- evacuate [ɪ'vækju'eɪt] vt to get <people> to leave a place because it is dangerous; to empty  in this way □ Staff and customers were evacuated from the store shortly before the explosion. □ Police were called in to evacuate the area.
- evacuation [ɪ,vækju'eɪʃn] n: see evacuate □ McArthur ordered the evacuation of the city.
- evacuee [ɪ,vækju:'i:] n a person who has been evacuated from a dangerous place, especially during a war.
- evade [ɪ'veɪd] vt -1. [issue, question] to avoid dealing with <sthg>, especially because one is trying to hide something; [responsibility, problem] to avoid dealing with <sthg> because it is difficult or unpleasant □ I think you're evading the issue here. □ You cannot continue to evade your responsibilities in this way.

-2. [tax, punishment, capture] to avoid <sthg that is required by law> □ He managed to evade capture for several days. -3. [pursuer] to avoid being caught by <sb>.

evaluate [ɪˈvæljuːeɪt] vt [success, difficulty, evidence] to judge the value of <sthg> by considering it carefully □ It would be wrong to evaluate his contribution in purely financial terms.

evaluation [ɪˌvæljʊˈeɪʃn] n: see evaluate □ I would appreciate your evaluation of the situation. □ Each student gets an evaluation of his or her coursework.

evangelical [ɪˌvæŋˈdʒelɪkəl] adj [church, sermon] that is connected with a kind of Christian belief that emphasizes the importance of studying the Gospels and accepting Christ as one's personal savior □ an evangelical preacher.

evangelism [ɪˈvændʒəlɪzəm] n the practice of teaching Christianity, especially to people who are not Christians.

evangelist [ɪˈvændʒəlɪst] n a person who tries to persuade people to become Christians, especially at large public meetings.

evangelize, -ise [ɪˈvændʒəlaɪz] vt to try to persuade <sb> to become a Christian.

evaporate [ɪˈvæpəreɪt] vi -1. [water, solution] to change into gas or steam. -2. [hopes, confidence, fears] to gradually become less strong and then disappear.

evaporated milk [ɪˌvæpəreɪtəd-] n unsweetened milk that has been made thicker by removing water from it and which is sold in cans.

evaporation [ɪˌvæpəˈreɪʃn] n: see evaporate □ water loss due to evaporation.

evasion [ɪˈveɪʃn] n -1. the act of avoiding doing something that one is supposed to do, especially by using deception □ This is an evasion of your responsibilities as a citizen. -2. a way of using words so that one does not really give an answer to the question asked □ Lies and evasion are his speciality.

evasive [ɪˈveɪsɪv] adj -1. [person, answer] that avoids dealing with a question directly and honestly □ She was being deliberately evasive. -2. to take evasive action MILITARY to move away in order to avoid being attacked, injured etc □ Our pilots were forced to take evasive action.

eve [iːv] n the eve of sthg the day before sthg important happens □ on the eve of the election.

Eve [iːv] → Adam.

even¹ [ˈiːvn] adj -1. [speed, rate, temperature] that remains the same □ The spacing between the letters has to be even. -2. [ground, surface, road] smooth, flat, and level □ You need to make the floor even before laying tiles or carpet. -3. [temper, tone] that does not show great changes in feelings and emotions □ He spoke in a slow even tone. -4. [contest, scores] equal □ After their win on Saturday, Dallas is now even with the leaders. ■ to be even [teams, players] to have an equal amount of skill or ability. -5. [division, share] shared out equally or fairly □ The party is committed to a more even distribution of wealth. ■ to have an even chance of doing sthg to be as likely to do sthg as not to do it □ We've got an even chance of winning. -6. phrase to get even with sb to do as much harm to sb as they have done to one □ He vowed he'd get even with them one day. -7. an even number a number that divides by two, e.g. 2, 4, or 6.

NOTE: The opposite of an even number is an odd number.

even² adv -1. a word used to show that a fact is surprising or unexpected □ Even I could do better than that! □ Nobody knows, not even my mother. -2. a word used for extra emphasis in comparisons □ £5 is fine, but £10 would be even better. □ You're even more stupid than I first thought.

◆ even if conj we'll go for a walk, even if it's raining it might rain, but if this happens it will make no difference and we will still go for a walk □ I'm glad I bought the car, even if I can't really afford it.

◆ even out ◇ vt sep [surface, water supply, prices] to make the differences between <two or more amounts, levels> etc smaller or less noticeable □ Go over the ground with a roller after digging to even out any bumps. □ A final coat of paint should even out any light or dark patches. ◇ vi [differences, rates] The costs will even out if we pay a regular monthly amount.

◆ even so adv he was ill, but even so he came in spite of the fact that he was ill, he came □ I know he's busy at the moment. Even so, he could have offered to help.

◆ even though conj we enjoyed the game, even though we didn't win it is surprising that we enjoyed the game, because we didn't win □ I get nervous going there, even though I've been there before.

even-handed [ˈhændəd] adj [person, approach] that treats everybody fairly □ I have tried to be reasonably even-handed in my treatment of the candidates.

evening [ˈiːvɪŋ] n -1. the part of the day between the end of the afternoon and the beginning of the night □ an evening show □ I could meet you this/tomorrow evening. □ We could go out in the evening. □ I spent all evening at home. -2. a social event or entertainment that takes place in the evening □ a musical evening □ Thanks for a wonderful evening!

◆ evenings adv US in the evening □ I tend to be fairly busy evenings.

evening class n an educational class for adults that takes place in the evening.

evening dress n -1. special clothes worn for formal events in the evening □ Mark was wearing evening dress. -2. a dress, usually long, that is worn by a woman for a formal event in the evening □ She was wearing a beautiful black evening dress.

Evening Star n: the Evening Star a bright planet, usually Venus, seen in the western sky just after the sun goes down.

evenly ['i:vnli] adv -1. to breathe evenly to breathe in a way that is regular and stays at the same level. ■ to be evenly spaced [objects, letters] to have the same amount of space between each other. -2. [divide, distribute] in a way that gives an equal amount to every part of something □ Apply the paint evenly. ■ to be evenly matched [teams, players] to be even. -3. [talk, speak] in a way that does not show one's emotions.

evensong ['i:vnson] n a service held in the evening in Anglican churches.

event [i'vent] n -1. something that happens and is usually interesting or important □ historical events □ The party was quite an event! -2. SPORT a race or activity that is part of an organized competition □ track and field events. -3. in that event if that happens □ In that event, I should withdraw my application.

◆ in any event adv a phrase used to emphasize that something will happen even if something else makes it seem uncertain or unlikely □ I'll try to phone tomorrow, but in any event I'll write next week.

◆ in the event adv GB when something actually happened or took place □ We thought there would be problems, but in the event everything went smoothly.

◆ in the event of prep if <sthg> happens □ 'In the event of fire, break glass.'

◆ in the event that conj if a particular thing happens □ In the event that the show is canceled, a refund will be issued.

even-tempered adj [person] who is calm and does not get angry easily □ He's a fairly even-tempered boy.

eventful [i'ventfl] adj [life, day] in which a lot of interesting or exciting things happen □ It wasn't exactly an eventful trip.

eventing [i'ventɪŋ] n GB SPORT a horse riding competition that lasts three days and involves cross-country riding and show jumping.

eventual [i'ventʃuəl] adj [outcome, improvement, choice] that is the final result of a process □ The eventual winner was Deborah Fields from Toronto.

eventuality [i'ventʃu'æləti] (pl eventualities) n a possible event or result in the future □ We must be prepared for such an eventuality/all eventualities.

eventually [i'ventʃuəli] adv -1. after a long time, especially after a lot of difficulties or delays □ Eventually, somebody came to answer the door. □ I eventually realized what a waste of time it was. -2. at some point in the future when a particular process or situation comes to an end □ Interest rates should come down eventually.

ever ['evə] adv -1. have you ever been to France? have you been to France at any time? (used in commands, questions, negative sentences, and clauses beginning with "if") □ No one ever calls these days. □ Don't ever speak to me like that! □ He denied ever having been there. □ If you ever need any help, ask me. -2. a word used in comparisons and after superlatives □ Business is better than ever. □ It's the worst play I've ever seen. -3. a word used in questions to emphasize one's surprise □ What ever makes you think that?

◆ as ever adv in the usual way □ As ever, he was charming and witty.

◆ ever since adv a phrase used to show that a situation has existed since a particular event, and that it still exists □ I decided not to take the job and have regretted it ever since. ◇ prep ever since the 1920s all the time from the 1920s until now. ◇ conj: She's been getting headaches ever since she had the accident.

◆ ever so adv very (informal use) □ Thank you ever so much.

◆ ever such det ever such nice people very nice people (informal use).

◆ for ever adv for all time in the future □ I'm not going away for ever, just for a year.

Everest ['evərəst]: (Mount) Everest a mountain in the Himalayas, the highest in the world. HEIGHT: 8,846 m.

Everglades ['evərgleɪdz]: the Everglades a large area of marshland in Florida, USA. It includes a national park that is famous for its alligators.

evergreen ['evə'grɪ:n] ◇ adj [tree, shrub] that never loses its leaves. ◇ n an evergreen tree, shrub etc.

NOTE: Compare deciduous.

everlasting [US 'evə'læstɪŋ, GB 'evə'lɑ:stɪŋ] adj [life, peace] that never ends □ The promise of everlasting happiness.

every ['evri] det -1. every child all the children in the group □ Every room in the hotel has a TV. □ They argue every time they meet. □ Every word of it is true. -2. every three months regularly, once in every period of three months □ I think of him every hour/day of my life. □ They stopped and rested every five miles. -3. every tenth girl one girl out of ten □ The Olympics are held every fourth year. -4. a word used for emphasis □ Every attempt was made to save them. □ There's every chance she'll make a full recovery.

◆ every now and then, every so often adv sometimes but not often □ I like to go out dancing every so often.

◆ every which way adv US in all directions (informal use) □ People were running about every which way.

everybody ['evrɪbɒdi] pron -1. all the people in a particular group □ I get on well with everybody at work. □ Has everybody had enough to eat? -2. all the people who are important or relevant □ She's the kind of person who gets on well with everybody. □ It's the movie that everybody is talking about at the moment.

everyday ['evrɪdeɪ] adj [routine, occurrence, use] that happens regularly as a part of ordinary life and is not unusual or interesting □ This kind of thing is hardly an everyday occurrence. □ It doesn't happen often in everyday life.

everyone ['evriwʌn] pron = everybody.

everyplace ['evripleɪs] adv US = everywhere (informal use).

everything ['evriθɪŋ] pron -1. all the objects, facts, actions etc in a particular place or situation □ Don't believe everything you read in the newspapers! □ Everything in the house is for sale. -2. the whole situation □ Don't worry, everything's under control. -3. all the possible things that might happen or be needed □ I can't do everything at once!

everywhere ['evriweə] adv -1. all the places somebody goes to □ Her dog follows her around everywhere. -2. in every part of the world □ And here is a song for Elvis fans everywhere. -3. in every part of a particular building, area, or country □ There were flames in the kitchen and smoke everywhere. □ We've been everywhere in London. -4. in all possible places □ Oh here you are, I've been looking everywhere for you!

evict ['ɪvɪkt] vt [tenant, resident] to make <sb> leave the house, apartment etc where they are living, because they no longer have the legal right to be there □ We want to evict them from our land.

eviction ['ɪvɪkʃn] n: see evict □ The number of evictions has grown in the past year.

eviction notice n a formal warning to somebody that they are going to be evicted.

evidence ['eɪdɪns] n -1. objects, words, or events which make somebody believe a statement or theory □ This latest move is evidence of a change in government thinking. -2. LAW objects or words used to prove that something is true □ There's no evidence to prove that he was there that night. ■ to give evidence GB to say what one knows about a particular person or event during a trial in a court of law.

◆ in evidence adj to be in evidence to be present and noticeable in a particular place or situation □ The police were much in evidence at the demonstration.

evident ['eɪdɪnt] adj [enjoyment, uneasiness] that can be clearly seen, noticed etc □ It soon became evident that he was a sick man.

evidently ['eɪdɪntli] adv -1. evidently,... a word used to show that one thinks something is probably true because of what one already knows □ She's evidently forgotten to fax us. -2. a word used to show that one thinks something is certainly true because of what one can see □ He was evidently in great pain.

evil ['i:vl] ◇ adj [person, torture, practice] very bad, harmful, or unpleasant. ◇ n -1. the quality of being very bad and harmful □ Evil is all around us. -2. something that is considered to be unpleasant or harmful □ the evils of drink □ These parking regulations are a necessary evil.

evil-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who wants unpleasant or harmful things to happen to other people.

evince ['ɪvɪns] vt [interest, desire] to show  etc clearly (formal use).

evocation [i:ˈvəʊˈkeɪʃn] n something which causes somebody to have a memory or picture of something in their mind.

evocative [ɪˈvɒkətɪv] adj [smell, poem] that makes somebody think of something else, usually from the past □ The photographs were very evocative of my early childhood.

evoke [ɪˈvəʊk] vt -1. to bring into one's mind  etc □ The movie evoked memories of summer vacations long ago. -2. to cause  etc □ The appeal evoked little response from the audience.

evolution [i:ˈvɒlʊ:ʃn] n -1. BIOLOGY the gradual process of development by which plants and animals change their forms over millions of years. -2. [of society, a system] a gradual development of something.

evolve [ɪˈvɒlv] ◇ vt [system, style] to develop <sthg> gradually □ We've evolved our own method of filing. ◇ vi -1. [model, style] to gradually develop and become more advanced or complex □ Technology is continually evolving. -2. BIOLOGY to change gradually from one form into another □ Birds evolved from reptiles.

ewe [ju:] n a female sheep.

ex- [eks] prefix added to words to show that a person or thing no longer has the status they used to have □ his ex-wife □ an ex-serviceman/president.

exacerbate [ɪgˈzæsəˈbeɪt] vt [difficulty, pain] to make <sthg> worse (formal use) □ Maxwell's anxious presence only exacerbated the situation.

exact [ɪgˈzækt] ◇ adj [amount, copy, time] that is correct and includes every necessary detail □ What is your exact location? ■ to be exact a phrase used when one is giving more detailed or accurate information about a subject □ He comes from the North, Boston, to be exact. ◇ vt [promise, payment] to demand and get <sthg> from somebody, usually because one is stronger or more powerful than them (formal use) □ The gang exacts money from local storekeepers under the threat of violence.

exacting [ɪgˈzæktɪŋ] adj [job, person] that demands hard work and effort □ Her team had to live up to her own exacting standards.

exactitude [ɪgˈzæktɪtʃu:d] n the quality of being exact (formal use).

exactly [ɪgˈzæktli] ◇ adv -1. a word used to refer to an amount, location etc in a way that is correct and includes every necessary detail □ Where exactly do you live? □ That's exactly $10, please. □ What exactly happened? ■ at nine/ten etc o'clock exactly neither earlier nor later than nine/ten etc o'clock. ■ not exactly a phrase used to show that something is not completely true or correct □ It's not exactly a disaster but it's not a success either. □ "So you were ill yesterday?" — "Not exactly, but I felt pretty low." -2. [copy, calculate] see exact.

◇ excl a word used to show that a person is

- in complete agreement with what has just been said □ Exactly! That's just what I was thinking.
- exaggerate [ɪg'zædʒəreɪt] ◇ vt [truth, problem, effect] to make <sthg> seem bigger, better, more important etc than it really is □ The scale of the problem has been grossly exaggerated. ◇ vi: Don't exaggerate! It's not that bad!
- exaggerated [ɪg'zædʒəreɪtəd] adj -1. [claim, report] that is made to seem bigger, better, more important etc than it really is □ Her claims to be the new Jane Fonda are somewhat exaggerated. -2. [sigh, gesture] that is done in a way that is more obvious than it needs to be in order to create a particular effect □ "Be quiet," she said in an exaggerated whisper.
- exaggeration [ɪg,zædʒə'reɪʃn] n: see exaggerate □ He's prone to exaggeration. □ It would be no exaggeration to say that we all felt betrayed.
- exalted [ɪg'zɔ:ltəd] adj [person, position] that seems very important.
- exam [ɪg'zæm] (abbr of examination) n a formal test of somebody's knowledge or ability in a particular subject, usually given at the end of a course of study □ an oral/English exam. ■ to take OR GB sit an exam to do a test in order to get an official qualification.
- examination [ɪg,zæmɪ'reɪʃn] n -1. = exam. -2. a careful and detailed check of something such as a document or vehicle to make sure that everything is the way it is supposed to be □ On closer examination, it turned out to be a fake. -3. MEDICINE the process of looking at a person's body to find out how healthy they are □ The doctor sent the patient to her local hospital for an examination. -4. [of a plan, proposal, idea] a detailed consideration of something □ The offer is still under examination.
- examination board n an organization responsible for preparing and grading exams for students.
- examination paper n GB a set of printed questions used as an examination; the set of pages on which answers to these questions are written.
- examine [ɪg'zæmɪn] vt -1. [document, painting] to look at <sthg> carefully □ Professor Martin examined the manuscript closely. -2. MEDICINE to look at <sb> to find out whether they are healthy or not. -3. [idea, proposal, evidence] to consider <sthg> carefully, especially in order to make a decision about it □ We cannot come to a conclusion until all the evidence has been examined. -4. [pupil, student] to give <sb> a test □ Students will be examined on a number of subjects. -5. LAW to ask <sb> questions during a trial in a court of law □ It was the prosecution's turn to examine the witness.
- examiner [ɪg'zæmɪnə] n -1. a person who writes questions for an exam. -2. a person who grades the answers to an exam. ■ an internal/external examiner GB an examiner from the institution where the exam is taken/from a separate institution.
- example [US ɪg'zæmp], GB -'zɑ:mp] n -1. a thing which is mentioned when one is trying to show the typical qualities of a larger group of things □ This is a perfect example of the kind of attitude I'm talking about. -2. a person or a type of behavior that other people are encouraged to copy □ Her courage is an example to us all. ■ to follow sb's example to copy what sb else has done in one's own behavior □ I followed your example and complained about the service. ■ to make an example of sb to punish sb severely to stop other people from copying their behavior.
- ◆ for example adv a phrase used to introduce an example of what is being shown or discussed □ Cycling, for example, is an excellent way of building up stamina.
- exasperate [ɪg'zæspəreɪt] vt to make <sb> very frustrated and annoyed □ He was exasperated by his daughter's lack of enthusiasm.
- exasperating [ɪg'zæspəreɪtɪŋ] adj [person, day] that makes one feel frustrated and annoyed □ I find him really exasperating.
- exasperation [ɪg,zæspə'reɪʃn] n: see exasperate □ She looked at him in exasperation.
- excavate ['ekskeɪveɪt] vt -1. [building site, area] to remove earth from  by digging; to make  by doing this. -2. [object, pottery, bone] to find <sthg> by digging a hole in the ground; [settlement, site, hill] to show <sthg> as it was in the past by removing earth from it.
- excavation [ˌekskeɪ'veɪʃn] n -1. [of site, hole] see excavate. -2. a site or area of land that is being excavated.
- excavator [ˌekskeɪ'veɪtə] n GB a large machine for digging and moving earth, e.g. on a construction site.
- exceed [ɪk'si:ɪd] vt -1. [amount, number] to be greater than <sthg> in quantity □ The number of applicants far exceeds the number of places available. -2. [speed limit, expectations] to go beyond <sthg> □ The trip certainly exceeded all my expectations.
- exceedingly [ɪk'si:ɪdɪŋli] adv exceedingly complicated/good etc very complicated/good etc.
- excel [ɪk'sel] (pt & pp excelled, cont excelling) ◇ vi to be very good at something □ She excels in OR at music. ◇ vt to excel oneself to do better than usual □ You've excelled yourself tonight, Mark.
- excellence ['eksələns] n the quality of being extremely good □ As a company we pride ourselves on setting standards of excellence. □ the excellence of the food.
- Excellency ['eksələnsɪ] (pl Excellencies) n a title used for officials of very high rank such as ambassadors □ Your/His/Her Excellency.
- excellent ['eksələnt] ◇ adj [meal, idea, athlete] extremely good □ What an excellent program! ◇ excl a word used to show one's approval of something □ Excellent! That's a great plan!
- except [ɪk'sept] ◇ prep a word used to introduce the only thing or person not included in the previous statement □ I can make any day except Monday. □ We know nothing except what you've already told us. ◇ conj except (that)... a word used to introduce one slight difference between two things or people □ The twins look the same, except (that) Jane has green eyes.

◆ except for prep = except □ We told everyone, except for Ian.

excepted [ɪk'septəd] prep with the exception of <sb/sthg> □ Dan excepted, everyone agreed.

excepting [ɪk'septɪŋ] prep & conj a word used to indicate the only thing that stops one's general statement from being completely true □ Everyone agreed, excepting Ron.

exception [ɪk'sepʃn] n -1. a person, thing, or situation that is not included in a general statement, rule, or pattern □ an exception to the rule □ I'll make an exception in your case. ■ with the exception of sb/sthg a phrase used to introduce a person, thing, or situation not included in a general statement □ Everybody was there, with the notable exception of Tom. ■ without exception a phrase used to show that something is true for every one of the people or things mentioned □ I want everyone, without exception, in the office at eight-thirty tomorrow. -2. to take exception to sthg [to a remark, attitude] to show that one does not accept sthg because one finds it annoying or offensive □ He took exception to being called "Sonny".

exceptional [ɪk'sepʃənəl] adj -1. [musician, work] very good □ The food was good, but I wouldn't say it was exceptional. -2. [case, circumstances] very unusual and unlikely to happen or exist often □ Only under exceptional circumstances will employees be allowed to leave before 5:00pm.

exceptionally [ɪk'sepʃənəli] adv exceptionally kind/cold etc very kind/cold etc.

excerpt ['ɛksɜːpt] n a small part of a book, movie, piece of music etc □ This is an excerpt from Copland's "Appalachian Spring."

excess [ɪk'ses, before nouns 'ɛkses] ◇ adj [weight, fat] more than is allowed, necessary, or usual □ Drain off any excess water. ◇ n an amount that is greater than what is necessary, usual, or allowed □ She was driving with an excess of alcohol in her blood.

◆ in excess of prep more than <sthg> □ He spent in excess of $2,000.

◆ to excess adv too much □ He drinks to excess.

excess baggage n baggage that weighs more than the limit that a passenger is allowed to take onto a plane; the money paid by a passenger in order to be allowed to take this baggage onto a plane.

excess fare n GB extra money that one has to pay if one's train ticket does not cover the fare for the entire trip.

excessive [ɪk'sesɪv] adj [interest, demand, price] that is much greater in amount or degree than is necessary or desirable □ $50 for lunch seems a little excessive.

excess luggage n = excess baggage.

exchange [ɪks'tʃeɪndʒ] ◇ vt -1. [addresses, gifts] to give <things of the same kind> to each other at the same time □ We exchanged letters for years. □ I exchanged jobs with a German colleague for a few months. -2. [currency, goods] to replace <sthg> with something else of the same value □ Merchandise can only be exchanged with a receipt. □ I'd like to exchange this shirt for one in a smaller size.

◇ n -1. [of two things] the act of exchanging something for something else □ the free exchange of information □ an exchange of goods/views. -2. [for telephones] a building or part of an office, where connections are made between telephone lines. -3. [between two families, students] an arranged visit in which two people go to each other's home town □ I went to Moscow on a cultural exchange. □ an exchange visit. -4. [during a meeting, discussion] a short argument, especially in a public meeting or a political debate (formal use) □ There was a heated exchange.

◆ in exchange adv a phrase used when giving something to somebody in return for something else that is similar or of the same value □ I'll give you my bike in exchange for your skis.

exchange rate n the official rate at which money in one currency is exchanged for money in another currency.

excise ['ɛksaɪz] ◇ n excise (tax) a tax that a government puts on goods such as alcohol that are produced and sold within its country. ◇ vt [passage of text, tumor] to cut out and remove <sthg> (formal use).

excise duty n = excise tax.

excitable [ɪk'saɪtəbl] adj [person, animal] that gets excited or nervous easily.

excite [ɪk'saɪt] vt -1. to make <sb> excited □ Try not to excite yourself too much. -2. to cause <interest, suspicion, admiration> etc □ The movie failed to excite my imagination.

excited [ɪk'saɪtəd] adj [person] who is full of strong feelings of enthusiasm and interest and unable to relax, usually because of something good that they think is going to happen □ We were very excited about OR at the news. □ What are you getting so excited about?

excitement [ɪk'saɪtmənt] n -1. the feeling of being excited □ I've had enough excitement for one day, thanks! □ In my excitement, I forgot to thank him. -2. something that causes one to feel excited □ the excitements of a trip to Paris.

exciting [ɪk'saɪtɪŋ] adj [movie, idea, race] that makes one feel excited □ I think it's very exciting to be going away to India. □ an exciting new discovery.

excl abbr of excluding.

exclaim [ɪk'skleɪm] ◇ vt to say <sthg> suddenly and in a loud voice when one is surprised, shocked, disappointed etc □ "That's ridiculous!" he exclaimed. ◇ vi: She exclaimed at how much work there was to be done.

exclamation point US, exclamation mark GB n a symbol (!) at the end of a sentence, phrase, or word that shows that it is an exclamation.

exclude [ɪk'sklud] vt -1. to deliberately prevent <sb/sthg> from being part of something □ Try to exclude all dairy products from your diet. □ People under 16 are excluded from taking part. -2. [reason, option] not to consider <sthg> when one is trying to find a solution, answer etc □ We cannot exclude the possibility that they might change their minds.

excluding [ɪk'sklu:diŋ] prep not including <sb/sthg> □ There were ten of us in the bus, excluding the driver.

exclusion [ɪk'sklu:ʒn] n [from a place, group] see exclude □ Complaints were received about the exclusion of stockholders from the meeting. ■ to the exclusion of all else a phrase used when somebody is involved in a particular activity to such an extent that there is no time for anything else □ He is obsessed with work to the exclusion of everything else.

exclusion clause n a clause in a contract that states what is not covered by the terms of the contract.

exclusive [ɪk'sklu:ʃv] ◇ adj -1. [club, hotel, district] that is only for people who are considered socially acceptable or who have enough money □ They are staying in a rather exclusive hotel on the left bank. -2. [use, ownership, property] that is limited to one person or group of people and is not shared with anybody else □ Our company has exclusive rights on this publication. □ an offer exclusive to our readers. -3. [interview, news story] only covered by one TV company, radio station, or newspaper □ Tonight we have exclusive coverage of the game between Sweden and Italy. ◇ n an exclusive news story □ The paper ran an exclusive on the latest talks.

◆ exclusive of prep not including <sthg> □ The total comes to $515, exclusive of sales tax.

exclusively [ɪk'sklu:ʃvli] adv only □ We deal exclusively with foreign clients. □ He works exclusively for our company.

excommunicate [ˌɛkskə'mju:nəkeɪt] vt to say publicly that <sb> is no longer a member of the Roman Catholic Church.

excommunication [ˌɛkskə'mju:nə'keɪʃn] n: see excommunicate.

excrement [ˌɛkskrə'mənt] n human or animal waste passed from the bowels (formal use).

excrete [ɪk'skri:t] vt [feces, urine, sweat] to pass <waste matter> from the body, especially through the anus.

excruciating [ɪk'skru:ʃi:ɪtɪŋ] adj -1. [pain, ache] that is very intense and hurts a lot □ Sam was in excruciating pain. -2. [performance, experience] that is extremely bad, distressing, or embarrassing □ "How was the concert?" — "Excruciating!"

excursion [ɪk'skɜ:ʃn] n a short trip, especially one that is made for pleasure or relaxation, or as part of a vacation □ There are daily excursions to nearby places of interest.

excusable [ɪk'skju:zəbl] adj [behavior, mistake, oversight] that can be forgiven □ It's perfectly excusable for him to be late this one time.

excuse [n ɪk'skju:s, vb ɪk'skju:z] ◇ n a reason one gives for doing something wrong, especially when asking to be forgiven □ I made an excuse and left early. □ Her excuse was (that) she'd been delayed in traffic. □ The only excuse I could think of was that I had been ill. □ I'm trying to think of an excuse not to go to the meeting. ■ that's/there's no excuse for sthg a phrase used to show that one disapproves of sthg □ That's no excuse for rudeness.

◇ vt -1. [somebody's behavior] to make <sthg> seem less bad □ That does not excuse his absence/the fact that he was late! -2. [person] to forgive <sb> for something bad they have done □ Please excuse me for not coming to the party. □ I can't excuse what you've done. -3. to excuse sb from sthg to give sb permission not to do sthg □ I was excused from attending the meeting. -4. would you excuse me? a phrase used to say politely that one is about to leave □ If you would excuse me for a moment, I'll go and see to dinner. ■ to excuse oneself to say politely that one is about to leave □ She excused herself and went to talk to the other guests. -5. excuse me an expression used to attract somebody's attention or to apologize for something one has done that might seem rude; US an expression used to show that one has not heard what somebody has said □ Excuse me! I think you've forgotten something. □ Excuse me, could I squeeze past you? □ Oh, excuse me, I didn't see you. □ Excuse me? Did you say you were Canadian?

ex-directory adj GB [phone number, person] that is not listed in the public telephone directory □ My number's ex-directory.

exec [ɪg'zɛk] n abbr of executive.

execrable [ˌɛksɪkrəbl] adj [performance, taste, cooking] that one thinks is very bad (formal use) □ The whole joke was in execrable taste.

execute [ˌɛksəkju:t] vt -1. [prisoner, criminal] to kill <sb>, especially as a punishment for a crime □ The group has threatened to execute one of the hostages each day. -2. [plan, order, movement] to carry out <sthg> (formal use) □ That was a beautifully executed maneuver.

execution [ˌɛksəkju:ʃn] n: see execute □ His execution is due to take place tomorrow morning. □ She was meticulous in her execution of her brief.

executioner [ˌɛksəkju:ʃnə] n a person whose job is to kill somebody as a punishment for a crime.

executive [ɪg'zɛkjətɪv] ◇ n -1. BUSINESS a person who holds a senior position in a business and is responsible for making decisions, running a department etc □ company/advertising executives. -2. [of an organization] the committee of an organization that has the power to make decisions and carry them out □ the Labour Party executive. -3. the executive POLITICS the part of the government of a country that is responsible for carrying out laws or decrees □ The three branches of government in the USA are the legislative, the executive, and the judiciary.

◇ adj -1. [power, board, section] that is connected with making decisions and running an organization, especially a business □ involved in an executive capacity. -2. [chair, wash-room, desk] that is expensive or luxurious and is intended for executives or people of a similar social position □ an executive car.

executive director n a director who works in the running of a business or organization.

executive toy n a small toy that is designed for executives and is supposed to help relieve stress.

executor [ɪg'zɛkjətəʃ] n a person who one names to carry out the instructions in one's will after one's death.

exemplary [ɪg'zɛmpləri] adj [behavior, employee] that is extremely good and an example to other people □ Jonathan's conduct throughout the trial was exemplary.

exemplify [ɪg'zɛmplɪfaɪ] (pt & pp exemplified) vt -1. [skill, belief, situation] to be a typical example of <sthg> □ I think this book exemplifies the kind of publication we can expect from a small firm. -2. [point, usage] to give an example of <sthg>.

exempt [ɪg'zɛmpt] ◇ adj to be exempt to be freed from or not affected by a payment, rule etc □ Students are exempt from taxes/military service. ◇ vt to make <sb> exempt from something □ He was exempted from military service on health grounds.

exemption [ɪg'zɛmptʃn] n: see exempt □ tax exemptions for married couples.

exercise ['ɛksə'saɪz] ◇ n -1. [for part of the body] a set of movements that one does in order to keep a particular part of the body fit, or before playing a sport □ You need to do stomach/chest exercises. -2. [for general health] physical activities, e.g. walking or swimming, that one does to keep one's body in good condition □ You must take more exercise. □ Twenty minutes' exercise a day is enough to keep most people in shape. -3. MILITARY a military operation that is part of training for war □ They're on exercises in Dartmouth at the moment. -4. EDUCATION an activity that a student does, usually a piece of writing, in order to develop a skill, e.g. spelling, math, or a foreign language □ a book of grammar exercises. -5. the exercise of power/authority etc the act of using power/authority etc.

◇ vt -1. [dog, horse] to make <an animal> take exercise □ Dogs need to be exercised regularly. -2. [shoulder, leg] to move  regularly and in a special way to make it stronger and fitter □ Try jogging to exercise your leg muscles. -3. [power, authority] to use <sthg> (formal use) □ Police officers were asked by community leaders to exercise restraint. ◇ vi to get exercise □ Try to exercise regularly.

exercise bike n a bicycle that is fixed on a base and used indoors, e.g. in a gym or in one's home, for getting exercise.

exercise book n -1. a notebook used by schoolchildren for doing their schoolwork in. -2. a book of exercises that are done as part of a written course.

exert [ɪg'zɜ:t] vt to use <influence, pressure> etc to achieve a particular purpose □ He exerted all his charm in persuading her to agree to his plan. ■ to exert oneself to make a great effort physically or mentally.

exertion [ɪg'zɜ:tʃn] n physical effort □ There's a lot of physical exertion involved in this job. □ After the morning's exertions I was exhausted.

ex gratia [ɛks'grɛɪʃə] adj an ex gratia payment a payment that is made as a favor.

exhale [ɛks'heɪl] ◇ vt [person] to breathe out <smoke, air> etc □ He exhaled a cloud of cigarette smoke. ◇ vi [person] to breathe out □ Take a deep breath in, then exhale slowly.

exhaust [ɪg'zɔ:st] ◇ n -1. the gases that are produced by an engine while it is being used □ exhaust fumes. -2. = exhaust pipe. ◇ vt -1. [person] to make <sb> very tired □ That walk completely exhausted me! -2. [fuel, funds, patience] to use all of <sthg> so that there is none left □ *We seem to have exhausted all possibilities.

exhausted [ɪg'zɔ:stəd] adj [person] who is very tired □ You look exhausted! What have you been doing?

exhausting [ɪg'zɔ:stɪŋ] adj [day, job, trip] that is very tiring □ He's quite an exhausting person to talk to.

exhaustion [ɪg'zɔ:stʃn] n extreme tiredness □ Two of the runners were taken to the hospital suffering from exhaustion.

exhaustive [ɪg'zɔ:stɪv] adj [search, study] that covers all aspects of something □ This list is by no means exhaustive, but it should give you a general idea.

exhaust pipe n a pipe attached to the bottom of a car, truck etc that carries gases away from the engine into the air.

exhibit [ɪg'zɪbət] ◇ n -1. ART something that is put in an exhibition, museum, or art gallery for people to look at. -2. LAW something that is shown in court as a piece of evidence in a case. ◇ vt -1. [emotion, tendency] to show <sthg> (formal use) □ Investors have so far not exhibited any signs of panic following the board's announcement. -2. ART [painting, statue, collection] to show <sthg> to the public, especially in an art gallery or museum. ◇ vi [artist] to show one's work in public.

exhibition [ˌɛksɪ'bɪʃn] n -1. ART an organized event where paintings, sculptures, prints etc are put in a public place, e.g. in a museum or art gallery, so that people can look at them □ I went to see a very interesting exhibition on OR of women's photography. □ an art/a sculpture exhibition. -2. [of emotion, behavior] see exhibit. ■ to make an exhibition of oneself GB to act in a foolish and ridiculous way that other people notice □ Did you have to make an exhibition of yourself in front of my friends?

exhibitionist [ˌɛksɪ'bɪʃnɪst] n a person who likes attracting people's attention in public, especially by wearing strange clothes or talking loudly.

exhibitor [ɪg'zɪbətəʃ] n a person whose work is being shown at an exhibition.

exhilarating [ɪg'zɪləreɪtɪŋ] adj [experience, walk, sight] that makes one feel very happy and full of energy □ There's something quite exhilarating about traveling at that speed.

exhort [ɪg'zɔ:t] vt to exhort sb to do sthg to

- try hard to persuade sb to do sthg (formal use) □ General McVane exhorted the troops to fight on.
- exhume [eks'hju:m] vt to exhume sb's body to take sb's dead body out of a grave.
- exile ['eksail] ◇ n -1. a person who is forced, often for political reasons, to live in a country that is not their own and is unable to return home □ Harrison now lives in the Cayman Islands as a tax exile. -2. the state of living as an exile □ He lived for many years in exile. □ The disgraced leader was sent into exile. ◇ vt to send <sb> away from a country as an exile □ He was exiled from/to France.
- exiled ['eksaid] adj [monarch, writer, leader] who is forced, often for political reasons, to live in a country that is not their own □ The exiled guerrilla leader arrived in Washington today.
- exist [ig'zɪst] vi to live or be present in the world as something real, rather than as something imaginary □ I'm sure he doesn't even know I exist. □ The law has existed for centuries.
- existence [ig'zɪstəns] n -1. the state of existing □ They have been trying to prove the existence of a black hole. □ This kind of technology has been in existence for years. □ The law came into existence in 1964. -2. a particular type of life □ They led a miserable existence.
- existentialism [ˌegzɪ'stenʃəlizm] n the belief that because there seems to be no meaning in the universe, people are free to act as they like and are therefore responsible for their own actions.
- existentialist [ˌegzɪ'stenʃəlist] ◇ n a person who believes in existentialism. ◇ adj: existentialist philosophy/writing.
- existing [ig'zɪstɪŋ] adj [system, structure, government] that exists now □ The existing guidelines are simply inadequate.
- exit ['eksət] ◇ n -1. a way out of a movie theater, store, subway etc □ Please leave the building by the nearest available exit. -2. the act of leaving a place □ I made a quick exit. ◇ vi to go out of a place □ Exit, stage right. ◇ vt: 'Exit the station to your right for the piazza.'
- exit poll n a process of asking people how they have voted in an election in order to be able to estimate what the result of the election will be.
- exit ramp n US a road for leaving a highway.
- exit visa n a visa that allows somebody to leave a country.
- exodus ['eksədəs] n the departure of a large number of people from a region, country etc at the same time, e.g. for economic or political reasons □ the exodus of young people from rural areas □ a mass exodus.
- ex officio [eksə'fɪʃiəu] ◇ adj a phrase used to show that somebody has a particular right because of their position □ an ex officio member/chairman. ◇ adv: She acted ex officio.
- exonerate [ig'zɒnəreɪt] vt to show or state officially that <sb> is not to blame for something □ She was exonerated from all blame.
- exorbitant [ɪg'zɔ:'bɔ:tənt] adj [cost, price] much higher than is reasonable □ They were asking for an exorbitant sum of money.
- exorcism ['eksɔ:'sɪzəm] n [of a ghost, spirit] see exorcize.
- exorcist ['eksɔ:'sɪst] n a person who exorcizes ghosts, spirits etc.
- exorcize, -ise ['eksɔ:'saɪz] vt to force  out of somewhere or somebody by using special prayers and ceremonies □ By going back, he hoped to exorcize the memory of that terrible time.
- exotic [ɪg'zɔ:tɪk] adj [fruit, smell, setting] that one finds unusual and exciting because it comes from or makes one think of a distant place.
- expand [ɪk'spænd] ◇ vt to make <sthg> larger in size, number, or amount □ They've expanded their business to include two new offices. ◇ vi [business, population, market] □ Our department has expanded enormously in the last three years. □ Metal expands as you heat it.
- ◆ expand (up)on vt fus to expand (up)on sthg [on a subject, argument] to say more about sthg □ Would you care to expand on that?
- expanse [ɪk'spæns] n a wide stretch of sky, sea, desert etc □ a vast expanse of sand.
- expansion [ɪk'spænfən] n: see expand □ We hope to press ahead with the expansion of our marketing operation.
- expansion card n a printed circuit board that is added to a computer to make it perform extra operations or make it more powerful.
- expansionism [ɪk'spænfənɪzəm] n the policy or practice of expanding the economy, influence, or land of a country (disapproving use).
- expansionist [ɪk'spænfənɪst] adj [policy, tendency] see expansionism.
- expansion slot n a slot in a computer into which an expansion card is fitted.
- expansive [ɪk'spænsɪv] adj [person] who is relaxed and willing to talk a lot □ I found him, for once, in an expansive mood.
- expatriate [eks'pætrɪət] ◇ n a person who lives or works in a foreign country □ British expatriates in the area are being flown home. ◇ adj: the expatriate community.
- expect [ɪk'spekt] ◇ vt -1. to think that <sthg> is going to happen □ When do you expect it to be ready? □ That's just the kind of thing I'd expect him to do. □ Of course I'm angry, what do you expect? □ We expect to be there by 4 o'clock. -2. to be expecting sb/sthg [letter, phone call] to be ready for sb/sthg because one thinks or knows that they are going to come □ Go straight through, Mr Jay is expecting you. □ We are expecting a delivery from India. -3. [loyalty, good manners] to consider it right or necessary to have <sthg> □ She expects a great deal of all her employees. ■ to expect sb to do sthg to feel that it is reasonable or necessary for sb to do sthg □ I expect you to be punctual at all times. -4. I expect a phrase used to introduce information that one thinks is probably true □ "Is Steve coming?" — "I expect so." □ I expect (that) she's got stuck in traffic. -5. to be expecting a baby to be pregnant □ My sister's expecting her first child.

 ◇ vi to be expecting to be pregnant (informal use).

expectancy [ɪk'spektənsɪ] n → life expectancy.

expectant [ɪk'spektənt] adj [person, crowd] that is waiting eagerly for something to happen □ An expectant hush fell over the auditorium.

expectantly [ɪk'spektəntli] adv [smile, listen] see expectant □ The audience waited expectantly for the concert to begin.

expectant mother n a woman who is expecting a baby.

expectation [ˌekspek'teɪʃn] n -1. a hope that something will happen □ He has every expectation of getting the job. -2. a belief that something will happen □ It is my expectation that the election will be in June.

◆ expectations npl the belief that something good is going to happen □ He has very high expectations of his son. ■ to live up to sb's expectations to be as good or successful as sb has expected □ The play didn't really live up to our expectations. ■ against OR contrary to all expectations in a way that is different to everything that was expected □ Contrary to all expectations, the UK team has won a place in the finals.

expectorant [ɪk'spektərənt] n a cough medicine that helps to remove phlegm from one's lungs.

expedient [ɪk'spi:djənt] ◇ adj [plan, measure] that is convenient or appropriate in a particular situation, even if it is morally wrong.
 ◇ n an expedient idea, plan, measure etc.

expedite [ˈekspeɪt] vt to make <sthg> happen more quickly (formal use).

expedition [ˌekspeɪ'dɪʃn] n -1. a long trip that is organized for a specific purpose, e.g. to climb a mountain or explore a region □ They're going on a climbing expedition in the Himalayas. -2. the people who take part in an expedition.

expeditionary force [ˌekspeɪ'dɪʃənəri-, GB -nəri] n an army or part of an army that is sent to fight abroad.

expel [ɪk'spel] (pt & pp expelled, cont expelling) vt -1. [student, member] to make <sb> leave a school, organization etc because they have behaved badly □ She was expelled from school for smoking. -2. [diplomat, journalist] to force  to leave a country □ He was eventually expelled from the capital. -3. [substance] to force  from a container, one's body etc □ Wind is expelled through the mouth or anus.

expend [ɪk'spend] vt [time, money, energy] to use up or spend <sthg> □ The army was reluctant to expend any more of its limited resources on defending the border posts.

expendable [ɪk'spendəbl] adj [person, resource, item] that is not thought to be essential and can be got rid of, fired etc □ Sophisticated computer systems have made pilots expendable, in theory at least.

expenditure [ɪk'spendɪtʃə] n -1. the amount of money that is spent on services, food, wages etc □ government/public expenditure. -2. [of time, money, energy] see expend.

expense [ɪk'spens] n the amount of money that is spent on something □ Our day-to-day expenses are not high. □ The new bridge was built at great public expense OR at great expense to the public. ■ to go to great expense, to spare no expense to spend a lot of money in order to do something. ■ at the expense of sb/sthg in a way that causes sb/sthg to be affected badly □ He finished the book on time, but at the expense of his social life. □ She only succeeded at the expense of other people. ■ at sb's expense [travel, entertain] using sb else's money to pay; [make a joke, have fun] in a way that makes sb look foolish □ I arranged for you to be flown here at great personal expense. □ Sandy felt that everyone was having a laugh at her expense.

◆ expenses npl BUSINESS the money that one spends on restaurants, taxis etc as part of one's work, that is later paid back by the company, employer etc □ There's a special form for claiming back expenses. □ a trip to Paris with all expenses paid. ■ on expenses [travel, entertain] using the money of one's company or employer to pay □ We can put this lunch on my expenses.

expense account n an arrangement between an employer and employee in which any money spent by the employee for work purposes, e.g. for travel or entertaining clients, is paid back by the employer □ I'll put it on my expense account. □ an expense-account lunch.

expensive [ɪk'spensɪv] adj [meal, car, coat] that costs a lot of money □ She has very expensive tastes.

experience [ɪk'spɪəriəns] ◇ n -1. knowledge or skill that one has gained in life or in one's job over a period of time □ It was difficult to find a job since I had no work experience. □ Do you have any experience of working in an office? □ Experience tells me that he'll be late. □ I know from my own experience how difficult it can be. □ It'll become easier with experience. □ 'No previous experience necessary.' -2. an event that happens to somebody and usually affects them in a particular way □ She told us about her wartime experiences in Italy. □ That must have been a memorable experience!

◇ vt -1. [event, change, difficulty] to live through or be affected by <sthg> directly □ I've never experienced anything like this before. -2. [sadness, pain] to feel <sthg> □ You may experience slight dizziness.

experienced [ɪk'spɪəriənst] adj [doctor, driver, worker] who has a lot of experience □ She's very experienced at OR in teaching young children.

experiment [ɪk'sperɪmənt] ◇ n -1. SCIENCE a test that is done in order to see what happens to somebody or something in particular conditions □ The students carry out OR do experiments on dead mice. -2. an act of putting a new idea or theory into practice to see how it works in the real world □ It was a disastrous experiment in social engineering. ◇ vi -1. SCIENCE to carry out an experiment □ They've been experimenting with weightlessness. □ He's experimenting on the human brain. -2. to try something new to see what result it will produce or if it will work □ He started experimenting with drugs when he was 17.

experimental [ɪkˌspɛrɪ'mɛntl] adj -1. [method, test] that is connected with or used in an experiment □ He's an experimental psychologist. -2. [person, technique, music] that uses new methods, principles etc, especially when these are not yet completely accepted □ her acclaimed and highly experimental production of "La Bohème."

expert [ˈɛkspɜːt] ◇ n a person who has a very high level of skill or knowledge in a particular activity or field □ a computer/gardening expert □ an expert in OR on computer-aided design. ◇ adj [cook, technician, performer] who is an expert; [advice, knowledge] of an expert □ He's become very expert at spotting fakes.

expertise [ˌɛkspɜː'tiːz] n skill or knowledge in a particular activity or field □ managerial expertise.

expert system n COMPUTING a computer that gives advice and information and makes decisions in a way that is similar to that of the human mind.

expiate [ˈɛkspɪət] vt [crime, sin] to show that one is sorry for <sthg> by doing something good (formal use).

expiration [ɛkspə'reɪʃn] n US see expire.

expiration date n US the date after which a credit card, passport etc cannot be used, or food should not be eaten.

expire [ɪk'spaɪə] vi [credit card, contract, membership] to become invalid at the end of a particular period of time □ My car insurance expires in March.

expiry [ɪk'spaɪəri] n GB see expire □ These conditions cease to apply on expiry of the lease.

expiry date n GB the date on which a membership, credit card, license etc expires.

explain [ɪk'spleɪn] ◇ vt -1. [meaning, situation, story] to make <sthg> clear by giving information about it □ Could you explain to me how the device works? □ They explained what to do. □ The rules ought to be explained to people more clearly. -2. [one's behavior, absence, decision] to give a reason for <sthg> □ Could you explain why you were so late? ■ to explain oneself to give a reason for something one has done, especially something other people think is wrong □ He tried to explain himself but was shouted down. □ Come on then, explain yourself! ◇ vi -1. to explain a meaning, situation etc □ She explained to me that the company had expanded too fast. -2. to explain one's behavior, decision etc □ You've got some explaining to do.

◆ explain away vt sep to explain sthg away [a mistake, one's behavior] to give a reason for sthg in order to make it seem less important, or to stop somebody from thinking one has done something wrong □ He tried to explain away the stains on the carpet.

explanation [ˌɛksplə'neɪʃn] n -1. [for one's behavior] something that explains an action, meaning, decision etc □ He gave no explanation as to why he was late. □ I'm sure there's a perfectly simple explanation for all this. □ Duncan pointed to the figures on the chart by way of explanation. -2. [of a process, machine] a description that explains how something works or how to do something □ He gave a long and complicated explanation of the machine's functions.

explanatory [US ɪk'splænətɔːri, GB -ətəri] adj [note, leaflet] that is intended to help one understand something □ There's a brief explanatory passage at the beginning.

expletive [ɪk'splɪtɪv] n a swearword (formal use).

explicit [ɪk'splɪsɪt] adj -1. [permission, reason, order] that is completely clear and does not allow any doubt □ I left explicit instructions not to tell them. □ Could you be more explicit about the purpose of the visit? -2. [scene, passage, description] that gives all the details, especially about sex □ sexually explicit material.

explode [ɪk'spləʊd] ◇ vi -1. [bomb, building] to break up into tiny pieces with great force and a loud noise □ The airplane exploded on impact. -2. [person] to express feelings suddenly and strongly □ He exploded with anger/laughter. ◇ vt -1. [bomb, mine] to make <sthg> explode. -2. [theory, idea] to prove <sthg> to be false □ The book explodes many myths about the Aztecs.

exploit [n 'ɛksplɔɪt, vb ɪk'splɔɪt] ◇ n something that somebody has done that is brave, interesting, or amusing □ Uncle Jack was only too willing to recount tales of his exploits as a young man. ◇ vt -1. [person] to use and benefit from <sb> while giving them very little in return (disapproving use) □ I feel exploited. -2. [resources, area, idea] to use or develop <sthg> in order to make money □ Our competitors will, of course, try to exploit the situation.

exploitation [ˌɛksplɔɪ'teɪʃn] n: see exploit □ The company has been criticized for its exploitation of local workers. □ The exploitation of mineral deposits is sure to boost the economy.

exploration [ˌɛksplə'reɪʃn] n: see explore □ the researchers' explorations into the possibility of isolating the gene □ space exploration.

exploratory [US ɪk'splɔrətɔːri, GB -ətəri] adj [examination, discussion, operation] that is carried out in order to find out more about something before further action is taken □ Exploratory talks are likely to continue for some time.

explore [ɪk'splɔːrɪ] ◇ vt -1. [country, area, city] to travel around  that one does not know in order to find out about it □ We went exploring in the caves. -2. [possibility, theory] to examine <an idea> in order to find out more about it □ We need to explore the matter/question further. ◇ vi: Let's go exploring.

explorer [ɪk'splɔːrɪ] n a person who travels to places about which little is known in order to explore them.

explosion [ɪk'spləʊʒn] n -1. [of a bomb, building] see explode □ There were several explosions in the Kensington area. -2. [of interest, crime] a sudden and large increase in the amount or degree of something □ There's been a huge explosion in the demand for video games. -3. [of anger, violence] a sudden and powerful expression of anger, violence, protest etc □ There was an explosion of incredulous laughter at his words.

explosive [ɪk'splɒsɪv] ◇ adj -1. [material, substance] that can cause an explosion □ Be careful, this stuff can be highly explosive. -2. [temper, personality] that can easily show strong anger □ Juan has a very explosive temper, so watch out. -3. [issue, situation] that is likely to have serious or dangerous effects □ The situation is highly explosive and could erupt into violence at any time. ◇ n a substance or device that causes something to explode □ The bomb contains several tons of high explosive. □ Explosives experts were called to the scene.

explosive device n a device that is designed to explode, e.g. a bomb or mine (formal use).

exponent [ɪk'spəʊnənt] n -1. an exponent of sthg [of a theory, method] a person who supports, practices, and praises sthg □ She's a great exponent of socialism. -2. [of a skill, activity] a person who is good at sthg □ a superb exponent of Chopin/the sonnet. -2. MATH a number written small and placed next to and above another to show how many times the other number must be multiplied by itself.

exponential [ˌɛkspə'ni:ənʃl] adj [increase, growth] that happens very rapidly (formal use) □ The growth in sales has been exponential.

export [vɪ ɪk'spɔ:rt, n 'ɛkspɔ:rt] ◇ vt -1. BUSINESS to send <goods> to another country to be sold □ They export a lot of wine to Britain. -2. [idea, system] to take <sthg> to another country and try to encourage people to use it □ Cricket could never be successfully exported to the rest of Europe. -3. COMPUTING to change <data, a file> etc so that one can use it with different software. ◇ n a product or service that is sold by one country to another country □ a ban on exports to/from the country.

NOTE: Compare import.

exportation [ˌɛkspɔ:rt'eɪʃn] n [of goods, a system] see export.

exporter [ɪk'spɔ:rtə] n a person or company that exports goods.

export licence n in Britain, a license that somebody must get before they can sell certain goods abroad.

expose [ɪk'spəʊz] vt -1. to uncover <sthg that is usually not visible> □ The paint had peeled off, exposing the plaster underneath. ■ to be exposed to sthg [to heat, the wind, sun] to be uncovered and not protected against sthg; [to danger, disease] to experience sthg unpleasant □ She had been exposed to scenes of terrible poverty. ■ to expose oneself to show one's sexual parts in a public place □ He was arrested for exposing himself at a public swimming pool. -2. [person, scandal] to make known the truth about <sb/sthg immoral> □ He was finally exposed as a leading drug trafficker.

-3. PHOTOGRAPHY to allow light onto <film> when taking a photograph.

exposé [ɛks'pəʊzeɪ] n a report, e.g. in a newspaper, that makes the truth about somebody or something known, especially if it is shocking and has been kept secret.

exposed [ɪk'spəʊzd] adj [place, house] that has no protection from the weather; [position, defenses] without protection from danger, an attack etc □ We left ourselves exposed each time we moved forward against the other team.

exposition [ˌɛkspə'zɪʃn] n -1. [of a subject, theory] a detailed explanation or description of something (formal use) □ a brief exposition of the theory of quantum mechanics. -2. [of goods, art] a large public exhibition.

exposure [ɪk'spəʊʒə] n -1. exposure to sthg the state of being exposed to sthg, e.g. light, radiation, or danger □ Avoid exposure to sunlight. -2. MEDICINE the harmful effects on the body of being exposed to the cold for a long time □ He died of exposure. -3. [of a secret] the act of showing the truth about a dishonest person, a crime, scandal etc □ He disappeared after the public exposure of his part in the crime. -4. PHOTOGRAPHY the length of time that film is exposed to light; a length of film on which one photograph can be taken □ Set the exposure to 1/90 of a second. □ I've got six exposures left. □ the exposure time. -5. [in the media] publicity that is given in the media to somebody or something □ The book was given a lot of exposure in the media.

exposure meter n an instrument on a camera that measures how strong the light is so that the correct setting can be chosen.

expound [ɪk'spaʊnd] (formal use) ◇ vt to explain <one's theories, views> etc in detail □ Professor Medina expounded his thoughts on the benefits of genetic engineering. ◇ vi to expound on sthg to speak in detail about sthg □ She expounded at some length on her plans to change and improve the system.

express [ɪk'spres] ◇ adj -1. [letter, parcel] that is sent by a fast delivery service. -2. [service, bus] that is fast and does not have many stops. -3. [request, purpose] that is clearly and deliberately stated (formal use) □ It was her express wish that the money should go to charity.

◇ adv [send, deliver] using a fast service □ I'll mail it to you express first thing in the morning.

◇ n an express (train) a train that travels very fast and does not stop very often.

◇ vt -1. to make known  etc by putting it into words □ I'd like to express my gratitude to you. □ These concepts are difficult to express in another language. □ Words cannot express how I feel. ■ to express oneself to put one's thoughts, feelings, ideas etc into words □ Because of her poor German, she found it hard to express herself clearly. -2. MATH to show  etc by using a symbol or formula □ In the diagram, figures are expressed as percentages.

expression [ɪk'spreʃn] n -1. a word or phrase, especially one that is unusual or that is used more when speaking than when writing □

What's the expression? "Better late than never"?
-2. [of pain, surprise] the look on somebody's face that shows a particular feeling □ She had a slightly bemused expression on her face. -3. [in a dancer, musician] the ability to express feelings through art □ She plays the piano with a lot of expression. -4. [of an idea, opinion] see express □ There's little freedom of expression in the press there. □ The meeting ended with expressions of hope and goodwill on all sides.

Expressionism [ɪk'spreʃənɪzəm] n an artistic and literary movement that is based on the belief that expressing emotions is more important than describing the outside world in a realistic way.

Expressionist [ɪk'spreʃənɪst] ◇ n an artist who practices Expressionism. ◇ adj: an Expressionist painting/film.

expressionless [ɪk'spreʃənləs] adj [voice, face] that does not show somebody's feelings.

expressive [ɪk'spresɪv] adj [face, poem, quality] that expresses feelings, meanings etc clearly and well.

expressly [ɪk'spresli] adv [tell, order] clearly and deliberately □ I expressly asked for a room overlooking the lake.

expressway [ɪk'spresweɪ] n US a very wide major road designed for long-distance travel at high speeds.

expropriate [eks'prɒpɪeɪt] vt to take away <sb's property> for public use (formal use).

expropriation [eks'prɒpɪ'eɪʃn] n: see expropriate (formal use).

expulsion [ɪk'spʌlʃn] n: see expel □ There have been three expulsions for bad behavior already this semester.

exquisite [ɪk'skwɪzɪt] adj -1. [painting, face, jewelry] that is very beautiful, especially because it is so delicate, refined, or colorful □ the most exquisite Chinese porcelain. -2. [taste, behavior] that is extremely sensitive and cannot be faulted □ He has exquisite taste in clothes. -3. [pleasure, pain] very great.

exquisitely [ɪk'skwɪzɪtli] adv exquisitely beautiful/dressed etc beautiful/dressed etc in a very delicate refined way.

ex-serviceman n GB a man who previously belonged to the armed forces.

ex-servicewoman n GB a woman who previously belonged to the armed forces.

ext [telephone] abbr of extension.

extant [ek'stænt] adj [building, document, evidence] that still exists (formal use).

extemporize, -ise [ɪk'stempəraɪz] vi to give a speech, performance etc without doing any preparation for it in advance (formal use).

extend [ɪk'stend] ◇ vt -1. [building, area] to make <sth> larger by adding something to it □ The Blooms have extended their garden terrace. -2. [road, route] to make <sth> longer in distance □ The freeway is to be extended as far as Baltimore. -3. [visit, visa] to make <sth> last longer □ They extended the deadline to fit my schedule. -4. [control, rule, law] to make <sth> include more than it did before so that it is more powerful □ They've extended the powers of the police. -5. [arm, leg] to stretch out  (formal use) □ He extended an arm to help her up. -6. [friendship, help, welcome] to offer <sth> to somebody □ I would like to extend my thanks to all those involved.

◇ vi -1. [road, railroad, runway] to reach a particular point □ The expressway now extends to the northern suburbs. -2. [event, period, stay] to last until a particular time □ Meetings often extend into the evening. -3. to extend to sb/sthg to include sb/sthg □ This restriction does not extend to club members. □ The regulations now extend to people living abroad. -4. to stick out from a surface or object □ The counter extends two feet from the wall.

extendable [ɪk'stendəbl] adj -1. [contract, visa, permit] that can be made to last longer □ They've given me a six-month extendable visa. -2. [ladder, antenna] that can be made longer.

extension [ɪk'stenʃn] n -1. [of a building] an extra part that has been added on to a building □ They've built an extension onto the back of their house. -2. [of a visa, law] see extend □ He's asked for an extension on his permit/the deadline. □ the extension of government powers to include military affairs. -3. [at home] an additional telephone that has the same number as one's main telephone; [at work] a telephone that is connected to the switchboard of a company, institution etc and that has its own number □ Can you put me through to extension 3295? □ "What's your extension?" — "It's 297." -4. = extension cord. -5. COMPUTING a short code, usually three letters, used after a computer filename to describe the format or purpose of the file.

extension cord US, extension lead GB n a long electric cable that is connected to the cable of an electrical appliance so that it can be used further away from the socket.

extensive [ɪk'stensɪv] adj -1. [property, land] that covers a large area □ They own extensive areas of land near the state border. -2. [damage, effect] that affects many people or things □ They've made extensive changes to the program. -3. [coverage, knowledge, list] that is detailed and includes many different things □ We had extensive talks on possible ways of developing the idea.

extensively [ɪk'stensɪvli] adv [cover, discuss, travel] see extensive □ I've borrowed extensively from her notes.

extent [ɪk'stent] n -1. the area that something covers □ From the air you can see the full extent of the flood damage. □ Open the table out to its full extent. -2. the extent of sthg [of harm, difficulty, knowledge] how great sthg is □ It's hard to know the true extent of the problem. -3. to what extent... a phrase used when asking how far something is true □ To what extent is there a link between smoking and cancer? □ It is not yet clear to what extent they were involved in the scandal. ■ to the extent that... a phrase that introduces a statement that shows how true, good, bad etc something is □ The dis- agreement has gotten worse, to the extent that they're no longer speaking to each other.

♦ to a certain extent, to some extent adv in some ways but not completely □ I agree with you to a certain extent. □ To some extent, what he says is true. □ I think the problem was to some extent their own fault.

♦ to a large extent, to a great extent adv almost completely □ The work that's been done is to a large extent due to her.

extenuating circumstances [ɪk'stenju'eɪtɪŋ-] npl circumstances that make a crime, somebody's bad behavior etc likely to be judged less severely □ There are extenuating circumstances that could operate in your favor.

exterior [ɪk'stɪərɪəl] ◇ adj [wall, light, paintwork] that is on the outside of something. ◇ n -1. the outside surface of a car, building etc □ The exterior of the house had been painted pink. -2. sb's confident/cold etc exterior sb's confident/cold etc way of behaving, which usually hides their true feelings or character □ Beneath her smiling exterior she was tough, even ruthless.

exterminate [ɪk'stɜː'mɪneɪt] vt to kill all the members of  □ The entire species will be exterminated unless the destruction of the rainforests is halted.

extermination [ɪk'stɜː'mɪ'neɪʃn] n: see exterminate □ extermination camps.

external [ɪk'stɜː'nəl] adj -1. [appearance] that shows the outside of something or somebody; [wound, bleeding, wall] that is on the outside of something □ The external part of the wall did not appear to have been damaged by the blast. -2. [pressure, influence, examiner] that comes from outside an object, group, organization etc □ 'This medicine is for external use only.' □ External events had long ceased to influence them. -3. [affairs, politics, relations] connected with foreign countries □ the minister in charge of external trade.

♦ externals npl the appearance of a situation when it is seen from the outside.

externally [ɪk'stɜː'nəli] adv [operate, exist, function] on the outside of or separately from something □ Externally, it's in very good condition. □ Your exam papers will be marked externally.

extinct [ɪk'stɪŋkt] adj -1. [animal, species] that no longer exists □ The dodo became extinct in the 17th century. -2. [volcano] that is no longer likely to erupt.

extinction [ɪk'stɪŋkʃn] n [of a species, animal] the state of being extinct □ The tiger is now threatened with extinction.

extinguish [ɪk'stɪŋgwɪʃ] vt (formal use) -1. [fire, cigarette, flame] to put out <sthg burning> □ Please extinguish all cigarettes before takeoff. -2. [memory, feeling] to destroy <sthg> □ When we saw his face, we knew all hope had finally to be extinguished.

extinguisher [ɪk'stɪŋgwɪʃə] n = fire extinguisher.

extn [telephone] abbr of extension.

extol [ɪk'stəʊl] (pt & pp extolled, cont extolling) vt [person, excellence, benefits] to praise <sb/sthg> greatly (formal use) □ Michael was busy extolling the virtues of private education.

extort [ɪk'stɔːt] vt to extort sthg from sb [money, information] to get sthg from sb by using force, threats etc.

extortion [ɪk'stɔːʃn] n the crime of extorting something from somebody □ He was charged with extortion.

extortionate [ɪk'stɔːʃnət] adj [price, rent, bill] that one thinks is too high □ The taxi ride cost an extortionate amount of money.

extra ['ekstrə] ◇ adj [charge, cost] more than is usual or essential □ You'll need some extra cash/an extra suitcase. □ Take extra care when you cross. ◇ n -1. something that is added to something else and is not a usual or essential part of it □ The cocktail cabinet is an optional extra. □ an all-in package tour with no hidden extras. -2. a person who has a very small part as an actor in a movie or TV program and does not usually have to speak. ◇ adv -1. [pay, charge] in addition to the normal amount □ They made us pay extra because we were late. -2. extra long/special etc longer/more special etc than usual □ I've been working extra hard.

extra- prefix -1. added to words to emphasize a particular quality □ extra-big □ extra-long □ extra-special. -2. added to words to show that something happens outside something else □ extra-territorial □ extra-judicial.

extract [n 'ekstrækt, vb ɪk'strækt] ◇ n -1. a short piece that is taken from a book, poem, piece of music etc □ Here is an extract from the speech. -2. CHEMISTRY a concentrated form of a substance that has been removed from another substance using a special process □ malt extract. ◇ vt -1. to take <sthg> out of something else with difficulty □ He had his wisdom teeth extracted. □ They tried to extract the spoon from behind the fridge. -2. [confession, information] to get <sthg> from somebody with difficulty □ I found it very difficult to extract any information at all from her. -3. [coal, oil, juice] to remove <sthg> from plants, the ground etc using an industrial process □ Salt used to be extracted from these mines.

extraction [ɪk'strækʃn] n -1. the place where one's family originally comes from □ a Pole of Rumanian extraction. -2. [of coal, a confession, tooth] see extract.

extractor (fan) [ɪk'stræktə-] n GB a device that removes air which is hot or unpleasant from a room or building.

extracurricular [ˌekstrəkə'ɪkʃjələ] adj EDUCATION [activity] that does not form part of the school or college schedule.

extradite ['ekstrədaɪt] vt to send <sb> from a foreign country to their home country to be tried for a crime □ The government has asked for the terrorists to be extradited to Europe.

extradition [ˌekstrə'dɪʃn] n: see extradite □ an extradition treaty/order.

extramarital [ˌekstrə'mærətəl] adj [affair, sex] that a married person has with somebody who is not their husband or wife.

extramural [ˌɛkstrəˈmjuərəl] adj [course, studies] organized by a university or college either for people who are not full-time students or as an addition to students' main studies.

extraneous [ɪkˈstreɪnjəs] adj [detail, matter, issue] that is not directly connected with what is being discussed, considered etc.

extraordinary [US ɪkˈstrɔːdnəri, GB ɪkˈstrɔːdnəri] adj -1. [person, beauty, success] that is very special or unusual □ He had an extraordinary gift for music. -2. [behavior, remark, event] that one finds very strange or surprising □ What an extraordinary coincidence! -3. [meeting, session] that is not part of the regular schedule and is organized for a special purpose □ There will be an extraordinary meeting of shareholders tomorrow at 9:00am.

extraordinary general meeting n a special meeting of shareholders in a particular company to discuss an urgent and important matter.

extrapolate [ɪkˈstræpəleɪt] ◇ vt to extrapolate sth from sth [figure, fact] to calculate or guess sth from sth that one knows already (formal use). ◇ vi: These figures are arrived at by extrapolating from last year's sales. □ You cannot simply extrapolate from what you know of much smaller businesses.

extrasensory perception [ˌɛkstrəsensəri-] n an ability that some people are believed to have that allows them to know things without using their sense of sight, touch etc.

extraterrestrial [ˌɛkstrətəˈrestriəl] adj [being, life] that comes from somewhere outside the Earth.

extra time n GB SPORTS a period of thirty minutes that is added onto a soccer game at the end if the teams' scores are equal and it is necessary for one team to win.

extravagance [ɪkˈstrævəɡəns] n -1. the act of spending too much money, especially on things that one cannot really afford and does not need □ One could certainly never accuse him of extravagance. -2. something that one does not really need, but that one enjoys spending money on □ Expensive perfume is my one extravagance.

extravagant [ɪkˈstrævəɡənt] adj -1. [person] who spends too much money, especially on things that they cannot afford □ She's surprisingly extravagant with her money. -2. [entertainment, present, dinner] that involves spending a lot of money in a way that seems unnecessary □ He lives a life of extravagant luxury. □ The couple next door have very extravagant tastes. -3. [behavior, claim, expectation] that is extreme and seems unreasonable □ an extravagant display of affection.

extravaganza [ɪkˈstrævəˈɡænzə] n an expensive and impressive public entertainment, e.g. a large fireworks display.

extreme [ɪkˈstri:m] ◇ adj -1. [danger, caution, cold] that is very great □ There is extreme concern about the outcome of the talks. -2. [idea, policy, reaction] that goes beyond what is reasonable □ He has very extreme views on women priests. □ We don't want to do anything extreme. -3. [point, edge, south] that is the furthest out or away from something □ in the extreme north of the country.

◇ n the most exaggerated or unreasonable in a range of opinions, actions, behavior etc □ He goes from one extreme to the other. □ Well, you could go to the other extreme and say they should all be banned. ■ to extremes to an extreme point □ Yes, but do you have to take everything to such extremes?

◆ in the extreme adv very □ That was tactless in the extreme.

extremely [ɪkˈstri:mli] adv extremely happy/difficult etc □ It was extremely kind of you to invite me here.

extremism [ɪkˈstri:mɪzəm] n extreme behavior, ideas, or opinions, especially in politics □ Some party members may be guilty of political extremism.

extremist [ɪkˈstri:mɪst] ◇ n a person who has very extreme opinions □ Extremists protested outside as the funeral took place. ◇ adj: extremist left-wing groups.

extremity [ɪkˈstri:məti] (pl extremities) (formal use) n -1. a situation of extreme difficulty or suffering □ You can always, in extremity, call the police. -2. [of a country, region] the point of a place that is furthest from the center □ the northern extremity of the Carpathians.

◆ extremities npl the parts of one's body that are at the ends, especially one's fingers and toes.

extricate [ˌɛkstriˈkeɪt] vt to free <sb/sth> from a place or situation □ Firemen extricated him from the wreckage. □ I managed to extricate myself from what was a very embarrassing situation.

extrovert [ˌɛkstrəvɜːt] n a person who enjoys being with other people and who is very active and lively □ She's a real extrovert. ◇ adj [person] who is an extrovert; [behavior] that is typical of an extrovert □ an extrovert child.

extruded [ɪkˈstruːdəd] adj [metal, plastic] that is produced in a particular shape by being forced through a small hole in a block of metal.

exuberance [ɪɡˈzjuːbərəns] n exuberant behavior □ He could scarcely contain his exuberance.

exuberant [ɪɡˈzjuːbərənt] adj [person, mood, behavior] very cheerful, lively, and excited □ She was in an exuberant mood.

exude [ɪɡˈzjuːd] ◇ vt -1. [substance, animal, plant] to produce  □ The stem exuded a strange gray liquid. -2. [person] to have a lot of  in a very noticeable way □ Melanie exudes confidence/charm. ◇ vi [liquid, smell] An unpleasant odor exudes from its body.

exult [ɪɡˈzʌlt] vi to show great happiness, especially because of somebody else's defeat or failure □ She exulted in her victory. □ Rival fans exulted at the team's defeat.

exultant [ɪɡˈzʌltənt] adj [smile, person, tone] that shows great happiness, especially because of somebody else's defeat or failure □

She was exultant in her victory.

eye [aɪ] (cont eyeing OR eying) ◇ n -1. one of the two parts of the body that people and animals use for seeing □ She has green/blue/brown eyes. □ He opened his eyes wide in surprise. ■ before one's (very) eyes right in front of one □ It all happened right before my eyes! ■ in his/her etc eyes as far as he/she etc is concerned □ In his eyes, she can do no wrong. ■ to cast OR run one's eye over sthg to have a quick look at sthg □ Could you cast an eye over this letter and tell me if it's OK? ■ to catch one's eye to attract one's attention □ A red dress in the window caught my eye. ■ to catch sb's eye to do something in order to attract sb's attention □ I tried unsuccessfully to catch the waiter's eye. ■ to lay OR set OR clap eyes on sb to see sb (informal use) □ It was the first time I'd ever set eyes on him. ■ to cry one's eyes out to cry a lot because one is extremely upset (informal use). ■ to feast one's eyes on sthg to enjoy looking at sthg pleasant or attractive. ■ to have an eye for sthg [for quality, detail, a bargain] to have the ability to find or notice sthg □ She has an eye for a bargain, I'll say that! ■ to have one's eye on sb to watch sb carefully whenever possible because one is suspicious of or interested in them □ I've got my eye on you! ■ to have one's eye on sthg to be very interested in buying sthg □ We've got our eye on a place down near the harbor. ■ to keep one's eyes open, to keep an eye out to watch carefully □ Remember to keep your eyes open for a large blue van. ■ to keep an eye on sb/sthg to watch sb/sthg to make sure that they are safe or not causing any problems □ Can you keep an eye on my suitcase for a minute? ■ there is more to this than meets the eye this is more complicated, difficult etc than it seems. ■ to open sb's eyes to make sb realize something □ It opened his eyes to the difficulties of raising a family alone. ■ not to see eye to eye [two people] to disagree with each other □ I never saw eye to eye with Ray. ■ to close OR shut one's eyes to sthg [to a danger, problem, the truth] to ignore sthg and pretend that it does not exist □ You can't just close your eyes to what's happening! ■ to turn a blind eye to pretend that one has not noticed something that would normally need punishment or some kind of action □ I can't just turn a blind eye to what they're doing. ■ to be up to one's eyes in sthg to be very busy with sthg (informal use) □ I'm up to my eyes in work at the moment. -2. [of a needle] the small hole at the top of a needle where the thread goes. -3. [on a potato] a black spot on a potato. -4. the eye of a hurricane/storm etc the center of a hurricane/storm etc, where everything is calm.

◇ vt to look at <sb/sthg> in a particular way □ The dog eyed the bone hungrily. □ She eyed him suspiciously.

◆ eye up vt sep to eye sb up to look at sb in a way that shows one finds them attractive (informal use).

eyeball ['aɪbɔ:l] ◇ n the whole eye, both inside and outside the head. ◇ vt to look at <sb> directly (informal use).

eyebrow ['aɪbraʊ] n the line of hair that one has over each eye. ■ to raise one's eyebrows to be surprised or shocked □ He didn't even raise an eyebrow when I told him.

eyebrow pencil n a pencil that is used for making one's eyebrows darker.

eye-catching adj [car, dress, building] that attracts one's attention, especially by being very impressive, beautiful etc □ He was wearing a very eye-catching outfit.

eye contact n to make/avoid eye contact to look/avoid looking directly at somebody □ Try to maintain eye contact with each other at all times.

eyedrops ['aɪdrɒps] npl medicine for treating eye infections that is put into the eye in the form of drops.

eyeglasses [US 'aɪglæsɪz, GB -glɑ:s-] npl US = glasses.

eyelash ['aɪlæʃ] n one of the fine hairs that grow on one's eyelids.

eyelet ['aɪlət] n a small hole with a metal ring around it that is made in a piece of material so that a shoelace, piece of string, rope etc can be passed through it.

eye-level adj [grill, picture, mirror] that is at the same height as one's eyes □ The painting was hung just above eye-level.

eyelid ['aɪlɪd] n the skin that covers one's eye when it is closed. ■ not to bat an eyelid to show no signs of surprise (informal use) □ He didn't even bat an eyelid when I told him about the robbery.

eyeliner ['aɪləɪnə] n a dark substance, often in the form of a pencil, that women put at the edge of their eyelids to make their eyes look larger and more attractive.

eye-opener n an experience that teaches one something surprising or interesting (informal use) □ Working in a hospital proved to be a real eye-opener for me.

eyepatch ['aɪpætʃ] n a small piece of material that one wears over an eye that has been damaged, or is healing after an operation, injury etc.

eye shadow n a powder or cream that one puts on one's eyelids to make them a particular color.

eyesight ['aɪsaɪt] n the ability to see □ I have very bad/good eyesight.

eyesore ['aɪsɔ:ə] n something, especially a building, that one thinks is very ugly and spoils the appearance of the things around it □ That new shopping mall is a real eyesore.

eyestrain ['aɪstreɪn] n pain or tiredness of one's eyes that is caused by too much work or reading.

eyeteeth ['aɪti:θ] npl I'd give my eyeteeth for sthg/to do sthg I want very much to have sthg/to do sthg (informal use) □ I'd give my eyeteeth for a job like that.

eyewitness [,aɪ'wɪtnəs] n a person who sees an accident or crime happen and is able to give a description of it afterward □ an eyewitness account/report.

eyrie ['aɪrɪ] n the nest of a bird of prey such as an eagle that is built in a very high place and is difficult to reach.

F

f [ef] (pl f's OR fs), F [ef] (pl F's OR Fs) n the sixth letter in the English alphabet.

◆ F ◇ n MUSIC one of the notes in Western music. ◇ abbr of Fahrenheit.

FA (abbr of Football Association) n the FA the organization in charge of professional and amateur soccer in England and Wales.

FAA (abbr of Federal Aviation Administration) n the FAA the US government department responsible for aircraft and airport safety.

fable ['feɪbl] n a traditional story that teaches a moral lesson, especially one that has animals as its characters.

fabled ['feɪblɪd] adj [hero, character, victory] that is spoken about by many people or is in an old story and so has been well-known for a long time □ the fabled city of Atlantis.

fabric ['fæbrɪk] n -1. cloth that is produced by weaving threads of cotton, wool etc together □ a luxurious silk fabric □ a piece of fabric. -2. the fabric of a building the structure of a building including its walls, roof etc. -3. the fabric of society the basic structure of society, including its laws and institutions □ This new phenomenon threatens the very fabric of our society.

fabricate ['fæbrɪkeɪt] vt -1. [evidence, story] to invent <sthg> in order to deceive people □ There have been claims that the police fabricated the whole thing. -2. [object, structure] to make or construct <sthg>.

fabrication [ˌfæbrɪ'keɪʃn] n [of evidence, a story, object] see fabricate □ The story is (a) complete fabrication.

fabric softener US, fabric conditioner GB n a special liquid that is added to the water that clothes are washed in to make them soft.

fabulous ['fæbjələs] adj -1. [day, party, news] that one thinks is very good or enjoyable (informal use) □ That's a really fabulous dress. -2. [wealth, beauty] a word used to emphasize how great something is. -3. [beast, hero] that only exists in fables (literary use).

fabulously ['fæbjələʃli] adv fabulously rich/successful etc very rich/successful etc.

facade [fə'sɑ:d] n -1. ARCHITECTURE the front of a building □ a fine Renaissance facade. -2. [of a person, organization] an outward appearance that is false □ a facade of generosity □ Her confidence is all a facade.

face [feɪs] ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal] the front part of somebody's head, where the eyes, nose, and mouth are □ She has a nice/friendly face. □ His face went bright red. □ I recognize his face. ■ face to face with sb facing sb □ There I was, face to face with him at last. ■ face to face with sthg [with a situation, problem] in a position where one cannot avoid dealing with sthg □ We came face to face with the same frustrating lack of organization. ■ to fall flat on one's face to fall down and onto one's front. ■ to look sb in the face to look at sb directly without feeling uncomfortable or embarrassed □ How can I ever look him in the face again? ■ to say sthg to sb's face to say sthg directly to sb, rather than to somebody else □ If you've got something on your mind, why can't you just say it to my face? ■ to show one's face to appear in public or in a particular place so that people can see one □ Don't show your face around here again! ■ it was staring me in the face the answer, reason etc was so obvious that at first I didn't realize it

□ All that time the answer had been staring me in the face. -2. sb's face the expression that somebody has on their face □ You should have seen his face! ■ to make OR pull a face to make an expression with one's face to show that one is angry or in order to be funny □ When I told Chris, he just pulled a face and walked off. ■ her/his face fell she/he looked suddenly disappointed □ Her face fell when I told her the trip had been canceled. -3. [of a cliff, mountain, building] the front surface of something vertical □ They climbed up via the north face of the mountain. -4. [of a clock, watch] the front part of a clock or watch that shows the numbers □ a clock face. -5. the face of sthg [of society, technology, a town] the appearance or character of sthg □ ambitious plans that will change the face of politics/the capital forever. -6. phrases to disappear OR vanish off the face of the earth [species, animal, person] to disappear completely □ He seems to have disappeared off the face of the earth. ■ to lose face to lose people's respect □ I was afraid of losing face with my colleagues. ■ to save face to avoid losing people's respect or one's good reputation □ In order to save face, both sides claimed to have made substantial gains in the treaty. ■ to fly in the face of sthg to seem to say that sthg is not correct or true □ His beliefs fly in the face of traditional theories.

◇ vt -1. to be turned or pointing in the direction of <sthg> □ She turned and faced them. □ Stand and face the wall. □ The house faces the river. -2. to face OR be faced with sthg [with a problem, dilemma] to have to deal with sthg difficult; to be about to experience sthg unpleasant □ You are now facing a very tough choice. □ Sanderson now faces two years in jail.

■ to face facts/the truth not to try to ignore or avoid the facts/the truth □ You've got to face facts: you didn't get the job, so you're stuck here for now. □ Let's face it, we've no hope of winning. -3. I can't face it I feel unable to do it □ I can't face another omelet! □ He simply couldn't face going in to work that day.

◇ vi to face north/south etc to point toward the direction of north/south etc.

◆ in the face of prep [difficulty, opposition] despite <sthg> □ They remained optimistic in the face of defeat.

◆ on the face of it adv judging by appearances □ On the face of it, it looks like a good idea.

◆ face down/up adv [lie, float] with the front part of one's body facing downward/upward; [put, lay] with the front part of an object turned toward/away from the surface of the floor, a table etc □ The body was lying face down in the water. □ She put the watch face down on the table.

◆ face up to vt fus to face up to sthg [a problem, the truth] to have the courage to accept and deal with sthg □ It's time to face up to the fact that you're not getting any younger.

facecloth ['feɪsklɒθ] n GB a small piece of cloth that one uses to wash one's face, hands etc.

face cream n a cream that one uses to make the skin on one's face softer, or to protect it against the cold, wind etc.

faceless ['feɪsləs] adj [person] who has no character or personal identity □ soulless dance music played by faceless DJ's.

face-lift n -1. a surgical operation to make the face look younger. -2. to give sthg a face-lift [place, building] to make sthg look more attractive, e.g. by cleaning or renovating it □ They've given City Hall a face-lift.

face pack n a cream for improving the skin that one leaves on one's face for several minutes and then removes.

face powder n a powder that one puts on one's face to make the skin look smooth.

face-saving [-seɪvɪŋ] adj [agreement, intervention, action] that allows one to keep one's reputation and other people's respect □ a face-saving compromise.

facet ['fæsɪt] n -1. [of a problem, issue, somebody's character] a particular aspect or part of something □ This anger is just one of the many facets of her complex personality. -2. [of a jewel, gem] one of the flat surfaces on something such as a diamond.

facetious [fə'si:ʃəs] adj [person] that tries to be funny at the wrong time or in the wrong situation □ This is no time for facetious remarks!

face-to-face adj [meeting, discussion, talks] in which people meet and talk to each other directly.

◆ face to face adv: She came face to face with her attacker.

face value n the value of a coin, bill, or stamp as shown on the front of it. ■ to take sthg at face value to accept that sthg is true without questioning it □ I wouldn't take what he says at face value; he's probably bluffing.

facial ['feɪʃl] ◇ adj [expression, muscle, hair] that is part of the face or is found on the face. ◇ n a beauty treatment in which the face is massaged and treated with special creams.

facile [US 'fæsl, GB 'fæsəl] adj [remark, argument] that one thinks is too simple and has not been thought about deeply or carefully enough (disapproving use) □ The whole discussion seemed to me to be rather facile.

facilitate [fə'sɪləteɪt] vt to make <sthg> easier (formal use) □ This will facilitate communication between departments.

facility [fə'sɪlətɪ] (pl facilities) n -1. to have a facility for sthg to be able to do sthg well and easily □ She's always had a facility for languages. -2. [on a machine] something useful that is added to a piece of equipment or a service □ The phone has a call-indication facility. -3. = facilities □ a nuclear facility.

◆ facilities npl buildings or equipment used for a particular activity □ washing/sports facilities.

facing ['feɪsɪŋ] adj [page, side] opposite.

facsimile (machine) [fæk'sɪmɪl-] n = fax (formal use).

fact [fækt] n -1. [about a subject] a true piece of information about somebody or something □ Several interesting facts have come to light. □ It's a fact that he earns more than me. □ I don't want to hear your opinions, just stick to the facts. □ The fact that you speak fluent Spanish should give you an advantage over the other candidates.

-2. what is true or real □ How much of the story is based on fact, and how much is invented?

-3. phrases the fact (of the matter) is... a phrase used to emphasize the main point about a situation, especially when this is the opposite of what has been said or believed before □ The fact is, nobody cares what I do as long as I don't cause trouble. ■ the fact remains that... a phrase used to introduce something true but unpleasant that has to be accepted fact-finding [-faɪndɪŋ] adj a fact-finding tour/trip a tour/trip that one does in order to find out information about something □ They've been sent on a fact-finding mission to Kenya.

□ Even if the operation is successful, the fact remains that he may never walk again. ■ to know sthg for a fact to be absolutely sure about sthg □ I know for a fact that you were there.

◆ in fact adv a phrase used to introduce a piece of information that is different, surprising, or more precise □ She doesn't enjoy teaching much, in fact, she hates it.

faction ['fæksɪn] n a group of people who are part of a larger group but who disagree with some of their ideas □ There were competing factions struggling for power in the university.

factional ['fæksɪnəl] adj [dispute, fighting] that takes place between factions of the same group.

fact of life n a situation that cannot be changed, even though one might not like it □ It's an unpleasant fact of life, but everyone has to work for a living.

◆ facts of life npl the facts of life the subject of sex and how babies are born (polite use).

factor ['fæktə] n -1. one of the things that affect an event, decision, or situation □ High growth rates could be a major factor in the outcome of the election. -2. MATH a whole number that can be multiplied by another whole number to give a particular number □ 2 and 3 are factors of 6.

factory ['fæktɹi] (pl factories) n a building where goods are made in large quantities using machines □ a shoe factory □ Our factory's closing down.

factory farming n a method of farming in which large numbers of animals are kept in small cages and given special food and drugs to make them grow faster or produce more eggs or milk.

factory ship n a large ship where fish can be cleaned and frozen or canned immediately after they are caught.

factotum [fæk'tɒtəm] (pl factotums) n a servant whose job is to do many different kinds of work (formal use) □ I was employed as housekeeper, nanny, and general factotum.

fact sheet n GB a short document that lists the most important details of a subject.

factual ['fæktʃuəl] adj [account, report] that is based on facts and not on somebody's opinions, ideas etc □ My diary is not just a factual record of what happens every day.

faculty ['fæklɪ] (pl faculties) n -1. [of a person] the ability to carry out a normal human function, e.g. to speak, hear, or walk □ the faculty of speech/sight. -2. [of a school, college] a group of related departments; the teachers who work there □ the Faculty of Arts/Science □ There is a meeting of the faculty today.

FA Cup n the FA Cup in Britain, an important soccer competition, involving English and Welsh teams from different leagues.

fad [fæd] n something which is very fashionable for a short time □ I'm hoping this dieting of Susan's is just a fad.

faddy ['fædɪ] (compar faddier, superl faddiest) adj [person] who is too fussy, especially about food (informal and disapproving use).

fade [feɪd] ◇ vi -1. [color, material, piece of clothing] to become paler □ The drapes faded the first time I washed them. -2. [light, daylight] to become gradually less bright □ I quietly sipped my drink as the last light faded. -3. [sound, noise] to become gradually quieter □ The music faded into the distance. -4. [memory, feeling, interest] to become less strong □ Hopes are fading for the remaining victims. -5. [smile, expression] to disappear slowly □ The smile slowly faded from his face. ◇ vt [jeans, drapes, paint] to make <sthg> paler.

◆ fade away, fade out vi [sound, image, anger] to fade and then disappear.

faded ['feɪdəd] adj [color, material, piece of clothing] that has faded, usually because it has been in sunlight or has been washed □ a pair of faded jeans.

faeces npl GB = feces.

fag [fæg] n -1. ▼ US a male homosexual (informal and offensive use). -2. GB a cigarette (informal use).

fagot ▼ ['fægət] n US a male homosexual (offensive use).

Fahrenheit ['færənhaɪt] n a scale for measuring temperature on which water freezes at 32 degrees and boils at 212 degrees.

fail [feɪl] ◇ vt -1. to fail to do sthg not to do sthg, especially when one is expected to do it or is trying to do it □ I fail to see what this has to do with me. □ I failed to convince her that she was wrong. □ The missing child failed to arrive home last night. -2. [test, exam] to be unsuccessful in <sthg> by not scoring enough points; [candidate] to give <sb> fewer points than they need to pass an exam or test □ Robbie failed the exam by eight points. □ The professor failed me again. -3. her courage/memory failed her her courage/memory was not there when she needed it. □ Halfway up the mountain his strength failed him.

◇ vi -1. [person] to be unsuccessful when trying to do something □ I tried to fix the TV but failed. -2. [student, candidate] to be unsuccessful in a test or exam by not scoring enough points □ "How did you do in history?" — "I failed." -3. [lights, engine] to stop working □ The brakes suddenly failed. -4. [health, daylight, memory] to become weaker □ His eyesight is failing.

◆ without fail adv -1. a phrase used to say that something must happen □ I want it finished by this evening without fail. -2. a phrase used to say that something is always the case □ She rings every day without fail.

failed [feɪld] adj a failed singer/writer etc a person who has not been a successful singer/writer etc.

failing ['feɪlɪŋ] ◇ n a fault or weakness that somebody or something has □ She has few failings, but one of them is a tendency to be late. ◇ prep failing that,... a phrase used to suggest something else, in case something just mentioned is impossible □ The information can be found in our files or, failing that, in the main library.

fail-safe adj -1. a fail-safe device/mechanism etc a device/mechanism etc that prevents anything dangerous from happening if a machine or system stops working or goes wrong. -2. a fail-safe plan a plan that is certain to succeed.

failure ['feɪljə] n -1. [in doing something] a lack of success □ The attempt at resolving the conflict ended in failure. -2. to be a failure to be unsuccessful □ I'm a hopeless failure. □ The conference was a complete failure. -3. failure to do sthg the act of not doing sthg □ I was surprised by her failure to attend the meeting. -4. [of lights, an engine] an occasion when something stops working □ She died of liver/kidney failure.

faint [feɪnt] ◇ vi to lose consciousness, usually because of shock, pain, heat, or hunger □ Several soldiers fainted while on parade. ◇ adj -1. [sound, smell, shape] that is not clear or definite and is difficult to see, hear, smell etc □ The ink had faded, and the writing was very faint. -2. [smile, chance, hope] that is not strong at all □ Hopes of finding the missing boy grew fainter as the day progressed. □ I don't have the faintest idea what you're talking about! -3. to feel faint to feel as if one is going to faint □ I suddenly felt faint, and had to sit down.

faint-hearted [-'hɑ:təd] adj [person] who does not have enough courage or confidence.

faintly ['feɪntlɪ] adv -1. faintly absurd/ridiculous slightly absurd/ridiculous □ Looking back the whole thing seems faintly ridiculous. -2. [hear, recall, smile] see faint □ The clothes smelled faintly of lavender.

fair [feə] ◇ adj -1. [treatment, description, person] that treats somebody correctly because everybody else is treated in the same way; [comment, criticism] that is reasonable for one to make □ It's not fair, he's got more than me! □ That's a fair point. □ The rules are not fair on or to people on lower incomes. ■ to be fair... a phrase used to show that one is taking another person's point of view into account □ To be fair, he was under a lot of stress. -2. a fair amount/distance etc a fairly large amount/distance etc □ We had a fair number of applicants. □ The house is a fair size. -3. [standard, guess] that is quite good □ They have a fair chance of winning. □ I have a fair idea of what they've been up to. -4. [hair, skin] light in color □ She has a very fair complexion. -5. [weather, sky] clear, dry, and pleasant □ As long as the weather's fair tomorrow, we can go.

◇ adv to play fair to act fairly.

◇ n -1. a market where goods are bought and sold. -2. an exhibition where e.g. farm animals and hand-made goods are judged □ a state fair. -3. = funfair. -4. = trade fair.

◆ fair enough adv a phrase used to show that one understands somebody's opinion, decision, or wish, though perhaps one does not agree with it □ Well, fair enough, he did ask you beforehand.

fair copy n a corrected copy of a piece of writing.

fair game n a person or thing that it is acceptable to criticize □ After such behavior he was fair game for the press.

fairground ['feəgraʊnd] n a place where a fair is being held.

fair-haired [-'heəd] adj [person] who has light-colored hair.

fair-haired boy n US a man or boy who is liked better than anybody else by somebody in authority (informal and disapproving use).

fairly ['feəli] adv -1. fairly difficult/large/sure rather difficult/large/sure □ It was a fairly important meeting, but I didn't mind being interrupted. -2. [treat, describe, distribute] see fair □ We try to ensure that all clients are fairly treated.

fair-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who makes fair decisions □ You have to admit, as a judge she's very fair-minded.

fairness ['feənəs] n [of a person, comment] see fair. ■ in (all) fairness to sb a phrase used to introduce a statement that defends somebody from a criticism that they do not deserve □ In all fairness to him, he did try to apologize.

fair play n behavior that is fair □ That's just not fair play — they didn't give us any warning.

fairway ['feəweɪ] n an area of short grass on a golf course between a tee and a green.

fairy ['feəri] (pl fairies) n in children's stories, a small person with wings who has magical powers.

fairy lights npl GB small, colored, electric lights, usually used for decorating a Christmas tree.

fairy tale n a story, usually for children, about fairies or other imaginary magical creatures.

fait accompli [US 'feitəkm'pli:, GB 'feitə'kɒmpli:] (pl faits accomplis) n something that somebody has already done and that cannot be changed □ Why not present them with a fait accompli rather than asking their permission?

faith [feɪθ] n -1. a belief that somebody or something can be trusted □ I have faith in her/hers ability/human nature. □ They're beginning to lose faith in the unions. ■ to do sth in good faith to do sth honestly and without trying to deceive somebody □ I sold this to you in good faith. -2. a particular religion; one's belief in this □ the Christian faith □ He has a strong faith.

faithful ['feɪθfl] ◇ adj -1. [friend, support, promise] loyal □ The party remained faithful to its principles. -2. [copy, account, translation] accurate □ The movie adaptation is faithful to the book. -3. [husband, wife, partner] who does not have sex with anybody else □ Yes, he's always been faithful to me. ◇ npl the faithful the people who believe in a particular religion.

faithfully ['feɪθflɪ] adv [support, promise] see faithful □ She promised me faithfully that she'd come. ■ Yours faithfully GB a phrase used at the end of a formal letter that begins with the phrase "Dear Sir" or "Dear Madam."

faith healer [-'hi:lə] n a person who claims to be able to cure illness by prayer and religious faith.

faithless ['feɪθləs] adj [person] who is not loyal or honest (formal use).

fake [feɪk] ◇ adj [copy, gun, jewelry] that is not genuine and is intended to deceive □ He is traveling on a fake passport. ◇ n -1. a fake copy of something □ This painting is a fake. -2. a person who pretends to be something that they are not (disapproving use) □ He's just a fake. ◇ vt -1. to produce a fake copy of  etc □ She faked his signature on the note. -2. to pretend to have <an illness, feeling> etc in order to deceive somebody □ He faked ignorance of the affair. ◇ vi to pretend in order to deceive somebody □ Ignore him, he's just faking.

falcon [US 'fælkən, GB 'fɔ:lk-] n a bird of prey that can be trained to hunt.

Falkland Islands ['fɔ:klənd]: the Falkland Islands a group of British islands in the South Atlantic Ocean, off the coast of Argentina. Argentina invaded them in 1982, but they were recaptured by British forces. SIZE: 12,173 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,000 (Falkland Islanders). CAPITAL: Stanley.

Falklands ['fɔ:kləndz] = Falkland Islands.

fall [fɔ:l] (pt fell, pp fallen) \diamond vi -1. [person, object] to drop to the ground \square She fell off the stool/out of the window. \square The plate fell to the ground with a smash. ■ to fall flat [joke] to fail to make people laugh with the result that the person telling the joke is embarrassed. -2. [snow, leaves] to drop from the sky \square The first drops of rain began to fall. -3. [demand, temperature] to decrease in amount or value \square Unemployment has fallen for the third month in a row. \square The pound has fallen against the dollar. -4. to fall ill/silent/pregnant to become ill/silent/pregnant. ■ to fall asleep to begin sleeping \square I fell asleep on the sofa. ■ to fall in love to begin to love somebody \square They fell in love on vacation. ■ to fall open [book] to open \square The book fell open at the very page I was looking for. -5. to fall into a particular group/category to belong to a particular group/category \square Our customers fall into two groups. ■ to fall under a particular heading to belong under a particular heading \square The matter does not fall under our jurisdiction. -6. to fall to bits OR pieces [car, book, chair] to gradually get broken so that pieces fall off it \square The old shed is falling to pieces. -7. [government, leader] to lose power \square The ruling party has fallen after 20 years in power. -8. [town, region] to be taken over by enemy forces \square Constantinople fell to the Turks. -9. GB [political constituency] to pass into the control of a different political party \square Hillhead has fallen to Labour. -10. [night, darkness, silence] to begin to be present \square A hush fell over the audience. -11. [light, shadow] to reach a particular place or object \square A shadow fell across the bay. -12. [soldier, fighter] to die in battle (literary use).

\diamond n -1. [of a person, object] the act of falling to the ground \square She slipped and had a nasty fall. -2. [of snow, rocks] the act of falling from somewhere higher up \square There's been a big rock fall. -3. [of a government, leader] the act of losing power \square A defeat on this issue could result in the fall of the Government. -4. [of a city, region] the act of being taken over by the enemy \square the fall of Paris to the Allies. -5. [in unemployment, demand, temperature] a decrease \square the fall in the value of the pound. -6. US the season between summer and winter \square New England is beautiful in the fall.

◆ falls npl a waterfall.

◆ fall apart vi -1. [car, book, chair] to break into smaller pieces, especially because it is old \square My copy of "Tom Sawyer" is so old it's starting to fall apart. -2. [country, organization, marriage] to become disorganized or stop working properly; [person] to become emotionally disturbed \square The social fabric of our country is gradually falling apart. \square He just fell apart when his wife left him.

◆ fall away vi -1. [paint, plaster] to break off from the surface it was attached to. -2. [land, slope] to slope downward \square At this point the path falls away sharply down to the sea.

◆ fall back vi -1. [person, crowd] to move backward away from somebody or something \square The police fell back as the demonstrators advanced. -2. [person] to move more slowly than the other people in a group so that one walks behind them \square Danny fell back so that he could walk with Ruth.

◆ fall back on vt fus to fall back on sb/sthg [a plan, resources, friends] to use sb/sthg because somebody or something else has not been good enough \square If John loses his job, he has nothing to fall back on.

◆ fall behind vi -1. [in a race] to go more slowly than the other people so that one is left behind \square Can't you walk any faster? We don't want to fall behind. -2. [with the rent, one's work] to owe something to somebody because one has not given it to them at the agreed times \square He fell behind with the payments.

◆ fall down vi -1. [person, building] to collapse; [picture, shelf] to drop to the ground \square He fell down and hurt himself. \square The sign's fallen down again. -2. [idea, plan, argument] to no longer work or be convincing because of a particular weakness in it \square That's where your theory falls down.

◆ fall for vt fus -1. to fall for sb/sthg [for a person, place, house] to fall in love with sb/sthg \square I fell for that dress as soon as I saw it. -2. to fall for sthg [for a trick, lie, story] to be deceived by sthg \square You didn't fall for that old excuse, did you?

◆ fall in vi -1. [roof, ceiling] to collapse. -2. [soldiers] to line up in a military formation for inspection.

◆ fall in with vt fus to fall in with an idea/a suggestion etc to accept and act in agreement with an idea/a suggestion etc \square I'm happy to fall in with whatever you plan to do.

◆ fall off vi -1. [branch, tile] to become separated from the thing it was attached to \square Pieces of the plaster kept falling off. -2. [demand, numbers] to decrease \square Interest in the bond market has fallen off recently.

◆ fall on vt fus -1. to fall on sthg [eyes] to notice sthg \square By chance, her gaze fell on the letter. -2. to fall on sb/sthg [attackers, robbers] to attack sb/sthg \square The gang fell on him as he left the bar.

◆ fall out vi -1. [hair, tooth] to become separated from one's body \square an old woman whose teeth had fallen out. -2. [friends] to quarrel \square She's fallen out with her boyfriend. -3. [soldiers] to leave their positions in a formation.

◆ fall over \diamond vt fus to fall over sthg [over a step, object] to fall down after hitting sthg with one's feet when walking \square I fell over his bag and twisted my ankle. ■ to be falling over oneself to do sthg to be very enthusiastic about doing sthg (informal use) \square All the men were falling over themselves to carry her baggage. \diamond vi [person, chair] to fall from an upright position to the ground \square I fell over and hurt my knee.

◆ fall through vi [plan, deal] not to happen or be carried out as expected \square My trip to the Bahamas fell through.

◆ fall to vt fus to fall to sb to be the responsibility of sb \square It fell to me to tell her the news.

fallacious [fə'leɪʃəs] adj [idea, theory, argument] that is based on a fallacy (formal use).

- fallacy ['fæləsi] (pl fallacies) n something a lot of people think is true, but which is not □ It's a fallacy that children learn languages more quickly than adults.
- fallen ['fɔ:lən] past participle of fall.
- fall guy n a person who is blamed for something bad that has happened, even though it is not their fault (informal use) □ I'm just being used as the fall guy in this.
- fallible ['fæləbl] adj [person, method, plan] that is not perfect and can be wrong or make mistakes □ This just proves that everybody is fallible.
- falling ['fɔ:lɪŋ] adj falling demand/unemployment etc decreasing demand/unemployment etc □ Falling prices have led to an increase in consumer spending.
- fallopian tube [fə'lɒpiən-] n one of two tubes in a woman's body through which eggs pass from the ovaries to the uterus.
- fallout ['fɔ:laut] n radioactive dust that is the result of a nuclear explosion.
- fallout shelter n a shelter designed to protect people from fallout.
- fallow ['fælou] adj [land, field] that has been dug or plowed but left with nothing planted in it, in order to improve the soil quality □ The land lay fallow for a year.
- false [fɔ:ls] adj -1. [statement] that is not true; [impression, idea, assumption] that is based on a belief or on information that is wrong □ Wearing a helmet can give you a false sense of security. -2. [eyelash, beard, nail] that is not real but is worn to look like something real. ■ a false ceiling a ceiling that has been built below the actual ceiling □ The suitcase had a false bottom. -3. [passport, name] that is not genuine and is intended to deceive somebody □ They were traveling under a false name. -4. [smile, modesty] that is not sincere and is intended to deceive somebody □ There was a false note in his voice. -5. [person] who pretends to care but does not really care □ I find her really false, actually.
- false alarm n a situation in which somebody believes there is an emergency when there is not □ It's OK, it was only a false alarm.
- falsehood ['fɔ:lsɪhʊd] n -1. a lie (formal use). -2. the fact of being a lie or not being true.
- falsely ['fɔ:lsli] adv -1. [state, imprison] incorrectly or for reasons that are not just and right □ He was falsely accused of the murder. -2. [smile, laugh] in a way that is not sincere.
- false start n -1. SPORT a situation where one contestant, horse etc starts a race before the signal is given. -2. a failed attempt to start something □ After a few false starts the project finally got under way.
- false teeth npl artificial teeth worn by people who have lost all their own teeth.
- falsetto [fɔ:l'setou] (pl falsettos) ◇ adv [sing, speak] with a very high-pitched voice, higher than one's normal voice. ◇ n a man who sings falsetto.
- falsify ['fɔ:lsɪfaɪ] (pt & pp falsified) vt [document, accounts, evidence] to change <sthg> with the intention of deceiving somebody □ The entries in the diary had been falsified.
- Falstaff [US 'fɔ:lstæf, GB -stɑ:f] a character in Shakespeare's plays Henry IV and The Merry Wives of Windsor. He is fat, greedy, dishonest, and drinks too much, but is also funny and lovable.
- falter ['fɔ:ltə] vi -1. [person, animal] to move unsteadily and seem about to fall □ The wounded deer faltered, staggered, and finally fell. -2. [voice] to become weak and hesitant □ His voice faltered and he fell silent for a moment. -3. [interest, demand] to lose strength, energy etc and seem about to stop or decrease; [person] to become unsure what to do □ Throughout those years, her courage never faltered. □ He did what he thought was right without faltering.
- faltering ['fɔ:ltərɪŋ] adj a faltering step/attempt etc an unsure and hesitant step/attempt etc □ Malcolm read from the letter in a low, faltering voice.
- fame [feɪm] n the state of being famous □ He left for Hollywood in search of fame and fortune.
- familiar [fə'mɪljə] adj -1. [face, surroundings, sight] that one knows well or recognizes □ Our brand names are familiar to millions of consumers. -2. to be familiar with sthg [with a book, the law] to know or understand sthg well □ She's familiar with the situation/type of work. ■ to be on familiar terms with sb to know sb well enough to behave informally with them □ I'm hardly on familiar terms with them — why don't YOU ask? -3. [tone, manner, person] that one thinks is too friendly (disapproving use).
- familiarity [fə,mɪlɪ'ærətɪ] n: see familiar □ I found his sudden familiarity alarming. ■ familiarity breeds contempt a phrase used to say that people often lose respect for people, places, or things that they know very well.
- familiarize, -ise [fə'mɪljəraɪz] vt to familiarize oneself with sthg to learn or find out about sthg. ■ to familiarize sb with sthg to tell sb about sthg so that they know more about it □ You'd probably like to familiarize yourself with the layout of the building first.
- family ['fæmlɪ] (pl families) ◇ n -1. [of people] a group of people who are related by birth or marriage □ a family of four □ How is your family? □ Have you got any family? □ She is bringing up a family on her own. □ Heart disease runs in the family. -2. BIOLOGY a group of animals or plants that are classified together because they have similar characteristics □ the cat family. ◇ comp family entertainment/viewing etc entertainment/viewing etc that is designed or suitable for both parents and children □ His latest movie makes good family viewing. □ a family house/car □ a family-size packet of cornflakes.
- family business n a business owned and run by members of the same family.
- family credit n in Britain, an allowance paid by the state to families who do not have enough money to live on.
- family doctor n a doctor who treats all common illnesses and deals with people who live in a particular area.

family life n life at home with one's family □ She doesn't get much time for family life.

family planning n the use of contraception to control the number of children born in a family □ a family planning clinic.

family practitioner n US a doctor who provides general medical care and does not specialize in one area of medicine.

family tree n a diagram showing several generations of a family and the way its members are related.

famine ['fæmɪn] n a serious shortage of food in a large area, usually resulting in many deaths □ There is widespread famine in the country areas.

famished ['fæmɪʃt] adj to be famished to be very hungry (informal use).

famous ['feɪməs] adj [person, place, painting] that is very well known □ The region is famous for its wine.

famously ['feɪməsli] adv to get along OR on famously to get on very well (informal use).

fan [fæn] (pt & pp fanned, cont fanning) ◇ n
-1. a flat piece of paper, cloth etc that one holds in one's hand and waves near one's face in order to cool oneself. -2. an electrical device with blades that spin around to blow air in a particular direction □ an electric/a ceiling fan. -3. [of a sport, team] a very enthusiastic follower or supporter of a sport, type of music, particular performer, program etc □ a football/rock fan.

◇ vt -1. to cool <sb> with a fan, or something like a fan □ She fanned herself with a newspaper. -2. [blaze, flames] to wave something like a fan at  to make it burn more strongly □ He fanned the fire to stop it from going out. -3. [somebody's love, desire] to make  stronger □ The fact that she avoided him simply fanned his passion for her.

◆ fan out vi [people, searchers] to spread out while moving forward, usually when looking for something □ I suggest we fan out and search the woods.

fanatic [fə'nætɪk] n -1. a person who has extreme religious or political views (disapproving use). -2. a person who is very enthusiastic about a particular activity or subject □ a football/health fanatic.

fanatical [fə'nætɪkəl] adj -1. [supporter, belief, devotion] very loyal and enthusiastic □ She's a fanatical believer in the power of crystals. -2. [regime, leader, sect] that has extreme ideas or beliefs (disapproving use) □ a fanatical group of right-wing extremists.

fanaticism [fə'nætɪsɪzəm] n fanatical ideas or beliefs.

fan belt n a continuous belt that turns a fan to cool the engine of a car, truck etc.

fanciful ['fænsɪfl] adj -1. [idea, explanation] that does not seem true, real, or possible □ Don't you think this all sounds a little fanciful? -2. [design, name] that is unusual and attracts attention □ a fanciful design on the side of his car.

fan club n a club formed by or for the fans of a particular celebrity, sports team etc.

fancy ['fænsɪ] (compar fancier, superl fanciest, pl fancies, pt & pp fancied) ◇ vt (informal use)
-1. GB [something to eat, drink] to want <sthg> □ Do you fancy a piece of cake? □ I fancy going out tonight. -2. GB [man, woman] to be sexually attracted to <sb> □ She told her schoolfriends she didn't fancy him. ■ to fancy oneself to have a high opinion of oneself (disapproving use) □ That guy over there really fancies himself. ■ to fancy oneself as sthg to think that one is sthg or could be sthg that one is not □ She fancies herself as an artist. -3. a word used to show that one is surprised by something □ Fancy meeting you here! □ "And I never saw him." — "Fancy that!"

◇ n -1. to take a fancy to sb/sthg to begin to desire sb/sthg (informal use) □ Robert's taken a fancy to your younger sister. ■ to take OR catch sb's fancy to attract sb (informal use) □ The dress took her fancy so she went in and bought it. ■ a passing fancy a liking or desire for somebody or something that lasts for a short time. -2. a fantasy □ a childish fancy.

◇ adj (informal use) -1. [food, clothes, price] more expensive, colorful, or elaborate than usual □ I've just prepared a few things for dinner — you know, nothing fancy. -2. [restaurant, hotel] expensive and luxurious □ his taste for fancy cars.

fancy dress n GB a special costume, usually worn at a party, that makes somebody look like a person, animal etc that is well-known, amusing, unusual etc, e.g. a pirate or a gorilla □ You have to come in fancy dress. □ a fancy-dress party.

fancy goods npl GB small items in a shop that are used as gifts or kept as ornaments.

fanfare ['fænfəʊ] n a short loud piece of music, usually played on trumpets at the beginning of an important event or when an important person arrives.

fang [fæŋ] n one of the long sharp teeth of a wolf, snake, vampire etc.

fan heater n an electrical device that uses a fan to blow hot air into a room.

fanlight ['fænlɪt] n a small window in the shape of a half circle above a door or larger window.

fan mail n letters sent to a famous person by their fans.

fanny ['fæni] n US one's bottom (informal use).

fanny pack n US a small bag that is attached to the waist by a belt and used to carry personal belongings, especially money.

fantasize, -ise ['fæntəsaɪz] vi to think or talk about something very pleasant that is unlikely to happen □ He fantasized about going to live in the country.

fantastic [fæn'tæstɪk] adj -1. [person, movie, idea] very good □ We had a fantastic time in Europe this summer. -2. [number, amount, profit] that seems very large □ They're paying him a fantastic salary. -3. [story, plan] unbelievable □ fantastic tales of aliens and spaceships.

fantastically [fæn'tæstɪklɪ] adv -1. fantastically expensive/high etc very expensive/high etc. -2. [colored, designed, decorated] in a very strange and unusual way.

fantasy ['fæntəsi] (pl fantasies) n -1. an event, activity, or situation which one thinks about, especially because one wants it to happen, but which will never happen □ a childhood/sexual fantasy □ My fantasy is to captain a football team. -2. something that does not exist and is only part of somebody's imagination □ It is difficult to separate fact from fantasy in this report. □ He lives in a fantasy world.

fanzine ['fænzɪn] n a magazine for fans of a particular type of music, sport etc.

fao abbr of for the attention of.

FAO (abbr of Food and Agriculture Organization) n the FAO the UN department responsible for improving food production and combating hunger, especially in developing countries.

far [fɑː] (compar farther OR further, superl farthest OR furthest) ◇ adv -1. to go/travel far to go/travel a long way (used mainly in questions and negative sentences). ■ it's not far it's not a long distance from here □ It's too far to walk. □ The house is down a sidestreet, not far from the main road. □ How much further is it? □ How far away do you live? ■ I would go so far as to say I enjoyed it this will sound surprising, but I enjoyed it □ I wouldn't go so far as to say I actually like him... ■ to go too far to behave in a way that is not reasonable and that upsets or annoys other people □ Now you've gone too far this time! -2. [in the past, future] a long time in the past or future □ We worked far into the night. □ This story takes us far back in time. -3. far better very much better (used with comparatives) □ The room looks far brighter now. □ I enjoyed it far more than I thought I would. □ It's far too late to go out. -4. used to show extent or degree □ I wouldn't trust him very far. □ How far have you gotten with your work? ■ it's not far wrong OR off OR out it's very nearly correct □ "26?" — "You're not far off, he's 29."

◇ adj -1. the far side of the road the side of the road that is the greater distance away from where one is □ It's the door on the far left, at the end of the corridor. -2. the far right/left the most right-wing/left-wing supporters of a political party. -3. [country, mountains] distant (literary use).

◆ as far as ◇ prep we walked as far as the river we walked to the river (but not farther). ◇ conj -1. as far as I can remember this is what I remember (but I am not totally certain) □ As far as I can recall, he had brown hair and blue eyes. -2. as far as possible as much as possible □ We'll try to help you as far as we can. -3. as far as it goes only to a limited extent □ This kind of thing is alright as far as it goes, but it soon gets pretty boring.

◆ as far back as ◇ prep this was known as far back as 1880 this has been known since 1880, which is a long time ago. ◇ conj for as long in the past as □ There's been a shop here as far back as I can remember.

- ◆ by far, far and away adv it is by far the biggest it is the biggest by a great amount (used with comparatives and superlatives) □ She's far and away the best player in the team.
- ◆ far and wide, far and near adv people came from far and wide people came from many places, some of them a long way away □ They searched far and wide for a similar lamp, but could never find one.
- ◆ far away, far off adv a long way away in place or time □ Summer isn't far off now.
- ◆ far from prep I am far from certain I am not at all certain □ "Was she angry?" — "Far from it, she thought it was a good idea."
- ◆ so far adv -1. [walk, go] only a little distance; [believe, agree] only to a limited extent □ We'll go so far and then turn back. □ You can only trust him so far. ■ so far so good things have been going well up to now, but this may not continue □ "How are things going?" — "So far so good, but you never know, do you?" -2. until now □ So far we've had twenty applications for the job.
- ◆ so far as conj = as far as.

faraway [ˌfɑːrə'weɪ] adj -1. a faraway country/land etc a country/land etc that is a long distance away □ They heard the faraway sound of gunfire. -2. a faraway look a look on one's face that shows one is thinking about something that is not connected to where one is or what is happening □ She had that faraway look in her eyes that tells you you're wasting your time.

farce [fɑːs] n -1. THEATER a comic play in which the characters get into ridiculous situations; this style of drama. -2. an event that should be serious or useful but that becomes ridiculous or useless, e.g. because it is not organized or carried out properly □ The whole thing was a complete farce.

farcical [ˌfɑːsɪkl] adj [episode, situation] that is ridiculous □ It's farcical the way his ex-wife carries on.

fare [feə] ◇ n -1. the money one pays to travel by bus, taxi, airplane, boat, train etc for one trip □ How much is the air fare? □ They charge very high fares. □ Bus/train fares are due to go up. -2. food (formal use) □ farm fare. ◇ vi to fare well/badly to be successful/unsuccessful; to be treated well/badly □ Our business has fared well despite the recession.

Far East: the Far East the countries of eastern Asia, including China and Japan.

farewell [ˌfeə'wel] ◇ n the act or process of saying goodbye to somebody □ He said his farewells and left. □ a farewell party/speech/dinner. ◇ excl a word that is used to say goodbye (literary use).

farfetched [ˌfɑːr'fetʃt] adj [idea, suggestion, story] that is difficult to believe because it seems very unlikely or unrealistic □ I found the ending very farfetched.

far-flung adj -1. [outpost, country] that is a long distance away from the center of an empire, organization etc □ He's always flying off to far-flung places. -2. [empire, network] that includes a lot of different places that are far-flung.

farm [fɑ:'m] ◇ n an area of land and buildings where animals are kept to be sold as food or crops are grown □ They live on a farm. □ fresh farm produce □ farm animals. ◇ vt to use <an area of land> for keeping animals to be sold as food or for growing crops □ He farms 1,000 acres in Alberta. ◇ vi: His family has been farming for generations.

◆ farm out vt sep to farm work out to send work to different people to do.

farmer ['fɑ:'mɜ:] n a person who owns a farm or who organizes the work done on the farm.

Farmer ['fɑ:'mɜ:], Fannie (1857–1915) a US cookery expert and writer whose cookbooks were the first to use exact measurements in recipes.

farmhand ['fɑ:'mhænd] n a person who is employed to do general work on a farm.

farmhouse ['fɑ:'mhaʊs, pl -hauzɪz] n the house on a farm where the farmer lives.

farming ['fɑ:'mɪŋ] n the activity of keeping animals to be sold as food or growing crops □ sheep/pig/cattle farming.

farmland ['fɑ:'mlænd] n land that is used for farming □ It's a waste of good farmland.

farmstead ['fɑ:'msted] n US a farm.

farmyard ['fɑ:'mjɑ:d] n the area near farm buildings or a farmhouse.

far-off adj -1. [event, time] that happened long ago or will happen a long time in the future □ It's still only a far-off possibility. -2. [country, town] that is a long distance away □ I'd love to travel to far-off places.

far-reaching [-'ri:tʃɪŋ] adj [change, effect, implication] that affects many people or things, usually in an important way □ The closure of the coal mine has had far-reaching consequences for the local community.

farsighted [fɑ:'saɪtəd] adj -1. [person, plan, decision] that gives proper consideration to future events or problems □ The government has shown itself to be anything but farsighted in its policy-making. -2. US [person] whose eyes can see things that are further away more clearly than things that are near □ I've become increasingly farsighted as I've gotten older.

far[▽] [fɑ:'t] (very informal use) ◇ vi to release air from the anus in a way which often makes a noise and smells unpleasant. ◇ n -1. an act of farting. -2. a word used to describe a silly or boring person.

farther ['fɑ:'ðə] comparative of far.

farthest ['fɑ:'ðəst] superlative of far.

FAS (abbr of free alongside ship) at a price that includes all costs of transportation and insurance of goods until they reach the ship and are ready for loading.

fascia ['feɪʃə] n -1. [of a store] the board above the front of a store that has the store's name on it. -2. GB [in a car, boat, aircraft] the board in front of the driver or pilot that has the instruments on it.

fascinate ['fæsəneɪt] vt [idea, story] to interest <sb> so much that they keep looking at it, thinking about it etc □ The children are fascinated by the tropical fish.

fascinating ['fæsəneɪtɪŋ] adj [person, country, idea] that one thinks is extremely interesting □ He has led a fascinating life. □ Did you really? How fascinating!

fascination [fæsə'neiʃn] n a feeling of being fascinated □ Chemistry holds a great fascination for me. □ He watched in fascination.

fascism ['fæʃɪzəm] n a political philosophy or system of government that supports total government control, an active role for the army, and aggressive opposition to other nationalities or political ideas, especially Communism.

fascist ['fæʃɪst] ◇ adj [ideology, policy, tactics] that is based on fascism; [dictator, regime] that believes in fascism. ◇ n a person who supports fascism.

fashion ['fæʃn] ◇ n -1. [in clothes] the business or activity that is connected with different styles of clothing and appearance; a style of clothing, appearance etc that is popular at a particular time □ the fashion industry □ a fashion model □ Short hair is the fashion. ■ to be in/out of fashion [style, music, word] to be fashionable/no longer fashionable □ The mini-skirt is back in fashion. □ The group went out of fashion in the early 90s. -2. [behavior] the way in which somebody does something □ He drove in his usual fashion: very badly! ■ after a fashion in a way that is not satisfactory or correct □ He can speak German after a fashion. ◇ vt to make <sth>, usually with one's hands (formal use) □ She fashioned a pot out of clay.

fashionable ['fæʃnəbl] adj [style, place, clothes, activity] that is popular at a particular time, but not usually for very long; [person] who wears fashionable clothes □ Aerobics was very fashionable in the 1980s. □ a fashionable area of Sydney □ It was fashionable to believe that at the time.

fashion-conscious adj [person] who tries to dress in a way that follows the most recent fashions.

fashion designer n a person whose job is to design fashionable clothes.

fashion show n an event at which a new collection of clothes is shown to the public.

fast [US fæst, GB fɑ:st] ◇ adj -1. [person, vehicle] that runs, moves, works etc at high speed □ This is the fastest car I've ever driven. □ a fast worker. ■ to pull a fast one to trick somebody in a clever way, especially by taking money from them (informal use). -2. to be fast [clock, watch] to show a time that is later than the real time □ My watch is ten minutes fast. -3. [dye, color] that stays in a material, especially clothing, when it is wet.

◇ adv -1. [move, talk, change] at high speed □ How fast can this car go? □ I need help fast. □

Telecommunications is one of the world's fastest-growing industries. -2. [make, tie, stick] firmly □ I can't dislodge it, it's stuck fast. ■ to hold fast to sthg [to a rope, handle] to grip sthg firmly; [to an idea, ambition] to keep sthg firmly in one's mind, even in difficult times □ Hold on fast and I'll see if I can get help. □ She held on fast to the belief that one day he'd return. ■ to be fast asleep to be completely asleep □ I fell fast asleep on the couch.

◇ n a period of time during which one eats no food, usually for religious or health reasons □ She stuck firmly to her three-day fast.

◇ vi to spend a long time without eating, usually for religious or health reasons □ They were fasting for Ramadan.

fast breeder reactor n a nuclear reactor that produces more plutonium than it uses.

fasten [US 'fæsn, GB 'fɑ:sn] ◇ vt -1. [seatbelt, jacket, bag] to close <sthg> using a zipper, button, clasp etc □ She fastened her coat right up to the neck. -2. to fasten sthg to sthg to attach sthg to sthg □ She fastened her photo to the application. -3. to fasten one's hands/teeth etc around sthg to close one's hands/teeth etc around sthg in order to hold it □ He fastened his hands around the pulley and jumped. ◇ vi to fasten onto sb/sthg to give all one's attention and concentration to sb/sthg □ He fastened on to me at the reception and after that I couldn't get rid of him.

fastener [US 'fæsnr, GB 'fɑ:snə] n a part of something, especially of clothing, that is used to close it, e.g. a zipper or button.

fastening [US 'fæsnɪŋ, GB 'fɑ:s-] n [of clothing, a door, window] something that is used to keep something else closed.

fast food n food that is prepared quickly and served and paid for when it is ordered □ a fast food take-out.

fast-forward ◇ n the button on a video or cassette player that makes it possible to make the tape in a cassette move forward more quickly than usual □ the fast-forward button. ◇ vt to make  go faster in order to reach a particular point on it. ◇ vi: I fast-forwarded to the end of the movie. NOTE: Compare rewind.

fastidious [fə'stɪdiəs] adj [person] who is difficult to please, especially in relation to tidiness, food etc □ She's always been a fastidious eater.

fast lane n -1. [on a freeway] the lane on a freeway in which drivers can go fastest. -2. to live in the fast lane to have a life in which one has many exciting experiences and takes risks □ She lives life in the fast lane.

fast track n a system that allows some people in an organization to be promoted to important positions more quickly than usual.

fat [fæt] (compar fatter, superl fattest) ◇ n -1. [on people, animals] the layer of flesh under the skin that keeps the body warm □ body fat. -2. [on meat] the layer of soft white or yellowish substance that surrounds a piece of meat □ bacon fat. -3. COOKING a solid or liquid substance that is taken from animals or plants and used in cooking □ pork/beef fat. -4. [in food] a substance contained in many foods which the body uses to produce energy □ full fat milk □ Animal fats should be eaten in moderation.

◇ adj -1. [person, animal, face] that has a lot of extra flesh and is overweight □ This is the fattest I've ever been. □ a fat stomach □ I don't want to eat too much, or I'll get fat. -2. [book, wallet, report] that is thick because it is full of something □ He pulled out a fat wad of $10 bills. -3. a fat profit/fee etc a large profit/fee etc □ I got a nice fat check for my contribution to the book. -4. to be a fat lot of good OR use not to be useful in any way (informal use) □ Well, a fat lot of good you are! ■ fat chance! a phrase used to say that something is impossible or unlikely (informal use).

fatal ['feɪtəl] adj -1. [mistake, decision, attraction] that has a bad or very serious result □ Canceling this deal could be fatal to our business future. -2. [accident, illness, wound] that causes death □ Cancer can be fatal to certain sufferers. □ The blow proved fatal.

fatalism ['feɪtəlɪzəm] n the belief that everything is decided by fate and that nobody can influence or change what happens to them □ Jo's fatalism always struck me as being somewhat out of character.

fatalistic [ˌfeɪtə'lɪstɪk] adj [person] who believes that everything is decided by fate and that nobody can influence or change what happens to them □ He's always had a very fatalistic outlook on life.

fatality [fə'tæləti] (pl fatalities) n the death of a person that is the result of an accident or act of violence □ The attack resulted in one fatality and several serious injuries.

fatally ['feɪtəli] adv -1. fatally flawed flawed in a way that will cause harm or danger and cannot be avoided □ Her argument is fatally flawed. -2. fatally ill/wounded ill/wounded in a way that causes death.

fate [feɪt] n -1. the power that is believed to decide one's future and which cannot be controlled □ I believe in fate. ■ to tempt fate to do or say something that is likely to have bad consequences □ "Well, at least we didn't break down." — "Don't tempt fate, we haven't arrived yet!" □ Don't you think going there would be rather tempting fate? -2. sb's fate the things that are going to happen to sb which they cannot control and which are usually unpleasant □ My fate is in their hands.

fated ['feɪtəd] adj to be fated to happen [meeting, disaster, death] to be certain to happen because of fate □ They seemed fated to keep missing each other.

fateful ['feɪftl] adj [day, decision, announcement] that is very important and often has a bad result in the future □ The fateful moment had finally arrived.

fathead ['fæθed] n a person who one thinks is foolish (informal use).

father ['fɑ:ðə] ◇ n -1. [of a child] a male parent □ My father lives in Canada. -2. [of a discovery, invention] the person who invents something or who starts something, usually when this is good or respected □ Freud is the father of modern psychoanalysis. ◇ vt to make a woman pregnant and become the father of her <child> □ King Henry VIII fathered three children by different wives.

◆ Father n -1. a word used to address or refer to a Catholic priest □ Father Wilson. -2. Our Father a phrase used to address or refer to God.

Father Christmas n GB an old man that children believe is dressed in red, has a long white beard, and comes down the chimney to leave presents for them the night before Christmas Day.

fatherhood ['fɑ:ðə'hʊd] n the state of being a father □ Many teenagers are simply not ready for fatherhood.

father-in-law (pl father-in-laws OR fathers-in-law) n the father of one's husband or wife.

fatherly ['fɑ:ðə'lɪ] adj [attitude, advice] that is typical of a kind father □ He was always ready to give fatherly love and affection.

Father's Day n the day in the year on which people have celebrations, give cards etc in order to show appreciation of their fathers □ Happy Father's Day!

fathom ['fæðəm] ◇ n a unit (1.8 m) used for measuring the depth of water □ The wreck was ten fathoms down. ◇ vt to understand the character or nature of <sb/sthg> □ I can't fathom her at all.

fatigue [fə'ti:g] ◇ n -1. [of a person] extreme tiredness □ muscle fatigue □ Symptoms often include constant fatigue. -2. [in a metal] a weakness in a material which may cause it to break □ metal fatigue. ◇ vt to make <sb> very tired (formal use).

◆ fatigues npl the clothes worn by soldiers when they are working or fighting.

fatten ['fætn] vt [pig, sheep, cow] to give <an animal> a lot of food to make it fat □ The farmer was fattening his turkeys for Christmas.

◆ fatten up vt sep to fatten a person/an animal up to give a person/an animal a lot of food to make them fatter □ His wife tried to fatten him up a bit after they got married.

fattening ['fætnɪŋ] adj [food] that makes one fat □ Chocolate can be very fattening.

fatty ['fæti] (compar fattier, superl fattiest, pl fatties) ◇ adj -1. [meat, food] that contains a lot of fat □ Try to avoid fatty foods. -2. [acid, tissue, deposit] that contains or consists of fat (technical use). ◇ n a word used to address or refer to somebody who is fat (informal and offensive use) □ Move over, fatty!

fatuous [US 'fætʃuəs, GB 'fætʃu:] adj [remark, manner, comment] that one thinks is stupid and unnecessary □ If I have to sit there listening to any more of his fatuous remarks I'll scream!

fatwa, fatwah ['fætwa:] n a religious order given by a Muslim leader, especially for somebody to be killed.

faucet ['fəʊsɪt] n US a device that controls the flow of a gas or liquid from a container or pipe.

Faulkner ['fɔ:knəʃ], William (1897–1962) a US novelist who described life in the South. His work includes The Sound and the Fury and As I Lay Dying.

fault [fɔ:lt] ◇ n -1. it's my/your etc fault the responsibility for something bad that has happened is mine/yours etc □ It's all my fault (that) she left home. □ It's your own silly/stupid fault, I did warn you. ■ to be at fault [company, person] to be responsible for something bad that has happened □ It's the owner that's at fault, not you. ■ through no fault of one's own not because of something one has done □ Through no fault of my own I missed the train. -2. [in a person] a weakness or negative quality in somebody's character □ I love him despite his faults. □ She has many faults, as we all do, but she's a good manager. -3. [in a machine, system, calculation] a problem or mistake □ There must be a fault on the line; I can't get any reply. □ a manufacturing fault. ■ to find fault with sb/sthg to criticize sb/sthg, especially when there is no reason □ Perhaps instead of sitting there finding fault you could help us for once! -4. GEOLOGY a crack in the Earth's surface □ the San Andreas Fault. -5. TENNIS the act of serving the ball wrongly □ a double fault.

◇ vt [person, performance, technique] to criticize <sb/sthg> because there is something not perfect □ I can't fault him on his work.

faultless ['fɔ:ltləs] adj [performance, technique] that cannot be criticized because it is perfect □ His manners are faultless. □ She addressed the conference in faultless French.

faulty ['fɔ:ltɪ] (compar faultier, superl faultiest) adj -1. [machine, system] that is not working properly; [workmanship, job] that has not been done properly □ Faulty wiring can cause house fires. -2. [reasoning, logic] not correct □ Your argument is basically faulty.

fauna ['fəʊnə] n a collective term for the animal life of a particular area □ The island supports a rich fauna.

Faust [faʊst] a legendary character who appears in many different plays, novels, and operas, who sells his soul to the devil in exchange for knowledge and power.

faux pas [,fəʊ'pɑ:] (pl faux pas [-'pɑ:z]) n a mistake that involves doing or saying something that is socially unacceptable □ They committed/made a terrible faux pas by forgetting to thank the hostess.

favor US, favour GB ['feɪvəʃ] ◇ n -1. to win sb's favor to get the liking and approval of sb □ Don't try too hard to win her favor, just be yourself. ■ to be in sb's favor to give support or an advantage to sb □ The odds are in her favor. □ The decision went in her favor. □ "What's your opinion of the company?" — "Well, there's a lot to be said in their favor." ■ to be in/out of favor [person, idea, attitude] to be popular/unpopular for a period of time □ I don't know what she said to Robert, but she's certainly out of favor with him. ■ to curry favor with sb to try to please sb by doing things for them or being very pleasant, in order to get something from them in return. -2. [for a person] an act of helping somebody □ Do you mind if I ask you a favor? □ Can I borrow your car? You owe me a favor or two anyway. ■ to do sb a favor to help sb when they ask one to do something for them □ Can you do me a favor and mail this letter? -3. to show sb favor to show a preference for sb by giving an unfair advantage to them □ The teacher didn't show her own students any favor. -4. to rule in sb's favor to officially decide that sb is right □ The court ruled in favor of the father.

◇ vt -1. [option, choice, possibility] to like <sthg> more than the other things of a similar type that are available □ We favor the more traditional method of teaching. -2. [child, person, team] to prefer <sb> and treat them better than other people □ A referee should not favor one team more than the other. -3. [enemy, candidate, event] to help by giving <sb/sthg> an advantage □ The extremely hot weather favored the African athletes.

◆ in favor adv in agreement □ All those in favor please raise their hands.

◆ in favor of prep -1. a phrase used to show that one person or thing is chosen or preferred in the place of another □ She was rejected in favor of a more experienced candidate. -2. in support of <sthg> □ They voted in favor of the strike.

favorable US, favourable GB ['feɪvərəbl̩] adj -1. [weather, position, moment] that is suitable because it makes something easier □ If wind conditions are favorable, we'll sail tomorrow. -2. [review, comparison, impression] that shows or encourages approval of somebody or something □ She spoke of you in very favorable terms. □ His account of events showed himself in a favorable light, of course.

favorably US, favourably GB ['feɪvərəbl̩] adv [review, compare, speak] see favorable □ I was favorably impressed.

favored US, favoured GB ['feɪvərd̩] adj that has special advantages □ the favored few.

favorite US, favourite GB ['feɪvərət̩] ◇ adj [food, person, music] that one likes more than any other of the same type □ What's your favorite color? ◇ n -1. somebody's favorite person or thing □ Of all her grandchildren, James was her favorite. □ These candies are my favorite. -2. the person or animal that is expected to win a race, competition etc □ the hot favorite □ He's the favorite to win.

favoritism US, favouritism GB ['feɪvərətɪzəm] n special treatment that somebody gives to another person and that shows an unfair preference □ Teachers must avoid showing favoritism at all costs.

favour etc GB = favor etc.

Fawkes [fɔːks], Guy (1570–1606) a British Catholic who was hanged for his involvement in the secret plan to blow up the Houses of Parliament and the King; see box at Bonfire Night.

fawn [fɔːn] ◇ adj [coat, trousers] pale yellow-brown in color. ◇ n a young deer. ◇ vi to fawn on sb to try to please sb by doing whatever they want and by giving them a lot of attention, usually because one hopes to get something from them.

fax [fæks] ◇ n -1. the method of sending a message using a fax machine □ Most of my work is done by fax. □ a fax link. -2. a copy of a message or drawing that is sent using a fax machine □ Can you send the fax again? ◇ vt [person] to send <sb> a letter, document etc using a fax machine; [letter, document] to send <sthg> using a fax machine □ I'll fax you tomorrow. ■ to fax sb sthg, to fax sthg to sb [letter, document] to send sthg to sb by fax □ Would you fax the details to her immediately?

fax machine n a machine that sends a copy of a written message or drawing to another machine using a telephone line.

fax number n the series of numbers that is pressed on a fax machine in order to send a fax to a particular place.

faze [feɪz] vt to confuse or upset <sb> (informal use).

FBH abbr of Federation of Bosnia-Herzegovina.

FBI (abbr of Federal Bureau of Investigation) n the FBI in the USA, a police organization that deals mainly with crimes against the government, such as fraud and spying. It is part of the Department of Justice.

FC n abbr of Football Club.

FCC (abbr of Federal Communications Commission) n the FCC the US government department responsible for radio and television broadcasting laws and standards.

FCO (abbr of Foreign and Commonwealth Office) n the FCO in Britain, the official name of the Foreign Office.

FD n abbr of Fire Department.

FDA n -1. (abbr of Food and Drug Administration) the FDA the US government department responsible for deciding which foods and drugs can legally be sold in the USA, and what information has to be supplied with them. -2. (abbr of Association of First Division Civil Servants) a British labor union for senior civil servants.

FE n abbr of Further Education.

fear [fiə] ◇ n -1. [of danger, water, the dark] the nervous feeling one has when one thinks that something very unpleasant or dangerous is going to happen □ She felt no fear as she opened the door. □ He was full of fear. □ a fear of heights/spiders. -2. [that something will happen] the thought in one's mind that something frightening or bad might happen; something that causes one to have one of these thoughts □ He told me of his worst fears. □ My fear is that it may be too late. -3. there's no fear of... there is no possibility of something bad happening □ There's no fear of it happening again. ■ for fear of sthg because of the possibility that sthg bad might happen □ We couldn't watch TV for fear of waking the children. □ She wouldn't come with us for fear of being late.

◇ vt -1. [death, one's opponent] to feel nervous

- and worried about <sb/sthg> □ He fears nothing. □ I've always feared living alone. -2. to fear (that)... to think that something bad has happened or will happen □ Many fear (that) an uprising is likely. □ He feared the worst.
 ◇ vi to fear for sb/sthg to be afraid that sb/sthg is in danger □ She feared for her life. □ He feared for the passengers' safety.
- fearful ['fɪəfʊl] adj -1. to be fearful to be afraid or worried (formal use). -2. [consequence, storm, risk] very bad □ There was a fearful bang, then a lot of smoke.
- fearless ['fɪəsləs] adj [person, courage, attack] that shows no fear □ He was fearless in his defense of his beliefs.
- fearlessly ['fɪəsləsli] adv [act, attack] see fearless □ She'd always campaigned fearlessly against nuclear weapons.
- fearsome ['fɪəzəm] adj [temper, sight] that is very frightening □ She's a fearsome opponent.
- feasibility [ˌfiːzə'bɪləti] n: see feasible □ I'm not sure about the feasibility of publishing the book.
- feasibility study n a report that is done to decide whether it is feasible to do a particular thing.
- feasible ['fiːzəbl] adj [idea, plan] that one believes it is realistically possible to do □ The project sounds feasible enough to me.
- feast [fiːst] ◇ n a large meal that consists of many special and different foods, usually organized to celebrate an important occasion □ Our hosts had prepared a huge feast for us.
 ◇ vi to feast on OR off sthg to eat a lot of sthg □ Their guests feasted on roast duck.
- feat [fi:t] n an action or achievement that is very impressive because of the skill, courage etc involved □ Trapeze artists perform great feats of daring. □ a feat of strength.
- feather ['feðə] n one of the many parts that form the covering of a bird and that is like a set of light thin hairs on either side of a long stem □ The bird's feathers were covered with oil. □ a pillow stuffed with duck feathers □ a feather mattress. ■ a feather in one's cap something one does that people see as a sign of one's abilities and that deserves respect □ Well, a nomination for the prize is certainly a feather in your cap.
- feather bed n a mattress filled with small soft feathers.
- featherbrained ['feðə'breɪnd] adj [person, idea, scheme] silly and not practical.
- featherweight ['feðə'weɪt] n a boxer who belongs to one of the lightest weight categories.
- feature ['fi:tʃə] ◇ n -1. [of a device, style, landscape] an interesting or important part or quality that something has □ a safety/natural feature □ We would like to point out the special features of this model. -2. [of one's face] a part of one's face, e.g. one's eyes, nose, or mouth □ Her eyes are her best feature. □ delicate features. -3. JOURNALISM a piece of writing in a newspaper or magazine that is not about a news story □ a feature writer □ I enjoyed the feature on women in today's society.
- 4. RADIO & TV a special report, interview etc that is part of a program and looks at a particular subject. -5. CINEMA = feature film.
 ◇ vt [person, actor, work] to give <sb/sthg> an important part in a movie, exhibition etc □ a series of movies featuring James Dean.
 ◇ vi to be present in a particular place or situation □ The president featured prominently in the evening news coverage. □ His work is currently featuring at the Mall Gallery.
- feature film n a full-length movie that is usually shown as the main movie at a movie theater.
- featureless ['fi:tʃərləs] adj [landscape, land, plain] that has no interesting features.
- Feb. abbr of February.
- February ['februəri] ◇ n the second month of the year in the Western calendar □ I was born on February ninth US OR on the ninth of February GB. □ It snowed at the beginning/end of February. □ He goes skiing every February. □ She joined the firm last February. □ I'm leaving next February. ■ in February during the month of February □ We'll be moving into the new office in February. □ They met in February. ◇ adj: I don't like the cold February nights/weather.
- feces US, faeces GB ['fiːsiːz] npl solid waste material produced from the anus (formal use).
- feckless ['fekləs] adj [person] who does not take responsibility seriously and is disorganized □ feckless behavior.
- fed [fed] past tense & past participle of feed.
- Fed [fed] ◇ n (informal use) -1. the Fed the Federal Reserve Board. -2. the Fed the Federal Reserve System. -3. a person who works for the FBI or the IRS. ◇ -1. abbr of federal. -2. abbr of federation.
- federal ['fedərəl] adj -1. [republic, state, system] that is controlled by a central government but consists of smaller states which are independent in many ways. -2. [law, funding, tax] that is connected with the central government of a country and not with the governments of the individual states.
- Federal Bureau of Investigation n → FBI.
- federal court n in the USA, a court that deals with federal law rather than state law.
- federalism ['fedərəlɪzəm] n the belief in a federal system of government.
- Federal Parliament n the Federal Parliament the Australian national parliament. It consists of a lower house, known as the House of Representatives, and an upper house, known as the Senate.
- Federal Reserve Bank n the Federal Reserve Bank one of the 12 banks that are part of the Federal Reserve System.
- Federal Reserve Board n the Federal Reserve Board the organization, consisting of seven governors, that is in charge of the Federal Reserve System.
- Federal Reserve System n the Federal Reserve System the central bank of the USA. It divides the country into 12 areas, each with its own Federal Reserve Bank.

Federal Trade Commission n → FTC.

federation [ˌfedə'reiʃn] n -1. POLITICS a group of states that is controlled by a central government but where each state has its own government to decide many of its own affairs. -2. [of groups, organizations] a collection of groups or organizations that have joined together to form one large organization.

fed up adj to be fed up to be bored or irritated □ She's fed up with him. □ I'm so fed up with sitting here all day doing nothing. □ I'm fed up of having to do the accounts.

fee [fi:] n the amount of money that is paid to a person, organization etc in order to receive a service or be allowed to do something □ doctor's/school fees □ He receives over $1,000 per week in fees. □ the annual membership fee.

feeble ['fi:bl] adj -1. [person, voice] that is very weak □ Surely you're not too feeble to lift a couple of books? -2. [excuse, attempt] that is not effective, usually because of a lack of effort □ Stop being so feeble! □ What a feeble joke!

feebly ['fi:blɪ] adv [smile, shine, try] see feeble □ "I feel dreadful," he said feebly.

feed [fi:d] (pt & pp fed) ◇ vt -1. [child, dog] to give food to ; [prisoner, delegate] to provide food for  □ Our son can feed himself now. □ We have three hungry mouths to feed. □ The aid workers fed the refugees with all surplus stocks available. -2. [fire, machine] to regularly supply <sthg> with something that it needs in order to continue working or existing □ Don't forget to feed the parking meter. -3. [fear, rumor, river] to make <sthg> become stronger, larger etc by adding something to it □ The newspapers only fed the nation's paranoia. -4. to feed sthg into sthg [data, information, paper] to put sthg into sthg regularly or continuously □ The results have to be fed into the computer.

◇ vi -1. [person, baby, animal] to take in food or drink through the mouth □ Lions feed on or off raw meat. -2. to feed on OR off sthg [off one's emotion, anger, prejudice] to become stronger because of sthg □ These are the kind of social conditions that racism feeds on.

◇ n -1. a meal that is taken by a baby or animal □ He's ready for his two o'clock feed. -2. food for animals □ cattle feed.

feedback ['fi:dbæk] n -1. [on one's work, performance, a product] useful advice and criticism given to somebody about something they have done □ positive/negative feedback □ Any feedback on my work would be very welcome. -2. ELECTRICITY loud high-pitched noises from an amplifier.

feedbag ['fi:dbæg] n US a bag that contains a horse's food and is hung around the horse's head and mouth so that it can eat.

feeder ['fi:ɪdər] ◇ n a baby or animal that eats food in a particular way □ a noisy/messy/slow feeder. ◇ comp [road, route, flight] that leads to something of the same type that is larger.

feeding bottle ['fi:ɪdɪŋ] n GB a special bottle used for giving milk to a baby.

feel [fi:l] (pt & pp felt) ◇ vt -1. [surface, face, material] to touch <sthg> with one's fingers in order to find out something about it □ The doctor felt her pulse. -2. [tension, presence] to be aware of <sthg> without seeing or hearing it □ You could feel the hostility between them. -3. to feel that... to believe that something is true, right etc □ She felt that she was a failure. □ I feel (that) I should warn you about the dangers. □ How do you feel about it? -4. [anger, fear, pity] to experience <an emotion>; [wind, cold, heat] to experience  □ He felt the touch of her hand on his arm. □ She could feel her heart beating. □ She felt a sense of loss. □ I felt a sudden desire to scream. -5. [effect, consequence, difference] to notice or be affected by <sthg> □ The damage caused by closing the factory will still be felt years from now. ■ to feel oneself doing sthg to feel or realize that one is doing sthg □ She felt herself shaking/falling/blushing. -6. I'm not feeling myself today I feel slightly ill today.

◇ vi -1. to experience a particular physical feeling □ I feel hungry. □ I'm not feeling very well. ■ to feel like sthg to want to have or do sthg □ Do you feel like a drink? □ She said she felt like eating out. □ I feel like a change. -2. to experience a particular emotion or state of mind □ I felt angry/curious. ■ it feels odd/good etc the situation makes me feel odd/good etc □ It feels strange to be back. □ What does it feel like to win? -3. to have a particular quality when one touches it □ The cover feels like leather. -4. to look for something by using one's hands or fingers □ I felt under the sofa for my keys. ◇ n -1. [of a fabric, surface] the quality of the surface of something that one notices when one touches it □ the luxurious feel of silk □ The paper has a smooth feel. -2. [of a room, house, movie] the atmosphere of something □ The town had the feel of an 18th-century fishing village. -3. to have a feel for sthg to have a good ability in or understanding of sthg □ I'm finally getting a feel for the work now.

feeler ['fi:lə] n [of an insect, snail] a long thin part on the head of an animal that is used to touch and sense objects.

feeling ['fi:lɪŋ] n -1. [of happiness, sadness, anger] an emotion □ I know the feeling. □ a feeling of anger/urgency/loss □ His voice was full of feeling. ■ bad OR ill feeling anger or resentment □ There's been a lot of bad feeling over the pay cuts. -2. [of sickness, dizziness] a physical sensation, e.g. of pain or pleasure □ a feeling of nausea/exhaustion □ He lost all feeling in his legs after the accident. -3. to have a feeling to have an impression or belief □ I have a feeling this isn't going to work. □ I had a nasty feeling that he was lying. -4. with feeling in an emotional way □ She spoke with great feeling. -5. to have a feeling for sthg [for poetry, music] to enjoy and understand sthg well □ The writer has a wonderful feeling for the rhythms of American speech.

◆ feelings npl one's feelings the emotions one feels □ She always hides her feelings. ■ to hurt sb's feelings to say or do something that upsets and offends sb □ I didn't mean to hurt

- your feelings.* ■ no hard feelings! a phrase used to try to stop somebody from feeling angry because of something one has done or said or to show that one does not feel this way toward them.
- fee-paying [-'peɪɪŋ] adj GB [school] that charges fees; [student, parent] who pays fees.
- feet [fi:t] plural of foot.
- feign [feɪn] vt [anger, surprise, illness] to pretend to be affected by <an emotion or physical feeling> (formal use).
- feint [feɪnt] ◇ n [in a fight, sport] the act of pretending to move in a particular direction or way in order to trick or confuse one's opponent. ◇ vi [in fight, sport] to use a feint against one's opponent.
- feisty ['faɪsti] (compar feistier, superl feistiest) adj [person] who is forceful and able to defend themselves in an argument (informal use) □ My mother was then a feisty sixty-year-old.
- felicitous [fə'lisɪtəs] adj [choice, combination] that is well-chosen or produces the perfect result (formal use).
- feline ['fi:lɪn] ◇ adj [appearance, movement, grace] that is like that of a cat. ◇ n a member of the cat family (formal use).
- Felix the Cat [ˌfi:lɪksðə'kæɪt] a cartoon cat in children's movies and books.
- fell [fel] ◇ past tense of fall. ◇ vt -1. to cut down . -2. to make <sb> fall down, e.g. by pushing or hitting them □ Bob felled the other man with a single blow.
- ◆ falls npl an area of hills or low mountains.
- fellow ['felou] ◇ adj one's fellow students/passengers etc the people who study/travel etc with one □ What do your fellow workers think? ■ one's fellow man other people in general □ Man should help his fellow man. ◇ n -1. a word used to address or refer to a man (old-fashioned use) □ How are you, my old fellow? □ He's a funny fellow. -2. [of a college, society] a very important member of an institution such as a college or university □ a Fellow of the Royal Society □ a research fellow.
- fellowship ['felouʃɪp] n -1. a feeling of friendship between people who are doing something together and giving each other support □ a symbol of their fellowship. -2. a group of people who come together for a particular reason or purpose □ a Christian fellowship. -3. [of a society, college] the position held by a fellow; an award made to a postgraduate student, usually to enable them to do research □ a Royal Society/research fellowship.
- felony ['feləni] (pl felonies) n a very serious crime.
- felt [felt] ◇ past tense & past participle of feel. ◇ n a soft thick fabric that is often used to make men's hats.
- felt-tip n a felt-tip (pen) a pen with a point made of felt which is full of ink of a particular color.
- female ['fi:meɪl] ◇ n -1. a person or animal that produces either babies or eggs □ the female of the species. -2. a woman. ◇ adj [employee, student, animal] that is a female; [population, influence, voice] that is connected with females □ This measure won't be popular among female students. ■ the female sex women in general.
- feminine ['feməni:n] ◇ adj -1. [appearance, woman, charm] that is typical of a woman, especially in an attractive way □ a feminine touch □ She's very feminine. -2. GRAMMAR [noun, pronoun, form] that belongs to or is connected with a particular class of words □ The feminine plural ending is "-es." ◇ n GRAMMAR the form that relates to a feminine subject □ in the feminine □ The feminine of "lion" is "lioness."
- femininity [femə'nɪnətɪ] n the quality of being feminine □ He felt she was lacking in femininity.
- feminism ['femənɪzəm] n the belief that men and women should have equal opportunities and rights □ the changes in feminism since the 1960s.
- feminist ['femənəst] n a person who supports feminism □ the feminist movement □ He considers himself a feminist.
- fence [fens] ◇ n an object made of wood or wire that separates one piece of land from another □ a garden fence. ■ to sit on the fence to avoid supporting one particular side in an argument, dispute etc □ You can't just sit on the fence, you have to decide. ◇ vt [garden, field] to put a fence around <an area of land>.
- ◆ fence in vt sep -1. to fence sthg in [garden, field] to put a fence around sthg. -2. to fence sb in to be so close to sb that they cannot move or leave.
- ◆ fence off vt sep to fence sthg off [garden, field] to put a fence around sthg so that it is separated from something else □ They've fenced off the entire area.
- fencing ['fensɪŋ] n -1. SPORT a sport in which two people fight using long thin swords. -2. the pieces of wood, metal etc used for making fences □ wooden fencing.
- fend [fend] vi to fend for oneself to take care of oneself without help from other people, especially by finding food to eat □ We were left to fend for ourselves.
- ◆ fend off vt sep -1. to fend sb/sthg off [attacker, blow] to protect oneself against sb/sthg by using one's arms or an object □ I fended the dog off with a stick. -2. to fend sb/sthg off [reporter, question] to avoid answering sb/sthg directly □ Politicians are very good at fending off awkward questions.
- fender ['fendə] n -1. US AUTO the part of a car or bicycle that is above the wheels; the bar at the front and back of a car that is designed to protect its body. -2. [around a fire] a metal barrier around the bottom of a fireplace that is used to stop wood or coal from falling out onto the floor. -3. SAILING an object such as a car tire that is hung over the side of a boat to act as a cushion if it hits other boats.
- fennel ['fenl] n a vegetable similar to celery that is round at the bottom. Its seeds are used as an herb.
- fens [fenz] npl an area of low wet land.

feral ['ferəl] adj [animal] that has become wild after living among people and then escaping □ a feral cat.

ferment [n 'fɜːrment, vb fə'rment] ◇ n political or social unrest caused by change. ■ to be in ferment to be in a state of unrest. ◇ vi [wine, beer] to change chemically because yeast or bacteria change the sugar in it to alcohol.

fermentation [ˌfɜːrmen'teɪʃn] n: see ferment □ The yeast allows fermentation to take place. □ the fermentation process.

fern [fɜːn] n a green plant that has leaves that look like feathers but no flowers.

ferocious [fə'rɒʃəs] adj [animal, attack, criticism] violent and uncontrolled □ They had a ferocious row. □ He launched a ferocious attack on the government. □ scenes of ferocious violence.

ferocity [fə'rɒsətɪ] n: see ferocious □ Witnesses were shocked by the ferocity of the attack.

ferret ['ferət] n a small fierce animal with a long thin body that hunts rats and rabbits in their holes.

◆ ferret around, ferret about vi to look around a place without permission in order to find out information (informal use) □ I came in to find Raoul ferreting around in my desk.

◆ ferret out vt sep to ferret sthg out [information, truth] to discover sthg by looking for it carefully for a long time (informal use) □ We've managed to ferret out some rather interesting information about the president.

ferris wheel ['ferəs-] n a large revolving wheel at a fairground that has seats attached to it and that people ride on for entertainment.

ferry ['ferɪ] (pl ferries, pt & pp ferried) ◇ n a boat for carrying people and vehicles over water between two or more places, usually along the same regular route □ We went by ferry. ◇ vt to carry <sb/sthg> from one place to another □ Buses ferried in troops from surrounding areas.

ferryboat ['ferɪbɔ:t] n = ferry.

ferryman ['ferɪmən] (pl ferrymen [-mən]) n a man who drives a ferry.

fertile [US 'fɜːrtl, GB 'fɜːtaɪl] adj -1. [soil, land, valley] that is able to grow plants easily □ the fertile valleys of the South. -2. [imagination, brain] that is able to produce a lot of original thoughts, ideas etc □ You must have a very fertile imagination to have thought up something like that. -3. [person] who is able to produce babies □ Women are at their most fertile at around 18.

fertility [fɜːr'tɪlətɪ] n: see fertile □ Manure is used to improve the soil's fertility.

fertility drug n a drug for infertile women to help them to have babies.

fertilization [US ˌfɜːrtələ'zeɪʃn, GB ˌfɜːtələ'zeɪʃn] n: see fertilize.

fertilize, -ise ['fɜːtəlaɪz] vt -1. to make <soil, an area of land> etc produce crops more successfully by adding manure or chemicals to it □ He still fertilizes his fields with manure. -2. to provide <an egg> with sperm to start reproduction; to provide  etc with pollen to start reproduction.

fertilizer ['fɜːtəlaɪzə] n a substance that is put on soil to make crops and plants grow more successfully.

fervent ['fɜːrvənt] adj [belief, wish] that is strong and intense; [believer, supporter] who has very strong and intense feelings, beliefs etc □ It is my fervent hope that when my son grows up he will study at Harvard.

fervor US, fervour GB ['fɜːrvə] n strong and intense feeling or belief □ revolutionary/religious fervor.

fester ['festə] vi -1. [wound, sore] to become infected □ a festering wound. -2. [feeling, quarrel] to become worse or more bitter, usually because it is not dealt with or discussed over a long period of time □ We don't want to allow the situation to fester.

festival ['festɪvl] n -1. a series of artistic shows or events organized in a particular place over a particular period of time □ a music/dance festival. -2. a day or series of days when people are on vacation, usually because of a religious event □ a religious festival.

festive ['festɪv] adj [atmosphere, occasion] where people are very happy, usually because of a holiday or celebration.

festive season n the festive season the period of the year when people celebrate Christmas.

festivities [fe'stɪvətɪz] npl the events or activities that are organized to celebrate a special event □ the wedding festivities.

festoon [fe'stu:n] vt to be festooned with sthg [with flags, balloons, garlands] to be decorated with sthg that is hanging □ The hall was festooned with brightly colored flags.

fetal US, foetal GB ['fi:təl] adj [death, heartbeat] that is connected with the fetus □ fetal distress □ curled up in the fetal position.

fetch [fetʃ] vt -1. to go somewhere in order to take <sb/sthg> from there back to the place one started out from □ Fetch me a glass of water! □ Could you fetch down that book for me? □ Shall I go and fetch the doctor? -2. to be sold for  □ The painting fetched $1,000 at auction.

fetching ['fetʃɪŋ] adj [dress, person] attractive □ You're looking very fetching tonight.

fete, fête [feɪt] ◇ n GB an outdoor event where there are competitions and home-made food and goods for sale, and that is usually organized to make money for a special purpose □ the church/village fete. ◇ vt to be feted [visitor, writer, artist] to get a lot of praise or friendly attention from the public.

fetid ['fetɪd] adj [water, air] that has a strong unpleasant smell □ The air smelled fetid and stale.

fetish ['fetɪʃ] n -1. a liking for a particular thing or activity that provides sexual excitement □ a leather fetish. -2. something that is not important but that somebody spends a lot of time doing or thinking about □ She's got a fetish about keeping things clean.

fetlock ['fetlɒk] n the part of a horse's leg just above the back part of its hoof.

fetter ['fetə] vt to stop <sb> from acting or moving freely □ The court order fettered his movements.

◆ fetters npl chains that are placed around a person's feet to prevent them from moving; things that prevent a person from acting or moving freely.

fettle ['fetl] n to be in fine fettle to be healthy or in good condition (old-fashioned use).

fettucine [fetʊ'tʃi:nɪ] n long, flat, narrow strips of pasta.

fetus US, foetus GB ['fi:təs] n an unborn human or animal.

feud [fju:d] ◇ n a long angry quarrel or dispute between two people, families etc □ There's a bitter feud within the board over plans for a merger. ◇ vi to have a feud with somebody □ They've been feuding with their neighbors for years.

feudal ['fju:dl] adj [system, society, lord] that is connected with the political system in medieval Europe in which people were given land and protection by a person of higher rank if they worked and fought for them.

fever ['fi:və] n -1. MEDICINE a condition in which one has a very high temperature □ Symptoms include fever and vomiting. □ He has a fever. -2. a state of great excitement or nervous activity □ a fever of anticipation. □ The country is gripped by election fever.

fevered ['fi:vəd] adj -1. a fevered brow a forehead that is hot because of a fever, hard physical work etc. -2. to have a fevered imagination to imagine strange things that are not true or do not exist.

feverish ['fi:vəriʃ] adj -1. MEDICINE [person] who has a fever □ I felt feverish all day. -2. [excitement, activity] that shows that people are very excited and nervous □ in a state of feverish excitement.

fever pitch n a state of extreme and intense excitement □ Tension was at fever pitch.

few [fju:] ◇ det -1. few cars only a small number of cars; not as many cars as expected (used with plural nouns) □ Few people know this. □ We get very few visitors in winter. □ They are one of the few really good groups around. -2. a few days some days, but not many (used with plural nouns) □ The train will be here in a few minutes. □ I only know a few people there but Dave knows lots. ■ quite a few, a good few many □ I found quite a few mistakes in his work. -3. the first few days the first days (some but not many) □ We meet every few weeks. □ Then I read the last few pages of the report.

◇ pron -1. only a small number of people or things; not as many people or things as expected □ There used to be a lot of coal mines in the area, but few (of them) remain. □ Few could have predicted what would happen. -2. a few some people or things, but not many □ A few (of us) were still working. ■ quite a few, a good few rather a lot □ Of the books on the list, she's already read quite a few.

◆ few and far between adj not often seen or happening □ Restaurants in Dufftown are few and far between, I'm afraid. □ Such moments of glory are few and far between now.

fewer ['fju:ə] (compar of few) ◇ det not as many people or things; less in number (used with plural nouns) □ The party received fewer votes in 1992 than in 1987. ◇ pron: Few people know about it, and even fewer care.

◆ no fewer than det no fewer than five five, which is a surprisingly big number □ We received no fewer than 50 complaints about the program.

fewest ['fju:əst] (superl of few) ◇ det least in number □ This plan seems to have the fewest problems. ◇ pron: Some departments have lots of computers; ours has (the) fewest.

FH GB abbr of fire hydrant.

fiancé [US, fi:'nɔ:sei, GB fi'bɔ:sei] n the man who a woman is engaged to.

fiancée [US, fi:'nɔ:sei, GB fi'bɔ:sei] n the woman who a man is engaged to.

fiasco [fi'æskou] (US pl fiascos OR fiascoes, GB pl fiascos) n an event or situation that is a complete failure and causes embarrassment □ The event turned into a fiasco. □ the Landsdowne fiasco.

fib [fib] (pt & pp fibbed, cont fibbing) (informal use) ◇ n a lie that is not serious because it is about something unimportant □ Have you been telling me fibs again? ◇ vi to tell fibs.

fibber ['fibə] n a person who tells fibs.

fiber US, fibre GB ['faɪbə] n -1. [of cotton, wool] a narrow thread of a natural or artificial substance, such as cotton, wool etc; cloth or other material made from such threads □ plant fibers □ a cotton fiber OR a fiber of cotton □ glass fibers □ man-made fibers. -2. [in food] parts of plants that move quickly through the body when they are eaten and are good for people's health □ Cereals contain a lot of fiber. -3. ANATOMY tiny thin pieces of flesh that make up muscles and connect nerves in the body □ nerve and muscle fiber. -4. [of a person] the strength of one's character □ moral fiber.

fiberboard US, fibreboard GB ['faɪbə'bo:rd] n a material used in building that is made from very small pieces of wood stuck together.

fiberglass ['faɪbrglæs] US, fibreglass ['faɪbr-glɑ:s] GB n a material made from plastic and glass fibers □ a fiberglass boat/deck.

fiber optics n the technology of carrying information in the form of light along long fibers of glass.

fibre etc GB = fiber etc.

fibrositis [,faɪbrə'saɪtəs] n MEDICINE a condition in which the tissue in somebody's muscles is inflamed.

FICA ['faɪkə] (abbr of Federal Insurance Contributions Act) n in the USA, money that is taken from people's salaries to be used for welfare.

fickle ['fɪkl] adj [voter, lover] who changes their mind often about what they like □ The British public can be very fickle.

fiction ['fɪkʃn] n -1. LITERATURE the type of writing that uses characters and stories that are not real □ Do you like reading fiction? -2. something that a person claims to be true when they know that it is false □ What he told you was a complete fiction.

fictional ['fɪkʃnəl] adj [character, event, account] that is not real or true but is found in a story □ a fictional account of events that occurred during the Spanish Civil War.

fictionalize, -ise ['fɪkʃnəlaɪz] vt [autobiography, true story] to change <sthg>, e.g. by adding imaginary events or characters, so that it is more like a work of fiction.

fictitious [fɪk'tɪʃəs] adj [address, account] that is not true or does not exist □ His version of events was entirely fictitious.

fiddle ['fɪdl] ◇ n a violin, especially one that is played for folk music or dancing. ■ to be (as) fit as a fiddle to be in excellent health. ■ to play second fiddle to sb to have a less important role in something than sb. ◇ vt GB to deliberately give wrong information about <one's accounts, expenses> etc in order to get money for oneself (informal use). ◇ vi -1. to move one's hands in a way that shows one is bored, worried etc □ Stop fiddling (around) with your pen. -2. to fiddle with sthg to move or adjust sthg with one's hands □ Try fiddling with the antenna and you might get a better picture.

fiddler ['fɪdlər] n a person who plays the violin, especially for folk music or dancing.

fiddly ['fɪdlɪ] (compar fiddlier, superl fiddliest) adj GB [job] that is difficult to do, because it requires delicate and precise movements of one's hands (informal use).

fidelity [fɪ'deləti] n -1. the quality of being loyal to a friend; the state of being faithful to a lover, husband, or wife in a sexual relationship □ I would never doubt her fidelity. -2. [of information, a report, account] the degree of accuracy of something that has been copied, translated, or written down.

fidget ['fɪdʒət] vi to make small movements with one's hands or other parts of one's body because one is bored or nervous □ He sat fidgiting with his pen. □ Stop fidgiting!

fidgety ['fɪdʒəti] adj [person] who fidgets.

fiduciary [fɪ'dju:ʃiəri] (pl fiduciaries) ◇ adj [duty, capacity] that is connected with the legal responsibility of controlling property for another person. ◇ n a person who legally controls property for another person.

field [fi:ld] ◇ n -1. FARMING an area of land on a farm, usually surrounded by a fence or hedge, that is used for growing crops or keeping animals on □ a field of cabbages □ open fields. -2. SPORT an area of grassy land used for playing sport □ a hockey/soccer field. -3. [of knowledge] an area of knowledge or activity □ an expert in the field of social history □ Politics isn't really my field. -4. in the field in the sort of place or situation where real events occur, rather than in theory or in a laboratory. -5. PHYSICS the area in which a particular force is felt □ a magnetic/gravitational field. -6. one's field of vision the area one can see without moving one's head □ The building was outside my immediate field of vision. -7. COMPUTING a section of a database that contains a particular type of information □ The employee record has fields for "age", "name", "address" etc.

◇ vt to deal with , especially in a skillful way □ Senator Hart fielded questions from the press.

◇ vi [in cricket, baseball] to stand on the field and try to stop or catch the ball when players from the opposing team hit it.

field day n -1. a day when all the children in a school take part in sports competitions, usually watched by their parents. -2. phrase to have a field day to enjoy oneself very much, because one gets the opportunity to do something one cannot usually do □ The newspapers will have a field day when they learn about this.

fielder ['fi:ldə] n [in cricket, baseball] a player who is fielding.

field event n an event in athletics, e.g. the javelin or long jump, that does not take place on a track.

field glasses npl binoculars □ a pair of field glasses.

field hockey n US hockey that is played on grass, not ice.

field marshal n an officer who has the most senior rank in the British army.

field mouse n a mouse with a long tail that lives in woods and fields.

field trip n a trip to a particular place to study something that is found there □ Dr Brown made the discovery while on a field trip to Borneo. □ a geography field trip.

fieldwork ['fi:ldwɜ:k] n research into a subject that is done by going out of the classroom, laboratory etc and collecting information about it directly.

fiend [fi:nd] n -1. an evil and cruel person (literary use) □ an evil fiend. -2. a person who is very interested in or fond of a particular activity, food, drink etc (informal use) □ a jogging/health fiend.

fiendish ['fi:ndɪʃ] adj -1. [criminal, murder, plan] evil and cruel. -2. [problem, puzzle] that one finds very difficult (informal use).

fierce [fiə:s] adj -1. [dog, person] that has an aggressive and violent nature □ The guards looked fierce and menacing. -2. [storm, temper, blaze] that is violent and stronger than usual □ fierce winds from the north. -3. [fighting, battle] that involves a lot of violent activity; [loyalty, criticism, heat] that is very strong □ He is a fierce critic of the scheme. □ There is always fierce competition for places.

fiercely ['fiə:ʃli] adv -1. fiercely loyal/independent very loyal/independent □ It's a fiercely competitive business. -2. [argue, criticize, fight] see fierce □ The dog barked fiercely. □ The fire was burning fiercely.

fiery ['fiəri] (compar fierier, superl fieriest) adj -1. [explosion, heat] that is very hot or burning □ a fiery ball of flame. -2. [food] that has a very hot flavor. -3. [temper, speech, person] that shows strong emotion □ The fiery Spaniard fought back to win by three shots. -4. fiery (red) [hair, sunset] bright red.

FIFA ['fi:fə] (abbr of Fédération Internationale de Football Association) n the organization in charge of international soccer. It also organizes the World Cup.

fifteen [ˈfɪfˈti:n] ◇ n -1. the number 15 □ Three fives are fifteen. -2. the age of 15 years □ He left school at (the age of) fifteen. -3. a person or object represented by the number 15 □ Their number fifteen is playing well. □ If I were you, I'd take the number fifteen (bus). ◇ adj: a fifteen-hour flight. □ I knew her when she was fifteen (years old). □ I take a size fifteen collar. ◇ pron: "How many people have you got coming?" — "Fifteen."

fifteenth [ˈfɪfˈti:nθ] ◇ n -1. one of fifteen equal parts of something □ A fifteenth of the population lives in the capital. -2. day fifteen of a particular month □ She was born on May fifteenth US OR on the fifteenth of May GB. □ I'll see you on the fifteenth. ◇ adj [week, floor] 15th, number fifteen in a series □ That's the fifteenth takeover bid this year to be referred to the Monopolies and Mergers Commission. □ on his fifteenth birthday □ It was written in the fifteenth century. ■ Louis the Fifteenth the fifteenth king of a particular country to be called Louis. ◇ adv: They were placed fifteenth in the top 100 companies.

fifth [fɪfθ] n -1. one of five equal parts of something □ a fifth of a mile □ A fifth of our production goes for export. -2. day five of a particular month □ I was born on July fifth US OR on the fifth of July GB. □ The meeting is on the fifth. -3. the Fifth = the Fifth Amendment □ He took the Fifth.

◇ adj [week, floor] 5th, number five in a series □ It's the fifth door on the right. □ It's the fifth time this year that interest rates have gone up. ■ to feel like a fifth wheel US to feel that one is not wanted or needed in a particular situation (informal use). ■ Henry the Fifth the fifth king of a particular country to be called Henry.

◇ adv: He came fifth in the 100 meters.

Fifth Amendment n the Fifth Amendment an article of the US Bill of Rights that says that a person does not have to give evidence at their own trial.

Fifth Avenue a street in New York known for its expensive stores and restaurants.

fifth column n a group of people within a country who secretly support and work for its enemies.

fiftieth ['fɪftiəθ] ◇ n one of fifty equal parts of something □ A fiftieth of a gram can be written 0.02g. ◇ adj [week, floor] 50th, number fifty in a series □ It's his fiftieth birthday. ◇ adv: They were placed fiftieth in the top 100 companies.

fifty ['fɪftɪ] (pl fifties) ◇ n -1. the number 50 □ Five tens are fifty. □ Turn to page fifty. ■ the fifties the years between 1950 and 1960 □ It was made in the early/late fifties. ■ to be in one's fifties to be between 50 and 60 years old. ■ to be in the fifties [temperature] to measure between 50° and 60° Fahrenheit or Celsius. ■ to do fifty to drive a motor vehicle at 50 miles per hour □ He was doing fifty when he was stopped by the police. -2. the age of 50 years □ He will be fifty next year. -3. a person or object represented by the number 50 □ Caller number fifty will win a weekend in Hawaii. ◇ adj: There were about fifty people there.

