole] that is designed to reduce the chances of slipping □ a nonslip floor surface.
- non smoker [ˌnɒn'smɒkə] n a person who does not smoke □ I've been a non smoker all my life.
- non-smoking adj a non-smoking seat/area etc a seat/an area etc where one is not allowed to smoke □ Would you like smoking or non-smoking?
- nonstarter [ˌnɒn'stɑ:'tə] n a person or plan that has no chance of succeeding (informal use) □ The idea could turn out to be a nonstarter.
- nonstick [ˌnɒn'stɪk] adj [pan] that is coated with a material that stops food from sticking □ The frying pan has a nonstick surface.

nonstop [ˌnɒnˈstɒp] ◇ adj -1. [trip, flight] that is made without stopping □ a nonstop flight to Australia. -2. [program, music, rain] that continues for a long time without a pause □ We had 90 minutes of nonstop fun. ◇ adv [talk, work] without stopping □ I've been working eight hours nonstop.

nontaxable [ˌnɒnˈtæksəbl̩] adj [income] that one does not have to pay tax on.

nontoxic [ˌnɒnˈtɒksɪk] adj [paint, waste] that is not poisonous or harmful.

nontransferable [ˌnɒntrænsˈfɜːrəbl̩] adj [membership, ticket] that can only be used by the person whose name is on it.

nonviolence [ˌnɒnˈvaɪələns] n the use of peaceful methods rather than violence to try to make political changes in society.

nonvoter [ˌnɒnˈvɔʊtər] n a person who chooses not to vote; a person who cannot vote.

nonvoting [ˌnɒnˈvɔʊtɪŋ] adj -1. [member] who does not have the right to vote. -2. [shares] that do not give the holder the right to vote.

nonwhite [ˌnɒnˈwaɪt] ◇ n a person who is not of European origin. ◇ adj: a nonwhite area/neighborhood.

noodles [ˈnuːdlz] npl long strips of dried dough that are boiled and eaten in soup or with meat □ egg noodles.

nook [nʊk] n a small place that provides shelter. ■ every nook and cranny every possible place in a particular space □ I've searched every nook and cranny, but I can't find it.

noon [nuːn] n 12 o'clock in the middle of the day □ It's twelve noon. □ the noon heat/sun.

noonday [ˈnuːndeɪ] n noon (old-fashioned or literary use).

no one pron = nobody.

noose [nuːs] n a loop made at the end of a piece of rope that gets tighter when one pulls it.

no-place adv US = nowhere.

nor [nɔːr] ◇ adv nor do I and I do not (used after a negative sentence to make it apply to somebody or something else) □ *"I don't smoke." — "Nor do I." □ "They can't cut prices any further, and nor can we." □ "I haven't seen it yet." — "Nor have I." OR "Nor me." ◇ conj neither...nor... used in front of the second of two negative statements or facts □ That remark is neither funny nor true. □ *Neither he nor Gina has spoken to me since.

Nordic [ˈnɔːdɪk] adj [person] who comes from northern Europe □ a Nordic language.

Norf abbr of Norfolk.

Norfolk [ˈnɔːfək] a county in East Anglia, England, consisting mainly of farmland and marshes. SIZE: 5,368 sq kms. POPULATION: 744,300. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Norwich.

Norfolk Broads: the Norfolk Broads a system of lakes and canals in Norfolk, England. It is a popular tourist center.

Norfolk Island an island in the South Pacific, between New Caledonia and New Zealand, that belongs to Australia. SIZE: 36 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,977.

norm [nɔːm] n -1. to be the norm to be what one would expect □ One-person households have become the norm in certain areas. -2. a standard or level that is required by law, usually to make sure that something is safe □ Certain safety norms must be observed before a ship can sail.

normal [ˈnɔːml̩] adj [behavior, day, person] that is not unusual or remarkable in any way □ Is it normal for you to get up so early? □ a normal, healthy baby □ It's not normal, the way she drinks.

normalcy [ˈnɔːfml̩sɪ] n US = normality.

normality [ˈnɔːmələtɪ] n the state of being normal □ Everything returned to normality. □ I'll be glad to get back to normality once this is over.

normalize, -ise [ˈnɔːməlaɪz] ◇ vt [relations, exchange rate] to make <sthg> normal again. ◇ vi: The situation soon normalized.

normally [ˈnɔːməli] adv -1. [eat, sleep, leave] a word used to say what usually happens or what is usually done □ He normally gets home about 6:00 pm. □ Normally she's very reliable. -2. [develop, function, react] see normal □ Everything is going along perfectly normally here.

Norman [ˈnɔːmən] ◇ n a member of the northern French people who invaded England in the 11th century. ◇ adj: Norman history/architecture □ the Norman Conquest.

Normandy [ˈnɔːmændi] an area of northern France, on the English Channel.

Norse [nɔːs] adj [person, language, custom] that comes from ancient Scandinavia.

north [nɔːθ] ◇ n the direction to the left of somebody who is facing the rising sun and in the top part of a map of a country, area etc □ Storm clouds are approaching from the north. ◇ adj -1. [part of a city, region] that is situated in the north □ They live in North Boston. -2. [side, coast] that faces the north □ the north face of the Eiger. -3. [wind] that comes from the north □ The north wind is especially fierce in Manitoba. ◇ adv [turn, head, drive] toward the north □ The room faces north. □ Seattle is north of Portland.

◆ North n the North the northeastern states of the USA, especially during the Civil War; the northern counties of England; the richer countries in northern parts of the world, e.g. Europe, Japan, and North America.

North Africa the countries of Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Libya, and Egypt.

North African n & adj: see North Africa.

North America the world's third-largest continent, consisting of Canada, the USA, and Mexico.

North American n & adj: see North America.

Northamptonshire [ˈnɔːθæmptɒnʃɪr] a county in central England. SIZE: 2,367 sq kms. POPULATION: 570,300. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Northampton.

Northants abbr of Northamptonshire.

northbound [ˈnɔːθbaʊnd] adj [traffic, train] that is moving toward the north □ There has been an accident in the northbound lane.

North Carolina [-kærə'laɪnə] a state in the eastern USA, between the Appalachian Mountains and the Atlantic Ocean. ABBREVIATION: NC. SIZE: 126,387 sq kms. POPULATION: 6,628,637 (North Carolinians). CAPITAL: Raleigh.

Northd abbr of Northumberland.

North Dakota [-də'kəʊtə] a state in the central northern USA, on the Canadian border. ABBREVIATION: ND. SIZE: 183,019 sq kms. POPULATION: 638,800 (North Dakotans). CAPITAL: Bismarck.

northeast [ˌnɔːθ'iːst] ◇ n the direction that lies halfway between north and east □ To the northeast lies a large lake. ◇ adj -1. [part of a city, region] that is situated in the northeast. -2. [side, coast] that faces the northeast. -3. [wind] that comes from the northeast. ◇ adv [turn, head, drive] toward the northeast □ The ranch lies six miles northeast of Fenton.

◆ Northeast n the Northeast the parts of a country or region that are situated in the northeast.

Northeast Corridor: the Northeast Corridor the area along the northeastern coast of the USA, between Boston and Washington D.C. northeasterly [ˌnɔːθ'iːstə'li] adj -1. [part of a city, region] situated in the northeast □ in a northeasterly direction. -2. [wind] that comes from the northeast.

northerly [ˈnɔːθə'li] adj -1. [part of a city, region] situated in the north □ in a northerly direction. -2. [wind] that comes from the north.

northern [ˈnɔːθə'n] adj [accent, region] from or in the north of a country or area □ One of the largest forests in northern Europe.

Northerner [ˈnɔːθə'nə] n a person from the north of a country or region.

Northern Hemisphere n the Northern Hemisphere the part of the earth that is north of the equator.

Northern Ireland the northeastern part of Ireland, that is part of the United Kingdom. SIZE: 14,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,570,000 (Northern Irish). CAPITAL: Belfast.

🍷 NORTHERN IRELAND

When Ireland was a British colony, many English and Scottish Protestants went to live in the part of it that is now called Northern Ireland. In 1921 the rest of Ireland, which was mainly Catholic, became an independent republic, but the mainly Protestant North chose to remain part of the UK. The Catholic minority in Northern Ireland, who were angry because they did not have equal opportunities in employment, housing etc, started a civil rights movement. Their protests became violent, and extremist groups of Catholics and Protestants began to fight and kill each other. Many innocent people were also killed. In 1969 the British Army was sent in to try to keep the peace, but the violence continued until both sides declared a ceasefire in 1994.

ored lights that appear naturally in the sky at night over the countries nearest to the North Pole.

northernmost [ˈnɔːθə'nmoʊst] adj [town, area] situated at the most northern point of a place.

Northern Territory: the Northern Territory an administrative region of central northern Australia. SIZE: 1,347,525 sq kms. POPULATION: 154,000. CAPITAL: Darwin.

North Island: the North Island the further north of the two islands of New Zealand. SIZE: 114,729 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,438,249. MAIN CITIES: Auckland, Hamilton, Wellington.

North Korea a republic in the northern part of the Korean Peninsula. SIZE: 120,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 22,600,000 (North Koreans). CAPITAL: Pyongyang. LANGUAGE: Korean. CURRENCY: won.

North Pole: the North Pole the most northern point on Earth.

North Sea ◇ the North Sea part of the Atlantic Ocean between eastern Britain and northern Europe. Oil and gas are extracted from below the seabed. ◇ comp: a North Sea port □ North Sea oil.

North Star: the North Star a star that is situated in the sky above the North Pole and is traditionally used as a way of finding the north at night.

Northumberland [ˈnɔːθʌmbə'lənd] a county in northeastern England. SIZE: 5,032 sq kms. POPULATION: 303,500. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Morpeth.

North Vietnam → Vietnam.

northward [ˈnɔːθwə'd] ◇ adj [direction, flight] toward the north. ◇ adv toward the north.

northwards [ˈnɔːθwə'dz] adv [travel, head, face] = northward.

northwest [ˌnɔːθ'west] ◇ adj -1. [part of a city, region] that is situated in the northwest. -2. [side, coast] that faces the northwest. -3. [wind] that comes from the northwest. ◇ adv [turn, head, drive] toward the northwest □ It lies eighty miles northwest of the capital. ◇ n the direction that lies halfway between north and west □ To the northwest lies a large pine forest.

◆ Northwest n the Northwest the parts of a country or region that are situated in the northwest.

northwesterly [ˌnɔːθ'westə'li] adj -1. [part of a city, region] that is situated in the northwest □ in a northwesterly direction. -2. [wind] that comes from the northwest.

Northwest Territories: the Northwest Territories the northern part of Canada between the Yukon and Hudson Bay. ABBREVIATION: NWT. SIZE: 3,380,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 57,649. CAPITAL: Yellowknife.

North Yemen → Yemen.

Norway [ˈnɔːrweɪ] a country in western Scandinavia, northern Europe. SIZE: 325,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,300,000 (Norwegians). CAPITAL: Oslo. LANGUAGE: Norwegian. CURRENCY: Norwegian krone.

Northern Lights: the Northern Lights the col-

Norwegian [nɔ:'wi:dʒn] n & adj: see Norway.

Nos., nos. abbr of numbers.

nose [naʊz] n -1. [of a person] the part of the human face through which we smell and breathe □ He punched me on the nose. □ He tapped his nose with his finger. □ I have a runny nose. □ a broken nose. ■ to be under one's nose [book, pen, newspaper] to be very close to one and in a place where it can be easily seen, even though one cannot find it. ■ to cut off one's nose to spite one's face to do something when one is angry that is intended to harm somebody but that harms one more than the other person. ■ to have a nose for sthg to have a natural instinct for finding sthg out □ Laura has a real nose for a good news story. ■ to keep one's nose out of sthg not to interfere in sthg that does not concern one □ Look, just keep your nose out of our business. ■ to look down one's nose at sb/sthg to act as if one is better than sb/sthg. ■ to pay through the nose to pay a lot of money for something □ You can travel first-class, but you'll pay through the nose for the privilege. ■ to poke OR stick one's nose into sthg to interfere in sthg that does not concern one, especially by giving unwanted advice (informal use) □ He's always poking his nose into other people's business. ■ to turn up one's nose at sthg [at food, an offer, present] to refuse sthg in a way that suggests that one does not think it is good enough. -2. [of a plane, car] the front part of a vehicle.

◆ nose about, nose around vi to look at other people's private possessions, or ask about their affairs, in order to try and find out things that do not concern one □ There he was, nosing about in my office again.

nosebag ['naʊzbæg] n a bag that is hung from a horse's nose and contains food for it to eat.

nosebleed ['naʊzblid:] n bleeding that comes from the nose □ He had a severe nosebleed.

nosecone ['naʊzkəʊn] n [of a rocket, plane, missile] the front section of an aircraft or spacecraft that is shaped like a cone.

nosedive ['naʊzdɪv] ◇ n -1. [of a plane] a sudden change of direction in which a plane starts heading toward the ground □ The jet went into a nosedive. -2. [of prices] a sudden sharp fall □ House prices took a nosedive in 1990. ◇ vi -1. [plane] to go into a nosedive. -2. [prices, hopes] to suddenly fall sharply □ The President's popularity nosedived after the revelations of corruption.

nose job n a medical operation to change the shape of one's nose so that it looks more attractive (informal use).

nosey ['naʊzi] adj = nosy.

nosh [nɒʃ] n GB food (informal use).

nostalgia [nɒ'stældʒə] n a mixture of happy and sad feelings caused by memories of something in the past □ These old places are full of nostalgia for me.

nostalgic [nɒ'stældʒɪk] adj [person, memory, visit] that is filled with nostalgia □ a nostalgic view of the past □ As they get older, people tend to get more nostalgic.

Nostradamus [ˌnɒstrə'dɑ:məs] (1503–1566) a French astrologer who wrote a book that claimed to predict future events.

nostril ['nɒstrəl] n one of the two holes in the nose of a person or animal through which they breathe and smell.

nosy ['nɒzi] (compar nosier, superl nosiest) adj [person] who takes too much interest in other people's affairs □ Don't be nosy.

not [nɒt] adv -1. used to make a word, phrase, or sentence mean the opposite of what it says □ I'm not totally convinced by what he said. □ I came not because I wanted to but because I was told to. □ It's not right. □ This isn't the first time it's happened. □ They're coming, but she's not. □ They haven't told him. □ I hope you won't regret it. □ He didn't ask. □ We met in Athens, didn't we? -2. I hope not I hope that this is not true (used instead of a whole negative clause) □ "Does Sam know?" — "I hope not." □ I can't decide whether to invite him or not. □ "Are they coming?" — "Apparently not." -3. I don't think I know her I think that I do not know her (used with verbs like "think", "believe", "imagine", "expect", "want", "seem") □ She doesn't appear to be interested. □ I don't imagine they'll be very long. -4. not ten feet away less than ten feet away (used with numbers, distances etc) □ She arrived not five minutes after you left. -5. not everyone agrees some people agree but some do not (used before words like "all", "every", "always") □ We don't always agree.

◆ not a, not one det used for emphasis □ "Do you think she'll come?" — "Not a chance!" □ I didn't get anything for my birthday, not even a card.

◆ not that conj not that I care in spite of what I have just said, I do not care □ Is she going out with someone else? Not that it's any of my business.

◆ not at all → at.

notable ['nəʊtəbl] ◇ adj [example, success, improvement] that is important and deserves to be noticed □ With the notable exception of Gerald, they were all there. □ Chicago is notable for its modern architecture. ◇ n an important person.

notably ['nəʊtəblɪ] adv -1. a word used to introduce a typical or important example of something that has just been mentioned □ The climate is wet, notably in the mountainous northwest. -2. notably short/better short/better in a way that is noticeable □ The figures are not notably worse than last year's.

notary ['nəʊtəri] (pl notaries) n a notary (public) an official person who witnesses the signing of documents.

notation [nəʊ'teɪʃn] n a particular system of writing something down using symbols □ musical notation.

notch [nɒtʃ] n -1. a small, shallow, V-shaped cut in something, usually made with a knife □ They cut a notch in the bark of the tree. -2. a point on an imaginary scale that is the next one up or down from another one □ She's gone up a notch in my estimation.

◆ notch up vt fus to notch up sthg [victory, success] to achieve sthg.

note [nəʊt] ◇ n -1. a short informal letter, often on a small piece of paper □ Leave me a note to say when you'll be back. -2. a written record □ I made a note of the address. □ He took notes throughout the meeting. □ May I borrow your notes from last week's class? ■ to compare notes to compare one's opinion or experience of something with somebody else who has also been judging it □ Let's not talk now — we can compare notes afterward. ■ to take note to pay attention to something and remember it for the future □ Small businesses should take note of this excellent new facility. -3. MUSIC a single musical sound of a particular length and pitch; a symbol that represents one of these sounds □ a musical note. -4. a particular tone or mood □ We're ending this financial year on an optimistic note. □ on a more serious note. -5. [in one's voice] a sound in somebody's voice that expresses a particular feeling □ I caught a note of anxiety in her voice. -6. to be of note to be important □ Little of note has occurred recently. -7. GB FINANCE a bank note □ a twenty-pound note.

◇ vt -1. [change, attitude, difference] to notice <sthg> □ He noted the change in her behavior. -2. [cost, difficulty] to mention <sthg> □ Please note that we will be closed next week. □ As I have already noted, the project has not been without its problems.

◆ notes npl a section at the end of a book or article, where many small points numbered in the text are explained.

◆ note down vt sep to note sthg down [fact, address, phone number] to make a note of sthg in writing for future reference.

notebook ['nəʊtbʊk] n -1. a small book with blank pages designed for writing notes. -2. a notebook (computer) a small computer that can be carried easily and can be operated by batteries.

noted ['nəʊtəd] adj [expert, musician, resort] that is famous for a particular quality, talent, or ability □ He's not noted for his tact. □ The town is noted for its hot springs.

notepad ['nəʊtpæd] n -1. a small pad of paper for writing notes on, with pages that can easily be torn out. -2. a notepad (computer) a small computer into which information is entered using a special pen rather than a keyboard.

notepaper ['nəʊtpeɪpə] n paper for writing letters on.

noteworthy ['nəʊtwɜ:ɪdɪ] (compar noteworthy, superl noteworthyest) adj that is interesting or worth taking notice of.

nothing ['nʌθɪŋ] pron -1. no thing, event, comment etc □ I've had nothing to eat since breakfast. □ The idea itself is nothing new. □ "What did you buy?" — "Nothing." ■ there's nothing in it it is not true □ I've heard that rumor, but there's nothing in it. ■ there's nothing to it it is very easy to do □ "I can't believe you made those dresses yourself!" — "Oh, there was nothing to it, really." ■ to be OR have nothing to do with sthg to have no connection with sthg □ "Who wrote this?" — "Don't ask me, I had nothing to do with it." ■ to be OR have nothing to do with sb to be private, so that sb does not need to know about it □ What I earn is nothing to do with you! -2. a thing or person of no value or importance □ "What were you going to say?" — "Oh, nothing really." □ They're arguing about nothing. □ Sonya means nothing to me any more. ■ it's nothing it is not important or serious □ "Are you hurt?" — "Don't worry, it's nothing."

◆ nothing but prep only □ This printer's been nothing but trouble.

◆ nothing if not adv very □ She's nothing if not determined.

◆ nothing like adv -1. very unlike □ You're nothing like your brother. -2. not nearly □ I'm nothing like finished. □ The play was nothing like as good as I'd hoped.

◆ for nothing adv -1. free; for no money □ I got the tickets for nothing. □ She offered to baby-sit for nothing. -2. a phrase used to say that all one's efforts and attempts are wasted □ They'd left by the time I got there, so I'd gone all that way for nothing.

nothingness ['nʌθɪŋnəs] n the state in which nothing exists.

notice ['nəʊtɪs] ◇ n -1. a written announcement, often put somewhere where people will see it □ A notice was pinned to the door. -2. attention given by somebody to something. ■ to come to sb's notice to be noticed by sb (formal use) □ It has come to my notice that a lot of the staff are leaving at four o'clock. ■ to escape sb's notice not to be noticed by sb □ Has it escaped their notice that something is seriously wrong? ■ to take notice to pay attention to somebody or something □ She expects the council to sit up and take notice when she wants something done! ■ to take no notice to pay no attention to somebody or something □ Take no notice of him! □ They never take any notice of what I say. -3. a warning that something is going to happen □ My landlord gave me a week's notice to move out. □ Be ready to leave at a moment's notice. ■ at short notice without much warning □ I was asked to come at very short notice. □ I know it's short notice, but are you free tonight? ■ until further notice until another announcement is made □ 'Closed until further notice.' -4. to be given OR to get one's notice to be told officially by one's employer that one must leave one's job, usually at the end of a stated period of time □ He was given a month's notice to quit. ■ to hand in one's notice to officially tell an employer that one intends to leave one's job, usually at the end of a stated period of time.

◇ vt [change, person, the time] to see or pay attention to <sb/sthg> □ I noticed them talking in the street. □ She noticed him write something down. □ I noticed that it was already six o'clock. □ Did you notice the ring he was wearing?

◇ vi: "They don't get along too well." — "So I've noticed!" □ I've never even noticed.

noticeable ['nɒtɪsəbl̩] adj [increase, improvement, change] that can easily be seen □ There's no noticeable difference in the color. □ The stain was barely noticeable.

noticeably ['nɒtɪsəbl̩i] adv to be noticeably different/hotter to be different/hotter in a way that is noticeable □ It was noticeably cooler when we got off the plane.

noticeboard ['nɒtɪsbɔ:d] n a board on which notices are put for people to read.

notification [,nɒtɪfɪ'keɪʃn] n [of payment, results, delivery] see notify □ We received notification of the changes this morning.

notify ['nɒtɪfaɪ] (pt & pp notified) vt [police, authorities, applicant] to give some official information to <sb> □ You will be notified of the results by mail.

notion ['nəʊʃn] n an idea or belief about something, especially one that is thought to be wrong or foolish □ She has no notion of time/money. □ You have the strangest notions sometimes.

◆ notions npl US SEWING a collective term for things used when sewing, e.g. buttons and thread.

notional ['nəʊʃnəl] adj [payment, membership] that is theoretical rather than real.

notoriety [,nɒtə'reɪəti] n fame that somebody or something has because of something bad that has happened involving them □ The riots confirmed the district's notoriety as a crime center.

notorious [nəʊ'tɔ:riəs] adj [criminal, theft, nightclub] that is well-known because of something bad □ The street is notorious for its prostitutes. □ He's notorious for always being late.

notoriously [nəʊ'tɔ:riəsli] adv notoriously lazy/unreliable etc that is known by many people to be lazy/unreliable etc.

Nottinghamshire ['nɒtɪŋhəmʃə] a county in central England. SIZE: 2,164 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,007,700. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Nottingham.

Notting Hill Carnival [ˌnɒtɪŋhɪl-] n a large street festival in west London, England, with music, dancing, and costume competitions, organized by the Afro-Caribbean community.

Notts abbr of Nottinghamshire.

notwithstanding [ˌnɒtwɪð'stændɪŋ] (formal use) □ prep [opposition, public opinion] in spite of <sth> □ Notwithstanding their lack of money, they managed to get to Greece. □ Her success notwithstanding, she still has a lot to learn. □ adv nevertheless.

nougat [US 'nu:gət, GB 'nu:gɑ:] n a hard chewy candy, usually white or pink with nuts and fruit.

nought [nɔ:t] num GB the number 0; see also five. ■ noughts and crosses a game played using a grid of nine boxes in which the players take turns, one drawing a nought in one box and the other drawing a cross in another, and in which the winner is the first person to complete a line of three boxes.

noun [naʊn] n a word used in grammar to refer to a quality, person, object, place, action, or abstract idea.

nourish [US 'nɜ:riʃ, GB 'nʌrɪʃ] vt -1. to feed  in order to make them strong and healthy. -2. [idea, hope, ambition] to keep <sth> in one's mind with the intention of making it real.

nourishing [US 'nɜ:riʃɪŋ, GB 'nʌr-] adj [drink, meal, food] that gives a lot of nourishment.

nourishment [US 'nɜ:riʃmənt, GB 'nʌr-] n -1. [in food, drink] food that a person, animal, or plant needs to stay strong and healthy. -2. [of a person, animal, plant] see nourish.

nouveau riche [ˌnu:vəu'ri:ʃ] (disapproving use) □ adj [person] who has recently become rich, but originally comes from a lower social class. □ n a person who is nouveau riche.

Nov. abbr of November.

Nova Scotia [ˌnəʊvə'skəʊʃə] a province in eastern Canada, on the Atlantic Coast, consisting of the Nova Scotia peninsula and Cape Breton Island. ABBREVIATION: NS. SIZE: 55,490 sq kms. POPULATION: 899,942 (Nova Scotians). CAPITAL: Halifax.

novel ['nɒvl] □ adj [concept, suggestion, approach] that is unusual and interesting □ That's novel, a health farm for pets! □ n a book that tells a story about people and events that are not real □ I love detective novels. □ Her latest novel's out in paperback this week.

novelist ['nɒvəlɪst] n a person who writes novels.

novelty ['nɒvlɪti] (pl novelties) n -1. something new and unusual □ It was quite a novelty for her to be traveling by plane. -2. [as a gift, prize] a small cheap object, often unusual, that is used as a small gift or prize and is not very useful □ a novelty toy. -3. [of a concept, suggestion, approach] see novel □ The novelty of working in such a glamorous environment soon wore off.

November [nə'vembə] n the eleventh month of the year in the Western calendar; see also February.

novice ['nɒvəs] n -1. a person who has not yet learned enough about their job, hobby etc to be very good at it □ I'm still pretty much a novice at skiing. -2. RELIGION a person who has recently joined a monastery or convent and is not yet a full-fledged monk or nun.

NovocaineTM ['nəʊvəkeɪn] n a pain-relieving drug used for local anesthetics.

now [naʊ] □ adv -1. at the present moment, as opposed to the past or future □ I have to go now. □ They should have arrived by now. □ "Can I ask you something?" — "Not now, I'm busy." ■ any day OR time now at any point in the very near future □ The baby's due any day now. ■ that's all for now I have no more to say at the moment, but I will probably say more later □ We can manage OK for now, but we'll need extra help soon. □ Bye for now. ■ now and then OR again occasionally. -2. used in stories to describe a particular time in the past □ By now we were all exhausted. □ We were all laughing now. -3. because of what has just happened □ We were going to buy a new car, but we can't afford it now. -4. used to introduce a new subject of conversation or to attract attention □ Now then, what's going on here? □ Now for a look at the morning's papers.

◇ conj now (that) because a particular event has happened □ Now (that) you've found somewhere to live, you'll feel much more settled.

NOW [naʊ] (abbr of National Organization for Women) n the largest US feminist organization.

nowadays [ˈnaʊədəɪz] adv at the present time, especially when the situation was different before □ Nowadays, women can work until the same age as men.

nowhere [ˈnəʊweə] adv in no place that exists □ There's nowhere we can stay. □ There was nowhere else I could think of. □ Nowhere does it say you have to have a degree. ■ out of OR from nowhere [appear] suddenly and unexpectedly □ Suddenly, out of nowhere, came this great big truck. ■ nowhere near not nearly □ You've got nowhere near enough money for the plane ticket. ■ to be getting nowhere to be achieving nothing □ I seem to be getting nowhere with my attempts to convince them. ■ this is getting us nowhere we are achieving nothing □ Look, all this arguing is getting us nowhere.

no-win situation n a situation that will have an unsatisfactory ending, whatever one does □ We're in a no-win situation.

noxious [ˈnɒkʃəs] adj -1. [gas, substance, fumes] that is poisonous or harmful. -2. [smell, creature] that is extremely unpleasant (formal use).

nozzle [ˈnɒzl] n a small device fitted to the end of a hose or a pipe to control the gas or liquid coming out.

NP abbr of notary public.

NS abbr of Nova Scotia.

NSAID (abbr of anti-inflammatory non-steroidal drug) n a drug for treating inflammation that does not contain steroids.

NSC (abbr of National Security Council) n the NSC a US government body that is responsible for national security.

NSPCC (abbr of National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children) n the NSPCC a British organization that aims to protect the rights of children who are being badly treated.

NSU (abbr of nonspecific urethritis) n a sexually transmitted infection.

NSW abbr of New South Wales.

NT n -1. abbr of New Testament. -2. abbr of National Trust.

nth [enθ] adj a word used to indicate that something has happened many times already (informal use) □ For the nth time, will you keep quiet!

NTSC (abbr of National Television Systems Commission) n the organization responsible for the system of broadcasting color television pictures in e.g. the USA and Japan.

nuance [ˈnju:ɑ:ns] n a very small difference in sound, appearance, meaning etc.

nub [nʌb] n the nub of the problem/argument etc the central and most important part of the problem/argument etc □ Now we come to the nub of the matter.

nubile [ˈnju:baɪl] adj [girl, young woman] who is young and sexually attractive (humorous or literary use).

nuclear [ˈnju:kliə] adj [war, weapons, power station] connected with or using nuclear energy □ nuclear tests.

nuclear bomb n a bomb that explodes using the energy produced by atoms.

nuclear energy n the energy produced by atoms when they are split or joined.

nuclear family n a family consisting only of two parents and their children.

nuclear fission n the process of splitting the nucleus of an atom to produce energy.

nuclear fusion n the process of combining atomic particles to produce nuclear energy.

nuclear physics n the study of the nuclei of atoms and their behavior.

nuclear power n the power produced by atoms when they are split, used especially to make electricity.

nuclear reactor n a device used to produce nuclear energy.

nucleus [ˈnju:kliəs] (pl nuclei [-liɑɪ]) n -1. [of an atom, a cell] the central part of something. -2. [of a group of people, idea] the basic and most important part of something □ The campaign is run by a nucleus of five members.

nude [nju:d] ◇ adj [person] who is wearing no clothes; [painting, scene, statue] that shows somebody who is nude. ◇ n -1. a picture or statue of a nude person. -2. phrase to be in the nude to be wearing no clothes.

nudge [nʌdʒ] ◇ n -1. a push one gives somebody with one's elbow to attract their attention to something □ Sally gave me a nudge and pointed out of the window. -2. something one says or does to encourage somebody to do something □ He needs a nudge in the right direction. ◇ vt -1. to give <sb> a nudge □ She nudged him in the ribs. -2. to nudge sb into OR toward sthg to say or do something to encourage sb to do sthg □ The General is being nudged toward reform by his aides.

nudist [ˈnju:dəst] ◇ n a person who prefers to wear no clothes, often because they believe it is healthy. ◇ adj [beach, camp, colony] that is used by nudists.

nudity [ˈnju:dəti] n [of person] see nude.

nugget [ˈnʌɡət] n -1. a small lump of gold, as it is found in the ground. -2. an interesting or valuable piece of information □ The guide includes tips on how to haggle and other such useful nuggets.

nuisance [ˈnju:ns] n somebody or something that causes problems □ It's (such) a nuisance that you're away on Monday. □ What a nuisance! □ That child is a real nuisance! ■ to make a nuisance of oneself to behave in a way that an-noys people, e.g. by complaining or interrupting □ Stop making such a nuisance of yourself — we're trying to work!

NUJ (abbr of National Union of Journalists) n the NUJ a British labor union for journalists.

nuke [nju:k] (informal use) ◇ n a nuclear weapon. ◇ vt [city, country] to destroy  using nuclear bombs.

null [nʌl] adj to be null and void not to be legally valid □ The result was declared null and void.

nullify ['nʌləfaɪ] (pt & pp nullified) vt -1. LAW [contract, claim] to declare <sthg> to be legally invalid. -2. [improvement, advance] to make <sthg> useless (formal use).

NUM (abbr of National Union of Mineworkers) n the NUM a British labor union for miners.

numb [nʌm] ◇ adj [person, fingers, mind] that cannot feel anything □ They were numb with cold/shock/fear. ◇ vt [person, fingers, mind] to make <sb/sthg> numb; [pain, feeling] to relieve <sthg> □ We were all numbed by grief. □ This should numb the pain a little.

number ['nʌmbə] ◇ n -1. a word, e.g. one, five, seventeen, or a symbol, e.g. 2, 13, 58, used to show how many things one is talking about □ He wrote a number on the board. □ a six-figure number. -2. the series of figures that one dials to call somebody by telephone □ Have you got my work number? □ Let me take your number. -3. a quantity □ We've dealt with a considerable number of cases. □ A small/large number of people disagreed. ■ a number of several □ We've received a number of complaints. ■ any number of a lot of □ There are any number of possibilities. -4. [of a house, bus] a word used to refer to a figure or series of figures that identifies somebody or something □ We live at number 23. □ Take the number 13 bus. -5. [by a performer] something, e.g. a song or short piece of music, that is performed or an audience.

◇ vt -1. to have  as a total □ Each team numbers six players. -2. to be numbered to be marked with a number □ The pages are numbered automatically. -3. to be numbered among a particular group of people to be included as part of a particular group of people □ She is numbered among the greatest living novelists.

number-crunching [-krʌntʃɪŋ] n the system of using a computer to analyze large amounts of data to find the answer to a problem (informal use).

numberless ['nʌmbərləs] adj [possibilities, stars] too many to be counted (literary use).

number one ◇ adj -1. a number one priority/choice a priority/choice that is more important to somebody than any other one □ The number one priority this year is to raise our public profile. □ Egypt would have to be my number one choice as a holiday location. -2. [manufacturer, team, pop group] that is the most successful in a particular field. ◇ n -1. the person or thing that is most important, successful etc in a particular field or situation □ That song's been number one in the charts for months now.

-2. oneself (informal use) □ He only ever thinks of number one.

numberplate ['nʌmbə'pleɪt] n GB a sign on the front or back of a vehicle that shows its registration number.

Number Ten a phrase used to refer to 10, Downing Street, London, the place where the British Prime Minister officially lives.

numbness ['nʌmnəs] n: see numb □ Her death left me with a feeling of numbness.

numbskull ['nʌmskʌl] n = numskull.

numeracy ['nju:mərəsɪ] n GB see numerate □ We aim to teach literacy and numeracy skills.

numeral ['nju:mərəl] n a symbol or group of symbols used to represent a number.

numerate ['nju:mərət] adj GB [employee] who can use numbers to do basic calculations □ Many 11-year-old pupils were barely numerate.

numerical ['nju:'merɪkl] adj [data, value, advantage] that is shown in the form of numbers □ The files are kept in numerical order.

numerous ['nju:mərəs] adj [reasons, people] many □ I've had to remind him on numerous occasions. □ The benefits are numerous.

numskull ['nʌmskʌl] n a stupid person (informal use).

nun [nʌn] n a member of a religious order consisting only of women.

nuptial ['nʌpʃl] adj [mass] that is connected with marriage (formal use).

nurse [nɜ:'s] ◇ n a person whose job is to care for people who are sick or hurt, especially in a hospital. ◇ vt -1. [patient, invalid] to care for <sb who is sick or hurt> □ Her husband nursed her back to health. -2. [ambition, desire, grudge] to have  for a long time. -3. [baby] to feed  with milk from one's breast.

nursemaid ['nɜ:'smeɪd] n a woman whose job is to take care of young children (old-fashioned use).

nursery ['nɜ:'səri] (pl nurseries) ◇ adj [education, teacher] that is connected with the education of children between the ages of three and five. ◇ n -1. a place where very young children can be taken care of while their parents are working, shopping etc. -2. a place where plants and young trees are grown to be sold.

nursery rhyme n a short song or poem for very young children.

nursery school n a school for children between the ages of three and five.

nursery slopes npl the least steep parts of a mountain, where people learn to ski.

nursing ['nɜ:'sɪŋ] n the activity or profession of caring for people who are ill.

nursing auxiliary n a person who helps nurses in a hospital but is not qualified as a nurse.

nursing home n -1. a private hospital, especially one for elderly people.

nurture ['nɜ:'tʃə] vt -1. [child, plant] to protect and care for the development of <sb/sthg>. -2. [ambition, hope, love] to have  and try to help it continue and develop □ We have long nurtured the belief that peace is possible.

NUS (abbr of National Union of Students) n the NUS in Britain, an organization that campaigns for the rights of students and provides services such as advice and leisure activities.

nut [nʌt] n -1. [from a tree] a hard dry fruit covered with a hard shell that grows on some trees □ She's allergic to nuts. -2. [for fastening things] a small piece of metal with a hole in the middle for a bolt, used to fasten things together. ■ the nuts and bolts the practical basic aspects of a subject or process (informal use) □ I can show you the nuts and bolts of accounting. -3. a crazy person (informal use) □ Her brother is a complete nut. -4. a sports/religious etc nut a person who is very enthusiastic about sports/religion etc (informal use). -5. [of a person] one's nut one's head or mind (informal use) □ Use your nut!

◆ nuts (informal use) adj to be nuts [person] to be crazy □ Are you nuts? There's no way I'm driving that thing!

NUT (abbr of National Union of Teachers) n the NUT a British labor union for teachers.

nutcase ['nʌtkɛɪs] n a crazy person (informal use).

nutcracker ['nʌtkrækəʔ] n a device used to crack a nutshell so that the nut inside can be eaten.

nutmeg ['nʌtmeg] n a hard, brown, tropical seed that is used as a spice; the powder made from this that is used as a spice.

nutrient ['nju:triənt] n any substance that, when absorbed by a plant, animal, or human body, helps it to stay alive and grow.

nutrition [nju:'triʃn] n -1. the process of taking in nutrients. -2. the elements of a food or drink that are nutrients □ Cereals have a high nutrition content. □ Nutrition information is shown on the packet.

nutritional [nju:'triʃnəl] adj [disorder, research] see nutrition □ Try to buy food with a high nutritional value.

nutritionist [nju:'triʃnɪst] n a person who studies nutrition and advises people what to eat and drink in order to be healthy.

nutritious [nju:'triʃəs] adj [food, meal] that contains the substances that help one's body to be healthy □ Vegetarian food is highly nutritious.

nutshell ['nʌtʃel] n in a nutshell a phrase used to introduce a very short way of saying or explaining something □ In a nutshell, yes.

nuzzle ['nʌzl] ◇ vt (person, horse, dog) to rub against <sb> gently with the nose and face, especially to show affection. ◇ vi: The kittens nuzzled up to their mother.

NV abbr of Nevada.

NW abbr of northwest.

NWT abbr of Northwest Territories.

NY abbr of New York.

NYC abbr of New York City.

nylon ['naɪlɒn] n a strong man-made material used in clothes and plastics.

◆ nylons npl women's stockings made of nylon.

nymph [nɪmf] n in Greek and Roman legends, a young woman who was believed to live in trees, rivers, and mountains.

nymphomaniac [ˌnɪmfə'meɪniæk] n a woman who wants to have sex a lot, usually with many different men (disapproving use).

NYSE (abbr of New York Stock Exchange) n the largest stock exchange in the USA.

NZ abbr of New Zealand.

o [ou] (pl o's OR os), O [ou] (pl O's OR Os) n -1. the fifteenth letter of the English alphabet. -2. a letter used to say the number zero, e.g. when it is part of a telephone number or year.

oaf [ouf] n a person who one thinks is clumsy and stupid (disapproving use).

oak [ouk] n -1. oak (tree) a large tree with strong hard wood. -2. the wood of the oak tree □ an oak table.

OAP n abbr of old age pensioner.

oar [ɔ:ʔ] n a long pole with a wide flat part at one end that is used for moving a boat through water.

oarlock [ɔ:'lɒk] n US a device that holds an oar in place while one is rowing.

oarsman [ɔ:'zɪmən] (pl oarsmen [-mən]) n a man who rows a boat.

oarswoman [ɔ:'zɪwʊmən] (pl oarswomen) n a woman who rows a boat.

OAS (abbr of Organization of American States) n the OAS an association that includes the USA and most Latin American countries, and that aims to encourage closer social, economic, and military cooperation between its members.

oasis [ou'eɪsɪs] (pl oases [-'eɪsɪ:z]) n -1. a place in a desert where there is water, and where trees grow. -2. a place that is very pleasant, good, quiet etc and that is surrounded by things that are unpleasant, bad, noisy etc □ an oasis of tranquility.

oath [ouθ] n -1. a formal promise □ Everyone had to take an oath of allegiance to the new ruler. ■ to be on OR under oath to have made a formal promise, especially to tell the truth in a court of law □ Remember that you are under oath. -2. a swearword (old-fashioned use).

oatmeal ['outmi:l] n -1. crushed oats used as a kind of flour in cooking □ oatmeal cookies.

-2. US a dish consisting of oats cooked in milk or water and eaten hot, usually for breakfast.

oats [aʊts] npl a cereal used for cooking or as food for farm animals.

OAU (abbr of Organization of African Unity) n the OAU an association that includes most African countries, and whose aim is to encourage cooperation and unity between its members.

obdurate [ˈɒbdjʊrət] adj [person] who is stubborn and determined not to change their beliefs or feelings about something (formal use) □ He remained obdurate in his refusal to sign.

OBE (abbr of Order of the British Empire) n an honorary title in Britain, usually given for services to the country.

obedience [əˈbi:djəns] n obedient behavior □ She expected complete obedience from her class.

obedient [əˈbi:djənt] adj [child, servant, animal] that does what they are asked or told to do without disagreeing, waiting etc □ He's very obedient — I only have to say "Sit!" and he does.

obediently [əˈbi:djəntli] adv [behave, wait] see obedient □ He followed me obediently outside.

obelisk [ˈɒbəlɪsk] n a tall stone pillar that has square sides and a point at the top and is built to remind people about a particular event or person.

obese [ouˈbi:s] adj [person, animal] that is very fat, in a way that is unhealthy.

obesity [ouˈbi:səti] n MEDICINE a condition in which one is very fat □ Obesity considerably increases the risk of heart disease.

obey [əˈbeɪ] ◇ vt [teacher, law, instructions] to do what <sb/sthg> tells one to do □ Are you refusing to obey my orders? ◇ vi [soldier, child, animal] The hostages obeyed without question.

obituary [US əˈbɪtʃuəri, GB -əri] (pl obituaries) n a piece of writing in a newspaper about the life of a person who has just died.

object [n ˈɒbdʒɪkt, vb ɒbˈdʒekt] ◇ n -1. a thing that can be seen or touched but is not alive □ There was a dark, round object lying in the middle of the road. -2. [of an activity] the aim or purpose of an activity □ What's the object of all this? □ Of course we want to make a profit; that's the whole object of the exercise. -3. an object of ridicule/hatred etc a person or thing that is ridiculed/hated etc □ The Starburn Group has long been the object of envy in the business world. -4. GRAMMAR a word used to refer to the part of a phrase, usually a noun or pronoun, that comes after a preposition or verb, e.g. "chair" in "I sat on the chair" or "me" and "present" in "she gave me a present."

◇ vt to state <sthg> as an objection □ He objected that he had no previous knowledge of the arms deals. □ "But you can't go now," objected David.

◇ vi to make an objection to something □ If no one objects, I'd like to leave now. □ They objected to the committee's proposals/to relocating. □ "I think it would be fair to say that this witness is a known liar." — "I object!"

objection [əbˈdʒekʃn] n a statement or feeling that shows that one is opposed to somebody or something or disagrees with them □ I have no objection to that/to his coming. □ She had one or two objections. □ If no one has any objections, we'll continue with the discussion tomorrow.

objectionable [əbˈdʒekʃnəbl] adj [person, behavior] that one finds unreasonable or unpleasant and that one disapproves of □ I liked her, but I found her husband thoroughly objectionable.

objective [əbˈdʒektɪv] ◇ adj -1. [opinion, person, analysis] that is fair because it is not influenced by personal feelings □ Let's try to be objective about this. -2. [evidence, data] that is based on fact. ◇ n the result that one wants and that one is trying to get □ He failed to achieve his main objectives. □ Our objective is to reach zero inflation by the next decade. □ career objectives.

objectively [əbˈdʒektɪvli] adv [speak, consider] without being influenced by personal feelings □ Looking at the matter objectively, you can see there's very little difference between the two.

objectivity [ˌɒbdʒektɪvətɪ] n: see objective □ We must try to retain a certain degree of objectivity.

object lesson [ˈɒbdʒɪkt-] n an object lesson in sthg an event, experience etc that is a very good example of sthg □ It was an object lesson in persistence.

objector [əbˈdʒektə] n a person who is opposed to something.

obligate [ˈɒblɪgeɪt] vt to be/feel obligated to do sthg to be/feel obliged to do sthg (formal use) obligation [ˌɒblɪˈgeɪʃn] n -1. a state of being obliged to do something, especially because one has agreed to do so □ You are under no obligation to buy. □ You have an obligation to your family. -2. something that one has agreed to do and that must be done □ He felt that he had more than fulfilled his obligations.
□ I don't want you to feel obligated to say yes.

obligatory [US əˈbligətɔ:rɪ, GB -ətəri] adj that is necessary because of a law, rule, or custom □ Attendance is obligatory.

oblige [əˈblaɪdʒ] ◇ vt -1. to oblige sb to do sthg to make sb have to do sthg □ You are not obliged to come. -2. to do something for <sb> in order to help them □ Would you oblige me by filling out this form? ◇ vi: I asked him to do it and he happily obliged.

obliging [əˈblaɪdʒɪŋ] adj [person] who does something for somebody in order to be helpful □ An obliging friend brought me here in her car.

oblique [əˈbli:k] ◇ adj -1. [look, compliment] that is indirect and therefore difficult to understand □ The article made an oblique reference to the incident. -2. [line, stroke] that slants to one side. ◇ n a short diagonal line that slants forward from its base and is used to separate words or phrases.

obliquely [əˈbli:kli] adv [mention, refer] in an indirect way that can be confusing □ She hinted obliquely at some changes in the organization.

obliterate [əˈblɪtəreɪt] vt [town, building] to destroy <sthg> completely □ Whole areas of the city were obliterated by the earthquake.

oblivion [ə'blɪvɪən] n -1. the state of being unconscious □ Drugs brought a kind of oblivion. -2. the state of being forgotten or irrelevant □ He gradually sank into oblivion.

oblivious [ə'blɪvɪəs] adj to be oblivious [person] to be unaware of something □ She was completely oblivious to OR of what was happening.

oblong ['ɒblɒŋ] ◇ n a shape that has four sides, two long and two short, and in which all the angles are 90°. ◇ adj [table, mirror] that is in the shape of an oblong.

obnoxious [əb'nɒksjəs] adj [smell, sight] that is very unpleasant; [person, comment, behavior] that is rude and offensive □ What an obnoxious little man!

o.b.o. (abbr of or best offer) a phrase used in advertisements to show that the person selling the goods will accept the best price that is offered.

oboe ['əʊboʊ] n a musical instrument made of wood that looks like a long tube and is played by blowing through a reed.

oboist ['əʊboʊɪst] n a person who plays the oboe.

obscene [əb'si:n] adj [publication, humor, phone call] that one finds offensive, especially because of its references to sex □ Meier was fined for making obscene gestures to the crowd.

obscenity [əb'senəti] (pl obscenities) n -1. obscene behavior □ His movies contain an unacceptable level of obscenity. -2. an obscene word □ He left, muttering obscenities.

obscure [əb'skjʊə] ◇ adj -1. [poet, town, book] that not many people know about □ It was originally thought to be the work of some obscure 17th-century painter. -2. [text, joke] that does not have a clear meaning and is therefore difficult to understand □ I find some of his remarks really obscure sometimes. ◇ vt -1. [issue, truth] to make <sthg> unclear □ The real problem is being obscured by their petty disputes. -2. [sun, object] to make it impossible to see <sthg> properly □ My view was obscured by a woman in a large hat.

obscurity [əb'skjʊərəti] n -1. the darkness (formal use). -2. [of a poet, text] see obscure □ She went from relative obscurity to stardom overnight.

obsequious [əb'si:kwɪəs] adj [person] who tries too hard to please somebody, especially by always agreeing with what they say (formal and disapproving use) □ The obsequious approach just doesn't work with me.

observable [əb'zɜ:vəbl] adj [event, fact] that can be seen □ There has been no observable improvement in the situation.

observant [əb'zɜ:vnt] adj [person] who is able to notice things that are not obvious □ That's very observant of you.

observation [ˌɒbzə'veɪʃn] n -1. a comment intended to show what one thinks about something □ He made some interesting observations about the layout. -2. [of a suspect, patient, somebody's behavior] see observe □ They're keeping him under observation for a few days.

observation post n a place where soldiers can watch the movements of the enemy from a higher position.

observatory [US əb'zɜ:vətɔ:ri, GB -'zɜ:vətɔ:ri] (pl observatories) n a building containing special equipment that is used by scientists to watch and study the stars, planets etc.

observe [əb'zɜ:v] vt -1. [change] to notice <sthg> by seeing it (formal use) □ I had observed little difference in his behavior toward me. -2. [suspect, patient, behavior] to watch <sb/sthg> for a period of time in order to learn something about them □ They've been observing the elections in case there are any irregularities. -3. [law, speed limit] to obey <sthg>. -4. [custom, religious festival] to show respect for <sthg> by taking part in it □ They don't observe Ramadan. -5. to comment on a situation by saying <sthg> (formal use) □ "I don't think she's feeling well," he observed.

observer [əb'zɜ:və] n -1. a person who sees or watches something □ This may not be immediately apparent to the casual observer. -2. [of politics, sports] a person who pays attention to and studies particular events or situations, and is usually considered to be an expert on them □ Royal observers have commented that a separation may be imminent. -3. [of a class, election] a person who watches a situation or activity without taking part, in order to see what happens □ I'm only here as an observer. □ UN observers will monitor the handover.

obsess [əb'ses] vt to be obsessed by OR with sb/sthg to be unable to stop thinking about sb/sthg □ She became obsessed with the idea of emigrating to Canada.

obsession [əb'seɪʃn] n the inability of somebody to stop thinking about a particular person or subject or about doing something □ His paintings reveal an obsession with death. □ Dancing has become an obsession with her.

obsessional [əb'seɪʃnəl] adj [behavior, need] see obsession.

obsessive [əb'sesɪv] adj [person, behavior] that shows an inability to stop thinking about or doing something □ He's obsessive about cleanliness.

obsolescence [ˌɒbsə'lesns] n: see obsolete □ Built-in obsolescence is a way for car and computer companies to make money.

obsolescent [ˌɒbsə'lesnt] adj [system, machine] that is becoming obsolete.

obsolete ['ɒbsəli:t] adj [system, machine, word] that is old-fashioned and no longer useful.

obstacle ['ɒbstəkl] n -1. an object that is in the way and makes it difficult for one to move forward □ With a broken leg, every staircase became an enormous obstacle. -2. a situation, fact etc that makes it difficult for something to happen □ What are the obstacles to free trade? □ There are many obstacles to overcome.

obstacle course n a course made up of different obstacles that must be passed, usually for sport or for developing physical fitness.

obstetrician [ˌɒbstə'trɪʃn] n a doctor who is trained in obstetrics.

obstetrics [ɒb'stetrɪks] n the part of medicine that deals with the way babies are born and the care of pregnant women.

obstinacy [ˌɒbstənəsi] n a determination not to change one's opinions or behavior that other people find unreasonable □ With his usual obstinacy, he refused to give in.

obstinate [ˌɒbstənət] adj -1. [person] who is determined not to change their behavior or opinions (disapproving use) □ She's so obstinate, you'll never get her to go. -2. [cough, stain] that is difficult to get rid of.

obstinately [ˌɒbstənətli] adv [refuse, insist] see obstinate □ He clung on obstinately to power.

obstreperous [əb'strepərəs] adj [person, behavior] that is noisy and difficult to control (formal or humorous use).

obstruct [əb'strʌkt] vt -1. [road, path, pipe] to block <sthg> □ Your car is obstructing the exit. -2. [justice, process, plan] to prevent <sthg> from working properly □ Joe was charged with trying to obstruct the course of justice.

obstruction [əb'strʌkʃn] n -1. [in a road, path, pipe] something that blocks something. -2. [of justice, a process, plan] see obstruct. -3. SPORT the act of unfairly getting in the way of an opposing player.

obstructive [əb'strʌktɪv] adj [person, behavior, policy] that tries to prevent something from happening.

obtain [əb'teɪn] vt [degree, book, information] to get <sthg> □ This kind of data is very difficult to obtain.

obtainable [əb'teɪnəbl] adj that can be obtained □ The book is not easily obtainable in the shops.

obtrusive [əb'tru:sv] adj [behavior, smell, color] noticeable in a way that is not pleasant □ I found his presence obtrusive.

obtrusively [əb'tru:svli] adv [act, behave] see obtrusive □ I was trying to be helpful, not too obtrusively, I hope.

obtuse [əb'tju:s] adj -1. [person] who pretends not to understand in a way that is annoying □ Stop being so obtuse! You know what I mean! -2. an obtuse angle an angle of between 90° and 180°.

obverse [ˌɒbvɜ:'s] n (formal use) -1. the obverse [of an argument, opinion] the opposite of something □ Of course, the obverse is also often true. -2. the obverse the front side of a coin that has the main picture on it.

obviate [ˌɒbvɪət] vt [need, problem] to remove or make <sthg> unnecessary (formal use) □ Improved public transportation would obviate the need for everyone to have their own car.

obvious [ˌɒbvɪəs] < adj -1. [answer, reasons, advantages] that can be easily seen or recognized □ The answer is obvious. □ It's obvious that we're not welcome here. -2. [remark, lie] that is not subtle and shows little thought or originality □ It seemed like an obvious thing to say. < n to state the obvious to say something that is so clear that it does not need to be said □ Saying that peace will be difficult is just stating the obvious.

obviously [ˌɒbvɪəsli] adv -1. obviously... a word used to introduce something that one expects people to know or agree with □ Obviously I wouldn't tell anyone. -2. in a way that is easily seen or noticed □ Marcus was obviously upset by what you said. □ There's obviously some kind of problem with the transmission.

OCAS [ˈoʊkæs] (abbr of Organization of Central American States) n an association of Central American countries whose aim is to encourage closer cooperation between its members.

occasion [ə'keɪʒn] < n -1. a particular time when something happens □ On one occasion, they were refused entry. □ We've met on several occasions. -2. an important event, ceremony, or celebration □ I'm saving this dress for a special occasion. ■ to rise to the occasion to show that one is able to deal with a difficult situation □ Twelve people is a lot to cook for, but I'm sure she'll rise to the occasion. -3. to have occasion to do sthg to have reason for doing sthg (formal use) □ I've never had occasion to doubt it. < vt to cause <sthg> (formal use) □ His deteriorating health occasioned grave concern.

◆ on occasion adv sometimes but not often □ He's been known to smoke, on occasion.

occasional [ə'keɪʒnəl] adj that happens sometimes but not often or regularly □ I like the occasional drink. □ There will be occasional showers in the south.

occasionally [ə'keɪʒnəli] adv sometimes but not often □ "Do you still see him?" — "Occasionally." □ We occasionally go out for a drink.

occasional table n a small table on which ornaments, cups, plates etc can be put.

occluded front [ə'klu:dəd-] n a warm weather front whose air has been forced upward by a cold front flowing in from underneath.

occult [ˈɒkʌlt] < adj [powers, arts] supernatural. < n the occult supernatural powers, forces etc.

occupancy [ˌɒkjə'pænsɪ] n the fact or period of occupying a building, piece of land etc (formal use) □ A young couple has taken over the occupancy of the apartment.

occupant [ˌɒkjə'pænt] n -1. a person who occupies a building, room etc □ All occupants will be asked to sign this form. -2. a person who is in a chair, vehicle etc (formal use) □ The car crashed, killing two of its occupants.

occupation [ˌɒkjə'peɪʃn] n -1. the job that one does for a living □ Please state your occupation. -2. a pastime □ Painting is her favorite occupation. -3. MILITARY [of a country, town] see occupy □ the German occupation of France.

occupational [ˌɒkjə'peɪʃnəl] adj [injury, pension] that is connected with somebody's job.

occupational hazard n a danger or a risk that is always present in a particular job □ Repetitive strain injury is one of the occupational hazards of being a keyboarder.

occupational therapist n a person who is trained to carry out occupational therapy.

occupational therapy n the training of ill or injured people in skills that are intended to help them get back to work or normal life again.

occupied ['ɒkjəpaɪd] adj -1. to be occupied [seat, room, toilet] to be in use already with the result that nobody else can use it □ Is this table occupied? -2. MILITARY [country, territory, town] that has been invaded by a foreign army and is controlled by it.

Occupied Territories: the Occupied Territories the areas of the Middle East that have been occupied by Israel since 1967: the Gaza Strip, the Golan Heights, and the West Bank.

occupier ['ɒkjəpaɪə] n GB a person who lives in a building (formal use).

occupy ['ɒkjəpaɪ] (pt & pp occupied) vt -1. [house, building, room] to live, work, or stay in <sthg> with the result that nobody else can use it □ A Greek family is occupying the apartment at the moment. □ They occupy the whole of the first floor. -2. MILITARY [country, territory, town] to move into and take control of  □ the occupying army. -3. [post, position] to have <sthg> □ The Queen occupies a central role in the constitutional set-up. -4. to occupy oneself to keep oneself busy □ Now that he's retired, he occupies himself in researching family history/with his stamp collection. -5. [time, space, mind] to fill <sthg> □ The story occupied the whole front page.

occur [ə'kɜːr] (pt & pp occurred, cont occurring) vi -1. [incident, event, tragedy] to happen □ the place where the accident occurred. -2. [species, phenomenon] to exist or be found in a particular place □ These weather patterns only occur in tropical regions. -3. to occur to sb [idea, thought] to come into sb's mind □ It occurred to me that he might be lying.

occurrence [ə'kʌrəns] n -1. something that happens □ There were a number of strange occurrences in the weeks following the sighting. -2. [of violence, a crime, disease] the fact of something happening or existing □ a study of the occurrence of HIV infection.

ocean ['oʊʃn] n -1. the ocean the sea □ We went swimming in the ocean. -2. GEOGRAPHY one of the five main areas into which the sea on the Earth's surface is divided.

oceangoing ['oʊʃŋɡoʊɪŋ] adj an oceangoing ship a ship that is designed for crossing the open sea rather than for traveling along a coast or on a river.

Oceania [US ˌoʊʃi'æniə, GB ˌoʊsi'ɑːniə] a collective term for the islands of the central and southern Pacific Ocean, including Melanesia, Micronesia, and Polynesia.

ocher US, ochre GB ['oʊkə] adj that is yellow-orange in color.

o'clock [ə'klɒk] adv a word used when telling the time, after a number from 1 to 12, to say that it is exactly that hour □ It's five o'clock. □ I left at about two o'clock.

O'Connor [ou'kɒnə], Flannery (1925–1964) a US writer who described life in the South. Her work includes A Good Man is Hard to Find and Everything that Rises Must Converge.

OCR n -1. abbr of optical character reader. -2. abbr of optical character recognition.

Oct. abbr of October.

octagon ['ɒktəɡən] n a flat geometrical shape with eight straight sides and eight angles.

octagonal ['ɒktəɡnəl] adj: see octagon.

octane ['ɒkteɪn] n a substance that is found in gasoline and is used to measure its quality and efficiency. FORMULA: C₈H₁₈.

octane number, octane rating n a number that shows the quality and efficiency of gasoline, with the highest number showing the highest quality.

octave ['ɒktɪv] n a space of six whole tones between two musical notes.

octet [ɒk'tet] n a group of eight singers or musicians; a piece of music written for such a group.

October [ɒk'təʊbə] n the tenth month of the year in the Western calendar; see also February.

octogenarian [ˌɒktəʊdʒə'neəriən] n a person who is between 80 and 89 years old.

octopus ['ɒktəpəs] (pl octopuses OR octopi [-paɪ]) n a sea creature with a soft body and eight tentacles, eaten as food.

OD ◊ n & vi abbr of overdose. ◊ abbr of overdrawn.

odd [ɒd] adj -1. [person, behavior, idea] that is strange or unusual □ I think it's very odd that Lou didn't come. □ This tuna smells odd. -2. [socks, gloves] that do not belong to the same pair □ He was wearing odd shoes. -3. an odd number a number that cannot be divided exactly by two. -4. [bits, parts] that are left over or extra □ I have some odd scraps of material left over, if you want them. -5. the odd drink/game etc a drink/game etc that one has sometimes, but not often □ We meet for a chat on the odd occasion. -6. twenty-odd/thirty-odd etc a little more than twenty/thirty etc (informal use) □ They've been together for forty-odd years now.

◆ odds npl -1. probability □ The odds are that we'll lose. ■ against the odds despite disadvantages or what most people expect □ Against (all) the odds, the oldest competitor crossed the line first. □ Their marriage survived against all odds. -2. phrases odds and ends small objects of various types, usually of little value □ I managed to pick up some odds and ends for the house at the sale. ■ to be at odds with sb/sthg not to be in agreement with sb/sthg □ She's always been at odds with her family.

oddball ['ɒdbɔːl] n a person whose behavior one finds strange or eccentric (informal use) □ His brother is a real oddball.

oddy ['ɒdəɪ] (pl oddities) n -1. a strange or unusual person or thing □ As a teetotaler, he was an oddity among journalists. -2. the odd

- quality of somebody or something □ I was struck by the oddity of her behavior.
- odd-jobber US [-'dʒɒbər], odd-job man GB n a person paid to do odd jobs.
- odd jobs npl small manual jobs of various types.
- oddly ['ɒdli] adv -1. [behave, act, speak] see odd □ He looked at me oddly. -2. oddly disappointing/encouraging etc disappointing/encouraging etc in a way that is unexpected □ I was oddly unimpressed by the show. -3. oddly enough a phrase used to show that one finds something surprising □ Oddly enough, I didn't much care.
- oddments ['ɒdmənts] npl small parts of something larger that have not been used and are left over.
- odds-on [ɒdz-] adj the odds-on favorite the team, horse etc that is considered most likely to win.
- ode [oʊd] n a poem in which a person, thing, or event is praised.
- odious ['oʊdɪəs] adj [person, behavior] that one finds very unpleasant (formal use).
- odometer [oʊ'dɒmɪtər] n US an instrument that records the number of miles traveled by a vehicle.
- odor US, odour GB ['oʊdə] n a smell.
- odorless US, odourless GB ['oʊdələs] adj [deodorant, liquid, gas] that has no smell.
- odour etc n GB = odor etc.
- odyssey ['ɒdɪsi] (pl odysseys) n a long trip with many adventures (literary use).
- OECD (abbr of Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development) n the OECD an association of 24 countries, including most of Western Europe, the USA, Canada, Japan, Australia, and New Zealand, whose aim is to encourage world trade and economic growth.
- Oedipus [US 'edəpəs, GB 'i:d-] in Greek mythology, a man who killed his father and married his mother without realizing who they were.
- OEM (abbr of original equipment manufacturer) n a company that makes its own computer products, using parts bought from other companies □ the OEM market.
- oesophagus n GB = esophagus.
- oestrogen n GB = estrogen.
- of [stressed ɒv, unstressed əv] prep -1. a bottle of milk a bottle that contains milk □ a bag of flour □ a book of stories. -2. a pound of grapes used after nouns showing quantity or amount □ a gallon of petrol □ many of my colleagues. -3. a flock of birds used after nouns meaning a group □ a gang of criminals □ a herd of cows. ■ a pair of shoes used after nouns which make plural and uncountable nouns countable □ a pair of scissors □ a set of keys. -4. the color of her dress the color that her dress has □ a leg of a table □ the size of the problem. ■ a city of two million people a city that has two million people (used before numbers). ■ a friend of mine a friend that I have. -5. a look of anger a look showing or filled with anger □ a shout of joy □ a woman of great intelligence □ a position of power. -6. the smell of fish the same smell that fish has □ a lump the size of a tennis ball □ in the style of Beethoven... -7. a gift of flowers a gift that is or consists of flowers □ the science of astronomy □ a saving/increase of 5%. ■ the city of Los Angeles the city that is Los Angeles (used with placenames). ■ a child of five a child who is five years old (used to show somebody's age). -8. a crown of solid gold a crown made from solid gold (used to show the material that something is made from) □ a dress of silk. -9. a member of the family a person who is in, from, or part of the family □ the President of the company □ the streets of London. ■ any day of the week any day in the week □ scene 2 of Act III □ the University of Texas. ■ cancer of the liver/throat etc cancer that affects the liver/throat etc (used of illnesses) □ a fracture of the left wrist. -10. a map of France a map that shows France □ a photo of my son. ■ the story of my life the story that tells about or deals with my life □ a record of a meeting □ the Department of Health. -11. he told us of his life he told us about his life (used after some verbs) □ She often thought of her parents. □ I got rid of those papers. ■ used of sth used when talking about or referring to sth □ The word is used of men and women. -12. hopes of improvement hopes that something will improve in the future □ There seems no prospect of a pay rise. □ I have every intention of complaining. □ I wouldn't dream of criticizing you. -13. proud of her success proud because of her success (used after some adjectives) □ ashamed of his behavior. -14. the barking of the dogs the barking that the dogs did (used to show what or who performs an action) □ I heard the ringing of bells. □ the arrival/departure of the Paris train □ the contraction of the muscle. ■ the novels of Dickens the novels written or made by Dickens. ■ it was kind of you (to invite me) you were kind (to invite me). -15. a writer of plays a person who writes plays (used to show the object of an action) □ a supporter of the proposal □ the destruction of the rainforests. ■ a fear of flying used to show the reason for a feeling or emotion □ her love of good food. -16. the date of your birth the date when your birth happened □ Where were you on the night of the murder? ■ the war of 1902 the war that happened in 1902 □ They met during the summer of '76. ■ the 12th of February GB the 12th day in February.
- off [ɒf] ◇ adv -1. to drive off to drive away from the place where one was before □ A thief ran off with her purse. □ Turn off at the next junction. ■ to fall/jump off to fall/jump down from where one was before. ■ off you go! you must go now. -2. a long time off a long time in the future (used in expressions of time) □ The wedding was still two days off. ■ ten miles off ten miles away (used in expressions of distance). -3. she cut all her hair off she cut her hair so that all of it was gone (used to show that something is removed) □

A button has come OR fallen off. ■ he had his shirt off he was not wearing his shirt □ Could you help me off with this coat? -4. to turn a lamp off to make a lamp stop operating □ Switch the engine off. -5. to call a meeting off to cancel a meeting, so that it will no longer take place. -6. a day/year off a day/year when one does not go to work because one is ill, on vacation etc □ I'm planning to take some time off during the summer. -7. $10 off $10 less than the usual price □ She gave me 5% off.

◇ prep -1. away from <sthg>, especially from the top or surface of sthg □ Take your hands off me! □ She jumped down off the wall. □ I got off the bike. -2. off (the coast of) India in the sea near (the coast of) India (used to show position) □ Many students live off campus. □ The bathroom is off the hallway. -3. to cut a branch off the tree to cut a branch so that it is no longer on the tree (used to show where something has been removed from) □ I wiped the dirt off my shoes. -4. off work not at work because of illness or a vacation □ I go off duty at 10 o'clock. -5. to live off bread and water to live using bread and water □ This machine works off electricity. -6. he's off his food he is not eating food because he is ill □ She's been told to stay off alcohol/drugs. -7. I bought it off Eddie I bought it from Eddie (informal use) □ I borrowed $20 off Joan.

◇ adj -1. to be off [milk, meat, wine] to be rotten or stale □ The cheese is off. -2. to be off [person] not to be at work, school etc because of illness or vacation □ I'll be off for the rest of the week. -3. to be off [person] to be away from home □ He's off in the Bahamas. -4. to be off [deal, party] to be canceled □ I'm sorry, but the wedding's off. -5. to be off [light, machine] not to be operating □ Make sure the heating is off before you go out.

◆ off and on adv sometimes but not continuously □ It's been raining off and on all day.

offal ['ɒfɪl] n the internal organs of animals, used as food.

off-balance adv -1. to knock OR throw sb off-balance to cause sb to lose their balance. -2. unprepared □ Her remark caught me off-balance.

offbeat ['ɒfbi:t] adj [humor, style, taste] that is unusual and strange (informal use).

off-Broadway adj [play, show] that is shown in the less well-known New York theaters.

off-center ◇ adj not exactly in the center □ The picture's off-center. ◇ adv [hang, position] in an off-center position.

off chance n on the off chance that... in the hope that something will be the case, even though it is unlikely □ I just called on the off chance (that) you'd be in.

off-color adj -1. [joke, remark] that is connected with sex and might be offensive to some people. -2. GB [person] who is a little unwell.

offcut ['ɒfkʌt] n a piece of fabric, carpet, wood etc that is left over from a larger piece and is often sold cheap.

off-day n a day when one does not work well, things go badly etc (informal use) □ I'm having an off-day today.

off-duty adj [policeman, nurse] who is not working □ I'm off-duty duty at six.

offence GB = offense.

offend [ə'fend] ◇ vt [person] to upset or hurt the feelings of <sb> □ I didn't mean to offend him. □ Parts of this film may offend some viewers. ◇ vi to commit a crime □ If he offends again, he'll go straight to prison.

◆ offend against vt fus to offend against sthg [against a principle, rule] to go against sthg in a way that people think is morally wrong □ Such abuses offend against the decency of honest working people.

offended [ə'fendəd] adj to be offended [person] to be upset or hurt by something □ Neil looked mortally offended.

offender [ə'fendə] n a person who has been found guilty of a crime □ Persistent offenders will be fined.

offending [ə'fendɪŋ] adj the offending item/word etc the item/word etc that is the cause of a problem □ We've been asked to remove the offending picture.

offense US, offence GB [ə'fens, sense 3 'ɒfens] n -1. the act of breaking a rule or law □ It is a criminal offense to carry a gun without a license. □ Is it her first offense? -2. a cause of upset or hurt feelings □ He tried hard not to give offense. ■ to take offense to feel upset or hurt by something □ He took offense at their jokes. □ Don't take offense: I'm sure she didn't mean it like that. -3. US SPORT the team that has possession of the ball; the members of a team whose main role is to attack the opposing team's goal.

offensive [ə'fensɪv] ◇ adj -1. [language, behavior, joke] that causes offense □ I find his attitude deeply offensive. -2. [weapon, action, position] that is used for an attack. ◇ n -1. MILITARY an attack against the enemy, using a lot of soldiers and equipment, that continues for a long period □ an air offensive. -2. to go on OR take the offensive to start to attack or become aggressive □ There's no need to go on the offensive just because I made one criticism.

offer ['ɒfə] ◇ vt -1. [food, work, opportunity] to present <sthg> as a possibility that can be accepted or refused □ They're offering a reward to anyone who can provide information. □ He offered me a large whiskey. □ I've been offered the chance to go to Tokyo. -2. to offer to do sthg to show that one is willing to do sthg □ A young man kindly offered to carry my bag. -3. [sympathy, love, understanding] to give <sthg> □ Please allow me to offer my sincerest condolences. -4. [service, opportunity] to provide <sthg> □ Our hotels offer excellent conference facilities in convenient locations.

◇ vi: We don't need your help, but it was kind of you to offer.

◇ n -1. [of help, advice, money] an act of offering something □ It was too good an offer to refuse. □ I've made other arrangements, but thanks for the offer, anyway. □ a job offer. -2. BUSINESS

- an amount of money that somebody says they are willing to pay in order to have something □ They made me a generous offer.
- 3. [in a store] a specially reduced price for a product □ 'Special offer'.
- ♦ on offer adj GB -1. available to be bought □ There was a wide range of goods on offer. -2. on sale at a specially reduced price □ Selected brands are on offer this week.
- OFFER ['ɒfə] (abbr of Office of Electricity Regulation) n the British government agency that is responsible for making sure that the electricity industry treats its customers fairly.
- offering ['ɒfərɪŋ] n -1. something offered or provided □ The singer's latest offering has gone straight to number one. -2. something offered as a gift or sacrifice to a god.
- off guard adv unprepared □ I was caught off guard.
- offhand [ˌɒf'hænd] ◊ adj [person, greeting, behavior] that seems to show little interest in other people (disapproving use) □ I found his manner very offhand. □ She has a very offhand way of dealing with people. ◊ adv immediately and without time to think □ I can't remember her name offhand.
- office ['ɒfəs] n -1. [room] a room where non-manual work, usually clerical and administrative, is done □ office supplies/furniture □ Could you come to my office for a moment? -2. [of a company, organization] a building that contains an office or offices □ I fly out to our Boston office tomorrow. -3. [people] the people who work in a particular office □ The whole office is talking about it. -4. [department] an administrative department of a business or a government □ the tax/education office. -5. [for a service] a room or building that offers a particular service □ a sales office. -6. POLITICS a position of authority, usually in government □ during her second term of office □ The same party has been in office for 15 years. ■ to take office to take over a responsibility, usually in a government.
- office automation n the use of computers, word processors etc in offices.
- office block n GB = office building.
- office boy n a young man employed to carry out simple routine tasks in an office.
- office building n US a tall building that contains a lot of offices.
- officeholder ['ɒfəʃhəʊldə] n a person who has a position of responsibility in a government or in an organization.
- office hours npl the period of the day when offices are open and people are at work □ What do you do out of office hours? □ We are only open during office hours.
- office junior n GB a young person employed to carry out simple administrative tasks, e.g. mailing letters and photocopying documents.
- Office of Fair Trading n the Office of Fair Trading the British government organization that is responsible for making sure that businesses operate fairly.
- officer ['ɒfəsə] n -1. MILITARY a person in a position of command in the armed forces. -2. [in an organization] a person who holds a position of authority in an organization, business etc □ the press and publicity officer for the Red Cross. -3. [in the police] a member of the police force □ He was accused of trying to bribe an officer of the law.
- office work n the kind of work that is done in an office, e.g. clerical and administrative work.
- office worker n a person who does office work.
- official [ə'fɪʃl] ◊ adj -1. [statistics, document, language] that is approved or recognized by the government or some other authority □ Who was the official sponsor for the 1992 Olympic Games? -2. [residence, duties] that is connected with a person who holds a position of authority □ the President's official visit to China. -3. [opening, announcement] that is formal and public □ Her appointment is not official yet. □ It's official: they're engaged. -4. [story, version] that is told to the public but is not necessarily completely true □ What's the official reason for his visit? ◊ n a person who holds a position of authority in government or in an organization □ a government official.
- officialdom [ə'fɪʃldəm] n officials as a group (disapproving use).
- officially [ə'fɪʃlɪ] adv -1. [open, announce] see official □ I haven't been officially invited yet. -2. a word used to report statements made in public that may not be true □ Officially, he's got flu, but it's actually more serious than that.
- officiate [ə'fɪʃɪeɪt] vi to perform the official duties at a ceremony, wedding etc □ The President officiated in person at the medal presentation.
- officialious [ə'fɪʃɪəs] adj [person] who is too eager to use their authority to give orders or advice (disapproving use) □ An officialious little man in a uniform told us to go away.
- offing ['ɒfɪŋ] n to be in the offing to be likely to appear or happen in the very near future □ Many feel that peace is now in the offing.
- off-key MUSIC ◊ adj that is out of tune. ◊ adv: You're singing off-key.
- off-licence n GB a store where alcoholic drinks are sold.
- off-limits adj to be off-limits to be an area that a particular group of people is not allowed to enter □ The town is off-limits to military personnel.
- off-line ◊ adj [equipment, printer] that is not connected to or controlled by a computer ◊ adv: Save money by reading your email off-line. NOTE: Compare on-line.
- offload [ɒf'ləʊd] vt [task, responsibility, object] to get rid of <sth> that one does not want and give it to somebody else □ He has a tendency to offload all his problems onto me.
- off-peak ◊ adj [electricity, fares, period] cheaper than usual because of lower demand at particular times. ◊ adv [travel, phone] in a period of low demand and at a reduced price.

off-putting [-putɪŋ] adj [manner, behavior, person] that is unpleasant and causes dislike □ Her description of the house was rather off-putting.

off-ramp n US a road for leaving a highway.

off-road vehicle n a strong vehicle designed to be driven over rough ground.

off season n the off season the period of the year when few people go on vacation and prices for accommodations, travel etc are cheaper.

◆ off-season adj: an off-season ticket/vacation.

offset ['ɒfɪset] (pt & pp offset, cont offsetting) vt [losses, costs] to balance <sthg> against something else that has an opposite effect so that they become more equal □ We offset our expenses against tax.

offshoot ['ɒfʃu:t] n [of an enterprise, company] something that has developed from something else □ Macken Ltd is an offshoot of a larger US corporation.

offshore ['ɒfʃɔ:ɹ] ◇ adj -1. [oilrig, island, fishing] that is based or done at sea. -2. FINANCE [fund, investment, banking] that is based abroad, usually as a way of avoiding the tax system of one's own country. ◇ adv [fish, swim] We moored three miles offshore.

offside [adj ,ɒf'saɪd, n 'ɒfsaɪd] ◇ adj -1. an off-side door/light etc GB a door/light etc that is located on the side of a vehicle that is furthest from the side of the road while one is driving. -2. to be offside SPORT [in soccer, rugby] to be in a position that is not allowed by the rules, between the ball and the opponents' goal. ◇ n GB the side of a vehicle that is furthest from the side of the road. NOTE: Compare nearside, onside.

offspring ['ɒfsprɪŋ] (pl offspring) n -1. a child or children (formal or humorous use). -2. the young of an animal.

offstage [ˌɒf'steɪdʒ] ◇ adj -1. THEATER [noises] that is produced out of sight of the audience. -2. [romance, life] that is connected with the private life of an actor or actress and not related to their professional activity. ◇ adv THEATER A loud bang was heard offstage.

off-the-cuff adj [remark, response] that somebody makes without planning it or thinking about it first.

◆ off the cuff adv [say, remark, answer] in an off-the-cuff manner.

off-the-peg adj GB = off-the-rack.

off-the-rack adj US [clothes] that can be bought in a store and are ready to wear.

off-the-record adj [remark, statement] that is made unofficially and is not intended to be made public.

◆ off the record adv: He spoke off the record.

off-the-shelf adj [software] that can be bought by the public.

◆ off the shelf adv: You can buy it off the shelf.

off-the-wall adj [idea, sense of humor] that is unusual and strange (informal use).

off-white adj that is not completely white in color because it has some gray or yellow in it.

OFGAS ['ɒfgæs] (abbr of Office of Gas Supply) n the British government agency responsible for making sure that the gas industry treats its customers fairly.

OFT n abbr of Office of Fair Trading.

OFTEL ['ɒftel] (abbr of Office of Telecommunications) n the British government agency responsible for making sure that the telecommunications industry treats its customers fairly.

often ['ɒfn] adv -1. many times □ He often drives to work. □ I don't see him very often. □ It's not often that she's wrong. □ "How often do you visit her?" — "About once a week." -2. in many cases □ Often the best solution is to switch off the computer and start again. □ The inhabitants are often very poor.

◆ as often as not, more often than not adv usually □ The trains are late as often as not. □ More often than not all he wants to do is chat.

◆ every so often adv sometimes □ We go out for a meal every so often. □ Every so often we got a phone call from him.

OFWAT ['ɒfwɒt] (abbr of Office of Water Supply) n the British government agency responsible for making sure that the water industry treats its customers fairly.

ogle ['ɒgl] vt to stare at <sb> in a way that shows sexual interest (disapproving use) □ Will you stop ogling those girls!

ogre ['ɒʊgə] n in fairy tales, a large, cruel, ugly creature that sometimes eats people.

oh [ou] excl -1. [before a reply, comment] a word used to introduce a comment or a reply to something □ Oh how nice! □ Oh really? -2. a word used to express doubt or hesitation □ Oh, I'm not sure, four, I think. -3. [for showing emotion] a word used to express surprise, happiness, fear, shock etc □ Oh, you startled me! ■ oh no! a phrase used to express worry or concern □ Oh no! I forgot my purse.

OH abbr of Ohio.

Ohio [ou'haɪou] a state in the Midwest of the USA. ABBREVIATION: OH. SIZE: 107,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,847,115 (Ohioans). CAPITAL: Columbus.

ohm [oʊm] n a unit of measurement of electrical resistance.

OHMS (abbr of On Her (or His) Majesty's Service) a phrase printed on a letter or publication to show that it was sent officially by a British government department.

oil [ɔɪ] ◇ n -1. a smooth, thick liquid extracted from below the earth's surface and used in different forms as e.g. a lubricant for machinery and fuel for heating □ fuel/gas oil □ oil-fired central heating. -2. any of several smooth, thick, fatty liquids extracted from animals and plants and used for cooking, making cosmetics etc □ sunflower oil □ evening primrose oil. ◇ vt [machinery, hinge] to put oil on or into <sthg> to make it work smoothly.

◆ oils npl ART -1. oil paintings. -2. oil paints.

oilcan ['ɔɪlkæn] n a small container, usually with a long spout, that is used to pour oil on machinery.

oil change n a change of oil in a car engine.

oilcloth ['ɔɪlklɒθ] n cotton material with a smooth waterproof surface that was used in the past for tablecloths and other coverings.

oilfield ['ɔɪlfɪ:ld] n an area of the Earth's surface where oil is found and from which it is removed in order to be used.

oil filter n a filter used to collect the impurities from the oil in an engine.

oil-fired [-faɪə'd] adj [central heating, power station] that works by burning oil.

oil industry n the oil industry the industry involved in the extraction, refining, marketing, and distribution of oil and its by-products.

oilman ['ɔɪlmæn] (pl oilmen [-men]) n a man who works in the oil industry.

oil paint n a thick paint containing oil that is used by artists.

oil painting n a picture painted using oil paints; the art of painting in this way.

oil pan n US the part of an engine that holds the oil.

oilrig ['ɔɪlɪŋ] n a large structure built either at sea or on land for getting oil out of the ground.

oilskins ['ɔɪlskɪnz] npl thick clothing that has been treated with oil to make it waterproof.

oil slick n a layer of oil that floats on the surface of the sea, usually because it has escaped from an oil tanker in an accident.

oil tanker n a large ship or truck that transports oil.

oil well n a hole in the ground which has been made in order to obtain oil.

oily ['ɔɪli] (compar oilier, superl oiliest) adj -1. [rag, cloth, hand] that is covered in oil; [food, substance] that contains a lot of oil; [liquid, chemical] that is like oil. -2. [person, manner] too polite (disapproving use).

ointment ['ɔɪntmənt] n a thick creamy substance that is rubbed into the skin to make pain less severe or to heal a wound □ antiseptic ointment.

oiro (abbr of offers in the region of) GB a phrase written in classified advertisements to give a general idea of the price that would be accepted for a particular object □ oiro £100.

OK¹ [ou'keɪ] (pl OKs, pt & pp OKed, cont OKing), okay [ou'keɪ] (informal use) ◇ adj -1. to be OK [person] to be well and not ill or unhappy □ Are you OK? □ He sounded OK when I spoke to him. □ I'm sure you'll feel OK once you've had a drink. -2. [movie, food, work] not bad but not especially good □ I'm OK in math but better in history. ■ to be OK with or by sb [arrangement, suggestion] to be acceptable to sb □ I'll bring my husband, if that's OK with you. □ "Do you need the phone?" — "No, it's okay, I've finished with it." □ Is it okay if we leave early?

◇ n to give sb the OK to give sb permission to do something □ We've been given the okay to start on the new project.

◇ excl -1. a word used to ask for or show agreement □ See you at six, OK? □ OK, I'll meet you there. -2. a word used to agree to or accept something in a way that shows one is not happy about doing this □ OK, I know what you're saying, but I still think he's wrong. □ OK, you win, we'll eat out tonight. -3. a word used to introduce a new subject □ OK, can we start the meeting now?

◇ vi [plan, suggestion, loan] to officially agree to <sthg> □ Funding still has to be okayed.

OK² abbr of Oklahoma.

OK Corral n a corral in the western USA where a famous gun fight took place between Wyatt Earp and the Clanton brothers in 1881.

O'Keeffe [ou'ki:f], Georgia (1887–1986) a US painter known for her paintings of flowers.

Okie ['ouki] n a farm worker who left Oklahoma in the 1930s to find work on the West Coast.

Oklahoma [ˌouklə'houmə] a state in the central southern USA, north of Texas. Many Native Americans now live there. ABBREVIATION: OK. SIZE: 181,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,145,585 (Oklahomans). CAPITAL: Oklahoma City.

okra ['oukrə] n a thin green vegetable, originally from Africa, used e.g. in stews or curried dishes.

old [ould] ◇ adj -1. [person, animal] who has lived for many years □ There was a party for all the old folks in the area. -2. a word used in expressions referring to somebody's age □ "How old are you?" — "I'm 20 years old." □ A five-year-old (child) can walk, speak, count, and even write. □ Are you old enough to drive? □ This is my older sister. -3. [building, furniture, painting] that has existed for many years; [joke, story] that has existed for a long time, and is not original; [clothes, shoes, food] that one has had for a long time □ You see that old house over there? □ He's not telling his old war stories again, is he? □ I could lend you this old sweater if you like. -4. one's old job/car etc a job/car etc that one used to have □ My old apartment overlooked Central Park. □ That's my old college over there on the left. -5. the old system/regime etc the system/regime etc that used to exist and has been replaced □ Things were better under the old management. □ This was the old kitchen, but we've turned it into a workshop, as you can see. ■ in the old days a phrase used to refer to the past, especially when remembering something in one's own lifetime □ It reminds me of the good old days. □ In the old days, we used to climb up here to pick blueberries. -6. an old friend/acquaintance etc a friend/an acquaintance etc one has known for a long time □ Helen is an old friend of mine. -7. a word used before somebody's name to refer to them in an affectionate way (informal use) □ Poor old John! -8. any old a phrase used to emphasize that the quality of something is not important (informal use) □ Any old thing will do, as long as it's warm. □ You can't just put any old oil in the car, it has to be a special kind!

◇ npl the old old people in society □ The old are the ones who'll suffer.

old age n the period in one's life when one is old □ He's actually looking forward to his old age.
□ Once people reach old age...

old age pension n GB money that is paid regularly by the state to a retired person over a certain age.

old age pensioner n GB a person who receives an old age pension.

Old Bailey [-'beɪli]: the Old Bailey the main Crown Court in London. OFFICIAL NAME: Central Criminal Court.

old boy network n the old boy network the system by which men who went to the same school or college use their influence to help each other in later life.

olden ['ouldən] adj in olden days a long time ago (literary use).

old-fashioned [-'fæʃnd] adj -1. [clothes, hairstyle, machinery] that is connected with a period in the past and is no longer appropriate □ That's a pretty old-fashioned way of doing it. -2. [person] who prefers things to be done in a traditional way and is not influenced by new developments □ He has some rather old-fashioned ideas about education.

old flame n a person that one used to love.

Old Glory n a nickname for the US flag.

old hat adj to be old hat to be too familiar and not of interest or value any more (informal use) □ The ideas in the book seem old hat now.

old maid n an unmarried woman who is not young (disapproving use).

old master n an important painter of the past; a painting by such a painter.

old people's home n a place where old people can live together and receive special care when they can no longer take care of themselves alone.

Old Testament n the Old Testament the first part of the Christian Bible that contains the Hebrew Scriptures and tells of the history of the Hebrew people.

NOTE: Compare New Testament.

old-time adj [dancing, music hall] that is in the style of a period in the past.

old-timer n -1. a person who has done something, such as a job, for a very long time. -2. US an old man.

old wives' tale n a belief that has existed for a very long time and is considered to be foolish or superstitious.

Old World n the Old World Europe, Asia, and Africa.

oligarchy ['olɪgɑ:ʔkɪ] (pl oligarchies) n a small group of people who have the power to control a country, organization etc; a country, organization etc that is controlled by such a group.

olive ['ɒlɪv] ◇ adj [dress, clothing] olive green. ◇ n -1. a small, oval, black or green fruit with a stone in the center, used for food or for making oil. -2. = olive tree.

olive green adj [dress, uniform] that is dark yellow-green in color.

olive oil n oil made from olives and used in cooking and for making salad dressing.

Oliver Twist [ˌɒlɪvə'twɪst] the hero of the novel Oliver Twist by Charles Dickens. He is famous for asking for more food in the poor children's workhouse.

olive tree n a tree, grown mainly in Mediterranean countries, that produces olives.

Olympic [ə'ɒlɪmpɪk] adj [champion, stadium] that is connected with the Olympic Games.

◆ Olympics npl = Olympic Games.

Olympic Games npl the Olympic Games an event held every four years in a different country, in which teams from all over the world compete in various sports.

OM (abbr of Order of Merit) n an honor given to British people for some special service to their country.

O & M (abbr of organization and method) n the process of studying how an office works and suggesting how it could be made more efficient.

Oman [oʊ'mɑ:n] a country in southeastern Arabia. SIZE: 212,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,600,000 (Omanis). CAPITAL: Muscat. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Omani rial.

OMB (abbr of Office of Management and Budget) n the OMB the US government department responsible for preparing the budget.

ombudsman ['ɒmbʊdzmən] (pl ombudsmen [-mən]) n a person whose job is to deal with complaints by people about government departments or other public services.

omelet(te) ['ɒmlət] n a dish made by beating eggs together and cooking them, usually with another ingredient, in a flat pan □ a mushroom/cheese/Spanish omelette.

omen ['oʊmən] n something that is thought to be a sign of what will happen in the future □ a good/bad omen.

ominous ['ɒmɪnəs] adj [silence, cloud, sign] that suggests that something bad will happen □ The sky looked ominous. □ There was an ominous pause as Alfred digested what Francis had said.

ominously ['ɒmɪnəsli] adv [approach, speak] in a way that makes one feel something bad is going to happen □ The sea was ominously calm.

omission [oʊ'mɪʃn] n -1. somebody or something that has been omitted □ There were one or two glaring omissions from the list. -2. [of a detail, duty, person] see omit □ I'm sorry, it was an omission on my part.

omit [oʊ'mɪt] (pt & pp omitted, cont omitting) vt [person, detail, word] not to include <sb/sthg> either by accident or deliberately □ Sarah's name had been omitted from the guest list. ■ to omit to do sthg [task, duty] not to do sthg (formal use) □ You omitted to close the door on leaving.

omnibus ['ɒmnɪbəs] n -1. a book that contains several novels, usually by the same author, that have already been published separately □ a Charles Dickens omnibus. -2. GB RADIO & TV a program that contains several episodes of a series that have already been shown separately □ the omnibus edition.

omnipotence [ɒm'nɪpəʊns] n: see omnipotent (formal use) □ a belief in God's omnipotence.

omnipotent [ɒm'nɪpəʊnt] adj [God, government, ruler] that has complete power (formal use).

omnipresent [ˌɒm'nɪ'preznt] adj [fear, influence, person] that is present everywhere (formal use).

omniscient [US ɒm'nɪʃnt, GB -'nɪʃənt] adj [God, person] who knows everything (formal use).

omnivorous [ɒm'nɪvərəs] adj [animal] that eats both meat and plants.

on [ɒn] ◇ prep -1. on the table touching the top of the table and supported by it □ His clothes were lying on the floor. □ She sat down on a chair. □ Put the top back on the bottle. -2. on the wall/ceiling fixed to the surface of the wall/ceiling □ Dogs must be kept on a leash. □ Could you sew a button on my jacket? -3. used to describe where something can be found, seen etc □ 'See diagram on page 7' □ I can't find it on the map. □ He had a look of horror on his face. □ The information is available on diskette. -4. on a street/road/river on one side of a street/road/river □ We stayed at a hotel on Lake Michigan. □ the big stores on Fifth Avenue. -5. on the left/right at or to the left/right □ On your right is the royal palace. -6. on the bus/plane/train traveling inside the bus/plane/train □ She flew out on the last plane. ■ on a bicycle/horse to be riding a bicycle/horse □ He won the race on Red Rum. -7. on TV/radio using TV/radio □ The movie was shown on satellite TV. □ She's on the telephone at the moment. ■ to play sthg on the piano/guitar etc to play sthg using a piano/guitar etc as an instrument. -8. on Thursday/May 10/Christmas Eve at some point during Thursday/May 10/Christmas Eve (used with precise days and dates) □ We play bridge on Sundays. □ My father phoned me on my birthday. -9. on my arrival at the time of, or shortly after, my arrival (formal use) □ We agreed to meet again on my return. □ On hearing the result, he heaved a sigh of relief. -10. to be on drugs/tranquilizers to be taking drugs/tranquilizers regularly □ Are you on any medication at the moment? □ I can't drink, I'm on antibiotics. -11. to be on $80,000 a year to earn $80,000 a year □ She's on a good salary/a low income. -12. used to show where somebody's money comes from □ I can't live on a student grant. □ He's on welfare. -13. a book/talk on astronomy a book/talk about the subject of astronomy □ His views on farm subsidies are well known. -14. FINANCE the profit on a deal the profit that results from a deal □ These stocks give a good return on investment. -15. to be on a committee/council etc to be a member of a committee/council etc □ Who's on the panel of judges? -16. to have an effect/influence on sb to affect/influence sb □ The play made a deep impression on me. □ More research is needed into the impact of chemicals on the environment. ■ a tax on cigarettes a tax that affects cigarettes. -17. phrase the drinks are on me I'm paying for the drinks (informal use).

◇ adv -1. the lid is on the lid is covering or fixed to its box, jar etc □ Don't forget to stick a stamp on. -2. there's a sale/an election/a war on a sale/an election/a war is happening now □ There's a good exhibition on at the Guggenheim. -3. the TV/light is on the TV/light is working or being used □ Is the microphone still on? □ You left the heating on. -4. to have sthg on [clothing] to be wearing sthg □ Put a sweater on. □ What dress did she have on? -5. to work/read etc on to continue to work/read etc instead of stopping □ We weren't tired, so we drove on to the next town. -6. to send/pass sthg on to send/pass sthg to the next place or person □ He's moved on to a new town. □ We came to an intersection a little further on. -7. to get/step/climb on to get/step/climb inside a bus, train, plane etc □ The train stopped and we all got on. -8. to have a lot on to be doing a lot □ We've got nothing special on this evening. -9. to be on at sb GB to keep asking sb to do something in a boring or irritating way (informal use) □ He's always on at me about the length of my hair. -10. phrase it's just not on! GB it's not an acceptable way to behave (informal use) □ It's just not on, turning up late like that.

◆ from...on adv from now/then etc on starting now/then etc and continuing □ From that point on, we had no more dealings with them.

◆ on and on adv for a long time or distance □ We drove on and on through the night. ■ to go on and on adv about sthg to talk about sthg too long or too often □ Tessa went on and on about how wonderful her children were.

◆ on and off, off and on adv for short periods but not regularly □ It rained on and off throughout the day. □ I still see him off and on.

ON abbr of Ontario.

once [wʌns] ◇ adv -1. [happen, occur] on one occasion □ I go to the hairdresser's once a week/month/year. □ We met once, a long time ago. ■ once again OR more again as before; one more time □ Could you do that once more? □ They asked him once again, but still he refused to answer. ■ once and for all completely and without doubt □ They managed to cure his illness once and for all. □ Once and for all, I am NOT going to the bank with you. ■ once in a while sometimes, but not very often □ We like to go to the theater once in a while. ■ once or twice a few times □ I've been to see her once or twice. ■ for once on this particular occasion only □ He arrived on time for once! □ Just for once, could you show a little patience? □ Can't we go out — just this once? -2. at a time in the past, but not any longer □ This was once a beautiful piece of countryside. ■ once upon a time a phrase used to introduce the beginning of a fairy tale and show that it took place a long time ago □ Once upon a time, there was a beautiful princess.

◇ conj in the time after; as soon as □ It'll be easier once we've started. □ Give me a call once you get there.

- ◆ all at once adv -1. at the same time □ Here's $20, don't spend it all at once!
- 2. suddenly □ We were sitting around the table when all at once the lights went out.
- ◆ at once adv -1. immediately □ I asked him to leave at once. -2. at the same time □ Everyone came at once.

once-over n to give sb/sthg the once-over to examine sb/sthg quickly (informal use) □ I'll give it a quick once-over and see if you need any repairs.

oncoming ['ɒŋkʌmɪŋ] adj oncoming traffic/danger etc traffic/danger etc that is coming toward one or approaching.

one [wʌn] ◇ num -1. the number 1 □ One and one are two. □ I have one brother and two sisters. □ There's an introduction on page twenty-one. □ one hundred/thousand dollars. ■ one or two a very small number of people or things □ There are one or two points I'd like to discuss with you. □ I still keep in touch with one or two of my old colleagues. ■ in ones and twos alone or in very small groups □ People started arriving for the lecture in ones and twos. -2. one o'clock, the time of day □ We'll have lunch at one. □ It was just past one when he called; see also five.

◇ det -1. used to emphasize a particular person, thing, action etc, compared to others of the same kind □ There's just one thing I'd like you to do for me. □ One joke he told was especially funny. ■ the one person/place/thing the only person/place/thing □ You're the one person who really understands. ■ sb's one fear/ambition etc the chief fear/ambition etc that sb has □ My one concern is that you should be happy. -2. one day/evening etc on a particular day/evening etc in the past; on an indefinite day/evening etc in the future □ One evening we were sitting watching TV when the phone rang. □ You must come over for coffee one afternoon. -3. one James Smith somebody called James Smith who I have not heard of before □ The letter is signed by one James Smith. -4. that's one powerful car! that's a very powerful car (informal use) □ Your wife is one amazing cook!

◇ pron -1. used to refer to the person or thing that has just been mentioned □ She's the one I told you about. □ Those shoes are pretty worn, you need some new ones. -2. used to refer to a particular person or thing in a group of people or things □ I believe you know one of my sisters. □ Which slice would you like, this big one or a smaller one? □ If you need a sweater, you can borrow one of mine. -3. used to make general statements (formal use) □ One has to be so careful when dealing with strangers. -4. used by the person who is speaking or writing to refer to himself or herself in an indirect way (formal use) □ One often wonders why one ever got into banking. -5. phrases to be at one with sb to be in agreement with sb □ I'm at one with them on the subject of abortion. ■ to feel at one with sthg to feel calm and peaceful because one has a good relationship with sthg □ For a brief moment, I felt at one with the world. ■ to be one up on sb to have an advantage over sb (informal use) □ Well, you're one up on me there - I haven't a clue what's going on!

- ◆ for one adv used to emphasize that one is giving a personal opinion □ I, for one, remain unconvinced.
- ◆ one after the other, one by one adv first one person, then the second, and so on □ One by one the members of the audience got up and left the hall.
- ◆ one another pron each other □ We all have to help one another in times of trouble.

one-armed bandit n GB a machine which people put money into and from which they hope to win more money by pulling down the long handle at the side.

O'Neill [ou'ni:l], Eugene (1888–1953) a US playwright. His work includes Long Day's Journey into Night and The Iceman Cometh.

one-liner n a short joke or funny comment in a play, comedy show etc □ The movie has some great one-liners.

one-man adj a one-man show a show that is performed by one person only. ■ a one-man business a business that is run by one person only.

one-man band n -1. a musician, especially a street musician, who plays a number of instruments at the same time. -2. something such as a business that is organized or run by one person (informal use).

one-night stand n -1. a performance that takes place once at one place before moving on to another place. -2. a sexual relationship that lasts only one night or a very short time (informal use).

one-off ◇ adj GB [opportunity, payment] made or happening only once □ This is a one-off chance to see The Groundhogs in concert. ◇ n an event that happens only once; a person or thing that is original and is not like anybody or anything else (informal use) □ It's a one-off; you'll never see anything like that again.

one-on-one US, one-to-one GB adj [tuition, discussion] that involves only two people □ Most of my classes are one-on-one.

one-parent family n a family in which only one of the parents brings up the child or children, e.g. because of divorce or death.

one-piece adj a one-piece swimsuit a swimsuit that consists of one piece of material, rather than a separate top and bottom.

onerous ['ɒnərəs] adj [task, responsibility] that is difficult and often unpleasant.

one's [wʌnz] poss adj used to say that somebody or something is connected with or belongs to people in general □ One's friends can be helpful at times like these. □ One should never forget one's manners. ■ to be on one's own to be alone □ The nice thing is that one can go on one's own.

oneself [wʌn'self] pron used as the object of a verb or after a preposition when the subject of the verb is "one" (formal use) □ One tells oneself that things will get better. □ One has to rely on oneself in such situations.

one-shot adj US made or happening only once (informal use) □ a one-shot deal.

one-sided [-'saɪdɪd] adj -1. [sports match] in which one side is stronger or better than the other; [conversation, activity] in which one person is more active than the other □ It was all rather one-sided, really — he never stopped talking and I just sat there listening. -2. [argument, decision] that only considers one side of a situation and so is unfair □ Isn't that a rather one-sided view of things?

onetime ['wʌntaɪm] adj a onetime pop star/model etc a former pop star/model etc □ a onetime actor turned director.

one-to-one adj GB = one-on-one.

one-upmanship [-'ʌp mənʃɪp] n the practice of trying to show that one is better than somebody else (disapproving use).

one-way adj -1. [street, traffic] that involves movement in one direction only □ I got lost on the new one-way system. -2. [ticket, trip] that involves traveling from one place to another, but not back again.

ongoing ['ɒŋɡəʊɪŋ] adj [situation, relationship, discussion] that is continuing □ in the ongoing struggle for control.

onion ['ʌnjən] n a small, round, white vegetable with thin brown skin, which is sliced or chopped and used to add flavor to dishes.

on-line ◇ adj [printer, equipment, database] that is directly connected to and controlled by a computer. ◇ adv: We can print on-line.

NOTE: Compare off-line.

online service n a large commercial bulletin board that a computer user can access using a modem.

onlooker ['ɒnlʊkə] n a person who watches something happening, but is not involved □ A crowd of onlookers gathered at the scene of the accident.

only ['əʊnli] ◇ adj -1. the only person/thing no other person/thing □ When I was in trouble, she was the only person who offered to help. □ The only thing I can suggest is that you contact him yourself. □ It's our only hope. □ Writing a letter is the only way of contacting him. -2. an only child a child who has no brothers or sisters. ◇ adv -1. I only read novels I read novels and nothing else □ He was only trying to be helpful. □ 'For external use only' □ She only manages to relax when the children are asleep. □ Only Harry could have bought something like that. -2. it's only a scratch it is nothing worse, bigger, more important etc than a scratch □ She's only a child. □ "What's that noise?" — "It's only Jeremy snoring." ■ only 10% of the population no more than 10% of the population. -3. used for emphasis □ It's only natural you should feel upset. □ I only hope you're right! □ I saw him only yesterday. □ I don't know what time she'll be home, I've only just got back myself. -4. It will only annoy him it is certain to annoy him □ Just tell them the truth — you'll only regret it if you don't.

◇ conj but (informal use) □ He's like his brother, only nicer. □ I would drive here, only my car's at the garage.

◆ only just adv -1. they've only just arrived they arrived a very short time ago □ The concert had only just started. -2. I only just passed the exam I passed the exam, but I almost did not □ We only just got here in time.

◆ only too adv very □ I'd be only too delighted to come. □ They'd be only too pleased for you to stay another day.

◆ not only...but (also)... conj used to say two things when the first is known already but the second is new and surprising □ Tom was not only a colleague, but (also) a personal friend. □ Not only did Roddy not pay the rent, he also stole money from us.

o.n.o., ono (abbr of or near(est) offer) GB a word used in classified advertisements to show that the seller of a particular object may accept a lower offer than the stated price □ £500 o.n.o.

on-ramp n US a road for joining a highway.

onrush ['ɒnrʌʃ] n a sudden strong feeling □ She felt an onrush of remorse.

on-screen ◇ adj [display, editing] that appears or takes place on a computer screen. ◇ adv: We edit on-screen usually.

onset ['ɒnset] n [of war, illness, attack] the beginning of something unpleasant or difficult to deal with □ After the onset of winter, they were unable to travel.

onshore ['ɒnʃɔː] ◇ adj -1. [wind, breeze] moving toward the land from the sea. -2. on or near the shore □ onshore fishing. ◇ adv: A bitter wind was blowing onshore. □ They're drilling onshore.

onside [ɒn'saɪd] ◇ adj to be onside [in soccer, rugby] to be in a position where one is allowed to kick, receive etc the ball. ◇ adv: He played his opponent onside.

NOTE: Compare offside.

onslaught ['ɒnslɔːt] n -1. a very powerful physical attack □ a fierce onslaught against enemy troops. -2. actions or words that show strong opposition to something □ the critics' onslaught on budget cuts.

Ontario [ɒn'teəriəʊ] -1. a province in eastern central Canada. ABBREVIATION: ON. SIZE: 1,068,582 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,084,885 (Ontarians). CAPITAL: Toronto. -2. Lake Ontario one of the Great Lakes between Canada and the USA.

on-the-job adj on-the-job training/experience etc training/experience etc that one gets by working in a job.

on-the-spot adj an on-the-spot interview an interview that happens immediately without time for preparation. ■ an on-the-spot reporter a reporter who reports from the place where something has happened or is happening.

onto [ɒntuː] prep -1. to step/fall onto sth to step/fall so that one is on top of sth □ He climbed onto a chair. □ The vase fell onto the floor. -2. to stick/fasten sth onto sth to stick/fasten sthg so that it is attached to sthg else □ Someone had pinned a notice onto the door. -3. to get onto a train/bus/plane etc to go inside a train/bus/plane etc in order to travel on it. -4. to come OR move onto sthg to start to discuss sthg □ I'll stop you there, because I want to get onto the next topic. -5. phrases to be onto sb to realize that sb has done something wrong □ He had to act fast, now that the police were onto him. ■ to be/get onto sb GB to be/get in contact with sb □ We'd better get onto the factory and cancel the order.

onus ['ounəs] n a responsibility that somebody has to do something □ The onus is on you to reimburse them.

onward ['ɒnwə'd] ◇ adv -1. from now/that day onward starting now/that day and continuing after that time □ I'll be free any time from three o'clock onward. □ From July onward you will be reporting to Sally Green, the new head of department. -2. to move/travel etc onward to continue to move/travel etc in the same direction □ After stopping to rest the horses, we rode onward until we came to the river.

◇ adj -1. the onward trip the trip that continues after a particular point □ Passengers arriving in Athens will board a bus for the onward trip. -2. onward development/growth etc development/growth etc that continues to make progress as time goes on □ Nothing can halt the onward march of medical science.

onwards ['ɒnwə'dz] adv = onward.

onyx ['ɒnɪks] n a semi-precious stone with bands of different colors, used to make jewelry.

oodles ['u:dlz] npl oodles of sthg a lot of sthg (informal use).

oof [ʊf] excl a sound used to show relaxation, relief, or sudden pain (informal use).

ooh [u:] excl a sound used to express pleasure, displeasure, or surprise (informal use) □ Ooh, you look really lovely!

oops [ups] excl a word used when reacting to a mistake or small accident (informal use) □ Oops, I nearly tripped!

ooze [u:z] ◇ vi [confidence, charm, money] to have a lot of <sthg> so that it is very obvious to other people □ Look at him sitting there — he just oozes self-satisfaction. ◇ vi [blood, mud] to flow out slowly through a narrow space □ Sweat oozed from OR out of every pore. ◇ n mud, especially at the bottom of a river.

opacity [ou'pæsəti] n: see opaque.

opal ['əʊpl] n a precious stone that changes color when it is held in different positions □ an opal pendant.

opaque [ou'peɪk] adj -1. [glass, paper, glaze] that one cannot see through. -2. [meaning, piece of writing] that is not clear and so is difficult to understand.

OPEC ['əʊpek] (abbr of Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) n an organization that includes most of the world's big exporters of oil, who meet to coordinate the production and prices of their oil.

open ['əʊpən] ◇ adj -1. [drawer, window, curtains] not closed □ The door stood wide open. □ He was sleep-walking with his eyes open. □ The cupboard door swung open. -2. [bottle, package, envelope] not sealed □ Have a cookie, the package is already open. -3. [book] that has its two covers spread out so that a particular page can be read; [flower] whose petals have unfolded; [umbrella] that is unfolded and ready for use □ His park lay open on the table. □ I noticed in the park that the daffodils are already open. □ Leave your umbrella open to dry. -4. [mind, person] that is willing to accept or consider new or different ideas □ I'm sure you could talk to Daniel — he's very open about these things. □ a free, open and democratic society. ■ to be open to sthg [to offers, new ideas] to be willing to accept or consider sthg; [to blame, question, misunderstanding] to be likely to receive sthg □ If any of you think you have a solution, I'm open to suggestions. □ I think your words are open to misinterpretation. ■ to lay oneself open to criticism to do something that makes one very likely to be criticized □ If you make a speech as provocative as that you're laying yourself open to attack. -5. [person, manner] that is honest and does not try to hide things □ Simon is very open about the fact that he's gay. -6. to be open [library, bank] to be ready to serve customers □ We're open until 6 pm. □ 'Open all day Monday to Saturday.' -7. to be open [bridge, public building, institution] to be officially ready for use □ When will the new superstore be open? -8. [road, passage, tunnel] that is clear with no obstacles in the way □ Main Street is now open again following an accident earlier today. -9. [coat, jacket] that is not fastened. -10. open country OR space country-side where there are few buildings and where one can travel around easily □ They sailed on the open sea. □ They love being out on the open road. -11. [car, carriage, boat] that has no roof or cover □ a bus with an open top deck □ They sat warming themselves in front of an open fire. -12. to be open to sb [opportunities, choice, alternative] to be available to sb □ You don't have many options open to you. -13. [meeting, park] that anybody can go to; [competition, debate] that anybody can take part in; [invitation] that anybody can accept □ The conference is not open to members of the public. -14. [disbelief, admiration, hostility] that is obvious and not hidden □ Laurence stared at her in open disbelief. -15. [situation, question] that does not have a final, definite conclusion □ The question was left open for further discussion.

◇ n in the open [sleep, eat] outside. ■ to bring sthg out into the open to talk about sthg that has been a secret □ I'm glad it's all been brought out into the open. □ The conflict finally came out into the open.

◇ vi -1. [window, drawer, cupboard] to make <sthg> open □ She opened her eyes very wide. □ I knocked, but he wouldn't open the door. -2. [letter, package] to tear, cut, or unwrap <sthg> in order to reach its contents □ Should I open the wine? □ I'm always opening Jamie's mail by mistake. -3. [book, newspaper]

- to unfold or spread <sthg> out □ Open your books at page 204! □ She opened her umbrella and ventured out into the rain. -4. [office, building, gate] to unlock <sthg> so that people can enter; [new business] to start <sthg> □ They open the doors at 10 p.m. □ They're opening yet another bank in town. -5. [building, bridge, public area] to officially state that <sthg> is ready for use □ They've just opened a new section of highway. -6. [event, meeting, conference] to officially begin <sthg> by giving a speech, making an announcement etc □ I shall open today's proceedings with a word of thanks. -7. to open an inquiry/investigation to officially start an inquiry/investigation □ An investigation has been opened into the causes of the crash. ■ to open an account to start an account at a bank □ I've just opened an account with First Boston. -8. [road, passage, tunnel] to allow people or vehicles to use <sthg>, especially after an obstruction has been removed □ The third lane of the westbound M4 has now been opened after an earlier accident.
- ◇ vi -1. [door, window, eyes] to become open □ The door suddenly opened and in ran two small children. -2. [new store, new business] to begin business for the first time in a particular place; [store, library] to be ready for the public to enter □ The new leisure complex is due to open next June. □ It opens at 9 on Saturdays. -3. [meeting, conference] to officially begin; [play, movie] to be seen by the public for the first time □ The debate opened with a discussion on tactics. □ His new movie opens in New York this week. -4. [flower, petals] to unfold □ The umbrella wouldn't open.
- ◆ open on to vt fus to open on to sthg to lead to sthg □ The door opens on to a courtyard.
- ◆ open out vi -1. [bud, petals] to unfold. -2. [road, path, river] to become wider. -3. [valley, lake] to come into view.
- ◆ open up ◇ vt sep -1. to open sthg up [crate, bag] to open sthg that was sealed or closed □ The customs officer opened up the small brown case. -2. to open a place up [country, area] to remove legal or physical barriers from a place so that something, especially business, can take place □ The island is being opened up to tourists.
- ◇ vi -1. [opportunities, possibilities] to become available □ There are a lot of new opportunities opening up for people with computer skills. -2. to unlock a store, office, building etc □ What time do you open up? -3. [country] to start to provide new opportunities, especially for business □ Eastern Europe is opening up for new trade opportunities. -4. to become more willing to talk about oneself □ After several glasses of wine, he gradually began to open up.
- open-air adj [concert, event] that happens outdoors; [swimming pool, theater] that is outdoors and not covered.
- open-and-shut adj [dispute, problem] that is easy to solve □ It's hardly an open-and-shut case — there's so much evidence missing.
- opencast [US 'oʊpənkest, GB -kɑ:st] adj [mine, mining] that involves obtaining minerals that are near the earth's surface rather than deep underground.
- open day n GB = open house.
- open-ended [-'endəd] adj [discussion, meeting, question] that has no definite end or limit □ It was a fairly open-ended arrangement.
- opener ['oʊpnə] n an instrument used for opening something, e.g. a can or bottle.
- open-handed [-'hændəd] adj [offer, gesture] generous.
- open-hearted [-'hɑ:təd] adj [person] generous and kind.
- open-heart surgery n an operation in which somebody's heart is stopped and opened up so that surgery can take place.
- open house US, open day GB n a day when people are allowed to look around a college, school, organization etc and find out more about it.
- opening ['oʊpənɪŋ] ◇ adj an opening scene/remark etc a scene/remark etc that begins something □ The opening speech was about strategy for the coming year. ◇ n -1. [of a book, play] the first part of something, e.g. a book or movie □ What did you think of the opening? -2. [in a fence] a space or hole □ He managed to get in through an opening in the fence. -3. [in a conversation] an opportunity □ Finally she paused, which gave me an opening to speak. □ The talks should provide good openings for new trade possibilities. -4. [for work] a job vacancy □ There are few openings for arts graduates at the moment.
- opening hours npl the hours during which a place e.g. a bank or store, is open to the public □ What are your opening hours?
- opening night n the first night of a series of performances of a play, opera etc □ We went to the opening night of "La Traviata".
- opening time n GB the time when a pub can legally start selling alcoholic drinks.
- open letter n a letter to a well-known person such as a politician that is published in a newspaper or magazine so that the public can read it.
- openly ['oʊpənli] adv [talk, cry, admit] without trying to hide anything □ It was the first time she had spoken openly about her marriage.
- open market n the process of buying and selling goods publicly, not privately □ You'll sell it quicker if you put it on the open market.
- open marriage n a marriage in which both partners are free to have sexual relationships with other people.
- open-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person, approach, attitude] that is willing to consider new or different ideas □ James's mother is very open-minded about drinking and things like that.
- open-mouthed [-'maʊðd] ◇ adj [person] who has their mouth wide open as a way of expressing surprise □ He stared at her in open-mouthed amazement. ◇ adv: We simply watched open-mouthed as they towed the car away.
- open-necked [-'nekt] adj [shirt, blouse] that is not fastened at the neck.

openness ['oupənnəs] n -1. the quality of being honest and not hiding things □ greater accountability and openness in public affairs. -2. the quality of being willing to accept or consider new or different ideas □ openness to new approaches.

open-plan adj [office, building] that contains desks, people etc in one big area, sometimes separated by partitions but not by walls.

open prison n GB a prison in which the prisoners are not locked in their cells all day, and can do various activities that would not be allowed in other prisons.

open sandwich n a sandwich that consists of one slice of bread only so that the filling is not covered on top.

open season n the period of time each year when particular types of fish or animals can legally be killed for sport.

open shop n a business, firm etc that does not make its workers join a labor union.

Open University n the Open University in Britain, a method of studying by correspondence for university qualifications. Students are taught through programs on the radio and television as well as tutorial classes. People do not need any qualifications to start a course of study.

open verdict n GB a verdict by a court that records a death without mentioning how the death was caused.

opera ['ɒpərə] n -1. a play in which the words are sung rather than spoken, and which is usually accompanied by classical music □ I've got most of Handel's operas on CD. -2. operas as a form of entertainment □ She's a great fan of (the) opera.

opera glasses npl small binoculars used in a theater.

opera house n a building like a theater where operas are performed.

opera singer n a person who sings in operas for a living.

operate ['ɒpəreɪt] ◇ vt -1. [machine, device] to work the controls of sthg □ My job is to operate the crane. -2. to manage a business; to provide  □ She operates a small import-export business. □ They operate a free telephone service for customers.

◇ vi -1. [rule, system, law] to have particular effects. -2. [machine, device] to work. -3. [business, organization] to carry out trade □ They operate out of Vancouver. □ It operates on a world-wide scale. -4. MEDICINE [surgeon] to cut somebody's body open in order to treat something that is wrong □ Do you think they'll have to operate? □ He's being operated on to remove the blockage. □ When are they operating on your leg?

operatic [ˌɒpə'reɪtɪk] adj [production, role, society] that is connected with the opera.

operating ['ɒpəreɪtɪŋ] adj BUSINESS operating costs costs that are a normal part of running a business. ■ an operating loss/profit a loss/profit that is made by a company when it is carrying out its usual business.

operating room ['ɒpəreɪtɪŋ-] n US a room in a hospital where medical operations are carried out.

operating system n the most basic program in a computer that controls how it deals with the hardware and how it runs files.

operating theatre n GB = operating room.

operation [ˌɒpə'reɪʃn] n -1. a planned activity that usually involves many people □ a police/relief operation. -2. BUSINESS the activities and work of a business or company; a business organization □ the company's operations in Singapore □ an agricultural/a mining operation. -3. [of a machine, device] the way something is made to work □ The operation of the equipment is very straightforward. ■ in operation [machine, system] in use □ The production line has been back in operation since last week. ■ to come into operation [law, plan] to begin to have an effect □ It will come into operation as of March 23. -4. MEDICINE the act of operating on somebody, or of being operated on □ I underwent an operation to remove a tumor. ■ to have an operation to be operated on □ He's had an operation on his knee/for his sinus problem.

operational [ˌɒpə'reɪʃnəl] adj -1. to be operational [machine, piece of equipment] to be working or ready for use □ We are pleased to announce that the new credit system is now fully operational. -2. an operational difficulty/problem etc a difficulty/problem etc that happens while a machine, business etc is working □ Operational costs must be kept to a minimum.

operative ['ɒpəreɪtɪv] ◇ adj to be operative [business, law] to be working and having an effect □ It will take a while before we are fully operative. ◇ n a worker, especially one who works in a factory □ a machine operative.

operator ['ɒpəreɪtə] n -1. [for a telephone company, hotel] a person who works on a telephone switchboard □ I was trying to get through to the operator. -2. INDUSTRY a person whose job is to operate a machine □ a computer/machine operator. -3. BUSINESS a person who is in charge of a business □ a major tour operator.

operetta [ˌɒpə'retə] n a short, often humorous musical play in which many of the words are sung and which often includes dancing.

Ophelia [ou'fi:lɪə] a character in Shakespeare's play Hamlet. She goes mad and drowns herself when she thinks that Hamlet no longer loves her.

ophthalmic optician [ɒf,θælmɪk-] n GB a person whose job is to test people's eyesight and decide what kind of glasses or contact lenses they need.

ophthalmologist [ˌɒfθæl'mblədʒəst] n a doctor who treats diseases of the eyes.

opinion [ə'pɪnjən] n -1. one's personal feeling about a particular subject or situation □ strongly held opinions □ Everyone is encouraged to give their own opinion on each subject. □ So what's your opinion on these latest developments? □ They had a small difference of opinion over the money. □ It's a matter of opinion wheth-

- er the training session was actually successful. ■ to be of the opinion that to believe that (formal use). ■ in my opinion a phrase used to say one is giving one's opinion about something □ In my opinion, these experiments should be banned. -2. a belief or view that most people have, or that a particular group of people has □ World opinion has been outraged by the attack. □ The drug has not found favor with medical opinion.
- opinionated [ə'pɪnjəneɪtəd] adj [person] who has strong opinions and is unwilling to accept that they may be wrong (disapproving use) □ Geoff comes across as being very opinionated.
- opinion poll n a survey of various people's opinions of a person, activity, product etc □ Latest opinion poll figures show a 5% lead by the Democratic Party.
- opium ['ɒpjəm] n an addictive drug, made from the seeds of a type of poppy, that helps people to sleep, relieves pain, and can change a person's mood and behavior.
- opossum [ə'pɒsəm] n a small animal with thick fur and a long tail that carries its young in a pouch on the front of its body and lives in trees.
- Oppenheimer ['ɒpənhaɪmər], J.R. (1904–1967) a US scientist who was involved in the development of the atomic bomb.
- opponent [ə'pəʊnənt] n -1. POLITICS a politician who belongs to a different party from another politician and has different beliefs and ideas □ His opponents have called for a referendum. -2. [in football, boxing, chess] a person who one is competing against or who is in the opposite team. -3. [of an idea, movement] a person who criticizes an idea, movement etc □ a fierce opponent of the death penalty.
- opportune [ˌɒpə'tjuːn] adj [moment, remark] that happens at exactly the right time or in exactly the right situation (formal use).
- opportunism [ˌɒpə'tjuːnɪzəm] n the behavior of an opportunist (disapproving use).
- opportunist [ˌɒpə'tjuːnɪst] n a person who takes advantage of all situations that help their career or make them more successful, even if they harm other people (disapproving use) □ a political opportunist.
- opportunity [ˌɒpə'tjuːnəti] (pl opportunities) n a situation which allows one to do something □ She'd always wanted to travel the world, and this job seemed like an excellent opportunity. □ I phoned at the earliest opportunity. □ I don't often get the opportunity to practice my Russian. ■ to take the opportunity to do OR of doing sth to use an opportunity to do sth □ I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for coming.
- oppose [ə'pəʊz] vt [person] to strongly disagree with <sb> and try to make them change their mind; [idea, wish, reform] to disagree with <sth> and try to prevent it from being carried out or from continuing □ Clarke is being opposed by powerful commercial interests. □ Local residents opposed the new road.
- opposed [ə'pəʊzd] adj to be opposed [opinions, systems] to be very different from each other □ This theory is completely opposed to what we've been brought up to believe. ■ to be opposed to sth to disagree with sth □ I am strongly opposed to import quotas/nuclear tests.
- ◆ as opposed to prep a phrase used to contrast two things and to emphasize the first one mentioned □ More investment is needed in the rail system, as opposed to the road network.
- opposing [ə'pəʊzɪŋ] adj -1. opposing ideas/views etc ideas/views etc that are completely different from each other □ Father and son held opposing views on the subject. -2. opposing sides people who disagree with or are competing against each other □ They were playing on opposing teams.
- opposite ['ɒpəzɪt] ◇ adj -1. [house, door, side] that is facing a particular thing or person □ They work in the building opposite. -2. [result, direction, effect] that is completely different □ We live at opposite ends of the country. □ Her views on abortion are completely opposite to mine.
- ◇ adv [live, sit, work] in a position that is facing a particular person or thing □ They're building a school opposite.
- ◇ prep facing <sb/sth> □ Charles always used to sit opposite me in class. □ I'll meet you in the bar opposite the theater.
- ◇ n a person, belief, thing etc that is completely different from another person, belief, thing etc □ "Fat" is the opposite of "thin". □ She's just the opposite to me.
- opposite number n a person who has the same job as oneself, but not in the same company, government etc □ I'm going to meet my opposite number in Seoul.
- opposite sex n the opposite sex a phrase used by men to refer to women or by women to refer to men □ a member of the opposite sex.
- opposition [ˌɒpə'zɪʃn] n -1. [to a wish, plan, policy] the act of opposing something, or the state of being opposed to something □ There was strong opposition to the idea. □ Opposition from miners ended in a strike. □ The proposal met with powerful opposition from local residents. -2. a group of people who are opposing something □ Never give any advantage to the opposition. -3. SPORTS the team playing against one's own team □ The opposition is pretty tough. □ Their opposition in the next round will be the Spanish team.
- ◆ Opposition n POLITICS the Opposition in a country that has a parliament, the main party that opposes the government □ the leader of the Opposition □ the main Opposition party.
- oppress [ə'pres] vt -1. to treat <people> in a cruel unfair way □ oppressed for years by a harsh military dictatorship. -2. to make <sb> feel depressed or worried □ Feelings of doubt began to oppress her.
- oppressed [ə'prest] ◇ adj [minorities, people, workers] who are oppressed. ◇ npl the oppressed people who are oppressed.
- oppression [ə'preʃn] n -1. the act of oppressing a group of people □ the oppression of eth-

- nic minorities.* -2. a feeling of depression □ a sense of oppression.
- oppressive [ə'presɪv] adj -1. [law, society, regime] that is unfair and cruel. -2. [weather, heat] that is unpleasant, because it is too hot and there is not enough fresh air. -3. [silence, situation, atmosphere] that makes one feel very uneasy or anxious.
- oppressor [ə'presə] n a person who oppresses people, minorities etc.
- opprobrium [ə'prɒbrɪəm] n public disapproval or hatred (formal use).
- opt [ɒpt] ◇ vt to opt to do sthg to choose to do sthg from two or more possibilities □ She opted to go abroad for a year. ◇ vi to opt for sthg to choose sthg from two or more possibilities □ He opted for early retirement.
- ◆ opt in vi to opt in to choose to take part in something □ He opted in to the company's savings plan.
- ◆ opt out vi to opt out to choose not to take part in something □ In the USA, employees can opt out of their company's health plan.
- optic ['ɒptɪk] adj [nerve] that is connected with the eyes.
- ◆ optics n the branch of physics that is concerned with light.
- optical ['ɒptɪkl] adj -1. [instrument, disk, process] that involves the use of light, especially for storing information in a computer. -2. [effect, disorder] that is connected with one's eyesight.
- optical character reader n an optical instrument that can scan and process letters and figures and store them in a way that a computer can recognize and use.
- optical character recognition n the process in which letters and figures are recognized and processed by an optical character reader.
- optical fiber n a cable used in telecommunications which carries light signals along the glass fiber inside as a way of sending information.
- optical illusion n something, e.g. a drawing, that makes one think one sees something that is not really there.
- optician [ɒp'tɪʃn] n -1. US a person who fits and sells glasses but who is not qualified to test one's eyesight. -2. GB = ophthalmic optician. ■ the optician's the place where an optician works.
- optimism [ɒptəmɪzəm] n the belief that a particular situation, or the future in general, will turn out well □ Many young people feel little optimism about their job prospects.
- optimist [ɒptəmɪst] n a person who is usually optimistic.
- optimistic [ɒptəmɪstɪk] adj [mood, person, attitude] that is full of optimism □ an optimistic estimate of the costs involved □ She's optimistic about passing her driving test.
- optimize, -ise ['ɒptəmaɪz] vt [chances, assets] to make <sthg> as successful, as useful, or as likely to happen as possible.
- optimum [ɒptəməm] adj an optimum amount/condition etc an amount/a condition etc that is the best or most likely to bring success □ The optimum speed of the car for efficient fuel consumption is 50 mph. □ For optimum results, use only as directed.
- option ['ɒpʃn] n a choice from several possible courses of action or choices □ What are the options? □ There are several options open to you for investing your money. ■ to have the option to do sthg to have the freedom to choose to do sthg □ She had no option but to pay up. □ He had the option of taking early retirement.
- optional ['ɒpʃnəl] adj [subject, feature] that one can choose to do or have if one wants to □ Electric windows are an optional extra with this model. □ On the second day of the tour there will be an optional excursion to Lake Como.
- optometrist [ɒp'tɒmətrɪst] n US a person whose job is to test people's eyesight and decide what kind of glasses or contact lenses they need.
- opulence ['ɒpjələns] n: see opulent.
- opulent ['ɒpjələnt] adj -1. [person, society] very rich □ They lead an opulent lifestyle. -2. [hotel, palace] that is expensively and beautifully decorated and furnished □ She lived in opulent surroundings.
- opus ['ɒpəs] (pl opuses OR opera [-ərə]) n a piece of music by a musician, followed by a number to indicate where it comes in the whole series of the musician's works □ Beethoven's septet in E flat, Opus 20.
- or [ɔ:] conj -1. used in front of the last thing in a list of alternatives or choices □ Do you want to eat out, or would you rather stay at home? □ I didn't know whether to feel pleased or not. □ You can have spinach, carrots, or potatoes. -2. used between numbers to show approximate amounts □ I've only met him once or twice. □ They usually cost thirty or forty dollars. ■ a week/month or so about a week/month □ I'll see you in an hour or so. -3. he can't read or write he cannot read and he cannot write (used after a negative word) □ I didn't manage to swim or run yesterday. -4. hurry up or (else) you'll be late if you do not hurry up, you will be late □ Drive carefully, or you'll have an accident. -5. used to correct something one has just said or to make it more precise □ She's the chairwoman, or "chairperson" as I should say.
- OR abbr of Oregon.
- oracle ['ɒrəl] n a person in Ancient Greece who, it was believed, could communicate with the gods and tell people about the future.
- oral ['ɔ:rəl] ◇ adj -1. [history, test] that is spoken, not written □ Have you had your French oral exam yet? -2. [surgery, hygiene] that is connected with the mouth; [medicine] that is swallowed □ oral contraceptives. ◇ n an oral exam or test.
- orally ['ɔ:rəlɪ] adv [take, express] see oral □ 'To be taken orally three times a day.'
- orange ['ɒrɪndʒ] ◇ adj [dress, paint, sign] that is the color between red and yellow. ◇ n -1. a

- round fruit with a thick orange skin and a sweet juicy center that is divided into separate parts and that is eaten, or can be squeezed to make a drink □ orange juice/peel. -2. a color between red and yellow □ This sofa is available in orange or yellow.
- orangeade [ˌɒrɪndʒ'eɪd] n a type of sweet fizzy drink that tastes of oranges.
- orange blossom n the white flowers of an orange tree that smell sweet and are traditionally carried by a bride.
- Orangeman [ˌɒrɪndʒmən] (pl Orangemen [-mən]) n GB a member of a Protestant organization in Northern Ireland.
- orange tree n a tree, grown in warm regions, which oranges grow on.
- orangutang [ɔːræŋ'tæŋ] n a large ape with long arms, reddish hair, and no tail that comes from the rainforests of Borneo and Sumatra.
- oration [ə'reɪʃn] n a formal, serious, public speech (formal use).
- orator [ˈɒrətə], n a person who is good at making formal public speeches.
- oratorio [ˌɒrə'tɔːrɪoʊ] (pl oratorios) n a religious musical work performed by singers and an orchestra.
- oratory [US ˈɒrətɔːri, GB -ətɪ] n the art of speaking in public.
- orb [ɔːb] n -1. a round shape like a ball. -2. a golden ball with a cross on top, carried by a monarch on important formal occasions.
- orbit [ˈɔːbɪt] ◇ n [of a moon, planet, satellite] the route that an object, planet etc follows as it goes around another planet, the Sun etc □ the Earth's orbit around the Sun. ■ to be in/go into orbit [rocket, spaceship] to be/start following an orbit. ■ to put sthg into orbit [satellite] to send sthg into space and make it follow an orbit. ◇ vt to go around  following an orbit.
- orchard [ˈɔːtʃɜːd] n a piece of land where fruit trees are grown, often all of one particular type □ an apple/a cherry orchard.
- orchestra [ˈɔːkɛstrə] n a large group of musicians who play various instruments together directed by a conductor, and usually play classical music □ She plays the violin in the school orchestra.
- orchestral [ˈɔː'kɛstrəl] adj [music, piece, concert] that is connected with an orchestra and the kinds of music it usually plays.
- orchestra pit n the space in a theater, in front of and below the stage, where the orchestra plays.
- orchestrate [ˈɔːkɛstreɪt] vt -1. MUSIC to make changes to  so that it can be played by an orchestra. -2. [campaign, event, deal] to plan the different parts of <sthg> carefully and often secretly, in order to achieve a particular result □ The whole scheme was so well orchestrated from start to finish that no one suspected a thing.
- orchestration [ˌɔː'kɛ'streɪʃn] n [of a piece of music, campaign, event] see orchestrate □ Her orchestration of the bid showed great skill.
- orchid [ˈɔː'kɪd] n a plant that has unusual flowers with three petals, one of which is larger than the other two.
- ordain [ɔː'dɛɪn] vt -1. to order <sthg> (formal use) □ Fate ordained that we should meet. -2. RELIGION to be ordained to become a priest by going through a religious ceremony.
- ordeal [ɔː'diːl] n an upsetting or difficult experience □ They haven't recovered from their dreadful ordeal.
- order [ˈɔːdɜː] ◇ n -1. an instruction to do something, given by somebody in authority □ My orders are to see that nobody gets hurt. □ She was only obeying orders. □ Don't drink any alcohol — and that's an order. ■ to be under orders to do sthg □ The army's under orders to withdraw by nightfall. -2. BUSINESS a request for goods to be supplied or for a meal in a restaurant; the goods or a meal asked for in this way □ The waiter took their order. □ Place your order now for your Christmas turkey. □ Your order should reach you within 28 days. □ Do you know who was dealing with your order? □ an order of French fries. ■ to be on order to have been ordered, but not to have arrived yet □ The book you requested is still on order. ■ made to order made exactly according to the measurements or request of a particular person □ I always have my shoes made to order. -3. [of events] the way that things are arranged or happen in relation to each other □ We are still unsure what the order of events was. □ The files were all in the right/wrong order. ■ in order [playing cards, documents] arranged in the correct order; [people, things] arranged in a particular order □ They were arranged in alphabetical/chronological/reverse order. □ in order of age/height/importance. -4. [of a room, affairs] the state of being neat or organized □ He has no order in his life. ■ to be in order to be legally correct □ Are your papers in order? -5. in working order [machine, device] working properly □ in good working order. ■ out of order [machine, telephone, elevator] not working; [person, behavior] not following the correct rules or the usual way of behaving □ The drink machine has got an 'out of order' sign on it. □ The court ruled him out of order. □ That remark was completely out of order. -6. [at a demonstration, in a classroom] the state of obeying laws or rules, or of following accepted social behavior □ The police were brought in to restore order. ■ to keep order [teacher, police] to make an event happen with as little disturbance as possible □ It's very difficult to keep order among a class of 30 adolescent boys. -7. SOCIOLOGY the particular way a part of society is organized □ the economic/existing order □ a new world order. -8. RELIGION a group of priests, monks, or nuns who follow a particular set of rules □ a member of the Benedictine order of monks.
- ◇ vt -1. [attack, inquiry] to give an order to somebody to do or start <sthg> □ He ordered me to find out exactly what had happened. □ The doctor ordered that the patient be discharged. □ The policeman ordered them to stop shouting □ I've been ordered to stay here and keep watch.

-2. [drink, taxi, goods] to ask to be supplied with <sthg> □ I've ordered a new kitchen unit. □ Can I order you a cab? □ Would it be possible to order a copy of the new edition?

◇ vi to ask for food in a restaurant □ Are you ready to order, sir?

◆ orders npl = holy orders.

◆ in order that conj so that (formal use) □ They were prepared to compromise in order that there might be harmony.

◆ in order to conj a phrase used to say that one does something with the purpose of achieving a particular thing □ He laid a trap in order to find out who had betrayed him. □ In order to fully understand this matter, we have requested a full inquiry.

◆ on the order of US, in the order of GB prep approximately □ It cost us on the order of $5,000.

◆ order around, order about vt sep to order sb around OR about to give sb many orders in a way that is annoying and unpleasant (disapproving use) □ He was ordering everyone around as if he owned the place.

order book n a book belonging to a business in which orders from customers are recorded □ Our order books are currently full.

order form n a form which a customer fills out when they are ordering goods or asking for a particular service.

orderly ['ɔ:ɪ'dɔ:li] (pl orderlies) ◇ adj -1. [crowd, demonstration] that is well behaved and under control □ They filed out in an orderly fashion. -2. [office, person] that is neat and well organized □ The papers were arranged in orderly piles. ◇ n -1. a person who works in a hospital as an assistant but is not trained to do medical work □ a hospital orderly. -2. a soldier who looks after the needs of an officer.

order number n the number given to an order for goods to be supplied to somebody.

ordinal number ['ɔ:ɪ'dɔ:nəl-] n a number that shows a position in a set of numbers, e.g. first, second, rather than a quantity, e.g. one, two.

NOTE: Compare cardinal number.

ordinarily [ɔ:ɪ'dn'erəli] adv usually, especially when this particular time is different or is going to be different □ Ordinarily, we'd expect to be in a stronger position at this time of year.

ordinary ['ɔ:ɪ'dnəri] ◇ adj -1. [person, situation, day] that is normal and common, and is not special or different □ It lasts twice as long as ordinary batteries. □ We're just an ordinary couple who like to lead a quiet life. -2. [work, painting] that is not interesting because it is not special, original, or unusual (disapproving use) □ His work is very ordinary. □ She's a very ordinary artist. ◇ n out of the ordinary unusual and different □ The party was nothing out of the ordinary.

ordinary seaman n in Britain, the second lowest rank in the Royal Navy.

ordinary shares npl GB normal shares in a company.

ordination [ɔ:ɪ'də'neɪʃn] n the ceremony of being ordained a priest; the act of ordaining priests □ Many Catholics support women's ordination.

ordnance ['ɔ:ɪ'dnəns] n -1. military supplies and guns. -2. artillery.

Ordnance Survey n the British government organization that makes detailed maps of Britain and Ireland.

ore [ɔ:ɪ] n rock that contains one or more metals in a quantity that is large enough to mine □ iron ore.

oregano [US ə'regənoʊ, GB ɔ:ri'gɑ:nou] n a herb used in cooking, especially to flavor Italian food.

Oregon ['ɔ:riɡən] a state in the northwestern USA, on the Pacific coast. It is known for its attractive scenery. ABBREVIATION: OR. SIZE: 251,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,842,321 (Oregonians). CAPITAL: Salem. MAIN CITY: Portland.

Oregon Trail: the Oregon Trail the route taken in the 19th century by people traveling from Missouri to the northwestern USA to find land.

🌲 OREGON TRAIL

The Oregon Trail was one of the main overland routes for people who were traveling west to Oregon to start a new life. In the 1840s and 1850s thousands of people and cattle traveled over the trail, mostly in groups of covered wagons. It took at least six months to make the 2,000-mile journey. The arrival of the railroad in the 1870s meant that people stopped using the route.

organ [ɔ:ɪ'gən] n -1. ANATOMY [of a human, animal, plant] a part of the body or of a plant that has a particular function, e.g. the heart, liver, kidney □ an organ donor/transplant □ sexual organs. -2. MUSIC a musical instrument like a large piano, often found in churches, in which sound is produced by air being forced out of pipes of different lengths; a smaller instrument similar to this that is powered by electricity □ organ music □ a church/an electric organ. -3. [of an organization, government, party] a newspaper, radio station etc that represents the views of a particular group □ "Pravda" was the organ of the Soviet Communist Party.

organic [ɔ:ɪ'gæni:k] adj -1. [life, remains, disease] that is connected with plant or animal life or organs. -2. [gardening, farming] that uses no chemicals; [vegetables, produce] that has been grown or produced without the use of chemicals.

organically [ɔ:ɪ'gæni:kli] adv FARMING see organic □ organically grown vegetables.

organic chemistry n the branch of chemistry that deals with carbon compounds.

organism ['ɔ:ɪ'gæni:zəm] n a living thing, especially one that cannot be seen without a microscope □ Many species of bacteria parasite on other living organisms.

organist ['ɔ:rgənəst] n a person who plays the organ.

organization [US ˌɔ:rgənə'zeɪʃn, GB ˌɔ:rgənə-] n -1. [of people] a group of people, e.g. a business or club, who work together to achieve a particular purpose □ It's an organization which promotes environmental issues. □ We are setting up/forming/running an organization which deals with equality in the workplace. □ the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries. -2. [of a business] the way a system, society etc is arranged or run □ The organization of the company needs a radical overhaul. -3. [of an activity, event, conference] the act of organizing something □ You're good at organization, you should be in charge.

organizational [US ˌɔ:rgənə'zeɪʃnəl, GB ˌɔ:rgənə-] adj organizational structure the structure of an organization. ■ organizational ability the ability to organize something □ The person we are looking for will have excellent organizational skills.

organization chart n a diagram showing all the departments in a company and the people who work in them, with the most powerful people at the top.

organize, -ise ['ɔ:rgənəɪz] ◇ vt -1. [activity, event] to plan the details of <an activity, event> etc and see that it takes place □ Can you organize a meeting of the accounting department for next week? -2. to arrange one's life, affairs, thoughts etc into a suitable or logical order □ The facts could be better organized, but on the whole it's a good attempt. ◇ vi [workers] to form a labor union.

organized ['ɔ:rgənəɪzd] adj -1. [activity, trip, demonstration] that has been arranged and run by somebody else, usually for the benefit of a lot of people □ I can't bear organized vacations. -2. [person] who plans and organizes things well so that they do not waste time, money etc □ a well/badly-organized business □ We are looking for someone who is organized and able to work to tight schedules.

organized crime n crime committed by professional criminals working in organized groups.

organized labor n workers who belong to a union.

organizer ['ɔ:rgənəɪzə] n a person who organizes something.

organza [ɔ:rgənzə] n a very fine stiff fabric, often made of silk or cotton.

orgasm ['ɔ:rgæzm] n the highest point of sexual pleasure and excitement □ I found it difficult to have an orgasm/to reach orgasm.

orgy ['ɔ:rdʒi] (pl orgies) n -1. a party with a lot of sexual activity or where people drink a lot □ a drunken orgy. -2. an excessive amount □ an orgy of destruction/eating/spending.

orient ['ɔ:riənt] vt to be oriented toward sb to be specially designed for sb □ The job is oriented toward engineering graduates. ■ to orient oneself to find out where one is by looking at a map, compass, landmark etc.

Orient: the Orient Asia, especially China, Korea, and Japan. In old-fashioned use, the Orient also referred to the Middle East.

oriental [ˌɔ:ri'entl] ◇ adj [art, food] that is connected with the Orient (old-fashioned use). ◇ n a person who comes from the Orient (old-fashioned and offensive use).

orientate ['ɔ:riəntet] vt = orient.

orientation [ˌɔ:riən'teɪʃn] n the particular aims, interests, or beliefs that somebody has □ His political orientation is fairly conservative. □ The orientation of the course is toward the practical rather than the theoretical. □ sexual orientation.

orienteering [ˌɔ:riən'tiəriŋ] n a sport in which people cross land that they do not know using maps and a compass.

orifice ['ɔ:rɪfəs] n an opening, especially one of the body's natural openings, e.g. the mouth or ear (formal use).

origami [ˌɔ:rɪ'ɡɑ:mɪ] n the Japanese art of folding paper to make decorative objects.

origin ['ɔ:rɪdʒɪn] n -1. [of a life, word, river] the point where something starts or begins; [of a conflict, problems] the cause of something □ It's a problem that has its origins in the distant past. □ a ritual of unknown origin □ Nobody knows where the origin of the story lies. □ the origin of the word "nepotism". -2. [of a person] the race or social class of a person's parents □ a man of humble/dubious/French origin. ■ country of origin the country where a thing was made or where a person comes from.

◆ origins npl [of a person] = origin □ What are your origins? □ He had peasant origins.

original [ə'rɪdʒɪnəl] ◇ adj -1. the original owner/plan etc the owner/plan etc that existed first before being replaced by somebody or something else □ In its original state, the palace was breathtaking. □ I want to read it in the original language. □ The original inhabitants were a tribe of pygmies. -2. [document, work of art] that is genuine and is not a copy □ Keep the original receipt and send us a photocopy. □ The original painting is in the Louvre. -3. [piece of writing, piece of music] that has not been published before □ There was a lot of original work at the festival this year. -4. [idea, work, approach] that is new and imaginative □ She's very original in the way she dresses.

◇ n -1. an original work of art, painting, or document □ Do you have a copy of the original? -2. in the original in the original language that something was written □ I'd like to be able to read "War and Peace" in the original. -3. an unusual person □ Buster Keaton was a real original.

originality [ə'rɪdʒə'nælɪtɪ] n [of an idea, approach, work of art] see original □ I see very little originality in his work.

originally [ə'rɪdʒənəlɪ] adv [write, belong, think] see original □ He was originally the owner. □ The movie was originally a play. □ Man originally lived in caves. □ Originally, they were all individual houses.

original sin n the belief, held by some Christians, that humans are born in a state of sin.

originate [ə'rɪdʒəneɪt] ◇ vt [plan, practice] to be the person who started <sthg> □ Dick Fosbury originated the jump called the "Fosbury flop". ◇ vi [river, custom, phenomenon] to begin to exist; [idea] to begin to exist as a direct result of something □ How did this belief originate? □ The practice originated in Mali.

originator [ə'ɪdʒənətə] n a person who originates something.

Orkney Islands ['ɔ:'knɪ-]: the Orkney Islands a group of islands off the northeastern coast of Scotland. POPULATION: 19,338.

Orkneys ['ɔ:'knɪz] = Orkney Islands.

ornament ['ɔ:'nəmənt] n -1. an object that is displayed in a house, e.g. on a shelf, because it is attractive □ glass ornaments. -2. something that adds decoration to something □ The building had little ornament.

ornamental [ˌɔ:'nə'mentl] adj [pond, garden, design] that is attractive rather than useful.

ornamentation [ˌɔ:'nəmənt'eɪʃn] n [on a building, piece of furniture] decoration.

ornate [ɔ:'neɪt] adj [vase, pattern, style] that includes a lot of detailed decoration.

ornately [ɔ:'neɪtli] adv [decorate, design] see ornate.

ornery ['ɔ:'nəri] adj US stubborn or very bad-tempered (informal use).

ornithologist [ˌɔ:'nɒ'θɒlədʒɪst] n a person who studies birds.

ornithology [ˌɔ:'nɒ'θɒlədʒɪ] n the study of birds and the way they live.

orphan ['ɔ:'fn] ◇ n a child whose parents are dead. ◇ vt to be orphaned to become an orphan.

orphanage ['ɔ:'fænɪdʒ] n a place where orphans are brought up.

Orpheus ['ɔ:'fiəs] in Greek mythology, a musician whose wife is called Eurydice. When she dies, he follows her into Hades, the land of the dead. He is allowed to bring her back to life as long as he does not look back at her on the way. He looks back, and loses her.

orthodontist [ˌɔ:'θə'dɒntəst] n a dentist who treats teeth that are not growing in the right way.

orthodox ['ɔ:'θɒdɒks] adj -1. [belief, method, system] that is accepted by most people. -2. RELIGION [believer, religion] that has very traditional beliefs and practices □ an orthodox Jew.

Orthodox Church n the Orthodox Church the body of Churches, including the Churches of Russia and Greece, that separated from the western Church in the 11th century.

orthodoxy ['ɔ:'θɒdɒksɪ] n -1. a generally accepted view or belief. -2. RELIGION the state of being orthodox.

orthopaedic etc [ˌɔ:'θə'pi:dɪk] = orthopedic etc.

orthopedic [ˌɔ:'θə'pi:dɪk] adj [surgeon, medicine, patient] that is connected with orthopedics □ an orthopedic ward/hospital.

orthopedics [ˌɔ:'θə'pi:dɪks] n the branch of medicine that deals with bones.

orthopedist [ˌɔ:'θə'pi:dəst] n an orthopedic surgeon.

Orwell ['ɔ:'wel], George (1903–1950) a British writer who was concerned with social justice. He wrote novels such as Nineteen Eighty-Four about the dangers of dictatorships.

OS ◇ n abbr of Ordnance Survey. ◇ abbr of outside.

O/S abbr of out of stock.

Osaka [ou'sɑ:kə] the second-largest city in Japan and an important Pacific port. POPULATION: 2,623,801.

Osborne ['ɒzbɔ:'n], John (1929–1995) a British playwright whose plays, such as Look Back in Anger, criticize the British class system. His characters are often described as "angry young men".

Oscar ['ɒskə] n in the USA, a prize awarded each year to outstanding movies, actors, and people working in the movie industry □ The movie has been nominated for five Oscars.

oscillate ['ɒsəleɪt] vi -1. [pendulum, needle on a dial] to move quickly and continuously from side to side. -2. to continuously change from one mood, attitude etc to another □ He oscillated between happiness and depression.

oscilloscope [ə'sɪləskəʊp] n an electronic device that shows the size and shape of an electric signal.

OSHA (abbr of Occupational Safety and Health Administration) n the OSHA the US government department responsible for health and safety in the workplace.

Oslo ['ɒzlou] the capital of Norway, and its main port. POPULATION: 467,441.

osmosis [ɒs'məʊsɪs] n BIOLOGY the process by which liquid slowly passes from one part of a body or plant to another through a membrane.

osprey ['ɒsprɪ] (pl ospreys) n a large bird that has a dark brown back and a white breast and that catches and eats fish.

Ostend [ɒst'end] a port and tourist resort in northwestern Belgium. There is a ferry service between Ostend and Dover, England. POPULATION: 68,500.

ostensible [ɒ'stensəbl] adj [reason, cause, purpose] that is said to be why something is done or has happened, but is probably not true □ There was no ostensible explanation for what he had done.

ostensibly [ɒ'stensəbli] adv [fair, reasonable] see ostensible □ He left the house, ostensibly to go for a walk.

ostentation [ˌɒstən'teɪʃn] n the state of being ostentatious.

ostentatious [ˌɒstən'teɪʃəs] adj -1. [lifestyle, wealth] that involves expensive possessions and activities intended to impress people. -2. [person] who likes to show people that they are wealthy or important.

osteoarthritis [ˌɒstiəʊɑ:'θraɪtɪs] n a disease which affects mainly middle-aged or elderly people, and in which the joints swell and become painful.

osteopath ['ɒstɪəpəθ] n a person qualified to practice osteopathy.

osteopathy [ˌɒstɪ'ɒpəθi] n a kind of medical treatment in which a patient's bones and joints are massaged and moved.

ostracize, -ise ['ɒstrəsaɪz] vt to ignore <sb> completely and not let them join one's group (formal use).

ostrich ['ɒstrɪtʃ] n a bird that comes from Africa, has a long neck, can run but cannot fly, and is the largest bird in the world.

Oswald ['ɒzwd], Lee Harvey (1939–1963) the man who was accused of killing John F. Kennedy. He was murdered two days after the assassination by Jack Ruby.

OT n -1. abbr of Old Testament. -2. abbr of occupational therapy.

OTC adj abbr of over-the-counter.

Othello [ə'θeləʊ] the hero of Shakespeare's play Othello, the Moor of Venice. He kills his wife, Desdemona, when he is tricked into believing that she has a lover.

other ['ʌðə] det -1. other places/people etc different places/people etc from those already mentioned □ These shoes are more comfortable than the other ones I've tried on. □ There's no other way to do it. -2. additional □ Do you have any other questions? □ There were several other people waiting. □ caviar, champagne, and other delicacies. -3. the other hand/end the second hand/end (used of two things, people etc) □ Look on the other side of the package. □ I don't like this cheese — can I try the other one? -4. the other people/things etc the rest of the people/things etc in the group □ Now I'll put the same question to the other members of our panel. □ The other colors available in this style are navy blue, cream, and black. -5. phrases the other day/week etc on a day/week etc not long ago □ I saw them only the other night. ■ other people people in general, but not oneself □ I'm not interested in what other people think.

◇ pron the other the second of two things □ He had a gun in one hand and the key in the other. □ They speak French on this side of the border and German on the other. □ They have two branches, one of which is in Paris, and the other in Nice.

◆ others pron pl -1. different people, things etc from the one already mentioned □ Those are my views on the subject, though others may disagree. □ Some of their ideas are better than others. □ There have been problems in this country, as in many others. □ Can I wear these shoes? My others are all dirty. -2. the others the rest of the people, things etc in the group □ Two of us wanted to carry on walking, but the others were tired so we stopped.

◆ other than prep except <sb/sthg> □ Other than my boss, no one knew. □ I got a few bruises in the crash but other than that I feel OK. ■ none other than used to emphasize somebody or something that is very surprising □ It was none other than the Vice President himself.

otherwise ['ʌðə'waɪz] adv -1. I have a cold, but otherwise I'm fine I have a cold, but apart from this I'm fine □ My room is slightly too small, but otherwise it's OK. ■ an otherwise normal day a day which is normal apart from the one thing just mentioned. ■ I left because I would have been late otherwise if I had not left then I would have been late □ I'm glad we took the car, because otherwise we would have had too far to walk. -2. to think/state/act otherwise to think/state/act something different or opposite to what has just been mentioned □ We should try to leave early, unless you think otherwise. □ unless advised otherwise by your dentist.

◇ conj hurry up, otherwise you'll be late if you do not hurry up, you will be late □ I want to see an improvement in your work, otherwise you'll be asked to leave the team.

other world n the other world the place that many people believe is where a person's spirit goes to when the body is dead.

otherworldly [ˌʌðə'wɜ:ldli] adj [person, attitude] that is more concerned with things connected to the spirit than with normal and real life.

Ottawa ['ɒtəwə] the capital of Canada, in south-eastern Ontario. POPULATION: 313,987.

otter ['ɒtə] n an animal that has brown fur, a wide flat tail, and webbed feet for swimming in water and eats fish and small animals.

OU n abbr of Open University.

ouch [aʊtʃ] excl a word used when one suddenly feels pain □ Ouch! That hurt!

ought [ɔ:t] aux vb -1. used to say that it would be sensible or a good idea to do something □ You really ought to see a doctor. □ Ought I to let them know I'm coming? ■ you ought to have gone it would have been sensible to go, but you did not go □ You ought to have gotten advice from a lawyer before you wrote the letter. -2. used to say that it would be morally good to do something □ I ought to punish you for this! □ They ought not to be so rude to customers. ■ you ought to have done it it would have been morally better if you had done it, but you didn't □ We ought to have realized that this would happen. -3. used to say what one expects to happen □ The meeting ought to finish soon. □ They ought to be here by now.

oughtn't ['ɔ:nt] = ought not.

ounce [aʊns] n -1. a unit (approximately 28.35 grams) for measuring weight □ Take 4 ounces of butter. □ There are 16 ounces in/to a pound. -2. [of common sense, intelligence] a small amount □ There isn't an ounce of truth in what you say.

our ['aʊə] det our house/car the house/car that belongs to us or is connected with us □ We had forgotten our passports. □ Our children are all grown up now. □ Let's forget about our problems while we're on vacation.

Our Lady Mary, the mother of Jesus Christ.

ours ['aʊəz] pron used to refer to something that belongs to or is connected with a group of people that includes oneself □ If your tent's not big enough you can always borrow ours. ■ it's ours it belongs to us □ The house will be ours when my father dies. ■ a friend of ours one of our friends □ We've been invited to dinner by a colleague of ours.

ourselves [aʊə'selvz] pron pl -1. used after a preposition, or as the object of a verb, to refer to the same people as the subject "we" □ We all enjoyed ourselves on our day out. □ She told us to sit down and make ourselves comfortable. □ We felt so pleased with ourselves when we went jogging for the first time. -2. used to emphasize "we" □ Now that we've met John ourselves we're quite happy about Jenny and him getting married. ■ we did it (by) ourselves we did it without help from other people □ James and I painted the bedroom ourselves.

oust [aʊst] vt to force <sb> to leave a group, position, or place □ He was ousted from power by a military coup.

out [aʊt] ◊ adv -1. not inside a room, container, car etc □ The phone is out in the corridor. □ The bus stopped and we all got out. -2. not inside a house or building □ It's windy out today. □ He's out at the moment, can I take a message? □ I'm going out for a walk. ■ out here/there outside (used by somebody who is outside/inside a building) □ Let me in, it's cold out here. ■ out you go! go outside. -3. to stay/eat out to stay/eat away from one's home, office etc □ She's out on business at the moment. □ Let's have a day out at the beach. -4. the fire/light is out the fire/light is no longer burning/shining □ The fire/lights went out. □ Turn the lamp out. -5. the tide is out the sea has moved away from the shore □ They waited for the tide to go out. -6. to be/go out [clothes, style] to be/become unfashionable □ Tight trousers went out years ago. -7. to be out [flower] to be blooming □ The crocuses are out already. -8. to be/come out [sun, stars] to have appeared/to appear in the sky □ The sun came out from behind a cloud. -9. [book, product] available for sale to the public □ Their new record will be out in March. -10. to be/come out [workers, union] to be/go on strike (informal use) □ The workforce has been out for two months now.

◊ adj -1. to be out [plan, suggestion] not to be possible or acceptable □ Wednesday's out, I'm afraid. -2. to be out [calculation, guess] to be wrong □ Our estimate was out by 5%. -3. to be out to do sthg to be trying to do sthg □ The police are out to get him.

◊ prep out the building not inside the building □ Take the plates out the dishwasher.

◆ out of prep -1. out of the building not inside the building □ I was out of the room at the time. □ He'll be out of the country for two weeks. □ The driver got out of the bus. -2. used to say where something comes from □ a page out of a book □ We can pay for it out of our savings. -3. made out of sthg made using sthg as a material □ a necklace made out of diamonds and rubies. -4. to do sthg out of boredom/interest/love etc to do sthg because one feels boredom/interest/love etc □ I read the note out of sheer curiosity. -5. to be out of coffee/paper/cash etc to no longer have any coffee/paper/cash etc □ We're out of milk, can you go and buy some? -6. one out of six/ten etc one in each group of six/ten etc □ Six out of (every) ten people interviewed liked the product. □ Your exam was excellent; ten out of ten!

out-and-out adj an out-and-out liar/fanatic etc a complete liar/fanatic etc.

outback ['aʊtbæk] n the outback the areas of Australia away from the coast where very few people live.

♥ OUTBACK

Many Australians refer to any area of wild land as outback, but the term really refers to the large area of red deserts and dry plains in central Australia — an area that covers over 70% of the country. The outback is an important part of Australian myths and culture, even though most Australians live in towns and cities along the coast, and many have never been to the outback.

outbid [ˌaʊtˈbɪd] (pt & pp outbid, cont outbidding) vt to bid a higher price than <sb> for something, often at an auction □ We were outbid for the painting by a foreign collector.

outboard (motor) [ˌaʊtbɔːrd] n a motor with a propeller that is attached to the back of a small boat.

outbound [ˌaʊtbaʊnd] adj [train, flight] that is traveling away from a particular place.

outbreak [ˌaʊtbreɪk] n the sudden beginning of something, especially violence or disease □ the outbreak of war □ Recent outbreaks of crime have led to a rise in the demand for burglar alarms. □ They reported an outbreak of cholera in the region.

outbuildings [ˌaʊtbɪldɪŋz] npl buildings such as barns and stables that are not joined to the main building, but that belong to it.

outburst [ˌaʊtbɜːst] n -1. the act of suddenly showing a strong emotion, especially anger □ The announcement provoked angry outbursts in the Senate. -2. the sudden appearance of something bad that lasts for a short period of time □ fresh outbursts of violence/shelling.

outcast [US ˌaʊtkæst, GB -kɑːst] n a person who has been rejected by a group of people or by society □ These people are treated as social outcasts.

outclass [US ˌaʊtˈklæs, GB -ˈklɑːs] vt [rival] to be much better than <sb> at something □ He was hopelessly outclassed by his opponent.

outcome [ˌaʊtkʌm] n the final result of a process, situation etc □ What was the outcome of the meeting? □ We're hoping for a peaceful outcome to the talks.

outcrop [ˌaʊtkrɒp] n a large mass of rock that sticks out of the ground or the side of a mountain □ a rocky outcrop.

outcry [ˌaʊtkraɪ] (pl outcries) n an angry protest by a lot of people □ There was a public outcry over the fare increases.

outdated [ˌaʊtˈdeɪtəd] adj [method, idea, technology] that is now no longer suitable because it has been replaced by a new one □ My parents have very outdated views on bringing up children. □ outdated equipment.

outdid [ˌaʊtˈdɪd] past tense of outdo.

outdistance [ˌaʊtˈdɪstəns] vt -1. to go so fast that one is very far ahead of <the other competitors> in a race. -2. to be more successful at something than <one's rival, competitors> etc □ They easily outdistanced the opposition at the local elections.

outdo [ˌaʊtˈduː] (pt outdid, pp outdone [-ˈdʌn]) vt [person, rival, neighbors] to do something better than <sb> □ Maggie, not to be outdone by her sister, also won her event.

outdoor [ˈaʊtˌdɔːr] adj -1. an outdoor swimming pool/cafe a swimming pool/cafe that is outside, not inside a building □ I enjoy outdoor sports. -2. outdoor clothes/shoes clothes/shoes that are made to be worn outside.

outdoors [ˌaʊtˌdɔːrɪz] adv [eat, play, go] outside, not inside a building.

outer [ˈaʊtə] adj -1. an outer wall/layer etc a wall/layer etc that is on the outside of something □ The lobster has a hard outer shell. -2. the outer suburbs the areas further away from the center of a city □ outer London.

outermost [ˈaʊtəˈmʌʊst] adj the outermost layer/area etc the layer/area etc that is furthest from the middle.

outer space n space that is far from the Earth's atmosphere.

outerwear [ˈaʊtəˈweə] n clothes made to be worn outdoors.

outfield [ˈaʊtˌfi:ld] n the outfield the part of a baseball or cricket field that is furthest from the middle; the players who stand in this part.

outfit [ˈaʊtfɪt] n -1. two or more items of clothing that are chosen or made to be worn together □ I like your outfit! -2. an organization of people working together (informal use) □ They run a small printing outfit in LA.

outfitters [ˈaʊtfɪtəz] n GB a store that sells men's clothes (old-fashioned use) □ a gentlemen's outfitters.

outflank [ˌaʊtˈflæŋk] vt -1. MILITARY [army] to get around the side of <enemy soldiers> in order to attack them from behind. -2. [opponent, opposition] to beat <sb> in business, an argument etc by doing something clever.

outgoing [ˌaʊtˈɡəʊɪŋ] adj -1. the outgoing chairman/governor etc the person who is soon going to leave their position as chairman/governor etc □ There will be an address by the outgoing CEO. -2. outgoing mail/passengers etc mail/passengers etc leaving a particular place □ All outgoing flights have been rerouted via JFK. -3. [person] who is friendly and enjoys talking to people they do not know □ She has a friendly outgoing nature.

◆ outgoings npl GB all the money spent on different things by a business, or in one's daily life □ Our monthly outgoings are very high.

outgrow [ˌaʊtˈɡrəʊ] (pt outgrew [-ˈgruː], pp out- grown [-ˈɡrəʊn]) vt -1. [jacket, shoes] to grow too big for , so that it no longer fits one □ They outgrow their clothes so quickly at that age. -2. [space, resources] to become too large for <sthg>, so that it is no longer enough □ The company soon outgrew its original offices. -3. [toys, habit] to no longer do, enjoy etc <sthg>, because one has grown older and changed □ Thankfully, I've outgrown all those unrealistic notions about marriage.

outhouse [ˈaʊtˌhaʊs, pl -ˌhaʊzɪz] n -1. an outside toilet. -2. GB a small building that is part of a house and is often used for storing things in.

outing [ˈaʊtɪŋ] n -1. a short pleasant visit to a place, usually made by a group of people □ We're taking the local old folk on an outing to the theater. □ a work/family/school outing. -2. the act of telling the public that a well-known person is a secret homosexual □ the outing of prominent political figures.

outlandish [aʊtˈlændɪʃ] adj [behavior, clothing, idea] very strange (disapproving use) □ Julie has some very outlandish ideas about politics.

outlast [US ˌaʊtˈlæst, GB -ˈlɑːst] vt to last longer than <sb/sthg> □ These old buildings will outlast many built this century.

outlaw [ˈaʊtlɔː] ◊ vt -1. to make <sthg> illegal □ The movement was outlawed and its leaders arrested. □ All firearms should be outlawed. -2. to announce that <sb> is a criminal □ The outlawed mayor took refuge in South America. ◊ n a criminal who is hiding in order to avoid being caught (old-fashioned use) □ a band of outlaws.

outlay [ˈaʊtleɪ] n the amount of money one spends in order to start a business project □ Their initial outlay was relatively small.

outlet [ˈaʊtlet] n -1. [for one's feelings] something that gives one a way of showing one's feelings or using one's ideas □ Writing provided her with an outlet for her anger. -2. CONSTRUCTION a hole or pipe which something can go out through □ a gas/sewage/water outlet. -3. BUSINESS a business or store that sells particular goods □ a retail outlet. -4. ELECTRICITY a device fitted to a wall that is part of a wiring system and supplies current to electrical appliances.

outline [ˈaʊtlaɪn] ◊ n -1. a short description of something that covers the main facts and uses few words □ He gave her a brief outline of what had happened/the new law. □ a broad outline □ an outline proposal/description. ■ to show sthg in outline to give an outline of sthg □ This sheet shows, in outline, the subjects to be studied this year. -2. the shape of the outside edge of something; the general shape of something □ Draw the outline first, and then color it in. □ They could just make out the outline of a ship in the distance.

◊ vt -1. [plan, reasons] to give a short general description of <sthg> □ I'd like to comment on some points outlined in the report. -2. to be outlined against sthg to be seen in outline because sthg behind it is brighter □ I saw a dark figure outlined against the evening sky.

outlive [ˌaʊtˈlɪv] vt -1. to live longer than <sb/sthg> □ I'm sure grandma will outlive us all. -2. to outlive its usefulness to no longer be useful to one □ This computer has outlived its usefulness.

outlook [ˈaʊtlʊk] n -1. [of a person] one's general attitude to life □ She has a very positive outlook on life. -2. [of a situation] the way a particular situation is likely to develop in the future □ The outlook for the mining industry is grim. □ the weather outlook for the weekend/the rest of the country.

outlying [ˈaʊtlaɪɪŋ] adj outlying districts/regions etc districts/regions etc that are far away from towns or cities □ Some of the outlying villages are very attractive.

outmaneuver US, outmanoeuvre GB [ˌaʊtməˈnu:vəʃ] vt [opponent, rival] to get a big advantage over <sb> by doing something clever.

outmoded [ˌaʊtˈmɔʊdəd] adj [method, belief, idea] that is no longer fashionable or useful.

outnumber [ˌaʊtˈnʌmbəʃ] vt to be greater in number than <another group> □ In the group boys outnumber girls by three to two.

out-of-court adj an out-of-court settlement an agreement between the two sides in a legal dispute in which one pays the other a sum of money, so that the matter does not have to be dealt with in a court.

◆ out of court adv: Myers agreed to settle out of court.

out-of-date adj -1. [book, information, law] that is no longer correct, suitable, or useful □ This guidebook is completely out-of-date. -2. [license, passport] that is no longer valid.

out of doors adv [eat, work, play] outside, not inside a building □ It's too cold to spend much time out of doors.

out-of-the-way adj [place, village] that is quite far from the nearest town and is not easy to reach or find □ We found a motel in an out-of-the-way place in Wade County.

outpace [ˌaʊtˈpeɪs] vt -1. to do something faster or better than <sb> □ Stephens easily outpaced me on the track. -2. to do better than <sthg> □ Technology is constantly outpacing itself.

outpatient [ˈaʊtpeɪʃnt] n a person who goes to a hospital for treatment, but who does not spend the night there.

outplacement [ˈaʊtpleɪsmənt] n a service that helps people who have lost their jobs to find new jobs.

outplay [ˌaʊtˈpleɪ] vt [team, player] to play better than <one's opponent> in a sport, with the result that one usually wins.

outpost [ˈaʊtpoʊst] n a small village or military position in a lonely distant area.

outpouring [ˈaʊtpɔ:ɪɪŋ] n the act of suddenly showing a strong feeling, reaction etc, especially sadness □ an outpouring of ideas/grief.

output [ˈaʊtpʊt] ◇ n -1. [of a factory, writer, business] the amount of work or goods produced by somebody or something □ We must increase output by 18%. □ Fischer's output as a writer has been disappointingly low. -2.

COMPUTING the act of sending information from a computer to a printer or screen; the information that is sent in this way □ Output from this program is problematic. □ Here's the latest output to give to the sales manager.

◇ vt COMPUTING [data, file] to send <information> from a computer to a printer or screen.

outrage [ˈaʊtreɪdʒ] ◇ n a strong feeling of shock and anger about something; an event or action that makes people have this feeling □ There was public outrage at the news. □ It's an outrage against humanity. ◇ vt to make <sb> feel outrage □ Mothers were outraged by the discovery that their children had been given the vaccine.

outraged [ˈaʊtreɪdʒd] adj [person] who feels outrage □ Outraged animal lovers have protested against the experiments.

outrageous [ˌaʊtˈreɪdʒəs] adj -1. [behavior, crime, remark] that one thinks is very shocking and totally unacceptable □ It's outrageous how expensive alcohol is here compared to on the continent. -2. [person, idea, outfit] that one thinks is very unusual and often amusing or shocking □ He's got an outrageous sense of fun.

outran [ˌaʊtˈræn] past tense of outrun.

outrank [ˌaʊtˈræŋk] vt to be in a more senior position than <sb>.

outrider [ˈaʊtraɪdɪə] n a person who rides a horse or motorbike near to an official vehicle, especially in order to give protection □ a motorcycle outrider.

outright [ˌaʊtraɪt] adj, adv [ˌaʊtˈraɪt] ◇ adj -1. an outright denial/refusal etc a very clear and direct denial/refusal etc □ This accusation is an outright lie. -2. an outright win/failure etc a complete and total win/failure etc □ She's the outright winner. ◇ adv -1. [deny, accuse] I asked him outright whether he had done it. -2. [win, fail] They rejected the offer outright. ■ to be killed outright to be killed immediately.

outrun [ˌaʊtˈrʌn] (pt outran, pp outrun, cont outrunning) vt [competitor, attacker] to run faster than <sb>.

outsell [ˌaʊtˈsel] (pt & pp outsold) vt to be sold in greater numbers than <the product> of other companies; to sell more of a particular product than <another company> □ This laundry detergent has consistently outsold all other well-known brands over the last eight months.

outset [ˈaʊtset] n at the outset at the very beginning □ She was clear about what she expected right at the outset. ■ from the outset from the very beginning □ I've been involved in this company from the outset.

outshine [ˌaʊtˈʃaɪn] (pt & pp outshone [-ˈʃɔ:n]) vt to do something much better than <sb> □ Simon outshone his elder brother at math.

outside [ˌaʊtˈsaɪd, ˌprep, ˌadj, & ˌn 'aʊtsaɪd] ◇ adv to go/run/look outside to go/run/look out of a building or room □ We hurried outside as soon as we saw the car pull up. ■ to stand/happen/wait outside to stand/happen/wait near a room or building but not in it □ I heard him chatting to someone outside in the corridor. □ Don't leave your bike outside in case it rains.

◇ prep -1. outside a room/building not inside a room/building but near to it □ You can easily park outside the office. □ There was a crowd of journalists outside the entrance to the hotel.

-2. outside a town/city/country beyond the place where a town/city/country ends □ We stopped for a meal a few miles outside Denver.

-3. outside a group/organization among people who are not part of a group/organization □ No one outside his immediate family knew that he was ill. -4. outside office hours during the time before and after office hours □ We sometimes meet outside working hours.

◇ adj -1. an outside wall/door etc a wall/door etc that is not inside a room or building, or that faces outside □ Switch off the outside light. □ an outside toilet. -2. an outside consultant/team a consultant/team that does not belong to a group or organization □ I think we need an outside opinion on this. -3. the outside world the rest of the world, that one cannot go to, talk with etc. -4. an outside chance a very small chance □ There's just an outside chance that he might have survived the crash.

◇ n the outside the outer part or surface of something □ The outside of the house needs painting. □ From the outside the restaurant looked spacious, but inside it was small and crowded.

◆ outside of prep US (informal use) -1. outside of a place/country etc outside a place/country etc □ They moved to a place just outside of New Orleans. -2. except for <sb/sthg> □ Nobody outside of Jack knows the whole story.

outside lane n GB the lane of a road that is closest to the center.

outside line n a telephone line that can be used to call somebody outside a building, not inside it □ Can you get me an outside line, please, Janet?

outsider [ˌaʊtˈsaɪdər] n -1. a person or animal that is not expected to win a race or competition □ The race was won by Cool Cat, an outsider on 50-1. -2. a person who is not accepted by, or involved in, a particular group □ Jim had always been something of an outsider.

outside [ˈaʊtsaɪz] adj -1. [book, portion] that is bigger than the usual size. -2. [clothes, shoes] that are bigger than the standard sizes and are made especially for large people.

outsized [ˈaʊtsaɪzd] adj = outside.

outskirts [ˈaʊtskaɪt̩s] npl the outskirts the area round the edge of a town or city □ We live on the outskirts of Minneapolis.

outsmart [ˌaʊtˈsmɑːt] vt [enemy, opponent] to beat or get an advantage over <sb> by doing something more clever than them □ Suk outsmarted his pursuers and escaped abroad.

outsold [ˌaʊtˈsould] past tense & past participle of outsell.

outsourcing [ˌaʊtˌsɔːsɪŋ] n the practice of buying parts from suppliers outside a company.

outspoken [ˌaʊtˈspɔːkən] adj [person, critic] who has strong opinions and tells other people what they think, even if they shock or offend them □ She's always been extremely outspoken in her criticism of the museum's policy. □ outspoken remarks.

outspread [ˌaʊtˈspred] adj [hands, wings] that are opened out as wide as possible; [newspaper, map] that is opened out to its full size □ She ran toward him with outspread arms.

outstanding [aʊtˈstændɪŋ] adj -1. [performance, achievement, person] that is of an excellent standard □ She has made an outstanding contribution since she joined the company. -2. [influence, example] that is very important or obvious □ an outstanding example of pre-colonial art. -3. [money, bill] that has not yet been paid □ You must note down any outstanding debts on your tax return. -4. [work, job] that still needs to be finished; [problems, questions] that still need to be solved or dealt with □ A few matters were left outstanding at the end of the meeting.

outstay [ˌaʊtˈsteɪ] vt to outstay one's welcome to stay at somebody's house longer than they want or than is polite □ Well, we'd better go — we don't want to outstay our welcome.

outstretched [ˌaʊtˈstretʃt] adj [wings] that are opened out as wide as possible; [arm, hand] that is stretched out as wide as possible or as far forward as possible □ He greeted her with arms outstretched.

outstrip [ˌaʊtˈstri:p] (pt & pp outstripped, cont outstripping) vt -1. to be more successful than <one's rival, competitors> etc; to be greater or stronger than <sb/sthg> □ Demand has outstripped supply for the second month running. -2. to run faster than  □ We started to race, but Boris soon outstripped me.

out-take n a section of a movie or program that is not included when the movie or program is shown to the public, usually because it contains a mistake.

out-tray n a tray in an office in which documents and mail are put before they are sent somewhere else.

outvote [ˌaʊtˈvəʊt] vt to be outvoted to be defeated because more people voted against one, or against one's idea, than for one □ Sorry, Dan, you're outvoted. □ The proposal was outvoted by four votes to three.

outward [ˈaʊtwəd] ◇ adj -1. the outward voyage/trip the voyage/trip from one's home to the place one is going to □ We had no problems at all on the outward voyage. -2. an outward sign a sign that can be seen by other people, even though it hides what is true or real □ Rachel never showed any outward signs of depression. □ To all outward appearances, the business was doing well. ◇ adv US to move/face outward to move/face away from the center or the inside □ The window opens outward. □ We stood in a circle, facing outward.

outwardly [ˈaʊtwədli] adv a word used to describe the way a person or situation looks, when this is perhaps different from what is really true □ He hid his distress and remained outwardly composed. □ Outwardly, she seems to be the same as before.

outwards [ˈaʊtwɜːdz] adv = outward.

outweigh [ˌaʊtˈwei] vt to be more important or serious than <sthg> □ The advantages of being computerized far outweigh the costs involved.

outwit [ˌaʊtˈwɪt] (pt & pp outwitted, cont outwitting) vt [opponent, rival] to beat or get an advantage over <sb> by doing something more clever than them □ Once again, the police had been outwitted by the gang.

outworker [ˈaʊtwɜːkə] n a person who works for a company at home, doing tasks such as typing or sewing.

oval [ˈoʊvl] ◇ adj shaped like a circle but wider in the middle and usually more pointed at one end □ An egg is oval in shape. ◇ n an oval shape.

Oval Office: the Oval Office the office of the US President.

ovarian [ouˈveəriən] adj [cyst, cancer] that is connected with a woman's ovaries.

ovary [ˈoʊvəri] (pl ovaries) n either of the two organs in females that produce eggs.

ovation [ouˈveɪʃn] n enthusiastic applause. ■ a standing ovation enthusiastic applause and cheering by an audience that has stood up □ Prescott's speech was given a standing ovation.

oven [ˈʌvən] n the part of a stove that has a door and which food is put inside to be cooked; this part of a stove at a particular temperature □ an electric/gas oven □ a medium/hot oven.

oven glove n a padded cloth that fits on one's hand and is used for taking hot things out of the oven.

ovenproof [ˈʌvnpruːf] adj [dish, plate] that can be used to cook food in an oven without getting damaged.

oven-ready adj [chicken, meal] that is sold in a package and is ready to be cooked.

ovenware [ˈʌvnweə] n a collective term for cooking pots, dishes etc that are ovenproof.

over [ˈoʊvə] ◇ prep -1. over the river/bridge/door etc directly above the river/bridge/door etc □ I rent a studio over a restaurant. □ There was a sign over the entrance. -2. to put/wear etc sthg over sthg to put/wear etc sthg on top of sthg else, and covering it □ She was carrying a bag over her arm. □ Just leave your coat over the back of the chair. -3. to fly/jump etc over sthg to fly/jump etc from one side of sthg to the other □ James crossed over the road to join us. -4. to live over the road to live on the other side of the road □ They could see enemy troops gathering over the border. □ The sun disappeared over the horizon. -5. to bend/crouch over sb/sthg to bend/crouch in the direction of sb/sthg that is below one □ She leaned over and kissed him. -6. over 50 years ago more than 50 years ago □ It cost well over $600. -7. used to show a position of power or higher rank □ a victory over the enemy □ He was promoted over me. -8. a dispute/an argument over money a dispute/an argument about money □ She takes care over her work. □ There's some doubt over the future of the company. -9. over the year during the whole of the year □ What are you doing over the weekend? □ Let's discuss it over lunch.

◇ adv -1. used to indicate a place that is near enough for one to see it or point to it □ I parked the car over by the gate. ■ over here near to one; in the same country as one □ It's over here, I've found it! □ Joe is over here for a year doing research. ■ over there at some place away from where one is; in a different country from one □ He sounded upset — I'd better get over there right away. -2. to go/come over to go/come to a place, especially somebody's home (used to show movement between two places) □ Let's invite them over for a meal. □ Could you pass me over a copy of the memo, please? -3. to fall/be knocked over to fall/be knocked downward toward the ground □ He knocked the coffee cup over as he reached for the phone. □ She rolled over and went to sleep. -4. boys of eight or over boys of eight or more. -5. (left) over that remains or has not been used □ That leaves $2 over. □ I've got some pastry left over. -6. RADIO over (and out)! used by pilots, the police etc to end a radio conversation. -7. to be over [play, relationship] to be finished □ The meeting was over by five o'clock. □ Our marriage is definitely over. -8. to do sthg (all) over again to do sthg again from the beginning, especially when this is very tiring or boring □ Now I've lost count and I'll have to start all over again! ■ over and over (again) many times □ I've told him over and over again, but he just won't listen.

◇ n SPORT a series of six balls bowled by a bowler in cricket.

◆ over and above prep in addition to <sthg> □ There will be additional expenses over and above the basic outlay.

◆ over to prep RADIO & TV used to indicate who the next speaker will be □ And now it's over to Alan Partridge at the sports desk.

over- prefix added to words to mean too much of the particular quality, thing etc □ over-anxious □ an over-exaggeration.

overabundance [ˌoʊvərəˈbʌndəns] n too much of something.

overact [ˌoʊvərəˈækt] vi to act a part in a play with too much emotion.

overactive [ˌoʊvərəˈæktɪv] adj [gland] that is too active.

overall [adj & adv ˌoʊvəˈɔːl, n ˈoʊvəˈɔːl] ◇ adj [impression, size, cost] that includes everything □ Our overall profits are low. □ The overall impression is one of peace and tranquility. ◇ adv a word used to summarize a situation or one's opinion about something □ Overall, you've done a good job. □ It's been a good year overall. ◇ n -1. a light coat worn to protect one's clothes when doing dirty work. -2. US a pair of trousers attached to a jacket that is worn to protect one's clothes when doing dirty work.

◆ overalls npl -1. a pair of trousers attached to a jacket that is worn to protect one's clothes when doing dirty work. -2. US a pair of trousers with a bib and shoulder straps attached.

overambitious [ˌoʊvəˈræmˈbɪʃəs] adj -1. [person] who tries to do something that is too difficult □ Don't be too overambitious at first — I'd advise you to start slowly. -2. [plan, schedule, attempt] that requires a lot of effort and is too difficult to achieve □ She had set a ridiculously overambitious schedule for herself.

overanxious [ˌoʊvəˈæŋkʃəs] adj [person] who worries too much.

overarm [ˌoʊvəˈɑːrm] ◇ adj [throw, bowling] that involves moving one's arm from behind one's body until it is above one's shoulder. ◇ adv [throw] I threw the ball overarm.

overate [ˌoʊvəˈeɪt] past tense of overeat.

overawed [ˌoʊvəˈɔːd] vt to be overawed to be so impressed by somebody or something that one becomes silent □ They were completely overawed by the occasion.

overbalance [ˌoʊvəˈbæləns] vi to become unbalanced and fall over or nearly fall over.

overbearing [ˌoʊvəˈbeərɪŋ] adj [person] who is unpleasant because they try to make people do what they want them to do, or does not think about what other people want or are feeling □ I find him aggressive and overbearing.

overblown [ˌoʊvəˈbloun] adj [description, compliment] that makes something seem bigger or more important than it really is.

overboard [ˌoʊvəˈbɔːd] adv -1. to fall overboard to fall from a boat or ship into the water. -2. to go overboard to get too excited about somebody or something; to do something to an unreasonable degree (informal use) □ He went completely overboard in his praise of her.

overbook [ˌoʊvəˈbʊk] vi to sell or reserve more places for a play, hotel, vacation etc than are available.

overburden [ˌoʊvəˈbɜːdn] vt to be overburdened with sthg [with work, debts] to have more of sthg than one can deal with.

overcame [ˌoʊvəˈkeɪm] past tense of overcome.

overcapitalize, -ise [ˌoʊvəˈkæpətlaɪz] vi to change too many assets, reserves etc into capital.

overcast [US ˌoʊvrˈkæst, GB ˌoʊvəˈkɑːst] adj [sky, day, weather] cloudy and dark □ It was a dull day, gray and overcast.

overcharge [ˌoʊvəˈtʃɑːdʒ] vt [person, customer] to charge <sb> more than the correct price for something □ He overcharged me by $15. □ I think I have been overcharged for my insurance.

overcoat [ˌoʊvəˈkəʊt] n a long thick coat worn especially in winter.

overcome [ˌoʊvəˈkʌm] (pt overcome, pp overcome) vt -1. to deal with  successfully □ He managed to overcome his fear of heights. -2. to be overcome by OR with sthg [by emotion, fear] to feel sthg more strongly than anything else for a short period of time □ He was overcome by sadness/with joy. -3. to be overcome by smoke/fumes etc to feel weak from the effects of smoke/fumes etc □ Most of the victims had been overcome by smoke.

overcompensate [ˌoʊvəˈkɒmpənsɪt] vi to do much more than is necessary to correct a problem, with the result that one does something else that is wrong □ When she's nervous she tends to overcompensate by being very aggressive.

overconfident [ˌoʊvəˈkɒnfɪdənt] adj too confident.

overcooked [ˌoʊvəˈkʊkt] adj [meat, vegetables] that has been cooked for too long or with too much heat.

overcrowded [ˌoʊvəˈkraʊdəd] adj [room, office, prison] that has too many people in it □ The camp is desperately overcrowded with refugees.

overcrowding [ˌoʊvəˈkraʊdɪŋ] n the state of being overcrowded □ There is severe overcrowding in our prisons.

overdeveloped [ˌoʊvəˈdɪˈveləpt] adj -1. PHOTOGRAPHY [film] that is too dark because a mistake was made during the developing process. -2. [interest, appetite] that is much bigger than it should be. -3. [town, area] that has been spoiled by too many buildings.

overdo [ˌoʊvəˈduː] (pt overdid [-ˈdɪd], pp overdone) vt -1. [compliments, welcome] to exaggerate <sthg> (disapproving use) □ Just tell her calmly about your feelings without overdoing it and getting angry. -2. [exercises, sunbathing, gardening] to do too much of <an activity>, especially so that one suffers pain afterward. ■ to overdo it to do too much or work too hard so that one becomes tired □ The doctor told her not to overdo it after the operation. □ I've been overdoing things recently. -3. [meat, vegetables] to cook <food> for too long; [salt, garlic] to add too much of <sthg> to food.

overdone [ˌoʊvəˈdʌn] ◇ past participle of overdo. ◇ adj [meat, cake] that has been cooked for too long.

overdose [ˌoʊvəˈdɔːs] ◇ n a dangerous amount of drugs that somebody has swallowed or injected □ Craig died of a drug overdose. □ She took an overdose of sleeping pills. ◇ vi to overdose on sthg [on heroin, aspirin] to take an overdose of sthg.

overdraft [US ˈoʊvdræft, GB ˈoʊvdrɑːft] n the amount of money that a person is allowed to owe a bank where they have an account □ I've got a $200 overdraft. □ an overdraft facility.

overdrawn [ˌoʊvəˈdrɔːn] adj [person] who has taken out more money from their bank account than was in it □ I'm overdrawn at the bank by $20. □ My account is overdrawn.

overdressed [ˌoʊvəˈdrest] adj to be overdressed to be wearing clothes that are too formal or elegant for a particular occasion.

overdrive [ˌoʊvəˈdraɪv] n to go into overdrive [person, factory] to start working very hard.

overdue [ˌoʊvəˈdjuː] adj -1. to be overdue for sthg to have needed sthg for a long time □ I'm overdue for a dental check-up. -2. (long) overdue [reform, change, promotion] that has been needed or awaited for a long time □ She finally received a welcome, and long overdue, apology. □ This kind of reform is long overdue.

 -3. [bill, rent, account] that has not been paid yet, although it should have been □ This month's rent is overdue. -4. [baby] that is born later than expected □ Liz's baby is two weeks overdue.

overeager [ˌoʊvəˈi:ɡəʃ] adj too eager □ Paul didn't seem overeager to join in.

over easy adj eggs over easy US eggs lightly fried on both sides.

overeat [ˌoʊvəˈri:t] (pt overate, pp overeaten [-i:tɪn]) vi to eat too much.

overemphasize, -ise [ˌoʊvəˈemfəsəɪz] vt [importance, need] to make <sthg> seem more important than it really is □ I cannot overemphasize the dangers involved.

overenthusiastic [ˌoʊvərɪnθi:zɪˈæstɪk] adj too enthusiastic □ They were scarcely overenthusiastic about the prospect.

overestimate [ˌoʊvəˈestɪmeɪt] vt -1. [spending, quantity] to think that <sthg> is or will be bigger than it really is □ We had overestimated the cost, which came as a pleasant surprise. -2. [person, importance, capabilities] to think that <sb/sthg> is better than they really are □ You can never overestimate the benefit of efficient happy staff.

overexcited [ˌoʊvərɪk'saɪtəd] adj [person, child] who is too excited.

overexpose [ˌoʊvərɪk'spəʊz] vt to let too much light onto <the film> when taking a photo □ Half the photos were overexposed.

overflow [vb ˌoʊvəˈfləʊ, n ˈoʊvəˈfləʊ] ◇ vi -1. [river, bath, sink] to be so full that the liquid inside flows over the edge; [liquid] to flow over the edge of a container □ She left the bath running and it overflowed. □ The vase is too full — the water's going to overflow when you put the flowers in. -2. [people, crowd] to spread from a place that is too small to contain everybody □ The party overflowed into the garden. -3. to be overflowing to be very full of people, things, or emotions □ The corridors were overflowing with children. ■ full to overflowing [room, place] that is so full that there is not enough room for everybody □ The conference hall was full to overflowing with eager delegates.

◇ vt: The river overflowed its banks.

◇ n -1. a pipe or hole which liquid can flow out of when the container gets too full. -2. the liquid that overflows from a pipe, sink etc. -3. the people who cannot fit into a place because there is no room left for them.

overgrown [ˌoʊvəˈɡroun] adj [garden, path] that is covered with untidy plants because it has not been taken care of □ The ruin was overgrown with weeds.

overhang [n ˈoʊvəˈhæŋ, vb ˌoʊvəˈhæŋ] (pt & pp overhung) ◇ n the part of something such as a rock or roof that sticks out over something else. ◇ vt [beach, water, path] to stick out over sthg □ There was a large tree overhanging the road. ◇ vi [cliff, balcony, roof] We sheltered under an overhanging rock.

overhaul [vb ˌoʊvəˈhəʊl, n ˈoʊvəˈhəʊl] ◇ vt [machine, car, system] to check <sthg> carefully and make any necessary changes or repairs □ We are completely overhauling the bus fleet following several complaints from passengers. □ Our filing system needs to be completely overhauled. ◇ n [of a machine, engine, system] the act of overhauling something □ The car needs a complete overhaul. □ The photocopier is getting its annual overhaul today.

overhead [adj & n ˈoʊvəˈhed, adv ˌoʊvəˈhed] ◇ adj [light, cable] that is above one's head. ◇ adv [fly, circle] She heard voices overhead. ◇ n US the daily costs involved in carrying out a business, e.g. rent, heating, and wages □ Volunteers help keep the overhead to a minimum.

◆ overheads npl GB = overhead.

overhead projector n a device like a box on which transparent plastic sheets are placed so that the light underneath and the lens above make the words, pictures etc on the sheets appear larger on a wall or screen.

overhear [ˌoʊvəˈhiəʃ] (pt & pp overheard [-'hɜ:rd]) vt [person, conversation, remark] to accidentally hear <sb/sthg> without the speaker being aware of it □ I overheard her saying OR overheard her say that big changes would be inevitable.

overheat [ˌoʊvəˈhi:t] ◇ vt [room, machine] to make <sthg> too hot. ◇ vi [engine, car, machine] to become too hot.

overhung [ˌoʊvəˈhʌŋ] past tense & past participle of overhang.

overindulge [ˌoʊvərɪnˈdʌldʒ] ◇ vt to allow <sb> to do what they want too often □ We try to be generous with the children without overindulging them. ◇ vi to have too much food or drink □ People tend to overindulge at Christmas.

overjoyed [ˌoʊvəˈdʒɔɪd] adj to be overjoyed to be very happy □ They were overjoyed at the news.

overkill [ˈoʊvəˈkɪl] n activity or behavior that is more extreme than is needed to achieve the desired result □ media overkill.

overladen [ˌoʊvəˈleɪdn] ◇ past participle of overload. ◇ adj [donkey, truck] that is carrying too much.

overlaid [ˌoʊvəˈleɪd] past tense & past participle of overlay.

overland [ˌoʊvəˈlænd] ◇ adj [route, trip, trek] that goes across land and does not involve traveling by sea or air. ◇ adv: From there, we'll travel overland to Beijing.

overlap [n ˈoʊvəˈlæp, vb ˌoʊvəˈlæp] (pt & pp overlapped, cont overlapping) ◇ vt to go over the edge of <sthg> so that it partly covers it □ Arrange the apple slices so that they overlap each other.

◇ vi -1. [surfaces, coverings] to cover part of the same area □ The edges overlap. -2. [ideas, systems] to share particular things □ My responsibilities overlapped with hers. -3. [events] to happen at the same time in part. □ Our visits overlapped.

◇ n -1. the amount by which something overlaps the surface of something else □ Leave a small overlap to cover up the seam. -2. a situation in which people, ideas, activities etc overlap □ There's an overlap between what the publishing director and the editorial director do.

overlay [ˌoʊvəˈleɪ] (pt & pp overlaid) vt to be overlaid with sthg to be covered with a layer of sthg □ metal overlaid with gold.

overleaf [ˌoʊvəˈli:f] adv on the next page □ See illustration overleaf.

overload [ˌoʊvəˈləʊd] (pp overloaded OR overladen) vt -1. [container, car, washing machine] to put too many people or things in <sthg> □ Be careful not to overload the elevator. -2. ELECTRICITY [circuit, system] to make too much electricity pass through <sthg> □ Last time they played a concert here they overloaded the entire system. -3. [person] to give <sb> more to do than they can deal with □ Our department is overloaded with work right now.

overlong [ˌoʊvəˈlɒŋ] ◇ adj [book, movie, lecture] too long □ It was an interesting talk, but slightly overlong. ◇ adv [stay, wait] for too long.

overlook [ˌoʊvəˈlʊk] vt -1. [sea, town, garden] to be in a place where there is a view of <sthg lower down> □ The hotel overlooks the harbor. -2. [fact, problem, cost] not to notice <sthg>, or not to realize how important it is □ You seem to have overlooked one small detail. -3. [fault, behavior] not to punish or criticize somebody for <sthg> □ I'm prepared to overlook your mistake this time.

overlord [ˌoʊvəˈlɔːrɪd] n a person who has the most power in a particular place.

overly [ˌoʊvəˈli] adv overly critical/negative etc too critical/negative etc □ I'm not overly impressed with their safety record.

overmanning [ˌoʊvəˈmæniŋ] n a situation in a factory, company etc in which more people are employed than is necessary.

overnight [ˌoʊvəˈnaɪt] ◇ adj -1. [trip, flight] that takes place during the night □ Why don't you take the overnight bus? □ The trip includes an overnight stay in a luxury hotel. -2. an overnight case/overnight clothes etc a case/clothes etc that one takes when one stays somewhere overnight. -3. overnight success/fame success/fame that happens very quickly, without anybody expecting it □ You can hardly be expecting overnight success.

◇ adv -1. [stay, travel, fly] There was a storm overnight. □ I leave the car in the garage overnight. -2. [happen, succeed] quickly and unexpectedly This is not the kind of problem you can solve overnight. □ Did you expect to become famous overnight?

overpaid [ˌoʊvəˈpeɪd] ◇ past tense & past participle of overpay. ◇ adj [worker, staff, executive] whose salary is higher than they deserve □ a grossly overpaid job.

overpass [US ˈoʊvɹpæs, GB ˈoʊvəpɑːs] n a bridge carrying one road over the top of another road.

overpay [ˌoʊvəˈpeɪ] (pt & pp overpaid) vt [employee, staff, official] to pay too much money to <sb> □ Some directors are grossly overpaid.

overplay [ˌoʊvəˈpleɪ] vt [importance, significance, status] to make <sthg> seem more important than it really is □ It would be easy to overplay the importance of his move. ■ to overplay one's hand to do something that suggests one is in a stronger position than one really is.

overpopulated [ˌoʊvəˈpɒpjəleɪtəd] adj [area, city] that has too many people living in it.

overpower [ˌoʊvəˈpaʊə] vt -1. to defeat <sb> by being stronger than them □ The man was finally overpowered by security guards. -2. to suddenly affect <sb> very strongly □ She was overpowered by grief/by the smoke.

overpowering [ˌoʊvəˈpaʊərɪŋ] adj -1. [desire, feeling] that suddenly affects one very strongly □ I suddenly felt an overpowering urge to hit him. -2. [smell, heat, sensation] extremely strong □ The heat in the sauna was overpowering. -3. [person] who makes one feel uncomfortable because they have a very strong personality □ Candy has a rather overpowering personality and tends to intimidate some people.

overpriced [ˌoʊvəˈpraɪst] adj [goods, article] having a price that is unreasonably high.

overproduction [ˌoʊvəˈprɒˈdʌkʃn] n the act of producing more goods, products etc than is necessary.

overprotective [ˌoʊvəˈprɒˈtektɪv] adj who tries too much to protect somebody, especially one's child, from danger, with the result that they never learn how to look after themselves.

overran [ˌoʊvəˈræn] past tense of overrun.

overrated [ˌoʊvəˈreɪtəd] adj [movie, car, actor] that is not as good as most people say it is □ In my opinion, Tarantino is much overrated as a film director.

overreach [ˌoʊvəˈri:tʃ] vt to overreach oneself to try to do something that one is not able to do □ Lizzie thinks she's really smart, but one of these days she's going to overreach herself.

overreact [ˌoʊvəˈriːækt] vi to feel more angry, worried, sad etc about something than is necessary or reasonable □ I think they overreacted to the threat.

override [ˌoʊvəˈraɪd] (pt overrode, pp overridden [-ˈraɪdn]) vt -1. to be more important than <other things> □ The need to reduce the deficit overrides everything else. -2. to use one's authority to ignore  □ What right do you have to override an instruction from the manager?

overriding [ˌoʊvəˈraɪdɪŋ] adj an overriding concern/aim etc a concern/an aim etc that is more important than any others □ Safety is of overriding importance to us. □ The overriding need at the moment is for food supplies.

overripe [ˌoʊvəˈraɪp] adj [fruit] too ripe.

overrode [ˌoʊvəˈroud] past tense of override.

overrule [ˌoʊvəˈru:l] vt to use one's authority to cancel  □ My objection was overruled by the judge.

overrun [ˌoʊvəˈrʌn] (pt overran, pp overrun, cont overrunning) ◇ vt -1. MILITARY [the enemy] to defeat <an army> completely; [territory,

- country] to conquer and occupy . -2. to be overrun with sthg [with weeds, rats] to be full of sthg □ The town was overrun with tourists/visitors. ◇ vi [meeting, speech, TV program] to last longer than planned □ The briefing session overran by half an hour.
- oversaw [ˌoʊvəˈsɔː] past tense of oversee.
- overseas [ˌoʊvəˈsiːz] ◇ adj overseas sales/an overseas trip etc sales/a trip etc to foreign countries □ Overseas travel will not be paid for by the company. □ the budget for overseas aid. ■ an overseas student a student from a foreign country □ We ask our overseas visitors to register before taking part. ◇ adv [go, travel] to a foreign country or foreign countries; [live, study, sell] in a foreign country or foreign countries □ The company sells most of its products overseas. □ Most of our orders come from overseas.
- oversee [ˌoʊvəˈsiː] (pt oversaw, pp overseen [-ˈsiːn]) vt [workers, job] to be in charge of <sb/sthg> and make sure that work is done properly □ Katherine Spice has been brought in to oversee the new project.
- overseer [ˈoʊvəˈsiə] n a person whose job is to make sure that work is done well.
- overshadow [ˌoʊvəˈʃædəʊ] vt -1. [building, area] to be much taller than <sthg that is nearby> □ It was a nice house, but completely overshadowed by the surrounding buildings. -2. [rival, competitor] to seem more important or impressive than <sb> □ He's rather quiet, and tends to be overshadowed by his noisier brother. -3. [event, period, success] to make <sthg> less enjoyable, important etc □ Her homecoming was overshadowed by the news of her brother's death.
- overshoot [ˌoʊvəˈʃuːt] (pt & pp overshot [-ˈʃɒt]) vt [turning, runway, target] to miss <sthg> by going too far beyond it □ We overshoot the turning to their house.
- oversight [ˈoʊvəˈsaɪt] n a mistake caused when somebody does not do or notice something □ By OR Through an oversight, his name was omitted. □ I'm sorry, it was an oversight on my part.
- oversimplification [ˌoʊvəˈsɪmplɪfɪˈkeɪʃn] n: see oversimplify □ Your statement is a gross oversimplification of what actually happened.
- oversimplify [ˌoʊvəˈsɪmplɪfaɪ] (pt & pp oversimplified) ◇ vt [situation, issue, position] to talk about <sthg> in a way that makes it seem more simple than it really is □ The program oversimplifies the problems faced by these people. ◇ vi: Don't you think you're oversimplifying a little?
- oversleep [ˌoʊvəˈsliːp] (pt & pp overslept [-ˈslept]) vi to sleep for too long and not wake up at the time one intended to □ Sorry I'm late, I overslept.
- overspend [ˌoʊvəˈspend] (pt & pp overspent [-ˈspent]) vi [person, company] to spend too much money.
- overspill [ˈoʊvəˈspɪl] n the people who move away from a city that is too crowded □ the overspill from inner-city areas.
- overstaffed [US ˌoʊvɪˈstæft, GB ˌoʊvəˈstɑːft] adj [company, department, school] that has too many people working in it.
- overstate [ˌoʊvəˈsteɪt] vt [importance, significance] to exaggerate <sthg> □ The significance of this meeting cannot be overstated.
- overstay [ˌoʊvəˈsteɪ] vt to overstay one's welcome to outstay one's welcome.
- overstep [ˌoʊvəˈstep] (pt & pp overstepped, cont overstepping) vt [limit, authority] to go beyond <sthg> □ Carstairs has overstepped the limit of his authority in this case. ■ to overstep the mark to behave in a way that goes beyond acceptable limits □ I had clearly, by the look on his face, overstepped the mark.
- overstock [ˌoʊvəˈstɒk] vt [refrigerator, warehouse] to keep <sthg> filled with more of something than is necessary.
- overstrike [ˌoʊvəˈstraɪk] (pt & pp overstruck [-ˈstrʌk]) COMPUTING ◇ n an act of keying something on top of or in place of something else. ◇ vt [character, word] to key <sthg> in on top of or in place of something else.
- oversubscribed [ˌoʊvəˈsɒbˈskraɪbd] adj [share offer, course] that too many people have asked to take part in, so that not everybody can get what they want □ Night school classes are heavily oversubscribed this year.
- overt [oʊˈvɜːt] adj [hostility, intention, attempt] that is open and public and not hidden □ an overt challenge to the government's authority □ It was an overt criticism of my way of life.
- overtake [ˌoʊvəˈteɪk] (pt overtook, pp overtaken [-ˈteɪkn]) ◇ vt -1. [disaster, misfortune, change] to happen to  when they are not expecting it or able to deal with it □ We did our best to meet the deadline, but we were overtaken by events. -2. GB [car, driver, runner] to catch up with and pass . ◇ vi GB [car, driver] It's dangerous to overtake on bends.
- overtaking [ˌoʊvəˈteɪkɪŋ] n GB the act of passing other vehicles □ 'No overtaking.'
- over-the-counter adj -1. BUSINESS [sales, market] connected with the shares of companies not listed on a stock exchange. -2. over-the-counter medicine/drugs etc medicine/drugs etc that can be bought at a pharmacy without a prescription from a doctor.
- overthrow [vb ˌoʊvəˈθrou, n ˈoʊvəˈθrou] (pt overthrew [-ˈθruː], pp overthrown [-ˈθroun]) ◇ vt -1. [government, regime, ruler] to remove <sb/sthg> from power, usually by force □ The elected government has been overthrown by military rebels. -2. [idea, standards, decision] to reject <sthg> and replace it with something else □ The decision was overthrown in court. ◇ n [of a government, regime, ruler] the act of overthrowing somebody or something.
- overtime [ˈoʊvəˈtaɪm] ◇ n -1. INDUSTRY extra time spent working; money earned by working extra time □ If you do overtime, you can earn even more money. □ How much do you earn, including overtime? □ an overtime ban. -2. US SPORT a period of playing time added to a game when the scores are equal at the end of normal playing time. ◇ adv to work overtime to spend extra time at work, usually for more money.

overtly [ou'vɜ:tli] adv [hostile, jealous] see overt.

overtones ['ouvə'taunz] npl signs of a particular feeling or idea that can be noticed but are not stated openly □ The speech had definite political overtones. □ Do I detect overtones of jealousy?

overtook [ouvə'tuk] past tense of overtake.

overture ['ouvə'tʃuə] n MUSIC a piece of music that is an introduction to a longer piece of music or to a theatrical performance.

◆ overtures npl to make overtures to sb to speak to sb because one wants to start a friendship, partnership etc with them □ They've been making overtures to a big Japanese company in the hope of setting up a joint deal.

overturn [ouvə'tɜ:n] ◇ vt -1. [table, lamp] to knock <sthg> over □ He accidentally overturned his chair as he got up. -2. LAW to use one's authority to cancel  □ The decision was overturned in court. -3. to remove  etc from power, usually by force □ an attempt to overturn the military regime. ◇ vi [boat, car] to turn upside down.

overuse [ouvə'ju:z] vt [word, expression] to use <sthg> too often, with the result that it loses its value or meaning.

overview ['ouvə'vju:] n a general understanding or description of a situation, subject etc □ The introduction gives a general overview of the situation.

overweening [ouvə'wi:nɪŋ] adj [pride, arrogance] that is too strong (formal and disapproving use).

overweight [ouvə'weɪt] adj -1. [person] whose weight is more than it should be for somebody of their build and height □ He's overweight and ought to go on a diet. -2. [package, suitcase] that is heavier than a particular limit allows □ I had to pay extra because my luggage was slightly overweight.

overwhelm [ouvə'welɪŋ] vt -1. to take complete control of <sb> □ I was overwhelmed by embarrassment/despair. -2. MILITARY [opposition, enemy, defenses] to gain complete control over <sb/sthg> by being much stronger.

overwhelming [ouvə'welɪŋ] adj -1. [feeling, desire, need] that is so strong that one cannot think clearly □ I suddenly felt an overwhelming desire to kiss him. -2. [generosity, kindness] that makes one feel very surprised and grateful □ thanks to the overwhelming generosity of our benefactor, Lionel Burt. -3. [defeat, majority] that is so big that the result is extremely clear □ The bill was defeated by an overwhelming majority in the Senate.

overwhelmingly [ouvə'welɪŋli] adv [defeat, reject] by a very large majority □ The workers voted overwhelmingly to continue the strike.

overwork [ouvə'wɜ:k] ◇ vt [employee, servant, staff] to give <sb> too much work to do □ We're overworked and underpaid. ◇ vi [person] to work too hard □ Paul has been overworking recently. ◇ n too much work □ Much of her stress is caused by overwork.

overwrought [ouvə'rɔ:t] adj [person] who is very upset and cannot control their feelings.

ovulate ['ɒvjələɪt] vi [woman, female animal] to produce an egg from the ovary.

ovulation [ɒvjə'leɪʃn] n: see ovulate.

ow [au] excl a sound used to show that one suddenly feels pain □ Ow! That hurt!

owe [ou] vt -1. to owe sthg to sb, to owe sb sthg [amount, money] to have to pay sthg to sb □ You still owe me $50 from last month. □ How much do I owe you? □ She owes lots of money to her parents. -2. to owe sthg to sb, to owe sb sthg [success, career] to have sthg because of help given by sb □ I don't owe you anything! □ She owes Dr Jacobson her life. -3. to owe sthg to sb, to owe sb sthg [thanks, respect, loyalty] to be expected to give sthg to sb □ You owe me an explanation! □ You owe it to yourself to go out and prove you can do it.

Owens ['əʊənz], Jesse (1913–1980) an African-American athlete who won four gold medals at the 1936 Berlin Olympics.

owing ['əʊɪŋ] adj to be owing [amount, money] that has still to be paid □ The balance owing is $8,000. □ How much is still owing?

◆ owing to prep [circumstances, mistake, cancellation] as a result of <sthg> □ Owing to an earlier accident, there will be long delays on Highway 6.

owl [aʊl] n a bird that hunts small animals mainly at night and has a flat face, a hooked beak, and large eyes.

own [aʊn] ◇ det my/your/its etc own... the... that belongs to me/you/it etc; the... that is typical of me/you/it etc □ I won't be insulted like this in my own home. □ I brought my own golf clubs with me. □ Describe what happened in your own words. □ Sue has her own way of working.

◇ pron my/your/its etc own the one or ones that belong to me/you/it etc □ We rented a tent, but Paul brought his own. ■ a home/car of one's own a home/car that belongs to one □ He's always longed for a car of his own. ■ to be/live on one's own to be/live alone □ I was on my own all evening. ■ to do/manage sthg on one's own to do/manage sthg without any help □ You'll never lift that box on your own. □ She's had to bring those children up on her own. ■ to get one's own back to punish somebody because they have said or done something annoying or offensive, though not very serious (informal use) □ I'll get my own back on him for making me look silly!

◇ vt [car, house, company] to have <sthg> as one's property □ They own some valuable paintings. □ All this land is owned by the college.

◆ own up vi to admit that one has done something wrong □ No one would own up to leaking the document.

own brand n GB a product specially manufactured for a particular store and carrying its name □ own-brand products.

owner ['əʊnə] n the person that an animal, property etc belongs to □ The owner of the bi- cycle could not be found. □ The owners are away this weekend.

owner-occupier n a person who lives in a house that they own rather than rent.

ownership ['ɔʊnəʃɪp] n the fact of being the owner of something □ The ownership of the land is still in dispute. □ private/public ownership.

own goal n SPORT a goal scored accidentally by a player against their own team.

ox [ɒks] (pl oxen) n a bull that has had its sexual parts removed, and that is used to provide meat and, in some countries, to work on a farm.

Oxbridge ['ɒksbrɪdʒ] n the universities of Oxford and Cambridge considered together □ an Oxbridge candidate/graduate.

OXBRIDGE

The two universities of Oxford and Cambridge, both dating from the 13th century, are the oldest and most respected in Britain. Both are divided into "colleges", some of which are in beautiful buildings, and have very old traditions. An Oxbridge education is supposed to give students advantages in later life, and many graduates find important jobs in the government, media etc. There is a great rivalry between the two universities, especially in sports.

oxen ['ɒksn] plural of ox.

Oxfam ['ɒksfæm] n a British charity that aims to fight famine and poverty throughout the world □ an Oxfam shop.

Oxford ['ɒksfə'd] a town in southern England that is famous for its university. POPULATION: 109,000.

Oxfordshire ['ɒksfə'dʃə] a county in central southern England. SIZE: 2,608 sq kms. POPULATION: 578,000. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Oxford.

Oxford Street a street in central London that is well known for its stores.

oxide ['ɒksaɪd] n a chemical compound of oxygen and another element □ magnesium oxide.

oxidize, -ise ['ɒksədaɪz] vi [element, substance] to combine chemically with oxygen; [metal] to rust.

Oxon abbr of Oxfordshire.

Oxon. (abbr of Oxoniensis) from Oxford University (used after university degrees).

oxtail soup ['ɒksteɪl] n a type of thick brown soup made by stewing the tail of an ox.

ox tongue n the tongue of an ox used as food, usually boiled and eaten cold in slices.

oxyacetylene ['ɒksaɪ'setli:n] n a mixture of oxygen and acetylene that burns with a very hot flame and is used for cutting and welding metal □ an oxyacetylene torch/burner.

oxygen ['ɒksɪdʒən] n a colorless gas that forms a large part of the air and is necessary for plants and animals to live. SYMBOL: O.

oxygenate ['ɒksɪdʒəneɪt] vt [blood, water] to mix oxygen into <sthg>.

oxygen mask n a device that fits over the nose and mouth and helps one to breathe by supplying oxygen from a cylinder which it is attached to by a tube.

oxygen tent n a transparent covering like a tent that is placed over a very ill person in a hospital and filled with oxygen to help them breathe.

oyster ['ɔɪstə] n a flat shellfish that has a shell in two parts and is usually eaten raw. Oysters can produce pearls.

oz. abbr of ounce.

Oz [ɒz] GB & AUS Australia (informal use).

ozone ['oʊzoun] n a colorless gas that is a kind of oxygen. FORMULA: O₃.

ozone-friendly adj [gas, product, process] that does not damage the ozone layer.

ozone layer n the ozone layer layer of ozone high above the sky that protects the Earth from ultraviolet radiation from the Sun.

P

p¹ [pi:] (pl p's OR ps), P [pi:] (pl P's OR Ps) n the sixteenth letter of the English alphabet.

p² ◇ abbr of page. ◇ n abbr of penny, pence.

P45 [ˌpi:fɔːtɪ'faɪv] n in Britain, a document given to a person by their employer when they leave a job. It shows how much tax and National Insurance they have paid.

P60 [ˌpi:'sɪkstɪ] n in Britain, a document given to a person by their employer once a year, showing their earnings, tax, and National Insurance payments for that year.

pa [pɑ:] n US a word used to talk to or about one's father (informal use).

p.a. abbr of per annum.

PA ◇ n -1. abbr of public-address system. -2. GB abbr of personal assistant. ◇ abbr of Pennsylvania.

PABX ['pæbɛks] (abbr of private automatic branch exchange) n a small telephone exchange, usually in a company, for internal communications and outside calls.

PAC [pæk] (abbr of political action committee) n an organization, usually set up by business or labor unions in the USA, to raise funds to support a political campaign.

pace [peɪs] ◇ n -1. [of a runner, vehicle] the speed at which somebody or something moves; [of development, change] the speed at which something happens □ Christie had set a very fast pace. □ They walked at a slow pace. □ He drives at a snail's pace. □ I can hardly keep up with the pace of change in my own business. ■ at one's own pace [walk, work] at a speed or rate that one finds comfortable □ It's better to go at your own pace. □ Find your own pace and keep to it. ■ to keep pace [with changes, developments] to change, develop etc at the same rate as something else □ It is difficult to keep pace with pay increases in the private sector. ■ to keep pace with sb to move at the same speed as sb □ She walked so fast I could hardly keep pace with her. -2. a step used as a measure of distance □ Move back three paces.

◇ vt [room, corridor] to walk up and down in , usually quickly □ Brian paced the corridor nervously.

◇ vi: He was pacing up and down anxiously.

pacemaker ['peɪsmekə] n -1. MEDICINE an electronic device that is put into a person's body to help the heart beat normally. -2. GB SPORT = pacesetter.

pacesetter ['peɪsɪtət] n US a runner who takes the lead in a race and forces the other runners to go at a particular speed.

Pacific [pə'sɪfɪk] ◇ the Pacific (Ocean) the world's largest ocean, between America, Asia, and Australia. ◇ adj [island, coast] that is connected with the Pacific Ocean.

pacification [ˌpæsɪfɪ'keɪʃn] n: see pacify.

Pacific Northwest: the Pacific Northwest a region of the northwestern USA that includes Washington State, Oregon, and northern California.

Pacific Rim n the Pacific Rim the countries bordering on the Pacific Ocean, including the islands in the Pacific Ocean.

PACIFIC RIM

The term Pacific Rim usually refers to the most economically important countries that border the western side of the Pacific Ocean, e.g. China, Korea, Thailand, Taiwan, Australia, and Japan. However, the term sometimes includes countries on the eastern side of the Pacific such as Canada and the USA.

pacifier ['pæsəfaɪə] n US a specially shaped piece of rubber that is given to a baby to suck.

pacifism ['pæsəfɪzəm] n the belief that war and violence are always wrong and must be avoided.

pacifist ['pæsəfəst] n a person who believes in pacifism.

pacify ['pæsəfaɪ] (pt & pp pacified) vt -1. [person, crowd] to make <sb> calm □ a woman trying frantically to pacify her crying child. -2. [area, country] to bring peace to , usually by using violence □ Attempts to pacify the region have failed.

pack [pæk] ◇ n -1. [for a traveler] a large bag for belongings or goods carried on one's back □ They were carrying heavy packs. -2. [of cigarettes, cookies] a container made of paper or card in which goods are sold □ I bought a pack of gum. -3. [of playing cards] a complete set of playing cards □ He took the jokers out of the pack. -4. [of wolves, dogs] a group of animals that live and hunt together; [of children, thieves] a group of people who spend a lot of time together and who other people can find threatening □ Dogs hunt in packs. □ There's a pack of school kids who are always causing trouble. -5. SPORT the forwards in a rugby team. -6. phrase that's a pack of lies! that's completely untrue.