◇ pron: There were about fifty (of them).

fifty-fifty ◇ adj a fifty-fifty chance an equal possibility that something will or will not happen □ Doctors gave him a fifty-fifty chance of survival. ◇ adv into two equal parts □ Let's split the bill fifty-fifty.

fig [fɪg] n a soft, sweet, green or purple fruit full of seeds that is often sold dried □ a dried fig.

fight [faɪt] (pt & pp fought) ◇ n -1. [to hurt somebody physically] a situation or event in which two or more people try to hurt each other by punching, kicking, using weapons etc □ Fights broke out between rival fans. □ Do you want a fight about it? □ a street fight. ■ to have a fight to take part in a fight with somebody □ He had a fight with another boy in his class. ■ to put up a fight to try hard to resist somebody who is much stronger or much more powerful □ He didn't even put up a fight. -2. [to achieve something] a serious attempt to stop something or to achieve something □ the fight against crime/for liberty. -3. [using words] a quarrel or argument □ There were a number of fights over money. □ He's just had a fight with his wife.

◇ vt -1. [army, country] to take part in a war with <an enemy> □ The two countries fought each other for control of the islands. -2. [person] to punch and kick <sb> in order to hurt them. -3. [battle, war] to take part in <sthg> in order to defeat an enemy □ The battle was fought and lost in France. -4. [election, campaign] to take part in <sthg> in order to defeat an opponent □ Two candidates will go forward to fight the next round. -5. [racism, drugs, fire] to try to stop <sthg> from developing or taking control □ The police should spend more of their time fighting crime.

◇ vi -1. to take part in a fight or war □ My brother and I used to fight constantly as children. □ He fought against Germany in World War II. -2. to fight for/against sthg to try hard to get/prevent sthg □ I had to fight for the right to work normal office hours. -3. to argue □ They were always fighting about/over money.

◆ fight back ◇ vt fus to fight back sthg [tears, laughter, anger] to try hard not to show sthg that one feels □ She was fighting back the tears as they said goodbye. ◇ vi to resist somebody who is attacking one or trying to beat one in a competition □ Norman fought back courageously in the next election.

◆ fight off vt sep -1. to fight sb off [thief, mugger] to make sb go away by fighting back □ Somehow, he found the strength to fight off his attacker. -2. to fight sthg off [illness, desire, sadness] to succeed in resisting sthg □ Their bodies are no longer able to fight off infection.

◆ fight out vt sep to fight it out to end a conflict, argument etc by fighting or arguing □ You'll have to fight it out among yourselves.

fighter ['faɪtə] n -1. a fighter (plane) a military aircraft used for attacking other aircraft □ a fighter pilot. -2. [in a war] a person who takes part in a fight or war □ a guerrilla fighter. -3. a person who continues to try to do something despite great difficulties, opposition etc □ He's a born fighter.

fighting ['faɪtɪŋ] n the activity of taking part in a fight or war □ There was too much fighting in the movie.

fighting chance n to have a fighting chance to have a chance of doing or achieving something if one tries very hard □ We still have a fighting chance of winning this contract.

figment ['fɪgmənt] n a figment of sb's imagination something that has been imagined by sb and is not real or true.

figurative ['fɪgʊərətɪv] adj -1. [sense, expression] that uses a word or words in a way that is different from their literal or most obvious meaning, often in an imaginative way □ I'm using the word in its figurative sense, of course. -2. ART [painting, sculpture, artist] that copies the real shapes or appearance of things □ I tend to prefer figurative painting to abstract art.

figuratively ['fɪgʊərətɪvli] adv [express, paint] see figurative □ Figuratively speaking, he's a giant among men.

figure ['fɪgʊə] ◇ n -1. [a number] an amount of something expressed as a number □ unemployment figures. ■ to put a figure on sthg to say the precise amount or cost of sthg □ It's hard to put a figure on it. -2. [a symbol] any of the symbols from 0 to 9 used to represent a number □ She drew a figure seven. □ He was paid a six-figure sum. ■ in double figures between 10 and 99 □ Inflation will soon be in double figures. ■ in single figures between 0 and 9. -3. [of a person] the shape of a person that one sees from a distance or in the dark □ a shadowy figure. -4. [an important person] a person who is important because of what they do or the qualities they have □ He's a senior figure in the party. □ a media figure □ sports figures of the fifties □ a father figure. -5. [a person's body] the shape of a person's body □ Dieting won't necessarily improve your figure. □ She has a fantastic figure! -6. [in a book, article] a picture or diagram used to show or explain something □ See figure 2.

◇ vt to figure (that)... to suppose or believe that something is true □ I figure he had his reasons. □ I figured that she'd call if she wanted to.

◇ vi -1. to appear or be included in something □ They figure in the financial news again. -2. that figures that is logical or not surprising □ I suppose it figures that they'd call the police in.

◆ figure out vt sep to figure sthg out [puzzle, problem] to find the answer to sthg; [answer, reason] to work sthg out □ I couldn't figure out what went wrong.

figure eight US, figure of eight GB n something that has the shape of the number 8, e.g. a knot □ We drove around in a figure eight.

figurehead ['fɪgʊə'hed] n -1. [on a ship] an ornament, usually in the shape of a person, on the front of a sailing ship. -2. [of a country, organization] a leader of a group of people who has no real power □ The Queen is more of a figurehead than anything else.

figure of eight n GB = figure eight.

figure of speech n a word or phrase that has a figurative meaning □ It's just a figure of speech.

figure skating n ice-skating in which a person makes attractive patterns by turning, jumping etc.

figurine [,fɪgʊə'rɪ:n] n a small model in the shape of a person, used as an ornament.

Fiji ['fɪ:dʒi:] a country in the South Pacific, east of Australia, consisting of many islands. SIZE: 18,300 sq kms. POPULATION: 727,000 (Fijians). CAPITAL: Suva. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Fijian dollar.

filament ['fɪləmənt] n the thin piece of wire that produces light in an electric light bulb.

filch [fɪltʃ] vt to steal <sthg> (informal use).

file [faɪl] ◇ n -1. [of papers] a box or folded piece of cardboard used for keeping documents and papers in □ a file copy. -2. [on a subject] a collection of documents or information about a particular person, group, or subject □ a file on economic growth □ They can't find my file. □ a police file. ■ to be on file OR on the files to be recorded in writing in a collection of documents about somebody or something □ I've kept your letter on file. -3. COMPUTING pieces of information that are related and stored together under one name on a computer □ a computer data file □ How do you open/close the file? -4. [for rubbing things] a tool that one rubs against hard or rough surfaces to make them smooth □ a nail file □ a metal file. -5. in single file [wait, stand] one behind the other in a line □ They entered the room in single file.

◇ vt -1. [document, paper, account] to put <sthg> in a file □ The letter was filed away for future reference. -2. LAW [accusation, complaint, lawsuit] to present <sthg> officially □ I'm going to file a suit for libel. -3. [fingernail, wood, metal] to make <sthg> smooth or give it a particular shape using a file □ The rivets are then filed down until they are smooth.

◇ vi -1. [people] to walk somewhere one behind the other □ The mourners filed into the church. -2. LAW to file for divorce to ask for a divorce officially.

file clerk US, filing clerk GB n a person whose job is to file documents and papers in an office.

filename ['faɪlneɪm] n a code used to identify a computer file.

filet ['fɪ'leɪ] n US = fillet.

filibuster ['fɪlɪbʌstə] vi POLITICS to deliberately speak for a very long time so that a law cannot be passed because there is no time for a vote □ The senator denied filibustering.

filigree ['fɪlɪɡriː] ◇ n an ornament in gold or silver wire □ a piece of gold filigree. ◇ adj [earrings, jewelry] made with filigree.

filig cabinet ['faɪlɪŋ-] n a set of metal drawers for keeping files in, usually in an office.

filling clerk n GB = file clerk.

Filipino [,fɪlə'piːniʊ] (pl Filipinos) n & adj: see Philippines.

fill [fɪl] ◇ vt -1. [glass, tank, bag] to make  full □ He filled the basin with water. -2. [building, area] to be in  in large numbers or amounts so that there is little space left □ People filled the streets. -3. [crack, gap] to repair  by putting a substance in it □ You'll need to have this tooth filled. -4. [post, position, role] to take  □ The vacancy has now been filled. -5. [requirement, demand] to satisfy  □ Television fills a gap in many people's lives. ◇ vi to become full of something □ His eyes filled with tears. ◇ n to have had one's fill of sthg to be unwilling to do or experience sthg any more □ I've had my fill of political in-fighting. ■ to eat one's fill to eat as much food as one wants □ They sat down and ate their fill of roast meat and vegetables.

◆ fill in ◇ vt sep -1. to fill sthg in [form, coupon, questionnaire] to complete sthg by writing information in the spaces on it □ Fill in the form with your name and address. -2. to fill sb in to give sb more information about something □ I filled him in on the situation. □ I'll fill you in later about what happens at the meeting. ◇ vt fus to be filling in time GB to be doing something unimportant while one is waiting for something more important. ◇ vi to do somebody else's job for a limited period of time □ She filled in for me when I was off sick.

◆ fill out ◇ vt sep [form, coupon, questionnaire] = fill in. ◇ vi [person] to get fatter or more physically developed □ Sandy's certainly filled out since she was a teenager.

◆ fill up ◇ vt sep to fill sthg up [container, place] to make sthg completely full □ I filled the car up with gasoline. ◇ vi [room, town] to become full □ The theater soon filled up with people.

filled [fɪld] adj -1. to be filled with sthg [with a feeling, emotion] to be full of sthg □ He's still filled with resentment because of the divorce. -2. [roll, pastry] that has a different kind of food in the middle □ a doughnut filled with jam.

filler ['fɪləʃ] n a substance for filling holes or cracks in walls, car bodies etc □ wood filler.

fillet [US fr'leɪ, GB 'fɪlət] n -1. a piece of meat or fish to be eaten that contains no bones □ a fillet of pork/cod. -2. meat cut from near the ribs of a cow or the buttocks of other animals and used in cooking □ fillet of beef.

fillet steak n fillet of beef; a slice of this for grilling, frying etc.

filling ['fɪlɪŋ] ◇ adj [meal, food] that makes a person feel full or satisfied when it is eaten □ I don't find salad very filling. ◇ n -1. [for a tooth] a small amount of a substance used to fill a hole in a tooth to stop it from decaying filling station n a place that sells gasoline and oil for vehicles.

□ a gold filling. -2. [in a pie, cake, sandwich] any food put inside another kind of food □ a sponge with a chocolate filling.

fillip ['fɪlɪp] n a sudden or unexpected improvement □ The move gave a much-needed fillip to the retail sector.

filly ['fɪli] (pl fillies) n a young female horse.

film [fɪlm] ◇ n -1. CINEMA & TV a story, report etc in the form of moving pictures and usually with sound that is shown on a television or cinema screen □ a horror film □ They made a film about his life. □ a film critic. -2. PHOTOGRAPHY a strip of plastic placed in a camera for taking photographs on; a roll of this □ color film □ a roll of film. -3. CINEMA & TV a series of moving pictures that record an event, battle etc which can be shown on a television or cinema screen □ old film footage □ a film sequence. -4. [of powder, grease] a very thin layer of something that covers the surface of something else □ a film of dust/oil.

◇ vt [scene, riot, discussion] to use a camera to take moving pictures of <sb/sthg> so that they can be shown on a television or cinema screen □ He was filmed leaving his house at 2 a.m.

◇ vi to make a movie □ I don't think you'll be allowed to film on Brooklyn Bridge.

filming ['fɪlmɪŋ] n the activity of making a movie.

film-maker n a person whose job is to make movies for television or the cinema.

film star n an actor or actress who is famous for their appearances in movies.

filmstrip ['fɪlmstri:p] n a piece of film with a series of pictures on it that are shown one after another as stills on a screen.

FilofaxTM ['fɪləfæks] n a small book for writing personal information such as appointments and addresses in.

filter ['fɪltəʃ] ◇ n -1. [for coffee, air] a device for cleaning or removing unwanted particles from a liquid or gas that is passed through it □ a coffee/oil/air filter. -2. [on a camera, telescope] a piece of glass, used on a camera, telescope etc, that changes the quality or quantity of light that passes through it □ an orange filter □ a filter on a camera/lamp. ◇ vt [coffee, water, air] to clean or remove unwanted particles from  by passing it through a filter. ◇ vi [people] to move somewhere gradually and in small numbers □ Delegates filtered into the conference room from 9 o'clock onward.

◆ filter out vt sep to filter sthg out [substance, gas, light] to remove sthg from a different substance, gas, or kind of light because one does not want it □ This device filters out the harmful ultraviolet rays.

◆ filter through vi [news, information] to become known gradually or slowly □ News of the earthquake gradually filtered through to the world's media.

filter coffee n a hot drink made by passing boiling water through coffee beans that have been ground and placed in a filter.

filter lane n GB a special lane for vehicles turning left or right.

filter paper n paper used to filter liquids.

filter-tipped [-'tɪpt] adj a filter-tipped cigarette a cigarette that has a small device attached to the end that reduces the amount of nicotine and tar breathed in by the person who smokes it.

filth [fɪlθ] n -1. dirt that one finds very unpleasant to look at, smell etc □ He was covered in filth. -2. something such as words or pictures that people find offensive, particularly because it is connected with sex □ I'm not letting my children watch that filth!

filthy ['fɪlθɪ] (compar filthier, superl filthiest) adj -1. [shoes, clothes, room] very dirty □ His hands were absolutely filthy! -2. [joke, movie, magazine] that one thinks is offensive, especially because of the way it shows or describes sex □ You've got a filthy mind!

filtration plant [fɪl'treɪʃn-] n a place where water is cleaned before people use it.

fin [fɪn] n -1. [on a fish, whale] any of the parts attached to the surface of a fish's body that it uses for swimming □ a dorsal fin. -2. US [for one's feet] a rubber shoe shaped like a fish's fin that is sometimes worn by swimmers, especially underwater □ a pair of fins.

final ['faɪnəl] ◇ adj -1. [day, page, word] that comes at the end of a series of things □ She's in her final year at college. -2. [score, result] that happens or exists at the end of something □ during the final stages of the war. -3. [decision, offer] that cannot be changed □ I'm leaving and that's final! ◇ n the last part of a competition that decides who wins □ Holland is through to the final.

◆ finals npl EDUCATION -1. US the exams taken at the end of a semester. -2. GB the exams taken at the end of a university degree course □ When do you take OR sit your finals?

final demand n the last letter that a company sends to a customer to demand payment of a bill or invoice before legal action is taken.

finale [US fɪ'nælɪ, GB -'nɑ:lɪ] n the last part of a piece of music, that is often impressive or exciting □ The concert ended in a grand finale.

finalist ['faɪnəlɪst] n a person who takes part in the final of a competition.

finalize, -ise ['faɪnəlaɪz] vt [date, deal] to finish discussing or planning <sthg> by agreeing about it or by making it definite □ We need to finalize the arrangements for next month's conference.

finally ['faɪnəlɪ] adv -1. after a long time, especially after some difficulty or delay □ The delivery finally came at three in the afternoon. -2. a word used to introduce the last point in a list of ideas, information etc □ Finally, I would like to speak about our plans for the future.

finance [ɪ US fə'næns, GB 'fɑ:məns, vb US fə'næns, GB fɑ:'næns] ◇ n -1. the money that makes a project, development, or deal possible □

The city government had to raise extra finance. -2. the management of money in a company, organization, or government □ the finance department □ the Finance Minister. ◇ vt [project, development, deal] to provide money for <sthg> □ Construction of the dam was financed by an IMF loan.

◆ finances npl the amount of money that a person, company etc has; the way this money is organized □ I need to check my finances first. □ I leave the finances to Sara.

financial [fə'nænʃl] adj [security, difficulties, success] that involves or is connected with money □ Frankfurt is a major financial center. □ I'm having financial problems.

financial adviser n a person or company that gives advice to clients on how to manage or invest their money.

financially [fə'nænʃlɪ] adv [stable, secure] see financial □ Financially, they're not doing very well. □ The project simply isn't financially viable.

financial services npl a selection of services provided by banks, insurance companies, etc to help people or companies with financial matters such as pensions and insurance.

financial year n GB = fiscal year.

financier [US ,fɪnən'sɪr, GB fɑ:'nænsɪə] n a person who provides large sums of money for projects, new businesses etc.

finch [fɪntʃ] n a small songbird with a short wide beak.

find [faɪnd] (pt & pp found) ◇ vt -1. [missing person, object] to discover by chance or by searching <sb/sthg that was lost, missing, or not known> □ The police eventually found the man they were looking for. □ I found a note pinned on the door. ■ to find one's way to go somewhere, especially without directions from somebody else □ I found my way to the hotel. -2. [time, money, job] to get or discover <sb/sthg that one needs> □ Have you found anywhere to live yet? □ When are you going to find a wife? -3. to find (that)... to discover or realize that something is true or has happened □ When did you find (that) your purse was missing? □ It pays to be honest with people, I always find. -4. to find sb/sthg attractive/useful etc to think that sb/sthg is attractive/useful etc □ How do you find Tokyo? □ I found her very interesting to talk to. □ I find it impossible to be angry with him. -5. to be found somewhere to exist somewhere □ The plant is found throughout the southern hemisphere. -6. LAW to be found guilty/not guilty of sthg to be judged guilty/not guilty of sthg in a court of law. ◇ n something or somebody that is found, especially by chance, and that is interesting, useful, or valuable □ That restaurant was a real find!

◆ find out ◇ vt fus -1. to find out sthg [fact, information] to discover sthg, especially by asking people about it □ Did you manage to find out their address? □ Find out who did it! -2. to find out sthg [truth, reason] to learn or get to know sthg □ I wonder if we'll ever find out what really happened to them. ◇ vi: I'll try and find out. ◇ vt sep to find sb out to discover that <sb> is dishonest □ One day he'll be found out.

findings ['faɪndɪŋz] npl the important information collected by a report, study, or investigation, or the conclusions drawn from this □ The Commission will publish its findings in the autumn.

fine [faɪn] ◇ adj -1. [person, work, example] that one admires □ It's a fine building. □ The house is a fine example of late 18th-century architecture. -2. [arrangement, agreement] that one thinks is completely satisfactory □ That's fine by me. □ I'm sure it'll be fine if you're a little late. -3. to be fine [person] to feel well or happy □ "How are you?" — "Fine, thanks." □ "Are you feeling better?" — "Yes, I'm fine now, thank you." -4. [weather, day] sunny and dry □ It's turned out fine again. -5. [hair, point, tip] that is very thin and delicate □ The surface is coated with a fine layer of silver. -6. [powder, sand, rain] that is light and made up of very small parts □ The water comes out in a fine spray. -7. [adjustment, distinction, detail] that is small, exact, and not obvious □ I'll need to explain some of the finer points to you.

◇ adv very well □ Everything went fine.

◇ n a sum of money that somebody must pay as a punishment, usually because they have broken the law □ He got a parking fine.

◇ vt to make <sb> pay a fine □ They were fined $2,000 for criminal damage.

fine arts npl forms of art such as painting and sculpture in which objects are produced not for any practical function but simply to be appreciated for their beauty.

finely ['faɪnli] adv -1. [slice, cut] into small pieces; [grind] into powder form □ finely chopped onions. -2. [judge, time] delicately and accurately □ a delicate, finely formed face □ a finely tuned engine. ■ finely balanced evenly balanced □ a finely balanced competition.

finery ['faɪnəri] n clothing or jewelry that is impressive and usually only worn on special occasions.

finesse [fɪ'nes] n skill and elegance.

fine-tooth comb n to go over sthg with a fine-tooth comb to examine sthg very carefully.

fine-tune vt [engine, system, method] to make very small changes to <sthg> so that it works as well as possible.

finger ['fɪŋgə] ◇ n one of the five movable parts at the end of one's hand □ He pointed at me with his finger. □ I've cut my finger. ■ to keep one's fingers crossed to hope that one will be lucky and that something will happen in the way one wants □ I should be alright, fingers crossed! ■ she didn't lay a finger on him she didn't touch or hurt him in any way (informal use). ■ he didn't lift a finger to help he made no effort to help at all (informal use). ■ to point a OR the finger at sb to accuse sb of something □ Don't point the finger at me! ■ to put one's finger on sthg [on a problem, feeling, the reason] to recognize and point out sthg □ Yes, exactly, you've put your finger on it. □ I can't quite put my finger on it. ■ to twist sb around one's little finger to be able to get sb to do exactly what one wants, especially because they like one a lot.

◇ vt to touch <sthg> using one's fingers □ She fingered the soft fabric enviously.

fingermark ['fɪŋgə'mɑ:k] n a mark caused by a finger touching the surface of something.

finger nail ['fɪŋgə'neɪl] n the hard part at the end of a finger that can grow long if it is not cut.

fingerprint ['fɪŋgə'prɪnt] n the mark made by the lines on the skin at the end of a finger. It can be used by the police to identify people □ The police took his fingerprints.

fingertip ['fɪŋgə'tɪp] n the end of a finger. ■ to have sthg at one's fingertips [information, knowledge] to know sthg very well and be able to answer questions about it quickly.

finicky ['fɪnɪki] adj [person] who is very fussy about unimportant details (disapproving use) □ Jake is very finicky about his food.

finish ['fɪnɪʃ] ◇ vt -1. [book, work] to reach the end of <sthg> □ They finished filming last week. □ When do you finish college? -2. [food, drink, cigarette] to use up the last part of <sthg> □ We finished the rest of the ice-cream.

◇ vi -1. [work, movie, party] to come to an end □ My contract finishes early next year. -2. [person] to reach the end of something □ I can't believe you still haven't finished. -3. [horse, runner] to be in a particular position at the end of a race or competition □ "Where did you finish?" — "Fifth."

◇ n -1. [of a race] the end or last part of something □ It was a harrowing experience from start to finish. -2. the quality of a surface that has been painted, polished, glazed etc □ We used a gloss finish on the woodwork.

◆ finish off vt sep -1. to finish sthg off [task, report, letter] to complete the last part of sthg □ Can you finish that off now, please? -2. to finish sthg off [food, drink, cigarette] to finish sthg □ I'm afraid I finished off the last of the chocolate mousse.

◆ finish up vi to be in a particular state, situation, or place at the end of something □ If you're not careful, you'll finish up in hospital!

◆ finish with vi fus to finish with sb [one's boyfriend, girlfriend] to end a relationship with sb.

finished ['fɪnɪʃt] adj -1. [job, task] completely done; [activity, situation] ended □ I'm glad that's finished. -2. to be finished [person] to have stopped doing a particular task or activity □ When do you think you'll be finished? -3. to be finished with sthg to be no longer using sthg or interested in sthg □ Have you finished with the screwdriver? □ I'm finished with college. -4. to be finished [person] to be no longer important, successful, useful etc (informal use) □ Dubinsky is finished as a politician.

finishing school ['fɪnɪʃɪŋ] n a private school where girls from wealthy families are sent to complete their education and learn the skills needed for socializing and entertaining.

finish line US, finishing line GB n the part of a racecourse or track that the competitors try to be the first to cross at the end of a race in order to win □ Sanchez was the first to cross the finish line.

finite ['faɪnaɪt] adj -1. [number, possibilities] limited (formal use) □ Unfortunately, we only have a finite amount of resources. -2. GRAMMAR [verb] in a form that shows a particular tense or subject, rather than being an infinitive or participle.

Finland ['fɪnlənd] a country in northern Europe, on the Baltic Sea, between Sweden and Russia. SIZE: 338,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,100,000 (*Finn*s). CAPITAL: Helsinki. LANGUAGE: Finnish, Swedish. CURRENCY: markka.

Finn [fɪn] n a person who lives in or comes from Finland.

Finn [fɪn], Huckleberry a character in Mark Twain's novels The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer. He has many adventures on the Mississippi River with his friend Jim, a runaway slave.

Finnish ['fɪnɪʃ] ◇ adj: see Finland. ◇ npl the Finnish the people of Finland. ◇ n the language spoken in Finland.

fiord [fɪ'ɔ:rd] n = fjord.

fir [fɜ:ɪ] n an evergreen tree that grows especially in cold countries and has thin sharp leaves and brown cones.

fire ['faɪə] ◇ n -1. hot, bright, yellow or orange flames that are produced by something that is burning; these flames when they are out of control and causing damage □ The building was destroyed by fire. □ There were fires throughout the city. □ a forest fire. ■ to be on fire to be burning with flames □ By now, all his clothes were on fire. ■ to catch fire to start to burn with flames, especially by accident □ The whole building caught fire. ■ to set fire to sthg to make sthg start burning □ I set fire to the bedding by accident. -2. [in a fireplace, at a camp] a pile of coal, wood etc that is being burnt to keep a room warm or to cook food □ They sat by the fire to keep warm. □ a wood/log/coal fire. -3. GB a device that uses electricity or gas to keep a place warm □ I'll put the fire on. -4. [from a gun] shots from a gun □ Our troops came under fire. ■ to open fire to start shooting at somebody □ The police suddenly opened fire on the demonstrators.

◇ vt -1. [person] to use  and make it shoot bullets, ammunition etc; [weapon] to shoot <bullets, missiles> etc □ A number of shots were fired. -2. to direct <questions, accusations> etc at somebody very quickly, especially in order to confuse them or make them admit to something □ Two officers kept firing questions at the prisoner. -3. [employee, staff] to tell <sb> to leave their job, especially because they have done something wrong (informal use) □ Scott was fired from ADN Inc. in 1978. □ You're fired!

◇ vi to fire a gun at somebody □ He gave the order to fire on OR at the protesters.

fire alarm n a device that makes a loud noise, e.g. by ringing a bell, to warn people when there is a fire.

firearm ['faɪəɑ:ɪm] n a small gun such as a pistol or revolver □ the illegal possession of firearms □ He was charged with several firearms offenses.

fireball ['faɪə'bɔ:l] n a round mass of fire, especially one at the center of a very big explosion.

firebomb ['faɪə'bɒm] ◇ n a bomb that burns after exploding. ◇ vt to attack  using a firebomb.

firebreak ['faɪə'breɪk] n a ditch or an area of land that has been cleared of trees and that stops fires spreading in a forest or wood.

fire brigade n GB = fire department.

fire chief US, fire master GB n the most important officer of a fire department.

firecracker ['faɪə'krækə] n a firework that makes several loud exploding noises.

fire-damaged ['dæmɪdʒd] adj [product, stock] that has been damaged by a fire and is therefore sold at a reduced price.

fire department US, fire brigade GB n the emergency service that people call when there is a fire or somebody is trapped somewhere.

fire door n a strong door in a building that is kept closed to stop a fire from spreading quickly through the building.

fire drill n an exercise in a school or workplace to practice what to do if there is a fire.

fire-eater n an entertainer who does dangerous tricks with fire, such as putting burning torches in their mouth.

fire engine n a special large vehicle that is used to carry firemen and their equipment for putting out fires.

fire escape n a metal staircase on the outside of a building that people can use to escape down if there is a fire inside.

fire extinguisher n a metal cylinder containing a special powder or liquid that is sprayed onto a fire to put it out.

fire fighter n a person who is involved in controlling or putting out fires, especially as part of their job.

fireguard ['faɪə'gɑ:rd] n a wire screen that is placed in front of a fireplace when the fire is burning, to prevent accidents.

fire hazard n something that could cause a fire or be dangerous if there is a fire.

fire hydrant n a pipe next to a street that provides water that the fire department can use to put out a fire.

firelight ['faɪə'lɑ:t] n the firelight the light that comes from a burning fire □ I could see his face in the firelight.

firelighter ['faɪə'lɑ:tə] n a piece of a substance that burns easily and is used to help to light a fire.

fireman ['faɪə'mən] (pl firemen [-mən]) n a person whose job is to put out fires.

fire master n GB = fire chief.

fireplace ['faɪə'pleɪs] n the space in the wall of a room that leads to the chimney and where a wood or coal fire can be lit.

fireplug n US = fire hydrant.

firepower ['faɪə'paʊə] n the amount of weapons such as guns and missiles that a person, army, or country is able to use against other people □ NATO now has enough firepower in the region to back up its threats.

fireproof ['faɪə'pru:f] adj [clothing, door] that cannot be easily damaged by fire.

fire regulations npl official rules that are used to try and prevent fires, especially in public places.

fire service n GB = fire department.

fireside ['faɪə'saɪd] n by the fireside near the fire in a room.

fire station n a building where fire fighters and their vehicles are based.

firewood ['faɪə'wʊd] n wood that is used for burning on a fire.

firework ['faɪə'wɜ:k] n an object that contains an explosive and other chemicals and is used to entertain people. When it is lit it explodes or spins around, making colorful sparks and loud bangs □ a firework display □ Kids were letting off fireworks in the street.

◆ fireworks npl an angry reaction to something (informal use).

firing ['faɪərɪŋ] n MILITARY the shooting of guns □ We could hear firing outside.

firing squad n a group of soldiers ordered to shoot and kill somebody, usually as punishment for a crime.

firm [fɜ:'m] ◇ adj -1. [fruit, soil, body] that is not very soft but is not completely hard either □ a firm mattress. -2. [foundation, foothold] that is secure and does not move easily □ Make sure the ladder is firm. -3. [handshake, pressure] that is strong and forceful; [discipline, rule] that is strict □ His grip was firm. □ I've always been very firm with my kids. ■ to stand firm to refuse to change one's mind about something despite pressure □ She intends to stand firm on this issue. -4. [answer, denial, agreement] definite; [belief, decision] that will not change □ There is no firm evidence to back up the charge. □ They remain firm friends. -5. FINANCE [investment, trade] that does not lose its value □ The franc stayed firm against the dollar. □ Prices remained firm.

◇ n BUSINESS a company, especially a small one □ a firm of accountants □ an advertising firm.

◆ firm up ◇ vt sep -1. to firm sth up [body, muscle] to make sth firm through exercise □ Running is a good way to firm up your leg muscles. -2. to firm sth up [agreement, deal] to make sth definite □ These are just rough plans and need to be firmed up. ◇ vi [trade, investment] to become firm □ Prices are firming up.

firmly ['fɜ:'mli] adv [hold, press, believe] see firm □ He firmly denies any involvement. □ She has very firmly held beliefs.

firmness ['fɜ:'mnəs] n: see firm □ I was surprised by the firmness of her handshake.

first [fɜ:'st] ◇ adj 1st, number 1 in a series □ Take the first turning on the left. □ the first time we met. ■ first thing at the beginning of a particular period of time □ It will be delivered first thing tomorrow morning. ■ first things first a phrase used to introduce the most important things that have to be dealt with before anything else □ First things first: let's talk about salary. ■ I don't know the first thing about it I don't know anything about it □ I don't know the first thing about cooking. ■ Henry the First the first king of a particular country to be called Henry.

◇ adv -1. before anybody or anything else □ I saw it first! □ He came first in the boat race/French exam. □ She always puts her family/career first. -2. first (of all) a phrase used to introduce the first point in a speech or argument □ First of all I'd like to say thank you to everyone.

◇ n -1. [person] the person or group of people before all others □ They were the first to realize the full potential of the discovery. -2. day one of a particular month □ I was born on May first US OR on the first of May GB. □ The meeting is on the first. -3. [event] something that has never happened before □ That's a notable first for Australia. -4. AUTO the gear that one puts a vehicle in to start it moving □ I drove off in first. -5. GB & AUS EDUCATION a first-class degree □ She has a first in engineering from Durham University.

◆ at first adv a phrase used to describe the way that something is at the beginning of a particular time, situation, or event, before it changes □ It will be cloudy at first, with sunny spells later on. □ At first I thought he was her boss. □ He was a little nervous at first.

◆ (at) first hand adv a phrase used to describe a way of learning about something by seeing or experiencing it directly, rather than by hearing or reading other people's reports □ It's important to see these things (at) first hand.

first aid n the treatment that is given to somebody immediately after an accident or sudden attack of illness, and that can often help to save that person's life □ He was given first aid by the roadside. □ first-aid treatment.

first-aid kit n a box containing bandages, band aids, antiseptic cream etc for treating minor injuries.

First Amendment n the First Amendment an article of the US Bill of Rights that gives Americans freedom of speech and the right to have public meetings and to choose their own religion.

📖 FIRST AMENDMENT

The First Amendment is considered very important by US citizens, who see it as a guarantee of their personal freedoms: freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of the press, and freedom to hold public meetings. Added to the US Constitution in 1791 as part of the Bill of Rights, it is often re-examined in US courts. For example, when journalists or political activists are accused of breaking the law, the courts must decide what free speech is, and when it is being abused.

first-class < adj -1. [meal, performance] of the highest quality □ The service here is always first-class. -2. [ticket, compartment] that is the most expensive and provides most comfort □ First-class passengers are offered a free glass of champagne. ■ a first-class stamp a stamp that is more expensive and guarantees a quicker service □ Send it by first-class mail. -3. GB & AUS EDUCATION a first-class degree a university degree of the highest standard that can be achieved. < adv: If you send it first-class, it should get there tomorrow. □ We traveled first-class.

first course n a small portion of food that is eaten at the start of a meal.

first cousin n the son or daughter of one's uncle and aunt.

first-day cover n a card or envelope with a set of special stamps on it that is stamped by the post office with the date of issue of the stamps.

first-degree adj -1. MEDICINE a first-degree burn the least serious type of burn. -2. US LAW first-degree murder murder that is committed deliberately.

First Family n the First Family the family of the president of a country, especially the USA.

first floor n -1. US the part of a building that is at ground level □ She lives on the first floor. □ a first-floor apartment. -2. GB the first level of a building that is above ground level □ I live on the first floor. □ a first-floor flat.

first gear n AUTO = first.

firsthand [ˈfɜːstˈhænd] < adj [information, knowledge] that somebody gets directly, rather than from reports by other people □ Having lived in China, Clayton has firsthand experience of life there. < adv [learn, hear, see] I like to find out things for myself firsthand.

First Lady n the First Lady the wife of the president of a country, especially the USA.

first language n the language that one learned as a child before any other language and that one speaks most easily □ My first language is Dutch.

first lieutenant n an officer below the rank of captain in the US army, air force, or marine corps.

firstly [ˈfɜːstli] adv a word used to introduce the first point in a list of subjects, reasons, pieces of information etc □ Firstly, let me welcome you all here. □ Firstly I don't have the money, and secondly I'm too tired.

first mate n SAILING a member of a ship's crew, next in rank below the captain.

first name n the name that is not one's family name, but the one used by friends, family, and other people one knows fairly well □ Surname: Rossi; first name: Paola.

◆ first-name adj to be on a first-name basis US OR on first-name terms with sb to know sb well enough to call them by their first name □ Well, I'm hardly on a first-name basis with her, am I?

first night n the first public performance of a play, show, musical etc □ Did you go to the first night of La Traviata?

first offender n LAW a person found guilty of a crime for the first time.

first officer n = first mate.

first-past-the-post system n GB a system that gives a political party representation in parliament for each local election it wins, rather than in proportion to the percentage of votes it receives in the country as a whole.

first-rate adj [performance, player] that one thinks is extremely good □ The doctors did a first-rate job on my knee.

first refusal n to give sb first refusal GB to let sb decide whether they want to buy something before one sells it to somebody else □ They said they'd give us first refusal on the house.

first-time buyer n a person who is buying a house or apartment for the first time.

First World War n the First World War the war that took place mainly in Europe and the Middle East between 1914 and 1918.

fir tree n = fir.

fiscal [ˈfɪskl] adj [control, policy, measure] that is connected with the public money controlled by a government, especially money from taxes.

fiscal year n US the period of twelve months over which a company, government etc plans its calculations of profits, taxes, and budgets.

♣ FISCAL YEAR

The fiscal year in the USA is from April 16 to April 15. In Britain it is from April 6 to April 5, and in Australia it is from July 1 to June 30.

fish [fɪʃ] (pl fish) < n an animal that lives in water only and uses its tail and fins to swim; this animal eaten as food □ I caught two fish. □ He didn't catch much fish. □ Do you eat fish? □ a fish bone. < vi -1. to try to catch fish in a sea, river, lake etc □ He is fishing for trout. -2. to fish for sthg [for compliments, information] to try to get sthg without asking for it directly □ Stop fishing for compliments! < vt [river, lake] to fish in <an area of water>.

◆ fish out vt sep to fish sthg out to find and take sthg from a place (informal use) □ She fished her keys out of her bag.

fish and chips n a popular traditional British meal of fried fish and potatoes, often bought at a fast-food restaurant and wrapped in paper.

fish and chip shop n GB a takeout restaurant that sells fish and chips.

fishbowl [ˈfɪʃbɔʊl] n a glass bowl in which fish are kept as pets.

fishcake [ˈfɪʃkeɪk] n a small, round, flat cake made of fish and mashed potatoes covered in breadcrumbs, which is fried or grilled.

fisherman [ˈfɪʃmən] (pl fishermen [-mənz]) n a person who catches fish as a job or sport.

fishery ['fɪʃəri] (pl fisheries) n an area of the sea used by the fishermen of a particular region or country to catch fish for selling.

fish-eye lens n a camera lens that makes it possible to photograph a wide space and that makes everything in the photograph look curved.

fish farm n an enclosed area of water for breeding fish that are sold as food.

fish fingers npl GB = fish sticks.

fishhook ['fɪʃhʊk] n the hook at the end of a fishing line, used for catching fish.

fishing ['fɪʃɪŋ] n the activity of trying to catch fish as a job, sport, or pastime □ Why don't we go fishing? □ a fishing fleet □ the fishing industry.

fishing boat n a boat used for catching fish in, especially in order to sell them.

fishing line n a long piece of cord attached to a rod, with a hook at the end that is used for catching fish.

fishing rod n a long thin pole with a fishing line attached to it, used for catching fish.

fishmonger ['fɪʃmɑŋgə] n a person who works in a store that sells fresh fish. ■ a fishmonger's (shop) GB a store that sells fresh fish.

fishnet ['fɪʃnet] n -1. a net used for catching fish. -2. fishnet stockings stockings made of threads that cross over each other to form holes.

fish pond n a pond in a garden that has fish in it.

fish slice n GB a kitchen tool with a long handle attached to a flat wide section with holes in it.

fish sticks US, fish fingers GB npl short, narrow, flat pieces of fish in breadcrumbs or batter that are fried or grilled.

fish tank n a tank in which fish are kept, e.g. as pets.

fishwife ['fɪʃwaɪf] (pl fishwives [-waɪvz]) n a word used to refer to a woman who is loud, uses vulgar language, and is often bad-tempered (disapproving use).

fishy ['fɪʃɪ] (compar fishier, superl fishiest) adj -1. [smell, taste] that is like fish □ It had a funny fishy smell. -2. [story, excuse] that seems dishonest or untrue and makes one suspicious (informal use) □ There's something very fishy about all this.

fission ['fɪʃn] n PHYSICS the scientific process of splitting an atom in order to produce nuclear energy □ atomic/nuclear fission.

fissure ['fɪʃə] n a deep crack in a rock or the earth's surface.

fist [fɪst] n one's hand when it is tightly closed □ a clenched fist.

fit [fɪt] (US pt & pp fitted OR fit, cont fitting, GB pt & pp fitted, cont fitting) ◇ adj -1. [person, building, equipment] good enough or suitable for a particular use or purpose □ This place isn't fit for human habitation. □ He's not fit to marry my daughter. □ Is he fit to rule? ■ to see OR think fit to think that something is right or necessary □ She apparently didn't see fit to inform us. □ You must do as you think fit.

-2. [person] who is in good physical condition, usually because they have regular exercise □ I keep fit by cycling to work.

◇ n -1. [of clothes, shoes] the way that something looks or feels because of its size in relation to somebody or something □ The dress is not a very good fit. □ These shoes are a tight fit. -2. to have a fit MEDICINE to suffer an attack of epilepsy; to become very angry (informal use) □ He'll have an absolute fit when he finds out. -3. [of rage, laughter, panic] a short intense period of activity or feeling that is difficult to control □ She broke the vase in a fit of temper. □ a coughing fit. ■ in fits and starts with short irregular periods of activity □ I worked on the book in fits and starts while the kids were little. □ The rain came in fits and starts throughout the day.

◇ vt -1. to be the right size and shape for <sb> □ It doesn't fit me any more. -2. to fit sthg into sthg to place sthg in sthg else so that it is in the correct position □ You fit the shelf bracket into this slot here. -3. [device, equipment] to put <sthg> in a particular place or position, so that it can work; to provide <sthg> with a piece of equipment or an extra part □ Fitting locks on all the windows would help. □ It comes fitted with speakers. -4. [occasion] to be suitable for <sthg>; [description, requirement] to match <sthg> □ The punishment should fit the crime. □ He fits the description of the man the police want to interview. -5. to be fitted for an item of clothing to try on an item of clothing to see if any changes need to be made □ I'm being fitted for a new suit.

◇ vi -1. [shoe, dress] to be the right size and shape for somebody or something □ It fits perfectly. □ This shirt/lid doesn't fit properly. -2. to be designed and shaped to be put in a particular place □ The steamer fits over the pan like this. -3. to be the right size or shape to go in a particular place □ The books won't all fit into one box.

◆ fit in ◇ vt sep to fit sthg/sb in to find time to do sthg/see sb even though one has a lot of other things to do □ I just don't know how she fits it all in. □ I can fit you in on Tuesday. ◇ vi -1. [person] to be accepted by a group of people because one has the same behavior, appearance, or attitudes □ At college he never seemed to fit in with the other students. -2. to fit in with sthg to happen at the same time as sthg else without causing problems □ That doesn't really fit in with my plans.

◆ fit out vt sep to fit sb/sthg out [ship, person] to provide sb/sthg with all the equipment or things that they need □ They were fitted out with new clothes.

◆ fit together ◇ vt sep to fit sthg together to join various pieces together to make sthg □ How do you fit this bed together? ◇ vi it all fits together everything is clear and makes sense.

fitful ['fɪtfl] adj fitful sleep sleep that is interrupted and not continuous □ Finally, Karen fell into a fitful sleep.

fitment ['fɪtmənt] n GB a piece of furniture, especially a cabinet, that is designed to fit in a particular place.

fitness ['fɪtnəs] n [of an athlete, candidate, phrase] see fit □ a health and fitness club.

fitted ['fɪtəd] adj -1. to be fitted for sthg [for a job, environment] to be suited to sthg. -2. [skirt, suit, jacket] that is cut in order to fit somebody exactly. -3. GB [cupboard, wardrobe] that is designed for a particular space and fixed in place □ fitted shelves.

fitted carpet n GB a carpet that is cut to cover the floor of a room exactly and is fixed in place.

fitted kitchen n GB a kitchen in which the cupboards are fixed in place and match each other.

fitted sheet n a sheet that is made with elasticated corners to fit a mattress tightly.

fitter ['fɪtə] n GB a person whose job is to install or put particular machinery or equipment together for use □ a shop/carpet-fitter.

fitting ['fɪtɪŋ] ◇ adj [end, tribute] right and suitable (formal use) □ It is fitting that such a great musician should be remembered in this way. ◇ n -1. [on a machine] a small part attached to a piece of equipment or furniture □ a light fitting. -2. [with a tailor] an appointment that somebody arranges with a tailor so that they can be measured for new clothes □ She's gone for a fitting for her wedding dress.

◆ fittings npl GB the parts in a building that are fixed in place but that can be removed when people move out of it, e.g. radiators or shelves.

fitting room n a small room in a store where one can try on clothes before deciding whether to buy them.

Fitzgerald [fɪts'dʒerəld], F. Scott (1896–1940) a US novelist who described fashionable life in the 1920s. His best-known work is The Great Gatsby.

five [faɪv] ◇ n -1. the number 5 □ Two and three are five. ■ Meet me at five meet me at five o'clock. -2. the age of 5 years □ Most children start school at (the age of) five. -3. a person or object represented by the number 5 □ A great goal by City's number five... □ I'm waiting for a number five (bus). ◇ adj: I'll be back in five minutes. □ It weighs five kilos. □ a five-door car. ◇ pron: There are five (of them).

five-and-ten n a five-and-ten (cent store) a store that sells a large selection of inexpensive goods.

five-day week n a week in which one works five days, usually Monday through Friday □ We work a five-day week.

Five Nations n the Five Nations a political union of five Iroquois peoples.

fiver ['faɪvə] n (informal use) -1. US five dollars; a five-dollar bill. -2. GB five pounds; a five-pound bill.

five-star adj a five-star hotel/restaurant etc a hotel/restaurant etc of the highest quality.

fix [fɪks] ◇ vt -1. to fix sthg to sthg [sign, mirror] to attach sthg to sthg else so that it does not move □ The picture had been fixed to the wall with screws. -2. to fix sthg on sb/sthg [one's mind, attention, eyes] to concentrate sthg on sb/sthg □ Try to fix your attention on the job in hand. -3. [price, quota] to agree or decide <sthg>; [date, time] to arrange <sthg> for a future event □ We need to fix a pass mark for the test. □ Could you fix it for me to fly direct? -4. [car, photocopier] to repair <sthg>; [problem] to solve <sthg> □ Hasn't the computer been fixed yet? □ They sent somebody to fix the phone. □ I had a problem with my car, but it's been fixed. -5. [vote, trial, race] to arrange the result of <sthg>, often illegally, so that one gets the result one wants (informal use) □ Claims that the electoral results were fixed have been denied. -6. US [breakfast, dinner, cocktail] to prepare  □ Can I fix you a drink?

◇ n -1. to be in a fix to be in a difficult situation, especially one that is hard to get out of (informal use) □ How did you get yourself into such a fix? -2. [of a drug] an amount of an illegal drug that is taken (drugs slang).

◆ fix up vt sep -1. to fix sb up to arrange for sb to have something □ He kindly fixed me up with a bed for the night. -2. to fix sthg up [vacation, visit, meeting] to make all the arrangements for sthg to happen □ The conference organizer fixed up a tour of the city.

fixation [fɪk'seɪʃn] n an unhealthy or unreasonable interest in somebody or something □ He's got a real fixation about her.

fixed [fɪkst] adj -1. [sign, mirror] that stays permanently in one position and cannot be moved □ There was a bulletin board fixed above the desk. -2. [charge, price] that is always the same; [idea, belief] that never changes, even if it is wrong or unreasonable □ a fixed-price meal □ a fixed-rate mortgage □ Lawyers tend to have fixed ideas about what their clients want. -3. [smile] that lasts longer than normal and seems insincere; [stare, glare] that lasts a long time □ He had a fixed expression on his face.

fixed assets npl property that is owned and used by a company but cannot be sold, e.g. buildings and machinery.

fixed costs npl costs involved in running a business that do not change.

fixture ['fɪkstʃə] n -1. [in a building] an object in a building, e.g. a light switch or sink, that is not removed when people move out. -2. [in a place] a person or thing that is always in a particular place □ Bob's photography equipment has become a permanent fixture in the bathroom. -3. SPORT a regular event that is arranged for a particular date.

fizz [fɪz] ◇ vi -1. [lemonade, champagne] to produce a lot of small bubbles. -2. [firework] to give off a lot of small sparks. ◇ n the bubbles in a drink that make a sound.

fizzle ['fɪzl] ◆ fizzle out vi [fire, firework] to stop burning gradually so that no more noise is made; [interest, enthusiasm, fun] to become less strong or intense; [party] to be-

- come less lively □ Interest in the case slowly fizzled out over the following weeks.
- fizzy ['fɪzɪ] (compar fizzier, superl fizziest) adj [drink] that has a lot of small bubbles in it □ fizzy mineral water.
- fjord [fɪ'ɔ:ɹd] n a part of a coast, especially in Norway, where there is a steep cliff on both sides of a narrow area of sea.
- FL abbr of Florida.
- flab [flæb] n unwanted fat on a person's body □ I'm desperate to get rid of some of this flab.
- flabbergasted [US 'flæbrgæstəd, GB 'flæbgə:stəd] adj to be flabbergasted to be very surprised and not know what to say or do (informal use) □ I was flabbergasted when I heard they were getting married.
- flabby ['flæbɪ] (compar flabbier, superl flabbiest) adj [person, stomach] that has flab □ It's easy to get flabby if you don't take regular exercise.
- flaccid ['flæsɪd] adj [part of the body] that is soft when it should be hard and firm □ flaccid muscles.
- flag [flæg] (pt & pp flagged, cont flagging) ◇ n a piece of cloth attached to a pole that usually has a printed design or symbol to indicate a particular country, organization etc □ the Japanese flag. ◇ vi [person] to start to become tired, usually after a long time; [interest, enthusiasm, conversation] to become less lively □ After the tour of the city, everybody was starting to flag. □ Games are useful if the party starts to flag.
- ◆ flag down vt sep to flag sb/sthg down [driver, car, taxi] to ask sb/sthg to stop by waving one's arm at them □ Try flagging down a passing motorist.
- ◆ flag up vt sep to flag sthg up [problem, difficulty] to draw attention to sthg.
- Flag Day n in the USA, the day (June 14) when people display the US flag.
- flag of convenience n the flag of a country used by a foreign ship that has registered there to avoid the regulations of its own country.
- flagon ['flægən] n -1. [for wine, cider] a large bottle in which a drink is sold □ a flagon of cider. -2. [for beer, wine] a kind of jug in which a drink is served.
- flagpole ['flæppəʊl] n a pole that a flag is attached to, and that allows the flag to be raised and lowered.
- flagrant ['fleɪgrənt] adj [violation, lie, injustice] that is very shocking because it is done in an open and obvious way and shows no shame □ The country shows a flagrant disregard of human rights.
- flagship ['flæɡʃɪp] n -1. [of a company] the most important product, branch etc of a company, that is intended to present a good image □ a flagship hotel. -2. [of a fleet] the most important ship in a fleet.
- flagstone ['flægstəʊn] n a large flat stone used for paving.
- flail [fleɪl] ◇ vt [arms, legs] to swing <sthg> wildly in the air □ He flailed his arms around like a windmill. ◇ vi [arms, legs] The animal was caught, its legs flailing wildly.
- flair [fleə] n -1. a natural ability to do something well or in an interesting or imaginative way □ Ann has a great flair for languages. -2. a sense of style □ His dinner parties always have such flair.
- flak [flæk] n -1. strong criticism, especially from a lot of people □ Yes, but if something goes wrong, I'll be the one to take the flak. -2. MILITARY gunfire aimed at aircraft.
- flake [fleɪk] ◇ n [of snow, paint, skin] a small flat piece of something □ The cake was covered with flakes of chocolate. ◇ vi [skin, paint, plaster] to come off in flakes.
- ◆ flake out vi [person] to fall asleep or collapse because one is very tired (informal use) □ When I got home afterward I just flaked out.
- flaky ['fleɪkɪ] (compar flakier, superl flakiest) adj -1. [skin, paint, plaster] that comes off in flakes. -2. US [person] who behaves in a way that one thinks is strange but amusing (informal use).
- flaky pastry n a type of pastry that has several thin layers.
- flambé [US flɒm'beɪ, GB 'flɒmbeɪ] (pt & pp flam-béed, cont flam-béing) ◇ vt [steak, crepe] to cook or serve <sthg> in burning brandy, rum etc. ◇ adj [steak, crepe] that has been flambéed.
- flamboyant [flæm'bɔɪənt] adj -1. [person, behavior] that appears confident, interesting, and unusual and attracts the attention of other people □ Humphrey is a flamboyant presence in the gray world of banking. □ She tends to dress in a rather flamboyant way. -2. [clothes, design, building] that has unusual exaggerated features that attract attention □ the flamboyant designs of Philippe Stark.
- flame [fleɪm] ◇ n the bright, orange-yellow, moving mass of burning gas produced by a fire □ Flames were coming from the second floor. ■ to burst into flames to start burning suddenly and very strongly □ The car went over the edge and burst into flames. ■ to go up in flames [building] to be destroyed by fire □ The whole building just went up in flames. ■ to be in flames [building] to be on fire □ After the bombing, half the city was in flames. ◇ vi -1. [gas, fire] to suddenly start burning brightly. -2. [cheeks, face] to be red or suddenly turn red.
- flameproof ['fleɪmpru:f] adj [dish, material] that is not easily damaged by flames.
- flame-retardant [-rɪtə:'dnt] adj [foam, material] that has been treated with a special chemical so that it does not burn easily or quickly.
- flame-thrower [-θrəʊə] n a kind of gun that shoots out streams of burning liquid.
- flaming ['fleɪmɪŋ] adj -1. flaming red a very bright red □ She has flaming red hair. -2. a flaming argument/temper a very angry argument/very bad temper □ I walked in when they were in the middle of a flaming row.
- flamingo [flə'mɪŋɡəʊ] (pl flamingos OR flamingoes) n a large bird that lives near water and has pink feathers, long very thin legs, and a curved beak.

flammable ['flæməbl] adj [liquid, material, gas] that starts to burn easily.

flan [flæn] n -1. US a baked dessert made of milk, eggs, and sugar. -2. GB an open tart that is made from pastry or cake □ a strawberry flan.

Flanders [US 'flændrɪz, GB 'flɑːndəz] a region of mainly flat land that covers parts of southwestern Netherlands, Belgium, and northeastern France.

flange [flændʒ] n the raised edge of an object, e.g. a train wheel, that holds it firmly onto something else, e.g. a track.

flank [flæŋk] ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal] the side of a person or animal between the hip and the ribs □ Laura patted her pony on his flanks. -2. MILITARY the side of an army in battle □ The army's left flank was exposed. ◇ vt to be flanked by sb/sthg to have sb/sthg on both sides □ We found ourselves flanked by hundreds of tourists.

flannel ['flænl] n -1. [for a suit] a kind of soft woolen material □ a gray flannel suit. -2. GB [for one's face] a cloth used for washing one's body and face with.

◆ flannels npl flannel trousers worn by men □ a pair of flannels.

flannelette [flæn'let] n a kind of soft cotton cloth □ flannelette sheets.

flap [flæp] (vt & pp flapped, cont flapping) ◇ n -1. [of skin, cloth, paper] a loose piece of something thin that is attached along one edge and hangs down or sticks out □ The wing flaps are raised to slow down the aircraft. -2. to be in a flap to be in a state of confusion and panic (informal use) □ It's not worth getting in a flap about. ◇ vt [wing, arm] to move <sthg> up and down or from side to side, usually making a noise □ "Like this," he said, flapping his arms like a bird. ◇ vi -1. [wing, flag, curtain] The sails flapped in the breeze. -2. [person] to panic (informal use).

flapjack ['flæpdʒæk] n -1. US a pancake. -2. GB a cookie made with oats.

flare [fleə] ◇ vi -1. to flare (up) [violence, anger, temper] to suddenly start or become more intense □ Fighting has flared up in the capital again. -2. to flare (up) [fire, flames] to suddenly start burning more strongly □ The fire flared up in the breeze. -3. [trousers, skirt] to become wider at the bottom. -4. [nostrils] to become wider. ◇ n a device that produces a bright flame and is used as a signal, especially when somebody is in danger.

◆ flares npl trousers that are flared at the bottom □ He was wearing flares.

flared [fleəd] adj [trousers, skirt] that is designed so that it is wider at the bottom than higher up.

flash [flæʃ] ◇ n -1. [of light, lightning] a sudden bright light that lasts only for a short time; [of color] a small area of color that is very noticeable □ There was a flash and then everything went dark. □ All we saw of the rabbit was a flash of its white tail. -2. PHOTOGRAPHY a device that produces a flash of light and is used when a place is too dark to take a photograph in □ 'Flashes are forbidden.' □ flash photography. -3. [of inspiration, anger] a sudden and unexpected thought or feeling □ Colin suddenly had a flash of genius. ■ in a flash very suddenly and quickly □ It was all over in a flash. ■ quick as a flash immediately □ The answer came back quick as a flash.

◇ vt -1. [light, flashlight] to make flashes with <sthg> □ The other car flashed its lights at me. -2. [smile, look, glance] to send <sthg> quickly and for a short time in a particular direction □ She flashed a smile at the waiting journalists. -3. [information, picture] to show <sthg> on a screen for a short time □ The results were flashed up on the monitor. -4. [passport, ticket, identity card] to show <sthg> quickly to somebody □ He flashed his pass at the driver.

◇ vi -1. [light, lightning, camera] to produce flashes of light □ When the green light flashes it means the machine is ready. -2. [eyes] to suddenly show a strong emotion, usually anger □ "Get out!" he said, his eyes flashing angrily. -3. to flash by/past etc [train, car] to move by/past etc almost too quickly to be seen □ The President's car flashed by and was gone. -4. to flash into OR through one's mind [idea, thought, image] to suddenly come into one's mind for a short time. -5. [picture, image, face] to appear somewhere for a short time □ The results flashed up on the screen.

flashback ['flæʃbæk] n a scene in a movie, book etc that shows or describes an earlier event □ There are frequent flashbacks to the hero's childhood □ Most of the story was shown in flashback.

flashbulb ['flæʃbʌlb] n a light attached to a camera that flashes to give extra light for taking photographs.

flashcube ['flæʃkjʊːb] n four flashbulbs in a small cube used to take four photographs.

flasher ['flæʃə] n a man who deliberately shows his penis to strangers in public (informal use).

flash flood n a sudden and often very large flood.

Flash Gordon [,flæʃ'gɔːrdn] a science fiction cartoon character in the 1930s. He fights many battles in space to save the world from evil characters.

flashgun ['flæʃgʌn] n a device attached to a camera that automatically switches on a flashbulb when a photograph is taken.

flashlight ['flæʃlaɪt] n a small electric light that one can carry in one's hand and works with a battery.

flash point n -1. [in a city] a place where violence is likely to start and from where it can spread. -2. [during a disturbance] the moment when people become violent, especially after a time of tension or disagreement.

flashy ['flæʃi] (compar flashier, superl flashiest) adj [car, clothes, person] that looks expensive and fashionable, especially in an obvious or exaggerated way (informal use) □ He's a very flashy dresser!

flask [US flæsk, GB flɑːsk] n -1. CHEMISTRY a glass bottle with a narrow neck that is used in a laboratory. -2. [for whiskey, rum] a flat metal bottle that is used for keeping alcohol in and is designed to be carried in a pocket. -3. GB [for tea, coffee] a container with a double wall that keeps drinks either hot or cold.

flat [flæt] (compar flatter, superl flattest) adj -1. [surface, ground, stomach] that is smooth and level rather than curved, rounded, bumpy, or sloping □ Until then, people thought the earth was flat. □ a calm, flat sea. ■ to have flat feet to have feet that rest flat on the ground because the arches are too low. -2. a flat fare/rate etc a fare/rate etc that is the same for everybody □ Banks charge a flat fee of 2% on all transactions. -3. [voice, performance, style] that is not exciting or interesting □ He read the poem in a dull, flat voice. -4. [rejection, denial] that is definite and unlikely to be changed □ Their requests were met with a flat refusal. -5. BUSINESS [sales, business, trade] that shows little activity □ Despite generally flat passenger revenue, business is good. -6. [battery] that has lost its power □ The battery keeps going flat. -7. [tire] that does not have enough air in it, e.g. because of a puncture □ I got a flat tire on the way home. -8. [music, note] that is slightly lower than the correct note; [singer, instrument] that produces flat notes by mistake; that is a half step lower than the stated note □ a waltz in E flat. -9. [beer, cola] that is no longer fizzy □ The beer had gone flat overnight. -10. [shoe] that has a low heel or no heel; [heel] that is low.

◇ adv -1. [press, roll, iron] so as to be level or smooth; [lie, place] so as to be in a horizontal position □ The can was squashed flat by the traffic. □ He fell flat on his back. -2. a word used to emphasize how fast something happens or is done □ They did it in five minutes flat. -3. a word used to emphasize that a refusal, rejection, denial etc is definite and unlikely to be changed □ They turned me down flat. -4. to be flat broke to have no money at all (informal use). -5. MUSIC [sing, play, sound] slightly lower than is correct.

◇ n -1. MUSIC a symbol (b) used to show a note should be sung or played a half-step lower; a note of this type. -2. GB a home that consists of several rooms that are part of a larger building □ a two-bedroomed flat.

◆ flat out adv [work, drive, run] as fast as possible (informal use) □ We'll have to go flat out to make that deadline.

flat cap n GB a cloth cap with a stiff part at the front that is usually worn by men.

flat-chested [-'tʃestəd] adj [woman] who has small breasts.

flatfish ['flætʃɪʃ] (pl flatfish) n a fish with a flat body, e.g. a sole or flounder.

flat-footed [-'fʊtəd] adj [person] who has flat feet.

flatlet ['flætlet] n GB a small apartment.

flatly ['flætli] adv -1. [refuse, deny, reject] definately and in a way that suggests one will not change one's mind □ He flatly refused to talk to me. -2. [speak, write, perform] in a way that shows little emotion.

flatmate ['flætmeɪt] n GB a person one shares an apartment with.

flat racing n a type of horseracing in which the horses do not jump over fences.

flatten ['flætn] vt -1. [paper, crease, bump] to make <sthg> flat or flatter, especially by pressing it □ John flattened himself against the wall. -2. [building, city, tree] to destroy <sthg> □ Many houses have been completely flattened by the earthquake. -3. [opponent, attacker] to beat <sb> in a fight (informal use) □ Miami flattened Detroit in the play-off last night.

◆ flatten out ◇ vt sep to flatten sthg out [paper, crease, bump] to make sthg flatter. ◇ vi [land, countryside, graph] to become flat or flatter □ The road flattened out a little and the cyclists started to relax.

flatter ['flætə] vt -1. [person] to praise <sb> in order to please them, usually because one wants something from them in return □ Stop trying to flatter me! ■ to flatter oneself to take pride in something one has done, sometimes mistakenly □ We flatter ourselves (that) we provide the best service available. □ Don't flatter yourself, I wasn't talking about you. -2. [clothes, color] to make <sb> appear more attractive □ That dress really flatters you.

flatterer ['flætərə] n a person who flatters somebody □ Oh, you're such a flatterer!

flattering ['flætərɪŋ] adj -1. [interest, concern, comment] that makes somebody feel happier and more confident about themselves □ I found the attention of a younger man very flattering. -2. [dress, color, picture] that makes somebody appear more attractive □ Harsh studio lights are never very flattering.

flattery ['flætəri] n flattering remarks or behavior □ Flattery will get you nowhere!

flatulence ['flætʃələns] n too much gas in one's body that comes out of one's mouth or anus, sometimes in a noisy way.

flatware ['flætweə] n US a collective term for knives, forks, and spoons.

flaunt [flɔːnt] vt [money, success] to show <sthg that one has> openly to other people in order to impress them (disapproving use) □ I could never flaunt my body like that in public.

flautist ['flɔːtɪst] n GB = flutist.

flavor US, flavour GB ['fleɪvə] ◇ n -1. [of food, drink] the taste that a drink or kind of food has □ If you cook vegetables too much they lose their flavor. -2. [of a place] the particular atmosphere of music, an area, festival etc □ We had a walk around to get the flavor of the old town. ◇ vt [food, wine, sweets] to give <sthg> a particular taste by adding something to it □ The wine was flavored with cinnamon. □ fruit-flavored yoghurt.

flavoring US, flavouring GB ['fleɪvərɪŋ] n something added to food to improve the flavor □ 'No artificial flavorings.'

flaw [flɔː] n -1. [in a plan, argument, design] a mistake or weakness that prevents something from working properly □ There is just one flaw in his theory. -2. [in glass, material, a diamond] a mark or fault that spoils the appearance or quality of something; [in somebody's character, personality] an unpleasant or undesirable quality that a person with many good qualities has □ The jacket was reduced in price because there was a flaw in the sleeve. □ David has many flaws, but dishonesty is not one of them.

flawed [flɔ:d] adj [argument, glass, character] that has a flaw □ Richardson's analysis is fundamentally flawed.

flawless [ˈflɔ:ləs] adj [performance, skin] that is perfect and has no flaws □ Her technique was flawless.

flax [flæks] n a plant with a thick stem, oily seeds, and blue flowers; thread made from this plant that is used to make linen.

flay [fleɪ] vt to remove the skin from .

flea [fli:] n a small insect that lives on animals and people, eats their blood, and can jump very high □ Our dog has fleas again. ■ to send sb away with a flea in their ear to scold sb angrily and send them away (informal use).

flea market n a sale of old and used goods, especially ones that people like to collect.

fleck [fleɪk] ◇ n [of color, paint] a tiny mark or spot; [of dandruff, powder] a tiny piece; [of rain] a tiny drop □ Sandra brushed some flecks of face powder from her lapel. ◇ vt to be flecked with sthg to be covered with very small or thin amounts of sthg □ His hair was flecked with gray.

fled [fled] past tense & past participle of flee.

fledg(e)ling [ˈfledʒlɪŋ] ◇ adj [industry, democracy, movement] that has not existed for long and has not developed very much yet □ Paula remembered the days when she had been a fledgling reporter. ◇ n a young bird that is learning to fly.

flee [fli:] (pt & pp fled) ◇ vt to escape from  very quickly because one feels afraid or threatened □ He was arrested just as he was about to flee the country. ◇ vi: The inhabitants had fled from the advancing troops.

fleece [fli:s] ◇ n the wool that covers a sheep; a material made from this, especially when it is used to line coats and jackets □ a fleeced-lined jacket. ◇ vt to take a lot of money from <sb> by deceiving them or charging them too much (informal use).

fleet [fli:t] n -1. [of ships] a group of ships that is put together and organized for a particular purpose, e.g. for war or business □ A fleet is heading for the Gulf even as we speak. -2. [of cars, buses] a group of motor vehicles that belongs to a single company □ We've added three new trucks to our fleet. □ a car fleet.

fleet admiral n the officer of the highest rank in the US navy.

fleeting [ˈfli:tɪŋ] adj [glimpse, visit, moment] that lasts for a very short time □ I caught only a fleeting glimpse of them as they passed by.

Fleet Street a street in central London where many newspapers used to be published.

♥ FLEET STREET

The area around Fleet Street, in the City of London, used to be where most national British newspapers had their offices. Today, most of these newspapers have moved to new locations, particularly in Docklands. However, the term "Fleet Street" is still used to mean the newspaper industry and the world of journalism.

Fleming [ˈflemɪŋ] n a person from Flanders, especially a Flemish-speaking Belgian.

Fleming [ˈflemɪŋ], Sir Alexander (1881–1955) a British scientist whose most famous discovery was the medical use of penicillin.

Flemish [ˈflemɪʃ] ◇ adj that belongs to or comes from Flanders. ◇ n a language closely related to Dutch, spoken in parts of Belgium and northeastern France.

flesh [fleʃ] n -1. [of an animal, person] the soft part of the body that covers the bones and is under the skin □ human flesh. ■ one's (own) flesh and blood somebody who is part of one's own family □ How can you do that to your own flesh and blood! ■ in the flesh in person □ That was the first time I'd seen him in the flesh. -2. [of a fruit, vegetable] the soft part of a vegetable or piece of fruit that can be eaten □ Her teeth sank into the peach's soft ripe flesh.

◆ flesh out vt sep to flesh sthg out [facts, argument, report] to add extra details and information to sthg □ Try fleshing your essay out with a few quotations.

flesh wound n a wound that does not damage the bones or the main organs of one's body.

fleshy [ˈfleʃi] (compar fleshier, superl fleshiest) adj [arm, cheek, fruit] that has a lot of soft flesh □ He was a big man, who looked fleshy and unfit.

flew [flu:] past tense of fly.

flex [fleks] ◇ n GB a cord consisting of electrical wires in a tube of plastic that carry electricity to an appliance □ Be careful you don't trip over the flex. ◇ vt [muscle, arm, leg] to stretch  by bending it, especially as a form of exercise □ He flexed his muscles before picking up the weight.

flexibility [ˌfleksəˈbɪləti] n: see flexible □ The new contracts offer us greater flexibility in planning.

flexible [ˈfleksəbəl] adj -1. [plan, hours, person] that can change easily to suit particular needs or circumstances □ We need to be flexible in our approach. -2. [wire, tree, body] that bends easily without breaking □ The light is on a flexible arm that is fully adjustable.

flexitime [ˈflekstam] US, flexitime [ˈfleksɪtəɪm] GB n a system that lets people start or finish work at different times, as long as they work the necessary number of hours □ Some of our employees work flexitime.

flick [flɪk] ◇ n -1. [of a whip] a single sudden movement made with a whip, towel etc □ He gave a sharp flick of the whip to the horse's rump. -2. [of one's fingers] a single sudden movement made with one's finger and thumb □ One flick and the paper pellet landed on the teacher's desk. ◇ vt -1. to hit <sthg> with a flick, usually to remove it □ She flicked the ash off her cigarette. □ The children were flicking pieces of paper at each other. -2. [tail, whip, towel] to move <sthg> with a flick □ She flicked the cloth quickly over the floor. -3. [switch] to turn <sthg> on or off □ Just flick the switch and the ice cream is ready in ten minutes.

◆ flick through vt fus to flick through sthg [through a book, magazine] to turn the pages of sthg quickly, without reading it thoroughly or looking at it closely □ I've only had time to flick through it quickly.

flicker ['flɪkə] ◇ vi -1. [candle, flame, light] to burn or shine in a weak irregular way □ The candle flickered in the wind. -2. [shadow, eyelids] to make small irregular movements in different directions □ The image flickered on the screen. ◇ n -1. [of hope, interest] a short and not very strong sign of something □ Bill didn't show the slightest flicker of recognition when we met again. -2. [of a candle, flame, light] the act of flickering □ There was a brief flicker, and then the fire went out.

flick knife n GB a kind of knife that has a blade, kept inside the handle, that opens out when a button is pressed.

flier ['flaɪə] n an advertising leaflet that is given to people in the street.

flight [flaɪt] n -1. [in a plane] a trip by plane □ I made several flights to Johannesburg last year. -2. a regular service that takes people to a particular place by plane □ Air America flight 109 to Boston. ■ a flight of fancy OR of the imagination an imaginative idea, suggestion etc that is not very practical or realistic □ Not another of her flights of fancy! -3. a flight of steps/stairs a row of steps/stairs that joins two different levels. -4. [of a bird] the act of flying □ a bird in flight. -5. [from danger] the act of running away from danger, a threat etc □ criminals in flight from the law. ■ to take flight to run away or escape from something □ The birds took flight as soon as they saw me.

flight attendant n a person whose job is to take care of passengers during a flight.

flight crew n the people who work on an aircraft during a flight.

flight deck n -1. SHIPPING the part of a ship that is used by aircraft for landing and taking off. -2. AVIATION the part of a large aircraft where the pilot sits and operates the controls.

flight path n the route taken by an aircraft.

flight recorder n a device on an aircraft that records information about each flight.

flighty ['flaɪti] (compar flightier, superl flightiest) adj [person] who often changes their mind, partner, behavior etc and so is not reliable.

flimsy ['flɪmzi] (compar flimsier, superl flimsiest) adj -1. [excuse, evidence, argument] that is not convincing □ The defense only has a flimsy case. -2. [structure] that is weak or badly made □ The chalet looked too flimsy to resist the mountain storms. -3. [dress, material] that is thin, light, and gives little protection □ She wore a flimsy summer dress.

flinch [flɪntʃ] vi to move back suddenly as a result of pain, shock, or embarrassment □ Bill listened to the insults without flinching. ■ to flinch from sthg to try to avoid sthg unpleasant □ He didn't flinch from calling the police.

fling [flɪŋ] (pt & pp flung) ◇ n a sexual relationship that is not serious and lasts a short time □ She had a fling with Marcus last year. ◇ vt [garbage, money, stone] to throw <sb/sthg> somewhere in a careless or violent way □ He flung himself into an armchair. □ She flung her arms around his neck.

flint [flɪnt] n -1. a hard gray stone that has very sharp edges when it breaks and makes sparks when it is hit with something □ a piece of flint. -2. the part of a cigarette lighter that produces sparks □ All it needs is a new flint.

flip [flɪp] (pt & pp flipped, cont flipping) ◇ vt -1. [page, pancake, mattress] to turn <sthg/sb> over quickly □ She flipped open the book. ■ to flip through sthg to read sthg very quickly and not in detail □ Mr Holland flipped through the report quickly before the meeting. -2. [switch, headlights] to turn <sthg> on or off □ He flipped on/off the radio. -3. to flip a coin to send a coin into the air with one's fingers so that it spins, usually to see which side faces up when it lands in order to decide something. ◇ vi to become very angry or excited suddenly (informal use) □ When Colin heard about it, he just flipped.

◇ n -1. the flip of a coin the act of flipping a coin to decide something □ Are you saying that this whole decision was based on the flip of a coin? -2. GYMNASTICS the act of spinning one's body in the air. -3. at the flip of a switch by turning a switch on □ I can control the whole thing at the flip of a switch.

flipchart ['flɪptʃɑ:t] n large sheets of paper held together on a stand, used for writing on during presentations, meetings etc.

flip-flop n a light shoe made of soft rubber that is held in place by a strap between one's toes.

flippant ['flɪpənt] adj [remark, reply, person] that is not serious and shows no concern about a serious matter, usually deliberately □ This is no time for being flippant.

flippantly ['flɪpəntli] adv [remark, reply] see flippant.

flipper ['flɪpə] n -1. [of a seal, dolphin] one of the flat limbs of an animal that help it swim underwater. -2. [for swimming] a long flat rubber shoe that makes it easier to swim and dive underwater □ a pair of flippers.

flip side n the side of a record that does not have the main song on it.

flirt [flɜ:t] ◇ vi -1. to behave toward or speak to somebody in a way that suggests one is sexually attracted to them, often not in a very serious way □ She flirts with every man she meets! -2. to flirt with sthg [with an idea, possibility] to think about sthg as a possibility rather than as a serious plan □ I'm flirting with the idea of a career change. ◇ n a person who flirts with other people □ He's such a flirt!

flirtation [flɜːr'teɪʃn] n -1. a flirtation with sthg an interest or involvement in sthg that lasts for a short time □ After a brief flirtation with politics, he went into business. -2. [with a man, woman] a short romantic or sexual relationship □ They had a brief flirtation, nothing serious.

flirtatious [flɜːr'teɪʃəs] adj [person] who likes to flirt with people □ After several glasses of champagne, Eve was in a flirtatious mood.

flit [flɪt] (pt & pp flitted, cont flitting) vi [bat, bird] to fly with short sudden movements □ A butterfly flitted past.

float [flaʊt] ◇ vi -1. [boat, cork, swimmer] to stay on or near the surface of a liquid □ The pond was full of leaves floating on the surface. -2. [sound, smell, balloon] to be carried through the air □ Her perfume floated across the room to me.

◇ vt -1. [boat, timber] They floated the logs downstream. -2. FINANCE to offer <shares in a company> for sale on the stock exchange for the first time. -3. [idea, project] to suggest <sthg> in order to find out what other people think of it □ Plenty of names have been floated for the new job.

◇ n -1. [for fishing] a piece of cork or light material used to hold up a fishing hook or fishing net; [for swimming] a piece of light material used to help people float in water. -2. [in a parade] a large vehicle specially decorated for a street parade or procession. -3. GB money given to somebody to use for expenses, or as change to give to customers.

floating ['flaʊtɪŋ] adj -1. [population] that is not permanently settled in a particular place. -2. [restaurant, hotel] that is built on a boat.

floating voter n GB a person who has not yet decided who to vote for in an election.

flock [flɒk] ◇ n -1. [of sheep, birds] a group of birds or sheep □ The shepherd rounded up his flock. -2. [of people] a large crowd of people. ◇ vi to flock to a place [people] to go to a place in large numbers over a period of time, usually because of something exciting or interesting □ Everybody is flocking to the new Thai restaurant.

flog [flɒg] (pt & pp flogged, cont flogging) vt -1. to beat  with a whip or stick □ He was flogged to death. -2. GB to sell <sthg> quickly (informal use).

flood [flʌd] ◇ n -1. a large amount of water that suddenly spreads over the ground or in a building □ Floods in the north are making roads impassable. -2. [of people, letters] a large number of people, letters etc that all arrive at a particular place at the same time □ They've received floods of complaints. ■ to be in floods of tears to be crying a lot □ When she heard the news, Denise broke down in floods of tears.

◇ vt -1. [street, valley, bathroom] to fill or cover <sthg> with a large amount of water □ The rains flooded the whole area. -2. [country, city, streets] to arrive in  in large numbers at the same time □ Eastern Germany has been flooded with cheap consumer goods. ■ to be flooded with letters/complaints [person, office] to receive very many letters/complaints □ Viewers flooded the channel with complaints after the show. ■ to flood the market [goods, products] to fill the whole market for a particular product □ The market is flooded with cheap imports. -3. to be flooded in light [room, valley] to be filled with light □ The stage was flooded in bright green light. -4. AUTO to flood the engine to cause too much gasoline to enter an engine, usually when one is trying to start a vehicle.

◇ vi -1. [river, bath, drain] to become filled with so much water that some of it escapes over a wide area □ Her eyes flooded with tears. -2. [street, valley, bathroom] The house flooded during the storm. -3. [people, letters, complaints] to arrive in large numbers □ Applications flooded in after our advert. -4. to come flooding back [memories, emotions] to return suddenly and be experienced intensely □ The horror of it all came flooding back.

floodgates ['flʌdʒeɪts] npl to open the floodgates to make it possible for something to happen for the first time in a way that is difficult to control □ The new bill could open the floodgates to thousands of requests for compensation.

flooding ['flʌdɪŋ] n a situation where a street, field etc becomes covered in water from a river or heavy rain □ Flooding has caused serious damage to crops.

floodlight ['flʌdlaɪt] n a very bright light used outside at night to light up e.g. public buildings or sports events.

floodlit ['flʌdli:t] adj [sports ground, match, building] that is lit by floodlights □ a floodlit baseball game.

flood tide n a rising tide.

floor [flɔːr] ◇ n -1. [in a room] the horizontal surface that people walk on in a room □ Don't leave your clothes lying on the floor. □ a floor tile. -2. [of a valley, the sea] the bottom part of a place like a valley, forest, or sea □ animals that live on the forest floor. -3. [of a building] one of the levels on which the rooms of a building are arranged □ My office is on the seventh floor. -4. [at a conference] the place where people stand when they make a speech at a debate or meeting □ Mrs Darcy stood up to take the floor. -5. [for dancing] the area of a club, restaurant etc where people can dance □ By 12 o'clock there were still only a few people on the floor. -6. FINANCE the place at a stock exchange where stocks and shares are bought and sold □ The fall of the dollar created panic on the floor.

◇ vt (informal use) -1. [opponent, attacker], to make <sb> fall down by hitting them hard □ He flooded him with a punch to his jaw. -2. [interviewee, speaker, expert] to cause <sb> to be so confused, surprised etc that they are unable to say anything □ His question completely floored me.

floorboard ['flɔːbɔːrd] n a long flat piece of wood that forms part of the floor in a room floor cloth n GB a piece of material used for cleaning floors.
□ We had to take up the floorboards to put in central heating.

flooring ['flɔːrɪŋ] n material used for making floors □ vinyl flooring.

floor lamp n US a kind of tall lamp that stands on the floor of a room.

floor show n a performance or series of performances given by singers, dancers etc at a nightclub.

floorwalker ['flɔːrwɔːkə] n a supervisor in a department store.

flop [flɒp] (pt & pp flopped, cont flopping) ◇ n a failure (informal use) □ The new Hardenberger movie was a complete flop in the States. ◇ vi -1. [movie, play, plan] to be unsuccessful □ If the show doesn't flop in the first week, we'll be OK. -2. [person, hair] to fall down as if one has no support □ She flopped down exhausted on the sofa.

floppy ['flɒpi] (compar floppier, superl floppiest) adj [hair, hat] that is soft and hangs loosely □ a dog with long floppy ears.

floppy (disk) n a thin, flat, square object that holds information for use on a computer, and that is inserted into the computer when it is being used.

NOTE: Compare hard disk.

flora ['flɔːrə] n a collective term for all the plants found in a particular place □ flora and fauna □ the flora of the Greek islands.

floral ['flɔːrəl] adj -1. [arrangement, decoration] that consists of flowers □ a floral bouquet. -2. [pattern, dress] that has a design of flowers □ It was printed with a floral design.

Florence ['flɒrəns] a city in central Italy, famous for its paintings, churches, and palaces. POPULATION: 402,316.

Florentine [US 'flɒrəntiːn, GB -tɪn] ◇ n a person who comes from or lives in Florence. ◇ adj: Florentine architecture.

floret ['flɒrət] n a small piece of a vegetable such as a cauliflower.

florid ['flɒrɪd] adj -1. [style, language] complicated and elaborate □ His speech was somewhat florid. -2. [complexion, face] red □ a little old man with florid cheeks.

Florida ['flɒrɪdə] a state in the southeastern USA, between the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico. ABBREVIATION: FL. SIZE: 151,670 sq kms. POPULATION: 12,937,926 (Floridans, Floridians). CAPITAL: Tallahassee. MAJOR CITIES: Miami, Orlando.

florist ['flɒrɪst] n a person who sells flowers in a store. ■ a florist's the store where a florist works □ I'll order a bouquet from the florist's.

floss [flɒs] ◇ vt to clean <one's teeth> with dental floss. ◇ vi: Remember to floss after meals.

flotation [flou'teɪʃn] n FINANCE the sale of shares in a company to the public for the first time.

flotilla [flou'tɪlə] n a group of small ships, often warships.

flotsam ['flɒtsəm] n flotsam and jetsam [on a beach] broken pieces of wood, plastic etc from the ocean that are left on the seashore; [in society] people who do not have homes or jobs and have lost control of their lives.

flounce [flaʊns] ◇ n SEWING a piece of material sewn onto something such as a dress for decoration. ◇ vi to move in an exaggerated way that shows anger □ She flounced angrily out of the room.

flounder ['flaʊndə] (pl flounder OR flounders) ◇ n a kind of flat fish. ◇ vi -1. [person] to make large uncontrolled movements to try to avoid sinking in water, mud etc □ I could see a small figure floundering in the snow. -2. [person] to lose control and feel less confident □ As the questions got more difficult, he began to flounder.

flour ['flaʊə] n a white or brown powder made from wheat that is used to make bread, cakes etc □ You'll need to add some flour to the mixture.

flourish [US 'flɔːrɪʃ, GB 'flaː-] ◇ vi -1. [plant, garden, child] to grow in a healthy pleasing way □ My tomatoes are flourishing since I moved them. -2. [company, market, activity] to be successful or strong □ areas where violent crime flourishes. ◇ vt [letter, document] to wave <sthg> so that people notice it □ Diane flourished her first check proudly under his nose. ◇ n an exaggerated confident movement □ He signed the contract with a flourish.

flourishing [US 'flɔːrɪʃɪŋ, GB 'flaː-] adj [company, market, activity] successful □ We also own a flourishing textile business in the south.

flout [flaʊt] vt [law, rule, order] to do something that breaks <sthg> deliberately and openly.

flow [fləʊ] ◇ n -1. [of water, air, a river] the continuous movement of a liquid or gas □ The condition affects the flow of blood around the body. -2. [of traffic, people] a steady movement forward; [of information, work, funds] a regular supply; [of words, ideas] a steady production □ Measures have been introduced to ensure the flow of information between the two institutes.

◇ vi -1. [liquid, electric current, air] to move in a continuous stream □ The river flows through the center of the city. -2. [traffic, people] to move steadily without any obstructions; [words, ideas] to occur one after the other in a steady stream □ Traffic is flowing freely in both directions. □ One day flowed into another. -3. [hair, clothes] to hang loosely in an attractive way □ The dress flows beautifully around your ankles. -4. to flow from sthg to be the result of sthg □ A better understanding of the problem should flow from this experience.

flowchart ['flaʊtʃɑːt], flow diagram n a diagram that shows how the individual steps in a process work together.

flower ['flaʊə] ◇ n -1. [of a plant] the part of a plant that produces seeds or fruit, only lives for a short time, and often has a bright color or colors and a pleasant smell □ the flowers of the tomato plant □ We picked flowers in the garden. ■ to be in flower [tree, plant] to have flowers on it. -2. [in a pot] a plant that is grown for its flowers; [in a vase] a stem of such a plant that has been cut and has one or more flowers on it □ a bunch of flowers □ a flower arrangement. ◇ vi -1. [plant] to produce flowers □ a late-flowering variety. -2. [person, art, genius] to reach a mature stage of development □ This style of painting flowered in the 15th century.

flowerbed ['flaʊəbed] n an area of soil in a garden or park where flowers are planted and grown.

flowered ['flaʊəd] adj [material, wallpaper] that has a pattern of flowers.

flowering ['flaʊəriŋ] ◇ adj [plant, tree] that produces flowers. ◇ n [of talent, an artistic movement] the period in which something starts to develop and grow in a pleasing and impressive way.

flowerpot ['flaʊəpɒt] n a container in which plants are grown.

flowery ['flaʊəri] (compar flowerier, superl floweriest) adj -1. [dress, material, wallpaper] that has a pattern of flowers □ I think a flowery pattern would be nice for the drapes. -2. [language, style] that uses long descriptive words (disapproving use) □ Does it have to be so flowery? -3. [perfume, scent] that smells like flowers.

flowing ['flaʊɪŋ] adj [movement, gesture] loose and free; [hair, clothes] that is loose, elegant, and able to move freely; [writing, style] that flows in a pleasant way □ She wore a long, flowing, silk dress □ beautiful, flowing prose.

flown [flaʊn] past participle of fly.

fl oz abbr of fluid ounce.

flu [flu:] n to have flu GB OR the flu to have a common infectious illness like a cold but more serious, in which one feels very weak □ I think I must have the flu. □ a flu epidemic.

fluctuate ['flʌktʃueɪt] vi [price, number, value] to go up and down in an unpredictable way □ The temperature doesn't fluctuate much in winter.

fluctuation [flʌktʃu'eɪʃn] n see fluctuate □ There has been a lot of fluctuation in the exchange rate.

flue [flu:] n a chimney of a factory, boiler etc □ a chimney flue.

fluency ['flu:ənsɪ] n: see fluent □ Fluency in two foreign languages is required. □ Reading fluency is a priority at this school.

fluent ['flu:ənt] adj -1. [person] who is able to speak a language without hesitating too much or making too many mistakes □ He's a fluent Japanese speaker. □ She's fluent in French and English. □ He speaks fluent Spanish. -2. [style, writing] that flows in a pleasant way □ clear, fluent written style.

fluently ['flu:əntli] adv [speak, write] see fluent □ My little boy can read French fluently.

fluff [flʌf] ◇ n -1. the soft warm material that covers the bodies of young birds and animals □ baby chicks covered with fluff. -2. the light and soft material made up of very small threads that collects in corners of a room, on people's clothes etc □ There's a piece of fluff on your jacket. ◇ vt -1. [cushion, hair] to shake or move <sthg soft> to get some air into it and make it appear larger □ The swan fluffed up its feathers. -2. [catch, opportunity] to do <sthg> badly (informal use) □ I really fluffed the interview.

fluffy ['flʌfi] (compar fluffier, superl fluffiest) adj [animal, fur, sweater] that is soft and is or seems to be covered with fluff □ a few fluffy white clouds.

fluid ['fluɪd] ◇ n a liquid □ brake/cleaning fluid □ body fluids. ◇ adj -1. [style, movement, technique] that can flow easily from one part to another □ With one fluid movement she circled and skated back. -2. [situation] that tends to change easily or unexpectedly □ Things are still pretty fluid right now.

fluid ounce n a unit (28.4 ml) for measuring liquids.

fluke [flu:k] n something surprising or unlikely that happens by chance (informal use) □ It was a complete fluke that I found this place.

flummox ['flʌmɒks] vt to confuse <sb> so that they do not know what to say or think (informal use) □ I was completely flummoxed.

flung [flʌŋ] past tense & past participle of fling.

flunk [flʌŋk] (informal use) ◇ vt -1. [exam, course, interview] to fail <sthg> □ She flunked math. -2. [student, candidate] to give <sb> a bad grade for an exam so that they fail □ They flunked Donald at the exam. ◇ vi [student] to fail in an exam or course □ I flunked again!

◆ flunk out vi to be ordered to leave a college because one's work is not good enough □ Miriam flunked out of Michigan State in her second year.

fluorescent [flu:'resnt] adj [color, clothing] that is very bright, reflects light, and can be seen very easily, even when there is little light.

fluorescent light n an electric light, usually in the form of a long tube, that gives a bright harsh light.

fluoride ['flu:əraɪd] n a chemical compound that is thought to strengthen the teeth and is sometimes added to toothpaste and water supplies.

fluorine ['flu:əri:n] n a poisonous yellow gas. SYMBOL: F.

flurry [US 'flɜ:ri, GB 'flʌri] (pl flurries) n -1. [of snow] a short heavy period of snow or rain. -2. [of activity] a sudden intense period of activity □ There was a flurry of excitement as the star's car pulled up.

flush [flʌʃ] ◇ n -1. [of a toilet] the mechanism in a toilet that sends water into the bowl and carries away waste material. -2. [of a person] a hot feeling accompanied by redness in one's face, often experienced when one is embarrassed □ a flush of embarrassment. -3. [of anger, excitement] a sudden strong feeling. ■ to be in the first flush of sthg to be in the first stage of sthg that is more intense than later stages (literary use) □ in the first flush of youth.

◇ vt to flush the toilet to make a toilet flush by using the flush mechanism. ■ to flush sth down the toilet to get rid of sth by putting it in the toilet and flushing it.

◇ vi -1. [toilet] to send a strong stream of water to carry away waste □ The toilet won't flush. -2. [person] to become red in the face with embarrassment □ He flushed at the mention of her name.

◇ adj -1. to be flush with sth [with a surface] to be at the same level as sth □ The washing machine fits flush with the sink unit. -2. to be flush [person] to have a lot of money or more money than usual (informal use) □ I'm feeling flush tonight!

◆ flush out vt sep to flush a person/an animal out to force a person/an animal to leave the place where they are hiding □ The hijackers were flushed out with tear gas.

flushed [flʌʃt] adj -1. [person, face] that is red because of embarrassment, physical activity etc □ You look a little flushed. -2. to be flushed with sth to be excited or happy because of sth □ They returned home, flushed with success.

fluster ['flʌstə] ◇ n a feeling of confusion and embarrassment caused by something outside one's control □ Try not to get into a fluster. ◇ vt to make <sb> feel confused and embarrassed □ They tried to fluster me by not giving me time to answer.

flustered ['flʌstəd] adj [person] who is confused or embarrassed and unable to concentrate □ He looked pretty flustered when I asked him to explain.

flute [flu:t] n MUSIC a musical instrument consisting of a metal or wooden tube with holes in it that is played by holding it so that it points to the side and blowing across a hole at one end □ She plays the flute.

fluted ['flu:təd] adj [column, glass] that has a pattern of vertical grooves cut into it.

flutist ['flu:tɪst] n US a person who plays the flute.

flutter ['flʌtə] ◇ n -1. [of wings] a small fast movement up and down □ I could hear the flutter of its wings. -2. [of one's heart, pulse] a quick irregular beat □ His heart gave a flutter when she walked in the room. -3. [of excitement] a sudden nervous and excited feeling (informal use) □ There was a brief flutter of excitement as the president took his seat.

◇ vt [wings, eyelashes] to move two parts of <sthg> rapidly up and down □ She fluttered her eyelashes coquettishly.

◇ vi -1. [bird, insect, wings] to move through the air with small quick movements □ A robin fluttered down to the grass. -2. [flag, clothes] to move gently in the wind □ The washing was fluttering in the wind. -3. [heart, pulse] to beat quickly and irregularly □ The sight of her made my heart flutter.

flux [flʌks] n to be in a state of flux [situation, market, prices] to be changing constantly □ Things at work are still in a state of flux.

fly [flaɪ] (pl flies, pt flew, pp flown) ◇ n -1. any small insect with two wings □ The kitchen was full of flies. ■ a fly in the ointment a person or thing that spoils a situation, occasion etc □ So, is he the only fly in the ointment? -2. [on one's trousers] the opening at the front of a pair of trousers where there is a zipper or set of buttons □ Hey, your fly's open.

◇ vi -1. [bird, insect, bat] to move through the air by moving its wings; [plane, helicopter] to travel through the air □ The geese are flying south for the winter. □ Holiday Air flies to Spain three times a week. -2. [pilot] to steer and control an aircraft in the air □ I learned to fly during the war. -3. [passenger] to travel by aircraft □ I prefer flying to traveling by train. -4. [person, vehicle, ball] to move somewhere very quickly □ She flew across the room. □ The door flew open. ■ I must fly I must leave immediately. -5. [time, event] to pass quickly □ My vacation just flew past. □ Doesn't time fly! -6. to fly at sb to attack sb physically or with words □ Is there any reason why she flew at you like that? -7. [flag] to be displayed □ If the flag is flying, it means the Queen's there.

◇ vt -1. [plane, helicopter, balloon] to make <sthg> move through the air □ I learnt how to fly a glider. -2. [passengers, goods] to carry <sb/sthg> somewhere in an aircraft □ Supplies were flown into the famine area. -3. to fly a flag to display a flag at the top of a pole.

◆ fly away vi [bird, insect] to leave a place by flying □ I tried to get closer but they flew away.

◆ fly in ◇ vt sep to fly sb/sthg in [supplies, troops] to bring sb/sthg to a place by aircraft □ Reinforcements were flown in from the mainland. ◇ vi [person] to arrive somewhere by aircraft □ She's flying in next week to visit us.

◆ fly into vt fus to fly into a rage OR temper to become angry very suddenly □ He suddenly flew into a rage and started shouting.

◆ fly out ◇ vt sep to fly sb/sthg out to take <sb/sthg> somewhere by aircraft. ◇ vi [person] to leave somewhere by aircraft □ They're flying out of La Guardia this morning. □ I'll fly out to join you next Monday.

flyby ['flaɪbaɪ] n a display performed by aircraft flying together, often in somebody's honor.

fly-fishing n the activity of fishing using an artificial fly as bait.

fly half n a position in rugby; a person who plays in this position.

flying ['flaɪɪŋ] ◇ adj [animal, insect] that can fly □ The air was thick with flying ants. ■ to take a flying leap OR jump to make a jump after running a short distance so that one passes further through the air □ He took a flying jump and landed in the water. ◇ n -1. the activity of traveling by aircraft □ I hate flying. -2. the activity or sport of flying an airplane □ Nick goes flying every weekend.

flying colors npl to pass with flying colors to do very well in an exam or test.

flying doctor n a doctor, especially in Australia, who has to visit patients by plane because they are spread over such a large area.

flying officer n a commissioned officer in the British Royal Air Force.

flying picket n a group of people belonging to a labor union who travel to a different place to persuade the workers there to go on strike.

flying saucer n a disk-shaped object thought to be a spaceship from another planet.

flying squad n GB a group of policemen who can get to the scene of a crime quickly.

flying start n to get off to a flying start to start something very well and successfully □ Well, we didn't exactly get off to a flying start, did we?

flying visit n a very short visit, especially one that somebody makes when they are traveling to another place □ I'm afraid this will have to be a flying visit.

flyleaf ['flaɪli:f] (pl flyleaves [-li:vz]) n a blank page at the beginning or end of a book □ The author's notes are on the flyleaf.

flyover ['flaɪoʊvə] n GB a road built high above other roads that allows traffic to avoid busy areas.

flypast [US 'flaɪpæst, GB -pɑ:st] n GB = flyby.

flysheets ['flaɪʃi:t] n the outer layer of a tent that stops rain from getting inside.

fly spray n a spray used to kill insects.

flyweight ['flaɪweɪt] n a boxer in the lightest official weight category.

flywheel ['flaɪwi:l] n a heavy wheel that keeps the speed of a machine constant.

FM n -1. (abbr of frequency modulation) a system of radio broadcasting that produces a very clear sound. -2. abbr of field marshal. NOTE: Compare AM.

FO n abbr of Foreign Office.

foal [foʊl] n a young horse.

foam [foʊm] ◇ n -1. a mass of small bubbles □ bath foam. -2. foam (rubber) a soft material filled with small air bubbles that is used in making mattresses, cushions etc □ a foam cushion. ◇ vi [water, champagne, beer] to produce foam □ The dog was foaming at the mouth.

foamy ['foʊmi] (compar foamier, superl foamiest) adj [sea, bathwater, drink] full of small bubbles □ I lay reading in a hot foamy bath.

fob [fɒb] (pt & pp fobbed, cont fobbing) ◆ fob off vt sep to fob sb off to tell sb something that is not true or useful in order to stop them complaining, asking questions etc □ When I went to complain, the manager just tried to fob me off. □ She tried to fob me off with some excuse. ■ to fob sthg off on sb to give or sell sb sthg that one no longer wants and that one knows is not useful to them □ I managed to fob that old sofa off on them.

FOB, fob (abbr of free on board) adv at a price that includes all the seller's costs up to the delivery of goods to a particular place □ The books are being shipped fob Chicago.

fob watch n a watch attached to a chain and kept in a pocket.

foc adv abbr of free of charge.

focal point n -1. [of a view, room] the part of something that attracts most attention □ The fireplace is the focal point of the room. -2. [of a report, study, somebody's life] the part of something that is most important □ What this essay really lacks is a focal point.

focus ['foukəs] (pl focuses OR foci [-sai], pt & pp focused OR focussed) ◇ n -1. [of a camera, telescope] the mechanism in a camera, telescope etc that makes the image clear and sharp. ■ to be out of/in focus [photograph] to be blurred/clear; [camera] to give a blurred/clear image □ The people in the foreground were out of focus. -2. PHYSICS the point where lines, rays of light, sound waves etc come together. -3. [of an argument] the most important part of an argument, discussion, campaign etc that attracts people's attention and interest □ They are trying to shift the focus of the debate. □ The focus is on quality rather than quantity. ■ the focus of attention the person or thing that everybody is watching, interested in, or concentrating on □ However, the main focus of attention was the new Fiat range. □ She loves to be the focus of attention.

◇ vt -1. [camera, telescope] to adjust <sthg> to produce a clear sharp image. ■ to focus sthg on sb/sthg [camera, eyes] to direct sthg toward sb/sthg □ All eyes were focused on the defendant as she took the witness stand. -2. to focus one's attention on sb/sthg to give all of one's attention to sb/sthg □ Try to focus your attention on what we're discussing.

◇ vi -1. [eyes, camera] I have difficulty focussing on things that are far away. -2. [attention] It's impossible to focus on two problems at the same time.

focus(s)ed ['foukəst] adj [person] who does something in a very careful way that shows they are determined to succeed □ Adam is very focused on his work.

fodder ['fɒdə] n food for farm animals □ cattle fodder.

foe [foʊ] n an enemy (literary use).

FOE n -1. abbr of Friends of the Earth. -2. (abbr of Fraternal Order of Eagles) the FOE a US charitable organization.

foetus etc GB = fetus etc.

fog [fɒg] n a mass of cloud near the ground that makes it difficult to see things that are not very near □ There will be fog tonight. □ fog patches.

fogbound ['fɒgbəʊnd] adj [airport, aircraft, passenger] that cannot work or travel as usual because of fog.

fogey ['fɒgeɪ] n = foggy.

foggiest ['fɒgɪəst] n I haven't the foggiest a phrase used to emphasize that one does not know the answer to a question (informal use) □ I haven't the foggiest idea where he could be.

foggy ['fɒɡɪ] (compar foggier, superl foggiest) adj [weather, day, area] see fog □ Foggy conditions are making driving difficult.

Foggy Bottom n the US Department of State (informal use).

foghorn ['fɒŋhɔ:rn] n a piece of equipment that makes a very loud noise to warn ships of danger caused by fog.

fog lamp, fog light n one of the powerful lights on the front of a vehicle that can be used when one is driving in fog.

fogy ['fougi] (pl fogies) n an old fogy a person whose ideas are considered to be old-fashioned.

foible ['fɔɪbl] n a weakness or failing in a person's character that is not very serious □ one of his many little foibles.

foil [fɔɪl] ◇ n -1. [of metal] a very thin sheet of metal □ silver/kitchen foil. -2. a person or thing that acts as a contrast to emphasize the characteristics of some other person or thing □ The white walls are a foil for the brightly-colored pictures. ◇ vt [plan, attempt, criminal] to prevent <sthg/sb bad> from succeeding □ The raid was foiled by a security guard.

foist [fɔɪst] vt to foist sthg on sb to give or sell sb sthg they do not really want □ Don't try to foist your political views on me.

fold [fəʊld] ◇ vt -1. [piece of paper, cloth, sheet] to bend a part of <sthg> so that it covers another part □ He folded the letter in half. ■ to fold one's arms to hold one's arms so that they are crossed over each other against one's chest □ She leaned back, arms folded, and said nothing. -2. [table, chair, umbrella] to bend or close parts of <sthg> so that it takes up less space □ The bench can be folded when not in use. -3. to fold sb in one's arms to put one's arms around sb.

◇ vi -1. [table, chair, bed] to be able to be bent or closed, so that it takes up less space. -2. [company, show] to fail and close (informal use) □ The show folded after only a week.

◇ n -1. [in paper] the line or edge that is made in a piece of material, paper etc when it is folded □ Cut along the fold. -2. [for animals] an enclosed part of a field where animals spend the night. -3. the fold the place or institution where someone belongs or feels at home □ It's good to welcome Professor Barclay back to the fold.

◆ fold up ◇ vt sep -1. to fold sthg up [cloth, sheet] to fold sthg several times in order to make it smaller □ Fold up your clothes and put them away. -2. to fold sthg up [table, chair, umbrella] to bend or close parts of sthg so that it takes up less space □ I've got one of those beds that you can fold up. ◇ vi -1. [table, chair, umbrella] to be able to be bent or closed, so taking up less space □ The umbrella folds up to fit in your purse. -2. [company, business] to fail and close (informal use) □ The company folded up after only a year in business.

foldaway ['fəʊldəweɪ] adj [bed, table] that can be folded for storage.

folder ['fəʊldə] n -1. [for documents] a folded piece of cardboard or plastic that is designed to hold documents, papers etc. -2. COMPUTING an area of a disk that contains a particular type of information.

folding ['fəʊldɪŋ] adj [table, chair, bicycle] that can be folded in order to use less space □ A folding bed is perfect for a studio apartment.

foliage ['fəʊlɪdʒ] n the leaves of a tree or bush □ the dense foliage of the laurel tree.

folk [fəʊk] ◇ adj [art, dancing, medicine] that is traditional and popular among the people of a particular country, region etc □ a traditional folk remedy for headaches. ◇ n = folk music. ◇ npl people □ city/country folk.

◆ folks npl (informal use) -1. one's folks one's parents or relatives □ I rarely go back to see my folks. -2. a word used to address a group of people one knows well □ See you, folks!

folklore ['fəʊklɔː] n the traditional customs, music, stories etc of the people of a particular country or region □ His adventures have become a part of local folklore.

folk music n -1. a traditional kind of music that has been passed down from generation to generation and has no known composer. -2. a kind of music that uses traditional instruments, especially acoustic guitars, and sounds like folk music.

folk singer n a person who sings folk songs.

folk song n a song that has been passed down from generation to generation and has no known composer.

folksy ['fəʊksɪ] (compar folksier, super! folksiest) adj US that seems simple and informal in manner or appearance (informal use).

follicle ['fɒlɪkl] n a very small hole in the skin that a hair grows out of □ a hair follicle.

follow ['fɒləʊ] ◇ vt -1. [guide, person in front] to go after <sb> □ A dog followed me all the way home. -2. [event] to happen after <sthg> □ The lecture will be followed by a question and answer session. -3. [river, path, trend] to go the same way as <sthg> □ The road follows the coast for 20 miles, then veers inland. -4. [suspect, criminal] to go after <sb> in order to catch them □ I had the feeling I was being followed. -5. [movement, development] to watch <sthg> □ I've followed his progress with great interest. -6. [argument, logic] to understand the connections between the parts of <sthg> □ I'm sorry, I don't follow you. -7. [instructions, advice] to act according to <sthg> □ Just follow my example.

◇ vi -1. [person, package, letter] to come after □ We have dispatched your order, and an invoice will follow. □ We heard nothing in the weeks that followed. ■ as follows a phrase used to introduce a list of people or things or a description of the way in which something should be done □ The report's recommendations are as follows... □ Please complete the form as follows... -2. [success, victory] to be a logical result of something □ His death follows a long illness. -3. [conclusion, argument] to be logical □ Just because this one is useless, it doesn't necessarily follow that they all are. -4. [person] to understand □ I'm sorry, I don't quite follow.

◆ follow up vt sep -1. to follow sthg up [idea, suggestion, hunch] to explore or develop sthg further □ I want you to follow this complaint up with the people concerned. □ The company is following up last year's success with three new products. -2. to follow sthg up [meal, study, job] to finish sthg in a way which makes it complete □ He followed up a perfect performance with a brilliant encore.

follower ['fɒləʊə] n a person who supports the ideas of a particular person □ He's a faithful follower of the latest economic guru.

following ['fɒləʊɪŋ] ◇ adj -1. [time, flight, day] that comes next in a sequence □ I went back the following week. -2. a word used to refer to something that is about to be mentioned □ The following candidates have been successful: Mark Chadwick, Jane Moore. ◇ n a group of supporters □ He has built up a devoted following. ◇ prep after and as a result of <sth> □ Following heavy rain, the game has been canceled.

follow-up ◇ adj [visit, treatment, study] that deals with something started earlier □ We had a follow-up meeting to monitor the progress that had been made. ◇ n a meeting, visit, lesson etc that deals with something started earlier □ I missed the follow-up to last week's lecture.

folly ['fɒli] n foolishness □ It would be sheer folly to give up now.

foment [fou'ment] vt to foment trouble/rebellion etc to encourage people to make trouble/to rebel etc (formal use).

fond [fɒnd] adj -1. [smile, embrace, farewell] that expresses affection □ One last fond kiss, and then they parted. -2. to be fond of sb to like sb very much, especially when one has known them for a long time □ I'm very fond of you, but I can't marry you. ■ to be fond of sth to like sth very much □ I'm very fond of chocolate liqueurs. □ I've grown very fond of my old car. -3. a fond hope/wish a hope/wish that is not likely to happen, and so seems foolish (literary use) □ It was his fond ambition that I become a surgeon.

fondle ['fɒndl] vt to touch or stroke  several times in a gentle way that shows affection □ He tried to fondle her in the back of the car.

fondly ['fɒndli] adv -1. [smile, remember] with affection □ I often think fondly of those days. -2. [believe, hope] see fond □ Her parents fondly imagined that she would get married.

fondness ['fɒndnəs] n a liking □ He has a fondness for rich food.

fondue [US fɒn'du:, GB 'fɒndu:] n a dish consisting of hot oil or a hot cheese sauce into which pieces of bread, meat, or vegetables are dipped and eaten.

font [fɒnt] n -1. [in a church] the stone structure in a church that consists of a container at the top that holds water for baptizing people. -2. [of characters] a set of letters of a particular size and style used in printing, word processing etc.

food [fu:d] n something that people or animals eat □ How much do you spend on food? □ I love Italian food! ■ food for thought something that makes one think seriously about something □ Well, that's certainly given us food for thought.

food chain n the relationship that exists between living things that eat each other □ Plankton play a vital role in the food chain.

food mixer n an electrical appliance used in the kitchen to mix ingredients together, or chop or grind them.

food poisoning n an illness in which harmful organisms in food cause stomach pains, vomiting, and diarrhea □ an outbreak of food poisoning.

food processor n an appliance used in the kitchen to mix food or cut it into smaller pieces.

food stamps npl in the USA, coupons given by the government to poor people that they can use to buy food.

foodstuffs ['fu:dstʌfs] npl particular kinds of food that people eat □ All foodstuffs must be stored in accordance with the instructions.

fool [fu:l] ◇ n -1. a person who one thinks is stupid □ I felt like such a fool. ■ to make a fool (out) of sb to make sb appear ridiculous □ Are you trying to make a fool of me? ■ to make a fool of oneself to act in a way that makes one appear ridiculous □ I think I made rather a fool of myself last night. ■ to act OR play the fool to behave in a silly way to make people laugh □ Oh John, stop acting the fool. -2. GB a kind of dessert made from fruit puree and cream □ a fruit fool. ◇ vt to trick <sb> □ You can't fool me so easily! □ He was fooled into thinking the intruders were repairmen. ◇ vi to do or say something as a joke □ I was only fooling! □ Quit fooling!

◆ fool around vi -1. [child, student] to behave in a foolish way. -2. [husband, wife] to have sex with somebody who is not one's usual partner □ I had no idea she was fooling around with another man. -3. to fool around with sth [with a radio, computer] to use or make changes to sth, especially without permission □ If I catch you fooling around with my computer again I'll stop your pocket money!

foolhardy ['fu:lhɑ:dɪ] adj [person] who takes foolish and unnecessary risks □ It was foolhardy to drive in such conditions.

foolish ['fu:lɪʃ] adj -1. [person] who is not sensible and does not consider the results of their actions □ That was a foolish thing to do. -2. to look/feel foolish to look/feel stupid, especially in a way that is likely to make people laugh at one □ We've all been made to look foolish in front of the shareholders.

foolishly ['fu:lɪʃli] adv -1. a word used to show that one thinks something was foolish □ Foolishly, I believed him. -2. [behave, act] see foolish □ She grinned foolishly.

foolproof ['fu:lpru:f] adj [system, machine, plan] that is simple to use or understand and cannot go wrong □ This new system is supposed to be foolproof.

foolscap ['fu:lskæp] n a size of paper (340×430mm) □ a piece of foolscap.

foot [fʊt] (pl feet) ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal, bird] the part of the body at the end of the leg that is used for standing on, walking etc □ I've got a blister on my right foot. □ a foot massage. ■ to be on one's feet to be standing. □ I've been on my feet all day. ■ to get to one's feet to stand up □ Frederick got slowly to his feet. ■ on OR by foot by walking □ They come to work on foot. ■ to be back on one's feet [person] to be well again after an illness or operation; [company, economy] to be successful again after a period of difficulty □ We'll have you back on your feet in no time. □ The business will take years to get back on its feet again. ■ to have cold feet to be scared of doing something frightening, dangerous etc after having agreed to do it (informal use) □ You're not getting cold feet about this, are you? ■ to have itchy feet to feel like moving from one home or job to another one (informal use). ■ to put one's foot down to demand that something must stop and not happen □ I had to put my foot down and demand better service. ■ to put one's foot in it to cause a difficult or embarrassing situation by saying something that upsets somebody or that is a secret □ Oh dear, have I put my foot in it again? ■ to put one's feet up to relax by sitting or lying down and supporting one's legs on something □ When I get home all I want is to sit down and put my feet up. ■ to be rushed off one's feet to have a lot of work to do very quickly. ■ to set foot in a place to enter a place □ Never set foot in my house again! ■ to stand on one's own two feet to survive without help from anybody else □ It's time you learned to stand on your own two feet. -2. the foot of sthg [of a page, hill, stairs] the bottom of sthg □ The village is at the foot of the hill. -3. [in measurements] a unit (0.3048m) used for measuring length □ I'm five foot five (inches). □ That wall is two foot OR feet high.

 ◇ vt to foot the bill to pay for something (informal use).

footage ['fʊtɪdʒ] n a part of a film that shows a particular event □ They showed some footage of the first televised Olympic Games.

foot-and-mouth disease n a very serious disease that affects the mouth and hooves of cattle, pigs, sheep etc.

football ['fʊtbɔ:l] n -1. US a game played on a large field by two teams of 11 players who throw or carry an oval-shaped ball past each other in order to score points at the end of the field □ Do you play football? -2. GB a game, also called soccer, played by two teams of 11 players who kick a ball around a large field with a goal at each end. The aim is to kick the ball into the opponents' goal □ Let's have a game of football. -3. a ball used for playing any kind of football.

footballer ['fʊtbɔ:lə] n GB a person who plays soccer, usually as a job.

football field n US an area of ground, 300 feet long, used for playing football.

football game n US a game of football.

football ground n GB the field and buildings used by people playing or watching soccer.

football match n GB a game of soccer.

football player n = footballer.

football pools npl GB a game in which money is bet on the results of soccer matches that have not yet been played.

FOOTBALL POOLS

In Britain, "doing the pools" means trying to guess which soccer matches will end in a draw, and betting a small amount of money on them. It is also possible to gamble on which teams will win home or away games. People who do the pools regularly listen eagerly to the results of soccer matches on the radio or television on Saturday evenings. Large cash prizes are won every week by people who guess the results correctly.

footbrake ['fʊtbreɪk] n a brake in a car, truck etc that is operated by one's foot.

footbridge ['fʊtbrɪdʒ] n a bridge that is designed for people to walk across.

footer ['fʊtə] n COMPUTING information such as a page number that is programmed to appear at the bottom of each page.

foot fault n a fault in tennis where a player steps over the back line of the court while serving.

foothills ['fʊthɪlz] npl low hills at the bottom of a mountain or range of mountains.

foothold ['fʊthəʊld] n a place to put one's foot when climbing up or down a mountain □ You should be able to find a foothold further up. ■ to get a foothold in sthg [in a company, market] to get a job or position from which one can make good progress □ The company is trying to get a foothold in southeast Asia.

footing ['fʊtɪŋ] n -1. to lose one's footing/balance to slip, with the result that one falls or nearly falls □ She lost her footing on the steps. -2. to be on a business/an official etc footing to have a business/official etc relationship with somebody. ■ to be on an equal footing to be treated or considered in the same way as somebody else □ Western companies will soon be able to compete on an equal footing with their Asian rivals.

footlights ['fʊtlaɪts] npl the row of lights along the front of a stage in a theater.

footman ['fʊtmən] (pl footmen [-mən]) n a male servant who opens doors, serves food etc.

footmark ['fʊtmɑ:k] n a mark made by a foot or shoe on a surface.

footnote ['fʊtnəʊt] n information at the bottom of a page that says more about a particular point, shown by a number or letter in the text.

footpath [US 'fʊtpæθ, pl -pæðz, GB -pɑ:θ, pl -pɑ:ðz] n a narrow path for people to walk along □ 'Keep to the footpath.'

footprint ['fʊtprɪnt] n the mark made by a shoe or by a person's or animal's foot on a soft or wet surface □ There were fresh footprints in the snow.

Footsie ['fʊtsi] n = FT-SE 100 (informal use).

footsore ['fʊtsɔ:r] adj [person] who has tired and painful feet because they have been walking a lot.

footstep ['fʊtstep] n -1. the sound made by a foot on the ground when somebody is walking □ She heard footsteps behind her. -2. a mark made by a foot or shoe on a surface □ footsteps in the sand. ■ to follow in sb's footsteps to do the same job or activity that sb else has done in the past, especially an older relative □ She hopes to follow in her father's footsteps.

footwear ['fʊtwɛə] n a collective term for shoes, boots, sandals etc □ Bring sensible footwear with you.

footwork ['fʊtwɜ:k] n movements or steps made by the feet, especially when playing sports or dancing.

for [stressed fɔːr, unstressed fə] ◇ prep -1. a present for my sister a present to be given to or used by my sister (used to show who something is meant for) □ Are there any messages for me? -2. to do sthg for sb to do sthg to be useful, helpful, or pleasant to sb (used for the indirect objects of some verbs) □ Let me carry that bag for you. □ He bought a book for his brother. □ I cooked lunch for twelve people. -3. to work for sb to be employed by sb □ She writes for a newspaper. ■ to act for sb to act on behalf of sb; to represent sb □ She played tennis for England. -4. a knife for cutting paper a knife designed, used, or intended to cut paper □ a gadget for opening cans □ We need a new carpet for the living room. ■ what's it for? what is its use?; what does it do? □ Do you have anything for a sore throat? -5. in prison for burglary in prison because of burglary (used to show why something has happened or is true) □ I apologized for my rudeness. □ The zoo closed for lack of funds. □ Burgundy is famous for its wines. ■ the reason for my question the reason why I asked. ■ what..for? why? □ What did you do that for? -6. I'm going out for a walk I'm going out in order to have a walk □ We had to run for the bus. □ I came here for a rest. -7. we talked for two hours used to show how long something goes on □ She'll be away for a month. □ They've lived here for years. -8. I'll be back for lunch I shall be back in time to have lunch. -9. the meeting planned for the 30th the meeting planned to take place on the 30th. ■ I got a watch for Christmas/my birthday I got a watch at Christmas/on my birthday (used for special occasions). -10. the plane for Phoenix the plane that goes to Phoenix □ She left for Paris yesterday. -11. used to show distances □ We drove for miles. -12. I bought/sold it for $10 the price was $10 when I bought/sold it □ You can eat there for under $30. -13. used to show who is affected or concerned by something □ The work should be easy for someone like you. □ I have enormous respect for her. -14. she's tall for her age she is surprisingly tall when you consider her age. -15. the old name for London the old name that means or describes London □ What's the Greek for "mother"? -16. to vote for sb/sthg to vote in favor of or in support of sb/sthg. ◇ conj because (literary use).

◆ for all ◇ prep -1. in spite of <sthg> □ He's a very unhappy man for all his money. -2. when you consider how little... □ For all the good it's done me, I might as well have stayed at home. □ He can go to hell, for all I care. ◇ conj for all I know, she's already left she has perhaps already left.

FOR (abbr of free on rail) adv at a price that includes all the seller's costs up to the delivery of goods to the railroad for shipment.

forage ['fɔrɪdʒ] vi [person, animal] to search for food □ They foraged for roots and berries to stay alive.

foray ['fɔreɪ] n -1. [into enemy area] a sudden short attack on enemy land by soldiers. -2. [into politics, publishing, television] an attempt to enter a new field of work or activity □ After a brief foray into journalism she went into business.

forbad, forbade [fə'beɪd] past tense of forbid.

forbearing [fɔːr'beərɪŋ] adj [person] who is patient and forgives people □ a forbearing nature/attitude.

forbid [fə'brɪd] (pt forbade OR forbod, pp forbid OR forbidden, cont forbidding) vt [action, activity] to tell somebody firmly or officially not to do <sthg> □ I forbid it. □ The government continues to forbid the use of these drugs. □ I am forbidden to disclose that information. □ I forbid you to leave the house. ■ God OR Heaven forbid! a phrase used to show one hopes very much that something will not happen.

forbidden [fə'brɪdn] ◇ past-participle of forbid. ◇ adj -1. [place] that one is not allowed to visit □ Certain areas were forbidden to foreigners. -2. [subject] that one is not allowed to talk or write about □ For this writer there is no such thing as a forbidden topic. -3. [activity] that one is not allowed to do □ Smoking is strictly forbidden.

forbidding [fə'brɪdnɪŋ] adj [person, place] that looks unfriendly or frightening □ The house looked dark and forbidding. □ a forbidding task.

force [fɔːs] ◇ n -1. [of an explosion, earthquake] strength and power □ We felt the force of the blast from five miles away. □ Her singing voice has lost some of its legendary force. -2. [of a person] physical strength or violence □ The police used force to enter the building. ■ by force using physical strength or violence □ We had to open the door by force. -3. [of gravity, magnetism] the pushing or pulling effect of one thing on another □ the force of gravity □ the magnetic force. -4. somebody or something that has a strong influence or powerful effect over people or things □ the forces of evil. ■ to do sthg from force of habit to do sthg without thinking because one has done it many times before □ I still refer to the store by its old name from force of habit. -5. to be in/come into force [law, regulation, agreement] to be used/start being used □ The ban will come into force as of tomorrow.

◇ vt -1. [person] to make <sb> do something they do not want to do □ They forced him to resign. □ I was forced to admit I was wrong. □ I had to force myself to get out of bed this morning. □ The company was forced into bankruptcy. -2. [door, lock, case] to use physical strength to open <sthg> □ The burglars had forced an entry through the bathroom window. □ They had

- to force open the window lock. -3. to force one's way through/into sthg to use physical strength to get through/into sthg □ A few demonstrators managed to force their way through the police cordon. □ He forced his way into the building. -4. [decision, issue] to cause <sthg> to be dealt with more quickly. -5. to force a smile/laugh to smile/laugh unwillingly or with difficulty.
- ◆ forces npl -1. the forces a collective term for the army, navy, and airforce. -2. to join forces to work together in order to achieve something □ We are joining forces with the government to promote AIDS awareness.
 - ◆ in force adv in large numbers □ The fans turned out in force.
 - ◆ by force of prep as a result of doing or using <sthg> □ She won the argument by sheer force of reason.
 - ◆ force back vt sep -1. to force a group of people back to use force to move a group of people backward □ The police forced the demonstrators back. -2. to force an emotion back to control an emotion so that other people do not notice it □ She forced back the tears.
 - ◆ force down vt sep -1. to force sthg down to eat or drink sthg that one does not really want. -2. to force an aircraft down to make an aircraft land before it arrives at the place where it was going.
- forced [fɔ:'st] adj -1. forced labor work done by prisoners in very bad conditions. -2. [humor, conversation] that is not enjoyable because it takes a lot of effort; [smile, laugh] that does not show real pleasure because it is not sincere.
- forced landing n the sudden landing of an aircraft that has developed problem.
- force-feed vt to make  eat when they do not want to.
- forceful [fɔ:'sfɪl] adj -1. [person] who expresses opinions strongly and gets other people to agree with them □ She has a strong and forceful personality. -2. [argument] that is very convincing; [impression] that has a strong effect on somebody □ The whole scene made a very forceful impression on me.
- forcefully [fɔ:'sflɪ] adv [express, argue, speak] see forceful □ He spoke out forcefully against the country's human rights abuses.
- forceps [fɔ:'seps] npl a medical instrument like a pair of scissors with curved ends, used for holding things firmly □ a pair of forceps.
- forcible [fɔ:'səblɪ] adj -1. [removal, detention] that is done using physical force □ the forcible repatriation of illegal immigrants. -2. to be a forcible reminder of sthg to remind people of sthg in a strong and clear way □ The iron gates stood as a forcible reminder of what the camp had once been.
- forcibly [fɔ:'səblɪ] adv [enter, impose, remind] see forcible.
- ford [fɔ:'d] ◇ n a place in a river or stream where the water is not very deep and where one can cross by foot or in a car. ◇ vt to cross  at a ford.
- Ford [fɔ:'d], Henry (1863–1947) a US businessman and car manufacturer. He was the first person to use a production line to make cars in large numbers.
- fore [fɔ:'i] ◇ adj [wing, deck] that is at the front of an animal, ship, or aircraft. ◇ n to come to the fore to become popular or important □ This technology came to the fore during the 1980s.
- forearm [fɔ:'rɑ:m] n the part of the arm between the hand and the elbow.
- forebears [fɔ:'beəz] npl one's ancestors (formal use).
- foreboding [fɔ:'boudɪŋ] n [of evil, disaster, danger] a feeling that something bad will happen □ She had a foreboding that things would go seriously wrong.
- forecast [US 'fɔ:kæst, GB 'fɔ:kɑ:st] (pt & pp forecast OR forecasted) ◇ n a statement, usually official, about a particular subject that says what one thinks will happen in the future □ a sales/economic forecast. ◇ vt [weather, result, level] to make a forecast about <sthg> □ Economists have forecasted 3% growth next year.
- forecaster [US 'fɔ:kæstr, GB 'fɔ:kɑ:stə] n a person whose job is to forecast profits, economic growth etc □ an economic forecaster.
- foreclose [fɔ:'kloʊz] ◇ vt to foreclose a mortgage to stop a mortgage and take possession of the property it was used to buy, because the money has not been repaid as agreed. ◇ vi: The bank has threatened to foreclose on him/his mortgage.
- foreclosure [fɔ:'kloʊzə] n: see foreclose □ The bank has threatened me with foreclosure.
- forecourt [fɔ:'kɔ:t] n GB the open area in front of a large building, especially a garage or station.
- forefathers [fɔ:'fɑ:ðəz] npl one's ancestors.
- forefinger [fɔ:'fɪŋgə] n the finger next to one's thumb.
- forefront [fɔ:'frʌnt] n to be in OR at the forefront of sthg [of research, a struggle, campaign] to be among the people leading sthg □ She's at the forefront of the pro-choice campaign. □ Pro-Impex, a company at the forefront of communications technology.
- forego [fɔ:'gəʊ] vt = forgo.
- foregoing [fɔ:'gəʊɪŋ] (formal use) ◇ adj [information, analysis] that has just been mentioned □ The foregoing statement was issued by the department's spokesperson. ◇ n the foregoing a phrase used to refer to something that has just been mentioned.
- foregone conclusion [fɔ:'gɒn-] n a foregone conclusion something that has not yet happened but that one believes must happen and cannot be avoided □ The outcome of the election was a foregone conclusion.
- foreground [fɔ:'graʊnd] n the part of a picture, view, photograph etc that is or seems nearest to one □ A tree stood in the foreground.
- forehand [fɔ:'hænd] n [in tennis, squash, badminton] a shot in which the palm of the hand faces the ball as it is hit □ a forehand smash.

NOTE: Compare backhand.

forehead ['fɔːrəd] n the part of the face above the eyebrows and below the top of the head.

foreign ['fɔːrən] adj -1. [country] that is not one's own; [person, language, import] that is from a foreign country □ He sounded foreign to me. □ She had a foreign accent. -2. [policy, news, vacation] that deals with or involves foreign countries □ our foreign news desk. -3. a foreign object/substance an object/a substance that has entered something by accident and can cause harm. -4. to be foreign to sb not to be typical of sb's character, behavior etc □ Such thinking is entirely foreign to them.

foreign affairs npl issues that concern one's own country's relations with other countries.

foreign aid n help, e.g. money, food, or goods, that is given to poorer foreign countries □ foreign aid workers/shipments/supplies.

foreign body n a small object or insect that has entered somewhere, e.g. part of the body, by accident □ Irritation in the eye may be caused by a foreign body.

foreign competition n BUSINESS competition in a particular business or industry from other countries.

foreign correspondent n a journalist who reports news from a foreign country.

foreign currency n money that is used in another country.

foreigner ['fɔːrənə] n a person who comes from a foreign country □ Foreigners are not allowed into the country without a visa.

foreign exchange n the system of buying and selling money from different countries □ The dollar has fallen sharply against the yen on foreign exchange markets. □ Foreign exchange rates are fluctuating wildly.

foreign investment n money invested in foreign countries; the act of investing in foreign countries.

foreign minister n a minister who is responsible for their country's relations with other countries.

Foreign Office n the Foreign Office the British government department that deals with relations with other countries.

Foreign Secretary n the British government minister who is head of the Foreign Office.

foreign service n US the people who are employed by their government to work in embassies abroad.

foreleg ['fɔːˈleg] n one of the front legs of an animal.

foreman ['fɔːˈmən] (pl foremen [-ˈmən]) n -1. an experienced worker who is in charge of other workers in a factory, on a building site etc, and reports to a manager. -2. a member of a jury who tells the court their verdict at the end of a trial.

foremost ['fɔːˈmɒst] ◇ adj the foremost writer/expert etc the best or most important writer/expert etc □ It is one of the country's foremost research centers. ◇ adv first and foremost most importantly □ Although a successful writer, she is, first and foremost, a teacher.

forename ['fɔːˈneɪm] n one's first name, chosen by one's parents (formal use).

forensic [fəˈrensɪk] adj [department, evidence, scientist] that is concerned with the use of forensic science.

forensic medicine n the use of medical knowledge to help solve crimes.

forensic science n the use of scientific techniques to help solve crimes.

forerunner ['fɔːˈrʌnə] n a person, thing, or idea that started something that later developed into something bigger or better □ one of the forerunners of modern psychology.

foresee [fɔːˈsiː] (pt foresaw [-ˈsɔː], pp foreseen) vt [change, problem, event] to know <that something will or will probably happen> before it does happen □ I can't foresee any reasons why they would refuse this contract. □ Nobody could have foreseen that the bridge would collapse.

foreseeable [fɔːˈsiːəbl] adj [accident, problem] that can be expected to happen and is therefore not surprising. ■ for the foreseeable future as far ahead in the future as one can see or plan □ He will be staying with the company for the foreseeable future. ■ in the foreseeable future quite soon □ I don't think any changes will be made in the foreseeable future.

foreseen [fɔːˈsiːn] past participle of foresee.

foreshadow [fɔːˈʃædəʊ] vt [event, development] to be a sign of <sthg that is going to happen> □ The company's sell-off was foreshadowed by the recent decline in profits.

foreshortened [fɔːˈʃɔːtnd] adj that has been drawn, painted etc as it looks in real life, so that part of it looks smaller or shorter because it is further away or is at an angle.

foresight ['fɔːˈsaɪt] n the ability to see what is likely to happen in a particular situation and to do something about it □ Fortunately, they had the foresight to take out full insurance.

foreskin ['fɔːˈskɪn] n a piece of skin that covers the end of the penis.

forest ['fɔːrɛst] n a large area of trees that grow close together □ a pine forest.

forestall [fɔːˈstɔːl] vt [person, attempt, criticism] to prevent <sb> from doing something, or prevent <sthg> from happening, by doing something else first □ There were large numbers of policemen there to forestall any trouble.

forestation [ˌfɔːˈsteɪʃn] n the practice of planting trees over a wide area.

forestry ['fɔːrɛstrɪ] n the profession of growing and looking after forests.

Forestry Commission n the Forestry Commission in Britain, the organization in charge of the management of forests.

foretaste ['fɔːˈteɪst] n to be a foretaste of sthg to be a small example of sthg that will happen later □ As a foretaste of your trip, let me show you a few photographs of the area.

foretell [fɔːˈtel] (pt & pp foretold) vt to say

- <that something will happen in the future>, before it actually does happen □ Who could have foretold that prices would fall so sharply?
- forethought [ˈfɔːθɔːt] n careful thought that is given to something before it happens in order to make it more successful or avoid problems □ A little forethought can save a lot of time and trouble.
- foretold [fɔːˈtɔʊld] past tense & past participle of foretell.
- forever [fəˈlevə] adv -1. from now until the end of time □ I'll love you forever. □ The days of the great Hollywood legends are gone forever. -2. to be forever doing sthg to do sthg too often in a way that annoys people (informal use) □ He's forever telling me how broke he is!
- forewarn [fɔːˈwɔːn] vt to warn <sb> about something bad that is going to happen so that they can be prepared □ The gang appears to have been forewarned of the raid.
- foreword [ˈfɔːwɜːd] n a text at the beginning of a book that tells people about the author and the book.
- forfeit [ˈfɔːfət] ◇ n something one loses or has to do as a punishment □ If you lose, you have to pay a forfeit. ◇ vt [property, deposit, right] to lose <sthg>, especially because one has broken an agreement or done something wrong □ You understand that in signing this contract, you forfeit your right to the estate?
- forgave [fəˈgeɪv] past tense of forgive.
- forge [fɔːˈdʒ] ◇ n a place where metal is heated and made into objects, such as horse-shoes and gates. ◇ vt -1. [metal, iron] to heat and shape <sthg> by hammering it. -2. [friendship, alliance] to create <sthg> with a lot of effort and determination □ We have forged strong links with churches in Johannesburg. -3. [money, passport, signature] to make an illegal copy of <sthg> in order to deceive people; [painting, work of art] to make <sthg> that copies the style of a famous artist so that people pay a lot of money for it.
- ◆ forge ahead vi to make progress quickly, especially more quickly than other people □ They are forging ahead with plans to open up ten new stores.
- forgery [ˈfɔːˈdʒəri] n a person who forges money, passports etc.
- forgery [ˈfɔːˈdʒəri] (pl forgeries) n -1. something that has been forged, e.g. a signature, passport, or painting □ The painting was discovered to be a forgery. -2. [of money, passport] see forge □ He was accused of forgery.
- forget [fəˈget] (pt forgot, pp forgotten, cont forgetting) ◇ vt -1. [person, name, fact] not to remember <sb/sthg> □ I'll never forget you, Jack. □ I always forget to turn the alarm on. □ He completely forgot (that) we were coming. □ I never forget a face. □ I forget which company he works for. □ I'll never forget buying my first car. ■ to forget oneself to behave in an unusual or uncontrolled way, as a result of a strong emotion □ Professor Marget forgot himself to the extent of hitting the student over the head with a book. -2. [scarf, book] to leave <sthg> behind in a place when one goes away, without in-
- tending to leave it □ Don't forget your umbrella.
- 3. [idea, event] to deliberately stop thinking about or doing <sthg> □ We might as well forget the whole thing! □ Let's forget our differences. □ Oh, forget it!
- ◇ vi -1. not to remember something □ Sorry, I had completely forgotten about it. □ And try not to forget in future! -2. to deliberately stop thinking about something □ I can forgive but I can't forget. □ How could I ever forget! □ We agreed to forget about the outburst.
- forgetful [fəˈgetfʊl] adj [person] who forgets things easily, especially things that have to be done □ She became forgetful in her old age.
- forget-me-not n a plant with tiny blue flowers.
- forgive [fəˈgɪv] (pt forgave, pp forgiven [-ˈgɪvɪn]) vt -1. to say or feel that one is no longer angry with <sb>; to say or feel that one is no longer angry with somebody about <sthg> □ Can you ever forgive me? □ I can never forgive him for what he did. □ Please forgive his behavior. -2. one could be forgiven for thinking... a phrase used to say that it is very easy to understand why somebody might think a particular thing □ If you didn't know him very well you could be forgiven for thinking that making money was his only interest in life.
- forgiveness [fəˈgɪvnəs] n the act of forgiving somebody □ They asked his forgiveness.
- forgiving [fəˈgɪvɪŋ] adj [person] who forgives people easily.
- forgo [fɔːˈɡoʊ] (pt forwent, pp forgone [-ˈɡɒn]) vt [opportunity, vacation] to decide not to have <sthg> □ I had to forgo my trip to India because of work pressures.
- forgot [fəˈɡɒt] past tense of forget.
- forgotten [fəˈɡɒtɪn] past participle of forget.
- fork [fɔːk] ◇ n -1. [for eating] a small tool used for eating with that has three or four points at one end and is often used with a knife held in the other hand □ a knife and fork. -2. [for digging] a tool with a handle at one end and three or four large metal points at the other, used for digging □ a garden fork. -3. [in a road] a place where a road, river etc separates into two parts; one of these parts □ We came to a fork in the road. □ Take the right fork for Craster. ◇ vi [road, path, river] to separate into two parts.
- ◆ fork out (informal use) ◇ vt fus to fork out money to pay money for something, especially a lot of money or too much money □ Some parents fork out $10,000 a year for private school fees. ◇ vi: We've just had to fork out for a new computer.
- forklift [ˈfɔːklɪft] n a forklift (truck) a vehicle with two metal arms at the front that are placed under heavy goods and used to lift and move them.
- forlorn [fəˈlɔːn] adj -1. [person, face, expression] that looks lonely and sad □ He stood there looking lost and forlorn. -2. [place, landscape, building] that is empty and looks depressing □ a forlorn-looking house on the edge of the lake. -3. a forlorn hope/attempt a hope/attempt that has very little chance of success □ Jack made a forlorn attempt at a smile.

form [fɔ:ˈm] ◇ n -1. [of a mountain, building, object] the shape of something □ The cake was in the form of a heart. □ The drug is also available in tablet form. -2. [of government, travel, exercise] a type of something □ It's a rare form of cancer. ■ in the form of sth a phrase used to give more precise information about something that one has just mentioned □ Help soon appeared in the form of Mr Gray. □ His major sugar intake is in the form of chocolate. ■ to take the form of sth a phrase used to give details about the way in which something is presented or takes place □ The interview took the form of an informal chat. -3. [of a person] a person's physical condition; a person's level of performance □ Given their current form, they're unlikely to win. ■ to be on form GB to be performing well; to be feeling well. -4. [for writing on] an official document that one writes one's details on for a particular purpose □ a booking form □ Please fill in OR out the enclosed form. -5. [of a man, woman, child] a person's figure □ her slender/tiny form. -6. GB EDUCATION a class in a school □ She's in the first form. -7. phrase true to form a phrase used to say that something that somebody did is typical of them □ Clark, true to form, arrived half an hour late.

◇ vt -1. [organization, friendship, alliance] to create <sthg> □ The company was formed in 1987. □ Valleys are most commonly formed by the action of rivers. -2. [circle, line] to make  by moving into particular positions □ The applicants formed a line. -3. to be a particular part of something □ These ads will form the basis of our campaign. □ Exports form 60% of our sales.

◇ vi -1. [cloud, line, crowd] to begin to exist and grow □ Doubts began to form in my mind. -2. to form into a circle/line etc to come together and make a circle/line etc □ We formed into groups.

formal [ˈfɔ:ˈml] adj -1. [language, speech, behavior] that is correct, serious, and suitable for official situations □ I wrote them a formal letter of complaint. □ She was very formal, addressing us by our surnames only. -2. a formal occasion/dinner etc an occasion/a dinner etc that follows socially correct rules and requires special clothes to be worn □ They are having a formal wedding. -3. formal clothes special clothes worn on official occasions □ Guests are required to wear formal dress. -4. a formal decision/offer an official decision/offer □ A formal announcement will be made this afternoon. □ Formal talks are being held in Washington. -5. formal education/training etc education/training etc that is given in a school or college □ He has no formal qualifications.

formality [fɔ:ˈmæləti] (pl formalities) n -1. correct formal behavior and attention to accepted rules □ She treated him with cold formality. -2. something that must be done because it is a rule, although it will not affect a particular person, decision, or result □ There are just a few formalities I have to observe, sir. □ The interview was just a formality. □ customs formalities.

formalize, -ise [ˈfɔ:ˈməlaɪz] vt [plan, agreement, arrangement] to make <sthg> official □ The deal has yet to be formalized.

formally [ˈfɔ:ˈməli] adv [behave, dress, decide] see formal □ The proposal has now been formally accepted. □ He greeted us very formally.

format [ˈfɔ:ˈmæt] (pt & pp formatted, cont formatting) ◇ n -1. [of a book] the size, shape, number of pages etc of a book or magazine □ A4 format. -2. [of a meeting] the way in which a meeting, television program etc is organized and presented. □ The show is back in a new format. -3. COMPUTING the way in which data is arranged on a disk. ◇ vt to prepare  so that it can have data entered onto it in a particular way.

formation [fɔ:ˈmeɪʃn] n -1. in formation arranged in a particular order or pattern □ The planes flew past in formation. -2. [of plans, rocks, an idea] the gradual creation and development of something □ unusual rock formations. -3. [of an alliance, government, company] the process of forming something □ the formation of self-help groups.

formative [ˈfɔ:ˈmætɪv] adj a formative influence/experience etc an influence/experience etc that greatly affects one's character or the way one thinks. ■ formative years the years during which a person's character is formed □ They say that one to three are a child's most formative years.

former [ˈfɔ:ˈmə] ◇ adj -1. a former president/teacher etc a person who used to be a president/teacher etc, but is not any more □ the former prime minister of Australia, Bob Hawke □ There are still strong links with the former colony. ■ one's former boss/job etc a boss/job etc that one used to have □ I met a former student of mine yesterday. -2. in former times OR days in the past. -3. that relates to the first of two people or things that have just been mentioned □ I prefer the former idea to the latter. ◇ n the former the first of the two people or things that have just been mentioned □ Of the two options, I prefer the former.

formerly [ˈfɔ:ˈmɜ:lɪ] adv in the past, but not now □ The house was formerly owned by a priest.

form feed n COMPUTING a command to a printer to move to the next sheet of paper.

FormicaTM [fɔ:ˈrɪˈmaɪkə] n a hard plastic that is used to cover tables and kitchen surfaces.

formidable [ˈfɔ:ˈmɪdəbəl] adj -1. [person, voice, opponent] that is very impressive and causes a feeling of fear and respect □ She's a formidable woman. □ a formidable intellect. -2. [task, challenge] that is difficult to deal with and makes one worried □ We face formidable obstacles. □ They succeeded against formidable odds.

formless [ˈfɔ:ˈmləs] adj [clothes, structure] without a clear and definite shape.

formula ['fɔ:ˈmjələ] (pl formulas OR formulae [-li:]) n -1. MATH & SCIENCE a sequence of letters, figures, and signs that represents a particular rule or fact □ a mathematical formula □ What's the formula for calculating the area of a triangle? -2. CHEMISTRY a sequence of letters, figures, and signs that represent what a substance is made up of □ The formula for sulfuric acid is H₂SO₄. □ The fuel is made to a secret formula. -3. [for success] a way of doing or saying something that will make something difficult work successfully □ a formula for success □ We must find a formula that is acceptable to both sides. -4. RACING a word used before a number to refer to a particular type of racing car or car race □ Formula One.

formulate ['fɔ:ˈmjəleɪt] vt -1. [question, answer, idea] to choose particular words to express <sthg> □ It took Gerard some time to formulate a reply. -2. [policy, strategy, plan] to decide the details of <sthg> □ The party had only recently formulated its financial strategy.

formulation [ˌfɔ:ˈmjəˈleɪʃn] n: see formulate □ the formulation of new policies.

fornicate ['fɔ:ˈnɪkeɪt] vi to have sex with a person one is not married to (literary use).

forsake [fɔ:ˈseɪk] (pt forsook, pp forsaken) vt [person, habit, place] to abandon <sb/sthg> completely (literary use).

forsaken [fɔ:ˈseɪkən] past participle of forsake.

forsook [fɔ:ˈsʊk] past tense of forsake.

Forster ['fɔ:ˈstɔ:ɹ], E.M. (1879–1970) a British novelist whose works include A Passage to India and A Room with a View.

forsythia [US fɔ:ˈsɪθjə, GB fɔ:ˈsaɪθjə] n a kind of bush with yellow flowers that bloom in early spring.

fort [fɔ:ˈt] n a strong building or group of buildings designed to provide defense against a military attack. ■ to hold the fort to look after something or somebody temporarily □ I'm holding the fort for my parents while they're away.

forte [US fɔ:ɹt, GB 'fɔ:teɪ] n something that one is especially good at □ Music was never my forte.

forth [fɔ:ˈθ] adv -1. [go, bring, send] out from a place (literary use) □ We set forth on our adventure. -2. from that day forth from that day onward □ And from that day forth, they never spoke again.

forthcoming [fɔ:ˈθ'kʌmɪŋ] adj -1. a forthcoming meeting/election etc a meeting/an election etc that has been planned to happen soon □ A cabaret and a Christmas party are among the forthcoming attractions. -2. to be forthcoming [help, answer, information] to be made available or be given to somebody □ The necessary resources are rarely forthcoming. -3. [person] who is willing to give somebody information □ I found him very open and forthcoming. □ I tried to ask her about it, but she wasn't very forthcoming.

forthright ['fɔ:ˈθraɪt] adj [person] who says what they think honestly.

forthwith [ˌfɔ:ˈθ'wɪθ] adv immediately (formal use).

fortieth ['fɔ:ˈtɪəθ] num 40th; number 40 in a series; see also fiftieth.

fortification [ˌfɔ:ˈtəfəˈkeɪʃn] n [of a town, building] see fortify.

◆ fortifications npl walls, ditches etc that are built around a town or building in order to protect or defend it □ Some of the city's old fortifications still remain.

fortified wine [ˌfɔ:ˈtəfəd-] n a drink such as port or sherry made from wine to which extra alcohol has been added.

fortify ['fɔ:ˈtəfaɪ] (pt & pp fortified) vt -1. [city, coast, town] to make  strong, e.g. by building a wall around it to defend it against attack. -2. [resolve, determination, person] to make <sb/sthg> stronger □ I took a large gulp of wine to fortify myself before going in.

fortitude ['fɔ:ˈtəʊɪd] n the mental strength and courage one needs when one has to deal with a difficult or painful situation □ She bore her misfortune with great fortitude.

Fort Knox [-ˈnɒks] a fort in Kentucky where the US gold supply is kept. It is used as a symbol for a place that cannot be broken into easily.

fortnight ['fɔ:ˈtnaɪt] n GB a period of two weeks □ I'll see you again in a fortnight.

fortnightly ['fɔ:ˈtnaɪtli] GB ◇ adj a fortnightly newspaper/edition etc a newspaper/an edition etc that appears every two weeks. ■ a fortnightly visit/meeting etc a visit/meeting etc that happens every two weeks □ Meetings take place at fortnightly intervals. ◇ adv [appear, visit, meet] She sends in a report fortnightly on a Monday.

fortress ['fɔ:ˈtrəs] n a large fort or fortified town.

fortuitous [fɔ:ˈtʃu:ətəs] adj [meeting, decision] that happens by chance and has a good result (formal use) □ It was quite fortuitous the way we met.

fortunate ['fɔ:ˈtʃənət] adj [person, event, choice] lucky □ You're very fortunate to have such wonderful children.

fortunately ['fɔ:ˈtʃənətli] adv a word used to show that one believes that something is fortunate □ Nobody was injured, fortunately. □ Fortunately for him, the store was still open.

fortune ['fɔ:ˈtʃən] n -1. a large amount of money □ He earns a fortune. □ That car must have cost a fortune. -2. luck □ good/bad fortune □ Fortune smiled on us. -3. to tell sb's fortune to say what sb's future life will be like by looking at the palm of their hand, a crystal ball, a deck of cards etc.

◆ fortunes npl sb's fortunes the good or bad events that happen to sb in their life □ The book traces the changing fortunes of its hero, Charlie Snow, and his family.

Fortune 500 [-faɪv'hʌndrəd] n a list made each year of the 500 largest and most successful companies in the USA.

fortune-teller n a person who tells people's fortunes, usually for money.

forty [ˈfɔːrtɪ] num the number 40; see also fifty.

forum [ˈfɔːrəm] (pl forums) n -1. HISTORY the open space where public business was carried out in ancient Rome. -2. [for a debate] a place, TV program, magazine etc where subjects of interest can be discussed □ The conference provides a useful forum for debate.

forward [ˈfɔːrwərd] ◇ adv -1. to move/step forward to move/step in the direction that one is already facing □ She leaned forward and whispered something in his ear. -2. to bring sth forward to change the date of sth to an earlier time □ We'll have to bring July's meeting forward to next week. -3. to look forward to look toward the future or a later time. ■ to put the clock forward to change the clock so that it shows a later time.

◇ adj -1. [movement, seat on train] toward the front □ I asked for a forward cabin. -2. toward the future □ The project is no farther forward now than it was last year. ■ forward planning planning for the future, especially in business. -3. [person] who is too confident and does not show enough respect □ I hope you don't think I'm being forward.

◇ n SPORT [in soccer, rugby, hockey] a player who plays closer to the other team's goal than the other players in their team.

◇ vt [goods, information] to send <sthg> to the person who has asked for it; [letters, mail] to send <sthg> on to somebody's new address when they have moved □ Please forward all correspondence to our new address.

forwarding address [ˈfɔːrwərdɪŋ-] n the new address a person leaves with the people at their old address so that their mail can be sent to them after they have moved □ They went without leaving a forwarding address.

forward-looking [-ˈlʊkɪŋ] adj [person] who has modern ideas and thinks that it is important to plan for the future □ a forward-looking attitude/policy.

forwards [ˈfɔːrwərdz] adv GB = forward.

forwent [fɔːˈwent] past tense of forgo.

fossick [ˈfɒsək] vi AUS to search somewhere for something by moving things around roughly.

fossil [ˈfɒsl] n the print or part of a plant or animal that died long ago and has been preserved in rock, ice etc.

fossil fuel n a fuel, e.g. coal, petroleum, or natural gas, that is found in the earth and is made of the remains of plants and animals that died long ago.

fossilized, -ised [ˈfɒsəlaɪzd] adj [animal, plant, bone] that has become a fossil.

foster [ˈfɒstə] ◇ adj a foster mother/father a woman/man who looks after somebody else's child as a member of their own family for a period of time □ He was taken into a foster family. ◇ vt -1. to look after <somebody else's child> as a foster parent. -2. to help <an idea, illusion, hope> etc to grow or develop □ policies aimed at fostering economic growth/the arts/friendly relations.

foster child n a child who is fostered.

foster parent n a person who fosters somebody else's child.

fought [fɔːt] past tense & past participle of fight.

foul [faʊl] ◇ adj -1. [water, air] dirty □ The air in this city is really foul. -2. [weather, smell, person] very unpleasant □ She's in a foul mood today. □ Mark was quite foul to me earlier. □ What a foul smell! -3. foul language language that is rude and is full of swear words. -4. to fall foul of sb to do something that makes sb angry with one. ■ to fall foul of sthg [of the law, police] to do something that makes trouble for one from sthg □ Individuals who fail to obtain a license could fall foul of the new regulations.

◇ n SPORT an action that is against the rules.

◇ vt -1. [sea, beach] to make  dirty □ 'Please do not allow dogs to foul the footpath.'

-2. SPORT [opponent] to do something to <another player> that is against the rules. -3. [propeller, anchor] to stop  from working by getting twisted around it.

◆ foul up vt sep to foul sthg up [plan, life, project] to spoil sthg (informal use).

foul-mouthed [-ˈmaʊðd] adj [person] who swears a lot and uses rude words.

foul play n -1. SPORT actions that are against the rules. -2. criminal activity that results in something serious, especially in somebody's death □ The police suspect foul play.

found [faʊnd] ◇ past tense & past participle of find. ◇ vt -1. [hospital, school, organization] to cause <sthg> to exist by paying for it □ The company was founded in 1846. -2. [town, building, castle] to start building <sthg>. -3. to be founded on sthg [on fact, a belief] to be based on sthg □ The article is founded entirely on rumor.

foundation [faʊnˈdeɪʃn] n -1. [of a friendship, education, belief] the important fact or idea on which something is based □ Our marriage is built on solid foundations. -2. [for charity, research] an organization that provides money for charity, research etc □ a science foundation. -3. [for one's face] a cream that is rubbed into the face as a base for make-up □ foundation cream. -4. [of a hospital, company, school] see found □ since the bank's foundation in 1896.

◆ foundations npl the solid layer of concrete, stones etc that a building stands on □ They're laying the foundations of the new library.

foundation stone n a block of stone that is part of the wall of a public building, has words on it, and is often uncovered at a special ceremony when the building is completed.

founder [ˈfaʊndə] ◇ n a person who founds a company, school, organization etc. ◇ vi -1. [ship, boat] to fill with water and sink. -2. [plan, hope, project] to fail □ The plan founded in its early stages.

founder member n = founding member.

founding father [ˌfaʊndɪŋ-] n a person who establishes an important company, organization, idea etc (formal use).

- ◆ Founding Father n the Founding Fathers the group of men who wrote the US Constitution in 1787. They include George Washington and Thomas Jefferson.
- founding member n one of the first members of a society, club, company, movement etc.
- foundry ['faʊndri] (pl foundries) n a place where metal or glass is melted and made into particular shapes.
- fount [faʊnt] n a fount of knowledge/information etc a person who is the source of knowledge/information etc (literary use).
- fountain ['faʊntən] n -1. a structure that sends jets of water into the air and is often used to decorate public places or gardens. -2. a jet of water, oil etc that rises into the air.
- fountain pen n a pen with a container inside that one fills with ink.
- four [fɔ:'] num the number 4; see also five. ■ on all fours on one's hands and knees.
- four-leaf clover, four-leaved clover [-li:vd-] n a clover plant with four leaves instead of three that is believed to bring luck to the person who finds it.
- four-letter word n any short word that people find offensive, usually because it relates to sex or one's body in an unpleasant way.
- four-poster (bed) n a large bed with a post at each corner supporting a frame that curtains hang down from.
- foursome ['fɔ:'səm] n a group of four people who do something together, especially for fun.
- four-star adj a four-star hotel/restaurant a hotel/restaurant that is of a high standard.
- fourteen [ˌfɔ:'ti:n] num the number 14; see also fifteen.
- fourteenth [ˌfɔ:'ti:nθ] num 14th; number 14 in a series; see also fifteenth.
- fourth [fɔ:'θ] num 4th; number 4 in a series; see also fifth.
- Fourth of July n the Fourth of July a US national holiday that marks the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.
-
- ☞ THE FOURTH OF JULY
The Fourth of July, also known as Independence Day, is one of the most important public holidays in the USA. Many cities organize street parades and displays of red, white, and blue fireworks at night. Buildings are covered with red, white, and blue decorations, or with US flags. Most people spend the day with their families having picnics, which traditionally include hot dogs and watermelon.
-
- four-way stop n US a place where four roads meet. All vehicles must stop here and priority is given to the first vehicle that arrived.
- four-wheel drive n a system in a vehicle in which all four wheels are connected directly to the engine; a vehicle that uses this system □ a four-wheel drive car.
- fowl [faʊl] (pl fowl OR fowls) n a bird that is eaten for food, e.g. a chicken or pheasant; the meat of this bird eaten as food.
- fox [fɒks] ◇ n a wild animal like a dog, with a pointed nose and ears, reddish fur, and a thick tail. ◇ vt [person] to trick <sb> by being more clever than them □ That'll fox them!
- foxglove ['fɒksɫəʊv] n a young fox.
- foxglove ['fɒksɫəʊv] n a tall plant with purple, pink, or white bell-shaped flowers growing on either side of a straight stem.
- foxhole ['fɒkshəʊl] n a hole in the ground in which soldiers hide to shoot at the enemy.
- foxhound ['fɒkshaʊnd] n a dog used to find and kill foxes.
- foxhunt ['fɒkshənt] n an occasion when a fox is hunted by people on horses with dogs for sport.
- foxhunting ['fɒkshəntɪŋ] n the practice of hunting foxes with dogs.
- fox terrier n a small dog with a white coat and dark markings.
- foxy ['fɒksɪ] (compar foxier, superl foxiest) adj [woman] sexy (informal use).
- foyer [US 'fɔɪr, GB 'fɔɪrɪ] n -1. [of a theater, hotel] the entrance hall of a public building. -2. [of a house] the entrance hall of a house.
- FP n -1. abbr of former pupil. -2. abbr of fire-plug.
- FPA (abbr of Family Planning Association) n the FPA a British organization that gives free advice on family planning.
- fr abbr of franc.
- Fr RELIGION abbr of father.
- fracas [US 'freɪkəs, GB 'frækə:] (US pl fracases ['freɪkəsɪz], GB pl fracas ['frækə:z]) n a noisy argument, often ending in a fight (formal use).
- fraction ['frækʃn] n -1. MATH a part of a whole number, e.g. a half or a quarter. -2. a very small part or amount □ a fraction of a second □ Lift it up a fraction higher.
- fractionally ['frækʃnəli] adv fractionally better/lower etc very slightly better/lower etc.
- fractious ['frækʃəs] adj [child, baby] who gets annoyed easily, usually because they are tired.
- fracture ['fræktʃə] MEDICINE ◇ n a slight break or crack in a bone in one's body □ a hip/skull fracture. ◇ vt [arm, leg] to slightly break or crack  □ She fractured her leg in the fall. □ He suffered a fractured skull.
- fragile [US 'frædʒl, GB -aɪl] adj -1. [cup, plate, structure] that is not strong and is easily broken □ Careful, those ornaments are fragile. -2. [health, relationship, peace] that is weak and is easily damaged or hurt □ a fragile alliance.
- fragility [frə'dʒɪləti] n: see fragile.
- fragment [n 'frægmənt, vb fræg'ment] ◇ n -1. [of glass, paper, rock] a small piece of something that has broken off a larger object □ She gathered up the fragments and tried to piece them together. -2. [of a conversation, piece of writing] a small part of something □ Only fragments of her writing remain. ◇ vi [paper, glass, rock] to break into small pieces.

fragmentary [US 'frægməntəri, GB -əri] adj [information, knowledge, memory] that is not complete and consists of pieces or parts that are not connected with each other □ Our understanding of their civilization is still fragmentary.

fragmented [fræg'mentəd] adj [account, structure, society] that is made up of different parts that are not connected.

fragrance ['freɪgrəns] n -1. a pleasant smell □ the fragrance of lavender. -2. a perfume □ a new fragrance for men.

fragrant ['freɪgrənt] adj [flower, air, room] that has a pleasant smell that is not very strong.

frail [freɪl] adj -1. [person] who is weak and delicate, especially because of old age □ a frail old woman. -2. [structure, boat, shelter] that is easily broken.

frailty ['freɪlti] (pl frailties) n a fault or weakness in somebody's character □ ordinary human frailties.

frame [freɪm] ◇ n -1. [of a picture, mirror] a solid structure, usually rectangular and made of wood, metal, or plastic, that surrounds a picture or a mirror □ I think it would look better in a black frame. □ a picture frame. -2. [of a door, window] the outer case which something fits inside; [of a bed, bicycle, boat] the main structure of an object to which other parts are added □ a door/window frame □ The frame is made of aluminum. -3. [of a person] the shape or size of somebody's body (literary use) □ his large frame.

◇ vt -1. [picture, photograph] to put <sthg> in a frame □ I'd like to get this picture framed. -2. [window, face] to surround <sthg> like a frame □ Her face was framed with tight curls. -3. [reply, question, apology] to put <sthg> into words (formal use) □ Her reply was framed in the dull, official language of the courts. -4. [person] to make <sb who is innocent> appear to be guilty of a crime by providing false evidence (informal use) □ I was framed by the police!

◆ frames npl the metal or plastic part of a pair of glasses that holds the lenses in place □ I prefer round frames.

frame of mind n the way a person is feeling and thinking at a particular time □ I have to be in the right frame of mind for writing letters.

framework ['freɪmwɜ:k] n -1. [of a ship, building] the main structure that supports something. -2. [of society, democracy] a set of ideas, beliefs, rules etc that allows people to deal with a particular question or matter □ The document will provide a framework for negotiations.

France [US fræns, GB frɑ:ns] a country in western Europe, with coastlines on the English Channel, the Atlantic Ocean, and the Mediterranean. SIZE: 549,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 57,500,000 (French). CAPITAL: Paris. LANGUAGE: French. CURRENCY: French franc.

franchise ['fræntʃaɪz] n -1. POLITICS the right of a person to vote in public elections. -2. BUSINESS the right to sell a particular company's goods or services in a particular place in their name; a store that has bought this right □ a franchise-holder □ The firm is signing up around three franchises a month.

franchisee [,fræntʃaɪ'zi:] n the person or company that buys a franchise.

franchisor [,fræntʃaɪ'zɔ:ɪ] n the company that sells a franchise.

Franco ['fræŋkou], General Francisco (1892–1975) a Spanish soldier who led the right-wing Nationalist Party to victory in the Spanish Civil War in 1939. He ruled Spain as a dictator from then until his death.

frank [fræŋk] ◇ adj [person, discussion] honest and direct □ To be perfectly frank, I never liked him anyway. ◇ vt to put a special mark on  instead of a stamp, to show that the cost of mailing it has been paid.

Frankenstein ['fræŋkənstain] the title of a novel whose main character, Dr Frankenstein, creates a living man, or monster, that tries to destroy him. The name is often used to describe the monster.

Frankfurt ['fræŋkfɜ:t] Frankfurt (am Main) an industrial city and important banking center in western Germany. POPULATION: 635,151.

frankfurter ['fræŋkfɜ:'tɔ:] n a smoked sausage, often served in a bread roll as a hot dog.

frankincense ['fræŋkɪnsɛns] n a substance that is burned, especially during religious ceremonies, to make a sweet smell.

franking machine ['fræŋkɪŋ-] n a machine used in offices to frank letters.

Franklin ['fræŋkɪn], Benjamin (1706–1790) a US scientist, businessman, writer, and politician. He discovered that lightning was electricity, and helped to write the Declaration of Independence.

frankly ['fræŋkɪli] adv -1. (quite) frankly,... a word used to show that one is saying what one really believes □ Frankly, I don't care what you think. -2. [speak, tell] see frank □ He talks openly and frankly about his sexuality.

frankness ['fræŋknəs] n: see frank □ I admire your frankness.

frantic ['fræntɪk] adj -1. [person] who is very worried and frightened about something; [cry, voice] that sounds frightened, excited, or desperate □ Where were you? □ We were frantic with worry. □ I could hear the frantic barking of their dog. -2. [day, rush, pace] hurried and disorganized (informal use) □ There was a lot of frantic activity.

frantically ['fræntɪkɪ] adv [scream, rush] see frantic □ She searched frantically in her bag.

frappé [US frə'peɪ, GB 'fræpeɪ] n -1. US a thick milkshake. -2. a strong alcoholic drink served with ice.

fraternal [frə'tɜ:nəl] adj -1. [relationship] like that that exists between brothers. -2. [greeting, feeling] friendly.

fraternity [frə'tɜ:nəti] (pl fraternities) n -1. at US universities, a club for male students. -2. a group of people with the same profession or interests □ the legal fraternity. -3. the state of being brothers; the state of showing support and friendship for other people.

☞ FRATERNITIES

Fraternities (for men) and sororities (for women) play an important part in the social life of many US universities. Many students join these social clubs in their first year, and continue as members even after they have finished their studies. Each club has a name made up of Greek letters, and is based in one building, where most of the members live. The clubs do work for charity and are well known for their drinking parties and their secret ceremonies. Some universities have banned these clubs because their ceremonies for new students are considered cruel or dangerous.

fraternize, -ise ['frætə'nraɪz] vi to fraternize with sb [with a colleague, the enemy] to meet and talk to sb in a friendly way, as an equal.

fraud [frɔ:d] n -1. the crime of getting money or goods by deceiving somebody; deceitful behavior □ Credit card fraud is on the increase. □ She obtained nearly $4,000 by fraud. -2. a person who is not who they say they are (disapproving use) □ He turned out to be a fraud.

fraudulent ['frɔ:dʒələnt] adj [means, behavior, promise] that is dishonest and usually done to get money illegally □ fraudulent use of stolen credit cards.

fraught [frɔ:t] adj -1. fraught with sthg [with problems, difficulty] full of sthg □ The expedition was fraught with danger. -2. [time, situation, person] that seems tense and anxious □ Christmas with the in-laws was always fraught.

fray [freɪ] ◇ vi -1. [material, cuff, hem] to become damaged because some threads are loose, especially at the edges □ The scarf was fraying at the edges. -2. tempers began to fray people began to get angry. ◇ n to enter or join the fray to join the fight (literary use).

frayed [freɪd] adj -1. [material, cuff] that has frayed. -2. frayed nerves a feeling of nervousness that is caused by a difficult or stressful situation □ The noise was beginning to play on his already frayed nerves.

frazzled ['fræzld] adj [person] who is mentally and physically tired as a result of hard work or problems (informal use).

FRB n abbr of Federal Reserve Board.

FRCP (abbr of Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians) a title given to members of a professional body for British doctors.

FRCS (abbr of Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons) a title given to members of a professional body for British surgeons.

freak [fri:k] ◇ adj a freak storm/accident etc a very unusual and unexpected storm/accident etc □ The islands are experiencing freak weather conditions. ◇ n -1. a person, animal, or plant that has an unusual appearance or behaves in an unnatural way □ a freak of nature. -2. an unexpected and unusual event □ It was a complete freak that we met like that. -3. a person who is extremely interested in a particular thing and does it as often as possible (informal use) □ a fitness freak.

◆ freak out (informal use) ◇ vi -1. to become very angry □ She freaked out when she heard the news. -2. to panic. ◇ vt sep to freak sb out to make sb very upset or frightened.

freakish ['fri:kɪʃ] adj [person, appearance] that is a freak or looks like a freak.

freckle ['frekl] n a small brown spot on a person's skin, especially on the face.

free [fri:] (compar freer, superl freest, pt & pp freed) ◇ adj -1. [person] who can do as they like □ I'm young, free, and single. ■ free movement/access/choice etc movement/access/choice etc that is not limited in any way. ■ a free country a country where people are allowed to express any opinion. ■ a free press/society a press/society that is not controlled by the government. ■ to be free to do sthg to have the right to do sthg □ You're free to go now. ■ feel free a phrase used to give somebody permission to do something in an informal way □ "Do you mind if I take this chair?" — "Feel free!" □ Please feel free to ask questions. -2. [person, animal] that is not held captive □ The hostages are free at last. ■ to set a person/an animal free to release a person/an animal □ The animals were set free in the wild. ■ to cut sb free to release sb by cutting the rope, metal etc that is preventing them from moving □ Firemen cut her free from the wreckage. -3. [drink, ticket] that does not cost any money □ 'Buy one, get one free.' ■ free of charge without payment □ All repairs will be carried out free of charge. -4. [person] not busy □ Are you free for dinner on Thursday? ■ a free moment/afternoon etc a moment/an afternoon etc when one is not working and can do what one likes -5. to be free [seat, place, parking space] to be empty and not being used by somebody □ Is this seat free? -6. to be or hang free [rope, chain, string] not to be fixed to anything □ The rope was hanging free. -7. free from or of sthg [from care, worry, dirt] without sthg □ This product is guaranteed free from additives. -8. to be free with sthg [with money, affection] to be generous with sthg □ He's very free with his advice.

◇ adv -1. [travel, get in, ride] without paying. ■ for free without paying □ We got it for free. □ He's going to paint the kitchen for free. -2. [run, roam] without being limited in any way □ The animals are allowed to roam free.

◇ vt -1. to release  etc; to remove an unwanted ruler, army etc from  etc □ He was freed after being detained for questioning. □ The rebels were driven out and the city was freed. ■ to free sb of sthg [of disease, hunger, a problem] to remove sthg unpleasant from sb □ At last he was freed of the responsibilities of being a parent. -2. [person, time, money] to make time, money, staff etc available for somebody □ Could you free some of your men for tomorrow? -3. [arm, rope] to move <sthg> from the place where it is stuck or fixed □ Olaf carefully freed his coat from the doorhandle. ■ to free sb from sthg to move sb from sthg which is trapping them □ Survivors were freed from the wreckage. □ freed from an unhappy marriage.

-free suffix added to words to show that something does not contain any of a particular substance or thing □ sugar-free chewing gum □ a trouble-free vacation.

freebie ['fri:bɪ] n something that is given to somebody, e.g. by a company, as a free gift (informal use).

Freecall ['fri:kɔ:l] n AUS a system by which a company or organization pays the cost of telephone calls made to it.

freedom ['fri:dəm] n -1. [of action, thought, choice] the state of being able to do what one likes without being limited in any way □ The hostages have finally gained their freedom. □ restrictions on freedom of movement and association. ■ freedom of speech the right to express one's beliefs and opinions. -2. freedom from sthg [from pain, hunger, care] the state of being free from sthg unpleasant.

freedom fighter n a person who uses violence to try and overthrow the government of their country.

Freedom of Information Act n the Freedom of Information Act a US law that gives the public access to government information.

free enterprise n an economic system in which business and trade are carried out without much government control.

free-fall n the action of falling through the air or space without being attached to anything or held back in any way.

FreefoneTM ['fri:foun] n GB a system in which a company or organization pays the cost of telephone calls made to it.

free-for-all n a noisy situation, argument, or fight in which a lot of people take part.

free gift n a product given free of charge when another product is bought.

freehand ['fri:hænd] ◇ adj [drawing, map] that is drawn by hand without compasses, a ruler etc. ◇ adv [draw] I sketched it freehand.

freehold ['fri:hould] ◇ n the status of being the only owner of a building or piece of land for an unlimited time □ a freehold property. ◇ adv [buy, sell] with a freehold.

NOTE: Compare leasehold.

FREEHOLD

In Britain, the freehold of a property, e.g. a house, office, or store, is the right to own it for an unlimited amount of time. Most apartments in large buildings are leasehold, which means you buy the lease (the right to live in that apartment for a fixed period, usually 99 years) and become the leaseholder. The freeholder, who owns the whole building, has the right to collect money from the leaseholders to pay for cleaning, repairs to the building, insurance etc. When a lease ends, the leaseholder has to leave the building, or take out a new lease. The laws affecting freehold have changed recently, making it easier for leaseholders to renew their lease, or to buy the freehold of the property they live in.

freeholder ['fri:houldə] n a person who owns the freehold of a building or piece of land.

NOTE: Compare leaseholder.

free house n GB a pub that can sell as many types of beer as it likes and not just the beer produced by a particular company.

free kick n in soccer, a kick given to one team that the other team is not allowed to try and prevent, as a punishment for a foul □ They were awarded a free kick in the closing minutes of the first half.

freelance [US 'fri:læns, GB -lɑ:ns] ◇ adj [worker] who works for more than one company, but is not a full-time employee of any company; [writing, photography] that is done by a freelance worker □ a freelance journalist/translator □ I'm looking for freelance work. ◇ n a person who does freelance work. ◇ adv [work] as a freelance □ I write freelance for several publications. ◇ vi to work as a freelance □ She freelances for various companies.

freelancer [US 'fri:lænsr, GB -lɑ:nsə] n a person who does freelance work.

freeloader ['fri:lɔ:də] n a person who accepts money and goods from other people without offering anything in return (informal and disapproving use).

freely ['fri:lɪ] adv -1. [admit, confess] willingly and without being asked □ He freely acknowledges his part in the affair. -2. [talk, mix, travel] without being limited in any way □ Traffic is moving freely again. □ Alcohol is freely available in this country. -3. [spend, give] generously □ She gave freely of her time.

freeman ['fri:mən] (pl freemen [-mən]) n a person who has been granted special rights in a city.

free-market economy n an economic system in which prices and wages are controlled by the needs of the economy, not by the government.

Freemason ['fri:meɪsn] n a member of a secret society of men who try to help one another and use secret signs and words to recognize each other.

Freemasonry ['fri:meɪsnrɪ] n the organization, beliefs, or activities of the Freemasons.

Freephone ['fri:foun] n = Freefone.

Freepost ['fri:pəʊst] n GB the system in which a company pays the cost of postage for the letters it receives.

free-range adj GB [hen] that is kept outdoors so that it can move around freely; [egg] that is produced by a free-range hen.

free sample n a small amount of a new product that is given to people free of charge to encourage them to buy it in the future.

freesia ['fri:zə] n a plant with yellow, purple, pink, red, or white flowers that smell sweet.

free speech n the right to express one's beliefs and opinions freely about subjects such as politics and religion.

freestanding [ˌfri:'stændɪŋ] adj [statue, stove] that stands on its own and is not supported by or attached to anything.

freestyle ['fri:stail] n a race in which the swimmers may swim in any style.

freethinker [,fri:'θɪŋkə] n a person who has developed their own views, particularly about religion.

free time n the time during which one does not have to work but when one can do what one wants □ I don't really have much free time. □ What do you do in your free time?

free trade n a system in which the amount of foreign goods entering a country is not limited and high charges do not have to be paid.

freeway ['fri:wei] n US a road with several lanes, used by vehicles traveling long distances.

freewheel [,fri:'wi:l] vi [cyclist] to ride a bicycle downhill without using the pedals; [driver] to drive a car downhill without using the engine.

freewheeling [,fri:'wi:lɪŋ] adj [person] who is relaxed and does not behave or do things in the same way as everybody else (informal use).

free will n the ability to choose freely what one does. ■ to do sthg of one's own free will to do sthg that one has chosen freely to do □ He went there of his own free will.

free world n the free world a term used to refer to the non-Communist countries of the world during the Cold War.

freeze [fri:z] (pt froze, pp frozen) ◇ vt -1. [water, pond] to make  so cold that it becomes hard or solid. -2. [engine, lock] to make <sthg> so cold that it cannot move or work properly. -3. [meat, fish, vegetables] to preserve <food> by keeping it at a temperature below freezing point □ 'Suitable for freezing.' -4. [assets, shares, bank account] to legally prevent <sthg> from being used, spent, sold etc □ The bank froze all the company's assets until the debts were paid. -5. [wages, prices] to keep <sthg> at a particular level for a fixed period of time □ The government is threatening to freeze wages at last year's level.

◇ vi -1. [water, river, ground] to become hard or solid because ice has formed in it or on it □ The pipes froze overnight. -2. WEATHER to become so cold that the temperature drops to freezing point or below □ The forecast says it will freeze tomorrow. -3. [person] to stop moving and stay very still, e.g. because one is frightened □ "OK, everybody freeze!" -4. [person] to feel very cold (informal use) □ You'll freeze in that thin dress!

◇ n -1. a period of very cold weather. -2. the act of freezing wages or prices; a period in which this happens □ a wage/price freeze.

◆ freeze over vi [pond, river, lake] to become completely covered in ice because the weather is so cold □ Next morning, all the puddles had frozen over.

◆ freeze up vi [pond, river] to become completely covered in ice; [lock, engine] to become completely blocked with ice.

freeze-dried adj [vegetables, coffee] that has been preserved by being frozen then quickly dried.

freeze frame n a device for stopping a video tape or film at a particular picture □ the freeze-frame button.

freezer ['fri:zə] n an electrical appliance for storing food at a temperature below freezing point.

freezing ['fri:zɪŋ] ◇ adj [weather, person, place] very cold (informal use) □ It's freezing in here! ◇ adv (informal use): It's freezing cold outside. ◇ n = freezing point □ The temperature is down to freezing.

freezing point n the temperature (0° Celsius, 32° Fahrenheit) that water freezes at; the temperature that a particular liquid freezes at □ Temperatures tonight will drop to below freezing point.

freight [freɪt] n the transportation of goods over a long distance by ship, train, plane etc; goods transported in this way □ air/rail/freight □ freight charges □ a freight plane/train.

freighter ['freɪtə] n a ship or aircraft designed to carry goods.

French [frentʃ] ◇ npl the French people who come from France. ◇ adj: French customs/currency. ◇ n a language spoken in France, parts of Belgium, Canada, Switzerland, and many African countries.

French bean n a thin green bean that is cooked and eaten as a vegetable; the plant that these beans grow on.

French bread n white bread in the form of long, thin, crusty loaves.

French Canadian ◇ n a Canadian whose first language is French. ◇ adj: a French Canadian accent.

French doors npl = French windows.

French dressing n US a salad dressing made from mayonnaise and ketchup; GB a salad dressing made from oil, vinegar, and seasonings.

French fries npl long thin pieces of potato that have been deep-fried in oil.

French horn n a brass musical instrument shaped like a coil.

Frenchman ['frentʃmən] (pl Frenchmen [-mən]) n a man who comes from France.

French polish n a type of varnish that gives wood a very shiny surface.

French Polynesia five groups of French islands in the southern Pacific, including Tahiti, Moorea, the Marquesas, and the Austral Islands. SIZE: 4,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 188,814 (French Polynesians). CAPITAL: Papeete. LANGUAGE: French, Tahitian. CURRENCY: Pacific franc.

French Revolution n the French Revolution the revolution in France (1789 to 1799) during which the king, Louis XVI, was killed and a republic was declared.

French Riviera: the French Riviera the Mediterranean coast of southeastern France.

French stick n GB a loaf of French bread.

French toast n pieces of bread that are dipped in an egg mixture and then fried.

French windows npl a pair of doors that look like windows, usually leading from a house to its yard.

Frenchwoman ['frɛntʃwʊmən] (pl Frenchwomen) n a woman who comes from France.

frenetic [frə'netɪk] adj [pace, speed, activity] that is very fast and busy, and seems uncontrolled □ Life can be too frenetic at times.

frenzied ['frenzɪd] adj [activity, crowd] very excited and uncontrolled; [attack] wild and uncontrolled □ a period of frenzied activity.

frenzy ['frenzi] (pl frenzies) n a frenzied state; frenzied behavior □ The crowd was in a frenzy of excitement.

frequency ['fri:kwənsɪ] (pl frequencies) n -1. [of an event, occurrence, action] the state of happening often; the number of times that something happens □ This sort of attack is happening with such frequency that people are no longer shocked by it. □ The frequency of the phone calls increased. -2. RADIO a particular rate of radio waves per second at which a radio station broadcasts its programs □ Which frequency is WKLP on?

frequent [adj 'fri:kwənt, vb fri:kwent] ◇ adj [visits, storms, mistakes] that happen often □ He was a frequent visitor to the apartment. ◇ vt [bar, restaurant] to go to  often, usually to relax or enjoy oneself □ a club frequented by local teenagers.

frequent flyer comp a frequent flyer program a system of benefits that an airline provides for customers who travel with them regularly.

frequently ['fri:kwəntli] adv often □ Daniel is frequently mistaken for his brother.

fresco ['freskou] (pl frescoes OR frescos) n a picture painted on plaster on a wall when the plaster is still wet.

fresh [frefʃ] ◇ adj -1. [fruit, vegetable, meat] that has been picked or cut recently and has not been frozen, canned, or dried; [bread, coffee] that has been made recently; [flowers] that have been picked recently and are still in good condition □ You should eat plenty of fresh fruit. □ There's some fresh coffee on the stove if you want. -2. fresh air clean air from outside a room or building □ I'm just going out for a breath of fresh air. -3. fresh water water that is found in streams, lakes etc and is not salty. -4. [news, outbreak] that has happened recently □ Write it down while it's still fresh in your mind. -5. [paint, snow] that has been added recently to an existing layer □ a fresh covering of snow. -6. [drink, evidence, information] that is new and replaces or is added to something □ Here, use a fresh towel. □ Fresh talks have started between the two sides in the dispute. ■ to make a fresh start to start to do something again or to live in a different way. -7. [person, horse] not tired □ What's the secret in looking so fresh after a hard day's work? -8. [complexion, face] that looks clear, clean, and healthy □ Her skin looked fresh and clean.

□ a fresh-faced young boy. -9. [taste, smell] that is pleasant because it is clean and natural □ There was a lovely, fresh, lemony smell. -10. [approach, style] new and interesting □ The author takes a fresh look at family relationships. -11. [weather, wind, day] pleasantly cold □ a fresh sea breeze. -12. to be/get fresh to be/start being too friendly to somebody and not polite enough, sometimes to show them that one finds them sexually attractive (informal and disapproving use) □ Don't get fresh with me. -13. [color, room] that seems bright and pleasant. -14. phrases to be fresh from a place to have recently been in a place □ young graduates fresh from college. ■ to be fresh out of sthg to have no more of sthg left (informal use) □ I'm sorry, we're fresh out of napkins!

fresh- prefix fresh-made/baked that has been made/baked recently.

freshen ['frefʃn] ◇ vt [air, room] to make <sthg> more clean and pleasant. ◇ vi [wind, breeze] to become stronger.

◆ freshen up ◇ vi to wash and make oneself more pleasant to look at □ Just give me a few minutes to freshen up and I'll be ready to go. ◇ vt sep -1. to freshen oneself up to freshen up. -2. to freshen sthg up [room, clothes] to make sthg cleaner and more pleasant.

freshly ['frefʃli] adv freshly made/baked etc that has been made/baked etc recently □ freshly picked tomatoes.

freshman ['frefʃmən] (pl freshmen [-mən]) n US a first-year student at college or in high school.

freshwater ['frefʃwɔ:təʃ] adj [pool, lake] that consists of water that is not salty; [fish] that lives in rivers, lakes etc and not in the sea.

fret [fret] (pt & pp fretted, cont fretting) vi to worry □ It's not worth fretting about or over. □ Don't fret, I'm sure they'll be back soon.

fretful ['fretfl] adj [baby, child, sleep] that is not comfortable or relaxed.

fretsaw ['fretsɔ:] n a saw with a thin blade and small teeth, used for cutting patterns in thin sheets of wood.

Freud [frɔɪd], Sigmund (1856–1939) an Austrian doctor who developed the science of psychoanalysis. His studies of the unconscious mind had a strong influence on 20th-century thought.

Freudian slip [ˌfrɔɪdiən-] n a word or phrase that one says accidentally, but that often shows what one is really thinking.

FRG (abbr of Federal Republic of Germany) the official name of Germany.

Fri. abbr of Friday.

friar ['fraɪəʃ] n a member of a Catholic religious order who used to travel around begging for food and teaching people about Christianity.

Friar Tuck one of Robin Hood's outlaws in English folk stories. He is a fat monk who enjoys eating and drinking.

friction ['frɪkʃn] n -1. PHYSICS the force that prevents one surface from sliding smoothly over another. -2. [between two objects, surfaces] the act of one thing rubbing against another. -3. [between people] conflict between two people or groups of people □ It's likely to cause friction between them.

Friday ['fraɪdeɪ] ◇ n the day between Thursday and Saturday □ It's Friday today. □ I was born on a Friday. □ There's a sale every Friday. □ I'd like to reserve a room for Friday May 6. □ I have an appointment next Friday/the Friday after next. □ I saw her last Friday/the Friday before last. □ I'm leaving Friday US OR on Friday GB. ■ Fridays US, on Fridays each Friday □ The cleaning woman comes (on) Fridays. ■ a week from US OR on GB Friday, Friday week GB the Friday after next Friday □ We'll meet again a week from Friday. ■ on the Friday the Friday of a particular week □ We arrived on the Friday and left on the Sunday. ◇ adj: Friday morning/afternoon/night.

fridge [frɪdʒ] n an electrical appliance for storing food and drinks at low temperatures.

fridge-freezer n GB a large kitchen appliance consisting of a refrigerator and a freezer in two separate sections.

fried [fraɪd] ◇ past tense & past participle of fry. ◇ adj [onion, egg, fish] that has been cooked in hot oil, butter etc.

friend [frend] n -1. a person one knows well, likes, and trusts and who is not a member of one's family □ She is my best friend. □ You've always been a good friend to me. □ I'd like you to meet a friend of mine. ■ to be friends with sb to have a friendship with sb □ They're very close friends. ■ to make friends to begin a friendship □ She made friends with him during a trip to Israel. □ You need to go out, meet people, make some new friends! -2. [of a charity, cause, country] a person, country etc that helps somebody or something by supporting them □ The troubled president will be looking to friends abroad for financial aid.

friendless ['frendləs] adj [person] who has no friends.

friendly ['frendli] (compar friendlier, superl friendliest, pl friendlies) ◇ adj -1. [person, attitude, animal] that is kind and pleasant □ The neighbors were always very friendly toward me. □ a relaxed, friendly bunch of people. ■ to be friendly with sb to know sb as a friend □ While we were there, we got quite friendly with a few of the locals. -2. [nation, government] that is not an enemy. -3. [game, argument] that is not serious and involves no aggression or unpleasant feelings. ◇ n GB SPORT a game between two teams in which the result is not important because it is not part of a competition.

-friendly suffix added to words to mean not damaging or harmful to a particular thing, or suitable for a particular person □ ozone-friendly products □ learner-friendly books.

friendship ['frendʃɪp] n -1. the feeling that exists between friends □ He values her friendship. □ The aim is to promote friendship between nations. -2. a particular relationship that exists between friends □ That incident marked the end of their friendship.

Friends of the Earth n an international organization that tries to make governments and the public more aware of harm being done to the environment.

fries [fraɪz] npl = French fries.

Friesian (cow) ['fri:ʒn-] n a type of a black and white cow that gives a lot of milk.

frieze [fri:z] n a long, narrow, decorative border along the top of the walls of a room.

frigate ['frɪgət] n a small, fast, military ship, used for protecting other ships.

fright [fraɪt] n -1. a feeling of fear □ His face was pale with fright. ■ to take fright to suddenly feel afraid □ They took fright and ran off. -2. a shock □ She got a terrible fright when she heard noises downstairs.

frighten ['fraɪtn] vt to make  afraid □ The explosion frightened the life out of me. ■ to frighten sb into sthg to make sb do sthg by frightening them □ They frightened local residents into paying up.

◆ frighten away vt sep to frighten sb away to make sb go away by frightening them □ Don't do that! You'll frighten the birds away.

◆ frighten off vt sep to frighten sb off to make sb stop doing sthg by frightening them □ Don't allow yourself to be frightened off by all this talk of failure.

frightened ['fraɪnd] adj [person, animal] that feels worried and afraid because they think something bad is going to happen □ Don't be frightened of the dog, it won't bite you. □ I'm frightened (that) I might make a mistake. □ People were too frightened to protest.

frightening ['fraɪnɪŋ] adj [experience, movie] that makes one feel afraid □ It was really frightening the way he just stared at us.

rightful ['fraɪtfl] adj [weather, noise, mess] that one thinks is very bad or unpleasant (old-fashioned use).

frigid ['frɪdʒɪd] adj [person] who does not easily become sexually excited.

frill [frɪl] n -1. a piece of cloth with many folds in it that is attached to the edges of clothes, cushions etc as decoration. -2. an extra thing that is not essential (informal use) □ a cheap basic washing machine with no frills.

frilly ['frɪli] (compar frillier, superl frilliest) adj [dress, skirt, blouse] that is decorated with many frills.

fringe [frɪndʒ] ◇ n -1. [on a lampshade, dress, curtain] a decorative edge made of threads that hang down. -2. [of a crowd, town, forest] one of the parts of something that is furthest from the middle □ a quiet suburb on the fringes of Geneva. -3. [of society, a political party] a small group of people whose ideas or behavior make them different from everybody else in the group, especially because they are more extreme □ Such people live on the fringes of society. -4. GB [of hair] hair that is cut in a way that makes it hang down over one's forehead. ◇ vt [beach, town] to surround the edge of .

fringe benefit n something that is offered by an employer in addition to a salary to attract people to a job, e.g. a car or pension.

fringed [frɪndʒd] adj to be fringed with sthg to have sthg all around the edge □ a beach fringed with palm trees.

fringe group n a small group of people in a larger organization, e.g. a political party, who have different or more extreme ideas.

fringe theatre n GB a kind of drama that uses new techniques and ideas and is not as popular as traditional drama.

FrisbeeTM ['frɪzbɪ] n a plastic disk that people throw to each other as a game.

frisk [frɪsk] ◇ vt to search <sb> by quickly moving one's hands over every part of their body to see if they are hiding something under their clothes, especially a weapon □ Fans are frisked by security staff as they enter the stadium. ◇ vi [lamb, puppy, child] to run or jump around in a happy playful way.

frisky ['frɪskɪ] (compar friskier, superl friskiest) adj [animal, person] that is lively and playful (informal use) □ Our dog gets quite frisky at times.

fritter ['frɪtə] n a slice of fruit, vegetable, or meat that has been covered in batter and then fried □ pineapple fritters.

◆ fritter away vt sep to fritter sthg away [money, time] to waste sthg by using small amounts of it on unnecessary things □ He frittered his savings away on cars.

frivolity [frɪ'vɒlətɪ] (pl frivolities) n -1. a frivolous thing or activity □ Don't waste your money on such frivolities. -2. [of a person] see frivolous.

frivolous ['frɪvələs] adj [person] who is not sensible or serious enough; [hobby, pastime] that is done for fun and not for serious reasons □ I found his attitude rather frivolous. □ He had no time for frivolous pursuits such as dancing.

frizzy ['frɪzɪ] (compar frizzier, superl frizziest) adj [hair] that has a lot of tight curls □ My hair always goes frizzy after I wash it.

fro [frou] adv → to.

frock [frɒk] n a dress (old-fashioned use).

frog [frɒg] n a small animal that lives on land and in water and has smooth greenish skin and long back legs for swimming and jumping. ■ to have a frog in one's throat to have difficulty speaking because of phlegm in one's throat.

frogman ['frɒgmən] (pl frogmen) n a person who swims underwater using breathing equipment and a rubber suit and flippers.

frogmarch ['frɒgmɑ:tʃ] vt GB to take <sb> somewhere by force, holding their arms to their sides or behind their back □ Jackson was frogmarched out of the hall.

frogmen ['frɒgmən] plural of frogman.

frogspawn ['frɒgspɔ:n] n a mass of frog's eggs in a soft jelly.

frolic ['frɒlɪk] (pt & pp frolicked, cont frolicking) ◇ vi [lamb, puppy, person] to move around or play in a lively and happy way. ◇ n a silly enjoyable activity or game □ We had fun and frolics on the beach.

from [stressed frɒm, unstressed fɾəm] prep

-1. the flight from Miami the flight that started in Miami (used to show the point where something begins) □ the road from here to Paris □ the latest news from America □ A light bulb hung from the ceiling. □ It's a quotation from Shakespeare. -2. she's from Spain she was born or grew up in Spain □ He comes from Houston originally. ■ where are you from? what is your nationality? -3. a letter from his wife a letter sent by his wife (used to show who gave, sent, or provided something) □ I heard the story from George. □ I got this jacket from Webbers on Main Street. -4. wine is made from grapes wine is made using grapes (used to show the material used to make something) □ It's made from a mixture of copper and brass.

-5. the man from the tax office the man who works for the tax office □ The people from the gas company were here yesterday. -6. used to indicate a change from one state or condition to another □ The industry has switched from coal to nuclear fuel. □ She translates from Spanish to English. -7. used when saying how far away something is □ We're still a long way from home. -8. used to show the time when something begins □ I lived there from 1989 to 1993. □ I liked her from the moment I met her.

-9. used to show something is being removed from a place □ He snatched the purse from my hand. □ Tax will be deducted from your salary. □ If you take 5 from 9 you get 4. ■ to escape from prison to escape so that one is no longer in prison □ I'll be away from home for a few days. -10. used to indicate the position from which one views something □ You look thinner from this angle. -11. from what you say according to or judging by what you say □ From her accent, I'd guess she was French. ■ from my point of view as it affects me □ Obviously from my point of view any delay would be disastrous. -12. to suffer from cold/hunger to suffer because of or as a result of cold/hunger □ These problems result from your failure to listen correctly to what is said.

frond [frɒnd] n [of seaweed, a fern, a palm tree] a long leaf.

front [frʌnt] ◇ n -1. [of a house, car, person] the part of something that is furthest forward □ We had seats at the front. □ Can I sit in the front?

-2. MILITARY a line that can be drawn on a map where two opposing armies face each other □ Troops are massing on the eastern front. ■ on the domestic/employment etc front as far as the situation at home/work etc is concerned □ The news is no better on the political front. □ We haven't made much progress on that front, I'm afraid. -3. the (sea) front a road beside the sea, usually in a town □ We went for a walk on the sea front. -4. [for hiding something] behavior that is intended to deceive people; a business that is used to hide an illegal activity □ He put on a bold or brave front. □ The business is just a front for a drugs ring. -5. WEATHER a line where a mass of cold air meets a mass of warm air □ a cold/warm front.

- ◇ adj [tooth, garden, page] that is at the front of or in front of something □ the front wheels of the car.
- ◇ vt -1. [house, hotel] to be outside and in front of <sthg> □ The building is fronted by extensive gardens. -2. to be the leader of <an organization> □ He fronts the country's leading consumer group. -3. to be the presenter of .
- ◇ vi to front onto sthg [onto a garden, road] to have sthg outside and in front of it □ The hotel fronts onto the beach.
- ◆ in front adj & adv -1. [walk, sit] further forward □ The people in front got served first. □ You go in front; we'll be right behind. -2. to be in front to be winning □ Schumacher is still in front with a two-second lead.
- ◆ in front of prep -1. close to the front part of  □ She was sitting in front of me/the TV. -2. when <sb> is present □ Don't tell me off in front of the staff.
- frontage ['frʌntɪdʒ] n the part of a building or piece of land that faces a street or river □ prime commercial frontage.
- frontal ['frʌntl] adj -1. [attack, assault, collision] that happens directly and from the front of something. -2. [lobe, view] that is of or at the front of something.
- front bench n the front benches in the British and Australian parliaments, the two front rows of seats on each side of the upper and lower house. The prime minister and members of the government sit in one row, and the leaders of the Opposition sit in the opposite row □ a front-bench spokesman.
- front desk n a reception desk in a hotel or office building.
- front door n the main entrance to a house, usually at the front.
- frontier [US frʌn'tɪə, GB 'frʌntɪə] n -1. new land that is wild and unexplored and is next to areas where people already live; land like this in the western USA, especially in the 19th century □ a frontier post. -2. [of a country] a border where one country meets another country □ the French-German frontier.
- ◆ frontiers npl the limit of knowledge in a particular field of study □ the frontiers of science.
- frontispiece ['frʌntɪspɪ:s] n a picture at the beginning of a book, usually facing the title page.
- front line n the front line MILITARY the area where fighting is taking place □ a front-line reporter.
- front man n -1. [for an organization] a person who represents a group of people when dealing with other people or organizations (disapproving use) □ He's a front man for the Mafia. -2. TV & RADIO the presenter of a program. -3. MUSIC the member of a group of musicians, usually the singer, who gets most attention from an audience.
- front-page adj [news, headline, article] that is important enough to be printed on the front page of a newspaper.
- front room n a room, usually at the front of a house, used as the living room.
- front-runner n the person or organization that seems most likely to win a contest, contract etc.
- front-wheel drive n a system in a vehicle in which only the front two wheels are connected directly to the engine; a vehicle that uses this system □ a front-wheel drive car.
- frost [frɒst] n -1. a thin white layer of ice that forms on the ground and other surfaces when the temperature is below freezing point □ There was frost on the window pane. -2. weather conditions when the temperature is below freezing point and frost forms □ There is a heavy frost forecast for tonight.
- Frost [frɒst], Robert (1874–1963) a US poet whose works include the poem Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening.
- frostbite ['frɒstbaɪt] n a condition in which one's fingers, toes, ears, nose etc are damaged by extreme cold.
- frostbitten ['frɒstbɪtn] adj [toe, finger] that is affected by frostbite.
- frosted ['frɒstəd] adj -1. [glass, window] that has a raised pattern on its surface so that people cannot see through it clearly. -2. [cake] that is covered with frosting.
- frosting ['frɒstɪŋ] n a covering for cakes, made from powdered sugar and liquid □ chocolate fudge frosting.
- frosty ['frɒstɪ] (compar frostier, superl frostiest) adj -1. [morning, weather] that is very cold □ It was a cold, frosty morning. -2. [field, window] that is covered with frost. -3. [person] who is unfriendly, especially because they do not like or approve of one □ She gave me a very frosty welcome.
- froth [frɒθ] ◇ n a layer of small bubbles on the surface of something, e.g. on the sea or a glass of beer. ◇ vi [beer, sea] to form froth □ The dog was frothing at the mouth.
- frothy ['frɒθɪ] (compar frothier, superl frothiest) adj [beer, sea] that has a lot of froth.
- frown [fraʊn] ◇ vi to bring one's eyebrows closer together so that there are lines on one's forehead, usually when one is annoyed, worried, or confused □ She frowned as I told her of my plans. ◇ n the expression on somebody's face when they frown □ a worried frown.
- ◆ frown (up)on vt fus to frown (up)on sthg to disapprove of sthg □ This kind of behavior is frowned upon at the Academy.
- froze [frɒz] past tense of freeze.
- frozen ['frɒzn] ◇ past participle of freeze. ◇ adj -1. [ground, field] that is hard, because the temperature is below freezing point □ The ground was frozen hard. -2. [lake, river, pond] that is covered with ice. -3. [food] that has been preserved by freezing □ frozen fish/vegetables. -4. [person, fingers] very cold □ I'm absolutely frozen! -5. [prices, salaries] that cannot be increased for a period of time; [assets] that a person, company etc is not allowed to use for a period of time □ with prices fro- zen at 1990 levels. -6. to be frozen with sth [with fear, terror] to be unable to move because of sth □ Mandy stood rooted to the spot, frozen with terror.

FRS n -1. (abbr of Federal Reserve System) the system of central banks in the USA. -2. (abbr of Fellow of the Royal Society) a title given to members of a professional body for British scientists.

frugal ['fru:gl] adj -1. [meal] that is small and simple □ Dinner at Aunt Olive's was always a frugal affair. -2. [person] who avoids spending a lot of money, usually because they are not rich □ They have a fairly frugal lifestyle.

fruit [fru:t] (pl fruit OR fruits) ◇ n -1. something that grows on a tree or bush, that contains seeds, and can usually be eaten, e.g. apples, oranges, and bananas □ Would you like some fruit? □ a fruit bowl/cocktail/tree. -2. the fruit(s) of sth [of somebody's experience, hard work] the successful result of sth □ The book is the fruit of years of research. ■ to bear fruit [work, idea] to be successful and produce results that are useful □ Their efforts have never really borne fruit. ◇ vi [tree, plant] to produce fruit.

fruitcake ['fru:tkeɪk] n a cake that contains small pieces of dried fruit.

fruiterer ['fru:tərə] n GB a person who has a store that sells fruit.

fruitful ['fru:tfl] adj [meeting, collaboration, period] that is useful and produces good results □ Our partnership with the German company GMB has proved extremely fruitful.

fruition [fru:'ʃʌn] n to come to fruition [plan, idea] to be successful and produce the result that one wanted □ One day, when this project finally comes to fruition, you'll understand what I mean.

fruit juice n a drink made from the juice of one or more types of fruit.

fruitless ['fru:tləs] adj [discussion, search] that does not produce the results that one wanted □ There have been a number of fruitless attempts to restart the talks.

fruit machine n GB a machine for gambling that pays out money when a particular combination of symbols, usually fruit, appears on its screen.

fruit salad n a dessert that consists of pieces of different types of fruit in juice.

frumpy ['frʌmpɪ] (compar frumpier, superl frumpiest) adj [person, clothes] that one finds boring, unattractive, and old-fashioned (informal use).

frustrate [US 'frʌstreɪt, GB frʌ'streɪt] vt -1. [person] to annoy or disappoint <sb> by stopping them from doing what they want to do □ Stephen's attitude really frustrates me sometimes! -2. [plan, attempt] to prevent <sb/sth> from succeeding □ The President has been frustrated in his efforts to push the bill through Congress.

frustrated [US 'frʌstreɪtəd, GB frʌ'streɪt-] adj -1. a frustrated poet/artist etc a person who would like to be a successful poet/artist etc but has not been able to achieve this.

-2. [person] who is annoyed or disappointed because they cannot do what they what □ It's easy to get frustrated and give up.

frustrating [US 'frʌstreɪtɪŋ, GB frʌ'streɪt-] adj [person, situation, time] that makes one feel frustrated □ It's so frustrating not being able to help.

frustration [frʌ'streɪʃn] n a feeling of being frustrated; something that frustrates somebody □ I snapped at him out of sheer frustration. □ It's one of the many frustrations of working at home.

fry [fraɪ] (pt & pp fried) ◇ vt [egg, steak, potatoes] to cook <food> in hot fat, oil etc. ◇ vi [egg, steak, fish] to be fried □ While the onions are frying, prepare the steak.

FRY n abbr of Federal Republic of Yugoslavia.

frying pan ['fraɪɪŋ-] n a shallow pan with a long handle, used for frying food. ■ to jump out of the frying pan into the fire to go from a bad situation to one that is even worse.

ft [in measurements] abbr of foot.

FT (abbr of Financial Times) n a British business and financial newspaper, printed on pink paper in London and Frankfurt.

FTC (abbr of Federal Trade Commission) n the FTC the US government department responsible for making sure that competition between businesses is fair.

FT index (abbr of Financial Times-Ordinary Share Index) n the FT index a figure based on the daily average prices of the shares of 30 companies on the London Stock Exchange.

FTP (abbr of file transfer protocol) n a way of moving files from one site to another.

FT-SE 100 (abbr of Financial Times - Stock Exchange 100 Share Index) n the FT-SE 100 (Index) a figure based on the average prices every hour of 100 important companies on the London Stock Exchange. It is the most important London Stock Exchange index.

fuchsia ['fju:ʃə] n a plant with red, purple, or white flowers that hang downward.

fuck▼ [fʌk] (vulgar use) ◇ vt to have sex with <sb>. ◇ vi to have sex. ◇ excl a word used to show that one is annoyed.

◆ fuck off ◇ vi to go away. ◇ excl a phrase used to tell somebody to go away.

fucking▼ ['fʌkɪŋ] adj a word used to show how strongly one feels about something (vulgar use).

fuddy-duddy ['fʌdɪdʌdɪ] (pl fuddy-duddies) n a boring and old-fashioned person who does not like new ideas (informal use).

fudge [fʌdʒ] ◇ n a soft brown candy made of sugar, butter, and milk □ a piece of fudge. ◇ vt [issue, figures] to deliberately avoid making a clear decision or statement about <sth> (informal use) □ Stop trying to fudge the issue!

fuel ['fju:əl] (US pt & pp fueled, cont fueling, GB pt & pp fuelled, cont fuelling) ◇ n something that can be used to make heat or energy, e.g. coal, petrol, or plutonium □ fuel consumption/costs. ■ to add fuel to the flames to make an unpleasant or difficult situation worse. ◇ vt -1. [boiler, engine] to supply <sthg> with fuel. -2. [argument, inflation, violence] to cause <sthg> to continue and become worse □ Mayor Tomlin's words merely served to fuel tensions in the district.

fuel pump n a mechanical pump that sends fuel to the carburetor of an engine.

fuel tank n a container for storing fuel in a motor vehicle.

fugitive ['fju:dʒətɪv] n a person who is running away or hiding from an enemy, the police etc.

fugue [fju:g] n a piece of music in which one or two tunes are repeated, with variations, by different voices or instrumental parts.

fulcrum ['fʊlkrəm] (pl fulcrums OR fulcra [-krə]) n the central point that something turns on or is balanced on.

fulfill US, fulfil GB [ful'fɪl] (vt & pp fulfilled, cont fulfilling) vt -1. [promise, ambition, duty] to carry out <sthg> □ It was not the first time he had failed to fulfill his promise to us. -2. [need, requirement, condition] to satisfy <sthg> □ I'm afraid most of these candidates fail to fulfill the basic entrance requirements of the school. □ I don't really think she feels she has fulfilled herself in her job.

fulfilling [ful'fɪlɪŋ] adj [job, life] that makes one feel satisfied and happy because one is making good use of one's abilities □ We can promise you a fulfilling career with plenty of opportunity for promotion.

fulfillment US, fulfilment GB [ful'fɪlmənt] n -1. a feeling of satisfaction or happiness that comes from making good use of one's abilities or from personal development □ a deep sense of fulfillment. -2. [of an ambition, promise, requirement] see fulfill □ Seeing the new design in operation was the fulfillment of a dream.

full [ful] ◇ adj -1. [glass, parking lot, hotel] that cannot contain any more □ I'm sorry, but the hotel is full all weekend. ■ to be full of sthg [of things, people] to contain a large amount or number of sthg; [of enthusiasm, imagination] to have a lot of sthg □ Rome was full of tourists. □ She was full of questions. -2. to be full [person] to feel full of food and not want to eat any more □ I'm so full I couldn't eat another thing! -3. [employment, details, name] complete □ You don't have to pay the full amount. □ I want a full and frank assessment of the situation. -4. [price, control, volume] maximum □ We must make the fullest possible use of the facilities. -5. [schedule, day] in which one is very busy and has little spare time □ I have a very full week ahead of me. ■ to have a full life to have a busy and satisfying life □ Marsha leads a very full life for a woman of her age. -6. [flavor, sound] strong and rich in quality □ a full-flavored Brazilian coffee. -7. [lips, figure] that looks attractively round and fat □ She had full, rounded hips. -8. [skirt, sleeves] that is made with a lot of material □ She wore a long, full skirt.

◇ adv -1. directly and with force □ She took the impact full in the face. -2. to know full well that... to know very well that... □ You know full well that I'm unable to help you right now. -3. full on GB at maximum power, speed, volume etc □ The heating was full on.

◆ in full adv completely □ Please write your name out in full. □ The money has been repaid in full.

◆ to the full adv as much as is possible □ She lived life to the full.

fullback ['fʊlbæk] n a soccer, rugby, or hockey player who plays at the back of the defense.

full-blooded [-'blʌdɪd] adj [support, attack, defense] that is strong and committed □ He wrote a full-blooded attack on the monarchy.

full-blown adj [war, argument] that has all the elements that make it complete and is therefore serious □ The drug can slow down the development of full-blown AIDS.

full board n an arrangement at a hotel or guesthouse in which guests pay to have all their meals there.

full-bodied [-'bɒdɪd] adj [wine] that has a strong pleasant taste.

full dress n formal clothes worn for a special occasion, e.g. by soldiers on parade.

full-face adj [portrait, photo] that shows somebody's face from the front rather than from the side.

full-fledged US, fully-fledged GB [-'fledʒd] adj [doctor, member, movement] that has all the qualifications or characteristics necessary to be taken seriously □ Miss Johnson is well on her way to becoming a full-fledged Hollywood star.

full-frontal adj [photo, nudity] that shows all of the front part of a naked person's body.

full-grown adj [man, woman, animal] that is fully developed and will not grow any bigger.

full house n a situation in a theater, cinema etc when every seat is taken □ We have a full house tonight.

full-length ◇ adj -1. [mirror, portrait] that is big enough to show the whole of a person's body. -2. [dress, skirt, coat] that reaches down to the feet; [curtain] that reaches down to the floor. -3. [movie, novel] that is of the usual or standard length. ◇ adv [lie] with one's body stretched out to its greatest length.

full moon n the moon when it appears completely round.

fullness ['fʊlnəs] n -1. [of details, somebody's lips, clothing] see full. -2. phrase in the fullness of time at the right moment in the future □ "When can we see it?" — "All in the fullness of time."

full-page adj [advertisement, photo] that covers a whole page of a magazine or newspaper.

full-scale adj -1. [model, drawing, copy] that is the same size as the original object. -2. [war, investigation, attack] that uses all possible means □ We want at all costs to avoid this conflict developing into a full-scale war.

full-size(d) [-'saɪz(d)] adj -1. [model] full-scale. -2. [animal, plant] full-grown. -3. US AUTO a full-size car a large sedan.

full stop GB \diamond n the punctuation mark (.) that comes after the last word of a sentence to show that the sentence is finished. \diamond adv a phrase used at the end of a statement to show that one refuses to discuss a subject further \square I'm not going, full stop.

full time n GB the moment when a sports game, especially a game of soccer, comes to an end.

\blacklozenge full-time \diamond adj [job, employment, course] that takes up all of the usual working hours of the week \square Is your course full- or part-time? \square The number of people in permanent, full-time jobs is decreasing rapidly. \square full-time staff. \diamond adv She's going back to working full-time next month.

full up adj to be full up [person] to feel full of food and not want to eat any more; [bus, train, hotel] not to have space to hold any more people \square I'm full up after that meal. \square All the hotels were full up.

fully ['fʊli] adv -1. [understand, agree, satisfy] completely \square We haven't fully decided our plans yet. \square He's not fully qualified yet. -2. [describe, answer] in a way that includes everything that is necessary \square We made every attempt to comply fully with their demands.

fully-fledged adj GB = full-fledged.

fulsome ['fʊlsəm] adj [apology, praise] that seems exaggerated and not sincere (formal use).

fumble ['fʌmbəl] \diamond vt -1. [catch, pass, ball] to handle <sthg> in an awkward and uncertain way. \diamond vi to use one's hands in an awkward and uncertain way. \blacksquare to fumble for sthg to search for sthg with one's hands in an awkward and uncertain way \square I held the flashlight while Steve fumbled for the switch. -2. SPORT to drop  after catching it.

fume [fju:m] vi to show or feel anger very strongly \square When we eventually got there, Gina was fuming.

\blacklozenge fumes npl strong-smelling gases or smoke \square Mr Hobart, 58, was overcome by the fumes. \square gasoline fumes.

fumigate [fju:migeɪt] vt [room, building] to remove germs, disease, or insects from , using chemicals.

fun [fʌn] \diamond n -1. pleasure and enjoyment; something that provides this \square We had a lot of fun. \square It's no fun working with her! \square Come on, join in the fun! \blacksquare for fun, for the fun of it for pleasure or enjoyment, rather than for any serious reason \square We just went for the fun of it. -2. to be fun [person] to have the ability to enjoy oneself and amuse others \square I like Paul, he's great fun. \square She's really fun to be with. -3: phrase to make fun of sb, to poke fun at sb to make sb look foolish by making jokes or unkind comments about them \square Are you making fun of me? \diamond adj [person, activity] that provides pleasure or enjoyment (informal use) \square He's a real fun person. \square a fun thing to do.

function ['fʌŋkʃn] \diamond n -1. [of a person, thing] the special purpose of somebody or something \square It is the function of a lawyer to provide sound legal advice. -2. [of the heart, brain] the way that something works \square This may eventu- ally impair the function of the liver. -3. [at a place] a formal or official dinner or party \square The President will attend a number of official functions during his visit. -4. MATH a value that varies according to the changes of other values that affect it. -5. COMPUTING a series of instructions that tell a computer to perform a particular task. -6. COMPUTING a special feature available on a computer.

\diamond vi -1. [machine, system] to work properly \square After the operation, your knee should soon be functioning normally again. -2. to function as sthg to perform the role of sthg \square This room also functions as a workshop.

functional ['fʌŋkʃnəl] adj -1. [furniture, design] that is made to be used for a practical purpose only and is simple and without decoration \square The furniture in his room is all plain and functional. -2. [machine, system] that is working properly \square The network is no longer functional.

functionary ['fʌŋkʃnəri] (pl functionaries) n a person whose job involves official duties.

function key n a key on a computer keyboard that is pressed to perform a particular operation.

fund [fʌnd] \diamond n -1. a large amount of money that is collected for a particular purpose, especially to help people \square The money collected will go to the Lifeboat Fund. \square My parents set up a trust fund for me when I was still in school. -2. a fund of experience/knowledge etc a large amount of experience/knowledge etc \square You will have access to staff with a fund of expertise in the fields of economics and finance. \diamond vt [project, research] to provide money for <sthg> \square The center is funded by a local charity.

\blacklozenge funds npl money that is available to an organization, a government etc, and can be spent in particular ways \square Funds are low, so don't expect too much!

fundamental [ˌfʌndə'mentl] adj -1. [belief, change, mistake] that is basic and important \square There's a fundamental difference between the two approaches. -2. to be fundamental to sthg to be essential for making sthg possible or complete \square This research is fundamental to our understanding of the human brain.

\blacklozenge fundamentals npl things which are basic and important \square the fundamentals of chemistry.

fundamentalism [ˌfʌndə'mentlɪzəm] n belief in a very strict basic form of a particular religion.

fundamentalist [ˌfʌndə'mentlɪst] n: see fundamentalism \square Christian/Islamic fundamentalists.

fundamentally [ˌfʌndə'mentlɪ] adv -1. [right, flawed, incompatible] fundamentally,... a word used to show that one is talking about the basic nature of something \square Fundamentally, it's the same system we had before. \square Professor Weiss's argument is, however, fundamentally flawed. \square The message is fundamentally one of hope. -2. [change, alter, disagree] in an important way that cannot be ignored.

funding ['fʌndɪŋ] n money that a government, organization etc provides for something \square

- I'm trying to get funding for a further degree.* □ Where will the funding come from?
- fund manager n a person whose job is to invest money on behalf of clients.
- fund-raising [-reɪzɪŋ] n the activity or job of collecting money for a purpose, especially to help people □ a fund-raising campaign/event.
- funeral ['fju:nərəl] n a ceremony at which a dead person is buried or burned □ Only close relatives attended the funeral. □ a funeral procession.
- funeral director n a person whose job is to organize funerals.
- funeral parlor n the place where a funeral director receives clients and prepares the body of a dead person before a funeral.
- funeral service n a religious service that is held before a dead person is buried or burned.
- funereal [fju:'nɪəriəl] adj [music, atmosphere] that is sad and reminds one of funerals or death □ a funereal silence.
- funfair ['fʌnfɛə] n GB an outdoor event with bright lights and music, where people enjoy themselves by riding on fast machines and playing games of skill or strength.
- fungus ['fʌŋɡəs] (pl fungi [-gəɪ] OR funguses) n a type of plant, e.g. a mushroom, that does not have any flowers, leaves, or green coloring □ There was fungus growing all over the wall.
- funk [fʌŋk] n MUSIC a type of modern dance music with a strong beat and guitar rhythms.
- funky [fʌŋki] (compar funkier, superl funkiest) adj [music, rhythm, beat] see funk.
- funnel ['fʌnl] (US pl & pp funneled, cont funneling, GB pl & pp funnelled, cont funnelling) ◇ n -1. a tube that is wide at the top and narrow at the bottom and is used for pouring liquids or powders into a container with a narrow neck. -2. a metal chimney on a ship. ◇ vt -1. [water, oil] to make  go through a narrow space. -2. [crowd, money] to make <sthg> go somewhere in a controlled way. ◇ vi [people] to move somewhere through a narrow space □ The crowd funneled out of the gates.
- funnily ['fʌnəli] adv [smile, act] in a strange way □ I thought Steve was behaving funnily when I last saw him. ■ funnily enough,... a phrase used to introduce a piece of information that one thinks is strange or surprising □ Funnily enough, I ran into her just yesterday.
- funny ['fʌni] (compar funnier, superl funniest) adj -1. [joke, story, person] that is amusing and makes people laugh □ I don't see what's so funny about it! □ He's the funniest man I've ever heard! -2. [situation, person] that one finds interesting, surprising, or worrying □ It's a funny world. □ The funny thing is, I'd never even met him before. -3. to feel funny to feel slightly ill or slightly worried (informal use).
- ◆ funnies npl the funnies US the comic strips in a newspaper.
- funny bone n the sensitive part of the elbow that hurts very much if it is hit.
- funny farm n a mental hospital (informal and humorous use).
- fun run n an event in which people run a certain distance in order to collect money for a particular purpose, especially for charity.
- fur [fɜ:'] n -1. [of a cat, fox, rabbit] the soft thick hair that covers the body of some animals □ a piece of rabbit fur. -2. [for clothes] the skin of an animal that is covered with fur; an item of clothing, especially a coat, that is made from this or from an artificial material that looks like it □ a fur collar □ a fur-lined hat □ She was wrapped in expensive fur. -3. [on one's tongue] a white coating on one's tongue.
- fur coat n a coat made from the fur of an animal.
- Furies [fju:'ɜəri:] the Furies in Roman and Greek mythology, three goddesses who punished people who had done something wrong.
- furious [fju:'ɜəriəs] adj -1. [person] who is very angry □ Mary will be furious with us if we're late. -2. [effort, activity, discussion] that is very energetic and uncontrolled □ The runners set off at a furious pace.
- furiously [fju:'ɜəriəsli] adv -1. [shout, deny, react] very angrily □ an accusation which she furiously denied. -2. [run, try, fight] in a wild or uncontrolled way □ The cat was scrabbling furiously at the door.
- furled [fɜ:'ld] adj [flag, umbrella, sail] that is rolled or folded up because it is not being used.
- furlong [fɜ:'lɒŋ] n a unit (201 meters) used mainly in horse racing for measuring distance.
- furnace [fɜ:'nɪs] n a very large oven used for industrial purposes, e.g. in iron and steel production.
- furnish [fɜ:'nɪʃ] vt -1. [room, house, office] to provide  with furniture □ They had furnished the apartment with beautiful antiques. -2. [goods, proof] to provide <sthg that somebody wants> □ They furnished us with all the information we needed.
- furnished [fɜ:'nɪʃt] adj [apartment, room] that contains furniture □ We're looking for somewhere that's fully furnished.
- furnishings [fɜ:'nɪʃɪŋz] npl a collective term for the furniture and fittings in a room or house □ soft furnishings.
- furniture [fɜ:'nɪtʃə] n a collective term for the movable objects, e.g. tables and chairs, that are found in a room and have particular uses □ a piece of furniture □ We had hardly any furniture when we moved in.
- furniture polish n a polish that is used for cleaning the surface of wooden furniture so that it shines.
- furor [fju:'ɜərə] US, furore [fju:'ɜ:rɔ:] GB n a situation in which a lot of anger or excitement is expressed by people who are reacting to something □ His comments caused a furor in the national press.
- furfy [fɜ:'fi] (pl furfies) n AUS a rumor or untrue story (informal use).

furrier ['fʌrɪə] n a person who makes or sells clothes made from fur.

furrow ['fʌrəʊ] n -1. a long deep line in a field, caused by the soil being turned over by a plow. -2. a deep line in the skin of somebody's face, especially on the forehead.

furrowed ['fʌrəʊd] adj -1. [field, land] that has furrows. -2. [brow] that is covered with wrinkles because one is frowning.

furry ['fʌrɪ] (compar furrier, superl furriest) adj -1. [animal, coat] that is covered with fur □ I felt something furry rub against my leg. -2. [material, toy] that is made from something that is similar to fur.

further ['fɜːðə] (compar of far) ◇ adv -1. [walk, travel, jump] a greater distance □ How much further is it? □ My next trip took me even further from home. -2. [complicate, develop] to a greater extent □ We need to cut costs still further. ■ to go further with sthg, to take sthg further to continue with sthg □ I'm not sure that I want to take this case any further. ■ this must not go any further you must not tell this to anybody else.

◇ adj [information, assistance, developments] more, extra □ Any further questions? ■ until further notice until you receive different instructions □ The service has been suspended until further notice.

◇ vt [career, cause] to help <sthg> to develop and become more successful □ We hope to further our aims by writing to all the papers.

◆ further to prep BUSINESS further to your letter of the 6th on the subject of your letter of the 6th (formal use).

further education n GB education received after leaving school, but not at university.

furthermore [ˌfɜːðə'mɔː] adv a word used to introduce another important point in an argument or explanation □ Furthermore, Jonson had no authority to give these instructions.

furthermost [ˌfɜːðə'məʊst] adj that is furthest away (formal use).

furthest [ˌfɜːðɪst] (superl of far) ◇ adv -1. [walk, travel, jump] the greatest distance □ It's the furthest I've ever been from home. -2. [develop, advance] in the greatest detail or to the greatest extent □ Who got the furthest with solving the problem? ◇ adj [house, outpost] that is the greatest distance away □ It's the large white one, the furthest on your left.

furtive [ˌfɜːtɪv] adj [person] who acts as if they are keeping something secret, especially something they should not be doing □ He gave her a furtive glance.

furtively [ˌfɜːtɪvlɪ] adv [look, behave] see furtive □ I furtively removed the empty wine bottle from the table.

fury [ˈfjʊəri] n extreme anger □ She was white with fury. ■ in a fury very angry □ He left in a fury, slamming the door behind him.

fuse [ˈfjuːz] ◇ n -1. ELECTRICITY a device in a plug or electric system containing a short thin piece of wire that melts and breaks the circuit if too much electricity passes through it. -2. [of a firework, bomb] a piece of wire, rope, paper etc that carries fire to a firework or bomb and causes it to explode after a certain period of time.

◇ vt -1. to join <pieces of metal> together using heat. -2. to combine <ideas, systems, styles> etc to create something new.

◇ vi -1. GB ELECTRICITY [plug, light] to stop working because a fuse has melted. -2. [pieces of metal] The girders had fused into a single mass. -3. [ideas, systems, styles] The three religions fused into a single creed.

fusebox [ˈfjuːzɒks] n a box that is usually found on an inside wall of a building and that contains the fuses for the electric circuits in the building.

fused [ˈfjuːzd] adj GB [appliance, plug] that has a fuse □ Is this plug fused?

fuselage [ˈfjuːzələʒ] n the main part of an airplane, but not the wings, tail, or nose.

fuse wire n the wire that is used in fuses.

fusillade [US ˈfjuːsələɪd, GB ˈfjuːzələɪd] n a large number of shots fired from several guns in a short period of time.

fusion [ˈfjuːzən] n -1. [of ideas, systems, styles] see fuse □ a fusion of jazz and hard rock. -2. PHYSICS a reaction in which two nuclei combine and release energy □ atomic fusion.

fuss [fʌs] ◇ n unnecessary excitement, anxiety, or anger □ What's all the fuss about now? ■ to kick up OR make a fuss to show that one is excited, anxious, or annoyed, often about something that is not very important, by talking loudly or shouting to attract people's attention □ They made a big fuss about the size of the bill. ■ to make a fuss of sb to show sb a lot of attention, hospitality, or affection □ Grandma loves to make a fuss of the children when they come to see her. ◇ vi to behave in an excited or anxious way, especially when it is unnecessary □ You're always fussing about something, try to relax!

◆ fuss over vt fus to fuss over sb to show sb too much attention in an excited or anxious way □ Quit fussing over the poor boy and give him a chance to get his coat off.

fussy [ˈfʌsi] (compar fussier, superl fussiest) adj -1. [person, eater, customer] who is very particular about details and is difficult to please □ He's very fussy about who he lends his CDs to. -2. [dress, furniture] that is decorated with too much detail □ a white blouse with lots of fussy little bows and ribbons on it.

fusty [ˈfʌsti] (compar fustier, superl fustiest) adj -1. [room, clothing] that smells old and unpleasant because it has been kept away from fresh air for a long time. -2. [person, idea, attitude] old-fashioned.

futile [US ˈfjuːtɪl, GB -aɪl] adj [attempt, action, question] that does not achieve any useful results □ It's futile trying to reason with him.

futility [ˌfjuːtɪləti] n: see futile □ The movie depicts the futility of war.

futon [ˈfuːtʌn] n a thin cotton mattress for sleeping on that can be folded when it is not being used.

future [ˈfjuːtʃə] ◇ n -1. [in time] the time that comes after the present □ We must look to the future, not to the past. ■ in the future at a time after now □ Sometime in the future, I would like to be my own boss. □ I hope to hear from you in the near future. -2. [of a person] the things that will happen to somebody or something in the future □ You have to think of your future. □ You have a great future ahead of you. ■ to have a future to be likely to be successful □ This kind of hardware has no future. -3. GRAMMAR the future (tense) the tense of the verb that is used to refer to future actions and states.

◇ adj -1. [date, generation] that will exist in the future; [event, occasion] that will happen in the future □ It may not help us, but it's something that future generations will benefit from. □ I kept the document for future reference. -2. [president, wife] who is soon to have a particular job or role □ Meet your future boss.

◆ in (the) future adv on the next similar occasion and on all other similar occasions after that □ In the future, I will personally be checking the accounts. □ Try to be more careful in future.

◆ futures npl FINANCE contracts to buy commodities, currencies etc at prices fixed in the present, with payment and delivery made at a time in the future.

futuristic [ˌfju:tʃə'nɪstɪk] adj [architecture, design, world] that appears very modern, as if it belonged to the future.

fuzz [fʌz] n -1. short, soft, light hairs on somebody's skin. -2. the fuzz the police (informal and old-fashioned use).

fuzzy [ˈfʌzi] (compar fuzzier, superl fuzziest) adj -1. [hair] that forms a soft curly mass. -2. [image, sound] not clear. -3. [idea, mind] confused □ My head feels fuzzy after last night.

fwd. abbr of forward.

fwy abbr of freeway.

FY n abbr of fiscal year.

FYI abbr of for your information.

G

g¹ [dʒi:] (pl g's OR gs), G [dʒi:] (pl G's OR Gs) n the seventh letter of the English alphabet.

◆ G ◇ n MUSIC one of the notes in Western music. ◇ -1. abbr of good. -2. (abbr of general audience OR exhibition) a symbol used in the USA and Australia to show that a movie or videotape is suitable for everybody to watch.

g² -1. abbr of gram. -2. abbr of gravity.

G7 [ˌdʒi:'sevn] adj (abbr of Group of Seven) a group of seven major industrial nations: the USA, Japan, Canada, France, Germany, Italy, and Britain.

GA abbr of Georgia.

gab [gæb] n → gift.

gabardine ['gæbə'di:n] n -1. a thick, soft, waterproof material that is used for making clothes □ a gabardine suit/coat. -2. a coat made from gabardine.

gabble ['gæbl] ◇ vi to speak quickly and in an unclear way □ He was gabbling on about nothing as usual. ◇ vt: She gabbled (out) her story. ◇ n the sound of a person or people gabbling.

gable ['geɪbl] n the top part of a wall of a house that forms a triangle under the roof.

Gabriel ['geɪbrɪəl] in the Bible, the angel sent by God to tell Mary that she would be the mother of Jesus.

gad [gæd] (pt & pp gadded, cont gadding) ◆ gad about vi to move or travel around enjoying oneself, rather than doing something useful (informal and old-fashioned use).

gadget ['gædʒɪt] n any small device, especially one that is used in people's homes, e.g. a can opener □ a kitchen gadget.

gadgetry ['gædʒɪtri] n gadgets.

Gaelic ['geɪlɪk] ◇ n a language spoken in Ireland and parts of Scotland. ◇ adj: Gaelic poetry/speakers.

gaffe [gæf] n an embarrassing mistake made in a social situation □ I made a terrible gaffe at Sarah's wedding.

gag [gæg] (pt & pp gagged, cont gagging) ◇ n -1. a piece of material used to cover or block somebody's mouth so that they cannot speak or shout. -2. a joke, especially one told by a professional comedian (informal use). ◇ vt -1. [person] to put a gag on or in the mouth of <sb> □ He was found in the cellar, tied up and gagged. -2. [journalist, newspaper] to stop <sb/sthg> from telling people something that is an official secret. ◇ vi to choke as if one is going to vomit □ The smell made him gag.

Gagarin [gə'gɑ:ri:n], Yuri (1934–1968) a Russian cosmonaut who became the first person to go into space in 1961.

gage [geɪdʒ] n & vt US = gauge.

gaiety ['geɪti] n an atmosphere or feeling of fun and happiness.

gaily ['geɪli] adv -1. [talk, laugh, walk] in a cheerful way. -2. gaily colored/dressed etc brightly colored/dressed etc.

gain [geɪn] ◇ n -1. BUSINESS a financial profit □ We made a net gain of $300,000. -2. [for oneself] the improvement of one's own situation □ Financial gain was her sole motive. -3. [in output, weight, popularity] an increase or improvement in quality or quantity □ There has been a considerable gain in productivity.

◇ vt -1. [support, advantage, reputation] to get <sthg useful>, especially over a period of time □ He has gained the respect of his colleagues. □ There's nothing to be gained by staying. -2. [confidence, speed, weight] to get more of <sthg> □ I'm gaining strength every day.

-3. [watch, clock] to go ahead of time by <seconds, minutes, or hours> □ For some reason, my watch gains a few minutes a day.

◇ vi -1. to gain in sthg [in strength, experience] to gradually get or develop more of sthg □ Every day the party is gaining in popularity.
-2. [from a deal, change] to get something useful from an event or situation □ We hope to gain from OR by the removal of tariffs.
-3. [watch, clock] to go too fast □ My watch keeps gaining!

◆ gain on vt fus to gain on sb [on a rival, opponent, competitor] to reduce the space between oneself and sb who is ahead □ Can't you go any faster? They're gaining on us!

gainful ['geɪnfl] adj to be in gainful employment to be doing a job for which one is paid (formal use).

gainfully ['geɪnflɪ] adv to be gainfully employed to be doing a job for which one is paid (formal use).

gainsay [ˌgeɪn'seɪ] (vt & pp gainsaid [ˌgeɪn'sed]) vt [statement, fact] to deny or contradict <sthg> (formal use).

Gainsborough [US 'geɪnzbɜːrou, GB -bərə], Thomas (1727–1788) a British artist, well known for his landscapes and portraits of people in fashionable society.

gait [geɪt] n the particular way in which somebody walks (formal use) □ I immediately recognized Luther's slow, rambling gait.

gaiters ['geɪtəz] npl cloth or leather coverings for the lower front part of one's legs, usually worn by skiers, climbers, or walkers to keep water or snow out.

gal. abbr of gallon.

gala [US 'geɪlə, GB 'gɑːlə] n -1. a special event organized to entertain people □ a gala performance/occasion. -2. GB SPORT a sports meeting □ a swimming gala.

galah [gə'ləː] n a pink and gray cockatoo that is found in most parts of Australia and is popular as a cage bird.

Galahad ['gæləhəd], Sir in English legends, one of King Arthur's knights, known for being kind and honorable.

Galapagos Islands [US gə'ləɪpəgəʊs-, GB -'læp-əgəs-]: the Galapagos Islands a group of islands in the Pacific Ocean that form a province of Ecuador. They are famous for their giant tortoises. SIZE: 7,800 sq kms. POPULATION: 6,000.

galaxy ['gæləksɪ] (pl galaxies) n a large group of planets and stars.

gale [geɪl] n -1. a very strong wind □ gale-force winds. -2. gales of laughter a lot of loud laughter.

Galileo [ˌgæli'leɪou] (1564–1642) an Italian scientist, mathematician, and astronomer who built the first modern telescope and made many important discoveries.

gall [gɔːl] ◇ n to have the gall to do sthg to do sthg that seems rude or unfair □ He had the gall to say I'd done nothing to help. ◇ vt to make <sb> angry or annoyed because they feel unfairly treated □ What really galls me is watching him take the credit for all my hard work!

gall. abbr of gallon.

gallant [sense 1 'gælənt, sense 2 gə'lənt, 'gælənt] adj (old-fashioned use) -1. [fight, soldier] that is brave and honorable. -2. [man, gesture, behavior] that is very polite and helpful to other people, especially women □ It was very gallant of you to give up your seat!

gallantry ['gæləntri] n gallant behavior (old-fashioned or formal use).

gall bladder n a part of one's body like a small bag that holds liquid produced by the liver.

galleon ['gælɪən] n a large sailing ship used in the past.

gallery ['gæləri] (pl galleries) n -1. [for exhibitions] a place where people go to see exhibitions of works of art □ an art gallery. -2. [for buying] a place where works of art are sold □ a commercial gallery. -3. [in a court] an area of seats or standing space above a room or hall, e.g. in a court or parliament, where people can watch and listen to what is happening □ a public gallery □ the visitors' gallery. -4. [in a theater] the highest section of seats facing the stage in a theater.

galley ['gæli] (pl galleys) n -1. a long low ship, often rowed by slaves, that was used in the past for trading or as a warship. -2. [on a ship] the kitchen in a ship or aircraft. -3. a galley (proof) PRINTING a copy of the pages of a book, printed on a continuous sheet, on which corrections can be made before printing the final pages.

Gallic ['gælik] adj [charm, style, humor] that is typically French.

galling ['gɔːlɪŋ] adj that one finds very annoying because it seems unfair □ It's so galling knowing that all this trouble could have been avoided.

Gallipoli [gə'li:pəli] a peninsula in Turkey where Allied troops tried unsuccessfully to land in World War I.

gallivant ['gælɪvənt] vi to go from one place to another enjoying oneself, rather than doing something useful (informal and old-fashioned use).

gallon ['gælən] n a unit (US 3.79 liters, GB 4.55 liters) used for measuring liquids, e.g. gasoline or water.

gallop ['gæləp] ◇ n -1. the fastest pace of a horse □ The horse broke into a gallop. -2. a ride on a horse that is running at its fastest pace □ We went for a gallop. ◇ vi -1. [horse] to run very fast, lifting all four legs off the ground once in every stride. -2. [person] to run fast □ She came galloping down the stairs with excitement.

galloping ['gæləpɪŋ] adj that is increasing very quickly □ galloping inflation.

gallows ['gæləʊz] (pl gallows) n a wooden structure on which criminals are killed by hanging.

gallstone ['gɔːlstəʊn] n a small hard lump that can form in the gall bladder and cause pain.

Gallup pollTM ['gæləp-] n a survey of a typical selection of the people in a country in which they are asked for their opinions on something or how they will vote in the next election.

galore [gə'lo:ɹ] adv opportunities/money etc galore a large number or amount of opportunities/money etc □ Help yourself, there's food galore.

galoshes [gə'loʃɪz] npl special rubber shoes that are used to cover normal shoes and protect them from rain or snow.

galvanize, -ise ['gælvənaɪz] vt -1. TECHNOLOGY to give <iron> a covering of zinc as a protection against rust. -2. to galvanize sb into action to make sb start doing something suddenly by making them feel shocked, angry, frightened etc □ It took an election defeat to finally galvanize the party into action.

Galway ['gɔ:lweɪ] -1. a county in the west of the Republic of Ireland. SIZE: 5,939 sq kms. POPULATION: 178,180. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Galway. -2. a port on the west coast of Ireland. POPULATION: 47,008.

Gama ['gɑ:mə], Vasco da (1469–1525) a Portuguese explorer who discovered the sea route to India, around the Cape of Good Hope.

Gambia ['gæmbɪə]: (the) Gambia a country in West Africa, surrounded by Senegal. SIZE: 11,300 sq kms. POPULATION: 900,000 (Gambians). CAPITAL: Banjul. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: dalasi.

gambit ['gæmbɪt] n -1. something that somebody does at the beginning of a game or situation in order to gain an advantage. -2. a phrase, statement, question etc used to start a conversation, argument etc □ His favorite opening gambits usually involve saying something to shock people.

gamble ['gæmbəl] ◇ n an action or decision that involves a risk, but could produce a good result □ Sometimes you've just got to take a gamble. ◇ vi to risk money on something, e.g. the result of a horse race or game of cards □ She's been known to gamble on the stock exchange.

◆ gamble on vt fus to gamble on sthg to take a risk on sthg □ She might come, but I wouldn't gamble on it.

gambler ['gæmblə] n a person who gambles regularly.

gambling ['gæmbliŋ] n the activity of trying to make money by risking it on a horse race, game of cards etc □ gambling debts.

gambol ['gæmbəl] (US pt & pp gambled, cont gamboling, GB pt & pp gambolled, cont gambolling) vi [child, dog] to jump or run around in an excited playful way (literary use).

game [geɪm] ◇ n -1. a sport or test of skill, knowledge, chance etc that one takes part in to win against an opponent or to gain personal satisfaction □ What's your favorite game? -2. [for children] an activity, done especially by children, that involves pretending, following rules, using special toys etc; the equipment used for this □ Let's play a game. □ Did you get any new games for Christmas? -3. [of football, cards, chess] an event in which players or teams play against each other in order to win □ How about a game of tennis? -4. TENNIS one of the short sections that make a set in a tennis match □ Game, set, and match to Navratilova. -5. HUNTING wild animals or birds that are hunted and killed, especially for sport □ game pie. -6. phrases to beat sb at their own game to use the same tricks as sb in order to be in a better position than them □ You'll just have to beat Owen at his own game, that's all. ■ what's your/his etc game? a phrase used to ask why somebody is behaving in a particular way, usually because it appears to be dishonest. ■ the game's up a phrase used to tell somebody that their plan or activity is no longer a secret and that they cannot continue in the same way. ■ to give the game away to reveal a secret plan or activity.

◇ adj to be game [person] to be willing to do something unusual, difficult, or dangerous □ He's always game for a laugh.

◆ games ◇ npl an organized event in which competitions in a number of different sports take place □ the Olympic Games. ◇ n GB sports that are played at a school as part of the regular timetable.

gamekeeper ['geɪmkɪ:pə] n a person whose job is to look after the animals and birds on a private area of land before they are hunted for sport.

gamely ['geɪmli] adv [fight, continue] bravely □ He very gamely attempted to finish the race, despite his injury.

game reserve n an area of land on which wild animals and birds are kept and hunted for sport.

game show n a TV program where people play games or answer questions to try and win prizes.

gamesmanship ['geɪmzənʃɪp] n the practice of distracting one's opponent or destroying their confidence to win a game.

gamma rays ['gæmə-] npl rays of very short wavelength from a radioactive source.

gammon ['gæmən] n meat from the cured back leg of a pig □ a gammon steak.

gamut ['gæmət] n the gamut of sthg the complete range of sthg □ the whole gamut of emotions. ■ to run the gamut of sthg [of emotion] to experience every possible kind of sthg.

gander ['gændə] n a male goose.

Gandhi ['gændɪ], Mahatma (1869–1948) an Indian lawyer and religious leader who led the movement to make his country independent from Britain. He is famous for his policy of avoiding violence.

gang [gæŋ] n -1. [of criminals, workmen] an organized group of people, especially men, who work together □ a criminal gang. -2. [of friends, young people] a group of young people who often do things or go out together. -3. a group of young people who go around together and often cause trouble □ a street gang.

◆ gang up vi to act together as a group, e.g. to attack or frighten somebody □ He complained that his workmates had been ganging up on him.

Ganges ['gændʒi:z] the Ganges a river in Asia that begins in the Himalayas and flows into the Bay of Bengal. It is a sacred river to Hindus.

gangland ['gæŋlənd] adj that is connected with criminal gangs □ a gangland murder/racket.

gangling ['gæŋɡlɪŋ], gangly ['gæŋɡlɪ] (compar ganglier, superl gangliest) adj [person, animal] that is tall and thin, has long legs, and moves awkwardly.

gangplank ['gæŋplæŋk] n a plank used by people for walking on or off a boat.

gangrene ['gæŋɡri:n] n the decay of a part of the body that is caused when disease, injury etc stops blood getting to it □ Gangrene had set in in his foot.

gangrenous ['gæŋɡrɪnəs] adj [wound, limb] that is affected by gangrene.

gangster ['gæŋstə] n a person who belongs to an organized gang of violent criminals.

gangway ['gæŋwei] n -1. = gangplank. -2. GB a passage between rows of seats, e.g. on a bus or in a theater.

gannet ['gænət] (pl gannet OR gannets) n a large white seabird that dives to catch fish.

gantry ['gæŋtri] (pl gantries) n a high metal structure, built like a frame, that supports e.g. railroad signals, a crane, or a space rocket.

GAO n abbr of General Accounting Office.

gaol [dʒeɪl] n & vt GB = jail.

gap [gæp] n -1. [between two objects] an empty space between two things or in the middle of something □ The dog disappeared through a gap in the hedge. □ There's a gap between the two seats. -2. [in time] a short period of time when nothing is being done □ I've got a gap in my schedule tomorrow afternoon. -3. [in knowledge, report] something that is missing and makes something incomplete □ There are large gaps in my knowledge of current affairs. □ Her death left a terrible gap in our lives. -4. [between two ideas, people] a great difference between two things, people, or groups of people □ There's a huge gap between one's dreams and reality.

gape [geɪp] vi [person] to stare at somebody or something with one's mouth open in a way that shows one is stupid or surprised □ He gaped at me in amazement. □ He just stood there gaping.

gaping ['geɪpɪŋ] adj a gaping hole/wound a very wide hole/wound.

garage [US ɡə'reɪʒ, GB ɡæɹɑ:ʒ] n -1. a building, often attached to a house, where a car is kept □ a garage door. -2. a place where cars are serviced, repaired, and sold, and where gasoline is sometimes sold □ My car's at the garage. □ a garage mechanic.

garage sale n a sale of unwanted clothes, books, records etc, usually held in somebody's garage.

🗑️ GARAGE SALE

Garage sales are very popular in the USA and Australia. When people want to get rid of things in their home that they no longer want, for example because they are moving, they hold a garage sale, which can include furniture, clothes, books, and tools. The sale may take place in their garage, inside their house, in their yard, or even on the street outside the house. Garage sales are advertised in local newspapers or on signs around the neighborhood.

garb [ɡɑ:'b] n clothing (formal use).

garbage ['ɡɑ:'bɪdʒ] n -1. US things that people no longer want and throw away, e.g. waste food, used paper, and empty cans. -2. nonsense (informal use).

garbage bag n US a plastic bag placed inside a trash can and used to collect trash.

garbage can n US a container with a lid, usually kept in the kitchen or outside the house, in which people put their garbage.

garbage collector n US a person whose job is to collect people's garbage and take it away.

garbage disposal n US a device fitted to the drain of a kitchen sink that breaks up waste food so that it can go down the drain with water.

garbage truck n US a truck that is used for collecting garbage from people's houses.

garbled ['ɡɑ:'bld] adj [message, explanation] that is confused and difficult to understand □ He left a garbled message on my answering machine.

Garda ['ɡɑ:'dɑ] n the Garda (Síochána) the police force of the Irish Republic.

garden ['ɡɑ:'dn] ◇ n -1. an area of private ground in front of or behind a house that usually has a lawn and flowerbeds, bushes, trees etc and is used for relaxation and to look at □ a front/back garden □ a garden plant □ garden furniture/tools. -2. = vegetable garden. ◇ vi to take care of a garden by keeping it tidy, weeding, planting flowers etc.

◆ gardens npl a public area containing lawns, trees, flowerbeds etc.

garden center n a store that sells gardening equipment, seeds, plants etc.

garden city n GB a town that has been specially designed to have a lot of open green spaces and trees.

gardener ['ɡɑ:'dnə] n a person whose job is to look after gardens; a person who enjoys gardening as a hobby or pastime.

gardenia [ɡɑ:'di:njə] n a plant with dark-green leaves and white or yellow flowers that smell very sweet.

gardening ['ɡɑ:'dnɪŋ] n the activity of taking care of a garden □ gardening gloves/equipment.

garden party n a formal party held outdoors on a lawn or in a garden.

gargantuan [gɑ:'gæntʃʊən] adj enormous (literary use).

gargle ['gɑ:'gl] vi to wash one's throat by holding liquid in it and breathing out so that one blows bubbles through the liquid □ Try gargling with an antiseptic solution.

gargoyle ['gɑ:'gɔɪl] n a decoration in the form of an ugly person's or animal's head, that is part of a roof gutter on old buildings and which the rainwater flows out of.

Garibaldi [,gærɪ'bɔ:ldɪ], Giuseppe (1807–1882) an Italian soldier and nationalist leader.

garish ['gærɪʃ] adj [piece of clothing, furniture] that is too brightly colored and is unpleasant to look at.

garland ['gɑ:'lænd] n a ring of flowers, leaves etc that is worn around one's head or neck or used as a decoration.

garlic ['gɑ:'fɪk] n a vegetable that looks like a small onion divided into segments, has a strong taste and smell, and is often used in cooking □ a clove of garlic □ crushed garlic.

garlic bread n pieces of cooked bread spread with garlic and butter.

garlicky ['gɑ:'fɪkɪ] adj [food, breath] that tastes or smells of garlic (informal use).

garment ['gɑ:'mənt] n a piece of clothing.

garner ['gɑ:'nə] vt [truth, news, support] to get <sthg>, often from several different places (formal use).

garnet ['gɑ:'nət] n a deep-red semi-precious stone.

garnish ['gɑ:'nɪʃ] ◇ n a vegetable, fruit, herb etc used to decorate food or to improve its taste □ a salad garnish. ◇ vt to decorate <food> with vegetables, fruit, herbs etc □ Garnish the fish with lemon and parsley.

garret [US 'gerət, GB 'gær-] n a small room below the roof of a house.

garrison [US 'gerɪsən, GB 'gær-] ◇ n troops who live in a town, base, fort etc to protect it. ◇ vt to protect  as a garrison.

garrulous [US 'gerələs, GB 'gær-] adj [person] who talks too much □ Pete tended to become garrulous when he was nervous.

garter ['gɑ:'tə] n -1. a band worn around one's leg to keep socks or stockings in place. -2. US one of the four straps that are attached at one end to a woman's underwear and at the other end to her stockings to keep them up □ a garter belt.

gas [gæs] (pl gases OR gasses, pt & pp gassed, cont gassing) ◇ n -1. CHEMISTRY a kind of substance that is neither solid nor liquid and usually cannot be seen □ the emission of poisonous gases into the atmosphere. -2. [for heating, lighting, cooking] gas used as a fuel □ There is no gas supply in the village. -3. US = gasoline. ■ to step on the gas to make a vehicle go faster; to hurry up (informal use). -4. US excess gas produced in the stomach. ◇ vt to poison or kill  by making them breathe in poisonous gas.

gas can n US a plastic or metal container with a handle and a long spout for keeping gasoline in, e.g. in one's car.

gas cap n US the cap or lid that covers the hole used for putting gasoline into a vehicle.

gas chamber n a room in which people or animals are killed using poisonous gas.

gas cooker n GB = gas stove.

gas cylinder n a cylindrical metal container for gas.

gaseous [US 'gæʃəs, GB 'gæsi-] adj [substance] that is in the form of a gas.

gas fire n GB a heater in a room that uses gas for fuel.

gas fitter n GB a person whose job is to fit and repair gas appliances and pipes.

gas gage n US a gage that shows how much gas is left in a tank.

gash [gæʃ] ◇ n a large deep cut or wound □ She has a nasty gash in her knee. ◇ vt [arm, leg] to make a gash in .

gasket ['gæskət] n a seal used in a joint between metal surfaces to stop gas, oil, water etc from escaping.

gasman ['gæsmæn] (pl gasmen) n a person who checks gas meters.

gas mask n a mask worn as protection against poisonous gas.

gasmen ['gæsmen] plural of gasman.

gas meter n a meter in a building that measures how much gas has been used.

gasoline ['gæsəli:n] n US a liquid made from natural oil that is used as a fuel in motor cars and other engines.

gasometer [gæ'sɒmətə] n a very large, round, tall tank in a city in which gas for use as fuel is stored.

gas oven n -1. a kitchen oven that uses gas for fuel. -2. = gas chamber.

gasp [US gæsp, GB gɑ:sp] ◇ n the act or sound of suddenly breathing in, that one makes when one feels pain, a shock, surprise etc □ She gave a gasp of surprise. ◇ vi -1. to breathe quickly and deeply through the mouth because one isn't able to get enough air into one's lungs □ She emerged from under the water gasping for air. -2. to give a gasp □ The audience gasped at his audacity. □ We gasped in or with amazement.

gas pedal n US the pedal in a motor vehicle that one presses with one's foot in order to go faster.

gas station n US a place that sells gasoline for vehicles.

gas station attendant n US a person whose job is to fill cars with gas at a gas station.

gas stove n a kitchen stove that uses gas for fuel.

gassy ['gæsi] (compar gassier, superl gassiest) adj [water, beer] that contains too much gas in the form of carbon dioxide bubbles.

gas tank n US a container that supplies gasoline to the engine of a vehicle.

gas tap n a tap on a gas pipe that is used to turn a supply of gas on or off.

gastric ['gæstri:k] adj a gastric complaint an illness of the stomach. ■ gastric juices the acids in one's stomach that help to digest food.

gastric ulcer n an ulcer in the stomach.

gastritis [gæ'straɪtəs] n inflammation of the lining of the stomach.

gastroenteritis [,gæstrəʊentə'raɪtəs] n inflammation of the stomach and intestine.

gastronomic [,gæstrə'nɒmɪk] adj: see gastronomy □ gastronomic delights.

gastronomy [gæ'strɒnəmi] n the art and practice of cooking and enjoying very good-quality food.

gasworks ['gæswɜ:kz] (pl gasworks) n a place where gas for use as fuel is produced.

gate [geɪt] n -1. a barrier in a wall, fence, hedge etc that opens and closes on hinges □ We climbed over the gate into the next field. -2. an entrance in an airport which passengers go through to their airplane □ Flight AI101 is now boarding at Gate 19.

gâteau [US gæ'tou, GB 'gætou] (pl gâteaux [US gæ'touz, GB 'gætouz]) n GB a type of cake with cream in the middle and on top.

gatecrash ['geɪtkræʃ] ◇ vt to attend  etc without an invitation. ◇ vi: We tried to gatecrash but they wouldn't let us in.

gatecrasher ['geɪtkræʃə] n a person who has gatecrashed or tried to gatecrash a party, meeting etc.

gatehouse ['geɪthaus, pl -haʊzɪz] n a house built next to a gate that is the entrance to a park, castle, estate etc.

gatekeeper ['geɪtki:pə] n a person whose job is to let people in and out of a gate next to a gatehouse.

gatepost ['geɪtpəʊst] n one of the two posts which a gate is attached or tied to.

gateway ['geɪtwei] n -1. [of a building] an entrance or exit which has a gate. -2. [to success] a means of getting something □ An MBA is seen as a gateway to a career in management consultancy. -3. [to a country] a route to a place □ Singapore, gateway to the East.

gather ['gæðə] ◇ vt -1. [people, firewood, information] to bring <several people or things> together in one place from several different places □ We gathered together all our belongings and piled them into the truck. □ He gathered the whole family together before making his announcement. -2. to gather speed OR momentum to get faster □ The reform process has been steadily gathering momentum. ■ to gather force OR strength [movement, party, campaign] to get stronger. -3. to gather (that)... to know that something is true because one has read it or heard it from somebody else □ I gather (that) he won't be coming after all. □ I gather you told Emily I was sick. -4. [cloth, garment] to pull  together to form folds or pleats □ The skirt is gathered at the waist.

◇ vi [people, animals, clouds] to come together in one place □ A large crowd had gathered in the square to watch the fireworks.

◆ gather up vt sep to gather things up to collect several things and put them all together.

gathering ['gæðərɪŋ] n a meeting of people; the people at this meeting □ a social gathering.

GATT [gæt] (abbr of General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) n an international organization that was established in 1947 to encourage trade between its members. It was replaced in 1995 by the WTO.

Gatwick ['gætɪk] a major international airport in England, south of London.

gauche [gouʃ] adj [person] who behaves in a clumsy way toward other people because they are not confident in social situations.

gaudy ['gɔ:di] (compar gaudier, superl gaudiest) adj [piece of clothing, color, jewelry] that is too bright and colorful and looks ugly and cheap.

gauge [geɪdʒ] ◇ n -1. [for measuring things] an instrument for measuring the amount or level of pressure, fuel, rain etc □ a fuel gauge. -2. [of a cable, wire] a standard measure of thickness. -3. RAIL the distance between the rails of a railroad. ◇ vt -1. [temperature, distance] to measure <sth> by using an instrument. -2. to try to guess or judge sth in advance □ I'll try to gauge how much it'll cost. □ It's difficult to gauge how she'll respond.

gaunt [gɔ:nt] adj -1. [person, face, figure] that looks very thin, pale, and unhealthy □ She looked pale and gaunt. -2. [landscape, outline, building] that looks bare and depressing.

gauntlet ['gɔ:ntlɪt] n a strong protective glove that covers one's wrist. ■ to run the gauntlet of sth [of danger, criticism] to face sth. ■ to throw down the gauntlet to invite somebody to argue or compete with one.

gauze [gɔ:z] n a very thin light cloth that is used especially to dress wounds.

gave [geɪv] past tense of give.

gawky ['gɔ:kɪ] (compar gawkier, superl gawkiest) adj [person] who moves in a nervous awkward way □ a gawky teenager.

gawp [gɔ:p] vi to stare in a stupid or rude way without any expression on one's face □ They just stood there gawping.

gay [geɪ] ◇ adj -1. [person] homosexual □ Is he gay? □ gay men and women □ a gay bar. ■ gay rights the rights of gay people. -2. [person, place, music] cheerful and lively. -3. [color, piece of clothing] bright. ◇ n a homosexual person, especially a homosexual man □ lesbians and gays.

Gaza Strip [US ,gæzə-, GB ,gɑ:zə-]: the Gaza Strip a strip of land on the Mediterranean between Egypt and Israel. It was occupied by Israel in 1967 and in 1993 plans were begun for limited Palestinian self-rule of the region.

gaze [geɪz] ◇ n a long fixed look □ He returned her gaze. ◇ vi to look steadily at somebody or something for a long time □ They gazed at him/his work in admiration.

gazebo [US gə'zeɪbəʊ, GB -'zi:b-] (pl gazebos) n a decorative wooden structure like a hut,

- usually used in a garden for sitting and relaxing in.
- gazelle [gə'zɛl] (pl gazelle OR gazelles) n a small type of antelope.
- gazette [gə'zɛt] n an official news publication □ The Evening Gazette.
- gazetteer [ˌgæzə'tiə] n an alphabetical list of places and their location.
- gazump [gə'zʌmp] vt GB to refuse to sell one's house to <sb> after one has accepted their offer, because somebody else has offered more money.
- GB abbr of Great Britain.
- GBH n GB abbr of grievous bodily harm.
- GC n abbr of George Cross.
- GCH GB abbr of gas central heating.
- GCHQ (abbr of Government Communications Headquarters) n the British government department that gathers information about other countries by listening to their radio broadcasts.
- GCSE (abbr of General Certificate of Secondary Education) n in England and Wales, a school examination taken at the age of 16 in one of many subjects.
- Gdns GB abbr of Gardens.
- GDP n abbr of gross domestic product.
- GDR (abbr of German Democratic Republic) = East Germany.
- gear [gɪə] ◇ n -1. TECHNOLOGY a system of wheels that sends power from an engine to the vehicle or machine it drives and allows changes in speed □ a gear system/mechanism. -2. [of a car, bicycle] a particular position of the gear system of a car or bicycle □ I was driving along in fourth gear. □ You have to keep changing gear. ■ in/out of gear with the gear system engaged/in neutral. -3. [for activity, sport] the equipment, clothes etc required for a particular activity or occasion □ camping/fishing/football gear. ◇ vt to gear sthg to sb/sthg to change sthg to suit sb/sthg □ The course is geared to the needs of non-native speakers.
- ◆ gear up vt sep to gear sb/sthg up to prepare sb/sthg □ We're gearing ourselves up to meet the rise in demand.
- gearbox ['gɪə'bɒks] n the part of a motor vehicle that contains the gear mechanism.
- gearing ['gɪəriŋ] n the way in which the speed ratios in a gear mechanism are set.
- gear lever, gear shift US, gear stick GB n a lever used to change gear in a vehicle.
- gear wheel n a cog wheel in a gear mechanism.
- gee [dʒi:] excl -1. gee (whizz)! US a phrase used to show that one is surprised, impressed etc (informal use) □ Gee! That sure looks great, Mrs Maine! -2. gee up! GB a phrase used to tell a horse to start or go faster.
- geek [gi:k] n (informal use) -1. a boring unfashionable person. -2. a person who is very interested in computers.
- geese [gi:s] plural of goose.
- Geiger counter ['gaɪgəʊ-] n a device for measuring levels of radioactivity.
- geisha (girl) ['geɪʃə-] n a Japanese woman whose job is to entertain men.
- gel [dʒel] (pt & pp gelled, cont gelling) ◇ n any substance like jelly, especially one used to wash hair or treat one's hair or body □ shower gel. ◇ vi -1. [idea, thought, plan] to become more clearly formed in one's mind. -2. [liquid] to become thicker like a jelly.
- gelatin ['dʒelətɪn], gelatine ['dʒelətɪ:n] n a clear tasteless substance like jelly that is used in making jelly, soups etc.
- gelding ['geldɪŋ] n a horse that has been castrated.
- gelignite ['dʒelɪɡnaɪt] n a powerful explosive □ a stick of gelignite.
- gem [dʒem] n -1. a precious stone. -2. a person or thing that is highly valued.
- Gemini ['dʒemɪnaɪ] n a sign of the zodiac, usually represented by a pair of twins; a person born under this sign between May 23 and June 21.
- gemstone ['dʒemstəʊn] n a precious stone.
- gen [dʒen] (pt & pp genned, cont genning) GB n information (informal use).
- ◆ gen up vi to find out as much as possible about something (informal use).
- gen. abbr of general, generally.
- Gen. MILITARY abbr of General.
- gender ['dʒendə] n -1. [of a person] one of the sexes, male or female, that a person or animal belongs to □ gender issues. -2. GRAMMAR one of the groups, masculine, feminine, or neuter, which nouns and pronouns in some languages belong to □ What gender is the word "chaise"?
- gene [dʒi:n] n the part of a cell that contains the information that is passed from a parent to its children and that is responsible for a particular physical or mental feature □ Scientists are trying to isolate the gene responsible for the disease.
- genealogist [US ˌdʒi:nɔːlɒdʒəst, GB ˈæɪ-] n a person who studies or is an expert in genealogy.
- genealogy [US ˌdʒi:nɔːlɒdʒɪ, GB ˈæɪ-] (pl genealogies) n the study of the history of a family and the members of the family that lived a long time ago; the history of the family of a particular person.
- genera ['dʒenərə] plural of genus.
- general ['dʒenrəl] ◇ adj -1. [improvement, description, impression] a word used to summarize a situation, feeling, idea etc when one is not concerned with details or exceptions □ The general effect is quite pleasing. □ I think I've got the general idea. ■ as a general rule a phrase used to say what happens most of the time. -2. [interest, use, concern] a word used to refer to something that affects or concerns most people □ We do not admit late-comers as a general rule. □ I think most people would agree that these measures are for the general good. -3. [question, education] that is not connected with one particular subject only □ I have a few general inquiries to make. □ a book of interest to the general reader. -4. [costs] a word used to refer to a number of things when there are too many to list separately □ Stationery can be put under general expenses.

◇ n MILITARY an army officer of high rank.

- ◆ in general adv -1. a phrase used to summarize a situation □ In general, I think that's true. -2. a phrase used to refer to most of the people or things in a group □ society/the population/mankind in general. -3. a phrase used to say that something happens or is true in most cases □ In general, books are more expensive in Europe than in the States.

General Accounting Office n the General Accounting Office the US government department that supervises the financial affairs of public organizations and local government.

general anesthetic n an anesthetic designed to make a patient unconscious.

NOTE: Compare local anesthetic.

general delivery n in the USA, a service that allows people to receive their mail at the post office.

general election n a national election for a new government.

NOTE: Compare by-election.

general hospital n a large hospital designed to treat all kinds of ill people.

generality [ˌdʒenə'ræləti] (pl generalities) n a statement that does not contain any details.

generalization [US ˌdʒenrə'lə'zeɪʃn, GB -a'zeɪʃn] n a vague general statement □ The report is full of sweeping generalizations.

generalize, -ise ['dʒenrəlaɪz] vi to make a generalization □ You can't generalize about such a complex issue.

general knowledge n knowledge of a wide variety of subjects □ We had to answer questions on general knowledge, sport, and history.

generally ['dʒenrəli] adv -1. usually □ Generally, we go shopping once a week. □ I don't generally like to discuss my ideas until they're more developed. -2. generally accepted/believed etc accepted/believed etc by most people □ I think it is generally agreed now that change is inevitable. -3. [talk, discuss] without speaking about the details of a situation □ Mrs Blackwell spoke generally about the problems facing the industry.

general manager n a person in charge of a company, store etc who takes care of the everyday running of the business.

general practice n the work done by a GP.

general practitioner n → GP (formal use).

general public n the general public ordinary people in general.

general-purpose adj general-purpose tools/clothes etc tools/clothes etc suitable for several different uses etc.

general store n a store that sells several different kinds of goods.

general strike n a strike affecting all or most of a country's industries and services.

General Synod n the General Synod (of the Church of England) the group of church members who meet regularly and make decisions concerning the Church of England.

generate ['dʒenəreɪt] vt -1. [energy, electricity, heat] to produce <sthg> □ wind-generated power. -2. [interest, excitement, business] to create <sthg> □ The project will generate hundreds of jobs in the area.

generation [ˌdʒenə'reɪʃn] n -1. [in a family, society] the people in a family or country who are about the same age □ the younger generation. ■ first/second generation [Italian, black] who is an immigrant/whose parents were immigrants □ second-generation Irish immigrants. -2. the period of time, usually considered to be about 25 to 30 years, that it takes for a person to grow up and have their own family □ For generations the city was in decline. -3. TECHNOLOGY a stage in the development of a product □ the new generation of computers □ fourth-generation word processors. -4. [of business, interest, energy] see generate.

generation gap n the difference in attitudes, customs, taste etc between younger and older generations of people.

generator ['dʒenəreɪtə] n a machine that produces electricity.

generic [dʒə'nærɪk] adj [term, name] that applies to a whole group of similar things.

generosity [ˌdʒenə'rɪsətɪ] n [of a person] the quality of being generous □ We appreciate your generosity.

generous ['dʒenrəs] adj -1. [person, nature] willing to give money, help etc freely □ He's a very generous person. -2. [gift, meal, portion] larger than is usual or expected □ generous helpings of food.

generously ['dʒenrəsli] adv -1. [agree, offer] willingly and kindly □ Marc very generously offered to help. -2. [pay, contribute] more than is usual or expected □ Please give generously.

genesis ['dʒenəsɪs] (pl geneses [-si:z]) n the genesis of sthg [of an idea, the world] the origin of sthg (formal use).

genetic [dʒə'netɪk] adj [characteristic, code, map] that is connected with genes or genetics.

◆ genetics n the scientific study of the way the characteristics of living things are passed from one generation to the next through the genes.

genetic engineering n the science of changing the characteristics of a living thing by altering its genes.

genetic fingerprinting [-'fɪŋgə'prɪntɪŋ] n a method of identifying an individual by studying the unique genetic structure of a sample of their blood, hair, saliva etc.

Geneva [dʒə'ni:və] -1. a city in Switzerland, on Lake Geneva. It is an important banking center and many international organizations have their headquarters there. POPULATION: 171, 042. -2. Lake Geneva a lake in southern Europe, between France and Switzerland.

Geneva Convention n the Geneva Convention an international agreement on the treatment

- of wounded soldiers and prisoners during periods of war, signed in Geneva, Switzerland in 1864.
- Genghis Khan [ˌdʒɛŋɡɪsˈkoːn] (1162–1227) a Mongol emperor and soldier, known for his cruelty.
- genial ['dʒiːnjəl] adj [person, remark, smile] that seems cheerful and friendly.
- genie ['dʒiːni] (pl genies OR genii [-iːi]) n a magical spirit in Arabian stories.
- genitals ['dʒɛnɪtlz] npl the sex organs that are outside the body.
- genius ['dʒiːniəs] (pl geniuses) n -1. a person who has a rare and great natural intelligence, ability, or talent □ He's a mathematical genius. -2. a rare and great natural ability or talent □ That idea was a stroke of genius. □ She has a real genius for organization.
- genocide ['dʒɛnəsaɪd] n the planned or organized killing of a whole community, race etc.
- genre ['ʒɒnrə] n a particular type of literature, music, or other work of art □ a master of the genre of crime writing.
- gent [dʒɛnt] n GB = gentleman (informal use).
- ◆ gents n GB a men's public toilet (informal use) □ Can you tell me where the gents is?
- genteel [dʒɛn'tiːl] adj -1. [person] who seems respectable and refined. -2. [manner, voice] that is polite in an unnatural exaggerated way.
- ~ gentile ['dʒɛntaɪl] ◇ adj [person] who is not Jewish. ◇ n a person who is not Jewish.
- gentle ['dʒɛntl] adj -1. [person, smile, manner] that is calm and kind □ He was a kind, gentle man. -2. [movement, touch] that is pleasant and light, and is not rough or violent □ There was a gentle breeze blowing. -3. [slope, curve] that is gradual, not steep or sharp □ a gentle incline. -4. [hint, reminder] that is mild and subtle □ She dropped a few gentle hints.
- gentleman ['dʒɛntlmən] (pl gentlemen) n -1. a man who treats other people with politeness and consideration □ He behaved like a real gentleman. ■ a gentleman's agreement an agreement that is not written down and is made between people who trust each other. -2. a word used as a polite way of talking about a man □ There's a gentleman to see you, Mrs Smith.
- gentlemanly ['dʒɛntlmənli] adj [behavior, manners] polite and considerate.
- gentlemen ['dʒɛntlmən] plural of gentleman.
- gently ['dʒɛntli] adv -1. [smile, touch, slope] see gentle □ She gently reminded him it was time to leave. -2. [move, heat] slowly and without sudden movements □ a gently flowing river.
- gentry ['dʒɛntri] n a collective term for people of a high social class.
- genuflect ['dʒɛnjəflekt] vi to bend down with one knee on the ground as a sign of respect (formal use).
- genuine ['dʒɛnjʊɪn] adj -1. [antique, work of art] that is really what it seems to be and is not a copy □ a genuine Ming vase. -2. [person, feeling, effort] that is sincere and not a pretense □ Their intentions seem genuine enough.
- genuinely ['dʒɛnjʊɪnli] adv [feel, believe] see genuine □ I was genuinely surprised/shocked/disappointed. □ a genuinely honest man.
- genus ['dʒiːnəs] (pl genera) n BIOLOGY a class of animals or plants within a family.
- geographer [dʒɪ'ɒɡrəfə] n an expert in geography.
- geographical [dʒɪ'ɒɡræfɪkəl] adj [feature, survey, area] see geography □ the town's geographical location.
- geography [dʒɪ'ɒɡrəfɪ] n -1. the study of the earth's surface, physical features, political boundaries, climate, populations, resources etc. -2. the way in which the parts of a place are arranged □ I haven't quite worked out the geography of the area yet.
- geological [ˌdʒiː'ɒlədʒɪkəl] adj [feature, fault] see geology □ a geological survey of the area.
- geologist [dʒɪ'ɒlədʒəst] n an expert in geology.
- geology [dʒɪ'ɒlədʒɪ] n -1. the study of the rocks, soil etc that form the earth's crust and of the way in which they change and develop over long periods of time. -2. the characteristics of the rocks, soil etc in a particular area.
- geometric(al) [ˌdʒiː'ɒmɛtrɪk(əl)] adj [shape, design, pattern] that consists of basic shapes such as triangles, circles, and squares.
- geometry [dʒɪ'ɒmɛtri] n a mathematical science that deals with the measurement of lines, angles, curves, and shapes.
- geophysics [ˌdʒiː'ɒfɪzɪks] n the study of the physical qualities of the earth and the physical processes that happen in, on, and above it.
- geopolitical [ˌdʒiː'ɒpə'lɪtɪkəl] adj: see geopolitics.
- geopolitics [ˌdʒiː'ɒpəlɪtɪks] n the study of the way in which a country's location, population etc affects its influence and power in the world.
- Geordie ['dʒɔː'ɒrɪ] (informal use) ◇ n -1. a person from Tyneside, England. -2. a dialect of English spoken in Tyneside. ◇ adj: a Geordie accent.
- George III [ˌdʒɔː'ɒrɪ'dʒɔː'θɜːd] (1738–1820) King of Great Britain and Ireland from 1760 to 1820. He suffered from insanity, especially toward the end of his reign.
- George VI [ˌdʒɔː'ɒrɪ'sɪksθ] (1895–1952) King of Great Britain and Northern Ireland from 1936 to 1952.
- George Cross [ˌdʒɔː'ɒrɪ] n the George Cross in Britain, a medal given to somebody who has done something very brave.
- georgette [dʒɔː'ɒrɪ] n a thin strong material used for making clothes.
- Georgia ['dʒɔː'ɒrɪ] -1. a country in western Asia, on the Black Sea, between Russia and Turkey. SIZE: 70,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,400,000 (Georgians). CAPITAL: Tblisi. LANGUAGE: Georgian. CURRENCY: rouble. -2. a state in the southeastern USA, north of Florida. ABBREVIATION: GA. SIZE: 152,488 sq

- kms. POPULATION: 6,478,216 (Georgians). CAPITAL: Atlanta.
- Georgian ['dʒo:rdʒən] adj -1. [architecture, furniture] that is in the style of the period of the British kings George I to George IV (1714 to 1830). -2. see Georgia. ◇ n: see Georgia.
- geranium [dʒə'reɪnjəm] (pl geraniums) n a pot plant or garden plant with small red, pink, or white flowers and round leaves.
- gerbil ['dʒɜ:bl] n a small furry animal with long hind legs that is often kept as a pet.
- geriatric [,dʒeri:'ætrɪk] adj -1. a geriatric ward/hospital etc a ward/hospital etc for old people □ My sister is a geriatric nurse. -2. [infrastructure, system] that is very old and inefficient.
- germ [dʒɜ:'m] n -1. a bacterium or virus that causes disease □ a disinfectant guaranteed to kill all known germs. -2. the germ of an idea/a plan the beginning of an idea/a plan that may develop.
- German ['dʒɜ:'mən] ◇ n -1. a person who comes from or lives in Germany. -2. a language spoken in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. ◇ adj: the German economy.
- Germanic [dʒɜ:'mæɪnɪk] adj [style, feature, language] that is typical of Germany or the German people.
- German measles n an infectious disease in which red spots appear on the body, and which is harmful to the unborn children of pregnant women.
- German shepherd (dog) n a large dog that looks like a wolf and is often used by the police to help them catch criminals.
- Germany ['dʒɜ:'mæɪni] a country in central Europe. It was divided into East and West Germany from 1945 to 1990. SIZE: 357,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 81,000,000 (Germans). CAPITAL: Berlin. LANGUAGE: German. CURRENCY: Deutschmark.
- germicide ['dʒɜ:'mɪsaɪd] n a substance that kills germs.
- germinate ['dʒɜ:'mɪneɪt] ◇ vt to make  start growing. ◇ vi -1. [seed] The seeds need the right conditions to germinate. -2. [idea, feeling] to start to develop □ New concepts are germinating all the time.
- germination [,dʒɜ:'mɪ'neɪʃn] n: see germinate □ Moisture is vital for germination.
- germ warfare n a method of fighting that involves using germs to spread disease among enemy troops.
- Geronimo [dʒə'rɒnəməʊ] (1829–1909) a Native American chief of the Apache people who fought against Americans who came to settle on his land.
- gerrymandering ['dʒerɪmændərɪŋ] n the changing of electoral boundaries to give one party an unfair advantage.
- Gershwin ['gɜ:'ʃwɪn], George (1898–1937) a US composer who used jazz, blues, and pop in his music. He wrote Porgy and Bess and Rhapsody in Blue.
- gerund ['dʒerənd] n a noun formed from a verb that, in English, ends in -ing.
- gestation [dʒe'steɪʃn] n the development of a baby or young animal in its mother's body before birth.
- gestation period n -1. the period of time during which a baby or young animal develops in its mother's body. -2. the period of time during which an idea or plan is developed.
- gesticulate [dʒes'tɪkjəleɪt] vi [person] to move one's hands and arms in an angry or excited way to emphasize what one is saying or instead of using words □ He gesticulated angrily.
- gesture ['dʒestʃə] ◇ n -1. a movement of a part of the body to express a particular emotion or idea □ a hand gesture □ He made a large sweeping gesture with his hand. □ an insulting gesture. -2. something that one says or does to show a particular feeling to somebody □ a kind gesture □ a gesture of friendship/defiance. ◇ vi to make a gesture □ He gestured to me to step forward.
- get [get] (US pt got, pp gotten, cont getting, GB pt & pp got, cont getting) ◇ aux vb he got killed he was killed (used with the past participle to form the passive) □ Be careful, somebody could get hurt! □ Where did they get married?
◇ vt -1. he got a present from his wife his wife gave, sent etc him a present □ I got a letter/phone call from my sister. □ When did you get the news? -2. she got a surprise/shock she had a surprise/shock, she was surprised/shocked □ I get the feeling that he doesn't like us. □ I get a real thrill out of driving fast. -3. I got a cold/the flu I caught a cold/the flu □ You can't get AIDS from kissing. -4. I must get a car I must buy, find, win etc a car □ He can't get a job anywhere. □ They got me a book for my birthday. □ She got a good grade. -5. I'll get my coat I'll go to the place where my coat is and bring it back here □ I'll just get you a drink from the bar. □ Could you go and get your sister, she's upstairs. -6. to get a person/an animal to capture or kill a person/an animal □ Did the police get him yet? -7. to get a rest to have a rest, especially when this is needed □ I need to get more exercise. ■ to get a look at sthg to be able or allowed to look at sthg □ I got a quick glimpse of his face. ■ to get the time/opportunity to do sthg to have or find the time/opportunity to do sthg □ I don't often get the time to go to the theater. □ Visit the Louvre if you get the chance. -8. to get a bus/train to find a bus/train in order to travel on it □ Where do you get the bus? □ We got a flight to Athens. -9. to get dinner/lunch to make or prepare dinner/lunch □ Darren was in the kitchen getting (the) breakfast. □ We'll find a café and get some lunch there. -10. to get money/a salary to be paid or earn money/a salary □ He gets about $12,000 a year. □ We only got $5 for the picture. -11. to get a joke/an idea to understand a joke/an idea □ I don't get it — I thought she was your friend. □ They seemed to get the point I was trying to make. -12. what gets me... what annoys me (informal use) □

What really gets me is that he never listens!

-13. to get sb/sthg to a place to move or bring sb/sthg to a place □ It's time to get the children to bed. □ Get that report to me by 2 o'clock! -14. to get sb ready/worried etc to make sb ready/worried etc □ The news got me really worried. □ He got her pregnant. □ I can't get this piece to fit. -15. to get sthg done to do what has to be done to make sthg happen □ We'll have to get the TV repaired. -16. to get sb to do sthg to employ or persuade sb to do sthg □ I'll get my secretary to make an appointment. -17. you get a lot of rain here there is a lot of rain here.

◇ vi -1. (+ complement) to become □ I got really enthusiastic about it. □ My cold's getting better. □ It's time we got dressed. -2. we got home we came or arrived home □ How do you get to the station? □ The party was over by the time I got there. -3. I got (up) to page 10 I reached or made progress as far as page 10 □ Life becomes easier when you get to my age. □ We got as far as buying the paint. ■ to be getting somewhere to be having some success □ The work started slowly, but now we're really getting somewhere. -4. to get to do sthg to do sthg, usually after having to wait, get permission, or make an effort □ Did you get to speak to her? □ In the end we got to be very close friends. -5. to get going OR moving to start moving, working, or being active □ We'd better get going if we're going to finish the work today; see also got.

◆ get about vi = get around.

◆ get across vt sep to get sthg across [idea, message] to succeed in making people understand sthg □ We've failed to get our policies across to the public.

◆ get ahead vi [person] to be successful in one's work or career □ She really wants to get ahead in life.

◆ get along vi -1. [person] to make good progress □ How are you getting along with the work? -2. [two people] to have a friendly relationship □ My boss and I get along really well. □ I've just never gotten along with him, for some reason.

◆ get around ◇ vt fus -1. to get around sthg [problem, obstacle, law] to find a way of dealing with or avoiding the problems caused by sthg □ It's a tricky situation, but we'll get around it somehow. -2. to get around sb to persuade sb to do what one wants by being pleasant to them □ She really knows how to get around her parents. ◇ vi -1. [person] to go to different places and see people □ I don't get around much any more. □ Having a car makes it easier to get around. -2. [news, information] to become known by a large number of people □ The story soon got around that he'd been fired.

◆ get around to vt fus to get around to sthg to find time to do sthg that one should have done before □ I finally got around to fixing the radiator.

◆ get at vt fus -1. to get at sthg [book, branch] to succeed in reaching sthg that is difficult to reach; [information] to succeed in finding out sthg that is hidden or not generally known □ Put the cake somewhere where the children can't get at it. □ He was determined to get at the truth. -2. what are you getting at? used to ask somebody to say clearly what they mean, often when one thinks they have said something unpleasant or unfair. -3. to get at sb to keep criticizing sb in an annoying way (informal use) □ Stop getting at me!

◆ get away vi -1. [person] to succeed in leaving a place □ I won't get away from the meeting before six. -2. [person] to go away on a vacation □ I need to get away for a few days. ■ to get away from it all to have a complete change from one's usual surroundings and activities □ It was great to get away from it all for a few days. -3. [robber, prisoner, animal] to succeed in escaping □ Thieves got away with thousands of dollars in used bills.

◆ get away with vt fus to get away with sthg to do sthg bad and not to be punished for it □ He's so pushy, I don't know how he gets away with it!

◆ get back ◇ vt sep -1. to get sb/sthg back [money, book, husband] to have sb/sthg that one has lost or given to someone □ She got her old job back. -2. to get sb back to do something unpleasant to sb because of something unpleasant that they have done to oneself □ I'll get you back for what you said! ◇ vi -1. to move away □ The police were telling everyone to get back. -2. to arrive back at the place one has left, especially one's home □ When did you get back from your vacation?

◆ get back to vt fus -1. to get back to sthg to start doing sthg again □ Now, to get back to what I was saying... ■ to get back to sleep to fall asleep again after waking up. ■ to get back to normal to become normal again. ■ to get back to work to start working again after a rest, illness etc. -2. to get back to sb to phone or write to sb at a later time, usually because one cannot answer their question straight away □ Can I get back to you on that, I'll need to think about it.

◆ get behind vi to fail to do something by the time that it should be done □ You've gotten behind with your work/payments.

◆ get by vi to have just enough money for the things one needs to live normally □ "How do you survive on $80 a week?" — "Oh, we get by."

◆ get down ◇ vt sep -1. to get sb down to make sb unhappy or depressed □ Don't let it get you down. -2. to get sthg down to take sthg from a higher place □ She got the book down from the shelf. ◇ vi -1. to bend or lower oneself toward the ground □ I got down on my knees to pray. -2. to climb down from something □ She got down from or off the ladder.

◆ get down to vt fus to get down to sthg to start to do sthg important that one has been unable to do earlier □ Right, let's get down to work/business.

◆ get in ◇ vi -1. [person] to get inside a vehicle or a building □ She opened the car door, got in, and drove away. □ The burglar got in

- through an open window. -2. [train, plane] to arrive at its destination; [person] to arrive home □ What time does your flight get in? □ He was out drinking and didn't get in until 3 o'clock.
- 3. [politician, party] to win an election □ It doesn't look as if the Republicans will get in this time. ◇ vt sep -1. to get sthg in [washing, harvest, shopping] to go out and find, buy, or collect sthg and then bring it home □ We'd better get in some food for the weekend. -2. to get sb in [electrician, plumber] to get sb to come and do a job □ We'll have to get someone in to fix the heater.
- ◆ get in on vt fus to get in on sthg to become involved in sthg that other people have started to do □ He's trying to get in on the deal.
- ◆ get into vt fus -1. to get into a vehicle/building to get inside a vehicle/building □ I had to borrow a key to get into the apartment. -2. to get into a piece of clothing to be the right size for a piece of clothing □ I've put on so much weight I can't get into this dress any more. -3. to get into sthg [into a conversation, fight, profession] to become involved in an activity □ He got into an argument with his boss. □ How do you get into advertising? -4. to get into a temper/mess to start to be in a temper/mess □ He got into trouble with the police. -5. to get into a school/college to be accepted as a student at a school/college, usually by passing an exam □ She got into Yale. -6. what's got into you? why are you behaving so badly or strangely? □ I don't know what's gotten into her lately.
- ◆ get off ◇ vt sep -1. to get a piece of clothing off to remove a piece of clothing, often with difficulty □ Get those wet shoes off. -2. to get sthg off [letter, package] to put sthg in the mail, usually by a particular time □ I'll get the tickets off to you today. ◇ vt fus -1. to get off sthg [chair, horse, bicycle] to move or climb down from sthg □ He told the children to get off the roof. -2. to get off sthg [train, bus, plane] to leave sthg □ She got off the streetcar at the next stop. ◇ vi -1. [passenger] to leave a train, bus, plane etc □ You need to get off at the next stop. -2. [person, train] to leave a place because one has to go somewhere else □ Did the kids get off to school OK this morning? -3. [person] to be given a punishment that is not as severe as it could be □ She got off with a fine. ■ he got off lightly his punishment was not severe.
- ◆ get on ◇ vt sep to get a piece of clothing on to put a piece of clothing on □ Get your coats on, boys, we're going. ◇ vt fus -1. to get on sthg [train, bus, plane] to go inside sthg in order to travel on it □ I told him to get on the next flight to New York. -2. to get on sthg [horse, bicycle, roof] to go or climb up onto sthg □ He got on his motorcycle and rode away. ◇ vi -1. [passenger] to get on a train, bus, plane etc □ I got on at Springfield. -2. [person] to have a friendly relationship □ I get on really well with his family. -3. [person] = get ahead. -4. [job, person] to make progress □ How are you getting on with your new computer? -5. to get on with sthg to continue to do sthg seriously, especially after a break or interruption □ I'll call you back later, I must get on with this report. -6. to be getting on [person] to be rather old □ He's getting on now.
- ◆ get on for vt fus to be getting on for a particular amount/time/age to be nearly or approximately a particular amount/time/age (informal use) □ There were getting on for 2,000 people at the concert. □ She's getting on for retirement age.
- ◆ get on to, get onto vt fus -1. to get on to OR onto sthg [a train, plane, horse] = get on □ How did you get on to the roof? -2. to get on to OR onto sthg [subject, topic] to start talking about sthg, usually by chance □ How did we get onto the subject of marriage? -3. to get on to OR onto sb to speak or write to sb in order to ask for or give information, or to complain □ I'll get on to the manager right away.
- ◆ get out ◇ vt sep -1. to get sthg out [gun, notebook] to take sthg out of a pocket, drawer etc □ I opened my bag and got a pen out. -2. to get sthg out [mark, dirt] to remove sthg by cleaning □ How do you get wine stains out? ◇ vi -1. [news, truth] to become known publicly after being kept secret □ Word got out that he was leaving the company. -2. [passenger, driver] to leave or come out of a car, bus, plane etc □ We get out at the next stop.
- ◆ get out of ◇ vt fus -1. to get out of sthg [car, boat, train] to leave or come out of sthg □ I had to get out of the car and walk to the nearest gas station. -2. to get out of sthg [jail, cage] to escape or be released from sthg □ He gets out of prison next week. -3. to get out of sthg [work, commitment, agreement] to avoid doing sthg one has promised to do □ You're not getting out of doing the housework! □ "It's Jane's party tonight." — "Can't you get out of it?" ◇ vt sep to get sthg out of sb to make sb tell or say sthg □ I couldn't get a word out of her.
- ◆ get over ◇ vt sep to get sthg over [message, idea, point] = get across. ◇ vt fus -1. to get over sthg [an illness, shock, disappointment] to recover from sthg that was a bad experience □ It's taken me ages to get over that cold. □ He never got over the death of his son. -2. to get over a problem to find a way of dealing with a problem □ We got over the difficulty by renting a second car.
- ◆ get over with vt sep to get sthg over with [operation, meeting, examination] to do and finish sthg which is unpleasant but must be done □ I'll be glad to get the interview over with.
- ◆ get round vt fus & vi = get around.
- ◆ get round to vt fus = get around to.
- ◆ get through ◇ vt fus -1. to get through sthg [job, task, book] to manage to finish sthg, usually sthg that takes a lot of effort □ I don't know how we're going to get through all this work by tomorrow. -2. to get through sthg [exam, test] to pass sthg □ I got through my driving test on the second attempt. -3. to get through sthg [food, money, supplies] to use up a lot of sthg □ We'll never get through all this wine! -4. to get through a difficult period or situation to come to the end of a difficult period or situation without being harmed □

Somehow he got through the funeral without breaking down.

◇ vi -1. to get through to sb to succeed in making sb understand what one wants to tell them □ I just can't seem to get through to him. -2. to get through to sb to succeed in contacting sb by telephone □ It took me ages to get through to the operator.

◆ get to vt fus to get to sb to make sb feel depressed or irritated (informal use) □ I know he's rude, but don't let it get to you.

◆ get together ◇ vi sep to get sth together [team, project] to organize sth by collecting all the parts needed to make it □ She's getting a panel of advisors together. □ Get your things together and be ready to leave at 6 o'clock.

◇ vi to meet somebody for pleasure or to discuss something □ Let's get together for lunch one day. □ Can you get together with Dave to arrange the transport?

◆ get up vi -1. [person] to stand up from a sitting or lying position □ She got up from her desk. -2. [person] to leave one's bed, usually after sleeping □ What time do you get up in the morning? □ I got up and took a shower.

◆ get up to vt fus to get up to sth to do sth that people disapprove of (informal use) □ We got up to all sorts of things when I was at college.

getaway ['getəweɪ] n an escape that somebody makes, especially after committing a crime □ They made their getaway in a stolen car.

getaway car n a car used by criminals to make a getaway after a crime.

get-together n a friendly social meeting or party □ We're having a small get-together tonight, if you'd like to come.

Gettysburg Address [ˌgetɪzbɜːrɡ] n the Gettysburg Address a famous speech made by Abraham Lincoln in 1863, at the opening of a cemetery for victims of the American Civil War.

📖 THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

The Gettysburg Address is one of the most famous speeches in American history. It was made by President Abraham Lincoln on November 19, 1863, at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, at a cemetery for soldiers who had died in a recent battle in the Civil War. In the speech Lincoln talked about democracy, freedom, and equality. Many Americans know parts of it by heart, especially the ending where he said that "government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth".

getup ['getʌp] n a strange or unusual set of clothes that somebody is wearing (informal use).

get-up-and-go n energy and initiative (informal use).

get-well card n a card sent to wish somebody a quick recovery when they are ill.

geyser [US 'gaɪzr, GB 'giːzə] n -1. a natural hot spring that from time to time throws up hot water and steam into the air. -2. GB a gas heater used in kitchens and bathrooms for heating water.

Ghana ['gɑːnə] a country in West Africa, on the Atlantic coast. SIZE: 240,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 16,400,000 (Ghan(a)ians). CAPITAL: Accra. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: cedi.

Ghan(a)ian [US 'gɑːniən, GB gɑː'neɪən] n & adj: see Ghana.

ghastly [US 'gæstli, GB 'gɑːst-] (compar ghastlier, superl ghastliest) adj -1. [weather, man, experience] that one thinks is very unpleasant (informal use) □ I've made a ghastly mistake! -2. [crime, murder, sight] that one finds very frightening. -3. to look/feel ghastly to look/feel very ill.

gherkin ['gɜːkɪn] n a small pickled cucumber.

ghetto ['getəʊ] (pl ghettos OR ghettoes) n a poor part of a city where a group of people of the same race, religion etc lives □ a black ghetto.

ghetto blaster [US -blæstr, GB -blɑːstə] n a large portable radio cassette player (informal and humorous use).

ghost [gəʊst] n the spirit of a dead person that is supposed to haunt living people □ Do you believe in ghosts? ■ he doesn't have a ghost of a chance he has no chance at all.

ghostly ['gəʊstli] (compar ghostlier, superl ghostliest) adj [figure, sight, sound] that is, looks, or sounds like something connected with ghosts.

ghost town n a town that has been abandoned by everybody who used to live there □ The resort is like a ghost town in winter.

ghostwriter ['gəʊstraɪtə] n a person who writes something for somebody else who then publishes it under their own name.

ghoul [gəʊl] n a person who gets pleasure from death, suffering, and other unpleasant things (disapproving use).

ghoulish ['gəʊliʃ] adj a ghoulish interest/pleasure an interest/pleasure that somebody takes in death, suffering, and other unpleasant things (disapproving use).

GHQ (abbr of general headquarters) n the main base of a large military operation.

GI (abbr of government issue) n a US soldier, especially in World War II.

giant ['dʒaɪənt] ◇ adj [size, organization, plant] unusually large □ We saw the movie on a giant screen. ◇ n -1. a person of great size and strength, in myths and children's stories. -2. an unusually tall person. -3. a person of great ability and importance □ a literary giant. -4. a very large business or organization □ an advertising giant.

giant-size(d) [-saɪz(d)] adj larger than usual □ a giant-size(d) package of detergent.

gibber ['dʒɪbə] vi to talk very quickly without making sense □ a gibbering idiot.

gibberish ['dʒɪbəriʃ] n words that do not make sense □ This is complete gibberish.

gibbon ['gɪbən] n an ape with long arms and no tail that is found in southeast Asia.

gibe [dʒaɪb] ◇ n a remark intended to make somebody or something look foolish □ He made one or two unpleasant gibes at my expense. ◇ vi to gibe at sb/sthg to say unpleasant things about sb/sthg in order to make them look foolish.

giblets ['dʒɪblɪts] npl the internal organs of a chicken or turkey that are removed before cooking and sometimes cooked separately.

Gibraltar [dʒɪ'brɔ:ltə] a British territory on the south coast of Spain consisting of a large rock that is used mainly as a military base. Spain also claims it owns Gibraltar. SIZE: 5.9 sq kms. POPULATION: 29,000 (Gibraltarians). LANGUAGE: English, Spanish. CURRENCY: pound sterling.

giddy ['gɪdi] (compar giddier, superl giddiest) adj to feel giddy to have the unpleasant feeling that things are moving around one and that one is going to fall or be sick □ I had a giddy feeling.

gift [gɪft] n -1. something that is given freely and willingly, usually without anything expected in return □ The vase was a gift from my grandmother. -2. a natural ability or talent □ He has a gift for music/for making people relax. ■ the gift of the gab the ability to speak easily and convincingly.

GIFT [gɪft] (abbr of gamete in fallopian transfer) n a type of artificial insemination in which egg cells are removed from a woman's ovary, mixed with sperm, and placed in one of her fallopian tubes.

gift certificate n US a token or voucher that is given as a present and can be taken to a particular store and exchanged for goods.

gifted ['gɪftəd] adj -1. [actor, writer, politician] who has great natural ability in a particular area or field □ one of the country's most gifted politicians. -2. a gifted child a child who is unusually intelligent.

gift token, gift voucher n GB = gift certificate.

gift wrap n patterned paper used for wrapping up presents.

gift-wrapped [-ræpt] adj [present, book] that has been specially wrapped in a decorative way □ Would you like it gift-wrapped?

gig [gɪg] n a performance by a pop or jazz musician or group (informal use).

gigabyte ['gɪgəbaɪt] n one thousand million bytes.

gigantic [dʒaɪ'gæntɪk] adj that seems extremely big □ The ship was hit by a gigantic waves.

giggle ['gɪgl] ◇ n a quiet laugh that is nervous, childish, or silly □ He gave a nervous giggle. ◇ vi to laugh quietly in a nervous, childish, or silly way □ She couldn't stop giggling.

giggly ['gɪglɪ] (compar gigglier, superl giggliest) adj [person, schoolchild] who giggles a lot.

GIGO ['gaɪgəʊ] (abbr of garbage in, garbage out) n a term meaning that the information produced by a computer system is only as good as the information put into it.

gigolo ['dʒɪgələʊ] (pl gigolos) n a man who is paid to be the lover or companion of a usually rich older woman (disapproving use).

GI Joe [-'dʒəʊ] a name for a US soldier (informal use).

Gilbert ['gɪlbɜ:rt], Sir W. S. (1836–1911) a British writer who worked with the composer Sir Arthur Sullivan on many famous operettas, including The Pirates of Penzance and The Mikado.

gilded ['gɪldəd] adj = gilt.

gill [dʒɪl] n a unit (0.142 liters) used for measuring liquids.

gills [gɪlz] npl the organs through which a fish breathes.

gilt [gɪlt] ◇ adj: a gilt frame/clock/statue etc a frame/clock/statue etc that is covered in a thin layer of gold or gold paint. ◇ n a thin layer of gold or gold paint.

◆ gilts npl gilt-edged stocks, shares, and securities.

gilt-edged [-edʒd] adj gilt-edged stocks/shares/securities stocks/shares/securities that are sold by a government and give a low rate of interest but are considered to be a safe investment.

gimme ['gɪmɪ] = give me (informal use).

gimmick ['gɪmɪk] n something that is used to attract attention or publicity, especially in order to sell something (disapproving use) □ It's just a sales gimmick.

gin [dʒɪn] n a colorless alcoholic drink made from grain and flavored with juniper berries □ I'll have a gin and tonic, please.

ginger ['dʒɪndʒə] ◇ n -1. a plant root used as a hot spicy flavoring in foods. -2. powdered ginger. ◇ adj GB [hair, cat] that is close to orange in color.

ginger ale n a non-alcoholic soft drink flavored with ginger and often mixed with spirits.

ginger beer n a slightly alcoholic soft drink flavored with ginger.

gingerbread ['dʒɪndʒə'bred] n a cake flavored with ginger.

ginger group n GB a group of people inside a political party, labor union etc, who urge a more active or radical policy.

ginger-haired [-'heə'd] adj [person] who has ginger hair.

gingerly ['dʒɪndʒə'lɪ] adv [walk, touch, hold] very cautiously, especially because one is afraid of hurting oneself or damaging something.

gingham ['gɪŋəm] n cotton cloth with a check pattern on it, used for tablecloths, dresses, curtains etc □ a gingham dress/tablecloth.

gingivitis [,dʒɪndʒɪ'vaɪtəs] n inflammation of the gums.

ginseng ['dʒɪnsɛŋ] n the root of a Chinese plant, used as medicine in some parts of the world.

Giotto ['dʒɪtəʊ] (1267–1337) an Italian artist and architect who painted many religious frescoes. He introduced a more realistic style of painting.

gipsy ['dʒɪpsɪ] (pl gipsies) n & adj GB = gypsy.

giraffe [US dʒɪ'ræf, GB -'rɑ:f] (pl giraffe OR giraffes) n an African animal with a very long neck and dark patches on yellow or orange skin.

gird [gɜːrd] (pt & pp girded OR girt) vt → loin.

girder ['gɜːrdə] n a long metal bar used in buildings, bridges etc to give them extra strength □ a metal/iron girder.

girdle ['gɜːdl] n a piece of women's underwear that makes the stomach and hips look slimmer.

girl [gɜːl] n -1. a female child □ I can remember when I was a little girl. □ a twelve-year-old/baby girl. -2. a young woman, usually who is not married or who does a particular job □ a teenage girl □ the checkout girl □ Look where you're going, girl! □ He's going out with a French girl. -3. a daughter □ I've got a little girl called Sarah. -4. the girls the women that a person works with or sees often (informal use) □ I'm having an evening out with the girls.

girl Friday n a young woman who does general office work.

girlfriend ['gɜːlfrɛnd] n -1. a girl or woman that a person is having a romantic or sexual relationship with □ Have you met his new girlfriend? -2. a female friend, usually of a woman.

girl guide n in Britain, a member of an organization, the Girl Guide Association, that teaches young girls useful skills and to be good citizens.

girlie magazine ['gɜːli-] n a magazine for men that has erotic pictures of naked or partly naked women (informal use).

girlish ['gɜːlɪʃ] adj [laughter, dress] that is typical of a young girl.

girl scout n in the USA, a member of an organization, the Girl Scouts, that teaches young girls useful skills and to be good citizens.

giro ['dʒaɪrou] (pl giros) n GB -1. a banking system that transfers money between accounts without the need for a check □ I'll pay by bank giro. □ a giro account/check. -2. = girocheque.

girocheque ['dʒaɪrouʃek] n GB a check that is given to people who get money from the state, e.g. to the unemployed or disabled.

girt [gɜːt] past tense & past participle of gird.

girth [gɜːθ] n -1. the size of somebody's stomach, when this is large □ his ample girth. -2. the strap attached to a saddle that goes around a horse's stomach.

gist [dʒɪst] n the gist of sthg [of a conversation, speech, article] the main points or basic idea of sthg that does not include the details □ I was just able to get OR catch the gist of what he was saying.

give [gɪv] (pt gave, pp given) ◇ vt -1. to give sb sthg, to give sthg to sb to hand or send sthg to sb as a present □ He gave me a watch for my birthday. □ "Did you buy that skirt?" — "No, it was given to me." -2. to give sb sthg, to give sthg to sb to hand or pass sthg to sb for them to look at or use □ Give me that book. □ She gave her ticket to the inspector. -3. to give a sum of money for sthg to pay a sum of money for sthg □ I'll give you $50 for it. -4. to give sb sthg [treat, pay increase, support] to let sb have sthg that they want or need □ Can you give me the name of your dentist? □ We were given a room on the third floor. -5. to give sb sthg, to give sthg to sb [message, information, greetings] to tell sb sthg; to let sb know or hear sthg □ You didn't give him your telephone number, did you? □ Let me give you some advice.

-6. to give sb time/power etc to cause sb to have time/power etc □ She was given half an hour to collect her things and leave the building. □ What gives you the right to talk to me like that? □ She'd love to do it, given the opportunity/chance.

-7. to give sb a feeling/problem etc to cause sb to have a feeling/problem etc □ I hope the children don't give you any trouble. □ The walk has given me an appetite. □ The news gave me a shock. □ Donald gives the impression of not caring. -8. to give a smile/wave etc to smile/wave etc once (used to show that somebody performs an action) □ She gave a shrug.

■ to give sb/sthg sthg to do sthg to sb/sthg □ He gave me a grin. □ I gave the car a good clean.

-9. to give a speech/lecture etc to speak/lecture etc in public □ Mr Kowalski gave a press conference after the meeting. □ The band will be giving a couple of concerts in London.

-10. I was/we were given to believe that... I/we thought that something was true because somebody said so (formal use).

◇ vi [branch, rope, bridge] to bend, stretch, or break because of pressure or strain □ The platform finally gave under their weight.

◇ n the ability of something to bend or stretch under pressure □ These shoes don't seem to have much give.

◆ give or take prep it's 60 miles, give or take a mile it is 60 miles, or perhaps a mile more or less.

◆ give away vt sep -1. to give sthg away [books, old clothes] to give sthg to somebody as a present because one does not want or need it any more □ She gave away all her furniture when she went abroad. -2. to give sthg away [information, secret, truth] to let people know sthg that should be kept secret, usually by mistake □ It was your accent that gave you away.

◆ give back vt sep to give sthg back [present, book, pen] to return sthg to its owner or to the person who had it before □ I gave him back the $20 that he had lent me.

◆ give in ◇ vi -1. [person] to admit that one has been beaten □ We will continue to fight and never give in. -2. to give in to sthg to agree to do sthg unwillingly □ I was determined not to give in to their demands. ◇ vt sep to give sthg in [report, paper] to hand sthg to the proper person or place □ All room keys must be given in to the receptionist on departure.

◆ give off vt fus to give off sthg [heat, fumes, smell] to produce sthg and send it into the air, often because of a chemical reaction □ When foam rubber catches fire, it gives off toxic fumes.

◆ give out ◇ vt sep to give sthg out [presents, leaflets] to hand sthg to everyone in a group

- Someone was giving out free samples of make-up to shoppers in the store. ◇ vi [strength, car] to stop working, usually due to tiredness or a mechanical fault □ My legs gave out after ten miles.
- ◆ give over vt sep to be given over to sthg to be used only for sthg □ The building is given over to sports on Monday nights.
- ◆ give up ◇ vt sep -1. to give sthg up [alcohol, chocolate] to stop doing, using, eating etc sthg □ My doctor has told me to give up smoking. □ I gave up my seat to an old lady. ■ to give up hope to stop hoping. ■ to give up one's job to leave one's job. -2. to give oneself up to go to the police and allow them to arrest one □ The terrorists gave themselves up to the police. ◇ vi to admit that one cannot do something and stop doing it □ She was forced to give up after twelve miles because of blisters.
- ◆ give up on vt fus to give up on sb/sthg to stop believing that one can understand sb/sthg □ Don't give up on me now! ■ to give up on sthg to stop believing that one can do sthg.
- give-and-take n a willingness by two people or groups of people to let each other decide what to do □ There has to be a certain amount of give-and-take in any relationship/negotiation.
- giveaway ['gɪvəweɪ] ◇ n something that somebody does, without intending to, that makes one realize the truth □ That blush was a real giveaway. ◇ adj giveaway prices very cheap prices.
- given ['gɪvən] ◇ past participle of give. ◇ adj -1. a given date/moment etc a date/moment etc that is fixed and decided in advance □ At a given signal everyone will stop what they are doing. -2. at any given time at any time one chooses □ We should be able to know where they are at any given time. -3. to be given to sthg [to exaggerating, lying] to do sthg often, especially sthg bad □ I'm not given to telling lies. ◇ prep taking <sthg> into account □ Given his background, it's no surprise. □ I was lucky to get a prize, given the number of people who entered.
- given name n a person's first name, chosen by their parents when they are born.
- glacé cherry [US glæ'ser-, GB 'glæseɪ-] n a cherry that has been kept in sugar and is used in cakes and cocktails.
- glacial ['gleɪʃjəl] adj -1. a glacial look/stare etc a look/stare etc that is cold and unfriendly. -2. [landscape, deposit, period] that is connected to or made by glaciers.
- glacier [US 'gleɪʃr, GB 'glæsɪə] n a large mass of ice that moves slowly over land.
- glad [glæd] (compar gladder, superl gladdest) adj -1. to be glad to be happy and pleased □ I'm glad to hear he's better. □ I'm glad (that) you phoned. □ I'm glad about your new job! -2. to be glad to do sthg to be very willing to do sthg for somebody □ Nonsense, I was glad to be of help. □ "Could you give me a hand?" — "I'll be glad to." -3. to be glad of sthg to be grateful for sthg □ To be honest, I was glad of the company/chance/help. □ I'd be very glad if you would let me know.
- gladden ['glædn] vt to gladden sb's heart to make sb very happy (literary use).
- glade [gleɪd] n a small area in a forest that has grass and no trees (literary use).
- gladiator ['glædɪətə] n in ancient Rome, a man, often a slave, trained to entertain a crowd by fighting other men or animals.
- gladioli [,glædɪ'əʊləɪ] npl a garden plant that has a long thick stem with bright flowers on each side.
- gladly ['glædlɪ] adv [help, listen, kill] willingly, and even at some cost to oneself □ They'd gladly die rather than suffer the humiliation. □ I'd gladly help, but I'm going out that night.
- Gladstone [US 'glædstoʊn, GB -stən], W. E. (1809–1898) British Prime Minister from 1864 to 1874, 1880 to 1885, in 1886, and from 1892 to 1894.
- glamor US, glamour GB ['glæmə] n [of a person, place, job] the quality of being more attractive, exciting, or interesting than somebody or something ordinary □ the glamor of the fashion world.
- glamorize, -ise ['glæməraɪz] vt [truth, job, place] to make <sthg> appear glamorous when it is not □ I think you're glamorizing what I do — most of the time the work's really boring.
- glamorous ['glæməərəs] adj [person, place, job] that has glamor □ Traveling around the world on business is not as glamorous as it sounds.
- glamour n GB = glamor.
- glance [US glæns, GB glɑ:ns] ◇ n a quick look □ He had or took a glance at his watch. □ She cast or threw a glance in my direction. ■ at a glance without having to look or think carefully □ You can tell at a glance it's a fake. ■ at first glance before one looks or thinks more carefully about it □ At first glance I thought it was a dog. ◇ vi to look quickly □ He glanced over his shoulder/around the room/in the mirror. □ He glanced at her/his watch. □ I haven't read it, I've only glanced at or through it.
- ◆ glance off vt fus to glance off sb/sthg [head, shoulder, wall] to hit sb/sthg at an angle and bounce off again □ The stone glanced off the window.
- glancing [US 'glænsɪŋ, GB 'glɑ:ns-] adj a glancing blow a blow that hits somebody or something at an angle.
- gland [glænd] n an organ in humans, animals, and plants that produces and releases chemical substances that are needed, or that have to be got rid of □ the thyroid gland □ sweat glands.
- glandular fever [,glændzələ'fɜ:] n GB an infectious disease that gives people fever, a sore throat, and swollen glands and makes them feel weak.
- glare [gleə] ◇ n -1. [of a person] an angry look □ a fierce/an angry glare. -2. [of the sun, a light, headlight] a very bright light that is difficult to look at □ She shaded her eyes from the glare. -3. in the glare of sthg [of publicity, the media] in public so that the media show

- everybody what is happening □ The trial will be held in the full glare of television cameras.
 ◇ vi -1. [person] to look in an angry way at somebody or something □ He glared at me.
 -2. [sun, light, headlight] to shine very brightly so that it is difficult to look at □ The sun glared down from a cloudless sky.
- glaring ['glɛəriŋ] adj -1. [mistake, injustice, abuse] that is obvious and very bad □ His speech contained a number of glaring errors. -2. [sun, light, headlight] that glares.
- Glasgow [US 'glæsgou, GB 'glɑ:z-] the largest city in Scotland, in the southwest of the country. POPULATION: 684,000.
- glasnost [US 'glɑ:snoust, GB 'glæznɒst] n a policy that began in the former USSR of making government less secret and giving the people more power over it.
- glass [US glæs, GB glɑ:s] n -1. a hard transparent substance that is used to make windows, bottles etc and that breaks easily □ a piece of broken glass □ a glass bottle/door/bowl. -2. a small glass container, usually without a handle, used for drinks; the amount of drink that is contained in this □ a beer glass □ I had OR drank a few glasses last night. □ Can I have a glass of water, please? -3. objects made of glass □ All the glass and china is kept in the kitchen.
- ◆ glasses npl a device consisting of two glass lenses in a frame that is worn in front of one's eyes to help one see better □ a pair of glasses □ reading glasses.
- glassblowing [US 'glæsbloʊɪŋ, GB 'glɑ:s-] n the art of blowing air through a tube into liquid glass to make vases and other shapes.
- glass fibre n GB a material made from tiny glass threads, used to make plastic stronger or to keep heat in.
- glasshouse [US 'glæshaus, GB 'glɑ:s-, pl -haʊzɪz] n GB a building with glass walls used for growing plants in.
- glassware [US 'glæsweər, GB 'glɑ:sweə] n objects made of glass, especially drinking glasses and things used in a house.
- glassy [US 'glæsi, GB 'glɑ:si] (compar glassier, superl glassiest) adj -1. glassy eyes, a glassy stare eyes that show no emotion or understanding □ a glassy-eyed stare. -2. [sea, surface] that looks smooth, shiny, and hard, like glass.
- Glastonbury [US 'glæstənberi, GB -bəri] a town in southwestern England where, according to legend, King Arthur was buried.
- Glaswegian [US glæs'wi:dʒjən, GB glɑ:z-] ◇ n -1. a person who comes from or lives in Glasgow. -2. a dialect of English spoken in Glasgow. ◇ adj: see Glasgow.
- glaucoma [glɔ:'kɒmə] n an eye disease that causes gradual blindness.
- glaze [gleɪz] ◇ n -1. a smooth shiny layer on the surface of a piece of pottery. -2. COOKING a thin layer of beaten egg, milk etc, that is brushed onto food, e.g. bread, pastry, and meat, before it is cooked to make it look shiny and attractive. ◇ vt -1. [vase, tile, pottery] to cover  with a smooth shiny layer. -2. COOKING [pie, pastry] to cover <food> with a layer of beaten egg, milk etc, especially before baking it.
- ◆ glaze over vi [eyes, expression] to start showing signs of boredom.
- glazed [gleɪzd] adj -1. a glazed look OR expression a look that shows no signs of feeling or understanding, because one is bored, drunk, ill etc. -2. [pottery, pastry] that has a glaze on it. -3. [window, door, picture] that has been fitted with glass.
- glazier ['gleɪzjə] n a person whose job is to cut and fit glass for windows, doors etc.
- gleam [gli:m] ◇ n -1. [of metal, the sun, a candle] a soft light, sometimes reflected off something else □ a gleam of light. -2. [of triumph, pride, anger] a particular feeling that can be seen in somebody's eyes or face and that comes and goes very quickly □ The mention of money brought a gleam to his eye. ◇ vi -1. [metal, glass] to reflect light because it is shiny and clean □ He polished the windows until they gleamed. -2. [sun, star, candle] to shine faintly. -3. [eyes] to shine and show a particular feeling □ Her eyes gleamed with malice.
- gleaming ['gli:mɪŋ] ◇ adj [light, metal, face] that gleams □ rows of gleaming copper pans. ◇ adv: a gleaming new car □ a gleaming white bathroom.
- glean [gli:n] vt [fact, information] to find out <sthg> gradually or indirectly □ Did you manage to glean anything from their conversation?
- glee [gli:] n a feeling of great happiness and excitement, often at somebody else's bad luck or at one's own good luck □ He rubbed his hands with glee at the thought.
- gleeful ['gli:fl] adj [expression, person, smile] that shows glee.
- glen [glen] n a deep narrow valley in Scotland.
- Glenn [glen], John (1921–) a US astronaut who was the first American to go around the Earth in a spaceship.
- glib [glɪb] (compar glibber, superl glibbest) adj [remark, answer] that is difficult to believe because it is said quickly and easily, without much thought; [person] who speaks in a glib way.
- glide [glɑɪd] vi -1. [dancer, person, boat] to move smoothly, easily, and quietly over a surface □ The skater glided across OR over the ice. -2. [bird] to fly without flapping its wings; [plane] to fly without power from an engine □ The eagle glided across the sky/through the air.
- glider ['glɑɪdər] n a very light aircraft with no engine that uses air currents to fly.
- gliding ['glɑɪdɪŋ] n the sport of flying gliders.
- glimmer ['glɪmə] ◇ n -1. [of light, dawn] a faint light that is often unsteady □ The first glimmers of light were beginning to appear on the horizon. -2. a glimmer of hope/interest/emotion etc a faint sign of hope/interest/emotion etc. ◇ vi [light] to shine faintly and often unsteadily □ A light glimmered in the distance.
- glimpse [glɪmps] ◇ n -1. a quick look at somebody or something that is not long enough for one to see or remember all the details □ I only caught a glimpse of the driver.

-2. [of the truth, future, somebody's character] a brief experience of something that helps one to understand it better □ glimpses of what life was like in the 1940s. ◇ vt -1. [person, object, building] to see <sb/sthg> for only a moment so that one cannot remember all the details □ I glimpsed a figure in the doorway. -2. [truth, character, future] to experience <sthg> for a short time and begin to understand it □ I really only glimpsed the truth behind all of this.

glint [glɪnt] ◇ n -1. [of light, metal] a brief flash, usually from a shiny surface □ the cold glint of steel. -2. [of humor, mischief] a sign in somebody's eyes that shows a particular feeling, especially an unpleasant one □ There was an evil glint in his eyes. ◇ vi -1. [water, metal] to reflect or produce brief flashes of light □ The knife glinted in the sun. -2. [eyes] to show a particular, usually unpleasant, feeling □ Her eyes glinted with spite.

glisten ['glɪsn] vi [body, gold, sweat] to shine all over because it is wet, oily, or polished and reflects light, especially in an attractive way □ The wet grass glistened in the sunlight. □ His eyes glistened with tears.

glitch [glɪtʃ] n a small problem that stops something from working (informal use).

glitter ['glɪtə] ◇ n -1. [of stars, jewelry] light that glitters □ the bright glitter of diamonds. -2. [for decoration] very small squares of shiny paper, used as cheap decoration □ She had stuck glitter on the card in the shape of a Christmas tree. ◇ vi -1. [star, jewelry, lights] to shine attractively with many small bright points of reflected light □ The sky glittered with stars. □ The sunlight glittered on the surface of the lake. -2. [eyes] to shine with a particular feeling □ Her eyes glittered with greed.

glittering ['glɪtərɪŋ] adj -1. [stars, jewels, eyes] that glitter. -2. [occasion, cast] that is impressive and exciting because many famous and beautiful people are there □ The festival hosts a glittering line-up of stars. -3. [career, success] that is very successful and impressive.

glitzy ['glɪtzi] (compar glitzier, superl glitziest) adj [occasion, dress, woman] that looks attractive and fashionable in a showy and obvious way.

gloat [gləʊt] vi to show somebody that one is pleased that one has been more lucky or successful than them, in order to make them feel worse □ I didn't come here to gloat over your bad luck.

global ['gləʊbl] adj -1. [market, importance, warfare] that reaches or involves people and places all over the world □ global security and the new world order. -2. [view, picture] that includes all aspects of a situation □ We've tried to take a global view of the situation.

globally ['gləʊbəli] adv: see global □ Sales have exceeded three million globally. □ Think globally, act locally.

global warming [-'wɔ:ɪ'mɪŋ] n the general increase in the world's temperature, thought to be caused by damage to the Earth's atmosphere.

globe [gləʊb] n -1. the globe the world □ people all over the globe. -2. a small model of the world, usually on a stand, used as a map. -3. an object that is round like a ball.

globetrotter ['gləʊbrɒtə] n a person who travels a lot to different countries.

globule ['glɒbjʊ:l] n [of oil, wax] a tiny drop of thick liquid.

gloom [glu:m] n -1. [of a house, forest, room] darkness □ I could hardly see anything in the gloom. -2. [of a person, atmosphere] a feeling of unhappiness and hopelessness □ There's a feeling of gloom in the stock market tonight.

gloomy ['glu:mɪ] (compar gloomier, superl gloomiest) adj -1. [house, forest, room] that does not have or get much light and makes people feel sad □ She lives in a gloomy little apartment. -2. [weather, sky, day] that is very cloudy and dull □ a gloomy winter's day. -3. [person, atmosphere] that is unhappy and shows no signs of hope □ The movie paints a very gloomy picture of life in downtown LA. □ I think he's feeling gloomy about his chances of success. -4. [outlook, forecast, future] that offers little hope for the future □ She faced the gloomy prospect of losing her home.

glorified ['glɔ:rəfaɪd] adj that is no more exciting than something else, although it is described as something different and better □ The "plush hotel" was just a glorified motel.

glorify ['glɔ:rəfaɪ] (vt & pp glorified) vt -1. [war, virtue] to praise <sthg> and make it seem more important than it really is □ Violence should not be glorified, but deplored. -2. to glorify God to praise God greatly.

glorious ['glɔ:rɪəs] adj -1. [sight, countryside] beautiful, especially to look at □ We saw some glorious sunsets. -2. [feeling, vacation, moment] very enjoyable and wonderful □ We had a glorious time. -3. glorious weather/sunshine weather/sunshine that is hot and sunny □ It was a glorious summer's day. -4. [victory, death, king] that has, brings, or deserves great glory □ He died a glorious death in battle.

glory ['glɔ:rɪ] (pl glories) n -1. fame and honor that one earns by doing something impressive □ Those brave men died for the greater glory of France. □ She believes in working as a team, not for personal glory. -2. the natural beauty of somebody or something □ Come back in summer and see the garden in all its glory. -3. the glory of sb/sthg the most beautiful or impressive feature of sb/sthg □ The glory of the idea lies in its very simplicity. □ The real glory of the collection is the piece by Rodin. □ the glories of Renaissance art.

◆ glory in vt fus to glory in sthg [success, freedom, violence] to enjoy sthg very much, especially a new feeling or situation, or an activity that harms other people □ They seem to glory in their reputation for crass commercialism.

Glos abbr of Gloucestershire.

gloss [glɒs] n -1. the shiny appearance of something smooth and flat, new, or in good condition that can show things as reflections

□ The woodwork had an attractive gloss finish.

-2. = gloss paint.

♦ gloss over vt fus to gloss over sthg [fact, problem] to talk about sthg unpleasant quickly and not in detail □ He glossed over the possible closure of the school.

glossary ['glɒsəri] (pl glossaries) n an alphabetical list of words used in a particular field of knowledge, together with an explanation of their meanings.

gloss paint n paint that produces a very smooth and shiny surface.

glossy ['glɒsi] (compar glossier, superl glossiest) ◇ adj -1. [surface] that looks smooth and shiny; [hair] that is shiny because it is in good condition □ a healthy cat with a nice glossy coat. -2. [photo, cover, page] that is printed on shiny paper. -3. [display, packaging] that is attractive but often has no real use □ It's all very glossy, but what would you use it for?
◇ n = glossy magazine.

glossy magazine n a magazine full of glossy pages and color photos of fashion, famous people, expensive homes etc.

Gloucestershire ['glɒstəʃə] a county in southwestern England. SIZE: 2,643 sq kms. POPULATION: 522,200. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Gloucester.

glove [glɒv] n a piece of clothing that fits one's hand and is worn for warmth or protection □ a pair of gloves.

glove compartment n a small compartment in a car underneath the windshield, used to keep small articles in.

glove puppet n GB a puppet that fits on the hand and is moved by it.

glow [gləʊ] ◇ n -1. [of the sun, a fire] a soft light □ a soft/gentle glow. -2. [of somebody's face] a pink color on a person's face that shows they are healthy or have just finished exercising □ a healthy glow. -3. [of pride, satisfaction] the feeling one has when one is pleased about something □ Inside, Sue felt a warm glow of satisfaction.

◇ vi -1. [light, star, sun] to shine with a soft steady light; [fire, cigarette] to shine with light but without flames □ a plastic toy that glows in the dark □ His eyes glowed with pleasure/anger. -2. [walls, place] to shine in light that comes from somewhere else □ The whole valley glowed in the sunset. -3. [leaves, color] to be very bright, especially with red and orange colors □ Her paintings glow with color. □ The forest glowed red and gold. -4. [face, cheeks, person] to have a healthy glow, usually because of excitement or pride □ He was positively glowing with health!

glower ['gləʊə] vi to look at somebody or something in an angry way.

glowing ['gləʊɪŋ] adj a glowing report/tribute etc a report/tribute etc. that praises somebody or something very much □ He's always spoken of you in glowing terms.

glow-worm n GB a flying insect that can be seen in the dark because it produces a small amount of light.

glucose ['glu:kəʊs] n a form of sugar found in fruit and used by the body for energy. FORMULA: C₆H₁₂O₆.

glue [glu:] (cont glueing OR gluing) ◇ n any thick liquid that is used to stick things together □ The whole thing was stuck together with glue. ◇ vt to attach <sthg> to something else using glue □ Glue the broken pieces together. □ The photo was glued to the page. ■ to be glued to sthg [to the TV, radio] to be so interested in sthg that one never stops listening to or watching it □ He just sits there all day glued to his computer screen. ■ to be glued to the spot to be unable to move because of a strong emotion □ He stood glued to the spot, not daring to move.

glue-sniffing [-snɪfɪŋ] n the use of glue and similar substances as drugs, by breathing in their fumes.

glum [glʌm] (compar glummer, superl glum-mest) adj [expression, face] that shows that one is unhappy and not hopeful □ Why are you looking so glum?

glut [glʌt] n [of produce, oil, houses] a situation in which there is too much of something available, so it becomes difficult to sell □ There's a glut in the property market.

gluten ['glu:tɪn] n a protein found in wheat flour.

glutinous ['glu:tɪnəs] adj [rice, stew, mud] that is thick, sticky, and can become solid.

glutton ['glʌtn] n a person who eats more than they need. ■ to be a glutton for punishment to choose to keep suffering although one could avoid it (humorous use).

gluttony ['glʌtni] n the habit of eating more than one needs.

glycerin ['glɪsərɪn], glycerine ['glɪsərɪ:n] n a thick colorless or yellow liquid that tastes sweet and is used to make medicine, anti-freeze, and explosives.

Glyndebourne ['glɪndəbɔ:rn] n an opera house in the country in southeastern England, where a famous opera festival takes place every year; the festival itself.

gm abbr of gram.

GMAT (abbr of Graduate Management Admissions Test) n in the USA, a test taken by students who have finished their degree and want to study business at graduate school.

GMB (abbr of General, Munitipal, and Boiler-makers) n a large British labor union for administrative, clerical, and industrial workers.

GMT (abbr of Greenwich Mean Time) n the time in Greenwich, London. Local times around the world are described by comparing them with GMT.

gnarled [nɑ:'lɪd] adj [tree, hand, face] that has hard lumps or is twisted out of shape because it is old.

gnash [næʃ] vt to gnash one's teeth to close and move one's teeth together noisily; to be very angry or frustrated about something.

gnat [næt] n a very small fly that bites people and animals.

gnaw [nɔ:] \diamond vt -1. [bone, fingernail] to bite <sthg> continuously \square Mice have gnawed through the electric cables. -2. to gnaw a hole in sthg to make a hole in sthg by gnawing it. \diamond vi to gnaw (away) at sb [fear, doubt, problem] to make sb feel worried all the time \square I could feel a vague anxiety gnawing away at the back of my mind.

gnome [nəʊm] n in stories for children, a very small old man with white hair, a white beard, and a pointed hat; a small brightly painted statue of this type of man that is used as a decoration in gardens \square a garden gnome.

GNP n abbr of gross national product.

gnu [nu:] (pl gnu OR gnus) n an antelope with curved horns and a beard that comes from South Africa.

go [ɡoʊ] (pt went, pp gone, pl goes) \diamond vi -1. [person, bus] to move or travel toward a particular place, usually away from the speaker \square Let's go home, it's late. \square Where are you going? \square We went on foot/by bus. -2. [person] to move from one place to another in order to do some activity \square I'm going for a walk. \square Are you going to the party on Saturday? \blacksquare to go (and) do sthg to go somewhere in order to do sthg \square Go and see if she's ready. \blacksquare to go swimming/dancing to go somewhere in order to swim/dance for pleasure or to relax \square Last summer we went walking in the Pyrenees. -3. [person, bus] to leave a place \square I must be going. \square What time does the bus go? \blacksquare he's gone he has left and is no longer here. \blacksquare let's go! let's start now! -4. [path, line] to lead toward a particular place or follow a particular direction \square Where does this road go? \square The tunnel goes under the river. -5. to go to school/college/church to attend school/college/church regularly \square What time do you go to work? -6. [period of time] to pass \square Time goes slowly in prison. \square The years went very fast. -7. to go well/badly [event] to be successful/unsuccessful \square How did the interview go today? \square Things are going much better now. -8. [car, clock, watch] to work as it is supposed to; [washing machine, tape recorder] to be switched on and operating \square The car won't go. -9. [bell, siren] to sound suddenly and loudly \square At that point, the alarm went. -10. to go on OR into sthg [money, time] to be spent on or used for sthg \square Most of our income goes on rent. -11. to go to sb [prize, job] to be won by or given to sb \square The contract went to another agency. \square All profits will go to charity. -12. [employee] to be made to leave a job \square He'll have to go! \blacksquare 'everything must go' everything must be sold (used in a store where there is a sale). -13. [light bulb, fuse] to stop working because it has become weak or worn-out \square The battery's going in my camera. \square My voice has gone. \blacksquare his sight/hearing is going he is becoming blind/deaf. -14. to go (together) to be suitable to be put, used etc together \square Wine and chocolate don't really go (together). \square This blouse goes well with that skirt. -15. [box, clothes] to be small enough to fit in a particular place \square The turkey's too big to go in the freezer. -16. [book, piece of machinery] to have somewhere as its proper or usual place \square The plates go in this cupboard. \square Where does this piece go? -17. used when repeating a song, poem etc \square How does that tune go? \square His version of what happened goes like this. -18. MATH 10 goes into 50 five times 50 can be divided by 10 five times. -19. (+ complement) to go naked/hungry to be or remain naked/hungry \square Our cries for help went unnoticed. \blacksquare to go mad/blind to become mad/blind \square He went pale with fear. \square The company went bankrupt. -20. don't go doing sthg don't do sthg (informal use) \square Don't go blaming yourself/catching cold!

\diamond vt ducks go "quack" ducks make the sound "quack".

\diamond modal vb I'm going to leave I intend to leave \square We're going to eat out this evening. \square We're going to go to the States in June. \blacksquare it's going to rain it will rain soon \square She's going to have a baby. \square You're going to regret this!

\diamond n -1. it's my/your go [in a game] it's my/your turn or time to do something, e.g. play a card \square Whose go is it? -2. to have a go to make an attempt (informal use) \square I decided I'd have a go at sailing. \square At least have a go! -3. phrases to make a go of sthg to do what is needed to make sthg successful (informal use) \square They're trying to make a go of their business/marriage. \blacksquare to be on the go to be busy (informal use) \square I've been on the go all day.

\blacklozenge to go adv -1. there are five miles to go there are five miles left or remaining \square There are only three days to go to OR before the deadline. -2. a pizza to go a pizza to be taken out rather than eaten at the restaurant.

\blacklozenge go about \diamond vt fus -1. to go about sthg [job, problem] to start to deal with sthg \square How do you intend going about it? \square I think they went about it in completely the wrong way. -2. to go about one's business to do what one normally does \square I want to be left alone to go about my business. \diamond vi [person, story] = go around.

\blacklozenge go after vt fus to go after sthg to try to get sthg \square We both went after the same job/prize.

\blacklozenge go against vt fus -1. to go against one's principles/wishes to be opposed to or in conflict with what one believes/wants \square You know what will happen if you go against your father's wishes. -2. to go against sb's advice to do something different from what sb has advised \square She went against our advice and reported it to the police. -3. to go against sb [decision, judgment, verdict] to be unfavorable to sb \square We were worried that the result of the ballot might go against us.

\blacklozenge go ahead vi -1. to go ahead with sthg to do or carry out <sthg that has already been planned> \square It looks as if they're going ahead with the project. \blacksquare go ahead! do it! \square Go ahead and sue me: I don't care. -2. [event, game] to take place as planned \square The concert will go ahead without her.

\blacklozenge go along vi [meeting, talk] to attend <an event> \square Are you going along to the party?

- ◆ go along with vt fus to go along with sb/sthg [person, suggestion, decision] to accept that sb/sthg is right and do what they want □ I'm happy to go along with everyone else. □ He agreed to go along with our ideas.
- ◆ go around vi -1. to go around doing sthg [person] to do sthg often or as a habit □ There's no need to go around telling everyone! -2. [wheels, record, dancer] to move in a circular direction. -3. [story, joke] to be told by many different people □ There's a rumor going around that the business is up for sale. -4. to be enough to go around [money, food] to be enough for everybody present □ Do we have enough chairs to go around?
- ◆ go around with vt fus to go around with sb to spend a lot of time going to places with sb □ She's been going around with Joel.
- ◆ go away vi -1. [person] to leave a place or person □ Go away! I'm reading. -2. [person] to spend a period of time away from home, usually for relaxation □ Why don't we go away for a few days? -3. [feeling, smell] to disappear □ I can't get this stain to go away.
- ◆ go back vi [person] to return to the place one has left, especially one's home □ I've left him and I'm never going back!
- ◆ go back on vt fus to go back on sthg [promise, agreement] to fail to do sthg that one has said that one will do □ She never goes back on her word.
- ◆ go back to vt fus -1. to go back to sthg [job, reading] to start doing sthg again after doing something different for a time □ He went back to scribbling in his notebook. □ He went back to work. ■ to go back to sleep to fall asleep again after waking up. -2. to go back to sthg [topic, subject, point] to start talking about sthg again after talking about something different for a time □ Going back or To go back to what you were saying earlier... -3. to go back to a particular time in the past [building, plan] to have existed since a particular time in the past □ The firm goes back to 1952.
- ◆ go before vi to exist or happen before □ We wanted to forget what had gone before.
- ◆ go by ◇ vt fus to go by sb/sthg to be guided by sb/sthg when deciding what to do or believe □ Don't go by what he says: he's lying. □ Going by her accent, I'd say she was Hungarian. ◇ vi -1. [car, people] to move past □ She stared at the crowds going by outside. -2. [period of time] to pass □ Whole days went by without any news.
- ◆ go down vi -1. [level, liquid] to become lower □ We must wait until the floodwaters go down. -2. [sun] to sink below the horizon and disappear □ We stood on the beach and watched the sun go down. -3. [tire, balloon] to lose air and become less swollen and firm □ My tire's gone down again. -4. [rate, output] to become less □ Prices/Interest rates are going down. □ The average age of participants is going down. -5. it went down well/badly people liked it/did not like it □ His comment about overtime went down badly with the staff.
- ◆ go down with vt fus to go down with an illness to catch an illness, usually one that is not very serious (informal use) □ She's gone down with chickenpox.
- ◆ go for vt fus -1. to go for a walk/ride to go out to walk/ride for pleasure □ She goes for a run every morning. -2. to go for sthg/sb [type of product, method, person] to choose sthg/sb, especially because one likes them □ In the end we decided to go for a second-hand car. □ I don't really go for tall women. -3. to go for sthg [job, championship] to try to get sthg □ She's going for the world record. -4. to go for sb/sthg [person, part of the body] to suddenly attack sb/sthg □ He went for me with a knife. -5. that goes for you/it as well that is true about you/it as well as other people or things □ You're a fool, and the same goes for your sister.
- ◆ go in vi -1. [person] to enter a building, especially one's own home □ She opened the door and went in. -2. [sun] to disappear behind a cloud.
- ◆ go in for vt fus -1. to go in for sthg [competition, exam] to arrange to take part in sthg □ Are you going in for the New York Marathon? -2. to go in for sthg [sport, music, dancing] to enjoy sthg and do it often □ I don't really go in for jazz.
- ◆ go into vt fus -1. to go into sthg [subject, problem] to describe or discuss sthg in a detailed way □ The report goes into her family background. □ I'd rather not go into that now. -2. to go into sthg [crime, question] to examine sthg in order to decide what to do about it □ We intend to go into the matter of the missing money very thoroughly. -3. to go into a career/an occupation [teaching, journalism] to start a particular career/occupation □ Have you ever thought of going into advertising? -4. a lot of time/money went into that a lot of time/money was used to make or do that □ Most of our resources went into promoting the book. -5. to go into a dive/spin [car, plane] to start to dive/spin.
- ◆ go off vi -1. [person] to leave a place in order to do something □ "Where's Ann?" — "She went off to look for a gas station." -2. [bomb, hand grenade] to explode; [gun] to fire □ A bomb was planted in the car but failed to go off. -3. [alarm, siren] to sound suddenly and loudly □ Suddenly, the car alarm went off. -4. [device, lamp] to switch off, usually automatically □ The central heating goes off at night. -5. to go off well/badly [concert, meeting] to be successful/unsuccessful □ "How was the speech?" — "Oh, it didn't go off too badly." -6. GB [milk, meat, fish] to start to become bad or rotten.
- ◆ go off with vt fus to go off with sb/sthg to take sb/sthg that belongs to somebody else and take them away □ Who's gone off with my map? □ He went off with his best friend's wife.
- ◆ go on ◇ vi -1. to be going on to be happening □ There's a fight going on outside. □ I began to suspect that something was going on. -2. [device, lamp] to start to operate, usually automatically □ A light went on upstairs. -3. [battle, argument] to continue to happen □ The air raids went on through the night. -4. to go on doing sthg, to go on with sthg to continue doing sthg, especially after one has been interrupted □ I ignored them and went on (with my) reading. -5. [person] to continue talking □ "Shall I tell you about it?" — "Go on." -6. [person] to talk about something too long or too much □ Don't keep going on about it! -7. [time] to pass □ As time went on, I came to like him better. -8. [traveler, walker] to continue traveling while others stay behind □ You go on ahead, I'll wait here. -9. to go on to a place to go to a place after doing something else □ We went on to a nightclub afterward. -10. to go on to do sthg to do sthg next or later □ She went on to win the gold medal.

◇ vt fus to go on sthg [evidence, information] to use sthg as a basis for judgments or opinions □ The police only have a few clues to go on.

◇ excl used to encourage somebody to do something □ Go on, have another drink!

◆ go on at vt fus to go on at sb to keep telling sb to do something in an annoying way □ I wish you'd stop going on at me about my hair!

◆ go out vi -1. [person] to leave a building, often one's own home □ I went out at seven o'clock. -2. [person] to go to places away from one's home for pleasure or entertainment □ We don't go out much since the baby was born. -3. [two people] to have a romantic or sexual relationship but not live together □ She's not going out with anyone at present. -4. [candle, cigarette] to stop burning □ You let the fire go out. -5. [light] to be switched off □ Suddenly, all the lights went out. -6. [TV program, radio program] to be broadcast □ The interview went out live. -7. [clothes, style] to stop being fashionable □ Flares went out (of fashion) years ago.

◆ go over vt fus -1. to go over sthg [document, event, figures] to look at and think about sthg carefully □ She went over my work with me afterward. -2. to go over sthg [explanation, theory] to repeat sthg so that it is easier to understand □ The police asked me to go over my statement again.

◆ go over to vt fus -1. to go over to sthg [system, method] to change to sthg that is new or different □ The USA still hasn't gone over to the metric system. -2. POLITICS to go over to a group to leave one organization and join a group that has very different beliefs and principles □ He's gone over to the enemy. -3. to go over to a place TV & RADIO to change the place that a broadcast is coming from □ We're going over to the scene of the accident. □ And now let's go over to our Omaha studio.

◆ go round vi = go around.

◆ go through ◇ vt fus -1. to go through sthg [problem, bad time, war] to experience or live through sthg unpleasant □ I couldn't bear to go through all that again. -2. to go through sthg [money, supplies] to spend or use sthg until it is finished □ I've gone through all my savings already. -3. to go through sthg [archives, drawer, desk] to search through sthg carefully, often in order to find something □ She found the letter as she was going through his pockets. -4. to go through sthg [document, report] to read sthg from beginning to end, often to check it is correct □ She went through the list, checking off each item.

◇ vi [law, motion, proposal] to be agreed or accepted officially □ The divorce went through without any problems.

◆ go through with vt fus to go through with sthg [plan, action, threat] to do sthg that one has planned or promised to do even though one has doubts about it □ She decided that she couldn't go through with the marriage.

◆ go toward vt fus to go toward sthg to help to pay for sthg □ Most of the money will go toward rebuilding the school.

◆ go under vi -1. [ship, swimmer] to sink below the water. -2. [business, company] to go bankrupt □ A lot of businesses went under in the recession.

◆ go up ◇ vi -1. [person, aircraft] to move or rise to a higher position □ We went up onto the roof. □ The escalator goes up to the fifth floor. -2. [inflation, value, output] to become more or greater □ House prices are going up. □ Standards have gone up since then. -3. [house, office block] to be built; [advertisement, poster] to be put up in public places □ Notices began to go up all around town. -4. [building, ship] to explode and be destroyed, usually by fire □ The whole factory went up. -5. a cheer went up many people cheered at the same time. ◇ vt fus to go up sthg [mountain, stairs, building] to climb to the top of sthg □ We went up the Eiffel Tower.

◆ go with vt fus to go with sthg to be included as a natural part or result of sthg □ The uniform goes with the job.

◆ go without ◇ vt fus to go without sthg [sleep, food] not to have sthg that one usually has □ For the last week they had to go without an evening meal. ◇ vi: They don't serve wine here, so you'll just have to go without.

goad [goud] vt to cause <sb> to do something they are unwilling to do by continually annoying them, criticizing them etc □ Their constant teasing finally goaded him into action/fighting back.

go-ahead ◇ adj [company, organization, person] that uses new methods, ideas etc in order to be successful □ Their go-ahead attitude will take them far in today's competitive market. ◇ n to get/be given the go-ahead to get/be given official permission to start something □ We hope to get the go-ahead soon. □ The project finally got the go-ahead in June.

goal [gou] n -1. SPORT in games such as soccer and hockey, the space within the playing area, usually marked by posts, where the ball must go in order to score a point; the point scored when the ball enters this space □ They scored four goals in the second half. ■ to score a goal to win a point by making the ball enter the goal. -2. something that one wants to achieve □ I've set myself two goals for next year: to lose weight and pass my driving test. □ Our goal is world peace. □ What is your goal in life?

goalie ['gouli] n = goalkeeper (informal use).

goalkeeper ['gouli:kɪpə] n in soccer and hock- ey, the player in a team who stays near the goal in order to stop the ball from entering.

- goalless ['goulləs] adj a goalless draw [in soccer, hockey] the result of a game in which neither team scores a goal.
- goalmouth ['goulmaʊθ, pl -maʊðz] n [in soccer] the area in front of the goal.
- goalpost ['goulpəʊst] n [in soccer, football, hockey] one of the two upright posts that form part of a goal.
- goat [gəʊt] n an animal with short horns and a rough hairy coat that lives wild on mountains and hills or is kept on farms for its milk and wool.
- goatee [gəʊ'ti:] n a goatee (beard) a small pointed beard that covers the chin only.
- goat's cheese n cheese that is made from goat's milk.
- gobble ['gɒbl] vt to eat <food> very quickly and often noisily.
- ♦ gobble down, gobble up vt sep to gobble food down OR up to eat food very quickly and often noisily until there is no more left.
- gobbledygook ['gɒblɪdɪɡu:k] n formal and official language that is very difficult or impossible to understand.
- go-between n a person who takes messages from one person to another when these people cannot meet or do not want to meet □ Stein acted as a go-between in the dispute.
- Gobi ['gəʊbi]: the Gobi Desert a large desert in central Asia, covering parts of Mongolia and China.
- goblet ['gɒblət] n a cup without a handle, usually made of metal or glass, that has a stem and is used for drinking wine.
- goblin ['gɒblɪn] n a small ugly fairy in children's stories who is usually bad and unkind.
- go-cart [-kɑ:'t] n a small low car with very little covering for the engine or driver that is used for racing.
- god [gɒd] n a male being that is or was believed to have power over a particular part of nature or over human life □ the god of love/war/the Sun □ Apollo was a Greek god.
- ♦ God ◇ n the being worshiped in the Christian, Muslim, and Jewish religions for creating and ruling the world □ Do you believe in God? ■ God knows a phrase used to emphasize that one does not know something □ "What's she doing?" — "God only knows." □ God knows the money I've spent on those kids.
◇ excl God! a word used to express surprise, excitement, or fear □ Oh/My/Good God, what happened?
- godchild ['gɒdʃaɪld] (pl godchildren) n a child that somebody agrees to be the godparent of.
- goddam(n) ['gɒdæm] (informal use) ◇ adj a word used to express annoyance, anger, or excitement
□ The goddam(n) car won't start!
◇ excl a word used to express annoyance or surprise □ Goddam(n) it!
- goddaughter ['gɒddɔ:tə] n a female godchild.
- goddess ['gɒdəs] n a female god □ Artemis, the Greek goddess of the Moon.
- godfather ['gɒdfɑ:ðə] n a male godparent.
- godforsaken ['gɒdfɔ:səɪkən] adj a godforsaken place/town etc a place/town etc that is depressing and has no interesting or attractive qualities.
- Godiva [gə'daɪvə], Lady (1040–1080) an English noblewoman who, according to legend, rode naked on her horse through Coventry to protest against the taxes her husband was making people pay.
- godmother ['gɒdmʌðə] n a female godparent.
- godparent ['gɒdpeərənt] n in the Christian religion, a person who promises to be responsible for the religious or moral education of somebody's child at that child's baptism.
- godsend ['gɒdsend] n somebody or something that arrives, happens etc unexpectedly and that one finds very useful at a particular time □ That check was a real godsend.
- godson ['gɒdsʌn] n a male godchild.
- goes [gəʊz] vb → go.
- Goethe ['gɜ:tə], Johann Wolfgang von (1749–1832) a German poet, dramatist, and scientist who is considered the greatest German writer. His best-known work is Faust.
- gofer ['gəʊfə] n a person whose job is to do small tasks for other people, such as taking messages and fetching or carrying things (informal use).
- go-getter [-getə] n a person who is very ambitious and determined, works hard, and tries to use every opportunity to succeed, especially in their job.
- goggle ['gɒgl] vi to goggle at sb/sthg to stare at sb/sthg with one's eyes open wide in surprise, admiration etc.
- goggles ['gɒglz] npl a pair of glass or plastic lenses attached to an elastic strap, worn around the head to protect the eyes from water, wind, dirt etc □ driving/protective/swimming/skiing goggles □ a pair of goggles.
- go-go dancer n a person at a nightclub, bar etc whose job is to dance to fast music in a sexy way while wearing few clothes.
- going ['gəʊɪŋ] ◇ adj -1. the going rate the salary or wage that is being paid for a particular job or in a particular area
□ What's the going rate for this kind of work? -2. the biggest/best etc thing going the biggest/best etc example of a particular thing □ He's the biggest idiot going. -3. to be going GB [food, wine] to be available □ Are there any jobs going?
◇ n -1. the speed at which somebody or something moves or progresses
□ The going is pretty slow on the expressway due to a pileup at the Maple Street exit. ■ good going a phrase used to show that one is impressed at something's speed or progress □ Have you finished already? That's pretty good going. -2. GB to be hard OR heavy going to be difficult to do or deal with going concern n a business that is making money □ The firm was sold as a going concern.
□ It was hard going on the way up the mountain. □ This novel is heavy going.

goings-on npl events in a particular place or involving particular people over a period of time that one finds interesting, amusing etc or disapproves of (informal use).

go-kart [-kɑ:'t] n GB = go-cart.

Golan Heights [US ˌgəʊlɑ:n-, GB ˌgəʊlən-]: the Golan Heights a range of hills in the Middle East, on the eastern bank of the Jordan. They were occupied by Israel in 1967 and are likely to be returned to Syria gold [ɡəʊld] ◇ n -1. a valuable soft metal that is yellow in color and is used for making coins, jewelry etc. SYMBOL: Au □ The price of gold is dropping. □ a gold ring/coin/watch. ■ to be as good as gold [child] to be very well-behaved. -2. = gold medal. ◇ adj [paint, star, car] that is gold in color.

Gold Coast: the Gold Coast an area off the coast of southern Queensland, Australia, famous for its beaches and tourist resorts.

golden ['ɡəʊldən] adj -1. [ring, crown] that is made of gold. -2. [hair, shine, pastry] that has the color of gold.

golden age n a period of great success, achievements etc in a particular field of activity that people remember for a long time □ the golden age of science-fiction/the cinema.

golden eagle n a large golden-brown eagle that lives in mountains in northern parts of the world.

golden handshake n a large amount of money given to reward or thank somebody for their services when they leave a job after many years, usually to retire.

golden opportunity n a perfect chance to do something, especially one that probably will not happen again □ Don't turn down his invitation, it's a golden opportunity to meet the company bosses.

golden retriever n a type of medium-sized dog with a soft, wavy, yellow coat.

golden rule n the most important thing to remember to do if one wants to be successful in a particular situation.

golden wedding n the fiftieth anniversary of somebody's wedding.

goldfish ['ɡəʊldfɪʃ] (pl goldfish) n a bright orange fish that is often kept as a pet.

goldfish bowl n a round glass bowl used for keeping goldfish in.

gold leaf n gold in very thin sheets that is used for covering things or to decorate pictures, writing etc.

gold medal n a medal that is gold in color and that is given to the winner of a competition, especially in sport.

goldmine ['ɡəʊldmɪn] n -1. a place where gold is mined. -2. a business, invention, plan etc that makes or is likely to make a big profit □ The woman who invented the system is sitting on a goldmine.

gold-plated [-'pleɪtəd] adj [frame, clock, jewelry] that is covered in a very thin layer of gold.

gold rush n the sudden arrival of large numbers of people who have come to look for gold in an area where gold has just been found. ■ the Gold Rush the first and most famous gold rush, in California, in 1849.

THE GOLD RUSHES

There have been three major gold rushes in North American history, when large numbers of people moved to an area hoping to find gold there. The first one was in California in 1849, the second one in Colorado in 1858, and the third one in the Klondike region of Canada in 1897. The arrival of hundreds of thousands of people, and the wealth of those who found gold, were responsible for the rapid development of many western US cities and states in the 19th century.

goldsmith ['ɡəʊldsmɪθ] n a person whose job is to make things out of gold.

gold standard n the gold standard the system in which the value of gold is used as a fixed basis for deciding the value of a currency.

golf [ɡɒlf] n a game in which each player tries to send a small white ball into a series of holes by hitting it through the air or along the ground as few times as possible using special sticks □ a round of golf.

golf ball n -1. a small, hard, white ball used for playing golf. -2. a golf ball (typewriter) an electric typewriter with the letters and symbols arranged on a small metal ball.

golf club n -1. a club for golf players that usually has its own golf course and buildings; the buildings and land used by this club. -2. a long wooden or metal stick with a heavy curved bottom that is used to hit the ball in golf □ a set of golf clubs.

golf course n an area of grassy land used to play a game of golf.

golfer ['ɡɒlfə] n a person who plays golf.