◇ vt -1. [bag, suitcase] to fill <sthg> with one's clothes, belongings etc, usually in order to take them with one on a trip; [clothes, toothbrush] to put <sthg> into a bag, suitcase etc for this reason □ I packed all of my belongings into a suitcase and prepared to leave. □ Don't forget to pack a waterproof jacket! -2. [goods, product] to put <sthg> into a container, box etc, so that it can be sent to stores, customers etc and sold □ The job consists of packing fruit into crates. -3. [hall, theater, stadium] to fill  with the result that no more people can go in □ They packed Carnegie Hall for their farewell concert. ■ to be packed into sthg to be crowded uncomfortably inside sthg □ There were seven people packed into one very small car.

◇ vi -1. to put one's belongings into a suitcase, trunk etc before going on a trip □ Call a taxi, it'll only take me a minute to pack. -2. to crowd into a building and fill it □ They all packed in to the back of the car.

◆ pack in (informal use) GB ◇ vt sep to pack sthg in [job, course, hobby] to stop doing sthg □ He's packed in his job and he's off to the States. ■ pack it in! stop doing that!; keep quiet!

◆ pack off vt sep to pack sb off to send sb away □ We packed the children off to their grandparents.

◆ pack up ◇ vt sep to pack sthg up [belongings, clothes, furniture] to put sthg into a container for a trip □ I packed everything up into boxes ready for the move. ◇ vi -1. [traveler] to pack for a trip □ She's just packing up and won't be long. -2. [worker] to finish work (informal use) □ What time do you pack up?

package ['pækɪdʒ] ◇ n -1. [of books, presents] an object or several objects wrapped up in paper, card etc □ I received a package in the mail. -2. US [of cigarettes, laundry detergent] a wrapper or container made of paper, card, or plastic in which goods are sold. -3. [of measures, proposals, reforms] a group of things that are presented together □ We have to accept or reject the whole package. □ The company offers an attractive benefits package. -4. COMPUTING a group of related computer programs. ◇ vt [product, goods] to put <sthg> into wrapping, a container etc to be sold.

package deal n an offer of a set of goods or services that can only be bought or accepted together.

package holiday n GB = package tour.

packager ['pækɪdʒə] n -1. [in a factory] a person or machine that packages goods. -2. BUSINESS a company that creates and sells things such as books or TV programs as finished products to larger companies.

package tour n a vacation in which a travel company plans one's travel and accommodations, and sometimes one's meals, as part of a group of tourists.

packaging ['pækɪdʒɪŋ] n the wrapping, containers etc in which goods are packaged; the process of packaging goods □ The goods were wrapped in brightly colored packaging. □ The packaging and delivery of goods.

packed [pækt] adj -1. [bar, theater, bus] full of people □ The streets were packed with people. □ The bar was absolutely packed last night. -2.

packed with sthg [with news, ideas] full of sthg □ a magazine packed with useful tips.

packed lunch n GB a lunch that is wrapped up or put in a box to be eaten when one is away from home or outdoors.

packet ['pækət] n -1. a box, bag, wrapper etc in which goods are sold; the amount of a product that is contained in this □ a packet of gum □ an empty chip packet □ He ate a whole packet of cookies. -2. a small package □ You should receive a small packet in the mail.

packhorse ['pækhɔ:s] n a horse used to carry goods on its back.

pack ice n a large area of floating ice formed from many smaller pieces that are pressed together.

packing ['pækɪŋ] n -1. paper, card, plastic etc that is put around objects inside containers such as boxes to protect them while they are being sent somewhere □ Don't throw away the packing, I might use it again. -2. the act of putting one's belongings into a suitcase before going on a trip □ I've finished my packing.

packing case n a large wooden box used to transport goods.

pack trip n US a trip through the countryside on horses.

pact [pækt] n a formal agreement between two people or countries □ They made a pact never to tell anyone what had happened. □ the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact.

pad [pæd] (vt & pp padded, cont padding) ◇ n -1. [of cotton wool, rubber] a thick, usually flat, piece of material used e.g. to protect a part of the body or absorb liquid □ a jacket with shoulder pads □ a shin pad. -2. [of paper] a pile of sheets of paper that are attached to each other so that each sheet can be removed when it has been written on □ a writing pad. -3. [of a person] the place where somebody lives (informal use) □ Have you been invited up to his pad yet? -4. [of an animal] one of the soft parts on the bottom of an animal's paw.

◇ vt -1. [knee, wound, sharp edge] to cover and protect <sthg> with soft material; [jacket, bra] to add extra material to , e.g. to make it more comfortable □ He padded the cut with cotton wool. -2. [essay, speech, letter] = pad out.

◇ vi [person, animal] to walk softly □ The lioness padded softly toward them.

◆ pad out vt sep -1. to pad a piece of clothing out to give shape or fullness to a piece of clothing using padding □ The dress was pad- ded out at the shoulders. -2. to pad a speech/piece of writing out to deliberately make a speech/piece of writing longer by including information that is not necessary □ He padded the report out with a lot of statistics.

padded ['pædəd] adj [shoulder, bra, seat] that contains extra material to make it bigger and more attractive or more comfortable □ a jacket with padded shoulders.

padded cell n a cell with walls lined with soft material to prevent violent psychiatric patients from injuring themselves.

padded envelope n an envelope whose sides contain material to make them thick and soft, used to protect something that one is mailing.

padding ['pædɪŋ] n -1. [in a jacket, seat] soft material that is put inside something to make it more comfortable □ Some of the padding had begun to come out. -2. [in an essay, speech, letter] words that do not give more information and are only included in something to make it longer □ Most of the second page is just padding.

paddle ['pædl] ◇ n -1. a short pole with a wide flat part at each end or at one of the ends, used to move a canoe or boat in water. -2. to have a paddle GB to walk or play in shallow water, especially at the seaside □ The children went for a paddle in the sea. ◇ vt to move  using a paddle. ◇ vi -1. to move a boat or canoe using a paddle □ We paddled out to the middle of the lake. -2. [duck, dog] to move through the water using its feet □ The ducks paddled furiously against the current. -3. GB [person, child] to have a paddle □ We went paddling in the pond.

paddle boat, paddle steamer n a ship driven by one or more large wheels fitted with broad flat blades.

paddling pool ['pædlɪŋ] n GB -1. a shallow pool, especially in a park, for children to paddle in. -2. a small inflatable container that can be filled with water for children to play in.

paddock ['pædək] n -1. [for a horse] a small field where horses are kept. -2. [at a racecourse] an area at a racecourse where spectators can see the horses walk around before a race and where the jockeys get on their horses. -3. AUS a field.

paddy field ['pædɪ-] n a field filled with water in which rice is grown.

paddy wagon n US a police vehicle used for carrying prisoners (informal use).

padlock ['pædlɒk] ◇ n a detachable lock with a U-shaped bar at the top that opens when the key is turned. ◇ vt [door, gate, box] to lock <sthg> with a padlock □ The bike was padlocked to the fence.

paederast ['pedərəst] n GB = pederast.

paediatric [,pi:di'ætrɪk] etc GB = pediatric etc.

paedophile ['pi:ðəfaɪl] n GB = pedophile.

paella [US pə:'elə, GB pə-] n a Spanish dish consisting of rice, chicken, seafood, and vegetables flavored with saffron.

paemony ['pi:əni] (pl paenies) n = peony.

pagan ['peɪɡən] ◇ adj [god, ritual, festival] that is connected with a religion that worships many gods and is older than the major religions of the present day. ◇ n a person with pagan beliefs.

paganism ['peɪɡənɪzəm] n pagan beliefs and practices.

page [peɪdʒ] ◇ n -1. [in a book, document, newspaper] one side of a sheet of paper □ Turn to page 33. □ Which page are you on? □ It's 40 pages long. □ The sports news is on the back page. □ It made front-page news. -2. [in a notepad, binder] a sheet of paper □ She tore a page out of the book and gave it to me. □ Some of the pages are stuck together. ◇ vt to call <sb> by using a messenger, public-address system, or pager □ I'll have to go, somebody's paging me.

pageant ['pædʒənt] n a show, often on a historical subject and performed outdoors, consisting of scenes and clothing which are impressive and colorful □ the annual school pageant.

pageantry ['pædʒəntrɪ] n impressive, colorful clothing, scenes etc that one sees at a pageant or royal ceremony.

page boy n -1. at a wedding, a boy who accompanies the bride. -2. a hairstyle in which all the hair is of a medium length and is curled under at the ends.

page break n the point in a document at which one page ends and the next begins.

pager ['peɪdʒə] n a portable radio device that makes a high-pitched noise to tell one that there is a message for one or that one must contact somebody □ a radio pager.

pagination [ˌpædʒəˈneɪʃn] n the order in which the pages of a book, document etc are numbered.

pagoda [pəˈɡoudə] n a kind of temple, especially in the Far East, that has more than one story and has roofs that curve up at the edges.

paid [peɪd] ◇ past tense & past participle of pay. ◇ adj [employment, work] for which a person gets wages, a salary etc; [worker] who gets wages, a salary etc □ Jim has finally got some paid work. □ How much paid vacation do you get a year? □ We don't have any paid staff. They're all volunteers. ■ badly/well paid [job] for which a small/large wage, salary etc is paid; [person] who gets a small/large wage, salary etc □ She's just got an extremely well-paid job. □ Nurses there were very badly paid.

paid-up adj a paid-up member a person who has paid the amount required to be a member of an organization.

pail [peɪl] n a bucket.

pain [peɪn] ◇ n -1. an unpleasant feeling in part of one's body that hurts, usually as a result of illness or injury □ I felt a sharp pain in my leg. □ The pain gets worse at night. ■ to be in pain to be feeling pain □ Are you in a lot of pain? -2. mental or emotional suffering □ The news will cause her great pain. -3. a pain (in the neck) a very annoying person, thing, or situation (informal use) □ It's such a pain in the neck having to drive all the way to your place first. ◇ vt it pains me I find it very difficult or upsetting □ It pains me to have to remind you of your duty. □ It pains me that nobody thought to let me know first.

◆ pains npl to be at pains to do sthg to be very careful to do sthg correctly □ He was at pains to point out the risks involved. ■ to take pains to do sthg to make a great effort to do sthg □ She took great pains to show me how everything worked. ■ to get sthg for one's pains to get sthg which is disappointing as a reward for something one has put a lot of effort into □ And what did I get for my pains? Nothing!

Paine [peɪn], Thomas (1737–1809) a British writer and revolutionary. He wrote a famous pamphlet called Common Sense, and had a strong influence on the American and French Revolutions.

pained [peɪnd] adj [expression, tone of voice] that shows one is upset or offended.

painful ['peɪnfl] adj -1. [back, throat] that hurts because of illness or injury □ How painful is it? -2. [injury, exercise] that makes one feel physical pain □ These new shoes are very painful. -3. [thought, memory] that makes one feel sad and upset □ I find it very painful to talk about that period of my life.

painfully ['peɪnflɪ] adv -1. [hit, fall] in a way that causes pain. -2. painfully shy/slow etc very shy/slow etc in a way that makes one feel frustrated □ It was painfully clear that their son had no talent whatsoever.

painkiller ['peɪnkɪlə] n a drug that reduces pain.

painless ['peɪnləs] adj -1. [operation, exercise] that causes no pain □ The injection was quite painless. -2. [method, decision] that does not involve too much effort or make one sad or upset □ The move to our new office was a relatively painless process.

painlessly ['peɪnləslɪ] adv: see painless. □ The lump can be removed painlessly in a simple operation.

painstaking ['peɪnzteɪkɪŋ] adj [worker, job] that takes a long time and pays very careful attention to detail □ They made a painstaking inventory of the contents of the house.

painstakingly ['peɪnzteɪkɪŋli] adv [work, copy, research] see painstaking.

paint [peɪnt] ◇ n -1. ART a colored liquid or paste that one puts onto a piece of paper or canvas, usually using a brush, to make a picture □ oil paint. -2. a colored liquid that one decorates and protects walls, doors etc with, usually using a brush or roller □ gloss paint □ a coat of paint.

◇ vt -1. ART [picture, portrait] to make <sthg> by putting paint onto paper or canvas; [person, landscape] to make a painting that shows <sb/sthg> □ She's had her portrait painted. □ John Constable painted views of the English countryside. -2. [wall, door, house] to decorate or protect <sthg> with paint □ The ceiling had been painted yellow. -3. to paint one's nails to put nail polish on one's nails.

◇ vi to put paint onto a surface □ I paint as a hobby. □ We're painting and papering in the hall.

paintbox ['peɪntbɒks] n a box that contains blocks of solid paint that are mixed with water and used for painting pictures.

paintbrush ['peɪntbrʌʃ] n a brush used for painting pictures, walls, doors etc.

painter ['peɪntə] n -1. ART a person who paints pictures. -2. a person whose job is to paint walls, doors etc.

painting ['peɪntɪŋ] n -1. a picture that has been painted □ a fine painting by Gainsborough. -2. the act or process of painting pictures □ He took up painting as a hobby. -3. the act or process of painting walls, doors etc □ I've been doing some painting and decorating lately to make a little extra cash.

paint stripper n a chemical substance used to remove paint from a wall, door etc.

paintwork ['peɪntwɜ:k] n the parts of a building or vehicle that have been painted.

pair [peə] n -1. [of shoes, gloves] two things of the same kind that are used together □ a pair of socks/skis/wings □ They cost $5 a pair. -2. [of trousers, scissors] an object that consists of two main parts that are similar and joined together □ a pair of pants/glasses. -3. [of people] two people who are doing something together, or who are in a relationship □ I often have my students work in pairs. □ a devoted pair □ We just stood there like a pair of idiots.

◆ pair off ◇ vt sep to pair people off [teacher, coach] to divide a group of people into pairs; [friend] to encourage two people to start a romantic relationship □ Each boy was paired off with a girl. □ He tried to pair me off with his sister. ◇ vi [team members, couples] Toward the end of the party people began to pair off.

paisley ['peɪzli] n paisley (pattern) a pattern of small curving shapes, usually printed in bright colors □ a paisley tie/skirt.

pajama [US pə'dʒæmə, GB -'dʒɑ:m-] comp US pajama top/bottoms the top/bottom part of a pair of pajamas.

pajamas [US pə'dʒæməz, GB -'dʒɑ:m-] npl US a set of loose soft clothes worn in bed that consists of a pair of trousers and a top.

Pakistan [US 'pækɪstæn, GB ,pɑ:kɪ'stɑ:n] a country in southern Asia, on the Arabian Sea, between India and Iran. SIZE: 803,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 122,400,000 (Pakistanis). CAPITAL: Islamabad. LANGUAGE: English, Urdu. CURRENCY: Pakistani rupee.

Pakistani [US ,pækɪ'stæni, GB ,pɑ:kɪ'stɑ:nɪ] n & adj: see Pakistan.

pal [pæl] n -1. a friend (informal use). -2. a word used to address somebody one does not know, especially when one is being unfriendly (informal use) □ Listen, pal, I was here first.

PAL [pæl] (abbr of phase alternation line) n a system for broadcasting color television picture that is used in many European countries.

palace ['pæləs] n a very large and richly decorated house, often the home of a head of state.

palaeontology n GB = paleontology.

palatable ['pælətəbl] adj -1. [food, drink] that has a pleasant taste □ a very palatable wine. -2. [idea, suggestion] that one finds acceptable □ Do you find Jefferson's proposals palatable?

palate ['pælət] n -1. the top part of the inside of one's mouth. -2. one's ability to judge the quality of food and drink by tasting it □ a refined palate.

palatial [pə'leɪʃl] adj [house, hotel] that is very large and expensively decorated.

palaver [pə'lɑ:və] n something that is not important but involves a lot of effort and inconvenience (informal use) □ It was such a palaver filling out all those forms!

pale [peɪl] ◇ adj -1. [color, light] that is not strong or bright; [paint, skin] that is of a light color □ She wore a pale blue dress. □ I looked up at the pale sky. -2. [person] whose face has less color than usual because they are ill, shocked, or afraid □ You're looking very pale. ◇ vi -1. [person] to become pale □ He paled when he saw the corpse. -2. to pale into insignificance [problem, worry] to appear less important when compared with something else □ My troubles pale into insignificance beside hers.

pale ale n GB a light beer sold in bottles.

paleness ['peɪlnəs] n: see pale.

paleontology US, palaeontology GB [ˌpeɪlɪɒn-'tɒlədʒɪ] n the scientific study of fossils and extinct animals and plants.

Palestine ['pæləstain] an area of the Middle East, covering parts of modern Israel and Jordan, that is important in the history of the Christian, Jewish, and Muslim religions.

Palestinian [ˌpælə'stɪniən] n & adj: see Palestine.

palette ['pælət] n -1. a board, usually with curved edges and a hole for the thumb, used by an artist to mix colors on. -2. the different colors used by a particular artist or style of painting □ Renoir's palette is dominated by pastel colors.

palette knife n a knife with a flexible blade and a rounded tip that is used for mixing paints on a palette, painting with oil paints, or spreading frostings, cake mixtures etc in cooking.

palimony [US 'pæləməʊni, GB -ɪməni] n money that a court orders somebody to pay to a partner they used to live with but are now separated from.

palindrome ['pælɪndroʊm] n a word or phrase that is spelled the same when it is read backward or forward, e.g. "level".

palings ['peɪlɪŋz] npl a fence made of long thin pieces of wood that are pointed on top.

pall [pɔ:l] ◇ n -1. a low cloud of smoke that hangs over something. -2. a cloth put over a coffin at a funeral. ◇ vi [humor, interest] to become less attractive or interesting, usually because one has had enough of it □ Her interest began to pall once she realized I was not rich.

- palbearer ['pɔ:lbeərə] n a person who helps to carry a coffin at a funeral.
- pallet ['pælət] n a low wooden platform for storing goods on that can be moved using a fork-lift truck.
- palliative ['pæliətɪv] n MEDICINE a drug or treatment that reduces the effects of an illness without treating the cause (technical use) □ palliative care.
- pallid ['pæləd] adj [face, person] that is pale (literary use).
- pallor ['pælə] n [of a face, person] the state of being pale □ the deathly pallor of his skin.
- palm [pɑ:m] n -1. the inside surface of a one's hand between the fingers and the wrist. -2. = palm tree.
- ◆ palm off vt sep to palm sth off on sb to give or sell sth that is not worth having to sb □ He tried to palm off his old computer on me. ■ to palm sb off with sthg [with an excuse, lie] to tell sb sthg that is not true in order to stop them from asking any more questions □ He palmed them off with some story about his cousin having lent it to him. ■ to palm sthg off as sthg to persuade somebody that sthg is sthg that it is not □ He made copies and then palmed them off as originals.
- palmistry ['pɑ:məstri] n the practice of predicting somebody's future by looking at the lines in the palms of their hands.
- palm oil n an oil made from the nut of an African palm that is used in cooking and to make soap.
- Palm Sunday n a Christian religious festival that takes place on the Sunday before Easter.
- palmtop ['pɑ:mtɒp] n an electronic device such as a computer that is small enough to be held in the palm of one's hand.
- palm tree n one of several types of tree that grow in hot countries, have no branches, and have long pointed leaves at the top.
- palomino [ˌpælə'mi:nou] (pl palominos) n a golden or cream-colored horse with a white mane and tail.
- palpable ['pælpəbl] adj [lie, nervousness, ill-feeling] that is very obvious □ There was a palpable sense of hostility in the room.
- palpably ['pælpəbli] adv palpably untrue/nervous etc untrue/nervous etc in a very obvious way.
- palpitate ['pælpəteɪt] vi [heart] to beat very quickly and irregularly.
- palpitations [ˌpælpə'teɪʃnz] npl a medical condition in which one's heart beats fast in an irregular way.
- palsy ['pɔ:lzi] n one of several types of illness that result in paralysis.
- paltry ['pɔ:ltri] (compar paltrier, superl paltriest) adj [wage, amount] so small that it is almost worthless □ You're surely not going to go to court for such a paltry sum?
- pampas ['pæmpəs] n the pampas the large areas of plains in South America.
- pampas grass n a type of grass with long sharp leaves and soft, feathery, cream-colored flowers.
- pamper ['pæmpə] vt to treat  more kindly and gently than is necessary □ Mother always liked to pamper Jamie when he was sick. □ I've decided to pamper myself and get a facial.
- pamphlet ['pæmflet] ◇ n a thin book that has a paper cover and usually gives information about a product or service. ◇ vi to give out pamphlets.
- pamphleteer [ˌpæmfle'tiə] n a person who writes political pamphlets.
- pan [pæn] (vt & pp panned, cont panning) ◇ n -1. a round metal container, often with a long handle, that is used for cooking food on a stove; the contents of this container □ Put the vegetables in a pan of boiling water. -2. US a metal container used for cooking bread, cakes etc inside an oven. ◇ vi to criticize  etc very severely □ When the show got to Broadway, it was panned by the critics. ◇ vi -1. to pan for gold to look for gold by sifting the stones from a riverbed. -2. [camera] to move smoothly from one side of a scene to the other, filming everything in between □ The camera then pans left.
- panacea [ˌpænə'si:ə] n something that people think will solve all problems or cure all illnesses.
- panache [pə'næʃ] n confidence and style □ She delivered the speech with great panache.
- panama ['pænəmu:] n a panama (hat) a straw hat for men with a round top and a wide brim.
- Panama ['pænəmu:] a country in Central America, between Costa Rica and Colombia. It is an important center for banking and shipping. SIZE: 77,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,500,000 (Panamanians). CAPITAL: Panama City. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: balboa.
- Panama Canal: the Panama Canal a canal through Panama, connecting the Atlantic Ocean and Pacific Ocean.
- Panamanian [ˌpænə'meɪnjən] n & adj: see Panama.
- pan-American adj [debate, organization] that is connected with or includes all of North and South America.
- pancake ['pæŋkeɪk] n a thin round cake made from a mixture of flour, eggs, and milk that is fried in a frying pan. In the USA, pancakes are traditionally eaten for breakfast and are smaller and thicker than in Britain, where they are eaten as a dessert.
- Pancake Day, Pancake Tuesay n in Britain, the day before the beginning of Lent when people traditionally eat pancakes.
- pancreas ['pæŋkriəs] n an organ near the stomach that produces insulin and a liquid that helps to digest food.
- panda ['pændə] (pl panda OR pandas) n a large black and white animal like a bear that lives in the bamboo forests in China.

Panda car n a small police car in Britain, used to patrol the streets.

pandemonium [ˌpændəˈmɔːniəm] n a state of noisy confusion.

pander [ˈpændə] vi to pander to sb to do everything possible to please sb in a way that other people think is unnecessary or unacceptable □ He's just pandering to their wishes.

pane [peɪn] n a flat piece of glass in a window or door.

panel [ˈpænl] n -1. [of experts, judges, interviewers] a small group of people chosen to discuss something and make a decision about it; [on TV] a small group of famous people chosen to answer questions on a TV show □ I was interviewed by a panel of six lawyers. □ What does the panel think? -2. [on a door, wall] a flat, usually rectangular piece of wood, glass, metal etc that forms part of a larger object □ an oak/a metal panel. -3. [of a machine, vehicle] a section of a machine or vehicle that contains the switches and instruments □ a control panel.

panel game n GB a television program in which a panel has to answer questions for fun.

paneling US, panelling GB [ˈpænlɪŋ] n panels of wood that cover a wall inside a building.

panelist US, panellist GB [ˈpænlɪst] n a person who is a member of a panel.

panel pin n GB a short thin nail with a small head that is used in woodwork.

panel van n AUS a small van with doors at the back, used for carrying goods, tools etc.

pang [pæŋ] n [of pain, guilt] a sudden sharp feeling, usually of an emotion □ hunger pangs □ Didn't you feel a pang of jealousy when you saw them together?

panic [ˈpænik] (pt & pp panicked, cont panicking) ◇ n a strong feeling of fear and worry that stops one from acting in a controlled way or thinking clearly □ The news caused widespread panic. □ She was in a panic. □ a panic on the stock exchange. ◇ vi to feel panic □ Don't panic!

panicky [ˈpænikɪ] adj [person, feeling, behavior] that shows panic.

panic-stricken adj [person] who feels panic.

Pankhurst [ˈpæŋkɜːst], Emmeline (1858–1928) a leading member of the British suffragettes, who demanded women's right to vote.

pannier [ˈpæniə] n a basket or bag attached to the side of a bicycle, motorcycle, or horse.

panoply [ˈpænəpli] n an impressive collection of things or people (formal use).

panorama [US ˌpænəˈræmə, GB ˈrɑːm-] n a view over a long distance or a wide area of land.

panoramic [ˌpænəˈræmɪk] adj [view, screen] that is wide and allows one to see a large area.

pansy [ˈpænzɪ] (pl pansies) n -1. a small garden plant that has large rounded petals of many colors. -2. a man who behaves in a way that is considered to be like a woman (disapproving use).

pant [pænt] vi to take quick short breaths through the mouth, usually after very tiring physical exercise □ The dog sat panting heavily after his walk.

◆ pants npl -1. US a piece of clothing that covers the body from the waist to the ankle and has a separate part for each leg. -2. GB = underpants.

panther [ˈpæntə] (pl panther OR panthers) n a large wild cat that is usually black.

panties [ˈpæntɪz] npl underpants for women or girls.

pantihose [ˈpæntɪhoʊz] npl = panty hose.

pantomime [ˈpæntəmɪm] n in Britain, a musical comedy for children that is usually based on a fairy tale and performed in theaters during the period around Christmas.

pantry [ˈpæntri] (pl pantries) n a small room or large cupboard in a house, usually near the kitchen, for storing food in.

pantsuit [ˈpæntsɪt] n US a suit for a woman consisting of a jacket and a pair of trousers.

panty hose [ˈpæntɪ-] npl US a piece of clothing worn by women, usually made of very fine nylon material, that covers the legs from the waist to the toes and fits close to the skin.

papa [US ˈpɑːpə, GB pəˈpɑː] n US a word used to refer to or address one's father (informal use).

papacy [ˈpeɪpəsi] (pl papacies) n -1. a period of time when a particular person is Pope. -2. the papacy the position and power of the Pope.

papadum [ˈpæpədəm] n a very thin round bread that is crunchy and is eaten with Indian food.

papal [ˈpeɪpl] adj [election, visit, decree] that is connected with the Pope.

paparazzi [US ˌpɑːpəˈrɑːtsɪ, GB ˌpæpəˈrætsɪ] npl newspaper reporters and photographers who follow famous people around to get stories or photographs (disapproving use).

papaya [pəˈpaɪə] n a large tropical fruit with green skin and sweet yellow flesh.

paper [ˈpeɪpə] ◇ n -1. [for writing on] a material in the form of thin flat strips that is used for writing on, wrapping things in etc □ a piece/sheet of paper □ lined/squared paper □ Do you have any typing paper? ■ on paper in writing; in theory □ I put one or two ideas down on paper. □ On paper they should win. -2. [for news] a newspaper □ I buy the paper every day. -3. GB [in an exam] a sheet of paper with exam questions written on it □ Most of us sat the history/math paper. □ an exam paper. -4. EDUCATION an essay written by a student. -5. [on a particular subject] a piece of writing or a talk on a particular subject □ Dr Ryan is giving a paper on genetic engineering at the Hamburg conference.

◇ adj -1. [hat, cup] that is made of paper. -2. [profit, agreement, qualification] that exists on paper, but has no real value or use.

◇ vt to cover  etc with wallpaper □ The hall was papered in green.

- ◆ papers npl -1. a person's official documents, e.g. their passport, visa, or identity card □ The policeman asked to see our papers. -2. a collection of documents relating to a particular subject □ The BCCI papers are still classified.
- ◆ paper over vt fus to paper over sthg [over a problem, disagreement] to try to hide sthg and give the impression that things are going well □ After the disagreement both sides tried to paper over the cracks in the alliance.
- paperback ['peɪpə'bæk] ◇ adj [book, edition, copy] that has a paper or soft cardboard cover which usually makes it cheaper than a similar product with a hard cover. ◇ n a paperback book □ Has it come out in paperback yet?
- NOTE: Compare hardback.
- paper bag n a bag made of paper.
- paperboy ['peɪpə'bɔɪ] n a boy who delivers newspapers to people's homes.
- paper clip n a small piece of curved wire used for holding sheets of paper together.
- paper cutter n US a device consisting of a long blade attached to a lever, used for cutting paper.
- papergirl ['peɪpə'gɜ:l] n a girl who delivers newspapers to people's homes.
- paper handkerchief n a handkerchief made of tissue paper.
- paper knife n a knife that is not very sharp and is used for opening envelopes.
- paper mill n a factory where paper is made.
- paper money n money that is made of paper and is usually worth more than coins.
- paper shop n GB a shop that sells newspapers.
- paperweight ['peɪpə'weɪt] n a heavy object that one puts on loose papers to prevent them from blowing away.
- paperwork ['peɪpə'wɜ:k] n work that involves writing reports, lists, letters etc.
- papier-mâché [US 'peɪpə'mʃeɪ, GB 'pæpjɛ-'mæʃeɪ] n a substance made of pieces of paper mixed with water and glue that is used to make models or ornaments □ a papier-mâché box/model.
- papist ['peɪpəst] n a member of the Catholic Church (disapproving use).
- paprika [pə'prɪ:kə] n a powder made from red peppers that is used for giving a slightly hot flavor to food.
- Pap smear ['pæp-] n US an examination of cells taken from a woman's cervix in order to discover if there is cancer there.
- Papua New Guinea [ˌpæpʊə-] a country in the Pacific Ocean, consisting of the eastern part of New Guinea and several neighboring islands. SIZE: 463,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,900,000 (Papua New Guineans). CAPITAL: Port Moresby. LANGUAGE: pidgin English. CURRENCY: kina.
- papyrus [pə'paɪrəs] n a tall plant that looks like grass and grows in or near water in North Africa; paper made from this plant that was used in ancient Egypt and Greece for writing on.
- par [pɑ:] n -1. to be on a par with sb/sthg to be as good as sb/sthg else □ You can't put him on a par with Mozart! -2. SPORT the number of strokes a golf player is supposed to take to hit the ball into the holes on a particular course □ The course is par 72. □ a par 4 hole. ■ to be under/over par to take less/more than the par on a particular hole or golf course. -3. to be below OR under par to be slightly ill □ She's been feeling a little below par recently.
- parable ['pærəbl] n a simple short story that teaches a moral or religious lesson.
- parabola [pə'ræbələ] n a curve shaped like the line followed by something that is thrown into the air and then falls to the ground.
- paracetamol [ˌpærə'sɪ:təməʊl] n GB a mild drug that is used to reduce pain; a pill containing this drug.
- parachute [US 'perəʃu:t, GB 'pær-] ◇ n a large piece of nylon or silk that is attached by strings to a person or object dropped from an aircraft to make them fall more slowly and land safely. ◇ vi [person] to jump from an aircraft using a parachute.
- parade [pə'reɪd] ◇ n -1. a public event in which people or vehicles move along a road, through a town etc, often with music playing, to celebrate a special event □ a street parade. -2. MILITARY an occasion when soldiers march or stand together in front of superior officers or in public as part of a ceremony □ a victory parade. ■ to be on parade [soldiers] to be standing or marching in a parade. -3. GB [of shops] a street that has a row of shops. ◇ vt -1. [soldiers, criminals] to make  march through the streets in front of people □ The hostages were paraded through the village. -2. [statue, prize, medal] to show <sthg> to the public with pride □ Schumacher paraded the trophy round the track. -3. [knowledge, possessions] to show <sthg> to other people in a way that is intended to get their attention □ I don't know why he has to parade his feelings for everyone to see. ◇ vi [soldiers, band] to take part in a parade □ The team paraded through the town.
- parade ground n an area of ground where soldiers parade.
- paradigm [US 'perədəɪm, GB 'pær-] n a clear example that explains how something works (formal use).
- paradigmatic [US 'perədɪg'mætɪk, GB 'pær-] adj [example, case] that is a paradigm.
- paradise [US 'perədəɪs, GB 'pær-] n a wonderful place, condition, or feeling □ It's simply paradise not to have to go to work.
- ◆ Paradise n according to some religions, the place where people go after they die if they have been good.
- paradox [US 'perədɒks, GB 'pær-] n -1. a situation in which two opposing facts which cannot normally both be true at the same time occur together □ The paradox is that the rich are the least willing to take part. -2. a statement that says two opposite things at the same time □ "Defeat in victory" is a paradox.

paradoxical [US ,perə'dɒksɪkl, GB ,pær-] adj [situation, statement] see paradox.

paradoxically [US ,perə'dɒksɪkli, GB ,pær-] adv a word used to show that one is going to talk about a paradoxical situation □ Paradoxically, the harder I work, the less tired I feel.

paraffin [US 'perəfɪn, GB 'pær-] n -1. US = paraffin wax. -2. GB a clear liquid made from petroleum and used as fuel in lamps and heaters.

paraffin wax n a soft white wax made from petroleum and coal that is used for making candles.

paragon [US 'perəɡɔ:n, GB 'pærəɡɔ:n] n a person who is a perfect example of a quality □ He's not exactly a paragon of virtue.

paragraph [US 'perəɡræf, GB 'pærəɡrɑ:f] n a section of a piece of writing that contains one or more sentences, starts on a new line, and usually deals with one subject, idea etc.

Paraguay [US 'perəɡweɪ, GB 'pærəɡwaɪ] a country in central South America, between Brazil, Bolivia, and Argentina. SIZE: 407,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,200,000 (Paraguayans). CAPITAL: Asunción. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: guarani.

parakeet [US 'perəki:t, GB 'pær-] n a small parrot with a long tail.

paralegal [US ,perə'li:ɡl, GB ,pær-] n US a person who is trained to help a lawyer.

parallel [US 'perəleɪ, GB 'pær-] (US pt & pp paralleled, cont paralleling, GB pt & pp paralleled, cont paralleling) ◇ adj -1. [lines, roads] that run in the same direction and are always the same distance apart □ There is a ditch parallel to OR with the fence. -2. [process, event] that is similar to something else or takes place at the same time □ A parallel investigation was mounted within the company itself.

◇ n -1. a parallel line or surface. -2. a similar person or thing from a different situation or time □ a tradition which has no parallel in our own culture. -3. a similarity □ There are obvious parallels between the two cases. ■ to draw a parallel with sthg to show that there is a similarity with sthg □ His appreciation of Picasso draws interesting parallels with works by earlier painters. -4. GEOGRAPHY a particular line on a map that is parallel to the equator □ the 49th parallel.

◇ vt to be similar to or happen at the same time as <sb/sthg> □ Environmental pollution parallels the decline in the country's economy.

parallel bars npl two bars that are fixed on poles, sometimes at different heights, for gymnastic exercises.

parallel processing n a system in which a computer is used to carry out a number of operations all at the same time rather than one after the other.

paralyse etc GB = paralyze etc.

paralysis [pə'ræləsəs] (pl paralyses [-əsi:z]) n a state of being paralyzed □ He appeared to be suffering from a kind of emotional paralysis.

paralytic [US ,perə'litɪk, GB ,pær-] MEDICINE ◇ adj [person] whose body is completely or partly paralyzed. ◇ n a person whose body is completely or partly paralyzed.

paralyze ['perəlaɪz] US, paralyse ['pærəlaɪz] GB vt -1. [person, leg, arm] to cause <sb/sthg> to be unable to feel anything and to be unable to move □ He was paralyzed from the neck down. -2. [organization, government] to stop <sthg> from working properly □ Commuter services were paralyzed by the severe weather conditions this morning.

paralyzed ['perəlaɪzd] US, paralysed ['pærəlaɪzd] GB adj -1. [person, leg] that is unable to move as the result of an accident or illness □ There's a chance that she may be paralyzed in both legs. -2. [organization, government] that is not able to work properly □ Power cuts left the city paralyzed for hours.

paramedic [US ,perə'medɪk, GB ,pær-] n a person such as an ambulance driver whose job is to help in emergency medical work but who is not a doctor or a nurse.

paramedical [US ,perə'medɪkl, GB ,pær-] adj [services, training] connected with helping doctors or nurses.

parameter [pə'ræmətəʃ] n a limit or guideline that affects the way something can be done □ There are rules which establish the parameters within which we are able to operate.

paramilitary [US ,perə'mɪlətəri, GB ,pærə'mɪlətəri] adj [group, organization] that is organized like an army, fights against a government, and is illegal □ a paramilitary attack.

paramount [US 'perəmaʊnt, GB 'pær-] adj that is more important than everything else □ Finding a peaceful solution is of paramount importance. □ When climbing, safety is paramount.

paranoia [US ,perə'nɔɪə, GB ,pær-] n a mental disease that makes somebody believe that they are very important and famous or that other people hate them and want to harm them.

paranoiac [US ,perə'nɔɪæk, GB ,pær-] ◇ n a person who is suffering from paranoia. ◇ adj: paranoiac disease/behavior.

paranoid [US 'perə'nɔɪd, GB 'pær-] adj -1. [person] who is very suspicious and distrusts other people □ Nick is completely paranoid about what other people think of him. -2. PSYCHOLOGY [person] who suffers from paranoia □ a paranoid schizophrenic.

paranormal [US ,perə'nɔ:ɪml, GB ,pærə'nɔ:ɪml] adj [phenomenon, event] that cannot be explained by science.

parapet [US 'perəpət, GB 'pær-] n a low wall along the edge of a balcony, roof, or bridge.

paraphernalia [US ,perəfər'neɪliə, GB ,pærəfə'neɪliə] n a large number of small personal objects or pieces of equipment connected with a particular activity □ She had all her sewing paraphernalia spread across the table.

paraphrase [US 'perəfreɪz, GB 'pær-] ◇ vt [answer, words, theory] to say <sthg> that has already been said or written in a different way, so that it is shorter or easier to under-

- stand □ To paraphrase Lewis, imperialism is simply nationalism on a large scale. ◇ vi: I'm paraphrasing from what he actually wrote. ◇ n something that paraphrases something else.
- paraplegia [US ˌpərəˈpli:dʒə, GB ˌpær-] n a medical condition in which one cannot move the lower half of one's body.
- paraplegic [US ˌpərəˈpli:dʒɪk, GB ˌpær-] ◇ n a person who suffers from paraplegia. ◇ adj: a paraplegic man/woman.
- parapsychology [US ˌpərəsaɪˈkɒlədʒɪ, GB ˌpær-] n the study of mental powers, such as the ability to say what is going to happen in the future, that cannot be explained by ordinary science.
- ParaquatTM [US ˈperəkʊt, GB ˈpær-] n a poison used for killing weeds.
- parasite [US ˈpərəsaɪt, GB ˈpær-] n -1. ZOOLOGY a plant or animal that lives in or on another plant or animal and gets its food from it. -2. a person who does nothing to support themselves but instead gets money, food etc from other people or from the state (disapproving use) □ He's a parasite on society.
- parasitic [US ˌpərəˈsɪtɪk, GB ˌpær-] adj -1. [plant, animal] that is a parasite; [disease] that is caused by a parasite. -2. [person] who is a parasite on other people (disapproving use).
- parasol [US ˈpərəsɒl, GB ˈpær-] n a kind of umbrella for protection from the sun.
- paratrooper [US ˈperətru:pər, GB ˈpærətru:pə] n a soldier who is trained to be dropped from an aircraft using a parachute.
- parboil [ˈpɑːbɔɪl] vt [meat, vegetables] to boil <food> until it is partly cooked.
- parcel [ˈpɑːsl] (US pt & pp parceled, cont parceling, GB pt & pp parcelled, cont parcelling) n an object that has been wrapped in paper so that it can be easily carried or mailed □ a parcel of books.
- ◆ parcel up vt sep to parcel sthg up [clothes, books] to wrap sthg together in paper to make a parcel.
- parcel post n the system for sending parcels by mail □ We sent it by parcel post.
- parched [pɑːtʃt] adj -1. [land, plain] that is completely dry because it is very hot and there has been no rain; [throat, mouth] that feels very dry □ The parched soil is in desperate need of rain. -2. to be parched [person] to be very thirsty (informal use) □ I'm parched!
- ParcheesiTM [pɑːtʃi:zi] n a simple game played on a board with a dice and flat pieces of plastic.
- parchment [ˈpɑːtʃmənt] n a material made from the skin of sheep or goats that was used for writing on in the past.
- pardon [ˈpɑːdn] ◇ n -1. LAW official permission given to a prisoner or criminal that allows them to be free and not to be punished □ He received an official pardon for his crimes. -2. forgiveness. ■ I beg your pardon? a phrase used to show that one is surprised or offended by what somebody has just said; a phrase used to ask somebody to repeat something that one did not hear or under-
- stand □ I beg your pardon? Did you just say what I think you said? □ I beg your pardon? I didn't quite catch that. ■ I beg your pardon! a phrase used to apologize for something one has said or done (formal use) □ I beg your pardon, I didn't mean to intrude.
- ◇ vt -1. to excuse or forgive <sb> for something that is not important or serious □ Pardon me for asking, but how old are you? ■ pardon me! a phrase used to apologize for something one has just said or done. ■ pardon (me)? a word used when one wants somebody to repeat what they have just said. -2. LAW [criminal, prisoner] to give an official pardon to <sb>.
- pardonable [ˈpɑːdnəbl] adj [mistake, behavior] that can be forgiven or excused because it is understandable.
- pare [peə] vt [apple, stick, nail] to remove the skin or outside part of <sthg> by cutting it.
- ◆ pare down vt sep -1. to pare sthg down [fingernail, stick] to make sthg smaller by gradually paring it. -2. [budget, staff] to reduce sthg gradually in size or amount.
- parent [ˈpeərənt] n one's mother or father □ Both my parents live abroad. □ One of his parents is Greek.
- parentage [ˈpeərəntɪdʒ] n the fact of being the child of parents from a particular country or social group □ a child of unknown/mixed parentage.
- parental [pəˈrentl] adj [love, responsibility, guidance] that is connected with one's parents □ Children need parental consent to participate.
- parent company n a company that owns one or more other companies.
- parenthesis [pəˈrenθəsɪs] (pl parentheses [-əsi:z]) n one of a pair of marks () or [] placed before and after a word or phrase to show that it is additional information and is not essential to the main idea □ That part should be in parentheses.
- parenthetical [pəˈrɛnθətɪkl] adj [remark, explanation] that is not essential to the main subject being discussed, but is given as additional information.
- parenthood [ˈpeərənthud] n the state of being a parent □ Do you think you're ready for the trials of parenthood?
- parenting [ˈpeərəntɪŋ] n the activity of taking care of and bringing up a child □ good parenting.
- parent-teacher association n an organization consisting of teachers and parents who discuss matters connected with the children in a school.
- par excellence [US ˌpɑːrɛksələːns, GB ˌpɑːrɛksələːns] adj that is the best of its kind □ a blues singer par excellence.
- pariah [pəˈraɪə] n a person or country that other people or countries dislike and refuse to become involved with (disapproving use) □ a pariah state.
- Paris [US ˈpərəs, GB ˈpær-] the capital of France, and its largest city. POPULATION: 2,152,423.

- parish [US 'perɪʃ, GB 'pær-] n -1. an area that has a church and which a priest in that church is responsible for. -2. in the USA, a county in the state of Louisiana. -3. in Britain, the smallest unit of local government in the countryside.
- parish council n in Britain, the group of people that runs a parish.
- parishioner [pə'riʃnə] n a person who lives in the parish of a particular church.
- parish priest n the priest in charge of a parish.
- Parisian [US pə'ri:ʒn, GB -'ri:ʒən] n & adj: see Paris.
- parity [US 'perəti, GB 'pær-] n the state of being equal in status, value etc □ Women still have to fight for economic parity with men. □ There should be parity between the two groups.
- park [pɑ:'k] ◇ n -1. a large area of land, especially in a town, where grass, trees, and flowers grow and where the public can go to enjoy themselves □ Children were playing in the park. □ Let's go to the park. □ a park bench. -2. US AUTO the gear position in an automatic car that is used when the car is not moving □ Leave the car in park. -3. GB [around a house] an area of land with grass and trees around a large country house. ◇ vt [car, bus, bicycle] to put  in a particular place and leave it there for a period of time □ I'm sure it was parked here. ◇ vi: You can't park there! □ As usual, there's nowhere to park.
- parka [pɑ:'kə] n a short coat that has a hood which usually has fur inside it.
- parking ['pɑ:'kiŋ] n -1. the act of parking a vehicle □ I find parking very difficult. □ I couldn't get a parking space. ■ 'No parking' a phrase usually written on a sign to show that vehicles should not be parked in a particular place. -2. space where vehicles can be parked and left for a period of time □ There's parking for 200 cars behind the supermarket.
- parking brake n US a brake in a car, truck etc that is worked with the hand.
- parking garage n US a building, or a level in a building, where cars can be left.
- parking light n US one of the two small lights near the sides at the front of a vehicle.
- parking lot n an open area where people can leave their cars.
- parking meter n a device at the side of a road that one puts money into to be allowed to park next to it for a period of time.
- parking ticket n a piece of paper that an official places on somebody's vehicle if they have parked it illegally and which tells them to pay a fine □ I got a parking ticket.
- Parkinson's disease ['pɑ:'kiŋsənz-] n a disease, especially affecting old people, that makes one's arms and legs shake.
- park keeper n GB a person whose job is to take care of a park.
- parkland ['pɑ:'klænd] n an area of land with grass and trees, often surrounding a large country house □ The house is set in 10 acres of parkland.
- parkway ['pɑ:'kwei] n US a wide road that has grass and trees along the center of it or beside it.
- parlance ['pɑ:'lɑ:ns] n in legal/medical etc parlance in words that people working in law/medicine etc would use.
- parliament ['pɑ:'lɒmənt] n -1. the group of people who are elected to make the laws of a country □ the Norwegian parliament. -2. in Britain, the institution made up of the King or Queen, the House of Lords, and the House of Commons, which is responsible for making laws □ the Houses of Parliament. -3. the period during which a parliament exists between elections or vacations □ the acts that were introduced in the last parliament.
- parliamentarian [pɑ:'lɒməntə'ri:ən] n a member of a parliament, especially one who is very skilled or experienced.
- parliamentary [pɑ:'lɒməntəri] adj [candidate, work] see parliament.
- parliamentary private secretary n a member of the British parliament, usually a backbencher, who acts as a minister's assistant.
- Parliament House the building where the Australian parliament sits, in Canberra.
- parlor US, parlour GB ['pɑ:'lɔ:] n a sitting room (old-fashioned use).
- parlor game n a game that people play indoors, especially one in which they have to guess the answer to a question.
- parlous ['pɑ:'ləs] adj a parlous state a very bad or dangerous state (formal use) □ the parlous state of our movie industry.
- Parmesan [US 'pɑ:rməzɑ:n, GB ,pɑ:mi'zæn] n Parmesan (cheese) a hard dry cheese from Italy that is usually grated and served with pasta, soups etc.
- Parnell [pɑ:'nel], Charles Stewart (1846–1891) an Irish politician who was in favor of Irish independence.
- parochial [pə'roukiəl] adj [person] who is only interested in local affairs that affect them directly and does not want to know about other areas, countries etc (disapproving use) □ Their attitude is so parochial.
- parochial school n in the USA, a private school that is run by a religious group and provides elementary and secondary education.
- parody [US 'perədi, GB 'pær-] (pl parodies, pt & pp parodied) ◇ n -1. a type of writing, music, or performance that copies the style of a famous author, composer etc in an amusing way; a piece of this type of writing, music, performance etc □ He uses parody to ridicule his enemies. -2. something that has been done so badly that it seems deliberate □ a parody of justice. ◇ vt [politician, politics] to copy <sb/sthg> by making a parody of them.
- parole [pə'roul] ◇ n permission to leave prison that is given to some prisoners before their sentence has ended, on the condition that they do not break the law again. ■ on parole released from prison early on the condition that one does not break the law again □ Thorpe was released on parole. □ He was out on parole at the time of the incident. ◇ vt to release  on parole.

paroxysm [US 'perəksɪzəm, GB 'pær-] n a paroxysm of rage/coughing etc a sudden period of rage/coughing etc that one cannot stop or control □ They fell about in paroxysms of laughter.

parquet [US pɑ:r'keɪ, GB 'pɑ:keɪ] n a floor surface consisting of small rectangular blocks of wood that are fitted together in a pattern □ a parquet floor.

parrot [US 'perət, GB 'pær-] n a tropical bird with a curved beak and brightly-colored feathers that is sometimes kept as a pet and can repeat phrases to sound as if it can talk.

parrot fashion adv [repeat, learn] in a way that shows one has learned all the words of something but has not understood it (disapproving use) □ It's no good just reeling it off parrot fashion.

parry [US 'perɪ, GB 'pærɪ] (pt & pp parried) vt -1. [blow, attack] to push aside or block <sthg> in order to defend oneself. -2. [question, criticism] to avoid dealing with <sthg> directly by saying something clever.

parsimonious [ˌpɑ:ˈsɪmənjəs] adj [person] who dislikes spending money (formal and disapproving use).

parsley ['pɑ:ˈsli] n a small plant with curly leaves and a strong taste used in cooking for flavor or decoration.

parsnip ['pɑ:ˈsnəp] n a plant whose yellowish-white root is cooked and eaten as a vegetable.

parson ['pɑ:ˈsn] n a priest in some Protestant churches (old-fashioned use).

part [pɑ:ˈt] ◇ n -1. part of sthg some but not the whole of sthg □ Part of the wall had collapsed. □ The lack of funding is only part of the problem. □ The new team will form part of the Sales Department. □ They usually spend part of the year abroad. ■ to be part and parcel of sthg [of a job, situation] to be an aspect of sthg that is often unpleasant but cannot be avoided □ Pollution and high crime rates are all part and parcel of living in a big city. -2. [of a book, building, city] one of the pieces, sections, areas etc into which something can be divided □ She lives in the old part of town. □ a new thriller in six parts. □ Dealing with the public is the enjoyable part of the job. □ The disease can affect several parts of the body at the same time. □ We spent the early part of the year planning our trip. ■ the best or better part of sthg [of a period of time, sum of money] almost the whole of sthg □ He was the best or better part of an hour late. □ Improvements to the existing rail system will cost the better part of two billion dollars. -3. [of a machine] one of the pieces of a machine, car engine etc □ They don't have the part in stock. □ We were charged $300 for parts and labor. -4. [of a mixture] one of the equal quantities of liquid, sand etc that is used when mixing together different substances or liquids □ You mix one part vodka to two parts orange juice.

-5. [in a play, movie] a role performed by an actor □ The part of Hamlet will be played by Mark Rylance. -6. sb's part in sthg [in an accident, crime] how much sb is involved in sthg □ Police are questioning him about his part in the robbery.

■ to play a part in sthg to be one of the reasons why sthg happens, is successful etc □ Advertising has played an important part in the success of the campaign. ■ to take part in sthg [in an activity, event] to be one of the people involved in sthg □ Several teams have refused to take part in the contest.

■ to want no part in sthg [in a plan, decision] to want not to be involved in sthg because one disapproves of it □ If that's what you're planning to do, then I want no part in it! ■ for my/his etc part my/his etc personal opinion is that... (formal use) □ For my part, I would prefer not to have to move offices.

■ on the part of sb, on sb's part used to describe who feels, does, or says something (formal use) □ This was a terrible blunder on the part of the authorities. □ No criticism was intended on the part of my client.

-7. US [in one's hair] a line in somebody's hair from the forehead to the top of their head that shows where they have combed their hair in two different directions □ She wears her hair in a center/side part.

◇ adv part...part... partly...partly... □ The book is part documentary, part thriller.

◇ vt -1. to be parted to be forced to be apart from each other □ She had been parted from her family during the war. -2. to part one's hair to make a line in one's hair with a comb so that the hair lies in two different directions □ Her long hair was parted in the middle.

◇ vi -1. [two people] to leave each other; to end a relationship □ They parted friends/on good terms. □ We thought we'd never part.

-2. [two things that touch] to move apart from each other □ The clouds suddenly parted and the sun shone through. □ Her lips parted in a smile.

◆ parts npl in these parts in the area where one is □ You don't find many restaurants in these parts.

◆ for the most part adv mostly □ The region is, for the most part, agricultural.

◆ in part adv partly □ The company's success is due, in part, to the dedication of its workforce.

◆ part with vt fus to part with sthg [with money, possessions] to give or sell sthg one really wants to keep to somebody else □ He was obviously reluctant to part with the information. □ I was heartbroken at having to part with my new car, but I just couldn't afford it.

part- prefix added to words to mean partly but not completely □ a part-payment.

partake [pɑ:ˈteɪk] (pt partook, pp partaken [-ˈteɪkn]) vi to partake of sthg [of food, wine] to eat or drink sthg (formal use).

part exchange n GB the system of buying something by giving both money and goods for it, especially where the goods are of the same kind as the thing being bought □ It was a part exchange deal. ■ in part exchange as part of the payment for something □ We gave our old car in part exchange for it.

partial ['pɑ:ʃl] adj -1. [solution, victory] that is not complete □ I'm afraid it was only a partial success. -2. [person] who supports one person or thing in a competition, argument etc in a way that is not fair □ a partial judge. -3. to be partial to sthg to like sthg □ I'm very partial to cakes.

partiality [ˌpɑ:ʃɪ'æləti] n -1. a partiality for sthg a strong liking for sthg □ Sue has a great partiality for candy bars. -2. support for one person or thing in a competition, argument etc in a way that is not fair.

partially ['pɑ:ʃəlɪ] adv [hidden, responsible] partly but not completely □ The house was partially covered in ivy.

partially sighted [-'saɪtəd] adj [person] who cannot see well because their eyes are damaged.

participant [pɑ:ˈtɪsəpənt] n [in a race, election] a person who takes part in something □ All participants will be invited to attend the awards ceremony.

participate [pɑ:ˈtɪsəpeɪt] vi to take part in something □ He refused to participate in the discussions.

participation [pɑ:ˈtɪsə'peɪʃn] n: see participate □ Your participation is vital if we are to succeed.

participle ['pɑ:ˈtɪsɪpl] n a form of a verb which is used as part of some tenses, e.g. the past participle of "go" is "gone" and the present participle is "going".

particle ['pɑ:ˈtɪkl] n a very small piece of something □ a particle of dust.

particular [pɑ:ˈtɪkjələʃ] adj -1. [type, problem] that is unique and different from all others □ She has her own particular reasons for being there. -2. a particular person/thing this person/thing and not others □ Did you want this particular copy, or would another do? -3. [care, attention, consideration] that is greater than usual or than in other cases □ They place particular emphasis on linguistic skills. □ His own particular strength is in sales. -4. to be particular [person] to pay a lot of attention to details and be very difficult to please □ He's very particular about what he eats.

◆ particulars npl [of a person, car] facts and information that describe somebody or something □ The policeman took down my particulars.

◆ in particular adv especially □ I enjoyed it all, but I liked the ending in particular.

particularity [pɑ:ˈtɪkjələ'reɪti] (pl particularities) n a special or strange detail or fact (formal use).

particularly [pɑ:ˈtɪkjələʃli] adv -1. especially □ It's not easy, particularly when you don't have any money. □ Some people, particularly women, find their attitude aggressive. -2. more than usually □ I'm feeling particularly cheerful today.

parting ['pɑ:ˈtɪŋ] n -1. the act of leaving somebody or somewhere or of ending a relationship □ Parting is never easy. -2. GB a line in somebody's hair that shows where they have combed it in two different directions.

parting shot n a final, usually unpleasant, remark made at the end of a conversation or argument as one is leaving.

partisan [US 'pɑ:rtəzən, GB 'pɑ:rtɪzən] adj [supporter, judge] who supports a particular person, view etc without considering all the facts fairly □ partisan support. ◇ n a person who has joined an armed group to fight against an army that has occupied their country.

partition [pɑ:ˈtɪʃn] ◇ n -1. [in a room, building] a thin wall or screen separating one part of a room from another □ The offices were separated by thin partitions. -2. [of a country] the act of dividing a country into two or more separate countries □ the partition of Poland. ◇ vt -1. to divide  into two parts with a partition. -2. to divide  into two or more separate countries.

partly ['pɑ:tlɪ] adv to some degree, but not completely □ I'm partly to blame. □ It's partly a legal, partly an ethical issue.

partner ['pɑ:tnəʃ] ◇ n -1. a person one is married to or is having a sexual relationship with □ How many sexual partners have you had? □ You and your partner are both invited. -2. [in an activity] a person with whom one does an activity such as dancing or playing tennis □ my dancing partner. -3. BUSINESS any of the people who own a business together □ my business partner □ a junior/senior partner in a law firm. -4. [in international politics, trade] a person or group that one has an agreement with or shares an activity with □ Our partners in the EU. □ America is our biggest trading partner. ◇ vt to act as partner to <sb> in an activity such as dancing.

partnership ['pɑ:tnəʃɪp] n -1. a relationship in which two people, organizations etc work closely together to achieve a particular aim □ City Hall is working in partnership with the police to combat this problem. -2. a small business owned by two or more people □ a business partnership.

partook [pɑ:ˈtʊk] past tense of partake.

partridge ['pɑ:trɪdʒ] (pl partridge OR partridges) n a bird with a round body and a short tail that is killed for sport and food.

part-time ◇ adj [work, job, course] that does not take up all the usual working hours of the week □ I'm a part-time secretary. ◇ adv [work, study] I only go to work part-time.

NOTE: Compare full-time.

part-timer n a person who works part-time.

party ['pɑ:ti] (pl parties, pt & pp partied) ◇ n -1. POLITICS an organization of people with the same political views that take part in elections □ the Conservative/Republican Party. -2. [for a celebration] a social event, often held to celebrate a special occasion, where people eat, drink, and enjoy themselves □ Let's have a birthday party for him. □ We met at Andy's party. -3. [of tourists, diners] an organized group of people who are doing the same activity together □ a party of schoolchildren □ We cater for parties of up to thirty people. -4. LAW one of the people or organizations involved

- in a legal agreement or dispute □ the guilty party. -5. to be (a) party to sthg [to a plan, decision] to be involved in sthg and be partly responsible for it □ I was not party to the decision-making process.
- ◇ vi to enjoy oneself in a lively way, especially at a party □ Alex does like to party.
- party line n -1. POLITICS the official opinion of a political party which its members are supposed to support □ Your job will be to enforce the party line. -2. a telephone line shared by two or more different places.
- party piece n something that somebody often does to amuse people, especially at parties, e.g. singing a particular song (informal use) □ Once she'd done her party piece she left.
- party political broadcast n GB a short television or radio program made by a political party to tell people about its ideas and policies, and persuade them to vote for it.
- party politics n the activity of politicians who speak or act in a way that makes it seem they are more interested in improving the position of their party than in the good of their country.
- party wall n a wall that separates two houses or pieces of land and belongs to both owners.
- parvenu ['pɑ:fvənju:] n a person of low social class who suddenly becomes very wealthy or powerful (disapproving use).
- pass [US pæs, GB pɑ:s] ◇ n -1. [for a passenger, employee] an official document that allows somebody to travel on a bus, train etc without paying, or to go into a particular place □ a security/bus pass □ All tickets and season passes, please! -2. SPORT an act of throwing, kicking etc a ball to another player in one's team □ Jones sent a long pass down the right wing to Gascoigne. -3. [between mountains] a narrow road between mountains □ the Brenner Pass. -4. EDUCATION a successful result in an exam, test etc □ She got a pass in German. -5. to make a pass at sb to try to kiss or touch sb in a sexual way because one wants to start a sexual relationship with them.
- ◇ vt -1. to give <sthg> to somebody, especially because they cannot reach it themselves □ Pass the salt, please. □ Pass me my bag, would you? □ Pass the wine to your father. -2. [person, building] to go past <sb/sthg> □ We pass the house every day. □ I didn't recognize her when I passed her in the street. -3. [days, life] to spend  in a particular way □ We passed a glorious month in Tuscany. ■ to pass the time to do some activity so that one does not feel bored □ We played cards to pass the time on the train. -4. [exam, test] to get a successful result in <sthg> □ I passed my driver's test the first time. -5. [number, total, sales] to go over  and continue to increase □ The number of unemployed has passed the three million mark. -6. [candidate, applicant] to give <sb> a successful result on an examination or test □ She appealed against the examiners' decision, and was eventually passed. -7. [law, motion, bill]
- to accept <sthg> officially, especially by voting □ The amendment was passed with a two-thirds majority. -8. [comment, remark] to express one's opinion by saying <sthg>, especially in an unfair or unpleasant way. ■ to pass judgment to criticize somebody or something □ You shouldn't pass judgment until you know all the details. -9. US [car, truck] to drive past and go ahead of <another vehicle> moving in the same direction.
- ◇ vi -1. [person, river] to move or lead in a particular direction □ The bus passed through the outskirts of the city. □ The President passed among the crowd, talking and shaking hands. -2. [two people, ships] to go past each other in opposite directions □ We passed on the stairs. -3. SPORT to throw, hit or kick a ball to another person on one's team □ And Jones has passed to Gascoigne! -4. [student] to be successful in a test or exam □ Only three out of the twelve candidates passed. -5. [period of time, event] to happen and reach an end □ The week passed very slowly. □ The demonstration passed peaceably. □ Don't worry, the pain will soon pass. -6. US [car, driver] to pass another vehicle □ 'No passing.'
- ◆ pass around vt sep to pass sthg around to hand sthg to every person in a group □ Plates of hot food were being passed around.
- ◆ pass as vt fus to pass as sb/sthg to be accepted as sb/sthg □ She could easily pass as eighteen. □ A strip of dirty sand was supposed to pass as a beach.
- ◆ pass away vi [person] to die (polite use).
- ◆ pass by ◇ vt sep to pass by sthg to go past sthg □ As you pass by the church, notice the fine carving over the door. ◇ vt sep to pass sb by [opportunity, life, event] to go past without being noticed or made good use of by sb, usually because of a lack of effort or attention □ Current events seem to pass him by completely. □ Don't let this chance of happiness pass you by. ◇ vi [person, animal, vehicle] to go past □ I saw him at the window as we passed by.
- ◆ pass for vt fus = pass as.
- ◆ pass off vt sep to pass sb/sthg off as sthg to pretend that sb/sthg is sthg different from what they really are □ Derek actually tried to pass the design off as his own.
- ◆ pass on ◇ vt sep -1. to pass sthg on [object, characteristic, tradition] to give sthg to somebody else, e.g. because one has finished using it □ She passes all her old clothes on to her sister. □ He passed on a love of nature to his children. -2. to pass sthg on [news, information, congratulations] to give or tell somebody sthg because somebody else has asked one to give or tell it to them □ Could you pass on a message to Chris? □ Please pass on my thanks to the organizers. -3. to pass on costs/savings to raise/lower the cost of a product because of extra costs/savings one has made when producing it □ Any increase in the wage bill will of course be passed on to our customers.
- ◇ vi = pass away.
- ◆ pass out vi -1. [person] to faint □ I nearly passed out with the pain. -2. GB MILITARY [person] to finish training at a military school.

♦ pass over vt fus to pass over sthg [subject, incident] to try not to talk about sthg □ I think we should pass over the events of last night.

♦ pass round vt sep = pass around.

♦ pass to vt fus to pass to sb [property, title, ownership] to be given to sb, especially because another person has died □ The title now passes to his son.

♦ pass up vt sep to pass up sthg [chance, invitation, offer] to fail to take advantage of sthg □ You can't pass up an opportunity like this!

passable [US 'pæsəbl̩, GB 'pɑ:s-] adj -1. [attempt, imitation, work] that is good enough □ At least you made a passable effort. -2. [road, path, route] that is not blocked and can be used □ The track's only passable with a jeep.

passably [US 'pæsəbl̩, GB 'pɑ:s-] adv -1. see passable □ He performed passably. -2. passably well quite well.

passage ['pæsɪdʒ] n -1. [between rooms, houses] a long narrow space that connects rooms, houses etc □ He ran swiftly up the passage. -2. [through a crowd] a space that allows one to move through something □ He forced a passage through the crowd. -3. ANATOMY a tube in one's body that air or liquid passes through □ the nasal passages. -4. [in a piece of music, writing] a short part of something □ This is one of my favorite passages. -5. [between situations, places] the progress of somebody or something from one place or situation to another (formal use) □ the passage from adolescence to adulthood □ the passage of time. -6. [in a ship] a trip in a ship □ a sea passage.

passageway ['pæsɪdʒweɪ] n a long narrow space that connects rooms, buildings etc.

passbook [US 'pæsbʊk, GB 'pɑ:s-] n a book given to somebody who has an account at a building and loan association in which they record how much money they put into and take out of the account.

passé [US pæ'seɪ, GB 'pæseɪ] adj [style, clothing] that is no longer fashionable (disapproving use).

passenger ['pæsɪndʒə] n a person traveling in a car, boat, plane etc but who is not driving or working on it □ Passengers are requested to remain with their vehicles.

passerby [US 'pæsər'baɪ, GB 'pɑ:sə-] (pl passersby [US 'pæsərz-, GB 'pɑ:səz-]) n a person who is walking past a place at a particular moment, especially when an accident, a crime etc happens there □ A passerby was injured in the shooting. □ an innocent passerby.

passing [US 'pæsn̩, GB 'pɑ:s-] adj [phase, thought] that only lasts for a short time; [remark, comment] that is made while one is talking about a different subject □ just a passing fancy. ◇ n the passing of time/the years the process of time/the years happening and becoming part of the past □ I feel less angry now, with the passing of the years.

♦ in passing adv [say, note] while one is talking or writing about something else □ I only mention it in passing.

passion ['pæ:ʃn̩] n -1. strong romantic or sexual feelings □ the passion she felt for this shy young man □ The object of his passion, meanwhile, remained unaware of his existence.

-2. strong feelings of love, hatred, anger etc □ Chris spoke with passion of the suffering endured by the prisoners. -3. to have a passion for sthg to like and enjoy sthg very much □ Martin has a great passion for opera.

♦ Passion n the Passion the final suffering and death of Jesus Christ.

♦ passions npl strong feelings and beliefs about what is right and wrong □ Passions were roused during the debate.

passionate ['pæ:ʃnət] adj -1. [person] who has strong sexual or romantic feelings □ a passionate kiss. -2. [supporter] who has very strong feelings or beliefs about what is right and wrong □ a passionate speech.

passionately ['pæ:ʃnətli] adv [kiss, embrace, speak] see passionate □ Jay was passionately fond of music.

passion fruit n a small fruit with a hard dark purple skin, juicy orange and green flesh, and lots of seeds.

passive ['pæ:sɪv] ◇ adj -1. [person] who accepts what happens to them without expressing any strong feelings, especially when they should complain □ passive acceptance of the situation □ You're too passive for your own good. -2. GRAMMAR [verb, construction] that has as its subject the person or thing to which the action is done, e.g. The man was bitten by the dog. ◇ n the passive GRAMMAR the passive form of a verb.

passively ['pæ:sɪvli] adv [accept, behave] see passive.

passive resistance n protest against something done in a way which involves no violence, e.g. by holding a peaceful demonstration or refusing to eat.

passive smoking n the act of breathing in the smoke from other people's cigarettes, pipes etc when one is not smoking oneself.

passivity [pæ'sɪvətɪ] n [of a person] see passive.

passkey [US 'pæskɪ, GB 'pɑ:s-] n -1. a key that opens a particular door or gate and is given only to the people who have permission to use it. -2. a key that can open several different locks.

Passover [US 'pæsəʊvə, GB 'pɑ:səʊvə] n (the) Passover a holiday in the Jewish religion at the end of March or beginning of April which is held to remember the escape of the Jews from Egypt.

passport [US 'pæspɔ:rt, GB 'pɑ:spɔ:t] n -1. an official document in the form of a small book that proves who somebody is and is needed to enter and leave countries □ Will we have to show our passports? -2. a passport to sthg [to fame, success, a job] something that gives somebody sthg they want □ A good education is not an automatic passport to a good career.

passport control n the place at an airport or port where passengers must show their passports before being allowed to enter or leave the country.

password [US 'pæsɜːrɪd, GB 'pɑːsɜːrɪd] n a secret word or phrase which one has to know to be allowed to enter a place or use a computer.

past [US pæst, GB pɑːst] adj -1. the week/month etc the week/month etc before the present one □ The past five years have seen a huge increase in the sales of CD players. □ His condition has improved in the past 24 hours. □ I've been abroad for the past two years. -2. a past government/president/owner one of the governments/presidents/owners before the present one □ He blamed past mayors of the city for failing to tackle the problem. -3. [life, behavior, experience] that happened before the present one □ I've learned from past experience not to trust them. □ Past attempts to attract foreign companies to the area have been unsuccessful. -4. [difficulties, success, crisis] that is finished and no longer exists □ Ben liked to remember his past triumphs on the tennis court. □ We hid in the cellar until the danger was past.

◇ prep -1. it's five/twenty past two it's five/twenty minutes after two o'clock □ The plane is due in at half past eight. -2. to go past sb/sthg to go up to sb/sthg and continue in the same direction □ A long line of people filed slowly past the coffin. □ I drove straight past the house and had to turn back. -3. to be past sthg to be farther on than sthg □ It's on the next block, just past the traffic lights. -4. phrases to be past it to be too old to be able to do sthg (informal use) □ Of course I'll dance, I'm not quite past it yet! ■ I wouldn't put it past him I wouldn't be surprised if he did something like that, because it is typical of the way he behaves (informal and disapproving use) □ I wouldn't put it past Emma to have invited her ex! ◇ adv -1. to walk/drive etc past to walk/drive etc to a person or place and continue in the same direction one is going □ I saw her in the corridor, but she hurried past without saying anything. -2. a quarter/half past fifteen/thirty minutes after a particular hour □ "What's the time?" — "Half past."

◇ n -1. the past what has happened before now; the time before now □ You must forget the past. □ In the past we've tended to buy our equipment, but now we lease it. -2. sb's past what has happened to sb before the present □ There was one incident in his past that he was still ashamed of. □ She has a colorful past.

pasta [US 'pɑːstə, GB 'pæstə] n a type of food from Italy made from a mixture of flour, eggs, and water, cut into various shapes and then boiled □ They ate pasta for lunch. □ a pasta dish.

paste [peɪst] adj -1. a soft mixture of a powder and a liquid that can be shaped or spread □ Add the water and mix into a thin paste. -2. meat/salmon etc paste meat/salmon etc that has been crushed with other ingredients so that it can be spread, e.g. on bread. -3. [for sticking paper] a type of glue containing water that is used for sticking paper together or to other surfaces □ wallpaper paste. -4. [for making jewelery] shiny glass that is designed to look like real jewels. ◇ vt to stick <paper> to a surface using paste □ Paste it onto the board.

pastel [US pæ'stel, GB 'pæstl] adj [color, shade] that looks pale and soft □ pastel blue. ◇ n -1. a pale and soft color □ The room was decorated in pastels. -2. ART a small stick of a substance made from colored powder and gum that is used for drawing □ a pastel drawing.

paste-up n PRINTING a sheet of paper with printed text, pictures etc stuck to it that is used for photographing or for showing how a page will look when the magazine, book etc is printed.

Pasteur [pæ'stɜːr], Louis (1822–1895) a French scientist who invented the technique of pasteurizing milk to destroy harmful bacteria.

pasteurize, -ise [US 'pæstʃəraɪz, GB 'pɑːs-] vt to heat <milk or cream> using a special process in order to destroy the bacteria in it.

pastiche [pæ'stiːʃ] n a piece of writing or music whose style is deliberately copied from the work of another writer or composer.

pastille ['pæstl] n a hard round candy often containing medicine to treat sore throats and coughs.

pastime [US 'pæstam, GB 'pɑːs-] n an activity which one does for pleasure in one's spare time □ One of his favorite pastimes was going out fishing on the river.

pastor [US 'pæstər, GB 'pɑːstə] n a religious leader in some Protestant churches.

pastoral [US 'pæstrəl, GB 'pɑːst-] adj -1. [visit, duty] that is connected with taking care of the needs and problems of people □ Teachers have an increasingly important pastoral role in schools. -2. [scene, poem] that shows or describes simple and peaceful country life.

past participle n a part of a verb used to form perfect or passive tenses and sometimes used as an adjective □ "Taken" is the past participle of "to take".

pastrami [pə'strɑːmɪ] n smoked beef with strong seasoning.

pastry ['peɪstrɪ] (pl pastries) n a mixture of flour, fat, and milk or water baked and used to make pies, tarts etc; a small cake made with this mixture □ an apricot pastry □ a pastry case.

past tense n the tense used in grammar to talk about things that took place before the time at which one is writing or speaking.

pasture [US 'pæstʃr, GB 'pɑːstʃə] n grassy land where animals such as cattle feed □ a landscape of green pastures.

pastureland [US 'pæstʃrlænd, GB 'pɑːstʃə-] n an area of grassy land where animals such as cattle feed.

pasty¹ ['peɪstɪ] (compar pastier, superl pastiest) adj [face] that looks pale and unhealthy □ a pale pasty complexion.

pasty² ['pæstɪ] (pl pasties) n GB a small pie that usually consists of pieces of meat and potato wrapped in pastry □ a meat pasty.

pasty-faced ['peɪstɪfeɪst] adj [person] who looks pale and unhealthy.

pat [pæt] (compar patter, superl pattest, pt & pp patted, cont patting) ◇ adj [answer, reply, explanation] that is not convincing because it is too simple and sounds as if it has been said or used before (disapproving use).

◇ adv to have sthg off pat [answer, words] to have memorized sthg exactly.

◇ n -1. a light and friendly touch with one's hand held flat □ She gave the horse a pat. -2. a pat of butter a small lump of butter.

◇ vt to touch  lightly once or several times with the flat part of one's hand, usually to show that one is friendly or sympathetic □ "Well done," she said, patting him on the back. □ Don't pat the dog, he bites.

Patagonia [ˌpætəˈɡoʊnjə] the region at the southern tip of South America, covering parts of Chile and Argentina.

patch [pætʃ] ◇ n -1. [for clothes] a piece of material used to cover a hole in something □ jeans with patches over the knees. -2. = eye-patch. -3. [of fog, damp] a small area of something which looks different from the parts around it □ There are damp patches on the wall. □ a bald patch □ There will be patches of fog in the south. -4. [of land, soil] a small piece of ground, often used for growing vegetables □ a strawberry patch. -5. a bad OR difficult patch a period of time during which one has many troubles and difficulties □ I've been going through a bad patch recently.

◇ vt [hole, tear, trousers] to mend <sthg> by putting a patch on it.

◆ patch together vt sep to patch sthg together to form or make sthg which is not perfect but which is as good as it can be □ The deal was patched together at the last minute.

◆ patch up vt sep -1. to patch sthg up [wall, car] to repair sthg roughly and quickly □ The doctors patched me up and sent me home. -2. to patch up a relationship to make one's relationship with somebody friendly again after a quarrel □ The couple are now trying to patch up their differences. ■ to patch up a quarrel to end a quarrel and become friends again.

patchwork [ˈpætʃwɜːrk] ◇ adj [quilt, skirt] that is made with many different pieces of material sewn together. ◇ n something that consists of pieces of different shapes and colors □ a patchwork of fields.

patchy [ˈpætʃi] (compar patchier, superl patchiest) adj -1. [fog, sunshine] that appears in patches and not evenly or regularly □ Tomorrow will be mostly sunny with patchy cloud toward evening. -2. [knowledge] that is not enough to be useful or reliable. -3. [performance, game, quality] that is good in parts only.

pâté [US pæˈteɪ, GB ˈpæteɪ] n food made by crushing meat, fish, or vegetables into a soft mass □ liver pâté.

patent [US ˈpænt, GB ˈpeɪt-] ◇ adj [nonsense, lie] obvious □ his patent dislike of the idea. ◇ n a document from a government office which gives a person or company the right to be the only one that can make or sell a new invention for a fixed number of years □ TCI has the patent to the new process. □ 'Patent pending.' ◇ vt [idea, invention] to obtain a patent for <sthg> □ The device was patented in 1857.

patented [US ˈpæntəd, GB ˈpeɪt-] adj [invention] that has been given a patent.

patentee [US ˌpæntˈtiː, GB ˌpeɪt-] n the person or company that has the exclusive right to make or sell a new invention.

patent leather n very shiny leather used especially to make shoes and handbags □ patent-leather shoes.

patently [ˈpeɪntli] adv patently obvious/dishonest obvious/dishonest in a way that is very clear or easy to see □ It's patently clear you know nothing about the subject. □ She was patently lying.

Patent Office n the Patent Office in Britain and the USA, the government department responsible for giving patents to new inventions.

paternal [pəˈtɜːnl] adj -1. [love, attitude] that is typical of a father's behavior toward his child. -2. one's paternal grandmother/uncle one's grandmother/uncle who is the mother/brother of one's father.

paternalistic [pəˈtɜːˈnəlɪstɪk] adj [attitude, society] that treats a person like a child (disapproving use).

paternity [pəˈtɜːˈnɪti] n the fact of being the father of a particular child.

paternity leave n a period of time when a man does not have to work but can stay at home because his child has just been born.

paternity suit n an attempt to prove in law that a man is the father of a particular child, especially in order to get financial support from him.

Paterson [ˈpætəˈsɒn], Andrew Barton (1864–1941) an Australian poet who wrote the words to Waltzing Matilda. His nickname was Banjo Paterson.

path [US pæθ, pl pæðz, GB pɑːθ, pl pɑːðz] n -1. a track for walking along □ A narrow path led up to the house. □ a gravel path □ They beat a path through the jungle. -2. sb's path the space in front of sb as they move forward □ The protesters tried to block his path. ■ our paths had crossed before we had already met □ Their paths first crossed when they were both students at Harvard. -3. [of a car, missile, hurricane] the line that something travels along as it moves forward □ The fire had destroyed everything that lay in its path. -4. [to success, peace, ruin] a course of action or way to achieve something □ Decentralization is the path to economic growth, according to the Department of Labor. □ His career has followed an unusual path.

pathetic [pəˈθetɪk] adj -1. [story, sight] that makes somebody feel sadness or pity □ the pathetic sound of children crying. -2. [attempt, excuse, person] that is very bad or useless and makes other people feel angry or annoyed □ Don't be so pathetic.

pathetically [pəˈθetɪkli] adv -1. [cry, struggle] see

- pathetic -2. pathetically weak/thin extremely weak/thin □ The crowd was pathetically small.
- pathological [ˌpæθəˈlɒdʒɪkəl] adj -1. MEDICINE [condition, change] that is connected with pathology. -2. [fear, urge] that is extreme and cannot be controlled □ He's a pathological liar.
- pathologist [pəˈθɒlədʒɪst] n a doctor who studies diseases and who examines dead bodies to find out the cause of death.
- pathology [pəˈθɒlədʒɪ] n the study of disease.
- pathos [ˈpeɪθɒs] n something in a situation that makes people feel sadness and pity.
- pathway [US ˈpæθweɪ, GB ˈpɑːθ-] n a path for walking along.
- patience [ˈpeɪʃns] n -1. the ability to deal with difficulties or delays for a long time without becoming annoyed □ You need patience and luck to succeed. □ He finally lost his patience. □ I've got no patience with you any more. ■ to try sb's patience to annoy sb so much that it is difficult for them not to become angry. -2. GB CARDS a card game for one player.
- patient [ˈpeɪʃnt] ◇ adj [person] who shows patience □ Be patient: I'm sure you'll hear soon. ◇ n a person getting treatment from a doctor □ I'm one of Dr Nathan's patients.
- patiently [ˈpeɪʃntli] adv [wait, answer] see patient □ She listened patiently while he explained.
- patina [US pəˈtiːnə, GB ˈpætɪnə] n -1. [on copper, bronze] a green layer that forms naturally on the surface of copper or bronze. -2. [on wood, leather] an attractive, shiny layer that forms on the surface of something, especially wood, as it gets older or is handled a lot.
- patio [ˈpætiəʊ] (pl patios) n an open area with a paved surface next to a house, where people can sit, relax, eat etc in fine weather.
- patio doors npl glass doors that lead from a house onto a patio.
- patisserie [pəˈtiːsəri] n a shop which sells cakes and pastries.
- Patna rice [ˈpætnə] n a kind of rice grown in Patna in India that has long grains.
- patois [ˈpætwaɪ] (pl patois) n a form of a language spoken by people in a particular area and which is different from the national language in some aspects of grammar, pronunciation etc.
- patriarch [ˈpeɪtriɑːrk] n the male head of a family or group.
- patriarchy [ˈpeɪtriɑːrki] (pl patriarchies) n a system in which men rather than women have all the power in society; a society where this system exists.
- patrimony [US ˈpætrɪməni, GB ˈɪməni] n possessions inherited from one's father or ancestors (formal use).
- patriot [US ˈpeɪtriət, GB ˈpætr-] n a person who loves their country and is willing to defend it.
- patriotic [US ˌpeɪtriˈɒtɪk, GB ˌpætr-] adj [person] who loves their country □ I've never felt particularly patriotic. □ patriotic songs □ It is your patriotic duty to fight for your country.
- patriotism [US ˈpeɪtriətɪzəm, GB ˈpætr-] n love for one's country □ a sense of patriotism.
- patrol [pəˈtrəʊl] (pt & pp patrolled, cont patrolling) ◇ n -1. [of police, soldiers] a small group of people who move around a particular place or area to make sure there is no trouble □ A police patrol arrived. -2. the act of patrolling an area. ■ to be on patrol to be patrolling an area. ◇ vt [city, streets, border] to move around an area to make sure there is no trouble or illegal activity □ Security guards patrol the grounds regularly.
- patrol car n a car used by the police for patrolling streets.
- patrolman [pəˈtrəʊlmən] (pl patrolmen [-mən]) n US a policeman who patrols a particular area.
- patrol wagon n US a vehicle used by the police for carrying prisoners.
- patrolwoman [pəˈtrəʊlwʊmən] (pl patrolwomen) n US a policewoman who patrols a particular area.
- patron [ˈpeɪtrən] n -1. a person or organization that supports writers, painters, musicians etc, especially by giving them money □ a patron of the arts. -2. GB [of a charity, campaign] a well-known person who supports a good cause and allows their name to be used to promote it □ Our patron is Princess Mathilde. -3. [of a bar, store, hotel] a customer (formal use) □ 'Parking lot for use of patrons only.'
- patronage [ˈpeɪtrənɪdʒ] n financial support given by a patron □ The Trust flourished under the patronage of Vic Murray.
- patronize, -ise [US ˈpeɪtrənaɪz, GB ˈpætr-] vt -1. [person] to pretend to be pleasant to <sb> in a way which shows that one thinks one is better than them (disapproving use) □ Don't let him patronize you. -2. [store, business] to be a customer of <sthg> (formal use). -3. [arts, artist] to give money to <sb/sthg> to support them (formal use).
- patronizing [US ˈpeɪtrənaɪzɪŋ, GB ˈpætr-] adj [smile, attitude] that shows that a person thinks they are superior to somebody (disapproving use) □ He is so patronizing.
- patron saint n a Christian saint believed to give special protection to a particular place, activity, or group of people □ St George, the patron saint of England.
- patter [ˈpætə] ◇ n -1. [of feet, rain] the sound of something hitting a hard surface lightly and repeatedly □ She listened to the soft patter of rain against the window. -2. [of a salesman, comedian] the quick way of talking of somebody who has rehearsed what they want to say □ He launched into the usual salesman's patter. ◇ vi [feet, rain] to make the sound of something hitting a hard surface lightly and repeatedly □ The rain pattered against the glass.
- pattern [ˈpætərn] ◇ n -1. [on wallpaper, a rug, a piece of clothing] a decorative arrangement of lines, shapes, colors etc that is repeated regularly on a surface □ The lines formed a delightful pattern. □ The carpet had a kind of swirly orange pattern on it. -2. [of events, somebody's behavior] the way that something is organized or usually happens □ Her moods follow a set pattern. □ Work patterns have changed enormously in the twentieth century. □ There seems to be no pattern to the results/crimes. -3. [for making things] a set of diagrams and instructions which explain how to make something □ a dress/knitting pattern. -4. [for other people, countries] a person, thing, or system that is very good and is worth copying □ Some people think constitutional democracy should be the pattern for all governments.

◇ vt to be patterned after sthg to be made or formed by copying sthg □ The campaign is patterned after the one successfully adopted at the last election.

patterned ['pætənd] adj [fabric, dress, shirt] that has a pattern on it.

Patton ['pætɒn], G. S. (1885–1945) a US general who helped to liberate France and Italy during World War II.

patty ['pæti] (pl patties) n -1. a small pie. -2. food formed into a small flat piece and cooked.

paucity ['pɔ:səti] n a paucity of sthg [of ideas, imagination] less of sthg than is needed (formal use).

Pauling ['pɔ:lɪŋ], Linus (1901–1994) a US scientist who won the Nobel Prize for chemistry and the Nobel Peace Prize.

paunch [pɔ:ntʃ] n a man's fat stomach.

paunchy ['pɔ:ntʃi] (compar paunchier, superl paunchiest) adj [man] who has a fat stomach.

pauper ['pɔ:pə] n a very poor person.

pause [pɔ:z] ◇ n a short break, when somebody stops talking or doing something □ There was a pause in the conversation. ◇ vi to stop speaking or doing something for a very short period of time □ He paused before entering. □ Claire paused for breath.

pave [peɪv] vt [street, courtyard] to cover <an area of ground> with a hard surface of flat stones or concrete □ The floor was paved with granite. ■ to pave the way for sb/sthg to do something which will make it easier for sb to be successful/for sthg to happen in the future □ The ceasefire last year paved the way for discussions.

paved [peɪvd] adj [street, courtyard] that is covered with a hard surface of flat stones or concrete so that people can walk on it.

pavement ['peɪvmənt] n -1. US [of a road] the surface of a road. -2. GB [next to a road] a paved path at the side of a road for people to walk on.

pavement artist n GB a person who draws pictures with colored chalk on the pavement so that people passing by will give them money.

pavilion [pə'vɪliən] n -1. a large temporary structure such as a tent, used for exhibitions and other public events. -2. GB a building at the edge of a sports field for players to change their clothes and wash in.

paving ['peɪvɪŋ] n material used for paving a surface; a paved surface or area.

paving stone n a flat piece of stone that is placed side by side with other stones to make a hard surface to walk on.

Pavlov ['pævɒlv], Ivan Petrovich (1849–1936) a Russian scientist, famous for his experiments with dogs. He rang a bell every time a dog was fed, until the dog thought of food when it heard the bell.

pavlova [US pɑ:v'louə, GB pæv-] n a dessert made of meringue with fruit and cream on top.

paw [pɔ:] ◇ n the foot of an animal □ a rabbit's paw □ The dog held up its paw. ◇ vt -1. [animal] to touch or rub <the ground, a door> etc with a front foot □ The dog was pawing the door pathetically. -2. [person] to touch/stroke <sb> for sexual pleasure, usually when they do not want to be touched (disapproving use).

pawn [pɔ:n] ◇ n -1. GAMES the least valuable piece in chess. -2. to be a pawn to be used by a more powerful person or organization for their own advantage □ He was just a pawn in a much larger political game. ◇ vt [watch, ring] to leave <sthg> with a pawnbroker.

pawnbroker ['pɔ:nbrəʊkə] n a person to whom one can lend possessions in return for money, but who can sell those possessions if one does not repay the money within a fixed period of time.

pawnshop ['pɔ:nʃɒp] n the place where a pawnbroker works.

pay [peɪ] (pt & pp paid) ◇ vt -1. [cost, debt, fine] to give the amount of money that is owed for <sthg> □ He paid his fare and boarded the bus. □ Children pay half price. □ I paid $20 for that ticket! □ Are you paying cash? ■ to pay one's way to pay for the things that one does or uses rather than letting somebody else pay. -2. [worker, staff] to give money to <sb> in return for services or goods they have provided or for work they have done □ She paid the cashier for the fruit and left. □ How much do you get paid? -3. to pay money/a check into a bank account to put money/a check into a bank where it is kept safe □ I paid the check in yesterday. -4. [person] to be profitable or advantageous to <sb> □ It will pay you not to tell anybody about all this. □ It won't pay you to sell just now. -5. to pay sb a compliment/visit etc to compliment/visit etc sb □ I'd like to pay you a visit tomorrow. □ He paid me the honor of recommending me to them. ◇ vi -1. to give money for services or goods provided or for work done □ How would you like to pay? □ I'd like to pay by check. □ I'll pay for the taxi. -2. to bring one money □ This kind of work pays very well. -3. to bring one advantages or benefits □ It pays to be honest. □ Crime doesn't pay. -4. to suffer as a result of something one has done □ I'll make you pay for what you've done! □ He paid for his mistake with his life. ■ to pay dearly for sthg to suffer a lot as a result of sthg one has done.

◇ n the money a person receives for the work they do □ The job's interesting, but the pay's terrible.

◆ pay back vt sep -1. to pay sb back to give

- back to sb money that one has borrowed □ I finished paying the loan back this year. □ I'll pay you back as soon as I can. ■ to pay a sum of money back to give back to somebody a sum of money that one has borrowed □ I finished paying the loan back this year. □ I'd already paid them back $100. -2. to pay sb back for sthg to make sb suffer in return for sthg unpleasant that they have done to one.
- ◆ pay off ◇ vt sep -1. to pay sthg off [debt] to pay the whole amount of sthg that one owes □ It took me three years to pay off my student loan. -2. to pay sb off [employee] to pay sb what one owes them and dismiss them from a job □ Half the staff were paid off and asked to leave. -3. to pay sb off [informer, black-mailer] to give sb money to stop them talking about something wrong or illegal that somebody has done □ Mr Cousins was reportedly paid off with a large bribe. ◇ vi [plan, tactic] to be successful despite a strong risk of failure □ It's a risk, but it might just pay off for us.
- ◆ pay out vt sep -1. to pay money out to spend a lot of money for something □ We paid out an enormous sum to have that built. □ I've paid out a lot of money for that van. -2. to pay out a rope/cable to let go of a rope/cable gradually so that more of it is used.
- ◆ pay up vi to give somebody all the money that one owes them, usually without wanting to.
- payable ['peɪəbl̩] adj -1. [bill, debt, loan] that can or must be paid □ The installments are payable at the end of each month. -2. to make a check payable to sb to write sb's name on a check in order for the money to be paid to them □ Checks should be made payable to Acme Inc.
- pay as you earn n → PAYE.
- paybed ['peɪbed] n GB a bed in a hospital owned by the state which is paid for privately by the person occupying it.
- paycheck US, paycheque GB ['peɪtʃek] n -1. a check for somebody's salary. -2. the money a person is paid regularly by an employer.
- payday ['peɪdeɪ] n the day on which a person is paid their salary or wages.
- PAYE (abbr of pay as you earn) n a system, used in Britain and New Zealand, of taking employees' income tax and National Insurance contributions out of their wages before they are paid.
- payee ['peɪi:] n the person to whom money, usually in the form of a check, should be paid.
- pay envelope n US an envelope containing a person's salary.
- payer ['peɪə] n a person or organization that pays □ They're slow/good payers.
- paying guest [,peɪɪŋ-] n a person who pays money to stay in somebody else's house.
- paying-in book n GB a book containing slips to fill in when one pays money or a check into one's bank account.
- payload ['peɪləʊd] n -1. [of a vehicle] the part of a load carried by a vehicle which has to be paid for. -2. [of a missile] the amount of explosive in a missile. -3. [of a spacecraft] the equipment carried on a spacecraft.
- paymaster [US 'peɪmæstr̩, GB -mɑːstə] n a person in a government, company etc responsible for paying wages.
- Paymaster General n the Paymaster General a member of the British government who is in charge of the department that makes payments to other government departments.
- payment ['peɪmənt] n -1. the act of paying or of being paid □ Payment was delayed by a month. □ We don't take credit cards. Do you have any other method of payment? -2. an amount of money that is paid □ I'm making annual payments of over $1,000.
- payoff ['peɪɒf] n -1. the good or advantageous result of an action □ One of the payoffs of emigrating was a better standard of living. -2. a sum of money that one gives to somebody so that they will not cause trouble □ He was given a large payoff.
- payola [peɪ'əʊlə] n a secret payment made to somebody for a business favor (informal use).
- pay packet n GB -1. the envelope containing a person's wages or salary, given to them every week or month. -2. the amount of money that a person earns □ Workers' pay packets have been hit hard this winter.
- pay phone n a phone in a public place that one puts coins into before using it.
- payroll ['peɪrəʊl] n a list of the people employed by a company and the amount of money each person earns □ They have 100 people on the payroll.
- payslip ['peɪslɪp] n a piece of paper given to an employee every week or month showing how much they have earned and how much tax and other contributions they have paid.
- paystub ['peɪstʌb] n US = payslip.
- pay TV n TV that viewers have to pay to watch, e.g. cable and satellite TV.
- PBS (abbr of Public Broadcasting Service) n a US television company that does not broadcast advertisements. It is supported by contributions from the viewers, the government, and large companies.
- PBX ['pæbɛks] (abbr of private branch exchange) n a small telephone exchange in a company for internal communications or outside calls.
- pc ◇ n abbr of postcard. ◇ abbr of per cent.
- p/c abbr of petty cash.
- PC ◇ n -1. abbr of personal computer. -2. abbr of police constable ◇ adj abbr of politically correct.
- PCB n abbr of printed circuit (board).
- pcm abbr of per calendar month.
- PCV (abbr of passenger carrying vehicle) n a vehicle used for public transportation in Britain.
- pd abbr of paid.
- PD abbr of police department.
- pdq (abbr of pretty damn quick) adv an informal expression used by somebody asking for something to be done quickly.

PDSA (abbr of People's Dispensary for Sick Animals) n the PDSA a British charitable organization that offers free treatment for sick animals, usually pets.

PDT (abbr of Pacific Daylight Time) n the local summer time in the Pacific coastal region of the USA and Canada.

PE n abbr of physical education □ a PE class.

pea [pi:] n one of several small, round, green seeds that grow in a pod and are cooked and eaten as a vegetable.

peace [pi:s] n -1. [in a place] a state of calm and quiet □ I need some peace! □ peace and quiet. -2. [for a person] a state of freedom from worry or anxiety □ Insurance coverage gives you peace of mind. □ a feeling of inner peace. ■ to be at peace with oneself/sthg to be in a state of happiness and harmony with oneself/sthg. -3. [between countries] a period or state in which there is no war □ 30 years of uninterrupted peace □ Hopes for a peace settlement are fading. -4. [between people] freedom from disorder or disagreement within a country, town, group of people etc. ■ to make (one's) peace with sb to end a disagreement or quarrel with sb.

peaceable ['pi:səbl] adj [person] who does not like to fight or argue.

peaceably ['pi:səblɪ] adv [live, agree] see peaceable.

Peace Corps n the Peace Corps a US organization that sends volunteers to developing countries to help with technical and educational projects.

peaceful ['pi:sfl] adj -1. [garden, scene, atmosphere] quiet and without disturbance □ It's so pleasant and peaceful here. -2. [person, expression] calm and without worry or anxiety □ Her face looked so peaceful as she slept. -3. [people, demonstration] not violent or aggressive □ a peaceful protest.

peacefully ['pi:sflɪ] adv [live, sleep] see peaceful □ The demonstration ended peacefully. □ The old man died peacefully in his sleep.

peacekeeping force ['pi:ski:pɪŋ-] n a force or army sent into a country or area where there is a dispute to try to prevent violence □ the UN peacekeeping force.

peacemaker ['pi:smeɪkə] n a person who tries to stop people or countries fighting by forcing them to discuss their problems.

peace offering n something pleasant that one says or gives to somebody whom one has annoyed as a way of apologizing (informal use).

peacetime ['pi:staɪm] n a period of time when a country is not fighting a war □ It's the country's biggest civil engineering project during peacetime.

peach [pi:tʃ] ◇ n -1. a round fruit with yellow-pink skin, a large hard seed in the center, and soft, juicy, yellow flesh □ a peach pie. -2. a yellow-pink color. ◇ adj yellow-pink in color.

peach melba ['melbə] n a dessert made with half a peach, vanilla ice cream, and raspberry sauce.

peacock ['pi:kɒk] n a large male bird with long blue and green tail feathers that can be spread out like a fan.

peahen ['pi:hen] n a female peacock.

peak [pi:k] ◇ n -1. [of a mountain] the top of a mountain □ a mountain peak. -2. [of fitness, a season] the highest point or level of something that changes in value, amount etc □ At the peak of his career he was earning $2 million a year. -3. [of a cap] the part of a cap that sticks out over one's eyes. ◇ adj [condition, demand] that is at its highest level □ an athlete in peak condition. ◇ vi [temperature, demand] to reach its highest level □ Sales peaked in December. □ The stock peaked at $4.20 a share.

peaked ['pi:kəd] adj US who looks pale and unwell (informal use).

peaked cap [pi:kt-] n a cap with a peak.

peak hours npl the hours when something, such as a restaurant or traffic on the roads, is at its busiest □ Try to avoid traveling during peak hours.

peak period n the period when something such as a hotel is at its busiest □ Our peak period is between June and September.

peak rate n the highest rate at which telephone calls are charged □ You're calling at peak rate, remember.

peaky ['pi:kɪ] adj GB = peaked.

peal [pi:l] ◇ n -1. [of bells] the sound of bells ringing loudly one after another. -2. [of laughter, thunder] a loud series of sounds. ◇ vi [bells] to sound loudly.

peanut ['pi:nʌt] n a type of nut that grows underground and can be eaten raw or roasted and salted, or used to make oil.

peanut butter n a brown substance made with crushed peanuts that is spread on bread and eaten.

pear [peə] n a juicy fruit with thin yellow-green skin, white flesh, a round bottom, and a narrow top.

pearl [pɜ:l] n a small, round, silvery-white object found in oysters and used for making expensive jewelry □ a pearl necklace.

Pearl Harbor a US military base in Hawaii that was attacked by Japan in 1941. This attack caused the USA to enter World War II.

pearly ['pɜ:lɪ] (compar pearlier, superl pearliest) adj [light, water] that looks shiny and silvery-white □ beautiful pearly teeth.

peasant ['pezn̩t] n -1. a person who lives in the country and works on the land. -2. a person with little education (offensive use).

peasantry ['pezntɪ] n the peasantry a collective term for all the peasants in a particular country.

peashooter ['pi:ʃu:tə] n a small tube used as a toy by children for blowing objects such as dried peas at people or things.

peat [pi:t] n dark-brown decaying vegetable matter found in wet areas of land, used as

- fuel on fires and on gardens to help plants grow better.
- peaty ['pi:tɪ] (compar peatier, superl peatiest) adj [soil] that has a lot of peat in it.
- pebble ['pebl] n a small, smooth, round stone.
- pebbledash ['peblɔ:dʃ] n GB a substance consisting of small stones in plaster for covering the outside walls of a house.
- pecan (nut) [US pɪ'kɑ:n-, GB 'pi:kən-] n a sweet nut with a long, thin, reddish shell.
- pecan pie n a dessert consisting of a pastry base filled with pecans, maple syrup, and other ingredients.
- peck [pek] \diamond n -1. a light tap made by a bird with its beak. -2. a quick light kiss \square She gave him a quick peck on the cheek. \diamond vt -1. [bird] to strike <sb/sthg> with its beak. -2. [person] to give <sb> a quick light kiss. \diamond vi [bird] to make quick light movements forward with its beak \square The hen pecked away at the seed.
- pecking order ['pekɪŋ-] n the order of importance of people within a particular social or professional group.
- peckish ['pekɪʃ] adj to be OR feel peckish GB to be slightly hungry.
- pectin ['pektən] n a sugary substance found in some ripe fruits and used in making jams and jellies to help them set.
- pectoral ['pektərəl] n the pectoral (muscle) the muscle that is found in the top part of one's chest.
- peculiar [pə'kju:liə] adj -1. [shape, idea, remark] that is strange and often unpleasant or displeasing \square I had a peculiar feeling. \square It's all very peculiar. -2. to feel peculiar to feel unwell. -3. to be peculiar to sb/sthg to belong to or exist only in sb/sthg \square It's a custom peculiar to this tribe.
- peculiarity [pə'kju:li'ærəti] (pl peculiarities) n -1. a strange or unusual habit or characteristic \square Smoking a pipe is one of her little peculiarities. -2. something which is peculiar to a person, thing, period etc \square Each area has its own special peculiarities.
- peculiarly [pə'kju:liəli] adv -1. [behave, act] in a strange way \square My companion was dressed very peculiarly. -2. in a way that is peculiar to somebody or something \square a peculiarly French custom.
- pecuniary [US pə'kju:niəri, GB -iəri] adj [gain, motives] financial (formal use).
- pedagogical [ˌpedə'gɒdʒɪkəl] adj [method, skill] that is connected with pedagogy (formal use).
- pedagogy [ˌpedə'gɒdʒi] n the study of the methods of teaching; the practice of teaching (formal use).
- pedal ['pedl] (US pt & pp pedaled, cont pedaling, GB pt & pp pedalled, cont pedalling) \diamond n -1. [on a bicycle, moped] one of the two bars on a bicycle or moped that one pushes with one's feet to turn the wheels. -2. [in a car, on a piano] a bar or lever which is pressed with the foot to control a vehicle or machine \square the accelerator/brake pedal \square the soft pedal of a piano. \diamond vi to push the pedals of a bicycle with one's feet to make it move forward \square She pedaled frantically up the hill.
- pedal bin n GB a garbage can, usually in the kitchen, the top of which is opened by pressing a pedal with one's foot.
- pedalo ['pedələʊ] (pl pedalos OR pedaloes) n GB a small boat for two people which has to be pedaled, usually found at seaside resorts.
- pedant ['pednt] n a pedantic person (disapproving use).
- pedantic [pə'dæntɪk] adj [person] who pays too much attention to details or rules that are not important (disapproving use) \square Oh, don't be so pedantic!
- pedantry ['pedntri] n pedantic behavior (disapproving use).
- peddle ['pedl] vt -1. to peddle drugs to sell illegal drugs \square He was peddling cocaine to local residents. -2. [secrets, lies] to try to spread <unpleasant or secret information>.
- peddler ['pedlə] n -1. a person who sells illegal drugs \square a drugs peddler. -2. a person who travels from place to place selling small objects and goods.
- pederast ['pedərəst] n a man who has sex with young boys.
- pedestal ['pedəstl] n a base beneath a pillar or column. \blacksquare to put sb on a pedestal to admire sb so much that one does not see their faults.
- pedestrian [pə'destrɪən] \diamond adj [idea, performance] that is ordinary, shows little imagination, and is not at all interesting (disapproving use). \diamond n a person in a street who is walking, not traveling in a vehicle \square 'Pedestrians please use other sidewalk.'
- pedestrian crossing n a special place on a road where vehicles have to stop to allow pedestrians to cross.
- pedestrianize, -ise [pə'destrɪənaɪz] vt to turn <part of a street or town> into an area where no vehicles are allowed.
- pedestrian zone US, pedestrian precinct GB n a street or area for pedestrians only and which vehicles are not allowed to enter.
- pediatric [ˌpi:di'ætrɪk] adj [hospital, ward] that is connected with the treatment of children's diseases.
- pediatrician [ˌpi:di'ætrɪʃn] n a doctor who studies and treats children's diseases.
- pediatrics [ˌpi:di'ætrɪks] n the area of medicine that is concerned with children and their diseases.
- pedicure ['pedəkjuə] n a treatment of one's feet and toenails to make them look or feel better.
- pedigree ['pedəɡri:] \diamond adj [dog, cat, cattle] that is of high quality because it is bred from specially chosen animals of the same breed \square a pedigree spaniel. \diamond n -1. [of a dog, cat] a list showing the father, mother, grandparents etc of an animal, especially as proof that it is a pure breed. -2. [of a person] a person's ancestry or background \square Her political pedigree lay in the labor movement.

pedlar ['pedləʃ] n GB = peddler.

pedophile ['pi:dəfaɪl] n an adult person who is sexually attracted to young children.

pee [pi:] (informal use) \diamond n -1. the act of urinating \square I need a pee. -2. urine. \diamond vi to urinate.

peek [pi:k] (informal use) \diamond vi to peek at sthg to look at sthg quickly, especially when one is not supposed to see it \square Hey! No peeking until I'm ready! \diamond n to have OR take a peek at sthg to peek at sthg.

peel [pi:l] \diamond n [of an apple, orange, potato] the skin on the outside of certain fruits or vegetables \square orange peel. \diamond vt [apple, orange, potato] to remove the peel from . \diamond vi [paint, wallpaper, skin] to come away and fall off a surface in small pieces or strips; [wall, fence] to lose its outer surface in small pieces or strips; [nose, back] to lose its skin in small pieces or strips \square The windows were broken and the paint was peeling off the walls. \square I always peel after getting a suntan.

\blacklozenge peel off vt sep -1. to peel sthg off [label, sticker, top] to pull sthg gently so that it comes off a surface in one piece. -2. to peel off a piece of clothing to take off a piece of clothing \square He peeled off his tracksuit.

Peel [pi:l], Sir Robert (1788–1850) British prime minister from 1834 to 1835 and 1841 to 1846. He is famous for establishing the Metropolitan Police, who were nicknamed “peelers” or “bobbies” after him.

peeler ['pi:lə] n a kitchen tool for peeling fruit and vegetables.

peelings ['pi:lɪŋz] npl the pieces of skin peeled off fruit or vegetables \square apple/potato peelings.

peep [pi:p] \diamond n -1. to have OR take a peep to look briefly at something \square I had a peep at the manager's report. -2. [of a bird, whistle] a short high-pitched sound. \blacksquare I haven't heard a peep out of him/them he/they haven't made any noise. \diamond vi to look at something quickly and secretly, especially through a small hole or opening \square She peeped through the keyhole.

\blacklozenge peep out vi to appear \square The sun peeped out from behind the clouds.

peephole ['pi:pəʊl] n a small hole or opening in a door, curtain etc through which one can watch secretly what is happening on the other side.

peeping Tom [ˌpi:pɪŋ'tɒm] n a person who watches other people secretly when they are undressing.

peepshow ['pi:pʃəʊ] n a type of show in which a man pays to watch a woman take off her clothes.

peer [piə] \diamond n -1. in Britain, a member of the aristocracy \square Conservative peers. -2. one's peers people of the same age, social class, education etc as one \square It is always difficult to be judged by one's peers. \diamond vi to look very carefully and hard, especially at something that is difficult to see \square I peered through the window to see what was happening.

peerage ['piəri:dʒ] n -1. the title of a peer \square

The former minister was given a peerage. -2. the peerage all the peers of a country, considered as a group.

peeress [US 'piərəs, GB 'piərəs] n in Britain, a female member of the aristocracy.

peer group n people of the same age, social class, education etc.

peer pressure n the pressure to think and behave like others in one's peer group \square There's a lot of peer pressure among students to drink heavily.

peevied [pi:vɪd] adj annoyed, irritated, or disappointed (informal use) \square I was really peevied at not getting the job.

peevish ['pi:vɪʃ] adj [person] who is easily annoyed by unimportant things \square a peevish remark/mood.

peg [peg] (pt & pp pegged, cont pegging) \diamond n -1. a piece of wood or metal fixed to a wall or door, used for hanging coats, hats etc on \square I hung my keys on the peg. -2. GB a wooden or plastic device for attaching wet clothes to a washing line to dry; a wooden or metal pin that fastens or keeps something in place \square a tent peg. \diamond vt [price, inflation] to fix <sthg> at a particular level, especially so that it cannot increase.

\blacklozenge peg out vt sep to peg washing OR clothes out GB to fasten washing to a washing line with pegs to dry.

pegboard ['pegbɔ:d] n a board with holes that pegs fit into and from which posters, pictures etc can be hung and displayed.

PEI abbr of Prince Edward Island.

pejorative [pə'dʒɔrətɪv] adj [sense, word, comment] that expresses criticism, disapproval, or a low opinion of something \square I don't think she meant it in a pejorative way.

pekinese [ˌpi:kə'ni:z] (pl pekinese OR pekineses) n a small dog with long silky hair, short legs and tail, and a flat nose.

Peking [pi:'kiŋ] = Beijing.

pelican ['pelɪkən] (pl pelican OR pelicans) n a large white or brown water bird with a big bag under its beak which it uses for storing food in.

pelican crossing n GB a place on a road where traffic must stop when a red light shows to allow people to cross.

pellet ['pelət] n -1. [of mud, bread, paper] a small ball, usually made by rolling something soft between one's fingers. -2. [for a shotgun, air-gun] a small metal ball made to be shot from a gun.

pell-mell [ˌpel'mel] adv [rush, run, fall] in a disorderly and uncontrolled way.

pelmet ['pelmət] n GB a narrow piece of wood or cloth at the top of a window, used as decoration and to hide the curtain rail.

pelt [pelt] \diamond n -1. the skin and fur of an animal \square a fox pelt. -2. at full pelt [run, drive] as fast as possible. \diamond vt to attack <sb> by throwing things at them \square The comedian was pelted with rotten tomatoes. \diamond vi -1. to rain very hard \square It OR The rain was really pelting down when I left. -2. to run very fast □ I saw him pelt along the corridor.

pelvic ['pelvɪk] adj [bones, surgery] in the area of the pelvis.

pelvis ['pelvəs] (pl pelvises OR pelves [-i:z]) n the set of bones at the bottom of one's spine that one's legs are connected to.

pen [pen] (pt & pp penned, cont penning) ◇ n -1. a long thin piece of plastic or metal used for writing in ink □ a black/red pen. -2. FARMING a small area enclosed by a fence for keeping farm animals in □ a sheep pen. ◇ vt -1. [letter, reply, note] to write <sthg> etc (literary use). -2. to shut animals in a pen; to force <people> to remain in a place, especially somewhere uncomfortable □ The passengers were penned (up) in the plane for hours.

penal ['pi:nl] adj [system, reform] that is connected with the punishment of criminals.

penal colony n a place, e.g. on an island a long way from home, where criminals are sent as a punishment.

penalize, -ise ['pi:nlaɪz] vt -1. to punish <sb> for breaking a rule or law □ The referee penalized the goalkeeper for wasting time. □ Dangerous driving should be penalized more heavily. -2. to put sb unfairly in an unfavorable or disadvantageous position □ The cuts in public transportation penalize people living in remote areas.

penalty ['penltɪ] (pl penalties) n -1. [for a crime] a punishment for breaking a law, failing to do a duty etc, such as imprisonment or a fine □ There will be financial penalties if the work is not completed in time. □ The penalty for speeding is $50. -2. [of success, failure] an unpleasant result of a person's situation or of something they have done □ That's the penalty for being famous. ■ to pay the penalty to suffer for something wrong that one has done □ I agree he made mistakes, but he certainly paid the penalty. -3. SPORT an advantage given to one team or player when the other side breaks a rule □ a ten-second time penalty. ■ a penalty (kick) [in soccer] a free kick at the goal from a fixed point that only the goalkeeper is allowed to stop; [in rugby] a free kick that can be used to pass the ball, run with it, or kick at the goal.

penalty area, penalty box n the part of a soccer field in front of the goal, in which the goalkeeper is allowed to touch the ball with his hands.

penalty clause n a clause in a contract stating what the penalties, fines etc are if somebody does not do what the contract states.

penalty goal n a penalty kick in rugby; the points that are scored from this.

penalty kick n SPORT = penalty.

penalty rates npl AUS the amount of money paid to employees for working more than their normal hours.

penance ['penəns] n something that one does for somebody to show them that one is sorry for something bad that one has done.

pen-and-ink adj [drawing, sketch] drawn with a pen.

pence [pens] GB plural of penny.

penchant [US 'pentʃənt, GB 'pɒnʃɒn] n to have a penchant for sthg to like sthg very much.

pencil ['pensl] (US pt & pp penciled, cont pencil-ing, GB pt & pp pencilled, cont penciling) ◇ n a thin piece of wood containing a black or colored substance, used for writing or drawing □ a pencil drawing. ■ in pencil using a pencil □ Fill out the form in pencil. ◇ vt [notes, letters] to write or draw <sthg> using a pencil □ The nurse had penciled her initials at the bottom.

pencil case n a small box or bag for keeping pens, pencils etc in.

pencil sharpener n a device for sharpening a pencil.

pendant ['pendənt] n a piece of jewelry on a chain worn around the neck.

pending ['pendɪŋ] (formal use) ◇ adj -1. [review] that will happen soon □ An investigation is pending following rumors of corruption. -2. [court case, lawsuit] that is still waiting to be dealt with or decided □ We still have a court case pending. ◇ prep while waiting for <sthg> □ The suspect was held at the police station pending his appearance in court.

pending tray n GB a box on a desk for letters, forms etc which still have to be dealt with.

pendulum [US 'pendzələm, GB '-jʊl-] (pl pendulums) n a weight that hangs from the bottom of a clock and swings from side to side to make the clock work.

penetrate ['penətreɪt] ◇ vt -1. [building, defense] to get through or into <sthg that is difficult to get into> □ Our forces have penetrated enemy territory. □ Rainwater had penetrated the roof and damaged the walls. □ The bullet penetrated his lung. -2. [group, party] to get oneself accepted by <an organization> so that one can learn its secrets, gain an advantage etc □ FBI agents succeeded in penetrating the cartel. □ Our company is expanding and intends to penetrate the American market. ◇ vi [information, insult] to be understood and remembered (informal use).

penetrating ['penətreɪtɪŋ] adj -1. [scream, whistle, voice] loud and high-pitched □ a loud, penetrating scream. -2. [rain, wind] unpleasant because it gets through clothing, into buildings etc □ a cold, penetrating wind. -3. [gaze, look] that seems to see inside one's mind and understand one's thoughts □ She gave him a long penetrating look.

penetration [ˌpenə'treɪʃn] n -1. see penetrate □ Our trading position has improved thanks to greater penetration of overseas markets. -2. the ability to understand difficult things quickly and clearly (formal use).

pen friend n GB = pen pal.

penguin ['peŋgwɪn] n a black and white bird that cannot fly but can swim very well and is typically found in the Antarctic.

penicillin [ˌpenə'sɪlɪn] n a medicine that kills bacteria, used to treat pneumonia and other diseases.

peninsula [US pə'nɪnsjələ, GB -jʊlə] (pl peninsulas) n a narrow piece of land that sticks out into the sea from a larger mass of land □ the Korean/Italian/Iberian peninsula.

penis ['pi:nəs] (pl penises) n the part of a man's or male animal's body used for urinating and having sex.

penitent ['penətənt] adj [sinner, murderer] who is sincerely sorry for having done something wrong and is determined not to do it again (formal use).

penitentiary [ˌpenə'tenʃəri] (pl penitentiaries) n US a prison □ the state penitentiary.

penknife ['pennaɪf] (pl penknives [-naɪvz]) n a small knife with a blade that folds back inside its handle.

Penn [pen], William (1644–1718) an English Quaker. He founded Pennsylvania.

pen name n a name that a writer uses on their books instead of their real name.

pennant ['penənt] n a long narrow flag, usually in the shape of a triangle, produced by sports teams for their fans, used for signalling on ships etc.

peniless ['penələs] adj very poor.

Pennines ['penaɪnz]: the Pennines a mountain range in central northern England. HIGHEST POINT: 893m.

Pennsylvania [ˌpensl'veɪnjə] a state in the northeastern USA. It is an important producer of coal and steel. ABBREVIATION: PA. SIZE: 117,400 sq kms. POPULATION: 11,881,643. CAPITAL: Harrisburg. OTHER MAJOR CITIES: Philadelphia, Pittsburgh.

Pennsylvania Dutch npl the Pennsylvania Dutch a group of German-speaking people who live in Pennsylvania. They are well-known for their cooking and their art.

penny ['penɪ] (pl sense 1 pennies, pl sense 2 pence) n -1. an American or Canadian coin worth one cent. -2. a small, brown, British coin worth one hundredth of a pound; the value of this coin □ It cost 50 pence. -3. phrases a penny for your thoughts a phrase used to ask somebody who is very quiet and thoughtful what they are thinking about. ■ the penny dropped GB a phrase used to say that somebody has suddenly understood or realized something that they should have known before (informal use). ■ to be two or ten a penny GB to be extremely common and therefore easy to get and not interesting (informal use).

penny-pinching [-pɪntʃɪŋ] (disapproving use) ◇ n an unwillingness to spend money, especially when spending a little more would produce much better results. ◇ adj: a penny-pinching policy/attitude.

pen pal n a person, especially somebody in a foreign country, who one has come to know by exchanging regular friendly letters with them, but usually who one has never met.

pension ['penʃn] n a sum of money paid regularly by the state, a finance company, or a former employer to somebody who no longer works, especially because they are old or ill □ She gets a company/a widow's pension. □ pension contributions.

◆ pension off vt sep to pension sb off [worker, staff] to make sb leave a job and give them a pension.

pensionable ['penʃnəbl] adj [age, job] that gives one the right to receive a pension.

pension book n GB a small book issued by the government to people who get a pension, containing slips of paper that can be exchanged for money at a post office.

pensioner ['penʃnəʃ] n GB a person who has retired from work and gets a pension.

pension fund n a fund that employees pay money into and which is invested in order to pay them pensions when they retire.

pension plan n a financial plan that provides an employee with a pension after they and often their employer have paid money into it over a number of years.

pension scheme n GB = pension plan.

pensive ['pensɪv] adj [person, gaze] very thoughtful, especially in a sad or serious way.

pentagon ['pentəɡɒn] n a flat shape with five sides.

◆ Pentagon: the Pentagon a large five-sided building in Virginia that is the headquarters of the US Department of Defense. Sometimes the term "the Pentagon" is used to mean the leaders of the US armed forces □ The Pentagon has decided to take strong action.

pentathlon [pen'tæθlən] (pl pentathlons) n a sports contest in which people compete in five sports: running, horseriding, swimming, shooting, and fencing.

Pentecost ['pentɪkɒst] n -1. a Christian festival on the seventh Sunday after Easter, celebrating the coming of the Holy Spirit to the apostles. -2. a Jewish festival 50 days after Passover, celebrating the harvest.

penthouse ['penthaʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n an apartment or set of hotel rooms at the top of a tall building, usually expensive and luxurious □ a penthouse suite/apartment.

pent up ['pent-] adj [emotion, energy] that has been held back inside one and not freely expressed or released □ I was full of pent up anger.

penultimate [pə'nɪltəmət] adj [word, scene] that occurs before the last one in a series, list etc.

penury ['penjʊəri] n the state of being extremely poor (formal use) □ They lived in penury.

peony ['pi:əni] (pl peonies) n a garden plant with large, round, red, pink, or white flowers.

people ['pi:pl] ◇ npl -1. plural of person □ How many people will be coming? -2. people in general; all or most people □ young/white people. □ There has been a change in people's attitudes to censorship. □ People don't realize how hard it is. ■ people say that... a phrase used to introduce information which is thought to be true by most people □ People say that there is going to be a strike. -3. the people who live in a particular place □ the people of Japan. -4. the people who work at or represent a particular company or organization □ I'll get onto the people at the State Department. □ Have your people contact mine. -5. the people ordinary men and women in contrast to the government, aristocracy, church etc □ Power to the people!

◇ n a race or nation □ the peoples of Asia □ the English-speaking peoples.

◇ vt [area, city] to live in  □ The city is peopled by or with both Arabs and Christians.

pep [pep] (pt & pp pepped, cont pepping) n liveliness and energy (informal use).

◆ pep up vt sep -1. to pep sb up to make sb feel more lively and energetic □ Have a drink — that'll pep you up! -2. to pep sth up [party, conference, event] to make sth more lively and interesting □ I put some salsa music on to pep things up.

pepper ['pepə] n -1. hot-tasting powder made by crushing the dried seeds of certain plants, used to flavor foods □ black/white pepper. -2. a vegetable with shiny skin that is green, red, or yellow, is hollow inside, and is used in cooking or eaten raw in salads □ a green/red/yellow/stuffed pepper.

peppercorn ['pepə'kɔ:n] n a small seed that can be dried and crushed to produce pepper.

peppered ['pepə'd] adj -1. to be peppered with sth [with mistakes, statistics] to be full of sth □ The report was peppered with grammatical errors. -2. to be peppered with sth [with holes, shot] to be covered with sth as a result of being fired at repeatedly □ The walls were peppered with bullet holes.

pepper mill n a device for grinding peppercorns to make pepper.

peppermint ['pepə'mɪnt] n -1. a strong mint flavoring used in cough medicines, toothpaste etc; the plant from which this flavor is obtained □ peppermint-flavored toothpaste. -2. a candy with a peppermint flavor.

peppery ['pepəri] adj [flavor, food] that has a strong taste of pepper.

pep talk n a speech, usually by somebody in authority, intended to encourage people to work harder, feel more confident etc (informal use).

peptic ulcer ['peptɪk-] n an ulcer in the stomach or in another part of the digestive system.

Pepys [pi:ps], Samuel (1633–1703) a British naval administrator who wrote a famous diary that records the life of the period in great detail.

per [pɜ:'] prep per hour/day/person for each hour/day/person □ The dinner costs $30 per person. □ I get paid $80 per day. □ Use one capful of the cleaner per gallon of water. □ The speed limit is 70 miles per hour. ■ as per instructions in the way that the instructions indicate (formal use) □ As per instructions, your order is being sent by air freight.

per annum [pə'rænəm] adv each year □ The salary is $20,000 per annum.

P-E ratio (abbr of price-earnings ratio) n FINANCE the ratio between the market price of a share and the earnings it produces, often used as an indication of the way investors think a company's shares will perform in the future.

per capita [pə'kæpɪtə] ◇ adj [earnings, spending] for each person □ The country has the lowest per capita income in the world. ◇ adv [earn, spend] What does it cost per capita?

perceive [pə'si:v] vt -1. [color, sign] to notice or become aware of <sth> by seeing, hearing, feeling etc it □ I perceived a slight change in his attitude. -2. [truth, fact] to realize or understand <sth>, especially if it is not obvious □ I fail to perceive the reason for your complaint. □ I now perceive that I was wrong. -3. to perceive sb/sth as sth to consider that sb/sth is sth □ What he said was perceived as an open criticism. □ The administration is perceived as being incompetent.

percent [pə'sent] adv in or for every hundred □ Wages have risen by six percent. □ 20 percent of the people voted against the measure. ■ one hundred percent [agree] completely.

percentage [pə'sentɪdʒ] n a proportion or fraction, especially when expressed as the number out of each hundred □ The university has a high percentage of foreign students. □ What percentage of your staff is working flex-time? □ The manager gets a percentage of all the takings. □ The President's popularity has gone up two percentage points.

perceptible [pə'septəbl] adj [change, difference, improvement] small but noticeable.

perception [pə'sepʃn] n -1. [of color, a sign] see perceive □ visual perception. -2. the ability to understand things that are not obvious to most people □ powers of perception □ He is a man of unusual perception. -3. [of a person, event] the way that somebody views or thinks of somebody or something □ My perception of her has changed over the years.

perceptive [pə'septɪv] adj [person] who can understand things that are not obvious to most people □ a perceptive comment/essay.

perceptively [pə'septɪvli] adv [remark, comment, guess] see perceptive.

perch [pɜ:'tʃ] (pl sense 3 only perch OR perches) ◇ n -1. [for a bird] a branch or other place where a bird can sit and rest. -2. [for a person] a high position or seat □ She watched the carnival from her perch up on the roof. -3. a medium-sized fish with spiky fins that lives in rivers and lakes and is eaten as food. ◇ vi -1. [bird] to sit somewhere, usually for a short time. -2. [person, building] to sit or be high up on the edge or top of something narrow and high □ She perched on the arm of her chair. □ The castle was perched on the edge of a cliff.

percolate ['pɜ:'kəleɪt] vi -1. [coffee] to be made in a percolator. -2. [water] to pass slowly through something that has small gaps or holes. -3. [news, feeling] to spread slowly among a group of people.

percolator ['pɜːkəleɪtə] n a special pot for brewing coffee in which hot water is forced up a pipe in the center and percolates down through ground coffee beans.

percussion [pəˈkʌʃn] n MUSIC the percussion (section) the musical instruments, such as drums, cymbals, and triangles, that are played by striking them and form part of an orchestra or band; the people who play these instruments □ a percussion instrument. ■ to play percussion to play percussion instruments.

percussionist [pəˈkʌʃnəst] n a person who plays percussion instruments.

peremptory [pəˈremptrɪ] adj [tone, remark] that shows that one expects to be obeyed at once and without question □ She has a really peremptory manner sometimes.

perennial [pəˈrenjəl] ◇ adj -1. [problem, feature] that is always present and never goes away □ There's a perennial shortage of good engineers. -2. GARDENING [plant] that can live for several years. ◇ n GARDENING a perennial plant.

perestroika [,pɛrəˈstrɔɪkə] n the changes in the economic, political, and social structure of the former Soviet Union in the late 1980s.

perfect [adj & n 'pɜːfɪkt, vb pɜːfekt] ◇ adj -1. [weather, conditions, health] as good as it is possible to be; [answer, English] completely accurate and with no mistakes or faults □ The hotel is perfect for people with children. □ This is the perfect place for a picnic. □ Everything was perfect until Peter arrived. □ She speaks perfect French. -2. [nuisance, stranger] complete □ The instructions make perfect sense to me. ◇ n GRAMMAR the perfect (tense) the form of the English verb that expresses a completed action in the past and is made by using the verb "to have" plus a past participle, e.g. "has eaten".

◇ vt [technique, plan, design] to make <sthg> perfect, usually by much effort and work □ Once we have perfected the technique, we will be able to patent it.

perfect competition n ECONOMICS completely open competition in the sale of goods.

perfection [pəˈfɛkʃn] n the quality of being perfect or the act of perfecting something □ She strives for perfection. □ Perfection of the new drug may take some years. ■ to perfection perfectly □ The dinner was cooked to perfection.

perfectionist [pəˈfɛkʃnəst] n a person who is not satisfied with anything that is not perfect, often in a fussy and unrealistic way. □ He's such a perfectionist he takes hours to write a letter.

perfectly ['pɜːfɪktli] adv -1. perfectly clear/ridiculous completely clear/ridiculous □ You know perfectly well what I mean. □ It was perfectly obvious that she didn't want to come. -2. [work, speak] see perfect □ She fits in perfectly with our existing staff. □ These colors match perfectly.

perforate ['pɜːfəreɪt] vt [paper, edge] to make perforations in <sthg>; [lung, eardrum] to make a small hole in <sthg>.

perforations [ˌpɜːfə'reɪʃnz] npl a line of small holes made in a piece of paper so that it can be torn easily.

perform [pəˈfɔːm] ◇ vt -1. [operation, miracle, function] to do <sthg> □ The police perform an essential service. □ The ceremony will be performed by the Mayor of New York. -2. [play, music, dance] to do <sthg> in front of an audience as entertainment □ All the actors performed their parts well. ◇ vi -1. [car, machine, person] to work or do its job in a particular way □ The airplane performed well under test conditions. □ Everyone on the team performed to the best of their ability. -2. [actor, musician] This is the first time the orchestra has performed in Oslo. □ They are performing live on television.

performance [pəˈfɔːməns] n -1. [of a function, task] see perform □ She was arrested for obstructing the police in the performance of their duty. -2. [of a play, piece of music] a show or occasion at which something is performed □ Buy your tickets now for this evening's performance. □ We went to a performance of "King Lear". -3. [of an actor, singer, sportsman] the part played by a person in something that is watched by an audience □ There were excellent performances from both the soloists. -4. [of a car, machine, candidate] the way in which somebody or something performs □ I failed to get the job because of my poor performance at the interview. □ Germany's economic performance has improved.

performance art n art which mixes theater and other art forms such as music and photography.

performance car n a high-quality and expensive car that is able to travel very fast.

performer [pəˈfɔːmə] n a person who performs in front of audiences, such as an actor, musician, or dancer.

performing arts [pəˈfɔːmɪŋ-] npl the performing arts the kinds of art that are performed in front of audiences, such as music and dance.

perfume [US pəˈfjuːm, GB 'pɜːfjuːm] n -1. [for women] a liquid with a pleasant smell, used on the skin. -2. [of a flower, soap] a pleasant smell.

perfumed [US pəˈfjuːmd, GB 'pɜːfjuːmd] adj [air, skin, soap] that has a pleasant smell.

perfunctory [pəˈfʌŋktɔːri] adj [search, glance] that is done quickly and without care or interest.

perhaps [pəˈhæps] adv -1. a word used when the speaker is not certain that something is true or that it will happen □ "Why didn't they come to the party?" — "Perhaps they forgot." □ "Will you go?" — "Perhaps." □ "I couldn't help being late." — "Perhaps not, but you could have called." □ There were perhaps 50 people there. -2. used to make polite suggestions □ Perhaps I could interest you in a mobile phone? □ Perhaps you ought to tell him.

peril ['pɛrəl] n great danger (literary use). ■ at one's peril a phrase used to warn somebody that they should not do something because this would be very dangerous □ This is your final warning; ignore it at your peril.

perilous ['perələs] adj [journey, mission] very dangerous or risky (literary use).

perilously ['perələslɪ] adv to be perilously narrow/close to be so narrow/close that it is very dangerous □ I came perilously close to missing my plane.

perimeter [pə'rimətə] n [of a garden, circle] the outer edge around a piece of land or other flat shape; the length of this □ The perimeter of the camp is protected by trees. ■ a perimeter fence/wall a fence/wall around the outside of something.

period ['piəriəd] ◇ n -1. a length of time □ a period of training/fine weather □ Things have gotten worse over a period of several years. □ a 24-hour period □ During his period in office the company was completely restructured. -2. HISTORY a particular time in the history of a country or civilization □ the late Elizabethan period. -3. EDUCATION a part of the day in a school or college in which one class can take place; a class □ After the break we have a free period. -4. [of a woman] a monthly flow of blood from a woman's womb during menstruation; the time during which this occurs □ I'm having my period right now. -5. US the punctuation mark (.) which indicates the end of a sentence.

◇ comp [dress, furniture] typical of an older period of history; [drama] set in a past period of history and performed with appropriate costumes, furniture etc □ The play was done in period costume.

◇ adv US a word used at the end of a statement to show that one refuses to discuss a subject further □ I'm not going, period.

periodic [ˌpiəri'ɒdɪk] adj [rain, visits] happening from time to time and often at regular intervals □ periodic bouts of flu/outbursts of anger.

periodical [ˌpiəri'ɒdɪkəl] ◇ adj = periodic. ◇ n a magazine, usually on a serious subject, that is published at regular times, e.g. once a month □ We subscribe to three periodicals.

periodic table n a list of the chemical elements arranged in order of their atomic weights.

period pains npl pains felt by a woman during her period.

period piece n a painting, piece of furniture etc which is a good example of the period of history from which it comes.

peripatetic [ˌpɛrɪpə'tetɪk] adj [teacher, salesman, preacher] who travels around and works in many different places.

peripheral [pə'rɪfrəl] ◇ adj -1. [aspect, subject, feature] that is not as important as something else □ The love story is peripheral to the main theme of the play. -2. [area, vision] that is at the outer edge of something □ the peripheral areas of the city. ◇ n COMPUTING a device such as a screen or printer that can be connected to a computer.

periphery [pə'rɪfəri] (pl peripheries) n -1. [of a subject, group, activity] the parts that are less important than the main subject, group etc and are not essential □ The people arrested were only on the periphery of the terrorist gang. -2. [of an area, vision] the area at the outer edge of something □ Hardest hit by the transportation strike have been people who live in the periphery.

periscope ['perɪskəʊp] n a tube with mirrors in it that is used especially by people in submarines so that they can look out over the surface of the sea.

perish ['perɪʃ] vi -1. [person, animal] to die in a terrible or tragic way □ Over 900 people perished when the ship went down. -2. [rubber, fabric] to start to break up into small pieces; [food] to go bad.

perishable ['perɪʃəbl] adj [food] that goes bad quickly.

◆ perishables npl perishable foods.

peritonitis [ˌpɛrɪtə'nɪtaɪs] n a serious painful swelling of the inside wall of the area around the stomach, caused by infection.

perjure ['pɜː'dʒə] vt to perjure oneself to tell a lie after promising formally to tell the truth, especially in a court of law.

perjury ['pɜː'dʒəri] n the crime of telling a lie in a court of law after promising formally to tell the truth □ Remember that to commit perjury is a criminal offense.

perk [pɜːk] n money, goods, a car etc that one gets from a job in addition to one's pay □ Free travel is one of the perks of the job.

◆ perk up vi to become more cheerful, interested, or excited □ She perked up when I told her she could come with us.

perky ['pɜːki] (compar perkier, superl perkiest) adj [person, manner] that is cheerful, lively, and enthusiastic (informal use).

perm [pɜːm] ◇ n waves and curls that are put into one's hair by treating it with chemicals and that usually last for several months □ I'm thinking of having a perm. ◇ vt to put a perm into <somebody's hair> □ I'm going to have my hair perm.

permanence ['pɜːmənəns] n [of a job, crisis] the state of being permanent □ What's missing in my life is a sense of permanence.

permanent ['pɜːmənənt] ◇ adj -1. [damage, address] that lasts for a very long time or forever □ I've been offered the job on a permanent basis. -2. [crisis, supply] that is constant, continuous, and never stops □ I live in permanent fear of losing my job. ◇ n US a perm.

permanently ['pɜːmənəntli] adv permanently damaged/disabled etc damaged/disabled etc in a way that will last for a very long time or forever.

permeable ['pɜːmɪəbl] adj [rock, membrane] that liquids or gases can pass through.

permeate ['pɜːmiət] vt -1. [liquid, smell] to enter and spread to every part of  □ Rainwater permeates the soil and forms underground streams. -2. [feeling, idea] to spread throughout  etc until it affects and influences every part of it □ A mood of optimism permeated the meeting.

permissible [pə'ɪmɪsəbl̩] adj [request, behavior] allowed or permitted, especially by laws or rules (formal use) □ Such rudeness is really not permissible in a professional context.

permission [pə'ɪmɪʃn] n the right to do something that is given to somebody, usually by somebody in authority □ The judge gave/refused permission for a review of the case. □ You have my permission to leave. □ You'll have to ask permission from the landlord first. □ With your permission, I'd like to say a few words. □ Photos published by kind permission of H. Clarke.

permissive [pə'ɪmɪsɪv] adj [attitude, society] that allows people a great amount of freedom to do what they want, especially in sexual matters and things that other people might disapprove of.

permissiveness [pə'ɪmɪsɪvənəs] n: see permissive.

permit [vb pə'mɪt, n 'pɜ:'mɪt] (pt & pp permitted, cont permitting) ◇ vt -1. [smoking, access] to allow <sthg>, especially by giving formal agreement □ Cameras are not permitted inside the building. □ Her mother would not permit her to go to the party. □ Prisoners are permitted only one visit a month. □ He permitted himself an after-dinner cigar. -2. [event, activity] to make it possible for <sthg> to happen □ Unfortunately, the timetable does not permit any time for sightseeing. □ The new system permits invoices to be processed more quickly.

◇ vi to make something possible □ If time permits, we'll have a question and answer session at the end. ■ weather permitting if the weather is good enough □ We'll have a picnic on Sunday, weather permitting.

◇ n an official written statement that gives somebody the right to do something □ a work/residence/travel permit □ Parking is reserved for permit holders only.

permutation [ˌpɜ:'mju'teɪʃn] n one of the many different ways in which a group of things or people can be arranged □ I know the numbers that make up the code and I've tried several permutations, but without success.

pernicious [pə'ɪnɪʃəs] adj [effect, policy, non-sense] very harmful, often in a way that is not obvious at first (formal use) □ And the influence he has over younger party members is equally pernicious.

pernickety [pə'ɪnɪkətɪ] adj = pernickety.

peroxide [pə'rɒksaɪd] n a liquid used for killing bacteria and for taking the color out of hair. SYMBOL: H₂O₂.

peroxide blonde n a woman who has turned her hair an unnaturally light color by using peroxide (disapproving use).

perpendicular [ˌpɜ:'pæn'dɪk.jələ] ◇ adj -1. MATH to be perpendicular to sthg [line, plane] to be at an angle of 90° to sthg □ He lives in a street perpendicular to Jackson Avenue. -2. [cliff, face, wall] standing or rising straight upward and not leaning to one side □ a perpendicular line. ◇ n MATH a perpendicular line or direction (technical use).

perpetrate [ˌpɜ:'pɛtɹeɪt] vt [crime, outrage] to do <sthg wrong or immoral> (formal use).

perpetration [ˌpɜ:'pɛ'treɪʃn] n: see perpetrate (formal use).

perpetrator [ˌpɜ:'pɛtɹeɪtə] n [of a crime, outrage] a person who does something wrong or immoral (formal use).

perpetual [pə'petʃuəl] adj -1. [talking, nuisance] that happens very often or all the time (disapproving use) □ I couldn't sleep because of the perpetual noise of the traffic. -2. [hunger, happiness] that lasts for ever and never changes □ a species of fish that lives in perpetual darkness.

perpetually [pə'petʃuəli] adv [talk, complain] see perpetual □ They are perpetually happy/hungry.

perpetual motion n the imaginary movement of a machine that can continue forever without needing power from something else.

perpetuate [pə'petʃueɪt] vt [belief, myth, memory] to cause <sthg> to last or continue □ The article only serves to perpetuate the idea that women are somehow weaker than men □ behavior designed to perpetuate the species.

perpetuation [pə'petʃu'eɪʃn] n: see perpetuate.

perpetuity [ˌpɜ:'pɛ'tju:ətɪ] n in perpetuity forever (formal use) □ Use of the house to be granted to Mrs Harris in perpetuity.

perplex [pə'pleks] vt to make <sb> confused and slightly worried □ I was very perplexed by the whole thing.

perplexed [pə'plekst] adj [person, look, silence] confused and slightly worried by something that is difficult to understand □ You look perplexed. □ We've had lots of letters from perplexed readers asking for further information.

perplexing [pə'pleksɪŋ] adj [problem, comment, behavior] that causes somebody to become perplexed.

perplexity [pə'pleksətɪ] n a state of confusion and worry caused by a failure to understand something.

perquisite [ˌpɜ:'kwɪzət] n = perk (formal use).

per se [pɜ:'seɪ] adv a phrase used when one is considering one thing by itself and not other things that may be connected with it □ Cannabis is not dangerous per se, but it can lead to other drugs.

persecute [ˌpɜ:'sɪkjʊ:t] vt -1. [race, minority] to treat  cruelly as a deliberate and long-term policy, especially because of their religious or political views □ They emigrated because they were being persecuted for their religious opinions. -2. [criminal, politician] to make life unpleasant for <sb> by annoying them and not leaving them alone □ I was constantly persecuted by journalists.

persecution [ˌpɜ:'sɪ'kju:ʃn] n: see persecute □ the persecution of the Jews.

persecutor [ˌpɜ:'sɪkjʊ:tə] n a person who persecutes other people.

perseverance [ˌpɜ:'seɪvɪərəns] n continued effort made over a period of time in order to get something difficult done □ It takes a lot of perseverance to get a reply from them.

persevere [ˈpɜːsəˈvɪə] vi -1. to keep trying to do something and not give up, even though it is difficult □ Do you think it's worth persevering with this project? □ Don't give up; I think you should persevere. -2. to persevere in doing sthg to continue to do sthg, even though it has failed many times in the past □ If you persevere in writing to the senator you will eventually receive a reply.

Persia [ˈpɜːʒə] = Iran.

Persian [ˈpɜːʒn] n & adj: see Iran □ a Persian rug.

Persian cat n a cat that is often white and has a round face and long silky hair.

Persian Gulf: the Persian Gulf part of the Indian Ocean between Arabia and Iran.

persist [pəˈsɪst] vi -1. [problem, rain, rumor] to continue to exist □ If the condition persists, consult a physician. -2. to persist in doing sthg to continue to do sthg, even though people do not like it or disagree with it □ If you persist in being late, you will be fired. □ She persists in the belief that records are better than CDs.

persistence [pəˈsɪstəns] n: see persistent □ His persistence finally paid off and she agreed to see him.

persistent [pəˈsɪstənt] adj -1. [problem, rumor, rain] that continues to exist for a long time □ I went to the doctor about my persistent cough. -2. [criminal, journalist] who continues to do the same thing in a determined way, even if it is difficult or other people try to stop them □ a secure home for persistent juvenile offenders □ I said you were too busy to see him, but he was very persistent. □ They finally gave way to her persistent demands.

persistently [pəˈsɪstəntli] adv [rain, increase, demand] see persistent □ He persistently refused any offers of help.

persnickety [pəˈsnɪkəti] adj US [person] who worries too much about small and unimportant details (informal use).

person [ˈpɜːsn] (pl people OR formal persons) n -1. a man, woman, or child □ One person was injured in the blast. □ I want to speak to the person in charge. □ You're just the person we had in mind. □ You're a scientific sort of person. □ I'm not really a sports person. □ She seemed like a different person when she wasn't at work. ■ in person with the particular person actually present, rather than on television, the telephone etc; without help or intervention from anybody else □ I'm looking forward to meeting her in person. □ He was unable to come in person so he sent his assistant. □ I want to deal with their complaints in person. ■ in the person of a phrase used to introduce the name of a particular person that one is referring to □ We have a valuable asset in the person of Sue Jones. -2. on OR about sb's person somewhere on sb's body or in their clothes □ He had a knife hidden on his person.

persona [pəˈsoʊnə] (pl personas OR personae [-i:]) n the character that somebody shows to other people or that is seen by other people and that is often different from their real character.

personable [ˈpɜːsnəbl] adj [person] who is pleasant in appearance or character.

personage [ˈpɜːsnɪdʒ] n a famous or important person (formal use).

personal [ˈpɜːsnəl] ◊ adj -1. [opinion, belongings, choice] of a single person rather than a group or organization □ We share a huge apartment and I even have my own personal bathroom. -2. personal experience/attention etc one's own experience/attention etc and not somebody else's □ The headmaster made a personal appearance at the meeting. □ The project will be under my personal supervision. -3. [life, problem, plan] that is private or concerns one's private feelings □ I can't tell you — it's very personal. -4. [check, letter] that belongs to or is used by a particular person □ I think it's somewhere among my personal papers. □ There's a letter in your mail marked "Personal". -5. [comment, insult, criticism] that refers to the appearance or character of a particular person in a rude or insulting way □ There's no need to be so personal!

◊ n US a short advertisement placed in a newspaper or magazine, usually by somebody who is looking for a lover.

personal account n an account at a bank or building society for an individual rather than a company or organization.

personal allowance n GB FINANCE the amount of money that one is allowed to earn before one has to start paying tax.

personal assistant n a secretary of a senior manager or official, who is employed to help with all aspects of their work and to carry out their duties when they are away.

personal call n a phone call made or received at work, which is not for business purposes □ Staff have to pay for their personal calls.

personal column n a section in a newspaper or magazine where people can print personal messages, often when they are looking for a lover.

personal computer n a computer that is intended for use by a single user at work or in the home.

personal estate n = personal property.

personal hygiene n care for the cleanliness of one's body.

personality [ˌpɜːsəˈnæləti] (pl personalities) n -1. a person's character or nature as shown in the way they act or think □ He has a pleasant/weak personality. □ Their personalities are all very different. -2. personal qualities that other people find attractive □ She has a lot of personality. -3. a well-known person, especially in the world of entertainment or sports □ a television personality.

personalize, -ise [ˈpɜːsnəlaɪz] vt -1. [stationery, bag, clothing] to mark <sthg> in a way that shows who the owner is, e.g. by writing their name or initials on it □ He had had all his baggage personalized. -2. [argument, debate, issue] to discuss <sthg> in a way which is critical of the individual people concerned rather than looking at the facts in a general way (disapproving use) □ The journalist made a personalized attack on the mayor.

personalized [ˈpɜːsnəlaɪzd] adj -1. [stationery, clothing] that has been marked in a way that shows who the owner is □ personalized handkerchiefs/license plates. -2. [service, counseling] that is designed or has been changed to suit the needs of an individual person or customer.

personally [ˈpɜːsnəli] adv -1. personally... a word used to emphasize that what one is about to say is a personal opinion and that other people may disagree with it □ Personally, I think it would be better to wait and see what happens. -2. a word used to emphasize that a particular activity, duty etc concerns a particular person rather than somebody else acting for them □ He likes to deal with complaints personally. □ I am personally responsible for the performance of the company. □ I wasn't referring to you personally. ■ to take sthg personally [insult, criticism] to feel that sthg is intended as criticism of oneself, not just of what one has done □ We've decided not to use your idea, but please don't take it personally.

personal organizer n a small book with a strong cover and metal rings inside that are used to hold loose pages for a calendar, address book, useful information etc.

personal pension plan n a pension plan organized by a finance company for a private individual, rather than a state pension plan.

personal pronoun n a pronoun such as "I", "me", or "it", used for the speaker, the person spoken to, or the people or things spoken about.

personal property n LAW everything owned by a person except land and buildings.

personal stereo n a small stereo cassette player with headphones that works using batteries and that the owner can carry about and listen to anywhere.

persona non grata [-ˈgrɑːtə] (pl personae non gratae [-ˈgrɑːtiː]) n a person who is unacceptable or not welcome, e.g. in somebody else's house or in a particular country □ I fear I am persona non grata at the Smiths' now.

personify [pəˈsɒnɪfaɪ] (pt & pp personified) vt to be a perfect human example of  and have this quality to a very great extent □ She is evil/greed/beauty personified.

personnel [ˌpɜːsəˈnel] ◇ n the section of a company, organization etc that deals with the people who work there and keeps their records □ She works in personnel. □ I sent my résumé to their personnel department. ◇ npl the people who work in a particular company or organization □ We have over 100 personnel employed on this site. □ military personnel.

personnel officer n a person who works in the personnel department of a company, organization etc.

person-to-person adj a person-to-person call a telephone call made through the operator to a particular person and paid for only if that person is available.

perspective [pəˈspektɪv] n -1. ART the methods used in drawing to make objects appear close or far away, large or small etc, and therefore more realistic □ The roof of this house is in/out of perspective. ■ to get sthg in OR into perspective [problem, matter] to think about sthg reasonably and in relation to other things and not let it seem more important than it is □ If you read the other report it will help you get things in perspective. □ I think you need to get this thing into its proper perspective and stop worrying so much. -2. a way of thinking about something based on one's beliefs and experiences □ from a historical perspective □ Yoga has given me a whole new perspective on life. □ If you try and look at it from his perspective, it's not such a serious thing.

PerspexTM [ˈpɜːspeks] n GB strong clear plastic used instead of glass.

perspicacious [ˌpɜːspɪˈkeɪʃəs] adj [person, comment] that shows quick and accurate understanding or judgment (formal use).

perspiration [ˌpɜːspəˈreɪʃn] n the liquid produced when one perspires □ He was dripping with perspiration after his exertions.

perspire [pəˈspaɪə] vi to produce a salty colourless liquid on one's skin, usually when one is hot, ill, or afraid □ She was perspiring by the time she reached the fourth floor.

persuade [pəˈsweɪd] vt -1. to make <sb> do something by giving reasons or arguments which show that it is a good idea □ I won't come, so it's no good trying to persuade me. □ Her failure to find work persuaded her to go back to college. □ He persuaded her into/out of joining the party. -2. to make <sb> believe something □ The salesman tried to persuade them that they needed a new car. □ Subsequent events have persuaded me of the truth of her story.

persuasion [pəˈsweɪʒn] n -1. the act of persuading somebody to do or believe something □ It took a lot of persuasion to get him to agree. □ powers of persuasion. -2. a set of beliefs, usually religious or political □ People of many different persuasions attended the rally.

persuasive [pəˈsweɪsɪv] adj [person, argument] that is likely to persuade people to do or believe something □ I couldn't resist — she's so persuasive.

persuasively [pəˈsweɪsɪvli] adv [speak, argue] see persuasive.

pert [pɜːt] adj -1. [girl, young woman] who is lively and slightly disrespectful in an attractive and amusing way. -2. [nose, bottom] small, neat, and firm.

pertain [pəˈteɪn] vi pertaining to sb/sthg belonging to or connected with sb/sthg (formal use) □ documents pertaining to the Salston case.

pertinence [ˈpɜːtənəns] n: see pertinent.

pertinent [ˈpɜːtənənt] adj [question, remark; fact] relevant to the subject being discussed □ I hardly think that is pertinent to the discussion.

perturb [pəˈtɜːb] vt to worry and upset <sb> a lot (formal use) □ I was somewhat perturbed by what you said in that fax.

perturbed [pə'tɜ:bd] adj [person, expression] very worried and upset (formal use) □ When she heard the news she didn't seem at all perturbed.

Peru [pə'ru:] a country in western South America, on the Pacific coast. SIZE: 1,285,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 22,900,000 (Peruvians). CAPITAL: Lima. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: sol.

perusal [pə'ru:zl] n [of a document, letter, report] the act of reading something (formal use) □ I have sent you the papers for your perusal.

peruse [pə'ru:z] vt [document, letter, report] to read <sthg>, especially carefully and thoroughly (formal use) □ She sat perusing the papers with a look of concentration.

Peruvian [pə'ru:vɪən] n & adj: see Peru.

pervade [pə'veɪd] vt [smell, darkness] to spread throughout  etc until it fills it; [feeling, thought] to be present everywhere in  etc □ The sweet fragrance of roses pervaded the room. □ A sense of gloom pervaded the meeting.

pervasive [pə'veɪsɪv] adj [smell, doubt] that is felt or found everywhere □ It is difficult to avoid the pervasive influence of advertising.

perverse [pə'vɜ:s] adj [person] who is stubborn and unreasonable, especially because they refuse to do or think what other people expect □ Now you're just being perverse! □ He seems to take a perverse pleasure in upsetting people.

perversely [pə'vɜ:slɪ] adv a word used to show that one thinks that somebody's behavior is perverse □ He continues, perversely, to refuse to accept he was wrong.

perversion [pə'vɜ:ʒn] n -1. sexual behavior that is considered unnatural and wrong. -2. [of justice, meaning, knowledge] see pervert □ Their version of what happened is a perversion of the truth.

perversity [pə'vɜ:ʒəti] n stubborn and unreasonable behavior □ I'm sure she does it out of perversity.

pervert [n 'pɜ:vɜ:t, vb pə'vɜ:t] ◇ n a perverted person. ◇ vt -1. [child, audience] to lead <sb> to behave in ways that are unnatural and wrong, especially sexually □ We believe scenes of sex and violence pervert people's minds. -2. [justice, meaning, truth] to change <sthg> so much that it becomes bad or wrong; [knowledge, evidence] to use <sthg> for bad or evil purposes □ Benson was accused of perverting the course of justice.

perverted [pə'vɜ:təd] adj -1. [person] who behaves sexually in ways that are unnatural and wrong □ a perverted mind/practice. -2. [meaning, thinking] wrong and unnatural □ He murdered him out of a perverted sense of honor.

peseta [pə'seɪtə] n the standard unit of currency in Spain.

peso ['peɪsəʊ] (pl pesos) n the standard unit of currency in Mexico, some other Latin American countries, and the Philippines.

pessary ['pesəri] (pl pessaries) n a large pill that is designed to be put inside a woman's vagina and that contains a contraceptive substance or a medicine for curing infections.

pessimism ['pesəmɪzəm] n the tendency to believe that things will go wrong or turn out badly □ There seems to be a general mood of pessimism on the stock market.

pessimist ['pesəməst] n a person who thinks that things will go wrong or turn out badly, especially one who always thinks this way □ Don't be such a pessimist!

pessimistic [ˌpesə'mɪstɪk] adj [person, forecast, opinion] that suggests things will go wrong or turn out badly □ I'm pessimistic about our chances of closing the deal.

pest [pest] n -1. any insect or small animal that damages plants or food □ pest control □ Some farmers consider foxes to be pests. -2. a person, especially a child, that one does not like because they are always annoying people, interrupting, asking for things etc (informal use) □ That child is such a pest!

pester ['peɪstə] vt to annoy or disturb <sb> continually, especially by asking them for something or demanding their attention □ He's always pestering me to take him with me.

pesticide ['pestəsəɪd] n a chemical used by gardeners and farmers to kill pests, especially insects.

pestle ['pestl] n a short stick of wood or stone with a heavy rounded end that is used to crush herbs, spices etc in a bowl □ a pestle and mortar.

pet [pet] (pt & pp petted, cont petting) ◇ n -1. an animal kept in the home for company and pleasure □ a pet mouse/rabbit □ pet food. -2. a person who is a special favorite of somebody in authority, and is often treated better than other people (disapproving use) □ She was the teacher's pet in school.

◇ adj [subject, theory] that a particular person is very interested in and is always talking about. ■ a pet peeve US OR hate GB something that a particular person finds very annoying □ Soap operas are one of his pet peeves.

◇ vt to treat  etc lovingly, by touching and stroking them gently.

◇ vi [two people] to kiss and touch each other sexually.

petal ['petl] n one of the white or colored parts of a plant that are shaped like a leaf and together form the flower □ a rose petal.

peter ['pi:tə] ◆ peter out vi [interest, food supply] to become gradually less and less before coming to an end □ Eventually, the track just peters out and you have to walk the rest of the way. □ The conversation finally petered out.

Peter Pan [ˌpi:tə'pæn] the hero of J. M. Barrie's story Peter Pan. He is a boy who never grows up, and lives in a magical place called Never Never Land.

Peter the Great [ˌpi:tə'ðə'greɪt] (1672–1725) Czar of Russia from 1682 to 1725. He modernized and westernized Russia, and founded the new capital of St Petersburg.

pethidine ['peθədi:n] n a drug used to reduce pain, e.g. in childbirth.

petit bourgeois ['peti:-] (pl petits bourgeois ['peti:-]) adj [person] who belongs to the section of the middle class that owns stores, small businesses etc; who has attitudes thought to be typical of this class, e.g. an interest in wealth and social status □ petty bourgeois attitudes/prejudice.

petite [pə'ti:t] adj [woman, model] small, slim, and attractive.

petit four [,peti'fɔ:ʔ] (pl petits fours [,peti'fɔ:ʔ]) n a very small cake or cookie, often served at the end of a meal with coffee.

petition [pə'ti:ʃn] ◇ n -1. a request, signed by a lot of people, asking a government or some other organization to do something □ a petition for/against a new road. -2. LAW an official letter to a court of law, asking it to take a particular action □ She filed a petition for divorce. ◇ vt [governor, committee] to ask <sb> formally to do something, usually by presenting them with a petition □ They petitioned city hall to provide more social housing. ◇ vi -1. [local people, protesters] They petitioned for/against a change in the law. -2. LAW to petition for divorce to ask a court of law formally to give one a divorce.

petitioner [pə'ti:ʃnəʔ] n a person who organizes a petition.

pet name n a special name used for a very close friend or member of the family instead of their real name.

petrified ['petrifaɪd] adj [person, look, voice] very frightened □ I'm petrified of speaking in public.

petrify ['petrifaɪ] (pt & pp petrified) vt to make <sb> so frightened that they are unable to think clearly or act sensibly.

petrochemical [,petrou'kemɪkl] n a chemical substance made from petroleum or natural gas □ the petrochemical industry □ a petrochemical plant.

petrodollars ['petroudbɔ:ləz] npl US dollars earned by a country that exports petroleum.

petrol ['petrəl] n GB a liquid that is made from petroleum and is used as a fuel in motor cars and other engines □ four-star petrol □ petrol fumes.

petrolatum [,petrə'leitəm] n US = petroleum jelly.

petrol bomb n GB a simple bomb made from a bottle filled with gasoline and a piece of cloth that is placed in the end and lit just before the bottle is thrown.

petrol can n GB a small metal container for keeping gasoline in, e.g. in one's car, in case one runs out of gasoline.

petroleum [pə'troulɪəm] n a natural oil found underground that is used to make gasoline and many other substances.

petroleum jelly n a soft, clear greasy substance that is made from petroleum. It is used in medicines that are rubbed into the skin and in products that are spread on parts of machines to make them move more smoothly.

petrol pump n GB a machine at a gas station, used for putting gasoline into vehicles.

petrol station n GB a place that sells gasoline for vehicles.

petrol tank n GB the part of a vehicle that holds gasoline.

Petronas Center [pə'trounəs-]: the Petronas Center an office building consisting of two towers in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. It is the tallest building in the world.

petticoat ['petɪkəʊt] n a piece of underwear that looks like a skirt or a dress without sleeves and is worn by a woman under her dress or skirt.

pettiness ['petɪnəs] n [of a person] see petty.

petty ['petɪ] (compar pettier, superl pettiest) adj -1. [person] who is too concerned with small and unimportant things, often in an unkind and selfish way □ He's got a petty little mind. □ I don't want to get involved in your petty little arguments. -2. [detail, crime, problem] small and unimportant □ Trading is made difficult by all the petty regulations. □ a petty thief/crook.

petty cash n a small amount of money kept in an office for making small payments when necessary □ Take it out of petty cash.

petty officer n the lowest rank of officer in a navy.

petulant ['petʃələnt] adj [person, expression, remark] that seems angry or impatient about something unimportant in an unreasonable and childish way □ "I don't know," she said, with a petulant shrug.

petunia [pə'ti:ʊ:njə] n a garden plant with white, pink, or purple flowers shaped like funnels.

pew [pju:] n a long wooden seat with a back, placed in rows in a church.

pewter ['pjutəʔ] n a gray metal made from tin and lead □ a pewter jug.

PG (abbr of parental guidance) n a symbol for movies and video tapes in Britain and the USA that indicates that some scenes may be unsuitable for young children.

PG-13 n a symbol for movies and videotapes in the USA that indicates that some scenes may not be suitable for children under the age of 13.

PGA (abbr of Professional Golfers' Association) n the PGA the organization in charge of professional golf in the USA.

p & h (abbr of postage and handling) n US a charge made for packing and mailing something that somebody has bought.

pH (abbr of potential of hydrogen) n a unit for measuring how acid or alkaline a substance is □ The soil has a pH of 7.

phallic ['fæli:k] adj [carving, imagery] that looks like a phallus □ a phallic symbol.

phallus ['fæləs] (pl phalluses OR phalli ['fælaɪ]) n a model or image of an erect penis, used as a symbol of fertility in certain religions.

phantom ['fæntəm] ◇ adj a phantom vision/

- figure etc a vision/figure etc that exists only in the imagination □ I sensed a phantom presence somewhere in the room. ◇ n a ghost, especially in the shape of a person.
- phantom pregnancy n a condition in which a woman thinks that she is pregnant when she is not, and may even develop some of the signs of pregnancy.
- pharaoh ['færəʊ] n a king in ancient Egypt.
- Pharisee ['færəsi:] n a member of an ancient group of Jews who followed religious laws very carefully.
- pharmaceutical [ˌfɑːmə'sjuːtɪkl] adj [company, industry] concerned with the making of drugs and medicines.
- ◆ pharmaceuticals npl drugs and medicines.
- pharmacist ['fɑːməsɪst] n a person whose job is to prepare and sell medicines.
- pharmacology [ˌfɑːmə'kɒlədʒɪ] n the area of science that deals with drugs and medicines.
- pharmacy ['fɑːməsi] (pl pharmacies) n a store, or part of a store, that sells medicines.
- phase [feɪz] ◇ n [of illness, civilization, a campaign] a stage in the development of something □ Their daughter is going through a difficult phase. □ phase two of the government's incomes policy. ◇ vt [improvements, scheme] to organize <sthg> so that it happens in phases.
- ◆ phase in vt sep to phase sthg in [tax reforms, pay structure] to introduce sthg gradually □ The increase will be phased in over five years.
- ◆ phase out vt sep to phase sthg out [system, service, machine] to stop using sthg gradually □ These pesticides are being phased out.
- PhD (abbr of Doctor of Philosophy) n the highest university degree, usually given for research; a person who has this degree □ PhD students.
- pheasant ['feznt] (pl pheasant OR pheasants) n a large bird with a long tail that lives in woods and that is often shot for food or sport; the meat of this bird.
- phenobarbital [US ˌfiːnɒb'ɔːrɪbətɔːl, GB -'bɑːb-ɪtl], phenobarbitone [ˌfiːnɒb'ɔːrɪbətʊn] n a strong drug for calming people or helping them to sleep.
- phenomena [fə'nomɪnə] plural of phenomenon.
- phenomenal [fə'nomɪnəl] adj [success, size, increase] so great that it is unusual □ Public response to the appeal has been phenomenal.
- phenomenon [fə'nomɪnən] (pl phenomena) n -1. a thing or event, often unusual or exceptional, that exists and can be experienced □ This tendency is a relatively recent phenomenon. □ meteorological phenomena. -2. a person who is remarkably good at something, or who has done something remarkable □ a chess phenomenon.
- pew [fju:] excl a soft whistling sound made by somebody when they are very tired after a great physical effort, or when they are very relieved □ Pew! That was close — I thought we'd never make it! □ Pew! It's boiling in here!
- phial ['fiəl] n a small glass bottle that is usually used for keeping medicines in.
- Phi Beta Kappa [ˌfaɪbiːtə'kæpə] n an American academic society whose members have shown high academic ability; a member of this society.
- Philadelphia [ˌfɪlə'delfiə] an industrial city and port in Pennsylvania, USA, on the Delaware River. The Declaration of Independence was signed there. POPULATION: 1,685,577.
- philanderer [fɪ'lændərə] n a man who has relationships with many women without becoming very involved with them (formal and disapproving use).
- philanthropic [ˌfɪlən'θɒrɒpɪk] adj [person, organization, act] that is kind to people, especially by giving help or money to people who need it.
- philanthropist [fɪ'lænθrəpəstɪ] n a philanthropic person.
- philately [fɪ'lætəli] n the hobby of collecting stamps.
- philharmonic [ˌfɪlhɑː'mɒnɪk] adj [orchestra, society] that is connected with the performance and study of music.
- Philip ['fɪləp], Prince (1921–) the husband of Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain.
- Philippine ['fɪləpiːn] adj: see Philippines.
- Philippines: the Philippines a country in Southeast Asia, consisting of over 7,000 islands in the western Pacific Ocean. SIZE: 300,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 64,600,000 (Filipinos, Filipinas). CAPITAL: Manila. LANGUAGE: Filipino, English. CURRENCY: Filipino peso.
- philistine [US 'fɪlɪstɪn, GB -stain] n a person who does not like or understand art, literature, music etc (disapproving use).
- Phillip ['fɪləp], Arthur (1738–1814) a British naval officer who founded New South Wales, Australia, and was its first governor.
- PhillipsTM ['fɪləps] n a Phillips (screw) a screw with a cross cut into the head, rather than a straight groove. ■ a Phillips (screwdriver) a screwdriver with a cross at the end of the blade, to fit into a Phillips screw.
- philosopher [fə'lɒsəfə] n -1. a person who studies, teaches, or writes about philosophy. -2. a person who created a particular philosophy □ the great philosopher Confucius. -3. a person who thinks deeply and calmly about serious things.
- philosophical [ˌfɪlə'sɒfɪkəl] adj -1. [attitude, person] that is calm and resigned when faced with difficulty or unpleasantness □ They told him that he'd never get the money back, but he was very philosophical about it. -2. [idea, theory, writing] see philosophy.
- philosophize, -ise [fə'lɒsəfaɪz] vi to think or talk about philosophical ideas □ He's always philosophizing about something!
- philosophy [fə'lɒsəfɪ] (pl philosophies) n -1. the study or creation of theories about important questions connected with human life, e.g. truth, knowledge, or reality □ She's studying philosophy and politics. -2. a particular set of beliefs and way of thinking about life, truth, knowledge etc □ Western philosophy □ the philosophy of Plato/Kant □ My philosophy is — get them before they get you! -3. a particular person's way of thinking □ What's the philosophy behind that decision?

phlegm [flem] n the thick yellow or green liquid produced in somebody's nose and throat when they have a cold.

phlegmatic [fleg'mætɪk] adj [person] who is calm, even when exciting things are happening.

phobia [ˈfəʊbiə] n a strong and unreasonable fear of a particular thing □ She has a phobia about spiders.

phoenix [ˈfiːnɪks] n an imaginary bird that in former times was believed to burn itself and be born again from its ashes every 500 years □ A new company was formed, like a phoenix from the ashes of its predecessor.

phone [foun] ◇ n -1. the telephone system □ She contacted me by phone. □ You can always use the phone. □ I can't discuss it over the phone. □ a phone company/link. ■ to be on the phone to be speaking to somebody by phone □ I've been on the phone with them all morning. ■ to be on the phone GB to be connected to the telephone network □ Are you on the phone? -2. a telephone □ Their phone's been busy all morning. □ Can you answer the phone?

◇ vt [person, the police] to dial a number and speak to <sb> by phone □ I phoned his office, but he was out. □ Have you tried phoning the operator?

◇ vi: He hasn't phoned for weeks. □ I'll phone for a taxi. □ He phoned to invite you to a party.

◆ phone back ◇ vt sep to phone sb back to phone sb again after one has already phoned them recently; to phone sb who has recently phoned one □ Can you phone me back in an hour? □ Amy phoned while you were out and asked if you could phone her back. ◇ vi: She phoned back to say the tickets were reserved. □ I left my name, but she didn't phone back.

◆ phone up ◇ vt sep to phone sb up to phone sb, especially about something not very important □ She phoned me up last night. ◇ vi: Why don't you phone up and ask?

phone book n a book that lists the names, addresses, and phone numbers of all the people with telephones in a particular area □ Look it up in the phone book.

phone booth n a small shelter in a public place that contains a public telephone □ I'm calling from a phone booth.

phone box n GB = phone booth.

phone call n an act of phoning somebody □ I have a few phone calls to make.

phonecard [ˈfəʊnkɑːd] n a card like a credit card that can be used instead of coins to make calls from some public telephones.

phone-in n a radio or TV program in which people telephone the station while the program is on and can have their questions or comments broadcast.

phone line n -1. a wire connecting a telephone or building to the rest of the telephone network. -2. a telephone connection □ All the phone lines were busy.

phone number n the number that is dialed to contact a particular person or organization by telephone □ I gave her my phone number.

phone-tapping [-tæpɪŋ] n the use of special equipment to listen secretly to other people's telephone conversations.

phonetics [fəˈnetɪks] n the scientific study of the different sounds that make up spoken words.

phony US, phoney GB [ˈfəʊni] (compar phonier, superl phoniest, pl phonies) (informal use) ◇ adj -1. [money, information, address] false □ He was using a phony business card. □ She just has a really phony way of talking. -2. [person] who pretends to be good, kind, clever etc but is not really. ◇ n a phony person □ What a complete phony that guy is!

phony war n a period when war has been declared but there is no actual fighting.

phosphate [ˈfɒsfet] n a chemical substance containing phosphorus, often used in making fertilizers.

phosphorus [ˈfɒsfərəs] n a poisonous element that is yellowish-white, glows in the dark, and burns when it is in contact with air. SYMBOL: P.

photo [ˈfəʊtəʊ] n = photograph.

photo booth n a small enclosed place in some stores, train stations etc where one can have one's photo taken by putting money into a machine.

photocall [ˈfəʊtəʊkɔːl] n an organized session in which a famous person is photographed by press photographers.

photocopier [ˈfəʊtəʊkɒpiə] n a machine that makes copies of documents, drawings etc onto paper by photographing them.

photocopy [ˈfəʊtəʊkɒpi] (vt & pp photocopied, pl photocopies) ◇ n a copy of something, e.g. a document or drawing, made by using a photocopier □ Do you have a photocopy of the report? ◇ vt [page, report] to make a photocopy of <sthg> using a photocopier □ Could you photocopy the last chapter?

photoelectric cell [ˌfəʊtəʊɪlektɪk-] n a device that changes light into electricity, used in light meters and burglar alarms.

photo finish n the end of a race in which two or more competitors finish so close together that a photograph of them crossing the finishing line is needed to see who has won.

PhotofitTM [ˈfəʊtəʊfɪt] n a Photofit (picture) GB a picture of somebody who the police are looking for, made up from many photographs of different parts of people's faces.

photogenic [ˌfəʊtəʊˈdʒenɪk] adj [person] who looks attractive in photographs □ She's very photogenic.

photograph [US ˈfəʊtəgræf, GB -grɑːf] ◇ n a picture printed on special paper from a film that has been used in a camera □ That's a really good photograph of you. ■ to take a photograph to record a scene using a camera □ I took lots of photographs of the city. □ I hate having my photograph taken. ◇ vt [view, person] to take a photograph of <sb/sthg> □ We were photographed sitting next to the Senator.

photographer [fə'tɒgrəfə] n a person who takes photographs □ an amateur/a sports photographer.

photographic [ˌfəʊtə'græfɪk] adj [equipment, evidence] that is connected with photographs.

photographic memory n the ability to remember in great detail things that one has seen.

photography [fə'tɒgrəfi] n the art, study, profession, or process of taking photographs □ black and white/commercial photography.

photojournalism [ˌfəʊtəʊ'dʒɜː'nəliʒm] n a type of journalism in which photographs are very important.

photon ['fəʊtɒn] n a tiny unit of electromagnetic radiation that travels at the speed of light.

photo opportunity n a situation in which a politician tries to be photographed, e.g. while doing something useful, impressive, or kind, because the photo will encourage people to see them in a positive way □ This will be a great photo opportunity for you.

photosensitive [ˌfəʊtəʊ'sensətɪv] adj [film, paper] that changes when light falls on it.

PhotostatTM ['fəʊtəstæt] (pt & pp photostatted, cont photostatting) n a copy of a document, drawing etc made by using a particular type of photocopier.

◆ photostat vt [page, document] to make a Photostat of <sthg>.

photosynthesis [ˌfəʊtəʊ'sɪnθəsɪs] n the process by which a plant produces its own food by using energy from sunlight.

phrasal verb ['freɪzl-] n a group of words, made up of a verb and one or more other words, that has the meaning of a single verb, e.g. "to pick up" and "to get on with".

phrase [freɪz] ◇ n -1. a group of words that forms a unit, either alone or as part of a sentence □ How would you translate the phrase "to go swimming"? -2. a small fixed group of words that has a particular meaning, often one that is not easy to guess from each individual word □ I bought a book with lots of useful everyday phrases. □ What does the phrase "to put your foot in it" mean? ◇ vt [letter, idea] to say <sthg> in words in a particular way □ She tried to phrase it in such a way that it would not offend him.

phrasebook ['freɪzbʊk] n a book that contains a list of useful phrases in a foreign language and their translations.

phraseology [ˌfreɪzɪ'blɒdʒi] n the particular way the words of a document, speech etc are chosen and used □ I found his phraseology somewhat confusing.

physical ['fɪzɪkəl] ◇ adj -1. [exercise, attraction] that is connected with the body rather than the mind □ The grief caused her physical pain. □ We had a purely physical relationship. -2. [world, object, form] that is real and can be touched □ They were separated by a physical as well as an ideological distance. -3. a physical law/theory a law/theory that is connected with physics. ◇ n = physical examination.

physical chemistry n the kind of chemistry connected with the relationship between the physical and chemical properties of substances.

physical education n games, sports, and exercises for children at school to keep them fit.

physical examination n a thorough medical examination, often carried out to see if somebody is fit to do a particular job.

physical geography n the kind of geography connected with the natural features of the Earth's surface.

physically ['fɪzɪklɪ] adv [fit, attractive, possible] see physical □ The doctor says I'm physically fit to travel. □ Did you physically give it to him or just leave it for him? □ It's physically impossible to jump from such a height and not injure oneself.

physically handicapped ◇ adj [person] who has a physical disability rather than a mental one. ◇ npl the physically handicapped physically handicapped people.

physical science n the sciences connected with the natural world, e.g. physics, chemistry, or geography.

physical training n = physical education.

physician [fə'zɪʃn] n a doctor (formal use).

physicist ['fɪzəsɪst] n a scientist who is trained in physics.

physics ['fɪzɪks] n the scientific study of matter and energy and the relationships between them, e.g. light, heat, and electricity.

physio ['fɪziəʊ] (pl physios) n (informal use) -1. = physiotherapist. -2. = physiotherapy.

physiognomy [ˌfɪzɪ'ɒnəmɪ] (pl physiognomies) n the face, especially when it is believed to show a person's character (formal use).

physiology [ˌfɪzɪ'ɒlədʒɪ] n -1. the scientific study of the way in which plants and the bodies of people and animals work □ the study of anatomy and physiology. -2. the way in which a human or an animal's body or a plant works □ the physiology of reproduction.

physiotherapist [ˌfɪziəʊ'θerəpəst] n a person whose job is to give people physiotherapy.

physiotherapy [ˌfɪziəʊ'θerəpi] n the treatment of sick people, or people recovering from injuries, using exercise and massage.

physique [fə'ziːk] n the shape of a person's body □ He has a fine physique.

pianist ['piːənəst] n a person who plays the piano.

piano [piː'ænoʊ] (pl pianos) n a musical instrument with a keyboard of black and white keys attached to a set of hammers that hit wires in a large wooden cabinet at the back □ How long have you played the piano?

piano accordion n an accordion that has a keyboard on one side.

Picasso [US pɪ'kɑːsoʊ, GB -'kæsoʊ], Pablo (1881– 1973) a Spanish artist. He was one of the founders of Cubism, and one of the most influential artists of the 20th century.

piccalilli [ˈpɪkəlɪli] n a spicy yellow sauce made from chopped pickled vegetables that is eaten cold.

piccolo [ˈpɪkələʊ] (pl piccolos) n a musical instrument, like a small flute, that plays higher notes than the flute.

pick [pɪk] \diamond n -1. a pickax. -2. to take one's pick to choose the particular thing one wants from among a group of things \square You can take your pick from thirty flavors of ice cream. \square Whichever one you like — take your pick. -3. the pick of the bunch the best of a group of people or things \square Jones and Howard were definitely the pick of the bunch.

\diamond vt -1. to choose <sb/sthg> from among a number of people or things \square He always picks the worst time to visit. \square I've been picked to go on a management course. \square We both picked the lemon mousse for dessert. -2. [flower, fruit, nut] to collect <sthg> by breaking it off a plant or tree \square They're in the garden picking strawberries. -3. [hair, piece of fluff] to remove <sthg> unwanted from a surface, using one's fingers \square I spent hours picking the dog hairs off my clothes. -4. to pick one's nose to remove small pieces of dried mucus from one's nostrils using one's fingers. to pick one's teeth to remove small pieces of food from between one's teeth using a toothpick, match etc. -5. to pick a fight/quarrel to deliberately start a fight/quarrel with somebody \square Someone tried to pick a fight with Bob in the bar. -6. to pick a lock to open a lock using a small sharp instrument instead of a key, especially for an illegal purpose. -7. to pick one's way across/through sthg to walk across/through sthg carefully, choosing where to put one's feet to avoid dirt, water, or danger \square I had to pick my way across that muddy yard in my sandals.

\diamond vi to choose \square He pointed to some rings and said I could pick any one I wanted. to pick and choose to be in a situation where one can choose exactly what one wants because there is a wide choice \square With so many applicants for every job, employers can afford to pick and choose.

◆ pick at vt fus to pick at one's food to eat small pieces of food because one is not hungry or does not like what one is eating \square She only picked at her dinner.

◆ pick on vt fus to pick on sb to treat sb harshly or unfairly \square Why does he always have to pick on me?

◆ pick out vt sep -1. to pick sb/sthg out to recognize sb/sthg among a group of similar people or things \square She's easy to pick out in a crowd because of her red hair. -2. to pick sb/sthg out to choose sb/sthg from a group of people or things \square We look at the applications and pick out the best candidates.

◆ pick up \diamond vt sep -1. to pick sb/sthg up [object, baby, animal] to take hold of sb/sthg in one's hands and lift it up, especially sthg small or light \square If you get lonely, just pick up

the phone and call me. \square Please pick up all your litter. to pick up the pieces to start trying to live normally again after a difficult or unhappy experience \square After the divorce I just had to pick up the pieces and carry on. -2. to pick sb/sthg up [person, ticket, dry cleaning] to go to a place and collect sb/sthg waiting there \square Could you pick up the kids from school tomorrow? -3. to pick sthg up [skill, language] to learn sthg, especially without much effort \square He picked up Italian in no time. -4. to pick up an infection/a virus etc to get an infection/virus etc \square I must have picked up some stomach bug when I was abroad. -5. to pick up speed [vehicle] to begin to move faster \square Once we reached the freeway, the car picked up speed. -6. to be picked up for sthg to be arrested for sthg \square He was picked up by the police for shoplifting. -7. to pick sb up [person] to start talking to sb one does not know and start a sexual relationship with them (informal use) \square She picked him up in a bar somewhere. -8. RADIO & TECHNOLOGY to pick sthg up [signal, sound, radio station] to be able to hear or receive sthg \square The ship's SOS call was picked up by a fishing boat in the area. -9. to pick sthg up [career, conversation, relationship] to continue sthg after an interruption \square Let's pick up the story where we left off last week.

\diamond vi -1. [business, production, sales] to improve or increase after a difficult time \square The economy is beginning to pick up after the recession. -2. to start something again after an interruption \square We can go several months without seeing each other but then when we meet again we just pick up where we left off.

pickax US, pickaxe GB [ˈpɪkæks] n a tool for breaking rocks, hard ground etc, consisting of a piece of heavy metal with two ends, one a long curved blade and the other a short blade or point, that is attached to a long wooden handle.

picker [ˈpɪkəʃ] n a person whose job is to pick a particular crop, e.g. fruit or cotton.

picket [ˈpɪkət] \diamond n -1. a person who is picketing a place of work; a group of these people \square There's a picket outside the factory gates. -2. = picketing. \diamond vt [factory, mine] to stand outside  and try to persuade people not to go in \square They've been picketing the works since last week.

picket fence n a fence made from long pointed sticks fixed in the ground.

picketing [ˈpɪkətɪŋ] n the act of picketing a place of work.

picket line n a line of pickets \square The drivers won't cross the picket line.

pickings [ˈpɪkɪŋz] npl easy/rich pickings a chance to make money easily/to make a lot of money \square Rich pickings are to be had in multimedia.

pickle [ˈpɪkl] \diamond n -1. a pickled cucumber \square Do you want a pickle with your pastrami? -2. a food consisting of chopped vegetables that have been pickled, often in a spicy sauce \square a cheese and pickle sandwich. -3. phrase to be in a pickle to be in a difficult situation (informal use) □ She's gotten herself into a pickle again.

 ◇ vt [onion, egg] to preserve <food> in vinegar or salt water □ Pickle the cucumbers in vinegar.

◆ pickles npl pickled vegetables □ cold meats with mixed pickles.

pickled -['pɪklɪd] adj [onion, cabbage, egg] that has been pickled.

pick-me-up n a drink or medicine that makes one feel stronger or more cheerful.

pickpocket ['pɪkpɒkət] n a person who steals things from people's pockets □ 'Beware of pickpockets.'

pick-up n -1. the part of a record player that holds the needle and moves across the record as the needle follows the groove. -2. AUTO = pick-up truck.

pick-up truck n a van that is open at the back and has low sides so that it can be loaded and unloaded easily.

picky ['pɪki] (compar pickier, superl pickiest) adj [person] who is difficult to please □ Don't be so picky — just eat what's in front of you.

picnic ['pɪknɪk] (pt & pp picnicked, cont picnicking) ◇ n a meal that is eaten outdoors, usually in the countryside □ They went on a picnic. □ a picnic lunch. ◇ vi to eat a picnic.

picnicker ['pɪknɪkəʃ] n a person who is having a picnic.

pictorial [pɪk'tɔ:riəl] adj [magazine, article, art] that uses pictures.

picture ['pɪktʃə] ◇ n -1. a painting or drawing □ She drew a picture of the view from her window. □ They had lots of pictures on the walls. -2. PHOTOGRAPHY a photograph, especially one that has been taken quickly □ He took a picture of the elephants. □ Do you have a picture of your son? -3. TV an image on a television screen □ We can't get a good picture. -4. CINEMA a movie. -5. [in one's mind] an idea in somebody's mind □ I have a clear picture of how I want the company to develop. □ This should give you a picture of the way it's been handled so far. -6. the financial/political etc picture the financial/political etc situation □ The economic picture is bleak. -7. the picture of sthg [happiness, despair] a perfect example of sthg □ There she was, looking the picture of good health. -8. phrases to get the picture to understand the general idea or situation (informal use) □ Right, yes, I get the picture. ■ to put sb in the picture to tell sb everything they need to know about a situation in order to understand it □ I should be able to put you in the picture by tomorrow. ■ to be in/out of the picture to be involved/not to be involved in a particular situation □ Don't ask me, I'm completely out of the picture.

◇ vt -1. [future, difficulty] to imagine <sthg> □ I can just picture him saying that! -2. [person, event] to show <sb/sthg> in a photograph or picture □ The couple are pictured here together in Barbados.

◆ pictures npl the pictures the movies (old-fashioned use) □ Do you want to come with us to the pictures tonight?

picture book n a book for young children, containing only or mostly pictures.

picture rail n a narrow piece of wood fixed along the walls of some rooms just below the ceiling, on which pictures can be hung.

picturesque [ˌpɪktʃə'resk] adj [scene, building, village] charming and attractive, usually in an old-fashioned way.

picture window n a large window with a single pane of glass and a pleasant view.

piddling ['pɪdlɪŋ] adj [job, details] unimportant; [amount, salary] very small (disapproving and informal use).

pidgin ['pɪdʒɪn] n a language that is a simplified mixture of two other languages, usually spoken by people who do business together but who do not speak each other's languages □ pidgin English/French.

pie [paɪ] n a dish that consists of fruit, meat, or vegetables, baked in a pastry case, usually with pastry on top. ■ pie in the sky something that one wants or hopes for, but that is very unlikely to happen □ I'm beginning to realize that my dreams of promotion are just pie in the sky.

piebald ['paɪbɔ:ld] adj [horse] that has large black and white patches.

piece [pi:s] n -1. [of cake, string, paper] a part of something that is separated from the rest □ Can you pass me a piece of bread? □ There was a piece of glass on the floor. □ I wrote it on a piece of newspaper. ■ to be smashed to pieces [plane, glass] to be broken into many small pieces. ■ to fall to pieces [car, furniture, building] to become damaged □ This house is falling to pieces. ■ to pull or tear sthg to pieces to criticize sthg harshly □ She tore my essay to pieces. ■ to take sthg to pieces [car, machine] to separate all the parts of sthg from each other □ Once he'd taken it all to pieces, he couldn't put it back together again. ■ in pieces [toy, glass] that has been broken into pieces; [engine] that has been taken to pieces □ There, in pieces on the floor, was my clock. ■ in one piece [glass, car] not seriously damaged; [person] not seriously injured □ Fortunately, the car was/we were all in one piece. ■ to go to pieces [person] to be so upset, worried, frightened etc that one can no longer deal with normal life □ He went to pieces after the death of his wife. -2. [of equipment, advice, furniture] an individual example of a particular thing □ That was a piece of luck! □ an interesting piece of information □ It's an excellent piece of work/writing. -3. GAMES one of a set of objects that are moved by players in some board games, e.g. chess or checkers □ a chess piece. -4. [of music, art] a single work of art, music, drama, or journalism □ The "Emperor Concerto" is one of Beethoven's best-known pieces. □ There was a piece about it in yesterday's paper. -5. a 50 cent/10 pence piece a coin that is worth 50 cents/10 pence □ a 10-cent piece.

◆ piece together vt sep to piece sthg together [story, truth] to gradually find out about sthg by deciding how the facts fit together □

Gradually, we were able to piece together details of the crime.

pièce de résistance [US pɪ,esdərəzi:'stɑ:ns, GB pɪ,esdere:'zɪstɑ:ns] (pl pièces de résistance [pɪ,es-]) n the best or most important one of a group of things, e.g. works of art or courses of a meal □ The pièce de résistance was an incredible salmon mousse.

piecemeal ['pi:smi:l] ◇ adj [change, withdrawal] that happens gradually, a little at a time. ◇ adv [change, withdrawal] The town was rebuilt piecemeal after the war.

piecework ['pi:swɜ:k] n work that is paid according to the amount of work somebody does, and not according to the amount of time they spend doing it.

pie chart n a circle divided into sections by lines drawn from the center, used to show how something, e.g. the population or money, is divided into different groups.

piéd-à-terre [pɪ,eiɔɑ:'teə] (pl piéd-à-terre [pɪ,eiɔɑ-]) n a small house or apartment, usually in a town, that is owned by somebody living somewhere else who only uses it some of the time.

Pied Piper [ˌpaɪd-]: the Pied Piper in German folk stories, a musician who took all the rats away from the town of Hamelin by playing his flute. When the people of the town refused to pay him, he took all the children away.

pier [pɪə] n a long wooden or metal structure that sticks out into the sea, is used for people to walk on, and often has amusement arcades or a small theater built on it.

pierce [pɪəʃs] vt -1. to make a small hole in or through <sthg> with a sharp object □ Pierce the film several times with a fork and microwave for four minutes. ■ to have one's ears pierced to have small holes made in parts of one's ears, so that one can wear earrings. -2. to be suddenly heard, seen, or felt through the darkness, silence etc □ A flashlight pierced the darkness.

pierced [pɪəʃt] adj [ear, nose] that has been pierced so that one can wear earrings or rings.

piercing ['pɪəʃɪŋ] adj -1. [sound, scream] that is unpleasantly high and loud □ He blew into the instrument and produced high, piercing notes. -2. [wind] that is very cold and strong. -3. [eyes] that are very bright and seem able to see and understand things very clearly □ piercing blue eyes □ She gave me a piercing look.

piety ['piəti] n strong belief in and respect for God, shown by one's behavior.

pig [pɪg] (pt & pp pigged, cont pigging) n -1. an animal that is usually pink, has a flat nose, short legs, and a short curly tail, and is often kept on farms for its meat. -2. a person who eats too much, or who eats in a greedy and untidy way (informal and disapproving use) □ Try to eat properly and stop being such a pig! ■ to make a pig of oneself to eat a lot of food at one time □ I made such a pig of myself at Mark's yesterday. -3. a word used to refer to somebody one thinks is unkind or unpleasant (informal and disapproving use). □ You pig! You've taken my jacket again!

◆ pig out vi to eat a lot of food at one time (informal use) □ If we go to the pizza place we can really pig out.

pigeon ['pɪdʒən] (pl pigeon OR pigeons) n a bird that often lives in cities and has a small head, a large body, and gray or white feathers. Some types of pigeon are used to carry messages.

pigeon-chested [-'tʃestəd] adj [person] who has a narrow chest that sticks out at the front.

pigeonhole ['pɪdʒənhoʊl] ◇ n one of the square compartments in a wooden framework attached to a wall or on a desk, where messages, mail, or documents are left for somebody or kept □ Was there anything in my pigeonhole? ◇ vt [person, job, policy] to decide that <sb/sthg> is a particular type of person or thing, even if this is not completely true □ They pigeonholed her as a feminist.

pigeon-toed [-təʊd] adj [person] whose feet point slightly toward each other when they are standing or walking.

piggish ['pɪgɪʃ] adj [manners, behavior, person] very rude and unpleasant.

piggy ['pɪgɪ] (compar piggier, superl piggiest, pl piggies) ◇ adj [eyes, face] that makes somebody look like a pig. ◇ n a word used by young children to refer to a pig (informal use).

piggyback ['pɪgɪbæk] n to give sb a piggyback (ride) to carry sb, especially a child, on one's back, supporting their legs with one's arms.

piggybank ['pɪgɪbæŋk] n a child's money box, often in the shape of a pig, with a narrow space at the top to put coins in.

pigheaded [ˌpɪg'hedəd] adj [person, attitude, behavior] unreasonably stubborn □ She can be so pigheaded sometimes.

piglet ['pɪglət] n a young pig.

pigment ['pɪgmənt] n -1. [in hair, skin, plants] a natural substance that gives something its color. -2. a powder that is mixed with a liquid to make paint, dyes etc.

pigmentation [ˌpɪgmən'teɪʃn] n [of skin, hair, plants] the natural coloring produced by pigment.

pigmy ['pɪgmɪ] (pl pigmies) n = pygmy.

pigpen ['pɪgpen] n FARMING = pigsty.

pigskin ['pɪgskɪn] n the leather made from the skin of pigs □ a pigskin bag/strap.

pigsty ['pɪgstɑɪ] (pl pigsties) n -1. FARMING a closed area or building where pigs are kept. -2. a very dirty messy place □ This place is a complete pigsty!

pigswill ['pɪgswɪl] n -1. FARMING food given to pigs. -2. food of very poor quality (informal use).

pigtail ['pɪgteɪl] n one of two bunches of long hair braided or tied together so that they hang on either side of one's face or head; a

- single bunch of hair braided or tied together so that it hangs down one's back.
- pike [paɪk] (pl sense 1 only pike OR pikes) n -1. a large freshwater fish with sharp teeth that eats other fish. -2. MILITARY a kind of spear used by soldiers in the past.
- pilaster [pɪ'læstə] n a decorative rectangular column forming part of the wall of a building.
- pilchard ['pɪltʃərd] n a small saltwater fish often sold in cans as food.
- pile [paɪl] ◇ n -1. [of sand, washing] a quantity of something that is gathered together and forms a single mass that is higher in the middle than at the sides; [of books, plates, bricks] a tidy collection of objects, usually of the same kind, placed on top of each other □ a pile of old newspapers. ■ piles OR a pile of sthg [of money, work] a lot of sthg (informal use) □ He made piles of money. -2. [of carpet, velvet] the soft surface of a material formed by short threads or fibers.
◇ vt [papers, books, logs] to make a pile of  □ She piled the plates neatly in the sink. ■ to be piled with sthg to be filled or covered with a large quantity of sthg □ The sink was piled (high) with dirty plates.
- ◆ piles npl MEDICINE = hemorrhoids.
- ◆ pile in vi [spectators, passengers] to enter somewhere together in an uncontrolled way (informal use) □ I opened the door and they all piled in.
- ◆ pile into vt fus to pile into sthg [car, bus, house] to enter sthg in an uncontrolled way as a group (informal use) □ We all piled into the back of the truck.
- ◆ pile out vi [spectators, passengers] to leave somewhere together in an uncontrolled way (informal use) □ Even before the final whistle the crowds were piling out of the stadium.
- ◆ pile up ◇ vt sep to pile sthg up [books, papers, logs] to make a pile of a lot of sthg □ He piled the plates up on one side of the sink. ◇ vi [work, debts, evidence] to increase gradually in quantity □ The bills just keep piling up.
- pile driver n a machine for forcing heavy posts into the ground as supports for buildings, bridges etc.
- pileup ['paɪlʌp] n a crash involving a line of vehicles in which each one has hit the back of the one in front □ There was a massive pileup on the freeway.
- pilfer ['pɪlfə] ◇ vi [food, clothing, supplies] to steal small quantities of <sthg>. ◇ vi: He was caught pilfering from the supermarket.
- pilgrim ['pɪlgrɪm] n a person who goes on a pilgrimage.
- ◆ Pilgrims npl the Pilgrims the first English people who settled in America. They went there to follow their religious beliefs freely.
- pilgrimage ['pɪlgrɪmɪdʒ] n a journey to a holy place for religious reasons □ Their aim is to make/go on a pilgrimage to Mecca.
- Pilgrim Fathers npl = Pilgrims.
- pill [pɪl] n -1. MEDICINE medicine in the form of a small, rounded, solid object that is swallowed □ He has to take pills for his high blood pressure. -2. the pill a hormone taken in pill form by women as a contraceptive. ■ to be on the pill to use the pill regularly □ She said she was on the pill.
- pillage ['pɪlɪdʒ] ◇ n violent robbery and destruction, especially by an army in wartime. ◇ vt [houses, town, area] to attack and rob  in a violent destructive way, especially in wartime.
- pillar ['pɪlə] n a tall column, usually of stone, used as a support for a building or as a monument. ■ to be a pillar of sthg [of a community, church] to be an influential and active member or supporter of sthg. ■ a pillar of strength a person who is emotionally strong and gives support to other people.
- pillar box n GB a red public mailbox shaped like a vertical cylinder that is found in the street.
- pillbox ['pɪlbɒks] n -1. a small round box for keeping pills in. -2. MILITARY a small, usually circular, concrete shelter for soldiers from which a gun can be fired.
- pillion ['pɪljən] n to ride pillion to travel on a motorcycle, sitting behind the driver.
- pillory ['pɪləri] (pl pillories, pt & pp pilloried) ◇ n a wooden framework with holes for the neck and wrists of criminals who were locked there in the past to be punished and humiliated. ◇ vt to criticize <sb/sthg> very strongly in public □ His opinions were pilloried in the press.
- pillow ['pɪləʊ] n -1. [on a bed] a rectangular cushion used to support one's head in bed. -2. US [on a chair, sofa] a small decorative cushion.
- pillowcase ['pɪləʊkeɪs], pillowslip ['pɪləʊslɪp] n a cloth cover for a pillow that can be removed and washed.
- pilot ['paɪlət] ◇ n -1. AVIATION a person who is trained to fly an aircraft □ a helicopter/fighter pilot □ The crash was apparently due to pilot error. -2. SHIPPING a person who comes onto a ship in order to steer it through a difficult section of water, e.g. a harbor entrance. -3. TV a TV program that, if it is popular, may be continued as a series □ They've been making a pilot for a new drama series.
◇ comp [project, scheme, study] that is carried out on a small scale to see if it is worth doing on a larger scale.
◇ vt -1. AVIATION [plane, helicopter] to fly . -2. SHIPPING [ferry, tanker] to act as the pilot of . -3. [law, bill, plan] to introduce and support the progress of <sthg> □ Senator Dilkin successfully piloted the bill through Congress. -4. [project, system] to test <sthg> on a small scale to see if it is worth doing on a larger scale □ An identity card system is being piloted in some cities.
- pilot light, pilot burner n a small flame, e.g. in a gas stove, that burns constantly and is used to light the main flame.
- pimento [pɪ'mentəʊ] (pl pimento OR pimentos) n a sweet pepper □ a red/yellow/green pimento.

pimp [pɪmp] n a man who controls prostitutes and takes part of the money they earn (informal use).

pimple ['pɪmpl] n a small red spot on one's skin, especially on one's face.

pimplly ['pɪmplɪ] (compar pimplier, superl pimpliest) adj [face, skin] that has pimples □ a pimply teenager.

pin [pɪn] (pt & pp pinned, cont pinning) ◇ n
 -1. [for fabric] a short piece of very fine metal with a sharp point at one end and a round head at the other, used to hold together pieces of fabric. ■ to have pins and needles to have an unpleasant feeling in a part of one's body caused by blood returning after being cut off by pressure, e.g. because one has been sitting or lying in an uncomfortable position □ I have pins and needles in my foot/legs. ■ to be on pins and needles US to be very nervous or excited about something that is going to happen, but that one is not certain about □ I was on pins and needles all day waiting for the result. -2. a safety pin. -3. US a piece of jewelry that is attached to clothes using a pin at the back, worn by women on blouses, jackets etc. -4. TECHNOLOGY a metal or wooden peg used to support things, hold things together etc □ Doctors inserted a metal pin in his leg. -5. [on a grenade] a clip on a hand grenade that stops it exploding until it is removed. -6. the pin GOLF the flagpole that shows players where the hole in the green is. -7. GB ELECTRICITY one of the metal parts on an electric plug which fit into a wall socket □ a two-/three-pin plug.

◇ vt -1. to pin sth on OR to pin sth [piece of cloth, medal, notice] to attach sth with a pin or pins to sth else □ She had a brooch pinned to her jacket. -2. to pin sb against OR to pin sb [against a wall, to the floor] to hold sb firmly against sth so that they are unable to move □ He pinned me against the wall with his arms. -3. to pin sth on sb [crime] to show that sb is responsible for sth (informal use) □ They're trying to pin the blame on me!

◆ pin down vt sep -1. to pin sth down to define or identify sth exactly □ I know there's something wrong but it's hard to pin down. -2. to pin sb down to force sb to be definite about something □ We must try and pin him down to a schedule.

◆ pin up vt sep -1. to pin sth up [poster, notice] to pin sth on a wall. -2. to pin sth up [hem, sleeve, hair] to pin sth so that the end is in a higher position □ She'd pinned her hair up into a bun.

PIN [pɪn] (abbr of personal identification number) n = PIN number.

pinafore ['pɪnəfɔ:] n a kind of apron with a strap that goes around one's neck and that covers one's chest.

pinafore dress n GB a kind of dress without sleeves that is worn over a blouse or other garment.

pinball ['pɪnbɔ:l] n a game played on a machine like a large sloping box with a glass cover. A steel ball inside rolls down toward the player, who tries to send it back up the slope and score points by hitting targets, using movable parts controlled by buttons on the side of the machine.

pinball machine, pinball table n a machine on which pinball is played.

pincers ['pɪnsəz] npl -1. a tool consisting of two crossed pieces of metal hinged in the middle and with curved parts at one end that are used to grip things, e.g. a nail that must be pulled out of wood □ a pair of pincers □ I need some pincers. -2. [of a crab, lobster] the front claws of some shellfish.

pinch [pɪntʃ] ◇ vt -1. [arm, cheek, person] to squeeze <sb/sthg> tightly between one's thumb and forefinger □ I had to pinch myself to make sure I wasn't dreaming. □ I can't believe it! He pinched my bottom! -2. [money, car, clothes] to steal <sthg> (informal use) □ She's pinched all my favorite records.

◇ vi [shoes] to hurt somebody by being too tight.

◇ n -1. the act of pinching somebody or something with one's fingers □ She gave him a pinch to wake him up. ■ to feel the pinch to be suffering because one does not have enough money □ Everyone is feeling the pinch in the current recession. -2. [of salt, sugar, powder] a small amount of something, about as much as one can hold between one's thumb and forefinger □ Add a pinch of nutmeg.

◆ in a pinch US, at a pinch GB adv if there is no other alternative □ In a pinch we could probably fit another person in.

pinched [pɪntʃt] adj -1. [look, face] that is thin, pale, and looks tired □ Her face was pinched with cold/hunger. -2. to be pinched for sth [for time, money] not to have enough of sth.

pin cushion ['pɪnkʊʃn] n a very small cushion that pins are stuck into when they are not being used.

pine [paɪn] ◇ n a tall evergreen tree with needle-shaped leaves and brown cones; the wood of this tree □ a pine forest □ a pine table/kitchen. ◇ vi to be very unhappy because one is missing somebody or something very much □ She's pining for her friends.

◆ pine away vi to become weaker and slowly die from pining □ After his wife died, he just pined away.

pineapple ['paɪnæpl] n a large oval tropical fruit with sweet yellow flesh, tough, brown, knobbly skin, and thin hard leaves growing out of the top; the flesh of this fruit □ pineapple juice.

pinecone ['paɪnkəʊn] n a small, brown, oval object that grows on a pine tree and contains seeds.

pine needle n a thin, sharp, dark-green leaf that grows on a pinetree.

pinetree ['paɪntri:] n a pine.

pinewood ['paɪnwʊd] n -1. an area full of pinetrees. -2. the wood of the pinetree □ The furniture is made from pinewood.

ping [pɪŋ] ◇ n a short, sharp, ringing sound made when a hard object hits metal, glass etc □ There was a loud ping as the strap broke.
◇ vi [bell, metal] to make a ping □ It will ping when the food's ready.

Ping-PongTM n table tennis.

pinhole ['pɪnhəʊl] n a small hole made by a pin or something similar.

pinion ['pɪnjən] ◇ n TECHNOLOGY a small cogwheel that drives or is driven by a larger cogwheel. ◇ vt to tie or hold <sb> by their arms or legs to prevent them from moving.

pink [pɪŋk] ◇ adj [cheeks, dress, flowers] of a color between red and white. ■ to turn OR go pink to become red in the face because of embarrassment □ When I mentioned it he turned pink. ◇ n -1. a color between red and white □ a lovely shade of pink. -2. GARDENING a garden plant with sweet-smelling pink, white, or red flowers.

pinkie ['pɪŋki] n one's little finger (humorous and informal use).

pinking ['pɪŋkɪŋ] n GB AUTO metallic knocking sounds made by an engine that is not running properly.

pinking scissors, pinking shears npl scissors that have a row of V-shapes along the edges of the blades, used to cut material so that it does not fray □ a pair of pinking scissors.

pin money n small amounts of extra money saved or earned, especially by a married woman, for personal expenses.

pinnacle ['pɪnəkl] n -1. the pinnacle of sthg [of success, one's career] the highest point of something □ He had reached the pinnacle of fame. -2. [of a mountain] a pointed mountain peak. -3. [of a building] the pointed top part of a church spire, tower etc.

PIN number n a number that a person uses with a special card in order to use a cash dispenser to take out money, check their balance etc.

Pinocchio [pɪ'noukiəʊ] a wooden puppet in a fairy story who is brought to life. When he lies his nose grows longer.

pinpoint ['pɪnpɔɪnt] vt -1. [cause, danger] to identify <sthg> exactly □ I was unable to pinpoint the source of the problem. -2. [position, target] to find or show the exact location of <sthg> □ He pinpointed it on the map.

pinprick ['pɪnpɪk] n a small mark or hole made by the point of a pin or something similar; the feeling one has when this kind of point touches one's skin.

pin-striped adj [suit, cloth] that has very thin, vertical, white stripes on a dark background.

pint [paɪnt] n -1. a unit (US 0.473 liters, GB 0.568 liters) for measuring liquids □ a pint of milk. -2. GB a pint of beer □ Do you feel like going for a pint? □ a pint of lager.

pint-size(d) adj very small (informal use).

pinup ['pɪnʌp] n a picture of an attractive or famous person for pinning up on a wall, door etc; a person who often appears in this type of picture □ The walls were covered with pinups. □ She was a famous 1940s pinup.

pioneer [ˌpaɪə'niə] ◇ n -1. [in a place] a person who is one of the first to settle in and develop an area or country □ one of the early Spanish pioneers. -2. [in a subject] a person who is one of the first to study and develop a new area of activity or knowledge □ a pioneer of modern medicine/new political thinking. □ He was a pioneer in the field of quantum mechanics. ◇ vt [activity, invention, process] to act as a pioneer in the development or introduction of <sthg> □ She pioneered the use of plastic, rather than metal, for the process.

pioneering [ˌpaɪə'niəriŋ] adj [work, research] that is the first to introduce or develop a new activity or knowledge □ a pioneering study of the Brazilian rain forest.

pious ['paɪəs] adj -1. [person] who behaves in a way that shows sincere respect for their religion □ a very pious man. -2. [comments, behavior, expression] that somebody intends to seem sincere but which is seen by other people to be false (disapproving use).

piously ['paɪəsli] adv [behave, act, say] see pious (disapproving use).

pip [pɪp] n GB [in an apple, orange, lemon] a seed from a fruit □ an apple/lemon pip.

◆ pips npl the pips the series of short high-pitched notes used on the radio or telephone as a way of showing what time it is.

pipe [paɪp] ◇ n -1. [for water, oil, gas] a tube for carrying liquids or gases □ a gas/hot water pipe □ a metal pipe. -2. [for smoking] an object consisting of a tube with a small bowl at one end that is used for smoking tobacco □ a man smoking a pipe. -3. MUSIC any musical instrument that is shaped like a narrow tube and is played by blowing air through it □ an organ pipe. ◇ vt -1. to move  through pipes □ The gas is piped underground. -2. to play <music> over loudspeakers in a public place □ They were piping some awful electronic music over the loudspeakers.

◆ pipes npl the pipes MUSIC the bagpipes □ I could hear some pipes playing in the distance.

◆ pipe down vi to stop talking or making a noise (informal use) □ Pipe down, will you!

◆ pipe up vi to begin to speak suddenly or unexpectedly (informal use) □ It was Sophie who piped up with the answer.

pipe cleaner n a flexible length of wire covered in soft material, used for cleaning inside a tobacco pipe.

pipéd music [ˌpaɪpt-] n recorded music played continuously over loudspeakers in public places, e.g. supermarkets or restaurants.

pipe dream n something that one wants to happen in the future but that is not likely to happen or is impossible □ Moving abroad? It's just a pipe dream at the moment.

pipeline ['paɪplaɪn] n a very long, large, metal pipe made in separate sections for carrying oil, gas etc over long distances □ an oil/a gas pipeline. ■ to be in the pipeline to be in preparation □ Major changes are in the pipeline.

piper ['paɪpə] n a musician who plays the bagpipes □ We heard a piper in the distance.

piping hot ['paɪpɪŋ-] adj [food, coffee, soup] very hot □ Be careful, the water's piping hot.

pipsqueak ['pɪpskwɪk] n a person, especially a child, who acts as if they are more important than they really are (disapproving use).

piquant ['pi:kə:nt] adj -1. [food] that tastes hot. -2. [situation, story] full of meaning.

pique [pi:k] n anger that one feels because one's pride has been hurt □ He resigned in a fit of pique.

piracy ['paɪrəsi] n -1. [at sea] robbery carried out by pirates □ an act of piracy. -2. [of video tape, music, software] the act of copying and selling something illegally.

piranha [pɪ'ra:nə] n a small South American freshwater fish with sharp teeth that eats meat.

pirate ['paɪrət] ◇ comp [video, cassette, edition] that is copied illegally to be sold □ Pirate copies of the movie have flooded the market. ◇ n -1. SHIPPING a person who attacks and robs ships at sea. -2. BUSINESS a person who copies and sells videos, cassettes etc illegally. ◇ vt [videotape, music, software] to copy and sell <sthg> illegally.

pirate radio n GB radio stations that broadcast programs illegally □ a pirate radio station.

pirouette [ˌpɪrəʊ'et] ◇ n a fast turn made by a ballet dancer while balancing on one foot. ◇ vi to perform a pirouette.

Pisces ['paɪsɪz] n a sign of the zodiac, often represented by two fish; a person born under this sign between February 20 and March 20.

piss∇ [pɪs] (very informal use) ◇ n -1. urine. ■ to have a piss to urinate. -2. to take the piss out of sb/sthg GB to make fun of sb/sthg. ◇ vi to urinate.

◆ piss off∇ ◇ vt sep to piss sb off to make sb angry. ◇ vi GB to go away. ■ piss off! a phrase used to tell somebody to go away.

pissed∇ [pɪst] adj (very informal use) -1. to be pissed US to be annoyed. -2. to be pissed GB to be drunk.

pissed off∇ adj to be pissed off to be annoyed (very informal use).

pistachio [pɪ'stæʃɪoʊ] (pl pistachios) n a pistachio (nut) a small nut that is green inside the shell.

piste [pi:st] n GB a track in snow for skiing on □ skiing on the piste.

pistol ['pɪstl] n a small handgun.

piston ['pɪstən] n a cylinder-shaped part of an engine whose movement up and down inside a cylinder makes the other parts of the engine move.

pit [pɪt] (pt & pp pitted, cont pitting) ◇ n -1. [in the ground] a large, usually deep hole □ They had dug a deep pit to bury the waste. □ a burial pit. -2. [in a road, metal, glass] a small shallow hole in the surface of something; [in one's skin] a small hollow scar left by a disease such as smallpox. -3. [in a theater] = orchestra pit. -4. a coalmine □ He's worked down the pit all his life. -5. a quarry □ a chalk/clay pit. -6. US

[of a cherry, plum] the hard seed in the center of some fruits. -7. the pit of one's stomach the part of the stomach where people say they can feel an emotion such as fear □ I had this terrible feeling in the pit of my stomach.

◇ vt to be pitted against sb to compete with sb in a test of strength, endurance etc □ We were pitted against people with twice our experience. ■ to pit one's wits against sb to compete with sb in a test of intelligence □ an opportunity to pit your wits against the experts.

◆ pits npl -1. the pits SPORT the area on a motor racing track where cars stop for fuel, tire changes, repairs etc. -2. the pits the worst possible example of something (informal use) □ This program is the pits! □ This really is the pits! I'm leaving!

pita bread ['pɪtə] US, pitta bread ['pɪtə] GB n a type of small flat bread that is hollow in the center and can be used to put meat, salad etc in.

pit bull (terrier) n a large dog with a short smooth coat, originally bred for fighting.

pitch [pɪtʃ] ◇ n -1. MUSIC [of a sound, note, voice] a measure of how high or low a sound is □ His voice reached an even higher pitch. -2. [of a feeling] the strength of a feeling □ Tension reached such a pitch that troops were called in to restore order. -3. [to a customer, crowd] the things somebody says when they are trying to persuade somebody else to do something, e.g. to buy something □ Then he gave her his pitch about how nice it was in Majorca in August. -4. [of a ship, plane] the upward and downward movement of the front part of a ship or aircraft. -5. [for a boat, roof] a sticky black substance that comes from melting tar and is used, e.g. on a ship, to seal gaps and prevent water from passing through. -6. GB SPORT an area of ground on which a particular sport is played □ a soccer/cricket pitch.

◇ vt -1. [ball, coin] to throw <sthg> in a particular direction after aiming first □ Karl pitched the bottle up in the air/into the lake. ■ to be pitched into sthg to be suddenly forced into sthg that is difficult to deal with □ I was suddenly pitched into a completely new working environment. -2. to set  at a particular level □ Our prices are pitched very competitively. -3. [talk, exam] to write, give, or design <sthg> in a way that is suitable for a particular audience □ Try to pitch it at a level they will understand. -4. to pitch a tent to put a tent up. ■ to pitch camp to set up one's camp.

◇ vi -1. [ball] to bounce off the ground in a particular way after being thrown □ The ball pitched up suddenly into my face. -2. [passenger] to move suddenly and violently in a particular direction □ We all pitched forward as the driver hit the brakes. -3. [ship, aircraft] to move along with the front part rising or falling suddenly and violently □ The boat suddenly pitched forward throwing everyone to the ground.

◆ pitch in vi -1. to help somebody by doing the same job they are doing □ If you pitch in we can finish in time. -2. to help somebody with a job, task etc by giving them something □ We all pitched in with a few dollars.

- pitch-black adj completely dark □ It's pitch-black outside.
- pitched [pɪtʃt] adj a pitched roof a roof that slopes and is not flat.
- pitched battle n -1. a fight in which the two groups of people involved stay in one place □ There was a pitched battle between police and demonstrators. -2. a long angry dispute.
- pitcher ['pɪtʃə] n -1. [for water, wine] a jug □ a wine pitcher. -2. SPORT the player in baseball who throws the ball toward the player from the other team who tries to hit it.
- pitchfork ['pɪtʃfɔ:k] n a tool consisting of a long handle and two or three prongs, used for lifting and moving hay, grass etc.
- piteous ['pɪtiəs] adj [cry, sight, condition] that causes one to feel pity.
- piteously ['pɪtiəslɪ] adv [cry, howl] see piteous.
- pitfall ['pɪtfɔ:l] n [of success, a policy] a problem or difficulty that can happen to one in a particular activity or situation □ There are many pitfalls involved in starting up a new business.
- pith [pɪθ] n the thin white substance between the skin and the flesh of fruits such as oranges or lemons.
- pithead ['pɪthed] n the entrance to a coalmine and the buildings, machinery etc around it.
- pith helmet n a large light hat made of hard material and worn in very hot countries, especially in the past, to protect one's head from the sun.
- pithy ['pɪθɪ] (compar pithier, superl pithiest) adj [comment, description, advice] that is intelligent and expressed in a short clear way.
- pitiable ['pɪtiəbl] adj -1. [person, appearance, state] that causes one to feel pity. -2. [excuse, effort] that one considers to be worthless.
- pitiful ['pɪtɪfl] adj -1. [condition, sight] that is so sad that one feels pity □ I could hear their pitiful cries for help. -2. [excuse, wage] that is so bad that one considers it to be worthless □ He made a pitiful attempt at singing.
- pitifully ['pɪtɪflɪ] adv -1. to be pitifully ill/thin to be so ill/thin that other people feel pity for one □ He was a pitifully weak and frail old man. □ She was crying pitifully. -2. pitifully bad/low so bad/low that one considers it to be worthless □ a pitifully small wage.
- pitiless ['pɪtləs] adj -1. [killer, cruelty] that shows no pity □ a pitiless tyrant. -2. [wind, sun] strong and unpleasant □ the pitiless desert sun.
- pit stop n a stop made by a racing driver during a race to get more fuel, change tires etc.
- pitta bread n GB = pita bread.
- pittance ['pɪtns] n a very small amount of money □ They work long hours for a mere pittance.
- pitted ['pɪtəd] adj -1. [skin, face] covered in small hollow scars, e.g. as a result of smallpox □ His face was pitted with scars. -2. [metal, leather] covered in small shallow holes □ The car was pitted with rust.
- pitter-patter ['pɪtə'pætə] n [of raindrops, footsteps] a quick, light, tapping sound.
- pituitary [US 'pɪtju:ətəri, GB '-tju:ətəri] (pl pituitaries) n the pituitary (gland) a small gland at the lower part of one's brain that produces hormones that affect body growth and development.
- pity ['pɪtɪ] (pt & pp pitied) ◇ n -1. a feeling of sadness that one has for somebody who is suffering or who is having bad luck □ I feel nothing but pity for him. ■ to take OR have pity on sb to help sb because one feels pity for them □ She took pity on him because he said he had nowhere to live. -2. it's a pity it's disappointing, sad, or frustrating □ It's a pity (that) you couldn't come. □ It's a great pity to have to give up now. ■ (what a) pity! a phrase used to show that one is disappointed or sad about something □ What a pity (that) she couldn't take you with her! □ Pity! I was looking forward to it. ◇ vt to feel pity for <sb> □ His wife's the one I pity.
- pying ['pɪtɪŋ] adj [look, smile] that shows pity.
- pivot ['pɪvət] ◇ n -1. a fixed central point or object on which something turns or balances □ The propellor spins around a metal pivot. -2. [of an argument, group of people, somebody's life] the basic idea, person, or thing at the center of something □ Mr Perez is the pivot around which the coalition revolves. ◇ vi -1. to turn on a pivot or as if on a pivot □ He pivoted on his heels. -2. to pivot on sthg to depend on sthg □ Everything pivots on her decision.
- pixel ['pɪksl] n the smallest unit of an image on a computer screen.
- pixie, pixy ['pɪksɪ] (pl pixies) n a small imaginary creature in children's stories.
- pizza ['pɪtsə] n a dish consisting of a flat round piece of dough baked in an oven and covered in cheese, tomato sauce, and other kinds of food.
- pizzazz [pə'zæz] n a quality that makes somebody or something exciting and attractive (informal use) □ We want someone for the job who has lots of pizzazz.
- Pk abbr of park.
- Pl abbr of place.
- P & L n abbr of profit and loss.
- placard ['plækɑ:d] n a notice carried on a stick in a march, demonstration etc.
- placate [US 'pleɪkeɪt, GB plə'keɪt] vt to make <sb> calm, especially by doing or saying something to please them □ It's no use trying to placate him, he's furious.
- placatory [US 'pleɪkətɔ:ri, GB plə'keɪtəri] adj [remark, gesture] intended to placate somebody.
- place [pleɪs] ◇ n -1. a general word used to describe where something is or happens, or where somebody works, lives etc □ Keep an eye open for a good place to stop. □ Provence is a lovely place. □ There are plenty of places to eat in town. □ We're looking for a cheap place to rent. □ There's a place called Guadalongue somewhere on the coast. □ These people have no place to live. ■ one's place of birth the town where one was born (formal use). -2. a particular point or position in a larger area □

Show me the place where it hurts. □ The fabric was torn in several places. -3. the proper position of a person or thing □ If you must borrow my books, at least put them back in their place. ■ everything fell into place it became possible to understand the connection between a series of different facts or events □ Once we knew he was ill, things OR everything fell into place. ■ to put sb in their place to stop sb from behaving as though they were more intelligent or important than they really are □ He was trying to boss me around, but I soon put him in his place! -4. [to do something] a suitable time to do or say something □ This seems like a good place to mention next month's meeting. -5. [for living in] somebody's home □ There's a party at Tim's place tonight. □ Let's go back to my place for coffee. -6. [in a theater, classroom, on a plane] an available seat where somebody can sit □ There's an empty space at the end of the row. -7. [at a table] a space in which knives, forks, spoons etc are arranged for one person to use at a meal □ We can easily set another place for dinner. -8. [on a committee, at a college, in a team] the right to be on a course or be a member of a team, committee etc □ I've applied for a place on a journalism course. -9. [of a person, country] the position of somebody or something in relation to other people or things in the same organization, society, system etc □ It's not my place to question his decisions. □ the place of Europe in world affairs. -10. first/second/third place first/second/third position in the result of a competition, exam etc □ He finished the race in fourth place. -11. [in a book, line] the point one has reached in a book, speech, line of people etc □ Don't shut the book or I'll lose my place. □ Could you keep my place in line while I go and buy something? -12. MATH = decimal place. -13. in the first place a phrase used to describe what happened or went wrong at the beginning of a series of events □ He should never have been told about it in the first place! ■ in the first place... and in the second place phrases used to list reasons or explanations for something □ In the first place, he wasn't there, and in the second place, I wouldn't have spoken to him if he had been. -14. phrases to take place [event, accident, ceremony] to happen or be held □ The wedding will take place on August 16th. □ The meeting will no longer take place as planned. ■ to take the place of sb/sthg to replace sb/sthg □ Who will take her place on the team when she leaves?