Goliath [ɡə'laɪəθ] → David.

golly ['ɡɒli] excl a word used to express surprise (informal and old-fashioned use).

gondola ['ɡɒndələ] n a long narrow boat with high curved ends that is used in Venice, Italy, and is moved through water by a person standing at one end using a long pole.

gondolier [ˌɡɒndə'liə] n a person whose job is to give tourists tours in a gondola.

gone [ɡɒn] ◇ past participle of go. ◇ adj to be gone [person] to be no longer present in a particular place; [money, time] to have been completely used or finished □ "Is there any cake left?" — "No, it's all gone." □ The days when I used to go out every night are long gone. ◇ prep GB later than ; older than  □ It's gone lunchtime. □ It's just gone 12 o'clock. □ He's gone fifty, you know.

gong [ɡɒŋ] n a round flat piece of metal that is hung in a frame and is hit with a stick to make a long, loud, deep ringing noise, e.g. to attract people's attention.

gonna ['ɡɒnə] = going to (informal use).

gonorrhoea US, gonorrhoea GB [ɡɒnə'ri:ə] n a disease of the sex organs that is passed from one person to another during sexual intercourse.

goo [gu:] n any substance that is thick and sticky (informal use).

good [ɡʊd] (compar better, superl best) \diamond adj
 -1. [event, experience, period of time] that is pleasant or enjoyable \square Did you have a good time in Spain? \square It's good to see you. \square She's not in a very good mood today. \square It feels good to be out in the fresh air. -2. [education, manners, result] that is of a high quality or standard \square The firm doesn't have a very good reputation. \square The steak's very good here. -3. [idea, suggestion, plan] that is desirable or suitable \square It's good that she finally got promoted. \square It's a really good house for children. -4. [writer, actor, translation] that is skillful \square He isn't a very good swimmer. \square to be good at sthg [at French, cooking, sport] to be able to do sthg well \square She's always been good at organizing. \square to be good with sthg/sb [with animals, engines, children] to be skillful at doing things with sthg/sb \square I'm not much good with computers. -5. [person] who is kind and considerate \square It was very good of you to come. \square They were very good to me when I was sick. \square to be good enough to do sthg a polite phrase used to ask somebody to do something or to say that they have done something helpful \square Would you be good enough to open the door for me? \square This gentleman was good enough to find us a taxi. -6. [person, life, act] that is honest, moral, and concerned with the health and happiness of other people \square She devoted herself to good works. -7. [child, dog] that is well-behaved \square His prison sentence was reduced on the grounds of good behavior. \square be good! behave well! -8. it's good for you [milk, fresh air, exercise] it makes one more healthy or prevents one from becoming ill \square Fried food isn't good for you. -9. [looks, legs, figure] that is physically attractive \square She came back from vacation looking really good. -10. [opportunity, sign, news] that is favorable \square There's never been a better time to invest. \square a job with good prospects. -11. [chance, way, distance] used to show that the speaker thinks an amount is large \square It took us a good hour to get there. \square a good many people a lot of people \square A good many people would agree with him. -12. [cry, look, clean] that is thorough \square I gave him a good talking-to. -13. phrases it's a good thing OR job (that)... GB it's lucky (that)... \square It's a good thing no one saw us. \square good for you! a phrase used to show approval and pleasure at something another person has done \square "I won first prize!" — "Good for you!" \square to make sthg good to repair or replace sthg lost or damaged.
 \diamond n -1. something that benefits or improves somebody \square In the end, you might do more harm than good by telling him. \square for the good of sb/sthg [one's health, the nation] for the benefit or improvement of sb/sthg \square She spent her life working for the good of other people. \square I'm telling you this for your own good. \square it will do you/him etc good it will have a positive effect on your/his etc mind or body \square It will do you good to have a rest. -2. will this be any good? will this be useful? \square "We need something to stand on." — "Will this be any good?" \square to be no good to be of poor quality or unsatisfactory \square This corkscrew is no good. \square to be no good at sthg not to be able to do sthg \square He's no good at dancing. \square it's no good it will not make any difference \square It's no good crying, that won't help us. \square I'd come along if I thought it would do any good. -3. behavior and actions that are moral, help other people, and are usually based on religious teachings \square He could always see the good in people. \square the choice between good and evil. \square to be up to no good to be doing or planning to do something wrong \square I knew they were up to no good when I saw them hanging around the car.

\diamond excl a word used to express pleasure, satisfaction, or approval \square Oh good, you're here.

\diamond goods npl objects which are made to be bought and sold \square consumer/leather/duty-free goods. \square to come up with OR deliver the goods to do successfully what one has agreed or been asked to do (informal use) \square They may be well-known, but are they going to deliver the goods?

\diamond as good as adv almost \square He as good as promised to come.

\diamond for good adv forever \square I left home for good when I was 18.

good afternoon excl a phrase used to greet somebody in the afternoon \square Good afternoon, Sally. Is the boss free?

good behavior n LAW good and lawful behavior by a prisoner that can result in a shortening of their sentence \square He was released early for good behavior.

goodbye [ɡʊd'baɪ] \diamond excl a word used by people when they are leaving each other or finishing a telephone conversation \square Please come again, goodbye. \square Goodbye, Mom. See you soon. \diamond n the things one says or one's actions when leaving or being left by somebody \square We quickly said our goodbyes and I ran to catch the train. \square She waved/hugged me goodbye. \square a goodbye kiss.

good day excl a phrase used to say hello or goodbye (old-fashioned use).

good deed n something one does to help another person that proves one is a helpful member of society \square I've done my good deed for the day!

good evening excl a phrase used to greet somebody in the evening \square Good evening. May I speak to Mr Jones, please?

good-for-nothing \diamond n a person, usually a man, who is lazy and not good at anything \square He's just a lazy good-for-nothing. \diamond adj: that good-for-nothing brother of yours.

good fortune n luck that brings something pleasant, useful etc \square a piece of good fortune \square By good fortune we managed to catch the train after all.

Good Friday n the Friday before Easter Sunday, on which Christians remember the death of Jesus Christ.

good-humored [-'hju:məd] adj [person] who does not get angry easily and is always friendly and pleasant even in difficult situations □ He was very good-humored about the damage.

good-looking [-'lʊkɪŋ] adj [person] who has an attractive face □ He's a good-looking guy.

good manners npl polite behavior that follows the accepted rules of how one should act toward other people.

good morning excl a phrase used to greet somebody in the morning □ Good morning, everyone!

good-natured [-'neɪtʃəd] adj [person, animal] that does not get angry easily, and is always friendly, calm, and pleasant; [rivalry, argument] that is friendly and does not involve anger.

goodness ['gʊdnəs] ◇ n -1. the quality of being kind and thoughtful □ I shall never forget their goodness to me. -2. the quality in fruit, vegetables etc that makes them good for one's health □ Milk is full of goodness. □ Vegetables lose their goodness if you overcook them. ◇ excl (my) goodness! a word or phrase used to express surprise □ My goodness me! What have you been doing? You're filthy! □ Goodness gracious! ■ for goodness' sake! a phrase used to express annoyance □ For goodness' sake hurry up, or we'll be late! ■ thank goodness a phrase used to express relief □ Thank goodness he's safe.

good night excl a phrase used by people to say goodbye at the end of an evening or before they go to bed at night □ Good night, and see you tomorrow! □ She wished us good night and went upstairs.

goods train n GB a train that transports goods rather than passengers.

good-tempered [-'tempəd] adj [person, meeting] that is calm and friendly.

good turn n to do sb a good turn to do something to help sb.

goodwill [ˌgʊd'wɪl] n -1. kind feelings or a friendly helpful attitude toward a person, organization etc □ The treaty they proposed showed their goodwill to the Canadians. □ feelings of goodwill □ a goodwill gesture/message. -2. BUSINESS an asset earned by a company or business through its reputation, customer relations etc that helps decide its value.

goody ['gʊdi] (pl goodies) ◇ n the hero or any other character in a story who supports what is morally right and who the audience or reader wants to succeed (informal use). ◇ excl a word used especially by children to express their pleasure at something.

◆ goodies npl (informal use) -1. delicious food or candies. -2. desirable objects.

goey ['gʊ:ɪ] (compar gooier, superl gooiest) adj [cake, dessert, chewing gum] that is soft and sticky (informal use).

goof [gʊ:f] US (informal use) ◇ n a stupid mistake. ◇ vi to make a goof.

◆ goof off vi to be lazy and waste time, especially when one is supposed to be working.

◆ goof up vi to goof.

goofy ['gʊ:fi] (compar goofier, superl goofiest) adj [idea, behavior, person] that one finds silly or awkward and unusual (informal use) □ a goofy smile.

goose [gʊ:s] (pl geese) n a large bird with webbed feet and a long neck that lives on farms or near ponds and is kept for its eggs, meat, and feathers.

gooseberry [US 'gʊ:sbəri, GB 'gʊzbəri] (pl gooseberries) n -1. a small, rounded, pale-green fruit with small hairs on its skin that grows on bushes, has a sour taste, and is used to make desserts □ a gooseberry bush/pie. -2. to play gooseberry GB to be the third person with a couple who are in love and who want to be alone together.

goose bumps npl US the tiny lumps that appear when the hairs on one's skin stand up straight as a result of cold, fear etc.

gooseflesh ['gʊ:zflɛʃ] n GB = goosebumps.

goose pimples npl GB = goose bumps.

goosestep ['gʊ:stɛp] (pt & pp goosestepped, cont goosestepping) ◇ n the goosestep a way of marching used by soldiers in some armies, in which each step is made by lifting the leg up high and straight. ◇ vi to do the goosestep □ The soldiers goosestepped across the square.

GOP (abbr of Grand Old Party) n the GOP a nickname for the Republican Party in the USA.

gopher ['gʊfə] n a small animal that looks like a rat with large cheeks and lives underground in northern and central America.

gore [gɔ:'ɪ] ◇ n blood from a serious wound □ a movie full of blood and gore. ◇ vt to seriously wound  using horns or tusks □ He was gored to death by a bull.

gorge [gɔ:'dʒ] ◇ n a deep narrow valley that often has a river running along the bottom. ◇ vt to gorge oneself on OR with sthg to eat sthg greedily and in such quantity that one cannot eat anything else □ We gorged ourselves on chocolate mousse.

gorgeous ['gɔ:'dʒəs] adj -1. [food, beach, weather] very beautiful □ What a gorgeous view of the countryside! □ She always wears absolutely gorgeous clothes. -2. [man, woman] who is very sexually attractive (informal use) □ She has a gorgeous figure.

gorilla [gə'ri:lə] n an African animal that is the largest of the apes.

gorse [gɔ:'s] n a wild European bush that has prickles and yellow flowers.

gory ['gɔ:ri] (compar gorier, superl goriest) adj -1. [movie, scene, death] that involves a lot of blood and violence □ There was an extremely gory battle scene. -2. the gory details too many details □ Spare me the gory details!

gosh [gɒʃ] excl a word used to express surprise or admiration (old-fashioned and informal use) □ Gosh! Did you really?

go-slow n GB an official protest by workers in which they work as slowly as possible.

gospel ['gɒspl] ◇ n -1. a set of ideas that somebody believes in very strongly and tries to make other people believe in □ She's off preaching her Socialist/feminist gospel. -2. gospel (truth) something that is completely true □ You mustn't take it as gospel. ◇ comp gospel music a style of religious music that is powerful and rhythmic and is sung especially by black American Christians.

◆ Gospel n any one of the four books in the Bible that describe the life and works of Jesus Christ □ St Mark's Gospel □ the Gospel according to St Luke.

gossamer ['gɒsəmə] n the long fine threads produced by a spider to make its web.

gossip [US 'gɒsɪp, GB -ɪp] ◇ n -1. the things people say or write to each other about the behavior and private lives of other people, whether it is true or not □ Have you heard any good gossip lately? □ It's just idle gossip, don't take any notice. □ We only had time for a quick gossip and then I had to go. -2. a person who likes to talk gossip (disapproving use) □ He's a terrible gossip. ◇ vi to talk about the behavior and private lives of other people □ She's always gossiping about the neighbors.

gossip column n a section in a newspaper or magazine in which the behavior and private lives of famous people are written about.

got [gɒt] past tense & past participle of get. ■ I have got sthg GB I have sthg □ He's got blue eyes/flu/a nice house. ■ I have got to do sthg I must do sthg □ I've got to finish this today.

Gotham ['gɒθəm] US an informal name for New York City.

Gothic ['gɒθɪk] adj -1. [architecture, church, window] that is in a style of architecture that was popular between the 12th and 16th centuries in Western Europe. Gothic buildings have high ceilings, pointed arches and windows, and tall columns. -2. a Gothic novel/story etc a novel/story etc that is set in a ruin or castle and contains mystery, horror, or supernatural elements. Gothic novels were popular in Britain in the 18th and 19th centuries. -3. [lettering, script, writing] that is printed or written in a style in which the letters are thick, pointed, and angular.

gotta ['gɒtə] = got to (informal use).

gotten ['gɒtɪn] US past participle of get.

gouge [gaudʒ] vt -1. to gouge a hole (out) to make a hole in something hard using a sharp object, especially using a lot of effort □ Someone had gouged a hole in the desk. -2. to gouge sb's eyes out to force sb's eyes out using a sharp object.

goulash [US 'gu:lɑ:ʃ, GB -æʃ] n a type of meat stew, traditionally from Hungary, that contains paprika.

gourd [ɡɔ:ɹd] n a type of round fruit which cannot be eaten and has a hard outer covering; a container made from this fruit.

gourmet ['ɡuə'mei] ◇ n a person who knows a lot about food and wine, and enjoys food and wine of a high quality. ◇ adj gourmet food/meal food/a meal of very high quality.

gout [ɡaʊt] n a disease that causes the toes, knees, and fingers to swell and become painful.

govern ['ɡʌvə'n] ◇ vt -1. POLITICS to legally control  etc and have the power to make decisions about laws, taxes, the economy etc □ This party is not fit to govern the country. -2. to influence or control  etc □ There are strict rules governing the sale of alcohol and tobacco. ◇ vi POLITICS [party, politician] We need a leader who can govern efficiently.

governess ['ɡʌvə'nəs] n a woman who, especially in the past, lived with a family in order to teach the children.

governing ['ɡʌvə'nɪŋ] adj the governing party the political party that is in power at a particular time.

governing body n the group of people who are in charge of making decisions and taking actions concerning a public organization □ the governing body of the University/hospital.

government ['ɡʌvə'nmənt] n -1. the group of people who govern a country or state □ the Australian government OR government of Australia □ The government has signed the treaty. □ On the Prime Minister's resignation, his successor had to form a new government very quickly. □ a government official/department □ government spending/funding/policy. -2. the act of governing a country or state □ The Social Democrats are in government/out of government. □ We want democratic government.

governmental [ˌɡʌvə'n'mentl] adj [decision, measure] that is taken by the government.

government stock n certificates issued by the government when it borrows money from members of the public.

governor ['ɡʌvə'nə] n -1. POLITICS a person who governs a particular colony, country etc; in the USA, a person who governs a particular state □ He's running for governor at the next elections. -2. [of a school, bank, hospital] a member of the group that is in charge of making decisions and taking actions concerning a particular organization □ the Board of Governors.

governor-general (pl governor-generals OR governors-general) n the person who represents the British king or queen in a country that is in the Commonwealth and is not a republic □ the Canadian Governor-General.

govt abbr of government.

gown [ɡaʊn] n -1. a long dress worn on special or formal occasions □ an evening/bridal gown. -2. an item of clothing like a cloak, worn by academics and lawyers. -3. a loose tunic worn by patients or surgeons in a hospital □ a hospital gown.

Goya ['ɡɔ:ɪə], Francisco de (1746–1828) a Spanish artist who is famous for his portraits, especially of Spanish royalty.

GP (abbr of general practitioner) n a doctor who treats all kinds of illness and does not specialize in any particular type.

GPA (abbr of Grade Point Average) n the score given to US high school and college students that is the average grade for all their courses.

GPMU (abbr of Graphical, Paper and Media Union) n a British labor union for people working in printing and publishing.

GPO (abbr of Government Printing Office) the GPO the US government department responsible for publishing government documents.

gr. abbr of gross.

grab [græb] (pt & pp grabbed, cont grabbing)

◇ vt -1. [person, money, arm] to take hold of <sb/sthg> with a sudden and sometimes violent movement; [opportunity, chance] to eagerly take <sthg> because there will probably not be another one □ Sally grabbed the knife from the baby just in time. □ The thief grabbed the bag and ran off. -2. [sandwich, meal] to get <sthg to eat or drink> quickly because one is very busy or in a hurry (informal use) □ We can grab a bite to eat on the way to the station. -3. to grab a few hours' or some sleep to stop and sleep for a short period of time when one is very busy or has very little time (informal use). -4. how does that grab you? a phrase used when asking if somebody would like to do something (informal use) □ How does a weekend in Paris grab you?

◇ vi to grab at sthg to make a sudden movement with one's hand to try to take hold of or pick up sthg □ He grabbed at my sleeve.

◇ n to make a grab at OR for sthg to grab at sthg □ I made a grab for the control lever.

grab bag n US a container filled with small prizes that children put their hand into and pick a prize out of without looking.

grace [greɪs] ◇ n -1. [of a dancer, animal, movement] smooth, elegant, and controlled movement that is pleasing to watch and appears to be without effort □ She dances with style and grace. -2. to have the grace to do sthg to be fair and considerate enough to do sthg □ At least she had the grace to apologize. ■ to do sthg with good grace to do sthg without complaining and without showing that one would prefer not to do it □ She accepted the decision with good grace. -3. a day's/week's grace an extra day/week to do or finish something that one is given as a favor □ We've been given a week's grace. -4. RELIGION a prayer thanking God for the meal one is about to eat □ Father always said grace in the evenings.

◇ vt -1. to be present at , usually with the result that people there feel honored or grateful (formal or ironic use) □ So you've decided to grace us with your presence! -2. [room, shelf, table] to act as an attractive decoration in or on <sthg> □ His paintings now grace the walls of the town hall.

◆ Grace n His/Her/Your Grace a title used when talking to a duke, duchess, or archbishop.

Grace [greɪs], W. G. (1848–1915) a British cricketer, considered to be the greatest of his time.

graceful ['greɪsfʊl] adj -1. [dancer, movement, step] that moves in a smooth, elegant, and attractive way and apparently without effort; [line, curve] that is smooth, controlled, and attractive to look at □ She made a graceful exit. □ the graceful curve of her neck. -2. [refusal, apology] that is polite, pleasant, and dignified □ He gave a very graceful apology for his mistake.

graceless ['greɪsləs] adj -1. [city, place] that is ugly and without elegance or charm. -2. [person] who is impolite and does not have dignity or good manners.

gracious ['greɪʃəs] ◇ adj -1. [person] who is polite and kind, especially to somebody who has less money or a lower social position □ a gracious refusal. -2. [house, residence] that has the elegance and comfort that a lot of money can provide □ gracious living. ◇ excl (good) gracious! a word or phrase used to express surprise □ Good gracious! What on earth is that?

graciously ['greɪʃəsli] adv [accept, invite, thank] see gracious.

gradation [grə'deɪʃən] n [of color, light, a feeling] a slight difference in size, intensity etc in a series or scale.

grade [greɪd] ◇ n -1. [of wool, gasoline, paper] the level or quality of a person or product □ a high-flow-grade employee □ grade A eggs. ■ to make the grade [person] to achieve the necessary standard, especially in one's job. -2. US a group of classes at school for students who are of a particular age or level □ I'm in sixth grade. -3. [for homework, exam] the mark, usually a letter or number, that represents the quality of a student's work □ What grade did you get for math? ◇ vt -1. to separate <potatoes, eggs, fruit> etc into different groups of similar size, quality etc □ We grade our beer according to strength. -2. to give <homework, an exam paper> etc a grade.

grade crossing n US a place where a road crosses a railroad, that usually has gates and warning signals to stop traffic when a train is approaching.

grade point average n → GPA.

grade school n US a school for children aged between 5 and 11 □ a grade school teacher.

gradient ['greɪdɪjənt] n a slope; the angle of a slope □ a hill with a steep gradient.

gradual ['grædʒʊəl] adj [change, increase, improvement] that happens slowly and in small stages □ His recovery was gradual.

gradually ['grædʒʊəli] adv: see gradual □ The economy gradually began to improve.

graduate [n 'grædʒʊət, vb 'grædʒʊeɪt] ◇ n -1. [of a college] a person who has a first degree from a university or college □ an English/a chemistry graduate. -2. US [of a high school] a person who has successfully completed high school.

◇ comp a graduate course a course of further studies after a first degree. ■ a graduate stu- dent a student who is doing further studies after a first degree.

◇ vi -1. [from college] to receive a certificate for successfully completing a degree at a university or college □ He graduated from Oxford, you know. -2. US [from high school] to receive a certificate for successfully completing high school □ I graduated from high school last year. -3. to graduate from sthg to sthg to move from sthg less important or difficult to sthg more important or difficult □ He's graduated from a moped to a motorcycle.

graduated ['grædʒueɪtəd] adj -1. [pension, tax] in which the amount that people pay depends on the amount that they earn. -2. [ruler, container] that is marked with lines to show measurements. -3. [exercises] that are arranged in order from the easiest to the most difficult. -4. [colors] that blend gradually into each other.

graduate school n US the part of a university where students who already have a first degree are taught.

graduation [ˌgrædʒu'eɪʃn] n -1. the ceremony at which students receive their certificates for completing a university degree; US the ceremony at which students receive their certificates for completing high school □ a graduation ceremony/photograph. -2. [from university, college, high school] see graduate □ After graduation I got a job with a bank.

GRADUATION

When students at a university or college or a US high school complete their course of studies, they are given their degree or diploma at a public ceremony called graduation. Their family and friends usually come to the graduation ceremony, at which students wear a cap (a round hat, usually with a flat board on top) and a gown (a long loose garment like a cloak). In the USA, the student with the best grades, called the valedictorian, makes a speech, and at the end of the ceremony everyone throws their cap up in the air.

graffiti [græ'fi:tɪ] n words or pictures that are written or drawn on walls, posters etc in public places □ The side of the subway train was covered in graffiti.

graft [US græft, GB grɑ:ft] ◇ n -1. GARDENING a part cut from one plant and joined onto another plant so that it can continue growing on the new plant. -2. MEDICINE a piece of healthy skin or bone taken from a person's body and used to replace skin or bone that has been damaged □ a skin graft. -3. POLITICS the act of getting money dishonestly by using one's power or authority (informal use). ◇ vt -1. GARDENING [branch, twig] to join <part of a plant> to another plant as a graft □ It's the result of grafting a cutting onto a hardier variety. -2. MEDICINE [skin, bone, organ] to attach  to a damaged part of the body in an operation □ He had to have some skin grafted to or onto his leg. -3. [idea, system] to add <sthg> to something else when the two things are very different □ They're trying to graft Socialist ideals onto a market economy.

Graham ['greɪəm], Martha (1894–1991) a US dancer and choreographer who had a great influence on modern dance.

grain [greɪn] n -1. [of wheat, rice] a seed of wheat, rice, or a similar plant □ a grain of corn/rice. -2. a collective term for wheat, corn, or any similar crop from a cereal plant □ stocks of grain. -3. [of salt, sand] a single very small piece of a hard substance □ a grain of salt/sand/gold. -4. [of truth, humor] a very small amount □ There's not a grain of truth in what he says. -5. [in wood] the natural pattern of lines or fibers in a piece of wood, rock etc □ This wood has a beautiful grain. ■ to go against the grain to be difficult to accept or do, because it feels unusual and is not what one usually does □ I'll do it for you, but it goes against the grain.

gram [græm] n a unit (0.001 kilogram) for measuring weight □ 250 grams of butter.

grammar ['græmə] n -1. [of a language] the rules of a language that describe how words are put together in sentences □ English/French grammar □ His grammar is terrible. -2. a book that describes the rules of a language □ a French grammar.

grammar school n -1. in the USA, a school where children go for the first six to eight years of their education. -2. in Britain, a school that teaches some children aged between 11 and 18 who have been chosen because they are good at academic subjects.

grammatical [græ'mætɪkəl] adj -1. [rule, structure] see grammar. -2. [English, French] that is correct according to the rules of grammar.

gramme [græm] n GB = gram.

Grammy ['græmi] n in the USA, an award given to outstanding members of the music industry.

gramophone ['græməfəʊn] n a record player (old-fashioned use).

gran [græn] n GB a word used to talk to or about one's grandmother (informal use).

granary ['grænəri] (pl granaries) n a building in which grain is stored.

granary bread n GB a type of brown bread that contains whole grains of wheat.

grand [grænd] (pl grand) ◇ adj -1. [style, house, sight] that is impressive in size or appearance □ This place is much too grand for me. -2. [plan, design, scale] that is ambitious and intended to achieve impressive results □ My partner has some very grand ideas for expanding the company. -3. [person, title, job] that is socially or professionally important □ She sounds very grand, but she's really quite friendly. -4. [time, party, day] very enjoyable (informal and old-fashioned use). ◇ n a thousand dollars or pounds (informal use) □ "How much will it cost?" — "Two grand, minimum."

grandad ['grændəd] n a word used to talk to or about one's grandfather (informal use).

Grand Canyon: the Grand Canyon a very long and deep valley that has been made in the - rock of northwest Arizona by the Colorado River. It is a popular tourist attraction.

- grandchild ['græntʃaɪld] (pl grandchildren) n the child of somebody's son or daughter □ her two grandchildren.
- granddad ['grændæd] n = grandad.
- granddaughter ['grændɔ:tə] n the daughter of somebody's son or daughter.
- grand duchess n the wife of a grand duke; a noblewoman who has the same rank as a grand duke.
- grand duke n a nobleman who rules a state or large area of land.
- grandeur ['grændʒə] n -1. [of an occasion, ceremony] a quality that something has that makes it impressive and beautiful □ the severe grandeur of the Rockies. -2. [of a person] great importance.
- grandfather ['grændfɑ:ðə] n the father of somebody's father or mother.
- grandfather clock n a piece of furniture consisting of a clock in a tall wooden case.
- grandiose ['grændiəʊs] adj [building, plan] that is bigger or designed to be more impressive than is necessary or useful (disapproving use) □ He had some rather grandiose ideas about changing it into an opera house.
- grand jury n in the USA, a jury of 12 to 24 people who decide whether there is enough evidence to charge somebody with a crime and hold a trial.
- grandma ['grænmɑ:] n a word used to talk to or about one's grandmother (informal use).
- grand master n a player of the very highest level in chess.
- grandmother ['grænmʌðə] n the mother of somebody's mother or father.
- Grand National n the Grand National an important horse race that takes place each year at Aintree race course, near Liverpool, north-western England.
- Grand Ole Opry [-oʊl'ɒpri] n a country music show that takes place near Nashville, Tennessee.
- grandpa ['grænpɑ:] n a word used to talk to or about one's grandfather (informal use).
- grandparents ['grænpɛərənts] npl the parents of somebody's mother or father.
- grand piano n a large piano in which the frame and strings are horizontal.
- grand prix [,grɒn'pri:] (pl grands prix [,grɒn'pri:]) n one of a series of races in an international competition for very powerful racing cars.
- grand slam n the act of winning all the important matches or tournaments in a particular season, especially in tennis, golf, or rugby.
- grandson ['grænsən] n the son of somebody's son or daughter.
- grandstand ['grændstænd] n a large structure consisting of rows of seats and a roof, where people sit to watch sports matches and races □ We had grandstand seats.
- grand total n the final amount of something when everything has been added together □ That makes a grand total of $78.
- granite ['grænit] n a very hard rock, usually gray in color, that is used for buildings.
- granny ['græni] (pl grannies) n a word used to talk to or about one's grandmother (informal use).
- granny flat n GB part of a house where somebody, especially an old relative of the family, can live separately from the other people in the house.
- granola [grə'nəʊlə] n US a mixture of oats, chopped nuts, and fruits that is usually served with milk and eaten as a cereal for breakfast □ a granola bar.
- grant [US grænt, GB grɑ:nt] ◇ n an amount of money given by the state or local government to a person or organization for a special purpose □ a grant toward relocation □ a student grant.
◇ vt -1. [request, wish, permission] to agree officially that somebody can have or do <sthg that they have asked for> □ She was granted an audience with the Pope. □ The prisoner's request to see his wife was granted. □ a movie star who rarely grants interviews. -2. [logic, truth] to admit <sthg> to be true or correct (formal use). ■ I grant (that)... I admit (that)... (formal use) □ I grant you it's a risk, but it's worth it. -3. phrases to take sb for granted to expect that sb will always be there to help, even though one never thanks them □ Once they start taking you for granted, it's time to leave. ■ to take sthg for granted to expect that sthg will always be there and rely on it □ I had somehow always taken mother's interest in my life for granted. ■ to take it for granted that... to accept without questioning or thinking about it that... □ Don't take it for granted that I'll be there to help you.
- Grant [US grænt, GB grɑ:nt], Ulysses S. (1822–1885) US President from 1869 to 1877. He was the general in command of the Union army during the American Civil War.
- granulated sugar [,grænjəleɪtəd-] n sugar in the form of tiny grains.
- granule ['grænju:l] n a very small piece of something hard, especially of a food that dissolves □ a granule of sugar/coffee/salt.
- grape [greɪp] n a small green or purple fruit that grows in bunches and is eaten raw or used for making wine □ a bunch of grapes □ the grape harvest.
- grapefruit ['greɪpfru:t] (pl grapefruit OR grapefruits) n a large, round, yellow fruit that is like an orange but bigger and has a sourer taste.
- grape picking [-pɪkɪŋ] n the activity of picking grapes when they are ripe.
- grapevine ['greɪpvain] n -1. a plant that produces grapes. -2. to hear sthg through OR on the grapevine to get to know sthg because people have told each other about it in conversation □ I heard through the grapevine that you were thinking of leaving us.

- graph [US græf, GB grɑ:f] n a diagram that gives information about numbers, measurements etc in the form of lines or blocks □ The results are then plotted on a graph.
- graphic ['græfɪk] adj -1. [description, account] that is detailed and clear □ The movie contains graphic scenes of violence. -2. [art, work] that is concerned with drawing and printing.
- ♦ graphics npl drawings and diagrams that give information □ computer graphics □ graphics options.
- graphic design n the profession of designing books, magazines etc so that they are attractive to look at.
- graphic designer n a person who uses graphic design in their job.
- graphic equalizer n a device for increasing and decreasing particular frequencies, e.g. on a stereo system.
- graphics card n a piece of equipment in a computer that allows graphics to be used.
- graphite ['græfɪt] n a hard black substance that is a type of carbon and is used to make tennis rackets, fishing rods, and the part of a pencil that makes a mark.
- graphology [græ'fɒlədʒi] n the study of people's handwriting to find out their personality.
- graph paper n paper with small squares printed on it, used for drawing graphs on.
- grapple ['græpl] ♦ grapple with vt fus -1. to grapple with sb [with an attacker, thief] to take hold of sb and fight them, usually without letting go □ The old lady grappled unsuccessfully with her assailant. -2. to grapple with sthg [with a problem, difficulty] to try hard to find the answer to sthg □ I found Alan grappling with a particularly complicated algebra problem.
- grappling iron ['græplɪŋ-] n a metal bar with several hooks at one end that is attached to a rope and sometimes used to tie a ship to something else.
- grasp [US græsp, GB grɑ:sp] ◇ n -1. [on an object] a firm hold □ Stephen's arm began to tire and gradually, slowly, he loosened his grasp. -2. to be in OR within one's grasp to be easily possible for one to have or do □ Success was finally within our grasp. -3. [of a subject] an understanding and knowledge of a situation, language, subject etc □ I have a reasonable grasp of what the job involves. ◇ vt -1. [rope, hand] to take a firm hold of <sthg>. -2. [point, significance] to be able to understand <sthg> □ I don't quite grasp your reasons for doing this. -3. [chance, opportunity] to use <sthg> □ You should grasp the opportunity to visit Japan while you can.
- grasping [US 'græspɪŋ, GB 'grɑ:sp-] adj [person] who always tries to get as much money as possible (disapproving use).
- grass [US græs, GB grɑ:s] ◇ n -1. a common green plant that covers areas of ground, e.g. gardens and parks □ fields of lush grass. -2.▽ marijuana (very informal use). ◇ vi▽ to grass on sb GB to tell the police about a crime that sb has planned or committed (very informal use).
- grasshopper [US 'græshɒpə, GB 'grɑ:shɒpə] n an insect that can jump high into the air and that makes a loud noise by rubbing its long legs against its wings.
- grassland [US 'græslənd, GB 'grɑ:s-] n an area of land covered with grass, especially when it is used to feed cattle on.
- grass roots npl all the ordinary people who belong to a political party or organization but are not the leaders □ grass-roots opinion/support.
- grass snake n a harmless European snake with a green-brown body.
- grassy [US 'græsi, GB 'grɑ:si] (compar grassier, superl grassiest) adj [bank, field] that is covered with grass.
- grate [greɪt] ◇ n a frame of metal bars for holding the coal or wood in a fireplace. ◇ vt [cheese, carrots, nutmeg] to rub <sthg> against a rough and sharp surface to cut it into small pieces □ 250g of grated cheese. ◇ vi [noise, laugh] to make a sharp unpleasant sound; [manner] to be annoying or irritating □ The lecturer's voice soon began to grate. □ It really grates on me the way she's always smiling and smirking. ■ to grate on sb's nerves to irritate sb very much □ After a while the children's constant noise began to grate on my nerves.
- grateful ['greɪtfl] adj [person] who feels they want to thank somebody for something that person has done for them □ I'm very grateful to you for all your help. □ We've received hundreds of letters from grateful listeners.
- gratefully ['greɪtflɪ] adv: see grateful □ He accepted the loan gratefully.
- grater ['greɪtə] n a metal instrument with a rough sharp surface with holes for grating food □ a cheese grater.
- gratification [ˌgrætəfɪ'keɪʃn] n [of one's desire, appetite, curiosity] see gratify.
- gratify ['grætəfaɪ] (pt & pp gratified) vt -1. to be gratified to be pleased and satisfied □ I was very gratified to see so many people here. -2. [desire, appetite, curiosity] to satisfy <sthg> □ I'm not going to gratify your curiosity by telling you what he said.
- gratifying ['grætəfaɪɪŋ] adj [response, change] that makes one feel pleased and satisfied □ It was so gratifying when he actually came and apologized.
- grating ['greɪtɪŋ] ◇ adj [noise, voice] that sounds sharp and unpleasant. ◇ n a frame of metal bars, used to cover a hole or window.
- gratitude ['grætətɪtʃud] n the feeling of being grateful □ I'd like to express my gratitude to my colleagues for all their help.
- gratuitous [grə'tɪju:ɪtəs] adj [insult, violence] that is done for no reason and harms or offends people □ movies full of gratuitous sex and violence.
- gratuity [grə'tɪju:ətɪ] (pl gratuities) n an amount of money given to somebody for a service (formal use). □ 'Total does not include gratuity.'

grave¹ [grɛv] ◇ adj -1. [face, expression] serious and solemn □ Tom looked suddenly grave. -2. [danger, news] that is very serious and causes worry □ The driver of the vehicle is said to be in a very grave condition in the hospital. ◇ n a hole in the ground where a dead person is buried □ The victim was buried in a shallow grave. ■ he would turn in his grave he would be very upset or would disapprove if he were alive now □ Shakespeare would turn in his grave if he saw what they'd done to "Hamlet"!

grave² [grɑ:v] adj e grave a letter e with a grave accent.

grave accent [ˌgrɑ:v] n a symbol (`) that is put above a letter in some languages to show that it is pronounced in a certain way.

gravedigger ['grɛvɪdɪgə] n a person whose job is to dig graves.

gravel ['grævl] n very small stones used as a surface for paths and roads □ a gravel path.

graveled US, gravelled GB ['grævlɪd] adj [path] that is covered with gravel.

gravestone ['grɛvstəʊn] n a large stone that has the name of a dead person written on it, and is placed on their grave.

graveyard ['grɛvjɑ:d] n an area of ground where people are buried.

gravitate ['grævɪteɪt] vi to gravitate toward sb/sthg to be attracted by sb/sthg and gradually move toward them/it □ Everybody inevitably gravitated toward the kitchen.

gravity ['grævətɪ] n -1. PHYSICS the force that makes things fall toward the ground when they are dropped □ the law of gravity. -2. [of a situation, illness, remark] see grave □ Given the gravity of the situation, I think the police should be informed.

gravy ['grɛvɪ] n -1. COOKING a sauce served with meat that is made using the juices from the meat. -2. US money or profit that somebody gets without effort.

gravy boat n a small long dish used for serving gravy.

gravy train n the gravy train something, e.g. a job or position, that allows somebody to get a lot of money for very little work (disappointing use).

gray US, grey GB [grɛɪ] ◇ adj -1. [clouds, sky, beard] that has a color that is like black and white mixed together □ a small man with light-gray hair. -2. to go gray [hair] to become gray, usually because one is old; [person] to have hair that is going gray □ He or His hair is starting to go gray at the sides. -3. [face, skin] that looks pale and unhealthy because of fear, illness etc □ Her face looked gray with tiredness. -4. [sky, light, day] that is not bright because there is no sun; [image, lifestyle, town] that is not interesting or exciting □ It was gray and wet all day. □ a dull, gray little man with little to say for himself.

◇ n the color that is like black and white mixed together □ schoolboys all dressed in gray.

◇ vi [hair, person] to go gray.

gray area n an aspect of a subject, law, activity etc that is not clearly defined or understood and that people have difficulty dealing with □ The issue of compensation is something of a gray area.

gray-haired [-'heə'd] adj [person] who has gray hair □ a little gray-haired old lady.

graying US, greying GB ['grɛɪɪŋ] adj [hair] that is becoming gray □ a tall man with thin, graying hair.

gray matter n -1. MEDICINE the material that the brain is made of. -2. intelligence (informal use) □ I don't think Bob's got too much in the way of gray matter upstairs.

grayscale US, greyscale GB ['grɛɪskeɪl] n the shades of gray that represent colored information when it is shown on a black and white screen.

gray squirrel n a type of squirrel with gray fur.

graze [grɛɪz] ◇ vt -1. [knee, elbow] to break the surface of the skin of  by accidentally rubbing it against something rough or hard □ She fell and grazed her knee. -2. [surface, treetops, roof] to touch <sthg> lightly when passing it □ The plane just grazed the treetops as it began to land. -3. [cattle, sheep] to keep <animals> in a particular area so that they can eat grass; [field, meadow] to feed on the grass in <an area of land> □ Cows grazed the nearby field. ◇ vi [cattle, sheep] to eat grass in a field, meadow etc □ sheep grazing in the field. ◇ n a slight wound or injury on somebody's skin □ It's nothing, just a graze, that's all.

GRE (abbr of Graduate Record Examination) n in the USA, an exam taken by graduates who want to go to graduate school.

grease [grɛɪs] ◇ n -1. [from an animal] the soft fat of an animal when it is cooked. -2. [for machines] a thick oily substance that is put on the moving parts of engines and machines to make them work more smoothly □ Hal wiped the grease from his hands before picking up the phone. -3. [on one's skin] an oily substance, especially that produced by somebody's skin. ◇ vt [engine, machine, baking tray] to put grease on <sthg> □ Grease the dish before adding the cake mixture.

grease gun n a device for putting grease in special holes in machines to make them work more smoothly.

greasepaint ['grɛɪspeɪnt] n an oily substance used as make-up by actors.

greaseproof paper [ˌgrɛɪspru:f-] n GB paper that does not let grease pass through it, used in cooking.

greasy ['grɛɪsɪ] (compar greasier, superl greasiest) adj [tools, fingers, clothes] that is covered in grease; [food] that contains a lot of grease because it has been cooked in oil, fat etc; [skin, hair] that produces a lot of grease □ Don't touch that with your greasy hands! □ The rolls were nice, if a little greasy. □ an adolescent with bad skin and greasy hair.

greasy spoon n a cheap restaurant where fried food is served (informal use).

great [gret] ◇ adj -1. [care, pleasure, friend] large in degree; [age, number, majority] large in amount; [object, animal] large in size □ The exhibition was a great success. □ It would give me great pleasure if you would join us for dinner. □ A great crowd of people had gathered outside the theater. □ A great number of the people who were here already knew the result. □ a great big bear. -2. [leader, city, achievement] very impressive or important □ This is a great day for our country. -3. [idea, party, vacation] very good (informal use) □ I had a great time on vacation in Florida. □ "We could go to the movies." — "What a great idea!" □ Are you coming too? That's great!

◇ npl the greats people, e.g. movie stars or writers, who everybody agrees are the best in their field □ one of the all-time greats of basketball.

◇ excl a word used to show one approves of something that has just been said or done □ "We've won!" — "Great!"

Great Barrier Reef: the Great Barrier Reef the largest coral reef in the world, 30 to 90 miles off the northeastern coast of Australia. It is a popular tourist attraction.

Great Britain a term used to refer to England, Scotland, and Wales, considered as a political unit.

NOTE: Compare United Kingdom.

greatcoat ['gretkout] n a thick overcoat, worn especially by soldiers.

Great Dane n a type of very large dog with a smooth coat.

Great Depression n the Great Depression a serious economic crisis that began in the USA in 1929 and lasted until the 1940s.

☹ THE GREAT DEPRESSION

During the Great Depression of the 1930s, millions of people throughout the world lost their jobs when businesses failed and there was little demand for goods. One of the causes of these bad business conditions was the Wall Street Crash in 1929, when a huge number of stocks on the New York Stock Exchange lost their value. The period that followed was especially difficult in the USA, where about 17 million people were unemployed and had no government money to help them.

Greater ['gretə] adj that includes the areas surrounding the center of a particular city □ Greater Atlanta/London.

great-grandchild n the child of somebody's grandson or granddaughter.

great-grandfather n the grandfather of somebody's mother or father.

great-grandmother n the grandmother of somebody's mother or father.

Great Lakes: the Great Lakes a group of five lakes in North America, between Canada and the USA: Lake Superior, Lake Huron, Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, and Lake Michigan.

greatly ['gretli] adv very much □ I greatly ad- mire your work. □ Her singing has improved greatly.

greatness ['gretnəs] n [of a leader, city, achievement] see great.

Great Plains: the Great Plains an area of high plains in North America, east of the Rocky Mountains.

Great Salt Lake: the Great Salt Lake a large shallow lake in Utah, USA, that contains very salty water.

Great Wall of China: the Great Wall of China a very long wall built across northern China in ancient times as a defense against invaders.

Great War n = World War I.

Grecian ['gri:n] adj [vase, temple, style] that was made in ancient Greece or in the style of ancient Greece.

Greece [gri:s] a country in southeastern Europe that includes many Mediterranean islands as well as the most southeasterly part of the European mainland. SIZE: 132,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,500,000 (Greeks). CAPITAL: Athens. LANGUAGE: Greek. CURRENCY: drachma. OFFICIAL NAME: Hellenic Republic.

greed [gri:d] n the desire for more of something than one needs □ He was motivated purely by greed.

greedily ['gri:dili] adv [eat, drink] see greedy □ Mo was looking greedily at the cake.

greedy ['gri:di] (compar greedier, superl greediest) adj -1. [person, animal] that wants more food than they need or should have □ Don't be so greedy! -2. [person] who wants more of something than they need or should have □ He was greedy for power.

Greek [gri:k] ◇ n -1. a person who lives in or comes from Greece. -2. the language spoken in Greece in ancient or modern times. ◇ adj: a Greek temple/meal.

green [gri:n] ◇ adj -1. [paint, eyes, fields] that has the same color as grass or leaves □ green and white stripes □ a pale-green dress. -2. [tomato, banana] that is not ripe; [wood] that is not ready to be used □ The wood won't burn if it's green. -3. [activist, politics, issues] that is concerned with the protection of the environment □ They belong to a green organization. □ a green detergent. -4. [person, face] that looks pale or unhealthy, especially because of fear or illness (informal use) □ You're looking a little green this morning! Do you have a hang-over? -5. [worker, youngster, recruit] who does not have much experience (informal use). -6. to be green (with envy) to be very envious □ Teresa will be green with envy when she sees my new dress.

◇ n -1. the color of grass or leaves. ■ in green in green paint, materials, clothes etc □ She was dressed in green. -2. [in a village] an area of grass in a village or town, usually in the center □ cricket on the village green. -3. SPORT on a golf course, the area of smooth grass around each hole.

◆ Green n a member of a political movement concerned with the protection of the environment. ■ the Greens the political movement concerned with the protection of the environment.

♦ greens npl the leaves of green vegetables such as cabbage that are cooked and eaten □ Eat up your greens — they're good for you.

greenback ['grɪn:bæk] n US a dollar bill (informal use).

green bean n a plant that has thin green pods that are eaten as a vegetable.

green belt n GB an area of land around a town or city where no factories or houses are allowed to be built.

Green Beret n the Green Berets the members of the American or British army that are specially trained as commandos (informal use).

green card n -1. an official document that allows a foreigner to work in the USA. It is usually temporary. -2. in Britain, a document used by motorists when they go abroad that shows they have insurance for their car.

Green Cross Code n GB a set of rules to help children to cross the road safely.

Greene [grɪ:n], Graham (1904–1991) a British writer who became a Catholic. Many of his novels, such as Brighton Rock and The Power and the Glory, have religious themes.

greenery ['grɪ:nəri] n green plants that make a room or area look attractive □ All we could see was a huge expanse of greenery.

green fingers npl GB to have green fingers to be good at growing plants and flowers.

greenfly ['grɪ:nflaɪ] (pl greenfly OR greenflies) n a tiny green insect with wings that harms plants.

greengage ['grɪ:ŋgeɪdʒ] n a juicy light-green fruit like a plum.

greengrocer ['grɪ:ŋgrəʊsə] n a person who has a store that sells fruit and vegetables. ■ a greengrocer's a store that sells fruit and vegetables □ Can you get me some lettuce at the greengrocer's?

greenhouse ['grɪ:nhaʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n a building with glass walls and a glass roof, used for growing plants that need heat, light, and protection from bad weather.

greenhouse effect n the greenhouse effect the gradual increase in the temperature of the air around the Earth, caused by gases such as carbon dioxide.

greenish ['grɪ:nɪʃ] adj [color, eyes] slightly green.

Greenland ['grɪ:nlənd] a large, self-governing Danish island in the Arctic Ocean, northeast of Canada.

green light n to give sb the green light to give sb permission to do something □ We've gotten the green light to go ahead with the project.

green onion n US a small onion with a long green stem, usually eaten raw.

green paper n a document, published by the British government, that contains ideas about a particular subject that it wants people, including Parliament, to study and discuss.

NOTE: Compare white paper.

Green Party n the Green Party a political party that is concerned with the protection of the environment.

Greenpeace ['grɪnpi:s] n an international organization that takes action to stop people who are harming the environment, e.g. people who are killing whales or dumping poisonous waste.

green salad n a salad consisting mostly of green vegetables such as lettuce, often served with another dish.

green thumb n US to have a green thumb to be good at growing plants and flowers.

Greenwich Village [ˌgrɛnɪtʃ-] an area in New York City, USA, famous for its artists and writers.

greet [grɪ:t] vt -1. [friend, colleague, family member] to say something to <sb>, or do something, to show that one is happy to meet or see them □ When I arrived at the train station there was nobody there to greet me. -2. [speech, announcement, remark] to react to <sthg> in a particular way □ The banks greeted the news with enthusiasm. -3. [person] to be immediately noticeable to <sb> when they arrive somewhere □ The sound of heavy gunfire greeted us on our arrival.

greeting ['grɪ:tɪŋ] n something that one says, such as "Good morning", or does when meeting somebody □ He smiled in friendly greeting.

♦ greetings npl a word written on something, e.g. a greeting card, to express one's good wishes to somebody □ 'Birthday greetings.'

greeting card US, greetings card GB n a card with a picture on the front and a friendly message inside, sent to somebody on a special occasion such as their birthday.

♥ GREETING CARDS

In large towns in the USA, Britain, and Australia, there are stores that sell nothing but greeting cards. People send these cards to their friends or family on special occasions such as Christmas or Easter, or on Mother's Day or Father's Day. They can also be sent to someone on their birthday, or when they have got married or had a baby. In the USA, there are also cards for occasions such as Grandparents' Day and Secretaries' Day.

gregarious [grɪ'ɡeəriəs] adj [person] who likes being with other people.

gremlin ['grɛmlɪn] n a small imaginary being that is said to cause problems in machines (informal use).

Grenada [grə'neɪdə] a country in the Caribbean consisting of the island of Grenada and several neighboring islands. SIZE: 344 sq kms. POPULATION: 100,000 (Grenadians). CAPITAL: St. George's. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: East Caribbean dollar.

grenade [grə'neɪd] n a small bomb designed to be thrown by hand.

grenadier [ˌgrɛnə'dɪə] n a soldier who is a member of a special regiment in the British army.

grew [gru:] past tense of grow.

grey adj & n GB = gray.

greyhound ['greɪhaʊnd] n a dog with a thin body and long legs that can run very fast.

GreyhoundTM n a bus belonging to a large bus company in the USA that travels long distances □ I'll take a Greyhound to San Francisco.

greying n GB = graying.

greyscale ['greɪskeɪl] n GB = grayscale.

grid [grɪd] n -1. [of bars] a framework of metal bars, used to cover a hole or window. -2. [of lines] a system of straight lines that cross each other to form little squares.

griddle ['grɪdl] n a flat, heavy, metal plate on which food can be cooked directly □ griddle cakes.

gridiron ['grɪdaɪə'n] n -1. COOKING a framework of metal bars, used for cooking meat or fish over a fire. -2. US SPORT an area of ground with white markings on it, where football is played.

gridlock ['grɪdlɒk] n a traffic jam in which cars cannot move in any direction.

grid reference n the letters and numbers that help one to find a place on a map by following the lines printed on it and seeing where they meet.

grief [grɪ:f] n -1. [of a person] extreme sadness, caused especially by somebody's death □ You will have to learn to come to terms with your grief. -2. to give OR cause sb grief to make trouble for sb (informal use) □ That guy's caused us a lot of grief over this Pepsi deal. -3. to come to grief GB [person] to get hurt; [plan, deal, company] to fail □ The whole project came to grief when they were refused a bank loan. ■ good grief! an exclamation used to show one is surprised or shocked.

grief-stricken adj [person] who feels grief because something bad has happened recently.

grievance ['grɪ:vns] n something that causes somebody to complain, especially because they feel they have been badly treated at work □ The workers would welcome a chance to air their grievances.

grieve [grɪ:v] ◇ vt it grieves me to... it makes me sad to... (informal use) □ It grieves me to hear you talk in this way. ◇ vi to feel extremely sad, especially because somebody has died □ She was grieving for her dead child.

grieving ['grɪ:vɪŋ] n: see grieve □ a group of grieving relatives.

grievous bodily harm [,grɪ:vəs-] n GB LAW serious physical harm or injury done by one person to another.

Griffith ['grɪfɪθ], D. W. (1875–1948) a US movie maker, who experimented with new techniques. His work includes The Birth of a Nation.

grill [grɪl] ◇ n -1. GB [in an oven] a metal shelf where food can be cooked quickly under direct heat from above □ Give the fish five minutes under the grill. -2. [over a fire] a frame of metal bars, used for cooking food over a fire. -3. food that has been grilled, especially bacon, chops, sausages etc □ a mixed grill. ◇ vt -1. [meat, fish, vegetables] to cook <food> using strong direct heat from above or below □ grilled peppers. -2. [prisoner, suspect, interviewee] to ask <sb> a lot of questions in an aggressive way □ The interview panel grilled candidates on their career goals.

grille [grɪl] n a frame of metal bars or wires over a window or door or in front of a piece of machinery.

grim [grɪm] (compar grimmer, superl grimmiest) adj -1. [face, expression] that looks serious and worried □ Sam came out of the meeting looking grim. -2. [place, day] that is unpleasant and depressing; [situation, news] that is serious and not likely to get better □ The weather was cold and grim. □ Things are looking grim.

grimace [grɪ'mæs] ◇ n a look on a person's face that shows they are angry, annoyed, in pain etc □ "How disgusting!" she said with a grimace. ◇ vi to make a grimace □ He grimaced with pain.

grime [graɪm] n dirt that covers a surface in a dark layer □ The miners' faces were covered in grime.

grimly ['grɪmli] adv -1. [think, smile, watch] in a way that shows no pleasure at all □ "Yes," he said, nodding grimly. -2. [struggle, defend] with a strong desire to succeed □ She struggled grimly to keep a hold on the rope.

Grim Reaper n the Grim Reaper a symbol of death, usually shown as a skeleton wearing a hood and carrying a scythe.

grimy ['grɪmi] (compar grimier, superl grimiest) adj [surface, city, hand] that is covered with a layer of dirt □ All we could see was one grimy factory after another.

grin [grɪn] (pt & pp grinned, cont grinning) ◇ n a very wide smile □ "Hello there!" he said with a grin. ◇ vi to give a very wide smile □ What are you grinning at? □ Ma was grinning from ear to ear. ■ to grin and bear it to experience difficulties or an unpleasant situation without complaining.

grind [graɪnd] (pt & pp ground) ◇ vt -1. [wheat, coffee, pepper] to crush <sthg> into small pieces or a fine powder □ Our coffee is ground by hand. -2. [dirt, ash, cigarette] to press <sthg> with great force against the surface of something else □ He ground the cigarette into the carpet. ■ to grind one's teeth to move one's upper and lower teeth against each other with one's mouth closed. ◇ vi [car gears, engine] to make a sharp scraping sound. ◇ n -1. hard boring work that one hates doing □ the daily grind. -2. US a person who studies hard for exams (informal use).

◆ grind down vt sep to grind sb down [enemy, worker] to make sb weak and obedient by treating them badly.

◆ grind up vt sep to grind sth up [glass, powder] to crush sth into small pieces or a fine powder.

grinder ['graɪndə] n a device or machine for crushing substances into small pieces □ a coffee/pepper grinder.

grinding ['graɪndɪŋ] adj grinding poverty/misery very great poverty/misery.

grinning ['grɪnɪŋ] adj [person, face] that has a grin.

grip [grɪp] (pt & pp gripped, cont gripping) ◇ n
-1. [on an object] the act of holding something firmly; [on a situation, of the facts] the act of controlling something well □ He has a strong grip. □ He's got a good grip on the situation. ■ to be in the grip of sthg [of winter, recession] to be influenced or controlled by sthg □ The country was in the grip of a deep recession. ■ to come or get to grips with sthg [with a job, situation] to begin to understand and deal with sthg new or difficult □ She can't seem to get to grips with the fact that Mike has left for good. ■ to get a grip on oneself to control oneself and stop being very excited, angry, or upset □ Look, get a grip on yourself, you're acting like a hysterical child! ■ to lose one's grip to lose one's ability to deal with difficult situations or with life in general □ I'm sorry to say it, but Matt is really losing his grip. -2. [of tires, shoes] the ability to grip the surface of something such as the road, and not to slip □ These boots are losing their grip. -3. [of handlebars, a camera] the handle or the part of something by which it is held. -4. [for holding things] a bag in which somebody keeps their belongings when they are traveling.
◇ vt -1. [hand, steering wheel, arm] to take <sthg> and hold it firmly □ He gripped me by the arm. -2. [road] to hold the surface of <sthg> firmly and not slip □ These tires grip the road well. -3. [imagination, attention, country] to affect <sthg> powerfully □ The whole class was gripped by Mr Saunders' story.

gripe [graɪp] (informal use) ◇ n a complaint □ Students always have some gripes about their classes. ◇ vi to complain all the time □ Stop griping and get on with it!

gripping ['grɪpɪŋ] adj [story, movie, play] that holds all of one's attention □ I found it really gripping, right up until the end.

grisly ['grɪzli] (compar grislier, superl grisliest) adj [scene, sight, story] that is very unpleasant because it involves death, corpses, etc □ There was a grisly bit when he gets his eyes poked out.

grist [grɪst] n to be (all) grist to one's or the mill to be useful for a particular purpose that one has □ Oh, any information's welcome — it's all grist to the mill.

gristle ['grɪsl] n the tough part of meat that cannot be eaten.

gristly ['grɪsli] (compar gristlier, superl gristliest) adj [meat, pork] that contains a lot of gristle.

grit [grɪt] (pt & pp gritted, cont gritting) ◇ n
-1. [on a road] very small pieces of stone. -2. [of a person] courage and a strong desire to do something (informal use) □ You have to have a lot of grit to survive here. ◇ vt [road, surface, path] to put grit on <sthg> to make it less slippery in icy weather.

◆ grits npl US finely ground corn served as a cereal or with other food.

gritty ['grɪti] (compar grittier, superl grittiest) adj -1. [surface, road, floor] that is covered with grit □ sitting on the sand eating gritty cheese sandwiches. -2. [person, determination, performance] that shows a lot of courage (informal use).

grizzled ['grɪzld] adj [hair, beard] that is gray or partly gray; [person] who has gray hair.

grizzly ['grɪzli] (pl grizzlies) n grizzly (bear) a large bear with gray and brown fur that lives in North America.

groan [graʊn] ◇ n a long low shout or cry of pain, disappointment, or sadness □ We heard a groan coming from the other room. ◇ vi -1. [person] to make a groan □ He groaned loudly in his sleep. -2. [table, door] to make a loud, harsh, creaking sound □ The table was literally groaning with food.

grocer ['grəʊsə] n a person who sells groceries in a store. ■ a grocer's a store that sells groceries □ I need to get some sugar from the grocer's.

groceries ['grəʊsərɪz] npl food that is bought from a store fresh, or in cans, packets etc □ We get all our groceries from the supermarket.

grocery cart ['grəʊsəri-] n US a metal basket on wheels used to collect groceries in a supermarket.

grocery store n US a large store that sells food and household goods where customers serve themselves and pay at the exit.

grog [grɒg] n AUS alcoholic drink (informal use).

groggy ['grɒgi] (compar groggier, superl groggiest) adj [person] who feels weak, tired, and confused □ He was still groggy after the anesthetic.

groin [grəʊn] n the area of the body where the legs join the body at the front □ She kneed him in the groin.

groom [gru:m] ◇ n -1. a person whose job is to look after horses. -2. = bridegroom. ◇ vt -1. [horse, dog] to look after <an animal> by cleaning and brushing it. -2. to prepare <sb> for a particular role or position □ I've groomed him for the top job.

groomed [gru:md] adj well/badly groomed [person] who is well/badly dressed and looks neat/messy.

groove [gru:v] n a narrow line cut into the surface of something such as a record or a piece of wood □ The water runs along a narrow groove in the stone.

grope [grəʊp] ◇ vt -1. to grope one's way to try to get somewhere by feeling with one's hands because one cannot see □ Suzi groped her way carefully along the corridor. -2. to touch the body of <sb> for sexual pleasure, usually against their will (informal and disapproving use) □ My boss tried to grope me. ◇ vi to grope (about) for sthg [for a flashlight, switch] to search for sthg that one cannot see by using one's hands; [for an answer, word] to try but fail to find sthg that one wants to say □

I groped around in the dark for a candle. □ It was obvious she was just groping for an excuse.

gross [grouz] (pl gross) ◇ adj -1. gross weight total weight, including the box, container etc. ■ one's gross salary/earnings etc one's total salary/earnings etc, before money has been taken off it, e.g. for tax □ $10,000? Do you mean net or gross? -2. gross misconduct/negligence very serious and unacceptable misconduct/negligence (formal use) □ He was accused of gross professional misconduct. -3. [person, behavior, ideal] disgusting (informal use) □ How gross! -4. very fat (informal use) □ Fat? He was gross! ◇ n a group or set of 144 things □ five gross. ◇ vt to earn  as a total amount that is gross □ They were grossing $3,000,000 a year.

gross domestic product n the total value of all goods and services produced by a country in a year, not including goods and services it produces abroad.

grossly ['groushl] adv grossly unfair/overweight etc extremely unfair/overweight etc □ I think these city bankers are grossly overpaid.

gross national product n the total value of all goods and services produced by a country in a year.

gross profit n the total amount of profit made by a company before taxes and other deductions.

grotesque [grou'tesk] adj [figure, appearance] very ugly and unpleasant in a way that is frightening or funny □ It was grotesque the way she tried to make herself look younger.

grotto ['grɒtəʊ] (pl grottoes OR grottos) n a cave, usually man-made, that is small and attractive.

grotty ['grɒtɪ] (compar grottier, superl grottiest) adj GB [apartment, room, town] that looks dirty and in bad condition (informal use) □ a grotty bedsit.

grouchy ['grautʃɪ] (compar grouchier, superl grouchiest) adj [person] who is bad-tempered, complains a lot, and is rude (informal use) □ Ignore Alan, he's always grouchy in the mornings.

ground [graund] ◇ past tense & past participle of grind.

◇ n -1. the surface of the earth. ■ above ground on or above the surface of the earth. ■ below ground below the surface of the earth □ He lay there on the ground, very still. □ I could see tiny figures standing waving on the ground below us. ■ to be thin on the ground to be rare □ Good decorators are thin on the ground. ■ to get sth off the ground to start sth □ We've been trying for a long time to get this project off the ground. -2. an area of empty land □ This is holy ground. □ waste ground. -3. an area of land used for a particular purpose □ a football/sports ground □ a parade ground. -4. to be on dangerous/safe ground to feel unsure/sure about what one is dealing with or talking about □ I knew I was on dangerous/safe ground. ■ to break fresh OR new ground to make a new discovery or to start something that has not been done before □ Well, you're scarcely breaking new ground, are you? -5. to gain ground to make progress or to gain an advantage □ The jeeps were rapidly gaining ground on us. ■ to lose ground to lose an advantage or not make enough progress □ Smith's are losing ground to their competitors. -6. US ELECTRICITY a wire that connects an electrical appliance with the ground. -7. phrases to cut the ground from under sb's feet to make a situation difficult for sb by preventing them from saying or doing what they intended to. ■ to go to ground GB to hide for a period of time. ■ to run sb/sth to ground GB to find sb/sth after a long and careful search. ■ to stand one's ground not to let oneself be forced to do what one does not want to do.

◇ vt -1. to be grounded on OR in sth [on fact, certainty, knowledge] to be based on sth □ Our success is grounded on years of experience. -2. AVIATION to stop  etc from flying □ He's been grounded. -3. [son, daughter] to stop  from going out for a period of time as a punishment □ My best friend has been grounded for a week. -4. US ELECTRICITY to be grounded to be connected to the ground with a wire.

◆ grounds npl -1. [for doing something] a good reason for doing or thinking something □ Such behavior constitutes grounds for divorce. □ You have no grounds for complaint/complaining. ■ on the grounds of because of □ The case was dismissed on the grounds of insufficient evidence. ■ on the grounds that because □ She asked him to leave on the grounds that he was encouraging disruption in the class. -2. [of a building] the land that surrounds and belongs to a building □ the school/hospital grounds. -3. [for an activity] an area of land where a particular activity, e.g. hunting or fishing, takes place □ fishing/hunting grounds. -4. [of coffee] the small pieces of coffee beans that are left at the bottom of a pot, cup etc when the coffee has been drunk □ coffee grounds.

ground beef n finely chopped beef.

groundcloth ['graundkloʊ] n US = groundsheet.

ground control n the people and equipment that guide the flights of aircraft and spacecraft.

ground cover n the layer of thick low plants that cover the surface of the ground.

ground crew n the people whose job is to take care of and repair aircraft and spacecraft when they are on the ground and to monitor their flights.

ground floor n the part of a building that is level with the ground outside □ a ground-floor office.

groundhog ['graundhɒg] a small furry animal in North America that lives in holes in the ground.

Groundhog Day n in the USA, a holiday celebrated on February 2.

ground-in adj [dirt, grease] that has been rubbed deeply into the surface of something.

grounding ['graundɪŋ] n a knowledge of the basic principles or skills of a particular subject □ I acquired a good grounding in chemistry.

groundless ['graʊndləs] adj [fear, suspicion] that is not necessary because there is no reason for it □ The doctor told her that her worries were groundless.

ground level n at ground level on the floor of a building that is level with the ground; at the level of the ground.

groundnut ['graʊndnʌt] n GB a peanut.

ground plan n a plan of the street level of a building.

ground rent n rent paid by the owner of a building to the owner of the land which it is built on.

ground rules npl the basic rules or principles that control the way a particular thing must be done.

groundsheet ['graʊndʃi:t] n a piece of waterproof material placed on the ground, especially in a tent.

groundskeeper ['graʊndski:pə] n US a person whose job is to look after a park or sports field.

groundsman ['graʊndzmən] (pl groundsmen [-mən]) n GB = groundskeeper.

ground staff n -1. the people whose job is to take care of a sports ground. -2. GB the people whose job is to take care of and repair aircraft and monitor their flights.

groundswell ['graʊndswel] n a groundswell of feeling/opinion a rapid growth in the number of people who have the same feeling or opinion.

groundwork ['graʊndwɜ:k] n the important work that is done before a plan, study, activity etc can be successfully completed □ Our marketing department is laying the groundwork for the company's expansion.

group [gru:p] ◇ n -1. [of people, things] a number of people or things that are together at a particular moment □ A small group of people stood waiting outside. □ The teacher told the students to form a group. -2. [of protesters, activists, feminists] an organization of people who share an interest or aim □ an action group □ a drama group. -3. BUSINESS a number of companies joined together in the same organization □ a newspaper group. -4. [in society] a number of people or things that are similar because they share a quality, skill etc □ an age/income group. -5. MUSIC a small number of people who play music together □ a member of a rock group.

◇ vt to put <one or more people or things> into a group or groups somewhere □ The students are grouped according to ability.

◇ vi to group (together) to come to a particular place at the same time, or form an organization for a particular purpose □ They were all grouped together under the heading "Lilies".

group captain n in the UK, a senior officer in the air force, above a wing commander but below an air commodore in rank.

groupie ['gru:pɪ] n a person who is a fan of somebody famous, especially a girl who follows a pop star on tour to have sex with him (informal use).

group practice n a group of doctors who work together as a business in the same building.

group therapy n a form of treatment for a group of people who come together to discuss a problem they all have.

grouse [graʊs] (pl sense 1 grouse OR grouses, pl sense 2 grouses) ◇ n -1. a bird that is shot for sport, especially on the Scottish moors; the meat of this bird eaten as food. -2. [about a problem] a complaint (informal use) □ I have just one small grouse to make. ◇ vi to complain (informal use) □ There's no use grouching about it.

grove [grəʊv] n an area planted with trees □ an orange/a lemon grove □ a grove of trees.

grovel [US 'grʌv], GB 'grɒvl] (US pt & pp groveled, cont groveling, GB pt & pp grovelled, cont grovelling) vi to show too much eagerness to please somebody, especially because they are powerful or important (disapproving use) □ He was groveling to his boss as usual. □ Do you expect me to grovel?

grow [grəʊ] (pt grew, pp grown) ◇ vi -1. [person, animal, company] to become bigger □ The children have grown so much, I hardly recognize them! □ The town has grown a lot in the last few years. -2. [hair, beard] to become longer. -3. [traffic, feeling, investment] to increase □ Our friendship grew over the years. □ Sales are growing at a rate of 3% per annum. -4. [plant, flower, mold] to be alive in a particular place □ There were poppies growing in the fields. -5. to become □ It grew dark. □ He grew tired/faint/angry. □ I've grown used to the noise now. -6. to grow to like/hate etc sthg to begin to like/hate etc sthg after a long period of time □ I've grown to respect him.

◇ vt -1. [fruit, vegetable, crop] to put  in the ground and help it to grow □ They grow potatoes around these parts. -2. to grow one's hair to allow one's hair to grow long. ■ to grow a beard/mustache to allow a beard/mustache to grow on one's face.

◆ grow apart vi [people, family, friends] to begin to be less close and to have different ideas and interests □ Gradually, she began to grow apart from Jake.

◆ grow into vt fus -1. to grow into sthg [into one's shoes, shirt] to become big enough to be able to wear sthg □ I know it's a little big, honey, but you'll soon grow into it. -2. to grow into sthg [into a man, woman, adult] to become sthg over a long period of time □ She's grown into a good-looking girl!

◆ grow on vt fus to grow on sb [idea, name] to become gradually more liked by sb (informal use) □ It sounded stupid to begin with, but gradually the idea began to grow on me.

◆ grow out vi [hairstyle, dye] to disappear gradually from one's hair as it grows □ How long will it take my perm to grow out completely?

◆ grow out of vt fus -1. to grow out of sthg [out of one's trousers, shirt, shoes] to become too big for sthg □ Jamie grows out of all his clothes so quickly these days! -2. to grow out of sthg [out of a hobby, interest, habit] to become too old to be interested in sthg □ Don't worry, he'll soon grow out of it.

◆ grow up vi -1. [person] to become an adult □ What do you want to do when you grow up? □ Why don't you just grow up and stop being so stupid! -2. [custom, feeling] to develop gradually; [town, city] to gradually get larger □ The tea ceremony was something that had grown up over the centuries.

grower ['grəʊə] n a person who grows plants, vegetables etc in order to sell them.

growl [graʊl] ◇ n -1. [of an animal] a deep unfriendly sound made by an animal, e.g. a dog or lion □ The dog gave a low growl. -2. [of a machine] a low noise made by an engine or piece of machinery that sounds like the growl of an animal. -3. [of a person] a harsh angry sound made by a person □ "Take your hands off!" he said with a growl. ◇ vi -1. [dog] to make a growl. -2. [engine] to make a sound like the growl of an animal. -3. [person] to speak in a low angry voice □ "Hurry up!" he growled.

grown [grəʊn] ◇ past participle of grow. ◇ adj [man, woman] adult □ To think that a grown man could behave like that!

grown-up ◇ adj -1. [son, daughter] adult □ We have two grown-up children. -2. [girl, boy] who behaves in a mature way □ She seemed very grown-up for her age. ◇ n an adult □ Tonight you can eat with the grown-ups, Billy.

growth [grəʊθ] n -1. [of the economy, population, a person] an increase or development in size, value, importance, or ability □ After a short period of rapid growth, the economy went into recession again. -2. MEDICINE a lump that is not normal, e.g. a tumor that grows in or on a person's body.

growth rate n the rate or speed at which something is increasing or developing in size or value.

GRSM (abbr of Graduate of the Royal Schools of Music) n a title given to music graduates in Britain.

grub [grʌb] n -1. an insect at the stage when it still looks like a small white worm. -2. food (informal use) □ Does anyone want some grub?

grubby ['grʌbi] (compar grubbier, superl grubbier) adj [hand, piece of clothing, child] that has become dirty over a period of time, and needs washing □ Don't put your grubby hands on my nice clean tablecloth.

grudge [grʌdʒ] ◇ n a feeling of dislike and anger one has toward somebody because of something they have done to one. ■ to bear sb a grudge, to bear a grudge against sb to continue to dislike sb and be angry with them because of something they have done in the past □ You've borne a grudge against me ever since. ◇ vt to grudge sb sthg [success, popularity] to be unhappy that sb has got sthg □ I don't grudge you your happiness. ■ to grudge doing sthg to be unwilling to do sthg grudging ['grʌdʒɪŋ] adj [praise, admiration, respect] that is given or felt unwillingly □ She had won the grudging respect of her department.

□ I don't grudge cleaning up, but it would be nice to get some thanks.

grudgingly ['grʌdʒɪŋli] adv [accept, admit, thank] see grudging □ "Well, it's not bad," she said grudgingly.

grueling US, gruelling GB ['gru:əlɪŋ] adj [trip, job, race] that is very tiring and takes a lot of effort □ We got home after a grueling drive.

gruesome ['gru:səm] adj [scene, sight, tale] that is unpleasant to look at or hear about, often because death or injury is involved □ There was a gruesome bit about dead bodies, but apart from that it was fine.

gruff [grʌf] adj -1. [voice] that has a deep rough quality. -2. [manner, reply] that seems rough and unfriendly □ Don't be put off by his gruff exterior.

grumble ['grʌmbəl] ◇ n -1. [about a problem] a small complaint □ I have a few grumbles regarding what was said. -2. [of stomach] a low rumbling sound in one's stomach that is heard when one is hungry. ◇ vi -1. to complain in a bad-tempered way □ He was grumbling about the trains again. □ Oh, stop grumbling, for goodness' sake! -2. [stomach] to make a low rumbling sound because one is hungry.

grumpy ['grʌmpi] (compar grumpier, superl grumpiest) adj [person] who is bad-tempered and rude to people who talk to them (informal use) □ You're in a grumpy mood today!

grunt [grʌnt] ◇ n -1. [of a pig] the low sound made by a pig. -2. [of a person] a short sound made by a person, often with their mouth closed, to show they disapprove of something or are not interested in something □ He gave a short grunt, which I took to mean yes. ◇ vi [pig, person] to make a grunt.

G-string n a narrow strip of material worn over one's genitals and held in place by a piece of string attached around the waist.

Guadeloupe [ˌgwa:də'lʊ:p] a group of islands in the Caribbean belonging to France, including Basse-Terre and Grande-Terre.

Guangzhou [ˌgwɑ:ŋ'dʒəʊ] a major port and industrial center in southeastern China. POPULATION: 4,000,000. OLD NAME: Canton.

guarantee [US ˌɡerən'ti:, GB ˌɡær-] ◇ n -1. BUSINESS [of a radio, TV, watch] a written promise by a company that it will repair or replace goods made by it if they break or stop working within a certain period of time □ The radio comes with a six-month guarantee. ■ to be under guarantee [goods, product] to be protected by a guarantee □ If it's still under guarantee you can send it back. -2. [of a job, good behavior] a promise or official statement that something will definitely happen; [of quality, success] something that makes it certain that something else is true or will happen □ There's no guarantee (that) it's going to be sunny. □ A good education used to be a guarantee of success. □ What guarantees can you give me?

◇ vt -1. BUSINESS [TV, watch] to give a formal promise that one will replace or repair  if it stops working within a certain period of time □ They guarantee all their products for three years. -2. [delivery, success] to promise or make sure that <sthg> will happen; [satisfaction, happiness] to promise or make sure that somebody will feel <sthg> □ I can't guarantee I'll be there on time, but I'll try. □ We guarantee (that) you'll be completely satisfied.

guarantor [US ˌɡerən'tɔːr, GB ˌɡærən'tɔː] n a person who gives a guarantee or who agrees to be responsible for something such as the payment of a debt □ She asked Henry if he would act as her guarantor.

guard [ɡɑːd] ◇ vt -1. [house, president] to protect  by staying near and watching them □ The premises are guarded by a private security firm. -2. [prisoner, criminal] to stay near and watch <sb> to prevent them from escaping □ The prisoner was guarded by three police officers. -3. [information, knowledge] to keep <sthg> secret by not telling anybody about it □ a closely guarded secret.

◇ n -1. [of a person, place] a person, e.g. a policeman or soldier, who guards a person or place; a group of people who guard a person or place □ a prison guard □ an armed guard. -2. [in a place] a planned operation to guard a person or place □ a 24-hour guard. ■ to be on guard to be guarding a person or place □ There were three soldiers on guard outside. ■ to stand guard to guard a person or place. ■ to be on (one's) guard to be careful to prevent something from happening, or to avoid it □ I would advise you to be on your guard against any unexpected visitors. ■ to catch sb off guard to surprise sb by doing or saying something they do not expect □ Her questions caught me off guard. -3. GB RAIL the person whose job is to help passengers and check their tickets on a train. -4. [for one's mouth, head, knee] a protective pad used in sport; [on a machine] a protective part on a machine.

◆ Guards npl the Guards a group of regiments in the British army. They are considered to be among the best soldiers in the armed forces.

◆ guard against vt fus to guard against sthg [against a danger, threat, infection] to be very careful to try to prevent sthg bad from happening □ New checks are being introduced to guard against smuggling.

guard dog n a fierce dog that has been trained to protect places.

guarded [ˈɡɑːdɪd] adj [person, reply, statement] that is careful not to give much information □ She gave me a guarded smile.

guardian [ˈɡɑːdʒən] n -1. [of a child] a person who is legally responsible for taking care of a child, especially after their parents have died □ The child's legal guardian will have to be asked first. -2. [of democracy, virtue, morality] a person or organization that protects or defends something □ I would hardly consider Jasper a guardian of morality!

guardian angel n a good spirit believed to protect somebody.

guardianship [ˈɡɑːdʒənʃɪp] n the position of being the guardian of somebody.

guardrail [ˈɡɑːdreɪl] n a railing along a path, passageway etc that stops people from going where there is danger.

guardsman [ˈɡɑːdzmən] (pl guardsmen [-mən]) n -1. a member of the National Guard. -2. a member of the Guards.

guard's van n GB RAIL the car of a train that the guard travels in.

Guatemala [ˌɡwɑːtə'mɑːlə] a country in Central America, between Mexico, El Salvador, and Honduras. SIZE: 109,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,000,000 (Guatemalans). CAPITAL: Guatemala City. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: quetzal.

guava [ˈɡwɑːvə] n a round, yellow, tropical fruit with pink or white flesh and hard seeds.

gubernatorial [ˌɡuːbə'nɔːtɔːriəl] adj US POLITICS [campaign, elections] that is connected with the governor of a state.

guerrilla [ɡə'rɪlə] n = guerrilla.

Guernsey¹ [ˈɡɜːnzɪ] one of the Channel Islands. Some British people keep their money in banks there because the taxes are lower than in mainland Britain. SIZE: 63 sq kms. POPULATION: 53,000. CAPITAL: St. Peter Port. LANGUAGE: English, French. CURRENCY: pound sterling.

Guernsey² n -1. a heavy, knitted, woolen sweater. -2. a type of cow that produces very rich and creamy milk.

guerrilla [ɡə'rɪlə] n a member of an unofficial military group that is fighting against the official government of their country for political reasons.

guerrilla warfare n the activity of fighting against an official army or the state by making small attacks or planting bombs.

guess [ges] ◇ n an attempt to give the right answer to something without being sure what the answer is □ I don't know, I'll have to make or take a guess. □ Well, at a guess, I'd say there were about a hundred people there. ■ it's anybody's guess nobody knows what is true or what will happen □ It's anybody's guess how many will come to the party.

◇ vt [answer, number, identity] to say what <sthg> is without being certain that one is right □ Try and guess the meaning of the word. □ Guess who I saw yesterday! ■ guess what! a phrase used to draw attention to something exciting or surprising that one is about to say □ Guess what! I got a new job!

◇ vi -1. We can only guess at what happened. ■ to keep sb guessing to refuse to tell sb what is going to happen or what they want to know. -2. I guess... I suppose... □ "I think we should inform them." — "I guess so." □ I guess they decided not to come after all.

guesstimate [ˈgestɪmət] n a calculation of the

- value, size, or amount of something when one is not really sure (informal use).
- guesswork ['geswɜ:k] n the process or result of trying to work something out by guessing □ It's guesswork, but I think he'll accept.
- guest [gest] n -1. [in one's home] a person who has been invited to stay or eat in one's home
□ We have guests for dinner tonight. -2. [at a restaurant] a person one invites to the theater, restaurant etc and whom one pays for □ No, you're my guest tonight. Let me pay. -3. [at a hotel] a person who is staying in a hotel or guesthouse
□ a paying guest. -4. [on a show] an actor or performer who has been invited to take part in a show as a special visitor
□ a guest artist/speaker. -5. phrase be my guest! a phrase used to tell somebody that they may do what they have asked one's permission to do □ "Do you mind if I sit here?" — "Be my guest!"
- guesthouse ['gesthaus, pl -hauzɪz] n a private house where people pay to sleep and eat.
- guest of honor n the most important guest at a dinner or social occasion.
- guestroom ['gestru:m] n a bedroom in a house where visitors can sleep.
- guest star n a famous actor, performer etc who appears in a movie, TV program etc, but who is not one of the main members of the cast □ With special guest star, Mandy Phillips.
- guffaw [gʌ'fɔ:] ◇ n a loud laugh □ He gave a loud guffaw. ◇ vi to laugh loudly because something seems ridiculous.
- Guggenheim ['gʊgənhaɪm]: the Guggenheim (Museum) a museum of modern art in New York City. It is famous for its spiral shape.
- guidance ['gaɪdnɪs] n -1. [of a teacher, friend, parent] help and advice on how to run one's private or working life □ Can you give some guidance on how to invest my money? □ spiritual guidance. -2. [of a leader, director] leadership. ■ under the guidance of sb led or directed by sb □ Students write their thesis under the guidance of a tutor.
- guide [gaɪd] ◇ n -1. a person who takes tourists around museums and other places of interest and tells them about them; a person who leads other people through an area or country □ a tour/tourist guide □ a mountain guide. -2. = guide book. -3. [to a subject] a book that describes how to do something or gives information about a particular subject
□ a user's guide □ a guide to gardening. -4. something that provides a model for people to base opinions or actions on □ These figures are no more than a rough guide. -5. = girl guide.
◇ vi -1. [tourist, stranger, newcomer] to show <sb> how to get somewhere
□ The waiter guided us to our table. -2. [learner, student, beginner] to show <sb> how to do something correctly
□ The booklet guides you through the complexities of buying your own home. -3. [plane] to control the movements or actions of <sthg>; [country] to give political leadership to <sthg>
□ We need a leader who can guide our country through this difficult time.
- 4. to be guided by sb/sthg to be influenced in one's actions or opinions by sb/sthg □ I shall be guided by my conscience.
- guide book n a book that gives tourists information about a place.
- guided missile [ˈgaɪdəd-] n a missile whose course can be changed while it is in the air.
- guide dog n a dog that has been trained to help a blind person walk around safely.
- guidelines [ˈgaɪdlaɪnz] npl advice or rules about how to do something □ The Department of Health has issued new guidelines on health care for the elderly.
- guiding [ˈgaɪdɪŋ] adj a guiding principle/light a principle/light that provides somebody with guidance about how they should act/where to go.
- guild [gɪld] n -1. in the past, an organization of people who produced the same kinds of goods, that helped its members, and kept standards high. -2. an organization of people who have the same profession or who share an interest □ the local women's guild.
- guildhall [ˈgɪldhɔ:l] n a building near the center of a town where members of a guild used to meet, now often used for official meetings and public events.
- guile [gaɪl] n skill at deceiving people (literary use).
- guileless [ˈgaɪləs] adj [person] who is honest and never tries to deceive people (literary use).
- guillotine [ˈgɪləti:n] ◇ n -1. [for executing people] an apparatus for chopping off people's heads, consisting of a heavy blade that is dropped down between two posts. It was first used in France during the French Revolution. -2. GB [for cutting paper] a device consisting of a long blade attached to a lever, used for cutting paper. -3. GB & AUS POLITICS a system that limits the time MPs spend discussing a bill in parliament. ◇ vi to execute <sb> using a guillotine.
- guilt [gɪlt] n -1. an unhappy feeling that one has because one has done something bad or shameful
□ I don't feel any guilt about what I did. □ a sense of guilt. -2. LAW the fact of having done something illegal □ This new evidence establishes her guilt beyond all doubt.
- guiltily [ˈgɪltɪli] adv [behave, blush] see guilty.
- guilty [ˈgɪltɪ] (compar guiltier, superl guiltiest) adj -1. [person] who feels guilt
□ I feel guilty about not going to their party. ■ to have a guilty conscience to feel guilty about something that one has done. ■ a guilty secret a secret that one feels guilty about. ■ a guilty look/smile etc a look/smile etc that shows that somebody feels guilty. -2. LAW [person] who has been judged to have committed a particular crime
□ He was found guilty/not guilty of rape. □ The defendant is innocent until proved guilty. -3. to be guilty of sthg to have done sthg that is wrong
□ The hospital is guilty of gross negligence.
- guinea [ˈɡɪni] n a British coin that is no longer used, worth £1.05.

guinea fowl n a large, gray, African bird with white spots and a bald head and neck.

guinea pig n -1. a small furry animal with short ears and no tail, often kept as a pet or used in laboratory experiments. -2. a person who is used in an experiment to test something new.

Guinevere ['gwi:nəvɪə] (6th century) a legendary British queen, the wife of King Arthur and lover of Sir Lancelot.

guise [gaɪz] n the way somebody or something looks that hides what they really are and is intended to deceive people (formal use) □ Their philosophy is simply fascism in a new guise.

guitar [gɪ'tɑ:ɹ] n a musical instrument made of wood that usually has six strings stretched over a long, flat, narrow section, and is played by moving one's fingers over the strings □ a guitar string.

guitarist [gɪ'tɑ:ɹɪst] n a person who plays the guitar.

Gujarati, Gujerati [,gudʒə'rɑ:tɪ] n a member of a people living in western India; the language of this people. There are now many Gujaratis living in Britain.

gulch [gʌltʃ] n US a narrow valley with steep sides.

gulf [gʌlf] n -1. GEOGRAPHY a large area of deep sea that goes a long way into the land and is almost enclosed □ the Gulf of Aden. -2. a big difference or separation between two people, groups, or points of view □ the widening gulf between the rich and the poor. -3. a deep hole or crack in the Earth's surface.

◆ Gulf = Persian Gulf.

Gulf of Mexico: the Gulf of Mexico part of the Atlantic Ocean between Mexico, the USA, and Cuba.

Gulf States: the Gulf States the countries around the Persian Gulf, including Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Qatar, the UAE, and Oman; the states on the Gulf of Mexico: Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas.

Gulf Stream: the Gulf Stream a current of warm water flowing northeastward across the Atlantic, from the Gulf of Mexico to Europe.

Gulf War n the Gulf War a conflict between the UN and Iraq in 1991 which started when Iraq invaded Kuwait. Most of the UN forces were American.

gull [gʌl] n one of several types of common gray or black-and-white sea birds.

gullet ['gʌlət] n the tube leading from the mouth to the stomach.

gullible ['gʌləblɪ] adj [person] who is easy to trick because they believe what people tell them.

gully ['gʌli] (pl gullies) n -1. a narrow valley, especially one made in the side of a hill by rainwater. -2. a deep ditch.

gulp [gʌlp] ◇ vt [food, liquid, air] to swallow a large amount of <sthg> quickly. ◇ vi to swallow suddenly when one is surprised or nervous □ I gulped nervously. ◇ n an act of gulping □ Simon took a large gulp of water.

◆ gulp down vt sep to gulp sth down [food, drink] to eat or drink sth quickly and in large amounts □ He was gulping down his food as if he had a train to catch.

gum [gʌm] (pt & pp gummed, cont gumming) ◇ n -1. = chewing gum. -2. a sticky substance used for gluing things together such as pieces of paper. -3. ANATOMY the area of firm pink flesh that surrounds one's teeth. -4. = gum tree. ◇ vt -1. to put gum on <sthg> □ gummed envelopes. -2. [paper, label] to stick <sthg> to something else using gum.

gumbo ['gʌmbʊ] n a spicy stew made with okra.

gumboil ['gʌmbɔɪl] n a painful swelling on one's gum, usually caused by tooth decay.

gumboots ['gʌmbu:ts] npl GB long rubber boots that are worn to keep one's feet dry.

gumption ['gʌmpʃn] n the ability to decide what the best thing to do in a particular situation is, and to do it (informal use).

gumshoe ['gʌmʃu:] n a detective (informal use).

gum tree n = eucalyptus.

gun [gʌn] (pt & pp gunned, cont gunning) n -1. a weapon that fires bullets at high speed from a metal tube □ The men were carrying guns. □ He pointed a gun at her head. □ gun control laws. ■ to stick to one's guns not to change one's original aim, decision, opinion etc, despite what other people do or say □ She's sticking to her guns on this one. -2. SPORT a device that makes a loud noise and is used to signal the start of a race. ■ to jump the gun to do something before the proper time, with the result that one may make a mistake □ Don't you think you're jumping the gun a little? -3. a tool that forces a particular substance or object out under pressure □ a spray/grease/staple gun.

◆ gun down vt sep to gun sb down to injure sb badly or kill them by shooting them with a gun.

gunboat ['gʌnbɔ:t] n a small ship that has large guns on board.

gundog ['gʌndɒg] n a dog trained to find and bring back birds that have been shot by hunters.

gunfight ['gʌnfɑɪt] n a fight between two or more people who are using guns, especially one taking place in the Wild West.

gunfire ['gʌnfɑɪə] n the sound of guns being fired □ the distant sound of gunfire.

gunge [gʌndʒ] n GB any messy, sticky, unpleasant substance (informal use).

gung-ho [,gʌŋ'həʊ] adj [attitude, policy] that shows too much eagerness to do something, especially to go to war (informal use).

gunk [gʌŋk] n any slimy, oily, or unpleasant substance (informal use) □ The car was covered in some kind of revolting gunk.

gunman ['gʌnmən] (pl gunmen [-mən]) n a criminal who is armed with a gun □ He was kidnapped by masked gunmen.

gunner ['gʌnə] n a member of the armed forces who is trained to use guns.

gunpoint ['gʌnpɔɪnt] n at gunpoint under the threat of being shot □ The hostages were held at gunpoint.

gunpowder ['gʌnpaʊdə] n an explosive powder, used especially in fireworks.

gunrunning ['gʌnrʌnɪŋ] n the activity of bringing guns or other weapons into a country secretly and illegally.

gunshot ['gʌnʃɒt] n the firing of a gun □ the sound of gunshots □ a gunshot wound.

gunsmith ['gʌnsmɪθ] n a person whose job is to make or repair guns.

gurgle ['gɜːɡl] ◇ vi -1. [water] to make a low uneven sound, especially when flowing through a narrow space or over rocks □ Somewhere nearby a stream gurgled peacefully. -2. [baby] to make a happy sound in the back of the throat like gurgling water □ The baby lay gurgling quietly. ◇ n [of water, baby] the sound made when water or a baby gurgles □ The water disappeared down the plughole with a loud gurgle.

guru ['ɡuːruː] n -1. RELIGION a Hindu or Sikh religious leader or teacher. -2. a person whose ideas are followed by many people □ a fashion guru.

gush [ɡʌʃ] ◇ n a sudden flow of a large amount of liquid □ It all came out in a big gush. ◇ vt [blood, oil, water] to send  out in gushes □ The pipe was gushing oil. ◇ vi -1. [blood, oil] The water gushed out of the pipe. -2. [person] to praise somebody or something in a very enthusiastic way that seems insincere to other people (disapproving use) □ "Darling, you were wonderful!" she gushed.

gushing ['ɡʌʃɪŋ] adj see gush (disapproving use) □ I find her rather gushing, I'm afraid.

gusset ['ɡʌsət] n a piece of cloth, shaped like a triangle, that is sewn into a garment to make it stronger, larger, or more comfortable, e.g. between the legs.

gust [ɡʌst] ◇ n a sudden strong movement of wind □ a gust of wind. ◇ vi [wind, snow] to blow in gusts.

gusto ['ɡʌstəʊ] n with gusto with energy and enthusiasm □ He sat down and began to eat with great gusto.

gusty ['ɡʌstɪ] (compar gustier, superl gustiest) adj [day, weather] in which there are many strong gusts of wind □ It was a cold, gusty autumn day.

gut [ɡʌt] (pt & pp gutted, cont gutting) ◇ n the tube inside the body that food passes through when it is being digested. ◇ vt -1. to remove the internal organs from <an animal or fish>, usually to prepare it for cooking. -2. to destroy everything inside , leaving only the outer walls □ The house was completely gutted by the fire.

◆ guts npl -1. one's bowels or intestines (informal use) □ My guts are aching! ■ to hate sb's guts to hate sb very much (informal use). -2. to have guts to be brave and determined gut feeling n a strong feeling about somebody or something that cannot be explained in a logical way □ My gut feeling is that business will improve next year.

□ It takes a lot of guts to ignore that kind of threat.

gut reaction n a natural or instinctive reaction that cannot be explained in a logical way □ No, it's just a gut reaction — there's something about her I don't like.

gutter ['ɡʌtə] n -1. [along a road] a channel at the side of a road that allows water to drain away. -2. [along a roof] a curved plastic or metal channel along the edge of a roof that collects rainwater and sends it through pipes down to the ground.

guttering ['ɡʌtərɪŋ] n all the gutters and drainpipes of a building.

gutter press n the gutter press newspapers that contain a lot of stories about people's personal lives (disapproving use).

guttural ['ɡʌtərəl] adj [speech, sound, accent] that sounds harsh because it is produced at the back of somebody's throat.

guy [ɡaɪ] n -1. a man or boy (informal use) □ He's a great guy! □ I heard it from some guy on the radio. -2. in the UK, the model of a man that is burned on a bonfire on Guy Fawkes Night.

◆ guys npl a word used to talk to or about a group of men or women □ Hey, you guys!

Guyana [ɡaɪ'æniə] a country in northern South America, between Venezuela and Surinam, on the Atlantic Ocean. SIZE: 215,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 800,000 (Guyanans, Guyanese). CAPITAL: Georgetown. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Guyanese dollar.

Guy Fawkes Night [ˌɡaɪ'fɔːks-] n = Bonfire Night.

guy rope n a rope that is stretched from part of a tent to the ground, to keep the tent in position.

guzzle ['ɡʌzl] ◇ vt [food, beer] to eat or drink a large amount of <sthg> quickly and greedily. ◇ vi: You'll feel sick if you guzzle like that.

Gwyn [ɡwɪn], Nell (1650–1687) an English actress and the mistress of King Charles II. She is supposed to have sold oranges on the streets of London.

gym [dʒɪm] n -1. a building or large room for physical exercise, usually containing special equipment, e.g. weights, mats, and bars. □ I work out at my local gym. -2. physical exercises done inside a building □ gym shorts/lessons.

gymkhana [dʒɪm'kɑːnə] n GB an event with horse riding displays and competitions.

gymnasium [dʒɪm'neɪzjəm] (pl gymnasiums OR gymnasia [-jə]) n a gym (formal use).

gymnast ['dʒɪmnæst] n a person who is skilled or trained in gymnastics.

gymnastics [dʒɪm'næstɪks] n exercises, often using mats, ropes, or bars, that develop or display physical strength and agility.

gym shoes npl light shoes, usually with canvas tops and flat rubber soles.

gymslip ['dʒɪmslɪp] n GB a sleeveless dress that used to be worn by schoolgirls as part of their uniform.

gynaecology etc [ˌɡaɪnəˈkɒlədʒi] GB = gynecology etc.

gynecological [ˌɡaɪnəkəˈlɒdʒɪkəl] adj: see gynecology.

gynecologist [ˌɡaɪnəˈkɒlədʒəst] n a doctor who specializes in gynecology.

gynecology [ˌɡaɪnəˈkɒlədʒi] n the branch of medicine concerned with diseases that affect women's reproductive organs.

gypsy ['dʒɪpsɪ] (pl gypsies) n a member of a race of people that travels from place to place, mainly in Europe, and lives in caravans. ◇ adj: a gypsy caravan/dance/camp.

gyrate [dʒaɪ'reɪt] vi -1. [objekt] to keep turning around. -2. [dancer, body] to dance in a sexually exciting way.

gyration [dʒaɪ'reɪʃn] n a spinning movement.

gyroscope ['dʒaɪrəskəʊp] n a device containing a disk that spins freely inside a fixed frame, used for keeping ships and aircraft steady, and as a children's toy.

H

h [eɪtʃ] (pl h's OR hs), H [eɪtʃ] (pl H's OR Hs) n the eighth letter of the English alphabet.

ha [ho:] excl a word used to express triumph, surprise, or amusement □ Ha! I knew it!

habeas corpus [ˌheɪbjəsˈkɔːpəs] n a law that states that a person being kept in prison must appear in court so that a judge can decide if the imprisonment is lawful or not □ the law of habeas corpus.

haberdashery ['hæbərˈdæʃəri] (pl haberdasheries) n -1. US men's clothing. -2. GB small articles used in sewing, e.g. pins, thread, and buttons. -3. a store or a part of a store that sells haberdashery □ the haberdashery department.

habit ['hæbɪt] n -1. something that somebody does often as a normal or usual action; something that somebody does often and is unable to stop doing □ She has a habit of sticking out her tongue when she is concentrating. □ a nasty/bad habit □ I do it out of habit. □ She finally beat her drug habit. ■ to be in the habit of doing sthg to do sthg regularly or often □ I'm not in the habit of eating late in the evening. □ I got into/out of the habit of checking my finances. ■ to make a habit of doing sthg to do sthg regularly or often □ I try to make a habit of calling her once a week. □ "I'm sorry I'm late." — "Yes, well, try not to make a habit of it." -2. RELIGION a loose piece of clothing reaching the ground, worn by a monk or nun.

habitable ['hæbɪtəbl] adj [house, room, region] that is good enough or suitable for people to live in □ That apartment is barely habitable.

habitat ['hæbɪtæt] n the natural environment that an animal or plant normally lives in □ the destruction of the eagle's natural habitat.

habitation [hæbrɪ'teɪʃn] n -1. the act of living in a place □ The building is unfit for human habitation. -2. a place where somebody lives (formal use).

habit-forming [-fɔː'mɪŋ] adj [activity, drug] that is easy to become addicted to.

habitual [hə'bitʃʊəl] adj [lateness, rudeness] that is a usual state or part of somebody's regular behavior □ I couldn't live with his habitual swearing. ■ a habitual criminal/smoker/drinker etc a person who often commits crimes/smokes/drinks etc and seems not to be able to stop.

habitually [hə'bitʃʊəli] adv [late, rude] see habitual □ They habitually argue. □ He is habitually drunk.

hack [hæk] ◇ n -1. a writer or journalist whose writing is dull or of average quality. -2. US a taxi (informal use). ◇ vt to cut <sb/sthg> roughly, using short violent movements □ He was hacked to death with a sword. ■ to hack one's way through sthg to cut a rough path for oneself through sthg. ◇ vi: He hacked at a branch with an ax.

◆ hack into vt fus to hack into a system COMPUTING to enter the computer system of a large organization illegally from another computer.

◆ hack off vt sep to hack sthg off to cut sthg off using heavy uneven blows.

hacker ['hækə] n a person who hacks into somebody else's computer system in order to use or change the information stored there.

hackie ['hækɪ] n US the driver of a taxi (informal use).

hacking ['hækɪŋ] n COMPUTING the activity of hacking into an organization's computer system.

hacking cough n a painful cough with a rough unpleasant sound.

hackles ['hæklz] npl the hairs on the back of the neck of some animals that rise when the animal is angry. ■ to make sb's hackles rise to make sb angry.

hackney cab, hackney carriage ['hæknɪ-] n a taxi (formal use).

hackneyed ['hæknɪd] adj [phrase, word, remark] that is boring or meaningless because it has been used too often (disapproving use).

hacksaw ['hæksɔː] n a saw with a narrow blade fixed in a frame, used for cutting metal.

had [stressed hæd, unstressed həd] past tense & past participle of have.

haddock ['hædək] (pl haddock) n an edible white fish, like cod but smaller, that lives in the North Atlantic.

hadn't ['hædnɪt] = had not.

haematology n GB = hematology.

haemoglobin n GB = hemoglobin.

haemophilia n GB = hemophilia.

haemophiliac n GB = hemophiliac.

haemorrhage n & vi GB = hemorrhage.

haemorrhoids npl GB = hemorrhoids.

hag [hæg] n a woman who one thinks is ugly or unpleasant.

haggard ['hægərd] adj [face, person] that has lines and hollows around the eyes, caused by tiredness, anxiety, or starvation □ Liam came to the door looking pale and haggard.

haggis ['hægis] n a Scottish dish made of the internal organs of a sheep mixed with oatmeal and spices and then boiled in a bag made from the animal's stomach.

haggle ['hægl] vi to argue, usually about the cost of something □ The street traders expect you to haggle over the price of their goods.

Hague [heɪg]: The Hague the administrative capital of the Netherlands and the place where the International Court of Justice meets.

hail [heɪl] ◇ n -1. WEATHER small round pieces of ice that fall like rain □ Apparently there's going to be hail today. -2. a hail of bullets/arrows etc a lot of bullets/arrows etc that are fired at somebody or something at the same time □ He died in a hail of bullets. -3. a hail of abuse/criticism etc a lot of abuse/criticism etc that somebody receives at a particular time ◇ vt -1. [taxi, waiter] to call or attract the attention of <sb/sthg> □ See if you can hail a cab for us. -2. to hail sb/sthg as sthg to describe sb/sthg as sthg good □ He's been hailed as the greatest athlete this century. ◇ v impers WEATHER it's hailing hail is falling.

Haile Selassie [ˌhaɪlɪsəˈlæsi] (1891–1975) Emperor of Ethiopia from 1930 to 1936 and 1941 to 1974. He lived in exile in England from 1936 to 1941, when his country was occupied by Italy. He is worshipped as a god by Rastafarians. He is also called Ras Tafari Makonnen.

hailstone ['heɪlstəʊn] n a piece of hail.

hailstorm ['heɪlstɔːm] n a storm during which a lot of hail falls.

hair [heə] n -1. one of the long fine strands that grow from the skin of people and some animals □ The dog has left hairs all over the rug. -2. a mass of hairs, especially on a person's head □ She has beautiful long hair. □ Mike has gone to get his hair cut. □ body/underarm/facial hair □ a dog with smooth hair □ hair oil/conditioner. ■ to do one's hair to arrange one's hair in a particular style □ She gets her hair done once a week at the hairdresser's. ■ to let one's hair down to relax and enjoy oneself, especially after a period of restrained behavior □ Come on, let your hair down for once. ■ to make sb's hair stand on end to make sb very afraid □ It quite makes my hair stand on end just thinking about that race. ■ to split hairs to point out unnecessary or unimportant differences or details (disapproving use) □ Now you're just splitting hairs.

hairbrush ['heəˈbrʌʃ] n a brush used for brushing one's hair.

haircut ['heəˈkʌt] n -1. the act of cutting somebody's hair □ I need a haircut. -2. the style that somebody's hair is cut in □ I like your new haircut.

hairdo ['heəˈduː] (pl hairdos) n = hairstyle (informal use).

hairdresser ['heəˈdresə] n a person whose job is to cut and style people's hair. ■ a hairdresser's (salon) a place where hairdressers work □ She goes to the hairdresser's once every month.

hairdressing ['heəˈdresɪŋ] n the activity, job, or study of cutting and styling people's hair □ a hairdressing shop/salon/course.

hairdryer ['heəˈdraɪə] n a machine that blows out warm air and is used for drying or styling people's hair.

hair gel n gel that is used for fixing hair in a particular style.

hairgrip ['heəˈgrɪp] n GB a hairpin with sides that are pressed closely together.

hairline ['heəˈlaɪn] n the line at the top of the forehead where the hair starts to grow □ a receding hairline.

hairline fracture n a very thin fracture, especially of a bone.

hairnet ['heəˈnet] n a net that some women wear over their hair to keep it in place.

hairpiece ['heəˈpiːs] n a section of false hair that some people wear on their head to cover a bald patch, make their hair seem longer etc.

hairpin ['heəˈpɪn] n a thin metal pin, bent into a narrow U-shape, used especially by women to keep their hair in position.

hairpin turn US, hairpin bend GB n a very sharp bend on a road.

hair-raising [-reɪzɪŋ] adj [movie, experience, trip] very frightening □ Getting through customs was pretty hair-raising!

hair remover n a substance for removing the hair from a part of one's body.

hair restorer n a substance that is supposed to make hair grow again on bald people's heads.

hair's breadth n by a hair's breadth by a very small distance, degree, or amount □ He won by a hair's breadth.

hair slide n GB a decorative clip, used for keeping hair in position.

hair-splitting n the act of pointing out unnecessary or unimportant differences or details (disapproving use) □ This endless hair-splitting will get us nowhere.

hairspray ['heəˈspreɪ] n a spray that is used for keeping hair in a particular style.

hairstyle ['heəˈstɑɪl] n the style that a person's hair is cut or arranged in □ I like your new hairstyle.

hairstylist ['heəˈstɑɪləst] n = hairdresser.

hairy ['heəri] (compar hairier, superl hairiest) adj -1. [animal, person] that has a lot of hair □ I don't like men with hairy chests. -2. [ride, moment, situation] dangerous and frightening (informal use) □ Things were looking a little bit hairy.

Haiti ['heɪtɪ] a country in the Caribbean, in the western part of the island of Hispaniola. It was invaded by US troops in 1994 after the government was overthrown in a coup d'état. SIZE: 27,750 sq kms. POPULATION: 6,500,000 (Haitians). CAPITAL: Port-au-Prince. LANGUAGE: French, Creole. CURRENCY: gourde.

Haitian ['heɪʃn] n & adj: see Haiti.

hake [heɪk] (pl hake OR hakes) n one of several types of edible white fish, living mainly in northern seas.

halal [hə'lə:l] ◇ n meat from an animal that has been killed in accordance with Muslim law. ◇ adj: halal meat/butchers.

halcyon ['hælsɪən] adj halcyon days a happy and peaceful time, especially when remembered at a later, less happy time (literary use).

hale [heɪl] adj hale and hearty [old person] healthy and active (old-fashioned use) □ Henry's still hale and hearty and going strong.

Hale [heɪl], Nathan (1755–1776) a US revolutionary. He was killed by the British for being a spy during the American Revolutionary War.

half [US hæf, GB ha:f] (pl halves) ◇ predet that is one of the two equal parts that an amount, object, distance etc can be divided into □ Just give me half a glass of wine. □ I'll be there in half an hour. □ She spends half the week in the city. ■ half a dozen six □ She bought half a dozen of them.

◇ adj I got it for half price. □ There are buses every half hour. □ a half chicken □ They serve half portions here if you ask them.

◇ adv -1. [closed, open, asleep] partly □ The bottle was half full/empty. □ I half expected her to say no. □ This meat's only half cooked! ■ to be half English, half French to have one English parent and one French parent. ■ half and half made with equal amounts of two things □ "How do you like your orange and soda?" — "Half and half, please." -2. [used in telling the time] it's half after ten US, it's half past ten GB it's 10:30.

◇ n -1. one of the two equal parts that an amount, object, distance etc can be divided into □ Profits were down in the first half of the year. ■ by half by half the full amount □ We had to reduce/increase the price by half. ■ in half into two equal parts □ Cut it in half and give a piece to your sister. ■ she doesn't do things by halves she always does things very thoroughly, and sometimes too thoroughly □ There's no point doing things by halves. ■ to go halves to each pay for half the cost of something □ You buy it, and I'll go halves with you □ Let's go halves on this. -2. SPORT [of a match] one of the two equal periods of time a sports match is divided into □ The score was even at the end of the first/second half. -3. GB TRANSPORT a ticket, usually for a child, that costs half the price of the normal fare □ One and two halves to Kew, please. -4. GB [of beer] a half pint of draught beer or lager.

◇ pron: I've eaten half of it. □ Half of us were late for the meeting.

half-and-half n US a mixture of cream and milk used in coffee.

halfback [US 'hæfbæk, GB 'ha:f-] n a midfield player in some sports, e.g. in football and rugby.

half-baked [-'beɪkt] adj [idea, project, opinion] that is silly because it has not been thought about carefully enough (informal use) □ Not another of his half-baked schemes.

half board n a type of accommodation at a hotel in which guests are given breakfast and an evening meal.

NOTE: Compare full board.

half-brother n a man or boy who shares only one of the same parents as another person.

half-caste▼ [US -kæst, GB -ka:st] (offensive use) ◇ n a person whose parents are of different races. ◇ adj [person] whose parents are of different races.

half cock n to go off half-cocked OR at half cock to happen without being fully planned or thought about carefully.

half-day n a day when a school, store, office etc is closed, either in the morning or in the afternoon □ We have half-days on Wednesdays.

half-fare n a reduced fare for a child traveling on a bus, train etc.

half-hearted [-'hɑ:ftəd] adj [support, attempt, smile] that shows very little interest or effort □ Somebody had made a rather half-hearted attempt at cleaning up.

half-heartedly [-'hɑ:ftədli] adv [support, attempt, smile] see half-hearted □ The audience clapped rather half-heartedly.

half hour n a period of thirty minutes □ You must take one pill every half hour.

◆ half-hour adj a half-hour trip/appointment etc a trip/an appointment etc that lasts half an hour □ It's a half-hour walk, no more.

half-hourly adj [visits, broadcasts] that happen every half hour □ We give him half-hourly feeds.

half-leaded petrol n AUS a type of gasoline that contains a reduced amount of lead and can be used by cars that cannot use unleaded gasoline.

half-length adj [portrait] that shows only the upper half of somebody; [coat, jacket] that covers only the upper half of somebody.

half-light n the half-light the dull light of early morning or evening, or of a room that is badly lit □ I could barely make him out in the half-light.

half-mast n to be (flying) at half-mast [flag] to be flying near the middle of the pole, as a sign of respect for a person who has died.

half measures npl actions that are not strong or complete enough to deal with a problem, difficult situation etc □ It's no use doing things by half measures.

half moon n -1. the part of the Moon that is seen from the Earth as the shape of half a circle. -2. the shape of half a circle.

half note n US MUSIC a note (♩) that lasts for half as long as a whole note.

halfpenny ['heɪpni] (pl halfpennies OR halfpence ['heɪpəns]) n in Britain, a small bronze coin used in the past that was worth one half of a penny.

half-price adj a half-price meal/ticket etc a meal/ticket etc that can be bought for half of the usual price □ This card entitles you to half-price train travel.

◆ half price adv [sell, buy, pay] We got it half price.

half-sister n a woman or girl who shares only one of the same parents as another person.

half step n US MUSIC the difference in pitch between any two notes that are next to each other on a piano.

half term n GB a short period in the middle of a school term when the school is closed □ a half-term holiday.

half time n in soccer, rugby etc, a short break for a rest between the two halves of a game or match □ The score was 2 - 1 at half time. □ the half-time score.

half tone n US = half step.

half-truth n a statement that contains some truth but is intended to deceive somebody by not including important details.

halfway [US ,hæf'weɪ, GB ,hɑ:f-] ◇ adj the halfway stage OR mark OR point the middle point of a distance or period of time. □ We're now at the halfway mark in the competition. ◇ adv -1. at the middle point of a distance or period of time □ New Haven is halfway between Boston and New York. □ I was halfway there/home before I realized. □ The movie was halfway through before he turned up. -2. phrase to meet sb halfway to agree to do part of what sb wants in order to reach an agreement, solve a problem etc □ Look, I'm prepared to meet you halfway on this.

half-wit n a person who one thinks is stupid □ What a complete half-wit!

half-yearly adj [profits, accounts, results] that are calculated six months after the beginning of a calendar year, tax year etc □ a half-yearly forecast.

◆ half yearly adv [calculate, assess] every six months □ our profits are calculated half yearly.

halibut ['hælibət] (pl halibut OR halibuts) n a large flat fish that lives in the sea and is eaten as food.

halitosis [hæli'toʊsəs] n the condition of having breath that smells unpleasant.

hall [hɔ:l] n -1. [in a house] the area or corridor that leads from the front door of a house to other rooms □ an entrance hall. -2. [for meetings, concerts, dances] a large room or building where many people can meet together for particular events □ a dining hall □ the church/school hall □ We've hired a hall for the party. □ Carnegie Hall. -3. GB EDUCATION = hall of residence. ■ to live in hall to live in a hall of residence. -4. GB a very large country house with a lot of land (used in names) □ Bizley Hall is open to the public.

halleluja(h) [hæli'lʊ:dʒə] excl a word used, especially in songs, to express praise and thanks to God.

hallmark ['hɔ:lmɑ:k] n -1. a very typical feature of somebody's work or way of behaving □ This bears all the hallmarks of a terrorist attack. -2. an official mark that is stamped on objects made of platinum, silver, or gold to show their origin, the quality of the metal etc □ a silver hallmark.

hallo [hə'lou] excl = hello.

Hall of Fame n US a building that contains information about the most famous people connected with a sport or activity.

hall of residence (pl halls of residence) n a building or buildings owned by a college or university, where students live.

hallowed ['hæləʊd] adj [building, memory] that is highly respected □ as we stepped into the hallowed halls of Trinity College.

Halloween, Hallowe'en [hælə'u:i:n] n the night of October 31, which was believed in the past to be the time when ghosts and witches could be seen, and when children of today wear disguises and play tricks on people.

🎃 HALLOWEEN

On October 31 in the USA, Britain, and Australia, children celebrate Halloween by dressing up as witches or ghosts and going from door to door asking "Trick or treat?" People have to give the children "treats", such as candy, otherwise the children play a "trick" on them, for example covering their windows with soap. Halloween is most popular in the USA, where many adults also dress up as witches, and some even go to work in their disguise.

hallucinate [hə'lʊ:sɪneɪt] vi to believe that one is seeing strange and frightening things that do not really exist, as a result of illness, taking drugs etc.

hallucination [hə'lʊ:sɪ'neɪʃn] n the experience of hallucinating; something that one sees when one hallucinates □ You can't convince me that this was a hallucination.

hallucinogenic [hə'lʊ:sɪnə'dʒenɪk] adj [drug, substance] that causes hallucinations.

hallway ['hɔ:lweɪ] n the area just inside the main entrance to a house or building □ Don't stand in the hallway, come in!

halo ['heɪləʊ] (pl haloes OR halos) n -1. a ring of light that is shown above or around the heads of saints, angels etc in paintings. -2. a bright circle of light above or around something □ a halo of light.

halogen ['hælədʒen] n any one of the elements astatine, bromine, chlorine, fluorine, or iodine □ a halogen lamp.

halt [hɔ:lt] ◇ n to come to a halt [car, train, person] to slow down and stop; [work, progress, meeting] to stop before being completed because of a problem □ All traffic in the city came to a complete halt. □ All building work came to a halt during the vacation. ■ to call a halt to sthg [to a dispute, negotiation, practice] to order sthg to stop □ Protests have forced the government to call a halt to further tests. ■ to grind to a halt [car, train, truck] to gradually and noisily slow down and stop; [economy, project, country] to gradually stop making progress because of great difficulty □ There was a loud bang and the engine slowly ground to a halt. □ Everything just seemed to grind to a halt because Pia wasn't there.

◇ vt [growth, activity, process] to stop <sthg> from continuing □ A solution must be found to halt the widespread smuggling of heroin into the country.

◇ vi [person, train, soldier] to stop moving or walking □ The car halted at the traffic lights.

halter ['hɔ:lɪtə] n a length of rope or band of leather that is put round a horse's head so that it can be led somewhere.

haltertop US, halterneck GB ['hɔ:lɪtə'nek] n a piece of clothing that is worn by a woman and is tied behind the neck with a narrow band of cloth, so that the shoulders, arms, and back are not covered □ a haltertop dress.

halting ['hɔ:lɪŋ] adj [voice, progress, explanation] that keeps stopping and starting, often because of uncertainty or lack of confidence □ He spoke in halting English.

halve [US hæv, GB hɜ:v] vt -1. [budget, time, price] to reduce <sthg> by half □ The new road will halve the time it takes to complete the journey. -2. [apple, cake, money] to divide <sthg> into two equal parts □ The two men agreed to halve the profits.

halves [US hævz, GB hɜ:vz] plural of half.

ham [hæm] (pt & pp hammed, cont hamming) ◇ n -1. COOKING meat from the upper part of a pig's leg that has been salted, smoked, or boiled □ a slice of ham □ roast ham □ a ham sandwich. -2. THEATER an actor or actress whose acting is exaggerated, with the result that it seems unnatural. -3. TECHNOLOGY a person who sends and receives radio messages using their own equipment. ◇ vt to ham it up [actor, actress] to perform with too much expression and movement □ I think they were hamming it up on purpose.

Hamburg ['hæmbɜ:g] an industrial city in northern Germany. It is Germany's main port, and an important commercial and cultural center. POPULATION: 1,626,220.

hamburger ['hæmbɜ:gə] n -1. a flat circle of ground beef that is cooked and served in a round bread roll, often with sauces and salad. -2. US ground or chopped meat.

ham-fisted [-'fɪstəd] adj GB [person] who one thinks is clumsy at doing things with their hands; who one thinks is not skillful at dealing with people □ He made a rather ham-fisted attempt at apologizing.

Hamilton ['hæmltən], Alexander (1757–1804) a US politician. He helped to write the US Constitution.

hamlet ['hæmlət] n a small village.

Hamlet ['hæmlət] the hero of Shakespeare's play Hamlet. He kills his uncle, who had killed his father, the King of Denmark, and married his mother.

hammer ['hæmə] ◇ n a tool with a long wooden handle and a heavy metal head, used especially for hitting nails into wood.

◇ vt -1. [nail, plank] to hit <sthg> with a hammer □ Make sure you hammer all the nails in straight. -2. [door, wall, table] to hit <sthg> loudly and with force several times, usually with one's hand and because one is angry or impatient □ He hammered the desk with his fist. -3. [opponent, team] to beat <sb/sthg> extremely easily (informal use) □ Did we lose? We were absolutely hammered!

◇ vi -1. [at a nail, plank] He was hammering (away) at that shelf. -2. [at a door, on a wall] He was hammering at the door, demanding to be let in. -3. to hammer away at sthg [at a problem, contract, agreement] to keep working hard at sthg □ Keep hammering away and you'll eventually get a job.

◆ hammer into vt sep to hammer sthg into sb [message, fact, importance] to repeat sthg several times to sb so that they will remember or learn it □ You have to keep hammering the message into these kids — drugs are dangerous.

◆ hammer out ◇ vt fus to hammer out sthg [agreement, policy, solution] to spend a long time discussing sthg and reach a final agreement □ We finally managed to hammer out an agreement. ◇ vt sep to hammer a dent/bump out to remove a dent/bump by hitting it with a hammer.

Hammerstein ['hæmə'steɪn], Oscar (1895–1960) a US songwriter. He worked with Richard Rodgers on musicals such as South Pacific, Oklahoma, and The Sound of Music.

Hammett ['hæmɪt], Dashiell (1894–1961) a US crime writer, the first to have a private detective as a hero. His work includes The Maltese Falcon.

hammock ['hæmək] n a large piece of cloth that is hung between two poles or trees and is used for lying in.

hamper ['hæmpə] ◇ n -1. [for food] a large basket with a lid and a handle that is used for carrying food, e.g. for a picnic □ a picnic hamper. -2. US [for clothes, washing] a large basket in which dirty clothes, towels, sheets etc are put before being washed. ◇ vt [progress, movement] to make <sthg> difficult □ The rescue attempt was hampered by wind and rain.

Hampshire ['hæmpʃə] a county in southern England, on the English Channel. SIZE: 3,777 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,542,900. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Winchester.

hamster ['hæmstə] n a small animal that looks like a mouse but has a short tail and stores food in its cheeks. Hamsters are often kept as pets.

hamstring ['hæmstrɪŋ] ◇ n a tendon at the back of one's knee that joins the muscles at the back of one's thigh to the bones below it □ He's suffering from a pulled hamstring. □ a hamstring injury. ◇ vt [person] to make it very difficult for <sb> to do something; [project, process] to stop <work> from making progress □ The company is hamstrung by staff shortages.

Hancock ['hæŋkɒk], John (1737–1793) a US revolutionary. He was the first person to sign the Declaration of Independence.

hand [hænd] ◇ n -1. the part of one's body that is at the end of one's arm, has four fingers and a thumb, and is used for holding things, picking them up, touching etc □ She held the pen/ring/letter in her hand. □ He led her forward by the hand. □ my left/right hand. ■ to hold hands with sb to hold sb's hand with one's own hand □ They sat holding hands in the back row. ■ by hand [sew, knit, make] using one's hands rather than a machine; [write] in handwriting and without using a typewriter or printer; [deliver, give] to somebody directly without using the postal system □ All our garments are finished by hand. □ Applications must be written by hand. □ This letter was delivered by hand yesterday. ■ hand in hand [walk, sit] holding hands, especially to show affection for each other □ They walked hand in hand down the street. ■ with one's bare hands without using a weapon or tool □ I'll kill him with my bare hands! -2. a hand help given to somebody to do a particular thing □ Do you need a hand? ■ to give OR lend sb a hand to help sb to do a particular thing □ I gave him a hand with his homework. □ Can I give you/lend a hand with those bags? -3. to have a problem on one's hands to have to deal with a problem □ Saira's got quite a lot on her hands right now. ■ in the hands of sb under the responsibility of sb □ It's all in Jenny's hands now. ■ to take sb in hand to take responsibility for controlling sb who has not been behaving correctly □ Somebody's got to take that child in hand before he gets into trouble. -4. the hand of sb the influence or participation of sb in an event or situation □ She could detect the hand of the Personnel Manager behind the suggestion. ■ to have a hand in sthg to be partly responsible for sthg □ I had no hand in arranging the meeting. -5. [on a farm, ship] a person whose job is to do general physical work □ a stable/factory hand. -6. [of a clock, watch] one of the long thin pieces of metal or plastic that move to indicate the hour, minutes, or seconds □ a clock hand □ the minute/hour hand. -7. in sb's hand in sb's handwriting □ She has an elegant hand. -8. CARDS the group of cards that one receives at the beginning of a game of cards □ a strong/weak hand. -9. phrases ■ at the hands of sb while under the control of sb □ They received terrible treatment at the hands of the enemy. ■ hands up! a phrase used by a person holding a gun to order somebody to raise their arms above their heads. ■ to change hands [car, company, house] to become the property of somebody else □ This car has already changed hands several times. ■ to force sb's hand to make sb do something they do not want to do or are not yet ready to do □ I would recommend that you wait a bit longer; don't try to force his hand. ■ to get OR lay one's hands on sb to catch sb and deal with them □ Wait till I get my hands on that little idiot! ■ to get OR lay one's hands on sthg to finally find or get sthg □ Where can I get my hands on a cheap used car? ■ to give sb a free hand to let sb do a particular thing in exactly the way they want □ They've given me a completely free hand to organize things the way I want. ■ to give sb a big hand [speaker, performer] to welcome or show one's approval of sb by clapping (informal use) □ Give a big hand for our special guest. ■ to go hand in hand with sthg to exist or happen together with sthg else, because of a very close connection with it □ Crime often goes hand in hand with poverty. ■ to have one's hands full to be very busy □ He has his hands full with the children and finishing his work in time. ■ to try one's hand at sthg to try sthg for the first time, especially when a particular skill is involved □ I've always wanted to try my hand at hang gliding. ■ to wait on sb hand and foot to serve sb everything they need and do everything for them (disapproving use). ■ to wash one's hands of sb/sthg to refuse to be responsible for or be connected with sb/sthg any longer □ I wash my hands of the whole lot of you!

◇ vt to hand sthg to sb, to hand sb sthg to give sthg to sb with one's hand □ He handed her the letter.

- ◆ (close) at hand adv very close □ Help/The wedding/The phone was close at hand.
- ◆ in hand adv -1. to have sthg in hand GB [time, money] to still have an amount of sthg available to be used □ There's no rush, we have two days in hand. -2. to have sthg in hand [problem, situation] to have sthg under control □ Matters are now well in hand.
- ◆ on hand adv near enough or ready to help or be used if necessary □ The police were on hand in case of trouble.
- ◆ on the other hand conj a phrase used to introduce a contrasting aspect of a subject □ This deal will increase revenue. On the other hand it will certainly mean losing valued clients.
- ◆ out of hand ◇ adj to get out of hand [situation, person] to become difficult to control □ The rioting soon got out of hand. □ They've let their kids get completely out of hand. ◇ adv [reject, dismiss] completely and immediately □ The appeal was rejected out of hand.
- ◆ to hand adv GB near and ready for use □ Do you have a phone directory to hand?
- ◆ hand down vt sep to hand sthg down [heirloom, knowledge, clothing] to give sthg to somebody who is younger or leave it to them after one has died □ The brooch had been handed down from generation to generation.
- ◆ hand in vt sep -1. to hand sthg in [wallet, book] to give or return sthg to somebody in authority so that it is safe □ Please hand in your key at reception before leaving the hotel. -2. to hand sthg in [essay, application] to give sthg to somebody in authority who will read it and make a decision about it □ I told him I was ready to hand in my resignation.
- ◆ hand on vt sep to hand sthg on [piece of clothing, memo, knowledge] to give sthg to somebody else because one has finished with it, no longer needs it etc □ It's time for me to hand on my job to someone new.

- ◆ hand out vt sep -1. to hand sth out [money, food, papers] to give sthg to each member of a group of people □ People were handing out leaflets to passers-by. -2. to hand sth out [advice, punishment] to give sthg to somebody, especially when one does this often □ Inspectors can now hand out fines to passengers traveling without a ticket.
- ◆ hand over ◇ vt sep -1. to hand sb/sthg over [prisoner, money, gun] to give sb/sthg to somebody else because one has been asked or forced to do so □ Hand over that book, it's mine! -2. to hand sth over [job, matter] to officially give sthg to somebody else to have or deal with □ He's now ready to hand over power to an interim government. -3. to hand sb over to let sb that one is speaking to speak to somebody else by handing them the receiver □ I'll hand you over to Sue. ◇ vi to give somebody else a job, responsibility etc that one has had □ We're handing over to the new directors next week.

handbag ['hændbæg] n a small bag in which a woman carries things that she needs during the day, e.g. money, make-up, or keys □ a leather handbag.

handball ['hændbɔ:l] n a game played by two teams of seven players with a goal at each end of the court. The ball has to be thrown or bounced but players cannot make more than three steps while they have the ball.

handbill ['hændbɪl] n a small printed advertisement that is given to people by hand.

handbook ['hændbʊk] n a short book that gives useful information and instructions about a particular subject or product.

handbrake ['hændbreɪk] n a brake in a car, truck etc which is worked with the hand.

handclap ['hændklæp] n a slow handclap GB slow clapping by an audience to show that it is waiting for something or not satisfied with something.

handcrafted [US 'hændkræftəd, GB -krɑ:ftəd] adj [sweater, pottery, toy] that is designed and made by hand rather than by a machine.

handcuff ['hændkʌf] vt [criminal, suspect] to put handcuffs on <sb>.

handcuffs ['hændkʌfs] npl two metal rings, joined by a chain, that are used by the police to hold a prisoner's wrists.

Handel ['hændl], George (1685–1759) a German composer who lived mainly in London. His works include the Water Music and the Messiah.

handful ['hændfl] n -1. [of sand, hair, rice] a quantity that can easily be held in one's hand □ He picked up a handful of stones. -2. [of people, places] a very small number □ Only a handful of companies have shown an interest in our product. -3. to be a handful [child, dog] to be lively and difficult to control (informal use) □ He's a real handful now that he's learnt to walk.

hand grenade n a small bomb designed to be thrown by hand.

handgun ['hændgʌn] n a small gun that can be fired using only one hand.

hand-held adj [tool, device] that one holds when using it □ a hand-held camera.

handicap ['hændɪkæp] (pt & pp handicapped, cont handicapping) ◇ n -1. damage to their mind or body that prevents a person from living a normal life □ a physical/mental handicap □ Sue, now eight, was born with a severe handicap. -2. a disadvantage that makes something more difficult □ His greatest handicap is his lack of confidence. □ Her car was stolen, which has been a handicap to her business. -3. SPORT [in a race] a disadvantage that is given to the stronger competitor or team to make the competition more equal; [in golf] the number of extra strokes one takes to complete one's home golf course, compared to the number of strokes that is needed by a good player □ The horse was running with a slight weight handicap. □ I'm trying to improve my handicap.

◇ vt [progress, work] to make <sth> more difficult to do or achieve; [person] to prevent <sb> from doing or achieving something easily □ Attempts at negotiating have been handicapped by continuing disturbances. □ Poor management has severely handicapped our company's progress.

handicapped ['hændɪkæpt] ◇ adj [person] who has a mental or physical handicap □ She is physically/mentally handicapped. ◇ npl the handicapped people who have a physical or mental handicap.

handicraft [US 'hændɪkræft, GB -krɑ:ft] n any skilled activity, e.g. sewing or pottery, in which one uses one's hands to make something.

◆ handicrafts npl things that have been made by somebody using their hands in a skilled way.

handiwork ['hændɪwɜ:k] n my/your etc handiwork something that I/you etc have done or made □ He stepped back from the canvas to admire his handiwork. □ The explosion looks like the handiwork of militant extremists.

handkerchief ['hæŋkətʃɪf] (pl handkerchiefs OR handkerchieves [-tʃi:vz]) n a square of thin cloth or soft paper, used for blowing one's nose, drying one's eyes etc.

handle ['hændl] ◇ n a part of an object that is used to hold, carry, or open it □ a door/knife/cup handle □ She grabbed the suitcase by the handle. ■ to fly off the handle to suddenly become angry about something □ Sometimes she'll just fly off the handle for no reason.

◇ vt -1. to hold, feel, or touch <sth> with one's hands □ Please do not handle the fruit. □ 'Handle with care.' -2. [car, horse] to be able to control  well; [gun, language] to know how to use  □ He looks as if he could handle himself in a fight. □ Have you ever handled this kind of machinery before? -3. [complaint, order] to be responsible for dealing with <sth>, especially on a regular basis □ Who handles the company's publicity? □

He's been accused of handling stolen goods.
 -4. [person, situation, crisis] to deal with <sb/ sthg> successfully so that a problem is avoided or solved □ You handled that very well.
 ◇ vi to handle well/badly [car, boat] to be easy/difficult to control.

handlebars ['hændlbɑːz] npl the part of a bicycle or motorbike that one holds in each hand to steer it.

handler ['hændlə] n [of dog] a person whose job is to control an animal □ a dog handler.

handling charges ['hændlɪŋ-] npl money charged by a bank for providing some services or by companies for packaging or transporting goods.

hand lotion n a lotion used on hands to keep them soft.

hand luggage n the small items of luggage that one is allowed to keep with one on a plane, coach etc.

handmade [ˌhændˈmeɪd] adj [clothes, furniture, ornament] made by hand, without using a machine □ a box of handmade chocolates.

hand-me-down n an item of clothing that has belonged to somebody and that they give to somebody else, especially a younger relative (informal use).

handout ['hændaʊt] n -1. a small amount of money, food, or clothing given free to poor people □ a free handout □ He lives on government handouts. -2. a piece of paper with a list of the points or facts that are dealt with in a class, meeting etc, given to each person taking part □ Did you get one of these handouts?

handover ['hændoʊvə] n [of power, responsibility] the act of transferring somebody or something from one person or organization to another □ The handover went very smoothly.

handpick [ˌhændˈpɪk] vt [team, staff] to choose <sb> very carefully as the best for a particular purpose □ He was handpicked for the mission.

handrail ['hændreɪl] n a long piece of metal or wood for people to hold on to, usually where there are several steps.

handset ['hændset] n the part of a telephone that one holds to speak into and to listen to □ 'Replace the handset after use.'

handshake ['hændʃeɪk] n the act of shaking somebody's right hand with one's own right hand to say hello or goodbye, or to confirm a deal □ He has a firm/limp handshake.

hands-off adj a hands-off approach/policy etc an approach/a policy etc that involves letting other people deal with situations or problems without interference □ a hands-off management style.

handsome ['hænsəm] adj -1. [man] who has a very attractive and masculine face. -2. [woman] who has an attractive face because it looks strong and healthy. -3. [reward, tip] that is large or generous □ a handsome profit.

handsomely ['hænsəmlɪ] adv [reward, pay] see handsome □ Those who work hard will be handsomely rewarded.

hands-on adj hands-on training/a hands-on approach etc training/an approach etc that involves practical use of equipment or methods □ She has a hands-on management style. □ We offer trainees plenty of hands-on experience with all the latest equipment.

handstand ['hændstænd] n a gymnastic exercise in which one holds one's body and legs straight up in the air and touches the floor only with one's hands.

hand-to-mouth adj to live a hand-to-mouth existence to have just enough money and food to live.

◆ hand to mouth adv: They live very much hand to mouth.

hand towel n a towel for drying one's hands after washing them.

handwriting ['hændraɪtɪŋ] n the particular way somebody writes □ I don't recognize this handwriting.

handwritten ['hændrɪtɪn] adj [letter, invitation, apology] that has been written by hand and not using a typewriter or printer.

handy ['hændɪ] (compar handier, superl handiest) adj (informal use) -1. [size, book, gadget] that is useful and convenient □ The microwave is so handy for preparing food quickly. ■ to come in handy [money, advice, tool] to be useful, especially at a particular time □ a few extra clothes might come in handy for the trip. -2. [person] who can do practical tasks well □ She's very handy with a needle/pair of shears. -3. [place, transport, person] very near and convenient to reach □ The office is handy for local stores. □ Bus services are very handy where we live. ■ to keep sthg handy to keep sthg in a place that is near and easy to reach.

handyman ['hændɪmæn] (pl handymen [-men]) n a person who is good at repairing things and doing other practical jobs around the house.

hang [hæŋ] (pt & pp sense 1 hung, sense 2 hanged OR hung) ◇ vt -1. [curtain, picture, towel] to put the top part of <sthg> on or against something that supports its weight and lets the bottom part move freely above the ground □ Where should I hang my coat? □ He hung his wet socks in front of the fire. □ Together they hung decorations on the tree. □ Try hanging it from the ceiling. -2. [criminal, prisoner] to kill <sb> by putting a rope around their neck and letting them fall, usually as a legal punishment for a serious crime □ the last woman to be hanged in Britain.

◇ vi -1. [curtain, picture, towel] A portrait of her father hung over the fireplace. □ A bare light bulb hung from the ceiling. -2. [criminal, prisoner] All four men have been sentenced to hang.

◇ n to get the hang of sthg [of a system, machine, activity] to begin to understand how to do sthg (informal use) □ I'm just about beginning to get the hang of it.

◆ hang about, hang around vi to stay in one place without doing anything, especially because one is waiting for someone or something □ After a while we got tired of hang- ing around and went home. □ There were a few bored teenagers hanging around outside the café.

◆ hang on ◇ vt fus to hang on sb/sthg to depend on sb/sthg □ The success of the peace initiative hangs on the willingness of both sides to cooperate. □ There's a lot hanging on the result. ◇ vi -1. to keep on holding something tightly in case one loses it or to keep one's balance □ He hung on tightly as the winch pulled him up toward the helicopter. -2. to wait for a short time (informal use) □ Hang on, I'll be with you in a minute.

◆ hang onto vt fus -1. to hang onto sthg [rope, ledge, branch] to hold sthg with one's hands and not let go □ Here, hang onto my arm. □ Hang onto your handbags, there are pickpockets around. -2. to hang onto sthg [onto power, money, belief] to try to keep sthg, especially because somebody is trying to take it away from one □ He was trying desperately to hang onto his job.

◆ hang out ◇ vt sep to hang out the washing to hang clean wet washing on a clothesline to dry. ◇ vi to spend time relaxing in a particular place (informal use) □ We just hung out at Mike's all day.

◆ hang round vi = hang about.

◆ hang together vi [parts of an explanation, argument, story] to be connected in a logical and convincing way □ Somehow her explanation of what happened just doesn't hang together.

◆ hang up ◇ vt sep to hang sthg up [coat, decorations] to hang sthg, especially from a hook or nail □ Hang up your clothes, don't leave them lying around on the floor! ◇ vi to end a telephone call by replacing the receiver □ He hung up as soon as he heard my voice.

◆ hang up on vt fus to hang up on sb to hang up when sb is talking, usually because one is angry □ Don't ever hang up on me again!

hangar ['hæŋə] n a large building where aircraft are kept or repaired □ an aircraft hangar.

hangdog ['hæŋdɒg] adj [expression, look] that makes somebody seem miserable or ashamed.

hanger ['hæŋə] n a shaped piece of metal, wood, or plastic used for hanging clothes on.

hanger-on (pl hangers-on) n a person who spends time with a richer or more important person or group, trying to be friendly in order to get things from them for free.

hang glider n a piece of equipment for gliding through the air that does not have an engine and consists of a large frame covered in cloth with a harness underneath for the pilot.

hang gliding n the sport of flying a hang glider.

hanging ['hæŋɪŋ] n -1. the form of punishment in which a criminal is killed by being hanged; a death caused by this punishment □ A minority of people are in favor of hanging. □ A crowd gathered to watch the hanging. -2. a piece of cloth such as a curtain that is hung on a wall or at a window as a decoration □ a wall hanging.

hangman ['hæŋmən] (pl hangmen [-mən]) n a man whose job is to hang criminals.

hangover ['hæŋəʊvə] n -1. [after drinking] a bad headache and feeling of sickness that somebody has the day after drinking too much alcohol □ I woke up with an awful hangover. -2. [from the past] something that remains or results from a practice, event, or situation in the past □ a hangover from the past.

Hang Seng [,hæŋ'seŋ] n the Hang Seng (Index) the average of the current price of shares on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange.

hang-up n something, e.g. an activity or a personal physical feature, that makes one worry too much (informal use) □ She's got a hang-up about her looks/going to the dentist.

hank [hæŋk] n a long piece of wool, string, or rope that has been loosely wound into several loops.

hanker ['hæŋkə] ◆ hanker after, hanker for vt fus to hanker after OR for sthg to continuously think about having sthg that one wants or misses □ Those days are gone and there's no point hankering after them.

hankering ['hæŋkəɪɪŋ] n to have a hankering after OR for sthg [for foreign travel, new clothes, success] to have a constant wish for sthg, especially when one cannot have it.

hankie, hanky ['hæŋki] (pl hankies) n = handkerchief (informal use).

hanky-panky [-'pæŋki] n behavior involving or suggesting sexual activity between two people (informal and humorous use).

Hanoi [hæ'noɪ] the capital city of Vietnam. POPULATION: 3,100,000.

Hansard ['hænsɑ:'d] n the official written report of what is said and decided by the British parliament.

Hants abbr of Hampshire.

haphazard [,hæp'hæzə'd] adj [arrangement, distribution, guess] not exact or planned □ He has a very haphazard way of doing things.

haphazardly [,hæp'hæzə'dli] adv [arrange, distribute, guess] see haphazard □ Clothes were scattered haphazardly all over the floor.

hapless ['hæpləs] adj [person] unfortunate (literary use) □ The snake crushes its hapless victim to death.

happen ['hæpən] vi -1. [accident, change, mistake] to take place □ What happened next? □ Make sure it doesn't happen again. ■ to happen to sb/sthg to take place and have an effect on sb/sthg □ I'm afraid something awful has happened to him. □ What's happened to your hand? -2. to happen to do sthg to do sthg by chance □ She happened to meet him in the bar. □ Do you happen to know the way to the post office? ■ as it happens a phrase used to show that what is being said is rather surprising □ We've met before, as it happens. □ As it happened, we were on the same flight to Milan.

happening ['hæpənɪŋ] n an event.

happily ['hæpəli] adv -1. [laugh, talk, play] in a happy way □ They are happily married. □ We were happily driving along when suddenly the engine started smoking. -2. happily,... fortunately happiness ['hæpɪnəs] n the state of being satisfied or pleased □ a feeling of happiness □ I wish you health and happiness.

□ Happily, no one was hurt. -3. [help, come, stay] willingly □ I'd happily go with you, but I'm busy that night.

happy ['hæpi] (compar happier, superl happiest) adj -1. [person] who feels or shows satisfaction or pleasure; [smile, face] that shows satisfaction or pleasure □ She looked so happy when I told her. -2. [day, story] that makes somebody feel satisfied or pleased □ a movie with a happy ending □ They had a very happy marriage. ■ Happy Christmas/New Year/Birthday the words used to express the wish that somebody has a pleasant Christmas/New Year/birthday. -3. [customer, staff] who is satisfied with the way things are □ Nick is happy at school/in his job. □ She's not very happy about the new arrangement. ■ to be happy with OR about sthg [with a decision, situation, result] to be satisfied with sthg □ Are you happy with your new secretary? -4. [chance, coincidence, choice] fortunate (formal use). -5. to be happy to do sthg to be willing to do sthg □ I'd be happy to help.

happy event n the birth of a child (informal and humorous use) □ And when can we expect this happy event?

happy-go-lucky adj [person] who is cheerful and not affected by worries about the future □ He's just an easy-going, happy-go-lucky kind of guy.

happy hour n a time, usually early in the evening, when a bar sells alcoholic drinks at reduced prices (informal use).

happy medium n to find OR strike a happy medium to do something in a way that is not too extreme, or that provides a balance between two different things □ We're trying to strike a happy medium between saving money and compromising on quality.

harangue [hə'reɪŋ] ◇ n a long and often angry speech that somebody gives on a subject they feel strongly about, especially when they want to make people agree with them or do something they want. ◇ vt [troops, staff] to give a harangue to <sb>.

harass [US hə'ræs, GB 'hærəs] vt to trouble <sb> by repeatedly asking questions, causing problems, or making comments about sex □ Mrs Ewart complained she was sexually harassed by her boss.

harassed [US 'herəst, GB 'hær-] adj [person] who has a lot of problems and looks worried and unhappy □ a harassed expression/reply.

harassment [US 'herəsmənt, GB 'hær-] n: see harass □ police/racial/sexual harassment.

harbinger ['hɑ:'bɪndʒə] n [of war, doom, a crisis] a warning or sign that something, often something unpleasant or important, is going to happen soon (literary use).

harbor US, harbour GB ['hɑ:'bɔ:] ◇ n an area of water on the coast, sheltered from the sea, where boats can be loaded and unloaded. ◇ vt -1. [doubt, misgiving, ambition] to have <sthg> in one's mind for a long time, especially without showing it □ She's harbored a grudge against me since we were at school. -2. [refugee, criminal] to keep <sb> secretly in one's house, especially if they are hiding from the police.

harbor master n the official in charge of a harbor.

hard [hɑ:'d] ◇ adj -1. [bed, ground, surface] that is not soft and does not change its shape when something presses on or against it; [food] that is difficult to chew or bite because it is not soft enough □ marine animals with hard shells □ hard candy □ The bread had gone hard. -2. [exam, question] difficult □ It's hard to believe. □ You're a hard man to please. □ He learned about life the hard way. -3. [work, job, day] that requires effort and is tiring □ She's intelligent and also a very hard worker. □ I had a very hard day at the office. -4. [push, kick] that has a lot of force □ She gave him a hard slap in the face. -5. [person, comment] that shows no kindness □ There was a hard edge to her voice. ■ to be hard on sb/sthg to treat sb/sthg in a severe way □ Don't be too hard on her, she's very young. □ All this walking is very hard on the feet. -6. [life, time] unpleasant and difficult □ These are hard times for the aircraft industry. -7. [winter, frost] very cold and severe □ It was a hard winter, and many of the animals died. -8. [water] that contains a lot of lime and so leaves a white substance inside water pipes and kettles, and stops soap from making a lot of bubbles. -9. [news, fact, evidence] that is true and can be shown to be true □ We need some hard evidence to support our claim. -10. GB POLITICS the hard left/right the extremists in the Labour/Conservative party □ He is facing opposition from politicians on the hard right of the party.

◇ adv -1. [try, work] with a lot of effort □ He ran as hard as he could. □ He thought hard before answering. □ She looked at him long and hard. -2. [push, kick] with a lot of force □ He was hit hard in the stomach. -3. [rain, snow] heavily □ Outside, it was raining hard. -4. [bake, set] until it is hard □ The glue had set hard. -5. phrases to be hard pushed OR pressed to do sthg to be unlikely to do sthg, because of difficulty or a lack of time □ We'll be hard pressed to finish the job by Friday. ■ to feel hard done by to feel as though one has been treated unfairly □ He always feels hard done by.

hard-and-fast adj a hard-and-fast rule a fixed rule.

hardback ['hɑ:'dbæk] ◇ adj [book, edition, copy] that has a strong hard cover. ◇ n a hardback book □ Is it available in hardback?

NOTE: Compare paperback.

hard-bitten adj [businessman, journalist] who is not kind because they have had a hard career and are determined to succeed.

hardboard ['hɑ:'dbɔ:'d] n a kind of board that bends slightly, made of very small pieces of wood pressed into thin sheets □ a piece of hardboard.

hard-boiled adj -1. [egg] that has been boiled until the yolk is hard. -2. [person] who does not show their feelings, especially because they have had a hard life.

hard cash n money in the form of bills and coins.

hard cider n US apple juice that has been fermented to become alcoholic.

hard copy n information that is printed from a computer onto paper instead of being kept on a disk.

hard-core adj [pornography] that shows or describes sexual acts in a detailed and unpleasant way; [magazine, video] that contains this kind of pornography.

◆ hard core n the members of a political party or a group who are the most active or who do not want anything to change □ We have a hard core of about 200 members.

hard court n a tennis court made of clay or concrete rather than grass.

hard currency n a kind of money that is likely to keep its value and can be exchanged between countries.

hard disk n the device inside a computer, that is used to store large amounts of information □ I saved it on the hard disk. □ How much hard disk space does your computer have?
NOTE: Compare floppy (disk).

hard drugs npl drugs, e.g. heroin or cocaine, that are thought to be dangerous and addictive.

NOTE: Compare soft drugs.

harden ['hɑ:dn] ◇ vt -1. [concrete, glue] to make <sthg> become hard □ The heat hardens the clay. -2. [person] to make <sb> hard □ His years in the army had hardened him. -3. [attitude, opinion, view] to make <sthg> stronger □ The public's attitude has been hardened by repeated cases of corruption. ◇ vi -1. [concrete, glue] to become hard □ The earth had dried and hardened in the sun. -2. [person] to become hard □ Her heart gradually hardened against him. -3. [attitude, opinion, view] to grow stronger □ Opposition to federalism has hardened in recent months.

hardened ['hɑ:dnd] adj [person] who has experienced something for so long that it no longer has an effect on them □ a hardened criminal □ She became hardened to their taunts.

hardening ['hɑ:dniŋ] n: see harden □ The statement reflects the hardening of US opinion on the issue.

hard hat n a strong hard hat which workmen and horse riders wear to protect their heads.

hardheaded [,hɑ:d'hedəd] adj [person] who is practical and determined and does not allow their emotions to affect their actions □ a hardheaded approach/decision.

hard-hearted [-'hɑ:təd] adj [person] who is not kind or sympathetic to other people and does not care about their feelings □ How can you be so hard-hearted?

hard-hitting [-'hi:tiŋ] adj [report, account] that contains strong opinions and makes people think carefully about something □ a hard-hitting documentary about government corruption.

Harding ['hɑ:'diŋ], Warren G. (1865–1923) US President from 1921 to 1923.

hard labor n a form of punishment which makes criminals do hard work, e.g. digging or building, while they are in prison □ He was sentenced to three years' hard labor.

hard line n to take a hard line on sthg to have a fixed opinion and way of dealing with sthg □ He takes a hard line on under-age drinking.

◆ hard-line adj [Communist, separatist] who has fixed and often extreme views on a subject, and is unlikely to change them □ The USA is taking a hard-line stance on immigration.

hard-liner n a person who has fixed and often extreme views, usually about politics.

hardly ['hɑ:'dli] adv -1. almost not □ I hardly care what happens now. □ You can hardly expect him to come now, can you? ■ hardly ever/anything almost never/nothing □ I hardly ever go to the movies. □ I've hardly eaten a thing all day. -2. a word used to show that one thing happens very soon after another, often in an unexpected way □ We'd hardly left the theater when it started to snow.

hardness ['hɑ:'dnəs] n [of water, a bed, person] see hard.

hard-nosed [-'nəuzd] adj [businessman, approach] that is practical, determined, and not kind to other people.

hard sell n to give sb the hard sell to try to make sb buy something by putting a lot of pressure on them.

hardship ['hɑ:'dʃɪp] n a difficult or unpleasant situation that is often caused by a lack of money □ The family suffered financial hardship.

hard shoulder n the area at the edge of a highway where drivers can stop in an emergency □ 'Please use hard shoulder.'

hard up adj (informal use) to be hard up to have very little money. ■ to be hard up for sthg to be in need of sthg □ We're always hard up for volunteers.

hardware ['hɑ:'dweə] n -1. a collective term for tools or equipment, e.g. saucepans, hammers, or nails, sold for use in the home and garden. -2. COMPUTING the machinery that is part of a computer, rather than the programs the computer can operate.

NOTE: Compare software.

hardware store n US a store where hardware for the home is sold.

hardwearing [,hɑ:'d'weəriŋ] adj GB [shoes, clothes] that can last a long time, even if they are used often □ a hardwearing carpet.

hardwood ['hɑ:'dwud] n hard, strong, heavy wood, e.g. teak or mahogany, that is used to make good-quality furniture that will last a long time □ a hardwood table.

hardworking [,hɑ:'d'wɜ:'kiŋ] adj [pupil, employee] who works hard □ Laura is a diligent and hardworking student.

hardy ['hɑ:'di] (compar hardier, superl hardest) adj -1. [person, animal] that is strong and healthy, even under difficult conditions, e.g. lack of food, sleep, or warmth □ Even the har- diest of climbers would have found this difficult.

-2. [plant] that can live outside during the winter □ a hardy annual.

hare [heə] ◇ n an animal like a large rabbit that has long ears and powerful back legs and can run very fast. ◇ vi GB to hare off to move away very quickly.

harebell ['heə'bel] n a plant with thin stems and blue flowers that are shaped like bells.

harebrained ['heə'breɪnd] adj [person, scheme, idea] silly and impractical □ They've got some harebrained scheme about going off to Morocco for the weekend.

harelip [,heə'fɪlɪp] n a break in the top lip, which some babies are born with, and which can usually be repaired by an operation.

harem [US 'hærəm, GB hæ:'ri:m] n the part of a Muslim house where the women live and which only certain men are allowed to enter; the women who live in this place.

haricot (bean) [US 'herikou-, GB 'hær-] n a small white bean, usually sold in a dried form, that can be cooked and eaten.

hark [hɑ:'k] vi to hark back to sthg [to one's schooldays, youth] to talk or think about sthg which happened in the past; [to an era, style] to be similar to sthg from the past □ I was harking back to my time in the army. □ The movie harks back to the days of the great Hollywood musicals.

Harlem ['hɑ:'ləm] an area of northeastern Manhattan, New York City, with a large Black and Hispanic community.

harlequin ['hɑ:'ləkwɪn] n in the past, a humorous character in plays who usually wore clothes with a diamond pattern in many colors and a black mask.

Harley Street ['hɑ:'fɪ-] a street in central London where there are many expensive private doctors and medical clinics □ a Harley Street doctor/clinic.

harm [hɑ:'m] ◇ n [to a person, animal] physical or psychological damage; [to a plant, sb's reputation, clothes] damage. ■ to do harm to sb/sthg, to do sb/sthg harm to affect sb/sthg badly □ It could do you more harm than good. □ No harm done. ■ to mean no harm to have no intention of hurting somebody or damaging something because of what one does □ Ignore his teasing, he means no harm by it. ■ there's no harm in it it will not hurt anybody or cause any damage □ There's no harm in having a look. □ Where's the harm in that? ■ to be out of harm's way [person, animal, object] to be safe □ I've put the glass stuff out of harm's way for the party. ■ to come to no harm to suffer no injury during an event or experience □ Do what I say and you won't come to any harm.
 ◇ vt [person, animal] to hurt <sb/sthg> physically or psychologically; [reputation, clothes] to damage <sthg> □ I would never want to harm you/our relationship. □ It remains to be seen whether their comments will harm the peace process.

harmful ['hɑ:'mfɪl] adj [substance, drug, effect] that can cause physical or psychological harm □ Drinking and smoking during pregnancy are harmful to your baby.

harmless ['hɑ:'mləs] adj [animal, person, substance] that does not cause harm □ It was just harmless fun.

harmlessly ['hɑ:'mləsli] adv [fall, explode] without causing harm □ The bomb exploded harmlessly in the ocean.

harmonic [hɑ:'mɒnɪk] adj [quality, effect] that is caused by two or more notes being played or sung together to make a pleasant sound.

harmonica [hɑ:'mɒnɪkə] n a small musical instrument that is moved from side to side across one's lips and blown or sucked to make a sound.

harmonious [hɑ:'mɒnjəs] adj -1. [relationship, meeting] peaceful and pleasant □ policies for a more caring harmonious society. -2. MUSIC [notes, sounds] that sound pleasant when heard together □ a very harmonious tune. -3. [effect, building, layout] that is made up of parts that fit together well to make something that looks good or works □ The design of the house is a harmonious blend of old and new.

harmonium [hɑ:'mɒnjəm] (pl harmoniums) n a musical instrument that has keys and pedals like a piano and is worked by air that is pumped through it.

harmonize, -ise ['hɑ:'mənəɪz] ◇ vt [policies, styles, approaches] to join <two or more things> so that they go well together □ Inflation rates must be harmonized before economic integration can occur. ◇ vi -1. [sounds, colors, methods] to go well together. ■ to harmonize with sthg to go well with sthg □ The new gallery was designed to harmonize with the surrounding buildings. -2. MUSIC to sing in harmony with a piece of music.

harmony ['hɑ:'məni] (pl harmonies) n -1. [between people, animals, organizations] a state of peaceful agreement □ racial harmony □ The two peoples had lived together in harmony for generations. ■ to be in harmony with sthg to have the same qualities or ideas as sthg □ Her novels were not in harmony with the attitudes of her time. -2. MUSIC notes sung or played together to make a pleasant sound □ two voices singing in harmony. -3. [of proportions, colors, a building] the pleasant effect produced by two or more things, or the parts of something, which go together well to make a single thing □ a certain lack of harmony in the design of the building.

harness ['hɑ:'nəs] ◇ n -1. [for a horse] the pieces of leather and metal put on a horse in order to control it or fasten it to a vehicle. -2. [for a person, child] the set of bands used to attach somebody to a seat, parachute etc □ a safety harness □ a children's harness. ◇ vt -1. to attach a harness or vehicle to . -2. [energy, power, skills] to make good practical use of <sthg> □ Man is now able to harness the power of the sun and the winds.

harp [hɑ:'p] n a large musical instrument with strings which run from the top to the bottom of a frame and which are plucked to make a sound.

◆ harp on vi to harp on about sthg to talk about sthg very often, in an annoying way □ For goodness sake, stop harping on about it!

harpist ['hɑ:ˈpɛst] n a person who plays the harp.

harpoon [hɑ:ˈpu:n] ◇ n a large spear attached to a rope, used to kill large creatures that live in the sea. ◇ vt [whale, shark] to fire or push a harpoon into <an animal>.

harpichord ['hɑ:ˈpsɪkɔ:ˈd] n a musical instrument that was an early form of the piano and that was popular in the 17th and 18th centuries.

harrowing [US 'herouɪŋ, GB 'hær-] adj [experience, report, story] that is very unpleasant and upsetting because somebody involved suffers □ We had a pretty harrowing trip here.

harry [US 'herɪ, GB 'hæri] (vt & pp harried) vt -1. [person] to put pressure on <sb> so that they become annoyed or anxious □ The landlord was harrying them for the rent. -2. MILITARY [enemy, troops] to keep attacking  □ Fighter planes continually harried supply lines.

harsh [hɑ:ˈʃ] adj -1. [life, existence, reality] severe and unpleasant; [punishment, criticism, person, measures] unfairly severe □ I think you're being too harsh on him. -2. [weather, conditions] that is unpleasant and difficult to deal with □ Very few animals can survive in this harsh climate. -3. [cry, breathing, voice] that is unpleasant to hear because it is loud, forced, or rough □ an ugly harsh laugh. -4. [color, contrast, light] that is very strong and unpleasant to the eyes □ The harsh sunlight made her blink. -5. [terrain] extreme and difficult to travel across or live in. -6. [taste, flavor, smell] strong and unpleasant □ It tasted bitter and harsh.

harshly ['hɑ:ˈʃli] adv [punish, cry, shine] see harsh □ We mustn't judge her too harshly.

harshness ['hɑ:ˈʃnəs] n: see harsh □ Her voice had lost something of its harshness. □ the harshness of an Arctic winter.

harvest ['hɑ:ˈvɪst] ◇ n -1. the act of picking crops at the end of a growing season □ at harvest time. -2. the crops that have been picked at the end of a particular growing season □ a good/bad harvest. ◇ vt [corn, wheat, grapes] to pick <all of a crop> and put it somewhere safe □ The fruit is harvested in late summer.

harvest festival n a Christian celebration that takes place in churches and some schools to thank God for the harvest.

has [stressed hæz, unstressed həz] vb → have.

has-been n a person or thing that is no longer as popular or successful as they were in the past (informal and disapproving use) □ Face it, Gloria, you're a has-been!

hash [hæʃ] n -1. COOKING small pieces of cooked meat served in a sauce □ beef hash. -2. to make a hash of sthg to do sthg badly and unsuccessfully (informal use) □ I'm sorry, I seem to have made a real hash of things. -3. hashish (informal use).

hash browns npl potatoes cut into small pieces, shaped into round pieces, and fried in oil until they are brown.

hashish ['hæʃɪ:ʃ] n a drug, made from the leaves of the cannabis plant, which is smoked and is illegal in many countries.

hasn't ['hæznt] = has not.

hassle ['hæsl] (informal use) ◇ n something that is annoying or difficult and causes a lot of extra work □ They gave us a lot of hassle at customs. ◇ vt to annoy <sb>, especially by trying to make them do something □ She's always hassling me to stop smoking.

haste [heɪst] n -1. rush. ■ to do sthg in haste to do sthg quickly, often with bad results □ In his haste to leave, he dropped the precious envelope on the ground. -2. speed. ■ to make haste to hurry (old-fashioned use).

hasten ['heɪsn] (formal use) ◇ vt [end, downfall, development] to make <sthg> happen more quickly □ Her drinking served merely to hasten her death. ◇ vi to hurry □ They hastened to close the windows. □ It wasn't me, I hasten to add.

hastily ['heɪstəli] adv -1. [discuss, decide] too quickly, so that something may go wrong later □ The bridge was rather hastily built. -2. [eat, dress, wash] quickly □ "At least, so I've heard," he added hastily.

hasty ['heɪsti] (compar hastier, superl hastiest) adj -1. [decision, judgment] that is made too quickly and often has bad results; [person] who does something too quickly, without considering something carefully □ We mustn't be too hasty. -2. [meal, letter] that is eaten, written etc quickly because there is not much time □ Hasty preparations were being made for the visit.

hat [hæt] n an item of clothing that is worn on one's head and often has a section around the bottom that sticks outward. ■ keep it under your hat keep it a secret (informal use). ■ to be talking through one's hat to be talking nonsense (informal use). ■ to be old hat to be so well-known that it has become boring and old-fashioned (informal use) □ Violence on TV? Oh, come on now, that's old hat!

hatbox ['hætbɒks] n a round box for carrying and storing a hat.

hatch [hætʃ] ◇ vt -1. [bird] to sit on <an egg> until it breaks open and a baby bird comes out □ The mother sits on the eggs to hatch her chicks. -2. FARMING to make  come out of its shell at the right time □ The eggs are hatched in an incubator. -3. [person] to make  etc in secret □ They're hatching some kind of plot, I can tell. ◇ vi [chick, animal, insect] to come out of an egg; [egg] to be broken open when a baby bird, animal, or insect is born. ◇ n an opening in a wall, usually between the kitchen and the dining room, through which food and dishes are passed □ a serving hatch.

hatchback [ˈhætʃbæk] n a car with an extra door at the back which opens upwards.

hatchet [ˈhætʃət] n a small ax with a short handle, used for chopping wood. ■ to bury the hatchet to become friendly again after a quarrel, especially one a long time ago □ What do you say we bury the hatchet and be friends again?

hatchet job n to do a hatchet job on sb/sth to say or write very cruel things about sb/sth (informal use).

hatchway [ˈhætʃweɪ] n an opening in a wall, floor, or ceiling, especially on a ship, through which people and things can pass.

hate [heit] ◇ n a feeling of very strong dislike □ You could hear the hate in his voice. ◇ vt -1. [person, violence, rudeness] to dislike <sb/sthg> very much □ I hate you! □ He's the country's most hated man. -2. [food, activity, situation] to find <sthg> unpleasant and undesirable □ I hate going to the dentist's. □ I hate to tell you, but you forgot to save that file. □ She hates it when her parents argue.

hateful [ˈheitfl] adj [person, job, remark] very unpleasant □ That was a hateful thing to say.

hate mail n unkind letters sent to somebody by a person who dislikes them □ We've been receiving hate mail again.

hatred [ˈheitrəd] n a feeling of very strong dislike □ He had an intense hatred of the police. □ a feeling of hatred.

hat trick n SPORT [in soccer, hockey] three goals scored by one person in one game.

haughty [ˈhɔ:ti] (compar haughtier, superl haughtiest) adj [person] who shows a feeling of superiority and a low opinion of other people □ a haughty tone of voice.

haul [hɔ:l] ◇ n -1. an amount of stolen goods □ The gang got away with a huge haul of stolen jewels. -2. a long haul a long difficult trip or process □ It was a long haul up to the summit. □ the long haul towards democracy. ◇ vt -1. [rope, bag, log] to move <sthg> with a lot of effort in a particular direction by pulling it, lifting it etc □ She hauled the suitcase into the car. □ Ben hauled himself to his feet. -2. [goods] to transport <sthg> by truck over a long distance.

haulage [ˈhɔ:lɪdʒ] n the business, activity, or cost of transporting goods by road □ haulage costs.

haulage contractor n a person or company that transports goods by road.

hauler [ˈhɔ:lɪr] US, haulier [ˈhɔ:lɪə] GB n -1. a business that transports goods by truck; a person who runs this kind of business □ a firm of road haulers. -2. a driver who transports goods by truck.

haunch [hɔ:ntʃ] n the hip, buttock, and top part of the leg on one side of a person's or animal's body.

haunt [hɔ:nt] ◇ n a place that somebody visits often □ The club was one of his favorite haunts. ◇ vt -1. [ghost] to visit  in the form of a ghost □ He claimed that his father had come back to haunt him. -2. [memory, fear] to return often to the thoughts of <sb> □ He is haunted by the past.

haunted [ˈhɔ:ntəd] adj -1. [house, castle] where a ghost or ghosts can be seen or heard □ They say this house is haunted. -2. [look, expression] worried □ Brian developed a kind of permanently haunted look.

haunting [ˈhɔ:ntɪŋ] adj [tune, image, memory] that is so beautiful or sad that one remembers it for a long time □ the haunting melody of the solo violin.

Havana [həˈvænə] the capital of Cuba and its largest city. POPULATION: 1,925,000.

have [hæv] (pt & pp had) ◇ aux vb -1. used to form the past tenses of verbs □ I have been ill. □ We had gone to bed early that evening. □ They will have forgotten all about it by next week. □ If I'd known, I wouldn't have said anything. -2. used in question tags □ She hasn't left yet, has she? □ "You've told him, haven't you?" — "Yes, I have."

◇ vt -1. used to describe things or qualities that are owned by somebody, or are part of their appearance, way of life etc □ They have a lot of friends/money. □ He had dark hair and brown eyes. □ We don't have a car/dishwasher. -2. to have a swim/shower/nap to swim/shower/nap (used to describe actions) □ Let's not have an argument about it. □ Why don't we have a party? ■ to have a sandwich/beer to eat a sandwich/drink a beer (used instead of more specific verbs) □ Let's have something to eat! -3. to have cancer/the flu to be ill with cancer/the flu □ I have a terrible headache. -4. to have a baby to give birth to a baby. ■ to be having a baby to be pregnant. -5. to be sent or told <sthg> □ Have you had any news yet? □ I had a phone call from John. -6. to have sthg done to employ somebody to do sthg for one □ I'm having the outside of the house painted. □ I have my hair cut once a month. -7. I had my car stolen my car was stolen (used to describe something unpleasant that happens to one). -8. to have sthg to do to have sthg that must be done or that one is responsible for □ We have a deadline to meet. □ She had a large family to feed. □ I'll come with you. I don't have anything to do today. -9. it has to do with money it involves money □ All this has nothing to do with you. -10. phrases you've been had! you have been cheated or tricked. ■ it's had it [car, machine, dress] it is too old or worn-out to be usable □ These shoes have really had it. ■ I won't have it! I won't allow it □ I won't have you going out dressed like that! ■ to have it in for sb to dislike sb and try to find ways to treat them badly □ He really has it in for you!

◇ modal vb to have to do sthg to be forced to do sthg because of reasons one cannot control □ Did you have to wait long? □ I might have to leave work early today. ■ he doesn't have to come it is not necessary for him to come □ I told him I'd have to think about it.

◆ haves npl the haves and the have-nots the rich and the poor people in society.

◆ have on vt sep -1. to have sthg on [dress, shoes] to be wearing sthg □ Don't come in, I have nothing on! □ She had on a pair of gold ear- rings. -2. to have a lot on/nothing on to be busy/not busy □ I don't have much on this weekend, so why not come around for a meal?

-3. you're having me on! you're teasing me! (informal use).

◆ have out vt sep -1. to have one's tonsils/appendix out to have one's tonsils/appendix taken out of one's body by a doctor because they are making one ill □ Have you had your wisdom teeth out? -2. to have it out with sb to have a frank and thorough discussion with sb in order to end a disagreement or misunderstanding that has existed □ I'm determined to have it out with him once and for all.

haven ['heɪvən] n a peaceful and safe place □ The refugees were just looking for some kind of haven over the border.

haven't ['hævnt] = have not.

haversack ['hævə'sæk] n GB a canvas bag, usually carried over one shoulder by a hiker, soldier etc.

havoc ['hævək] n disorder, confusion, and damage □ There was havoc as everybody stampeded for the doors. □ scenes of sheer havoc. ■ to play havoc with sthg to cause a lot of problems and confusion for sthg □ The weather is playing havoc with flight departures again.

Hawaii [hə'waɪi:] a state of the USA consisting of a group of islands in the central Pacific Ocean. ABBREVIATION: HI. SIZE: 16,600 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,108,229 (Hawaiians). CAPITAL: Honolulu.

Hawaiian [hə'waɪən] n & adj: see Hawaii.

hawk [hɔ:k] ◇ n -1. one of several types of large birds of prey with very good eyesight. ■ to watch sb like a hawk to watch sb very carefully □ You have to watch those kids like a hawk! -2. POLITICS a person who supports the use of force when dealing with other countries, especially in order to settle disputes □ the hawks in the Pentagon. ◇ vt to try to sell <sthg> by offering it to different people, e.g. in the street or by visiting their homes.

hawker ['hɔ:kə] n a person who stands in the street or goes from house to house hawking goods.

Hawksmoor ['hɔ:ksmʊə], Nicholas (1661–1736) a British architect who designed many churches in London.

hawthorn ['hɔ:θɔ:ɪn] n a small tree with red or white flowers, thorns, and red berries.

Hawthorne ['hɔ:θɔ:ɪn], Nathaniel (1804–1864) a US writer of novels and short stories. His work includes The Scarlet Letter and The House of the Seven Gables.

hay [heɪ] n grass that has been cut and dried to be used for feeding animals □ a bale of hay. ■ to make hay while the sun shines to enjoy or take advantage of a situation as much as possible before it ends.

hay fever n a medical condition caused by an allergy to pollen that causes irritation to the eyes, nose, and throat, and makes people sneeze a lot.

haymaking ['heɪmeɪkɪŋ] n the process of cutting and drying grass to make hay □ the hay-making season.

haystack ['heɪstæk] n a large pile of cut hay.

haywire ['heɪwaɪə] adj to go haywire [plan, machine, system] to become disordered, confused, or out of control □ Suddenly the dials went haywire.

hazard ['hæzəd] ◇ n something that could be dangerous to somebody or something □ The wreck is or poses a hazard to other ships. □ a health hazard. ◇ vt -1. to put <sb's life, health, reputation> etc in a situation that might be dangerous or harmful. -2. to hazard a guess to make a guess □ If I were to hazard a guess, I'd say there were 60 of them.

hazardous ['hæzədəs] adj [venture, waste] dangerous.

hazard (warning) lights npl the indicators on a motor vehicle when they are all operated at the same time to warn other road users of a problem such as a breakdown.

haze [heɪz] n -1. air that is difficult to see through because of the effects of heat, smoke, or mist □ a heat haze. -2. to be in a haze [person, mind] to be confused because one's thoughts are not clear.

hazel ['heɪzl] ◇ adj [eyes] green brown in color. ◇ n a small tree that produces hazelnuts.

hazelnut ['heɪzlnʌt] n a small round nut that can be eaten.

hazy ['heɪzi] (compar hazier, superl haziest) adj -1. [sky, weather, view] that is caused by haze □ The light's very hazy today. -2. [understanding, memory, facts] that is not very clear and not completely correct □ I'm a bit hazy about the details, though.

H-bomb n abbr of hydrogen bomb.

h & c abbr of hot and cold (water).

he [hi:] ◇ pron -1. (used as the subject of a verb) the man, boy, or male animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ "I'm looking for Kevin." — "He's over there, talking to Jane." -2. used in statements where no specific person has been identified □ A parent can only do what he thinks is right. ◇ n a male animal or baby □ Is it a he or a she?

he- prefix added to words to refer to the male of a particular type of animal □ a he-goat.

HE -1. abbr of high explosive. -2. abbr of His (or Her) Excellency.

head [hed] ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal] the top part of the body that includes the eyes, ears, nose, mouth, brain etc □ She turned/nodded her head. □ I bumped my head on the door. ■ a OR per head for each person □ Tickets cost $50 a head. ■ to say sthg off the top of one's head to say sthg without thinking about it first and without being sure it is correct □ Just off the top of my head, I'd say we'd need around $10,000. ■ to bite OR snap sb's head off to speak very angrily to sb, especially when they do not expect it or when there is no strong reason for it (informal use) □ There's no need to bite my head off, I was only asking. ■ to laugh/sing/shout one's head off to laugh/sing/shout in a very noisy and energetic way (informal use). ■ to be banging one's head against a brick wall to keep trying to do something but without success, because it is impossible (informal use) □ I feel as if I'm just banging my head against a brick wall. ■ I couldn't make head or tail of it I couldn't understand it at all. ■ on your (own) head be it you will have to take all the responsibility for it □ You can go, but on your own head be it. -2. a person's mind or their ability to use their brain for a particular kind of work □ Don't put silly ideas into his head. □ I can't get that tune out of my head. □ She has a good head for figures/business. □ Use your head. ■ have a head for heights to be able to stay up in a high place or position without feeling dizzy, falling etc. ■ to be out of one's head US, to be off one's head GB to be crazy or foolish (informal use) □ You must be out of your head to want to go there now! ■ we put our heads together we exchanged opinions and information, and thought of a plan □ Why don't we put our heads together and come up with a plan? ■ to go to one's head [alcohol] to make one feel drunk; [success, praise] to make one feel too proud of oneself □ I think all this media attention has gone to his head. ■ to keep one's head to stay calm and able to think clearly, especially in a dangerous situation □ We need somebody who is able to keep their head in a stressful situation. ■ to lose one's head to panic or stop thinking clearly □ He just lost his head and started screaming. ■ to be soft in the head to be stupid or crazy (informal use) □ Have you gone soft in the head or something? -3. [of a nail, page, bed] the top part of something □ My name appeared at the head of their list. □ the head of a hammer □ a screw head. -4. [of a flower, cabbage] the top part where the petals or leaves grow □ a flower head. -5. [of a company, department, family] the person who is in charge of an organized group of people □ Fifteen heads of government attended the meeting. -6. ELECTRONICS a device in a tape recorder, video recorder, computer etc, that records signals on tape or disk, or plays them back □ tape heads. -7. GB EDUCATION = head teacher. -8. phrase to come to a head [problem, dispute, issue] to come to a point when something urgent has to be done □ Matters came to a head last June.

◇ vt -1. [procession, convoy] to be at the front of <sthg> □ Members of the family headed the march. -2. [delegation, company, organization] to be officially in charge of <sthg> □ the UN troops, headed by General Janvier. -3. [list, group] to be the first in <sthg> □ In the 1970s, Lawson headed the FBI's "most wanted" list. -4. SPORT [in soccer] to hit  with one's head.

◇ vi to move in a particular direction □ We gave up and headed home. □ The ship was heading due north □ Where are you headed? Maybe I can give you a ride.

◆ heads npl the side of a coin that has an image of a head on it. ■ heads or tails? a phrase used by people when tossing a coin to decide something. The aim is to guess which side of the coin will face upward when it lands.

◆ head for vt fus -1. to head for a place to go towards a place □ I'm heading for Toronto. -2. to be heading for sthg [for trouble, victory] to behave or happen in a way that makes sthg very likely □ I'm heading for financial ruin at this rate.

◆ head off ◇ vt sep -1. to head off sb/sthg [person, vehicle] to make sb/sthg change direction by moving toward or in front of it □ The police headed him off on Galena Road. -2. to do something to stop  etc from happening. ◇ vi [person] to leave a place □ The car headed off east.

headache ['hedeɪk] n -1. a pain in the head □ I have a headache. -2. an annoying problem (informal use) □ Publication of the details would present a big headache for the party in power.

headband ['hedbænd] n a strip of fabric that one wears across one's forehead to keep one's hair or sweat out of one's eyes.

headboard ['hedbɔ:rd] n an upright board at the top end of a bed.

head boy n GB EDUCATION a boy pupil chosen to lead the prefects and represent the school at public events.

head cold n a cold that causes headaches and a blocked or runny nose.

head count n the act or process of counting how many people are present in a particular place □ I did a quick head count when everybody was back on the bus.

headdress ['hedres] n a piece of clothing that is worn on the head as a decoration, especially at important ceremonies.

header ['hedə] n -1. SPORT [in soccer] the act of heading a ball. -2. COMPUTING information at the beginning of a list of data that is connected with the rest of the data.

headfirst [hed'fɜ:st] adv [fall, dive] with the rest of the body following the head □ He crashed and plunged headfirst into the ditch.

headgear ['hedgɪə] n a collective term for things that are worn on one's head, e.g. hats, caps, or scarves □ Protective headgear should be worn by all cyclists.

head girl n GB EDUCATION a girl pupil chosen to lead the prefects and represent the school at public events.

headhunt ['hedhʌnt] vt to try to persuade <sb> to leave their job and take another one, usually by offering more money or status.

headhunter ['hedhʌntə] n a person whose job is to headhunt people for particular jobs.

heading ['hedɪŋ] n the title given at the top of a piece of writing, e.g. of a report, chapter, or paragraph □ The information appeared under the heading "miscellaneous".

headlamp ['hedlæmp] n GB = headlight.

headland ['hedlənd] n a narrow piece of land that sticks out into the sea.

headlight ['hedlaɪt] n a powerful light at the front of a car, truck, motorcycle etc □ 'Dip your headlights.'

headline ['hedlajn] n -1. [in a newspaper] the title of a newspaper article printed in large letters above it □ I only saw the headline. -2. TV & RADIO the most important details of one of the main news stories, often read at the beginning of a news program □ Here are today's headlines. □ the news headlines. -3. phrase to hit the headlines [person, scandal] to be the subject of one of the main news stories □ Unemployment has hit the headlines again.

headlong ['hedlɒŋ] ◇ adv -1. [run, rush] very quickly and out of control □ The truck hurtled headlong down the road. -2. to rush headlong into sthg to become involved in sthg quickly and without thinking about what one is doing □ I don't want to rush headlong into marriage. -3. [fall, dive] headfirst □ He was thrown headlong into a bush. ◇ adj [rush, dash] that one does without thinking about what one is doing □ The crowd made a headlong dash for the exit.

headmaster [US ,hed'mæstr, GB -'mɑ:stə] n the male teacher who runs a school.

headmistress [,hed'mɪstrəs] n the female teacher who runs a school.

head office n GB the main office of a business or organization where important decisions are made; the people who work in this office.

head of state (pl heads of state) n a person who is the official leader of a country □ The President met with Commonwealth heads of state.

head-on ◇ adj -1. [collision, crash] in which the front parts of two vehicles hit each other □ The car was involved in a head-on collision with a truck. -2. [confrontation, disagreement] that is direct and in which people are not willing to compromise □ The stage is set for a head-on clash between the President and Congress. ◇ adv [meet, collide] The car drove head-on into a lamp-post. □ Management confronted the union head-on.

headphones ['hedfəʊnz] npl small loudspeakers that fit over the ears, are usually held in place by a band across the head, and are used for listening to recorded sounds in private, e.g. from a personal stereo □ a pair of headphones □ She was wearing headphones.

headquarters [,hed'kwɔ:ɪ'tɔ:z] npl [of a company, army, the police] the main office, building etc where the leaders of an organization work and important decisions are made □ Their headquarters are in Bonn. □ the UN headquarters.

headrest ['hedrest] n the soft part at the top of a seat, usually in a car, that can be used for resting the back of one's head on.

headroom ['hedru:m] n -1. [below a bridge, barrier] the amount of space between the top of a vehicle and something it needs to pass under □ 'Max Headroom: 8 ft.' -2. [in a car] the amount of space above somebody's head □ There's not much headroom in here.

headscarf ['hedskɑ:f] (pl headscarves [-skɑ:'vz] OR headscarfs) n a scarf worn on the head, usually by women.

headset ['hedset] n a pair of headphones, especially one that has a microphone attached.

headship ['hedʃɪp] n GB the position held by the head of an organization, especially the head teacher of a school.

headstand ['hedstænd] n the act of balancing on one's head and hands, with one's feet in the air.

head start n an important advantage that somebody has in a situation such as a race, competition etc □ Being bilingual gives her a head start on OR over the other applicants.

headstone ['hedstəʊn] n the stone at the end of a grave that has the dead person's name on it.

headstrong ['hedstrɒŋ] adj [person] who is determined and unwilling to listen to other people's advice □ Sarah can be extremely headstrong at times.

head teacher n GB the teacher who runs a school.

head waiter n the waiter who is in charge of the other waiters in a restaurant.

headway ['hedweɪ] n to make headway [project, person] to make progress, often after there have been a lot of problems □ Talks are finally beginning to make headway.

headwind ['hedwɪnd] n a wind that is blowing in the opposite direction to the one somebody is moving in.

headword ['hedwɜ:ɪd] n in a dictionary, a word or short group of words that is followed by a definition or a translation, and sometimes by an example, to show its meaning.

heady ['hedɪ] (compar headier, superl headiest) adj -1. [time, atmosphere, experience] that makes one feel very excited and hopeful □ After the heady days of last August, the government now has to produce results. -2. [perfume, drink] that is very strong and makes one feel drunk or dizzy □ a heady wine.

heal [hi:l] ◇ vt -1. [person, wound] to make <sb/sthg> healthy again □ This man claims to be able to heal the sick. -2. [damage, discord] to repair <sthg> □ Is Jospin the man to heal the Party's divisions? ◇ vi [wound, broken bone] The emotional scars will take even longer to heal.

◆ heal up vi [wound, injury] = heal.

healing ['hi:lɪŋ] ◇ adj [power, treatment] that can heal a person or wound □ The herb has many healing properties. ◇ n [of a person, wound] see heal □ The healing process will take time.

health [helθ] n -1. [of a person] the condition of a person's body □ Smoking is bad for your health. □ The prisoners are all in good/poor health.

■ the Department of Health and Human Services the US government department responsible for the welfare system. ■ the Department of Health the British government department responsible for the National Health Service. ■ to drink to sb's health to raise one's glass, say that one hopes sb continues to have good health, and then drink.

- 2. [of an economy, organization, industry] the state of being successful and working well □ measures to improve the health of the economy.
- health care n the system of hospitals, doctors, pharmacies etc that exist in a particular place □ healthcare workers □ healthcare plan □ France has excellent health care.
- health center n a place where a group of doctors provide medical treatment and advice for the people of a particular area.
- health club n a private club where people go to exercise.
- health-conscious adj [person] who tries to have good health by exercising, eating healthy food, not smoking etc.
- health farm n a place where people pay to stay and are encouraged to become more healthy, especially by dieting and exercising.
- health food n food that is thought to be good for one's health, e.g. because it has more fiber or fewer artificial additives than most normal food.
- health food store n a store that sells health food.
- health hazard n something such as pollution that might harm people's health.
- health insurance n a form of insurance that is used to pay for medical treatment.
- health service n the combined social services in a country that are concerned with people's health.
- health visitor n GB a nurse whose job is to visit people at home, e.g. people with babies, or people who are handicapped or elderly, to give help and advice on matters concerning their health.
- healthy ['helθi] (compar healthier, superl healthiest) adj -1. [person, animal, plant] that is in good health □ She was looking tanned and healthy. -2. [appetite, skin, color] that shows that somebody is in good health. -3. [climate, food, lifestyle] that is good for one's health □ a healthy diet □ healthy red cheeks □ It's not healthy to eat too much fat. -4. [economy, organization, industry] that is successful and works well □ Our business is healthy again. -5. [profit, amount, increase] that is large and pleasing □ He made a healthy profit on the deal. -6. [attitude, respect, skepticism] that is natural and sensible □ I've always had a healthy mistrust for political extremists like him.
- heap [hi:p] ◇ n an untidy pile □ a heap of rubble/clothes □ His books lay in a heap on the floor. □ a compost heap. ■ to fall down OR collapse in a heap [person] to fall down with a lot of force and not move □ Simon came in and just collapsed in a heap on the floor. ◇ vt -1. [rubbish, coal] to make a heap of <sthg> □ He heaped food on OR onto his plate. -2. to heap praise/scorn etc on sb to praise/scorn etc sb a lot.
- ◆ heaps npl heaps of sthg [of money, time] a large amount of sthg (informal use) □ He has heaps of experience.
- hear [hiə] (pt & pp heard [hɜ:'d]) ◇ vt -1. [voice, person, sound] to become aware of, recognize, or understand <sb/sthg> through one's ears □ Can you hear me? □ I heard that song again. -2. [news, result, rumor] to find <sthg> out by being told by somebody else or from the radio or television □ I heard (that) he made $12 million on the deal. -3. LAW [case, evidence] to listen to <sthg> in order to make an official decision □ The court will now hear the case for the prosecution.
- ◇ vi -1. to become aware of, recognize, or understand sounds through one's ears □ I couldn't hear very well. -2. to hear about sthg to find out about sthg, especially because people are talking about it; to get news about sthg □ Did you hear about the takeover bid? □ Have you heard about your interview yet? ■ to hear from sb to be contacted by sb, e.g. by letter or telephone □ Have you heard from Simon recently? -3. phrases to have heard of sb/sthg to know about the existence or reputation of sb/sthg □ I've never heard of him/them/it. ■ I won't hear of it I won't allow it □ I offered to pay, but she wouldn't hear of it.
- ◆ hear out vt sep to hear sb out to listen to sb without interrupting until they have finished speaking, especially even when one disagrees with them or does not believe them □ Look, just hear me out first and then make up your mind.
- hearing ['hiəriŋ] n -1. the sense that makes it possible for people and animals to hear □ I think there's something wrong with my hearing. ■ in OR within sb's hearing close enough to sb for them to be able to hear what is being said □ She'd never dare say that in my hearing. ■ to be hard of hearing to be permanently unable to hear properly. -2. an official inquiry or trial □ The hearing is on the 12th. ■ to get a fair hearing to be allowed to say what one thinks or explain one's actions.
- hearing aid n a device fitted in or around somebody's ear to help them hear □ He wears a hearing aid.
- hearsay ['hiə'seɪ] n something that somebody is told, but which they cannot prove to be true □ That's just hearsay.
- hearse [hɜ:'s] n a special car that carries the coffin at a funeral.
- Hearst [hɜ:'st], William Randolph (1863–1951) a US newspaper owner. His newspapers were sometimes criticized for being too sensationalist.
- heart [hɑ:'t] n -1. ANATOMY the organ in one's chest that pumps blood around one's body □ Her heart was beating fast. □ He suffers from a heart complaint. -2. the part of a person where their deepest feelings and emotions are supposed to be. ■ to have a heart of gold to be a very kind person. ■ his/her heart isn't in it he/she is not enthusiastic about it □ I did my best, but my heart wasn't in it. ■ it's a subject close to my heart it's something I am very interested in or concerned about. ■ to say sthg from the heart OR from the bottom of one's heart to say sthg that one really means and feels strongly □ I thank you from the bottom of my heart. ■ in one's heart of hearts in one's most secret private thoughts □ Deep down, in his heart of hearts, he knew she was right. ■ to do sthg to one's heart's content to do sthg as much as one wants □ Look, once I've gone you can sing away to your heart's content. ■ my heart leapt/sank I became suddenly very happy or excited/sad or disappointed. □ Her heart leapt when she saw the envelope lying on the floor. ■ to break sb's heart to make sb very sad □ It broke his heart to sell the car. ■ to set one's heart on sthg to want sthg very much and to be determined to have or do it □ What a shame, I'd really set my heart on going. ■ to take sthg to heart [comment, insult, criticism] to be upset by sthg because one takes it too seriously □ Don't take what John says too much to heart. -3. courage and determination □ I didn't have the heart to tell her the bad news. ■ to lose heart to become discouraged □ After all the effort I'd made, I was really beginning to lose heart. -4. [of a city, issue, problem] the central or most important part □ Now we're getting to the heart of the matter. □ Yeltsin's former power base in the heart of the Urals. -5. a shape (♥) used for representing love □ He had drawn a heart on the front of the card. -6. [of a lettuce, cabbage] the leaves at the center of some vegetables □ artichoke hearts.

◆ hearts npl one of the four suits in a deck of cards, marked by a heart shape □ the nine of hearts.

◆ at heart adv a phrase used to show that one is talking about the way a person really is, even if they seem different □ I voted Democrat, although I'm a Republican at heart.

◆ by heart adv to learn/know sthg so well that one can remember how to say it exactly □ I learned the words by heart.

heartache ['hɑ:ˈteɪk] n a feeling of great sadness.

heart attack n a serious medical problem in which the heart stops working or does not work very well, often resulting in death.

heartbeat ['hɑ:ˈtbi:t] n the sound or action of the heart as it pumps blood around the body; the sound or action of one of the heart's movements □ He had a regular heartbeat.

heartbreaking ['hɑ:ˈtbreɪkɪŋ] adj [story, news] that makes one feel very sad or disappointed □ It's absolutely heartbreaking to see those young kids out on the streets like that.

heartbroken ['hɑ:ˈtbrəʊkən] adj [person] who is very sad or disappointed □ Jenny was heartbroken when he left.

heartburn ['hɑ:ˈtɜ:ɪn] n a burning pain in one's chest that is caused by indigestion □ Do you suffer from heartburn?

heart disease n an illness that stops the heart working properly.

heartening ['hɑ:ˈtneɪŋ] adj [news, change, decision] that is encouraging and makes one feel happier or more hopeful □ It was very heartening to hear that they liked our work.

heart failure n a serious medical condition in which the heart stops working properly, e.g.

when it does not pump enough blood around the body □ He died of heart failure.

heartfelt ['hɑ:ˈtfelt] adj [plea, apology, thanks] sincere and showing strong feelings □ Please send her my heartfelt condolences.

hearth [hɑ:ˈθ] n -1. the floor of a fireplace. -2. the place that is somebody's home and where their family life is.

heartland ['hɑ:ˈtlænd] n the area of a country or continent that is the most important for a particular group of people, organization, or activity □ Germany's industrial heartland □ The region is one of America's Republican heartlands.

heartless ['hɑ:ˈtləs] adj [person, refusal, decision] that is unkind and shows no concern or sympathy for people □ How can you be so heartless?

heartrending ['hɑ:ˈtreɪndɪŋ] adj [cry, plea] that makes one feel great sadness or pity.

heart-searching n the process of thinking carefully about one's feelings about something □ After a lot of heart-searching, I decided to leave.

heartthrob ['hɑ:ˈtθrɒb] n an attractive man (humorous use) □ He's her latest heartthrob.

heart-to-heart ◇ adj a heart-to-heart talk/chat a talk/chat in which two people speak openly and sincerely to each other about their feelings □ I had a heart-to-heart conversation with him. ◇ n a heart-to-heart conversation.

heartwarming ['hɑ:ˈtwɔ:ˈmɪŋ] adj [story, response, news] that makes one feel happy because it shows that people can be kind □ It was very heartwarming to see how many people had offered to help.

hearty ['hɑ:ˈti] (compar heartier, superl heartiest) adj -1. [person, welcome, laughter] cheerful, enthusiastic, and energetic □ He gave a hearty laugh. -2. [meal, appetite] large □ He ate a hearty breakfast. -3. a hearty dislike/distrust etc a strong dislike/distrust etc □ I've always had a hearty contempt for self-appointed "experts".

heat [hi:t] ◇ n -1. the quality of being hot □ You shouldn't expose the equipment to excessive heat and cold. □ The radiator gives out a lot of heat. -2. a particular temperature □ Cook at a high/low heat. □ blood/body heat. -3. a source of heat □ Don't leave diskettes near heat. -4. WEATHER hot weather □ in the heat of the day/desert. -5. strong emotional pressure or excitement □ He couldn't stand the heat of being in charge. □ He called me a liar in the heat of the argument/moment. -6. SPORT a part of a competition whose winners qualify to take part in the next stage □ Schmidt won her heat to go through to the next round. -7. to be in heat US OR on heat GB [female animal] to be sexually excited and ready to mate.

◇ vt [water, food, house] to make <sthg> warm or hot □ The building is heated by gas.

◆ heat up ◇ vt sep to heat sthg up [meal, food, water] to make sthg hot □ I'll just heat up some soup for us. ◇ vi [air, water] The soup will only take a minute to heat up.

heated ['hi:təd] adj -1. [room, swimming pool] that has been made warm by heating. -2. [person, argument, discussion] that shows strong feelings, usually of anger □ The conversation became more and more heated.

heater ['hi:tə] n an appliance for heating a room, car, the water in a tank etc □ a gas/electric/kerosene heater □ a wall heater.

heath [hi:θ] n an open area of land that is covered with grass or heather, has very few trees, and is not used for farming □ We went for a walk on the heath.

heathen ['hi:ðn] (old-fashioned and disapproving use) ◇ n a person who does not belong to one's own religion. ◇ adj: a heathen country/custom.

heather ['hedə] n an evergreen plant with small purple, pink, or white flowers that grows wild on hills.

Heathrow [hi:θ'rou] a major international airport, west of London, England.

heating ['hi:tɪŋ] n the system and equipment used to heat a building □ Can you turn the heating down, please? □ a heating system/engineer □ heating bills.

heat rash n a red rash on the skin that itches and is caused by too much heat □ Saunas always give me a heat rash.

heat-resistant adj [plate, china] that is not easily damaged by heat.

heat-seeking [-si:tɪŋ] adj a heat-seeking missile/rocket a missile/rocket that has a device that guides it toward something hot, especially an aircraft.

heatstroke ['hi:strouk] n a medical condition with symptoms of fever and weakness, caused by too much heat □ Ten people were taken to the hospital suffering from heatstroke.

heat wave n a period of weather that is a lot hotter than usual.

heave [hi:v] ◇ vt -1. to lift, pull, push, or throw <sthg heavy> in a particular direction using a lot of effort □ He heaved himself to his feet. -2. to heave a sigh to sigh very deeply □ We all heaved a sigh of relief. ◇ vi -1. [person] to lift, pull, or push something using a lot of effort □ He heaved on the rope with all his strength. -2. [boat, waves] to move up and down with long regular movements. -3. [person] to want to vomit □ My stomach heaved at the sight. ◇ n to give sthg a heave to lift, pull, or push sthg heavy.

heaven ['hevɪn] n -1. the place where God or gods are believed to live, and where good people are believed to go after they die □ all the saints in heaven. ■ heaven (alone) knows a phrase used to show that one does not know something or that one is surprised or confused by something □ She bought books, magazines, and heaven knows what else. -2. a state of happiness; something that makes one very happy □ I was in absolute heaven. □ That music's just heaven.

◆ heavens ◇ npl the heavens the sky (literary use). ◇ excl (good) heavens! a phrase used to show that one is surprised or impressed □ Good heavens! Did she really?

heavenly ['hevnlɪ] adj -1. [view, eyes, setting] very beautiful (informal use) □ The weather was heavenly! -2. [body, configuration, voyage] that is in the sky or in space (literary use).

heavily ['hevəli] adv -1. [rain, smoke, drink] a lot □ They are heavily in debt. □ a heavily populated area □ We are heavily dependent on foreign trade. -2. heavily built [person] who has a big and solid build. -3. [breathe, sigh] noisily □ He was breathing heavily as he climbed up the stairs. -4. [fall, sit down] see heavy. -5. [sleep] deeply □ She slept heavily for several hours.

heaviness ['hevɪnəs] n [of rain, breathing, a blow] see heavy.

heavy ['hevɪ] (compar heavier, superl heaviest) adj -1. [weight, bag, piece of equipment] that weighs a lot □ It's too heavy for me to lift/carry. -2. [rain, fighting, traffic] that there is a lot of □ Heavy rains are forecast for tomorrow. ■ to be heavy on sthg [on fuel, salt] to use a lot or too much of sthg (informal use) □ The meal was fine, but a little heavy on the pepper. ■ a heavy smoker/drinker a person who smokes a lot/drinks a lot of alcohol. ■ a heavy sleeper a person who sleeps deeply. -3. [person] who weighs a lot. ■ how heavy are you? how much do you weigh? ■ heavy build a big and solid build. -4. to be heavy with sthg [with fruit, blossom] to be full of or have a lot of sthg (literary use). -5. [liquid, mixture, layer] thick □ a heavy coat of paint. -6. [food] that is difficult to digest and makes one's stomach feel full □ I like German food, but I find it a bit heavy. -7. [step, movement, fall] that uses a lot of force and is awkward. □ I could hear his heavy steps coming up the stairs. -8. [irony, humor, style] that is too obvious to work properly □ There were some pretty heavy jokes about their wedding night. ■ heavy breathing breathing that is deep and loud, especially by somebody on the telephone who is making an obscene call. -9. [schedule, week] busy □ I've got a pretty heavy month ahead of me at work. -10. [work, job] that is physically demanding and tiring □ I have a very heavy workload. -11. [air, weather] still, hot, and damp; [sky] that looks like it will rain □ dark heavy rainclouds. -12. with a heavy heart with great sadness □ It was with a heavy heart that Angela stepped into Mr Mason's office. -13. [responsibility] serious □ I don't want to impose too heavy a burden upon you.

heavy-duty adj [machine, tool, clothing] that is made to be stronger than normal so that it can be used a lot and treated roughly without getting damaged.

heavy goods vehicle n GB a large vehicle, e.g. a truck, that is allowed to carry heavy loads.

heavy-handed [-'hændəd] adj [person, treatment, policy] that is forceful and shows little consideration of how people are affected □ You have to admit they were rather heavy-handed in the way they dealt with the protests.

heavy industry n industry that processes raw materials, e.g. coal or steel, or produces large goods such as ships or cars.

heavy metal n a type of rock music that is played loudly on electric guitars and drums.

heavyweight ['heviweɪt] ◇ adj SPORT [boxer, champion, fight] in the heaviest official weight category. ◇ n -1. SPORT a heavyweight boxer or wrestler. -2. a person who is serious, important, and has a lot of influence in their field □ a literary/political heavyweight.

Hebrew ['hi:brʊ:] n the language of the Jews in ancient times; a modern version of this, used as the official language of Israel.

Hebrides ['hebrɪdɪz:] the Hebrides a group of British islands in the Atlantic Ocean off the west coast of Scotland.

heck [hek] excl (informal use) -1. what/where/why the heck...? a phrase used to show irritation or surprise in questions □ Who the heck is he? □ Where the heck did that come from? -2. a or one heck of a... a phrase used to show how strongly one feels something □ a heck of a nice guy/lot of people.

heckle ['hekəl] ◇ vt [speaker, comedian, singer] to deliberately interrupt <sb> by making unfriendly comments. ◇ vi: Some of the audience started heckling.

heckler ['heklə] n a person who heckles.

hectare ['hekteə] n a unit (10,000 m²) used for measuring an area of land.

hectic ['hektɪk] adj [meeting, day] very busy and full of hurried activity □ Hectic preparations were underway. □ Things are pretty hectic at the moment.

hector ['hektə] ◇ vt to try to persuade <sb> to do something by talking aggressively to them. ◇ vi: Try talking to him gently instead of hectoring.

he'd [hi:d] = he had, he would.

hedge [hedʒ] ◇ n a row of bushes along the edge of a road or field. ◇ vi to avoid answering a question directly; to avoid committing oneself to doing something.

hedghog ['hedʒhɒg] n a small brown animal that has a lot of sharp spikes on its back.

hedgerow ['hedʒrəʊ] n a row of bushes, trees, and plants growing along a country road, or between two fields.

hedonism ['hi:dɒnɪzəm] n the belief that pleasure is the most important thing in life; the practice of living purely for pleasure.

hedonist ['hi:dɒnɪst] n a person who practices or believes in hedonism.

heed [hi:d] ◇ n -1. to pay heed to sb/sthg [to advice, an instruction, warning] to pay careful attention to sb/sthg and change what one does because of what one is told □ My daughter pays no heed to what I say. -2. to take heed of sthg [of advice, criticism, a warning] to think carefully about sthg that somebody has said □ You'd be wise to take heed of what I say. ◇ vt to pay heed to <sb/sthg> (formal use).

heedless ['hi:dləs] adj to be heedless of sthg [of advice, a warning, danger] not to pay any attention to sthg □ Heedless of the risks to her health, she refused to stop smoking.

heel [hi:l] n -1. [of one's foot] the back part of the foot below the ankle □ I've got a blister on my heel. ■ to dig one's heels in to firmly refuse to do what somebody wants. ■ to follow hard on the heels of sb/sthg [of a criminal, car] to follow very closely behind sb/sthg; [of an event, performer, speaker] to happen or appear very soon after sb/sthg □ The police were following hard on Grayson's heels. □ Their second child followed hard on the heels of the first. ■ to take to one's heels to run away quickly, especially in order to escape □ The burglar took to his heels and fled. ■ to turn on one's heel to turn around suddenly and walk away, especially because one is angry. -2. [of a shoe] the raised part at the back of the sole of a shoe.

hefty ['heftɪ] (compar heftier, superl heftiest) adj -1. [person] who is big, looks strong, and is often slightly fat; [blow, punch, knock] that is very hard □ The star was protected by two hefty bodyguards. □ She gave the door a hefty push. -2. [salary, price, fee] that is very large, often unfairly □ The telephone company are proposing some pretty hefty increases.

heifer ['heɪfə] n a young female cow.

height [haɪt] n -1. [of a person, building] the distance from head to foot of a person, or from the top to the bottom of an object □ What is your height? or What height are you? □ The statue is about five meters in height. -2. [of a policeman, basketball player, skyscraper] the fact of being tall □ His height gives him an advantage. -3. [of an aircraft, cloud, window] the distance of something above the ground □ We will be flying at a height of 20,000 feet. □ at chest/shoulder/head height. ■ to gain height [aircraft] to gradually move up to a higher distance above the ground. ■ to lose height [aircraft] to gradually move down to a lower distance above the ground. -4. [of summer, the tourist season, somebody's fame] the point or period of time when something is most intense, successful, or powerful; [of ignorance, stupidity] the highest degree or a shocking example of something □ when the storm/conflict was at its height □ They are now at the very height of their success. □ I consider it the height of bad manners.

◆ heights npl -1. [of passion, inspiration, absurdity] the highest possible level of something □ A perfectionist, she reached great heights in her art. -2. GEOGRAPHY an area of high ground. -3. high places □ I'm scared of heights.

heighten ['haɪtn] ◇ vt [mood, fear, awareness] to make <sthg> increase so that it is felt more strongly □ The recent attacks heighten the need for caution. ◇ vi: Tension heightened after the bomb attack.

heinous ['heɪnəs] adj [crime, criminal] that one thinks is very bad (formal use).

heir [eə] n -1. [to a position, property, fortune] a person who inherits or will inherit something when somebody dies □ the heir to the throne. -2. [of a thinker, movement] a person who continues the ideas or works of another person or thing.

heir apparent (pl heirs apparent) n an heir whose claim to inherit something, especially the throne of a country, cannot be stopped by the birth of any other heir.

heiress ['eərəs] n a female heir, especially one who inherits a large fortune.

heirloom ['eə'lu:m] n an object that has belonged to a family for many generations, especially a valuable one □ This necklace is a family heirloom.

heist [haɪst] n a robbery, usually of a lot of money or very valuable objects (informal use) □ an art/a jewel heist.

held [held] past tense & past participle of hold.

Helen of Troy [ˌhɛlənəv'trɔɪ] a very beautiful woman in Greek mythology. The Trojan War was fought because of her.

helices ['helɪsɪz] plural of helix.

helicopter ['helɪkɒptə] n an aircraft that is lifted and driven by propeller blades which spin around above it □ a helicopter pilot/flight □ The President arrived by helicopter.

heliport ['helɪpɔ:t] n an airport used by helicopters.

helium ['hi:lɪəm] n a very light gas which has no color or smell and is used inside balloons. SYMBOL: He.

helix ['hi:lɪks] (pl helixes OR helices) n a spiral.

hell [hel] ◇ n -1. RELIGION a place of punishment and torture, to which the souls of bad people are believed to be sent after death. -2. to be hell [place, experience] to be very unpleasant or cause a lot of suffering □ It was sheer hell out there. -3. (informal use) [used for emphasis] what/where/why etc the hell...? a phrase used to show irritation or surprise in questions □ Who the hell does he think he is? ■ a OR one hell of a sthg a phrase used to emphasize something □ It cost a hell of a lot of money. ■ like hell [hurt, sting] very badly; [run, work] very hard. ■ like hell you will! a phrase used to show that one disagrees strongly with somebody. ■ to get the hell out of a place to leave a place □ Let's get the hell out of here! -4. phrases to hell with sb/sthg a phrase used to show that one does not care about sb/sthg any more, especially because one is angry (informal use) □ To hell with Jonathan and his stupid plans! ■ all hell broke loose there was suddenly a lot of violence and confused movement; people suddenly became very angry about a particular issue or event (informal use) □ All hell will break loose when she finds out! ■ to do sthg for the hell of it to do sthg only for fun, excitement, or to cause trouble (informal use) □ The gang destroyed the children's playground just for the hell of it. ■ to give sb hell [person] to talk angrily to sb because of something they have done; [back, blister] to cause sb a lot of pain (informal use) □ The boss will give you hell when she finds out. □ My tooth is giving me hell. ■ go to hell! ▽ a rude phrase used to tell somebody to go away (very informal use). ■ to play hell with sthg [with a schedule, budget] to stop sthg from working properly or happening as it should; [with one's back, rheumatism] to make sthg painful or more painful than it was (informal use).

◇ excl a word used to show how annoyed, frustrated, surprised etc one is (informal use) □ Oh hell, I've missed the bus!

he'll [hi:l] = he will.

hell-bent adj to be hell-bent on sthg to be totally determined to do sthg.

hellish ['hɛlɪʃ] adj [noise, mess, weather] very bad and unpleasant (informal use) □ I felt hellish the next morning.

hello [hə'ləʊ] excl -1. a greeting used when one meets, sees, or is introduced to somebody; a word used when answering the telephone to begin a conversation □ Hello, Polly, how are you? □ Hello, Claire speaking. -2. a word used to attract somebody's attention □ Hello, is there anyone at home?

helm [helm] n -1. SAILING the wheel or bar used to steer a boat or ship. -2. to be at the helm to be in control.

helmet ['hɛlmət] n a hard hat that one wears on one's head for protection □ a policeman's/ fireman's helmet.

helmsman ['hɛlmzɪn] (pl helmsmen [-mən]) n the person who is steering a boat or ship.

help [help] ◇ vt -1. to do something with or for <sb> so that a particular job becomes easier □ Could you help me (to) lift this crate, please? □ I offered to help Mary with the dishes. ■ can I help you? a phrase used by people working in stores, theaters, banks etc to ask customers or visitors if they need to be served. -2. to help sb (to) do sthg to make it easier for sb to do sthg □ These pills will help you sleep. □ Further training will help you get a better job. -3. to help (to) do sthg to be useful in doing sthg or making it more likely to happen □ I offered to help clean up. -4. I can't help it I can't stop a particular thing from happening □ I tried not to cry, but I couldn't help it. □ You can't help the way you feel about him. ■ I can't help doing sthg I cannot stop myself from doing sthg □ I can't help feeling sad about what happened. □ I couldn't help overhearing what you said. -5. to help oneself [to food] to serve oneself; [to objects, property] to take what one wants, with or without permission □ He helped himself to some more dessert. □ "Could I have some envelopes, please?" — "Help yourself."

◇ vi -1. [person] to do something with or for somebody to make a job easier □ I'm very willing to help with the clearing up after the party. □ If everyone helped, we'd get the job done much quicker. -2. [money, advice, treatment] to make a particular problem, job etc easier to deal with □ That book you lent me helped a lot. □ Making a lot of fuss won't help. □ It helps to talk about your problems.

◇ n -1. [with a job] something one does or uses to make a particular job easier □ He gave me a lot of help with my financial problems. □ We need your help if we're going to finish on time. □ With the help of a mechanic/the hand-book, I soon managed to restart the engine. ■ to be of help to help □ Perhaps I can be of some help to you. -2. [in an emergency] somebody or something that can save somebody in danger □ Jane stayed with the injured man while I ran to get help. □ Help will arrive soon. -3. to be a help to be a useful or helpful person or thing □ My daughter's been such a help to me while I've been ill. □ It's a great help having a word processor to write my report with.

 ◇ excl a word that people shout when they are in danger or urgently need help □ Help! I can't get out!

◆ help out ◇ vt sep to help sb out to give a particular kind of help to sb at a time when they need it □ I can help you out with a loan, if you like. ◇ vi: My children help out when the restaurant is very busy.

helper ['helpə] n -1. a person who helps somebody to do something, especially because they want to □ I'd like to say thank you to all the helpers who made this event possible. -2. US a person who is paid to do the housework in somebody's house.

helpful ['helpfl] adj -1. [person, organization] that helps people □ The firm was very helpful to my mother after my father died. -2. [advice, information, suggestion] that is useful because it helps one to do something □ This month's issue has some helpful tips on dieting.

helping ['helpɪŋ] n [of food] an amount of food that is given to one person at a meal □ Can I have an extra helping of meat/potatoes?

helping hand n to give sb a helping hand to give sb some help □ She gave me a helping hand at a time when I really needed it.

helpless ['helpləs] adj -1. [old person, patient, child] who does not have the strength, ability, knowledge etc to do things for themselves or protect themselves; [look, gesture] that shows that one can do nothing about what is happening □ I felt so helpless. -2. [laughter, giggle] uncontrollable □ They collapsed in helpless laughter.

helplessly ['helpləslɪ] adv: see helpless □ I could only look on helplessly as the boat was swept out to sea.

helpline ['helplaɪn] n a special telephone number belonging to an organization that people can call to get help with particular problems □ They've set up a special helpline for relatives of the victims.

Helsinki [hel'sɪŋkɪ] the capital of Finland and its main port and largest city. POPULATION: 484,000.

helter-skelter [ˌheltə'skeltə] ◇ n GB a tower at a fairground in the shape of a spiral that people slide down for fun. ◇ adv [run, gather] in a hurried and disorganized way.

hem [hem] (pt & pp hemmed, cont hemming) ◇ n an edge which has been turned over and sewn down, especially the bottom edge of a skirt or dress. ◇ vt [bottom, border] to turn <an edge> over and sew it down; [skirt, dress] to put a hem on .

◆ hem in vt sep -1. to hem sb/sthg in [suspect, animal] to surround sb/sthg and stop them moving freely. -2. to hem sb in to limit sb in what they can do □ We feel completely hemmed in by rules and regulations.

he-man n a very strong man who has big muscles (informal and humorous use).

hematology [ˌhi:mə'tɒlədʒɪ] n the study of diseases of the blood.

Hemingway ['hemɪŋweɪ], Ernest (1899–1961) a US writer who is well known for his clear concise style. His work includes A Farewell to Arms and For Whom the Bell Tolls.

hemisphere ['hemɪsfɪə] n one half of a sphere, especially one half of the earth □ the Northern/Southern/Eastern/Western hemisphere.

hemline ['hemlaɪn] n the bottom edge of a skirt or dress □ Hemlines are higher this season.

hemoglobin [ˌhi:mə'gləʊbɪn] n a red substance in the blood that carries oxygen to the tissues.

hemophilia [ˌhi:mə'fɪliə] n a disease, passed from parents to their sons, that prevents the blood from clotting normally.

hemophiliac [ˌhi:mə'fɪliək] n a person who suffers from hemophilia.

hemorrhage ['hemərɪdʒ] ◇ n a sudden heavy flow of blood from a burst blood vessel. ◇ vi [person] to bleed heavily; [blood, liquid] to pour out; [money, assets] to be lost or used very quickly.

hemorrhoids ['hemərɔɪdz] npl a condition in which the veins near the anus are swollen and painful and sometimes bleed.

hemp [hemp] n an Asian plant which can be used to make some narcotic drugs; the fiber of this plant used in making ropes and canvas.

hen [hen] n -1. a female chicken. -2. the female of any species of bird □ a hen blackbird/sparrow.

hence [hens] adv (formal use) -1. for this reason □ They have made their business more efficient and hence more successful. -2. from now □ Ten years hence, the situation will be totally different.

henceforth [ˌhens'fɔːθ] adv from now on (formal use).

henchman ['hentʃmən] (pl henchmen [-mən]) n a person who is paid by a powerful criminal to help them in their illegal activities (disapproving use).

henna ['hena] ◇ n a reddish-brown dye used especially for coloring one's hair; the plant from which this dye is obtained. ◇ vt to color <one's hair> using henna.

hen party n GB a party for women only, often held before a woman gets married.

henpecked ['henpekt] adj [husband, man] who is completely controlled by his wife or girlfriend, so that he does whatever she says (humorous and disapproving use).

Henry V [ˌhenrɪdə'vɪfθ] (1387–1422) King of England from 1413 to 1422. He defeated the French at the Battle of Agincourt, conquered Normandy, and was recognized as the heir to the French throne.

Henry VIII [ˌhenrɪdɪ'eɪtθ] (1491–1547) King of England from 1509 to 1547. He broke away from the Roman Catholic Church, and founded the Church of England in order to divorce his first wife, Catherine of Aragon. He is well known for having six wives.

Henry ['henrɪ], Patrick (1736–1799) a US revolutionary. He made speeches against British rule before the American Revolution.

hepatitis [ˌhepə'taɪtəs] n a serious disease causing inflammation of the liver.

her [hɜːr] ◇ pron -1. (used as the object of a verb and after prepositions) the woman, girl, or female animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ "Do you know June?" — "Yes, I met her at your party." □ That's for her to decide. □ I sent her a letter. -2. used to refer to a car or ship that has just been mentioned □ Fill her up! ◇ det -1. used to show that something belongs to or is connected with the woman, female animal, car, or ship that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ What's her name? □ I know her brother. □ The ship sank with all her crew on board. -2. used in titles to refer to a woman □ Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth.

herald ['herəld] ◇ vt (literary or formal use) -1. [birth, dawn, arrival] to show or indicate that <sth> is going to happen soon □ The invention of the telephone heralded a new age in communications. -2. to publicly declare <sb/sth> to be good, important etc □ This little-known actress is already being heralded as the star of the future. ◇ n in the past, an official announcer or messenger.

heraldry ['herəldrɪ] n the study of the symbols used in coats of arms, and of the histories of noble families.

herb [US ɜːrb, GB hɜːb] n a plant used as a flavoring in cooking or as a medicine □ I grow my own herbs. □ an herb garden.

herbaceous [hɜːr'beɪʃəs] adj -1. [plant] that has fleshy rather than woody leaves and stems. -2. a herbaceous border part of a garden that mainly contains plants which flower every year.

herbal [US 'ɜːrbl, GB 'hɜːbl] adj [medicine, remedy, tobacco] that is made from herbs □ an herbal preparation that is an effective painkiller.

herbalist [US 'ɜːrbəlɪst, GB 'hɜːb-] n a person who sells or uses herbs, especially as medicines.

herbicide ['hɜːr'bəsɪd] n a chemical that is used to kill plants, especially weeds.

herbivore ['hɜːr'bɒvɔːr] n an animal that eats only plants.

herb tea n a drink made by soaking herbs in hot water.

Hercules ['hɜːr'kjʊlɪːz] in Greek mythology, a very strong man. He had to perform twelve very difficult tasks, known as the Twelve Labors of Hercules.

herd [hɜːd] ◇ n -1. [of cattle, goats, elephants] a large group of animals that move and feed together □ a herd of antelope. -2. [of people] a large group that moves in the same direction at the same time or has the same opinions □ the herd instinct. ◇ vt -1. [cattle, sheep] to drive <animals> along in a herd. -2. [prisoners, tourists] to make <people> move all together in a tight group as if they were animals □ The refugees were herded into open trucks and driven off.

herdsman ['hɜːr'dzsmən] (pl herdsmen [-mən]) n a person who owns or looks after a herd of cattle.

here [hɪə] adv -1. in or to the place where one is □ Come here and I'll show you something. -2. in or near the place one is pointing to □ "Where are my keys?" — "They're here, by the sink." -3. in or to the place where one lives, works etc □ What time did they get here? □ There are lots of parks around here. -4. used when one is handing something to somebody □ Here, take my coat for me, will you? -5. used to draw attention to what one is saying □ Here is the news from Bob Dunckley. -6. phrases here it is/they are! I've found it/ them. ■ here and there in a few different places □ There are still a few problems here and there. ■ here's to... a phrase used when one is having a drink to wish somebody good luck □ Here's to your new job!

hereabouts [ˌhɪərə'baʊts], hereabout [ˌhɪərə'baʊt] adv US near where one is □ It must be somewhere hereabouts.

hereafter [US ˌhɪər'æftər, GB ˌhɪər'ɑːftə] ◇ adv from this point on (used in legal documents) □ Emily Swift, hereafter referred to as "the deceased". ◇ n the hereafter a life after death □ a belief in the hereafter.

hereby [ˌhɪər'baɪ] adv used in formal written or spoken statements to make them more official and to show that they are true from that point on □ I hereby declare you husband and wife.

hereditary [US hɪ'redətəri, GB -ətəri] adj -1. [disease, condition] that can be given to a child before it is born by one parent or both parents □ Color-blindness is hereditary. -2. [title, right, peerage] that is inherited by the legal heir when the holder dies □ The leadership of the tribe is hereditary.

heredity [hə'redətɪ] n the process by which certain characteristics, diseases, instincts etc are given to children before they are born by their parents.

Hereford and Worcester [ˌhɛrɪfədən'wʊstər] a county in western central England. SIZE: 3,926 sq kms. POPULATION: 671,000. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Worcester.

herein [ˌhɪər'ɪn] adv in this particular piece of writing (formal use) □ this document and all the information contained herein.

heresy ['herəsi] (pl heresies) n -1. RELIGION a belief or set of beliefs that disagrees in an important way with the beliefs of a particular religion; the sin of holding such beliefs □ He was accused of heresy. -2. a belief or set of beliefs that is very different from what most people accept as true □ It's heresy to suggest there might be another way of doing things.

heretic ['herətɪk] n -1. RELIGION a person who believes in or spreads a heresy. -2. any person who has unusual views which people disapprove of □ Those who do not accept the party leader's opinions are considered heretics.

herewith [ˈhɪəˈwið] adv used in formal business letters to say that a particular document or piece of information is enclosed □ I attach herewith a copy of the contract.

heritage [ˈherɪtɪdʒ] n [of a family, nation] all the things that have been passed down from one generation to the next, especially things that are thought to be important or valuable, e.g. art, literature, and traditions □ These ancient buildings are part of Mexico's cultural/national heritage.

heritage centre n GB a museum or exhibition for visitors at a site that is historically interesting.

hermaphrodite [hɜːˈmæfrədaɪt] ◇ adj [animal, person] that has the sexual characteristics of both male and female. ◇ n: Worms are hermaphrodites.

hermetic [hɜːˈmetɪk] adj a hermetic seal a seal that does not let air in or out.

hermetically [hɜːˈmetɪkli] adv hermetically sealed [container, jar, bottle] that is closed in such a way that no air can get in or out.

hermit [ˈhɜːmɪt] n a person who lives alone, usually in a remote place, to avoid seeing or meeting other people.

hernia [ˈhɜːnjə] n a medical condition in which part of an organ, especially an intestine, sticks out through the part of the body that contains it.

hero [ˈhɪərəʊ] (pl heroes) n -1. [of a story, book, movie] the main character, especially the main male character, whom the reader or audience usually admires or sympathizes with □ The hero eventually marries the boss's daughter. -2. [in a battle, crisis, emergency] a person who shows great courage and determination and does something that people admire a lot, e.g. saving or helping other people □ What a hero! -3. [to an admirer, young person] a person one particularly admires and would like to copy, especially because they are very good at something □ He's my hero.

Hered [ˈherəd] in the Bible, the king who ordered all the young boys of Bethlehem to be killed, because he wanted to kill Jesus.

heroic [həˈrɔɪk] adj -1. [person, act, rescue] that is admired for being very courageous □ Their heroic stand against injustice will always be remembered. -2. [effort, attempt] that involves a lot of determination and commitment □ They made a heroic attempt to save the ship.

◆ heroics npl action that is intended to be brave, but that is not sensible and can make things worse (disapproving use) □ Look, this is no time for heroics.

heroin [ˈherɔɪn] n a narcotic drug made from morphine that people can become addicted to easily □ a heroin addict.

heroine [ˈherɔɪn] n -1. [of a story, book, movie] the main female character whom the reader or audience usually admires or sympathizes with □ The writer's heroines tend to be strong women in control of their lives. -2. [in a battle, crisis, emergency] a woman or girl who shows great courage and determination and does something that people admire a lot, e.g. saving or helping other people □ one of the heroines of the 20th century.

heroism [ˈherɔɪzɪz] n great courage □ an act of heroism.

heron [ˈherən] (pl heron OR herons) n a bird with long thin legs, a long neck, and a large bill, that lives near water.

hero worship n a strong feeling of admiration that somebody has for somebody else whom they want to be like.

herpes [ˈhɜːpɪz] n a disease, caused by a virus, that has several forms and causes painful blisters on one's skin.

herring [ˈherɪŋ] (pl herring OR herrings) n a silver-colored sea fish that swims in large groups; the flesh of this fish eaten as food.

herringbone [ˈherɪŋbaʊn] n a pattern in the form of parallel rows of Vs, usually in alternating colors □ a herringbone pattern/jacket.

hers [hɜːz] pron used to show that something belongs to or is connected with the woman, girl, or female animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ She borrowed my pen because hers doesn't work. □ He's been a friend of hers for years.

herself [hɜːzˈself] pron -1. used as the object of a verb to refer to the same person as the subject "she"; used after a preposition □ She sat down and made herself comfortable. □ She was annoyed with herself for being late. -2. used to emphasize "she", or the name of a girl or woman that is the object of a verb □ I didn't speak to Ruth herself, just her secretary. □ Her husband is vegetarian, but she herself eats meat. -3. she did it herself she did it without any help from anyone else □ She made her wedding dress herself. ■ by herself alone □ She was sitting by herself on the beach.

Hertfordshire [ˈhɑːtˌfɔːdʃɪr] a county in south-eastern England, north of London. SIZE: 1,634 sq kms. POPULATION: 986,800. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Hertford.

Herts abbr of Hertfordshire.

he's [hiːz] = he is, he has.

hesitant [ˈhezətənt] adj [person] who pauses slightly before doing or saying something, usually because they are unsure or worried about it; [speech] that is slow and has pauses in it, showing that one is nervous or unsure; [smile, applause, guess] that shows that one is nervous or unsure about something □ Don't be hesitant, everybody is with you. □ Her words were slow and hesitant. □ She gave him a hesitant tap on the shoulder. ■ to be hesitant about doing sthg to be unwilling to do sthg, especially because one is worried or unsure about it □ I'd be extremely hesitant about committing myself so early on.

hesitate [ˈhezətet] vi [person] to pause, usually because one is unsure whether to do something or not □ She hesitated for a moment be- fore signing the contract. ■ to hesitate to do sthg not to do sthg immediately because one does not want to do it □ I hesitate to disturb him on a Sunday. ■ don't hesitate to... a phrase used to show that one willingly gives somebody permission to do something □ Don't hesitate to contact me if you need more information.

hesitation [ˌhezə'teɪʃn] n -1. a pause before somebody does something, often because they are uncertain □ After a slight/a moment's hesitation he began. -2. the act of pausing or delaying, usually because one is unsure, or does not want to do something □ Hesitation can lead to mistakes. ■ without hesitation immediately and willingly □ I would recommend her without hesitation. ■ to have no hesitation in doing sthg to do sthg immediately and willingly □ She had no hesitation in volunteering for the task.

hessian [US 'heʃn, GB 'hesiən] n GB a type of strong coarse cloth, often used to make sacks □ a hessian rug.

heterogeneous [ˌhetərəu'dʒi:nɪəs] adj [mixture, collection, group] that has many different kinds of things or people in it (formal use).
NOTE: Compare homogeneous.

heterosexual [ˌhetərəu'sekʃuəl] ◇ adj [person] who is sexually attracted to the opposite sex; [relationship, behavior] that involves sexual attraction between the two sexes. ◇ n a heterosexual person.

het up [ˌhet-] adj to be het up about sthg to be angry, upset, or worried about sthg (informal use) □ There's no need to get so het up about it.

hew [hju:] (pt hewed, pp hewed OR hewn [hju:n]) vt [wood, stone] to cut <sthg> with an ax, large knife etc, especially in a rough way □ a roughly-hewn statue.

hex [heks] n a curse that makes things go wrong (humorous use).

hexagon [US 'heksəɡɔ:n, GB -əɡɒn] n an object or shape that has six straight sides.

hexagonal [hek'sæɡənəl] adj [shape, building] that has six straight sides.

hey [heɪ] excl -1. a word used to attract somebody's attention, especially by shouting □ Hey you, come here! -2. a word used to show surprise, worry, interest, or admiration □ Hey, what's going on here?

heyday ['heɪdeɪ] n the heyday of sb/sthg the time when sb/sthg is most successful, powerful, or popular □ In its heyday, the movement had thousands of supporters.

hey presto excl GB = presto.

HF (abbr of high frequency) a radio frequency between 3 and 30 MHz.

HGV GB abbr of heavy goods vehicle □ an HGV licence.

hi [haɪ] excl a word used when one meets, sees, or is introduced to somebody; a word used to begin a conversation with somebody one knows (informal use) □ Hi, how are you?

HI abbr of Hawaii.

hiatus [haɪ'eɪtəs] (pl hiatuses) n (formal use) [in a conversation, discussion, in negotiations] a time when nothing happens and nobody says or does anything; [in a text] a gap where something is missing □ There was a hiatus between the departure of the old principal and the arrival of the new one.

Hiawatha [ˌhaɪə'wɒθə] (16th century) the Native American chief who was responsible for organizing the alliance of Native American peoples called the Five Nations.

hibernate ['hɪbə'neɪt] vi [animal] to spend the winter months asleep or in a state like sleep □ Bears hibernate in winter.

hibernation [ˌhɪbə'neɪʃn] n: see hibernate □ My tortoise is still in hibernation.

hiccough, hiccup ['hɪkʌp] (pt & pp hiccupped, cont hiccupping) ◇ n -1. a sudden sound in the throat and movement in the chest that one cannot control, often caused by eating or drinking too quickly □ She gave a loud hiccup. ■ to have (the) hiccoughs to keep giving hiccoughs. -2. [in a process, operation] a slight mistake or problem, especially when it causes a short delay but is not very serious □ There's been a slight hiccup in the arrangements. ◇ vi [person] to give a hiccup.

hick [hɪk] n a person from a country area who doesn't know much about city life (informal and disapproving use).

Hickok, Wild Bill (1837–1876) a US lawman and hero from the Wild West.

hid [hɪd] past tense of hide.

hidden ['hɪdn] ◇ past participle of hide. ◇ adj [meaning, cost, disadvantage] that is not immediately obvious or has been deliberately concealed □ The move to New York could bring some hidden benefits.

hidden agenda n a secret plan that is not mentioned because it would be criticized □ The President failed to reassure Congress that there was no hidden agenda behind the reforms.

hide [haɪd] (pt hid, pp hidden) ◇ vi [object, money, person] to put <sb/sthg> in a place where they cannot be seen or found; [emotion, fact, truth] to keep <sthg> secret; [scar, mark] to cover <sthg> with something □ She hid the letter behind a cushion/in a book. □ They tried to hide their true financial situation from the auditors. □ He couldn't hide his delight/disappointment at the news. □ The hotel was hidden away up a quiet side street. □ She hid her face in her hands.

◇ vi [person] to put oneself in a place where one cannot be seen or found very easily □ I saw her coming and hid in a doorway. □ You can't hide from the law for ever.

◇ n -1. [of an animal] a skin that can be used to make leather □ buffalo/elephant hide. -2. [in a game park, bird sanctuary] a small shelter which people can watch animals or birds from without being seen by them.

hide-and-seek n a children's game in which one person hides and the other people have to look for them.

hideaway ['haɪdəweɪ] n a place where people go to be away from other people.

hidebound ['haɪdbaʊnd] adj [person, institution] that has very old-fashioned ideas and ways of doing things and does not want to change them.

hideous ['hɪdiəs] adj -1. [monster, face] very ugly and frightening; [crime, wound] that is shocking □ He had a hideous scar. -2. [clothes, color, noise] very unpleasant; [mistake] very serious and upsetting □ What a hideous tie! □ What a hideous thing to happen!

hideout ['haɪdaʊt] n a place where somebody goes to hide from somebody else, especially from the police or from somebody who wants to harm them.

hiding ['haɪdɪŋ] n -1. to be in hiding to be in a place where one hopes one cannot be found □ She went into hiding as soon as the story appeared in the press. -2. to get a (good) hiding [person] to be beaten hard, especially as a punishment; [team, competitor] to be defeated completely (informal use). ■ to give sb a (good) hiding to beat sb hard (informal use) □ If you don't shut up, I'll give you a (good) hiding.

hiding place n a place where one can hide somebody or something, or hide oneself.

hierarchical [,haɪ'ra:ˈkɪkl] adj [system, society] in which there are strict levels or ranks and in which the higher levels or ranks have power over the lower ones.

hierarchy ['haɪə:ˈki:] (pl hierarchies) n -1. [in an organization, company] a system that is organized in a hierarchical way. -2. the people who have power in a particular organization □ the party/company hierarchy.

hieroglyphics [,haɪə'glɪfɪks] npl symbols and pictures that are used as words in ancient systems of writing such as Egyptian.

hi-fi ['haɪfaɪ] n -1. sound reproduction of very high quality. -2. a piece of equipment that plays records, tapes etc so that they sound almost like the original performance □ a hi-fi system.

higgledy-piggledy [,hɪɡldɪˈpɪɡldɪ] (informal use) ◇ adj [houses, papers, books] that are not neat or in order. ◇ adv: The clothes were scattered higgledy-piggledy all over the floor.

high [haɪ] ◇ adj -1. [wall, mountain] that rises a long way above the ground or its base □ The yard was surrounded by a high fence. -2. a word used to say what the height of something is □ The statue is three feet high. □ How high is it? -3. [shelf, window, position] that is placed or is moving a long way above the ground □ The cupboard is too high for me to reach. -4. [degree, amount, figure] greater than average or usual □ They charge very high prices. □ a time of high unemployment □ The risks are high, but so are the potential rewards. □ I suffer from high blood pressure. ■ to be high in sthg [in fiber, protein] to contain a lot of sthg. -5. [position, office, rank] that has a lot of power and influence □ I have friends in high places. -6. [standard, quality] very good. ■ to have a high opinion of sb/sthg to respect and admire sb/sthg very much, especially because they are very good at something □ You seem to have a very high opinion of yourself! -7. [ideals, sentiments] that people agree with because they think they are right and good □ I've always admired her high principles. -8. [note, voice] that is near the top note that a voice or instrument can produce □ She can reach a high C. -9. to be high to be very happy, excited, and full of energy because one has taken drugs □ He was high on LSD. -10. to be high US to be drunk (informal use).

◇ adv -1. [climb, lift, fly] in or toward a high position □ She threw the ball high above her head. □ They live high up on a hill. -2. [aim, rise] in or toward an important level □ He's risen high in his profession.

◇ n the highest point, level, or number □ Temperatures have fallen from a high of 24 degrees to around 17 degrees. ■ to reach a new high to reach a higher point on a scale than has ever been reached before □ Sales last year reached a new high.

highball ['haɪbɔ:l] n a drink containing an alcoholic drink, ice, water, soda etc in a tall glass.

highbrow ['haɪbraʊ] adj [book, play, music] that is enjoyable and interesting only for intelligent and educated people and is often hard to understand.

high chair n a chair with long legs and a tray attached that small children use when eating so that they are on the same level as adults.

High Church adj belonging to the part of the Church of England that is most like the Roman Catholic Church, and that considers ceremony and tradition to be important.

high-class adj [hotel, restaurant] that is of very good quality; [performance, job] excellent.

high command n the commander-in-chief and most senior officers in an army.

high commission n an embassy belonging to one Commonwealth country and situated in another.

high commissioner n an ambassador who is in charge of a high commission.

High Court n the High Court GB the highest court for civil cases □ a High Court judge.

high-density adj COMPUTING [diskette, storage] that can store a very large amount of information.

higher ['haɪə] adj EDUCATION [degree, mathematics] of an advanced level.

◆ Higher n a school examination taken in a particular subject at the end of secondary education in Scotland.

higher education n education and training at universities and colleges.

high explosive n a powerful explosive.

high-fidelity adj [equipment, speaker] that plays music which sounds almost like the original performance.

high finance n the process of lending, borrowing, and investing large sums of money.

high-flier n a person who has the necessary ability and ambition to be very successful in their career □ We're looking for a high-flier with plenty of ambition and drive.

high-flying adj [academic, manager, executive] who is a high-flier.

high-handed [-'hændəd] adj [person] that uses power without considering other people and their opinions □ Any complaints tend to be dealt with in a very high-handed way.

high-heeled [-hi:lɪd] adj [shoe, boot] that has a high heel □ She looked funny in her mother's high-heeled shoes.

high horse n to get on one's high horse to become angry about something because one thinks that one's opinion is more useful or important than other people's (informal use) □ There's no need to get on your high horse!

high jump n a sporting event in which one jumps over a bar without using a pole □ Ferguson came first in the high jump.

Highlander ['haɪləndə] n a person from the Highlands of Scotland.

Highland Games [ˌhaɪlənd-] npl the Highland Games one of several festivals that take place every year in towns in Scotland and where there are competitions in Scottish sports, music, and dancing.

Highlands ['haɪləndz]: the Highlands the mountainous part of northwestern Scotland.

high-level adj [talks, negotiations] between important officials; [diplomat, official, delegation] important □ The US President has decided to resume high-level talks.

high life n the high life the life of rich and famous people, full of fun and expensive activities.

highlight ['haɪlaɪt] ◇ vt -1. [aspect, problem, danger] to make <sthg> more obvious to people by explaining it in detail or by giving a lot of attention to it □ I want to highlight the importance of this point. □ The tragedy highlights the need for greater safety measures. -2. [word, sentence] to make  more noticeable on a page, screen etc by marking it in a particular way □ The main points were highlighted in red. ◇ n the most interesting, exciting, or amusing part of an event or occasion □ His speech was the highlight of the conference. □ You can see the highlights of the game on TV tonight.

◆ highlights npl parts of a person's hair that have been made lighter in color than the rest of their hair using a chemical process □ I've had highlights put in my hair.

highlighter ['haɪlaɪtə] n a highlighter (pen) a pen with a thick tip that is used to mark parts of a text in a bright color in order to make them more noticeable.

highly ['haɪli] adv -1. highly unlikely/enjoyable/successful etc very unlikely/enjoyable/successful etc □ a highly profitable venture. -2. highly paid/placed paid/placed at a level that is near the top of a scale □ a highly placed official. -3. [speak, rate] in a way that shows a very good opinion of somebody or something □ This hotel was highly recommended by a colleague of mine. □ You know she thinks highly of you.

highly-strung adj GB = high-strung.

high mass n a mass in the Catholic religion in which the ceremonies are very formal and there are parts sung by the priest.

high-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who has moral principles that are considered to be too high □ I've had enough of her high-minded moralizing.

Highness ['haɪnəs] n a word used to address or refer to a member of a royal family □ His/Her/Your Royal Highness.

high-octane adj [fuel, gasoline] that is of high quality.

high-pitched adj [sound, scream, voice] that is nearer than usual to the highest sound that can be heard □ He called his dog with a high-pitched whistle.

high point n [of an occasion, vacation, movie] the most enjoyable, exciting, or important part of something □ For me the high point of the evening was when Lucy persuaded Matthew to dance. □ The award marked a high point in her career.

high-powered [-'paʊəd] adj -1. [car, telescope, rifle] very powerful □ The bacteria can only be seen with a high-powered microscope. -2. [businessman, businesswoman] very busy, successful, and ambitious; [job, course] that makes it necessary for one to have these qualities □ Tom wants to give the impression he's a high-powered executive. □ Barbara's got a high-powered job in sales.

high-pressure adj -1. [job, position, work] that puts workers under pressure □ As a trader, I'm used to working in a high-pressure environment. -2. [selling, technique] that is very forceful and is intended to persuade somebody to buy something. -3. [cylinder, canister] that contains gas under pressure.

high priest n the most important priest in a religious organization.

high-ranking adj [official, officer] who has a high position, especially in a public organization.

high-resolution adj [screen, graphics] able to show detailed images □ a high-resolution monitor.

high-rise adj [building, apartments] that is very tall and consists of many floors □ the structural problems in many high-rise blocks.

high-risk adj -1. [investment, business, strategy] that deliberately takes risks to get high rewards □ The bank refused my high-risk business plan. -2. [group, category, occupation] in which people are at risk from something □ Skiing is a high-risk sport.

high school n -1. in the USA, a school for students between 13 or 14 and 18 □ a high-school diploma. -2. in Britain, a school for students between 11 and 18.

high seas npl the high seas the parts of the oceans that do not belong to one particular country.

high season n the time of year when hotels, resorts etc, where people go on vacation, are most busy and prices are highest.

NOTE: Compare low season.

high-speed adj -1. [train, link] that moves or happens very quickly □ a high-speed car chase. -2. PHOTOGRAPHY [film, exposure] that only needs a short exposure time.

high-spirited adj [person] who shows a love of fun and excitement.

high spot n the most enjoyable, exciting, or important part of an event or occasion.

high street n GB the main shopping street in a town □ high-street sales/prices/shops.

high-strung adj US [person] who is nervous and likely to become angry or upset easily □ I've never met anybody so high-strung.

hightail ['haɪteɪl] vt to hightail it to go somewhere in a great hurry (informal use) □ Let's hightail it out of here!

high tea n GB a meal that usually consists of tea and cooked food and is eaten in the early part of the evening instead of dinner.

high-tech [-'tek] ◇ n -1. a style of decorating a room or building that is based on the appearance of modern industrial equipment. -2. the use of advanced science, especially in electronics and computers. ◇ adj -1. [furniture, style] □ Their new place is really high-tech. -2. [industry, methods] □ We are desperately trying to become more high-tech.

high-tension adj [cable, pylon] that carries a powerful electrical current.

high tide n the time of day when the sea level reaches its highest point on the coast □ We had to wait for high tide before the ship could leave.

NOTE: Compare low tide.

high treason n the crime of being disloyal to one's country by helping its enemies.

high water n the time when a river or sea is at its highest level.

highway ['haɪweɪ] n -1. US a main road that joins towns and cities. -2. GB a road or street (formal use) □ This is a public highway.

Highway Code n the Highway Code the rules for drivers, cyclists etc in Britain.

Highway Patrol n the Highway Patrol a US police organization that controls traffic on the highways.

high wire n a form of entertainment in which somebody walks along a tightrope high in the air.

hijack ['haɪdʒæk] ◇ vt [plane, bus] to take control of  illegally and by force, usually to get money or to make a government do what one wants. ◇ n [of a plane, bus] the act of hijacking something □ The hijack began at 7pm.

hijacker ['haɪdʒækə] n a person who hijacks a plane, bus etc.

hike [haɪk] ◇ n -1. a long walk in the countryside for pleasure □ I enjoy going on hikes. -2. FINANCE a sudden large rise in a tax or a price □ a tax hike. ◇ vi to go for a hike □ We hiked across the countryside.

hiker ['haɪkə] n a person who hikes □ The place attracts a lot of hikers in summer.

hiking ['haɪkɪŋ] n the activity of going on hikes □ We went hiking in the hills.

hilarious [hɪ'leəriəs] adj [joke, person] that is very funny and makes one laugh a lot □ It was absolutely hilarious when he fell off his chair.

hilarity [hɪ'lærətɪ] n great amusement and loud laughter (formal use) □ The idea caused great hilarity among the assembled crowd.

hill [hɪl] n -1. a sloping area of land that is higher than the land around it and is smaller than a mountain □ I live on the other side of the hill. □ We went walking in the hills. -2. a part of a road that slopes up or down □ Go up the hill and turn left at the top.

hillbilly ['hɪlbɪli] (pl hillbillies) n a person from one of the remote mountainous parts of North America, often considered to be unintelligent (offensive use).

hillock ['hɪlək] n a small hill □ The tower was on a grassy hillock.

hillside ['hɪlsaɪd] n the side of a hill □ a hillside village.

hill start n the act of starting a car, bus etc when it is facing upward on a slope.

hilltop ['hɪltɒp] ◇ n the top of a hill. ◇ adj [village, view, church] that is on a hilltop □ the small hilltop towns of Tuscany.

hilly ['hɪli] (compar hillier, superl hilliest) adj [country, region] that is full of hills □ The countryside becomes very hilly further north.

hilt [hɪlt] n the handle of a sword, dagger etc □ a sword with a jeweled hilt. ■ to back/defend etc sb to the hilt to support/defend etc sb as much as one can □ My colleagues have promised to back me to the hilt over this issue. ■ to be mortgaged to the hilt to have a very big mortgage.

him [hɪm] pron the man, boy, or male animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc (used as the object of a verb and after prepositions) □ "Do you know Dave?" — "Yes, I met him at your party." □ They sent him a letter. □ I'm very grateful to him.

Himalayas [ˌhɪmə'leɪəz]: the Himalayas a mountain range in southern Asia, covering most of Nepal, Bhutan, southern Tibet, and northern India. It includes Mount Everest. HIGHEST POINT: 8,846 m. himself [hɪm'self] pron -1. used as the object of a verb to refer to the same person as the subject "he" used after a preposition □ He hates himself for what he did. □ Joe looked at himself in the mirror. -2. used to emphasize "he", or the name of a man or boy that is the object of a verb □ I asked to speak to the manager himself. -3. he did it himself he did it without any help from anyone else □ He built this house himself. ■ by himself alone □ He was sitting by himself on a park bench.

hind [haɪnd] (pl hind OR hinds) ◇ adj [leg, feet] at the back part of an animal's body. ◇ n a female deer, especially a red deer.

hinder ['hɪndə] vt [progress, attempt] to make it difficult or impossible for <sth> to develop or happen by causing problems □ Bad weather hindered them from delivering supplies.

- Hindi ['hɪndi] n a language spoken in northern central India □ Hindi speakers.
- hindmost ['haɪndməʊst] adj that is nearest to the back end of something (old-fashioned use).
- hindquarters ['haɪndkwɔ:tə'z] npl the back part and back legs of an animal.
- hindrance ['hɪndrəns] n [to progress, an attempt] a person or thing that hinders somebody or something □ Actually, he was more of a hindrance than a help.
- hindsight ['haɪndsaɪt] n with OR in hindsight looking back at the past and knowing now what one did not know then □ Now, with the benefit of hindsight, I can see I made the wrong decision.
- Hindu ['hɪndu:] (pl Hindus) ◇ adj [god, temple, faith] that is connected with Hinduism. ◇ n a person who believes in Hinduism.
- Hinduism ['hɪndu:ɪzəm] n one of the main religions in India that has several gods and promises life after death.
- hinge [hɪndʒ] (cont hingeing) n a device, usually made of two flat metal parts held together by a pin, that allows a door, lid etc to swing open and shut.
- ◆ hinge (up)on vt fus to hinge (up)on sth [upon an outcome, somebody's support] to depend on sth completely □ Success hinges on whether we can get the funds.
- hint [hɪnt] ◇ n -1. [to a person] a statement that gives a suggestion or clue about something but does not say anything clear about it □ The speech contained a few hints as to the proposed policy changes. □ There was no hint that one day he would achieve greatness. ■ to drop a hint to deliberately give a hint to somebody □ I was desperately trying to drop him a hint to leave. ■ to take a hint to understand a hint and do what is suggested □ OK, I can take a hint! -2. [about a subject] a helpful piece of advice about a particular subject or activity □ The book is packed with hints on houseplants. -3. [of color, summer, victory] a small sign of something □ As he spoke, there was a hint of sadness in his voice.
◇ vi to give a clue or suggestion to somebody about something □ The statement hints at some kind of compromise.
◇ vt: The President hinted that interest rates may rise soon.
- hinterland ['hɪntə'lænd] n the hinterland the land further back from a coast, river, or port; the poorer areas away from large towns and cities.
- hip [hɪp] ◇ n the part at either side of the human body above the legs and below the waist □ Stand with your hands on your hips. ◇ adj [music, clothes] fashionable (informal use).
- hip bath n a small bath that one can sit in but not lie down in.
- hipbone ['hɪpbəʊn] n the main bone in the hip.
- hip flask n a small metal container for strong alcoholic drinks that one carries in one's pocket or joined to one's belt.
- hip-hop n a kind of black American dance music that is more spoken than sung, has more beat than tune, and uses and repeats parts of other songs.
- hippie ['hɪpi] n = hippy.
- hippo ['hɪpəʊ] (pl hippos) n = hippopotamus (informal use).
- Hippocrates [hɪ'pɒkrətɪ:z] (460–377 BC) a Greek doctor who was the first person to develop a scientific approach to medicine.
- hippopotamus [hɪpə'pɒtəməs] (pl hippopotamuses OR hippopotami [-maɪ]) n a large African river animal with a large head, wide mouth, short legs, and hard gray skin.
- hippy ['hɪpi] (pl hippies) n a person who does not accept the traditional values of society, has long hair, and dresses in loose brightly-colored clothes. Hippies are especially associated with the late 1960s.
- hire ['haɪə] ◇ n GB [of equipment, a car, hall] the use of something for a period of time in return for money □ 'Bicycles for hire' □ It's not mine, it's only on hire. ◇ vt -1. [plumber, assassin, performer] to pay <sb> to do a particular job; [staff, agent] to employ <sb> □ We hired a painter to do the bedrooms. □ You're hired! -2. GB [car, equipment, hall] to pay to use <sth> for a short time □ Let's hire bikes.
- ◆ hire out vt sep to hire sth out [car, equipment, hall] to offer sth to people by allowing them to hire it □ Freelancers work by hiring out their services to others.
- hire car n GB a car that is rented.
- hired help ['haɪəd-] n temporary staff employed to do a particular job, e.g. on a farm or in a house; a temporary worker.
- hire purchase n GB a method of buying something by paying for it gradually, so that one is able to use the product before one has paid for it completely □ We bought the car/video on hire purchase.
- Hirohito [hɪ'rəʊ'u:hɪ:təʊ] (1901–1989) Emperor of Japan from 1926 to 1989.
- Hiroshima [US hɪ'rəʊ'ʃɪ:mə, GB hɪ'rəʃɪ:mə] a city in southwest Japan where the first atomic bomb was dropped in 1945.
- his [hɪz] ◇ det -1. used to show that something belongs to or is connected with the man, boy, or male animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ He put on his coat and went out. □ Joe was eating his lunch when I arrived. -2. used in statements where no specific person has been identified □ Everyone coming to the conference must make his own travel arrangements. -3. used in titles to refer to a man □ His Excellency will see you now.
◇ pron used to show that something belongs to or is connected with the man, boy, or male animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ A friend of his told him about it. □ I ate all my lunch, but he hardly touched his.
- Hispanic [hɪ'spæɪnɪk] ◇ n a person in the USA whose family originally came from Latin America. ◇ adj: a Hispanic dish/district.
- Hispaniola [hɪ'spæɪn'jəʊlə] an island in the Caribbean, southeast of Cuba. It is divided into Haiti and the Dominican Republic. SIZE: 76,150 sq kms. OLD NAME: Santo Domingo.

hiss [hɪs] ◇ vi -1. [machine, snake, fire] to make a sound like a long "s" □ The hot pan hissed under the cold water. -2. [person] to speak in a strong whisper, often to show anger or disapproval □ The crowd booed and hissed at the police. ◇ vt [performance, speaker] to show that one dislikes or disapproves of <sb/sthg> by hissing. ◇ n the sound of somebody or something hissing □ There was a hiss of escaping steam.

histogram ['hɪstəgræm] n a chart in which figures are represented by vertical rectangular boxes of different lengths.

historian [hɪ'stɔ:riən] n a person who studies and writes about history □ a medieval historian.

historic [hɪ'stɔ:rik] adj [event, occasion, decision] important in history □ This is a historic day for our country.

historical [hɪ'stɔ:rikəl] adj -1. [event, fact, figure] that is part of the past □ The book is faithful to historical reality. -2. [novel, setting] that shows people and things of the past □ a historical drama for TV.

history ['hɪstri] (pl histories) n -1. [of a country] the past events in the life of people, a country, or activity, especially the most important events, considered all together in the order they happened □ Three men who changed the course of human history. □ Through-out history man has fought wars. ■ to go down in history to be remembered by people much later on for doing something important □ Yeltsin will go down in history for standing up to the coup leaders. ■ to make history to be remembered by people much later on for doing something for the first time □ The athlete made history by breaking three records in the same day. -2. EDUCATION the subject that involves the study of history □ a degree in ancient/modern history. -3. [of art, science] a written description of the development of something in particular □ I'm reading a history of Hollywood/space travel. -4. [of a patient, criminal] information that has been recorded about somebody or something and is used to have a clearer idea of them □ a crook with a history of petty crime □ He has a history of heart trouble.

histrionics [hɪ'strɪ'ɒnɪks] npl very emotional behavior that is usually not sincere □ There were the usual histrionics when the time came for us to leave.

hit [hɪt] (pt & pp hit, cont hitting) ◇ vt -1. [person, ball, nail] to bring one's hand or an object held in the hand into violent contact with <sb/sthg> □ She hit me with her bag. □ Don't hit your brother! □ He hit the ball right over the fence. -2. [person, tree, target] to come into violent contact with <sb/sthg> □ The car hit the wall at 50 mph. □ He was hit by a bullet. □ He hit his head on the window. -3. [target, note, level] to reach <sb/sthg> □ The storm hit the city at 3 am. □ The news soon hit TV screens all over the world. □ Sales have hit an all-time low. ■ to hit the headlines [person, story] to suddenly receive a lot of attention in newspapers. -4. [person, area, company] to affect <sb/sthg> badly □ Immediate aid was promised for regions worst hit by the famine. -5. phrase to hit it off [two people] to form a friendly relationship soon after meeting □ He immediately hit it off with my dad. □ I had a feeling you two would hit it off.

◇ n -1. [against a wall, car, door] the act of hitting a person, ball etc □ Give the ball a good hard hit. -2. [of a target] the act of successfully hitting a target □ I scored a direct hit with my second shot. -3. [with the public] a record, movie, play etc that is very popular □ a hit record.

◆ hit back vi to reply to criticism from somebody by criticizing them □ She angrily hit back at those who had criticized her.

◆ hit on vt fus -1. = hit upon. -2. to hit on sb US to speak to sb with the intention of attracting them and possibly having sex (informal use).

◆ hit out vi to hit out at sb/sthg to physically attack sb/sthg; to criticize sb/sthg strongly in speech or writing □ The old lady bravely hit out at her attackers. □ The coach hit out at suggestions he should retire.

◆ hit upon vt fus to hit upon sthg [answer, idea, plan] to think of sthg, especially the solution to a problem, after thinking about it for a long time.

hit-and-miss adj = hit-or-miss.

hit-and-run adj [accident] that involves a driver who drives away immediately after an accident; [driver] who causes an accident but drives away immediately afterwards □ Their daughter was killed in a hit-and-run accident.

hitch [hɪtʃ] ◇ n [in proceedings, plans] a small problem that causes a short delay □ a technical hitch □ There's one small hitch: who's going to pay? ◇ vt -1. to hitch a ride OR lift to get a free ride somewhere in somebody's car, truck etc, by sticking out one's thumb at the roadside □ Can I hitch a ride to the nearest gas station? -2. [horses, rope] to fasten <sthg> on to something else in a particular way □ Walter hitched the pony to the cart. ◇ vi to travel somewhere by hitching a ride (informal use) □ We hitched all the way to Sacramento.

◆ hitch up vt sep to hitch sthg up [skirt, trousers] to pull the top part of sthg up to a higher level □ She hitched up her skirt and waded into the river.

Hitchcock ['hɪtʃkɒk], Sir Alfred (1899–1980) a British movie director who created movies full of suspense such as Psycho and The Birds.

hitchhike ['hɪtʃhaɪk] vi to travel by hitching rides □ They plan to hitchhike across the country.

hitchhiker ['hɪtʃhaɪkə] n a person who travels by hitching rides □ I never give rides to hitchhikers.

hi-tech [,haɪ'tek] adj = high-tech.

hither ['hɪðə] adv to this place (literary use). ■

- hither and thither in all directions at once □ Everybody was running hither and thither.
- hitherto [ˌhɪðəˈtuː] adv up until then; up until now (formal use) □ Hitherto, it has not been possible to envision a peace settlement.
- Hitler [ˈhɪtlər], Adolf (1889–1945) the leader of the German Nazi Party, and head of state from 1933 to 1945. His invasions of neighboring countries led to World War II.
- hit list n a list of people who have to be killed, places that have to be damaged etc by a terrorist organization □ The minister's name was discovered on the terrorists' hit list.
- hit man n a person who is paid to kill somebody.
- hit-or-miss adj that may or may not be successful □ It all sounds a little hit-or-miss to me.
- hit parade n the list of pop records that have sold the most copies each week or month (old-fashioned use).
- HIV (abbr of human immunodeficiency virus) n the virus that causes AIDS □ an HIV test. ■ to be HIV-positive to have HIV.
- hive [haɪv] n a container for bees to live in. ■ a hive of activity a place where a lot of people are busy working.
- ◆ hive off vt sep to hive sthg off [business, assets] to sell sthg that is part of a larger group.
- HK abbr of Hong Kong.
- hl (abbr of hectoliter) n a unit (100 liters) for measuring liquids.
- HM abbr of Her (or His) Majesty.
- HMG (abbr of Her (or His) Majesty's Government) an expression used on official documents to refer to the British government.
- HMI (abbr of Her (or His) Majesty's Inspector) n a British government official whose job is to check that schools are being run properly.
- HMO (abbr of health maintenance organization) n one of many organizations in the USA that own one or more hospitals and offer health insurance. People can pay regular amounts in order to get treatment in them when they are sick.
- HMS (abbr of Her (or His) Majesty's Ship) used in the title of a ship in the British navy □ HMS Ark Royal.
- HMSO (abbr of Her (or His) Majesty's Stationery Office) n the British government department responsible for publishing government documents.
- HNC (abbr of Higher National Certificate) n a British technical qualification.
- HND (abbr of Higher National Diploma) n a British technical qualification that is the equivalent of an ordinary degree.
- hoard [hɔːd] ◇ vt [food, money, paper] to save <sthg> and keep it for later, either in secret or in larger amounts than is necessary □ People started hoarding sugar in case there was a shortage. ◇ n [of coins, arms, food] a collection of things that have been hoarded secretly □ Workmen came across a hoard of jewelry that had been buried there long ago.
- hoarding [ˈhɔːdɪŋ] n GB a large board next to a road that is used for large advertisements.
- hoarfrost [ˈhɔːfrɒst] n white frost that forms during the night.
- hoarse [hɔːs] adj [voice, cry] that sounds rough and is not strong, especially because one has been shouting or singing too much □ The boys were hoarse from cheering.
- hoax [həʊks] n an attempt by somebody to make people believe something that is not true, especially by saying that something dangerous is going to happen □ a hoax call.
- hoaxer [ˈhəʊksə] n a person who makes a hoax.
- hob [hɒb] n GB the horizontal surface on top of a stove where things are put to cook □ an electric hob.
- Hobart [ˈhəʊbɑːt] a seaport and the capital of Tasmania, Australia. It was founded as a penal colony in 1804. POPULATION: 179,900.
- hobble [ˈhɒbl] vi to walk with difficulty because one has a sore foot or leg □ Randy hobbled toward me on crutches.
- hobby [ˈhɒbi] (pl hobbies) n something one does in one's free time for pleasure and relaxation □ What are your hobbies? □ My hobby is gardening.
- hobbyhorse [ˈhɒbihɔːs] n -1. [of a person] a subject one likes to talk about whenever possible □ He's off on his hobbyhorse again. -2. [for children] a toy that consists of a model of a horse's head at the top of a stick.
- hobnob [ˈhɒnbɒb] (pt & pp hobnobbed, cont hobnobbing) vi to hobnob with sb to spend time with sb socially, especially if they are in a higher social position □ There was Pete, hobnobbing with all the important guests.
- hobo [ˈhəʊboʊ] (pl hoboes OR hobos) n US a man without a home or family who travels around and sleeps in different places.
- Ho Chi Minh City [ˌhəʊtʃiːmɪnˈsɪti] a seaport in southern Vietnam. POPULATION: 3,500,000. OLD NAME: Saigon.
- hock [hɒk] n a dry white wine from Germany □ a bottle/glass of hock.
- hockey [ˈhɒki] n -1. US a game played on ice between two teams of players who try to score points by using a long curved stick to hit a small rubber disk into each other's goal □ a game of hockey. -2. GB = field hockey.
- hockey stick n a curved stick used to hit the puck or ball in hockey.
- hocus-pocus [ˌhəʊkəsˈpəʊkəs] n confusing or meaningless words or actions intended to hide the truth from people.
- hod [hɒd] n a small open box on a pole that is used for carrying bricks.
- hodgepodge [ˈhɒdʒpɒdʒ] US, hotchpotch [ˈhɒtʃpɒtʃ] GB n a mixture of different things, not arranged in any order (informal use).
- hoe [həʊ] ◇ n a gardening tool with a long pole and small blade that is used to break up lumps of soil and to remove small plants. ◇ vt to work <land> with a hoe.
- hog [hɒg] (pt & pp hogged, cont hogging) ◇ n

-1. a pig, especially a male one that is kept for its meat. -2. to go the whole hog to do something as completely as possible, often by spending a lot of money (informal use) □ We might as well go the whole hog and order champagne. ◇ vt [road, food, attention] to take or keep <sthg> so that other people cannot have or use it (informal use) □ Stop trying to hog the wine.

Hogarth [ˈhɒɡɑːθ], William (1697–1764) a British artist who made a famous set of engravings called The Rake's Progress that show human vice and weakness.

Hogmanay [ˈhɒgməneɪ] n the name for New Year's Eve in Scotland.

hoi-polloi [ˌhɔɪpəˈlɔɪ] npl the hoi-polloi the ordinary common people, rather than the wealthy people of society (disapproving and humorous use).

hoist [hɔɪst] ◇ vt -1. [sack, child, furniture] to lift <sb/sthg> up using one's hands, by pulling ropes, or with a machine □ They had to hoist the piano in through the window. -2. [flag, sail] to pull <sthg> up along a pole using ropes. ◇ n a piece of equipment for lifting heavy objects.

Hokkaido [US ˈhɒkˈkɑɪdɒ, GB ˈhɒ-] the second largest island of Japan, in the north. SIZE: 78,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,643,647. MAIN CITY: Sapporo.

hokum [ˈhɒkəm] n US nonsense (informal use).

hold [həʊld] (pt & pp held) ◇ vt -1. [cup, book, gun] to have <sthg> in one's hand or hands □ He was holding a bunch of flowers. □ Could you hold my bag for a second? -2. [baby, kitten, bundle] to have <sb/sthg> in one's arms; [person] to put one's arms around <sb> and bring them close to one's body, especially to comfort them or show affection □ a woman holding a child □ He held her tightly in his arms until she stopped crying. -3. to keep <sthg> in a particular place or position □ Hold the lid down. □ Lee held the plank in place while I hammered in the nail. □ She held her head high. -4. [prisoner, hostage] to keep <sb> in a place against their wishes, especially for a short time □ He is being held by police for questioning. ■ to hold sb prisoner/hostage to keep sb in a place as a prisoner/hostage □ The gunmen are said to be holding five people hostage. -5. to be able to contain  □ The main hall holds 300 people. □ Each bottle holds about six glasses. -6. [power, land, money] to possess <sthg>; [license, permit, certificate] to have an <official document> □ He holds a position of great responsibility. □ Those holding shares/an interest in the company may vote. -7. [meeting, debate, talks] to cause <sthg> to take place □ Excuse me, we're trying to hold a private conversation. □ Protesters held a demonstration outside the embassy. -8. please hold the line a phrase used in business or official telephone calls to ask the caller to wait. -9. to hold sb's attention/interest to keep sb's attention/interest □ his desperate attempts to hold the attention of a group of five-year-olds. -10. MILITARY [area, town] to control  □ southern villages being held by the security forces -11. [documents, files] to contain <sthg> □ This handy rack will hold all your CDs. -12. what does the future hold? what lies ahead in the future? -13. to hold an opinion/a belief to have a particular opinion/belief □ She holds strong views on the subject. ■ to hold (that)... to consider that something is true □ The Constitution holds that all citizens are born equal. ■ to hold sb responsible for sthg to blame sb for sthg bad because one feels they should have prevented it □ I'll hold you personally responsible if anything goes wrong. ■ to hold sthg dear to be fond of sthg (formal use). -14. phrases hold it!, hold everything! a phrase used to tell somebody to stop what they are doing □ Hold everything! Here comes Sacha now. ■ to hold one's own to do as well as other people who one is competing with □ He seems to be holding his own at his new school.

◇ vi -1. [luck, weather, objection] to remain as it is, without changing □ The offer still holds. □ We can go tomorrow, if the weather holds. -2. to hold still OR steady to keep still □ Hold still while I fasten your coat! -3. [on the telephone] to wait □ The line's busy, will you hold?

◇ n -1. [of a person] the way in which somebody holds something □ He kept a tight hold on her arm. ■ to get hold of sthg to get sthg that is difficult to find □ Everyone's dying to get hold of her autobiography. ■ to get hold of sb to manage to find sb or talk to them on the phone □ I'm trying to get hold of the sales manager. □ Where can we get hold of you over the weekend? ■ to keep hold of sthg to continue holding sthg in one's hand □ Keep hold of my hand. ■ to take OR lay hold of sthg to put one's hands around sthg and hold it □ Here, take hold of this rope. -2. [in a ship, aircraft] the place in a ship or aircraft where goods are stored. -3. to have a hold on OR over sb to be able to control sb because one knows something bad about them or is in a powerful position □ That man seems to have some sort of hold on her! -4. phrase to take hold [fire, blaze] to start burning strongly.

◆ hold against vt sep to hold sthg against sb to continue to feel angry towards sb because of sthg bad they did in the past □ I didn't give her the job and she's held it against me ever since. □ Go if you like, I won't hold it against you.

◆ hold back ◇ vi [person] not to do something because one is not sure what the result will be □ He held back from telling them what he really thought. ◇ vt sep -1. to hold sthg back [rage, laughter] to try not to show sthg □ She struggled to hold back the tears. -2. to hold sthg back [news, information, fact] to keep sthg secret □ You're holding something back from me! -3. to hold sb back [crowd] to prevent sb from moving forward; [employee, pupil] to prevent sb from doing what they want, to do □ Police tried to hold back the demonstrators. □ Don't let me hold you back from working.

◆ hold down vt sep -1. to hold down a job to stay employed in a job □ He's never managed to hold down a job for more than six months. -2. to hold sthg down [prices, rates] to prevent sthg from rising □ Tight monetary policies have held inflation down to 2%.

◆ hold off ◇ vt sep to hold sb off [attacker, army] to stop sb from getting too close to one □ I can't hold off the reporters any longer. ◇ vi the rain held off it looked as if it would rain but it didn't.

◆ hold on vi to wait for a short time □ We'll have to hold on until Tuesday for the results. □ Hold on a moment and I'll go and get him for you.

◆ hold onto vt fus -1. to hold onto sthg [onto a rope, bannister, the reins] to hold sthg firmly with one's hand or hands □ Hold onto the rail or you'll fall! -2. to hold onto sthg [onto power, a belief, one's job] to keep sthg and not lose it or throw it away □ You should have held onto those old records, they'd be worth a fortune now.

◆ hold out ◇ vt sep to hold sthg out [hand, arm, object] to move sthg away from one's body, usually when offering it to another person □ She came up to us, holding out two glasses of wine. ◇ vi -1. [food, water, supply] to last □ We'll stay as long as the money holds out. -2. [rebel, striker, union] to fight for as long as possible against a stronger enemy or an undesirable change □ The garrison held out for another month before surrendering.

◆ hold out for vt fus to hold out for sthg not to accept something one has been offered and wait for sthg better □ Nurses have turned down the 3% offer and are holding out for 4.5%.

◆ hold up vt sep -1. to hold sthg up [hand, object] to raise sthg in the air so that it can be seen □ She held up the photograph to the light. -2. to hold sthg up [production, traffic, person] to delay sb/sthg □ Sorry I'm late, I got held up at the office. -3. to hold a bank/store/train etc up to threaten people in a bank/store/train etc with a weapon and then steal money from them □ He was held up at gunpoint by masked raiders.

◆ hold with vt fus to hold with sthg to approve of sthg □ I don't hold with that kind of behavior!

holdall ['houldɔ:l] n a large bag with handles in which people carry their clothes and other personal things when traveling.

holder ['houldə] n -1. something that is designed to hold a particular object □ a cigarette holder □ a CD holder. -2. a person who owns or has a particular thing □ 'Ticket holders only.'

holding ['houldɪŋ] ◇ n -1. FINANCE an investment or share in a company □ We have a 30% holding in the company. -2. FARMING a piece of land that is farmed by the person who owns or rents it. ◇ adj a holding operation OR action something that one does to try to stop a situation from getting worse □ The best we can do is a holding operation.

holding company n a company that has most of the shares in another company.

holdup ['houldʌp] n -1. a robbery where people are threatened with a gun □ This is a holdup! -2. a delay □ I'm sorry about the holdup in sending you the information.

hole [hou] n -1. a hollow or empty space in something solid □ You've got a hole in your sleeve. □ The workmen dug a deep hole in the ground. ■ to pick holes in sthg [in a theory, argument] to find faults in sthg □ He's always picking holes in my ideas. -2. SPORT in golf, one of the small round holes that the ball is hit into. ■ a hole in one a successful attempt to hit the ball into one of the holes with only one stroke. -3. a place one thinks is unattractive or boring (informal use) □ This town's a real hole! -4. a situation that is difficult to get out of (informal use).

◆ hole up vi to hide in a particular place to avoid trouble (informal use) □ Do you mind if I hole up with you for a while?

holiday ['hɒlədeɪ] n -1. GB a time when one can rest and enjoy oneself away from home; a time when one does not have to go to work or school □ We're spending our holidays in Spain this year. □ I have two weeks' holiday coming up. □ a walking/cycling holiday □ I'm on holiday! ■ to go on holiday to go to a place away from home for one's holiday □ The neighbors have gone on holiday. -2. a day when everyone who does not do essential work has a rest □ Monday is a public holiday.

holiday camp n GB a place that provides accommodation and entertainment, where people can go to spend their vacation □ They stayed at a holiday camp in Wales.

holiday loading n in Australia, an extra payment given to most employees when they take their main vacations.

holidaymaker ['hɒlədeɪmeɪkə] n GB a person who is on vacation □ The plane was full of holidaymakers.

holiday pay n GB pay that one receives from one's employer when one is on vacation □ There is no mention of holiday pay in my contract.

holiday resort n GB a place where people go on vacation □ What was a sleepy coastal village has become a fashionable holiday resort.

holiday season n GB the period of the year, usually in the summer, when most people go on vacation.

holiness ['həʊlɪnəs] n: see holy □ the holiness of God.

◆ Holiness n His/Your Holiness the words used when talking about/to the Pope and some other religious leaders.

holistic [hou'listɪk] adj [solution, approach] that is based on the idea that a person or thing should be considered as a whole and not just as a collection of different parts. ■ holistic medicine a way of treating people by looking at not only their illness but also their social background, mental state etc.

Holland ['hɒlənd] = Netherlands.

hollandaise sauce [,hɒləndeɪz-] n a rich sauce made with eggs and butter.

holler ['hɒlə] (informal use) ◇ vi to shout loudly □ He just stood there, hollering at me. ◇ vt: 'Watch out!' he hollered.

hollow

hollow ['hɒləʊ] ◇ adj -1. [tree, bracelet, statue] that has an empty space inside □ There was a hollow space behind the wall. □ All that remained of the house was a hollow shell. -2. [cheeks, eyes] that have sunk inward. -3. [sound, noise] that echoes □ The door closed with a hollow thud. -4. [promise, threat, victory] that has no real value or meaning □ With so much lost already, any victory is likely to prove hollow. ■ a hollow laugh a laugh that shows that one does not really find something funny.

◇ n -1. an empty space in something such as a tree □ He had great hollows in his cheeks. -2. a part of something, especially the ground, that is lower than the surrounding area □ The cottage was in a hollow in the woods.

◆ hollow out vt sep to hollow sth out [tree trunk, log] to remove the inside part of sthg; [shape, canoe] to make sthg by removing the inside part of something else.

holly ['hɒli] n an evergreen bush with dark green prickly leaves and red berries.

hollyhock ['hɒlihɒk] n a tall garden plant with a thick hairy stem and large white, red, yellow, or purple flowers.

Hollywood ['hɒliwɒd] -1. an area of Los Angeles, California. It is the center of the US movie industry. -2. the movie industry in the USA □ a Hollywood movie star □ Hollywood studios.

Holmes [hɒmz], Sherlock the hero of the detective stories by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. He smokes a pipe, plays the violin, and is very good at solving mysteries.

holocaust ['hɒləkɔːst] n great destruction and the killing of many people □ a nuclear holocaust.

◆ Holocaust n the Holocaust the organized killing of many Jews in Europe by Nazi Germany □ She lost her entire family in the Holocaust.

hologram [US 'hɒləgræm, GB 'hɒl-] n a three-dimensional picture made with lasers.

Holst [hɒlst], Gustav (1874–1934) a British composer, whose major orchestral work is The Planets.

holster ['hɒlstə] n a holder for a gun, attached to a belt.

holy ['həʊli] (compar holier, superl holiest) adj -1. [book, image, place] that is connected with God and is therefore considered to be special □ Jerusalem is the holy city of three religions. -2. [person] who leads a good and religious life □ He always led a pure and holy life.

Holy Communion n a Christian service in which bread and wine are shared to represent Christ's last meal with his 12 disciples.

Holy Family n the Holy Family Jesus, Mary, and Joseph.

Holy Ghost n the Holy Ghost in the Christian religion, the presence of God, often pictured as a white dove.

Holy Grail [-'greɪl] n the Holy Grail the cup that Christ is said to have drunk from at the Last Supper and that many legendary characters have searched for.

Holy Land: the Holy Land a term for a region of the Middle East, between the Jordan River and the Mediterranean, where most of the Bible stories took place.

holy orders npl to take holy orders to become a priest.

Holy Spirit n = Holy Ghost.

homage ['hɒmɪdʒ] n something that one says or does that shows great respect for a person in authority or whom one admires (formal use) □ The movie is intended as a homage to Chandler. ■ to pay homage to sb/sthg to show great respect to sb/sthg □ Mr Nikolov paid homage to the bravery of ordinary Russians.

home [həʊm] ◇ n -1. the building or place where one lives □ the family home □ London's my home now. □ They made their home in Milan for a while. □ The marshes are home to thousands of wading birds. ■ a home away from home US, a home from home GB a place that is as comfortable, well-equipped, pleasant etc as one's own home □ Our place on Long Island has always been a home away from home for the kids. -2. [of a movement, style] the place where somebody or something comes from □ New Orleans is the home of jazz. -3. [family] a person's house and family □ a broken/happy home □ She came from a normal middle-class home. ■ to leave home to stop living with one's family, especially because one is old enough to live alone □ She left home at 16 to work in a factory. -4. [for children, old people] a place where a particular group of people or animals that cannot look after themselves are cared for □ a children's/dogs' home □ She wants to put her mother in an old people's home.

◇ adj -1. home life one's life with one's family ■ home furnishings furnishings designed for the home ■ home cooking cooking that is done at home □ a few home comforts. -2. home news/affairs news/affairs connected with one's own country, not foreign countries □ our home affairs correspondent □ We are having to cater for an expanding home market. -3. SPORT a home game a game that is played at a team's own field □ another home win for Juventus.

◇ adv -1. [go, walk, hurry] to or at one's house □ He took her home to meet his parents. □ She should be home shortly. -2. [return, fly] to one's own country from abroad □ Illegal immigrants were being sent home. -3. to bring sthg home to sb to make sb understand how important sthg is □ Recent price increases have brought home to the public the risks of inflation. ■ to drive OR hammer sthg home to make sthg clearly understood in a forceful way □ Her speech really hammered home the message.

◆ at home adv -1. [be, stay, work] in one's house □ I've left my briefcase at home. -2. to feel at home to feel relaxed and comfortable □ I never feel very at home in their apartment. ■ to be OR feel at home with sthg to be familiar with sthg so that one uses or does it with confidence □ I feel quite at home with a left-hand drive car. ■ to make oneself at home to behave in a relaxed manner as if one was in one's own house □ Make yourselves at home

- while I put the coffee on. -3. in one's own country □ The stores don't shut in the middle of the day at home. -4. SPORT to play at home [team, player] to play at the ground where one is based.
- ♦ home in on vt fus to home in on sthg [fact, problem, mistake] to give all one's attention to sthg small; [target, prey] to find sthg or be aimed at it and attack it □ I'd like to home in on something you just said. □ The missiles are homing in on their target.
- home address n the address of the house or apartment where one lives □ Please send the check to my home address.
- home banking n a system of banking where all business is done by home computer or telephone, so that one does not need to go to the bank.
- home base n the fourth and last base on a baseball field, that is also the homeplate.
- home brew n beer that one makes oneself at home.
- homecoming ['həʊmkʌmɪŋ] n -1. somebody's return to a place they have not seen for a long time □ It was an emotional homecoming for me. -2. EDUCATION an annual celebration at a college or university in the USA for people who used to be students there.
- home computer n a small computer for personal use at home.
- home cooking n food that one prepares and cooks oneself at home.
- Home Counties: the Home Counties the counties in southeastern England around London.
- home economics n a subject at school that deals with cooking, sewing, and how to run a home.
- home fries npl US boiled potatoes that have been sliced and fried.
- home ground n -1. to be on home ground to be in a place that one knows very well □ When the train crossed the border, I felt like I was on home ground. -2. to be on home ground to be dealing with a subject that one knows very well □ If you've studied computing before, you'll be on home ground here. -3. SPORT the stadium, field etc that belongs to a particular team and which is their local base □ The team will be playing on (its) home ground.
- homegrown [,həʊm'grəʊn] adj [fruit, vegetable] that one has grown in one's own garden; that has been grown in one's country □ These tomatoes are homegrown.
- home help n GB a person employed by the social services to go to the homes of sick or old people and help them with cleaning and cooking.
- home improvements npl work that one does to one's home to make it more comfortable or attractive.
- homeland ['həʊmlænd] n -1. the country where one was born. -2. one of the areas that were set aside for the Black population under the apartheid system in South Africa.
- homeless ['həʊmləs] ◊ adj [person, family] that has nowhere to live □ Thousands of people were made homeless by the storms. ◊ npl the homeless people, especially in a city, who have nowhere to live □ New York's homeless.
- homelessness ['həʊmləsənəs] n: see homeless □ the growing problem of homelessness.
- home loan n a loan that one gets in order to buy a house.
- homely ['həʊmli] adj -1. US [person, face] unattractive □ She's a rather homely girl. -2. GB [place, food, atmosphere] simple but comfortable □ The house looked small and homely.
- homemade [,həʊm'meɪd] adj [jam, bread, wine] that has been made by somebody in their own home, not bought in a store □ homemade marmalade.
- home movie n a movie that one makes of a family occasion, vacation etc and that is intended to be shown at home, not in a movie theater.
- Home Office n the Home Office the British government department that deals with law and order, immigration, and broadcasting.
- homeopath ['həʊmɪəpəθ] n a person qualified to practice homeopathy.
- homeopathic [,həʊmɪə'pæθɪk] adj [remedy, treatment, medicine] see homeopathy.
- homeopathy [,həʊmɪ'ɒpəθi] n a kind of alternative medicine that treats illness with very small amounts of natural substances.
- homeowner ['həʊməʊnə] n a person who owns their house or apartment.
- homeplate ['həʊmpleɪt] n in baseball, the place where the umpire, the catcher, and the batter stand.
- Homer ['həʊmə] (8th century BC) a Greek poet, whose long poems the Iliad and the Odyssey are very important in the history of Western literature.
- Homer, Winslow (1836–1910) a US painter who is well known for his paintings of the sea.
- home rule n government of an area or country by its own citizens.
- home run n a long hit in baseball that allows the player to score a run.
- Home Secretary n the Home Secretary the British government minister in charge of the Home Office.
- home shopping n a way of buying things by ordering them by telephone or computer after seeing them on a special TV channel or computer link.
- homesick ['həʊmsɪk] adj [person] who is unhappy because they are away from home □ Don't you ever get homesick?
- homesickness ['həʊmsɪkənəs] n [of person] see homesick □ I used to suffer from terrible homesickness when I was working overseas.
- homespun ['həʊmspʌn] adj [philosophy, ideal] simple and ordinary □ Dave's homespun theories about how to run the country really annoy me.
- homestay ['həʊmsteɪ] n AUS homestay (accommodation) bed and breakfast accommodation in a private home.

homestead ['həʊmsted] n US a farmhouse and the land around it.

Homestead Act n the Homestead Act a law passed in 1862 that aimed to encourage agricultural development in the west of the USA by giving land to settlers to farm.

home straight n GB = home stretch.

home stretch n US the home stretch [of a race] the final part of a race; [of a job, trip] the last stage of something.

hometown ['həʊm'taʊn] n the town where one was born or grew up.

home truth n an unpleasant fact about somebody that somebody else tells them □ It's about time he was told a few home truths.

homeward ['həʊmwərd] ◇ adj [trip] in the direction of home. ◇ adv = homewards.

homewards ['həʊmwərdz] adv [go, travel] in the direction of home □ I headed homewards.

homework ['həʊmwɜ:k] n -1. EDUCATION the work that teachers give their students to do at home □ I do my homework regularly. -2. to do one's homework to find out information about something so that one is prepared for something one does later.

homey ['həʊmi] (compar homier, superl homiest) adj US [restaurant, atmosphere] that is relaxed and comfortable.

homicidal [,hɒmɪ'saɪdl] adj [person] who is likely to murder somebody □ a homicidal maniac.

homicide ['hɒmɪsaɪd] n the crime of murder (formal use).

homily ['hɒməli] (pl homilies) n a long boring talk in which somebody usually criticizes another person and tells them how to behave □ She gave me the usual homily about respecting one's elders.

homing ['həʊmɪŋ] adj -1. the homing instinct the ability that a bird or animal has to remember its way back home after traveling long distances. -2. a homing device a device in a weapon that guides it to its target.

homing pigeon n a pigeon that can find its way back home after flying long distances.

homoeopath etc ['həʊmɪəpəθ] = homeopath etc.

homogeneous [,həʊmə'dʒi:nɪəs] adj [group, class, community] that is made up of people or things of the same kind □ The region is culturally homogeneous.

NOTE: Compare heterogeneous.

homogenize, -ise [hə'mɒdʒənəɪz] vt to mix <milk> so that the cream is evenly spread.

homosexual [,həʊmə'sekʃʊəl] ◇ n a person who is sexually attracted to people of the same sex as themselves. ◇ adj: a homosexual man/woman/relationship.

homosexuality [,həʊmə'sekʃʊə'lɪtɪ] n: see homosexual.

homy ['həʊmi] adj US = homey.

Hon. -1. abbr of Honourable. -2. abbr of Honorary.

Honduras [hɒn'dʒʊərəs] a country in Central America, between Guatemala and Nicaragua. SIZE: 112,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,600,000 (Hondurans). CAPITAL: Tegucigalpa. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: lempira.

hone [həʊn] vt -1. [knife, blade] to sharpen <sthg> □ a honed sword. -2. [one's skill, intellect] to develop and improve <sthg> over a long period of time □ Rees honed his journalistic skills writing for a local paper.

honest ['hɒnɪst] ◇ adj -1. [person] who does not break the law and can be trusted □ an honest law-abiding citizen. -2. [person, answer, opinion] frank and truthful □ Let's be honest with each other, we've both behaved badly. ■ to be honest,... a phrase used to show that one is giving a frank opinion □ To be honest, I don't care. -3. [means, living] that does not involve breaking the law □ The honest thing to do would be to hand the wallet in to the police. ◇ adv a word used to emphasize that one is not lying (informal use) □ I didn't do it, honest!

honestly ['hɒnɪstli] ◇ adv -1. [live, act] truthfully or according to the law □ I'll try to answer the questions honestly. -2. a word used to emphasize that one is not lying □ I did try, honestly! ◇ excl a word used to express impatience or annoyance □ Honestly, this is so unfair!

honesty ['hɒnɪsti] n [of a person, answer, opinion] see honest □ Honesty is the best policy.

honey ['hʌni] n -1. a sweet sticky substance made by bees, often eaten on bread and used in cooking □ I take honey in my tea rather than sugar. -2. US a word used to talk to a person one is fond of (informal use) □ Honey, I'm home!

honeybee ['hʌnɪbi:] n a kind of bee which makes honey.

honeycomb ['hʌnɪkəʊm] n -1. a wax structure made by bees in which they store honey. -2. a pattern like a honeycomb.

honeymoon ['hʌnɪmu:n] ◇ n -1. the vacation which a couple take immediately after getting married □ We went there on our honeymoon. -2. the short period of time at the beginning of a new administration, business deal etc when everybody involved is happy and enthusiastic □ The new President is enjoying a honeymoon period with the electorate. ◇ vi [couple] to go on honeymoon □ They're honeymooning in Paris.

honeysuckle ['hʌnɪsʌkl] n a climbing plant with pale-yellow flowers that smell sweet.

Hong Kong [,hɒŋ'kɒŋ] a British colony in southeastern China, consisting of a group of islands and part of the mainland. A major banking, commercial, and industrial center, it will be given back to China in 1997. SIZE: 1,034 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,800,000. CAPITAL: Victoria. LANGUAGE: English, Cantonese. CURRENCY: Hong Kong dollar.

honk [hɒŋk] ◇ n -1. [of a car] the loud noise made by a car horn. -2. [of a goose] the loud noise made by a goose. ◇ vt [driver, car] to sound . ◇ vi -1. [driver, car] The bus honked at me to move. -2. [goose] The geese honked at the passing boats.

honky▼ ['hɒŋki] (pl honkies) n US a white person (offensive use).

Honolulu [ˌhɒnəˈluːluː] the capital of Hawaii. It is a major port and tourist center. POPULATION: 365,272.

honor US, honour GB ['ɒnə] ◇ n -1. great respect and admiration that people have for somebody; morally correct behavior □ He did it for the honor of the family. □ a man of honor. -2. to be an honor to sthg [to one's school, family] to bring respect to sthg □ She's an honor to her country. -3. a pleasure □ It would be an honor. ◇ vt -1. [contract, agreement] to keep to the terms of  □ Both sides agreed to honor the ceasefire. -2. to be honored to be proud and pleased (formal use) □ I'm honored to meet you.

◆ Honor n His/Her/Your Honor the words used when talking about/to a judge.

◆ honors npl -1. marks of respect □ The soldier was buried with full military honors. -2. EDUCATION a level of a degree which is higher than the basic level □ She passed her degree with honors. -3. to do the honors to act as a host to one's guests by e.g. serving them food or drink; to introduce people to each other □ I'll do the honors, shall I?

◆ in honor of prep as a mark of respect for <sb/sthg> □ A holiday was declared in honor of the President's visit.

honorable US, honourable GB ['ɒnərəbl] adj [action, decision, conduct] that is worthy of respect; [person] who behaves in a morally correct way □ He made an honorable withdrawal from the contest.

◆ Honourable adj the Honourable a title used when talking to or about a Member of the British House of Commons □ the Honourable member for Cambridge.

honorably US, honourably GB ['ɒnərəblɪ] adv [act, behave, treat] see honorable □ If we lose, we must lose honorably.

honorary [US 'ɒnərəri, GB 'ɒnrəri] adj -1. [membership, title] that is given as a mark of respect □ He was awarded an honorary degree by Oxford University. -2. [position, treasurer] that is not paid □ I'm acting as honorary secretary.

honor bound adj to be honor bound to do sthg to feel that it is right to do sthg even though it may not be in one's interest □ I felt honor bound to tell the truth.

honor roll n US a list of people at a school, college, or some other institution who have performed well.

honors degree n a degree which is higher than the basic level.

honor etc GB = honor etc.

honours list n in Britain, a list of people who are to be given titles by the Queen as a sign of respect for the things they have done.

Hons. GB abbr of honours degree.

Hon. Sec. abbr of honorary secretary.

Honshu ['hɒnʃuː] the largest island of Japan, containing most of its main cities. SIZE: 230,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 99,254,194.

hooch [hu:tʃ] n a strong alcoholic drink that is brewed illegally (informal use).

hood [hʊd] n -1. CLOTHING the part of a coat or jacket that can be put up to cover one's head □ Put your hood up, it's raining. -2. a part of a car, baby carriage etc that covers it and that can be put up and down □ We drove along with the hood down. -3. US AUTO the metal panel that covers the engine in a car □ I'll take a quick look under the hood.

hooded ['hʊdəd] adj -1. [gunman, robber] who has a hood or hat pulled over their face to avoid being recognized. -2. hooded eyes eyes that look partly closed because they have large eyelids.

hoodlum ['hʊːdləm] n a violent person who belongs to a gang or criminal organization.

hoodwink ['hʊdwiŋk] vt to trick <sb> by behaving in a clever way □ The old lady was hoodwinked into handing over her life savings.

hooley ['hʊːli] n US nonsense (informal use).

hoof [hu:f] (pl hoofs OR hooves) n the hard part of the feet of some animals, e.g. cows and horses □ a horse's hoof.

hook [hʊk] ◇ n -1. [for hanging things] a curved piece of metal, plastic etc for hanging things on □ I hung up my jacket on a hook. □ a clothes/picture hook. -2. [for catching fish] a bent piece of metal that is attached to a line and used for catching fish. -3. CLOTHING a metal fastener on a dress, skirt etc. ■ a hook and eye a type of fastener for clothes that consists of a metal hook held in place by a metal loop.

◇ vt -1. to attach <sth> to something else with a hook □ You can hook the exercise machine to a door handle. -2. to catch  with a hook □ We've hooked several trout today. -3. to put <an arm, leg> etc around something □ He hooked his arm around my neck.

◆ off the hook adv -1. to take/leave the phone OR receiver off the hook to take/leave the receiver off the phone so that it cannot ring □ Either the line's busy or the phone's off the hook. -2. to get off the hook to avoid being punished □ His lawyer succeeded in getting him off the hook.

◆ hook up vt sep to hook sb/sthg up [person, computer, telephone] to connect sb/sthg to a larger system □ We're hooked up to our head office by satellite.

Hook [hʊk], Captain a character in Peter Pan by J.M. Barrie. He is an evil pirate, who has a hook instead of one of his hands.

hooked [hʊkt] adj -1. [nose, claw] that is shaped like a hook. -2. to be hooked on sthg to be addicted to sthg (informal use) □ Kids today are hooked on TV.

hooker ['hʊkə] n a prostitute (informal use).

hook(e)y ['hʊki] n US to play hook(e)y to stay away from school without permission (informal use) □ We were caught playing hooky.

hooligan ['hʊːlɪgən] n a noisy violent young person who causes trouble in public □ a gang of hooligans □ the hooligan element in society.

hooliganism ['hʊːlɪgənɪzəm] n the violent behavior of hooligans □ an attempt to stamp out hooliganism in our streets.

hoop [hu:p] n -1. a large circle of metal, wood, plastic etc □ a metal hoop. -2. GAMES a children's toy in the shape of a hoop.

hoop-la ['hu:plɑ:] n GB a game where people try to throw small hoops over objects to win them.

hooray [hu'rei] excl a word used to show that one is happy and excited □ Hooray! I've won!

Hoosier ['hu:ʒɪr] n a person who comes from Indiana (informal use).

hoot [hu:t] ◇ n -1. [of an owl] the sound made by an owl. -2. [of a horn, car, truck] the loud noise made by the horn of a car or truck. -3. a loud high-pitched laugh □ She gave a loud hoot of laughter. -4. to be a hoot to be very enjoyable and funny (informal use) □ What a hoot! ◇ vi -1. [owl] to make a hoot. -2. [horn] to make a hoot; [driver] to sound a horn □ Why is he hooting at me? -3. to laugh with a loud high-pitched voice (informal use) □ He hooted with laughter. ◇ vt to hoot one's horn to sound the horn of one's car □ Everybody started hooting their horns at each other.

hooter ['hu:tə] n GB the horn of a car □ 'Press here to sound the hooter.' □ a car hooter.

HooverTM ['hu:və] n GB a vacuum cleaner.

◆ hoover GB ◇ vt [floor, room, carpet] to clean <sthg> with a vacuum cleaner. ◇ vi: The maid dusts, hooovers, irons, and cooks for us.

Hoover ['hu:və], Herbert (1874–1964) US President from 1929 to 1933.

Hoover, J. Edgar (1895–1972) a US lawyer who was director of the FBI from 1924 to 1972.

hooves [hu:vz] plural of hoof.

hop [hɒp] (pt & pp hopped, cont hopping) ◇ n -1. [of a person] a jump on one leg □ He took a couple of hops, then asked for his crutches. -2. [of a frog, rabbit, bird] a jump on two legs. -3. a short trip □ From London to Paris is now just a short hop across the Channel. ◇ vi -1. [person] to jump on one leg □ He was hopping from foot to foot to keep warm. -2. [frog, rabbit, bird] to jump on two legs □ A robin hopped onto the lawn. -3. to go to a place nearby quickly and for a short time □ I'm just hopping over to the post office to buy a stamp. ◇ vt (informal use) -1. US to ride on  etc. -2. phrase hop it! go away!

◆ hops npl the dried flowers of a plant that are used to flavor beer.

hope [həʊp] ◇ vi to want something that is outside one's control to happen or to be true □ We're hoping for a baby girl. □ I'm hoping for a pay raise next year. ■ I hope so/not a phrase used when one wants/does not want something that another person has said to happen or to be true □ "Is James coming?" — "I hope so." □ "You didn't forget your wallet, did you?" — "I hope not." ■ to hope for the best to want something to happen even though one is not very confident that it will □ All we can do is hope for the best.

◇ vt: I hope (that) you've enjoyed your visit. □ I hope to finish the job by tomorrow.

◇ n -1. a desire for something that is beyond one's control to be true or to happen □ My hope is that one day we'll find the answer. □ our hopes and dreams for the future. ■ I don't hold out much hope I don't have many reasons to be hopeful. -2. a chance that makes something possible; belief in this chance □ They've no hope of winning now. □ Never lose hope. □ Hopes are fading for those still trapped underground. ■ in the hope because one hopes for a particular thing □ I went in the hope of meeting new friends or in the hope that I'd meet new friends. ■ to pin one's hopes on sb/sthg to make sb/sthg one's main hope. □ Try not to pin all your hopes on this one project. ■ to raise sb's hopes to make sb have more hope that something will happen □ I said nothing because I didn't want to raise his hopes. -3. a person or thing that can help somebody in a difficult situation □ You're my last hope. □ Stein is America's best hope in the men's 100 m.

hope chest n US things that are useful in a house that a woman collects before she gets married.

hopeful ['həʊpfʊl] ◇ adj -1. [person] who feels confident that something they want to happen will happen □ Both sides in the dispute are hopeful that a settlement can be reached. □ We are hopeful of having our offer accepted. -2. [sign, future, news] that makes one feel that what one wants to happen will happen □ Things don't look too hopeful right now. ◇ n a person who wishes to be chosen for a particular job, especially an acting role □ Dozens of young hopefuls lined up for the auditions.

hopefully ['həʊpfʊli] adv -1. hopefully... a word used to show that one hopes something is true or will happen □ Hopefully I'll have been paid by next week. -2. [smile, look] see hopeful □ He looked up hopefully as Mr Lee walked in.

hopeless ['həʊpləs] adj -1. [person] who has lost all hope □ I felt completely hopeless and alone. -2. [situation, case, life] that has no chance of succeeding or improving □ Thousands of viewers were moved by the hopeless plight of these starving children. -3. [person] who is not good at something (informal use) □ I've always been hopeless at math.

hopelessly ['həʊpləsli] adv -1. [weep, speak] without hope □ "It's over!" she said hopelessly. -2. hopelessly bad/lost etc very bad/lost etc □ We're hopelessly in debt.

Hopi ['həʊpi:] n a Native American people living in Arizona; the language of this people.

hopper ['hɒpə] n a large container, shaped like a funnel, for cereals, coal etc.

Hopper ['hɒpə], Edward (1882–1967) a US painter. He is known for his realistic pictures of city life.

hopping ['hɒpɪŋ] adv to be hopping mad to be very angry (informal use).

hopscotch ['hɒpskɒtʃ] n a children's game played by jumping on squares marked on the ground.

horde [hɔ:'d] n a large group of people (disap- proving use) □ Hordes of tourists invade the beaches in summer.

- horizon [hə'raɪzn] n the line far away between the highest part of the sea or land and the sky □ The sun rose above the horizon. ■ to be on the horizon [ship, figure] to be visible on the horizon; [prospect, opportunity] to be going to happen quite soon □ A cloud appeared on the horizon. □ The rumor is that a promotion may be on the horizon.
- ◆ horizons npl the limits of one's ambitions or experience □ Foreign travel always broadens one's horizons.
- horizontal [ˌhɒrɪ'zɒntl] ◇ adj [line, position] that is flat and parallel to the ground □ The body lay horizontal on the floor. ◇ n the horizontal a horizontal line or position □ Raise your arm to the horizontal.
- hormone ['hɔː'moun] n a chemical produced by a gland in the body that causes specific changes in the body □ He was injected with a hormone to promote growth.
- hormone replacement therapy n a medical treatment given to some women when their periods stop in middle age. It replaces the hormones no longer produced by the body and reduces the unpleasant effects some women experience when their periods stop.
- horn [hɔː'n] n -1. [of a cow, sheep, bull] a long hard growth on either side of an animal's head that is usually curved and pointed at the end; the hard material that this is made of □ The male has horns on its head. □ a horn spoon/handle. -2. MUSIC any instrument made of metal or horn that is used to make a sound □ the horn section. -3. [of a car, ship] a device on a vehicle that makes a loud noise as a warning or signal □ a car horn □ He sounded the horn.
- hornet ['hɔː'nɒt] n a large wasp that stings.
- Horn of Africa: the Horn of Africa a region of east Africa that includes Somalia, Djibouti, Eritrea, and part of Ethiopia.
- horn-rimmed ['-rɪmd] adj horn-rimmed spectacles OR glasses glasses that have frames made of horn or plastic that is colored to look like horn.
- horny ['hɔː'ni] (compar hornier, superl horniest) adj -1. [substance] that is hard and made of horn or of a material like horn □ a horny claw/fingernail. -2. [hand, skin] that is hard and rough. -3. ▽ [person] who feels sexually excited (very informal use).
- horoscope ['hɒrəskəʊp] n information about a person's character and future life, based on the position of the planets when they were born or at any particular time □ Do you want me to read your horoscope?
- horrendous [hɒ'rendəs] adj -1. [murder, violence, scene] frightening and very unpleasant □ It was a horrendous experience. -2. [weather, mess, waste] that is very bad especially because there is so much of it (informal use) □ a horrendous traffic jam □ There's a horrendous amount of work to do.
- horrible ['hɒrəbl] adj -1. [accident, murder] un-
- pleasant and shocking. -2. [person, place, experience] very unpleasant □ You horrible little boy! □ I've had a horrible day today. □ horrible weather.
- horribly ['hɒrəblɪ] adv -1. to be horribly killed/tortured etc to be killed/tortured etc in an unpleasant and shocking way. -2. horribly late/expensive etc very late/expensive etc (informal use) □ It all went horribly wrong!
- horrid ['hɒrəd] adj [person, place, idea] very unpleasant □ She's being horrid to me.
- horrific [hɒ'rifɪk] adj [scene, murder, violence] very shocking and unpleasant □ He had horrific injuries to his legs.
- horrify ['hɒrɪfaɪ] (vt & pp horrified) vt to shock <sb> very much □ The news horrified the whole nation.
- horrifying ['hɒrɪfaɪɪŋ] adj [violence, picture, idea] shocking and unpleasant □ It was a horrifying thought.
- horror ['hɒrə] n -1. a strong feeling of shock and fear □ The thought filled me with horror. □ a feeling of horror. ■ to my/his etc horror a phrase used to show that an event, piece of information etc is shocking and unpleasant for somebody □ To her horror, a brick came crashing through the window. -2. to have a horror of sthg to have a strong dislike for sthg □ She has a horror of spiders. -3. a frightening experience □ the horrors of war.
- horror movie n a frightening movie, usually one that deals with supernatural things, e.g. ghosts or vampires.
- horror-struck adj to be horror-struck to be very shocked.
- hors d'oeuvre [ˌɔː'ɪ'dɔːv] (pl hors d'oeuvres) n -1. US a small amount of cold food, e.g. pieces of meat or cheese, served with drinks before a meal. -2. GB a small amount of food eaten at the beginning of a meal.
- horse [hɔː's] n a large four-legged animal with hooves that people ride or use to pull things.
- horseback ['hɔː'sbæk] ◇ adj a horseback rider a rider on a horse. ■ horseback riding the activity of riding a horse as a sport or pastime. ◇ n to be on horseback [person] to be on a horse □ He rode there on horseback.
- horsebox ['hɔː'sbɒks] n GB = horse trailer.
- horse chestnut n -1. a horse chestnut (tree) a large tree with big leaves made up of several parts and white or pink flowers. -2. the shiny brown nut produced by a horse chestnut tree.
- horse-drawn adj a horse-drawn carriage/cart a carriage/cart that is pulled by one or more horses.
- horsefly ['hɔː'sflaɪ] (pl horseflies) n a large fly that bites people, horses, and cattle.
- horsehair ['hɔː'sheə] n hair from the tail or mane of a horse that in the past was used in the soft parts of furniture or to make cloth □ a horsehair sofa/blanket.
- horseman ['hɔː'smən] (pl horsemen [-mən]) n a man who rides a horse □ He's a fine horseman. □ a group of horsemen.

horseplay ['hɔː'spleɪ] n rough noisy behavior by young people who are enjoying themselves.

horsepower ['hɔː'spaʊə] n a unit (745.7 watts) used for measuring the power of an engine □ a 300-horsepower engine.

horse racing n the sport of racing horses, in which the owner of the horse that wins usually receives a large sum of money.

horseradish ['hɔː'srædɪʃ] n a plant with a white root which has a strong flavor and is used to make a sauce usually eaten with meat □ horseradish sauce.

horse riding n the activity of riding horses as a sport or pastime □ We sometimes go horse riding at weekends.

horseshoe ['hɔː'sʃuː] n -1. a piece of metal shaped like the letter "U" that is attached to each of a horse's four feet to protect them against hard surfaces. -2. a shape like a horseshoe; a piece of card or plastic in this shape that is given to people as a symbol of good luck □ a lucky horseshoe.

horse show n a sports competition in which riders on horseback take part in one or more different events indoors or outdoors.

horse-trading n the process of trying to reach an agreement (disapproving use).

horse trailer n US a large container on wheels that is pulled by a vehicle and is used for transporting horses in.

horse trials npl a sports competition held outdoors in which riders on horseback all take part in the same three events.

horsewhip ['hɔː'swɪp] (vt & pp horsewhipped, cont horsewhipping) vt to hit <sb> with a whip used for controlling horses.

horsewoman ['hɔː'swʊmən] (pl horsewomen) n she's a good horsewoman she's good at riding horses.

horticultural [,hɔː'tɪ'kʌltʃrəl] adj [society, skill, expert] that is connected with horticulture.

horticulture ['hɔː'tɪkʌltʃə] n the practice of growing flowers, fruit, and vegetables in gardens.

hose [hoʊz] ◇ n a long, flexible, plastic pipe that is attached to a faucet at one end and used to spread water onto gardens, cars, fires etc □ a garden hose □ a fireman's hose. ◇ npl US a piece of clothing worn by women, usually made of very fine nylon material, that covers the legs from the waist to the toes and fits close to the skin □ a pair of hose. ◇ vt [garden, lawn] to water <sthg> using a hose.

◆ hose down vt sep to hose sthg down [car, path] to clean sthg using a hose □ Dad was outside, hosing down the car.

hosepipe ['hoʊzpaɪp] n GB = hose.

hosiery [US 'hoʊzəri, GB 'hoʊzəri] n a collective term used in stores for socks, stockings, and tights.

hospice ['hɒspəs] n a place that is like a hospital where people who cannot be cured of serious diseases can be looked after until they die □ hospice care.

hospitable [hɒ'spɪtəbl] adj [person, place] that makes one feel welcome.

hospital ['hɒspɪtl] n a place where people who are sick or injured go to be treated □ My grandmother is in the hospital US OR in hospital GB. □ He was taken to the hospital US OR to hospital GB last night.

hospitality [ˌhɒspɪ'tæləti] n behavior that makes guests feel welcome □ Thank you so much for your hospitality.

hospitality suite n one or more rooms at a special event where alcoholic drinks are served free of charge.

hospitalize, -ise [ˌhɒspɪ'taɪz] vt to be hospitalized to be taken to the hospital for treatment □ Did you know he was hospitalized for three weeks afterwards?

host [hoʊst] ◇ n -1. a person who invites guests □ He's a wonderful host. -2. a place or organization that provides equipment and buildings for a special event □ Barcelona was the host of the 1992 Olympics. ■ the host country the country that organizes and provides the location for a particular international event. -3. RADIO & TV a person who introduces a radio or TV program and talks to the people taking part □ a talk show host. -4. COMPUTING any computer that contains information that other computers can access on the Internet. -5. a host of sthg [of people, places, questions] a large number of sthg (literary use) □ Tonight's show brings you a host of stars.

◇ vt -1. RADIO & TV [show, quiz] to introduce  and talk to the people taking part in it □ She's now hosting her own show. -2. [conference, games] to be the place where <an event> is held and provide the facilities for it □ Birmingham is hosting this year's trade fair.

◆ Host n the Host RELIGION the bread given to people during Communion in a Christian church service.

hostage ['hɒstɪdʒ] n somebody who is the prisoner of a person or organization and who may be hurt or killed if that person or organization does not get what they want □ The gunman has taken a woman hostage. □ He was held hostage for over three years.

hostel ['hɒstl] n -1. a building, managed by an organization, where certain types of people, such as students or nurses, can live cheaply for a short time □ a student hostel. -2. a place where young people who are traveling can spend the night.

hostess ['hoʊstəs] n -1. a woman who invites guests. -2. US a woman who takes people to their tables in restaurants.

hostile [US 'hɒstl, GB 'hɒstail] adj -1. [person, attitude, atmosphere] aggressive and unfriendly □ Mr Bayer got a very hostile reception at the meeting. ■ to be hostile to sb/sthg to show dislike or disapproval of sb/sthg □ Most people are hostile to the idea of higher taxes. -2. [weather, climate] that is difficult to live or work in □ hostile conditions. -3. MILITARY [army, territory] that belongs to the enemy □ a hostile plane.

hostility [hɒ'stɪləti] n a feeling of dislike or disapproval that is shown in the form of aggressive or unfriendly behavior □ You could sense his hostility to the proposals.

◆ hostilities npl MILITARY fighting between two countries or groups of people □ a fresh outbreak of hostilities.

hot [hɒt] (compar hotter, superl hottest) adj
-1. [water, oven, room] that has a high temperature; [day, weather, summer] that has a lot of sun and high temperatures □ I'm too hot in this sweater. □ It's getting hot in here. -2. [food, meal, soup] that has been heated □ The bread was still hot from the oven. -3. [dish, curry] that has a strong spicy taste which burns one's mouth □ hot chili pepper. -4. to be hot on or at sthg to know a lot about sthg (informal use) □ Sue's pretty hot on computers. -5. [news, scandal, gossip] new and exciting, so that people want to know about it (informal use) □ Do you have any hot gossip? -6. to have a hot temper to become angry easily hot-air balloon n a very large balloon filled with hot air that sometimes has a container underneath to carry people.

hotbed ['hɒtbed] n to be a hotbed of sthg [of crime, violence, vice] to be a place where there is a lot of sthg unpleasant.

hotchpotch n GB = hodgepodge.

hot-cross bun n a small, round, sweet bread roll, usually eaten at Easter, that contains dried fruit and has a mark in the shape of a cross on the top.

hot dog n a long bread roll with a sausage in it.

hotel [həʊ'tel] n -1. a large building where people pay money to eat and sleep when they are away from home □ We stayed in a five-star hotel. □ a hotel room □ the hotel staff/industry. -2. AUS a building where people go to buy and drink alcohol.

hotelier [US ˌoʊtɪˈjeɪ, GB hɒteliə] n a person who owns or runs a hotel.

hot flash US, hot flush GB n a sudden feeling of hotness in the skin, often experienced by middle-aged women around the time when their periods stop.

hotfoot ['hɒtfɒt] adv [go, run, arrive] as quickly as possible (informal use) □ I ran hotfoot to the nearest phone.

hotheaded [ˌhɒtˈhedəd] adj [person] who does things too quickly, without first considering the consequences □ a hotheaded young boy.

hothouse ['hɒthaus, pl -hauzɪz] n a building with a glass roof and walls where the air is kept at a high temperature so that special plants can grow in it □ a hothouse plant.

hot line n -1. POLITICS a direct telephone line between the heads of government of two countries that is used in emergencies. -2. a special telephone number that people can call for information or help on a particular subject, problem etc at any time □ an information hot line □ an AIDS hot line.

hotly ['hɒtli] adv -1. [debate, deny] in an angry and determined way □ It was a hotly-contested point. □ The accusation was hotly denied by Clancy. -2. hotly pursued by sb chased by sb close behind □ They drove off, hotly pursued by five patrol cars.

hotplate ['hɒtpleɪt] n -1. a small device used for cooking food on that has only one or two burners. -2. GB a round, flat, metal surface on top of an electric stove on which food can be cooked in a pan.

hotpot ['hɒtpɒt] n GB a dish that consists of pieces of meat or vegetables in a sauce that are covered with thin pieces of potato and cooked slowly in a pot □ Lancashire hotpot.

hot potato n a difficult problem that nobody wants to deal with (informal use) □ a political hot potato.

hot rod n AUTO a car that has an engine which has been changed to make it much more powerful and that is used in races.

hot seat n to be in the hot seat to be in a position of responsibility that involves dealing with difficult problems, questions etc (informal use).

hot spot n (informal use) -1. an exciting place such as a nightclub □ She knows all the hot spots in Paris. -2. an area where political problems are likely to develop □ the hot spots of Eastern Europe.

hot-tempered adj [person] who gets angry easily □ his hot-tempered Italian cousin.

hot water n to be in/get into hot water to be in/get into trouble (informal use) □ Graham's got himself into hot water again!

hot-water bottle n a rubber container that is filled with hot water and used to warm a bed or a part of one's body.

hot-wire vt to start  by making two electrical wires touch each other in the device that starts the engine (informal use).

hound [haʊnd] ◇ n a kind of dog used for hunting or racing. ◇ vt -1. to deliberately annoy or worry <sb> by constantly following them, criticizing them, or asking questions that they do not want to answer □ The Royal Family are constantly hounded by the press. -2. to hound sb out of a place/job to force sb to leave a place/job □ They were hounded out of the neighborhood. □ I will not be hounded out of office.

houndstooth check ['haʊndztu:θ-] n a pattern of jagged checks, especially on cloth.

hour ['aʊə] n -1. a period of time that lasts for sixty minutes □ Stockholm's only an hour away by plane. □ It took us two hours to get here. □ I work a 40-hour week. ■ half an hour thirty minutes □ We'll be there in about half an hour. ■ at 70 miles per or an hour at a speed which makes it possible to travel seventy miles in one hour □ He drove at 120 km an hour. -2. a particular time of day or night □ What are you doing here at this hour? □ She woke us up at some unearthly hour of the morning. ■ on the hour at exactly two o'clock/three o'clock etc □ The bus leaves every hour, on the hour. ■ in the wee OR small hours in the early hours of the morning, between midnight and dawn □ We didn't get back till the small hours of the morning. -3. a period of time for doing a particular thing □ a lunch hour. -4. sb's hour of glory/need a time when sb is very successful/needs help badly (literary use) □ Where were you in my hour of need?

◆ hours npl -1. the period of time when a particular activity happens □ We can't sell alcohol after hours. □ during visiting hours □ He works long hours. -2. to keep late hours to go to bed late regularly. ■ to keep regular/irregular hours to go to bed at the same/a different time each night.

hourly ['aʊəli] ◇ adj -1. [inspection, service] that happens every hour □ an hourly news broadcast □ at hourly intervals. -2. [earnings, wages] that somebody earns for every hour they work □ an hourly pay of $20. ◇ adv -1. [check, inspect, report] every hour □ The President gets updated hourly. -2. to pay sb hourly to pay sb for every hour they work □ I get paid hourly. -3. [change, remember] all the time □ The situation is changing hourly.

house [n & adj haus, pl 'haʊzɪz, vb haʊz] ◇ n -1. a building in which people live □ a red-brick/stone house. ■ to put OR set one's house in order to solve one's problems and make one's affairs more organized □ But first, Greece must set its own economic house in order. -2. the people who live in a house □ The whole house was asleep. -3. a royal or noble family □ the House of Windsor. -4. BUSINESS a company involved in a particular business □ a publishing/fashion house. ■ to be on the house [drinks, food] to be given free to a customer by a hotel or bar □ Drinks are on the house! -5. POLITICS a group of people who make the laws in a country □ She now sits in the upper house. -6. GB the people at a debate □ This house believes in democracy. -7. [in a cinema, theater] the audience at a particular performance □ The show's been playing to packed houses. □ We've been playing to a full house every night. ■ to bring the house down [play, joke] to make people laugh and clap their hands a lot (informal use). -8. EDUCATION one of the groups that a school is divided into and that competes with the other groups, especially in sports. -9. = house music.

◇ vt [person, family] to give <sb> a place to live; [offices, library] to contain <sthg> □ The refugees are being housed in special camps. □ This building will house the new art collection.

◇ adj -1. [magazine, style] that belongs to a particular company. -2. the house wine the cheapest red or white wine sold in a restaurant □ A bottle of house white, please.

house arrest n to be under house arrest to be made to stay at home as a form of punishment, rather than being held in prison.

houseboat ['haʊsbəʊt] n a boat which stays in one place and is used as a house.

housebound ['haʊsbaʊnd] adj to be housebound to be unable to leave one's house because one is too ill or old.

housebreaking ['haʊsbreɪkɪŋ] n the crime of going into somebody else's house to steal things.

housebroken ['haʊsbroukən] adj US to be housebroken [dog, cat] to have been trained only to empty its bowels or bladder outdoors or in a special tray.

housecoat ['haʊskəʊt] n a long loose item of clothing like a dressing-gown that is worn by women when they are at home.

household ['haʊshəʊld] ◇ n the people who live together in a house □ You'll wake the whole household! ◇ adj -1. a household chore/product etc a chore/product etc that is connected with looking after a house. -2. a household name/word a name/word that is very well known □ The group became a household name in the 80s.

householder ['haʊshəʊldə] n GB the person who owns or lives in a house.

househunting ['haʊshʌntɪŋ] n the process of looking for a house to buy or rent □ We've been househunting all week.

house husband n a married man who stays at home during the day, doing the cleaning, cooking etc, and taking care of his children.

housekeeper ['haʊski:pə] n a person whose job is to take care of a house by doing the cleaning, cooking etc for the person or people that live there.

housekeeping ['haʊski:pɪŋ] n -1. the job or activity of taking care of a house by doing the cleaning, cooking etc □ My husband does all the housekeeping. -2. housekeeping (money) the money for buying food and things needed to clean and manage a house.

houseman ['haʊsmən] (pl housemen [-mən]) n GB MEDICINE a man or woman who has recently become a doctor and is working and often living in a hospital to get experience.

house martin n a small black and white bird with a forked tail that makes its nest on part of a building.

house music n a kind of dance music with a regular beat, sounds made by electronic machines, and words which are often spoken rather than sung.

House of Commons n the House of Commons in Britain and Canada, the second and more powerful part of the parliament, made up of members chosen by the people of the country.

🏛️ HOUSE OF COMMONS

The House of Commons in London is made up of 650 Members of Parliament (MPs), who are elected for a five-year term. The government consists of MPs belonging to the party that won a majority of seats at the last election. The Speaker, who controls debates, sits at one end of the debating chamber. Members of the government sit along the side to the right of the Speaker; the Opposition sit along the side to the left.

House of Lords n the House of Lords the part of the British Parliament that is made up of members of noble families or people with titles of honor.

HOUSE OF LORDS

The House of Lords in London has over one thousand members, none of whom are elected. Most of them are people who inherited their noble titles, and the rest are life peers, who have a special title for life only, or bishops of the Church of England. The House of Lords is less powerful than the House of Commons, but it has the power to change some bills that have been passed in the House of Commons. It is also the highest court of appeal in the UK (apart from Scotland, which has its own legal system).

House of Representatives n the House of Representatives in the USA and Australia, the lower, more powerful one of the two houses that make the country's laws.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

In the USA there are 435 members of the House of Representatives, called Representatives or Congressmen (and Congresswomen). They are elected for two years by the people of each US state. The number of members per state is based on the size of the state's population. In Australia there are 148 members, called Members of Parliament (MPs), each representing a local area. They are elected for three years by the people of that area.

houseplant [US 'hausplænt, GB -plɑ:nt] n a plant that can be grown in a container indoors.

house-proud adj GB [person] who likes their house to be very clean and tidy.

Houses of Parliament npl the Houses of Parliament the British House of Commons and the House of Lords considered together; the building in which these are located.

house-to-house adj a house-to-house search a search that involves visiting every house in an area one after the other □ Police are making house-to-house inquiries in the area.

house-train vt to teach  etc to go outside or use a special tray to empty its bowels or bladder □ Is your dog house-trained?

housewarming (party) ['hauswɔ:rmɪŋ-] n a party given by people who have recently moved to a new house □ Rachel's having a housewarming tonight.

housewife ['hauswaɪf] (pl housewives) n a married woman who stays at home during the day, doing the cleaning, cooking etc, and taking care of her children □ I'm a full-time housewife and mother.

housework ['hauswɜ:k] n the task or activity of cleaning a house □ They never seem to do any housework.

housing ['haʊzɪŋ] n -1. places for people to live in □ a housing policy/shortage. -2. a part that contains or covers part of a machine.

housing association n GB an organization that builds or improves houses and rents them at fair prices or helps people to buy them.

housing benefit n GB the money a person can get from the government to help them pay for a place to live in.

housing development n a large number of houses or apartments planned and built close together at the same time.

housing estate n GB = housing development.

housing project US n an area of housing, often with its own stores and playgrounds, that is owned by the government and rented to families with low incomes.

Houston ['hju:stən] a city in Texas, USA. It is a major port and a center for the oil industry, and the headquarters of NASA. POPULATION: 1,630,553.

HOV (abbr of high occupancy vehicle) n an HOV lane a lane on a highway that is reserved for cars that are carrying more than one person in them.

hovel [US 'hɒvl, GB 'hɒvl] n a place for living in that is small, dirty, or in bad condition.

hover [US 'hævər, GB 'hɒvə] vi -1. [bird, helicopter] to stay in one place in the air □ seagulls hovering over the fishing boats. -2. [person, animal] to stay near somebody or something in an uncertain or annoying way □ Nervous security guards were hovering in the background. -3. [person, country, organization] to be in a particular state or situation that is uncertain □ They're hovering on the brink of disaster.

hovercraft [US 'hævəkræft, GB 'hɒvəkrɑ:ft] (pl hovercraft OR hovercrafts) n a large vehicle that moves across land or water on a layer of air and carries people and cars.

hoverport [US 'hævəpɔ:rt, GB 'hɒvəpɔ:t] n a port for hovercraft.

how [həʊ] adv -1. used in questions that ask for information about the way something is done or the way it happens □ How is he going to get here? □ "How did you manage to do it?" — "Jean helped me." -2. used in questions that ask about the state of somebody's health, job etc at that moment □ How's work/the new house? □ "How are you?" — "Not too bad, thanks." -3. how tall/old/heavy is it? what is its height/age/weight? (used with adjectives and adverbs to ask about amounts) □ How often do you see him? □ How long did you have to wait? -4. used in exclamations to show how strongly one feels something to be true □ How I hate ironing! □ How pretty you look! ■ how can OR could...? used when one is surprised or finds something difficult to believe □ How could you forget my birthday?

◆ how about adv how about a drink? shall we have a drink? (used to make suggestions) □ How about going away for the weekend?

◆ how many det how many people/times...? what number of people/times...? (used with plural nouns) □ How many people were at the party? □ How many times have you been there?

◆ how much ◇ pron how much does it cost/ weigh? what is the amount that it costs/ weighs? ◇ det used with singular nouns □ How much bread do we have left? ◇ conj used to describe the way in which something happens or is done □ She's learning how to read. □ I need more information on how it works.

howdy ['haʊdi] excl US hello (informal use).

however [haʊ'vevə] adv -1. the previous statement is not totally true, because... □ 1995 has been a difficult one for the company. Profits, however, are up compared to 1994. -2. however good/bad the weather it does not matter how good/bad the weather is, it will make no difference (used with adjectives and adverbs) □ We'll never manage it, however hard we try. □ All contributions, however small, will be welcome. -3. used in questions to show surprise □ However did you find out I was here?

howl [haʊl] ◇ n [of pain, anger, grief] a long loud cry that expresses a strong feeling □ howls of laughter. ◇ vi -1. [dog, wolf, jackal] to make a long loud cry. -2. [person] to make a long loud sound to show one is in pain, angry, or very unhappy □ Stop howling and tell me what's wrong. ■ to howl with laughter to laugh in a loud uncontrolled way. -3. [wind] to blow strongly with a long loud noise.

howler ['haʊlə] n a silly mistake, especially in what somebody says or writes (informal use) □ This is fine apart from a couple of howlers.

howling ['haʊlɪŋ] adj a howling success a very great success (informal use).

hp n abbr of horsepower.

HP n GB abbr of hire purchase □ They bought their car on HP.

HQ n abbr of headquarters.

hr abbr of hour.

HRH abbr of Her (His) Royal Highness.

hrs abbr of hours.

HRT n abbr of hormone replacement therapy.

HS US abbr of high school.

HSE (abbr of Heath and Safety Executive) n the HSE in Britain, a government organization that controls health and safety at work.

HST (abbr of Hawaiian Standard Time) n the local standard time in Hawaii.

ht abbr of height.

HT abbr of high-tension.

HTML (abbr of HyperText Markup Language) n COMPUTING the computing code used to write documents for the World Wide Web.

hub [hʌb] n -1. [of a wheel] the central part of a wheel □ a wheel hub. -2. [of a network, country] the part of a place, organization that is most important or has most activity □ the hub of the empire/community □ Kingstown is the commercial/social hub of the island.

hub airport n a major airport that has many planes passing through it.

hubbub ['hʌbʌb] n a loud noise made by a lot of people talking at the same time.

hubcap ['hʌbkæp] n a round metal plate that covers the hub of a car wheel.

HUD [hʌd] (abbr of Department of Housing and Urban Development) n the US government department responsible for housing and city planning.

huddle ['hʌdl] ◇ vi -1. [person] to lie, sit etc somewhere with one's arms and legs close to one's chest, especially when one is cold or frightened □ She huddled under the blanket. -2. [people] to move or stay close to each other □ We huddled together for warmth. □ They huddled around the fire. ◇ n a group of houses, trees, people etc that are all close together □ Everyone was standing in a huddle in the corner.

Hudson Bay [ˌhʌdsn-] a large bay in north-eastern Canada, on the Atlantic Ocean.

Hudson River: the Hudson River a river in New York State, USA, that flows into the Atlantic Ocean at New York City.

hue [hju:] n a shade of a color (literary or technical use) □ green of a brilliant hue.

huff [hʌf] ◇ n to be in a huff to be in a bad temper (informal use) □ He went off in a huff. ◇ vi to huff and puff to show that one is annoyed about something □ After much huffing and puffing, he finally agreed.

huffy ['hʌfi] (compar huffier, superl huffiest) adj (informal use) -1. in a bad temper □ What's put you in such a huffy mood? -2. easily offended □ She tends to be rather huffy.

hug [hʌg] (pt & pp hugged, cont hugging) ◇ n the act of putting one's arms tightly around someone as a sign of affection □ He gave me a big hug. ◇ vt -1. [mother, boyfriend, friend] to give <sb> a hug □ They hugged and kissed each other. -2. [bag, cushion] to hold <sthg> close to one's chest with one's arms □ I hugged the package to myself all the way home. -3. [coast, ground] to stay close to <sthg> while moving □ Try not to hug the curb so tightly.

huge [hju:dʒ] adj -1. [house, appetite, success] that is very large in size □ They live in one of those huge apartment blocks downtown. -2. [subject, problem, task] that is very large in extent □ It's a huge responsibility to take on. -3. [profit, amount] that is very large in volume □ huge numbers of refugees.

Hughes [hju:z], Howard (1905–1976) a US businessman and movie producer. He lived completely away from society during the last years of his life.

Hughes, Langston (1902–1967) a black US poet and writer. His best-known work is The Panther and the Lash.

Hugo ['hju:gou], Victor (1802–1885) a French writer, and the leader of the Romantic movement in France. His work includes Les Misérables and The Hunchback of Notre Dame.

huh [hʌ] excl -1. a word used to change a statement into a question □ You must be tired, huh? -2. a word that expresses surprise or confusion □ "I'm getting married." — "Huh?" -3. a word used to show disapproval □ "She calls herself a feminist." — "Huh!" -4. a word used to ask somebody to repeat something (informal use) □ "I'm going out." — "Huh?"

hulk [hʌlk] n -1. SHIPPING an old ship that is at sea but is no longer used □ a rotting hulk. -2. a large awkward person.

hulking ['hʌlkiŋ] adj large, heavy, and awkward □ He's a hulking brute of a man.

hull [hʌl] n SAILING the main part of a ship.

hullabaloo [ˌhʌləˈbʌːluː] n a loud noise made by people who are shouting or protesting (informal use) □ What's all the hullabaloo about?

hullo [həˈluː] excl = hello.

hum [hʌm] (pt & pp hummed, cont humming) ◇ vi -1. [bee, machine, engine] to make a low continuous noise □ I could hear the bees humming. -2. [person] to sing with one's mouth closed □ Kevin was quietly humming to himself. -3. [office, party, room] to be busy □ The kitchen was humming with activity. -4. to hum and haw to hesitate in an annoying way □ He hummed and hawed for about half an hour before deciding. ◇ vt to sing  with one's mouth closed □ She was humming an Irish ballad. ◇ n [of a bee, conversation, engine] a low continuous noise □ the distant hum of traffic.

human ['hju:mən] ◇ adj -1. [voice, life, expression] that is connected with human beings □ That place isn't fit for human habitation. -2. [weakness, failing] that shows characteristics which are typical of ordinary people □ He's only human. ◇ n a human (being) a man, woman, or child, rather than an animal □ What differentiates human beings from animals?

humane [hju:'meɪn] adj [treatment] that is kind and not cruel □ killed by humane methods.

humanely [hju:'meɪnli] adv [treat, kill] see humane.

human error n a mistake or mistakes caused by a person or people, not by a machine □ They put the accident down to human error.

humanist ['hju:mənəst] n a person who believes in a system based on the needs of people rather than on religious ideas.

humanitarian [hju:mæni'teəriən] ◇ adj [approach, policy, organization] that aims to improve the lives of other people rather than make a profit □ The UN mission is to deliver humanitarian aid to refugees. ◇ n a person who works to improve the lives of other people.

humanity [hju:'mænəti] n -1. kind and sympathetic behavior □ Can't you show a little humanity for once? -2. a collective term for human beings □ crimes against humanity.

◆ humanities npl the humanities subjects of study that are concerned with literature, history etc rather than science.

humanly ['hju:mənli] adv it's not humanly possible it's not something that a human being can do □ We've done everything humanly possible to find her.

human nature n the way humans usually think and behave □ It's human nature to be lazy.

human race n the human race the species that people belong to.

human resources n the department in a company that deals with its employees □ Mrs Olrod is in charge of human resources.

human rights npl the basic things in life that a person should be able to expect from the state or society □ Violations of human rights have been reported. □ human-rights abuses □ a human-rights activist.

human shield n people, often of the same nationality as the enemy in a war, who are forced to stay in a place where they would be hurt or killed if the place were attacked.

humble ['hʌmbəl] ◇ adj -1. [position, job, origins] low in status □ He rose from a humble background to become the nation's President. -2. [person] who has a modest opinion of themselves; [opinion, apology, request] that shows that one feels humble □ In my humble opinion the chairman should resign. ◇ vt to make <sb> feel unimportant or worthless. ■ to humble oneself to behave in a way which shows that one accepts that another person is superior (formal use).

humbly ['hʌmbli] adv -1. [speak, beg, apologize] see humble □ "Sorry," she said humbly. -2. [live, dine] without spending much money.

humbug ['hʌmbʌg] n -1. nonsense (old-fashioned use). -2. GB a hard boiled candy.

humdrum ['hʌmdrʌm] adj [life, existence, job] that is ordinary, changes very little, and is not interesting or exciting.

Hume [hju:m], David (1711-1776) a British philosopher and historian.

humid ['hju:məd] adj [climate, weather, air] that is warm and wet, often in an unpleasant way □ It's very humid today.

humidity [hju:'mɪdəti] n the amount of water in the air □ Humidity will be high tomorrow.

humiliate [hju:'mɪliet] vt to publicly say or do something to make <sb> feel that they are worthless and no longer respected □ They tried to humiliate me in front of all those people.

humiliating [hju:'mɪlietɪŋ] adj [experience, defeat] that is embarrassing and makes one feel worthless and no longer respected □ It was humiliating to be told off like that.

humiliation [hju:'mɪli'eɪʃn] n the feeling of embarrassment and upset that one feels when one is humiliated; a humiliating experience □ The team suffered humiliation at the hands of their opponents. □ It was one humiliation after another.

humility [hju:'mɪləti] n [of a person] see humble.

hummingbird ['hʌmɪŋbɜ:'d] n a small tropical bird with a long pointed beak that makes a low continuous noise by beating its wings very fast.

hummus ['hʊməs] n a food that is made from crushed chick peas, olive oil, and garlic and is spread on bread.

humor US, humour GB ['hju:mə] ◇ n -1. (a sense of) humor the ability to find things amusing □ She has a great sense of humor. -2. [of a situation, comment] the quality of being funny □ He didn't really appreciate the humor of the situation. ◇ vt to keep <sb> happy by appearing to agree with what they say or want, even if it is wrong or silly □ Just humor me this once.

humorist ['hju:mərəst] n a person who writes stories, cartoons etc that make people laugh.

humorous ['hju:mərəs] adj [person, comment, play] that makes one laugh □ The book takes a humorous look at the American way of life.

humour n & vt GB = humor.

hump [hʌmp] ◇ n -1. [of earth, sand] a small, round, raised area of ground that is higher than the surrounding area □ There's a slight hump in the road. -2. [on somebody's back] a lump on the back of a person, or of some animals, e.g. a camel. ◇ vt GB [boxes, luggage] to carry or move <sthg heavy> in a particular direction (informal use) □ I hate having to hump my bags from one place to another.

humpbacked bridge [ˌhʌmpbækt-] n GB a kind of small bridge which is much higher in the middle than at the ends.

Humpty Dumpty [ˌhʌmptɪ'dʌmptɪ] a character in a nursery rhyme, shaped like an egg, who falls off a wall and cannot be mended.

humus ['hju:məs] n the top layer of soil that consists of rotting leaves, plants etc.

hunch [hʌntʃ] ◇ n an idea that one believes is correct because of a feeling one has and not because of something one knows (informal use) □ I've got a hunch (that) it will work. ◇ vt to move <one's shoulders or back> into a round shape □ Don't hunch your shoulders like that. ◇ vi: It's bad to hunch when you read.

hunchback [ˌhʌntʃ'bæk] n a person whose back has a hump between the shoulders.

hunched [hʌntʃtɪ] adj [person] who has moved their back into a rounded position □ She sat hunched over a book.

hundred ['hʌndrəd] num the number 100 □ There were at least a hundred people at the meeting. □ Water boils at one hundred degrees centigrade. □ several hundred people.

◆ hundreds pron used to refer to very many people or things □ There were hundreds of people waiting for her to arrive. □ Letters were arriving in the hundreds.

hundredth ['hʌndrədθ] num 100th, number 100 in a series.

hundredweight ['hʌndrədweɪt] n a unit (US 100 pounds, GB 112 pounds) for measuring weight.

Hundred Years' War n the Hundred Years' War a series of wars (1337–1453) between England and France.

hung [hʌŋ] ◇ past tense & past participle of hang. ◇ adj [parliament, jury] that has no absolute majority.

Hungarian [hʌŋ'geəriən] n & adj: see Hungary.

Hungary ['hʌŋgəri] a country in central Europe, between Austria and Romania. It was a Communist state from 1949 to 1990. SIZE: 93,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,300,000 (Hungarians). CAPITAL: Budapest. LANGUAGE: Hungarian. CURRENCY: forint.

hunger ['hʌŋgə] n -1. [for food] the feeling that one has when one needs to eat □ a feeling of hunger. -2. a lack of food that causes illness or death □ Thousands of refugees are dying of hunger. -3. [for success, revenge] a strong desire for something (literary use).

◆ hunger after, hunger for vt fus to hunger after OR for sthg [after success, revenge] to have a strong desire for sthg (literary use).

hunger strike n a form of protest in which somebody refuses to eat for a long time □ Several men have gone on hunger strike over conditions in the prison.

hung over adj to be hung over to have a headache, feel sick etc as a result of drinking too much alcohol the night before (informal use) □ I felt very hung over this morning.

hungry ['hʌŋgri] (compar hungrier, superl hungriest) adj -1. [person, animal] that feels a need to eat □ I always feel hungry by 11 o'clock. □ I'm not very hungry at the moment. ■ to go hungry to continue to be hungry because one has not eaten any food. -2. to be hungry for sthg [for success, revenge] to have a strong desire for sthg (literary use).

hung up adj to be hung up to have a fixed idea about something that one cannot change and that stops one from behaving normally (informal use) □ She's always been hung up about the way she looks.

hunk [hʌŋk] n -1. [of bread, cheese] a large piece of a particular food □ a hunk of meat. -2. a muscular and good-looking man (informal use) □ What a hunk!

hunky-dory [ˌhʌŋki'dɔ:ri] adj to be hunky-dory to be satisfactory and without problems (informal use) □ Everything's just hunky-dory.

hunt [hʌnt] ◇ vt -1. [lion, whale] to chase and kill <an animal> for food or sport □ Tigers are being hunted to extinction. -2. [killer, murderer] to try to find and capture  □ The gang is being hunted by the FBI. ◇ vi -1. [animal, hunter] to hunt animals □ They're out hunting for rabbits. □ The owl hunts mainly at night. -2. [person] to search carefully in order to find something □ I've been hunting high and low for my pen. ◇ n -1. [for animals] an act of hunting animals □ a fox hunt. -2. [for a person, object, place] a search for something or somebody □ Police have begun the hunt for the murderer.

◆ hunt down vt sep to hunt sb/sthg down to find sb/sthg after looking very carefully □ I finally hunted him down in the bar.

hunter ['hʌntə] n -1. a person who chases and kills animals for food or sport □ a lion-hunter. -2. a person who spends time trying to find a particular thing □ an autograph hunter □ a bargain hunter.

hunting ['hʌntɪŋ] n -1. the activity of chasing and killing animals for food or sport □ He goes hunting every weekend. □ a hunting knife. -2. the activity of spending time trying to find something □ bargain-hunting. -3. GB = foxhunting.

huntsman ['hʌntsmən] (pl huntsmen [-mən]) n a hunter.

hurdle ['hɜ:dl] ◇ n -1. SPORT a type of fence for jumping over in a race. -2. something that makes things difficult for somebody □ If we can get over this hurdle, the rest is easy. ◇ vt [fence, gate] to jump over <sthg>.

◆ hurdles npl a type of race in which runners or horses jump over a series of hurdles that are placed on the track □ the 400 m hurdles.

hurl [hɜːl] vt -1. [book, brick, stick] to throw <sthg> violently in a particular direction □ She hurled the book at me in a rage. -2. to hurl sthg at sb [abuse, threats] to shout sthg at sb □ The protesters hurled insults at the police.

Huron ['hʊərən]: Lake Huron one of the Great Lakes between Canada and the USA.

hurrah [hʊ'ra:] excl = hurray (old-fashioned use).

hurray [hʊ'reɪ] excl a word used to show pleasure or approval □ "Hurray!" she exclaimed, "We've won!"

hurricane [US 'hɜːrəkən, GB 'hʌrɪkən] n a storm with a very strong wind that can cause a lot of damage □ a hurricane wind.

hurried [US 'hɜːrɪd, GB hʌr-] adj [departure, decision, attempt] that is done quickly and without much care □ After a rather hurried meal we rushed home.

hurriedly [US 'hɜːrɪdli, GB hʌr-] adv [say, leave, eat] see hurried □ "It's not that I don't like her," she added hurriedly.

hurry [US 'hɜːri, GB 'hʌri] (pt & pp hurried) ◇ vi to move quickly or do something quickly □ If you hurry you'll catch the bus. □ Everyone hurried to help. □ Hurry! Sale on while stocks last!

◇ vt [person] to make <sb> move or act quickly; [process, decision] to make <sthg> happen quickly □ I'm sorry to hurry you, but it's getting late. □ She was hurried into making the decision. □ They hurried him into a waiting car.

◇ n pressure to do something quickly □ There's no hurry to get the work finished. ■ to be in a hurry to have to do something or go somewhere quickly □ I'm in a real hurry. ■ to do sthg in a hurry to do sthg quickly and perhaps carelessly □ They left in a hurry. □ You could tell it had been written/built in a hurry. ■ to be in no hurry to do sthg to be unwilling to do sthg □ My tenants are in no hurry to move out.

◆ hurry off vi to leave quickly □ They hurried off down the hill.

◆ hurry up ◇ vi to do something or move more quickly than before □ Tell him to hurry up. □ Hurry up! We're late! ◇ vt sep to hurry sb up to make sb hurry up □ I'm always having to hurry the children up in the mornings.

hurt [hɜːt] (pt & pp hurt) ◇ vt -1. [person, arm, leg] to cause physical pain or damage to <sb/sthg> □ Did you hurt yourself badly? -2. to be or get hurt to be injured in an accident □ Ten people were hurt in the crash. □ Someone's going to get hurt if you're not careful. -3. [person] to make <sb> suffer emotionally □ Of course it hurts me to admit the truth. ■ to hurt sb's feelings to say or do something that hurts sb emotionally □ I don't want to hurt anybody's feelings. -4. it won't/wouldn't hurt to... a phrase used to suggest that somebody does something that they have not done before or do not usually do □ It wouldn't hurt you to get up early for once. □ It won't hurt just to talk to her, will it?

◇ vi -1. [leg, arm, foot] to be painful; [shoes, punch] to make somebody suffer physical pain □ My shoulder is hurting a lot. □ Ouch! That hurts! □ It hurts to move my arm/when I move my arm. -2. [insult, love] to make somebody suffer emotionally □ Divorce always hurts. □ It really hurts to be called a liar. -3. to cause problems for somebody □ It wouldn't hurt to have one more drink.

◇ adj -1. to be hurt [person, arm, leg] to be injured □ He's seriously hurt. -2. to be hurt [person] to be suffering emotional pain □ I felt very hurt when she refused to speak to me. □ There was a hurt expression on his face.

◇ n emotional pain □ The hurt will last a long time.

hurtful ['hɜːtfl] adj [remark, action] that can cause emotional pain □ That was a very hurtful thing to say.

hurtle ['hɜːtl] vi [stone, car, person] to be thrown or to fall at great speed in a particular direction □ Their sled overturned and they came hurtling down the hill.

husband ['hʌzbənd] n the man that a woman is married to □ Have you met my husband?

husbandry ['hʌzbəndri] n farming (formal use).

hush [hʌʃ] ◇ n quietness □ A hush fell on the room. ◇ excl a word used to tell somebody to be quiet □ Hush! The baby's sleeping!

◆ hush up vt sep -1. to hush sthg up [affair, news, rumor] to keep sthg secret so that the public does not know about it □ News of the disaster was quickly hushed up by the government. -2. to hush sb up to stop sb talking loudly □ Will somebody hush that guy up before I hit him?

hushed [hʌʃt] adj [person, crowd] that is not talking or making a noise; [voice, conversation] that is very quiet.

hush money n money paid to somebody in return for not revealing facts that one does not want other people to know (informal use).

husk [hʌsk] n the dry outside part of a seed or grain.

husky ['hʌskɪ] (compar huskier, superl huskiest, pl huskies) ◇ adj [voice] that sounds quiet and rough in an attractive way □ a deep husky voice. ◇ n a breed of dog found in the Arctic and used to pull sleds.

hustings ['hʌstɪŋz] npl GB the activity of trying to influence people's opinions before an election.

hustle ['hʌsl] ◇ vt -1. to force <sb> to move quickly in a particular direction □ The police hustled the man into a doorway. -2. US to hustle sb into doing sthg to persuade sb to do sthg they do not really want to do. ◇ n hustle and bustle a lot of busy movement and activity involving people and traffic □ the hustle and bustle of modern life.

hut [hʌt] n a simple house or shelter made of wood, mud etc □ a mud hut □ a mountain hut.

hutch [hʌtʃ] n a wooden cage in which pet rabbits are kept □ a rabbit hutch.

hyacinth [ˈhaɪəsɪnθ] n a plant that grows from a bulb and has small white, blue, or pink flowers that grow in a cone shape and have a pleasant smell.

hybrid [ˈhaɪbrəd] ◇ adj -1. [plant, animal] that is a hybrid □ a hybrid rose. -2. [system, form] that is mixed. ◇ n -1. a plant or animal that is the result of breeding between different species or breeds □ A mule is a hybrid of a donkey and a horse. -2. a mixture □ Her new novel is a hybrid of detective story and romance.

hydrangea [haɪˈdreɪndʒə] n a garden bush that has large bunches of white, pink, or blue flowers with round flat petals.

hydrant [ˈhaɪdrənt] n = fire hydrant.

hydraulic [haɪˈdrɔːlɪk] adj [pump, brake] that works by the pressure of a liquid in a pipe.

◆ hydraulics n the science that studies how liquids flow.

hydrocarbon [ˌhaɪdrəˈkɑːbən] n an organic compound of hydrogen and carbon.

hydrochloric acid [ˌhaɪdrəˈklɔːrɪk-] n an acid that contains hydrogen chloride. FORMULA: HCl.

hydroelectric [ˌhaɪdrəʊˈlektɪk] adj [dam, power station] that uses hydroelectricity □ hydroelectric power.

hydroelectricity [ˌhaɪdrəʊˈlektɪˈtrɪsətɪ] n electricity produced by the pressure of falling water.

hydrofoil [ˈhaɪdrəfɔɪl] n a kind of boat that can go very fast by raising itself above the water.

hydrogen [ˈhaɪdrədʒən] n a colorless gas that burns very easily and is the lightest element. SYMBOL: H.

hydrogen bomb n a type of bomb that produces an explosion caused by nuclear fusion.

hydrophobia [ˌhaɪdrəˈfɔʊbjə] n = rabies (technical use).

hydroplane [ˈhaɪdrəpleɪn] ◇ n -1. a fast motorboat with a flat bottom. -2. a type of hydrofoil. ◇ vi US [car, truck] to slide out of control on a wet road surface.

hyena [haɪˈiːnə] n an African animal like a dog that makes a noise that sounds like a laugh.

hygiene [ˈhaɪdʒiːn] n the practice of keeping oneself and one's surroundings clean to prevent disease □ Doctors stress the importance of personal hygiene.

hygienic [US ˌhaɪdʒɪˈnɪk, GB haɪˈdʒiːnɪk] adj [container, practice] that keeps things clean and stops the spread of disease □ The sauce comes in a hygienic wipe-clean bottle. □ Conditions there are far from hygienic.

hygienist [haɪˈdʒiːnəst] n a person whose job is to clean people's teeth □ a dental hygienist.

hymn [hɪm] n a song sung to praise god in Christianity and other religions.

hymn book n a book containing hymns for use in a Christian church.

hype [haɪp] ◇ n publicity that exaggerates the benefits or qualities of a product, movie, book etc □ Don't believe all the hype. ◇ vt [product, movie, book] to try to make people buy <sthg> using hype □ the much-hyped Bond movie.

hyped up [ˌhaɪpd-] adj [person] who is in a state of extreme excitement, often in preparation for something (informal use) □ I'm all hyped up at the moment.

hyper [ˈhaɪpə] adj to be hyper to be too active or too excited (informal use) □ She gets pretty hyper when she's nervous.

hyperactive [ˌhaɪpəˈæktɪv] adj [person] who is often too excited and keeps moving about more than is normal □ a hyperactive child.

hyperbole [haɪˈpɜːbəlɪ] n a way of speaking or writing that is exaggerated in order to have a particular effect.

hyperinflation [ˌhaɪpəɪnˈfleɪʃn] n ECONOMICS extremely high inflation.

hypermarket [ˈhaɪpəˈmɑːkət] n GB a very large supermarket.

hypersensitive [ˌhaɪpəˈsensətɪv] adj -1. [person] who is too sensitive to criticism □ She's hypersensitive to criticism. -2. MEDICINE [tooth, person] that is more sensitive to temperature, drugs etc than is normal.

hypertension [ˌhaɪpəˈtenʃn] n very high blood pressure.

hypertext [ˈhaɪpəˈteksɪt] n a system of linking information in a computer document by showing some words in a special form. When one selects these words, one is sent to another document where there is more information about the word □ Some words are written in hypertext. □ a hypertext document.

hyperventilate [ˌhaɪpəˈventɪleɪt] vi to breathe too often or too deeply, so that one gets a headache and feels dizzy.

hyphen [ˈhaɪfn] n a punctuation mark (-) like a short line that is used to join two or more words together or to separate parts of a word split between two lines of text □ His surname is Mars-Jones, spelt with a hyphen.

hyphenate [ˈhaɪfəneɪt] vt to use a hyphen to join two parts of  □ The word "high-level" is usually hyphenated.

hypnosis [hɪpˈnəʊsəs] n a state of relaxation in which a person seems to be sleeping but can hear what is being said, answer questions etc □ He remembered his childhood under hypnosis.

hypnotic [hɪpˈnɒtɪk] adj [trance, effect, stare] see hypnosis.

hypnotism [ˈhɪpnətɪzəm] n the technique of using hypnosis to influence a person's behavior □ She tried hypnotism to stop smoking.

hypnotist [ˈhɪpnətəst] n a person who can use hypnotism.

hypnotize, -ise [ˈhɪpnətəɪz] vt to put <sb> under the effects of hypnosis.

hypoallergenic [ˌhaɪpəʊæləˈdʒenɪk] adj [make-up, earring] that is designed to reduce the risk of an allergic reaction.

hypochondriac [ˌhaɪpəˈkɒndrɪæk] n a person who worries too much about their health, and often thinks they are ill when they are not.

hypocrisy [hr'pɒkrəsi] n something somebody says or does that is different to what they really believe (disapproving use) □ The report criticized the hypocrisy and double standards prevalent in the council.

hypocrite ['hɪpəkrɪt] n a person who does or feels the opposite of what they say (disapproving use) □ Don't be such a hypocrite!

hypocritical [,hɪpə'krɪtɪkl] adj [person, attitude, words] see hypocrite □ It would be hypocritical of me to criticize others for bad timekeeping when I'm so often late myself.

hypodermic [,haɪpə'dɜː'mɪk] n -1. a hypodermic (needle) a hollow needle. -2. a hypodermic (syringe) a plastic tube with a hollow needle, used for injecting drugs or taking blood.

hypothermia [,haɪpə'uθɜː'miə] n a medical condition in which the body's temperature falls dangerously low □ Old people are at risk from hypothermia in this severe weather.

hypothesis [haɪ'pɒθəsɪs] (pl hypotheses [-θəsiːz]) n an idea, based on a few facts, that attempts to explain something but cannot yet be shown to be true □ I'd like to put forward a new hypothesis. □ It's pure hypothesis. □ a working hypothesis.

hypothesize, -ise [haɪ'pɒθəsaɪz] ◇ vt [cause, reason] to suggest a possible explanation for <sthg> □ We can only hypothesize the cause of the crash. ◇ vi to make a hypothesis about something □ We can only hypothesize about what might have happened.

hypothetical [,haɪpə'θetɪkəl] adj [question, situation] that is talked about as a possibility □ And what will you do once you find this hypothetical job?

† hysterectomy [,hɪstə'rektəmi] (pl hysterectomies) n a medical operation in which a woman's womb is removed.

hysteria [hɪ'stɪəriə] n -1. a strong uncontrolled feeling of panic, anger etc that affects a large group of people □ In the newsroom there was an atmosphere of excitement bordering on hysteria. -2. MEDICINE a condition in which a person becomes very emotional, behaves strangely, and has symptoms of illnesses that have no obvious cause.

hysterical [hɪ'sterɪkəl] adj -1. [person] who is shouting or crying in an uncontrolled way because they feel panic, anger etc □ People were getting hysterical with fear. □ hysterical laughing/shouting. -2. [comedian, story] very funny (informal use) □ The sketch was hysterical!

hysterically [hɪ'sterɪkəlɪ] adv -1. [laugh, scream] see hysterical. -2. hysterically funny very funny (informal use).

hysterics [hɪ'sterɪks] npl (informal use) -1. to be in hysterics to laugh in an uncontrolled way □ He had me in hysterics. -2. to have hysterics GB to become very angry or worried □ My mother will have hysterics when she finds out.