◇ vt -1. to put <sthg> in a particular position, especially carefully or intentionally □ She placed a hand over my mouth. □ Someone had placed a vase of flowers beside my bed. -2. to put <sb> in a particular situation □ That would mean placing a lot of innocent people in danger. -3. to place blame/stress on sthg to blame/stress sthg □ They feel more emphasis should be placed on the role of training. -4. I can't place him/her I can't remember who he/she is, or where I last met them □ I recognized his face, but I couldn't quite place him. -5. BUSINESS to place an order to order goods to be sent to one. ■ to place a bet to make a bet. ■ to place an advertisement to pay for an advertisement to appear in a newspaper, magazine etc □ They've just placed an order with us for twenty computers. □ Ladies and gentlemen, please place your bets. □ Why not place an ad in the local paper? -6. to be placed SPORT to finish a race, competition etc in first, second, or third place □ The Canadian runner was placed second.

◆ all over the place adv [search, lie] everywhere □ People had come from all over the place to hear him speak. □ There were magazines and newspapers scattered all over the place.

◆ in place adv -1. in the proper or normal position □ We put all the furniture back in place. □ Hold it in place while I nail it down. -2. ready to be used □ The new legislation/computer system is now in place.

◆ in place of prep instead of <sb/sthg> □ Jane's assistant is going to the conference in my place. □ You can use honey in place of sugar.

◆ out of place adv to look/feel out of place to look/feel as if one does not belong or fit in a particular situation □ He felt out of place among so many young people.

placebo [plə'si:bou] (pl placebos OR placeboes) n a substance that looks like a medical drug and is given to some of the people in a test to see if a real drug actually works.

place card n a card with somebody's name on it, used to show them where they should sit, e.g. at a dinner table.

place kick n in football, rugby etc a kick at a ball that is held or has been placed ready on the ground.

place mat n a mat that is put at each place setting on a table and on which plates are put.

placement ['pleɪsmənt] n -1. the act or process of placing something in a particular position. -2. BUSINESS a job for a fixed period, usually for a student to gain some experience in the work they are training for □ We try to put all our students on placement. □ a work placement program.

placement service n US an agency, especially in a college or university, that helps people to find jobs.

placenta [plə'sentə] (pl placentas OR placentae [-ti:]) n the mass of flesh and veins attached to the fetus in the womb of a pregnant woman or female mammal and that comes out of the vagina after the baby is born.

place setting n the set of knives, forks, spoons, and glasses arranged on a table for the use of one person at a meal.

placid ['plæsəd] adj -1. [person, animal] that is calm and does not easily get angry or excited □ He has a very placid nature. -2. [sea, place] peaceful.

placidly ['plæsədli] adv [say, smile] see placid.

plagiarism ['pleɪdʒəriəm] n -1. something that has been plagiarized. -2. the practice of plagiarizing other people's work or ideas.

plagiarist ['pleɪdʒərəst] n a person who plagiarizes other people's work or ideas.

plagiarize, -ise ['pleɪdʒəraɪz] vt [idea, words, piece of music] to copy <sthg> from somebody else and claim that it is one's own.

plague [pleɪg] ◇ n -1. [of cholera, typhoid] an attack of a particular disease that spreads quickly and kills many people □ a cholera plague. -2. (the) plague a very infectious disease that causes fever, swellings on one's body, and death □ an outbreak of plague □ a plague victim. ■ to avoid sb/sthg like the plague to take great care to avoid sb/sthg. -3. [of rats, locusts] a very large number of unpleasant things that cause a lot of harm in one area and cannot be controlled □ a plague of red ants.

◇ vt -1. to plague sb with sthg [with questions, complaints] to annoy sb repeatedly with sthg. -2. to be plagued by sthg [by bad luck, ill-health] to be continually affected by sthg.

plaice [pleɪs] (pl plaice) n a flat sea fish with a brown body and white meat that is popular as food □ plaice fillets.

plaid [plæd] n a fabric with a design of checks and crossing lines on it □ a plaid skirt.

Plaid Cymru [ˌplæɪd'kəmru] n a Welsh nationalist political party whose aim is Welsh independence.

plain [pleɪn] ◇ adj -1. [sweater, paper] that is all one color and has no pattern, marks etc on it □ a plain white shirt □ a plain envelope. -2. [food, design] that is simple and has little decoration □ He writes in a plain, uncomplicated style. -3. [fact, answer] clear and easy to understand □ The reason is plain to see. □ It's plain (that) she's lying. □ The truth is plain to everyone. ■ to make sthg plain to sb to make sure that sb understands sthg □ She made it plain to him that she couldn't go. -4. [statement, speaking] that is direct, honest, and sometimes offends people □ I just want the plain truth. □ I told him in plain English what I thought. -5. [madness, stupidity] complete □ It would be plain suicide to go back now. -6. [woman, girl] not pretty □ She's a nice girl, but rather plain.

◇ adv [stupid, impossible] completely (informal use) □ You must be plain crazy!

◇ n a large area of flat land with few trees on it □ vast open plains □ A large town stood on the plain below.

plain chocolate n GB chocolate that is darker and more bitter than milk chocolate.

plain-clothes adj [policeman, detective] who is working in ordinary clothes and is not wearing a uniform.

plain flour n GB flour that is not mixed with baking powder and does not make cookies, pastry etc rise when cooked in an oven.
NOTE: Compare self-rising flour.

plainly ['pleɪnli] adv -1. [upset, angry] obviously □ She was plainly not happy about the situation. □ Plainly, there was something wrong. -2. [decorate, dress, speak] see plain □ She dresses plainly for work.

plain sailing n it's plain sailing GB it's easy and there are no problems or difficulties □ Once they have agreed the terms of the loan it should be plain sailing from then on.

Plains Indian n a member of any of the Native American peoples who lived in the Great Plains of North America before European settlers arrived.

plainspoken [ˌpleɪn'spoukən] adj [person] who says what they think in a direct and honest way that sometimes offends people.

plaintiff ['pleɪntɪf] n LAW a person who brings a case against somebody in court.

NOTE: Compare defendant.

plaintive ['pleɪntɪv] adj [look, voice, song] that expresses sadness or suffering.

plain yogurt n yogurt that has no added flavorings.

plait [plæt] GB ◇ vt [hair, rope, grass] to twist three or more lengths of <sthg> over and under each other to make one thick length. ◇ n [of hair, rope, grass] a length of something that has been divided into three and plaited □ She wore her hair in plaits.

plan [plæn] (pt & pp planned, cont planning) ◇ n -1. an arrangement for doing something in the future □ They drew up a plan designed to improve productivity. □ a government/company plan □ a marketing/pension/savings plan. ■ to go according to plan [event, campaign] to happen or progress as it was intended to □ Everything went according to plan. -2. [of a campaign, story] a general description of the main points of something □ All applicants must submit a research plan. -3. [of a new building, machine] a detailed technical drawing of something, especially something that is going to be made or built; [of a house, room] the shape of something and the way it is arranged into different parts □ an architect's plan □ I haven't seen the new plans yet.

◇ vt -1. [trip, takeover, career] to prepare for <sthg> by deciding how it is going to be done □ They're planning a new venture. □ The meeting will take place as planned. □ The test was planned for next week. -2. to plan to do sthg to intend to do sthg □ We're planning to leave tomorrow. -3. [garden, building] to design <sthg>; [book, speech] to decide and arrange the main points of <sthg> □ The houses were planned as homes for poor people. □ You should plan in advance what you're going to say.

◇ vi to organize things in advance □ It is important to plan ahead.

◆ plans npl aims or intentions □ The new budget forced us to change our plans. □ Do you have any plans for tonight?

◆ plan for vt fus to plan for sthg to prepare oneself for sthg that will happen in the future □ We hadn't planned for so many people. □ He's planning for his retirement.

◆ plan on vt fus to plan on doing sthg to intend to do sthg □ What are you planning on doing tonight? □ I wasn't planning on going out.

◆ plan out vt sep to plan sthg out [route, course of action] to plan sthg in detail.

plane [pleɪn] ◇ n -1. AVIATION a vehicle for traveling in the air that has wings and at least one engine □ a passenger/fighter plane □ I took the 3:00pm plane from Detroit. -2. GEOMETRY a flat surface. -3. [of existence, thought, emotion] a level □ She's on a higher intellectual plane. -4. [for wood] a tool with a flat bottom that has a blade in it for removing the rough edges of a wooden surface to make it smooth. -5. a plane tree. ◇ adj [surface] flat. ◇ vt [edge, surface] to move a plane along  to make it smooth □ The bottom of the door needs planing.

planet ['plænət] n a large mass in space that moves around a star, e.g. Earth, Mars, or Venus.

planetarium [ˌplænə'teəriəm] (pl planetariums OR planetaria [-riə]) n a building that contains an instrument that projects moving images of the stars and planets onto a curved ceiling made to look like the night sky.

planetary [US 'plænətəri, GB -ətəri] adj [orbit, exploration] that is connected with a planet.

plane tree n a large tree with broad leaves that is often grown in towns.

plank [plæŋk] n -1. CONSTRUCTION a long flat piece of wood used in building □ a plank of wood OR wooden plank. -2. POLITICS one of the policies of a political party □ The main plank of their election campaign is reduced taxes.

plankton ['plæŋktən] n very small animals and plants that live near the surface of the sea and are eaten by fish and whales.

planned [plænd] adj [sale, trip] that is intended to be carried out in the future □ The planned demonstration has been called off. □ the number of planned pregnancies. ■ a planned economy an economy in which the government plans all business activity.

Planned Parenthood n a US health organization that teaches people about birth control.

planner ['plænə] n -1. a person whose job is to plan the way land is used and the way towns develop. -2. a person whose job is to plan future projects, e.g. television programming or political campaigns □ an economic planner □ a military planner.

planning ['plæniŋ] n -1. the work of organizing and controlling the way land is used and the way towns develop □ road planning □ a planning committee. -2. the work of preparing and organizing future projects, the economy etc □ A lot of planning went into this campaign. □ The project is still at the planning stage.

planning permission n official permission to build a new building or to change the structure or use of an existing building.

plan of action n a series of things that one has planned to do in order to achieve something.

plant [US plænt, GB plɑ:nt] ◇ n -1. a living thing that grows in the ground and usually has a stem, leaves, and roots □ The plants need to be watered. □ the rich plant life of Madagascar. -2. INDUSTRY a factory □ an industrial plant □ an automobile/steel plant. -3. TECHNOLOGY a power station □ a chemical/nuclear plant. -4. BUSINESS a collective term for the buildings, land, machinery, and equipment used by an industrial company □ The company has to invest in new plant if it's to survive.

◇ vt -1. [seed, tree] to put  in the ground so that it will grow □ I planted potatoes in the garden. -2. [field, garden] to put seeds or plants in the soil in  so that they will grow there □ They planted the field with corn. -3. to plant a punch/kiss on sb to punch/kiss sb □ She planted a big kiss on his cheek. -4. [chair, flag] to put <sthg> firmly in a particular place □ She planted herself in the doorway. -5. [bomb, microphone, spy] to hide <sb/sthg> in a particular place; [drug, weapon] to put <sthg> secretly in somebody's house or clothing so that they will be accused of possessing it □ He claims that the police planted the evidence on him. -6. to plant a thought/idea etc in sb's mind to cause sb to have a thought/an idea etc.

◆ plant out vt sep to plant sthg out to plant sthg outdoors after growing it in a pot □ The seedlings can be planted out in March.

plantain ['plæntən] n a large green fruit like a banana that must be cooked before it can be eaten; the large tropical plant that this fruit grows on.

plantar wart ['plæntər-] n a wart that grows on the sole of the foot.

plantation [plæn'teɪʃn] n -1. a large area of land where a particular crop is grown □ a tea/coffee/rubber plantation. -2. a large group of trees that have been planted together.

planter [US 'plæntər, GB 'plɑ:ntə] n -1. a person who owns or is in charge of a plantation. -2. a decorative container in which plants are grown.

plant pot n a round clay or plastic container, wider at the top than at the bottom, used for growing plants.

plaque [US plæk, GB plɑ:k] n -1. [on a wall] a flat piece of metal or stone with writing on it, usually in memory of a famous person or event, and attached to a wall □ a commemorative plaque. -2. [on one's teeth] a substance that forms on the surface of the teeth that contains bacteria and can cause gum disease.

plasma ['plæzmə] n the colorless liquid part of blood in which the blood cells are held □ blood plasma.

plaster [US 'plæstr, GB 'plɑ:stə] ◇ n -1. CONSTRUCTION a mixture of sand, lime, and water that dries to give a smooth, hard surface and is used especially on interior walls. -2. [for broken bones] plaster of paris in the form of a plaster cast. ■ to be in plaster [arm, leg] to be covered in a plaster cast. -3. GB [for cuts, scratches] a small sticky bandage for covering small cuts on one's body.

◇ vt -1. CONSTRUCTION [wall, ceiling] to put a layer of wet plaster on <sthg> □ She's been plastering the bathroom. -2. to plaster sthg with sthg [with mud, pictures] to cover sthg with sthg □ The wall was plastered with posters. -3. to make <sthg> stick □ He tried to plaster his hair down with gel.

plasterboard [US 'plæstrbɔ:rd, GB 'plɑ:stəbɔ:d] n a kind of board made of two pieces of card-

- board with plaster in between, used to build or cover walls.
- plaster cast n -1. [for broken bones] a case made of plaster of paris that is put around the part of a body where a bone is broken in order to keep it in place and help it to heal quicker. -2. [of a sculpture] a copy of a sculpture cast in plaster of paris.
- plastered [US 'plæstrd, GB 'plu:stəd] adj to be plastered to be drunk (informal use) □ I got completely plastered.
- plasterer [US 'plæstrər, GB 'plu:stərə] n a person whose job is to plaster walls and ceilings.
- plastering [US 'plæstrɪŋ, GB 'plu:s-] n [of a wall, ceiling] see plaster.
- plaster of paris n a mixture of a chalk powder and water that dries quickly into a hard white substance and is used especially for making plaster casts.
- plastic ['plæstɪk] ◇ n -1. a light man-made material that can be molded by heat into various shapes and is used to make a wide variety of objects □ The comb was made of plastic. -2. to pay for sthg with plastic to pay for sthg with a credit card (informal use). ◇ adj [bag, toy, spoon] made of plastic.
- ◆ plastics n BUSINESS the business of producing plastic.
- plastic bullet n a very long bullet made of plastic that is designed to hurt people without killing them, sometimes used by the police in riots.
- plastic explosive n a soft explosive material that can be shaped by hand and is used to make bombs □ The device contained 3 kilos of plastic explosive.
- Plasticine™ ['plæstə:ɪn] n GB a soft colored substance that can be shaped by hand and is used by children to make models.
- plastic money n credit cards (informal use).
- plastic surgeon n a doctor who specializes in plastic surgery.
- plastic surgery n the kind of medicine that involves repairing or improving the appearance of damaged or unattractive parts of the body □ You know he had to have plastic surgery on his nose?
- plastic wrap n US very thin plastic film that can be put over food to keep it fresh.
- plate [pleɪt] ◇ n -1. [for food] a flat dish, usually round or oval and made of pottery, that food is served on; [of food] the amount of food that this contains □ a dinner plate. ■ to have a lot on one's plate to have a lot of work to do or problems to deal with. ■ to be handed sthg on a plate [victory, success, job] to be allowed to get or achieve sthg with little effort. -2. [of metal, glass] a flat piece of a hard material □ a stainless steel plate. -3. [on a wall, machine] a flat piece of metal with writing on it □ There was a brass plate outside the door. □ a license plate. -4. [of silver, gold] a very thin coating of metal, usually covering a less valuable metal □ a frame covered in gold/silver plate. -5. [in a book] a picture or photograph that takes up a whole page □ eight pages of color plates. -6. [for one's teeth] a piece of plastic, shaped to fit the roof of one's mouth, that false teeth or wires are attached to □ a dental plate. -7. US SPORT in baseball, the place where the batter stands in order to hit the ball.

◇ vt to be plated with sthg [with nickel, platinum] to be coated with a very thin layer of sthg □ The tray has been plated with gold/silver. □ a gold/silver-plated watch.

plateau [US plæ'tou, GB 'plætou] (pl plateaus OR plateaux [-z]) n -1. GEOGRAPHY a large area of high flat land □ a grassy plateau above the valley. -2. [in activity, progress] a steady level □ The arms race was escalating wildly before it reached a plateau in the 80s.

plateful ['pleɪtfl] n an amount of food that fills a plate □ She ate platefuls of spaghetti.

plate-glass adj [window, door] that is made of large flat pieces of glass.

platelet ['pleɪtlət] n a cell found in the blood that helps it to go solid when bleeding occurs □ a blood platelet.

plate rack n a frame on which plates, cups, saucers etc are put to dry after being washed.

platform ['plætfɔ:rm] n -1. [for a speaker, performer] a flat raised structure, usually wooden, where a speaker or performer stands □ The soloists are coming onto the platform. □ She once shared a platform with the former Secretary of Defense. -2. [for a helicopter, oil rig] a raised structure, built for a particular purpose □ a helicopter platform □ an observation platform. -3. COMPUTING a word used when referring to a particular computer system □ Charges vary depending on the computer platform you're using. -4. RAIL the area beside the tracks in a train station, where people get on or off trains □ The train arriving at platform 14 is the 15:02 from Harwich. -5. [for somebody's views] something that makes it possible for an organization or a person to express their views to the rest of society □ The magazine provides a platform for the ordinary person's point of view. -6. POLITICS the aims and promises of a political party, usually stated just before an election □ The party was elected on a socialist platform.

platform game n COMPUTING a type of computer game where a character is moved from level to level, avoiding obstacles and collecting points.

platform ticket n GB a ticket that permits somebody to go onto a railroad platform, but not to travel on a train.

platinum ['plætənəm] ◇ adj [hair] silvery-white. ◇ n a very valuable silver-gray metal used in jewelry and in chemical processes. SYMBOL: Pt □ a platinum ring.

platinum blonde n a woman with very light hair that is almost white.

platitude ['plætɪtʃ:ɪd] n a statement that is boring and meaningless because it is so obvious or unoriginal □ He sat there mouthing platitudes about decency and family values.

Plato ['pleɪtəʊ] (427–347 BC) a Greek philosopher who had a strong influence on Western philosophy. His best-known work is The Republic.

platonic [plə'tɒnɪk] adj [relationship, love] that does not involve sexual attraction or activity □ I assure you, our friendship is purely platonic.

platoon [plə'tuːn] n a small group of soldiers commanded by a lieutenant.

platter ['plætə] n a large dish for serving food.

platypus ['plætɪpəs] (pl platypuses) n a small furry Australian animal that has webbed feet, a broad beak and tail, lays eggs, and is able to live both on land and in water.

plaudits ['plɔːdɪts] npl admiration or praise.

plausible ['plɔːzəbl] adj [story, excuse, plot] believable; [liar] who seems to be telling the truth, even when they are not □ I didn't find her explanation very plausible.

plausibly ['plɔːzəblɪ] adv [argue, lie] see plausible.

play [pleɪ] ◇ n -1. an activity that people, especially children, take part in for amusement or pleasure □ I like to watch the children at play. -2. THEATER, RADIO, & TV a complete piece of drama, written to be performed by actors
□ a TV/radio play. -3. SPORT to be in/out of play [ball] to be in/out of the area where the game is being played. -4. US SPORT & GAMES a move or series of moves in a sport or game
□ That last play should have produced results. □ Whose play is it? -5. to come into play [force, idea] to become active or to have an effect on a situation □ Several factors come into play in making this decision. -6. a play on words an amusing use of words that have more than one meaning. -7. [in rope, a steering wheel] the amount of movement possible by something that is not fixed firmly in one position □ You have to make sure there's not too much play in the cable.

◇ vt -1. SPORT [hockey, football, chess] to take part in
□ She plays tennis every weekend. -2. SPORT [opponent, team] to take part in a game or sport against <sb>
□ We played the Pirates last week. -3. THEATER & CINEMA [role, part, character] to act as <sb> in a play or movie
□ In the movie he plays a brilliant but tragic millionaire. ■ to play a part OR role in sthg to be involved in sthg; to have an effect on sthg
□ The state of the economy plays a major role in deciding the date of the election. -4. MUSIC [piano, guitar] to produce music from ; [tune, notes] to perform  on an instrument
□ He plays the trombone. □ The band was playing "Waltzing Matilda". -5. [record, tape] to put  into a machine in order to listen to it
□ The station plays mostly jazz music. □ Does your music system play CDs? □ I want to play you this tape. -6. to pretend to be <sb/sthg>
□ Stop playing the fool/the innocent. -7. to play it cool to deal with a situation without showing one's emotions □ Just play it cool, and look as if you're enjoying yourself.

◇ vi -1. to amuse oneself
□ The children were playing with their friends/toys. -2. SPORT He plays for South Africa.
□ The team play against Cuba in the final. -3. THEATER & CINEMA [actor, actress] I'm playing in a new movie that's coming out in February. -4. MUSIC [musician, radio, record] We could hear music playing. □ The band started to play. -5. [light, sunshine] to flicker on or around something (literary use). -6. phrase to play safe to deal with a situation in a way that avoids problems or danger □ He decided to play safe and set out earlier.

◆ play along vi to pretend to agree with somebody, usually in order to gain some advantage from them or to avoid upsetting them
□ He agreed to play along with them for the time being.

◆ play at vt fus to play at sthg [politics, journalism] to take part in sthg without any serious effort or intentions □ He's not an artist, he just plays at being one. ■ what do you think you're playing at? a phrase used by somebody to show that they think somebody is doing something wrong.

◆ play back vt sep to play sthg back [tape, movie] to operate a machine so that one can hear or see sthg that has just been recorded □ Could you play back that last part for me?

◆ play down vt sep to play sthg down [fact, danger, importance] to make sthg seem less important than it really is.

◆ play off ◇ vt sep to play sb off against sb to get sb to compete against sb else, usually in order to gain an advantage for oneself. ◇ vi SPORT [teams] to play an extra game in order to decide something, e.g. which team will play in the finals.

◆ play on vt fus to play on sthg [somebody's weaknesses, fears, good nature] to use sthg to one's advantage □ It's unfair to play on people's anxieties like that.

◆ play up ◇ vt sep to play sthg up [fact, hopes, importance] to make sthg seem more important than it really is
□ She likes to play up her part in the deal. ◇ vi GB -1. [car, machine] to not work properly
□ The engine's been playing up again. -2. [child] to misbehave □ Matthew tends to play up in front of guests.

◆ play upon vt fus = play on.

playable ['pleɪəbl] adj [field, ground] that is in good enough condition to play sports on.

play-act vi to pretend to have feelings or a personality that one does not really have.

playbill ['pleɪbɪl] n a poster advertising a play.

playboy ['pleɪbɔɪ] n a rich and usually young man who spends a lot of his time enjoying himself and has many girlfriends.

Play-Doh™ [-dou] n a soft brightly-colored substance that is shaped using one's hands and is used by children to make models.

player ['pleɪə] n -1. SPORT & GAMES a person who plays a sport or game □ a football/chess player. -2. MUSIC a person who plays a particular musical instrument □ He's a good/keen trumpet player. -3. BUSINESS a company that is successful in a particular kind of business □ Vitex is becoming a major player in the world of global communications. -4. THEATER an actor (old-fashioned use).

playful ['pleɪflɪ] adj -1. [person, mood, remark]

- light-hearted and friendly □ She gave him a playful nudge. -2. [kitten, puppy] lively and friendly.
- playfully ['pleɪflɪ] adv [say, tease] see playful □ He pushed her playfully.
- playgoer ['pleɪgəʊə] n a person who goes to see plays at the theater.
- playground ['pleɪgraʊnd] n [in a school] an outdoor area where children can play; [in a park] an area with equipment, e.g. swings or slides, for children to play on □ a school playground.
- playgroup ['pleɪgru:p] n = playschool.
- playhouse ['pleɪhaʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n a theater.
- playing card ['pleɪɪŋ-] n one of a set of 52 cards that are used in card games and have a value that is shown by a number or picture.
- playing field n a large piece of open ground with sports fields marked out on it.
- playlist ['pleɪlɪst] n GB the records that are played on a particular radio program.
- playmate ['pleɪmeɪt] n a child who another child plays with and who is their friend.
- play-off n SPORT an extra game that is played to decide something, e.g. who wins a competition or is promoted to a higher league.
- playpen ['pleɪpɛn] n a wooden frame with four sides containing bars in which a small child can play safely.
- playroom ['pleɪru:m] n a room for children to play in.
- playschool ['pleɪsku:l] n a kind of school for very young children where they can play together □ She goes to playschool twice a week.
- plaything ['pleɪθɪŋ] n -1. a toy. -2. a person whom somebody uses in order to have fun, without really caring about them.
- playtime ['pleɪtaɪm] n a break between classes at school, when children can play outside.
- playwright ['pleɪraɪt] n a person who writes plays.
- plaza ['plɑ:zə] n -1. an open square in a town. -2. a number of linked buildings □ a shopping plaza.
- plc abbr of public limited company.
- plea [pli:] n -1. [for mercy, help] an urgent and emotional request □ He made a plea for people with information to come forward. □ This is my plea to you. -2. LAW the answer given to a charge by a defendant in court, in which they say they are guilty or not guilty □ What is your plea? □ a plea of guilty/not guilty □ Bolam made a plea of insanity.
- plea bargaining n LAW the process of negotiating with a court to agree to plead guilty to a crime, in exchange for not being charged with a more serious crime.
- plead [pli:d] (pt & pp pleaded OR pled) ◇ vt -1. LAW to defend <sb's case or cause>, especially in a court of law. ■ to plead guilty/not guilty/insanity [defendant] to make a plea of guilty/not guilty/insanity □ He pleaded guilty to (the charge of) manslaughter. -2. to plead (that)... to claim that something is an excuse for something one has done, cannot do etc □ He apologized for his mistake and pleaded ignorance. ◇ vi -1. to make an urgent and emotional request □ She pleaded with him to show forgiveness. □ They were pleading for mercy/help. -2. LAW [defendant] How do you plead?
- pleading ['pli:ɪŋ] ◇ adj [look, voice] that expresses an urgent and emotional request □ There was a pleading note in his voice. ◇ n the act of making an urgent and emotional request □ Her pleading was in vain; he would not change his mind.
- pleasant ['pleznt] adj -1. [taste, view, news] attractive or enjoyable □ We had a very pleasant meal/chat. □ Tony! What a pleasant surprise! -2. [person] friendly and likeable □ They seemed pleasant enough people.
- pleasantly ['plezntli] adv -1. pleasantly decorated/warm decorated/warm in a way that is attractive or enjoyable □ The wine was pleasantly dry. -2. [smile, say] in a friendly way □ We talked pleasantly for about half an hour. -3. to be pleasantly surprised to be surprised in a way that makes one feel happy.
- pleasantry ['plezntri] (pl pleasantries) n to exchange pleasantries to say pleasant or amusing things to each other in order to be polite.
- please [pli:z] ◇ adv -1. a word used when making a polite request □ A cup of coffee, please. □ Please be quiet! □ Please don't leave your books on here. □ That will be $1.50, please. -2. a word used when accepting something politely □ "Would you like a cup of coffee?" — "Yes please." □ "Shall I close the window?" — "Oh, please."
- ◇ vt to make <sb> happy □ He is hard to please. □ Don't do it just to please me. ■ to please oneself to do what one likes, without considering the wishes of other people □ All you ever think about is pleasing yourself. ■ please yourself! a phrase used to tell somebody that one does not care what they do (informal use) □ Well, please yourself, but you'll be sorry you didn't come.
- ◇ vi -1. to make other people happy □ He's always so eager to please. -2. to do as one pleases to do what one wants to do □ I'm allowed to go where I please. ■ if you please a phrase used when making a polite request (formal use) □ Step this way, if you please.
- pleased [pli:zd] adj [person] who seems happy or satisfied □ I'm very pleased to welcome you here tonight. □ They seem really pleased with their new car/my performance. ■ pleased to meet you! a polite phrase used when meeting somebody for the first time □ Pleased to meet you! I'm Andy. □ I'm very pleased to meet you, Mr Bryant.
- pleasing ['pli:zɪŋ] adj [news, result] that makes one pleased □ The general effect of the design is very pleasing.
- pleasingly ['pli:zɪŋli] adv [quick, simple] see pleasing □ His manner is pleasingly low-key.
- pleasurable ['plezərəbl] adj [feeling, trip] enjoyable □ I found the sensation of speed intensely pleasurable.

pleasure ['pleʒə] n -1. a feeling of happiness □ It gives me great pleasure to introduce one of my favorite performers. □ He takes great pleasure in telling her when she's wrong. ■ with pleasure a polite phrase used to agree to do something that somebody has asked □ "Could you give me a hand?" — "With pleasure." -2. enjoyment rather than work □ Are you traveling for business or pleasure? -3. something that somebody enjoys □ She's a pleasure to be with. □ It was a pleasure having you to stay. □ It's one of life's little pleasures. ■ it's a pleasure OR my pleasure! a polite phrase used when replying to somebody who has thanked one for something □ "Thanks for the ride." — "My pleasure!"

pleat [pli:t] ◇ n a permanent fold in a piece of material such as a skirt that is stitched at the top. ◇ vt [cloth, paper] to make pleats in <sthg>.

pleated ['pli:təd] adj [skirt, shirt] that has pleats in it.

plebeian [plə'bi:ən] adj [person, taste] that belongs to the lower social classes (disapproving use).

plebiscite ['plebisait] n a direct vote by the people of a country or region on a very important matter.

plectrum ['plektrəm] (pl plectrums) n a small thin piece of plastic or metal, used for plucking the strings of a musical instrument, e.g. a guitar or banjo.

pled [pləd] past tense & past participle of plead.

pledge [pledʒ] ◇ n -1. [of secrecy, support] a solemn promise □ I made a pledge to my father never to sell the house. -2. [of love, friendship] something such as a ring that one gives to somebody as a sign of one's feelings.

◇ vt -1. [money, support] to promise to give <sthg> to somebody □ The foundation has pledged $15,000 to the campaign. -2. to be pledged to secrecy/silence to have promised to keep something secret/stay silent about something. ■ to pledge oneself to sthg [to a group, cause] to promise to work hard for sthg. -3. [watch, jewelry] to leave <sthg valuable> with a pawnbroker as a guarantee that one will repay money which has been lent.

Pledge of Allegiance n the Pledge of Allegiance a vow of loyalty to the US flag.

🕒 PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The Pledge of Allegiance, written in 1892, is a vow of loyalty to the US flag. Until recently school children in the USA used to say it every morning before starting classes. The words of the pledge are: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

attended by everybody who has the right to attend.

plentiful ['plentɪfl] adj [food, supply] that exists in large amounts.

plenty ['plenti] ◇ pron a large quantity □ "More bread?" — "No thanks, we've got plenty." □ There's plenty more of that, if you want some. □ We have plenty of time to get ready. □ I've met a few people who like the city, but plenty who don't. ◇ n a condition or situation where one has a lot of what one needs, e.g. food or money □ They came thinking that America was a land of plenty. □ in times of plenty. ◇ adv US very (informal use) □ I'm plenty hungry.

plethora ['pleθərə] n a plethora of sthg an amount of sthg that is much greater than one needs or can deal with □ There's a plethora of nightclubs to choose from in Manhattan.

pleurisy ['plʊərəsi] n a serious disease of the membrane around one's lungs, causing pain in one's chest.

PlexiglasTM [US 'pleksɪglæs, GB -glɑ:s] n US a strong clear plastic often used instead of glass □ a Plexiglas window.

pliable ['plaiəbl], pliant ['plaiənt] adj -1. [metal, substance] that can be bent easily without breaking. -2. [person] who is easily influenced by other people □ It shouldn't be hard to get him to agree, he's very pliable.

pliers ['plaiəz] npl a tool made of two pieces of metal crossing each other, so that when the two handles are squeezed together the other ends come together to grip an object, e.g. a nail □ a pair of pliers □ Do you have any pliers?

plight [plart] n the plight of sb the extremely difficult situation that sb is in that makes them suffer □ The article highlighted the plight of the homeless. □ Their plight is now desperate.

plimsoll ['plɪmsəl] n GB a light canvas shoe with a rubber sole, worn especially in a gym □ a pair of plimsolls.

Plimsoll line n a line on the outside of a ship showing how much of the ship should be underwater when it is loaded.

plinth [plɪnθ] n a square block of stone that a statue or pillar stands on.

PLO (abbr of Palestine Liberation Organization) n the PLO a political association whose aim is to establish a state of Palestine.

plod [pləd] (vt & pp plodded, cont plodding) vi -1. to walk slowly with heavy steps, especially because one is tired or carrying a heavy load □ He came plodding along the road. -2. to work steadily at something that is difficult, boring, or that takes a long time □ I plodded on with the accounts.

plodder ['plɒdə] n a person without much intelligence or imagination who works hard (disapproving use) □ He's very reliable, but a bit of a plodder.

plonk [plɒŋk] (informal use) n GB cheap wine. ◆ plonk down vt sep to plonk sthg down to put sthg down quickly and carelessly □ Just plonk your stuff down anywhere you like!

plop [plɒp] (vt & pp plopped, cont plopping) plenary session ['pli:nəri-] n a meeting that is ◇ n the sound made when something solid falls into water without splashing □ There was a loud plop as my shoe fell into the water.

 ◇ vi [stone, pebble] to fall with a plop □ The soap plopped into the bath.

plot [plɒt] (pt & pp plotted, cont plotting) ◇ n
 -1. a secret plan made by a group of people to do something bad or illegal □ Police have uncovered a plot to bomb the embassy. ■ the plot thickens a phrase used when one is in a situation that is difficult to understand and more facts that cannot be explained become known □ "But she said she didn't know you." — "Hmm, the plot thickens." -2. [of a movie, novel] the basic story of a movie, novel etc. -3. [of land] an area of land for building or growing vegetables □ The plan was to buy a plot of land to build our own house on. □ a building plot. -4. US [of a house] the plan of a house.

◇ vt -1. [coup, assassination] to plan <sthg> secretly in a group □ A group of army officers was plotting to overthrow the government. -2. [position, route, course] to mark or calculate <sthg> on a map □ The captain plotted the ship's position/a new course. -3. MATH [line, curve] to draw <sthg> on a graph.

◇ vi [conspirators, terrorists] to make a secret plan to harm a person or organization □ The general was apparently unaware that his subordinates were plotting against him.

plough etc GB = plow etc.

ploughman's ['pləʊmən] n a ploughman's (lunch) GB a light lunch of bread, cheese, and pickles.

plow US, plough GB [pləʊ] ◇ n a piece of equipment that is pulled by a tractor or an animal such as a horse and is used to turn over the soil before planting on a farm. ◇ vt -1. FARMING to turn over the soil of <land, a field> etc with a plow. -2. to plow money into sthg to invest money in sthg □ All our profits are plowed back into the business. ◇ vi [car, truck] to crash into something with a lot of force □ The truck-driver lost control and plowed into the car in front of him.

◆ plow on vi to continue doing something even though it is boring or difficult □ I've just got to plow on with it until I've finished.

◆ plow up vt sep to plow a field up to break up the ground in a field by walking or riding across it all the time □ Mountain bikes plow up the trails, making them too muddy to walk along.

plowshare US, ploughshare GB ['pləʊʃeə] n the metal part of a plow that digs the earth.

ploy [plɔɪ] n a way of getting what one wants, especially by lying or pretending □ It's just a ploy to make people feel sorry for him.

PLR n abbr of Public Lending Right.

pls abbr of please.

pluck [plʌk] ◇ vt -1. [flower, fruit] to pick  □ She plucked a cherry from the tree. -2. [mountaineer, hair] to remove <sb/sthg> from a place □ The helicopter plucked the survivors off the life raft. -3. [chicken, turkey] to remove feathers from  so that it can be cooked. -4. to pull out <hairs> from one's eyebrows. -5. [guitar, string, harp] to produce a musical note from <an instrument> by pulling and releasing a string with one's fingers. ◇ n the quality of being brave and determined in a difficult or worrying situation (informal use).

◆ pluck up vt fus to pluck up the courage to do sthg to find the courage to do sthg, especially after thinking about it for a long time □ I finally plucked up the courage to ask him out.

plucky ['plʌki] (compar pluckier, superl pluckiest) adj that shows pluck (informal use) □ They didn't succeed this time, but it was a very plucky attempt.

plug [plʌg] (pt & pp plugged, cont plugging) ◇ n -1. ELECTRICITY a plastic device with metal parts that are put in a socket in order to connect an electrical appliance to the current □ Turn it off and pull out the plug when you finish. -2. [in a bath, sink] a round object made of rubber that stops the water from running out of a bath or sink □ a sink plug. -3. [for a book, movie] a public mention of something such as a new book or movie, e.g. on a TV show, intended to let people know about it (informal use) □ She only agreed to appear on the show to give her new book a plug.

◇ vt -1. [hole, leak] to stop water from getting through <sthg> □ I used a rag to plug the hole in the bucket. -2. [new book, movie] to mention <sthg> in public in order to make people interested in it (informal use) □ He's only agreed to the interview in order to plug his latest movie.

◆ plug in vt sep to plug sthg in [TV, heater] to put the plug of sthg into an electric socket to make it work.

plughole ['plʌghoʊl] n the hole in a bath or sink through which the water runs out.

plum [plʌm] ◇ n -1. a soft fruit with smooth red or purple skin and a large hard seed in the center. -2. the dark red color of plums. ◇ adj -1. purple in color, like a plum. -2. a plum job a good job that many people would like to have.

plumage ['plu:mɪdʒ] n the feathers of a bird.

plumb [plʌm] ◇ adv (informal use) -1. exactly □ The ball landed plumb in the center. -2. plumb crazy US completely crazy. ◇ vt to plumb the depths of sthg [of despair, humiliation] to experience or express sthg very intensely □ The show plumbs new depths in bad taste.

◆ plumb in vt sep to plumb sthg in [washing machine, bath] to connect sthg to a water supply permanently.

plumber ['plʌmə] n a person whose job is to install baths, toilets, heating etc and repair pipes.

plumbing ['plʌmɪŋ] n -1. the pipes that connect baths, toilets etc to the water supply. -2. the work that a plumber does.

plumb line n a string with a weight on one end, used to measure the depth of water or to see if something such as a wall is straight.

plume [plu:m] n -1. a large, often colorful, feather of a bird, especially one used to decorate a hat, helmet etc □ an ostrich plume.

-2. a plume of smoke a cloud of smoke that rises straight up in the air.

plummet [ˈplʌmət] vi -1. [bird, plane, stone] to fall quickly through the air straight down toward the ground □ He plummeted to his death. -2. [prices, sales, profits] to decrease suddenly □ Share prices plummeted overnight.

plump [plʌmp] ◇ adj [person, chicken] fat in an attractive way □ You're getting plump. □ a plump, jolly woman. ◇ vi to plump for sthg to choose sthg, especially after hesitating or thinking about it □ In the end I plumped for steak.

◆ plump up vt sep to plump sthg up [cushion, pillow] to make sthg rounder again by squeezing and shaking it.

plum pudding n GB a rich pudding made of dried fruit, eaten at Christmas.

plum tree n a tree on which plums grow.

plunder [ˈplʌndə] ◇ n -1. the act of stealing valuable objects, especially during a war. -2. things that are stolen □ The burglars made off with their plunder. ◇ vt [antiques, paintings] to steal <sthg>, especially during a war; [houses, village] to steal something from  in this way □ The army plundered food from farms OR plundered farms for food.

plunge [plʌndʒ] ◇ vi -1. [car, plane, driver] to fall quickly, especially from somewhere high □ The car plunged down the embankment. -2. [price, value] to decrease quickly □ The temperature plunged to -10° last night. ◇ n -1: [in prices, temperature] a very sudden decrease □ The Stock Market took a plunge yesterday. -2. a quick movement into water, or a quick swim □ I'm just going for a quick plunge to cool off. ■ to take the plunge to decide to do something which is risky, especially after thinking about it carefully □ They finally decided to take the plunge and get married.

◆ plunge into vt -1. to plunge sthg into sthg [hand, knife] to put sthg quickly and firmly into sthg else □ Plunge the tomatoes into boiling water for two minutes. □ She plunged the knife into his chest. -2. to plunge sb/sthg into sthg [into chaos, war, despair] to suddenly put sb/sthg into a particular state or situation □ She was plunged into a world of brutality. □ The entire city was plunged into darkness.

plunge pod n a small swimming pool.

plunger [ˈplʌndʒə] n a tool with a rubber cup and a handle used for clearing blocked pipes.

plunging [ˈplʌndʒɪŋ] adj a plunging neckline a neckline that is cut low and reveals the top part of a woman's breasts.

pluperfect [ˌpluːˈpɜːfəkt] n the pluperfect (tense) the tense that is used to refer to an action that took place before another one.

plural [ˈplʊərə] ◇ adj -1. GRAMMAR [word, form] that indicates that there is more than one □ Words like "advice" and "information" have no plural form. -2. [society, culture] that consists of or uses different types of people or things. ◇ n GRAMMAR a plural form of a word □ "Hippopotami" is the plural of "hippopotamus".

pluralistic [ˌplʊərəˈlɪstɪk] adj [society, system] = plural.

plurality [plʊˈræləti] n -1. a plurality of a large number of. -2. US [of votes] a majority.

plus [plʌs] (pl pluses OR plusses) ◇ adj -1. a word used to show that the true number is more than the one mentioned □ The room can seat sixty plus. -2. A plus/B plus a grade that is a little higher than A/B. ◇ n -1. MATH the symbol (+) that shows that one number is added to another. -2. an advantage (informal use) □ Having two bathrooms is a definite plus. ◇ prep -1. MATH added to a number □ Two plus two equals four. -2. with the addition of sb/sthg □ There will be the two of us plus the children. ◇ conj and in addition □ She's very intelligent, plus she's a hard worker.

plush [plʌʃ] adj [hotel, limousine, sofa] that looks expensive and of good quality □ They've moved into some plush new offices.

plus sign n MATH = plus.

Pluto [ˈpluːtəʊ] the planet in our solar system that is furthest from the sun.

plutonium [pluːˈtɒniəm] n a radioactive element that is used in nuclear power stations to produce energy and in nuclear bombs. SYMBOL: Pu.

ply [plai] (pt & pp plied) vt -1. to ply sb with sthg [with drink, questions] to keep giving sthg to sb □ He kept plying me with champagne. -2. to sail regularly on a route on <an ocean, river> etc □ As a young man, he had plied the Atlantic on cargo ships. -3. to ply one's trade to carry out one's job.

-ply suffix two-ply/three-ply [wood, tissue] that has two/three layers.

Plymouth Rock [ˌplɪməθ-] the rock where people believe the Pilgrims first landed in America.

plywood [ˈplaiwʊd] n a type of wood made up of thin sheets of wood stuck together.

p.m., pm (abbr of post meridiem) between noon and midnight □ at 3:00 p.m.
NOTE: Compare a.m.

PM n abbr of prime minister.

PMS n abbr of premenstrual syndrome.

PMT n abbr of premenstrual tension.

pneumatic [njuːˈmæɪtɪk] adj -1. [pump] that is operated by air pressure. -2. [tire] that is filled with air.

pneumatic drill n GB a large powerful tool, used for breaking up the surface of a road, that is operated by air pressure.

pneumonia [njuːˈmɒnjə] n a serious illness of the lungs that makes it difficult to breathe.

PNG abbr of Papua New Guinea.

po, PO n abbr of postal order.

PO n abbr of Post Office.

POA (abbr of Prison Officers' Association) n the POA a labor union for prison officers in Britain.

poach [pəʊtʃ] ◇ vt -1. [salmon, pheasants] to hunt <animals, birds, or fish> illegally on somebody else's land. -2. [idea, information] to use <sthg> that belongs to somebody else without asking permission □ You can't go around poaching staff from other departments!

 -3. COOKING [legg, salmon] to cook <sthg> gently in boiling liquid, e.g. water or milk. ◇ vi [hunter, poacher] He was caught poaching.

poacher ['poutʃə] n a person who hunts illegally on somebody else's land.

poaching ['poutʃɪŋ] n the activity of illegally hunting animals, birds, or fish on somebody else's land.

PO Box n abbr of post office box.

Pocahontas [,poukə'hɒntəs] (1595–1617) a Native American woman who helped to keep peace between her people and the American colonists who lived nearby. She later married a colonist and went to England.

pocket ['pɒkət] ◇ n -1. [on a piece of clothing] a deep fold of cloth sewn into trousers, jackets etc to hold things □ a trouser pocket □ My billfold was in my back pocket. ■ to be out of pocket to have less money than one expected to have □ The deal left me $70 out of pocket. ■ to pick sb's pocket to steal money from sb's pocket □ My pocket's been picked! -2. [in a bag, on a door] a fold of cloth used as a container behind a seat, in a car door etc □ You'll find the duty-free price list in the pocket in front of you. -3. the amount of money one has to spend □ This law will hit people where it hurts most, in their pocket. -4. a pocket of sthg [of air, rain, support] a small amount of sthg that is different from what is around it □ The advancing troops encountered pockets of resistance. -5. [on a pool table] one of the holes at the edge of a pool, snooker, or billiards table.

◇ adj a pocket mirror/book etc a small mirror/book etc that is designed to be carried in a pocket.

◇ vt -1. [change, key] to put <sthg> in one's pocket □ I pocketed the car keys and left. -2. to earn <money> □ Buy the cheaper product and you can pocket the difference. -3. to steal <money that one handles for other people> □ He was accused of pocketing some of the profits.

pocketbook ['pɒkətbʊk] n -1. US a wallet; the amount of money one has to spend. -2. US a small bag in which a woman carries her money and personal things. -3. a small simple computer that is designed to fit in a pocket.

pocket calculator n a small calculator that one can carry around easily.

pocketful ['pɒkətfʊl] n the amount of things that can fit in a pocket □ He emptied a pocketful of coins onto the counter.

pocketknife ['pɒkətnaɪf] (pl pocketknives [-nɑrvz]) n a small knife with a folding blade.

pocket money n money given to a child by its parents regularly.

pocket-size(d) adj [book, TV] that is smaller than the normal size.

pockmark ['pɒkma:k] n a small hollow mark on one's skin left as a result of a disease such as chickenpox.

pod [pɒd] n -1. BIOLOGY the case in which the seeds of some plants such as peas and beans grow □ a seed pod. -2. SPACE a part of a spacecraft that can be separated from the rest.

podgy ['pɒdʒɪ] (compar podgier, superl podgiest) adj GB = pluggy.

podiatrist [pə'dɪətrɪst] n a person whose job is treating people's feet.

podium ['pɒdiəm] (pl podiums OR podia [-diə]) n a small platform that a conductor, speaker etc stands on.

Poe [pou], Edgar Allen (1809–1849) a US writer, well known for his tales of mystery and horror. His work includes The Raven and The Fall of the House of Usher.

POE (abbr of port of entry) n a port where imported goods are checked by customs officers.

poem ['pəʊəm] n a piece of writing in which words are chosen for their effect and sound and arranged in patterns, e.g. short lines that rhyme □ a love poem □ a poem by Browning.

poet ['pəʊət] n a person who writes poems.

poetic [pəʊ'etɪk] adj [language, imagery] that is found in poetry; [description, book] having a beauty that is often found in poetry □ a poetic vision of life.

poetic justice n a situation in which something unpleasant that happens to somebody seems good and right because of bad things that the person has done.

poet laureate n in Britain, a poet appointed by the king or queen to write poems for special occasions.

poetry ['pəʊətɪ] n -1. poems as a form of literature □ Do you like reading poetry? □ a poetry book. -2. beauty and grace □ There is real poetry in a good game of football.

pogo stick ['pəʊgou-] n a children's toy consisting of a pole with a place to put one's feet and a spring, used for jumping.

pogrom [US 'pɒgrəm, GB 'pɒg-] n the organized killing of large numbers of people, especially Jews.

poignancy ['pɔɪnjənsɪ] n: see poignant.

poignant ['pɔɪnjənt] adj [description, scene, memory] that makes one feel very sad □ a poignant reminder of the past.

poinsettia [pɔɪn'setɪə] n a plant with large red leaves like flowers.

point [pɔɪnt] ◇ n -1. [of a pencil, needle] the thin sharp end of an object □ You need a pencil with a sharp point on it. -2. a point of light a very small dot of light □ We could see a tiny point of light in the distance. -3. [in space] the precise place where something is or happens □ This is the point where the road forks. -4. [in time, a situation, event] the precise time or part of a situation, event etc when something happens □ At one point I thought he was going to cry. □ At that point we decided to leave. □ Things/I got to the point where I couldn't stand being near him. □ I have no plans to do so at this point in time. ■ the point of no return the time after which things cannot go back to the way they were before □ We have now reached the point of no return. -5. [in a discussion, speech] an idea or fact that somebody mentions □ I have a list of the points I want to raise. ■ you have a point a phrase used to show that one agrees with something somebody else has said □ I think Mary has a point. ■ to make a point to mention an idea one has about something □ I'd like to make a few points about what Steve just said. ■ to make one's point to make people understand what one has to say □ Sit down now, you've made your point. ■ to take sb's point to understand something that sb has said. □ Do you take my point? -6. [of a story] the main idea in a speech, story etc □ They missed the point of what you were saying. ■ to get OR come to the point to reach the most important or relevant part of what one is saying □ Come on, get to the point! ■ to be beside the point [comment, fact] not to be relevant to what is being discussed □ But that's completely beside the point! -7. [of somebody's character] a feature of somebody's character □ His bad points are outweighed by his good points. -8. what is the point? what is the purpose? □ What's the point of working so hard? □ There's no point in doing it if you don't enjoy it. -9. [on a scale] a unit for measuring something □ The National Party has gone up three points in the opinion polls. -10. MATH the symbol (.) that separates whole numbers from decimal fractions □ The earthquake measured 6.5 on the Richter scale. -11. [in competitions] a unit for measuring a score in competitions □ The judges awarded her maximum points for her performance. □ Funds are allocated according to a points system. -12. [on a compass] one of the directions marked on a compass □ all points of the compass. -13. US GRAMMAR the punctuation mark (.) that comes after the last word of a sentence to show that the sentence is finished. -14. [on a driver's license] a note on a driver's license that shows that the driver has done something illegal □ a penalty point □ He got a fine and three points on his license. -15. ELECTRICITY = power point. -16. to make a point of doing sthg to do sthg deliberately and carefully, especially so that somebody else notices □ She made a point of coming over to speak to us.

◇ vt [gun, finger, camera] to hold <sthg> so that it faces in a particular direction □ Don't point your finger at me. ■ to point the way to sthg to show how sthg can be done in the future □ The new leisure complex points the way to what public buildings of the future will be like.

◇ vi -1. [person] to point one's finger at something □ You shouldn't point at people. □ He pointed to the necktie he wanted. -2. [arrow, sign, needle on a dial] to indicate a particular direction □ The sign pointed toward a town in the distance. -3. [gun, camera, light] to be aimed in a particular direction □ It must be awful knowing that hundreds of cameras are pointing at you all the time.

◆ points npl -1. AUTO the two screws in the distributor of a car engine that are part of an electrical circuit. -2. GB RAIL a device for moving a train from one track to another.

◆ on the point of prep to be on the point of doing sthg to be going to do sthg very soon □ I was on the point of giving up.

◆ to the point adj to be to the point to be relevant to what is being discussed □ What she had to say was short and to the point.

◆ up to a point adv [agree, succeed] partly □ You're right up to a point.

◆ point out vt sep -1. to point sthg out [person, building, object] to show or make people look at sthg by pointing to it □ The guide pointed out to us the house where Puccini was born. -2. to point sthg out [fact, mistake, problem] to draw attention to sthg □ I was able to point out that he was wrong/point out where he'd gone wrong.

◆ point to vt fus to point to sthg to make sthg look very likely □ Everything points to involvement by the CIA.

point-blank ◇ adj -1. [refusal, denial] that is strong and direct with no explanation □ His lawyer issued a point-blank denial of the allegations. -2. to shoot sb at point-blank range to shoot sb from a very close position. ◇ adv [refuse, deny, accuse] I asked him point-blank if he had taken the money.

point duty n GB the job of controlling the traffic, usually done by a policeman standing at an intersection.

pointed ['pɔɪntəd] adj -1. [chin, hat] that has a point at the end. -2. [remark, question] that expresses a particular meaning, especially a critical or threatening one, in an indirect way □ She made a few pointed comments about the fact that I'd forgotten her birthday.

pointedly ['pɔɪntədli] adv [remark, ask] see pointed □ "It's getting late," she said pointedly.

pointer ['pɔɪntə] n -1. [on how to do something] a useful piece of advice □ She gave us a few pointers on healthy eating. -2. [on a dial] a needle that indicates numbers on a dial. -3. [for pointing] a stick for pointing at things on a blackboard, map etc. -4. [for hunting] a kind of dog used for hunting that shows where the hunted animal is by pointing its nose. -5. COMPUTING an arrow that points to something on a computer screen.

pointing ['pɔɪntɪŋ] n the cement between the stones or bricks of a wall.

pointless ['pɔɪntləs] adj [exercise, question, job] that is not at all helpful or useful □ It's pointless going on any further.

point of order (pl points of order) n a complaint made because the rules of a formal meeting have been broken.

point of sale (pl points of sale) n the place where a product is sold.

point of view (pl points of view) n a way somebody has of looking at a problem, situation etc □ Whether it's important or not depends on your point of view.

point-to-point n GB a horse race held in the countryside in which the stages of the race are marked with flags.

poise [pɔɪz] n a calm confidence in oneself □

She showed remarkable poise at the interview.

poised [pɔɪzd] adj -1. to be poised to do sthg to be ready to do sthg □ Our party is poised to win the next election. □ The soldiers waited poised for action. -2. [person] who shows poise

□ She gave a poised performance.

poison ['pɔɪzn] ◇ n a substance that harms or kills living things if it is eaten or drunk. ◇ vt

-1. [person, animal] to kill or harm <sb/sthg> with poison □ She was found guilty of poisoning her husband. -2. [food, drink] to put poison in <sthg> □ Someone had poisoned the wine.

-3. [air, water] to pollute <sthg> □ Industrial waste is poisoning the seas. -4. [mind, relationship] to harm or spoil <sthg> □ Ma did her best to poison the atmosphere at the wedding.

poisoning ['pɔɪznɪŋ] n an illness caused by eating, drinking, or being exposed to something harmful □ alcohol/radiation poisoning.

poisonous ['pɔɪznəs] adj -1. [gas, chemical] that can poison a living thing. -2. [snake, mushroom, plant] that contains poison. -3. [person, influence, rumor] that harms or spoils something □ She threw him a poisonous look.

poison-pen letter n a letter that says bad things about somebody and is meant to upset them.

poke [pouk] ◇ vt -1. to push one's finger sharply and suddenly into <sb/sthg> □ Stop poking me in the ribs! -2. to push <sthg> into a narrow space or opening □ Try to poke the wire through the hole. -3. to poke a fire to stir the wood or coal on a fire so that it burns better. ◇ vi to be visible from under or behind something □ I could see his toes poking through his socks. ◇ n an act of poking somebody or something □ I gave him a sharp poke in the ribs.

◆ poke about, poke around vi -1. to try to find out about somebody's life in a way that annoys them □ Stop poking around in my busi- ness! -2. GB to look for something in a place by moving things around (informal use) □

Who's been poking around in this drawer?

◆ poke at vi fus to poke at sthg to poke sthg several times □ The cat kept poking at the dead mouse with its paw.

poker ['poukə] n -1. a card game that can be played for money □ a game of poker. -2. a metal rod used to poke a fire.

poker-faced [-feɪst] adj [person] who shows no emotion □ We told her the news and she just sat there poker-faced.

pokies ['poukɪz] npl the pokies AUS slot machines used for gambling.

poky ['poukɪ] (comp pokier, superl pokiest) adj

[room, house] that seems small and uncomfortable (disapproving use) □ It's a nice apart- ment, but a little on the poky side.

Poland ['poulənd] a country in Central Europe.

It was a Communist state from 1947 to 1989. SIZE: 313,000 sq kms. POPULATION:

38,200,000 (Poles, Polish). CAPITAL: Warsaw.

LANGUAGE: Polish. CURRENCY: zloty.

polar ['poulə] adj [region, ice cap] that is connected to the areas around the North or South Poles.

polar bear n a large white bear that lives in the Arctic.

polarity [pou'larəti] n -1. the state of being opposite □ the polarity between fantasy and reality. -2. ELECTRICITY the state, either positive or negative, of a pole of a battery.

polarize, -ise ['pouləraɪz] vt [public opinion, country] to divide <sthg> into two opposite groups □ The dispute has polarized their support- ers.

Polaroid™ ['poulərɔɪd] n -1. a Polaroid (camera) a camera that produces a developed photograph immediately after it has been taken. ■ a Polaroid (photo) a photo taken by a Polaroid camera. -2. a plastic material used to treat plastic or glass so that the light that passes through it seems less bright □ a Polar- oid filter/lens □ Polaroid sunglasses.

◆ Polaroids™ npl Polaroid sunglasses.

pole [pou] n -1. a long, straight, thin, round piece of wood, metal etc often stuck in the ground to support something □ The hammock was strung between two poles. -2. GEOGRAPHY one of the two points on the Earth that are furthest from the equator. ■ to be poles apart to be very different □ When it comes to politics, we're poles apart. -3. ELECTRICITY one of two points, either positive or negative, on a battery to which wires can be attached.

Pole n a person who lives in or comes from Poland.

poleaxed ['pouləkst] adj to be poleaxed to be very surprised or shocked.

polecat ['poulkæt] n a small, brown, fierce animal with an unpleasant smell that lives in the north of Europe.

polemic [pə'lemɪk] n something that somebody says or writes in a very angry way to argue for or against something □ a polemic against the government.

pole position n the front starting position in motor racing □ Hill is in pole position.

Pole Star: the Pole Star the star that is nearest to the North Pole in the night sky.

pole vault n the pole vault the sport of jumping over a very high bar using a long pole.

◆ pole-vault vi to jump in the style of the pole vault.

pole-vaulter [-vɔɪltə] n an athlete who competes in the pole vault.

police [pə'li:s] ◇ npl -1. the police the official organization in a country whose job is to make people obey the law and to catch criminals □ a police spokesman/chief. -2. members of the police □ Police are appealing for in- formation. ◇ vt [town, streets] to make people obey the law in <an area>, using the police

□ Hundreds of officers were brought in to police the demonstration.

police car n a car used by the police.

police constable n GB a member of the police of the lowest rank.

police department n US a police organization which is responsible for a particular area or city.

police dog n a dog trained and used by the police to find criminals, drugs etc.

police force n a police organization which is responsible for a particular area □ She joined the police force when she was 20.

policeman [pə'li:smən] (pl policemen [-mən]) n a man who is a member of the police force.

police officer n a person who is a member of the police force.

police record n information kept by the police about a person who has committed a crime □ "Finding work isn't easy if you have a police record," said Neil.

police state n a country where people are not free to do or say what they like and where the police have a lot of power (disapproving use).

police station n the local office of the police in an area □ They were taken to the police station for questioning.

policewoman [pə'li:swumən] (pl policewomen) n a woman who is a member of the police force.

policy ['pɒləsi] (pl policies) n -1. a plan made by a government, organization, company etc that says what it wants to do or how it will deal with a particular problem or situation □ It is against company policy to employ smokers. ■ a policy maker a person who helps to form the policies of a government, organization etc. -2. a document given to a customer by an insurance company that explains the details of the agreement made between them □ He took out a life insurance policy.

policy-holder n a person who is insured with an insurance company.

polio ['pɒliə] n a serious disease that can paralyze one.

polish ['pɒlɪʃ] ◇ n -1. [for furniture, leather] a liquid, cream etc that makes things shine when it is rubbed on them □ shoe/boot/floor/furniture polish. -2. [on a shoe, piece of furniture] the shine on the surface of a piece of furniture, shoes etc □ The table had a high polish. -3. [of a person] a high degree of skill and stylishness □ Her work lacks polish. ◇ vt -1. [shoes, furniture, mirror] to make <sthg> shine by rubbing it. -2. to polish sthg (up) [skill, knowledge] to improve sthg □ She went to France to polish up her French.

◆ polish off vt sep (informal use) -1. to polish food off to finish food quickly □ You soon polished off those cookies. -2. to polish sthg off [job, book, opposition] to finish or deal with sthg quickly and easily □ We'll polish off the work in no time.

Polish ['pɒlɪʃ] ◇ npl the Polish the people who come from or live in Poland. ◇ n the language spoken in Poland. ◇ adj: see Poland.

polished ['pɒlɪʃt] adj -1. [surface, table] that is shiny after being rubbed with polish □ polished glass. -2. [person, manners] that is polite, confident, and elegant. -3. [performance, performer] that is confident and skillful.

polite [pə'laɪt] adj -1. [person, remark, refusal] that shows good manners □ He was very polite to me. -2. polite society people who are considered to be refined and to have correct social behavior □ That's not the sort of thing you discuss in polite society.

politely [pə'laɪtlɪ] adv [ask, say, refuse] see polite □ I must politely request you to leave.

politeness [pə'laɪtnəs] n [of a person, remark, refusal] see polite.

politic [ˈpɒlətɪk] adj advisable (formal use) □ It wouldn't be politic to approach them just now.

political [pə'lɪtɪkəl] adj -1. [party, theory] that is connected with politics □ Making a speech like that was political suicide. □ a political activist. -2. [person] who is interested or involved in politics □ All her family is very political.

political asylum n permission to stay in a country that is given to a person who has had to leave their own country for political reasons, especially because they are in danger there □ The refugee was granted political asylum.

Political Correctness [-kə'rektnəs] n a movement that aims to get rid of attitudes such as racism and sexism.

♥ POLITICAL CORRECTNESS

Political correctness refers to a set of attitudes and principles that started among left-wing and liberal people in the USA. It aims to achieve fairer treatment for all, mainly by getting rid of words that seem to discriminate against a particular section of society. It is politically correct, or PC, for example, to say "Native American" instead of "American Indian", "African American" instead of "black person", and "differently abled" instead of "disabled". Some people disapprove of political correctness because it is too extreme.

political football n GB an issue that is strongly argued about by different political parties □ Immigration has become something of a political football.

political geography n the branch of geography that deals with states and their borders.

politically [pə'lɪtɪklɪ] adv politically active/wise etc active/wise etc from the point of view of politics □ The council's decisions were said to be politically motivated. □ Politically, it was a dangerous move.

politically correct adj [language, term, attitude] that aims to treat everybody in a fair way, especially by not using words that are unfair to minorities, women etc.

political prisoner n a person who is put in prison for their political beliefs, especially because they disagree with their government.

political science n the study of politics and governments.

politician [ˌpɒlə'tɪʃn] n a person who works in

- politics □ The issue unites politicians of all parties.
- politicize, -ise [pə'litəsaɪz] vt [person] to make <sb> more involved in politics; [topic, issue] to present <sthg> from a political point of view □ It was his war experiences that really politicized him. □ They're trying to politicize what is essentially a moral issue.
- politics ['pɒlətiks] ◇ n -1. the activities involved in getting and using power in a country, city, society, or organization □ I've always been interested in politics. -2. the profession of being a politician □ She entered politics in 1969. ◇ npl -1. a person's political beliefs □ I don't know what his politics are. -2. the ways in which people in an organization try to gain power □ I've had enough of office politics!
- polka ['pɒlkə] n a fast dance for people in pairs, popular in the 19th century; a piece of music that has the rhythm of this dance.
- polka dot n polka dots a pattern consisting of round spots that is often used on cloth, clothes, paper etc □ a polka-dot dress.
- poll [pɒl] ◇ n -1. an election □ The results of the poll will be known later tonight. -2. a survey in which a number of people are asked their opinion about somebody or something, in order to find out what most people think or what most people will do in the future □ Recent poll figures show considerable support for the idea. ◇ vt -1. to ask <people> for their opinion on somebody or something in a poll □ Only 10% of the people polled were in favor of a ban. -2. [politician, candidate, party] to get  in an election □ They only polled 20% of the vote.
- ◆ polls npl to go to the polls to vote in an election □ It could be over a year before the country goes to the polls.
- pollen ['pɒlən] n the yellow powder produced by a flower to fertilize other flowers of the same species.
- pollen count n the official measurement of the amount of pollen in the air at a particular time and place.
- pollinate ['pɒləneɪt] vt [flower, tree, grass] to fertilize  with pollen.
- pollination [ˌpɒlə'neɪʃn] n: see pollinate.
- polling ['pɒlɪŋ] n the act of voting at an election □ Polling opened at 8:00 this morning.
- polling booth n GB a small separated area in a polling place where one can vote in private.
- polling day n GB the day on which people vote in an election.
- polling place US, polling station GB n a place where people go to vote in an election, often a school or other public building.
- Pollock ['pɒlək], Jackson (1912–1956) a US abstract artist known for his "action painting", a style of painting in which the artist drips or throws paint onto the canvas.
- pollster ['pɒlstə] n a person who carries out polls and uses their results to try to say what will happen in the future.
- poll tax n a tax that must be paid by every adult, or every person, in a country.
- ◆ Poll Tax n the Poll Tax a local tax, payable by every adult living in Britain, that was introduced in 1987. It was unpopular and was replaced by the Council Tax in 1992.
- pollutant [pə'lʊ:tnt] n a substance that pollutes something □ chemical pollutants.
- pollute [pə'lʊ:t] vt [environment, atmosphere, river] to make <sthg> dirty and unsafe for people or animals to use.
- pollution [pə'lju:ʃn] n -1. substances that pollute □ Pollution is allowed to flow into the river unchecked. -2. [of the environment, atmosphere, a river] see pollute □ the pollution of seaside resorts. ■ noise pollution continuous or loud noise, e.g. from traffic or aircraft, that is considered to be unhealthy for people.
- polo ['pɒləʊ] n a sport in which two teams of players riding horses hit a ball with long wooden hammers to try and score goals.
- polo neck n -1. US a collar in the form of a band of material that covers part of one's neck; GB a high collar that folds down. -2. a sweater with a polo neck.
- ◆ polo-neck adj a polo-neck sweater/dress etc a sweater/dress etc that has a polo neck.
- polo shirt n a top that has short sleeves, a collar, and three or four buttons at the neck.
- poltergeist ['pɒltə'gaɪst] n a ghost that is believed to move objects and throw them around and cause damage in a house, but that is never seen.
- polyanthus [ˌpɒli'æntʰəs] (pl polyanthuses OR polyanths [-θaɪ]) n a small garden plant with groups of brightly colored flowers and thick stems.
- polyester [US 'pɒliestr, GB 'pɒli'estə] n a type of artificial fabric used to make cloth □ polyester fabric/cotton.
- polyethylene [ˌpɒli'eθili:n] US, polythene ['pɒliθi:n] GB n a strong thin plastic used to make sheets or bags, or to cover or protect things □ a polyethylene sheet.
- polygamist [pɒ'liɡəməst] n a man who has more than one wife at the same time.
- polygamy [pɒ'liɡəmi] n the practice or custom of being a polygamist.
- polygon ['pɒlɪɡɒn] n a shape with more than three straight sides.
- polymer ['pɒlɪmə] n a chemical substance consisting of large molecules made of many small molecules with the same structure.
- Polynesia [ˌpɒlə'ni:zjə] a region consisting of several groups of islands in the central and southern Pacific Ocean, including Hawaii, Tonga, and Samoa.
- Polynesian [ˌpɒlə'ni:zjən] n & adj: see Polynesia.
- polyp ['pɒləp] n a small growth on a surface inside one's body that can cause disease.
- polypropylene [ˌpɒli'prəʊpəli:n] n a plastic material used in making ropes, carpets etc.
- polystyrene [ˌpɒli'staɪri:n] n a very light plastic, used for making containers, and as an insulating material □ a polystyrene cup.

polythene n GB = polyethylene.

polyunsaturated [ˌpɒliʌnˈsætʃəreɪtəd] adj [fat, margarine] that is made mainly from vegetable fats that are thought to be healthier than animal fats.

polyurethane [ˌpɒlɪˈjʊərəθeɪn] n a plastic used especially to make types of paint, foam, and varnish.

pom [pɒm] n AUS an English person (informal and disapproving use).

pomander [pouˈmændəʃ] n an object that contains spices or flowers, or that smells of these, and is kept in a room, closet etc to keep the clothes or the air there fresh.

pomegranate [ˈpɒmɪgrænət] n a round fruit that has a hard, thin skin and many seeds with pink juicy flesh around each one.

pommel [ˈpɒml] n the raised part on the front of a horse's saddle.

pommie, pommy [ˈpɒmi] n AUS = pom.

pomp [pɒmp] n the great ceremony, decorations, and fine clothes seen on official or public occasions □ the pomp and ceremony of a royal wedding.

Pompey [ˈpɒmpi] (106–48BC) a Roman military and political leader. He shared power with Julius Caesar, and then opposed him and was defeated by him.

pompom [ˈpɒmpɒm] n -1. a small ball made of strings of yarn and wool and used to decorate hats, socks etc. -2. a large ball made of colored strings of plastic and waved by cheerleaders at football games.

pompous [ˈpɒmpəs] adj [person] who speaks or behaves in a very serious way because they think they are more important than they really are □ a pompous speech.

poncho [ˈpɒntʃou] (pl ponchos) n a piece of clothing like a cape worn on top of one's other clothes and consisting of a single piece of material with a hole for one's head.

pond [pɒnd] n a small area of water that is smaller than a lake and has been built or has formed in a hole in the ground.

ponder [ˈpɒndəʃ] ◇ vt [question, problem] to think slowly and carefully about <sthg> (literary use) □ I'll have to ponder the matter further. ◇ vi: I shall have to ponder over that for a while.

ponderous [ˈpɒndərəs] adj -1. [book, speech, writing] that is serious, long, and boring □ He embarked on a very long, ponderous explanation. -2. [architecture, person] that looks large and heavy □ a ponderous Victorian edifice. -3. [movement, walk] that is slow and clumsy □ He has a very ponderous way of moving/dancing.

pontiff [ˈpɒntɪf] n a pope (formal use).

pontificate [pɒnˈtɪfɪkeɪt] vi to tell other people one's opinion because one believes one is always right (disapproving use) □ He's always pontificating about OR on how we should be doing things.

Pontius Pilate [ˌpɒntɪəsˈpaɪlət] in the Bible, the Roman officer in charge of Jesus Christ's trial and crucifixion.

pontoon [pɒnˈtuːn] n -1. a pontoon (bridge) a type of bridge that is built on a platform consisting of boats. -2. GB a card game played for money.

pony [ˈpɒni] (pl ponies) n a small kind of horse.

Pony Express n the Pony Express a service for delivering mail that operated in the USA between Missouri and California in the 1860s. The mail was carried by men riding on horseback.

♥ PONY EXPRESS

The Pony Express mail service, which started in 1860, used horseback riders and a system of stations where men could stop to change horses every ten to fifteen miles. The riders could cover the 2,000 miles from the Midwest to California in ten days — less than half the time that the normal stagecoach service took. The company went bankrupt after only a year and a half when the telegraph system was completed.

ponytail [ˈpɒnɪteɪl] n a hairstyle in which all one's hair is tied together at the back of the head □ She always wears her hair in a ponytail.

pony-trekking [-ˈtrekɪŋ] n GB the activity of riding ponies through the countryside as part of one's vacation.

poodle [ˈpuːdl] n a type of dog with very curly short hair.

pooh [puː] excl a sound used to show disgust at an unpleasant smell.

pooh-pooh vt to reject <an idea> because one thinks it is foolish □ The committee pooh-poohed the idea of a joint venture.

pool [puːl] ◇ n -1. a small area of water, usually formed naturally. -2. = swimming pool. -3. [of water, light] a small area of liquid or light on the ground □ a pool of blood. -4. [of talent, people, money] a number of things or people that are used and shared by several people or organizations. -5. GAMES a game in which long thin sticks are used to hit colored balls into holes around the edge of a special table. ◇ vt [information, money] to share <sthg that one has> with other people in order that one can use their resources, information, money etc □ Why don't we pool our resources and buy a car together?

◆ pools npl = football pools.

poop [puːp] n the poop US the most important facts about something (informal use).

pooped [puːpt] adj to be pooped to be very tired (informal use).

poor [pʊə, pɔː] ◇ adj -1. [person] who has very little money or few possessions; [country, area] that has a lot of poor people living in it □ She comes from a poor background. -2. a word used to show sympathy for somebody □ You poor thing! -3. [health, results] that is of a low quality or standard □ Asthma can be triggered by poor air quality. ◇ npl the poor

- poor people in a particular society □ The law was originally intended to help the poor.
- poorhouse ['puə'haus, pl -'hauzɪz] n in the past, a building paid for by the public where poor people could live if they had no home.
- poorly ['puəli] ◇ adj to be poorly GB to be unwell (informal use). ◇ adv [perform, cook] badly □ The job is very poorly paid.
- poor relation n something that is similar to another thing but not as good as it □ The state colleges are still seen as the poor relations of the older universities.
- pop [pɒp] (pt & pp popped, cont popping) ◇ n
 -1. MUSIC a modern kind of music that usually has a strong beat and is popular mainly with young people □ a pop song/record. -2. [for drinking] a sweet bubbly drink that is not alcoholic (informal use). -3. a word used when talking to or about one's father (informal use) □ Pop died when I was only 17. -4. a word used to describe a short sharp sound like a small explosion □ The cork came out of the bottle with a loud pop.
 ◇ vt -1. [balloon, bubble] to burst <sthg> with a pop. -2. to put sthg somewhere, especially quickly (informal use) □ He popped the book into his case. □ She popped her head around the door to say hello. □ I'll pop a check in the mail.
 ◇ vi -1. [balloon, bubble] to burst with a pop □ He blew up the bag until it suddenly popped. -2. [button, cork] to suddenly move from a fixed position □ The lid popped open. -3. [eyes] to stick out with surprise or excitement □ Her eyes practically popped out of her head when I told her. -4. [person] to come or go somewhere quickly □ I'm just popping over to Aunt Ellen's house.
- ◆ pop in vi to go somewhere and see somebody for a short time (informal use) □ He said he'd pop in and see us when he got back.
- ◆ pop up vi to appear in a situation or place unexpectedly □ She pops up in the most unlikely places.
- popadum ['pɒpədəm] n a type of very thin, round, crispy bread made of flour and water that is eaten with Indian food.
- pop art n a style of modern art that uses the images, styles, and techniques of advertising and the mass media.
- pop concert n a live performance of pop music by one or more pop groups.
- popcorn ['pɒpkɔːn] n a kind of food eaten as a snack that is made of grains of corn heated until they burst and become soft, and then flavored with salt or sugar.
- pope [pəʊp] n the leader of the Roman Catholic Church.
- Popeye ['pəʊpeɪ] a cartoon sailor who becomes very strong when he eats spinach.
- pop group n a group of people who perform pop music together.
- poplar ['pɒplə] n a type of tall thin tree with triangular leaves; the wood of this tree.
- poplin ['pɒplɪn] n a type of cotton fabric used mainly to make clothes □ a poplin shirt.
- popper ['pɒpə] n GB a device for fastening a piece of clothing that consists of two small, round, metal or plastic parts that are pressed together.
- poppy ['pɒpi] (pl poppies) n a plant that has large, usually red flowers, one type of which produces the drug opium □ poppy seeds.
- poppycock ['pɒpɪkɒk] n a word used to show that one thinks that something is nonsense (old-fashioned use) □ Don't talk such poppycock!
- Poppy Day n in Britain, the Sunday nearest November 11, when people wear artificial poppies in memory of those who died in the two World Wars.

🌸 POPPY DAY

In Britain Poppy Day, also called Remembrance Day, is the Sunday nearest to November 11, the anniversary of the day that World War I ended. Near this date people buy red paper poppies to wear in their lapels, in memory of British soldiers who died during the two World Wars. (Poppies used to grow in northern France, where many soldiers died during World War I.) The money raised goes to help people who fought in the wars.

PopsicleTM ['pɒpsɪkl] n US a piece of flavored ice frozen onto a stick.

pop singer n a person who sings pop music as a career.

populace ['pɒpjələs] n the populace the people who live in a country, especially those who do not govern it □ an attempt to win the hearts of the populace.

popular ['pɒpjələ] adj -1. [activity, person, place] that a lot of people like □ a popular ski resort □ The band was very popular in the seventies. □ The show is back by popular demand. -2. [belief, attitude] that a lot of people have □ We hope our work will help to change popular misconceptions about aging. -3. popular entertainment/culture etc entertainment/culture etc produced for or enjoyed by ordinary people □ a popular history of the war years □ popular press.

popularity [ˌpɒpjə'lærəti] n [of a person, activity, place] see popular □ African music has gained in popularity over the last five years.

popularize, -ise ['pɒpjələraɪz] vt -1. [style, place, activity] to make <sthg> popular □ The band helped to popularize Tex-Mex music. -2. [science, idea] to make <sthg> easier to understand or more interesting for ordinary people □ He was successful in popularizing astronomy.

popularly ['pɒpjələli] adv popularly believed/thought etc believed/thought etc by many people □ The ferry is popularly known as the "Vomit Comet". □ King Arthur is popularly believed to have led a Celtic rebellion.

populate ['pɒpjəleɪt] vt -1. to live in  □ The area is mainly populated by farmers. -2. to send people, animals, or plants to  so that they will live there □ The country was mainly populated by European emigrants.

populated ['pɒpjəleɪtəd] adj a densely/sparsely

- populated area an area where a lot of/few people live □ a densely populated country.
- population [ˌpɒpjəˈleɪʃn] n -1. [of a country, town] the number of people that live in an area □ Montreal has a population of over a million. -2. all the people, animals, or plants of a particular type that live in a place □ the local deer population.
- population explosion n a large and very fast increase in a population.
- populist [ˈpɒpjələst] n a politician who tries to get support mainly from ordinary people.
- pop-up adj -1. a pop-up toaster a toaster with a spring that pushes the bread up out of the top after it has been toasted. -2. a pop-up book a book, usually for children, that has pictures that stand up when the pages are opened.
- porcelain [ˈpɔːrsələn] n a hard kind of pottery with a shiny surface, used to make high-quality plates, cups etc and ornaments □ a porcelain vase.
- porch [pɔːtʃ] n -1. an entrance to a building, with sides and a roof. -2. US a platform built along the outside wall of a house that often has a roof and is used for relaxation.
- porcupine [ˈpɔːˈkjuːpaɪn] n an animal with short legs and long sharp spines all over its back and sides.
- pore [pɔː] n [of skin, a rock, plant] a very small hole in the surface of something that lets water, air etc pass in or out.
- ♦ pore over vt fus to pore over sthg [book, map, statistics] to look at or read sthg very carefully, especially for a long time □ He could usually be found poring over a dictionary.
- pork [pɔːk] n the meat from a pig □ roast pork.
- pork chop n a small piece of meat on a bone, cut from the ribs of a pig.
- porn [pɔːn] n = pornography (informal use) □ a porn magazine.
- pornographic [ˌpɔːnəˈgræfɪk] adj [book, movie, magazine] see pornography □ pornographic pictures/videos.
- pornography [pɔːˈnɒgrəfi] n pictures, books, movies etc that are designed to make people sexually excited by showing or describing naked people or sexual activity (disapproving use).
- porous [ˈpɔːrəs] adj [rock, soil] that has many small holes in it that let water or air pass through it.
- porpoise [ˈpɔːpəs] n a large animal that lives in the sea and is similar to a dolphin.
- porridge [ˈpɒrɪdʒ] n a dish consisting of oats cooked in milk or water and eaten hot, usually for breakfast.
- port [pɔːt] n -1. a town or city on a river or by the sea that has a harbor □ a sea/river port. -2. [of a town] the harbor of a town or city, where ships are loaded and unloaded □ the port authorities. -3. SAILING [on a ship, boat] the left side when one is in a boat and facing forward □ the port side. ■ to port [list, steer, veer] to the port side. -4. [drink] a type of strong, sweet, red wine made in Portugal.
- 5. COMPUTING the part of a computer where another device can be connected, e.g. a printer.
- portable [ˈpɔːtəbl] adj [computer, TV, chair] that is smaller than usual and designed to be moved or carried easily.
- PortacribTM [ˈpɔːtəkrib] n US a portable bed for a very small baby.
- portal [ˈpɔːtl] n a large and impressive entrance door to a building (literary use) □ We entered the portals of the university.
- portcullis [ˌpɔːtˈkʌləs] n a strong heavy gate above the entrance to a castle, fort etc that can be lowered to the ground, and was used in the past as a protection against attack.
- portend [pɔːˈtend] vt [disaster, evil] to be a sign that <sthg bad> will happen in the future (formal use) □ The eclipse was thought to portend some great disaster.
- portent [ˈpɔːtent] n something that portends something else in the future (literary use) □ a portent of things to come.
- porter [ˈpɔːtə] n -1. [at an airport, station, hotel] a person whose job is to carry people's bags at airports, railroad stations, or hotels. -2. US [on a train] the person whose job is to look after passengers in a sleeping car on a train. -3. GB [in a school, apartment building] a person whose job is to look after the entrance of a particular building, especially by checking who enters it □ a hotel porter.
- Porter [ˈpɔːtə], Cole (1892–1964) a US composer of popular songs. His work includes Begin the Beguine and I've Got You Under My Skin.
- portfolio [ˌpɔːtˈfəʊliəʊ] (pl portfolios) n -1. [for carrying things] a large flat case for carrying papers and drawings. -2. [of drawings, photographs] a collection of drawings, photographs, or paintings, used by an artist or model to show their work. -3. FINANCE a collection of stocks and shares in different businesses.
- porthole [ˈpɔːthəʊl] n a small round window in the side of a ship or a plane.
- portion [ˈpɔːʃn] n -1. a part of something □ A large portion of their money is invested in property. -2. [of vegetables, pie] an amount of food that is given to somebody at a meal □ A small portion of fries, please.
- portly [ˈpɔːtli] (compar portlier, superl portliest) adj [man] who has a fat stomach (polite use) □ He grew rather portly with age.
- Port Moresby [ˈmɔːtʃzbi] the capital and main port of Papua New Guinea, on the southeast coast. POPULATION: 144,000.
- port of call n -1. SAILING a place where a ship stops during a trip. -2. any one of a number of places one has to visit within a particular period of time, or during a trip □ Our next port of call is the supermarket.
- portrait [ˈpɔːtrət] n -1. a painting, drawing, or photograph of somebody, especially of their face □ I offered to paint her portrait. □ a portrait painter. -2. a movie, piece of writing etc that describes a person, thing, or place □ The book is essentially a portrait of Spain in the 17th century.

portraitist [ˈpɔːtrətəst] n an artist or photographer whose job is to make portraits of people.

portray [pɔːˈtreɪ] vt -1. [hero, villain] to play the part of <sb> in a play, movie etc □ She portrayed his neurotic wife. -2. to describe, paint, draw etc <sb/sthg> in a particular way □ Richard III is always portrayed as a tyrant. □ How was she portrayed in the movie? -3. [person, event] to describe or paint <sb/sthg> □ a novel portraying wealthy society in 19th-century New York.

portrayal [pɔːˈtreɪəl] n a painting, description, performance etc that portrays somebody or something □ a convincing portrayal of madness.

Portugal [ˈpɔːtʃəɡl] a country in southwestern Europe, west of Spain, on the Atlantic Ocean. SIZE: 92,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,400,000 (Portuguese). CAPITAL: Lisbon. LANGUAGE: Portuguese. CURRENCY: escudo.

Portuguese [ˌpɔːtʃəˈɡiːz] (pl Portuguese) ◇ n a language spoken in Portugal, Brazil, Angola, and Mozambique. ◇ npl the Portuguese the people who come from or live in Portugal. ◇ adj: see Portugal □ the Portuguese ambassador.

pose [pəʊz] ◇ n -1. the way a person stands or sits, especially for a portrait or photograph □ a relaxed pose. -2. a way of behaving that is not natural and is often designed to attract attention or interest (disapproving use) □ He always puts on a pose to impress visitors.

◇ vt -1. [problem, threat, danger] to cause <sthg> □ Her unexpected arrival posed something of a dilemma. -2. to pose a question to ask a question □ The article poses several intriguing questions.

◇ vi -1. to stay in a particular position in order that somebody can paint, draw, or photograph one □ We all posed for the photograph. -2. to put on a pose in order to attract attention or interest (disapproving use). -3. to pose as sb/sthg to pretend to be sb/sthg □ Casey posed as a plainclothes policeman.

poser [ˈpəʊzə] n -1. somebody who puts on a pose □ John's such a poser. -2. a question that is difficult to answer (informal use).

poseur [pəʊˈzɜː] n a person who acts in a way that is not natural or sincere because they want to impress other people or attract attention (disapproving use).

posh [pɒʃ] adj (informal use) -1. [hotel, suit] that is very expensive and elegant □ They live in a posh apartment overlooking Central Park. -2. GB [person] who belongs to the upper class in society, or behaves like somebody who belongs to this class □ a posh accent.

posit [ˈpɒzɪt] vt [fact, theory, amount] to use <sthg> as the basis of an argument or calculation (formal use) □ The books all posit the existence of other life forms elsewhere.

position [pəˈzɪʃn] ◇ n -1. [of a person, object] the place where somebody or something is

□ The lever should be in an upright position. □ We radioed our position back to headquarters. ■ in position in the right place □ Make sure that the blades are in position before starting the motor. -2. [in a seat, room] the way somebody or something is sitting, standing, or placed □ I couldn't find a comfortable position. -3. [in society] the status or rank somebody has in society □ the position of unmarried mothers in society. -4. [in a company, organization] a job, often a professional or office job □ He left to take up a new position with another company. -5. [in a race, competition] one's place in relation to others in a race, competition etc □ They're currently in first/second position. -6. [of a company, leader, public figure] the situation that a person, organization etc is in and the way it affects their actions and decisions □ This puts us in an awkward/a strong position. □ I'm in a difficult financial position at the moment. □ I'm in a/ no position to help. -7. [on a matter, issue] one's opinion of, or attitude toward, something □ I wish to make my position on Nicaragua/this matter clear. -8. SPORT [on a field, court] the place where a particular player in a team stays when they are playing a game.

◇ vt [object, troops, person] to put <sb/sthg> somewhere deliberately and carefully □ He positioned himself on the chair opposite.

positive [ˈpɒzətɪv] adj -1. to be positive to be completely sure that something is true □ Are you positive it was him? -2. [person, attitude] that is hopeful and confident □ You must try and be more positive about the situation! -3. [response, reaction, criticism] that shows that somebody likes something and thinks it helpful □ The book has had very positive reviews. -4. [proof, evidence, fact] that shows clearly that something is true □ There is no positive proof as yet that he did it. -5. [result, test] that shows that something is there, or that something has happened □ The pregnancy test was positive. □ The samples tested positive for typhoid. -6. a positive number MATH a number greater than zero. -7. a word used to emphasize that something is true □ It's a positive pleasure to work with you!

positive discrimination n the practice of trying to help a particular group of people in society more than everybody else because they have been treated unfairly □ We have a policy of positive discrimination in favor of disabled people.

positively [ˈpɒzətɪvli] adv -1. [behave, react, prove] see positive □ She spoke positively about her plans for the future. -2. a word used to emphasize how true something is or how strongly one feels something □ Unsympathetic? He was positively rude! □ She was positively glowing with health.

positive vetting n GB the process of checking a person in great detail before trusting them with official secrets.

posse [ˈpɒsɪ] n in America in the past, a group of men who were ordered by a sheriff to help him chase and catch criminals.

possess [pəˈzes] vt -1. to own <sthg> (formal use) □ He gave away all that he possessed. -2. to have  (formal use) □ Turner possesses great intelligence/skill/courage. -3. [idea, anger, desire] to take control of <sb> (literary use) □ He was possessed by OR with the notion that he could become famous. ■ what (on earth) possessed you to...? a phrase used to show that one is very surprised by something silly that somebody has done □ What on earth possessed you to invite him?

possessed [pə'zest] adj to be possessed to be controlled by an evil spirit.

possession [pə'zeʃn] n the fact of having or owning something □ I am in possession of the original. □ Possession of drugs is illegal. □ I have in my possession positive proof of his guilt.

◆ possessions npl the things that belong to one □ I packed all my possessions into a suitcase and left.

possessive [pə'zesɪv] ◇ adj -1. [person] who wants all of somebody's love and attention for themselves only; who does not want to share their possessions or have them used by other people □ She's very possessive about her children/car. -2. GRAMMAR a possessive adjective/pronoun an adjective/a pronoun that indicates possession, e.g. "mine", "yours", "Fred's". ◇ n GRAMMAR a possessive adjective, pronoun, or form of a word.

possessor [pə'zesə] n a person who possesses something (formal use) □ I am now the proud possessor of a fridge freezer.

possibility [ˌpɒsə'bɪlətɪ] (pl possibilities) n -1. the chance or likelihood that something will happen □ There is now little possibility of success. □ Is there any possibility that we might be wrong? -2. something that may happen, or may be true □ He suggested the possibility of going by car.

possible ['pɒsəbl] ◇ adj -1. that can exist, happen, or be done □ I'd like to leave as soon as possible. □ He always eats as much as possible! □ Is it possible for you to come earlier? -2. [theory, solution] that may be imagined □ It's possible that we'll be unable to come tomorrow. □ We'll do everything possible to finish it on time. -3. [risks, consequences, problems] that may happen or exist □ What are the possible dangers? ◇ n somebody or something that has the qualities needed for a particular job or purpose, and that might be chosen for it □ There are two or three possibles for the job.

possibly ['pɒsəblɪ] adv -1. a word used to say that something may happen or may be true □ Hamilton is possibly the greatest player this century. -2. a word used in questions to show that one is surprised, shocked, or puzzled □ How can he possibly say that? -3. a word used in requests, to make them more polite □ Could you possibly lend me a hand? -4. a word used in front of "can" or "could" to show that something has been done as well or as soon as possible □ I'll do all I possibly can. -5. a word used with a negative, to emphasize that something is not possible □ You can't possibly mean that!

possum ['pɒsəm] (pl possum OR possums) n a small animal with thick fur and a long tail that lives in trees, carries its young in a pouch on the front of its body, and is found in Australia, New Zealand, and the USA.

post [pəʊst] ◇ n -1. the post the system in a country for sending and receiving letters and packages □ Further details will be sent by post. □ Could you put it in the post for me? □ I got a check through the post. -2. letters, packages etc that somebody has mailed and that are delivered to one's address □ Did I get any post today? -3. a delivery of post □ Has (the) second post arrived yet? -4. GB a regular collection of post from a mailbox or post office □ I just missed the 5:30 post. -5. [in the ground] an upright pole fixed into the ground. -6. [in a company, at a college] a particular job or position in an organization □ I've applied for the post of senior accountant. -7. MILITARY the particular place where a soldier is told or expected to be □ He fell asleep at his post. -8. phrase to pip sb at the post GB to beat sb by a very small amount in a competition, race etc □ They nearly offered me the job, but I was pipped at the post by a younger candidate.

◇ vt -1. to send  etc in the post □ They're posting me details of the job. -2. to send <an employee> to another town or country to work □ His wife has been posted to China. -3. phrase to keep sb posted to keep sb informed about a particular situation □ I don't know his plans, but I'll keep you posted.

Post [pəʊst], Emily (1873–1960) a US writer and journalist who gave advice on correct behavior in polite society.

post- prefix added to words and dates to show that something took place after a particular time or event □ post-war politics.

postage ['pəʊstɪdʒ] n the amount of money that it costs to send something by post □ The price includes postage and handling US OR postage and packing GB.

postage paid adj [envelope] that can be mailed without a stamp, because a company has printed the value of a stamp on it and will pay for it.

postage stamp n a small piece of paper with glue on the back that must be bought and stuck onto a letter, package etc before it is mailed (formal use).

postal ['pəʊstl] adj postal system/charges etc the system/charges etc connected with the public service of collecting and sending letters and packages.

postal order n in Britain, a note sold in post offices that represents a particular amount of money and is used for sending money by mail.

postbag ['pəʊstbæg] n GB -1. the bag in which a mailman carries letters and packages. -2. all the letters that are received by a radio or TV station, especially at a particular time □ We've had a huge postbag on the subject.

postbox ['pəʊstbɒks] n GB a large container with a narrow opening, usually outdoors in

- a street, into which letters and small packages can be put in order to be sent by mail.
- postcard ['poustkɑ:ɹd] n a piece of card, usually with a picture on one side, on which a message can be written, and that can be mailed without an envelope □ I'll send you a postcard.
- postcode ['poustkouɹd] n GB a series of numbers and letters written at the end of an address to help the post office sort mail more quickly.
- postdate [ˌpoust'deɪt] vt [check, letter] to write a date on <sthg> that is later than the date when one writes it.
- poster ['poustə] n a large picture, notice, or advertisement that is stuck on a wall as a decoration or to give information.
- poste restante [US ˌpoustre'stɑ:nt, GB ˌpoustrɛ'stɒnt] n a system run by post offices in some countries that allows all mail sent to a particular person to be kept at a post office until it is collected.
- posterior [pə'stɪəriə] ◇ adj that is at the back of something or behind another part of something. ◇ n one's bottom (humorous use).
- posterity [pə'stɪərətɪ] n all the future and the people that will be part of it, including the time after one has died □ Her words were recorded for posterity.
- poster paint n paint that contains no oil and is often very bright.
- post-free adj & adv GB = postpaid.
- postgraduate [ˌpoust'grædʒuət] ◇ adj [student, degree, research] that is connected with studies that one does at a university after one has finished a first degree □ postgraduate studies. ◇ n a postgraduate student.
- posthaste [ˌpoust'heɪst] adv as quickly as possible (old-fashioned use).
- posthumous ['pɒstfʊməs] adj [award, medal, fame] that somebody has or gets after their death.
- posthumously ['pɒstfʊməslɪ] adv [award, publish] see posthumous.
- post-industrial adj [age, society] that is connected with changes in the way people live and work caused by developments in industry and technology.
- posting ['poustɪŋ] n a job that involves moving to work in a different place □ I'm hoping for a posting overseas.
- Post-it™ n a small colored piece of paper for writing notes that can be stuck to a surface and removed easily.
- postman ['poustmən] (pl postmen [-mən]) n a person whose job is to collect and deliver mail.
- postmark ['poustmɑ:k] ◇ n a mark printed over the stamp on letters and packages that shows when and where they were mailed. ◇ vt to put a postmark on  etc.
- postmaster [US ˌpoustmæstər, GB -mɑ:stə] n a man who is in charge of a post office.
- Postmaster General (pl Postmasters General)
- n* the person in charge of the postal service in a particular country.
- postmistress ['poustmɪstrəs] n a woman who is in charge of a post office.
- postmortem [ˌpoust'mɔ:rtəm] ◇ adj [examination, test] that is carried out on a dead body to find out what caused the person's death. ◇ n -1. a postmortem examination of a dead body. -2. an examination of something that was unsuccessful to find out why it failed □ After the game there was a long postmortem in the locker room.
- postnatal [ˌpoust'neɪtl] adj [care, depression] that is connected with the period of time after a mother has given birth to a baby.
- post office n -1. a building or store where people can send letters and packages, buy stamps, and use various other services. -2. the Post Office the organization in charge of the postal services of a country □ the United States Post Office.
- post office box n a box in a post office in which letters and packages that have been sent to a particular person or organization are kept until they are collected.
- postoperative [ˌpoust'ɒpəreɪtɪv] adj [care, examination] that happens after a medical operation.
- postpaid [ˌpoust'peɪd] ◇ adj [letter, envelope] that is sent without any charge for postage. ◇ adv: You can send the letter post-paid.
- postpone [pəʊs'pəʊn] vt [decision, game] to arrange for <sthg> to happen at a later time □ The meeting has been postponed until Friday.
- postponement [pəʊs'pəʊnmənt] n: see postpone.
- postscript ['poustskrɪpt] n -1. a short message written at the end of a letter, below one's signature. -2. a short piece of information added to the end of a story, account, statement etc.
- post-traumatic stress disorder n a mental condition that affects people after a traumatic experience such as being in a war.
- postulate [US ˌpɒstfəleɪt, GB -tjə-] vt [theory, idea, cause] to suggest that <sthg> is true or correct, even if it has not been proven, so that one can use it to help explain something else.
- posture ['pɒstʃə] ◇ n -1. the particular position of one's body when one is sitting, standing, or walking □ She's got very good/bad posture. -2. the attitude that somebody has in relation to a particular subject or situation □ Their posture on the peace process is quite clear. ◇ vi (disapproving use) -1. to pretend to have a particular opinion, usually to impress people □ Voters are growing tired of politicians posturing on every issue that hits the headlines. -2. to act in an exaggerated way in order to get attention □ the familiar sight of pop stars posturing on our TV screens.
- posturing ['pɒstʃərɪŋ] n the act of pretending to have a particular opinion, usually to impress people (disapproving use) □ It's easy to see through all their posturing.

postviral syndrome [ˌpoustvairəl-] n a medical condition in which one feels very tired for a long time after having a viral illness.

postwar [ˌpoust'wɔːr] adj [era, architecture] that is connected with the period immediately after a war, especially World War II.

posy ['pouzi] (pl posies) n a small bunch of flowers.

pot [pɒt] (pt & pp potted, cont potting) ◇ n -1. [for cooking] a round container, usually made of metal or pottery, that is used for cooking things; the amount of liquid that this holds □ a cooking pot □ a pot of soup -2. [for tea, coffee] a container used for serving tea or coffee; the amount of tea or coffee that this contains. -3. [for paint, honey] a deep round container used for keeping paint, jam etc in. -4. [for plants] a round container used for growing plants in □ a plant pot. -5. cannabis (informal and old-fashioned use). ◇ vt to put  in a flowerpot filled with earth so that it will grow there.

potash ['pɒtæʃ] n a white powdery form of potassium, made from burnt wood, that is used especially on soil to help crops grow better.

potassium [pə'tæsiəm] n a soft silver-white chemical element. SYMBOL: K.

potato [pə'teɪtəʊ] (pl potatoes) n a round vegetable with a red or brown skin and hard white flesh that grows underground □ roast potatoes □ a potato omelet.

potato chips US, potato crisps GB npl very thin fried slices of potato sold in packets and eaten cold as a snack.

potato peeler n a special kind of knife for removing the skin from vegetables such as potatoes or carrots.

potbellied [US ˌpɒtbelɪd, GB ˌpɒt'belɪd] adj [person] who has a large round stomach, because they eat or drink too much or because they do not have enough food to eat.

potboiler ['pɒtbɔɪlə] n a book, piece of music etc that is produced only to earn money quickly.

potency ['pɒtənsɪ] n: see potent □ A drug of this potency should not be given to children.

potent ['pɒtənt] adj -1. [argument, force] that is effective in a particular situation. -2. [drink, drug] that has a powerful effect on one's mind or body.

potentate ['pɒtntetɪ] n a ruler who has complete power over the people of a country.

potential [pə'tenʃl] ◇ adj a potential customer/danger etc a customer/danger etc that might exist in the future □ There's a potential risk involved. □ He's a potential candidate for the job. ◇ n [of a person, company, plan] the qualities of somebody or something that might develop in the future □ He has the potential to become a threat. ■ to have potential to have a quality that might bring success in the future □ This idea has great potential. □ She has a lot of potential.

potentially [pə'tenʃli] adv -1. potentially... a word used to say that something might happen in the future □ Potentially, we could make millions. -2. potentially useful/dangerous etc that might be useful/dangerous etc in the future □ It's a potentially interesting idea.

pothole ['pɒθəʊl] n -1. a large hole in the surface of a road, caused by damage. -2. a deep hole in the ground, often leading to underground passages and caves.

potholer ['pɒθəʊlə] n GB a person who goes potholing.

potholing ['pɒθəʊlɪŋ] n to go potholing GB to explore potholes and underground caves as a sport.

potion ['pouʃn] n a drink containing medicine, poison, or a substance that is believed to have magical powers □ a magic/love potion.

potluck [ˌpɒt'lʌk] n to take potluck to choose something from what is available without knowing what exactly it will be.

Potomac [pə'toumæk]: the Potomac a river in the eastern USA that separates West Virginia and Maryland.

pot plant n a plant grown indoors in a pot.

potpourri [ˌpɒpuˈri:] n a mixture of dried leaves and pieces of flowers with spices added, kept in a bowl to make a room smell pleasant.

pot roast n a piece of meat cooked slowly in a covered pot with a small amount of liquid.

potshot ['pɒtʃɒt] n to take a potshot to shoot carelessly at something without aiming properly.

potted ['pɒtəd] adj -1. a potted plant a plant that is grown in a pot. -2. GB [meat, fish] that is cooked and then preserved in a container. -3. a potted history/biography etc GB a short history/biography etc that only gives the main facts □ He gave us a potted history of the music industry.

potter ['pɒtə] n a person who makes pots, dishes etc out of clay.

◆ potter about, potter around vi GB to spend time doing small pleasant jobs or activities without hurrying □ He likes nothing better than pottering about at home.

Potter ['pɒtə], Beatrix (1866–1943) a British writer and artist. She wrote and illustrated many children's stories about animals.

Potteries ['pɒtəri:] the Potteries a region in Staffordshire in the west of central England where the pottery industry is based.

potter's wheel n a flat wheel that spins around and is used by potters to make pottery out of wet clay.

pottery ['pɒtəri] (pl potteries) n -1. a collective term for objects such as dishes and pots made out of baked clay □ She's got some lovely pottery. -2. the skills of a potter □ He teaches pottery. -3. the place where pottery is produced □ We visited the local pottery.

potting compost ['pɒtɪŋ-] n a type of compost used especially indoors or in window boxes to help young plants to grow.

- potty ['pɒtɪ] (pl potties) n a bowl used by a very young child as a toilet.
- potty-trained adj to be potty-trained [child] to be able to use a potty or toilet and no longer need to wear diapers.
- pouch [paʊtʃ] n -1. a small bag for keeping things such as tobacco. -2. a pocket of skin in which some animals, e.g. kangaroos, carry their young.
- pouffe [pu:f] n GB a soft low seat without a back that is often used for resting one's feet on.
- poultice ['pɒltɪs] n a piece of cloth covered with a warm mixture and placed against one's skin to reduce pain or swelling.
- poultry ['pɒltrɪ] n the meat of birds such as chickens and geese that are kept on a farm. ◇ npl birds such as chickens and geese that are kept on a farm to supply eggs and meat.
- pounce [paʊns] vi -1. to suddenly try to catch or attack a person or animal, usually after waiting for the right moment □ The cat pounced on OR upon the mouse. □ The police pounced in the early hours of the morning. □ The attackers pounced on OR upon them in a dark alleyway. -2. to pounce on OR upon sthg [on an idea, comment] to notice sthg and immediately draw attention to it □ There was one small error, which she immediately pounced on.
- pound [paʊnd] n -1. the unit of money in Britain, equal to 100 pence □ It costs five pounds. -2. the pound the value of British currency in relation to other currencies □ There are eight francs to the pound. -3. [of weight] a unit (16 ounces) for measuring weight. -4. [for dogs, cars] a place where lost dogs, or cars that have been parked illegally, are kept by the police.
◇ vt -1. [table, door, wall] to hit <sthg> loudly with one's fist several times. -2. [grain, corn] to crush <sthg> into a powder or paste by hitting or pressing it with a heavy object.
◇ vi -1. [person] to hit something loudly with one's fist several times □ He pounded on the door. -2. [heart] to beat very fast because one is excited, scared etc □ My heart was pounding as I approached the door.
- Pound [paʊnd], Ezra (1885–1972) a US poet and critic whose major work is the Cantos.
- pounding ['paʊndɪŋ] n -1. [of somebody's fists, heart] the sound of something that pounds. -2. to get OR take a pounding [city, town] to be very badly damaged by bombing; [team, country] to be badly defeated.
- pound sterling n the unit of money in Britain.
- pour [pɔ:ɹ] ◇ vt -1. [liquid, grain, sugar] to make <sthg> flow out of a container by lifting the lower part of the container □ She poured the sugar into a bowl. ■ to pour sb a drink, to pour a drink for sb to fill a cup or glass with a liquid so that sb can drink it □ Let me pour you a whiskey. -2. to pour money into sthg [into a project, business] to spend a lot of money on the development of sthg □ They keep pouring money into that company, but it will never make a profit.
◇ vi -1. [liquid, sweat, smoke] to flow quickly and in large amounts out of or into something □ The water was pouring down the roof. -2. [people, traffic] to move somewhere together quickly and in large numbers □ Tourists poured into the city for the festival.
◇ v impers to rain heavily □ It's pouring (with rain)!
- ◆ pour in vi [people, news, letters] to arrive quickly in large quantities □ I hear the offers have been pouring in since the show.
- ◆ pour out vt sep -1. to pour sthg out [liquid] to make sthg flow out of a container by lifting the container □ I poured out drinks for both of us. □ He poured out the contents into the sink. -2. to pour out one's thoughts/feelings etc to tell somebody one's thoughts/feelings etc in an emotional way, usually because one is worried, upset etc □ She poured her heart out to me.
- pouring ['pɔ:ɪŋ] adj the pouring rain rain that is falling very fast and hard.
- pout [paʊt] ◇ vi to push one's lips forward, e.g. when one is annoyed or as a way of trying to look attractive in a photograph □ I saw her pouting on the cover of "Vanity Fair".
◇ n the act of pouting; the position one's lips are in when one pouts □ "I suppose so," she said with a pout.
- poverty ['pɒvə'tɪ] n -1. the state of being poor □ They live in utter poverty. -2. a poverty of sthg [of imagination, resources] a lack of sthg □ There's a terrible poverty of thought in the government.
- poverty line n to be on the poverty line to have just enough money for one's food, bills etc.
- poverty-stricken adj [person, area, organization] that is very poor.
- poverty trap n GB a situation in which a poor person continues to depend on financial help from their government because any job they can get will cause them to lose this help, without providing more money than they already receive from the state.
- pow [paʊ] excl a word used to represent the sound that is made when something explodes or when two objects hit one another.
- POW n abbr of prisoner of war.
- powder ['paʊdəɹ] n a solid substance in the form of tiny particles. ◇ vt [face, body] to put cosmetic powder on <one's skin>.
- powder compact n a small flat case containing a woman's face powder, a powder puff, and a mirror.
- powdered ['paʊdəɹd] adj -1. [milk, sugar, eggs] that is sold or used in the form of a powder. -2. [face, skin] that has powder on it.
- powder puff n a round piece of soft thick material used for putting cosmetic powder on one's face or body.
- powder room n a women's rest room (polite use).
- powdery ['paʊdəɹɪ] adj -1. [substance, snow] that is like powder. -2. [surface] that is covered in powder.

power ['paʊə] ◇ n -1. [of a person, organization, government] control and influence that somebody or something has over people and situations □ He was more interested in power than money. □ You can never underestimate the power of the media. □ The regime is desperately trying to hold onto its power. ■ to be in power [politician, party] to be in charge of the government of a country □ They've been in power for ten years now. ■ to come to or into power [politician, party] to start to be in charge of the government of a country □ When we came to power, unemployment was at its highest in over 50 years. ■ to have power over sb to have control or authority over sb. ■ to take power to take control of the government of a country without having been elected, especially by using violence. -2. a particular skill or ability to do something □ mental powers □ He claims to have the power to heal the sick. ■ the power of speech/hearing the ability to talk/hear -3. [of the courts, police, army] a legal right that a person or organization has □ As a citizen you have the power to vote. ■ it is in or within my power to do sthg I have the authority to do sthg □ I did everything within my power to help. -4. [of a person, animal, explosion] the physical strength of somebody or something. -5. TECHNOLOGY energy that is produced in a particular way and is used to make machines work □ wind/solar/steam power. -6. ELECTRICITY electricity that is used for lighting, heating, operating machines etc □ Don't forget to switch the power off. -7. [in international politics] a strong and influential organization, country etc □ world powers such as the USA and Japan. ■ the powers that be the people in important and official jobs whose decisions affect one's life □ The powers that be have decided that I should leave. ◇ vt [machine, device] to give <sthg> the power it needs to work □ powered by solar energy □ a steam-powered locomotive.

power base n a group of people or an area that provides somebody, especially a politician, with the support that makes them powerful or important.

powerboat ['paʊəbɔʊt] n a very fast motorboat.

power broker n a person who helps to decide questions of political power and influence, especially in disagreements between nations.

power cut n a period of time during which the supply of electricity to a building, area etc is stopped.

power failure n a period of time during which the supply of electricity to a building, area etc is stopped because of a technical problem.

powerful ['paʊəfʊl] adj -1. [member, organization, government] that has a lot of control and influence over people, events etc □ She's become extremely powerful within the organization. -2. [person, animal, explosion] that is physically strong □ Her powerful shoulders strained to lift the weight. -3. [drug] that has a strong effect on somebody's body or mind; [smell, aroma] that is very strong and usually unpleasant; [sound, voice] that is loud. -4. [movie, speech, book] that has a strong effect on people's feelings □ I find his poems very powerful.

powerhouse ['paʊə'haʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n a person, organization etc that is very strong or that produces a lot of good ideas or things □ He's an intellectual powerhouse.

powerless ['paʊə'lɪs] adj to be powerless [person, organization] not to have the necessary power or influence to do something □ We are powerless to stop them.

power line n a cable that carries electricity.

power of attorney n the official authority, in the form of a document, that allows somebody to represent another person in business or legal matters.

power outage n US = power failure.

power plant n US = power station.

power point n GB a device attached to a wall that has a set of holes which electricity passes through when a plug is pushed into them.

power-sharing [-'feərɪŋ] n -1. POLITICS the system of sharing power between political parties when no party has enough votes to rule alone. -2. BUSINESS the system of sharing power between workers and management.

power station n a building where electricity is produced for a lot of people to use.

power steering n a system that makes it easier for one to steer a car, truck etc by using power from the engine.

power worker n a person who works at a power station.

pp -1. abbr of pages. -2. (abbr of per procurationem) a phrase written before a person's name when somebody else is signing a letter or document as their representative.

p & p (abbr of postage and packing) n GB a charge made for packing and mailing something that somebody has bought.

PPE (abbr of philosophy, politics, and economics) n GB a combination of subjects taken together as a degree course at some universities.

P-plates npl in Australia, plates with the letter P on them that a driver has to show at the front and back of their car for a year after they have passed their driving test.

ppm (abbr of parts per million) CHEMISTRY a term used when measuring small amounts of a substance contained in another substance.

PPS (abbr of parliamentary private secretary) ◇ n a British member of parliament who also works as a government minister's assistant. ◇ a phrase written after a PS note in a letter or document, to show that a second note is being added.

PQ abbr of Province of Quebec.

Pr abbr of Prince.

PR ◇ n -1. abbr of proportional representation.
-2. abbr of public relations. ◇ abbr of Puerto Rico.

practicable ['præktikəbl] adj [task, plan, idea] that can be done or carried out successfully.

practical ['præktɪkl] ◇ adj -1. [training, question] that is connected with a real situation and not just ideas □ What you need is to get some practical experience working on a farm. -2. [person] who deals with problems in a sensible way; [idea, suggestion, solution] that is sensible and likely to succeed □ I'm sure she'll think of something — she's very practical. □ Can anybody think of a practical way out of this situation? -3. [person] who is good at doing things that involve using their hands □ I'm not very practical when it comes to repairs. -4. [device, tool, piece of clothing] that has been designed to be useful and easy to use, not to be attractive □ If you're going to do a lot of walking, get a good, practical pair of boots.

◇ n a lesson or exam in which one has to make something or do an experiment rather than just learn or write about something □ a physics/chemistry practical.

practicality [ˌpræktɪkələtɪ] n [of a person, idea] see practical.

◆ practicalities npl details of an idea or plan that are connected with the way something is actually done □ We're ready to start talking about the practicalities of the move.

practical joke n a trick played on somebody to make them look silly and to make other people laugh.

practically ['præktɪklɪ] adv -1. [talk, suggest, think] in a sensible way. -2. almost □ We'd practically finished by the time they arrived. □ It involved practically all of us.

practice ['præktəs] ◇ n -1. activity that one does regularly to improve one's ability to do something; a period of time that one spends doing such an activity □ I haven't had much practice recently. □ She does two hours' practice a week. □ I have football practice this afternoon. □ Choir practice starts at seven. ■ to be out of practice not to be able to do something as well as one used to because one has not done it recently □ I don't know if I'll be able to remember any tunes, I'm so out of practice. -2. to put sthg into practice [theory, plan] to use sthg in a real situation in order to see if it is effective or useful □ We'll only be able to tell when we put the idea into practice. ■ in practice a phrase used to describe what happens when something is actually done rather than what is supposed to happen in theory □ This is all right in theory, but in practice I think we may have some problems. -3. [of a particular society, religion] a way of behaving or doing something that is usual among a particular group of people □ business/religious practices. -4. [of a lawyer, doctor] the business of a lawyer, doctor, dentist etc □ They opened their practice in 1987.

◇ vt US -1. [skill, sport, violin] to use or do <sthg> in order to get better at it □ I never get the chance to practice my Spanish.

-2. [religion, democracy] to act according to the ideas or rules of <sthg> □ People are being encouraged to practice safe sex.

-3. [medicine, law] to work in . ■ to practice what one preaches to do the same things oneself that one tells other people that they should do □ Why don't you try practicing what you preach, rather than just criticizing all the time?

◇ vi US -1. to practice a skill, sport etc □ I really can't play this very well — I'll have to practice. -2. [doctor, lawyer] to work in a profession □ How long have you been practicing now?

practiced US, practised GB ['præktəst] adj [teacher, liar] who is good at something because they have done it often in the past □ He is practiced at dealing with difficult situations.

practicing US, practising GB ['præktəsɪŋ] adj -1. [doctor, lawyer] who is currently working in their particular profession. -2. a practicing Christian/Jew etc a Christian/Jew etc who worships regularly. ■ a practicing homosexual a homosexual man who has sex with other men (formal use).

practise ['præktəs] vt & vi GB = practice.

practised adj GB = practiced.

practising adj GB = practicing.

practitioner [præk'tɪʃnər] n a person who works as a doctor or lawyer □ a medical/legal practitioner.

pragmatic [præg'mætɪk] adj [person] who deals with problems and makes decisions based on facts and real situations rather than on theories and principles □ We prefer to take a pragmatic approach to solving problems.

pragmatism ['prægmətɪzəm] n the quality of being pragmatic.

pragmatist ['prægmətəst] n a person who is pragmatic.

Prague [prɑ:ɡ] the capital of the Czech Republic, and its largest city. POPULATION: 1,212,010.

prairie ['preəri] n a large area of flat grassy land with no trees, especially in North America.

praise [preɪz] ◇ n -1. something that is said or written to show approval and admiration □ I have nothing but praise for your decision. -2. RELIGION the act of worshiping and thanking God. -3. to sing sb's praises to praise sb a lot and with great enthusiasm. ◇ vt -1. to speak or write in a way that shows one thinks <sb/sthg> is very good □ She praised the way in which they had handled the situation. -2. RELIGION to express thanks to <God>.

praiseworthy ['preɪzwɜ:θɪ] adj [action, attempt, effort] that is good and deserves praise.

praline [US 'preɪlɪ:n, GB 'prɑ:-] n a candy that is made by cooking nuts in burnt sugar.

pram [præm] n GB a small vehicle with four wheels and a folding cover in which babies are pushed.

prance [US præns, GB prɑ:ns] vi -1. [person, child] to walk or move around while moving one's arms and legs a lot, in order to get people's attention or because one is happy. -2. [horse] to move around while lifting its legs high in the air.

prank [præŋk] n a trick done to make somebody look silly □ Somebody played a prank on him.

prawn [prɔ:n] n a small pink shellfish with many legs and a tail, eaten as food.

prawn cocktail n GB a dish, often eaten at the beginning of a meal, that consists of prawns, lettuce, and a sauce.

prawn cracker n GB a kind of food that tastes of prawns and looks like a potato chip.

pray [preɪ] vi -1. RELIGION to speak to God either in one's mind or aloud in order to give thanks or ask for help □ I will pray to God/Allah for your soul. -2. to pray for sthg to hope for sthg very strongly □ We've been praying for rain.

prayer [preɪ] n -1. the act of praying □ Everybody knelt in prayer. -2. the words one speaks when one prays, especially when they have been written in a fixed form □ As children we always said our prayers before going to bed. -3. a strong hope or wish.

◆ prayers npl a religious meeting in which a group of people says prayers together □ family prayers.

prayer book n a book containing prayers for people to say in church and at home.

prayer meeting n a public religious meeting in some Protestant churches where people say their own prayers to God.

PRC abbr of People's Republic of China.

pre- [pri:] prefix used to refer to the period before a particular event, period, or date □ pre-1945 □ pre-school years.

preach [pri:tʃ] ◇ vt -1. RELIGION [sermon, religion] to spread  etc by speaking to a group of people, usually as part of a church service □ Missionaries traveled the country preaching Christianity. -2. [peace, violence] to try to persuade other people to accept <sthg that one believes in> □ He preaches love and brotherhood. ◇ vi -1. RELIGION [priest, minister] He will be preaching to the congregation. -2. [father, politician] to give somebody advice in a boring, often critical, way (disapproving use) □ I'm fed up with him preaching at me all the time.

preacher ['pri:tʃə] n a person who preaches, especially in a Protestant church.

preamble [pri:'æmbəl] n an introduction to a speech or piece of writing, usually explaining its purpose □ Well, without any preamble, let us begin.

Preamble n the Preamble (to the Constitution) the introduction to the US Constitution.

prearranged [,pri:ə'reɪndʒd] adj [meeting, appointment, signal] that is arranged or agreed before it happens.

precarious [pri:'keəriəs] adj -1. [hold, grip] that is not firm and so is unsafe; [building, ladder] that is unstable and likely to fall □ He was stuck in a precarious position at the top of the slope. □ That chair looks a bit precarious. -2. [situation, position] that is difficult or hard to control and makes one feel that one is likely to fail at any time □ My future at Goldblatt is looking rather precarious.

precariously [pri:'keəriəsli] adv [sit, perch, live] see precarious.

precast [US pri:'kæst, GB -'kɑ:st] adj precast concrete concrete blocks that are used to make buildings.

precaution [pri:'kɔ:ʃn] n something one does to try to stop something unpleasant or unwanted from happening □ He fitted extra locks as a precaution against theft. □ We must take precautions against it happening again.

precautionary [US pri:'kɔ:ʃənəri, GB -nəri] adj [action, measure] that is used as a precaution.

precede [pri:'si:d] vt -1. [event, period] to happen or exist before <sthg> □ Things became increasingly hectic in the weeks preceding her departure. □ The launch of the service was preceded by months of speculation that it would never happen. -2. [person] to go somewhere before or in front of <sb> □ Delaney entered the building preceded by his bodyguards. -3. [sentence, paragraph, chapter] to come before <sthg> in a piece of writing.

precedence ['presɪdəns] n to have OR take precedence over sb/sthg [factor, job] to be considered more important than sb/sthg else and so be dealt with first □ I'm afraid the McCann deal must take precedence over internal matters.

precedent ['presɪdənt] n an action, decision, or idea from the past that is used to justify a similar action or decision in the present □ There is no precedent for an attack of this scale. □ The decision could set a new legal precedent.

preceding [pri:'si:dɪŋ] adj -1. [year, month] that comes just before the time or event one is speaking about. -2. [chapter, paragraph] that comes just before a particular part in a piece of writing.

precept ['pri:sept] n a general rule that helps one decide what to do or how to behave □ one of the basic precepts of Buddhist philosophy.

precinct ['pri:sɪŋkt] n -1. US one of several areas that a city or town is divided into for purposes of administration □ a police/voting precinct -2. GB a shopping area in a city or town where no vehicles are allowed □ a shopping precinct.

◆ precincts npl [of an institution, organization] the area around a building □ Any unauthorized vehicle parked in the university precincts will be removed.

precious ['preʃəs] adj -1. [memory, possession] that is very special and important to one □ This book is very precious to me. -2. [jewel, object, material] that is rare and costs a lot of money. -3. a word used when one is angry at somebody to talk about something that one thinks is too important to them □ You can keep your precious car! -4. precious little very little □ The talks offered precious little hope of peace. □ There's precious little else to do around here. -5. [person, behavior] that one finds insincere and unnatural.

- precious metal n any rare and valuable metal, e.g. gold.
- precious stone n any rare and valuable jewel, e.g. a diamond.
- precipice ['presəpəs] n a section of steep rock on a cliff, mountain etc.
- precipitate [adj prə'sɪpətət, vb prə'sɪpɪteɪt] (formal use) ◇ adj [action, decision] that happens too quickly without careful thought first. ◇ vt [crisis, decline, resignation] to make <sthg> happen very suddenly or more quickly than expected □ We need to look at what exactly precipitated these riots.
- precipitation [prə'sɪpə'teɪʃn] n -1. CHEMISTRY the process in which a solid substance becomes separated from a liquid. -2. WEATHER snow, rain, or hail that falls to the ground.
- precipitous [prə'sɪpətəs] adj -1. [area, hillside, road] that is very steep. -2. [action, decision] that happens very quickly without careful thought first.
- précis [US prer'si:, GB 'preɪsɪ:] (pl précis [-z]) n [of a book, report, article] a short piece of writing that gives only the main ideas, arguments etc of a larger piece of writing.
- precise [pri'saɪs] adj [moment, nature, details] exact □ On that precise date he was in Santa Fe. □ Do you have any more precise information? ■ to be precise a phrase used to add information that is more exact to a more general statement one has already made □ I'll be away for a while — 14 days, to be precise.
- precisely [pri'saɪsli] adv -1. [explain, instruct, describe] in a way that is accurate and includes every necessary detail □ That is precisely what happened. -2. a word used to show that one agrees completely with what somebody has just said □ "You mean he should resign?" — "Precisely!"
- precision [prə'sɪʒn] ◇ n the quality of being exact and accurate □ She followed the instructions with the utmost care and precision. ◇ comp precision bombing the bombing of specially chosen targets that is done with great accuracy. ■ precision instruments instruments that are made with great care and produce very accurate results.
- preclude [pri'klu:d] vt to make it impossible for <sthg> to happen (formal use) □ Taking the job at Abbots will not preclude you from working freelance for us.
- precocious [prə'kɒʃəs] adj [child] who is very intelligent and acts in a way that seems more like an adult than a child □ her precocious abilities/behavior.
- preconceived [,pri:kən'si:vd] adj [idea, notion] that one has before one knows or understands very much about a subject.
- preconception [,pri:kən'sepʃn] n an idea or belief that one has before one knows or understands very much about a subject □ I had no preconceptions about the place before I arrived.
- precondition [,pri:kən'dɪʃn] n something that has to be done or agreed upon before something else can happen (formal use) □ They've
- made disarmament a precondition for further talks.*
- precooked [,pri:'kukt] adj [food, meal] that has already been partly or completely cooked and can be heated up quickly before being eaten.
- precursor [prɪ'kɜ:sə] n something that existed before something more important or successful and that influenced its development (formal use) □ It was the precursor of OR to the modern jet plane.
- predate [pri:'deɪt] vt to come or exist before <sthg> in time (formal use) □ This wall predates the rest of the cathedral.
- predator ['predətə] n -1. a predatory bird or animal. -2. a predatory person.
- predatory [US 'predətɔ:ri, GB -ətɪ] adj -1. [animal, bird] that kills and eats other birds or animals. -2. [person] who takes advantage of other people who are weak in order to benefit themselves.
- predecease [,pri:di'si:s] vt [husband, wife] to die before <sb> (formal use).
- predecessor ['pri:dəsəsə] n -1. a person who had a particular job or position before somebody else □ I aim to build on the good work already done by my predecessor. -2. a machine, device etc that was used for a particular purpose before it was replaced by a newer one □ This model is more economical than its predecessor.
- predestination [pri:destɪ'neɪʃn] n RELIGION the belief that events cannot be controlled or changed by humans but are decided in advance by God or fate.
- predestine [pri:'destɪn] vt to be predestined to do sthg to be intended by God, fate etc to do sthg □ The whole enterprise was predestined to fail.
- predetermine [,pri:di'tɜ:mən] vt [course of events, future] to decide in advance how <sthg> will happen or be.
- predetermined [,pri:di'tɜ:mənd] adj [date, place, price] that is decided in advance.
- predicament [pri'dɪkəmənt] n a difficult or embarrassing situation □ I'm in a real predicament.
- predicate ['predɪkət] n GRAMMAR the part of a sentence that gives information about the subject of the sentence. In the sentence "I saw her" the predicate is "saw her".
- predict [prə'dɪkt] vt [event, result] to say that <sthg> will happen in the future □ He reckons he can predict the future. □ It is very difficult to predict what might happen.
- predictable [prə'dɪktəbl] adj -1. [result, event] that can be predicted □ The election outcome was fairly predictable. -2. [person] who never does anything unexpected □ I knew you'd be here — you're so predictable.
- predictably [prə'dɪktəbli] adv a word used to show that one is not surprised about something because it is usual or what one expected □ Predictably, he failed to show up. □ They were predictably disappointed.
- prediction [prə'dɪkʃn] n -1. [of an event, result] see predict. -2. a statement in which one says what one thinks is going to happen in the future □ What's your prediction for the Super Bowl this year? □ I wouldn't like to make a prediction at this stage.

predictor [prə'dɪktə] n something such as a fact or figure that is used to help one predict something.

predigest [ˌpriːdɑːdʒest] vt to make <information> easier to understand by presenting it in a simple form and explaining it.

predilection [US ˌpredəˈlektʃn, GB ˌpriːd-] n a predilection for sthg a particular liking for sthg □ This film director has always had a predilection for gratuitous violence.

predispose [ˌpriːdɪˈspəʊz] vt to be predisposed to do sthg to be likely to do sthg as a result of one's character □ He is predisposed to violent outbursts.

predisposition [ˌpriːdɪspəˈzɪʃn] n to have a predisposition to OR toward sthg to be likely to do sthg as a result of one's character.

predominance [ˌpriːdɒmɪnəns] n -1. a greater number of one kind of person or thing than of any other □ There is a predominance of old people living in this area. -2. the greatest amount of power or influence □ Moderates now have predominance in the party.

predominant [ˌpriːdɒmɪnənt] adj [idea, feature, mood] that is most important or noticeable.

predominantly [ˌpriːdɒmɪnəntli] adv mainly □ The reasons are predominantly economic.

predominate [ˌpriːdɒmɪneɪt] vi -1. to exist in greater numbers than any other type of person or thing □ Men still predominate in positions of power. -2. to be most important or noticeable □ Moderate views now predominate among the leaders.

preeminent [ˌpriːˈemɪnənt] adj [politician, figure, role] that is the most important, successful etc of a particular kind of person or thing.

preempt [ˌpriːˈempt] vt [action, decision] to prevent <sthg> from happening or being completed by saying or doing something that makes it unnecessary or impossible □ I'll try not to preempt what Alan is going to say.

preemptive [ˌpriːˈemptɪv] adj [attack, offer] that preempts something.

preemptive strike n a military attack that is intended to destroy an enemy's army or equipment before they have acted.

preen [priːn] vt -1. to preen itself [bird] to clean and smooth its feathers using its beak. -2. to preen oneself [person] to spend time making oneself look attractive and tidy.

preexisting [ˌpriːɪgˈzɪstɪŋ] adj [illness, tension] that already exists (formal use).

prefab [ˌpriːfæb] n a house that is built quickly using complete sections that have already been made in a factory.

prefabricate [ˌpriːˈfæbrɪkeɪt] vt to make complete sections of  etc in large quantities in a factory so that they can be put together quickly and easily □ a prefabricated hut.

preface [ˌprefəs] ◊ n the words written at the beginning of a book as an introduction □ the preface to the text. ◊ vt to preface sthg with sthg/by doing sthg to introduce sthg with sthg/by doing sthg □ He prefaced the announcement with a brief explanation.

prefect [ˈpriːfekt] n GB an older pupil in a school who has been given the responsibility of controlling the other pupils.

prefer [ˌpriːfəː] (pt & pp preferred, cont preferring) vt to like <sb/sthg> more than somebody or something else □ I prefer these shoes to those boots. □ I would prefer to play tennis rather than watch TV. □ She prefers walking for the simple reason that it's cheaper. □ I'd prefer it if you didn't smoke.

preferable [ˌˈprefrəbl] adj to be preferable to be more likely to be successful, effective, or acceptable than something else □ It is preferable to reserve places in advance. □ Obviously, sitting in the car is preferable to standing in the rain.

preferably [ˌˈprefrəblɪ] adv a word used to introduce a fact, suggestion etc that one thinks is preferable □ Could you return it to me soon, preferably by Thursday?

preference [ˈprefrəns] n -1. a liking for one person or thing rather than another (formal use) □ I have a preference for modern art. □ I don't know much about her personal preferences. -2. to give sb/sthg preference, to give preference to sb/sthg to treat sb/sthg as being more important than somebody or something else □ Preference will be given to those who already have some experience. -3. POLITICS AUS the candidate one votes for who is not one's main choice.

♥ PREFERENCES

In Australia, where the preferential voting system is used in general elections, political parties make unofficial agreements to encourage their supporters to give their preferences (their second, third etc choices) to particular parties. This is called "trading preferences".

preference shares npl GB = preferred stock.

preferential [ˌˈprefərənʃl] adj [treatment, rate] that shows somebody special favor that is not shown to other people □ preferential terms.

preferential voting system n a system of voting at elections in which voters have to mark the candidates who are their first, second, third etc choices.

preferred [ˌˈpriːfəːd] adj [course of action, choice] that one prefers to something else.

preferred stock n stock in a company that gives its holders special rights over other stockholders, e.g. the right to be repaid first if the company closes.

prefigure [ˌpriːˈfɪgʊə] vt to show or suggest that <sthg> will happen later (formal use).

prefix [ˌˈpriːfɪks] n GRAMMAR a letter or group of letters placed at the beginning of a word to change its meaning, e.g. "pro" or "anti".

NOTE: Compare suffix.

pregnancy ['pregnənsɪ] (pl pregnancies) n -1. the condition of being pregnant □ the problem of unwanted pregnancies among teenage girls. -2. the period of time during which a woman or female animal is pregnant □ She had few problems during her pregnancy.

pregnancy test n a medical test that shows whether a woman is pregnant or not.

pregnant ['pregnənt] adj -1. [woman, female animal] that has a baby growing in her body □ She's three months pregnant. -2. [pause, remark] that is full of a particular meaning, especially when it is not openly expressed or explained □ The moment was pregnant with anticipation.

preheated [,pri:'hi:təd] adj [oven] that has been switched on before food is put in to be cooked.

prehistoric [,pri:'hi:stɔrɪk] adj [man, weapon] that belongs to the period before history began to be recorded.

prehistory [,pri:'hɪstri] n the time in history before written records were kept.

pre-industrial adj [society, era] that existed or happened in the time before factories and machines were used to produce goods in large quantities.

prejudge [,pri:'dʒʌdʒ] vt [person, outcome, issue] to decide what one thinks about <sb/sthg> before one knows all the facts □ I refuse to prejudge him on the basis of a few newspaper reports.

prejudice ['predʒədɪs] ◇ n an unreasonable, unfair, and often unfavorable opinion about somebody or something □ a victim of racial prejudice □ The Catholic community had long complained of the prejudice shown against it by the Protestant majority. ■ to the prejudice of sthg in a way that harms sthg (formal use) □ He was unable to provide references, to the prejudice of his application. ◇ vt -1. to influence <sb> unfairly □ The judge prejudiced them against/in favor of the defendant. -2. to cause damage to <sb's case, chances> etc.

prejudiced ['predʒədɪst] adj to be prejudiced [person, opinion, judgment] to show prejudice □ The management is prejudiced in favor of the latest proposals. □ My neighbor is prejudiced against Puerto Ricans.

prejudicial [,predʒə'dɪʃl] adj [action, situation] that harms somebody or something □ The legalization of cannabis would be prejudicial to public health.

prelate ['prelət] n RELIGION a priest of high rank such as a bishop.

preliminary [US prə'limɪnəri, GB -ɪnrɪ] (pl preliminaries) adj [test, report] that comes at the beginning of a process, series of events etc, especially in order to prepare for the more important part of it □ There will be a preliminary court hearing at the end of the month.

◆ preliminaries npl -1. things that have to be done to prepare for something more important □ Once we've got all the preliminaries out of the way, we can get down to business. -2. SPORT a contest that is held before the main part of a competition begins, to decide who is allowed to take part in it.

prelims ['pri:limz] npl the first exams taken in some universities and colleges by students preparing for a particular degree.

preloved [,pri:'ləvd] adj AUS second-hand (informal use).

prelude ['preljʊd] n a prelude to sthg something that comes before sthg bigger or more important and acts as an introduction to it □ The agreement is being seen as a prelude to peace.

premarital [US ,pri:'mɛrɪtl, GB -'mɛr-] adj premarital sex sex before marriage.

premature [US ,pri:mə'tʊr, GB 'preməʃə] adj -1. [death, baldness] that happens before the usual or expected time. -2. [baby] that is born earlier than expected □ She was born five weeks premature. -3. to be premature to be too soon and therefore not suitable □ It would be premature to talk of victory right now. □ I think you may have been a little premature in your celebrations.

prematurely [US ,pri:mə'tʊrli, GB 'preməʃəli] adv [die, decide] sooner than expected or than is suitable.

premeditated [pri:'medɪteɪtəd] adj [action, crime, murder] that is carefully considered and planned in advance.

premenstrual syndrome, premenstrual tension [,pri:menstruəl-] n symptoms such as depression, irritability, and physical discomfort that a woman may have just before menstruation.

premier [US prɪ'miə, GB 'premjə] ◇ adj that is considered to be the best or most important of its kind □ Sidney's premier music venue. ◇ n -1. the leader of a country's government. -2. AUS the leader of the government of a state.

premiere [US prɪ'miə, GB 'premjə] n the first performance of a play or showing of a movie in front of an audience.

Premier League n the Premier League the highest division for professional soccer teams in England and Wales.

premiership [US prɪ'miəʃɪp, GB 'premjəʃɪp] n the position of being a country's premier; the period during which a person occupies this position.

◆ Premiership n the Premiership SPORT the competition that soccer teams in the Premier League take part in.

premise ['preməs] n a statement that one assumes to be true and uses as the basis for one's ideas, theories etc □ They bought on the premise that the market would improve.

◆ premises npl the buildings and land that are part of a business, institution, or piece of property □ 'Drinking is not allowed on the premises.'

premium ['pri:mjəm] n -1. [on earnings, the price of goods] an additional sum of money that is paid to somebody. ■ to be sold at a premium to be sold at a higher price than usual □ Fresh fruit is selling at a premium. ■ to be at a premium to be difficult to find or get □ Tickets for the final are at a premium. □ Space is at a premium. -2. FINANCE a regular payment to an insurer for providing insurance coverage. -3. to put OR place a premium on sthg to consider sthg as being very important □ Here at Larston, we place a high premium on teamwork.

premium bond n GB a bond bought from the government which gives the buyer a chance of winning an amount of money every month.

premonition ˌ[ˌpreməˈnɪʃn] n a feeling that causes one to think that something unpleasant is going to happen in the future, but that one cannot explain □ I had a premonition (that) something like this would happen. □ My mother often had premonitions of disasters.

prenatal ˌ[ˌpriːnəˈtɪl] adj US [class, care] that is connected with the time during which a woman is pregnant.

prenuptial agreement ˌ[ˌpriːnʌpˈʃiːl] an agreement made by two people before they get married to divide their property in a particular way if they divorce later.

preoccupation ˌ[ˌpriːɒkjəˈpeɪʃn] n -1. a state of mind in which one thinks about something so much that one forgets or does not notice other things □ I don't understand his preoccupation with punctuality. -2. something that one thinks about a lot □ I have too many other preoccupations at the moment.

preoccupied ˌ[ˌpriːɒkjəˈpaɪd] adj to be preoccupied to be thinking about something so much that one forgets or does not notice other things, especially because one is worried □ She was preoccupied with her work. □ He was too preoccupied to notice me leave.

preoccupy ˌ[ˌpriːɒkjəˈpaɪ] (pt & pp preoccupied) vt to cause <sb> to be preoccupied □ Several things had been preoccupying her mind.

preordain ˌ[ˌpriːɔːˈdeɪn] vt to be preordained to be certain to happen in the future because it has been decided by God or fate □ He believed that he was preordained to succeed.

preowned ˌ[ˌpriːˈoʊnd] adj AUS second-hand (informal use).

prepacked ˌ[ˌpriːˈpækt] adj [food] that is wrapped before it is delivered to the store where it is sold.

prepaid ˌ[ˌpriːˈpeɪd] adj [item, postage, envelope] that is paid for in advance.

preparation ˌ[ˌprepəˈreɪʃn] n -1. [of work, a meal] see prepare □ There was little or no time for preparation, so we had to be quick. □ This game should be good preparation for the final. ■ to be in preparation for sthg to be getting ready for sthg, especially in order to make it successful □ A new stadium is being built in preparation for the Olympics. -2. a mixture of different substances used for a particular purpose, e.g. as a food, medicine, or cosmetic.

◆ preparations npl plans for an event in the future □ We're currently making preparations for his visit.

preparatory [US ˌpriːpəˈreɪtɔːrɪ, GB -ətɪ] adj

[work, measure] that is used to prepare for something.

preparatory school n = prep school (formal use).

prepare ˌ[ˌpriːpeə] ◇ vt -1. [work, room, person] to make <sb/sthg> ready for a future event □ She was preparing herself for the move to London. ■ to prepare to do sthg to get ready to do sthg □ I prepared to leave. -2. [food, meal, chemical] to make <sthg>, especially by mixing different things together □ He was in the kitchen preparing dinner. ◇ vi to prepare for sthg to get ready for sthg □ Do you need time to prepare for the trip?

prepared ˌ[ˌpriːpeəd] adj -1. [statement, answer] that has been thought about, made, or decided on in advance □ He read from a prepared speech. ■ to be prepared [person] to be able to deal with something because one has gotten ready for it. □ I came to the conference only half prepared. -2. to be prepared to do sthg to be willing to do sthg □ Would you be prepared to come in on Friday? -3. to be prepared for sthg to be expecting sthg, so that one is not surprised or shocked by it □ I was prepared for bad news.

preponderance ˌ[ˌprəˈpɒndərəns] n a preponderance of sthg a greater number or amount of sthg of one type than of any other (formal use) □ Much has been made of the preponderance of immigrants in these jobs.

preponderantly ˌ[ˌprəˈpɒndərəntli] adv mainly (formal use).

preposition ˌ[ˌprepəˈzɪʃn] n a word such as "by," "at," or "into" that is used with a noun, pronoun, or clause including the "ing" form of a verb to show its connection with another word.

prepossessing ˌ[ˌpriːpəˈzesɪŋ] adj not prepossessing not attractive or pleasant (formal use).

preposterous ˌ[ˌprəˈpɒstərəs] adj [idea, statement, remark] that one thinks is unreasonable and foolish.

preppy ˈ[ˌprepi] (pl preppies) US (informal use) ◇ n a young person who is very neat and well-dressed in a way that suggests they are rich and well-educated. ◇ adj that is typical of a preppy □ preppy clothes.

prep school (abbr of preparatory school) n -1. in the USA, a private school where pupils prepare for college. -2. in Britain, a private school for children up to the age of 13.

Pre-Raphaelite [US ˌpriːˈræfələɪt, GB -ˈræfələɪt] ◇ n one of a group of British painters in the late 19th century whose work was based on subjects from medieval history and myths. ◇ adj: a Pre-Raphaelite artist.

prerecorded ˌ[ˌpriːrɪˈkɔːdəd] adj [TV program, speech] that has been recorded in advance to be played or shown to an audience later.

prerequisite ˌ[ˌpriːˈrekwəzət] n something that has to happen or be done before something else can become possible (formal use) □ Regular exercise is a prerequisite of OR for better health.

prerogative ˌ[ˌprəˈrɒɡətɪv] n a particular right that a particular person or group has, often because they have a particular job or importance □ It is the prerogative of the old to be treated with respect. □ As the eldest son, it is his prerogative to lead his mother into dinner.

presage ['presɪdʒ] vt [situation, event] to be a sign that <sthg bad or unpleasant> is going to happen (formal use).

Presbyterian [,prezbə'tɪəriən] ◇ adj that is connected with a Protestant church in which the officials all share the same rank. ◇ n a member of a Presbyterian church.

presbytery [US 'prezbətəri, GB -əri] n the house in which a priest of the Roman Catholic Church lives.

preschool ['pri:sku:l] ◇ adj [age, education] that is connected with the period before a child is old enough to go to school. ◇ n US a school for children between the ages of three and five.

prescient ['preʃiənt] adj [person] who is able to predict what is going to happen in the future (formal use).

prescribe [prə'skraɪb] vt -1. [medicine, treatment] to tell a person to have or take <sthg> when they are ill □ I've been prescribed antibiotics. -2. [activity, duty] to order formally that <sthg> should be carried out □ The sentence prescribed by local laws seemed far too harsh.

prescription [prə'skrɪpʃn] n MEDICINE a piece of paper on which a doctor writes information about the medicine they want a patient to take and which allows the patient to buy it; the medicine that somebody buys in this way □ The doctor gave me a prescription for some painkillers. ■ on prescription if one gives a pharmacist a prescription from one's doctor □ You can only get them/They're only available on prescription.

prescription charge n GB a sum of money that has to be paid for medicine one gets on prescription.

prescriptive [prə'skrɪptɪv] adj [approach, method, teaching] that gives rules about what should happen in particular situations and what is not allowed □ Company regulations are extremely prescriptive.

preselection [,pri:sə'lekʃn] n the process by which a political party selects the candidates who are going to represent it in elections.

presence ['preznz] n -1. the fact or state of being present □ Your presence at the meeting is essential. □ The sudden smell of aftershave announced Tony's presence in the room. ■ in the presence of sb with sb in the same place □ I felt uneasy in her presence. □ She signed the document in the presence of three witnesses. -2. [in a place] the fact of being in a place so that one can do something □ There was a huge police presence at the demonstration. □ Building a presence in overseas markets can produce immeasurable benefits. -3. [of a performer, speaker] qualities such as one's personality and manner that make a strong and usually favorable impression on people □ She has great stage presence, not to mention a lovely voice. -4. [of a spirit, ghost] something such as a spirit that cannot be seen but that one feels to be present □ I could sense an alien presence as soon as I walked in.

presence of mind n the ability to react quickly and calmly to a dangerous or difficult situation □ She acted with great presence of mind by putting a blanket over him.

present [adj & n 'preznt, vb pri'zent] ◇ adj -1. [situation, year, leader] that exists now □ Would this be an advisable course of action in the present climate? -2. to be present [person, influence] to be in a particular place or situation □ How many people were present at the meeting? □ There was a doctor present. □ The fear of the unknown is always present in her novels.

◇ n -1. the present the period of time that is happening now □ I'd rather think about the present than the past. ■ at present now □ We don't have many members at present. □ At present, over half our staff are away on vacation. ■ for the present a phrase used to describe something that exists now but that is probably going to change in the future □ I think that's all we can do for the present. -2. [for somebody's birthday, wedding] something that one gives to somebody to please them, especially on a special occasion or as a way of thanking them □ a birthday/Christmas/wedding present □ They gave him a clock as a retirement present. □ Have you opened your present yet? -3. GRAMMAR = present tense.

◇ vt -1. [award, gift] to give <sthg> to somebody, especially at a formal ceremony □ They presented him with the award. □ The Mayor presented the check to the hospice the following day. -2. [problem, challenge] to cause or provide <sthg> □ This job presents us with huge difficulties. □ I go traveling whenever the opportunity presents itself. -3. [person] to introduce <sb> formally □ She presented him to her new colleagues. -4. TV & RADIO to introduce the different parts of  □ Chris Levi presents the breakfast show. -5. [information, report] to give or show <sthg> to somebody in an official position, so that they can check it or make a decision about it □ Be ready to present your passport as you cross the border. -6. [person, event] to show or describe <sb/sthg> in a particular way □ He wasn't presented in a very favorable light. -7. to present oneself [at a reception, for an interview] to arrive at a place where one is expected □ I had to present myself at the immigration office. -8. [play, ballet] to show or perform <sthg> in a public theater, cinema etc □ They're presenting "Swan Lake" at the amphitheater.

presentable [pri'zentəbl] adj [person, appearance, clothes] suitable to be seen by other people □ Do I look presentable?

presentation [,prezn'teɪʃn] n -1. [of news, information, facts] the process of presenting something to people. -2. [of food, policies, a product] the way something looks or seems when it is given, offered, explained etc to people □ Her presentation is always clear and helpful to the reader. -3. [of an award, prize, medal] the act of giving something to somebody at an official ceremony □ After the presentation of the certifi- cates, we left. -4. BUSINESS a talk giving information on a particular subject □ Shelley gave a brief presentation on the company's future strategy. -5. [of a play, ballet, movie] the act of performing or showing something to an audience □ a presentation given by the Royal Ballet.

presentation copy n a copy of a book that is given free to somebody, usually by the writer or publisher.

present day n the present day the period of time that is happening now.

◆ present-day adj [situation, problem, music] that exists now rather than in the past.

presenter [ˈprezɪntər] n GB a person who presents a TV or radio program.

presentiment [ˈprezɪntɪmənt] n a feeling that causes one to think something bad or unpleasant is going to happen (formal use).

presently [ˈprezntli] adv -1. soon □ She will be here presently. -2. at this time □ He is presently compiling a report.

present participle n GRAMMAR a part of a verb used to form continuous tenses, and sometimes used as an adjective, e.g. "singing" and "exciting".

present tense n GRAMMAR the tense of a verb used to talk about things that are happening at the time one is speaking or writing, or that happen often.

preservation [ˌprezəˈveɪʃn] n: see preserve □ The roof is in a remarkable state of preservation.

preservation order n GB an official order stating that something such as a historic building should not be changed or destroyed.

preservative [ˈprezɪˈveɪtɪv] n a chemical substance used to preserve food.

preserve [ˈprezɪˈv] ◇ vt -1. [situation, standard] to keep <sthg> the way it is, especially because one thinks it is very good and should not be changed □ Our main goal is to preserve the status quo. -2. [building, species, landscape] to stop <sthg> from disappearing or being destroyed. -3. [fruit, herbs] to treat <food> so that it stays in good condition for a long time. ◇ n jam □ strawberry preserve.

◆ preserves npl foods such as jam or pickle that are made by cooking fruit or vegetables in sugar, salt, or vinegar so that they stay in good condition for a long time.

preset [ˌpriːˈset] (pt & pp preset, cont presetting) vt [oven, video recorder] to set the control of  so that it will start to work at a particular time.

preshrunk [ˌpriːˈʃrʌŋk] adj [clothing, fabric] that has been shrunk before being sold □ preshrunk jeans.

preside [ˈpreɪzaɪd] vi to be in charge at an event such as a meeting □ I had been asked to preside over OR at the meeting. □ The presiding judge at the trial was Justice Roy Marshall.

presidency [ˈprezədənsɪ] (pl presidencies) n the position of being a president; the period of time during which somebody has this position □ Klondheim was elected to the presidency with a large majority. □ He drew the attention of voters to the success of his presidency so far.

president [ˈprezədənt] n -1. POLITICS the person who holds the highest political office in a country that does not have a king or queen □ the President of the Czech Republic. -2. [of a club] the head of a club or organization. -3. US BUSINESS the person who has the highest position in a company.

president-elect n a person who has been chosen to be the US president but who has not started the job yet.

presidential [ˌprezəˈdenʃl] adj [decision, campaign] that is connected with a president.

Presidents' Day n in the USA, a public holiday celebrated on the third Monday of February. It honors George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

press [pres] ◇ vt -1. [button, switch] to push <sthg> firmly with one's finger or foot.

-2. to press sthg into/against etc sthg to push sthg into/against etc sthg so that it puts pressure on it □ He pressed his nose against the window. □ She pressed her foot down on the accelerator. -3. [arm, hand] to hold <sthg> firmly to show friendship, love etc □ She pressed my hand and gave me a reassuring smile. -4. to flatten and dry , e.g. between the pages of a book, so that one can keep it. -5. [grapes, olives] to squeeze <fruit> to get the juice from it. -6. [shirt, trousers] to make  smooth by ironing it □ Would you like your suit pressed? -7. to press sb to do sthg OR into doing sthg to try to force sb to do sthg □ He was trying to press me into going. ■ to press sb for sthg [for support, an answer, decision] to keep asking sb to give sthg □ Wilson is still pressing us for a completion date. ■ to press sthg on OR upon sb to force sb to accept sthg □ As she left he pressed the last bottle of homemade wine upon her. -8. [claim, point] to put a lot of effort into getting somebody to accept <sthg> □ They are pressing their demands in the European court. -9. LAW to press charges to make an official accusation against somebody □ Many victims are too scared to press charges against their attackers.

◇ vi -1. to push hard on something □ He pressed (down) on the accelerator. □ Don't press too hard, you'll damage it. -2. [crowd] to move together in a particular direction with a lot of force □ The fans pressed forward.

◇ n -1. [of a button, doorbell, pedal] the act of pressing something □ At the press of a button I can summon my guards and have you removed from the building. -2. the press a collective term for newspapers and magazines; the journalists who work for them □ I saw the article in the press. □ He's been given a hard time by the press. ■ to get (a) good/bad press to be praised/criticized, especially in the newspapers, on television, radio etc. -3. PRINTING a machine for printing books, newspapers etc. -4. [for trousers, grapes] a piece of equipment for flattening or squeezing something, e.g. for pressing trousers or for pressing grapes to make wine.

◇ vt fus to press for sthg [for an interview, a decision, etc.] to insist on sthg being done or to try to get sthg done ◇ press for vt fus to press for sthg [for an in-

- quiry, raise) to demand sthg strongly □ A number of member states are pressing for sanctions.
- ◆ press on vi to continue with something in a determined way □ They pressed on with the plan in spite of opposition. □ Time is short so shall we press on?
- press agency n the place where a press agent works.
- press agent n a person whose job is to get good publicity for an organization or well-known person by giving newspapers, magazines etc photographs and information.
- Press Association n the Press Association a British news agency.
- press box n a special room or area for journalists at a sports event.
- press conference n a meeting during which somebody, especially an important or famous person, answers questions from a group of journalists.
- press corps n a group of journalists from different newspapers who are working in the same place on the same story.
- press cutting n a report or photograph cut out of a newspaper or magazine.
- pressed [prest] adj to be pressed for time/money to have very little time/money.
- press fastener n GB = press-stud.
- press gallery n a special area above the main part of a hall where journalists can sit.
- pressgang ['presgæŋ] ◇ n a group of men who in the past captured men and boys and forced them to join the army or navy. ◇ vt to pressgang sb into doing sthg to force sb to do sthg, especially when they do not really want to do it.
- pressing ['presɪŋ] adj [problem, business, appointment] that has to be dealt with immediately □ Will you excuse me? I have a rather pressing engagement.
- pressman ['presmæn] (pl pressmen [-men]) n GB a reporter who works for a newspaper or magazine.
- press officer n a person whose job is to deal with the press on behalf of an organization.
- press release n a statement made by an organization and given to the press.
- press-stud n GB a round metal fastener used on clothing in which one part is pressed into a hole in the other part.
- press-up n GB = push-up.
- pressure ['preʃə] ◇ n -1. the force or weight of something pressing on something else □ He had to apply a lot of pressure to force open the lid. □ water/air/tire pressure. -2. a powerful influence □ parental pressure □ He did it because of pressure from his peers. ■ to put pressure on sb to keep trying to force or persuade sb to do something they do not want to do □ The banks put pressure on the government to cut interest rates. -3. [of work, competition, life] conditions in a job or situation which make one worried and tense □ The pressure of his first ever exam proved to be too much. □ She's under a lot of pressure at work.
- ◇ vt to pressure sb to do OR into sthg to make sb do sthg they do not want to do by using force or influence □ I felt pressured into making a quick decision.
- pressure cooker n a cooking pot whose lid can be tightly closed so that food can be cooked quickly using steam at high pressure.
- pressure gauge n a dial that shows the pressure of liquids or gases in boilers, pipes etc.
- pressure group n an organization that tries to persuade a government to do something, e.g. change a law, and tries to get support from the public.
- pressurize, -ise ['preʃəraɪz] vt -1. [cabin, container] to keep the air pressure inside <sthg> the same. -2. GB to pressurize sb to do OR into doing sthg to pressure sb to do sthg.
- PrestelTM ['prestel] n a British telephone service that allows the user to call up information, e.g. travel, weather, or sports news, on their television.
- prestige [pre'sti:ʒ] ◇ n respect and admiration that people give a person, organization, or thing that is very important or very good at something □ This job carries a lot of prestige. ◇ comp [office, home, car] that is admired by everybody because it is the kind that rich people have □ a new prestige housing development.
- prestigious [pre'stɪdʒəs] adj [organization, job] that is respected and admired by people □ one of the most prestigious literary prizes in the US.
- presto ['prestou] excl US a word used by a magician at the end of a trick.
- prestressed concrete [ˌpri:strest-] n concrete that contains metal cables to make it stronger.
- presumably [ˌpri:ʒu:məbli] adv a word used to say that one presumes that something is true □ Presumably they felt he was too old for the job.
- presume [ˌpri:ʒu:m] vt to presume (that)... to think that something is true, although one cannot be sure □ Five people are missing, presumed dead. □ A man must be presumed innocent until proven guilty. □ It was his idea, I presume. □ I presume (that) you'll only be staying for a few days.
- presumption [ˌpri:zʌmpʃn] n -1. [of somebody's innocence, death] see presume. -2. [of a person] see presumptuous.
- presumptuous [ˌpri:zʌmpʃuəs] adj [person] who does things that they have no right to do □ It was very presumptuous of him to expect to be invited.
- presuppose [ˌpri:sə'pəʊz] vt to presuppose (that)... to assume that something is true, without thinking that it might not be true.
- pretax [ˌpri:tæks] adj [income, earnings, profit] before tax is taken away.
- preteen [ˌpri:'ti:n] adj [clothing, magazine] that is for children who are 11 or 12 years old □ a group of preteen schoolchildren.
- pretence n GB = pretense.

pretend [prɪ'tend] ◇ vt -1. to pretend to do sthg to behave as if sthg is true when it is not, in order to deceive people □ He pretended to be an insurance salesman. □ She pretended (that) everything was normal. -2. to pretend (that)... to imagine that something is true, e.g. to help explain something or as part of a game □ Let's pretend (that) we're on a desert island. -3. I cannot pretend that... a phrase used to say what one cannot do, or what is not the case □ I can't pretend to know much about computers. ◇ vi: He's not really sick — he's just pretending. □ You can stop pretending now.

pretense ['prɪtens] US, pretence [prɪ'tens] GB n -1. [of friendship, innocence, grief] a way of behaving that is intended to deceive people □ He made no pretense of caring about our predicament. -2. phrase under false pretenses by deceiving somebody so that they do not know who one is or what one really wants □ The money was obtained under false pretenses.

pretension [prɪ'tenʃn] n a claim to possess something, e.g. greatness or wealth □ social/literary/moral pretensions □ I have no pretensions to expertise in this field.

pretentious [prɪ'tenʃəs] adj [person, language, book] that tries to seem important but is not important □ Don't be so pretentious!

pretentiously [prɪ'tenʃəsli] adv [behave, talk, write] see pretentious.

preterite ['pretərəɪt] n GRAMMAR the preterite the simple past tense of a verb.

pretext ['pri:tɛkst] n a reason that one pretends has made one do something □ He refused to see us on OR under the pretext that he was too busy. □ They stopped us on OR under the pretext of asking for information.

Pretoria [prɪ'tɔ:riə] the administrative capital of South Africa. POPULATION: 528,000.

prettify ['prɪtɪfaɪ] (pt & pp prettified) vt to try to make <sthg> look pretty, especially without succeeding.

prettily ['prɪtɪli] adv [dress, smile] see pretty.

pretty ['prɪti] (compar prettier, superl prettiest) ◇ adj [girl, place, dress] that is attractive and pleasant to look at □ She looks much prettier with her hair down. □ a pretty little town/house. ◇ adv fairly, rather □ It's pretty good/awful/cold. ■ pretty much OR well almost □ They've pretty well messed it up. □ She's pretty much the same as before.

pretzel ['pretsl] n a crisp salty kind of bread baked in the shape of a stick or a knot.

prevail [prɪ'veɪl] vi -1. [belief, custom, fashion] to be general or widespread □ in the conditions prevailing at the time. -2. [idea, country] to win in the end □ In the end the need for compromise prevailed over ideological beliefs. □ Hopefully, common sense will prevail. -3. to prevail (up)on sb to do sthg to persuade sb to do sthg □ They prevailed upon me to help them out.

prevailing [prɪ'veɪlɪŋ] adj -1. [belief, opinion, fashion] that is most general or widespread □ There's a prevailing mood of optimism. -2. a prevailing wind a wind that usually blows over a particular area.

prevalence ['prevələns] n: see prevalent □ The report reveals the prevalence of drug abuse among teenagers.

prevalent ['prevələnt] adj [problem, belief, custom] that is general or widespread □ Such ideas were prevalent at the time.

prevaricate [US prɪ'verɪkeɪt, GB -'vɛr-] vi to try to hide the truth by not being completely honest and clear.

prevent [prɪ'vent] vt [war, disease, crime] to stop <sthg> from happening □ Her father prevented her (from) going out. □ They did all they could to prevent the fire (from) spreading. □ If you want to go, I can't prevent you.

preventable [prɪ'ventəbl] adj [disease, crime] that can be prevented □ What made the tragedy worse was that it was preventable.

preventative [prɪ'ventətɪv] adj = preventive.

prevention [prɪ'venʃn] n [of disease, crime] see prevent □ Prevention is better than cure. □ accident/fire prevention.

preventive [prɪ'ventɪv] adj [medicine, measure] that is intended to prevent something □ We must take preventive action now.

preview ['pri:vju:] n an event at which a movie, show, or exhibition is shown to a few people before it is shown to the public □ We've been invited to the preview.

previous ['pri:vɪəs] adj -1. [occasion, experience, conviction] that happened or existed earlier □ I told him about it in a previous letter. □ It was the previous chairman who made the decision. □ The festival had always been popular in previous years. -2. the previous day/week etc the day/week etc that was just before this or that day/week □ There had been no one there the previous day/Monday.

previously ['pri:vɪəsli] adv -1. at an earlier time □ She previously worked as a nurse. □ Previously, I'd never been abroad. -2. before □ two weeks/four years previously.

prewar [ˌpri:'wɔ:ɪ] adj [period, society] before a war, especially World War II.

prewash ['pri:wɒʃ] n a special wash at the start of a washing machine's cycle for very dirty clothes.

prey [preɪ] n an animal that is hunted and eaten by another animal ■ to fall prey to sb/sthg to come under the influence or control of sb/sthg bad.

◆ prey on vt fus -1. to prey on sthg [animal, insect] to hunt and eat sthg as prey □ Cats prey on mice. -2. to prey on sb's mind to worry sb all the time □ His financial problems preyed on his mind.

price [praɪs] ◇ n -1. the amount of money that must be paid to buy something □ The price of oil is going up again. □ House prices are coming down. □ You can't put a price on education. -2. something unpleasant that must be done or suffered in order to get something □ The breakup of his marriage was the price he paid for success. □ The price of peace is eternal vigilance. ■ at a price at a high cost □ They reached an agreement, but at a price. ■ at any price whatever the cost □ She was determined to get the job at any price. ◇ vt [product, goods] to give a price to <sthg> □ It was priced at $100. □ competitively/reasonably priced.

price-cutting n the act of lowering the prices of one's goods, products etc.

price-fixing [-fiksɪŋ] n the act of setting prices by agreement among competitors, usually to keep them higher than they need to be.

priceless ['praɪsləs] adj -1. [jewelry, work of art] that is extremely valuable □ a priceless collection of antiques. -2. [joke, person] that one finds very amusing (informal use).

price list n a list of prices for goods that are on sale.

price tag n a small ticket fixed to an article saying how much it costs.

price war n a situation in which different companies, stores etc keep lowering the prices of their products or goods in order to have the lowest prices and attract the most customers.

pricey ['praɪsi] (compar pricier, superl priciest) adj expensive (informal use) □ That's a bit pricey for a second-hand car.

prick [prɪk] ◇ n -1. [in a surface, somebody's skin] a small hole or mark made by an object that has a sharp point, e.g. a needle or a pin □ Make small pricks in the top of the pie. -2. ▽ [of a man] a man's penis (very informal use). -3. ▽ a stupid or unpleasant person, usually a man (very informal use). ◇ vt -1. [finger, balloon, blister] to make a small hole in <sthg> with an object that has a sharp point, e.g. a needle or pin □ Prick the sausages with a fork. -2. [eyes, throat] to make <sthg> sting □ The smoke pricked her eyes.

◆ prick up vt sep to prick its ears up [animal] to lift its ears up in order to listen carefully to something □ The cat pricked its ears up at the faintest sound. ■ to prick one's ears up [person] to suddenly start paying attention to what is being said □ He pricked his ears up when he heard his name.

prickle ['prɪkl] ◇ n -1. [on a plant or animal] one of several small, thin, sharp points on some leaves, plants, or animals. -2. [of fear, pleasure] a pricking sensation on one's skin. ◇ vi [skin] to feel a pricking sensation.

prickly ['prɪkli] (compar pricklier, superl prickliest) adj -1. [leaf, plant, animal] that is covered with prickles □ a prickly bush/rose. -2. [person] who quickly becomes annoyed or angry □ He can be very prickly at times.

prickly heat n a skin condition common in hot climates in which one's skin becomes covered in small, red, itchy spots.

pride [praɪd] ◇ n -1. a feeling of satisfaction with what one has done, with what one has, or with people and things connected with oneself □ She looked at her finished painting with pride. ■ to take pride in sb/sthg [in one's children, success, work] to feel proud of sb/sthg □ I take a lot of pride in doing a difficult job well. ■ one's pride and joy somebody or something that one feels is important and that one is very proud of □ His new car was his pride and joy. ■ to have pride of place to be in the most important position in a place, list, or competition □ The trophy she won took pride of place on the mantelpiece. -2. a feeling of respect for and satisfaction with oneself and what one does that makes one expect respect from other people □ His failure to get the job was a severe blow to his pride. ■ to swallow one's pride to do something that one feels ashamed to do, especially accepting that one was wrong □ For once, she was forced to swallow her pride and accept defeat. -3. an opinion of oneself and one's abilities, possessions etc that is too high □ His pride stops him admitting he was wrong.

◇ vt to pride oneself on sthg [on one's looks, skills] to be proud of sthg one has that one thinks is important □ She prides herself on her punctuality.

priest [praɪst] n -1. [in Christianity] a person who is trained to perform religious duties and ceremonies, especially in the Roman Catholic Church □ a Catholic/Anglican priest. -2. [in Buddhism, Islam] a person who performs religious duties and ceremonies in some non-Christian religions □ a Buddhist priest.

priestess [US 'praɪstəs, GB praɪst'es] n a woman who performs religious duties and ceremonies in some religions.

priesthood ['praɪsthʊd] n the priesthood the office or position of a priest; all the priests of a particular religion or country □ He joined the priesthood ten years ago.

prig [prɪg] n a person who is very careful to behave correctly, feels morally superior to other people, and is often shocked by other people's behavior (disapproving use).

prim [praɪm] (compar primmer, superl primmest) adj [person] who behaves too correctly, is easily shocked, and is therefore boring and old-fashioned □ She's always so prim and proper — I wish she'd just relax.

primacy ['praɪməsi] n the state of being the most important thing.

prima donna [,praɪ:'mɑːdnə] (pl prima donnas) n -1. MUSIC an important and successful female opera singer. -2. a person who is always changing their mind and who expects other people always to do what they want them to do (disapproving use).

primaevial [praɪ'mi:viəl] adj = primeval.

prima facie [,praɪmə'feɪʃi:] adj [evidence, case] that seems to be true when one first thinks about it.

primal ['praɪml] adj -1. [instinct, urge] that is first or basic. -2. [need, concern] that is most important.

primarily [US praɪ'merəlɪ, GB 'praɪmərəlɪ] adv mainly □ We were primarily interested in its cost rather than its efficiency.

primary [US 'praɪmerɪ, GB -əri] (pl primaries) ◇ adj -1. [concern, aim, cause] that is the most important □ The mining industry is the primary source of income for families in the area. -2. EDU-CATION [education, teacher] for children between the ages of 5 and 11.

◇ n POLITICS in the USA, a state election to choose the candidates for each of the two national parties in the presidential election.

primary color n any of the three colors red, yellow, and blue that can be mixed together to make all other colors.

primary election n POLITICS = primary.

primary school n -1. US = elementary school. -2. GB a school for children between the ages of 5 and 11.

primary teacher n -1. US a teacher who works in an elementary school. -2. GB a teacher who works in a primary school.

primate ['praimeɪt] n -1. ZOOLOGY any mammal that belongs to the group that includes humans, apes, and monkeys. -2. RELIGION an archbishop.

prime [praɪm] ◇ adj -1. [concern, reason, aim] that is very important, or the most important □ Our prime objective is to eradicate this disease. □ The prime suspect is the victim's husband. -2. [condition, example, position] that is excellent, or the best □ This is a prime example of lack of communication at management level. □ The building occupies a prime site in the heart of the city. □ prime beef.

◇ n the period in one's life of greatest activity, strength, success etc □ When he reached 30, he felt he was past his prime. □ She's still very much in her prime. □ in the prime of life.

◇ vt -1. [person] to prepare <sb> for something by telling them about it in advance □ You could tell that he'd been primed to give the right answers. -2. [wall, wood] to prepare  for painting by covering it with a substance that prevents the paint from being absorbed. -3. [bomb, gun] to prepare  in order that it can explode or be fired □ The device was primed to go off during the rush hour.

prime minister n the chief minister and leader of the government in some countries.

prime mover [-'mu:vəʃ] n a person who is important in setting up a plan, campaign etc □ General Horowitz was one of the prime movers in the plot.

prime number n a whole number that cannot be divided by any other whole numbers apart from itself and 1.

primer ['praɪməʃ] n a substance used to prime a surface for painting.

prime time n the period when more people are watching television or listening to the radio than at any other time.

◆ prime-time adj: prime-time television/viewing/advertising.

primeval [praɪ'mi:vəl] adj [forest, instinct] that existed in, or has existed since, the period when the world began.

primitive ['prɪmətɪv] adj -1. [man, tribe] that has a simple non-industrial way of life □ primitive societies of the past. -2. [conditions, accommodation] that is very basic and lacking in comfort □ a primitive hut.

primordial [praɪ'mɔ:ʃdɪəl] adj that existed at or has existed since the beginning of time (formal use).

primrose ['prɪmroʊz] n a wild plant that has small light-yellow flowers in the spring.

Primus stoveTM ['praɪməs-] n GB a small portable stove that uses kerosene and is used, especially by campers, for cooking.

prince [prɪns] n -1. a man or boy from a royal family who is the son or grandson of the king or queen. -2. a man from a royal family who is a ruler, especially of a small state or country.

Prince Charming n a man who is the perfect partner for a particular girl or woman because he is very handsome and kind (humorous use).

Prince Edward Island a province in southeastern Canada, consisting of an island in the Gulf of St Lawrence. ABBREVIATION: PE. SIZE: 5,657 sq kms. POPULATION: 129,765. CAPITAL: Charlottetown.

princely ['prɪnsli] (compar princelier, superl princeliest) adj -1. a princely sum a large amount of money (ironic use) □ I sold it for the princely sum of $25! -2. [bearing] that belongs to a prince; that is suitable for a prince.

Prince of Wales: the Prince of Wales the title of the eldest son of a British monarch.

Prince Regent: the Prince Regent the title given to the son of the British king George III when he acted as king from 1811 to 1820 because his father was mad. He later became King George IV.

princess [prɪn'ses] n -1. a woman or girl from a royal family who is the daughter or granddaughter of the king or queen. -2. a woman who is married to a prince.

Princess of Wales: the Princess of Wales in Britain, the title of the wife of the Prince of Wales.

Princess Royal: the Princess Royal a title given to the eldest daughter of a British monarch.

Princeton ['prɪnstən] one of the oldest and most respected universities in the USA.

principal ['prɪnsəpl] ◇ adj [aim, problem, cause] that is the first and most important □ The principal reason why we've decided to do this is cost. ◇ n EDUCATION the person in charge of a school or college.

principality [,prɪnsə'pæləti] (pl principalities) n a country or state ruled by a prince. ■ the Principality GB Wales.

principally ['prɪnsəplɪ] adv mainly □ She writes feature articles, principally for women's magazines.

principle ['prɪnsəpl] n -1. a strong belief that one has that guides one's behavior □ She refuses to give up her principles. □ a moral principle. -2. a strong belief in and practice of principles □ He lacks principle. □ a woman of principle. ■ to do sth on principle OR as a matter of principle to do sth because of one's moral principles □ I never eat meat on principle. □ I resigned as a matter of principle. -3. a basic general rule or scientific law □ This is one of the principles of physics. □ a philosophical principle □ the principle of one member, one vote.

◆ in principle adv in general terms but not necessarily in detail □ They agreed to support his scheme in principle. □ In principle that's fine, but in practice we might have to make some changes.

principled ['prɪnsəpld] adj [person] who has principles and lives according to them.

print [prɪnt] ◇ vt -1. to make <words, pictures> etc on paper by pressing it against something covered in ink; to copy <words, pictures> etc onto paper using photographic equipment □ The last page hasn't been printed well. □ We've printed 100 pages so far. -2. [book, newspaper, leaflet] to make <sthg> by printing □ The book was first printed in 1957. -3. [article, story] to publish  in a book, newspaper etc □ Readers are sent $20 for every letter printed. -4. [pattern, design] to reproduce <sthg> on cloth by printing; [fabric, dress] to decorate  in this way □ The skirt was printed with flowers. -5. [word, name] to write <sthg> clearly without joining the letters □ Please print your name in block capitals.

◇ vi -1. [person] to write something clearly without joining the letters together. -2. [printer] to produce printed material □ The machine is now ready to print.

◇ n -1. [on a page] words that have been printed on a piece of paper □ It was written in large/small print. □ The print is too small to read. □ We all love to see our name in print. ■ to be in/out of print [book] to be available/no longer available for sale □ That book went out of print several years ago. -2. ART a picture or design made by printing □ a screen/litho print □ He had the Picasso print framed. -3. PHOTOGRAPHY a photograph produced from a film □ black and white/color prints. -4. [for clothing] cloth, usually cotton, on which a color pattern has been printed □ a cotton print □ a print dress □ print curtains. -5. [of a foot] a footprint □ The animal had left its prints in the mud. -6. [of a finger] a fingerprint □ The police were looking for prints after the burglary.

◆ print out vt sep to print sthg out COMPUTING [figures, data] to print sthg that has been stored on a computer.

printed circuit [ˌprɪntəd-] n a printed circuit (board) an electronic circuit consisting of a continuous thin line of conducting material laid on one or both sides of a thin board.

printed matter n printed paper, e.g. official advertisements, that can be mailed at a special reduced rate.

printer ['prɪntə] n -1. BUSINESS a person or firm that prints books, newspapers, leaflets etc □ a firm of printers □ The book is still at the printers. -2. COMPUTING a machine that prints information from a computer, word processor etc □ a computer printer.

printing ['prɪntɪŋ] n -1. the act of printing books, papers etc. -2. BUSINESS the industry that prints newspapers, leaflets etc □ He works in printing.

printing press n a machine that prints books, newspapers etc.

printout ['prɪntaʊt] n a sheet or sheets of paper on which information from a computer, word processor etc is printed □ a computer printout.

prior ['praɪə] ◇ adj -1. [knowledge, agreement, arrangement] that existed before a particular time □ No prior warning was given. □ I'd already met him on a prior occasion. -2. [duty, commitment] that must be dealt with first because it is more important □ Sorry, I can't come; I have a prior engagement that day. □ My family has a prior claim on my time. ◇ n RELIGION the head of a monastery.

◆ prior to prep before <sthg> □ The decision was made prior to her resignation. □ She left him a note prior to leaving.

prioritize, -ise [praɪ'ɒrətaɪz] vt to deal with <sthg> before other things, usually because it is more important □ We should prioritize spending on education.

priority [praɪ'ɒrəti] (pl priorities) n -1. something that must be dealt with very soon, and before other things, usually because it is more important □ Our first priority is to stabilize the economy. □ The President sees defense as a priority issue. -2. to have OR take priority to have the right to be dealt with first □ Families have OR take priority over single people on the waiting list.

◆ priorities npl tasks considered of most immediate concern or greatest importance □ We must get our priorities right. □ This is low on my list of priorities.

priory ['praɪəri] (pl priories) n a place where a small group of monks or nuns live and work.

prise [praɪz] vt GB to prise sthg open/from sb to prize sthg open/from sb.

prism ['prɪzəm] n a specially shaped object of clear glass which separates white light into the colors of the rainbow.

prison ['prɪzn] n a building where people are kept locked in cells as a punishment for crimes they have committed or while they are waiting to be tried □ He has been in prison for three years now. □ She was sent to prison. □ a prison cell/wall.

prison camp n a camp for prisoners, especially prisoners of war.

prisoner ['prɪznə] n a person kept in prison or a prison camp □ a political prisoner □ He is being held prisoner by an armed group. □ Thousands of soldiers were taken prisoner.

prisoner of war (pl prisoners of war) n a member of the armed forces captured by the enemy during a war and held prisoner, usually until the end of the war.

prissy ['prɪsi] (compar prissier, superl prissiest) adj [person] who one finds annoying because they are shocked by things that are not usually considered rude by most other people (informal and disapproving use).

pristine ['prɪstɪn] adj that is in very good condition, because it is new or like new □ The watch was still in pristine condition.

privacy [US 'praɪvəsi, GB 'prɪv-] n a situation in which one can be alone and not be seen or disturbed by anybody □ I value my privacy.

private ['praɪvət] ◇ adj -1. [room, performance, garden] that is only intended for or owned by a particular person or group □ This is private land. □ 'Private. Keep off.' □ a private jet. -2. [industry, hospital] that is owned or run by an individual, group, or company and not by the state □ private education. -3. [conversation, meeting, interview] that takes place between a small number of people and is kept secret from others □ a letter marked "private and confidential". -4. [life, thoughts] that is connected with somebody's personal life and not with their work or public life □ It's a matter for the private individual. -5. [place, spot, retreat] that is quiet and away from other people who might see or hear one □ Can we meet somewhere a bit more private? -6. [person] who does not like to share their personal thoughts, feelings etc with other people □ He's a very private man.

◇ n -1. MILITARY a soldier of the lowest rank. -2. in private with no one else present □ He asked to see his boss in private.

◆ privates npl [of a person] one's genitals (informal use).

private company n = private limited company.

private detective n a person who is hired by members of the public to carry out investigations for them.

private enterprise n businesses that are owned by individuals or groups and not by the state.

private eye n = private detective.

private income n GB income that comes from property, investments etc and not from a salary.

private investigator n = private detective.

private limited company n GB a company that is not allowed to offer its shares for sale to the public.

NOTE: Compare public company.

privately ['praɪvətli] adv -1. privately owned/run owned/run by an individual, group, or company and not by the state □ The children are privately educated. -2. [discuss, meet] not in public □ Privately, Mr Kemp admitted to feelings of jealousy. -3. [think, feel, believe] without saying anything to anyone else □ I looked indifferent, while privately hoping for an invitation.

private member's bill n in Britain, a bill proposed by a member of the House of Commons who is not a government minister.

private parts npl one's genitals (informal use).

private practice n -1. a professional person's business that is not a part of a government organization □ He left the Health Service and joined a private practice. -2. US the business of a doctor who works on their own.

private property n land and buildings owned by a particular person or group.

private school n a school that is not run and paid for by the state but that is paid for by the parents of the pupils □ My parents sent me to a private school.

private sector n the private sector the industries and services that are not owned and run by the state □ small businesses in the private sector □ a private-sector employee.

privation [praɪ'veɪʃn] n a lack of the basic things required for a normal life.

privatization [,praɪvətəɪ'zeɪʃn] n: see privatize □ Privatization is seen as the key to profitability.

privatize, -ise ['praɪvətəɪz] vt [company, service] to sell <an industry owned by the state> to private owners □ The coal industry is about to be privatized.

NOTE: Compare nationalize.

privet ['prɪvət] n an evergreen bush with small leaves, often used as a garden hedge □ a privet hedge.

privilege ['prɪvəlɪdʒ] n -1. a special right or advantage that only some people have, because they are rich or belong to a particular group □ The office carries with it certain privileges. -2. a polite word used to show that one is pleased to do something □ I had the privilege of hearing him speak once. □ It was a privilege to be introduced to her.

privileged ['prɪvəlɪdʒd] adj -1. [group, position] that has rights or advantages that other people do not have □ a privileged minority □ As a member, you have privileged access to a wealth of services. -2. to be privileged to do sthg to be honored to do sthg □ We were very privileged to receive an invitation. □ I feel privileged to work for them.

privy ['prɪvi] adj to be privy to sthg [to a discussion, secret] to know something about sthg that is secret (formal use).

Privy Council n the Privy Council in Britain, a group of politicians, public figures etc who advise the king or queen on political matters.

Privy Councillor n a member of the Privy Council.

Privy Purse n the Privy Purse in Britain, the amount of money that the government gives to the king or queen for their own use.

prize [praɪz] ◇ n something valuable given to a person who has won a competition, contest, game etc □ She won first prize in the tournament. ◇ adj -1. [cattle, exhibit] that has won a prize. -2. [idiot, fool] complete (informal use). ◇ vt -1. to value and admire <sthg> □ a prized award/possession □ This breed is highly prized for its intelligence. -2. to prize sthg open to open sthg by using force □ She tried to prize the box open. ■ to prize sthg from sb to remove sthg from sb's hand with effort, or by force □ I finally succeeded in prizing it from her grasp.

prize day n GB a school ceremony held once

- a year at which prizes are given for good work during the year.
- prizefight ['praɪzfaɪt] n a boxing match in which the boxers win money.
- prize-giving [-gɪvɪŋ] n a ceremony, usually at a school or after a competition, at which prizes are given to some people □ the prize-giving ceremony.
- prize money n money that is offered or given as a prize, usually in a competition.
- prizewinner ['praɪzwaɪnə] n a person who has won a prize.
- pro [prou] (pl pros) n -1. a professional (informal use) □ Look, I'm a pro, and I believe in doing things well. □ After a successful amateur career, he turned pro. -2. the pros and cons the advantages and disadvantages of something □ We have to weigh up the pros and cons before deciding.
- pro- prefix used before a word to show that somebody supports somebody or something □ pro-environment □ pro-nationalist □ pro-government.
- PRO n abbr of public relations officer.
- proactive [prəʊ'æktɪv] adj [approach, attitude, person] that is able to change to improve a situation without being told to do so □ I chose the firm because they have a proactive policy on women's issues.
- pro-am [prəʊ'æm] ◇ adj [tournament, competition] that includes professional and amateur players. ◇ n a pro-am tournament, competition etc.
- probability [ˌprɒbə'bɪlətɪ] (pl probabilities) n -1. [of success, failure, victory] the degree to which something is likely or certain to happen □ The probability of such an outcome is very small. ■ in all probability almost certainly □ In all probability they've changed their mind. -2. something that is likely to happen □ The meeting is a probability rather than a possibility at the moment.
- probable ['prɒbəbl] adj [outcome, reason, success] that is likely to happen or be true □ It's very probable that they'll win.
- probably ['prɒbəbli] adv almost certainly □ You're probably right. □ "Will you be able to come?" — "Probably."
- probate ['prəʊbeɪt] LAW ◇ n the legal process of deciding whether or not a will has been made correctly. ◇ vt US to probate a will to decide whether or not a will has been made correctly.
- probation [prəʊ'beɪʃn] n -1. LAW the system by which some criminals are not sent to prison but must obey the law and report regularly to an official for a fixed period of time □ He was put on probation for a period of six months. -2. INDUSTRY the fixed period of time after a person joins a company at the end of which their employer decides if they are good enough to keep the job □ Teachers are normally on probation for two years.
- probationary [ˌprəʊ'beɪʃənəri, ˌGB -əri] adj [teacher, nurse] who is on probation □ a probationary period.
- probationer [prəʊ'beɪʃnəri] n -1. INDUSTRY an employee who is on probation. -2. LAW a criminal who is on probation.
- probation officer n a person whose job is to deal with criminals who are on probation.
- probe [proub] ◇ n -1. a thorough investigation by a large organization into something that is wrong or illegal □ They ordered a probe into the company's affairs. -2. MEDICINE a long, thin, metal instrument used to examine something. -3. a space probe a spacecraft that sends information about space back to earth. ◇ vt -1. [mystery, crime] to investigate <sthg> thoroughly □ Officials are probing the company's records. -2. [earth, hole] to examine <sthg> with one's finger or a pointed object □ She probed the ground with a stick. ◇ vi to probe for sthg to search for sthg □ They probed for evidence. ■ to probe into sthg to investigate sthg thoroughly □ They probed into his business affairs.
- probing ['prəʊbɪŋ] adj [question, look] that is intended to discover the truth.
- probity ['prəʊbətɪ] n total honesty (formal use).
- problem ['prɒbləm] ◇ n -1. something that is difficult to deal with or understand and needs attention and thought □ money/social problems □ He has a drugs problem. □ We're having a few problems with our overseas division. □ the problem of unemployment/homelessness. □ I have no problem with that. ■ no problem! certainly! (informal use) □ "Could you lend me $5?" — "No problem!" -2. a question based on numbers, facts etc that needs an answer or solution □ a mathematical problem. ◇ comp a problem child a child who behaves badly and causes difficulties.
- problematic(al) [ˌprɒblə'mætɪk(l)] adj that causes problems and is difficult to deal with □ Arranging transport could be problematic(al).
- problem page n GB a section in a newspaper or magazine containing letters from readers describing their problems, followed by answers from an expert suggesting solutions.
- procedural [prə'sɪ:dʒərəl] adj [matter, problem] that is connected with a particular procedure.
- procedure [prə'sɪ:dʒə] n an accepted method or set of actions for doing something □ constitutional/legal/standard procedure □ There is a procedure to follow in case of fire.
- proceed [vb prə'si:d, npl 'prəʊsi:dz] vi -1. to proceed to do sthg to begin to do sthg after doing something else □ She then proceeded to ask me some awkward questions. -2. to continue □ Before we proceed any further, ... □ The police proceeded with their investigation. -3. to go in a particular direction (formal use).
- ◆ proceeds npl the money earned from selling something or from an event or activity □ They sold the house and set up their own business with the proceeds.
- proceedings [prə'si:dɪŋz] npl -1. a particular series of events □ The entire proceedings were captured on film. -2. LAW a legal action □ court/legal proceedings.

process [US 'prɒses, GB 'prəʊs-] ◇ n -1. a series of actions or events that are done by, or that involve, a lot of people or one person or that happen naturally □ the legal/electoral/administrative process □ It has been a long/slow process. ■ in the process while doing the thing just mentioned □ I stretched to catch the ball, and in the process I pulled a muscle. ■ to be in the process of doing sthg to be doing sthg that one has not finished yet □ We're in the process of redecorating our house. -2. [in nature, chemistry] a series of natural changes or events □ a chemical process □ the process of digestion OR digestive process □ the aging process. -3. [for making things] a method of making something, especially a method used in industry □ The production process has since been refined. □ a new process for manufacturing laminated steel.

◇ vt -1. [raw material, food] to put <sthg> through a chemical or industrial process □ Waste is sent abroad for processing. -2. COMPUTING [data, figures] to put <information> into a computer to be examined or dealt with. -3. [application, document] to deal with <sthg>, usually as part of an official process □ Customs officers process thousands of immigrants each month.

processed food [US 'prɒstest-, GB 'prəʊs-] n food that has been specially treated so that it stays fresh for a long time.

processing [US 'prɒsesɪŋ, GB 'prəʊs-] n: see process □ automatic data processing.

procession [prə'seɪʃn] n -1. a number of people, vehicles etc moving in the same direction as part of a ceremony, demonstration, or public event □ a funeral procession. -2. a continuous forward movement of people or things, one after the other □ They marched in procession. □ a constant procession of visitors.

processor [US 'prɒsesə, GB 'prəʊsesə] n -1. COMPUTING = microprocessor. -2. COOKING = food processor.

pro-choice adj [group, campaigner] that supports a woman's right to have an abortion.

proclaim [prə'kleɪm] vt [news, independence] to announce <sthg> publicly or officially □ The country proclaimed its independence in 1957. □ Fiona proudly proclaimed that she'd solved it.

proclamation [ˌprɒklə'meɪʃn] n: see proclaim □ a proclamation of independence.

proclivity [prə'klɪvətɪ] (pl proclivities) n a strong natural tendency toward something, especially something bad (formal use).

procrastinate [prɒu'kræstɪneɪt] vi to keep avoiding doing something that one has to do.

procrastination [prɒu'kræstɪ'neɪʃn] n: see procrastinate.

procreate ['prɒukreɪt] vi to produce young animals or babies (formal use).

procreation [ˌprɒukreɪʃn] n: see procreate (formal use).

proctor ['prɒktə] n US EDUCATION a person who watches students in an exam to make sure they do not cheat.

procurator fiscal [ˌprɒkjʊreɪtə'fɪ] n in Scottish law, a person who acts as a coroner and public prosecutor.

procure [prə'kjʊə] vt [supplies, assistance, ticket] to get <sthg> that is difficult to obtain □ First, I suggest you procure the services of a good lawyer.

procurement [prə'kjʊə'mənt] n: see procure □ the Minister in charge of weapons procurement.

prod [prɒd] (pt & pp prodded, cont prodding) ◇ n -1. a quick push with something long and thin such as a finger or a stick □ She gave him a prod with her stick. -2. a way of reminding somebody about something □ The money was due yesterday, so I think we should give them a prod. ◇ vt -1. to give <sb/sthg> a prod using an object or one's finger □ He prodded me in the ribs. -2. to cause <sb> to do something by encouraging or persuading them □ It took two letters to prod him into action/responding.

prodigal ['prɒdɪɡl] adj [person] who carelessly wastes money (literary use).

prodigious [prə'dɪdʒəs] adj [amount, appetite, memory] unusually large □ The job generates a prodigious amount of paperwork.

prodigy ['prɒdədʒɪ] (pl prodigies) n a person, especially a child, who has a great talent for a particular activity □ a child/an infant prodigy □ a musical/mathematical prodigy.

produce [vb prə'dju:s, n US 'prɒdju:s, GB 'prɒdju:s] ◇ vt -1. [equipment, appliances, food] to make <goods>, usually in a factory, in order to sell them □ Our company produces electrical parts for cars. -2. [work of art, literature] to make <sthg> for other people to see and enjoy □ She has produced another brilliant novel. -3. [raw material, crop] to provide <sthg> in a particular form as the result of a process; [interest, profit] to cause <sthg> to exist as the result of a process □ This region produces good wine. □ Halogen lamps produce a lot of light. -4. [agreement, reaction, effect] to have <sthg> as a result □ The experiment produced unexpected results. -5. BIOLOGY [baby, young, offspring] to cause  to be born; [fruit, flower, leaves] to cause <sthg that grows> to appear. -6. [object, passport, letter] to bring <sthg> out from inside a package, bag etc to show it to somebody □ He was then asked to produce his birth certificate. -7. [evidence, argument, document] to find and present <sthg> to somebody in order to prove something □ They could not produce any proof that she had been at the scene. -8. CINEMA, THEATER, & TV [movie, play, program] to be responsible for the practical aspects of making <sthg>, especially finding the money for it □ Tonight's show was produced by Steve Bliss.

◇ n -1. FARMING a collective term for food produced by farmers □ dairy/agricultural produce □ 'Produce of Spain.' -2. a collective term for fruit and vegetables sold in a store □ They have nice produce at Kroger's.

producer [prə'dju:sə] n -1. [of goods, food, raw

- material] a person, organization, or country that produces something in large amounts or numbers □ one of the biggest steel producers □ the producer country/company. -2. CINEMA, THEATER, & TV the person who produces a play, program etc □ a movie producer.
- product ['prɒdʌkt] n -1. INDUSTRY & BUSINESS anything that is made, manufactured, grown etc in order to be sold □ chemical/pharmaceutical/agricultural products. -2. to be a product of sthg [of a situation, process] to be a result of sthg; [of an upbringing, education] to be a certain way as a result of sthg □ That's the product of a lively imagination. □ He's a product of his environment.
- production [prə'dʌkʃn] n -1. [of goods, food, raw material] see produce □ production costs/methods/systems. ■ to go into production [model, article] to start being produced; [company, factory] to start producing something □ The car went into production earlier this year. □ We're going into production with an advanced version of the system. ■ to put sthg into production to start producing sthg □ We're putting the new model into production next year. -2. the amount of goods produced □ Production is up/down on last year. -3. [of a movie, play, program] see produce. -4. THEATER a presentation of a particular play, opera, ballet etc by a particular director or company □ a theatrical production □ Did you see her production of "Peer Gynt"?
- production line n a group of machines or groups of workers that make one part of a product only, and then pass it on to the next group of machines or workers □ He works on the production line.
- production manager n the person in charge of production at a factory.
- productive [prə'dʌktɪv] adj -1. [labor force, factory, industry] that produces a lot of goods efficiently; [land, farm] that produces a lot of crops. -2. [meeting, visit, relationship] that produces useful or satisfying results □ I've had a very productive afternoon.
- productively [prə'dʌktɪvli] adv [work, operate, use] He uses his land productively.
- productivity [prɒdʌk'tɪvətɪ] n the rate at which goods are produced in relation to the number of workers and machines used □ Productivity must be increased/improved if the company is to survive.
- productivity deal n an agreement between managers and workers that links an increase in pay to an improvement in productivity.
- Prof. abbr of Professor.
- profane [prə'feɪn] adj [language, expression] that shows no respect for holy and religious things.
- profanity [prə'fænətɪ] (pl profanities) n -1. a lack of respect for religious and holy things. -2. an offensive word or expression.
- profess [prə'fes] vt [innocence, ignorance, disgust] to claim <sthg>, often falsely □ He professed a liking for jazz. □ He professes to be the inventor of this machine.
- professed [prə'fest] adj -1. a professed atheist/anarchist etc a person who makes it known that they are an atheist/anarchist etc. -2. [love, respect, dislike] that is declared, but not necessarily believed □ her professed indifference to wealth and status.
- profession [prə'feʃn] n -1. a job or career, especially one that is generally respected and requires special training □ She is a doctor by profession. □ What made you choose law as your profession? -2. all the people who belong to a particular profession □ the medical/teaching/legal profession.
- professional [prə'feʃnəl] < adj -1. [athlete, actor, musician] who does a particular activity or job for money □ a professional golfer/thief. -2. [person] who has a job that is generally respected and requires special training; [career, qualification] that is connected with a particular profession; [help, opinion] that comes from a person in a particular profession □ Naomi is a professional woman in her mid-30's. □ You should seek professional advice from a lawyer. -3. [job, standard, performance] that is of high quality and shows a desire to do things properly □ She dealt with the situation in a very professional manner. □ It was not very professional of him to leave halfway through the meeting. < n -1. a person who is paid for doing something that other people do as a hobby □ We really need a professional to fix the table. -2. a person who is trained to do a particular job; a person who takes care to do their job well □ The apartment would suit a young professional. □ She's a real professional!
- professional foul n a deliberate foul in soccer intended to stop a player of the other team from scoring a goal.
- professionalism [prə'feʃnəlɪzəm] n the skill and serious attitude to work that professional people are expected to have □ We expect a high level of professionalism from our staff.
- professionally [prə'feʃnəli] adv -1. professionally trained/qualified trained/qualified to a professional standard. -2. [sing, play, act] for money, as a job □ Jim started playing golf professionally when he was 23. -3. to be professionally repaired/installed to be repaired/installed by a person who is trained in a particular skill □ The job was done very professionally. -4. [behave] in a way that is expected of a professional in a particular job.
- professor [prə'fesə] n -1. US & CAN a university teacher □ a college professor □ a law professor □ She's a professor of OR in engineering. -2. GB a teacher of the highest rank at a university, usually the head of a department □ Professor Alan Stringer.
- professorship [prə'fesə'ʃɪp] n the job or position of a professor.
- proffer ['prɒfə] vt [object, hand] to hold <sthg> out so that another person can take it; [advice, friendship, help] to offer <sthg> to somebody □ He proffered his hat. □ We all proffered our excuses to her.
- proficiency [prə'fɪʃnsɪ] n a high level of skill □ I aim to achieve proficiency in under a year. □ her proficiency in languages.

proficient [prə'fɪʃnt] adj [linguist, swimmer] who has reached a very high standard in a particular skill or activity □ She's a very proficient athlete. □ He became proficient in OR at English.

profile ['prəʊfaɪl] n -1. [of a person] the outline of a person's head and face seen from the side □ I could just make out his profile at the end of the row of seats. ■ in profile seen from the side □ She looks much better in profile. ■ to keep a low profile to try not to attract attention to oneself □ I suggest you keep a low profile until this is all over. -2. MEDIA [of a celebrity, star, politician] a short description, usually for a newspaper or a television program, of somebody's life and character □ There was a profile of her in the Sunday papers.

profit ['prɒfɪt] ◇ n -1. BUSINESS money gained in business that is greater than the costs of the business □ The business is run for profit, not as a charitable concern. □ With pretax profits of 60 million dollars, the company has had another successful year. ■ to make a profit to earn more money from business than one spends □ He made a healthy profit on the deal. ■ to sell sthg at a profit to sell sthg at a higher price than one bought it for. -2. something useful that can be gained by an action □ Is there any profit in trying to reopen negotiations at this stage?

◇ vi -1. [company, business] to make a profit □ The company profited nicely from OR by its business in Eastern Europe. -2. [person] to learn a lot from something □ She spent a year abroad and profited greatly from OR by the experience.

profitability [ˌprɒfɪtə'bɪlətɪ] n the extent to which a business, investment etc is profitable; the fact of being profitable.

profitable ['prɒfɪtəbl] adj -1. [business, deal, investment] that makes a profit □ We've had a very profitable six months. -2. [experience, meeting, visit] useful and worthwhile □ I found our discussion very profitable.

profitably ['prɒfɪtəblɪ] adv -1. [deal, sell, invest] in a way that makes a profit. -2. [spend time] usefully.

profit and loss n a profit and loss (statement) US OR account GB a document that shows the amounts of money spent and earned by a company during a particular period, and the profit or loss it has made.

profiteering [ˌprɒfɪt'ɪəriŋ] n the activity, especially during a war, of making large profits by charging people very high prices for essential goods.

profit-making ◇ adj [organization, business] that makes a profit. ◇ n the activity of making profits.

profit margin n the difference between the selling price of something that makes a profit and the cost of producing it □ We are looking at ways of increasing our profit margins.

profit sharing [-ʃeəriŋ] n an arrangement that allows part of a company's profits to be shared among its employees.

profligate ['prɒflɪgət] adj [use, expenditure] that wastes something, especially money, in a careless way □ We must be less profligate with our resources.

pro forma [-'fɔ:ɪmə] adj a pro forma invoice an invoice giving details of an order that is sent out before the goods are delivered.

profound [prə'faʊnd] adj -1. [apology, despair, silence] that is very strongly felt; [effect, change] that is very noticeable and important □ She felt a profound sense of sorrow. □ It has altered him in a profound way. -2. [idea, saying, work] that is full of meaning and shows great intelligence and understanding □ I find his poetry extremely profound.

profoundly [prə'faʊndli] adv -1. profoundly grateful/upset etc very grateful/upset etc □ a profoundly moving piece of music. -2. [change, affect] in a very noticeable or important way □ The experience had altered her profoundly. □ It irritated him profoundly.

profuse [prə'fju:s] adj -1. [bleeding, sweat] that is produced in large quantities □ Profuse tears flowed down his cheeks. -2. [apologies, thanks] that is expressed with a lot of feeling and words □ She was profuse in her apologies.

profusely [prə'fju:sli] adv [sweat, bleed, apologize] see profuse □ He was profusely apologetic.

profusion [prə'fju:ʒn] n a very large quantity of something □ a profusion of flowers □ Weeds were growing in profusion.

progeny ['prɒdʒəni] n the children or descendants of somebody (formal use).

progesterone [prə'dʒestərɒn] n a hormone that prepares the womb for pregnancy.

prognosis [prɒg'nəʊsɪs] (pl prognoses [-i:z]) n a judgment or opinion about how something is likely to develop, especially an illness □ The prognosis for the export business in the coming year is good/bad.

program ['prəʊgræm] (vt & pp programmed, cont programming) ◇ n -1. COMPUTING a set of instructions that are given to a computer so that it can carry out certain operations □ a computer program □ a word-processing program. -2. US [of activities, events] a list of planned activities, events etc □ I have a very full program this week. □ What's on the program for tonight? -3. US RADIO & TV a broadcast □ There's a program on tonight about alligators. □ a TV/radio program. -4. US EDUCATION a set of studies □ a degree/MBA program. -5. US [for a play, concert, match] a small book that people can buy when they go to a cultural or sports event etc that gives them details about the event and the people taking part in it.

◇ vt -1. COMPUTING to put a program into  □ The system can be programmed to perform a variety of tasks. -2. US [video, CD player] to instruct  to carry out a certain operation automatically □ The heat is programmed to come on early in the morning.

programmable [prəu'græməbl] adj [washing machine, stereo, video recorder] that can be instructed to carry out certain operations automatically.

programme ['prəʊgræm] GB ◇ n [of activities, on the radio, for a play) = program. ◇ vt [video, CD player] = program.

programmer ['prəʊgræmə] n COMPUTING a person who writes programs for computers □ a computer programmer.

programming ['prəʊgræmɪŋ] n COMPUTING the activity of writing programs for computers □ a course in computer programming.

programming language n a language of codes and symbols in which computer programs are written.

progress [n US 'prɒgrəs, GB 'prɒgrɛs, vb prə-'grɛs] ◇ n -1. [of a person, vehicle] movement in a particular direction, especially toward a destination □ The mountain was steep and our progress was slow. -2. [of work, a project, patient] the gradual development of somebody or something toward a desired state □ There's not much progress to report. ■ to make progress [work, project] to come closer to being completed; [patient, student] to improve, especially by one's own efforts □ They've made some/considerable/excellent progress. □ Terry's making progress with OR in his English. -3. [in science, technology] development and improvements in different areas of human life; [of events, a game] the way in which something develops and changes over a period of time □ technological progress □ That's what they call progress, I suppose.

◇ vi -1. [science, technology] to become more advanced; [work, project] to come closer to being completed; [student, patient] to improve □ The study of human genetics is progressing fast. □ The painting is progressing slowly. □ Anna is progressing well at school. -2. [meeting, game, negotiations] to continue and develop in a particular way over a period of time □ As the evening progressed, I began to feel more and more tired. -3. to progress to sthg [to the next stage, a higher level] to move on to sthg □ She progressed to flying more powerful planes.

◆ in progress adj to be in progress to be happening at this moment □ The meeting is still in progress.

progression [prə'grɛʃn] n -1. the process of going from one situation or state into another □ the progression from childhood to adulthood. -2. a series of events, objects etc that come one after the other.

progressive [prə'grɛsɪv] adj -1. [politician, method, school] that is influenced by and ready to try new ideas □ She was a young doctor with progressive ideas about psychology. -2. [change, improvement, reduction] gradual and continuous □ He suffered from a progressive loss of memory.

progressively [prə'grɛsɪvli] adv to become progressively worse/smaller to become worse/smaller gradually and continuously □ He got progressively more drunk. □ The dose can be reduced progressively as the patient shows signs of recovery.

progress report n a report that shows how well or badly somebody or something is progressing □ Give me a progress report on the new project. □ a monthly progress report.

prohibit [prəʊ'hɪbət] vt [smoking, alcohol, sale] to forbid <sthg> by using a rule or law □ 'Parking prohibited.' ■ to prohibit sb from doing sthg to stop sb from doing sthg by using a rule, law, or order □ Tenants are prohibited from keeping animals as pets.

prohibition [ˌprəʊə'bɪʃn] n -1. a rule or law that prohibits something □ a prohibition on the sale of alcohol. -2. the act of prohibiting something □ Prohibition of the practice is the only solution.

◆ Prohibition n the period in US history from 1920 to 1933 when the manufacture and sale of liquor was banned; the banning of alcohol.

PROHIBITION

The law introducing Prohibition was an amendment to the US constitution that was made as a result of campaigns by religious and political groups against drunkenness. The law failed to stop Americans from drinking, however. Many made their own alcohol, and many more bought it in illegal drinking clubs called "speakeasies", run by organized criminals who became rich and powerful. People felt the law had no effect, and it was ended in 1933.

prohibitive [prəʊ'hɪbətɪv] adj [cost, tax, amount] that is so expensive that people cannot afford to buy or pay for it.

project [n 'prɒdʒekt, vb prə'dʒekt] ◇ n -1. a plan □ They announced their project to build a new stadium. -2. a piece of work, especially one that follows a plan □ The building project is nearing completion. -3. EDUCATION a long piece of work done by one or more students on a particular subject □ a history/geography project □ project work □ The class is doing a project on pollution.

◇ vt -1. to be projected to be planned □ A major road-building operation is projected for next year. -2. [increase, cost] to estimate <the future amount of something> using the information that one has □ Here are next year's projected sales figures. □ a projected rise/fall in output. -3. to project sthg onto sthg [light, image, film] to make sthg appear on sthg □ The diagram was projected onto a screen at the front of the auditorium. -4. to project sb/sthg as sthg to make sb/sthg appear to be sthg, especially sthg that other people admire □ We're trying to project ourselves as a dynamic, forward-looking company.

◇ vi [piece of rock, object] to stick out from the surface of something □ There was a nail projecting dangerously from the wall.

projectile [US prə'dʒektl, GB -aɪl] n an object that is thrown or fired as a weapon.

projection [prə'dʒekʃn] n -1. [of sales, costs] an estimate based on existing information □ a sales projection. -2. something that sticks out from a surface. -3. [of light, a film] the act of projecting light, film etc onto a surface.

projectionist [prə'dʒekʃnɪst] n a person who works the projector at a movie theater.

projection room n a room, usually in a movie theater, from which the movies are projected onto a screen.

projector [prə'dʒektə] n a device containing a system of lenses and a very bright light that projects an image, slide, movie etc onto a screen □ a movie projector.

proletarian [ˌprəʊlə'teəriən] adj [struggle, person] that is connected with or belongs to the working class.

proletariat [ˌprəʊlə'teəriət] n the proletariat the working class.

pro-life adj [group, campaigner] that is opposed to abortion.

proliferate [prə'lifəreit] vi [weeds, pests, cells] to increase in number very quickly and become widespread.

prolific [prə'lifɪk] adj [writer, artist, composer] who produces many works □ Her output of books, novels, and articles has been truly prolific.

prologue ['prɒləʒ] n -1. a short section at the beginning of a book, movie etc that is used as an introduction □ the prologue to the "Canterbury Tales". -2. a prologue to sthg something that happens before sthg and leads on to it □ These preliminary discussions were a prologue to the actual negotiations.

NOTE: Compare epilogue.

prolong [prə'lɒŋ] vt [life, suffering, meeting] to make <sthg> last longer □ Why prolong the suspense any longer?

prom [prɒm] n -1. US a formal dance for students in high school in the USA □ She never had a prom date. -2. GB (abbr of promenade concert) a concert at which no seats are provided for at least part of the audience □ We're going to the proms. -3. abbr of promenade.

promenade [US ˌprɒmə'neɪd, GB -'nɑ:d] n GB a wide path built along the edge of the coast in a town.

promenade concert n GB = prom.

Prometheus [prə'mi:θiəs] in Greek mythology, a god who stole fire from the gods and gave it to the human race. He was punished by being chained to a rock.

prominence ['prɒmɪnəns] n: see prominent □ He rose to prominence during the election campaign.

prominent ['prɒmɪnənt] adj -1. [politician, organization, issue] that is important and attracts a lot of attention □ He's a prominent member of the Church/critic of the regime. -2. [landmark, building] that is very noticeable because it stands out from a surface □ I put the notice in the most prominent place I could find. □ She has very prominent cheekbones.

prominently ['prɒmɪnəntli] adv -1. [display, place] in a way that makes something easy to notice □ The alarm chain is prominently positioned above the door. -2. [feature, figure] in a way that attracts attention and suggests that somebody or something is important □ His name figures prominently in our list.

promiscuity [ˌprɒmə'skjʊ:əti] n promiscuous sexual behavior □ the risks of promiscuity.

promiscuous [prə'mɪskjuəs] adj [person] who has sex with a lot of different people.

promise ['prɒməs] ◇ n -1. a statement that one will definitely do something, often for somebody else's benefit □ She kept/broke her promise to meet me at the airport. □ We received only one promise of support. ■ to make a promise to promise that one will do something □ You made me a promise, remember? -2. [of success, recovery, happiness] a sign that something will happen. ■ to show promise [musician, student] to do well and show signs that one will do even better in future; [idea, career, project] to show signs of being a success □ He shows great promise as a writer.

◇ vt -1. to promise sb sthg to tell sb that they will definitely have sthg they need or want; to tell sb that sthg will definitely happen □ You promised me a new car for Christmas. □ She promised (that) she would come. ■ to promise to do sthg to state that one will definitely do sthg □ I promised to finish the job by Friday. -2. [rain, snow, success] to be a sign that <sthg> will appear or happen in the future. ■ to promise to be sthg to seem very likely to be sthg □ This promises to be an interesting discussion. □ He promises to develop into a first-rate mechanic.

◇ vi to make a promise □ "Will you do that for me?" — "Yes, I promise."

promising ['prɒməsɪŋ] adj [start, sign] that suggests something good will happen; [student, musician, career] that shows signs of being successful in the future.

promissory note [US 'prɒməsɔ:ri-, GB -ɪsəri-] n a signed note promising to pay somebody a particular sum of money on a certain date or when asked for it.

promo ['prɒmɒʊ] (pl promos) n something, usually a video, that promotes a product (informal use) □ a promo copy.

promontory [US 'prɒməntɔ:ri, GB -əntri] (pl promontories) n a piece of high land that sticks out into the sea.

promote [prə'məʊt] vt -1. [trade, cooperation] to try to help the development of <sthg> □ The aim of our organization is to promote the cause of world peace. -2. [product, event, idea] to try to attract public attention to <sthg> by selling it at a special price, talking about it on television or radio etc □ The band have been touring to promote their new single. -3. [employee, member of staff] to give <sb> a better job with more money and responsibility □ She's been promoted to head of the finance department. -4. SPORT to be promoted [team, club] to be allowed to compete in a higher division.

promoter [prə'məʊtə] n -1. [of a sports event, concert] a person who organizes something and pays for it to take place □ a boxing promoter. -2. [of a cause, idea] a person who supports something and tries to persuade other people to agree.

promotion [prə'məʊʃn] n -1. the fact of being given a higher rank or position □ What are the prospects of promotion? □ Trainees can expect to receive a promotion after one year. -2. [of a product, event] see promote. -3. an event or a campaign to attract attention to a product, movie etc □ We're having a sales promotion.

prompt [prɒmpt] ◇ adj -1. [action, treatment, reply] that is done without delay □ Prompt payment would be appreciated. -2. [person] who arrives, comes etc exactly at the planned time and not later □ I'm surprised he's not here, he's usually very prompt.

◇ adv exactly at a particular time and not later □ The meeting will start at nine o'clock prompt.

◇ vt -1. [action, reaction, decision] to cause <sthg> to happen or be done □ This, in turn, prompted a rude letter from the author. ■ to prompt sb to do sthg to cause or persuade sb to do sthg □ What prompted her to change her plans so suddenly? -2. THEATER to remind <an actor or actress> of the next line they have to say during a performance.

◇ n THEATER a spoken reminder to an actor or actress of the next line they have to say during a performance; the person who gives this reminder.

promptly ['prɒmptli] adv -1. [act, reply, pay] without delay □ She promptly went and told everyone that I was pregnant. -2. [arrive, leave] at the planned time and not later □ They arrived promptly at six.

promptness ['prɒmptnəs] n [of an action, reply, person] see prompt.

promulgate ['prɒmlgeɪt] vt -1. [law, decree] to announce <sthg> to the public. -2. [belief, idea] to make <sthg> known to many people.

prone [praʊn] adj -1. to be prone to sthg [to illness, accidents] to be likely to be affected by sthg □ She's always been very prone to allergies. ■ to be prone to do sthg to have a tendency to do sthg □ He's prone to make mistakes. -2. [person] who is lying flat on their stomach (formal use).

prong [prɒŋ] n a long point, especially one of those at the end of a fork.

pronoun ['praʊnaʊn] n a word such as "he", "she", or "it" that is used in place of a name or noun.

pronounce [prə'naʊns] ◇ vt -1. [word, name] to say <sthg> aloud in a particular way □ How do you pronounce that? □ You don't pronounce the "k" in "know". -2. [verdict, decision] to state <sthg> formally □ Other art experts have pronounced that the work is a fake. □ The evening was pronounced a triumph by all. ■ to pronounce sb dead/unfit etc to state formally that sb is dead/unfit etc □ He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital. ◇ vi to pronounce on sthg to give an opinion or decision on sthg □ Experts were asked to pronounce on the validity of the claim.

pronounced [prə'naʊnst] adj [accent, limp, tendency] very noticeable □ He has a pronounced lisp.

pronouncement [prə'naʊnsmənt] n a formal public statement about something serious □ The public was outraged by his pronouncements on women and work.

pronto ['prɒntəʊ] adv without delay (informal use).

pronunciation [prə'naʊnsi'eɪʃn] n [of a language, word, name] the way in which something is pronounced, especially by somebody speaking a foreign language □ I'm afraid my pronunciation is not very good.

proof [pru:f] n -1. [of a theory, fact, somebody's guilt] something that shows that something is true □ We must have proof before we can take disciplinary action against them. □ They don't have any proof that I was involved. -2. PRINTING [of a text, publication] a first copy of something that is used for making corrections, improvements etc before the final copies are printed □ a proof copy. -3. [of alcohol] a figure that shows the alcoholic strength of a drink □ This rum is 47 proof.

proofread ['pru:fri:d] (vt & pp proofread [-red]) vt [text, publication] to check the proofs of <sthg> for mistakes.

proofreader ['pru:fri:dəʃ] n a person whose job is to proofread texts or publications.

prop [prɒp] (vt & pp propped, cont propping) ◇ n -1. [for a wall, roof, plant] a support that prevents something from falling down □ The fence was held up by wooden props. -2. somebody or something that gives support and allows a person, organization etc to continue to work or exist □ I was using alcohol as some sort of emotional prop. □ Expensive cars are really a prop to people's self-esteem. -3. SPORT in rugby, one of the two forwards in the front row of the scrum who support the hooker.

◇ vt to prop sthg against sthg to lean sthg against sthg to prevent one or both of them from falling or moving, often only for a short time □ He propped the ladder against the wall.

◆ props npl THEATER & CINEMA a collective term for the objects and pieces of furniture that are used in a movie or play.

◆ prop up vt sep -1. to prop sthg up [wall, book, plant] to prevent sthg from falling down by using a prop □ The shelf was propped up with or by bricks. -2. to prop sthg up [organization, economy] to make it possible for sthg to continue working or existing □ The banks won't prop up the company if it shows no sign of returning to profitability. □ American troops were sent in to prop up the regime.

Prop. abbr of proprietor.

propaganda [ˌprɒpə'gændə] n [for a political party, government, regime] information that is intended to persuade people to support or approve of something and that may be untrue □ right-wing/communist propaganda □ election propaganda.

propagate ['prɒpəgeɪt] ◇ vt -1. [seed, species] to cause  to produce young, especially in large numbers □ These plants can be propagated by taking cuttings. -2. [idea, religion] to spread <sthg> so that more people believe in it or support it. ◇ vi [plant, animal] to grow in number by produc- ing young □ The species has propagated well in the local conditions.