Hz (abbr of hertz) a unit used for measuring the frequency of sound waves that is equal to one cycle per second.

i [aɪ] (pl i's OR is), I [aɪ] (pl I's OR Is) n the ninth letter of the English alphabet.

I¹ abbr of Island, Isle.

I² [aɪ] pron the person who is speaking or writing (used as the subject of a verb) □ I'm leaving. □ Ann and I were at college together. □ It is I who should apologize (formal use).

IA abbr of Iowa.

IAEA (abbr of International Atomic Energy Agency) n the IAEA an international organization that controls how much atomic energy is used and produced.

Iberian [aɪ'berɪən] n & adj: see Iberian Peninsula.

Iberian Peninsula: the Iberian Peninsula Spain and Portugal considered together.

ibid (abbr of ibidem) a word written after something to show it is in the same book, article, chapter etc that has already been mentioned.

Ibiza [ɪ'biːθə] one of the Balearic Islands, southwest of Majorca. It is a popular tourist area. SIZE: 541 sq kms. POPULATION: 57,000. MAIN CITY: Ibiza.

IBRD (abbr of International Bank for Reconstruction and Development) n = World Bank.

i/c abbr of in charge.

ICA (abbr of Institute of Contemporary Art) n the ICA a center for modern art in London that presents exhibitions of visual art and performances of film, theater, music, and dance.

Icarus ['ɪkərəs] in Greek mythology, a man who tried to fly using wings made of wax and feathers. When he flew too near the sun, the wax melted and he fell and died.

ICBM n abbr of intercontinental ballistic missile.

ICC n -1. abbr of International Chamber of Commerce. -2. (abbr of Interstate Commerce Commission) the ICC in the USA, the government department that looks after business among all the states.

ice [aɪs] ◇ n -1. [on a window, pond, road] water which is frozen solid □ The water in the bucket had turned to ice. □ We had to scrape the ice off the windshield before leaving. ■ to break the ice to do or say something to help people who do not know each other to relax with each other, e.g. at the beginning of a party or meeting □ Party games can help to break the ice. ■ to put sthg on ice [plan, project] to decide to wait for a period of time before using or continuing with sthg □ We've put the Deema project on ice for the time being.

- 2. ice in the form of cubes for putting in drinks □ Would you like ice in your juice? -3. GB an ice cream. ◇ vt [cake, cookie] to cover <sthg> with icing.
- ◆ ice over, ice up vi [road, window, pond] to become covered with ice □ The car windows had iced over.
- ice age n one of the periods in history when the polar ice caps covered a much larger area than they do now.
- iceberg ['aɪsbɜːɡ] n a large mass of ice floating in the ocean, mostly below the surface.
- iceberg lettuce n a kind of crisp lettuce.
- icebox ['aɪsbɒks] n -1. US a refrigerator. -2. GB the part of a refrigerator that is used for keeping ice and frozen food in.
- icebreaker ['aɪsbreɪkə] n a ship that can cut through ice.
- ice bucket n a plastic container from which ice is served for drinks; a metal container in which one puts ice and water to keep wine cold during a meal.
- ice cap n the areas around the North and South Poles that are always covered with ice.
- ice-cold adj [drink, hands, wind] very cold □ a glass of ice-cold milk.
- ice cream n a soft frozen dessert made from milk or cream that is flavored with fruit, vanilla, chocolate etc □ two scoops of ice cream. □ a strawberry ice cream.
- ice cream bar n US ice cream on a stick that is covered in chocolate.
- ice cream truck US, ice cream van GB n a truck that drives around residential areas, parks etc selling ice cream. It usually plays a loud tune so that people know it is coming.
- ice cube n a small piece of ice in the shape of a cube for putting in drinks.
- iced [aɪst] adj -1. [drink, tea] that has been made cold with ice □ an iced coffee. -2. [cake, cookie] that is covered with icing.
- ice floe n a sheet of ice floating in the ocean.
- ice hockey n a kind of hockey played on ice with a rubber disk instead of a ball.
- Iceland ['aɪslənd] a country in the north Atlantic Ocean, just below the Arctic Circle, with many volcanoes and hot springs. SIZE: 103,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 260,000 (Icelanders). CAPITAL: Reykjavik. LANGUAGE: Icelandic. CURRENCY: Icelandic krona.
- Icelander ['aɪsləndə] n a person who comes from or lives in Iceland.
- Icelandic [aɪs'lændɪk] ◇ adj: see Iceland. ◇ n the language spoken in Iceland.
- ice lolly n GB a type of candy made of water that is flavored with fruit and frozen onto a stick.
- ice pick n a tool with a sharp point for making holes in ice in order to travel over it.
- ice rink n a building or area where a surface of ice is provided for people to skate on.
- ice skate n a special boot that has a blade attached to the bottom for skating on ice □ a pair of ice skates.
- ◆ ice-skate vi to move across ice wearing ice skates.
- ice-skater n a person who skates on ice as a sport or hobby.
- ice-skating n the sport or hobby of skating on ice.
- icicle ['aɪsɪkl] n a stick of ice formed when water runs off the edge of something and freezes.
- icily ['aɪsɪli] adv [say, greet, stare] in a very unfriendly way.
- icing ['aɪsɪŋ] n a mixture of sugar and water, used to cover and decorate cakes, that becomes hard when it is dry □ a cake with chocolate icing. ■ the icing on the cake something that makes a good situation even better (informal use) □ A celebrity to present the award really would be the icing on the cake!
- icing sugar n GB a type of very fine sugar used to make icing.
- ICJ (abbr of International Court of Justice) n the ICJ a court in the Hague, Netherlands, that makes judgments on matters brought to it by members of the UN.
- icon ['aɪkɒn] n -1. RELIGION a religious picture, especially in the Orthodox Church □ a religious icon. -2. COMPUTING a symbol like a small picture that represents a function on a computer screen □ Double click on the icon to activate the program.
- iconoclast [aɪ'kɒnəklast] n a person who strongly criticizes or rejects accepted traditions or beliefs.
- ICR (abbr of Institute for Cancer Research) n the ICR in Britain, an important center for cancer research, education, and treatment.
- ICU n abbr of intensive care unit.
- icy ['aɪsɪ] (compar icier, superl iciest) adj -1. [wind, weather, cold] very cold □ It's icy out there today. -2. [road, sidewalk] covered with ice □ Look out for icy patches on the roads. -3. [look, stare] very unfriendly □ They received an icy reception.
- id [ɪd] n the part of one's unconscious mind that is related to one's primitive instincts such as hunger and emotions.
- I'd [aɪd] = I would, I had.
- ID ◇ n abbr of identification □ We can't cash the check if you haven't got any ID. ◇ abbr of Idaho.
- Idaho ['aɪdəhoʊ] a state in the northwestern USA, consisting mainly of the Rocky Mountains. ABBREVIATION: ID. SIZE: 216,412 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,006,749 (Idahoans). CAPITAL: Boise.
- ID card n a card with one's name, photograph etc that proves who one is.
- IDD (abbr of international direct dialing) n a system that allows people to make international telephone calls without going through an operator.
- idea [aɪ'diə] n -1. [of how to do something] a plan or suggestion that comes into one's mind suddenly □ I've just had an idea to im- prove our services. □ That's a good idea. -2. [in somebody's mind] a picture or representation of something in one's mind □ My ideas on the subject are still rather vague. □ He introduced the idea that the world was round. □ The idea of a month in the sun appeals to most people. ■ to get the idea to understand something; to get a particular feeling □ Don't worry, you'll soon get the idea of how it works. □ I'm beginning to get the idea (that) no-one likes me. ■ to have an idea of sthg to have an understanding of sthg □ Do you have any idea of the trouble you've caused? ■ to have no idea not to know something at all □ Sorry, I've no idea where he is. -3. a thought that is based on a feeling and not on fact □ It's just an idea, but it might work. □ I have an idea that she'll agree to it. -4. [about something] a belief or opinion □ He has his own ideas on OR about how to run a business. □ People have conflicting ideas about how the money should be spent. -5. [to do something] an intention or purpose □ My original idea was to use recycled paper. □ The idea is to finish the game with the highest possible score. -6. an idea of sthg [of the cost, number, time] an estimate of sthg □ Can you give me a rough idea of the price?

ideal [aɪ'diəl] ◇ adj [person, weather, place] that one finds perfect for one's needs □ My ideal partner would be tall, dark, and handsome. □ Those curtains would be ideal for my bedroom. □ In an ideal world, such measures would not be necessary. ◇ n -1. a belief, principle, way of behaving etc that one believes is right and tries to follow □ She has very high ideals. -2. a person or thing that one finds perfect for one's needs □ My present house is far from the ideal.

idealism [aɪ'diəlɪzəm] n a belief in ideals □ the idealism of youth.

idealist [aɪ'diəlɪst] n a person whose behavior and thoughts are based on ideals □ She likes to think of herself as something of an idealist.

idealize, -ise [aɪ'diəlaɪz] vt to think of <sb/sthg> as being perfect, especially when this is not true or realistic □ Her memories of being a student are somewhat idealized.

ideally [aɪ'diəlɪ] adv -1. ideally situated/suited etc situated/suited etc in a way that cannot be improved □ The hotel is ideally located for sight-seeing. -2. ideally, ... a word used to show that one would like something but knows or thinks it is not possible □ Ideally, I'd like to take four weeks off work.

identical [aɪ'dentɪkəl] adj [color, feature, voice] that is exactly the same □ Their hats were identical. □ The new model is identical to the old one in most respects.

identical twins npl twins who come from the same fertilized egg and who look exactly the same.

identifiable [aɪ'dentɪfəəbəl] adj [person, object, characteristic] that can be recognized □ The bag is easily identifiable.

identification [aɪ'dentɪfɪ'keɪʃn] n -1. see identify □ There will need to be a formal identification of the body. □ These kids' identification with their rock star role models is almost total. -2. documents that prove who one is □ Can I see your identification, sir?

identify [aɪ'dentɪfaɪ] (pt & pp identified) ◇ vt -1. to recognize <sb/sthg> and say who or what they are □ I was able to identify my coat from the pile that lay on the floor. -2. to prove the identity of <sb/sthg> □ The car's license plate identifies it as a local one. -3. to identify sb/sthg with sthg to associate sb/sthg with sthg □ Most people identify Italy with fine art and great food. ◇ vi to identify with sb/sthg to feel that one understands sb/sthg because one has the same feelings, is in the same situation etc □ We are supposed to identify with the main character in the story.

Identikit pictureTM [aɪ'dentɪkɪt-] n a picture of a person's face that police make using separate sections for the eyes, mouth, nose etc after being given a description of the person by a witness.

identity [aɪ'dentəti] (pl identities) n -1. the state of being a particular person or thing □ The police have no clues to the attacker's identity. □ The former spy assumed a new identity. -2. one's sense of being a particular person □ He found a sense of identity when he became a father. □ an identity crisis.

identity card n a card with one's name, photograph etc that proves who one is.

identity parade n GB a row of people put together by police that includes a person suspected of a crime and that a witness looks at in order to see if they can recognize the suspect.

ideological [aɪ'dɪə'lɒdʒɪkəl] adj [dispute, approach, issue] see ideology □ We must approach the issue in a pragmatic rather than an ideological way.

ideology [aɪ'dɪə'lɒdʒɪ] (pl ideologies) n a set of ideas that are held by a particular political, religious, or social group □ It's all part of Christian/socialist ideology. □ I don't agree with the ideology of capitalism.

idiom ['ɪdɪəm] n -1. a group of words with a meaning that is different from the meaning of the words when they are separate □ a book of English idioms. -2. a form of expression that is used by a particular group of people or in a particular kind of activity (formal use) □ the idiom of dance/paint.

idiomatic [aɪ'dɪə'mætɪkəl] adj [expression, language] that contains words which mean something different when they are used together, and so can be difficult to translate □ I had a few problems with the idiomatic parts.

idiosyncrasy [aɪ'dɪə'sɪŋkrəsi] (pl idiosyncrasies) n an unusual habit or way of behaving that somebody has and that can be difficult for other people to understand or accept □ You must forgive my little idiosyncrasies.

idiot ['ɪdɪət] n a person who one thinks is foolish (disapproving use) □ You idiot! □ I'm not an idiot, you know!

idiotic [aɪ'dɪə'tɪkəl] adj [idea, question, behavior] that one thinks is foolish (disapproving use) □ What an idiotic comment!

idle ['aɪdl] ◇ adj -1. [person] who is lazy and avoids doing work that needs to be done □ They're an idle bunch of scroungers! -2. to be OR stand OR lie idle [factory, machine, equipment] not to be used because there is no work; [worker] not to be doing anything because there is no work □ The plant has lain idle for months. □ The men have been kept idle, waiting for the equipment to arrive. -3. an idle threat/boast a threat/boast that is not serious □ Is this another one of his idle threats? -4. [glance, curiosity] that has no particular purpose □ It was just an idle remark. -5. [gossip, rumor] that is not based on facts and so has no use or value □ That's just idle speculation.

◇ vi [engine] to turn slowly and quietly □ He left the engine idling while he ran into the store.

◆ idle away vt sep to idle the time away to spend one's time without doing anything useful □ He idles away the hours doodling.

idler ['aɪdlə] n a person who does nothing, or does something in a slow lazy way.

idly ['aɪdlɪ] adv -1. [sit, stand] in a lazy way and without doing anything useful □ I'm not prepared to stand idly by and not help. -2. [ask, wonder, look] without any particular purpose □ I was idly glancing through the papers.

idol ['aɪdl] n -1. a person, usually famous, who is greatly admired by people, e.g. for their achievements, personality, or appearance □ a teenage idol. -2. RELIGION an image or statue of a being that is worshipped as a god.

idolize, -ise ['aɪdəlaɪz] vt -1. [star, leader, father] to admire or love <sb> very much □ She's idolized by fans all over the world. -2. [god] to worship <sb/sthg> as part of a religion.

idyl(l) [US 'aɪdl, GB 'ɪdl] n an idyllic place, time, or situation □ a rural idyll.

idyllic [US aɪ'dɪlɪk, GB rɪ'dɪlɪk] adj [place, time, life] that seems perfect and makes one feel very happy, especially because it is peaceful □ The hotel is set in idyllic surroundings. □ a scene of idyllic calm.

i.e. (abbr of id est) namely (used in front of information that explains something more clearly) □ all members, i.e. those who have paid the subscription.

if [ɪf] ◇ conj -1. if she calls, let me know she might call, and when she does, let me know □ If we started work today we could be finished by the weekend. ■ if I were you a phrase used to give advice □ If I were you I'd tell her. -2. if we had left earlier we would have gotten there on time we did not leave earlier, and so we did not get there on time. ■ if it hadn't been so expensive I'd have bought it it was expensive, and so I did not buy it. -3. used to introduce reported questions □ She asked me if I knew him. □ Do you know if she's left yet? -4. although □ The meal was good, if expensive. -5. used to introduce a polite suggestion or request □ I'd be very grateful if you would let me know. □ If you could just wait here for a few moments.

◇ npl ifs, ands, or buts US, ifs and buts GB reasons for not doing something □ I don't want any ifs, ands, or buts, just do it!

◆ if anything adv used to introduce a statement that is the opposite of something that has just been mentioned □ He doesn't look any slimmer. If anything, he's put on weight.

◆ if ever conj used to emphasize how appropriate a description is □ There's a hopeless case if ever I saw one! □ If ever I saw a man driven by ambition, it's him.

◆ if not conj used to suggest that something might be more or less than is stated □ I'll have it ready by Friday, if not sooner. □ It should arrive tomorrow. If not, give me a call.

◆ if only ◇ conj -1. used to give a reason for doing something □ We'll have to talk to him, if only to hear his side of things. -2. used to say what one would like to happen, especially when one knows it is very unlikely to happen □ If only he wouldn't drink so much! ◇ excl: a phrase used to say that one would like something to happen "Are you going abroad this summer?" — "If only!"

iffy ['ɪfi] (compar iffier, superl iffiest) adj [person, plan, situation] that is uncertain (informal use) □ The whole idea sounds iffy to me.

igloo ['ɪɡluː] (pl iglous) n a small round house made from blocks of hard snow and used by Inuits.

ignite [ɪɡ'naɪt] ◇ vt [fuel, gas] to cause <sthg> to start burning □ He lit a match and ignited the fire. ◇ vi [fuel, gas] The crash caused the gas inside to ignite.

ignition [ɪɡ'nɪʃn] n the ignition AUTO the electrical device in a car, truck etc that ignites the fuel and starts the engine □ I must have left the key in the ignition!

ignition key n a key that is used to turn the ignition of a car in order to start the engine.

ignoble [ɪɡ'nəʊbl] adj [person, action, thought] that is morally wrong and dishonorable (formal use).

ignominious [ɪɡnə'mɪniəs] adj [defeat, behavior] that causes shame or embarrassment, especially because it happens in public (formal use) □ democracy's most ignominious day.

ignominy [ɪɡnə'mɪni] n a state or feeling of shame or embarrassment, especially because of something that has happened in public (formal use) □ I couldn't bear the ignominy of it.

ignoramus [ɪɡnə'reɪməs] (pl ignoramuses) n a person who one thinks is very stupid (disapproving use) □ I felt such an ignoramus!

ignorance [ɪ'ɪgnərəns] n [of a fact the law] a lack of knowledge or awareness of something, especially of something that one should know about □ He showed his complete ignorance of local customs. ■ ignorance is bliss a phrase used to say that it is better not to know something unpleasant in a particular situation.

ignorant [ɪ'ɪgnərənt] adj -1. [person] who knows little or nothing about something, especially something that they should know about □ I'm pretty ignorant about politics. -2. to be ignorant of sthg [of a fact, event] not to know about sthg □ I was completely ignorant of its existence until now. -3. [person, behavior] that shows a lack of politeness □ You ignorant oaf!

ignore [ɪg'nɔ:ʔ] vt [advice, fact, person] to be aware of, but not pay attention to, <sb/sthg> □ He pretended not to see me, but I knew he was ignoring me. □ We cannot continue to ignore the accusations that have been made against him.

iguana [ɪ'gwɑ:nə] (pl iguana OR iguanas) n a large gray-green lizard found in Latin America.

ikon ['aɪkɒn] n = icon.

IL abbr of Illinois.

ileum ['ɪlɪəm] (pl ilea) n the lower part of one's small intestine.

ilk [ɪlk] n of that ilk of the kind that has been mentioned □ bank robbers, burglars, and people of that ilk.

ill [ɪl] ◇ adj -1. to be ill [person, animal] to be in bad health □ I've been feeling ill for a few days now. ■ to fall OR be taken ill to become ill □ He fell ill and was taken to the hospital. -2. [effects, luck] bad. ◇ adv -1. badly □ We were ill-prepared for such news. ■ to speak/think ill of sb to say/think something unpleasant about sb □ We mustn't speak ill of the dead. -2. I/you etc can ill afford... I/you etc cannot very easily afford... □ We can ill afford such luxuries.

◆ ills npl [of a society, system] problems (formal use) □ social ills such as unemployment.

ill. abbr of illustration.

I'll [aɪl] = I will, I shall.

ill-advised [-əd'vaɪzɪd] adj [remark, action] that is foolish and likely to have bad results or cause problems □ You would be ill-advised to invest all your money in one venture.

ill at ease adj to be ill at ease not to be comfortable or relaxed, especially in a social situation □ He felt rather ill at ease in his new surroundings.

ill-bred adj [person] who shows a lack of politeness □ What an ill-bred young man!

ill-considered adj [remark, action, decision] that has not been thought about very carefully and is not very sensible □ He made a rather ill-considered move into the timber trade.

ill-disposed adj [person] who does not have a good opinion of a particular person or group of people and so is not willing to support or help them □ They are not ill-disposed toward young people, they're just old-fashioned.

illegal [ɪ'li:ɡl] ◇ adj [drug, parking] that is not allowed by the law of a country □ It's illegal to carry an offensive weapon. □ the illegal possession of drugs. ■ an illegal immigrant OR alien a person who has come from abroad to live in a particular country without official permission ◇ n an illegal immigrant.

illegally [ɪ'li:ɡəli] adv: see illegal □ He entered the country illegally. □ Your car is illegally parked.

illegible [ɪ'ledʒəbl] adj [handwriting, text, letter] that is unclear and so is impossible to read □ This is totally illegible!

illegitimate [ɪ,lə'dʒɪtɪmət] adj -1. [son, daughter] whose parents are not married to each other □ The composer had three illegitimate children. -2. [activity, aim] that is not allowed or accepted because of rules, customs etc □ The elections were declared illegitimate by the UN.

ill-equipped [-ɪ'kwɪpt] adj to be ill-equipped [person, institution, organization] to be unable to do something because of not having the necessary qualities, equipment, skills etc □ He felt ill-equipped to deal with the pressures of the job.

ill-fated adj [mission, trip, attempt] that ended badly or in failure □ their ill-fated climb to the summit.

ill feeling n feelings of anger or dislike between two or more people, e.g. as the result of a disagreement □ I don't want there to be any ill feeling between us.

ill-founded [-'faʊndəd] adj [fear, confidence, rumor] that is not based on facts or the real situation □ The rumors proved to be ill-founded.

ill-gotten gains npl something somebody has got from doing something immoral or illegal (formal use).

ill health n bad health or illness that continues over a long period of time □ She suffered from ill health for many years.

illicit [ɪ'lɪsət] adj [activity, affair, drug] that is illegal or disapproved of in a particular society and is usually secret □ He was involved in an illicit arms deal/trade.

illicitly [ɪ'lɪsətli] adv [deal, sell] see illicit.

ill-informed adj [person, opinion, argument] that shows very little knowledge about a particular subject □ People over here are very ill-informed about what's going on.

Illinois [ɪ,lə'nɔɪ] a state in the Midwest of the USA, consisting mainly of agricultural prairies. ABBREVIATION: IL. SIZE: 146,075 sq kms. POPULATION: 11,430,602 (Illinoisans). CAPITAL: Springfield. MAIN CITY: Chicago.

illiteracy [ɪ'lɪtərəsi] n the inability of a large group of people to read or write □ Since the beginning of the civil war, illiteracy has increased dramatically. □ child/adult illiteracy.

illiterate [ɪ'lɪtərət] ◇ adj [person] who cannot read or write; who knows little about a particular subject □ an illiterate peasant □ technologically illiterate. ◇ n an illiterate person.

ill-mannered adj [person] who is not polite.

illness ['ɪlnəs] n -1. [of person, animal] a period or state of being ill □ The show has been canceled due to illness. □ His illness has been widely reported in the press. -2. a disease of the body or mind □ mental illness □ She's suffering from an incurable illness.

illogical [ɪ'lɒdʒɪkl] adj [statement, idea, behavior] that has no sensible reason or explanation □ It all seems most illogical to me.

ill-suited adj to be ill-suited [couple] not to be right for each other, e.g. because of different interests or beliefs □ They're most ill-suited.

ill-tempered adj [person] who becomes angry easily and often □ an ill-tempered old man.

ill-timed adj [comment, action, event] that happens at the wrong time and could offend people or have bad results □ Their decision to publish the memoirs was somewhat ill-timed.

ill-treat vt [child, worker, horse] to treat  badly or cruelly □ She complained of having been ill-treated by other staff.

ill-treatment n: see ill-treat.

illuminate [i'lju:mneɪt] vt -1. [street, building, scene] to provide light to make <sth> easier to see □ The room was illuminated solely by candlelight. -2. [subject, concept, problem] to help somebody to understand <sth> more clearly by explaining or giving examples □ This story helps to illuminate why the mission failed.

illuminated [i'lju:mneɪtəd] adj -1. [sign, notice, building] that can be seen clearly because electric lights shine on it or in it. -2. ART [book, manuscript] that is decorated in bright colors, including gold or silver.

illuminating [i'lju:mneɪtɪŋ] adj [book, talk, experience] that helps somebody to understand something much more clearly.

illumination [i'lju:mɪneɪʃn] n [of a street, building, scene] see illuminate.

♦ illuminations npl in Britain, colored lights that are used to decorate part of a town or city, especially during a holiday period or on a special occasion.

illusion [i'lju:ʒn] n -1. [about something] a false idea that seems real. ■ to have no illusions about sb/sthg to see sb/sthg in a realistic way, without any false ideas or expectations □ I have no illusions about myself as an artist. ■ to be under the illusion that... to wrongly believe that... □ He was under the illusion that the service was offered free. -2. [of space, depth] something that seems different from the way it really is □ The mirror perspective gives an illusion of depth. -3. [for entertaining people] a magic trick in which somebody uses a special technique or skill to make other people think they see something impossible or surprising.

illusionist [i'lju:ʒənɪst] n a person who performs illusions as entertainment (formal use).

illusory [i'lju:səri] adj [hope, belief, victory] that one realizes after a period of time is false or impossible (formal use).

illustrate ['ɪləstreɪt] vt -1. to be illustrated [book, text] to contain pictures, diagrams etc □ The book is heavily illustrated with photos and drawings. □ an illustrated guide to Rome. -2. [point, fact, quality] to be proof or a good example of <sth> □ The results clearly illustrate the need for improvement. □ Allow me to illustrate what I mean.

illustration [i,lɪ'streɪʃn] n -1. [in a book, text, magazine] a picture, diagram etc in a book or next to a piece of writing □ a color/black and white illustration. -2. [of a point, fact, quality] an example used to help explain something □ That's an illustration of his generosity.

illustrator ['ɪləstreɪtə] n a person whose job is to draw pictures for books, greeting cards etc □ an illustrator of children's books.

illustrious [i'lɑ:striəs] adj [career, name, achievement] that is known and admired by many people (formal use).

ill will n anger or dislike that one feels toward somebody, e.g. because of a disagreement □ I don't bear him any ill will.

ill wind n it's an ill wind (that blows nobody any good) a phrase used to say that a situation or event that seems bad may in fact bring some good luck.

ILO (abbr of International Labor Organization) n the ILO a branch of the UN concerned with pay, employment, and working conditions.

I'm [aɪm] = I am.

image ['ɪmɪdʒ] n -1. [in one's mind] a picture or idea that one has in one's mind about how somebody or something looks or what they are like □ What's your image of the typical English person? □ Most people's image of modeling is of glamor and excitement. -2. [in a mirror, through a lens] the scene that one can see in a mirror or through the lens of a camera □ Make sure the image is focused properly. -3. [on a screen, in a picture] a picture or scene that appears on a TV, movie theater, or computer screen or in a painting, photograph etc □ shocking images of violence. -4. [of a star, party, company] the way that the public sees a person, organization etc, especially because of appearance, behavior, or advertising □ She's got a good/bad public image. □ The Governor is trying to create a new, caring image with the public. □ an image consultant. -5. [in a poem, song] a written description of something physical that is used to represent an idea or feeling □ The image of the snake signifies danger. -6. to be the image of sb to look exactly like sb □ You're the exact image of your father!

imagery ['ɪmɪdʒəri] n -1. language in writing, especially poetry, that describes something physical in order to represent an idea or feeling □ the use of religious imagery. -2. the use of pictures or scenes in a movie, painting etc to represent particular ideas or feelings □ I don't understand the imagery.

imaginable [ɪ'mædʒɪnəbl] adj that one can imagine or think of □ She's done everything imaginable, from mountain climbing to deep-sea diving.

imaginary [US ɪ'mædʒənəri, GB -ɪnəri] adj [character, weapon, world] that exists in somebody's mind, but is not real □ The equator is an imaginary line going around the middle of the Earth.

imagination [ɪ,mædʒɪ'neɪʃn] n -1. the ability to imagine things, especially when they are new or unusual □ Use your imagination! □ Her writing shows great imagination. -2. the part of the mind that imagines things □ I think your imagination is running away with you! -3. something, e.g. an idea, that comes from somebody's imagination and is not really true □ The whole affair is pure imagination.

imaginative [ɪ'mædʒənətɪv] adj -1. [writer, artist] who uses their imagination □ She's a very imaginative student. -2. [writing, design, idea] that shows imagination □ We need a more imagina- ative approach to creating jobs. □ a highly imaginative work of art.

imagine [i'mædʒɪn] vt -1. [scene, event, situation] to form an idea or picture of <sth> in one's mind, especially without knowing or experiencing it □ I can't imagine (myself) getting the job. □ I can imagine what she said. ■ imagine (that)! a phrase used to react to surprising or unusual news □ Twins! Just imagine! -2. to experience <sth> in a way that seems real, but only exists in one's mind □ Don't be silly, you're just imagining things! -3. to imagine (that)... to think that something is probably true □ I imagine (that) you're tired after your trip.

imaginings [i'mædʒɪnɪŋz] npl things that are not real and only exist in the mind (literary use).

imbalance [i'm'bæləns] n a state in which two closely connected things are not equal, with the result that there can be problems □ a hormone imbalance.

imbecile [US 'ɪmbəsl, GB -si:l] n a person who one thinks is stupid (disapproving use).

imbue [ɪm'bju:] vt to imbue sb with sth [with a quality, feeling] to influence sb so that sth becomes part of their character or behavior □ Our students are imbued with a sense of respect.

IMF n abbr of International Monetary Fund.

imitate ['ɪmɪteɪt] vt -1. [person] to copy the behavior, voice etc of <sb> in order to annoy them or entertain other people □ He's always imitating his sister. -2. [person, organization, method] to copy <sb/sth> in one's way of doing things, usually in order to achieve something similar □ Very few companies have been able to imitate their success.

imitation [i'mə'teɪʃn] ◇ n -1. [of a person] an act of imitating somebody in order to annoy them or entertain other people □ She does a great imitation of the boss. -2. [of a piece of jewelry, machinery, clothing] a copy of something that is usually cheaper but not as good as the original item □ He only sells cheap imitations. -3. [of a person, method] see imitate □ Children learn to speak by imitation. ◇ adj [leather, jewelry] that is a copy of something more well-known or expensive.

imitator ['ɪmɪteɪtə] n a person who copies somebody else in their way of doing things or in the way they look.

immaculate [i'mækjələt] adj -1. [appearance, person, room] that is very clean and tidy □ an immaculate suit □ Mary looked immaculate that night. -2. [behavior, technique, timing] that is of a very high standard and cannot be criticized in any way □ It was an immaculate performance.

immaculately [i'mækjələtli] adv immaculately dressed/presented very well dressed/presented □ The house was immaculately clean.

immaterial [i'mə'tɪəriəl] adj [event, detail, information] that is not important in relation to a particular question □ Whether or not he was actually there at the time is immaterial.

immature [i'mə'tʃʊə] adj -1. [person, behavior, response] that is not as sensible as one expects of an adult or of somebody of a particular age □ Don't be so immature! -2. [plant, animal, person] that is not yet fully developed □ an emotionally immature young man.

immaturity [i'mə'tʃʊəri] n: see immature.

immeasurable [i'meɪʒərəbl] adj [damage, difference, wealth] that is too large to be measured □ His importance to the company is immeasurable.

immediacy [i'mi:dʒəsi] n the quality in a picture or piece of writing that makes one feel very involved in what is shown or described.

immediate [i'mi:dʒət] adj -1. [action, response, attention] that comes very soon after a particular event, situation etc has been noticed; [need, problem] that must receive attention very soon □ There were immediate shouts of protest. □ The money should be enough for our immediate needs. -2. [future, aim] that is nearest in time; [area, neighborhood] that is nearest in distance □ Our immediate goal is simply to survive. □ Residents in the immediate vicinity of the blast were evacuated. -3. one's immediate family one's closest family, including parents, brothers, and sisters □ Members of the victim's immediate family were informed.

immediately [i'mi:dʒətli] ◇ adv -1. [act, stop, agree] without any delay □ It wasn't immediately clear what had happened. -2. [affect, concern] without any other person, consideration etc coming before □ Priority is given to patients more immediately at risk. -3. [following, above, behind] with little space in between □ I followed immediately behind the others. □ Someone had written a note in pencil immediately below. ◇ conj GB as soon as □ Immediately I mentioned it she started shouting.

immemorial [i'mə'mɔ:riəl] adj from OR since time immemorial for longer than anybody can remember □ That building's been there since time immemorial.

immense [i'mens] adj [improvement, importance, satisfaction] that is great in quantity, size, or degree □ The dam is an immense structure. □ I've immense respect for all he's achieved.

immensely [i'mensli] adv immensely enjoyable/popular/difficult etc very enjoyable/popular/difficult etc □ He's immensely wealthy. □ an immensely successful artist □ I enjoyed my stay immensely.

immensity [i'mensəti] n [of a building, task, the universe] the great size of something; [of an achievement] the great importance or seriousness of something □ I couldn't quite take in the immensity of what had happened.

immerse [i'mɜ:ʃs] vt -1. to put <sth> in a liquid, especially water, so that it is completely covered □ For best results, ensure that the garment is completely immersed in the dye. -2. to immerse oneself in sth [in one's work, reading] to give all one's attention to sth □ She's immersing herself in her work to forget about him.

immersion heater [i'mɜ:ʃn-] n GB an electric heater that is used to provide hot water for use in the home.

immigrant [ˈɪmɪgrənt] n a person who comes from abroad to live permanently in a country, especially in order to have a better life □ a Turkish immigrant OR an immigrant from Turkey □ the immigrant population.

immigration [ˌɪmɪˈɡreɪʃn] n -1. the process of coming into a country in order to live there permanently □ There's a lot of immigration into Europe/from the Third World. □ immigration restrictions/laws. -2. immigration (control) the part of an airport, port etc where people's passports, visas etc are checked before they can enter a country □ All passengers must go through immigration.

Immigration and Naturalization Service [US -nætʃrələˈzeɪʃn-, GB -aɪˈzeɪʃn-] n the US government agency that deals with foreigners' requests to live and work in the USA.

imminence [ˈɪmɪnəns] n the closeness of an event in the future, especially one that is important or unpleasant.

imminent [ˈɪmɪnənt] adj [arrival, danger, disaster] that is very near in the future □ With elections now imminent, speculation is running high.

immobile [US ɪˈmoʊbəl, GB -ˈmoʊbaɪl] adj [person, body, animal] that is not moving or is not able to move □ He stood/sat immobile before me. □ The line of traffic was immobile.

immobilization [US ɪˌmoʊbələˈzeɪʃn, GB -aɪˈzeɪʃn] n: see immobilize.

immobilize, -ise [ɪˈmoʊbəlaɪz] vt [attacker, machine] to stop <sb/sthg> from moving; [system, process] to stop <sthg> from working properly □ Security guards immobilized the man. □ The alarm automatically immobilizes the car.

immonest [ɪˈmɒdəst] adj -1. [person] who emphasizes their own achievements, skills, qualities etc in a way that seems unnecessary. -2. [dress, behavior] that shocks people for moral reasons.

immoral [ɪˈmɒrəl] adj [behavior, action, idea] that is morally wrong or unacceptable; [book, movie] that shocks many people because of its sexual content □ It's immoral to make people pay so much tax.

immorality [ˌɪmərəˈlətɪ] n: see immoral.

immortal [ɪˈmɔːtl] ◇ adj -1. [being, god] that will never die □ the immortal universe. -2. [play, phrase, line] that is very famous and is remembered for a long time □ In the immortal words of Shakespeare,... ◇ n -1. a being, especially a god, that never dies. -2. a person, e.g. a movie or sports star, who will be remembered for a long time because of their achievements, abilities, qualities etc □ Ali is one of the immortals in boxing history.

immortality [ˌɪmɔːˈtɪlətɪ] n -1. life that will never end □ He believes in the immortality of the human spirit. -2. [of a movie star, sports personality] fame that will last for a long time □ Monroe achieved immortality.

immortalize, -ise [ɪˈmɔːˈtɪlaɪz] vt [person, event] to do something that means that people will remember or know about <sb/sthg> for a long time □ The duchess was immortalized in a famous painting by Van Dyck.

immovable [ɪˈmuːvəbl] adj -1. [object, table, statue] that is firmly fixed and cannot be moved. -2. [person, opinion] that cannot be changed by persuasion □ He was immovable on the subject.

immune [ɪˈmjuːn] adj -1. MEDICINE [person, animal] that cannot be affected by a particular illness because of the body's natural resistance or because of substances injected into the body □ If you've had the illness already, you should be immune to it. -2. to be immune to sthg [to criticism, flattery, a danger] not to be affected by sthg □ I'm not immune to persuasion. □ They were immune to our cries for help.

immune system n the system inside one's body that helps fight infections and prevent illness.

immunity [ɪˈmjuːnəti] n: see immune □ There is no such thing as immunity to the common cold.

immunization [US ˌɪmjuːnəˈzeɪʃn, GB -jʊnaɪˈzeɪʃn] n: see immunize □ The vaccine gives five years' immunization to OR against infection.

immunize, -ise [US ˌɪmjuːnaɪz, GB -jʊnaɪz] vt to give  protection from a disease by injecting a substance into the body □ You should be immunized against typhoid before you go.

immunodeficiency [US ˌɪmjuːnəʊdɪˈfɪʃnsɪ, GB -jʊnəʊdɪˈfɪʃnsɪ] n the inability of somebody's immune system to work properly.

immunology [US ˌɪmjuːnɒlədʒɪ, GB -jʊˈnɒlədʒɪ] n the area of science that is connected with the body's immunity to disease.

immutable [ɪˈmjuːtəbl] adj [law, decision, attitude] that cannot be changed (formal use) □ an immutable fact of life.

imp [ɪmp] n -1. a small creature, especially in children's stories, that uses its special powers to cause trouble. -2. a naughty child.

impact [n ˈɪmpækt, vb ɪmˈpækt] ◇ n -1. the force of something hitting another thing □ The impact of the crash caused considerable damage. ■ on impact at the moment of impact □ The shell exploded on impact. -2. the important effect that an event, change, person, piece of information etc has □ The movie made a huge impact on audiences all over the world. ◇ vt -1. to press <sthg> firmly into something else. -2. to affect <sthg>.

impair [ɪmˈpeə] vt [hearing, efficiency, flavor] to affect <sthg> badly so that it is not as good as before □ We allow nothing to impair the quality of our products.

impaired [ɪmˈpeəd] adj [vision, hearing] that has been damaged □ She suffers from impaired eyesight.

-impaired suffix added to words to show that somebody has a disability □ visually-impaired. ■ mobility-impaired physically disabled.

impale [ɪmˈpeɪl] vt to cause <sb/sthg> to be pierced by a sharp pointed object □ There was an empty can impaled on the fence outside the house.

impart [ɪmˈpɑːt] vt (formal use) -1. [information, knowledge] to give <sthg> to somebody, especially by telling them. -2. [feeling, quality, flavor] to pass <sthg> on to somebody or something □ The cardamom imparts a certain exotic flavor to the dish.

impartial [ɪm'pɑ:ʃl] adj [observer, news report, judge] that does not favor one side more than the other in a situation and so is fair □ A good critic should remain impartial.

impartiality [ɪm,pɑ:ʃi'æləti] n: see impartial □ Can you guarantee the impartiality of the jury in this case?

impassable [US ɪm'pæsəbl, GB -'pɑ:s-] adj [road, bridge] that no person or vehicle can travel on or across □ The snow rendered the bridge impassable.

impasse [US ɪ'mpæs, GB æm'pɑ:s] n a point in a situation or process that cannot be passed because of a problem or disagreement □ The talks have reached an impasse.

impassioned [ɪm'pæʃnd] adj [plea, debate, speech] that is full of strong feelings □ The politician made an impassioned plea on behalf of the victims.

impassive [ɪm'pæsi:v] adj [face, expression, person] that does not show any emotion.

impatience [ɪm'peɪʃns] n: see impatient □ There is growing impatience with the government's failure to act.

impatient [ɪm'peɪʃnt] adj -1. [person, crowd, customer] that cannot wait without becoming annoyed □ The audience was starting to become impatient. -2. [person] who wants to have or do something very much □ She's impatient to finish. □ They were impatient for success/news. -3. [person] who becomes annoyed easily □ Don't be so impatient. □ I get very impatient with people who don't think before they talk.

impatiently [ɪm'peɪʃntli] adv [wait, react] see impatient □ "Well?" she said impatiently.

impeach [ɪm'pi:tʃ] vt [official, politician, president] to accuse <sb> of committing a serious crime in connection with their job while they were in an important public position.

impeccable [ɪm'pekəbl] adj [behavior, appearance, performance] that cannot be criticized in any way because of being perfect □ He has impeccable manners.

impeccably [ɪm'pekəbli] adv [dress, behave] see impeccable □ an impeccably dressed young man.

impecunious [ɪmpə'kju:njəs] adj [person] who has very little money (formal use).

impede [ɪm'pi:d] vt [person, progress, investigation] to make it difficult for <sb/sthg> to go ahead as planned or desired □ The salvage operation was impeded by the weather.

impediment [ɪm'pedɪmənt] n -1. a situation, fact etc that makes it difficult for somebody to do something or for something to happen (formal use) □ There is no legal impediment to their marriage. -2. a physical problem that makes walking or talking difficult □ a speech impediment.

impel [ɪm'pel] (pt & pp impelled, cont impelling) vt to make <sb> feel that they must do something □ I felt impelled to call and ask them what had gone wrong.

impending [ɪm'pendɪŋ] adj [disaster, danger, trial] that is going to happen soon □ Mike had a sense of impending doom.

impenetrable [ɪm'penɪtrəbl] adj -1. [barrier, darkness, forest] that is difficult or impossible to move through or see through; [mystery] that is impossible to solve □ To the north lay impenetrable jungle. -2. [writing, theory, law] that is very difficult or impossible to understand □ The way the book's written makes it pretty impenetrable stuff.

imperative [ɪm'perətɪv] ◇ adj urgent □ It's imperative that we take action now to prevent disaster. ◇ n -1. something that must be done quickly and urgently □ Immediate action is now an absolute imperative. -2. GRAMMAR the verb form that is used to give an order or instruction, e.g. "come in!" or "stop!" □ The verb is in the imperative.

imperceptible [ɪmpə'septəbl] adj [change, movement] that is so small or slight that it is not noticed or felt □ an almost imperceptible flinch.

imperfect [ɪm'pɜ:fɪkt] ◇ adj [work, copy, knowledge] that is not perfect □ All imperfect goods have been reduced by 50%. ◇ n the imperfect (tense) the verb form that is used to refer to a continuous action in the past, e.g. in the sentence "It was raining."

imperfection [ɪmpə'fɛkʃn] n -1. [on skin, a piece of china] a small mark or damaged part of something. -2. [in a person, system] a fault in somebody or something that stops them from being perfect □ You'll have to learn to live with his imperfections.

imperial [ɪm'piəriəl] adj -1. [guard, palace, past] that is connected with an emperor or an empire □ imperial China. -2. [gallon, pint] that is connected with the British system of measurements for weight, size, and quantity □ an imperial measure □ the imperial system of weights and measures.

📖 IMPERIAL

The imperial system of weight and measurement, based on the pound, gallon, and yard, is used in the USA in all contexts apart from scientific ones. Americans use pounds to talk about their weight, and distances are calculated in miles.

In Britain, the imperial system has officially been replaced by the metric system, based on the kilogram, liter, and meter. However, older people still use imperial terms and describe their weight in stones and pounds, and distances are still shown in miles and kilometers on maps.

The US and British imperial systems have different quantities for ounces, pints, and gallons (the British measures are about 20% larger).

imperialism [ɪm'piəriəlɪzəm] n the system by which one country controls other, usually weaker countries for its own purposes □ cultural imperialism.

imperialist [ɪm'piəriəlɪst] ◇ adj [regime, ruler, idea] see imperialism. ◇ n a person who believes in or is responsible for imperialism.

imperil [ɪm'pɛrəl] (US pt & pp imperiled, cont imperiling, GB pt & pp imperilled, cont imperiling) vt [life, project] to put <sb/sthg> in danger (formal use).

imperious [ɪm'pɪəriəs] adj [manner, voice, person] that demands attention or obedience.

impersonal [ɪm'pɜːʃnəl] adj -1. [person, manner, letter] that does not show any emotions or personal feelings □ The letter should be as impersonal as possible. -2. [place, atmosphere] where people feel they are not treated as individuals □ It was a large impersonal building. -3. GRAMMAR an impersonal verb a verb that is only used after "there" or "it" and that has no subject, as in "It is snowing." ■ an impersonal pronoun a pronoun that does not refer to a person or object, e.g. "it" in the sentence "It is going to rain."

impersonate [ɪm'pɜːʃneɪt] vt -1. to copy the behavior and appearance of <sb> in order to amuse people □ Janet started her stage career impersonating well-known public figures. -2. to pretend to be <sb> in order to deceive people □ Stevens was arrested for impersonating a police officer.

impersonation [ɪm'pɜːʃneɪʃn] n: see impersonate □ You should see her impersonation of Madonna! ■ to do impersonations to impersonate famous people in order to amuse people.

impersonator [ɪm'pɜːʃneɪtə] n a person who impersonates famous people to amuse an audience.

impertinence [ɪm'pɜːtɪnəns] n behavior that one thinks is rude and disrespectful □ I've never come across such impertinence before!

impertinent [ɪm'pɜːtɪnənt] adj [person, remark, behavior] that one thinks is rude and disrespectful □ Don't be impertinent!

imperturbable [ɪmpɜː'tɜːbəbl] adj [person] who is calm and is not easily upset by problems □ He gave his usual imperturbable smile.

impervious [ɪm'pɜːvʃəs] adj to be impervious to sthg [to criticism, new ideas] not to be influenced or changed by sthg □ I'm not impervious to flattery, you know.

impetuous [ɪm'petʃuəs] adj [person] who acts too quickly and without thinking about the possible consequences □ I admit I was rather impetuous as a young man.

impetus [ɪm'pɛtəs] n -1. an influence that encourages something to develop more quickly □ A fresh injection of cash will give us the impetus we need. □ With all the media coverage it's getting, the movement is gaining impetus. -2. PHYSICS the force with which an object moves.

impinge [ɪm'pɪndʒ] vi to impinge on sthg to have an effect on sthg, usually limiting it in some way □ The new laws will in no way impinge on people's freedom of speech.

impish ['ɪmpɪʃ] adj [person, behavior, grin] that makes one think of a naughty playful child.

implacable [ɪm'plækəbl] adj [opponent, hatred] that cannot be changed or made less extreme.

implant [n US 'ɪmplənt, GB '-plɑːnt, vb US 'ɪmplənt, GB '-plɑːnt] ◇ n something, such as tissue, that is placed in somebody's body in a medical operation □ a breast implant □ hair implants. ◇ vt -1. to implant sthg in OR into sb [idea, feeling, attitude] to fix sthg very firmly in sb □ These prejudices were implanted in people's minds by years of propaganda. -2. [tissue, electrode] to put <sthg> in somebody's body in a medical operation.

implausible [ɪm'plɔːzəbl] adj [story, theory] that is difficult to believe because it is very unusual or seems unlikely to be true □ It seems highly implausible that no one saw her leave.

implement [n 'ɪmpləmənt, vb 'ɪmpləment] ◇ n a small piece of equipment □ farm implements. ◇ vt [suggestion, policy, law] to put <sthg> into practice □ This is our last chance before the new law is implemented.

implementation [ɪmplə'men'teɪʃn] n [of a suggestion, policy, law] see implement.

implicate ['ɪmpləkeɪt] vt [person] to show that <sb> is involved in something, especially in a crime □ The new evidence implicates you in the fraud.

implication [ɪmplə'keɪʃn] n -1. [of a person] see implicate □ The senator's implication in the affair is likely to cause problems. -2. a possible consequence of an action or decision □ It took him a moment to realize the full implications of what he had said. ■ by implication by indirect suggestion.

implicit [ɪm'plɪsɪt] adj -1. [meaning, acknowledgment, criticism] that is suggested or understood but not stated directly □ Implicit in his statement was a condemnation of the director's conduct. -2. [faith, belief, trust] that is complete and not doubted □ The governor had the implicit confidence of his staff.

implicitly [ɪm'plɪsɪtli] adv [criticize, believe] see implicit □ I trusted Anne implicitly.

implied [ɪm'plaɪd] adj [criticism, rejection] that is suggested but not expressed directly □ There was an implied threat in what she had said.

implode [ɪm'pləʊd] vi to collapse or burst inward.

implore [ɪm'plɔːr] vt to beg <sb> to do something or to change their mind about something □ Don't do it, I implore you!

imply [ɪm'plaɪ] (pt & pp implied) vt -1. to imply that... to suggest that something is true without stating it directly □ Are you implying that I've made a mistake? -2. [responsibility, need] to make it seem that <sthg> is a likely or necessary result □ What does this imply for future relations between the two countries?

impolite [ɪmpə'laɪt] adj [person, behavior, remark] that one finds rude □ It would be impolite to refuse.

imponderable [ɪm'pɒndərəbl] adj [question, law, force] whose importance is difficult to guess or measure.

◆ imponderables npl things that are imponderable □ There are too many imponderables.

import [n 'ɪmpɔːt, vt ɪm'pɔːt] ◇ n -1. BUSINESS a product or service brought into a country from another country □ Imports are down on last year. -2. the import of sthg [of a speech, document] the meaning that is contained in sthg (formal use). -3. of great/little etc import very/not very etc important (formal use).

◇ vt -1. [goods, produce] to bring <sthg> into a country from another country □ These cars are imported from Europe. -2. [ideas, values, word] to bring <sthg> into a system or society from outside. -3. COMPUTING [file, document] to transfer <data> from one type of software into a type that one can use.

importance [ɪm'pɔːtɪns] n the value or significance of something □ Don't worry, it's of no great importance. □ It's a matter of some importance.

important [ɪm'pɔːtnt] adj -1. [meeting, work, day] that is special or necessary and likely to have serious effects, e.g. on one's life □ What's important is that you keep a detailed record of events. □ It's important for you all to know this. □ She said it was important to get plenty of rest. □ This contract is very important to me. -2. [person, country, organization] that has a lot of power or influence □ He's not as important as he'd like to think he is. □ She's something important in retail management.

importantly [ɪm'pɔːtntli] adv more importantly a phrase used to introduce and emphasize the second part of an argument or explanation □ The children are healthy now but, more importantly, they're happy.

importation [ɪm'pɔː'teɪʃn] n a product, service etc that is imported; the act of importing something □ restrictions on the importation of manufactured goods.

imported [ɪm'pɔː'tɪd] adj [produce, fashion] that has been brought into a country from another country; [ideas, values, word] that has been brought into a system or society from outside □ Imported goods are heavily taxed.

importer [ɪm'pɔː'tə] n a person, company, or country that buys goods or services from another country to use or sell them in their own country □ a coffee/wine importer.

import licence n in Britain, a license that somebody must get before they can bring certain goods into the country to sell them.

impose [ɪm'pəʊz] ◇ vt [discipline, beliefs, limit] to force somebody or something to accept <sthg> □ They've imposed further tax increases on the electorate. □ I won't allow you to impose your ideas on my child. ◇ vi to cause inconvenience to somebody □ I wouldn't want to impose on you. □ I hope I'm not imposing in any way.

imposing [ɪm'pəʊzɪŋ] adj [person, building] that is impressive in appearance, and is usually taller or larger than normal □ The general was an imposing figure.

imposition [ɪm'pəʊzɪʃn] n -1. [of beliefs, a limit] see impose. -2. [on a person] something that is expected of somebody but may not be convenient for them □ I know it's a bit of an im-sition, but could you watch the kids for ten minutes?

impossibility [ɪm'pɒsə'bɪlətɪ] (pl impossibilities) n: see impossible □ It's an absolute impossibility.

impossible [ɪm'pɒsəbl] ◇ adj -1. [task, dream] that one feels cannot be achieved □ It's an impossible goal. -2. [situation, person] that is very difficult to deal with □ He's quite impossible! -3. [event, story] that one thinks is unlikely or unbelievable □ But that's impossible! ◇ n to do the impossible to succeed in doing something that is very difficult.

imposter US, impostor [ɪm'pɒstə] n a person who claims to be somebody else in order to get something they want □ This woman is an imposter!

impotence [ɪ'mpɒtəns] n -1. the inability of a man to have sex because he cannot get an erection □ Depression can be a cause of impotence. -2. a lack of power and influence over people or events □ a feeling of impotence in the face of overwhelming bureaucracy.

impotent [ɪ'mpɒtənt] adj -1. [man] who is unable to have sex because he cannot get an erection. -2. [person, government] that has no power to influence people or events □ I felt utterly impotent to help.

impound [ɪm'paʊnd] vt [goods, car] to legally take <sthg> away from somebody and keep it until they are allowed to collect it.

impoverished [ɪm'pɒvərɪʃt] adj -1. [country, people] that has been made very poor □ his impoverished relations. -2. [imagination, language] that has become worse in quality □ the impoverished state of modern literature.

impracticable [ɪm'præktɪkəbl] adj [idea, plan] that is impossible to do □ It's completely impracticable.

impractical [ɪm'præktɪkl] adj [idea, suggestion, plan] that is not sensible or easy to carry out; [person] who is not good at dealing sensibly with ordinary practical problems or tasks □ John's highly intelligent but totally impractical.

imprecise [ɪm'prɪ'saɪs] adj [term, idea] that is not clear or exact □ The details of the contract are still very imprecise.

impregnable [ɪm'pregnəbl] adj [fortress, defenses] that is very strong and impossible to attack successfully.

impregnate [ɪm'pregneɪt] vt -1. to make a substance spread through <sthg> □ A small pad impregnated with chloroform was used as an anesthetic. -2. to make  pregnant (technical use).

impresario [ɪm'prɛ'sɑːrɪəʊ] (pl impresarios) n a person who organizes theatrical or musical performances.

impress [ɪm'pres] ◇ vt -1. to cause <sb> to admire and respect one's abilities, achievements, appearance etc □ I was really impressed by her application. -2. to impress sthg on sb to make sb understand the importance of sthg □ I tried to impress on her the need for absolute discretion. ◇ vi to impress somebody with one's abilities, achievements etc □ I often sing that song at parties — it never fails to impress.

impression [ɪm'preʃn] n -1. [on a person] the effect that a person, an event etc has on somebody □ Try to create a good impression. ■ to make an impression to have a strong, usually positive, effect on somebody □ It made quite an impression on me, I must say. -2. [of a person, situation] what one thinks about somebody or something □ I don't want you to get the wrong impression. □ I have the distinct impression she's annoyed. ■ to be under the impression (that)... to believe, especially wrongly, (that)... □ I was under the impression (that) you weren't coming. -3. [of somebody's appearance, behavior] an imitation of a famous person's appearance and way of speaking and behaving that is intended to amuse and entertain people □ He does a very good impression of James Cagney. -4. [on a surface] a mark left by the pressure of something on the surface of a stamp, book etc □ the impressions of his boots in the sand.

impressionable [ɪm'preʃnəbl̩] adj [person] who is easily influenced □ He's at that impressionable age.

Impressionism [ɪm'preʃnɪzəm] n a style of painting, developed in France between 1870 and 1900, that is concerned with showing the effects of light on a subject rather than with giving clear and precise detail.

impressionist [ɪm'preʃnɪst] n a person who imitates the appearance, speech, and behavior of well-known people to entertain other people.

◆ Impressionist ◇ adj [painting, art, painter] that uses the style of Impressionism. ◇ n a person who painted according to the ideas of Impressionism in the late 19th century.

impressive [ɪm'presɪv] adj [performer, achievement, building] that impresses one because it is very well done, very large, important etc □ Her list of contacts was pretty impressive.

imprint [n 'ɪmprɪnt, vt ɪm'prɪnt] n -1. a mark left on something by an object pressing down on it □ the imprint of a tire in the mud. -2. a name used by a publishing company, printed at the front of a book □ published by Larousse under the Chambers imprint.

imprinted [ɪm'prɪntəd] adj to be imprinted on one's mind OR memory to have made a strong impression on one and be difficult to forget □ That day will be forever imprinted on my mind.

imprison [ɪm'prɪzn] vt to put <sb> in prison □ They've been imprisoned here for 20 years.

imprisonment [ɪm'prɪznmənt] n a period of time spent in prison □ Both men were sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

improbable [ɪm'prɒbəbl̩] adj -1. [story, excuse, ending] that is unlikely to be true or to happen □ It seems highly improbable that he could have done it on his own. -2. [outfit, hat, machine] that looks strange or ridiculous.

impromptu [ɪm'prɒmptʃu:] adj [party, meeting, speech] that happens without being planned in advance.

improper [ɪm'prɒpəʳ] adj -1. [conduct, dealings] illegal or dishonest □ They were accused of making improper use of state funds. -2. [suggestion, behavior] that seems rude and shocking in a particular situation □ That was rather improper of you, asking a question like that.

impropriety [ɪm'prɒ'praɪəti] n illegal or socially unacceptable behavior.

improve [ɪm'pru:v] ◇ vi -1. [weather, one's chances, one's health] to become better □ The standard of students has improved greatly over the past year. -2. to improve oneself to increase one's knowledge or qualifications by studying. ◇ vt [conditions, one's performance, one's chances] to make <sthg> better □ How can I improve my Spanish?

◆ improve on, improve upon vt fus to improve on OR upon sthg to produce something better or of higher value than sthg that already exists □ How can we improve on last year's results? □ DRI improved on the offer made by its rival.

improved [ɪm'pru:vɪd] adj [product, conditions, relations] better than before □ the new, improved public transportation system.

improvement [ɪm'pru:vmənt] n -1. the act of improving something, or the state of being improved □ There's been no improvement in the weather so far. □ It's a vast improvement on last year's pay deal. -2. a change made to a building, room etc in order to make it more attractive or comfortable □ home improvements.

improvisation [US ɪm'prɒvə'zeɪʃn, GB ɪm'prɒvə'zeɪʃn] n: see improvise □ He played an improvisation on "Yesterday."

improvise [ɪm'prɒvaɪz] ◇ vt [shelter, meal] to make <sthg> using whatever is available, because one does not have the proper materials or equipment □ We had to improvise a sofa out of an old bed and some cushions. ◇ vi [musician, actor] to produce words or music that has not been written down before or prepared beforehand □ The cast was encouraged to improvise rather than use a script.

imprudent [ɪm'pru:dnt] adj [behavior, person, remark] that one thinks is not sensible □ It would be imprudent to talk of future plans.

impudence [ɪm'pjədəns] n: see impudent □ And he had the impudence to complain!

impudent [ɪm'pjədənt] adj [person, remark] that one thinks is rude and disrespectful □ You impudent little brat!

impugn [ɪm'pju:n] vt [honesty, claim] to criticize <sthg> by suggesting that it is false or dishonest (formal use).

impulse [ɪm'pʌls] n -1. [in a person] a sudden strong desire to do something. ■ to do sthg on impulse to do sthg because of a sudden strong desire and without planning it □ I bought it on impulse. -2. [in a nerve, wire] an electrical signal that is sent through a nerve or wire, or through the air □ These impulses are then sent to the brain.

impulse buying [-baɪɪŋ] n the act of buying goods on impulse.

impulsive [ɪm'pʌlsɪv] adj [person] who does things suddenly without thinking about the consequences.

impunity [ɪm'pjʊnəti] n with impunity without being punished □ The main offenders go about their business with relative impunity.

impure [ɪm'pjʊə] adj -1. [substance] that is not pure, because it is mixed with another substance □ This is an example of the chemical in its impure state. -2. [thought, act, person] that is connected with sex and considered immoral.

impurity [ɪm'pjʊərətɪ] (pl impurities) n a substance that is present in another substance and that makes it less strong, valuable etc □ This process should remove all impurities.

IMRO ['ɪmrou] (abbr of Investment Management Regulatory Organization) n a British organization that controls the activities of merchant banks and the managers of pension funds.

in [ɪn] ◊ prep -1. it's in a box/bag/drawer it is enclosed by a box/bag/drawer, so that it cannot be seen from the outside □ What have you got in your mouth? □ I found it in the pocket of my raincoat. -2. used to indicate the place where something or somebody is or where something happens □ He's in the bedroom/garden. □ They met in Paris/the States. □ Our head office is in Tokyo. -3. to be in a suit/dress to be wearing a suit/dress □ She was still in her nightclothes. □ She was dressed in white. -4. to be in a book/movie to appear in a book/movie □ I read it in today's paper. □ His name is mentioned in Chapter 2. ■ to be in a race/play to take part in a race/play □ I'm running in the New York Marathon. -5. to arrive in the morning/the afternoon/January to arrive at some point during the morning/the afternoon/January □ We're getting married in June. □ In 1921 she moved to Canada. □ Start feeding plants in late spring. -6. to meet in two hours/three weeks to meet after a period of two hours/three weeks is ended □ Hurry up, the park closes in ten minutes. □ I'll call you back in twenty minutes. -7. to do sthg in an hour/six months to take an hour/six months to do sthg □ He learned to type in two weeks. □ I'll be ready in five minutes. -8. we haven't seen each other in years/months several years/months have passed since the last time we met □ I haven't been out at all in the last week. -9. to go out in the rain/snow to go out while it is raining/snowing □ Don't stay out too long in the sun. ■ to be in danger/difficulty to be in a dangerous/difficult situation □ He's in trouble with the police. □ She died in poverty. □ The castle was in ruins. -10. to speak in a loud/soft voice to speak loudly/softly. ■ to talk in English/French to use English/French to talk. ■ to write in pencil/ink to use a pencil/ink to write with. -11. in my excitement/anger because I was excited/angry □ She stared at me in amazement. -12. to be in business/politics to have business/politics as one's work or career □ My son's in computers. □ I started out in publishing. ■ advances in science/medicine scientific/medical advances. -13. to be in love/pain to be feeling love/pain □ I could see she was in some distress. -14. to be in one's twenties [person] to be between 20 and 29 years old □ The temperature was up in the forties. □ She retired in her late fifties. -15. to be in a line/row/circle to be arranged as a line/row/circle. -16. to buy sthg in large/small quantities to buy large/small quantities of sthg. ■ people came in large numbers/in their thousands large numbers/thousands of people came □ Fans were arriving in droves. -17. to be three yards in length/width to be three yards long/wide. -18. one in ten people one person out of every group of ten. ■ a tax of 15 cents in the dollar a tax that takes 15 cents from every dollar that is earned. -19. used after superlatives □ She's the tallest girl in her class. □ It's the longest river in the world.

◊ adv -1. to put sthg in to put sthg inside a container □ He opened the oven door and put the pie in. -2. to look/go in to look/go into a room, building, or car □ It started raining and we all went in. ■ come in! used to give somebody permission to come into one's office, bedroom etc. -3. to stay/be in [person] to stay/be at home or the place where one works □ She's not in right now. □ You're never in when I call. -4. to be in [train, boat, plane] to have arrived □ Is the ferry in yet? -5. the tide is coming in the sea is coming toward the shore and covering it. -6. phrases to be in for sthg to be about to experience sthg, usually something bad □ He's in for a shock! □ We're in for some nasty weather. ■ to be in on sthg to know about sthg secret and be included in it □ Who else is in on this?

◊ adj to be in to be fashionable □ Short skirts are in again.

◆ ins npl the ins and outs of sthg all the facts and details about sthg □ I'm interested in the deal, but I'd like to know more about the ins and outs of it.

◆ in all adv in total □ In all I'd say there must have been fifty people there.

◆ in that conj used to explain the previous statement □ It might be difficult in that we're away all that week.

in. abbr of inch.

IN abbr of Indiana.

inability [ɪnə'bɪlətɪ] n the state of not being able to do something □ He was surprised at his friend's inability to deal with the situation.

inaccessible [ɪnək'sesəblɪ] adj -1. [village, house, area] that is impossible to reach □ The cove is inaccessible by road. -2. [movie, book, music] that is very difficult for most people to enjoy or understand □ This kind of humor is inaccessible to people from other cultures.

inaccuracy [ɪn'ækjərəsɪ] (pl inaccuracies) n -1. [of a statement, report, figure] see inaccurate □ They apologized for the inaccuracy of their article. -2. a mistake or something that is not entirely correct □ There were several inaccuracies in the text.

inaccurate [ɪn'ækjərət] adj [statement, report, figure] that is not completely correct □ These statistics are wildly inaccurate.

inaction [ɪn'ækʃn] n the failure of somebody to do something to deal with a situation □ political inaction.

inactive [ɪn'æktɪv] adj [person, animal] that does very little or nothing □ The movement remained inactive for several years.

inactivity [ˌɪnæktɪvətɪ] n [of a person, animal] a lack of movement or action □ after months of inactivity.

inadequacy [ɪnˈædɪkwəsi] (pl inadequacies) n: see inadequate □ the inadequacy of funding □ feelings of inadequacy.

inadequate [ɪnˈædɪkwət] adj -1. [supplies, funding] not enough in amount for a particular purpose; [equipment, excuse] not good enough for a particular purpose □ The sum of money offered is inadequate for our needs. □ There's inadequate cover for troops to attack on the ground. □ Their response to the problem was inadequate. -2. to feel inadequate [person] to feel unable to deal with particular situations or circumstances, especially because one thinks that one does not have certain skills, qualities etc □ He felt inadequate to deal with such a serious case.

inadmissible [ˌɪnədˈmɪsəbl] adj inadmissible evidence evidence that cannot be used in a court of law.

inadvertently [ˌɪnədˈvɜːtntlɪ] adv in a way that is not intentional □ Cooper inadvertently gave away his whereabouts to the police.

inadvisable [ˌɪnədˈvaɪzəbl] adj to be inadvisable not to be a sensible thing to do because of possible risks □ It would be inadvisable to set off in this weather.

inalienable [ɪnˈeɪliənəbl] adj an inalienable right a right that cannot be taken away (formal use).

inane [ɪˈneɪn] adj [remark, act] that one thinks is silly and without purpose or meaning □ His inane comments drove me crazy!

inanely [ɪˈneɪnlɪ] adv [grin, smile] see inane □ He grinned inanely at her.

inanimate [ɪnˈænɪmət] adj [object] not living.

inanity [ɪˈnænətɪ] n: see inane □ The inanity of their humor started to get on my nerves.

inapplicable [ɪnˈæplɪkəbl] adj [rule, question] that is not relevant to a particular subject or situation □ The rule is inapplicable in this case.

inappropriate [ˌɪnəˈprɒprɪət] adj [choice, time, remark] not suitable for a particular purpose or occasion □ It would be inappropriate to comment further on the situation. □ Sarah's behavior and appearance were totally inappropriate to what was basically a very formal event. □ The timing of the decision could not have been more inappropriate for us.

inarticulate [ˌɪnɑːrˈtɪkjələt] adj -1. [person] who is not able to express ideas or feelings well in speech because they cannot think of the best or proper words to use. -2. [speech, sound] that is not well or clearly expressed.

inasmuch [ˌɪnəzˈmʌtʃ] ♦ inasmuch as conj a phrase used to introduce something that explains what has just been said or that limits it in some way (formal use) □ We're satisfied with the decision inasmuch as it brings with it a degree of protection for our families.

inattention [ˌɪnəˈtenʃn] n a lack of attention or care □ His writing shows inattention to detail.

inattentive [ˌɪnəˈtentɪv] adj [person] who does not pay attention when they are supposed to □ Your son has been tired and inattentive in class.

inaudible [ɪnˈɔːdəbl] adj [sound, voice, person] that is not loud enough to be heard □ She spoke in a whisper that was almost inaudible.

inaugural [ɪˈnɔːgʃərəl] adj [meeting, edition, speech] that marks the beginning of something new □ The President's inaugural address was watched on TV by an audience of millions.

inaugurate [ɪˈnɔːgʃəreɪt] vt -1. [leader, president] to give <sb> an important position at an official ceremony □ The President will be inaugurated at a ceremony in the Winter Palace tomorrow. -2. [building, event] to open <sthg> with an official ceremony □ The Queen inaugurated the new museum.

inauguration [ˌɪnɔːgʃəˈreɪʃn] n: see inaugurate □ the inauguration ceremony.

inauspicious [ˌɪnɔːˈspɪʃəs] adj [event, beginning, day] that seems unlucky and makes one think that something will be unsuccessful.

in-between adj [size, stage] that comes between two other things □ Jamie's at that in-between age.

inboard [ˈɪnbɔːrd] adj an inboard motor a motor that is inside the main part of a boat instead of outside it.

inborn [ˌɪnˈbɔːrn] adj [ability, mistrust] that a person has as part of their nature from birth or from an early age □ an inborn sense of social justice.

inbound [ˈɪnbaʊnd] adj US [flight, passenger] that is coming toward a place □ All inbound flights to JFK have been canceled.

inbred [ˌɪnˈbred] adj -1. [mistrust, liking, charm] that is part of a person's nature from an early age □ an inbred dislike of authority. -2. [animal, plant] that is produced by inbreeding.

inbreeding [ˌɪnbriːdɪŋ] n the breeding of people, animals, or plants that are closely related □ Various mental defects can result from inbreeding.

inbuilt [ˌɪnˈbɪlt] adj -1. [device, mechanism] that is included as part of something when it is produced □ It's got an inbuilt alarm. -2. [quality, defect] that is a basic part of something or somebody □ an inbuilt defense mechanism.

inc. abbr of inclusive.

Inc. abbr of incorporated.

incalculable [ɪnˈkælkjələbl] adj [damage, effect] that cannot be measured, usually because it is too great.

incandescent [ɪnˈkændesnt] adj [metal] that gives out a bright light when it is heated.

incantation [ˌɪnkænˈteɪʃn] n words that are spoken or sung as a magic spell.

incapable [ɪnˈkeɪpəbl] adj -1. to be incapable of sthg to be unable to do sthg because one does not have the necessary ability or qualities □ He's incapable of deciding for himself. -2. [person] who is too weak or stupid to do something.

incapacitate [ˌɪnkəˈpæsəteɪt] vt to weaken or injure <sb> so that they are unable to do - something □ He was totally incapacitated by the accident.

- incapacitated [ˌɪnkəˈpæsətɪtəd] adj to be incapacitated [person] to be unable to function as normal, e.g. because of illness or injury □ I'm afraid Mr Jay is temporarily incapacitated.
- incapacity [ˌɪnkəˈpæsəti] n a lack of ability or power to do something □ his incapacity for leadership.
- incapacity benefit n in Britain, money paid by the government to people who are too ill to work and who do not receive sick pay from an employer.
- incarcerate [ɪnˈkɑːsəreɪt] vt to put <sb> in prison (formal use).
- incarceration [ɪnˈkɑːsəreɪʃn] n: see incarcerate (formal use) □ a period of incarceration.
- incarnation [ˌɪnkɑːˈneɪʃn] n -1. the incarnation of sthg [of beauty, evil] a person or thing that represents sthg to an extreme degree. -2. [of a person] one of several lives or existences that the same person has according to certain religions □ in a previous incarnation.
- incendiary device [US ɪnˈsendɪəri-, GB -ɪəri-] n a bomb that is designed to start a fire.
- incense [ɪnˈɪnsens, vt ɪnˈsens] ◇ n a substance that is burned to give off a sweet smell, especially during a religious ceremony. ◇ vt to make <sb> very angry □ Commuters were incensed by the latest price increase.
- incentive [ɪnˈsentɪv] n a benefit or advantage that is offered to somebody to encourage them to do something □ Potential buyers are being offered tax incentives. □ He has no incentive to work harder.
- inception [ɪnˈsepʃn] n the beginning of an organization, activity etc (formal use) □ Since its inception, the paper has expanded and is now sold in a number of cities.
- incessant [ɪnˈsesnt] adj [noise, activity] that never stops □ His incessant moaning started to annoy me.
- incessantly [ɪnˈsesntli] adv [talk, complain, smoke] see incessant □ They argue incessantly.
- incest [ˈɪnsɛst] n sex between two people in the same family who are too closely related to get married, e.g. between a brother and sister □ He had committed incest with his daughter.
- incestuous [ɪnˈsɛstʃuəs] adj -1. [relationship, act] that involves incest □ an incestuous affair. -2. [group, relationship] that is not good because the people involved are too close to one another □ It all seems rather incestuous to me.
- inch [ɪntʃ] ◇ n a unit (2.54 cm) for measuring length □ It's about six inches wide. ◇ vi to move somewhere very slowly and carefully, usually because one has very little space or because one does not want to be noticed □ I inched toward the edge of the cliff.
- incidence [ˈɪnsədəns] n [of crime, a problem, illness] the frequency with which something bad happens □ There is a higher incidence of burglary/leukemia in the area than at any time in the last ten years.
- incident [ˈɪnsədənt] n -1. something that happens which is unusual or unpleasant □ Let's forget the whole incident. □ The meeting went off without incident. -2. POLITICS a minor event that could lead to a more serious dispute between two countries □ a frontier/diplomatic incident.
- incidental [ˌɪnsɪˈdentl] adj that exists or takes place in connection with something else which is much more important □ The meeting is incidental to the main talks, which start tomorrow.
- incidentally [ˌɪnsɪˈdentli] adv a word used to add new information or to introduce a new subject of conversation □ Incidentally, did you finish that report?
- incidental music n the music played in the background in a movie, play etc.
- incinerate [ɪnˈsɪnəreɪt] vt to destroy <sthg> by burning it.
- incinerator [ɪnˈsɪnəreɪtə] n a device for burning rubbish in.
- incipient [ɪnˈsɪpiənt] adj [revolt, decline] that is starting to happen or exist (formal use).
- incision [ɪnˈsɪʒn] n a cut made in something, e.g. by a surgeon during an operation.
- incisive [ɪnˈsaɪsɪv] adj [person, comment, mind] that is clear and deals directly with the most important part of a subject □ Their criticisms were incisive and intelligent.
- incisor [ɪnˈsaɪzə] n any of the teeth at the front of the mouth used for biting into food.
- incite [ɪnˈsaɪt] vt [violence, riot] to cause or encourage <sthg> to take place. ■ to incite sb to sthg/to do sthg to encourage sb to do sthg wrong or bad by making them angry or excited □ They were accused of inciting racial hatred. □ The killings incited people to take up arms and revolt.
- incitement [ɪnˈsaɪtmənt] n the act of encouraging a particular action or feeling, especially actions or feelings that are wrong or bad □ His words were seen as an incitement to violence/murder.
- incl. abbr of including.
- inclement [ɪnˈklemənt] adj [weather, conditions] stormy or cold (formal use).
- inclination [ˌɪnklɪˈneɪʃn] n -1. a desire to do something □ I have no inclination to go whatsoever. □ I came more by chance than by inclination. -2. a tendency that somebody has to do something, especially because they have a particular kind of character □ He has an inclination to be lazy.
- incline [ɪnˈɪnklaɪn, vb ɪnˈklaɪn] ◇ n a slope □ a sharp incline. ◇ vt to bend <one's head> forward.
- inclined [ɪnˈklaɪnd] adj -1. artistically/politically etc inclined [person] who has an interest or ability in art/politics etc □ I'm not really that way inclined. -2. to be inclined to do sthg to be likely to do sthg, usually because of one's personality □ He's inclined to worry. -3. I'm inclined to agree/disagree etc my natural reaction is to agree/disagree etc, though I do not feel it very strongly (formal use) □ I'd be inclined to resign, if I were in your position.

include [ɪn'klu:d] vt -1. to contain <sb/sthg> as one of its parts □ The price includes sales tax. -2. to make <sb/sthg> part of a larger group or set of things or people □ Don't forget to include the check. □ They never include me in their discussions.

included [ɪn'klu:dəd] adj a word used to show that somebody or something is part of something else being talked about □ 'Batteries not included' □ Everybody went, myself included.

including [ɪn'klu:dɪŋ] prep a word used to show that somebody or something is part of, or an example of, something that is being talked about □ There are eight members, including the President of the USA and the British Prime Minister.

inclusion [ɪn'klu:ʒn] n the act of making somebody or something part of a larger group □ Franklin's inclusion in the team comes as a surprise.

inclusive [ɪn'klu:sɪv] adj [price, list] that includes all the items mentioned □ I'll be away from the 3rd to the 9th inclusive. □ $147 inclusive of postage and handling.

incognito [ɪn'kɒɡ'nɪ:tou] adv [travel, remain] with one's identity hidden or one's appearance disguised so that one is not recognized or known by other people □ Richardson is believed to have turned up at the lunch incognito.

incoherent [ɪn'kou'hɪərənt] adj -1. [person] who expresses ideas in a way that is difficult to understand, especially because they are ill, drunk, or very angry □ She was so angry she was practically incoherent. -2. [story, argument] that has parts that do not go together in a logical way □ It was an incoherent speech with no clear message.

income ['ɪŋkʌm] n the money that a person or country earns or receives because of work, business etc □ They have a joint income of $60,000 a year. □ The number of families on a low income has risen again.

incomes policy n GB an economic policy that aims to control inflation by limiting increases in the amount of money that people earn.

income support n GB an amount of money paid by the state to people with no income or a very low income who cannot claim other benefits such as unemployment benefit.

income tax n the tax that a person pays to the state and that is a percentage of the amount of money they earn.

incoming [ɪn'kʌmɪŋ] adj -1. [mail, report, phone call] that a person, company etc receives □ Please hold all incoming calls. -2. [plane, flight] that is coming toward a place □ All incoming flights are subject to delay. -3. [government, official] that has just been elected or given a particular job □ the incoming President. -4. [tide, wave] that is coming toward the shore □ They were cut off by the incoming tide.

incommunicado [ɪn'kʌmjʊ:nɪ'kɑ:dou] adv to be kept incommunicado [person] to be kept in a place or state in which one is not allowed to communicate with other people □ Sara's been incommunicado for a while.

incomparable [ɪn'kɒmpərəbl] adj [skill, beauty, stupidity] so great that nothing can be compared with it.

incompatible [ɪn'kæm'pætəbl] adj -1. [people] who are not suited, because they are too different from each other □ They divorced because they were basically incompatible. -2. [demands, roles] that are not able to be successfully combined □ Such a position is incompatible with her responsibilities as a political representative. -3. [computers, systems] that are not designed to be linked or used together.

incompetence [ɪn'kɒmpətəns] n: see incompetent □ He left the company amid accusations of incompetence and mismanagement.

incompetent [ɪn'kɒmpətənt] adj [doctor, driver] who is not able to do their job properly □ As a manager he's totally incompetent.

incomplete [ɪn'kæm'pli:t] adj [set, story, list] not complete □ It's incomplete without the final volume.

incomprehensible [ɪn'kɒmpri'hensəbl] adj [action, behavior, speech] that is impossible to understand □ I found the whole play completely incomprehensible.

inconceivable [ɪn'kən'si:vəbl] adj that is impossible to believe or imagine □ To give up now would be inconceivable. □ It is inconceivable that someone can have entered the palace and left without being seen.

inconclusive [ɪn'kən'klu:sɪv] adj [meeting, evidence, outcome] that does not lead to a definite decision or result □ The findings of the report have proved inconclusive.

incongruous [ɪn'kɒŋɡruəs] adj [person, clothing, act] that seems strange and out of place in a particular situation, often in an amusing way □ The painting looked slightly incongruous in its new setting.

inconsequential [ɪn'kɒnsɪ'kwɛnʃl] adj [event, person] that is not important.

inconsiderable [ɪn'kən'sɪdərəbl] adj not inconsiderable fairly large □ a not inconsiderable amount of money.

inconsiderate [ɪn'kən'sɪdərət] adj [person, attitude] that does not show consideration for people's feelings, needs etc □ It was so inconsiderate of you to just leave us there!

inconsistency [ɪn'kən'sɪstənsɪ] (pl inconsistencies) n -1. [of a person, performance, account] see inconsistent □ The coach blames his team's inconsistency on injury problems. -2. something that says the opposite of something else so that they cannot both be right or true □ His story was full of inconsistencies.

inconsistent [ɪn'kən'sɪstənt] adj -1. [person] who behaves in a particular situation sometimes in one way and sometimes in a very different way. -2. [performance, effort, work] that changes in quality, being sometimes good and sometimes bad. -3. [translation, account] that contains parts that do not agree with one another □ These statements are inconsistent. □ The Secretary's decision is inconsistent with his earlier statements.

inconsolable [ˌɪnkən'səʊləbl̩] adj [person] who is too sad to be comforted □ The victim's wife was inconsolable after hearing the verdict.

inconspicuous [ˌɪnkən'spɪkjʊəs] adj [person, clothes] not easily noticed □ I tried to make my entrance as inconspicuous as possible.

incontinence [ɪn'kɒntənəns] n the inability of somebody to control their bowels or bladder □ incontinence pads.

incontinent [ɪn'kɒntənənt] adj [person] who is unable to control their bowels or bladder.

incontrovertible [ˌɪnkɒntrə'vɜːtəbl̩] adj [evidence, fact] that is true and cannot be shown to be false.

inconvenience [ˌɪnkən'vɪnjəns] ▷ n difficulty caused by something that interferes with one's plans or activities □ We would like to apologize for any inconvenience caused by this delay. □ I don't want to put you to any inconvenience. ▷ vt to cause inconvenience to <sb> □ We hope the noise from the building work will not inconvenience you too much.

inconvenient [ˌɪnkən'vɪnjənt] adj [time, date, arrangement] that causes difficulty because it does not suit one's plans □ I can change the date if Friday is inconvenient for you. □ Have I called at an inconvenient time?

incorporate [ɪn'kɔːpəreɪt] vt -1. to incorporate sthg in OR into sthg to make sthg part of sthg larger □ We'd already incorporated that suggestion into our plans. -2. to include or contain <sthg> as one of its parts □ The new designs incorporate daycare facilities.

incorporated [ɪn'kɔːpəreɪtəd] adj BUSINESS a word used to show that a company has been legally formed into a corporation □ an incorporated company.

incorporation [ɪn'kɔːpə'reɪʃn] n -1. [of a suggestion, of facilities] see incorporate. -2. BUSINESS [of a company] the act of making a company part of a larger group.

incorrect [ˌɪnkə'rekt] adj [assumption, total] that can be shown to be wrong □ The information I gave you was incorrect.

incorrigible [ɪn'kɒrɪdʒəbl̩] adj [person] who is bad in some way and will never change, but whom one finds slightly amusing at the same time □ He's an incorrigible liar!

incorruptible [ˌɪnkə'rʌptəbl̩] adj [official, politician] who is too honest to be persuaded or bribed to do something they should not do.

increase [ɪn 'ɪŋkriːs, vb ɪŋ'kriːs] ▷ n a rise in the degree, amount, or number of something □ a huge increase in overseas trade □ an increase of 15% □ a tax increase. ■ to be on the increase to be becoming more frequent or common □ Crime is on the increase again. ▷ vt [price, output, speed] to make <sthg> greater in amount; [anxiety, efforts] to make <sthg> more intense □ The reports only increased speculation in the press about the divorce. ▷ vi [price, unemployment] to become greater in amount; [anxiety, pain] to become more intense; [tendency, problem] to become more common □ Inflation has increased at an alarming rate in recent years.

increased [ɪŋ'kriːst] adj [efficiency, speculation, demand] that is larger in amount or size than before □ increased trade and foreign aid.

increasing [ɪŋ'kriːsɪŋ] adj [unemployment, crime rate] that is becoming greater in amount; [anxiety, concern] that is becoming more intense; [tendency, use] that is becoming more common □ an increasing tendency among young people not to vote.

increasingly [ɪŋ'kriːsɪŋli] adv more and more □ It's getting increasingly difficult to find good staff. □ Increasingly, companies are issuing short-term contracts.

incredible [ɪn'kredəbl̩] adj -1. [car, victory] that one thinks is very good or impressive (informal use) □ They live in the most incredible house. -2. [amount of money] that is very large (informal use) □ They spent incredible sums of money doing up the house. -3. [story, achievement, coincidence] that one finds difficult to believe □ That's incredible!

incredulous [ɪn'kredʒələs] adj [person] who cannot believe something because they think it is so surprising or unlikely □ Everyone was incredulous at the news of her resignation.

increment ['ɪŋkrəmənt] n an increase in one's salary that happens regularly, e.g. once a year □ a yearly increment of 3%.

incriminate [ɪn'krɪmɪneɪt] vt to make <sb> appear responsible for a crime □ You're going to end up incriminating yourself even further.

incriminating [ɪn'krɪmɪneɪtɪŋ] adj [evidence, testimony] that makes somebody appear responsible for a crime □ The DNA tests are highly incriminating.

incubate ['ɪŋkjəbeɪt] ▷ vt to keep <an egg> warm until the young bird inside it is ready to come out. ▷ vi -1. [egg] to stay warm until the young bird inside it is ready to come out. -2. MEDICINE [infection, virus] to be present in somebody's body before developing into a disease □ Cold germs take several days to incubate.

incubation [ˌɪŋkjə'beɪʃn] n [of an egg, infection] see incubate □ the incubation period for cholera.

incubator ['ɪŋkjəbeɪtə] n a piece of equipment in a hospital in which small and weak babies are kept until they become stronger.

inculcate [ɪn'kʌlkəɪt] vt to fix <sthg> in somebody's mind by saying it very often (formal use) □ The school aims to inculcate moral values in its pupils OR to inculcate its pupils with moral values.

incumbent [ɪn'kʌmbənt] (formal use) ▷ adj -1. to be incumbent on OR upon sb to do sthg to be sb's duty or responsibility to do sthg □ It is incumbent on senior politicians to set an example for the rest of the party. -2. the incumbent president/mayor etc the current president/mayor etc. ▷ n a person who has a particular job, especially an official one □ the present incumbent, Revd. Hodgson.

incur [ɪn'kɜːr] (pt & pp incurred, cont incurring) vt [loss, expenses] to experience <sthg unpleasant> as a result of one's actions □ The company had incurred serious losses on the stock market. ■ to incur sb's wrath to make sb very angry □ The rider has incurred the wrath of the racing establishment.

incurable [ɪn'kjʊərəbl] adj -1. [disease, illness] that is impossible to cure □ She's suffering from an incurable form of the disease. -2. an incurable optimist/romantic a person who is very optimistic/romantic and will never change in this way.

incursion [ɪn'kɜːʒn] n an unexpected entrance by somebody or something into a place where they do not usually belong □ There have been a number of incursions into enemy territory.

indebted [ɪn'detəd] adj to be indebted to sb to be very grateful to sb for their help □ I'm greatly OR deeply indebted to you for everything you've done.

indecency [ɪn'diːnsɪ] n [of a joke, suggestion, somebody's behavior] see indecent.

indecent [ɪn'diːsnt] adj -1. [joke, suggestion, behavior] that is offensive, usually in a sexual way □ an indecent proposal. -2. [speed, amount] that is not suitable or acceptable in a particular situation □ He remarried with indecent haste.

indecent assault n a criminal sexual attack that takes place without the victim's consent but is less serious than a rape.

indecent exposure n the crime of deliberately showing one's sexual parts in a public place.

indecipherable [ˌɪndɪ'saɪfərəbl] adj -1. [signature, message, handwriting] that is impossible to read. -2. [look, reason] that one cannot understand.

indecision [ˌɪndɪ'sɪʒn] n the state of being unable to decide what to do □ I was racked with indecision.

indecisive [ˌɪndɪ'saɪsɪv] adj -1. [person] who finds it difficult to make decisions □ She's very indecisive. -2. [conclusion, victory] that does not give a clear and definite result □ The election result proved indecisive.

indeed [ɪn'diːd] adv -1. a word used to confirm or agree with something that has just been said in an emphatic way □ "Are you coming tonight?" — "Indeed I am!" -2. a word used to make an additional point that emphasizes what one has just said □ I think, indeed I know, that this is the case. □ You couldn't have predicted this, indeed I don't think anybody could. -3. a word used to give extra force to the word "very" □ It was very cold indeed. -4. a word used to show surprise, disbelief, or annoyance □ "He thinks he's going to get your job." — "Does he indeed!" □ "I've decided to leave banking and go to India." — "Indeed?"

indefatigable [ˌɪndɪ'fætɪgəbl] adj [worker, campaigner] who never seems to get tired □ She was indefatigable in her attempts to rally support.

indefensible [ˌɪndɪ'fensəbl] adj [behavior, position] that is impossible to defend or justify, because it is morally wrong □ Your conduct in this matter has been thoroughly indefensible.

indefinable [ˌɪndɪ'faɪnəbl] adj [feeling, quality] that cannot easily be described or explained in words □ an indefinable sense of loss.

indefinite [ɪn'defənət] adj -1. [period, time, number] that has no fixed limit. -2. [answer, opinion] that is not clear.

indefinitely [ɪn'defənətli] adv [wait, continue] for a period of time which has no fixed limit □ The meeting has been postponed indefinitely.

indelible [ɪn'deləbl] adj -1. [mark, stain] that cannot be removed. -2. [ink, pen] that leaves a mark that cannot be removed. -3. [memory, influence] that cannot be forgotten.

indelicate [ɪn'delɪkət] adj [behavior, action, remark] that is slightly rude or offensive □ It was rather indelicate of him to raise the subject of money over dinner.

indemnify [ɪn'demnfai] (pt & pp indemnified) vt -1. to insure <sb> □ We are indemnified for OR against fire and theft. -2. to indemnify sb for sthg to pay sb compensation for sthg.

indemnity [ɪn'demnəti] n -1. insurance or protection against loss or damage, usually in the form of a financial payment □ It provides indemnity against loss of employment. -2. an amount of money paid to somebody as compensation for money and goods that have been lost or damaged □ an indemnity of $60,000.

indent [ɪn'dent] vt [text, paragraph] to start  further in from the margin than the other lines.

indentation [ˌɪnden'teɪʃn] n -1. a space left between the margin and the beginning of a line of writing. -2. a small dent in something.

indenture [ɪn'dentʃə] n a contract, especially in the past, between an apprentice and their employer.

independence [ˌɪndɪ'pendəns] n: see independent □ Zimbabwe gained independence in 1980. □ Old people value their independence.

Independence Day n = Fourth of July.

independent [ˌɪndɪ'pendənt] adj -1. [country, organization] not controlled or ruled by another country, organization etc □ The company became independent of its corporate owners in 1991. -2. [person] who does not rely on other people for help or advice □ Children are quite independent by the age of 15. □ She's now financially independent. □ It's about time I was more independent of my parents. -3. [study, inquiry] that is not connected with or influenced by people who are directly involved in a situation or matter and so is expected to be fair □ An independent inquiry investigated the affair.

independently [ˌɪndɪ'pendəntli] adv [decide, arrange, organize] without the help or influence of other people or things □ The choice was made independently of what happened at the meeting. □ Students must make their travel arrangements independently.

independent school n GB a school that receives no money from the government and is not controlled by it.

in-depth adj [analysis, study, report] that contains a lot of detail and examines something closely □ We'll be bringing you in-depth coverage of the US Masters tournament.

indescribable [ˌɪndɪ'skraɪəbəl] adj [sadness, joy, poverty] too extreme to be described in words □ The sense of relief among these people is indescribable.

indestructible [ˌɪndɪ'strʌktəbəl] adj [toy, furniture] that cannot be destroyed.

indeterminate [ˌɪndɪ'tɜːmɪnət] adj [number, amount, period] not clear or fixed □ The killer was given an indeterminate sentence.

index ['ɪndeks] (pl senses 1 and 2 indexes, pl sense 3 indexes OR indices) ◇ n -1. [in a book] an alphabetical list at the back of a book that gives the page numbers to help one find names and subjects mentioned in it □ Look it up in the index. -2. [in a library] an alphabetical list of writers, book titles etc, written on index cards or stored on a computer, that shows where they can be found □ a card index. -3. ECONOMICS a table of figures that allows the changes in cost or value of something to be compared □ the Hang Seng Index. ◇ vt to provide an index for ; to put <information> in an index.

index card n a card on which information about somebody or something is written so that it can be kept and used for reference.

index finger n the finger that is next to one's thumb.

index-linked [-'ɪŋkt] adj GB [salary, interest rate, pension] that is linked to the cost of living so that it increases automatically as everything gets more expensive.

India ['ɪndjə] a large densely-populated country in southern Asia, divided into 25 states and 7 territories, each with their own laws and languages. SIZE: 3,268,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 897,400,000 (Indians). CAPITAL: New Delhi. LANGUAGE: Hindi. CURRENCY: rupee.

India ink US, Indian ink GB n a black ink often used for drawing.

Indian ['ɪndjən] ◇ n -1. a person who comes from or lives in India. -2. = Native American. ◇ adj see India □ an Indian restaurant □ the Indian subcontinent.

Indiana [ˌɪndɪ'ænə] a state in the Midwest of the USA, consisting mainly of farmland. ABBREVIATION: IN. SIZE: 94,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,544,159 (Indianians). CAPITAL: Indianapolis.

Indianapolis 500 [ɪndɪəˌnæpələsfaɪv'hʌndrəd] n the Indianapolis 500 a car race that covers a distance of 500 miles and takes place once a year in Indianapolis, Indiana, USA.

Indian ink n GB = India ink.

Indian Ocean: the Indian Ocean the ocean between Africa, India, Australia, and Antarctica.

Indian summer n a period of warm weather in the autumn that is not usual.

Indian Wars npl the Indian Wars wars that took place in the USA in the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries between Native Americans and Europeans who went to live in North America.

india rubber n rubber used for making toys, balls, and erasers.

indicate ['ɪndɪkeɪt] ◇ vt -1. to point to <sb/sth> □ He indicated where he wanted me to sign. -2. [change, link] to show that  exists, is true, or is likely □ The figures indicate that 1998 will be a crucial year. -3. [one's preference, desire] to make <one's intention or wish> clear □ Indicate your choice of color by circling the appropriate letter. ◇ vi GB [driver] to show which way one is going to turn in a vehicle, by using lights or hand signals □ He indicated right but turned left.

indication [ˌɪndɪ'keɪʃn] n a statement, action, or sign that suggests that something is the case or may be the case □ He gave me no indication of what he intended to do. □ There are indications that the economy will pick up. □ There is every indication that the Director will resign.

indicative [ɪn'dɪkətɪv] ◇ adj to be indicative of sth to show or suggest sth □ These figures may be indicative of a turnaround in the economy. ◇ n the verb form used for making statements or describing events □ Put the verb in the indicative.

indicator ['ɪndɪkeɪtə] n -1. a fact, situation, figure etc that indicates something □ economic/performance indicators. -2. GB one of the lights used to show which way a vehicle is going to turn.

indices ['ɪndɪsɪːz] plural of index.

indict [ɪn'daɪt] vt to charge <sb> officially with a crime □ A mother of two has been indicted on a murder charge.

indictable [ɪn'daɪtəbəl] adj [offense] for which one can be indicted.

indictment [ɪn'daɪtmənt] n -1. LAW a formal accusation made against somebody. -2. to act as OR be an indictment of sth to be a clear sign of how bad sth is □ The state of the housing market is a clear indictment of government policy.

indie ['ɪndɪ] adj [band, label, music] that is independent and not connected with the large established record companies (informal use).

indifference [ɪn'dɪfrəns] n a lack of interest in somebody or something □ Calls for action in the community met with general indifference. □ the growing indifference to the political process.

indifferent [ɪn'dɪfrənt] adj -1. [person, manner] that shows no interest in somebody or something □ Ben was totally indifferent to her needs. -2. [quality, player] not very good □ The place was nice but the food was indifferent.

indigenous [ɪn'dɪdʒənəs] adj [population, plant, animal] that was found originally in a particular place □ Rabbits are not indigenous to Australia.

indigestible [ˌɪndɪ'dʒestəbəl] adj -1. [food] very difficult to digest. -2. [book, report] that is very difficult to understand.

indigestion [ˌɪndɪ'dʒestʃən] n discomfort or pain that one feels when one's stomach cannot easily digest the food that one has eaten indignant [ɪn'dɪgnənt] adj [person, expression, face] that shows shock and anger at something which seems wrong or unfair □ She was most indignant at the treatment she had received.

□ I have indigestion from eating those oysters.

indignantly [ɪn'dɪgnəntli] adv [say, reply] see indignant □ "How dare you!" she said indignantly.

indignation [ɪndɪg'neɪʃn] n feelings of shock and anger that somebody has about something which they think is wrong or unfair □ There was widespread indignation at the singer's remarks.

indignity [ɪn'dɪgnətɪ] (pl indignities) n an event that causes somebody to lose their self-respect and feel ashamed □ They had to suffer the indignity of a visit from the bailiffs.

indigo [ɪ'ndɪɡoʊ] ◇ adj that is dark blue-purple in color. ◇ n the color that is between blue and violet in the spectrum.

indirect [ɪndə'rekt] adj -1. [route, flight] that does not go straight from one place or point to another □ We took what seemed a very indirect route to get here. -2. [compliment, answer] that is not openly stated. -3. an indirect result/effect etc a result/an effect etc that is connected with something else but not in a direct way.

indirect costs npl BUSINESS costs such as rent and heating that are not directly connected with making a product.

indirectly [ɪndə'rektli] adv [cause, affect] see indirect □ He was only indirectly responsible. □ I heard about it indirectly.

indirect speech n the grammatical construction used to report what is said or written by somebody without repeating their exact words, e.g. by using verbs such as "say", "tell", or "ask" and changing verb tenses and pronouns. In indirect speech, the statement "I am tired" is reported as "She told me (that) she was tired."

indirect taxation n the system of taxing people indirectly, e.g. by adding tax to the price of goods so that it is paid by the customer rather than the producer.

indiscreet [ɪndɪ'skri:t] adj [person] who says or does something openly that they should keep secret □ It was very indiscreet of you to mention our plans.

indiscretion [ɪndɪ'skreʃn] n -1. [of a person] see indiscreet □ His indiscretion cost him his job. -2. something slightly shocking or embarrassing that somebody has done □ She admitted to one or two youthful indiscretions.

indiscriminate [ɪndɪ'skrɪmɪnət] adj [killing, attack, condemnation] that affects everybody or everything and shows no thought or planning (disapproving use) □ indiscriminate remarks.

indiscriminately [ɪndɪ'skrɪmɪnətli] adv [kill, shoot, fire] see indiscriminate.

indispensable [ɪndɪ'spensəbl] adj [person, tool, guide] that is absolutely necessary for a particular situation or purpose □ Nobody's indispensable, you know.

indisposed [ɪndɪ'spəʊzd] adj to be indisposed to be unwell and so unable to do something one had planned (formal use).

indisputable [ɪndɪ'spju:təbl] adj [fact, proof] that is true and cannot be shown to be wrong or false □ That she knew where the gun was is indisputable.

indistinct [ɪndɪ'stɪŋkt] adj [picture, memory] that is difficult to see because it is unclear.

indistinguishable [ɪndɪ'stɪŋgwɪʃəbl] adj -1. [people, things] that look so much like each other that one cannot see any difference between them □ The two versions are practically indistinguishable. □ His handwriting is indistinguishable from his brother's. -2. [figure] that cannot be seen clearly.

individual [ɪndɪ'vɪdʒʊəl] ◇ adj -1. [person, part, case] that is considered separately and singly, rather than as part of a group or whole □ We treat each complaint on an individual basis. □ Is this an individual or a group application? -2. [attention, tuition] that is given to or suitable for one person, rather than a group □ The cheese is sold whole, or in individual portions. □ an individual fruit pie. -3. [approach, clothing, style] that is unusual and different from anyone else's □ He has got a very individual look. ◇ n a single separate person □ the right of each individual to vote.

individualist [ɪndɪ'vɪdʒʊəlɪst] n a person who thinks and does things independently and in their own way.

individualistic [ɪndɪvɪdʒʊəlɪstɪk] adj [person] see individualist.

individuality [ɪndɪvɪdʒʊəlɪtɪ] n the quality in somebody or something that makes them different from others □ the sense of one's own individuality.

individually [ɪndɪ'vɪdʒʊəli] adv separately □ The gifts were all individually wrapped. □ She spoke to everybody individually.

indivisible [ɪndɪ'vɪzəbl] adj [number, unit] that is impossible to divide into separate parts.

indoctrinate [ɪn'dɒktrɪneɪt] vt to teach <sb> to accept an idea or belief so that they do not question it (disapproving use) □ We don't want our children being indoctrinated with religious propaganda.

indoctrination [ɪn'dɒktrɪ'neɪʃn] n: see indoctrinate □ The book's all about the indoctrination of the young by the media.

indolent [ɪn'dələnt] adj [person] who is lazy □ He's an indolent, good-for-nothing waste of time.

indomitable [ɪn'dɒmətəbl] adj [will, person] that is very strong and cannot be destroyed or defeated □ his indomitable spirit.

Indonesia [ɪndə'ni:zə] a country in Southeast Asia, consisting of over 3,000 islands that lie between the Indian Ocean and the Pacific Ocean. It includes Sumatra, Java, Sulawesi, and parts of Borneo and New Guinea. SIZE: 1,900,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 187,600,000 (Indonesians). CAPITAL: Jakarta. LANGUAGE: Indonesian. CURRENCY: rupiah.

Indonesian [ˌɪndəˈniːʒn] n & adj: see Indonesia.

indoor [ˈɪndoːr] adj [swimming pool, tennis court] that is located inside a building; [tennis, soccer, cycling] that takes place inside a building; [shoes, clothing] that are intended to be used inside, rather than outside.

indoors [ˌɪnˈdoːrɪz] adv inside a building, rather than in the open air □ Let's go indoors. □ I don't like being indoors all day.

indubitably [ɪnˈdjuːbətəbli] adv without any doubt (formal use) □ This is indubitably the best book on the subject.

induce [ɪnˈdjuːs] vt -1. to induce sb to do sthg to cause sb to decide to do sthg □ Nothing would induce me to live abroad! -2. MEDICINE [labor, birth] to start <sthg> by medical means. -3. [sleep, anger] to cause somebody to experience <sthg> □ The illness was induced by a long period of stress and lack of sleep.

inducement [ɪnˈdjuːsmənt] n something, e.g. a financial payment, that is intended to persuade or encourage somebody to do something □ With the right inducements, he may agree to come and work for us □ They offered us financial inducements for our story.

induction [ɪnˈdʌkʃn] n -1. [of an official] the process or ceremony during which somebody starts a new job in an official post □ the induction of the new mayor. -2. MEDICINE [of labor, a birth] see induce. -3. [of an employee] the process of introducing somebody to a new job or activity □ Allow at least two days for induction. -4. ELECTRICITY the production of electricity or magnetism in one object or circuit by another without physical contact.

induction course n a course that introduces people to a new job, activity etc and gives them essential information about it □ She's on an induction course.

indulge [ɪnˈdʌldʒ] ◇ vt -1. [whim, passion] to allow oneself to have or do <sthg that one enjoys> □ Our vacation in the countryside allowed Bobby to indulge his interest in wildlife. -2. [child, person] to allow <sb> to have or do what they want □ He indulges them in whatever they want. ■ to indulge oneself to allow oneself to enjoy something that one particularly likes □ Indulge yourself for once! ◇ vi to indulge in sthg [in good food, wine] to allow oneself to enjoy sthg that one particularly likes □ "Have a chocolate?" — "I suppose I might indulge, just this once!"

indulgence [ɪnˈdʌldʒəns] n -1. see indulgent □ Theo was treated with far more indulgence than he deserved. -2. something enjoyable that one allows oneself to have or do □ My only indulgence is expensive shoes.

indulgent [ɪnˈdʌldʒənt] adj [parent, friend] who is not strict enough with somebody, especially a child □ an indulgent smile.

industrial [ɪnˈdʌstriəl] adj -1. [development, architecture, process] that is connected with industry □ industrial pollution □ an industrial disease. -2. [city, country, area] where industry is important and highly developed □ The region is very industrial.

industrial action n action, especially a strike, that workers use to try to force their employers to agree to what they want □ Firefighters in the capital have decided to take industrial action.

industrial estate n GB = industrial park.

industrial injury n an injury received by somebody while they are doing their job.

industrialist [ɪnˈdʌstriəlɪst] n a person who owns or controls an important industrial company.

industrialization [US ɪnˈdʌstriələʻzeɪʃn, GB -aɪˈzeɪʃn] n: see industrialize.

industrialized, -ised [ɪnˈdʌstriələɪzɪd] adj [country, area] that has a lot of highly developed industries □ a highly industrialized region.

industrial park US, industrial estate GB n a special area, often outside a town, for small businesses, offices, and light industry.

industrial relations npl relations between employers and employees in a business or organization.

Industrial Revolution n the Industrial Revolution the period in the 18th and 19th centuries when a lot of machines were invented and factories were built in Britain.

industrial tribunal n a court of law that deals with cases involving disputes between employers and particular employees □ She took the firm to an industrial tribunal and sued for wrongful dismissal.

industrious [ɪnˈdʌstriəs] adj [person] who works hard □ a diligent industrious student.

industry [ˈɪndəstri] (pl industries) n -1. the activity of producing large quantities of goods in factories; the people involved in this □ More and more graduates are working in industry. □ Industry has backed the government's new initiative. -2. an area of industry involved in one activity, or in making one particular product □ the aircraft/oil/tourist industry. -3. hard work (formal use) □ Your industry will be richly rewarded.

inebriated [ɪˈniːbrɪətəd] adj [person] who is drunk (formal use).

inedible [ɪnˈedəbl] adj -1. [food, meal] that is so badly cooked, or of such poor quality, that one cannot eat it □ The beef was inedible. -2. [plant, mushroom] that is not safe for one to eat, e.g. because it is poisonous.

ineffective [ɪnɪˈfektɪv] adj [treatment, policy] that does not produce the desired effect or result □ These measures have proved ineffective in combating the problem.

ineffectual [ɪnɪˈfektʃʊəl] adj [person, attempt, plan] that does not have the necessary qualities to get something done □ They just stood around looking ineffectual.

inefficiency [ɪnɪˈfɪʃnsɪ] n: see inefficient □ It's the height of inefficiency.

inefficient [ɪnɪˈfɪʃnt] adj -1. [process, machine] that does not work as well as possible, often wasting time or resources □ The industry has largely discarded its inefficient and outdated working methods. -2. [person] who is bad at organizing things and getting things done □ He's hopelessly inefficient!

inelegant [ɪn'eɪlɪgənt] adj [posture, person] that lacks style and grace.

ineligible [ɪn'eɪlɪdʒəbl] adj to be ineligible [person] not to be allowed to have or take part in something □ He was ineligible for the competition because he was too old.

inept [ɪ'nept] adj -1. [person] who lacks the skill or ability to do something properly □ She showed herself to be socially/physically inept. -2. [comment, remark] that is unsuitable in a particular situation □ He was severely criticized for his inept handling of the crisis.

ineptitude [ɪ'neptɪtʃu:d] n: see inept □ I was amazed at their complete ineptitude in dealing with such a trivial matter.

inequality [ɪnɪ'kwɒlətɪ] (pl inequalities) n an unfair difference in the way particular groups of people are treated in society □ social/racial inequality □ We have to try and iron out these inequalities.

inequitable [ɪn'ekwətəbl] adj [system, distribution] that is not equally fair to everybody (formal use).

inert [ɪ'nɜ:t] adj -1. [person] who is lying or sitting very still. -2. CHEMISTRY [gas, substance] that does not react with other substances.

inertia [ɪ'nɜ:ʃɪə] n -1. [in a person, system, institution] the state of not doing anything or not making any changes □ I'd hate to stay in the same job out of sheer inertia. -2. [of an object, body] the tendency of something to stay still or to keep moving unless something else affects it.

inertia-reel seat belt n a car seat belt that stops a person moving forward if they move suddenly.

inescapable [ɪnɪ'skeɪpəbl] adj [fact, truth, feeling] that exists or is true and cannot be ignored □ The inescapable conclusion is that Johnson is lying.

inessential [ɪnɪ'senʃl] adj [item, details] that is not needed □ You should throw away anything that is inessential.

inestimable [ɪn'estɪməbl] adj [value, worth] that is too great to be put into figures or words (formal use) □ The benefit to us is inestimable.

inevitable [ɪn'evətəbl] ◇ adj [result, conclusion] that cannot be avoided or prevented; that is so common or obvious that one expects it □ It was inevitable that someone was going to get hurt. □ I was asked the inevitable question about my long-term career plans. ◇ n the inevitable something that is inevitable □ We have to learn to accept the inevitable.

inevitably [ɪn'evətəblɪ] adv a word used to show that one believes something cannot be stopped from happening □ Inevitably, some jobs will be lost.

inexact [ɪnɪg'zækt] adj [science, measurement] that is not exact or precise □ Some of the figures turned out to be inexact.

inexcusable [ɪnɪk'skju:zəbl] adj [behavior] that cannot be excused because there is no good reason for it to happen □ Turning up late for such an important meeting is inexcusable.

inexhaustible [ɪnɪg'zɔ:stəbl] adj [supply, patience, energy] that is so great that it cannot be used up completely □ She seems to have an inexhaustible source of energy.

inexorable [ɪn'eksərəbl] adj [rise, progress, pressure] that continues and cannot be stopped, even though people sometimes do not want it to continue (formal use) □ the inexorable march of time.

inexorably [ɪn'eksərəblɪ] adv [rise, progress, approach] see inexorable (formal use).

inexpensive [ɪnɪk'spensɪv] adj [item, meal] that does not cost very much but is good and is worth the price □ a good inexpensive restaurant.

inexperience [ɪnɪk'spɪəriəns] n [of a young person, employee, climber] the state of not having much or any experience □ I put his mistakes down to inexperience.

inexperienced [ɪnɪk'spɪəriənst] adj [driver, climber] who has little or no experience of a particular job or activity, or of life in general □ He was young and inexperienced in these matters.

inexpert [ɪn'ekspɜ:t] adj [attempt, person, technique] that shows very little skill.

inexplicable [ɪnɪk'splɪkəbl] adj [behavior, decision, incident] that cannot be understood and explained □ For some inexplicable reason, they've dropped the charges.

inextricably [ɪnɪk'strɪkəblɪ] adv inextricably linked/joined etc linked/joined etc in a way that makes it impossible to separate the different parts □ His life and work are inextricably bound up with each other.

infallible [ɪn'fæləbl] adj -1. [person, instinct] that is never wrong □ No one is infallible. -2. [method, cure] that always works □ No security system is infallible.

infamous [ɪn'fəməs] adj [act, person, occasion] that is well-known for being bad, especially for being immoral or evil □ one of America's most infamous criminals.

infamy [ɪn'fəmə] n -1. the state of being well-known for something bad or evil. -2. something that is bad or evil.

infancy [ɪn'fænsɪ] n the first few years of a child's life □ illnesses common during infancy. ■ to be in its infancy to be in its very early stages □ The science/project/club is still in its infancy.

infant [ɪn'fænt] n a child in its first few years of life □ an infant child.

infantile [US 'ɪnfəntl, GB -təɪl] adj -1. [behavior, humor, person] that is more typical of a child than of an adult (disapproving use) □ He kept making silly infantile remarks. -2. an infantile disease a disease that very young children suffer from.

infant mortality n the death rate among very young children and babies □ Infant mortality here is high.

infantry [ɪn'fæntɪ] n the soldiers of an army who fight on foot or in small vehicles □ a

- soldier in the infantry □ an infantry soldier/regiment.
- infantryman [ˈɪnfəntrɪmən] (pl infantrymen [-mən]) n a soldier in the infantry.
- infant school n GB a school for children aged between five and seven.
- infatuated [ɪnˈfætʃueɪtəd] adj to be infatuated to be very attracted to somebody in a way that is not sensible because one does not know enough about them □ He became infatuated with her.
- infatuation [ɪnˈfætʃuˈeɪʃn] n the feeling one has, or the period of time, when one is infatuated with somebody □ It was just a teenage infatuation.
- infect [ɪnˈfekt] vt -1. [person, wound, food] to cause <sb/sthg> to have an illness, virus etc, especially a serious one □ A carrier can infect other people without actually getting the disease himself. -2. to make <sb/sthg> feel the same way about something as oneself □ His enthusiasm infected the rest of the staff.
- infected [ɪnˈfektəd] adj [person, wound, food] that has an illness, virus etc □ The foot had become infected with gangrene.
- infection [ɪnˈfekʃn] n -1. a disease caused by a germ, virus etc that has entered one's body □ a chest infection. -2. [of food, water, a wound] see infect □ Strict hygiene can reduce the risk of infection.
- infectious [ɪnˈfekʃəs] adj -1. [disease, illness] that spreads easily from one person or animal to another □ Is it infectious? -2. [laugh, humor] that affects other people, especially because it is attractive or enjoyable.
- infer [ɪnˈfɜː] (pt & pp inferred, cont inferring) vt -1. to infer that... to think or decide that something is true because of something else one knows already □ What are we to infer from such behavior? □ From what he said I inferred that he wasn't married any more. -2. = imply (informal use) □ What are you inferring?
- inference [ˈɪnfərəns] n a conclusion based on what one already knows and what seems likely □ What inferences can be drawn from this? ■ by inference judging from everything that is known □ If Williams is guilty then so, by inference, are his associates.
- inferior [ɪnˈfɪəriə] ◇ adj -1. [quality, goods, performance] that is not as good as other things of the same kind □ I'm not prepared to pay for inferior service! -2. [person, position, rank] that is less important or has less power than somebody or something else □ His background made him feel inferior to everybody else. □ socially inferior. ◇ n a person who is inferior to somebody else.
- inferiority [ɪnˈfɪəriˈbrəti] n [of goods, a person, quality] see inferior □ feelings of inferiority.
- inferiority complex n a feeling one has all the time that one is less attractive, talented, important etc than everybody else □ He's got an inferiority complex about not having been to college.
- inferno [ɪnˈfɜːˈnoʊ] (pl infernos) n a very large and dangerous fire.
- infertile [US ɪnˈfɜːrtl, GB ˈfɜːtaɪl] adj -1. [person, animal] that cannot have babies. -2. [soil, land] that is of poor quality and is not able to produce good crops.
- infertility [ˌɪnfɜːˈtɪləti] n [of a woman, animal, soil] see infertile □ She has just started receiving infertility treatment.
- infestation [ˌɪnfeˈsteɪʃn] n: see infested □ an infestation of rats.
- infested [ɪnˈfestəd] adj to be infested with sthg [house, place, river] to be full of a large number or amount of sthg dangerous or unpleasant □ shark-infested waters □ The kitchen is infested with cockroaches.
- infidelity [ˌɪnfɪˈdeləti] n the act of being unfaithful to one's wife, husband, or usual partner by having sex with somebody else □ He accused her of infidelity.
- infighting [ˈɪnfɑɪtɪŋ] n quarrels and competition that take place between members of the same organization □ political infighting.
- infiltrate [US ɪnˈfɪltreɪt, GB ˈɪnfɪltreɪt] ◇ vt [government, territory] to secretly enter  as an enemy in order to find out more about it or to damage it □ police attempts to infiltrate the rebel organization. ◇ vi: They infiltrated into enemy territory.
- infinite [ˈɪnfɪnət] adj -1. [patience, wisdom] very great □ He took infinite care not to disturb them. -2. [space, number, variety] that has or seems to have no end or limit □ There's an infinite number of possible combinations.
- infinitely [ˈɪnfɪnətli] adv infinitely better/preferable etc very much better/more preferable etc □ You would be infinitely more comfortable at home.
- infinitesimal [ˌɪnfɪˈtesɪml] adj [amount, difference, chance] that is extremely small and very difficult to see or notice □ The risk of catching the disease is infinitesimal.
- infinitive [ɪnˈfɪnətɪv] n the basic form of a verb that can be used with "to" in English, as for example "have" in "I want to have" and "you may have".
- infinity [ɪnˈfɪnətɪ] n -1. a point that is an infinite distance away so that it can never be reached □ The rows of houses seemed to go on and on into infinity. -2. MATH an infinite number that can never be expressed in figures.
- infirm [ɪnˈfɜːm] ◇ adj [person] who is weak or not very well, especially because they are old. ◇ npl the infirm people who are infirm.
- infirmary [ɪnˈfɜːˈmɑːri] (pl infirmaries) n -1. a hospital, especially when it is part of a larger building □ a prison infirmary. -2. a room in a building where people who are unwell are taken care of □ a school infirmary.
- infirmity [ɪnˈfɜːˈmɑːti] (pl infirmities) n a weakness or illness that a person has, usually for a long time; the state of being weak and ill.
- inflamed [ɪnˈfleɪmd] adj [eye, wound] that is red, painful, and usually hot and swollen because of an injury or infection □ The cut had become inflamed.
- inflammable [ɪnˈflæməbl] adj [material, chemical, gas] that is dangerous because it catches fire very easily □ 'Highly inflammable.'

inflammation [ˌɪnfləˈmeɪʃn] n a painful swelling and redness on a part of the body, caused by disease, injury etc □ an inflammation of the ear.

inflammatory [US ɪnˈflæmətɔːri, GB -ətəri] adj [remark, speech] that is likely to make people very angry or violent □ inflammatory criticisms.

inflatable [ɪnˈfleɪtəbl] adj [life jacket, raft, toy] that needs to be filled with air before it can be used □ an inflatable dinghy.

inflate [ɪnˈfleɪt] vt -1. [balloon, raft, life jacket] to fill <sthg> with air and make it bigger, often so that it can float. -2. ECONOMICS to increase  etc, usually by making it too high; to make <the economy> more active by increasing the money supply.

inflated [ɪnˈfleɪtəd] adj -1. [tire, life jacket, balloon] that is full of air □ The raft was only partially inflated. -2. [price, salary] that is higher than is necessary or fair □ executives on grossly inflated salaries. -3. to have an inflated opinion of oneself to think one is more important than one really is □ He's got an inflated view of his own importance.

inflation [ɪnˈfleɪʃn] n ECONOMICS a general increase in the prices of things that leads to a fall in the value of money; the rate at which this happens, measured as a percentage □ a period of low inflation □ Inflation is running at 4%. NOTE: Compare deflation.

inflationary [US ɪnˈfleɪʃənəri, GB -nəri] adj [policy, effect] that tends to increase inflation.

inflationary spiral n a situation in which inflation causes wages to go up so that the inflation gets even worse.

inflation-proof adj [pension, mortgage] that changes to take inflation into account so that one does not lose any money.

inflection [ɪnˈflekʃn] n GRAMMAR a change in the form of a word to show a difference in grammatical use, e.g. a change to make a noun plural.

inflexible [ɪnˈfleksəbl] adj -1. [material] that is stiff and cannot be bent or turned. -2. [person] who does not want to change their ideas or the way they do things, even though it would be better □ His attitude is very inflexible. -3. [rule, hours, system] that cannot be changed, even in new situations when a change would be better □ inflexible working hours.

inflict [ɪnˈflɪkt] vt to inflict sthg on sb [pain, responsibility, problem] to force sb to accept sthg unpleasant □ The harsh economic measures have inflicted great hardship on the people.

in-flight adj [entertainment, meal, magazine] that is provided for passengers during a plane trip □ Our in-flight movie will follow shortly.

inflow [ˈɪnfləʊ] n [of information, goods, immigrants] a constant movement of things or people arriving in a place.

influence [ˈɪnfluəns] ◇ n -1. [of a person, drug] the power to affect the way somebody else behaves, thinks etc □ She seems to have no in- fluence on OR over her own children. □ Her father used his influence to help get her the job. □ He was found guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol/drugs. -2. [on somebody's health, painting, writing] an effect that something has on a person or thing that usually lasts a long time □ We can see the influence of Cubism in the artist's early work. □ As chairman he had a great influence on OR over policy-making. -3. to be a good/bad influence to have a good/bad effect on the way somebody or something develops or behaves □ I think David is a bad influence on you!

◇ vt [result, person, work] to have an effect on <sb/sthg> that usually lasts a long time □ He's easily influenced.

influential [ˌɪnfluˈenʃl] adj [person, work, ideal] that has an important influence on somebody or something □ She's an influential woman/writer/film maker.

influenza [ˌɪnfluˈenzə] n = flu (formal or technical use).

influx [ˈɪnflʌks] n [of tourists, immigrants, foreign goods] the arrival of a large number of people or things in a place at the same time □ a large influx of refugees.

info [ˈɪnfəʊ] n = information (informal use).

inform [ɪnˈfɔːrm] vt to tell <sb> officially or formally about something □ If you see anything suspicious, inform a member of staff immediately. □ We regret to inform you that your application has not been successful. □ Why wasn't I informed of OR about this decision earlier?

◆ inform on vt fus to inform on sb to tell a person in authority, often secretly, that sb has done something illegal or wrong.

informal [ɪnˈfɔːml] adj -1. [atmosphere, occasion] that is relaxed, friendly, and not official □ The ministers met for informal talks on the conflict. -2. [clothing, language] that is suitable when one is with family and friends but not on more formal occasions □ informal dress.

informally [ɪnˈfɔːmlɪ] adv [dress, meet, discuss] see informal.

informant [ɪnˈfɔːmənt] n -1. a person who gives information about a criminal, especially to the police □ a police informant. -2. a person who gives information about something to somebody else, especially to somebody who is doing research.

information [ˌɪnfəˈmeɪʃn] n -1. useful facts about somebody or something □ tourist/flight information □ Do you have any information on OR about loans, please? □ an interesting piece of information □ For further information, please contact your nearest branch. -2. 'information' a word used on a sign at a desk, office etc to show that one can get useful details about a particular service, e.g. about transport or hotels □ 'Ask at information.' ■ for your information so that you may know all the facts you need to know □ I enclose a leaflet for your information. □ For your information I haven't had a single beer since Friday! -3. US the service one calls to find out somebody's telephone number □ Information didn't have the number.

- information desk n a counter in a hotel, airport etc that gives information to people, especially tourists or visitors.
- information office n an office that gives information to people, especially tourists or visitors.
- information retrieval n the process of storing and finding data in a computer.
- information superhighway [-su:pə'haɪweɪ] n the information superhighway a collective term for all the forms of information that are available on an on-line computer system.
- information technology n the study or activity of storing, showing, and controlling information by using electronic devices, especially computers.
- informative [ɪn'fɔ:'mətɪv] adj [person, book, account] that gives a lot of useful information □ Your letters are always so informative.
- informed [ɪn'fɔ:'md] adj -1. [person, opinion, source] that shows knowledge about particular events; that shows knowledge about what is happening in the world □ He's very informed on the subject of foreign policy. -2. an informed decision/choice etc a decision/choice etc that is based on knowledge that one has □ I don't know, but I can make an informed guess.
- informer [ɪn'fɔ:'mər] n a person who gives information about criminals to the police.
- infotainment [ɪn'fəʊ'teɪnmənt] n TV programs that are designed to inform people about serious subjects or current affairs in an entertaining way.
- infrared [ɪn'frə'red] adj [light] that gives out heat but cannot be seen; [photograph, lamp] that uses infrared light.
- infrastructure [ɪn'fræstrʌktʃər] n all the different systems and equipment, e.g. roads, telephone lines, or buildings, that people in a country, organization etc need in order to work properly.
- infrequent [ɪn'fri:kwənt] adj [visitor] who does not come often; [service, contact] that does not happen often □ on one of our infrequent visits to Paris □ Trains to the village are very infrequent.
- infringe [ɪn'frɪndʒ] (cont infringeing) ◇ vt -1. [law, agreement, copyright] to break <sthg> by doing something that is not allowed □ Don't print too much or you risk infringing copyright regulations. -2. [right, liberty] to act in a way that ignores or restricts <sthg> □ This new law infringes citizens' rights to free speech. ◇ vi: The new measures infringe on people's right to demonstrate.
- infringement [ɪn'frɪndʒmənt] n [of a law, copyright, right] see infringe □ peace treaty infringements.
- infuriate [ɪn'fjuəriət] vt to make <sb> extremely angry □ Ken always manages to infuriate me.
- infuriating [ɪn'fjuəriətɪŋ] adj [person, habit, behavior] that makes one very angry and annoyed □ He has an infuriating habit of arguing just for the sake of it.
- infuse [ɪn'fju:z] ◇ vt to infuse sb with sthg [with desire, life, energy] to fill sb with sthg. ◇ vi [tea leaves] to soak in hot water and give it flavor □ Leave the tea to infuse for four minutes.
- infusion [ɪn'fju:zən] n -1. [of ideas, quality, money] the addition of something that helps a person or thing to develop □ The project needs an infusion of funds. -2. a liquid made by soaking herbs in hot water, used as a drink or medicine □ a herbal infusion.
- ingenious [ɪn'dʒi:njəs] adj [device, solution] that is very clever, useful, and imaginative □ This ingenious little gadget can help you save on your electricity costs.
- ingenuity [ɪn'dʒɪ'nju:ətɪ] n the ability to think of new ideas or ways of doing things □ I admired her ingenuity.
- ingenuous [ɪn'dʒenjuəs] adj [person] who is honest, believes what people say, and cannot deceive other people (formal use).
- ingest [ɪn'dʒest] vt [food, poison, pills] to put <sthg> in one's mouth and swallow it so that it enters one's stomach (formal use).
- ingot ['ɪŋgət] n a bar of metal that has a particular size, shape, and weight □ gold ingots.
- ingrained [ɪn'greɪnd] adj -1. [habit, belief] that is very fixed in somebody's nature and difficult to change □ It's a notion that is deeply ingrained in society. -2. [dirt, stain] that goes deeply into the surface of something and is difficult to remove □ This detergent removes ingrained dirt.
- ingratiate [ɪn'greɪʃiət] vt to ingratiate oneself with sb to try to get sb to like one, often because one wants something from them.
- ingratiating [ɪn'greɪʃiətɪŋ] adj [smile, person, manner] that deliberately tries to please others in the hope of getting something in return □ an ingratiating tone of voice.
- ingratitude [ɪn'grætətʃu:d] n lack of gratitude or thanks that somebody shows or feels □ He was stung by their ingratitude.
- ingredient [ɪn'gri:djənt] n -1. COOKING one of the types of food used to make a particular meal or dish □ You should be able to find most of the ingredients in a good supermarket. -2. [of a success, process, situation] one of the things that helps something to happen or to work □ Their relationship had all the ingredients of a successful business partnership.
- ingrowing ['ɪŋgrouɪŋ] GB, ingrown [ɪn'groun] adj an ingrown toenail a toenail that grows into the toe and is painful.
- inhabit [ɪn'hæbət] vt [town, house, region] to live in , especially for a long time or for all of one's life □ The forest is inhabited by various forms of wildlife.
- inhabitant [ɪn'hæbətənt] n [of a city, country, region] a person or animal that lives in a particular place □ The island has only a few hundred inhabitants.
- inhalation [ɪn'hə'leɪʃn] n: see inhale.
- inhale [ɪn'heɪl] ◇ vt [smoke, fumes] to breathe in <sthg> □ 'Warning: Deliberately inhaling con- tents can be fatal.' ◇ vi to breathe in □ Inhale deeply, then exhale slowly.

inhaler [ɪnˈheɪlə] n a small device used by people with asthma, hay fever etc that sprays a dose of medicine into their mouth.

inherent [ɪnˈhɪərənt] adj [danger, problem, feature] that is a natural part of somebody or something, is always there, and cannot be avoided □ A degree of error is inherent in the system.

inherently [ɪnˈhɪərəntli] adv: see inherent □ The system is inherently inefficient.

inherit [ɪnˈherət] ◇ vt -1. [problem, tradition, attitude] to have <sthg> because there were other people who made it, used it, or had it before one □ the trade deficit inherited from the previous decade. -2. [money, house, title] to get <sthg> from a person who has died □ She didn't inherit a thing from them. -3. [disease, characteristic, good looks] to be born with <sthg> because one's parents or ancestors had it □ I'm afraid he didn't inherit his father's business sense. ◇ vi: If there's no will, then the closest relative automatically inherits.

inheritance [ɪnˈherɪtəns] n the property or money that somebody gets from a person who has died, e.g. a friend or relative □ inheritance tax □ He will come into his inheritance at the age of 18.

inheritor [ɪnˈherətə] n [of property, a tradition] a person who inherits something.

inhibit [ɪnˈhɪbət] vt [progress, breathing] to make <sthg> happen slowly or stop happening □ Too much alcohol may inhibit the growth of the fetus. ■ to inhibit sb from doing sthg to prevent sb from doing sthg, even though sometimes they want to do it □ Feelings of shame often inhibit rape victims from reporting their attackers.

inhibited [ɪnˈhɪbətəd] adj to be OR feel inhibited to be unable to show one's real feelings or do what one likes because one is always worried about what other people will think □ I felt inhibited in his presence. □ There's no need to be inhibited about sex!

inhibition [ɪnˈhɪbɪʃn] n a feeling or state in which it is very difficult to show one's real feelings and behave naturally □ He talked freely and without inhibition. □ After a few drinks, people began to lose their inhibitions.

inhospitable [ɪnˈhɒspɪtəbl] adj -1. [person] who does not welcome visitors in a polite or friendly way. -2. [climate, place] that is unpleasant and difficult to stay or live in, especially because there is no shelter □ the inhospitable desert.

in-house ◇ adj [member of staff] who works inside a company's office or building; [report, magazine] that is produced by a company for its staff □ She's an in-house translator. □ in-house training. ◇ adv [work, produce] inside a company's own office, building etc and not in another place or company □ Most of the work is done in-house.

inhuman [ɪnˈhju:mən] adj -1. [person, behavior] that is very cruel and shows no pity and no feelings for other people □ You can't ask them to work in these conditions — it's inhuman! -2. [machine, sound] that is strange and frightening because it is very different from the way people look, sound etc.

inhumane [ɪnˈhjuːmeɪn] adj [treatment, law, person] that does not show any concern for the suffering of other people or of animals □ The prisoners are kept in inhumane conditions.

inimitable [ɪˈnɪmɪtəbl] adj [person, way, quality] that cannot be copied by anybody else with the same effect □ I'm sure you'll make your views known in your usual inimitable fashion.

iniquitous [ɪˈnɪkwətəs] adj [policy, system, behavior] very unfair and wrong (formal use).

iniquity [ɪˈnɪkwəti] (pl iniquities) n the quality of being unfair and wrong (formal use).

initial [ɪˈnɪʃl] (US pt & pp initialed, cont initialing, GB pt & pp initialled, cont initialling) ◇ adj

-1. [reaction, stage, shyness] that happens at the beginning of a process or event, before something that happens later □ We hope to recoup the initial investment within three years.

-2. an initial letter the letter at the beginning of a word □ An acronym is formed from the initial letters of a term. ◇ vt [document, agreement, change] to sign one's initials on <sthg> □ If you could just initial this for me. ◇ n the first letter of one's first name or names □ The name's Mason, initial J.

◆ initials npl the initial letters of one's names, or of one's first name or names □ Kennedy was often known just by his initials: JFK. □ My name is Patel, initials, LM.

initialize, -ise [ɪˈnɪʃəlaɪz] vt COMPUTING to make  ready for use in a computer by running it through a special program; to make  ready for use by defining all its various settings.

initially [ɪˈnɪʃəli] adv at the beginning □ Initially, I really liked the idea.

initiate [vb ɪˈnɪʃɪeɪt, n ɪˈnɪʃɪət] ◇ vt -1. [talks, scheme, improvements] to start <sthg>; to cause <sthg> to start □ We have initiated an exchange program with Russian scientists. -2. to initiate sb into sthg [into a skill, knowledge] to teach sb about sthg that they did not know about before □ I was initiated into the mysteries of cyberspace. -3. [into a group, club] to allow somebody to join something, usually by holding a special ceremony. ◇ n a person who is in the process of being initiated, or who has recently been initiated, into a skill, secret, or group.

initiation [ɪˈnɪʃɪeɪʃn] n -1. [of talks, a program] see initiate □ the initiation of peace talks. -2. [into knowledge, a skill, a group] see initiate □ his initiation into the world of crime □ an initiation ceremony.

initiative [ɪˈnɪʃɪətɪv] n -1. a new plan or action that deals with something, especially a problem □ a government/peace initiative. ■ to take the initiative to take action or do something useful, important etc before anybody else. -2. to have the initiative to have the advantage □ They lost the initiative to foreign competition. -3. the ability to make decisions and take action without being told what to do □ She has a lot of initiative. □ He acted on his own initiative. □ You'll have to use your initiative.

inject [ɪn'dʒekt] vt -1. MEDICINE to inject sb with sthg [with a drug, substance] to put sthg into sb's bloodstream using a syringe. -2. to inject sthg into sthg to give sthg that is missing or needed to sthg else □ They've injected billions of dollars into the economy. □ I tried to inject some humor into the situation.

injection [ɪn'dʒektʃn] n -1. MEDICINE the act of injecting somebody with a medicine □ I was given injections against hepatitis and typhoid. -2. the act of providing more money for a country, project etc □ The company needs large injections of money to stay afloat.

injudicious [ɪn'dʒʊdɪʃəs] adj {remark, plan, behavior} that shows bad judgment (formal use).

injunction [ɪn'dʒʌŋkʃn] n LAW an official order made by a court □ a court injunction.

injure ['ɪndʒə] vt -1. to cause physical damage to  □ He injured himself/his back while climbing. □ A number of people were seriously injured in the explosion. -2. to injure sb's pride/feelings to upset sb by being unkind or unfair to them.

injured ['ɪndʒərd] ◇ adj [person, knee, pride] that is hurt or damaged □ Which leg is injured? ◇ npl the injured the people who have been injured, e.g. in an explosion or car crash □ The injured were airlifted to the nearest hospital.

injurious [ɪn'dʒʊəriəs] adj [result, effect, strike] harmful (formal use).

injury ['ɪndʒəri] (pl injuries) n physical damage done to a person or animal □ He received severe injuries to the head. □ an insurance policy against injury at work. ■ to do oneself an injury to hurt oneself, e.g. while lifting something heavy □ You'll do yourself an injury carrying that thing on your own!

injury time n extra playing time at the end of a soccer game that makes up for time lost when injured players were being treated.

injustice [ɪn'dʒʌstɪs] n an unfair act or situation □ to campaign against injustice □ the injustices of the old apartheid regime. ■ to do sb an injustice to judge sb harshly or unfairly □ It would be doing him an injustice to say that he was indifferent to their suffering.

ink [ɪŋk] n a colored liquid used for writing and printing □ an ink drawing □ an ink stain.

◆ ink in vt sep to ink sthg in [writing, drawing] to make sthg drawn in pencil more complete or permanent by drawing over it in ink.

ink-jet printer n a computer printer that shoots small amounts of ink onto paper to form letters.

inkling ['ɪŋklɪŋ] n to have an inkling to have a slight knowledge about something that is happening or going to happen □ She had no inkling that he was going to leave.

inkpad ['ɪŋkpæd] n a piece of absorbent material filled with ink, used for putting ink onto a stamp, e.g. for stamping the date on a document.

inkwell ['ɪŋkwel] n a container for ink, used on a desk when writing.

inlaid [ɪn'leɪd] adj -1. [gold, silver] that has been set in holes in the surface of something to make a flat decorated surface. -2. [box, table] that is decorated with inlaid gold, silver, wood etc □ The cabinet was inlaid with mother-of-pearl.

inland [adj 'ɪnlənd, adv ɪn'lænd] ◇ adj [town, waterway] that is inside a country or continent, rather than on the coast. ◇ adv [go, head] away from the coast and toward the middle of a country or continent.

Inland Revenue n the Inland Revenue the British government department responsible for collecting taxes.

in-laws npl the family of one's husband or wife (informal use) □ We're spending Christmas with the in-laws.

inlet ['ɪnlet] n -1. [of a lake, sea] a narrow strip of water cutting into a coast, or between two islands. -2. an opening in a piece of machinery for letting in air, fuel, or water.

inmate ['ɪnmeɪt] n a person who is being kept in a prison or mental hospital □ Several inmates have escaped.

inmost ['ɪnməʊst] adj one's inmost feelings/secrets etc one's most private feelings/secrets etc (literary use).

inn [ɪn] n a small old hotel that serves food and drink and is usually found in a village or in the countryside.

innards ['ɪnərdz] npl -1. [of a person, animal] the organs inside the body. -2. [of a machine] the internal parts.

innate [ɪ'neɪt] adj an innate talent/ability etc a talent/an ability etc that somebody is born with and so does not need to learn.

inner ['ɪnə] adj -1. an inner room/layer etc a room/layer etc that is inside something else □ the inner ear. -2. inner calm OR peace peace that one feels deep inside oneself. -3. inner thoughts/feelings etc thoughts/feelings etc that are secret, private, or not expressed.

inner city n the inner city the areas close to the center of a big city where many people live and where there are often social or economic problems □ an inner city area/problem/school.

innermost ['ɪnə'məʊst] adj = inmost.

inner tube n a tube that fits inside a tire and can be filled with air.

inning ['ɪnɪŋ] (pl innings) n the period of time when a team is batting in baseball or softball.

◆ innings n the period of time when a team is batting in cricket.

innocence ['ɪnəsəns] n -1. LAW the state of not being guilty of a crime □ She has always maintained her innocence. -2. the quality of having little experience of life, especially of its unpleasant aspects □ the loss of innocence.

innocent ['ɪnəsənt] ◇ adj -1. LAW [person] who is not guilty of a crime □ He was innocent of the crime. -2. [person, child] who has little experience of life, especially of its unpleasant aspects □ I was very innocent in those days.

 -3. [remark, question, fun] that is not intended to cause any harm □ It was just a little innocent fun. ◇ n a person who has little experience of life □ My, what an innocent you are!

innocuous [ɪˈnɒkjʊəs] adj [remark, substance] that is not harmful or offensive.

innovation [ˌɪnəˈveɪʃn] n -1. a new idea, method, or device □ one of Lou Selsdon's many innovations in the engineering world. -2. the introduction of new ideas, methods, or devices □ They have a reputation for innovation.

innovative [ɪˈnɒvətɪv] adj -1. [plan, design, technique] that is new and original □ an innovative way of raising money. -2. [person, company] that introduces or encourages innovations □ We need strong innovative designers on our staff.

innovator [ɪˈnɒvətə] n an innovative person.

Inns of Court npl the Inns of Court in London, the four societies for lawyers that have the right to make somebody a barrister; the buildings occupied by these societies.

innuendo [ˌɪnjuˈendəʊ] (pl innuendoes OR innuendos) n a remark that suggests something, usually unpleasant or sexual, without stating it directly; the act of making such remarks □ sexual innuendoes □ an article full of speculation and innuendo.

innumerable [ɪˈnʌmərəbəl] adj [problems, visitors, phone calls] too many to be counted □ We suffered innumerable setbacks but eventually finished on time.

inoculate [ɪˈnɒkjəleɪt] vt to inoculate sb with sthg [with a virus, vaccine] to inject sb with sthg to protect them against a disease. ■ to inoculate sb against sthg [against cholera, measles] to protect sb from sthg by giving them a weak form of it in an injection.

inoculation [ɪˈnɒkjəleɪʃn] n -1. an injection that inoculates somebody. -2. the practice of inoculating people against disease.

inoffensive [ɪˈnɒfensɪv] adj [person, manner, remark] that does not offend or hurt people □ The joke was pretty inoffensive.

inoperable [ɪnˈɒpərəbəl] adj [tumor, cancer] that cannot be cured or removed in a surgical operation.

inoperative [ɪnˈɒpərətɪv] adj -1. [law, rule, tax] that does not work or cannot be put into practice. -2. [machine] that is not working.

inopportune [US ɪnˈɒpɔrtʃuːn, GB ɪnˈɒpɔtʃuːn] adj [moment, remark, visit] that is not convenient or suitable (formal use).

inordinate [ɪˈnɔːdɪnət] adj [pride, pleasure] that is greater than is reasonable □ an inordinate amount of money.

inordinately [ɪˈnɔːdɪnətli] adv: see inordinate □ He's never been inordinately ambitious.

inorganic [ˌɪnɔːˈgæɪnɪk] adj [substance, matter, fertilizer] that is not made of organic material such as plants.

in-patient n a person staying in a hospital for treatment.

input [ˈɪnpʊt] (pt & pp input OR inputted, cont inputting) ◇ n -1. [of money, effort, resources] something that is added or given by somebody to something, e.g. a machine, project, or discussion, to help it to work better □ I'd like to have some input at the planning stage.

 -2. [of data] information that is put into a computer. -3. ELECTRICITY current that supplies a component or circuit. ◇ vt to put <data> into a computer, usually by typing it on a keyboard.

input/output n the data that passes into or out of a computer.

inquest [ɪˈŋkwɛst] n an official inquiry to find out about the cause of somebody's death, especially when it is sudden or violent □ An inquest is being held into her death.

inquire [ɪnˈkwaɪə] ◇ vi to ask for information □ He telephoned to inquire about the latest prices. ◇ vt: She inquired when/whether/how they had arrived.

◆ inquire after vt fus to inquire after sb to ask for news about sb.

◆ inquire into vt fus to inquire into sthg [crime, problem] to try to find out information about sthg by asking questions □ Officials are inquiring into the causes of the disaster.

inquiring [ɪnˈkwaɪərɪŋ] adj -1. an inquiring mind a mind that is eager to learn about things. -2. an inquiring look/ton etc a look/ton etc that shows that one wants to know something.

inquiry [US ɪˈŋkwɛrɪ, GB ɪnˈkwɛrɪ] (pl inquiries) n -1. a question that one asks in order to get some information □ I'd like to make an inquiry. -2. an official investigation, e.g. into the causes of an accident □ The relatives are calling for an official inquiry.

inquisition [ɪnˈkwɪzɪʃn] n an attempt to find out information in which it seems that the people being questioned are being treated harshly.

◆ Inquisition n the Inquisition an organization created by the Roman Catholic Church (1232–1820) to find and punish people whose beliefs were not approved of by the Church.

inquisitive [ɪnˈkwɪzətɪv] adj [person] who wants to find things out, especially about other people, and so asks a lot of questions □ She was an inquisitive little girl.

inroads [ɪˈnruːdz] npl to make inroads into sthg [into leisure hours, time] to begin to use up or take away large amounts of sthg □ We are now making inroads into foreign markets.

insane [ɪnˈseɪn] ◇ adj -1. MEDICINE [person] who is severely mentally ill. -2. [jealousy, behavior] that one thinks is very foolish or stupid □ I think it's an insane idea. ◇ npl the insane MEDICINE people who are insane.

insanitary [US ɪnˈsænətəri, GB -təri] adj [housing, conditions] that is dirty and dangerous to people's health.

insanity [ɪnˈsænəti] n: see insane □ He was acquitted on the grounds of insanity. □ It's sheer insanity to lend them all that money!

insatiable [ɪnˈseɪjəbəl] adj [appetite, curiosity, per-

- son] that cannot be satisfied □ Jan's insatiable appetite for gossip.
- inscribe [ɪn'skraɪb] vt -1. [plaque, headstone] to cut a word, message etc into the surface of <sthg> □ He inscribed her name on the ring. □ The cigar case was inscribed with his name. -2. [name, message] to write <sthg> at the front of a book.
- inscription [ɪn'skrɪpʃn] n [on a headstone, ring, in a book] something, e.g. a message or name, that has been inscribed □ Would you like an inscription?
- inscrutable [ɪn'skru:təbl] adj [person] whose face shows no emotion, so that it is impossible or difficult to know what they are thinking □ his inscrutable manner/expression.
- insect ['ɪnsekt] n a very small creature with six legs, e.g. a fly, beetle, or ant.
- insect bite n a bite from an insect; a mark or wound caused by such a bite.
- insecticide [ɪn'sektɪsaɪd] n a chemical substance used for killing insects.
- insect repellent n a chemical substance used to keep insects away.
- insecure [ɪn'sɪ'kjʊə] adj -1. [person] who is not confident about their ability to deal with a particular situation or about the opinion other people have of them □ a shy and insecure child □ I felt very insecure after two months without a job. -2. [wall, structure] that is likely to collapse. -3. [investment, job] that is likely to be lost □ The financial future of the company looks rather insecure.
- insecurity [ɪn'sɪ'kjʊərəti] n [of a person, job, situation] see insecure □ His feelings of insecurity go back to his childhood fears of rejection.
- insensitive [ɪn'sensətɪv] adj -1. [person, remark, behavior] that does not consider other people's feelings and so is likely to upset them □ Mark can be a little insensitive at times. -2. to be insensitive to sthg [to somebody's feelings] to pay no attention to sthg; to not respond to sthg □ She accused me of being insensitive to her needs/problems.
- insensitivity [ɪn'sensə'tɪvətɪ] n: see insensitive.
- inseparable [ɪn'sepərəbl] adj -1. [ideas, parts] that are very closely connected or impossible to separate □ The two issues are inseparable. □ The future of the party is inseparable from the issue of proportional representation. -2. [friends, couple] who are very close and spend a lot of time together □ Sam and Kate are inseparable.
- insert [vb ɪn'sɜ:t, n 'ɪnsɜ:t] ◇ vt -1. [key, finger, coin] to put <sthg> inside something else through a narrow space □ Insert your card in OR into the machine. -2. [note, comment, paragraph] to add <sthg> to a piece of writing □ She inserted a few extra points in OR into her speech. ◇ n something, e.g. an advertisement, on a loose piece of paper that is put between the pages of a book or magazine.
- insertion [ɪn'sɜ:ʃn] n -1. [of a coin, paragraph] see insert. -2. something that is inserted, e.g. an advertisement or announcement in a newspaper □ a last-minute insertion.
- in-service training n training that is given to people to improve their skills in the job they are doing.
- inset ['ɪnset] n a small map or diagram that is printed inside a larger one.
- inshore [adj 'ɪnʃɔ:ɪ, adv ɪn'ʃɔ:ɪ] ◇ adj inshore waters/fishing etc waters/fishing etc near the shore. ◇ adv [sail, swim, row] toward the shore.
- inside [ɪn'saɪd] ◇ adv -1. to be/look inside to be/look in the part of an object or container that is enclosed or hidden □ The jacket had a label inside. -2. to go/step inside to go/step into a room or building from somewhere outside □ Come inside and get warm! ◇ adj -1. [pocket] that cannot be seen from the outside. -2. [toilet] that is in a house rather than outside it. ◇ n -1. the inside [of a house, room] the part that is enclosed by sides, walls etc; [of a piece of clothing] the part that cannot be seen from the outside □ The door was locked from the inside. □ The inside of the cave was damp and dark. -2. the inside AUTO the side of a car that is furthest from the middle of the road □ A truck overtook him on the inside. ◇ prep -1. inside the box/envelope in the box/envelope and completely hidden or enclosed by it (used of containers) □ There was a letter inside the birthday card. □ I left it inside my jacket pocket. ■ inside the room/building/town in the room/building/town (used when one is coming to or viewing a place from the outside) □ It was raining, so we went inside the house. □ He was parachuted inside enemy territory. -2. inside the organization among the people working in the organization □ Despite the company's successful results, morale inside Acme is low. -3. inside an hour/three weeks before an hour is over/three weeks are over □ We should be with you inside a couple of hours.
- ◆ insides npl one's insides the organs in one's body, especially one's stomach or intestines (informal use) □ Instant coffee can do terrible things to your insides.
- ◆ inside of prep = inside.
- ◆ inside out adv to be inside out [clothes] to have the part that is usually on the inside facing outside □ Your sweater's on inside out! ■ to know sthg inside out to have a thorough knowledge of sthg □ She knows her job inside out.
- inside information n information about something, e.g. a project or organization, that only somebody who is part of it has □ Police believe the criminals must have had inside information.
- inside job n a crime committed against a group or organization by somebody who is connected with it □ It looks like an inside job.
- inside lane n -1. the lane on a large road that is nearest to the side of the road □ We were driving in the inside lane. -2. the part of a racing track that is nearest to the center.
- insider [ɪn'saɪdɜ:] n a person who belongs to a particular organization or who is involved in a particular project and knows more about it than most people.

insider dealing, insider trading n the illegal practice of buying and selling shares in a company when one has inside information about the company's plans □ accusations of insider dealing.

inside story n a version of events told by somebody who knows what really happened □ I'd like to hear the inside story.

insidious [ɪn'sɪdiəs] adj [change, trend, process] that develops so gradually that people do not notice, and later causes undesirable results □ the insidious nature of the disease.

insight ['ɪnsaɪt] n -1. the ability to understand the nature of something clearly, especially something complicated or difficult □ The book shows remarkable insight into the problem. -2. a sudden understanding □ I was able to gain an insight into her real character.

insignia [ɪn'sɪgnɪə] (pl insignia) n a badge or sign that shows that a person or vehicle belongs to a particular organization, especially one that is military.

insignificance [ɪn'sɪg'nɪfɪkəns] n: see insignificant.

insignificant [ɪn'sɪg'nɪfɪkənt] adj [person, fact, amount] that is not very noticeable or has very little importance □ My own troubles seem insignificant when I think about what some people are going through.

insincere [ɪn'sɪn'sɪə] adj [person, smile, remark] that seems to be friendly, kind etc but is not □ Her apology sounded insincere.

insincerity [ɪn'sɪn'serəti] n: see insincere.

insinuate [ɪn'sɪnju'eɪt] vt to insinuate (that) ... to indirectly suggest that something unpleasant is true (disapproving use) □ Are you insinuating that it's my fault? □ What are you trying to insinuate?

insinuation [ɪn'sɪnju'eɪʃn] n a spoken or written statement, comment etc that insinuates something; the use of such statements, comments etc to insinuate something (disapproving use) □ I've had enough of your insinuations. □ a campaign of lies and insinuation.

insipid [ɪn'sɪpəd] adj -1. [person, color, music] dull and boring (disapproving use) □ insipid conversation. -2. [food, drink] that does not have a strong enough taste.

insist [ɪn'sɪst] ◊ vt -1. to insist (that)... to state firmly that something is true, especially when other people disagree with one □ She insisted that he had been with her all evening. -2. to insist (that)... to state firmly that one wants somebody to do something or wants something to happen □ I insist (that) you go to see a doctor. ◊ vi to state firmly that one wants somebody to do something or wants something to happen □ Oh, very well, if you insist! ■ to insist on sth to demand sth □ I insist on the best from my employees. □ She insisted on coming.

insistence [ɪn'sɪstəns] n the act of insisting on something □ I came at his insistence. □ their insistence on absolute secrecy.

insistent [ɪn'sɪstənt] adj -1. to be insistent to keep stating very firmly that somebody should do something □ I tried to get out of going, but they were most insistent. □ David was insistent that we all wear fancy dress. -2. [noise] that constantly or continually demands one's attention □ I could no longer ignore his insistent banging at the door.

in situ [US ɪn'saɪtu:, GB -'sɪtju:] adv [repair, inspect] in the place where a particular thing is, without moving it (formal use).

insofar [ɪn'sou'fɑ:] ♦ insofar as conj to the extent that □ The accident was not serious insofar as nobody was killed.

insole ['ɪnsəʊl] n a piece of flat material shaped like the sole of a foot that is fitted inside a shoe to make it more comfortable.

insolence ['ɪnsələns] n: see insolent.

insolent ['ɪnsələnt] adj [child, remark, tone] that is rude and does not show the proper respect for somebody in authority.

insoluble [ɪn'sɒljəbl] adj -1. [problem, crime] that cannot be solved □ It's a difficult situation but not an insoluble one. -2. [substance] that cannot be dissolved.

insolvable [ɪn'sɒlvəbl] adj US [problem, crime] = insoluble.

insolvency [ɪn'sɒlvənsɪ] n: see insolvent.

insolvent [ɪn'sɒlvənt] adj [person, bank, company] that does not have enough money to pay their debts □ The company was declared insolvent.

insomnia [ɪn'sɒmniə] n inability to sleep □ Do you suffer from insomnia?

insomniac [ɪn'sɒmniæk] n a person who suffers from insomnia.

insomuch [ɪn'sə'matʃ] ♦ insomuch as conj = inasmuch as.

inspect [ɪn'spekt] vt -1. to examine <sth> in detail to find out what it is like or to check that it is the way one wants it to be □ I went up on the roof to inspect the damage. -2. to visit  etc officially to check that no rules are being broken or that it is of a certain standard □ The kitchens are regularly inspected.

inspection [ɪn'spekʃn] n -1. an official visit made to a place, organization etc in order to check that no rules are being broken or that it is of a certain standard □ An inspection will be carried out at 9 am. □ The school is due for an inspection. -2. a detailed examination of something □ On closer inspection, the fuel pump was found to be leaking.

inspector [ɪn'spektə] n -1. a person whose job is to inspect things, e.g. schools, factories, or people's tickets on buses □ a health and safety inspector □ a school inspector. -2. a police officer of middle rank.

inspector of taxes n GB a government official whose job is to calculate how much tax people should pay.

inspiration [ɪn'spə'reɪʃn] n -1. the enthusiastic feeling that makes one want to do something, especially something creative; something or somebody that gives one this feeling □ She gets her inspiration from desert landscapes. □ The riots were the inspiration for the novel. -2. a sudden good idea that one has □ I had an inspiration!

inspire [ɪn'spaɪə] vt -1. to give <sb> the enthusiasm or idea that causes them to do something □ She was inspired by her experiences to become a doctor. -2. to inspire sb with sthg, to inspire sthg in sb [passion, enthusiasm] to fill sb with sthg □ Their past record doesn't exactly inspire confidence.

inspired [ɪn'spaɪəd] adj [artist, performance] that is very good and impressive □ a superb and truly inspired piece of writing □ It was an inspired guess.

inspiring [ɪn'spaɪərɪŋ] adj [music, book, example] that makes one feel interested and enthusiastic □ I'm afraid the conference wasn't very inspiring.

instability [ˌɪnstə'bɪləti] n lack of stability.

install [ɪn'stɔ:l] vt -1. [computer, heating, telephone line] to put <sthg> in a place and connect it so that it is ready to be used □ We're having central heating installed. -2. to give <sb> a new position or job officially □ Once you're installed in your new job, we'll come and visit. -3. to put <sb> in a place so that they are comfortable and can stay there for a long time □ She installed herself in front of the fire. □ My family is now installed in Hong Kong.

installation [ˌɪnstə'leɪʃn] n -1. [for a particular activity] a base or site containing equipment and personnel for a particular purpose □ a military/gas/nuclear installation. -2. [of software, heating] see install.

installment US, instalment GB [ɪn'stɔ:lmənt] n -1. FINANCE one of a series of regular payments that are made over an agreed period of time until the cost of something is covered completely □ He paid for the car in monthly installments. -2. [of a story, TV program, radio program] an episode □ Tune in on Monday for the next exciting installment.

installment plan n US a system of buying something by paying for it gradually □ Do you offer installment plans?

instance ['ɪnstəns] n an example of a particular situation □ Instances of violent crime are rare in this area. ■ in the first instance as the first of a series of actions (formal use).

◆ for instance adv a phrase used to introduce an example of what one has just mentioned □ You could always take up a sport — golf, for instance.

instant ['ɪnstənt] ◇ adj -1. [success, dislike] immediate □ You can't expect instant results. -2. instant coffee/soup etc coffee/soup etc that is in the form of a powder and can be prepared very quickly and easily, usually by adding boiling water. ◇ n a moment □ I'll be with you in an instant. ■ the instant as soon as □ Call me the instant (that) you arrive. ■ at that OR the same instant at exactly the same time □ At that instant the lights went out. ■ this instant at once □ Do it this instant!

instantaneous [ˌɪnstən'teɪnjəs] adj [death, reaction] that happens at once □ There was instantaneous applause.

instantly ['ɪnstəntli] adv immediately after something else, and often as a result of it □ He was killed instantly when his car hit a tree.

instant replay n US a slow replay of part of a sports event on television.

instead [ɪn'sted] adv as an alternative □ The trains were on strike so I drove instead.

◆ instead of prep in the place of <sthg>; as an alternative to <sthg> □ I had an apple instead of lunch. □ You can have cheese instead of dessert if you prefer.

instep ['ɪnstɛp] n the middle part of the top of one's foot, between the toes and the ankle.

instigate ['ɪnstɪgeɪt] vt [discussion, meeting, investigation] to make <sthg> begin to happen □ Who instigated the argument?

instigation [ˌɪnstɪ'geɪʃn] n at sb's instigation because sb has suggested or demanded that it happen □ A public inquiry was held at the instigation of the Attorney General.

instigator ['ɪnstɪgeɪtə] n the person who instigates something.

instill US, instil GB [ɪn'stɪl] (pt & pp instilled, cont instilling) vt to instill sthg in OR into sb [loyalty, sense of duty, fear] to cause sb to have an idea or feeling by teaching it to them or treating them in a particular way over a period of time □ She had instilled a strong sense of justice in her family.

instinct ['ɪnstɪŋkt] n -1. a natural tendency to react in a particular way in particular situations without thinking about it □ The fox finds its prey by instinct. □ the maternal/survival/killer instinct. -2. one's natural reaction to a particular situation □ My first instinct was to tell him the truth.

instinctive [ɪn'stɪŋktɪv] adj [distrust, reaction, dislike] that is caused by instinct □ I took an instinctive dislike to him.

instinctively [ɪn'stɪŋktɪvli] adv [know, react, dislike] see instinctive □ I felt instinctively that something was wrong.

institute ['ɪnstɪtju:t] ◇ n an organization formed to do a particular type of work, especially for the purpose of education or research; the building used by such an organization □ the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. ◇ vt to start  etc □ The government has instituted a series of reforms.

institution [ˌɪnstɪ'tju:ʃn] n -1. a very old custom or tradition that is accepted by most people □ the institution of marriage. -2. a large and important organization that has existed for a long time, e.g. a university or bank □ educational/financial institutions. -3. a place where people, such as old or mentally ill people, are kept and taken care of □ They've put her in an institution.

institutional [ˌɪnstɪ'tju:ʃnəl] adj [reform, care, food] that is connected with an institution.

institutionalized, -ised [ˌɪnstɪ'tju:ʃnəlaɪzd] adj -1. [person] who has become too dependent on the care of an institution, e.g. a mental hospital □ Such patients run the risk of becoming institutionalized. -2. [custom, tradition] that has become an accepted part of life in a particular society or organization □ institutionalized sexism/racism.

instruct [ɪn'strʌkt] vt -1. to instruct sb to do sthg to tell sb to do sthg officially □ We've been instructed to let no one into the building. -2. to instruct sb in sthg to teach sb sthg □ She instructs people in the art of flower arranging.

instruction [ɪn'strʌkʃn] n -1. an order □ She gave instructions for the papers to be destroyed. -2. teaching □ 'Driver under instruction.'

◆ instructions npl a list of details of how to do or use something □ Read the instructions on the back of the packet.

instruction manual n a book giving details of how something works and how to use it.

instructive [ɪn'strʌktɪv] adj [experience, book, talk] that gives one useful information □ The whole experience was highly instructive.

instructor [ɪn'strʌktə] n -1. a teacher of an activity □ a ski/driving instructor. -2. US EDUCATION a teacher at a college.

instrument ['ɪnstɹəmənt] n -1. a tool or device that is often made up of a number of small delicate parts and used for purposes where accuracy is important, e.g. in medicine or science □ A thermometer is an instrument for measuring temperature. -2. = musical instrument. -3. [person, thing] something or somebody that is used to achieve a particular aim (literary use).

instrumental [ɪn'strə'mentl] ◇ adj -1. to be instrumental in doing sthg to have an important and helpful role in making sthg happen □ She/Her work was instrumental in reforming the profession. -2. [music] that is written for or played on instruments rather than intended to be sung. ◇ n MUSIC a piece of instrumental music.

instrumentalist [ɪn'strə'mentləst] n MUSIC a person who plays a musical instrument.

instrument panel n the panel in a car, aircraft, or motor boat containing the speedometer and other dials and switches.

insubordinate [ɪn'sʌbədɪ'nət] adj [person, behavior] that is rude and disobedient, usually to somebody of higher rank (formal use).

insubordination [ɪn'sʌbədɪ'nəʃn] n behavior that is insubordinate (formal use).

insubstantial [ɪn'sʌb'stænʃl] adj -1. [structure, frame] that is not very big, strong, or solid. -2. [meal, book] that is not very satisfying □ a good, if rather insubstantial, first novel.

insufferable [ɪn'sʌfərəbl] adj [person, rudeness, arrogance] that one finds annoying and cannot tolerate □ He's an insufferable bore!

insufficient [ɪn'sʌfɪʃnt] adj [evidence, research, interest] that is not enough □ The course had to be canceled due to insufficient numbers.

insular ['ɪnsjələ] adj [person] who is not interested in finding out about other places or other ways of life different from their own (disapproving use) □ an insular outlook.

insulate ['ɪnsjəleɪt] vt -1. [loft, tank, wall] to prevent heat, sound etc from passing through <sthg> by covering it with a special material. -2. [person] to keep <sb> away from situations, experiences, or knowledge that might frighten or upset them □ As a child, I was insulated against/from the harsh realities of life. -3. [cable, wire, tool] to cover <sthg> with material that does not conduct electricity, in order to make it safe to use.

insulating tape ['ɪnsjəleɪtɪŋ] n plastic tape that is wrapped around electrical wiring to insulate it and make it safe to use.

insulation [ɪn'sjə'leɪʃn] n any thick soft material such as foam that is put on the inside of a wall, roof, or door to stop heat or noise from escaping from a room or building.

insulin ['ɪnsjələn] n a substance produced in the body that helps to turn sugar into energy, and sometimes needs to be injected if a person is diabetic.

insult [vɪ ɪn'sʌlt, n 'ɪnsʌlt] ◇ vt to say or do something that offends <sb> personally □ I've never been so insulted in all my life! ◇ n something that somebody says or does that offends somebody personally □ The suggestion is an insult to our good name. □ The latest pay offer was described as "an insult". ■ to add insult to injury a phrase used to refer to something that makes an upsetting or annoying situation even worse □ He just walked out of the restaurant, and to add insult to injury, I had to pay the bill!

insulting [ɪn'sʌltɪŋ] adj [gesture, remark] that insults somebody □ I consider this advert insulting to women.

insuperable [ɪn'su:pərəbl] adj [obstacle, problem] that cannot be overcome (formal use).

insurance [ɪn'sʊərəns] n -1. FINANCE an arrangement in which a person makes fixed payments to a company which agrees to pay the costs which that person might have in the future because of an illness, accident, fire, theft etc □ We've taken out insurance against fire or fire insurance. □ an insurance plan/company. -2. an action or plan that is supposed to prevent something unwanted from happening □ The deposit is an insurance against tenants leaving without paying.

insurance adjuster n US a person whose job is to calculate how much insurance should be paid for a particular claim.

insurance broker n a person who works as an agent for an insurance company and sells the services of the company to new clients.

insurance policy n a document that states the terms of an agreement between an insurance company and a client.

insurance premium n an amount of money paid regularly by a client to an insurance company.

insure [ɪn'sʊə] ◇ vt -1. FINANCE [car, house, life] to provide insurance for <sb/sthg> □ I hope you've insured your equipment against theft. □ The painting has been insured for $20 million. -2. US [safety, success, outcome] to make <sthg> certain □ We try to insure that all our passengers have a safe and comfortable trip. ◇ vi to insure against sthg to do what is possible in order to prevent sthg from happening.

insured [ɪnˈʃʊəd] ◇ adj -1. FINANCE [person, car, house] that is protected by insurance □ Are you insured against OR for theft? -2. US [safety, success] that is certain. ◇ n the insured FINANCE the person or people insured by an insurance company.

insurer [ɪnˈʃʊərə] n a company that provides insurance.

insurgent [ɪnˈsɜːdʒənt] n a person who fights against the government of their country.

insurmountable [ɪnˈsʊəˈmaʊntəbl] adj [obstacle, problem, difficulty] that cannot be overcome □ None of these problems is insurmountable.

insurrection [ɪnˈsʊəˈrekʃn] n an attempt by a group of people in a country to remove the government from power by using violence □ an armed insurrection.

intact [ɪnˈtækt] adj to be intact [collection, reputation] that is not damaged or broken in any way despite bad conditions or rough treatment □ Few houses were left intact by the bombing.

intake [ˈɪnteɪk] n -1. [of food, drink] the amount of food or drink that a person takes into their body during a certain period of time □ You should cut down on your alcohol intake. -2. [of students, recruits] the number of people who join an institution or organization at a particular period of time □ We have had to reduce this year's intake of students. -3. [for water, fuel] a space where air, water, or fuel passes into a tube, pipe, or container □ The fuel intake is blocked.

intangible [ɪnˈtændʒəbl] adj [quality, feeling, idea] that one knows exists but is unable to identify exactly or explain □ Love is something intangible.

integral [ˈɪntɪgrəl] adj [part, feature] that is an essential part of something larger □ Developing new strategies is integral to my role as marketing director. □ a house with integral garage.

integrate [ˈɪntəɡreɪt] ◇ vi [person] to enter a society or group of people and become part of it, often by adapting to their way of life, habits, customs etc □ They have not yet fully integrated into the community. □ She's had problems integrating with other pupils.

◇ vt -1. to be integrated into sthg [into a society, country, school] to mix with and join a group of people who are different □ It is difficult for these children to integrate into normal family life. -2. [school, university] to allow all races or groups to use <an institution> □ They tried to integrate all inner-city schools. -3. [system, process, activity] to make <sthg> part of something else □ It's important to integrate some fun with OR into the class work. □ We've decided to integrate the packing and dispatch departments.

integrated [ˈɪntəɡreɪtəd] adj [school, society] that has a mixture of people from different social or racial groups.

integrated circuit n a very small electronic circuit contained on a single piece of semiconductor material, usually silicon.

integration [ɪnˈtəɡreɪʃn] n: see integrate □ They voted in favor of closer European integration.

integrity [ɪnˈteɡrətɪ] n -1. [of a person] the quality of being honest and having moral principles □ a woman of great integrity □ I have no doubts about his integrity. -2. [of a nation, society] the state of being whole and united (formal use) □ The treaty reaffirms the integrity of our borders.

intellect [ˈɪntələkt] n -1. the ability to think and reason □ The children are taught to use their intellect. -2. high intelligence □ It's easy to understand for a man of your intellect. -3. a very intelligent person □ one of France's greatest intellects.

intellectual [ɪnˈtələktʃʊəl] ◇ adj -1. [topic, discussion] that requires the use of the mind, usually in a complex way □ intellectual stimulation. -2. [person] who is well educated and often uses their ability to think and reason in complex ways, especially in work or study □ She has an intellectual approach to theater. ◇ n an intellectual person □ He's a real intellectual.

intellectualize, -ise [ɪnˈtələktʃʊəlaɪz] vt [subject, problem] to think about <sthg> in a rational way and without considering emotions □ She has a tendency to intellectualize everything.

intelligence [ɪnˈtelɪdʒəns] n -1. [of a person] the ability to think clearly, solve problems, and understand things □ He hasn't much intelligence. -2. [of a country, army] a government department in charge of spying on enemy countries or organizations; the information gathered by such a department □ He worked for military intelligence. □ an intelligence-gathering organization/operation □ the intelligence services.

intelligence quotient n → IQ.

intelligence test n a test designed to find out the level of somebody's intelligence.

intelligent [ɪnˈtelɪdʒənt] adj -1. [person, animal] that has a high level of intelligence; [question, answer, idea] that shows a high level of intelligence □ She's a highly intelligent child. □ That wasn't very intelligent of him, was it! -2. COMPUTING [device, terminal] that can run a program by using simple reasoning to make decisions.

intelligentsia [ɪnˈtelɪdʒəntsɪə] n the intelligentsia the well-educated people of a country or society, such as writers and scientists.

intelligible [ɪnˈtelɪdʒəbl] adj [writing, speech, report] that can be understood □ The phone line was so bad his voice was barely intelligible.

intemperate [ɪnˈtempərət] adj -1. [person] who drinks too much alcohol (formal use). -2. [behavior, haste] that is too extreme and not controlled (formal use) □ I must apologize for my intemperate language. -3. [climate] that has extreme temperatures.

intend [ɪnˈtend] vt -1. to have <sthg> in one's mind as a plan □ We intend to increase our sales. □ I intend telling her what I really think. □ His statement was intended to mislead people.

-2. to have a particular purpose in mind for <sthg> □ This book is intended for the children's market. □ It was intended as a joke.

intended [ɪn'tendəd] adj [result] planned; [meaning] that is meant □ Sorry, no pun intended.

intense [ɪn'tens] adj -1. [competition, concentration, activity] that involves a lot of effort □ The battle for first place is becoming increasingly intense. -2. [color, light] that is very bright or deep □ an intense shade of blue. -3. [heat, pain, emotion] that is very strong □ He felt intense hatred toward her. -4. [person] who has strong feelings or opinions and expresses them in a serious way □ a very intense young man □ an intense look/stare.

intensely [ɪn'tensli] adv -1. intensely painful/boring etc very painful/boring etc □ She was intensely suspicious of everyone. -2. [feel, dislike] deeply □ He was concentrating intensely.

intensify [ɪn'tensəfaɪ] (pt & pp intensified) ◇ vt [efforts, activities, attacks] to increase <sthg>; [impression, feeling] to make <sthg> stronger □ Military commanders agreed to intensify the bombing campaign. ◇ vi: Fighting has intensified in the last few days. □ As we traveled further north, the cold intensified.

intensity [ɪn'tensəti] n: see intense □ He was surprised by the intensity of the public's interest.

intensive [ɪn'tensɪv] adj [training, course] that involves a lot of work, activity etc in a short time □ a period of intensive study.

-intensive suffix added to words to show that a large amount of a particular thing is involved □ labor-intensive □ capital-intensive.

intensive care n a form of hospital treatment for people who are seriously ill, involving many nurses, special equipment, and constant supervision □ He's still in intensive care □ The intensive care unit.

intent [ɪn'tent] ◇ adj -1. [face, look] that is full of concentration. -2. to be intent on OR upon doing sthg to be very determined to do sthg □ He's intent on OR upon spoiling the evening. ◇ n an intention □ That was not my intent.

◆ to all intents and purposes adv in nearly every way □ The campaign is, to all intents and purposes, over.

intention [ɪn'tenʃn] n a desire and plan to do something □ I have no intention of resigning. □ They bought it with the intention of selling it later on for a profit. □ It was always my intention to replace it. □ I'm sorry if I sounded critical, that was not my intention.

intentional [ɪn'tenʃnəl] adj [insult, similarity] that is planned and deliberate □ The omission of your name was not intentional.

intentionally [ɪn'tenʃnəli] adv [insult, omit] see intentional □ I didn't kick him intentionally. □ She was intentionally rude to me.

intently [ɪn'tentli] adv [watch, study, listen] with a lot of concentration and interest □ He was staring at me intently.

inter [ɪn'tɜː] (pt & pp interred, cont interring) vt to bury <sb> (formal use).

interact [ɪntər'ækt] vi -1. [people] to talk with each other and do things together □ She interacts very well with other children of her age.