- propagation [ˌprɒpəˈgeɪʃn] n: see propagate □ seed propagation.
- propane [ˈprəʊpeɪn] n a gas that is obtained from petroleum and used for cooking and heating. FORMULA: C₃ H₈.
- propel [prəˈpel] (pt & pp propelled, cont propelling) vt -1. [vehicle, boat, rocket] to cause <sthg> to move quickly in a particular direction □ The blast propelled him through the window. -2. [person] to suddenly cause <sb> to do a particular thing or be in a particular situation □ He was propelled to fame/into a life of crime. □ The country was immediately propelled into war.
- propeller [prəˈpelaɪ] n a device with two or more blades that drives a ship or an aircraft by turning very fast □ a propeller blade.
- propelling pencil [prəˈpeliŋ-] n GB a pencil in which the lead can be moved in or out by twisting or pressing a part of the pencil.
- propensity [prəˈpensəti] (pl propensities) n a natural tendency to have particular emotions or patterns of behavior (formal use) □ He has a propensity for OR to antisocial behavior. □ a propensity to act without thinking.
- proper [ˈprɒpə] adj -1. [job, meal, doctor] that is real and has all the necessary features to be good enough □ I haven't had a proper weekend off in months. -2. [time, place] correct □ You will all be told at the proper time. □ The proper spelling is with a "g" at the end. -3. [behavior, sentiment] that is morally or socially acceptable but may be thought old-fashioned by some people □ It wouldn't be right and proper of me to accept. -4. the building/ceremony proper the actual building/ceremony itself rather than something that is connected with it or similar to it □ The movie proper doesn't begin until five.
- properly [ˈprɒpəli] adv -1. [spell, pronounce] correctly; [clean, treat] in a satisfactory way □ I haven't been able to walk properly since the accident. □ This place needs taking care of properly. -2. [eat, dress, behave] in a way that other people consider acceptable □ Sit properly at the table!
- proper noun n GRAMMAR the name of a particular person, place, or organization, spelled with a capital letter.
- property [ˈprɒpərti] (pl properties) n -1. [of a person, organization, government] something that belongs to somebody □ It appears that the car was stolen property. □ 'This book is the property of M. J. Thurman.' -2. [for sale] a building or a piece of land owned by a particular person □ There are several nice properties for sale in the area. -3. BUSINESS a collective term for buildings and land □ They've been buying up property in the area. □ the property market □ property prices. -4. [of a chemical, plant, metal] a characteristic that something has □ the healing properties of garlic.
- property developer n a person who buys land in order to build housing, offices etc on it and then sell it at a profit.
- property owner n a person who owns land or a building.
- property tax n a tax on land or buildings.
- prophecy [ˈprɒfəsi] (pl prophecies) n a statement of what will happen in the future, especially made by somebody with special religious powers □ The prophecy eventually came true.
- prophecy [ˈprɒfəsai] (pt & pp propheied) vt [disaster, war] to predict that <sthg> will happen □ Mr Levine prophesied that the war would end within a year.
- prophet [ˈprɒfət] n -1. RELIGION a religious teacher or leader who is believed to have been chosen by God. -2. a person who makes prophecies.
- prophetic [prəˈfetik] adj [remark, warning] that correctly describes something that will happen in the future □ Her words proved to be prophetic.
- propitious [prəˈpɪʃəs] adj [moment, time] that is likely to make something successful (formal use).
- proponent [prəˈpɒnənt] n a person who supports something and tries to persuade other people to agree □ proponents of compulsory education up to the age of 18.
- proportion [prəˈpɔːʃn] n -1. a part of something □ I spend a large proportion of my expenses on travel. -2. a number of people or things when considered as part of a larger group □ The proportion of women smoking has fallen. □ Donor countries are now giving less as a proportion of their GNP than at any time since 1973. -3. the proportion of sthg to sthg the amount of sthg compared to the amount of sthg else □ The proportion of Catholics to Protestants is two to one. ■ in proportion to OR with sthg at the same rate as sthg □ Wages have not risen in proportion to the cost of living. ■ out of all proportion to sthg much more than is fair or suitable when compared with sthg □ The prison sentence was out of all proportion to the seriousness of the crime. -4. to keep OR see things in proportion to keep a sense of what is important and reasonable □ You should stop worrying and see things in proportion ■ to get sthg out of proportion to behave as if sthg is more important than it really is □ The incident has been blown up out of all proportion by the media. ■ a sense of proportion an ability to know which things are important and which things are not □ The police need to keep a sense of proportion when dealing with young people. -5. ART the relative sizes of objects in a picture, drawing etc. ■ in proportion [drawing] that shows everything in its correct size compared with everything else □ It's difficult to draw things in proportion without checking and measuring. ■ out of proportion [drawing] with objects shown too big or small when compared to other objects □ Her hand seems out of proportion with the rest of her body.
- ◆ proportions npl the size of something □ The virus has reached epidemic proportions.
- proportional [prəˈpɔːʃnəl] adj at the same rate as something else □ This chart shows income to be proportional to costs.

proportional representation n the system used in elections in which the number of representatives a party has is in proportion to the total number of votes it has received.

proportionate [prə'pɔ:ʃnət] adj [change, increase] that is in the correct proportion to something else □ Sales have not been proportionate to the costs of promotion.

proposal [prə'pəʊzəl] n -1. a suggestion or plan, often written, that people have to think about and decide on □ I'm against the proposal for a new road OR to build a new road. □ A new proposal has been submitted. -2. the act of asking somebody to marry one □ a proposal of marriage.

propose [prə'pəʊz] v -1. to suggest  etc, often in writing, that people can think about and decide on; to formally suggest <sb> for a particular job □ I propose that we leave at once. □ I was pleased when they proposed me for OR as their representative. -2. to introduce  etc and argue in its favor □ Frederick proposed the motion "Vegetarianism is good for the soul." -3. to propose a toast to ask people to drink a toast to show appreciation of somebody or wish them good health, success etc □ I propose a toast to Gary, for cooking this meal. -4. to propose doing OR to do sthg to intend to do sthg □ You don't propose actually driving that thing, do you?

◇ vi to ask somebody to become one's wife or husband □ He eventually proposed to her.

proposed [prə'pəʊzd] adj [plan, solution, trip] suggested or planned.

proposition [ˌprɒpə'zɪʃn] n -1. a statement of an opinion or idea that is made so that people can discuss it □ Given Schleiber's proposition that human beings are born unequal... -2. a suggestion for a plan or action □ We discussed the proposition to merge/that the companies should merge. □ He has made us an attractive proposition. ◇ vt to ask <sb> to have sex with one, especially when one does not know them well.

propound [prə'paʊnd] vt [theory, problem, argument] to suggest and explain <sthg> so that other people can consider it.

proprietary [US prə'praɪətəri, GB -ətəri] adj [medicine, cosmetic] that is sold under a brand name (formal use).

proprietor [prə'praɪətə] n the owner of a business □ a newspaper proprietor.

proprietary [prə,praɪ'etɔ:riəl] adj [attitude, manner, tone] showing that one thinks that one owns and has complete power over something or somebody.

propriety [prə'praɪəti] n correct social and moral behavior (formal use).

propulsion [prə'pʌlʃn] n the force that makes something, especially a vehicle, move forward or upward □ jet/rocket propulsion.

pro rata [US '-reɪtə, GB '-rɑ:tə] adj [increase, payment] that is calculated according to how much is used, worked etc by each person □ The proceeds of the concert were shared on a pro rata basis. ◇ adv [increase, pay] For people who have worked for less than one year, the bonus will be divided pro rata.

prosaic [prəu'zeɪk] adj [life, style, job] that seems ordinary and uninteresting □ the dull, prosaic routine of Geraldine Macarthur's life.

Pros. Atty abbr of prosecuting attorney.

proscenium [prə'si:niəm] (pl prosceniums OR proscenia [-niə]) n a proscenium (arch) the frame for the main curtain over the front of the stage in a theater.

proscribe [prəu'skraɪb] vt [drug, organization, activity] to ban <sthg> officially, especially because it is considered dangerous (formal use).

prose [prəʊz] n written language that is not poetry □ a prose drama/translation □ Write it clearly, in plain English prose.

prosecute ['prɒsɪkju:t] LAW ◇ vt to accuse <sb> of a crime and bring a charge against them in a court of law □ 'Trespassers will be prosecuted' □ She was prosecuted for theft. ◇ vi -1. [police] They have decided not to prosecute. -2. [barrister] to act as the prosecutor in a trial in court □ David Olsen, prosecuting, proceeded to list the grisly details of the case.

prosecuting attorney [ˌprɒsɪkju:tɪŋ-] n an attorney who acts on behalf of the government in court cases in the USA.

prosecution [ˌprɒsɪ'kju:ʃn] n -1. the prosecution the people, especially the lawyers, who prosecute somebody in a trial in court □ The prosecution is presenting its case tomorrow. -2. [of a suspect, spy] the act of prosecuting somebody □ The state brought a successful prosecution against the bookstore.

prosecutor ['prɒsɪkju:tə] n a lawyer in a court of law who tries to prove that the person accused of a crime is guilty.

prospect [n 'prɒspekt, vb US 'prɒspekt, GB prə'spekt] ◇ n -1. [of a change, improvement] a possibility that something desirable will happen □ I see no immediate prospect of a cut in interest rates. □ There's little prospect of Harry arriving now. -2. [of work, a trip] something that will happen soon □ I don't look forward to the prospect of staying with my aunt. ◇ vi to look for gold, silver, oil etc in a particular area with the intention of mining it □ The company is prospecting for oil in the area.

◆ prospects npl the chances of somebody or something of being successful in the future □ What are the prospects for this year's harvest? □ That young man has good prospects.

prospecting [US 'prɒspektɪŋ, GB prə'spektɪŋ] n the activity of prospecting for gold, silver, oil etc □ a prospecting company.

prospective [prə'spektɪv] adj -1. a prospective buyer/candidate etc somebody who is likely or expected to buy something/be a candidate for something etc □ She is the prospective Democratic candidate in the forthcoming election. -2. a prospective event/deal an event/a deal that is likely to happen □ Many people have protested at the prospective increase in taxes.

prospector [US 'prɒspektr, GB prə'spektə] n a person who prospects for gold, silver, oil etc.

prospectus [prə'spektʌs] (pl prospectuses) n a small book published by a university, school, or company giving details about its activities and advertising its advantages.

prosper ['prɒspə] vi -1. [person, business] to become successful and rich □ After three difficult years, Luigi's restaurant began at last to prosper. -2. [child, plant] to develop well and healthily □ Ferns prosper in humid conditions.

prosperity [prɒ'sperəti] n the state of being successful and getting enough money to live well □ It was a period of great prosperity.

prosperous ['prɒspərəs] adj [person, business, country] successful and rich □ the prosperous suburbs of the city.

prostate ['prɒsteɪt] n the prostate (gland) an organ in the body of males that produces the liquid in which sperm is carried □ prostate cancer.

prosthesis [prɒs'thi:səs] (pl prostheses [-'θi:sɪz]) n an artificial leg, eye, tooth etc, used to replace one that is missing.

prostitute ['prɒstətju:t] n a person, usually a woman, who has sex with people for money □ a male/child prostitute.

prostitution [prɒstətju:ʃn] n the work or business of prostitutes □ She turned to prostitution.

prostrate [adj 'prɒstreɪt, vb US 'prɒstreɪt, GB prɒ'streɪt] ◇ adj -1. lying flat on the ground with one's face downward, because one is tired, scared etc □ He lay prostrate on the floor. -2. to be prostrate to be so weak or upset by something bad that has happened that one cannot do anything □ prostrate with grief. ◇ vt to prostrate oneself to lie down in a prostrate position because one fears, respects, or is worshiping somebody.

protagonist [prɒ'tæɡənəst] n -1. one of the main people in a story or in a real conflict or argument □ At this point, our protagonist decides to rebel. -2. one of the main people supporting something new □ ITC is one of the leading protagonists of change in the sector.

protect [prə'tekt] vt [person, country, rights] to keep <sb/sthg> safe so that they are not harmed or damaged □ The castle was built to protect the area from attack. □ The cream protects your skin against harmful ultraviolet rays. □ It is forbidden to hunt tigers — they are a protected species.

protection [prə'tekʃn] n the act of protecting somebody or the state of being protected □ police/consumer protection □ The drug gives protection from malaria. □ He asked for protection against his enemies.

protectionism [prə'tekʃnɪzəm] n an official policy of protecting the industry in one's country against foreign competitors.

protectionist [prə'tekʃnəst] adj [policy, politician] that favors protectionism.

protection money n money paid to criminals by somebody who has been threatened with attack or damage if they do not pay.

protective [prə'tektɪv] adj -1. [layer, clothing, coloring] that protects somebody or something from harm or damage □ The machine has a protective plastic cover. -2. [person] who has a strong wish to protect a child or weaker person against harm or bad influences □ Like most mothers, she was or felt very protective toward her children. □ protective feelings/instincts.

protective custody n the practice of keeping a person in prison for their own safety.

protector [prə'tektə] n -1. [of a person, country] a person who protects somebody or something □ The lawyer was an ardent protector of civil rights. -2. [on a machine, body] something that protects people from being hurt or injured □ a pair of eye protectors.

protectorate [prə'tektərət] n a country that is controlled and protected by another country that is more powerful.

protégé ['prɒtəʒeɪ] n a person whose career is helped and guided by somebody older and more powerful or influential.

protégée ['prɒtəʒeɪ] n a female protégé.

protein ['prɒti:n] n a substance found in foods such as meat, eggs, and beans that the body needs in order to grow and repair damage □ He's on a high-protein diet.

protest [n 'prɒtest, vb prə'test] ◇ n a statement or action, often made in public, showing that one disapproves of something, especially because it is not fair □ I would like to make or register a protest about the way I've been treated. □ The news of his detention was greeted by a storm of protest. □ The manager resigned in protest at or against the planned merger. □ a protest rally/movement/demonstration ■ under protest unwillingly □ I'll do it, but under protest.

◇ vt -1. to state very strongly that <sthg> is true after other people have said it is not □ He continued to protest his innocence. □ I protested that I was not responsible for the mistake. -2. US [war, action, decision] to make a protest about <sthg>.

◇ vi to make a protest, often together with other people □ We protested at or about the condition of the hotel. □ Teachers are protesting against the cuts in spending on education.

Protestant ['prɒtəstənt] ◇ n a member of one of the Christian churches that separated from Roman Catholicism in the 16th century. ◇ adj: a Protestant church/school/service.

Protestantism ['prɒtəstəntɪzəm] n the beliefs held by Protestants.

protestation [prɒ'testeɪʃn] n [of love, friendship] a very strong statement that something is true (formal use) □ Carlos was eventually imprisoned, despite his protestations of innocence.

protester [prə'testə] n a person who protests against something, especially actively and in public □ Several protesters were arrested during the rally.

protest march n a procession in which people walk a long distance to protest against a law, policy etc.

protestor [prə'testə] n = protester.

protocol ['prəʊtəkəl] n the rules, sometimes unwritten, about how people should behave on formal or official occasions □ What is the correct protocol in these matters?

proton ['prəʊtɒn] n a particle with a positive electrical charge in the nucleus of an atom.

prototype ['prəʊtətaɪp] n [of a car, machine] a first model or version of something that can be tested and improved before the final version is made □ a prototype airplane □ This is the prototype of the first steam engine.

protracted [prə'træktəd] adj [illness, delay, absence] that lasts a long time, often longer than is necessary or expected □ After protracted discussions, an agreement was finally made.

protractor [prə'træktə] n a flat piece of plastic or metal in the form of half a circle, used for measuring angles.

protrude [prə'tru:d] vi [teeth, rock] to stick out from or through a surface □ The pipe protruded from the wall a few centimeters.

protrusion [prə'tru:ʒn] n something that protrudes from somewhere.

protuberance [prə'tju:bərəns] n a rounded part of something that sticks out above the surface (formal use).

proud [praʊd] adj -1. [person] who is full of satisfaction and pleasure because of something they have done or been connected with □ She's very proud of OR about her new job. □ We are proud to present our new range of designer ski-wear. □ I was very proud that they asked me to speak. □ a proud smile/letter/achievement. -2. [person, people, race] that is full of self-respect □ They are too proud to ask for help. -3. [person] who feels very strongly that they are better or more important than other people (disapproving use) □ He is too proud to apologize.

proudly ['praʊdli] adv [speak, behave] see proud □ The parents looked on proudly as their son was handed the prize. □ We proudly present one of the world's leading trumpet players.

Proust [pru:st], Marcel (1871–1922) a French writer whose most famous work is Remembrance of Things Past.

provable ['pru:vəbl] adj [theory, guilt] that can be proved to be true.

prove [pru:v] (pt proved, pp proved OR proven) vt -1. [fact, argument] to show that <sthg> is definitely true, using facts, information etc □ The evidence seems to prove his guilt. □ I shall prove to you that I was right. □ It has been scientifically proven that this shampoo is harmful to your hair. □ Her argument was proved wrong. -2. to prove (to be) sthg to be shown or seen to be sthg after some time has passed □ She has proved to be a better worker than I expected. □ This scandal could prove highly damaging to the company. ■ to prove oneself to show that one is a particular thing by one's actions □ He proved himself to be an excellent cook.

proven ['pru:vɪn] ◊ past participle of prove. ◊ adj [fact, liar, ability] that has been proved.

Provençal [,prəvɒn'sa:l] n & adj: see Provence.

Provence [prə'vɒns] a region of southeastern France, on the Mediterranean coast.

proverb ['prɒvɜ:b] n a short well-known saying that expresses some general truth or advice □ That well-known proverb "Better late than never" springs to mind!

proverbial [prə'vɜ:bjəl] adj -1. a word used to show that one is quoting a well-known saying or expression □ The proverbial calm before the storm. -2. to be proverbial to be known about by many people □ Derek's drinking habits are proverbial.

provide [prə'vaɪd] vt [food, answer, example] to give or make <sthg> available to somebody who needs or wants it □ All meals will be provided. □ The company has provided me with a car. □ We can provide accommodation for twenty people.

◆ provide for vt fus -1. to provide for sb to support sb by giving them the money, food etc that they need □ I have a family to provide for. -2. to provide for sthg [for a possibility, emergency] to make arrangements for things to be done if sthg happens (formal use) □ We hope that the new plans provide for every eventuality.

provided [prə'vaɪdəd] conj provided (that) a word used to introduce something that must happen if something else is also to happen □ We should be home by ten, provided (that) we don't get lost.

providence ['prɒvədəns] n the force, such as God or fate, that is believed to control events and protect people's lives □ Some see it as an act of divine providence.

providential [,prɒvə'denʃl] adj [help, escape] that happens completely by chance at exactly the time it is needed (formal use).

provider [prə'vaɪdɪ] n a person who provides somebody with the food, money etc they need to live.

providing [prə'vaɪdɪŋ] conj = provided.

province ['prɒvəns] n -1. [of a country] a large and important part of a country that has its own government or governor □ the province of Quebec. -2. [of a person] an area of knowledge that somebody is especially interested or trained in; an area of work that somebody is personally responsible for □ I don't know anything about that, it's not really my province. □ Company law is outside my province.

◆ provinces npl the provinces the parts of a country that are far from its capital or main city □ The Chatham live in the provinces.

provincial [prə'vɪnʃl] adj -1. [town, newspaper] that is in or from the provinces □ Larry's working at one of the provincial theaters in the north. -2. [person, attitude] that is unwilling to accept new or different ideas and customs (disapproving use) □ They're so narrow-minded and provincial.

provision [prə'vɪʒn] n -1. [of food, resources, funds] the act of giving, supplying, or making something available to somebody □ The committee is responsible for the provision of library services. -2. to make provision for sb/sthg [for the future, one's family] to make arrangements and preparations to supply the possible future needs of sb/sthg □ I have made provision for my wife in my will. -3. [in an agreement, law] a condition or demand □ Under the provisions of the contract, you will be expected to complete the work by June. □ I accept your terms with the provision that the money is paid in advance.

♦ provisions npl supplies of food and drink □ Toward the end of the expedition our provisions began to run low.

provisional [prə'vɪʒnəl] adj [arrangement, result, decision] that has been arranged or decided for the present but is likely to be changed at some time in the future.

Provisional IRA n the Provisional IRA the part of the Irish Republican Army that is prepared to use violence and terrorism to achieve its aims.

provisional licence n GB a driving license used by people until they have passed their driving test.

provisionally [prə'vɪʒnəli] adv [agree, arrange] see provisional □ We've set the date for the meeting provisionally for next Tuesday.

proviso [prə'vaɪzəʊ] (pl provisos) n a demand or condition that must be fulfilled before an agreement is accepted □ I accepted the job with the proviso that the company paid my moving costs.

Provo ['prəʊvəʊ] (pl Provos) n a member of the Provisional IRA (informal use).

provocation [ˌprɒvə'keɪʃn] n [of a person, animal] see provoke □ Tony gets angry at the slightest provocation.

provocative [prə'vɒkətɪv] adj -1. [book, remark] that is likely to or intended to cause anger, discussion etc. -2. [smile, dance, clothing] that is intended to excite sexual desire.

provocatively [prə'vɒkətɪvli] adv [say, dance] see provocative □ a provocatively low-cut dress.

provoke [prə'vʊk] vt -1. to deliberately try to make  annoyed or angry □ He was provoked into saying things he later regretted. □ Don't provoke him, he'll bite. -2. to cause <an unpleasant feeling, situation> etc □ Are you trying to provoke a fight? □ The senator's proposal provoked a storm of protest.

provoking [prə'vʊkɪŋ] adj annoying.

provost [US 'prəʊvoust, GB 'prɒvəst] n -1. in the USA, a high-ranking university official. -2. in Britain, the head of a university college. -3. in Scotland, the head of a town council.

prow [prəʊ] n the front end of a ship or boat.

prowess ['prəʊəs] n great ability or skill (literary use).

prowl [praʊl] ◇ vi [person, animal] to move around quickly and carefully, trying not to be noticed, especially in order to attack somebody or steal something □ Susan thought she heard someone prowling around out- side the house. ◇ vt to prowl through or around . ◇ n to be on the prowl to be prowling.

prowl car n US a police car that travels around an area to see what is happening.

prowler ['praʊlə] n a person who prowls around at night in order to harm people, steal from houses etc.

proximity [prɒk'sɪməti] n proximity to sthg the fact of being near to sthg □ One advantage of this house is its proximity to the station. ■ in the proximity of sthg close to sthg □ Fergus had spent in the proximity of $5000.

proxy ['prɒksɪ] (pl proxies) n a person who has been given the right to act or speak for someone else, e.g. in an election or at a meeting; the right given to a person in this situation □ My husband will act as proxy for me. □ proxy votes. ■ by proxy by having somebody else act or speak for one □ I voted by proxy.

ProzacTM ['prəʊzæk] n a drug designed to stop people from being depressed.

prude [pru:d] n a prudish person (disapproving use) □ Don't be such a prude!

prudence ['pru:dns] n: see prudent (formal use).

prudent ['pru:dnt] adj [person] who thinks carefully and sensibly before making decisions □ a prudent decision/policy □ It would be prudent not to mention her name.

prudently ['pru:dntli] adv [act, behave, decide] see prudent.

prudish ['pru:dɪʃ] adj [person] who is easily shocked by things that are considered rude, especially sex (disapproving use) □ a prudish remark.

prune [pru:n] ◇ n a dried plum. ◇ vt to cut branches off  etc so that it will grow better.

prurient ['prʊəriənt] adj [person] who has an unpleasantly strong interest in the sexual activities of other people (formal use).

pry [praɪ] (pt & pp pried [praɪd]) ◇ vi to try to find out about somebody's private life, often by watching them or by asking personal questions (disapproving use) □ I told him not to pry into my private life. □ You shouldn't pry. ◇ vt to pry sthg open/off to force sthg open/off □ I tried to pry off the lid with a knife.

PS (abbr of postscript) n a note added at the end of a letter or document □ PS – Don't forget to write!

psalm [sɑ:m] n a song or poem in praise of God, especially one from the Bible.

PSBR (abbr of public sector borrowing requirement) n the PSBR the amount of money that a government has to borrow from banks and the public because it has spent more than it has collected in taxes.

pseudo- ['sju:doʊ] prefix added to words to show that one thinks that something does not deserve a particular description □ pseudo-scientific □ pseudo-literary.

pseudonym ['sju:dənim] n a name used by somebody, especially a writer, when they do not want to use their real name.

psi (abbr of pounds per square inch) a unit for measuring pressure.

psoriasis [sə'raɪəsəs] n a disease that causes itchy red patches and spots on the skin.

psst [pst] excl a sound used to attract somebody's attention without other people noticing.

PST (abbr of Pacific Standard Time) n the local time in the Pacific coastal region of the USA and Canada.

psych [saɪk] ♦ psych up vt sep to psych oneself up to prepare oneself mentally for something difficult, especially by telling oneself that one can do it well (informal use) □ I had to psych myself up to go into his office.

psyche ['saɪki] n a person's personality, mind, feelings, and attitudes.

psychedelic [ˌsaɪkə'delɪk] adj -1. [drug] that affects one's mind and makes one see and hear strange things and have strange ideas. -2. [art, music, pattern] that uses strong patterns, colors, lights, or sounds.

psychiatric [ˌsaɪkɪ'ætrɪk] adj a psychiatric hospital/unit a hospital/unit where people with mental illnesses are treated. ■ a psychiatric patient a person who is being treated for a mental illness.

psychiatric nurse n a nurse who has been trained to treat patients who have mental illnesses.

psychiatrist [saɪ'kaɪətrɪst] n a doctor who has been trained in psychiatry.

psychiatry [saɪ'kaɪətrɪ] n the study and treatment of mental illnesses.

psychic ['saɪkɪk] ◇ adj -1. [person] who has strange powers that cannot be explained by science, such as an ability to read people's minds or predict future events □ psychic powers. -2. [disorder, damage] that affects the mind, not the body. ◇ n a person with psychic powers, especially the ability to receive messages from dead people.

psychoanalysis [ˌsaɪkəʊə'næləsəs] n the medical examination or treatment of somebody with a mental problem by asking them about their feelings, dreams, and past experiences in order to find the hidden causes of the problem.

psychoanalyst [ˌsaɪkəʊə'næləst] n a person trained in psychoanalysis.

psychoanalyze US, psychoanalyse GB [ˌsaɪkəʊə'næləɪz] vt to examine or treat <sb> using psychoanalysis.

psychological [ˌsaɪkə'lɒdʒɪkəl] adj -1. [damage, barrier, development] that is connected with the mind and thoughts of people □ She has a lot of psychological problems. -2. [test, study] that is connected with psychology.

psychological warfare n attempts to make an enemy lose courage and confidence by spreading fear, giving false information etc.

psychologist [saɪ'kɒlədʒəst] n a person who has been trained in psychology.

psychology [saɪ'kɒlədʒɪ] n -1. the scientific study of the mind and how it affects people's behavior □ child/behavioral psychology □ I had to use a little psychology to get him to agree. -2. [of a person, group] the way in which a particular person or group thinks and how this affects their attitudes and behavior.

psychometric [ˌsaɪkə'metɪk] adj a psychometric test a test designed to measure people's intelligence and mental abilities.

psychopath ['saɪkəpəθ] n a person with a serious disease of the mind who behaves very violently toward other people and feels no guilt.

psychosis [saɪ'kəʊsəs] (pl psychoses [-'kəʊsi:z]) n a very serious mental illness such as schizophrenia or paranoia.

NOTE: Compare neurosis.

psychosomatic [ˌsaɪkə'sə'mætɪk] adj [illness, condition] that is caused by mental problems such as fear, unhappiness, or stress and not by something physical.

psychotherapy [ˌsaɪkəʊ'therəpi] n the treatment of mental conditions using psychological methods rather than drugs, operations etc.

psychotic [saɪ'kɒtɪk] ◇ n a person who suffers from psychosis. ◇ adj: psychotic behavior.

pt -1. abbr of pint. -2. abbr of point.

Pt. (abbr of Point) on a map, used to refer to a thin strip of land sticking out into the ocean □ Hartland Pt.

PT n abbr of physical training.

PTA (abbr of parent-teacher association) n an organization formed by the parents and teachers of children at a particular school that organizes social events for the good of the school.

Pte MILITARY abbr of private.

PTO ◇ n (abbr of parent-teacher organization) US = PTA. ◇ (abbr of please turn over) a phrase written at the bottom of a page to show that there is something written on the other side.

Ptolemy ['tɒləmi] (90–168 AD) a Greek scientist who believed that the planets and stars went round the Earth.

PTSD n abbr of post-traumatic stress disorder.

PTV n -1. abbr of pay television. -2. (abbr of public television) = PBS.

pub [pʌb] n GB & AUS a building with one or two rooms where beer and other drinks are sold and where people meet socially; the people in this building □ a pub sign/lunch/landlord □ The whole pub seemed to be watching me.

🍺 PUB

Pubs play an important part in British social life, particularly in the country, where the local pub is often the main meeting place for the community. In larger towns there are many types of pub: some have music and games and appeal to young people, while others serve meals and welcome families. Traditionally, pubs only admitted people over 18, and had to close in the afternoons and after 11 pm, but these rules have been changed recently.

pub. abbr of published.

pub crawl n GB to go on a pub crawl to go to several pubs, one after the other, and have a drink in each one (informal use).

puberty ['pjʊ:bə'tɪ] n the time in a person's life when their body becomes adult and they become able to produce children □ Once the child reaches puberty...

pubescent ['pjʊ:'besnt] adj [girl, boy] who is at the age of puberty.

public ['pʊj:ɪk] adj public hair/bones hair/bones near a person's sexual organs.

public ['pʌblɪk] ◊ adj -1. [support, concern, health] that affects people in general □ The announcement attracted a lot of public interest. -2. [office, servant] that belongs to or is connected with the government or state acting for people in general □ increased public spending. -3. [library, announcement, meeting] that exists for everybody to use, see, or go to □ a public telephone/park □ The government has decided to set up a public inquiry. □ Do you think we could talk somewhere less public? -4. [figure, life] that is not secret and is known by everybody □ The party needs to improve its public image. □ It's public knowledge that the company is about to go bust. ■ to go public on OR about sthg to let everybody know about sthg that has been a secret (informal use) □ The government has gone public on its plans to build more roads. ■ to make sthg public [views, news] to tell the public about sthg that has been a secret □ His death has only just been made public. -5. BUSINESS to go public to become a public company by selling shares on the open market.

◊ n the public ordinary people in general □ We invite letters from members of the public. □ The house is not open to the public. □ The public has a right to know. □ the newspaper-reading public. ■ in public with other people present, including strangers □ He says one thing in private and something very different in public.

public-address system n an electrical system that allows music or somebody's voice to be heard by everyone in a building, ship etc.

publican ['pʌblɪkən] n a person who owns or manages a pub.

publication [ˌpʌblɪ'keɪʃn] n -1. [of a book, magazine] the act of publishing something and sending it to shops to be sold □ the publication of the report's findings □ The book is nearing publication. -2. [of information] the act of making something available to people in general. -3. a book, magazine etc that has been published □ The catalog contains details of our latest publications.

public bar n GB a separate bar in a pub that is not as comfortable or well-furnished as the other bar and where the drinks are cheaper.

public company n GB a company whose shares are listed on the stock exchange and can be bought by the general public.

NOTE: Compare private limited company.

public convenience n GB a toilet provided by local government that anybody can use, sometimes for a small payment.

public domain n to be in the public domain [book, software, information] to be available for anybody to use freely and without payment.

public health n the care of people's health by a government or other official body, including medical treatment and the prevention of disease □ Public health authorities insist there is no cause for alarm.

public holiday n a day in the year when most people in a particular country do not work.

public house n GB = pub (formal use).

public housing n US houses or apartments built by the government for poor people.

publicist ['pʌblɪsəst] n a person whose job is to publicize things.

publicity [ˌpʌblɪ'sɪtɪ] n -1. public attention and interest produced especially by newspapers, television etc □ The scandal received a lot of publicity in the press. -2. advertising, information etc intended to attract public interest and attention, e.g. when trying to sell something □ She's in charge of publicity at the National Opera. □ a publicity campaign/agent.

publicity stunt n an event arranged especially to attract publicity (disapproving use).

publicize, -ise [ˌpʌblɪsaɪz] vt [event, policy, danger] to make <sthg> known to the public as widely as possible, especially through newspapers, television etc □ the Senator's well-publicized views on the need to cut spending.

public limited company n GB = public company.

publicly ['pʌblɪkli] adv [meet, discuss] in public □ I feel I have been publicly humiliated.

public office n a job in government, e.g. as a member of Congress □ She has what it takes to hold/run for public office.

public opinion n the opinions of people in general at a particular time □ We did a public-opinion survey of attitudes to television. □ Public opinion has changed on this issue.

public ownership n ownership and management of businesses, buildings etc by the state □ Most health services are still in OR under public ownership.

public prosecutor n in Britain, a government official appointed by the state to bring criminal charges against people in courts of law.

public relations ◊ n work done by a company or organization to encourage the public to have a good opinion of it, especially by providing information; the department that does this work □ a public relations exercise □ She works in public relations. ◊ npl good relations between a company or organization and the public □ Supporting charity events is good for public relations.

public relations officer n a person who works in public relations for a company or organization.

public school n -1. in the USA, Australia, and Scotland, a local school controlled and funded by the state that provides free education. -2. in Britain, a private school for children aged from 13 to 18, whose parents pay to send them there and who usually live there during the term.

public sector n the industries and services of a country that are owned and controlled by the government, e.g. education and roads □ Wages are much lower in the public sector. □ public-sector industries.

public servant n a government official or employee.

public service n -1. something, e.g. gas, garbage collection, or transportation, that is provided by a government for all the people in an area □ a strike by public-service workers. -2. work that is concerned with helping other people rather than making money for oneself □ The title is given in recognition of her years of public service. -3. = civil service.

public service vehicle n GB a bus or other vehicle licensed to carry passengers.

public-spirited adj [attitude, person] showing an active interest in the good of the society that one lives in □ That was very public-spirited of you!

public transportation US, public transport n trains, buses etc that anybody can use □ Chicago's public-transportation system.

public utility n a service for the public, e.g. the supply of gas, electricity, or water, that is usually under some degree of government control □ public-utility companies.

public works npl buildings, roads etc provided by the government for public use.

publish ['pʌblɪʃ] ◇ vt -1. [company, government] to do the work needed to produce and sell  etc □ The journal is published monthly. -2. [newspaper, magazine, editor] to include <an article, letter, photograph> etc in a newspaper or magazine and have it printed □ The newspaper refused to publish the name of the politician involved in the scandal. -3. [writer, musician] to have  etc published □ He has published books on both politics and history. -4. to make <information, an opinion> etc known to the public, usually by having it published and printed □ The government has refused to publish the commission's findings. □ Their statement was published last week.
◇ vi [company, government] We publish in nine different languages.

publisher ['pʌblɪʃə] n a company, organization, or person that publishes books, magazines etc □ I got a rejection from yet another publisher.

publishing ['pʌblɪʃɪŋ] n the business of publishing books, magazines etc □ She works in publishing.

publishing company, publishing house n a company that publishes books.

pub lunch n GB a meal bought and eaten in a pub in the middle of the day that is usually quite simple and cheap.

Puccini [pu'tʃi:ni], Giacomo (1858–1924) an Italian composer whose operas include La Bohème and Tosca.

puce [pu:s] adj dark brown-red in color.

puck [pʌk] n a hard, flat, round piece of rubber that one hits with a stick in ice hockey.

pucker ['pʌkə] ◇ vt to twist <one's lips or face> so that little folds or lines appear, especially when one is frowning or concentrating □ She puckered her brow in concentration. ◇ vi: His face puckered and he began to cry.

pudding ['pu:dɪŋ] n -1. a sweet dish based on flour or rice, usually served hot □ a lemon pudding □ a rice/bread-and-butter/steamed pudding. -2. GB a hot dish consisting of meat covered with a mixture of flour and fat □ a steak and kidney pudding. -3. GB the sweet dish that follows the main course of a meal □ What's for pudding?

puddle ['pʌdl] n a shallow pool of water that forms on the ground when it rains; a similar pool of any liquid □ We ran for shelter, dodging the puddles. □ Your car has left a nasty puddle of oil on the street.

puddy ['pʌdʒɪ] adj [fingers, child] small and rather fat (informal use).

Pueblo ['pweblou] n a member of one of several Native American peoples living in the southwestern USA.

puerile [US 'pjʊərəl, GB -aɪl] adj [person, remark, joke] that one thinks is silly and childish.

Puerto Rican [US ,pweɪtə'ri:kən, GB ,pwɜ:ɪt-] n & adj: see Puerto Rico.

Puerto Rico [US ,pweɪtə'ri:kou, GB ,pwɜ:ɪt-] an island in the Caribbean, east of the Dominican Republic. Puerto Ricans are US citizens but Puerto Rico is not a state of the USA. SIZE: 8,897 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,522,000 (Puerto Ricans). CAPITAL: San Juan. LANGUAGE: Spanish, English. CURRENCY: US dollar.

puff [pʌf] ◇ n -1. a small amount of smoke taken into the mouth and blown out again □ He took a puff on OR of his cigar. -2. a small amount of air, wind, steam etc blown out from somewhere, often as a light cloud and with a gentle sound □ I blew out the candle in one puff. □ The magician disappeared in a puff of smoke.

◇ vt to smoke  etc by blowing out the smoke in small amounts.

◇ vi -1. to puff on OR at a cigarette/pipe etc to puff a cigarette, pipe etc. -2. to breathe quickly and noisily because one has been moving fast, exercising etc; to walk or run while breathing quickly and noisily □ We carried the cupboard up the stairs puffing and panting. □ I puffed up the steps and rang the doorbell.

◆ puff out vt sep to puff out one's cheeks/chest to make one's cheeks/chest bigger and rounder by filling them with air.

◆ puff up ◇ vt sep to puff sth up to make sth larger by filling it with air □ The bird puffed up its feathers. ◇ vi [eyes, skin] to become swollen as the result of being hit or injured.

puffed [pʌft] adj puffed (up) [eyes, skin] swollen.

puffed sleeve n a short sleeve on a dress or blouse that is tight around the arm at the top and bottom but wide and round in the middle.

puffin [ˈpʌfn] n a small black and white seabird with a very large brightly-colored beak.

puff pastry n light pastry used for pies and cakes that contains a lot of air and breaks into small pieces easily.

puffy [ˈpʌfi] (compar puffier, superl puffiest) adj [eyes, cheeks, skin] swollen.

pug [pʌg] n a small fat dog with short hair, a wide face, and a flat nose.

pugnacious [pʌgˈneɪʃəs] adj [person] who gets into fights easily (formal use).

puke[▽] [pju:k] vi to vomit (very informal use).

Pulitzer Prize [ˈpʊlɪtsɜːr-] n in the USA, one of several prizes given to outstanding journalists, writers, and musicians.

pull [pʊl] ◇ vt -1. [hair, rope, person] to take hold of <sb/sthg> and move them toward oneself or in a particular direction □ Anne pulled her chair closer to mine. □ He kept trying to pull me onto his knee. □ She pulled everything out of the closet and onto the floor. □ Stephen pulled a cigar from his jacket pocket. ■ to pull the blind/curtains to draw a blind/curtains over a window to cover it. -2. [from a wall, socket, bottle] to remove <sthg> from its usual place using force □ The telephone had been pulled off the wall. -3. [cart, trailer, carriage] to make  move along behind one □ a car pulling a trailer □ The coach was pulled by two black horses. -4. [lever, trigger, handle] to move <the part of a piece of equipment that controls it> toward one to make it work □ He pulled the trigger, and the gun went off. -5. to pull a gun/knife on sb to take out a gun/knife suddenly in order to threaten or attack sb. -6. to pull oneself out of a place [water, hole, bath] to hold onto something and use force to move one's body out of a place □ She swam to the side and pulled herself out of the pool. -7. to pull a muscle to damage a muscle by stretching it too far or too quickly □ I pulled a muscle playing football. -8. [customers, spectators, voters] to make <people> come to listen, buy, vote etc (informal use) □ The festival should pull a big crowd.

◇ vi [toward oneself] You push and I'll pull.

◇ n -1. to give sthg a pull to pull sthg once, especially quickly or forcefully □ You have to give that drawer a good pull. -2. the power to attract or influence people □ He resisted the pull of family tradition and went his own way.

◆ pull ahead vi [person, vehicle] to pass and move in front of somebody or something else that is going more slowly □ The police car suddenly pulled ahead of us.

◆ pull apart vt sep to pull people/animals apart to separate people/animals that are fighting or holding each other, using force.

◆ pull at vt fus to pull at sthg [sleeve, arm, coat] to pull sthg repeatedly, especially in order to get somebody's attention □ The child kept pulling at her skirt.

◆ pull away vi -1. [vehicle, driver] to start moving □ The truck was just pulling away from the traffic lights. -2. [in a race] to move forward and leave behind other vehicles or people that are moving more slowly □ The Cuban swimmer has started to pull away from the leaders. -3. to move away from <sb who is holding one> □ I grabbed her by the arm, but she pulled away from me.

◆ pull back vi -1. [army] to retreat. -2. to pull back from sthg [from an argument, commitment] to decide not to take part in sthg □ They pulled back from the brink of war/confronting the unions.

◆ pull down vt sep to pull a building down to deliberately destroy a building, usually to build something new in its place □ The old town hall was pulled down to make way for an office block.

◆ pull in vi [driver, car] to move to the side of the road to stop; [train] to arrive in a station □ Pull in next to that van. □ I could see Hamish waving as we pulled into the station.

◆ pull off vt sep -1. to pull a piece of clothing off to remove a piece of clothing quickly and without much care □ "It's hot," said Ruth, pulling off her sweater. -2. to pull it off to succeed in doing something difficult or risky (informal use) □ I couldn't believe they actually pulled it off!

◆ pull on vt sep to pull a piece of clothing on to put a piece of clothing on quickly and without much care □ Jonathan jumped up, pulled on his pants, and ran out.

◆ pull out ◇ vt sep -1. to pull sthg out [gun, knife] to bring out sthg that has been hidden □ Then he pulled out a shotgun. -2. to pull sb out [army] to make sb leave a place □ UN troops have been pulled out of the danger zone.

◇ vi -1. [train] to start to leave a station □ We arrived just as our train was pulling out. -2. [vehicle] to move away from the side of the road or in front of another vehicle □ A truck suddenly pulled out right in front of me. -3. [army, troops] to leave a place □ Government forces are pulling out of the besieged capital. -4. [company, competitor, participant] to stop taking part in something □ Syria is threatening to pull out of the peace talks.

◆ pull over vi [vehicle, driver] to move to the side of the road and stop, especially because one is asked to □ Pull over, there's a police car behind us.

◆ pull through vi [sick person] to get better after a serious illness or accident □ Doctor, do you think he'll pull through?

◆ pull together ◇ vt sep to pull oneself together to behave in a more calm or controlled way □ Pull yourself together, for goodness sake! ◇ vi [group of people, countries, organizations] to work together to deal with a situation or problem □ Times are hard, and we all have to pull together.

◆ pull up ◇ vt sep -1. to pull up a chair to move a chair next to somebody or something □ Pull up a chair and join us! -2. to pull sb up short to make sb stop and think about what they are doing □ She was pulled up short by the seriousness in Ralph's voice. ◇ vi [vehicle, driver] to stop □ I saw a car pull up outside the hotel.

pull-down menu n COMPUTING a menu that one chooses from a list at the top of the screen and that then shows a menu of further options below it.

pulley ['pʊli] (pl pulleys) n a piece of equipment consisting of a rope or chain that goes over a fixed wheel, used for lifting heavy weights.

pullout ['pʊlaʊt] n a part of a magazine, book etc, usually in the middle, that can be taken out and read separately.

pullover ['pʊləʊvə] n a knitted woolen piece of clothing for the upper part of the body that one puts on by pulling it over one's head.

pulp [rʌlp] ◇ adj a pulp novel/magazine etc a novel/magazine etc that is cheaply and quickly made and contains shocking material such as sex and violence. ◇ n -1. a soft, thick, liquid mass produced when certain solid materials are crushed or beaten □ The vegetables were reduced to a pulp. -2. the soft inside part of some fruits or vegetables. -3. water containing crushed wood, cloth etc, used for making paper □ wood pulp. ◇ vt -1. [fruit, vegetable] to crush <food> until it becomes pulp. -2. [book, paper] to use <sthg> to make pulp so that it can be used again.

pulpit ['pʊlpɪt] n a raised and enclosed platform in a church where a priest or minister stands when speaking to the other people there.

pulsar ['pʌlsɑː] n a star that cannot be seen but produces regular radio signals.

pulsate [US 'pʌlseɪt, GB pʌl'seɪt] vi to make sounds or movements that follow a strong regular rhythm □ the pulsating beat of dance music.

pulse [pʌls] ◇ n -1. the movement of blood from the heart around the body that can be felt as a regular beat at certain points on the body, e.g. the wrist □ a strong/weak pulse □ Your pulse rate is abnormally slow. □ His pulse raced as she entered the room. ■ to take sb's pulse to find out how fast sb's heart is beating by feeling the pulse at their wrist. -2. TECHNOLOGY a small amount of sound, light, or electricity produced by something in a regular repeated way; a series of such amounts of sound, light, or electricity □ pulses of light □ an electrical/a radio pulse.

◇ vi [blood, pain] to move or be felt with a strong regular beat □ I could feel the blood pulsing around my head.

◆ pulses npl dried beans, peas, or lentils that are soaked in water and then boiled as food.

pulverize, -ise ['pʌlvəraɪz] vt -1. [rock, metal] to crush <sthg> into dust or very small pieces. -2. [army, opposition] to defeat <sb> completely (informal use).

puma ['pju:mə] (pl puma OR pumas) n a large wild cat with brown fur that lives in the mountain regions of North and South America.

pumice (stone) ['pʌmɪs-] n a gray stone produced by volcanos that is very light in weight and is used for cleaning surfaces or rubbing on one's skin to make it soft and smooth.

pummel ['pʌml] (US pt & pp pummeled, cont pummeling, GB pt & pp pummelled, cont pummelling) vt [person, cushion] to hit <sb/sthg> hard many times, usually with one's fists.

pump [pʌmp] ◇ n -1. a machine for forcing a liquid or gas somewhere, e.g. through a pipe □ a hydraulic/pneumatic pump □ a water/an oil pump □ a bicycle pump. -2. a machine for putting gasoline into a car.

◇ vt -1. [water, air, oil] to move  somewhere using a pump □ The blood is pumped around the body by the heart. □ The doctor pumped the poison out of his stomach. -2. to pump money into sthg [into a project, product] to spend a lot of money in order to help sthg, often with too little care (informal use) □ The government has been pumping money into an advertizing campaign to discourage drink-driving. -3. to ask <sb> a lot of questions in order to get information that they do not want to give (informal use) □ George kept pumping me for information about the new deal.

◇ vi [piston, heart, blood] to move with a strong regular rhythm □ The runner's arms were pumping furiously.

◆ pumps npl light shoes with flat rubber soles used for sports or dancing □ a pair of pumps.

◆ pump up vt sep to pump sthg up [tire, air mattress] to fill sthg with air using a pump.

pumpnickel ['pʌmpnɪkl] n a heavy dark brown bread made from rye and usually cut into thin slices before it is sold.

pumpkin ['pʌmpkən] n a large, round, orange-colored vegetable that grows on the ground and has a thick skin and many seeds inside; the plant that produces this vegetable.

pumpkin pie n a baked pie with a filling made of pumpkin, eaten especially in America.

pun [pʌn] n a clever or funny use of one word with two different meanings or of two words that sound the same but have two different meanings.

punch [pʌntʃ] ◇ vt -1. to hit <sb/sthg> hard with one's fist, especially in a fight □ She punched him on the nose. -2. to make  in a card, ticket etc using a punch □ Here comes the guy to punch our tickets. ◇ n -1. [with one's fist] the act of hitting somebody hard with one's fist □ He gave him a punch on the chin. -2. [for making holes] a tool for making holes in paper, cloth, leather, metal etc. -3. [drink] a hot or cold drink made by mixing wine or spirits with water, sugar, fruit, spices etc.

- ◆ punch in vi US to show that one has arrived at work by putting a card into a machine that records the time on it.
- ◆ punch out vi US to show that one has left work by putting a card into a machine that records the time on it.

Punch-and-Judy show [-'dʒu:dɪ-] n a traditional British puppet show for children, performed by one person in a small movable tent, in which the main character, Punch, fights with his wife, Judy.

punch bag n GB = punching bag.

punch ball n a leather ball held in a fixed position, e.g. on a spring, that is used in the same way as a punching bag.

punch bowl n a large bowl in which drinks are mixed before being served, especially punch.

punch-drunk adj -1. [boxer] who is unsteady and unable to speak clearly as a result of brain damage caused by too many blows to the head. -2. [person] who is confused and unable to concentrate, e.g. as a result of too much work.

punching bag ['pʌntʃɪŋ-] n US a heavy bag covered in leather that is hung from above so that it can be punched by boxers when they are training or as a form of exercise.

punch line n the last line or sentence of a joke that makes the whole joke funny.

punch-up n GB a fight (informal use).

punchy ['pʌntʃɪ] (compar punchier, superl punchiest) adj [style, article] that is forceful and effective because it is clear and direct (informal use).

punctilious [pʌŋk'tɪlɪəs] adj [person] who is very careful to do things correctly and properly in all details (formal use).

punctual ['pʌŋktʃʊəl] adj [person] who is not late and does things at the arranged time; [start, arrival] that happens at the arranged time □ I try to be punctual for appointments. □ Where's Toby? He's normally so punctual.

punctually ['pʌŋktʃʊəli] adv [start, arrive] see punctual □ I was there punctually at 8 o'clock.

punctuate ['pʌŋktʃueɪt] vt -1. [sentence, text] to put punctuation into <sthg written>. -2. to be punctuated by OR with sthg to be broken or interrupted repeatedly by sthg □ The silence was punctuated by the sound of crickets.

punctuation [pʌŋktʃu'eɪʃn] n marks such as periods, commas, and apostrophes that are used to break up writing and make its sense clear; the way in which such marks are used □ The poem is written without any punctuation. □ I've never been any good at punctuation.

punctuation mark n a period, comma, apostrophe etc used in punctuation.

puncture ['pʌŋktʃə] ◇ n a small hole, e.g. in a tire or football, made by a sharp point □ Do you know how to mend a puncture? ◇ vt [tire, football] to make a small hole in <sthg> □ She was in hospital with a punctured lung.

pundit ['pʌndət] n a person who knows a lot about a subject and is often asked to give opinions on it □ political/television pundits.

pungent ['pʌŋdʒənt] adj -1. [smell, spice, food] that has a strong sharp smell or taste □ the pungent aroma of curry. -2. [criticism, remark, style] that is direct and very critical □ a pungent and witty attack on the department.

punish ['pʌnɪʃ] vt to do something unpleasant to <sb>, e.g. send them to prison, because they have done something wrong □ The teacher punished the children for their rudeness. □ He was punished for stealing the apples. □ The government intends to punish drunk-driving more severely. □ This kind of crime must be punished. † punishable ['pʌnɪʃəbl] adj [crime, offense] that can be punished by law □ Theft is punishable by imprisonment/a large fine.

punishing ['pʌnɪʃɪŋ] adj [work, defeat, climb] that is very hard and makes one feel very tired and weak □ The sales rep has a punishing schedule of ten visits in two days.

punishment ['pʌnɪʃmənt] n -1. an unpleasant thing done to somebody to punish them □ People who cheat on taxes should not escape punishment. -2. a particular way of punishing somebody □ As a punishment for my lateness I lost two hours' pay. -3. rough treatment that can cause damage (informal use) □ This car can take a lot of punishment.

punitive ['pju:nətɪv] adj -1. [action, bombing] that is intended as a punishment □ The army took punitive measures against the rebels. -2. [taxes, laws] very severe.

Punjab [pʌŋ'dʒɑ:b]: the Punjab a region of north-western India and eastern Pakistan. It is the center of the Sikh religion.

Punjabi [pʌŋ'dʒɑ:bɪ] ◇ n -1. a person who comes from the Punjab. -2. the language spoken in the Punjab. ◇ adj: a Punjabi dish.

punk [pʌŋk] ◇ n -1. punk (rock) a style of loud aggressive music, popular especially in the 1970s and 1980s. -2. a punk (rocker) a person who likes punk rock and dresses in unusual ways, e.g. by having brightly-colored hair and wearing torn clothing. -3. US a rough young man or boy, especially one who is often in fights or breaks the law (informal use). ◇ adj [fashion, haircut, music] that is produced by or is typical of punk rockers.

punnet ['pʌnət] n GB a small square box or basket in which soft fruit, e.g. strawberries, are sold.

punt¹ [pʌnt] ◇ n -1. a long boat with a flat bottom and square ends that is moved by standing at one end and pushing a long pole against the bottom of a river. -2. in rugby and football, a type of kick in which the ball is dropped from the hands and kicked before it touches the ground. ◇ vi to travel by punt.

punt² [pʌnt] n the standard unit of currency in the Irish Republic.

punter ['pʌntə] n GB (informal use) -1. a person who gambles money, especially on horse races. -2. the punters the customers who buy a product or service.

puny ['pju:nɪ] (compar punier, superl puniest) adj

[person, arms] small and weak (disapproving use).

pup [pʌp] n -1. = puppy. -2. the young of certain animals, e.g. seals and otters.

pupil ['pju:pəl] n -1. EDUCATION a child who is being taught, usually at a school □ The school has over 600 pupils. -2. [of an expert] a person who has studied under and been influenced by a particular expert □ These ideas were developed by the pupils of Adam Smith. -3. [of the eye] the small black area in the middle of the colored part of the eye through which light enters.

puppet ['pʌpət] n -1. a doll that can be made to move by pulling strings attached to its hands, feet etc. -2. = glove puppet. -3. a person, country etc that appears to be independent but is controlled and directed by somebody more powerful (disapproving use) □ a puppet ruler/state.

puppet government n a government that is controlled by the government of a more powerful country (disapproving use).

puppet show n an entertainment using string or glove puppets.

puppy ['pʌpi] (pl puppies) n a young dog.

purchase ['pɜ:tʃəs] (formal use) ◇ n -1. the act of buying something □ We have set aside $1m for the purchase of new equipment. -2. something that somebody has bought □ Can I take your purchases out to the taxi? -3. a firm hold or grip on a surface that prevents somebody or something from slipping or falling □ The special tires give the car extra purchase on icy roads. ◇ vt [house, car] to buy <sthg> □ The insurance company purchased 5% of the shares of the transport group.

purchase order n a form sent to a supplier by a company to say that they want to buy certain goods.

purchase price n the price that one has to pay to buy something, including taxes, discounts etc.

purchaser ['pɜ:tʃəsə] n a person who buys something (formal use) □ There were several prospective purchasers for the car.

NOTE: Compare vendor.

purchasing power ['pɜ:tʃəsɪŋ-] n the amount of goods that somebody can buy with the money they have available; the value of a currency measured by how much it can buy at any time □ The purchasing power of the pound has fallen steadily in relation to the German mark.

pardah ['pɜ:də] n the custom, especially in Islamic countries, of keeping women from being seen in public, e.g. by using clothing that hides their faces.

pure [pjʊə] adj -1. [wool, gold, breed] not mixed with anything else; [air, water] completely clean and free from harmful substances □ The dress is made of pure silk. □ There was not a cloud in the pure-blue sky. -2. [sound, voice] very clear and beautiful □ the pure tones of the flute. -3. [person, thoughts, motives] morally good, especially in sexual matters (literary use) □ Her mind was as pure as that of a young child. -4. pure research research that is intended to increase knowledge rather than have a practical use □ pure and applied science □ pure math. -5. pure luck/pleasure etc complete luck/pleasure etc □ It was pure bliss to lie back in a hot bath after such a hard day. □ a look of pure contentment □ It was pure jealousy on his part. ■ pure and simple only, and nothing else □ Our losses are due to inflation, pure and simple.

purebred ['pjʊəbred] adj [horse, cattle, dog] whose family has always been of the same breed.

puree [US 'pjʊ:reɪ, GB 'pjʊəreɪ] ◇ n food that has been cooked, crushed, and mixed until it forms a thick smooth paste □ tomato/apple puree. ◇ vt to make <tomatoes, apples> etc into a puree.

purely ['pjʊəli] adv [practical, personal, political] completely and only □ a purely routine matter □ It's purely a question of money. □ He was purely and simply too old for the job.

pureness ['pjʊə'nəs] n [of air, sound, thoughts] see pure.

purgative ['pɜ:rgətɪv] n a medicine that makes the body get rid of solid waste quickly.

purgatory [US 'pɜ:rgətɔ:ri, GB -ətɪ] n a very unpleasant place, state, or time.

◆ Purgatory n RELIGION in the Roman Catholic religion, the place where dead people go to suffer for their sins before they can get to Heaven.

purge [pɜ:'dʒ] ◇ n POLITICS action taken by a political party, government, company etc to get rid of unwanted members, often unfairly and by force □ the Communist purges of the 1930s. ◇ vt -1. POLITICS [members, extremists, directors] to get rid of <people who are considered unacceptable> by making them leave an organization or country, killing them etc □ The new leader promised to purge racists from the party OR to purge the party of racists. -2. to purge one's thoughts OR mind of sthg to make oneself stop thinking about or being affected by sthg bad or unwanted □ I had finally managed to purge myself of the fear of seeing her again.

purification [ˌpjʊərəfɪ'keɪʃn] n [of water, air] see purify □ a plant for water purification.

purifier ['pjʊərəfaɪə] n a machine that purifies something, e.g. water or air.

purify ['pjʊərəfaɪ] (pt & pp purified) vt -1. [water, air] to make <sthg> pure by removing harmful or unwanted substances. -2. RELIGION to make <sb> morally pure.

purist ['pjʊəɪst] n a person who is very careful to do things in the way that they believe is correct and to make other people do the same □ Purists will doubtless be outraged by Schofield's latest piece.

puritan ['pjʊərətən] ◇ n a person who has very strict moral and religious views and believes that pleasure is wrong. ◇ adj: puritan attitudes/morality.

◆ Puritans npl a conservative English religious group of the 16th and 17th centuries. Some Puritans went to live in North America and founded New England, and had a great influence on US culture.

puritanical [ˈpjʊərəˈtænɪkl] adj [person] who has very strict moral and religious views, and believes that pleasure is wrong □ She's so puritanical about drinking.

purity [ˈpjʊərətɪ] n [of air, sound, thoughts] see pure □ The gold is refined to a purity of 99%. □ a voice of remarkable clarity and purity.

purl [pɜːl] ◇ n a knitting stitch made by doing an ordinary stitch backwards. ◇ vt to knit .

purloin [pɜːˈlɔɪn] vt to steal <sthg small> or take it without permission (formal or humorous use).

purple [ˈpɜːpl] ◇ adj dark red-blue in color. ◇ n the color purple.

Purple Heart n the Purple Heart a medal given to US soldiers wounded or killed in battle.

purport [pɜːˈpɔːt] vi to purport to do/be sthg to claim, often falsely, to do/be sthg (formal use) □ a man purporting to be her long-lost uncle.

purpose [ˈpɜːpəs] n -1. the intention or reason that somebody has when they do something □ The purpose of our visit is to see our grandchildren. □ His only purpose in life is to get rich. □ Our purpose in sending troops to Ethiopia is to keep the peace. □ What is the purpose of this little gadget? -2. a use, effect, or result □ I hope that she puts her abilities to some good purpose. □ We use our car for business purposes. □ For what purpose do you intend to use the loan? ■ to little/no/some purpose with little/no/some useful result □ All his work turned out to be to no purpose. -3. the feeling that one has a definite aim and is determined to achieve it □ What you need is a sense of purpose. □ I feel she lacks purpose.

◆ on purpose adv not by mistake or accident but with deliberate intention □ I came early on purpose to speak to you before the meeting. □ You did that on purpose!

purpose-built adj GB [school, block] that was built specially for a particular use.

purposeful [ˈpɜːpəsfl] adj [person] who has a definite aim and is determined to achieve it □ I saw James walking down the corridor looking very purposeful.

purposefully [ˈpɜːpəsli] adv on purpose □ I purposefully sat by the window so I could see what was happening outside.

purr [pɜːr] ◇ vi -1. [cat] to make a low continuous sound as a sign of being happy. -2. [car, engine] to make a quiet, low, continuous sound when moving smoothly □ In the distance I could hear a car purring along the road. -3. [person] to speak in a low, gentle, happy voice □ "He's wonderful," she purred contentedly. ◇ n [of a cat, engine] the sound made by something when it purrs □ I heard the purr of the car as it entered the drive.

purse [pɜːs] ◇ n -1. a small bag for keeping money in, usually kept in a pocket or larger bag. -2. US a bag in which a woman carries personal possessions such as keys, make-up, and money. ◇ vt to purse one's lips to pull one's lips into a small, tight, rounded shape, often as a sign that one does not approve of something.

purser [ˈpɜːsə] n an officer on a ship who keeps the accounts and is responsible for the comfort and safety of the passengers.

purse snatcher [-snætʃə] n US a person who steals women's handbags from them, usually in a busy place.

purse strings npl to hold the purse strings to control how the money is spent within a family, company etc.

pursue [pəˈsjuː] vt -1. [car, criminal] to follow or look for <sb/sthg> in order to catch them □ The policeman pursued the thief along the road. -2. [interest, aim, policy] to continue with <sthg>, usually over a long period □ She is pursuing her battle with the authorities. -3. [topic, question, subject] to consider, try to find out about, or discuss <sthg> in more detail □ I intended to sue them but decided not to pursue the matter.

pursuer [pəˈsjuːə] n a person or animal that is chasing another person or animal in order to catch them □ The fox managed to escape its pursuers.

pursuit [pəˈsjuːt] n -1. [of a car, criminal] the act of pursuing somebody or something. ■ in pursuit of sb/sthg following sb/sthg in order to try and catch them □ *The girls chased down the road in pursuit of the film star. ■ in hot pursuit close behind the person or thing one is pursuing □ *The thief ran away with the policeman in hot pursuit. -2. [of happiness, security, profits] actions taken in order to get or achieve something (formal use) □ a life devoted to the pursuit of pleasure □ the pursuit of fame and fortune. -3. [for enjoyment] an activity that one spends time doing, especially for enjoyment □ He spends much of his time in artistic/scientific pursuits. □ Climbing is one of my favorite pursuits. -4. SPORT a race in cycling in which the competitors start at opposite sides of a track and try to catch each other up □ *the 4000-meter team pursuit.

purveyor [pəˈvɛɪə] n [of wines, goods, information] a person or company that sells or provides something (formal use).

pus [pʌs] n thick yellowish liquid that forms in an infected wound.

push [puʃ] ◇ vt -1. [person, heavy object, bicycle] to move <sb/sthg> away from one or into a particular position with one's hands, using sudden or steady pressure; to press  to make a piece of equipment start or stop working □ We had to push the car to get it started. □ Tom pushed me into the pool. □ I pushed the door open/shut. □ He pushed his way through the crowd. □ Try pushing the play button. -2. to push sb to do sthg to encourage sb strongly to do sthg they do not want to do □ My parents kept pushing me to stay on at school. -3. to push sb into doing sthg to make sb do sthg they do not want to do □ I'm not going to be pushed into taking a job I don't want.

□ Women will end up being pushed into poorly paid jobs. -4. [student, pupil, trainee] to make <sb> work very hard □ Their coach doesn't really push them hard enough. □ Don't push yourself, will you? -5. [idea, opinion, point of view] to try to persuade other people to accept or support <sthg one believes> □ It is noticeable that in his last three speeches he has really pushed the idea of tax cuts. -6. [product, book, movie] to advertise <sthg> very heavily (informal use) □ They're pushing their new range of soft drinks in a TV campaign. -7. to push drugs to sell illegal drugs (informal use) □ He was jailed for pushing heroin.

◇ vi to use one's hands or body to make somebody move out of one's way □ Tell the people at the back to stop pushing! □ He pushed right past me.

◇ n -1. an act of pushing, usually with one's hand or finger □ You can have instant heat at the push of a button. ■ to give sb/sthg a push to push sb/sthg once to make them move □ My car's broken down — could you give me a push? -2. MILITARY a planned attack or forward movement by an army □ the final push to reach the border. -3. to give sb the push GB (informal use) [boyfriend, girlfriend] to end one's relationship with sb; [employee] to dismiss sb from their job □ Jeremy's been given the push by ICM. -4. phrase I could do it at a push I could do it if necessary, but not easily.

◆ push ahead vi to push ahead with sthg [with preparations, a plan, project] to continue to carry out sthg □ The party is pushing ahead with the reforms despite opposition from members.

◆ push around vt sep to push sb around to tell sb what to do in a rude or threatening way □ Don't let him push you around!

◆ push for vt fus to push for sthg to keep asking for sthg in a forceful way because one feels it is important □ The charity is going to push for more funding.

◆ push in vi GB to join a line in front of other people, cars etc that have already been waiting □ A woman tried to push in right in front of me.

◆ push on vi to continue traveling somewhere or doing something □ Let's push on to the next service station.

◆ push over vt sep to push sb/sthg over to deliberately cause sb/sthg to fall by pushing them □ Someone pushed him over in the playground.

◆ push through vt sep to push sthg through [reform, amendment, proposal] to get sthg accepted or approved officially, often with some difficulty □ The Government will need support if they are going to push the bill through Parliament.

◆ push up vt sep to push sthg up [cost, price] to increase sthg □ Fear of inflation has pushed up interest rates.

pushbike ['puʃbaɪk] n GB a bicycle (informal use).

push-button adj [machine, telephone] that works when one presses buttons with one's fingers □ push-button controls.

pushcart ['puʃkɑ:t] n a small cart with long handles that is pushed by hand and used especially by street traders.

pushchair ['puʃtʃeə] n GB a small vehicle on wheels in which a small child can sit and be pushed.

pushed [puʃt] adj (informal use) to be pushed for sthg [for time, money] to have too little of sthg □ I'd love to help, but I'm a little pushed for time at the moment. ■ to be (hard) pushed to do sthg to find it very difficult to do sthg □ You'd be hard pushed to find a better nanny than Maria.

pusher ['puʃə] n a person who sells illegal drugs (informal use).

Pushkin ['puʃkɪn], Alexander (1799–1837) a Russian poet whose works, including Eugene Onegin and Boris Godunov, had a great influence on modern Russian poetry.

pushover ['puʃəʊvə] n a person who is very easy to persuade or influence; something that is very easy to do or win (informal use) □ I'm sure his mum will let him go — she's a real pushover. □ Don't worry about the exam — it'll be a pushover!

push-start vt to start the engine of  etc by pushing it along and then forcing it into gear.

push-up n US a physical exercise in which somebody lies facing the floor and, keeping their back straight, presses down on their hands to raise their body off the floor □ How many push-ups can you do?

pushy ['puʃɪ] (compar pushier, superl pushiest) adj [person] who is always trying to make other people notice what they are doing or do what they want □ You've got to be pushy to succeed as a salesman.

puss [pʊs], pussy ['pʊsɪ], pussycat ['pʊsɪkæt] n a cat (informal use).

pussy willow n a willow tree that grows furry gray-white flowers in the spring.

put [puːt] (pt & pp put, cont putting) vt -1. to put sthg somewhere to move sthg to a particular place or position; to fix sthg in a particular place or position □ You've put too much sugar in my coffee. □ He put his arm around her shoulders. □ Where did you put my pen? □ We had to put smoke alarms in all the rooms. -2. to put sb somewhere to make sb go to a particular place and stay there □ Have you put the children to bed? □ They'll put you in prison! -3. to put sb in a good/bad position to cause sb to be in a good/bad position. ■ to put sb in a good/bad mood to cause sb to feel in a good/bad mood □ This puts us in a very difficult situation. □ The music almost put me to sleep. □ The decision to close the factory could put hundreds of people out of work. -4. [feelings, thoughts] to say or express <sthg> in a particular way □ I can't put it any simpler than that. □ He is — how can I put it? — not entirely honest. -5. to put a question to sb to ask sb a question □ I put the same question to a colleague of mine, and got the same answer. -6. [words, sentence] to write <sthg> in a particular place or manner □ Put your name at the

- top of the page. □ What did you put on her birthday card? -7. [in a particular class or order] to consider that <sb/sthg> has a particular importance or belongs in a particular group □ As a soccer player, I'd put him in the same class as Pelé. □ There are not many successful businessmen who put their family before their work. -8. to put a stop OR an end to sthg to stop or prevent sthg happening □ Her injury put an end to our chances of winning the tournament. □ These are silly rumors, and I'm going to put a stop to them!
- ◆ put across vt sep to put an idea/theory etc across to explain an idea/theory etc so that people understand it clearly □ We lost the last election because we didn't put our policies across to the voters.
 - ◆ put aside vt sep -1. to put sthg aside [one's work, book] to place sthg to one side in order to do something else □ I put aside my novel and turned back to the computer screen. -2. to put money aside to save money so that it can be used later □ If we put aside some of my salary every month, we'll soon be able to pay off our debts. -3. to put problems/disagreements aside to deliberately ignore problems/disagreements etc □ It's time we put aside our differences and tried to reach a consensus.
 - ◆ put at vt sep to put sb/sthg at sthg to estimate that the age, value, cost etc of sb/sthg is sthg □ I would put his age at about forty.
 - ◆ put away vt sep -1. to put sthg away [clothes, shopping, work] to put sthg into the place where it is usually kept or stored □ You dry the dishes and I'll put them away. -2. to put sb away [criminal] to send sb to prison for a long time or for ever (informal use).
 - ◆ put back vt sep -1. to put sthg back [book, plate, tools] to put sthg into the place where it was before □ Remember to put the top back on the bottle. -2. to put an event back to move an event to a later date or time; to delay the start of an event □ We've had to put the meeting back to next week. □ The bad weather could put back the opening of the tunnel by two weeks. -3. to put back a clock/watch to set a clock/watch so that it shows an earlier time, for instance when traveling west □ Don't forget to put the clocks back an hour tonight.
 - ◆ put by vt sep to put money by to save money so that it can be used later □ Over the years they had put by enough to buy a small car.
 - ◆ put down vt sep -1. to put sthg down [book, knife, gun] to stop holding sthg and place it on a surface such as the floor □ Why don't you put down those bags and have a rest. -2. to put ideas/comments etc down to write ideas/comments etc so that they can be referred to later □ Put your complaint down in writing/on paper. -3. to put a riot/rebellion down to end a riot/rebellion by using force □ The revolt was swiftly put down by the authorities. -4. to put sb down to make sb feel unimportant or stupid by criticizing them in front of other people (informal use) □ He's always putting people down. -5. to be put down [animal] GB to be killed, usually because it is old or ill □ We had to have the cat put down.
 - ◆ put down to vt sep to put sthg down to sthg to think that sthg is caused by sthg □ When he complained of feeling tired, I put it down to his age.
 - ◆ put forward vt sep -1. to put forward an idea/a plan etc to mention an idea/a plan etc so that people can consider and discuss it □ The builder has put forward his suggestions for improvements. -2. to put sb forward to suggest sb for a job or position □ Your name has been put forward for the Chicago posting. -3. to put an event forward to move an event to an earlier date or time □ Since everyone is going to be away next week, we'll have to put the meeting forward to tomorrow. -4. to put a clock/watch forward to set a clock/watch so that it shows a later time, for instance when traveling east □ Don't forget to put the clocks forward an hour tonight.
 - ◆ put in vt sep -1. to put in time/effort to spend time/effort in order to get something done □ I put in an hour's overtime yesterday. -2. to put a request/claim etc in to make a request/claim etc officially □ You should put in your application well before the closing date.
 - ◆ put in for vt fus to put in for sthg [grant, transfer] to ask for sthg officially □ The committee has put in for extra funding.
 - ◆ put into vt sep to put money/effort into sthg to spend money/effort so that sthg can work and succeed □ The bank put $50,000 into the business. □ She puts a lot of energy into her charity work.
 - ◆ put off vt sep -1. to put an event off to move a planned event to a later date or time □ The match has been put off to next week. -2. to put sb off to tell sb that you cannot yet do something that you have agreed to do □ They want to be paid and we can't put them off any longer. -3. to put off doing sthg to delay doing sthg because one does not want to do it □ I can't put off telling my parents about it any longer. -4. to put sb off sb/sthg [off children, meat] to make sb dislike sb/sthg or want to avoid them □ The experience put me off politics for life. □ Don't let the bad reviews put you off (from) going to see it. -5. to put sb off to disturb sb so that they cannot concentrate on what they are doing □ McEnroe claimed that the photographers were putting him off. -6. to put an electrical device off to stop an electrical device working by turning it off □ Remember to put the lights off when you go to bed.
 - ◆ put on vt sep -1. to put a piece of clothing on to get dressed in a piece of clothing □ She put on her best suit for the interview. -2. to put weight on to become fatter and weigh more □ I've put on six pounds since I got married! -3. to put a sum of money on sthg to add a sum of money to the cost of sthg □ They've put another 20¢ on cigarettes. -4. to put a play/exhibition etc on to perform or arrange a play/exhibition etc for the public □ They're putting on a new show at the Lyceum. -5. to put an electrical device on to start an electrical device working by turning it on □ It's cold enough to put the central heating on. -6. to put a record/video etc on to start to

- play a record/video etc □ I put on some music and lay back in the bath. -7. to put food on to start to cook food □ While the fish is cooking, put the rice on. -8. to put on a way of talking/behaving to talk/ behave in a way that is not one's usual way of talking or behaving, to deceive people or make them laugh □ He's not really hurt — he's just putting it on. -9. to put a sum of money on a horse to bet a sum of money that a horse will win a race □ I put $30 on Jack the Lad. -10. to put pressure/a strain on sb to make sb feel pressure/a strain □ Parents often put too much pressure on their children to do well at school. ■ to put restrictions/a ban on sthg to restrict/ban sthg □ Put the stress OR emphasis on the first syllable.
- ◆ put onto vt sep to put sb onto sb/sthg to tell sb about sb/sthg that will be useful to them (informal use) □ "She's a good driving instructor." — "Yes, it was Carl who put me onto her."
- ◆ put out vt sep -1. to put clothing/food etc out to take clothing/food etc out from somewhere and leave it ready to be used □ Could you put out some supper for me — I'll be home late. -2. to put out a statement to make something known publicly and officially □ The hospital put out a bulletin describing the president's condition as "stable." -3. to put out a fire/cigarette etc to stop a fire/cigarette etc burning □ Firefighters took three hours to put out the blaze. -4. to put out an electric light to stop an electric light shining by turning it off □ Put out that flashlight! -5. to put out one's hand/foot etc to stretch one's hand/foot forward away from one's body □ She put out a hand to help me up. -6. to put one's back/shoulder/hip out to injure one's back/shoulder/hip, e.g. by straining it or making it move from its usual position □ I put my back out trying to lift that thing. -7. to be put out to be annoyed or upset □ She looked a little put out when I said I couldn't come. -8. to put sb out [guest, host] to cause sb trouble or inconvenience □ I hope I'm not putting you out. ■ to put oneself out to take special care or trouble in order to help somebody □ Please don't put yourself out for me OR on my behalf.
- ◆ put over vt sep = put across.
- ◆ put through vt sep -1. to put sb through to connect sb by telephone to the person they want to talk to □ I'm putting you through to our sales department now, caller. -2. to put sb through sthg [test, course] to make sb experience sthg difficult or unpleasant □ All candidates are put through a rigorous selection procedure.
- ◆ put to vt sep to put sthg to sb [proposal, suggestion] to ask sb to consider and decide on sthg □ We'll put this matter to the management committee.
- ◆ put together vt sep -1. to put a piece of machinery/furniture etc together to make a piece of machinery/furniture etc by joining together its different parts □ The company is putting together a new team to market the range abroad. -2. to put an exhibition/a campaign etc together to organize an exhibition/a campaign etc □ The show was put together by the creators of "Hair". -3. to put a report/proposal etc together to prepare a report/proposal etc for other people to think about or discuss □ The deal was put together by an international consortium. □ Both sides in the dispute are trying to put together a new peace plan. -4. more than all the others put together more than all the others combined □ She's worth more than all the rest of you put together.
- ◆ put up ◇ vt sep -1. to put a wall/fence etc up to build a wall/fence etc □ The town ought to put up a statue to him. -2. to put a flag/umbrella etc up to raise and open a flag/umbrella etc so that it can be used. -3. to put a poster/notice etc up to fix a poster/notice to a wall, bulletin board etc so that it can be seen □ Have they put up the exam results yet? -4. to put up money for sthg to provide or lend money to pay for sthg □ My parents put up half the money for my trip abroad. -5. to put up costs/prices etc to make costs/prices etc higher □ Inflation is putting up wages. -6. to put sthg up for sale [house, painting] to offer sthg for sale □ They're putting the business up for sale. -7. to put sb up to provide sb with a room to stay in □ I can easily put you up for a couple of weeks.
- ◇ vt fus to put up a fight/struggle to fight/struggle in order to stop something happening that one does not want to happen □ The villagers put up a fierce resistance, but eventually the bulldozers moved in.
- ◇ vi to stay in a particular place □ We put up in a motel.
- ◆ put up to vt sep to put sb up to sthg to give sb the idea of doing sthg bad or silly □ He knows he's not allowed to drink — someone must have put him up to it.
- ◆ put up with vt fus to put up with sthg [noise, nonsense, somebody's behavior] to accept sthg unpleasant without complaining □ I will not put up with your rudeness any longer!
- putative ['pju:tətɪv] adj the putative father/owner the person who people think is the father/owner.
- put-down n an unkind remark, usually intended to make another person look foolish (informal use).
- putrefy ['pju:tɹəfaɪ] (pt & pp putrefied) vi [food, dead body] to decay and produce a very unpleasant smell (formal use).
- putrid ['pju:tɹəd] adj [meat, vegetable] that has decayed and smells very unpleasant □ a putrid smell.
- putsch [pʊtʃ] n an organized and usually violent attempt to remove a government.
- putt [pʌt] ◇ n a stroke in golf made using a putter and intended to roll the ball into the hole. ◇ vt to hit  across the green toward the hole using a putter. ◇ vi: He's putting well today.
- putter ['pʌtə] n a light golf club used for putting.
- ◆ putter around vi US to spend time doing small pleasant tasks without hurrying □ I thought I'd spend today just puttering around the house.

putting green ['pʌtɪŋ-] n -1. the area of short grass on a golf course where the hole is. -2. a very small golf course for putting.

putty ['pʌtɪ] n a thick paste used to fix panes of glass into window frames.

put-up job n something that has been arranged in advance in order to deceive somebody (informal use) □ The whole thing looked like a put-up job.

put-upon adj [person] who other people take advantage of □ I'm not upset — I just feel very put-upon, that's all.

puzzle ['pʌzl] ◇ n -1. GAMES a toy or game that consists of problems needing mental skill to be answered or completed □ a mathematical/word puzzle. -2. a person or thing that is difficult to understand or explain. ◇ vt to make <sb> confused because they are unable to understand something or the reason why it has happened □ There's one thing that still puzzles me. ◇ vi to puzzle over sthg to try to understand sthg by thinking hard about it □ I've been puzzling over the best way to do it.

◆ puzzle out vt sep to puzzle sthg out to find the answer to sthg by thinking hard □ I just can't puzzle out why they're so angry with me.

puzzled ['pʌzld] adj [person] who is confused because they do not understand something □ She gave me a puzzled look.

puzzling ['pʌzliŋ] adj [remark, behavior] that makes one confused because one cannot understand it □ It's all very puzzling.

PVC (abbr of polyvinyl chloride) n a type of plastic.

Pvt. MILITARY abbr of private.

pw abbr of per week.

PWA n abbr of person with Aids.

PWR (abbr of pressurized-water reactor) n a type of nuclear reactor.

PX (abbr of post exchange) n a store, usually at a military base, for members of the US armed forces.

Pygmy ['pɪgmɪ] (pl Pygmies) n a member of a race of very small people who live in equatorial Africa.

pyjama [pə'dʒɑ:mə] comp a pyjama top/bottom the top/bottom part of a pair of pyjamas.

pyjamas [pə'dʒɑ:məz] npl a set of soft loose clothes worn in bed that consists of trousers and a shirt □ a pair of pyjamas.

pylon ['paɪlɒn] n a metal structure that holds electrical cables high above the ground □ an electricity pylon.

pyramid ['pɪrəmɪd] n -1. GEOMETRY a three-dimensional shape that has a flat base and triangular sides that slope upward and meet at a point. -2. ARCHITECTURE a large stone structure in the shape of a pyramid, built as the burial place of an important person in ancient Egypt. -3. [of stones, cans] a pile of things that is shaped like a pyramid.

pyramid selling n a way of selling goods in which a company sells goods to an agent, who sells them at a profit to another agent. This process can continue until the final agent is not able to sell the goods without making a loss.

pyre ['paɪə] n a large pile of wood for burning a dead body on as part of a religious ceremony □ a funeral pyre.

Pyrenees [ˌpɪrə'ni:z]: the Pyrenees a mountain range in southwestern Europe, between France and Spain. HIGHEST POINT: 3,404 m.

PyrexTM ['paɪrɛks] n a type of glass that can be used to make cooking containers because it does not break at high temperatures □ a Pyrex bowl/dish.

pyromaniac [ˌpaɪrə'meɪniæk] n a person who has an uncontrollable desire to burn things.

pyrotechnics [ˌpaɪrə'teknɪks] ◇ n the activity or skill of making fireworks. ◇ npl a demonstration of great skill, e.g. in words or music.

python ['paɪθn] (pl python OR pythons) n a large tropical snake that kills animals by winding its body round them and crushing them.

Q

q [kju:] (pl q's OR qs), Q [kju:] (pl Q's OR Qs) n the seventeenth letter of the English alphabet.

Qatar [US 'kɑ:tɑ:r, GB kætɑ:] a country in eastern Arabia, consisting of a peninsula on the Persian Gulf. SIZE: 11,400 sq kms. POPULATION: 500,000 (Qataris). CAPITAL: Doha. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Qatari riyal.

QC n abbr of Queen's Counsel.

QED (abbr of quod erat demonstrandum) a phrase used by somebody to show that they have proved what they set out to prove.

Qld abbr of Queensland.

QM n abbr of quartermaster.

q.t., QT (abbr of quiet) n on the q.t. on the quiet (informal use).

Q-tipTM n US a short stick of plastic that has cotton on each end and is used for cleaning inside one's ears, nose etc.

qty abbr of quantity.

quack [kwæk] ◇ n -1. the sound made by a duck. -2. a person who is not a doctor but claims to be one (disapproving use) □ a quack doctor. ◇ vi [duck] to make a quack.

quad [kwɒd] n -1. = quadruplet. -2. = quadrangle.

quadrangle ['kwɒdræŋgl] n -1. GEOMETRY a two-dimensional shape that has four straight sides. -2. [in a school, college] an open square with buildings around it.

quadrant ['kwɒdrənt] n an instrument for measuring angles that was used in the past by sailors.

quadrasonic [,kwɒdrə'fɒnik] adj [sound, recording] that is played through four separate speakers.

quadrilateral [,kwɒdrɪ'lætərəl] adj [shape] that has four straight sides. ◇ n GEOMETRY = quadrangle.

quadruped ['kwɒdrəped] n an animal that has four legs.

quadruple [kwɒ'dru:pl] adj four times as large; four times as many. ◇ vt [output, sales] to make <the amount of sthg> four times larger or greater. ◇ vi [production, sales] The population has quadrupled in the last decade.

quadruplets [kwɒ'dru:pləts] npl four children born to the same mother at the same time.

quads [kwɒdz] npl = quadruplets (informal use).

quaff [kwɒf] vt [water, wine] to drink a lot of <sthg> in large mouthfuls (old-fashioned use).

quagmire ['kwægmaɪə] n an area of soft wet ground.

quail [kweɪl] (pl quail OR quails) ◇ n a small wild bird with a round body and short tail that is sometimes shot for sport or eaten. ◇ vi [person] to feel very afraid (literary use) ◇ Most people quail at the thought of undergoing surgery.

quaint [kweɪnt] adj [village, tradition] that is charming and old-fashioned, but slightly strange and amusing ◇ She has some very quaint ideas about marriage.

quake [kweɪk] ◇ n an earthquake (informal use). ◇ vi [person] to shake or tremble with fear.

Quaker ['kweɪkə] n a member of a Christian religious group that does not have formal services and is opposed to violence and war.

qualification [,kwɒləfə'keɪʃn] n -1. a certificate that proves that somebody has successfully finished a course of study or passed an exam ◇ I got my professional qualification last year. -2. a skill or ability that makes a person suitable for a particular activity or job ◇ She has good secretarial/academic qualifications. -3. a statement that makes a previous statement less strong.

qualified ['kwɒləfaɪd] adj -1. [doctor, accountant] who has passed the necessary exams or taken the necessary course ◇ Our staff is highly/fully qualified. -2. to be qualified to do sthg to have the right skill or ability to do sthg ◇ I don't feel qualified to discuss such matters. -3. [approval, praise] not complete ◇ The idea was only a qualified success.

qualify ['kwɒləfaɪ] (pt & pp qualified) ◇ vt -1. [remark, approval] to make  less strong by adding a detail or comment to it ◇ They qualified their acceptance of the plan. -2. to make <sb> able to do something properly or well ◇ Her experience more than qualifies her for the position. ◇ I feel that my wide knowledge of the country qualifies me to speak about it.

◇ vi -1. [student, trainee] to pass one's exams or complete a training course ◇ He qualified as an accountant/a doctor last year. -2. [person] to have the right to have something ◇ In a few years I'll qualify for a pension. -3. SPORT [athlete, driver] to win a game or contest and have the right to enter the next stage of the competition ◇ The team has qualified for the final.

qualifying ['kwɒləfaɪɪŋ] adj -1. a qualifying remark a remark that makes a statement less strong. -2. a qualifying exam an exam that qualifies one to do something. -3. a qualifying game/round etc SPORT a game/round etc that is used as a way of deciding which contestant or team can enter the next stage in a competition.

qualitative [US 'kwɒləteɪtɪv, GB -ɪteɪtɪv] adj [judgment, change] that is connected with the quality or standard of something ◇ a qualitative study of primary education.

quality ['kwɒlətɪ] (pl qualities) n -1. [of a product, performance] a measure of how good or bad something is ◇ the high/poor quality of the workmanship. -2. [of somebody's work, performance] a high standard of something ◇ We have a reputation for quality. ◇ We supply quality furniture to the domestic market. -3. [of a person] a good aspect of somebody's character ◇ Those are the qualities we are looking for in our candidates. -4. [of a substance, object] a characteristic of a substance or object ◇ There was a sinister quality in her voice. ◇ Our tires have superior roadholding qualities.

quality control n the process of testing products, e.g. in a factory, to make sure that they are of the necessary standard.

quality press n GB the quality press serious newspapers, not tabloids.

qualms [kwɒ:mz] npl to have qualms about sthg to have feelings of uncertainty about whether sthg is right or wrong ◇ I'd have no qualms about complaining if I were you.

quandary ['kwɒndəri] (pl quandaries) n to be in a quandary about OR over sthg to be in a difficult situation and be unable to decide what to do about sthg ◇ I'm in a quandary about whether to tell them or not.

quango ['kwæŋgou] (abbr of quasi-autonomous non-governmental organization) (pl quangos) n GB an independent body with legal powers that is set up and financed by the government.

🗳️ QUANGOS

Quangos were first set up in the UK in the 1970s to be responsible for particular areas of activity such as the arts, education, the environment etc. Quangos have different roles and can range from a temporary committee that is giving a report on a particular issue, to a permanent body that carries out a government policy or supervises the way it is being carried out. Examples of quangos are the British Council or the Commission for Racial Equality. The money for quangos comes from the government, and their members are chosen by the government. However they have their own legal powers and their actions do not have to be approved by the government.

quantifiable [kwɒntə'faɪəbl̩] adj [damage, contribution] that can be quantified.

quantify ['kwɒntə'faɪ] (pt & pp quantified) vt [damage, contribution, value] to measure the amount or extent of <sthg> □ His effect on the team will be difficult to quantify.

quantitative [US 'kwɒntətetɪv, GB -ɪtətɪv] adj [analysis, difference] that is connected with the amount rather than the quality of something.

quantity ['kwɒntə'tɪ] (pl quantities) n -1. an amount of something; a number of things □ They consume large quantities of food. -2. in quantity in large amounts or numbers □ They buy cereals in quantity. -3. to be an unknown quantity to be somebody or something that one knows nothing about □ As a teacher, he's still an unknown quantity.

quantity surveyor n GB a person whose job is to calculate the amount of materials, time, and money needed to build a building.

quantum leap ['kwɒntəm-] n a very important advance or improvement □ This new discovery constitutes a quantum leap in the field of cancer research.

quantum theory n the idea that energy can only exist and be transferred in fixed amounts.

quarantine ['kwɒrəntɪ:n] ◇ n a period of time when a person or animal that may have a disease is kept separate from other people or animals to prevent the spread of the disease □ strict quarantine laws. ■ to be in quarantine [person, animal] to be kept alone for a fixed period to prevent the spread of a disease. ◇ vt to put <an animal or person> in quarantine.

quark [kwɔ:'k] n -1. PHYSICS one of the very small particles that are said to form the substances that atoms are made of. -2. COOKING a low-fat soft cheese.

quarrel ['kwɒrəl] (US pt & pp quarreled, cont quarreling, GB pt & pp quarrelled, cont quarrelling) ◇ n an angry disagreement between two or more people that often lasts a long time and is usually about something that is not important □ She got into a quarrel with her boss. ■ to have no quarrel with sb/sthg to have no reason to disagree with sb/sthg □ I have no quarrel with him personally, it's what he stands for I can't stomach. ◇ vi to take part in a quarrel □ He's always quarreling with his sister. ■ to quarrel with sthg [with an idea, a conclusion] to disagree with sthg □ Few people would quarrel with that.

quarrelsome ['kwɒrəlsəm] adj [person] who is easily irritated and likely to be involved in quarrels.

quarry ['kwɒrɪ] (pl quarries, pt & pp quarried) ◇ n -1. a place where stones or minerals are removed from the ground in large quantities □ a marble/gravel quarry. -2. sb's quarry an animal or person that sb is hunting □ He ran after it, but his quarry got away. ◇ vt [stone, mineral] to remove <sthg> from a quarry by digging.

quarry tile n a square or diamond-shaped floor tile that has not been glazed.

quart [kwɔ:'t] n a unit (US 0.944 liters, GB 1.136 liters) for measuring volume, usually of liquid.

quarter ['kwɔ:'tə] n -1. one of four equal parts of something □ during the first quarter of the century □ A quarter of our exports go to America. -2. [of an hour] a period of 15 minutes before or after an hour. ■ a quarter after two US, a quarter past two 2:15. ■ a quarter of two US, a quarter to two 1:45. -3. [of a year] a period of three months in a particular year □ the phone bill/inflation rate for the last quarter. -4. FINANCE an American or Canadian coin that is worth 25 cents. -5. GB [for measuring weight] a unit (four ounces) for measuring weight □ a quarter of cheese/sweets. -6. [of a town, city] an area of a town or city □ the Latin Quarter □ a poor quarter. -7. [people] a person or group of people □ Help came from an unexpected quarter.

◆ quarters npl one or more rooms where somebody lives, usually a soldier or sailor □ cramped living quarters.

◆ at close quarters adv [see, experience] from a position that is very close to somebody or something □ I'd never seen a zebra at close quarters before.

quarterback ['kwɔ:'tə'bæk] n in football, a player who controls his team's offense and throws or carries the ball forward at the beginning of each play.

quarterdeck ['kwɔ:'tə'dek] n the rear part of the highest deck of a ship.

quarterfinal [,kwɔ:'tə'faɪnəl] n SPORT one of four games near the end of a competition that decide which teams or players will compete in the semifinal.

quarter-hour adj [intervals] happening every 15 minutes.

quarter light n GB a small, usually triangular window next to the main windows in a car.

quarterly ['kwɔ:'tə'li] (pl quarterlies) ◇ adj [payments, bills] that happens every three months. ◇ adv [pay, appear] every three months □ We present our accounts for inspection quarterly. ◇ n a publication, usually a magazine, that appears every three months.

quartermaster [US 'kwɔ:'rtmæstr, GB 'kwɔ:tə:mɑ:sɪ] n the officer in an army who is responsible for accommodation and supplies of food, clothing etc.

quarter note n US a musical note that is equal to a quarter of the length of a whole note.

quarter sessions npl US a local criminal and administrative court found in some states.

quartet [kwɔ:'tɛt] n -1. a group of four musi- cians. -2. a piece of music written for four musicians.

- quarto ['kwɔːrtou] (pl quartos) n a size of paper (25.4×20.3 cm); a book made of paper that is this size.
- quartz [kwɔːts] n a very hard mineral in crystal form that is used for making very accurate clocks and watches. FORMULA: SiO₂.
- quartz watch n a watch that is operated by the vibrations of a quartz crystal.
- quasar ['kweɪzɑː] n a very bright object in outer space that is like a star.
- quash [kwɒʃ] vt -1. [decision, sentence, rumor] to reject <sthg> officially □ The appeals judge quashed his conviction for drink driving. -2. [protest, revolt] to stop  by force □ The army quashed any further attempts at revolt.
- quasi- ['kweɪzɪ] prefix added to a word to say that something is almost but not quite the same as that word □ a quasi-official organization.
- quaver ['kwɛɪvə] ◇ n -1. a shaking sound in somebody's voice. -2. GB MUSIC a note that is equal to half the length of a quarter note. ◇ vi [voice] to shake, e.g. because of nervousness.
- quavering ['kwɛɪvərɪŋ] adj [voice] that quavers.
- quay [ki:] n a long platform beside the water in a harbor, where ships can be tied up and loaded or unloaded.
- quayside ['kiːsaɪd] n the edge of a quay along the water.
- queasy ['kwɛɪzɪ] (compar queasier, superl queasiest) adj [person] who feels that they are going to vomit □ I always get queasy when I travel by car.
- Quebec [kwɪ'bek] a province in eastern Canada. It is the center of French Canadian language and culture. ABBREVIATION: PQ. SIZE: 1,540,680 sq kms. POPULATION: 6,895,963 (Quebeckers, Québécois). CAPITAL: Quebec. MAIN CITY: Montreal.
- Quebecer, Quebecker [kwɪ'bekə] n a person who comes from or lives in Quebec.
- queen [kwɪ:n] n -1. [of a country] the female ruler of a country □ the queen of Spain OR the Spanish queen. -2. [of a king] the wife of a king. -3. a large female insect that produces eggs □ a queen ant. -4. CHESS the most powerful piece in chess that can move backward, forward, sideways, and diagonally. -5. CARDS a playing card that has a picture of a queen on it and is worth more than a jack and less than a king □ the queen of spades.
- queen bee n -1. a large female bee that produces eggs. -2. a woman whose behavior shows that she thinks she is more important than the people she is with.
- ◆ queen mother n the queen mother the mother of a ruling king or queen.
- Queen Mother: (Queen Elizabeth) the Queen Mother (1900–) the mother of the British queen, Elizabeth II.
- Queens [kwɪ:nz] a borough of New York City, situated at the west end of Long Island. POPULATION: 1,891,000.
- Queen's Bench Division n the Queen's Bench Division one of the divisions of the British High Court of Justice.
- Queen's Counsel n a high-ranking barrister in Britain.
- Queen's English n the Queen's English a standard way of speaking British English.
- Queen's evidence n GB to turn Queen's evidence [criminal] to give evidence in court against other criminals in order to get a less serious punishment.
- Queensland ['kwɪ:nzlænd] a state in north-eastern Australia. SIZE: 1,727,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,978,617 (Queenslanders). CAPITAL: Brisbane.
- Queen's speech n the Queen's speech a speech made by the British queen once a year, at the official opening of Parliament. It is written by the government, and outlines their program for the year.
- queer [kwɪə] ◇ adj [character, feeling, behavior] strange □ He gave a queer, nervous laugh. ◇ n ▼ a homosexual (informal and offensive use).
- quell [kwel] vt -1. [revolt, riot] to stop , usually by force, before it gets out of control □ Special police were brought in to quell the rioters. -2. [unease, anger] to stop oneself or other people from having  □ Her words quelled any lingering doubts I had had.
- quench [kwentʃ] vt to quench one's thirst [drink] to stop one from feeling thirsty; [person] to drink, so that one is no longer thirsty.
- querulous ['kwɛrələs] adj [person] who often complains (formal use).
- query ['kwɪəri] (pl queries, pt & pp queried) ◇ n a question that one asks when one is uncertain about something or thinks it may not be true or correct □ Are there any other queries? ◇ vt [invoice, statement, decision] to ask a question about <sthg> because one thinks it may not be true or correct □ The tax office has queried our accounts.
- quest [kwɛst] n a long difficult search (literary use) □ the quest for truth/enlightenment.
- question ['kwɛstʃn] ◇ n -1. something that one says or writes in order to ask for information □ I wish to put a question to the panel. □ Do you mind if I ask you a question? -2. to be in question to be doubted □ His honesty was never in question. ■ to bring OR call sthg into question to express doubts about sthg □ An oversight like this calls into question the competence of the staff. ■ beyond OR without question without any doubt □ She is beyond question the best. ■ to be open to question [truth, opinion, conclusion] to be uncertain or hard to accept without disagreement □ The advantages of the new system are open to question. ■ to obey without question to obey without disagreeing or expressing doubts □ They expected me to follow orders without question. -3. [matter] a matter that needs to be discussed or dealt with □ The article raises some important questions. ■ it's a question of... a phrase used to state what is necessary or important in a particular situation □ It's just a question of time. -4. [in a test, exam] one of the tasks in an exam or test, e.g. solving a problem or discussing a subject, that are designed to test one's knowledge □ Candidates must answer all four questions. -5. phrase there's no question of... there is no likelihood or possibility of... □ There's no question of our going back on our decision.

◇ vt -1. [suspect, witness] to ask <sb> one or more questions, especially about a crime □ The police are questioning him about the murder. -2. [ability, motives, ideal] to express one's doubts about <sthg> □ I question the wisdom of such a move.

◆ in question adj the person/thing etc in question the particular person/thing etc that one has just been talking about □ Where were you on the night in question?

◆ out of the question adj to be out of the question to be impossible to allow or consider □ Further loans are out of the question.

questionable ['kwɛstʃənəbl] adj [decision, behavior, taste] that one cannot accept completely because it seems wrong in some way □ He was involved in some rather questionable deals.

questioner ['kwɛstʃənə] n a person who is asking a question.

questioning ['kwɛstʃənɪŋ] ◇ adj [look] that expresses a question. ◇ n [of a suspect, witness] the process of asking somebody questions, especially about a crime □ Four men are being held for questioning by the police.

question mark n the punctuation mark (?) that shows that a question is being asked.

question master n the person who asks the questions on a game show on television or radio.

questionnaire [,kwɛstʃə'nɛə] n a list of questions, usually intended to provide information about a particular subject or product.

question time n the regular session in the British Parliament in which government ministers answer questions about policy asked by Members of Parliament.

queue [kju:] ◇ n GB a line of people, cars etc that are waiting to do something □ You'll have to join the queue. □ There was a queue of people waiting to get in. □ a queue of traffic. ■ to jump the queue to join a line of people ahead of other people who have been waiting longer. ◇ vi to wait in a line of people □ I had to queue for my tickets.

quibble ['kwɪbl] ◇ vi to argue about unimportant details (disapproving use) □ I'm not going to quibble (with you) over/about the exact words I used. ◇ n an unimportant complaint or disagreement.

quiche [ki:f] n a layer of pastry filled with eggs, cheese, and often bacon or vegetables and eaten hot or cold.

quick [kwɪk] ◇ adj -1. [runner, worker] who does something very fast; [person] who is intelligent and learns very easily □ All right, but be quick! □ We need someone who's quick at spotting potential problems. □ With quick staccato movements, the bird hopped across the grass. □ She's a quick learner. -2. [trip, drink, look] that takes a very short time to complete □ I gave them a quick summary of what had happened. -3. [reply, response, decision] that happens almost immediately □ "When did you receive it?" — "Yesterday." — "That was quick!" □ He's always quick to complain. ◇ adv: Come quick! □ We've thought of a scheme to get rich quick.

quicken ['kwɪkən] ◇ vt to quicken one's pace to start walking or running faster. ■ to quicken one's step to start walking faster. ◇ vi [pace, step] to go at a faster speed □ My pulse quickened.

quickly ['kwɪkli] adv [move, work, react] see quick □ She dressed quickly and went out. □ They responded quickly to our request. □ Come quickly! □ I quickly realized something was wrong.

quicksand ['kwɪksænd] n an area of loose wet sand that is dangerous because people can sink into it.

quicksilver ['kwɪksɪlvə] n = mercury (old-fashioned use).

quickstep ['kwɪkstep] n the quickstep a ballroom dance that involves a lot of fast steps; the type of music played for this dance.

quick-tempered adj [person] who easily becomes angry □ As a girl, she could be very quick-tempered.

quick-witted [-'wɪtəd] adj [person] who can understand things quickly and think of intelligent and amusing things to say.

quid [kwɪd] (pl quid) n GB one pound (informal use) □ Can you lend me twenty quid?

quid pro quo [-'kwou] (pl quid pro quos) n something that is given to somebody in exchange for something they have done.

quiescent [kwɪ'esnt] adj [person] who is quiet and inactive (literary use).

quiet ['kwaɪət] ◇ adj -1. [voice, children, place] that is not noisy □ a quiet engine/car/plane □ I like to work in a quiet room with no distractions. □ Keep quiet! -2. [person] who does not talk much □ You're very quiet today. □ a quiet, shy girl. ■ to keep quiet about sthg not to talk about or mention sthg, especially something that other people will find out about later or might not approve of □ I'd keep quiet about that if I were you. ■ (be) quiet! a phrase used to order or tell somebody to make less or no noise □ Please be quiet! I'm trying to read.

-3. [life, day, place] that is calm and without problems or excitement □ Let's find a nice quiet spot near the river to eat our picnic. □ I feel like spending a quiet evening in front of the TV.

-4. [business, trade] that is not busy, because there are few people buying, selling etc □ It's been very quiet in the office/store today.

-5. [clothing, color] that is not very noticeable to other people □ Could I have a quiet word with you in private? □ He exudes a kind of quiet confidence. -6. [ceremony, dinner] that consists of only a few specially chosen people □ It was a quiet wedding/funeral attended only by the immediate family.

◇ n silence □ Can we have quiet, please! □ All I want is some peace and quiet.

- ◇ vt US to make <sb/sthg> quiet.
- ◆ on the quiet adv secretly (informal use) □ He's been practicing on the quiet.
- ◆ quiet down US ◇ vt sep to make <sb> calm or quiet. ◇ vi: The room immediately quieted down. □ Quiet down!
- quieten ['kwaɪətn] vt -1. [voice] to make <sb/sthg> less noisy. -2. to make <sb's fears, worries> etc less strong.
- ◆ quieten down vi & vt sep GB = quiet down.
- quietly ['kwaɪətli] adv [say, sit, live] see quiet □ He left quietly, without saying goodbye to anyone. □ She's quietly confident about passing the exam.
- quiff [kwɪf] n GB a part of the hair at the front of one's head that is brushed up over one's forehead.
- quill [kwɪl] n a quill (pen) a pen made out of a large feather.
- quilt [kwɪlt] n a covering for a bed that is filled with light, warm material such as feathers.
- quilted ['kwɪltəd] adj [jacket, lining] that is made of a cloth filled with light, warm material and has lines of stitching across it that form patterns.
- quince [kwɪns] n a hard yellow fruit with a bitter taste that is shaped like a pear and is used to make jellies.
- quinine [US 'kwɪnɪn, GB 'kwɪnɪ:n] n a drug used to treat malaria.
- quins [kwɪnz] npl GB = quintuplets (informal use).
- quintessential [,kwɪntə'senʃl] adj [characteristic] that is the most typical example of something □ This passage is quintessential Brahms. □ He was the quintessential English aristocrat.
- quintet [kwɪn'tet] n -1. a group of five musicians or singers who perform together. -2. a piece of music written for five instruments or singers performing together.
- quints [kwɪnts] npl US = quintuplets (informal use).
- quintuplets [US kwɪn'tʌpləts, GB 'kwɪntjʊpləts] npl five babies born at the same time to the same mother.
- quip [kwɪp] (pt & pp quipped, cont quipping) ◇ n a clever and funny remark. ◇ vi to make a quip.
- quire ['kwaɪə] n 24 sheets of paper.
- quirk [kwɜːk] n -1. a strange habit or aspect of somebody's character □ We all have our little quirks. -2. a strange happening that one cannot explain □ By some quirk of fate they had lived in the same town all their lives without knowing it. □ a quirk of nature.
- quirky ['kwɜːki] (compar quirkier, superl quirkiest) adj [sense of humor, person] that seems odd and unusual.
- quit [kwɪt] (US pt & pp quit, cont quitting, GB pt & pp quit or quitted, cont quitting) ◇ vt -1. to leave . -2. to quit doing sthg to stop doing sthg □ I've tried to quit smoking/drinking. □ Quit bothering me! ◇ vi -1. to leave one's job. -2. to stop doing some-
- thing □ He advised me to quit while I was still ahead.
- quite [kwat] adv & predet -1. [different, sure, still] a word used to emphasize that something is the case □ I quite agree. □ It's all quite simple and straightforward. □ That was quite delicious. -2. [easy, young, obvious] fairly □ We'll be finished quite soon. □ It's/She's quite nice. □ They live quite a bit further down the road. □ It's quite a good book, actually. ■ quite a lot of, quite a few a fairly large number of □ There were quite a lot of people at the party. □ I've visited them quite a few times. -3. a word used after a negative to make it seem less strong □ The skirt is not quite big enough for me. □ I don't quite understand/know. -4. quite a... a phrase used before a noun to emphasize its degree, high standard, or unusual nature □ She's quite a woman. □ It was quite a shock/surprise to be invited. □ They were gone quite a while. -5. quite (so)! a word or phrase used to express agreement (formal use) □ "I said we couldn't possibly accept." — "Quite so."
- quits [kwɪts] adj (informal use) to be quits to be in an equal situation with somebody again, especially after paying them back money that one owed □ Once I give him back his $5 I'll be quits with him again. ■ to call it quits to agree to stop an argument about something □ Why don't you both just shake hands and call it quits?
- quitter ['kwɪtə] n a person who one thinks gives up too easily (disapproving and informal use).
- quiver ['kwɪvə] ◇ vi to shake slightly, especially because one is nervous or excited □ He was quivering with fear/rage. ◇ n -1. [of fear, excitement] a trembling movement □ A quiver of excitement ran down her spine. -2. a long thin bag for carrying arrows.
- quixotic [kwɪk'sɒtɪk] adj [person] who has ideals and is not practical or realistic (formal use).
- quiz [kwɪz] (pl quizzes, pt & pp quizzed, cont quizzing) ◇ n -1. a type of game or competition that involves answering questions □ a quiz show. -2. EDUCATION US a short test. ◇ vt to ask <sb> a lot of questions about something □ They quizzed me on/about my past sales experience.
- quizzmaster [US 'kwɪzməstr, GB -mə:stə] n the person who asks the questions on a quiz show.
- quizzical ['kwɪzɪkl] adj [look, smile] that shows that one is amused by or doubtful about what somebody else has said or done.
- quoits [kɔɪts] n a game in which rings are thrown over a small post.
- Quonset hutTM ['kwɒnsət-] n US a shelter that has a curved roof made of sheets of metal.
- quorate ['kwɔːreɪt] adj GB [meeting] that has a quorum.
- quorum ['kwɔːrəm] n the smallest number of people that needs to be present at a meeting in order e.g. for formal decisions to be made, or for the meeting to start.

quota ['kwoutə] n [of people] the fixed number of people who are allowed to enter or join something such as a university; [of goods, products] the smallest or largest amount of something that is allowed to be produced, sold etc □ The European Union is setting strict quotas on agricultural production. □ a quota system □ fishing quotas.

quotation [kwou'teɪʃn] n -1. the exact words that somebody, especially somebody well-known, said or wrote; the act of quoting somebody or something □ It's a quotation from a famous poem. -2. BUSINESS a formal statement of the exact cost that will be charged for something that is to be done or bought.

quotation marks npl the symbols (" ") or (" ") that show where a quotation begins and ends.

quote [kwout] ◇ n = quotation □ We chose the company that gave the lowest quote.

◇ vt -1. [person, proverb, poem] to repeat the exact words of <sb/sthg>; [figures, law] to mention <sthg> to make one's argument stronger □ Please don't quote me on this — I'd lose my job. □ She was quoted as saying that the rules were harsh and unjust. □ He quoted the example of one company that had gone bankrupt. □ Please quote this reference number in all future correspondence. -2. BUSINESS to give a formal statement of <the price> of something; to give <sb> a quotation for something □ How much would you quote me for this vase — $50?

◇ vi -1. She quoted from the contract in front of her. -2. BUSINESS to quote for sthg [for goods, a contract, repair] to quote a price for sthg.

◆ quotes npl = quotation marks.

quoted company ['kwoutəd-] n GB a company that has shares that can be bought or sold on the Stock Exchange.

quotient ['kwouʃnt] n the amount or degree of a particular thing □ The job has a low stress quotient.

Qur'an [US kə'ræn, GB -'rɑ:n] = Koran.

qv (abbr of quod vide) an expression written in a book such as an encyclopedia, to refer the reader to something in another part of the book.

qwerty keyboard ['kwɜ:'ti-] n the computer or typewriter keyboard used for the English language, the top line of which begins with the letters Q, W, E, R, T, and Y.

of restricted) a symbol for movies and video tapes in the USA, used to show that children under 17 are only allowed to watch if an adult is with them. -4. (abbr of restricted) a symbol for movies in Australia, used to show that the movie can only be shown to people over 18 years old. -5. US abbr of Republican. -6. GB (abbr of Rex) a symbol written after the name of a king. -7. GB (abbr of Regina) a symbol written after the name of a queen.

RA (abbr of Royal Academy) n the RA an association of artists in Britain who run a post-graduate art school and organize exhibitions; a title, written after a person's name, to show that they are a member of this association.

RAAF n abbr of Royal Australian Air Force.

rabbi ['ræbɪ] n a Jewish religious leader.

rabbit ['ræbət] n a small animal with soft fur, long ears, and a round white tail that lives in holes under the ground, or is kept as a pet; the meat of this animal used as food □ a wild/pet rabbit □ rabbit stew.

rabbit hole n a hole in the ground where a rabbit lives.

rabbit hutch n a wooden cage that pet rabbits are kept in.

rabbit warren n -1. a system of passages and holes under the ground where rabbits live. -2. a building with many rooms and long passages that is difficult to find one's way around.

rabble ['ræbl] n a noisy, uncontrolled, and often violent crowd of people.

rabble-rousing adj [speech, speaker] that encourages people to act in a violent or uncontrolled way.

rabid ['ræbəd] adj -1. [animal] that is infected with rabies. -2. [feminist, right-winger] who has very strong opinions and is not open to other points of view (disapproving use).

rabies ['reɪbi:z] n a very serious disease affecting humans and some animals that is passed on by the bite of a diseased animal, and causes madness and usually death.

RAC (abbr of Royal Automobile Club) n the RAC a British organization for drivers that helps its members when their cars break down.

raccoon [rə'ku:n] n a small animal of North and Central America that has black circles around its eyes and black rings along its tail.

race [reis] ◇ n -1. [between people, cars, horses] a competition between several people, vehicles, or animals to see which one is the fastest □ a boat/horse race □ We had a race, and I came in last. □ It became a race against time or the clock. -2. [for power] a competition for power or control □ the race for the White House. -3. [of people] any one of the main groups that people can be divided into according to their skin color, hair etc; the state of belonging to one of these groups □ the Arab race □ We welcome anyone, whatever their race, creed, or color. □ He was discriminated r [ɑ:'ɪ] (pl r's OR rs), R [ɑ:'ɪ] (pl R's OR Rs) n the eighteenth letter of the English alphabet.

R

◆ R -1. abbr of right. -2. abbr of river. -3. (abbr against on grounds of race. □ Race has become a big issue.

◇ vt -1. [person] to compete against <sb> in a race □ I'll race you to the beach! -2. [horse, car] to enter <an animal or vehicle> in a race. -3. to take <sb> somewhere as quickly as possible □ She was raced to the hospital.

◇ vi -1. [athlete, driver, horse] to compete in a race □ He has raced against some of the best swimmers in the world. -2. [person] to go somewhere or do something very quickly □ She raced up the stairs/into the house. -3. [heart, pulse] to beat very fast, especially because of excitement or fear □ His heart raced when he heard her come in. -4. [engine] to run faster than normal.

race car n US a car that is specially built to go as fast as possible and that is raced in competitions.

racecourse ['reɪskɔ:rs] n -1. US a track that runners, cars etc race around. -2. GB a track that horses race around.

race driver n US a person who drives a race car.

racehorse ['reɪshɔ:rs] n a horse that is bred and trained to be raced.

race meeting n an occasion when several horse races are held at the same race course.

race relations npl the way people of different races living in the same place behave toward each other.

Race Relations Act n the Race Relations Act a British act of parliament designed to ensure equal opportunities and treatment for people of all races.

race riot n a riot between people of different races living in the same place.

racetrack ['reɪstræk] n -1. a track that runners, cars etc race around. -2. US a track that horses race around.

Rachmaninov [US rɑ:k'mɑ:nɒnɒf, GB ræk'mæn-], Sergei (1873–1943) a Russian composer and pianist whose best-known work is the Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini.

racial ['reɪʃl] adj [tension, harmony, attack] that exists or happens between people of different races; [characteristic, pride] that is connected with a person's race □ a victim of racial harassment □ a racial group.

racial discrimination n unfair treatment of somebody because of their race.

racialism ['reɪʃəlɪzəm] n = racism.

racialist ['reɪʃəlɪst] adj = racist.

racings ['reɪsɪŋ] n the sport of racing a vehicle or animal □ greyhound/motorbike racing.

racings car n GB = race car.

racings driver n GB = race driver.

racism ['reɪsɪzəm] n the belief that particular races, especially one's own, are better than other races; unfair or violent treatment of people because of this belief □ They were accused of racism.

racist ['reɪsɪst] (disapproving use) ◇ adj [remark, attack, policy] that is connected with racism; [person, group] that believes in racism. ◇ n a racist person □ Call me a racist, but that's what I think.

rack [ræk] ◇ n -1. something that is made to hold a particular kind of object and has sections, hooks, or bars to separate each one □ a wine/magazine rack □ a rack of clothes. -2. a shelf above a seat in a train, or that one attaches to the roof of one's car, where one can put luggage □ a luggage rack. ◇ vt to be racked by OR with sthg [with pain, guilt, despair] to suffer a great amount of sthg.

racket ['rækət] n -1. a loud and unpleasant noise □ The children were making a terrible racket. -2. an illegal way of making money □ a drugs/gambling racket. -3. SPORT a piece of equipment, used for hitting a ball in sports such as tennis and squash, that consists of tight strings in a rounded frame of plastic or metal attached to a long handle □ a tennis/squash/badminton racket.

racketeering [ˌrækət'ɪəriŋ] n the act or crime of making money through illegal means (disapproving use).

raconteur [ˌrækɒn'tɜ:ʃ] n a person who is good at telling interesting and amusing stories.

raccoon [rə'ku:n] n = raccoon.

racquet ['rækət] n SPORT = racket.

racy ['reɪsɪ] (compar racier, superl raciest) adj [novel, story, style] that is entertaining and lively, especially because it involves sex.

RADA [ˈrɑ:də] (abbr of Royal Academy of Dramatic Art) n an important drama school in London.

radar ['reɪdɑ:ʃ] n an instrument that shows the position and speed of a moving object, e.g. a plane or ship, by measuring the speed of the radio waves received from them □ The plane was equipped with radar. □ a radar screen.

radar trap n a device using radar that the police use to measure the speed of cars that are going too fast.

radial ['reɪdiəl] n a radial (tire) a tire with cords under the rubber that spread out around the tire from the center to give better control.

radiance ['reɪdiəns] n -1. [of somebody's face, smile] great happiness □ the radiance of youth. -2. the light shining on or from something.

radiant ['reɪdiənt] adj -1. [face, person] that looks very happy □ The bride was radiant. -2. [light, sun] that shines brightly. -3. radiant heat PHYSICS heat that is sent out by radiation.

radiate ['reɪdiət] ◇ vt -1. [warmth, glow] to send out <heat or light> in all directions. -2. [confidence, health] to be so full of  that everyone notices it □ She positively radiates good health. ◇ vi -1. [heat, light] The warmth from the fire radiated throughout the room. -2. [roads, paths, lines] to spread out in different directions from a central point □ A network of cables is to be installed, radiating out from this main box.

radiation [ˌreɪdɪ'eɪʃn] n -1. the energy produced by certain substances when atoms break up, e.g. as the result of a nuclear reaction. Radiation can be very harmful. □ a le-that dose of radiation. -2. energy in the form of particular kinds of heat or light that travels through the air but cannot be seen □ electromagnetic/ultraviolet radiation.

radiation sickness n an illness caused when one receives too much radiation from a radioactive substance.

radiator ['reɪdiətə] n -1. [in a house, building] a large metal device, usually fitted to a wall, containing water or oil that gets hot and heats up a room. -2. AUTO the part of a vehicle that keeps the engine cool □ a car radiator.

radiator grille n the metal bars in front of a car radiator, on the outside of the car.

radical ['rædɪkl] ◇ adj -1. POLITICS [politician, view] that supports the belief that great changes need to be made in a society, the economy, or in politics □ a member of the radical left wing □ They advocate radical reform. -2. [change, disagreement] that is complete or has important effects □ There has been a radical improvement in the standard of your work. ◇ n POLITICS a person, especially a politician, who has radical beliefs.

radically ['rædɪkli] adv [change, alter, improve] see radical □ Their attitudes are radically different.

radii ['reɪdi] plural of radius.

radio ['reɪdiəʊ] (pl radios) ◇ n -1. a system of communication that involves sending sound through the air using electrical waves □ The message came through over the radio. □ a radio wave/link □ We established radio contact with the men at 07:00 hours. □ They sent out a radio signal. -2. the system of broadcasting a program by sending sound through the air using electrical waves; the industry concerned with such broadcasting □ I heard it on the radio. □ I work in radio. □ a radio station/program. -3. a piece of equipment used to listen to programs that are broadcast by means of electrical waves □ She turned the radio on/off. □ a ship's radio.

◇ vt to send a message to  by using a radio; [message, news, position] to send <information> to somebody by using a radio □ They radioed the ship for help.

radioactive ['reɪdiəʊ'æktɪv] adj [element, fallout] that is connected with radioactivity.

radioactive waste n radioactive waste material produced by nuclear power stations.

radioactivity ['reɪdiəʊ'æktɪvətɪ] n energy that is produced by certain atoms when they break up and that can be very harmful □ high levels of radioactivity □ low-level radioactivity.

radio alarm n a radio that can be set to turn itself on at a particular time to wake somebody up.

radio-controlled adj [toy, car] that can be made to move by radio waves sent out from a device held in a person's hand.

radio frequency n any of the radio waves used in broadcasting.

radiogram ['reɪdiəʊgræm] n a message that has been sent by radio.

radiographer [ˌreɪdɪ'ɒgrəfə] n a person who is trained to take and study X-rays.

radiography [ˌreɪdɪ'ɒgrəfɪ] n the examination of the inside of a patient by taking X-rays.

radiology [ˌreɪdɪ'ɒlədʒɪ] n the branch of medicine that is concerned with radiation and its use in diagnosing and treating diseases.

radiopaging ['reɪdiəʊpeɪdʒɪŋ] n a system by which a small device able to receive radio waves sends out a short sound to warn the person carrying the device that somebody is trying to contact them.

radiotelephone [ˌreɪdiəʊ'teləfəʊn] n a telephone that sends out sound using radio waves rather than wires.

radiotherapist [ˌreɪdiəʊ'therəpɪst] n a person who is trained in radiotherapy.

radiotherapy [ˌreɪdiəʊ'therəpi] n the treatment of diseases, especially cancer, using radiation.

radish ['rædɪʃ] n a small, hard, round root vegetable, white inside and red outside, that has a hot taste and is eaten raw in salads.

radium ['reɪdiəm] n a rare white radioactive metal that is used to treat cancer. SYMBOL: Ra.

radius ['reɪdiəs] (pl radii) n -1. MATH the distance from the center of a circle to its outside edge. -2. within a radius of 3 miles/200 km less than 3 miles/200 km from a particular place in any direction □ There are no stores within a five-mile radius of where she lives. -3. ANATOMY the outer bone between one's wrist and elbow.

radon ['reɪdɒn] n a radioactive element in the form of a gas that has no color. SYMBOL: Rn.

RAF n abbr of Royal Air Force.

RAFDS n abbr of Royal Australian Flying Doctor Service.

raffia ['ræfɪə] n a material similar to soft string that comes from the palm tree, and is used for making hats, mats etc □ a raffia mat.

raffish ['ræfɪʃ] adj [man, charm] that is not very respectable but has a lot of style and is amusing.

raffle ['ræfl] ◇ n a competition, usually held in order to make money for a charity, in which people buy tickets hoping to win a prize □ I won it in a raffle. ◇ vt [car, wine] to offer <sthg> as a prize in a raffle.

raffle ticket n a ticket sold for a raffle.

raft [US 'ræft, GB 'rɑ:ft] n -1. a flat floating structure usually made of long pieces of wood tied together and used as a boat or as a fixed platform □ a log/bamboo raft. -2. a small boat made of rubber or plastic and filled with air that floats or can be rowed and is used to travel down rivers. -3. a raft of things a large amount or number of things □ a whole raft of possibilities □ a raft of policies.

rafter [US 'ræftə, GB 'rɑ:ftə] n any one of the lengths of wood that support a sloping roof.

rag [ræg] n -1. an old and torn piece of cloth □ I mopped it up with an old rag. ■ to be (like) a red rag to a bull to be something that makes somebody very annoyed or angry very quickly (informal use). -2. a newspaper (disapproving and informal use) □ a right-wing/left-wing rag.

♦ rags npl very old and torn clothes □ dressed in rags. ■ to go from rags to riches to quickly become very rich after being very poor.

ragamuffin ['rægəmʌfɪn] n a dirty child wearing torn clothes.

rag-and-bone man n GB a man who travels the streets in a horse and cart or van and is given old clothes, furniture etc that people no longer want.

ragbag ['rægbæg] n a confused mixture of several examples of a particular thing □ a ragbag of styles/ideas.

rag doll n a soft child's doll made of cloth.

rage [reɪdʒ] ◇ n -1. extreme anger, often lasting over a long period of time □ She was shaking with rage. □ He flew into a rage. □ a cry of rage. -2. to be all the rage [style, fashion] to be very popular for a short period of time (informal use) □ Computer games are all the rage this Christmas. ◇ vi -1. to be extremely angry □ He raged at the injustice of it all. -2. [disease, fire] to spread with great force and speed; [storm, controversy, argument] to continue with extreme force □ The battle raged on for days.

ragga ['rægə] n a style of rap music from the West Indies.

ragged ['rægəd] adj -1. [beggar, child] who is wearing old and torn clothes □ a group of ragged refugees. -2. [clothes] that look old and torn □ a shirt with a ragged collar. -3. [line, edge] that is not smooth, straight, or even □ They formed a ragged line. □ a ragged hedge. -4. [performance, work] that has many details that need improving □ The band sounded tired and ragged.

raging ['reɪdʒɪŋ] adj -1. a raging thirst/headache etc a very severe thirst/headache etc. -2. a raging storm/argument etc a violent and uncontrolled storm/argument etc.

ragout [ræ'guː] n a stew of meat and vegetables.

rag trade n the rag trade GB the clothing industry, especially the designing, making, and selling of women's clothes (informal use).

rag week n in Britain, a week each year during which students raise money for charity by doing amusing or silly things, holding processions through the streets etc.

raid [reɪd] ◇ n -1. MILITARY a sudden, quick, planned attack on enemy territory in order to cause as much damage as possible □ a bombing raid □ Their raid on the enemy camp went according to plan. -2. [by police] a sudden planned visit by police to a place where they think they might find criminals or illegal goods □ a police/drugs raid □ Heroin was found during the raid on the house last night. -3. [by criminals] a sudden planned robbery of a store or bank when it is open □ a bank raid. ◇ vt -1. MILITARY [town, village] to carry out a raid on  □ The 5th Battalion raided po- sitions behind enemy lines. -2. [bank, club, office] to enter  by force in order to carry out a raid □ Police raided the apartment.

raider ['reɪdər] n a person who takes part in a raid on a shop or bank □ The raiders got away with $5,000 in cash. □ a bank raider.

rail [reɪl] n -1. [on a ship, staircase, walkway] a piece of wood or metal for people to hold on to, or that stops people falling down etc □ a stair/bath rail. -2. [for clothes] a thin, horizontal piece of wood or metal fixed to a wall, or to two vertical bars, that is used for hanging things on □ a coat/clothes rail. -3. [for trains] one of two metal bars attached to the ground that a train travels along □ The train somehow left the rails. -4. the railroad system □ I go to work by rail. □ a rail strike □ rail travel/transportation.

railing ['reɪlɪŋ] n a barrier made up of a long row of vertical metal bars with a long horizontal bar at or near the top that goes around a balcony, the side of a ship, outside a house or park etc □ an iron railing.

♦ railings npl = railing.

railroad ['reɪlroʊd] US, railway ['reɪlweɪ] GB n -1. = railroad track. -2. the organization that provides transportation by rail □ He worked for the railroads. □ a railroad engineer/company. -3. the system of tracks, trains, and buildings used to provide transportation by rail.

railroad station n the building, including the ticket office and platforms, where one catches or leaves a train.

railroad track n the metal rails that a train travels along.

Railtrack ['reɪltræk] n in Britain, the government company responsible for the rail track, signaling, and train stations, which it leases to train companies.

railway n GB = railroad.

railway line n GB -1. the route between two places along a railroad track. -2. = railroad track.

rain [reɪn] ◇ n drops of water that fall from clouds in the sky □ We got caught in the rain. □ She felt a drop of rain on her face. □ light/heavy rain. ◇ v impers WEATHER it's raining rain is falling □ I think it's going to rain. □ It's been raining all afternoon. ◇ vi to fall like rain.

♦ rain down vi [shells, bullets] to fall quickly in large numbers; [abuse, applause] to be received by somebody in great quantity □ Arrows rained down on them. □ Cheers rained down from the crowd.

♦ rain out US, rain off GB vt sep to be rained out US OR off GB [game, match] not to take place because of rain.

rainbow ['reɪnbəʊ] n a line in the sky in the shape of an arch with several bands of color, that can sometimes be seen after rain.

rainbow trout n a fish that can be eaten, and that has a pink and silvery skin with black dots.

rain check n to take a rain check US to decide not to accept or do something right away, but to do it at a later date □ Can we take a rain check on our dinner date?

raincoat ['reɪnkəʊt] n a light coat worn to protect oneself from the rain.

raindrop ['reɪndrɒp] n one drop of rain.

rainfall ['reɪnfɔ:l] n the amount of rain that falls somewhere during a particular period of time □ The average rainfall each year is declining.

rain forest n a tropical forest of tall trees that grow very close together in an area where there is a lot of rain.

rain gauge n an instrument that measures rainfall.

rainproof ['reɪnpru:f] adj [material, roof] that does not allow rain to pass through it.

rainstorm ['reɪnstɔ:rm] n a very heavy fall of rain with strong winds.

rainwater ['reɪnwɔ:tə] n water that collects somewhere after falling as rain.

rainy ['reɪni] (compar rainier, superl rainiest) adj [day, season, place] that has a lot of rain □ rainy weather.

raise [reɪz] ◇ vt -1. [barrier, weight, hand] to move or lift <sthg> to a higher level □ He raised his head as she entered the room. □ We need to raise the height of the door frames. ■ to raise oneself (up) to lift oneself, especially with difficulty □ She raised herself up on her elbows, then slumped back exhausted. -2. [limit, price, tax] to increase the amount of <sthg> □ Interest rates look set to be raised once more. ■ to raise one's voice to speak more loudly, especially in anger □ Don't you raise your voice at me! -3. to improve . -4. [funds, capital, loan] to obtain <money> by earning it, borrowing it, or asking people for it □ The campaign raised $10,000 for charity. □ She has to raise enough money to pay off her debts. -5. [fear, doubt, memory] to cause somebody to feel or remember <sthg> □ I can't seem to raise any enthusiasm for the trip. □ The ceasefire raised hopes of a long-term peace. -6. [children] to look after  until it is an adult □ This is an ideal area in which to raise a family. -7. FARMING [wheat, corn] to grow , especially in large amounts □ Last year the farm raised over 3,000 acres of wheat. -8. FARMING [chickens, horses, cattle] to breed <animals> □ His family has raised sheep on this land for generations. -9. [subject, question, objection] to mention <sthg>, especially in order to discuss it □ I raised your suggestion with the boss, and he was in favor of trying it. □ I'd like to raise the issue of expenses. -10. [statue] to build .

◇ n an increase in the amount of money one earns for one's job.

raisin ['reɪzn] n a dried grape used as food □ rum and raisin ice cream.

Raj [rɑ:dʒ] n the Raj the period of British rule in India from 1858 to 1947.

rajah ['rɑ:dʒə] n a male ruler in India.

rake [reɪk] ◇ n -1. GARDENING a tool with a long handle attached to a row of metal teeth, used to smooth the soil, gather up fallen leaves etc. -2. a wealthy young man who behaves in a wild and immoral way (old-fashioned use). ◇ vt -1. [soil, path] to make <an area of ground> smooth and level using a rake; [lawn] to pass a rake over <an area of grass>, e.g. to gather up leaves. -2. [leaves, weeds, grass] to gather up <dead plants> using a rake.

◆ rake in vt sep to rake in the money/profits to earn a lot of money/profits very quickly (informal use) □ She has a new job and now she's raking it in.

◆ rake up vt sep to rake sthg up [bad memories, argument] to talk about and remind somebody about sthg bad that happened in the past □ Sorry, I didn't mean to start raking up the past.

rake-off n a share of profits that somebody has earned usually by doing something that is not completely honest (informal use).

rakish ['reɪkɪʃ] adj -1. [life, lifestyle] that is wild and immoral. -2. [clothing] that shows a cheerful and relaxed confidence □ His hat was tilted at a rakish angle.

Raleigh ['rɑ:lɪ], Sir Walter (1554–1618) a British explorer, adventurer, and writer. He is famous for bringing the first potatoes and tobacco to England from America.

rally ['ræli] (pl rallies, pt & pp rallied) ◇ n -1. a meeting of a large number of people in order to support a particular cause, usually a political cause, or to protest about something □ a peace/political rally. -2. [for cars] a car race along public roads □ rally driving. -3. [in tennis, squash] a series of strokes in which the ball is hit from one player to the other until a point is scored.

◇ vt [supporters, troops] to encourage  to join together to fight for a particular aim; to encourage people to provide <support> to achieve a particular aim □ They need to rally more support if they are to win the vote.

◇ vi -1. [supporters, friends] to join together and give support to a particular cause □ The villagers all rallied to the aid of the flood victims. -2. [patient, player] to get or feel better or stronger, often only for a short period of time; [prices, currency] to increase after a period of weakness □ The Bulls rallied toward the end to steal a win. □ After a weak start in the morning, share prices rallied.

◆ rally around, rally round ◇ vt fus to rally around sb to join together to give support to sb who is in difficulty. ◇ vi [friends, colleagues] The staff rallied around to help prepare for the inspectors' visit.

rallying ['ræliŋ] n the sport of driving in rallies.

rallying cry n a short phrase that encourages people to unite in support of a particular group □ "All for one and one for all" was the rallying cry of the Three Musketeers.

rallying point n a person, event etc that makes people gather together to support a particular cause □ The demonstration provided a rallying point for people concerned about transportation policies.

ram [ræm] (vt & pp rammed, cont ramming) ◇ vt -1. [car, ship] to crash into <another vehicle> with great force. -2. [person] to push <sthg> somewhere with great force □ He rammed all his clothes into one small case. -3. to ram sthg home [idea, fact] to make sthg very clear so that somebody understands or accepts it completely □ You'll have to ram the message/the point home. ◇ n an adult male sheep.

RAM [ræm] (abbr of random access memory) n a type of computer memory that stores information needed for a short time only and that lets one retrieve and use the information in any order.

NOTE: Compare ROM.

Ramadan [ˌræməˈdæn] n the ninth month in the Muslim year, when Muslims must not eat or drink anything between sunrise and sunset.

ramble ['ræmbəl] ◇ n a long walk in the countryside. ◇ vi -1. to go on a ramble. -2. to talk or write in a boring way because one is confused and keeps changing the subject.

◆ ramble on vi to talk for a long time in a boring way □ He rambled on and on about nothing.

rambler ['ræmblər] n a person who goes on long walks in the countryside as a hobby.

rambling ['ræmblɪŋ] adj -1. [building, house] that is large and has an irregular shape. -2. [conversation, book] that is long and does not follow a clear pattern.

rambunctious [ræmˈbʌŋkjəs] adj US [person, behavior] noisy and energetic.

RAMC (abbr of Royal Army Medical Corps) n the RAMC the medical service of the British army.

ramekin ['ræməkən] n a small round dish with a flat bottom, used for baking food for one person.

ramification [ˌræməfəˈkeɪʃn] n one of the many results of something that are not usually obvious at first □ I'm not sure if you fully understand all the ramifications of this decision.

ramp [ræmp] n -1. a sloping surface that is designed to connect two areas on different levels □ a wheelchair ramp. -2. [on a road] a change in the level of a road surface, especially one that is designed to make cars go more slowly.

rampage [vb ræmˈpeɪdʒ, n ˈræmpeɪdʒ] ◇ vi [people, animals] to move or run around wildly, causing damage. ◇ n to go on the rampage to rampage □ English and Dutch soccer fans went on the rampage after the game.

rampant ['ræmpənt] adj -1. [inflation, disease, crime] that is increasing so fast that it cannot be controlled □ Corruption was rampant among military officials. -2. [belief, abuse] that exists in many places and is difficult to control.

ramparts ['ræmpɑːts] npl a high bank of earth, often with a wall on top, that is built around a castle, city etc to protect it against attack.

ram-raid ◇ n the act of driving a stolen car through the front window of a store in order to steal goods. ◇ vt: Three youths were caught ram-raiding a local supermarket.

ram-raider n a person who takes part in a ram-raid.

ramshackle ['ræmʃækəl] adj [building, vehicle] that is in very bad condition and likely to collapse □ They lived in a ramshackle little house near the forest.

ran [ræn] past tense of run.

RAN n abbr of Royal Australian Navy.

ranch [US ræntʃ, GB raɪntʃ] n a very large farm in North America where sheep, cattle, or horses are bred.

rancher [US ˈræntʃr, GB ˈraɪntʃə] n a person who owns or runs a ranch.

ranch house n US -1. a house on a ranch. -2. a large house that is one story high.

rancid ['rænsəd] adj [butter, bacon] that is no longer fresh and smells or tastes bad □ The oil's gone rancid.

rancor US, rancour GB ['ræŋkəʊ] n a strong feeling of bitterness and hatred toward somebody □ I feel no rancor against them for what they did to him.

random ['rændəm] ◇ adj [sample, test] that is done or chosen without any particular reason or pattern. ◇ n at random in a random way □ They were chosen/shot at random.

random access memory n → RAM.

randomly ['rændəmlɪ] adv [choose, kill, distribute] see random □ The candidates were randomly selected.

R and R (abbr of rest and recreation) n -1. US a vacation given to members of the armed forces. -2. time spent relaxing away from one's work.

rang [ræŋ] past tense of ring.

range [reɪndʒ] ◇ n -1. [of radar, a telescope, weapon] the distance over which something can work, travel, be seen, heard etc □ The missile has a range of about two miles. ■ to be out of range [target, aircraft, ship] to be too far away to be reached by a weapon, radar etc □ Fortunately, we were just out of range of the shells/out of shooting range. ■ to be within range of sthg [of a telescope, radar, weapon] to be close enough to be reached by sthg □ We were well within range of the mortar shells. ■ at close range [fire, shoot] from a short distance away □ Seen at close range, the planes looked even bigger. -2. [of subjects, goods, activities] a number of things that appear, are seen, are done etc together and are of the same general type □ We offer a wide range of services to our customers. □ I went through a whole range of emotions. -3. [of ages, salaries, prices] the limits within which a number of different amounts or qualities are included □ I'm afraid that's out of my price range. -4. [of mountains] a row of hills or mountains □ a mountain range □ the Cascade Range. -5. [for shooting] a place where people can practice shooting. -6.

MUSIC the notes between the highest and the lowest notes that a singer or an instrument can reach □ As a singer, she has an extraordinary range.

◇ vt [pupils, glasses, books] to place <people or things> next to each other in a particular way □ Riot police were ranged across the street.

◇ vi -1. to range from sthg to sthg, to range between sthg and sthg to come somewhere on a scale between sthg and sthg; to include everything between sthg and sthg □ The temperature ranged from 15 to 25 degrees Celsius OR between 15 and 25 degrees Celsius. □ Activities on offer range from canoeing to scuba diving. -2. to range over sthg [book, conversation] to deal with sthg □ Dr Cassidy's talk ranged over a wide variety of topics.

ranger ['reɪndʒə] n a person whose job is to take care of a forest or park.

rank [ræŋk] ◇ n -1. [in the army, police] the position that somebody has in an organization, and which shows how much power or authority they have in it □ an officer of senior rank □ She rose to the rank of lieutenant. ■ the rank and file MILITARY the ordinary members of a regiment who are not officers; POLITICS the ordinary members of a political party, labor union etc who are not the leaders □ It may be popular in the senate but it won't go down well with the rank and file. ■ to pull rank to use one's position of authority to order other people in an organization to do something that they do not want to do □ Don't try to pull rank on me! ■ to close ranks [family, organization, friends] to support each other at a difficult time to avoid criticism or a threat from somebody else. -2. [of people, things] a row or line of people or things □ All I could see was ranks and ranks of policemen.

◇ vt -1. [player, country] to give <sb/sthg> a particular position on a scale □ She is ranked among the top four swimmers in the country. -2. US to have a higher rank than <sb else> in the same organization □ A major ranks a captain.

◇ vi [person, event, organization] to have a particular position on a scale or list □ That ranks as my all-time favorite movie. □ She ranks among the top five tennis-players in the world.

◇ adj -1. rank stupidity/incompetence etc complete stupidity/incompetence etc (used for emphasis) □ But this is rank insolence! -2. [smell, taste] strong and unpleasant □ There was a rank smell of stale urine.

◆ ranks npl -1. the ranks MILITARY the ordinary soldiers, marines etc who are not officers □ He rose from the ranks to become a general. -2. the ranks of sthg [of an organization, group] the people who belong to sthg □ The Democrats are aware of the growing unrest within their own ranks. □ He's joined the ranks of the unemployed.

ranking ['ræŋkɪŋ] ◇ n a person's position on a scale, used to show how good they are at something, especially a sport □ His official ranking is number three in the world. ◇ adj US [officer, member] who has a high rank, or the highest rank in a particular group.

rankle ['ræŋkl] vi [behavior, attitude, remarks] to make one feel annoyed □ It still rankles with me that he could say such a thing.

ransack ['rænsæk] vt -1. [room, town] to steal things from  in a way that causes damage and a mess □ When we got back, the whole house had been ransacked. -2. [building, room] to search  completely, often leaving a lot of mess □ I ransacked my cupboards for clothes to take with me.

ransom ['rænsəm] n the amount of money demanded for the return of a person who has been kidnapped □ They've asked for a $2 million ransom. ■ to hold sb to ransom to hold sb as a prisoner until a ransom is paid for their release; to put sb in a difficult position in order to force them to do something □ Kurz was held to ransom for six weeks before his captors finally let him go. □ We will not allow terrorists to hold this country to ransom.

rant [rænt] vi to talk loudly and angrily for a long time about something (disapproving use) □ I wish he'd stop ranting (on) about it.

ranting ['ræntɪŋ] n the act of ranting.

rap [ræp] (pt & pp rapped, cont rapping) ◇ n -1. [at a door, on a table] a loud knock on the surface of something, usually made with one's knuckles. -2. MUSIC a type of pop music with a heavy beat, in which the words are spoken, not sung □ a rap artist. -3. to take the rap to be blamed or punished for something bad, even if one did not do it □ Don't expect me to take the rap for your mistakes. ◇ vt [door, table] to hit <sthg> many times quickly, often using one's knuckles. ◇ vi -1. to rap on sthg [on a door, table] to rap sthg. -2. MUSIC to speak the words that go with rap music.

rapacious [rə'peɪʃəs] adj [person] who is very greedy, especially in relation to money (formal use).

rape [reɪp] ◇ vt [person] to force <sb> to have sex, especially by using violence □ She was raped at knifepoint. ◇ n -1. [of a person] the crime of raping somebody □ He has a conviction for rape. □ There have been a series of rapes in the area. □ a rape victim/attack. -2. the rape of the countryside/forests etc damage done to the countryside/forests etc. -3. (oilseed) rape a plant with bright yellow flowers whose seeds produce oil.

rapeseed ['reɪpsi:d] n the seed of the rape plant.

Raphael ['ræfeɪəl] (1483–1520) an Italian painter who is considered one of the greatest artists of the Renaissance.

rapid ['ræpəd] adj [movement, decline, change] that happens very quickly □ She underwent a rapid recovery.

◆ rapids npl the parts of a river where the water moves very fast.

rapid-fire adj -1. [gun] that can fire shots very quickly. -2. [questions, jokes] that are spoken very quickly.

rapidity [rə'pɪdətɪ] n: see rapid □ The rapidity of change is something that can overwhelm people.

- rapidly ['ræpɪdli] adv [move, speak] quickly □ Carla is rapidly becoming a very good dancer.
- rapist ['reɪpɪst] n a person who has raped somebody.
- rappel ['ræpəl] vi US to go down a cliff, steep slope etc by sliding down a rope and pushing against the surface with one's feet.
- rapper ['ræpə] n a singer who performs rap.
- rapport ['ræpɔ:] n a friendly relationship between people in which each person understands what the other person is thinking or feeling □ They had built up a good rapport with their assistants. □ There is a wonderful rapport between the two of them.
- rapprochement [US 'ræprɔʃ'mɒn, GB ræ'prɔʃ'mɒn] n the beginning of friendly relations between two countries, people etc after a period when they were not friends.
- rap sheet n US an official form on which the police list the charges against an accused person (informal use).
- rapt [ræpt] adj [attention, silence, look] that shows that one is concentrating and is very interested in or impressed by something.
- rapture ['ræptʃə] n a feeling of great joy. ■ to go into raptures over sb/sthg to talk about sb/sthg in a way that shows one likes them very much.
- rapturous ['ræptʃərəs] adj [welcome, applause, reaction] that shows a lot of excitement and enthusiasm.
- Rapunzel [rə'pʌnzl] a young girl in a fairy tale who is being kept prisoner in a tower. She hangs her hair out of the window and a prince climbs up it to rescue her.
- rare [ræə] adj -1. [plant, specimen, book] that is not found in many places and so is interesting or valuable □ These candlesticks are very rare. -2. [exception, occurrence, visit] that does not happen often □ It's rare to find a good restaurant in these parts. -3. [quality, beauty, talent] that is special and unusual □ Such commitment is rare these days. -4. COOKING [beef, steak] that has been cooked for a short time so that the inside is still red □ "How would you like your steak?" — "Rare, please."
- rarefied ['reəriəfaɪd] adj -1. [air, atmosphere] that contains less oxygen than usual, especially because it is in a high place. -2. [place, subject] that involves people who are different from ordinary people because they are very rich, powerful, intelligent etc □ in the rarefied atmosphere of an Oxford college.
- rarely ['reəli] adv not often □ We rarely see each other.
- rareness ['reənəs] n [of a species, visit, somebody's beauty] see rare.
- raring ['reəriŋ] adj to be raring to go to be very eager to start.
- rarity ['reəriəti] (pl rarities) n something that is unusual because one does not often see it, find it etc □ The species is fast becoming a rarity.
- rascal [US 'ræskl, GB 'rɑ:skl] n a person, especially a child, who behaves badly but does not really make people angry □ Keep still, you little rascal!
- rash [ræʃ] ◇ adj [person, decision, move] that shows a lack of careful thought and is not sensible □ Don't do anything rash. ◇ n -1. [on one's skin] an area of redness or pimples on one's skin that is caused by an illness or allergy □ After drinking the wine, Sally broke out in a terrible rash. -2. a rash of crimes/complaints etc a large number of crimes/complaints etc that happen within a short time □ There has been a rash of explosions in the capital.
- rasher ['ræʃə] n GB a slice of bacon.
- rashly ['ræʃli] adv [behave, decide] see rash □ I rather rashly promised to go and see Jane's film.
- rashness ['ræʃnəs] n [of a promise, decision] see rash.
- rasp [US ræsp, GB rɑ:sp] ◇ n a harsh unpleasant sound, e.g. of somebody coughing or of metal rubbing against something. ◇ vi [person, voice, metal] to make a rasp.
- raspberry [US 'ræzbəri, GB 'rɑ:zbəri] (pl raspberries) n -1. a small, soft, red fruit that grows on bushes that have thorns □ a raspberry-flavored candy. -2. to blow a raspberry to make a loud sound by putting one's tongue out between one's lips and blowing, usually to show that one does not like or respect somebody or something.
- rasping [US 'ræspɪŋ, GB 'rɑ:sp-] adj [voice, sound] that is harsh and unpleasant.
- Rasputin [ræ'spju:tɪn] (1871–1916) a Russian monk, famous for his sexual adventures, political corruption, and strong influence over the Russian royal family.
- Rasta ['ræstə] n a Rastafarian (informal use).
- Rastafarian [ˌræstə'feəriən] n a member of the religion that worships Haile Selassie, the former emperor of Ethiopia, as God.
- rat [ræt] n -1. an animal that looks like a large mouse and has a long tail. ■ to smell a rat to begin to think that something is wrong, e.g. because one is being tricked. -2. a person who one is angry with because one feels betrayed or deceived by them (informal use) □ You rat!
- ratchet ['rætʃət] n a wheel or bar, used in machinery, that has sloping teeth and a piece of metal between two of them that allows it to turn in one direction, but not the other.
- rate [reɪt] ◇ n -1. the speed at which something happens during a certain period of time □ At this rate, we'll never get there! -2. [of growth, inflation] the amount of something measured against other factors, especially time □ the suicide/divorce rate □ The rate of unemployment/inflation has fallen again this month. -3. [of taxation, interest] a fixed level that is used to decide how much must be paid for something □ What's the (going) rate for this type of work? □ 'Reduced rates for groups.'
- ◇ vt -1. to consider <sb/sthg> to be of a particular level, standard etc □ I would rate him as one of the Hollywood greats. □ She's rated among the top ten players of all time. □ "How

- do you rate her chances?" — "Not good, I'm afraid." □ She's very highly rated as a doctor.
- 2. [mention, attention] to deserve <sthg> □ This is a full-bodied young wine that certainly rates a bronze medal.
- ◆ at any rate adv a phrase used to show that what one is about to say is more certain or more precise or important than what one has just said □ Come over for dinner, or for a drink at any rate.
- rate of exchange n the rate at which one country's currency can be exchanged for another country's currency.
- ratepayer ['reɪtpeɪə] n GB a person who pays taxes to their local government.
- rather [US 'ræðr, GB 'rɑːðə] adv & predet -1. [embarrassing, big, hot] to some degree, but not very □ It was rather cold/rather a cold day. □ I rather enjoyed that. □ I have rather a lot of work to do. -2. a word used to emphasize that something is true □ She's really rather interesting, isn't she? -3. I would rather... a phrase used to say what one would prefer □ I'd rather have fish than red meat. □ We'd rather he didn't come, actually. □ "Try some of this brandy." — "I'd rather not, thanks." -4. or rather... or more exactly... □ Have you met Belinda's brother, or rather, stepbrother? -5. (but) rather... on the contrary... □ We do not want to victimize vagrants, but rather to help them.
- ◆ rather than conj instead of □ We decided to walk rather than take the bus.
- ratification [ˌrætəfə'keɪʃn] n: see ratify □ Officials are seeking full ratification of the agreement.
- ratify ['rætəfaɪ] (pt & pp ratified) vt [agreement, treaty, proposal] to accept <sthg> officially by signing it.
- rating ['reɪtɪŋ] n -1. the position held by somebody or something on a scale of quality or quantity □ His popularity rating has plunged since the election. -2. GB a sailor in the British navy who is not an officer.
- ◆ ratings npl the lists published in newspapers which show how many people watch or listen to particular television and radio programs each week.
- ratio ['reɪʃiəʊ] (pl ratios) n the relationship between two amounts that is shown by two figures □ The ratio of boys to girls is 10 to 8. □ a high teacher-to-student ratio.
- ration ['ræʃn] ◇ n [of food, goods, gas] an amount of something that is given to each person when there is not much of it, especially during a war □ Rations have been imposed in some areas of the country. ◇ vt [food, gas, goods] to limit the amount of <sthg> that each person is allowed to have during a particular period of time □ We must ration ourselves to two whiskies.
- ◆ rations npl the amount of food given to a soldier, sailor etc for each day.
- rational ['ræʃnəl] adj [behavior, explanation, argument] that is based on thought using reason and logic, not emotions; [person] who can think and understand things using reason and logic, and is not controlled by their emotions □ It's perfectly rational that you should feel the way you do. □ Try to be rational about it.
- rationale [ˌræʃə'næl] n the reasons which explain a belief, system, or action □ I don't understand the rationale behind their behavior.
- rationalization [US ˌræʃnəlaɪ'zeɪʃn, GB -aɪ'zeɪʃn] n: see rationalize □ Further rationalization may be necessary to safeguard the firm's future.
- rationalize, -ise ['ræʃnəlaɪz] vt -1. [behavior, decision] to try to justify <sthg> so that it seems reasonable; [problem] to try to understand <sthg> in a logical way □ Curtis rationalized his spending by saying he was depressed. -2. [company, industry] to make <sthg> more efficient, especially by reducing the number of staff or amount of equipment needed for it.
- rationing ['ræʃnɪŋ] n [of food, goods] the system of giving people rations of something when there is not much of it.
- rat race n a way of life in a city in which everybody works all the time doing boring jobs in offices and nobody feels happy, relaxed, or safe (disapproving use) □ I want to get out of the rat race.
- rattle ['rætɪ] ◇ n -1. [of keys, bottles, an engine] a sound made by small hard objects hitting each other or the surface of another object very quickly a number of times □ the rattle of machine-gun fire. -2. [for a baby] a baby's toy with small pieces inside that rattle when it is shaken. ◇ vi [bottles, keys, engine] to move and make a rattle □ The door rattles when the wind blows. ◇ vt -1. [keys, window] to move <sthg> so that it rattles. -2. [person] to make <sb> feel nervous or uncomfortable □ Ann is not easily rattled.
- ◆ rattle off vt sep to rattle sthg off [names, speech, poem] to say sthg quickly from memory □ She rattled off a list of the people she wanted to invite.
- ◆ rattle on vi to rattle on to talk quickly and for a long time about something that is not interesting to other people □ He was rattling on about his girlfriend or something.
- ◆ rattle through vt fus to rattle through sthg [work, speech, list] to deal with sthg quickly in order to finish it.
- rattler ['rætɪlə] n US = rattlesnake (informal use).
- rattlesnake ['rætlzneɪk] n a poisonous American snake that makes the sound of a rattle with the end of its tail.
- ratty ['ræti] (compar rattier, superl rattiest) adj -1. [person] who becomes annoyed easily (informal use) □ Hugo's always ratty in the mornings. -2. US [sweater, piece of paper] that is in bad condition because it has been used a lot and is old.
- raucous ['rɔːkəs] adj [laughter, behavior, occasion] that is wild, rough, and noisy.
- raunchy ['rɔːntʃɪ] (compar raunchier, superl raunchiest) adj [singer, movie, dance] that one finds sexually exciting.
- ravage ['rævɪdʒ] vt to be ravaged by sthg to be badly damaged by sthg □ The region has been ravaged by war/drought.

- ◆ ravages npl the ravages of time/war etc the damage caused by time/war etc.
- rave [reɪv] ◇ vi -1. to rave about OR against sthg to speak angrily about sthg □ He raved about media bias. □ She raved (on) at me for half an hour. -2. to rave about sthg to talk or write very enthusiastically about sthg □ Everybody's raving about his latest movie. ◇ adj rave reviews newspaper or magazine articles that are extremely enthusiastic about a particular new movie, book etc □ As expected, the show got rave reviews in the press. ◇ n GB a large organized event that lasts all night, often outdoors, where young people dance to electronic music with a fast rhythm and sometimes take drugs.
- raven ['reɪvn] ◇ adj [hair] black and shiny □ a raven-haired woman. ◇ n a large black bird that makes a harsh sound.
- ravenous ['rævənəs] adj [person, animal] who is very hungry □ Is dinner ready? I'm ravenous!
- raver ['reɪvə] n GB a person who goes to raves (informal use).
- ravine [rə'vi:n] n a very deep narrow valley with steep sides.
- raving ['reɪvɪŋ] adj a raving lunatic a person who is completely crazy.
- ◆ ravings npl things that somebody says that do not make any sense, because the person is crazy or not logical and reasonable □ Don't mind what he says — it's just the ravings of a bitter old man.
- ravioli [ˌrævɪ'ouli] n an Italian dish consisting of small squares of pasta with a filling of meat or cheese, that is usually served in a sauce □ We're having ravioli for lunch.
- ravish ['rævɪʃ] vt -1. to rape  (literary use). -2. to be ravished by sthg [by a view, painting] to get great pleasure from sthg that one thinks is very beautiful.
- ravishing ['rævɪʃɪŋ] adj [person, beauty] that is very beautiful and attractive □ You look ravishing.
- raw [rɔ:] adj -1. [vegetable, fish, meat] that has not been cooked □ I prefer to eat it raw. -2. [sewage, cotton] that is in its natural state and has not been treated by a particular process. -3. [skin, wound] that is sore and sensitive. -4. [recruit, novice] who does not have much experience or is not yet trained, and is usually young. -5. [weather, wind] that is cold and unpleasant.
- raw deal n to get a raw deal to be treated unfairly □ Sandra got a really raw deal over that promotion business.
- RawiplugTM ['rɔ:plʌg] n GB a small, hollow, plastic device that holds a screw tightly in a hole.
- raw material n -1. any natural substance, e.g. coal or oil, that is used to make something after it has been treated in a particular way. -2. somebody or something that can be changed or developed for a particular purpose □ Her marriage provided her with raw material for the novel.
- ray [reɪ] n -1. [of light, sunshine, heat] a beam of light or heat □ This cream will provide protection from the rays of the sun. -2. a ray of hope/comfort etc a small amount of hope/comfort etc that makes a bad situation seem better.
- rayon ['reɪɒn] n a smooth material, made of cotton, wool, or synthetic fiber, that is used to make clothes.
- raze [reɪz] vt [building, town, forest] to destroy  completely, so that nothing is left above the ground □ The house was razed to the ground.
- razor ['reɪzə] n a device containing one or more blades that is used for shaving hair from one's skin □ an electric razor □ a disposable razor.
- razor blade n a thin flat piece of metal with very sharp edges that is used in a razor for shaving.
- razor-sharp adj -1. [knife, blade, edge] that is extremely sharp. -2. [person, mind, wit] that is extremely quick and intelligent.
- razzmatazz ['ræzmətæz] n busy and noisy activity that is intended to attract attention and interest to something (informal use) □ the razzmatazz of show business/Hollywood.
- R & B n abbr of rhythm and blues □ an R & B singer.
- RBI (abbr of runs batted in) n the total number of baseball runs a batter helps another player to make by hitting the ball.
- RC adj abbr of Roman Catholic.
- RCA (abbr of Royal College of Art) n the RCA an important art school in London.
- RCAF n abbr of Royal Canadian Air Force.
- RCMP (abbr of Royal Canadian Mounted Police) n the RCMP the official name of the Mounties.
- RCN n -1. (abbr of Royal College of Nursing) the RCN a professional association for nurses in Britain. -2. abbr of Royal Canadian Navy.
- Rd abbr of Road.
- R & D n abbr of research and development.
- RE n -1. (abbr of religious education) religion taught as a subject in schools in Britain. -2. (abbr of Royal Engineers) the RE the department of the British army responsible for building bridges, fortifications etc.
- re [ri:] prep with reference to <sthg> (formal use) □ Re your letter of June 6th □ Re: job application.
- re- prefix added to words to show that something is done again □ re-evaluation.
- reach [ri:tʃ] ◇ vt -1. [destination, country] to arrive at  □ We reached L.A. just before midnight. -2. [object, shelf] to succeed in touching, taking etc <sthg> by stretching one's arm toward it □ Do you think you can reach it without a ladder? -3. [person] to contact <sb>, usually by telephone □ You can always reach me at this number. □ Where can I reach you this evening? -4. [height, speed, age] to be as high, big, fast etc as ; [stage, situation] to get to  as a result of what has happened □ The water reached the edge of the bath. □ Inflation has reached record levels. -5. [decision, agreement] to succeed in achieving <sthg> after some time and effort □ There is still hope that the delegates may reach a compromise.

◇ vi -1. [person, arm, hand] to stretch out in a particular direction to do something or to get something □ He reached across the table for the salt. □ I reached down to pick up the papers. -2. [land] to extend to a particular place □ The fields reach all the way down to the river.

◇ n [of a person] the distance to which somebody can stretch a part of their body, especially their arm □ He had an unusually long reach for such a short man. ■ to be within reach [object] to be close enough to be touched; [place] to be close enough to travel to in a short time □ The shelf was just within (my) reach. □ The airport is within easy reach of the city center. ■ to be out of OR beyond sb's reach [object] to be too far away to be touched; [place] to be too far away to be traveled to in a short time □ The switch was just out of my reach. □ That area of the coastline is beyond our reach.

◆ reaches npl the part of a region or a river that is in a particular place □ the lower reaches of the Potomac.

reachable ['ri:tʃəbl] adj [place] that can be reached in a particular way; [person] who can be contacted in a particular way □ Is it reachable by boat? □ He's reachable at the following number.

react [rɪ'ækt] vi -1. to behave in a particular way because of something that has been done or said □ How did he react to your suggestion/offer/accusations? □ Matt didn't react very well when I told him. -2. to react against sthg to behave deliberately in a way that is opposite to or different from sthg □ It was his way of reacting against his Catholic upbringing. -3. to react with sthg [substance] to change chemically when it is mixed with sthg □ The acid reacts with the metal. -4. to react to sthg [to a drug, substance] to be affected in a particular way or made ill by sthg □ She reacted very badly to the anesthetic.

reaction [rɪ'ækʃn] n -1. [to a suggestion, event, statement] the way in which somebody reacts to something that has been done or said □ What was their reaction to the news? -2. [against the past] something that one does or thinks that is deliberately different from or opposed to what has happened before □ This was seen as a reaction against the materialism of their parents' generation. -3. POLITICS the strong belief that there should be no political or social change (disapproving use) □ the forces of reaction. -4. CHEMISTRY the way in which two substances combine chemically to have a particular effect □ a chemical reaction. -5. MEDICINE the unpleasant effects of a drug, substance etc on a patient □ I had a reaction to the penicillin.

◆ reactions npl the speed with which one can move one's body to react to a particular action or situation, especially when one is in danger or during a game □ Too much drink can slow down your reactions.

reactionary [US rɪ'ækʃənəri, GB -əri] (disapproving use) ◇ n a person who is opposed to political or social change. ◇ adj [person, government, politics] reactionary forces within society.

reactivate [rɪ'æktɪveɪt] vt [system, machine] to make <sthg> start working again.

reactor [rɪ'æktə] n = nuclear reactor.

read [ri:d] (pt & pp read [red]) ◇ vt -1. [book, word, music] to look at and understand <sthg> written in words or symbols; to say aloud the words and symbols of <sthg> so that other people can hear □ Sarah sat reading the newspaper. □ I can't read her writing. □ Have you read the piece in the New York Times? -2. to show  in the form of words or symbols □ The sign read 'Trespassers will be prosecuted.' -3. [mood, thoughts, events] to understand and interpret <sthg> in a particular way □ I thought you read the situation very well. -4. [clock, meter, gauge] to look at  and record the measurement or amount that it shows. -5. GB EDUCATION [law, languages, philosophy] to study  at university.

◇ vi -1. [person] to read a book, magazine etc □ Sh! I'm reading! □ Last night, I read to my daughter. -2. [book, letter] to be written in a particular way □ It reads well/badly.

◇ n to be a good read [novel, story] to be very enjoyable to read.

◆ read into vt sep to read sthg into sthg [into a decision, comment] to think that sthg is one of the meanings, causes etc of sthg else □ I wouldn't try to read too much into what she says.

◆ read out vt sep to read sthg out [letter, story, news] to read sthg aloud so that other people can hear it □ Could you read it out for us?

◆ read up on vt fus to read up on sthg to read a lot about sthg in order to know it well □ I've been reading up on Mexican history before my trip.

readable ['ri:dəbl] adj -1. [book, article] that is pleasant and easy to read □ She has a very readable style. -2. COMPUTING [disk] that can be scanned and copied from.

readdress [ri:'dres] vt [letter, package] to write a new address on <sthg> so that it can be delivered to the correct place.

reader ['ri:də] n -1. a person who reads often, especially as a hobby. -2. [of a book, magazine, newspaper] a person who reads a particular publication □ a special offer for our readers.

readership ['ri:dəʃɪp] n [of a book, newspaper, magazine] all the people who buy and read a particular publication □ The Glasgow Times has a readership of 50,000.

readily ['redɪli] adv -1. [accept, agree] willingly. -2. to be readily available/understood etc to be easy to get/understand etc quickly.

readiness ['redɪnəs] n -1. the state of being prepared for something □ We waited in readiness for the next attack. -2. a willingness to do something □ Her readiness to help was much appreciated.

reading ['ri:dɪŋ] n -1. the activity of reading □

I've got some reading to do. -2. written or printed material that can be read □ This makes interesting reading. -3. [for a group of people] an event where a text is read aloud for other people to hear; a text, especially one from the Bible, that is chosen to be read out loud □ We went to a poetry reading last night. □ a reading from the Gospel. -4. [from a gauge, meter] a measurement that is shown by a gauge, thermometer etc □ We need to take a light reading first. -5. POLITICS a stage in the passage of a bill before it is passed.

reading lamp, reading light n a lamp whose light can be pointed toward the thing that one is reading or writing.

reading room n a room in a library or large house where people can sit and read.

readjust [ˌriːə'dʒʌst] ◇ vt [policy, mirror, mechanism] to change <sthg> in order to make it work better. ◇ vi [person] to become used to something again after being away from it or in different circumstances □ On her return, she found it hard to readjust to village life.

readmit [ˌriːəd'mɪt] vt [customer, member] to allow <sb> back into a place such as a bar or nightclub; [patient] to bring <sb> back into hospital for more treatment, tests etc.

read-only memory n → ROM.

readout [ˌriːdaʊt] n the printed information that comes out of a computer.

read-through [ˌriːd-] n the act of reading something quickly to get an idea of its subject, style etc.

ready [ˈredi] (pt & pp readied) ◇ adj -1. to be ready [person, meal] to be prepared or finished □ When will the tunnel be ready? □ Are you ready to go through with it? □ I'm afraid the prints still aren't ready for collection. ■ to get ready to prepare oneself for something □ It takes him hours to get ready. ■ to get sb/sthg ready to prepare sb/sthg □ I'll have your dinner ready for you. □ I'm just getting the kids ready for school. -2. to be ready to do sthg to be willing to do sthg □ They were more than ready to help. -3. to be ready for sthg [for a drink, break] to need sthg □ I'm ready for bed after all that walking. -4. to be ready to do sthg [to explode, collapse, cry] to be likely to do sthg □ I was ready to scream with frustration. -5. [smile, answer, wit] that one can produce easily □ You're always ready with an excuse, aren't you? ◇ vt [system, machine, organization] to prepare <sthg> for a particular purpose.

ready cash n money in the form of coins or bills that can be used immediately, rather than credit cards, checks etc.

ready-made adj -1. [product, clothing] that can be used immediately and needs no extra preparation. -2. [reply, excuse] that is very useful in a particular situation.

ready money n = ready cash.

ready-to-wear adj [clothing, garment] that can be worn without any extra work being done on it.

reaffirm [ˌriːə'fɜːm] vt [commitment, opposition, principles] to state <sthg> again in order to make it clearer.

reafforestation [ˌriːə'fɒrə'steɪʃn] n GB = reforestation.

Reaganomics [ˌreɪɡən'ɒmɪks] n the economic policies of the USA when Ronald Reagan was president, from 1981 to 1989.

real [riəl] ◇ adj -1. [leather, gold, chocolate] that is what it seems to be and is not an imitation □ This diamond on my finger is the real thing! □ made with real apricots. -2. [nature, person, country] that is the most important part of a person, place, or thing □ I want to get to know the real Spain/you. -3. [job, feeling] that is serious and important □ Stanley's drinking is becoming a real problem. -4. [danger, life, possibility] that exists or is true and is not something that people only think is true or exists □ "Jones" is not her real name, of course. □ There's a very real risk of this happening. -5. in real terms ECONOMICS a phrase used to talk about the value of a sum of money after the effect of inflation has been considered □ Salaries have fallen by 25% in real terms since 1979. -6. a word used to emphasize a description or statement □ He's a real pain! ◇ adv US very (informal use) □ This cake is real good. □ It was real good to see you.

◆ for real adj & adv a phrase used to emphasize that something is serious and is what it seems to be, rather than an imitation, joke etc (informal use) □ This time it's for real.

real ale n GB beer made using traditional methods.

real estate n property in the form of land and houses.

real estate agency n US a company that sells or rents houses and apartments for the owners.

real estate agent n US a person who works in a real estate agency.

realign [ˌriːə'laɪn] vt -1. POLITICS [party, forces] to arrange  in a new way. -2. AUTO to arrange <the brakes> of a vehicle so that they work better together.

realignment [ˌriːə'laɪnmənt] n: see realign.

realism [ˌriːəlɪzəm] n: see realistic □ the stark realism of the book.

realist [ˌriːələst] n a person who is realistic.

realistic [ˌriːə'lɪstɪk] adj -1. [person] who understands and accepts things as they are and deals with situations in a sensible way □ We have to be realistic about our chances of success. -2. [painting, movie, effect] that is convincing because it looks very similar to what it represents.

realistically [ˌriːə'lɪstɪkli] adv -1. [consider, think] in a way that shows one is realistic. -2. [paint, portray] see realistic. -3. a word used to talk about something in a way that shows one accepts things as they really are, even if this is hard □ Realistically, how much hope is there?

reality [ri:'æləti] (pl realities) n -1. the quality or state of being real and true □ Our dreams had become reality. ■ in reality a phrase used to correct or contrast the truth with something that only seems true; a phrase used to talk about real life when this is different from what happens in stories, dreams etc □ He seemed sad, although in reality he felt relieved. □ I can't imagine such things happening in reality. -2. the truth of a situation, especially when it is unpleasant or not wanted □ When are you going to face up to reality? □ The reality is that you knew about Corby's plans all the time. -3. a situation that actually exists □ The reality was much worse than anything I'd imagined. □ life's harsh realities.

realization [US ˌri:ələ'zeɪʃn, GB -aɪ'zeɪʃn] n: see realize □ I came to the sudden realization that I would never see Tomas again.

realize, -ise ['ri:əlaɪz] vt -1. [fact, implications, significance] to notice and understand <sthg>, often when one did not know about it before □ I didn't realize (that) you were married. □ Do you realize the seriousness of the situation? □ I hope you realize what you're letting yourself in for. -2. [ambition, aim, hope] to succeed in achieving <sthg that one wanted> □ Her dream of seeing the Caribbean again was finally realized. -3. [amount, profit] to get  by selling something □ We realized a large profit from the sale.

reallocate [ˌri:ˌæləkeɪt] vt [funds, money, aid] to use <resources> for a different purpose from the one originally intended.

really ['ri:əlɪ] ◇ adv -1. a word used to emphasize what is being said □ I really should call them. □ The weather's been really horrible today. □ That's a really good idea. -2. a word used to emphasize the truth, especially when this is different from what seems to be true □ He claims to have lost it, but really he's hidden it. □ What's she really like? -3. a word used to emphasize that one is telling the truth □ I like it, really I do. □ Do you really think he'll be able to get us tickets? -4. a word used in negative statements to make them less strong and avoid being rude □ I don't really agree with you on that. □ I'm not really sure that's a good idea. ◇ excl -1. a word used to show that one is not certain about something or does not believe it □ Really? Are you sure? -2. a word used to show that one is interested or surprised □ Really? Who'd have thought it! -3. a word used to show that one disapproves of something or is annoyed □ Really! How rude can you get!

realm [reɪlm] n -1. [of science, imagination] an area of study, thought, or interest. □ It was a scene beyond the realms of fantasy. -2. a country that is ruled by a king or queen.

real-time adj COMPUTING [processing, programing] that is almost immediate.

realtor ['ri:əltə] n US a person who sells real estate.

ream [ri:m] n -1. US 500 sheets of paper. -2. GB 480 sheets of paper.

◆ reams npl a large amount of written material □ She's written reams of notes.

reap [ri:p] vt -1. [corn, wheat] to cut and gather . -2. to reap the benefits/rewards etc to get the benefits/rewards etc of one's hard work or planning □ This year DNF looks set to reap the benefits of an aggressive marketing campaign.

reappear [ˌri:ə'piə] vi to appear again.

reappearance [ˌri:ə'piərəns] n: see reappear.

reapply [ˌri:ə'plai] (pt & pp reapplied) vi to apply for a job, place on a course etc again.

reappraisal [ˌri:ə'preɪzɪl] n: see reappraise.

reappraise [ˌri:ə'preɪz] vt [ideas, policy, situation] to consider <sthg> carefully again to decide whether to change it.

rear [riə] ◇ adj [door, wheel, window] that is at the back of something or behind it. ◇ n -1. [of a building, vehicle] the back of something □ I was standing at the rear of the house.

■ to bring up the rear to be the last person in a moving line of people □ You go first and I'll bring up the rear. -2. [of a person] one's buttocks (polite or humorous use). ◇ vt -1. to take care of  until it is fully grown □ They rear horses in Texas. -2. to rear its ugly head to appear (disapproving use) □ Racism has reared its ugly head again. ◇ vi to rear (up) [horse] to stand on its back legs.

rear admiral n an officer in the navy, ranked below a vice admiral.

rearguard action ['riə'ɡɑ:d'ɪd] n -1. MILITARY the protection of an army when it is retreating by the group of soldiers at the back. -2. resistance against something that is happening, when it is probably too late.

rear light n the light at the back of a vehicle.

rearm [ri:'ɑ:m] ◇ vt [country, army, troops] to provide <sb> with new or better military weapons to prepare them for fighting, usually after a period of peace. ◇ vi [country, army, troops] There are reports that the guerillas are rearming.

rearmament [ri:'ɑ:məmənt] n: see rearm.

rearmost ['riə'məʊst] adj [seat, car] that is nearest to the back part of something.

rearrange [ˌri:ə'reɪndʒ] vt -1. [room, furniture] to arrange <sthg> differently □ I see you've rearranged things to make the room look bigger. -2. [appointment, meeting] to arrange for <sthg> to happen at a different time or date □ If you can't make 3pm we may have to rearrange it for another day.

rearrangement [ˌri:ə'reɪndʒmənt] n: see rearrange.

rearview mirror ['riə'vju:ɪ] n the mirror inside a car which makes it possible for one to see traffic behind while one is driving.

reason ['ri:zn] ◇ n -1. the cause of something, or the explanation or excuse for something □ What was your reason for thinking that? □ Give me one good reason why I should trust you. □ "Why do you ask?" — "Oh, no reason." □ She was upset, and with (good) reason. □ We have reason to believe there was a racist motive behind the attack. ■ by reason of because of □ The Treasurer was invited by reason of his office. ■ for some reason for a reason that is not clear □ For some reason she didn't seem to want to talk to me. -2. the ability to think sensibly and make judgments □ His behavior defies all reason. ■ to listen to reason to accept the advice of somebody who is being more reasonable □ I've tried telling him, but he just won't listen to reason. ■ it stands to reason it is obvious, because it is a logical result of something □ It stands to reason that she'd say that, doesn't it?

◇ vt to reason (that)... to think or say that something must be true if one considers all the facts □ Bianca reasoned that it would be cheaper to rent a car.

◇ vi to use one's ability to think sensibly and make judgments.

◆ reason with vt to reason with sb to try calmly to persuade sb to do something or to agree to something that one thinks is sensible □ It's no use, you can't reason with him.

reasonable ['ri:znəbl] adj -1. [person, behavior, attitude] that is sensible and fair □ Come on, be reasonable, she only asked if she could borrow it! -2. [quality, price] that is good enough to be acceptable □ There's a very reasonable restaurant nearby. -3. [amount, number] that is fairly large □ I think a reasonable number of people will be interested.

reasonably ['ri:znəblɪ] adv -1. reasonably large/well etc fairly large/well etc □ He's a reasonably good pianist. -2. [behave, think] sensibly and fairly □ You can't reasonably expect them to pay more. □ a reasonably priced meal.

reasoned ['ri:znd] adj [argument, explanation] that is based on sensible thought and judgment.

reasoning ['ri:znɪŋ] n the process of thought that one uses to come to a particular decision or conclusion □ What's the reasoning behind that decision?

reassemble [,ri:'sembl] ◇ vt -1. to put  etc back together again. -2. to gather <people> together again. ◇ vi [people, troops, meeting] Let's reassemble at five o'clock.

reassess [,ri:'ses] vt [opinion, position, situation] to consider <sthg> again in order to decide whether change is needed.

reassessment [,ri:'sesmənt] n: see reassess □ Now is the time for a reassessment of our aims.

reassurance [,ri:'ʃʊərəns] n -1. words spoken to reassure somebody □ It is normal for the child to seek reassurance from its parents. -2. an unofficial promise □ They wanted a reassurance that the bill would be paid.

reassure [,ri:'ʃʊə] vt to make <sb> less worried or frightened about something □ I reassured him that everything would be all right.

reassuring [,ri:'ʃʊərɪŋ] adj [person, look, smile] that makes one feel less worried or frightened.

reawaken [,ri:'əweɪkən] vt [concern, interest, feelings] to make people think about or feel <sthg> again.

rebate ['ri:beɪt] n an amount of money that is paid back to somebody because they have paid more than necessary □ a rent/tax rebate.

rebel [n 'rebl, vb rɪ'bel] (pt & pp rebelled, cont rebell) ◇ n -1. MILITARY a person who fights against their own government in order to change the political system. -2. a person who behaves differently from other people and seems to be opposed to authority, their parents, or society. ◇ vi -1. MILITARY to fight against one's own government in order to change the political system. -2. to behave differently from one's family or society as a sign that one disagrees with their beliefs and values □ She rebelled against her strict religious upbringing.

rebellion [rɪ'belɪən] n an act of rebelling □ The army was called in to put down the rebellion. □ It's a simple case of teenage rebellion.

rebellious [rɪ'belɪəs] adj [army, person] that rebels □ She's going through a rebellious phase.

rebirth [,ri:'bɜ:tθ] n [of a nation, movement, organization] a process or period of developing into something new and better.

reboot [,ri:'bu:t] ◇ vt to start  again, usually because something has gone wrong with the way it is working. ◇ vi: Press this key to reboot.

rebound [n 'ri:baʊnd, vb rɪ'baʊnd] ◇ n on the rebound while the ball is bouncing back; while somebody is still recovering from something very upsetting, especially the ending of a love affair □ She caught the ball on the rebound. □ He met and married her on the rebound. ◇ vi -1. [ball] to bounce back □ The cork rebounded off the ceiling. -2. to rebound on or upon sb [action, behavior, situation] to have a bad effect on sb.

rebuff [rɪ'bu:f] ◇ vt [person, offer, suggestion] to reject <sb/sthg> in an unkind or rude way. ◇ n the act of rebuffing somebody or something □ Her offer was met with a rebuff.

rebuild [ri:'bɪld] (pt & pp rebuilt [-'bɪlt]) vt [building, political party, confidence] to develop <sthg> again, usually after damage, destruction, or a crisis.

rebuke [rɪ'bjʊ:k] ◇ vt to speak angrily to <sb> and criticize them for doing something wrong □ The army was rebuked for its treatment of the refugees. ◇ n: a stern rebuke.

rebut [rɪ'bu:t] (pt & pp rebutted, cont rebutting) vt [charge, criticism, claim] to say that <sthg> is not true or justified.

rebuttal [rɪ'bu:tɪl] n a statement that rebuts something.

rec abbr of received.

recalcitrant [rɪ'kælsɪtrənt] adj [person] who is stubborn, disobedient, and uncooperative.

recall [rɪ'kɔ:l] ◇ n -1. the ability to remember things □ She had a few hazy memories, but most of the events of that day were beyond recall. -2. to be beyond recall to be impossible to change back to the way it was in the past. ◇ vt -1. [fact, occasion, name] to remember <sb/sthg> □ Yes, I recall writing to them. □ Do you recall when it was? -2. [ambassador, troops] to order <sb> to return from somewhere.

recant [rɪ'kænt] ◇ vt [statement, religion, opinion] to say in public that one has stopped believ-

- ing in <sthg>. ◇ vi: Galileo recanted under threat of torture.
- recap ['ri:kæp] (pt & pp recapped, cont recapping) ◇ n [of a statement, argument] a summary of something. ◇ vt -1. to repeat <the main points of an argument, statement> etc. -2. US to put a new outer surface on . ◇ vi (informal use) Just to recap, here are the main points.
- recapitulate [ˌri:kə'pɪtʃəleɪt] ◇ vt to repeat <the main points of an argument, statement> etc. ◇ vi: So, let me recapitulate for those of you who arrived late.
- recapture [ri:'kæptʃə] ◇ vt -1. [town, area] to capture  again by attacking the people who hold it. -2. [lion, prisoner] to capture  after they have escaped. -3. [mood, romance, atmosphere] to have or create  again □ The movie manages to recapture the confusion and chaos of the period. ◇ n: We are receiving reports of the recapture of Gorazde.
- recd, rec'd abbr of received.
- recede [ri:'si:d] vi -1. [person, coastline, car] to move, or appear to move into the distance until one can no longer see it □ The car's lights receded into the distance. -2. [hope, danger, chance] to decrease. -3. [hair] to gradually stop growing at the front of one's head □ John's hair is receding.
- receding [ri:'si:dɪŋ] adj [chin, forehead] that slopes backward.
- receipt [ri:'si:t] n -1. a piece of paper that proves that money or goods have been received □ 'Refunds only available with a receipt.' -2. the act of receiving something □ I acknowledge receipt of the letter. □ Your order will be sent on receipt of payment.
- ◆ receipts npl the money spent by people in a store, theater, cinema, at a sporting event etc □ Last week we took $6,000 in receipts.
- receivable [ri:'si:vəbl] adj [bill, debt] that requires money to be paid.
- receive [ri:'si:v] ◇ vt -1. [money, gift, attention] to be given <sthg> □ The matter will receive my fullest consideration. -2. [letter, phone call] to be contacted by somebody using <sthg>. ■ to receive news of sb/sthg to be contacted by somebody who tells one how sb/sthg is progressing. -3. [criticism, injury, setback] to experience <sthg> □ The author has received a number of death threats. -4. [visitor, guest, new member] to welcome <sb>. -5. to be well/badly received [person, play, news] to get a good/bad reaction. ◇ vi SPORT to be the player in a game of tennis who must hit the ball back after it has been served.
- receiver [ri:'si:və] n -1. [of a telephone] the part of a telephone that one holds near one's ear and speaks into □ He said "Goodbye" and put the receiver down. -2. RADIO & TV a radio or television set (technical use). -3. [of stolen property] a person who buys and sells stolen property □ a receiver of stolen goods. -4. FINANCE the person who officially deals with the affairs and finances of a bankrupt person or company □ They brought the receivers in.
- receivership [ri:'si:vəʃɪp] n to go into receivership [company, business] to become bankrupt and be put in the charge of receivers.
- receiving end [ri:'si:vɪŋ-] n to be on the receiving end of sthg [of complaints, violence, somebody's anger] to experience sthg unpleasant.
- recent ['ri:snt] adj [edition, development, past] that happened or started to exist a short time ago □ All these events are relatively recent.
- recently ['ri:sntli] adv [happen, begin, appear] a short time ago or during the period that started a short time ago and continued until now □ I spoke to him recently. □ Recently, I've been wondering the same thing. □ The mistake wasn't discovered until recently.
- receptacle [ri:'septəkl] n a container for putting or keeping things in (formal use).
- reception [ri:'sepʃn] n -1. GB [in a hotel, office] the area in a hotel, office, hospital etc where visitors go first when they arrive, and where there is usually a desk and somebody to deal with them □ On arrival, please report to reception. □ For further details, ask at reception. □ reception staff. -2. [for a celebration, welcome] a formal party held to welcome a particular group of people, or to celebrate a particular event □ We went to their wedding reception. -3. [to a speech, movie, visitor] the way that people react to somebody or something □ The play got a cool reception from the critics. -4. [of a radio, television] the quality of the picture or sound that one gets from a television or radio □ You'll get better reception if you adjust the aerial.
- reception centre n GB a place where homeless people can live for a short time.
- reception class n GB the first class in a primary school.
- reception desk n the desk where a receptionist sits.
- receptionist [ri:'sepʃnɪst] n a person who works in a hotel, office etc, and who arranges appointments and reservations, answers the telephone, and deals with people when they arrive.
- reception room n GB a room in a house where people can sit together to eat, talk, watch television etc.
- receptive [ri:'septɪv] adj [person, audience] that is ready to consider and accept an idea, opinion etc □ John was very receptive to my proposal.
- receptiveness [ri:'septɪvənəs] n: see receptive.
- recess ['ri:sɪs] n -1. [of a room] a part of a room that is formed when one part of a wall is built further back than the rest. -2. the recesses of sb's mind/memory etc the parts of sb's mind/memory etc that are unclear or hidden. -3. US EDUCATION a break between classes at an elementary school. -4. POLITICS & LAW a period when a legislature, committee, court etc stops working for a vacation □ We'll resume this discussion after the Easter recess.
- recessed ['ri:sɪst] adj [window, lighting] that is set into a wall or ceiling.

recession [rɪ'seʃn] n a period when the industry of a country produces and sells less, the economy is not growing, and more people are becoming unemployed □ House prices tend to go down during a recession.

recessive [rɪ'sesɪv] adj BIOLOGY [characteristic, gene] that only appears in the child if it is in the genes of both parents.

recharge [rɪ:'tʃɑ:dʒ] vt to put electricity back into , by using a special piece of equipment.

rechargeable [rɪ:'tʃɑ:dʒəbl] adj [battery] that can be recharged and used again.

recipe ['resəpi] n -1. COOKING a list of ingredients and instructions for preparing and cooking a particular food or dish □ You must give me your recipe for tomato soup. □ a recipe book. -2. to be a recipe for sthg to be likely to cause sthg to happen □ Introducing those two was a recipe for disaster!

recipient [rɪ'sɪpiənt] n [of a letter, award, check] a person who receives something.

reciprocal [rɪ'sɪprəkl] adj [arrangement, agreement, gesture] in which one does or gives something to somebody, because that person did or gave something similar to one.

reciprocate [rɪ'sɪprəkeɪt] ◇ vi to do the same thing to somebody else as they have done to oneself, or have the same feeling toward them as they have for oneself □ He smiled at me and I reciprocated. □ I'd like to reciprocate in some way. ◇ vt [invitation, generosity] I felt I should reciprocate her kindness toward me.

recital [rɪ'saɪtl] n a performance of poetry, music etc, usually by one person □ an organ recital.

recitation [rɪ'sɪ'teɪʃn] n [of a poem, piece of writing] see recite.

recite [rɪ'saɪt] vt -1. [poem, piece of writing] to say <sthg> out loud, usually from memory. -2. [list, facts, details] to say <sthg> out loud □ She recited all the reasons why they couldn't come.

reckless ['rekləs] adj [person, behavior] that shows little or no concern about a possible dangerous result of an action □ He's been charged with reckless driving.

recklessness ['rekləsənəs] n: see reckless.

reckon ['rekən] vt -1. to reckon (that)... to think that something is true □ They reckon (that) it's going to rain later. □ I reckon he's crazy. □ "Is this our room?" — "I reckon so." -2. to be reckoned to be sthg to be judged or considered to be sthg □ He was reckoned to be too drunk. □ It's reckoned to be the most expensive trial in history. -3. to reckon to do sthg to expect to do sthg □ They reckon to earn five grand. -4. [amount, time, cost] to calculate <sthg> (formal use).

◆ reckon on vt fus to reckon on sthg to expect sthg and assume it will happen □ He had reckoned on my help. □ They reckon on getting government funds.

◆ reckon with vt fus -1. to reckon with sthg to expect sthg □ She clearly hadn't reckoned with such strong resistance. -2. to have to reckon with sb/sthg to have to deal with sb/sthg that may make things difficult □ Do it, or you'll have me to reckon with. □ Her performance shows she's still a force to be reckoned with.

◆ reckon without vt fus to reckon without sthg not to expect sthg □ He'd reckoned without them saying "no".

reckoning ['rekənɪŋ] n -1. by sb's reckoning according to sb's rough calculations □ He's 25 minutes late, by my reckoning. -2. a day of reckoning the time when somebody's past mistakes are punished or when the bad results of their past actions are noticed.

reclaim [rɪ'kleɪm] vt -1. [luggage, money] to get back <one's property> by asking for it. -2. [desert, marsh] to make changes to <an area of land> so that it can be used.

reclamation [rɪ'kleɪməʃn] n [of a desert, marsh] see reclaim □ a land reclamation project.

recline [rɪ'klaɪn] vi [person, seat] to lie back in a relaxed way □ Hank was reclining in his armchair.

reclining [rɪ'klaɪnɪŋ] adj [chair, seat] that can be moved into a position that allows one to lie on it.

recluse [US 'reklʊ:s, GB rɪ'klʊ:s] n a person who lives alone and avoids other people.

reclusive [US 'reklʊ:sɪv, GB rɪ'klʊ:sɪv] adj [person, writer] who is a recluse.

recognition [rɪ'kɒɡnɪʃn] n -1. [of a person, face, voice] the act of recognizing somebody or something □ As I approached, she gave no sign of recognition. ■ to change beyond OR out of all recognition to change so much that people can no longer recognize one □ I can't believe it! You've changed beyond all recognition! -2. [of a fact, problem, contribution] the act of showing that one thinks something is true, valuable etc □ Her books have not received the recognition they deserve. □ He was presented with the trophy in recognition of his outstanding achievement.

recognizable ['rekəɡnaɪzəbl] adj [person, problem, symptom] that can be recognized.

recognize, -ise ['rekəɡnaɪz] vt -1. [face, voice, sign] to know who or what <sb/sthg> is because one can remember them from before □ Sorry, I didn't recognize you! □ I recognized him as Mr Cooke, Milly's husband. -2. [fact, truth, problem] to agree that <sthg> exists; [contribution, achievement] to accept that <sthg> is useful, valuable etc □ We recognize (that) there is a need for change. □ Her contribution to British science has never been recognized. -3. [country, government, qualification] to show that one officially accepts <sthg> as valid □ It was some time before the breakaway republic was recognized as an independent state.

recoil [vb rɪ'kɔɪl, n rɪ'kɔɪl] ◇ vi -1. to move back suddenly and away from something that is unpleasant □ He recoiled at the sight. □ She recoiled in fear/disgust. -2. to have an immediate dislike or fear of something □ He recoiled at the thought. ◇ n the quick backward movement of a gun or part of a gun when it is fired.

recollect [rɪ'kɒləlekt] vt [person, name, time] to remember <sb/sthg> □ I don't recollect ever having met him.

recollection [ˌrɛkəˈlɛkʃn] n the act of remembering somebody or something; something that one remembers from the past □ I have no recollection of such a name.

recommence [ˌrɪ:kəˈmɛns] ◇ vt [meeting, talks] to start <sthg> again. ◇ vi [meeting, talks] Negotiations recommenced last night.

recommend [ˌrɛkəˈmɛnd] vt to suggest to somebody that <sb/sthg> is good or suitable for a particular purpose □ Can you recommend a good hotel/electrician to me? □ This restaurant was recommended to me. □ I recommend (that) you go there in May.

recommendation [ˌrɛkəˈmɛndɪˈeɪʃn] n the act of recommending somebody or something; something that is recommended □ She was offered the job on the recommendation of Professor Wilkes. □ None of the recommendations made by the committee has been implemented yet.

recommended retail price [ˌrɛkəˈmɛndəd-] n the standard price of an item for sale as recommended by the manufacturer to the retailer.

recompense [ˌrɛkəˈpɛns] ◇ n recompense for sthg [for damage, a loss] money given to somebody as a way of showing one is sorry or grateful for sthg. ◇ vt to recompense sb for sthg [for damage, a loss] to give a recompense to sb because of sthg.

reconcile [ˌrɛkəˈnsaɪl] vt -1. [beliefs, ideas] to find a way in which <two things that are opposed to each other> are no longer opposed □ How do you reconcile wearing leather shoes with being vegetarian? -2. to make <two people, countries> etc friendly with each other again after a disagreement. ■ to be reconciled with sb to be friendly with sb again after a disagreement. -3. to reconcile oneself to sthg [to a fact, one's fate] to accept sthg unpleasant, because one cannot change it □ I'm not quite reconciled to the idea of spending two weeks with Walter.

reconciliation [ˌrɛkəˈnsaɪlɪˈeɪʃn] n: see reconcile □ Is there any hope of a reconciliation between them?

recondite [ˌrɛkəˈndɪt] adj [idea, knowledge, subject] that not many people know about or understand (formal use).

reconditioned [ˌrɪ:kənˈdɪʃnd] adj [engine, machine] that has had its old parts repaired or replaced so that it works better.

reconnaissance [ˌrɪ:kənˈsɑːns] n the process of sending soldiers, planes etc into an area to get military information about one's enemy or about the geography of the area □ a reconnaissance mission.

reconnect [ˌrɪ:kəˈnekt] vt [electricity supply, telephone line] to connect <sthg> again to a building, house etc.

reconnoiter [ˌrɪ:kəˈnɔɪtər] US, reconnoitre [ˌrɛkəˈnɔɪtə] GB ◇ vt [area, site] to carry out a reconnaissance of . ◇ vi [troops, police] The aircraft will reconnoiter tomorrow.

reconsider [ˌrɪ:kənˈsɪdər] ◇ vt [decision, situation, position] to think about <sthg> again, e.g. in order to decide whether changes need to be made. ◇ vi: I hope you will reconsider.

reconstitute [ˌrɪ:kənˈstɪtju:t] vt -1. [organization, group, committee] to form <sthg> again in a different way. -2. [fruit, milk] to change <dried or powdered food> back into its normal state by adding water to it.

reconstruct [ˌrɪ:kənˈstrʌkt] vt -1. [building, town, economy] to repair or rebuild <sthg> after it has been damaged or destroyed. -2. [crime, sequence of events] to make a detailed and complete picture of <sthg that is only partly known> by putting together all the pieces of information one has.

reconstruction [ˌrɪ:kənˈstrʌkʃn] n: see reconstruct □ The man was caught following a police reconstruction shown on TV. □ The economic reconstruction of the country began in the 1950s.

◆ Reconstruction n the period after the American Civil War from 1865 to 1877. During this time the South was reorganized and re-joined the Union.

RECONSTRUCTION

After the American Civil War ended in 1865, the Republican government and the army of the North ruled the defeated Southern states for a period of 12 years, called Reconstruction. The rebel states were allowed to join the Union again, but had to promise to be loyal to the Union, to end slavery, and to allow black men the right to vote. These policies were very unpopular in the South, and caused violence and tension between black people and white people. Reconstruction ended when the Republicans lost power in 1877, and black people also lost many of the rights they had been given.

reconvene [ˌrɪ:kənˈviːn] vt to call the people taking part in  together again.

record [n & adj] US 'rɛkərd, GB 'rɛkəɪd, vb rɪˈkɔːd] ◇ n -1. [of events, information] a written account of something □ I keep a record of all my expenses. □ We have no record of this transaction. □ Our records show your account is now overdue. ■ to keep sthg on record [information, details] to keep sthg so that people can refer to it later □ His name had been kept on record. ■ the highest/worst etc on record the highest/worst etc ever recorded. □ It's the hottest summer on record. ■ to be on record as saying (that)... to have said publicly (that)... □ Smith was on record as saying that he was going to resign. ■ to go on record as saying (that)... to say publicly (that)... □ I will happily go on record as saying that I will not vote for this bill in Congress. -2. MUSIC a flat and usually black vinyl disk on which sound, usually music, is recorded □ a record collection. -3. [in a sport, activity] the highest achievement reached in a particular field □ He holds the world record for the 100m crawl. □ This is a new Olympic record. -4. [about a person] all the information known about somebody's background, life etc, often in a particular field □ medical rec- ords □ If you get caught, you'll end up with a criminal record. -5. to set OR put the record straight to tell somebody that something they always believed is not true □ I'd like to set the record straight. I didn't do it.

◇ adj [level, score, time] that is higher than has been recorded before □ Unemployment is at a record high. □ record annual losses.

◇ vt -1. [facts, event] to write <sthg> down so that people can refer to it later □ She had recorded the conversation in her diary. -2. [sound, music, program] to put <sthg> on tape, film etc so that it can be watched or listened to again □ Did you remember to record that program on the Gulf War?

record-breaker n a person who beats a record in a sport, activity etc.

record-breaking adj [performance, run, throw] that beats a record in a sport, activity etc.

recorded delivery [rɪˈkɔːdɪd-] n in Britain, a Post Office service in which one is given an official document stating that a letter, package etc has been sent and delivered □ The letter was sent by recorded delivery.

recorder [rɪˈkɔːdəʃ] n -1. a machine that records something □ a tape/video/cassette recorder. -2. a simple musical instrument in the shape of a tube that is played by blowing into one end and putting one's fingers over holes to produce different notes.

record holder n the person who holds the record in a particular field.

recording [rɪˈkɔːdɪŋ] n -1. a piece of music that has been recorded □ a live recording □ I have a marvelous recording of Maria Callas singing that piece. -2. the process of making a movie, or putting music or sound onto a tape etc.

recording studio n a studio where music can be recorded.

record library n a library where people can borrow records, CDs, cassettes etc.

record player n a machine on which records can be played.

recount [n ˈriːkaʊnt, vt sense 1 rɪˈkaʊnt, sense 2 ˌriːˈkaʊnt] ◇ n a second count of something, especially of votes in an election. ◇ vt -1. to tell or describe  etc. -2. to count <votes, figures> etc again.

recoup [rɪˈkʊːp] vt [loss, money, strength] to get <sthg> back.

recourse [US ˈriːkɔːrs, GB rɪˈkɔːs] n to have recourse to sthg [to law, violence, financial aid] to use sthg to help one in a difficult situation □ Remember that you can have no recourse to the law in such a situation.

recover [rɪˈkʌvəʃ] ◇ vt -1. [object, money, property] to get back <sthg that was lost or stolen> □ He recovered his wallet from the police/the train station. -2. [one's strength, balance, appetite] to get back <sthg one has lost> □ When Grace recovered consciousness she realized that she was alone. ■ to recover oneself to stop being shocked, embarrassed etc by something □ Mary suddenly looked embarrassed, but recovered herself swiftly.

◇ vi -1. [patient] to get better after an illness, accident etc □ She's in the hospital recovering from her operation. -2. [person] to stop being upset by something □ He hasn't recovered from his father's death. -3. [currency, economy] to become stronger after it has been weak □ The pound soon recovered against the dollar.

recoverable [rɪˈkʌvrəbl] adj [expense, tax] that one can get back after one has paid it.

recovery [rɪˈkʌvəri] (pl recoveries) n -1. [from an illness, injury] a return to one's normal state of health after a period of illness □ He made a swift recovery. □ She is better, but the doctor says she may never make a full recovery. -2. [of a currency, economy] a return to a position of strength after a period of weakness □ The stock exchange shows no immediate signs of recovery. -3. [of money, property, an object] the act of getting back something that was lost or stolen □ A police inquiry led to the recovery of the stolen vehicle.

recovery vehicle n GB a vehicle, usually a tow truck, that collects one's car after a road accident or breakdown.

recreate [ˌriːkriːeɪt] vt [atmosphere, period, style] to look like, or remind people of <sthg that no longer exists> □ The movie recreates the splendor of the Sun King's court.

recreation [ˌrekriːeɪʃn] n activities that people do for pleasure when they are not working □ One of their favorite recreations was to play tennis in the garden. □ What do you do for recreation?

recreational [ˌrekriːeɪʃnəl] adj [use, facilities] see recreation □ a recreational activity.

recreation room n -1. a room in a public building, e.g. a hospital, used for games and social activities. -2. US = rec room.

recrimination [rɪˌkrɪmɪˈneɪʃn] n the act or process of accusing somebody of something when one has already been accused of something oneself.

◆ recriminations npl accusations made by two people or groups against each other □ There were bitter recriminations on both sides.

rec room [ˈrek-] n US a room in a house where people relax, watch TV etc.

recrudescence [ˌriːkruːˈdesns] n [of racism, violence] a reappearance of something unpleasant after a period of absence (formal use).

recruit [rɪˈkruːt] ◇ n a person who has just joined a company, organization, army etc □ a new recruit. ◇ vt -1. [staff, graduates, soldiers] to look for, choose, and give a job to <sb> □ She was recruited to the president's team of advisers in 1992. -2. [members] to persuade <sb> to join one's group, e.g. a political party or labor union. ■ to recruit sb for sthg OR to do sthg to persuade sb to do sthg □ I'll have to recruit some friends for the gardening/to help with the garden. ◇ vi [armed forces, organization] Is your company recruiting at the moment?

recruitment [rɪˈkruːtmənt] n [of staff, members] see recruit □ an army recruitment campaign.

rectangle [ˈrektæŋɡl] n a shape with four sides at right angles and opposite sides of the same length.

rectangular [rek'tæŋgjələ] adj [carpet, garden] that is shaped like a rectangle.

rectify ['rektɪfaɪ] (pt & pp rectified) vt [mistake, problem] to correct <sthg> (formal use).

rectitude ['rektɪtju:d] n the quality of being morally correct (formal use).

rector ['rektə] n -1. [in the Church of England] a priest who is in charge of a parish. -2. [in the Roman Catholic Church] a priest who is in charge of a congregation. -3. [in Scotland] the head teacher of some schools; a university official elected by students.

rectory ['rektəri] (pl rectories) n in England and Wales, the house where a rector lives.

rectum ['rektəm] (pl rectums) n the lowest part of one's bowels through which solid waste matter passes out of one's body.

recuperate [rɪ'ku:pəreɪt] vi to get better and stronger after an illness or injury (formal use) □ Sonja spent two weeks recuperating after the operation.

recuperation [rɪ,ku:pə'reɪʃn] n: see recuperate.

recur [rɪ'kɜ:z] (pt & pp recurred, cont recurring) vi [illness, dream, problem] to happen again, or to keep happening □ The symptoms recurred over a period of several months.

recurrence [rɪ'kʌrəns] n: see recur □ Later recurrence of the disease is possible.

recurrent [rɪ'kʌrənt] adj [illness, dream, problem] that keeps returning and affecting one □ I used to get recurrent nightmares.

recurring [rɪ'kɜ:zɪŋ] adj -1. [illness, dream, problem] = recurrent. -2. [decimal] that is repeated after the decimal point an infinite number of times □ three point six recurring.

recyclable [rɪ:'saɪkləbl] adj [waste, packaging] that can be recycled.

recycle [rɪ:'saɪkl] vt [waste, packaging, glass] to process <sthg that has been used> so that it can be used again □ recycled paper/envelopes.

recycling [rɪ:'saɪklɪŋ] n: see recycle.

red [red] (compar redder, superl reddest) ◇ adj
 -1. [dress, rose, wine] that is the color of blood. -2. [face, cheek] that is redder than usual because one is angry or embarrassed □ He turned OR went red. -3. [hair, beard] red-brown in color. ◇ n -1. the color of blood □ Do you have the dress in red? -2. phrases to be in the red [person, account] to be in debt, usually to a bank □ We're at least $10,000 in the red. ■ to see red to become very angry.

◆ Red n a Communist; a person with left-wing views (informal and disapproving use).

red alert n -1. to be on red alert to be prepared to deal with an emergency □ The security staff was put on red alert. -2. the order given to make people ready for an emergency □ There was a red alert at the hospital after the train crash.

redback (spider) ['redbæk-] n a small poisonous spider found in Australia. The female has a red mark on her back.

red blood cell n a blood cell that carries oxygen around the body.

red-blooded [-'blʌdəd] adj [man] who is strong, healthy, and very interested in sex (humorous use).

redbrick ['redbrɪk] n a redbrick (university) any of the British universities established in the late 19th or early 20th century.

red card n to be shown the red card, to get a red card in soccer, to be sent off the field by the referee for bad behavior.

red carpet n to roll out the red carpet for sb to treat sb who is visiting one as a very important and honored person.

◆ red-carpet adj to give sb the red-carpet treatment to roll out the red carpet for sb.

Red Centre n the Red Centre an informal term used for the desert areas of central Australia that have dark-red sand.

Red Crescent n the Red Crescent an organization in Muslim countries that helps victims of wars and disasters.

Red Cross n the Red Cross an international organization that helps victims of wars and disasters.

redcurrant [US ,red'kɜ:zrənt, GB -'kʌr-] n a small, round, red fruit that grows in bunches; the bush that this fruit grows on □ redcurrant jelly.

red deer n a large red-brown deer that lives in northern Europe and Asia.

redden ['redn] ◇ vt [painting, mixture] to make <sthg> red or more red. ◇ vi [face, cheeks] to become red or more red because one is angry or embarrassed.

redecorate [rɪ:'dekəreɪt] ◇ vt [room, house] to make <sthg> look better by repainting it, putting up new wallpaper etc. ◇ vi: We're going to redecorate next summer.

redeem [rɪ'di:m] vt -1. [behavior, book] to make <sthg bad> acceptable or enjoyable by being better than the rest of it □ Even his fine performance was unable to redeem the movie. ■ to redeem oneself to do something good after one has done something bad, with the result that people have a better opinion of one □ I'd like to do something to redeem myself in your eyes. -2. [watch, jewelry] to buy <an object> back from a pawnbroker.

redeeming [rɪ'di:mɪŋ] adj [quality, feature] that redeems something bad □ The one redeeming aspect of the trip was the magnificent scenery.

redefine [rɪ:'di:fain] vt [word, idea] to define <sthg> again, usually in order to think about it in a new context or to change its use □ Mason's book has redefined our concept of modern design.

redemption [rɪ'dempʃn] n RELIGION the act of being saved so that one is not punished forever for one's sins, that Christians believe was made possible by the death of Christ. ■ to be beyond OR past redemption to be too bad to be saved or improved □ This old blanket is beyond redemption, I'm afraid.

redeploy [rɪ:'di:plɔɪ] vt [troops, workers] to move <sb/sthg> to a different place or job.

- redeployment [ˌri:di'plɔimənt] n: see redeploy.
 □ Workers are being chosen from several sites for redeployment elsewhere.
- redesign [ˌri:di'zain] vt [office, engine, system] to change the design of <sthg>.
- redevelop [ˌri:di'veləp] vt to demolish the buildings in  and build new ones there.
- redevelopment [ˌri:di'veləpmənt] n: see redevelop.
- red-faced [-'feist] adj [person] whose face is red because they have been exercising or because they are embarrassed.
- red-haired [-'heəd] adj [person] who has red hair.
- red-handed [-'hændəd] adj to catch sb red-handed to catch sb while they are doing something wrong or illegal.
- redhead ['redhed] n a person who has red hair.
- red herring n something that seems to have something to do with a particular question or problem but does not, so that one wastes time by thinking about it □ The Belgian connection turned out to be a red herring.
- red-hot adj -1. [metal, plate] very hot. -2. [sex, anger] that shows strong feeling or excitement.
- redid [ˌri:'did] past tense of redo.
- Red Indian n a Native American (old-fashioned and offensive use).
- redirect [ˌri:di'rekt] vt -1. [aircraft, traffic] to send  in a different direction; [letter, package] to send <mail> to a different address. -2. to use <one's energy, money> etc to do something different.
- rediscover [ˌri:di'skʌvə] vt to find again <sthg that one had lost or forgotten> □ I've been rediscovering the places I used to visit as a child.
- redistribute [US ˌri:di'stri'bju:t, GB -jʊt] vt [money, power, food] to share <sthg> out in a different and fairer way.
- red-letter day n a particularly happy day that one will always remember.
- red light n a red traffic light that tells drivers to stop.
- red-light district n an area of a city where prostitutes work.
- red meat n meat, e.g. beef or lamb, that is dark brown after it is cooked.
 NOTE: Compare white meat.
- red mullet n a red European sea fish that is eaten as food.
- redness ['rednəs] n [of a face, rose] see red.
- redo [ˌri:'du:] (pt redid, pp redone) vt -1. [one's work, hair] to do <sthg> again in a different way. -2. [house, room] to redecorate <sthg> (informal use).
- redolent ['redələnt] adj to be redolent of sthg [of summer, the sea] to make one think of sthg; [of flowers, perfume] to smell of sthg (literary use).
- redone [ˌri:'dan] past participle of redo.
- redouble [ˌri:'dʌbl] vt to redouble one's efforts to try much harder □ They redoubled their efforts to reach the sales target.
- redoubtable [ri'daʊtəbl] adj [person] who people respect and fear (formal use).
- redraft [US ˌri:'dræft, GB -'dra:ft] vt [speech, letter, report] to write a new version of <sthg>.
- redraw [ˌri:'drɔ:] (pt redrew, pp redrawn [-'drɔ:n]) vt to change <the borders or boundaries of a country> □ The map of Europe was redrawn after World War II.
- redress [ri'dres] ◇ n money that somebody pays one because they have treated one badly or harmed one in some way (formal use) □ They are seeking redress in the courts. ◇ vt to redress the balance to make things more equal or fair.
- redrew [ˌri:'dru:] past tense of redraw.
- Red Sea: the Red Sea the sea between north-eastern Africa and Arabia. It is connected to the Mediterranean in the north by the Suez Canal, and to the Indian Ocean in the south.
- red setter n a large dog that has a soft brownish-red coat.
- red squirrel n a brownish-red squirrel that lives in forests in Europe and Asia.
- red tape n official rules that seem unnecessary and take up a lot of people's time (disapproving use).
- reduce [ri'dju:s] ◇ vt -1. [price, risk] to make <sthg> smaller; [heat] to make <sthg> less strong □ Can we reduce the engine size without reducing the power? □ Output has been reduced by 15%. □ The Government has reduced the working day from 8 to 7 hours. ■ to reduce sthg to a pulp to beat or crush sthg until it becomes a pulp. -2. COOKING [liquid, sauce] to boil <sthg> to make it thicker and less in quantity. -3. to be reduced to doing sthg [to begging, stealing] to be forced to do sthg □ Salerno was eventually reduced to selling his house to pay the debt. ■ to reduce sb to silence/tears to make sb be silent/cry □ The news reduced her to tears. ◇ vi US [person] to lose weight.
- reduced [ri'dju:st] adj [price, risk, heat] that has been made less in size, amount, or degree □ The National Party has won again, but with a reduced majority. ■ to live in reduced circumstances to live with less money than one is used to.
- reduction [ri'dʌkʃn] n -1. the amount that something is reduced by □ A budget reduction of 10% is required. -2. [in price, heat] see reduce □ Any more reductions in staff will lead to safety risks. □ a price reduction.
- redundancy [ri'dʌndənsi] (pl redundancies) n GB [for staff, a worker] see redundant □ redundancy payment □ Half the workforce at the plant now face redundancy.
- redundant [ri'dʌndənt] adj -1. to be made redundant GB [worker, staff] to lose one's job because one's employer can no longer afford to pay one's salary or has decided the job is no longer necessary. -2. [equipment, phrase, information] that is not needed.

redwood ['redwud] n a redwood (tree) a very large tree that grows in the western USA and has red-brown bark and hard wood.

reed [ri:d] n -1. a tall type of grass that grows in or near water and is dried to make objects by weaving □ a reed basket/seat. -2. a thin piece of wood or metal in the mouth-piece of some musical instruments, e.g. the oboe, that vibrates and makes a sound when one blows over it.

re-educate [,ri:'edʒəkeɪt] vt to try to make <sb> behave or think in a different way □ Juvenile delinquents are re-educated and taught not to rely on violence to resolve conflicts.

reedy ['ri:di] (compar reedier, superl reediest) adj [voice] high and unpleasant.

reef [ri:f] n a long line of coral, rock, or sand that is just below the surface of the sea.

reek [ri:k] ◇ n [of onions, gas] a strong unpleasant smell. ◇ vi [person, breath, clothes] to smell strongly of something unpleasant □ This place reeks of smoke.

reel [ri:l] ◇ n a small round object like a cylinder that something such as wire or fishing line is wrapped around □ a reel of cotton/film. ◇ vi -1. [person] to walk in an unsteady way, e.g. because one is drunk or has just been hit □ The blow sent him reeling. -2. [head, mind] to be in a state of confusion, e.g. after a shock or after receiving too much information □ He is still reeling from the shock.

◆ reel in vt sep to reel a fish in to pull a fish toward one by turning the handle on the reel of one's fishing rod.

◆ reel off vt sep to reel names/demands etc off to say a list of names/demands etc quickly □ She reeled off the names of every US president since 1945.

re-elect [,ri:ə'lekt] vt [chairman, president] to elect <sb> again □ He was re-elected as union leader.

re-election [,ri:ə'lekʃn] n: see re-elect □ She is standing for re-election.

re-emphasize [,ri:'emfəsaɪz] vt [fact, importance] to emphasize <sthg> again.

re-enact [,ri:'nækt] vt [incident, scene, event] to perform <sthg> again.

re-enter [,ri:'entə] vt -1. [country, area] to enter again  □ They were arrested when they tried to re-enter the country. -2. COMPUTING [data, text] to enter again into a computer <information that has been lost or deleted>.

re-entry [,ri:'entri] n [of a spaceship] the act of returning to the Earth's atmosphere after being in space □ It burned up on re-entry.

re-examine [,ri:ɪg'zæmən] vt [question, case] to examine <sthg/sb> again.

re-export [,ri:'eksɔ:p't] ◇ vt to export <goods that one has already imported>. ◇ n the act of re-exporting something □ We import cotton for re-export. □ The value of re-exports has risen.

ref [ref] ◇ n SPORT abbr of referee (informal use). ◇ ADMIN abbr of reference.

refectory [ri:'fektəri] (pl refectories) n a large dining hall in a school, college etc.

refer [ri:'fɜ:r] (pt & pp referred, cont referring)

◆ refer to ◇ vt sep -1. to refer sb to sb/sthg [to a specialist, one's notes] to send sb to sb/sthg where they can get more information or advice □ I was referred to a heart specialist. □ If I can refer you to chapter ten of Miller's book, you'll find a very different interpretation. -2. to refer sthg to sb [report, case, decision] to ask sb more qualified to deal with sthg □ The matter has been referred to the committee.

◇ vt fus -1. to refer to sb/sthg [book, incident, person] to mention or talk about sb/sthg, especially without saying directly who or what one is talking about □ I don't know what you are referring to. □ I presumed she was referring to the company director. -2. to refer to sb/sthg [person, situation] to apply to or concern sb/sthg □ Surely that instruction doesn't refer to us? -3. to refer to sthg [report, diary] to look at sthg for information □ Candidates must answer without referring to a dictionary. □ He spoke without referring to his notes once.

referee [ˌrefə'ri:] ◇ n -1. SPORT an official who makes sure that the players obey the rules of a game, e.g. football, boxing, and hockey. -2. GB a person who gives somebody a reference, e.g. for a job application. ◇ vt to be the referee in . ◇ vi: Who's refereeing today?

reference ['refrəns] n -1. an act of mentioning somebody or something □ I didn't understand his reference to Plato. ■ to make reference to sb/sthg to mention sb/sthg □ She made frequent reference to the war years. ■ with reference to... a phrase used to say what one is speaking or writing about (formal use) □ With reference to your letter/complaint of May 24th... -2. [to a calendar, report, diary] the act of referring to something or somebody for information or advice □ They refused the application without reference to me. ■ to keep/file sthg for future reference to keep/file sthg in order to be able to refer to it when necessary in the future □ There is no vacancy at present, but we will keep your details on file for future reference. -3. [in a catalog, on a map] a number or name that shows where something can be found □ The map reference is H4. -4. [in a business letter] = reference number □ Please quote your reference in all correspondence. -5. [for a job] a letter about somebody who is applying for a job, that describes their character and abilities and is written by somebody who knows them; a person who writes or has agreed to write this letter □ My previous boss wrote me an excellent reference. □ Mr Calf agreed to be one of my references. reference book n a book that one refers to for information, e.g. a dictionary or encyclopedia.

reference library n a library where the books can be read but not borrowed.

reference number n a number, given on a bill, in a business letter etc, that tells one the file where one can find more information about the subject of the bill, letter etc.

referendum [ˌrefə'rendəm] (pl referendums OR referenda [-də]) n a vote in which the people

- of a country show whether or not they agree with a particular government policy □ The government debated whether to hold a referendum on the issue.
- referral [rɪ'fɜːrəl] n the act of referring sb/sthg to another person or place □ the referral of complaints to the tribunal □ an increase in the number of referrals.
- refill [rɪ'riːfɪl, vɪb ˌriː'fɪl] ◇ n -1. [for a pen, lighter] a container full of a liquid, e.g. ink, that is used to replace one that has been emptied. -2. another drink (informal use) □ Would you like a refill? ◇ vt [pen, tank] to fill <an empty container> with more of the liquid that was there before □ Can I refill your glass?
- refillable [ˌrɪː'fɪləbəl] adj [bottle, pen, lighter] that can be refilled.
- refine [rɪ'faɪn] vt -1. [oil, gold, sugar] to make  pure by putting it through a process that removes other substances from it. -2. [plan, theory, speech] to improve <sthg> gradually by making small changes to it until it is as good as possible □ We are constantly updating and refining our training programs.
- refined [rɪ'faɪnd] adj -1. [person, manners] very polite □ an elegant and refined old lady. -2. [process, equipment, theory] highly developed □ The new design is better and more refined than the old one. -3. [oil, gold, sugar] that has been made pure by having other substances removed.
- refinement [rɪ'faɪnmənt] n -1. [to a process, equipment, speech] a small improvement to something □ We have made a number of refinements to the old system. -2. [of a person] the quality of being refined.
- refinery [rɪ'faɪnəri] (pl refineries) n a place where a substance is refined □ an oil/a sugar refinery.
- refit [vɪb ˌriː'fɪt, n ˌriː'fɪt] (pt & pp refitted, cont refitting) ◇ vt to repair and replace the damaged parts of ; to adapt  for a new purpose. ◇ n: The refit will take six months.
- reflate [rɪ:'fleɪt] vt to increase the supply of money in  to encourage more economic activity.
- reflation [rɪ:'fleɪʃn] n: see reflate □ measures designed to help deflation.
- reflationary [US rɪ:'fleɪʃnəri, GB -əri] adj [policy, measure] that is designed to increase the supply of money in a country's economy.
- reflect [rɪ'flekt] ◇ vt -1. [attitude, situation] to be a sign of <sthg> □ Current social problems are reflected in the crime figures. □ The policy clearly reflects the government's belief in a free market. -2. to send <light, heat, sound> etc back □ She saw her face reflected in the water/mirror. -3. to reflect that... to comment that... □ He reflected that it may not be the right moment to announce a rival bid. ◇ vi to think deeply about something □ He reflected on or upon his decision. □ She said she needed time to reflect.
- reflection [rɪ'flekʃn] n -1. something that is a sign of a particular attitude, situation, policy etc □ The budget is a reflection of the government's uncertainty. -2. to be a reflection on sb/sthg to show sb/sthg in an unfavorable way □ This is no reflection on you. -3. a reflected image □ She caught sight of her reflection in the mirror. -4. deep thought; a thought or idea that one has had after thinking deeply □ The matter calls for careful reflection. □ her reflections on the political scene. ■ on OR upon reflection after thinking seriously about the matter □ On reflection, I think it was a mistake. -5. [of heat, light] see reflect.
- reflective [rɪ'flektɪv] adj -1. [person, look] that is thoughtful. -2. [surface, clothing] that reflects light.
- reflector [rɪ'flektə] n a piece of glass or plastic that reflects light and is attached to the back of a bicycle or car to make it easier to see at night.
- reflex ['rɪːfleks] n an uncontrolled movement of part of the body that is a response to an outside influence □ Blinking is a reflex action.
- ◆ reflexes npl a person's ability to react quickly to something unexpected □ You need very quick reflexes to be good at a martial art.
- reflex camera n a camera in which one sees and focuses the image through the lens.
- reflexive [rɪ'fleksɪv] adj GRAMMAR [verb, pronoun] that refers back to the subject of the sentence.
- reflexology [ˌrɪːflek'sɒlədʒɪ] n a treatment for particular illnesses in which parts of the feet are massaged, based on the belief that different parts of the foot are connected to different parts of the body.
- reforestation [rɪːfɒrə'steɪʃn] n the process of planting trees again in an area of land that has been cleared.
- reform [rɪ'fɔːm] ◇ n -1. a process of change, usually intended to improve a legal, social, or political system □ The health care system is long overdue for reform. -2. a particular change that is made to a social, legal, or political system in order to improve it □ the government's tax reforms.
- ◇ vt -1. [system, organization] to improve <sthg> by changing it □ government attempts to reform the health service. -2. [criminal, drug addict] to improve the behavior of <sb> in order to make them a better person □ It's not easy to reform the habits of a lifetime.
- ◇ vi to improve one's behavior in order to be a better person □ Alan had promised, time after time, that he would reform.
- reformat [ˌrɪː'fɔː'mæt] (pt & pp reformatted, cont reformatting) vt to format .
- Reformation [ˌrefɪ'meɪʃn] n the Reformation a religious movement in 16th-century Europe that led to the establishment of the Protestant churches there.
- reformatory [US rɪ'fɔːrmətɔːri, GB -'fɔːmətri] (pl reformatories) n US a special school for young people who have broken the law.
- reformed [rɪ'fɔːmd] adj [person] who has changed the way they live or behave and is

- now a better person □ a reformed criminal/drug addict.
- reformer [rɪ'fɔ:rmə] n a person who tries to reform a legal, social, or political system.
- reformist [rɪ'fɔ:fməst] ◇ adj [policy, tendency] that tries to introduce reforms. ◇ n a reformist person.
- refract [rɪ'frækt] ◇ vt to cause the direction of <light> to change at the point where it passes through another substance, e.g. water or glass. ◇ vi: Light refracts as it crosses the boundary between air and water.
- refrain [rɪ'freɪn] ◇ n a short section of a song or poem that is repeated several times throughout the song or poem. ◇ vi to refrain from doing sthg [from talking, drinking] to stop doing sthg, especially something one would like to do or usually does but which may annoy other people □ Kindly refrain from smoking in the dining room.
- refresh [rɪ'freʃ] vt to make <sb> feel cooler or more energetic. ■ to refresh sb's memory to remind sb of something that they have forgotten □ You don't know how much you spent? Let me refresh your memory.
- refreshed [rɪ'freʃt] adj [person] who feels cooler or more energetic □ I felt refreshed after the walk.
- refresher course [rɪ'freʃə'kɔ:s] n a training course that brings somebody's knowledge and skills up to date.
- refreshing [rɪ'freʃɪŋ] adj -1. [honesty, change] that is pleasant because it is different from what one is used to. -2. [drink, swim] that makes one feel cooler or more energetic.
- refreshments [rɪ'freʃmənts] npl food and drink served to the public, e.g. at a meeting or on a flight □ Drinks and light refreshments will be served during the intermission.
- refrigerate [rɪ'frɪdʒəreɪt] vt to keep <food or drink> fresh or cool by placing it in a refrigerator.
- refrigeration [rɪ'frɪdʒə'reɪʃn] n: see refrigerate.
- refrigerator [rɪ'frɪdʒəreɪtə] n a large appliance, usually in a kitchen, that is cold inside and which food and drinks are kept in to keep them fresh or cool.
- refuel [rɪ'fju:əl] (US pt & pp refueled, cont refueling, GB pt & pp refuelled, cont refuelling) ◇ vt to fill the fuel tanks of <an aircraft> when it has made a flight. ◇ vi [aircraft] We stopped to refuel in Douala.
- refuge ['refju:dʒ] n a place where one is protected from danger or from something unpleasant □ a refuge for battered women/from the storm. ■ to seek OR take refuge to go somewhere where one is safe from danger □ We took refuge from the storm in a cave. ■ to seek OR take refuge in sthg [in prayer, sleep] to try to avoid an unpleasant situation or feeling by doing sthg □ After a long and bitter argument, Harvey took refuge in silence.
- refugee [rɪ'fju:dʒi:] n a person who has been forced to leave their country because of war, or because of their beliefs □ political/economic refugees □ refugee status.
- refugee camp n a temporary camp set up to give food and shelter to refugees.
- refund [nɪ'refʌnd, vb rɪ'fʌnd] ◇ n an amount of money that is given back to somebody when they have been charged too much for something or when they return something to a shop □ 'No refund can be given without a receipt.' □ a tax refund. ◇ vt to refund sthg to sb, to refund sb sthg to give sb a refund for sthg.
- refurbish [rɪ'fɜ:bɪʃ] vt [building, shop, office] to clean, redecorate, and modernize <sthg>.
- refurbishment [rɪ'fɜ:bɪʃmənt] n: see refurbish □ 'Closed for refurbishment.'
- refurnish [rɪ'fɜ:nɪʃ] vt [room, house, office] to provide <sthg> with new furniture.
- refusal [rɪ'fju:zəl] n -1. the act of refusing □ Jo's request for aid was met with a firm refusal. □ her refusal to accept the conditions. -2. a letter or message that one sends to somebody to say no to an invitation, application etc.
- refuse¹ [rɪ'fju:z] ◇ vt -1. to refuse sb sthg, to refuse sthg to sb not to give or allow sb sthg □ The council refused us planning permission. -2. [offer, drink] to state that one will not accept <sthg> □ She had refused several proposals of marriage. -3. to refuse to do sthg to state firmly that one will not do sthg □ She refused to give in. □ Professor Hill refused to let me take the exam. □ I refuse to allow you to blackmail me into going. ◇ vi: He asked her to work over the weekend but she refused.
- refuse² ['refju:s] n waste material from homes, shops, factories etc that is thrown away □ household refuse.
- refuse collection ['refju:s-] n the collection of household garbage, usually organized by the local government □ local refuse collection services.
- refuse collector ['refju:s-] n a person whose job is to collect household garbage.
- refuse dump ['refju:s-] n a place where a town's garbage is dumped.
- refute [rɪ'fju:t] vt [accusation, theory, claim] to say that <sthg> is not true; to prove that <sthg> is not true.
- reg abbr of registered □ a reg trademark.
- regain [rɪ'geɪn] vt [one's health, strength, position] to get back <sthg that one has lost>.
- regal ['nɪ:gl] adj [manner, house] that is like or suitable for a king or queen.
- regale [rɪ'geɪl] vt to regale sb with sthg [with stories, jokes] to entertain sb with sthg.
- regalia [rɪ'geɪliə] n special clothes that are worn on official occasions e.g. by a king or judge (formal use).
- regard [rɪ'gɑ:d] ◇ n -1. respect for somebody or something (formal use) □ We have the greatest regard for him. ■ to hold sb in high/low regard to have a lot of/no respect for sb. -2. in this/that regard a phrase used to introduce information that is closely connected to something that has just been mentioned □ In this regard you may well be right. ◇ vt to regard sb/sthg as... to consider sb/

- sthg in a particular way □ I've always regarded him as a friend. □ Mrs Killeen is regarded as one of the country's leading experts in the field. ■ to regard sb/sthg with... to have a particular feeling about sb/sthg □ We regard them with admiration/mistrust. ■ to be highly regarded to be respected by other people □ She has always been very highly regarded as a painter.
- ◆ regards npl a word used, often at the end of letters, to send one's best wishes to somebody □ with kind regards □ Give my regards to your mother.
- ◆ as regards prep = regarding.
- ◆ in regard to, with regard to prep = regarding.
- regarding [rɪ'gɑ:rdɪŋ] prep a word used to introduce something that one is talking or writing about □ Regarding your letter of October 17th... □ Regarding her own state of mind, little had changed.
- regardless [rɪ'gɑ:rdləs] adv [continue, go] in spite of problems, changes etc □ Although it was raining, they decided to carry on regardless.
- ◆ regardless of prep [expense, time, difficulties] in spite of <sthg> □ Look, regardless of the way you feel, you should go.
- regatta [rɪ'gætə] n an event at which boat races take place.
- regd abbr of registered.
- Regency ['rɪ:dʒənəri] adj [style, building] that existed or was fashionable in Britain in the reign of the Prince Regent (1811–1820).
- regenerate [rɪ'dʒenəreɪt] vt [economy, inner city, project] to develop and improve <sthg> so that it becomes successful, active etc again □ plans to regenerate run-down urban areas.
- regeneration [rɪ,dʒenə'reɪʃn] n: see regenerate □ urban regeneration.
- regent ['rɪ:dʒənt] ◇ n a person who rules a country when the king or queen is unable to rule, e.g. because they are too young or ill. ◇ adj: a queen/prince regent.
- reggae ['regeɪ] n a form of popular music with a strong beat that began in Jamaica.
- regime [rei'ʒi:m] n a particular system of government, especially one that does not give its people much freedom; the people who rule a country according to this system □ a military regime □ the excesses of the previous regime.
- regiment ['redʒɪmənt] n a large group of soldiers under the command of a colonel.
- regimental [ˌredʒə'mentl] adj [commander, headquarters] see regiment.
- regimented ['redʒəmentəd] adj [group, life] that is strictly controlled in a military style (disappointing use).
- region ['rɪ:dʒən] n a particular area of a country or body □ the mountainous regions of the north.
- ◆ in the region of prep a phrase used to indicate that an amount or number is approximate □ The cost will be in the region of $100,000.
- regional ['rɪ:dʒnəl] adj [transport, accent, government] of a particular region.
- register ['redʒəstə] ◇ n an official list of the names of voters, children in a class etc □ Is her name on the register? □ I'll check in the register.
- ◇ vt -1. [birth, marriage, death] to record <sthg> officially. -2. [improvement, growth, drop] to show <sthg> on a scale of measurement □ The earthquake registered 6.5 on the Richter scale. -3. [surprise, disapproval] to show <an emotion> □ Her face registered disbelief.
- ◇ vi -1. to put one's name on a register □ You'll have to register to vote/register for work/register as unemployed. -2. [at a hotel, conference] to report one's arrival at a place, usually by signing a register. -3. [comment, warning] to be noticed and understood (informal use) □ I warned him but it didn't seem to register.
- registered ['redʒəstəd] adj -1. [letter, package] that is sent by registered mail. -2. GB [office, charity] that is officially listed as being legal □ Is he registered blind?
- registered mail US n a postal service that pays compensation to the sender if something is lost in the mail.
- registered nurse n a nurse who is qualified in all areas of nursing.
- registered post n GB = registered mail.
- registered trademark n a name or symbol that usually appears on a product and cannot legally be used by other companies.
- registrar [US 'redʒəstrɑ:ɪ, GB 'redʒɪ'strɑ:ɪ] n -1. EDUCATION a senior official who deals with the administration in a college or university. -2. ADMIN a person whose job is to keep a register, e.g. of births, marriages, and deaths. -3. GB MEDICINE a senior hospital doctor who is lower in rank than a consultant.
- registration [ˌredʒə'streɪʃn] n -1. [on a course, of a birth, marriage] see register □ Full course fees are payable at the time of registration. -2. US & AUS [for a car] an official document containing information about a motor vehicle and its owner. -3. GB = registration number.
- registration document n GB an official document containing information about a motor vehicle and its owner.
- registration number n GB the set of numbers and letters that are shown at the front and back of a motor vehicle.
- registration plate n AUS = registration number.
- registry ['redʒəstri] (pl registries) n a place where registers are kept, especially in a church.
- registry office n in Britain, a government office where people can get married and where births, marriages, and deaths are recorded.
- rego ['regou] n AUS [for a car] = registration (informal use).
- regress [rɪ'gres] vi [person, country, industry] to return to a worse condition (formal use) □ British society has regressed to Victorian levels of inequality.
- regression [rɪ'greʃn] n: see regress (formal use).

regressive [rɪ'ɡresɪv] adj [tendencies, behavior] going back to a worse condition (formal use).

regret [rɪ'ɡret] (pt & pp regretted, cont regretting) \diamond vt to feel sorry about <sthg> and wish that it had not happened \square I regret not telling him sooner. \square She regrets now that she was unable to meet him. \square Charles began to regret what he'd said. \square The airline regrets any inconvenience caused to passengers. ■ I regret to inform you/say... a phrase used when saying that one is sorry about something \square We regret to announce the cancellation of the 2:15 flight to Omaha.

\diamond n a feeling of regretting something \square It is with regret that we must decline your invitation. \square I have no regrets about leaving London. ■ to send one's regrets to apologize for being unable to accept an invitation (polite use) \square Colin sends his regrets, but is unable to come.

regretful [rɪ'ɡretfl] adj [person] who is feeling regret \square a regretful smile/look.

regretfully [rɪ'ɡretfli] adv -1. [announce, refuse, leave] in a way which shows that one regrets something. -2. = regrettably.

regrettable [rɪ'ɡretəbl] adj [decision, behavior, incident] that one is sorry about and thinks should not have happened \square The delay in sending you your order was most regrettable \square a regrettable situation.

regrettably [rɪ'ɡretəbli] adv a word used to say that one is sorry about a particular situation \square Regrettably, mistakes were made.

regroup [ˌrɪ:'ɡru:p] vi [soldiers, tourists] to form a group again.

regt abbr of regiment.

regular ['regjələ] \diamond adj -1. [heartbeat, footsteps, rhythm] that occurs with equal amounts of time or space between one part and the next \square Security cameras are placed at regular intervals around the perimeter. -2. [meals, deliveries, visits] that are repeated at fixed times, usually at the same time every day, week etc \square We meet on a regular basis. -3. [event, exercise] that happens or is done often \square There's a regular shuttle service to Newark. ■ a regular customer/visitor a customer/visitor who often goes to a particular store, place etc \square Mr Jaffee is a regular visitor to this country. -4. [time, place, problem] that one considers usual or normal \square Shall we meet in our regular place? -5. [features, teeth] that are equal in shape, size, and position in a way that is considered to be attractive \square a regular shape. -6. GRAMMAR [verb, noun, adjective] that follows the same fixed pattern in all its forms as other similar words in the same language. -7. US [portion, serving] that is medium-sized \square a burger and regular fries. -8. US [person] who is honest and pleasant \square I'm just a regular guy. -9. sb's regular toothpaste/laundry detergent etc US the toothpaste/laundry detergent etc that sb usually uses \square I'll stick to my regular brand. ■ sb's regular doctor/dentist etc the doctor/dentist etc that sb usually goes to. \diamond n a person who goes to a particular store, bar etc often \square He's a regular in here.

regular army n an army consisting of soldiers who are employed on a full-time basis.

regularity [ˌregjə'lærəti] n [of footsteps, a service] see regular \square The same boring questions were asked with monotonous regularity.

regularly ['regjələli] adv [eat, visit, exercise] see regular.

regulate ['regjələt] vt -1. [spending, traffic] to control <sthg> usually by using a system of rules or laws. -2. [machine, volume, heat] to control <sthg> by making slight changes, usually to make it more suitable for a particular situation.

regulation [ˌregjə'leɪʃn] \diamond adj a regulation uniform/color etc a uniform/color etc that has to be worn or used because of a rule \square All staff must be dressed in regulation blue. \diamond n -1. an official rule \square safety/tax regulations \square I can't let you inside; it's against regulations. -2. see regulate.

regurgitate [rɪ'ɡɜ:'dʒəteɪt] vt -1. to bring <food> back up from the stomach through the mouth, before it is digested. -2. [fact, idea] to repeat <sthg> without really thinking about it (disapproving use).

rehab ['ri:hæb] n = rehabilitation.

rehabilitate [ˌri:ə'bɪləteɪt] vt [prisoner, invalid, addict] to train <sb> to return to a normal life.

rehabilitation [ˌri:ə'bɪlə'teɪʃn] n: see rehabilitate \square a drug rehabilitation center.

rehash [vb ˌri:'hæʃ, n ˌri:'hæʃ] (disapproving use) \diamond vt [idea, theory] to use or talk about <sthg> again in a slightly different form in an attempt to make it seem original. \diamond n [of an idea, theory] It's just a rehash of last year's speech.

rehearsal [rɪ'hɜ:'sɪl] n a practice of a play, dance etc before it is performed \square The rehearsals will start on Monday. \square This scene needs a lot more rehearsal.

rehearse [rɪ'hɜ:'sɪs] \diamond vt [play, dance, piece of music] to practice <sthg> before performing it in front of an audience. \diamond vi: They have been rehearsing all week for the concert.

reheat [ˌri:'hi:t] vt to heat <food that has already been cooked>.

rehouse [ˌri:'haʊz] vt to put <sb> into a different house or apartment \square So far, thirty families have been rehoused.

reign [reɪn] \diamond vi -1. [king, queen, emperor] to be the king or queen of a country \square Haile Selassie reigned over Ethiopia/the Ethiopians. -2. [terror, confusion] to be very strongly felt in a place or situation \square Silence reigned. \diamond n -1. the period during which a king or queen reigns \square during Queen Victoria's reign OR the reign of Queen Victoria. -2. a period when somebody or something is very powerful \square a reign of terror.

reigning ['reɪnɪŋ] adj the reigning champion the person who has won a particular competition most recently.

reimburse [ˌri:əm'bɜ:'sɪz] vt [person] to pay back money to <sb> who has had to spend the money, e.g. for work, or has lost the money; [expenses, cost] to pay back <money> to somebody □ We will reimburse you for the travel expenses. □ Do you think I can get this reimbursed?

reimbursement [ˌriːəmˈbɜːsmənt] n: see reimburse.

rein [reɪn] n to give (a) free rein to sb, to give sb (a) free rein to give sb a lot of freedom to do something. ■ to keep a tight rein on sb/sthg [on staff, spending, one's emotions] to control sb/sthg very carefully.

◆ reins npl -1. [for a horse] leather straps which are attached around a horse's head and held by the rider to control the horse. -2. [for a child] straps attached to a harness around the body of a young child in order to stop them running away.

◆ rein in vt sep to rein a horse in to slow down or stop a horse by pulling the reins.

reincarnation [ˌriːɪnkɑːˈneɪʃn] n -1. the belief that, after death, a person's spirit returns to life in a new body □ Do you believe in reincarnation? -2. a person or animal that is believed to be born again in a new body □ The boy is believed to be a reincarnation of the last Panchen Lama.

reindeer [ˈreɪndɪə] (pl reindeer) n a large deer with wide antlers that lives in northern parts of Europe, Asia, and America.

reinforce [ˌriːɪnˈfɔːs] vt -1. [ceiling, frame] to make <sthg> stronger □ The bridge has been reinforced with concrete and steel posts. -2. [fear, prejudice] to make  stronger □ The program only reinforced my view that vivisection is wrong. -3. [argument, claim] to make <sthg> seem true by providing evidence □ This report reinforces what we have been saying for a long time.

reinforced concrete [ˌriːɪnˈfɔːst-] n concrete that has metal bars inside it to make it stronger.

reinforcement [ˌriːɪnˈfɔːsmənt] n -1. [for an object] something that makes a structure or object stronger □ a metal reinforcement. -2. [of a prejudice, claim] see reinforce.

◆ reinforcements npl extra soldiers, police etc who are sent to a place to help a group of soldiers who are fighting there □ The captain called for reinforcements.

reinstate [ˌriːɪnˈsteɪt] vt -1. [employee] to give <sb> back a job that had been taken away from them □ They've reinstated Steve in his old job/as department head. -2. [payment, idea, policy] to cause <sthg> to exist or be important again.

reinstatement [ˌriːɪnˈsteɪtmənt] n: see reinstate.

reinterpret [ˌriːɪnˈtɜːprət] vt [figures, report, speech] to interpret <sthg> again in a different way.

reintroduce [ˌriːɪntrəˈdjuːs] vt [policy, tax, method] to cause <sthg> to exist again.

reintroduction [ˌriːɪntrəˈdʌkʃn] n: see reintroduce □ a referendum on the reintroduction of the death penalty.

reissue [riːˈɪʃuː] ◇ vt [book, record] to produce <sthg> again after it has not been available for some time. ◇ n a book or recording that is reissued.

reiterate [riːˈɪtəreɪt] vt [opinion, argument] to state <sthg> again in order to make it clear (formal use) □ I can only reiterate what I said before.

reiteration [riːˈɪtəreɪʃn] n: see reiterate.

reject [vb ɪˈdʒekt, n ˈriːdʒekt] ◇ vt -1. [idea, proposal, terms] to refuse to agree to <sthg>; [opinion, explanation] to state very firmly that one thinks <sthg> is wrong □ The government rejected their offer of a cease-fire. □ Their findings have been rejected by other institutions. -2. [values, religion] to refuse to believe in or live according to <sthg> □ Many East Europeans are already beginning to reject capitalism. -3. [candidate, applicant] to decide not to offer a job or place to <sb> □ His application has been rejected. -4. to reject a coin/token etc to return a coin/token etc to the person who put it in, because the machine cannot use it □ The phone kept rejecting my card. ◇ n a product that is rejected or sold cheaply because it is not perfect □ reject china.

rejection [riˈdʒekʃn] n [of values, an idea, candidate] see reject □ I keep applying for jobs but all I get is rejections.

rejig [ˌriːˈdʒɪg] (pt & pp rejigged, cont rejigging) vt GB [text, budget, factory] to change the organization of <sthg>, usually to make it more effective (informal use).

rejoice [riˈdʒɔɪs] vi to feel or express great happiness about something □ We rejoiced at OR in the news.

rejoicing [riˈdʒɔɪsɪŋ] n a situation in which people show they are very happy □ There was rejoicing all over the country at OR over his release.

rejoin [senses 1 & 2 ˌriːˈdʒɔɪn, sense 3 ɪˈdʒɔɪn] vt -1. [group, regiment, highway] to go back to <sthg> that one has left for a short time>.

-2. [club, society] to become a member of <sthg> again. -3. to say <sthg> witty, rude, or sarcastic in reply to something.

rejoinder [riˈdʒɔɪndəʃ] n a reply, especially a witty, rude, or sarcastic one.

rejuvenate [riˈdʒuːvəneɪt] vt -1. [person] to make <sb> feel or look younger. -2. [system, organization] to make <sthg> more lively and active by introducing new ideas.

rejuvenation [riˈdʒuːvəneɪʃn] n [of a system, organization] see rejuvenate.

rekindle [ˌriːˈkɪndl] vt [interest, passion, hatred] to make somebody feel <sthg> again.

relapse [riˈlæps] ◇ n to have a relapse [sick person] to suddenly or unexpectedly become ill again after one's health has been improving. ◇ vi to relapse into sthg to return to sthg bad after making some improvements □ She relapsed into a coma. □ He relapsed into his old way of thinking.

relate [riˈleɪt] ◇ vt -1. to make a connection between <two things or people> □ He related the rise in crime to the government's economic policy. -2. to tell  (formal use) □ She related the whole episode in great detail.

◆ relate to vt fus -1. to relate to sthg to be connected with sthg □ This relates to what I was saying earlier. -2. to relate to sb/sthg to concern sb/sthg □ These regulations do not relate to the physically handicapped. -3. to relate to sb to understand and be able to communicate with sb because one shares their situation, problems etc □ He can't relate to children. ■ to relate to sthg [to an idea, feeling] to understand and appreciate-sthg □ I can relate to that; I went through something similar once.

◆ relating to prep connected with <sthg> □ documents relating to the cost of the new road.

related [rɪ'leɪtəd] adj -1. to be related [people] to be members of the same family □ She is related to the president. -2. [issues, problems] that are connected □ The course looks at raising capital, debt finance, and other related areas.

relation [rɪ'leɪʃn] n -1. a connection or similarity between two or more things □ There is no relation between the two matters. ■ to bear no relation to sthg to be very different from sthg □ His story bears no relation to the actual events. ■ in relation to sthg compared with sthg □ How big is the chair in relation to the table? □ Where is the office in relation to the hotel? -2. a member of one's family □ She has very few relations.

◆ relations npl contact and communication between people, groups, or countries □ family/race/industrial relations □ Relations between the two men have worsened. □ Britain is keen to improve relations with the Arab state.

relational [rɪ'leɪʃnəl] adj a relational database COMPUTING a database in which all the items are related.

relationship [rɪ'leɪʃnʃɪp] n -1. [between people, countries] the contact and communication between people, groups, countries etc and the way they feel about each other □ France and Scotland have always had a good relationship. □ a close working relationship. -2. [between lovers] a sexual or romantic friendship between two people □ She's having a relationship with an older man. -3. [between things] a connection between two or more objects, events etc □ I see absolutely no relationship between the two incidents.

relative ['relatɪv] ◇ adj -1. [ease, poverty, success] that is true to a certain degree when compared with something else □ Now we can live in relative comfort. -2. [size, amount] that is being compared with something else □ We discussed the relative merits of the two systems. -3. to be relative to be something that needs to be judged in comparison with other things in order to have any meaning or be understood □ Truth is relative after all. ◇ n a member of one's family □ We're staying with relatives.

◆ relative to prep (formal use) -1. compared to <sthg> □ Salaries are high relative to the average. -2. connected with <sthg> □ Evidence relative to the case was heard.

relatively ['relatɪvli] adv relatively easy/suc- cessful etc easy/successful etc compared to other things of the same kind.

relativity [rɪ'lætɪvətɪ] n the scientific theory of the relationship between time, size, and mass, and the idea that this relationship changes with increased speed.

relax [rɪ'læks] ◇ vt -1. [person] to make <sb> feel calmer and less tense □ I think I need a drink to relax me. -2. [muscle, body] to make <sthg> become less stiff or firm □ Relax your arms and legs. -3. [grip, hold] to make <sthg> less tight □ She relaxed her grip on the bag. -4. [rule, discipline] to make <sthg> less strict □ We cannot afford to relax our guard. ◇ vi -1. [person] Just sit back and relax while I make dinner. □ Relax! Nothing can go wrong. -2. [muscle, body] His face relaxed into a smile.

relaxation [rɪ'læks'eɪʃn] n -1. an activity that is restful and entertaining □ Rest and relaxation is what you need. -2. [of discipline, a rule] see relax.

relaxed [rɪ'lækst] adj [person] who is calm and not worried □ a relaxed evening/mood.

relaxing [rɪ'læksɪŋ] adj [walk, bath, weekend] that makes one feel relaxed.

relay ['reɪleɪ] (pt & pp relayed) ◇ n -1. a relay (race) a race between teams of runners or swimmers in which each member of a team competes in one part of the race and is then replaced by another member. ■ to do sthg in relays to do sthg in teams, one team beginning when another one stops. -2. RADIO & TV a piece of equipment for receiving radio or TV signals and sending them out to another region.

◇ vt -1. RADIO & TV to send <radio or TV signals> through a relay □ The game will be relayed live this evening. -2. [message, news] to tell somebody <sthg that one has just been told> □ The message was relayed to all departments.

re-lay [rɪ:'leɪ] (pt & pp re-laid) vt [cable, carpet] to lay <sthg> again.

release [rɪ'li:s] ◇ vt -1. [prisoner, hostage] to set  free □ They were finally released from prison/captivity. □ They released him from his contract/promise. -2. [funds, supplies] to make <sthg> available for somebody to use. -3. [arm, rope] to stop holding <sthg> in one's hand or arms □ She released her grip on my arm. -4. [brake, lever] to press  to allow something to move freely □ He released the safety catch and fired into the air. -5. [gas, chemical] to let out  into the air or surroundings □ Toxic chemicals are being released into the river. □ It releases enormous amounts of atomic energy. -6. BUSINESS to make  etc available to the public □ Has their new album been released yet? -7. [statement, figures] to give <official information> to the press so that it can be made public □ The victims' names have not yet been released.

◇ n -1. [from prison] the act or process of releasing a person or animal from a prison, cage etc □ after his release from captivity. -2. [from pain] a feeling of no longer suffering

- from pain, anxiety etc □ His death was a merciful release. -3. [of information] a statement made by an organization or government and given to the press. -4. [of a gas, chemical] the act or process of releasing gas, heat etc □ the release of gas into the cylinders. -5. [of a movie] the act of releasing a movie, video etc. ■ to be on (general) release [movie] to be showing in cinemas. ■ a new release a movie, video, CD etc that has just been released.
- relegate ['relæɡeɪt] vt -1. [person, object, issue] to move <sb/sthg> to a less important position □ The senator was relegated to a minor committee post. □ They relegated the TV to the attic. -2. SPORT to be relegated [team] to be moved to a lower division in a league.
- relegation [,relə'ɡeɪʃn] n: see relegate □ The team is facing relegation to the minor league.
- relent [ri'lent] vi -1. [person] to change one's mind and let somebody do something that one has been refusing to let them do □ There is no sign of them relenting in their opposition to the plan. -2. [wind, storm] to become less severe.
- relentless [ri'lentləs] adj [criticism, rain] that never stops or becomes less severe; [opponent, critic] who never stops trying to do something □ I'm so fed up with this relentless arguing. □ Redman was always relentless in his pursuit of the truth.
- relentlessly [ri'lentləsli] adv [criticize, continue] see relentless □ It rained relentlessly.
- relevance ['reləvəns] n: see relevant □ His remarks are of great relevance to me/to the discussion. □ Academic qualifications have little relevance for OR to teenagers today.
- relevant ['reləvənt] adj -1. [fact, figure, remark] that is connected with something that is being discussed, considered etc □ His report is interesting but not very relevant to our problem. -2. [law, idea] that is meaningful or important to somebody or something □ Her novels no longer seem relevant to modern life. -3. [information] that is correct or suitable for a particular situation □ Please supply the relevant documents.
- reliability [ri,laiə'bɪləti] n: see reliable □ Their cars are famous for their reliability.
- reliable [ri'laiəblɪ] adj -1. [person, vehicle, service] that one can rely on □ I've always found her very reliable. -2. [information, figures, statistics] that can be believed □ He's hardly a reliable witness, is he?
- reliably [ri'laiəblɪ] adv [perform, work] in a way that one can rely on □ We are reliably informed that...
- reliance [ri'laiəns] n the fact of relying on somebody or something □ his reliance on their advice.
- reliant [ri'laiənt] adj to be reliant on sb/sthg to rely on sb/sthg for something □ The theater is reliant on sponsorship for its survival. □ He became heavily reliant on drugs. □ I'm reliant on public transportation to get to work.
- relic ['relik] n -1. an idea, object, or custom that has survived from the past □ The tradi-
- tion is a relic from the past.* -2. RELIGION a part of the body or a possession of a saint that is believed to be holy.
- relief [ri'li:f] n -1. a feeling of happiness when something unpleasant ends or doesn't happen □ What a relief! □ It was such a relief once they'd all gone. □ He gave a sigh of relief. -2. [to refugees, the poor] aid, usually food, shelter, and clothing, that is given to very poor people or refugees □ famine/disaster relief □ relief work □ a relief worker. -3. US money paid by the state to retired and unemployed people.
- relief map n a map that shows the height of the land, especially by using colors.
- relief road n GB a road built to take traffic away from another busy road.
- relieve [ri'li:v] vt -1. [pain, itching, anxiety] to make <sthg> less severe without actually removing the cause □ His outburst helped to relieve the boredom. ■ to relieve sb of sthg [of a weight, problem] to take sthg away from sb, in order to help them; [of a duty, position] to take sthg away from sb because they have done something wrong □ Can I relieve you of your coat? □ Mrs Pike was relieved of her duties after she was found to have stolen from her employers. -2. [soldier, shiftworker] to start doing the job of <sb> when they have finished their shift or need to rest.
- relieved [ri'li:vd] adj [person] who feels happy because something unpleasant has ended or has not happened □ We were very relieved at the news/to hear the news.
- religion [ri'lɪdʒɪn] n -1. a belief in a god or gods □ We were discussing art and religion. -2. a particular system of rules and behavior based on a belief in a god or gods □ Islam, Hinduism, and other world religions.
- religious [ri'lɪdʒɪəs] adj -1. [belief, book, service] that is connected with religion □ an important religious festival. -2. [person] who believes in a god or gods and follows the rules of a religion □ I'm not at all religious.
- reline [ri:'laɪn] vt [coat, cupboard, brakes] to put a new lining in <sthg>.
- relinquish [ri'lɪŋkwɪʃ] vt [power, responsibility, right] to give <sthg of one's own> to somebody else, usually unwillingly.
- relish ['reliʃ] ◇ n -1. to do sthg with (great) relish [eat, drink] to do sthg with great satisfaction and enjoyment. -2. a sauce or pickle that can be eaten with a dish to give it more flavor □ onion relish. ◇ vt [food, opportunity, sight] to enjoy <sthg> very much. ■ to relish the thought OR idea OR prospect of doing sthg to look forward very much to doing sthg □ I don't relish the thought of seeing them again.
- relive [ri:'li:v] vt [youth, success] to experience <sthg from the past> again, usually in one's imagination.
- relocate [ri:'lou'keɪt] ◇ vt [business, staff, factory] to move <sb/sthg> to a different place. ◇ vi [business, staff, factory] The company has relocated to Boston.
- relocation [ri:'lou'keɪʃn] n: see relocate □ the firm's relocation to the Midwest.

relocation expenses npl money paid by a company to an employee to help pay for the costs of moving, either when the employee joins the company or when the company moves.

reluctance [rɪ'lʌktəns] n: see reluctant □ She expressed some reluctance to get involved in the matter. ■ to do sthg with reluctance to do sthg although one does not do it willingly.

reluctant [rɪ'lʌktənt] adj [person] who does not accept their position, role etc willingly □ I was Katy's reluctant chaperone for a week. ■ to be reluctant to do sthg not to want to do sthg □ She was reluctant to admit the truth.

reluctantly [rɪ'lʌktəntli] adv [agree, admit] see reluctant.

rely [rɪ'laɪ] (pt & pp relied) ◆ rely on vt fus -1. to rely on sb to trust sb to do what they are expected to do □ I need someone I can rely on. □ Don't rely on him giving you any support. □ You can rely on him to be late. -2. to rely on sthg [on information, evidence] to trust sthg to be correct □ I don't think we can rely on what he says. -3. to rely on sb/sthg [on an assistant, alcohol, bus] to need sb/sthg in order to continue living successfully, comfortably etc □ I don't like to rely on my mother for money.

REM (abbr of rapid eye movement) n the movement of one's eyeballs when one is asleep, that happens when one is dreaming □ REM sleep.

remain [rɪ'meɪn] ◇ vi -1. to stay in a particular place, situation, or condition □ He remained at work. □ Please remain seated. □ He remained behind after the meeting. -2. [custom, fact, problem] to be left □ Very little remains OR There remains very little of the original building. □ All that remains is for me to thank everyone for coming here tonight. ◇ vt to remain to be done to need to be done in the future □ Much remains to be discussed. ■ it remains to be seen... it is not yet certain... □ It remains to be seen whether or not they will accept the offer.

◆ remains npl -1. [of a meal, fortune] the parts of something that are left after most of it has been used up or destroyed □ We could eat up the remains of yesterday's buffet. -2. [of a person, animal] the parts of a dead body that remain, especially a long time after death □ The remains of several bodies have been found. -3. [of an ancient civilization] the parts of buildings or objects that are found, usually buried, after a very long time □ ancient Roman remains.

remainder [rɪ'meɪndəʃ] n -1. the remainder [of food, money, a group of people] the part of something that is left after everything or everybody else has gone □ She spent the remainder on candy. □ They spent the remainder of the day at home. -2. MATH the amount that is left when a number cannot be divided exactly by another number □ 3 into 10 goes 3 remainder 1.

remaining [rɪ'meɪnɪŋ] adj the remaining question/time etc the question/time etc that is left. □ She spent the remaining quarter of an hour answering questions from the audience. □

The remaining hostages were freed yesterday. ■ the last remaining the only one that remains □ The mill is one of the few remaining examples of its kind in the area.

remake [n 'ri:meɪk, vb 'ri:'meɪk] CINEMA ◇ n a new version of a movie that has been made before. ◇ vt to make a remake of  □ They are remaking a lot of European movies in Hollywood these days.

remand [US rɪ'mænd, GB -'mɑ:nd] ◇ n to be on remand to be in prison waiting for trial. ◇ vt to be remanded in custody [prisoner, criminal] to be sent from court to prison to wait for trial.

remand centre n GB a place where young people are kept while they are on remand.

remark [rɪ'mɑ:k] ◇ n something that one says about a particular subject □ We found her remarks very useful. □ That was a very rude remark. ◇ vt to remark (that)... to say that something is true, as part of a conversation □ He remarked that the recession was not yet over.

◆ remark (up)on vt fus to remark on OR upon sthg to mention sthg that one finds interesting or impressive □ They remarked on the quality of the workmanship.

remarkable [rɪ'mɑ:kəblɪ] adj [change, improvement] that is noticeable or unusual because of its quality and causes people to be surprised □ She is remarkable for her modesty. □ Since then, we have made remarkable progress.

remarkably [rɪ'mɑ:kəblɪ] adv -1. remarkably stupid/thin etc very stupid/thin etc □ They did remarkably well/badly. -2. remarkably... a word used to introduce information which one thinks is remarkable □ Remarkably, nobody was hurt.

remarry [US 'ri:'mæri, GB -'mæri] (pt & pp remarried) vi to get married again, after a previous marriage has finished.

Rembrandt ['rembrənt] (1606–1669) a Dutch artist, famous for his self-portraits and his use of light and shade.

remedial [rɪ'mi:djəl] adj -1. [teaching, class] that involves helping children with learning difficulties. -2. [exercise, therapy] that helps a sick person to recover.

remedy ['remədi] (pl remedies, pt & pp remedied) ◇ n -1. [for an illness] a cure, often for minor illnesses, that uses plants or natural products □ a new flu remedy/remedy for the flu. -2. [for a problem] a way of dealing with an unsatisfactory situation. ◇ vt [problem] to find a remedy for <sthg>.

remember [rɪ'membəʃ] ◇ vt -1. to keep  in one's memory □ I'll always remember this evening. □ I remember the first time we met. □ Do you remember playing here when we were children? □ I don't remember you smoking. -2. [phone number, address] to bring to mind <sthg that one had forgotten> □ I can't remember his name. □ I'm trying to remember what I did with my keys. -3. [appointment, task] to make an effort not to forget <sthg> □ Did you remember to sign the invoice? □ Have you remembered all your things? □ I must remember to send that letter. -4. to remember sb to sb to give sb's greetings to sb else □ Remember me to your wife.

 ◇ vi: "What is their phone number?" — "I can't remember."

remembrance [rɪ'membərəns] n to do sthg in remembrance of sb to do sthg to show that one remembers sb who is dead (formal use).

Remembrance Day n the Sunday closest to November 11, when people in Britain and countries of the Commonwealth hold church services to remember those who died in the two World Wars.

remind [rɪ'maɪnd] vt -1. to make <sb> remember something □ Can you remind me about the bills/to pay the bills? □ I'd like to remind you all of the need for urgency. □ He reminded me that I'd agreed to go. -2. to remind sb of sb/sthg to make sb think of sb/sthg else because they are similar □ She reminds me of my sister. □ That reminds me, where are those books?

reminder [rɪ'maɪndə] n -1. a reminder of sthg/to do sthg something that reminds somebody of sthg/to do sthg □ I left a reminder for myself on the table. -2. a letter sent to remind somebody to pay for something that should already have been paid for □ The phone company have sent me a reminder.

reminisce [rɪ'mɪnɪs] vi to talk or think about something, usually something pleasant, that happened in one's past.

reminiscences [rɪ'mɪnɪsənsɪz] npl things that somebody says or writes about their own past.

reminiscent [rɪ'mɪnɪsnt] adj to be reminiscent of sb/sthg to make one think of sb/sthg that is similar □ The flavor is faintly reminiscent of strawberries.

remiss [rɪ'mɪs] adj to be remiss not to have done something that one should have done □ It was remiss of him not to reply.

remission [rɪ'mɪʃn] n -1. LAW a reduction in somebody's prison sentence, e.g. because they have behaved well. -2. to be in remission (illness) MEDICINE to have become less severe □ He's now been in remission for several months.

remit [n 'rɪ:mɪt, vb rɪ'mɪt] (pt & pp remitted, cont remitting) ◇ n GB the area of activity that somebody is allowed or expected to deal with □ It is outside the remit of the UN peacekeepers to intervene in such cases. ◇ vt to send <money> by mail as payment for something.

remittance [rɪ'mɪtəns] n a payment for something, sent by post □ Please enclose a remittance of $10.

remnant ['rɪ:nənt] n -1. a small piece of cloth that is left when the rest has been used or sold □ I'll use the remnants to make a patchwork cushion. -2. a small part of something that remains when the rest has gone or been destroyed □ He fled with the remnants of his army.

remodel [rɪ'mɒdl] (US pt & pp remodeled, cont remodeling, GB pt & pp remodelled, cont remodelling) vt -1. [design, car, nose] to change the shape of <sthg>. -2. US [house, store] to repair and improve  □ 'Closed for remodeling.'

remold US, remould GB ['rɪ:mould] n an old tire that has been given a new outer layer so that it can be used again.

remonstrate [US rɪ'mə:nstreɪt, GB 'rɛmənstreɪt] vi to complain firmly about something (formal use) □ I remonstrated with the official, but he said he could do nothing.

remorse [rɪ'mɔ:s] n a strong feeling of sorrow and guilt for having done something wrong □ She was filled with remorse at what she had done.

remorseful [rɪ'mɔ:sfl] adj [person] who feels remorse.

remorseless [rɪ'mɔ:sləs] adj -1. [cruelty, ambition] that shows no pity or concern for other people □ His remorseless criticism finally started to get me down. -2. [advance, progress] that continues in a way that is threatening and impossible to stop □ Nothing seems able to halt the remorseless spread of the epidemic.

remorselessly [rɪ'mɔ:sləslɪ] adv [tease, punish, advance] see remorseless □ The storm raged remorselessly through the night.

remote [rɪ'maʊt] adj -1. [region, star] tht is far away; [village, farm] that is quiet, lonely, and far from places where people live; [future, period] that is far from the present in time □ the remotest galaxy of the universe □ a remote and uninhabited island □ These people lived in the remote past. -2. to be remote from sthg to be very different from sthg, and therefore not relevant to it □ The life of a prince is very remote from that of ordinary people. -3. [person, behavior] that does not seem friendly toward or interested in other people □ a remote smile □ The management is becoming increasingly remote from the workforce. -4. [chance, connection, resemblance] that is very small. ■ I haven't the remotest idea I don't know □ I haven't the remotest idea what you're talking about.

remote control n a system for controlling a vehicle or piece of equipment, e.g. a television or model car, from a distance by means of radio or electronic signals; a small device used to control something in this way □ The doors are opened by remote control. □ a remote-control device/model aircraft.

remote-controlled adj [car, machine] that is operated by remote control.

remotely [rɪ'maʊtlɪ] adv not remotely not at all □ They're not even remotely similar to each other. □ I'm not remotely interested.

remould ['rɪ:mould] n GB = remold.

removable [rɪ'mu:vəbl] adj [shelf, handle] that can be easily removed from something.

removal [rɪ'mu:vəl] n -1. the act of moving furniture when people move from one house to another □ a removal company. -2. see remove □ The liquid is used for the removal of oil and grease.

removal van n GB a large truck used to trans-

- port furniture when people move to another house.
- remove [rɪ'mu:v] vt -1. [bag, statue, person] to take <sb/sthg> away from one place and put them somewhere else □ Kindly remove that poster from my wall. □ All the furniture had been removed prior to refurbishment. -2. [jacket, bandage] to take off <sthg that one is wearing> □ Please remove your shoes before entering the mosque. -3. [stain, dirt] to get rid of <sthg> by cleaning or washing □ I spent the day removing the graffiti from the walls. -4. [employee, worker] to take away a position, job etc from <sb> □ She was removed from her position on the board. -5. [problem, threat, suspicion] to get rid of <sthg> □ Surgeons removed a tumor from his brain. □ I hope that this information will remove any doubts you may have had.
- removed [rɪ'mu:vɪd] adj to be far removed from sthg to be very different from sthg □ His ideas are too far removed from reality to be of practical benefit.
- remover [rɪ'mu:və] n a chemical for removing unwanted marks or substances □ a bottle of nail-polish remover □ paint remover.
- remuneration [rɪ,mju:nə'reɪʃn] n payment for work that has been done (formal use) □ They received a small remuneration.
- Renaissance [US ,renə'sɑ:ns, GB rə'neɪsəns] n the Renaissance the period from about 1300 to 1600 in European history, when the ideas of ancient Greece influenced art, architecture, and literature □ Renaissance art/poetry/thought.
- rename [rɪ:'neɪm] vt [organization, ship, street] to give <sthg> a new name □ The party has been renamed "the Democratic Alliance".
- rend [rend] (pt & pp rent) vt [hair, clothes] to pull or tear <sthg> violently (literary use).
- render ['rendə] vt (formal use) -1. to cause <sb/sthg> to be in a particular state □ The blow rendered him unconscious. □ Computerization has rendered many skills obsolete. -2. to give somebody <help, assistance> etc □ You have rendered us a great service. -3. to render an account to present somebody with an account that has to be paid.
- rendering ['rendərɪŋ] n -1. [of a song, play] a performance of a piece of music or writing. -2. [of a novel, poem] a translation.
- rendezvous ['rɒndeɪvu:] (pl rendezvous [-z]) n -1. an arrangement people make to meet at a particular time and place; the place where such a meeting takes place □ We made a rendezvous for Tuesday at the hotel. □ He was summoned to a secret rendezvous on the outskirts of town. -2. a café, bar etc where people of a particular kind often meet □ The club is a favorite rendezvous for boxing fans.
- rendition [ren'dɪʃn] n a performance of a song, play etc.
- renegade ['renɪgeɪd] n a person who fights or opposes the country, political party, religion etc that they once belonged to (disapproving use) □ renegade soldiers/supporters.
- renege [US rɪ'neɪg, GB rə'neɪg] vi to renege on sthg [on a promise, deal] not to do sthg that one has promised to do (formal use).
- renegotiate [rɪ:'ni:gəʊ'ʃeɪt] ◇ vt [agreement, contract] to try to change <sthg> by discussing it again. ◇ vi: We thought the deal was settled, but they are asking us to renegotiate.
- renew [rɪ'nju:] vt -1. [attempt, campaign, efforts] to begin <sthg> again, especially after a period of time □ I'm looking forward to renewing my acquaintance with her. □ There was renewed fighting in the area last night. -2. [tire, stocks] to replace <sthg that is old or finished> with something new of the same sort □ You need to renew the batteries once a year. -3. [license, contract, subscription] to make <sthg> valid or effective for a further period of time □ I need to renew these books at the library.
- renewable [rɪ'nju:əbl] adj -1. [energy, resource] that comes from a natural source that can replace itself when it has been used □ renewable energy sources. -2. [license, contract] that can be renewed.
- renewal [rɪ'nju:əl] n: see renew □ The license is due for renewal □ an urban renewal program.
- renewed [rɪ'nju:d] adj renewed enthusiasm/energy etc enthusiasm/energy etc that one has again after not having had much of it for a time □ I set to work with renewed interest.
- rennet ['renət] n a substance that makes milk become thick and sour, used in making cheese.
- Renoir ['renwɑ:ʀ], Pierre Auguste (1841–1919) a French Impressionist painter, well known for his bright, colorful style of painting.
- renounce [rɪ'naʊns] vt -1. [belief, religion, values] to stop believing in <sthg> so that one behaves in a different way □ The terrorists have refused to renounce violence. -2. [title, privilege, claim] to say formally that one no longer wants to have <sthg> (formal use).
- renovate ['renəveɪt] vt [house, building, furniture] to repair and improve <sthg that is in bad condition>.
- renovation [rɪ'nə'veɪʃn] n: see renovate □ The building is in need of renovation/is closed for renovation.
- ◆ renovations npl the work that is done to renovate something □ The renovations will take several months.
- renown [rɪ'naʊn] n fame, usually for a particular talent or achievement □ an architect of world renown.
- renowned [rɪ'naʊnd] adj [artist, doctor, city] that is famous for a particular quality □ He is renowned as a political thinker. □ The island is renowned for its glassware. □ She's renowned for her tactlessness.
- rent [rent] ◇ past tense & past participle of rend. ◇ n money paid regularly for the use of something that belongs to somebody else, e.g. a house, car, or piece of land □ What's the rent? □ My rent is $1,000 a month. □ Have you paid this month's rent? □ a rent collector/rebate. ◇ vt [house, office, car] to have the use of <sthg> by paying rent to its owner; to al-

- low somebody to use <sthg> in return for payment □ We rent this house from an agency. □ We've rented the apartment to some students.
- ♦ rent out vt sep to rent sthg out [house, office, car] to allow somebody to use sthg in return for payment □ They rent out their boat to tourists during the summer.
- rental ['rentl] n -1. an amount of money paid as rent □ We have to pay the rental for OR on the video. -2. an act of renting something □ a rental car □ a rental agreement/contract.
- rent book n a small book used to record the amounts and dates of rent that is paid by a tenant.
- rented ['rentəd] adj [house, car] that somebody is allowed to use because they pay rent for it □ They live in rented accommodation.
- rent-free ◇ adj [house, car] that somebody is allowed to use without having to pay rent for it. ◇ adv: We stayed there rent-free.
- renumber [,ri:'nʌmbə] vt [pages, paragraphs] to give new numbers to .
- renunciation [ri,nʌnsi'eɪʃn] n: see renounce (formal use).
- reoccurrence [US ,ri:'ɔ:kɪrəns, GB -'kɑr-] n if there's a reoccurrence if this happens again.
- reopen [,ri:'əʊpn] ◇ vt -1. [store, bar] to open <sthg> after it has been closed for a period of time; [border, route] to allow people to cross or use <sthg> after a period when this was not allowed □ They reopened the theater after restoration work. □ The trail has now been reopened to tourists. -2. [talks, debate] to start to discuss <sthg> again after it has previously been stopped or completed □ The lawyers have applied for the case to be reopened. ◇ vi -1. [store, border] The factory will reopen tomorrow after the fire. -2. [talks, debate] The management improved their pay offer and negotiations reopened. -3. [wound, cut] to start to bleed again after the skin has begun to heal.
- reorganization [US ri:'ɔ:gəneɪ'zeɪʃn, GB -aɪ-] n: see reorganize □ The industry is going through major reorganization.
- reorganize, -ise [,ri:'ɔ:gənaɪz] vt [company, system] to organize <sthg> in a different way in order to improve it □ We are reorganizing the way we handle orders.
- rep [rep] n -1. BUSINESS abbr of representative. -2. abbr of repertory. -3. abbr of repertory company.
- Rep. US -1. abbr of Representative. -2. abbr of Republican.
- repaid [ri:'peɪd] past tense & past participle of repay.
- repaint [,ri:'peɪnt] vt [house, wall] to paint <sthg> again to make it look better.
- repair [ri:'peə] ◇ vt -1. [car, house, light] to mend <sthg that is damaged or not working properly>; [puncture, hole] to mend  of something □ The TV needs repairing. □ It will cost a fortune to repair the damage. -2. [fault, omission, situation] to do things to make <sthg wrong or harmful> right or to make it less serious □ How can we repair the damage this has done to our reputation? ◇ n the act of repairing something; the work done to repair something □ The church roof is in need of repair. □ The car needs some urgent repairs. □ When will you be able to carry out the repairs? □ a repair job □ a car repair workshop. ■ to be beyond repair to be so badly damaged that it is no longer possible to repair it □ This jacket is so old it's beyond repair now. ■ to be in good/bad repair to be in good/bad condition □ Parts of the house are in bad repair OR in a bad state of repair.
- repair kit n a set of tools and materials for carrying out simple repairs on a car, bicycle, machine etc.
- repaper [,ri:'peɪpə] vt [wall, room] to cover <sthg> with new wallpaper.
- reparations [,repə'reɪʃnz] npl money that a defeated country is made to pay after a war in order to pay for the damage it has caused □ war reparations.
- repartee [,repɑ:'ti:] n replies that somebody makes in a conversation that are quick and amusing.
- repatriate [US ,ri:'peɪtriət, GB -'pæt-] vt [spy, illegal immigrant] to send or bring <sb> back to their own country.
- repay [ri:'peɪ] (pt & pp repaid) vt -1. [debt, loan] to pay back <money that one owes> to somebody; to pay back this money to <sb> □ The loan must be repaid in three instalments. □ He eventually repaid the money to his parents OR repaid his parents the money. □ When will you repay me? -2. [favor, kindness] to do or give somebody something in return for <sthg that they have done> □ I hope I can repay your hospitality one day. □ How can I ever repay you for all your help?
- repayable [ri:'peɪəbl] adj [loan, mortgage] that must be repaid at a particular time □ The loan is repayable over 12 months.
- repayment [ri:'peɪmənt] n -1. an amount of money paid, usually regularly, in order to repay a debt, loan etc □ I was unable to keep up with the mortgage repayments. -2. [of a debt, loan] see repay □ The loan is due for repayment in two years.
- repeal [ri:'pi:] ◇ vt [law, ban] to formally end <sthg>. ◇ n [of a law, ban] the act of repealing something □ They campaigned for the repeal of the restrictions on trade.
- repeat [ri:'pi:t] ◇ vt -1. [statement, demand] to say or write <sthg> again; [word, oath] to say <sthg that somebody else has said>; [secret, story] to tell <sthg that one has been told> to other people □ This is not, I repeat not, the best way to do it. □ I'll read the instructions and you repeat them back to me. □ Don't repeat what I've said to anyone. -2. [exercise, activity] to do <sthg> again □ He keeps repeating the same mistakes. □ We wish to repeat our order for spare parts. □ This offer cannot be repeated. ■ to repeat oneself to say or do something that one has already said or done □ History has a habit of repeating itself. □ I'm sorry to repeat myself, but this is of vital importance. -3. RADIO & TV [show, series] to broadcast  that has been broadcast before.

◇ n -1. RADIO & TV a program that has been broadcast before □ There's nothing but repeats on this evening. -2. [of a statement, demand, order] the act of doing or saying something again □ This is just a repeat of what she said last week. □ a repeat order/performance.

repeated [rɪ'pi:təd] adj [visits, delays, attempts] that happen or are made many times, usually for a single purpose □ They have not paid us despite our repeated warnings.

repeatedly [rɪ'pi:tədli] adv [ask, call, hit] see repeated □ He's been warned repeatedly not to go there.

repel [rɪ'pel] (pt & pp repelled, cont repelling) vt -1. [smell, sight, person] to cause <sb> to feel disgust or strong dislike □ Even the thought of seeing him again repelled me. -2. [attacker, army] to fight against <sb> and make them move back □ The troops succeeded in repelling the attack.

repellent [rɪ'pelənt] ◇ adj [smell, sight, person] that one finds disgusting or very unpleasant. ◇ n a chemical that keeps insects away □ a can of insect/mosquito repellent.

repent [rɪ'pent] (formal use) ◇ vt [sin, crime, mistake] to feel regret for <sthg bad that one has done>. ◇ vi: There is still time to repent. □ He refused to repent of his sins.

repentance [rɪ'pentəns] n a feeling of sadness, regret, and shame for something bad that one has done (formal use).

repentant [rɪ'pentənt] adj [person] who feels repentance (formal use).

repercussions [,rɪ:pə'kʌʃnz] npl the unexpected and usually unpleasant results of an action, event, decision etc □ This mistake could have serious repercussions for everybody in the agency.

repertoire ['repə'twɔ:ɹ] n all the plays, music etc that a performer, group etc has learned and is able to perform □ They have broadened their repertoire to include a number of contemporary works. □ He has a huge repertoire of jokes.

repertory [US 'repərtɔ:ri, GB -əri] n a system in which a theater company performs a number of different plays over a period of time, using the same actors and working in a single theater □ She is currently working in repertory in Bristol.

repertory company n a company of actors that performs plays in repertory.

repetition [,repə'tɪʃn] n the act of repeating something; something that has already been done or said before □ Each day was just a repetition of the previous one. □ His speech was full of pauses and repetitions.

repetitious [,repə'tɪʃəs], repetitive [rɪ'petɪtɪv] adj [job, speech] that is boring because the same things are said or done all the time.

rephrase [,rɪ:'freɪz] vt [question, answer, sentence] to say or write <sthg> again using different words, usually to make it clearer □ I'm sorry, I'll rephrase that.

replace [rɪ'pleɪs] vt -1. to take the position, work, function etc of <sb/sthg else> □ Computers have now replaced filing systems. □ Alcohol has replaced tobacco as the nation's biggest killer. -2. [car, model, equipment] to change <sthg> for something that is better; [employee, staff] to get rid of <sb> and get somebody else to do their job □ We are replacing our old trucks with modern 40-ton vehicles. □ They replaced him with a younger man. -3. [battery, engine] to put something new in the place of <sthg lost, broken, or damaged> □ The tires on this car need to be replaced. -4. [lid, book] to put <sthg> back where it was before □ She finished her telephone call and replaced the receiver.

replacement [rɪ'pleɪsmənt] n -1. a person or thing that replaces somebody or something else □ Who's the replacement for Keane? □ In the meantime, we'll give you a free replacement car. -2. see replace □ the replacement of trams by buses.

replacement part n a new part for a machine, car etc that replaces one that has become broken or worn out.

replay [vb 'rɪ:'pleɪ, n 'rɪ:'pleɪ] ◇ vt -1. SPORT to play  again because neither side won the first time. -2. [video, tape] to play  again. ◇ n SPORT a match, game etc that is replayed.

replenish [rɪ'plenɪʃ] vt [glass, shelves] to make <sthg> full again; [stocks, supplies] to replace the things from <sthg> that have been used, sold etc (formal use).

replete [rɪ'pli:t] adj to be replete to have eaten and drunk enough. ■ to be replete with sthg to be full of sthg, especially food or drink (formal use).

replica ['replɪkə] n a very good copy of something, e.g. of a statue or car □ The painting is an exact replica of the original.

replicate ['replɪkeɪt] vt [virus, experiment, results] to make an exact copy of <sthg>, usually under different conditions (formal use).

replication [,replɪ'keɪʃn] n (formal use) -1. something that has been replicated. -2. see replicate.

reply [rɪ'plai] (pt & pp replied, pl replies) ◇ n something said or done as an answer to something □ I had no replies to the ad I placed. ■ in reply as an answer to something that somebody has said or done □ In reply to your memo, I confirm that our present stocks are adequate.

◇ vt to say <sthg> as an answer to a question, inquiry etc □ "Are you Mr Smith?" — "Yes," he replied. □ She replied that she had been ill.

◇ vi -1. [to somebody's question, letter] to answer a person, question, letter etc □ I wrote last week but they haven't replied. □ They replied at once to our enquiries. -2. [to somebody's attack, decision] to do something as a result or reaction to something that somebody else has said or done □ Our rivals replied to our sales promotion with price cuts of their own.

reply coupon n a part of a catalog, advertisement etc that can be cut off and returned in order to make an order, ask for more information etc.

reply-paid adj GB [envelope, postcard] that can be mailed in reply to an advertisement, offer etc without a stamp because the cost of the postage has already been paid.

report [rɪ'pɔ:t] ◇ n -1. a spoken or written description of something that has happened □ reliable/conflicting reports □ They gave us a brief/full report of what they had been doing. -2. an official written document giving facts and information about something □ a government report on crime. -3. JOURNALISM an account of an event, published in a newspaper or broadcast on TV or radio □ a press report □ On the front page was a report on events in Hong Kong. -4. GB EDUCATION = report card.

◇ vt -1. to tell somebody about <sthg that has happened> □ I reported my findings to Mr Davidson. □ He reported that he had seen the couple together the previous year. -2. [crime, death] to tell people in authority about <sthg that has happened>; to make a complaint to people in authority about <sb> □ Accidents should be reported immediately. □ The money was reported missing on Tuesday. □ I reported the driver of the car to the police. □ I'll have to report you for being late. -3. [incident, war, marriage] to announce or describe <an event> in a newspaper or on TV or radio □ We report everything that happens in Congress.

◇ vi -1. [member of staff] to describe or give an account of something □ You must report on your progress to the manager. -2. [committee, researcher] to announce the facts and information that one has found about something, usually in a written document □ The Commission of Inquiry will report next week. -3. [journalist, newspaper, channel] to print or broadcast the news about something □ This is Mary Wright, reporting from Moscow for CNN. □ We reported on the fire in our last issue. -4. to report to sb to go to sb to say that one has arrived or to tell them what one has been doing; BUSINESS to have sb as one's superior at work and take one's orders from them □ Will Norma Redding please report to the airport information desk. □ He has to report to his probation officer every Saturday. □ You will be reporting directly to the head of sales. ■ to report for sthg [for work, duty] to tell the people in authority that one has arrived and is ready to do sthg □ This is Sergeant Jones reporting for duty.

◆ report back vi to give news or information about something that one has been sent to find out about □ I'd like you to report back to me on what was discussed.

reportage [rɪ'pɔ:tɪdʒ] n the act of reporting news for the press, TV, or radio; this style of reporting.

report card n US EDUCATION a document written by a school for each student's parents to tell them about their child's work and behavior during the previous term or year.

reportedly [rɪ'pɔ:tɪdli] adv a word used to show that one is reporting what people say but cannot be sure that what is said is true □ He is reportedly suffering from pneumonia.

reported speech [rɪ'pɔ:tɪd-] n GRAMMAR a way of saying what somebody else has said without repeating their actual words, e.g. "he said that he was ill" and "she asked if she could come."

reporter [rɪ'pɔ:tɪtə] n a person whose job is to find news and report it in newspapers, on TV, or on the radio □ a crime reporter □ He's a reporter from "The Herald".

repose [rɪ'pəʊz] n calm and peaceful rest (literary use).

repository [US rɪ'pɒzətɔ:ri, GB -əri] (pl repositories) n -1. [for books, documents] a place, e.g. a museum or warehouse, where books, documents etc are stored. -2. [of facts, knowledge] a person or book that stores large amounts of information.

repossess [ˌrɪ:pə'zes] vt [house, car] to make somebody give <sthg> back, usually because they have failed to make the necessary payments for it.

repossession [ˌrɪ:pə'zeʃn] n: see repossess □ As mortgage rates have risen, the number of repossession has increased.

repossession order n a legal document obtained from a court of law that allows the owner to repossess a house, car etc.

reprehensible [ˌreprɪ'hensəbl] adj [person, behavior] that is very bad or immoral (formal use).

represent [ˌreprɪ'zent] vt -1. [person, country, group] to act or speak for <sb/sthg> □ Mr Singh represents our company's interests in India. □ The President was represented at the funeral by the First Lady. -2. to be represented [country, group] to have one of its members at a meeting, event etc; [opinion, interest] to be considered and discussed by the people at a meeting, event etc □ Various environmental groups are represented on the committee. ■ to be well OR strongly represented to be present in large numbers or in a great amount □ Dickinson's work is well represented in this new anthology. -3. [figure, amount] to be a sign or symbol for <sthg> □ "E" represents the speed of light. □ The graph represents the volume of sales over the last five years. -4. [ideas, opinions] to be typical of <sthg> □ I don't believe that your views represent the thinking of the general public. -5. [advance, increase, improvement] to be or mean the same as <sthg> □ My salary has risen by $500, which represents a 2% increase. □ Their new proposal represents a major change in their position. -6. to represent sb/sthg as sthg to describe sb/sthg as being sthg, usually incorrectly □ The new premier has tried to represent the vote as a triumph for democracy.

representation [ˌreprɪzən'teɪʃn] n -1. the fact of being represented by somebody on a committee, in a meeting etc □ The representation of blind people on the Disabled Council has increased significantly. -2. something, e.g. a picture, description, play etc, that shows or describes somebody or something □ The book is a moving representation of the sufferings of war.

◆ representations npl to make representations to sb GB to make a formal complaint or request to sb official (formal use).

representative [ˌreprɪˈzɛntatɪv] ◇ adj -1. [committee, panel, government] that is made up of a small group of people who are chosen or elected to act or speak on behalf of a larger group of people. -2. [view, sample] that is typical of a particular group of people □ The result of the survey is representative of the country as a whole.

◇ n -1. [of a company, organization] a person who is chosen to act or speak on behalf of somebody or something □ The government intends to send a representative to the negotiations. -2. POLITICS a senator, member of parliament etc who is elected to represent a particular region or group □ our elected representatives. -3. BUSINESS a person whose job is to visit companies and organizations in an area, selling goods and services for the company that they are employed by (formal use).

◆ Representative n a member of the US House of Representatives.

repress [rɪˈpres] vt -1. [smile, emotion, desire] to control  so that other people do not see or notice it □ I somehow managed to repress the urge to laugh. -2. [country, people] to control <sb/sthg> by force and cruelty □ The tribe was brutally repressed under colonial rule.

repressed [rɪˈprest] adj -1. [person] who is not able to show their natural feelings and desires, especially sexual ones □ sexually repressed. -2. [feeling, emotion] that is hidden so deeply inside somebody that they do not realize that they feel it □ All that repressed anger eventually came to the surface.

repression [rɪˈpresn] n -1. the use of force and cruelty to control people, a country etc □ After years of repression the country was suddenly free. -2. the act of hiding and controlling natural feelings and desires, especially sexual ones □ This is a classic case of sexual repression.

repressive [rɪˈpresɪv] adj [law, leadership, system] that is harsh, severe, and allows no personal freedom □ a repressive regime.

reprieve [rɪˈpri:v] ◇ n -1. [from a punishment] an official order delaying or canceling a punishment, especially a death sentence □ He was still hoping for a last-minute reprieve. -2. [from pain, an attack] a temporary delay or relief in times of trouble, pain etc □ The city enjoyed a brief reprieve during last week's ceasefire. ◇ vt to give  a reprieve.

reprimand [US ˈreprɪmænd, GB -mɑːnd] ◇ n a severe criticism or warning from somebody in authority. ◇ vt to give <sb> a reprimand because of something that they have said or done.

reprint [vb ˌriːˈprɪnt, n ˈriːprɪnt] ◇ vt to print new copies of  etc because the old copies have all been sold □ The book is being reprinted. ◇ n a copy of a book, picture etc that has been reprinted.

reprisal [rɪˈpraɪzl] n an attack or violent action that is intended to punish a group of people for harm that they have done □ Local authorities fear reprisals following Mr Daruwalla's arrest. □ The renewed violence is thought to be in reprisal for the killing of a youth by police last Monday.

reproach [rɪˈprəʊtʃ] ◇ n criticism or blame, usually because one is sad that somebody has not behaved in the way one had expected □ There was a look of reproach in her eyes. □ I'm fed up with his constant reproaches. ■ to be above or beyond reproach [behavior] to be so good that it cannot be criticized. ◇ vt to tell <sb> that they were wrong to do something □ He reproached her for forgetting where her duties lay.

reproachful [rɪˈprəʊtʃfl] adj [look, comment] that is full of reproach.

reprobate [ˈreprəbeɪt] n a person who behaves badly, e.g. by gambling or getting drunk a lot (humorous use).

reproduce [ˌriːprəˈdjuːs] ◇ vt [picture, detail, accent] to produce a copy of <sthg>; [atmosphere, success] to cause <sthg> to happen or be produced again □ We have been unable to reproduce the sales figures we achieved last year. □ The movie accurately reproduces life in the 19th century. ◇ vi BIOLOGY [animal, plant] to produce young animals, plants etc of the same kind as itself.

reproduction [ˌriːprəˈdʌkʃn] n -1. [of a painting, chair, antique] a modern copy of something such as a work of art □ This painting is clearly a reproduction. □ reproduction furniture. -2. [of a picture, atmosphere, success] see reproduce □ CD systems give excellent sound reproduction. -3. BIOLOGY the ways by which animals or plants reproduce □ human/plant reproduction.

reproductive [ˌriːprəˈdʌktɪv] adj BIOLOGY [organs, system] that is used by animals or plants in reproduction.

reprogram [ˌriːprəʊgræm] (vt & pp reprogrammed OR reprogrammed, cont reprogramming OR reprogramming) vt [computer, data, system] to program <sthg> again, usually to get rid of mistakes.

reproof [rɪˈpruːf] n (formal use) blame or disapproval of something that somebody has done; something somebody says that expresses this.

reprove [rɪˈpruːv] vt to speak to <sb> severely and tell them that they have behaved badly (formal use).

reproving [rɪˈpruːvɪŋ] adj [look, voice] that shows reproof for somebody (formal use).

reptile [ˈreptail] n an animal, e.g. a snake, lizard, crocodile, or tortoise, that is cold-blooded and lays eggs.

Repub US abbr of Republican.

republic [rɪˈpʌblɪk] n a country that is governed by elected representatives and has a president rather than a king or queen.

NOTE: Compare monarchy.

republican [rɪˈpʌblɪkən] ◇ n a person who supports the system of government in republics. ◇ adj: republican ideas/pressure/sympathies.

◆ Republican ◇ n -1. US a member or supporter of the Republican Party. -2. GB a person; especially from Northern Ireland, who wants Northern Ireland to leave the United Kingdom and become part of the Irish Republic. ◇ adj -1. US [president, senator, policy] that is connected with the Republican Party; [newspaper, campaigner] that supports the Republican Party. -2. GB [party, policy, sympathizer] that supports the idea that Northern Ireland should be united with the Irish Republic.

Republican Party n the Republican Party one of the two main political parties in the US. It is considered to be more right-wing than the Democratic Party.

Republic of Ireland → Irish Republic.

repudiate [rɪ'pjʊ:diət] vt (formal use) -1. [terrorism, violence] to say that one will have nothing to do with <sthg>; [suggestion, offer] to refuse to accept <sthg> □ Although politicians publicly repudiate such tactics, they nevertheless continue to happen. -2. [statement, accusation] to say forcefully that <sthg> is not true □ I repudiate all the charges made against me. -3. [friend, wife] to say publicly that one is no longer connected with <sb>.

repugnant [rɪ'pʌgnənt] adj [idea, person] that one finds very unpleasant, offensive, and disgusting □ The whole idea is repugnant to me.

repulse [rɪ'pʌls] vt -1. to cause <sb> to feel repulsion □ I felt repulsed by what he had done. -2. [friendship, offer] to refuse <sb/sthg> in a cold and unfriendly way. -3. MILITARY [army, invaders] to fight against <sb> and make them move back □ The troops successfully repulsed the first attack.

repulsion [rɪ'pʌlʃn] n -1. a feeling of strong dislike and disgust □ The thought fills me with repulsion. -2. PHYSICS a force that causes things, such as similar magnetic poles, to move away from one another.

repulsive [rɪ'pʌlsɪv] adj [person, behavior, habit] that causes one to feel strong dislike or disgust □ What a repulsive sight! □ I find smoking repulsive.

reputable [ˈreɪpjətəbl] adj [company, firm, supplier] that has a good reputation, especially for being honest and reliable □ I only buy from reputable dealers.

reputation [ˌreɪpjə'teɪʃn] n the opinion that people in general have about somebody or something, especially about how good or trustworthy they are □ The school has a good/bad reputation. □ He has a reputation as an excellent teacher. □ She has the reputation of being a bully. ■ to have a reputation for sthg/for being sthg to be well known for sthg/for being sthg, especially sthg bad □ Susan has a reputation for saying the wrong thing.

repute [rɪ'pjʊ:t] n (formal use) -1. of good/ill etc repute that has a good/bad etc reputation □ a musician of international repute. -2. of repute [company, supplier] that is respected and known to be trustworthy □ He's a doctor of some repute.

reputed [rɪ'pjʊ:təd] adj a reputed expert/authority etc somebody who is generally said or believed to be an expert/authority etc on something, though there is some doubt □ The police questioned Parker, the reputed author of the article. ■ to be reputed to be/do sthg to be generally said or believed to be/do sthg □ They are reputed to have offered $5 million for the painting. □ Finnigan is reputed to be in hiding in Argentina.

reputedly [rɪ'pjʊ:tədli] adv a word used to show that many people believe or claim that something is true, but one is not completely certain about it □ Sanderson is reputedly living somewhere on the island.

request [rɪ'kwɛst] ◇ n -1. an act of asking for something officially or politely □ I made a request for a loan. □ We are considering your request to be moved to a new department. □ He was unable to grant her request. ■ on request [do, send] if asked to; [obtainable, available] if asked for □ Catalogs are available on request. ■ at sb's request because sb has asked for something to be done □ I wrote the report at the request of my manager. -2. a piece of music that somebody has asked to be played, e.g. on the radio □ They played my request. □ a request show.

◇ vt [help, meeting] to ask for <sthg> politely or officially □ We request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of our daughter. □ You are requested not to smoke in the building. □ We are amending your file as requested.

request stop n GB a bus stop at which buses stop only if somebody asks them to, usually by making a signal with their hand.

requiem [ˈrɛkwɪəm] n a requiem (mass) a church service in special memory of somebody who has died; music written for such a service.

require [rɪ'kwɪə] vt -1. [attention, skill, action] to make <sthg> necessary; [help, permission, information] to need or want <sthg> □ The matter requires careful thought. □ Is there anything else you require? □ 'Part-time staff required.' -2. [license, obedience, silence] to officially demand that somebody must have or do <sthg> □ The regulations require people to return their tax forms within a week. □ Employees will be required to wear a uniform.

required [rɪ'kwɪəd] adj [standard, level, time] necessary □ when the liquid reaches the required temperature.

requirement [rɪ'kwɪə'mənt] n a need that somebody has; something that is needed or necessary □ We hope this new model meets your requirements. □ You do not have the minimum entry requirements for this university.

requisite [ˈrɛkwɪzət] adj [fee, experience, skills] necessary (formal use).

requisition [ˌrɛkwɪ'zɪʃn] vt [food, house, vehicle] to take <sthg> from somebody so that the army can use it.

reran [ˌrɪ:ræn] past tense of rerun.

reread [ˌrɪːˈri:d] (pt & pp reread [ˌrɪːˈred]) vt [book, report, meter] to read <sthg> again.

reroute [ˌrɪːˈru:t] vt [traffic, freight] to send <sthg> by a different route, usually because there is a problem with the usual route.

rerun [n ˈrɪːrʌn, vb ˌrɪːˈrʌn] (pt reran, pp rerun, cont rerunning) ◇ n -1. TV a movie or program that is being shown or broadcast again □ They're showing reruns of the "Lucy" show. □ old movie reruns. -2. [of a situation, conflict, disaster] a situation or event that is very like one that has happened before □ We don't want a rerun of the problems we had last year.

◇ vt -1. [race, competition, election] to run or hold <sthg> again, usually because something went wrong the first time. -2. [movie, program, play] to show, broadcast, or perform <sthg> again □ The show is being rerun on Channel Two. □ She reran the conversation in her mind. -3. [tape, computer program] to make <sthg> operate again, usually after making improvements.

resale price maintenance [ˌrɪːˈseɪl-] n GB BUSINESS a system in which a manufacturer fixes the lowest price that its products can be sold for in shops and by wholesalers.

resat [ˌrɪːˈsæt] past tense & past participle of resit.

reschedule [US ˌrɪːˈskedʒu:l, GB ˌ-ˈfedʒu:l] vt -1. [meeting, elections] to arrange <sthg> so that it happens at a different time □ The conference has been rescheduled for October 8. -2. FINANCE [loan, debt] to arrange a later date for the repayment of <sthg>.

rescind [rɪˈsɪnd] vt LAW [contract, law, agreement] to cancel <sthg> by stating officially that it is no longer valid.

rescue [ˈreskjʊː] ◇ vt to save <sb/sthg> from harm, danger, or loss, especially by putting oneself in danger □ I managed to rescue my papers from the fire. □ The climbers were rescued by helicopter. ◇ n the act of rescuing somebody □ a last-minute rescue □ The company is in need of financial rescue. □ a rescue party/mission □ a rescue operation/attempt/bid. ■ to come OR go to sb's rescue to rescue or help sb □ The company was losing money until a financier came to our rescue.

rescuer [ˈreskjʊːə] n a person who rescues or tries to rescue somebody.

reseal [ˌrɪːˈsi:l] vt [envelope, packet] to close and seal <sthg> again after it has been opened.

resealable [ˌrɪːˈsi:ləbl] adj [envelope, box, packet] that can be resealed and therefore reused.

research [rɪˈsɜːtʃ] ◇ n serious and detailed study that is intended to produce new knowledge or understanding of a subject □ medical/scientific/historical research □ We are doing research on OR into the spread of meningitis. □ a research laboratory/worker/grant. ■ research and development work done to invent, produce, and test new products and services; the part of a company or organization that does such work □ Research and development is vital to a company's long-term success. □ I work in research and development.

◇ vt [facts, background] to do research into <sthg> □ We have researched this matter in great detail.

◇ vi: Our scientists are researching into the effects of traffic pollution.

researcher [rɪˈsɜːtʃə] n a person who does research, usually as a job □ a TV/medical researcher.

resell [ˌrɪːˈsel] (pt & pp resold) vt [house, shares] to sell <sthg one has bought>, often to make a profit.

resemblance [rɪˈzembləns] n a way in which things or people resemble each other; the fact of looking like or being like somebody or something else □ He bears a strong resemblance to his father. □ There's not much resemblance between them, even if they are sisters.

resemble [rɪˈzembəl] vt to look like or be like <sb/sthg> □ She resembles her sister very closely. □ Conditions on the stock markets resemble those before the Crash.

resent [rɪˈzent] vt [question, comment, person] to feel resentment about <sb/sthg> □ I resent your interference in my private affairs. □ He resented having to consult Wilkes about everything. □ She had always resented her stepmother.

resentful [rɪˈzentfʊl] adj [person, look] full of resentment □ I felt very resentful toward him.

resentfully [rɪˈzentfʊli] adv [say, look, scowl] see resentful.

resentment [rɪˈzentmənt] n a feeling of anger and annoyance that one has because one thinks one has been treated unfairly □ There was widespread resentment over the tax increase.

reservation [ˌrezəˈveɪʃn] n -1. [at a hotel, restaurant] an arrangement made in advance for a seat on a plane, a table at a restaurant etc to be kept available for one □ a hotel/flight reservation □ I'd like to make a reservation for 8pm in the name of Eastwood. □ Do you have a reservation? -2. without reservation without any doubts or hesitation □ I support your proposal without reservation. -3. [for living on] a piece of land set aside for a group of people to live on, especially for people with a traditional way of life, such as Native Americans in the USA or Canada □ a Sioux reservation.

◆ reservations npl doubts about somebody or something that stop one from believing, liking, trusting etc them completely □ I have no reservations about recommending him for the job.

reserve [rɪˈzɜːv] ◇ n -1. [of coal, money, strength] a supply or store of something that can be used later if necessary □ The country has vast oil reserves. □ a reserve supply/tank. ■ to keep/have sthg in reserve to keep/have an amount of sthg that can be used later if necessary □ I've kept some cash in reserve in case we need it later. -2. SPORT a player who is not chosen for a team but will play if another member of the team is injured or unavailable □ our reserve goalie. -3. [for animals, plants] an area of land set aside to protect the birds or animals that live there □ a wildlife reserve. -4. [of a person] the quality of not wanting to talk about oneself or let other people know one's thoughts or feelings □ It was difficult to break through his very English reserve.

◇ vt -1. to reserve sthg for sb/sthg to keep sthg specially so that it can be used by sb/sthg □ This room is reserved for members only. -2. [table, seat, library book] to arrange to have <sthg> kept available at the time one wants to use it □ Can I reserve two tickets for tonight's performance? □ We have a table reserved in the name of Williams. -3. to reserve the right to do sthg to demand that one may be allowed to do sthg if one feels that this has become necessary □ The management reserves the right to refuse entry. □ 'All rights reserved.'

reserve bank n -1. one of the 12 main banks of the US Federal Reserve System that hold reserves of money for other banks. -2. the Reserve Bank of Australia the central bank of Australia that provides funds for other banks.

reserve currency n supplies of foreign currency that a government keeps in reserve to pay its international debts.

reserved [rɪ'zɜːvd] adj -1. [person] who is unwilling to talk about themselves or let other people know their thoughts or feelings □ He's shy and reserved by nature. □ a reserved smile. -2. [table, seat, library book] that somebody has reserved □ I'm afraid you can't sit there, it's reserved.

reserve price n GB the lowest price that the owner of something is willing to sell it for at an auction.

reservist [rɪ'zɜːvəst] n a trained soldier who is not in the army but can be asked to help the army in times of difficulty or emergency.

reservoir ['rezɔːvwaː] n a natural or artificial lake used as a store of water for homes, towns, factories etc.

reset [rɪ:'set] (pt & pp reset, cont resetting) ◇ vt -1. [clock, meter, controls] to change  so that it is ready to work under new conditions □ I reset my watch to Moscow time. -2. [arm, leg] to put  back into its correct position. -3. COMPUTING to start  again, usually because something has gone wrong with the way it is working. ◇ vi COMPUTING: Press the red button to reset.

resettle [rɪ:'setl] ◇ vt -1. [region, island] to go and live on, or to send people to live on <an area of land> etc where people used to live, but which is now uninhabited □ After the war successive governments tried to resettle the area. -2. to move <people> to a new area or country because they are no longer safe in their old homes or no longer allowed to live there □ The refugees were resettled in camps along the border. ◇ vi: Many Jews later resettled in Israel.

resettlement [rɪ:'setlmənt] n: see resettle.

reshape [rɪ:'ʃeɪp] vt [policy, thinking] to give a new form or direction to <sthg>.

reshuffle [rɪ:'ʃʌfl] ◇ n a change in the jobs and responsibilities of the people in an organization or political party □ a Cabinet re- shuffle. ◇ vt [management, department] to carry out a reshuffle of the people in <sthg>.

reside [rɪ'zaɪd] vi (formal use) -1. to live in a particular place and have one's home there □ The author is currently residing in Norway. -2. to reside in sthg to be found in or originate from sthg □ Political power resides in the prime minister and his cabinet.

residence ['rezɪdəns] n -1. a house or home, especially one that is big and impressive □ the ambassador's official residence. -2. in residence living and staying in a particular place, usually because one has a job or official position there □ Students must remain in residence throughout the term. ■ to take up residence to move to a place and start living there.

residence permit n an official document stating that a foreigner is allowed to live in a particular country for a particular length of time.

resident ['rezɪdənt] ◇ adj -1. to be resident in a place to be living in a place □ She has been resident in France for many years. -2. [chaplain, doctor, tutor] who lives at the place where they work; [artist, expert] who works at a particular place or with a particular group □ And now a word from our resident medical expert. ◇ n [of a town, street] a person who lives in a particular place; [of a hotel] a person who is staying at a hotel □ Local residents complained about the noise of traffic. □ The bar is only open to residents.

residential [ˌrezi'denʃl] adj [course, job] that requires people to live at the place where they work or study □ a residential institution □ a residential social worker. ■ residential care a system that gives old or disabled people a place to live where they are taken care of by trained staff □ She's living in residential care.

residential area n an area that contains mainly private houses and apartments, and few factories and offices.

residents' association n an organization formed by the people who live in a particular area, usually a town, that tries to make life safer and more pleasant in the area.

residual [rɪ'zɪdʒʊəl] adj residual damp/heat damp/heat that is left over after the main part has disappeared or been removed (formal use).

residue ['rezɪdʒuː] n -1. [of money, staff] a small amount of something that is left after most of it has been taken away. -2. [of salt, calcium] a small amount of a substance that is left at the end of a chemical process.

resign [rɪ'zaɪn] ◇ vt -1. [post, position] to say officially that one is leaving <one's job> □ The scandal forced him to resign his post. -2. to resign oneself to sthg [to defeat, one's fate] to accept sthg calmly because one realizes that one cannot change or prevent it □ I've resigned myself to having to work over the weekend. □ They resigned themselves to a very long wait. ◇ vi [from a post, position] □ I have resigned from the board/chairmanship. □ The board's director was forced to resign.

resignation [ˌreɪzɪˈneɪʃn] n -1. the act of resigning from a job, post etc □ a letter of resignation □ She handed in her resignation yesterday. -2. the feeling one has when one accepts something unpleasant without complaining, worrying, or trying to change it □ He accepted the decision with resignation.

resigned [rɪˈzaɪnd] adj [person] who has resigned themselves to something □ a resigned look/smile □ I felt resigned to losing my job.

resilience [rɪˈzɪljəns] n: see resilient □ The campaign has shown remarkable resilience after the setbacks of last year.

resilient [rɪˈzɪljənt] adj -1. [material, substance] that is difficult to damage because it goes back to its original shape after being hit, bent, or crushed □ The springs are still highly resilient. -2. [person, company] that can recover quickly from illness, difficulty, change etc □ The movement has proved far more resilient than was expected.

resin [ˈrezn] n -1. a thick sticky liquid that is produced by some trees, e.g. firs and pines, and is used in making medicines, varnish, and paints □ pine resin. -2. a thick sticky substance produced in chemical factories that is used in glues and for making plastics □ industrial resin.

resist [rɪˈzɪst] vt -1. [enemy, attack, infection] to fight against <sthg that is trying to harm one> □ Wilkins was charged with robbery and resisting arrest. -2. [change, proposal, attempt] to try to stop <sthg> from happening or taking effect □ The chairman resisted demands for his resignation. -3. [temptation, urge, offer] to stop oneself from doing <sthg that one would like to do> □ I couldn't resist telling him. □ I can never resist temptation.

resistance [rɪˈzɪstəns] n -1. [to an enemy, attack, change] see resist □ The invaders met with little resistance. □ There is considerable resistance to his latest ideas. -2. [to germs, a disease] the power of the body to remain unharmed by something □ The patient's resistance to infection is low.

resistant [rɪˈzɪstənt] adj -1. to be resistant to sthg [to change, reform] not to want sthg and to try to stop it from happening □ You can try, but they are extremely resistant to new ideas. -2. to be resistant to sthg [to heat, fire, poison] not to be harmed or damaged by sthg □ rust/flame-resistant □ This variety is particularly resistant to disease.

resistor [rɪˈzɪstə] n a device used to reduce the amount of electricity passing through an electrical circuit.

resit [n ˈrɪːsɪt, vb ˈrɪːsɪt] (pt & pp resat, cont re-sitting) GB ◇ n a second examination that a candidate can take if they fail the first one. ◇ vt to take <an examination> again, usually after failing.

resold [ˌrɪːˈsould] past tense & past participle of resell.

resolute [ˈrezələːt] adj [belief, refusal] that is firm and determined, often when one is faced with problems or opposition □ I tried to dissuade him, but he was resolute. □ She took a resolute stand against the cuts.

resolutely [ˈrezələːtli] adv [support, oppose, refuse] see resolute □ Some countries remain resolutely opposed to the idea.

resolution [ˌrezəˈluːʃn] n -1. a proposal to be discussed by a group of people at a meeting; a formal statement of opinion, agreed by a vote of people at a meeting □ The French delegation laid down a resolution that business should be conducted in French. □ The resolution was passed unanimously. -2. [to oneself] a promise made to oneself to do something □ New Year resolutions □ I made a resolution to stop smoking. -3. [in somebody's character] strong determination when faced by problems or opposition □ She went about her tasks with grim resolution. -4. [to a problem] a way of settling or deciding a problem, difficulty etc □ The UN hopes that it will find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

resolve [rɪˈzɒlv] ◇ n the determination to succeed when faced by problems or opposition □ These setbacks only served to strengthen our resolve. ◇ vt -1. to resolve to do sthg to make a firm decision to do sthg, often as a result of something bad that has happened □ She resolved that she would never speak to him again. -2. [crisis, dispute, disagreement] to find a way of settling or deciding  □ I'm sure there's a peaceful way to resolve our differences.

resonance [ˈrezənəns] n: see resonant.

resonant [ˈrezənənt] adj [voice, drum, sound] that echoes and is deep, loud, and clear.

resonate [ˈrezəneɪt] vi [voice, sound] to make a resonant sound □ The entire hall resonated with the sound of cheering.

resort [rɪˈzɔːt] n -1. a town or place where many people spend their vacations □ a health/tourist resort. -2. to do sthg as a last resort to do sthg when everything else has failed □ As a last resort he asked his father for the money. □ Yes, but you must only do it as a last resort. ■ in the last resort after all other possibilities have been considered □ In the last resort he may have to resign.

◆ resort to vt fus to resort to sthg [violence, theft, strikes] to use sthg, even though it is wrong or unpleasant, because there is no other way of getting what one wants □ Both countries were reluctant to resort to military intervention.

resound [rɪˈzaʊnd] vi -1. [explosion, music] to be heard loudly and clearly □ His voice resounded through the empty hallway. -2. to resound with sthg [with drums, voices, laughter] to be filled with the sound of sthg □ The whole room resounded with applause.

resounding [rɪˈzaʊndɪŋ] adj -1. [crash, blow] very loud. -2. a resounding success/failure a very great success/failure □ It was a resounding victory for common sense.

resource [US ˈrɪːsɔːrs, GB rɪˈzɔːs] n -1. [of coal, oil, land] a supply of a raw material that a country can use □ our natural/mineral resources. -2. [of strength, courage] qualities or possessions that a person can use for help, support etc □ Our staff is our most valuable resource. □ She has inner resources of energy and determination. -3. sb's resources the money sb has available to spend on things □ financial resources □ We pooled our resources to buy her a decent present.

resourceful [rɪ'sɔ:ʃfl] adj [person] who is good at finding ways of dealing with difficult situations using whatever is available □ I'm sure she'll be able to find a way to do it — she's extremely resourceful.

resourcefulness [rɪ'sɔ:ʃflnəs] n: see resourceful.

respect [rɪ'spekt] ◇ n -1. [for a person, somebody's work] the belief that somebody or something is important, admirable, useful, or valuable □ I have enormous respect for her opinions. □ Mr Fipke seems unable to command the respect of his staff. ■ with (all due/the greatest) respect... a phrase used when one wants to be polite to somebody one is disagreeing with (formal use) □ With all due respect to the Chairman, I still think that this plan is unwise. -2. [for somebody's rights, wishes, privacy] care that one does not harm or interfere with something; [for a custom, rule] care and attention that is required by something □ She shows little respect for other people's property. □ This chemical is dangerous and must be treated with respect. -3. in this OR that respect in connection with what has just been said □ In this respect we are in complete agreement. ■ in one respect/many respects etc in one way/many ways etc □ In some respects they are very different.

◇ vt -1. [person, work] to feel respect for <sb/sthg> □ I find it hard to respect a man who treats his wife like that. □ I respect her enormously for the way she has stood up to criticism. -2. [rights, privacy, customs] to show respect for <sthg>; [somebody's opinion, judgment, decision] to accept that somebody has a right to <sthg>, even if one does not agree with it □ He seemed unable to respect my need for silence and privacy. □ I respect what you're saying, but it does not alter my decision.

◆ respects npl a word used to send one's good wishes to somebody (formal use) □ Please give my respects to your husband. ■ to pay one's last respects to sb to go to sb's funeral.

◆ with respect to prep a phrase used to show the person or thing that a statement applies to □ With respect to your application for promotion, this matter will be considered next week.

respectability [rɪ'spektə'bɪlətɪ] n [of a person, family] see respectable □ The marriage was an attempt to achieve some sort of respectability.

respectable [rɪ'spektəbl] adj -1. [person, family] that lives and behaves in a way that people find morally or socially acceptable □ They live in a respectable neighborhood. □ I must do my hair and make myself look respectable. -2. [result, distance, amount] that is average or acceptable for a particular purpose or situation (informal use) □ This increase makes my salary fairly respectable at last.

respectably [rɪ'spektəblɪ] adv [behave, dress] see respectable □ a respectably dressed young man.

respected [rɪ'spektəd] adj [citizen, scientist, organization] that people admire and have a good opinion of □ a highly respected musician.

respectful [rɪ'spektfl] adj [person, question, bow] that shows respect for somebody □ They listened in respectful silence to her speech.

respectfully [rɪ'spektflɪ] adv [speak, ask, clap] see respectful □ 'Guests are respectfully requested not to smoke in the corridor.'

respective [rɪ'spektɪv] adj a word that shows that each of two or more things belongs to each of the other things or people that are mentioned □ After the meeting the managers went back to their respective departments. □ They each had their respective tasks to fulfill.

respectively [rɪ'spektɪvlɪ] adv a word that shows that each of two or more things in one list refers to something else in the same position in another list □ The pound's falls against the peseta and the drachma are less marked — down from 188 to 185.5 and 352 to 348 respectively.

respiration [ˌrespə'reɪʃn] n breathing (technical use).

respirator [ˌrespə'reɪtə] n -1. a device worn over the face to allow people to breathe when surrounded by smoke or poisonous gas. -2. a machine that pumps air into the lungs of people who are unconscious or badly injured □ He was put on a respirator.

respiratory [US ˌrespə'reɪtɔ:ri, GB rɪ'spɪrətəri] adj [system, disease] that is connected with or affects people's breathing □ respiratory failure.

respite [US ˌrespət, GB -aɪt] n -1. a short period of rest or relief during a time of pain, worry, or hard work □ We worked all day without a moment's respite. □ After a brief respite, the bombing began again. -2. a short delay that one is allowed before having to do something unpleasant □ We've been given a respite of two weeks before we have to pay.

respite care n residential care that is arranged for short periods for the elderly, mentally handicapped etc so that the people who normally look after them can have a rest.

resplendent [rɪ'splendənt] adj [colors, building, garden] that one thinks is impressive to look at (literary use) □ Miss Waters was resplendent in a red, full-length dress and a diamond tiara.

respond [rɪ'spɒnd] ◇ vt to say <sthg> in answer to something (formal use) □ 'I'll go,' he responded. □ She responded that it was the only viable course of action. ◇ vi -1. [to a question, suggestion, request] to do something as an answer or reaction to something □ Jennifer responded with a smile. □ He has failed to respond to my letter. □ They responded by ignoring us completely. -2. [to treatment] to react well or in a favorable way to a particular kind of treatment, especially medical treatment □ The car responds well. □ The patient/disease is not responding to treatment.

response [rɪˈspɒns] n -1. [to a question, letter] an answer or reply □ There have been sixty responses to our advertisement. □ I wrote last week but so far I've had no response. -2. [to a request, event, situation] an action done as an answer or reaction to something □ There was a good response to our appeal for information. □ The government's response to the riots was to call out the army. ■ in response as an answer or reaction to something □ I am writing in response to your letter of July 15.

response time n COMPUTING the time it takes a computer to complete a task and tell the user it is ready to receive its next instruction.

responsibility [rɪˌspɒnsəˈbɪlətɪ] (pl responsibilities) n -1. [for arrangements, somebody's work, a project] control and authority over something, and the duty to see that it is done properly □ She was given the responsibility of making all investment decisions. □ We share responsibility for customer relations. □ It's not my responsibility to oversee new staff. -2. [for a mistake, accident] the blame for having caused something □ I take full responsibility for whatever damage he has done. -3. something that one must do, especially a job or task □ Your responsibilities will include training new staff. □ We have a responsibility to our shareholders to accept the highest bid.

responsible [rɪˈspɒnsəbl] adj -1. to be responsible for sthg [for arrangements, somebody's work, a project] to have responsibility for sthg; [for a mistake, accident] to be the cause of sthg bad that has happened □ You will be primarily responsible for a program of joint ventures. □ A faulty valve is thought to have been responsible for the explosion. □ You will be held personally responsible for any discrepancies in the accounts. -2. to be responsible to sb [to a committee, one's manager, shareholders] to be under the authority of sb and have a duty to explain to them what one has done □ The senior managers are responsible to the board of directors. -3. [person] who can be trusted to do things without needing to be watched or controlled □ I wish you would take a more responsible attitude to your work. -4. [job, task, position] that involves important work that will affect other people.

responsibly [rɪˈspɒnsəblɪ] adv [behave, act] see responsible.

responsive [rɪˈspɒnsɪv] adj [person] who is able to react quickly and effectively to something □ Politicians need to be responsive to public opinion.

respray [vb ˈriːspreɪ, n ˈriːspreɪ] ◇ vt to spray  with a new coat of paint. ◇ n: I'm taking the car in for a respray.

rest [rest] ◇ n -1. the rest everything or everybody else, apart from the things, people, or part of something that one has already mentioned □ We ate half the cake and threw the rest away. □ Five of us were English, the rest were from America. □ The rest of the journey was very pleasant. □ I thought you were different, but you're just like all the rest. -2. [from work] a period of freedom from work or from something that is tiring; [for one's body] sleep or comfortable relaxation □ You need a rest from all this worry. □ They worked all night without a moment's rest. □ I need some rest. □ Why don't you have a rest? -3. [for somebody's feet, head] an object for supporting something on □ a foot rest. -4. phrases to come to rest [vehicle, ball] to stop moving □ The car finally came to rest in a ditch. ■ to lay OR put sthg to rest [idea, belief] to show that sthg is not true □ I want to lay this rumor to rest once and for all.

◇ vt -1. [one's eyes, feet, arms] to allow  to relax and recover after a period of work or effort □ Sit down and rest your legs! -2. to rest sthg on/against sthg [head, ladder, book] to allow sthg to lie, lean, or be supported on/against sthg □ I rested my bike up against a lamppost. □ He rested his head on her shoulder. -3. (you can) rest assured (that)... you can be sure that... □ Rest assured that we're doing all we can to help.

◇ vi -1. [person] to stop doing something and be still in order to recover one's strength □ We stopped to rest before continuing up the hill. □ I won't rest until I find Rory's killer. -2. to rest on sb/sthg [hopes, result] to depend on sb/sthg; [argument, fame] to be based on sb/sthg □ England's hopes rest on Jones qualifying for the final. □ The prosecution's case rests on the evidence of the next witness. -3. to rest with sb [choice, blame] to be the responsibility of sb □ In the end, the responsibility for the decision rests with you. -4. to rest on/against sthg to lie, lean, or be supported on/against sthg □ His head rested on her shoulder.

rest area n US & AUS a place at the side of a road where drivers can stop and rest.

restart [n ˈriːstɑːt, vb ˈriːstɑːt] ◇ n COMPUTING the act of restarting a computer operating system. ◇ vt -1. [vehicle, engine, race] to start <sthg> again because it has stopped or gone wrong. -2. [work] to start <sthg> again after a rest or break. ◇ vi -1. [vehicle, engine] to start again. -2. [game, play] to start again after a break.

restate [ˈriːsteɪt] vt [policy, objections, opinion] to say <sthg> again, usually in different words.

restaurant [ˈrestərɒnt] n a place where people can buy and eat meals □ a Greek/Chinese restaurant.

restaurant car n GB a car on a train where people can buy and eat food.

rest cure n a long period of rest that is a medical treatment for stress, an illness, a mental problem etc.

rested [ˈrestəd] adj to be OR feel rested to feel better because one has had a rest or vacation.

restful [ˈrestfl] adj [weekend, atmosphere, color] that makes one feel relaxed □ I had a very welcome and restful break.

rest home n a place where old or sick people live and are looked after.

resting place [ˈrestɪŋ-] n sb's last resting place sb's grave □ The abbey is his final resting place.

restitution [ˌrɛstɪˈtjuːʃn] n [of money, rights, property] the act of giving back something lost or stolen; payment for damage done to something (formal use).

restive [ˈrɛstɪv] adj [crowd, audience] that is restless and impatient, and therefore likely to cause trouble.

restless [ˈrɛstləs] adj -1. [audience, child] who will not keep still or quiet, usually because they are bored or dissatisfied □ The audience was beginning to get restless. -2. [person] who is constantly moving and unable to be still □ his restless wanderings. -3. [night] that is without rest or sleep □ I spent a restless night worrying about Jo.

restlessly [ˈrɛstləslɪ] adv [move, walk] see restless □ Grant paced restlessly up and down the waiting room.

restock [ˌrɪˈstɒk] ◇ vt [shelves, river] to fill <sthg> with new supplies. ◇ vi: We restock at the end of each week.

restoration [ˌrɛstəˈreɪʃn] n -1. [of a tax, somebody's hearing] see restore □ the restoration of law and order. -2. work done to restore a building, painting etc to its original condition; a building, painting etc that has been restored □ They're doing a lot of restoration work on the façade.

restorative [rɪˈstɔːrətɪv] adj [food, sleep] that makes one feel better, healthier, or stronger (formal use) □ the restorative powers of sleep.

restore [rɪˈstɔːr] vt -1. [order, confidence, somebody's hearing] to bring <sthg> back after it has been lost; [tax, law] to bring <sthg> back after it has stopped being used □ Troops were called in to restore calm. □ You've restored my faith in human nature! □ In 1977 the country voted to restore the death penalty. ■ to restore sb to sthg [to power, health] to bring sb back to sthg. -2. [building, painting] to mend and clean <sthg> so that it returns to its original condition □ The palace was restored to its former glory in 1953. -3. [stolen goods, rights, land] to give <sthg> back to its former owner □ The jewels were restored to their rightful owners.

restorer [rɪˈstɔːrə] n -1. a person who restores old buildings, paintings etc. -2. a substance that improves the appearance of something that is old, dirty etc □ a furniture restorer.

restrain [rɪˈstreɪn] vt -1. to try to stop <sb> from doing something they intend to do □ She couldn't restrain herself from laughing. -2. to control  by using force □ The prisoner became violent and had to be restrained. -3. [emotion, growth, inflation] to keep <sthg> under control □ government attempts to restrain public spending.

restrained [rɪˈstreɪnd] adj -1. [person, response, criticism] that is calm, controlled, and unemotional □ The tone of the letter was unusually restrained. -2. [color, style, music] that is not loud, bright, or highly decorated □ The decor was tasteful and restrained.

restraint [rɪˈstreɪnt] n -1. [on budget, trade] a rule or condition that stops something from becoming too big or dangerous □ There were few restraints imposed on his power. □ The De- partment of Trade has imposed restraints on Japanese car imports. □ wage restraints. -2. the ability to stay calm and controlled in difficult situations □ I think he showed great restraint in not losing his temper. □ We should exercise due restraint.

restrict [rɪˈstrɪkt] vt [number, growth, movement] to put a limit on <sb/sthg> □ We need laws to restrict the ownership of firearms. ■ to restrict sb to sthg not to allow sb more than a particular amount of sthg □ Each passenger is restricted to one bottle of wine. □ I shall restrict myself to a few comments on this subject. ■ to restrict sthg to sb/sthg to keep sthg limited to sb/sthg □ Speed is restricted to 30 mph. □ Membership is restricted to people in management positions. ■ to restrict oneself to sthg [to a subject, activity] to limit what one says or does to sthg □ He should restrict himself to writing instead of interfering with politics.

restricted [rɪˈstrɪktɪd] adj -1. [membership, access, space] limited in amount, number, or size □ Membership is restricted to 600 people. □ Visibility was restricted to ten meters. □ a seat with a restricted view of the stage. -2. [document, information, area] that is secret and available only to people with special permission □ 'Restricted area: no unauthorized personnel.'

restriction [rɪˈstrɪkʃn] n -1. a rule or condition that restricts something □ speed/import/currency restrictions □ The State Department had imposed restrictions on foreign travel. □ Living out of town places restrictions on our social life. -2. something that stops something else from moving or growing freely □ Loosen all clothing to avoid restriction of circulation and breathing.

restrictive [rɪˈstrɪktɪv] adj [discipline, rule, father] that stops somebody from behaving as freely as they want to.

restrictive practices npl GB official ways of working used by a labor union that prevent the most effective use of time, labor, equipment etc.

rest room n US a public toilet in a restaurant, theater etc.

restructure [ˌrɪːˈstrʌktʃə] vt [company, department, local government] to change and improve the organization of <sthg>.

result [rɪˈzʌlt] ◇ n -1. something that happens because of something else that has happened □ These problems are the result of a misunderstanding. □ The net result of the report was a reorganization of the company. □ I refused, with the result that I was fired. □ Doing it this way seems to produce the same result. -2. [of a game, election] the final position showing who won and who lost etc; [of a test, examination] a statement showing how somebody or something performed □ the primary results □ The company's annual results will be published tomorrow. -3. [of a calculation, sum] the number that is the answer to a mathematical problem.

◇ vi to result in sthg to be the cause of sthg usually after a period of time and at the end

- of a series of events □ The fire resulted in two deaths. □ The dispute eventually resulted in her resigning. ■ to result from sthg to be caused by sthg □ His injuries resulted from a bad fall.
- ◆ as a result adv because of this □ My car broke down and as a result I was unable to get there.
- ◆ as a result of prep because of <sthg> □ The game had to be canceled as a result of the weather.
- resultant [rɪ'zʌltənt] adj [chaos, change, publicity] that happens as a result of something (formal use) □ The resultant scandal nearly ended her career.
- resume [rɪ'zju:m] ◇ vt -1. [talks, meeting, journey] to start <sthg> again after a break or pause □ Normal service will be resumed as soon as possible. -2. [place, position] to go back to <one's seat> after leaving it for a while (formal use) □ Would the audience please resume their seats for Act 2. ◇ vi [talks, meeting, journey] The meeting resumed at 3 o'clock.
- résumé [US 'rezəmeɪ, GB -ju-] n -1. US a document describing one's education, background, achievements, and previous employment that one sends to companies when one is looking for a job □ I sent them a copy of my résumé. -2. [of events, the plot] a short account of something, giving only the main points □ He gave a brief résumé of what had been said.
- resumption [rɪ'zʌmpʃn] n [of talks, a meeting, journey] see resume □ Observers fear a resumption of hostilities between the two countries.
- resurface [,rɪ'sɜ:ʃəs] ◇ vt to put a new surface on . ◇ vi [person, problem, rivalry] to appear again after having disappeared for a period of time.
- resurgence [rɪ'sɜ:dʒəns] n [of interest, terrorism] a return of an attitude or activity which has not been seen or noticed for a period of time (formal use) □ There has been a resurgence of sectarian violence in the area.
- resurrect [,rezə'rekt] vt [policy, law, custom] to bring <sthg> back into use or fashion after it has disappeared and been forgotten □ The idea has recently been resurrected.
- resurrection [,rezə'rekʃn] n [of policy, law, custom] see resurrect.
- ◆ Resurrection n the Resurrection RELIGION in the Bible, the return to life of Jesus Christ after his death.
- resuscitate [rɪ'sʌsɪteɪt] vt to bring <sb who is badly injured or nearly dead> back to consciousness or life □ They tried to resuscitate him, but it was too late.
- resuscitation [rɪ,sʌsɪ'teɪʃn] n: see resuscitate □ All attempts at resuscitation failed.
- retail ['ri:teɪl] ◇ n the sale of goods to people for their own use, usually in small quantities and in stores □ the retail of foodstuffs □ retail goods/businesses/traders. ◇ adv [buy, sell] at retail price. ◇ vi to retail at a particular price to cost a particular price when sold to the public □ These shoes retail at $85 a pair.
- NOTE: Compare wholesale.
- retailer ['ri:teɪlə] n a person who sells goods to the public.
- retail outlet n a store or other place where goods are sold at retail price.
- retail price n the price at which something is sold to individual members of the public.
- retail price index n GB a system of numbers that uses the prices of a standard list of typical goods at a particular time to show changes in the cost of living.
- retain [rɪ'teɪn] vt -1. [balance, power, independence] to keep <sthg>, especially something that one wants to keep □ I intend to retain control of this company. □ The new system retains some of the features of the old one. -2. [heat, water] to continue to have or contain <sthg> and not let it escape or disappear □ The flowers have retained their freshness.
- retainer [rɪ'teɪnə] n a fee paid to somebody to make sure that they will be available to do some work if this becomes necessary □ Mr Lomax is being paid a $1,000 monthly retainer.
- retaining wall [rɪ,tetɪnɪŋ-] n a strong wall built to hold back water or support a mass of earth.
- retaliate [rɪ'tæliet] vi to do something unpleasant to somebody in revenge for something unpleasant that they have done to one □ The Americans retaliated by expelling three Algerian diplomats.
- retaliation [rɪ,tæli'eɪʃn] n: see retaliate □ The attack is thought to have been in retaliation for last week's bombing.
- retarded [rɪ'tɑ:ɾəd] adj [child] who is less developed physically or mentally than other people of the same age □ mentally retarded.
- retch [retʃ] vi to make the sounds and movements of vomiting, but without bringing anything up from one's stomach.
- retention [rɪ'tenʃn] n: see retain □ Several members voted for the retention of the ban.
- retentive [rɪ'tentɪv] adj [mind, memory] able to remember things very well.
- rethink [vb ,rɪ:'θɪŋk, n 'rɪ:θɪŋk] (pt & pp rethought [-'θɔ:t]) ◇ vt [policy, plan, situation] to think about <sthg> again in order to change it □ Clare and Co. have been rethinking their sales strategy. ◇ vi: The unexpected improvement forced us to rethink. ◇ n the act of rethinking something □ The company is having a major rethink of their advertising strategy.
- reticence ['retɪsəns] n: see reticent □ I sensed a reticence on their part to discuss the deal.
- reticent ['retɪsənt] adj [person] who is unwilling to talk to people, especially about a particular subject □ He was unusually reticent on the subject.
- retina ['retɪnə] (pl retinas OR retinae [-ni:]) n the area at the back of one's eye that turns light into nerve messages.
- retinue ['retɪnju:] n a group of servants, helpers, followers etc that travels with an important person.
- retire [rɪ'taɪə] vi -1. [from a job] to stop working, usually because one has reached a parricular age □ He retired from football after he broke his leg. -2. [to another place] to go away to a place that is less crowded or busy (formal use) □ Shall we retire to the lounge? -3. [to bed] to go to bed (formal use) □ I decided to retire for the night.

retired [rɪ'taɪə'd] adj [professor, mailman, nurse] who is no longer working, usually because they have passed retirement age □ My parents are both retired now.

retirement [rɪ'taɪə'mənt] ◇ n -1. the time when somebody retires from work □ You will receive a lump sum on retirement. □ a retirement present. -2. the time after one has retired □ They're enjoying their retirement. ◇ comp a retirement home/community - etc. a home/community etc where old retired people live.

retirement age n the age at which people normally retire □ She is past retirement age.

retirement pension n money that is paid regularly to somebody who has retired.

retirement plan n US a system in which a worker and their employer both make regular payments to a fund that provides money for the worker's retirement pension.

retiring [rɪ'taɪərɪŋ] adj -1. [person] who is quiet and shy □ David's very shy and retiring. -2. [chairman, official] who is soon going to retire from their position □ payments to retiring staff.

retort [rɪ'tɔ:'t] ◇ n a short, quick, rather angry reply to somebody who has said something annoying □ "Go away!" was his angry retort. ◇ vt to say <sthg> as a retort □ "Do it yourself!" she retorted. □ He retorted that it was all my fault.

retouch [rɪ:'tʌtʃ] vt [painting, photograph] to alter or improve <sthg> by painting over parts of it.

retrace [rɪ'treɪs] vt to retrace one's steps to go back over exactly the same route that one has taken, usually to look for something one has lost.

retract [rɪ'trækt] ◇ vt -1. [statement, accusation, confession] to officially deny the truth of <sthg one has said earlier> □ Plomov was forced to retract his earlier statement. -2. [claw, wheel, rod] to pull <sthg> back so that it no longer shows or sticks out □ You can retract the blade by pressing this switch. ◇ vi -1. [person] The charges you've made are too serious for you to retract now. -2. [claw, wheel, rod] The blade automatically retracts after use.

retractable [rɪ'træktəbl] adj [claws, wheels, rod] that can be retracted.

retraction [rɪ'trækʃn] n -1. [of a statement, accusation, confession] see retract. -2. a formal written apology retracting a previous statement, accusation, confession etc □ The newspaper was forced to print a retraction of the article.

retrain [rɪ:'treɪn] ◇ vt to teach <sb> new skills to help them find work. ◇ vi to be retrained □ She's retraining as a nurse.

retraining [rɪ:'treɪnɪŋ] n teaching intended to give people new skills so that they can find work □ Retraining is vital to turn the local economy around.

retread [rɪ'tred] n a worn tire that has been given a new outer layer so that it can be used again.

retreat [rɪ'tri:t] ◇ vi -1. [from a person, to a place] to move back or away from somebody or something, because one is afraid or embarrassed or wants to be alone □ We retreated to the kitchen so we could talk. -2. MILITARY [from an army, place] to move back after being defeated or because of danger □ The troops were forced to retreat to the hills around the city. -3. [from a principle, decision, lifestyle] to decide not to continue with something because it has become too difficult or embarrassing □ After the scandal, the bishop retreated from public life. □ The management was forced to retreat on its program of job cuts.

◇ n -1. MILITARY [from a place] an operation in which an army retreats □ Napoleon's retreat from Moscow □ The army was in full retreat. -2. [from a principle, decision, lifestyle] a change in attitude in which one retreats from an earlier position or decision □ The minister's statement marks a retreat from his hard-line policy. ■ to beat a (hasty) retreat to leave a place quickly □ The burglars beat a hasty retreat when the alarm went off. -3. [where one stays] a quiet place where one can go when one wants to be alone □ a Buddhist retreat.

retrenchment [rɪ'trentʃmənt] n a period or policy in which a company, government etc cuts costs and reduces its spending (formal use).

retrial [rɪ'traɪəl] n a new trial of a case of law, e.g. because the jury was unable to reach a decision or new evidence has been found □ The judge ordered a retrial.

retribution [rɪ'trɪ'bju:ʃn] n punishment that is deserved or expected □ Retribution was swift.

retrieval [rɪ'tri:vəl] n COMPUTING the act of getting information from a computer file □ data retrieval.

retrieve [rɪ'tri:v] vt -1. to get <sthg> back from a place where it should not be □ She retrieved her shoe from under the bed. -2. COMPUTING [information, data] to get back <sthg that has been stored on a computer> □ I don't seem to be able to retrieve that file. -3. to retrieve the situation to make the situation better or more acceptable when it seems very bad □ It will take a miracle to retrieve the situation at this stage of the game.

retriever [rɪ'tri:və] n a hunting dog trained to fetch birds and animals that have been shot.

retroactive [rɪ'trəʊ'æktɪv] adj [pay increase, legislation] that applies to a period in the past as well as to the future (formal use).

retrograde [rɪ'trəgreɪd] adj that causes somebody or something to go back to an earlier and worse state □ a retrograde step.

retrogressive [rɪ'trə'gresɪv] adj [change, policy] that is retrograde.

retrospect [rɪ'trɒspekt] n in retrospect a phrase used to say one is thinking about something that happened in the past, often with a new opinion about it □ In retrospect, it was the wrong decision.

retrospective [ˌrɛtrəˈspektɪv] ◇ adj -1. [anger, mood, exhibition] that involves looking at or thinking about the past from the point of view of the present. -2. [law, change] that takes effect from a date earlier than the date on which it is announced, published etc. ◇ n an exhibition of works created by an artist over a long period of time □ Have you seen the Calder retrospective?

retrospectively [ˌrɛtrəˈspektɪvlɪ] adv [describe, feel, validate] see retrospective.

return [rɪˈtʊːn] ◇ n -1. the act of going back to a particular place after being away from it for a period of time □ He found that much had changed on his return. □ She'll call on her return from the conference. □ The return trip was uneventful. -2. [of love, happiness] the reappearance of something after a period when it was missing □ We can only hope for a return to democracy at some point in the future. -3. [of money, a book] the act of giving back something that one has borrowed or taken □ Campaigners are calling for the return of the paintings to their country of origin. -4. SPORT [in tennis] the act of hitting the ball back to one's opponent □ That was a good return. -5. BUSINESS the profit one makes from something, e.g. from stock or an investment □ You can expect a high return on your investment. -6. COMPUTING = return key □ Press 'return'. -7. GB = return ticket □ A return to Leeds, please.

◇ vt -1. [property, money] to give <sthg> back to the person who owns it □ He wanted to return the ring to its proper owner. □ All keys must be returned by Friday morning. -2. [compliment, visit] to give back to somebody <the same thing that they gave to one> □ I hope I can return the favor some time. -3. [love, affection] to feel for somebody <the same feelings that they have for one> □ She does not return his feelings. -4. to return sthg to a place [book, switch] to put sthg that has been moved or taken back to the place where it was before □ She returned the violin to its case. -5. LAW to return a verdict to give a verdict at the end of a trial □ The jury is expected to return a verdict of not guilty. -6. POLITICS to elect  □ She was returned to Congress with an increased majority.

◇ vi to come or go back □ He's just returned from Paris. □ He'll be returning to work tomorrow. □ Things have returned to normal now. □ "Of course," he said, and returned to his book.

◆ returns npl -1. BUSINESS the profit that somebody makes from an investment, business, shares etc. □ The best long-term returns come from careful manning. -2. many happy returns (of the day)! a phrase used to wish somebody a happy birthday.

◆ in return adv in exchange □ What will you give us in return? □ And in return, we will give you a 10% discount.

◆ in return for prep in exchange for <sthg> □

He offered them his services in return for money.

□ What do we get in return for our cooperation?

returnable [rɪˈtʊːnəbl] adj [bottle, container] that can be given back after one has used it, often so that it can be used again.

returning officer [rɪˈtʊːnɪŋ] n GB an official who organizes an election in a particular area and who announces the result.

return key n COMPUTING the key on a keyboard that is used to move to the next line or to confirm a command.

return match n SPORT the second of two games played between the same two players or teams.

return ticket n GB a ticket bought for a bus, train, plane etc that gives somebody the right to travel to a particular place and back again.

reunification [ˌriːjuːnɪfɪˈkeɪʃn] n the act of bringing together something such as a country that has been divided □ the reunification of Germany.

reunion [ˌriːjuːnjən] n -1. a party for members of the same family, school, group etc who have not met for a long time □ a school/family reunion. -2. the act of bringing together people after they have been separated for a long time □ It was a tearful reunion.

reunite [ˌriːjuːnaɪt] vt to bring <people who have been separated for a long time> together; to cause <the different parts of an organization, country> etc to be united again □ He was reunited with his sister at the airport. □ At last they were reunited.

reupholster [ˌriːʌpˈhəʊlstə] vt to replace the old covers and fillings of  etc with new ones.

reusable [ˌriːjuːzəbl] adj [battery, packaging] that has been designed to be used again.

reuse [n ˌriːjuːs, vb ˌriːjuːz] ◇ n the act of using something again. ◇ vt [envelope, container, packaging] to use <sthg> again rather than throwing it away after using it once.

rev [rev] (vt & pp revved, cont revving) ◇ n AUTO abbr of revolution. ◇ vt to rev an engine (up) to increase the speed of an engine by pushing down on the accelerator (informal use). ◇ vi [engine] I could hear the car revving up.

revalue [ˌriːvæljuː] vt -1. [house, property] to estimate the value of <sthg> again. -2. FINANCE to increase the value of  so that it can be exchanged for more foreign currency than before.

revamp [ˌriːvæmp] vt -1. [system, department] to change the organization or structure of <sthg> to make it better. -2. [room, house] to decorate  to make it look better.

rev counter n a device for measuring the speed of a vehicle's engine.

reveal [rɪˈviːl] vt -1. [face, stage, view] to allow <sthg that has been hidden or covered> to be seen □ The curtain rose to reveal a scene inside the palace. -2. [fact, truth] to make <sthg> known for the first time □ The press revealed that he had taken bribes. □ Details of the plans are to be revealed next month.

revealing [ri'vi:liŋ] adj -1. [dress, blouse] that shows a lot of part of a woman's body, especially a part that is usually covered. -2. [remark, insight] that tells people more about something personal, secret, or unknown.

reveille [US 'revəli, GB ri'væli] n a short tune played to wake soldiers in the morning.

revel ['revl] (US pt & pp reveled, cont reveling, GB pt & pp revelled, cont reveling) vi to revel in sthg [in one's power, the attention] to enjoy sthg very much □ I hate all the publicity, but Jenny just revels in it.

revelation [ri'velə'leɪʃn] n -1. a surprising fact that is made known to people □ I cannot confirm the revelations in yesterday's papers. -2. an experience that makes one aware of something that one did not know before □ Their simple way of life was a revelation to me.

reveler US, reveller GB ['revələ] n a person who is enjoying themselves in a noisy and lively way, e.g. at a party or nightclub.

revelry ['revlri] n noisy enjoyment that usually involves drinking, dancing etc □ The sound of drunken revelry could be heard coming from downstairs.

revenge [ri'vendʒ] n something harmful or unpleasant that one does to somebody else because of something harmful or unpleasant they have done to one □ I'll get my revenge one day! □ The attack may have been in revenge for the recent murder of a local resident. □ a revenge killing/attack. ■ to take revenge to do something harmful or unpleasant to somebody because of something harmful or unpleasant that they have done to one □ He vowed he would take revenge on the murderers.

revenue ['revənju:] n income earned by a company or received by the government from taxes □ The White House hopes to generate extra revenue with these measures.

reverberate [ri'vɜ:ɪ'bə'reɪt] vi -1. [noise, thunder-clap, explosion] to echo repeatedly □ The sound of the explosion reverberated through the city. -2. [revelation, shock, news] to have a strong effect on many different people that is felt for a long time □ The shock of the scandal is still reverberating throughout the capital.

reverberations [ri,vɜ:ɪ'bə'reɪʃnz] npl -1. the echoes heard after a loud noise has been made. -2. the powerful effects of a serious event or incident.

revere [ri'vɪə] vt to have great respect and admiration for <sb/sthg> (formal use) □ She was a much revered figure in the art world.

Revere [ri'vɪə], Paul (1735–1818) a US silversmith and revolutionary. He warned the Massachusetts colonists when the British army arrived in 1775 at the start of the American Revolution.

reverence ['revərəns] n a feeling of great respect and admiration (formal use).

Reverend ['revərənd] n a title placed before the name of a Christian minister.

Reverend Mother n the title used for the mother superior of a convent.

reverent ['revərənt] adj [manner, tone] that shows great respect or admiration □ They stood listening to the speech in reverent silence.

reverential [ri'veərə'nʃl] adj [attitude, gesture] that shows great respect or admiration (formal use) □ They sat in reverential silence.

reverie ['revəri] n a pleasant daydream (formal use) □ The bell interrupted Cathy's reverie.

revers [ri'vɪə] (pl revers [-z]) n a part of a piece of clothing such as a jacket that is folded back at the neck to show the inside.

reversal [ri'vɜ:ɪ'sl] n -1. [of a trend, policy, decision] a change that causes something to become the opposite of what it was before □ The defeat marks a reversal in their fortunes. -2. [of roles, order, position] a change that causes the usual state of something to be reversed □ There had been a subtle reversal of roles between the two of them. -3. something bad that happens and prevents somebody or something from succeeding in the way that was planned □ The campaign suffered an unexpected reversal.

reverse [ri'vɜ:ɪ's] ◇ adj [process, side] that is opposite to the one that is usually used, shown etc □ Here are the names in reverse order.

◇ n -1. AUTO the gear used in a vehicle to make it go backward. ■ to be in reverse to be in reverse gear □ Put the car in reverse and then back out. ■ to go into reverse to put a vehicle into reverse gear so that it moves backward. -2. the reverse the opposite □ It's the exact reverse of what you'd expect. □ "So you're happy with the result?" — "No, quite the reverse." -3. the reverse the less important side of a piece of paper, a coin etc □ On the reverse of the coin is an eagle.

◇ vt -1. AUTO [car, truck] to make  go backward □ He reversed the jeep out of the garage. -2. [trend, decision] to change <sthg> completely so that the opposite takes place □ policies aimed at reversing the decline of heavy industry. -3. [order, position] to change <sthg> so that things are in the opposite order. -4. to turn <sthg> over. -5. to reverse the charges to make a telephone call in which the person who receives it pays for it.

◇ vi AUTO [car, truck, driver] I reversed into the car behind me.

reverse-charge call n GB a telephone call which is paid for by the person who receives it.

reverse gear n AUTO = reverse.

reversible [ri'vɜ:ɪ'səbl] adj -1. [coat, jacket, raincoat] that can be worn with either side showing on the outside. -2. [policy, decision] that can be stopped or changed.

reversing light [ri'vɜ:ɪ'sɪŋ] n GB a white light on the back of a car, truck etc that shines when the vehicle is being reversed.

reversion [ri'vɜ:ɪʃn] n a return to an earlier and usually worse way of behaving, thinking etc □ a reversion to his old attitudes.

revert [rɪ'vɜ:t] vi to revert to sthg to return to sthg that used to exist or that one used to do, especially when this is not a good thing review [rɪ'vju:] ◇ n -1. [of somebody's salary, a situation] an examination of something to find out if it needs to be changed □ the annual review of expenditure. ■ to come up for review to be examined, usually at a fixed time or at regular intervals, to see if changes need to be made □ My salary comes up for review next month. ■ to be under review to be in the process of being examined to see if changes need to be made □ Airport security measures are under review. -2. [in a magazine, newspaper] an article in a newspaper, magazine etc, that gives an opinion on a book, television show etc □ Her latest CD has had good reviews.
 □ As soon as Terence left hospital, he reverted to his old ways and started drinking again.

◇ vt -1. [pension, salary, situation] to examine <sthg> to see if changes need to be made □ We are reviewing our security procedures. -2. [history, year] to look back at <sthg in the past> in order to see it in a different way or understand it better □ We shall be reviewing the events of the past year. -3. [play, movie, book] to give one's opinions about <sthg> in a newspaper or magazine article or on a TV or radio program □ I've been asked to review an exhibition for an arts magazine. -4. MILITARY to inspect <troops> formally. -5. US [subject, notes] to study <sthg> again, usually in preparation for an exam.

reviewer [rɪ'vju:ə] n a person who reviews new books, plays etc.

revile [rɪ'vaɪl] vt [person, system] to express a great dislike or hatred of <sb/sthg> □ the much-reviled poll tax.

revise [rɪ'vaɪz] ◇ vt -1. [process, decision, forecast] to change <sthg> to make it better or more accurate □ I was forced to revise my opinion of her very quickly. -2. [text, manuscript] to read through <sthg> in order to correct mistakes and to improve it □ The publishers are revising the text before the book is reprinted. -3. GB [subject, notes] to study <sthg> again, usually to prepare for an exam. ◇ vi [student] to prepare for something, especially an exam, by studying □ Have you started revising for your exams yet?

revised [rɪ'vaɪzd] adj [estimate, version] that has been changed to make it better or more accurate □ This is the revised edition of the text.

revision [rɪ'vɪʒn] n -1. a change made to something, especially writing, that is intended to make it better □ Several revisions had been made to the text. -2. study in preparation for an exam □ How much revision have you done?

revisionist [rɪ'vɪʒnɪst] ◇ n a person who examines again and questions the main beliefs of a political theory or religious system. ◇ adj: a revisionist historian/theory.

revisit [rɪ'vɪzɪt] vt [town, birthplace] to go back to  after being away from it for a long period.

revitalize, -ise [rɪ'vaɪtəlaɪz] vt [industry, economy, system] to make <sthg> successful or active again □ Jackson seems revitalized after his six-month break.

revival [rɪ'vaɪvl] n [of trade, the economy] the process of becoming active or successful again □ There's been a revival of interest in early music.

revive [rɪ'vaɪv] ◇ vt -1. [person] to make <sb> conscious again □ They tried to revive him by splashing his face with water. -2. [economy, business] to make <sthg> successful or strong again; [hope, interest] to make <sthg> active again □ These latest developments have revived fears of an armed takeover. □ A drop of water will soon revive your plant. -3. [tradition, fashion, play] to use or show again <sthg that has not been used or shown for a long time> □ Efforts to revive the language have failed. ◇ vi -1. [person] to become conscious again □ They gave her an injection and she soon revived. -2. [hopes, interest] to become active again □ The economy is reviving.

revoke [rɪ'vəʊk] vt [law, permission] to state formally that <sthg> is no longer official or legal (formal use) □ The bar closed down after having its license revoked.

revolt [rɪ'vəʊlt] ◇ n a situation in which a lot of people try to change the way their country, organization etc is governed, often using violence □ an armed/a peasant revolt □ The Cabinet was now in open revolt against its leader. ◇ vt to cause <sb> to have strong feelings of disgust □ This kind of behavior must revolt all decent people. ◇ vi to oppose the people in power in one's country, organization etc, often using violence □ He was accused of inciting the populace to revolt. □ The chairman is afraid that board members will revolt.

revolting [rɪ'vəʊlɪŋ] adj [smell, sight, idea] that one finds extremely unpleasant □ Yuck! That tastes revolting!

revolution [rɪ'velə'u:ʃn] n -1. POLITICS a successful attempt by a lot of people, using violence, to change the government or the political system of their country. -2. [in a way of doing things, thinking] a complete or important change in something □ the sexual revolution □ There's been a revolution in the way scientists approach the problem. -3. TECHNOLOGY a complete circular movement around a fixed point □ It depends on the number of revolutions per minute.

revolutionary [US rɪ'velə'u:ʃənəri, GB -ənri] (pl revolutionaries) ◇ adj -1. POLITICS [activities, leader] that is connected with or takes part in a revolution □ They set about the changes with revolutionary zeal. -2. [change, idea, process] that is very different and new □ They claim to have invented a revolutionary new way of treating industrial waste. ◇ n POLITICS a person who plans or supports a revolution.

Revolutionary War n = American Revolution.

revolutionize, -ise [rɪ'velə'u:ʃənəɪz] vt [industry, literature, thought] to cause a great change in <sthg> □ This invention has revolutionized the way we communicate.

revolve [rɪ'vɒlv] vi -1. to turn in a circular movement round a central point □ The Earth revolves (a)round the Sun. -2. to revolve around sb/sthg to have sb/sthg as the central or most important feature □ His life revolves around his work. □ You think the world revolves around you, but that's where you're wrong.

revolver [rɪ'vɒlvə] n a small gun that can fire several bullets from a revolving magazine before it needs reloading.

revolving [rɪ'vɒlvɪŋ] adj [chair, stage] that turns in a circular movement around a fixed point.

revolving door n a door that consists of four panels at right angles to each other that turn around a central point when one pushes one of the panels.

revue [rɪ'vju:] n a show in a theater, consisting of a mixture of songs, dances, and jokes.

revulsion [rɪ'vʌlʃn] n a very strong feeling of disgust □ She looked at him with revulsion.

reward [rɪ'wɔ:rd] ◇ n -1. something given to somebody in return for good work, help, good behavior etc □ a reward for her bravery. -2. a sum of money that is offered, usually by the police, for information on a missing person, criminal etc □ They are offering a reward for his safe return. ◇ vt [person] to give a reward to <sb> for something they have done □ He was finally rewarded for his patience with a check for $2,000.

rewarding [rɪ'wɔ:rdɪŋ] adj [job, career, book] that gives a lot of satisfaction and pleasure □ I find this kind of work extremely rewarding.

rewind [ri:'waɪnd] (pt & pp rewound) ◇ vt to make  wind backward to an earlier part. ◇ vi: □ Please rewind after use. ◇ n a button on a machine that makes it possible to rewind a tape or cassette. NOTE: Compare fast-forward.

rewire [ri:'waɪə] vt [house, plug] to put a new set of electrical wires into <sthg>.

reword [ri:'wɔ:rd] vt [contract, sentence] to write or say <sthg> again using different words.

rework [ri:'wɔ:rk] vt [text, novel, idea] to make changes to <sthg> in order to improve it or make it suitable for another purpose.

rewound [ri:'waʊnd] past tense & past participle of rewind.

rewrite [ri:'raɪt] (pt rewrote [ri:'raʊt], pp rewritten [ri:'rɪtn]) vt [essay, article, letter] to write <sthg> again, usually to improve it.

Reynolds ['renldz], Sir Joshua (1723–1792) a British artist, well known for his portraits.

RFC n abbr of rugby football club.

RFDS (abbr of Royal Flying Doctor Service) n the RFDS a medical service in Australia that visits patients in remote areas by plane.

Rh abbr of Rhesus.

rhapsody ['ræpsədi] (pl rhapsodies) n -1. MUSIC an emotional piece of music that sounds as if it has no formal structure. -2. the act of showing strong approval or great enthusiasm.

Rhesus ['ri:səs] n to be Rhesus positive/negative to have blood that contains/does not contain a substance that is important during pregnancy and when making a blood transfusion.

rhetoric ['retərɪk] n things that somebody says or writes to persuade people of something □ People are tired of politicians' rhetoric.

rhetorical question [rɪ'tɔ:ɪkəl] n a question asked in order to create a particular effect, but which is not intended to be answered □ I presume that was a rhetorical question.

rheumatic [ru:'mætɪk] adj [person] who suffers from rheumatism.

rheumatism ['ru:mætɪzəm] n a disease that causes pain and stiffness in one's joints or muscles □ My whole family suffers from rheumatism.

rheumatoid arthritis [ru:mətɔɪd-] n a disease that makes one's joints painful and stiff and causes them to swell.

Rhine [raɪn]: the Rhine a river in western Europe, flowing through Switzerland, Germany, and the Netherlands into the North Sea.

Rhineland ['raɪnlænd]: the Rhineland a region of western Germany around the Rhine.

rhinestone ['raɪnstəʊn] n a bright colorless stone that is intended to look like a diamond and is used in cheap jewelry.

rhino ['raɪnoʊ] (pl rhino OR rhinos) n = rhinoceros.

rhinoceros [raɪ'nɒsərəs] (pl rhinoceros OR rhinoceroses) n a very large animal from Africa or Asia that has a thick dark-gray skin and one or two horns on its nose.

Rhode Island [ˌroʊd-] a state in New England, in the northeastern USA. It is the smallest US state. ABBREVIATION: RI. SIZE: 3,144 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,003,464 (Rhode Islanders). CAPITAL: Providence.

Rhodes [roʊdz] a Greek island in the Aegean Sea, near the Turkish Coast. SIZE: 1,400 sq kms. POPULATION: 67,000. CAPITAL: Rhodes.

rhododendron [ˌroʊdə'dendrən] n a large evergreen bush with large bright flowers.

rhombus ['rɒmbəs] n a shape that has four equal sides but is not a square.

Rhône [roʊn]: the Rhône a river in southern Europe, flowing through Switzerland and France into the Mediterranean.

rhubarb ['ru:bɑ:'b] n a plant with broad leaves and juicy red stems that can be cooked and eaten □ rhubarb pie/jam.

rhyme [raɪm] ◇ vi [words, lines] to end with the same sound □ "Card" rhymes with "hard". □ A lot of his poems are written in rhymed couplets. ◇ n -1. [with another word] a word that rhymes with another word □ Can you find a rhyme for "nose"? -2. [for children] a short poem that uses words that rhyme and is usually written to amuse children □ a witty little rhyme. -3. [in poetry] the technique of using words that rhyme at the ends of the lines in poetry □ Most of her poems are written in rhyme.

rhyming slang ['raɪmɪŋ-] n GB a way of speaking in which some words are replaced by words or phrases that rhyme with them.

🎵 RHYMING SLANG

Traditionally, rhyming slang in Britain is a way of speaking used by Cockneys in the East End of London. Instead of using a word people use a phrase that rhymes with the word; the phrase is then shortened by removing the rhyming word, so that "let's have a butcher's" is used to mean "let's have a look" (butcher's hook = look), and "use your loaf" is used to mean "use your head" (loaf of bread = head).

Although the East End of London and its way of life have changed a great deal, new rhyming slang is still being invented.

rhythm ['rɪðm] n -1. [of music, a dancer, poem] a regular pattern of beats or stresses in music or words □ Simon has no sense of rhythm. -2. [of the seasons, sea] a regular repeated pattern of events or changes.

rhythm and blues n a style of popular music that developed from blues but which is played with electric guitars.

rhythmic(al) ['rɪðmɪk(l)] adj [sound, beat] that has a clear rhythm □ He had a rhythmic style of playing.

RI abbr of Rhode Island.

rib [rɪb] n -1. ANATOMY one of the 12 pairs of curved bones that run from one's spine to one's chest □ I broke a rib in a riding accident. -2. COOKING the rib of an animal used as food □ barbecued ribs. -3. CONSTRUCTION a curved piece of metal or wood, used as part of the structure of a building, aircraft etc.

ribald ['rɪbəlɪd] adj [remark, laughter, sense of humor] that is rude and funny.

ribbed [rɪbd] adj [sweater, fabric] that has a raised pattern of parallel lines on it.

ribbon ['rɪbən] n -1. a long narrow piece of material used for tying things or as decoration □ a hair ribbon. -2. a long narrow piece of cloth that provides the ink in a typewriter □ typewriter ribbon.

rib cage n the set of bones that enclose and protect one's lungs and other organs.

rice [raɪs] n a food consisting of white or brown grains that come from a kind of cereal grown in wet warm places, e.g. in India and China □ vegetables served on a bed of rice.

rice field n a field in which rice is grown.

rice paper n a very thin paper that is used in baking and can be eaten.

rice pudding n a dessert made by baking rice with sugar and milk.

rich [rɪtʃ] ◇ adj -1. [person, country, city] that has a lot of money or valuable property □ He comes from a rich family. □ I'm not very rich at the moment. -2. [deposit, source] that contains a large amount of a desirable or valuable substance □ This country is rich in minerals. □ Citrus fruits are rich in vitamin C. -3. [soil, land] that is good for growing plants in. -4. [meal, cake, sauce] that contains a lot of substances that are hard to digest, e.g. sugar, eggs, and cream. -5. [color, sound] that is deep, warm, and full □ He has a rich bass voice. -6. [history, tradition] that is interesting and varied. -7. [fabric, clothes] expensive and beautiful □ They were dressed in rich velvets and silks. ◇ npl the rich rich people.

◆ riches npl -1. the valuable natural resources that are found in a place □ the riches of the Earth. -2. wealth □ She accumulated great riches.

Richard I [ˌrɪtʃəˈdɔːfɜːst] (1157–1199) King of England from 1189 to 1199. He spent most of his reign abroad, fighting in crusades. He is also called Richard the Lionheart(ed).

Richard III [ˌrɪtʃəˈdɔːθɜːrd] (1452–1485) King of England from 1483 to 1485. He is believed to have ordered his nephews to be killed in the Tower of London.

richly ['rɪtʃli] adv -1. richly decorated/furnished etc decorated/furnished etc in an expensive and beautiful way. -2. to deserve sthg richly to deserve sthg completely □ At last he got the praise he so richly deserved.

richness ['rɪtʃnəs] n: see rich □ Her work captures the full richness of the autumn landscape.

Richter scale ['rɪktər-] n the Richter scale a scale from 0 to 8 for measuring the size of earthquakes □ an earthquake reading 6 on the Richter scale.

rickets ['rɪkəts] n a disease that affects children who do not get enough vitamin D, causing their bones to become soft and bent.

rickety ['rɪkəti] adj [table, staircase, bridge] that seems weak and likely to break if weight is put on it □ He rides a rickety old bicycle.

rickshaw ['rɪkʃəʊ] n a small vehicle for one or two passengers that is pulled by somebody running or cycling at the front and is used in parts of Asia.

ricochet ['rɪkəʃeɪ] (vt & pp ricocheted OR ricocheted, cont ricocheting OR ricochetting) ◇ vi [bullet, stone] to bounce off a surface and move in a new direction □ The bullet ricocheted off the wall. ◇ n -1. an act of ricocheting. -2. an object, especially a bullet, that has ricocheted.

rid [rɪd] (vt rid OR ridded, pp rid, cont ridding) ◇ adj to be rid of sb/sthg to be free of sb/sthg annoying or unpleasant □ I was glad to be rid of them. ■ to get rid of sb/sthg to remove sb/sthg that one does not want □ Will you help me get rid of this junk? □ I've been trying to get rid of this guy for ages but he keeps pestering me. ◇ vt to rid sb/sthg of sthg [of disease, poverty] to remove sthg so that it no longer has any effect on sb/sthg □ We will rid the country of corruption. □ You must rid yourself of these delusions.

riddance ['rɪdəns] n good riddance! a phrase used to show that one is pleased that somebody or something has gone (informal use) □ Goodbye, and good riddance!

ridden ['rɪdn] past participle of ride.

riddle ['rɪdl] n -1. an amusing and difficult question or puzzle that one must guess the answer to □ See if you can work out this riddle.

-2. something that one cannot understand □ This case is a complete riddle to me.

riddled ['rɪdlɪd] adj to be riddled with sthg [with holes, corruption] to be full of sthg that is ugly or bad □ The walls were riddled with bullet holes.

ride [raɪd] (pt rode, pp ridden) ◇ n -1. a trip in a vehicle or on a bicycle, horse etc □ She went for a ride on her pony. □ It was a long car ride. □ It's only a ten-minute ride from here. -2. a ride that somebody gives one as a favor □ Do you want a ride to work? -3. phrase to take sb for a ride to deceive or trick sb (informal use) □ You've been taken for a ride, I'm afraid.

◇ vt -1. [horse, bicycle, motorcycle] to go somewhere by sitting on and controlling <an animal or a vehicle> □ I'd never ridden a camel before. □ Do you know how to ride a bike? -2. to travel  on a horse, bicycle etc □ We rode two miles. -3. US [bus, elevator] to go somewhere in  □ Is it safe to ride the subway here?

◇ vi -1. [on a horse] to ride a horse □ Do you ride? -2. [on a bicycle] to travel on a bicycle or motorcycle □ I sometimes ride to work. -3. to ride in sthg [in a car, bus] to travel in sthg □ We rode to town in the truck.

◆ ride up vi [skirt, dress] to move upward so that it is no longer in the right position.

rider ['raɪdər] n a person who is riding a horse, bicycle, or motorcycle □ If the rider had been wearing a helmet, she would have survived.

ridge [rɪdʒ] n -1. a long narrow piece of land that is higher than the area around it, especially one that forms the top of a hill or mountain □ They camped on a small ridge. □ a mountain ridge. -2. a long narrow line on a surface that is higher than the rest of the surface □ The sea had left ridges in the sand.

ridicule ['rɪdɪkjʊ:l] ◇ n the act of making fun of or laughing at somebody or something in a cruel way □ Charlie soon became the object of ridicule. ◇ vt [person, idea, theory] to make fun of <sb/sthg> in a cruel or unkind way □ Mr Dobbs was ridiculed in the press for his remarks.

ridiculous ['rɪdɪkjələs] adj [person, idea, price] that one thinks is very silly and unreasonable □ You look ridiculous in that hat. □ That's a ridiculous thing to say.

ridiculously ['rɪdɪkjələsli] adv ridiculously low/easy etc extremely low/easy etc □ The meal was ridiculously expensive.

riding ['raɪdɪŋ] n the activity of riding a horse □ We went riding. □ riding boots/lessons.

riding crop n a short whip used by a horse rider.

riding habit n the clothing, consisting of a long dress, or a jacket and a long skirt, that women used to wear when they were riding horses.

riding school n a place where people go to learn to ride a horse.

rife [raɪf] adj to be rife to be very common □ Drug abuse is rife among prisoners. □ Corruption is rife in the military. ■ to be rife with sthg [with rumors, corruption] to be full of sthg bad or unpleasant □ The papers are rife with speculation that Barnes will quit.

riffraff ['rɪfræf] n people who one does not like because they have a bad reputation □ We don't want any riffraff moving into the area.

rifle ['raɪfl] ◇ n a gun with a long barrel that one holds against one's shoulder to fire □ a rifle shot. ◇ vt [safe, drawers, wallet] to quickly search through <sthg>, often with the intention of stealing something.

◆ rifle through vt fus to rifle through sthg [handbag, wallet, drawer] to rifle sthg □ I caught him rifling through my things.

rifle range n a place where people can practice shooting with a rifle.

rift [rɪft] n -1. GEOLOGY a crack in the surface of the Earth. -2. a period of bad relations between two people, countries etc because of a disagreement □ This resulted in a rift between mother and daughter. □ We're trying to heal the rift in our marriage.

rig [rɪg] (pt & pp rigged, cont rigging) ◇ n a large structure used to find and get oil from the ground or the bottom of the sea □ a drilling rig. ◇ vt [election, game, competition] to arrange <sthg> dishonestly so that one gets the result one wants □ The voting was rigged.

◆ rig up vt sep to rig sthg up [device, aerial] to make sthg quickly, using the materials that are available.

rigging ['rɪgɪŋ] n the ropes that support the masts and sails of a ship.

right [raɪt] ◇ adj -1. [answer, decision, way] that is true, or the only one possible, and agrees with all the known facts □ Are you sure we're going in the right direction? □ Do you have the right address? □ You made the right decision. ■ to be right about sthg to say or think something that is true about sthg □ You were right about that restaurant, it was fantastic! ■ to get sthg right [answer, fact, story] to understand or describe sthg correctly □ I got most of the questions right. □ She never gets my name right. ■ that's right a phrase used to show that one agrees with what somebody has just said, or to confirm that what they have said is correct □ "We need help, don't we." — "That's right." □ "So you're Phil Bevan?" — "That's right." -2. to put sthg right to repair sthg that has been damaged □ It's going to cost $400 to have the car put right. -3. [action, attitude] that follows acceptable moral principles □ I think he was right to refuse the money. □ Is it right for teachers to go on strike? □ I think you did the right thing. -4. [hand, leg, ear] that is on the opposite side of the body to one's heart □ Your right shoelace is undone.

◇ n -1. behavior that follows acceptable moral principles □ He can't tell right from wrong. ■ to be in the right to be morally or legally justified in doing or saying something □ We believe we're in the right and we'll go to court if necessary. -2. [to freedom, information, a vote] something that one should be able to have or do because it is morally or legally correct □ You have the right to remain silent. □ He has no right to treat you like that! □ human/

civil rights. ■ to be within one's rights to do sthg to be morally or legally justified in doing sthg □ You would be perfectly within your rights to claim compensation. -3. the position or direction that corresponds to east when one is facing north □ On your right is the Empire State building. □ It's the big house to the right of the church. □ Take the first road on the right. -4. [in a car] a turn to the right □ Make a right at the traffic lights.

◇ adv -1. [pronounce, do, guess] correctly □ No one ever spells my name right. -2. [move, turn, look] to the right □ The car waited at the lights, then headed right down Albany Street. □ Turn right, then left at the bottom of the street. -3. a word used to give special force to the exact place, time, or distance being talked about □ Stay right here. □ The phone rang right in the middle of lunch. □ Go right to the end of the street. □ I said that right from the start. -4. immediately □ I'll be right with you. □ I took a vacation right after my exams. ■ right away immediately □ I'll do it right away. ■ right now at this particular moment □ He's in a meeting right now. □ Does it have to be done right now? -5. a word used to say that one has understood □ "So you put the paper in here." — "Right."

◇ vt -1. [wrong, injustice] to do something to end <an unfair or harmful situation>. -2. to right itself [ship, boat, raft] to return to an upright position.

◇ excl a word used at the beginning of a sentence to attract somebody's attention □ Right, how can I help you?

◆ Right n the Right POLITICS political groups that are in favor of private ownership of wealth, less control of trade and industry by the state, and little social or political change □ the rise of the extreme Right.

◆ by rights adv a phrase used to say that something should be true but is not □ By rights it should only have taken us two hours to get there, but in fact we took three.

◆ in one's own right adv because of one's own abilities, actions etc and not because one is connected with another person or group □ Though married to a famous actor, she is in fact a talented performer in her own right.

right angle n an angle of 90 degrees, equal to any of the corners of a square. ■ to be at right angles [two things] to make an angle of 90 degrees at the point where they join each other □ The tables were arranged at right angles. □ a line at right angles to the base of the triangle.

righteous ['raɪtʃəs] adj [person, anger] that one thinks is morally good □ full of righteous indignation.

rightful ['raɪtfl] adj [owner, share, place] according to a moral or legal right □ He has finally assumed his rightful position as world champion.

rightfully ['raɪtflɪ] adv: see rightful □ The money is rightfully mine/his.

right-hand adj [side, lane, page] that is on or to the right of something □ Put your name in the top right-hand corner of the page.

right-hand drive adj [car, vehicle] that has its steering wheel on the right-hand side and is used in countries where vehicles drive on the left-hand side of the road.

right-handed [-'hændəd] adj [person] who uses their right hand to do things, such as write or throw a ball, rather than their left hand □ I always thought you were right-handed.

right-hand man n sb's right-hand man the person who is sb's most useful and important assistant and who they trust the most □ He was widely regarded as the Governor's right-hand man.

rightly ['raɪtlɪ] adv -1. [say, remark, guess] correctly □ You may believe, rightly or wrongly, that this is for the best. □ As Heather very rightly pointed out, it's not enough just to throw more money at the problem. -2. [behave, act] in an appropriate or morally correct manner □ I think you acted rightly in telling him. -3. [angry, upset, worried] with a good reason □ She was furious, and rightly so. □ The islanders quite rightly feel betrayed.

right-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who has ideas and beliefs that one thinks are correct □ All right-minded people will object to these proposals.

right of way n -1. AUTO the right of a vehicle to move along a road while other vehicles have to stop and wait, e.g. at an intersection or traffic circle □ Who has right of way here? -2. LAW a legal right for somebody to walk along a public path across private land □ 'No right of way.'

right-on adj GB [person, attitude] that shows a concern for people's rights, social problems etc that one thinks is too fashionable (informal use) □ It's very right-on to buy Nicaraguan coffee.

rights issue n GB an issue of new shares that is offered by a company to people who already hold shares in the company at a lower price.

right-thinking adj [person] who has ideas and beliefs that one thinks are morally correct □ All right-thinking people must be appalled by this.

right wing n the right wing the members of a political group whose ideas are closest to conservatism and capitalism □ Too much power has gone to the right wing of the party.

◆ right-wing adj [person, government, policy] that supports the political ideals of conservatism and capitalism □ He has very right-wing views.

NOTE: Compare left wing.

right-winger n a person who holds right-wing views.

rigid ['rɪdʒəd] adj -1. [sheet, plastic, card] that is hard and cannot be bent easily □ My hands were frozen rigid. -2. [control, rule] that is very strict and cannot be changed □ The rigid guidelines make it difficult for staff to use their discretion. -3. [person] who has strong opinions, ideas etc that they refuse to change □ He has very rigid views on sex before marriage.

rigidity [rɪ'dʒɪdətɪ] n [of a substance, rule] see rigid □ the rigidity of the caste system.

rigidly ['rɪdʒədlɪ] adv -1. [look, remain, stare] without moving or changing position □ Her face was fixed rigidly into a smile. -2. in a harsh or strict way □ You needn't interpret the rules too rigidly.

rigmarole ['rɪgmərəʊl] n something that one thinks is too complicated and takes too long to do (informal and disapproving use) □ I'm not going through all that rigmarole again.

rigor US, rigour GB ['rɪgə] n the quality of being thorough.

◆ rigors npl the rigors of sthg [of life, a course] the things that make sthg hard or unpleasant □ the rigors of an Arctic winter.

rigor mortis [-'mɔ:ʔtəs] n the process or state in which the joints and muscles stiffen in the body of a dead person or animal □ Rigor mortis had already begun to set in.

rigorous ['rɪgərəs] adj [law, use, test] that is careful and complete □ The vehicle will be subjected to a rigorous safety inspection.

rigorously ['rɪgərəslɪ] adv [apply, use, test] see rigorous.

rigour n GB = rigor.

rile [raɪl] vt to make <sb> angry □ It really riles me that people can get away with this sort of thing.

rim [rɪm] n -1. [of cup, glass, bowl] the top edge of something that contains liquid □ Fill it up to the rim. -2. [of glasses, wheel] the outer edge of a round object □ a pair of spectacles with red rims.

Rimsky-Korsakov [ˌrɪmskɪ'kɔ:ʔsəkɒf], Nikolai (1844–1908) a Russian composer whose best-known work is Scheherazade.

rind [raɪnd] n -1. [of a lemon, orange] the thick outer skin of some kinds of fruit □ Grate the rind onto a plate. -2. [of cheese, bacon] the hard layer on the outside of some kinds of food □ It's better to cut the rind off.

ring [rɪŋ] (vt senses 1 & 2 & vi, pt rang, pp rung, vt senses 3 & 4, pt & pp ringed) ◇ n -1. to give sb a ring to phone sb □ I'll give you a ring on Thursday. -2. [of a bell, phone] the sound made by a bell, phone etc □ His favorite sound is the ring of the cash register. -3. a ring of truth something that one thinks is probably true □ The story has a ring of truth about it. ■ a familiar ring something that one thinks one has heard before □ His name has a familiar ring. -4. [with a hole] an object that is round and has a round hole in the middle □ fried onion rings. -5. [on one's finger] a round band of metal worn on a finger as a piece of jewelry, sometimes with a precious stone on it □ a diamond ring. -6. [of people, chairs] a group of people or things arranged in a circle □ I was surrounded by a ring of faces. -7. [for boxing, a circus] a space surrounded by seats in which a contest or entertainment takes place □ Some spectators climbed into the ring. -8. [of criminals] a group of people working together in an illegal activity □ a crime/drugs ring. -9. to run rings around sb [around the opposition, police] to be much better and more skillful at doing something than sb □ Sally runs rings around everyone when it comes to using computer software.

◇ vt -1. [bell, doorbell] to make <sthg> make a sound □ Just ring the bell and I'll come down to let you in. -2. GB to phone <sb> □ He said he'd ring me tomorrow. -3. [word, name, advertisement] to draw a circle around <sthg> on a page □ All the important numbers are ringed in red. -4. [building, area] to surround  □ The house was ringed with police officers.

◇ vi -1. [bell, phone, alarm] to make a loud sound □ Suddenly the doorbell rang. -2. [on a doorbell] to ring a doorbell □ I rang twice but nobody came to the door. □ Try ringing on the other bell. -3. [for attention] to ring a bell in order to tell somebody that one has arrived e.g. in a hotel or that one wants something □ He rang for attention/the butler. -4. to ring with sthg [with noise, a sound] to be filled with sthg □ The room was ringing with laughter. -5. to ring true [story, excuse] to seem true or real □ All his macho talk just doesn't ring true. -6. GB to phone □ He rang to say he was going to be late.

◆ ring back ◇ vt sep to ring sb back GB to call sb by phone again or later □ I'll ring you back when he's gone. ◇ vi: She promised to ring back hours ago.

◆ ring off vi GB to end a telephone call by putting down the receiver □ I tried to explain but he just rang off.

◆ ring out vi -1. [voice, bell] to make a loud clear sound □ The church bells rang out in the town square. -2. GB [person] to make a phone call to somebody outside the building where one is working □ I don't think you can ring out from this extension.

◆ ring up vt sep to ring sb up GB to call sb by phone.

ring binder n a folder containing loose sheets of paper held in place by metal rings that can be opened and closed.

ring finger n the third finger of one's left or right hand, on which an engagement or wedding ring is worn in some countries.

ringing ['rɪŋɪŋ] ◇ adj [tone, note] loud and clear □ I recognized her loud, ringing voice. ◇ n the sound made by a bell, telephone etc that keeps ringing.

ringing tone n GB the sound heard by somebody who has dialed a phone number, when the other phone is ringing □ I've got the ringing tone, but no one's answering.

ringleader ['rɪŋlɪdə] n a person who leads a group of people who have caused trouble or done something illegal.

ringlet ['rɪŋlət] n a long loose curl of hair that hangs down.

ringmaster [US 'rɪŋmæstr, GB -mə:stə] n the person in a circus ring whose job is to introduce each performer to the audience.

ring road n GB a road that goes around a city so that traffic can avoid the center.

ringside ['rɪŋsaɪd] n the ringside the area around the edge of a boxing ring or a ring in a circus □ a ringside seat.

ringway ['rɪŋweɪ] n GB a ring road.

ringworm ['rɪŋwɜːrm] n a disease that causes red round marks to appear on one's skin, especially on one's head.

rink [rɪŋk] n a surface, especially indoors, on which people skate or roller-skate □ an ice rink.

rinse [rɪns] ◇ vt [dishes, clothes, hair] to wash <sthg> quickly in clean water, especially to remove soap; [soap, dirt] to remove <sthg> from an object by washing it in clean water □ Would you mind rinsing these plates? □ Rinse the soap off that shirt, would you? ■ to rinse one's mouth out to clean one's mouth using water. ◇ n an act of rinsing something □ Give your hands a good rinse.

Rio ['ri:ʊ]: Rio (de Janeiro) a city in southeastern Brazil. A major port and tourist center, it is famous for its beaches and its annual carnival. POPULATION: 5,336,179.

Rio Grande [ˌri:ʊ'grænd]: the Rio Grande a river in North America that forms part of the border between Mexico and the USA and flows into the Gulf of Mexico.

riot ['raɪət] ◇ n a situation in which a large group of people behave in an uncontrolled and often violent way in a public place □ Serious riots have broken out in the center of Los Angeles. ■ to run riot to behave in a violent and uncontrolled way □ Meanwhile, the children were running riot in the garden. ◇ vi [people, students] to take part in a riot.

rioter ['raɪətə] n a person who takes part in a riot □ Six rioters were arrested.

rioting ['raɪətɪŋ] n a riot or riots □ There were fears that the verdicts would lead to rioting.

riotous ['raɪətəs] adj [behavior, mob, party] that is noisy and wild □ We were having a riotous time.

riot police n police who are trained and equipped for dealing with riots.

riot shield n a large, transparent, curved shield used by police when dealing with violent crowds.

rip [rɪp] (pt & pp ripped, cont ripping) ◇ vt -1. [paper, page] to tear <sthg> quickly or violently □ She ripped the newspaper into strips. -2. to rip sthg off/down etc [clothes, mask, bandage] to remove sthg by pulling it off/down etc □ He ripped off his shirt. □ She ripped the notice from the board. ◇ vi [shirt, skirt] to become badly torn □ Then his pants ripped while he was dancing. ◇ n -1. a long tear or split in a piece of paper or cloth □ My shirt has a great big rip in it. -2. AUS a fast ocean current, dangerous to swimmers.

◆ rip off vt sep (informal use) -1. to rip sb off to cheat sb by charging them too much money for something □ You're been ripped off, I reckon. -2. to rip sthg off [design, idea, product] to copy sthg from somebody else in order to make money from it.

◆ rip up vt sep to rip sthg up to destroy sthg by tearing it violently into pieces □ She then ripped the contract up in front of me.

RIP (abbr of rest in peace) a word usually written on a gravestone.

ripcord ['rɪpkɔːrd] n a cord that one pulls to open a parachute.

ripe [raɪp] adj [fruit, crop, cheese] that is fully grown or developed and ready to be eaten □ Don't eat those peaches, they're not ripe yet. ■ to be ripe for sthg [for development, exploitation] to be ready for sthg □ a small company ripe for takeover.

ripen ['raɪpn] ◇ vt to make <fruit, crops> etc ripe. ◇ vi [fruit, crop, cheese] The grapes ripened early this year.

ripeness ['raɪpnəs] n the quality or state of being ripe.

rip-off n something that one feels one has paid too much money for so that one feels cheated, e.g. because it is of lower quality than one expected (informal use) □ That meal was a complete rip-off!

ripple ['rɪpl] n -1. one of many very small waves on the surface of water, caused by the wind or by something that has dropped into it □ The boat created dozens of little ripples in the water. -2. a ripple of laughter/applause laughter/applause from a group of people that starts quietly, becomes gradually louder, and then becomes quiet again □ A ripple of excited conversation spread through the crowd.

rip-roaring adj -1. [time, party] that is very exciting and noisy. -2. a rip-roaring success a very great success.

Rip van Winkle [ˌrɪpvæn'wɪŋkl] a character in a story by Washington Irving. He falls asleep for 20 years and wakes up to find that everything has changed.

rise [raɪz] (pl rose, pp risen ['rɪzn]) ◇ n -1. [in quantity, cost] an increase in the quantity, amount, cost etc of something □ a rise in inflation. -2. [of a politician, celebrity] the process of becoming more powerful, successful, famous etc □ his rise to fame. -3. [of a hill] an upward slope □ They live just over the next rise. -4. to give rise to sthg to cause sthg □ The announcement has given rise to a lot of speculation concerning the state of their finances. -5. GB [in salary] an increase in salary □ a pay/wage rise. ◇ vi -1. [tide, water, balloon] to move to a higher position or level □ The bubbles rise to the surface of the liquid. -2. [sun, moon] to appear above the horizon □ The sun rose at 6:13 am. -3. [wage, temperature, unemployment] to increase in amount, degree, cost etc □ If prices continue to rise at this rate, many people won't be able to afford basic necessities. □ The pound rose against the dollar. -4. [person, animal] to stand up □ Franz rose to greet me. -5. [person] to get out of bed (literary use). -6. [street, slope] to slope upward □ The ground rose steeply above the fields. -7. [voice, note] to become louder; to become higher in pitch □ Susan's voice rose to an angry yell. -8. to rise to sthg [to a challenge, occasion] to be successful in dealing with sthg difficult □ It's a tough job, but I am sure Gareth will rise to the challenge. -9. [people, peasants] to rebel against the people in authority □ They finally rose against the government in February 1964. -10. [politician, officer] to become more important, successful, or powerful by getting a higher position or status □ The general had risen to the top by the age of 38. -11. [bread, cake, dough] to become larger and rounder while it is cooked in an oven or because it contains yeast □ Leave it to rise for 15 minutes.

♦ rise above vt fus to rise above sthg [jealousy, criticism] not to let oneself be affected by sthg unpleasant □ The office was full of gossip, but Laurence was able to rise above it all.

riser ['raɪzə] n an early/a late riser a person who always gets up early/late in the morning.

risible ['rɪzəbl] adj [idea, offer, attempt] that one thinks is silly or very bad (formal use) □ They were offering a risible sum of money.

rising ['raɪzɪŋ] ◇ adj -1. [ground, tide, sun] that is becoming higher. -2. [inflation, taxes, temperature] that is increasing in amount, degree, cost etc □ Rising prices are driving business away. -3. [star, politician] who is becoming more successful, famous, or important □ a rising young actor. ◇ n a rebellion against a government or ruler □ an armed rising.

rising damp n GB a condition in which moisture rises from the ground into the walls of a building and damages them.

risk [rɪsk] ◇ n -1. a possibility that something unpleasant or dangerous might happen □ There is a fire risk OR a risk of fire. □ There are a number of serious risks involved. ■ to run the risk of sthg to do something that might make sthg dangerous or unpleasant happen □ I haven't been back to the club because I don't want to run the risk of meeting Tammy again. ■ to take a risk to do something that might make something dangerous or unpleasant happen □ You have to take risks in this business. □ That's a risk we'll have to take. ■ at one's own risk so that one takes responsibility for any loss or damage oneself □ 'All valuables are left here at owner's risk.' ■ at the risk of doing sthg... a phrase used to warn people that what one is about to say might do sthg that one does not want □ At the risk of sounding silly, have you checked it's plugged in? -2. something or somebody that could make something dangerous happen □ The gas emissions are a serious health risk.

◇ vt -1. [health, life] to put <sthg> in danger □ You cannot risk the lives of hundreds of people just for the sake of profit. -2. [defeat, humiliation] to do something that one knows might make <sthg dangerous or unpleasant> happen □ You risk losing a lot of business if you relocate outside the city. ■ to risk it to do something that involves a risk □ You could wait a few more days, but I wouldn't like to risk it.

♦ at risk adj in danger □ The system is putting people's lives at risk. □ These are the children most at risk.

risk capital n capital invested in stock issued by a company.

risk-taking n the activity of deliberately taking risks, e.g. to make money or for sport.

risky ['rɪskɪ] (compar riskier, superl riskiest) adj [business, venture] that is dangerous or likely to fail □ I wouldn't invest in Agrotec — it's too risky.

risotto [rɪ'zɒtəʊ] (pl risottos) n an Italian dish made of rice cooked with meat, vegetables etc.

risqué [US rɪ'skeɪ, GB 'rɪskeɪ] adj [joke, humor] that is slightly rude, usually because it mentions sex □ I've been told her act's quite risqué.

rissole ['rɪsəʊl] n GB a type of food made from small pieces of chopped meat, fish, or vegetables that are pressed together into a round shape and fried.

rite [raɪt] n a ceremony, often religious, that is always carried out in the same way □ initiation rites □ the marriage rite.

ritual ['rɪtʃuəl] ◇ n a ceremony or series of actions that is always done in a particular way, especially as part of a religious or social occasion □ It's all part of his morning ritual. □ a purification ritual. ◇ adj [murder, dance] that is done as part of a ritual.

rival ['raɪvl] (US pt & pp rivaled, cont rivaling, GB pt & pp rivalled, cont rivaling) ◇ n a person, group, organization etc that one is competing or fighting against □ "Business Day" is one of our main rivals. □ Joe and Sam were once rivals in love. ◇ adj: a rival company/bid/team. ◇ vt to have as much of a particular quality as <sb/sthg else> □ Few can rival him for OR in stamina.

rivalry ['raɪvlrɪ] n a feeling of competition between people or groups that exists over a period of time □ A spirit of intense rivalry had grown up between them.

river ['rɪvə] n a wide stream of fresh water that flows across land, usually into the sea □ the River Po OR Po River.

river bank n the land along the side of a river.

riverbed ['rɪvə'bed] n the surface of the ground at the bottom of a river.

riverside ['rɪvə'saɪd] n the riverside the area of land near the banks of a river.

rivet ['rɪvət] ◇ n a type of metal pin used to fasten two pieces of metal, material etc together. ◇ vt -1. to fasten <sthg> with rivets. -2. to be riveted to watch or listen to something very carefully because it is very interesting □ The audience was riveted throughout the performance.

riveting ['rɪvətɪŋ] adj [book, story, program] that one thinks is very interesting □ Let's face it, the lecture wasn't exactly riveting.

Riviera [,rɪvɪ'ɛərə]: the Riviera the Mediterranean coast of southeastern France and northwestern Italy. The two parts are sometimes referred to as the French Riviera and the Italian Riviera.

Riyadh [US rɪ'jɑːd, GB 'rɪ:æd] the capital of Saudi Arabia. POPULATION: 1,308,000.

RMT (abbr of National Union of Rail, Maritime and Transport Workers) n the RMT a British labor union for transportation workers.

- RN n -1. abbr of Royal Navy. -2. abbr of registered nurse.
- RNA (abbr of ribonucleic acid) n an important chemical that is in the cells of all living things.
- RNLI (abbr of Royal National Lifeboat Institution) n the RNLI a British voluntary organization that raises money for the lifeboat service.
- RNZAF n abbr of Royal New Zealand Air Force.
- RNZN n abbr of Royal New Zealand Navy.
- roach [routʃ] (pl sense 1 roaches, sense 2 roach OR roaches) n -1. a cockroach. -2. a European freshwater fish.
- road [rəʊd] n a long piece of ground, usually covered with tarmac, concrete, or stones, that is designed for vehicles to travel on □ It's about three hours by road. □ Be careful when you cross the road. □ road travel □ The signals are to tell other road users where you intend to go. ■ on the road traveling by car, bus etc, usually over a long distance □ We've been on the road for over three hours, we must be nearly there. ■ on the road to sthg [to victory, recovery, success] on the way to sthg □ He's on the road to ruin, that boy.
- road atlas n a book of maps showing the main roads in a particular country, area, town etc.
- roadblock ['rəʊdblɒk] n a place on a road where soldiers, the police etc stop vehicles to search them or stop all vehicles from passing □ The police set up roadblocks around the city.
- road-fund licence n in Britain, a license displayed on the windshield of a vehicle to show that one has paid road tax.
- road haulage n = haulage.
- road hog n a person who drives in a way that shows no consideration for other drivers (informal and disapproving use).
- roadholding ['rəʊdhəʊldɪŋ] n the ability of a vehicle to travel around bends or on wet surfaces without skidding.
- roadhouse ['rəʊdhaʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n US a café or restaurant on a main road, especially in the country.
- roadie ['rəʊdi] n a person whose job is to carry musical equipment and prepare it before concerts for a group of musicians.
- road map n a map that shows the roads in a particular area.
- road rage n the feeling of anger that drivers have when other people drive in a dangerous or annoying way, and that can lead to violence.
- road safety n the rules that help people travel safely on roads.
- road sense n the ability of somebody to make good decisions when using or crossing roads, so that they avoid accidents □ good/poor road sense.
- roadshow ['rəʊdʃəʊ] n a group of people that travels around the country to perform, give talks etc for entertainment or advertising.
- roadside ['rəʊdsaɪd] n the roadside the area at the side of a road □ a roadside diner/restaurant/stall □ We waited by the roadside.
- road sign n a sign on a road that gives information to road users.
- road sweeper ['rəʊdswi:pə] n a truck with brushes underneath it that is specially designed to clean roads.
- road tax n in Britain, a tax that somebody who owns a vehicle must pay to be allowed to drive or leave it on a public road.
- road test n -1. a test in which a car is driven to see if it is easy, safe etc to use. -2. US an official test of a driver's ability to control a car.
- ◆ road-test vt to give  a road test.
- road train n AUS a large truck that pulls a number of linked trailers behind it.
- roadway ['rəʊdweɪ] n the part of a road that is used by moving vehicles.
- roadwork ['rəʊdwɜ:k] US n, roadworks ['rəʊdwɜ:ks] GB npl repairs that are being made to a road □ 'Roadworks ahead.'
- roadworthy ['rəʊdwɜ:θi] adj [vehicle] that is in a good enough condition to be driven on a road.
- roam [rəʊm] ◇ vt [countryside, town] to walk or travel all over  □ I roamed the streets of Berlin in search of somewhere to stay. ◇ vi: I loved roaming around the town.
- roar [rɔ:ɹ] ◇ vi -1. [lion, wind, engine] to make a deep loud noise □ Planes roared overhead as they spoke. -2. [person] to shout in a very loud voice that shows strong feelings □ The crowd roared as Lewis crossed the finishing line. ■ to roar with laughter to laugh very loudly. ◇ vt to say <sthg> in a very loud voice □ "You will do nothing of the kind!" he roared. ◇ n [of a lion, engine, person] a deep loud sound □ We could barely hear each other above the roar of the traffic.
- roaring ['rɔ:ɹɪŋ] ◇ adj -1. [traffic, wind] that is very loud. -2. a roaring fire a fire that is very hot and has big flames □ They sat in front of a roaring log fire. ■ a roaring success a very great success. ■ to do a roaring trade to sell a lot of things very quickly. ◇ adv to be roaring drunk to be very drunk (informal use).
- roast [rəʊst] ◇ vt -1. to cook <meat, potatoes> etc in an oven or over a fire. -2. to cook <coffee beans, nuts> etc in order to dry them. ◇ adj [meat, potato] that has been roasted □ They have roast lamb for dinner every Sunday. ◇ n a large piece of meat that has been roasted □ We're having a roast for lunch.
- roast beef n a joint of beef that has been roasted.
- roasting ['rəʊstɪŋ] (informal use) ◇ adj very hot □ Can we open the window? It's roasting in here. ◇ adv roasting hot extremely hot □ It was roasting hot that day.
- roasting pan US, roasting tin n a metal container for putting meat in when it is being roasted.
- rob [rɒb] (pt & pp robbed, cont robbing) vt -1. [person, store, bank] to steal money or proper-

- ty from <sb/sthg> □ The local kids go around robbing cars. □ They robbed him of all his money.
- 2. to rob sb of sthg to cause sb not to have sthg any more □ James was robbed of his opportunity by an unfortunate accident.
- robber ['rɒbə] n a person who steals money or property from a bank, store, vehicle etc, often by using force or weapons □ a bank robber.
- robbery ['rɒbəri] (pl robberies) n the crime of stealing money or property from a bank, store, vehicle etc, often by using force or weapons □ The gang carried out a series of armed robberies.
- robe [rəʊb] n -1. [of a priest, judge, monarch] a long loose piece of clothing worn on official occasions. -2. US a long loose piece of clothing, similar to a coat, that one wears at home in the morning before getting dressed or at night before going to bed.
- Robeson ['rəʊbsən], Paul (1898–1976) a black US actor and singer who was one of the first to become famous outside the USA. His most famous song was Ol' Man River.
- Robespierre [US 'rəʊbzpiə, GB -piə], Maximilien de (1758–1794) a French politician who was one of the leaders of the French Revolution.
- robin ['rɒbən] n a North American bird with orange-red feathers on the front of its body; a smaller European bird similar to this.
- Robin ['rɒbən] a boy in children's comics who helps Batman to fight crime.
- Robin Hood [-'hʊd] in English folk stories, the leader of a group of outlaws living in Sherwood Forest, in the English Midlands, in the 13th century. They stole money from the rich and gave it to the poor.
- Robinson Crusoe [rɒbən'sən'kru:soʊ] the main character in the novel Robinson Crusoe by Daniel Defoe. He is a sailor who lives on a desert island after his ship sinks.
- robot ['rəʊbɒt] n a machine that is usually controlled by a computer and is designed to do the tasks a person usually does.
- robotics [rəʊ'bɒtiks] n the science of designing and building robots.
- Rob Roy [rɒb'rɔɪ] (1671–1734) a Scottish outlaw. According to popular stories he was brave in battle and generous to the poor.
- robust [rəʊ'bʌst] adj -1. [person, health, economy] that is strong and in good condition. -2. [criticism, defense] that is expressed in a forceful way.
- rock [rɒk] n -1. the hard substance that is part of the Earth's surface; a large piece of this substance □ We climbed over the vast expanse of rock. -2. US a stone of any size □ He picked up a rock and threw it. -3. MUSIC rock music □ a rock band/group/concert. -4. GB a hard candy sold in long round sticks, especially at seaside resorts. vt -1. [baby, boat, chair] to make <sb/sthg> move gently and regularly from side to side or backward and forward □ I rocked the crib until Tommy fell asleep. -2. [person, organization] to shock <sb/
- sthg> □ the scandal that rocked the nation. vi [boat, chair] He rocked gently on his heels.
- ◆ on the rocks adj -1. served with ice □ whiskey on the rocks -2. to be on the rocks [relationship, love] to be in a bad state and unlikely to last □ Their marriage is on the rocks.
- rock and roll n a type of popular music that began in the 1950s and has a strong loud beat and uses electric guitars.
- rock bottom n the lowest possible level □ His spirits are at rock bottom. ■ to hit OR reach rock bottom [person, mood] to become extremely unhappy; [price, level, standard] to become extremely low; [family, economy] to become extremely poor □ He really reached rock bottom when Alison left him. □ House prices have reached rock bottom. □ After Arthur lost his job the family fortunes really reached rock bottom.
- ◆ rock-bottom adj [price, level] that is very low □ We offer rock-bottom prices on all hi-fi equipment.
- rock cake n GB a small round cake that has a rough surface and contains currants.
- rock climber n a person who climbs the steep sides of cliffs or mountains as a hobby or sport.
- rock-climbing n the sport or hobby of climbing the steep sides of cliffs or mountains □ I used to go rock-climbing on weekends.
- Rockefeller ['rɒkəfələ], John D. (1839–1935) a US businessman who became extremely rich and gave a lot of money to the arts and education.
- rocker ['rɒkə] n a rocking chair. ■ to be off one's rocker to be crazy (informal use) □ You must be off your rocker if you think I'm going in there.
- rockery ['rɒkəri] (pl rockeries) n a part of a garden with small ornamental rocks and plants growing between and around them.
- rocket ['rɒkət] n -1. SPACE a vehicle shaped like a long tube that is used for traveling away from the Earth into space □ a space rocket. -2. MILITARY a missile. -3. [for a firework display] a firework shaped like a space rocket. -4. [in salad] a plant with small dark-green leaves that have a peppery taste and are eaten raw in salads. vi [price, sales] to increase quickly.
- rocket launcher [-'lɔ:ntʃə] n a mobile device used by soldiers for firing rockets.
- rock face n a side of a hill or mountain that is very steep and made of solid rock.
- rockfall ['rɒkfɔ:l] n a mass of rocks that are falling or that have fallen down the side of a cliff, mountain etc.
- rock-hard adj that is very hard □ His muscles are rock-hard.
- Rockies ['rɒkɪz] = Rocky Mountains.
- rocking chair ['rɒkɪŋ-] n a chair that has two curved pieces of wood, metal etc on the bottom so that one can rock backward and forward when one is sitting in it.
- rocking horse n a toy horse that a child can sit on and rock backward and forward.
- rock music n loud music with a strong beat that is played on electrical instruments, especially electric guitars.

rock 'n' roll n = rock and roll.

rock pool n a small pool that forms between rocks on the seashore at low tide.

rock salt n salt found by mining in the ground rather than in the sea.

rock singer n a person who sings rock music.

rock star n a person who is very well-known for their rock music.

Rockwell ['rɒkwəl], Norman (1894–1978) a US painter who is famous for his scenes of daily life which appeared especially on magazine covers.

rocky ['rɒki] (compar rockier, superl rockiest) adj
-1. [road, ground] that is covered with rocks
□ They drove slowly over the rocky terrain. -2. [marriage, economy] that has problems and may not continue to exist or be successful □ Olson's future is looking a little rocky right now.

Rocky Mountains: the Rocky Mountains a North American mountain range that extends from Alaska to New Mexico. HIGHEST POINT: 4,399 m. rococo [rə'kɒkəʊ] adj [decoration, furniture, building] that is in a style, fashionable in Europe in the early 18th century, that uses a lot of decoration.

rod [rɒd] n a long thin bar made of hard material □ a metal/wooden rod.

rode [rɒd] past tense of ride.

rodent ['rɒdənt] n a small animal with strong sharp teeth, e.g. a mouse, rat, or rabbit.

rodeo [rəu'deɪəʊ] (pl rodeos) n a form of entertainment in which cowboys show their skills, e.g. riding wild horses.

🐾 RODEOS

At US rodeos, cowboys show off their skills to entertain people and to compete for prizes. Traditional rodeos were held when cowboys met to round up their herds of cattle (the word rodeo comes from the Spanish for "roundup"). The cowboys who perform in rodeos have to ride wild horses and cattle, catch cattle with ropes, and throw cattle to the ground by twisting their horns. Tourists have come to watch rodeos since the end of the 19th century, and modern rodeos in western states such as Wyoming and Kansas still attract many visitors.

Rodeo Drive [rəu'deɪəʊ] a street in Beverly Hills, California, that has a lot of expensive shops.

Rodgers ['rɒdʒəz], Richard (1902–1979) a US composer who wrote songs and musicals with Lorenz Hart and Oscar Hammerstein, including Oklahoma and The Sound of Music.

Rodin [US rəu'dæn, GB 'rɒdæn], Auguste (1840–1917) a French sculptor, famous for his realistic sculptures of people. His best-known works are The Thinker and The Kiss.

roe [rəʊ] n the eggs or sperm of a fish, eaten as food □ salmon/cod's roe.

roe deer n a small deer that lives in forests in Europe and Asia.

Roe vs. Wade [ˌrəʊvɜː'fʌs'weɪd] n a famous legal decision by the US Supreme Court in 1973 that said that abortions should be permitted in the USA.

rogue [rəʊg] ◇ n -1. a person who one likes, but whose attitude and behavior one does not approve of □ a likeable rogue. -2. a dishonest person (old-fashioned use). ◇ adj a rogue politician/policeman etc a politician/policeman etc who follows their own rules and methods and does not fit in with the other people in their group.

roguish ['rəʊɡɪʃ] adj [smile, look] that seems playful and mischievous.

role [rəʊl] n -1. somebody's position in a situation or activity and the amount of activity they have in it □ She played a key role in the organization. -2. CINEMA & THEATER the character played by an actor or actress □ She plays the role of a Russian princess.

roll [rəʊl] ◇ n -1. [of cloth, paper] a long piece of something that has been rolled into a cylinder □ How many rolls of film did you buy? -2. a small round loaf of bread, sometimes cut in half to make a sandwich
□ a sesame/hard roll. -3. [of names] an official list of names
□ the electoral roll. -4. a roll of drums/thunder a long deep sound made by drums/thunder
□ a drum roll. -5. phrase to be on a roll to be having a lot of success all at once (informal use).

◇ vt -1. to move  etc by making it turn over many times
□ The goalkeeper rolled the ball out to the defender. ■ to roll one's eyes to move one's eyes around in a circle, e.g. to show that one finds something strange, surprising, silly etc
□ She kept rolling her eyes melodramatically toward the sky. -2. to wrap <cloth, a carpet, film> etc around itself to form a ball or cylinder
□ The hedgehog rolled itself into a ball. ■ rolled into one combined □ She's a company executive, wife, and housekeeper rolled into one. -3. to roll a cigarette to make a cigarette by wrapping tobacco in paper and rolling it into a cylinder.

◇ vi -1. [log, barrel] to move somewhere by turning over many times
□ The ball rolled under the car. -2. [truck, bus] to move along
□ The car rolled up the drive. -3. [ship, plane] to move from side to side because of waves or wind. -4. [drums, thunder] to make a long deep sound.

◆ roll around, roll about vi to move by turning over many times
□ The dog was rolling around happily in the mud. □ Empty bottles rolled around on the ship's deck.

◆ roll back vt sep to roll sth back US [taxes, prices] to reduce sth, usually to a level that it was at before.

◆ roll in vi (informal use) -1. [money, profits, invitations] to come to somebody in large quantities □ After we'd won the competition the offers of work came rolling in. -2. [person] to arrive somewhere in a relaxed way, especially

- when other people expect one to be worried □ He rolled in half an hour late.
- ◆ roll over vi [person] to turn one's body once so that one is lying in a different position □ I switched off the lamp and rolled over to go to sleep. □ The car rolled over and burst into flames.
- ◆ roll up ◇ vi sep -1. to roll sth up [paper, cloth, carpet] to roll sth into a cylinder or ball □ He rolled his clothes up into a small ball. -2. to roll one's sleeves/trousers up to fold the ends of one's sleeves/trousers over, to make them shorter □ She rolled up her sleeves and set to work. ◇ vi -1. [car, bus] to arrive somewhere and stop □ A large Mercedes rolled up at the hotel entrance. -2. [person] to arrive somewhere, usually late (informal use) □ He finally rolled up at 10 o'clock.
- roll bar n a strong metal bar on the top of a car used to protect the people inside if the car rolls over.
- roll call n the act of reading a list of names aloud to check who is present.
- rolled gold [ˈrould-] n GB a thin covering of gold on another metal.
- roller [ˈroulə] n -1. a solid tube of wood or metal that turns around and is used in a machine for pressing, printing etc. -2. a small, hollow, plastic or metal tube around which one wraps one's hair to make it curly □ Her hair was in rollers.
- roller blades npl skates like roller skates that have one row of wheels underneath □ a pair of roller blades.
- roller blind n a blind, usually made of cloth, that is attached to the top of a window and can be rolled up when it is not being used.
- roller coaster n a small track, usually at a fairground, that carries people up and down steep slopes in open cars for entertainment.
- roller skate n a boot or shoe with small wheels attached to the bottom.
- ◆ roller-skate vi to move wearing roller skates.
- roller towel n a long towel whose two ends are joined together so that it can be wound around a wooden or metal rod.
- rolling [ˈroulɪŋ] adj -1. rolling hills hills that rise and fall gently. -2. a rolling walk a way of walking that is slow and in which the body moves from side to side. -3. to be rolling in it to be very rich (informal use).
- rolling mill n a factory or machine in which rollers are used to flatten metal into sheets.
- rolling pin n a long cylindrical piece of wood that one rolls over pastry many times in order to make it flat.
- rolling stock n the vehicles, e.g. engines and cars, that are used on a railroad.
- rollneck [ˈroulnek] adj GB [pullover, sweater] that has a neck like a poloneck but smaller.
- roll of honor n an official list of the names of a number of people who have done something that other people respect.
- roll-on n a roll-on (deodorant) a bottle of liquid deodorant that one puts onto one's body by moving a rolling ball at the top of the bottle against one's skin.
- roll-on roll-off comp a roll-on roll-off ferry GB a ferry that is built with doors at the front and back, so that vehicles can drive on at one end and leave at the other end.
- ROM [rɒm] (abbr of read-only memory) n the part of a computer containing information that can be read but not changed by the user.
 NOTE: Compare RAM.
- romaine lettuce [ˌrouˌmeɪn-] n US a lettuce with long, narrow, crisp leaves.
- Roman [ˈrɒmən] ◇ adj -1. that is connected with ancient Rome or its empire. -2. that is connected with Rome. ◇ n -1. a person who came from or lived in ancient Rome. -2. a person who comes from or lives in Rome.
- Roman candle n a firework that stands on the ground and produces bright sparks and colored balls of fire.
- Roman Catholic ◇ n a person who belongs to the Christian religion that has the Pope in Rome as its leader. ◇ adj: a Roman Catholic priest/bishop □ the Roman Catholic Church.
- romance [ˌrɒmˈæns] n -1. the feelings or behavior of people who are in love □ in search of love and romance. -2. a feeling of excitement, mystery, and adventure □ the romance of moonlight. -3. a love affair □ yet another failed romance. -4. a type of novel, usually involving love, mystery, and adventure □ I'd rather read a romance than a thriller any day.
- Romanesque [ˌrɒmənˈesk] adj [building, architecture] built in a style that was popular in Western Europe between the 9th and 12th centuries, with arches and thick pillars.
- Romania [ˌrɒˈmeɪnjə] a country in southeastern Europe, on the Black Sea. SIZE: 237,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 23,400,000 (Romanians). CAPITAL: Bucharest. LANGUAGE: Romanian. CURRENCY: leu.
- Romanian [ˌrɒˈmeɪnjən] n & adj: see Romania.
- Roman numerals npl the letters that were used to represent numbers in ancient Rome □ The facade was inscribed with the Roman numerals, MDCCXIV.
- romantic [ˌrɒmˈæntɪk] adj -1. [person] who imagines things are more interesting, exciting etc than they really are □ He has a very romantic view of the French way of life. -2. [evening, vacation, movie] that involves love □ They had a romantic candlelit dinner. -3. [gesture, place, way of life] that makes one think of love, adventure, or mystery □ It was so romantic of her to fly all that way to see you.
- ◆ Romantic adj [novel, movie, play] that is connected with Romanticism □ the great Romantic novels of the 19th century.
- romanticism [ˌrɒmˈæntɪsɪzəm] n romantic thoughts, feelings, or ideas □ One could hardly accuse him of romanticism.
- ◆ Romanticism n an artistic movement in 18th- and 19th-century Europe that was concerned with natural beauty and with

- emotions rather than rational thought □ one of the great proponents of French Romanticism.
- romanticize, -ise [rou'mæntəsəɪz] ◇ vt [idea, event] to make <sthg> seem more interesting or exciting than it really is □ He has a tendency to romanticize war in his novels. ◇ vi: It's easy to romanticize about life on a desert island.
- Romantic poets npl the Romantic poets a group of English poets in the late 18th and early 19th centuries, including Wordsworth, Byron, Keats, and Shelley. Their poems were influenced by Romanticism.
- Romany ['rɒməni] (pl Romanies) n a member of a race of people that travels from place to place, mainly in Europe, and lives in caravans; the language of these people.
- Rome [roum] the capital of Italy and its largest city. In ancient times it was the center of a large empire. POPULATION: 2,693,383.
- Romeo¹ ['rəʊmiəʊ] the hero of Shakespeare's play Romeo and Juliet. He falls in love with Juliet, although their families are enemies.
- Romeo² n a man who tries to make women sexually interested in him.
- romp [rɒmp] ◇ n a noisy and lively activity or game □ The children/dogs like to have a romp in the garden. ◇ vi [child, dog] to play in a noisy and lively way.
- rompers ['rɒmpəʳz] npl, romper suit ['rɒmpəʳf-] n a piece of clothing for babies that consists of a top and trousers in one piece.
- roof [ru:f] n -1. the covering on top of a building or vehicle □ The roof is leaking. ■ under my roof in my home □ I am not prepared to put up with that kind of behavior under my roof! ■ under the same roof in the same house □ I'm not staying under the same roof as that revolting man! ■ to have a roof over one's head to have somewhere to live □ All we want is some food and a roof over our heads. ■ to go through or hit the roof to become very angry □ Mom went through the roof when she saw the mess. -2. [of a cave, mouth] the top part of the inside of something □ The roof of my mouth felt dry and sticky.
- roof garden n a garden on the roof of a building.
- roofing ['ru:fɪŋ] n material that is used to make a roof.
- roof rack n a metal frame on the roof of a car or van that is used for carrying things.
- rooftop ['ru:ftɒp] n the outside part of a roof.
- rook [ru:k] n -1. a large black bird, like a crow, that lives in Europe and Asia. -2. in chess, a piece that can move any number of squares backward, forward, or sideways, but not diagonally.
- rookie ['ru:kɪ] n a new member, e.g. of an army or police force, who has little experience □ a rookie cop.
- room [ru:m] n -1. [in a building] one of the parts of a building that has its own walls, floor, and ceiling, and is separated from the other parts □ The house has ten rooms. □ Just then, Jeff walked into the room. -2. [in a house, hotel] a bedroom □ I'll show you to your room. -3. [for people, objects] enough space □ Is there room for another passenger? □ There isn't much room in here. ■ to make room for sb/sthg to move things or people so that there is enough space for sb/sthg □ She moved up to make room for Sam. □ I've shifted the furniture to make room for the new TV. -4. [for improvement, change] the opportunity or possibility for something to happen □ It's a good project but there's room for improvement. ■ room for maneuver the possibility of changing one's plans or actions if it is necessary.
- roomer [ru:məʳ] n US a person who lives in a rented room in somebody else's house.
- rooming house ['ru:mɪŋ-] n US a house where people can rent furnished rooms or small apartments.
- roommate ['ru:mmeɪt] n a person with whom one shares a house or apartment.
- room service n the serving of meals, drinks etc to hotel guests in their rooms.
- room temperature n the usual temperature of a room in a house, about 20°C □ 'This wine should be served at room temperature.'
- roomy ['ru:mi] (compar roomier, superl roomiest) adj [building, bag, coat] that has plenty of space.
- Roosevelt ['ru:zəvelt], Eleanor (1884–1962) a US writer and diplomat who supported many liberal causes. She was married to Franklin Roosevelt.
- Roosevelt, Franklin (Delano) (1882–1945) US President from 1933 to 1945. He was responsible for economic reforms such as the New Deal, and was a strong leader in World War II. He is also called FDR.
- Roosevelt, Theodore (1858–1919) US President from 1901 to 1909. He is also called Teddy Roosevelt.
- roost [ru:st] ◇ n a place, e.g. a branch of a tree, where a bird rests at night. ■ to rule the roost to be in control of all the other people in a place (informal use). ◇ vi [bird] to stay on a roost for the night.
- rooster ['ru:stəʳ] n an adult male chicken.
- root [ru:t] ◇ n -1. [of a plant, tree] the part of a plant that grows underground and supplies the plant with food and water □ The plant had long, white roots that went deep into the soil. ■ to put down roots [person] to settle in a place and begin to think of it as one's home □ You can't be thinking of moving again — you've scarcely had time to put down roots here. ■ to take root [plant] to start to grow; [idea, practice] to become established □ That little offcut from the rose bush is beginning to take root. □ Once the idea had taken root in her mind, she could not forget it. -2. [of a hair, tooth, nail] the part of a hair, tooth, or nail where it meets the surface of the skin □ Her dyed blond hair was dark at the roots. -3. [of a problem] the main cause of something □ the root of all evil. ◇ adj the root cause the most basic and important cause □ The root cause of all these problems is poverty. ◇ vi to search for something by moving

- things around □ The dog was rooting through the undergrowth. □ She rooted in her bag for the ticket.
- ◆ roots npl the place or culture that somebody grew up in or that their family is from originally □ He says he wants to go back to his roots.
- ◆ root for vt fus to root for sb [competitor, team] to support and encourage sb strongly (informal use) □ Come on, Cambridge! We're rooting for you!
- ◆ root out vt sep to root sthg out [corruption, racism] to find and remove sthg □ I intend to root out every corrupt cop in this precinct.
- root beer n US a fizzy soft drink made from roots and herbs.
- root crop n a crop whose roots are used as food, e.g. potatoes or carrots.
- rooted ['ru:təd] adj to be rooted to the spot to be so afraid or surprised that one is unable to move □ She just stood there, rooted to the spot as the truck came thundering toward her.
- rootless ['ru:tləs] adj [person] who does not feel that they belong to any particular place or culture.
- root vegetable n a vegetable, e.g. potatoes or carrots, that grows under the ground.
- rope [roup] ◇ n a thick cord that is made by twisting thinner cords together □ a long rope/a long piece of rope. ■ to know the ropes to be experienced in a particular activity or situation (informal use) □ Ask Johnny to show you the ropes. ■ to be at the end of one's rope US to feel that one cannot deal with a situation any more because one is too tired, worried etc. ◇ vt to tie  to something with rope □ The climbers were roped together. □ The horse was roped to a fence.
- ◆ rope in vt sep to rope sb in to persuade sb to get involved in something (informal use) □ They tried to rope me in to play softball.
- ◆ rope off vt sep to rope a place off to tie ropes around the edges of a place to prevent people from getting in □ The whole street's been roped off while they investigate.
- ro-ro ['rourou] n GB a roll-on roll-off ferry (informal use).
- rosary ['rouzəri] (pl rosaries) n -1. a string of beads used by people in some religions, e.g. Catholics or Hindus, for counting their prayers. -2. the set of prayers that is said by somebody using a rosary.
- rose [rouz] ◇ past tense of rise. ◇ adj that is pink in color. ◇ n a flower that is usually red, white, pink, or yellow, has a pleasant smell, and grows on a bush that has thorns on its stems.
- rosé [rou'zei] n a pink wine.
- rosebed ['rouzbed] n a flowerbed that has had roses planted in it.
- Rose Bowl n the Rose Bowl an important US football game. It is played once a year on January 1 in Pasadena, California between two championship college teams.
- rosebud ['rouzbd] n the flower of a rose that has not yet opened out completely.
- rose bush n a bush that roses grow on.
- rose hip n a red or yellow fruit that grows on certain rose bushes.
- rosemary [US 'rouzmeri, GB -məri] n a plant with sweet-smelling gray-green spiky leaves, used as an herb in cooking.
- rosette [rou'zet] n a large round badge made of colored ribbons.
- rosewater ['rouzwa:tə] n a liquid made from roses and used as perfume.
- rosewood ['rouzwud] n a hard, dark-red, tropical wood used for making good-quality furniture.
- ROSPA ['rɒspə] (abbr of Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents) n a British charity that provides information about safety on the road, at school, at home etc.
- Ross [rɒs], Betsy (1752–1836) the woman who made the first US flag.
- Rossetti [US rou'zeti, GB rə-], Dante Gabriel (1828–1882) a British artist and poet, and a leader of the Pre-Raphaelites.
- Rossini [US rou'si:ni, GB rɒ-], Gioacchino (1792–1868) an Italian composer who wrote many operas, including The Barber of Seville.
- roster ['rɒstə] n a list of people's names that shows which jobs they have to do or at which times they have to work.
- rostrum ['rɒstrəm] (pl rostrums OR rostra [-trə]) n a raised platform where somebody stands, e.g. when making a speech, accepting a prize, or conducting an orchestra.
- rosy ['rouzi] (compar rosier, superl rosiest) adj -1. [cheeks, complexion] pink and healthy in appearance □ She came in, smiling and rosy-cheeked. -2. [view, outlook, future] that makes one feel optimistic □ I'm afraid the future doesn't look quite so rosy from my point of view.
- rot [rɒt] (pt & pp rotted, cont rotting) vi [food, teeth] to decay □ the smell of rotting vegetables. ◇ vt [substance, food, teeth] to make <sthg> decay □ Oil rots rubber. ◇ n -1. [in wood, food] an area of rotten material □ The floorboards were very damp and rot had begun to set in. -2. [in a society, organization] a weakness in the character, structure, or morals of something □ The rot set in when the essential services were privatized.
- rota ['rouʔə] n GB a list of people who take turns to do a job, showing the order in which they have to do it □ We have a rota system for doing the dishes. □ I don't think I'm on the rota tonight.
- rotary ['rouʔəri] ◇ adj -1. [movement, action] that involves turning around a fixed point. -2. [machine, engine] that is operated by the rotary movement of a part or parts. ◇ n US a round traffic junction where three or more roads meet and which traffic must travel around in the same direction.
- Rotary Club n the Rotary Club an association of business people that organizes social events and charity work.

rotate [US 'rɔʊtɪt, GB rɔʊ'teɪt] ◇ vt -1. [part of a machine, wheel] to make <sthg> turn in a circular movement around a fixed point □ This shaft then rotates the wheel, which forces the water through the pipe. -2. [staff, workers] to make <people> take turns to do a particular job in a fixed order □ The presidency of the EU is rotated. □ They rotate the jobs so that no one has to work two night shifts in a row. -3. to plant <different crops> each season in a fixed order that is repeated □ The farmers rotate the crops in order to keep the soil healthy.
 ◇ vi -1. [part of a machine, wheel] The blades start to rotate when you push the lawnmower forward. -2. [staff, jobs] The presidency of the Council rotates every year.

rotation [rɔʊ'teɪʃn] n [of a machine, jobs, crops] see rotate. ■ to do sthg in rotation to do sthg in a fixed order that is repeated.

rote [rəʊt] n to learn sthg by rote to learn sthg so that one can repeat it from memory, rather than because one understands it □ rote learning.

rotor ['rəʊtə] n a part of an engine or machine that rotates □ a helicopter's rotor blade.

rotten ['rɒtn] adj -1. [wood, food] that has decayed completely □ He accidentally put his foot through a rotten floorboard. -2. [movie, book, meal] that is of poor quality □ That rice tastes really rotten! -3. [person, job] very unpleasant (informal use) □ What a rotten thing to do/say! □ I've had a really rotten day! -4. to feel rotten to feel unwell (informal use). -5. to feel rotten about sthg to feel unhappy or guilty about sthg one has done □ I feel rotten about turning him down for the job.

rotund [rəʊ'tʌnd] adj [person, shape] round and fat.

rouble ['ru:bl] n the standard unit of money in Russia and some other countries that used to be in the Soviet Union.

rouge [ru:ʒ] n red make-up that women and actors put on their cheeks.

rough [rʌf] ◇ adj -1. [surface, road] that is uneven and not smooth □ They drove along a rough dirt track. -2. [person, behavior, treatment] that is violent or aggressive □ He was very rough with me. -3. [shelter, workmanship] that is basic and not of very high quality □ They built a rough wooden shack outside. -4. [plan, copy, idea] that is not detailed, exact, or final □ This is just a rough outline. □ I only need a rough estimate. □ This is just to give you a rough idea of what we intend to do. -5. [life, deal] difficult and unpleasant, often in a way that is unfair or unlucky □ They gave him a rough time or ride. □ Divorce is always rough on the children. -6. [town, area] where there is a lot of crime and violence □ It's a rough part of town, so be careful. -7. [weather, sea] stormy □ We had a rough crossing. -8. [wine, taste] that is not smooth or delicate; [sound, voice] that is unpleasantly harsh. -9. to feel/look rough to feel/look tired or ill (informal use) □ You're looking rough this morning.

◇ adv GB to sleep rough to sleep outside in uncomfortable conditions because one has nowhere else to stay.

◇ n -1. the rough GOLF uneven ground on a golf course where the grass is allowed to grow longer. -2. in rough [write, draw] in a way that is not tidy or complete enough for a final copy □ Just write it out in rough and someone can copy it.

◇ vt to rough it to live in uncomfortable conditions for a short time □ We don't have any furniture yet, so you'll just have to rough it.

◆ rough out vt sep to rough sthg out [sketch, idea, speech] to draw or write sthg in rough □ I've roughed out a plan for the new campaign.

◆ rough up vt sep to rough sb up to attack sb in a violent or aggressive way □ They roughed Steve up really badly.

roughage ['rʌfɪdʒ] n substances in food such as bread, vegetables, or fruit that help to make the bowels work properly.

rough and ready adj -1. [plan, solution] that is simple and has been made carelessly or quickly. -2. [person] who does not worry about trying to be polite and is direct in their behavior and way of speaking.

rough-and-tumble n -1. fighting, e.g. among children, that is not very serious. -2. rough and noisy behavior □ the rough-and-tumble of politics.

roughcast [US 'rʌfkæst, GB -kɑ:st] n a rough covering for the outside walls of a building that is made of plaster and small stones or shells.

rough diamond n GB a person who has good qualities, but whose appearance or behavior makes them seem aggressive, rude etc.

roughen ['rʌfn] vt [hands, surface] to make <sthg> rough.

rough justice n a situation, decision, or punishment that seems unfair because it makes life difficult for somebody who does not deserve it.

roughly ['rʌfli] adv -1. [behave, treat, make] see rough □ He answered her very roughly. □ a roughly built shelter. -2. approximately □ She told me roughly how to get there. □ It's roughly 5km away.

roughneck ['rʌfnɛk] n -1. a person who works on an oil rig. -2. a rough person (informal use).

roughshod ['rʌfʃɒd] adv to ride roughshod over sb/sthg [over rules, somebody's feelings] to behave without any consideration for sb/sthg.

roulette [ru:'let] n a game for gambling in which a ball is dropped onto a wheel with numbers on it that is spun and in which people bet on which number the ball will stay on when the wheel stops spinning.

round [raʊnd] ◇ adj -1. [plate, table, face] that has the shape of a circle or a ball □ Her eyes were round with amazement. □ Columbus knew the Earth was round. -2. [cheeks, stomach, arch] that has a curved shape □ Stand up straight or you'll get round shoulders! -3. a round number/figure a number/figure that is whole and usually ends in zero, e.g. ten or a hundred □ It comes to $384, or $400 in round figures.

◇ prep -1. round the table/fire in a circle with the table/fire in the center. ■ round one's waist/wrist completely enclosing one's waist/wrist □ The town is built round a small lake. □ He had his arm round her. □ She wore a silk scarf round her neck. □ She measures 40 inches round the hips. -2. to go round sthg to move in a circle with sthg in the center; to move in a circle along sthg □ The Earth goes round the Sun. □ We drove round and round the place trying to find the exit. -3. to travel round a place to visit all the different parts of a place □ We spent the summer motoring round Europe. □ We have offices all round the world. □ I spent the morning wandering round the town. -4. to be round the corner to be on the far side of the corner □ The hotel is a few hundred yards on, just round the next bend. □ The car is parked round the back of the house. -5. a way round an obstacle/a problem a way that avoids an obstacle/a problem □ I stepped carefully round the hole in the road. □ We're going to have to sell, I can't see any other way round it. -6. phrase round here in the area where one is or lives □ The people round here are very friendly.

◇ adv -1. to go OR spin round (and round) to move in the shape of a circle (repeatedly) □ The roulette wheel spun round several times, then stopped. -2. to sit/stand round to sit/stand in a group so that something is in the center or surrounded □ By this time a crowd of spectators had gathered round. □ We couldn't get in because there was a fence all round. -3. to turn/look round to turn/look so that one is facing the opposite direction. -4. to be 100 feet round to measure 100 feet along the length of its outside. -5. to take OR show sb round to take sb to all the different parts of a place □ If you ever come to London, I'd be delighted to show you round. -6. to come/go round to come/go to visit someone in their home □ I'm just on my way round to Jenny's.

◇ n -1. a round of talks/negotiations one of a series of talks/negotiations □ The next round of consultations will take place in Helsinki. -2. a round of applause clapping by an audience to show that they have enjoyed a performance □ Let's have a round of applause for our winners! -3. [in a competition] one of a series of games or matches in a competition □ He was knocked out in the fourth round of the tournament. -4. [by a doctor, nurse, delivery boy] the regular visits that someone makes every day to their customers or patients □ He did a paper round to earn some money. -5. [of drinks] a drink for everyone in a group, usually bought by one person □ It's my round, what can I get you? -6. GOLF a complete game of golf. -7. BOXING one of the periods in a boxing match when the boxers fight □ The referee stopped the fight in the tenth round. -8. a round of ammunition a single bullet or a single shot from a gun □ Police fired three rounds of ammunition.

◇ vt to go round  □ Hamish rounded the bend at 60 miles per hour.

◆ rounds npl the regular visits that a doctor or nurse makes every day to patients in their homes □ The doctor is out on her rounds at the moment.

◆ round about ◇ prep a little before or after  etc □ All my friends are round about the same age. □ She should be here round about 5 o'clock. ◇ adv near to a particular place □ People came from all the farms round about.

◆ round off vt sep to round sthg off [speech, meal, concert] to end sthg in a satisfying or suitable way □ The Bishop rounded off his sermon with a prayer for peace. □ How about a brandy to round off the meal?

◆ round up vt sep -1. to round people/animals up to gather together people/animals from different places □ Police rounded up members of the gang in a raid last night. -2. to round a figure/an amount up MATH to change a figure/an amount to the nearest whole number, or multiple of ten, above it □ The actual budget is $37,000, but let's round it up to $40,000.

roundabout ['raundəbaut] ◇ adj [way, method] that is not direct or simple □ It seems a rather roundabout way of doing it. ◇ n GB -1. [on a road] a round traffic junction which traffic must travel around in the same direction. -2. [at a fairground] a round platform with seats, often in the shape of animals, that spins round and that people can ride on for pleasure.

rounded ['raundəd] adj [edge, end, shape] that is curved rather than pointed or sharp.

rounders ['raundəz] n in Britain, a team game like baseball played especially by children, in which the person batting scores points by hitting the ball and running around the four points of a square.

Roundhead ['raundhed] n a supporter of Oliver Cromwell against King Charles I in the English Civil War (1642–1646).

roundly ['raundli] adv [criticize, attack] strongly; [defeat, beat] completely □ He was roundly criticized for his behavior at the party. □ We were roundly beaten by a group of amateurs.

round-neck adj [sweater] that has a collar that goes around the bottom of one's neck.

round-shouldered [-'fouldəd] adj [person] who bends forward so that their shoulders are narrow and curved (disapproving use).

Round Table n the Round Table in English legends, the table where King Arthur sat with his knights. It was round so that no knight would appear more important than the others.

round-table adj a round-table discussion/meeting etc a discussion/meeting etc where all the people taking part have equal importance □ Round-table talks are being held between the two warring factions.

round-the-clock adj round-the-clock surveillance/care etc surveillance/care etc that takes place 24 hours a day.

◆ round the clock adv: Police are watching the suspect round the clock.

round trip

round trip ◇ n a trip to a place and back again. ◇ adj a round-trip ticket US a ticket for a trip to a place and back again.

roundup ['raʊndʌp] n -1. an act of gathering together animals or people in one place. -2. a summary of the main points of something, e.g. of the news or sports results □ a news roundup.

rouse [raʊz] vt -1. to wake <sb> up □ I was roused from my sleep/bed at 2 am. -2. to rouse oneself to do sthg to make oneself do something, usually when one is tired or does not have enthusiasm □ Jimmy could scarcely rouse himself to look interested. -3. to make <sb> more lively or excited □ He was not easily roused to anger. -4. to cause somebody to have <anger, fears> etc □ This has roused a certain amount of suspicion amongst locals.

rousing ['raʊzɪŋ] adj [speech, cheer] that makes people feel emotional and excited □ He gave a rousing speech about patriotism and duty.

Rousseau [US ru:'sou, GB 'ru:sou], Jean-Jacques (1712–1778) a French philosopher, born in Switzerland. His writing influenced the French Revolution and the Romantic movement.

rout [raʊt] ◇ n a very easy and complete defeat. ◇ vt to beat <an opposing army, team> etc easily and completely.

route [ru:t] ◇ n -1. [of a trip, person, procession] a way or road that one travels along to get from one place to another □ What's the best route to Manchester? -2. [of a bus, train, plane] a way used by vehicles or planes for traveling regularly between places □ I think the 45 bus goes along this route. □ a bus route. -3. [to fame, disaster] a way of achieving something □ the route to success □ Law is a good route into politics. -4. US a main road □ Route 66. ◇ vt [goods, vehicle, person] to send <sb/sthg> in a particular direction or to a particular place □ Our bags have been routed to Hong Kong.

route map n a plan to help travelers, showing where bus or train routes run; a map provided for somebody to show them how to get to a place.

routine [,ru:'ti:n] ◇ adj -1. [check, operation, inquiry] that is part of the normal procedure □ I'm sorry to trouble you — this is just a routine inquiry. -2. [meeting, week] that consists of nothing unusual and so is boring □ a series of dull, routine tasks. ◇ n -1. the regular pattern of somebody's behavior that involves particular tasks or activities being done at particular times □ Try to vary your routine a little. -2. a pattern of activity that has been repeated so often that it is boring □ I was tired of the same old daily routine.

routinely [,ru:'ti:nli] adv [check, inspect] regularly, as part of normal procedure.

rove [rouv] ◇ vt [streets, land] to wander around  (literary use). ◇ vi to rove around [person] to move or travel around freely with no particular purpose; [eyes] to keep looking around a place.

roving ['rouvɪŋ] adj -1. a roving reporter a reporter for a newspaper or television company who travels about a lot. -2. to have a roving eye to be sexually attracted to many people.

row¹ [rou] ◇ n -1. a line made up of several people or things that are next to each other □ a row of cars/chairs □ They stood/sat in a row. -2. a section of seats in a cinema, theater etc that are next to each other in a line □ We're in the third row. -3. a sequence in which an event is repeated a number of times without any interruption or variation in between □ an impressive row of victories. ■ in a row one after the other without interruption □ He's now won six times in a row.

◇ vt to move  through the water by using oars; to take  to a place by rowing a boat □ Jocelyn rowed the little boat across the river. □ Mary rowed us to the other side.

◇ vi: Can you row?

row² [rau] GB ◇ n -1. a noisy quarrel □ I could hear them upstairs having a flaming row. -2. noise, e.g. from music or people shouting, that continues for a period of time (informal use) □ Turn that row down! ◇ vi to quarrel loudly □ Those two are always rowing.

rowboat ['roubɔ:t] n US a small boat with oars.

rowdy ['raʊdi] (compar rowdier, superl rowdiest) adj [behavior, boys] noisy and wild.

rower ['raʊə] n a person who rows as a sport or hobby.

row house ['rou-] n US a house that is one of a row of houses that are joined together.

rowing ['raʊɪŋ] n the activity or sport of rowing boats □ Would you like to go rowing?

rowing boat n GB = rowboat.

rowing machine n a fitness machine on which one uses the same movements as when rowing, in order to strengthen one's arms, legs etc.

royal ['rɔɪəl] ◇ adj [household, wedding, coach] that is connected with the king or queen of a country. ◇ n a member of a royal family (informal use).

Royal Academy of Arts n → RA.

Royal Air Force n the Royal Air Force the section of the British armed forces that operates in the air.

royal blue adj bright blue.

royal family n the king or queen of a country and all their relatives □ the Danish royal family.

royalist ['rɔɪəlɪst] n a person who believes their country should be ruled by a king or queen.

royal jelly n a substance produced by bees, used as an expensive ingredient in cosmetics and health foods.

Royal Mail n the Royal Mail the national postal service in Britain.

Royal Marines npl the Royal Marines British soldiers serving with the Royal Navy.

Royal Navy n the Royal Navy the section of the British armed forces that operates at sea.

royalty ['rɔɪəlti] n a collective term for members of a royal family □ She acts as though she were royalty.

◆ royalties npl the money that is paid to a writer, musician etc, as a percentage of the profits when their work is sold or performed □ Do you get paid royalties for your work?

RP (abbr of received pronunciation) n an accent, used by many educated people in the south of England, that is considered the standard pronunciation of British English.

RPI n abbr of retail price index.

rpm (abbr of revolutions per minute) npl a unit of measurement to show how quickly a record player goes around, or how quickly an engine turns over.

RPN (abbr of registered practical nurse) n a US nursing qualification that requires four years' training; a person who has this qualification.

NOTE: Compare LPN.

RR abbr of railroad.

RRP n abbr of recommended retail price.

RSA ◇ abbr of Republic of South Africa. ◇ n (abbr of Royal Society of Arts) the RSA a British organization that gives examinations and diplomas in arts subjects.

RSI (abbr of repetitive strain injury) n a painful condition that affects the hands or arms especially, and is suffered by people who often repeat the same movements, e.g. keyboarders or violinists.

RSL (abbr of Returned Services League) n an Australian organization that looks after the interests of people who have served in the armed forces.

RSL

Almost every Australian town has an RSL club. They were originally meeting places for members of the armed forces and their families, but are now important to the whole community. In small towns they may just have a bar, while in cities they are very large, with restaurants and casinos, and space for "housie" (bingo), dancing, concerts etc.

RSPB (abbr of Royal Society for the Protection of Birds) n the RSPB a British charity whose aim is to protect birds that are in danger.

RSPCA (abbr of Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) n the RSPCA a British charity that aims to protect animals from being badly treated.

RSVP (abbr of répondez s'il vous plaît) a phrase written on an invitation to ask for a reply.

Rt Hon (abbr of Right Honourable) a title used when referring to members of the British parliament who have been Cabinet ministers, or to certain members of the aristocracy.

Rt Rev (abbr of Right Reverend) a title used when referring to an Anglican bishop.

rub [rʌb] (pt & pp rubbed, cont rubbing) ◇ vt -1. [eyes, forehead, mirror] to move something, e.g. one's hand or a cloth, up and down over the surface of <sthg> while pressing against it □ He rubbed his hands (together) to keep warm. □ Katy rubbed her eyes sleepily.

-2. to rub sthg against sthg to move sthg along the surface of sthg while pressing against it □ The cat was rubbing its back against the chair. -3. to rub sthg on sthg [polish, cream] to put sthg on the surface of sthg by moving a cloth, one's hand etc over it □ Could you rub some oil on my back? -4. to rub sthg in OR into sthg [cream, lotion, wax] to rub sthg on sthg until it becomes absorbed. -5. to rub it in to make somebody feel even more upset, embarrassed etc about something that has happened by reminding them about it or making fun of them (informal use) □ Look, you don't have to rub it in — I know I was drunk!

-6. to rub sb the wrong way US, to rub sb up the wrong way GB to annoy sb □ I didn't mean to be rude, but that man has a knack of rubbing me the wrong way!

◇ vi to come into contact with something by moving over its surface; to move up and down over the surface of something while pressing against it □ I felt something rub against my leg. □ My shoes are rubbing.

◆ rub off on vt fus to rub off on sb [attitude, experience, knowledge] to have an effect on sb by providing them with an example of something □ Let's hope some of their good manners will rub off on Larry!

◆ rub out vt sep to rub sthg out [writing, mistake] to remove sthg from a piece of paper with an eraser □ He had rubbed out his name and written in mine instead.

◆ rub out vt sep to rub sthg out [writing, mistake] to remove sthg from a piece of paper with an eraser □ He had rubbed out his name and written in mine instead.