-2. [forces, ideas] to have an influence on each other.

interaction [ɪntər'ækʃn] n [of people, forces, ideas] see interact □ social interaction.

interactive [ɪntər'æktɪv] adj [program, software, video] that makes it possible for a computer and its user to exchange information □ an interactive CD-ROM/encyclopedia.

intercede [ɪntə'siːd] vi to speak to somebody in order to represent or defend somebody else (formal use) □ Mr Goldberg is set to intercede on behalf of the US hostages.

intercept [ɪntə'sept] vt [thief, message, missile] to find and stop <sb/sthg that is going from one place to another> □ The drugs were intercepted at the border.

interchange [ɪn'tɜːtʃeɪndʒ, vb ɪntə'tʃeɪndʒ] ◇ n -1. [of ideas, staff, information] an exchange. -2. TRANSPORT a group of small roads that connect two or more larger roads □ Get off at the next interchange, and take the State Route 62. ◇ vt to cause <people or things> to change places with each other □ The suit has a skirt and trousers, which means you can interchange the two.

interchangeable [ɪntə'tʃeɪndʒəbl] adj [parts, people, terms] that can be interchanged with each other without making any difference □ "Nobody" is interchangeable with "no one". □ This food processor has several interchangeable graters.

intercity [ɪntə'sɪti] ◇ adj [train, bus] that provides fast direct transport from one city to another without stopping at many stations. ◇ n an intercity train or bus.

intercom [ɪntə'kɒm] n a machine that people speak into, in order to communicate with people in a different part of a building □ The message came through OR over the intercom. □ an intercom system.

interconnect [ɪntə'kɒnekt] vi [systems, buildings] to be connected with each other.

interconnecting [ɪntə'kɒnektɪŋ] adj [rooms, wires] that are joined to each other.

intercontinental [ɪntə'kɒntə'nentl] adj [trade] that takes place between two or more continents; [flight] from one continent to another □ the intercontinental movement of goods □ an intercontinental trip.

intercontinental ballistic missile n a missile that can be fired a long distance from one part of the world to another.

intercourse [ɪntə'kɔːrs] n = sexual intercourse.

interdenominational [ɪntə'dɪnəmə'nɪʃnəl] adj RELIGION [service, conference] that involves different religious groups.

interdepartmental [ɪntə'dɪpɑː'tmentl] adj [report, meeting, conflict] between departments of a company, institution, or organization.

interdependent [ɪntə'dɪpəndənt] adj [departments, systems, countries] that are closely connected and dependent on each other □ Man and nature are interdependent.

interdict [ɪntə'dɪkt] n -1. LAW an order that forbids something. -2. RELIGION in the Roman Catholic Church, a punishment that forbids a person or group of people from taking part in important ceremonies, e.g. baptism.

interest ['ɪntrəst] ◇ n -1. [in somebody or something] the desire to know about or be involved with something or somebody □ He's lost interest in his work. □ The show was canceled through lack of interest. -2. [outside of work] a thing that one gives time and attention to because it is enjoyable □ My main interests are squash, golf, and motor racing. -3. to be of interest to have a quality that makes one want to give one's time and attention □ There's nothing of interest in the report. □ Politics holds no interest for me. -4. to be in sb's interest(s) to give a possible advantage to sb □ It's in your interest to apply. ■ in the interests of sthg in order to help sthg; in order to achieve sthg □ The government censored the book in the interests of national security. □ In the interests of hygiene, please wash your hands. -5. FINANCE the money that somebody pays as a charge for borrowing money; the money that somebody earns when they invest money in something □ I paid back the money with interest. □ Interest on the loan is charged at 12%. □ I'm paying 10% interest. □ Why don't you transfer your savings to a high-interest account? -6. BUSINESS a financial share in a company or business activity □ I have a 40% interest in the company. □ a financial interest.

◇ vt -1. to make <sb> feel interested □ Football just doesn't interest me. -2. to interest sb in sthg to persuade sb to do or buy sthg □ Can I interest you in a drink/in coming out to lunch?

interested ['ɪntrəstəd] adj -1. [person] who wants to know about or be involved with somebody or something □ Would you be interested in this job/in meeting him? □ Sorry, I'm not interested. -2. an interested party/group a person/group that is affected by something □ Developers will be contacting all interested parties to discuss their plans.

interest-free adj [loan, credit] that is given without any interest being charged □ We offer six months' interest-free credit on any purchase over $500.

interesting ['ɪntrəstɪŋ] adj [person, idea, question] that attracts and holds one's attention □ That sounds interesting; let's try it! □ I'm reading a very interesting book. □ It's interesting that you should mention her name. □ That's interesting, that's not what she told me!

interest rate n the percentage that is used by a bank to calculate the interest charged on a loan □ Interest rates have gone up again.

interface [n 'ɪntəfeɪs, vb 'ɪntəfeɪs] ◇ n -1. COMPUTING a device or system that enables two parts of a computer to communicate with each other and transfer information. -2. the point at which two separate things or groups of people meet and become connected in some way □ the management-employee interface. ◇ vt COMPUTING to connect together <two or more devices, programs> etc that have different characteristics.

interfere [,ɪntə'fɪə] vi -1. to become involved in and try to affect a situation that concerns other people and not oneself □ I never interfere in their quarrels. -2. to affect the progress of something in a bad way □ It's interfering with her work.

interference [,ɪntə'fɪərəns] n -1. [in a situation, quarrel] see interfere □ She won't tolerate interference in or with her private life. -2. TECHNOLOGY a buzzing or crackling sound on a radio caused by crossed radio signals □ I can't hear it properly, there's a lot of interference.

interfering [,ɪntə'fɪəriŋ] adj [person] who interferes in other people's affairs (disapproving use) □ She's just an interfering old busybody.

intergalactic [,ɪntə'gælæktɪk] adj [space, mission] that travels between galaxies.

interim ['ɪntərɪm] adj an interim government/report a government/report that is not permanent but deals with a situation until something final or complete is ready.

◆ in the interim adv in the time between two events □ In the interim, I have plenty to do.

interior [ɪn'tɪəriə] ◇ adj -1. [wall, lining, space] that is on the inside of a building or vehicle □ interior furnishings. -2. POLITICS [minister, ministry] that relates to a country's own affairs and not to those of other countries. ■ the (United States) Department of the Interior the US government department responsible for the management of public land and natural resources, especially national parks. ◇ n -1. [of a building, vehicle] the inside part of something □ The car has a very comfortable interior. -2. the interior the part of a country that is not near the ocean.

interior decorator n a person whose job is to paint and decorate houses, rooms etc.

interior designer n a person whose job is to decide the way that a house, room etc is decorated and furnished.

interject [,ɪntə'dʒekt] (formal use) ◇ vt to say <sthg> in the middle of what somebody else is saying. ◇ vi: I couldn't say a single sentence without somebody interjecting.

interjection [,ɪntə'dʒekʃn] n -1. a sudden remark that interrupts somebody else who is speaking □ There were constant interjections from the audience. -2. GRAMMAR a word or phrase that is used to express a strong feeling, e.g. "ouch!"

interlock [,ɪntə'lɒk] ◇ vt [wheels, gears, chairs] to join <things> together into a fixed position □ She sat with her chin on her hands, and her fingers interlocked. ◇ vi [wheels, gears, chairs] The different parts interlock with each other. □ a series of interlocking cogwheels.

interloper ['ɪntə'loupə] n a person who tries to become involved with other people's affairs or enters a place when they have no right to (formal use).

interlude ['ɪntə'lʊd] n -1. a short break in an activity or situation, when something different happens □ At this point in the meeting there was a brief interlude while Frank went to make coffee. -2. CINEMA & THEATER a break between two parts of a movie, play, or performance

□ There will be a short interlude before Act 2.
-3. MUSIC a short piece of music between two parts of another performance □ a musical interlude.

intermarry [ˌɪntəˈmæəri] (pt & pp intermarried) vi -1. [people] to marry people from their own family, tribe, race etc. -2. [tribes, races] to become connected by marriage.

intermediary [ˌɪntəˈmiːdjəri] (pl intermediaries) n a person who helps to solve a dispute by talking to the people involved □ a government intermediary.

intermediate [ˌɪntəˈmiːdɪət] adj -1. an intermediate stage a stage that is between two other stages. -2. an intermediate level EDUCATION a level in between beginners' and advanced level □ a class for intermediate students.

interminable [ɪnˈtɜːˈmɪnəbl] adj [trip, speech] that seems very long and boring □ We had to sit listening to Dad's interminable war stories.

intermingle [ˌɪntəˈmɪŋɡl] vi [people] to mix with each other □ The settlers rarely intermingled with members of the local population.

intermission [ˌɪntəˈmɪʃn] n a short break between two parts of a movie, play etc.

intermittent [ˌɪntəˈmɪtənt] adj [noise, rain, pain] that is not constant, but stops and starts □ The weather will be cloudy with intermittent showers.

intern [vb ɪnˈtɜːɪn, n ˈɪntɜːɪn] ◇ vt [terrorist, criminal] to limit the freedom of <sb>, e.g. by putting them in prison, especially for political reasons □ The men were interned in a prison camp. ◇ n US a person who is going through the final stages of training as a doctor or teacher.

internal [ɪnˈtɜːɪn] adj -1. [injury, bleeding] that happens inside a person's body □ internal organs. -2. [wall, door] that exists inside a building. -3. [affairs, politics, flight] that is connected with or takes place in a particular country and does not involve other countries □ The rebellion is described as a purely internal problem. -4. [memo, inquiry, dispute] that exists or happens within an organization □ The company is carrying out an internal investigation into the incident.

internal-combustion engine n an engine that produces power by burning a mixture of fuel and air.

internally [ɪnˈtɜːɪnəli] adv [bleed, circulate] see internal □ The job was advertised internally.

Internal Revenue Service n → IRS.

international [ˌɪntəˈnæʃnəl] ◇ adj [agreement, community, law] that happens in or involves several countries in different parts of the world □ He became an international star. ◇ n SPORT a sports match, e.g. a soccer or rugby match, between the teams of two countries; a player who represents their country in such a match.

International Chamber of Commerce n the International Chamber of Commerce an international organization that aims to promote and protect its members' business interests.

international date line n the international date line the imaginary line that runs from the North Pole to the South Pole, the date of countries to the west of it being one day ahead of countries to the east.

internationally [ˌɪntəˈnæʃnəli] adv internationally recognized/famous recognized/famous in many different countries of the world □ Internationally, the situation is improving.

International Monetary Fund n the International Monetary Fund a UN organization whose role is to help world trade and countries that have financial problems.

international relations npl the way that different countries deal with each other.

internecine [US ˌɪntərˈniːsɪn, GB ˌɪntəˈniːsɪn] adj [struggle, fighting] that happens within the same country or community □ internecine warfare.

internee [ˌɪntɜːˈniː] n a prisoner, especially a political prisoner.

Internet [ˈɪntəˈnet] n the Internet an international computer network, consisting of smaller linked networks, on which business, academic, and private users can have access to information and communicate with each other.

internist [ˈɪntəˈnɛst] n US a doctor who knows about general medical problems but does not perform operations.

internment [ɪnˈtɜːɪnmənt] n [of a terrorist, criminal] see intern □ an internment camp.

interpersonal [ˌɪntəˈpɜːʃnəl] adj [skills, relationships] that involve communication with other people □ Managers need to develop good interpersonal skills.

interplay [ˈɪntəˈpleɪ] n the way that people or things react and affect each other □ the interplay between social and political factors.

Interpol [US ˈɪntɪpəʊl, GB ˈɪntəpɒl] n an international organization for cooperation between the police forces of different countries.

interpolate [ɪnˈtɜːpəleɪt] vt (formal use) -1. to add  to a conversation or text. -2. to interrupt somebody by saying <sth>.

interpose [ˌɪntəˈpəʊz] vt (formal use) -1. [comment, question] to add <sth> to a conversation. -2. [comment, question] to interrupt somebody by adding <sth>.

interpret [ɪnˈtɜːˈpræt] ◇ vt -1. [remark, result, behavior] to ~~understand~~ <sth> in a particular way □ How would you interpret that? □ Their statement is being interpreted as a willingness to cooperate. -2. [speech, dialogue] to put <sth> spoken in one language into a different language □ Would you interpret that last section for me? -3. [piece of music, role] to perform <sth> in a way that shows one's ideas about it (formal use). ◇ vi to put something spoken in one language into a different language □ Luckily my colleague was able to interpret for me.

interpretation [ɪnˈtɜːˈprəʊteɪʃn] n -1. a meaning chosen from several possible meanings □ Well, John, what's your interpretation of these events? -2. [of a role, piece of music] the way something is performed.

interpreter [ɪn'tɜː'prətər] n a person whose job is to put what is said, e.g. during meetings or conferences, from one language into another.

interpreting [ɪn'tɜː'prætɪŋ] n the job of an interpreter □ simultaneous interpreting.

interracial [ɪn'tɜː'reɪʃl] adj [tension, conflict, harmony] that exists or happens between people of different races.

interrelate [ɪn'tɜːrɪ'leɪt] vt to be interrelated [factors, questions] to be connected with each other □ The problems of crime and poverty are interrelated.

interrogate [ɪn'terə'geɪt] vt -1. [suspect, prisoner] to question <sb> about a crime, sometimes in a threatening or aggressive way □ The men were interrogated by the police for several hours. -2. COMPUTING to get information from .

interrogation [ɪn'terə'geɪʃn] n [of a suspect, prisoner] see interrogate □ She was taken away for interrogation. □ The confession was extracted under interrogation.

interrogation mark n a question mark (formal use).

interrogative [ɪn'tɜː'rɒgətɪv] ◇ adj [pronoun, form] that is used to form a question. ◇ n -1. the interrogative the form of a verb or grammatical construction that is used to make a question. -2. a word, e.g. "why" or "where", that is used to form a question.

interrogator [ɪn'terə'geɪtər] n a person who questions a suspect, prisoner etc during an interrogation.

interrupt [ɪn'tɜː'rʌpt] ◇ vt -1. [speaker] to do or say something that causes <sb> to stop speaking □ I was interrupted at several points during my speech. □ I'm sorry to interrupt your conversation. -2. [work, activity, process] to do something that causes <sthg> to stop for a period of time; [person] to do or say something that causes <sb> to stop working □ We interrupt this program to bring you a newsflash. □ Don't let me interrupt you! ◇ vi: I've told you before not to interrupt.

interrupter [ɪn'tɜː'rʌptər] n ELECTRICITY a device that opens and closes an electric circuit.

interruption [ɪn'tɜː'rʌpʃn] n -1. something that somebody says or does that causes an activity or process to stop for a period of time □ The rehearsal took longer than usual as there were several interruptions. -2. [of work, an activity, process] see interrupt □ We were able to work without interruption.

intersect [ɪn'tɜː'sekt] ◇ vi [lines, streets] to cross each other. ◇ vt [line, street] to cut across <sthg> at a particular point □ This is the point where the two roads intersect.

intersection [ɪn'tɜː'sekʃn] n the point at which two lines, roads etc meet and cross each other □ We stopped at a busy intersection.

intersperse [ɪn'tɜː'spɜːs] vt to be interspersed with sthg to contain sthg at various points □ Her speech was interspersed with witty remarks.

interstate (highway) [ɪn'tɜː'steɪt-] n in the USA, a major highway going from one state to another □ You can get there on the interstate (highway). □ Interstate 75.

interval ['ɪntə'vɪl] n -1. [between two events] a period of time between two events or situations □ There was an interval of three months between the attacks. ■ at intervals on repeated occasions with periods of time in between □ There are buses to town at regular intervals. ■ at monthly/yearly intervals once a month/year □ The patient's temperature is taken at 30-minute intervals. -2. GB [in a play, concert] a short break between two parts of a performance. -3. MUSIC the difference between two notes that do not have the same pitch.

intervene [ɪn'tɜː'viːn] vi -1. [police, government] to become involved in an argument or fight to try and help end it □ The UN is reluctant to intervene in the dispute. -2. [war, strike] to occur just when something else is supposed to happen, and as a result stop it from happening □ However, an unexpected event was to intervene and upset all his carefully laid plans. -3. [hours, days, months] to pass □ Several hours intervened between Lou's arrival and that of Mabel. -4. [person] to interrupt somebody in order to say something □ Could I intervene a moment just to say a few words about the arrangements for lunch?

intervening [ɪn'tɜː'viːnɪŋ] adj in the intervening days/months etc in the days/months etc that come between two events or points in time □ Little had changed in the intervening period.

intervention [ɪn'tɜː'veɪʃn] n [by the police, a government] see intervene □ Governments in the region are calling for UN intervention. □ military intervention.

interventionist [ɪn'tɜː'veɪʃnɪst] POLITICS ◇ adj [policy, stance] that favors the involvement of a government, especially in the affairs of another country. ◇ n a person or state that is interventionist.

interview ['ɪntə'vjuː] ◇ n -1. a formal meeting in which an employer asks somebody questions to discover how suitable they are for a job □ a job interview □ How did the interview go? □ an interview room. -2. MEDIA a conversation in which a journalist or TV presenter asks somebody well-known or interesting about themselves or about an event, situation etc □ The reporter managed to get an interview with the released hostages. □ She hasn't given an interview for years. ◇ vt [candidate, politician, star] to ask <sb> questions in an interview □ He was interviewed by police for over an hour.

interviewee [ɪn'tɜː'vjuː'iː] n a person who is interviewed by an employer, journalist etc.

interviewer ['ɪntə'vjuːə] n the employer, journalist etc who asks questions in an interview.

interweave [ɪn'tɜː'wiːv] (pt interwove [-'wʊv], pp interwoven [-'wʊvən]) vt [threads, lives] to join <two or more things> together so that they are closely connected □ The branches were interwoven with each other. □ From that point on, their lives became closely interwoven.

intestate [ɪn'testət] adj to die intestate to die without making a will.

intestine [ɪn'testɪn] n an organ in one's body that consists of a long tube divided into a large and a small section and that carries food and water out of the body.

◆ intestines npl = intestine □ an infection of the intestines.

intimacy [ɪntəməsɪ] (pl intimacies) n [of a relationship, dinner] see intimate □ Much has been said of the intimacy between them.

◆ intimacies npl personal thoughts that are usually only exchanged between people who have a very close relationship.

intimate [adj & n 'ɪntəmət, vb 'ɪntəmeɪt] ◇ adj -1. [friend, relationship] very close □ We're on intimate terms. -2. [bar, dining room] that is small and has an atmosphere that allows people to speak to each other privately □ an intimate little restaurant. -3. [dinner, evening] that involves or suggests a romantic closeness between two people □ an intimate tête à tête. -4. to be intimate with sb to have sex with sb (formal use). -5. intimate details/thoughts etc very personal details/thoughts etc. -6. an intimate knowledge/understanding a detailed and correct knowledge/understanding □ You must have an intimate awareness of the needs of small, rural communities. -7. an intimate link OR connection a close link OR connection.

◇ n a person who is a close friend of somebody (formal use).

◇ vt to intimate (that)... to suggest that something is true or exists by saying something indirectly (formal use) □ She intimated that she would support our campaign.

intimately [ɪntəmətli] adv [know, talk] see intimate □ I'm not intimately acquainted with him/the details.

intimation [ɪntə'meɪʃn] n [of a feeling, event] an indirect sign of something (formal use) □ There was no intimation of the coming storm/war.

intimidate [ɪn'tɪmədeɪt] vt to frighten <sb>, especially by behaving aggressively □ Don't be intimidated into doing what they're asking.

intimidation [ɪn'tɪmə'deɪʃn] n the act of frightening somebody, often in order to make them do something □ I refuse to give in to intimidation.

into [stressed 'ɪntuː, unstressed 'ɪntə, before vowel 'ɪntu] prep -1. to go/step into a place to go/step inside a place from the outside □ She got into the car. ■ to put sthg into sthg to put sthg inside sthg □ Pour the mixture into a baking dish. -2. to bump into sb/sthg to hit sb/sthg accidentally with one's body □ He walked straight into a lamppost. -3. to change OR develop into sthg to become sthg different □ The novel was translated into Spanish. □ I tore the letter into tiny pieces. -4. to get OR change into a piece of clothing to put on a piece of clothing □ I got home from work and changed into my jeans. -5. an inquiry/investigation into sthg an inquiry/investigation that is about sthg □ We need more research into the causes of family breakdown. -6. MATH 4 into 8 8 divided by 4 □ 2 into 6 goes 3 times. -7. to get into trouble/difficulties to begin experiencing trouble/difficulties □ You've got yourself into a real mess. -8. used to show that a particular period of time has passed □ I was a week into my training program before I met my new boss. -9. phrase to be into sthg to be interested in sthg and enjoy it (informal use) □ He's really into jazz/tennis.

intolerable [ɪn'tɒlərəbl] adj [situation, cruelty, injustice] that is so bad that one cannot accept it □ This is intolerable!

intolerance [ɪn'tɒlərəns] n the attitude of somebody who does not accept or respect other people's behavior or beliefs.

intolerant [ɪn'tɒlərənt] adj [person, attitude] that shows intolerance □ He's terribly intolerant of women drivers.

intonation [ɪn'tə'neɪʃn] n the way a person's voice gets higher and lower, e.g. when they are asking a question or expressing anger or excitement.

intone [ɪn'təʊn] vt to say <sthg> without making one's voice higher or lower (literary use).

intoxicated [ɪn'tɒksɪkeɪtəd] adj -1. [person] who is drunk (formal use). -2. to be intoxicated by OR with sthg [by success, fame] to feel so happy or excited about sthg that one does not behave in a sensible way □ He became intoxicated by the idea of power.

intoxicating [ɪn'tɒksɪkeɪtɪŋ] adj -1. intoxicating drink drinks that can cause somebody to be drunk □ 'Licensed for the sale of intoxicating liquor.' -2. [atmosphere, beauty, perfume] that makes one feel very happy or excited.

intoxication [ɪn'tɒksɪ'keɪʃn] n (formal use) -1. the state of being drunk. -2. a strong feeling of happiness, excitement etc □ a feeling of intoxication.

intractable [ɪn'træktəbl] adj (formal use) -1. [person] who has a strong will and is difficult to control □ I tried to be persuasive, but he was intractable. -2. [problem] that seems impossible to solve.

intramural [ɪn'trə'mjʊərəl] adj [course, studies] that involves different departments or areas of study within the same university, college etc.

intransigent [ɪn'trænsɪdʒənt] adj [person] who is not willing to change their attitude or behavior (formal use).

intransitive [ɪn'trænsətɪv] adj [verb] that has a subject but no direct object □ The verb "open" is intransitive in "the door opened" and transitive in "I opened the door".

intrauterine device [ɪn'trəju:tə'reɪn-] n a small plastic or metal device that is placed inside a woman's uterus to stop her from becoming pregnant.

intravenous [ɪn'trə'vi:nəs] adj an intravenous injection/drip an injection/a drip that goes into a person's vein.

in-tray n an open plastic or metal container on somebody's desk that holds all the letters and papers that they must deal with □ The letter was sitting in my in-tray.

intrepid [ɪn'trepɪd] adj [traveler, explorer] who is not afraid in dangerous situations (literary use).

intricacy [ɪn'trɪkəsi] (pl intricacies) n [of a pattern, plan] see intricate.

◆ intricacies npl [of a situation, system, subject] the small details that make something complicated □ He is acquainted with all the intricacies of the case.

intricate [ɪn'trɪkət] adj [pattern, plan, mechanism] that is complicated and made up of many small parts □ The workings are very intricate. □ The report discusses, in intricate detail, the causes of the crisis.

intrigue [n ɪn'tri:g, vb ɪn'tri:g] ◇ n -1. the act of making a secret plan, usually to gain power □ political intrigue. -2. a secret plan made by two or more people. ◇ vt to be intrigued by sthg to be very interested in sthg and want to know more about it □ I was intrigued to hear you're emigrating. ◇ vi to intrigue against sb to make a secret plan to do sb harm.

intriguing [ɪn'tri:gɪŋ] adj [person, idea, story] that is very interesting because it is unusual and one knows little about it or does not understand it □ an intriguing tale of love and revenge.

intrinsic [ɪn'trɪnsɪk] adj [merit, value, goodness] that is part of the nature of somebody or something □ The vase has little intrinsic value.

intro [ɪn'trou] (pl intros) n = introduction (informal use).

introduce [ɪn'trə'dju:s] vt -1. [guest, friend, husband] to make <sb> known to another person or people for the first time, usually by saying their name □ Have you all been introduced? □ Let me introduce myself. □ Can I introduce you to my wife? □ I'd like to introduce you to a colleague of mine. -2. [speaker, performer, contestant] to tell the audience the name of and a few details about <sb>, just before they take part in an event □ I'd like to introduce my next guest tonight. -3. to bring an animal or plant to a place so that it becomes part of the environment □ This species was introduced into Britain by the Romans. -4. [law, method, change] to make <sthg> so that it becomes part of a system □ They're planning to introduce an airport tax. □ Modern business practices are gradually being introduced into the country. -5. to introduce sb to sthg [to a subject, idea] to cause sb to experience sthg for the first time □ In Japan I was introduced to the delights of sushi. □ This introduced a period of conflict that lasted several years. -6. RADIO & TV [show, movie] to talk to the audience at the beginning of and during a program to tell them what it is about □ The "Tonight" show is introduced by Ron Miller.

introduction [ɪn'trə'dʌkʃn] n -1. an introduction to sthg [to music, food, art] a first experience of sthg □ That job was my first introduction to banking. -2. [to a book, lecture] the words at the beginning of something that say what it is about. -3. [to a subject] a book that gives the basic facts about a subject □ "An Introduc- tion to Physics." -4. [to a person, of a law, method] the act of introducing somebody or something □ He was hoping for an introduction to the ambassador. □ Our guest tonight needs no introduction. □ Several jobs will be lost after the introduction of new technology.

introductory [ɪn'trə'dʌktəri] adj [course, remark, chapter] that is intended to introduce people to something □ an introductory offer.

introspective [ɪn'trə'spektɪv] adj [person] who tends to spend a lot of time thinking about their own feelings and ideas.

introvert [ɪn'trəvɜ:'t] n an introverted person.

introverted [ɪn'trəvɜ:'təd] adj [person] who thinks a lot about themselves and finds it hard to talk to other people □ She had always been the more introverted of the two sisters.

intrude [ɪn'tru:d] vi -1. [person] to disturb somebody by entering a place or situation where one is not wanted or should not be □ I hope I'm not intruding. □ He complained that the press was intruding into his family life. -2. [noise, smell, feeling] to have an unwelcome effect on something □ A voice intruded on my thoughts. □ Work was beginning to intrude on his private life.

intruder [ɪn'tru:də] n a person who enters a place illegally, usually in order to steal things.

intrusion [ɪn'tru:zɪn] n: see intrude □ I resent these intrusions on our privacy.

intrusive [ɪn'tru:sɪv] adj [person, noise] that intrudes □ intrusive methods of journalism.

intuition [ɪn'tju:'ʃn] n the ability to know or feel that something is true even though it cannot be explained or proved; a sudden feeling that something is true that is caused by this ability □ female intuition □ I had a sudden intuition that something was wrong.

intuitive [ɪn'tju:ətɪv] adj [feeling, understanding] that shows intuition; [artist, writer, tennis player] who is able to use their intuition well □ She's a very intuitive player.

Inuit [ɪnʊɪt] ◇ n a member of a Native American people living in northern Canada, Alaska, and Greenland; the language of this people. ◇ adj: an Inuit custom.

inundate [ɪnʌndeɪt] vt -1. [village, plain] to flood <an area of land> (formal use). -2. to be inundated with sthg [with messages, offers, requests] to receive a lot of sthg in a short time, with the result that it is difficult to deal with □ Our office has been inundated with calls/mail.

inured [ɪn'juəd] adj to be inured to sthg [to violence, pain] to be used to sthg unpleasant □ As a doctor you get inured to the sight of blood.

invade [ɪn'veɪd] vt -1. MILITARY [army, troops] to enter <an area> using military force with the intention of taking control of it □ France was invaded by Germany. -2. [tourists, insects, fans] to enter  in great numbers and fill it □ Each year thousands of visitors invade our shores. -3. to invade sb's privacy/peace to arrive suddenly and stop sb from having any privacy/peace.

invader [ɪn'veɪdə] n a country, army, or person that invades a place □ Viking invaders.

invading [ɪn'veɪdɪŋ] adj MILITARY [troops, tanks] that are invading a country or city □ an invading army.

invalid [adj ɪn'væləd, n & vb ɪn'vəlɪd] ◇ adj -1. [election, ticket, document] that cannot be used because it is not legal or correct □ Their marriage was pronounced invalid. -2. [result, theory, argument] that is not correct because it is based on a mistake □ The results were declared invalid and recounted. ◇ n a person who is permanently ill or disabled □ He has an invalid mother.

◆ invalid out vt sep to be invalidated out of the army/navy/air force GB to be allowed to leave the army/navy/air force because of illness or injury.

invalidate [ɪn'vælədeɪt] vt -1. [result, theory, claim] to show that <sthg> is not true or correct □ The theory has been invalidated by more recent research. -2. [election, marriage] to stop <sthg> from being legal or correct □ Illegible applications will be automatically invalidated.

invaluable [ɪn'væljuəbl] adj [experience, information, help] very useful □ She has been invaluable to the company for many years.

invariable [ɪn'veəriəbl] adj [quantity, number, routine] that never changes.

invariably [ɪn'veəriəblɪ] adv a word used to say that something always happens □ Invariably, he was right/late.

invasion [ɪn'veɪzən] n: see invade □ the annual tourist invasion □ The attention of the press constitutes an invasion of my privacy.

invective [ɪn'vektɪv] n rude and insulting words used to attack somebody □ a stream of invective □ racist invective.

inveigle [ɪn'veɪgl] vt to inveigle sb into doing sthg to persuade sb to do sthg in a clever or subtle way (formal use).

invent [ɪn'vent] vt -1. [machine, method, word] to think of and create <sthg new> □ The first radar device was invented in Britain. -2. [excuse, reason, story] to think of and tell somebody <sthg that is not true> □ The figures were invented to disguise huge losses on the open market.

invention [ɪn'venʃn] n -1. something that has been invented □ He was unable to sell his invention. -2. [of a machine, method, word] see invent □ the invention of the steam engine. -3. the ability to invent things □ It tested her powers of invention to the limit. -4. an excuse, reason etc that is not true □ His story turned out to be a complete invention.

inventive [ɪn'ventɪv] adj [person] who is good at finding new and better ways of doing something □ a highly inventive solution □ He's an extremely inventive musician.

inventor [ɪn'ventə] n a person who invents things.

inventory [US ɪn'ventɔ:ri, GB -trɪ] (pl inventories) n -1. a detailed list of the goods, equipment etc that can be found in a particular place. -2. US BUSINESS the total amount of goods available for sale by a business.

inventory control n a system of checking the amount of goods, equipment etc held by an organization.

inverse [ɪn'vɜ:rs] ◇ adj to increase in inverse proportion OR relation to sthg to increase by the same amount as sthg decreases □ There is an inverse relationship between the amount of money people spend and the amount they save. ◇ n the inverse the opposite of something (formal use) □ In fact, the inverse is true.

invert [ɪn'vɜ:t] vt [cup, chair] to turn <sthg> upside down or back to front (formal use) □ an inverted triangle □ The order of the words needs to be inverted.

invertebrate [ɪn'vɜ:tɪbrət] n one of a group of animals, including insects and worms, that have no backbone.

inverted commas [ɪn'vɜ:təd-] npl GB the marks (" ' or " ") used in writing to show where the exact words that somebody said or wrote begin and end.

inverted snob [ɪn'vɜ:təd-] n GB a person who says that they admire lower-class things or people and dislike upper-class things or people.

invest [ɪn'vest] ◇ vt -1. FINANCE [savings, capital] to put <money> into a bank account, business, stocks etc in order to make a profit □ He invested $5,000 in a property company. -2. to use  in order to achieve something □ He invested all his hopes in this project. -3. to invest sb with sthg [with an authority, power] to give sb sthg formally. ◇ vi -1. to invest money in something □ Hansen has invested heavily in government bonds. -2. to invest in sthg to buy sthg useful that will last a long time □ You'd better invest in a new watch.

investigate [ɪn'vestɪgeɪt] ◇ vt [suspect, situation, crime] to try to find out information about <sb/sthg> □ Police are investigating the causes of the accident. ◇ vi [police, doctor, expert] Investigating magistrates now wish to interview the company's finance director.

investigation [ɪn'vestɪ'geɪʃn] n -1. an investigation into sthg [into allegations, activities, a crime] an official examination of sthg □ a police investigation. -2. the process of trying to find out information □ Some of his activities require further investigation.

investigative [US ɪn'vestə'geɪtɪv, GB -ɪgə'tɪv] adj an investigative journalist/reporter a journalist/reporter who tries to discover the truth about important issues □ investigative journalism.

investigator [ɪn'vestɪgeɪtə] n a person whose job is to find out information about something, e.g. a crime or accident □ an insurance investigator.

investiture [ɪn'vestətʃə] n [of a mayor, archbishop] an official ceremony in which somebody is given an important job or position.

investment [ɪn'vestmənt] n -1. [of savings, capital] see invest □ The railroad network desperately needs investment. -2. an amount of money invested in something □ The company offers you a good return on your investment. -3. FINANCE the stocks, shares etc in which money is invested □ The company has investments all over the world. -4. [for the future] something bought in order to make a profit □ When house prices went up, this cottage turned out to be a good investment. -5. [of time, energy] the amount of time, energy etc spent on something □ a huge personal investment.

investment analyst n a person who says how much money investments are likely to be worth by looking carefully at the activities of different companies.

investment bank n US a bank that organizes the sale of shares in new companies.

investment trust n a limited company that buys and sells shares in other companies in order to make a profit for the people investing in it.

investor [ɪn'vestə] n a person who invests money □ The government is trying to lure foreign investors into the region. □ a small investor.

inveterate [ɪn'vetəreɪt] adj -1. an inveterate dislike/hatred etc dislike/hatred etc that is unlikely to change □ an inveterate dislike of parties. -2. an inveterate liar/gambler etc a person who is unlikely to stop lying/gambling etc.

invidious [ɪn'vɪdiəs] adj [task, duty, position] that is unpleasant for one to have or do because it is likely to make other people jealous or angry.

invigilate [ɪn'vɪdʒəleɪt] ◇ vt GB to observe <an exam> to stop people from cheating. ◇ vi: Mr Harris will be invigilating.

invigilator [ɪn'vɪdʒəleɪtə] n GB a person who invigilates.

invigorating [ɪn'vɪgəreɪtɪŋ] adj [air, walk, swim] that makes one feel fresh and full of energy □ an invigorating shower.

invincible [ɪn'vɪnsəbl] adj [army, champion, record] that cannot be beaten □ No one is invincible.

inviolate [ɪn'vɪəleɪt] adj [reputation, happiness] that cannot be threatened or harmed in any way (literary use).

invisible [ɪn'vɪzəbl] adj that cannot be seen □ It was so small as to be almost invisible.

invisible assets npl things of value that belong to a company but are not physical objects, e.g. the right to make and sell a certain product.

invisible earnings npl foreign money earned by a country from investments or services but not from selling goods.

invisible ink n a liquid used for writing that cannot be seen until it is heated, treated with a chemical, or looked at under a special light.

invitation [ˌɪnvi'teɪʃn] n -1. [to a dinner, party, wedding] a spoken or written offer to somebody to go to a place for a particular purpose or activity □ I refused his invitation. □ 'By invitation only' □ a wedding invitation □ I received an invitation to the ball. -2. an invitation to sthg a situation, action etc that encourages somebody to do sthg □ Prison conditions are an (open) invitation to violence.

invite [ɪn'vaɪt] vt -1. [person] to ask <sb> to come, especially to a social event □ There's a party tonight and you're all invited! □ He invited us in for coffee/out for dinner/over for drinks. □ We've been invited to their wedding. -2. to invite sb to do sthg to ask sb politely to do sthg □ You are invited to attend an interview. □ I will invite the audience to ask questions at the end of the lecture. -3. [comments, suggestions, questions] to ask people to give or make <sthg> □ Offers/Donations are invited. -4. [trouble, gossip, criticism] to make <sthg> likely to happen □ Her technique invites comparison with the late Maria Callas.

inviting [ɪn'vaɪtɪŋ] adj [offer, food, smell] attractive □ He held out the inviting prospect of a two-week Caribbean cruise.

in vitro fertilization [ɪn'vɪtʀou-] n the process of making a human egg develop outside the body using special equipment.

invoice [ɪn'vɔɪs] ◇ n a piece of paper showing goods or services that have been provided and the amount of money that has to be paid for them □ Have we received their invoice yet? ◇ vt to give or send an invoice to ; to write an invoice for <goods or a service> □ We invoiced you for the goods on June 8. □ Has that last consignment been invoiced?

invoke [ɪn'vəʊk] vt -1. [law, act, right] to use <sthg> as a reason for doing something (formal use). -2. [grief, enthusiasm] to cause somebody to have  □ The case has invoked a great deal of public sympathy.

involuntary [US ɪn'vɒləntəri, GB -əri] adj [movement, shudder, gasp] that one makes without a conscious effort.

involve [ɪn'vɒlv] vt -1. [work, study, traveling] to have <sthg> as a necessary part □ The job involves overseas travel/visiting clients. -2. to affect <sb/sthg> directly □ We looked at several cases involving young children. -3. to involve sb in sthg [in a plan, argument, problem] to arrange for sb to take part in sthg □ I'd like to involve you more in dealing with clients.

involved [ɪn'vɒlvd] adj -1. to be involved in sthg [in politics, research] to take part in sthg □ He was involved in secret talks with opposition leaders. ■ to be involved in a fight/an accident etc to be in a fight/an accident etc □ He was involved in a financial scandal. -2. [explanation, story] that is complicated □ The story is very long and involved. -3. to be involved with sb to have a close relationship with sb, especially a sexual one □ I don't want to get emotionally involved. -4. to be involved to be a necessary part of a process, job etc □ The amount of work involved is enormous.

involvement [ɪn'vɒlvmənt] n -1. [in politics, a fight, scandal] see involved □ Morris denied any involvement in the affair. -2. a desire or willingness to give a lot of enthusiasm and effort to something □ Thanks to your involvement we finished the project on time.

invulnerable [ɪnˈvʌlnərəbl] adj to be invulnerable [machine, weapon, person] to be impossible to harm □ He felt invulnerable.

inward [ɪnˈwɜːd] ◇ adj -1. [thoughts, feelings] that one feels but does not show to other people □ He had an inward sense of failure. -2. [flow, movement] toward the inside of a room, building etc. ◇ adv to turn/open inward to turn/open toward the inside of a room, building etc □ The door opens inward.

inward investment n money that is invested in a town, country, company etc by investors from outside.

inwardly [ɪnˈwɜːdli] adv a word used to say that one feels something without showing it to other people □ Inwardly, she was angry/pleased.

inwards [ɪnˈwɜːdz] adv = inward.

I/O abbr of input/output.

IOC (abbr of International Olympic Committee) n the IOC the international body responsible for organizing the Olympic Games.

iodine [US ˈaɪədaɪn, GB -diːn] n a chemical used in medicine to kill germs □ Paint the wound with iodine.

ion [ˈaɪən] n PHYSICS an atom that is electrically charged.

iota [aɪˈoʊtə] n a very small amount of something □ There's not one iota of truth in the story.

IOU (abbr of I owe you) n a document that a person has signed and that states that they owe a particular person a particular amount of money □ an IOU for $100.

IOW abbr of Isle of Wight.

Iowa [ˈaɪəwə] a state in the Midwest of the USA, consisting mainly of farmland. ABBREVIATION: IA. SIZE: 146,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,776,755 (Iowans). CAPITAL: Des Moines.

IPA (abbr of International Phonetic Alphabet) n the IPA a system of symbols that represent the sounds people make when they say words.

IQ (abbr of intelligence quotient) n a measure of somebody's intelligence, calculated using a special test □ She has a high IQ/an IQ of 110.

IRA n -1. (abbr of Irish Republican Army) the IRA an illegal organization whose aim is to make Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland into one country. -2. (abbr of individual retirement account) a personal pension plan for people who live in the USA.

Iran [ɪˈrɑːn] a country in southwestern Asia, between the Caspian Sea and the Persian Gulf. In the 1970s it became an Islamic fundamentalist state. SIZE: 1,650,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 62,800,000 (Iranians). CAPITAL: Tehran. LANGUAGE: Farsi. CURRENCY: rial. OLD NAME: Persia.

Iran-Contra Affair n the Iran-Contra Affair a political scandal that happened during the presidency of Ronald Reagan. The President was accused of selling arms to Iran to have US hostages released, and giving the money to right-wing groups in Nicaragua.

Irangate [ɪˈrɑːngeɪt] n = Iran-Contra Affair.

Iranian [ɪˈreɪnjən] n & adj: see Iran.

Iraq [ɪˈrɑːk] a country in southwestern Asia, between Arabia and Iran. In 1990 it invaded Kuwait, which led to the Gulf War. SIZE: 434,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 17,100,000 (Iraqis). CAPITAL: Baghdad. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Iraqi dinar.

Iraqi [ɪˈrɑːki] n & adj: see Iraq.

irascible [ɪˈræsəbl] adj [person] who gets angry easily (formal use).

irate [aɪˈreɪt] adj [person, letter] very angry □ He got very irate about it. □ an irate phone call.

Ireland [ˈaɪəˈlænd] -1. GEOGRAPHY an island in northwestern Europe in the Atlantic Ocean, west of Great Britain, consisting of the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland. -2. POLITICS = Irish Republic.

iridescent [ɪˈrɪdesnt] adj [color, feather, fish] that shows different bright colors when light shines on it (literary use).

iris [ˈaɪrɪs] (pl irises) n -1. a tall purple or yellow flower with long pointed leaves that often grows near water. -2. ANATOMY the colored part of one's eye.

Irish [ˈaɪrɪʃ] ◇ npl the Irish the people of Ireland. ◇ n the Gaelic language spoken in Ireland. ◇ adj: see Ireland □ an Irish accent.

Irish coffee n coffee with cream and whiskey added.

Irishman [ˈaɪrɪʃmən] (pl Irishmen [-mən]) n a man who comes from or lives in Ireland.

Irish Republic: the Irish Republic a country covering all the island of Ireland except the northeastern part. SIZE: 70,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,500,000 (Irish). CAPITAL: Dublin. LANGUAGE: English, Irish.

Irish Sea: the Irish Sea the part of the Atlantic Ocean between Great Britain and Ireland.

Irish setter n a dog that has a slim body and a coat of long, smooth, red-brown hair.

Irish stew n a dish that consists of meat cooked with potatoes, onions, and carrots.

Irish wolfhound [-ˈwʊlfhaʊnd] n a large dog that has a slim body, small ears, and a thick gray coat.

Irishwoman [ˈaɪrɪʃwʊmən] (pl Irishwomen) n a woman who comes from or lives in Ireland.

irk [ɜːˈk] vt to annoy <sb>.

irksome [ɜːˈksəm] adj [task, duty, responsibility] annoying.

IRN (abbr of Independent Radio News) n a company that produces news programs for commercial radio stations in Britain.

IRO (abbr of International Refugee Organization) n the IRO a US organization that gives help to refugees.

iron [ˈaɪərn] ◇ n -1. a very hard metal used to make steel. SYMBOL: Fe □ vast iron ore deposits. -2. [for clothes] an electrical appliance with a flat base, a point at one end, and a handle on top, that is moved over clothes to make them smooth before they are worn □ an electric/a steam iron. -3. SPORT a special stick with a piece of shaped iron on the end, used for hitting a ball in golf □ an 8 iron.

◇ adj -1. [bridge, bar, railing] made of iron □ a pair of huge iron gates. -2. [will, discipline] very strong □ I was very impressed by her iron self-discipline. ■ an Iron Man/Woman contest in the USA and Australia, a sporting event that takes place at a beach, including swimming, surfing, and running contests.

◇ vt [shirt, sheet, trousers] to make  smooth by moving an iron across it □ My shirt needs ironing.

◆ iron out vt sep to iron problems/differences out to solve problems/differences, especially when these are small □ They'll give me the contract once we've ironed out the details.

Iron Age n the Iron Age the time, about 3,000 years ago, when people began to use iron to make tools and weapons □ an Iron Age site/arrowhead.

Iron Curtain n the Iron Curtain a phrase used to refer to the border between the Communist countries of Eastern Europe and the rest of Europe during the Cold War.

ironic(al) [aɪˈrɒnɪk(l)] adj -1. [remark, smile, laugh] that shows that one means the opposite of what one has said □ an ironic tone of voice. -2. [situation, outcome, result] that is the opposite of what one would expect, especially in a strange or amusing way □ How ironic that it should finish like this!

ironically [aɪˈrɒnɪkli] adv -1. a word used to show that something is not what one would expect, especially in a strange or amusing way □ Ironically enough, his wife was having an affair at the same time as he was. -2. [remark, smile, laugh] see ironic.

ironing [ˈaɪəˈnɪŋ] n -1. the activity of making clothes, sheets etc smooth by moving an iron over them □ Let him do the ironing for once! -2. the clothes, sheets etc that need to be ironed or that have just been ironed.

ironing board n narrow table with a soft cover and folding legs on which one irons clothes.

Iron Lady: the Iron Lady a nickname for Margaret Thatcher.

iron lung n a large metal device used in the past by doctors to help paralyzed patients breathe.

ironmonger [ˈaɪəˈnɪŋɡə] n GB a person who sells metal tools, locks etc. ■ an ironmonger's the store where an ironmonger works.

ironworks [ˈaɪəˈnɜːks] (pl ironworks) n a factory in which iron is prepared and shaped.

irony [ˈaɪrəni] (pl ironies) n -1. the use of words to express the opposite of what they usually mean in order to be humorous or show annoyance □ There was irony in her voice. -2. an element of a situation, story etc that is the opposite of what one would expect, especially in a strange or amusing way □ The irony is that it might be true.

Iroquois [ˈɪrəkwɔɪ] n a member of a Native American people who now live in Quebec and New York State; the language of this people.

irradiate [ˈɪreɪdiət] vt -1. MEDICINE [tumor] to treat <sth> with radiation. -2. [fruit, vegetables] to treat <food> with radiation to make it last longer by killing bacteria.

irrational [ˈɪræʃnəl] adj [person, behavior, decision] that shows no logic and seems strange or unreasonable □ an irrational fear.

irreconcilable [ˌɪrɛkənˈsaɪləbl̩] adj [views, opinions] that cannot be made to agree □ The differences between the two sides now seemed irreconcilable.

irredeemable [ˌɪrɪˈdiːməbl̩] adj [loss, disaster, failure] that cannot be changed or made less extreme (formal use).

irrefutable [ˌɪrɪˈfjuːtəbl̩] adj [evidence, argument, proof] that cannot be shown to be false (formal use).

irregular [ˈɪrɛgjələ] adj -1. [shape, surface, features] that is not smooth, even, or regular in pattern □ an irregular-shaped room. -2. [work, income] that is not continuous and secure; [intervals, hours] that are not always the same □ They pay me more because I have to work irregular hours. -3. [procedure, behavior] that does not obey the usual rules (formal use) □ I don't think I should allow this, it is highly irregular. -4. GRAMMAR [verb, noun] that does not follow the normal pattern.

irregularity [ˌɪrɛgjələˈrɪtɪ] (pl irregularities) n -1. [in accounts, papers] something that does not obey the usual rules and so is not acceptable □ The company was cleared of financial irregularities. -2. [of a shape, work, hours] see irregular.

irregularly [ˌɪrɛgjələˈli] adv [work, eat, breathe] at irregular intervals □ I get paid irregularly. □ an irregularly shaped room.

irrelevance [ˈɪrɪləvəns], irrelevancy [ˈɪrɪləv-ənsɪ] (pl irrelevancies) n -1. see irrelevant. -2. something irrelevant □ Don't waste your time on irrelevancies.

irrelevant [ˈɪrɪləvənt] adj [information, comment] that is not connected with the subject being discussed and so is not useful □ What he says is irrelevant; it's what he does that matters.

irreligious [ˌɪrɪˈlɪdʒəs] adj [person, attitude] that does not accept or have respect for religious beliefs.

irremediable [ˌɪrɪˈmiːdjəbl̩] adj [damage, situation] that cannot be put right (formal use).

irreparable [ˈɪrɪpərəbl̩] adj [damage, harm] that cannot be put right.

irreplaceable [ˌɪrɪˈpleɪsəbl̩] adj [jewelry, vase] that is so special that it cannot be replaced; [person] who is so well loved or good at their job that nobody else can replace them.

irrepressible [ˌɪrɪˈpresəbl̩] adj [person] who is always cheerful and lively □ His enthusiasm is irrepressible.

irreproachable [ˌɪrɪˈprəʊtʃəbl̩] adj [character, conduct] that cannot be criticized because it is so good.

irresistible [ˌɪrɪˈzɪstəbl̩] adj -1. [person, charm] very attractive. -2. [desire, pressure] that is extremely strong or too strong to fight against □ Ralph felt an irresistible urge to start giggling. □ There is now irresistible public demand for reform.

irresolute [ˈrezələʊt] adj. [person] who finds it hard to make decisions or take action (formal use).

irrespective [ˌɪrɪˈspektɪv] ♦ irrespective of prep [age, creed, sex] without <sthg> being taken into account □ We believe that everyone, irrespective of their financial status, has the right to a decent education.

irresponsible [ˌɪrɪˈspɒnsəbl] adj [person, behavior] that shows a lack of concern for other people and might put them in danger □ It's irresponsible to let young kids go out alone at night.

irretrievable [ˌɪrɪˈtri:vəbl] adj -1. [loss, harm, situation] that is so bad that it cannot be put right. -2. [data, object] that has been lost and so cannot be used again.

irreverent [ɪˈrevrənt] adj [person, comment, humor] that shows little or no respect for important people or things □ an irreverent sense of humor.

irreversible [ˌɪrɪˈvɜːsəbl] adj [judgment, decision] that cannot be changed; [change, damage] that cannot be removed and so has a permanent effect □ The operation is irreversible.

irrevocable [ɪˈrevəkəbl] adj [decision, commitment] that cannot be changed □ They have taken the first irrevocable step toward peace/war.

irrigate [ˈɪrɪgeɪt] vt [field] to supply <an area of land> with water from specially made ditches so that crops can be grown; [wheat, bushes] to supply water for <crops> in this way.

irrigation [ˌɪrɪˈgeɪʃn] n the act of irrigating land or crops; a system that does this □ an irrigation canal/system.

irritable [ˈɪrətəbl] adj [person] who is easily annoyed; [voice, reply] that shows irritation □ He's been very irritable lately.

irritant [ˈɪrətənt] n -1. something that causes irritation □ The continuous noise of traffic is an added irritant. -2. a substance that irritates the skin, eyes etc.

irritate [ˈɪrɪteɪt] vt -1. [person] to make <sb> annoyed, especially over a long period of time □ What irritates me most is the way she seems to look down on me. -2. [skin, eye, bowel] to make <part of one's body> painful □ The smoke irritated her throat.

irritated [ˈɪrɪteɪtəd] adj -1. [person] annoyed □ I get very irritated with people who talk while I'm speaking. -2. [skin, eye] painful and red.

irritating [ˈɪrɪteɪtɪŋ] adj -1. [person, habit, noise] that irritates other people □ It's irritating when people don't put things back where they belong. -2. [substance, material] that makes one's skin, eyes etc painful and red.

irritation [ˌɪrɪˈteɪʃn] n -1. a feeling of annoyance and impatience; something that causes this feeling □ I found to my irritation that there was none left. □ Hudson is likely to prove an irritation to the URP at the next election. -2. pain and redness of one's skin, eyes etc.

IRS (abbr of Internal Revenue Service) n the IRS the US government department responsible for collecting taxes.

Irving [ˈɜːrvɪŋ], Washington (1783–1859) a US writer who is famous for his short stories. They include Rip Van Winkle and The Legend of Sleepy Hollow.

is [ɪz] vb → be.

Isaiah [US aɪˈzeɪə, GB -ˈzaɪə] in the Bible, one of the leading Hebrew prophets.

ISBN (abbr of International Standard Book Number) n an identification number that is printed on all published books. Each book has its own number.

ISDN (abbr of integrated services digital network) n a digital communications network that allows data to be sent from one computer to another by video or voice.

Islam [ˈɪzlɑːm] n the religion of the Muslims that is based on the teachings of Muhammad, and has the Koran as its holy book.

Islamic [ɪzˈlæmɪk] adj [fundamentalist, country, law] that follows Islam.

island [ˈaɪlənd] n -1. GEOGRAPHY a piece of land that is completely surrounded by water □ the island of Corfu □ a tropical island. -2. TRANSPORT = traffic island.

islander [ˈaɪləndə] n a person who lives on an island.

isle [aɪl] n -1. a word used to refer to an island as part of its name □ the Western Isles. -2. an island (literary use).

Isle of Man: the Isle of Man a British island in the Irish Sea that has its own government and laws. Some British people keep their money there because the taxes are lower than on the mainland of Britain. SIZE: 570 sq kms. POPULATION: 64,000 (Manx). CAPITAL: Douglas. LANGUAGE: English, Manx. CURRENCY: pound sterling.

Isle of Wight [-ˈwaɪt]: the Isle of Wight an English county consisting of an island in the English Channel.

isn't [ˈɪznt] = is not.

isobar [ˈaɪsəbɑːr] n a line on a map that joins two areas with the same air pressure.

isolate [ˈaɪsəleɪt] vt -1. [person] to keep <sb> apart from other people □ His lack of English isolated him from the rest of the group. -2. MEDICINE [patient, dog] to keep  apart from others so that they do not pass on a disease. -3. CHEMISTRY [bacteria, gene] to find and separate <sthg> from something else in order to use or examine it.

isolated [ˈaɪsəleɪtəd] adj -1. [area, cottage, village] that is a long way from other places □ Deep snow has made it impossible to reach isolated farmhouses. -2. [person] who is lonely and has no contact with other people □ She felt very isolated and alone. -3. [example, incident, case] that happens only once and is not typical □ a few isolated protests/showers.

isolation [ˌaɪsəˈleɪʃn] n: see isolate □ I experienced an overwhelming feeling of isolation. □ 40 days of isolation. ■ in isolation [live, work] separately from other people; [happen, exist] separately from other things □ The patients were kept in isolation while tests were carried out. □ The problem should not be considered in isolation.

isolationism [ˌaɪsəˈleɪʃənɪzəm] n a political policy in which a country does not take part in the affairs of other countries.

isosceles triangle [aɪˈsɒsələɪz-] n a triangle that has two sides of the same length.

isotope [ˈaɪsətoʊp] n any of at least two atoms that are of the same chemical type but have a different number of neutrons.

Israel [US ˈɪzriəl, GB ˈɪzreɪl] a country in the Middle East, on the Mediterranean Sea between Syria, Egypt, Jordan, and Lebanon, that was set up as a Jewish state in 1948. Tension with Palestinian groups and neighboring Arab countries has led to several wars in the region. SIZE: 21,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,100,000 (Israelis). CAPITAL: Jerusalem. LANGUAGE: Hebrew, Arabic. CURRENCY: shekel.

Israeli [ˈɪzreɪli] n & adj: see Israel.

issue [ˈɪʃuː] ◇ n -1. an important subject that often causes disagreement □ These are important political/social issues. □ A key issue in the debate will be the government's record on health-care. ■ at issue [point, question] that is being discussed because it is important □ What's at issue is the whole future of the Middle East. ■ to make an issue of sthg to treat sthg as important so that other people pay a lot of attention to it. -2. MEDIA a particular edition of a magazine, newspaper etc that is printed regularly □ 'Free with this week's issue.' -3. [of money, shares] a number of new banknotes, stamps, shares etc that are supplied or sold at the same time □ a new share issue.

◇ vt -1. [statement, warning, order] to make <sthg> known officially □ The police have issued a description of the attacker. -2. [stamp, banknote, shares] to make <sthg> available, e.g. to the public. -3. [passport, document, uniform] to provide <sthg> officially □ The Norwegians won't issue her a new visa. □ We will be issuing a number to each candidate.

◇ vi to issue from a place [voice, sound, smoke] to come out of a place (formal use).

Istanbul [ˌɪstænˈbʊl] a city in northwestern Turkey, on the Bosphorus. It is Turkey's largest city and its main port. POPULATION: 6,620,241. OLD NAME: Constantinople.

ISTC (abbr of Iron and Steel Trades Confederation) n the ISTC a British labor union for metalworkers.

isthmus [ˈɪsməs] n a narrow piece of land with water on each side that joins two much larger pieces of land.

it [ɪt] pron -1. the thing that has just been mentioned, seen etc; the baby or animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc (used as the subject or object of a verb, or after prepositions) □ "Did you enjoy your meal?" — "It was OK." □ The house is small, but it's comfortable. □ Is it a boy or a girl? □ Take a casserole dish and arrange the vegetables in it. -2. used to show how one feels about a situation or fact □ Cheer up, it's not that bad! □ It's a waste of time arguing with him. -3. used to refer to the time, date, or weather □ It's still raining. □ It's half past five. □ "What's the date today?" — "It's Friday, June 12." -4. used to emphasize part of a sentence □ It's Philip I'm really worried about, not her. -5. used to identify who is present, or talking on the telephone □ Hello, it's me, Mary! □ Who is it on the phone? ■ what is it? what is the problem?

IT n abbr of information technology.

Italian [ɪˈtæljən] n & adj: see Italy.

italic [ɪˈtælk] adj [lettering, script] that slopes to the right, and is usually used to make a particular word or phrase stand out in a printed text.

◆ italics npl italic letters □ This example is in italics.

Italy [ɪˈtəli] a country in southern Europe, consisting of a long peninsula in the Mediterranean Sea and the islands of Sicily and Sardinia. SIZE: 301,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 57,700,000 (Italians). CAPITAL: Rome. LANGUAGE: Italian. CURRENCY: lira.

ITC (abbr of Independent Television Commission) n the ITC the organization that gives broadcasting licences to British commercial television companies.

itch [ɪtʃ] ◇ n a feeling of slight discomfort or irritation on the skin that makes one want to scratch it □ I've got an itch on my leg. ◇ vi -1. [arm, rash] to cause an itch; [person] to feel an itch □ My legs are itching. □ I'm itching all over. -2. to be itching to do sthg to be impatient to do sthg □ Go on, I know you're itching to tell me.

itchy [ˈɪtʃi] (compar itchier, superl itchiest) adj that causes one to itch □ This sweater is itchy.

it'd [ɪˈtəd] = it would, it had.

item [ˈaɪtəm] n -1. one of the things on a list or in a group of things □ The first item on today's agenda is the advertising budget. □ an item of clothing. -2. an article in a newspaper or magazine □ There's an item about it in the local paper.

itemize, -ise [ˈaɪtəmaɪz] vt [goods, contents] to make a list of <things>.

itemized bill [ˈaɪtəmaɪzd] n a bill that lists all the items that make up the total, rather than just showing the total.

itinerant [ɪˈtɪnərənt] adj an itinerant worker/preacher etc a worker/preacher etc who travels around and works for short periods in different places.

itinerary [US aɪˈtɪnərəri, GB -rəri] (pl itineraries) n a plan of a journey with a list of the places that will be visited □ A full itinerary will be sent to you nearer the date of departure.

it'll [ɪtɪl] = it will.

ITN (abbr of Independent Television News) n a company that produces news programs for ITV.

its [ɪts] det -1. that belongs to or is connected with the thing or place that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ The house and all its contents were sold. □ The committee will prod- uce its report next month. -2. that belongs to or is connected with a child or animal that has just been mentioned, seen etc □ The baby had dropped its toy.

it's [Its] = it is, it has.

itself [It'self] pron -1. used as the object of a verb to refer to the same animal or thing as the subject of the verb; used after a preposition □ The committee has given itself two months to prepare its final recommendations. □ The oven switches off by itself. -2. used to emphasize "it", or the name of an animal or thing that is the subject or object of a verb □ The surrounding countryside is pretty, and the town itself has many interesting old buildings. ■ in itself if one thinks about the particular situation only □ The island has very little night life, though this in itself is not a disadvantage.

ITV (abbr of Independent Television) n a system of regional commercial television companies forming one national broadcasting channel in Britain.

IUD n abbr of intrauterine device.

IV adj abbr of intravenous.

I've [aɪv] = I have.

IVF n abbr of in vitro fertilization.

ivory ['aɪvəri] ◇ n the hard white substance that elephants' tusks are made of □ an ivory carving/ring. ◇ adj of the color of ivory.

ivory tower n to live in an ivory tower to refuse to face the problems and unpleasant aspects of everyday life.

ivy ['aɪvi] n an evergreen plant with dark-green shiny leaves that grows up walls and trees.

Ivy League n the Ivy League a group of eight important US universities. They are located in the northeast and are very highly respected □ an Ivy League college/education.

🍷 IVY LEAGUE

The term Ivy League is used in the USA to refer to Dartmouth College and the universities of Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, and Yale. They are among the oldest universities in the USA (the name refers to the ivy growing on the walls of the old buildings). An Ivy League diploma is a recognized sign of success.

J

j [dʒeɪ] (pl j's OR js), J [dʒeɪ] (pl J's OR Js) n the tenth letter of the English alphabet.

J/A abbr of joint account.

jab [dʒæb] (pt & pp jabbed, cont jabbing) ◇ n

-1. a sudden forceful push □ He gave her a jab in the ribs. -2. GB an injection (informal use). ◇ vt to jab sthg into sb/sthg [finger, knife] to push sthg into sb/sthg with a short, quick, forceful movement □ The nurse jabbed the needle into my arm. ■ to jab one's finger at sb to make short, quick, forceful movements with one's finger in the direction of sb. ◇ vi to jab at sb/sthg to hit sb/sthg with short, quick, forceful blows □ "That's where we are," she said, jabbing at the map with her pencil.

jabber ['dʒæbər] ◇ vt [apology, excuse] to say <sthg> quickly and unclearly, usually because one is excited. ◇ vi: He was jabbering away in some foreign language.

jack [dʒæk] n -1. a mechanical or hydraulic device for raising a heavy object such as a car off the ground. -2. a playing card with a picture of a young man on it that is below the queen in value and above the ten □ the jack of hearts. -3. ELECTRICITY an electric plug with a single pin.

◆ jack up vt sep -1. to jack a car up to raise a car off the ground with a jack. -2. to jack a price up to raise a price a lot □ They jack up their prices in the tourist season.

jackal ['dʒækəl] n a wild animal related to the dog that lives in Africa and Asia and often feeds on dead animals.

jackaroo [ˌdʒækəˈruː] n AUS a young male worker on a cattle or sheep farm who is training to be a farm manager.

🍷 JACKAROO

Most Australian sheep and cattle farms, or "stations", are very large, with many thousands of animals spread over thousands of square kilometers of land. Traditionally, jackaroos (and jillaroos, their female equivalent) used to spend many months of each year traveling around a station on horseback, gathering the animals on a station together. Now they do most of this work by helicopter and motorcycle.

jackdaw ['dʒækdəʊ] n a large black and gray bird of the crow family that is believed to like stealing bright objects.

jacket ['dʒækət] n -1. CLOTHING a short coat □ a denim/leather jacket. -2. [of a book] the paper cover of a book □ There's a picture of JFK on the jacket. -3. US [of a record] the envelope in which a record is kept.

jacket potato n GB a potato baked in its skin.

Jack Frost [ˌdʒækˈfɒst] an imaginary person, used as a symbol for frost or winter.

jackhammer ['dʒækhæmə] n US a type of drill that is worked by compressed air and is used to break up hard materials such as road surfaces.

jack-in-the-box n a children's toy that consists of a box with a doll inside that jumps out when the lid is opened.

jack knife n a knife with a blade that can be folded away into the handle.

◆ jack-knife vi [semitrailer] to go out of control and stop with the trailer at a sharp angle to the cab.

jack-of-all-trades (pl jacks-of-all-trades) n a person who can do many different types of work.

jack plug n GB ELECTRICITY = jack.

jackpot ['dʒækpɒt] n the biggest prize in a game, competition, or lottery.

Jack Russell (terrier) [-IASL-] n a small dog with short legs and a white coat with dark or pale markings.

Jackson ['dʒæksən], Andrew (1767–1845) a US soldier, who was President from 1829 to 1837. He is famous for defending New Orleans from the British in 1815.

Jackson, Stonewall (1824–1863) a Confederate general in the American Civil War.

Jack the Ripper a murderer who killed several prostitutes in the East End of London in the 19th century.

Jacob ['dʒeɪkəb] in the Bible, one of the grandchildren of Abraham. His twelve sons started the twelve tribes of Israel, the ancestors of the Jewish people.

Jacobean [,dʒækə'biən] adj that is connected with the period when James I was king of England (1603–1625).

Jacobite ['dʒækəbaɪt] n a supporter of James II of England after power was taken from him in 1688.

JacuzziTM [dʒə'ku:zɪ] n a bath or pool that has jets under the water that keep the water moving.

jade [dʒeɪd] ◇ n -1. a semiprecious stone, usually green, used for making jewelry and ornaments □ a jade ring. -2. the green color of jade. ◇ adj of the color of jade.

jaded ['dʒeɪdəd] adj [person] who is tired and unenthusiastic about something, especially because they have experienced it many times □ He used to enjoy presenting the program, but he seems so jaded nowadays.

jagged ['dʒæɡəd] adj [edge, outline, surface] that is rough and uneven with sharp points □ We climbed over the jagged rocks.

jaguar [US 'dʒæɡwɑːr, GB -jʊə] n a large wild cat with spotted fur, similar to the leopard, that lives in Central and South America.

jail [dʒeɪl] ◇ n a prison □ He was sent to jail. □ He spent 15 years in jail. ◇ vt to put <sb> in jail □ He was jailed for 15 years/for murder.

jailbird ['dʒeɪlbɜːd] n a person who is in prison, or who has been in prison (informal use).

jailbreak ['dʒeɪlbreɪk] n an escape from prison.

jailer ['dʒeɪlə] n a prison officer.

jam [dʒæm] (pt & pp jammed, cont jamming) ◇ n -1. a sweet food made of fruit boiled with sugar, usually kept in jars and spread on bread □ strawberry jam □ a jam sandwich. -2. a long line of vehicles on a road that cannot move forward, or which is moving very slowly □ We were stuck in a jam for over an hour. -3. to get into a jam to get into a difficult situation (informal use) □ Sue's got herself into another jam at work.

◇ vt -1. to jam sth on OR onto sth to push sth quickly and roughly on sth so that it stays in place □ He jammed the lid on firmly.

-2. [piece of machinery, door, window] to cause <sth> to stay fixed in one position □ Jam the window open. □ I jammed the brakes on.

-3. to be jammed [place] to be very full of people or things □ The streets were jammed with traffic/shoppers. -4. to jam a switchboard to stop a switchboard from working properly because there are too many telephone calls to it at one time □ The switchboards were jammed after the program. -5. RADIO to prevent  etc from being heard properly by broadcasting noise on the same wavelength □ The authorities have been jamming all our broadcasts.

◇ vi [machine, door] to get stuck □ The lever has jammed.

Jamaica [dʒə'meɪkə] a country in the Caribbean, south of Cuba. SIZE: 11,425 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,500,000 (Jamaicans). CAPITAL: Kingston. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Jamaican dollar.

Jamaican [dʒə'meɪkən] n & adj: see Jamaica.

jamb [dʒæm] n the side part of a door frame or window frame.

jamboree [,dʒæmbə'reɪ] n a large party or celebration.

James I [,dʒeɪmzðə'fɜːst] (1566–1625) King of England from 1603 to 1625, and King James VI of Scotland from 1567 to 1625.

James II [,dʒeɪmzðə'seknd] (1633–1701) King of England and Ireland from 1685 to 1688, and King of Scotland, as James VII. He became a Catholic, and had to give up his right to be king and live in exile.

James [dʒeɪmz], Henry (1843–1916) a US novelist who lived in England from 1869. He is well-known for his elegant style. His work includes The Portrait of a Lady and The Ambassadors.

James, Jesse (1847–1882) a US criminal who robbed banks and trains and had his own gang.

jam-packed adj to be jam-packed [street, room, suitcase] to be very full (informal use).

jam session n an informal performance of jazz or rock music that has not been planned.

Jan. abbr of January.

Jane Doe [,dʒeɪn'dou] a term used in US law for a woman whose name is not known, or which cannot be made public for legal reasons.

jangle ['dʒæŋɡl] ◇ n a ringing, unpleasant, metallic sound, e.g. of keys or pans being knocked together. ◇ vt [keys, pans, bells] to cause <sth> to make a jangling sound. ◇ vi [keys, pans, bells] I knew there was money in the bag because it jangled when I shook it.

janitor ['dʒænɪtə] n US & SCOT a person whose job is to take care of a building, e.g. an office or school.

January ['dʒænjʊəri] n the first month of the - year in the Western calendar; see also February.

- Japan [dʒə'pæn] a country in eastern Asia, consisting of four main islands (Hokkaido, Kyushu, Honshu, and Shikoku) and many smaller islands. SIZE: 373,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 124,800,000 (Japanese). CAPITAL: Tokyo. LANGUAGE: Japanese. CURRENCY: yen.
- Japanese [ˌdʒæpə'ni:z] (pl Japanese) \diamond npl the Japanese people who come from Japan. \diamond n the language spoken in Japan. \diamond adj: see Japan \square the Japanese economy.
- jar [dʒɑ:'r] (pt & pp jarred, cont jarring) \diamond n a glass container, usually with a lid that can be sealed, for keeping preserved food in, e.g. jam or honey \square a jam jar. \diamond vt to shake <sb/sthg> sharply \square I jarred my back when I jumped off the wall. \diamond vi -1. [noise, voice, accent] to be annoying or irritating \square His laugh began to jar on her. -2. [colors, opinions] to clash.
- jargon ['dʒɑ:rgən] n words and expressions that are used by particular groups of people, e.g. doctors and lawyers, and that are difficult for other people to understand \square computer/legal jargon.
- jarring ['dʒɑ:riŋ] adj [noise, sight, colors] that is unpleasant and irritating.
- Jarrow March [ˌdʒɑ:rou-] n the Jarrow March a demonstration in 1936, when many unemployed workers walked from Jarrow, in northeastern England, to London to protest about unemployment in their area.
- jasmine ['dʒæzmən] n a climbing plant with small yellow or white flowers that have a sweet smell.
- jaundice ['dʒɔ:ndəs] n an illness that makes the skin and the whites of the eyes turn yellow.
- jaundiced ['dʒɔ:ndəst] adj [view, opinion] pessimistic and cynical \square Oscar's been in the business so long he's got a jaundiced view of it.
- jaunt [dʒɔ:nt] n a trip that is taken for pleasure.
- jaunty ['dʒɔ:ntɪ] (compar jauntier, superl jauntiest) adj [clothing, gesture] that shows that one is feeling cheerful and confident \square She wore her hat at a jaunty angle.
- Java ['dʒɑ:və] an island that forms part of Indonesia. SIZE: 130,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 108,000,000.
- javelin ['dʒævlən] n a light spear that is thrown in sports events.
- jaw [dʒɔ:] \diamond n one of the two bones in the head that the teeth are attached to \square the lower jaw. \diamond vi to talk, usually for a long time and about unimportant things (informal use).
- jawbone ['dʒɔ:bəʊn] n the bone in the lower jaw.
- jay [dʒeɪ] n a noisy and colorful bird belonging to the crow family.
- Jaycee [ˌdʒeɪ'si:] n in the USA, a member of the junior chamber of commerce, an organization that holds social activities.
- jaywalk ['dʒeɪwɔ:k] vi to cross the road in a careless way and ignore pedestrian crossings.
- jaywalker ['dʒeɪwɔ:kə] n a person who jaywalks.
- jazz [dʒæz] n -1. a type of music, originally black American music, that is usually played on trumpets, saxophones, a piano, and drums, has a strong beat, and allows the musicians to improvise \square a famous jazz musician. -2. phrase and all that jazz and all that kind of thing (informal use) \square honor, duty to one's country and all that jazz.
- \blacklozenge jazz up vt sep to jazz sthg up [room, building, appearance] to make sthg more interesting, bright, or exciting (informal use) \square You could jazz it up with some posters on the wall.
- jazz band n a group of jazz musicians who play together.
- jazzy ['dʒæzi] (compar jazzier, superl jazziest) adj -1. [colors, clothes] bright and striking. -2. [music, tune] that is in the style of jazz.
- JCR (abbr of junior common room) n a common room for students in some British universities.
- JCS n abbr of Joint Chiefs of Staff.
- JD n abbr of Justice Department.
- jealous ['dʒeləs] adj -1. [person] who feels anger and dislike toward a person because that person has something that they would like \square He is jealous of her/of her success. \square You're just jealous! -2. [husband, wife] who feels angry and unhappy because they are afraid that somebody they love may love somebody else more than them \square a jealous lover \square He gets jealous easily. -3. to be jealous of sthg to be protective of sthg that one has and wants to keep \square He is very jealous of his reputation.
- jealously ['dʒeləslɪ] adv [look, watch] see jealous \square The recipe is a jealously guarded secret.
- jealousy ['dʒeləsi] n a jealous feeling \square Jealousy is a more destructive feeling than envy.
- jeans [dʒi:nz] npl casual trousers made of strong, usually blue, cloth \square a pair of jeans.
- Jedda ['dʒedə] a city in Saudi Arabia and its main port, on the Red Sea. POPULATION: 1,500,000.
- JeepTM [dʒi:p] n a small open car with four-wheel drive, originally used by the American army.
- jeer [dʒiə] \diamond vt [performer, speaker] to show one's disapproval of <sb> by shouting insults or making rude noises. \diamond vi [audience, spectators] The crowd jeered at him.
- \blacklozenge jeers npl insults shouted or noises made by people to show their disapproval of somebody \square There were loud jeers from the fans as Lukas was sent off.
- jeering ['dʒiəriŋ] \diamond n jeers. \diamond adj: jeering crowds.
- Jeeves [dʒi:vz] in the comic novels of P. G. Wodehouse, a servant who is more intelligent than his master, Bertie Wooster.
- Jefferson ['dʒefə'sən], Thomas (1743–1826) US President from 1801 to 1809. He wrote

- most of the Declaration of Independence and made the Louisiana Purchase.
- Jehovah [dʒɪˈhəʊvə] a name for God in the Old Testament.
- Jehovah's Witness n a member of a religious organization that believes that everything in the Bible is true and that the world is going to end soon.
- Jekyll ['dʒekl], Dr a character in R. L. Stevenson's story The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, who turns into the evil Mr. Hyde when he experiments with drugs.
- jell ['dʒel] vi -1. [ideas, plans] to become clearer and more definite. -2. [liquid] to become thick or solid.
- JelloTM ['dʒeləʊ] n US a dessert made from gelatine and fruit juice that wobbles when it is shaken.
- jelly ['dʒeli] (pl jellies) n -1. GB = Jello. -2. a type of thick jam that does not contain any pieces of fruit □ blackberry jelly.
- jelly bean n a small soft candy made in the shape of a bean.
- jellyfish ['dʒelɪfɪʃ] (pl jellyfish OR jellyfishes) n a sea animal with a clear soft body and long tentacles that hang in the water below it and often sting.
- jelly roll n US a thin sponge cake that has been spread with jam and rolled up.
- jemmy GB n = jimmy.
- jeopardize, -ise ['dʒepəˈdaɪz] vt [future, career, relationship] to put <sthg> in danger of being damaged, harmed, or lost □ This latest setback could jeopardize their chances of winning the championship.
- jeopardy ['dʒepəˈdɪrɪ] n to be in jeopardy [person, plan, future] to be in danger of being damaged, harmed, or lost □ This recent spate of attacks puts the whole peace process in jeopardy.
- jerk [dʒɜːk] ◇ n -1. a short sudden movement □ The train stopped with a jerk. □ She gave the handle a jerk. -2. [person] a stupid person (informal use) □ What a jerk! ◇ vt to pull <sthg> suddenly and forcefully for a short distance □ The door was jerked open. ◇ vi [train, person] to move suddenly and quickly □ The truck jerked to a halt. □ Her hand jerked up instinctively.
- jerkily ['dʒɜːkɪli] adv [move, drive] see jerk.
- jerkin ['dʒɜːkɪn] n a short sleeveless jacket.
- jerky ['dʒɜːki] (compar jerki, superl jerkiest) adj [movement] that is not smooth because it is caused or interrupted by jerks □ Your driving is pretty jerky, but you'll be OK with practice.
- jerry-built ['dʒerɪ-] adj [house, apartment] that has been built quickly and cheaply, without paying attention to safety or quality.
- jerry can n a container with flat sides for keeping gasoline in, often kept in vehicles.
- jersey ['dʒɜːzi] (pl jerseys) n -1. a piece of clothing with sleeves, usually made of knitted wool and worn over a shirt. -2. a fine slightly stretchy cloth, usually used for making women's dresses.
- Jersey ['dʒɜːzi] -1. the largest of the Channel Islands, famous for its dairy products. Some British people keep their money there because the taxes are lower than on the British mainland. SIZE: 116 sq kms. POPULATION: 77,000. CAPITAL: St Helier. -2. US = New Jersey (informal use).
- Jerusalem [dʒəˈruːsələm] the largest city in Israel, and a very important place in the history of the Christian, Jewish, and Muslim religions. It was declared the capital of Israel in 1980. POPULATION: 398,200.
- Jerusalem artichoke n the root of a sunflower plant that has an irregular lumpy shape and is eaten as a vegetable.
- jest [dʒest] n to say sthg in jest to say sthg as a joke.
- jester ['dʒestə] n a person who, in former times, was often employed by a king or queen to amuse them by telling jokes, performing tricks etc.
- Jesuit ['dʒeɪʒuət] ◇ n a member of the Society of Jesus, a male religious order in the Catholic church which is very loyal to the Pope and does a lot of missionary work. ◇ adj: a Jesuit priest/school.
- Jesus (Christ) ['dʒiːzəs-] a Hebrew preacher who founded the Christian religion. His life is described in the New Testament.
- jet [dʒet] (pt & pp jetted, cont jetting) ◇ n -1. AVIATION a plane that has jet engines □ She arrived here by jet. □ a private/passenger jet. -2. [of water, steam] a thin stream of a liquid or gas that comes from a small hole with great force □ A jet of ink is sprayed onto the paper. -3. [for water, steam] a small hole in a piece of equipment that a jet of water, steam etc comes out of □ a gas jet. ◇ vi AVIATION to travel by jet □ She's jetting off to New York again.
- jet-black adj [hair] very dark black.
- jet engine n a powerful engine, usually used for modern aircraft, that forces out a stream of hot air and gases behind it.
- jet foil n a boat that is built on structures like two legs and that rises out of the water when it is traveling fast.
- jet lag n a feeling of tiredness and confusion that one experiences after flying long distances across several time zones.
- jet plane n AVIATION = jet.
- jet-propelled [-prəˈpeld] adj [rocket, plane] powered by jet engines.
- jetsam ['dʒetsəm] n → flotsam.
- jet set n the jet set rich and fashionable people who travel a lot and have a luxurious lifestyle.
- jettison ['dʒetɪsən] vt -1. [plan, idea, chance] to give <sthg> up. -2. [cargo, goods] to throw <sthg> away from a moving vehicle.
- jetty ['dʒeti] (pl jetties) n a wall or pier built out into the water in a harbor, for loading and unloading ships.
- Jew [dʒuː] n a person whose religion is Judaism.
- jewel ['dʒuːəl] n a precious stone, e.g. a diamond or emerald □ a jewel box/chest.

jeweler US, jeweller GB ['dʒu:ələʃ] n a person whose job is to make, repair, or sell jewelry.

jewelry US, jewellery GB ['dʒu:ələri] n decorative objects that are attached to the body, hair, or clothes, e.g. rings or necklaces □ She wore very little jewelry.

Jewish ['dʒu:ɪʃ] adj: see Jew □ He/His wife is Jewish.

Jezebel ['dʒezəbel] n a woman who seduces men (disapproving or humorous use).

JFK -1. abbr of John Fitzgerald Kennedy. -2. (abbr of John Fitzgerald Kennedy International Airport) the main international airport for New York City.

jib [dʒɪb] (pt & pp jibbed, cont jibbing) ◇ n -1. the horizontal arm of a crane. -2. a sail shaped like a triangle that is set in front of the mast on a yacht. ◇ vi to jib at sthg to be reluctant to do or accept sthg.

jibe [dʒaɪb] n an insulting remark.

Jiddah ['dʒɪdə] = Jedda.

jiffy ['dʒɪfɪ] n in a jiffy quickly and very soon (informal use) □ I'll be back in a jiffy.

Jiffy bagTM n GB a padded envelope for sending delicate objects in the mail.

jig [dʒɪg] (pt & pp jigged, cont jigging) ◇ n a lively folk dance. ◇ vi -1. to dance a jig. -2. to move up and down with quick, uneven movements.

jiggle ['dʒɪgl] vt [key, handle] to move <sthg> from side to side with quick, short movements □ He jiggled the key in the lock.

jigsaw (puzzle) ['dʒɪɡsɔ:z] n a game that consists of a picture on cardboard or wood that has been cut up into small irregular pieces that one must put back together.

jihad [US dʒɪ'hɑ:d, GB -'hæd] n a holy war fought by Muslims to defend Islam. jillaroo [dʒɪlə'ru:] n a young female worker on a cattle or sheep farm who is training to be a farm manager; see box at jackaroo.

jilt [dʒɪlt] vt [boyfriend, girlfriend, lover] to suddenly end one's relationship with <sb>.

Jim Crow Laws [dʒɪm'krou-] npl racist laws that existed in the south of the USA from the end of the American Civil War until the 1950s. These laws kept black people from going into the same places as white people.

jimmy ['dʒɪmɪ] US, jemmy ['dʒemɪ] GB (US pl jimmies, GB pl jenmies) n a short metal bar that is curved at one end and is used, especially by criminals, to force doors or windows open.

jingle ['dʒɪŋɡl] ◇ n -1. a light metallic sound, like that of small bells ringing. -2. a short simple piece of music used in radio and TV advertisements. ◇ vi [keys, coins] I could hear the keys jingling in his pocket.

jingoism ['dʒɪŋɡɔɪzɪzəm] n an unreasonable belief that one's country is superior to others, often expressed in an eagerness for war with other countries.

jinx [dʒɪŋks] n a force that is believed to bring bad luck □ So many things have gone wrong with this car — I'm sure there's a jinx on it.

jinxed [dʒɪŋkst] adj to be jinxed [house, car, family] to suffer from or bring bad luck.

jitters ['dʒɪtəz] npl to have/get the jitters to be/become very nervous (informal use) □ Exams give me the jitters.

jittery ['dʒɪtəri] adj [person] who seems nervous and worried □ The Stock Market is jittery again today following the news on interest rates.

jive [dʒaɪv] ◇ n -1. a fast lively dance, performed to swing or rock and roll music, that was popular in the 1940s and 1950s. -2. US words that are meant to deceive somebody (informal use) □ jive talk ◇ vi to dance the jive.

Joan of Arc [dʒɔʊnəv'ɑ:k] (1412–1431) a young French woman who dressed as a soldier and led an army against the English. Later, she was captured and burnt as a witch by the English. She was made a saint in 1920.

job [dʒɒb] n -1. the regular work that somebody does to earn money, especially when they are employed by somebody □ He's looking for a new job. □ Hundreds of jobs have been lost. □ He had a job interview on Tuesday. -2. a particular task or piece of work □ Come on, we've got a job to do. □ We need to concentrate on the job at hand. ■ to do a good job to do a job well. ■ to make a good/bad job of sthg to do sthg well/badly □ You made a good job of fixing the car. -3. to have a job doing sthg to have difficulty doing sthg □ We had a job getting the piano upstairs. -4. sb's job sb's duty, function, or responsibility □ It's not my job to answer questions. -5. to have a nose job to have an operation to improve the shape of one's nose (informal use).

Job [dʒɔʊb] in the Bible, a very patient man who suffered many terrible things.

jobbing ['dʒɒbɪŋ] adj GB a jobbing gardener/tailor etc a gardener/tailor etc who does not work full-time for anybody, but does jobs as required.

Jobcentre ['dʒɒbsentə:] n in Britain, one of many government offices, set up by the government in towns and cities, where people can look for jobs or ask for advice on finding jobs.

job creation n the act by a government of providing new jobs for unemployed people □ a job creation program.

job description n a document that lists the duties and responsibilities of a particular job.

jobless ['dʒɒbləs] ◇ adj [person] who has no job. ◇ npl the jobless people without jobs.

job lot n a number of cheap things that are sold together as one item, e.g. at an auction □ I bought them as a job lot at the sale.

job satisfaction n the pleasure that somebody feels as a result of doing their job.

job security n the feeling that one will not lose one's job.

jobsharing ['dʒɒʃeəriŋ] n an arrangement in which a job is shared by more than one person, each working part-time.

Joburg, Jo'burg ['dʒɔʊbɜːrɡ] = Johannesburg (informal use).

jockey ['dʒɔki] (pl jockeys) n a person who rides horses in horse races. ◇ vi to jockey for position to try to gain an advantage over one's competitors.

jockstrap ['dʒɔkstræp] n a tight-fitting piece of underwear worn by male athletes to support their genitals.

jocular ['dʒɔkjələ] adj [person] cheerful and amusing; [reply, remark] that is intended to be amusing □ a jocular manner.

jodhpurs ['dʒɔdpɜːz] npl trousers, designed for riding on horses, that are loose above the knee and tight below the knee.

Joe Bloggs [ˌdʒɔʊ'blɒgz] GB = Joe Blow.

Joe Blow [ˌdʒɔʊ'bləʊ] US a typical or average man (informal use).

Joe Public [ˌdʒɔʊ'pʌblɪk], Joe Soap [ˌdʒɔʊ'səʊp] GB = Joe Blow.

jog [dʒɔg] (pt & pp jogged, cont jogging) ◇ n a slow steady run, done as a form of exercise □ They go for a jog every evening. ◇ vt to push <sthg>, especially with one's arm, so that it moves slightly □ Watch you don't jog my elbow, I've got a glass in my hand. ■ to jog sb's memory to help sb to remember something □ Perhaps this photo will help to jog your memory. ◇ vi to run slowly and steadily, usually as a form of exercise □ He jogged down the road.

jogger ['dʒɔgə] n a person who jogs for exercise.

jogging ['dʒɔgɪŋ] n the sport practiced by joggers □ I go jogging every morning.

joggle ['dʒɔgl] vt to shake <sb/sthg> gently, usually up and down.

Johannesburg [dʒə'hænsɜːrɡ] the largest city in South Africa, in the northeast of the country. POPULATION: 1,566,000.

john [dʒɔn] n US a toilet (informal use).

John [dʒɔn] (1167–1216) King of England from 1199 to 1216. He was an unpopular king, and in 1215 he was forced to sign the Magna Carta, the basis of the English constitution.

John Barleycorn [-'bɑː'liːkɔː'n] an imaginary person, used as a symbol for alcoholic drink.

John Birch Society [-'bɜː'tʃ-] n an extreme right-wing group in the USA that is strongly anti-Communist. It was particularly influential in the 1950s and 1960s.

John Bull an imaginary person, used as a symbol for England or the typical Englishman. He is pictured as a fat man wearing a Union Jack flag.

John Doe [-'dɔʊ] a term used in US law for a man whose name is not known, or which cannot be made public for legal reasons.

John Hancock [-'hæŋkɔk] n US a person's signature (informal use).

John O'Groats [-ə'grəʊts] a village in Scotland that is considered the most northerly place on the British mainland.

NOTE: Compare Land's End.

John Q Public US = Joe Blow.

Johnson ['dʒɔnsn], Amy (1903–1941) a British pilot who broke records when she flew alone from England to Australia, and from England to South Africa.

Johnson, Samuel (1709–1784) a British writer and critic, also known as Dr Johnson. He is best-known for his Dictionary of the English Language.

John the Baptist = Saint John the Baptist.

join [dʒɔɪn] ◇ vt -1. [two objects] to connect or attach <two or more pieces, edges> etc together □ You have to join (together) the two wires. -2. [person] to get together with <sb> □ Will you join me for OR in a drink? □ I'll join you later. -3. [club] to become a member of  etc □ I joined Amnesty International last year. -4. [activity] to take part in <an activity> that other people are doing □ Come and join the dancing! -5. to join a line to stand at the end of a line of people who are waiting for something □ I joined the line at the post office.

◇ vi -1. [rivers, edges, pieces] to meet or come together □ The roads join right here. -2. [person] to become a member of a group, club etc □ You can join at a reduced rate if you're a student. ◇ n the line where two things are joined together □ She has repaired the vase so well that I can't see the join.

◆ join in ◇ vt fus to join in sthg [work, activity, fun] to take part in sthg that other people are already doing □ She never joins in the conversation. ◇ vi: Ann started singing and the others joined in.

◆ join up vi [person] to join one of the armed forces.

joiner ['dʒɔɪnə] n a person whose job is to make wooden doors, door frames, window frames etc.

joinery ['dʒɔɪnəri] n the work of a joiner.

joint [dʒɔɪnt] ◇ adj a joint decision/effort etc a decision/effort etc that involves two or more people or groups together □ a joint operation involving the army and the police ■ a joint owner/manager etc a person who owns/manages etc something with one or more other people.

◇ n -1. ANATOMY a part of the body where two bones meet, e.g. at the elbow □ I have pains in my joints. □ the elbow joint. -2. [between two objects] the place where two things, such as two pipes or pieces of wood, are connected together □ The pipes have started to leak at the joint. -3. GB COOKING a large piece of meat for roasting □ a joint of lamb/pork. -4. a place such as a bar or nightclub that is usually not very pleasant, e.g. because it is dirty or dangerous (informal use) □ Let's get out of this joint. -5.[▽] [for smoking] a cigarette that contains cannabis (drugs slang).

joint account n a bank account shared by two or more people.

Joint Chiefs of Staff npl the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the USA, the leaders of the Army, Navy, and Air Force.

jointed ['dʒɔɪntəd] adj [doll, puppet] that has joints that can be moved.

jointly ['dʒɔɪntli] adv [own, act] together □ We're jointly responsible for its success.

joint ownership n [of business, property] the state of being owned by two or more people, groups etc.

joint resolution n a law or decision that is agreed by both houses of the US Congress.

joint-stock company n a company jointly owned by all the people who have bought shares in it.

joint venture n a business venture that involves two or more companies together.

joist [dʒɔɪst] n a long piece of wood, metal, or concrete used to support the floor or roof of a building.

joboba [hɒʊ'hoʊbə] n a small tree or bush that grows in North America and produces an oil used in cosmetics □ joboba oil/shampoo.

joke [dʒɔʊk] ◇ n -1. something said or done to make people laugh, e.g. a funny story or trick □ Let me tell you a joke. ■ to go beyond a joke to become serious and worrying □ The situation has gone beyond a joke now. ■ to play a joke on sb to trick or deceive sb to amuse people. ■ it's no joke a phrase used to refer to a job or situation that is very difficult or unpleasant □ It's no joke bringing up three kids as a single parent. -2. to be a joke [person, ideal] to be too foolish or ridiculous to be taken seriously □ He was a complete joke as chairman. ◇ vi to tell funny stories; to speak about something in a way that is not serious □ I'm only joking! □ You shouldn't joke about that sort of thing. □ He likes to joke with us.

joker ['dʒɔʊkə] n -1. a person who likes to joke about things. -2. an extra playing card that does not belong to any of the four suits.

jollity ['dʒɔɪləti] n laughter and fun.

jolly ['dʒɔɪli] (compar jollier, superl jolliest) ◇ adj [person, laugh, time] that seems happy and lively. ◇ adv GB a word used to emphasize something, especially to show approval (informal use) □ Jolly good! □ It's jolly difficult to get hold of her.

jolt [dʒɔʊlt] ◇ n -1. a sudden violent movement □ The bus stopped with a jolt. -2. an unpleasant surprise □ The collapse of the bank gave financial institutions a sharp jolt. ◇ vt -1. to cause <sb/sthg> to move suddenly and violently □ The bus braked suddenly and jolted us forward. -2. to shock or surprise <sb> □ The news jolted him into action. ◇ vi [cart, car, bike] to shake violently □ We jolted along the dirt track.

Jonah ['dʒɔʊnə] in the Bible, a man who was swallowed by a whale, and survived.

Jones [dʒɔʊnz], Inigo (1573–1652) a British architect who designed many great houses and gardens in London.

Joneses ['dʒɔʊnzəz] npl to keep up with the Joneses to make sure that one does not appear to have less money, success etc than one's neighbors by buying expensive things.

Jonson ['dʒɔʊnsən], Ben (1572–1637) a British playwright, whose satirical comedies include Volpone and The Alchemist.

Jordan ['dʒɔ:ɪ'dn] -1. a country in the Middle East, between Israel and Saudi Arabia. SIZE: 92,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,800,000 (Jordanians). CAPITAL: Amman. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Jordanian dinar. -2. the Jordan (River) a river in the Middle East, flowing through Israel and Jordan to the Dead Sea.

Jordanian [dʒɔ:ɪ'deɪnjən] n & adj: see Jordan.

Joseph ['dʒɔʊzəf] in the Bible, the husband of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

joss stick ['dʒɔʊs-] n a thin stick covered with incense that produces smoke and an attractive smell when it is lit.

jostle ['dʒɔʊsl] ◇ vt to push or knock against <sb>, especially in a crowd □ People jostled and pushed each other in order to try and get a better view. ◇ vi: The photographers were jostling for a better view.

jot [dʒɔt] (pt & pp jotted, cont jotting) n [of truth, sympathy] a very small amount of something □ There's not a jot of truth in what he says!

◆ jot down vt sep to jot sthg down [answer, names, notes] to write sthg down in a quick informal way □ Could you just jot your address down for me?

jotter ['dʒɔɪtə] n GB a pad of paper or a notebook for jotting things down in.

jottings ['dʒɔɪtɪŋz] npl short notes that have been written about something, usually quickly.

joule [dʒu:l] n PHYSICS a unit of energy or work.

journal ['dʒɜ:nl] n -1. a serious magazine that deals with a particular subject or profession □ a medical/scientific journal. -2. an account that one writes of one's daily activities □ I often keep a journal when on vacation.

journalise [,dʒɜ:nlə'li:z] n a style of writing only found in newspapers (disapproving use).

journalism ['dʒɜ:nlɪzɪzəm] n the profession of reporting or writing for newspapers, magazines, television, or radio □ a career in journalism.

journalist ['dʒɜ:nlə'ɪst] n a person whose profession is journalism □ She's a great journalist.

journey ['dʒɜ:ni] (pl journeys) n GB the process of traveling from one place to another □ a train journey □ Have a nice/safe journey! □ I went on a journey from Paris to Istanbul. □ It's only a short journey from here.

joust [dʒɔʊst] ◇ n in the Middle Ages, a fight on horseback using lances. ◇ vi to fight a joust.

Jove [dʒɔʊv] another name for Jupiter. ■ by Jove! an expression used by somebody to show that they are surprised or impressed (old-fashioned use).

joyial ['dʒɔʊvjəl] adj [person, smile] cheerful.

jowls [dʒɔʊlz] npl [of a person, dog] the lower parts of the sides of the face, especially the loose skin covering the jaw.

joy [dʒɔɪ] n -1. a feeling of great happiness □ To my great joy, he said "yes." -2. a person or thing that gives somebody happiness or pleasure □ His performance was a joy to watch.

Joyce [dʒɔɪs], James (1882–1941) an Irish writer whose experimental style had a great influence on 20th-century literature. His work includes Ulysses and Finnegans Wake.

joyful ['dʒɔɪfl] adj [person, scene, shout] very happy □ It was a joyful occasion.

joyfully ['dʒɔɪflɪ] adv [welcome, shout] see joyful.

joyous ['dʒɔɪəs] adj [song, occasion] very happy (literary use).

joypad ['dʒɔɪpæd] n a control device with buttons and levers that is used for playing computer games.

joyride ['dʒɔɪraɪd] ◇ n the act of driving dangerously fast in a car that one has just stolen for fun and excitement □ The boys, 16 and 17, had gone for a joyride. ◇ vi to go joyriding to go for a joyride.

joyrider ['dʒɔɪraɪdər] n a person who joyrides.

joystick ['dʒɔɪstɪk] n -1. AVIATION a lever used to control the movement of a plane. -2. COMPUTING a device with a lever that can be moved in different directions to control a computer or video game.

JP n abbr of Justice of the Peace.

JP

In Britain, Justices of the Peace, or JPs, are magistrates who are not professional lawyers or judges. They work part-time and are not paid for their work. They are usually respected local people, such as doctors or teachers, who are chosen by the Lord Chancellor. Usually three JPs hear a case at the same time in a magistrates' court.

Jr. abbr of junior.

jubilant ['dʒu:bɪlənt] adj [person] who is very happy and excited, usually because they have had good news or success □ a jubilant shout/cheer.

jubilation [ˌdʒu:bɪ'leɪʃn] n a feeling of happiness and excitement, usually caused by good news or success.

jubilee ['dʒu:bɪli:] n a celebration to mark the anniversary of an important event or occasion, especially a 25th or 50th anniversary □ a silver/golden jubilee.

Judaism ['dʒu:deɪɪzəm] n the religion of the Jews, who believe in the god of the Old Testament of the Bible.

Judas (Iscaiot) [ˌdʒu:dəs ('ɪskæɪət)] in the Bible, the man who betrayed Jesus. He was paid 30 pieces of silver for helping to arrange his arrest.

judder ['dʒʌdə] vi GB [vehicle, machine] to keep shaking violently □ The truck juddered to a halt.

judge [dʒʌdʒ] ◇ n -1. LAW a person whose job is to decide how to use the law in a court to show whether a person accused of a crime is guilty, and who decides what punishment to give them if they are found guilty □ a High Court judge □ Judge Watkins. -2. a person responsible for deciding who has won a competition or contest □ The judges took a long time to choose the winner.

◇ vt -1. LAW to make a decision about  in a court of law □ The case will be judged in a civil court. -2. [contest, competition] to decide the result of <sthg> □ The competition will be judged by a distinguished panel of experts. -3. [person, situation] to form and give an opinion about <sb/sthg> based on the evidence that one has □ You can't judge people by their appearances. □ They judged that he had failed in his duty. □ The house was judged to be unsafe. -4. [age, distance] to guess <sthg> □ It's difficult to judge how long it would take.

◇ vi -1. to form and give an opinion about something □ It's not for me to judge. ■ to judge from OR by sthg, judging from OR by sthg [by behavior, evidence] a phrase used to introduce one's opinion based on something in particular □ Judging by their attitude, it seems they think very little of our plan. -2. to guess something □ "How far is it?" — "It's hard to judge."

judgment, judgement ['dʒʌdʒmənt] n -1. LAW an official decision made by a judge or court of law. -2. [opinion] an opinion given after considering all available information □ It was a harsh judgment to make in the circumstances. □ In my judgment, he was wrong. ■ to pass judgment to give one's opinion of somebody or criticize them □ The voters will pass judgment on the government tonight. ■ to reserve judgment to refuse to give an opinion about somebody or something until one knows more about them □ I'll reserve judgment until I've seen all the entrants. -3. [ability] the ability to make sensible and fair decisions □ I really trust her judgment. ■ against my better judgment a phrase used to show that one does something although one thinks that it would probably be more sensible or reasonable not to do it □ I agreed to let them go, against my better judgment.

judgmental, judgemental [dʒʌdʒ'mentl] adj [person, attitude] that one thinks is too critical of other people □ Don't be so judgmental!

judicial [dʒu:'dɪʃl] adj [decision, ruling, system] that is connected with a court of law.

judiciary [US dʒu:'dɪʃɪəri, GB -'dɪʃəri] n the judiciary the group of people in a country consisting of all the judges in all the courts, whose job is to deal with legal matters.

judicious [dʒu:'dɪʃəs] adj [choice, move, use] that is wise and shows good judgment.

judo ['dʒu:dou] n a Japanese form of wrestling in which two people try to throw each other to the ground.

jug [dʒʌg] n -1. US a container with a narrow neck, a handle, and a cap or stopper. -2. GB a container with a handle and a spout, used for holding and pouring liquids. -3. the amount of liquid that is held in a jug □ a milk jug □ a jug of milk/water.

juggernaut ['dʒʌgə'nɔ:t] n GB a very large truck for carrying heavy loads over long distances.

juggle ['dʒʌgl] ◇ vt -1. to keep <two or more objects> in the air at the same time by catching each one as it falls and throwing it up again immediately □ Pop was juggling oranges to amuse the children. -2. to rearrange <numbers, ideas, or figures> carefully so that they appear in the form that one wants □ We had to juggle the figures to make the books balance. ◇ vi: The clown juggled while riding a horse. □ I've had to juggle with the figures.

juggler ['dʒʌɡləʳ] n a person who entertains people by juggling.

jugular (vein) ['dʒʌɡjələʳ-] n a large vein in one's neck that carries blood back from the head to the heart.

juice [dʒu:ɪs] n -1. the liquid part of a fruit or vegetable, often used to make drinks □ carrot/orange juice. -2. the liquid produced by a piece of meat when it is being cooked.

◆ juices npl the liquid in a person's stomach that helps them to digest food □ gastric juices.

juicy ['dʒu:ɪsɪ] (compar juicier, superl juiciest) adj -1. [fruit, orange] that has a lot of juice in it. -2. [story, piece of news] that is interesting, often because it is slightly shocking or rude (informal use) □ juicy gossip.

jujitsu [dʒu:'dʒɪtsu:] n a sport and a way of fighting that started in Japan and in which one tries to hold, throw, and hit one's opponent.

jukebox ['dʒu:kɒks] n a machine found in places such as bars that plays the record or CD that one selects after one has put money into it.

Jul. abbr of July.

Juliet [US 'dʒu:lɪjət, GB -ɪət] → Romeo.

July [dʒu:'laɪ] n the seventh month of the year in the Western calendar; see also February.

jumble ['dʒʌmbl] ◇ n [of objects, sounds, colors] a lot of things that are mixed together in a careless or disorganized way □ Her clothes lay in a jumble on the floor. ◇ vt = jumble up.

◆ jumble up vt sep to jumble things up to mix things up so that they are not in any order □ I always get their names jumbled up!

jumble sale n GB a sale of second-hand things to raise money for a special purpose such as a charity.

jumbo ['dʒʌmbou] adj a jumbo meal/sausage etc a meal/sausage etc that is bigger than normal.

jumbo jet n a very large plane for carrying passengers.

jump [dʒʌmp] ◇ vi -1. [person, animal] to move up into the air so that one's feet leave the ground, usually by bending one's legs and pushing against the ground with one's feet □ He jumped across the river. □ She jumped over the wall. □ He jumped down the stairs. -2. [person, body] to make a sudden movement because one is surprised or frightened □ You made me jump! I didn't hear you come in. -3. [price, population, level] to increase by a large amount in a short period of time □ Profits have jumped by 20% since May.

◇ vt -1. [fence, stream] to cross <sthg> by jumping over it □ Do you think you can jump that ditch? -2. [person] to attack <sb> suddenly (informal use) □ Two guys jumped me in the subway. -3. to jump a train/bus US to travel on a train/bus illegally, without paying.

◇ n -1. an act of jumping □ a parachute jump. -2. SPORT an object such as a fence that a horse must jump over as part of a course. -3. [in price, profits] a large increase in amount in a very short period of time □ There was a sudden jump in property prices. -4. phrase to keep one jump ahead of sb [of one's rival, competitor] to be prepared for what sb will do next and so have an advantage over them □ Remember: always try to keep one jump ahead of your competitors.

◆ jump at vt fus to jump at a chance OR opportunity to accept a chance OR opportunity immediately.

jumped-up ['dʒʌmpt-] adj GB [civil servant, clerk] who thinks that they are more important than they really are (informal and disapproving use).

jumper ['dʒʌmpəʳ] n -1. US a dress without sleeves that is worn over a sweater or blouse. -2. GB a piece of knitted clothing covering the upper part of one's body and one's arms.

jumper cables npl US two thick wires with heavy clips at both ends, used to start a vehicle that has a dead battery by connecting it to the battery of another vehicle.

jump jet n a plane that takes off and lands by going straight up and down in the air.

jump leads npl GB = jumper cables.

jump rope n US a long rope with handles, used e.g. by children to jump over as a game.

jump-start vt to start <the engine of a car whose battery does not have enough power> by connecting it to the battery of another car.

jumpsuit ['dʒʌmpsɪt] n a single piece of clothing that consists of trousers and a top.

jumpy ['dʒʌmpɪ] (compar jumpier, superl jumpiest) adj who feels nervous and worried.

Jun. abbr of June.

junction ['dʒʌŋkʃn] n the place where two or more roads, tracks etc join or cross □ a busy road junction.

junction box n a box in which wires can be safely connected because it has a wire connected to the ground.

juncture ['dʒʌŋktʃəʳ] n at this juncture at this particular time (formal use).

June [dʒu:n] n the sixth month of the year in the Western calendar; see also February.

Jung [jʊŋ], Carl Gustav (1875–1961) a Swiss psychiatrist who worked with Freud before developing his own theories of the subconscious.

jungle ['dʒʌŋɡl] n -1. a forest in a very hot country, in which a lot of tall trees grow very close together □ the Amazon jungle. -2. [of laws, politics] a complicated or uncon-

- trolled mass of things □ a jungle of rules and regulations.
- jungle gym n US a frame made up of bars that children can climb and play on.
- junior ['dʒuːniə] ◇ adj -1. a word used after the name of a man who has the same name as his father as a way of avoiding confusion □ John Grant Junior. -2. a junior executive/officer etc an employee who holds a low or less important position in an organization or profession □ a junior partner in the firm. ◇ n -1. a person who holds a low rank or position □ an office junior. -2. a person who is younger than somebody else □ He is five years her junior. -3. EDUCATION in the USA, a student who is in their third year of high school or college.
- junior college n in the USA, a place for higher education where students receive a technical degree after studying for two years.
- junior doctor n GB a doctor who has recently qualified and who is getting experience in a hospital.
- junior high school n in the USA, a school for children aged between 11 and 15.
- junior minister n in Britain, a member of the government with a low rank.
- junior school n in Britain, a school for children aged between 7 and 11.
- juniper ['dʒuːnɪpə] n a small evergreen bush with purple berries that are used in cooking and in making gin.
- junk [dʒʌŋk] ◇ n things that are old and that nobody wants any more (informal use). ◇ vt [car, computer] to throw <sth> away because it is old and is not wanted □ I had to junk my bed in the end.
- junket ['dʒʌŋkət] n a trip made by an official and paid for with public money (informal and disapproving use) □ Politicians are always off on a junket.
- junk food n food that contains a lot of chemicals, sugar, fat etc and is not good for one's health but is quick to prepare (disapproving use).
- junkie ['dʒʌŋki] n a person who is addicted to drugs, especially heroin (informal use).
- junk mail n letters, brochures etc that advertise goods and services and are sent to people without them asking for it (disapproving use).
- junk shop n a shop that sells second-hand things at very cheap prices.
- Juno ['dʒuːnoʊ] the Roman goddess of women and marriage.
- Junr abbr of junior.
- junta [US 'hʌntə, GB 'dʒʌntə] n a military government that has come to power in a country not as a result of being elected but by force.
- Jupiter ['dʒuːpɪtə] -1. the ruler of the Roman gods, who could throw thunderbolts. -2. the planet in the solar system that is the largest and the fifth-furthest from the Sun.
- jurisdiction [ˌdʒʊəriːs'dɪkʃn] n the right of an official, organization, or court of law to make legal judgments about something □ That area is not under my jurisdiction. □ This territory comes within the jurisdiction of Canada.
- jurisprudence [ˌdʒʊəriːs'pruːdəns] n the study or science of law.
- juror ['dʒʊərə] n a member of a jury.
- jury ['dʒʊəri] (pl juries) n -1. LAW a group of usually twelve people who hear all the evidence in a case and decide whether the accused person is innocent or guilty. -2. [in a contest] a group of people who decide the winners in a competition.
- jury box n the place in a court where the jury sits.
- jury duty US, jury service GB n to be on OR do jury duty to spend a period of time as a member of a jury.
- just [dʒʌst] ◇ adv -1. he just left he left a very short time ago □ I've just seen her in the corridor. □ It had just stopped raining when we set out. -2. I'm just getting dressed I am getting dressed now and will very soon be finished □ Ann was just leaving when we got there. ■ I'm just about to go out I am going to go out very soon. -3. only □ "What do you want to eat?" — "Just a sandwich." □ These are just a few examples of the problems we've been having. ■ just a minute OR second OR moment! a phrase used to tell somebody to wait for a short time □ I'll be with you in just a minute. -4. I just got there on time I got there on time, but I very nearly did not □ He only just missed his train. □ We have just enough time for one more question. -5. I might just manage to get there there is a chance that I will get there, but it is a very small chance □ It's just possible that John will know. -6. used for emphasis □ I just know I'm right. □ The food here is just wonderful. □ Just do what you're told! -7. that's just right that's exactly right □ I'll plant a rose bush just here. □ You're just the person I need to talk to. □ That's just what I wanted. -8. used with "can" and "could" to make polite requests □ Could you just move over, please?
- ◇ adj [person, decision, punishment] fair and reasonable.
- ◆ just about adv very nearly □ I'm just about finished. □ We'll just about get there on time if we leave by noon.
- ◆ just as adv -1. at the moment when □ They arrived just as I was leaving. -2. used in comparisons □ She speaks French just as well as you do.
- ◆ just now adv -1. a short time ago □ I was talking to her just now. -2. at this exact moment □ I'm sorry, but I can't speak to you just now.
- ◆ just the same adv in spite of that □ She probably can't come, but I'll invite her just the same.
- ◆ just then adv at that exact time □ I didn't want to tell her just then.
- justice ['dʒʌstɪs] n -1. fair treatment of other people □ We demand justice for these prisoners. -2. [system] the system in a country by which laws are made and crimes are punished □ the courts of justice. -3. [of a cause, claim] the quality of being reasonable and fair. -4. US [person] a judge □ a Supreme Court justice. -5. GB [title] the title of a judge in a High Court □ Mr Justice Thomas. -6. the Justice Department, the Department of Justice the US government department that gives legal advice to the President. Its chief officer is called the Attorney General. -7. phrases to do justice to sthg to deal with sthg properly and fully □ The movie doesn't really do justice to the book. ■ to do justice to sb [photograph, description] to make sb look or seem as good or attractive as they really are □ The photo doesn't really do you justice. ■ to do oneself justice to perform well in an exam, competition etc in a way that shows how good one is □ She didn't really do herself justice in the exam.

Justice of the Peace (pl Justices of the Peace) n a person who judges cases in the lower courts of law and, in the USA, can marry people.

justifiable ['dʒʌstɪfəɪəbl̩] adj [pride, anger, action] that is reasonable because there is a good cause for it □ His reaction was perfectly justifiable in the circumstances.

justifiable homicide n a lawful act of killing, e.g. in self-defense.

justifiably ['dʒʌstɪfəɪəbl̩] adv: see justifiable □ You can be justifiably proud of your achievements.

justification [ˌdʒʌstɪfɪ'keɪʃn] n a good reason or explanation for doing something □ There was no justification for the level of violence used.

justify ['dʒʌstɪfaɪ] (pt & pp justified) vt -1. [decision, behavior, action] to give a good reason or explanation for <sthg> □ How can you justify spending so much money? □ He made no attempt to justify his violent behavior. -2. COMPUTING & PRINTING [document, column, file] to arrange the words of  so that the left and right edges are straight □ Justify left/right.

justly ['dʒʌstli] adv -1. [act, behave] in a fair and reasonable way □ They have not been treated justly. -2. a word used to say that something is fair and right □ a justly deserved reputation for excellence.

jut [dʒʌt] (pt & pp jutted, cont jutting) vi to jut (out) [balcony, cliff] to stick out □ A rocky peninsula juts out into the sea.

jute [dʒu:t] n the fiber of a particular plant, used in making rope, sacks, rough cloth etc.

juvenile ['dʒu:vənəl] ◇ adj -1. LAW [crime, delinquency] that relates to a young person not old enough to be treated like an adult □ juvenile offenders. -2. [behavior, sense of humor] that seems childish or silly (disapproving use) □ How juvenile! ◇ n LAW a young person not old enough to be treated like an adult.

juvenile court n a court which deals with crimes committed by juveniles.

juvenile delinquent n a young person who has committed a minor crime.

juxtapose [ˌdʒʌkstə'pəʊz] vt [objects, ideas, features] to put <two things> next to each other, often to show more clearly how different they are □ Look at the way the artist juxtaposes these two images.

juxtaposition [ˌdʒʌkstə'pəʊzɪʃn] n: see juxtapose □ The juxtaposition of dark and light colors produces a very striking effect.

K

k [keɪ] (pl k's OR ks), K [keɪ] (pl K's OR Ks) n the eleventh letter of the English alphabet.

◆ K -1. abbr of kilobyte. -2. abbr of thousand.

Kafka ['kæfkə], Franz (1883–1924) a Czech writer well known for his novels, such as The Trial and The Castle, about people faced with large impersonal organizations.

kaftan ['kæftæn] n a long loose piece of clothing with wide sleeves, worn by men in Arab countries and by women in America and Europe.

Kakadu [ˌkækə'du:] a national park in Northern Territory, Australia, that was opened in 1979 and is a big tourist attraction.

kale [keɪl] n a type of dark green cabbage with curly leaves.

kaleidoscope [kə'leɪdəskəʊp] n -1. a toy that consists of a tube held in the hand, through which one can see a changing pattern of colors when a disc at one end of it is turned. -2. a pattern of colors or images or a mixture of things that changes all the time □ a kaleidoscope of cultures.

Kampuchea [ˌkæmpu:'tʃiə] = Cambodia.

kangaroo [ˌkæŋgə'rʊ:] n a large Australian animal with powerful back legs for jumping and a long thick tail, the female of which carries its young in a pocket on its stomach.

Kansas ['kænzəs] a state in the central USA consisting mainly of farmland. ABBREVIATION: KS. SIZE: 213,063 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,477,574 (Kansans). CAPITAL: Topeka.

Kant [US kɑ:nt, GB kænt], Immanuel (1724–1804) a German philosopher who believed that human knowledge and morals should be governed by reason.

kaolin ['keɪəlɪn] n a fine white clay used for making cups, dishes etc and in medicine.

kaput [kə'pʊt] adj to be kaput [car, TV, washing machine] to be broken (informal use) □ "Is the TV not working?" — "No, it's kaput."

karaoke [ˌkæri:'ouki] n a form of entertainment that started in Japan in which people sing pop songs, e.g. in a bar, using a recorded version of the music without the voices □ a karaoke night/machine.

karat [US 'kerət, GB 'kær-] n US = carat.

karate [kə'ra:ti] n a sport and a way of fighting that started in Japan in which people use their hands, arms, legs, and feet.

Kashmir [kæʃ'mɪə] a mountainous region of northern India and Pakistan.

Katar = Qatar.

kayak ['kaɪæk] n a type of canoe used by Inuits or in sport.

KB n abbr of kilobyte(s).

KC (abbr of King's Counsel) n a title given to some British barristers when a king is ruling.

kcal (abbr of kilocalorie) a unit (4.18 kilojoules) for measuring the amount of energy in food.

Keats [ki:ts], John (1795–1821) a British Romantic poet whose works include To a Nightingale and To Autumn.

kebab [US kɪ'bɑ:b, GB -'bæb] n a dish consisting of small pieces of meat and vegetables put on a stick and grilled.

kedgeree ['kedʒəri:] n GB a dish consisting of rice, boiled eggs, and fish.

keel [ki:l] n -1. a long piece of wood or metal along the bottom of a ship onto which the rest of the structure is fitted. -2. phrase to be on an even keel to be steady and stable □ Our finances are now on an even keel.

◆ keel over vi [ship, person] to fall onto one side □ He staggered in, then keeled over and fell straight to sleep.

keen [ki:n] adj -1. to be keen on sthg to enjoy doing sthg and do it often □ She's very keen on squash/skating. □ He's a keen gardener/tennis player. -2. to be keen on sb GB to like sb and be attracted to them. -3. to be keen to do OR on doing sthg to want to do sthg very much □ She seemed very keen to help. □ They aren't so keen on going out tonight. □ You don't seem very keen. -4. [interest, desire] strong □ She took a keen interest in the affair. □ There is keen competition for places on the course. -5. [eye, sense of smell] good □ He has a keen sense of hearing. -6. to have a keen mind to be quick to understand things.

keenly ['ki:nli] adv -1. keenly contested/debated etc contested/debated etc with great energy and determination □ a keenly fought contest. -2. to be keenly aware/interested to be very aware/interested □ I was keenly aware of the dangers. -3. [watch, listen] very carefully and with great concentration.

keep [ki:p] (pt & pp kept) ◇ vt -1. to continue to have <sthg> and not give it back, lose it etc □ Here's $10 — keep the change. □ You can keep the book if you like. □ Luckily I managed to keep my job. -2. to keep sthg in a place to store sthg in a place so that it can be found and used later □ Where do you keep the teabags? □ Keep your passport in a safe place. -3. to keep sb/sthg in a place or state to make sb/sthg stay in a particular place or state □ I kept my hands in my pockets. □ They kept us waiting all afternoon. □ Regular spraying will keep the plants free from disease. -4.

to keep forgetting/apologizing etc to forget/apologize many times □ The photocopier keeps breaking down. □ I keep telling myself things will be OK. -5. to keep walking/talking etc to continue to walk/talk etc without stopping □ Keep stirring the mixture until all the lumps have gone. -6. to keep sb/sthg from doing sthg □ Put the butter in the refrigerator to keep it from melting. □ Remember to shut the gate to keep the dog from getting out. □ I hope I'm not keeping you from your work.

-7. to keep sb to delay sb and cause them to be late □ I'll only keep you a minute. -8. to keep sthg from sb not to tell sb sthg □ His family tried to keep the news from him. -9. [sheep, hens, dog] to own and look after <farm animals or pets>. -10. [family, mistress] to look after <sb> by providing them with food, clothes, money etc □ He barely earns enough to keep himself. -11. to keep a promise/an appointment to carry out a promise/an appointment as agreed or planned □ Don't make promises you can't keep. -12. to keep a record/diary etc to make a record/diary etc by writing down information in a regular or organized way □ I kept a note of how much we spent. -13. to keep a secret not to tell other people a secret □ Can you keep a secret?

◇ vi -1. (+ complement) to keep quiet to continue to be quiet □ She does aerobics to keep in shape. □ I like to keep in touch with my family.

-2. keep straight ahead continue to go straight ahead □ Keep left until you get to the traffic lights. □ Pedestrians should keep on the sidewalk. -3. [food] to stay fresh and not go bad □ Fish only keeps for a couple of days in this hot weather.

◇ n to earn/pay for one's keep to earn/pay for the cost of one's food, rent etc.

◆ for keeps adv permanently (informal use) □ I'm coming back home for keeps.

◆ keep at vt fus to keep at it to continue to work hard, even though it is difficult or tiring □ If you want to pass these exams, you'll have to keep at it.

◆ keep back vt sep to keep a sum of money back to keep a sum of money oneself, so that one does not give all of a large amount to somebody □ They kept back 10% of my wages. ■ to keep something back not to tell somebody everything □ I could tell they were keeping something back from me.

◆ keep down vt sep to keep sthg down [numbers, prices, costs] to stop sthg from increasing □ This year we've managed to keep down travel costs.

◆ keep off ◇ vi sep to keep sb/sthg off [sun, attacker, blow] to prevent sb/sthg from touching or harming something else □ an umbrella to keep the rain off. ◇ vt fus to keep off sthg [flowerbed, road] not to touch or walk on sthg. ■ 'keep off the grass' do not walk on the grass.

◆ keep on vt fus -1. to keep on doing sthg to experience sthg repeatedly □ I keep on getting headaches. -2. to keep on doing sthg to continue to do sthg without stopping □ We kept on working till late into the night.

- ◆ to keep on about vt fus to keep on about sthg to talk about sthg repeatedly in an irritating way □ Don't keep on at me about buying you a new bike!
- ◆ keep out ◇ vt sep to keep sb/sthg out [burglar, goal] to stop sb/sthg from getting into a place □ a fence to keep out sheep. ◇ vi 'keep out' you may not enter this place.
- ◆ keep to ◇ vt fus to keep to sthg [plan, rule, budget] to follow or obey sthg when performing a duty or doing a job □ It is essential that we keep strictly to the deadline. ◇ vt sep -1. to keep sthg to a particular limit not to allow sthg to rise above a particular limit □ We must keep costs to a minimum. -2. to keep sthg to oneself not to tell anybody about sthg □ I kept these doubts to myself. -3. phrase they keep themselves to themselves they spend a lot of time on their own and do not mix much with other people.
- ◆ keep up ◇ vt sep to keep sthg up [output, speed] to make sthg continue at a good or high level □ Keep up the good work! □ I found it hard to keep up my enthusiasm/spirits. ■ keep it up! a phrase used to encourage somebody to continue working or trying. ◇ vi -1. to move, work, produce, increase etc as fast as somebody or something □ You're walking too fast — I can't keep up with you. □ Supply has failed to keep up with demand. -2. to keep up with sthg [with fashion, the news] to take an interest in the latest developments affecting sthg □ I try to keep up with current affairs. -3. to keep up with sb to stay in contact with sb, e.g. by writing or phoning regularly □ I've kept up with all my old school friends.
- keeper ['ki:pə] n -1. a person who takes care of animals in a zoo □ a zoo/an elephant keeper. -2. a person who takes care of objects in a museum.
- keep-fit n GB physical exercise to keep the body in good condition □ keep-fit classes/exercises.
- keeping ['ki:pɪŋ] n -1. to be in sb's keeping [document, property] to be kept by sb so that it is safe □ Can we leave the car in your keeping until we get back? -2. to be in/out of keeping with sthg [rule, decision] to be based/not based on the same principles as sthg; [clothes, style] to be suitable/unsuitable for sthg □ His speech was entirely in keeping with government policy. □ In keeping with tradition, the winners will be announced in reverse order. □ The columns at the front seemed out of keeping with the style of the rest of the house.
- keepsake ['ki:pseɪk] n a small present given to somebody so that they will remember the person who gave it □ My mother gave me this locket as a keepsake.
- keg [keg] n a small barrel, especially for keeping beer in.
- Kelly ['keli], Ned (1854–1880) an Australian outlaw who committed many robberies and murders. He was eventually caught and hanged.
- kelp [kelp] n a type of large brown seaweed.
- ken [ken] n beyond one's ken beyond one's knowledge or understanding (old-fashioned use).
- Kennedy ['kenədi], Jackie (1929–1994) the wife of John F. Kennedy.
- Kennedy, John F. (1917–1963) US President from 1961 to 1963. He was shot and killed by Lee Harvey Oswald, though there are still many theories about his death.
- Kennedy, Robert (1925–1968) a US politician who was the brother of John F. Kennedy. He was shot and killed while he was trying to become president.
- Kennedy Center: the Kennedy Center a large concert hall in Washington, D.C.
- kennel ['kenl] n -1. a small hut for a dog to sleep in. -2. = kennels.
- ◆ kennels npl a place where dogs are left when their owners go on vacation; a place where dogs are bred.
- Kent [kent] a county in southeastern England, on the English Channel. SIZE: 3,731 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,520,400. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Maidstone.
- Kent State Incident n the Kent State Incident an incident at Kent State University, USA, in 1970. The National Guard shot at students who were protesting about the Vietnam War and killed four of them.
- Kentucky [ken'tʌki] a state in the southern central USA, famous for its bluegrass. ABBREVIATION: KY. SIZE: 104,623 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,685,296 (Kentuckians). CAPITAL: Frankfort.
- Kentucky Derby n the Kentucky Derby an important horse race that happens every year in Louisville, Kentucky.
- Kenya ['kenjə] a country in East Africa, on the Indian Ocean between Somalia and Tanzania. SIZE: 583,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 27,700,000 (Kenyans). CAPITAL: Nairobi. LANGUAGE: English, Swahili. CURRENCY: Kenyan shilling.
- Kepler ['keplə], Johannes (1571–1630) a German astronomer. His three laws describing how the planets move around the Sun were important for the development of modern astronomy.
- kept [kept] past tense & past participle of keep.
- kerb [kɜ:'b] n GB a line of concrete or stones that marks the edge of a sidewalk.
- kerb crawler [-krɔ:lə] n GB a person who drives slowly along a road looking for a prostitute to have sex with.
- kernel ['kɜ:'nl] n the part of a nut that is inside the shell.
- kerosene ['kerəsi:n] n a liquid made from petroleum or coal and used as fuel in heaters, lamps, and jet engines.
- Kerouac ['keruæk], Jack (1922–1969) a US writer who was one of the Beat Generation. His best-known novel is On the Road.
- kestrel ['kestrəl] n a type of small falcon that feeds on small animals.
- ketch [ketʃ] n a sailing ship with two masts.

ketchup ['kɛtʃəp] n a rich tomato sauce containing vinegar that is served cold with food kettle ['kɛtl] n a container with a lid, handle, and spout that is used for boiling water □ I'll just put the kettle on and make some coffee.

□ Would you like some tomato ketchup?

kettledrum ['kɛtlɪdrəm] n a large drum with a round bottom that is played in orchestras.

Kew Gardens [,kju:-] a large botanical garden in southwest London, England. It is famous for its collection of plants from all over the world.

key [ki:] (pl keys) ◇ n -1. [for a door, engine] a specially shaped piece of metal that is used to open and close a lock in a door, drawer etc or to stop and start an engine □ I've lost my keys. -2. [on a computer, typewriter] any of the buttons that one presses to operate a computer, typewriter etc □ Which key do I press? -3. [for a map] a list of symbols and abbreviations used in a map or diagram together with explanations of their meanings □ There should be a key at the front of the book. -4. the key to sthg the way of understanding or achieving sthg □ What's the key to success for a budding writer, then? □ Patience is the key. -5. [on a piano, clarinet] one of the parts on a musical instrument that are pressed to produce particular notes. -6. MUSIC a series of notes based on a particular note □ This song is in the key of F.

◇ adj a key industry/player a very important industry/player.

◆ key in vt sep to key sthg in [data, information] to type sthg into a computer □ First, key in the filename.

keyboard ['ki:bɔ:d] ◇ n -1. [on a typewriter, computer] the set of keys on a typewriter, computer etc that are pressed to operate it. -2. [on a piano] the set of black and white keys on a piano or organ that are pressed to play it. ◇ vt to type <text or data> into a computer using a keyboard.

keyboarder ['ki:bɔ:də] n a person whose job is to key information into a computer.

keyed up [,ki:d-] adj to be keyed up [person] to be nervous or excited □ I was all keyed up before the game.

keyhole ['ki:həʊl] n a hole in a lock for putting a key in.

keyhole surgery n surgery that is carried out through a small hole made in a person's body.

Keynes [keɪnz], John Maynard (1883–1946) a British economist. His idea that governments should spend more to keep people employed has had a strong influence on 20th-century economics.

keynote ['ki:nəʊt] n the most important or central part of something □ a keynote speech.

keypad ['ki:pæd] n a small keyboard that can be held in the hand and used for operating a calculator, television etc.

key ring n a ring that keys can be attached to so that they are kept together.

keystone ['ki:stəʊn] n -1. ARCHITECTURE the central stone at the top of an arch which keeps all the other stones in place. -2. [of a policy, ideology] the central idea in a theory, philosophy etc on which the rest is based.

keystroke ['ki:stroʊk] n COMPUTING the action of pressing a key down once on a keyboard.

Key West an island off the coast of Florida, USA. It is an important tourist center. POPULATION: 24,000.

kg abbr of kilogram(me).

KGB n the KGB the government department that was responsible for state security, espionage, and intelligence in the former USSR.

khaki [US 'kæki, GB 'kɑ:kɪ] ◇ adj [shorts, dress, uniform] yellow-brown in color. ◇ n -1. a yellow-brown color. -2. a tough cloth that is khaki in color and is used especially for making military uniforms.

Khomeini [kou'meni], Ayatollah (1900–1989) an Iranian religious and political leader. Under him Iran became a fundamentalist Islamic republic.

Khyber Pass [,kaɪbə-]: the Khyber Pass a mountain pass between Pakistan and Afghanistan that used to be the main route by land from Europe to India.

kibbutz [kɪ'bu:ts] (pl kibbutzim [kɪ'bu:t'si:m] OR kibbutzes) n a farm or other place of work in Israel where the workers live together and share all duties and profits.

kick [kɪk] ◇ vt -1. [person, ball, door] to hit <sb/sthg> hard with one's foot □ I saw him kick that dog! ■ to kick oneself to be very annoyed with oneself for missing an opportunity or for doing something badly □ I could have kicked myself when I found out. □ You'll kick yourself when you hear the answer. -2. to kick the habit to stop doing something that one has been doing for a long time, especially smoking or drinking (informal use) □ I've been trying to kick the habit for years.

◇ vi to move one's legs forcefully, e.g. when swimming □ Don't try and kick too hard.

◇ n -1. the act of kicking something □ He gave the door a kick. -2. to do sthg for kicks to do sthg because it is exciting and enjoyable (informal use) □ When asked why they committed the crime, the boys answered that it was just for kicks. ■ to get a kick from sthg to get pleasure and excitement from sthg (informal use) □ He seems to get a kick out of insulting other people. -3. to have a kick to have a strong flavor, especially because of alcohol (informal use) □ This vodka's got a real kick!

◆ kick about, kick around vi to lie unused or forgotten somewhere (informal use) □ If you're interested, I think I've got some old chairs kicking around in the cellar.

◆ kick in vi [drug, device] to begin to have an effect or operate □ If the electricity supply fails, a backup generator kicks in.

◆ kick off vi -1. SPORT [players, teams] to start a game of soccer □ The game kicks off at 3 o'clock. -2. to kick off with sthg [with a discussion, explanation] to start an event, e.g. a meeting, with sthg (informal use) □ We kicked off with a brief outline of our plans.

◆ kick out vt sep to kick sb out to force sb to leave a place or job (informal use) □ She was kicked out of school for bullying.

◆ kick up vt fus to kick up a fuss to get upset or complain loudly about something □ Tina will kick up a fuss when she hears about this.

kickoff ['kɪkɒf] n the start of a game of soccer □ 'Kickoff at 7pm.'

kick-start vt -1. to start  by kicking a pedal downwards. -2. to take forceful action in order to help  etc get started or develop quickly □ measures to kick-start the economy.

kid [kɪd] (pt & pp kidded, cont kidding) ◇ n -1. a child (informal use) □ They've got four kids. -2. a young goat; leather produced from the skin of a young goat.

◇ comp one's kid brother/sister one's younger brother/sister (informal use).

◇ vt (informal use) -1. to say something untrue to <sb> as a joke □ Don't worry, I'm only kidding you! -2. to kid oneself to allow oneself to believe something that is not true □ Don't kid yourself, he'll never agree to it!

◇ vi (informal use) to be kidding to be joking □ I'm not kidding, he must have weighed 350 pounds. □ I was only kidding! ■ no kidding! a phrase used to show one's surprise about something that has been said □ "I won it in a raffle." — "No kidding!"

kiddie, kiddy ['kɪdɪ] (pl kiddies) n a very young child (informal use).

kid gloves npl to treat OR handle sb with kid gloves to treat sb very carefully or gently because one does not want to upset them.

kidnap ['kɪdnæp] (US pt & pp kidnaped, cont kidnaping, GB pt & pp kidnapped, cont kidnaping) vt to take <sb> away from a place by force, keep them as a prisoner, and demand that somebody gives money or does something before they are released □ The three men were kidnaped by separatists last year.

kidnaper US, kidnapper GB ['kɪdnæpə] n a person who has kidnaped somebody □ The kidnapers have asked for a ransom of $2 million.

kidnaping US, kidnapping GB ['kɪdnæpɪŋ] n the crime of kidnaping somebody □ The kidnaping took place last Wednesday.

kidney ['kɪdnɪ] (pl kidneys) n -1. ANATOMY one of the two organs in the body that remove waste from the bloodstream and produce urine. -2. COOKING an animal's kidney eaten as food.

kidney bean n a dark-red bean that is shaped like a small kidney and can be eaten.

kidney machine n a machine that does the job of the kidneys for people whose own kidneys no longer work or have been removed.

Kilimanjaro [,kɪlɪmən'dʒɑ:rou:] (Mount) Kilimanjaro a mountain in Tanzania which is the highest in Africa. HEIGHT: 5,895 m.

kill [kɪl] ◇ vt -1. to cause  to die □ He tried to kill himself by taking sleeping pills. □ The plane crashed into a mountain, killing 200 passengers. -2. it's killing me it's causing me great pain (informal use) □ These shoes/My feet are killing me! -3. [hope, chances] to bring <sthg> to an end in a way that is very disappointing □ That remark really killed the conversation. -4. to kill time to pass the time by doing something unimportant, usually while waiting for something to happen □ I went for a walk to kill time.

◇ vi to cause death □ 'Smoking kills.'

◇ n -1. the kill the act of killing an animal or bird after hunting it □ The dogs moved in for the kill. -2. a bird or animal that has been hunted and killed.

◆ kill off vt sep to kill sthg off [species, plants, business] to destroy most of or all of sthg □ High prices could kill off the tourist trade. □ The character of Harvey has been killed off by the scriptwriters of the series.

killer ['kɪlə] n -1. a person or animal that kills □ The killer is believed to be a woman. -2. something, such as a disease, that causes death □ a killer virus.

killer whale n a whale with teeth whose body is white underneath and dark on top and that feeds on fish, squid etc.

killing ['kɪlɪŋ] ◇ adj [pain, work] that is very tiring (informal use). ◇ n -1. the act of causing somebody's death deliberately, usually with violence □ There has been a spate of revenge killings. □ With this agreement, the killing may at last come to an end. -2. to make a killing to make a lot of money very easily (informal use) □ You'll make a killing on this deal, I promise.

killjoy ['kɪldʒɔɪ] n a person who wants to stop other people from enjoying themselves.

kiln [kɪln] n an oven for baking bricks or pots.

kilo ['kɪləʊ] (pl kilos) n abbr of kilogram □ I've lost six kilos in three weeks.

kilobyte ['kɪləbaɪt] n a unit of 1,024 bytes of computer information.

kilogram(me) ['kɪləgræm] n a unit (1,000 grams) for measuring weight.

kilohertz ['kɪləhɜ:tz] (pl kilohertz) n a unit (1,000 hertz) for measuring radio waves.

kilojoule ['kɪlədʒu:ɪ] n a unit (1,000 joules) for measuring energy or work.

kilometer [kɪ'lɒmɪtə] US, kilometre ['kɪləmɪtə] GB n a unit (1,000 meters) for measuring distance □ I ran in a ten-kilometer road race.

kilowatt ['kɪləwɒt] n a unit (1,000 watts) for measuring electrical power.

Kilroy ['kɪlrɔɪ] a name used for an unknown person, mentioned in graffiti in the phrase "Kilroy was here".

kilt [kɪlt] n a knee-length pleated skirt, usually made from tartan and sometimes worn by Scottish men as part of their national costume.

kimono [kɪ'mɒnəʊ] (pl kimonos) n a Japanese piece of clothing shaped like a loose coat and with wide sleeves.

kin [kɪn] n → kith, next of kin.

kind [kaɪnd] ◇ adj [person, gesture] that is friendly and helpful toward other people and shows concern for them □ It's a kind thought. □ It's so kind of you to help. □ He was so kind to me when I was ill. ■ would you be so kind as to... a phrase used to ask somebody very politely to do something □ Would you be so kind as to tell me how to get to the bank?

◇ n [of person, object, animal] a group whose members have particular characteristics that make them different from others; a person, animal, or thing that belongs to such a group □ What kind of dog is that? □ Their objections were of a different kind. □ This is definitely my kind of place! ■ a kind of... a phrase used when one cannot describe something precisely but wants to give somebody an approximate idea of what is like □ They used a kind of enormous fishing net. ■ kind of a phrase used to show that one is not completely sure about something or that something is only partly true (informal use) □ "Do you miss him?" — "Kind of." □ It was kind of interesting. ■ of a kind a phrase used to show that something is of a poor quality or is not the way one wants it to be □ It's an agreement of a kind. ■ to be two of a kind to be of the same sort □ They're two of a kind. ■ to pay sb in kind to pay sb by giving them something they need rather than money □ Don't worry about cash, you can pay me in kind.

kindergarten ['kɪndə'gɑ:rtʃn] n a school for very young children who are usually between four and six years of age.

kind-hearted [-'hɑ:təd] adj [person] who is helpful and sympathetic.

kindle ['kɪndl] vt -1. to cause  to start burning by lighting wood or paper □ We crouched over the fire, kindling the flames. -2. to cause somebody to begin to have an idea or feeling □ This trip kindled in him a desire to visit his birthplace.

kindling ['kɪndlɪŋ] n dry wood, leaves etc used to start a fire.

kindly ['kaɪndli] (compar kindlier, superl kindest) ◇ adj [person] who is friendly and caring □ a kindly old man. ◇ adv -1. [speak, smile, treat] in a friendly caring way. ■ to look kindly on sb/sthg to approve of sb/sthg □ The courts don't look kindly on this type of offense. ■ not to take kindly to sthg to dislike sthg. □ George didn't take kindly to my criticisms of his work. -2. a word used as part of a request, especially to show that one is annoyed □ Would you kindly give me my book back now?

kindness ['kaɪndnəs] n -1. [of a person, gesture] see kind □ I didn't expect such kindness. -2. a helpful and kind act □ You have done me a great kindness.

kindred ['kɪndrəd] adj [ideas, subjects] similar to each other. ■ a kindred spirit a person who shares the same ideas, desires etc as somebody else □ They're kindred spirits.

kinetic [kɪ'netɪk] adj [energy, art] that is connected with movement.

kinfolk(s) ['kɪnfəʊk(s)] US npl the members of one's family.

king [kɪŋ] n -1. [of a country] a man who is a member of a royal family and who is the official ruler of a country without being elected □ King Henry the Eighth. □ the King of Spain/Belgium. -2. [in a particular activity] a person, company, product etc that people think is the most important one in a particular field □ the fast-food king. -3. CHESS the most important piece in a game of chess. -4. [in cards] any of the four playing cards with a picture of a king on it □ the king of spades.

King [kɪŋ], Martin Luther (1929–1968) a US black civil rights leader. He encouraged people to demonstrate against racism without using violence. He was shot and killed.

kingdom ['kɪŋdəm] n -1. a country whose ruler or official head of state is a king or queen □ News of her death soon spread throughout the kingdom. -2. one of the three categories into which all natural objects can be divided □ the animal/plant/mineral kingdom.

kingfisher ['kɪŋfɪʃə] n a small bird with greenish-blue feathers that feeds on fish in rivers and lakes.

King Kong [-'kɒŋ] a giant gorilla in the film King Kong, made in 1933. It escapes into New York and climbs the Empire State Building.

King Lear [-'liə] the hero of Shakespeare's play King Lear. He makes the mistake of giving his kingdom to two of his daughters who do not love him, and rejecting the one who loves him.

kingpin ['kɪŋpɪn] n -1. [in an engine] a pin that is part of the structure in a vehicle and that connects the steering column with the wheels. -2. the most important person in an organization, group of people etc.

king prawn n GB a large prawn.

king-size(d) adj [bed, cigarette] that is much larger than is usual.

kink [kɪŋk] n a twist in something, e.g. in a rope or in somebody's hair, that is usually straight.

kinky ['kɪŋki] (compar kinkier, superl kinkiest) adj [idea, behavior] that is strange and unusual and usually involves sex (informal use).

Kinsey ['kɪnzi], A. C. (1894–1956) a US scientist who studied human sexual behavior.

kinsfolk ['kɪnzfəʊk] npl = kinfolk(s).

kinship ['kɪnʃɪp] n -1. the relationship that exists between members of a family. -2. a feeling of closeness with another person or group □ I felt a strong kinship with her.

kiosk ['ki:ɒsk] n -1. a small hut on the street from which newspapers, candy etc are sold. -2. GB a telephone booth.

Kipling ['kɪplɪŋ], Rudyard (1865–1936) a British writer whose many stories and poems are set in colonial India. His best-known work is the Jungle Book.

kipper ['kɪpə] n a herring that has been salted and smoked.

Kirk [kɜ:k] n the Kirk SCOT an informal name for the Church of Scotland.

- kirsch [kɪʃ] n an alcoholic drink made from cherries.
- kiss [kɪs] \diamond vt [person, hand, lips] to touch <sb/sthg> with one's lips as a greeting or a way of showing affection \square She kissed me on the cheek before leaving. ■ to kiss sb goodbye to say goodbye to sb by kissing them. \diamond vi [two people] to kiss each other as a sign of affection or love, or when greeting each other \square They kissed passionately. \diamond n the act of kissing somebody \square He gave her a farewell kiss.
- kissagram ['kɪsəgræm] n a person, usually in costume, who is paid to visit somebody on a special occasion such as their birthday and kiss them.
- kiss curl n GB a curl of a person's hair pressed flat against their cheek or forehead.
- kiss of death n the kiss of death something that causes the complete failure or end of something \square His resignation will be the kiss of death.
- kiss of life n to give sb the kiss of life to try to save somebody's life by breathing into their mouth to make them start breathing again, e.g. after a serious accident.
- kit [kɪt] (pt & pp kitted, cont kitting) n -1. [of tools, equipment] a group of tools or pieces of equipment kept together and used for the same purpose or activity. -2. [for soldiers, a sport] the clothes and equipment used by soldiers, sailors etc and by people who play sport \square a soccer kit. -3. [for making something] a set of parts that have to be put together to make something \square a model boat kit.
- ◆ kit out vt sep GB to kit sb/sthg out to provide sb/sthg with everything they need, especially clothes and equipment (informal use).
- kit bag n GB a long narrow bag used by sailors and soldiers for keeping their clothes and equipment in.
- kitchen ['kɪtʃən] n a room used for preparing and cooking food.
- Kitchener ['kɪtʃənə], Lord (1850–1916) a British soldier and politician. His face appeared on a famous poster encouraging people to join the armed forces in World War I.
- kitchenette [ˌkɪtʃəˈnet] n a small kitchen or a part of a room used as a kitchen.
- kitchen garden n a garden used for growing fruit and vegetables in.
- kitchen roll n GB thick paper that is wrapped around a cardboard tube and used in the kitchen, e.g. for wiping surfaces.
- kitchen sink n a sink in a kitchen.
- kitchen unit n a piece of kitchen furniture, e.g. a cupboard, that is installed together with other pieces of the same type.
- kitchenware ['kɪtʃənweə] n a collective term for items of kitchen equipment such as pans, bowls, and spoons.
- kite [kaɪt] n -1. a toy consisting of a light wooden or metal frame covered in paper, plastic, or cloth, that is held by a long string while it flies in the sky with the help of wind \square The weather is perfect for flying kites.
- 2. a large bird with a long tail that feeds on small animals.
- Kite mark n GB an official mark that is put on goods that are of a high enough quality to be approved by the British Standards Institution.
- kith [kɪθ] n one's kith and kin one's friends and relatives.
- kitsch [kɪʃ] n decorative objects or works of art that are tasteless and not taken seriously.
- kitten ['kɪtn] n a young cat.
- kitty ['kɪti] (pl kitties) n -1. an amount of money given by several people to pay for something they do or use together \square It makes more sense to organize a kitty for food. -2. an amount of money provided by the players in a game of cards and taken by the winner. -3. a cat (informal use).
- kiwi ['ki:wɪ] n -1. a bird with a long beak and no wings or tail that cannot fly and is found only in New Zealand. -2. a person from New Zealand (informal use).
- kiwi fruit n a small oval-shaped fruit with rough brown skin and soft green flesh.
- KKK n abbr of Ku Klux Klan.
- KL abbr of Kuala Lumpur.
- klaxon ['klæksən] n a loud horn used, especially in the past, by motor vehicles.
- KleenexTM ['kli:neks] n a soft paper tissue.
- kleptomaniac [ˌkleptəˈmeɪniæk] n a person who has a mental illness that makes them unable to stop stealing things.
- Klondike ['klɒndaɪk]: the Klondike a river and region in the Yukon, Canada. It is famous for the gold rush that happened there in the 1890s.
- km abbr of kilometer.
- km/h (abbr of kilometers per hour) a way of measuring the speed of a vehicle.
- knack [næk] n a special skill or ability that is needed to do something difficult \square There's a knack to opening this door. \square It's easy, once you get the knack (of it).
- knackered ['nækəd] adj GB (informal use) -1. to be knackered [person] to be very tired. -2. [car, stereo, TV] that is broken or old and in bad condition.
- knapsack ['næpsæk] n a leather or canvas bag that is worn on the back and used, especially by hikers, to carry food and belongings.
- knave [neɪv] n GB a playing card with a picture of a young man on it that is below the queen in value and above the ten.
- knead [ni:d] vt [dough, clay] to press <sthg> repeatedly with one's hands in order to make it smooth and flexible.
- knee [ni:] n the joint in the middle of the leg where it bends \square I hurt my knee. ■ to be on one's knees to be kneeling; to be very tired physically (informal use) \square By the end of the day, I was on my knees. ■ to bring sb to their knees [country, government, army] to cause the defeat of sb by making them too weak to continue fighting, doing a particular job etc knecap ['ni:kæp] n the bone in the front part of one's knee.

□ The administration was brought to its knees by a series of damaging scandals.

knee-deep adj -1. [snow, water] that reaches as high as one's knees □ The mud was knee-deep in some places. -2. to be knee-deep in sthg [in water, mud] to be standing in sthg that reaches as high as one's knees □ Richard waded knee-deep into the river.

knee-high adj [undergrowth, grass] that is high enough to reach one's knees.

knee-jerk adj [reaction, opinion] that results from habit rather than careful thought □ a knee-jerk feminist.

kneel [ni:l] (pt & pp knelt OR kneeled) vi to lower one's body by bending one's legs until one or both of one's knees is resting on the ground; to stay in this position for a period of time □ She was kneeling in prayer.

◆ kneel down vi to lower one's body so that one is kneeling □ He knelt down to tie his shoelace.

knee-length adj [skirt, boots] long enough to reach the knees.

knell [nel] n the sound of a bell rung to mark a death or funeral.

knelt [nelt] past tense & past participle of kneel.

knew [nju:] past tense of know.

knickers ['nikəʔz] npl -1. GB a piece of underwear worn by women and girls that covers the area of the body between the waist and the top of the legs and passes between the legs □ a pair of knickers. -2. US loose short trousers that reach down to the knees, worn especially in the past by women.

knick-knack ['niknæk] n a small decorative object for the house.

knife [naif] (pl knives) ◇ n an object consisting of a sharp metal blade fixed to a handle and used for cutting or as a weapon □ a fish knife. ◇ vt to injure <sb> deliberately with a knife □ He was knifed in the stomach.

knifing ['naifɪŋ] n an incident in which somebody is attacked and injured with a knife (informal use).

knight [naɪt] ◇ n -1. HISTORY in medieval times, a nobleman who fought for his lord on horseback, usually in armor. -2. [as a title] a man who has been given a knighthood by his king or queen. A knight is entitled to use the word "Sir" in front of his name □ He was made a knight for his services to British theater. -3. CHESS a chess piece shaped like the head of a horse. ◇ vt to give <sb> a knighthood.

knighthood ['naɪthud] n the title or rank of a knight given to a man by his king or queen as a mark of honor □ He has since been stripped of his knighthood for spying.

Knightsbridge ['naɪtsbrɪdʒ] a fashionable area of central London that is well known for its expensive shops.

knit [nit] (pt & pp knit OR knitted, cont knitting) ◇ adj closely OR tightly knit [group, community] whose members know each other very well and often act together or help each other □ the close-knit communities of the islands. ◇ vt [sweater, scarf, hat] to make <an item of clothing> using yarn and a knitting machine or needles □ Mom's knitting me a cardigan. ◇ vi -1. [person] She sits knitting in front of the television. -2. [broken bones] to join or grow together.

knitted ['nɪtəd] adj [sweater, scarf, hat] that has been made by knitting □ a knitted sweater.

knitting ['nɪtɪŋ] n -1. the activity of knitting something □ I hate knitting. -2. something that is being knitted □ She put her knitting down on the table for a moment.

knitting machine n a machine used for knitting clothes.

knitting needle n a thin plastic or metal stick used for knitting.

knitting pattern n a set of instructions that tell one how to knit a particular piece of clothing.

knitwear ['nɪtwɛəʔ] n a collective term for clothing that has been knitted □ He's designed a new range of ladies' knitwear.

knives [naɪvz] plural of knife.

knob [nɒb] n -1. [on a door, drawer] a round handle on a door or drawer □ The knob came off in his hand. -2. [on a stick, post] a round lump used as decoration at the end of a stick or post □ a bedstead with brass knobs on. -3. [on a radio] a round button on a piece of electrical equipment such as a radio, used for switching it on and off, changing the volume etc □ Turn the knob on the left in a clockwise direction.

knobby ['nɒbi] US (compar knobbier, superl knobbiest), knobbly ['nɒbli] GB (compar knobblier, superl knobbiest) adj [surface] that has hard lumps on it □ knobby knees.

knock [nɒk] ◇ vt -1. [table, elbow, fender] to hit <sthg> with a sharp movement, often by accident □ I knocked my leg against the chair. -2. [ball, peg] to hit <sthg> hard deliberately so that it moves in a particular direction □ She was knocking a nail into the wall. ■ to knock a hole into a wall to make a hole in a wall by hitting it very hard. -3. [person, performance] to criticize <sb/sthg>, especially in a way that seems harsh or unfair (informal use) □ Don't knock it!

◇ vi -1. to knock at OR on sthg [on a door, window] to hit sthg, usually with one's hand, in order to attract attention □ Somebody was knocking at the door. -2. [engine, pipes] to make a harsh noise that shows something is wrong.

◇ n -1. the act of knocking something; the sound made by knocking on something □ They heard a knock at the door. -2. a piece of bad luck (informal use) □ She's taken a few hard knocks recently.

◆ knock about, knock around (informal use) ◇ vt sep to knock sb about OR around to hit sb hard several times □ She's been knocked around by her husband a lot. ◇ vi -1. to travel around in a relaxed way and experience different places and situations □ They've been knocking around Europe over the summer. -2. to knock around with sb to spend time with sb, usually as a friend □ How long have you been knocking around with them?

◆ knock back vt sep (informal use) -1. to knock sthg back to drink sthg very quickly □ "Let's go," she said, knocking back her drink. -2. to knock sb back a sum of money to cost sb a particular sum of money □ The new tires knocked me back $100.

◆ knock down vt sep -1. to knock sb down GB [pedestrian] to hit sb while one is driving with the result that they are hurt or killed □ He was knocked down by a car. -2. to knock sthg down [building] to destroy and remove sthg; [product] to make the price of sthg lower □ They've knocked down the old church. □ Prices have been knocked down by 20%.

◆ knock off ◇ vt sep to knock an amount of money off a price to lower a price by an amount of money □ I'll knock $6 off the price. ◇ vi [worker, staff] to stop working (informal use) □ The day shift knocks off at 6 pm.

◆ knock out vt sep -1. to knock sb out [person] to hit sb else so hard that they become unconscious; [drug] to make sb unconscious. -2. to knock sb out [player, team] to defeat sb in a competition so that they cannot compete in the later rounds □ Simpson was knocked out in the quarter-final.

◆ knock over vt sep -1. to knock sthg over [glass, bottle] to hit sthg so that it falls over □ I nearly knocked over their expensive vase. -2. to knock sb over [pedestrian] to hit sb while one is driving □ Their son was knocked over by a car.

◆ knock up vi SPORT [players] to practice together before beginning a tennis match.

knocker ['nɒkəf] n a piece of metal on a door that one strikes against the door to make a loud noise to show that one wants the door to be opened.

knocking ['nɒkɪŋ] n the sound made by somebody knocking on a door, window etc □ I can't hear with all that knocking going on.

knock-kneed [-'ni:d] adj [person, animal] that has knees that turn inwards so that they appear to touch each other.

knock-on effect n GB to have a knock-on effect to start a series of events in which each one is caused by the one directly before it □ The Bank's decision will have a knock-on effect on interest rates.

knockout ['nɒkaʊt] n -1. SPORT the act of hitting one's opponent in a boxing match so hard that they become unconscious. -2. a person who one thinks is extremely impressive or attractive (informal use) □ He/She was an absolute knockout!

knockout competition n GB a competition in which only the players or teams that win each game are allowed to play in the next stage.

knock-up n GB the period before a tennis match in which the players practice by hitting the ball to one another.

knot [nɒt] (pt & pp knotted, cont knotting) ◇ n

-1. [of a rope, shoelace] a way of fastening or tying two ends of rope, string etc together by winding them tightly around each other □ The knot in my shoelace came undone. ■ to tie/untie a knot to make/remove a knot. -2. [of people] a group of people standing together □ People stood around in small knots, observing the discussion that was going on. -3. [in wood] a hard spot in a piece of wood where a branch used to grow. -4. SHIPPING a unit (1.85km per hour) used for measuring the speed of ships □ We got up to 15 knots once we reached open sea. ◇ vt [string, rope] to make a knot in <sthg>.

knotted ['nɒtəd] adj [handkerchief, scarf, rope] that has a knot in it.

knotty ['nɒtɪ] (compar knottier, superl knottiest) adj [issue, question] that is difficult to solve.

know [nou] (pt knew, pp known) ◇ vt -1. to be familiar with  because one has met or seen them before □ I know New York very well. □ She'd known Alfred for six months. ■ to get to know sb/sthg to learn about sb/sthg □ How did you get to know each other? □ I got to know their names very quickly. -2. [name, reason, answer] to have <sthg> in one's mind and be sure that it is correct or true □ It's important to know your rights as a tenant. □ Do you know what time the play starts? □ He knew (that) he had seen her before; but where? -3. [subject, technique] to understand and have knowledge of <sthg> through personal experience or through studying it □ "Do you know German?" she asked. □ He knows an enormous amount about the army. □ Of course I know how to change a fuse! ■ to know sthg backwards to know or understand sthg extremely well □ I know my job backwards. -4. to recognize sb □ I knew her the moment I saw her. -5. to know sthg from sthg to be able to tell the difference between sthg and sthg else □ They're old enough to know right from wrong. -6. to be known as... to be called a particular name □ Stalingrad, now known as Volgograd.

◇ vi -1. to know a fact or piece of information □ "Luis is coming over next week." — "Yes, I know. He called me yesterday to tell me."

■ to know of sb/sthg to have heard about sb/sthg □ I've never met him, but I know of him.

■ to know about sthg to be aware of sthg; to have learned about sthg and understand it □ Do you know about the new guidelines?

-2. phrases you know a phrase used in conversation to emphasize something, or when one is trying to make something clearer □ You know, she's still young, it's not her fault. □ We were in the restaurant, you know, the one by the town hall. ■ there is no knowing... it is impossible to know... □ There's no knowing when this killer will strike next! ■ to know better to be sensible or old enough not to behave foolishly □ You should know better at your age!

◇ n to be in the know to have more information about something than most other people □ You seem to be in the know, maybe you can tell me what's going on?

know-all n GB = know-it-all.

know-how n the skill and ability to do something, particularly in a scientific or industrial field □ It is not just terrorist groups that have the know-how to make these bombs.

knowing ['nəʊɪŋ] adj [look, smile] that suggests that one knows about something even though one has not spoken of it openly □ She gave him a knowing wink.

knowingly ['nəʊɪŋli] adv -1. [smile, say] see knowing. -2. [hurt, betray] intentionally □ I would never knowingly cause my husband pain.

know-it-all n a person who thinks they know more than other people (disapproving use) □ You're such a know-it-all!

knowledge ['nɒlɪdʒ] n -1. information and understanding about something □ She has a great thirst for knowledge. ■ it's common knowledge that... everybody knows that... □ It's common knowledge that they're leaving. -2. the state of knowing about something □ He did it without my knowledge. ■ not to my knowledge a phrase used when one thinks that what someone is saying is not true □ "Did the accused threaten Mr Lee?" — "Not to my knowledge, no." ■ to the best of my knowledge a phrase used when one believes that what one is saying is true but that one's information may not be accurate or complete □ To the best of my knowledge, he left two weeks ago.

knowledgeable ['nɒlɪdʒəbəl] adj [person] who knows a lot about a particular subject or about many things □ Laura's very knowledgeable about local landmarks.

known [noun] ◇ past participle of know. ◇ adj a known criminal/expert etc a criminal/an expert etc that people know about □ There is, as yet, no known cure for the disease.

Knox [nɒks], John (1513–1572) a Scottish religious reformer who established the Presbyterian Church of Scotland.

knuckle ['nʌkl] n ANATOMY one of the joints where one's fingers bend or where they join one's hand.

◆ knuckle down vi to begin to do something seriously □ It's time to knuckle down to work. □ You should knuckle down to finding a job.

◆ knuckle under vi to accept that one has to do what somebody or something demands □ You have no choice but to knuckle under and get on with it.

knuckle-duster n a piece of metal worn over the knuckles and used for hitting people with.

KO n abbr of knockout.

koala (bear) [kəʊ'ɑ:lə-] n an Australian animal like a small bear that can climb trees and that feeds on eucalyptus leaves.

kohl [kəʊl] n a substance used to make the edges of one's eyelids darker.

kook [ku:k] n US a kooky person (informal use).

kooky ['ku:kɪ] (compar kookier, superl kookiest) adj US [person, idea] that one thinks is slightly strange and unusual (informal use).

Koran [kə'rɑ:n] n the Koran the holy book on which the Islamic religion is based.

Korea [kə'riə] a peninsula in northeastern Asia, between China and Japan. Since 1948 it has been divided into North Korea and South Korea.

Korean [kə'riən] n & adj: see North Korea, South Korea.

Korean War n the Korean War a war (1950–1953) between South Korea and Communist North Korea which neither side won. North Korea was helped by the Chinese and South Korea by the USA and other UN forces.

Kosciusko [ˌkɒsɪ'askoʊ]: (Mount) Kosciusko a mountain in the Australian Alps, New South Wales, which is the highest in Australia. HEIGHT: 2,228m.

kosher ['kɒʃə] adj -1. [food, meat] that is prepared in a way that is acceptable to Jewish religious laws about food. -2. [person, deal] that one thinks is honest and acceptable (informal use) □ Do we know for sure that these guys are kosher?

kowtow [ˌkaʊ'təʊ] vi to kowtow to sb to show too much respect for sb □ It's no good kowtowing to these people.

Kremlin ['kremlin] ◇ the Kremlin the castle and palace in the center of Moscow where the government of the former Soviet Union used to be based. ◇ n the Kremlin a term used to refer to the government of the Soviet Union.

Kriss Kringle [ˌkrɪs'krɪŋɡl] US = Santa Claus.

KS abbr of Kansas.

KT abbr of Knight.

Kuala Lumpur [ˌkwɑ:lə'lʌmpʊə] the capital of Malaysia. POPULATION: 1,103,000.

Kublai Khan [ˌku:blə'kaɪn] (1216–1294) Mongol Emperor of China from 1279 to 1294. The grandson of Genghis Khan, he ruled over a very large empire.

kudos [US 'kʊ:doʊz, GB 'kju:ðɒs] n praise or respect that somebody gains by doing something □ I did it for the kudos, not the money.

Ku Klux Klan [ˌku:klʌks'klæn] n the Ku Klux Klan a secret right-wing group of white Protestant people in the USA who believe that people of other races or religions should not have the same political rights as them. At meetings they wear special long white robes and pointed hoods over their heads.

kumquat ['kʌmkwɒt] n a fruit like a very small orange.

kung fu [ˌkʌŋ'fu:] n a style of fighting from China in which opponents hit each other using their hands and feet.

Kurd [kɜ:'d] n a member of a people living mainly in Kurdistan.

Kurdish ['kɜ:'dɪʃ] ◇ n the language of the Kurds. ◇ adj: see Kurd □ a Kurdish village/song.

Kurdistan [US 'kɜ:rdɪstæn, GB ˌkɜ:drɪ'stɑ:m] a mountainous region of western Asia, mainly in eastern Turkey, northern Iraq, and western Iran.

Kuwait [kə'weɪt] a country on the Persian Gulf, between Iraq and Saudi Arabia. It is a major producer of oil. In 1990 it was invaded.

ed by Iraq, which led to the Gulf War. SIZE: 17,800 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,400,000 (Kuwaitis). CAPITAL: Kuwait City. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Kuwaiti dinar.

Kuwaiti [ku'weɪtɪ] n & adj: see Kuwait.

kW, kw abbr of kilowatt.

kWh (abbr of kilowatt hour) the amount of energy produced by one kilowatt in one hour, used as a unit for measuring the consumption of electricity.

KY abbr of Kentucky.

L

l¹ [el] (pl l's OR ls), L [el] (pl L's OR Ls) n the twelfth letter of the English alphabet.

◆ L -1. abbr of lake. -2. abbr of large. -3. abbr of left. -4. abbr of learner driver.

l² abbr of liter.

la [lɑ:] n the sixth note in the scale of Western music.

LA ◇ n abbr of Los Angeles. ◇ abbr of Louisiana.

lab [læb] n = laboratory (informal use) □ a lab coat/technician.

label ['leɪbl] (US pt & pp labeled, cont labeling, GB pt & pp labelled, cont labelling) ◇ n -1. [on luggage, clothes, a bottle] a small piece of paper, cloth etc, that is attached to something in order to identify it or give information about it □ a washing label □ an address label. -2. MUSIC the name that a record company is known by □ My sister's band has been approached by a number of record labels. □ a single released on an independent label.

◇ vt -1. [luggage, sample, clothing] to attach a label to <sthg> □ The jelly can then be bottled and labeled. -2. [person, writer, decision] to describe <sb/sthg> in a particular way, often unfairly □ Ever since, people have labeled him (as) a failure.

labor US, labour GB ['leɪbər] ◇ n -1. [by a person] work, especially when it involves physical effort □ The job involves a lot of manual labor. □ The team is exhausted after its labors. □ The repair bill was $200 for parts and labor. -2. [in an industry] workers, especially people who do physical work, when they are considered as a group or a resource □ There is a shortage of skilled labor. □ unskilled labor. -3. MEDICINE the last stage of pregnancy, when the baby is pushed out of the womb □ She was in labor for ten hours. □ She went into labor at 3 o'clock.

◇ vt to labor the point to keep talking about or explaining something after one has already said enough for it to be clearly understood □ There's no need to keep laboring the point!

◇ vi -1. [workman, peasant] to work hard, especially when doing a physical task □ Teams of workers labored to get the bridge finished in time. -2. to labor over sthg [over a job, decision, letter] to spend a lot more time and effort than normal doing sthg □ The committee is still laboring over the report. -3. to labor under a delusion OR misapprehension to continue to believe something that is wrong or false.

Labor n the Department of Labor the US government department responsible for working conditions and labor relations.

laboratory [US 'læbrətɔ:ri, GB lə'brətɔ:ri] (pl laboratories) n a room or building that contains special equipment for scientific experiments and research □ laboratory equipment/tests.

labor camp n a prison camp where prisoners have to do hard physical work.

labor costs npl the money needed to pay workers, especially to produce a particular product or carry out a particular service.

Labor Day n in the USA and Canada, a public holiday that is celebrated on the first Monday of September.

labored US, laboured GB ['leɪbəd] adj [joke, writing, style] that is not natural and shows signs of too much effort; [breathing, movement] that is slow and made difficult by physical problems □ His breathing was slow and labored.

laborer US, labourer GB ['leɪbərə] n a person who does unskilled work involving physical effort outdoors, e.g. on a building site or a farm.

labor force n all the people in a particular country who are in employment or available for employment; all the employees in a particular company.

labor-intensive adj [industry, process] that needs a lot of workers.

laborious [lə'beɪəriəs] adj [task, process] that takes a lot of effort.

labor market n the supply of people available for work in a country.

labor of love n a job one does for pleasure without getting money or a reward.

labor pains npl the pain felt by a pregnant woman just before giving birth.

Labor Party n = ALP.

labor relations npl the relationship between workers and employers.

laborsaving US, laboursaving GB ['leɪbər-seɪvɪŋ] adj a laborsaving device a device that makes a job, especially a physical job, much easier to do.

labor union n US an organization that represents the interests of workers who all do a similar type of job.

labour etc n GB = labor etc.

Labour GB POLITICS ◇ adj [MP, member, voter] who belongs to or supports the Labour Party; [policy, motion] that is suggested and supported by the Labour Party. ◇ n GB = Labour Party □ Labour is OR are fighting back.

Labour Party n the Labour Party one of the two main British political parties. It used to be a Socialist party, closely linked with the labor unions, and is now a center-left party.

Labrador¹ ['læbrədɔːr] n a large dog with a smooth coat of black or yellow hair.

Labrador² the eastern part of the large Canadian peninsula that lies between Hudson Bay and the Atlantic. It belongs to the province of Newfoundland.

laburnum [lə'bʊː'nəm] n a small tree that has poisonous yellow flowers that hang on long stems.

labyrinth ['læbərɪnθ] n a complicated network of roads, passages, tunnels etc in which it is easy to get lost □ The museum is a labyrinth of underground passages and rooms.

lace [leɪs] ◇ n -1. a delicate cloth made from fine thread that is woven into patterns with many small holes □ trimmed with lace □ a lace tablecloth. -2. a piece of string used to tie up a shoe or boot □ Your laces are undone. ◇ vt -1. [shoe, boot] = lace up. -2. to lace food or drink with sthg [with alcohol] to add a small amount of sthg to food or drink □ He laced my orange juice with gin.

◆ lace up vt sep to lace sthg up [shoe, boot] to fasten <sthg> by tying the laces together.

lacemaking ['leɪsmekɪŋ] n the art of making lace.

laceration [ˌlæsə'reɪʃn] n a rough and uneven cut on somebody's skin.

lace-up ◇ adj [shoe, boot, corset] that is fastened with laces □ a pair of lace-up shoes. ◇ n GB a lace-up shoe or boot.

lack [læk] ◇ n (a) lack of sthg [of time, money, understanding] a situation in which there is none or not enough of sthg that is needed □ The project was stopped for OR through lack of funds. □ There was no lack of effort on my part. ◇ vt [time, confidence, experience] not to have enough of <sthg>; not to have <sthg> at all □ We lack the necessary equipment. □ I lack variety in my job OR My job lacks variety.

lackadaisical [ˌlæksə'deɪzɪkəl] adj [person, approach, attitude] that shows little interest, enthusiasm, or energy (disapproving use).

lackey ['lækɪ] (pl lackeys) n a person who follows the orders of somebody else without thinking (disapproving use) □ Don't think you can treat me like one of your lackeys.

lacking ['lækɪŋ] adj to be lacking to be too small in number or amount, or not available or present at all □ Good jobs have been sadly lacking recently. ■ to be lacking in sthg not to have enough of sthg that is needed or desirable □ The food was lacking in flavor. □ She's not lacking in confidence.

lackluster US, lacklustre GB ['lækklʌstə] adj [speech, event] that is not lively or exciting □ a lackluster performance by the Chicago Bulls.

laconic [lə'kɒnɪk] adj [person, reply, style] that uses few words □ This response was typical of the writer's laconic wit.

lacquer ['lækə] ◇ n -1. a substance that is painted onto objects made of wood or metal in order to give them a hard shiny surface. -2. a sticky substance that is sprayed onto hair in order to keep it in place. ◇ vt [wood, metal, hair] to put lacquer on <sthg>.

lacrosse [lə'krɒs] n an outdoor sport played with a small hard ball that is thrown and caught using a stick with a net at the end.

lactic acid ['læktɪk-] n an acid that forms in sour milk.

lacy ['leɪsi] (compar lacier, superl laciest) adj [shirt, curtain, underwear] that has lace on it or has a pattern like lace.

lad [læd] n -1. a boy or young man (informal use). -2. GB a boy or man who takes care of horses in a stable.

ladder ['lædə] ◇ n -1. a piece of equipment made of wood, metal, or rope that people climb up and down and that has horizontal steps for the feet between two vertical pieces. -2. GB a tear in a pair of stockings or pantyhose. ◇ vt GB to make a ladder in <pantyhose or stockings>. ◇ vi GB [pantyhose, stockings] to develop a ladder □ These tights ladder easily.

laden ['leɪdn] adj [person, truck, ship] that is carrying a large amount of something □ She came in laden with shopping. □ The vessel weighs sixty tons when fully laden.

ladies ['leɪdɪz] ◇ plural of lady. ◇ n GB = ladies' room.

ladies' room n US a public toilet for women □ Could you tell me where the ladies' room is, please?

lading ['leɪdɪŋ] n → bill of lading.

ladle ['leɪdl] ◇ n a large deep spoon with a long handle, used especially for serving soup. ◇ vt to pour <sthg> into a bowl, dish etc using a ladle □ The cook was ladling steaming mounds of rice onto plates.

lady ['leɪdɪ] (pl ladies) n -1. a word used instead of "woman" to show politeness and respect □ She's a very dynamic lady. □ Ask the lady if she'd like to sit down. □ Ladies and gentlemen, can I have your attention. □ Fourth floor, ladies' underwear. □ a lady doctor. -2. an upper-class woman. -3. a woman who is ladylike □ Ann's a real lady. -4. US a word sometimes used to address a woman that one does not know (informal use) □ Hey, lady!