◆ rub out vt sep to rub sthg out [writing, mistake] to remove sthg from a piece of paper with an eraser □ He had rubbed out his name and written in mine instead.

rubber ['rʌbər] ◇ n -1. a natural elastic substance obtained from a tropical tree □ The boots are made of rubber. -2. a series of games of bridge. -3. US a condom (informal use). -4.

US a covering made of rubber that is worn over a shoe, usually to protect it in wet weather. -5. GB a piece of rubber used for removing pencil marks. ◇ adj [gloves, tire, ball] made of rubber.

rubber band n a small thin band of rubber, used to hold things together tightly.

rubber boot n US a long waterproof boot made of rubber.

rubber bullet n a piece of rubber fired from a gun that is designed to hurt people but not kill them.

rubber dinghy n a small rubber boat that is filled with air before use.

rubberize, -ise ['rʌbərəɪz] vt [cloth, fabric] to treat <sthg> with rubber in order to make it waterproof.

rubberneck ['rʌbənɛk] vi to stare curiously at something, especially when driving past in a car (informal and disapproving use).

rubber plant n a houseplant with smooth, shiny, dark-green leaves.

rubber stamp n a small object with raised letters or figures that are pressed onto paper to print a date, company name etc.

◆ rubber-stamp vt to agree to <sthg>, often without discussing or thinking about it.

rubber tree n a tropical tree that produces rubber.

rubbery ['rʌbəri] adj [substance, food] that is like rubber because it is soft and flexible, but tough □ The squid had a rubbery texture.

rubbing ['rʌbɪŋ] n a pattern or picture that is made by laying paper over a piece of stone or metal and rubbing it with chalk, a crayon etc □ a brass rubbing.

rubbing alcohol n US a kind of alcohol used for cleaning wounds.

rubbish ['rʌbɪʃ] ◇ n -1. waste material consisting of used or unwanted things that is put in a container to be taken away from a place □ The rubbish is collected on Tuesdays. -2. something, e.g. a movie or book, that one thinks is of very poor quality (informal use) □ "What did you think of the game?" — "It was rubbish." -3. something that somebody says or writes that one thinks is worthless (informal use) □ What you're saying is rubbish. □ What a load of rubbish!

◇ vt GB [person, movie, work] to criticize <sb/sthg> in a way that suggests they have no worth (informal use) □ You're always trying to rubbish what I do.

◇ excl GB a word used to show that one disagrees very strongly with what has just been said (informal use) □ "It only takes three hours from here." — "Rubbish! It takes at least five."

rubbish bag n GB a large plastic bag for putting rubbish in.

rubbish bin n GB -1. a large metal or plastic container that stands outside a house and is used for keeping bags of rubbish in until they are taken away. -2. a large plastic container for waste, usually in the kitchen.

rubbish dump, rubbish tip n GB a place where household waste is taken and unloaded after being collected.

rubbishy ['rʌbɪʃi] adj [book, movie, article] bad (informal use).

rubble ['rʌbl] n the pieces of brick, stone, concrete etc that are left when a building is destroyed □ The building had been reduced to rubble.

rubella [ru'belə] n German measles (technical use).

Rubens ['ru:binz], Peter Paul (1577–1640) a Flemish artist, famous for the use of rich colors in his paintings.

ruby ['ru:bi] (pl rubies) n a precious dark-red stone.

RUC (abbr of Royal Ulster Constabulary) n the RUC the police force in Northern Ireland.

rucksack ['rʌksæk] n a bag that is worn on the back, attached by a strap on each shoulder, and used by travelers, climbers etc.

rudder ['rʌdə] n a handle at the back of a small boat, used to steer it.

ruddy ['rʌdi] (compar ruddier, superl ruddiest) adj [face, complexion] that is red and looks healthy.

rude [ru:d] adj -1. [person, remark, behavior] that is not polite and is likely to offend somebody □ It's rude to stare at people. □ Try not to be so rude this time. -2. [joke, noise] that is not polite and relates to sex or parts of the body in a rather childish way □ Ooh! He said a rude word! -3. a rude shock a big shock. ■ a rude awakening a sudden, surprising, and unpleasant discovery or realization □ It was a rude awakening to the realities of showbiz life. -4. [hut, structure] made in a simple way with few materials (literary use) □ They had constructed a rude shelter out of driftwood.

rudely ['ru:dlɪ] adv [behave, gesture, interrupt] see rude □ As I was saying before I was so rudely interrupted...

rudeness ['ru:dnəs] n [of somebody's behavior, a person] see rude.

rudimentary [,ru:də'mentəri] adj [method, system] very simple and basic □ We have only a rudimentary knowledge of how the brain works.

rudiments ['ru:dəmənts] npl the rudiments the most simple and important elements of something □ I've picked up the rudiments of the language.

rue [ru:] vt to regret <sthg> (humorous or literary use) □ You'll rue the day you got involved with that young man!

rueful ['ru:fl] adj [expression, glance] that shows one regrets something □ She looked up with a rueful smile.

ruff [rʌf] n a frilly collar worn around the neck in Europe in the 16th and 17th centuries.

ruffian ['rʌfɪən] n a man who is aggressive and likely to be a criminal (old-fashioned use).

ruffle ['rʌfl] ◇ vt -1. [hair, water, feathers] to make the surface of <sthg> uneven □ The breeze scarcely ruffled the surface of the water. -2. [speaker, politician, opponent] to cause <sb> to lose their confidence and become nervous □ People were shouting for him to leave, but Senator Gibb was not ruffled at all. ◇ n a frill on a piece of clothing, made by gathering material together.

rug [rʌg] n -1. a small carpet that is not fixed to the floor. -2. a small blanket used to sit on outdoors or for covering one's legs.

rugby ['rʌgbɪ], rugby football n a game played between two teams with an oval-shaped ball, in which points are scored by placing the ball behind the opponents' goal line or kicking the ball between the posts of the goal □ a rugby player/match.

Rugby League n a form of rugby played with teams of 13 players.

Rugby Union n a form of rugby played with teams of 15 players.

rugged ['rʌgəd] adj -1. [coastline, cliff, landscape] that is uneven and harsh, especially because it is rocky □ They drove slowly over the rugged terrain. -2. [vehicle] that is strong and reliable, even on uneven ground □ a rugged, reliable four-wheel drive. -3. [face, features] masculine and tough, rather than soft □ his rugged good looks.

ruin ['ru:ɪn] ◇ n -1. the state of not having

- any more money left □ The business is now facing financial ruin. □ You will be the ruin of me.
- 2. a building that is in very bad condition and not complete because it is very old or has been damaged □ the ruins of ancient Greece □ The house was a ruin after years of neglect.
- ◇ vt -1. [clothing, furniture, health] to completely spoil or damage <sthg> □ Bernard completely ruined my evening by turning up drunk. □ You've ruined her chances of getting that job. □ The rain had ruined my brand new shoes.
- 2. [person] to cause <sb> to lose all their money, resources etc □ That last investment he made completely ruined him.
- ◆ in ruin(s) adv -1. [building, town] that has been badly damaged or destroyed □ The house lay in ruins after the attack.
- 2. [life, career, relationship] that is unsuccessful and seems impossible to improve □ I felt my life was in ruins after the divorce.
- ruination [ru:'neɪʃn] n the cause of somebody's personal or financial failure □ the ruination of his life.
- ruinous ['ru:ɪnəs] adj [expense, purchase] that requires a lot of money □ The cost of flying there is ruinous!
- rule [ru:l] ◇ n -1. a statement that tells people what they can or cannot do in a particular institution, sport etc □ the school rules □ You must obey the rules. □ It's against the rules to pick up two cards at once.
- to bend the rules to make an exception for somebody by letting them do what is not usually allowed □ Danny can always find a way of bending the rules.
- 2. [of behavior] a general principle that is used to help people decide how to act in a particular situation □ There are certain rules for dealing with this kind of problem.
- 3. the rule what is usual and expected □ Politeness seems to be the exception rather than the rule these days.
- 4. [of a country] the government and control of a country □ The country was formerly a colony under Portuguese rule.
- 5. [for measuring] = ruler.
- ◇ vt -1. [actions, mind, life] to have a powerful control over <sthg> □ I'm not going to let lack of money rule my life.
- 2. [country, region] to have political and military control of  □ Queen Victoria ruled England for many years.
- 3. to decide and officially declare <sthg>, especially in a court of law □ The court ruled that she had been unfairly dismissed/ruled her dismissal unfair.
- ◇ vi -1. [judge] to make an official decision or judgment on something □ The court ruled in his favor. □ The Archbishop cannot rule on the ordination of women.
- 2. to be more important than anything else (formal use) □ Love cannot always be allowed to rule.
- 3. [king, queen, government] to be in power □ He ruled wisely for many years.
- ◆ as a rule adv usually □ "Do you take people on without experience?" — "Not as a rule." □ As a rule, we usually only invite women to these parties.
- ◆ rule out vt sep -1. to rule sb/sthg out [person, suspect, theory] to reject sb/sthg as unsuitable or unlikely in a particular situation □ The police have not yet ruled out the possibility of suicide.
- 2. to rule sthg out [event, idea, arrangement] to make sthg impossible □ Tennis was ruled out on account of the weather.
- rulebook ['ru:lbo:k] n to do things by the rulebook to do things in the correct way following the normal procedure □ She always goes by the rulebook.
- ruled [ru:ld] adj [paper] that has lines across it.
- ruler ['ru:lə] n -1. a long, thin, flat piece of plastic, wood, or metal that is used to draw straight lines or measure things in inches or centimeters.
- 2. the leader of a country.
- ruling ['ru:lɪŋ] ◇ adj a ruling party a party that has political control of a country □ The Republicans were at that time the ruling party.
- ◇ n a decision given by a judge, court, or parliament □ The judge has not yet given his ruling on the case.
- rum [rʌm] n a strong alcoholic drink made from sugar cane that is either dark or clear.
- Rumania [ru'meɪnjə] etc = Romania etc.
- rumba ['rʌmbə] n a Latin American dance.
- rumble ['rʌmbəl] ◇ n -1. [of thunder, guns, one's stomach] a low continuous sound □ the distant rumble of traffic.
- 2. US a fight between two or more gangs (informal use).
- ◇ vt to discover the truth about <sb/sthg> after somebody has tried to keep it hidden (informal use) □ The police have rumbled our little game, I fear.
- ◇ vi [traffic, thunder] to make a rumble □ My stomach was rumbling.
- rumbustious [rʌm'bʌstɪəs] adj GB [child, behavior] that is noisy and energetic.
- ruminate ['ru:mɪneɪt] vi to think about something slowly and carefully (formal use).
- rummage ['rʌmɪdʒ] vi to look for something that is among a lot of other things by using one's hands □ I rummaged in my purse for some change. □ She was rummaging through her things as if she'd lost something.
- rummage sale n US a sale of second-hand goods for charity.
- rummy ['rʌmɪ] n a card game in which players try to collect cards that are in sequence or of the same type.
- rumor US, rumour GB ['ru:mə] n a story, piece of information etc that a lot of people hear because each person tells it to somebody else, but that is not definitely true □ There are rumors of a divorce in the near future. □ There's a rumor going around that you might be about to quit.
- rumored US, rumoured GB ['ru:məd] adj to be rumored to be reported □ She's rumored to be furious. □ It is rumored that he may run for election again.
- rump [rʌmp] n -1. [of an animal] the part of an animal above its back legs.
- 2. [of a person] the part of one's body that one sits on (informal use).
- 3. POLITICS a small number of people who remain in what was once a larger organization or party.
- rumple ['rʌmpl] vt [hair, clothing] to make <sthg> uneven and untidy.

rump steak

rump steak n meat that is cut from the rump of a cow.

rumpus [ˈrʌmpəs] n noisy excited behavior, especially by angry people (informal use).

rumpus room n a room in a house, used for informal family activities such as games.

run [rʌn] (pt ran, pp run, cont running) \diamond vt

-1. [race, marathon, mile] to cover  while one is running, usually as a pastime or sport \square He runs six miles every morning. \square She ran the distance between her home and the stores in a matter of minutes.

-2. [company, store, country] to manage and organize  \square Don now runs a software company in Ohio. \square Life was different when the military were running the country.

-3. [computer program, tape, experiment] to start and supervise <sthg> until it is finished \square Run the program, and we'll see what problems you're having with it. \square We're just going to run some tests on you.

-4. [vehicle, machine] to own and pay for the cost of operating  \square Do you run a car?

-5. [tap, hose] to cause water to flow from <sthg> \square Run the water first, then add the oil. \square to run a bath to fill a bath with water.

-6. [advertisement, story] to publish <sthg> in a newspaper or magazine \square They've been running a series of articles about the Swiss economy.

-7. [person] to take <sb> to a place that is nearby and easy to reach \square I'll run you home/to the airport.

-8. to run sth along/over sth to move sth along/over the surface of sth \square He ran a finger over the dusty piano.

\diamond vi -1. [person] to move on one's feet more quickly than when walking, usually by lifting the legs higher and having one or both feet off the ground \square He ran downstairs/upstairs/along the platform. \square She runs to work every morning. \blacksquare to run for it to start running quickly in order to avoid something or escape from somebody \square Quick! Run for it! The police are coming!

-2. [road, pipe, cable] to pass in a particular direction; [shiver, pain] to move quickly over a particular area \square A high fence runs around the building. \square A shiver ran down her back. \square A thought ran through my mind.

-3. [politician] to be a candidate in an election \square Do you think he'll run for president?

-4. [system, arrangement] to work or happen in a particular way \square Things are running quite smoothly.

-5. to be running [machine, engine] to be switched on, so that it is working; [factory, power station] to be working and producing something \square Try not to leave the engine running. \square We hope to have the plant running by the end of the year. \blacksquare to run on sth [on diesel, gas, electricity] to use sth as fuel or as a power supply \square This car runs on regular gas. \blacksquare to run off sth [off mains, socket, electricity] to get power from sth in order to work \square Try running those lights off the main power supply.

-6. [bus, train] to travel at particular intervals from one place to another \square "How often do trains run to the airport?" — "Every 15 minutes." \blacksquare to be running late [person, bus, train] to be likely to arrive somewhere later than planned; [performance, program, meeting] to be taking longer than planned and so be likely to finish late \square The train is running ten minutes late. \square We're running a little late, I'm afraid. -7. [liquid, tears, water] to flow somewhere, usually downward \square Tears ran down her cheeks. \blacksquare to run dry [well, river] to have no water left in it. -8. [tap] to be turned on, so water is flowing; [nose] to have a liquid coming out of it because of a cold, irritation etc \square The water's running, so your bath will be ready soon. \square Those onions are making my eyes run.

-9. [color, dye] to come out of a piece of clothing because of contact with water; [ink, mascara] to spread and make a mess because of contact with water; [butter, wax] to melt because of contact with heat \square Be careful, the dye in that shirt runs. \square My mascara had run all down my face. \square The wax began to run down the candlestick onto the table. -10. [contract, play, campaign] to continue for a particular period of time \square The play ran for nine months in total. \blacksquare to be running at to have reached and be continuing at \square The camera is running at 25 frames per second. \square Output is running at 100 units a day. \blacksquare feelings are running high people are very angry and upset.

\diamond n -1. the activity of running \square I went for a run this morning. \blacksquare to be on the run to be hiding or traveling around in order to avoid being captured by the police, usually after committing a crime \square Three terrorists are believed to be on the run somewhere in Europe. \blacksquare to make a run for it to start running quickly in order to avoid something or escape from somebody \square Quick, let's make a run for it in case somebody notices.

-2. a drive in a car \square We had an easy run down to San Francisco. \square Do you feel like going for a run in the car?

-3. [of wins, disasters] a series of events of the same type, one after the other \square George has had a run of bad luck recently.

-4. THEATER a period of time during which a play is performed regularly at a theater \square How long is the run?

-5. a run on sth [on a product, tickets] a period during which a lot of sth is bought \square There's been a run on the dollar today.

-6. US [in panty hose] a hole that has spread up or down in a stocking or panty hose.

-7. [in baseball, cricket] a point awarded to a team as the result of players running between particular points on the playing field \square How many runs did you make?

-8. [in winter sports] a track made of ice or snow, used for a competition \square a ski/bobsled run.

-9. in the short/long run when one considers the effect that something will have after a short/long period of time has passed \square It's hard work now but it will be worth it in the long run. \square In the short run it's probably worth buying, but not in the long run.

\diamond run about vi = run around.

\diamond run across vt fus to run across sb/sthg to meet or find sb/sthg when one was not expecting to \square I ran across an old friend of mine at a party.

\diamond run along vi run along (now)! a phrase used to tell children to leave a place (old-fashioned use).

\diamond run around vi -1. to move from place to place, without staying for long, especially to find or get something in a great hurry □ I've been running around all day trying to find a new coat. -2. to run around with sb to spend time with sb as a friend or companion □ He's been running around with another woman.

◆ run away vi -1. to escape from a person or place quickly, by running; to leave a person or place secretly, usually because they make one unhappy □ The thief ran away before we could catch him. □ She ran away from home at the age of 15. -2. to run away from sthg [from a fact, responsibility, the truth] to avoid sthg that one does not want to accept □ You can't keep running away from your problems.

◆ run away with vt fus to run away with sb [imagination, enthusiasm, idea] to take control of sb so that they no longer think sensibly □ He let his emotions run away with him.

◆ run down ◇ vt sep -1. to run sb down [pedestrian] to hit sb with a car so that they are injured or killed □ A 13-year-old girl was run down by a bus. -2. to run sb/sthg down [rival, government, spouse] to criticize sb/sthg unkindly, especially all the time □ Sharon's always running down her boss. -3. to run an industry/a business etc down to deliberately let an industry/a business etc decline by gradually giving it less money □ They're running the business down before selling it off. ◇ vi [battery, clock, business] to stop working properly □ My watch has stopped. The batteries must have run down.

◆ run into vt fus -1. to run into problems/difficulties etc to start having problems/difficulties etc □ It was then that the business first ran into difficulties. -2. to run into sb to meet sb when one was not expecting to meet them □ Can you believe it? I ran into Julia in the airport lounge! -3. to run into sthg [vehicle, lamppost] to hit sthg with a car □ A car ran straight into me and smashed my headlights. -4. to run into hundreds/thousands etc to reach an amount of hundreds/thousands etc when calculated □ The cost ran into millions.

◆ run off ◇ vt sep to run a copy off to make a copy on a photocopying machine □ Could you just run off another few copies of this? ◇ vi to leave a person or place by running, especially after doing something wrong □ They stole her bag and ran off down the road. ■ to run off with sb [with lover] to leave a place secretly with sb in order to begin a relationship with them □ She's run off with a married man. ■ to run off with sthg to steal sthg and leave a place with it quickly □ He's run off with my videos again.

◆ run on vi [meeting, project] to continue for longer than expected □ I'm sorry I'm late, the conference just ran on for hours.

◆ run out vi -1. [time, money, food] to reach the stage where there is none left □ We'd better buy some more beer before we run out. -2. [license, contract] to be no longer valid □ The rent agreement runs out on July 16.

◆ run out of vt fus to run out of sthg [time, money, gasoline] to reach the stage where one has no more left of sthg □ As usual, we've run out of milk.

◆ run over vt sep to run a person/an animal over to hit a person/an animal with a car so that they are injured or killed □ Our cat was run over by a truck.

◆ run through vt fus -1. to run through sthg [book, movie] to be present in every part of sthg □ It's a theme which runs through all of his work. -2. to run through sthg [speech, song, act] to rehearse sthg quickly from beginning to end □ Let's just run through that last song one more time. -3. to run through sthg [article, index, list] to read sthg quickly □ She ran through the list to check if we'd left anyone off.

◆ run to vt fus -1. to reach  □ The cost may run to three million dollars. -2. to run to sthg to be large enough to pay for sthg □ My budget doesn't run to a new car.

◆ run up vt fus to run up debts/bills etc to allow debts/bills etc to accumulate before paying them □ Roddy left, having run up hundreds of dollars of debts.

◆ run up against vt fus to run up against a problem/an obstacle etc to have to deal with a problem/an obstacle etc □ This is the kind of competition you can expect to run up against.

run-around n to give sb the run-around to deliberately avoid giving sb honest and direct information (informal use).

runaway ['rʌnəweɪ] ◇ adj a runaway horse/train etc a horse/train etc that is out of control □ The country has runaway inflation. ◇ n a person who runs away from somewhere, especially a young homeless person who has left their family.

rundown ['rʌndaʊn] n -1. a summary of the main aspects of a situation or subject that need to be known □ Give me a quick rundown before the meeting. -2. the process of reducing the level of activity of a business.

◆ run-down adj -1. [area, property, estate] that is in bad condition because it has been neglected □ The Roberts family lived in a run-down part of town. -2. to feel run-down to feel tired or ill because of too much work, bad diet etc □ I've been feeling a little run-down recently.

rung [rʌŋ] ◇ past participle of ring. ◇ n -1. one of the short sections of metal or wood across the center of a ladder that one steps on when climbing it. -2. one of the levels through which an employee passes while progressing toward the top of their company or profession □ She entered the company at the lowest rung and worked her way up.

run-in n an argument (informal use).

runner ['rʌnə] n -1. a person who runs as a sport or pastime □ There were several runners on the track. -2. a gun/drugs runner a person who illegally transports guns/drugs from one country to another. -3. [on an ice skate, sled, car seat] a strip of wood or metal which something can move forward easily on. -4. BASEBALL a player who is on base or trying to reach a base.

runner bean n GB a long, narrow, green bean.

runner-up (pl runners-up) n a person whose final position in a competition is very close behind the winner, e.g. second, third, or fourth □ And the runner-up is...Mary Rhodes!

running [ˈrʌnɪŋ] ◇ adj -1. a running argument/joke etc an argument/a joke etc that continues over a period of time. -2. to happen four days running to happen every day for four days □ They've won the tournament two years running. -3. running water water that is supplied to a building through pipes; water that is moving, e.g. in a river, rather than still □ When we first moved in there was no running water.

◇ n -1. the activity or sport of running □ running shoes/shorts □ I go running twice a week. -2. [of a business, organization] the management or administration of a business, organization, event etc □ We need help with the day-to-day running of the office. -3. [of a machine] the operation of a machine. -4. to make the running to do things faster or better than other people who one is competing against □ They made all the running in the early stages of the race. ■ to be in/out of the running to have a good chance/no chance of success □ He's in the running for promotion. □ That crash has put Kornberg out of the running for this race.

running commentary n a spoken description of an event, especially in sport, that is given continuously while the event happens □ Do you have to give a running commentary on what's going on out there?

running costs npl the amount of money that is needed to run a business, machine, car etc.

running mate n US a politician who campaigns with another politician as a partner in order to win a pair of positions, e.g. president and vice-president □ The President has not yet selected his running mate for the next elections.

running repairs npl repairs to a vehicle that are necessary over a particular period of time to keep it working properly.

runny [ˈrʌni] (compar runnier, superl runniest) adj -1. [jam, sauce, mixture] that is thin enough to flow quickly, like a liquid □ The custard was thin and runny. -2. [nose, eyes] producing a watery substance, as the result of a cold or irritation □ Hay fever always gives me a runny nose.

run-of-the-mill adj [person, situation] that is ordinary and not surprising in any way □ It's just an ordinary, run-of-the-mill sort of place.

runt [rʌnt] n -1. the smallest and weakest animal in a litter. -2. a small, weak, or unimportant person (disapproving use).

run-through n a quick rehearsal of a play, concert, speech etc from beginning to end □ Can we have a quick run-through of the final act?

run-up n -1. [to an election, a competition] a period of time leading up to a particular event □ Media interest was at its height in the run-up to the general election. -2. SPORT the series of running steps taken by an athlete before jumping or throwing something.

runway [ˈrʌnweɪ] n the area of land designed for planes to land on and take off from.

rupture [ˈrʌptʃə] n -1. MEDICINE a tear in the wall of the abdomen. -2. the sudden end of a relationship between two people or groups.

rural [ˈrʊərəl] adj [life, area, landscape] that is connected with the countryside.
NOTE: Compare urban.

ruse [ru:z] n a trick in which one deceives somebody in order to get or do something □ It's just a ruse so that he can talk to you.

rush [rʌʃ] ◇ n -1. a hurry □ I'm in a real rush. □ It was a terrible rush to get to the shops in time. □ What's the rush? ■ there's no rush there is no need to hurry. -2. a rush on or for sthg [on a product, tickets] a great demand for sthg. ■ a rush to do sthg a great hurry by the public to do sthg □ There's been a rush to buy tickets for the Michael Jackson concert. -3. [in stores, on public transport] a very busy period □ the Christmas rush. -4. [of people, air] a sudden movement from one place to another □ There was a rush of cold air as she opened the train window. -5. a rush of pity/fear etc a sudden strong feeling of pity/fear etc □ She felt a rush of emotion as she saw the children again.

◇ vt -1. to try to make <sb> do something more quickly than they want or than is reasonable; to try to make <sthg> happen more quickly than is reasonable □ Don't rush me! □ You can't rush these things. ■ to rush sb into sthg [into decision] to try to push sb into sthg without giving them time to decide for themselves □ I was rushed into signing the contract. -2. [people, supplies, goods] to send <sb/sthg> somewhere as fast as possible □ She was rushed to the hospital. □ Please rush me your new brochure. -3. [demonstrators, enemy position] to attack <sb/sthg> suddenly as a group □ The police rushed the protesters.

◇ vi -1. to move or act very quickly, especially when one does not have much time □ We'll have to rush! ■ to rush into sthg [into marriage, commitment] to get involved in sthg too fast, without thinking seriously enough about it □ Don't rush into anything; let them wait. -2. to move somewhere very fast □ The blood rushed to her head. □ I rushed upstairs/out of the house.

◆ rushes npl -1. BIOLOGY tall plants with thin leaves, that grow on wet ground or next to water and are used to make baskets. -2. CINEMA the first version of a sequence of film before it is edited.

rushed [rʌʃt] adj [person] who has to do something more quickly than they would like; [job] that is done too quickly □ She hurried by, looking very rushed. □ It's a bit rushed, so it won't be my best work.

rush hour n the time of day when a city is very busy because people are traveling to or from work □ the morning rush hour.

rush job n a piece of work that is done very quickly and not very well because of a time limit □ It's a real rush job, but it's the best we could do in the time available.

Rushmore ['rʌʃmə:ʔ], Mount a mountain in South Dakota that has the faces of four US presidents (Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Theodore Roosevelt) carved into it.

rusk [rʌsk] n GB a small, hard, dry biscuit given to young babies.

Russell ['rʌsl], Bertrand (1872–1970) a British philosopher and mathematician, known for his pacifist views and popular books about philosophy.

russet ['rʌsət] adj a reddish-brown color (literary use).

Russia ['rʌʃə] a country in northeastern Europe and northern Asia. It is the largest country in the world, and was the main republic of the USSR. SIZE: 17,075,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 150,000,000 (Russians). CAPITAL: MOSCOW. LANGUAGE: Russian. CURRENCY: rouble.

Russian ['rʌʃn] n & adj: see Russia.

Russian roulette n a game of chance in which somebody spins the cylinder of a gun which is loaded with one bullet only, points it at their head, and shoots.

rust [rʌst] \diamond n a brown substance that forms on iron and steel when they are in contact with air and water \square The car door was covered in patches of rust. \diamond vi [car, lock] to develop rust and eventually decay.

Rust Belt: the Rust Belt a region of the northern USA around the Great Lakes that has economic problems because of the decline of heavy industry, especially the steel industry and automobile industry.

rustic ['rʌstɪk] adj [style, brickwork, charm] that makes one think of the countryside.

rustle ['rʌsl] \diamond n a soft sound made by leaves, clothes etc as they lightly rub against each other \square a rustle of papers. \diamond vt -1. [newspaper, skirt] to move <sth> so that it makes a soft sound. -2. [cattle, herd] to steal <animals> from an area of land. \diamond vi [paper, leaves, skirt] to make a rustle \square I heard something rustling in the bushes, probably a bird.

rustproof ['rʌstpru:f] adj [metal, bodywork] that has been treated in a special way to prevent rust.

rusty ['rʌstɪ] (compar rustier, superl rustiest) adj -1. [metal] that is covered in rust and is starting to decay \square a rusty old nail. -2. [skill] that is not as good as it used to be because it has not been practiced for a while \square My Italian is pretty rusty these days.

rut [rʌt] n a long narrow space in the ground, made by wheels \square The snow had frozen in deep ruts. \blacksquare to be in a rut to be in a situation that one cannot get oneself out of, even though one is bored or dissatisfied \square I've got myself into a real rut at work.

rutabaga [ˌru:tə'beɪgə] n US a large round root vegetable that is brown or purple outside and yellow inside.

Ruth [ru:θ], Babe (1895–1948) a US baseball player.

Rutherford ['rʌðə'fɜ:d], Ernest (1871–1937) a British scientist who was the first person to split the atom.

ruthless ['ru:θləs] adj -1. [person] who shows no pity for people who suffer as a result of one's determination to achieve something \square When it comes to her work, she's ruthless. -2. [questioning, investigation, approach] that is firm and includes all that is necessary, even if it is unpleasant \square They carried out the inquiry with ruthless efficiency.

ruthlessly ['ru:θləslɪ] adv [destroy, check, record] see ruthless.

ruthlessness ['ru:θləsnəs] n: see ruthless \square His ruthlessness as a leader made him feared and hated.

RV n -1. (abbr of revised version) the RV a revision of the Authorised Version of the Bible, published in 1881 and 1885. -2. US (abbr of recreational vehicle) a motor vehicle adapted for leisure use, e.g. a camper.

Rx US a symbol used to mean a prescription.

rye [raɪ] n -1. the grain that is produced by a type of cereal grass and used for flour. -2. = rye bread. -3. = rye whiskey.

rye bread n brown bread made with rye flour and caraway seeds.

rye grass n the cereal grass that produces grains of rye.

rye whiskey n whiskey made from rye.

S

s [es] (pl s's OR ss), S [es] (pl S's OR Ss) n the nineteenth letter of the English alphabet.

\blacklozenge S abbr of south.

SA -1. abbr of South Africa. -2. abbr of South Africa.

Sabbath ['sæbəθ] n the Sabbath the day of the week meant to be used for rest and worship, that is Sunday for Christians and Saturday for Jews.

sabbatical [sə'bætɪkl] \diamond n a period of time that a teacher or lecturer takes off from work to travel or do further study. \blacksquare to be/go on sabbatical to have/take time off from teaching duties in order to travel or study. \diamond adj: a sabbatical year.

saber US, sabre GB ['seɪbəʔ] n a heavy sword with a curved blade, once used by soldiers on horseback.

sable ['seɪbl] n a type of dark expensive fur.

sabotage ['sæbətɑ:ʒ] \diamond vt -1. [building, machinery] to deliberately damage <sth> so that it cannot be used, especially during a war or protest \square The rebels had sabotaged the army's tanks. -2. [plan, attempt, election] to deliberately do something in order to stop <sthg> from being successful □ You deliberately tried to sabotage my meeting with Yohamara. ◇ n the act of sabotaging a building, machinery etc □ They were accused of sabotage.

saboteur [ˌsæbɔːtɜːr] n a person who carries out sabotage.

sabre n GB = saber.

saccharin(e) [ˈsækərɪn] n a very sweet substance used as a substitute for sugar.

sachet [US sæˈʃeɪ, GB ˈsæʃeɪ] n a small packet made of paper or plastic, easily torn to release the contents □ a sachet of shampoo.

sack [sæk] ◇ n -1. [of coal, potatoes] a large, strong, oblong bag made of canvas, plastic, or paper; the amount of something contained in this bag. -2. to get OR be given the sack GB to be dismissed from one's job (informal use). ◇ vt GB to dismiss <sb> from their job (informal use).

sackful [ˈsækfl] n an amount that is enough to fill a sack □ sackfuls of mail.

sacking [ˈsækɪŋ] n a type of rough cloth used for making sacks.

sacrament [ˈsækrəmənt] n one of the main Christian religious ceremonies, e.g. marriage or baptism.

sacred [ˈseɪkrəd] adj -1. RELIGION [temple, place] that must be treated with great respect because it is important in a particular religion. -2. [right, privilege, privacy] that must not be attacked or criticized in any way □ Nothing is sacred to today's press.

sacrifice [ˈsækrəfaɪs] ◇ n -1. RELIGION the offering of something, especially an animal that has been killed, to a god, as part of a ceremony □ The goat was offered as a sacrifice. -2. the act of choosing not to have or do something that one wants, in order to achieve something else, especially somebody else's happiness □ It'll require a certain amount of sacrifice on your part. □ It's only a small sacrifice. ◇ vt -1. RELIGION to kill  as a gift to a god □ They sacrificed a lamb to the gods. -2. [time, freedom, quality] to choose not to have <sthg> in order to obtain or achieve something else □ Don't sacrifice your free time for their work.

sacrilege [ˈsækrələɪdʒ] n -1. RELIGION an act or statement that does not show respect for something holy or sacred □ an act of sacrilege. -2. an act or statement that is opposed to a widely accepted tradition, convention, or belief in a shocking way □ You can't not like the Beatles! That's sacrilege!

sacrilegious [ˈsækrəˈlɪdʒəs] adj [behavior] that shows a shocking lack of respect for something.

sacrosanct [ˈsækrəʊsæŋkt] adj [right, principle, custom] that cannot be attacked or changed in any way because it is considered to be very important.

sad [sæd] (compar sadder, superl saddest) adj -1. [person, face] that shows unhappiness □ She felt desperately sad as she watched them leave. □ You look very sad today. -2. [story, news, event] that makes one feel unhappy □ I was so sorry to hear your sad news. -3. [lack, failure, decline] that is regretted □ It is a sad fact that none of you have ever shown any interest in your relatives.

SAD [sæd] (abbr of seasonal affective disorder) n a state of depression that is caused by a lack of sunlight.

sadden [ˈsædn] vt to make <sb> feel sad (formal use) □ I was saddened to learn of his death.

saddle [ˈsædl] ◇ n -1. a leather seat put on a horse's back for a rider to sit on. -2. a seat on a bicycle or motorbike. ◇ vt -1. to saddle a horse to put a saddle on a horse before riding it. -2. to saddle sb with sthg to give sb sthg unpleasant to do □ I was saddled with the task of explaining why we were all late.

◆ saddle up ◇ vt fus to saddle up a horse to saddle a horse. ◇ vi [rider] It was time to saddle up.

saddlebag [ˈsædlbæg] n a bag attached to the saddle of a horse, bicycle, or motorbike.

saddler [ˈsædlər] n a person who makes leather goods, especially horses' saddles.

Sade [sɑːd]: the Marquis de Sade (1740–1814) a French writer whose books describe many sexual practices, including sadism, which was named after him.

sadism [ˈseɪdɪzəm] n the act of getting pleasure from causing pain to other people.

sadist [ˈseɪdɪst] n a person who gets pleasure from causing pain to other people.

NOTE: Compare masochist.

sadistic [səˈdɪstɪk] adj [attitude, person, pleasure] see sadism.

sadly [ˈsædli] adv -1. [smile, sigh, say] in a way that shows sadness □ "We've been told to leave," said Charlie sadly. -2. a word used to show that one finds a particular situation disappointing □ Sadly, our city centers are not as safe as they used to be. □ Public support for the plan is sadly lacking.

sadness [ˈsædnəs] n -1. a feeling of unhappiness. -2. a sad quality in a situation or story.

sadomasochistic [ˌseɪdɒməsəˈkɪstɪk] adj [person] who gets pleasure from hurting other people and from being hurt.

s.a.e., sae n abbr of stamped addressed envelope.

safari [səˈfaɪri] n a trip, especially in Africa, to hunt or watch wild animals □ They've gone on safari. □ a safari trip.

safari park n a park where large wild animals can be seen by tourists in cars.

safe [seɪf] ◇ adj -1. [trip, product, equipment] that does not put people in danger □ Is it safe to come out? □ Have a safe trip! □ Plastic bags are not safe for babies to play with. -2. to be safe not to be in danger of being harmed, lost, or stolen □ I don't feel safe here any more. □ The town is now safe from attack. □ You'll be safe here. □ The new owners have assured staff that their jobs are safe. □ Keep this card safe. ■ safe and sound [arrive, return] without having been harmed or damaged in any way □ We got there safe and sound in the end. -3. a safe place a place where something is not likely to be lost or stolen □ I always keep my wallet in a safe place. -4. [method, investment] that does not involve taking risks ■ a safe driver a driver who does not take risks. ■ to be in safe hands to be in a position where one can trust somebody to take care of one or to manage one's affairs. ■ just to be on the safe side in order to avoid taking risks □ I took an umbrella, just to be on the safe side. -4. [topic, question] not likely to produce any disagreement □ I tried to stick to safe subjects of conversation. ■ it is safe to say (that)... most people would agree that... -5. phrase your secret is safe with me I will not tell anybody your secret.

◇ n a metal container with thick sides and a lock that is used for keeping money, jewels, documents etc in to stop them from being stolen.

safebreaker ['seɪfbreɪkə] n a thief who breaks open safes to steal what is inside.

safe conduct n protection given to somebody who is traveling through a dangerous area, e.g. during a war; an official document ordering this protection.

safe-deposit box n a box in a bank that jewelry and important documents can be kept safe in.

safeguard ['seɪfɡɑːd] ◇ n something that is intended to protect somebody against something unpleasant that may happen in the future □ Travel insurance acts as a safeguard against unexpected medical costs while abroad. ◇ vt to protect <sb/sthg> against something unpleasant that may happen in the future □ We must safeguard our country's heritage against the threat of mass tourism.

safe haven n an area affected by war where an authority such as the UN has declared that no fighting is allowed and where people go in order to be safe.

safe house n a house used by criminals, spies etc for hiding in.

safekeeping [ˌseɪf'ki:pɪŋ] n to give sb sthg for safekeeping to give sb sthg in order for them to keep it safe □ Leave your passport with the hotel manager for safekeeping. □ I put it there for safekeeping.

safely ['seɪflɪ] adv -1. [travel, drive] without being or putting oneself in any danger □ Drive safely! -2. [store, hide] away from the danger of being harmed, lost, or stolen □ The documents are safely locked away. -3. [arrive, land, deliver] without having been harmed or damaged in any way □ We got home safely. -4. I can safely say that... it is true to say that... □ I can safely say that I have never been so surprised in my life!

safe seat n GB POLITICS a seat that is certain to be won again in an election by the party that already has it.

safe sex n sex that involves using condoms and avoiding activities that might pass on the AIDS virus.

safety ['seɪftɪ] ◇ n -1. [of a person, home, vehicle] the condition of being safe □ We are con- cerned about Sally's safety. □ The safety of our passengers is our top priority. -2. a place where one is safe □ The refugees finally reached safety. □ They were taken to a place of safety. ◇ comp that is intended to make something less dangerous or harmful □ safety checks/measures □ a safety device/mechanism.

safety belt n a strap that passengers wear around their body in a car, plane etc that helps to keep them in their seats if there is an accident.

safety catch n a small lock that stops a gun being fired accidentally.

safety curtain n a curtain at the front of the stage in a theater that is lowered when a performance is not taking place and is made of a material that prevents fire from spreading.

safety-deposit box n = safe-deposit box.

safety island n US a raised area in the middle of a road where people crossing the road wait for the traffic to pass.

safety match n a match that will not catch fire by accident.

safety net n -1. a net placed below circus performers who perform high in the air in order to catch them if they fall. -2. something that can be used if a situation becomes too difficult □ That money is my safety net if I run out of work.

safety pin n a wire pin used for fastening together clothes or material. The pointed end bends inside a cover to stop it from being dangerous.

safety valve n -1. TECHNOLOGY a small opening in a machine that gas, steam, or liquid can escape through if the pressure becomes too great. -2. a way in which one can release strong negative feelings before they become harmful, e.g. through exercise.

saffron ['sæfrən] n -1. an orange-brown spice that comes from a flower and is used to flavor and color food □ saffron rice. -2. a bright orange-yellow color □ saffron robes.

sag [sæg] (pt & pp sagged, cont sagging) vi -1. [chair, bed, mattress] to change shape by sinking downward, usually in the middle. -2. [interest, demand] to become less.

saga ['sɑːgə] n -1. LITERATURE a long story written in Iceland or Norway during the Middle Ages; a long story about a particular group of people that takes place over a long period of time. -2. a long and boring description of something that has happened to somebody.

sage [seɪdʒ] ◇ adj [person, advice] wise (literary use). ◇ n -1. COOKING an herb with rough gray-green leaves and a strong smell, used to flavor food. -2. a very wise man (literary use).

saggy ['sæɡɪ] (compar saggier, superl saggiest) adj [sofa, mattress] that has sunk down in the middle.

Sagittarius [ˌsædʒə'teəriəs] n a sign of the zodiac, often represented by an archer; a person born under this sign between November 22 and December 22.

Sahara [US sə'hæərə, GB -'hɑ:rə]: the Sahara (Desert) a desert in North Africa reaching from the Atlantic Ocean to the Red Sea. It is the largest desert in the world.

said [sed] past tense & past participle of say.

sail [seil] ◇ n -1. a piece of strong cloth that is fixed to the mast of a boat and catches the wind so that the boat moves forward. ■ to set sail [sailor, ship] to begin a trip by sea □ They set sail for America. -2. a trip in a sailboat □ We went for a sail.

◇ vt -1. [dinghy, yacht] to move  across water. -2. [sea, lake] to travel across <an area of water> in a ship or boat.

◇ vi -1. [person] to travel by ship or boat; to begin a trip by ship or boat □ They sailed to France in a yacht. □ We sail at noon. -2. [ship, boat] to move across water; to leave port and begin a trip □ The boat sailed past the island/into the harbor. -3. SPORT to sail a boat for pleasure □ We like to sail at the weekend. -4. [object, person] to move quickly and smoothly □ The ball sailed through the air.

◆ sail through vt fus to sail through sth [exam, test, interview] to complete sth without any difficulty.

sailboard ['seilbɔ:d] n a board with a sail that is used in the sport of windsurfing.

sailboat ['seilbɔ:t] n US a boat with sails, especially a small one used for pleasure.

sailcloth ['seilkloθ] n thick strong cloth used for making sails and tents.

sailing ['seilɪŋ] n -1. SPORT the activity of sailing a boat, yacht etc for pleasure □ They go sailing every weekend. -2. a trip made by a ship, ferry etc that is carrying passengers □ There are three sailings a day.

sailing boat n GB = sailboat.

sailing dinghy n a small open boat that is often used to take people from the shore to a larger boat or ship.

sailing ship n a large ship with sails, especially one built before the steam engine was invented.

sailor ['seilə] n a person who works on a ship and helps to sail it. ■ to be a good sailor not to suffer from seasickness.

saint [seint] n -1. RELIGION a person who is officially declared, by a pope or another Christian authority, to have lived a holy life and to be especially worthy of respect. -2. a person who one thinks is very good because they are kind, patient etc and do not seem to have any bad qualities □ You must have the patience of a saint!

Saint Andrew in the Bible, one of Jesus Christ's apostles. He is the patron saint of Scotland.

Saint Christopher [-'krɪstəfə] in the Christian religion, a man who carried Christ across a river. He is the patron saint of travelers.

Saint David a Welsh bishop who founded many churches in the 6th century. He is the patron saint of Wales.

Saint Francis (of Assisi) [US -,frænsəs(ə)və'sɪsɪ], GB -,frɑ:nsəs-] (1182–1226) an Italian monk who founded the Franciscan order of monks. He is well known for his love of birds and animals.

Saint George a Roman soldier who is supposed to have killed a dragon to save a woman. He is the patron saint of England.

Saint John the Baptist in the Bible, a preacher who baptized many people, including his cousin, Jesus Christ.

saintly ['seɪntli] (compar saintlier, superl saintliest) adj [person, virtue, life] that appears to be very good, honest, and without any bad qualities.

Saint Patrick [-'pætrɪk] (385–461 AD) a British missionary who introduced Christianity to Ireland. He is the patron saint of Ireland.

Saint Patrick's Day n March 17, the feast day of Saint Patrick.

🍀 SAINT PATRICK'S DAY

Saint Patrick's Day, March 17, is celebrated all over the world by Irish people, or by people whose ancestors were Irish. There are large parades through the streets of Dublin, New York, and Sydney. It is traditional to wear a piece of shamrock, the Irish national plant, or to wear something green, since green is the color used to represent Ireland. Some bars in the USA even serve green beer on Saint Patrick's Day.

Saint Paul [-'pɔ:l] in the Bible, one of the first Christian missionaries. He was an opponent of Christianity until he was converted by a vision of Christ on the road to Damascus.

Saint Paul's: Saint Paul's (Cathedral) a large cathedral central London. Its dome can be seen from many places in London.

Saint Peter in the Bible, the leader of Christ's apostles and the first leader of the Christian church.

sake [seɪk] n -1. for the sake of sb, for sb's sake in order to benefit sb □ Be nice to him for my sake! -2. for the sake of sth in order to try to help or get sth □ I said yes for the sake of peace and quiet. □ Let's assume, for the sake of argument, that this is true. -3. to do sth for its own sake OR for the sake of it to do sth because one enjoys doing it and not because there is a particular reason for doing it □ She loves just arguing for the sake of it. ■ for God's OR for heaven's sake! a phrase used to show one's annoyance or impatience with somebody or something □ For heaven's sake, stop messing around with that!

salad ['sæləd] n a mixture of lettuce, tomatoes, and other raw vegetables that are eaten cold as part of a meal. ■ a tuna/an egg etc salad a salad that contains tuna/egg etc □ Help yourself to salad. □ Two ham salad sandwiches, please.

salad bowl n a large bowl, often wooden, in which green salad is served.

salad cream n GB a cream-colored sauce that is used on salads and is similar to mayonnaise but thinner and sweeter.

salad dressing n a mixture of oil and vinegar with mustard, honey, garlic etc, used on salad to add flavor.

salad oil n oil used to make salad dressing, e.g. olive, sunflower, or peanut oil.

salamander ['sæləmændə] n an animal that looks like a lizard and can live on land or in water.

salami [sə'lɑ:mɪ] n a large, pink, spicy sausage that is eaten cold in thin slices.

salaried ['sælərɪd] adj [person] who is paid a salary by their employer □ a salaried job.

salary ['sæləri] (pl salaries) n the money that somebody is paid once a month by the company or organization they work for □ The salary is negotiable. □ He's on a salary of over $70,000 a year.

NOTE: Compare wage.

salary scale n a range of possible salaries that an employee might earn for a particular job, from lowest to highest □ Salary scale: $65,000–70,000 according to experience.

sale [seɪl] n -1. [of a piece of property] the act of selling something □ The sale of the house went smoothly. ■ to make a sale to sell something. ■ to be on sale [product, goods] to be available to be bought, usually in a store □ 'Now on sale at all good pharmacies.' ■ to be (up) for sale [house, car] to be available to be bought, usually from a private owner □ I'm afraid the picture is not for sale. -2. [in a store] a period of time in a store during which prices are reduced □ I bought these jeans in the sale. □ There are sales on all over town. □ a sale item. ■ on sale US that can be bought at a lower price than normal. -3. an event where goods are sold to the person who offers the most money □ a car/furniture sale.

◆ sales npl -1. the amount of goods sold by a particular company, country etc □ Sales of consumer goods have fallen. □ The sales figures don't look good this month. -2. the department of a company which organizes the selling of products or services □ He's been in sales for two years now. -3. the sales a period of the year when stores reduce their prices □ I bought it in the sales □ the January sales.

Salem witch trials [,seɪləm-] npl the Salem witch trials a series of trials held in Salem, Massachusetts, USA, in 1692. Nineteen women were accused of being witches and were hanged.

saleroom n GB = salesroom.

salesclerk [US 'seɪlzkli:k, GB -kɪ:k] US, sales assistant n a person whose job is to sell goods to customers in a store.

sales conference n a meeting of people in a particular company who are involved in selling the company's product, organized in order to discuss results and future plans.

sales drive n a strong effort by a company to sell more of a product.

sales force n the employees of a company who are involved in selling its products.

salesman ['seɪlzmən] (pl salesmen [-mən]) n a man whose job is to sell goods or services for a company □ an insurance salesman.

salesperson ['seɪlzpɜ:sn] (pl salespeople [-pi:pl]) n a person whose job is to sell things.

sales pitch n the things that somebody says about a particular product in order to persuade somebody else to buy it.

sales rep, sales representative n a person whose job is to travel to visit customers and sell a company's products or services.

salesroom ['seɪlru:m] US, saleroom ['seɪlru:m] GB n a large hall where goods are displayed for sale.

sales slip n US a piece of paper given in a store to show that goods have been paid for.

sales tax n a tax added to the price of goods bought in stores.

sales team n the employees of a company who are involved in selling its products.

saleswoman ['seɪlzwʊmən] (pl saleswomen) n -1. [in a company] a woman whose job is to sell goods or services for a company. -2. [in a store] a woman whose job is to sell goods to customers in a store.

salient ['seɪlɪənt] adj [feature, point] that is most important or most noticeable (formal use).

saline [US 'seɪli:n, GB -aɪn] adj that contains salt □ a saline solution.

saliva [sə'laɪvə] n the watery liquid produced in the mouth that helps one to digest food.

salivate ['sæləveɪt] vi to produce saliva, especially in large amounts.

Salk [sɔ:k], Jonas (1914–1995) a US scientist who developed a vaccine against polio.

salloy ['sæləʊ] adj [complexion, face] that is a pale-yellow color and so looks unhealthy.

sally ['sæli] (pl & pp sallied) ◆ sally forth vi to go somewhere in a very energetic, brave, or confident way (humorous or literary use).

salmon ['sæmən] (pl salmon OR salmons) n a large silver fish with orange-pink flesh, considered a luxury as a food; the flesh of this fish eaten as food □ salmon fishing □ smoked salmon sandwiches.

salmonella [,sælmə'nelə] n a type of bacteria that can cause serious food poisoning.

salmon pink ◆ n an orange-pink color. ◇ adj: a salmon pink dress.

Salome [US 'sæləmeɪ, GB sə'loumi] in the Bible, the stepdaughter of King Herod, who asks him to kill John the Baptist and give her his head as a reward for her dancing.

salon [US sə'lɒn, GB 'sælɒn] n -1. a place where a hairdresser works □ a hairdressing salon. -2. a store where expensive clothes are sold.

saloon [sə'lun] n -1. US [for drinking] a bar. -2. GB AUTO a car for four or more passengers that has a separate trunk and a fixed roof.

saloon bar n GB a bar in a pub or hotel that is comfortably furnished.

salopettes [,sælə'pets] npl GB a warm piece of waterproof clothing worn when skiing that covers one's legs and chest and is held up by straps over one's shoulders.

salsa [US 'sɑ:lsə, GB 'sælsə] n a kind of fast Latin American music that people dance to.

salt [sɔ:lt] ◇ n -1. COOKING a white substance taken from the sea or the ground that is used to flavor and preserve food. □ Have you put salt on it? □ cooking salt. -2. CHEMISTRY any of a group of crystals formed when an acid and a base are mixed together. -3. to be the salt of the earth to be somebody one admires and thinks is kind and reliable □ They're the salt of the earth, those people. ■ to rub salt into the wound to say something to somebody who is already feeling very unhappy or upset that hurts them even more. ■ to take sthg with a pinch of salt not to believe that sthg one has heard or been told is completely true or correct □ I should take everything Margot says with a pinch of salt, if I were you. ◇ comp that has been preserved in salt □ salt cod/beef.

◇ vt -1. to put salt on <food>. -2. to spread salt on  etc to stop ice from forming.

◆ salt away vt sep to salt money away to save money for the future, often without letting other people know □ How much have you got salted away?

SALT [sɔ:lt] (abbr of Strategic Arms Limitation Talks/Treaty) n the SALT talks talks between the USA and the USSR in the 1970s and 1980s that tried to limit the number of weapons on each side.

saltbox ['sɔ:ltbɒks] n a type of American house that has two stories in the front and one in the back.

salt cellar n GB = salt shaker.

salted ['sɔ:ltəd] adj [peanuts, chips, butter] flavored with salt.

Salt Lake City the capital of Utah, USA, and the center of the Mormon religion. POPULATION: 159,936.

saltpetre US, saltpetre GB [ˌsɔ:lt'pi:tə] n a substance used in making gunpowder and matches and for preserving meat.

salt shaker [-ˌʃeɪkə] n US a small container, often placed on the table during a meal, which contains salt for people to put on their food.

saltwater ['sɔ:ltwɔ:tə] ◇ n water from the sea that contains salt. ◇ adj [fish, plant] that lives in saltwater.

salty ['sɔ:ltɪ] (compar saltier, superl saltiest) adj [food, water] that tastes of salt or contains a lot of salt.

salubrious [səˈlu:briəs] adj [area, accommodations] that seems healthy and pleasant (formal use).

salutary [US 'sæljətəri, GB -jʊtəri] adj [warning, lesson] that is unpleasant, but teaches one something important.

salute [səˈlu:t] ◇ n -1. [by a soldier] the act of raising one's hand quickly in a particular way as a sign of respect to a superior officer □ He gave a salute. -2. [with a gun] the act of firing several guns to celebrate something □ a 21-gun salute. -3. [with one's head, hand] the act of greeting somebody □ She raised her hand in salute. -4. a salute to sb a public display of admiration and affection for sb whose life and work has been remarkable □ The ceremony was a salute to the dedication of the soldiers.

◇ vt -1. [officer, flag] to show respect for <sb/sthg> by giving a salute □ You must always salute a superior officer. -2. [hero, courage, achievement] to honor <sb/sthg> by saying or showing in public that one admires them □ The press today salutes a new world champion. ◇ vi [soldier] to give a salute.

Salvadorean, Salvadorian [ˌsælvəˈdɔ:riən] n & adj: see El Salvador.

salvage ['sælvɪdʒ] ◇ n [from a shipwreck, fire, earthquake] things that are saved during or after a disaster □ a salvage operation. ◇ vt -1. [object, valuables] to save <sthg> in a reasonable condition during or after a disaster such as a fire, flood, or shipwreck □ We were able to salvage some furniture from the wreckage. -2. [pride, reputation] to get or save <sthg good> from an unpleasant or difficult situation □ The party at least managed to salvage some respectability from the election defeat.

salvage vessel n a ship that is used to rescue things from a shipwreck.

salvation [sæl'veɪʃn] n -1. a person or thing that saves somebody or something else from danger or failure □ The new factory could be the salvation of the area. -2. RELIGION in the Christian religion, the state of being saved by Christ from punishment for one's sins.

Salvation Army n the Salvation Army a Christian group whose members wear uniforms, play music in city streets, and help poor and homeless people.

salve [US sæv, GB sælv] vt to do sthg to salve one's conscience to do sthg to make oneself feel less guilty.

salver ['sælvə] n a large flat plate, often made of silver and used for serving food on □ a silver salver.

salvo ['sælvou] (pl salvos OR salvoes) n the act of firing several guns at the same time.

Samaritan [sə'mærətɪn] n a good Samaritan a person who helps other people who are in difficulty.

◆ Samaritans npl the Samaritans a British voluntary organization that provides a telephone service and counseling for people who are depressed.

samba ['sæmbə] n a fast dance from Brazil danced by two people.

same [seɪm] ◇ adj -1. [date, address, opinion] that is not different or changed □ He made the same excuse as last time. □ Do you still have the same phone number? -2. [clothes, colors, attitudes] that are exactly like each other □ They both had on the same jacket. □ Her handwriting is almost the same as mine. □ I feel the same way about it as you do. ■ at the same time used to show that two events are happening together; used to add a different and less critical opinion to what one has just said □ She managed to build a career while at the same time bringing up a large family. □ He's very arrogant but at the same time you can't help liking him. ■ one and the same exactly the same although appearing to be different □ Ruth Rendell and Barbara Vine are one and the same person.

◇ pron the same used to say that two things are alike; used to say that a situation has not changed □ I'd do the same again if I had the chance. □ "Is he any better?" — "No, he's still the same." □ She earns the same as I do. □ Our results are the same but our methods are different. ■ all OR just the same in spite of this □ I'm pleased they're coming. All the same, I wish they'd chosen a better time to arrive. ■ it's all the same to me used when one is ready to accept any of the things that are being offered □ We can go out or stay in, it's all the same to me. ■ it's not the same things are not as good as before □ We still meet occasionally, but it's just not the same as before. ■ (and the) same to you! a phrase used to return a greeting, wish, or insult □ "Good luck, Belinda." — "Thanks, and the same to you, Marvin."

◇ adv the same [dress, treat] in an identical way □ He behaved exactly the same as before.

same-day adj a same-day service a service that does something for customers quickly, so that it is ready on the same day as it is started.

sameness ['seɪməns] n a lack of variety (disapproving use) □ It's the sameness of the job that I can't stand.

Samoa [sə'moʊə] a group of islands in the southern Pacific Ocean. The eastern islands are administered by the USA, while the western islands form the Independent State of Western Samoa.

samosa [sə'moʊsə] n an Indian food that consists of spicy meat or vegetables inside a triangular piece of pastry.

sample [US 'sæmpl, GB 'sɑ:mpl] ◇ n -1. [of a product] a small amount of something, usually a new product, given to customers so that they can try it □ a free sample □ a sample bottle/pack. -2. [of urine, blood, soil] a small amount of something that is taken to be examined in order to provide information □ a blood sample. -3. [of customers, a population] a group of people chosen from a larger group in order to complete a test, questionnaire etc □ We asked a sample of 50 businessmen what they thought about the new initiative.

◇ vt -1. [food, drink] to taste a small amount of <sthg>, usually to see if one likes it □ While we were there we sampled some of the local wines. -2. [pleasure, lifestyle] to experience <sthg> for a short time, usually to see if one likes it. -3. MUSIC to take  so that it can be used in another recording.

sampler [US 'sæmplr, GB 'sɑ:mplə] n a piece of cloth with letters, a picture etc sewn on, usually made to show one's skill at sewing.

Samson ['sæmsən] in the Bible, a very strong man who led the Jews against their enemies until he was betrayed by Delilah. She discovered that the secret of his strength was his long hair, and cut it off.

sanatorium [ˌsænə'tɔ:riəm] (pl sanatoriums OR sanatoria [-riə]) n = sanitarium.

sanctify ['sæŋktəfaɪ] (pt & pp sanctified) vt -1. RELIGION [name, place] to make <sthg> holy. -2. [usage, method, practice] to give official approval to <sthg>.

sanctimonious [ˌsæŋktə'moʊnjəs] adj [person] who seems to think they are morally better than other people (disapproving use).

sanction ['sæŋkʃn] ◇ n -1. official approval or permission given by an authority □ It hasn't yet been given official sanction. -2. a form of punishment which is intended to make a person obey rules or laws □ It's the toughest sanction we can apply. ◇ vt [measure, conduct] to give official approval to <sthg> □ The group's leaders have never sanctioned the use of force.

◆ sanctions npl POLITICS action taken by a government to stop trading with another country that is breaking international laws □ UN sanctions are still in force. □ The US have imposed sanctions on the breakaway republic.

sanctity ['sæŋktətɪ] n the fact of being sacred □ the sanctity of marriage.

sanctuary [US 'sæŋktʃuəri, GB -əri] (pl sanctuaries) n -1. [for animals] a large area of land where birds or animals are protected from hunting □ a bird/wildlife sanctuary. -2. [for victims, refugees] a safe place for people who are in danger □ The hostel was a sanctuary for battered wives. -3. [from danger] safety from possible danger □ The refugees sought sanctuary in Thailand. -4. the part of a church that is considered to be the most holy.

sanctum ['sæŋktəm] (pl sanctums) n sb's inner sanctum a private place where sb can be alone.

sand [sænd] ◇ n a substance consisting of very small grains of rock, usually light brown or golden, that form beaches and deserts □ She picked up a handful of sand. ◇ vt [wood, paintwork, a door] to sand <sthg> down.

◆ sands npl a flat sandy area beside the sea.

◆ sand down vt sep to sand sth down [wood, paintwork, a door] to make sth smooth by rubbing it with sandpaper.

sandal ['sændl] n a light summer shoe made mainly of straps that often leaves one's toes uncovered □ a pair of sandals.

sandalwood ['sændlwud] n a sweet-smelling wood from Australia and South Asia that is used for making boxes, carved objects etc; oil from this wood that is used in soaps and perfumes □ sandalwood soap.

sandbag ['sændbæg] n a small bag full of sand that is used to make a barrier against flood water, gunfire etc.

sandbank ['sændbæŋk] n a long area of sand near the surface of the ocean or a river.

sandblast [US 'sændblæst, GB -blɑ:st] vt [wall,

- stonework] to clean <the outside of a building> with a machine that blows a jet of water containing sand onto it.
- sandbox ['sænbɒks] n US a shallow box full of sand that is used for playing in by children.
- sandcastle [US 'sændkæsl, GB -kɑ:s] n a pile of sand made by children on the beach, often by filling a bucket with wet sand and turning it upside down.
- sand dune n a hill of sand in the desert or near the sea, made by the wind.
- sander ['sændə] n a device used for sanding wood, floors etc.
- Sandhurst ['sændhɜ:st] the British Army school for training officers, in Berkshire, England.
- sandpaper ['sændpeɪpə] \diamond n thick paper covered with sand on one side and used for rubbing surfaces to make them smooth. \diamond vt [wood, paintwork, a door] to sand <sthg> down.
- sandpit ['sændpɪt] n GB = sandbox.
- sandshoe ['sændʃu:] n GB & AUS a canvas shoe with rubber soles.
- sandstone ['sændstəʊn] n a type of soft rock that is used in building \square a sandstone block.
- sandstorm ['sændstɔ:fm] n a storm in a desert area, where sand is blown violently by the wind.
- sand trap n US GOLF one of the areas on a golf course that are filled with sand and from which it is difficult to hit the ball.
- sandwich ['sænwɪdʒ] \diamond n two pieces of bread with meat, cheese etc between them \square a ham/an egg sandwich. \diamond vt to be sandwiched between two people/objects etc to be placed between two people/objects etc with very little space on either side.
- sandwich board n two boards with an advertisement written on them that are fastened to the front and back of a person who walks around outside so that other people see the advertisement.
- sandwich course n GB a course of study at a college during which one spends time working in business or industry.
- sandy ['sændi] (compar sandier, superl sandiest) adj -1. [beach] that consists of sand and not pebbles. -2. [hair] light orange-brown in color.
- sane [seɪn] adj -1. [person] who is not mentally ill \square He was certified sane by a panel of psychiatrists. -2. [person, judgment, approach] that seems sensible and reasonable \square That sounds like a perfectly sane thing to do.
- San Francisco [ˌsænfɹən'sɪskəʊ] a city and port in California, USA, on the Pacific coast. POPULATION: 723,959.
- sang [sæŋ] past tense of sing.
- sanguine ['sæŋgwɪn] adj [person] who is cheerful, calm, and optimistic.
- sanitarium [ˌsænə'teɪrɪəm] (pl sanitariums OR sanitaría [-rɪə]) n US a building for people who need rest and care over a long period while they are recovering from illness.
- sanitary [US 'sænətəri, GB -əri] adj -1. [measures, system, equipment] that is concerned with health and hygiene. -2. [place, conditions] that is clean and free from disease.
- sanitary napkin US, sanitary towel GB n a pad of thick material worn by a woman to absorb the blood during her period.
- sanitation [ˌsænə'teɪʃn] n the system by which all the rubbish and waste produced by people, especially in cities, is properly removed.
- sanitation worker n US a person whose job is to collect rubbish from trashcans.
- sanitize, -ise ['sænətəɪz] vt [news, story] to make <sthg> more acceptable to people by removing offensive or unpleasant information \square This book offers a sanitized version of the actor's life.
- sanity ['sænəti] n -1. [of a person] the state or condition of not being mentally ill \square Conditions were so appalling that she began to fear for her sanity. -2. [of a judgment, course of action] good sense that somebody shows in their decisions or actions.
- sank [sæŋk] past tense of sink.
- Sanskrit ['sænskɪtɪ] n the ancient language of India, used in modern times in religious ceremonies and texts.
- Santa (Claus) ['sæntə(klɔ:z)] an imaginary old man with a white beard who wears red clothes and is believed by children to bring presents at Christmas.
- São Paulo [saʊm'paulu] a city in southeastern Brazil. It is Brazil's largest city. POPULATION: 9,480,427.
- sap [sæp] (pt & pp sapped, cont sapping) \diamond n -1. [of a plant] the natural juice that flows through plants and carries food to their different parts \square plant/tree sap. -2. US a stupid person who is easily fooled by other people (informal use). \diamond vt [strength, confidence] to make <sthg> weaker by gradually removing it \square Too much time in that place just saps your energy.
- sapling ['sæplɪŋ] n a young tree.
- sapphire ['sæfəɪə] n a precious bright-blue stone.
- Sappho ['sæfəʊ] (7th–6th century BC) a Greek poet, famous for her love poetry.
- Sarajevo [ˌsærə'jeɪvəʊ] the capital of Bosnia-Herzegovina, and its largest city. It was besieged by Bosnian Serb forces from 1992 to 1995. POPULATION: 448,000.
- sarcasm ['sɑ:kæzm] n the use of words to mean the opposite of what is said, often to make fun of somebody or to criticize something \square "I'm sure you're just devastated," he said, with heavy sarcasm.
- sarcastic [sɑ:'kæstɪk] adj [person, comment] that uses sarcasm \square He was very sarcastic about the hotel food.
- sarcophagus [sɑ:'fɒfəgəs] (pl sarcophagi [-gəɪ] OR sarcophaguses) n a large stone container for a dead body that was used by the ancient Egyptians and Romans.

sardine [sɑ:'di:n] n a small silver fish that is often sold in cans.

Sardinia [sɑ:'di:njə] a large Italian island in the Mediterranean, west of Italy. SIZE: 24,090 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,637,705 (Sardinians). CAPITAL: Cagliari.

sardonic [sɑ:'dɒnik] adj [person] who thinks they are too important to deal with somebody or something and shows this in a mocking way □ a sardonic look/smile.

sari ['sɑ:ri] n a piece of clothing that consists of a long piece of cloth such as silk wrapped around one's body in a particular way. It is the traditional dress of women in India.

sarong [sə'ɒŋ] n a piece of clothing that consists of a long piece of thin cloth wrapped around one's waist, worn by men and women in Malaysia.

sartorial [sɑ:'tɔ:riəl] adj [elegance, style] that is connected with the way that clothes, especially men's clothes, are made and worn (formal use).

SAS (abbr of Special Air Service) n the SAS a department of the British Army that specializes in secret or difficult operations, e.g. freeing hostages.

SASE n US abbr of self-addressed stamped envelope.

sash [sæʃ] n a broad strip of cloth that is usually brightly colored and is worn around one's waist as a type of belt, or across the chest as a sign of a high official position or honor.

sash window n a window consisting of two sections, one above the other, that slide up and down in front of each other.

Saskatchewan [US sæ'skætʃəwɑ:n, GB -wən] a province in central Canada. ABBREVIATION: SK. SIZE: 652,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 988,928 (Saskatchewanians). CAPITAL: Regina.

Sasquatch [US 'sæskwɑ:tʃ, GB -wætʃ] n = Big-foot.

sassy ['sæsi] (compar sassier, superl sassiest) adj US [person] rude and disrespectful to other people (informal use).

sat [sæt] past tense & past participle of sit.

Sat. abbr of Saturday.

SAT [sæt] n -1. (abbr of Scholastic Aptitude Test) a test taken in the third year of high school in order to enter a university in the USA. -2. (abbr of Standard Assessment Test) one of a set of British school tests taken at the ages of 7, 11, and 14.

Satan ['seɪtən] the Devil.

satanic [sə'tænik] adj -1. [ritual, cult, rite] that involves the worship of Satan. -2. [cruelty, malice] very wicked.

satchel ['sætʃəl] n a flat bag, usually made of leather or canvas, that has a strap so that it can be carried over one's shoulder or on one's back, and is used for carrying books and papers, especially by schoolchildren.

sated ['seɪtəd] adj to be sated to have had enough of something (formal use).

satellite ['sætələɪt] n -1. ASTRONOMY a natural object, e.g. a moon or planet, that moves around another larger object in space □ The Moon is Earth's only satellite. -2. SPACE & TECHNOLOGY a device, sent into space to go around the Earth, that sends back information or is used in telecommunications □ a telecommunications/weather/spy satellite □ These pictures are beamed live into your home by satellite. □ a satellite picture/broadcast/link. -3. [of a country, organization, person] a country, organization, or person that is completely under the control of another more powerful one □ a satellite country/company/town.

satellite dish n a kind of antenna fixed to the outside of a building, consisting of a large, round, curved piece of metal, that allows one to receive satellite TV.

satellite TV n television broadcasts, transmitted by a satellite, that can only be received with a special aerial.

satiated ['seɪʃɪət] vt [person, appetite, hunger] to satisfy <sb/sthg> with enough food or drink (formal use).

sat in ['sætɪn] ◇ n a fabric made from silk or man-made fibers that is very smooth and shiny on one side □ a satin sheet/dress. ◇ comp [wallpaper, paint] that has a very smooth and shiny surface □ a satin finish.

satire ['sætɪə] n a type of humor that criticizes people's stupidity, bad behavior etc by making other people laugh at them; a book, movie etc that uses this type of humor □ His humor is full of satire. □ The play is a satire on the greed of the ruling classes.

satirical [sə'tɪrɪkəl] adj [revue, sketch, magazine] that uses satire □ As a writer, he was famous for his satirical wit.

satirist ['sætərəst] n a writer or performer who uses satire.

satirize, -ise ['sætərəɪz] vt [government, fashion] to criticize <sb/sthg> in a humorous way by using satire.

satisfaction [sætəs'fækʃn] n -1. a feeling of happiness when one has what one wants, or when things happen in the way that one wants them to □ She gets a lot of satisfaction from her job. □ He had the satisfaction of knowing that he had done his best. □ We guarantee our customers' satisfaction. ■ to be to sb's satisfaction to please or satisfy sb □ I trust the new version will be to your satisfaction. -2. something that makes one feel pleased □ This job has very few satisfactions. -3. [of a need, urge, demand] see satisfy □ We guarantee the satisfaction of all legitimate claims made against us.

satisfactory [sætəs'fæktəri] adj -1. [performance, result, behavior] that is good enough for a particular situation □ Thomas has made satisfactory progress. -2. [reason, answer] that explains something in a way that convinces somebody □ That explanation is simply not satisfactory.

satisfied ['sætəsfaɪd] adj -1. [person] who is happy and pleased because they have what they want, or because things happen in the way that they want them to □ I've rewritten the letter three times and she's still not satisfied!

□ There — have your money! Are you satisfied now? □ a satisfied customer/smile. ■ to be satisfied with sthg [with a result, standard, somebody's performance] to think that sthg is good enough for a particular situation; [with somebody's answer, explanation] to find sthg convincing □ I'm very satisfied with the progress that has been made. □ The committee isn't satisfied with the report. -2. to be satisfied (that)... to be certain that... □ She was satisfied (that) no more could have been done.

satisfy ['sætɪsfaɪ] (vt & pp satisfied) vt -1. [person] to make <sb> contented by giving them or doing what they want □ If I apologize in person, will that satisfy them? -2. [police, judge, committee] to convince <sb> of something by giving them enough information □ His explanation was good enough to satisfy the jury. □ You have satisfied me that you deserve a second chance. ■ to satisfy oneself that... to make certain that... □ She satisfied herself that all the doors were locked. -3. [need, urge, demand] to do, have, or give what is needed for <sthg> □ He is the only applicant who satisfies all those criteria. □ There's nothing like lemonsade to satisfy your thirst.

satisfying ['sætɪsfajɪŋ] adj -1. [experience, result] that gives one a feeling of happiness because one feels that it is worth doing □ It is satisfying to look back on what we have achieved so far. -2. [meal, drink] that is enough to stop one feeling hungry or thirsty □ It was a nice enough meal but I didn't find it very satisfying.

satsuma [sæt'su:mə] n GB a citrus fruit like a small orange with a loose skin.

saturate ['sætʃəreɪt] vt -1. [person, clothing, ground] to make <sb/sthg> completely wet □ The rain had completely saturated the fields. -2. to saturate a market to fill a market completely □ The market has been saturated with cheap imports.

saturated ['sætʃəreɪtəd] adj to be saturated [person, clothes, ground] to be completely wet □ I got saturated standing in the rain.

saturated fat n a kind of fat that contains a lot of fatty acids and is considered bad for one's health.

saturation [sætʃə'reɪʃn] n: see saturate □ saturation bombing/TV coverage.

saturation point n to reach saturation point to reach a situation in which no more people or things can be added because there are already too many of them.

Saturday ['sætə'deɪ] n the day of the week between Friday and Sunday; see also Friday.

Saturn ['sætə'n] the planet in the solar system that is the sixth-furthest from the Sun and has bright rings around it.

sauce [sɔ:s] n COOKING a thick liquid that has a particular flavor and is served with meat, vegetables etc □ cheese/mint/tomato sauce.

saucepan ['sɔ:spæn] n a metal container with a handle and high sides that is used for cooking food on a stove.

saucer ['sɔ:sə] n a small plate specially made to fit underneath a cup.

Saudi Arabia [səʊdɪə'reɪbjə] the largest country on the Arabian peninsula, and the world's leading oil exporter. SIZE: 2,150,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 17,500,000 (Saudis, Saudi Arabians). CAPITAL: Riyadh. ADMINISTRATIVE CAPITAL: Jeddah. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: riyal.

Saudi (Arabian) n & adj: see Saudi Arabia □ the Saudi royal family.

sauna ['sɔ:nə] n a period of time spent in a room filled with hot steam; a room or building in which this takes place.

saunter ['sɔ:ntə] vi to walk in a calm and relaxed way without hurrying □ We sauntered through the park in the evening sunshine.

sausage ['sɔ:sɪdʒ] n a kind of food made of finely minced meat and flavorings that is wrapped inside a thin tube of skin for cooking or to be eaten cold in slices; a single short length of this □ a slice of garlic sausage □ a pound of sausages.

sausage roll n GB a piece of sausage covered with pastry and cooked.

sauté [US sʊ'teɪ, GB 'souteɪ] (vt & pp sautéed or sautéd) ◇ vt [meat, vegetables] to fry <food> quickly on both sides in a small amount of fat. ◇ adj [onions, potatoes] that have been sautéed.

savage ['sævɪdʒ] ◇ adj [killer, animal] that is violent, cruel, and likely to attack; [attack, criticism, outburst] that is violent and intended to do a lot of harm □ They were attacked by a savage beast. □ He wrote a savage article criticizing my work. ◇ n a person who is fierce or vicious □ They behaved like a bunch of savages. ◇ vt -1. [animal] to attack  and wound them severely □ She was savaged by a wild dog. -2. [critic, newspaper] to criticize <sb/sthg> very severely □ Fry's performance was savaged by the press.

savageness ['sævɪdʒnəs], savagery ['sævɪdʒəri] n savage behavior.

savanna(h) [sə'vænə] n a large, open, grassy plain, especially in Africa.

save [seɪv] ◇ vt -1. [person] to prevent <sb> from being harmed or killed; [object] to prevent <sthg> from being destroyed, damaged, or lost □ We saved these pictures from the fire. □ He was saved from drowning. □ He managed to save himself from financial ruin. ■ to save sb's life to prevent sb from dying or being killed □ The doctors operated just in time to save his life. -2. [time, money, energy] to prevent <sthg> from being wasted or used unnecessarily □ We saved ten minutes by taking the short cut. □ We saved $100 by buying in bulk. -3. [food, object, money] to keep <sthg> in order to have it or use it later □ I've already saved $2,000 toward the cost of a new car. □ We'll save the discussion of this report until our next meeting. -4. [work, expense] to make <sthg> unnecessary for somebody □ You can save me the trip by delivering this package for me. □ She saved me the trouble of firing her by resigning. □ A monthly pass would save you (from) having to buy a ticket every day. -5. SPORT [ball, shot] to prevent <sthg> from going into the goal □ Jordan saved what looked like a certain goal. -6. COMPUTING [document, file] to copy <sthg> onto a disk where it can be kept and used later □ I saved it onto hard disk. □ The file has been saved on C drive.

◇ vi = save up.

◇ n SPORT an act of preventing somebody from scoring a goal □ What a fantastic save!

◇ prep save (for) apart from <sb/sthg> (formal use) □ Everyone, save (for) Ellen, had left the room.

◆ save up vi to put money somewhere, especially in a bank, and gradually add more, so that one can use it later □ I'm saving up for a new car.

save as you earn n GB a method of saving in which money is automatically taken out of a person's income.

saveloy ['sævəli] n GB a type of red sausage made from smoked pork.

saver ['seivə] n -1. something that prevents the waste or unnecessary use of something else □ The new machine is a real time/energy saver. -2. FINANCE a person who saves money, especially in a bank or similar institution □ Savers are being offered an extra 1% interest.

Savile Row ['sævl'rou] a street in London, well known for its high-class tailors.

saving ['seivɪŋ] n an amount of money that one saves in a particular way □ By buying three together, you make a saving of 25 cents on each one.

◆ savings npl the money that a person has saved □ My life savings are in that bank account. □ Do you have any savings?

saving grace n a good or positive feature of a person or thing that is otherwise bad or unpleasant □ The scenery is the movie's one saving grace.

savings account n an account at a bank or similar institution in which interest is paid on the money that a person saves.

savings and loan association n an institution in the USA that pays interest on money saved in it and makes loans for the purchase of property.

savings bank n a bank that pays interest on money saved in it.

savior US, saviour GB ['seivjə] n a person who saves somebody or something from death, destruction, or harm □ He was hailed as the savior of the nation.

◆ Savior n the Savior a name for Jesus Christ.

savoir-faire [,sævwɑ:'feə] n knowledge of how to behave in social situations.

savor US, savour GB ['seivə] vt -1. [food, wine, meal] to eat or drink <sthg> slowly so that one can enjoy the taste □ She savored the wine, sipping it in slow luxurious mouthfuls. -2. [experience, moment, comfort] to enjoy <sthg> for as long as one can □ He's still savoring his triumph at the tennis tournament.

savory US, savoury GB ['seivəri] (pl US savories OR GB savouries) ◇ adj -1. not savory [area, period, aspect] not pleasant to be in or to think about □ This is one of the less savory clubs in town. ◇ n a savory dish or food. -2. [taste, food] that has the taste of meat, cheese etc rather than of something sweet.

saw [sɔ:] (US pt & pp sawed, GB pt sawed, pp sawn) ◇ past tense of see. ◇ n a tool that has a flat metal blade with sharp points along its edge and is used for cutting wood, trees etc. ◇ vt [wood, hole] to cut <sthg> with a saw □ She sawed the branch off the tree.

◆ saw up vt sep to saw sthg up to cut sthg up into pieces using a saw.

sawdust ['sɔ:dʌst] n tiny soft pieces of wood that are left when wood has been sawed.

sawed-off shotgun [ˌsɔ:d-ɔ:] n US a shotgun that has part of the barrel removed and is often used by criminals because it can be carried and hidden easily.

sawmill ['sɔ:mɪl] n a factory in which wood is sawed up into planks.

sawn [sɔ:n] GB past participle of saw.

sawn-off shotgun n GB = sawed-off shotgun.

sax [sæks] n = saxophone.

Saxon ['sæksn] HISTORY ◇ n = Anglo-Saxon. ◇ adj: Saxon culture.

saxophone ['sæksəfəʊn] n a musical instrument that has a bell-shaped bottom end that curves upward, and is often used in jazz and swing bands.

saxophonist [US 'sæksəfəʊnɪst, GB sæk'səfənɪst] n a person who plays the saxophone.

say [seɪ] (pt & pp said) ◇ vt -1. [word, prayer, line] to speak <sthg> □ Could you say that a little more slowly? □ I can't hear what she's saying. □ He said yes/no. ■ to say to oneself to think □ So I said to myself, "I'm not going to be pushed around like this." ■ to say nothing of... a phrase used to introduce something that is important, but not as important as the thing already mentioned □ It'll take up so much time, to say nothing of the expense. ■ I'll say this for him/her a phrase used to mention something good about somebody who one has been criticizing □ I'll say this for her though, she doesn't give up easily. ■ it has a lot to be said for it it has many good features □ I've nothing against jogging — it has a lot to be said for it. I just don't like it, that's all. ■ he didn't have very much to say for himself he didn't take part in the conversation (informal use). -2. to express <sthg> in spoken or written words □ I find it hard to say what I feel at this moment. □ You said (that) you were hungry. □ Your letter said or You said in your letter (that) there was trouble at home. ■ that goes without saying a phrase used to show that a statement, fact etc is obvious □ It goes without saying that all his friends will be there. -3. to give <information> in words, symbols, numbers etc □ The sign says 'Do not touch.' □ The clock/My watch says two-thirty. □ The handbook says to unscrew the top bolt first. -4. to show  etc □ The look on her face said it all. □ It says a lot about him that he didn't complain. -5. they say..., it's said... a phrase used to introduce a fact that many people say is true but that may not be □ They say he's the best soccer player in the world. □ It's said that they're paying her $20,000. □ So they say, anyway. -6. (let's) say... a phrase used to ask somebody to imagine a particular situation □ Just say you won the lottery, what would you do? □ I know it's unlikely to happen, but say it did...

◇ n -1. to have a/no say in sthg [in a decision, matter] to have some/no power to influence sthg □ Junior staff are demanding a greater say in the decision-making process. □ They have no say in the timing of the move. -2. to have one's say to give one's opinion □ You've had your say, now let someone else give their view.

◆ that is to say adv a phrase used to show that one is saying the same thing again using different words in order to make it more clear or accurate □ nine feet, that is to say, about three meters.

SAYE n abbr of save as you earn.

saying ['seɪɪŋ] n a well-known statement that usually contains good advice or a comment on life □ There's an old country saying, "Bad weather always follows good."

say-so n (informal use) -1. on sb's say-so as a result of sb saying something, even though it may not be true □ I'm not going to believe it just on your say-so. -2. sb's say-so permission or a command from sb to do something □ Don't talk to them again without my say-so, OK?

SBA (abbr of Small Business Administration) n the SBA a US government organization that gives loans and advice to small businesses.

SBS (abbr of Special Broadcasting Service) n in Australia, a national television channel that offers a wide range of programs in foreign languages and a good coverage of international news.

s/c GB abbr of self-contained.

SC ◇ n abbr of Supreme Court. ◇ abbr of South Carolina.

scab [skæb] n -1. [on somebody's skin] a hard surface that forms on a wound when blood dries. -2. INDUSTRY a person who continues to work in a place when other workers there are on strike (disapproving use).

scabby ['skæbi] (compar scabbier, superl scabbiest) adj [skin, face] that is covered in scabs.

scabies ['skeɪbi:z] n a disease of the skin that is spread very easily and causes scabs and itching.

scaffold ['skæfəʊld] n -1. a framework made of scaffolding □ a scaffold pole. -2. a platform on which criminals are hanged or beheaded.

scaffolding ['skæfəldɪŋ] n metal tubes and wooden boards that form a framework for builders to climb up in order to reach the higher parts of buildings.

scalawag ['skæləwæg] US, scallywag GB ['skælɪwæg] n a person, often a child, who behaves badly but does not cause any harm (humorous use) □ You young scalawag!

scald [skɔ:ld] ◇ n a wound on one's skin caused by very hot liquid or steam. ◇ vt [hand, arm, person] to burn <sb/sthg> with very hot liquid or steam.

scalding ['skɔ:ldɪŋ] ◇ adj [liquid, coffee] very hot. ◇ adv scalding hot very hot.

scale [skeɪl] ◇ n -1. a set of numbers between two fixed limits that is used to measure something □ a pay/salary scale □ How would you rate their service on a scale of one to ten? -2. [of a ruler, thermometer] a series of markings that show a particular system of measurements □ the Centigrade scale. -3. [of a project, task] the size or extent of something □ The sheer scale of the Pyramids is impressive even today. □ The speed and the scale of the changes have astonished most people. □ They entertain on a grand scale. -4. [of a map, model] the relationship, expressed as a ratio of two numbers, between the size of an actual thing and the size of the map, model etc that represents it □ The scale of the map is 1 to 50,000. ■ to be to scale [drawing, model] to be a copy that is smaller than the real thing, but that shows the relative size of all the parts accurately □ The drawing is not to scale. □ The building is shown to scale. -5. MUSIC a sequence of notes played or sung one after the other in order □ Marta was practicing her scales. -6. [on a fish, snake] one of the small, flat, hard plates forming part of the skin of some animals □ a fish scale. -7. US = scales.

◇ comp a scale model/diagram a model/diagram of something that is smaller than the real thing, but shows all the parts at the right size relative to each other.

◇ vt -1. [cliff, mountain] to climb up <sthg very high and steep>; [wall, fence] to climb over <sthg very steep>. -2. [salmon, trout] to remove the scales from .

◆ scales npl a piece of equipment for weighing food, an object, or oneself □ kitchen/bathroom scales.

◆ scale down vt sep to scale sthg down [investment, operation, activity] to reduce sthg to a smaller size or extent □ a scaled-down version of the original plan.

scallion ['skæliən] n US an onion with a long green stem, usually eaten raw in salad.

scallop [US 'skæləp, GB 'skɔ:l-] n a shellfish that can be eaten and that has a shell in two halves shaped like fans.

scallywag n GB = scalawag.

scalp [skælp] ◇ n -1. the skin on the top of one's head. -2. the hair and skin from the top of somebody's head, removed from a dead person by a Native American warrior in the past as a sign of victory. ◇ vt to remove the scalp from <sb>.

scalpel ['skæplɪ] n an instrument with a thin sharp blade, used by a surgeon for cutting through skin.

scalper ['skælpə] n US a person who buys tickets for concerts, the theater etc and sells them to other people at much higher prices.

scam [skæm] n a way of making money that involves tricking people (informal use) □ an insurance scam □ The whole thing's a scam.

scamp [skæmp] n a child who behaves badly but does not cause any harm (old-fashioned use).

scamper ['skæmpə] vi [child, dog] to run with short steps □ The little girl scampered up the steps and disappeared into the house.

scampi ['skæmpi] n GB large prawns that are often served in breadcrumbs or in batter.

scan [skæn] (pt & pp scanned, cont scanning) ◇ vt -1. [area, crowd, map] to look at <sthg> carefully or anxiously, usually hoping to see somebody or something in particular □ She scanned the hillside through binoculars, looking for any sign of movement. -2. [page, letter, newspaper] to read <sthg> quickly to find out the main information that it contains □ He scanned the report rapidly and wrote a couple of comments in the margin. -3. MEDICINE & TECHNOLOGY [body, organ, area] to examine <sthg> using electron, laser, or radar beams that produce an image of it on a screen □ They scanned his liver to check for signs of disease. -4. COMPUTING [text, barcode] to record the information contained in <sthg> by passing a photoelectric beam over it and sending the information to a computer system □ The checkout girl scans each item.

◇ vi -1. LITERATURE [line, poem] to fit the rhythmical pattern correctly □ The last line doesn't scan. -2. COMPUTING to record the information contained in something by passing a photoelectric beam over it.

◇ n MEDICINE & TECHNOLOGY an act of scanning something using electronic or radar equipment; the image or picture produced in this way □ a brain/body scan □ a radar scan.

scandal ['skændl] n -1. a situation in which people find out about something that shocks and angers them, usually because they do not think it is morally acceptable □ If the public finds out, there could be a scandal. □ a political scandal involving senior figures. -2. rumors or gossip about bad things that people are thought to have done □ She's been spreading scandal about her boss. -3. to be a scandal to be unacceptable to people and make them angry □ The prices they charge are an absolute scandal.

scandalize, -ise ['skændlaɪz] vt to make <sb> feel very shocked and angry □ I was scandalized by their behavior.

scandalous ['skændləs] adj -1. [behavior, affair] that scandalizes people □ The way he spoke to them was absolutely scandalous! -2. [report, article, rumor] that spreads gossip or publicizes a scandal □ I refuse to believe these scandalous rumors! -3. [waste, price, treatment] completely unacceptable □ It is scandalous that we should be kept waiting so long.

Scandinavia [,skændə'nɛɪvjə] a region of northern Europe, including Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and often Finland and Iceland.

Scandinavian [,skændə'nɛɪvjən] n & adj: see Scandinavia.

scanner ['skænə] n -1. TECHNOLOGY a device that sends and receives radar signals □ a radar scanner. -2. MEDICINE a device, especially one using ultrasonic waves, used to scan parts of the body to check for signs of disease □ a brain/body scanner. -3. COMPUTING a device that reads texts or codes by passing a photoelectric beam over them and sends the information to a computer system.

scant [skænt] adj scant attention/evidence etc very little attention/evidence etc □ Andy showed scant interest in what was being said.

scanty ['skæntɪ] (compar scantier, superl scantiest) adj -1. [amount, supply, stock] that is smaller than the amount that is desirable □ We had used up most of our scanty supply of fuel. □ The information available is scanty. -2. [dress, clothing] that does not cover much of one's body □ She was wearing a scanty little dress.

scapegoat ['skeɪpgəʊt] n somebody who is blamed for something, even though it was not their fault, or not only their fault □ They're making her a scapegoat for the whole sleazy mess.

scar [skɑː] (pt & pp scarred, cont scarring) ◇ n -1. [on somebody's skin] a mark left on one's skin after a wound has healed □ scar tissue □ He had a long thin scar above his eye. □ Do you think it'll leave a scar? -2. [in somebody's mind] something in one's character or mood that shows that one has been affected by an unpleasant experience □ She still bears the emotional/mental scars.

◇ vt -1. to be scarred [face, skin] to have one or several scars; [landscape, surface] to be damaged by cutting or marking □ She was badly scarred in the accident. □ The hill was now scarred by a huge quarry. -2. [person] to make <sb> unhappy, upset etc about something for the rest of their life □ Bad childhood experiences can scar people for life.

scarce ['skeəʃs] adj -1. [food, materials, information] that is difficult to find or get enough of □ Water is scarce in this region. -2. to make oneself scarce to go away in order to avoid trouble (informal use) □ I'd better make myself scarce before Larry gets here.

scarcely ['skeəʃli] adv hardly □ I scarcely ever go there now. □ The outlook is scarcely promising. □ She had scarcely finished eating when they arrived.

scarcity ['skeəʃətɪ] n [of materials, food, information] see scarce.

scare [skeə] ◇ n -1. an experience that makes one feel frightened □ You gave me such a scare when you jumped out at me like that! -2. a situation in which a lot of people feel that they are in danger from a particular thing □ a bomb scare □ a health scare. ◇ vt [person] to make <sb> feel frightened or worried □ It scares me when you say things like that.

◆ scare away, scare off vt sep -1. to scare sb/sthg away OR off [thief, animal] to make sb/sthg go away by scaring them. -2. to scare sb away OR off [customers, voters] to stop sb from wanting to support or do business with one.

scarecrow ['skeə'krəʊ] n a model in the shape of a man that is put in a field to keep birds away from crops.

scared ['skeəd] adj [person] who is frightened or worried about something □ He looked at me with a scared expression. □ I was scared that somebody might recognize me. □ She's scared of him/the dark. □ I'm not scared of admitting it. □

Julian was too scared to look. ■ to be scared stiff OR to be death to to be extremely scared.

scaremongering ['skeə'mʌŋgərɪŋ] n the act of deliberately spreading worrying stories in order to frighten people.

scarey ['skeəri] adj = scary.

scarf ['skɑ:f] (pl scarfs OR scarves) n a long or square piece of material that is worn around one's neck or head for warmth or decoration □ a silk scarf.

scarlet ['skɑ:lət] ◇ adj bright red □ scarlet berries. ◇ n a bright red color.

scarlet fever n a very infectious disease that gives one a high temperature and a red rash on one's face and body.

scarves [skɑ:vz] plural of scarf.

scary ['skeəri] (compar scariest, superl scariest) adj [situation, story, person] that makes one feel worried that something bad is going to happen (informal use) □ I saw a really scary movie last night. □ It was so scary when the lights went out.

scathing ['skeɪdɪŋ] adj [person, criticism, attack] that is very critical of somebody or something □ Mr Erodolov has launched a scathing attack on education standards.

scatter ['skætə] ◇ vt [clothes, paper, seeds] to throw or drop <things or pieces of something> all over an area □ She scattered the coins over the table/on the floor. ◇ vi [people, animals] to move away quickly in different directions □ The crowd scattered in all directions.

◆ scatter around, scatter about vt sep to scatter sth around OR about [books, clothes] to scatter sth randomly or untidily over a large area.

scatterbrained ['skætə'breɪnd] adj [person] who is disorganized and often forgets things.

scattered ['skætəd] adj -1. [rubbish, clothing] that is spread all over the surface of something, e.g. the ground, in an untidy way □ There were books scattered all over the floor. -2. [towns, people] that are found in several places; [showers, clouds] that affect different parts of the country at different times □ There were a few houses, scattered here and there along the way. □ warm sunshine with scattered showers.

scattering ['skætərɪŋ] n a scattering of sth [of houses, snow, dust] a small number of things or amount of something spread over a wide area □ There was a light scattering of snow on the hills.

scavenge ['skævɪndʒ] ◇ vt -1. [animal, bird] to collect <food> from rubbish, dead animals etc in order to eat it. -2. [person] to collect <things that people have thrown away> in order to use them. ◇ vi -1. [animal, bird] Some cats had been scavenging for food in the garbage cans. -2. [person] She was scavenging in the wastepaper basket for old envelopes.

scavenger ['skævɪndʒə] n -1. an animal or bird that gets its food by scavenging. -2. a person who collects useful things that other people have thrown away.

scenario [US sə'næriəʊ, GB -'nɑ:ri:] (pl scenarios) n -1. CINEMA, TV, & THEATER a description of the plot and characters in a movie or play. -2. [in the future] a possible situation or sequence of events that might happen in the future □ If we go ahead with the deal, there are two possible scenarios. ■ the worst-case scenario the worst thing that could possibly happen.

scene [si:n] n -1. [in a play, movie, book] a part of a story that deals with particular events and characters in a particular place; one of the numbered parts that each act of a play is divided into □ There's a dramatic scene where they drive over a cliff. □ Then, in scene 3, he decides to kill her. ■ behind the scenes off the stage, in a place where the audience cannot see what is happening; secretly □ a behind-the-scenes look at the making of a soap opera □ We don't know what compromises may have been reached behind the scenes. ■ to set the scene to tell somebody about a situation to make it easier for them to understand what happened or happens in it later □ Now over to our commentator at the City Hall who will set the scene. ■ to set the scene for sth [for an event, development, crisis] to be a preparation for sth that will happen later □ The riots that summer set the scene for the revolution which took place two years later. -2. [of confusion, calm] something that one sees, e.g. an event or a place, that has a particular quality □ The area near the bomb blast was a scene of devastation. □ There were angry scenes as protesters clashed with police. □ Picture the scene as the news is brought to the anxious relatives. -3. ART a painting, drawing etc of a particular kind of place □ a beautiful winter scene by Van Neulen. -4. [of a crime, incident, crash] the place where something has happened □ Police and firemen rushed to the scene. □ at the scene of the crime. ■ on the scene at the place where something has recently happened □ The emergency services were on the scene within minutes. ■ a change of scene a move to a different place or a different type of activity □ She's been very tense lately, I think a change of scene might help. -5. the music/political etc scene the activities, events, and people involved in music/politics etc in a particular place. ■ it's not my scene I don't enjoy this kind of thing (informal use) □ I don't enjoy clubs, they're not really my scene. -6. [in public] an embarrassing incident or argument that happens in public □ Calm down please, we don't want a scene in the restaurant. ■ to make a scene to shout, argue, complain etc loudly in front of other people in an embarrassing way □ Please, Emma, don't make a scene in front of the children.

scenery ['si:nəri] n -1. the way the land, water, and plants in a place look, especially when this is attractive □ Scotland's mountain scenery. -2. THEATER the painted background, furnishings etc that make a stage look like a particular type of place.

scenic ['si:nɪk] adj [view, place, surroundings] that has beautiful scenery.

scenic route n a route that goes through beautiful scenery.

scent [sent] ◇ n -1. [of a flower] an attractive smell; [of an animal] a smell that an animal produces to attract a mate, mark its territory etc □ This rose has a very delicate scent. □ The animal leaves its scent on nearby trees. -2. to be on the scent of sb/sthg to be following a trail of signs, clues etc that leads to sb/sthg □ Once again, Holmes was on the scent of another mysterious crime. ■ to throw OR put sb off the scent to give sb false signs, clues etc so that they cannot follow or catch one □ If we cross the river, that should put them off the scent. -3. [for a person] perfume.

◇ vt -1. [animal] to know that there is <food, prey, or danger> by smelling it. -2. [person] to sense <danger, victory> etc.

scented ['sentəd] adj [notepaper, handkerchief] that has perfume on it; [air, garden] that has the scent of flowers in it.

scepter US, sceptre GB ['septər] n a rod carried by a king or queen at official ceremonies as a symbol of their power.

sceptic etc GB = skeptic etc.

sceptre n GB = scepter.

schedule [US 'skedʒu:l, GB 'fedju:l] ◇ n -1. [of visits, appointments, work] a plan showing the times or dates when particular things should happen □ Senator Brown has a very tight schedule, but he will try to fit you in. □ We've drawn up a schedule for the first stage of the rebuilding work. ■ (according) to schedule at the time or at the speed planned in the schedule □ Work is proceeding to schedule. □ If everything goes according to schedule, we'll be there by tomorrow. ■ ahead of schedule earlier than planned □ We finished/arrived ahead of schedule. ■ behind schedule later than planned □ We're a little behind schedule at the moment. ■ on schedule at the time that was planned □ We arrived, right on schedule, at 19:00 hours. -2. [of prices, conditions, contents] a written list that is official □ Here is our schedule of charges.

◇ vt [meeting, conference] to plan <sthg> to happen at a particular time □ The meeting was scheduled for January 14. □ We're scheduled to leave for Tokyo right after the conference.

scheduled flight [US 'skedʒu:ld-, GB 'fedju:ld-] n a flight that an airline makes regularly according to a published timetable.

NOTE: Compare charter flight.

schematic [ski:'mætik] adj [diagram, representation] that shows in a simple way how something complicated works.

scheme [ski:m] ◇ n -1. [by a person] a plan, especially one that is dishonest or unlikely to succeed (disapproving use) □ He has some crazy scheme for raising the money. -2. GB [by a government] a set of official arrangements, plans, or activities, usually designed to help a large number of people □ a pension/welfare scheme □ a hydroelectric scheme to provide power to rural areas. -3. [of decoration] = color scheme. -4. in the scheme of things when everything is taken into consideration □ It wasn't, in the general scheme of things, a very significant event.

◇ vt to scheme to do sthg to plan secretly or dishonestly to do sthg (disapproving use) □ They were scheming to cut her out of the will.

◇ vi [person, organization] to make plans, especially secret or dishonest ones (disapproving use).

scheming ['ski:mɪŋ] adj [politician, villain] who tries to get what they want by deceiving people (disapproving use) □ What a scheming little devil!

schism ['skɪzəm] n a disagreement about beliefs in a church or other large organization that leads to it splitting into two groups (formal use).

schizophrenia [,skɪtsə'fri:njə] n a serious mental illness in which somebody cannot tell what is real and what is imaginary and does not react in the normal way to other people.

schizophrenic [,skɪtsə'frenɪk] ◇ adj [person] who is suffering from schizophrenia. ◇ n a schizophrenic person.

schlepp [ʃlep] (informal use) ◇ vt to drag or carry <sthg heavy> □ I'm not schlepping this suitcase all over town. ◇ vi [person] to walk or travel a long way, usually in a tired or unhappy way □ I wasted the whole afternoon schlepping around Toronto.

schmal(t)z [ʃmɑ:tɪts] n [in a movie, song, book] the quality of being too sentimental, usually in an insincere way (informal use) □ His new musical is pure schmal(t)z.

schmuck [ʃmʌk] n US a person who one thinks is stupid and annoying (informal use).

scholar ['skɒləʃ] n -1. [in history, literature] a person who knows a lot about an academic subject □ a Greek/Latin scholar. -2. [at a university] a person who has won a scholarship.

scholarship ['skɒləʃɪp] n -1. an amount of money given to a gifted student to help them continue their studies □ She won a scholarship to go to Egypt. -2. expert knowledge in an academic subject □ a department with a high level of scholarship.

scholastic [skə'læstɪk] adj [ability, achievement, work] that is connected with education and school subjects (formal use).

school [sku:l] n -1. [for children] a place where people, especially children, are educated; the people who work and study in this place; the time during which people are in this place □ He left school at sixteen. □ What did you do at school today? □ She went to a very good school. □ The whole school came to see the show. □ a school trip/play □ school fees □ School finishes at 3:30 pm. -2. [in a university] a department of a university where a particular group of subjects is studied □ the School of Engineering/Modern Languages ■ the School of the Air in Australia, an education service that gives lessons to pupils in remote areas, using two-way radios. -3. [for art, law medicine] an institution where a particular subject or skill is taught □ She's hoping to go to art/law/medical school. -4. US a university □ I finish school this year. -5. ZOOLOGY a large group of fish or sea animals that are swimming together □ a school of dolphins.

- school age n the age from which all children in a particular country must go to school.
- schoolbook ['sku:lbu:k] n a textbook for use in school.
- schoolboy ['sku:lboi] n a boy who goes to school.
- school bus n a bus that takes children from their homes to their school and back.
- schoolchild ['sku:l'tʃaɪld] (pl schoolchildren) n a child who goes to school.
- schooldays ['sku:ldeɪz] npl the period in somebody's life when they are at school.
- school dinner n GB = school lunch.
- school district n US an area in a state in which all the public schools are controlled by the same organization.
- schoolgirl ['sku:lɡɜ:rl] n a girl who goes to school.
- schooling ['sku:lɪŋ] n the education that one gets at a school.
- schoolkid ['sku:lki:d] n a schoolchild (informal use).
- school-leaver [-li:və] n GB a young person who has just finished or is soon going to finish their school education.
- school-leaving age [-'li:vɪŋ] n the age at which children are legally allowed to leave school.
- school lunch n US a lunch served to children at school.
- schoolmaster [US 'sku:lmæstər, GB -mə:stə] n a male schoolteacher (old-fashioned use).
- schoolmistress ['sku:lmɪstrəs] n a female schoolteacher (old-fashioned use).
- school of arts n AUS a hall in a country town where local people can study and take educational classes.
- school of thought n a set of ideas about something; the group of people who have these particular ideas □ According to one school of thought, a glass of wine every day is good for the health.
- school report n a report in which a teacher writes about a student's work, progress, behavior etc at school during the term or year that has just finished.
- schoolroom ['sku:lru:m] n a room in which children are taught (old-fashioned use).
- school supplies npl US a collective term for the paper, pens, pencils etc that schoolchildren use at school.
- schoolteacher ['sku:l'ti:tʃə] n a person whose job is to teach children in a school.
- school uniform n a set of clothes of a particular color, design etc that all children at a particular school must wear.
- schoolwork ['sku:lwɜ:k] n the work that a child does at school or as homework.
- school year n the period when schools are open and students go to classes.
- schooner ['sku:nə] n -1. SHIPPING a sailing ship that usually has two masts and on which most of the sails face sideways. -2. GB a glass used for drinking sherry. -3. US & AUS a glass used for drinking beer that holds approximately one pint.
- Schubert ['ʃu:bə't], Franz (1797–1828) an Austrian composer known for his songs and symphonies, especially the Unfinished Symphony.
- Schweitzer ['ʃwaɪtsə], Albert (1875–1965) a German doctor who worked as a missionary in Africa.
- sciatica [saɪ'ætɪkə] n severe pain in one's lower back and the top of one's legs that is caused by pressure on a nerve.
- science ['saɪəns] n -1. the study and knowledge of the things in the world and of how they work and behave □ the wonders of science □ a science teacher/class/degree. -2. a particular branch of science, e.g. chemistry or physics □ The sciences were not my strong subjects at school.
- science fiction n a collective term for stories, e.g. in books, comics, or movies, about imaginary events connected with life and technology in the future, travel in outer space etc □ a science fiction writer/novel.
- science park n an area with buildings designed for companies that do scientific research to develop new products.
- scientific [ˌsaɪən'tɪfɪk] adj [method, experiment] that is connected with science and usually involves using careful observation and experiments □ These claims are not supported by scientific proof. □ After years of scientific research, it seems a solution may be near.
- scientist ['saɪəntɪst] n a person who carries out scientific work or study.
- sci-fi ['saɪfaɪ] n abbr of science fiction.
- Scillies ['sɪlɪz] = Scilly Isles.
- Scilly Isles ['sɪlɪ-]: the Scilly Isles a group of British islands off the southwestern coast of England. SIZE: 16 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,628 (Scillonians). CAPITAL: Hugh Town.
- scintillating ['sɪntəleɪtɪŋ] adj [person, conversation, script] that is very intelligent, interesting, and impressive □ It was a scintillating debate to watch.
- scissors ['sɪzəz] npl a tool designed to cut paper, string etc that consists of two movable blades that are joined in the middle and have two holes for one's thumb and finger at one end □ a pair of scissors.
- sclerosis [sklə'rɒsəs] n a disease in which one's body tissue becomes hard.
- scoff [skɒf] vi to talk about something in a way that shows one does not take it seriously □ They scoffed at the idea when I first proposed it.
- scold [skould] vt to speak angrily to <sb> to tell them they have done something wrong □ We were scolded for missing school.
- scone [skoun] n a small soft cake, sometimes containing dried fruit, that is usually eaten with butter and jam.
- scoop [sku:p] ◇ n -1. a tool like a small shovel for lifting flour, sugar etc; a deep round spoon that is used to serve food such as ice cream; the amount of something that can be held in this □ Two scoops of vanilla, please. -2. an important story that one newspaper or magazine publishes before everybody else □ The Pinochet story was a real scoop. ◇ vt -1. [water, sand, earth] to pick up <sthg> by holding one's hands together to contain it □ He scooped up a handful of soil. -2. [ice cream, sugar, coffee] to pick up <sthg> using a scoop □ She scooped ice cream into the bowl.

◆ scoop out vt sep to scoop sthg out [ice cream, melon] to remove sthg from a container, shell, skin etc using one's hand, a scoop etc □ Cut the zucchinis in half and scoop out the flesh.

scoot [sku:t] vi [person] to go somewhere quickly (informal use) □ Two o'clock already! I'll have to scoot!

scooter ['sku:tə] n -1. a toy that a child rides by holding the handlebars, placing one foot on a flat board between two small wheels, and pushing against the ground with the other foot. -2. a motorcycle with small wheels that is not very powerful and has a shield in front of the rider's legs.

scope [skoup] n -1. [for development, originality] the opportunity for something good to happen □ This job doesn't offer much scope for an ambitious young man. □ It's a good paper, but I still see scope for improvement. -2. [of an investigation, report] the range of things that are dealt with by something □ Unfortunately, that area is beyond the scope of our inquiry.

scorch [skɔ:'tʃ] ◇ vt -1. [clothes, skin, food] to burn the surface of <sthg> slightly, with the result that it gets darker and is damaged □ I scorched myself on the iron. -2. [grass, fields] to make <plants> become dry and brown because it is too hot □ the land scorched by a long, hot summer. ◇ vi [clothes, food, grass] to become scorched □ Silk scorches easily.

scorched earth policy [,skɔ:'tʃt-] n the practice of destroying things in an area, e.g. crops or buildings, in order to stop enemy soldiers from using them.

scorcher ['skɔ:'tʃə] n a very hot day (informal use).

scorching ['skɔ:'tʃɪŋ] (informal use) ◇ adj [day, weather, sun] very hot. ◇ adv scorching hot very hot □ It was scorching hot outside.

score [skɔ:'] ◇ vt -1. SPORT [goal, point] to gain <sthg> in a game or competition. -2. [success, victory, total] to achieve <sthg> □ I felt we had scored a moral victory over them. -3. to score points to get an advantage over somebody, especially in an argument □ She's always trying to score points on minor issues. -4. [paper, table] to make a mark on the surface of <sthg> by using a sharp object □ Somebody had scored a line across the page. ◇ vi SPORT to gain a goal, point etc □ Evans scored in the final minute.

◇ n -1. SPORT [in a game, competition] a set of numbers that show how many points, goals etc each team or player has scored, especially at the end of the game or competition □

The half-time score was 1-0. -2. [of a player, student] the result of one person in a game, competition, or test, represented by a figure □ Jamie got the highest score in math. -3. a score twenty (old-fashioned use). -4. MUSIC [of a symphony, concerto] a written piece of music showing the notes played or sung by each instrument or person; [for a movie, musical] the music that is written to be played during a movie or musical. -5. phrase on that score in relation to the subject that has just been mentioned □ You have nothing to worry about on that score.

◆ scores npl scores of people/things a lot of people/things □ We've had scores of complaints from customers.

◆ score out vt sep to score sthg out GB [word, line] to remove sthg from a text, list etc by drawing a line through it □ She had scored out my name and written hers instead.

scoreboard ['skɔ:'bɔ:d] n a board that shows the number of goals, points etc scored by the teams or players in a game or competition.

scorecard ['skɔ:'kɔ:d] n a card on which a player or spectator can keep a note of the scores during a game or competition.

score-draw n in soccer, the result of a game in which both teams score the same number of goals.

scorer ['skɔ:'rə] n -1. a person who keeps the official record of the points each player or team scores in a game or competition. -2. a player who scores a goal, point etc.

scorn [skɔ:'n] ◇ n a feeling of hatred or disapproval that one feels for somebody or something that one believes to be worthless □ He gave them a look filled with scorn. ■ to pour scorn on sb/sthg to criticize sb/sthg severely □ Beth poured scorn on the idea that we should apologize. ◇ vt -1. [person, weakness, cowardice] to show or feel scorn for <sb/sthg>. -2. [offer, help] to reject <sthg> because one disapproves of it (formal use).

scornful ['skɔ:'nfl] adj [laugh, remark, person] that shows scorn □ She was scornful of their efforts to educate themselves.

Scorpio ['skɔ:'piou] (pl Scorpios) n a sign of the zodiac, usually represented by a scorpion; a person born under this sign between October 23 and November 21.

scorpion ['skɔ:'piɔn] n a small animal found in hot countries that has eight legs and a tail with a poisonous sting at the end.

Scot [skɔt] n a person who comes from Scotland.

scotch [skɔtʃ] vt [idea, rumor] to put an end to <sthg> in a very definite way □ Her agent scotched any hopes we had of an interview.

Scotch n whiskey made in Scotland; a glass or drink of this whiskey □ A double Scotch, please. -2. = Scotch tape.

Scotch broth n a thick soup that is made from vegetables, barley, and mutton or beef.

Scotch egg n a hard-boiled egg that is covered with meat and breadcrumbs, fried, and eaten cold.

Scotch tapeTM n US a roll of thin material that is sticky on one side, is usually transparent, and is used to fix things such as paper or card to other things.

scot-free adj to get off scot-free to get no punishment after doing something wrong (informal use).

Scotland ['skɒtlənd] a country in the United Kingdom, north of England. SIZE: 78,800 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,130,000 (Scots). CAPITAL: Edinburgh. LANGUAGE: English.

 SCOTLAND

Although Scotland has been part of the UK since 1707, it still has its own legal system, educational system, and money (a Scottish pound has the same value as a pound sterling, and can be used anywhere in the UK). Gaelic, the ancient Scottish language, is still spoken in some parts of northwest Scotland. Some Scottish people would like Scotland to be an independent country again, with its own government.

Scotland Yard n = New Scotland Yard.

Scots [skɒts] \diamond adj: see Scotland \square Scots law \square a Scots accent. \diamond n the form of English spoken in some parts of Scotland.

Scotsman ['skɒtsmən] (pl Scotsmen [-mən]) n a man who comes from Scotland.

Scotswoman ['skɒtswʊmən] (pl Scotswomen) n a woman who comes from Scotland.

Scott [skɒt], Dred (1795?-1858) a black US slave who went to court to claim the right to be a free citizen and lost his case.

Scott, Robert Falcon (1868-1912) a British explorer who led the second expedition to reach the South Pole but died on the way back. He is also called Scott of the Antarctic.

Scott, Sir Walter (1771-1832) a Scottish writer famous for his historical novels such as Ivanhoe and Rob Roy.

Scottish ['skɒtɪʃ] adj: see Scotland \square The Scottish Tourist Board.

Scottish National Party n the Scottish National Party a political party that wants independence for Scotland.

scoundrel ['skaʊndrəl] n an evil or dishonest person (old-fashioned use).

scour ['skauə] vt -1. [pot, pan, surface] to clean <sthg> by rubbing it with something that has a rough surface. -2. [countryside, country, area] to search  carefully and completely \square Police scoured the woods for evidence.

scourer ['skaʊə] n a small ball or pad of nylon or wire that is used for cleaning pots and pans.

scourge [skɜːdʒ] n -1. something that causes great suffering or hardship to many people \square the scourge of war/disease. -2. the scourge of sthg [of a group, movement, activity] the person who is most critical of sthg \square As leader, he came to be regarded as the scourge of the Left.

Scouse [skaʊs] n (informal use) -1. a person who comes from Liverpool. -2. the accent or dialect of people from Liverpool.

scout [skaʊt] n MILITARY a soldier, plane etc that is sent ahead of an army, fleet etc to find out where the enemy is.

\blacklozenge Scout n a boy who is a member of an organization that aims to develop outdoor survival skills and community spirit in young people.

\blacklozenge scout around vi to look for something that one needs in a particular area \square I'll just go and scout around for a phone booth.

scoutmaster [US 'skautmæstər, GB -mɑːstə] n an adult in charge of a group of Scouts.

scowl [skaʊl] \diamond vi to look at somebody in an angry way \square He scowled at me and told me to go away. \diamond n the expression on somebody's face when they scowl \square "Go away," he said with a scowl.

scrabble ['skræbl] vi -1. to crawl or climb with quick irregular movements of one's arms and legs \square Esther just managed to scrabble to the top of the cliff. -2. to scrabble at sthg to scratch sthg with short quick movements \square I could hear the dog scrabbling at the kitchen door. -3. [in a box, drawer] to search for something by moving one's fingers around quickly, usually among a number of things \square She was scrabbling around in the dark for her glasses.

ScrabbleTM n a game in which players place small squares marked with letters on a board in order to form words.

scraggy ['skrægi] (compar scraggier, superl scraggiest) adj [horse, neck] that is very thin and bony, and is not pleasant to look at (informal use).

scram [skræm] (pt & pp scrambled, cont scrambling) vi to go away quickly to avoid trouble (informal use).

scramble ['skræmbl] \diamond vi -1. to crawl or climb quickly using one's arms and legs a lot \square He scrambled up the wall/along the bank. -2. to scramble for sthg [people] to rush in an uncontrolled way at the same time to get or reach sthg. \diamond n the act of scrambling for something or to get somewhere \square There was a scramble for tickets/for the door.

scrambled eggs [,skræmblɪd-] npl a dish consisting of eggs, milk, and butter, beaten and then stirred over heat until they are solid.

scrambler ['skræmblə] n an electronic device that makes it impossible for the words in a radio or telephone message to be understood unless one uses another device.

scrap [skræp] (pt & pp scrapped, cont scrapping) \diamond n -1. [of paper, material] a very small piece of something; [of evidence, information, a conversation] a very small amount of something \square I made a card out of some old scraps. \blacksquare it won't make a scrap of difference it will make no difference at all. -2. [from cars, machines] waste metal for recycling \square We'll sell the car for scrap. -3. [between people] a short fight or quarrel (informal use) \square Joseph is always getting into scraps with his brother.

\diamond vt -1. [car, ship] to get rid of <sthg> so that its materials can be used again. -2. [plan, idea] to decide not to continue with <sthg>.

◆ scraps npl pieces of food that have been cooked or prepared but not eaten □ We saved some scraps for the dog.

scrapbook ['skræpbʊk] n a book with blank pages in which one sticks pictures, newspaper cuttings etc that one wants to keep.

scrap dealer n a person who buys and sells scrap metal.

scrape [skreɪp] ◇ vt -1. to scrape sth off sth [dirt, paint] to remove sth from sth by rubbing it against a sharp or rough surface □ Scrape the mud off your boots. -2. [carrot, turnip] to remove the skin from , by rubbing a sharp object against it □ He stood at the sink, scraping potatoes. -3. [car, knee, elbow] to rub <sthg> against something rough or sharp so that it is damaged or marked; [rocks, wall] to rub against the surface of <sthg>, usually in a way that causes damage or injury □ Benji fell over and scraped his knee. □ The side of the car scraped the wall.

◇ vi -1. to rub against something in a way that causes noise or damage □ That door scrapes on the floor every time you open it. □ The car scraped against the wall as I turned the corner. -2. to try to save money by living very cheaply □ I'm sick of skimping and scraping!

◇ n -1. the noise made by scraping something across a surface. -2. to get into a scrape to find oneself in a difficult or dangerous situation □ I got into a scrape with some of the local gangsters.

◆ scrape by vi to have just enough money to live.

◆ scrape through ◇ vt fus to scrape through sth [test, exam] to just succeed in passing sth. ◇ vi She hasn't done much work, but she should just about scrape through.

◆ scrape together, scrape up vt sep to scrape sth together OR up [money, support, votes] to get or find enough of sth that one needs, with difficulty □ See if you can scrape together enough eggs for an omelet.

scraper ['skreɪpə] n a tool with a sharp edge for removing something, e.g. paint, wall-paper, or vegetable skin, by scraping.

scrap heap n -1. a pile of waste material, especially metal. -2. to be on the scrap heap to have been rejected because one is no longer needed or useful □ That was yet another good idea that ended up on the scrap heap. □ After twenty years' service I've just been thrown on the scrap heap.

scrappings ['skreɪpɪŋz] npl [in a container] small amounts of something that can only be removed by scraping; [of paint, paper, peel] small pieces of something that have been removed by scraping.

scrap merchant n GB = scrap dealer.

scrap metal n pieces of metal from broken or useless objects, collected for recycling.

scrap paper n paper that has already been used but is kept for writing notes on or to make new paper.

scrappy ['skræpi] (compar scrappier, superl scrappiest) adj [performance, game, piece of writing] that is not very good or well organized □ It was a scrappy piece of work, not up to your usual standard.

scrapyard ['skræpjɑ:d] n the place where a scrap dealer collects scrap metal.

scratch [skrætʃ] ◇ n -1. [on skin, glass, wood] a slight cut on the surface of something that is made by a sharp object □ Don't worry, it's nothing serious, just a scratch. □ There's a small scratch on the right fender. -2. phrases to do sth from scratch to do sth from the beginning, without the help of any preparations made in advance □ She learned how to operate the machine from scratch in two days. □ I don't want to have to start everything again from scratch. ■ to be up to scratch to be good enough □ Half the candidates we interviewed simply weren't up to scratch.

◇ vt -1. [skin, wood, car] to make a scratch on the surface of <sthg> □ You can still see the mark where the cat scratched me. □ I scratched my wrist on the edge of the file. -2. [back, head] to move the ends of one's nails over <part of one's body>, usually because it itches □ I can't stop scratching myself. □ Duane was left scratching his head in disbelief.

◇ vi -1. [branch, bramble, nail] to rub against something with something sharp in a way that makes a noise or causes slight damage; [wool, tag] to rub against and irritate one's skin □ There was something scratching at the door. -2. [person] to rub part of one's body with fingernails; [cat, dog] to rub part of its body with its claws □ Stop scratching or you'll make it bleed.

scratchcard ['skrætʃkɑ:d] n a small piece of card, used e.g. in lotteries, with a surface that can be removed by rubbing to show information underneath.

scratchpad ['skrætʃpæd] n US a pad of paper for making rough notes.

scratch paper n US = scrap paper.

scratchy ['skrætʃi] (compar scratchier, superl scratchiest) adj -1. [record] that one cannot hear properly because there are scratches on its surface □ a scratchy old recording of Billie Holiday. -2. [material, sweater, shirt] that has a rough surface which irritates one's skin.

scrawl [skrɔ:l] ◇ n very untidy writing that is difficult to read □ I could barely make out her scrawl. ◇ vt [message, note, word] to write <sthg> very quickly and untidily in a way that is difficult to read □ He had scrawled his name on the back of an envelope.

scrawny ['skrɔ:ni] (compar scrawnier, superl scrawniest) adj [person, animal, neck] that looks very thin and weak (disapproving use).

scream [skri:m] ◇ n -1. [of fear, laughter] a loud high-pitched noise made by somebody who is very frightened, in pain etc □ I heard a loud scream from outside. □ Craig let out a scream of terror. -2. [of tires, brakes] a loud high-pitched noise. -3. to be a scream [person, event] to be very funny (informal use) □ The movie was an absolute scream. ◇ vt [person] to say <sthg> with a scream □ "Help!" he screamed. □ The crowd screamed its approval. ◇ vi -1. [person] If you come any closer, I'll scream. □ They were all screaming with fear/rage/laughter. -2. [tires, brakes] to make a loud high-pitched noise.

scree [skri:] n loose stones on the side of a mountain □ a scree slope.

screech [skri:tʃ] ◇ n -1. [of a person, bird] a harsh, loud, high-pitched cry. -2. [of tires, brakes, a car] a harsh, loud, high-pitched noise. ◇ vt [person] to say <sthg> in a screech □ "Look out!" she screeched. ◇ vi [person, bird, brakes] to make a screech □ The car screeched to a halt at the traffic lights.

screen [skri:n] ◇ n -1. [of a computer, television] a glass surface on which an image appears; [in a cinema] a large flat piece of white material that moving pictures are shown on □ a television/computer screen □ The options are shown on the screen. ■ the screen a word used to refer to movies made for cinema □ It was her first appearance on the big screen. -2. [in an office, hospital] a large panel used to divide a space such as a room, or to give privacy or protection to somebody □ The priest's face was hidden behind the screen.

◇ vt -1. [movie, program, event] to show <sthg> on a television or cinema screen □ The ceremony will be screened live in 30 countries. -2. [house, garden] to make <sthg> difficult to see by being in front of it □ The house was screened from view by a row of trees. -3. [person, face] to protect <sb/sthg>, especially by keeping them covered □ He screened his eyes from the sun with his hand. □ She was screened from the protesters by a group of bodyguards. -4. [candidate, visitor, staff] to check if <sb> is suitable for something by asking them questions or finding out information about them, often for security reasons □ The guards are all screened by the CIA. -5. MEDICINE to do tests on <people> to find out if they have a particular disease □ They screen all women over 40 for breast cancer.

◆ screen off vt sep to screen sthg off [bed, part of room] to place a screen around sthg, usually to give privacy to somebody.

screen door n a door consisting of wire that lets air into a building and keeps insects out.

screen dump n the process of sending what is shown on a computer screen to a file or printer.

screening ['skri:nɪŋ] n [of a program, candidate, patient] see screen □ I've been invited to an exclusive screening of her new movie. □ There have been calls for increased screening for cancer of the prostate.

screenplay ['skri:npleɪ] n a script for a movie.

screen print n a picture printed by forcing thick ink through a specially prepared piece of cloth.

screen saver n a computer program that makes the screen blank or forms a pattern on it when a computer is switched on but not being used.

screen test n a test in the form of a short scene that is filmed to find out if an actor is suitable to appear in a real movie.

screenwriter ['skri:nraɪtə] n a person who writes a screenplay.

screw [skru:] ◇ n a small, long, round piece of metal with a thin ridge around it that goes from top to bottom and a round flat head that has a slot across it so that it can be turned by a screwdriver in order to go through wood, plastic etc.

◇ vt -1. to screw sthg to sthg to attach sthg to sthg with a screw □ The panel was screwed to the wall. -2. to screw sthg in/on etc to insert/attach etc sthg by turning it around □ Screw the cap down tightly. -3. ▼ [person] to have sex with <sb> (vulgar use).

◇ vi -1. to screw in/on etc [plug, top, lid] to be able to be inserted/attached etc by being turned □ It's easy, it just screws off. -2. ▼ [people] to have sex (vulgar use).

◆ screw up ◇ vt sep -1. to screw sthg up [paper, letter] to squeeze sthg into an untidy ball; [one's face, eyes, mouth] to make the shape of sthg look smaller or strange by moving it in a particular way □ I screwed up the tickets and threw them away. □ She screwed her face up in disgust. -2. to screw sthg up [plan, arrangement, relationship] to ruin sthg by doing something stupid (informal use) □ I'm sorry, I really screwed up your evening, didn't I? ◇ vi (informal use) "Oh boy, did I ever screw up this time!"

screwball ['skru:bɔ:l] n a person that one thinks is crazy or strange (informal use).

screwdriver ['skru:draɪvə] n a metal tool with a handle and a small flat or cross-shaped tip that is used for turning screws.

screwtop jar [ˌskru:tɒp:] n a jar with a lid that one turns in order to take it off or put it on.

screwy ['skru:i] (compar screwier, superl screwiest) adj [idea, situation] that one thinks is crazy (informal use).

scribble ['skribl] ◇ n words that are written quickly and are difficult to read □ Her signature was just an illegible scribble. ◇ vt [name, letter, message] to write <sthg> quickly and often untidily □ She scribbled a note and pushed it under the door. ◇ vi [person] to make meaningless marks with a pen or pencil □ The kids have scribbled all over the walls.

scribe [skraɪb] n in the past, a person who wrote out copies of documents before printing was invented.

scrimp [skrɪmp] vi to scrimp and save to try and spend as little money as possible in order to save money □ They had to scrimp and save to send their daughter to college.

script [skript] n -1. [of a play, movie, broadcast] a written plan of what the people taking part in a performance, program etc have to say and do □ He's one of those actors who never sticks to the script. -2. [in a particular language] a set of letters used in a particular type of writing □ Arabic/Cyrillic/Gothic script. -3. [of somebody] handwriting in which the letters are joined together (formal use).

scripted ['skriptəd] adj [interview, speech, answer] that is given using a script.

Scriptures ['skriptʃəz] npl the Scriptures the Bible.

scriptwriter ['skriptraɪtə] n a person who writes the script for a movie or a radio or television program.

scroll [skroʊl] ◇ n a roll of paper with writing on it. ◇ vt COMPUTING [information, text] to move <sthg> up, down, or across a screen.

◆ scroll down vi COMPUTING to move the text that is displayed on a screen upward so that one is nearer to the end.

◆ scroll up vi COMPUTING to move the text that is displayed on a screen downward so that one is nearer to the beginning.

scroll bar n COMPUTING an area on a screen where one moves the cursor to scroll text.

Scrooge [skruːdʒ] a character in Charles Dickens' story A Christmas Carol. He is very selfish with money and dislikes Christmas.

scrotum ['skroʊtəm] (pl scrotums OR scrota [-ə]) n the bag of skin below the penis that contains the testicles.

scrounge [skraʊndʒ] ◇ vt (informal use) [money, food, cigarette] to try to get <sthg> by asking other people to give it to one, and not by working or paying for it oneself □ I scrounged some paperclips off the school secretary. ◇ vi: He's always scrounging off me.

scrounger ['skraʊndʒə] n a person who scrounges (informal and disapproving use).

scrub [skrʌb] (pt & pp scrubbed, cont scrubbing) ◇ vt [floor, saucepan, hands] to clean <sthg> by rubbing it hard, e.g. with a brush or a scourer □ I scrubbed the bath clean. ◇ n -1. the act of scrubbing something □ Give the floor/the saucepan/your face a good scrub. -2. low bushes that grow in poor soil; an area of land covered with these bushes.

scrub brush US, scrubbing brush ['skrʌbɪŋ] GB n a brush without a handle, used for scrubbing floors and other dirty surfaces or objects.

scruff [skrʌf] n by the scruff of the neck holding the back of the neck □ He picked me up by the scruff of the neck.

scruffy ['skrʌfi] (compar scruffier, superl scruffiest) adj [person, clothes] that looks untidy and dirty □ a scruffy old pair of jeans.

scrum(mage) ['skrʌm(ɪdʒ)] n in rugby, a situation in which a group of players from each team hold onto each other, bend down, and push against the other team in order to get the ball.

scrumptious ['skrʌmpʃəs] adj [food, meal] that tastes very good (informal use).

scrunch [skrʌntʃ] vt to scrunch sthg (up) [can, envelope] to squeeze sthg into a smaller shape, especially with one's hands (informal use).

scrunchy ['skrʌntʃi] (pl scrunchies) n a circular band of elastic material that is used for tying back one's hair in a pony tail.

scruples ['skruːplz] npl beliefs that one has that make one not want to do something wrong □ Be careful — she has no scruples about spending other people's money.

scrupulous ['skruːpjələs] adj -1. to be scrupulous [person] to be very careful to do what is right or fair □ He is absolutely scrupulous about doing his accounts on time. -2. [attention, care, honesty] that somebody tries to make complete in every detail □ Irving applied the same scrupulous fairness to all his dealings with staff.

scrupulously ['skruːpjələsli] adv scrupulously honest/fair etc as honest/fair etc as possible □ The bathroom was scrupulously clean.

scrutinize, -ise ['skruːtɪnaɪz] vt [text, report, face] to look at <sthg> very carefully □ The book will be scrutinized for details of the Prince's private life.

scrutiny ['skruːtɪni] n careful examination □ His business activities have come under scrutiny from the press.

scuba diving ['skuːbə-] n the activity of swimming underwater using special equipment for breathing.

scud [skʌd] (pt & pp scudded, cont scudding) vi [cloud, bird, person] to move somewhere quickly (literary use).

scuff [skʌf] vt to damage <shoes, heels> etc by dragging them over a rough surface; to damage <furniture, a floor> etc by scraping something against it.

scuffle ['skʌfl] ◇ n a short fight, usually involving a number of people, that is not very serious. ◇ vi to fight for a short time in a way that is not very serious □ Police scuffled with the demonstrators.

scullery ['skʌləri] (pl sculleries) n a room next to a kitchen in a large old house, where food is prepared, dishes are washed etc.

sculpt [skʌlpt] vt [figure, shape] to make <sthg> out of clay, stone etc by carving or shaping it □ a bust sculpted in wood/out of marble.

sculptor ['skʌlptə] n an artist who sculpts things.

sculpture ['skʌlptʃə] ◇ n -1. a work of art such as a statue that is sculpted □ This is one of Henry Moore's most famous sculptures. -2. the art of sculpting things □ She studied sculpture at college. ◇ vt [rock, stone, metal] to make a work of art out of <sthg> by using a sharp tool □ The pillar was sculptured in marble/out of wood.

scum [skʌm] n -1. an unpleasant or dirty substance on the surface of water □ There was a line of scum around the side of the bath. -2. people that one thinks are unpleasant or worthless, especially because of something bad they have done (informal use) □ They're the scum of the earth.

scupper ['skʌpə] vt -1. to deliberately sink <one's ship> □ He scuppered his own ship rather than be caught. -2. GB to completely ruin  etc (informal use) □ Well, that's scuppered any hopes of a settlement.

scurf [skɜːf] n small white pieces of dead skin in one's hair.

scurrilous [US 'skɜːrɪləs, GB 'skʌr-] adj [attack, article, magazine] that is insulting, untrue, and damaging to somebody's reputation □ Warner dismissed it as a scurrilous piece of gossip.

scurry [US 'skɜːrɪ, GB 'skʌrɪ] (pt & pp scurried) vi [person, mouse] to move somewhere very quickly with short steps □ She scurried off across the square.

scurvy ['skɜːvɪ] n a disease caused by lack of vitamin C.

scuttle ['skʌtl] ◇ n a metal bucket for coal that is usually kept beside a fireplace. ◇ vi [person, mouse] to move somewhere very quickly with short steps □ He scuttled off in the other direction.

scuzzy ['skʌzɪ] (compar scuzzier, superl scuzziest) adj [person, place] that is dirty and unpleasant (informal use).

scythe [saɪð] ◇ n a tool with a curved blade and a long handle that is used for cutting grass, wheat etc. ◇ vt [grass, hay] to cut <sthg> using a scythe.

SD abbr of South Dakota.

SDI (abbr of Strategic Defense Initiative) n the official name of the Star Wars satellite defense system.

SDLP (abbr of Social Democratic and Labour Party) n the SDLP a political party in Northern Ireland that has mainly Catholic supporters.

SE abbr of southeast.

sea [siː] n -1. the salt water that covers a large part of the Earth's surface □ sea travel/voyages/animals. ■ to be at sea [sailor, boat] to be on the sea, far from land □ The ship has been at sea for two weeks. ■ to be all at sea [person] to be very confused about something □ I'm all at sea with this computer jargon. ■ by sea [travel, send] on a ship □ In the past, the only way to travel long distances was by sea. ■ by the sea near the sea □ They rented a villa by the sea. ■ out to sea [float, gaze, row] away from land □ The boat drifted out to sea. -2. a sea of faces OR people a large number of people □ From the front of the stage, all I could see was a sea of faces.

◆ seas npl the seas the salt water that covers a large part of the Earth's surface □ Many seals live in the seas around Scotland.

sea air n the air at the seaside, usually considered to be healthy and refreshing □ He breathed in the sea air.

sea anemone n a brightly-colored sea creature that grows on rocks, has tentacles, and looks like a flower.

seabed ['siːbed] n the seabed the bottom of the sea.

seabird ['siːbɜːd] n any bird that lives near the sea or finds food in the sea.

seaboard ['siːbɔːd] n the part of a country that is near the sea □ the eastern seaboard.

sea breeze n a breeze that blows from the sea onto the land.

seafaring ['siːfɛərɪŋ] adj [person, life] that is connected with working at sea. ■ a seafaring nation a nation where the sea is very important, especially for trade.

seafood ['siːfud] n fish and shellfish that can be eaten as food □ a seafood salad.

seafont ['siːfrʌnt] n a wide road with houses, shops etc, that is beside a beach.

seagoing ['siːgəʊɪŋ] adj [vessel, ship, liner] that is built for sailing on the sea.

seagull ['siːgʌl] n a large white and gray bird that lives near the sea and has a loud cry.

seahorse ['siːhɔːs] n a small sea creature whose head and neck make it look similar to a horse.

seal [siːl] (pl sense 1 seal OR seals) ◇ n -1. ZOOLOGY a large animal with a long body and flippers that lives in or near the ocean in cold or temperate areas, and eats fish. -2. [on a document] a mark with a particular design, often made with wax, that is put on an important document to show it is official or legal □ the royal seal. ■ sb's seal of approval the approval of sb whose opinion is important □ Does the project have her seal of approval? ■ to put OR set the seal on sthg to finally make sthg complete or definite □ That victory set the seal on Graf's position as the world number one. -3. [of a jar, pack] something such as wax or a piece of paper that has to be broken before one can open a container □ 'Do not use if seal is broken.' -4. [of a pipe, door] a piece of material such as rubber that prevents air, liquid etc from entering or leaving a closed space □ a watertight seal.

◇ vt -1. [document, letter, package] to close <sthg> firmly, e.g. by using Scotch tape or glue □ Don't seal the envelopes, I want to add an extra sheet to each one. □ Make sure the jar is properly sealed. -2. [opening, tube, gap] to cover or fill <sthg> so that no liquid or air can get in or out □ I've sealed the cracks with putty.

◆ seal off vt sep to seal sthg off [entrance, border, area] to close sthg in order to prevent people from entering or leaving □ The police have sealed off all the routes out of the town.

sealable ['siːləbl] adj [jar, container] that can be sealed after it has been opened.

sea lane n a route used regularly by ships to cross the sea or ocean.

sealant ['siːlənt] n a substance that is used to seal a gap or crack, especially to prevent water or air from entering.

sealed [siːld] adj AUS a sealed road a road that has a tarmac surface.

sea level n the level of the surface of the sea and the point from which the height of land is measured □ We are 750 meters above sea level. □ Parts of Holland are below sea level.

sealing wax ['siːlɪŋ-] n red wax that melts easily and is used as a seal on official documents.

sea lion (pl sea lion OR sea lions) n a type of large seal.

sealskin ['siːlskɪn] n the short silver fur of seals, used for making clothing or leather goods.

seam [siːm] n -1. SEWING the line of stitches where one piece of fabric is sewn to another. ■ to be bursting at the seams [room, place] to be completely full of people or things.

-2. GEOLOGY a narrow layer of a mineral such as coal in the earth.

seaman ['si:mən] (pl seamen [-mən]) n a sailor.

seamanship ['si:mənʃɪp] n the skill of controlling a ship.

sea mist n a mist that comes from the sea onto the land.

seamless ['si:məsləs] adj -1. [stockings] that have no seams. -2. [story, logic, performance] that is made up of different parts that run smoothly from one to the other.

seamstress ['si:mstrəs] n a woman whose job is to sew and make clothes.

seamy ['si:mɪ] (compar seamier, superl seamiest) adj [place, scene] that is unpleasant and is connected with things such as crime and prostitution □ This is the seamier side of New York life.

seance ['si:əns] n a meeting in which people sit around a table and try to contact the spirits of dead friends and relatives.

seaplane ['si:pleɪn] n a plane that can take off from and land on water.

seaport ['si:pɔ:t] n a large town on a coast that has a port.

search [sɜ:tʃ] ◇ n -1. the action of looking very carefully for somebody or something □ The search for the missing girl resumed the next day. □ a search and rescue operation. -2. [of luggage, a person, house] the action of trying to find something that is hidden, by examining somebody or something □ The police made a thorough search of the premises.

◇ vt -1. [house, countryside, drawer] to look carefully in  in order to find somebody or something □ She searched her pockets for her keys. □ They are searching everywhere for the lost child. □ He searched his memory. -2. [person, prisoner, traveler] to check the pockets, bags etc of <sb> in order to find something or to check that they do not have something □ Fans were searched before they were let into the stadium.

◇ vi -1. to look for somebody or something □ I've searched and searched, but I can't find it. □ We spent weeks searching for a suitable secretary. -2. to search for sthg [for a name, answer] to try to remember or think of sthg □ I searched for a witty reply.

◆ in search of prep [work, shelter, truth] looking for <sthg> □ He set off in search of adventure.

◆ search out vt sep to search sb/sthg out [person, weakness, fact] to find sb/sthg by searching □ I'll search out all the relevant documents later.

searcher ['sɜ:tʃə] n a person who is searching, especially for a somebody who is lost.

searching ['sɜ:tʃɪŋ] adj [look, question, examination] that is intense and shows a desire to know what somebody is thinking or what they know about something □ The little girl looked at me with searching eyes.

searchlight ['sɜ:tʃlaɪt] n a powerful light that can be pointed in any direction and is used to see people or things in the dark.

search party n a group of people who are looking for somebody who is lost □ If they're not back soon, we'll send out a search party.

search warrant n a piece of paper that gives the police the right to search somebody's property, especially to look for illegal or stolen goods.

searing ['siəriŋ] adj -1. [pain, heat] that is very intense □ As she fell, a searing pain shot through her leg. -2. [criticism, condemnation] that is very severe □ Priceman delivered a searing attack on the policy in his keynote speech.

Sears Tower [ˌsiəʔz-] an office building in Chicago, USA. It is the second-tallest building in the world.

sea salt n the salt that is left when sea water is boiled. It is used in cooking.

seashell ['si:ʃel] n the empty shell of a small sea animal, often found on the seashore.

seashore ['si:ʃɔ:ɹ] n the seashore the long narrow strip of land next to the sea □ We walked along the seashore.

seasick ['si:sɪk] adj to be seasick [person] to feel sick or vomit because of the movement of a ship on the sea □ Our daughter always gets seasick when we take the ferry. □ I started feeling seasick.

seaside ['si:said] n the seaside a place by the sea, especially one where people spend their vacations □ We spent two weeks at the seaside.

seaside resort n a place by the sea where people spend their vacations.

season ['si:zn] ◇ n -1. one of the four equal parts that the year is divided into □ Summer is my favorite season. -2. [for an activity] a period of time each year in which a particular activity or event happens □ the breeding/rainy/growing/hunting season □ He'll be playing for the Miami Dolphins next season. □ The period just before Christmas is our busiest season.

-3. the holiday season GB, the tourist season the most popular time of year for going on vacation to a particular place □ at the height of the tourist season. ■ out of season at the time of year when few people go to a particular place on vacation □ We always go on vacation out of season, since prices are much more reasonable. -4. to be in season [fruit, vegetable] to be ready to eat and easy to get □ I can't get fresh asparagus just now; it's not in season. ■ out of season [fruit, vegetable] not naturally ready to eat at this time and therefore difficult to get □ Strawberries are out of season now. -5. GB [of entertainment] a series of movies, concerts, plays etc that are related in some way □ Channel Four is showing a season of Marlon Brando movies.

◇ vt to add seasoning to <food> □ Add the tomatoes to the mixture and season it well.

seasonal ['si:znəl] adj [work, demand] that is available or occurs only at a particular time of the year □ The figures take seasonal fluctuations into account.

seasoned ['si:znd] adj a seasoned traveler/campaigner etc a very experienced traveler/campaigner etc □ Mark's a seasoned climber, so you're in safe hands.

seasoning ['si:zɪnɪŋ] n salt, pepper etc that is added to food to give it more taste.

season ticket n a special ticket that one can use many times during a particular period, e.g. for traveling by public transport or getting into a theater.

season ticket holder n a person who owns a valid season ticket.

seat [si:t] ◇ n -1. an object with a flat surface that one uses to sit on □ We stood on our seats to get a better view. □ He fell asleep in the back seat of the car. □ We managed to get seats near the front. ■ to take OR have a seat [person] to sit down □ Please take OR have a seat, I'll be with you in a minute. -2. [of a chair] the flat part of a chair that one sits on □ The seat's getting rather worn. -3. the seat of one's trousers OR pants the part of one's trousers that covers one's bottom □ You've got mud on the seat of your trousers. -4. BUSINESS & POLITICS a position as a member of a legislative body or group that makes important decisions □ She finally earned a seat on the board. □ a traditionally Republican seat.

◇ vt -1. [waiter, hostess] to arrange for <sb> to sit in a particular place □ I was seated to his left. ■ to seat oneself to sit down □ He seated himself next to me. -2. [building, vehicle] to have enough seats for  □ This hall seats 500 (people).

seat belt n a belt beside a seat in a plane or car that one fastens across one's body to prevent one from being thrown out of the seat if there is a sudden movement or accident □ Always wear OR put on your seat belt.

seated ['si:təd] adj to be seated [person] to be sitting down □ When you are all seated we will begin.

-seater ['si:tə] suffix added to a number to show how many places there are for sitting down □ a two-seater car.

seating ['si:tɪŋ] n all the seats in a particular place or at a particular event □ There is seating for at least fifty. □ a seating plan/capacity.

Seattle [sɪ'ætl] a city and port on the Pacific coast of Washington State, in the northwestern USA. POPULATION: 516,259.

sea urchin n a small round sea creature with a hard shell covered in sharp points.

seawall [si:'wɔ:l] n a wall built near the edge of the sea to prevent it from flooding the land.

seawater [si:'wɔ:tə] n water from the sea.

seaweed ['si:wɪd] n a plant that grows in the sea and is often found on the shore.

seaworthy ['si:wɜ:ði] adj [ship, boat] that is in good enough condition for use on the sea.

sebaceous gland [sə,beɪʃəs-] n a gland in one's skin that produces an oily substance that prevents the skin from becoming dry and protects one against bacteria.

sec. abbr of second.

SEC (abbr of Securities and Exchange Commis- sion) n the SEC the US government organization that is responsible for controlling the sales of stocks and bonds.

secateurs [ˌsekə'tɜ:z] npl GB a strong cutting tool, similar to a pair of scissors, that is used for cutting plant stems □ a pair of secateurs.

secede [sə'si:d] vi to formally leave a larger group or country (formal use).

secession [sə'seʃn] n formal separation from a larger group or country (formal use).

secluded [sə'klu:dəd] adj [beach, garden, place] that is far from other people and so is private and quiet □ We found a secluded spot to eat our picnic.

seclusion [sə'klu:ʒn] n the state of being secluded □ She has led a life of seclusion since their death.

second¹ ['sekənd] ◇ n -1. a unit for measuring time. There are 60 seconds in a minute □ She held her breath for fifty-five seconds. -2. a very short period of time □ Wait a second! □ Can I see you for a second? -3. GB & AUS EDUCATION = a second-class degree. -4. AUTO second (gear) a low gear used for going slowly □ Are you in second or third?

◇ adj [marriage, week, child] 2nd; number 2 in a series; see also fifth. ■ second only to sb/sth only slightly less important, talented etc than sb/sth that is the best □ He's a great actor, second only to the likes of Olivier.

◇ adv -1. in second place □ She finished second. -2. a word used to introduce a second point or reason in an argument.

◇ vt [proposal, motion, nomination] to formally support <sthg that somebody else has suggested> so that voting or discussion can take place □ I second that.

◆ seconds npl -1. BUSINESS goods that are not in perfect condition and are therefore sold at a cheaper price. -2. a second serving of food during a meal □ Anyone for seconds?

second² [sə'kɒnd] vt GB to send <sb> somewhere for a period of time to do a duty or job □ She was seconded to the Hong Kong branch.

secondary [US 'sekəndəri, GB -əri] adj -1. EDUCATION [education, teacher] that is connected with the education of children from the age of 11 until they leave school. -2. [matter, consideration] that is less important than something else □ The cost is a secondary issue.

secondary picketing n picketing in which strikers demonstrate outside the gates of firms that have business dealings with their employer.

secondary school n a school for students aged 11 to 18.

second best [ˌsekənd-] adj that is not as good as the best □ Radiohead was voted second best group of the year by our readers. □ We came off second best in the deal.

second-class [ˌsekənd-] adj -1. that is considered to be less important or valuable than other people or things □ They were treated as second-class citizens. -2. [ticket, seat, car] that is connected with the ordinary class of travel in a train. -3. [mail, letter, stamp] that is connected with the postal service in which things cost less to send, but take longer to arrive. -4. a second-class degree GB & AUS EDUCATION an honors degree that is above average but not of the highest standard.

second cousin [ˌsekənd-] n a child of one's parent's cousin.

second-degree burn [ˌsekənd-] n a burn on one's skin that causes it to become very red and blisters to appear.

seconded [ˈsekəndəd] n a person who seconds a motion, nomination, proposal etc.

second floor [ˌsekənd-] n -1. US the second story in a building, above the ground floor □ I live on the second floor. □ a second-floor apartment. -2. GB the third story in a building, above the ground floor and the first floor □ I took the lift to the second floor.

second-guess [ˌsekənd-] vt -1. US [person, event] to look back into the past and criticize <sb/sthg> with the knowledge of what happened □ Don't second-guess me! -2. [thoughts, reaction] to predict <sthg>; [person] to predict the actions of <sb> □ All the journalists were trying to second-guess the outcome of the election. □ Lewis will be hoping to second-guess his opponent.

second-hand [ˌsekənd-] ◇ adj -1. [furniture, car] that used to be owned or used by somebody else □ She always buys second-hand clothes, and manages to look fabulous in them. -2. [store, market] that sells second-hand goods. -3. [account, report] not from the person who experienced or saw an event directly, but passed on by another person □ Look, it's a second-hand version of events; it's bound to be inaccurate. ◇ adv -1. [buy, obtain] from a second-hand store □ She gets all her clothes second-hand. -2. to hear sthg second-hand to hear about sthg by reading about it, or by being told by somebody who was not directly involved.

second hand [ˈsekənd-] n the pointer on clocks and watches that moves to show the seconds □ The second hand had stopped.

second-in-command [ˌsekənd-] n a person who has the rank directly below a manager, director, or military commander.

secondly [ˈsekəndli] adv a word used to introduce a second point in a list □ I'm not going, firstly because it's too far and secondly because it's too expensive.

secondment [səˈkɒndmənt] n GB a period of time that one spends in a place where one has been sent to do a particular special duty or job □ She's on secondment to Head Office.

second nature [ˌsekənd-] n to be second nature to be something that one has done so many times that one does it without thinking about it □ That sort of precision comes as second nature to most of our staff.

second-rate [ˌsekənd-] adj [writer, play, product] that one thinks is not of a very high standard □ As a director, he's second-rate at best.

second thought [ˌsekənd-] n to have second thoughts to begin to wonder if something one has chosen to do may not be a good idea □ You're not having second thoughts about going to Japan, are you? ■ on second thought US, on second thoughts GB a phrase used to show that one has changed one's mind about something one has just said, especially about a plan □ On second thought, let's not bother.

secrecy [ˈsi:kri:si] n the state of being secret □ I was sworn to secrecy. □ The whole operation was carried out in secrecy.

secret [ˈsi:kri:t] ◇ adj -1. [passage, negotiations, plan] that only very few people are allowed to know about □ They tried to keep their plans secret. -2. a secret drinker/smoker etc a person who drinks/smokes etc without anybody else knowing □ She received flowers from a secret admirer. ◇ n -1. something that only a few people know about and that is kept hidden from other people □ If I tell you a secret, promise you won't repeat it. □ She can't keep a secret. -2. the secret of sthg the best or only way of achieving sthg □ the secret of success □ The secret of making a good risotto is to use the right rice.

◆ in secret adv [take place, happen] without anybody else knowing □ We met in secret to discuss our plan.

secret agent n a person whose job is to find out secret information about the governments, armies etc of other countries for the government of a particular country.

secretarial [ˌsekɾəˈteəriəl] adj [course, skills, training] that is connected with the work of a secretary □ I'm looking for secretarial work.

secretarial school US, secretarial college GB n a place where people learn typing, word processing, shorthand etc.

secretariat [ˌsekɾəˈteəriət] n a department that is responsible for the administration of a large organization.

secretary [US ˈsekɾətəri, GB -əri] (pl secretaries) n -1. a person whose job involves typing, answering the phone, organizing meetings etc for somebody else □ "Can you make it Tuesday?" — "I'm not sure, I'll have to check with my secretary." -2. [of a club, labor union] a person whose role in an organization is to write official letters, keep records etc □ She's honorary secretary of the Arts Society. -3. POLITICS the person in charge of a large government department.

secretary-general (pl secretaries-general) n the person in charge of a large international organization, especially a political one □ the UN Secretary-General.

Secretary of State n -1. US the head of the government department dealing with foreign affairs. -2. GB a government minister □ the Secretary of State for Education.

secrete [siˈkri:t] vt -1. [gland, organ] to form and release  □ The hormone is secreted into the bloodstream. -2. [person] to hide <sthg> (formal use) □ I secreted the book at the back of one of the shelves.

secretion [siˈkri:ʃn] n a substance that is secreted by part of an animal or plant; the process of secreting a substance.

secretive ['si:kri:tɪv] adj [person] who avoids talking about their feelings, actions etc □ Officials are being very secretive about the recent arms deal.

secretly ['si:kri:tli] adv [think, plan, tell] see secret □ He was secretly in love with her. □ They met secretly to avoid publicity.

secret police n a police force controlled by the government of a country that works in secret and deals especially with political crimes.

secret service n a government department that deals with its country's security and tries to get secret information about other countries.

sect [sekt] n a religious group that is separate from a larger established group and has its own particular beliefs.

sectarian [sek'teəriən] adj [killing, violence] that happens because of problems between different religious groups.

section ['sekʃn] ◇ n -1. [of an exam, train, pipe] one of the parts that something is divided into □ A section of the road is being blocked off for repairs. □ the sports section of the newspaper □ section 6 of the Motor Vehicle Code □ This is an issue that affects all sections of society. -2. [in a diagram] a picture of what something would look like if it were cut from top to bottom and seen from the side □ I'll show you a drawing of it in section. ◇ vt -1. to show <an object, building> etc in section. -2. to cut <sthg> into sections (formal use).

sector ['sektə] n -1. BUSINESS a particular part of a country's economy □ the banking/retail/trade sector. -2. [of a city, region] a particular part of a place that has been divided into sections, usually for military reasons □ The western sector has been sealed off by police. -3. GEOMETRY the area in a circle between two radii.

secular ['sekjələ] adj [society, education, music] that is not connected with religion.

secure [sɪ'kjʊə] ◇ adj -1. [house, building, prison] that is properly locked up and protected so that people cannot get in or out easily □ You need to make these windows more secure. -2. [ladder, shelf] that is firmly fixed in place □ Check that the rope is secure. -3. [job, future, position] that is not likely to change in an undesirable way and so allows one to feel relaxed, especially about money □ How secure is this investment? □ The sponsorship deal ensures the athlete will be financially secure for a long time. -4. [base, basis] that is strong and solid □ When it comes to talking about moral behavior, you're not exactly on secure ground yourself. -5. [person, childhood, marriage] that is without trouble or worry □ He comes from a secure family background. □ I can go away, secure in the knowledge that you'll take care of everything.

◇ vt -1. [job, vote, contract] to get sthg with a lot of effort □ We have secured the support of several board members. -2. [city, borders] to make  safe □ Measures have been taken to secure the area against attack. -3. [door, lid, window] to fasten <sthg> tightly □ The rope had not been properly secured.

securely [sɪ'kjʊəli] adv securely locked/fastened etc properly locked/fastened etc.

security [sɪ'kjʊərəti] (pl securities) n -1. [of a country, building] freedom from attack or harm, especially from crime or terrorist attack □ It was a threat to national security. □ Security was tight during the presidential visit. □ airport security □ security measures. -2. [against a bad situation] protection, especially legal protection, against a possible bad situation □ security of tenure □ job security. -3. [of a person, job] the state or feeling of being secure □ Children need love and security. -4. FINANCE money or possessions that one promises to give a lender if one cannot repay a loan □ What security do you have for the loan?

◆ securities npl FINANCE stocks, shares etc owned as property □ government securities □ the securities market.

security blanket n a piece of material, a soft toy etc that a small child carries around to avoid feeling worried, unhappy etc.

Security Council n the Security Council the organization within the United Nations whose purpose is to maintain world peace.

security forces npl members of the police and army whose job is to protect a country against terrorism, attack etc.

security guard n a person whose job is to guard a building.

security risk n a person who the government of a country thinks could be a threat to the security of the country, because they could give away government secrets.

secy abbr of secretary.

sedan [sɪ'dæn] n US & AUS a car for four to six passengers, with two or four doors and a trunk for luggage.

sedate [sɪ'deɪt] ◇ adj [person, pace] that is calm and slow, and seems very controlled. ◇ vt to give  a drug that makes them sleepy or calm □ He was heavily sedated.

sedation [sɪ'deɪʃn] n the act of sedating somebody □ He'll be under sedation for the next few hours.

sedative ['sedətɪv] ◇ adj [effect, properties] that causes sleep or a feeling of calm. ◇ n a drug that is given to somebody to make them sleepy or calm.

sedentary [US 'sedntəri, GB -əri] adj [job, life] that involves sitting for long periods of time.

sediment ['sedəmənt] n bits of solid material that settle at the bottom of a liquid.

sedition [sɪ'dɪʃn] n things that a person or group says, writes, or does in order to encourage people to disobey the government (formal use).

seduce [sɪ'dʊ:s] vt -1. to be very attractive to <sb>, often with the result that they do something they should not do □ We were seduced by the beauty of the place. □ Their promises seduced him into signing the contract. -2. to persuade <sb> to have sex with one, especially if they are younger or less experienced.

seduction [sɪ'dʌkʃn] n the act of seducing somebody sexually.

seductive [sɪ'dʌktɪv] adj -1. [argument, prospect, suggestion] that is very attractive □ Look, it all sounds very seductive, but I'm not interested. -2. [eyes, voice, person] sexually attractive □ She looked extremely seductive in her long red dress.

see [si:] (pt saw, pp seen) ◇ vt -1. to become aware of <sb/sthg> through one's eyes □ Have you seen my purse anywhere? □ Turn the light on, I can't see a thing! □ We saw Ken getting out of a taxi. □ Did anyone actually see her leave the building? -2. [program, movie] to watch <sthg> because one is interested in it; [place, monument] to visit an <interesting or famous place> □ I've seen "Psycho" four times! □ We just had to see the "Mona Lisa" when we were in Paris. -3. [person, friend] to meet <sb> socially; [doctor, dentist] to visit <sb> to get professional help □ I'm seeing Tim tomorrow night for a drink. □ He really should see a specialist about his knee. ■ to be seeing sb to be having a romantic or sexual relationship with sb □ She's been seeing another man! ■ see you! goodbye! (informal use). ■ see you soon/later/tomorrow goodbye until we meet again soon/after/tomorrow. -4. [somebody's problem, distress] to understand <sthg>, especially a person's feelings or behavior □ You could see that he was upset. □ I don't see the point of all this fuss. □ Do you see what I'm getting at? □ It's difficult to see how we can improve things. -5. to see sb to a place [to the door, station, airport] to go with sb to a place to say goodbye or to make sure they get there safely □ I'll see you to your car. □ It's all right, I can see myself out. -6. to see sthg in sb to find sthg attractive about sb □ What on earth does she see in him? -7. to see what/how/when etc... to find out about something □ Let's go and see what's going on. ■ I'll see what I can do I'll try to do what is needed □ "Have you got a table for six?" — "I'll see what I can do." ■ see if you can help try to find out if you can help □ Let's see if I can recognize anyone here. □ See if anyone would like another drink. -8. to see (that)... to make sure that something happens or is done □ I'll see that he gets your message. □ See you get plenty of rest. -9. to see sb/sthg as... to have a particular opinion about sb/sthg □ I don't see his reaction as particularly strange. -10. to see sthg as sthg to think of sthg in a particular way □ People might see it as a threat to their jobs. -11. to see sthg happening to think that sthg is likely to happen □ I can't see us moving out before Christmas. □ I don't really see him offering to pay, do you? -12. [person] to be present when <sthg> happens; [place, period] to be the particular time that an event happens, or the place where it happens □ He didn't live to see his daughter married. □ This year has seen so many changes. -13. see page 10/chapter 1/below read page 10/chapter 1/below for more information (used to cross-refer in texts).

◇ vi -1. to be able to recognize things with one's eyes □ She can't see without her contact lenses. -2. to understand what somebody is saying □ You just don't see, do you? ■ I see a phrase used to show that one has understood what has just been said □ Oh I see, you weren't there. ■ you see a phrase used before or after an explanation in spoken English □ You see, I've never gotten on with my father. -3. phrases I'll/we'll see a phrase used when one does not want to decide something right away □ "Can I have a new bike?" — "We'll have to see." ■ let's see, let me see a phrase used when one is trying to remember a fact or when one is looking for something □ Let me see now, it must have been in March.

◆ seeing as, seeing that conj a phrase used to give a reason for something (informal use) □ Let's do some work, seeing as you're here.

◆ see about vt fus -1. to see about sthg to make arrangements so that sthg happens or is dealt with □ I'll see about ordering some flowers. □ He had to go into town to see about a visa. -2. to see about sthg to wait before deciding about sthg □ I'll buy the computer now, but I'll have to see about the printer. ■ we'll (soon) see about that! I'll make sure that does not happen! (informal use).

◆ see off vt sep to see sb off [friend, visitor, guest] to go with sb to the door, airport etc and say goodbye to them □ My family came to see me off.

◆ see through ◇ vt fus to see through sb/sthg [lie, disguise] to realize that sb/sthg is not honest or truthful □ She saw straight through my excuse. ◇ vt sep to see sthg through to finish sthg, especially when it is difficult □ It was her idea, and she was determined to see it through. ■ to see sb through sthg [through a problem, crisis] to help or support sb until sthg is over □ We've got just enough money left to see us through the week.

◆ see to vt fus to see to sb/sthg to deal with sb/sthg □ Bill saw to dinner. □ I must go and see to the children. □ Don't worry, I'll see to it that he doesn't pester you again.

seed [si:d] ◇ n -1. a small hard part of a plant that produces another plant when it is planted □ poppy seeds □ Plant the seeds in early April. -2. SPORT a tennis player who is given a particular rank that shows how likely they are to win a competition □ the top seed at Wimbledon. ◇ vt SPORT to rank a <tennis player> in a way that shows how likely they are to win a competition □ She's seeded fourth in the world.

◆ seeds npl the seeds of doubt/an idea etc the beginnings of doubt/an idea etc □ Once the seeds of doubt had been sown, I couldn't stop thinking about it.

seedless ['si:dləs] adj [grape, orange] that has no seeds inside.

seedling ['si:dliŋ] n a young plant grown from a seed.

seed money n FINANCE money that is needed for the first stages of a new business.

seedy ['si:di] (compar seedier, superl seediest) adj [person, area, bar] that looks unpleasant or dirty, and is connected with immoral activities □ I don't want to know about the seedy goings-on in that place.

Seeing Eye dogTM [ˌsi:ɪŋ-] n US a dog that has been trained to help a blind person walk around safely.

seek [si:k] (pt & pp sought) (formal use) ◇ vt -1. [shelter, employment] to look for <sthg> □ 'Student seeks summer employment.' -2. [peace, comfort, revenge] to try to achieve or get <sthg> □ They are seeking to overthrow the government. -3. [advice, compensation] to ask for <sthg> □ The law will make it harder for those seeking asylum. ◇ vi -1. to seek for sthg [for an answer, job] to look for sthg. -2. to seek for sthg [for help, advice] to ask for sthg.

◆ seek out vt sep to seek sb/sthg out to look for sb/sthg until one finds them □ He vowed to seek out his enemies and destroy them.

seem [si:m] vi -1. (+ complement) to seem kind/bored/tired etc to have the appearance of being kind/bored/tired etc □ He seems a lot happier in his job now. □ "How was she?" — "She seemed alright to me." □ They seem like a nice couple. □ What seems to be the problem? □ We don't seem to be having much success. ■ I can't seem to talk to him I have tried to talk to him several times but have had no success □ I just can't seem to get rid of this cold. ■ it seems (that) used to describe something that one thinks is true, but is not certain about □ It seems that they've arrested the wrong man. □ There seems to have been a misunderstanding. -2. it seems to me (that)... my opinion is that... □ It seems to me that he's making a big mistake. ■ it seems as if OR as though used to describe a situation that one feels to be true or real □ It seemed as if there was nobody in the world who could help us.

seeming ['si:mɪŋ] adj [boredom, interest] apparent (formal use) □ Jesse hid her true feelings behind a mask of seeming indifference.

seemingly ['si:mɪŋli] adv seemingly endless/limitless etc that seems to be endless/limitless etc but it is not really □ It was a seemingly innocent request.

seemly ['si:mli] (compar seemlier, superl seemliest) adj [behavior] that is suitable and dignified (literary use) □ It would not be seemly for us to be seen here together.

seen [si:n] past participle of see.

seep [si:p] vi [gas, liquid, blood] to gradually pass through something in a particular direction □ Water had seeped in through the cracks.

seersucker ['siə'sʌkə] n a light cloth that has an uneven surface and a pattern of raised and flat lines on it □ a seersucker tablecloth.

seesaw ['si:səʊ] n a piece of equipment for children to play on, consisting of a long piece of metal or wood supported in the middle so that it swings up and down when somebody sits at each end.

seethe [si:ð] vi -1. to be very angry, especially without showing the anger openly □ He smiled, but inwardly he was seething. -2. to be seething with sthg [with people, insects] to be very full of sthg that is moving about □ The room was seething with people.

seething ['si:ðɪŋ] adj -1. [person] who is very angry □ When Kay saw the damage she was absolutely seething. -2. [crowd, mass] that is very full of people, animals etc that keep moving □ a seething mass of worms.

see-through adj [blouse, skirt, dress] that is made of fabric so fine that people can see one's body underneath.

segment ['segmənt] n -1. [of a market, population] one of the parts that something can be divided into □ The insect's body is divided into segments. -2. [of an orange, grapefruit] one of the parts that make up the flesh of some fruits □ grapefruit segments.

segregate ['segrɪgeɪt] vt [children, races] to divide <two groups of people or things> from each other □ In some areas Protestants were segregated from Catholics.

segregation [ˌsegrɪ'geɪʃn] n the practice of officially keeping one group of people separate from another, usually because they have a different race, religion, or sex □ racial segregation □ segregation laws.

Seine [seɪn]: the Seine a river in northern France that flows through Paris.

seismic ['saɪzɪmɪk] adj [shock, explosion] that is caused by an earthquake.

seize [si:z] vt -1. [gun, arm, life belt] to take hold of <sthg> suddenly and firmly □ She seized the dog by its collar. □ "Let's get out of here," said Terence, seizing my hand. -2. [power, control] to take <sthg> by force; [building, town, area] to take control of  by force; [drugs, weapon, property] to take <sthg> away from somebody who cannot legally keep it □ Military rebels made a failed attempt to seize power. □ Troops seized three villages in the area yesterday. □ Drugs worth half a million dollars were seized by customs officials. -3. [criminal, victim] to arrest or capture <sb>, especially by surprise □ Colonel Chabron's daughter Lucy has been seized by kidnappers. -4. [opportunity] to immediately take  in order to do something one wants to do □ You should seize this opportunity to get away for a while.

◆ seize on vt fus to seize on sthg [on a word, fact] to draw attention to sthg that has just appeared or been said, especially in order to use it to help oneself □ In the interview, they seized on the fact that I'd dropped out of college.

◆ seize up vi -1. [back, muscle] to become very painful so that one cannot move it. -2. [engine, machine] to stop working, e.g. because of lack of oil.

◆ seize upon vt fus = seize on.

seizure ['si:ʒə] n -1. MEDICINE a sudden fit or attack in which part of one's body stops working properly □ a heart seizure. -2. [of power, drugs, a town] see seize.

seldom ['seldəm] adv not very often □ We seldom go shopping on Saturday mornings. □ I think about it very seldom now.

select [sə'lekt] ◇ vt [candidate, dress] to choose <sb/sthg> carefully from among others by deciding which is the best or most suitable □ We selected them as our partners/selected them to be our partners. □ You can only select three people/items from this list. ◇ adj -1. [gathering, group] that is small and only includes the best people or things □ I was lucky enough to be among the select few who were invited. -2. [area, school] that only the richest people can have or use □ They live in a very select part of town.

select committee n in Britain, a small committee of Members of Parliament, set up to examine or investigate a particular subject or problem.

selected [sə'lektəd] adj [areas, cities] that have been chosen from a larger group □ The offer is available at selected stores only.

selection [sə'lekʃn] n -1. the act of selecting somebody or something, or of being selected □ The selection procedure is very tough. □ Her selection as manager surprised everyone. -2. [of poems, songs] a group of things or people that have been selected from a larger group □ selections from Gershwin. -3. [of food, clothes, cars] a range of different types of particular goods in a store □ We have a wide selection of wines/furniture.

selective [sə'lektɪv] adj -1. that chooses only a few things or people and not others □ They were pretty selective in their description of events. □ Kathy seems to have a selective memory when it comes to money. -2. [person] who chooses very carefully what they do, buy etc □ He's very selective about what he eats.

selector [sə'lektə] n GB a member of a group that selects the players in a sports team.

self [self] (pl selves) n one's personality and character □ I'm pleased to say she seems to be her old self again. □ The weekend retreat enabled us to get in touch with our real selves.

self- prefix -1. added to words to show that something is done to, or is done by oneself or itself □ self-induced □ a self-fulfilling prophecy. -2. added to words to show that something is done automatically □ self-loading.

self-addressed envelope [-ədrest-] n an unsealed envelope with one's own name and address on it that one sends to somebody in another envelope in order for them to send back information, a form etc.

self-addressed stamped envelope [-'stæmpt-] n a self-addressed envelope with stamps stuck on it to pay for mailing it.

self-adhesive adj [envelope, label] that is covered on one side with a sticky substance so that it will stick to things.

self-assembly adj GB [furniture, equipment] that one puts together oneself by following written instructions.

self-assertive adj [person] who lets people know what they think and want in a confident way □ Tracey needs to learn to be more self-assertive.

self-assurance n calm confidence, especially in a difficult situation □ She had an air of calm self-assurance.

self-assured adj [person] who has self-assurance □ He's remarkably self-assured for someone so young.

self-catering adj GB [accommodation, villa, apartment] where one stays on vacation and cooks one's own meals.

self-centered [-'sentəd] adj [person] who does not care or think about other people, only themselves □ a selfish, self-centered brat.

self-cleaning adj [oven] that one does not have to clean, because it burns away the grease left by cooking.

self-confessed [-kən'fest] adj a self-confessed liar/romantic etc a person who admits that they are a liar/romantic etc □ He's a self-confessed workaholic/drug addict.

self-confidence n confidence in one's abilities, popularity, or appearance □ Where's all your self-confidence gone? □ She's good, if lacking in self-confidence.

self-confident adj [person] who has self-confidence □ She has a very self-confident manner.

self-conscious adj feeling embarrassed and shy with other people because one is worried about what they think of one □ I feel very self-conscious about talking in front of a lot of people. □ Murray gave a self-conscious smile.

self-contained adj -1. [person] who does not show their feelings easily □ It's difficult to know what she's feeling, she's so very self-contained. -2. GB [apartment] that is part of a house but is separate, with its own entrance, kitchen, and bathroom □ It's not an actual apartment, but it is entirely self-contained.

self-control n the ability to control one's emotions □ I shouldn't have lost my self-control. □ He managed to keep his self-control.

self-controlled adj [person] who shows self-control.

self-defense n the act of defending oneself, especially physically, when one is attacked.
 ■ to act in self-defense to use force in order to protect oneself □ She claimed she killed him in self-defense.

self-denial n the act of refusing to allow oneself a particular pleasure □ small acts of self-denial, such as missing lunch.

self-destruct [-dɪ'strækt] ◇ adj a self-destruct button/mechanism a button/mechanism that makes a device destroy itself. ◇ vi [missile] to destroy itself.

self-determination n the right of a country to choose whether or not to be independent from another country, and to be able to choose its government □ Every country has a right to self-determination.

self-discipline n the ability to be strict with oneself and to control one's actions or desires □ I don't have the self-discipline to go on a diet. □ The course requires a certain amount of self-discipline.

self-doubt n doubt in one's own abilities □

Plagued by self-doubt, Indrin could never finish anything he wrote.

self-drive adj GB [van, car] that one can rent and drive oneself.

self-educated adj [person] who has taught themselves what they know, and has not had any lessons □ He is entirely self-educated.

self-effacing [-i'feɪsɪŋ] adj [person] who does not like talking about themselves or the things they have done because they are modest or shy □ a shy, self-effacing man.

self-employed [-ɪm'plɔɪd] adj [worker, designer, builder] who works for themselves, rather than for an employer □ I'm not on their staff, I'm actually self-employed.

self-esteem n the feeling that one deserves to be respected and valued □ Men in that position are often lacking in self-esteem.

self-evident adj [fact, truth, reason] that is obvious without people having to think about it □ The folly of proceeding along such a course had by now become self-evident.

self-explanatory adj [rules, instructions, diagram] that is easy to understand without more explanation □ It's all pretty self-explanatory, so I'll leave you to it.

self-expression n the act of expressing one's personality and feelings, especially through a creative skill □ I consider art an important form of self-expression.

self-focusing [-'foukəsɪŋ] adj [camera, lens] that focuses automatically on whatever is at the center of the viewfinder.

self-governing adj [province, region] that elects its own government.

self-government n the government of a country by its own people.

self-help n the concept that people can cure themselves of certain emotional or physical problems without professional help □ a self-help group.

self-important adj [person] who thinks they are more important than they really are (disapproving use) □ a pompous, self-important little man.

self-imposed [-ɪm'pouzɪd] adj [duty, rule, exile] that one has decided to accept or do without anybody else telling one to do it.

self-indulgent adj [person] who lets themselves do or have enjoyable things too much (disapproving use) □ It seems so self-indulgent to spend all this money on clothes!

self-inflicted [-ɪn'flɪktɪd] adj [wound, cut] that one has caused to oneself.

self-interest n the attitude of seeing what advantage one can get out of a situation for oneself (disapproving use) □ He was motivated entirely by self-interest.

selfish ['selfɪʃ] adj [person] who only cares or thinks about themselves and does not care about anybody else □ That's very selfish behavior/a very selfish attitude. □ Don't be so selfish — let your brother play too!

selfishness ['selfɪʃnəs] n: see selfish.

selfless ['selfləs] adj [person] who helps other people because they care about them very much, even more than they care about themselves □ She's a selfless and devoted wife.

self-locking [-'lɒkɪŋ] adj [door, mechanism] that locks automatically when it is closed.

self-made adj a self-made man/woman a man/woman who has become successful and rich without special help or advantages, e.g. a good education or position in society □ a self-made millionaire.

self-opinionated adj [person] who believes they are always right and never thinks that they might be wrong (disapproving use) □ I find him extremely self-opinionated and irritating.

self-perpetuating [-pə'petʃueɪtɪŋ] adj [system, myth] that never ends because people keep using it, saying it etc.

self-pity n too much pity for oneself and one's problems (disapproving use) □ You can't just sit there wallowing in self-pity.

self-portrait n a drawing or painting by an artist of themselves.

self-possessed adj [person] who can control their emotions and stay confident and calm even in difficult situations □ a calm, self-possessed young woman.

self-preservation n the protection of one's own life in a difficult or dangerous situation □ an instinct for self-preservation.

self-proclaimed [-prə'kleɪmd] adj [leader, expert] who claims to have a particular position or ability (disapproving use) □ a self-proclaimed expert on photography.

self-raising flour n GB = self-rising flour.

self-regulating [-'regjələɪtɪŋ] adj [body, institution] that regulates its own activities.

self-reliant adj [person] who is able to do a lot of things alone, without help from other people.

self-respect n respect for oneself and a belief that one deserves to be valued □ Don't you have any self-respect? □ When Tony lost his job he lost his self-respect.

self-respecting [-rɪs'pektɪŋ] adj [citizen, person] who is normal and does what other people like them normally do □ No self-respecting parent would allow their children out so late.

self-restraint n the ability to stop oneself from doing what one feels like doing, in order to avoid problems □ Try to exercise a little self-restraint.

self-righteous adj [person] who believes strongly that they are right and that other people are wrong (disapproving use) □ Like many religious people, he could be very self-righteous at times.

self-rising flour [-'raɪzɪŋ] n US flour that has had baking powder added to it so that it makes cakes, pastry etc rise when it is cooked.

NOTE: Compare plain flour.

self-rule n the government of a country by its own people □ the desire for self-rule.

self-sacrifice n the act of not doing or having something that one wants in order to let

- other people have what they need □ an act of self-sacrifice.
- selfsame ['selfseɪm] adj that is exactly the same one □ I saw the selfsame coat much cheaper in another store!
- self-satisfied adj [person] who is very pleased with themselves or their achievements (disapproving use) □ He gave us a self-satisfied smile.
- self-sealing [-'si:lɪŋ] adj [envelope] that has a sticky substance on the flap so that it sticks when it is pressed down.
- self-seeking [-'si:kɪŋ] adj [person] who does things only to get some advantage for themselves (disapproving use) □ Beware of self-seeking people who are only interested in your money.
- self-service n a system used in stores, restaurants etc in which customers take what they want from a counter or from shelves and then pay at a cash desk □ Is it self-service in this restaurant? □ a self-service café/counter.
- self-starter n -1. AUTO an electric device that starts an engine when a button is pressed. -2. a person who can work well on their own and does not need to be told what to do all the time.
- self-styled [-'stɑɪld] adj a self-styled champion/leader etc a person who calls themselves a champion/leader etc without having any right to (disapproving use) □ the self-styled "King of Rock".
- self-sufficient adj [country, population] able to produce everything one needs without buying or getting anything from anywhere else □ We aim to be self-sufficient in fuel within ten years. □ With our little garden and the farm we are almost entirely self-sufficient.
- self-supporting [-sə'pɔ:tɪŋ] adj [business, industry] that makes enough money to continue without more money being spent on it.
- self-tanning [-'tæŋɪŋ] adj [lotion, cream] that colors one's skin so that one looks like one has a suntan.
- self-taught adj [person] who has taught themselves a skill without help from a teacher or other person □ You know as a tennis player she is entirely self-taught.
- self-test n COMPUTING a set of automatic tests that a computer or printer does on itself to check everything is working.
- sell [sel] (pt & pp sold) ◇ vt -1. [car, house, furniture] to give <sth> to somebody in exchange for money □ Do you sell stamps? □ He sold me his apartment OR sold his apartment to me last year. □ She sold everything she owned in order to lend him the money. □ I agreed to sell it for $100. -2. [product] to make people buy <sth> □ Good advertising helped to sell huge numbers of copies. ■ to sell oneself to draw somebody's attention to one's skills, ideas etc, especially in order to convince them to give one a job □ You've got to learn to sell yourself in this business. -3. [idea, scheme] to convince somebody that <sth> is a good idea (informal use) □ You haven't really sold me on the idea. □ The government never managed to sell the poll tax to the British electorate.
- ◇ vi -1. [person] I refuse to sell at that price. □ The housing market is so stagnant that nobody can sell. -2. [product] The new model is selling well all over the world. □ Those watches sell for or at $200 retail.
- ◆ sell off vt sep -1. to sell sth off [property, land] to sell sth because one needs the money □ We may need to sell off some of our assets. -2. to sell sth off [goods, stock] to sell sth cheaply because it has lost its value □ They're selling off all their old 386 computers.
- ◆ sell on vt sep to sell sth on [goods, product] to sell sth to somebody else in order to make a profit.
- ◆ sell out ◇ vt sep to be sold out [event, match, concert] to have no more tickets available because they have all been sold; [store] to have sold all the items of a particular kind that were available for sale □ 'Sold out.' □ I tried to get tickets, but they were all sold out. □ We were sold out of copies by 5 o'clock.
- ◇ vi -1. [store, ticket office] to sell all the items of a particular kind that were available for sale; [item, product, tickets] to be no longer available from a store, ticket office etc □ We've sold out of that size. □ The cakes sold out immediately. -2. [person, government] to give up one's principles, especially for money □ Don't tell me you're going to sell out and take a job in advertising!
- ◆ sell up vi GB to sell everything one owns, especially one's house or business □ They've sold up and left the country.
- sell-by date n GB the date marked on a packet of food that is the last date that it can be sold to make sure that it is still fresh and safe to eat □ This chicken is past its sell-by date.
- seller ['selə] n a person or business that sells a particular type of thing □ a flower/picture seller □ a seller of quality wines.
- seller's market n a situation that is better for sellers than for buyers in which a shortage of certain products results in high prices.
- selling ['selɪŋ] n the act or business of selling things □ the buying and selling of stocks and shares.
- selling point n an attractive aspect of something that is mentioned in order to help to sell it.
- selling price n [of goods, shares] the price at which a seller says they will sell something □ The initial selling price was very high.
- SellotapeTM ['seləteɪp] n GB a roll of clear tape that is sticky on one side and that is used to stick paper.
- ◆ sellotape vt to put Sellotape on <sth> in order to repair it or fasten it to something else □ I sellotaped the poster to the wall.
- sell-out n an event for which all the tickets have been sold □ a sell-out concert/match.
- seltzer ['seltzə] n US carbonated mineral water.
- selves [selvz] plural of self.
- semantic [sə'mæntɪk] adj [difference, problem] that is connected with the meaning of words □ Dictionaries divide words into separate semantic categories.

♦ semantics n the study of the meaning of words.

semaphore ['seməfəʊ] n a method of sending messages by holding a flag in each hand and moving one's arms to different positions to represent letters and numbers.

semblance ['seɪbləns] n some semblance of sthg something that looks like sthg (formal use) □ We restored the room to some semblance of order.

semen ['si:mən] n the liquid containing sperm that is produced by men and male animals.

semester [sə'mestə] n one of the two parts into which a year at a university is divided.

semi ['semi] n -1. US a large truck. -2. GB a semidetached house.

semi- prefix added to words to mean partly, but not completely □ He's semi-retired. □ In the semi-darkness he made out the shape of a woman. □ The news is semi-official.

semiautomatic [ˌsemiːə'tɔ:mætɪk] adj [rifle, weapon] that loads each bullet automatically, but does not fire unless the trigger is pulled.

semicircle ['semi:sɜ:kəl] n half a circle; the shape of half a circle □ We sat in a semicircle.

semicircular [ˌsemi'sɜ:kjələ] adj [arrangement, shape] that has the shape of a semicircle.

semicolon ['semikəʊlən] n a symbol (;) used to separate parts of a sentence.

semiconscious [ˌsemi'kɒnʃəs] adj [person] who is partly conscious.

semidetached [ˌsemi'dætətʃt] GB ◇ adj [house, cottage] that is joined to another house on one side by a wall that is part of both houses. ◇ n a semidetached house.

semifinal [ˌsemi'faɪnəl] n one of two games that are played to decide which players or teams will play in the final □ the semifinal round.

semifinalist [ˌsemi'faɪnəlɪst] n a player or team that is playing in a semifinal.

seminal ['semənl] adj [book, film, artist] that is very important and has a strong influence on other artists, writers etc □ He had a seminal influence on 20th-century photography.

seminar ['semənɑ:] n a group that meets to discuss and learn about a subject, especially in universities □ They're holding a seminar on women in politics.

seminary [US 'semənəri, GB -əri] (pl seminaries) n a college where priests or ministers are trained.

Seminole ['semənəʊl] n a member of a Native American people who live in Florida; the language of this people.

semiotics [ˌsemi'bi:tɪks] n the study of communication, especially the relationship between words and the things or ideas they refer to.

semiprecious [ˌsemi'preʃəs] adj [stone, gem] that is used in jewelry, art etc but is not as valuable as a precious stone.

semiskilled [ˌsemi'skɪld] adj [worker] who is partly trained in a particular skill, but cannot do specialized work.

semiskimmed [ˌsemi'skɪmd] adj semiskimmed milk GB milk that has had a lot of the cream removed.

semitone ['semitəʊn] n GB the difference in pitch between any two notes that are next to each other on a piano.

semitrailer ['semitreɪlə] n -1. a trailer that is pulled by a vehicle and has wheels only at the back. -2. US a large truck consisting of a separate part for the driver and a trailer joined to it by a metal bar.

semolina [ˌsemə'li:nə] n a kind of food made from crushed wheat, used for making pasta, milky desserts etc □ semolina pudding.

Sen. -1. abbr of senator. -2. abbr of senior.

Senate ['senət] n the Senate in the USA and Australia, the smaller part of the two bodies that together make the laws for the government.

THE SENATE

In the USA, the Senate is the upper house of Congress, and has 100 members, called senators. Each state has two senators, who are elected for six years by the people of their particular state.

In Australia the Senate is the upper house of the Federal Parliament. It has 76 senators, 12 from each state and two each from the two territories. They are elected for six years.

senator ['senətə] n a member of a Senate.

send [send] (pt & pp sent) vt -1. [letter, message, goods] to make <sthg> go to another place or person, especially by means of the postal system or other communication system □ Have you sent the fax? □ I'll send you a check by the end of the week. □ Send her my love. □ Did you send a birthday card to Bill? □ We sent it by air mail/boat/rail. -2. [employee, prisoner, patient] to tell <sb> to go somewhere or arrange for them to go there □ The boss sent him on a course/abroad on business. □ She has been sent to prison/Switzerland. □ I was sent away to school. □ We'll send somebody over right away to repair it. -3. [person, prices, debris] to make <sb/sthg> move in a particular direction □ The bonfire sent flames high into the night. □ The blow sent me staggering backward. □ Rumors of a takeover sent share prices rocketing. -4. [person] to make <sb> have a particular feeling or be in a particular state □ The music sent me to sleep.

♦ send back vt sep to send sb/sthg back [letter, goods, person] to return sb/sthg to where they came from □ I tried to write to him, but he sent the letter back unopened. □ They were sent back at the border.

♦ send for vt fus -1. to send for sb to come by sending a message to them □ I was sent for by the principal. □ I've sent for the police/an ambulance. □ The general sent for reinforcements. -2. to send for sthg [brochure, form, information] to ask for sthg by writing to somebody and asking them to send it □ I sent for their catalog.

◆ send in vt sep -1. to send sb in [visitor, client] to allow sb to enter a room to visit a person □ "Mrs Black is here to see you, Sir." — "Send her in, please." -2. to send sb in [troops, police] to order sb to go into a difficult situation in order to solve it □ We are sending in back-up forces. -3. to send sthg in [application, report, form] to send sthg to the place where it will be dealt with □ It's October 2nd and I still haven't sent in my application form.

◆ send off vt sep -1. to send sthg off [letter, package] to mail sthg □ The invoice was sent off last month. -2. to send a player off GB SPORT to order a player to leave the playing area □ Crispini was sent off for fouling another player.

◆ send off for vt fus to send off for sthg [product, information, goods] to ask somebody to mail sthg to one by writing to them □ She sent off for her free copy.

◆ send up vt sep to send sb/sthg up GB to imitate sb/sthg in a funny way that makes them seem silly □ I think they're sending us up.

sender ['sendə] n the person who has sent a letter, package etc by mail □ 'Return to sender.'

send-off n an occasion when a lot of people come together to say goodbye to somebody □ Did they give you a good send-off when you left?

send-up n GB the act of imitating somebody or something in a funny way that makes them seem silly □ They did a marvelous send-up of Prof Harris.

Senegal [senə'gə:l] a country in West Africa, on the Atlantic coast. SIZE: 197,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 7,900,000 (Senegalese). CAPITAL: Dakar. LANGUAGE: French. CURRENCY: CFA franc.

senile ['si:nail] adj [person, patient] who is confused and forgetful because they are old □ He's getting senile.

senile dementia n a medical condition affecting old people in which they become forgetful and confused.

senility [sə'nɪlətɪ] n: see senile.

senior ['si:njə] ◇ adj -1. a word used after the name of a man who has the same name as his son as a way of avoiding confusion □ Jack Dean, Senior. -2. [nurse, officer, executive] who has a higher position than other people in an organization □ She's the most senior member of the department. □ a senior partner. -3. to be senior to sb to have a position of higher rank than sb □ I was given the job, despite the fact that Dominic is senior to me. -4. EDUCATION [pupil, prefect] older. ■ the senior year in the USA, the final year of high school or university. ◇ n -1. to be sb's senior to be older than sb □ I'm five years his senior OR his senior by five years. -2. US EDUCATION a student in his or her senior year □ Seniors are allowed out at lunchtime.

senior citizen n an old person, especially one who is over 60 years old.

senior high school n in the USA, a school for students between 15 and 18 years old.

seniority [ˌsi:nɪ'ɒrətɪ] n the state of being older or more senior in rank than somebody else □ They were seated according to seniority.

sensation [sen'seɪʃn] n -1. a feeling that one has about a situation □ She had the strange sensation that she'd seen him before somewhere. -2. a physical feeling □ a tingling sensation □ I had no sensation in my left leg. -3. an event or situation that causes great excitement □ He was an overnight sensation. □ Her appearance caused a sensation.

sensational [sen'seɪʃnəl] adj -1. [victory, news, result] that causes great excitement □ He has made a sensational comeback/recovery. -2. [person, show, outfit] a word used to say that one thinks something is extremely good (informal use) □ You look sensational! □ Read her latest sensational novel! -3. [journalism, report] that is presented in such a way as to cause very strong emotions (disapproving use).

sensationalist [sen'seɪʃnəlɪst] adj [journalism, report] that makes facts or events appear worse or more shocking than they really are (disapproving use).

sense [sens] ◇ n -1. [of smell, hearing] any one of the five natural ways in which animals or humans are able to know about the world around them using particular abilities of parts of their body □ the sense of smell/sight/touch/hearing/taste □ Our dog has a very poor sense of smell. -2. a sense of sthg [of fear, guilt] a feeling of sthg □ She was filled with a sense of guilt/urgency. □ He has a strong sense of duty/justice. -3. [of timing, rhythm] a natural ability for something □ She has good dress/business sense. □ a sense of timing/rhythm/direction □ Applicants must have a sense of humor. -4. [in making decisions, judgments] one's ability to make sensible decisions and judgments □ She had the sense to warn us beforehand. □ That child has no sense whatsoever! ■ to talk sense to say wise and sensible things □ I like Rob — he talks a lot of sense. ■ there's no sense (in) arguing/fighting etc arguing/fighting etc will not help the situation so it's best to stop. -5. [of a word] a meaning □ Do you mean "funny" in the sense of "peculiar" or "humorous"? ■ to make sense [behavior, idea] to seem reasonable and practical; [words, sentence] to be able to be understood; [person] to talk sense □ It makes sense to phone and check first. □ It just doesn't make any sense to leave now. □ The movie made no sense whatsoever. □ Now you're beginning to make sense! ■ to make sense of sthg [of sb's words, behavior] to understand sthg □ I can make no sense (out) of what he did. -6. phrase to come to one's senses to think or act sensibly again after one has done something stupid or had a stupid idea; to become conscious again □ And when he comes to his senses, he'll realize what a fool he's been. □ She finally came to her senses after lying unconscious for three hours.

◇ vt [excitement, danger] to have the feeling or impression that <sthg> exists or is true □ I sensed her disapproval although she said nothing. □ I could sense that something was wrong.

♦ in a sense adv a phrase used to say that something is partly true □ We are, in a sense, all to blame. □ In a sense, everyone could claim to have contributed something to it.

senseless ['sensləs] adj -1. [gesture, waste] that has no purpose. -2. [person] who is unconscious □ The blow to his head knocked him senseless.

sensibilities [,sensə'bilətɪz] npl delicate or sensitive feelings □ I don't want to offend anyone's sensibilities.

sensible ['sensəbl] adj [person, decision] that is reasonable, and shows intelligent, practical thought □ Wear sensible clothes for the walk. □ That wasn't a very sensible thing to do!

sensibly ['sensəblɪ] adv [decide, agree, refuse] see sensible □ You behaved very sensibly in calling the police.

sensitive ['sensətɪv] adj -1. [part of the body, person] that is easily affected by physical sensations, especially pain □ He's very sensitive to the cold. □ This soap is specially formulated for sensitive skin. -2. [teacher, parent, person] who understands how other people feel □ She's sensitive to people's feelings. □ a sensitive nurse/actor. -3. [person] who is easily offended or upset by things that people say or do □ Don't be so sensitive — I didn't mean it personally! □ He's very sensitive to criticism/sensitive about his weight. -4. [subject, information, situation] that needs to be dealt with very carefully to avoid causing problems or offending people □ Talks are at a highly sensitive stage. -5. [instrument, piece of equipment] that is very accurate because it reacts to very slight changes □ These scales are extremely sensitive, so keep completely still.

sensitivity [,sensə'tɪvətɪ] n [of one's body, a person, instrument] see sensitive □ Her sensitivity to her students' needs is her greatest asset.

sensor ['sensə] n a device that is used to show whether a particular substance is present, especially in small quantities □ a heat/light sensor.

sensual ['sensʃuəl] adj -1. [body, mouth, dancing] that is attractive in a sexual way □ She is a very sensual woman. -2. [pleasure, stimulation] that is connected with one or more of one's five senses rather than with one's mind.

sensuous ['sensʃuəs] adj -1. [music, color, fabric] that is pleasing to one or more of one's five senses rather than to one's mind. -2. [person] who enjoys the pleasures of the senses.

sent [sent] past tense & past participle of send.

sentence ['sentəns] ◇ n -1. GRAMMAR a group of words that usually contains a subject and a verb, expresses a statement, question, or exclamation, and, when written in English, starts with a capital letter and ends with a period □ He summed up the whole event in one sentence. -2. LAW a punishment given by a judge to a person who has been found guilty of a crime □ She received a two-year prison sentence. ◇ vt to give <sb> a sentence in a court of law □ Lee was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

sententious [sen'tenʃəs] adj [person, remark, advice] that tries to be wise, especially concerning people's behavior and morals (disapproving use).

sentiment ['sentəmənt] n -1. a feeling or opinion about something □ anti-American sentiment □ He harbors hostile sentiments. □ I can only agree with the sentiments expressed by my colleague John Griffiths. -2. feelings that are too tender toward other people or things (disapproving use) □ We cannot afford to mix business with sentiment.

sentimental [,sentə'mentl] adj -1. [person, book, song] that is too strongly influenced by emotions such as love, sadness, and pity (disapproving use) □ It's no use getting all sentimental about the past. □ I thought the movie was spoiled by its sentimental ending. -2. [reason, value] that concerns one's happy memories or tender feelings about somebody or something □ It's not worth much money, but it's of great sentimental value to me.

sentimentality [,sentə'mentl'ætəlɪ] n [of a person, song, book] see sentimental (disapproving use).

sentinel ['sentənl] n a sentry (old-fashioned or literary use).

sentry ['sentri] (pl sentries) n a soldier who stands outside a place to guard it □ He was on sentry duty.

Seoul [sou] the capital of South Korea, and its largest city. POPULATION: 8,400,000.

separable ['separəbl] adj that one can separate □ The two ideas are not separable.

separate [adj & n 'seprət, vb 'sepəreɪt] ◇ adj -1. [group, bed, room] that is not joined or connected to something else; [entrance, bathroom] that is for oneself and not for other people □ The language laboratories are housed in a separate building across the road. □ We lead separate lives. □ Keep your credit cards separate from your checkbook. □ They want a separate Basque state. -2. [matter, idea, meaning] that is different and not connected with something else □ The future of Biotech is an entirely separate issue. □ We must keep the two points clearly separate in our minds. □ I have heard her lecture on three separate occasions.

◇ vt -1. [more than one person or thing] to keep, move, or set <sb/sthg> apart from something else □ A fence separates the two gardens. □ We got separated from the main group by accident. -2. [one thing] to divide <sthg> into parts □ This class of drug can be separated into four main groups. □ Separate the yolk from the white. -3. [similar things or people] to find or show that there is a difference between <two or more people, groups, ideas> etc □ It's sometimes hard to separate fact from fiction or separate fact and fiction.

◇ vi -1. [people] to move away from each other □ Let's separate and meet up later. □ They separated from the main group. -2. [group, whole object] to divide into different parts □ The fat will separate from the mixture. □ We separated into four groups. -3. [husband and wife, couple]

- to stop living together □ My parents have separated/are separating.
- ◆ separates npl different items of women's clothing that can be worn separately to form different outfits □ matching separates.
- separated ['sepəreɪtəd] adj to be separated to no longer be living together as a couple □ Her parents are separated. □ I am separated from my wife/husband.
- separately ['sepərətli] adv [sell, enter, consider] see separate □ Can we pay separately? □ Woolens should be washed separately.
- separation [ˌsepə'reɪʃn] n -1. time spent apart from somebody □ He returned home after seven years' separation from his family. -2. [of a husband and wife] a formal agreement to live apart from each other □ Things became easier after the separation. -3. [into parts] see separate □ It was an emotional separation. □ the separation of Church and State.
- separatism ['sepərətɪzəm] n the belief that one's religious or political group should be separate from a larger group.
- separatist ['sepərətɪst] n a person who belongs to a group that believes in separatism.
- sepia ['si:pjə] adj [photograph, pigment] that is dark brown in color.
- Sept. abbr of September.
- September [sep'tembəʔ] n the ninth month of the year in the Western calendar; see also February.
- septet [sep'tet] n a group of seven musicians or singers; a piece of music written for this group.
- septic ['septɪk] adj [toe, cut, wound] that is infected.
- septicemia US, septicaemia GB [ˌseptə'si:mjə] n a serious medical condition in which the blood becomes infected.
- septic tank n a tank, especially in rural areas, in which sewage is broken down by the action of bacteria.
- sepulcher US, sepulchre GB ['sepɪlkəʔ] n a tomb (literary use).
- sequel ['sɪkwəl] n -1. a novel, movie, play etc that continues the story of an earlier one □ He's working on a sequel to his last movie. -2. something that happens after or as a result of an earlier event □ I never told you about the sequel to that lunch.
- sequence ['sɪkwəns] n -1. a series of events, actions, or things that come one after another □ There has been a sequence of disasters. -2. the order in which events, actions, or things happen □ Please try to recall the exact sequence of events that night. ■ in sequence in order □ in historical/chronological/numerical sequence. -3. a short section of a movie that contains one particular scene or piece of action □ You know that sequence when Branson pulls a gun and starts to shoot?
- sequester [sɪ'kwɛstəʔ], sequestrate ['sɪkwɛst-reɪt] vt [assets, goods, property] to take <sthg> that belongs to a person or organization and keep it until a debt has been paid or a court order has been obeyed.
- sequin ['sɪkwən] n one of many small shiny disks sewn onto a piece of clothing as decoration.
- sera ['sɪərə] plural of serum.
- Serb [sɜ:'b] n & adj: see Serbia.
- Serbia ['sɜ:'bjə] a country in southeastern Europe. It is one of the two republics remaining after the other Yugoslavian republics became independent in 1991 and 1992. SIZE: 55,968 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,744,000 (Serbs, Serbians). CAPITAL: Belgrade. LANGUAGE: Serbo-Croat. CURRENCY: Yugoslavian dinar.
- Serbian ['sɜ:'bjən] n & adj: see Serbia.
- Serbo-Croat [ˌsɜ:'boʊ'krəʊæt], Serbo-Croatian [ˌsɜ:'boʊ'krəʊ'eɪʃn] n a language that is spoken in Serbia, Croatia, and parts of other countries of the former Yugoslavia.
- serenade [ˌserə'neɪd] ◇ n -1. a song or piece of music sung or played at night to a woman by a lover. -2. a piece of gentle music for a small orchestra □ Dvorak's string serenade. ◇ vt to sing or play a serenade to <sb>.
- serene [sə'ri:n] adj that seems calm and peaceful □ looking out at the serene blue sea □ She gave a serene smile.
- serenely [sə'ri:nli] adv [gaze, smile] see serene □ She seemed serenely confident.
- serenity [sə'renətɪ] n: see serene.
- serf [sɜ:'f] n HISTORY a worker, especially in medieval Europe, who could be bought and sold with the land that they worked on.
- serge [sɜ:'dʒ] n a strong woolen cloth used for making coats, suits, trousers etc.
- sergeant ['sɜ:'dʒənt] n -1. an army officer who is above a corporal in rank. -2. a police officer of the second-lowest rank who is above a constable.
- sergeant major n an army officer who is above a sergeant in rank.
- serial ['sɪəriəl] n a story that is broadcast, televised, or published in parts over a period of time.
- serialize, -ise ['sɪəriəlaɪz] vt [book, story] to publish or broadcast <sthg> as a serial.
- serial killer n a person who commits several similar murders at different times.
- serial number n a number on an item, e.g. a check or banknote, that identifies it from the rest of a series.
- series ['sɪəri:z] (pl series) n -1. a number of similar things, events etc that come one after another □ a series of disasters/phone calls/articles. -2. RADIO & TV a number of programs with the same title that are each complete stories but have the same theme, characters etc □ a new drama series for television.
- serious ['sɪəriəs] adj -1. [illness, mistake, accident] that has or is likely to have very unfortunate or bad results □ You could have caused a serious accident driving like that. □ serious crime. -2. [decision, situation, problem] that is important, difficult to deal with, and causes worry or concern □ You will be in serious trouble if anyone ever finds out. -3. to be serious [person] to be sincere and not joking □ a seri- ous discussion □ Are you serious about wanting to leave? -4. [newspaper, magazine, movie] that is intended to make people think rather than to entertain them □ Dave likes serious music, not all this pop garbage. -5. [person, expression, tone of voice] that seems thoughtful and slightly worried □ You're looking very serious.

seriously ['sɪərɪəslɪ] adv -1. [think, consider, talk] see serious □ I seriously think we should go. ■ to take sb/sthg seriously to believe that sb/sthg is important and deserves to be treated with respect □ I tried telling them, but no one would take me seriously. □ We are taking these threats seriously. -2. [believe, suggest, mean] a word used to show that one means what one is saying and is not joking □ Can you seriously imagine me in that hat? □ "I still love him." — "Seriously?" -3. [ill, mistaken] very badly □ 'Cigarettes can seriously damage your health.' □ If you think I am getting in that car you are seriously mistaken.

seriousness ['sɪərɪəsnəs] n [of a mistake, expression, situation etc] see serious □ Doctors failed to appreciate the seriousness of his illness. ■ in all seriousness a phrase used to show that one is being completely serious when one says something □ In all seriousness, I'm prepared to resign. □ You can't in all seriousness be intending to give him the job!

sermon ['sɜːmən] n -1. RELIGION a talk on a moral or religious subject given by a clergyman during a church service. -2. a spoken warning or piece of advice, usually about one's behavior (disapproving use).

serpent ['sɜːpənt] n a snake (literary use).

serrated [sə'reɪtəd] adj [edge, blade] that has teeth like a saw.

serum ['sɪərəm] (pl serums OR sera) n the watery part of blood; this liquid used as a vaccine to protect against certain diseases.

servant ['sɜːvənt] n a person employed to do household work in somebody else's home.

serve [sɜːv] ◇ vt -1. [country, company, master] to do good or useful work for <sb/sthg> □ I have served this organization for over 15 years. -2. to serve a purpose to be useful □ Does this handle serve any useful purpose, or is it just for decoration? □ That cabinet serves absolutely no purpose at all — I vote we get rid of it. -3. [town, area] to provide  with an essential or important service, e.g. gas, water, or transportation □ Which airport serves Ottawa? □ a network that serves the whole of the USA. -4. to provide <food or drink> for somebody, e.g. in a restaurant or café □ They served us coffee or served coffee to us while we waited. □ What time is breakfast served? -5. to deal with  in a store, restaurant etc by showing and selling them things, taking their order etc □ Would you mind serving that customer, please? □ We were served by a very rude young waiter. -6. LAW [writ, summons, court order] to give or send <an order> to appear in court □ He has been served with a summons OR A summons has been served on him. -7. [prison sentence, apprenticeship, term of office] to spend  doing something for official reasons □ She served ten years for manslaughter. -8. SPORT to hit  toward one's opponent to start play in tennis, volleyball etc □ Navratilova served the ball right into the net. -9. phrase it serves you right a phrase used to tell somebody that something unpleasant or unfortunate that has happened to them is their own fault and they deserve it □ It serves you right if he refused, you should never have asked him in the first place.

◇ vi -1. [in an organization] to carry out duties as a member of an organization such as a government department or an army □ I previously served on an advisory committee. -2. to serve as sthg to be used or understood as sthg □ The hall served as a study. □ Let this serve as a warning! -3. to serve to do sthg to have the effect of doing sthg □ This only served to make things worse. □ This serves to illustrate the point I was trying to make. -4. [at a meal] to give somebody food or drink at a meal □ Shall I serve or will you? -5. [in a store, bar] to deal with customers □ There was nobody serving at the counter. -6. SPORT to hit a ball toward one's opponent to start play in tennis, volleyball etc □ You serve. ◇ n SPORT the act of serving the ball □ It's your serve.

◆ serve out, serve up vt sep to serve sthg out OR up [food, drinks] to divide sthg into portions and give it to people at a meal; to present sthg as a meal or part of a meal.

server ['sɜːvə] n a computer that provides a particular service to computers on the same network □ a print/file server.

service ['sɜːfɪs] ◇ n -1. [in an area] a system or organization that supplies a public need □ the postal/fire service. -2. [for the public] something that is provided for the public by a business, organization etc □ A bus service is available free to the public. □ a 24-hour banking service. -3. [in a firm] employment in a firm, organization etc or as a domestic servant □ She's in domestic service. □ a long-service award. -4. [in a store, hotel] the attention given to customers or work done for them □ The service in here is slow/terrible/excellent. □ 'Service not included.' -5. MILITARY the performance of duties in the armed forces □ He saw active service in Korea. -6. [of a vehicle, machine] the examination, adjustment, and repair of something to keep it working efficiently □ I took the car in for a service. □ The water heater is due for a service. -7. RELIGION a religious ceremony □ Sunday/morning service. -8. [of dishes] a complete set of dishes, plates, cups etc used for serving a meal □ a dinner/tea service. -9. in service [machine] in use or available for use. ■ out of service [machine] not in use or available for use □ This model has been withdrawn from service. -10. SPORT the act of serving the ball, e.g. in tennis □ My service is very weak. -11. phrase to be of service to help somebody (formal use).

◇ vt -1. [vehicle, machine] to examine, adjust, and repair <sthg> to keep it working efficiently □ My car has always been regularly serviced. -2. FINANCE [loan, debt] to pay the interest on <sthg>.

♦ services npl -1. = service area. -2. MILITARY the services the armed forces □ He's in the services. -3. help or work done for other people □ The surgeon offered his services free of charge. □ His services to the community were never properly rewarded.

serviceable ['sɜːvəsəbl] adj practical and useful rather than beautiful or decorative □ This coat may not look too good but it's serviceable and warm.

service area n a place next to a highway where drivers can use a service station, restaurant, rest rooms etc.

service charge n -1. an amount added to a restaurant bill to pay for the service provided by the staff □ Have they added a service charge? □ A service charge of 10% is included on the bill. -2. an amount of money paid to the owners of an apartment building to pay for certain services, e.g. the cleaning of stairs and corridors.

service industries npl industries that provide services, e.g. insurance and transportation, rather than make goods.

serviceman ['sɜːvəmən] (pl servicemen [-mən]) n a man who is in the armed forces.

service station n a garage next to a road that sells gasoline from pumps, has a store selling useful things for road users, e.g. oil, maps, and snack foods, and that often repairs or services motor vehicles.

servicewoman ['sɜːvəswʊmən] (pl servicewomen) n a woman who is in the armed forces.

serviette [,sɜː'vi:t] n GB a square of paper or cloth used to wipe one's mouth and hands while eating.

servile ['sɜːvaɪl] adj [person] who shows somebody too much respect and is too eager to obey or please them (disapproving use) □ He was respectful, but never servile.

serving ['sɜːvɪŋ] ◇ adj -1. a serving spoon/dish a spoon/dish that is used for serving food. -2. [officer, member, diplomat] who is in office. ◇ n a portion of food for one person.

sesame ['sesəmi] n a tropical plant grown for its seeds which are used in cooking and for making cooking oil □ sesame seeds/oil.

session ['seʃn] n -1. a formal meeting or series of meetings of a court, parliament, or council □ The court is in session. □ The next parliamentary session begins in October. -2. a period of time spent on one particular activity □ a recording/discussion/drinking session □ We need a session to work out our budgets. □ the morning/afternoon session. -3. US a school or university term.

set [set] (pt & pp set, cont setting) ◇ vt -1. [object] to put <sthg> in a particular place in a careful and deliberate way □ She brought in the turkey and set it in front of Dad to carve. □ I lifted Amy out of the chair and set her on the floor. -2. to be set into/in sthg [in a surface] to be fixed into/in sthg □ a diamond set in a circle of sapphires □ Metal bars had been set into the concrete. -3. to set sthg on fire/in motion etc to cause sthg to start burning/happening etc □ You nearly set the kitchen on fire! □ The divorce proceedings have been set in motion. □ Why don't you call her and set your mind at rest? ■ to set sb free to free sb who has been in prison or tied up □ The last prisoner has been set free. -4. to set the table to put knives, forks, plates etc on a table so that people can eat □ How many shall I set the table for? □ Set an extra place for Lee. -5. [alarm, meter, timer] to adjust <sthg> so that it starts working at a particular time □ What temperature should I set the oven at? □ You'd better set the alarm for six thirty. ■ to set a trap to prepare a trap so that it will catch an animal. -6. to set a date to decide that something will happen on a particular date □ Have they set a date for their wedding yet? ■ to set a price/limit etc to decide that something will have a particular price/limit etc □ A new minimum wage is to be set. □ We have to follow the guidelines set by the Department. -7. to set an example/a precedent to do something that other people can copy as an example/a precedent □ That jump has set a new world record. □ If I give Jack time off, it'll be setting a precedent for the rest of the staff. -8. GB [exam, homework, essay] to give a student  to do □ The trainees were set an exercise on team-building. -9. [target, standard] to tell somebody to try to achieve <sthg> □ Be sure to set yourself realistic goals. -10. MEDICINE to put  in a fixed position so that it will mend correctly □ The leg will have to be set in plaster. -11. to set sthg to music [poem, words, story] to write music for sthg. -12. to be set in a particular place/period [story, movie] to be shown to be happening in a particular place/period □ The action is set in medieval Japan. -13. to set sb's hair to arrange sb's hair in a particular style using rollers.

◇ vi -1. [sun] to move out of sight below the horizon at the end of the day □ The sun was already beginning to set over the city. -2. [jelly, yogurt] to become solid; [cement, glue] to become hard □ Leave the chocolate mousse to set overnight in a cool place.

◇ adj -1. [procedure, amount, pattern] that is fixed and cannot be easily changed □ My boss leaves work at a set time every day. □ Her parents have very set ideas about marriage. □ He does everything according to a set routine. ■ to be set in one's ways to be unable to change the way one lives because one has lived that way for so long □ They're both too set in their ways to get married now. -2. a set book/text GB a book/text that is part of a course of study □ "Othello" is one of our set texts this year. -3. to be (all) set to do sthg [person] to be going to do sthg very soon □ I was all set to get in the car and drive off when I heard the phone ring. □ The Republicans seem set to win. -4. to be set on doing sthg to be determined to do sthg □ We've tried to talk her out of it, but she seems set on marrying him. ■ to be dead set against sthg [against a decision, proposal, idea] to be strongly opposed to sthg □ I want to leave school, but my parents are dead set against the idea.

- ◇ n -1. [of keys, teeth, golf clubs] a group of things that belong together and make a whole; the group of things needed for a particular activity □ a set of saucepans/tires □ a set of instructions/guidelines □ a chess/chemistry/picnic set. -2. = television set □ Do not adjust your set. -3. [of a movie] the place where a movie is acted and filmed; [of a play] the scenery, furniture etc on a stage where a play is being acted □ Silence on set! □ I didn't like the production, but the set was good. -4. SPORT a series of at least six games in tennis □ Sampras is leading by two sets to love.
- ◆ set about vt fus to set about doing sthg to start doing sthg, especially in a determined way □ We had a coffee, then set about clearing up the mess.
- ◆ set against vt sep -1. to set sthg against sthg to compare sthg with sthg different or more important □ The problems of the inner cities have to be set against the deprivation of rural areas. ■ to set sthg against tax to subtract sthg from the total amount of tax one has to pay. -2. to set sb against sb/sthg to make sb dislike or criticize sb/sthg they liked before □ She's set those children against their father. □ I know he's been trying to set everyone against me.
- ◆ set ahead vt sep US to set a clock/watch ahead to make a clock/watch show a later time □ She always sets her watch five minutes ahead.
- ◆ set apart vt sep to set sb/sthg apart [quality, characteristic, appearance] to show sb/sthg to be obviously different and sometimes better than others of the same kind □ Our unique commitment to quality sets this airline apart from its competitors.
- ◆ set aside vt sep -1. to set sthg aside [money, time, food] to save sthg so that it can be used later □ Remember to set aside at least half an hour to read through your answers. -2. to set sthg aside [decision, fact, feeling] to deliberately pay no attention to sthg when one is considering a problem or situation □ Setting aside the political impact of the change, does it make economic sense?
- ◆ set back vt sep -1. to set sb/sthg back to delay sb/sthg □ The traffic jam set us back (by) at least an hour. -2. to set sb back by a particular amount to cost sb a particular amount of money (informal use) □ Taking the kids to Disneyland could set you back $100! -3. to be set back from sthg to be some distance from sthg □ The house is set back a little way from the main road. -4. to set a clock/watch back US to make a clock/watch show an earlier time.
- ◆ set down vt sep -1. to set sthg down [statement, thought, fact] to write sthg down □ While he was traveling, he set down his impressions of China in his diaries. -2. to set sthg down to put sthg down, especially a large or heavy object □ Set that crate down gently, it's full of glasses. -3. to set sb down GB [passenger] to stop a car and allow sb to get out □ There's an area for setting down passengers outside Terminal 1.
- ◆ set in vi [infection, bad weather, depression] to start and seem likely to continue □ By late afternoon the rain had set in, so the game was canceled.
- ◆ set off ◇ vi [person, vehicle] to start a trip □ What time did you set off? ◇ vt sep -1. to set sthg off [argument, avalanche, chain reaction] to cause sthg to start happening, especially without intending to □ Her resignation set off a flurry of speculation and rumors in the press. -2. to set sthg off [bomb, firework, mine] to cause sthg to explode; [alarm, fire extinguisher, siren] to cause sthg to start working □ The bomb was set off when the car engine started up. □ The burned cookies accidentally set off the smoke alarm.
- ◆ set on vt sep to set sb/sthg on sb [dog, police, guard] to cause sb/sthg to attack sb □ The owner of the store set his dog on the intruders.
- ◆ set out ◇ vt sep -1. to set sthg out [chairs, food, wares] to arrange sthg so that it can be looked at or used □ Set out four cups and saucers for coffee. -2. to set sthg out [facts, theory, results] to explain sthg clearly in an organized way □ The pros and cons of the merger are all set out in my document. ◇ vt fus to set out to do sthg to decide to do sthg and start doing it in a determined way □ I believe he deliberately set out to cause trouble. ◇ vi [person] to start a trip, especially a long or difficult one □ Eventually we sold our few remaining possessions and set out for home.
- ◆ set up ◇ vt sep -1. to set up sthg [company, organization, system] to create sthg and start it working □ The firm was set up in 1988. ■ to set oneself up to start one's own business □ She's hoping to set herself up as a translator. ■ to set up house OR home to start living in a place permanently □ They want to marry and set up home together. -2. to set sthg up [deal, meeting, interview] to arrange for sthg to happen □ Do you think you'd be able to set up an interview with Nielsen for me? -3. to set up sthg [roadblock, statue, stall] to put sthg in position □ Police set up roadblocks near all ports and airports. -4. to set up sthg [equipment, camera, projector] to prepare sthg for use by putting it in the right place, checking that it works etc □ I need someone to set up the overhead projector for me in time for the lecture. -5. to set sb up to cause sb to appear to be guilty of a crime they have not committed (informal use) □ I've been set up!
- ◇ vi to set up (in business) to start one's own business □ I set up on my own/in insurance four years ago.
- setback ['setbæk] n something that delays or prevents progress toward a successful result □ We suffered numerous setbacks before we could finally get the business up and running.
- set menu n a meal that is offered at a fixed price with a limited choice of dishes.
- setsquare ['setskweəʃ] n GB a flat triangular piece of plastic, metal, or wood used for drawing angles and lines.

settee [se'ti:ɪ] n a comfortable soft seat with a back and arms, for two or more people.

setter ['setə] n a long-haired dog that can be trained by hunters to find animals or birds.

setting ['setɪŋ] n -1. the surroundings of a particular place □ The house stands in a beautiful setting of trees and fields. -2. [for a story] the time and place where a story, event etc takes place □ Rio is the perfect setting for this movie. -3. [of controls] a position in which a dial or the controls of an instrument are set □ Are you sure you've got it on the right setting?

settle ['setl] ◇ vt -1. [dispute, argument, issue] to end <sthg> in an agreement or a decision □ That's settled: we're going to Spain. □ I want this matter to be settled promptly. -2. [bill, debt, claim] to pay <sthg>. -3. to make <sb> comfortable □ Ken settled herself in an armchair and opened his book. □ She settled the patients for the night. -4. [nerves, stomach] to calm <sthg> □ Take some bicarbonate to settle your stomach.

◇ vi -1. to make one's home somewhere □ They've settled in Baltimore. -2. to make oneself comfortable □ We settled in front of the fire for the evening. -3. [dust, sediment, fog] to come down and stay somewhere □ The tea leaves settled in the bottom of the cup. -4. to settle on sthg [bird, insect] to land on sthg.

◆ settle down vi -1. to settle down to sthg to begin to give one's attention to sthg □ Eventually I settled down to writing the report. □ She settled down to her magazine. -2. to start to live a quieter, more stable life □ When are you going to get married and settle down? -3. to gradually adapt and get used to a new situation □ Are you settling down in your new job? -4. to make oneself comfortable □ They settled down for supper/the night. -5. to become calm or quiet □ Settle down now, children! □ Let's wait for things to settle down before we announce any more changes.

◆ settle for vt fus to settle for sthg to accept or agree to sthg that is not what one really wanted □ I'm not prepared to settle for less.

◆ settle in vi to gradually adapt and get used to a new situation, e.g. a new home or job □ How are you settling in at your new school?

◆ settle on vt fus to settle on sthg to decide on sthg □ There was an enormous choice but we finally settled on the blue sedan.

◆ settle up vi to pay a bill or amount owed □ Can I settle up with you later?

settled ['setld] adj [weather] that is stable and is not going to change.

settlement ['setlmənt] n -1. [of a dispute, argument, issue] an agreement or decision that settles something □ a peace/wage settlement □ Negotiators are hoping to reach a settlement. -2. [of people] a large group of people who have recently come to a place, usually from a foreign country, to live and create new towns and villages □ Tutsi settlements. -3. [of a bill, debt, claim] see settle □ I enclose a check in settlement of my account.

settler ['setlə] n a member of a new settlement □ settlers on the West Bank.

set-to n a fight or argument (informal use).

set-up n (informal use) -1. the way in which something is run or organized □ He's new to the firm so he doesn't know the set-up yet. -2. a secret arrangement to make somebody appear guilty of a crime, or to put them in danger □ This is a set-up!

seven ['sevn] num the number 7; see also five □ The mall is open seven days a week.

Seven Sisters npl the Seven Sisters a name used for the seven most respected colleges for women in the USA. They are Vassar, Wellesley, Smith, Bryn Mawr, Barnard, Radcliffe, and Mount Holyoke.

seventeen [,sevn'ti:n] num the number 17; see also fifteen.

seventeenth [,sevn'ti:nθ] num 17th; number 17 in a series; see also fifteenth.

seventh ['sevnθ] num 7th; number 7 in a series; see also fifth.

Seventh-Day Adventist [-'ædvəntəst] n a member of a Protestant church who believes that Jesus Christ will come back to Earth soon.

seventh heaven n to be in (one's) seventh heaven to be completely happy.

seventieth ['sevn'tjəθ] num 70th; number 70 in a series; see also fiftieth.

seventy ['sevntri] num the number 70; see also fifty.

sever ['sevə] vt -1. [limb, artery, pipe] to cut through <sthg> completely so that it is no longer attached to the main part. -2. [links, relations] to bring <sthg> to an end □ We have severed all ties with non-EU companies.

several ['sevrəl] ◇ det used to refer to a number of people, things, or places that is not large but is more than two □ He was missing for several days. □ Several people reported seeing the stolen car. □ several hundred/thousand dollars □ It took several attempts to get the car to start. ◇ pron: I've already read several of her books. □ There were several of us in the office that day.

severance ['sevrəns] n [of links, ties, relations] see sever.

severance pay n money paid to employees who have been dismissed by a company because it no longer has a job for them.

severe [sə'viə] adj -1. [injury, shortage, setback] serious □ There are severe food shortages in some areas. -2. [pain, shock] that is intense □ Nicole was in severe pain from her injury. -3. [winter, conditions] that causes suffering and difficulty □ Driving conditions are extremely severe. -4. [person, criticism, measures] that is harsh and unkind □ Don't be too severe on her.

severely [sə'viəli] adv -1. severely injured/damaged etc seriously injured/damaged etc □ Our stocks are severely depleted. -2. [say, look, answer] see severe □ He was severely reprimanded.

severity [sə'verəti] n [of conditions, criticism, a problem] see severe □ the severity of her tone.

sew [sou] (US pp sewed OR sewn, GB pp sewn) ◇ vi to put stitches in cloth using a needle and thread. ◇ vt -1. to join or fasten <sthg>

- by sewing □ The seam has been badly sewn. □ She sewed on all those sequins one by one.
- 2. to repair  etc by sewing.
- ◆ sew up vt sep -1. to sew a hole/tear up to repair a hole/tear by sewing. ■ to sew pieces of cloth up to join pieces of cloth by sewing.
- 2. to sew sthg up [deal, election, game] to arrange sthg in a satisfactory way (informal use) □ It's all sewn up! -3. to have a situation sewn up to control or dominate a situation (informal use) □ The company seems to have the domestic market sewn up.
- sewage ['su:ɪdʒ] n waste matter from human bodies that is carried away from houses in drains □ a plant for treating raw sewage.
- sewage farm, sewage works n a place where sewage is treated so that it is no longer harmful.
- sewer ['su:ə] n an underground pipe or passage that carries sewage □ a sewer pipe.
- sewerage ['su:ərɪdʒ] n the system of carrying away sewage through sewers.
- sewing ['su:ɪŋ] n -1. the activity of sewing things □ I can't stand sewing! -2. things that are being sewn □ a pile of sewing.
- sewing machine n a machine for sewing that is worked by hand or by electricity.
- sewn [soun] past participle of sew.
- sex [seks] n -1. the condition of being male or female □ factors that determine the sex of a baby □ sex discrimination. -2. either one of the two groups, male and female, into which people and animals are divided □ people of both sexes □ the male/female/opposite sex. -3. any physical activity between two people that involves exciting the sex organs for pleasure or in order to make a woman pregnant □ He had never really enjoyed sex. □ Margot still considers sex immoral. ■ to have sex with sb to have sexual intercourse with sb.
- sex aid n an object designed to help people enjoy sex more.
- sex appeal n sexual attractiveness.
- sex change n an operation or type of treatment that makes a person look more like a person of the opposite sex.
- sex education n education on sexual activity and relationships, usually given to children.
- sexism ['seksɪzəm] n sexist beliefs or attitudes.
- sexist ['seksɪst] (disapproving use) ◇ adj [remark, attitude, person] that suggests that one sex, especially the female sex, is less important, able, or intelligent than the other sex. ◇ n a person, usually a man, who has sexist attitudes.
- sex life n a person's sexual activities □ They have an active/a healthy sex life.
- sex object n a person seen only in terms of their sexual attractiveness and not their personality, mind etc.
- sex shop n a store where sex aids, videos, magazines etc are sold.
- sex symbol n a famous person who a lot of people think is sexually attractive.
- sextet [seks'tet] n a group of six musicians or singers; a piece of music written for such a group.
- sextuplet [sek'stʌplət] n any one of six babies born at the same birth.
- sexual ['sekʃʊəl] adj -1. [feeling, relationship, abuse] that is connected with sex □ his first sexual experience. -2. [politics, discrimination] that is connected with differences between the two sexes □ sexual equality/inequality.
- sexual assault n an attack, usually by a man on a woman, that involves rape, attempted rape, or some form of sexual violence.
- sexual harassment n annoying behavior toward another person, e.g. at work, that involves unwanted sexual advances, remarks, jokes etc.
- sexual intercourse n the physical act in which a man puts his penis into a woman's vagina for pleasure or to make her pregnant.
- sexuality [ˌsekʃʊ'æləti] n -1. a person's ability to experience sexual feelings □ a discussion about women's sexuality. -2. the particular way in which a person experiences sexual feelings, e.g. toward people of the same sex or of a different sex □ He was unsure about his sexuality.
- sexually ['sekʃʊəli] adv [active, attractive] see sexual □ Marsha was sexually harassed/abused. □ a sexually transmitted disease.
- sexy ['seksi] (compar sexier, superl sexiest) adj [person, voice, picture] that is sexually attractive or exciting □ That's a very sexy dress you're wearing.
- Seychelles [ser'felz]: the Seychelles a country consisting of a group of islands in the Indian Ocean, east of Kenya. SIZE: 410 sq kms. POPULATION: 70,000 (Seychellois). CAPITAL: Victoria. LANGUAGE: Creole, English, French. CURRENCY: Seychelles rupee.
- sf, SF n abbr of science fiction.
- SFO (abbr of Serious Fraud Office) n the SFO the British government department responsible for investigating serious fraud in companies.
- Sgt abbr of sergeant.
- sh [ʃ] excl used to tell people to be silent or make less noise □ Sh, the baby's asleep! □ Sh, I want to hear what he's saying!
- shabby ['ʃæbi] (compar shabbier, superl shabbiest) adj -1. [clothes, furniture] that is old and has been used a lot □ We sat down on a shabby old sofa. -2. [person] who is wearing shabby clothes □ Caralli came in, looking as shabby as ever in an old greatcoat. -3. [treatment, trick, behavior] that one thinks is mean and unfair □ I think that was a shabby trick to play on someone!
- shack [ʃæk] n a small roughly-built shed, hut, or house.
- shackle ['ʃækl] vt -1. [prisoner] to put shackles on <sb>. -2. to limit the freedom of <sb> to act, speak, think etc (literary use).
- ◆ shackles npl -1. metal rings joined by a chain, used to tie a prisoner's wrists or ankles together. -2. limits on somebody's freedom to act, speak, think etc (literary use).

shade [ʃeɪd] ◇ n -1. a darker and cooler area where there is no sunlight because something stands between this area and the sun □ The tall buildings provided welcome shade from the sun. □ We sat in the shade of a tree/an umbrella. -2. [of a lamp] the part of a lamp that goes around the bulb to stop the light from dazzling people. -3. [of a color] a color that is slightly darker or lighter than a main color such as red or blue □ We have a wide range of suits in discreet shades of blue and gray to choose from. -4. [of meaning, opinion] a slight variation □ subtle shades of meaning.

◇ vt to protect <sb/sthg> from direct light or heat □ He raised his hand to shade his eyes from the blazing sun.

◇ vi to shade into sthg to change very gradually into sthg else □ The two colors shade into each other.

◆ shades npl sunglasses (informal use).

shading ['ʃeɪdɪŋ] n the darker areas in a picture that make things look real and three-dimensional.

shadow ['ʃædəʊ] n -1. a dark shape on a surface that is produced when something prevents direct light from reaching the surface □ She watched her own shadow as she walked. □ The building cast a huge shadow over the street. -2. a dark and cool area where the sunlight is blocked out □ The yard is in shadow for most of the day. -3. [under one's eyes] a dark area or patch like a shadow under one's eyes caused e.g. by illness or lack of sleep □ He had dark shadows under his eyes. -4. phrases to be a shadow of one's former self to have lost the strength, enthusiasm, skill etc one used to have. ■ there's not a OR the shadow of a doubt there's no doubt at all □ There's not a shadow of a doubt that Klaus is guilty.

shadow cabinet n GB the leaders of the main opposition party in Parliament, who will become ministers if they win the next election.

shadowy ['ʃædəʊ] adj -1. [corridor, corner, forest] that is dark and full of shadows □ I walked between the tall shadowy buildings. -2. [figure, outline, form] that is difficult to see clearly because there is not enough light □ A shadowy figure was standing near the doorway. -3. [person, group] that little is known about □ the shadowy world of the Mafia.

shady ['ʃeɪdɪ] (compar shadier, superl shadiest) adj -1. [yard, spot, corner] that is in the shade □ We found a shady spot for our picnic. -2. [tree, canopy] that is in the shade □ They sat under a shady tree. -3. [person, deal, organization] that is not completely honest □ There's something very shady going on here.

shaft [US ʃæft, GB ʃɑ:ft] n -1. a long, narrow, often vertical space or passage □ a mine/an elevator/a ventilator shaft. -2. [in a machine] a revolving rod in a machine □ a drive/propeller shaft. -3. a shaft of light a narrow beam of light.

shaggy ['ʃæɡɪ] (compar shaggier, superl shaggiest) adj -1. [hair, beard] that looks long, rough, and untidy. -2. [dog] that has a shaggy coat. -3. [carpet, rug, coat] that has long rough fibers.

shaggy-dog story n a long rambling joke, usually with a deliberately silly ending.

shake [ʃeɪk] (pt shook, pp shaken) ◇ vt -1. to cause <sb/sthg> to move up and down or from side to side with quick short movements □ He shook her angrily. □ I shook myself free. □ He shook the snow out of his hair. □ 'Shake the bottle well before use.' ■ to shake sb's hand, to shake sb by the hand to shake sb's right hand in one's own when one greets them, says goodbye, or agrees on something □ We shook hands and said goodbye. □ She shook hands with me and said, "Well done." ■ to shake one's head to move one's head from side to side to say "no" or to show that one disagrees, disapproves, has doubts, is sad etc □ Murphy shook his head disapprovingly. □ She shook her head in disgust. -2. [person] to upset or shock <sb> □ She was badly shaken by the news. -3. [faith, confidence, trust] to weaken <sthg> □ These latest results have shaken investors' confidence in the bank.

◇ vi [person, voice] to tremble, usually uncontrollably □ He was shaking with cold/fear.

◇ n an act of shaking □ He was so naive about it, I wanted to give him a good shake.

◆ shake down vt sep US (informal use) -1. to shake sb down to get money from sb by threats, tricks etc. -2. to shake sb/sthg down to search sb/sthg thoroughly.

◆ shake off vt sep -1. to shake sb off [police, pursuer] to escape from sb who is following or chasing one. -2. to shake sthg off [illness, infection] to get rid of sthg □ I can't seem to shake off this cold.

◆ shake up vt sep to shake sb up to upset or shock sb □ Sandy was really shaken up by the news.

shakedown ['ʃeɪkdaʊn] n US (informal use) -1. the act of getting money from somebody by threats, tricks etc. -2. a thorough search.

shaken ['ʃeɪkən] past participle of shake.

shakeout ['ʃeɪkaʊt] n -1. = shake-up. -2. FINANCE a situation in which weak companies tend to go out of business because of a drop in industrial or business activity.

Shakers ['ʃeɪkəz] npl the Shakers a religious group in the USA, related to the Quakers. Their simple style of handmade furniture has become very popular.

Shakespeare ['ʃeɪkspiə] William (1564–1616) an English writer whose tragic, comic, and historical plays, including King Lear, Othello, and Hamlet, are very important in the history of English literature.

Shakespearean ['ʃeɪkspiəriən] adj [play, drama] that was written by Shakespeare or is similar in style; [actor] who acts in the plays of Shakespeare.

shake-up n a large number of changes designed to improve an organization, company, system etc (informal use).

shaky ['ʃeɪkɪ] (compar shakier, superl shakiest)

- adj -1. [person, hand, voice] that shakes as a result of old age, illness, shock etc □ He's been a little shaky ever since his fall. -2. [start, argument, finances] that is weak or uncertain □ We got off to a rather shaky start, but after that things were okay.
- shale [ʃeɪl] n a soft rock that breaks easily into thin flat pieces.
- shall [stressed ʃæl, unstressed ʃəl] modal vb -1. I/we shall... used to express the future tense □ We shall be away until June. □ I shall now hand you over to our guest speaker, Hannah Chaplin. -2. shall I/we...? GB used to ask questions and make suggestions □ What shall we tell them? □ Shall I give her a call, then? □ I'll write and accept then, shall I? -3. used to say that something is definitely going to happen (formal use) □ It shall be done. □ We shall overcome. -4. used in official documents to say what must happen or be done (formal use) □ Employees shall be given one month's notice of dismissal.
- shallot [ʃə'lɒt] n a vegetable that looks like a small round onion.
- shallow ['ʃæləʊ] adj -1. [water, dish, hole] not deep □ The water was very shallow at this point. -2. [person] who does not think deeply or seriously about anything; [argument, remark, life-style] that does not show or involve deep or serious thought □ I find her rather shallow, to be honest. □ It's rather a shallow way to live your life, don't you think? -3. shallow breathing a way of breathing in which only a little air goes into the lungs at each breath.
- ♦ shallows npl a shallow part of a river, lake, sea etc, usually near the edge.
- sham [ʃæm] (pt & pp shammed, cont shamming) ◇ adj [sincerity, concern, enthusiasm] that is false. ◇ n something that is not what it is supposed or claimed to be □ Their marriage was a sham, they never loved each other. ◇ vi to pretend.
- shambles ['ʃæmblz] n a shambles a place or situation that seems completely disorganized □ He left the room in a complete shambles. □ What a shambles!
- shame [ʃeɪm] ◇ n -1. a strong feeling of guilt and embarrassment that one has when one has done something wrong □ He felt no shame at what he had done. □ a sense of shame. -2. to bring shame on OR upon sb to do something that causes people to lose their respect for sb and the group or family that they belong to □ His actions brought shame on his family. -3. it's a shame (that)... a phrase used to say one regrets something and wishes that the situation was different □ It's a shame you can't stay longer. ■ what a shame! a phrase used to express regret or sympathy □ What a shame you have to leave so soon! ◇ vt -1. to bring shame on <sb> □ It shames me to think that you could do such a thing. -2. to shame sb into doing sth to force sb to do sth by making them feel shame.
- shamefaced [,ʃeɪm'feɪst] adj [expression, apology] that shows a feeling of shame □ The boys came in looking very shamefaced.
- shameful ['ʃeɪmfʊl] adj [behavior, waste] that one thinks should make somebody feel ashamed □ I've never seen such a shameful display of greed!
- shameless ['ʃeɪmləs] adj [person] who does not feel any shame about doing something that other people think is wrong □ He's a shameless liar!
- shammy ['ʃæmi] (pl shammies) n a shammy (leather) a piece of soft leather used for cleaning and polishing.
- shampoo [ʃæm'puː] (pl shampoos, pt & pp shampooed, cont shampooing) ◇ n a soapy liquid or cream used for washing hair, carpets, or cars; a wash using this liquid or cream □ a bottle of shampoo □ hair shampoo □ She had a shampoo and set. ◇ vt [hair, carpet, car] to wash <sthg> using shampoo.
- shamrock ['ʃæmrɒk] n a plant similar to clover that has three round leaves on each stem. It is the national symbol of Ireland.
- shandy ['ʃændi] (pl shandies) n GB a drink made by mixing beer with lemon soda; a glass of this drink.
- Shanghai [,ʃæŋ'haɪ] a city in eastern China. It is a major port, and China's largest city. POPULATION: 11,860,000.
- Shannon ['ʃænən]: the Shannon the longest river in the Irish Republic.
- shan't [US ʃænt, GB ʃɑ:nt] = shall not.
- shantytown ['ʃæntɪtaʊn] n a part of a town or city where poor people live in badly made huts and shacks.
- shape [ʃeɪp] ◇ n -1. [of an object, area] the form of the outer edges of something □ The room is an awkward shape. □ a building in the shape of a "T" □ It's round in shape. -2. [of an object, person] an object or a person that cannot be recognized because they are hard to see □ I could just make out some vague shapes in the distance. -3. [of a plan, organization] the basic structure or outline of something. ■ to take shape [plan, idea, building] to develop and start to take on a clear and definite form □ The plot was starting to take shape in Murdoch's mind. -4. phrases in the shape of... a phrase used to introduce more detailed information about something □ Help came in the shape of an interest-free loan from a friend. ■ not in any shape or form not of any kind □ I've never taken a bribe in any shape or form. ■ to be in good/bad etc shape [economy, person] to be in a good/bad etc state or condition □ She didn't look in very good shape after the accident. □ What sort of shape is the car in now? ■ to lick OR knock sb into shape [new recruit, staff] to bring sb up to the desired standard, level of skill etc □ We'll soon lick the new team into shape. ◇ vt -1. [dough, wood, stone] to give <sthg> a particular shape □ a birthmark shaped like a strawberry □ a beautifully shaped window □ He shaped the clay into a bowl. -2. [ideas, events, future] to have a great influence on the development of <sthg> □ These policies are shaping the future for our children.
- ♦ shape up vi [job, business, new recruit] to develop, especially in a promising way □ Things are shaping up well on the African deal. □ You'll have to shape up or you'll lose your job.

SHAPE [ʃeɪp] (abbr of Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers, Europe) n the military headquarters of NATO, in Belgium.

-shaped [ˈʃeɪpt] suffix added to words to show the particular shape of something □ an L-shaped room □ egg-shaped □ star-shaped.

shapeless [ˈʃeɪpləs] adj -1. [mass, mound, heap] that has no definite or easily described shape □ a shapeless form lying on the ground. -2. [sweater, dress] that does not have an attractive shape or that has lost its original shape □ She was wearing a rather shapeless woolen dress. -3. [piece of writing, movie, plan] that has no clear structure.

shapely [ˈʃeɪpli] (compar shapelier, superl shape-liest) adj [legs, body, figure] that has an attractive shape □ a shapely young woman.

shard [ʃɑːd] n a broken piece of glass, metal or pottery.

share [ʃeə] ◇ n -1. the part of something that belongs to, is given to, or done by a particular person □ Everyone got a share in/of the profits. □ We must all accept our share of the blame. □ Each child received a share of the estate. ■ to have one's share of sthg [of luck, criticism] to have a lot of sthg □ He's had more than his fair share of disasters this year. ■ to do one's share to do the part of a job or task that one is responsible for □ Not everyone is doing their share of the work. -2. FINANCE one of the many parts that a company's capital is divided into □ I bought/sold shares in Kingston Corp. □ a block of shares.

◇ vt -1. [room, house, facilities] to use <sthg> jointly with other people □ I have my own kitchen but I share the bathroom with two others. -2. [money, food, resources] to give some of <sthg> to another person or to other people □ You've got plenty — why don't you share it with the rest of us? -3. [cost, expenses] to have joint responsibility for <sthg> □ We share the rent for the apartment. -4. [thought, news, secret] to tell somebody about <sthg> □ He simply had to share the news with somebody. -5. [dislike, concern, fear] to have  that somebody else also feels □ We share your joy at your daughter's marriage. □ We share many interests.

◇ vi -1. to use something jointly with other people □ We're a book short — can you two share? □ "I can't find my drink." — "You can have some of this if you don't mind sharing." -2. to have a feeling that somebody else also feels □ We all share in your happiness.

◆ share out vt sep to share sthg out [money, work, food] to divide sthg into equal parts and give them to all the people in a group □ Profits are shared out equally among the partners.

share capital n the money received by a company from a sale of shares and used for carrying on a business.

share certificate n GB = stock certificate.

shareholder [ˈʃeəˈhouldə] n a person or company that owns shares in a company □ Major shareholders in the company include the PCB group. □ a shareholders' meeting.

share index n an index of changes in the value of shares.

share-out n [of goods, money, profits] an act of sharing something out.

shareware [ˈʃeəˈweə] n cheap computer software that is free or easily available.

shark [ʃɑːk] (pl shark or sharks) n -1. a very large sea fish with a triangular fin on its back that sometimes attacks people. -2. a person who gets money from other people in a dishonest way.

sharp [ʃɑːp] ◇ adj -1. [blade, needle, teeth] that has a very fine edge or point that can cut or pierce easily □ Be careful — that knife's very sharp. □ That pen has a very sharp point on it. □ Avoid furniture with sharp edges in a child's bedroom. -2. [outline, contrast, photograph] that is clear, so that the edges, differences, details etc are easy to see □ The image is not sharp enough to be able to make out all the details. □ This book is a sharp contrast to his previous novel. -3. [person] who is quick to notice, understand, or react to something □ She's very sharp. □ You have very sharp eyesight. -4. [rise, drop, fall] that takes place suddenly and makes a large difference to the amount or level of something; [bend, turn] that is produced by something that suddenly makes a big change in direction □ There has been a sharp increase/decrease in the number of accidents. -5. [blow, knock, tap] that is quick and firm □ Give the shell a sharp tap. -6. [bend, turning] that changes direction suddenly □ The car made a sharp left-hand turn. -7. [criticism, rebuke, words] that is a little angry or severe □ She was pretty sharp with me. -8. [pain, cold, wind] that one feels intensely □ a sharp, cold wind. -9. [taste, drink] that stings the tongue in a pleasant way □ The wine tastes slightly sharp. -10. [note, voice, instrument] that produces a sound slightly higher than the correct pitch. -11. MUSIC that is raised in pitch by a half-step □ C/D/F sharp □ Klaus' clarinet quintet in F sharp.

◇ adv -1. exactly □ She promised to be here at eight o'clock sharp. -2. a word that indicates a sudden change in direction □ The road turns sharp left/right at the lights.

◇ n MUSIC a symbol (#) used to show that a note should be sung or played a half-step higher; a note of this type.

sharpen [ˈʃɑːpən] ◇ vt -1. [knife, tool, pencil] to make <sthg> sharp □ These scissors need sharpening. -2. [sense, ability, mind] to make <sthg> quicker and better at reacting to or dealing with things □ This course will help you to sharpen your debating skills. -3. [disagreement, conflict, contrast] to make <sthg> more intense □ What was said only served to sharpen their hostility toward us. ◇ vi -1. [sense, ability, mind] My timing has sharpened a lot with all this practice. -2. [disagreement, conflict, contrast] The debate has sharpened over recent years.

sharp end n to be at the sharp end of sthg GB to be in a position where the problems and pressures involved in sthg are experienced most directly.

sharpener ['ʃɑ:ˈpiːnə] n a device for sharpening something □ a knife sharpener.

sharp-eyed [-'aɪd] adj [neighbor, observer] who notices things quickly and easily.

sharply ['ʃɑ:ˈpli] adv [contrast, increase, criticize] see sharp □ Sandy was sharply criticized for her decision. □ The car veered sharply to the left.

sharpshooter ['ʃɑ:ˈpʃu:tə] n a person who is skilled at shooting accurately.

sharp-tongued [-'tʌŋd] adj [person] who is harsh in their remarks, comments etc.

sharp-witted [-'wɪtəd] adj [person] who is quick at realizing things and understanding them.

shat▼ ['ʃæt] past tense & past participle of shit.

shatter ['ʃætə] ◇ vt -1. [glass, window, vase] to break <sthg> violently into small pieces □ The bullet shattered the car windshield. -2. [beliefs, hopes, dreams] to destroy <sthg> □ The result shattered her hopes of a third term in office. ◇ vi [glass, window, vase] All the windows shattered under the effects of the blast.

shattered ['ʃætəd] adj -1. who feels very shocked and upset □ The news left her shattered. -2. GB who feels very tired (informal use) □ I'm absolutely shattered after that walk.

shattering ['ʃætərɪŋ] adj [news, defeat, disappointment] that is very shocking and upsetting □ The news was a shattering blow to staff morale.

shatterproof ['ʃætəˈpru:f] adj [glass] that does not break into small pieces when damaged.

shave [ʃeɪv] ◇ n -1. an act of shaving □ I need a shave. ■ to have a shave [man] to shave one's face □ I had a shave this morning. -2. a close shave a situation in which one only just avoids something bad, e.g. an accident, a disaster, or being caught □ That was a close shave! ◇ vt -1. [head, face, legs] to cut hair from  using a razor. -2. [man] to cut hair from the face of  using a razor. -3. [wood, metal] to cut very fine pieces from the surface of <wood or metal>. ◇ vi [man] to cut hair from one's face using a razor.

◆ shave off vt sep to shave off one's beard/mustache/hair to remove one's beard/mustache/hair using a razor.

shaven ['ʃeɪvən] adj [head, face] that has been shaved.

shaver ['ʃeɪvə] n an electric razor □ a rechargeable/electric shaver.

shaving brush ['ʃeɪvɪŋ-] n a brush used with shaving soap.

shaving cream n a soapy substance a man puts on his face before shaving to make the hair soft and wet.

shaving foam n shaving cream from an aerosol can.

shavings ['ʃeɪvɪŋz] npl very fine pieces of wood or metal that have been shaved from the surface of something □ wood shavings.

shaving soap n a type of soap used instead of shaving cream or foam.

Shaw [ʃɔ:], George Bernard (1856–1950) an Irish writer and critic whose plays, e.g. Pygmalion, are full of witty remarks and criticisms of society.

shawl [ʃɔ:l] n a large square or rectangular piece of cloth worn over the head or shoulders by women or wrapped around a baby.

Shawnee [ˌʃɔ:ˈni:] (pl Shawnee OR Shawnees) n a member of a Native American people who used to live in Ohio; the language of this people.

she [ʃi:] ◇ pron -1. the woman, girl, or female animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc (used as the subject of a verb) □ She and I have known each other for years. -2. used to refer to a ship, car, or nation □ She can do over 120 miles an hour. ◇ n a female animal or baby □ Is it a she or a he?

she- prefix added to words to refer to the female of a particular type of animal □ a she-elephant □ a she-wolf.

sheaf [ʃi:f] (pl sheaves) n [of papers, letters] a number of things held or fastened together □ sheaves of wheat.

shear [ʃɪə] (pt sheared, pp sheared OR shorn) vt to cut the wool off .

◆ shears npl -1. [for a garden] a tool similar to a large pair of scissors, used for cutting hedges, pruning bushes etc. -2. [for dress-making] large scissors used for cutting cloth.

◆ shear off ◇ vt sep to shear sthg off to cause a metal object or part to break off because of pressure. ◇ vi: The head of the bolt had completely sheared off.

sheath [ʃi:θ] (pl sheaths) n -1. [for a knife, sword] a close-fitting cover for the blade of a knife, sword etc. -2. [for a cable] a close-fitting protective covering for a cable, usually made of rubber or plastic.

sheathe [ʃi:ð] vt -1. [sword, knife, dagger] to put <sthg> in a sheath. -2. [cable, pipe] to put a sheath on <sthg> □ The wiring was sheathed in plastic.

sheath knife n a knife that is carried in a sheath on one's belt.

sheaves [ʃi:vz] plural of sheaf.

Sheba ['ʃi:bə]: the Queen of Sheba in the Bible, a very rich queen from Arabia.

shed [ʃed] (pt & pp shed, cont shedding) ◇ n a simple small building, often of wood, that consists of one room and is used for storing things or sheltering animals or vehicles □ a bicycle/garden/tool shed.

◇ vt -1. [leaves, hair, skin] to lose <sthg> because it falls off naturally □ All the trees had shed their leaves. -2. [staff, image, weight] to get rid of <sthg that one no longer wants> □ The company is shedding 600 jobs. □ He shed his inhibitions and joined in. □ I've shed about 12 pounds in a few weeks. -3. to shed its load [truck, van] to drop or lose its load accidentally. -4. to shed blood to cause violent injury and death □ Much blood was shed during the riots. ■ to shed tears to cry □ There won't be many tears shed at his leaving party.

she'd [stressed ʃi:d, unstressed ʃɪd] = she had, she would.

sheen [ʃi:n] n a soft shine on a smooth surface □ Her hair has a beautiful sheen.

sheep [ʃi:p] (pl sheep) n -1. a farm animal that is kept in large flocks for its meat and its thick wool □ They keep over 500 sheep on their farm. □ a flock of sheep. -2. a person who is easily influenced, who obeys without question, or who imitates the behavior of others □ They're just a lot of sheep, each one blindly following everybody else.

sheepdog ['ʃi:pɒg] n a dog trained to guard and control sheep.

sheepish ['ʃi:pɪʃ] adj [look, smile] that shows that one is embarrassed about something silly one has done □ He came in looking a little sheepish.

sheepishly ['ʃi:pɪʃli] adv [look, smile, grin] see sheepish.

sheepskin ['ʃi:pskɪn] n the skin and wool of a sheep, used for rugs, coats etc □ a sheepskin jacket.

sheepskin rug n a rug made from sheepskin.

sheer [ʃiə] adj -1. [madness, determination, luck] a word used to emphasize that only a particular quality and nothing but that quality is involved in or shown by something □ a feeling of sheer bliss □ It was sheer stupidity on my part. -2. [drop, cliff, wall] that goes down or up vertically or almost vertically □ The canyon has sheer sides that plunge down 300 feet to the river below. -3. [silk, nylon, stockings] that is very fine and delicate and almost transparent □ a pair of sheer silk stockings.

sheet [ʃi:t] n -1. a large rectangular piece of material used on a bed as one of a pair between which people sleep □ a cotton sheet. ■ to be as white as a sheet to be very pale because one is scared, shocked, or ill. -2. a flat rectangular piece of something such as paper or glass □ a sheet of paper/aluminum.

sheet feed n COMPUTING a system that allows single sheets of paper to be fed through a printer.

sheet ice n ice which has formed a thick layer, especially on a road.

sheeting ['ʃi:tɪŋ] n material that is made into large, flat, thin pieces □ plastic/polythene/metal sheeting.

sheet lightning n lightning that appears as a large bright area in the sky.

sheet metal n metal in the form of a sheet.

sheet music n music that is published on loose sheets of paper that are not bound in book form.

sheik(h) [ʃeɪk] n an Arab chief or ruler.

sheila[▽] ['ʃi:lə] n AUS a young woman (very informal use).

shelf [ʃelf] (pl shelves) n a flat rectangular piece of wood, metal, or glass etc fixed horizontally to a wall or in a cupboard, bookcase etc and used for keeping things on □ a storage shelf □ a supermarket shelf.

shelf life n the length of time something can be kept in a store before it is too old to sell.

shell [ʃel] ◇ n -1. [of a nut, seed, egg] the hard outer covering of an egg, nut, or seed □ The brazilnut has a very hard shell. -2. [of a tortoise, crab, snail] the hard, protective covering on some land and sea animals; one of these coverings in which a small sea animal once lived, found e.g. on a beach □ The tortoise retreated inside its shell. □ oyster/mussel/clam shells. -3. [of a building, boat, car] the outer structure of something that is unfinished or whose contents have been destroyed □ All that remained of the house was an empty shell. -4. MILITARY a large bullet-shaped metal container filled with explosive for firing from a large gun □ They found an unexploded shell.

◇ vt -1. [peas, eggs, shrimps] to remove the shell or similar covering from <sthg>. -2. MILITARY [town, enemy position] to fire shells at .

◆ shell out (informal use) ◇ vt fus to shell out money to pay money, especially more than expected or intended □ I had to shell out $54 for a taxi to get home. ◇ vi: He had to shell out for a new car.

she'll [stressed ʃi:l, unstressed ʃɪl] = she will, she shall.

shellfish ['ʃelfɪʃ] (pl shellfish) n -1. an animal without a backbone that lives in water and has a shell, e.g. a mussel, oyster, or shrimp. -2. these animals eaten as food.

shelling ['ʃelɪŋ] n MILITARY an attack on a place using shells □ The shelling continued all night.

shellshock ['ʃelʃɒk] n a mental illness, usually affecting soldiers, caused by their experiences in battle.

shelter ['ʃeltə] ◇ n -1. [from bad weather, attack, danger] protection against something, usually provided by a covering of some kind □ We could find no shelter from the sun/rain. -2. a building or roofed structure that gives shelter □ a mountain shelter. ◇ vt to give <sb/sthg> shelter □ The trees sheltered us a little from the storm. ◇ vi to find or take shelter in a place □ They went under the bridge to shelter from the wind and rain.

sheltered ['ʃeltərd] adj -1. [position, spot, valley] protected from the wind, rain etc □ a sheltered bay. -2. [life, childhood] protected from the unpleasant realities of life □ She's led a rather sheltered existence. -3. GB [housing, accommodation] where supervision and care are available for old or disabled people.

shelve [ʃelv] ◇ vt [plan, idea, project] to decide to stop <sthg>, often with the intention of continuing it later □ Hutton says they've had to shelve the Japanese deal until next year. ◇ vi [land, ground, sea bed] to slope gradually.

shelves [ʃelvz] plural of shelf.

shelving ['ʃelvɪŋ] n shelves; material used to make shelves □ We put up some shelving in the dining room.

shenanigans [ʃɪ'nænəgənz] npl (informal use)

- 1. dishonest activities. -2. bad behavior that is playful and not serious.
- shepherd ['ʃepərd] n a person who takes care of sheep. v to guide or accompany <sb> somewhere □ We were shepherded through the main entrance.
- shepherd's pie n ground beef covered with mashed potato and baked in an oven.
- sherbet ['ʃɜ:bət] n -1. US a frozen dessert made with fruit juice. -2. GB a sweet powder that is eaten as a candy.
- sheriff ['ʃerɪf] n -1. an elected officer responsible for enforcing the law in a US county. -2. the chief judge in a district in Scotland.
- sheriff court n a Scottish court that deals with all civil actions and most crimes, apart from very serious ones.
- Sherman Anti-Trust Act [ˌʃɜ:'mən-] n an important US anti-trust law passed in 1890.
- sherry ['ʃeri] (pl sherries) n -1. a fortified wine from the Jerez region of Spain, often drunk before a meal; an imitation of this type of wine produced in other countries. -2. a glass of sherry.
- she's [stressed ʃi:z, unstressed ʃɪz] = she is, she has.
- Shetland ['ʃetlənd]: Shetland, the Shetlands, the Shetland Islands a group of British islands off the northeastern coast of Scotland, north of the Orkney Islands. SIZE: 1,425 sq kms. POPULATION: 23,000 (Shetlanders). CAPITAL: Lerwick.
- shh [ʃ] excl = sh.
- shield [ʃi:ld] n -1. [for soldiers] a stiff piece of metal, leather etc that was carried on one arm to protect oneself in battle in the days when people fought with swords; [for policemen] a similar piece of strong plastic carried by policemen to protect themselves in riots. -2. GB a sports prize in the form of a shield. -3. [against danger, harm] something that gives protection against something □ an effective shield against attack □ The prisoners are being used as human shields. -4. [against the wind, heat] a protective cover, plate, screen etc □ a wind/sun/heat shield.
□ vt to protect <sb/sthg> □ Local people shielded the runaway from the police. □ She shielded her eyes with her hand.
- shift [ʃɪft] n -1. a change, e.g. in people's attitudes or behavior □ There has been a significant shift in the number of people voting Republican recently. □ a shift in emphasis. -2. the particular period of time worked by a group of workers who take turns with another group; the workers on a particular shift □ the early/late/night shift □ shift work.
□ vt -1. [bag, table, one's gaze] to move <sthg> from one place to another □ He shifted his weight onto his other leg. -2. to shift the blame/responsibility to give the blame/responsibility for something to somebody else □ Don't try to shift the blame onto me! -3. US AUTO to shift gear to change gear. -4. GB [stain, mark] to remove .
□ vi -1. [person, cargo, object] to move □ Con-
- tents may shift during transit.* -2. [opinion, situation] to change □ Attitudes toward abortion have shifted a lot in recent years. -3. [wind] to change direction. -4. US AUTO The driver shifted into low gear.
- shift key n the key on a typewriter or keyboard used to produce capital letters.
- shiftless ['ʃɪftləs] adj [person] who is lazy and has no wish to achieve anything.
- shifty ['ʃɪftɪ] (compar shiftier, superl shiftest) adj [person, behavior] that appears dishonest and cannot be trusted □ a shifty-looking character.
- Shiite ['ʃi:ait] n adj [Muslim, religion, peoples] that is connected with Shiism, a branch of Islam based on the teachings of Muhammad's cousin Ali and the teachers who came after him. n a Shiite Muslim.
- shilling ['ʃɪlɪŋ] n in Britain, a coin and unit of money used until 1971 and worth one-twentieth of a pound.
- shilly-shally ['ʃɪlɪʃæli] (vt & pp shilly-shallied) vi to take a long time to make up one's mind (informal and disapproving use).
- shimmer ['ʃɪmə] n vi [light, water, haze] to shine with a soft unsteady light □ The lake shimmered in the moonlight. □ n a shimmering light □ a soft shimmer of reflected light.
- shin [ʃɪn] (vt & pp shinned, cont shinning) n the front part of one's leg between one's knee and one's ankle.
- ◆ shin up vt fus GB = shinny up.
- shinbone ['ʃɪnbəʊn] n the bone in the front part of one's leg below the knee.
- shine [ʃaɪn] (vt & pp shone) n [of a surface, somebody's eyes] brightness □ This furniture polish really brings out the shine.
□ vt -1. [lamp, flashlight, light] to point <sthg> which gives light in a particular direction □ Don't shine that light in my eyes. -2. [shoes, brass] to polish <sthg>. □ vi -1. [sun, light, moon] to give out bright light □ The afternoon sun shone brightly overhead. □ The flashlight was shining right in my eyes. -2. [surface, eyes, shoes] to reflect light brightly, especially because of being new or clean □ His eyes shone with pride. □ She polished her shoes until they shone. -3. [student, staff] to be excellent at something in a way that other people notice □ He really shines at chemistry.
- shingle ['ʃɪŋɡl] n -1. small rounded stones covering a beach. -2. one of many small thin tiles, usually made of wood, used to cover a roof.
- ◆ shingles n MEDICINE a viral infection that causes a rash of painful red spots, especially around one's waist.
- shining ['ʃaɪnɪŋ] adj a shining example/achievement etc an excellent example/achievement etc.
- shinny ['ʃɪni] ◆ shinny up vt fus US to shinny up sthg [tree, pole, lamppost] to climb sthg using only one's hands and legs.
- shin pads upl in some sports, soft pads that are worn around one's shins in order to protect them □ a pair of shin pads.

shiny ['ʃaɪni] (compar shinier, superl shiniest) adj [surface, furniture, shoe] that shines □ a shiny new car.

ship [ʃɪp] (pt & pp shipped, cont shipping) ◇ n a large boat that carries passengers or goods by sea □ We went by ship. □ a merchant ship. ◇ vt [goods, troops, passengers] to move or send <sb/sthg> to a place, especially by ship □ I'm having my car shipped over from the States.

shipbuilder ['ʃɪpbɪldə] n a person or company that builds ships.

shipbuilding ['ʃɪpbɪldɪŋ] n the industry of building ships □ the shipbuilding industry.

ship canal n a canal that is large enough for ships.

shipment ['ʃɪpmənt] n a load of goods sent by road, sea, or air □ a shipment of food/grain/coal.

shipper ['ʃɪpə] n a person who makes shipments of goods.

shipping ['ʃɪpɪŋ] n -1. the business of transporting goods, especially in ships □ the shipping industry □ a shipping magnate. -2. a collective term for ships □ The Channel is a busy route for shipping.

shipping agent n a person or company that makes arrangements for the transportation of goods by sea.

shipping forecast n a forecast of weather conditions at sea broadcast by radio.

shipping lane n a route across the sea in a particular area that is used by ships.

shipshape ['ʃɪpʃeɪp] adj [room, office] that is neat and well ordered.

shipwreck ['ʃɪprek] ◇ n an accident in which a ship sinks or is destroyed at sea; a ship lost or destroyed in this way. ◇ vt to be shipwrecked [person] to be involved in a shipwreck □ They were shipwrecked on the rocks off Nantucket.

shipyard ['ʃɪpjɑ:d] n a place where ships are built or repaired.

shire ['ʃaɪə]. n in Australia, a rural area with its own local government.

◆ Shires n the Shires the counties in country areas of England, especially central England.

shire county n in England, one of the Shires.

shire horse n a large powerful breed of horse used in former times for farm work.

shirk [ʃɜ:k] vt [task, duty] to avoid doing <sthg> because one is lazy □ Isn't it time you stopped shirking your responsibilities?

shirker ['ʃɜ:kə] n a person who always tries to avoid doing their work.

shirt [ʃɜ:t] n a piece of clothing for one's upper body that is made of light cloth, has a collar, long or short sleeves, and buttons up the front □ a cotton/linen shirt □ a shirt collar.

shirtsleeves ['ʃɜ:tʃli:vz] npl to be in (one's) shirtsleeves to be wearing nothing on top of one's shirt □ He stood there in his shirtsleeves, surveying the boxes that filled the room.

shirttail ['ʃɜ:tteɪl] n the part of the shirt that hangs below one's waist at the back □ His shirttail was hanging out at the back.

shit▼ [ʃɪt] (vulgar use) (pt & pp shit OR shitted OR shat, cont shitting) ◇ n -1. waste matter from the bowels. -2. nonsense □ That's a load of shit! □ He's full of shit, that guy! -3. a very unpleasant person, especially someone who treats other people badly □ He's a real shit!

◇ vi to empty waste matter from the bowels. ◇ excl a word used to express annoyance, impatience, frustration etc □ Shit! I forgot to bring them.

shiver ['ʃɪvə] ◇ n [of cold, fear, excitement] a feeling or act of shivering □ She felt a shiver of anticipation as the results were read out. ■ to give sb the shivers to cause sb strong feelings of fear or dislike that they cannot control □ It gives me the shivers just thinking about that place. ◇ vi to tremble, especially with cold or fear □ We were shivering with cold/terror/excitement.

shoal [ʃoʊl] n a large group of fish swimming together □ shoals of herring.

shock [ʃɒk] ◇ n -1. a sudden, unexpected, and usually unpleasant surprise; the emotional effect of this □ I got a real shock when I saw the name. □ The news came as a terrible shock. □ I didn't mean to give you a shock. □ She stood there, pale with shock, as he told her the news. -2. MEDICINE a state of extreme physical weakness caused by injury, loss of blood, pain etc □ Some survivors went into shock. □ She is still in a state of shock after the accident. -3. [of a blow, collision] the impact of a blow, explosion, collision etc □ Given the shock of the collision it's a miracle anyone survived. -4. ELECTRICITY = electric shock. -5. a shock of hair a thick mass of hair.

◇ vt -1. to give <sb> a shock □ He was shocked by the news/to hear of his death. -2. to cause <sb> to feel offense, horror, disgust etc □ He was shocked by their bad language. ◇ vi to cause offense, horror, disgust etc □ The play is intended to shock.

shock absorber [-əbsɔ:ˈbɜ:] n a device fitted to each wheel of a vehicle to reduce the vibration caused by driving over uneven surfaces.

shocked [ʃɒkt] adj [person] who is offended, horrified, or disgusted □ Shocked readers have written in to complain about the article.

shocking ['ʃɒkɪŋ] adj -1. [weather, handwriting, work] that is very bad □ The standard of her work is shocking. -2. [news, accident] that causes a shock □ I've just received some shocking news. -3. [behavior, language, movie] that one finds offensive or disgusting □ I found their behavior shocking, to be honest.

shockproof ['ʃɒkpru:f] adj [watch] that is not easily damaged by being dropped, knocked etc.

shock tactics npl -1. MILITARY tactics designed to take an enemy by surprise. -2. sudden unusual or violent action taken to achieve a purpose by causing surprise □ Well, we could try using shock tactics.

shock therapy, shock treatment n a treatment that is given for some kinds of mental illness that involves passing an electric current through the brain.

shock troops npl soldiers who have been specially trained for making sudden attacks.

shock wave n -1. an area of intense heat and pressure moving through the air, caused e.g. by an explosion or earthquake. -2. a strong reaction to something □ The news caused shock waves throughout the community.

shod [ʃɒd] ◇ past tense & past participle of shoe. ◇ adj to be well/badly etc shod to be wearing good/bad etc shoes (literary use).

shoddy [ˈʃɒdi] (compar shoddier, superl shoddiest) adj -1. [work, workmanship, goods] that is of poor quality □ Shoddy construction is being blamed for the disaster. -2. [treatment, behavior] that is bad and unfair □ The way he treats women is really shoddy.

shoe [ʃu:] (pt & pp shod OR shoed, cont shoeing) ◇ n -1. a covering for a person's foot, often made of leather and with a hard base and a raised part under the heel □ a pair of shoes □ shoe cleaner. -2. = horseshoe. -3. = brake shoe. ◇ vt to shoe a horse to put horseshoes on a horse.

shoebush [ˈʃu:brʌʃ] n a brush used for cleaning and polishing shoes.

shoehorn [ˈʃu:hɔ:n] n a piece of metal, plastic, or horn with a hollow curve at one end, used to help one put a shoe on more easily.

shoelace [ˈʃu:leɪs] n a long thin cord that is used to fasten shoes □ Your shoelace is undone!

shoemaker [ˈʃu:meɪkə] n a person who makes shoes.

shoe polish n polish for cleaning shoes.

shoe store US, shoe shop GB n a store that sells shoes, boots etc.

shoestring [ˈʃu:striŋ] ◇ adj a shoestring budget a small budget that allows very little money to be spent □ The play was produced on a shoestring budget. ◇ n on a shoestring by spending very little money □ She decorated her house on a shoestring.

shoetree [ˈʃu:tri:] n a piece of metal, wood, or plastic placed inside a boot or shoe to help it keep its shape when it is not being worn.

shone [US ʃoun, GB ʃɒn] past tense & past participle of shine.

shoo [ʃu:] ◇ vt to make  go away or move somewhere by shouting and waving one's hands at them. ◇ excl a word used to shoo somebody or something away.

shoo-in n US a person who is sure to win an election, competition etc (informal use).

shook [ʃok] past tense of shake.

shoot [ʃu:t] (pt & pp shot) ◇ vt -1. [person, animal] to kill or wound <sb/sthg> by firing a bullet at them □ She was shot in the back. ■ to shoot oneself to kill oneself by firing a bullet at oneself □ He threatened to shoot himself. -2. [bird, game] to hunt <animals> with a gun as a sport or leisure activity □ They shoot wild boar here in the summer. -3. to shoot an arrow to release an arrow from a bow. -4. to shoot a look/glance at sb to look/glance at sb quickly and suddenly □ He shot me a look so full of outrage I almost laughed. -5. to make  using a camera □ The scene was shot on location in Rome. □ I shot several rolls of film. -6. to shoot pool/billiards etc US to play a game of pool/billiards etc.

◇ vi -1. to fire a gun at somebody or something □ He shot at them as they ran for cover. -2. [hunter] to hunt birds or game with a gun. -3. to shoot across/over/up etc to move across/over/up etc very quickly □ She shot out of the room. □ He shot ahead of the other runners. -4. CINEMA & PHOTOGRAPHY to make a movie or take a photograph □ We'll begin shooting next week. -5. SPORT to try to score in a game of football, hockey etc.

◇ n -1. a new growth from part of a plant □ The plant had put out some new shoots. -2. GB a hunting expedition to shoot animals or birds □ a pheasant shoot.

◇ excl US -1. a word used to tell somebody to start speaking □ Okay, shoot, I'm listening! -2. a word used to express annoyance (informal use) □ Shoot! I've forgotten my purse.

◆ shoot down vt sep -1. to shoot sthg down [plane, helicopter] to make sthg fall to the ground by firing at it with guns, missiles etc □ The plane was shot down over the ocean. -2. to shoot sb/sthg down [suggestion, idea, person] to show sb/sthg to be wrong, impractical, foolish etc □ My idea was shot down by everyone else.

◆ shoot up vi -1. [plant, child] to grow quickly □ Young Terry has really shot up in the last year. -2. [price, inflation] to increase quickly □ The price of houses has shot up. -3. ▽ [junkie, addict] to inject a drug directly into one's bloodstream (drugs slang).

shooting [ˈʃu:tɪŋ] n -1. an act of killing or wounding a person or animal. -2. the sport of hunting birds or animals with guns.

shooting range n a place where people practice shooting by firing guns at targets.

shooting star n a small piece of material that burns brightly as it enters the Earth's atmosphere from space.

shooting stick n a special kind of walking-stick that can be stuck into the ground and that has a handle that can be folded out to form a seat.

shoot-out n a fight with guns which ends when everyone on one side is dead, is wounded, or has surrendered.

shop [ʃɒp] (pt & pp shopped, cont shopping) ◇ n -1. a building, or a part of a building, where people can go to buy goods, usually of a particular kind □ a flower/shoe/museum shop □ I'm just going to the shops. ■ to talk shop to talk about one's work. -2. a place, usually in a factory, where things are made or repaired □ the assembly/machine/metalwork shop. ◇ vi to go to stores and buy things □ I don't like shopping on a Saturday.

◆ shop around vi to compare prices in different stores or from different suppliers before buying something □ I'd suggest you shop around a little before buying a mobile phone.

shop assistant n GB a person who serves customers in a store.

shop floor n the shop floor the area where the ordinary workers do their jobs, especially in a factory; the workers on the shop floor, and not the managers.

shopkeeper ['ʃɒpkɪ:pə] n a person who is in charge of, or owns, a small store.

shoplifter ['ʃɒplɪftə] n a person who steals goods from a store.

shoplifting ['ʃɒplɪftɪŋ] n the crime of stealing goods from a store.

shopper ['ʃɒpə] n a person who shops.

shopping ['ʃɒpɪŋ] n -1. things bought from stores or a store, especially food □ a bag of shopping □ I left my shopping on the bus! -2. the act of buying things from a store □ We must do some food shopping today. □ I go shopping once a week.

shopping bag n a bag for carrying shopping.

shopping center n a large building specially built to contain many separate stores of different kinds and that usually also contains restaurants and play areas.

shopping list n a list that somebody writes to remind them what to buy when they go shopping.

shopping mall, shopping plaza n = shopping center.

shopsoiled adj GB = shopworn.

shop steward n a labor union officer elected by members in their place of work to represent them at meetings and deal with union business.

shopwalker ['ʃɒpwɔ:kə] n GB a person in a large store whose job is to help customers and make sure that the salesclerks are doing their job properly.

shopwindow [ˌʃɒpˈwɪndəʊ] n the window of a store where goods are displayed.

shopworn ['ʃɒpwɔ:n] US, shopsoiled ['ʃɒp-sɔɪld] GB adj [piece of furniture, material] that is slightly dirty or damaged as a result of being handled too much by customers, or being on display for a long time.

shore [ʃɔ:ɹ] n -1. [of a sea, lake, river] a strip of land on the edge of a large area of water □ the island's sandy shores. -2. on shore on land, rather than on a ship □ We'll take your camera to be repaired once we're back on shore.

♦ shore up vt sep -1. to shore sth up [foundations, ceiling, beam] to stop sth from falling down by putting a strong object next to or under it to support it □ We shored up the wall with a large plank of wood. -2. to shore sth up [economy, dictatorship] to support or strengthen sth that is weak and likely to fail □ The government had to be shored up by foreign aid.

shore leave n a period of time when sailors are allowed to go on land and leave their ship for a break □ Most of the crew were on shore leave.

shoreline ['ʃɔ:ɹlaɪn] n [of a sea, lake, river] the edge of a large area of water.

shorn [ʃɔ:ɹn] ◇ past participle of shear. ◇ adj

-1. [grass, hair] that has been cut very short □ Her head was completely shorn. -2. to be shorn of sth [of power, responsibility] to have sth taken away from one □ Shorn of her power, she seemed somehow pathetic.

short [ʃɔ:ɹt] ◇ adj -1. [speech, hair, skirt] that is not long □ I'll just read you this short extract. -2. [person] who is not tall □ He's short and stocky. -3. [route, distance] that is not long or does not take much time to travel □ It's just a short walk to the post office. -4. [visit, vacation, break] that does not last a long time □ The unions are demanding shorter working hours. -5. to be short with sb to speak to sb rudely and abruptly, usually because one is angry or impatient □ I'm sorry if I was a little short with you. -6. money/time is short there is not much money/time □ Time is short and we have to have this finished today. ■ to be one/two/three etc short to have one/two/three etc fewer than one needs or should have □ We're $10 short. ■ to be short of sth [of money, time, sleep] not to have enough of sth that one needs □ We're short of staff at the moment. □ She's never short of good ideas. ■ to be short on sth [on ideas, intelligence] to be lacking in sth □ She's short on tact. ■ to be short of breath to be unable to breathe normally. -7. to be short for sth to be an abbreviation for sth □ "Jon" is short for "Jonathan."

◇ adv -1. to run short of sth [of food, money, supplies] to have almost run out of sth □ We're running dangerously short of water. -2. to cut sth short [visit, speech, education] to make sth stop abruptly before it has finished □ He had to cut his vacation short. □ I'm sorry to cut you short, but we're running out of time. ■ to stop short to stop doing something because one is surprised, shocked etc □ He stopped short in front of the picture. ■ to bring OR pull sb up short to cause sb to be surprised or shocked and to suddenly stop what they are doing or saying □ The look she gave me brought OR pulled me up short.

◇ n -1. GB a strong alcoholic drink, especially liquor, that is usually drunk in small amounts □ He'd been drinking shorts all night. -2. CINEMA a short movie shown before the main program in a movie theater □ They're showing an early Hal Hartley short.

♦ shorts npl -1. short trousers that end at one's knees or higher. -2. US men's underpants.

♦ for short adv as an abbreviation □ Trinitrotoluene, or TNT for short.

♦ in short adv a phrase that introduces a final conclusion or a summary of what has just been said □ It is up-to-date, carefully researched and fully illustrated. In short, this is an indispensable reference book.

♦ nothing short of adv a phrase used to emphasize how good, surprising etc something is □ Her recovery was nothing short of miraculous.

♦ short of prep short of doing sth apart from doing sth □ Short of going there yourself, there's nothing you can do to stop them.

shortage ['ʃɔ:ɹtɪdʒ] n [of fuel, water, supplies] a situation where there is not enough of something □ There is a shortage of cheap housing in this area.

short back and sides n GB a man's haircut where the back and sides are cut shorter than the top.

short black n AUS an espresso coffee.

shortbread ['ʃɔ:tbrɛd] n a type of cookie made with flour, sugar, and a lot of butter.

shortcake ['ʃɔ:tkeɪk] n US a crisp cake served with layers of fruit, cream etc. -2. GB = shortbread.

short-change vt -1. [customer] to give <sb> too little change for something that they have just paid for in a store, restaurant etc. -2. [person, company] to behave dishonestly or unfairly toward <sb>, usually by giving them less than they should get □ We have been short-changed by the management.

short circuit n the failure of an electrical circuit because of damage or a faulty connection.

◆ short-circuit ◇ vt [system, machine, device] to make <sthg> have a short circuit □ Don't do that, you'll short-circuit all the lights. ◇ vi: The system had short-circuited.

shortcomings ['ʃɔ:tkaʊnɪŋz] npl weaknesses or faults in somebody or something □ She has her shortcomings like everyone else, but I really like her. □ He pointed out the numerous shortcomings of this form of banking.

shortcrust pastry ['ʃɔ:tkrʌst-] n GB pastry that is crisp and that crumbles very easily.

short cut n -1. a quick way to get somewhere □ Let's take a short cut across the fields. -2. a quick method for doing something □ There are no short cuts to making good pastry!

shorten ['ʃɔ:tɪn] ◇ vt -1. [visit, vacation, time] to make <sthg> shorter in time □ In the future it will be possible to shorten people's working week. -2. [skirt, rope, name] to make <sthg> shorter in length □ The skirt fits me around the waist, but the length needs shortening. ◇ vi [days, nights] to become shorter in time.

shortening ['ʃɔ:tɪnɪŋ] n a fat, such as butter, that is used for making pastry or dough.

shortfall ['ʃɔ:tfaʊl] n a shortfall in sth [in payments, profits] the amount by which sth is less or lower than what was expected, needed, or hoped for □ We envisage a shortfall of around five million dollars.

shorthand ['ʃɔ:thænd] n -1. a way of writing that uses signs instead of words, and is used as a quick and easy way to record what somebody is saying □ I write all my notes in shorthand. -2. a shorter way of referring to something long or complicated □ "Restructuring" is their shorthand for substantial job losses.

shorthanded [,ʃɔ:t'hændəd] adj to be shorthanded to be short of staff or workers for a particular job.

shorthand typist n GB a person who types and does shorthand, usually in an office.

short-haul adj [jet, flight] that travels or involves only short distances □ You don't get much food on short-haul flights.

short list n a list of a small number of people, things etc, that have been chosen from a larger number and from which the final choice will be made □ The movie was on the short list for the BAFTA awards.

◆ short-list vt to be short-listed for sth [for a prize, job] to be put on the short list for sth □ Her novel was short-listed for the Pulitzer Prize.

short-lived [-'lɪvd] adj [success, happiness, protest] that does not last a long time □ Unfortunately their victory was to prove short-lived.

shortly ['ʃɔ:tli] adv soon □ Our guests should be arriving shortly. □ They met in the summer and became engaged shortly afterward.

short-order cook n US a cook who makes food that can be prepared quickly.

short-range adj -1. [missile, weapon] that is designed to travel only short distances. -2. [forecast, plan] that covers only a short time ahead.

short shrift [-'ʃrɪft] n to give sb short shrift to pay little attention to what sb says.

shortsighted [ʃɔ:t'saɪtəd] adj -1. [person] who cannot see far-off objects well, but can see things that are very close □ My mother has gotten very short-sighted with age. -2. [person, decision, policy] that is unwise because it does not take account of what may happen in the future □ I think their approach to the problem is very shortsighted.

short-staffed [US -'stæft, GB -'sta:ft] adj to be short-staffed [company, store, school] to have too few staff □ You'll have to forgive us, we're rather short-staffed at the moment.

short-stay parking n GB = short-term parking.

short story n a piece of writing about imaginary characters and events that is much shorter than a novel and often only a few pages long □ a book of short stories.

short-tempered adj [person] who gets angry very easily □ Alan can be extremely short-tempered at times.

short-term adj -1. [effects, developments] that will happen or take effect soon □ What are the short-term implications of these cuts? -2. [problem, solution] that lasts or has an effect only for a short time □ These are just short-term measures.

short-term parking n US parking in a lot where vehicles may only be parked for a few hours at a time.

short time n on short time GB working for a shorter period of time than usual □ Workers have been put on short time.

short wave n a type of radio transmission that uses wavelengths less than 60 meters long □ a short wave radio.

NOTE: Compare long wave, medium wave.

Shoshone [ʃou'ʃounɪ] (pl Shoshone OR Shoshones) n a member of a Native American people who used to live in the southwestern USA; the language of this people.

Shostakovich [ʃɔ:stə'kəʊvɪtʃ], Dmitri (1906–1975) a Russian composer who wrote 15 symphonies, and piano and chamber music.

shot [ʃɒt] ◇ past tense & past participle of shoot.

◇ n -1. the action of firing a gun, or the noise that it makes □ Several shots rang out. □ He fired four shots from a pistol. □ a rifle shot. ■ like a shot [run, go] very quickly □ If someone offered me a job in New York, I'd go there like a shot. -2. a good/bad/poor shot a person who shoots well/badly/poorly □ He's an excellent shot. -3. SPORT & GAMES the action of kicking, throwing, hitting etc a ball when trying to score a point □ He took a shot at the goal. □ Good shot! -4. PHOTOGRAPHY a photograph □ There were some nice shots of Martin in Spain. -5. CINEMA a part of a movie that is seen as a single picture □ The movie has some beautiful shots of Venice. -6. to have a shot at sthg to try to do sthg (informal use) □ I'll have a shot at it. -7. [of morphine, heroin] an injection of a drug or vaccine □ a typhoid shot. -8. [of whiskey, gin] a small amount of a strong alcoholic drink □ a shot of brandy.

shotgun ['ʃɒtɡʌn] n a gun that fires cartridges with lots of small pellets inside them.

shot put n the shot put a sporting event in which competitors throw a very heavy metal ball, called a shot, as far as they can.

should [stressed ʃʊd, unstressed ʃəd] modal vb
-1. you shouldn't drink and drive it is your duty or responsibility not to drink and drive □ Strictly speaking, we should let her family know where she is. □ You should have been more careful! -2. should I tell him? do you think it is a good idea to tell him? □ I think we should call the police. □ You should go and see someone about that bad back of yours. -3. she should be home soon it is very likely that she will arrive home soon □ It shouldn't take long to fix the dishwasher. □ My letter should have gotten there by now. -4. they should have won the game everyone expected them to win the game because they are the best, but they did not □ She should have married John. -5. used in "that" clauses describing a decision, arrangement, wish, opinion etc □ It's funny that you should say that. □ We decided that nothing should be said about it. -6. should you be invited if you are invited (formal use) □ If anyone should ask for me, I'll be at the office. -7. I should think it'll take an hour I think it will take an hour, but I am not sure □ I should say he's in his late thirties.

shoulder ['ʃəʊldə] ◇ n -1. [of a person] the part of one's body on either side of one's neck where one's arms join one's body □ I've pulled a muscle in my shoulder. ■ to look over one's shoulder to turn one's head to look behind, without turning the rest of the body. ■ a shoulder to cry on a person who will listen sympathetically to somebody's problems □ Look, if you ever need a shoulder to cry on, I'm here. ■ to rub shoulders with sb to meet sb, especially a famous person, and socialize with them as an equal □ I love rubbing shoulders with the stars! -2. [of a dress, shirt, jacket] the part of a piece of clothing where the sleeve meets the part covering one's body □ a jacket with padded shoulders. -3. [of lamb, pork, beef] a piece of meat from the shoulder of an animal.

◇ vt -1. [weight, load, bag] to put <sthg heavy> on one's shoulders in order to carry it □ He shouldered the sack and climbed the ladder. -2. [responsibility, blame] to accept <sthg> oneself □ Thirty percent of the population have to shoulder the entire costs of the health service.

shoulder bag n a bag with a long strap that can be carried over the shoulder.

shoulder blade n one of two large, flat, triangular bones at the top of one's back.

shoulder-length adj [hair] that is long enough to reach the shoulders.

shoulder pad n a pad of material or foam that is put in the shoulder of a piece of clothing to give it a better shape.

shoulder strap n -1. [on a dress] one of two narrow strips of fabric on a dress, sun top etc that go over the shoulders. -2. [on a bag] a long strap on a bag or case that allows it to be carried over the shoulder.

shouldn't ['ʃʊdnt] = should not.

should've ['ʃʊdəv] = should have.

shout [ʃaʊt] ◇ n -1. a loud cry or call that somebody makes because they are angry, excited, or trying to be heard over a lot of other noise □ shouts of joy/delight/protest/anger. -2. its my/your shout GB & AUS it's my/your turn to buy drinks for everybody. ◇ vt to say <sthg> very loudly □ "Stop!" she shouted. □ The crowd started shouting insults at the speaker. ◇ vi to speak very loudly □ I had to shout to make myself heard. ■ to shout at sb to speak angrily and in a loud voice to sb □ She's always shouting at the children.

◆ shout down vt sep to shout sb down [speaker, opponent] to stop sb from talking, or being heard, by shouting □ Trimble was shouted down by a hostile crowd.

◆ shout out vt sep to shout sthg out [warning, command] to shout sthg suddenly.

shouting ['ʃaʊtɪŋ] n the noise made when somebody shouts.

shove [ʃʌv] (informal use) ◇ n to give sb/sthg a shove to push sb/sthg with a quick, often violent, movement. ◇ vt -1. [person, car] to push <sb/sthg> somewhere with a quick, often violent, movement □ We shoved the car out of the road. -2. [clothes, books, object] to put <sthg> somewhere, often roughly or carelessly □ He shoved his clothes into a bag.

◆ shove off vi -1. [boat] to leave the shore □ We shoved off and floated slowly downstream. -2. to go away (informal use) □ Oh, shove off!

shovel ['ʃʌvl] (US pt & pp shoveled, cont shoveling, GB pt & pp shovelled, cont shovelling) ◇ n a tool with a square or rounded blade fixed to a long handle that is used for moving coal, snow, earth etc. ◇ vt -1. [coal, snow, earth] to move <sthg> using a shovel □ Shovel the earth to one side. -2. to put  into one's mouth quickly □ They shoveled the food into their mouths as if they hadn't eaten for days.

show [ʃəʊ] (pt showed, pp shown OR showed)

◇ n -1. [at a theater, on the radio, TV] a program that is made to entertain people □ a variety/quiz show □ the Ken Diamond Show. -2. [of animals, cars, flowers] an organized event at which things are shown to the public and sometimes judged to decide which of them is best □ a dog/flower/agricultural show. ■ to be on show to be in a place where it can be seen by the public □ Her most recent paintings are on show at the Towner Gallery. -3. to be for show to exist or be done only to impress people □ All that fancy sports gear is just for show. ■ to put up OR make a show of sthg [of interest, annoyance] to pretend to feel sthg □ I made a show of enjoying the meal even though I hate fish.

◇ vt -1. to allow somebody to see <sthg>, e.g. by holding it out or pointing to it □ Can I show you his letter? □ I showed my work to the chief designer. □ Please show your ticket. □ An optional 12% service charge is shown on the bill. ■ to show oneself, to show one's face to allow oneself to be seen □ I'd be ashamed to show myself in public if I were him! □ He won't dare show his face around here again. ■ to have something/nothing to show for sthg [for one's work, time, effort] to have achieved something/nothing as a result of sthg □ He doesn't have much to show for his expensive education. □ All that hard work and what have I got to show for it? Nothing! -2. [picture, diagram, piece of writing] to give information about <sthg>; [thermometer, dial, gauge] to have  etc on it □ The exhibition shows what life was like in Roman Britain. □ The barometer was showing "Change". -3. to show sb how to do sthg to teach sb how to do sthg, especially by doing it oneself □ Show me how to use the word processor. □ I'll show you how to get there. ■ to show sb the way [to the station, bank, exit] to tell sb how to get to a place, especially by going there with them □ The porter will show you to your room. -4. [courage, enthusiasm, understanding] to behave in a way that makes other people see that one has  □ If she was disappointed, she didn't show it. □ He's shown us nothing but kindness. -5. to show that... to prove that a particular fact or situation is true or exists □ There's no evidence to show that he was responsible. □ It just shows how careful you have to be. □ The results show a big improvement. -6. to show sb to a place to lead sb to a place □ Can I show you to your seat? □ I'll show you to the door. -7. [movie, program, documentary] to make <sthg> available as entertainment for the public □ What are they showing at the Odeon? -8. to show a profit/loss [company, venture] to have made a profit/loss □ The company is showing a loss of $15 million. -9. [painting, animal, product] to put <sthg> in a public place so that it can be seen and judged by people □ These drawings have never been shown together before □ I started breeding poodles to show them around five years ago.

◇ vi -1. [anger, relief, stain] to be easy to see □ If she was disappointed, it didn't show. □ The scar hardly shows now. □ Does my bra show through this shirt? -2. to be showing [movie] to be appearing as entertainment for the public □ Is "Dracula" still showing at the Odeon?

◆ show around vt sep to show sb around to take sb to the most important parts of a place they are visiting for the first time □ There was a guide who showed us around the museum. □ If you ever come to New York I'd be happy to show you around.

◆ show in vt sep to show sb in [visitor, person, candidate] to lead sb into a place □ I've shown Mr Lee into your office. □ "Ms Harper is here." — "Good, show her in."

◆ show off ◇ vt sep to show sb/sthg off [new car, clothes, baby] to let people see sb/sthg that one is proud of □ She couldn't wait to get back and show off her suntan. ◇ vi [person] to behave in a way that attracts attention because one wants to be admired □ Ignore him, he's only showing off in front of his friends.

◆ show out vt sep to show sb out [visitor, person] to lead sb out of a place □ It's OK, I'll show myself out.

◆ show round vt sep GB = show around.

◆ show up ◇ vt sep to show sb up to make sb who one is with feel embarrassed by behaving badly in public □ I just prayed that the children wouldn't show me up too much. ◇ vi -1. [feature, stain, color] to be easy to see □ The sunset didn't show up well in the photograph. -2. [at the office, restaurant] to arrive at a place where one is expected □ We started to worry when she didn't show up for work.

showbiz ['ʃəʊbɪz] n = show business (informal use).

show business n the business, work, or profession of popular entertainment, e.g. singing, dancing, and acting.

showcase ['ʃəʊkeɪs] n -1. [in a museum, exhibition, store] a glass case in which valuable objects are placed for people to look at. -2. to be a showcase for sb/sthg a situation, event etc in which sb/sthg can display their talents □ The concerto is a real showcase for the young pianist.

showdown ['ʃəʊdaʊn] n to have a showdown with sb to have a serious argument with sb at the end of a long period of disagreement and angry feelings.

shower ['ʃəʊə] ◇ n -1. a device that one stands under to wash one's body, consisting of a long hose with a flat piece at one end with a lot of small holes in it through which water flows □ A double room with shower costs $50. ■ to have OR take a shower to wash oneself using a shower □ I have a cold/hot shower every morning. -2. WEATHER a fall of rain, snow, or sleet that lasts only a short time □ a shower of rain □ scattered showers □ a snow shower. -3. a shower of sparks/confetti etc a lot of sparks/confetti etc falling through the air □ a shower of spray/water. -4. a shower of abuse/praise etc a lot of abuse/praise etc that comes all at the same time □ The opening of the exhibition was accompanied by a shower of criticism from traditionalists. -5. US [for a woman] a party that is held for a woman by her friends before a particular special occasion and at which they give her presents □ a bridal/baby/engagement shower.

◇ vt -1. [person, ground] to scatter lots of small light objects on <sb/sthg>. -2. to shower sb with sthg, to shower sthg (up) on sb [with presents, kisses, insults] to give sb a large number of sthg.

◇ vi to have a shower □ He likes to shower after he's been swimming.

shower cap n a cap worn in the shower to cover one's hair and keep it dry.

showerproof ['ʃaʊə'pru:f] adj [coat, fabric] that will keep the wearer dry but is not fully waterproof.

showery ['ʃaʊəri] adj [weather, day] that is full of rain showers.

showing ['ʃoʊɪŋ] n a presentation of a movie at a movie theater □ We went to the earlier showing.

show jumping [-dʒʌmpɪŋ] n a sporting competition in which the skill and speed of a horse and its rider are judged when they jump over a series of fences.

showman ['ʃoʊmən] (pl showmen [-mən]) n -1. a person whose job is producing things for public entertainment such as musicals and plays □ a circus showman. -2. a person who presents things in an entertaining way and is good at attracting public attention.

showmanship ['ʃoʊmənʃɪp] n an ability to present something in an interesting and entertaining way □ His showmanship saved the lecture from being boring.

shown [ʃoʊn] past participle of show.

show-off n a person who likes to show off (informal use) □ He's such a show-off!

show of hands n a method of voting in which people raise their hands to show their support for, or opposition to, somebody or something □ The vote was taken by a show of hands.

showpiece ['ʃoʊpi:s] n the best thing in a collection, exhibition etc that is proudly shown to other people □ The real showpiece of the exhibition is a 1954 Cadillac.

showroom ['ʃoʊru:m] n a large room, or part of a store, where examples of goods for sale can be looked at before they are bought □ a car showroom.

showy ['ʃoʊi] (compar showier, superl showiest) adj [car, clothes] that is very bright and colorful and attracts people's attention (disapproving use) □ Rachel is too showy for my liking.

shrank [ʃræŋk] past tense of shrink.

shrapnel ['ʃræpnl] n small pieces of metal scattered when a bomb or shell explodes □ a piece of shrapnel □ a shrapnel wound.

shred [ʃred] (pt & pp shredded, cont shredding) ◇ n -1. [of paper, cloth, meat] a long thin piece of something □ shreds of lettuce □ The cat tore the book to shreds with its claws. -2. not a shred of truth/evidence no truth/evidence at all □ They haven't a shred of proof to back up these allegations. □ without a shred of doubt. ◇ vt [cabbage, lettuce, paper] to cut or tear <sthg> into shreds.

shredder ['ʃredə] n -1. [for food] a machine that shreds food. -2. [for paper] a machine that shreds paper into tiny pieces that cannot be read.

shrew [ʃru:] n a very small brown rodent with a long pointed nose.

shrewd [ʃru:d] adj [person] who is good at understanding what a person or situation is really like, and can use this knowledge to gain an advantage □ She's a shrewd judge of character. □ You made a very shrewd decision to sell when you did.

shriek [ʃri:k] ◇ n [of laughter, terror, pain] a loud, sharp, high-pitched cry □ shrieks of laughter. ◇ vt to say <sthg> with a shriek □ "Let me go!" she shrieked. ◇ vi to give a shriek □ She shrieked with laughter.

shrill [ʃrɪl] adj [voice, whistle] that is high-pitched and unpleasant to hear or listen to □ Her shrill voice echoed in my ears.

shrimp [ʃrɪmp] (pl shrimps OR shrimp) n a small shellfish with a curved tail that goes pink when cooked.

shrimp cocktail n US a dish, often eaten at the beginning of a meal, that consists of shrimps, lettuce, and a sauce.

shrine [ʃraɪn] n a place where people go to worship, that has a special connection with a particular god, saint etc.

shrink [ʃrɪŋk] (pt shrank, pp shrank) ◇ vt [dress, sweater, blanket] to make  smaller, usually by washing it. ◇ vi -1. [person, piece of clothing] to become smaller □ My dress has shrunk in the wash. -2. [profits, trade, popularity] to decrease □ His popularity rating had shrunk to a mere 15%. -3. to shrink away from sthg to draw back from sthg □ He shrank away from the body in horror. -4. to shrink from sthg [from a task, duty] to avoid sthg because one finds it unpleasant □ He shrinks from any kind of commitment. ◇ n a psychoanalyst or psychiatrist (informal use).

shrinkage ['ʃrɪŋkɪdʒ] n [in staff, production] an amount by which something gets smaller □ We have to allow for some shrinkage in sales/demand.

shrink-wrap vt [food, product] to wrap <sthg> in a type of plastic that clings very tightly to its shape.

shrivel ['ʃrɪvl] (US pt & pp shriveled, cont shriveling, GB pt & pp shrivelled, cont shrivelling) ◇ vt [skin, plant] to take the moisture from <sthg> so that it becomes dry and wrinkled □ The heat had shriveled up all our seedlings. ◇ vi [plant, skin] The seedlings had all shriveled in the heat.

Shropshire ['ʃrɒpʃə] a county in western central England. SIZE: 3,490 sq kms. POPULATION: 400,800. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Shrewsbury.

shroud [ʃraʊd] ◇ n a cloth that is put around a dead body before it is buried. ◇ vt to be shrouded in sthg [in darkness, fog, secrecy] to

- be hidden by sthg □ The whole crime was shrouded in mystery.
- Shrove Tuesday [ˌʃrəʊv-] n in the Christian calendar, the day before the beginning of Lent.
- shrub [ʃrʌb] n a plant that is similar to, but smaller than, a tree, and that has several woody stems instead of a trunk.
- shrubbery [ˈʃrʌbəri] (pl shrubberies) n an area in a garden where several shrubs are planted together.
- shrug [ʃrʌɡ] (pt & pp shrugged, cont shrugging) ◇ n the act of raising one's shoulders to show that one is not sure, is not interested, or does not know something □ Janet answered with/gave a shrug. ◇ vt to shrug one's shoulders to raise one's shoulders in a shrug.
 ◇ vi: He could only shrug and smile.
- ◆ shrug off vt sep to shrug sthg off [remark; criticism, problem] to ignore sthg or act as if it is not important □ It's difficult to shrug off that kind of criticism.
- shrunk [ʃrʌŋk] past participle of shrink.
- shrunken [ˈʃrʌŋkən] adj that has become smaller and looks less healthy, less impressive etc.
- shucks [ʃʌks] excl US a word used to express embarrassment, annoyance, or disappointment (informal use).
- shudder [ˈʃʌdə] ◇ n [of fear, horror, cold] an act of shuddering □ He gave a shudder of disgust. ◇ vi -1. [person] to shiver suddenly, violently, and uncontrollably for a moment □ He shuddered with fear/horror/disgust. ■ I shudder to think a phrase used to indicate that something is too unpleasant, horrifying etc to think about □ "What will she do next?" — "I shudder to think." □ I shudder to think what could have happened. -2. [machine, vehicle] to shake suddenly and violently □ The engine shuddered into life.
- shuffle [ˈʃʌfl] ◇ vt -1. to shuffle one's feet to move one's feet around while standing in one place, e.g. because one is bored or embarrassed □ He stood there, shuffling his feet to keep warm. -2. to shuffle cards to mix up playing cards so that they are not in any particular order □ The dealer shuffles the deck. ◇ vi -1. to walk without lifting one's feet off the ground properly □ He shuffled into/out of the room. -2. to move one's feet while standing or one's bottom while sitting, e.g. because one is bored or embarrassed □ They shuffled impatiently in their seats.
- shun [ʃʌn] (pt & pp shunned, cont shunning) vt [person, publicity] to deliberately avoid having any contact with <sb/sthg> □ Throughout his life Beckett shunned the glare of the media.
- shunt [ʃʌnt] vt -1. [wagon, car] to push or pull <sthg> from one piece of railroad to another. -2. [person, furniture, luggage] to move <sb/sthg> to a different place □ I've been shunted around from one department to another.
- shunter [ˈʃʌntə] n an engine that is used to shunt railroad cars.
- shush [ʃʊʃ] excl a word used to tell somebody, especially a child, to be quiet □ Shush! It's time to go to sleep.
- shut [ʃʌt] (pt & pp shut, cont shutting) ◇ adj to be shut [window, store, eyes] not to be open □ Are you sure all the doors were shut? ◇ vt -1. [window, door] to change the position of <sthg> so that it is no longer open; [box, case] to cover <sthg> with a lid, top etc so that it is no longer open □ Shut the windows before you go out. □ The suitcase was so full I couldn't shut it. ■ shut your mouth OR face! ▽ be quiet! (very informal use). -2. [store, office] to stop <sthg> from operating or doing business □ They shut the office early on Fridays. ◇ vi [window, eyes, office] What time do the banks shut?
- ◆ shut away vt sep -1. to shut sb away [criminal] to put sb in prison □ I think rapists should be shut away for life. ■ to shut oneself away to deliberately avoid seeing or meeting other people □ She shuts herself away in her room all day. -2. to shut sthg away [valuables, treasure, jewelry] to put or keep sthg in a safe place where nobody can see it □ The jewels are shut away in a safe somewhere.
- ◆ shut down ◇ vt sep to shut sthg down [factory, business, theater] to stop sthg from operating, for a short time or for ever □ The reactor had to be shut down while repairs were carried out. □ They've shut down the local car plant. ◇ vi [factory, business] The restaurant shut down last year.
- ◆ shut in vt sep to shut sb/sthg in [person, animal] to close the door, windows etc of a room or building so that sb/sthg cannot get out □ They shut the dog in by mistake.
- ◆ shut out vt sep -1. to shut sb/sthg out [person, animal, noise] to stop sb/sthg from getting into a building, room, etc □ The new curtains shut out the light very effectively. -2. to shut sthg out [thought, feeling, image] to stop sthg from entering or being in one's mind □ I tried to shut out the pain and keep going.
- ◆ shut up ◇ vt sep -1. to shut a place up [factory, store] to close the entrances to a place so that people cannot enter □ We shut the apartment up completely before leaving on vacation. -2. to shut sb/sthg up [person, animal] to stop sb/sthg from talking or making a noise (informal use) □ Once he'd started we just couldn't shut him up. ◇ vi [person] to be quiet (informal use) □ Shut up!
- shutter [ˈʃʌtə] n -1. [on a window] a wooden or metal cover on the outside of a window that can be opened or closed. -2. [in a camera] the part of a camera that opens to let light through the lens when a photograph is being taken.
- shuttle [ˈʃʌtl] ◇ adj a shuttle service a service in which a passenger vehicle, e.g. an aircraft, train, or bus, goes frequently back and forth between two places □ There's a shuttle service between the airport and the train station. ◇ n a shuttle service; a vehicle that provides this service □ Let's take the shuttle. ◇ vi [vehicle, person] to make frequent trips between two places □ He spends half his time shuttling back and forth between New York and Chicago.

- ◇ vt [passengers, tourists] to take <people> on a shuttle between two places □ The bus shuttles passengers between terminals.
- shuttlecock ['ʃʌtlkɒk] n an object with a rounded point at one end and real or plastic feathers at the other that is hit over a net in the game of badminton.
- shy [ʃaɪ] (pt & pp shied) ◇ adj [person] who is nervous and uncomfortable when meeting or talking to other people, especially people they do not know □ She gave him a shy smile/look. □ He was too shy to let her know how he felt. ◇ vi [horse] to move suddenly backward or sideways when surprised or afraid.
- ◆ shy away from vt fus to shy away from sthg to avoid doing sthg that one does not like or does not feel confident enough to do □ She shied away from accusing him directly.
- Shylock ['ʃaɪlək] a character in Shakespeare's play The Merchant of Venice. He is a money-lender who demands a pound of flesh from a character who cannot repay a loan.
- shyly ['ʃaɪli] adv [look, smile, say] see shy.
- shyness ['ʃaɪnəs] n: see shy.
- Siamese [ˌsaɪə'mi:z] n a Siamese (cat) a cat that has pale fur and blue eyes.
- Siamese twins npl twins who are born with parts of their bodies joined together.
- SIB (abbr of Securities and Investment Board) n the SIB the official organization responsible for controlling the securities markets in Britain.
- Sibelius [sə'beɪliəs], Jean (1865–1957) a Finnish composer whose best-known work is the orchestral work Finlandia.
- Siberia [saɪ'berɪə] a large region of northern Asia, covering parts of Russia and Kazakhstan.
- sibling ['sɪblɪŋ] n a brother or sister (formal use) □ sibling rivalry.
- Sicilian [sɪ'sɪlɪən] n & adj: see Sicily.
- Sicily ['sɪsəli] a large Italian island in the Mediterranean, southwest of Italy. SIZE: 25,708 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,961,383 (Sicilians). CAPITAL: Palermo.
- sick [sɪk] adj -1. [person, animal] ill □ They care for sick people. ■ to be off sick to be away from work because one is ill. -2. to feel sick to feel like vomiting. -3. to be sick GB to vomit □ I ate so much I was almost sick. -4. to be sick of sthg to be annoyed and bored with sthg one does not like, especially because it has continued or because one has done it for much too long □ I'm sick and tired of his constant moaning. -5. to make sb sick [behavior, opinion] to make sb feel angry and disgusted; [food, drink] to make sb vomit or want to vomit □ His racist ideas make me sick. □ Seafood always makes me sick. -6. [story, joke] that is tasteless and offensive □ He has a really sick sense of humor.
- sickbay ['sɪkbeɪ] n an area, e.g. on a ship or in a school, where sick people can be treated.
- sickbed ['sɪkbed] n sb's sickbed a bed where sb sick is lying □ She called me from her sickbed to tell me what had happened.
- sicken ['sɪkn] vt to be so unpleasant that it disgusts and makes <sb> feel sick □ I was sickened by the violence I saw there.
- sickening ['sɪknɪŋ] adj -1. [sight, smell] that is so disgusting it makes one feel sick □ the sickening thud of the executioner's ax. -2. [person, behavior] that everyone finds very annoying (humorous use) □ She's so talented, it's sickening.
- sickle ['sɪkl] n a tool with a short handle and a curved blade, used for cutting long grass, wheat etc.
- sick leave n the time that somebody is officially allowed off work because they are ill □ I get three weeks' sick leave per year. □ Mrs Drew is on sick leave.
- sickly ['sɪkli] (compar sicklier, superl sickliest) adj -1. [person, appearance] that looks unhealthy □ a pale, sickly child. -2. [smell, taste, color] that is so unpleasant that it makes one feel sick □ The room was painted a sickly shade of green.
- sickness ['sɪknəs] n -1. illness □ How many working days were lost due to sickness? -2. GB the act of vomiting □ She was off for two days with sickness and diarrhea. -3. a particular illness □ His sickness has not been diagnosed yet.
- sickness benefit n GB money paid by the government to people who are unable to work because they are ill.
- sick pay n money paid by an employer to somebody who is unable to go to work because they are ill.
- sickroom ['sɪkru:m] n a room where somebody is ill in bed.
- side [saɪd] ◇ n -1. [of a room, building, town] one of the two parts of an object or area that are to the left and right of the middle of it □ Which side of the bed do you sleep on? □ New York's Lower East Side. ■ from side to side moving repeatedly in one direction and then in the opposite direction □ The trees swayed from side to side in the wind. ■ on all sides, on every side in every direction □ Our troops were being attacked on all sides. ■ to put sthg to OR on one side not to do, spend, discuss etc sthg straight away but to leave it until later □ I put all the bills to one side, until I could afford to pay them. -2. [of a river, border, fence] the area that lies to the left or right of something □ I could hear voices on the far side of the wall. -3. [of a person] the left or right part of a person's body, from their shoulders to their legs; [of an animal] the left or right part of an animal, from the top of its back to the top of its legs □ He felt a pain in his left side. □ The deer was lying on its side. ■ at OR by sb's side beside sb □ She remained at his side during his illness. ■ side by side next to one another and facing the same direction □ We sat side by side on a large sofa. -4. [of a coin, cube, piece of cloth] any of the flat surfaces of an object that has two or more surfaces □ The box had 'This Side Up' stamped on it. □ What's on the other side of the cassette? -5. [of an object, shape] any of the straight edges around the outside of an object □ A triangle

- has three sides. -6. [of a building, vehicle] one of the two outer surfaces that are not the top, bottom, front, or back of something □ The car was dented on the passenger's side. □ I found a path that went around the side of the house. -7. [of a hill, valley] the sloping part between the top and bottom of a hill or mountain □ The gorge had steep sides. -8. [in a war, game, debate] one of two groups who are fighting or competing with each other □ Neither side would give in. ■ to be on sb's side to agree with sb in an argument □ I always like to be on the winning side. □ I'm on your side! ■ to take sides to choose to support somebody in an argument □ I don't want to take sides. -9. [of a family] the parents, grandparents etc of one's mother or one's father □ My mother's side of the family came from Germany. -10. [of a problem, argument] one part of a situation; [of somebody's character] one part of somebody's personality or character □ Can't you see the funny side of it? □ I didn't know he had a serious side. -11. US = side dish □ I'll have eggs with a side of wheat toast. -12. phrases to be on the large/small side to be a little too large/small □ The coat's a little on the large side, but it'll do. ■ to do sthg on the side to work at sthg in addition to one's regular job, sometimes illegally □ He's a bus driver, but he does some gardening on the side. ■ to keep on the right/wrong side of sb to make sb feel pleased/annoyed with one □ I wouldn't like to get on the wrong side of him! ◇ adj [door, entrance] that is situated to the side of something □ The thieves got in through a side window.
- ◆ side with vt fus to side with sb to support sb in an argument □ The rest of the family all sided with me against Dad.
- sideboard ['saɪdbɔ:rd] n a long piece of furniture, usually in a dining room or living room, for keeping glasses, plates etc in.
- sideburns ['saɪdbɜ:nz] US, sideboards ['saɪdbɔ:dz] GB npl strips of hair growing down the sides of a man's face.
- sidecar ['saɪdkɑ:ʃ] n a small vehicle for one or two passengers that is attached to the side of a motorcycle.
- side dish n a small dish such as a salad or vegetables that is eaten at the same time as the main dish of a meal.
- side effect n -1. [of a drug, treatment] an effect, usually unexpected and unwanted, that happens in addition to the main intended effect □ Side effects include vomiting, dizziness and chest pain. -2. [of a situation, decision] an unplanned result that happens in addition to the intended result of something □ A side-effect of her resignation was the unexpected departure of her secretary.
- sidekick ['saɪdkɪk] n a person's helper or companion, who is usually less important than the person they help or spend time with.
- sidelight ['saɪdlaɪt] n GB one of two small lights beside or below the headlights of a car.
- sideline ['saɪdlaɪn] n -1. something that somebody does in addition to their main job, especially because they enjoy it □ As a sideline he takes wedding photos. -2. [of a field, court] one of the painted lines that mark the side of a soccer field, tennis court etc □ He stood watching from the sidelines. -3. to be on the sidelines to be away from the center of attention and not taking part in what is happening □ I preferred to stay on the sidelines and not get involved in the dispute.
- sidelong ['saɪdlɒŋ] ◇ adj [look, glance] toward the side, out of the corner of one's eye □ Jerry and Chris exchanged sidelong glances. ◇ adv: They looked sidelong at each other.
- side-on ◇ adj [crash, collision] that involves the side rather than the front of something □ We were involved in a side-on crash with another car. ◇ adv [crash, collide] The car hit the wall side-on.
- side plate n a small plate that is placed on one side of the main plate at meals, and is usually for bread.
- side road n a small road, often joining a main road.
- sidesaddle ['saɪdsædl] adv to ride sidesaddle to ride with one's legs together on the same side of the horse.
- sideshow ['saɪdʃəʊ] n a small show, stall, game etc at a fairground.
- sidestep ['saɪdstep] (pt & pp sidestepped, cont sidestepping) vt -1. [attacker, blow, obstacle] to step to one side in order to avoid <sb/sthg> □ He threw a punch but Mandy sidestepped it just in time. -2. [question, problem] to avoid dealing with <sthg> □ She keeps trying to sidestep the issue by changing the subject.
- side street n a small street, often joining a main street.
- sidetrack ['saɪdtræk] vt to be sidetracked to forget what one is doing and give one's attention to something else, usually something less important □ I'm sorry I'm late, I got sidetracked by a few telephone calls.
- sidewalk ['saɪdwɔ:k] n US the area at the side of a street or road where people walk □ Stay on the sidewalk!
- sideways ['saɪdweɪz] ◇ adj [movement, look] toward one side □ He gave a sideways glance into Mr Proctor's office as he walked past. ◇ adv [move, look] I was thrown sideways by the blast.
- siding ['saɪdɪŋ] n a short railroad track beside the main track, used for storing trains and railroad cars when they are not being used.
- sidle ['saɪdl] vi to sidle up to sb to go toward sb in a very quiet way so that they do not notice one □ He sidled up to me and thrust a package into my hand.
- SIDS (abbr of sudden infant death syndrome) n = crib death (technical use).
- siege [si:dʒ] n -1. [of a town, city] a military operation in which an army surrounds a place, attacks it, cuts off supplies etc in order to force the people inside to surrender □ The city was in a state of virtual siege. -2. [of a house] an operation in which the police surround a building in order to try to force the people inside to come out □ a police siege.

Sierra Leone [sɪˈerəlɪˈoʊn] a country in West Africa, on the Atlantic coast. SIZE: 72,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,500,000 (Sierra Leoneans). CAPITAL: Freetown. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Leone.

Sierra Nevada -1. the Sierra Nevada a mountain range in eastern California, USA. HIGHEST POINT: 4,418 m. -2. the Sierra Nevada a mountain range in southeastern Spain. HIGHEST POINT: 3,478 m. siesta [sɪˈestə] n to have a siesta to have a short sleep in the early afternoon, especially in order to avoid the hottest part of the day.

sieve [sɪv] ◇ n a kitchen tool that consists of a metal or plastic net in a frame and that is used for separating liquids from solids or larger pieces of a substance from smaller ones. ■ to have a head OR memory like a sieve to forget things very often or very easily (informal use). ◇ vt [flour, sugar, soup] to put <sthg> through a sieve.

sift [sɪft] ◇ vt -1. [flour, sand] to put <sthg> through a sieve in order to remove the larger lumps. -2. [evidence, facts] to examine <sthg> very carefully in order to decide what is important and what is unimportant. ◇ vi: It took all week to sift through the job applications.

sigh [saɪ] ◇ n a deep breath that somebody lets out, e.g. when they are sad, relieved, or bored □ He gave a heavy sigh. ■ to heave a sigh of relief to give a sigh when one is relieved about something □ Sharon heaved a sigh of relief as she watched her guests finally depart. ◇ vi to give a sigh □ She sighed with relief/despair.

sight [saɪt] ◇ n -1. one's sight the ability to see □ He lost the sight in one eye. -2. [of a person, object] the act of seeing somebody or something □ It was my first sight of the Pacific. ■ to be in sight [object, person, place] to be near enough to be seen; [result, solution] to be going to happen soon □ After an arduous trip, our destination was now in sight. □ There seems to be no end in sight to our problems. ■ to be out of sight to be hidden or too far away to be seen □ The car zoomed past us and was soon out of sight. □ Get out of my sight this instant! ■ to catch sight of sb/sthg to see sb/sthg very briefly, especially by chance □ I caught sight of her leaving the building. ■ to know sb by sight to recognize sb although one has never spoken to them □ I don't know him personally, but I know him by sight. ■ to lose sight of sb/sthg [of a person, object] to be no longer able to see sb/sthg □ We lost sight of the other ship in the fog. ■ to lose sight of sthg [of one's aim, objective] to no longer think about sthg because one is thinking about less important things □ They are so concerned with public relations, the party has lost sight of its real goals. ■ to shoot on sight to shoot somebody as soon as one sees them □ We have instructions to shoot on sight anybody caught moving in the vicinity. ■ at first sight the first time one sees somebody or something □ At first sight the house seems quite small. □ It was love at first sight. -3. a beautiful/terrible etc sight something beautiful/terrible etc that one sees □ Last night's sunset was a beautiful sight. □ The city was a grim sight after the battle. -4. [of a gun] the part of a gun that one looks through in order to aim at somebody or something. ■ to set one's sights on sthg/on doing sthg to be determined to have sthg/to do sthg □ Craig's sights are firmly set on becoming a doctor.

◇ vt [criminal, animal, land] to see <sb/sthg that one has been looking for>, often for the first time □ Mrs Pacan has been sighted in a downtown bar. □ Finally the crew sighted land.

◆ sights npl the famous buildings, monuments etc in a place that are interesting for tourists to visit and see □ I want to go to New York, see the sights and go to lots of shows.

◆ a sight adv a sight better/worse much better/worse.

sighted ['saɪtəd] adj [person] who is able to see.

sighting ['saɪtɪŋ] n the act of seeing a person, animal, or thing that one has been looking for, often for the first time □ Several whale sightings have been reported this week.

sightseeing ['saɪtsi:ɪŋ] n the act of visiting a town, city, country etc to see the sights □ He went sightseeing in Rome.

sightseer ['saɪtsi:ə] n a person who goes sightseeing □ a bus full of sightseers.

sign [saɪn] ◇ n -1. [in math, music] a written symbol that has a particular meaning □ a division sign. -2. [from one person to another] a gesture, usually made with one's arms, hands, or head, that is used to ask somebody to do something or to give them information □ They made signs to each other across the crowded room. □ He made a sign at me to keep quiet. -3. [in a street, outside a store] a large piece of wood or metal that has words or a picture on it which gives information, e.g. what or where a place is, how fast people are allowed to drive etc □ The sign says 'No parking'. □ I'm sure I saw a sign for New Orleans back there. □ a street sign □ There was a 'No smoking' sign on the door. -4. a sign of sthg [of a person, change, danger] something which shows that sthg exists or is going to happen □ The government claimed there were signs of improvement in the economy. □ There's no sign of him yet. □ I see no sign(s) of an agreement being reached.

◇ vt -1. [letter, check] to write one's signature on <sthg> □ We're just waiting for the contract to be signed. ■ to sign one's name to write one's name □ Can you sign your name on the receipt? -2. SPORT to begin to employ  by asking them to sign a contract □ Tom Lint has just been signed by Miami. ◇ vi to write one's signature on something □ Sign here, please.

◆ sign away vt sep to sign sthg away [ownership, right, claim] to let somebody have sthg by signing an official document.

◆ sign for vt fus -1. to sign for sthg [letter, package] to sign a document to show that one has received sthg □ Can you sign for this telegram, sir? -2. SPORT to sign for a team to sign a contract stating that one now plays for a particular team.

- ◆ sign in vi to sign a register or form when one enters a place such as a hotel or company □ Employees are requested to sign in on entering the building.
- ◆ sign on vi -1. = sign up. -2. GB to officially declare that one is unemployed by regularly going to the local social security office and signing a form □ Jack's been signing on for six months now.
- ◆ sign out vi to sign a register or form when one leaves a place such as a hotel or company □ Don't forget to sign out on leaving the premises.
- ◆ sign up ◇ vt sep to sign sb up [employee, recruit, soldier] to begin to employ sb by asking them to sign a contract □ He's been signed up by the Marines. ◇ vi [for military service, a course] to sign something such as a form to show that one agrees to work for a particular organization, that one wants to study a particular course etc □ Have you signed up for the training course yet?

signal ['sɪgnl] (US pp & pt signaled, cont signaling, GB pp & pt signalled, cont signalling) ◇ n -1. something such as a gesture, sound, or action that gives somebody information or a warning □ This was the signal for us to leave. -2. RAIL a piece of equipment consisting of green, yellow, and red lights beside a track, which is used to tell train drivers to go or stop □ a railroad signal. -3. TV & RADIO a sound or light wave that carries information □ a radio signal □ The signal is very weak for some channels.

◇ vt -1. to send signals to <sthg> □ The brain signals the muscles to contract. -2. [message, warning, intention] to do something to tell somebody <sthg> □ The cyclist signaled a left turn. □ The policeman signaled the car to pull over. -3. [event, change] to be a sign of <sthg> □ The white flowers signal the arrival of spring.

◇ adj [success, failure] important and noticeable (formal use) □ There has been a signal failure to communicate in this matter.

◇ vi -1. AUTO [driver, cyclist] to do something to show that one is going to stop, turn etc □ You should always signal before turning. -2. [person] to make a sign with one's hands or head □ Jan was signaling for us to be quiet. □ He signaled for the check.

signal box n GB = signal tower.

signalman ['sɪgnlmən] (pl signalmen [-mən]) n a person whose job is to control railroad traffic by operating the signals.

signal tower US, signal box GB n a small building near a railroad containing the switches to operate the signals.

signatory [US 'sɪgnətɔːrɪ, GB -tɔːrɪ] (pl signatories) n [of an agreement, treaty] a person who has signed something □ The G7 countries were all signatories to the agreement.

signature ['sɪgnətʃə] n a person's name, written in their own handwriting, often at the end of an official document or letter □ Greg used to forge his mother's signature. □ Could you write your signature on the back, please?

signature tune n a piece of music that is always played at the beginning and end of a particular radio or TV show.

signet ring ['sɪgnət-] n a ring worn on one's finger, engraved with an initial or design.

significance [sɪɡ'nɪfɪkəns] n -1. [of an event, decision, achievement] importance □ His decision is of great/no significance to us. -2. [of a warning, sign, saying] the meaning of something, especially when it is not immediately obvious □ The significance of her words escaped me at the time. □ I suddenly understood the full significance of the changes.

significant [sɪɡ'nɪfɪkənt] adj -1. [amount, increase] that is large enough to be noticed □ This year has seen a significant drop in output. -2. [event, decision, achievement] that is important enough to affect something in the future □ The decision marks a significant improvement in race relations. -3. [action, gesture, look] that has a special meaning that is not known to everybody □ It is significant that only one member of the board was present. □ She gave him a significant smile.

significantly [sɪɡ'nɪfɪkəntli] adv [increase, look, wink] see significant.

signify ['sɪgnɪfaɪ] (pt & pp signified) vt [change, acceptance, refusal] to mean or to be a sign of <sthg> □ Does this signify a new direction in Democratic politics?

signing ['sɑɪnɪŋ] n -1. the use of sign language to communicate with a deaf person. -2. GB SPORT a player who has been signed on by a particular team.

sign language n a language used by deaf people that involves hand movements rather than sounds to represent words.

signpost ['sɑɪnpəʊst] n a sign beside a road, usually showing the direction or distance to a place.

Sikh [sɪ:k] ◇ n a person who believes in or belongs to Sikhism. ◇ adj: a Sikh community/temple.

Sikhism ['sɪ:kɪzəm] n an Indian religion that developed from Hinduism in the 16th century.

silage ['sɪlɪdʒ] n grass and other crops that have been cut and stored when still green to be used as winter food for animals.

silence ['saɪləns] ◇ n [of a person, place] the state of being silent □ His silence on the issue/about his past intrigues me. □ There was an awkward silence. □ After a long silence, Martin finally began to speak. □ Can we have some silence, please? ■ in silence [sit, wait] without making a sound □ They sat waiting in silence for the doctor to emerge. ◇ vt -1. [child, gun] to stop <sb/sthg> from making a noise □ The plane has an ingenious system for silencing engine noise. -2. [critic, opponent] to force <sb> to stop saying something or telling people about something, especially when one disagrees with them or wants to keep some-

- thing secret □ I'll write my own version of events — that'll silence them!
- silencer ['saɪlənsə] n a device attached to something, especially a gun or the exhaust system of a car, to make it quieter.
- silent ['saɪlənt] adj -1. [person] who is not speaking; who usually does not talk very much □ You have the right to remain silent. □ He's the strong silent type. ■ to fall silent to stop speaking, especially suddenly □ The priest suddenly fell silent, as if he had forgotten his words. -2. [person, law] that does not give any information about a particular subject □ I prefer to remain silent on the subject. □ The rule book is silent on this point. -3. [machine, place, movement] that makes no noise □ The guns were silent for the first time in days. □ The engine is almost silent. -4. [movie] that has no sound or speech. -5. [letter] that is not pronounced □ The "p" in "Ptolemy" is silent.
- silently ['saɪləntli] adv [walk, work, move] see silent □ Brian sat silently in his chair.
- silent partner n US a partner who has invested money in a business but is not involved in running it.
- silhouette [ˌsɪluː'et] ◇ n [of a figure, building] a dark shape seen against a lighter background □ I could only just make out the house, a dark silhouette against the moonlit sky. □ The tree appeared in silhouette. ◇ vt to be silhouetted against sthg to appear as a silhouette against sthg □ He took a fantastic photo of some elephants silhouetted against the sky.
- silicon ['sɪlɪkən] n an element that is found in sand and some minerals and that is used in parts for electronic equipment. SYMBOL: Si.
- silicon chip n a small piece of silicon with electronic components on it that forms part of a computer or transistor circuit.
- silicone ['sɪlkəʊn] n an artificial substance made from silicon that is used to make paint, oil etc □ a silicone breast implant.
- Silicon Valley an area of western California, USA, that is a major center of the US computer industry.
- silk [sɪlk] n a smooth soft cloth made from a natural substance produced by silkworms □ a silk shirt/handkerchief.
- silk screen printing n a method of printing patterns on a surface by forcing dye onto it through a stretched piece of silk.
- silkworm ['sɪlkwɜːm] n a type of caterpillar that produces silk fiber to make its cocoon.
- silky ['sɪlki] (compar silkie, superl silkiest) adj -1. [hair, cloth] that is soft, smooth, and shiny; [skin] that feels soft and smooth □ a beautiful piece of silky fabric □ Her hands felt silky smooth. -2. [voice] that sounds soft and pleasant □ a beautiful, silky voice.
- sill [sɪl] n a ledge made of wood, metal, or plastic at the bottom of a window.
- silliness ['sɪlnəs] n silly behavior □ I'm getting annoyed by all this silliness.
- silly ['sɪli] (compar sillier, superl silliest) adj [person, behavior] that does not seem serious or sensible □ You look silly in that tie. □ She put on a silly voice. □ It was a very silly mistake.
- silo ['saɪləʊ] (pl silos) n -1. [on a farm] a round tower used for storing grain. -2. MILITARY a place built underground where missiles are kept ready to be fired.
- silt [sɪlt] n fine sand or mud that is carried along by a river and that can build up into a mass at a bend or in a harbor.
- ◆ silt up vi [lake, river] to become blocked with silt.
- silver ['sɪlvə] ◇ adj [hair, paint] shiny gray-white. ◇ n -1. a valuable, shiny, gray-white metal. SYMBOL: Ag □ silver jewelry/cutlery. -2. coins that contain silver, or that are silver in color □ I'm sorry, I don't have any silver. -3. = silverware.
- silver foil, silver paper n GB metallic paper, usually made of aluminum, used for wrapping food in.
- silver-plated [-'plɛɪtəd] adj [knife, spoon, dish] that is covered with a thin coating of silver.
- silver screen n the silver screen the industry or activity of making movies; the screen in a movie theater.
- silversmith ['sɪlvə'smɪθ] n a person whose job is to make and repair objects made of silver.
- silverware ['sɪlvə'weə] n -1. objects made of silver, especially for eating and serving food. -2. US a collective term for knives, forks, spoons etc.
- silver wedding n the 25th anniversary of a wedding □ It's our silver wedding anniversary this year.
- silvery ['sɪlvəri] adj [color, material] that looks like silver.
- similar ['sɪmələ] adj [size, amount] that is almost the same as something else but not exactly □ Other customers have had similar problems. □ They are very similar in content. □ My job is similar to yours. □ I have something similar at home.
- similarity [ˌsɪmə'lærəti] (pl similarities) n: see similar □ There is no similarity between my job and yours. □ The similarity was striking.
- similarly ['sɪmələ'li] adv -1. similarly dressed/built etc dressed/built in a similar way □ It was a vague question which brought a similarly vague response. -2. similarly,... a word used to say that there is a similarity between two actions, events, statements etc □ The opening gala was a black-tie affair — similarly, formal dress was required for the closing show.
- simile ['sɪməli] n an expression that describes something by comparing it with something else using the words "like" or "as".
- simmer ['sɪmə] ◇ vt [soup, stew] to cook <sthg> by keeping it at or just below boiling point. ◇ vi [soup, stew] Leave the vegetables to simmer for 20 minutes or so.
- ◆ simmer down vi to calm down and stop being angry (informal use).
- simper ['sɪmpə] ◇ n a silly unnatural smile □ "Oh, yes, please!" she replied, with a girlish simper. ◇ vi to smile in a silly unnatural way □ He sat simpering at Lisa.

- simple ['sɪmpl] adj -1. [explanation, task, problem] that is easy to understand or deal with □ Look, it's simple: just multiply the two figures together. □ It's a simple operation. □ Unfortunately it's not as simple as that. -2. [dress, truth, life] that is basic, not elaborate or complicated □ The design of the building is very simple. -3. for the simple reason only because □ I did it for the simple reason that I had no choice. -4. to be simple to have very low intelligence.
- simple-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who is not very intelligent.
- simpleton ['sɪmptən] n a person who is not very intelligent (old-fashioned use).
- simplicity [sɪm'plɪsəti] n [of an explanation, dress, life] see simple □ The simplicity of the style is what first attracted me to it.
- simplification [ˌsɪmplɪfɪ'keɪʃn] n: see simplify □ The matter needs simplification.
- simplify ['sɪmplɪfaɪ] (pt & pp simplified) vt [system, problem, explanation] to make <sthg> more simple □ It would simplify matters if we could agree on a few things from the start.
- simplistic [sɪm'plɪstɪk] adj [view, interpretation, solution] that makes things seem simpler than they really are (disapproving use) □ Cole's analysis is too simplistic for modern historians to accept.
- simply ['sɪmpli] adv -1. only □ I simply wanted to help. □ It was simply one more disappointment to add to all the others. -2. a word used for emphasis □ You simply must come and see me. □ The weather was simply awful. -3. [live, speak, write] see simple □ She always dresses simply but elegantly. □ Get rid of unwanted hair simply, but effectively. □ a simply furnished room.
- simulate ['sɪmjəleɪt] vt -1. [feeling, illness] to pretend to have <sthg> □ His attempts at simulating enthusiasm seemed to have failed. -2. [situation, noise, object] to produce the effect of <sthg> □ We are trying to simulate the conditions you will experience in real life.
- simulation [ˌsɪmjə'leɪʃn] n -1. see simulate. -2. COMPUTING an operation in which a real situation, activity etc is imitated in order to see what it is like or what is likely to happen in the future □ a computer simulation.
- simulator ['sɪmjəleɪtə] n a machine which simulates particular conditions such as the conditions in a spacecraft and is used to train people how to deal with them □ a flight simulator.
- simultaneous [US ˌsaɪmə'lteɪnjəs, GB ˌsɪm-] adj [broadcast, translation] that happens at exactly the same time as something else □ The next program will be a simultaneous broadcast on all channels.
- simultaneously [US ˌsaɪmə'lteɪnjəsli, GB ˌsɪm-] adv [happen, appear] see simultaneous □ We both came up with the idea simultaneously.
- sin [sɪn] (pt & pp sinned, cont sinning) ◇ n something that somebody does that breaks a religious law □ She felt that she had committed a terrible sin. ■ to live in sin to live with a person and have a sexual relationship with them without being married to them (old-fashioned or humorous use). ◇ vi to commit a sin □ They said he had sinned against God's laws.
- Sinbad ['sɪnbəd] a character in an Arabian folk story. He is a sailor who has many adventures.
- since [sɪns] ◇ prep from a particular time or event in the past until the present □ He's worked for them since 1990. □ Kim's been feeling much better since her operation. □ It's the first drink I've had since Christmas. ◇ conj -1. from a particular time □ We haven't heard from him since he left home on Thursday. □ Since his marriage broke up he's been suffering from depression. -2. because a particular situation exists □ Since you're here, you might as well give me a hand with the house. ◇ adv from a particular time □ They went off to work this morning and I haven't seen them since. □ We met at college and we've kept in touch ever since.
- sincere [sɪn'sɪə] adj [person] who tells the truth about how they feel or what they think; [hope, thanks, apology] that one really means or feels □ I don't think you're being altogether sincere with me. □ I'd like to offer my sincere congratulations.
- sincerely [sɪn'sɪəli] adv [believe, hope] see sincere □ I sincerely meant what I said last night. ■ Sincerely (yours) US, Yours sincerely GB a phrase written at the end of a formal letter before one's signature.
- sincerity [sɪn'serəti] n the quality of being sincere □ I have doubts about his sincerity.
- sinecure ['saɪnkjʊə] n a job that one is paid for but that involves very little work.
- sinew ['sɪnju:] n a piece of tissue in one's body that attaches a muscle to a bone.
- sinewy ['sɪnju:] adj [body, person] that looks lean and has strong muscles.
- sinful ['sɪnfl] adj -1. [person] who has committed a sin. -2. [act, thought] that is considered to be a sin.
- sing [sɪŋ] (pt sang, pp sung) ◇ vt -1. [tune, lullaby] to perform  by using one's voice to produce musical sounds □ We stood up to sing the National Anthem. □ I'll sing you the words. -2. [opera, jazz] to perform <sthg> as a trained or professional singer □ I sing tenor in the choir. □ She sang "Carmen". ◇ vi -1. [person] I wish I could sing as well as you. -2. [bird] to produce sounds that are like music □ The birds were singing in the trees.
- singalong ['sɪŋəlɒŋ] US, singsong ['sɪŋsɒŋ] GB n an occasion when people sing well-known songs together in an informal way.
- Singapore [ˌsɪŋgə'pɔ:] a country in Southeast Asia, consisting of an island near the end of the Malay Peninsula. SIZE: 618 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,700,000 (Singaporeans). CAPITAL: Singapore City. LANGUAGE: English, Chinese, Malay, Tamil. CURRENCY: Singapore dollar.
- Singaporean [ˌsɪŋgə'pɔ:riən] n & adj: see Singapore.
- singe [sɪndʒ] (cont singeing) vt [clothes, hair] to burn <sthg> slightly.
- singer ['sɪŋə] n a person who sings □ I'm afraid

I'm not a very good singer. □ He's the lead singer of the group.

singing ['sɪŋɪŋ] ◇ adj a singing voice the particular quality of the sounds somebody makes when they sing □ She has a beautiful singing voice. ◇ n the activity of producing music with one's voice □ The singing went on for some time. □ a singing teacher.

singing telegram n a greeting given to a person who is celebrating their birthday, that is performed by a singer who is paid to do this.

single ['sɪŋɡl] ◇ adj -1. [aim, object] that is the only one □ His single ambition in life is to become a writer. □ There was a single chair in the room. □ They didn't have a single copy of the paper left. ■ every single every (used for emphasis) □ Every single copy has been sold. □ I've been out every single night this week. -2. [person] not married □ He's still single. ◇ n -1. GB = single ticket □ A single to York, please. -2. MUSIC a short record, CD, or cassette that usually has only one main song □ I don't like their new single.

◆ singles n a game of tennis in which one person plays against another □ She challenged me to a game of singles.

◆ single out vt sep to single sb out to give sb special attention or treatment □ He was singled out for praise.

single bed n a bed that is big enough for only one person.
NOTE: Compare double bed.

single-breasted [-'breɪstəd] adj [coat, jacket] that has only one set of buttons, which are fastened at the center of the front part.
NOTE: Compare double-breasted.

single cream n GB thin cream that does not contain a lot of fat.
NOTE: Compare double cream.

single-decker (bus) [-'deɪkə-] n GB a bus that has only one level.

Single European Market n the Single European Market the economic area formed by the countries of the European Union, where no tax is paid on goods brought from one member country to another.

single file n in single file in a line with one person in front of the other □ Please line up in single file.

single-handed [-'hændəd] adv without help from anybody else □ He sailed across the Atlantic single-handed.

single-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who has a strong desire to achieve one thing and is willing to work very hard for it □ She's very single-minded about her career. □ I admire Warren's single-minded attitude to sports.

single-parent family n a family in which one parent is bringing up children on his or her own.

single room n a bedroom for one person in a hotel □ I'd like to reserve a single room for three nights.

NOTE: Compare double room, twin room.

singles bar n a bar where single people can go to look for somebody to have a romantic or sexual relationship with.

singlet ['sɪŋɡlət] n GB a T-shirt without sleeves and with a low neck that is worn as underwear or for playing sports.

single ticket n GB a ticket that is valid for a trip from one place to another, but not for when one travels back.

singsong ['sɪŋsɒŋ] ◇ adj [voice, accent] that repeatedly goes up and down in pitch (informal use). ◇ n GB = singalong.

singular ['sɪŋɡjələ] ◇ adj -1. GRAMMAR [word, noun] that indicates there is only one of something □ The singular form is the same as the plural. -2. [beauty, achievement] very unusual and special □ There was a singular atmosphere at dinner that night. ◇ n a singular word or form □ "Furniture" only exists in the singular.

singularly ['sɪŋɡjələli] adv singularly brave/ unsuccessful etc brave/unsuccessful etc to an unusual and extreme degree (formal use) □ He's a singularly talented musician. □ I was singularly unimpressed by their behavior.

Sinhalese [sɪŋə'li:z] adj & n: see Sri Lanka.

sinister ['sɪnɪstə] adj [figure, appearance] that seems evil or likely to cause harm □ They X-rayed my lungs, and found nothing sinister.

sink [sɪŋk] (pt sank, pp sunk) ◇ n a fixed container in a kitchen, bathroom etc that can be filled with water from faucets which are attached to it, and that is used for washing things in □ the kitchen/bathroom sink.

◇ vt -1. to badly damage  so that it goes below the surface of the water □ The missile sank the enemy ship. -2. to sink sth into sth to cause sth to go deeply into sth □ The dog sank its teeth into his leg.

◇ vi -1. [ship, boat] to go below the surface of water or mud □ The ship sank beneath the waves. □ We sank up to our knees in the mud.

-2. [sun, moon] to move down in the sky and disappear behind the horizon □ The sun sank below the horizon. -3. [person, head] to move down into a lower position, especially because one is very tired or because there is nothing to hold one up □ She sank back into the chair. -4. [hopes, spirits] to become less hopeful □ My heart sank when I heard the terrible news. -5. [building, foundation, ground] to move below a particular level; [level, water] to go down □ Venice is sinking into the sea.

-6. [numbers, profits] to go down in amount or value □ My savings had sunk to a few hundred dollars. -7. [voice] to become quieter □ Her voice sank to a whisper. -8. to sink into sth [into a coma, sleep] to gradually go from one state into sth else □ The family sank even deeper into debt.

◆ sink in vi [words, fact, truth] to be completely understood, usually slowly or gradually □ It hasn't sunk in yet that I'm a father.

sinking ['sɪŋkɪŋ] adj a sinking feeling a feeling that things are going to start to go badly.

sinking fund n money saved and kept by the government or a company to pay interest on money that is borrowed in the future.

- sink unit n a piece of kitchen furniture that has a sink, drawers, and doors at the front.
- sinner ['sɪnə] n a person who has committed a sin.
- Sinn Fein [ˌfɪnˈfeɪn] n a political organization that believes that Northern Ireland should be part of the Irish Republic.
- sinuous ['sɪnjuəs] adj [movement, dancer] that moves in a smooth and twisting way □ sinuous curves.
- sinus ['sɪnəs] (pl sinuses) n an empty space in the bones of one's head, behind one's nose.
- sinusitis [ˌsaɪnə'saɪtəs] n an infection of one's sinuses.
- Sioux [su:] n a member of a Native American people who used to live in the northern central USA; the language of this people.
- sip [sɪp] (vt & pp sipped, cont sipping) ◇ n a very small amount of a drink that somebody drinks □ Have a sip of my home-made wine. ◇ vt [drink] to drink <sthg> slowly by taking very small amounts into one's mouth □ She slowly sipped her tea.
- siphon ['saɪfɪn] ◇ n a tube that is used to move liquid from one container to another by the pressure of the air. ◇ vt -1. [gasoline, water] to move  with a siphon □ He siphoned the wine into bottles. -2. [money, resources] to move <sthg> from one place to another.
- ◆ siphon off vt sep -1. to siphon sthg off [liquid] to remove sthg with a siphon. -2. to siphon sthg off [money, resources] to use sthg for a purpose it was not intended for □ Public funds were siphoned off by corrupt officials.
- sir [sɜ:] n -1. a word used to talk to a man in a polite and respectful way □ How would you like to pay, sir? -2. in Britain, a title that shows that a man is a knight or a baronet □ Sir Michael Tippett.
- siren ['saɪrən] n a device that makes a loud noise to warn people of an emergency or is used by police cars, ambulances etc traveling to an emergency □ a police/an ambulance siren.
- sirloin (steak) ['sɜ:lɔɪn] n a piece of meat from the lower back of a cow.
- sissy ['sɪsɪ] (pl sissies) n a boy who one thinks behaves more like a girl than a boy (informal and disapproving use).
- sister ['sɪstə] ◇ n -1. [of a person] a female child of one's father and mother □ Have you met my sister? □ She has a younger/an older sister. -2. RELIGION a nun. -3. GB [in a hospital] a female nurse who is in charge of one particular section of a hospital □ She works as a night sister. -4. [in an organization] a woman who is a member of an organization or movement □ Brothers and sisters, we will win our fight! ◇ adj [company, ship, newspaper] that is connected to another thing of the same type □ He works for their sister paper.
- sisterhood ['sɪstə'hʊd] n a religious or political organization of women.
- sister-in-law (pl sisters-in-law OR sister-in-laws) n the wife of one's brother; the sister of one's husband or wife.
- sisterly ['sɪstə'lɪ] adj [affection, feeling] that is typical of the close relationship that is expected between sisters.
- sit [sɪt] (pt & pp sat, cont sitting) ◇ vi -1. [person, animal] to be in a position in which one's bottom is on a surface and one's body is upright; to put oneself in this position □ You're sitting on my newspaper/in my chair. □ I was sitting at my desk. □ Come and sit beside me. -2. to sit on sthg [on a board, council] to be a member of sthg □ He sits on the housing committee. -3. [the Senate, court] to be officially open □ The committee will sit tomorrow to discuss the motion. -4. [building, object] to be in a particular place □ The letter sat unopened on my desk. □ You might as well use this ticket — it's been sitting around for ages. -5. phrase to sit tight to wait for something to happen without doing anything □ Just sit tight and I'll be back in about half an hour.
- ◇ vt -1. [child, baby] to make <sb> sit somewhere □ She sat the baby in the playpen. -2. GB to sit an examination to take an examination □ I'm sitting two exams next term.
- ◆ sit about, sit around vi to sit somewhere without doing anything, especially because one is lazy or because one is waiting for something to happen □ Sarah has done nothing but sit around reading newspapers all day.
- ◆ sit back vi -1. to relax □ Now that the book is published we can sit back and enjoy ourselves. -2. to do nothing □ He thinks he can just sit back and let others do the work.
- ◆ sit down ◇ vt sep to sit sb down to put sb into a position in which they are sitting □ She sat him down on the chair. ◇ vi to put oneself into a position in which one is sitting □ Do sit down, please.
- ◆ sit in on vt fus to sit in on sthg [meeting, discussion, class] to be present at sthg without taking part, especially to find out what happens □ Do you mind if I sit in on your lecture?
- ◆ sit out vt sep -1. to sit sthg out [storm, meeting] to wait for sthg unpleasant to end without doing anything □ It was a terrible game, but I sat it out to the end. -2. to sit out a dance not to take part in a dance □ Do you mind if we sit this one out?
- ◆ sit through vt fus to sit through sthg [meeting, lecture, movie] to stay until the end of sthg, especially sthg boring or unpleasant □ Miraculously, I sat through the entire concert without falling asleep.
- ◆ sit up vi -1. to move to a position in which one is sitting after being in a position in which one was lying □ The patient sat up in bed to eat his breakfast. -2. to stay out of bed late at night □ I sat up to watch the late-night show.
- sitcom ['sɪtkɒm] n a humorous television series based on daily life in which the same characters appear in each episode.
- sit-down ◇ adj a sit-down meal/protest a meal/protest at which people sit down. ◇ n GB to have a sit-down to sit down to rest.

site [saɪt] ◇ n -1. an area of land where an activity takes place □ The archaeological site is closed to visitors. -2. the place where something happened or was built □ There used to be a church on this site. -3. COMPUTING a specific area on the Internet □ This is one of the best and most visited commercial Web sites. ◇ vt to build <sthg> in a particular place □ The factory was sited close to a highway.

sit-in n a protest where people go into a place and refuse to leave □ Protestors are staging a sit-in at the group's headquarters.

sitter ['sɪtə] n -1. a person who is having their picture painted or their photograph taken. -2. a babysitter.

sitting ['sɪtɪŋ] n -1. the serving of a meal at a particular time □ We're on the list for the first sitting of dinner. -2. an official meeting of a court, parliament etc.

Sitting Bull [ˌsɪtɪŋˈbʊl] (1831–1890) a Native American chief who defeated General Custer in the battle of the Little Bighorn.

sitting duck n somebody or something that is easy to attack, especially because they cannot move very easily.

sitting room n the room in a house where people can sit together and relax □ We were watching TV in the sitting room.

sitting tenant n GB a person who is renting and living in a house or apartment and can continue to live there when it is sold.

situate ['sɪtʃoʊt] vt -1. [building, town] to build <sthg> in a particular place □ We have decided to situate the new building to the east of the city. -2. [fact, idea] to think about <sthg> in connection with similar or related things in order □ The evidence must be situated in its proper context.

situated ['sɪtʃoʊtəd] adj to be situated to be in a particular place □ The hotel is situated within walking distance of the beach.

situation [ˌsɪtʃuˈeɪʃn] n -1. the way things are in a particular place or at a particular time □ The situation is still not clear. □ The present economic situation makes cuts inevitable. -2. sb's situation the way things are in sb's life at a particular time □ My present situation makes it difficult for me to go out much. -3. [of a house, office, town] the place where a building, town etc is □ a highly attractive situation near the beach. -4. 'Situations vacant' GB the part of a newspaper where jobs are advertised.

situation comedy n = sitcom (formal use).

sit-up n an exercise for one's stomach muscles that consists of lying on one's back and lifting one's upper body from the ground without using one's arms.

SI unit n an international unit of measurement such as a meter, kilogram, or second.

six [sɪks] num the number 6; see also five.

six-shooter [-ʃuːtə] n a kind of handgun that holds six bullets.

sixteen [sɪksˈtiːn] num the number 16; see also fifteen.

sixteenth [ˌsɪksˈtiːnθ] num 16th; number 16 in a series; see also fifteenth.

sixth [sɪksθ] num 6th; number 6 in a series; see also fifth.

sixth form n GB the class, lasting two years, at the end of which students take their A-levels □ She's in the sixth form. □ a sixth-form student.

sixth-form college n GB a school at which students can study for A-levels.

sixth sense n a feeling or knowledge about something that one cannot explain because it does not seem to come from real evidence □ My sixth sense told me I shouldn't have come.

sixtieth [ˌsɪkstiθ] num 60th; number 60 in a series; see also fiftieth.

sixty [ˌsɪksti] (pl sixties) num the number 60; see also fifty.

sizable ['saɪzəbl] adj [amount, increase, problem] that is fairly large □ He receives a sizable pension.

size [saɪz] n -1. [of person, town, problem] the degree to which something is big or small □ The cost of heating a house will depend on its size. □ The animal's sheer size is its best defense. □ We had hailstones the size of hens' eggs. □ It's difficult to get an idea of the size of the problem. -2. a standard measurement used to show how big or small clothes, shoes etc are □ What size do you take? □ These pants are about two sizes too big. □ My husband has a size 42 chest. □ What is your collar/bust size? □ Try this jacket on for size. -3. phrase to cut sb down to size to do or say something that makes sb realize they are not as important as they think.

◆ size up vt sep to size sb/sthg up [opponent, situation] to consider sb/sthg carefully in order to decide what to do □ The boxers sized each other up.

sizeable ['saɪzəbl] adj = sizable.

-sized [saɪzd] suffix added to a word to describe how big or small something is □ bite-sized pieces of chicken.

sizzle ['sɪzl] vi [food] to make a constant hissing sound when cooking in oil or being grilled □ sizzling sausages.

SK abbr of Saskatchewan.

skate [skeɪt] (pl sense 3 skate OR skates) ◇ n -1. = ice skate. -2. = roller skate. -3. a kind of edible flat fish that lives in the sea. ◇ vi to move around on ice skates or roller skates □ It was possible to skate on the pond. □ Paul taught me how to skate. □ We often go skating on the weekend.

◆ skate over, skate around vt fus to skate over OR around sthg [problem, detail] to avoid dealing with sthg directly and properly □ The Mayor's reply simply skated around the real issue.

skateboard ['skeɪtbɔːrd] n a board with four wheels attached to the bottom that one stands on and that moves quickly over smooth flat surfaces.

skateboarder ['skeɪtbɔːdə] n a person who rides on a skateboard.

skater ['skeɪtə] n -1. a person who skates on

- ice. -2. a person who moves along on roller skates.
- skating ['sketɪŋ] n -1. the activity of skating on ice □ We went skating on the pond. -2. the activity of moving on roller skates □ You can go skating along the boardwalk.
- skating rink n a place, usually indoors, where one can go ice-skating or roller-skating.
- skein [skeɪn] n a length of yarn, silk etc wound loosely into a circle.
- skeletal ['skelətɪl] adj [person, body, appearance] very thin □ Her arms look almost skeletal!
- skeleton ['skelətən] ◇ adj a skeleton service a service that uses the smallest possible number of people to operate it □ A skeleton service will be operating. ◇ n the frame of bones that supports the body of a human or an animal □ a human skeleton □ Several dinosaur skeletons have been discovered in the area. ■ to have a skeleton in the closet US OR cupboard GB to have a secret about one's life that is embarrassing or shocking.
- skeleton key n a key which can open many different locks.
- skeleton staff n the smallest number of people that is needed to operate a service.
- skeptic US, sceptic GB ['skeptɪk] n a person who doubts something that other people believe □ I'm a skeptic when it comes to ghosts.
- skeptical US, sceptical GB ['skeptɪkl] adj [person] who doubts something that other people believe □ I'm very skeptical about her claims.
- skepticism US, scepticism GB ['skeptɪsɪzəm] n the quality of being skeptical □ There's been a great deal of skepticism surrounding the new drug.
- sketch [sketʃ] ◇ n -1. [to draw something] a quick and simple drawing □ The artist made a sketch of the scene. -2. [to describe something] a quick description of something without a lot of details □ I'll give you a brief sketch of what happened. -3. [to entertain people] a short humorous piece usually acted on a television or radio show □ They did a sketch about the election campaign. ◇ vt -1. [figure, scene] to draw a sketch of <sb/sthg> □ Turner sketched the Tuscan landscape. -2. [situation, incident] to describe <sthg> briefly □ a beautifully-sketched report on the day's proceedings. ◇ vi to draw a sketch □ She enjoys sketching in her garden.
- ◆ sketch in vt sep to sketch sthg in [facts, background] to tell somebody sthg to help them know more about or understand something □ I'll sketch in the details for you.
- ◆ sketch out vt sep to sketch sthg out [situation, event] to describe sthg with only the most important or general details □ He sketched out his plans for growth.
- sketchbook ['sketʃbʊk] n a book that contains sheets of paper for drawing on.
- sketchpad ['sketʃpæd] n a pad that contains sheets of paper for drawing on.
- sketchy ['sketʃɪ] (compar sketchier, superl sketchiest) adj [knowledge, account, details] that is not complete □ I've only a sketchy idea of what the job involves. □ a sketchy outline of the plot.
- skew [skju:] ◇ vt [data, words] to affect or change <sthg> so that it is not completely accurate □ The results of the experiment were skewed by the high proportion of females. ◇ vi [car, truck] to change direction suddenly and uncontrollably □ The bus skewed across the road and into a fence.
- skewer ['skju:ə] ◇ n a long thin rod of metal or wood that holds small pieces of food together while they are being cooked □ Test the meat with a skewer to see if it's cooked. ◇ vt [meat, vegetables] to put <sthg> on a skewer.
- ski [ski:] (pt & pp skied, cont skiing) ◇ n one of a pair of long flat objects that can be attached to special boots to move quickly over snow □ a pair of skis □ a ski slope □ ski clothes. ◇ vi to move on skis □ The first time I skied was on an artificial slope.
- ski boots npl boots that skis can be attached to.
- skid [skɪd] (pt & pp skidded, cont skidding) ◇ vi [car, motorcycle] to slide sideways in an uncontrolled way, e.g. on a wet or icy road □ If you brake suddenly, you'll skid. ◇ n the movement made by a vehicle when it skids □ The car went into a skid and hit a tree.
- skid mark n the mark left on the road when a vehicle skids.
- skid row n the part of a city where poor, homeless, unemployed, or alcoholic people gather (informal use) □ He ended up on skid row.
- skier ['ski:ə] n a person who skis □ Skiers will be happy with this season's snow.
- skiing ['ski:ɪŋ] n the activity of skiing □ We went skiing in Switzerland. □ a skiing vacation.
- ski instructor n a person whose job is to teach people how to ski.
- ski jump n -1. an artificial steep slope that is covered with snow and has a curve at the bottom so that skiers jump up into the air. -2. the sporting event that involves skiing down a ski jump and trying to jump as far as possible.
- skilful etc GB = skillful etc.
- ski lift n a set of seats hanging from a metal cable that carry skiers to the top of a ski slope.
- skill [skɪl] n -1. the ability to do something well □ He showed great skill in negotiating a compromise. -2. the ability to do a particular activity well that one develops as a result of training □ reading/writing/social skills □ The skills you have acquired on the course should stand you in good stead.
- skilled [skɪld] adj -1. [craftsman, player, politician] who is very good at doing a particular job or activity because they have the training or experience □ She's skilled at OR in negotiation. -2. skilled work/labor work/labor that needs special training. ■ a skilled worker/laborer a worker/laborer who can do skilled work □ This is a highly skilled job. □ Our staff are highly skilled.
- skillet ['skɪlət] n US a frying pan.
- skillful US, skilful GB ['skɪfl] adj [person] who is very good at something that needs a particular ability □ He's very skillful at getting people to do what he wants.

skillfully US, skilfully GB ['skɪlfli] adv [work, handle, negotiate] see skillful □ She skillfully maneuvered the boat between the rocks.

skim [skɪm] (pt & pp skimmed, cont skimming) ◇ vt -1. [cream, grease, fat] to remove <sthg> from the top of a liquid □ She skimmed the cream from the top of the milk. -2. [water, surface] to move across <sthg> touching it only very lightly □ The plane flew low over the lake, just skimming the surface of the water. -3. [article, newspaper] to read <sthg> quickly in order to find out the most important ideas or information □ I skimmed the passage to answer the questions. ◇ vi: The stone skimmed across the pond. □ I'm afraid I've only had time to skim through the article.

skim(med) milk [ˌskɪm(d)-] n milk from which the fat has been removed.

skimp [skɪmp] ◇ vt to spend little money on <sthg>, especially when one needs to spend more. ◇ vi: It's silly to skimp on food.

skimpy ['skɪmpi] (compar skimpier, superl skimpiest) adj [swimsuit, underwear, meal] that seems too small in size or quantity □ She was wearing an extremely skimpy little dress.

skin [skɪn] (pt & pp skinned, cont skinning) ◇ n
 -1. [of a person] the natural outer layer that covers the whole of one's body □ You have such soft skin. □ My skin is very dry. □ 'This product should not be used on irritated skin.' □ a skin rash/disease. ■ to do sthg by the skin of one's teeth to just succeed in doing sthg □ I escaped by the skin of my teeth. ■ to jump out of one's skin to make a sudden movement because one is frightened or surprised □ The sound of the explosion made me jump out of my skin. ■ to make one's skin crawl to make one feel disgust. ■ to save one's own skin to save oneself without caring about other people in a dangerous or difficult situation □ People were crying out for help and all he could think about was saving his own skin. -2. [of a bear, fox] the outer covering of a dead animal's body □ Animal skins were hanging up to dry. -3. [of an orange, potato] the natural outer layer that covers a fruit or vegetable □ Potato skins are a useful source of fiber. -4. [on milk, paint] the thick layer that sometimes forms on the surface of a liquid □ Remove the skin on the custard before serving.
 ◇ vt -1. [bear, potato] to remove the skin of <an animal, fruit, or vegetable> □ He skinned the rabbit and cooked it on the fire. -2. [knee, knuckle] to remove some of the skin from  by accident □ He skinned his knee when he fell from the tree.

skin-deep adj to be only skin-deep to be not important or real, although people often think it is at first □ Beauty is only skin-deep.

skin diver n a person who does skin diving.

skin diving n the activity of swimming under water without a special diving suit.

skinflint ['skɪnflɪnt] n a person who does not like spending money (disapproving use).

skin graft n an operation in which skin is repaired by taking skin from another part of one's body.

skinhead ['skɪnhed] n a person with a shaved head or very short hair, often considered to be violent.

Skinner ['skɪnə], B. F. (1904–1990) a US psychologist who helped to develop the theory of behaviorism.

skinny ['skɪni] (compar skinnier, superl skinniest) adj [person, body] that is thin in an unattractive way (informal use) □ a skinny little girl □ My legs are too skinny!

skin test n a medical test done by rubbing a substance on somebody's skin or injecting it in order to see if they are allergic to that substance.

skin-tight adj [clothes, jeans] very tight.

skip [skɪp] (pt & pp skipped, cont skipping) ◇ n
 -1. a small jump from one foot to the other □ She gave a little skip and a jump, then laughed. -2. GB a large metal container used to collect large amounts of garbage, e.g. during construction work. ◇ vt [class, meal, line] not to do, have, or use <sthg>, usually because one forgets or because one does not want to □ I was so busy that I skipped lunch. ◇ vi -1. to move with skips □ The little girl skipped home from school. -2. GB to jump over a moving rope that one is holding at each end or that two other people are holding □ The boxer trained by skipping every day.

ski pants npl trousers with straps at the bottom to fit under the feet, worn for skiing.

ski pole n one of a pair of sticks which a skier pushes into the snow in order to move forward or keep their balance.

skipper ['skɪpə] n -1. SAILING the captain of a boat or ship. -2. SPORT the captain of a team □ England's skipper has been replaced.

skipping rope ['skɪpɪŋ-] n GB a rope used for skipping.

ski resort n a place in the mountains where many people go to ski.

skirmish ['skɜːmɪʃ] ◇ n -1. MILITARY a short battle. -2. a short argument. ◇ vi -1. MILITARY to be involved in a skirmish. -2. to argue.

skirt [skɜːt] ◇ n a piece of clothing worn by women that hangs from the waist over some or all of the bottom half of their body □ She was wearing a short skirt. ◇ vt -1. [obstacle, area] to avoid  by going round the edge □ The freeway conveniently skirts the town. -2. [problem, question] to avoid speaking about <sthg> □ The journalist refused to let the Senator skirt the issue.

◆ skirt around vt fus to skirt around sthg [obstacle, area, problem] to skirt sthg.

skirting board ['skɜːtɪŋ-] n GB the narrow wooden strip that covers the wall at the level of the floor in a room.

ski stick n GB = ski pole.

skit [skɪt] n a short performance in which actors make fun of politicians and famous people by imitating them.

- skittish ['skɪtɪʃ] adj -1. [person] who is not very serious and who often changes their mind. -2. [animal] that is nervous and easily frightened.
- skittle ['skɪtl] n GB a bottle-shaped object made of wood or plastic that is used in a game as something to be knocked over by a ball.
- ◆ skittles n a game in which people try to knock over skittles with a ball.
- skive [skaɪv] vi GB to avoid doing the work one is supposed to do (informal use).
- skulduggery [skʌl'dʌgəri] n secretive and dishonest behavior.
- skulk [skʌlk] vi to move about somewhere, trying to avoid being seen □ I felt like a burglar, skulking in the yard.
- skull [skʌl] n the set of bones that form the head of people and animals.
- skullcap ['skʌlkæp] n a small cap that fits the shape of the head, often worn by Jewish men and Catholic priests.
- skunk [skʌŋk] n a small black and white American animal that produces a bad smell when it is frightened.
- sky [skaɪ] (pl skies) n the space that one can see above the earth □ a blue/cloudy sky.
- skycap ['skaɪkæp] n US a person whose job is to carry people's luggage at an airport.
- skydiver ['skaɪdaɪvə] n a person who goes skydiving.
- skydiving ['skaɪdaɪvɪŋ] n the sport of jumping from an airplane and falling through the air before opening one's parachute.
- sky-high ◇ adj [prices, wages] very high (informal use) □ Interest rates are sky-high at the moment. ■ to go sky-high [property, prices] to become extremely expensive. ◇ adv to blow sth sky-high to destroy sth with a very large explosion; to destroy sth completely □ The building was blown sky-high. □ My teacher blew my argument sky-high.
- skylark ['skaɪlɔ:k] n a small brown bird that sings while flying high above the ground.
- skylight ['skaɪlaɪt] n a small window in the roof of a house.
- skyline ['skaɪlaɪn] n the line formed by the tops of buildings against the sky □ The new building would damage the city's unique skyline.
- skyscraper ['skaɪskreɪpə] n a very tall modern building, usually found in a large city.
- slab [slæb] n -1. [of concrete, stone] a flat square or rectangular piece of solid material used in buildings, sculpture etc □ a slab of marble or marble slab □ a paving slab. -2. [of meat, chocolate, cake] a thick piece of food.
- slack [slæk] ◇ adj -1. [rope, thread] not tight. -2. [business, period] not busy □ Business is slack at the moment. -3. [person] who is careless and does not do their work properly □ Discipline has become extremely slack recently. ◇ n the part of a rope, cord etc that is not pulled tight □ He pulled in the slack.
- ◆ slacks npl loose casual trousers.
- slacken ['slækən] ◇ vt -1. [speed, pace] to make <sth> slower □ The horse began to slacken its pace. -2. [rope, grip] to make <sth> less tight □ She slackened her grip on the rope. ◇ vi -1. [speed, pace] The pace of reform has slackened recently. -2. [rope, grip] Her grip slackened.
- ◆ slacken off vi -1. [rain, storm] to become less heavy. -2. [work, business] to become less busy □ Things have begun to slacken off at work recently.
- slag [slæg] n the waste material produced by mines and factories that make iron and steel.
- slagheap ['slæghɪp] n a pile of waste material from a mine or factory that makes iron and steel.
- slain [sleɪn] past participle of slay.
- slalom ['slɑ:ləm] n a skiing or canoe race around a course of obstacles such as poles.
- slam [slæm] (pt & pp slammed, cont slamming) ◇ vt -1. [door, gate] to close <sth> violently so that it makes a loud noise □ He walked out, slamming the door behind him. □ I slammed down the phone. -2. [politician, organization, decision] to strongly criticize <sb/sth> in public □ The reviews all slammed her performance. -3. to slam sth on sth to press sth on sth else quickly and with a lot of force □ He slammed his foot on the brakes. ◇ vi [door, gate] The window slammed shut.
- slander [US 'slændər, GB 'slɑ:ndə] ◇ n something that somebody says that is intended to damage somebody's reputation and is not true □ We could be sued for slander. ◇ vt to say something that is a slander against <sb>.
- slanderous [US 'slændərəs, GB 'slɑ:nd-] adj [allegation, accusation] that contains slander against somebody □ Keep your slanderous remarks to yourself.
- slang [slæg] n the very informal language of a particular group of people, often thought to be unacceptable in serious writing □ drug slang □ prison slang □ a slang expression.
- slant [US slænt, GB slɑ:nt] ◇ n -1. [of a table, shelf, somebody's writing] a line or position that is not horizontal or vertical, but at an angle. ■ to be on or at a slant not to be horizontal or vertical, but at an angle □ The shelves were on a slant. -2. [on a story, issue] a particular way of thinking about something □ He might be able to give us a new slant on the problem. ◇ vt [news, evidence] to present <sth> so that one particular opinion is favored □ The news report was heavily slanted in favor of the government. ◇ vi [land, roof, table] to be not completely horizontal or vertical □ The table slants slightly.
- slanting [US 'slæntɪŋ, GB 'slɑ:nt-] adj [roof, table] that is not completely horizontal or vertical.
- slap [slæp] (pt & pp slapped, cont slapping) ◇ n [on somebody's cheek, back] the act of slapping somebody □ She gave him a slap in the cheek. ■ a slap in the face something that causes somebody to feel insulted because it shows one is not respected or valued □ Not being promoted was a slap in the face for him. ◇ vt -1. [person, face, back] to hit <sb/sth> with the palm of one's hand to hurt them or as a sign of friendship □ She slapped him in the face. □ "Congratulations!" he said, slapping me on the back. -2. to slap sthg on sthg to put sthg quickly and carelessly onto sthg □ She just slapped the paint onto the wall. ◇ adv exactly (informal use) □ The parachutist landed slap in the middle of the field.

slapdash ['slæpdæʃ] adj [work, person, attitude] that is not careful enough.

slaphappy ['slæphæpi] adj [person] who acts in a careless and silly way, as if they are drunk or dizzy.

slapstick ['slæpstɪk] n a kind of comedy that depends on silly actions rather than words and is usually simple and direct.

slash [slæʃ] ◇ n -1. a long deep cut. -2. a punctuation mark (/) used to separate words, letters, or numbers that are combined. ◇ vt -1. [face, material] to make a slash in <sthg> using a sharp object, especially with a quick violent movement □ She tried to kill herself by slashing her wrists. -2. [rate, price] to reduce <sthg> by a large amount □ Prices have been slashed in the January sale.

slat [slæt] n one of the small flat pieces of wood, plastic, or metal used in venetian blinds, closet doors etc.

slate [sleɪt] ◇ n -1. a kind of dark-gray rock that splits into thin flat pieces. -2. a square flat piece of slate, used to cover roofs. ◇ vt [performance, movie, person] to criticize <sb/sthg> very strongly □ The movie has been completely slated in the press.

slatted ['slætəd] adj [blind, door] that is made with slats.

slaughter ['slɔ:tə] ◇ vt -1. [cow, pig] to kill <an animal> for food □ They slaughter the animals for meat. -2. [civilians, protesters] to kill <people> in a cruel and violent way □ Thousands of civilians have been slaughtered in the war. ◇ n the act of slaughtering people or animals □ the slaughter of innocent people □ the ritual slaughter of animals.

slaughterhouse ['slɔ:tə'haʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n a building where animals are killed for food.

Slav [slɑ:v] n a member of any of the Eastern European peoples who speak a Slavic language.

slave [sleɪv] ◇ n -1. a person who is the property of another person and has to work for that person without payment □ The plantations depended on imported slaves. □ I didn't expect to be treated like a slave! □ slave labor. -2. to be a slave to sthg to be completely controlled by sthg □ My husband is a slave to his work. ◇ vi to work very hard, especially at something one does not enjoy □ I've been slaving over my report all day.

slaver ['slævə] vi [dog, person] to have saliva running out of the mouth.

slavery ['sleɪvəri] n the system of having slaves □ The children were sold into slavery.

slave trade n the slave trade the buying and selling of slaves.

Slavic ['slɑ:vɪk] ◇ n a group of languages that includes Russian, Ukrainian, Polish, Czech, Serbo-Croat, and Bulgarian. ◇ adj: Slavic languages/people.

slavish ['sleɪvɪʃ] adj [attitude, devotion, following] that shows too much willingness to obey somebody or something without thinking about it or asking questions (disapproving use) □ their slavish imitation of American fashions.

Slavonic [slə'vɒnɪk] n & adj GB = Slavic.

slay [sleɪ] (pt slew, pp slain) vt to kill  violently (literary use).

SLDP n abbr of Social and Liberal Democratic Party.

sleaze [sli:z] n behavior that is dishonest or immoral, especially in politics or business.

sleazy ['sli:zi] (compar sleazier, superl sleaziest) adj [area, bar] that is cheap, dirty, and often connected with immoral activities such as prostitution □ We went to a sleazy little nightclub in Montmartre.

sled [sled] US, sledge [sledʒ] GB n a vehicle for moving on snow that has two strips of metal or wood that help it slide across the snow.

sledgehammer ['sledʒhæmə] n a large heavy hammer.

sleek [sli:k] adj -1. [hair, fur] that looks smooth and shiny. -2. [car, plane] that has a smooth elegant shape and looks expensive. -3. [person] who is neat and well-dressed.

sleep [sli:p] (pt & pp slept) ◇ n -1. the body's natural state of rest, when one's eyes are closed and one's mind is not active □ I only got four hours' sleep last night. □ Children need a lot of sleep. □ He fell into a deep sleep. □ The music sent me to sleep. ■ to go to sleep [person] to enter a state of sleep; [hand, leg, foot] to become numb. ■ to put sb to sleep to make sb unconscious with a drug, especially before an operation. ■ to be put to sleep [dog, cat] to be killed with a drug in order to end pain and suffering. -2. the time when one is in a state of sleep □ I sometimes have a sleep in the afternoon. □ I got a good night's sleep.

◇ vi -1. to be in a state of sleep □ I slept very badly last night. □ Sleep well! □ She usually sleeps until two in the afternoon. -2. to spend the night sleeping in a particular place □ You can sleep in the spare room if you like.

◆ sleep around vi to have sex with a lot of different people in a short time (informal and disapproving use).

◆ sleep in vi to stay asleep until later than normal in the morning □ On Sunday mornings, I usually sleep in.

◆ sleep off vt sep to sleep sthg off [hangover, headache] to get rid of sthg by sleeping □ Put her to bed and let her sleep it off.

◆ sleep through vt fus to sleep through sthg [alarm, argument, music] not to be woken up by sthg noisy □ I didn't hear a thing: I slept through it all.

◆ sleep together vi [couple] to have sex with each other regularly (polite use).

◆ sleep with vt fus to sleep with sb to have sex with sb (polite use).

sleeper ['sli:pə] n -1. to be a heavy/light sleeper to be hard/easy to wake up □ She's a very light sleeper and will hear the slightest noise. -2. a compartment in a train that does long overnight trips and that has beds for the passengers. -3. a train that has sleepers □ an overnight sleeper. -4. GB one of the large pieces of wood underneath a railroad track.

sleepily ['sli:pəli] adv [say, smile] in a way that shows one is tired and ready to sleep.

sleeping bag ['sli:pɪŋ] n a soft warm bag for sleeping in, used especially when one is camping.

Sleeping Beauty [,sli:pɪŋ'bju:ti] a character in a fairy tale. She is a princess who sleeps for many years and is woken when a prince kisses her.

sleeping car n a car in a train that has sleepers.

sleeping partner n GB BUSINESS a partner who has invested money in a business but is not involved in running it.

sleeping pill n a pill that helps one to sleep.

sleeping policeman n GB a raised section across a road that is designed to stop cars from going too fast.

sleeping tablet n GB = sleeping pill.

sleepless ['sli:pلس] adj a sleepless night a night when one cannot sleep □ I spent several sleepless nights worrying about it.

sleepwalk ['sli:pwɔ:k] vi to walk around while one is still asleep.

sleepy ['sli:pɪ] (compar sleepier, superl sleepiest) adj -1. [person] who is tired and ready for sleep □ I left early because I was feeling sleepy. -2. [village, town] where life is quiet and peaceful and nothing exciting happens □ They lived in a sleepy little village called Bray.

sleet [sli:t] ◇ n partly frozen rain. ◇ v impers it is sleeting sleet is falling.

sleeve [sli:v] n -1. [of a jacket, shirt, coat] one of the parts of a piece of clothing that cover one's arms □ There's a hole in your sleeve. □ He rolled his sleeves up and got down to work. ■ to have sthg up one's sleeve to have sthg that one has prepared earlier that other people do not know about or expect □ I know you've got something/some ideas up your sleeve. -2. the square cardboard envelope that a record is kept in □ a record sleeve.

sleeveless ['sli:vلس] adj [dress, pullover] that has no sleeves.

sleigh [slei] n a large vehicle that travels across snow on flat metal blades, usually pulled by horses.

sleight of hand [,slait-] n -1. a quick and skillful movement of the hands that is used to hide something that one is doing □ He used sleight of hand to make the card disappear. -2. the use of tricks and deceit □ financial sleight of hand.

slender ['slendə] adj -1. [person, waist, figure] that looks thin in an attractive way □ He could see the slender outline of the tower silhouetted against the sky. -2. [hope, chance] that seems rather small □ I fear our chances of winning are slender.

slept [slept] past tense & past participle of sleep.

sleuth [slu:θ] n a detective, especially an amateur one (informal and humorous use).

slew [slu:] ◇ past tense of slay. ◇ vi [car, truck] to change direction suddenly and in an uncontrolled way.

slice [slas] ◇ n -1. [of bread, cheese, ham] a thin piece of something, usually food, cut from a larger piece □ a slice of cake □ Can you cut that loaf into slices? -2. [of the profits, a market, income] a share of something □ The workers are entitled to a slice of the profits. -3. SPORT a stroke in golf, tennis etc that makes the ball go forward and curve to one side. ◇ vt -1. [bread, meat] to cut <sthg> into slices; [hand, finger] to cut <sthg> with a lot of force □ thinly sliced bread □ I accidentally sliced my thumb. -2. SPORT [ball, shot] to make <sthg> go forward and curve to one side. ◇ vi to slice into/through sthg to cut into/through sthg, usually without difficulty □ Workmen accidentally sliced through a cable.

◆ slice up vt sep to slice sthg up [bread, cheese, sausage] to cut sthg into slices.

sliced bread [,slast-] n bread that is sold already cut in slices □ a loaf of sliced bread.

slick [slik] ◇ adj -1. [performance, design, technique] that is impressive because it is smooth and efficient, but is not interesting or original (disapproving use) □ She's a slick but emotionless performer. -2. [salesman, answer, talk] that sounds good and is likely to persuade people, but is insincere or makes things seem too simple □ His answer was perhaps a little too slick to be believable. ◇ n = oil slick.

slicker ['slɪkə] n US a raincoat that is usually made of plastic.

slide [slaid] (pt & pp slid [slɪd]) ◇ vi -1. [person, tear, object] to move smoothly and quickly across a slippery surface □ I could feel something sliding down my back. □ He slid on the icy sidewalk. -2. [drawer, window] to move smoothly and quietly in a particular direction □ The door slid open. □ I slid out of the room when nobody was looking. -3. [currency, price] to decrease in value □ The dollar continued to slide against the Deutschmark. ■ to let things slide to let a situation get worse without doing anything to stop it. ◇ vt to move <sthg> smoothly along a surface or through a space □ She slid the key into the lock. ◇ n -1. PHOTOGRAPHY a piece of film in a small cardboard or plastic frame that can be projected onto a wall or screen □ He took slides of his work. □ a roll of slide film □ a slide show. -2. [for children] a piece of equipment found in a children's playground with a sloping metal or plastic surface that children can slide down □ a children's slide. -3. [for a microscope] a piece of glass that one puts something on in order to look at it through a microscope □ a glass slide □ a microscope

- slide*. -4. GB [for one's hair] an object made of plastic or metal that girls or women use to keep their hair in place □ a hair slide. -5. [in standards, popularity, prices] a decrease in the level or quality of something □ The banks intervened to halt the lira's slide.
- slide projector n a machine with a very bright light inside that projects photographic slides onto a screen.
- slide rule n a device like a ruler marked with numbers that slide sideways, used to do calculations.
- sliding door [ˌslaɪdɪŋ] n a door on wheels that moves along the wall rather than opening outward.
- sliding scale n a system of calculating payments according to particular conditions □ We operate a sliding scale of charges.
- slight [slaɪt] ◇ adj -1. [improvement, wound, cold] that is small and unimportant □ There is a very slight chance that the operation could fail. □ a slight problem. ■ not in the slightest not at all □ She wasn't worried in the slightest. -2. [person, build, body] that is small, thin, and looks weak □ He was small and slight, with delicate features.
◇ n an action that annoys somebody because they think they are being insulted or treated as if they are not important □ I will take it as a personal slight if you decide not to come. ◇ vt to offend <sb> by treating them as if they are not important □ Karen felt slighted by the way they had treated her.
- slightly [ˈslaɪtli] adv -1. a little □ It embarrasses me slightly to think of it. □ a slightly higher figure than expected. -2. slightly built [person] who is small, thin, and looks weak.
- slim [slɪm] (compar slimmer, superl slimmest) (pt & pp slimmed, cont slimming) ◇ adj -1. [person, waist, figure] thin in an attractive way □ She was middle-aged, but still slim and attractive. -2. [wallet, diary, bottle] thin □ a slim volume of poetry. -3. [possibility, hope] small □ The chances of finding any more survivors are extremely slim. ◇ vi GB = slim down.
- ◆ slim down vi to lose weight by eating less.
- slime [slaɪm] n an unpleasant, thick, sticky liquid similar to the substance produced by snails □ dripping walls covered in green slime.
- slimline [ˈslɪmlaɪn] adj -1. [wallet, calculator] that is thinner than normal. -2. [tonic, butter] that has fewer calories in it than normal.
- slimmer [ˈslɪməʃ] n GB a person who is trying to slim.
- slimming [ˈslɪmɪŋ] ◇ n the process of trying to lose weight by eating less □ Slimming can lead to eating disorders. ◇ adj GB [magazine, club] that is intended for slimmers.
- slimy [ˈslaɪmi] (compar slimier, superl slimiest) adj -1. [rock, trail, animal] that is covered in slime □ Its skin is slimy to the touch. -2. [person] who is friendly or helpful in an exaggerated and insincere way (informal use).
- sling [slɪŋ] (pt & pp slung) ◇ n -1. a piece of cloth that is tied around one's neck and supports an injured arm □ Jackie's arm was in a sling. -2. a piece of equipment made of cloth, ropes etc that is used to carry or lift heavy objects. ◇ vt -1. to move <sthg> by swinging it into a position where it hangs □ She slung the bag over her shoulder. -2. to throw <sthg> without care (informal use) □ Tom slung his clothes into a suitcase. -3. [hammock, rope] to attach <sthg> so that it hangs between two points.
- slingback [ˈslɪŋbæk] n a woman's shoe that has a strap that goes around the back of her heel.
- slingshot [ˈslɪŋʃɒt] n US a stick in the shape of the letter "Y" with an elastic strip fastened between the two sides that is used, especially by children, to throw stones.
- slink [slɪŋk] (pt & pp slunk) vi to slink away OR off to leave somewhere quietly, trying not to be seen, especially because one is afraid or embarrassed.
- slip [slɪp] (pt & pp slipped, cont slipping) ◇ n -1. a small mistake □ I'm sorry, somebody must have made a slip. ■ a slip of the pen a small mistake made when writing. ■ a slip of the tongue a small mistake made when speaking. -2. [of paper] a small piece of paper □ We all wrote down our suggestions on the slips (of paper) provided. -3. CLOTHING a loose piece of clothing made of light material that is worn by a woman underneath a skirt or dress. -4. phrase to give sb the slip to succeed in escaping from sb (informal use).
◇ vt -1. [money, weapon, note] to put <sthg> quickly and smoothly in a particular place □ He slipped his wallet back into his pocket. -2. to slip sthg on/off [coat, shoes, pants] to put sthg on/take sthg off quickly and easily. -3. to slip sb's mind OR memory to be forgotten by sb □ I'm so sorry, it must have slipped my mind.
◇ vi -1. [person, foot, wheel] to accidentally slide and fall over, or nearly fall over □ My foot slipped on the kitchen floor. -2. [soap, hand, knife] to move suddenly and by accident □ The knife slipped and I cut myself. -3. [person] to change gradually from one state, activity etc to another □ She slipped into a coma. □ He occasionally slips into Spanish. -4. [price, standard, currency] to decrease in a way that is worrying □ I fear educational standards are slipping. ■ to let things slip to let a situation get worse without doing anything to stop it. -5. [person] to move somewhere quietly so that one is not noticed □ I slipped out of the house while the others weren't looking. ■ to slip into/out of a piece of clothing to put on/take off a piece of clothing quickly and easily □ I'll just slip into something cooler. □ I'll just slip out of these dirty clothes. -6. AUTO [clutch] not to work properly because of being used too much □ The clutch keeps slipping. -7. phrase to let sthg slip [fact, secret] to let sthg become known by mistake □ Sam let it slip that they were planning a surprise party.
- ◆ slip-ons npl slip-on shoes □ a pair of slip-ons.
- ◆ slip away vi to leave a place quietly in order not to be noticed □ I had to slip away before the end of the meeting.

◆ slip up vi to make a mistake □ It's not the first time he's slipped up like this.

slip-on adj a slip-on shoe a shoe that has no laces.

slippage ['slɪpɪdʒ] n [of currency, political party] the amount by which one fails to keep to a standard or target □ A certain amount of slippage in the schedule is to be expected.

slipped disk [ˌslɪpt-] n a painful medical condition in which one of the separate parts of one's spine moves out of place □ She ended up in the hospital with a slipped disk.

slipper ['slɪpə] n a soft comfortable shoe that people wear indoors □ a pair of slippers □ bedroom slippers.

slippery ['slɪpəri] adj -1. [road, floor] that is likely to cause somebody to slip; especially because it is wet or icy; [soap, handle] that slips easily and is hard to keep hold of □ The road was still wet and slippery. □ The fish was so slippery I couldn't keep hold of it. -2. [person] who cannot be trusted (informal use) □ He's a slippery character!

slip road n GB a road that leads onto or from a highway.

slipshod ['slɪpʃɒd] adj [attitude, work] careless □ a slipshod piece of work.

slipstream ['slɪpstri:m] n the air directly behind a vehicle that is moving fast.

slip-up n a small mistake (informal use) □ The organizers made a slip-up in the reservations.

slipway ['slɪpweɪ] n a sloping path used for moving a boat down to the edge of the sea or of a river or lake.

slit [slɪt] (pt & pp slit, cont slitting) ◇ n a long narrow cut in the surface of something □ Make a slit in the meat near the bone and insert a tiny piece of garlic. □ a long skirt with slits up the sides. ◇ vt -1. [envelope, throat] to make a narrow cut in <sthg> □ The killer always slit his victims' throats. □ a skirt slit to the thigh. -2. [rope, leather] to cut through <sthg>.

slither ['slɪðə] vi -1. [car, person, soap] to slide in an uncontrolled way □ The car slithered to a halt. -2. [snake] to move smoothly in a particular direction by going from side to side □ The snake slithered away.

sliver ['slɪvə] n -1. [of glass, ice, wood] a small sharp piece of something □ A small sliver of glass had become embedded in her skin. -2. [of ham, cheese] a very thin slice of food.

slob [slɒb] n a person who is lazy and untidy and takes little care over the way they eat, dress etc (informal use).

slobber ['slɒbə] vi [person] to let saliva run out of one's mouth □ Don't let the dog slobber all over you!

slog [slog] (pt & pp slogged, cont slogging) (informal use) ◇ n -1. a hard and tiring journey, especially on foot □ It was a hard slog up the hill. -2. GB hard work □ It's been a real slog preparing for these exams. ◇ vi -1. to move over an area with great effort, especially on foot □ They slogged up the steep hill. -2. GB to work hard over a period of time, especially at something difficult or boring □ I'm still slogging (away) at that translation.

slogan ['sləʊgən] n a short phrase that is used to advertise a product, political party etc and is usually easy to remember □ an advertising slogan □ He invented the slogan, "One Party, One Nation."

slop [slɒp] (pt & pp slopped, cont slopping) ◇ vt [soup, water] to make  spill over the sides of a container □ She accidentally slopped some soup on the table. ◇ vi [water] to move around and spill □ The water slopped over the edge of the bathtub as he got in.

slope [sləʊp] ◇ n -1. a surface that is quite smooth or even and is higher at one end than the other □ The garden is on a slope. -2. the side of a hill □ We climbed the steep slope. □ I don't like skiing when the slopes are icy. ◇ vi [land, handwriting, table] to be at an angle and not completely horizontal or vertical □ The floor slopes slightly.

sloping ['sləʊpɪŋ] adj [land, shelf, handwriting] that is not flat or straight, but slopes □ The shed had a sloping roof.

sloppy ['slɒpi] (compar sloppier, superl sloppiest) adj -1. [person, work, writing] that one thinks is careless □ Sandra is a very sloppy worker/eater. -2. [movie, story] that one thinks is sentimental (informal and disapproving use) □ It's a sloppy story about a girl and a dog.

slosh [slɒʃ] ◇ vt [water, tea, wine] to move or pour  in a rough or careless way □ I sloshed some bleach into the bucket. ◇ vi [liquid] to move around, especially in a way that causes a mess □ The water sloshed around in the bucket.

sloshed [slɒʃt] adj to be sloshed to be drunk (informal use) □ He gets sloshed every night.

slot [slɒt] (pt & pp slotted, cont slotting) n -1. a straight thin opening in something, especially one that is used for putting money into a machine. -2. a long, narrow, hollow space in a piece of wood, metal etc □ There are slots for the shelves at regular intervals. -3. a particular period of time in a timetable, schedule etc □ We can offer the guest speaker the two o'clock slot.

◆ slot in ◇ vt sep to slot sthg in [part, piece, component] to put sthg into a slot. ◇ vi to be put in and fit neatly into a slot □ The shelves slot in easily.

sloth [US slɒθ, GB sləʊθ] n -1. an animal of Central and South America that hangs upside down in trees and moves very slowly. -2. laziness (literary use).

slot machine n -1. a machine that one can get drinks, snacks etc from when one puts money in a slot. -2. a gambling machine that one can play on by putting in money and pulling a handle or pressing buttons.

slot meter n GB a machine in a house that one puts money into to be able to use the electricity or gas.

slouch [sləʊtʃ] ◇ n a lazy person who does things very slowly and achieves little □ He's certainly no slouch when it comes to repairing things. ◇ vi to sit, stand, or walk with one's head and shoulders bent forward □ I tend to slouch when I sit at my desk.

slough [slʌf] ◆ slough off vt sep -1. to slough its skin off [snake, lizard] to get rid of its old skin in one complete piece. -2. to slough sthg off [person, organization] to get rid of sthg that is no longer useful (literary use) □ It's time for us to slough off our tired old image.

Slovak ['slouvæk] n & adj: see Slovakia.

Slovakia [slou'vækiə] a country in central Europe, east of the Czech Republic, between Poland and Hungary, that was part of Czechoslovakia until it became an independent republic in 1993. SIZE: 49,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,300,000 (Slovaks, Slovaksians). CAPITAL: Bratislava. LANGUAGE: Slovak. CURRENCY: Slovak crown.

Slovenia [slou'vi:njə] a country in south-eastern Europe, between Italy and Croatia. It was part of Yugoslavia until it became an independent republic in 1991. SIZE: 20,226 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,000,000 (Slovenes, Slovenians). CAPITAL: Ljubljana. LANGUAGE: Slovene. CURRENCY: tolar.

slovenly ['slavnli] adj [person, appearance, work] that seems untidy, careless, and lazy.

slow [slou] ◇ adj -1. [runner, animal, train] that moves at a low speed; [process, improvement] that takes a long time □ a line of slow-moving traffic □ The changes have been slow to take effect. -2. to be slow [clock, watch] to show a time that is earlier than the real time □ Your watch is ten minutes slow. -3. [business, place] not busy □ Business is rather slow at the moment. -4. [pupil, learner] who is not very intelligent and needs more time than other people to learn or understand things.

◇ adv [drive, walk, move] slowly. ■ to go slow [staff, workers] to refuse to work at the normal speed as a protest.

◇ vt [process, progress] to make <sthg> slower □ Political infighting has slowed the progress of the peace talks.

◇ vi [car, increase, process] to become slower □ Production has slowed in recent months.

◆ slow down ◇ vt sep to slow sb/sthg down [person, vehicle, process] to make sb/sthg slower □ All this luggage is slowing us down. ◇ vi [person, vehicle, process] to become slower □ Slow down! You're going to fast.

slow-acting adj [drug, poison] that takes a long time to have an effect.

slowcoach n GB = slowpoke.

slowdown ['sloudaun] n a reduction in speed or activity □ an economic slowdown.

slow handclap n GB a way of showing disapproval by clapping one's hands slowly, especially as part of a large group of people.

slowly ['slouli] adv [move, drive, improve] see slow □ He slowly came to understand where he had gone wrong in his marriage. □ She inched her way slowly along the ledge. ■ slowly but surely in a way that is slow but has a noticeable and important effect over a period of time □ Her English is improving slowly but surely.

slow motion n a way of showing a movie or video at a slower speed than usual, in order to look at the action in more detail □ They showed the goal again in slow motion.

◆ slow-motion adj [replay, scene] that is shown in slow motion:

slowpoke ['sloupouk] US, slowcoach [-'sloukoutʃ] GB n a person who moves or works too slowly (informal use) □ Hurry up, slowpoke!

SLR (abbr of single-lens reflex) n a camera that uses the same lens to act as a viewfinder and to take photographs.

sludge [slʌdʒ] n -1. soft mud □ The path had turned to sludge in the rain. -2. a thick soft substance similar to mud that remains after sewage has been treated.

slug [slʌg] (pt & pp slugged, cont slugging) ◇ n -1. a small slimy animal like a snail but without a shell. -2. [of whiskey, vodka] a large mouthful of a drink, usually of a strong alcoholic drink (informal use). -3. US a bullet (informal use). ◇ vt to hit <sb> with one's fist (informal use).

sluggish ['slʌɡɪʃ] adj [person, car, reaction] that is slower or less active than is usual or normal □ Business has been sluggish lately.

sluice [slu:ɪs] ◇ n a passage that water passes through and that is used to control how quickly it moves □ a sluice gate. ◇ vt to sluice sthg down OR out to clean sthg with large amounts of water.

slum [slʌm] (pt & pp slummed, cont slumming) ◇ n a poor area of a city that has housing that is in bad condition; a house in this area □ He was brought up in the slums of Rio. □ slum housing/streets. ◇ vt to slum it to accept conditions that are less comfortable or exclusive than one is used to (informal use) □ We decided to slum it and stay in a cheap boarding house.

slumber ['slʌmbəʃ] (literary use) ◇ n sleep. ◇ vi to sleep.

slump [slʌmp] ◇ n -1. [in prices, a market, trade] a sudden decrease in the level of something □ Prices have fallen due to a slump in demand. -2. a period of economic depression □ an economic slump. ◇ vi -1. [business, prices, market] to go down in value suddenly □ Their share price has slumped to a new low. -2. [person] to fall heavily downward □ Bill slumped into the armchair.

slung [slʌŋ] past tense & past participle of sling.

slunk [slʌŋk] past tense & past participle of slink.

slur [slɜ:ɹ] (pt & pp slurred, cont slurring) ◇ n -1. an unclear way of speaking that people sometimes have when they are drunk or ill □ The stroke left him with a slight slur in his speech. -2. an unfair comment, claim etc that is insulting to somebody or gives other people a bad opinion of them □ It's a slur on his character. ◇ vt to slur one's words OR speech to speak unclearly, e.g. when one is drunk.

slurp [slɜ:ɹp] vt [drink, soup] to drink <sthg> noisily □ Richard slurped the milkshake noisily.

slurred [slɜːrd] adj [words, speech] spoken with a slur □ He was drunk and his speech was slurred.

slurry [US 'slɜːrɪ, GB 'slʌrɪ] n a liquid mixture made of mud, manure etc and water.

slush [slʌʃ] n snow that has partly melted on the ground.

slush fund, slush money n money that is kept for illegal purposes, especially in politics or business.

sly [slɑɪ] n (offensive use) -1. a woman who one thinks is sexually immoral. -2. a woman who one thinks is dirty and untidy.

sly [slɑɪ] (compar slyer OR slier, superl slyest OR sliest) ◇ adj -1. [look, smile] that shows that one knows something that other people do not know □ "Aha!" he said, giving her a sly smile. -2. [person] who is clever at making people believe something that is not true, especially in order to get what they want. -3. [person] who does things secretly □ You are a sly thing! Where did you get these from? ◇ n on the sly without letting anybody know □ He'd been seeing other women on the sly.

S & M n abbr of sadism and masochism.

smack [smæk] ◇ vt -1. to hit <sb> with the palm of one's hand □ Our parents never smacked us as children. -2. to put <sthg> somewhere with a loud noise or with force □ He smacked the book down on the desk. -3. phrase to smack one's lips to open and close one's lips, making a loud noise to show that one is looking forward to eating or that one has enjoyed eating something.

◇ n -1. the act of smacking somebody □ She gave the child a smack on the bottom. -2. the sound or force of something hitting something else □ the smack of the waves against the boat.

◇ vi to smack of sthg to seem like sthg □ This smacks of treachery.

◇ adv a word used to say that something is exactly in a particular place (informal use) □ He stood smack in the middle of the highway.

small [smɔːl] ◇ adj -1. [object, person, amount] that is not large in size □ My apartment is small but comfortable. □ Have you tried the smaller size? -2. [crowd, family] that consists of few people □ The audience was very small. □ A small group of people stood waiting outside. -3. [boy, girl] young □ I have three small children. □ I remember you when you were small! -4. [business, company, farmer] that does not operate on a large scale; [matter, change, mistake] that is not important and can be dealt with easily □ Small businesses are getting extra tax incentives. □ Informing everyone of the change will be no small task. □ There's one small problem I'd like to mention. ■ in a small way in a way that has a limited effect □ Perhaps I can help in some small way?

◇ n the small of the back the lower part of one's back that curves inward.

small ads npl GB short advertisements in a newspaper that advertise something for sale, a room to rent etc □ Look in the small ads.

small arms npl guns that are light in weight and are designed to be carried.

small change n money in coins of low value.

small fry n people who are considered unimportant.

smallholder ['smɔːlhouldə] n GB a person who owns or rents a small piece of land and farms it.

smallholding ['smɔːlhouldɪŋ] n GB a small piece of land that is farmed.

small hours npl in the small hours in the early hours of the morning after midnight, when most people are asleep □ We danced until the small hours.

small letters npl in small letters using the small form of letters rather than the larger form, e.g. "a" or "b" rather than "A" or "B".

smallpox ['smɔːlpɒks] n a very serious infectious disease that causes fever and spots that leave marks on the skin.

small print n the small print the conditions that are attached to the main part of a contract or agreement, sometimes printed in small letters at the end and likely to contain unattractive rules and restrictions □ Make sure you read the small print.

small-scale adj [business, industry, fraud] that is small in size and importance compared to other things of a similar type.

small screen n the small screen television as a form of entertainment.

small talk n polite conversation about unimportant things □ We just sat around making small talk for most of the evening.

small-time adj [criminal, businessman] who is not very important or successful compared to other people □ a small-time crook.

smarmy ['smɑːmɪ] (compar smarmier, superl smarmiest) adj [person] who is polite and friendly in an insincere or unpleasant way.

smart [smɑːt] ◇ adj -1. [person, answer] intelligent □ She's a smart kid. □ You tell me the answer, then, if you think you're so smart! -2. [person] who is deliberately impolite and disrespectful to somebody by saying clever things □ Don't get smart with me! -3. [tap, blow] that is quick and forceful □ He gave a smart knock on the door. -4. GB [person, clothes] that seems clean, tidy, and attractive □ You look very smart in that suit. □ That's a smart car you're driving. -5. GB [person, society, club] that gives the impression of being rich and elegant □ Harry moves in extremely smart circles now.

◇ vi -1. [cut, hand, eyes] to be painful in a sharp stinging way □ My face was smarting from where she'd slapped me. -2. to be smarting to feel angry and humiliated, especially because of criticism □ She was still smarting from her defeat.

smart card n a small plastic card that holds and processes computer data and is used e.g. as a credit card.

smarten ['smɑːtn] ◆ smarten up vt sep to smart sb/sthg up GB [person, appearance, room] to make sb/sthg look smarter □ I wish you'd try smartening yourself up a bit!

smash [smæʃ] ◇ vt -1. [glass, plate, window] to break <sthg> into small pieces by hitting or dropping it □ I'm so sorry — I've just smashed one of your glasses. -2. to move <sthg> violently against something else □ The wind smashed the door closed. -3. [opposition, party, movement] to defeat or destroy <sthg> completely.

◇ vi -1. [window, glass] The plate fell and smashed into pieces. -2. [stone, vehicle] The car smashed into/through a store window.

◇ n -1. [of china, glass] the sound of something fragile breaking □ It fell with a loud smash. -2. a car crash (informal use) □ We had a nasty smash yesterday. -3. SPORT a strong attacking shot in tennis, squash etc.

◆ smash up vt sep to smash sthg up [room, vehicle, furniture] to destroy sthg completely, often because one is very angry □ He smashed up his father's new car.

smashed [smæʃt] adj to be smashed to be drunk (informal use) □ He got really smashed at the party.

smash hit n a very popular success □ The musical was a smash hit in the States.

smash-up n a serious road accident in which the vehicles involved are completely destroyed.

smattering ['smætərɪŋ] n a small amount of something □ I know a smattering of Portuguese.

SME n abbr of small and medium-sized enterprise.

smear [smiə] ◇ n -1. [of mud, oil, blood] a dirty mark usually caused by something that is greasy or sticky □ There was a smear of lipstick on his collar. -2. GB MEDICINE = smear test. -3. [against a politician, public figure] an untrue story that is deliberately spread by somebody to damage somebody else's reputation □ This is a deliberate smear on the character of our candidate.

◇ vt -1. [page, painting, glass] to make a smear on <sthg> □ The window was smeared with fingermarks. -2. to smear sthg onto sthg [oil, butter, paint] to spread sthg onto sthg, especially using a lot of it in a careless way □ She smeared cream on her face. ■ to smear sthg with sthg [with cream, oil] to cover sthg with a layer of sthg, especially using a lot of it in a careless way □ He smeared suntan oil all over his chest. -3. [politician, public figure] to spread a smear against <sb> □ It was a clear attempt to smear my reputation.

smear campaign n a deliberate attempt by a group of people to smear somebody.

smear test n GB an examination of cells taken from a woman's cervix in order to discover if there is cancer there.

smell [smel] (US pt & pp smelled, GB pt & pp smelled OR smelt) ◇ vi -1. [gas, food] to become aware of the smell of <sthg> □ Can you smell something burning? -2. [food, perfume, flower] to identify or recognize the smell of <sthg> by putting one's nose near it and breathing in □ She smelled the milk to see if it had spoiled. -3. [danger, trouble] to feel or realize that <sthg> is there □ I can smell trouble.

◇ vi -1. [person] to be able to smell things □ I can't smell at the moment because I have a cold. -2. [clothes, perfume, food] to have a particular smell □ The house smells of beer and cigarettes. □ This room smells damp/musty. □ This perfume smells like soap. ■ to smell good/bad to have a good/bad smell □ That smells delicious! -3. [feet, clothes] to have a bad smell □ I threw out the meat because it was starting to smell.

◇ n -1. a quality that is sensed by the nose □ What a terrible smell! □ There's a strong smell of gas in here. □ a delicious smell of cooking. -2. the ability of the nose to sense things □ He lost his sense of smell.

smelling salts ['smelɪŋ-] npl a chemical with a very strong smell that is used to revive somebody who has fainted.

smelly ['smeli] (compar smellier, superl smelliest) adj [feet, clothes] that have a bad smell □ a pair of smelly old socks.

smelt [smelt] ◇ past tense & past participle of smell. ◇ vt to remove metal from <ore> by heating it to very high temperatures.

smile [smail] ◇ n an expression on one's face in which the corners of one's mouth are turned up to show one is pleased or amused □ She had a big smile on her face. □ He gave a broad smile. ◇ vi to give a smile □ She was smiling as she spoke. □ He smiled at my surprise. ◇ vt to say <sthg> with a smile □ "Hi," she smiled.

smiling ['smailɪŋ] adj a smiling face the face of somebody who seems friendly because they have a smile □ The room was full of happy smiling faces.

smirk [smɜ:'k] ◇ n a smile that shows one is satisfied with oneself or pleased at somebody else's bad luck (disapproving use) □ Wipe that silly smirk off your face! ◇ vi to give a smirk □ What are you smirking at?

smith [smiθ] n = blacksmith.

Smith [smiθ], Adam (1723–1790) a British economist who believed in free trade and private enterprise.

Smith, John (1580–1631) an English soldier and explorer who helped to found the first colony in America, in Virginia. He was saved from death by Pocahontas.

Smith, Joseph (1805–1844) a US religious leader who founded the Mormon Church.

smithereens [ˌsmɪðə'ri:nz] npl to be smashed/blown to smithereens to be completely destroyed by being broken/in an explosion (informal use).

Smithsonian [smiθ'soʊniən]; the Smithsonian (Institution) a large group of government-supported museums in Washington, D.C. It includes museums of modern art, aircraft, and history.

Smith Square a square that is in central London and that contains the headquarters of the Conservative Party.

smithy ['smiði] (pl smithies) n the place where a blacksmith works □ the village smithy.

smitten ['smɪtn] adj to be smitten to find somebody or something very attractive or interesting (informal and humorous use).

smock [smɒk] n a loose piece of clothing like a dress, often worn over other clothes to protect them.

smog [smɒg] n a mixture of fog and smoke □ The city was covered in a blanket of smog.

smoke [smu:k] ◇ n -1. the gas and small particles produced when something burns □ The room was filled with smoke. -2. the act of smoking a cigarette, cigar etc □ I'm going out for a smoke. ◇ vt -1. [cigarette, cigar, pipe] to suck smoke from <sthg> and breathe it out again □ I used to smoke 20 cigarettes a day. □ What kind of tobacco do you smoke? -2. [fish, meat, cheese] to preserve <food> by hanging it in a room full of wood smoke. ◇ vi -1. [person] Do you smoke? □ Do you mind if I smoke? -2. [chimney, engine, lamp] to produce too much smoke □ The log fire had begun to smoke unpleasantly.

smoke alarm n an electronic device that makes a loud high-pitched noise when smoke comes near it, used in a building to warn people of a fire.

smoked [smu:kt] adj [fish, cheese, ham] that has been preserved by smoking it.

smoked salmon n salmon that has been smoked and is eaten cold in thin slices.

smokeless fuel ['smu:kles-] n fuel, usually a kind of coal, that burns without producing smoke.

smokeless zone n GB an area where only smokeless fuel can be burned.

smoker ['smu:kə] n -1. a person who often smokes □ Are you a smoker or a nonsmoker? □ Smokers are kindly requested to sit on the left-hand side of the auditorium. -2. RAIL a car on a train where smoking is allowed.

smokescreen ['smu:kskri:n] n an activity that is intended to hide one's real activities or intentions by drawing people's attention to something else □ The laundry is just a smoke-screen for their criminal activities.

smoke shop n US a store that sells tobacco, pipes etc.

smokestack ['smu:kstæk] n a very tall factory chimney.

smokestack industry n a type of industry that produces heavy goods, e.g. cars or steel.

smoking ['smu:kɪŋ] n the act of smoking a cigarette, pipe etc □ Smoking is bad for your health. □ Would you like a smoking or non-smoking seat? ■ 'No Smoking' a sign in a public place that shows that smoking is not allowed there.

smoking car US, smoking compartment GB n a car on a train where people are allowed to smoke.

smoky ['smu:kɪ] (compar smokier, superl smokiest) adj -1. [room, atmosphere] that is full of smoke □ It's very smoky in here. -2. [taste, color] that is like smoke in some way □ This wine has a rather smoky taste.

smolder US, smoulder GB ['smu:ldə] vi -1.

[fire, wood] to burn slowly, producing smoke but no flames □ The fire was smoldering in the grate. -2. [feeling, passion] to be felt but not expressed directly □ Anger had smoldered inside him for years.

smooch [smu:tʃ] vi to kiss and embrace somebody, especially for a long time, e.g. when dancing (informal use).

smooth [smu:ð] ◇ adj -1. [surface, skin, seal] that is flat and even and is not rough □ This razor gives a smooth shave. -2. [mixture, paste, sauce] that is quite thick and has no lumps, usually because it has been mixed well □ Stir the mixture to a smooth consistency. -3. [flow, pace, supply] that is regular and without sudden changes □ The gear change was impressively smooth. -4. [taste, drink] that is pleasant and not acid □ a beautifully smooth malt whiskey. -5. [flight, landing, take-off] that is comfortable because it does not shake one too much □ They had a smooth crossing. -6. [person] who seems relaxed, polite, and confident in a way one does not completely trust □ He's a smooth talker. -7. [transition, operation] that is without problems □ This may affect the smooth running of the team. □ Things got off to a smooth start.

◇ vt -1. [hair, skirt, tablecloth] to make <sthg> lie flat □ He smoothed his hair down with his hand. □ She smoothed the sheet flat on the bed.

■ to smooth the way to make a future change easier and more likely to happen, usually by dealing with any existing problems □ Foreign aid will smooth the way to independence for the country. -2. to smooth sthg onto sthg [cream, oil] to spread sthg onto sthg using regular and gentle movements □ Libby smoothed suntan lotion onto his back.

◆ smooth out vt sep -1. to smooth sthg out [tablecloth, sheet] to make sthg lie flat; [crease, wrinkle] to get rid of sthg by making the surface flat □ He tried to smooth out the creases from his jacket. -2. to smooth sthg out [difficulty, problem] to get rid of sthg □ I'm sure we can smooth things out with the clients.

◆ smooth over vt sep to smooth over sthg [difficulty, disagreement] to make sthg easier to deal with, often by talking to the people who are involved □ I'll try to smooth things over with Janet before you arrive.

smoothie ['smu:ði] n -1. a smooth-talking person (informal use). -2. a type of drink made from fruit pulp, usually with milk or cream added.

smoothly ['smu:ðli] adv [go, talk, flow] see smooth □ The trip/operation went very smoothly. □ This pen writes very smoothly.

smoothness ['smu:ðnəs] n [of a surface, mixture, flight] see smooth.

smooth-talking [-tɔ:kɪŋ] adj (person) who talks in a polite and confident way that is designed to persuade people but that is insincere or dishonest □ a smooth-talking salesman.

smother ['smʌðə] vt -1. to smother sthg in OR with sthg to cover sthg with a lot of sthg □ The cake was smothered with OR in chocolate frosting. □ She smothered him with kisses. -2.

[person] to kill <sb> by covering their face with something so they cannot breathe □ It was alleged that he smothered the maid by placing a cushion over her face. -3. [fire, flames] to put <sthg> out by covering it with something □ Use a blanket to smother the flames. -4. [emotion, opposition] to stop <sthg> from growing or becoming stronger □ Hudson had learned to smother any feelings of anger. -5. [son, daughter] to protect  or give them too much love in a way that stops them from becoming independent □ Her parents smothered her with love.

smoulder vi GB = smolder.

smudge [smʌdʒ] ◇ n a dirty mark made when oil, grease etc is rubbed onto a surface. ◇ vt [ink, writing, paper] to make <sthg> dirty or untidy by rubbing it accidentally.

smug [smʌg] (compar smugger, superl smuggest) adj [person] who is pleased with themselves in a way that is annoying because it suggests that other people are in a worse situation □ What are you looking so smug about?

smuggle ['smʌgl] vt -1. [drugs, diamonds, alcohol] to take <sthg> illegally into or out of a country □ They were caught smuggling cocaine over the border. -2. to smuggle sthg in/out to take sthg secretly into/out of a place □ Prostitutes were smuggled into the presidential palace.

smuggler ['smʌglə] n a person who smuggles diamonds, alcohol etc □ a drug smuggler.

smuggling ['smʌglɪŋ] n the activity of taking things illegally into or out of a country □ The locals drew a large part of their income from smuggling. □ drug smuggling.

smugness ['smʌgnəs] n: see smug.

smut [smʌt] n -1. a small piece of dirt or soot that makes a dark mark on things □ You've got some smut on your cheek. -2. smutty language, books, pictures etc (informal use) □ I won't have you reading this smut!

smutty ['smʌtɪ] (compar smuttier, superl smuttiest) adj [language, book, picture] that causes offense because it deals with sex or nudity in a way that is meant to shock or excite people (informal and disapproving use) □ a dirty little book, full of smutty jokes.

snack [snæk] ◇ n a quick meal or piece of food eaten between regular meals or instead of one □ Let's have a quick snack, then go. □ snack food. ◇ vi to eat a snack □ She had a tendency to snack rather than eat proper meals.

snack bar n a place where one can buy and eat snacks, tea, coffee etc.

snag [snæg] (pt & pp snagged, cont snagging) ◇ n -1. a small problem □ There's only one snag: I've already arranged to see Liz that day. -2. AUS a sausage (informal use). ◇ vt [sweater, stocking] to catch and tear <sthg> on a sharp object □ She snagged her dress on the corner of the table.

snail [sneɪl] n a small soft animal that has no skeleton, legs, or arms, has a shell on its back, and moves very slowly.

snail mail n a term used by computer users to refer to the normal postal service, compared to e-mail (humorous use).

snake [sneɪk] ◇ n a reptile with a long thin body and no legs. ◇ vi [procession, train] to move along in curves □ The line of people snaked right around the theater.

snap [snæp] (pt & pp snapped, cont snapping) ◇ vt -1. [branch, twig, rope] to break <sthg> with a snap □ He snapped the pencil in two. -2. [lid, fastener, lock] to move <sthg> in a particular direction so that it makes a sound like a snap □ She snapped her briefcase shut. ■ to snap one's fingers to make a noise by moving one's thumb and middle finger together quickly, usually to attract attention □ He thinks all he has to do is snap his fingers and I'll come running! -3. to say <sthg> in an angry or unfriendly way □ "I'm busy," she snapped. -4. [person, place] to take a photograph of <sb/sthg> (informal use) □ He snapped her on the beach.

◇ vi -1. [branch, twig, rope] If you pull the elastic too tight it will snap. -2. [lid, fastener, fingers] to move in a particular direction or way so as to make a noise like a snap □ The case snaps shut like this. -3. [dog, shark] to move its jaws together quickly in a movement like biting □ Your dog just snapped at me. -4. [person] to speak in an angry or unfriendly way □ There's no need to snap at me like that! -5. to snap out of it to change suddenly from a bad to a good mood □ Peter's been sitting around looking depressed for days. I wish he'd just snap out of it and cheer up.

◇ n -1. [of a twig, branch] the act or sound of something snapping. -2. PHOTOGRAPHY a photograph, especially one taken on vacation (informal use) □ We took lots of snaps of the kids. -3. US CLOTHING = snap fastener. -4. GB GAMES a children's card game where each player in turn places a card on the table. The aim is to be the first to shout "snap!" when two cards placed one after the other are the same.

◇ adj a snap judgment/decision a judgment/decision that is made suddenly and without much thought □ a snap election.

◆ snap up vt sep to snap sthg up to buy sthg quickly because it is cheap or because there is a chance that it will be bought by somebody else □ Houses in this area are snapped up as soon as they come on the market.

snap fastener n US a type of metal or plastic button with a point that sticks out of one half that is pressed into a hole in the other.

snappy ['snæpɪ] (compar snappier, superl snappiest) adj (informal use) -1. a snappy dresser a person who always wears stylish clothes. -2. [show, song] that is energetic and full of life. ■ make it snappy! do it quickly! □ Take me to the airport, and make it snappy!

snapshot ['snæpʃɒt] n a photograph taken quickly by somebody who is not an expert.

snare [sneə] ◇ n a trap that is used for catching small animals and birds. ◇ vt [animal, bird] to catch <sthg> in a snare.

snarl [sna:rl] ◇ n [of a dog, wolf] a fierce growling sound. ◇ vi -1. [dog, wolf] to make a fierce growling sound. -2. [person] to speak in a very unfriendly and threatening way.

snarl-up n a disorganized situation, especially one involving traffic.

snatch [snætʃ] ◇ n a short part of a conversation, song etc □ I overheard brief snatches of their conversation. ◇ vt -1. [purse, keys, paper] to take <sthg> quickly and violently □ He snatched the book from her hands. -2. [sleep, opportunity, look] to do <sthg> quickly while one has the chance □ I snatched a few hours' sleep on the plane. ◇ vi to try to take something quickly and violently □ She snatched at the papers and tore them.

snazzy ['snæzi] (compar snazzier, superl snazziest) adj [clothes, place, car] stylish (informal use) □ That's a snazzy new outfit.

sneak [sni:k] (US pt & pp sneaked OR snuck, GB pt & pp sneaked) ◇ vt -1. to sneak sth somewhere to take sth somewhere so that other people do not notice □ They managed to sneak a knife into the prison. -2. to sneak a look at sb/sthg to look at sb/sthg quickly so that nobody sees one doing it □ I snuck a look at the letter while she was out of the room. ◇ vi to move quietly to avoid being heard □ Later on, I sneaked back downstairs. ◇ n a child who enjoys getting other children into trouble by telling adults about the bad things they have done (disapproving use).

sneakers ['sni:kəz] npl US shoes with rubber soles that are used for sports □ a pair of sneakers.

sneaking ['sni:kɪŋ] adj to have a sneaking feeling/suspicion etc to have a slight or secret feeling/suspicion etc, especially one that one does not want to admit or accept □ I have a sneaking admiration for her.

sneak preview n a chance to see or watch something before it is officially available to the public.

sneaky ['sni:kɪ] (compar sneakier, superl sneakiest) adj [person] who is secretive and dishonest, often not in a very serious way (informal use) □ That was a sneaky little trick!

sneer [sniə] ◇ n an unpleasant way of speaking, smiling, or laughing that shows that one has no respect for somebody or something □ "How unfortunate," said Gert with a sneer. ◇ vi to sneer at sb/sthg to show one's contempt for sb/sthg □ He's always sneering at people behind their backs. □ A thousand dollars is not to be sneered at!

sneeze [sni:z] ◇ vi to send a sudden uncontrollable burst of air through one's nose, e.g. when one has a cold or when there is dust in the air. ■ it is not to be sneezed at it is worth considering carefully (informal use) □ That's an opportunity not to be sneezed at. ◇ n an act of sneezing □ Maura gave a loud sneeze.

snicker ['snɪkə] US ◇ n a quiet unkind laugh. ◇ vi to laugh in a quiet unkind way at somebody or something.

snide [snaɪd] adj [comment, remark] that expresses a critical opinion of somebody or something but without saying so directly.

sniff [snɪf] ◇ n the act or sound of breathing in air sharply through one's nose so that one makes a noise, e.g. when one has a cold □ She gave a loud sniff. ◇ vt -1. [food, air, flower] to breathe in the air around <sthg> through one's nose in order to smell it □ The dog sniffed the package excitedly. -2. to sniff glue/a solvent etc to take glue/a solvent etc as a drug by breathing in its fumes. ◇ vi -1. to take in air with a sniff to clear one's nose □ I've been sniffing all day with this cold. -2. to show disapproval of something □ A salary of $140,000 a year is not to be sniffed at.

◆ sniff out vt sep -1. to sniff sb/sthg out [drugs, criminal] to find sb/sthg by smell. -2. to sniff sthg out [cause, secret] to find sthg by looking hard for it (informal use).

sniffer dog ['snɪfə-dɒg] n a dog trained to find drugs, criminals etc by smell.

sniffle ['snɪfl] vi to sniff several times, e.g. when one has a cold.

snigger ['snɪgə] n & vi GB = snicker.

snip [snɪp] (pt & pp snipped, cont snipping) vt [paper, string, wire] to cut <sthg> with one quick movement of a pair of scissors.

snipe [snaɪp] vi -1. to shoot from a hiding place at somebody or something □ Solitary, unseen gunmen snipe at civilians on the street. -2. to criticize somebody in an unpleasant, often indirect way □ It's the kind of middle-class novel reviewers love to snipe at.

sniper ['snaɪpə] n a person who shoots at people from a hiding place.

snippet ['snɪpət] n a small piece of information, news, gossip etc □ an interesting snippet of information □ I only heard snippets of their conversation.

snivel ['snɪvl] (US pt & pp sneveled, cont snivelling, GB pt & pp snivelled, cont snivelling) vi to cry and sniff in an irritating complaining way.

snob [snɒb] n (disapproving use) -1. a person who admires the upper classes and dislikes the lower classes □ She's a terrible snob. -2. a person who thinks they are better than other people because of their intelligence, wealth, or interests □ an intellectual snob.

snobbery ['snɒbəri] n snobbish behavior.

snobbish ['snɒbɪʃ], snobby ['snɒbi] (compar snobbier, superl snobbiest) adj [behavior, attitude] that is typical of a snob.

snooker [US 'snʊkə, GB 'snʊ:kə] n a game for two players who use a long stick to hit a white ball across a table so that it knocks colored balls into one of six holes on the edge of the table □ a game of snooker □ a snooker table/player.

snoop [snu:p] vi to try to find out about something, e.g. somebody's personal affairs, especially by looking around secretly somewhere (informal and disapproving use) □ He's always snooping around outside my office.

snooper ['snu:pə] n a person who often snoops (informal and disapproving use).

Snoopy ['snu:pɪ] a dog in the cartoon strip Peanuts.

snooty ['snu:tɪ] (compar snootier, superl snootiest) adj [person] who seems rude and unfriendly because they think they are better than other people.

snooze [snu:z] ◇ n a short light sleep during the day □ I had a snooze after lunch. ◇ vi to have a snooze.

snore [snɔ:'r] ◇ vi to make a loud noise with one's nose or mouth when breathing in during one's sleep □ Do I snore? □ You were snoring last night. ◇ n the sound or act of snoring □ His snores kept the whole house awake.

snoring ['snɔ:rɪŋ] n the sound or act of repeatedly snoring □ I was woken up by Alan's snoring.

snorkel ['snɔ:'kɪl] n a short curved tube used for breathing underwater.

snorkeling US, snorkelling GB ['snɔ:'kɪlɪŋ] n the activity of swimming underwater using a snorkel □ It's a great place to go snorkeling.

snort [snɔ:'t] ◇ n -1. [by a person] a noise made by breathing out using a lot of force, usually showing impatience or anger □ Parsons gave a contemptuous snort. -2. [by an animal] a noise made by breathing out suddenly and forcefully □ The horse gave a snort. ◇ vi [person, animal] to make a snort. ◇ vt to snort cocaine to take cocaine by breathing it in through one's nose (drugs slang).

snotty ['snotɪ] (compar snottier, superl snottiest) adj [person] who thinks they are better than other people (informal and disapproving use) □ I told her what I thought and she got really snotty with me.

snout [snaʊt] n the nose of some animals, e.g. a pig or dog.

snow [snəʊ] ◇ n crystals of frozen water that fall from the sky in soft white flakes □ The trees were covered in snow. □ The snow lay thick on the ground. □ a snow scene. ◇ v impers it's snowing snow is falling from the sky.

snowball ['snuɔ:bɔ:l] ◇ n a ball that children make from snow and throw at each other. ◇ vi [work, problem] to increase more and more quickly in size or importance □ The number of violent crimes has snowballed recently.

snow blindness n the inability to see properly after looking at snow in bright sunlight for a long time.

snowboarding ['snuɔ:bɔ:'dɪŋ] n a sport in which one moves downhill on snow, standing on a long, wide, plastic board.

snowbound ['snuɔbaʊnd] adj to be snowbound to be unable to leave a place because there is too much snow.

snow-capped [-kæpt] adj [mountain, peak] that is covered with snow at the top.

Snowdonia [snəʊ'dəʊnjə] a national park in a mountainous part of North Wales, in the UK.

snowdrift ['snuɔdrɪft] n a deep pile of snow made by the wind.

snowdrop ['snuɔdrɒp] n a small, white, bell-shaped flower that is one of the first flowers to appear in spring.

snowed in [,snəʊd-] adj to be snowed in to be unable to leave a place because there is too much snow.

snowed under adj to be snowed under to be very busy and have almost more work than one can cope with □ I'm snowed under with paperwork.

snowfall ['snuɔ:fɔ:l] n -1. an amount of snow that falls from the sky □ There have been heavy snowfalls in the mountains. -2. the amount of snow that falls in a place over a particular period □ Our average snowfall is close to 30 centimeters.

snowflake ['snuɔfleɪk] n a piece of snow that falls from the sky.

snowman ['snuɔmæn] (pl snowmen [-men]) n a large figure made out of snow, that is intended to look like a person.

snow pea n a vegetable like a pea whose seeds and pod can be eaten.

snowplow US, snowplough GB ['snuɔpləʊ] n a special vehicle with a large metal blade in front that clears snow from roads and railroad tracks.

snowshoe ['snuɔʃu:] n one of two rounded frames with net across them that are worn on one's feet to stop one from sinking into deep snow.

snowstorm ['snuɔstɔ:'tɪm] n a heavy fall of snow blown by strong wind.

snow-white adj pure white.

Snow White [,snuɔ'waɪt] a character in a fairy tale. Her cruel stepmother sends her to a forest to die, but she meets seven dwarfs there and lives with them.

snowy ['snuɔɪ] (compar snowier, superl snowiest) adj [conditions, weather] when a lot of snow is falling □ It's going to be snowy today.

Snowy Mountains: the Snowy Mountains an area in the Australian Alps between New South Wales and Victoria where there are many ski resorts.

SNP n abbr of Scottish National Party.

Snr, snr abbr of senior.

snub [snʌb] (pt & pp snubbed, cont snubbing) ◇ n something that is intended to insult somebody □ She took his late arrival as a snub. ◇ vt to ignore <sb> to show that one is angry or upset with them.

snuck [snʌk] past tense & past participle of sneak.

snuff [snʌf] ◇ n tobacco in the form of powder that one breathes in through one's nose. ◇ vt to snuff it to die (informal and humorous use).

snuffle ['snʌflɪ] vi to make noises like sniffs, usually because one has a cold or is upset □ Blow your nose properly and stop snuffling!

snuff movie n a pornographic movie in which the actors are actually killed.

snug [snʌg] (compar snugger, superl snuggest) adj -1. to be snug to feel warm and comfortable □ I was feeling all snug and cosy in my pa- jamás. -2. [place] that is small and makes people feel warm and comfortable □ This is a snug little bar. -3. [jacket, suit, dress] that fits tightly □ The shoes were a very snug fit.

snuggle ['snʌɡl] vi to move oneself into a warm comfortable position, usually close to another person □ She snuggled up to me to keep warm. □ John snuggled under the blanket and went back to sleep.

so [sou] ◇ adv -1. used to refer back to something that has already been mentioned □ "Have we met before?" — "I don't think so." □ Are you interested in drama? If so, write to us at the following address... -2. so fat/tall/difficult etc very fat/tall/difficult etc (used with adjectives) ■ I was so tired (that) I went to bed because I was very tired, I went to bed □ The time went so quickly. □ I've never seen so many cars. □ Don't be so stupid. □ The weather was so hot (that) we stayed indoors. -3. so do I used when the previous statement also applies to oneself □ "I love jazz." — "So do I." □ You're upset, and so is he. ■ just as..., so... used to compare two things, people, or situations □ Just as some people like to be part of a team, so others work better on their own. -4. used to ask a question about what has just been said □ So are you saying that the whole thing was a mistake? -5. used to get someone's attention □ So how's work then? -6. used to show that one thinks something is not important or serious □ So I got it all wrong, who cares? -7. (like) so used when the speaker is describing something with their hands □ Hold your arm out, (like) so. -8. only so much or many used to say that the amount of something is limited □ You can only wear so many pairs of shoes. □ There's only so much we can do to help. -9. phrases so I see I can see that what you are saying is true □ "I've had my hair cut." — "So I see." ■ so be it! I accept what you say, though I think it is wrong □ He said he wasn't interested, so be it! He's had his chance. ■ so he/there etc is what you have said is true but I had forgotten it or not noticed it before □ "There's a parking space." — "So there is." □ "The boss has just got back." — "So he has." ■ a week or so about a week □ I need to buy ten or so. ■ not so much...as... used to correct a statement or opinion, or to make it more precise □ The problem isn't so much the money, it's the time involved.

◇ excl so (what)! used to show that the speaker does not think something is serious or important (informal use) □ "She said you were rude to her." — "So what?"

◇ conj = so that □ I'm away next week, so I can't come. □ He'd seen a photograph of her, (and) so he recognized her right away.

◆ so as to conj used to show the reason why something has been done □ We sold it so as to raise money.

◆ so that conj -1. used to give the reason why something is done □ I left the light on so that people would think I was in. -2. used to show the result of an action or situation □ Some of the audience started shouting, so that you couldn't hear the actors.

SO abbr of standing order.

soak [soʊk] ◇ vt -1. to leave <sthg> in water for a long period of time □ Soak the prunes overnight. -2. to make <sthg> very wet □ The bandage was soaked with blood. ◇ vi -1. to leave sthg to soak, to let sthg soak to leave sthg in water for a long period of time, especially in order to clean it □ Leave the shirt to soak overnight. -2. to soak through/into sthg [water, blood] to spread through/into sthg through the small holes in its surface □ The water had soaked right through the carpet.

◆ soak up vt sep to soak sthg up [water, blood] to absorb sthg □ Use the bread to soak up the sauce.

soaked [soʊkt] adj [person, clothes] very wet □ I got absolutely soaked walking home. ■ to be soaked through [person, clothes] to be completely wet.

soaking ['soʊkɪŋ] ◇ adj to be soaking [person, clothes] to be very wet □ By the time I got home I was soaking. ◇ adv to be soaking wet to be very wet.

so-and-so n (informal use) -1. a word used instead of a name that one has forgotten or as an example of a particular group of people or things □ What would Mr and Mrs So-and-so from up the road say to that? -2. an irritating person □ He's an arrogant little so-and-so.

soap [soʊp] ◇ n -1. a substance, usually solid when dry, that is used for washing oneself and one's clothes □ a bar of soap □ I've got soap in my eyes. □ liquid soap. -2. TV = soap opera. ◇ vt [hair, body] to rub soap into <sthg> to wash it.

soap bubble n a bubble made from soap and water.

soap dish n a small container for soap in a bathroom.

soap flakes npl small pieces of soap used for washing clothes.

soap opera n a television serial that does not have a fixed number of episodes and that deals with the everyday lives of a group of characters.

◆ soap powder n GB soap in the form of powder used for washing clothes.

soapsuds ['soʊpsʌdz] npl a mass of tiny bubbles formed when soap is mixed with water.

soapy ['soʊpi] (compar soapier, superl soapiest) adj -1. [water, surface] that is full of soap. -2. [taste, texture] that is like soap.

soar [sɔːr] vi -1. [bird] to fly high in the sky without moving its wings □ The eagle soared high in the sky. -2. [balloon, kite, rocket] to rise quickly into the air □ We watched the rocket soar up into the sky. -3. [price, temperature] to increase very quickly to a high level □ Temperatures soared into the 90s. □ Profits soared again last quarter. -4. [mountain, building] to be very tall and impressive (literary use) □ Redwood trees soared above us. -5. [music, voice] to be high in pitch so that it is clearly heard above other voices or instruments □ Her voice soared above the rest of the choir.

soaring ['sɔ:riŋ] adj -1. [price, temperature] that is increasing very quickly □ Soaring prices have kept shoppers at home this month. -2. [building, cliff] that is very tall and impressive □ a soaring skyscraper.

sob [sɒb] (pt & pp sobbed, cont sobbing) ◇ n the sound somebody makes when they are crying loudly with short sudden bursts □ "But I can't," she said with a sob. ◇ vt to say <sthg> with a sob □ "They've gone!" he sobbed. ◇ vi to cry loudly and in short sudden bursts □ I found her sobbing in her room.

sobbing ['sɒbiŋ] n the act or sound of somebody who is crying loudly with short sudden bursts.

sober ['səʊbər] adj -1. to be sober not to be drunk □ I don't think he was sober. -2. [person] who is serious and sensible □ a very sober, moral sort of man. -3. [color, clothes] that seems plain and slightly dull □ He was dressed in a sober gray suit.

◆ sober up vi [person] to gradually become sober after being drunk.

sobering ['səʊbəriŋ] adj [thought, experience] that makes one think seriously about something important □ It is sobering to be reminded of how dangerous cars can be.

sobriety [sə'braɪəti] n serious and sensible behavior (formal use).

Soc. abbr of Society.

so-called [-'kɔ:ld] adj a word used to describe something that one thinks is different from what its name suggests □ my so-called friend.

soccer ['sɒkər] n a game played between two teams of 11 players who kick a ball around a piece of ground with a goal at each end. The aim is to kick the ball into the opponents' goal □ a soccer match/team.

sociable ['səʊsəbl] adj [person] who is friendly and likes being with people □ I'm not feeling very sociable tonight. □ Come downstairs and be sociable for a change!

social ['səʊʃl] adj -1. [problem, condition, structure] that is connected with human society and the way it is organized; [class, status, background] that is connected with the position one has in society □ demands for social and economic change □ She gave in to social pressure and quit smoking. □ a family of high social standing. -2. social drinking drinking for pleasure with friends. -3. [animal, insect] that lives in groups □ Ants are social insects.

Social and Liberal Democratic Party n in Britain, a moderate political party founded in 1988.

Social Chapter n the Social Chapter a section of the Maastricht Treaty on European economic and political union that concerns the rights of workers, old people, and the unemployed.

social climber n a person who tries to make friends with and be accepted by people from higher social classes (disapproving use).

social club n a club where people can meet, drink, play sports etc.

social conscience n a concern for and desire to help people who are poor, old, ill etc.

social democracy n a political system that supports social justice and equality in a capitalist economic system; a country that is run by this system.

social event n -1. an event that is held to entertain the members of a company or other organization. -2. a party, sports event etc that is important to a particular group of society □ It was the social event of the year.

social fund n in Britain, an amount of money used by the state to lend money to people who are very poor.

Socialism ['səʊʃəlɪzəm] n the political belief that the state should control business and industry so that everybody can benefit from a country's wealth.

NOTE: Compare capitalism, Communism.

Socialist ['səʊʃəlɪst] ◇ n a person who supports socialism. ◇ adj: a Socialist government/policy.

socialite ['səʊʃəlɪt] n a person who is well-known because they go to a lot of parties with rich or famous people.

socialize, -ise ['səʊʃəlaɪz] vi to spend time with other people for pleasure □ I don't socialize with the people I work with.

socialized medicine [,səʊʃəlaɪzd-] n medical care provided by the state.

social life n activities in which one enjoys oneself with other people, usually by going out to meet them, e.g. at parties or clubs □ He doesn't have much of a social life. □ Social life is important in Spanish culture.

socially ['səʊʃəli] adv -1. from the point of view of society □ That kind of behavior is not really socially acceptable. -2. [meet, visit] for pleasure, not as part of one's work □ I only know them socially.

social order n the way in which society is organized in a particular place □ The party aims to establish a new social order.

social science n the scientific study of people in society; a subject, e.g. economics, politics, sociology, or history, that is part of this kind of study.

social security n GB money paid by a government to people who are unemployed, ill etc □ social security benefits □ I spent three months on social security before I found a job.

◆ Social Security n a US government program that pays money to people who have retired.

social services npl the services provided by a government to help and give advice to people who have problems with money, their health, family etc □ You should speak to your local social services department.

social studies npl a subject taught in schools that includes politics and sociology.

social work n work that is done by the social services.

social worker n a person who works in the social services with people who need help.

society [sə'saɪəti] (pl societies) n -1. people in general when considered as an organized group □ They want equal status in society. □ You are a danger to society. -2. a large group of people with the same customs, nationality, religion etc □ an industrial/a multiracial society. -3. an organized group of people with similar interests or aims □ a film/debating society.

Society of Friends n the Society of Friends another name for the Quakers (formal use).

socioeconomic [ˌsəʊsiəʊi:kə'nɒmɪk] adj [policy, group] that is connected with the economic conditions of groups in society.

sociological [ˌsəʊsjə'lɒdʒɪkəl] adj [research, issue, differences] that is connected with sociology.

sociologist [ˌsəʊsiə'lɒdʒəst] n an expert in or student of sociology.

sociology [ˌsəʊsiə'lɒdʒɪ] n the scientific study of human society and the behavior of people in large groups.

sock [sɒk] n a piece of clothing which covers the foot and ankle and is made of wool, nylon etc □ a pair of socks.

socket ['sɒkət] n -1. ELECTRICITY a device with holes which is fixed to a wall and which the plug of an electrical device can be fitted into in order to connect it to the electricity supply. -2. ANATOMY [of a shoulder, hip bone] a hole or hollow place in a bone which the end of another bone fits into; [of an eye] one of the two hollow spaces in the head where the eyes are.

Socrates ['sɒkrətiːz] (470–399 BC) a Greek philosopher who taught his ideas using a series of questions and answers.

sod [sɒd] n -1. a piece of earth with grass on it, usually when cut from the ground. -2. ▽ GB an unpleasant and annoying person (very informal use) □ You stupid sod!

soda ['səʊdə] n -1. CHEMISTRY a compound of sodium used for cleaning or cooking. -2. = soda water. -3. US a sweet drink with bubbles of gas □ a lime soda.

soda siphon n a special bottle for making soda water and adding it to drinks.

soda water n water that has been sweetened and made fizzy, used for mixing with other drinks □ soda and lime □ a scotch and soda.

sodden ['sɒdn] adj [clothes, earth] very wet.

sodium ['səʊdiəm] n a silver-white metal chemical element found in compounds such as salt. SYMBOL: Na.

sofa ['səʊfə] n a piece of furniture for two or more people to sit on that has a back and arms and is padded with cushions or soft material.

sofa bed n a sofa that is designed to be made easily into a bed.

soft [sɒft] adj -1. [metal, wood, cheese] that is less hard than normal □ The soil was soft and easy to dig. -2. [bed, cushion] that changes shape easily when pressed □ This pillow's nice and soft. -3. [wool, skin, hair] that is smooth and pleasant to touch □ the soft touch of her hands. -4. [wind, knock, blow] that is gentle and involves little force or violence □ The air- plane made a soft landing. -5. [sound, voice, music] that is not loud and is often pleasant to listen to □ "He's asleep," said Louise in a soft voice. -6. [light, color, glow] that is not bright □ soft pastel shades. -7. [teacher, boss] that allows other people too much freedom and is not strict enough when they do something bad □ She's too soft with her children. □ The President was accused of being soft on crime.

softball ['sɒftbɔ:l] n a game like baseball played with a larger, softer ball.

soft-boiled adj a soft-boiled egg an egg that is boiled so that the white part is hard but the yellow part is still liquid.

soft drink n a cold sweet drink that contains no alcohol, usually sold in bottles or cans.

soft drugs npl drugs, e.g. cannabis, that are not known to be harmful or addictive.

NOTE: Compare hard drugs.

soften ['sɒfn] ◊ vt -1. [metal, soil, fabric] to make <sth> softer. -2. [blow, effect, impact] to make <sth> seem less serious or worrying □ The government cut taxes to soften the effect of price increases. -3. to soften one's attitude to become less critical or severe □ There are signs that they are softening their stance on the dispute over fishing rights.

◊ vi -1. [metal, butter, fabric] to become soft □ Leave the ice cream out of the fridge to soften. -2. [person, attitude] to become less critical or severe □ "Oh, I suppose you can come," he said, softening a little. -3. [eyes, voice, expression] to become gentler and more friendly □ Susan's face softened as she looked at the sleeping child.

◆ soften up vt sep to soften sb up to be pleasant to sb so that they will be more likely to agree to something (informal use) □ Look, buy him a couple of drinks to soften him up, then ask him for the money.

soft focus n in soft focus photographed or filmed in a way that makes all the lines less clear, usually in order to make somebody or something more attractive.

soft furnishings npl GB a collective term for curtains, cushions, mats, seat covers etc.

softhearted [ˌsɒft'hɑ:təd] adj [person] who is kind, sympathetic, and quick to forgive people.

softly ['sɒftli] adv [knock, speak, glow] see soft.

softness ['sɒftnəs] n [of a metal, bed, skin etc] see soft.

soft-pedal vi to give less emphasis or attention to something because it has become difficult or embarrassing (informal use).

soft sell n the soft sell a way of selling things by gently persuading people to buy them rather than by using a lot of pressure.

soft-spoken adj [person] who talks in a quiet, gentle, pleasant voice.

soft toy n a soft furry or woolen toy, e.g. a teddy bear.

software ['sɒftweə] n the programs that are used in a computer to do particular jobs □ word-processing software □ a software designer/company.

NOTE: Compare hardware.

software package n a complete set of computer programs designed to carry out a particular task, such as word processing.

softwood ['sɒftwɒd] n wood from trees such as pine and fir which grow quickly and are cheap and easy to cut.

softy ['sɒftɪ] (pl softies) n -1. a weak person who cries and complains too easily (informal and disapproving use). -2. a sensitive person who is easily persuaded to do things by other people (informal use).

soggy ['sɒɡɪ] (compar soggier, superl soggiest) adj [ground, clothes, food] that is soft and wet in an unpleasant way.

Soho ['səʊhəʊ] an area of central London containing many restaurants, bars, and nightclubs.

SoHo ['səʊhəʊ] a fashionable area of Manhattan, New York City, containing many shops and restaurants.

soil [sɔɪl] ◇ n -1. the top layer of earth that plants grow in □ The soil should be kept moist. -2. the land that belongs to a particular country or area (formal use) □ We were back on British soil. ◇ vt [clothes, hands] to make <sth> dirty, especially with urine or feces.

soiled [sɔɪld] adj [clothes, sheets, goods] dirty □ soiled bedding.

solace ['sɒləs] n a feeling of comfort and relief from sadness, pain, disappointment etc; a person or thing that causes this feeling (formal use) □ I found some solace in my books.

solar ['səʊlə] adj -1. [heat, radiation] that is produced by the sun. -2. solar energy energy that is produced by the sun in the form of light and heat.

solarium [US sə'læriəm, GB '-leə-] (pl solariums OR solaria [-ɪə]) n a room with sunbeds where people can go to get an artificial suntan.

solar panel n a device, e.g. on a roof or spacecraft, that uses the sun's energy to produce electricity.

solar plexus [-'pleksəs] n the part of the body below the chest and above the stomach.

solar system n the sun and all the planets, comets etc that move around it.

sold [səʊld] past tense & past participle of sell.

solder [US 'sɒdər, GB 'sɒldə] ◇ n a soft mixture of metals, usually tin and lead, that melts easily and is used for joining metals or wires together. ◇ vt to join <two metals, electrical parts> etc together using solder.

soldering iron [US 'sɒdərɪŋ-, GB 'sɒldərɪŋ-] n an electrical device for melting solder and joining metals together.

soldier ['səʊldɪə] n a member of an army, especially one who is not an officer.

◆ soldier on vi GB to keep working at something although it is difficult or unpleasant.

sold out adj [performance, theater, concert] for which all the tickets have been sold □ Tickets for tonight are sold out.

sole [səʊl] (pl sense 2 only sole OR soles) ◇ adj -1. the sole reason/survivor etc the only reason/survivor etc □ He was the sole inheritor.

-2. to have sole ownership/responsibility etc to be the only person who owns/is responsible for etc something □ We have sole rights on the invention. ◇ n -1. the bottom part of one's foot; the part of a shoe, sock etc that covers this □ shoes designed to support the soles of the feet □ rubber soles. -2. a flat sea fish with white flesh, used as food.

solely ['səʊli] adv [responsible, concerned] only □ This is solely a matter for the directors.

solemn ['sɒləm] adj -1. [person, face, voice] that is serious and shows no humor □ Sam looked very solemn when he came back into the room. -2. [promise, agreement, declaration] that one makes in a very serious and sincere way □ They stood before the priest, exchanging solemn vows. -3. [occasion, ceremony, music] very serious, grand, and impressive □ on this important and solemn occasion.

solemnly ['sɒləmli] adv [speak, promise] see solemn.

sole owner US, sole trader GB n a person who owns and runs a business alone and is the only person responsible for its debts.

solicit [sə'lisət] ◇ vt [money, help, opinions] to ask for <sth> (formal use). ◇ vi [prostitute] to approach people in a public place and offer to have sex with them for money □ She was arrested for soliciting.

solicitor [sə'lisətə] n GB & AUS a lawyer who prepares legal documents, gives advice, and appears for their clients in some types of court.

solicitous [sə'lisətəs] adj (formal use) -1. [person] who is kind, caring, and wants to help □ "Shall I help you up?" asked Clive, in solicitous tones. -2. solicitous of OR for sth interested in and anxious about sth □ He enquired after my mother, most solicitous of her health.

solid ['sɒləd] ◇ adj -1. [food, mixture] that is not a liquid or gas; [rock, layer] that is firm, hard, and made of dense material □ The milk has frozen solid. □ I could feel something solid at the bottom of the bag. -2. [tire, ball, shape] that is not hollow but is filled with some material. -3. [gold, wood] that is not mixed with any other substance; [blue, green] that is the same color all over a particular area □ a solid-silver teapot. -4. [building, foundations] that is strongly made and is unlikely to break or fall down; [support, relationship, basis] that has been developed over a long time and is therefore unlikely to change or fail; [grip, push] strong and firm □ Those walls look solid enough. □ This year's sales provide a solid base for future expansion. □ It's hardly as if your relationship is solid, is it? -5. [person, company] that is known to be reliable, trustworthy, and respectable □ a good solid worker. -6. [work, advice, experience] that is practical, useful, and carefully done or considered; [evidence, reasoning] that is real, definite, and convincing because it is based on facts rather than beliefs or wishes □ He gave me some very solid advice about careers. □ We need some solid facts on which to base our decision. -7. [crowd, wall] without breaks, gaps, or spaces; [hours, days]

- without breaks or pauses □ a solid yellow line at the side of the road □ We worked for two hours solid OR two solid hours.
- ◇ adv to be packed solid [stadium, suitcase] to be filled so completely that there is no room left.
- ◇ n a substance that is solid and not a liquid or gas.
- ◆ solids npl food that is solid and is not like milk, soup etc □ Is the baby taking solids yet?
- solidarity [ˌsɒləˈdærəti] n support shown by one group of people for another group who have similar concerns □ Miners showed solidarity with the nurses by going on strike too.
- solid fuel n a fuel that is a solid substance, e.g. coal, wood etc rather than oil or gas □ a solid-fuel heating system.
- solidify [səˈlɪdəfaɪ] (pt & pp solidified) vi [paint, cement] to become solid or hard.
- solidly [ˈsɒlədli] adv -1. [vote, support] with everybody agreeing □ The board is solidly in favor of the offer. -2. [talk, walk] continuously and without stopping □ We worked solidly for six hours. -3. [built, based, researched] see solid □ a solidly-reasoned argument.
- soliloquy [səˈlɪləkwɪ] (pl soliloquies) n a speech in a play in which a character speaks their private thoughts aloud to the audience.
- solitaire [ˈsɒləteɪə] n -1. US a card game for one person. -2. a game for one person in which pegs or marbles are moved over each other on a board and removed. The aim is to be left with only one peg or marble at the end. -3. a single jewel, especially a diamond; a ring with this kind of jewel.
- solitary [US ˈsɒləteri, GB -təri] adj -1. [walk, life, occupation] that is done by one person □ Being a photographer is a very solitary occupation. -2. [person] who spends a lot of time alone, usually because they prefer it; [place, street] with no or few people in it □ a solitary, unsociable sort of man □ She walked through the solitary square. -3. a solitary person/thing the only person/thing in a particular place □ A solitary figure stood on the shore.
- solitary confinement n a kind of punishment in which a prisoner is kept locked up alone so that they cannot speak to other people.
- solitude [ˈsɒlətjuːd] n the state of being alone, especially when this is peaceful and enjoyable □ a need for solitude.
- solo [ˈsəʊləʊ] (pl solos) ◇ adj -1. MUSIC [passage, piece] that is performed alone without any other instruments or voices □ a solo performance □ music for solo violin. -2. [attempt, flight] that is done by one person alone □ a solo voyage around the world. ◇ adv -1. MUSIC [play, sing] I enjoy performing solo. -2. [fly, climb] He was the first person to sail solo across the Atlantic. ◇ n MUSIC a piece of music that is performed by a single instrument or singer □ a violin/guitar solo.
- soloist [ˈsəʊləvəst] n a person who performs a musical solo.
- Solomon [ˈsɒləmən] in the Bible, a king of Israel in the 10th century BC who was very wise.
- Solomon Islands: the Solomon Islands a group of islands in the southwest Pacific Ocean. The western islands are part of Papua New Guinea and the eastern islands are an independent state. SIZE: 30,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 300,000 (Solomon Islanders). CAPITAL: Honiara. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Solomon Islands dollar.
- solstice [ˈsɒlstɪs] n the longest or shortest day of the year, when the sun is farthest from the equator □ the summer/winter solstice.
- soluble [ˈsɒljəbl̩] adj -1. [substance] that can dissolve in water or in another liquid □ Are these aspirin soluble? -2. [problem, crime, mystery] that can be solved (formal use).
- solution [səˈluːʃn] n -1. [to a problem, crisis] a way of dealing with a difficult situation so that it is no longer a problem □ We are looking for a solution to our financial difficulties. -2. [to an equation, crime, mystery] an answer or explanation to something □ the solution to a crossword puzzle. -3. a liquid in which a solid or gas is dissolved □ a copper sulfate solution □ a solution of salt and water.
- solve [sɒlv] vt [crime, mystery] to find a solution to  □ Getting all worked up isn't going to solve anything.
- solvency [ˈsɒlvənsi] n FINANCE [of a person, company] see solvent.
- solvent [ˈsɒlvənt] ◇ adj FINANCE [company, organization] that has enough money to pay its debts □ Despite the recession we are still solvent. ◇ n a liquid that can dissolve other substances.
- solvent abuse n the activity of using glues, polishes etc as drugs by breathing in their fumes to experience feelings of pleasure and excitement (formal use).
- Solzhenitsyn [US ˌsɒlzəˈnɪtsən, GB ˌsɒl-], Alexander (1918–) a Russian writer whose books, such as The Gulag Archipelago, criticized Stalinist Russia.
- Som. abbr of Somerset.
- Somali [US souˈmɑːli, GB sə-] n & adj: see Somalia.
- Somalia [US souˈmɑːliə, GB sə-] a country in East Africa, on the Indian Ocean north of Kenya. SIZE: 638,000 sq kms (including Somaliland). POPULATION: 9,500,000 (Somalis). CAPITAL: Mogadishu. LANGUAGE: Somali. CURRENCY: Somali shilling.
- Somaliland [US souˈmɑːlɪlənd, GB sə-] -1. a region of northwestern Somalia that declared its independence as the Republic of Somaliland in 1991, but has not been officially recognized by other countries. -2. the old name for a region of East Africa that covers Somalia, Djibouti, and part of Ethiopia.
- somber US, sombre GB [ˈsɒmbə] adj -1. [person, mood, event] that seems sad and serious. -2. [color, room, clouds] that looks dark and dull.
- some [stressed sʌm, unstressed səm] ◇ adj -1. used to refer to an amount or number that is not stated exactly. ■ I have some milk used with uncountable nouns □ The leaflet has some information on things to do in the area. □ Would you like some coffee? ■ I have some flowers used with plural nouns □ There are some tomatoes in the fridge. □ We're having some problems with the fax machine. -2. some time/years a fairly large amount of time/number of years □ We've known each other for some months now. □ I had some difficulty getting in touch with him. -3. used to refer to a certain group of people or things □ Some people find it hard to cope with stress, while others enjoy it. -4. used with singular countable nouns to refer to a person or thing without being precise □ The first prize was won by some taxi-driver or other in London. □ At some point you'll need to take a break. □ There must be some mistake. -5. used to show that one thinks somebody or something is very good (informal use) □ He's some dancer! -6. used to show that one thinks somebody or something is not very good (informal use) □ Some party! ■ some help you are! you are not being very helpful!

◇ pron -1. used to refer to an amount that is not stated exactly □ "Coffee?" — "No thanks, I've just had some." □ Can I have some? □ Some of the money will be spent on improving the facilities. -2. used to refer to a number that is not stated exactly □ If there are any copies left, can I have some? □ Some of the guests left early. ■ some say... some people say... □ Some believe that Elvis is still alive.

◇ adv approximately □ some ten years ago.

somebody ['sʌmbədi] ◇ pron used to refer to a person when one does not know exactly who the person is, or when one does not want to be precise □ Somebody called when you were out. □ There was somebody standing outside the house. ■ somebody else another person □ I don't know, ask somebody else. ◇ n an important person □ He really thinks he's somebody.

someday ['sʌmdeɪ] adv at some time in the future that is still unknown or undecided □ I hope to see him again someday soon.

somehow ['sʌmhaʊ] adv -1. used to show that one does not know how something happens □ Somehow I slipped and hurt my foot. -2. somehow... for a reason that is not known □ Somehow, things don't seem the same.

someone ['sʌmwʌn] pron = somebody.

someplace ['sʌmpleɪs] adv US = somewhere.

somersault ['sʌmə'sɔ:lt] ◇ n to do a somersault to turn completely once by rolling forward or backward on the ground or in the air □ She did a backward somersault. ◇ vi to do one or more somersaults □ The car somersaulted down the slope.

Somerset ['sʌmə'set] a county in southwestern England. SIZE: 3,451 sq kms. POPULATION: 452,300. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Taunton.

something ['sʌmθɪŋ] ◇ pron -1. used to refer to a thing when one does not know exactly what it is, or when one does not want to be precise □ Excuse me, you've dropped something. □ Would you like something to eat? □ There's something not quite right here. ■ something else another thing □ Something else is worrying me. ■ or something used when one cannot remember a fact exactly, or to refer to another thing that is similar to what one has just mentioned □ She's a creative director or something. □ We could have spaghetti or something for lunch. -2. that's something a phrase used to say that something is good or useful in a small way □ "I've got $20." — "Well, that's something at least." □ There's something in what you say. -3. phrases that's really something! that's very impressive! ■ to be something of a poet/mathematician to be good as a poet/mathematician without being one professionally.

◇ adv something like OR something in the region of a hundred approximately a hundred □ There were something like fifty people there.

sometime ['sʌmtaɪm] ◇ adj used to refer to the job, position etc that somebody once had but that they no longer hold □ Herbert Smith, sometime professor of physics at Harvard. ◇ adv used to refer to a time in the future or in the past that one does not know □ I hope we'll meet again sometime. □ I'll see you sometime next week. □ sometime in 1945.

sometimes ['sʌmtaɪmz] adv on some occasions, but not always □ Sometimes we're very busy, whereas at other times it's quiet. □ We sometimes eat outside when it's warm enough. □ Sometimes I wish we'd never left England. □ Harry can be very obstinate sometimes.

someway ['sʌmweɪ] adv somehow.

somewhat ['sʌmwɒt] adv somewhat young/strange rather young/strange □ The quality of the wine is somewhat poorer than usual.

somewhere ['sʌmweə] adv -1. used to refer to a place that one does not know, or that one does not want to state exactly □ They live somewhere near here. □ I know my glasses are here somewhere. ■ somewhere else in or to another place □ Let's go somewhere else this year. □ If this hotel is full, we can always try somewhere else. -2. somewhere between five and ten between five and ten. ■ somewhere around OR in the region of a hundred approximately a hundred □ The cathedral was started somewhere around 1050. -3. phrase to be getting somewhere to be making progress □ At last we're getting somewhere.

son [sʌn] n somebody's male child □ This is my son. □ He has two sons and a daughter.

sonar ['sɔ:nɑ:] n an apparatus or system used on ships to measure sea depths or to find underwater objects by using sound waves.

sonata [sə'nɑ:tə] n a piece of classical music, usually in four parts, for piano or for piano and one other instrument.

song [sɒŋ] n -1. a short piece of music with words □ Sing us a song! □ a pop/folk/love song. ■ for a song [buy, sell, get] cheaply (informal use) □ We bought this old sofa for a song. ■ to make a song and dance about sthg to get too angry or excited about sthg (informal use) □ There's no need to make such a song and dance about it. -2. the act of singing □ They suddenly

- burst into song.* -3. the pleasant and musical sounds made by some kinds of bird.
- songbook ['sɒŋbʊk] n a book of songs.
- sonic ['sɒnɪk] adj [probe, test] using sound or sound waves.
- sonic boom n the loud noise like an explosion that is made by an airplane when it flies faster than the speed of sound.
- son-in-law (pl sons-in-law OR son-in-laws) n the husband of one's daughter.
- sonnet ['sɒnət] n a poem with 14 lines which contains a particular sequence of rhymes.
- sonny ['sʌni] n a word used to talk to a boy or young man who is much younger than one (old-fashioned use).
- soon [su:n] adv -1. used to refer to a time in the future that is near □ The ambulance will be here soon. □ He will soon realize his mistake. -2. early □ How soon can you finish it? □ I spoke too soon. ■ as soon as I find out immediately after I find out □ I'll let you know as soon as anything happens. □ As soon as she saw what had happened, she ran for the door. ■ as soon as possible at the earliest possible time □ She asked you to call back as soon as possible because it was urgent. -3. phrase I'd just as soon stay at home I would prefer to stay at home.
- sooner ['su:nə] adv -1. earlier □ They arrived sooner than I expected. ■ no sooner... than... a phrase used to say that one thing happened immediately after something else □ No sooner had I sat down than the phone rang. ■ sooner or later a phrase used to say that something is definitely going to happen in the future but one cannot be sure when □ She's sure to find out sooner or later. ■ the sooner the better a phrase used to say that it would be better for something to happen soon rather than later □ "When shall we leave?" — "Well, the sooner the better, really." -2. I would sooner... I would prefer to... □ "Do you want to come with us?" — "I'd sooner stay at home, if you don't mind."
- soot [sʊt] n the black powder produced by burning coal or wood.
- soothe [su:ð] vt -1. [pain, ache, muscles] to make <sth> less painful □ a cream to soothe sunburned skin. -2. [person, fear, worry] to calm <sb/sth> □ Poor Lillian was left trying to soothe everybody's feelings after her husband's outburst.
- soothing ['su:ðɪŋ] adj [ointment, cream, words] that soothes □ "There, there," said Fiona in a soothing voice.
- sooty ['sʊti] (compar sootier, superl sootiest) adj [face, window] that is covered with soot.
- sop [sɒp] n something small and of little value offered to somebody who is dissatisfied, to stop them complaining (disapproving use) □ They promised to tighten up safety procedures as a sop to their critics.
- sophisticated [sə'fɪstəkeɪtəd] adj -1. [person, dress, taste] that shows knowledge about what is stylish and fashionable □ a sophisticated young woman. -2. [reader, electorate, discussion] that is intelligent and well-informed, and shows an ability to understand complicated matters □ You must understand that you are dealing with an extremely sophisticated audience. -3. [machine, weapon, process] that is technologically advanced and complicated □ a sophisticated new missile launcher.
- sophistication [sə'fɪstə'keɪʃn] n [of taste, a reader, machine] see sophisticated.
- Sophocles ['sɒfəkli:z] (495–406 BC) a Greek writer whose best-known works are the tragedies Oedipus Rex and Antigone.
- sophomore ['sɒfəmə:ʔ] n US a student in their second year of a US college, university, or high school.
- soporific [ˌsɒpə'rifɪk] adj [drug, music] that makes one feel sleepy.
- sopping ['sɒpɪŋ] < > adj [coat, shoes] very wet. < > adv sopping wet very wet.
- soppy ['sɒpi] (compar soppier, superl soppiest) adj [person, book] that seems emotional and sentimental in a silly way (informal and disapproving use).
- soprano [US sə'prænəʊ, GB -'pra:n-] (pl sopranos) n a woman or girl whose voice can reach the highest notes that people can sing; the voice of such a singer.
- sorbet [US 'sɔ:rbət, GB 'sɔ:beɪ] n a cold sweet dish made from frozen fruit juice and sometimes egg white and sugar □ lemon sorbet.
- sorcerer ['sɔ:səʃə] n a magician who uses evil spirits to make things happen.
- sordid ['sɔ:dəd] adj -1. [desires, thoughts, behavior] that one finds selfish, dishonest, and immoral □ I don't want to know about your sordid affairs! -2. [room, town] that looks dirty and unpleasant □ some sordid little bar in Soho.
- sore [sɔ:ʔ] < > adj -1. [arm, feet] that feels painful because of a wound, infection, or too much use □ I was sore all over after the game. □ The patient was complaining of a sore throat and a temperature. ■ a sore point a subject that makes somebody feel angry or embarrassed whenever people mention it □ Don't ask them about the vacation — it's a sore point at the moment. -2. to be sore to be angry because somebody has treated one badly or unfairly (informal use) □ I hope you're not still sore at me? -3. to be in sore need of sth to need sth urgently □ Those shoes are in sore need of repairing. □ I was in sore need of a drink. < > n MEDICINE a painful place on the body where the skin is infected.
- sorely ['sɔ:ʔli] adv sorely needed/disappointed etc very much needed/very disappointed etc □ I was sorely tempted to hit him. □ Your presence at the dinner will be sorely missed.
- sorority [sə'rɒrətɪ] (pl sororities) n in the USA, a club for women students at a university, usually for students who live in the same building; see box at fraternity.
- sorrow ['sɒrəʊ] n a feeling of great sadness, e.g. because somebody has died or because one has done something that hurts other people; something that causes this feeling □ It is with great sorrow that I must tell you... □ a feeling of sorrow □ the sorrows of this life.

sorrowful ['sɒrəfl] adj [person, look] showing sorrow; [event, day, news] causing sorrow (literary use).

sorry ['sɒri] (compar sorrier, superl sorriest) ◇ adj -1. a word used to apologize for something one has said or done □ I'm sorry if I'm disturbing you. □ She'll probably forgive you if you say you're sorry. □ I'm sorry about the dent in your car. □ I'm sorry to bother you. □ I'm sorry (that) I got angry with you. □ He seemed truly sorry for what he had done. -2. a word used to show one's disappointment at something that has been said or done □ I was sorry to hear that Tom's leaving. □ I'm only sorry (that) you can't be there. -3. a word used to show one wishes something had not happened, or when giving bad news □ "Can I speak to Melinda?" — "I'm sorry, she's out of the office at present." □ I'm sorry (that) I ever agreed to help. □ I'm sorry to have to announce the death of Simon Pearson. -4. a word used to show sympathy or pity for somebody, especially when something bad has happened □ "My sister died yesterday." — "I'm so sorry." □ I'm really sorry that you've split up. □ You can't help feeling sorry for Joan. ■ to feel sorry for oneself to feel unhappy because one thinks that one has been badly treated (disapproving use) □ Stop sitting there feeling sorry for yourself and go and do something about it! -5. a word used to show polite disagreement or refusal □ I'm sorry, but I think that should be 1991. □ "Can you come out tonight?" — "I'm sorry, I can't." -6. to be in a sorry state to be in very bad condition □ My clothes were in a very sorry state by the time I got home.

◇ excl -1. a word used to apologize for something one has said or done □ Sorry! I didn't see you there. -2. a word used to ask somebody to say something again because one did not hear it the first time □ Sorry? I didn't catch what you said. -3. a word used to interrupt and correct oneself or somebody else □ He was a farmer, sorry, a farm worker. □ Sorry, can I say something here?

sort [sɔ:t] ◇ n -1. a kind, type, or group of things that have similar qualities □ There are two sorts of wine to choose from. □ What sort of car does she drive? □ I really dislike this sort of thing/these sorts of things/things of this sort. □ "What sort of cheese do they sell?" — "Oh, all sorts." □ It isn't the sort of place I'd take my wife to. □ They have a Mercedes, or a BMW, or something of the sort. ■ a sort of... of a kind that is unusual or difficult to describe □ They had put up a sort of tent in the garden. □ I had a sort of feeling that things would go wrong. -2. a person of a particular type □ She's a good/an odd sort. -3. the act of sorting mail, documents etc □ Have a good sort through that pile of clothes.
 ◇ vt [mail, clothes, information] to separate <sthg> into groups of different kinds □ The eggs are sorted into three different sizes.

◆ sorts npl -1. of sorts of a kind that is difficult to describe, but usually of poor quality □ He's a painter of sorts. □ "Do they have their own swimming pool?" — "Well, of sorts." -2. to be out of sorts to be feeling slightly ill; to be in a bad mood □ I've been feeling rather out of sorts lately.

◆ sort of adv a phrase used to describe something that is difficult to explain or describe precisely □ I found the exhibit sort of interesting. □ I sort of imagined him to be older. □ "Did you enjoy the concert?" — "Sort of." □ It was a sort of tall metal object.

◆ sort out vt sep -1. to sort sth out [mail, documents, clothes] to sort sth □ Go through the papers and sort out the old ones from the new ones. □ I really must sort these clothes out. -2. to sort sth out [room, ideas, papers] to examine, change, and arrange sth so that it is tidy or easier to deal with □ Auditors were called in to sort out the company's finances. -3. to sort sth out [arrangements, plan] to decide how one intends to deal with sth □ We still haven't sorted out what we're going to do about transport. -4. to sort sth out [problem, misunderstanding] to deal with sth in order to solve a difficulty □ We'd better sit down and sort these things out between us.

sortie ['sɔ:ti] n a short sudden attack by troops into enemy territory from a position of defense; a flight made to bomb an enemy camp, city etc.

sorting office ['sɔ:tiŋ] n a building where letters are sorted according to where they are going.

SOS (abbr of save our souls) n an international emergency signal; a call for help.

so-so (informal use) ◇ adj [food, vacation] that is good enough, but not as good as one had hoped. ◇ adv: "How's business?" — "So-so."

soufflé [US su:'fleɪ, GB 'su:fleɪ] n a light dish made of beaten egg whites mixed with cheese, fish etc, then baked and eaten hot.

sought [sɔ:t] past tense & past participle of seek.

sought-after adj [location, prize, antique] that a lot of people want because it is rare or very good □ the country's most sought-after painter □ Campion's become much sought-after since the movie won an Oscar.

soul [soul] n -1. [of a person] a person's true nature and character, thought of in religions as being separate from the body and continuing to live after the person has died □ a prayer for the souls of the dead. -2. [in a painting, song] the quality of beauty, honesty, and true emotional feeling □ It's a very interesting movie, but it's got no soul. -3. the soul of sth a perfect example of sth □ You can tell her, she's the soul of discretion. -4. a good/happy etc soul a good/happy etc person etc □ Some poor soul was swept out to sea in last night's storm. ■ not a soul nobody □ I haven't told a soul. □ There wasn't a soul in the house. -5. = soul music.

soul-destroying [-dɪstrɔɪŋ] adj [job, work] that is repetitive, boring, and depressing □ It must be so soul-destroying having to work in that factory day after day.

soul food n the traditional food eaten by black Americans in the southern USA.

soulful ['sɔʊflɪ] adj [look, song] full of deep feeling, especially sadness □ The dog looked at me with soulful eyes.

soulless ['sɔʊləs] adj without human feelings or qualities □ a soulless concrete building.

soul mate n a person that one shares the same feelings, ideas, and opinions with.

soul music n a type of popular music, often played by black Americans, that tries to express deep feelings.

soul-searching [-sɔ:ʔ[ɪŋ]] n careful examination of one's thoughts and feelings, especially when one has to decide something □ After much soul-searching, I decided to leave her.

sound [saʊnd] ◇ adj -1. [mind, body] in good condition and healthy □ My eyesight is perfectly sound. -2. [building, structure, walls] strong and in good condition □ The floor's quite sound, but the walls may need some work. -3. [investment, policy, argument] that is reliable and shows good judgment □ I think that's very sound advice.

◇ adv to be sound asleep to be sleeping deeply.

◇ n -1. a particular noise made by something □ The wire made a snapping sound when it broke. □ There was a sound of breaking glass. -2. vibrations in air or water that can be sensed by the ear or by special equipment □ the speed of sound. -3. [of a radio, TV] the loudness of the sounds produced by a radio, TV etc □ Would you mind turning the sound up a bit? -4. the sound of sthg the idea or impression one has of sthg, especially because of the way somebody has described it □ I don't like the sound of that.

◇ vt [alarm, bell] to make <sthg> produce a sound □ He sounded the horn as he rounded the bend.

◇ vi -1. [alarm, bell, horn] to produce a sound □ The alarm sounded. ■ to sound like sthg to make a sound that is exactly like the sound of sthg else □ It sounds like there's somebody at the door. □ It sounded just like our car. -2. to seem □ You sound upset. □ She sounded as if she was really upset. ■ to sound like sthg to seem like sthg, based on what somebody has said □ Your brother sounds like a lunatic.

◆ sound out vt sep to sound sb out to try to find out what sb thinks or is going to do by asking them questions □ I've tried to sound him out on OR about his plans, but he won't say anything.

sound barrier n the increase in the force resisting an aircraft as it passes the speed of sound.

soundbite ['saʊnbait] n a short phrase or comment usually spoken by a politician in order to make a strong impression quickly on TV or radio.

sound effects npl sounds produced artificially to make a play or movie seem more realistic.

sounding board n a person who one discusses one's opinions or ideas with in order to get an idea of how acceptable or popular these opinions or ideas are.

soundly ['saʊndli] adv -1. [beat, defeat] thoroughly and completely. -2. to sleep soundly to sleep well and deeply.

soundproof ['saʊndpru:f] adj [wall, room] that does not allow sound to pass in or out.

soundtrack ['saʊndtræk] n the recorded sound from a movie, especially the music.

sound wave n a wave of energy that carries sound through air or water.

soup [su:p] n food in the form of a liquid made by boiling meat, fish, or vegetables in water □ a bowl of soup.

◆ soup up vt sep to soup a car up to increase the size or power of the engine of a car to make it travel faster.

soup kitchen n a place where people who are homeless are given free food and drink.

soup plate n a plate with a rounded bottom used for serving soup in.

soup spoon n a large rounded spoon used for eating soup.

sour ['sauə] ◇ adj -1. [fruit, sauce] that has a sharp, bitter taste □ I found the dressing a little sour. -2. [milk, wine] that has an unpleasant taste because it is no longer fresh □ The milk's sour. ■ to go OR turn sour [milk, cream] to start to have an unpleasant taste and smell; [relationship] to gradually become unpleasant □ Things between Andy and Grace had already begun to go sour. -3. [person, look, reply] bad-tempered and unfriendly □ He's a sour-faced old man!

◇ vt [person, relationship] to make <sb/sthg> sour □ That unfortunate evening rather soured my friendship with Paul.

◇ vi [person, relationship] to become sour □ After several years, their marriage began to sour.

source [sɔ:ʔs] ◇ n -1. [of minerals, wealth, information] the place, person, or thing from which something comes □ I find the Financial Times an invaluable source of information. □ source material □ As a journalist, I am not at liberty to disclose my source. -2. [of a problem, discontent] a cause of something □ First, we need to identify the source of the disturbance. -3. [of a river] the place where a river or stream begins □ the source of the Nile. ◇ vt BUSINESS to get  supplied by another manufacturer □ Our new line is being sourced from abroad.

sour cream n cream that is made sour by the addition of bacteria, used in cooking.

sour grapes n the attitude of pretending one does not want something simply because one cannot have it (disapproving use) □ That's just sour grapes because you didn't win.

Sousa ['su:zə], J. P. (1854–1932) a US composer who wrote military marches.

south [sauθ] ◇ adj -1. the south side/coast etc the side/coast etc in or facing the south □ Adelaide is on the south coast. -2. a south wind a wind that comes from the south. ◇ adv [travel, fly] toward the south □ Santa Fe is south of Los Alamos. □ The garden faces south. ◇ n the direction which is on a person's right when they are facing the place where the sun rises in the morning.

♦ South n -1. the South in the USA, the states in the southeast that have a history of slavery and fought against the North in the American Civil War. -2. the South in Britain, the southern counties of England. -3. the South the poorer countries in southern parts of the world, e.g. Africa, South America, and South Asia.

South Africa a country at the southern tip of Africa, with ports on the Atlantic and the Indian Oceans. SIZE: 1,221,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 40,600,000 (South Africans). CAPITAL: Cape Town. ADMINISTRATIVE CAPITAL: Pretoria. LANGUAGE: English, Afrikaans, Xhosa, Zulu, Sesotho. CURRENCY: rand.

South African n & adj: see South Africa.

South America the southern part of the Americas, a continent between the southern Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

South American n & adj: see South America.

Southampton [səʊθ'hæmptən] a city and major port in southern England. POPULATION: 194,400.

South Australia a state in central southern Australia. SIZE: 984,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,400,656. CAPITAL: Adelaide.

South Bank: the South Bank (Centre) a cultural center on the south bank of the Thames River in London.

southbound ['səʊθbaʊnd] adj [traffic, shipping, lane] that is traveling or leading toward the south.

South Carolina [-kærə'laɪnə] a state in the southeastern USA. ABBREVIATION: SC. SIZE: 78,282 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,486,703 (South Carolinians). CAPITAL: Columbia.

South Dakota a state in the central USA. ABBREVIATION: SD. SIZE: 196,723 sq kms. POPULATION: 696,004 (South Dakotans). CAPITAL: Pierre.

southeast [ˌsəʊθ'i:st] adj -1. the southeast side/coast etc the side/coast etc in or facing the southeast. -2. a southeast wind a wind that comes from the southeast. adj [face, travel, fly] toward the southeast □ It lies 25 kms southeast of the capital. n -1. the direction exactly halfway between south and east. -2. the southeast the southeastern part of a country or region.

Southeast Asia a region of southeastern Asia between India and China, including Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam.

southeasterly [ˌsəʊθ'i:stə'lɪ] adj -1. [direction, region] toward or in the southeast. -2. a southeasterly wind a wind that comes from the southeast.

southeastern [ˌsəʊθ'i:stə'n] adj that is in or comes from the southeast of a country or region.

southerly ['sʌðə'lɪ] adj -1. [direction, region] toward or in the south. -2. a southerly wind a wind that comes from the south.

southern ['sʌðə'n] adj [accent, town] that is in or comes from the south of a country or region.

Southern Baptist n a member of a Baptist church that follows the teachings in the Bible very closely.

Southern Cross n a group of stars that can be easily seen in the Southern Hemisphere: It appears on the national flag of Australia.

Southerner ['sʌðə'nə] n a person who lives in or comes from the southern part of a country or region.

Southern Hemisphere n the Southern Hemisphere the part of the Earth that is south of the Equator.

Southern States: the Southern States the states in the southeastern USA that fought against the North in the American Civil War.

South Island the further south of the two islands of New Zealand. SIZE: 153,947 sq kms. POPULATION: 850,500. MAIN CITIES: Christchurch, Dunedin.

South Korea a republic in the southern part of the Korean Peninsula. SIZE: 99,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 44,600,000 (South Koreans). CAPITAL: Seoul. LANGUAGE: Korean. CURRENCY: won.

South Pole n the South Pole the most southern point on the surface of the Earth and the land surrounding it.

South Sea Islands = Oceania.

South Seas: the South Seas the seas in the Southern Hemisphere, especially the southern Pacific Ocean.

South Wales the southern part of Wales that used to be an important industrial and coalmining area.

southward ['səʊθwə'd] adj that is moving or facing toward the south. adv toward the south.

southwards ['səʊθwə'dz] adv [face, travel, fly] toward the south.

southwest [ˌsəʊθ'west] adj -1. the southwest side/coast etc the side/coast etc in or facing the southwest. -2. a southwest wind a wind that comes from the southwest. adv [face, travel, fly] toward the southwest □ The village is situated 30 kms southwest of the capital. n -1. the direction exactly halfway between south and west. -2. the southwest the southwestern part of a country or region.

southwesterly [ˌsəʊθ'westə'lɪ] adj -1. [direction, region] that goes toward or is in the southwest. -2. a southwesterly wind a wind that comes from the southwest.

southwestern [ˌsəʊθ'westə'n] adj that is in or comes from the southwest of a country or area.

South Yemen → Yemen.

souvenir [ˌsu:və'nɪə] n something which one buys or keeps to remind one of a vacation, event etc □ Keep it as a souvenir of your visit.

sou'wester [səu'westə] n a shiny waterproof hat with a wide brim to keep the rain off one's head and neck.

sovereign ['sɒvrən] adj -1. [state, territory] that is independent and has its own government. -2. a sovereign remedy an excellent remedy (literary use). adj -1. a king or queen; a ruler of a country or territory. -2. a gold coin that was once used in Britain and had the value of £1.

sovereignty ['sɒvrənɪ] n complete power and authority to govern □ Many British fear that a single European currency will mean a loss of national sovereignty.

soviet ['sɒviət] n an elected local or national council in the former Soviet Union.

◆ Soviet adj that is connected with or comes from the USSR. n a person who lives in or comes from the USSR.

Soviet Union = USSR.

sow¹ [sau] (pt sowed, pp sown OR sowed) vt -1. to plant or scatter <seeds> in the ground so that they can grow □ The seeds should be sown thinly. -2. to cause <sthg unpleasant> to begin □ His words sowed (the seeds of) doubt in my mind.

sow² [sau] n an adult female pig.

sown [saʊn] past participle of sow.

sox [sɒks] US plural of sock.

soya ['soɪə] n soybeans □ soya milk/flour.

soybean ['soʊbi:n] US, soya bean GB n a type of bean grown in Asia, used as food or as a source of oil.

soy sauce [sɔɪ-] n a dark brown liquid made from soybeans, used especially in Japanese and Chinese cooking.

spa [spɑ:] n a place where mineral water comes out of the ground and where people come to drink or bathe in the water, believing that it will improve their health.

space [speɪs] adj n -1. an empty area that can be used for a particular purpose □ living space □ There isn't enough space in here. □ How much space do you have left in the car? □ I don't have the space for another bed in here. □ We'll have to make a space for the new computer. -2. the area beyond the Earth's atmosphere □ the first man in space □ space travel □ a space rocket. ■ to stare into space to look straight ahead in a steady and fixed way at nothing in particular □ Martin just sat there staring into space. -3. PRINTING an area left blank between written or printed words, lines etc □ Leave a space after a comma. -4. [of time] a period of time □ in a very short space of time □ Within the space of a year I had seen him change from a healthy young man to an invalid.

adj vt to arrange <things> so that they are separated by spaces or periods of time □ The posts were spaced at ten-meter intervals.

◆ space out vt sep to space things out to space things.

space age n the space age the present period of history in which travel in space has become possible.

◆ space-age adj [design, technology] that seems very modern (informal use).

space bar n a long key at the bottom of a typewriter keyboard used for putting spaces between letters, words etc.

space capsule n the part of a spacecraft in which humans travel and in which they return to Earth.

spacecraft [US 'speɪskrɑːft, GB -krɑːft] (pl spacecraft) n a vehicle that can travel in space.

space heater n a heater that can be carried easily from one room to another.

space probe n a small spacecraft with no people in it that is used to send information back to Earth about space and other planets.

spaceship ['speɪsʃɪp] n = spacecraft.

space shuttle n a spacecraft designed to make several journeys between the Earth and a space station.

space station n a spacecraft that stays in space above the Earth, so that it can be used as a base for experiments or expeditions.

spacesuit ['speɪsuːt] n a special protective suit that covers the whole body and is worn by an astronaut.

spacing ['speɪsɪŋ] n PRINTING the way that words, lines etc on a printed page have been spaced.

spacious ['speɪʃəs] adj [room, car] that is large and has a lot of space in it that can be used.

SpackleTM ['spækəl] n US a substance used for filling holes or cracks in walls.

spade [speɪd] n a tool with a long handle and a sharp metal blade that is used for digging the ground.

◆ spades n one of the four suits in a pack of playing cards that carries a symbol (♠) that looks like a black pointed leaf.

spadework ['speɪdwɜːk] n hard uninteresting work that has to be done before something else can happen (informal use).

spaghetti [spə'ɡetɪ] n a type of pasta made in long thin pieces like string, usually served with a sauce □ spaghetti bolognese.

Spain [speɪn] a country in southwestern Europe, with ports on the Mediterranean and the Atlantic Ocean. SIZE: 505,000 sq kms (including the Canary and Balearic Islands). POPULATION: 39,000,000 (Spaniards, Spanish). CAPITAL: Madrid. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: peseta.

span [spæn] (pt & pp spanned, cont spanning) adj past tense of spin. n -1. the period of time that something lasts □ an attention span of about ten minutes. -2. a range □ a whole span of activities. -3. [of hands, arms, wings] the distance between two points, especially when something is stretched as far as possible □ Condors have a wing span of up to three meters. -4. [of a bridge, arch] the distance between the supports of a bridge or arch. adj -1. to last throughout  □ Her career spans two decades. -2. [bridge] to stretch from one side to the other of  etc □ The bridge spans the Hudson River.

spandex ['spændeks] n a stretchy material

- used to make clothes that fit tightly, e.g. bathing suits and leotards.
- spangled ['spæŋɡld] adj that is covered with small shiny objects □ a shirt spangled with sequins.
- Spaniard ['spænjə'd] n a person who comes from or lives in Spain.
- spaniel ['spænjəl] n a dog with short legs, long ears, and long smooth hair.
- Spanish ['spæniʃ] ◇ adj: see Spain. ◇ n a language spoken in Spain and many Latin American countries. ◇ npl the Spanish people who come from or live in Spain □ Spanish resorts.
- Spanish America -1. the Latin American and Caribbean countries where Spanish is spoken. -2. the parts of the USA that used to be Spanish colonies.
- Spanish-American ◇ n -1. a person who comes from or lives in Spanish America. -2. a Spanish-speaking person who comes from or lives in the USA. ◇ adj: Spanish-American culture.
- Spanish-American War n the Spanish-American War a conflict between Spain and the USA in 1898 that ended Spanish rule in the Americas.
- spank [spæŋk] ◇ vt [child] to hit <sb> on the bottom several times with the open hand. ◇ n: If you don't behave, you'll get a spank!
- spanner ['spænə] n GB a metal tool with a specially shaped hole at one end that is used for tightening nuts.
- spar [spa:] (pt & pp sparred, cont sparring) vi -1. SPORT to box without hitting one's opponent hard in order to practice or because one wants to test their reactions. -2. to argue in a lively but not aggressive way □ The two of them always enjoyed sparring together.
- spare [speə] ◇ adj -1. [pencil, pair of pants] that is not being used but that is kept in case it is needed □ Did you bring a spare pair of shoes? -2. [table, chair, ticket] free or able to be used □ Do you have any spare change? □ I've got a spare ticket for tomorrow's concert. ◇ n -1. AUTO = spare wheel (informal use). -2. = spare part (informal use). -3. an extra object of the same kind as another that is kept in case it is needed □ The battery has run out, do you have a spare? ◇ vt -1. [time, money, staff] to make <sb/sthg> available for a particular purpose □ I can't spare you before 6pm, I'm afraid. □ I'll certainly come, if I can spare the time. -2. [person, city] not to harm or punish <sb/sthg> □ The village was spared in the great storm. -3. to spare no effort to make as much effort as possible □ No effort was spared to ensure its success. ■ to spare no expense to spend as much money as is necessary to do something well □ No expense was spared in the preparations for their wedding. -4. to spare sb sthg to stop sb from having an unpleasant experience □ We wanted to spare him the embarrassment, but he wouldn't listen.
- ◆ to spare adj free or available □ We had an hour to spare before the bus left. □ I caught the plane with ten minutes to spare.
- spare part n a new part that can be bought to replace a damaged part on a vehicle, machine etc.
- spare room n a bedroom in a private house that is kept for guests to sleep in.
- spare time n the time that one does not spend working and that can be used for pleasure □ What do you do in your spare time?
- spare tire n -1. AUTO an extra wheel kept in a vehicle as a replacement in case one of the other wheels is damaged. -2. an area of fat around the waist (humorous use).
- spare wheel n an extra wheel kept in the trunk of a vehicle as a replacement in case one of the other wheels is damaged.
- sparing ['speəriŋ] adj to be sparing with OR of sthg to give or use as little as possible of sthg □ Try to be a little sparing with the sugar.
- sparingly ['speəriŋli] adv [use, spend] see sparing.
- spark [spa:k] ◇ n -1. a small piece of burning material that flies out of a fire □ Sparks flew from the roaring log fire. -2. a flash of light caused by electricity moving between two points □ You could see sparks coming off the tram line. -3. a very small but noticeable amount of understanding, interest, humor etc that somebody shows □ There wasn't even a spark of interest in the idea. ◇ vt [debate, scandal, interest] to cause <sthg> to start or happen very quickly □ The move sparked off serious riots in the capital.
- sparkle ['spa:kəl] ◇ vi -1. [jewel, stars, eyes] to shine with many small bright flashes of light □ The diamonds sparkled in the light. -2. [person, conversation] to be amusing, clever, and lively □ Jan was on very good form last night — she was positively sparkling. ◇ n: the sparkle of frost.
- sparkler ['spa:klə] n a long thin firework that one holds in one's hand and that gives off tiny sparks of fire as it burns.
- sparkling wine ['spa:kliŋ] n wine that is slightly bubbly.
- spark plug n a part in the engine of a vehicle that produces electric sparks to light the gasoline.
- sparrow [US 'sperou, GB 'spær-] n a small brown or gray bird that is found in many parts of the world.
- sparse [spa:s] adj [population, rainfall] that is small in quantity and spread over a large area □ Job opportunities have been rather sparse recently.
- Spartacus ['spa:təkəs] (1st century BC) a slave leader who led an important slave revolt against the Roman Empire.
- spartan ['spa:tn] adj [room, lifestyle] that seems simple and has no luxuries.
- spasm ['spæzm] n -1. MEDICINE a sudden uncontrollable tightening of the muscles, often causing a sharp pain. -2. a spasm of fear/coughing/anger etc a sudden, short, and violent attack of fear/coughing/anger etc.

spasmodic [spæz'mɒdɪk] adj that happens suddenly for short periods of time at irregular intervals.

spastic ['spæstɪk] (old-fashioned use) adj [person] who suffers from a disease that prevents them from controlling the movement of some of their muscles. n a spastic person.

spat [spæt] past tense & past participle of spit.

spate [speɪt] n a spate of sthg a large number of occurrences of sthg that happen in a short period of time □ There has been a spate of attacks on old people. □ We had a whole spate of letters on the subject.

spatial ['speɪʃl] adj [awareness, relationship] that is concerned with the space between things (formal use).

spatter ['spætə] vt [water, mud] to make small drops of  fall on a particular surface □ I've managed to spatter my shirt with tomato sauce. □ vi: The paint spattered all over the carpet.

spatula ['spætʃələ] n -1. COOKING a tool with a short handle and a wide blade used in the kitchen for spreading, mixing etc soft foods. -2. MEDICINE a flat wooden instrument used by doctors to flatten the tongue when examining a patient's throat.

spawn [spɔ:n] vt n ZOOLOGY the eggs of frogs, fish etc produced in large numbers together in a substance like jelly. vt to cause <sthg> to happen or exist, especially in large numbers □ The protest spawned dozens of other demonstrations all over the country. □ vi ZOOLOGY to lay eggs.

spay [speɪ] vt to remove part of the sexual organs of  etc so that they cannot become pregnant.

SPCA (abbr of Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) n the SPCA a US charity that aims to protect animals from being badly treated.

SPCC (abbr of Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children) n the SPCC a US organization that aims to protect the rights of children who are being badly treated.

speak [spi:k] (vt spoke, pp spoken) vt -1. [word, truth] to say <sthg> using one's voice □ He didn't speak a word all evening. ■ to speak ill of sb to say unkind things about sb. -2. to know  and be able to use it □ She speaks fluent German. □ How many languages do you speak? □ We always spoke French at home.

vt -1. to say words using one's voice □ She speaks with an American accent. □ I was speaking to OR with Bob only last night! □ I need to speak to you about a little idea I've had. □ We haven't spoken about her in ages. ■ to speak well OR highly of sb to say nice things about sb □ Karen speaks very highly of your talents as a teacher. ■ nobody/nothing to speak of nobody/nothing that is very important □ "What were you doing in Chicago?" — "Oh, nothing to speak of." □ "Did anyone else come to the party?" — "No one to speak of." -2. to make a speech □ He came to speak to the Young

Conservatives/to speak on the novels of Jane Austen. □ She spoke on the problems of inequality. -3. generally/personally/politically speaking a phrase used to introduce information which is general/is based on one's own private opinion/is concerned with politics □ Generally speaking, the French are much better dressed than the English. □ Strictly speaking, you shouldn't be here. □ There were, roughly speaking, around 400 people there. ■ speaking as a phrase used to introduce information which is based on one's experience in a particular position □ Speaking as a homeowner/parent, I think it's shocking and something should be done. □ Speaking as someone who knows Janice well, I'd say there's something wrong. ■ speaking of a phrase used to change the subject of a conversation to something that has just been mentioned □ Speaking of computers, have you seen my new portable?

◆ so to speak adv a phrase used to show that one is not speaking literally □ It was putting the cart before the horse, so to speak.

◆ speak for vt fus to speak for sb to say what the opinions, feelings, beliefs etc of sb are □ I think I speak for all my colleagues when I say that it's a bad idea. □ I can't speak for everyone, but personally I think it's a good idea. ■ it speaks for itself it is very clear and does not need to be explained or discussed further □ Well, I think the book speaks for itself and hardly needs any introduction to it. ■ speak for yourself! a phrase used to show that one does not agree with something that has just been said □ "We're not hungry." — "Speak for yourself! I'm starving!"

◆ speak out vi to speak publicly in defense of or against something □ Mr Rosh spoke out bravely against injustice.

◆ speak up vi -1. to say what one thinks clearly and openly □ Few people had the courage to speak up. ■ to speak up for sb/sthg to speak in support of sb/sthg □ Will nobody speak up for my plan? -2. to speak more loudly □ What did you say? You'll have to speak up.

speaker ['spi:kə] n -1. a person who is speaking □ When a speaker changes intonation... -2. a person who makes a speech or gives a lecture □ Our speaker for today, Professor Lubitsch. -3. a person who knows how to speak a particular language □ an Italian/a Japanese speaker. -4. the part of a stereo or radio which sound comes out of □ This radio has a very small speaker.

◆ Speaker n the Speaker the person in charge of debates in the House of Commons in Britain.

Speaker of the House n the Speaker of the House the person in charge of debates in the House of Commons in Canada and the House of Representatives in the USA and Australia.

Speaker's Corner a corner of Hyde Park, in central London, where anyone can go to make speeches.

speaking ['spi:kɪŋ] n the activity of speaking or making a speech □ public speaking.

speaking clock n GB a telephone service that gives the exact time.

spear [spiə] ◇ n a weapon consisting of a long pole with a sharp metal point at one end. ◇ vt to pierce <an animal, piece of meat> etc with a sharp object such as a spear.

spearhead ['spiə'hed] ◇ n a person or group that leads an activity, campaign etc with energy and force. ◇ vt [campaign, attack] to lead <sthg> with energy and force □ CST spearheaded the autumn campaign.

special ['speʃl] ◇ adj -1. [occasion, event, effort] not ordinary □ Today is a very special day. □ I keep these plates for special occasions. -2. [problem, permission] that is of a particular kind and is different from other things □ You'll need special permission to go in there alone. -3. better or more important than others □ This house is very special to me.

◇ n -1. a special train service that is kept for a particular purpose. -2. [on a menu] a meal or dish available only for a limited period of time and often sold at a reduced price □ What's the special today? -3. [on TV] a program made for a particular purpose □ an election special.

special agent n an agent working for the police, FBI etc who has special responsibilities.

special constable n GB a volunteer who does police duties for a few hours a week.

special correspondent n a reporter who is sent to cover a particular piece of news, incident etc.

special delivery n a service by which one can have mail delivered outside usual delivery times.

special education n US teaching given to people with physical or mental disabilities who need special help with learning □ a special education class.

special effects npl images in movies, e.g. ghosts and explosions, that are not real but are created by the use of special techniques.

specialist ['speʃlɪst] ◇ adj [knowledge, vocabulary] that is not common but that is used in a particular subject, field of study etc □ for people with no specialist knowledge of the field. ◇ n a person who has particular skills or who knows a lot about a particular subject, field of study etc □ a specialist in Renaissance art.

speciality n GB = specialty.

specialize, -ise ['speʃəlaɪz] vi to concentrate on a particular area of study, work etc □ He's now specializing in Russian art. □ I'd advise you not to specialize too soon in your career.

specially ['speʃlɪ] adv -1. a word used to emphasize that something has been done for a particular person or purpose □ I bought it specially for you. -2. a word used to emphasize that something has more of a particular quality than usual □ The ending was specially good.

special needs npl GB problems due to physical or mental disabilities □ children with special needs □ a special needs teacher.

special offer n something that is being sold at a reduced price for a short period of time □ They've got cheese on special offer.

special school n a school for children with physical or mental disabilities who need special help with learning.

specialty ['speʃltɪ] US, speciality [ˌspeʃɪ'ælətɪ] GB (US pl specialties, GB pl specialities) n -1. a special field of knowledge or work □ My specialty is ancient Greek civilization. -2. a service or product which is typical of a particular person, region etc □ The specialty of this region is mussels with white wine.

species ['spi:ʃi:z] (pl species) n a particular group of plants or animals in which all the members share the same main characteristics □ a species of plant □ the human species.

specific [spə'sɪfɪk] adj -1. a word used to identify one particular time, amount, point etc rather than another □ Yes, but that's not related to this specific issue. -2. [term, explanation, description] that is precise and detailed □ She was quite specific about it. □ Could you be a little more specific?

◆ specifics npl details □ We don't need to talk about specifics at this stage.

specifically [spə'sɪfɪkəlɪ] adv -1. [tell, say] exactly and clearly □ I specifically asked you not to be late. -2. [write, refer to, design] a word used to emphasize that something is done for a particular person or purpose □ We cater specifically for the unemployed. -3. a word used to introduce extra information □ Their head office is in the States, or more specifically, Chicago.

specification [ˌspesəfɪ'keɪʃn] n -1. a particular requirement, especially about the way something is made or done □ The only specification was that applicants should be over 25. -2. = specifications □ The top-of-the-range model is built to a high specification.

◆ specifications npl TECHNOLOGY detailed technical plans or instructions □ The structure has been built according to the manufacturer's specifications.

specify ['spesəfaɪ] (pt & pp specified) vt to state <sthg> exactly and precisely □ He specified that we should arrive before midnight. □ Do we need to specify any particular date?

specimen ['spesəməŋ] n -1. an example of a particular type of thing □ This is a very interesting specimen of late Baroque architecture. -2. [work] a small amount of something that is used to show what the whole thing is like; [of blood, urine] a small amount of something that is used to find out if somebody is ill, has been drinking alcohol etc □ This is a small specimen of Rodriguez's work. □ We will need to take a specimen of your blood.

specimen copy n a copy of something designed to show what it should be like □ Have a look at the specimen copy attached before filling out the form.

specimen signature n a copy of a person's signature kept, for example, by a bank so that they can check the signature that appears on that person's checks.

speck [spek] n -1. [of dirt, ink] a very small mark on a surface. -2. [of dust, soot] a very small piece of something.

speckled ['speklɪd] adj that is covered with small spots or marks of a different color □ a speckled egg □ His hair was speckled with silver.

specs [speks] npl = spectacles (informal use).

spectacle ['spektækəl] n -1. something that somebody sees that is unusual, interesting, or pitiful □ the strange spectacle of two policemen walking down the street carrying a piano. ■ to make a spectacle of oneself to behave in a way that attracts other people's attention and makes one look silly □ He made rather a spectacle of himself when he was drunk. -2. an impressive public event or show □ The firework display was a fantastic spectacle.

◆ spectacles npl GB [for one's eyes] glasses.

spectacular [spek'tækjələʃ] ◇ adj [event, sight, success] that seems very impressive □ He's made a spectacular recovery. ◇ n a big and impressive show with a lot of performers □ a television spectacular.

spectate [spek'teɪt] vi to be a spectator.

spectator [spek'teɪtəʃ] n a person who watches something such as a sport for pleasure.

spectator sport n a sport that people watch as a form of entertainment.

specter US, spectre GB ['spektəʃ] n -1. the specter of sth the possibility that sth unpleasant or frightening may happen □ The specter of international terrorism is looming again. -2. a ghost (formal use).

spectrum ['spektrəm] (pl spectra [-trə]) n -1. PHYSICS the band of colors produced by white light passing through a prism. -2. [of opinions, emotions, skills] a range of different sorts of a particular thing □ Our speakers tonight come from opposite ends of the political spectrum. □ The festival takes in musicians from right across the spectrum of modern music.

speculate ['spekjəleɪt] ◇ vt to speculate that... to guess without being sure that something is true □ The press is speculating that he may resign before Christmas. ◇ vi -1. to wonder about something without knowing for certain if what one thinks is true □ I don't want to speculate on his future. -2. FINANCE to buy things, e.g. houses or stock, in order to sell them at a profit □ He speculates in property.

speculation [,spekjə'leɪʃn] n -1. the act of wondering about something without knowing for certain if what one thinks is true □ The media is rife with speculation about the divorce. -2. FINANCE the activity of speculating.

speculative ['spekjələtɪv] adj -1. [story, idea] that is based on speculation and not on fact. -2. FINANCE [deal, investment] that is connected with speculation.

speculator ['spekjələɪtəʃ] n FINANCE a person who speculates to make money.

sped [sped] past tense & past participle of speed.

speech [spi:tʃ] n -1. the ability to speak; the act of speaking □ He appeared to have lost the power of speech. □ a study of human speech.

-2. [at an event] a formal talk to a group of people □ She gave OR made a speech on the company's future prospects. -3. THEATER a series of lines spoken by a character in a play □ I got bored during that long speech near the end. -4. [of a particular person] the way that somebody speaks □ His speech was slurred.

speech day n GB an annual event at a school when parents come, prizes are given to students, and speeches are made.

speech impediment n a nervous or physical disability that prevents somebody from speaking clearly, e.g. by making them stutter □ She has a serious speech impediment.

speechless ['spi:tʃləs] adj to be speechless to be so shocked, surprised etc that one cannot think of anything to say □ I was speechless with anger.

speech recognition n COMPUTING the ability of a computer to understand spoken words.

speech therapist n a person who is trained to give speech therapy.

speech therapy n treatment for people who have problems in speaking.

speed [spi:d] (pt & pp sped OR speeded) ◇ n -1. [of light, sound, a vehicle] the rate at which something happens or moves □ My typing speed is very slow. □ The car was traveling at a speed of 80 mph. □ I was astonished at the speed of events. -2. [of an athlete] very fast movement □ I lost speed near the end of the race. -3. AUTO a gear □ a five-speed bike. -4. PHOTOGRAPHY the rate at which light passes through a lens to form an image on a piece of film.

◇ vi -1. [person, vehicle] to move somewhere very quickly □ The car sped by/away. □ He was speeding along on his bike. -2. AUTO to be speeding to be driving a vehicle faster than one is legally allowed to.

◆ speed up ◇ vt sep to speed sb/sth up to make sb/sth move faster □ How can we speed up the process? ◇ vi: Can you get them to speed up?

speedboat ['spi:dbəʊt] n a boat with a powerful engine that can travel very fast.

speed bump n a raised strip across a road, designed to slow traffic down.

speeding ['spi:ɪdɪŋ] n the illegal act of traveling faster than the speed limit □ a speeding fine.

speed limit n the fastest speed at which one is allowed to travel on a particular road □ It is illegal to exceed the speed limit.

speedometer [spi'dɒmətəʃ] n an instrument in a car, on a bike etc that shows how fast it is traveling.

speed trap n a place on a road where police wait in order to catch vehicles that are traveling faster than the speed limit.

speedway ['spi:ɪdweɪ] n -1. SPORT the sport of racing motorcycles on a special track. -2. US a racetrack for cars and motorcycles.

speedy ['spi:ɪdi] (compar speedier, superl speediest) adj [action, reply] that takes place or is done very quickly □ Josey made a speedy recovery after her illness.

speleology [ˌspi:lɪ'blədʒɪ] n (formal use) -1. the study of caves. -2. the sport or hobby of exploring caves.

spell [spel] (US vt & pp spelled, GB vt & pp spelt OR spelled) ◇ n -1. [of time] a short period of time □ After a spell as a teacher, I became a social worker. □ Tomorrow there will be showers and sunny spells. -2. [in magic] a set of words that are supposed to have magic power when spoken; the effect of these words on somebody □ She put a spell on him. □ The spell was starting to wear off.

◇ vt -1. [person] to speak or write the letters that make up  in the correct order □ How do you spell that, please? □ That's Claire, spelled with an "i". -2. [change, event] to make <trouble, disaster> etc seem likely or certain □ The latest news on the take-over spells doom for employees of Roscon.

◇ vi [person] For this job it's important to be able to spell.

◆ spell out vt sep -1. to spell sthg out [word, name] to spell sthg carefully □ I'll spell that out for you. -2. to spell sthg out for OR to sb to explain sthg very clearly to sb □ Do I have to spell it out to you? It's over between us.

spellbound ['spelbaʊnd] adj to be spellbound to be listening to or watching something that is so interesting that one cannot stop □ We watched, spellbound, as the balloon rose slowly into the sky.

spelling ['speliŋ] n -1. the order in which letters appear in a word □ Is that the correct spelling of his name? -2. the ability to spell words correctly □ Her spelling is atrocious.

spelt [spelt] GB past tense & past participle of spell.

spend [spend] (vt & pp spent) vt -1. to use <an amount of money> to pay for something □ I spend half my salary on rent and bills. □ She spends an absolute fortune on her poodle. □ I brought $300 and spent the lot! -2. [life, day] to pass  □ I've spent all morning trying to contact him. □ I have decided that I need to spend more time at home. □ We spent our vacation in Bangkok.

spender ['spendə] n a big spender a person who spends a lot of money.

spending ['spendiŋ] n the amount of money spent by a person, group etc □ government/public spending □ I need to cut down on my spending.

spending money n money that one can use to spend on things that one enjoys □ We gave him $50 spending money for his school trip.

spending power n the amount of money that a person or group of people can use to buy things □ Don't underestimate the spending power of the older generation.

spendthrift ['spendθrɪft] n a person who spends their money in a careless way (disapproving use).

spent [spent] ◇ past tense & past participle of spend. ◇ adj [fuel, ammunition, energy] that has been used completely so that there is no more left to use □ a spent firework.

sperm [spɜ:m] (pl sperm OR sperms) n a cell produced in the sex organs of a male animal or a man that can fertilize the egg of a female animal or a woman; the liquid produced by the male sex organs that contains these cells.

spermicide ['spɜ:məsəɪd] n a substance that kills sperm, used during sex to stop a woman from becoming pregnant.

sperm whale n a large whale that is hunted for the large amount of oil stored in its head.

spew [spju:] ◇ vt [flames, lava] to pour out a lot of <sthg>. ◇ vi: Oil spewed (out) from the hole.

SPF (abbr of sun protection factor) n a number on a bottle of suntan lotion that tells one how much protection the lotion gives against sunburn.

sphere [sfɪə] n -1. a round object such as a ball. -2. an area in which a person or organization is interested or involved □ America's sphere of influence.

spherical [US 'sfɪərɪkəl, GB 'sfer-] adj [shape, object] that is shaped like a ball.

sphincter ['sfɪŋktə] n a ring of muscle surrounding a passage in one's body that can be tightened and closed □ the anal sphincter.

sphinx [sfɪŋks] (pl sphinxes) n in Egyptian mythology, a creature with a woman's head and a lion's body; a stone statue of this.

spice [spaɪs] ◇ n -1. COOKING any of the various seeds or powders, e.g. pepper, used to flavor food □ Add a few spices to make it taste more interesting. -2. excitement or interest □ Lloyd's presence always adds a little spice to the occasion. ◇ vt -1. COOKING to add spices to <food> □ She spiced the dish with extra chili powder. -2. to spice sthg (up) [story, speech] to make sthg more exciting or lively □ I might tell some jokes, just to spice things up a little.

spick-and-span [ˌspɪk-] adj to be spick-and-span [room, house] to be very clean and tidy □ We'll soon have this place looking spick-and-span.

spicy ['spaɪsi] (compar spicier, superl spiciest) adj -1. COOKING [food, sauce] that has a hot strong flavor because it contains spices. -2. [story, book] that is slightly rude and may shock people.

spider ['spaɪdə] n a small creature with eight legs that makes webs to catch insects in.

spiderweb ['spaɪdə'web] US, spider's web GB n a network of fine sticky threads made by a spider to catch insects in.

spidery ['spaɪdəri] adj spidery handwriting handwriting that is formed using thin pointed lines.

spiel [ʃpi:l] n a way of talking that is fast, confident, and designed to persuade somebody to do or buy something (informal use) □ He gave a long spiel about life insurance.

spike [spaɪk] ◇ n -1. something that is long, thin, has a sharp point, and is often made of metal □ railings with sharp spikes. -2. [on a shoe, boot] one of the metal points on the bottom of a shoe or boot that help one to stop slipping on the ground, e.g. when one is doing a sport. ◇ vt to add strong alcohol to <sb's drink> without telling them.

◆ spikes npl GB sports shoes that have spikes fitted to them.

spiky ['spɑ:kɪ] (compar spikier, superl spikiest) adj [plant, hair] that has thin stiff points.

spill [spɪl] (US pt & pp spilled, GB pt & pp spilt OR spilled) ◇ vt -1. to pour <liquid, salt> etc out of a container by accident □ I'm afraid I've spilled some wine on your carpet. -2. to spill blood to kill or wound people □ Much blood was spilled during the battle. ◇ vi -1. [liquid, salt] The wine spilled all over the carpet. -2. [crowd, people] to leave somewhere in large numbers at the same time □ The fans spilled out of the stadium and into the street.

spillage ['spɪlɪdʒ] n the act of spilling something, e.g. oil; something that has been spilled □ an oil spillage.

spilt [spɪlt] GB past tense & past participle of spill.

spin [spɪn] (pt span OR spun, pp spun, cont spinning) ◇ vt -1. [ball, coin, wheel] to cause <sthg> to turn quickly □ Go on, spin the dice. -2. [washing] to dry <clothes> in a machine after they have been washed. -3. [thread, cloth] to make <sthg> by twisting pieces of wool or cotton together.

◇ vi -1. [ball, coin, wheel] to turn quickly □ The wheels span out of control. -2. to be spinning to feel confused or dizzy □ My head/mind was spinning. -3. [person] to make thread or cloth by twisting pieces of wool or cotton together, especially using a machine.

◇ n -1. an act of spinning something □ Give the wheel a spin. -2. AVIATION a movement in which an aircraft falls a great distance very quickly, turning in a circular motion. -3. [in a car] a short trip that one makes in a car for pleasure (informal use) □ Let's go for a spin. -4. SPORT to put spin on a ball to hit or throw a ball in a certain way so that it turns quickly in the air and moves in an unexpected direction after hitting a surface.

◆ spin out vt sep to spin sthg out [food, money, story] to make sthg last a long time □ The presentation's pretty short but I'm sure we can spin it out until the end.

spina bifida [,spɑɪnə'bɪfɪdə] n a serious medical condition in which a child is born with a split spine and may suffer paralysis.

spinach ['spɪnɪʃ] n a vegetable with dark green leaves.

spinal column [,spɑɪnəl] n ANATOMY = spine (technical use).

spinal cord n a section of nerves in one's spine that carries messages to one's brain.

spindle ['spɪndl] n -1. a rod in a machine that another part turns around. -2. a pointed rod used to twist thread around when spinning cloth.

spindly ['spɪndli] (compar spindlier, superl spin- dliest) adj [person, legs, plant] that looks long, thin, and weak.

spin doctor n a person who advises a political party or an organization about public relations and tries to make events look as good as possible for the public.

spin-dry vt GB to remove the water from <wet clothes> by putting them in a spin-dryer.

spin-dryer n GB an electrical machine that makes wet clothing spin to remove the water from it.

spine [spɑɪn] n -1. ANATOMY the row of bones that goes down the center of one's back □ He damaged his spine in an accident. -2. [of a book] the part of a book where the pages are joined together and where the title is written on the outside. -3. [on a plant, animal] a sharp point on an animal or plant □ a small animal with sharp spines on its back.

spine-chilling adj [movie, story] that is very frightening.

spineless ['spɪnɪləs] adj [person] who does not have enough courage or confidence to do something (disapproving use) □ Don't be so spineless — go in and ask!

spinning ['spɪnɪŋ] n the act of spinning thread.

spinning top n a toy that spins on a pointed base.

spin-off n something good or useful that happens or is produced as a result of a process intended to produce something else □ Souvenirs of the visit proved to be a lucrative spin-off.

spinster ['spɪnstə] n an unmarried woman, especially one who is considered too old to marry (old-fashioned use).

NOTE: Compare bachelor.

spiral ['spɑɪrəl] (US pt & pp spiraled, cont spiraling, GB pt & pp spiralled, cont spiralling) ◇ n -1. a curve that winds around a single line many times. -2. [of wages, prices] a continuous increase or decrease in something that is difficult to control and causes problems □ Salaries went into an upward spiral. □ We are on a downward spiral into a culture of fear. □ an inflationary spiral.

◇ adj [curve, movement, motif] that has the form of a spiral.

◇ vi -1. [staircase, aircraft, smoke] to move up or down in a spiral curve □ Smoke spiraled from the wreckage. -2. [prices, wages] to increase quickly in an uncontrolled way that causes problems □ Spiraling costs put an end to the project. -3. to spiral downward [amount, level, costs] to decrease quickly in an uncontrolled way that causes problems.

spiral staircase n a staircase built in the shape of a spiral.

spire ['spɑɪə] n a structure on a church roof that is wide at the bottom and narrows to a point at the top.

spirit ['spɪrɪt] ◇ n -1. the part of somebody that is separate from their body and that affects the way they feel and what type of person they are □ He was weak in spirit. □ The spirit of Hendrix lives on in modern rock music. □

This job attracts free spirits. -2. [of a dead person] a being that has no physical body, and is often the ghost of a dead person □ evil spirits. -3. [of a team, army] strength and determination □ the fighting spirit of the Raiders □ They'll never break our spirit. □ Tina showed a great deal of spirit in the way she stood up to him. -4. [of optimism, despair] the way that a person or group feels and acts □ We're trying to encourage a spirit of cooperation. □ The performance was done in a spirit of fun. ■ to enter into the spirit of sthg to participate in sthg enthusiastically □ After a while, the others entered into the spirit of the occasion. -5. [of a law, agreement] the essential quality or character of something □ Protectionist measures go against the whole spirit of our union.

◇ vt to spirit sb into/out of a place to take sb into/out of a place quickly and secretly □ Mendez was spirited out of the country.

◆ spirits npl -1. one's mood or state of mind □ He was in good spirits. ■ to be in high/low spirits to be cheerful/unhappy □ I found him in high spirits, celebrating his win. -2. strong alcoholic drinks such as vodka and gin □ I never drink spirits.

spirited ['spɪrɪtəd] adj [defense, debate] that is lively and determined □ Kennedy gave a spirited performance.

spirit level n an instrument used for testing whether a surface is level or not.

spiritual ['spɪrɪtʃuəl] adj -1. [experience, welfare] that is connected with one's feelings and beliefs and not with one's body □ I feel I've been neglecting my spiritual side lately. -2. [leader, beliefs, music] that is connected with religion □ The godparents are responsible for the child's spiritual guidance.

spiritualism ['spɪrɪtʃuəlɪzəm] n the belief that people who are dead can communicate with people who are still alive.

spiritualist ['spɪrɪtʃuəlɪst] n a person who believes in spiritualism and who tries to communicate with dead people.

spit [spɪt] (US pt & pp spit, cont spitting, GB pt & pp spat, cont spitting) ◇ n -1. the liquid produced in one's mouth. -2. a thin rod for sticking pieces of meat on so they can be cooked over a fire □ chicken cooked on a spit. ◇ vi to send spit out of one's mouth with force □ Richardson was spat at by protesters. ◇ v impers it's spitting it's raining very lightly.

◆ spit out vt sep -1. to spit sthg out [food, liquid] to make sthg leave one's mouth with force □ She spat the medicine out. -2. to spit sthg out to say sthg angrily □ He spat the words out in disgust. ■ spit it out! a phrase used to tell somebody to say what they are thinking immediately □ Come on, spit it out! Where did you find this?

spite [spaɪt] ◇ n to do sthg out of OR from spite to do sthg unpleasant because one wants to hurt or upset somebody □ He said it out of spite. ◇ vt to annoy or upset <sb> deliberately □ I know you only did it to spite me.

◆ in spite of prep despite <sthg> □ In spite of everything, I still care for you. □ She arrived there on time, in spite of the traffic. ■ to do sthg in spite of oneself to do sthg without expecting to or meaning to □ I ended up apologizing in spite of myself.

spiteful ['spaɪtfl] adj [behavior, remark] that shows a desire to hurt or upset somebody □ He's a very spiteful person.

spitting image [ˌspɪtɪŋ-] n to be the spitting image of sb to look exactly like sb □ He's the spitting image of his dad.

spittle ['spɪtl] n the liquid produced in one's mouth.

splash [splæʃ] ◇ vt -1. to splash sb/sthg with sthg to throw or send drops of liquid over sb/sthg □ The kids were splashing each other in the pool. □ The bus splashed us with mud. ■ to splash sthg on OR over sb/sthg to throw or put sthg liquid on OR over sb/sthg in a careless way □ You'll splash paint all over the carpet. -2. [liquid] to fall noisily against <sb/sthg> □ The waves splashed the deck of the ship.

◇ vi -1. to splash around OR about to move around in a liquid in a noisy and sometimes messy way □ The kids splashed through the puddles. -2. to splash on/against sthg [liquid] to fall noisily on/against sthg.

◇ n -1. the sound made when something hits a liquid or when some liquid hits something □ The rock fell into the water with a loud splash. -2. [of mud, paint] a small amount of something, usually a liquid, that leaves a mark on something □ There were splashes of blood on his shirt. -3. a splash of color an area of bright color □ The canvas was dotted with splashes of red.

◆ splash down vi [spacecraft] to land in the sea after a flight.

◆ splash out (informal use) ◇ vt sep to splash out a sum of money to spend a large sum of money □ He splashed out $600 on a new watch. ◇ vi: We really splashed out this year. □ He's just splashed out on a new car.

splashdown ['splæʃdaʊn] n the landing of a spacecraft in the sea.

splashguard ['splæʃgɑːrd] n US a piece of rubber or plastic hanging behind the wheel of a vehicle to stop mud from being thrown up.

splay [spleɪ] vt to spread out <one's feet, legs, fingers> etc □ Chris sat with his legs splayed.

spleen [spliːn] n -1. ANATOMY an organ near one's stomach that produces antibodies and removes impurities from the blood. -2. great anger (formal or literary use) □ He vented his spleen in an angry letter.

splendid ['splendəd] adj -1. [occasion, achievement] that one thinks is very good □ What a splendid idea! -2. [building, dress] that is beautiful and impressive □ They lived in a splendid mansion.

splendidly ['splendədli] adv -1. [perform, write, behave] very well □ My work is going splendidly. -2. [design, dress, entertain] in a magnificent and impressive way.

splendor US, splendour GB ['splendəː] n -1. [of a building, work of art] impressive beauty □ I was quite overawed by the splendor of the palace. -2. an impressive and beautiful feature or aspect □ one of the splendors of Rome.

splice [splajs] vt to join together <two pieces of rope, film, tape> etc.

splint [splɪnt] n a piece of wood or metal attached to a broken arm, leg etc to keep it straight while the bone mends.

splinter ['splɪntə] ◇ n a small, thin, sharp piece of wood, glass etc that has broken off a larger piece □ I have a splinter in my finger. ◇ vt to be splintered [wood, glass, metal] to be broken and have a lot of splinters □ The door was all splintered, as if someone had tried to break it down. ◇ vi to break and make a lot of splinters □ Be careful, this wood splinters easily.

splinter group n a group of people who no longer agree with the views of a larger organization and so have formed a separate organization.

split [splɪt] (pt & pp split, cont splitting) ◇ n -1. [in wood, rock] a long crack □ There's a split in the table. -2. [in a fabric] a long tear made in a fabric □ There's a split along the seam. -3. [between people] a disagreement or division between people in the same group □ There are rumors of a boardroom split. □ The new policy announcement has caused a deep split in the party. -4. to do a split US to stretch one's legs wide apart so that they point in opposite directions and touch the ground along their whole length.

◇ vt -1. [wood, stone] to cause <sthg> to crack □ He split the log with an ax. -2. [shirt, trousers] to cause <sthg> to tear □ When I bent over, I split my pants all down the back. -3. [organization, party] to cause  to disagree and divide into two or more different groups □ This latest disagreement has split the party into several opposing factions. -4. [profits, expense, work] to share <sthg> equally □ We agreed to split the winnings. □ I'm not very hungry but we could split a pizza if you like. ■ to split the difference to agree on an amount halfway between two amounts already mentioned □ Let's split the difference and call it $20.

◇ vi -1. [wood, stone] to crack □ The ship split in two when it hit the rocks. -2. [shirt, pants] to tear □ The bag split and everything fell out. -3. [organization, party] to divide into two or more parts □ The road splits here. -4. ▽ [person] to leave (very informal use) □ Let's split!

◆ splits npl to do the splits GB = to do a split.

◆ split off ◇ vt sep to split sth off [piece of wood, rock, branch] to break sth off from the main part □ I always keep fresh garlic in the kitchen and just split a clove off when I need it. ◇ vi -1. [piece of wood, rock] to crack or tear □ The package had split open. -2. [person, group] to become separate from the main part of a group, organization etc □ They split off from the tour party at the corner.

◆ split up ◇ vt sep to split sth up to separate sth into different sections □ His speech was split up into three distinct parts. ◇ vi -1. [group, friends] to go in different directions □ We agreed to split up and then meet later on in the bar. -2. [couple] to end a relationship □ She split up with her boyfriend. □ Haven't you heard? They split up.

split end n the end of a hair on one's head that has split into two or more different parts □ I've got split ends — I must get my hair cut.

split-level adj [building, house, room] that has floors with parts at different heights.

split pea n a pea that has been dried and split into its two natural halves, used in cooking.

split personality n a condition in which somebody's moods change so quickly that they appear to have two different personalities.

split screen n -1. CINEMA & TV a technique that allows two scenes to be shown on the screen at the same time. -2. COMPUTING a technique that allows two different sets of information to be shown on the screen at the same time.

split second n an extremely short period of time □ For a split second I thought she was joking.

splitting ['splɪtɪŋ] adj a splitting headache a very severe headache.

splutter ['splʌtə] ◇ vi -1. to talk in an unclear and confused way, usually because one is angry, embarrassed etc. -2. [fire, flames] to make a sound similar to that of somebody spitting □ The engine spluttered and died. □ Sam resurfaced, coughing and spluttering. ◇ vt to say <sthg> in an unclear and confused way because one is angry, embarrassed etc □ "I never said anything of the sort," he spluttered.

Spock [spɒk], Benjamin (1903–) a US doctor well known for his advice about bringing up children.

spoil [spɔɪl] (US pt & pp spoiled, GB pt & pp spoilt OR spoiled) vt -1. [view, vacation, food] to destroy the quality of <sthg> □ You'll spoil your appetite if you eat now. □ You had to go and spoil everyone else's fun, didn't you? -2. [child] to treat <sb> too well with the result that they become selfish □ She spoils that son of hers. -3. [person] to give <sb> something pleasant that they do not usually have □ Breakfast in bed! You're spoiling me. □ I'm going to spoil myself for a change.

◆ spoils npl valuable things that one gets without paying for them, especially as a result of winning a battle □ the spoils of war.

spoiled [spɔɪld] adj -1. [child] who behaves in a selfish way because they have been given everything they want □ He's just a spoiled brat! -2. [food, dinner] that is not pleasant to eat because it has been cooked for too long □ The chicken's spoiled, I'm afraid.

spoiler ['spɔɪlə] n AUTO & AVIATION a device fitted to the body of a vehicle to give it better balance when it moves fast.

spoilsport ['spɔɪlspɔ:t] n a person who tries to stop other people from having fun □ Don't be such a spoilsport — come and join in!

spoils system n a practice in US politics in which the winners of elections give government jobs to the people who supported them.

spoil [spɔɪlt] GB \diamond past tense & past participle of spoil. \diamond adj = spoiled.

spoke [spu:k] \diamond past tense of speak. \diamond n any of the thin metal rods that connect the outside of a wheel to the center.

spoken ['spu:kən] past participle of speak.

spokesman ['spu:ksmən] (pl spokesmen [-mən]) n a male spokesperson.

spokesperson ['spu:kspɜ:sn] (pl spokespeople) n a person chosen to speak for a group or organization officially \square a spokesperson for the UN \square a government spokesperson.

spokeswoman ['spu:kswʊmən] (pl spokeswomanen) n a female spokesperson.

sponge [spʌndʒ] \diamond n -1. a piece of a very light and soft material that is full of holes and is used for washing \square a bath sponge. -2. a sponge cake. \diamond vt [face, wound, car] to clean <sthg> by rubbing it with a wet sponge or cloth. \diamond vi to sponge off sb to get money, food etc from sb without doing anything in return (informal and disapproving use) \square Gary's always sponging off his parents. \square These people are just sponging off the State.

sponge bag n GB = toilet bag.

sponge bath n US a complete wash given to somebody who cannot get out of bed.

sponge cake n a very light cake made with sugar, eggs, flour, and, sometimes, butter.

sponge pudding n GB a pudding made with sugar, eggs, flour, and butter.

sponger ['spʌndʒə] n a person who gets money, food etc from other people without doing anything in return (informal and disapproving use) \square He's a real sponger; I don't think he's ever had a job.

spongy ['spʌndʒɪ] (compar spongier, superl spongiest) adj [bread, ground] that is soft and full of air, like a sponge \square The lungs are made up of spongy tissue.

sponsor ['spɒnsə] \diamond n -1. a person or organization that provides the money to pay for something such as a TV program or sports event, often in return for publicity \square Hampson's, sponsor of the Southern Games. -2. GB & AUS a person or organization that agrees to give an amount of money to charity if somebody succeeds in doing something difficult or unusual \square Have they found a sponsor for the Everest expedition yet?

\diamond vt -1. [event, training, research] to provide money to pay for <sthg>, often in return for publicity \square This broadcast was sponsored by Infotec. -2. GB & AUS [walker, swimmer, runner] to promise to pay <sb> a particular amount of money if they achieve something \square I sponsored her for $2 a mile. -3. [bill, appeal, proposal] to support <sthg> officially \square The bill is being sponsored by a small group of Congressmen.

sponsored walk [,spɒnsəd-wɔ:ld] n GB an event in which people walk a particular distance to make money for charity by finding sponsors who agree to pay them a certain amount of money for each mile they walk.

SPONSORED WALK

Sponsored walks have become a popular activity in Britain and Australia, often raising large amounts of money for charity. More recently, other kinds of event have been organized, such as sponsored swims, cycle rides, or even parachute jumps.

In the USA, charities also organize sponsored events but give them different names, such as "the March of Dimes" or "the Walkathon".

sponsorship ['spɒnsəʃɪp] n [for research, training, an event] financial support \square We need to find sponsorship for our next project. \square a $4 million sponsorship deal.

spontaneity [US ,spɒntə'neɪtɪ, GB ,spɒntə'neɪtɪ] n: see spontaneous.

spontaneous [spɒn'teɪnjəs] adj -1. [act, offer, applause] that happens naturally, without being forced or planned \square It was an act of spontaneous generosity on Adam's part. -2. [event, combustion, recovery] that is not caused by outside influences or events.

spontaneously [spɒn'teɪnjəsli] adv [act, occur] see spontaneous.

spoo [spu:f] n an amusing imitation of the style of something \square It's a spoof of OR on disaster movies.

spook [spu:k] vt to frighten <sb> (informal use) \square That phone call last night really spooked me.

spooky ['spu:kɪ] (compar spookier, superl spookiest) adj [place, house, story] that is strange and frightening (informal use).

spool [spu:l] \diamond n a round object like a wheel or cylinder that thread, tape, film etc is wound around. \diamond vi COMPUTING to transfer data from a disk to a tape.

spoon [spu:n] \diamond n an object with a long handle and an end shaped like a shallow bowl, used for eating, serving, and mixing food; a spoonful \square knives, forks, and spoons \square Can I have two spoons of sugar in my coffee? \diamond vt to spoon sthg onto/into sthg to put sthg onto/into sthg using a spoon \square She sat spooning apple puree into the baby's mouth.

spoon-feed vt -1. [baby, patient] to feed <sb> using a spoon \square Little Amy's still being spoon-fed. -2. [pupil, student] to present information to <sb> in such an easy form that they do not have to think for themselves (disapproving use).

spoonful ['spu:nfl] (pl spoonfuls OR spoonsful) n [of salt, sugar, flour] the amount of something that can be held in a spoon \square Add a spoonful of honey.

sporadic [spə'reɪdɪk] adj [fighting, disease] that happens for short periods of time at irregular intervals \square There were sporadic bursts of gunfire.

sport [spɔ:t] \diamond n -1. a game or activity which people do for pleasure or physical exercise \square Do you do any sports? \square I don't like competitive

- sports*. □ Football is my favorite sport. □ She was never any good at sports. -2. a person who accepts something difficult, such as defeat, in a cheerful way □ He's a good sport. ◇ vt to be sporting sthg [dress, tie] to be wearing sthg □ Pierre was sporting a red bow tie.
- ◆ sports comp [clothing, field] that is used for playing sports □ a sports instructor.
- sporting ['spɔ:tɪŋ] adj -1. [event, achievements] that is connected with a sport □ This race is one of the major events in the sporting calendar. -2. a sporting chance quite a good chance of doing something □ They have a sporting chance of winning.
- sports car n a very fast car that usually has only two seats.
- sports day n GB a day on which a school holds competitions for its pupils in various athletic events.
- sports jacket n a casual jacket for a man.
- sportsman ['spɔ:tsmən] (pl sportsmen [-mən]) n a man who plays sports.
- sportsmanship ['spɔ:tsmənʃɪp] n the quality of being honest and fair in a game.
- sports pages npl the pages in a newspaper that deal with sports.
- sportswear ['spɔ:tswear] n special clothing worn for sports and leisure activities.
- sportswoman ['spɔ:tswumən] (pl sportswomen) n a woman who plays sports.
- sporty ['spɔ:tɪ] (compar sportier, superl sportiest) adj -1. [person] who likes playing sports. -2. [car] fast; [clothes] bright and casual.
- spot [spɒt] (pt & pp spotted, cont spotting) ◇ n -1. [of blood, ink, paint] a small round mark on the surface of something □ There was a small spot of grease on his shirt. -2. [on one's skin] a very small round area of red skin that is caused by a disease; GB a very small raised area of red skin, especially on one's face □ I was covered in spots. □ teenage spots. -3. a spot of lunch/work etc a small amount of lunch/work etc (informal use) □ How do you fancy a spot of supper after work? -4. [place] a particular place □ We found a quiet spot for a picnic. ■ on the spot at the particular place where something is happening □ And our reporter, Callum McBrines, is on the spot in Cairo. ■ to do sthg on the spot to do sthg immediately □ We can repair your car on the spot if you like. -5. RADIO & TV a part of a broadcast or show reserved for a particular performer □ I've always liked your spot on the Jimmy Braith show. -6. phrases to have a soft spot for sb to like sb □ I think the boss has a soft spot for you, Mark. ■ to put sb on the spot to force sb to make a difficult decision quickly and, often, publicly □ He really put me on the spot when he asked how much I wanted for it. □ I don't want to put you on the spot about this. ◇ vt [person, object] to notice <sb/sthg> □ Tom Hanks was spotted in a store downtown yesterday. □ I didn't spot many mistakes in the text.
- spot check n an unexpected examination of one of a group of people or things.
- spotless ['spɒtləs] adj [clothing, room] that looks completely clean □ Their kitchen is always absolutely spotless.
- spotlight ['spɒtlaɪt] n a bright light that can be directed to light up a small area, e.g. in a theater or room. ■ to be in the spotlight to receive a lot of public attention □ Carl's still not used to being in the spotlight.
- spot-on adj to be spot-on GB [guess, answer] to be exactly right (informal use) □ "I'd guess about three million?" — "Spot-on!"
- spot price n the price for something when it is being paid for immediately in cash.
- spotted ['spɒtəd] adj [material, design] that has a pattern of spots on it □ He was wearing a green and white spotted tie.
- spotty ['spɒtɪ] (compar spottier, superl spottiest) adj -1. US [work, performance] of inconsistent quality. -2. GB [person] who has pimples on their skin, especially on their face.
- spouse [spaʊs] n a husband or wife (formal use).
- spout [spaʊt] ◇ n -1. a tube, pipe etc that liquid comes out of □ a watering can with a long spout. -2. a spout of water/blood etc an amount of water/blood etc that comes out of something quickly and with a lot of force. ◇ vt [facts, nonsense] to say  without stopping to think (informal use). □ As usual, he was just spouting Marxist theory. ◇ vi to spout from OR out of sthg [liquid, flame] to come out of sthg quickly and with a lot of force □ Smoke was spouting out of OR from the chimney.
- sprain [spreɪn] ◇ vt [ankle, wrist, ligament] to damage <part of one's body> by twisting it suddenly □ She sprained her ankle in a fall. ◇ n: That's a nasty sprain.
- sprang [spræŋ] past tense of spring.
- sprat [spræt] n a small herring.
- sprawl [sprɔ:ɪl] ◇ vi -1. [person] to sit or lie with one's arms and legs spread out carelessly □ He sprawled out on the sofa. -2. [place, town] to cover a large area of land in a way that does not look planned □ The city sprawled beneath them. ◇ n: We drove through miles of urban sprawl.
- sprawling ['sprɔ:ɪlɪŋ] adj [city, building] that sprawls □ Tokyo's sprawling suburbs.
- spray [spreɪ] ◇ n -1. [of water] very small drops of water in the air, e.g. from the sea or a fountain □ The fine spray from the waterfall soaked my hair and clothing. -2. [of deodorant, perfume] liquid in a special container that is under pressure and is forced out of it in very small drops; a container that contains this liquid □ insect spray □ a deodorant spray. -3. [of flowers] a small bunch of flowers; a group of flowers growing on the same branch or stem □ She was holding a spray of freesias. ◇ vt -1. [person, crop, field] to cover <sb/sthg> with a stream of liquid; to send  over somebody or something □ I got sprayed with water. -2. [paint, perfume, pesticide] to force <sthg> out of a container in very small drops □ She sprayed air freshener around the room to hide the smell of damp.

◇ vi -1. [liquid] When he opened the champagne, it sprayed all over the place. -2. [farmer] They have been spraying against blight.

spray can n a can that contains liquid under pressure and has a nozzle at the top for spraying it.

spray paint n paint sprayed from a can.

spread [spred] (pt & pp spread) ◇ vt -1. [map, tablecloth] to unfold <sthg> and lay it on a flat surface □ He spread the blanket on the grass. ■ to spread one's arms/fingers etc to stretch one's arms/fingers etc so that they are far apart from each other. -2. [butter, jam, glue] to put a layer of <sthg> on a surface; to cover  with a layer of something □ Spread the mustard over the ham OR Spread the ham with mustard. -3. [disease, rumor, news] to pass <sthg> to more and more people □ Exports helped to spread the new technology to Asia. -4. to be spread over a period of time to happen during a period of time □ The tourist season is now spread over six months. -5. [dirt, straw] to arrange <sthg> so that it covers an area □ The troops are spread too thinly to be effective. -6. [wealth, work] to share <sthg> out evenly □ I suggest we spread the workload between us.

◇ vi -1. [fire, disease, desert] to affect a larger area or more people □ Fighting has spread to the north of the country. -2. [ideas, rumors] to become known by more and more people □ News of the flood spread quickly.

◇ n -1. [on bread] a food in the form of a soft paste for putting on bread □ salmon/chocolate/sandwich spread. -2. [of a fire, disease] the act of spreading □ They are trying to prevent the spread of unrest to other cities. -3. [of subjects, products] a large number of different kinds of something □ a broad spread of opinion. -4. [in a magazine, newspaper] an article or advertisement with pictures on two facing pages of a newspaper or magazine □ a double-page spread. -5. [of food] a large meal in which different kinds of food are placed on a table □ What a magnificent spread!

◆ spread out ◇ vt sep -1. to be spread out [people, animals, vehicles] to be far apart; [city, forest] to cover a wide area □ The runners are now spread out. -2. to spread sthg out [tablecloth, one's arms] to unfold sthg on a flat surface □ We spread the map out on the table. ◇ vi [people, animals, vehicles] to move away from one another □ The search party spread out across the field.

spread-eagled [US 'spred:i:ɡld, GB spred'i:ɡld] adj [person] who is lying flat with their arms and legs spread out □ Richie lay spread-eagled on the bed.

spreadsheet ['spredʃi:t] n a type of computer software that allows one to enter text and figures in the form of tables and to do calculations, accounting etc automatically.

spree [spri:] n a short period during which one does a lot of something enjoyable □ They went on a spending/shopping/drinking spree.

sprig [sprɪɡ] n a small piece of the stem of a plant or tree that has some leaves on it □ a sprig of holly.

sprightly ['sprɪtli] (compar sprightlier, superl sprightliest) adj [person] who is lively and active even though they are old □ She's very sprightly for her age.

spring [sprɪŋ] (pt sprang, pp sprung) ◇ n -1. the season between winter and summer, when the weather begins to get warmer □ I hope to be back in the States next spring. □ Those trees are covered with blossom in spring. □ I like the spring flowers/colors/weather. -2. [in a bed, watch] a device, usually a metal coil, that returns to its original shape after being pressed together or stretched □ a bed/watch spring. -3. [of a person] a movement or jump that is sudden and quick □ He made a sudden spring for the knife. -4. [in the ground] a place where water comes naturally out of the ground □ volcanic/hot/mountain springs.

◇ vt -1. to spring sthg on sb [news, surprise] to tell sb sthg that surprises them □ My boss suddenly sprang it on me that she was going to Lisbon for a week. -2. to spring a leak [ship, container] to begin to leak.

◇ vi -1. [person, animal] to move or jump suddenly and quickly □ The leopard crouches, ready to spring. □ She sprang to her feet/to the door. ■ to spring into action [person, organization] to begin to do something suddenly □ The police sprang into action. ■ to spring to life [machine, car] to begin to work suddenly □ The engine sprang to life. -2. [bow, elastic, coil] to be released and move quickly in a particular direction, as if by the action of a spring □ The branch sprang back and hit him in the face. □ The door sprang open/shut. -3. to spring from sthg to be the result of sthg □ Their aggression springs from fear.

◆ spring up vi -1. [person, animal] to get up quickly □ She sprang up eagerly to greet them. -2. [child] to grow quickly □ Alice is springing up so fast now. -3. [problem, relationship] to appear suddenly □ New businesses are springing up everywhere.

springboard ['sprɪŋbɔ:d] n -1. SPORT a flexible board that allows somebody to jump high before diving into a swimming pool. -2. something that makes a particular future event or activity possible □ We'll use the show as a springboard for the product launch.

spring-clean ◇ vt to clean  very thoroughly. ◇ vi: I've been spring-cleaning all day.

spring-loaded adj [mechanism, device] that is held in place by means of a spring.

spring onion n GB a small onion with a long green stem, usually eaten raw in salads.

spring roll n a Chinese food that consists of a thin roll of pastry filled with vegetables or meat and fried.

spring tide n the tide when there is a new moon or full moon and during which the sea level rises and falls the most.

springtime ['sprɪŋtaɪm] n in (the) springtime during the spring.

springy ['sprɪŋi] (compar springier, superl spring-iest adj [carpet, mattress, ground] that is soft and returns to its normal shape after being pressed flat □ This bed is very springy!

sprinkle ['sprɪŋkl] vt [liquid, powder] to drop <sthg> on a surface in very small amounts; [surface, food] to cover <sthg> with small drops of liquid or amounts of powder □ I sprinkled sugar on OR over my cereal. □ Now sprinkle the sauce with parsley.

sprinkler ['sprɪŋklə] n -1. a system for sprinkling water inside a building when there is a fire. -2. a system of hoses connected to a timer for sprinkling water on a garden.

sprinkling ['sprɪŋklɪŋ] n [of water, salt] a very small amount of something.

sprint [sprɪnt] ◇ n SPORT a short fast race. ◇ vi to run fast for a short distance.

sprinter ['sprɪntə] n SPORT a runner who is trained to run in sprints.

sprite [sprɪt] n a playful fairy (literary use).

spritzer ['sprɪtsə] n a drink that consists of white wine and soda water.

sprocket ['sprɒkət] n a wheel with a set of teeth that fit into holes in something, e.g. in a bicycle chain or roll of film.

sprout [spraut] ◇ vt -1. [leaves, buds] to cause <sthg> to grow □ The seeds had sprouted little shoots. -2. [horns, hair, feathers] to grow <sthg> suddenly □ Before we knew it, Ralph had sprouted a mustache. ◇ vi -1. [bean, seed] to cause new shoots to grow. -2. [leaves, hair, feathers] to grow suddenly □ A little beard had sprouted on his chin. -3. to sprout (up) [plant, person] to grow quickly; [new town, building] to appear suddenly □ Jenny has certainly sprouted up in the last year. □ New businesses have sprouted up all over the country. ◇ n -1. = brussels sprout. -2. a new shoot on a plant. -3. a shoot on a bean seed that is eaten as a vegetable.

spruce [spru:s] ◇ adj [person, appearance] that is neat and pleasant to look at. ◇ n an evergreen tree with needles that grows in northern Europe, Asia, and America.

◆ spruce up vt sep to spruce sb/sthg up [person, room, house] to make sb/sthg look neater and more attractive □ He went to spruce himself up before dinner.

sprung [sprʌŋ] past participle of spring.

spry [sprɪ] (compar sprier, superl spriest) adj [person] who is lively and active even though they are old.

SPUC (abbr of Society for the Protection of the Unborn Child) n the SPUC a British organization that is against abortion.

spud [spʌd] n a potato (informal use).

spun [spʌn] past tense & past participle of spin.

spunk [sprʌŋk] n courage (informal use).

spur [spɜ:ɹ] (pt & pp spurred, cont spurring) ◇ vt -1. to spur sb to do sthg to encourage sb to do sthg □ It was his support that spurred me to write the novel. -2. to make  go faster by digging spurs into its sides. ◇ n -1. something that encourages somebody to do something □ Easy credit is a spur to con- sumption. -2. a sharp metal device on a rider's boot, used to make a horse go faster. -3. phrase on the spur of the moment suddenly and without having thought about it earlier □ I just decided to leave on the spur of the moment.

◆ spur on vt sep to spur sb on to encourage sb to do something better, or to continue doing something □ I was spurred on by this success.

spurious ['spʊəriəs] adj -1. [interest, affection] that seems real but is not □ Her display of emotion was entirely spurious. -2. [argument, statement, claim] that is not true or correct because it is based on a mistake □ The whole basis of the argument was spurious.

spurn [spɜ:'ɹn] vt [offer, help, lover] to refuse to accept <sb/sthg> (literary use) □ He spurned his father's offer of help.

spurt [spɜ:'t] ◇ n -1. [of steam, water, flames] a small amount of a liquid, flames, or gas that comes out of somewhere quickly and suddenly □ A sudden spurt of steam came from the machine. -2. [of activity, energy] a short intense period of something □ I had a sudden spurt of energy. -3. to put on a spurt to increase one's speed suddenly and for a short time, e.g. while running, cycling, or working □ She put on a spurt and caught up with the others. ◇ vi -1. [steam, water, flames] to come out of somewhere suddenly and with force. -2. [person] to increase one's speed suddenly.

sputter ['spʌtə] vi -1. [engine] to make soft irregular noises that sound like somebody spitting □ The moped sputtered and came to a halt. -2. [person] to speak with short sounds as if one is spitting, e.g. because one is confused or embarrassed. -3. [fire, oil] to spit.

spy [spaɪ] (pl spies, pt & pp spied) ◇ n a person whose job is to get secret information from other countries or organizations □ He was accused of being a spy for the KGB OR a KGB spy. ◇ vt to notice or discover <sb/sthg> □ I spied him going into the bar. ◇ vi -1. to work as a spy for a particular country or organization □ They discovered she had been spying for the enemy. -2. to spy on sb to watch sb secretly □ I have a nasty feeling that someone is spying on me.

spying ['spaɪɪŋ] n the activity of working as a spy □ He was accused of spying.

spy satellite n a satellite in space that is used for spying, e.g. by taking photographs of military sites.

Sq., sq. abbr of square □ Leicester Sq. □ 20 sq. miles.

squabble ['skwɒbl] ◇ n a quarrel about something unimportant. ◇ vi to have a squabble □ They're always squabbling about OR over petty things.

squad [skwɒd] n -1. part of a police force that deals with a particular type of crime □ the drugs/fraud squad. -2. MILITARY a small group of soldiers with a particular duty. -3. SPORT a group of players which a team is chosen from □ The squad for next week's game has been announced.

squad car n a police patrol car.

squadron ['skwɒdrən] n -1. a group of military aircraft or ships on a particular mission. -2. a section of the armed forces that consists of two or more divisions.

squadron leader n an officer in the British air force ranking above a flight lieutenant and below a wing commander.

squalid ['skwɒləd] adj -1. [place, conditions] that looks very dirty, untidy, and unpleasant □ Their apartment was pretty squalid. -2. [activity, behavior, business] that one finds unpleasant and dishonest □ I don't want to get involved in his squalid little affairs.

squall [skwɔ:l] n a sudden short storm, especially at sea.

squalor ['skwɒlə] n dirty and unpleasant conditions □ They live in squalor.

squander ['skwɒndə] vt [money, resources, opportunity] to use <sthg> too quickly or in the wrong way, with the result that one wastes it.

square [skweə] ◇ n -1. GEOMETRY a shape (□) made of four sides, all of the same length, that are at right angles to each other □ He drew a square on the paper. -2. [in a town, city] an open public space in a town or city, usually surrounded by buildings □ the main square. -3. [person] a person who one thinks is boring or unfashionable (informal use) □ Noel's such a square. -4. phrase to be back to square one to have to start doing something again from the beginning □ It looks like we're back to square one again with the Carlson bid.

◇ adj -1. [room, face] that is shaped like a square □ You'll need a square piece of paper. □ Is it square or rectangular? -2. a square meter/mile etc an area equal in size to a square whose sides are all one meter/mile etc long □ The tiles cost $50 per square meter. □ The room is 15 feet square. □ The apartment has 60 square feet. -3. to be (all) square [people] not to owe each other money □ I did owe him money but we're all square now. -4. [person, clothes] that looks unfashionable, boring, or out of date (informal use).

◇ vt -1. MATH to multiply  by itself □ 4 squared equals 16. -2. to square sth with sth to make sth match or agree with sth □ His story doesn't square with the facts.

◆ square up vi -1. to square up with sb to pay sb what one owes them. -2. to square up to sb/sth [to an enemy, problem] to face sb/sth and deal with them.

squared [skweə'd] adj [paper] that has squares marked on it for drawing graphs, diagrams etc.

square dance n a dance where four couples face each other in the form of a square.

square deal n fair treatment □ I got a square deal on the car rental.

squarely ['skweəli] adv -1. exactly □ The table was placed squarely in the middle of the room. -2. honestly and firmly □ I told him squarely that I thought he was lying.

square meal n a full meal that gives one plenty of nourishment □ He hasn't had a square meal in days.

Square Mile: the Square Mile a small area in the center of London where all the major banks and the Stock Exchange are situated.

square root n a number that, when multiplied by itself, will equal a particular number □ Three is the square root of nine.

squash [skwɒʃ] ◇ n -1. a sport in which two players use rackets to hit a small rubber ball against one wall of a court that has four walls □ How about a game of squash one evening? □ She's a keen squash player. -2. US a vegetable marrow, gourd, or pumpkin that can be eaten. -3. GB a drink made of fruit juice, sugar, and water □ lemon/orange squash. ◇ vt to press <sthg> so that it becomes flat or uncomfortable □ The seat in front was squashing my legs. □ Careful! You're squashing me!

squat [skwɒt] (compar squatter, superl squattest, pt & pp squatted, cont squatting) ◇ adj [person] who is short and fat in an unattractive way; [building] that is wide and low in an unattractive way. ◇ vi -1. to squat (down) to crouch by balancing on one's feet with one's knees bent under one's body □ We squatted down in front of the fire. -2. to live in an unused building without asking the owner's permission or paying rent. ◇ n GB a building that somebody is squatting in □ They're living in a squat in Brixton.

squatter ['skwɒtə] n -1. a person who is living in an unused building without the owner's permission □ They've got squatters in their house. -2. AUS a farmer who owns a large area of land.

♥ SQUATTERS

When the first Europeans settled in Australia, many of them occupied large areas of land that they did not own. Later, the government gave leases to many of these "squatters", and they became respectable landowners. Today, all rich landowners are called squatters, and many people use the disapproving word "squattocracy" to refer to them, suggesting that they consider themselves as an aristocracy, or ruling class.

squawk [skwɔ:k] ◇ n a loud noise made by some types of bird when they are frightened or excited. ◇ vi [bird] to make a squawk □ I could hear parrots squawking in the trees.

squeak [skwi:k] ◇ n a short high-pitched sound □ She let out a squeak of excitement. □ the squeak of brand-new shoes. ◇ vi [person, animal, hinge] to make a squeak □ They could hear the mice/bedsprings squeaking.

squeaky ['skwi:kɪ] (compar squeakier, superl squeakiest) adj [bedspring, hinge, voice] that squeaks.

squeal [skwi:l] ◇ n a long high-pitched sound □ squeals of pain/delight □ We heard the squeal of brakes. ◇ vi [person, animal, brakes] to make a squeal □ The car squealed around the corner. □ He squealed with pain/delight.

squeamish ['skwi:mɪʃ] adj [person] who is easi- ly upset or feels sick when they see or hear about unpleasant things, especially blood or killings □ Don't watch this bit if you're at all squeamish.

- squeeze [skwi:z] ◇ vt -1. [hand, tube, lemon] to press <sthg> firmly, usually with one's hand □ He squeezed the trigger but nothing happened. -2. [liquid, toothpaste] to force <sthg> out of its container by pressing it firmly, usually with one's hand □ She tried to squeeze the last drop of cream out of the tube. □ freshly squeezed orange juice. -3. to squeeze sthg into sthg to fit sthg into sthg with some difficulty □ We had to squeeze everybody into one tiny room. □ How did you squeeze it all into one afternoon? -4. to squeeze sthg out of sb [money, information] to force or persuade sb to let one have sthg □ They were trying to squeeze it out of me, but I wouldn't tell them.
◇ vi to squeeze into/past/through sthg to get into/past/through sthg with difficulty □ He squeezed past the guards into the palace.
◇ n -1. an act of squeezing something □ She gave his hand a squeeze. -2. a situation in which a space is only just big enough for the people or things in it □ Five of us in that car was a real squeeze.
- squeezer ['skwi:zə] n a device for squeezing the juice from fruit □ an orange/a lemon squeezer.
- squelch [skwɛltʃ] vi to make a noise that sounds like something being sucked □ The mud squelched under my boots.
- squid [skwid] (pl squid OR squids) n a sea creature with a soft white body and ten tentacles, eaten as food.
- squiggle ['skwigl] n a line that bends in an irregular way □ Her signature was just a squiggle.
- squint [skwɪnt] ◇ n MEDICINE a condition of the eyes that makes them look in different directions. ◇ vi -1. MEDICINE to have a squint. -2. to look at something with partly closed eyes in order to see it better □ I found myself squinting at the TV.
- squire ['skwaɪə] n in the past, a man who owned most of the land in an English village.
- squirm [skwɜ:'m] vi -1. to move one's body from side to side because one is nervous or uncomfortable □ The children got bored and started squirming in their chairs. -2. to feel very embarrassed □ I squirmed with embarrassment/shame.
- squirrel [US 'skwɜ:rəl, GB 'skwɪr-] n a small furry animal with a long thick tail that lives in trees and stores nuts for the winter.
- squirt [skwɜ:'t] ◇ vt [water, sauce, detergent] to force  out of a container through a narrow space □ Squirt some oil on the hinges.
■ to squirt sb/sthg with sthg to squirt sthg onto sb/sthg □ They squirted the plants with water. ◇ vi [liquid] to move quickly out of a narrow space □ Toothpaste squirted out of the tube.
- Sr -1. abbr of senior. -2. RELIGION abbr of sister.
- Sri Lanka [srɪ'læŋkə] a country in southern Asia, consisting of an island in the Indian Ocean, southeast of India. SIZE: 66,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 17,800,000 (Sri Lankans). CAPITAL: Colombo. LANGUAGE: Sinhalese. CURRENCY: Sri Lankan rupee.
- SS (abbr of steamship) a title used before the name of a ship in the merchant marine.
- SSA (abbr of Social Security Administration) n the SSA the US government department responsible for social security.
- SSSI (abbr of Site of Special Scientific Interest) n in Britain, an area that is protected from development by the government, e.g. because of its rare animals or plants.
- St -1. abbr of saint. -2. abbr of street.
- ST n abbr of standard time.
- stab [stæb] (pt & pp stabbed, cont stabbing) ◇ vt -1. [person] to injure or kill <sb> by pushing a knife into their body □ He was stabbed to death. -2. [object] to push <sthg> with a pointed object □ He stabbed the air with his finger. ◇ vi: She stabbed at the map with her finger. ◇ n -1. the act of stabbing somebody or something □ a stab wound. -2. to have a stab at sthg to try to do sthg (informal use) □ I'm willing to have a stab at it, if you think it's worthwhile. -3. a stab of pain/guilt etc a sudden strong feeling of pain/guilt etc □ A stab of nostalgia went through him.
- stabbing ['stæbɪŋ] ◇ adj a stabbing pain a sudden sharp pain □ She felt a stabbing pain in her side. ◇ n an attack in which somebody is stabbed □ Two youths were involved in a stabbing outside the club.
- stability [stə'biləti] n [of a relationship, economy, government] see stable □ a period of stability.
- stabilize, -ise ['steɪbəlaɪz] ◇ vt [prices, ship, aircraft] to make <sthg> stable. ◇ vi [prices, situation] to become stable.
- stabilizer ['steɪbəlaɪzə] n [on a ship, aircraft, bicycle] a device that helps to keep a vehicle stable.
- stable ['steɪbl] ◇ adj -1. [relationship, economy, government] that is not likely to change or end suddenly □ The patient's condition is stable. -2. [ladder, ship, aircraft] that is in a fixed position and will not move suddenly in an unexpected way □ Make sure that chair's stable before you stand on it. -3. [person] who is not likely to behave unreasonably or change mood suddenly □ He seems more stable since he started work. ◇ n a building where horses are kept.
- stable boy, stable lad n GB a man or boy whose job is to look after the horses in a stable.
- staccato [stə'kɑ:tou] adj [voice, gunfire] that is made up of short, hard, repeated sounds.
- stack [stæk] ◇ n -1. [of books, dishes] a pile of things arranged neatly, one on top of the other □ She added it to a stack of files on the desk. -2. stacks OR a stack of sthg [of money, time, work] a large amount of sthg (informal use) □ I've been using stacks of paper trying to get this letter right. ◇ vt -1. [books, dishes] to arrange <several things> into a stack □ Just stack the dishes on the side there. -2. to be stacked with sthg to be covered with piles of sthg □ His desk was stacked high with files.

♦ stack up vi US -1. [situation] to develop (informal use) □ I don't like the way things are stacking up. -2. to stack up against sthg to compare with sthg □ Our product stacks up well against theirs.

stadium ['steɪdɪəm] (pl stadiums OR stadia [-dʒə]) n a large sports ground with rows of seats for spectators around it.

staff [US stæf, GB stɑ:f] n the people who work for a company or organization □ The company announced more staff cuts today. □ Our staff is made up of people from a variety of backgrounds. vt [company, organization] to provide the staff for <sthg> □ The charity shop is staffed by volunteers.

staffer [US 'stæfər, GB 'stɑ:fə] n a person who works for an organization, especially a newspaper company.

staffing [US 'stæfɪŋ, GB 'stɑ:f-] n the recruitment, employment, or management of staff □ staffing difficulties/levels.

staff nurse n in Britain, a hospital nurse whose rank is below that of a sister.

Staffordshire ['stæfə'dʒʃə] a county in western central England, known as the center of the pottery industry. SIZE: 2,716 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,032,900. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Stafford.

staff room n a room in a school where teachers can meet and relax when they are not in class.

Staffs abbr of Staffordshire.

stag [stæg] (pl stag OR stags) n an adult male deer.

stage [steɪdʒ] n -1. [of an operation, somebody's development, career] a particular period of a longer process or activity □ The bill is at the committee stage. □ I'll deal with that at a later stage. □ The changes were introduced in stages. □ There's not much we can do at this late stage. -2. [in a theater] a platform in a hall or theater where plays, performances etc are given □ She is nervous about appearing on stage. ■ to set the stage for sthg to make the arrangements for sthg to happen □ The stage has been set for a bitter struggle between the Administration and the judiciary. -3. the stage the profession of being an actor or actress □ Mary had always wanted to go on the stage. vt [play, production, strike] to organize <sthg> for other people to see □ Protesters staged a sit-in. □ No one's ever staged a show like this before.

stagecoach ['steɪdʒkəʊtʃ] n a large vehicle pulled by horses that was used in the past to carry passengers and mail on fixed routes.

stage door n the entrance to a theater that is used by performers and people who work there.

stage fright n the feeling of fear and nervousness felt by a performer before or during a public performance.

stagehand ['steɪdʒhænd] n a person whose job is to prepare, arrange, and move the scenery and stage equipment in a theater.

stage-manage vt -1. [play, show] to organize the scenery, lights, and the movements of the performers in . -2. [meeting, demonstration] to organize <an event> so that one gets a particular result □ The conference was carefully stage-managed to avoid controversy.

stage manager n a person whose job is to stage-manage plays, shows etc at a theater.

stage name n a name used by an actor or actress instead of their real name.

stagflation [ˌstæg'fleɪʃn] n a mixture of inflation and stagnant or falling production and employment.

stagger ['stæɡə] vt -1. [person] to shock and surprise <sb> □ I was staggered by his decision. -2. [deliveries, working hours] to arrange <things> so that they happen or come at different times □ They stagger the shifts so that the workers always have a decent break. vi to walk unsteadily, e.g. because one is ill, injured, or drunk □ Laurence staggered home drunk.

staggering ['stæɡərɪŋ] adj [news, amount, size] that is very surprising, usually because it is impressive □ It was a staggering sum of money.

staging ['steɪdʒɪŋ] n [of a play, show, ceremony] the act of organizing something for other people to see.

stagnant ['stæɡnənt] adj -1. [water, air] that does not move, is not fresh, and often smells bad. -2. [business, career] that is not developing or changing □ The economy had remained stagnant throughout that time.

stagnate [US 'stæɡneɪt, GB stæg'neɪt] vi [water, business] to become stagnant □ The industry's been allowed to stagnate for too long now.

stagnation [stæg'neɪʃn] n: see stagnate □ Following a period of stagnation, growth started to pick up again.

stag party n a party for a bridegroom, usually the night before his wedding, that only men go to.

staid [steɪd] adj [person, appearance, attitude] that seems serious, dull, and old-fashioned.

stain [steɪn] n -1. a mark that is not wanted and is difficult to remove □ a blood/wine stain. -2. a kind of dye used for wood. vt -1. [clothing, furniture] to mark <sthg> with a stain accidentally □ The red wine stained the carpet. -2. to change the color of <sthg> with a stain □ The table was stained a rich mahogany.

stained [steɪnd] adj -1. [carpet, clothing] that has a stain on it. -2. [wood] that has been colored with a special dye.

stained glass n pieces of colored glass fixed together to make a picture or design, especially in church windows.

stained-glass window n a window made of stained glass.

stainless steel [ˌsteɪnləs-] n a type of steel that does not rust □ a stainless-steel sink.

stain remover n a chemical substance for removing unwanted stains, e.g. from clothes, carpets, or furniture.

stair [steəʳ] n a step in a flight of stairs □ the bottom stair.

◆ stairs npl a set of steps leading from one level of a building to another □ a flight of stairs □ at the top of the stairs □ He fell down the stairs.

staircase ['steə'keɪs] n a set of stairs inside a building, including the sides and handrails.

stairway ['steə'weɪ] n a set of stairs inside or outside a building.

stairwell ['steə'wel] n the area in a building around which a staircase is built.

stake [steɪk] ◇ n -1. to have a stake in sthg [in a business, firm] to own part of sthg □ Steiner has a large stake in this company. -2. [of wood] a pointed wooden post □ He drove the stake into the ground with a hammer. -3. [of a gambler] the money that somebody bets on something such as a horse race □ He had a $100 stake on Bright Star winning the race.

◇ vt -1. to stake one's life/reputation etc on sthg to deliberately risk one's life/reputation etc on sthg □ He staked his whole future on the successful outcome of this election. -2. to stake a sum of money on sthg to bet a sum of money on sthg □ There's a lot of money staked on this race. -3. to stake a claim to say that one has a right to something □ You need to stake your claim to your share of the money.

◆ stakes npl -1. [in a contest, argument] the prize or advantages that one can get if one wins something or succeeds at something □ The stakes are high. -2. a contest □ the leadership/promotion stakes.

◆ at stake adv to be at stake to be at risk □ There are lives at stake here. □ Do you realize what's at stake here?

stakeout ['steɪkaʊt] n [of a building, person] a situation in which the police secretly watch a place or person.

stalactite [US stə'læktait, GB 'stælæktait] n a piece of rock hanging from the roof of a cave that is formed by dripping water.

NOTE: Compare stalagmite.

stalagmite [US stə'lægmait, GB 'stælægmait] n a piece of rock sticking up from the floor of a cave, formed by water dripping from a stalactite.

NOTE: Compare stalactite.

stale [steɪl] adj -1. [food, air] that is not fresh □ This bread is stale. -2. [person, news, idea] that is no longer interesting □ I think his writing is beginning to grow a little stale.

stalemate ['steɪlmeɪt] n -1. [in negotiations, an argument] a situation in which neither side can win and no progress is possible □ The talks had reached a stalemate. -2. CHESS a position in which neither player can win.

Stalin ['stɑ:lɪn], Joseph (1879–1953) the leader of the Soviet Union from 1922 to 1953. He was responsible for industrializing the country, and for forcing peasant farmers into collective systems.

stalk [stɔ:k] ◇ n the thin stem that connects a flower, leaf, or fruit with the main part of a plant □ Pull off the leaves of the parsley and throw away the stalks. ◇ vt to follow  quietly and secretly, usually with the intention of eventually attacking them. ◇ vi to walk with long stiff steps, usually in a way that makes one look proud or angry □ Mr Joyce stalked around the classroom, looking for a victim.

stalker ['stɔ:kəʳ] n a person who follows somebody else over a period of time.

stall [stɔ:l] ◇ n -1. [in a market, street, exhibition] a table that something is displayed on. -2. [in a stable] an enclosed space for keeping an animal in. -3. US a small enclosed area, e.g. where one can use a toilet or have a shower □ a shower stall.

◇ vt -1. [vehicle, engine] to cause <sthg> to stop working while one is using it □ He stalled the car at the traffic lights. -2. [person] to delay <sb> from doing something; [process, operation] to delay <sthg> from happening □ See if you can stall him a little longer, just until we get the go-ahead from Geneva. □ They're trying to stall the final decision for as long as they can.

◇ vi -1. [vehicle, engine] to stop working because it does not have enough power or speed. -2. [person] to delay □ I think they're stalling on the loan until we make more concessions. □ Quit stalling!

◆ stalls npl GB THEATER the seats in a theater that are on the lowest level and in front of the stage □ We have seats in the stalls.

stallholder ['stɔ:l'hoʊldəʳ] n GB a person who sells goods from a market stall.

stallion ['stæljən] n a male horse.

stalwart ['stɔ:lwɜ:t] ◇ adj a stalwart supporter/campaigner etc a supporter/campaigner etc who is loyal and works hard for a particular cause or organization. ◇ n a loyal and firm supporter of something □ The party stalwarts will come to the meeting.

stamen ['steɪmən] n the part of a flower that produces pollen.

stamina ['stæmɪnə] n the strength required to do a physically or mentally tiring activity for a long time □ Cycling is a good way of building up stamina.

stammer ['stæməʳ] ◇ vi to speak with difficulty, often pausing or repeating sounds in the middle of words □ Gene stammered as he spoke. ◇ n a way of speaking in which one often stammers □ He has a stammer.

stamp [stæmp] ◇ n -1. [for mail] a small piece of printed paper, marked with a particular value, that one sticks on a letter to prove that the postage has been paid for □ a book of stamps □ Did you put a stamp on it? -2. [for document] a small tool that one presses onto a document in order to mark it with a particular design, date etc □ a rubber/date stamp. -3. the stamp of sthg a characteristic feature or sign of sthg □ a work which bears the stamp of originality.

◇ vt -1. [name, date] to mark a document with <sthg> using a stamp □ The machine stamps the time on your ticket. -2. to stamp one's foot to hit the ground with the bottom of one's foot, usually to show that one is angry. -3. [envelope, postcard] to stick a stamp on <sthg>. -4. [person, event, organization] to give a particular quality to <sb/sthg> □ Recent events have stamped the president as indecisive.

◇ vi -1. to stamp one's feet □ They were stamping around to keep warm. -2. to stamp on sthg [on the floor, an insect, somebody's foot] to hit sthg with the bottom of one's foot □ He stamped on the rotten plank and it broke.

◆ stamp out vt sep to stamp sthg out [fire, crime, disease] to get rid of sthg completely □ The aim of this campaign is to stamp out corruption at all levels.

stamp album n a book with blank pages for displaying a collection of stamps.

stamp-collecting n the hobby of collecting stamps.

stamp collector n a person who collects stamps.

stamp duty n a tax on legal documents in Britain.

stamped addressed envelope [stæmpt-ædrest-] n GB an envelope on which one has stuck a stamp and written one's address so that it can be used by somebody else to send one something.

stampede [stæm'pi:d] ◇ n -1. a sudden wild rush of a group of frightened animals □ a stampede of elephants. -2. a sudden rush to do something by a large number of people □ There was a stampede for the door. ◇ vi [horses, cattle] to move in a stampede.

stamp machine n a machine that gives postage stamps when money is put into it.

stance [US stæns, GB stɑ:ns] n -1. the way somebody is standing □ He showed them the correct stance for fencing. -2. an attitude expressed in public, especially toward a political matter □ He's taken an uncompromising stance on immigration.

stand [stænd] (pt & pp stood) ◇ vi -1. [person] to be upright with one's weight supported by one's feet □ I had to stand for the entire trip. □ "Take a seat." — "Thanks, I'd rather stand." □ Stand next to Lois and I'll take a photo of you. □ Then, to make things worse, I stood on her foot. -2. [person] to get up on one's feet and stand after one has been sitting, lying etc □ He stood to let them pass. □ Please stand for the final hymn. -3. [city, building, object] to be in a particular position or place □ An empty wine bottle stood on the table beside him. □ The house stood on the edge of a wood. -4. [house, church] to be upright when other buildings nearby have fallen down or been knocked down □ After 500 years, the castle was still standing. -5. COOKING [liquid, mixture] to remain somewhere for a period of time without being moved or touched □ Leave the mousse to stand overnight. ■ to stand empty [house, factory] to remain empty for some time □ The building had been standing empty for years. -6. [offer, agreement, law] to continue to be true or exist □ The company's original offer still stands. -7. to stand at sthg [total, temperature, inflation] to be at a particular level or total □ The score currently stands at three all. □ The total number of dead and injured now stands at 42. ■ as things stand the way things are at present □ With the law as it stands there is no hope of a conviction. -8. to know where sb stands on sthg to know what sb's opinion is about sthg □ Where do you stand on the equal rights issue? -9. GB POLITICS [person] to be a candidate in an election for a political position □ She's standing for Parliament in the local elections/as an Independent. -10. 'No standing' US no parking, even for a short time.

◇ vt -1. [bottle, vase, lamp] to put <sthg in a particular place> in an upright position □ We had to stand the sofa on its end to get it through the door. ■ to stand sthg against sthg [umbrella, stick, rifle] to put sthg in an almost upright position, leaning against sthg tall and fixed □ I stood my bicycle against the lamppost. -2. I/they etc can't stand it I/they etc find it very annoying or unpleasant and cannot accept it □ I couldn't stand the noise any longer. □ I don't know how you can stand working in those conditions. -3. [pressure, heat, test] to be strong enough to survive <sthg> □ The glass has been specially treated so that it can stand very high temperatures. -4. to stand sb a drink/meal to buy a drink/meal for sb □ Let me stand you a drink. -5. to stand trial LAW to be tried for a crime in court □ Hendricks is due to stand trial for manslaughter. -6. to stand to win/lose sthg to be in a position in which one is likely to win/lose sthg □ We stand to lose a lot of money if the deal falls through.

◇ n -1. [in the street] a small vehicle or stall, open at the front, for selling things out of doors; [at an exhibition] a small enclosed area where information and products are shown to the public □ a hot-dog/newspaper stand □ There were several stands at the conference advertising new software. -2. [for hats, umbrellas, music] a frame or piece of furniture for supporting a particular kind of object □ a hat/an umbrella/a music stand. -3. SPORT [at a stadium] a large structure, open at the front, with rows of seats or spaces where people can sit or stand to watch a game □ We had seats in the stands. -4. [on a subject, against something] a strong opinion expressed in public □ Mr Lee was admired for his brave stand on welfare reform. ■ to make OR take a stand to state one's opinion or position on something strongly in public □ The Commission has not yet taken a stand on the controversial issue of farm subsidies. -5. to make a stand MILITARY to fight hard to defend oneself or a place □ In this battle the South made its last stand against the Union forces. -6. the stand US LAW the place in a court where people sit or stand when they give evidence □ Will the first witness please take the stand.

◆ stand aside vi [person, crowd] to move to one side, especially to let somebody or something pass.

- ◆ stand back vi [crowd, people] to move backward, out of the way □ Stand back, please, and let the ambulance through!
- ◆ stand by ◇ vt fus -1. to stand by sb [friend, colleague, husband] to support sb who is in a difficult situation □ His wife stood by him throughout the trial. -2. to stand by sthg [one's promise, offer, decision] to state that sthg one said earlier is still true □ Despite pressure from colleagues, Esposito is standing by his decision not to resign.
 - ◇ vi -1. [army, emergency services, police] to wait and be ready to do something if it is necessary □ Cabin crew, stand by for take-off. □ A medical team is standing by at Guy's Hospital.
- 2. [person] to let something bad happen without trying to stop it □ Are you just going to stand by and watch your own daughter ruin her life?
- ◆ stand down ◇ vi [person] to give up an official position, especially an important one □ He will stand down as party leader in favor of a younger candidate. ◇ vt sep to stand sb down AUS [employee] to dismiss sb from their job.
- ◆ stand for vt fus -1. to stand for sthg [for justice, democracy, equality] to believe in or support sthg □ the values this party stands for. -2. to stand for sthg [letter, sign, initial] to be an abbreviation or short form of sthg □ "PC" stands for personal computer. -3. I/he/she etc won't stand for it I/he/she etc will not accept it or allow it □ I won't stand for bad language in this classroom!
- ◆ stand in vi to do somebody's job or duties temporarily □ I'm standing in for Jill this week while she's away at a conference.
- ◆ stand out vi -1. [person, color, object] to be able to be seen or noticed easily □ Her dark eyes really stood out against her pale face. □ His height makes him stand out in any crowd. -2. [moment, achievement, player] to be much better than other things or people of the same kind □ She really stands out from the rest of the class because her accent is so good. □ In the world of precision motors, there is one name that stands out above the rest.
- ◆ stand up ◇ vi -1. [person] to get up on one's feet and stand after one has been sitting, lying etc □ Don't stand up too quickly, or you'll feel faint. □ He pushed back his chair and stood up to greet me. -2. [claim, evidence, explanation] to be accepted as true □ His story will never stand up in a court of law. ◇ vt sep to stand sb up [one's boyfriend, girlfriend] to deliberately not go to meet sb one has arranged to meet (informal use) □ We had a date for seven thirty, but she stood me up.
- ◆ stand up for vt fus to stand up for sb/sthg to strongly defend sb/sthg that is being attacked or criticized □ You have to learn to stand up for yourself/your rights.
- ◆ stand up to vt fus -1. to stand up to sthg [the weather, heat] to remain in good condition in spite of sthg □ Those boots have stood up to some pretty rough treatment. -2. to stand up to sb [boss, bully, country] to refuse to accept unfair or unkind treatment from sb, especially sb powerful or important □ It's time someone had the courage to stand up to her.

standalone ['stændəlon] n a computer system that operates on its own and not as part of a network.

standard ['stændəd] ◇ adj -1. [size, feature, behavior] that is usual and normal in a particular situation □ What is the standard procedure for registering a complaint? □ Seatbelts are now a standard requirement. -2. [spelling, pronunciation] that is generally accepted as correct □ The end of the 14th century saw the rise of Standard English. -3. [text, work] that is generally accepted as the best-known or most useful □ It's regarded as the standard work on Freud.

◇ n -1. a level of quality, especially a level considered to be acceptable □ a high standard of education/work □ Candidates must reach the required standard in each exam. □ safety standards. -2. something that other things can be measured against or compared to in order to find out how good they are □ It's a difficult task by anyone's standards. □ This latest model looks set to become an industry standard. -3. a flag.

◆ standards npl the ideas about how to behave that affect people's attitudes and behavior □ There has been a visible decline in standards in recent years. □ She has the highest moral standards.

standard-bearer n a person who leads or represents a particular movement.

standardize, -ise ['stændədaɪz] vt [spellings, methods] to change <things in a particular group>, so they are at the same level or can be measured by the same standards □ There has been an attempt to standardize tax legislation.

standard lamp n GB a tall lamp that stands on the floor.

standard of living (pl standards of living) n [of person, country, group] the level of comfort and luxury that somebody has in their daily life □ The standard of living has fallen in recent years in this country.

standard time n the official local time in a particular part of the world.

standby ['stændbaɪ] (pl standbys) n a person or thing that is ready to be used if necessary; a seat on a plane that is not reserved, but that can be taken at the last moment, usually at a lower price □ Mom's a good standby when the babysitter is busy. □ a standby ticket/flight. ■ to be on standby to be ready to be used when needed; to be able to travel on a plane or train if there is a spare seat at the last moment □ Police reinforcements were on standby in case of trouble. □ I'll put you on standby.

stand-in n a person who does another person's job for a short time if that person is ill or cannot be there.

standing ['stændɪŋ] ◇ adj [joke, invitation, army] that always exists and is available. ◇ n -1. somebody's reputation or position compared to other people □ This success will improve his standing among the profession. □ a doc- tor of international standing. -2. of ten/twenty etc years' standing for the last or previous ten/twenty etc years □ They are friends of twenty years' standing.

standing charge n a fixed amount one has to pay for the use of a particular service, e.g. electricity or gas.

standing committee n a group of people whose job is to study a particular problem or subject for a government.

standing order n an instruction that somebody gives to their bank to pay a fixed amount of money to a particular person or company at regular intervals.

standing ovation n to give sb/sth a standing ovation [performer, performance] to stand up and clap to show one's appreciation of sb/sth after a concert, show etc □ She received a standing ovation from the audience.

standing room n [in a bus, theater, stadium] space for standing in a vehicle or place, usually when there are no seats left □ It's standing room only, I'm afraid.

standoff ['stændɒf] n a situation in which neither side in an argument can gain an advantage.

standoffish [ˌstænd'ɒfɪʃ] adj to be standoffish to be unpleasantly formal and not very friendly.

standpipe ['stændpaɪp] n a pipe that is connected to a water supply and provides water to a public place, e.g. in the street.

standpoint ['stændpɔɪnt] n one's individual opinion of or way of thinking about a particular subject □ The situation appears quite different from an American standpoint.

standstill ['stændstɪl] n to be at a standstill [car, train] not to be moving; [work, talks] not to be progressing □ The traffic remained at a standstill until police had removed the debris from the road.
■ to come to a standstill [car, train] to stop moving.

Stanislavski [US ˌstæni'slɑːvski, GB -'slæv-], Constantin (1863–1938) a Russian actor and theater director whose method of training actors had a strong influence on US theater and cinema.

stank [stæŋk] past tense of stink.

Stanley knifeTM ['stænlɪ-] n a very sharp knife with a blade that can be removed and changed by unscrewing it from the handle.

stanza ['stænzə] n a group of lines in a poem that has a definite pattern.

staple ['steɪpl] ◇ adj a staple food/export etc the main food/export etc □ It's getting hard to find even staple goods like flour and milk.
◇ n -1. [for paper] a small piece of thin wire that is forced through sheets of paper with a special device and bent over at the back so that it holds the sheets together. -2. [for wood, fabric] a thin curved piece of metal used to attach pieces of wood together, fix fabric to a wall etc. -3. [of somebody's diet] one of the types of food that somebody needs and uses all the time □ Milk and bread are staples. -4. INDUSTRY one of the main products that is produced by a particular country.

◇ vt [paper, document, copy] to fix <sth> to something else using a staple.

staple diet n the food that forms the main part of what a person usually eats □ a staple diet of rice and fruit.

staple gun n a device used for fixing paper or fabric to a surface with strong staples.

stapler ['steɪplə] n a device used for fixing sheets of paper together with staples.

star [stɑː] (pt & pp starred, cont starring) ◇ n -1. [in the sky] a very large mass of burning gas in space, that is seen as a point of light in the night sky □ From the Earth we can see the Moon, stars, and planets. -2. [on a flag, badge] a shape with five or more points that is supposed to represent a star □ a three-/four-pointed star □ The flag has five white stars on a blue background. -3. [of TV, radio, movies] a person who is very famous, especially in music, movies, or sports; the best or most well-known actor in a play or movie □ a pop/football star □ She was the star of the show. □ a star player/performer. -4. [given to hotels, restaurants] a sign that represents the level of quality of something, or the level of importance of somebody □ This hotel/restaurant has three stars. -5. an asterisk (*).

◇ vt to have <sb> in one of the most important roles □ The movie stars Cary Grant.

◇ vi [actor, actress] to have the most important male or female role □ She starred in "Gone with the Wind".

◆ stars npl sb's stars sb's horoscope, especially one that is printed regularly in a newspaper or magazine □ I always read my stars in the morning.

star attraction n the performer in a show, circus etc that people most want to see.

starboard ['stɑː'bɔːd] n the right side when one is on a ship, boat, or plane and facing forward □ The boat was listing to starboard. □ the starboard side/engine.

starch [stɑːtʃ] n -1. a product used for making cloth stiff. -2. a substance that is found in foods such as rice, pasta, potatoes, and bread; a kind of food that contains this substance.

starched [stɑːtʃt] adj [collar, sheet] that has been made stiff with starch.

starchy ['stɑːtʃɪ] (compar starchier, superl starchiest) adj [rice, potato] that contains a lot of starch □ starchy foods like rice and potatoes.

stardom ['stɑːdɒm] n the state of being a famous movie star, pop star etc.

stare [steə] ◇ vi to look at somebody or something for a long time without moving one's eyes □ She stared at him in disbelief/shock. ◇ n the act of staring at somebody or something □ He gave me a long hard stare.

starfish ['stɑːfɪʃ] (pl starfish OR starfishes) n a flat sea creature that is shaped like a star.

stark [stɑːk] ◇ adj -1. [pattern, style, room] that is noticeable because it is very simple and has no decoration □ The room was stark and functional. -2. [reality, fact, contrast] that seems harsh and unpleasant □ The hotel was in stark contrast to the place we had stayed at before.

 ◇ adv stark naked completely naked.

starlet ['stɑ:rlət] n a young actress who has had some small roles in movies and hopes to become famous.

starlight ['stɑ:rlaɪt] n the light produced by the stars in a night sky.

starling ['stɑ:rlɪŋ] n a very common European bird, often found in cities, that has green-black feathers.

starlit ['stɑ:rlɪt] adj [night, sky] that is bright with stars.

starry ['stɑ:ri] (compar starrier, superl starriest) adj [night, sky] that is full of stars.

starry-eyed [-'aɪd] adj [person] who has a romantic and unrealistic attitude.

Stars and Bars n the Stars and Bars a name for the Confederate flag in the American Civil War.

Stars and Stripes n the Stars and Stripes a name for the US flag. There are 50 stars (one for each state) and 13 stripes (one for each original colony).

star sign n a sign of the zodiac □ My star sign is Aries.

Star-Spangled Banner [-spæŋɡld-] n the Star-Spangled Banner the name given to the US national anthem; a name for the US flag.

star-studded [-stɑ:dəd] adj [cast, movie, show] that includes many famous performers.

start [stɑ:t] ◇ n -1. [of a meeting, race, year] the beginning of an event or period of time □ This whole venture was doomed right from the start. □ I missed the start of the play. □ The whole evening was a disaster from start to finish. □ I'd better go now, I have an early start in the morning. ■ to get off to a good/bad start [event, project, relationship] to do well/badly at the beginning □ The negotiations got off to a good start yesterday. □ I'm afraid Jerry and I got off to a bad start as soon as we met. ■ to make a start on sthg to start doing sthg □ It's time you made a start on your homework. -2. [of fear, surprise] a small movement one makes because one is suddenly frightened or surprised □ With a start, I realized the door had shut behind me. -3. to have a start on sb/sthg to be ahead of sb/sthg by a particular amount of time □ They had an hour's start (on us).

◇ vt -1. [trip, meal, work] to do <sthg one was not doing before> □ What time do you normally start work? □ It suddenly started to rain. □ She started to laugh OR started laughing. □ You've started smoking again, I see. -2. [engine, car] to cause  to begin working □ Tell me when to start the tape recorder. -3. [war, fight, fire] to be the cause of <sthg> □ Are you trying to start an argument? □ They are threatening to start legal proceedings. □ Police are trying to discover what started the blaze. -4. [business, band, campaign] to do what is necessary to make <sthg> happen □ My ambition was always to start my own theater group.

◇ vi -1. [work, movie, meeting] to begin to happen, especially at a particular time □ Work on the new airport building is due to start next spring. □ The trouble started some months ago, when I began to get terrible headaches.

-2. [speaker, author] to begin discussing or explaining something, e.g. when one is making a speech □ I'd like to start by saying how grateful I am to have been asked to come here today. -3. [employee, actor, politician] to begin one's life, career etc by having a particular job or role □ I started in publishing, then switched to advertising. -4. [machine, engine] The car wouldn't start this morning. -5. [person] to make a small movement because one is suddenly scared or surprised □ The door slammed, making her start.

◆ for a start adv a phrase used to introduce the first of several facts, reasons etc that one is about to mention □ For a start, it's none of their business!

◆ to start with adv -1. at the beginning of a relationship, series of events etc □ To start with, they seemed to get along really well. -2. = for a start.

◆ start off ◇ vi -1. to start off with sthg [movie, meeting, discussion] to have sthg as its first part or stage □ The book starts off with a description of a funeral. ■ to start off by doing sthg to do sthg first before going on to something else □ I started off by doing research, then got a job as a teacher. ■ to start off as sthg to be sthg in the first stage of one's development or career □ a huge retail chain which started off as one small hardware store. -2. to begin to move or travel in a particular direction □ The car started off down the road. □ At ten o'clock, we started off for home.

◇ vt sep -1. to start sb off to make sb do sthg they were not doing before □ We'll start you off on some of the easier jobs. -2. to start sthg off [conflict, discussions, meeting] to make sthg exist or happen □ I'd like to start off this session by welcoming some new members.

◆ start on vt fus to start on sthg to begin doing sthg that will take a long time, or that has to be done □ He finished the sandwiches and started on the cake. □ There's no point starting on the report until tomorrow.

◆ start out vi -1. to start out as sthg to be sthg in the first stage of one's development or career □ He started out as one of Nixon's most trusted aides. ■ to start out by doing sthg to do sthg first before going on to something else □ The author starts out by thanking all those who helped her in her research. -2. to begin a trip □ What time should we start out tomorrow?

◆ start over vi to stop what one was doing before and start it again from the beginning □ After his divorce, he moved to Denver and started all over.

◆ start up ◇ vt sep -1. to start sthg up [company, restaurant, club] to make sthg start happening □ There are plans to start up a day-care center in the neighborhood. -2. to start sthg up [car, engine, machine] to make sthg start working □ Start up the engine for me, please.
 ◇ vi -1. [music, noise, wind] to begin to be heard □ The orchestra started up. -2. [car, engine, machine] The motor started up. -3. to establish a business □ They started up in business in 1989. □ He's starting up as an architect.

♦ start with vt fus to start with sb/sthg to do, have, consider etc sb/sthg first, before anybody or anything else □ The book starts with an analysis of working conditions at that time. □ I'm going to start with soup, then have fish.

starter ['stɑ:tə] n -1. SPORT a person who officially starts a race. -2. AUTO an electric motor that starts a car engine. -3. GB COOKING a small amount of food that is served at the beginning of a meal before the main dish.

starter motor n AUTO a starter.

starter pack n a collection of information to help somebody who is starting something, e.g. a hobby or course.

starting block ['stɑ:tɪŋ] n one of two blocks, attached to the ground, against which a runner pushes both feet at the start of a race in order to increase speed quickly.

starting point n -1. something that starts a discussion, process etc □ The starting point for our lecture was a sculpture by Degas. -2. the place where one starts a trip □ Whitby should be a good starting point for our walk.

starting price n the final odds that are offered to people betting just before the start of a horse or dog race.

startle ['stɑ:tɪl] vt to surprise <sb> by making a sudden movement or loud noise □ He looked startled.

startling ['stɑ:tɪŋ] adj [news, revelation, event] that seems very surprising and shocking.

starvation [stɑ:'veɪʃn] n the state of having no food, which causes illness and death □ Millions have already died of starvation.

starve [stɑ:'v] ◇ vt -1. to stop  from eating food with the result that they become weak or die □ They used to starve their prisoners to death. -2. to starve sb of sthg [of attention, love, funds] to prevent sb from having sthg that they need □ As a child, he felt starved of affection. ◇ vi to become ill or die because one does not have enough food to eat □ People are starving to death.

starving ['stɑ:'vɪŋ] adj to be starving to be very hungry (informal use) □ When's dinner? I'm starving!

state [steɪt] ◇ n -1. the condition that somebody or something is in □ Look at the state of this room! □ He's in a reasonable state of health. □ the state of the economy □ She's in a state of shock. ■ not to be in a fit state to do sthg not to be physically or mentally capable of doing sthg for a certain period of time □ He's not in a fit state to drive. □ You're in no fit state to go to work. ■ to be in a state to be very nervous or very upset about something (informal use) □ She made a mistake and got into an awful state about it. -2. POLITICS a country considered as a political unit controlled by its own government □ the Balkan States □ the EU member states □ Can we trust this man with affairs of state? -3. [in a country] one of the areas that some countries are divided into, and which are responsible for some of their own affairs □ the state of Louisiana □ a state election □ the State Governor □ state tax. -4. the state the political organization of a country □ The state is privatizing the national railroad system. □ a state-run/state-controlled industry □ a state ceremony/pension/subsidy.

◇ vt [name, amount, reason] to say or write sthg in a formal or clear way as a piece of information for somebody else □ The guidelines clearly state that regular tests are essential. □ Check that the delivery contains the stated number of items as per the invoice. □ Please state salary expectations.

♦ State n -1. the State the political organization of a country. ■ the State Department, the Department of State the US government department responsible for relations with other countries. -2. the State of the Union address a speech made once a year by the US President in January in which he describes his plans for the year ahead.

♦ States: the States the United States of America (informal use).

state education n education provided and paid for by the state.

statehouse ['steɪthaus, pl -haʊzɪz] n the building where the government of a US state meets.

stateless ['steɪtləs] adj [person] who does not officially belong to any country.

state line n in the USA, the border between one state and another.

stately ['steɪtlɪ] (compar statelier, superl stateliest) adj [mansion, ceremony] that seems impressive, dignified, and formal □ The procession moved along at a stately pace.

stately home n GB a large old house in the countryside that is historically interesting and that is sometimes open to the public.

statement ['steɪtmənt] n -1. a written or spoken opinion or fact; an official announcement to the public □ I disagree with your last statement. □ In a recent policy statement, you mentioned tax incentives. -2. LAW an official description given by a witness or criminal about a crime or accident □ The police took statements from all the witnesses. □ Would you be willing to make a statement? -3. FINANCE a list of information that a bank provides for a customer about their account, showing all the deposits and withdrawals made over a period of time □ a monthly/quarterly statement.

statement account n US a savings account where the customer receives regular statements from their bank.

statement of account n a list sent to a customer each month by a supplier that shows what they have bought, how much they have paid, and how much they still owe.

Staten Island [ˌstætən-] an island in New York Harbor, southwest of Manhattan, forming the Richmond borough of New York City. SIZE: 155 sq kms. POPULATION: 352,121.

state of affairs n a general situation □ Well, this is a pretty terrible state of affairs □ How long do you expect this state of affairs to continue?

state of emergency n a period when a government gives itself powers that it does not normally have in order to deal with a very serious situation or a disaster □ The government has declared a state of emergency.

state of mind (pl states of mind) n the way one feels at a particular time □ I'm concerned about his state of mind.

state-of-the-art adj [technology, computer] that uses the most modern methods, ideas, or materials.

state-owned [-'əʊnd] adj [industry, business] that is owned by the state.

state school n a school that is paid for by the state and provides free education to all children.

state secret n information that is kept secret by a country because it would be harmed if the information were known.

state's evidence n US to turn state's evidence [criminal] to give information about another criminal in a court, especially in order to receive a less severe punishment.

stateside ['steɪtsaɪd] US ◇ adj that is connected with or is in the direction of the USA. ◇ adv: We're moving stateside.

statesman ['steɪtsmən] (pl statesmen [-mən]) n a very respected and experienced politician.

statesmanship ['steɪtsmənʃɪp] n the quality of being a statesman.

states' rights n in US politics, the belief that US states should be able to make decisions on their own, without the approval of the national government.

state trooper n in the USA, a member of the police force of a particular state.

static ['stætɪk] ◇ adj [sales, prices, process] not changing □ The local population remains relatively static. ◇ n -1. the noise or other effect of electricity in the air that interferes with radio or television signals. -2. static electricity.

static electricity n electricity formed by friction that collects in one's hair and clothes and on materials such as plastic.

station ['steɪʃn] ◇ n -1. [for trains] a place where trains stop to let passengers get on or off □ Penn Station □ a subway station. -2. = bus station. -3. TV & RADIO a company that broadcasts on TV or radio □ Do you mind tuning in to another station? □ a radio station. -4. a building where a particular kind of technical work is done □ a monitoring/research station. -5. AUS a large farm □ a sheep station. -6. [in society] one's position in society (formal use). ◇ vt -1. [guard, observer] to put <sb> somewhere to do a particular job □ Police officers were stationed at all the exits. -2. MILITARY to send <sb> somewhere to carry out a military duty □ The troops were stationed on the coast.

stationary [US 'steɪʃənəri, GB -əri] adj [vehicle, driver] that is not moving □ Wait until the plane is stationary before unfastening your seatbelt.

stationer ['steɪʃnəri] n a person who runs a store that sells stationery. ■ a stationer's a store that sells stationery.

stationery [US 'steɪʃənəri, GB -əri] n -1. paper, pens, envelopes, and other materials for writing □ office stationery □ a stationery store. -2. writing paper and matching envelopes □ gift stationery.

station house n US the local police office (old-fashioned use).

stationmaster [US 'steɪʃnmɑ:stər, GB -mɑ:stə] n the person in charge of a train station.

station wagon n US & AUS a big car that has a door at the back and space between this door and the back seats for luggage.

statistic [stə'tɪstɪk] n a piece of information expressed as a number □ government statistics □ I don't want my son to be just another statistic!

◆ statistics n a kind of mathematics that is concerned with presenting and analyzing information in the form of numbers □ She's studying statistics at college.

statistical [stə'tɪstɪkəl] adj [analysis, evidence] that is connected with the use of statistics □ There is very little statistical evidence.

statistician [stætə'stɪʃɪn] n a person who studies statistics, or who works with statistics.

statue ['stætʃu:] n a sculpture of a person or animal that is usually large and often made out of a single piece of stone or metal □ a bronze statue of Napoleon.

Statue of Liberty: the Statue of Liberty a very large statue in New York Harbor, given to the USA by France in 1886. The statue shows a woman holding a torch.

statuesque [stætʃu:'esk] adj [woman] who is tall and beautiful.

statuette [stætʃu:'et] n a small sculpture, usually of a person, used as an ornament in a house.

stature ['stætʃə] n -1. a person's height □ short in stature. -2. a person's importance and influence □ a campaigner of some stature.

status ['steɪtəs] n -1. one's social, professional, or legal situation □ They have the status of political refugees. □ What is your marital status: single, married, or divorced? □ a high/low-status job. -2. social importance and wealth, when this impresses other people □ All she thinks about is status and money.

status quo [-'kwou] n the status quo the situation that exists at a particular time □ Nobody wants to upset the status quo.

status symbol n something, such as an expensive car, that one buys to show that one is important and rich.

statute ['stætʃu:tɪ] n a law that has been formally written down.

statute book n the statute book all the laws that exist in a particular country.

statutory [US 'stætʃətɔ:ri, GB -utəri] adj [limit, period] that is fixed by law □ This guarantee does not affect your statutory rights.'

staunch [stɔ:ntʃ] ◇ adj a staunch supporter/believer etc a person who is very loyal to a particular person/belief etc □ Great Britain has always been one of our staunchest allies. ◇ vt to stop <blood> from flowing from a wound □ Use a clean handkerchief to staunch the flow.

stave [steɪv] (pt & pp staved OR stove) n MUSIC the set of five horizontal lines and four spaces that music is written on.

◆ stave off vt sep to stave sthg off [hunger, disaster, defeat] to stop sthg happening or affecting one for a time □ She tried to stave off further awkward questions.

stay [steɪ] ◇ vi -1. [person, vehicle, animal] to remain in a place and not move away for a certain amount of time □ He asked them to stay for dinner. □ I stayed behind to help her out. □ I think I'll stay at home tonight. □ We can't stay long, I'm afraid. □ Turn right at the next intersection, and stay on this road for five miles. □ Stay there! ■ to stay put to remain where one is (informal use) -2. [tourist, guest] to spend time in a place on vacation or on business □ I'm going to stay with friends. □ He stayed in Paris for four days. □ I'll be staying overnight in a hotel. □ We always stay at the Marriot. -3. [person, level] to continue to be in a particular state □ Stay still/calm! □ She stayed awake till midnight. □ If the interest rate stays at this level...

◇ n a period of time that one spends in a place □ We really enjoyed our stay in Prague. □ a three-week stay.

◆ stay away vi to stay away from sb/sthg not to go near sb/sthg □ I'd stay away from that part of town, if I were you.

◆ stay in vi to stay at home and not go out □ I feel like staying in tonight.

◆ stay on vi to stay somewhere after the time when one could or is expected to leave □ We stayed on after the meeting.

◆ stay out vi -1. to remain away from home, especially in the evening □ Don't stay out too late. -2. [strikers] to continue to be on strike. -3. to stay out of sthg [of argument, trouble, discussion] not to get involved in sthg □ Try and stay out of trouble! □ Look, just stay out of this!

◆ stay up vi to go to bed at a later time than usual, or not at all □ We stayed up late. □ Justin stayed up to finish his work.

staying power ['steɪɪŋ-] n the mental or physical strength to finish a difficult piece of work, a race etc □ I don't have the staying power to party till dawn any more.

St Bernard [US ˌseɪntbɑː'nɑːrd, GB sənt'bɜːnəd] n a large dog with a thick coat that was originally kept by Swiss monks to rescue people who got lost or injured in the snow.

STD n -1. (abbr of subscriber trunk dialing) in Britain, a telephone system that allows users to make long-distance calls without having to go through an operator. -2. (abbr of sexually transmitted disease) a disease that is caught through sexual contact.

stead [sted] n to stand sb in good stead to be very useful to sb at a later time □ Your hard work throughout the year will stand you in good stead for the exams. □ My languages have always stood me in good stead at work.

steadfast [US 'stedfæst, GB -fɑːst] adj -1. [supporter, friend] who is always loyal □ a steadfast supporter of the Labor Party. -2. [resolve, belief] that remains firm, despite pressure to change □ He was steadfast in his refusal to sell his business.

steadily ['stedɪli] adv [improve, move, stare] see steady □ Her condition steadily worsened. □ Rain was falling steadily.

steady ['stedɪ] (compar steadier, superl steadiest, pt & pp steadied) ◇ adj -1. [improvement, increase, decrease] that happens gradually and always at the same speed □ a steady rise in unemployment. -2. [speed, flow] that is regular and does not change; [movement] that is smooth and controlled □ Add the oil in a steady stream. □ She is learning at a steady pace. -3. to be steady [hand] to be still and not shaking □ Hold the camera steady! □ That ladder doesn't look very steady. -4. [voice] that is calm and controlled; [stare, gaze] that is fixed and does not change □ "Get out of here," he said in a quiet, steady voice. -5. [relationship, job] that will probably continue □ He has a steady girlfriend. -6. [person] who is sensible and can be depended on □ a steady, dependable sort of girl.

◇ vt -1. [boat, camera] to fix or hold <sthg> so that it does not move □ Jim steadied the ladder as I climbed up. ■ to steady oneself to stop oneself from losing one's balance. -2. [voice, nerves] to control or calm <sthg> □ How about a quick drink to steady our nerves?

steak [steɪk] n -1. beef of very good quality; a piece of this □ He bought some steak from the butcher. □ a juicy steak. -2. a large piece of fish □ a fish/tuna steak.

steakhouse ['steɪkhaʊs, pl -hauzɪz] n a restaurant that specializes in cooking steaks.

steal [stiːl] (pt stole, pp stolen) ◇ vt -1. [jewelry, money, food] to take <sthg that belongs to somebody else> without intending to give it back; [idea, invention] to take and use <sthg that somebody else thought of first> □ Somebody's stolen my purse! □ She stole a book from the store. □ They stole the idea from a book by John McGuire. -2. [look, glance, kiss] to give <sthg> to somebody quickly or secretly □ She stole a quick glance at Luis as he stood beside her. -3. BASEBALL to run to and reach  while the pitcher is throwing the ball at the batter.

◇ vi -1. [person] He was caught stealing. -2. to move somewhere quickly and quietly □ I stole down the stairs and sneaked out.

◇ n BASEBALL the act of stealing a base.

stealing ['stiːlɪŋ] n the act or crime of taking things that belong to other people without intending to give them back □ He was arrested for stealing.

stealth [stelθ] n BY OR WITH STEALTH [move, creep, enter] quietly and secretly.

stealthy ['stelθɪ] (compar stealthier, superl stealthiest) adj [glance, step] that is done quietly and secretly so that nobody notices.

steam [stiːm] ◇ n the gas formed by boiling water; power produced by this gas □ Clouds of steam rose into the air. □ a steam train. ■ to let off steam to let out energy or anger that is increasing inside one (informal use). ■ to run out of steam to have no energy or enthusiasm left. ◇ vt [fish, vegetables, pudding] to cook <sthg> using steam. ◇ vi -1. [soup, kettle, wet clothes] to produce steam □ She carried in two plates of steaming chowder. -2. [train, ship] to move by being powered by steam □ The train steamed out of the station.

◆ steam up ◇ vt sep -1. to steam sthg up [glasses, window] to make sthg become covered in steam. -2. to get steamed up about sthg to become annoyed about sthg (informal use) □ There's no point in getting all steamed up about it. ◇ vi [glasses, window] All the car windows had steamed up.

steamboat ['sti:mboʊt] n a boat that is powered by steam, especially one used for traveling on rivers.

steam engine n a train or engine that uses steam to make it work.

steamer ['sti:mə] n -1. SHIPPING a large ship that is powered by steam. -2. COOKING a container used for steaming food.

steam iron n an electric iron that releases steam to make it easier to get rid of creases.

steamroller ['sti:mroulə] n a large vehicle with very heavy wide wheels for making road surfaces flat.

steam shovel n US a large machine that has a long arm with a shovel at the end and is used for digging up and moving dirt.

steamy ['sti:mɪ] (compar steamier, superl steamiest) adj -1. [room] that is full of steam. -2. [movie, book, scene] erotic (informal use).

steel [sti:l] ◇ n a strong metal consisting of iron with small amounts of carbon that is used for making tools, bridges, machinery etc □ The girders are (made of) steel. □ a steel bar/structure □ the steel industry. ◇ vt to steel oneself to prepare oneself for a bad or unpleasant experience □ She had steeled herself for bad news.

steel wool n a ball of steel threads, used for cleaning or smoothing a surface.

steelworker ['sti:lwɜ:kə] n a person who works in a steelworks.

steelworks ['sti:lwɜ:kz] (pl steelworks) n a factory where steel is made.

steely ['sti:li] (compar steelier, superl steeliest) adj -1. steely gray/blue gray/blue that has the color of steel. -2. a steely will/determination a will/determination that is very strong and tough.

steep [sti:p] ◇ adj -1. [hill, road, stairs] that rises or falls sharply □ The mountain was too steep for me to ski down. -2. [increase, rise, fall] that is very large and sudden □ There has been a steep rise in the number of suicides among young men. -3. [price, fee] that seems unusually expensive (informal use) □ $100? That's a bit steep! ◇ vt [clothes, fruit] to put <sthg> in water or another liquid.

steeped [sti:pt] adj to be steeped in sthg [in history, tradition, culture] to be full of sthg □ This mansion is steeped in legend.

steeple ['sti:pl] n a pointed church tower.

steeplechase ['sti:plʃeɪs] n -1. a horse race over two miles long in which the horses have to jump over fences and other obstacles. -2. a race, usually 3,000 meters long, in which runners have to jump over hurdles and water jumps.

steeplejack ['sti:pldʒæk] n a person whose job involves climbing up towers and steeples in order to repair or paint them.

steeply ['sti:pli] adv [rise, increase, fall] see steep □ The hill sloped steeply upward. □ Prices have risen steeply.

steer [stiə] ◇ vt -1. [bus, ship, car] to make  go in a particular direction □ Part of the test was to steer the motorcycle between the cones. -2. [guest, group] to guide <sb> in a particular direction □ The waitress steered them to a corner table. -3. [project, subject] to make <sthg> go in a particular direction □ He tried to steer the conversation around to/away from politics. □ The bill was skillfully steered through the Assembly.

◇ vi [car, boat] to move in a particular direction; [driver, captain] to make a vehicle or boat go in a particular direction □ The bus steered straight into the hedge. ■ to steer clear of sb/sthg to avoid sb/sthg □ He tried to steer clear of awkward questions.

◇ n a young male animal of the cattle family, whose sexual organs have been removed.

steering ['stiəriŋ] n AUTO the parts of a vehicle that make it possible to steer it □ I've got a problem with the steering.

steering column n a bar in a vehicle to which the steering wheel is attached.

steering committee n a committee set up by a government or organization to decide on activities, subjects for discussion etc.

steering lock n the position where the steering wheel cannot be turned any further in a particular direction.

steering wheel n the wheel in a vehicle that the driver turns to go in a particular direction.

Stein [stain], Gertrude (1874–1946) a US writer and art collector who lived in Paris for much of her life. Her best-known work is The Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas.

Steinbeck ['stainbek], John (1902–1968) a US writer whose work includes The Grapes of Wrath and Of Mice and Men.

stellar ['stelə] adj [performance, cast, career] that is of a very high standard or is very successful.

stem [stem] (pt & pp stemmed, cont stemming) ◇ n -1. [of a plant] the long central part of a plant that grows above the ground, and from which flowers and leaves grow. -2. [of a glass] the thin vertical part of a wine glass that connects the base with the part that contains the drink. -3. [of a pipe] the long part of a tobacco pipe. -4. GRAMMAR [of a verb, noun] the part of a word that stays the same when different endings are attached to it.

- ◇ vt [flow, bleeding, advance] to step <sthg> □ efforts to stem the rising tide of nationalism.
- ◆ stem from vt fus to stem from sthg to be the result of sthg □ The problem stemmed from his unwillingness to modernize his business.
- stench [stɛnʃ] n a very strong and unpleasant smell □ The stench of rotten eggs.
- stencil ['stɛnsɪl] (US pt & pp stenciled, cont stenciling, GB pt & pp stencilled, cont stencilling) ◇ n a piece of card, plastic etc with a design cut into it that can be copied onto a surface by laying it on the surface and painting over the holes; the design that is copied in this way. ◇ vt [words, pattern, name] to use a stencil to copy <sthg> onto a surface.
- stenographer [stə'nɒgrəfə] n US a typist who also uses shorthand.
- stenography [stə'nɒgrəfɪ] n US shorthand.
- step [stɛp] (pt & pp stepped, cont stepping) ◇ n -1. the act of lifting one's foot, placing it somewhere else, and putting one's weight on it; the distance covered in this way; the sound of this □ Take three steps back. □ The car was only a few steps away from her. □ I could hear the steps getting nearer. ■ to be in step with sb/sthg to act or think in the same way as sb/sthg □ Colonel Raddle, unfortunately, is not in step with modern times. ■ to be out of step with sb/sthg to act or think in a different way from sb/sthg □ The government is out of step with the wishes of its people. ■ to watch OR mind one's step to be careful when walking somewhere; to be careful about what one does or says in order to avoid trouble □ Watch your step, the floor is slippery. □ He'll get into trouble if he doesn't watch his step in future. -2. [toward success, peace, a solution] one action in a series of actions that are intended to produce a particular result □ We must take steps to remedy this situation. □ The next step is to raise funds. -3. [in a process] one part of a process □ I'm behind your decision every step of the way. □ Their success is due to remaining one step ahead of their competitors. □ The deal is a major step forward for Carrigi & Co. ■ step by step gradually □ She explained the process step by step. □ a step-by-step guide to home maintenance. -4. [for walking up or down] a narrow flat surface where one places one's foot when walking from one level to another □ Be careful of the step. □ Someone was standing on the bottom step. -5. [of a ladder] one of the horizontal bars of a ladder. -6. SPORT a form of exercise in which one steps onto and off a board that is slightly raised above the ground. -7. US MUSIC the interval between two notes which are next to each other in a scale, but which can be divided into smaller intervals.
- ◇ vi -1. to take a step □ She stepped forward and shook his hand. □ He stepped off the bus/out of the car. □ Step this way, please, and I'll show you to your table. -2. to step on sthg [on a snail, banana skin] to put one's foot down on sthg □ Did I just step on your toes?
- ◆ steps npl -1. two or more steps in a row, one above the other, that are usually made of stone, and found outside □ a flight of steps □ By the time he reached the top of the steps, she was gone. -2. GB a stepladder.
- ◆ step aside vi -1. to move to one side □ The onlookers stepped aside to let the carriage pass. -2. = step down.
- ◆ step back vi to think about a situation in a different way □ Try to step back a little and see the problem from Marianne's point of view.
- ◆ step down vi to leave one's job or position of responsibility □ He has decided to step down as director of finance.
- ◆ step in vi to become involved in a difficult situation in order to try to settle it □ At this point in the argument I was forced to step in.
- ◆ step up vt sep to step sthg up [pressure, output, activity] to increase sthg □ They have decided to step up their efforts to improve the efficiency of the service.
- stepbrother ['stɛpbɹədə] n the son of one's stepmother or stepfather.
- stepchild ['stɛptʃɪld] (pl stepchildren) [-tʃɪldrən] n the child of one's husband or wife, but not one's own natural child.
- stepdaughter ['stɛpdɔ:tə] n the daughter of one's husband or wife, but not one's own natural daughter.
- stepfather ['stɛpfɑ:də] n the husband of one's mother, but not one's own natural father.
- Stephenson ['sti:vnsən], George (1781–1848) a British engineer and inventor who built the first steam train.
- stepladder ['stɛplædə] n a short ladder attached to a support that can be folded for storing and is used indoors.
- stepmother ['stɛpmʌdə] n the wife of one's father, but not one's own natural mother.
- stepping-stone ['stɛpɪŋ-] n -1. one of a line of stones that one can walk on to cross a stream or river. -2. something that helps one to progress, especially in one's career □ The position is generally seen as a stepping-stone to a presidential appointment.
- stepsister ['stɛpsɪstə] n the daughter of one's stepmother or stepfather.
- stepson ['stɛpsən] n the son of one's husband or wife, but not one's own natural son.
- stereo ['stɛriəʊ] (pl stereos) ◇ adj [system, record player, recording] that involves sound coming from two separate speakers. ◇ n a record player that produces sound from two separate speakers. ■ in stereo with the sound coming from two separate speakers □ It sounds much better in stereo.
- stereophonic [,stɛrɪə'fɒnɪk] adj [sound] = stereo.
- stereotype ['stɛrɪətaɪp] ◇ n a set of fixed characteristics that represent a typical example of a particular thing, nationality, person etc. ◇ vt [person, group] to present or consider <sb/sthg> as a stereotype □ a stereotyped image/role.
- sterile [US 'stɛrəl, GB 'stɛrəl] adj -1. [gloves, equipment, conditions] that is completely clean and without germs. -2. [person, animal] that is unable to produce babies or young. -3.

[discussion, report, idea] that produces no useful result (disapproving use).

sterility [stə'ri:ləti] n: see sterile.

sterilization [US ,sterələ'zeɪʃn, GB ,sterələɪ-] n
-1. [of equipment, operating room] see sterilize.
-2. a medical operation in which a person or animal is prevented from being able to produce babies in future.

sterilize, -ise ['sterələɪz] vt -1. [container, equipment, room] to make <sthg> sterile. -2. to perform a sterilization operation on .

sterilized milk ['sterələɪzd-] n milk that has been treated in order to remove germs.

sterling ['stɜ:ˈlɪŋ] ◇ n the currency of the UK
□ The value of sterling on the world market fell today. □ It costs 3,000 pounds sterling. □ sterling reserves/traveler's checks. ◇ adj [effort, work, performance] that is of an excellent standard (formal or old-fashioned use).

sterling silver n metal that contains at least 92.5% of silver □ a sterling silver bracelet.

stern [stɜ:ˈn] ◇ adj -1. [person] who is serious, strict, and unfriendly □ Her father was a tall stern man. -2. [look, warning] that shows one's disapproval □ Stern penalties must be introduced to deter such crimes. ◇ n the back part of a boat or ship.

sternly ['stɜ:ˈnli] adv [look, say] see stern.

steroid ['stɪərɔɪd] n a chemical substance found naturally in the body, or introduced artificially to improve strength or to treat certain diseases.

stethoscope ['steθəskəʊp] n a medical instrument used to listen to somebody's heart and their breathing.

StetsonTM ['stetsn] n a large hat worn especially by cowboys in the west of the USA.

stevedore ['sti:vədə:ɹ] n US a person whose job is to load and unload ships.

Stevenson ['sti:vnsən], Robert Louis (1850–1894) a British writer, born in Scotland, whose best-known works are Treasure Island and The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde.

stew [sti:u:] ◇ n a dish, usually made of meat and vegetables, that is cooked slowly in liquid □ a lamb/vegetable stew. ◇ vt [meat, vegetables, fruit] to cook <food> slowly in liquid. ◇ vi to let sb stew (in their own juice) to make sb wait before telling them an answer, decision etc that they are anxious to hear (informal use) □ I'll just let him stew for a few days.

steward ['sti:juəd] n -1. a man whose job is to take care of passengers on a plane, train, or ship, especially by serving food and drink. -2. GB a person whose job is to help to organize a public event.

stewardess [US 'stɔ:ɹdəs, GB ,stjuə'des] n a woman whose job is to take care of passengers on a plane, train, or ship, especially by serving food and drink.

stewbeef ['sti:u:bi:f] US, stewing steak ['sti:u:ŋ-] GB n beef that is not of a high quality, but is suitable for stewing.

St. Ex. abbr of stock exchange.

stg abbr of sterling.

stick [stɪk] (pt & pp stuck) ◇ n -1. a long thin branch that has been broken off or has fallen off a tree □ a wooden stick or stick of wood. -2. [of dynamite, rhubarb] a long thin piece of something □ a stick of chewing gum. -3. [for walking] a smooth thin piece of wood or metal used by old or injured people to help them walk □ The blind man had a white stick. -4. SPORT a long thin piece of wood, often with a curved end, that is used for hitting a ball □ a hockey/lacrosse stick. -5. to get the wrong end of the stick to misunderstand something (informal use).

◇ vt -1. to stick sth in OR into sth [knife, needle] to push sthg sharp into sthg (informal use) □ Don't stick pins in the wall. □ He stuck his fork into the potato. ■ to stick sth through sthg [through a hole, mailbox] to push sthg through sthg (informal use). -2. [stamp, picture] to attach <sthg> to something else using a sticky substance such as glue □ She stuck the label on the jar. □ He stuck the photo in his album. -3. to put <sthg> somewhere (informal use) □ Can you stick my name on the list? □ I usually stick it in the oven for 20 minutes. □ Teresa stuck her head round the door.

◇ vi -1. [arrow, dart, spear] to enter something and remain fixed there □ A splinter of wood had stuck in my finger. -2. [food, mud, clothes] to become attached to something, especially because of glue or another sticky substance □ The flap on this envelope won't stick. □ The static on the balloon made it stick to my hand. -3. [door, window, zipper] to become fixed in a particular position and unable to move □ The car stuck fast in the mud. -4. to stick in one's mind to stay in one's memory for a long time.

◆ sticks npl out in the sticks in the countryside and far away from towns or cities (humorous use).

◆ stick around vi to remain somewhere for a period of time (informal use) □ I'm not sticking around here any more.

◆ stick at vt fus to stick at sthg [job, activity] to continue to work hard at sthg □ He stuck at it until he got it right.

◆ stick by vt fus -1. to stick by sb to continue to support sb, especially when they are in trouble □ George stuck by us through that terrible time. -2. to stick by sthg [decision, statement] to refuse to change sthg that one believes in or has said □ Martha has always stuck by her promises.

◆ stick out ◇ vt sep -1. to stick sthg out [one's tongue, hand, head] to extend sthg, usually so that it can be seen □ She stuck her head out of the window. -2. to stick it out to continue to do something that is unpleasant or difficult, especially until it is finished (informal use) □ I'll stick it out until the end of the month, then I'm leaving. ◇ vi -1. [nail, tooth] to be noticeable because it is longer than something else or points in a different direction □ His ears stick out. -2. [talent, problem, truth] to be very no- ticeable because it is unusual (informal use) □ It's her accent that makes her stick out.

- ◆ stick to vt fus -1. to stick to sb to stay near sb □ Stick close to me so I know where you are.
 ■ to stick to sthg [path, road] to continue to follow sthg □ Stick to the freeway and you won't get lost. -2. to stick to sthg [agreement, decision, one's principles] to do or say things that agree with sthg, so that one does not change it □ She's still sticking to her story. □ Stick to the point/facts!
- ◆ stick together vi [people] to continue to support and be loyal to each other □ We're going to stick together, no matter what happens.
- ◆ stick up ◇ vt sep -1. to stick sthg up [notice, postcard, poster] to attach sthg to a wall □ Somebody had stuck a sign up saying 'Keep Off!'
 -2. stick 'em up! a phrase used by a person with a gun when they want another person to raise their arms above their head. ◇ vi [hair, pole] to be in a fixed vertical position, coming out of something horizontal □ The knife was still sticking up in the butter.
- ◆ stick up for vt fus to stick up for sb/sthg [one's friends, beliefs, rights] to defend sb/sthg against criticism, a threat etc □ My brother was the only person who'd stick up for me at school.
- ◆ stick with vt fus -1. to stick with sthg [decision, job] not to change sthg that one has started to do, use etc to something else □ I've made my decision and I'm going to stick with it. -2. to stick with sb [one's mother, group, guide] to stay near sb □ Stick with me and you'll be fine. -3. to stick with sb/sthg [leader, company, brand] to remain loyal to sb/sthg □ I've stuck with my bank for 35 years.
- sticker ['stɪkə] n a small piece of paper that has a design or words printed on it and can be stuck onto an object □ a car sticker.
- sticking plaster ['stɪkɪŋ-] n GB a piece of material that is sticky on one side and is used to cover cuts on one's skin.
- stick insect n an insect with a long brown or green body and very thin long legs.
- stick-in-the-mud n a person who refuses to try something new and exciting (informal and disapproving use).
- stickler ['stɪklə] n to be a stickler for sthg [for punctuality, discipline, rules] to believe that sthg is very important and insist on people doing it.
- stick-on adj a stick-on label/badge a label/badge that is sticky on one side so that it can be fixed to something.
- stickpin ['stɪkpɪn] n US a thin decorated piece of metal with a sharp point at the end that is used to keep a man's necktie in position.
- stick shift n US the stick in a car, truck etc that one moves with one's hand to change gears.
- stick-up n a robbery in a public building such as a bank in which the robbers threaten people with guns (informal use).
- sticky ['stɪki] (compar stickier, superl stickiest) adj -1. [hand, food, wrapper] that contains or is covered with a substance that sticks to things, especially in an unpleasant or messy way □ Olly's fingers were sticky with jam.
 -2. [label, tape, paper] that has glue or a similar substance on one side so that it will stick to a surface □ This tape is sticky on both sides.
 -3. [situation, problem] that is difficult to deal with (informal use) □ I'll be in a sticky situation if anyone finds out. -4. [weather, day] that feels hot and humid □ Outside it was hot and sticky.
- stiff [stɪf] ◇ adj -1. [brush, card, collar] that is hard and does not bend easily □ a piece of stiff cardboard. -2. [door, lock, drawer] that is difficult to move; [lock] that is difficult to turn with a key □ Push hard, the handle's stiff.
 -3. [mixture, dough] that is firm or difficult to stir □ Beat the egg whites until they are stiff.
 -4. [back, neck, joint] that is difficult to move because it is painful □ I feel very stiff after all that exercise. -5. [manner, behavior, smile] that is not relaxed or very friendly □ His letter was stiff and formal in tone. -6. [penalty, punishment] that is more severe than usual □ If found guilty, you could face a stiff fine. -7. [competition, opposition] that is more difficult than usual □ There was stiff competition for the contract.
 -8. [brandy, whiskey] that contains a lot of alcohol and not much water, tonic etc (informal use). -9. [breeze, wind] that is blowing strongly.
 ◇ adv to be bored/scared/frozen stiff to be very bored/scared/cold.
- stiffen ['stɪfn] ◇ vt -1. [paper, fabric] to make  stiff □ You can stiffen the collar with starch. -2. [resolve, resistance] to make <sthg> stronger. ◇ vi -1. [body, person] to become tense and stop moving because one is scared, angry etc; [muscles, back, joints] to become painful and difficult to move □ Suddenly the cat's whole body stiffened. □ My legs/neck had stiffened (up) during the trip. -2. [hinge, handle, door] to become difficult to move □ The lever had stiffened through lack of use. -3. [resolve, resistance] to become stronger □ The proposals are likely to meet stiffening opposition from local residents.
- stiffener ['stɪfnə] n something used to make part of a piece of clothing stiff □ a collar stiffener.
- stifle ['staɪfl] ◇ vt -1. [person] to stop <sb> from breathing properly □ The intruders tried to stifle her with a pillow. -2. [feeling, urge, desire] to stop <sthg> from being expressed □ He stifled his instinct to run. ■ to stifle a yawn/laugh etc to stop oneself from yawning/laughing etc. -3. [debate, uprising, creativity] to stop <sthg> from developing or happening □ High interest rates look set to stifle growth. ◇ vi to feel or be unable to breathe properly because there is not enough fresh air □ I felt as if I was stifling.
- stifling ['staɪflɪŋ] adj [heat, atmosphere] that is hot and makes one unable to breathe properly □ It's stifling in here.
- stigma ['stɪgmə] n -1. a belief or feeling that many people in society have about something that causes them to disapprove of it □ There is now much less stigma attached to being a single parent. -2. BOTANY the part of a flower that receives the pollen.

stile [stail] n a wooden structure that consists of one or two steps on either side of a wall or fence that one can climb over.

stiletto [stə'letou] n a stiletto (heel) the heel of a woman's shoe that is very high, thin, and pointed; a shoe with this heel.

still¹ [stɪl] adv -1. I'm still angry with him I was angry with him before, and this situation has not changed at the present time □ We've been recruiting for months, and we still haven't found anyone. □ I still have two chapters to read.

■ are you still here? I am surprised to find you here at this time, because it is late □ He still hadn't left by twelve o'clock. -2. they could still win they have not won yet, but it is possible that they will □ If we hurry, we'll still be on time. -3. used to say that what has just been said does not change things or is not important □ Although they lost last week, they're still the best team in the tournament. -4. better/longer still even better/longer (used with comparatives) □ Temperatures were above average today, and tomorrow it will be hotter still. □ More problematic still is the issue of who actually owns the company now.

still² ◇ adj -1. to sit/stand still to sit/stand and not make a movement □ He lay perfectly still in bed and listened to the voices outside his door.

■ keep OR stay still! don't move! □ Keep still for a moment while I brush your hair. -2. [water, air] that does not move; [night, day] that has no wind □ The sea was still as glass. □ The evening was clear and still. -3. [water, drink] that does not contain gas. ◇ n -1. PHOTOGRAPHY a photograph taken from a movie. -2. [for whiskey, brandy] a piece of equipment used for making strong alcohol.

stillborn ['stɪlbɔ:rn] adj [baby, animal] that is born dead.

still life (pl still lifes) n a picture of various objects, e.g. flowers or fruit.

stillness ['stɪlnəs] n [of water, air, the night] see still.

stilted ['stɪltəd] adj [conversation, style] that is not smooth, relaxed, or natural.

stilts [stɪlts] npl -1. two long thin pieces of wood that have supports in the middle to put one's feet on and are used, e.g. by clowns, for walking on and appearing taller. -2. long pieces of wood or metal used for supporting a building above the ground or water level.

stimulant ['stɪmjələnt] n -1. any drug or substance that makes one feel more lively and active. -2. something that causes an increase in a particular activity □ Devaluation of a currency acts as a stimulant to exports.

stimulate ['stɪmjəleɪt] vt -1. [discussion, economy, demand] to make <sthg> start to develop or develop more quickly □ The campaign is designed to stimulate public interest in our products. -2. [person, part of somebody's body] to cause <sb/sthg> to have physical sensations, especially because of being touched □ sexually stimulated. -3. [pupil, reader] to make <sb> feel interest, excitement, or enthusiasm about something □ She felt stimulated by what she had read. -4. [cell, plant, brain] to make <all or part of a living thing> become active or do something □ Warmth and moisture stimulate the seeds to grow.

stimulating ['stɪmjəleɪtɪŋ] adj -1. [workout, effect] that makes one feel physically active. -2. [book, discussion, lecture] that stimulates one mentally □ The meeting was not exactly stimulating.

stimulation [ˌstɪmjə'leɪʃn] n: see stimulate □ I like books that give me intellectual stimulation.

stimulus ['stɪmjələs] (pl stimuli [-laɪ]) n -1. something that causes development, enthusiasm, or interest □ The added element of competition acted as a stimulus to the sales team. -2. BIOLOGY something that makes a plant, part of one's body etc do something □ the stimulus of light/warmth.

sting [stɪŋ] (vt & pp stung) ◇ vt -1. [bee, scorpion, nettle] to cause  pain by breaking or touching their skin, often with a poison; [smoke, acid, ointment] to cause sharp continuous pain to  □ I've been stung by a wasp. □ The slap across the face stung her cheek. -2. [remark, criticism] to make <sb> feel very hurt and insulted □ She was stung by his remarks about her family.

◇ vi -1. [bee, nettle, smoke] The cream may sting a little when first applied. □ Bees sting only as a last resort. -2. [eyes, skin] My eyes were stinging with all the smoke.

◇ n -1. [from an insect, scorpion, nettle] a sharp pain caused by being stung by an animal, plant, or insect □ I got a bee/wasp sting on my arm. ■ to take the sting out of sthg [out of criticism, a defeat, failure] to make sthg seem less bad □ A check for $5,000 took the sting out of coming second. -2. [of a bee, wasp, scorpion] the sharp part in the tail of some animals and insects that is used to sting.

stinging nettle ['stɪŋɪŋ] n GB a nettle.

stingy ['stɪŋdʒɪ] (compar stingier, superl stingiest) adj [person] who does not like giving other people things, especially money (informal and disapproving use) □ They're very stingy with their money/praise.

stink [stɪŋk] (vt stank OR stunk, pp stunk) ◇ n a very unpleasant smell □ the stink of rotting vegetables. ◇ vi -1. [breath, garbage can, person] to have a very unpleasant smell □ You stink of onions! □ It stinks in here! -2. [idea, attitude, place] to be worthless and unpleasant (informal use) □ This job stinks!

stink-bomb n a small container with a substance inside that smells very bad when the container is broken.

stint [stɪnt] ◇ n a period of time spent doing a particular job or activity □ I did a two-year stint in the Malaysia office. □ After an unsuccessful stint as an actor, he decided to take up teaching. ◇ vi to stint on sthg not to give or add enough of sthg □ Sandra did not stint on the apple sauce.

stipend ['stæpɛnd] n an amount of money paid regularly as a salary to somebody such as a priest, magistrate, or student.

stipulate ['stɪpjəleɪt] vt [rule, condition] to state <sthg> clearly, giving exact details □ The contract stipulates that the work must be finished by March.

stipulation [ˌstɪpjəˈleɪʃn] n -1. [of a rule, condition] see stipulate. -2. a condition that is stated in an agreement or contract.

stir [stɜːr] (pt & pp stirred, cont stirring) ◇ vt -1. [paint, coffee, soup] to move  around in a container, e.g. with a spoon or stick, in order to mix it or make it smooth □ Stir the mixture to get rid of lumps. □ Beat the mixture and stir in the raisins. -2. [leaves, branches] to make <sthg> move slightly □ A breeze stirred the surface of the lake. -3. [person] to cause <sb> to feel strong feelings, especially when this makes them do something □ It was this event that finally stirred them into action.

◇ vi -1. [person, branches] to move slightly after having been very still □ She stirred slightly and murmured something in her sleep. -2. [love, anger] to begin to be felt by somebody □ A feeling of envy stirred within him.

◇ n -1. the act of stirring something □ Give the mixture a good stir. -2. mild excitement, anger etc among a group of people □ The announcement caused a stir.

◆ stir up vt sep -1. to stir sthg up [dust, mud] to make sthg move around in the air or in water □ The wheels stirred up a cloud of dust. -2. to stir sthg up [trouble, tension, rumor] to start or spread sthg □ He's done nothing but stir up trouble since he arrived.

stir-fry vt [vegetables, meat] to fry <sthg> quickly by stirring it in a small amount of very hot oil.

stirring ['stɜːrɪŋ] ◇ adj [speech, music] that makes one feel a strong emotion, especially excitement or enthusiasm □ Bennet made a stirring appeal on the victims' behalf. ◇ n the beginning of something, e.g. a feeling or thought □ stirrings of guilt.

stirrup [US 'stɜːrəp, GB 'stɪr-] n one of the two metal loops that support a person's feet when they are riding a horse.

stitch [stɪtʃ] ◇ n -1. SEWING a small piece of thread that joins two pieces of fabric together or is used for decoration □ a row of stitches □ a loose stitch. -2. KNITTING one of the loops of yarn that are joined together in knitting. -3. MEDICINE a small piece of thread that joins the edges of a wound together. -4. to have a stitch to have a sharp pain in one's side, especially because of running. -5. phrase to be in stitches to be laughing a lot (informal use) □ Jim had us in stitches with his stories.

◇ vt -1. SEWING [hem, dress] to sew or decorate <sthg> using stitches □ She stitched the button onto the coat. -2. [wound, cut] to sew together the edges of <sthg> using a special needle and thread.

stitching ['stɪtʃɪŋ] n the stitches on a piece of material.

St Lawrence [US seɪnt'lɔːrəns, GB sənt-]: the St

Lawrence (River) a river in North America that flows from Lake Ontario to the Atlantic and forms part of the border between Canada and the USA.

stoat [stəʊt] n a small wild animal that has a long body, short legs, and a tail with a black tip, and whose brown fur becomes white in winter.

stock [stɒk] ◇ n -1. [of provisions, food] an amount of something, especially food or fuel, that is kept to be used when it is needed □ You'll need a good stock of firewood for the winter. -2. BUSINESS the total amount of goods in a store that are ready to be sold □ We've sold all our stock. □ Stocks of spare parts are low.

■ to be in stock to be in the store and available to be sold □ I'll just see if we've got any more in stock. ■ to be out of stock to be no longer in the store and not available to be sold □ This model is currently out of stock, but we can order it for you. -3. FINANCE the shares in a company that each shareholder owns; the amount of money that a company has raised by selling shares in itself □ Steinberg holds 50% of the stock in Mortlake Electrics. □ government stocks or stock □ Stock prices are given in fractions of dollars. ■ stocks and shares GB a collective term for shares in different companies. -4. the particular kind of people who were one's ancestors □ a woman of Scandinavian/peasant/farming stock. -5. COOKING a liquid made by boiling meat, vegetables, or fish in water □ beef/vegetable stock.

-6. FARMING a collective term for farm animals, especially cattle, sheep, or pigs □ breeding stock. -7. phrase to take stock to think about the different aspects of a situation before making a decision about what to do next □ We need time to step back and take stock of the situation.

◇ adj [answer, criticism] that is common or typical in a particular situation and so is not interesting or original □ They sent me one of their stock letters turning down my application.

◇ vt -1. BUSINESS [product, item] to keep <sthg> as part of one's stock □ Do you stock Ford parts? □ I'm sorry, we don't stock that size. -2. [shelves, room] to fill <sthg>, especially with food or drink □ a well-stocked larder.

◆ stock up vi to buy a large supply of something to make sure there is plenty of it □ She's been stocking up on or with cigarettes.

stockade [stɒk'keɪd] n a wooden wall built for defense.

stockbroker ['stɒkbroʊkə] n a person whose job is to buy and sell shares for people.

stockbroking ['stɒkbroʊkɪŋ] n the profession of a stockbroker.

stockcar ['stɒkkaːr] n an old car that has had some changes made to it so that it can take part in races in which cars hit each other a lot □ stockcar racing.

stock certificate n US a document that shows how many shares somebody has in a company.

stock company n US a company owned by everybody who has bought shares in it.

stock control n a check in a store, warehouse etc to make sure that enough stock is available and that quantities and movement of stock are recorded.

stock cube n a small piece of dried meat and vegetable juices that is added to boiling water to make a stock for cooking.

stock exchange n the place where shares in companies are bought and sold □ The company is quoted on the stock exchange. □ the New York Stock Exchange.

stockholder ['stɒkhouldə] n US = shareholder.

Stockholm ['stɒkhoum] the capital of Sweden and its largest city. POPULATION: 674,452.

stocking ['stɒkɪŋ] n -1. one of two pieces of clothing made of nylon or some other stretchy material that women wear over their legs and feet □ a pair of silk stockings. -2. a long sock (old-fashioned use).

stock-in-trade n part of a particular person's usual behavior or job □ Patience should be a teacher's stock-in-trade.

stockist ['stɒkəst] n GB a store, person, or company that stocks a particular range of goods for sale □ a retail stockist.

stockman ['stɒkmən] (pl stockmen [-mən]) n a man employed to look after the animals on a farm.

stock market n = stock exchange □ the stock market price.

stock phrase n a phrase that is very commonly used in a particular situation.

stockpile ['stɒkpaɪl] ◇ n a large stock of goods, weapons, food etc that may be needed in the future. ◇ vt [weapons, food] to store <sthg> in large quantities for future use.

stockroom ['stɒkru:m] n a room where stock is stored, especially in a store.

stock-still adv [stand, sit] completely still.

stocktaking ['stɒkteɪkɪŋ] n GB the process of counting and making a list of all the goods that a store or business has, usually at the end of every fiscal year □ 'Closed for stock-taking.'

stocky ['stɒki] (compar stockier, superl stockiest) adj [person] who is fairly short, but looks strong and broad □ a short stocky fellow.

stodgy ['stɒdʒɪ] (compar stodgier, superl stodgiest) adj -1. [meat, cake] that is very filling and difficult to digest □ The food was good, although a little stodgy. -2. [book, style, person] that is boring and too serious and formal (disapproving use).

stoic ['stɔɪk] ◇ adj [person] who shows courage by accepting suffering or difficulties without complaining □ I admire your stoic attitude. ◇ n a stoic person.

stoical ['stɔɪkəl] adj = stoic.

stoicism ['stɔɪsɪzəm] n stoic behavior.

stoke [stɒk] vt to keep  burning by adding more coal or wood.

Stoker ['stɒkə], Bram (1847–1912) an Irish writer whose best-known work is Dracula.

stole [stəʊl] ◇ past tense of steal. ◇ n a piece of material, like a long scarf, worn over the shoulder by women □ a fur stole.

stolen ['stəʊlən] past participle of steal.

stolid ['stɒləd] adj [person] who shows little emotion and so seems serious and not very happy.

stomach ['stʌmək] ◇ n -1. the organ in the body that digests food □ I've got an upset stomach/a pain in my stomach. ■ on a full/an empty stomach with a lot of food/no food in one's stomach □ You should never go swimming on a full stomach. -2. the front part of one's body between the chest and hips □ She punched him in the stomach. □ Lie on your stomach and rest your head on your arms. ◇ vt I can't stomach it I can't accept it because the thought of it makes me feel sick or angry.

stomachache ['stʌməkeɪk] n a continuous pain in one's stomach.

stomach pump n a piece of medical equipment that is used to empty the contents of somebody's stomach.

stomach ulcer n a sore inside the stomach that causes pain.

stomach upset n a minor infection in one's stomach that causes sickness and diarrhea.

stomp [stɒmp] vi to walk somewhere with heavy steps that show one is angry.

stone [stəʊn] (pl stones, sense 5 only stone) ◇ n -1. a hard heavy material found in the ground that is often used in building □ a stone step/wall/bridge. -2. a small, often rounded, piece of stone □ The edge of the flowerbed was decorated with a line of stones. ■ a stone's throw from a place a very short distance from a place □ The hotel is just a stone's throw away from the station. -3. [for a ring, necklace] a jewel □ precious stones. -4. GB [in a fruit] the hard rounded seed found in some fruits □ a plum/date stone. -5. GB [in weight] a measurement of weight, equal to 14 pounds or approximately 6.35 kilos □ He weighs 10 stone.

◇ vt to throw stones at <sb/sthg> especially because one is angry or as a punishment.

Stone Age n the Stone Age the earliest period of human history, when tools and weapons were made of stone □ a Stone Age settlement.

stone-cold adj [body, food] that is very cold, especially when one wants or expects it to be warmer.

stoned[▽] [stəʊnd] adj (very informal use) -1. to be stoned to be very drunk. -2. to be stoned to be affected by a particular drug that one has taken □ kids getting stoned on marijuana.

Stonehenge [US 'stəʊnhendʒ, GB 'stəʊn'hendʒ] n a prehistoric monument in southern England consisting of a circle of large upright stones.

stonemason ['stəʊnməɪsn] n a person whose job is to cut and prepare stone for building.

stonewall [US 'stəʊnwɔ:l, GB 'stəʊn'wɔ:l] vi to avoid answering questions or refuse to cooperate, in order to avoid an argument, discussion etc.

stoneware ['stəʊnweə] n a collective term for pots and dishes made from a hard clay that contains flint.

stonewashed ['stounwɒʃt] adj [jeans, denim] that has been faded to look more attractive by being washed together with stones.

stonework ['stounwɜ:k] n the part or parts of a building made of stone.

stony ['stouni] (compar stonier, superl stoniest) adj -1. [ground, soil, beach] that contains a lot of stones □ a narrow stony path. -2. [silence, expression] that is unfriendly and shows no sympathy □ He gave me a stony look.

stood [stud] past tense & past participle of stand.

stooge [stu:dʒ] n -1. a person who is often used by somebody else to do things they do not want to do themselves (informal and disapproving use). -2. a comedian who performs with another comedian and who is always made to look foolish.

stool [stu:l] n a round seat with three or four legs that has no part to support one's back □ a bar stool.

stoop [stu:p] ◇ n -1. to walk with a stoop to walk with one's head, shoulders, and upper back bent forward. -2. US an open porch or steps leading to the entrance of a house. ◇ vi -1. to bend forward and downward □ He stooped (down) to pick up his glove. -2. to stand or move with one's head, shoulders, and upper back bent forward □ She was stooping over the low sink. -3. to stoop to sthg [to cheating, bribery] to lower one's moral standards by doing sthg.

stop [stɒp] (pt & pp stopped, cont stopping) ◇ vt -1. to no longer do <sthg> □ I wish they'd stop that noise. □ We all stopped talking at once. □ Stop it, that hurts! □ It gradually stopped raining. -2. to do something with the result that <sthg> cannot start or happen, or that <sb> cannot do something □ The city got a court order to stop the march. □ The strikers stopped the delivery from entering the premises. -3. [tape recorder, clock] to turn  off; [car, war, game] to no longer let <sthg> move, work, or happen; [person] to make <sb> pause in an activity they are doing □ I drove up to the house and stopped the car. □ Rain stopped play. □ She stopped a man in the street to ask him the time. -4. [check, wages] to take action so that <sthg> is not paid to somebody; [milk, newspapers] to cancel one's regular order of <sthg> □ Your benefit may be stopped if you do not reapply. □ Don't forget to stop our subscription to "Time". -5. [hole, gap] = stop up.

◇ vi -1. [rain, music] to come to an end □ The road stops a few miles further on. -2. [tape recorder, clock] to no longer work because something has come to an end or because it is broken; [car, truck] to no longer move; [person] to no longer continue doing something, especially so that one can do something else □ My watch has stopped — the battery must have run out. □ I stopped at the service station to get a snack. □ She stopped to tie up her shoelace. ■ to stop at nothing to be willing to do anything necessary to achieve or get what one wants □ He'll stop at nothing to land this contract. -3. to stay somewhere, especially when visiting somebody □ I'm late, I can't stop. □ Can you stop for a drink?

◇ n -1. [for a bus, train] one of the places where a bus, train etc stops regularly so that passengers can get on or off □ I'm getting off at the next stop. -2. [in a place] the act of stopping at a place; the place where somebody stops □ We made several stops on the way here. □ Their first stop was Berlin. -3. to come to a stop [ball, train, car] to stop moving; [work, pain, rain] to stop happening □ Do not leave your seats until the plane has come to a complete stop. □ The snow finally came to a stop. -4. to put a stop to sthg to prevent sthg bad from happening □ It's time we put a stop to all these rumors. -5. [in a telegram] a word that means period in a telegram □ "Need to see you" Stop "Come at once" Stop. -6. phrase to pull out all the stops to do everything possible in order to achieve something or to make something successful.

◆ stop off vi to make a short visit to a particular place or person during a longer trip □ We stopped off on the way to pick up groceries.

◆ stop over vi to stay somewhere for a short time, especially overnight, before continuing one's trip □ You're welcome to stop over at my place.

◆ stop up vt sep to stop sthg up [pipe, hole] to block sthg □ There must be something stopping up the sink.

stopcock ['stɒpkɒk] n a valve on a pipe which controls the flow of gas or water.

Stopes [stoups], Marie (1880–1958) a British scientist and writer who wrote several books on sex education and set up Britain's first birth control clinic.

stopgap ['stɒpgæp] n something that can be used or done for a short time until one finds something better □ This job is just a stopgap until I can find something permanent.

stoplights ['stɒplɑ:ts] npl US colored lights that control the movement of road traffic at intersections.

stopover ['stɒpəʊvə] n a short stay in a place while one is traveling somewhere, especially by plane.

stoppage ['stɒpɪdʒ] n -1. the act of stopping working because of a disagreement with one's employer □ The company has lost thousands of dollars because of the stoppages. -2. GB the money taken off one's pay, usually before one gets it, e.g. for tax □ After stoppages, he hardly earns enough to pay the bills.

stopper ['stɒpə] n an object, usually made of glass or cork, that fits into the opening of a bottle or jar in order to close it.

stop press n a phrase used to introduce a piece of news that is added to a newspaper after the rest of it has been printed.

stop sign n a red road sign that has STOP written in white letters on it and is used to order drivers to stop their vehicles at an intersection before continuing.

stopwatch ['stɒpwɒtʃ] n a watch that can be stopped and started in order to measure the amount of time it takes to do something, e.g. to run a race.

storage ['stɔːrɪdʒ] n -1. [of food, clothes, goods] the act of storing something; a place where something is stored □ I'll put my furniture in storage while I'm traveling. □ There's not much storage space in this apartment. □ storage costs. -2. COMPUTING the process of storing information in a computer for further use; the part of a computer where this information is stored.

storage heater n GB a heater that stores heat at night, when electricity is cheap, and gives out heat during the day.

store [stɔːr] ◇ n -1. a building where goods and services are sold □ the local stores. -2. [of weapons, coal, blankets] an amount of something that is kept somewhere until it is needed □ a store of highly confidential information. -3. a place, e.g. a large building, where things are stored □ a grain store. -4. to set great store by OR on sthg to consider that sthg is very important □ She sets great store by herbal remedies.

◇ vt -1. [coal, grain] to keep <sthg> somewhere until it is needed; [bicycle, furniture] to keep <sthg> somewhere when it is not being used. -2. COMPUTING [data, figures] to keep <information> in a computer until it is needed.

◆ in store adv a phrase used to say that something is going to happen at some time in the future □ There's trouble in store. □ Who knows what the future has in store for us?

◆ store up vt sep to store sthg up [provisions, information, details] to keep sthg until it is needed, especially by adding to it gradually so that one has a lot of it □ He was storing up information which he could use against them.

store brand n US a product specially manufactured for a particular store and carrying the name of the store.

store detective n a person whose job is to walk around a department store pretending to be a customer in order to make sure no goods are stolen.

storehouse ['stɔːrhaʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n -1. a building in which things are stored. -2. [of information, treasures] a person or thing that has many interesting or useful ideas, objects etc.

storekeeper ['stɔːrki:pə] n US a person who owns or is in charge of a small store.

storeroom ['stɔːru:m] n a room where goods are stored.

storey ['stɔːri] (pl storeys) n GB [of a building] = story.

stork [stɔːk] n a large white bird with black wings, long legs, and a long beak and neck that lives near water.

storm [stɔːm] ◇ n -1. a period of very bad weather consisting of strong wind and heavy rain, usually with thunder and lightning □ Many of the trees had been damaged in the storm. -2. a sudden strong reaction to something by the public, e.g. anger or excitement □ a storm of abuse/protest □ The revelations caused quite a storm. ■ a storm in a teacup GB a situation that is not important but that causes a lot of worry and trouble.

◇ vt -1. [building, town] to attack  suddenly and violently □ Rebel forces stormed the city. -2. to say <sthg> very angrily and in a loud voice □ "That's just not true!" she stormed.

◇ vi to go somewhere in an angry way □ He stormed into/out of the room.

storm cloud n a dark cloud seen before a storm □ Storm clouds were gathering as they left the harbor.

storming ['stɔːmɪŋ] n the act of storming a building or place □ the storming of the Bastille/Winter Palace.

stormy ['stɔːmi] (compar stormier, superl stormiest) adj -1. [weather] that consists of strong wind, heavy rain, and often thunder and lightning □ You can expect stormy seas in this area. -2. [relationship, meeting] that is difficult because the people involved argue with each other □ Their marriage had always been stormy.

story ['stɔːri] (pl stories) n -1. [for entertainment] a real or imaginary description of people and events, often told or written to entertain people □ Will you read/tell me a story? □ It's a strange story, the way they met. □ But that's not the whole story. □ Tell us the story about the princess and the pea. ■ it's the (same) old story a phrase used to say that something has happened many times before □ Every payday it's the same old story: he goes off to the races and loses all of it. ■ to make US OR cut GB a long story short a phrase used to say that one is going to tell somebody how something ended without giving them all the details □ Anyway, to make a long story short, we're no longer on speaking terms. -2. [of a process, event] an account of how something came into existence and what has happened to it since that time □ the story of printing/the pharaohs. -3. [in a newspaper, on a news program] a piece of news □ the main (news) stories □ The story broke at 10am. -4. a lie □ Pat's telling stories again. -5. US [of a building] a level or floor of a building □ a 50-story building.

storybook ['stɔːrɪbʊk] adj a storybook romance/wedding etc a romance/wedding etc that seems to be perfect and very happy.

storyteller ['stɔːrɪtelə] n a person who tells or writes stories to entertain people.

stout [staut] ◇ adj -1. [person, legs] that looks short and fairly fat □ a stout middle-aged man. -2. [boots, stick] that is strong and thick □ stout walking shoes. -3. [opposition, defender] that is firm and strong □ The community put up stout resistance to the intended highway. ◇ n a strong dark beer □ a pint of stout.

stove [stouv] ◇ past tense & past participle of stave. ◇ n -1. a piece of equipment used in a kitchen for cooking food, usually with a flat top part for cooking food in pans and an oven for baking, roasting etc □ a gas stove.

-2. a piece of equipment used for heating a room or house, usually by burning oil or coal □ an oil stove.

stow [stou] vt [suitcase, file, treasure] to put <sthg> somewhere so that it is safe or hidden or is not in the way □ 'Luggage must be stowed in the overhead lockers.'

◆ stow away vi to hide on a ship or plane in order to travel without paying.

stowaway ['stouəweɪ] n a person who has stowed away on a ship or plane.

Stowe [stou], Harriet Beecher (1811–1896) a US writer whose best-known work is Uncle Tom's Cabin.

St Petersburg [US seɪnt'pi:təzɜ:rg, GB sənt-'pi:təzɜ:g] a city in western Russia, on the Baltic coast. It is a major port, and used to be the capital of Russia.

straddle ['strædl] vt -1. [chair, wall] to sit on <sthg> with one's legs on either side of it. -2. [river, border] to stretch across <sthg> from one side to the other □ a town straddling the border between Austria and Hungary.

strafe [streɪf] vt to attack <sb/sthg> with bullets from a low-flying aircraft.

straggle ['strægl] vi -1. [buildings, town, plant] to spread out in a messy way over a wide area. -2. [group, person] to walk slowly and behind the others in a group □ She was straggling behind the others.

straggler ['stræglə] n a person who straggles behind other people in a group.

straggly ['stræglɪ] (compar stragglier, superl straggliest) adj [hair, plant] that grows or spreads out in a messy way.

straight [streɪt] ◇ adj -1. [line, road, back] that has no bends or curves □ They stood together in a straight line. □ You'll need a straight edge to draw against. -2. [hedge, hem, tree trunk] that is level or upright and does not slope □ That picture's not straight. □ Sit up straight, don't slouch. -3. [hair] that is not curly □ She had long straight hair. -4. [person, answer, question] that is honest and direct □ Are you being straight with me? □ a straight offer. -5. three/four etc straight wins three/four etc wins one after another □ Smith won the match in three straight sets. -6. a straight choice/exchange etc a choice/exchange etc that concerns only two people or things □ It's a straight fight between Gough and Turner. -7. [gin, whiskey] that does not have any other liquid, especially water, added to it □ I'll have my vodka straight, please. -8. [person] who is not homosexual (informal use) □ He's gay but a lot of his friends are straight. -9. to be straight to have paid all the money one owes to somebody □ If you pay for the meal, then we'll be straight. -10. phrases to keep a straight face to look serious even though one thinks something is funny □ I don't know how I managed to keep a straight face! ■ let me get this straight I want to understand this more clearly □ Let's get something straight: I give the orders around here! ◇ adv -1. [see, walk, lie] in a straight line □ It's straight in front of you OR straight ahead! □ She walked straight into the door. -2. directly; immediately □ I'll get straight to the point. □ Go straight home. □ Go straight on, then make a right at the crossroads. □ We left straight after the movie. -3. honestly and directly □ I'm telling you straight, it's a waste of money. -4. to go straight to stop being a criminal, drug addict, gambler etc.

◇ n SPORT a straight part of a racetrack □ They're now entering the final straight.

◆ straight out adv [admit, say] without trying to hide or avoid anything □ He told me straight out that he was thinking of leaving.

straightaway [,streɪtə'weɪ] ◇ adv [leave, call, deliver] without delay □ I'll come straightaway. ◇ n US SPORT = straight.

straighten ['streɪtn] ◇ vt -1. [tie, dress, desk] to make <sthg> tidy □ She straightened the cushions on the sofa. □ We'd better straighten the place up before Greta comes back. -2. [hair, curve, edge] to make <sthg> straight □ I spent ages trying to straighten the hem of that dress. -3. [column, picture] to make <sthg> level by moving it slightly □ That shelf's not level — try straightening it a bit.

◆ straighten up ◇ vi to stand up or sit up with one's back straight after being bent over. ◇ vt sep to straighten sthg up [room, papers] to make sthg neat and tidy.

◆ straighten out vt sep to straighten sthg out [mess, situation] to make sthg easier by removing any problems □ We're still trying to straighten out some of these problems.

straightforward [,streɪt'fɔ:rwɔ:d] adj -1. [explanation, operation] that is easy to understand or do □ It seems a straightforward enough task. -2. [person] who is honest and does not hide their feelings □ He seems like a nice, straightforward kind of guy.

strain [streɪn] ◇ n -1. a state or cause of tension or worry □ The strain shows in her face. □ He's been under a lot of strain lately. □ The drive for new recruits has put a great strain on our department. -2. [in part of one's body] the pain that results from using a part of one's body too much, often damaging it □ eye/muscle/back strain. -3. TECHNOLOGY the force, weight, or pressure on an object, part of one's body etc □ The ceiling couldn't take the extra strain. □ He braced himself to take the strain. -4. [of a plant, virus] a type of plant, animal, bacterium etc □ A new strain has developed.

◇ vt -1. to strain one's eyes/ears to do sthg to try very hard to see/hear sthg □ Jilly strained her ears to hear what they were saying, but to no avail. -2. [muscle, back, eyes] to temporarily damage  by making it do too much □ I've strained a muscle in my back. -3. [resources, budget] to force <sthg> to cover more than it can do comfortably; [patience, friendship] to push <sthg> beyond reasonable limits □ The recruitment of extra staff is severely straining our resources. □ The constant presence of her husband had strained their friendship to breaking point. -4. COOKING to remove the liquid from <food> after boiling it; to remove the tea leaves from <tea> by pouring it through a tea strainer □ Strain the carrots, then add butter.

- 5. [rope, girder, ceiling] to put too much force, weight etc on <sthg>.
- ◇ vi to strain to do sthg to try very hard to do sthg □ She strained to hear what they were saying.
- ◆ strains npl the sound of music that is being played (literary use) □ They were dancing to the strains of Boccherini's minuet.
- strained [streɪnd] adj -1. [laugh, voice] that is unnatural and shows signs of worry or tiredness □ Chris has been looking very strained recently. □ Libby gave a strained smile. -2. [atmosphere, relations] that is tense and unfriendly, often because there is not enough trust □ Relations between the two countries have been strained recently.
- strainer ['streɪnə] n a container with holes in the bottom used for straining food, liquids, tea etc.
- strait [streɪt] n GEOGRAPHY a narrow passage of water between two areas of land that connects two larger areas of water, usually two seas □ the Strait of Magellan.
- ◆ straits npl to be in dire OR desperate straits to be in an extremely difficult situation, often because one does not have enough money □ Barton & Co is in dire financial straits following record losses this quarter.
- strained ['streɪnd] adj to be in strained circumstances to be in a difficult situation because one does not have as much money as before (formal use).
- straitjacket ['streɪtdʒækət] n a piece of clothing that is used to stop violent or mentally ill people from moving their arms.
- straitlaced [ˌstreɪtˈleɪst] adj [person] who has strict and old-fashioned ideas about morality (disapproving use).
- Strait of Gibraltar: the Strait of Gibraltar a narrow passage of water between Spain and Morocco that connects the Mediterranean with the Atlantic Ocean.
- strand [strænd] n -1. [of hair, wool] a piece of something long, flexible, and very thin. -2. [of a plot, argument] one of the many parts of something.
- stranded ['strændəd] adj [person, vehicle] that cannot leave a particular place because of something that has happened, e.g. a strike or bad weather □ We were left stranded in the middle of nowhere.
- strange [streɪndʒ] adj -1. [shape, laugh, attitude] that is unusual or surprising □ What a strange coincidence! □ I feel kind of strange. □ It was strange to visit her old school again. □ I find it very strange that they haven't called. -2. [country, person, house] that one does not know and has not seen before □ I find it difficult to sleep in strange surroundings. □ It was scary arriving in a strange town and not even being able to speak the language.
- strangely ['streɪndʒli] adv -1. a word used to show that one thinks something is surprising or odd □ She was strangely quiet. □ Strangely enough, no one seemed to notice. -2. [laugh, speak, write] see strange □ He's been behaving very strangely lately.
- stranger ['streɪndʒə] n -1. a person that one does not know □ Don't talk to strangers. ■ to be a/no stranger to sthg [to poverty, fame, unhappiness] to have no/a lot of experience of sthg. -2. a person who is in a place that they have never visited before □ I'm a stranger to these parts.
- Strangers' Gallery: the Strangers' Gallery the part of the British House of Commons and House of Lords that is open to the public.
- strangle ['stræŋgl] vt -1. to kill <sb> by squeezing their throat with one's hands, a scarf etc to prevent them from breathing □ Karen was found strangled to death. -2. [development, economy] to prevent <sthg> from developing; [groan, cry] to prevent <sthg> from being expressed fully □ Punitive tax measures have strangled growth. □ He uttered a strangled cry.
- stranglehold ['stræŋghould] n -1. a strong hold around somebody's neck that makes it difficult for them to breathe. -2. a very strong control over something that prevents it from developing freely □ France once had a stranglehold on the world's wine market.
- strangulation [ˌstræŋgjuˈleɪʃn] n the act of strangling somebody □ She died from strangulation.
- strap [stræp] (pt & pp strapped, cont strapping) ◇ n -1. [of a camera, rifle] a narrow band of material such as leather that is attached to something and is used for carrying it. -2. [on a dress, suitcase, shoe] a narrow band of leather, fabric etc used to fasten something or to hold it in place □ a watch/bra strap □ She tightened the straps on her backpack. ◇ vt [person, bag] to fasten <sb/sthg> securely by using one or more straps □ He strapped the parachute onto his back.
- strapless ['stræpləs] adj [dress, bra] that has no straps over the shoulders.
- strapping ['stræpɪŋ] adj a strapping young man/woman a young man/woman who is tall, strong, and looks very fit.
- Strasbourg [US 'strɑːsbɜːrg, GB 'stræzbɜːg] a city in eastern France, on the Rhine. Meetings of the Council of Europe and the European Parliament are held there. POPULATION: 255,937.
- strata [US 'streɪtə, GB 'strɑːtə] plural of stratum.
- stratagem ['strætədʒəm] n a clever plan designed to achieve something, often by deceiving somebody.
- strategic [strə'tiːdʒɪk] adj -1. [withdrawal, move] that is done as part of a larger plan to achieve something □ an island of strategic importance. -2. [weapon, missile] that is very powerful and can be used from a long distance away. -3. [position, location] that has been carefully chosen to make something as effective or useful as possible □ Our product occupies a strategic position in the market.
- strategist ['strætədʒɪst] n a person who is good at forming strategies, especially military ones.

strategy ['strætədʒi] (pl strategies) n a general plan for achieving something, often over a long period of time; the art of creating these plans □ What is the Minister's strategy for dealing with unemployment? □ defense/marketing strategies □ He is skilled in military strategy.

Stratford-upon-Avon [ˌstrætʃədʊpən'eɪvən] a town in central England where William Shakespeare was born and lived.

stratified ['strætəfaɪd] adj -1. [rock] that consists of layers of different types of rock. -2. [society] that is separated into different social classes.

stratosphere ['strætəsfiə] n the stratosphere the outer band of air that surrounds the Earth, starting at about ten kilometers above the Earth's surface.

stratum [US 'streɪtəm, GB 'stru:t-] (pl strata) n -1. GEOLOGY a layer of rock that forms part of the Earth's surface. -2. a class of people in society with the same social or educational background.

Strauss [straʊs], Johann (1825–1899) an Austrian composer who wrote many famous waltzes, including The Blue Danube.

Strauss, Richard (1864–1949) a German composer who wrote many operas and the orchestral piece Also sprach Zarathustra.

Stravinsky [strə'vɪnski], Igor (1882–1971) a US composer, born in Russia, who wrote ballet music including The Firebird and The Rite of Spring.

straw [strɔ:] n -1. the dried stalks of wheat or other cereal crops, used for packaging, bedding for animals etc □ a straw hat/basket. -2. a long, thin, paper or plastic tube used for drinking □ She drank the milkshake through a straw. -3. phrase to clutch at straws to desperately try or believe anything that might give one hope or provide a solution in a difficult situation □ You're clutching at straws; there's no way they could have survived that blast.

strawberry [US 'strɔ:beri, GB -bəri] (pl strawberries) n a small, soft, red fruit that has very small seeds on its surface and grows near the ground □ strawberry jam/yogurt.

straw poll n an unofficial opinion poll before an election.

stray [streɪ] ◇ adj -1. [dog, cat] that has become separated from its owner □ Susan often takes in stray cats and looks after them. -2. a stray bullet a bullet that hits somebody or something that it was not aimed at □ She was hit by a stray bullet. ◇ n a stray cat or dog □ a home for strays. ◇ vi -1. to wander away from a particular place or area □ Don't stray from the path. -2. to think or talk about something which is not related to the topic being discussed □ Try not to stray from the point. □ As he talked, my mind kept straying to the events of the previous evening.

streak [stri:k] ◇ n -1. [of color] a stripe or long area of color that is different from the color of the rest of a surface □ She had blond streaks put in her hair. -2. [in a person] a particular bad quality that a person sometimes shows in their character □ a stubborn/mean streak. -3. a winning/losing streak a period of time during which one keeps succeeding/failing □ I'm on a winning streak. ◇ vi [person, animal] to run very fast □ She streaked past me.

streaked [stri:kt] adj to be streaked with sth [with grease, color, dirt] to be covered with streaks of sth.

streaky ['stri:kɪ] (compar streakier, superl streakiest) adj [color, surface, hair] that is marked with streaks, especially in a way that looks unattractive.

streaky bacon n GB bacon that has lines of fat in it.

stream [stri:m] ◇ n -1. a very small river □ A tiny stream ran through the field. -2. [of liquid, air] a constant flow of liquid, air etc □ a stream of tears/water/light. -3. [of people] a large number or amount of people or things that arrive one after the other □ a stream of customers/traffic □ She received a steady stream of complaints. -4. GB EDUCATION a group of students of the same age and ability who are taught a particular subject together □ Lindy was put in the top stream for maths.

◇ vt GB EDUCATION to put <students> into streams.

◇ vi -1. [tears, water] to flow quickly; [light] to shine through or into something □ He stood by the coffin, tears streaming down his face. □ The sun streamed through the window. -2. [people, cars] to move somewhere one after the other in large numbers; [questions, calls] to be expressed, received etc one after the other in large numbers □ Crowds of people streamed into the concert hall. □ Applications have been streaming in.

streamer ['stri:mə] n a long thin piece of colored paper used as a decoration for a party, carnival etc.