◆ Lady n -1. a title given to a woman who belongs to the aristocracy or whose husband has a knighthood or a peerage □ Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon. -2. RELIGION Our Lady a title of the Virgin Mary, mother of Christ.

ladybug ['leɪdɪbʌg] US, ladybird ['leɪdɪbɜːd] GB n a small round insect that is red with black spots on its back and can fly.

lady-in-waiting (pl ladies-in-waiting) n a woman who accompanies and assists a queen or princess.

lady-killer n a man who is attractive to many women but upsets them by ending relation-

- ships with them after a short time (informal use).
- ladylike ['leɪdlɪk] adj [behavior, woman, girl] that shows qualities such as politeness and elegance that some people expect from women and girls.
- Lady of the Lake: the Lady of the Lake in English legends, a goddess whose hand came out of a lake to catch the sword thrown by King Arthur before he died.
- Ladyship ['leɪdʃɪp] n her/your Ladyship a title used when talking about or to a Lady.
- lag [læɡ] (pt & pp lagged, cont lagging) \diamond vi [person, country, economy] to move or develop more slowly than the others in a group \square He soon got tired and started to lag behind. \square We now lag far behind the rest of the world in new technology. \diamond vt [pipe, tank, roof] to cover <sthg> with a material that keeps heat in. \diamond n a period of time between two events that is often the result of a delay \square a time lag.
- lager ['leɪɡə] n a beer that is light in color and has bubbles.
- lager lout n GB a young man who disturbs other people by being noisy or violent, usually because of drinking alcohol (informal use).
- lagging ['læɡɪŋ] n material used to lag a pipe, tank etc to keep the heat in.
- lagoon [lə'ɡu:n] n a lake of sea water that is separated from the sea by sand banks or rocks.
- laid [leɪd] past tense & past participle of lay.
- laid-back adj [person, attitude, approach] that seems calm, relaxed, and not easily affected by problems or by the behavior of other people \square He sounded very laid-back about the prospect of losing his job!
- lain [leɪn] past participle of lie.
- lair [leə] n a hole or covered place where a wild animal lives.
- laissez-faire [ˌleɪsɪ'feə] \diamond adj [approach, policy, attitude] that believes it is wrong to interfere in the activities of individual companies or people. \diamond n a laissez-faire policy.
- laity ['leɪəti] n the laity all the members of a religious group who are not members of the clergy.
- lake [leɪk] n a large area of water in the middle of land \square the Great Lakes.
- Lake District: the Lake District a region of lakes and mountains in northwestern England, famous for its attractive scenery and for the Romantic poets who lived there.
- lakeside ['leɪksaɪd] adj [resort, complex] that is by the side of a lake.
- lama ['lɑ:mə] (pl lamas) n a Buddhist priest or monk.
- lamb [læm] n a young sheep; the flesh of this animal eaten as food \square roast lamb \square a lamb kebab.
- lambast [læm'bæst], lambaste [læm'beɪst] vt [person, book] to criticize <sb/sthg> strongly.
- lamb chop n a small piece of meat on a bone, cut from a lamb.
- lambing ['læmɪŋ] n the time of year when sheep give birth to lambs.
- Lamb of God = Jesus.
- lambskin ['læmskɪn] n a kind of leather, often with wool on one side, that is made from the skins of lambs \square a lambskin coat.
- lambswool ['læmzʊəl] n a soft wool that comes from lambs and is used for making knitted clothes \square a lambswool sweater/scarf.
- lame [leɪm] adj -1. [person, horse] that cannot walk properly because at least one leg or foot is damaged \square He went lame in both legs. -2. [excuse, argument] that shows a lack of thought or effort and is not good enough to be taken seriously \square He came up with a pretty lame excuse about the traffic.
- lamé [US lɑ:'meɪ, GB 'lɑ:meɪ] n a material containing gold or silver threads \square a gold lamé dress.
- lamebrain ['leɪmbreɪn] n US a person who one thinks is stupid (informal use).
- lame duck n -1. a person or business that continually needs help and never seems likely to succeed. -2. US POLITICS an official who has not been re-elected and is about to be replaced.
- lamely ['leɪmlɪ] adv [say, argue] see lame \square "Well, I did my best," he said lamely.
- lament [lə'ment] \diamond n something that somebody says, writes, or sings to show sadness, regret, or disappointment about something \square The poem is a lament for the loss of so many young lives. \diamond vt [death, decline, change] to express sadness, regret, or disappointment about <sthg> \square This is not the first book to lament the decline of educational standards.
- lamentable ['læməntəbl, lə'mentəbl] adj [situation, mistake, performance] that one finds very bad and unsatisfactory \square It is surely a lamentable state of affairs when a nurse has to go elsewhere to find a job.
- laminated ['læmɪneɪtəd] adj [wood, glass, steel] that is made of several thin sheets stuck together.
- lamp [læmp] n a device that produces light using electricity, oil, or gas \square a bedside lamp \square a desk/table/an oil/a gas lamp.
- lamplight ['læmplaɪt] n the light from a lamp \square I got a glimpse of her face in the lamplight.
- lampoon [læm'pu:n] \diamond vt to criticize <sb/sthg> in public by making them seem funny instead of serious \square articles lampooning the official's behavior. \diamond n a piece of writing, a cartoon etc that lampoons somebody or something.
- lamppost ['læmpəʊst] n a tall metal or concrete pole with a light at the top that stands next to a road.
- lampshade ['læmpʃeɪd] n a decorative cover of material, paper, glass etc around a light bulb.
- LAN [læn] n abbr of local area network.
- Lancashire ['læŋkʃəʃə] a county in northwestern England, situated on the Irish Sea. SIZE: 3,063 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,381,300. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Preston.

lance [US læns, GB lɑ:ns] \diamond vt to lance a boil to cut a hole in a boil to let the fluid out. \diamond n a long spear used in the past as a weapon by soldiers on horses.

lance corporal n in the British Army or US Marines, an officer of the lowest rank.

Lancelot [US 'lænsələt, GB 'lɑ:nsələt], Sir in English legends, the bravest of King Arthur's knights. He was also the lover of Arthur's queen, Guinevere.

lancet [US 'lænsət, GB 'lɑ:n-] n a sharp knife with two edges that is used by surgeons.

Lancs abbr of Lancashire.

land [lænd] \diamond n -1. [not sea] the part of the surface of the Earth that is not sea \square They traveled by land. \square It's good to be back on dry land! \square After three weeks at sea, they sighted land. -2. [for crops, houses] ground used for building or farming \square good grazing land. -3. [as property] ground that belongs to somebody or can be bought and sold \square They bought thirty acres of land. \square land prices. -4. a country (literary use) \square America, the Land of the Free.

\diamond vt -1. [helicopter, glider] to bring <an aircraft> back onto the ground at the end of a flight \square Dan had to land the plane himself. -2. [passengers, cargo] to unload <goods or people> somewhere at the end of a trip by sea or air \square They landed the cargo in San Francisco. -3. [contract, prize, job] to win <sthg> after trying for some time and against a lot of competition (informal use) \square INC have landed the Phillips contract. \square Mary's landed herself a fantastic job in California. -4. [fish] to catch  and bring it out of the water. -5. to land sb in sthg [in trouble, debt, jail] to cause sb to find themselves in a difficult situation (informal use) \square You'll land yourself in prison. \square You've really landed me in it this time! ■ to land sb with sthg [with a job, responsibility] to give sb sthg that is not wanted (informal use) \square I was landed with the job of watching my sister's kids.

\diamond vi -1. [plane, person] to arrive on land after a trip by air \square I'll be landing at JFK at 10 a.m. \square The plane will be landing shortly. -2. [bomb, ball, person] to fall onto something after moving through the air \square A raindrop landed on my head. \square She slipped and landed on the floor/on her back/in the water. -3. [ship, person] to arrive on land after traveling by sea \square We landed in Calais.

◆ land up vi to reach a particular place or state without intending to after a long trip or series of events \square Our luggage landed up in Cairo. \square If you're not careful, you'll land up in serious trouble.

landed gentry ['lændəd-] npl the landed gentry upper-class people who own land, especially people whose families have owned land for a very long time.

landing ['lændɪŋ] n -1. [in a building] the area at the top of a flight of stairs that leads to different rooms \square We always leave the landing light on. -2. [of a plane] the act of landing \square a smooth landing. -3. [for boats] = landing stage.

landing card n an official document that people of particular nationalities on a ship or plane have to fill out in order to be able to enter another country.

landing craft n a boat that can open at one end and is used to bring troops and military equipment on shore.

landing gear n the wheels and other equipment on the lower part of a plane that support it when it is on the ground, landing, or taking off.

landing stage n a wooden platform over water where boats stop to let passengers and goods go onto land.

landing strip n a long area of land that is used by planes for taking off from and landing on.

landlady ['lændleɪdɪ] (pl landladies) n -1. [of a house, apartment, building] a woman who owns a building and allows somebody to live or work there in return for payment. -2. [of a hotel, pub] a woman who runs a small hotel or pub.

NOTE: Compare landlord, tenant.

landlocked ['lændləkt] adj [country] that is surrounded on all sides by land and has no coastline.

landlord ['lændlə:rd] n -1. [of a house, apartment, building] a man who owns a building and allows somebody to live or work there in return for payment. -2. [of a hotel, pub] a man who runs a small hotel or pub.

NOTE: Compare landlady, tenant.

landmark ['lændmɑ:k] n -1. [in a city, area] something that is noticeable as part of the landscape and is therefore used when giving directions or checking one's position \square the Statue of Liberty, one of New York's great landmarks. -2. [in history, sb's life] a very important event or idea in the history of somebody or something, especially one that marks a change \square a landmark court case.

land mass n a large area of land, e.g. a continent.

landmine ['lændmaɪn] n a bomb hidden in or under the ground that explodes when somebody walks or drives over it.

landowner ['lændəʊnə] n a person who owns land, especially a large amount.

land rights npl the right to own an area of land.

🏠 LAND RIGHTS

In Australia, discussions of land rights, or the ownership of land, often refer to the important High Court decision made in 1992, when Torres Straits Islander Ernie Mabo made a land rights claim on behalf of his tribe. The judges decided that Aboriginal people were still the owners of land that had later been taken over by European settlers. This has allowed Aboriginal peoples throughout Australia to claim areas of land taken by European settlers and governments during the past 200 years.

Land RoverTM [-rouvə] n a large powerful car designed for traveling over very rough, steep, or wet ground.

landscape ['lændskeɪp] ◇ n the view across an area of land that includes hills, rivers, buildings etc; a painting of such an area □ Stephen stared out across the dull, flat landscape. ◇ vt to design  to make it look attractive and interesting, e.g. by adding different levels or planting bushes □ a beautifully landscaped park.

landscape gardener n a person whose job is to landscape gardens, parks etc.

Land's End a place on the coast of Cornwall, southwest England, that people think is the most southerly place on the British coast.

NOTE: Compare John O'Groats.

landslide ['lændslaɪd] n -1. the sudden movement of a lot of earth, rocks etc down the side of a hill or mountain □ The road was blocked by a landslide. -2. POLITICS an easy win in an election by a large number of votes □ He won a landslide victory.

landslip ['lændslɪp] n a small landslide.

lane [leɪn] n -1. a narrow road in the country; part of the name of a street □ a country lane □ I live in Cooper Lane. -2. TRANSPORT [of a road] one of the parts of a road that cars drive along, that is marked by lines painted on the road □ the passing/fast lane. ■ 'get/keep in lane' GB a highway sign that tells drivers to move into the correct lane/stay in the lane they are in. -3. SPORT [of a pool, track] one of the parts of a swimming pool or a race track marked by ropes or white lines for each competitor in a race □ He's running in lane three. -4. SHIPPING & AVIATION a route across the sea or in the air that ships or planes regularly follow.

language ['læŋgwɪdʒ] n -1. a particular system of spoken or written communication that is used e.g. by all the people in a particular country □ He speaks several languages, including French. □ animal language □ the language barrier. -2. the human system of communicating through words □ language acquisition □ a natural flair for language. -3. [of a novel, article, person] a particular way of speaking or talking, using particular kinds of words □ legal/business language.

language laboratory n a room that contains tape recorders and headphones and is used by students learning and practicing a foreign language.

languid ['læŋgwəd] adj [person, gesture] that is slow and shows no sign of effort or interest.

languish ['læŋgwɪʃ] vi -1. to suffer for a long period of time in a particular place or situation □ She languished in prison/in obscurity for many years. -2. [plant, person] to become weak.

languorous ['læŋgərəs] adj [feeling, afternoon, person] that is pleasantly relaxed.

lank [læŋk] adj [hair] that is flat, hangs down straight, and looks unattractive.

lanky ['læŋki] (compar lankier, superl lankiest) adj [person] who is very tall and thin with long legs.

lanolin(e) ['lænəlɪn] n an oily substance from sheep's wool that is used to make skin creams, cosmetics etc.

lantern ['læntərn] n a light that consists of a candle, flame, or bulb in a metal and glass container that is hung outside a house or carried on a pole.

Laos [US 'lɑ:ɔs, GB laʊs] a country in Southeast Asia, between Thailand and Vietnam. SIZE: 236,800 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,600,000 (Laotians). CAPITAL: Vientiane. LANGUAGE: Lao-tian. CURRENCY: kip.

Laotian [US lei'ouʃn, GB 'lɑʊʃn] n & adj: see Laos.

lap [læp] (vt & pp lapped, cont lapping) ◇ n -1. [of a person] the flat area made by the upper part of one's thighs when one is sitting down □ She sat on her mother's lap. -2. SPORT the distance of one complete journey around a race track □ They were on the final lap when Schulz crashed. ◇ vt -1. [milk, water] to drink <sthg> by using quick movements of the tongue □ The cat lapped the milk with its tongue. -2. SPORT to pass <another competitor> so that one has completed one lap more than them. ◇ vi [water, waves] to move gently all the time against a boat, over land etc, making soft sounds □ The sea lapped against the shore.

◆ lap up vt sep -1. to lap sthg up [milk, water] to lap sthg. -2. to lap sthg up [attention, praise, story] to eagerly accept sthg, even if it is not true or sincere □ They lapped up everything she told them.

laparoscopy [ˌlæpə'rɒskəpi] (pl laparoscopies) n an examination of the inside of one's body using a special tube with a light attached to it so that a doctor can see through it.

lapdog ['læpdɒg] n any small dog that is kept as a pet in order to look decorative.

lapel [lə'pel] n the part of a coat or jacket that folds from the collar onto the front of it □ He grabbed Joe suddenly by the lapels.

Lapland ['læplænd] a region of northern Europe, consisting of parts of Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Russia, north of the Arctic Circle.

Laplander ['læplændə] n a person who comes from or lives in Lapland.

Lapp [læp] n -1. = Laplander. -2. the language spoken by the people of Lapland.

lapse [læps] ◇ n -1. a lapse of sthg a short period of time during which one forgets sthg or stops concentrating on sthg □ a lapse of memory/concentration. -2. [in behavior] a small example of incorrect behavior, especially from a person who usually behaves properly □ I hope that you will forgive this little lapse on my colleague's part. -3. a lapse of time a period of time between two events □ after a lapse of six months.

◇ vi -1. [agreement, law, membership] to become no longer valid □ Your subscription lapsed two weeks ago. -2. [standards, quality] to be allowed to become worse; [tradition] to happen much less than before □ The usually excellent standards in this restaurant have lapsed considerably over the past few years. -3. to lapse into sthg [into silence, a coma] to gradually pass into sthg, especially into a less active state; [into bad habits] to start to do sthg, often sthg less good or desirable □ He would sometimes lapse into dialect. □ It's so easy to lapse back into old habits.

lapsed [læpst] adj a lapsed Catholic/Jew a Catholic/Jew who no longer follows or practices their religion.

laptop (computer) ['læptɒp-] n a computer that is small enough to be carried and used on one's lap.

larceny ['lɑ:ʔsəni] n LAW the crime of stealing.

larch [lɑ:ʔtʃ] n a tall tree with needles instead of leaves, and pink or red cones that become brown as they get older.

lard [lɑ:ʔd] n soft white fat from pigs that is used in cooking.

larder ['lɑ:ʔdəʔ] n a closet or small room where food is stored on shelves.

large [lɑ:ʔdʒ] adj [house, person, area] that is great in size compared to other things of the same type; [number, family] that is great in amount or quantity □ We live in a large town. □ Benefits are usually much better in a large company.

◆ at large ◇ adj to be at large [criminal, animal] to still be free, with the result that people do not feel safe. ◇ adv as a whole □ The world/country at large has a lower infant mortality rate than 50 years ago.

◆ by and large adv a phrase used to show that a statement is not completely true but mostly true □ By and large, I think you'll find most people are happy with the changes.

largely ['lɑ:ʔdʒli] adv mostly □ This is largely true in outlying areas. □ She left the company, largely because she didn't agree with their new sales policy.

large-scale adj -1. [investment, operation, damage] that involves a large area or a large number of people or things □ a large-scale rescue mission □ large-scale shipments of emergency supplies. -2. [map, diagram] that shows a small area in great detail □ a large-scale map of Bavaria.

largess, largesse [lɑ:ʔdʒes] n generosity to people poorer than oneself.

lark [lɑ:ʔk] n -1. a small brown bird that is found in country areas and sings pleasantly. -2. something that is done because it is amusing and enjoyable (informal use) □ It was a real lark! ■ on a lark US, for a lark GB as a joke. □ On a lark, he pretended he was her chauffeur.

◆ lark about vi to do silly things to amuse oneself.

larva ['lɑ:ʔvə] (pl larvae [-vi:]) n the young form of an insect, that often looks like a soft thick worm, before it changes its shape completely to become an adult.

laryngitis [læri'n'dʒaɪtəs] n a painful swelling and infection of the larynx that makes it difficult to speak.

larynx ['læriŋks] (pl larynxes) n the hollow part of one's throat in which the sounds of one's voice are produced.

lasagna, lasagne [US lə'zɑ:njə, GB -'zænjə] n an Italian dish made with large flat layers of pasta covered with meat sauce and white sauce.

lascivious [lə'sɪviəs] adj [look, person] that shows strong or uncontrolled sexual desire (disapproving use).

laser ['leɪzəʔ] n a machine that produces a very powerful narrow beam of light that is used to cut through hard materials, and in medical operations; the narrow beam of light produced by this machine □ laser surgery.

laser beam n the powerful narrow beam of light that is produced by a laser.

Laser DiscTM n a small flat disc that is used for showing television pictures of a higher quality than on videotape.

laser printer n a computer printer that uses laser beams to produce high-quality words or pictures.

laser show n a form of entertainment that uses colored laser beams.

lash [læʃ] ◇ n -1. [of one's eye] = eyelash. -2. [from a whip] a blow from a whip, especially as a form of punishment. -3. [of a whip] the long, thin, leather part of a whip that is attached to the handle. ◇ vt -1. to beat  with a whip. -2. to tie <sthg> firmly into a particular position □ They had to lash the crates to the truck to prevent them from falling off. ◇ vi to lash against sthg [wind, rain] to beat violently against sthg □ Waves lashed against the shore.

◆ lash out vi -1. [at a person] to suddenly and violently swing one's arm, leg, or a weapon at somebody in order to hurt them □ She lashed out at him with her fists. -2. [against a person, idea] to speak very angrily about somebody or something, especially publicly □ He lashed out at OR against the government in an interview on the news.

lashings ['læʃɪŋz] npl lashings of sthg [of food, drink] a large quantity of sthg (informal use).

lasso [US 'læsou, GB lə'su:] (pl lassos, vt & pp lassoed, cont lassoing) ◇ n a long rope that is tied at one end to make a circle and is thrown around the necks of horses or cattle to catch them. ◇ vi to catch <cattle or horses> using a lasso.

last [US læst, GB lɑ:st] ◇ det -1. last week/Tuesday/March the week/Tuesday/March before this present one (used with dates and periods of time) □ This year's results show a considerable improvement over last year's. □ We've been in Maine for the last four years. -2. his last girlfriend/car/job the girlfriend/car/job he had before this one □ The last time I saw him was over a week ago. □ Their policies haven't changed since the last election. -3. the last bus/page/chance the bus/page/chance that comes after all the others, and after which there are no more □ It was the last novel he wrote before he died. □ It's the last turn on the left. ■ last thing at night just before bedtime.

◇ adv -1. to arrive/finish last to arrive/finish after everyone else □ Put on your lipstick last, after all your other makeup. -2. I last saw her ten years ago I have not seen her since that time ten years ago □ The suspect was last seen driving a blue van.

◇ pron & n -1. he was the last to arrive he arrived after everyone else. ■ to leave sth till last to do sth after one has finished everything else □ I'm always the last to find out these things! □ I left the dirty pans till last. -2. the week/Tuesday before last the week/Tuesday before the one that has just ended. ■ the last but one the one before the last one in a series. ■ that was the last I saw of him I have not seen him since that particular time.

◇ vi -1. [event] to happen over a particular period of time □ The performance lasts for three hours. □ The meeting won't last long. -2. [luck, feeling] to continue □ They're happy now, but it won't last. -3. [flowers, clothes] to stay in a good condition □ My new shoes won't last five minutes in that rain! -4. [money, food] to be enough for somebody to use during a particular period of time □ The roast should last for two days.

◇ vt [money, food] I have enough cash to last me until the weekend.

◆ at (long) last adv after one has been waiting for a long time □ Free at last! □ At long last she has found a job she enjoys.

last-ditch adj a last-ditch attempt/effort an attempt/effort that is the last of several attempts/efforts before one gives up □ The Republican Party are making a last-ditch campaign to win over the electorate.

lasting [US 'læstɪŋ, GB 'lɑ:st-] adj [feeling, effect] that lasts for a very long time or for ever □ This injection will cut down the pain, but it is not a lasting cure □ a lasting peace.

lastly [US 'læstli, GB 'lɑ:st-] adv -1. lastly,... a word used to introduce the end of a speech or a piece of writing □ Lastly, I would like to thank everyone who has come along to support us today. -2. a word used to introduce the last comment, fact, question etc that one wants to make □ In the third place it is an unrealistic aim, and lastly it is too costly.

last-minute adj [decision, cancellation, goal] that happens just before it is too late □ I had to run around town doing last-minute shopping before Christmas.

last name n = surname.

last post n GB -1. the final daily collection of mail from a mailbox or post office □ What time's (the) last post on a Saturday? -2. the last post MILITARY a tune played on a bugle at funerals or to call soldiers back to camp.

last rites npl the last rites a religious ceremony performed by a priest for a Catholic who is about to die.

last straw n the last straw the last in a series of problems, unfortunate events etc that finally makes a situation unacceptable □ When he started shouting, that really was the last straw.

Last Supper n the Last Supper in the Bible, the last meal that Jesus Christ shared with all his disciples before his death.

last word n to have the last word to make the final comment in an argument □ You know he always likes to have the last word.

Las Vegas [US lɑ:s'veɪgəs, GB 'læs-] a city in Nevada, USA, famous for its casinos. POPULATION: 258,295.

latch [lætʃ] n a piece of metal attached to a door, gate, or window that fits into a piece of metal in the frame so that it is kept closed □ a door latch. ■ to be on the latch [door, window] to be closed but not locked, so that one can open it with the handle.

◆ latch onto vt fus to latch onto sb to meet sb and stay with them, especially when they do not want one to do this. ■ to latch onto sth [idea, phrase] to become very interested in sth □ The public have been slow to latch onto the slogan.

latchkey ['lætʃki:] (pl latchkeys) n a key used for opening the outside or main doors of a house or apartment.

late [leɪt] ◇ adj -1. [person, bus, flight] that does not arrive at the necessary or fixed time □ My car broke down, so I was very late for the meeting. □ Please don't be late! □ We apologize to customers for the late arrival of this train. -2. [evening, December] that is near the end of a particular period of time □ The late afternoon sun shone warmly across the garden. □ We should leave — it's getting late. □ a late night □ She's in her late twenties. -3. [supper, application] that happens later than is normal or expected □ We had a late breakfast. -4. the late king the king who has died □ The late Mrs Nuffield left $3 million. □ her late husband □ My late wife loved this park. -5. the late leader/director the leader/director before this present one.

◇ adv [arrive, wake up, work] The train pulled in 20 minutes late. □ Don't go to bed too late. □ We dine late on a Friday night. □ It was late in the day/in August before they contacted me.

◆ of late adv recently □ I've been feeling much better of late.

latecomer ['leɪtkʌmə] n a person who arrives somewhere later than other people or after the arranged time.

lately ['leɪtli] adv recently □ She's been calling me a lot just lately.

late-night adj [movie, show] that is broadcast late at night; [visitor] who arrives late at night; [pharmacist] that is open until late at night. ■ late-night opening GB an evening when a shop, library etc is open later than usual □ 'Late-night opening till 8pm.'

latent ['leɪtənt] adj [threat, anger, meaning] that exists but is hidden and not yet noticeable □ latent aggression.

later ['leɪtə] ◇ adj [date, edition, flight] that happens/exists etc at a time further in the future; that happens/exists etc at the end part of a period of time □ I'll have to catch a later plane. □ In later life she went back to learning the piano. ◇ adv later (on) at a later time □ They met up again later on at the theater. □ I'll read it later, just leave it on my desk.

lateral ['lætərəl] adj [growth, root] that is joined to the side of something.

lateral thinking n solving problems by using one's imagination to think of answers that are not obvious or expected □ a brilliant piece of lateral thinking.

latest ['leɪtəst] ◇ adj [news, fashion, book] the most recent □ Have you seen his latest movie? ◇ n at the latest no later than a particular time □ She told me to be there by 6 pm at the latest.

latex ['leɪteks] n a substance that comes from a type of tree and is used to make rubber, glue etc □ latex gloves.

lath [US læθ, GB lɑ:θ] n a long thin piece of wood that is used as a support for plaster on walls or tiles on roofs.

lathe [leɪð] n a machine that turns wood or metal around as it is held against a sharp object in order to shape it.

lather [US 'læðr, GB 'lɑ:ðə] ◇ n a light mass of bubbles formed by rubbing soap, shampoo, or detergent against something in water □ His face/hair was covered in lather. ◇ vt [hair, body] to cover <sthg> with a lather. ◇ vi [soap, shampoo] to produce a lather.

Latin ['lætn] ◇ adj -1. [temperament, character] that is connected with any of the nations that speak French, Spanish, Italian, or Portuguese. -2. [studies, scholar, language] that is connected with the language spoken by the ancient Romans. ◇ n the language spoken by the ancient Romans.

Latin America Central and South America considered together.

Latin American n & adj: see Latin America.

Latino [læ'ti:nou] (pl Latinos) n a person living in the USA whose family came from Latin America.

latitude ['lætitjʊd] n -1. GEOGRAPHY a position on the Earth, or on a map, measured in degrees north or south of the Equator □ The island lies at a latitude of ten degrees north. □ Few animals live in these latitudes. -2. freedom to do as one chooses (formal use) □ Students are allowed a certain degree of latitude in their subject choices.

NOTE: Compare longitude.

latrine [lə'tri:n] n a toilet in a place where soldiers live.

latter ['lætə] ◇ adj -1. the latter period the period nearer the end of a particular period of time □ in the latter years of the war. -2. the latter part the part that happens in the second part of a period of time; the part that was the second one to be mentioned □ the latter half of the year □ I preferred the latter part of the movie. ◇ n the latter the second of the two people or things that have been mentioned latter-day adj a word used to describe a person or place that exists now and is like a particular person or place that existed in the past □ He stood there feeding the birds like a latter-day St. Francis.

□ If I had to choose between a small house or a large apartment, I'd choose the latter.

Latter-day Saint n = Mormon (formal use).

latterly ['lætə'lɪ] adv recently (formal use) □ Latterly, things had not been going so well.

lattice ['lætəs] n a flat structure that consists of long thin pieces of wood or metal that cross over each other diagonally to create spaces in the shape of diamonds.

lattice window n a window with flat pieces of glass in the shape of diamonds that are held together by long thin pieces of metal.

Latvia ['lætvɪə] a country in northeastern Europe, on the Baltic Sea. SIZE: 64,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,700,000 (Latvians, Letts). CAPITAL: Riga. LANGUAGE: Latvian, Russian. CURRENCY: lat.

laudable ['lɑ:dəbl] adj [behavior, intention] that deserves to be praised □ I think it's very laudable of him to do it for free.

laugh [US læf, GB lɑ:f] ◇ vi to make a sound with one's voice that shows that one finds something funny, and to smile at the same time □ He laughed loudly. □ You never laugh at my jokes. □ We laughed about it afterward. ◇ n -1. an act or sound of laughing □ He gave a long laugh. □ She has a loud laugh. ■ to have the last laugh to finally be successful or be proved right after other people have criticized or laughed at one earlier. -2. something that is fun, or that is done because it is amusing (informal use) □ I had a great laugh last night. □ It was a really good laugh. ■ to do sthg for laughs OR a laugh to do sthg because it is amusing and enjoyable.

◆ laugh at vt fus to laugh at sb/sthg [person, behavior, suggestion] to treat sb/sthg as foolish.

◆ laugh off vt sep to laugh sthg off [insult, suggestion] to try and make sthg seem less important than it is by joking about it □ The man was unbelievably rude, but Simon just laughed it off.

laughable [US 'læfəbl, GB 'lɑ:f-] adj [attempt, situation] that cannot be taken seriously (disapproving use) □ It's laughable to think he can do the job as well as Ian.

laughing gas [US 'læfɪŋ-, GB 'lɑ:f-] n a gas that can make people laugh if it is breathed in, and that is used to anesthetize patients.

laughingstock [US 'læfɪŋstɒk, GB 'lɑ:f-] n to become a laughingstock to start to seem ridiculous and stop being treated seriously □ The country has become the laughingstock of the Western world.

laughter [US 'læftɹ, GB 'lɑ:ftə] n the sound of a person or people laughing □ She roared with laughter at his joke. □ I could hear the sound of laughter.

launch [lɔ:ntʃ] ◇ n -1. [of a boat, ship] the act of putting a new ship into water for the first time and making it sail. -2. [of a rocket, missile, satellite] the act of sending a device into the air or into space □ a rocket launch. -3. [of an attack, campaign] the start of something □ When's the company's official launch date? -4. BUSINESS [of a newspaper, car, book] the act of putting a new product onto the market □ We've been invited to the press launch of her autobiography. -5. a large motorboat for carrying passengers for short distances, especially on rivers and lakes or in harbors.

◇ vt -1. [boat, ship, submarine] to put <sthg> into water for the first time and make it sail. -2. [rocket, missile, satellite] to send <sthg> into the air or into space. -3. [attack, campaign, inquiry] to start <sthg> □ An appeal was launched to raise funds. -4. BUSINESS [newspaper, car, book] to put  onto the market □ The marketing department needs to know when to launch the book.

◆ launch into vt fus to launch into sthg [attack, task, story] to start sthg suddenly with enthusiasm and energy □ She launched into a lecture on the importance of manners.

launching ['lɔ:ntʃɪŋ] n the act of launching something.

launch(ing) pad ['lɔ:ntʃɪŋ] n a platform from which a rocket, missile, satellite etc is launched.

launder ['lɔ:ndə] vt -1. to wash and iron <clothing, linen> etc □ freshly laundered towels. -2. to move <money> into a bank or legal business in order to hide the fact that it was made illegally □ a money-laundering operation.

LaundromatTM ['lɔ:ndrəmət] US, LaunderetteTM ['lɔ:ndə'ret] GB n a type of shop where there are machines that people put coins in to wash and dry their laundry.

laundry ['lɔ:ndri] (pl laundries) n -1. clothes, sheets etc that are ready to be washed or have just been washed □ a pile of fresh laundry. -2. BUSINESS a business that launders clothes, sheets etc for its customers. -3. = laundry room.

laundry basket n a container where dirty laundry is kept until washed.

laundry detergent n US a chemical substance in the form of a powder or liquid that is used for washing clothes.

laundry room n a room in a house where clothes, sheets etc are washed.

laureate ['lɔ:riət] n = poet laureate.

laurel ['lɔ:rəl] n a small evergreen tree with shiny leaves □ a laurel leaf.

◆ laurels npl to rest on one's laurels to feel satisfied with one's achievements and therefore make no more effort to succeed.

Lautro ['lɔ:trou] (abbr of Life Assurance and Unit Trust Regulatory Organization) n a British organization that was set up to control the activities of life assurance companies and unit trusts. In 1994 it merged with Fimbra to become the Personal Investment Authority.

lava ['lɔ:və] n rock in a very hot liquid state that comes out of the top of a volcano and becomes hard as it cools □ molten/volcanic lava.

lavatory [US 'lævətɔ:ri, GB -ətɪ] (pl lavatories) n -1. a toilet. -2. a room or small building that contains a lavatory □ a public lavatory.

lavatory paper n GB = toilet paper.

lavender ['lævəndə] ◇ adj [ribbon, dress] that is pale purple in color. ◇ n -1. a plant that has pale purple flowers that smell very pleasant □ a bunch of lavender □ lavender water/oil/soap. -2. pale purple.

lavish ['lævɪʃ] ◇ adj -1. [gift, hospitality, person] that is very generous □ She's always very lavish with her money/time. -2. [party, decoration, suite] that shows a lot of wealth or too much wealth □ He used to entertain people on a lavish scale. ◇ vt to lavish sthg on sb [attention, affection, money] to give sthg to sb very generously or in large amounts □ She lavished gifts on her nieces and nephews.

lavishly ['lævɪʃli] adv [entertain, pay, decorate] see lavish.

law [lɔ:] n -1. a system of rules that has been decided by a government, that tells people what they can or must do and what they cannot or must not do, and that states how crimes will be punished; a part of this system that deals with a particular subject □ It looks like the bill will become law next year. □ All aliens must register with the police by law. □ contract/civil/business/divorce law □ a law-making body □ There are strict laws on party financing. ■ to break the law to do something that is illegal □ Owners who fail to register their dogs are breaking the law. ■ to be against the law to be illegal □ It's against the law to smoke cannabis. ■ law and order a situation in which the law is respected and obeyed □ Law and order must be maintained/restored. -2. a rule in a system of laws that deals with a particular kind of activity □ immigration laws □ Is there a law against smoking in restaurants? -3. (the) law the profession that is connected with the legal system and how it works □ a law firm. -4. EDUCATION the subject of the legal system and how it works that is studied □ I did a degree in law. □ a law degree/student. -5. [of nature] a natural or scientific process that always has the same result in particular conditions □ a scientific law □ the law of gravity. -6. the law the police (informal use). -7. phrases to lay down the law to give orders and insist that particular things are done in the way one wants. ■ the law of the jungle the principle that only the strongest survive or achieve anything in life and so one should only consider one's own interests.

law-abiding adj [citizen] who obeys the law □ decent, law-abiding members of the public.

law-breaker n a person who has broken the law.

law court n a place where a person who has been accused of a crime has their case judged by a jury or a judge.

law-enforcement adj a law-enforcement agency/officer etc an agency/a person etc responsible for making sure that the law is obeyed.

lawful ['lɔ:fl] adj [marriage, method] that is legal (formal use).

lawfully ['lɔ:flɪ] adv to be lawfully married/killed to be legally married/killed (formal use) □ Police officers were found to have acted lawfully in obtaining the evidence.

lawless ['lɔ:ləs] adj -1. [act, activity] that is illegal and violent □ lawless behavior □ a lawless terrorist. -2. [society, town] where laws have little influence or control and there is a lot of crime.

Law Lords npl the Law Lords in Britain, members of the House of Lords who are lawyers and who form the highest court of appeal.

lawmaker ['lɔ:meɪkə] n a person who makes laws.

lawn [lɔ:n] n an area of grass that is kept very short in a yard, garden, or park.

lawnmower ['lɔ:nməʊə] n a machine that is pushed or driven across a lawn to cut it.

lawn party n US a party that happens outside on a lawn, especially in somebody's yard.

lawn tennis n tennis, especially when it is played on grass (technical use).

Lawrence ['lɔ:rəns], D. H. (1885–1930) a British writer. His works include Sons and Lovers and Lady Chatterley's Lover which was banned until 1960 because of its descriptions of sex.

Lawrence, T. E. (1888–1935) a British soldier and writer, known as Lawrence of Arabia. He fought with the Arabs against Turkey in World War I. His best-known work, The Seven Pillars of Wisdom, is an account of his experiences in the desert.

law school n a part of a university where law is taught.

Lawson ['lɔ:sn], Henry (1867–1922) an Australian poet and short-story writer. His best-known work, When the Billy Boils, describes life in the outback.

lawsuit ['lɔ:su:t] n a case in a court of law about a problem between two individual parties, not between the police and a criminal □ She brought a lawsuit against her former employer.

lawyer ['lɔ:jə] n a person who has studied law and who gives people legal advice or represents them in court.

lax [læks] adj [discipline, security] that is not as good and as strict as is required or expected □ People here are very lax about safety.

laxative ['læksətɪv] n a medicine, food, or drink that helps to stop constipation.

laxity ['læksətɪ], laxness ['læksnəs] n: see lax.

lay [leɪ] (pt & pp laid) ◇ vt -1. to place <sb/sth> in a particular position so that it is flat □ He laid a hand on the girl's forehead. □ She laid her dress over the bed. -2. [trap, mine] to get  ready and put it in a place where it can do damage. ■ to lay plans to prepare plans. ■ to lay the table to arrange the silverware, plates, cloth etc on the table in preparation for a meal. -3. [bricks, cable, carpet] to place <sth> in its correct position and fix it there □ Fifty kilometers of pipeline have been laid so far. -4. to produce <an egg> and leave it in a place to hatch. -5. to lay the blame on sb to blame sb □ You can't lay all the blame for the mistake on the secretary. ■ to lay the emphasis on sth to emphasize sth.

◇ adj -1. RELIGION a lay preacher a preacher who does not have an official position within their religion □ a lay member of the Church. -2. [person] who is not trained in a particular subject □ My job is to make medical articles accessible to a lay audience.

◆ lay aside vt sep -1. to lay sth aside [food, money] to save sth so that one can use it later □ One fifth of the budget is laid aside for grants. -2. to lay sth aside [book, knitting] to put down sth that one is working on. -3. to lay sth aside [one's fears, doubts, beliefs] to stop feeling or believing in sth in order to make it easier to do something □ We've learnt to lay aside our differences in the interest of peace.

◆ lay before vt sep to lay sth before sb [idea, situation, case] to present sth to sb so they can approve or give advice on it □ She laid her proposal before the client.

◆ lay down vt sep -1. to lay sth down [rules, terms, guidelines] to state sth firmly or officially □ As laid down in the contract, the buyer keeps exclusive rights. -2. to lay sth down [weapon, tool] to put down sth, usually because one has finished using it □ Mr Boaz laid down his knife and fork.

◆ lay into vt fus to lay into sb (informal use) to start hitting sb violently; to start criticizing sb, usually by shouting.

◆ lay off ◇ vt sep to lay sb off [worker, employee] to take sb's job away because one can no longer pay them □ We've had to lay off a third of our staff/workforce. ◇ vt fus (informal use) -1. to lay off sb to stop treating sb in an unkind or aggressive way □ Lay off him, he's done nothing wrong. -2. to lay off doing sth to stop doing sth annoying or unpleasant □ Lay off kicking that chair! -3. to lay off sth [alcohol, cigarettes] to stop taking, using, or doing sth that harms one's health □ You should lay off smoking for a while.

◆ lay on vt sep to lay sth on [transport, food] to provide sth for a lot of people □ The drinks were laid on free by the sponsors.

◆ lay out vt sep -1. to lay sth out [clothes, ingredients, tools] to arrange sth in an organized way on a flat surface □ Mary laid the dress out carefully on the bed. -2. to lay sth out [garden, town, office] to design sth in a particular way □ The house was laid out according to the owner's specifications.

◆ lay over vi US to stop somewhere for a short period of time during a trip, usually one by plane.

layaway ['leɪəweɪ] n US to put sth on layaway to pay for sth in installments and collect it from the store only when one has paid for it in full.

lay-by (pl lay-bys) n -1. GB a space next to a main road where people can park for a short time. -2. AUS = layaway.

layer ['leɪə] n -1. [of cheese, mud, clothing] a piece of amount of something that covers a surface or is between two other things □ Several thin layers of clothing keep you much warmer than one thick sweater. □ She spread a layer of cream on the cake. -2. [of meaning, bureaucracy] one of many levels in a statement, organization etc that are all different in meaning or purpose.

layette [leɪ'et] n a complete set of things, e.g. clothes, that are needed for a new-born baby.

layman ['leɪmən] (pl laymen [-mən]) n -1. a person who is not trained in a particular subject □ the layman's guide to psychology. -2. RELIGION a person who does not have an official position within their religion.

layoff ['leɪɒf] n the act of laying off a worker □ The takeover will mean layoffs for the company.

layout ['leɪaʊt] n [of a building, garden, page] the way in which something is designed and arranged □ I can recall the exact layout of the house.

layover ['leɪoʊvə] n US a short stop during a trip.

Lazarus ['læzərəs] in the Bible, a man who died and was brought back to life by Jesus Christ.

laze [leɪz] vi to spend time doing nothing and relaxing □ She's been lazing around all day.

lazily ['leɪzɪli] adv [sit, yawn, glance] slowly and without effort □ They strolled lazily around the park in the hot sun.

laziness ['leɪzɪnəs] n: see lazy.

lazy ['leɪzi] (compar lazier, superl laziest) adj -1. [person] who dislikes work or physical activity and avoids it (disapproving use). -2. [day, afternoon] that is spent relaxing and doing very little □ We had a wonderfully lazy time at home.

lazybones ['leɪzɪbəʊnz] (pl lazybones) n a lazy person (informal use) □ Come on, lazybones!

lb abbr of pound (used with weights).

LB abbr of Labrador.

L/C abbr of letter of credit.

LCD (abbr of liquid crystal display) n [for a digital watch, radio alarm, calculator] numbers, letters etc on a small screen that become visible when an electric current passes through a special liquid.

Ld abbr of Lord.

L-driver n abbr of learner driver.

LDS n -1. (abbr of Licentiate in Dental Surgery) a qualification in dentistry, lower than a BDS. -2. abbr of Latter-day Saint.

LEA (abbr of local education authority) n the organization responsible for education in a particular region of Britain.

lead [li:d] (pt & pp led) ◇ n -1. the lead [in a race, match, election] the position that is ahead of everybody else □ Coming into the final lap, Brown moved into the lead. ■ to be in OR have the lead to be in the position that is ahead of everybody else □ The latest opinion poll results show the Democrats to be in the lead by a narrow margin. -2. [over one's rivals, opponents] the amount of time, distance, or points by which one person is ahead of the next □ The Spanish cyclist has a lead of thirty meters/seconds. □ The Wellcome Trust has a good lead over its rivals in the search for a cure for the disease. -3. [example] a good example that can help to guide other people's actions □ It's up to city hall to give a lead on housing policy. ■ to take the lead to do something first, often setting a good example for other people □ He took the lead in asking questions. □ It's up to us to take the lead in providing child-care facilities for working parents. -4. the lead [in a play, movie] the most important role □ They gave the lead to a French actor. -5. [in a case, investigation] information that may be useful in solving a crime or making a discovery □ Police sources announced that several leads were being followed up. -6. GB [for a dog] a leash for a dog □ a dog lead □ 'Please keep your dog on a lead.' -7. ELECTRICITY a wire that supplies electricity to a piece of equipment.

◇ adj [singer, actor, news story] that is the most important □ The lead story in the Times tells of the proposed IRA ceasefire.

◇ vt -1. [procession, group, crowd] to be at the front of <sth> □ The youngest members led the parade. -2. [person, animal] to take or guide <sb> to a place, especially by walking in front □ Sean led me by the hand. □ I led the dog by its collar. -3. [team, investigation] to organize or be in charge of <sth> □ How will he successfully lead such a split party? ■ to lead the way to lead people in the direction they should go; to be more advanced or more successful than other people □ You lead the way and I'll follow you. □ They seem to be leading the way toward a more united Europe. □ The Japanese are still leading the way in technology. -4. to lead a busy/happy life to have a busy/happy life □ He led a life of debauchery. -5. to lead sb to do sth to cause sb to do sth □ It was his efficiency that led her to promote him. □ She led me to believe she was married.

◇ vi -1. [path, stairs, pipe] to take one to a particular place □ This road leads through the quiet part of town. □ That door leads to the kitchen. □ This scene will lead nicely into Act Two. -2. [team, party, candidate] to be in the lead □ He is leading by 240 votes to 189 at this halfway stage.

◆ lead off ◇ vt fus to lead off a room to be joined to a room by a door □ The bathroom leads off the bedroom. ◇ vi -1. [road, corridor] to go away from a place □ The path leads off from the main road. -2. [in a discussion, meeting] to start.

◆ lead to vt fus to lead to sth to result in sth □ These measures are likely to lead to future tax cuts.

◆ lead up to vt fus -1. to lead up to sth [death, disaster] to come before and often cause sth □ The events that led up to the murder have been pieced together by police. -2. to lead up to sth [to a question, subject, request] to guide a conversation or discussion towards sthg □ You've been leading up to that for the past hour!

lead² [led] n -1. a soft, gray, heavy metal. SYMBOL: Pb □ a lead pipe/weight. -2. the long, thin, black center of a pencil □ a pencil lead.

leaded ['ledəd] adj -1. [gasoline] that contains lead. -2. [window] that is composed of pieces of plain or colored glass held in place by pieces of lead.

NOTE: Compare unleaded.

leaden ['ledn] adj -1. [sky, sea] that is dark-gray in color. -2. [step] that is slow and heavy because of tiredness; [voice, tone, heart] that lacks cheerfulness. -3. [conversation, performance] that is very dull or boring.

leader ['li:də] n -1. [of a team, organization, country] a person who organizes or is in charge of something □ He should be the next leader of the Liberal Party. □ She's a natural leader. -2. [in a race, competition] the person, animal, or vehicle that is ahead of the others at a particular moment □ She was up with the leaders going into the last lap. -3. [in business, research] the most successful person in a particular activity that other people try to follow □ The institute is a world leader in cancer research. □ ARM is the market leader in cellular phones. -4. [in a newspaper] = leading article.

leadership ['li:dəʃɪp] n -1. the leadership the people in charge of an organization, group of people, or country □ This won't be popular with the Republican leadership. -2. the position of being a leader □ He resigned from the leadership of the party. -3. the qualities involved in being a leader □ They worked well under his leadership. □ This calls for efficient leadership.

lead-free [ˌled-] adj [gasoline, paint] that contains no lead.

leading ['li:dɪŋ] adj -1. a leading writer/athlete a writer/athlete who is very important or the most important □ He's one of the leading businessmen of his day. -2. a leading part or role [in a movie, play] the main part or role; [in development, promotion] an important part or role □ Our company has played a leading role in popularizing job-sharing. -3. [runner, horse, car] that is ahead of other competitors at a particular time.

leading article n GB an article in a newspaper that states the newspaper's views on a particular news item.

leading lady n the actress who plays the main female role in a play or movie.

leading light n a person who leads or has a lot of influence in a particular group or movement □ She was a leading light in their campaign.

leading man n the actor who plays the main male role in a play or movie.

leading question n a question that forces the person being asked to answer in a particular way (disapproving use).

lead pencil [ˌled-] n a pencil that contains a lead and is used for writing or drawing in black, rather than in color.

lead poisoning ['led-] n poisoning caused by lead.

lead time ['li:d-] n the period of time between designing a product and producing it; the period of time between placing an order and receiving the goods.

leaf [li:f] (pl leaves) n -1. [of a plant, tree] one of the many flat green parts of a plant that grow on its stems or branches □ an oak leaf. -2. [of a table] a part of a table that can be unfolded or added to make the table longer. -3. [of a book] a page in a book.

◆ leaf through vt fus to leaf through sthg [book, magazine, report] to turn the pages of sthg quickly without really reading it.

leaflet ['li:flet] ◇ n a piece of paper or a booklet that contains information or an advertisement and is given free to people. ◇ vt to distribute leaflets in .

leafy ['li:fɪ] (compar leafier, superl leafiest) adj -1. [plant, tree, branch] that has a lot of leaves. -2. [lane, suburb] that has a lot of trees.

league [li:g] n -1. [of people, countries] a group that has joined together because of a shared aim or interest □ the League of Nations. ■ to be in league with sb [with the enemy, a criminal] to work with sb, usually in secret, for a dishonest purpose □ Martin, 53, is accused of being in league with the bombers. -2. SPORT a group of players or teams that play games against each other □ the football league.

League of Women Voters n the League of Women Voters a US organization that encourages women to vote and to be interested in politics.

league table n GB a list of sports clubs, schools, hospitals etc that shows them in order, with the most successful at the top and the least successful at the bottom.

leak [li:k] ◇ n -1. [in a pipe, tank, roof] a small hole or crack through which a liquid or gas can escape or enter; the substance that escapes through this hole □ The boat had a leak in the bottom. □ a gas leak. -2. [to the press, opposition] the act of giving secret information to somebody, especially to the press □ The ministry is investigating the leak. ◇ vt [news, secret, report] to tell the public, press etc <sthg that was secret> □ Details were leaked to the media last night. ◇ vi [pipe, bucket, boat] to have a leak; [gas, liquid] to escape through a small hole or crack □ My shoes are leaking. □ Where's the water leaking from?

◆ leak out vi -1. [liquid, gas] to leak from a container. -2. [information, news, secret] to become known to the public, press etc.

leakage ['li:kɪdʒ] n an amount of a liquid or gas that has leaked from a small hole or crack.

leaky ['li:kɪ] (compar leakier, superl leakiest) adj [roof, boat, cup] that has one or more leaks.

lean [li:n] (pt & pp leaned OR leant) ◇ adj -1. [person, animal] that is thin but physically strong and fit. -2. COOKING [meat, bacon] that does not contain much fat. -3. [month, winter] during which there is not much food or money; [harvest] that produces very few crops □ These are lean times for the industry.

◇ vt to lean sth against sth [against a wall, chair, fence] to place sthg so that part of its weight is supported by sthg else □ He leaned the ladder against the tree.

◇ vi -1. to bend the top part of one's body in a particular direction □ He leaned toward her/leaned forward to whisper in her ear. □ She leaned out of the window. -2. to lean against sb/sthg to stand or sit so that the top part of one's body is resting against sb/sthg. ■ to lean on sb to depend on sb for help; to use threats to make sb do something □ He leans on Jerry a lot for support. □ They were leaning on me for the money.

◆ lean back vi [in a chair, against a wall] to move the top part of one's body back, usually to make oneself more comfortable.

leaning ['li:niŋ] n a preference for a particular belief or behavior □ She has communist leanings. □ He's always had a leaning toward science.

leant [lent] past tense & past participle of lean.

lean-to (pl lean-tos) n a small simple structure like a shed that is built against the wall of a larger building, especially a house.

leap [li:p] (pt & pp leapt OR leaped) ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal] a powerful jump high in the air or over a long distance □ With one leap the dog was over the fence. -2. [in price, number, demand] a sudden large increase in amount □ There has been a tremendous leap in the number of applications. ◇ vi -1. [person, animal] to make a leap; to move quickly and suddenly □ She leapt up as he came in. -2. [inflation, unemployment] to increase suddenly by a large amount □ The price of property has leapt by 10%.

◆ leap at vt fus to leap at sthg [at a chance, invitation] to accept <sthg> with enthusiasm □ If I were you I'd leap at the opportunity to go abroad.

leapfrog ['li:pfrog] (pt & pp leapfrogged, cont leapfrogging) ◇ n a game played by children in which some bend over and others jump over them. ◇ vt to advance directly from a position below <sb/sthg> to one that is higher. ◇ vi -1. to leapfrog over sb/sthg to jump over sb/sthg as in a game of leapfrog. -2. [prices, sales] to increase by a very large amount.

leapt [lept] past tense & past participle of leap.

leap year n a year that occurs once every four years in which February has 29 days.

learn [lɜ:n] (pt & pp learned OR learnt) ◇ vt -1. [language, sport, trade] to gain the knowledge and ability to use or do <sthg> by studying or practicing it □ She's learning (how) to dance/drive/use a computer. □ I'm learning book-keeping. -2. [alphabet, song, poem] to read or hear <sthg> and make oneself remember it exactly □ Have you learned your speech yet? -3. [news, truth, facts] to find out <sthg>, especially by accident □ I subsequently learned (that) he wouldn't be coming.

◇ vi -1. to gain knowledge and ability □ I had to learn fast in that job! -2. to learn of OR about sthg [of a death, accident, promotion] to find out about sthg, especially by accident, from newspapers, private documents, conversations etc □ I was sorry to learn about his death.

learned ['lɜ:nəd] adj -1. [person] who has studied for many years and knows a lot about one or more subjects. -2. a learned journal a journal that has been written for academics, professionals, and advanced students □ a learned society.

learner ['lɜ:nə] n a person who is learning a particular subject □ This dictionary is for foreign learners of English. □ a quick/slow learner.

learner (driver) n GB a person who is learning to drive and who has not yet passed their driving test.

learning ['lɜ:nɪŋ] n knowledge gained by studying □ the learning process □ a man of great learning.

learning curve n the relationship between what is learned and how much time it takes to learn □ Initially the learning curve for users of the system is steep.

learnt [lɜ:nt] past tense & past participle of learn.

lease [li:s] ◇ n -1. a contract that allows somebody to use a car, property etc for a particular period of time and for a particular amount of money □ We have a five-year lease on the house. □ The lease runs out next year. -2. a new lease on life US, a new lease of life GB a new sense of freedom and of the possibility of happiness and success. ◇ vt [car, property] to have a lease for <sthg> □ We are leasing the offices from/to them for five years.

leaseback ['li:sbæk] n an agreement in which one person sells or gives property to another person, but keeps the right to use it in return for paying rent.

leasehold ['li:shəuld] ◇ adj [house, apartment] that can be used or owned for the length of the lease □ a leasehold property. ◇ adv [buy] with a lease □ We own the property leasehold. NOTE: Compare freehold.

leaseholder ['li:shəuldə] n a person who uses or lives in a building that is leasehold. NOTE: Compare freeholder.

leash [li:f] n a long piece of leather or chain that is attached by the owner to a dog's collar so that it cannot run away □ 'Dogs must be kept on a leash.'

least [li:st] ◇ det the least money/time the smallest amount of money/time □ I chose the dish that had the least meat in it.

◇ pron -1. the least the smallest amount □ The least it's going to cost us is $5,000. □ You've given me the least! -2. used to indicate a minimum amount. ■ that's the least of my worries I have far more important things to worry about □ Paying a fine is the least of my worries right now! ■ it's the least I can do a phrase used to reply to somebody who has thanked one □ "I'm very grateful to you." — "Not at all, it was the least I could do." □ The very least he could do is to say he's sorry. ■ not in the least, not the least bit not at all (used to say "no" or "not" in an emphatic way) □ "Were you disappointed?" — "Not in the least." □ She wasn't the least bit frightened. ■ to say the least a phrase used to suggest that the speaker feels something is much worse than they have said □ The situation is worrying, to say the least.

◇ adv -1. it's the least expensive car it's the car that costs the smallest amount compared to all the others. ■ he's the least experienced/qualified he has less experience/fewer qualifications than the others □ I knew he'd go for the least interesting option. -2. when I least expected it when I expected it less than at any other time □ Then when I least expected it, someone knocked on the door. ■ he helped me the least he gave me the smallest amount of help.

◆ at least adv -1. it will take us at least an hour it will not take less than an hour, and it will probably take longer □ It weighed at least a ton. □ I've seen it at least twice already. -2. you could at least have called me! I am annoyed because you did not call me, and in fact you should have done even more □ They might at least have let me know what time they were arriving. □ You could at least try to look interested! -3. it's cold, but at least it's not raining it is a pity the weather is cold, but we are fortunate because it is not raining □ The meal was terrible, but at least it didn't cost us anything. -4. used to correct what one has just said □ I paid it last week; at least I think I did! □ He's arriving next week, or at least that's what he said.

◆ least of all adv especially (used after negative sentences) □ I didn't want to speak to anyone, least of all him.

◆ not least adv used in formal writing to introduce an important example of something □ His novels have been reviewed in many newspapers, not least the New York Times.

leather ['leðə] n animal skin, especially from cattle, pigs, or sheep, that is treated and used for making clothing, furniture etc □ a leather bag □ leather trousers/shoes.

◆ leathers npl CLOTHING the leather clothing worn by motorcycle riders.

leatherette [,leðə'ret] n a cheap material that looks like leather □ a leatherette wallet.

leave [li:v] (pt & pp left) ◇ vt -1. to leave a person/place to go away from a person/place □ What time do you normally leave the office? □ She left Sydney for good in 1962. □ Singh left the team in 1993 to join Inter. -2. to leave sb/sthg in a particular state or place to allow sb/sthg to remain in a particular state or place after one has gone away □ I left her sitting in the car while I went to make a phone call. □ Leave the television on. □ The meeting left them feeling unhappy with the way things were going. □ You can always leave a message on my answering machine. ■ it leaves me cold it does not interest me or attract me (informal use) □ People rave about his sculpture, but personally it leaves me cold. -3. to leave sthg in a particular place to go away from a particular place and forget to take sthg with one □ I left my umbrella on the bus. -4. to leave school/home to go away from school/home and not return □ What will you do once you leave college? □ I left home when I was fifteen. -5. to leave one's husband/wife to end one's relationship with one's husband/wife and no longer live with them □ She left him and took the children with her. -6. [one's food] not to use or take up all of <sthg> □ You can leave some of your dessert if you're not hungry. ■ to leave room/a space/a gap to deliberately make room/a space/a gap □ Leave enough space between the lines to make corrections. -7. to leave sthg to or with sb to give responsibility to sb for sthg □ He left it to her to decide. □ I'll leave the children with my parents. -8. [subject, topic] to stop discussing <sthg> □ Let's leave this now and we can come back to it later. □ Leave it with me and I'll get in touch with them. -9. [property, money] to give <sthg> to somebody in one's will □ She left the house to her niece.

◇ vi -1. [person] to go away from a place □ I'm leaving early today. □ I saw him just as he was leaving. -2. [plane, boat, passenger] to set out from home on a trip □ My flight leaves in an hour. □ We leave for Australia in two months. -3. [worker, employee] to stop working in a particular place □ Jane's left to have a baby. -4. [husband, wife] to end a relationship with one's husband, wife etc □ I'm leaving for good this time!

◇ n a period of time one is allowed to spend away from work, especially in the army, navy, police etc □ All leave has been canceled. □ I've got a week's leave. ■ to be on leave to be away from work or on vacation.

◆ leave behind vt sep -1. to leave sb/sthg behind to go away from sb/sthg □ When he went to work in Saudi Arabia he had to leave his family behind. -2. to leave sthg behind to forget to take or bring sthg □ Damn, I've left my keys behind at the office.

◆ leave off ◇ vt fus -1. to leave off doing sthg to stop doing sthg □ Why don't you leave off criticizing me for a change? -2. to leave sb/sthg off a list not to include sb/sthg in a list □ They'd left my name off the list of candidates. ◇ vi to stop doing something □ We'll just carry on reading from where we left off.

◆ leave out vt sep to leave sb/sthg out [fact, information, person] to deliberately not include sb/sthg □ We left out the part about his childhood because we were short of space. □ I always feel left out when they start talking about golf.

leave of absence n permission to be away from work for a period of time and for a particular reason □ He's been given or granted leave of absence.

leaves [li:vz] plural of leaf.

Lebanese [,lebə'ni:z] (pl Lebanese) n & adj: see Lebanon.

Lebanon ['lebanən] a country in the Middle East, on the Mediterranean, north of Israel. Its economy was badly damaged by civil wars in the 1970s and 1980s. SIZE: 10,400 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,600,000 (Lebanese). CAPI-TAL: Beirut. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Lebanese pound.

lecherous ['letʃərəs] adj [man] who shows by his behavior toward women that he is only interested in them sexually (disapproving use) □ lecherous behavior.

lechery ['letʃəri] n lecherous behavior (disapproving use).

Le Corbusier [US lə,kɔ:rbuz'jeɪ, GB ləkə:'bu:ziɪɪ] (1887–1965) a French architect and city planner, born in Switzerland. He pioneered the use of concrete, and based his designs on human proportions.

lectern ['lektə'n] n a small, often high, sloping table on which a book or papers can be placed when one is reading or speaking in front of an audience or congregation.

lecture ['lektʃə] ◇ n -1. [at a university, conference] a long talk on a particular subject, especially used as a method of teaching in colleges and universities □ a history lecture □ a lecture on business management. ■ to give a lecture to stand in front of a group of people and talk to them about a particular subject. -2. [to a child, pupil] an act of criticizing given to somebody about something they have done, especially when this involves an annoying long speech □ We were given a long lecture on how to behave.

◇ vt [child, pupil] to give <sb> a lecture □ I'm not going to lecture you on what happened.

◇ vi [at university, college] to teach; [at a conference] to give a talk □ He lectures on/in physics.

lecture hall n a large room where lectures are held, e.g. at a university.

lecturer ['lektʃərə] n -1. a person who gives lectures at conferences, societies etc □ a guest lecturer on French wines. -2. GB EDUCATION a person who teaches at a college, university etc □ a lecturer in Economic History.

lecture theater n GB = lecture hall.

led [led] past tense & past participle of lead.

LED n abbr of light-emitting diode.

ledge [ledʒ] n -1. a narrow shelf, especially one that is found at the bottom of a window □ a window ledge. -2. a flat narrow piece of rock on the side of a mountain or cliff □ a mountain ledge.

ledger ['ledʒə] n a book in which the amounts of money spent and received by a company or bank are noted down □ a bank ledger □ a sales ledger.

lee [li:] n in the lee of sthg [of a rock, wall] sheltered by sthg, especially from strong winds or bad weather.

Lee [li:], Robert E. (1807–1870) a US general. He commanded the Confederate States army in the American Civil War.

leech [li:tʃ] n -1. a small creature that looks like a worm, lives in wet areas, and attaches itself to animals in order to feed off their blood. -2. a person who uses another person, especially in order to get money (disapproving use).

leek [li:k] n a vegetable with a long white stem and long, thick, green leaves that belongs to the onion family. It is the national symbol of Wales.

leer [liə] ◇ n an unpleasant or threatening smile or look, often showing sexual interest in somebody. ◇ vi to look at somebody with a leer □ They leered at her menacingly.

leeway ['li:wei] n -1. the freedom one has to make changes to a plan □ There's no leeway in this schedule at all. □ A quarter of an hour should be enough leeway. -2. to make up leeway to work hard to reach the level or stage of work that one should have reached already.

left [left] ◇ past tense & past participle of leave. ◇ adj -1. that remains after everything else has gone or been used □ Do you have any money left? □ We only have two matches left. □ There's no milk left. □ Unfortunately this is all that is left of his fortune. -2. [foot, side] that relates to the side of the body in which the heart is found □ the Left Bank of the Rhine □ My left eye is stronger than my right.

◇ adv [turn] toward the left side □ Look left and right before crossing the road. □ 'Keep left'.

◇ n on/to the left on/toward the left side of something □ In Britain they drive on the left. □ The house is on the left after the video store. □ On your left you can see another of Wren's churches. ■ on OR to the left of sthg that is on the left side of sthg □ It's on the left of the post office.

◆ Left n the Left POLITICS people, especially political parties, who believe that money and power should be shared more fairly in society.

left-hand adj [lane, page] that is on the left side of something. ■ the left-hand side the side that is on the left of something or somebody □ If you're facing the church, the school is on the left-hand side. □ He wrote the correction on the left-hand side of the page.

left-hand drive GB ◇ adj [car, truck] that has the steering wheel on the left-hand side. ◇ n a left-hand drive vehicle.

left-handed [-'hændəd] ◇ adj -1. [person] who naturally uses their left hand rather than their right one to do most things. -2. [scissors, pen] that has been made for a left-handed user. -3. a left-handed compliment US a compliment that could easily be understood as an insult. ◇ adv [play, write, bowl] using one's left hand.

left-hander [-'hændə] n a person who naturally uses their left hand to do most things.

Leftist ['leftɪst] ◇ adj POLITICS [idea, tendency] supporting all or some Socialist beliefs. ◇ n a Socialist.

left luggage (office) n GB a place in a train or bus station where people can pay to leave their luggage safely for a limited period of time.

leftover ['leftəʊvə] adj [fabric, food, money] that remains after what is needed has been used or taken.

◆ leftovers npl food that remains after a meal.

left wing n the left wing the members of a political group whose ideas are closer to Socialism than those of the other members.

- ◆ left-wing adj [person, party] that supports all or some Socialist beliefs □ He's very left-wing.
□ a left-wing activist/newspaper.

NOTE: Compare right wing.

left-winger n a person who is left-wing.

lefty ['lefti] (pl lefties) n US a person who is left-handed, especially a sportsperson.

leg [leg] n -1. [of a person, animal, insect] one of the long parts of the body, used for walking, standing etc, that join the foot to the body □ The bird had broken its leg. ■ to be on one's last legs [machine, organization] to be near the point of collapse or failure; [person] to be close to dying, or very tired. ■ you don't have a leg to stand on you don't have a strong argument to justify what you have done or want to do. ■ to pull sb's leg to tease sb in a friendly way by trying to make them believe something that is not true □ Don't listen to him, he's only pulling your leg!
-2. CLOTHING one of the two parts of a pair of trousers that cover one's legs □ a trouser leg. -3. COOKING [of chicken, pork] the part of an animal's leg used as food □ a chicken leg OR a leg of chicken. -4. [of a table, chair] one of the thin vertical parts of a piece of furniture that touch the floor and on which it stands □ a chair/table leg. -5. [of a trip, tournament, tour] one particular part of something □ The final leg of the visit was to Scotland.

legacy ['legəsi] (pl legacies) n -1. a gift of money or property that one receives after somebody's death. -2. something that is caused and left behind by somebody or something that no longer exists □ Such attitudes are a legacy of our colonial past.

legal ['li:gl] adj -1. [system, profession, proceedings] that is connected with the law □ We've decided to seek legal advice. -2. [requirement, obligation] that is allowed or made necessary by law □ It is perfectly legal for EU citizens to work in this country. □ I am the legal owner of this car.

legal action n the use of the law, with the services of a lawyer, to defend one's rights □ They're threatening legal action. ■ to take legal action against sb to prosecute sb.

legal aid n money given by the government to people who cannot afford to pay for the services of a lawyer.

legal holiday n US a day of the year in a particular country when most people do not work.

legality [li:'gæləti] n [of situation, decision] the state of being allowed by law □ I sometimes worry about the legality of the whole operation.

legalize, -ise [li:'gəlaɪz] vt [drugs, abortion] to make legal <sthg that was previously illegal>.

legally ['li:gəli] adv [separated, adopted] in a way that has been made official by law □ He was held legally responsible for the accident. ■ legally binding [contract, agreement] that is official and must be obeyed when it has been signed □ Are you sure this is legally binding?

legal tender n any money that is part of the official currency in a particular country.

legation [li:'geɪʃn] n a group of people who work for and represent their government in another country; the building where these people work.

legend ['ledʒənd] n -1. an old story about magical or mysterious events, often involving a particularly brave person; these stories considered as a whole □ the legend of the Holy Grail □ According to legend, a giant once lived here. -2. a person who has become very well-known, usually over a period of time and because of a particular talent □ a legend in the world of rock music □ She's a living legend.

legendary [US 'ledʒəndəri, GB -əndəri] adj -1. [king, monster] that appears in a legend. -2. [musician, place] that is very famous and often talked about, especially because of a particular quality □ the legendary blues guitarist, B. B. King.

leggings ['legɪŋz] npl a pair of trousers made of stretchy material that fit very closely to the body and are usually worn by women.

leggy ['legi] (compar leggier, superl leggiest) adj -1. [person] who is tall and has very long legs □ a leggy blonde. -2. [plant, bush] that has long weak stems.

legible ['ledʒəbl] adj [handwriting, print] that is clear and easy to read.

legibly ['ledʒəblɪ] adv [write] see legible.

legion ['li:dʒən] ◇ n -1. MILITARY a large group of soldiers who train and fight together □ the Foreign Legion. -2. [of supporters, visitors] a very large group of people. ◇ adj to be legion to be very numerous (formal use).

legionnaire's disease [,li:dʒə'neə'z] n a serious infectious disease of the lungs that can cause death.

legislate ['ledʒəsleɪt] vi [government, parliament, senate] to make new laws to control a particular activity □ They are about to legislate against strike action.

legislation [,ledʒəs'leɪʃn] n a law or group of laws made by the government; the act of making these laws □ They've introduced new legislation banning smoking on buses. □ a piece of legislation □ The problem of rising crime cannot be solved simply by legislation.

legislative ['ledʒəsleɪtɪv] adj [body, process, power] that is concerned with making laws.

Legislative Assembly n in Australia, the upper house of most state parliaments.

Legislative Council n in Australia, the lower house of most state parliaments.

legislator ['ledʒəsleɪtə] n a person who is involved in making laws.

legislature ['ledʒəsleɪtʃə] n a group of people in a country who have the power to make laws.

legitimacy [li:'dʒɪtəməsi] n [of a government, complaint, child] see legitimate.

legitimate [li:'dʒɪtəmət] adj -1. [action, government, business] that is allowed by the law □ You must have a legitimate reason for being in

- the building after 6 pm. -2. [complaint, argument, question] that is reasonable and follows accepted rules, facts etc □ I think that's a perfectly legitimate point to make. -3. [child] who is born to parents who are legally married to each other.
- legitimately [lɪ'dʒɪtəmətli] adv [act, complain] see legitimate □ It could legitimately be argued that the tests are unnecessary.
- legitimize, -ise [lɪ'dʒɪtəmaɪz] vt -1. [action, behavior, process] to make <sthg> legitimate. -2. [child] to make <sb> legitimate, especially by the marriage of the parents.
- legroom ['leɪru:m] n the space available for one's legs when one is sitting in a vehicle, theater etc.
- leg-warmers [-wɔ:ˈmɔ:z] npl pieces of woolen clothing that are worn on the lower part of one's legs and are thick and warm.
- legwork ['legwɜ:k] n to do the legwork to do all the hard, boring, or time-consuming work involved in preparing something.
- Leibnitz ['laɪbnɪts], Gottfried Wilhelm (1646–1716) a German philosopher and mathematician.
- Leicestershire ['lestəʃə] a county in central England. SIZE: 2,553 sq kms. POPULATION: 879,400. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Leicester.
- Leicester Square [ˌlestəˈsɔ:] a square in central London with many large movie theaters.
- Leics abbr of Leicestershire.
- leisure [US 'li:ʒr, GB 'leɪzə] n time that is spent relaxing and doing what one enjoys when one is not working □ a leisure activity/facility. ■ at (one's) leisure without hurrying and at a convenient time □ I don't need it back yet, read it at your leisure.
- leisure centre n GB a building with many sports and social facilities for the public.
- leisurely [US 'li:ʒrli, GB 'leɪzəli] ◇ adj [pace, stroll, movement] that is relaxed and not hurried □ We had a leisurely chat/drink. ◇ adv [stroll, walk] They drove leisurely along the coast.
- leisure time n time when one is not working or studying and is free to enjoy oneself □ What do you do in your leisure time?
- lemming ['lemɪŋ] n -1. a northern and Arctic animal that looks like a mouse with a short tail. Lemmings are believed to rush into the sea in large numbers and drown during migration. -2. a person who does whatever another person says or does, especially when this results in something bad or harmful.
- lemon ['lemən] n -1. an oval fruit grown in warm countries, with a thick bright-yellow skin and sour juicy flesh □ a slice of lemon □ lemon cheesecake/sorbet. -2. a sweet drink that tastes of lemon.
- lemonade [ˌleməˈneɪd] n -1. a drink made from fresh lemon juice, sugar, and water. -2. GB a sweet fizzy drink that tastes of lemon.
- lemon curd [-ˈkɜ:ɪd] n GB a thick sweet mixture of lemon juice, eggs, and butter that is cooked and, when cold, spread on bread.
- lemon juice n the juice from a lemon.
- lemon sole n a flat fish that lives in the sea and can be eaten.
- lemon squeezer [-skwi:zə] n a device used for squeezing lemons in order to get juice from them.
- lemon tea n a drink of tea to which lemon juice and not milk has been added.
- lend [lend] (pt & pp lent) vt -1. [money, book, car] to let somebody use or have <sthg that belongs to one> for a period of time □ Can you lend me $5? □ The library also lends cassettes to its members. -2. [support, advice, assistance] to give <sthg> to somebody because they need it. ■ to lend sb a hand to help sb do something, usually when it involves physical effort □ Could you lend me a hand with this suitcase, please? -3. to lend sthg to sthg [quality, force, color] to add sthg to sthg □ The music lent a strange melancholy to the scene. -4. phrase it doesn't lend itself to that it is not suitable for that purpose □ The book doesn't lend itself easily to adaptation for TV.
- lender ['lendə] n a person or organization that lends money.
- lending library ['lendiŋ-] n a public library that lends books, records, cassettes etc.
- lending rate n the interest that one has to pay if one borrows money from a bank, savings and loan association etc □ The current lending rate is 10%.
- length [leŋθ] n -1. [of a room, somebody's hair, a rope] the measurement of something from one end to the other, or along its longest side □ "What length is it?" — "6 foot." □ The trousers come in three different lengths. ■ in length a phrase used after measurements to show how long something is □ The car is 3 meters in length. -2. the length of sthg the whole distance from one end or side of sthg to the other □ He walked the length of the town/street/room. ■ the length and breadth of a place across the whole area of a place □ My parents traveled the length and breadth of Italy. -3. SPORT the distance from one end of a swimming pool to the other □ She swims 30 lengths a day. -4. a length of sthg [of string, wood, cloth] a long thin piece of sthg □ Can you cut me four lengths of tape? -5. [of a period, stay] the amount of time that an event, activity, or situation continues for □ It took them an extraordinary length of time to answer the question. □ The length of her visits increased as the weeks went by. -6. [of a letter, program, movie] the number of words in something or the amount of information, images etc it contains □ It's the sheer length of his books that I find so off-putting. -7. to go to great lengths to do sthg to try very hard to do sthg, often using a number of methods □ I'd go to any lengths to prove his innocence.
- ◆ at length adv -1. [speak, discuss] in detail; for a long time □ They spoke at great length about the economic crisis. -2. eventually □ We fell silent. At length, she spoke.
- lengthen ['leŋθən] ◇ vt [life, skirt, platform] to make <sthg> longer □ I'll have to get these trousers lengthened. ◇ vi [day, shadow, night] to become longer □ The intervals between visits seemed to lengthen.

lengthways ['lɛŋθweɪz], lengthwise ['lɛŋθwaɪz] adv [cut, slice, fold] in a direction along the length of something □ Lie the slats lengthways across the frame.

lengthy ['lɛŋθi] (compar lengthier, superl lengthiest) adj -1. [visit, delay, process] that lasts a long time. -2. [discussion, document] that is very long, detailed, and often boring □ He went into lengthy justifications for his behavior.

leniency ['li:njənsi] n: see lenient □ You will not be treated with such leniency if you offend again.

lenient ['li:njənt] adj [person] who is not as severe as one expected, especially when giving a punishment; [punishment, law, sentence] that is not as severe as one expected □ She believes judges are too lenient with sex offenders.

Lenin ['lenɪn], Vladimir Ilyich (1870–1924) a Russian revolutionary leader, who was the first head of state of the Soviet Union, from 1918 to 1924.

lens [lenz] n -1. [in glasses, a camera, microscope] a small piece of curved glass or plastic that makes an object look bigger, clearer etc when one looks through it □ a camera lens □ thick/coated/tinted lenses. -2. = contact lens. -3. the curved clear part of the eye, behind the pupil, that directs light onto the retina.

lent [lent] past tense & past participle of lend.

Lent n the period of 40 days before Easter during which some Christians give up something they enjoy, e.g. eating particular types of food.

lentil ['lentl] n a small, round, brown or green seed that is dried, splits easily into two halves, and is eaten after it has been cooked □ lentil soup.

Leo ['li:ou] n a sign of the zodiac, represented by a lion; a person born under this sign between July 23 and August 22.

Leonardo da Vinci [li:ə,nɑ:'dɔudə'vɪntʃi] (1452–1519) an Italian artist, architect, and scientist. He is considered one of the greatest artists of the Renaissance. His best-known painting is the Mona Lisa.

leopard ['lepərd] n a large wild cat that has yellow fur with black spots and lives in Africa and southern Asia.

leopardess ['lepərdes] n a female leopard.

leotard ['li:ətɑ:d] n a piece of clothing, especially for women, that fits tightly over all the main part of the body except for the legs and is used for dancing and exercising.

leper ['lepə] n a person who has leprosy □ a leper colony.

leprechaun ['leprəkəʊn] n a creature in Irish legends that looks like a little old man and is dressed in green.

leprosy ['leprəsi] n an infectious disease in which the nerves, muscles, and bones are gradually destroyed, and the skin becomes damaged.

lesbian ['lezbɪən] ◇ n a woman who is sexually attracted to other women and not to men. ◇ adj [woman, relationship, publication] gay and lesbian rights.

lesbianism ['lezbɪənɪzəm] n: see lesbian □ Lesbianism has become more widely accepted in recent years.

lesion ['li:ʒn] n a wound or injury (medical use).

Lesotho [lə'su:tu:] a mountainous country in southern Africa that is entirely surrounded by South Africa. SIZE: 30,355 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,800,000 (Basotho, Lesothans). CAPITAL: Maseru. LANGUAGE: Sesotho, English. CURRENCY: loti.

less [les] (compar of little, a little) ◇ det -1. less money/time not as much money/time □ It contains less sugar than other kinds of fruit juice. -2. less people/cars not as many people/cars (informal use) □ I need less hours of sleep than before.

◇ pron a smaller amount □ I'm earning far less now. □ You can buy one for $20 or less. □ This plan presents much less of a risk. □ I see a lot less of him these days.

◇ adv less expensive/difficult not as expensive/difficult as before; not as expensive/difficult as something else □ She's less overworked than she was in her old job. □ We need to spend less and save more. □ I see them less often these days.

◇ prep minus □ The pay is $30,000 a year, less tax.

◆ less and less ◇ det less and less money an amount of money which is always becoming smaller □ As the war went on, there was less and less food available. ◇ pron: We seem to have less and less in common. ◇ adv: Throughout the summer his visits became less and less frequent.

◆ less than ◇ prep not as much as a particular number or amount □ He weighed less than six pounds when he was born. □ It's less than a mile from here. ◇ adv less than ideal/satisfied not at all ideal/satisfied □ I'm less than happy with the existing arrangements.

lessee [le'si:] n a person who pays money for the lease of a building or land to the owner of the building or land (formal use).

lessen ['lesn] ◇ vt [risk, pain, effect] to make <sth> smaller in degree or amount □ His habitual rudeness lessened his chances of success. ◇ vi [emotion, pain, amount] Over the years her resentment toward him lessened.

lesser ['lesə] adj that is smaller in degree, value, or importance □ A lesser man would have given up long ago. □ the lesser of two evils. ■ to a lesser extent OR degree a phrase used to show that one thing is less affected by something than another thing is □ Computerization of the office has changed my daily routine and, to a lesser extent, my workload.

lesson ['lesn] n -1. a period of time during which one is taught a particular subject □ a French/driving/piano lesson □ I have a lesson in art history tomorrow. ■ to give lessons to teach somebody something in regular, especially private, lessons. ■ to have OR take lessons to be given lessons, especially private ones.

-2. [from an accident, defeat, failure] an experience that teaches somebody why something is wrong, dangerous etc □ Let that be a lesson to you. □ It seems he still hasn't learned his lesson. ■ to teach sb a lesson to punish sb for something in order to prevent them from doing it again □ I'm going to teach you a lesson you won't forget!

lessor [le'sɔ:ɹ] n a person to whom money is paid for the lease of a building or land that they own by the person using it (formal use).

lest [lest] conj in case (formal use) □ The people involved were sworn to secrecy lest news of the disaster should get out.

let [let] (pt & pp let, cont letting) ◇ aux vb
 -1. let's OR let us do sthg a phrase used to make suggestions which include the speaker □ Let's have a party! □ "Do you want to go out tonight?" — "Oh yes, let's." □ Let's not invite them! □ Let us look at the various options open to us. -2. let me do sthg used in polite offers of help, requests etc □ Let me carry those bags for you. □ Let me end by thanking our hosts. ■ let me see, let's see, let me think used when hesitating while trying to remember something or work something out □ Now, let's see, where was I?

◇ vt -1. to let sb do sthg to allow sb to do sthg □ Don't let him boss you around! □ Why not let John have a look at your car? ■ to let sb through/past etc to allow sb to go through/past etc □ We arrived at the airport late, but they let us on the plane. -2. to let sthg happen to allow sthg to happen and not do anything to stop it □ Try not to let it upset you too much. -3. to let go of sb/sthg to stop holding sb/sthg □ Let go of me/my arm! -4. to let sb go to allow sb to leave or escape □ The police let him go after questioning. -5. to let sb go [employee] to fire sb (polite use) □ We've had to let her go. -6. to let sb know sthg [news, information] to tell sb sthg □ Just let us know what time you'll be arriving. -7. [house, room] to rent  to somebody □ We let our cottage to friends in the summer. □ 'For let' US, 'To let' GB this building is available for renting.

◆ let alone prep we're not even engaged, let alone married we are not married, which is not surprising because we are not even engaged □ I can't afford a dishwasher, let alone a car!

◆ let down vt sep -1. to let sb down to disappoint sb by not doing something that one should have done □ I feel that I've let the company down badly. -2. to let a piece of clothing down [dress, sleeves] to make a piece of clothing longer □ I'll have to let the hem down on your skirt.

◆ let in vt sep to let sb/sthg in to allow sb/sthg to come into a place, usually a house □ Open the door and let me in!

◆ let in for vt sep to let oneself in for sthg to become involved in sthg unpleasant □ I didn't know what I was letting myself in for, marrying a man like him.

◆ let in on vt sep to let sb in on sthg to tell sb about sthg that is a secret from most people

□ They were all laughing, but they wouldn't let me in on the joke.

◆ let off vt sep -1. to let sb off sthg [off a duty, task] to allow sb not to do sthg that they were supposed to do □ Mr Rimmer let me off gym because I had a bad ankle. -2. to let sb off [criminal, schoolchild] not to punish sb, or to punish them less than was expected □ He was found guilty but was let off with a warning.

-3. to let sthg off [bomb, fireworks] to make sthg explode.

◆ let on vi to tell somebody something that is supposed to be a secret □ Whatever you do, don't let on about the party.

◆ let out vt sep -1. to let sb/sthg out [prisoner, pet] to allow sb/sthg to leave a place □ Have you let the cat out? -2. to let water/air etc out to allow water/air etc to leave something □ Somebody let the air out of my bicycle tires. -3. to let out a groan/cry etc to groan/cry etc loudly and suddenly □ The dog let out a yelp. -4. to let a dress/skirt etc out to make a dress/skirt etc wider.

◆ let up vi [heat, rain] to become less strong or stop □ There's no sign of the bad weather letting up.

letdown ['letdaʊn] n something that is not as good as one had expected (informal use) □ The concert was a real letdown.

lethal ['li:θl] adj [weapon, substance] that is very dangerous because it can kill somebody or something □ a lethal dose of heroin □ The recent legislation has dealt a lethal blow to small investors.

lethargic [lə'θɑ:ɹdʒɪk] adj [person] who has no energy and does not want to do anything □ The next day I got out of bed but I still felt weak and lethargic.

lethargy ['leθədʒɪ] n a lethargic feeling □ I couldn't believe the atmosphere of lethargy there was in that office.

LetrasetTM ['letrəset] n sheets of special paper with printed letters and symbols that can be transferred onto paper by rubbing them.

let's [lets] = let us.

letter ['letə] n -1. a message from one person or company to another that is written or printed, and is usually sent by mail in an envelope □ He wrote them a letter of complaint. □ We'll confirm the order by letter. -2. any one of the written symbols that are used to write words and that represent different sounds □ "Christmas" starts with the letter "c".

◆ letters npl literature (formal use) □ a man of letters.

◆ to the letter adv exactly □ I followed all his instructions to the letter.

letter bomb n a small bomb inside an envelope or package that is sent to somebody by mail and is designed to explode when it is opened.

letterbox ['letə'bɒks] n GB -1. a rectangular hole in a front door or in the wall of a building which mail is delivered through; a box with a rectangular hole where a person's mail is placed so that they can collect it. -2. a large container in a street, post office etc that has a rectangular hole near the top and which mail is placed into so that it will be delivered by the postal system.

letterhead ['letə'hed] n the name and address of a person or company when it is printed at the top of their writing paper, invoices etc.

lettering ['letərɪŋ] n letters in a word, phrase etc that are printed or written in a particular style □ The company name was in gold lettering.

letter of credit n an official letter from a bank that gives a particular person permission to withdraw money from another bank.

letter opener n an object similar to a knife that is used for opening envelopes.

letter-perfect adj to be letter-perfect US to be able to remember and repeat something without making any mistakes.

letter quality n the best quality type that a printer can produce when printing a document from a computer.

letters patent npl a patent that gives somebody the right to make and sell an invention without anybody else having the same right.

lettuce ['letəs] n a vegetable with large pale green leaves that are eaten raw in salads or sandwiches.

letup ['letʌp] n a letup in sthg [in violence, bad weather, work] a period of time when there is less of sthg unpleasant or difficult to deal with □ Despite the ceasefire agreement, there was no letup in the fighting.

leuk(a)emia [lu:'ki:mjə] n a serious form of cancer in which one's blood has too many white cells.

levee ['levi] n a bank built to stop a river from flooding.

level ['levl] (US pt & pp leveled, cont leveling, GB pt & pp levelled, cont levelling) ◇ adj -1. to be level [two objects, buildings] to have the same height as each other or be at the same height as each other; [two teams, competitors] to have the same number of points as each other □ Are the tops of the cupboards level? □ The picture is not level with the ceiling. □ We're level with them on points. -2. [surface, line] that is completely flat and has no part higher than another part □ Add one level teaspoonful of sugar. □ At last we were back on level ground. ◇ adv [remain, get] at the same level as somebody or something else □ Salaries are keeping level with inflation. □ The horses are running level. ■ to draw level to reach the same level as somebody else, either by coming from behind or from the opposite direction □ My car drew level with hers.

◇ n -1. [of noise, production, the temperature] a particular amount of something; a particular point on a scale for measuring this □ measures to reduce the level(s) of air pollution □ a high/low blood-sugar level. -2. [of a liquid, river] the height of something above the ground or a flat surface □ The level of water in the lake has risen. ■ to be on a level with sthg to be the same height above the ground or a flat surface as sthg else □ My bedroom window is on a level with the roof of the house opposite.

-3. [of achievement, intelligence, debate] a particular standard or quality □ a top-level athlete □ an intermediate level textbook. -4. CONSTRUCTION an instrument used for checking that a surface is level. -5. [of a building] one of the stories of a large building □ I parked the car on level 2. -6. phrase to be on the level [person] to be honest and open about something (informal use) □ I'm not sure they're on the level.

◇ vt -1. [field, area] to make <sthg> flat by removing any bumps, holes, or slopes □ Level the earth before laying the slabs. -2. [building, forest] to completely destroy <sthg> so that only flat ground is left □ The bombing has leveled whole streets. -3. to level a gun at sb/sthg to aim a gun at sb/sthg. -4. to level a criticism/an accusation etc at OR against sb to criticize/accuse etc sb of sthg openly and directly □ Charges of corruption have been leveled against a number of high-ranking officers.

◆ level off, level out vi -1. [unemployment, growth, inflation] to stop at a particular level after going up or down □ The price difference between imported and home-grown apples is gradually leveling off. -2. [plane, path] to stay at the same height after going up or down.

◆ level with vt fus to level with sb to be honest with sb about something after hiding the truth from them (informal use) □ I asked her to level with me about what happened at the meeting.

level crossing n GB a place where a road crosses a railroad track and which usually has gates and signals to stop traffic when a train is approaching.

level-headed [-'hedəd] adj [person] who is sensible, calm, and can think clearly, even in difficult situations.

level pegging [-'pegɪŋ] adj to be level pegging GB [two teams, competitors, candidates] to have exactly the same position or number of points, votes etc as each other □ With just one lap to go the two runners were level pegging.

lever [US 'levr, GB 'li:və] n -1. [on a machine] a bar or handle on a machine that makes the machine do a particular thing when it is moved up, down, left, or right □ You pull that lever to start the engine. -2. [for moving an object] a bar that is placed underneath a heavy object so that it can be moved when pressure is put on one end of the bar. -3. [in a situation] something that is used to influence somebody to do something.

leverage [US 'levərɪdʒ, GB 'li:v-] ◇ n -1. influence that can be used to get a particular result □ He used his leverage with the governor to get more money for education. -2. the force or action of a lever. ◇ vt FINANCE to borrow money to buy or pay for <sthg>.

leviathan [lɪ'vaɪəθən] n a word used to describe something that is very large, powerful, and difficult to control (literary use).

levity ['levəti] n an attitude that does not treat a serious subject with enough respect (formal use).

levy ['levi] (pt & pp levied) \diamond n a sum of money paid by a particular group of people for a particular purpose, often as a tax \square Most labor unions now collect a political levy from their members. \square The new gas levy has shocked the country. \diamond vt [tax, contribution, fine] to demand and collect  from somebody \square The government has decided to levy a new tax on alcohol.

lewd [lu:d] adj [behavior, joke, song] that refers to sex in a rude and often unpleasant way \square She complained that Rogers had made lewd suggestions to her in his office.

Lewis ['lu:əs], Sinclair (1885–1951) a US writer. He is well-known for his satires about American life. His work includes Main Street and Babbitt.

Lewis and Clark [-'kla:'k] US explorers who went from St Louis to the Pacific Ocean (1804–1806).

lexical ['leksɪkəl] adj that is concerned with words (technical use).

LI abbr of Long Island.

liability [,laɪə'bɪləti] (pl liabilities) n -1. a person or thing that can be dangerous or cause problems in particular situations \square She's a serious liability to everyone when she's been drinking. -2. [for breakages, an accident, debt] legal responsibility that a person or group of people has for something \square The owners will not accept liability for loss of or damage to personal property.

\diamond liabilities npl the amount of money that a company or organization owes \square insurance/pension/tax liabilities \square They failed to meet their liabilities and went bankrupt.

liable ['laɪəbl] adj -1. to be liable to do sthg to be likely to do sthg \square She's liable to get angry if you ask too many questions. -2. to be liable to sthg to be likely to experience sthg because it often happens in particular conditions \square People are more liable to flu at this time of year. -3. to be liable [for breakages, a debt, accident] to be legally responsible for something or to deal with something \square We are liable to pay damages of $5000. \square I am personally liable for any mistakes. ■ to be liable to imprisonment/a fine etc to be in a position in which one can be sent to prison/fined etc as a legal punishment \square You're liable to prosecution if you don't tell us where you got the money from.

liaise [li'eɪz] vi [colleagues, organizations] to work together so that each side can tell the other side what is happening, what they want to happen etc \square The agencies liaise regularly on key issues of security. \square His job was to liaise between the two departments. \square I liaise with my colleagues before making major decisions.

liaison [li'eɪzən] n -1. [between organizations, departments, people] the activity or job of liaising with another group of people \square There has been constant liaison with police officials during the enquiry. -2. a sexual relationship that is usually secret (polite use) \square There were rumors that he had maintained a year-long liaison with a local schoolteacher.

liar ['laɪə] n a person who tells lies.

Lib. abbr of Liberal.

libel ['laɪbl] (US pt & pp libeled, cont libeling, GB pt & pp libelled, cont libelling) \diamond n LAW something that is written or printed about somebody and that is not true, but may damage their reputation \square She sued the newspaper for libel. \square a libel action. \diamond vt to damage the reputation of <sb> by writing or printing something about them that is libelous.

libelous US, libellous GB ['laɪbləs] adj [statement, allegation] that is a libel.

liberal ['lɪbərəl] \diamond adj -1. [person, mind, view] that is willing to accept and respect any or all of a wide range of different opinions, especially when these do not follow strict traditional beliefs; [education, upbringing] that does not follow tradition but is based on freedom of expression and thought \square The group is campaigning for a more liberal treatment of prisoners. -2. [donation, offer] that is generous and large \square There was a liberal supply of food and drink. \diamond n a person who has liberal views.

\diamond Liberal POLITICS \diamond n a person who belongs to or supports a Liberal or Liberal Democrat Party. \diamond adj: a Liberal politician/policy.

liberal arts npl subjects studied at a university that are not practical or vocational, e.g. philosophy and literature \square a liberal arts degree.

Liberal Democrat n in Britain, a member of the Social and Liberal Democratic Party, a moderate political party.

liberalize, -ise ['lɪbrəlaɪz] vt [law, attitude] to make <sth> less strict \square The Church needs to liberalize its views on homosexuality.

liberal-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who has liberal ideas and beliefs.

Liberal Party n the Liberal Party in Australia, the largest conservative political party; in Britain, one of the main political parties of the 19th and early 20th centuries that was replaced in 1988 by the Social and Liberal Democratic Party.

liberate ['lɪbəreɪt] vt -1. [women, slaves] to give  the same rights and freedoms as other people in society. -2. [prisoner, hostage] to set  free (formal use) \square The mission to liberate the hostages ended in failure. -3. [country, city] to free  from political or military control, especially by using force.

liberation [,lɪbə'reɪʃn] n: see liberate \square the Women's Liberation Movement.

liberator ['lɪbəreɪtə] n a person who frees people, a country etc.

Liberia [laɪ'berɪə] a country in West Africa, on the Atlantic coast, between Sierra Leone and Côte d'Ivoire. It exports iron ore and has an important shipping industry. SIZE: 110,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,800,000 (Liberians). CAPITAL: Monrovia. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Liberian dollar.

libertine ['libə'ti:n] n a person, usually a man, who lives immorally (old-fashioned use).

liberty ['libə'ti] (pl liberties) n -1. [of a person, the press, somebody's conscience] a person's right to do, say, believe etc what they want □ We must fight for liberty and equal rights □ civil liberties. ■ to be at liberty to do sthg to be free to do sthg because one has permission or the right to do it □ I am not at liberty to comment on this matter. -2. [of a prisoner, hostage] freedom that somebody has after a period of captivity. ■ to be at liberty [person, animal] to still be free, especially after escaping from a place or doing something wrong. -3. to take the liberty of doing sthg to do sthg that might seem rude because one has not asked permission first □ I took the liberty of booking us a table at a restaurant. ■ to take liberties to use or take advantage of somebody □ I feel he's taking liberties with me.

◆ Liberty n a British organization that aims to defend the legal rights of people, e.g. if they think they are being treated unfairly by the police.

Liberty Bell n the Liberty Bell the bell that rang when the Declaration of Independence was adopted in 1776. It is in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

libido [li'bi:dou] (pl libidos) n the sexual desire that somebody feels.

Libra ['li:brə] n a sign of the zodiac, represented by a pair of scales; a person born under this sign between September 23 and October 22.

librarian [laɪ'breəriən] n a person whose job is to work in a library.

library [US 'laɪbrəri, GB -rəri] (pl libraries) n -1. [in a town, university, school] a room or building where people can read or borrow books, newspapers, cassettes, records etc, or can find out particular kinds of information □ the public/reference library □ a music/record library. -2. a private collection of something, especially of books.

library book n a book that can be borrowed from a library.

Library of Congress: the Library of Congress the US national library in Washington, D.C.

libretto [li'bre:tou] (pl librettos) n the words that are sung in an opera or oratorio.

Libya ['li:bɪə] a country in North Africa, on the Mediterranean, between Tunisia and Egypt, consisting mainly of desert. It is a major producer of oil. SIZE: 1,760,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,900,000 (Libyans). CAPITAL: Tripoli. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Libyan dinar.

lice [laɪs] plural of louse.

licence n GB = license.

license ['laɪsəns] ◇ n US -1. a document that gives somebody official permission to have or do something and which usually costs money □ a driver's/dog license □ How much is the license fee? □ This restaurant has a license to sell alcohol. -2. BUSINESS a document that gives official permission for a particular business activity to happen □ a trading license ■ to make/sell etc sthg under license to make/sell etc sthg with special permission □ They manufacture the goods under license from the government.

◇ vt [activity, sale] to give official permission for <sthg> to happen □ They have the authority to license the sale of hand guns. ■ to license sb to do sthg to give sb official permission to do sthg.

licensed ['laɪsənst] adj -1. to be licensed to do sthg [to drive, fly, practise] to have a license to do sthg □ Is he licensed to carry a gun? -2. [car, gun] that has a license. -3. GB [hotel, restaurant] that has a license to sell alcohol.

licensee [ˌlaɪsən'si:] n a person who has a license.

license plate n US a sign, usually on the front and back of a car, truck etc, that has letters and numbers on it to identify the vehicle.

licensing hours ['laɪsənsɪŋ-] npl in Britain, the hours in the day when a pub is officially allowed to serve alcohol.

licensing laws npl the laws that state when and where alcohol can be sold.

licentious [laɪ'senʃəs] adj [person, behavior] that one thinks is sexually immoral (formal use).

lichen ['laɪkən] n a tiny plant that grows in small, flat, round patches on stones, trees etc and is green, orange, gray, or yellow.

lick [lɪk] ◇ vt -1. [person] to move one's tongue over the surface of <sthg> to taste it, clean it, make it wet etc □ She licked the bowl clean. □ The dog licked my face. ■ to lick one's lips to move one's tongue over one's lips because one is going to eat something good, or because one has enjoyed eating something. -2. [flames, waves] to move quickly over or around the outside of <sthg>. -3. [team, player] to beat <an opponent> very easily (informal use).

◇ n -1. the act of licking something with one's tongue □ Can I have a lick of your ice cream? -2. a lick of paint a new layer of paint that one puts on something (informal use) □ All this room needs is a lick of paint and it'll look like new.

licorice ['lɪkərɪʃ] n a sweet black substance that is used to flavor candies; a candy made from this.

lid [lɪd] n -1. [of a jar, box, saucepan] a cover that fits on top of something to close it and that can be lifted off and replaced □ 'Replace lid after use.' □ a trashcan lid. -2. = eyelid.

lido ['li:dou] (pl lidos) n GB -1. a public swimming pool that is outdoors. -2. part of a beach, lake etc used for sunbathing and water sports.

lie [laɪ] (pt sense 1 lied, pt senses 2-9 lay, pp sense 1 lied, pp senses 2-9 lain, cont all senses lying) ◇ n something that is not true and which somebody says in order to deceive somebody else □ What he said was just a pack of lies. ■ to tell a lie to say something that one knows is not true □ Have you been telling (me) lies again?

◇ vi -1. [person] to tell a lie; [figures, statistics] to make people believe something that is not true by showing something in a particular way □ I knew you were lying to me all along. □ He got the job after lying about his age. □ They say the camera never lies, but I disagree. -2. [person, animal] to be in a position in which the body is flat on a surface □ She lay in bed/ on her side/ on her stomach reading. □ I love lying in the sun. -3. [person, animal] to move into a position in which the body is flat on a surface □ Lie on the floor and relax. -4. [book, letter, pen] to be on a particular surface or in a particular place after being left there □ Her clothes lay all over the floor. □ The report's been lying on my desk for ages. -5. [city, country, building] to be in a particular place or position □ A small village lies near/to the west of the castle. □ Our team is lying third/ in third position. -6. [truth, reason, problem] to be found in a particular thing (formal use) □ The solution lies in careful marketing. -7. [dead person] to be buried in a particular place □ 'Here lies William Slater.' -8. to lie ahead OR in store to be expected to happen in the future □ Many difficulties lie ahead. □ Who knows what lies in store for us! -9. phrase to lie low to hide from somebody, especially from the police, until it is safe to be seen □ You'd better lie low for a week or so.

- ◆ lie about, lie around vi -1. [person] to spend time doing nothing and being lazy □ They just lie around listening to music all day. -2. to be lying about OR around [books, clothes, money] to be in a particular place after being left there by somebody, usually in a careless or untidy way □ Don't leave any valuables lying around in your hotel room. □ Do you have any food lying around?
- ◆ lie down vi to get into a position in which one's body is flat, e.g. on a bed, usually to relax or sleep □ I'm just going to lie down for a short while. ■ he/she etc won't take it lying down he/she etc will not accept it without complaining or trying to change it.
- ◆ lie in vi GB to deliberately stay in bed longer than usual in the morning.

Liechtenstein ['li:ktənstam] a country in central Europe, between Austria and Switzerland. It has important tourist and banking industries. SIZE: 160 sq kms. POPULATION: 26,000 (Liechtensteiners). CAPITAL: Vaduz. LANGUAGE: German. CURRENCY: Swiss franc.

lie detector n a machine that can show if somebody is lying □ a lie detector test.

lie-down n GB a short rest, e.g. on a bed or sofa □ I'm going to have a lie-down upstairs.

lie-in n GB extra time that one deliberately spends in bed on a particular morning, especially at the weekend □ Sunday's the only day I get a lie-in.

lieu [lu:] ◆ in lieu of sthg prep instead of sthg □ I get time off in lieu of pay when I do a lot of overtime.

Lieut. abbr of lieutenant.

lieutenant [US lu:'tenənt, GB lef'tenənt] n -1. an officer of low rank in an army, air force, or navy. -2. US an officer in a police force or fire department whose rank is below a captain.

lieutenant colonel n an officer in the armed forces of a country whose rank is just below that of a colonel.

life [laɪf] (pl lives) n -1. the state of being alive □ Human life must be protected at all costs. ■ to breathe life into sthg to bring new ideas and enthusiasm to sthg, especially so that it becomes more active or successful □ We were all set to give up, but John's enthusiasm has breathed new life into the project. ■ to come to life [person] to become active or energetic, especially after being very quiet or lacking energy and enthusiasm □ She suddenly came to life again when the guests arrived. -2. anything that is alive □ Is there life on Mars? □ animal/plant life □ There were no signs of life in the village. -3. sb's life the period of time between sb's birth and death, or between sb's birth and the present □ Firemen risk their lives every day. □ Three climbers lost their lives in an accident. □ She spent her early life in India. □ life membership ■ for life for the rest of one's life □ It's a commitment for life. ■ for the life of me despite trying very hard (informal use) □ I can't for the life of me remember where I put it. ■ to lay down one's life to die, especially in order to protect somebody or something □ Millions of soldiers laid down their lives for their countries. ■ to risk life and limb to risk dying and being injured. ■ to scare the life out of sb to frighten sb very much. ■ to take one's life to kill oneself. -4. all the experiences that happen to somebody □ They really know how to enjoy life. □ Life is hard in these remote highlands. -5. sb's married/working life the part of sb's life to do with their marriage/work. -6. a particular aspect of the way one lives □ my social/sex life □ I don't like to talk about my private life. -7. energy and enthusiasm □ She's so full of life. -8. [of a machine, organization] the length of time that something lasts or continues to work □ This model has a working life of ten years. -9. = life imprisonment □ Holmes and Gano both got life.

life-and-death adj [situation, struggle, decision] that is very serious or dangerous.

life annuity n a sum of money paid to somebody every year until their death.

life assurance n GB = life insurance.

life belt n GB a large ring that floats and is thrown to somebody who has fallen into the sea, a river etc to help them avoid drowning.

lifeblood ['laɪfbʌd] n the lifeblood of sthg the most important source of strength or success that sthg has □ Young, dynamic managers are the lifeblood of our business.

lifeboat ['laɪfbəʊt] n -1. a fast boat that is used by specially trained people to save other people who are in danger on the sea. -2. a small boat kept on a ship that is used if the ship sinks.

life buoy n = life belt.

life cycle n the series of changes that happen to an animal or plant during its life.

life expectancy n the length of time that a person or animal is likely to live from the time they are born, or from a particular point in their lives.

lifeguard ['laɪfgɑ:d] n a person who works at a beach or swimming pool and whose job is to save people from drowning.

life imprisonment n a punishment in which a criminal is sent to prison for a very long time, sometimes for the rest of their life.

life insurance n a form of insurance that is paid for regularly over a long period of time and by which an amount of money is paid to oneself at a particular age or to one's family if one dies.

life jacket n a piece of equipment like an item of clothing with holes for the head and arms that can be filled with air to make somebody float if they fall into the water.

lifeless ['laɪfləs] adj -1. [body, corpse, face] that is dead or looks dead. -2. [performance, voice] that is not interesting, exciting, or lively.

lifelike ['laɪflaɪk] adj [statue, picture, model] that looks very real, or very like the person or thing it represents.

lifeline ['laɪflaɪn] n -1. a rope that is thrown or attached to somebody to save them from drowning. -2. something that is very important and necessary for somebody or something to survive or continue □ A fax machine can prove a lifeline to the small business.

lifelong ['laɪflɒŋ] adj a lifelong belief/ambition etc a belief/an ambition etc that one has had for the whole of one's life □ a lifelong friend.

life peer n in Britain, a person who is given a title, e.g. "Lord" or "Lady", which they can use until their death, but which cannot be passed on to their children.

life preserver [-prɪzɜ:'vɜː] n US something such as a life jacket that can help prevent one from drowning in water.

life raft n a rubber boat filled with air that is used for saving people who are in danger at sea.

lifesaver ['laɪfsɛɪvə] n -1. a person who is trained to save people who are having problems in water. -2. something or somebody that brings help and relief to somebody who needs it very much □ Thanks for helping me out, you're a real lifesaver!

LIFESAVERS

In Australia most beaches near towns have lifesavers, or surf lifesavers, who work as volunteers. They are highly respected, and many young people want to become lifesavers. To identify themselves, they wear special colored swimsuits and caps. When conditions are safe for swimming, they put two yellow and red flags on the beach to show that the water between the flags is safe. If you get into difficulty in the water, you raise your arm and the lifesaver will rescue you.

lifesaving club n in Australia, a club where surf lifesavers are based. Most coastal towns have these clubs, and they are often the center of beach activities and social events.

life sentence n the punishment of sending a criminal to prison for a very long time, sometimes for the rest of their life.

life-size(d) adj [statue, portrait, model] that is the same size as the person or object it represents.

lifespan ['laɪfspæn] n -1. the length of time for which a person, animal, or plant usually lives □ Mayflies have a very short lifespan. -2. the length of time that a product, machine etc will last or be useful.

lifestyle ['laɪfstɑɪl] n the way somebody lives, especially the job they do, the things they eat, spend their money on etc □ Patrick has a very healthy/hectic lifestyle.

life-support system n -1. MEDICINE special equipment that keeps a very ill person alive. -2. BIOLOGY everything that is needed so that living things can stay alive.

lifetime ['laɪftaɪm] n [of a person, organization, machine] the period of time during which somebody is alive or something exists □ I've seen many changes in my lifetime. □ He has a lifetime's experience in education. □ the experience of a lifetime □ a lifetime commitment.

LIFFE [laɪf] n abbr of London International Financial Futures Exchange.

Liffey ['lɪfɪ] the Liffey a river in the Irish Republic that flows through Dublin into the Irish Sea.

lift [lɪft] ◇ n -1. a free ride, especially in a car □ I've got the car if you want a lift home. -2. GB a device like a small room with sliding doors that carries people or goods up and down to the different floors of a building □ Press the button to call the lift. □ Take the lift up to the sixth floor.

◇ vt -1. [person, leg, bag] to move <sb/sthg> to a higher position, especially with effort □ Be careful when you lift the chair. □ She ran into his arms and he lifted her into the air. □ I lifted the pile of books off the shelf. -2. to lift sb's spirits to make sb feel happier □ The sound of his voice lifted her spirits. -3. [embargo, ban, restriction] to bring <sthg> to an end □ Trade sanctions were officially lifted today. -4. [text, idea] to copy <sthg> that was produced by somebody else and pretend that one thought of it oneself (informal use) □ She had lifted entire paragraphs from other people's books. -5. [wallet, purse] to steal <sthg> (informal use).

◇ vi -1. [lid, top] to be able to be opened by being moved up □ The lid lifted easily. -2. [mist, fog, clouds] to move upward or disappear. -3. [spirits, mood] to become happier □ Gradually her heart lifted.

◆ lift up ◇ vt sep to lift sb/sthg up [suitcase, cup, baby] to lift sb/sthg. ◇ vi [lid, top] = lift.

lift-off n the event of a space rocket leaving the ground.

ligament ['lɪgəmənt] n a band of strong tissue in the body which joins two bones.

light [laɪt] (pt & pp lit OR lighted) \diamond adj

-1. [room, building] where there is a lot of natural light \square The bedroom is light and spacious. ■ it's getting OR growing light day is beginning and the sky is becoming brighter. ■ it's light there is daylight \square It was light by the time we had finished. -2. [color, green, blue] that is pale \square She wore a light brown suit. -3. [load, weight, suitcase] that does not weigh very much; [clothing, suit] that is made of thin material \square She was wearing a light summer dress. -4. [traffic, flow, shower] that is not very great in amount or intensity \square I had a light lunch. -5. [work, duties] not involving much effort. -6. [punishment, penalty] that is not very severe \square Many people felt the sentence was too light. -7. [reading, entertainment, music] that is easy to enjoy or understand \square She writes light, romantic novels. -8. [touch, wind] that is gentle \square A light breeze was blowing. -9. [step, movement] that is graceful. -10. [sleep, sleeper] that can be easily disturbed. -11. a light meal a meal that is easy to digest \square This wine is nice and light. -12. a light beer a beer that contains fewer calories than normal.

\diamond n -1. [of the sun, moon, a flashlight] a brightness that lets one see things \square There's not enough light to see by. \square We read the notice by the light of a match/candle. \square You're blocking my light. ■ to come to light [information, evidence, secret] to become known, especially to a lot of people for the first time \square It has recently come to light that she has a criminal record. ■ to see the light to understand something that one could not understand before. ■ to see sb/sthg in a different light to change one's opinion of sb/sthg because of new information, events etc \square What she said made me see her in a whole new light. ■ to throw OR cast OR shed light on sthg to make sthg easier to understand, especially by giving some new information \square Her book throws new light on the later poems. -2. [for seeing or reading] something which gives light \square Turn the light on. \square an electric light \square a light switch \square You've left your car lights on. -3. [for a cigarette] something which produces a flame, e.g. a match or lighter \square Do you have a light? ■ to set light to sthg to make sthg start to burn \square The cigarette set light to the carpet. -4. [in somebody's eyes] the brightness that seems to come from somebody's eyes, as a sign of life and energy \square There was a strange light in his eyes.

\diamond vt -1. [fire, cigarette, candle] to make <sthg> start to burn; [lamp, bulb] to turn <sthg> on so that it becomes bright \square We lit a fire in the bedroom. \square I knew she was up because a lamp was lit in her window. -2. [house, scene, stage] to make a light shine on or in <sthg> \square The room was lit by candlelight. \square I took a flashlight to light my way back to the house.

\diamond vi [fire, cigarette, candle] The gas fire won't light.

\diamond adv to travel light to travel with only a small amount of baggage.

◆ in light of US, in the light of prep if one takes <sthg> into consideration \square In light of recent events, we ought to rethink our procedure for interviewing applicants.

◆ light out vi US [person] to leave quickly (informal use).

◆ light up \diamond vt sep to light sthg up [sky, room, stage] to make sthg bright; [face, eyes] to make sthg look more cheerful and lively; [cigarette, cigar, pipe] to make sthg start burning \square The fire lit up the whole street. \diamond vi -1. [person, eyes] to look more cheerful and lively \square His face lit up at the news. -2. [smoker] to light a cigarette and start smoking (informal use).

light aircraft n a small, not very powerful aircraft that can only carry a small number of passengers or goods.

light ale n GB a beer with a light color and mild flavor.

light bulb n the glass part of an electric light or lamp that has a wire inside it which glows brightly when an electric current is passed through it.

lighted ['laɪtəd] adj -1. [room, window] that has a light shining in it. -2. [cigarette, match, candle] that is burning.

light-emitting diode [-ɪmɪtɪŋ-] n an electronic device that gives out light when an electric current is passed through it and that is used to display letters and numbers in calculators, watches etc.

lighten ['laɪtn] \diamond vt -1. [room, sky, color] to make <sthg> less dark. -2. [load, weight] to make <sthg> less heavy, especially so that it is easier to carry; [workload, task] to make <an amount of work> easier to do \square I offered to do the typing just to lighten the burden a little. \diamond vi -1. [sky] to become brighter \square The sky began to lighten in the east. -2. [atmosphere, mood, expression] to become happier and more relaxed.

◆ lighten up vi [person] to become more relaxed and less serious (informal use) \square Lighten up, will you, he meant it as a joke.

lighter ['laɪtə] n a device that uses liquid fuel to produce a flame for lighting cigarettes, pipes etc.

light-fingered [-'fɪŋgə'd] adj [person] who often steals things (informal and humorous use).

light-headed [-'hedəd] adj to be light-headed [person] to feel dizzy and faint, especially because one is excited or has drunk alcohol \square I feel really light-headed after that glass of wine.

light-hearted [-'hɑ:təd] adj -1. [person, mood] that is cheerful. -2. [remark, approach, comedy] that is funny and not meant to be very serious \square The play takes a light-hearted look at the problems of family life.

lighthouse ['laɪthaus, pl -'haʊzɪz] n a tower built on a coast, rock, or island with a strong light at the top to guide ships or warn them of danger.

light industry n the manufacture of smaller articles for which heavy equipment is not needed.

lighting ['laɪtɪŋ] n the equipment that provides light in a particular place; the quality of light that shines somewhere □ They hired a friend to do the lighting for the show. □ The soft lighting helps to create a romantic atmosphere.

lighting-up time n GB the official time at which street lights come on and road vehicles must turn their lights on.

lightly ['laɪtlɪ] adv -1. [knock, tap, strike] gently. -2. [cook, grill] for a short time at a low heat. -3. [say, promise] in a way that is not very serious □ I would not make such an accusation lightly. □ I don't intend to take this matter lightly.

light meter n a device that is fitted to a camera or used by a photographer to measure the brightness of the light reflected from something before it is photographed.

lightning ['laɪtnɪŋ] n a very bright flash of electrical energy produced by a thunderstorm □ The tree was struck by lightning.

lightning rod US, lightning conductor n a metal rod or strip that goes from the highest point of a building to the ground, and that prevents the building from being damaged if it is struck by lightning.

lightning strike n GB a strike by workers which takes place suddenly and without any warning.

light opera n opera that is easy to enjoy and is not about serious subjects.

light pen n -1. COMPUTING a device shaped like a pen that can be used to choose or draw things on a screen. -2. [in a store] a device like a pen that is used in stores to read bar codes on goods.

lightship ['laɪtʃɪp] n a ship that remains in one position and has a strong light to guide other ships or warn them of danger.

lights-out n in a barracks, boarding-school etc, the time at which all lights must be turned off so that people can go to sleep.

lightweight ['laɪtweɪt] ◇ adj -1. [object] that is specially made to weigh less than is usual. -2. [jacket, suit] that is made of thin light material. -3. [person] who has little importance, power, or influence (disapproving use). ◇ n -1. SPORT a boxer weighing between 59 and 61 kg (130 and 135 lbs) □ a lightweight contest/bout. -2. a person of little importance, power, or influence (disapproving use) □ a political/intellectual lightweight.

light year n the distance that light travels in a year.

likable ['laɪkəbl] adj [person] who is pleasant and easy to like.

like [laɪk] ◇ prep -1. to be like sb/sthg to be almost the same as sb/sthg □ Jake's very like his father. □ You look just like your sister! □ This turkey tastes more like chicken. -2. what is she/it etc like? can you describe her/it etc to me? (used to ask for somebody's opinion or description) □ It's hard to say what it smells like. □ What's it like being married? -3. used to make comparisons □ Stop behaving like an idiot! □ He was shaking like a leaf. □ Like most people, I dislike eating alone in restaurants. ■ do it like this/that do it in this/that way. ■ that's just like her/him etc that's typical of the way she/he etc normally behaves □ It's not like you to get angry. □ Don't shout at me like that! -4. used to give examples of something that has just been mentioned □ I prefer simple food like pasta or fish. □ Exercise like swimming is good for your back.

◇ conj -1. to look/sound/feel like... to look/sound/feel as if... □ It feels like we've been traveling for hours! □ Chris sounds like he's having a bad time. -2. in the same way as □ I got up at seven, just like I usually do. □ He can't get around like he used to.

◇ vt -1. [person, place, food] to find <sb/sthg> pleasant, attractive, interesting etc; to approve of <sb/sthg> □ I never really liked him. □ How do you like your new job? □ I like swimming. □ I don't like having to repeat myself. -2. a word used to express a wish or a preference □ Would you like some more cake? □ I'd like that one, please. □ You can come and see me tomorrow, if you like. □ I'd like to start straight away. □ We'd like you to come for an interview.

◇ adj [opinion, response] that is of a similar kind (formal use) □ people of like mind.

◇ n the like(s) of sb/sthg an event, person etc that is similar to sb/sthg □ I've never seen the likes of it! □ a feat the likes of which has never before been attempted. ■ and the like and similar things, people etc □ I use it for storing files, stationary, and the like.

◆ likes npl the things that one likes □ We all have our likes and dislikes when it comes to music.

likeable ['laɪkəbl] adj = likable.

likelihood ['laɪkəlɪhʊd] n the probability that something will happen □ There is little likelihood of its happening again/that it will happen again.

◆ in all likelihood adv very probably.

likely ['laɪklɪ] adj -1. to be likely to be almost certain to happen or be true □ Rain is likely later on. □ She may have finished already, but it's not very likely. □ It's very likely to snow in the next day or two. □ She's not very likely to agree to the plan. □ He's the man most likely to get the job. ■ the likely result/cost what the result/cost will probably be. ■ a likely story! a phrase used to say that one does not believe something that somebody has said (ironic use). -2. [place, candidate, recruit] that seems suitable for a particular job or purpose □ We found a likely spot for a picnic.

like-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [people] who have similar opinions, attitudes, or interests □ She needs to find some like-minded friends.

liken ['laɪkn] vt to liken sb/sthg to sb/sthg to describe sb/sthg as similar to sb/sthg □ He has been likened to the young Gielgud. □ She likened "King Lear" to a television soap opera.

likeness ['laɪknəs] n -1. a similarity in appearance □ I can see the family likeness. □ Your version bears very little likeness to the original. -2. a good likeness a picture of somebody that has been drawn, painted etc accurately □ That's an excellent likeness of your father.

likewise ['laɪkwəɪz] adv used to compare two similar actions or events □ The Swedes are holding a referendum, likewise the Norwegians. □ Farmers likewise are having to cut costs. ■ to do likewise to do the same □ When we raised our prices, they did likewise.

liking ['laɪkɪŋ] n to have a liking for sb/sthg to like sb/sthg □ I really don't understand his liking for cowboy films. □ While I was in Mexico I developed a liking for tequila. ■ to be to sb's liking to please sb □ Is the hotel to your liking? ■ to be too cold/early etc for one's liking to be colder/earlier than one wants □ The coffee was too hot for my liking.

lilac ['laɪlək] ◇ adj [dress, scarf] that is pale purple in color. ◇ n -1. a bush with white or pale purple flowers that smell pleasant. -2. a pale purple color □ a lilac shirt.

LiloTM ['laɪləʊ] (pl Lilos) n GB a mattress that is filled with air and is used as a bed or for floating on water.

lilt [lɪlt] n [of somebody's voice, accent] a pleasant rising and falling sound □ Her voice has a lovely Irish lilt.

liting ['lɪtɪŋ] adj a liting voice/melody etc a voice/melody etc that has a lilt.

lily ['lɪli] (pl lilies) n a flower that grows from a bulb and has large trumpet-shaped blooms which are usually white or orange.

lily of the valley (pl lilies of the valley) n a plant with long oval leaves and small white bell-shaped flowers that smell pleasant.

Lima ['li:mə] the capital of Peru. POPULATION: 6,400,000.

limb [lɪm] n -1. an arm or leg (formal use). -2. to be out on a limb to be alone and without support □ You may find yourself out on a limb if you continue to defend those ideas.

limber ['lɪmbə] ◆ limber up vi [athlete, gymnast] to do physical exercises or to practice before hard exercise or a competition.

limbo ['lɪmbəʊ] (pl limbos) n -1. to be in limbo [person] to be unable to act or make decisions properly because one is unsure what will happen next; [project, activity] to be unable to go ahead because the situation is uncertain □ Our plans will be in limbo until we know whether we've got the grant. -2. the limbo a West Indian dance in which people bend over backward to pass under a low horizontal bar.

lime [laɪm] n -1. a citrus fruit like a lemon but smaller and with green skin. -2. the juice of limes used as part of a drink □ vodka and lime. -3. = lime tree. -4. CHEMISTRY a white chemical substance, calcium oxide, that is used to make fertilizer, cement, and white-wash SYMBOL: CaO.

lime-green ◇ n a bright yellow-green color. ◇ adj: a lime-green dress.

limelight ['laɪmlaɪt] n the limelight the attention of the public and the media □ She's in the limelight again after the success of her new movie.

limerick ['lɪmərɪk] n a humorous poem of five lines.

Limerick ['lɪmərɪk] -1. a county in the southwest of the Irish Republic. SIZE: 2,686 sq kms. POPULATION: 164,204. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Limerick. -2. a city and port in County Limerick. POPULATION: 52,040.

limescale ['laɪmskeɪl] n a hard grayish-white substance that forms on the inside of pipes, faucets, sinks etc.

limestone ['laɪmstəʊn] n a type of white rock used as a building material and for making cement.

lime tree n a tree with heart-shaped leaves and yellow blossom that has a sweet smell.

limey ['laɪmɪ] (pl limeys) n US a British person (informal and disapproving use).

limit ['lɪmɪt] ◇ n -1. [of one's patience, endurance, knowledge] the greatest possible extent, amount, or degree of something □ Fulfilling this contract will stretch our resources to the limit. □ Twenty years ago there seemed to be no limit to what we could do. -2. [on speed, spending] a maximum or minimum amount of something that is allowed □ a time/speed/credit limit □ an upper/a lower limit □ We must keep within the limits of our budget. □ There is a limit to how much money we can spend. ■ he's/she's the limit! his/her behavior is extremely annoying □ I've heard some pretty unconvincing excuses before, but this is the limit! ■ within limits as far as is reasonable □ You can do anything you like, within limits of course. -3. [of an area] the edge of an area □ the city limits ■ to be off limits to be a place where particular people are not allowed to go □ The village is off limits to military personnel.

◇ vt [spending, use, area] to stop <sthg> from growing or spreading by deciding that a particular amount or level is the most that is allowed □ We must try and limit our reliance on external suppliers. ■ to limit sb to sthg to allow sb to have no more than sthg □ I'm trying to limit myself to six cigarettes a day.

limitation [ˌlɪmɪ'teɪʃn] n -1. [of an amount, somebody's power] the control or reduction of something □ This whole exercise is about damage limitation. □ We would resist any limitation of our freedom to trade with other countries. -2. [on spending, space] a limit to what is allowed or possible □ There are limitations on the number of shares you can buy. □ Subject to certain limitations, you can appoint anyone you like. -3. sb's/sthg's limitations an area of activity in which sb/sthg is limited or not very effective □ She's extremely capable, but even she has her limitations.

limited ['lɪmɪtəd] adj [choice, intelligence, range] that is not great in number or amount □ The options open to us are very limited. □ A limited number of places are available. □ The offer is limited to one purchase per household.

limited company n GB a company whose shareholders are responsible for the company's debts only up to a limited amount.

limited edition n a version of a book, CD etc in which the number of copies made and sold is strictly limited and usually quite small □ a limited edition book.

limited liability company n = limited company.

limitless ['lɪmɪtləs] adj [space, range, imagination] that has no limit □ The possibilities are limitless.

limo ['lɪməʊ] n a limousine (informal use).

limousine [US 'lɪməzi:n, GB lɪmə'zi:n] n a large, comfortable, expensive car.

limp [lɪmp] ◇ adj -1. [person, body] that is not firm or strong □ I managed no more than a limp handshake. □ Those tomato plants are looking pretty limp. -2. [excuse, response] that is not adequate. ◇ n a way of walking in which one leg is used less than normal because it is weak or injured □ He walks with a slight limp. ◇ vi [person, animal] to walk with a limp □ He came limping off the field.

limpet ['lɪmpət] n a small sea creature with a cone-shaped shell that sticks very tightly to rocks.

limpid ['lɪmpəd] adj [water, pool] that is clear (literary use).

limply ['lɪmplɪ] adv [lie, hang, reply] see limp □ His arm hung limply by his side.

linchpin ['lɪntʃpɪn] n [of a plan, organization] the person or thing that is the most important part of something □ Corinne's research was the linchpin of this project.

Lincoln ['lɪŋkn], Abraham (1809–1865) US President from 1861 to 1865. He helped the Union to win the American Civil War and ended slavery. He was shot and killed by John Wilkes Booth.

Lincoln Center: the Lincoln Center (for the Performing Arts) a group of concert halls and theaters in New York (City).

Lincoln Memorial: the Lincoln Memorial a building in Washington, D.C. that contains a large statue of Abraham Lincoln.

Lincolnshire ['lɪŋkənʃə] a county in eastern England, on the North Sea, consisting mainly of farmland. SIZE: 5,915 sq kms. POPULATION: 602,155. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Lincoln.

Lincs. abbr of Lincolnshire.

linctus ['lɪŋktəs] n GB a liquid medicine for curing coughs.

Lindbergh ['lɪndbɜːrɡ], Charles (1902–1974) a US pilot who was the first person to fly alone across the Atlantic Ocean. He did this in his plane, The Spirit of St Louis.

line [laɪn] ◇ n -1. [on paper, on a road] a long thin mark on a surface □ a straight/curved/jagged line □ You can't park on a double yellow line. □ She drew a line across the page. ■ to go/run/walk in a straight line to go/run/walk in one direction without turning right or left. -2. [a border, edge] a long thin mark that shows the edge of something □ the finishing/halfway line. ■ to draw the line at sthg to refuse to do sthg, especially because one thinks it is unreasonable □ I'm prepared to be generous, but I draw the line at paying off all her debts. -3. [of trees, soldiers, cars] a row of things or people standing side by side or one behind the other; a group of people standing one behind the other and waiting for something □ The children formed two lines facing the teacher. □ We joined the line at the checkout. □ We stood or waited in line for almost half an hour. ■ to be in line for sthg to have a good chance of getting sthg □ He's in line for an Oscar. -4. RAIL the track on which a train travels; the route this track follows □ a subway line. -5. [of ships] a company that operates a fleet of ships. -6. [in a book, poem, document] a row of words, symbols, or figures that is printed or written across a page □ two lines up from the bottom/down from the top of the page □ I tried to remember the first line of the song. □ Richard's upstairs learning his lines for the school play. ■ to read between the lines to realize something or guess the real meaning of something even though it is not expressed openly □ Reading between the lines, I would say she was jealous. -7. [on one's face, skin] a wrinkle □ His face was etched with deep lines. -8. [of a building, dress] an edge that can be seen on something and is part of its structure □ The car has clean, elegant lines.

-9. [of string, cable] a cord, string, rope, or cable; a length of one of these materials used for a particular purpose □ a fishing line □ I'm going to hang the laundry out on the line. □ a power/telephone line. -10. TELECOMMUNICATIONS a telephone connection □ Our lines are open until midnight. □ That line is busy at the moment. □ Could you hold the line, please? -11. to drop sb a line to write a short letter to sb (informal use) □ Drop me a line when you get settled in. -12. a line of inquiry/argument etc the direction taken by the development of an inquiry/argument etc. ■ along the same lines [think, develop] in approximately the same way □ They plan to set up an advice center or something along those lines. ■ to be on the right lines [person, policy, strategy] to be acting, working, happening etc in a way that will probably produce a successful result □ I'm not entirely satisfied with the article yet, but I think it's on the right lines. -13. [on an issue, problem] a particular way of dealing with a person or situation □ What line did you take with the press? -14. one's line of work/business the job or type of work a person does (informal use) □ What line of work are you in? -15. MILITARY a series of defenses that are linked to each other □ behind enemy lines.

-16. [of family, kings] a series of people who are related to one another and follow one another in time □ She comes from a long line of opera singers. -17. [between categories, groups] an imaginary mark that separates one area or thing from another, or one group of people from another □ There's a fine line between love and hate. -18. BUSINESS a type of product; a range of products □ a new line in office furniture □ We've stopped doing that line.

◇ vt -1. [street, passage] to form a line along the side of <sthg> □ The road to the airport was lined with spectators/trees. -2. [coat, box, drawer] to cover the inside surface of <sthg> with a lining □ a fur-/silk-lined jacket.

◆ lines npl -1. the words that an actor has to learn for a play □ She keeps forgetting her lines. -2. GB a punishment given in some schools in which a pupil has to write out a line of writing many times □ He was given a hundred lines for misbehaving in class.

◆ on the line adv to be on the line [career, reputation] to be at risk □ If we don't get the contract, all our jobs could be on the line.

◆ out of line adj to be out of line [person] to be behaving badly or not in the way one is supposed to behave; [behavior, remark] to be rude or unacceptable □ What you said was way out of line. ■ to step out of line to behave in a way that other people disapprove of.

◆ line up ◇ vt sep -1. to line people/things up to arrange people/things into a line □ They were lined up against a wall and shot. -2. to line sth up [meeting, interview, concert] to arrange for sth to take place in the future □ I've got a meeting lined up for next Tuesday. ◇ vi [people] to form a line, especially when waiting for something □ The models all lined up on the catwalk for the last part of the show.

linear ['lɪnɪər] adj -1. [pattern, diagram, shape] that is made up of lines. -2. [motion, force] that is directed along a straight line; [sequence, thinking] that moves from one point to the next in order.

lined [laɪnd] adj -1. [paper, page] that has straight lines printed across it. -2. [face, features] covered with wrinkles □ Her face was deeply lined.

line drawing n a drawing made with lines and with no other form of shading.

line feed n the control on a printer or computer that moves the cursor down by one line at a time.

linen ['lɪnən] n -1. a type of cloth, made from flax, that is used to make tablecloths, clothing etc □ a linen napkin/jacket. -2. a collective term for sheets, tablecloths etc □ bed linen □ a linen cupboard/drawer.

linen basket n a basket used to hold dirty clothes that need to be washed.

lineout ['laɪnɔ:t] n SPORT a way of restarting play in a game of rugby in which the ball is thrown from the sideline and players from both sides, standing in two lines, try to catch it.

liner ['laɪnər] n a large passenger ship □ an ocean liner.

linesman ['laɪnzsmən] (pl linesmen [-mən]) n SPORT in a game of soccer, tennis etc, an official who indicates when the ball has crossed a boundary line, and who helps the referee to decide when other rules have been broken.

lineup ['laɪnʌp] n -1. [of players, competitors, entertainers] the people who are going to take part in a particular event □ The lineup in tonight's show includes some of the most talented comedians around at the moment. -2. US a row of people including a suspect whom the witness or victim of a crime has to try to identify.

linger ['lɪŋgə] vi -1. [person] to spend a longer time than necessary or expected in a place or doing something □ We lingered down by the Grand Canal/over our meal. □ Everyone else had gone to bed, but Sam lingered in the bar. -2. [smell, taste, feeling] to continue for longer than expected before disappearing □ The tradition still lingers on in rural areas.

lingerie ['lɪŋdʒəri] n women's underclothes □ the lingerie department.

lingering ['lɪŋgərɪŋ] adj -1. [feeling, hope, doubt] that continues for longer than expected □ a lingering sense of doubt. -2. [death, illness] that lasts a long time and is painful. -3. [kiss, look, farewell] that is long and intense.

lingo ['lɪŋɡəʊ] (pl lingoes) n a foreign language (informal use).

linguist ['lɪŋɡwɪst] n -1. a person who is good at or who studies foreign languages. -2. a person who studies or teaches linguistics.

linguistic [lɪŋ'ɡwɪstɪk] adj [ability, development, subtlety] that is connected with language or the scientific study of it.

◆ linguistics n the scientific study of language and how it is developed and used.

liniment ['lɪnəmənt] n a fluid rubbed into the skin to make pains in one's muscles, bones etc less severe.

lining ['laɪnɪŋ] n [of a coat, curtain] an extra layer of cloth that is attached to the inside or back of something to give extra warmth and thickness; [of a box, case] a layer of something that covers the inner surfaces of a container and protects what is kept in it.

link [lɪŋk] ◇ n -1. [between people, ideas] a connection or relationship between people or things □ Is there any link between the two cases? □ We are hoping to forge closer links with similar organizations abroad. -2. [between places] a way of traveling from one place to another; a way of communicating with a place □ a rail/telephone link. -3. [of a chain] a ring of a chain □ I've broken one of the links of my bracelet.

◇ vt -1. to connect <two or more people, places, ideas> etc □ the road that links the capital and the major port OR that links the capital with the major port □ Her name has been romantically linked to OR with his. -2. to link arms with sb to put one's arm through the space between sb's bent arm and their body.

◆ link up ◇ vt sep to link people/things up to connect people/things to each other, especially so that information can be sent between them □ I'm trying to link my computer up to the office with a modem. ◇ vi: We have now linked up with head office.

linkage ['lɪŋkɪdʒ] n a connection between two things.

linked [lɪŋkt] adj to be linked [ideas, events, names] to have a connection, often in a way that is unclear or that is difficult to prove □ There seems little doubt that the two crimes were linked. ■ with arms linked with arms joined together, like the links of a chain.

links [lɪŋks] (pl links) n a piece of ground where golf is played.

linkup ['lɪŋkʌp] n a connection, especially one made by telecommunications □ a TV/satellite/telephone linkup with the conference hall.

lino ['laɪnoʊ] n GB = linoleum.

linoleum [lɪ'nəʊlɪəm] n a type of material with a hard, shiny, usually patterned surface that one uses to cover a floor, especially in kitchens and bathrooms.

linseed oil ['lɪnsi:d] n an oil made from the seeds of flax and used e.g. in paint.

lint [lɪnt] n -1. small pieces of fiber and fluff that come from fabric □ Remove the lint from your dryer regularly. -2. GB an absorbent cloth made of cotton or linen and used to cover wounds or cuts.

lintel ['lɪntl] n a piece of stone or wood placed across the top of a door or window to support the wall above it.

lion ['laɪən] n a large, meat-eating wild animal that is a member of the cat family and lives mainly in Africa. Male lions have thick, dark-brown hair around their heads and necks.

lion cub n a very young lion.

lioness ['laɪənes] n a female lion.

lionize, -ise ['laɪənaɪz] vt to treat <sb> as being very talented, important etc □ He was lionized by the press.

lion tamer [-teɪmə] n a person who trains lions to perform tricks to entertain people at a circus.

lip [lɪp] n -1. one of the two fleshy edges of one's mouth □ the upper/lower lip. ■ to keep a stiff upper lip not to show one's feelings, even though it is difficult. ■ my lips are sealed I am determined I will not say anything. -2. [of a container, crater] the top edge of something.

lip balm n an ointment used on the lips to stop them feeling sore.

liposuction ['lɪpɒsʌkʃn] n an operation in which unwanted fat is removed from below one's skin by suction.

lip-read vi to understand what people are saying only by watching the movements of their lips.

lip salve [US -sæv, GB -sælv] n GB = lip balm.

lip service n to pay lip service to sthg to say that one agrees with or approves of sthg without actively doing anything to show this □ The new legislation only pays lip service to the idea of sexual equality.

lipstick ['lɪpstɪk] n a substance, in the form of a solid stick, used by women to color their lips; a stick of this substance inside a small cylindrical container □ She doesn't wear/use lipstick.

liquefied petroleum gas [ˌlɪkwɪfaɪd-] n a mixture of gas produced from petroleum that is used in liquid form as a fuel for vehicles.

liquefy [ˌlɪkwɪfaɪ] (pt & pp liquefied) ◇ vt to make  become a liquid. ◇ vi: When the temperature is high enough, the metal liquefies.

liqueur [US lɪ'kɜːr, GB lɪ'kjʊə] n a strong, sweet, often fruit-flavored alcoholic drink, usually served after a meal □ a liqueur glass □ liqueur chocolates.

liquid [ˌlɪkwəd] ◇ adj liquid oxygen/soap etc oxygen/soap etc in a form that will flow like water. ◇ n a liquid substance □ Drink plenty of liquids.

liquid assets npl assets that can easily be changed into cash if necessary.

liquidate [ˌlɪkwədeɪt] vt -1. BUSINESS to close , usually because it cannot pay its debts; to pay  in full. -2. [enemy, target] to kill <sb> (formal use).

liquidation [ˌlɪkwə'deɪʃn] n BUSINESS the process of closing down a company □ The company has gone into liquidation.

liquidator [ˌlɪkwədeɪtə] n BUSINESS the official responsible for closing down a company.

liquid crystal display n → LCD.

liquidity [ˌlɪ'kwɪdətɪ] n BUSINESS the state of having enough cash or assets to pay one's debts.

liquidize, -ise [ˌlɪkwədaɪz] vt [fruit, vegetables] to chop and crush <food> until it becomes liquid.

liquidizer [ˌlɪkwɪdaɪzə] n GB a machine used for making solid food into liquid.

liquor [ˌlɪkə] n strong alcoholic drink.

liquorice [ˌlɪkərɪʃ] n = licorice.

liquor store n US a store that sells alcoholic drinks.

lira [ˌlɪərə] n the unit of currency in Italy, Turkey, and Syria.

Lisbon [ˌlɪzbən] the capital of Portugal and its largest city and main port. POPULATION: 677,790.

lisp [lɪsp] ◇ n a problem some people have in speaking where they pronounce the sounds "s" and "z" as "th". ◇ vi to speak with a lisp.

lissom(e) [ˌlɪsəm] adj [body, person] that looks slim and graceful (literary use).

list [lɪst] ◇ n a group of things, names, places etc that are written down or mentioned together, especially one after another □ He wrote out a list of places to visit. □ Have you got me on your guest list? ◇ vt -1. [items, contents, ingredients] to write out <things> in a list □ The names are listed in alphabetical order. -2. [points, reasons, advantages] to say  one after the other □ She listed skiing as one of her hobbies. ◇ vi [ship] to lean over to one side.

listed building [ˌlɪstəd-] n GB a building that is officially protected because of its artistic value or age.

listed company n a company whose shares are quoted on a stock exchange.

listen [ˌlɪsn] vi -1. [audience, class, psychiatrist] to pay attention to a sound, to what somebody is saying etc, so that one hears it clearly □ Please listen! □ Go on, I'm listening. ■ to listen to sb/sthg to pay attention to sb/sthg so that one hears them clearly □ I wasn't listening to what you were saying. □ Do you listen much to the radio? ■ to listen for sthg to wait until one hears the sound of sthg □ We listened out for the signal. -2. [child, patient, friend] to do what somebody else suggests, especially because one believes or respects them □ I told you it wouldn't work, but you wouldn't lis- ten. □ If you'd listened to my advice in the first place, this wouldn't have happened.

♦ listen in vi -1. to listen to the radio □ Don't forget to listen in to next week's program. -2. to listen in on sb's conversation to listen to sb's conversation without them knowing □ Little did we know that he'd been listening in on our conversation.

♦ listen up vi listen up! US a phrase used to attract people's attention when one wants to say something.

listener ['lɪsnə] n -1. [to a person] a person who listens to and understands other people's problems □ She's a good listener. -2. [to the radio] a member of a radio audience □ Our listeners often write to us.

listeria [lɪ'stɪəriə] n a kind of bacteria found in soft cheeses and cooked food that can cause illness.

listing ['lɪstɪŋ] n a (computer) listing a sheet of paper with information from a computer printed on it.

♦ listings npl a magazine, or part of a magazine, that contains information about the movies, plays, exhibitions etc that are taking place in a particular city □ Have a look in the listings.

listless ['lɪstləs] adj [person] who has no energy or enthusiasm □ I felt listless in the heat.

list price n the price that the manufacturer of a particular product suggests that customers pay for it.

Liszt [lɪst], Franz (1811–1886) a Hungarian composer and pianist, known for his romantic piano music.

lit [lɪt] past tense & past participle of light.

litany ['lɪtəni] (pl litanies) n -1. RELIGION a prayer with fixed words spoken in turn by the priest and the congregation. -2. [of faults, problems, failures] a large number of the same thing that keeps being said or done that is bad, unpleasant, boring etc □ a litany of complaints.

litchi ['lɪtʃɪ] n a small, round, white, Chinese fruit with a hard rough skin and a large shiny seed in the middle.

liter US, litre GB ['lɪtə] n -1. [of water, milk, gasoline] a unit (one thousand cubic centimeters or 1.76 pints) for measuring the volume of liquid □ two liters of soda. -2. AUTO the unit that measures the capacity of an engine □ a two-liter engine.

literacy ['lɪtərəsi] n the ability to read and write.

literal ['lɪtərəl] adj -1. [meaning, sense, interpretation] that is the most basic, without any added sense. -2. [translation] in which each word is translated separately.

literally ['lɪtərəli] adv -1. a word used to emphasize that what one is saying is exactly true □ Literally thousands of people turned up. -2. a word used to give emphasis to an exaggerated or figurative expression □ I had to literally drag him onto the plane. -3. [mean, translate] see literal □ I have translated the poem freely rather than literally. ■ to take sth literally [remark, suggestion] to understand or interpret sth in its most basic or exact meaning □ I wouldn't take what she says literally.

literary [US 'lɪtərəri, GB -ərəri] adj -1. [word, style] that is typical of literature rather than spoken language, especially because it is more imaginative or expressive than is usual □ He uses a lot of highly literary vocabulary. -2. [criticism, prize, merit] that is connected with literature.

literate ['lɪtərət] adj -1. [person] who can read and write. -2. [person, class, audience] who has had a good education □ The book is aimed at a highly literate public.

literature ['lɪtərətʃə] n -1. [of a culture] pieces of writing, e.g. novels, poems, and plays; all the writing of this kind produced by a particular culture □ the history of English literature □ a literature course. -2. [on a subject] the books that have been written about a particular subject □ I've read all the literature on tropical diseases. -3. [on a product, service] printed information on a particular subject □ Help yourself to some literature on the courses we offer.

lithe [laɪð] adj [person, animal, body] that moves easily and gracefully.

lithium ['lɪθɪəm] n a soft, light, silver-white metal that is used in batteries and some drugs. SYMBOL: Li.

lithograph [US 'lɪθəgræf, GB 'lɪθoʊgrɑ:f] n a print made from a stone or plate whose surface has been covered with ink □ a signed lithograph by Picasso.

lithography [lɪ'θɒgrəfi] n the technique of making lithographs.

Lithuania [lɪ'θʊ'eɪnjə] a country in north-eastern Europe, on the Baltic Sea. SIZE: 65,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,800,000 (Lithuanians). CAPITAL: Vilnius. LANGUAGE: Lithuanian. CURRENCY: lit.

litigant ['lɪtɪɡənt] n one of the two sides in a lawsuit in a civil court of law (formal use).

litigate ['lɪtɪɡeɪt] vi to be involved in making or defending a case in a civil court of law (formal use).

litigation [lɪ'tɪɡeɪʃn] n the process of settling a lawsuit in a civil court of law.

litmus paper ['lɪtməs-pə] n a special kind of paper that turns red when it is placed in an acid and blue when it is placed in an alkali.

litre n GB = liter.

litter ['lɪtə] ◇ n -1. [on the ground] empty bottles, pieces of paper etc that people no longer want and have dropped or left in a public place or outdoors □ 'Do not drop litter.' □ There was a pile of litter on the sidewalk outside. -2. [of animals] a group of baby animals that have the same mother and were born at the same time □ a litter of puppies. -3. (cat) litter a substance made up of granules, e.g. of sand, that is placed in a litter tray in order to absorb the urine and excrement of a cat. ◇ vt [ground, room] to cover  with litter □ After the concert, the park was littered with cans and programs.

litter basket US, litterbin ['lɪtə'bin] GB n a container for litter in a public place.

litterbug ['lɪtə'bʌg] US, litterlout ['lɪtə'laut] GB n a person who drops or leaves litter in public places (disapproving use).

litter tray n a flat container with a layer of sand, sawdust etc in it where a pet animal, especially a cat, can leave its urine and excrement.

little ['lɪtl] (compar less, superl least) \diamond adj -1. [table, car, village] that is not big \square She had little hands and feet. \square He had left a little pile of coins on the table. -2. a word used about somebody or something small to show approval or disapproval \square They have this sweet little house. \square What a horrid little man! -3. [boy, girl] who is aged about ten years or less \square When I was little I was terrified of dogs. -4. one's little brother/sister the brother/sister who is younger than one, and who is still a child. -5. [walk, chat, while] that is short in time or distance \square He was still a little way off. \square Let's go for a little drive in the car.

\diamond det little time/food a very small amount of time/food \square He speaks very little English. \square There is little doubt who is to blame.

\diamond pron a very small amount \square I see so little of you now. \square Little is known about his childhood.

\diamond adv -1. not much \square He's little more than a child. -2. not often \square I go out very little now.

\blacklozenge a little \diamond det a little time/food a small amount of time/food \square I'll have a little more coffee, please. \square He speaks a little English.

\diamond pron a small amount \square "More wine?" — "Just a little, thanks." \square There's a little (bit) left if you want it. \diamond adv a little tired/bored slightly tired/bored \square I was a little annoyed by what she said. \square It's improved a little, but not much.

\blacklozenge little by little adv gradually \square Little by little his eyesight grew worse. \square I discovered, little by little, what it was that had happened.

Little Bighorn [-'bɪghɔ:'n]: the Little Bighorn a river in Montana where the US army, led by General Custer, was defeated by Native Americans.

little finger n the smallest finger on one's hand.

little-known adj [author, place] that many people do not know about \square It's a little-known fact that...

Little League n in the USA, a baseball league for children.

Little Orphan Annie [-'æni] a character in American children's comics who is always getting into trouble.

Little Red Riding Hood a character in a fairy tale. She is a young girl who is eaten by a wolf disguised as her grandmother.

liturgy ['lɪtədʒɪ] (pl liturgies) n the fixed words and forms of a Christian religious service.

live¹ [lɪv] \diamond vi -1. to be alive \square Mozart lived in the 18th century. \square Her parents are still living. -2. to continue to be alive \square Nobody knows whether he will live or not. -3. to have one's home in a particular place \square I live in Birmingham. \square Where do you live? -4. to have a particular kind of life \square I like living alone. \diamond vt to experience <life> in a particular way \square She's always lived a life of luxury. \square He lives life to the full. \blacksquare to live it up to enjoy oneself very much by eating, drinking, going to parties etc (informal use) \square Let's go out and live it up a bit!

\blacklozenge live down vt sep to live sth down [disgrace, failure, mistake] to make people forget sth silly or embarrassing that one has done \square You'll never live this down!

\blacklozenge live for vt fus to live for sb/sthg [for one's family, work, hobby] to have sb/sthg as the most important thing in one's life \square She lives for her children. \square I've got nothing else to live for.

\blacklozenge live in vi [cook, nanny] to live in the house where one works; [student] to live in the college where one studies \square Are you going to live in with the family/live in in your final year?

\blacklozenge live off vt fus -1. to live off sthg [off one's investment, savings] to use sthg as one's main income \square He invested the money and lived off the interest. -2. to live off sb/sthg [off the land, state, one's family] to get the money one needs to live from sb/sthg \square There are too many people living off the government.

\blacklozenge live on \diamond vt fus -1. to live on a sum of money to use a sum of money to pay for the things one needs to live \square I have to live on a part-time salary. \square I've got $150 to live on for the rest of the month. -2. to live on a particular kind of food [on meat, vegetables] to eat only, or almost only, a particular kind of food \square Pandas live on bamboo. \diamond vi [memory, spirit] to continue to be alive or be remembered \square Adela may have died, but her work will live on for years to come.

\blacklozenge live out vt fus to live out one's life to live the rest of one's life \square He lived out his life in a small cabin in Montana.

\blacklozenge live together vi [two people] to live in the same house like a married couple but without being married \square My sister and her boyfriend lived together before getting married.

\blacklozenge live up to vt fus to live up to sthg [to a reputation, ideal, somebody's expectations] to be as good as sthg \square The movie doesn't live up to what the critics have said.

\blacklozenge live with vt fus -1. to live with sb [with a friend, family] to live in the same house as sb; [with a man, woman, partner] to live in the same house as sb and have a sexual relationship with them \square His brother's been living with us for a month now. \square Does she live with her boyfriend? -2. to live with sthg [with a situation, problem, illness] to have sthg for as long as it continues \square I don't like the situation, but I suppose I'll just have to learn to live with it.

live² [laɪv] \diamond adj -1. [animal] that is alive \square He used live worms as bait. -2. [coal, match] that is still burning. -3. [ammunition] that has not been used and is still dangerous. -4. ELECTRICITY [wire, cable, machine] that carries an electric current and can give one a shock. -5. RADIO & TV [program, coverage, commentary] that is broadcast at the same time as the event that it presents is taking place \square the opening ceremony, brought to you live from Sydney. -6. [performance, theater, recording] that involves the presentation of something as it - happens, especially in front of an audience □ A live recording will be made of the performance.

- ◇ adv -1. [broadcast] at the same time as the actual performance or event being shown □ The show is going out live to five million people.
- 2. [perform, play] in front of an audience □ The album was recorded live in concert.
- live-in [lɪv-ɪ] adj a live-in cook/housekeeper a cook/housekeeper who lives in the house where they work ■ a live-in lover a person who lives in the same house as the person they are having a sexual relationship with.
- livelihood [ˈlɪvliːhʊd] n one's livelihood the way one earns the money that one needs to live □ Fishing has always been their livelihood. □ 500 people may lose their livelihoods because of this.
- lively [ˈlɪvli] (compar livelier, superl liveliest) adj -1. [person, personality] who is happy, enthusiastic, and full of energy. -2. [time, party, debate] that is exciting and enjoyable. -3. [mind, spirit] that is active and intelligent □ She takes a lively interest in current affairs. -4. [color] that is strong and bright.
- liven [ˈlɪvɪn] ◆ liven up ◇ vt sep to liven sth up [atmosphere, place, party] to make sth more interesting and exciting □ This office needs livening up. □ Let's put on some music to liven things up. ◇ vi -1. [atmosphere, place, party] to become more interesting and exciting □ Things livened up toward the end of the evening. -2. [person] to become more cheerful and energetic □ When I mentioned his name she livened up immediately.
- liver [ˈlɪvə] n -1. the large organ in the body that cleans the blood □ liver disease/failure □ a liver transplant. -2. the liver of an animal, e.g. a lamb or pig, cooked as food □ fried liver □ chicken liver pâté.
- Liverpool [ˈlɪvəˈpuːl] a port and industrial city in northwestern England. POPULATION: 448,300.
- Liverpudlian [ˌlɪvəˈpʊdliən] ◇ n a person who lives in or comes from Liverpool. ◇ adj: a Liverpudlian accent.
- liverwurst [ˈlɪvəˈwɜːst] US, liver sausage GB n a kind of sausage that is made from liver.
- livery [ˈlɪvəri] (pl liveries) n the uniform of a servant or somebody who works in a hotel.
- lives [laɪvz] plural of life.
- livestock [ˈlɪvstɒk] n a collective term for all the animals kept on a farm for breeding or to produce meat, milk, wool etc.
- live wire [ˌlɪv-ɪ] n an energetic and enthusiastic person (informal use).
- livid [ˈlɪvəd] adj -1. [person] who is very angry (informal use) □ When I heard, I was absolutely livid. -2. [bruise, skin] that has a dark color between purple and dark blue.
- living [ˈlɪvɪŋ] ◇ adj -1. [relative, organism] that is alive □ He is this country's greatest living artist. -2. [language] that is still spoken. ◇ n -1. [from working] the money one earns from working □ What do you do for a living? □ He makes a good living as a management consultant.
- 2. a way of life □ Country living isn't my idea of fun.
- living conditions npl the conditions in which a person lives □ We were shocked at the poor living conditions of these people.
- living expenses npl the money a person needs for the basic things in life, especially food and accommodation.
- living room n the room in a home that usually has comfortable seats, a television etc, so that people can sit and relax there.
- living standards npl the level of comfort a person has in their life □ She's used to relatively high living standards.
- Livingstone [ˈlɪvɪŋstəʊn], Dr David a British missionary and explorer. He was the first European to discover the Zambezi River, Victoria Falls, and Lake Malawi.
- living wage n a wage that is enough to pay for the things one needs to live, e.g. food, clothes, and housing.
- living will n a set of instructions about the medical treatment one would like to be given at the end of one's life if one has become too ill to express such decisions.
- lizard [ˈlɪzəd] n a reptile with four short legs and a long tail.
- llama [ˈlɑːmə] (pl llama OR llamas) n a South American animal like a small camel without a hump, with long thick hair.
- LLB (abbr of Bachelor of Laws) n a degree in law; a person who has this degree.
- LLD (abbr of Doctor of Laws) n a postgraduate degree in law; a person who has this degree.
- Lloyd George [ləɪd-], David (1863–1945) British Prime Minister from 1916 to 1922.
- LMT (abbr of Local Mean Time) n the local time at a particular place in the USA.
- lo [lou] excl lo and behold a phrase used to show that something that one is going to describe was very surprising (humorous use) □ We were just talking about Tim when lo and behold he appeared.
- load [ləʊd] ◇ n -1. [of bricks] something that is carried, especially something heavy □ a load of bricks/sand/shopping. -2. [of work] an amount of work, especially a large amount □ My work load is very heavy at the moment. -3. a load of sth, loads of sth [of money, people, work] a lot of sth (informal use) □ "Have you any tapes?" — "Not with me, but I've got loads at home." □ He had a whole load of books on his bike. □ What a complete load of crap that movie was!
- ◇ vt -1. [truck, car, ship] to put things into  especially in order to take them somewhere; [luggage, boxes, goods] to put <sth> into a vehicle □ We loaded the van with boxes. □ We loaded everything into the car. -2. [rifle, revolver, cannon] to put ammunition into  □ The gun was loaded with blanks. -3. PHOTOGRAPHY to put a film in . -4. [video, film] to put <sth> into a machine. -5. COMPUTING to start .
- ◆ load up ◇ vt sep to load sth up [vehicle, luggage, goods] to load sthg □ Once everything's loaded up, we can get going. ◇ vi: It took ages to load up.

loaded ['ləʊdəd] adj -1. [question] that is asked in a way which suggests a particular answer. -2. [gun] that contains bullets; [camera] that contains a film. -3. to be loaded [person] to be rich (informal use).

loading bay ['ləʊdɪŋ] n a place near a store, factory etc where trucks can be parked and loaded.

loaf [ləʊf] (pl loaves) n bread that has been baked in one piece and is usually cut into slices and eaten □ a loaf of wholewheat bread.

◆ loaf around, loaf about vi to spend a lot of time being lazy and not doing anything useful (informal use).

loafer ['ləʊfə] n a light shoe without laces.

loam [ləʊm] n a kind of soil that contains a lot of dead plants and is good for growing plants.

loan [ləʊn] ◇ n -1. [from a bank] something, especially money, that one borrows from somebody □ We had to take out a loan to build the extension. -2. [of money, an object] the action of lending something □ Thanks for the loan of your car. ■ on loan lent by a person or organization □ The picture is on loan from the Metropolitan Museum. ◇ vt [money, car, camera] to lend <sthg> □ She loaned her car to a friend for the weekend. □ Can you loan me $10?

loan account n a special bank account into which money is paid by a customer in order to repay a sum borrowed from the bank.

loan capital n money that is part of a company's capital and has been borrowed from somewhere else.

loan shark n a person who lends money at very high interest rates (informal and disapproving use).

loath [ləʊθ] adj to be loath to do sthg not to want to do sthg □ I'm very loath to admit it.

loathe [ləʊð] vt [person, activity, habit] to hate <sb/sthg> □ I really loathe ironing.

loathing ['ləʊðɪŋ] n hatred.

loathsome ['ləʊðsəm] adj [person, appearance, habit] that one finds extremely unpleasant.

loaves [ləʊvz] plural of loaf.

lob [lɒb] (pt & pp lobbed, cont lobbying) ◇ vt -1. to throw <sthg> high in the air □ I lobbed the apples over the fence to him. -2. SPORT to throw, hit, or kick  high in the air so that it passes over one's opponent without them being able to reach it. ◇ n SPORT the act of lobbing a ball into the air, e.g. in tennis or soccer, so that an opponent cannot reach it.

lobby ['lɒbi] (pl lobbies, pt & pp lobbied) ◇ n -1. [of a hotel] the entrance hall of a hotel or other large building. -2. POLITICS a group of people who try to persuade politicians to help their interests □ America's gun lobby. ◇ vt [politician, parliament] to try to persuade <sb> to support one's cause □ They've been lobbying Congress for a change in the law.

lobbyist ['lɒbiəst] n a person whose job is to lobby politicians on behalf of a particular group or organization.

lobe [ləʊb] n ANATOMY -1. the soft round part at the bottom of the ear. -2. one of the parts that a body organ, such as the brain, is divided into.

lobelia [ləʊ'bi:ljə] n a garden plant with very small blue, pink, or white flowers.

lobotomy [ləʊ'bɒtəmi] (pl lobotomies) n an operation in which a cut is made in the front part of the brain, to treat somebody with very serious mental problems.

lobster ['lɒbstə] n an animal that lives in the sea and has a shell, two large claws, and eight legs; the meat of this animal boiled and eaten as food □ lobster Thermidor.

lobster pot n a container used for catching lobsters.

local ['ləʊkl] ◇ adj [resident, amenity, store] that belongs to or is in a particular area, especially the area where one lives □ The local population has increased dramatically. □ our local delivery man □ The local gym is really very good. ◇ n -1. [of a town, neighborhood] a person who lives in a particular area, especially one who has lived there for a long time □ There have been several complaints from locals. -2. US a bus or train that stops at all stopping places. -3. GB one's local the bar, pub etc that is nearest one's house and that one goes to regularly (informal use).

local anesthetic n an anesthetic that stops one feeling anything in a particular part of the body and that does not make one unconscious.

NOTE: Compare general anesthetic.

local area network n a system of computer terminals that are linked together in one building.

local authority n GB the group of people whose job is to govern a small area such as a city or county.

local call n a telephone call to somebody in the same city, town etc and with the same area code □ Local calls are free from this hotel.

local color n the people and things, e.g. their clothes and traditions, that make a particular place different, attractive, and exciting □ The book was full of local color.

locale [US ləʊ'kæɪ, GB -'kɑ:ɪ] n the place where something happens (formal use).

local government n the government of an area such as a city or county □ local government officials/finance.

locality [ləʊ'kæləti] (pl localities) n a small area of a city or region.

localized, -ised ['ləʊkəlaɪzd] adj [infection, damage, outbreak] that is limited to one particular place or area.

locally ['ləʊkəli] adv -1. [decide, organize] at a local rather than a national level □ Decisions regarding planning permission are made locally. -2. [live, work] close to where one lives or works □ I always try to shop locally.

local time n the time in a particular part of the world □ We will be arriving in Venice at 11:30 local time.

locate [US 'loukeɪt, GB lou'kert] ◇ vt -1. [person, problem, position] to find <sb/sthg> □ We have located the source of the problem. -2. to be located in a place [business, office] to be in a particular place □ The store is ideally located for the commuter trade. ◇ vi to move to a particular place to live or start a business □ The company located in Boston.

location [lou'keɪʃn] n -1. [of a business, office] the place where something happens or is done □ We've found a suitable location for our new supermarket. -2. [of a person, ship] the place where somebody or something is at a particular time □ Officer Newman, can you give me your location? -3. CINEMA on location in a place that is not part of a studio □ The movie was shot on location in Vienna.

loc. cit. (abbr of loco citato) a phrase used in a piece of writing to refer to a passage that has already been quoted.

loch [lɒk] n in Scotland, a lake.

Loch Lomond [-'loumɒnd] a lake in western Scotland, north of Glasgow.

Loch Ness Monster [-nes-] the Loch Ness Monster a large animal like a snake that is supposed to live in Loch Ness, a lake in Scotland.

lock [lɒk] ◇ n -1. [of a door] a device that is fixed to something, e.g. a door, lid, or chain, that closes it when a key is used in it, and can only be opened again by that key □ The key won't turn in the lock. ■ to be under lock and key to be kept somewhere that is closed with a lock □ The documents are usually kept under lock and key in the bank. -2. [on a canal] a series of gates at a point in a canal, used to raise or lower boats to a different level. -3. AUTO the extent to which the wheels of a car can be turned. -4. [of hair] a small piece of hair that has been cut from somebody's head (literary use). -5. phrase lock, stock, and barrel completely □ He bought the company lock, stock, and barrel.

◇ vt -1. [door, suitcase] to close <sthg> with a key □ That room is usually kept locked. -2. [document, valuables] to put <sthg> in a particular place and lock it □ She locked her jewels in the safe. -3. [wheels, steering, gears] to cause  to be unable to move. -4. to be locked in an embrace [lovers, friends] to be holding each other in a long embrace. ■ to be locked in combat [opponents] to be fighting each other very hard.

◇ vi -1. [door, chain, lid] The door locked behind him. -2. [wheels, gears, steering] to become unable to move.

◆ locks npl the hair on one's head (literary use).

◆ lock in vt sep to lock sb in to keep sb in a room, house etc with the door locked so that they cannot get out □ I tried the door and found I was locked in. □ He locked himself in.

◆ lock out vt sep -1. to lock sb out to accidentally stop sb from getting into a building, especially into their own house, by locking the door □ I locked myself out last night. -2. to lock sb out to deliberately stop sb from getting into a building by locking the door □ The staff were locked out of the factory.

◆ lock up ◇ vt sep -1. to lock sb up to put sb in prison or in a psychiatric hospital □ People like that ought to be locked up! -2. to lock sth up [house, car] to lock all the doors and windows of sthg. -3. to lock sth up [object, valuables] to put sthg in a container and lock it □ She locked the documents up in the safe. ◇ vi to lock all the doors and windows of a building or vehicle □ Don't forget to lock up when you've finished.

lockable ['lɒkəbl] adj [door, case, drawer] that can be locked.

Locke [lɒk], John (1632–1704) a British philosopher who influenced the French and American Revolutions.

locker ['lɒkə] n a metal closet, e.g. in a school, changing room, or at a station, where one can keep one's clothes, bag etc for a short time.

locker room n a room at a swimming pool, sports club etc where there are lockers and where people get changed or have a shower.

locket ['lɒkət] n a piece of jewelry on a chain that goes around one's neck and often contains a small picture of somebody.

lockjaw ['lɒkdʒɔ:] n = tetanus.

lockout ['lɒkaʊt] n the closing of a place where people work by employers to try to make workers accept particular conditions.

locksmith ['lɒksmɪθ] n a person whose job is to make and repair locks.

lockup ['lɒklʌp] n (informal use) -1. [for prisoners] a jail; a cell. -2. GB [for a car] a garage that is not attached to a house and that one can rent to keep one's car in.

loco ['lɒkəʊ] (pl locos) adj US crazy (informal use). ◇ n GB = locomotive.

locomotive [,lɒkə'məʊtɪv] n the part of a train that pulls the cars.

locum ['lɒkəm] (pl locums) n GB a doctor who does another doctor's work while they are away.

locust ['lɒkəst] n a large insect that flies in very big groups and causes damage to crops, especially in hot countries □ a swarm of locusts.

lodge [lɒdʒ] ◇ n -1. [on vacation] a hut or small house where people stay on vacation, e.g. to go hunting or skiing. -2. [of a large house] a small house at the entrance to the grounds of a large house. -3. [of freemasons] a local branch of an organization, especially of freemasons. -4. GB [of a college] a room at the entrance of a college used by a porter or caretaker.

◇ vi -1. to rent a room in somebody's house □ I'm lodging with an old couple till I find somewhere more permanent. -2. [bullet, bone] to become stuck □ A fishbone lodged in her throat. -3. [idea, fact] to stay in one's mind so that one remembers it □ That date became lodged in her brain.

◇ vt to lodge a complaint/appeal to make an official complaint/appeal (formal use).

lodger ['lɒdʒə] n a person who lives in a rented room in somebody else's house.

lodging ['lɒdʒɪŋ] n → board.

◆ lodgings npl a room or rooms that one rents in somebody else's house □ He's staying in lodgings near the park.

loft [lɒft] n -1. a large floor of a commercial building that is not divided into rooms and is used as an apartment. -2. the space under the roof of a house.

lofty ['lɒftɪ] (compar loftier, superl loftiest) adj -1. [ideal, aim, feeling] that is noble and deserves to be admired. -2. [manner, attitude] that shows a feeling of superiority over other people (disapproving use). -3. [peak, tower] high (literary use).

log [lɒg] (pt & pp logged, cont logging) ◇ n -1. [of wood] a piece of a tree trunk or thick branch □ Put another log on the fire. -2. [of a ship, plane] the written record of the journey of a ship, plane etc. ◇ vt -1. [captain, pilot] to write <information> in a log. -2. COMPUTING to enter <data> in a computer. -3. [ship, plane] to travel ; to move at .

◆ log in, log on vi to type a code, password etc to be able to start using a computer.

◆ log off, log out vi to type a code, password etc to finish using a computer.

loganberry [US 'lɒɡənberɪ, GB -bəri] (pl loganberries) n a soft purple fruit like a raspberry.

logarithm ['lɒɡərɪðəm] n a number that represents another number and can be used to make multiplication easier.

logbook ['lɒgbʊk] n -1. [of a ship] the written record of the journey of a ship, plane etc. -2. [of a car] a book that contains the details of a particular car.

log cabin n a simple house or shelter built of logs.

log fire n a fire in which logs are burning.

loggerheads ['lɒɡə'hedz] n to be at loggerheads to be disagreeing strongly □ The manager is at loggerheads with the owner.

logic ['lɒdʒɪk] n -1. a clear way of reasoning that uses statement that follow on from each other, with each one being true □ Their arguments are based on sound logic. -2. a particular set of reasons □ I don't follow your logic.

logical ['lɒdʒɪkl] adj -1. [deduction, thinking, person] that uses logic □ It doesn't seem like a very logical decision. -2. [plan, idea, course of action] that is reasonable and sensible and therefore obvious □ It's the logical thing to do.

logically ['lɒdʒɪklɪ] adv -1. a word used to say that something is the logical result of another thing □ Logically, there was only one course of action open to us. -2. [deduce, act, conclude] see logical.

logistical [lə'dʒɪstɪkl] adj [problem] that concerns the planning or organization of difficult or complicated matters □ It's a logistical nightmare.

logistics [lə'dʒɪstɪks] n the planning or organization of something difficult or complicated □ The team is grappling with the logistics of getting medical aid to the stricken area.

logjam ['lɒgdʒæm] n a difficulty that prevents a person, organization, or project from continuing in a particular activity.

logo ['lɒɡəʊ] (pl logos) n a small picture or symbol that represents a company or organization and often uses part of its name.

logrolling ['lɒɡrɒlɪŋ] n US the practice, especially among politicians, of agreeing to help or support somebody so that they will later help and support one.

logy ['lɒɡɪ] adj US [person] who does not feel very active or energetic.

loin [lɔɪn] n [of pork, lamb] a piece of meat from the back of an animal or the area near its tail □ a loin chop.

◆ loins npl the area of the body around one's sexual organs. ■ to gird one's loins to prepare oneself for an energetic or dangerous activity (humorous use).

loincloth ['lɔɪnklɒθ] n a piece of cloth worn over the loins, with no other clothing, usually by men in hot countries.

Loire [lwa:'ɪ] the Loire the longest river in France. The Loire valley is famous for its wines and castles.

loiter ['lɔɪtə] vi -1. to stay somewhere doing nothing, for no obvious reason □ 'No loitering.' -2. to take more time going somewhere than is necessary.

Lolita [ləʊ'li:tə] a character in the novel Lolita by Vladimir Nabokov. She is a sexually attractive teenage girl who the main character, a middle-aged man, becomes obsessed with.

loll [lɒl] vi -1. [person] to sit or lie in a very relaxed way □ He spent all afternoon lolling about on the sofa. -2. [head, tongue] to hang down loosely.

lollipop ['lɒlɪpɒp] n a hard round candy on the end of a small stick.

lolly ['lɒli] (pl lollies) n GB -1. a lollipop. -2. = ice lolly. -3. money (informal use).

London ['lʌndən] the capital of the United Kingdom, in southeastern England, and its largest city. POPULATION: 6,378,600.

London ['lʌndən], Jack (1876–1916) a US writer whose most important work is Call of the Wild.

Londonderry ['lʌndəndəri] a city and port on the north coast of Northern Ireland. POPULATION: 88,000.

Londoner ['lʌndənə] n a person who comes from or lives in London.

lone [ləʊn] adj a lone figure/tree etc a figure/tree etc that is the only one in a place □ A lone walker appeared on the beach.

loneliness ['lʌʊnlɪnəs] n [of a person, time, place] see lonely.

lonely ['lʌʊnli] (compar lonelier, superl loneliest) adj -1. [person] who is unhappy because they are alone; who is unhappy because they have no friends □ At first I felt very lonely.

-2. [time, childhood] during which one feels lonely □ I spent a long, lonely night waiting for them to return. -3. [place] that very few people visit □ a dark, lonely house.

lone parent n GB a single parent.

loner ['lɒnə] n a person who prefers to be alone.

lonesome ['lɒnsəm] adj [person, place] = lonely.

long [lɒŋ] ◇ adj -1. [journey, wait, marriage, career] that continues for a greater than average amount of time □ It took a long time to cook the turkey. □ There was a long silence while everyone waited for me to speak. ■ to have a long memory to be able to remember things from the distant past. -2. [hair, grass, chapter] that is a greater than average length or distance □ We all sat around a long table. □ It's a long way from here. -3. used to show amounts of time or distance □ How long is the movie? □ The lake is about 12 miles long. -4. [period of time] that seems to pass slowly because it involves too much effort, worry, pain etc □ Let's get to bed, it's been a long day. □ the long months of anxious waiting that followed.

◇ adv -1. [last, take, stay] (for) a great amount of time □ The meeting went on too long. □ Will they be away long? -2. used in questions about length of time □ How much longer will you be? -3. phrases no longer not any more □ You're no longer welcome here. □ I can't listen to this any longer. ■ so long! goodbye! (informal use).

◇ n the long and the short of it is that... a phrase used to quickly explain the main fact or result of a situation, especially a bad one □ The long and the short of it is that it's going to cost $700 to repair the damage.

◇ vt to long to do sthg to want to do sthg very much □ I longed to tell them the truth. □ He's longing to hear from you.

◆ as long as, so long as conj provided that □ As long as you're happy I don't care what you do. □ As long as you do exactly what I told you to, everything will be fine.

◆ before long adv soon □ He'll get bored before long, you'll see. □ Before long the room was full.

◆ for long adv for a great amount of time □ She wasn't gone for very long. □ I can't wait for much longer.

◆ long for vt fus to long for sthg [for a chance, vacation, cigarette] to want sthg very much □ Jon's always longed for a family. □ We were all longing for him to leave.

long. abbr of longitude.

long-awaited [-ə'weɪtəd] adj [day, decision] that one has been waiting for for a long time.

long-distance adj [runner, race, truck driver] that covers a long distance □ long-distance trips.

long-distance call n a telephone call between people who are far apart.

long division n a method of dividing one number by another in which each stage is written below the numbers.

long-drawn-out adj [process, explanation] that lasts much longer than necessary □ After long-drawn-out negotiations they finally reached an agreement.

long drink n a drink in a tall glass that contains little or no alcohol.

longevity [lɒn'dʒevəti] n long life.

Longfellow ['lɒŋfelou], Henry Wadsworth (1807–1882) a US poet known for his long narrative poems. His work includes Miles Standish and The Song of Hiawatha.

longhaired [ˌlɒŋ'heə'd] adj [person, animal] that has long hair.

longhand ['lɒŋhænd] n writing that is written by hand using complete words and sentences.

long-haul adj a long-haul flight a flight that covers a long distance, usually between continents.

longing ['lɒŋŋ] ◇ adj a longing look a look that shows one wants somebody or something very much. ◇ n a feeling one has when one wants something very much over a period of time □ She has a deep longing for freedom. □ He looked with longing at the cakes.

longingly ['lɒŋŋli] adv [look, think] see longing.

Long Island an island in the Atlantic Ocean, off the coast of New York State, USA. It includes the boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens.

longitude ['lɒndʒɪtju:d] n a position on the Earth, or on a map, measured in degrees east or west of a line from the North Pole to the South Pole and passing through Greenwich in London.

NOTE: Compare latitude.

long johns npl underpants with long legs that one wears to keep warm.

long jump n an athletics contest in which people run up to a fixed point and then jump forward as far as possible.

long-lasting adj [effect, material] that lasts for a long time □ These roses have beautiful long-lasting flowers.

long-life adj [milk, battery] that can be used for a longer time than the ordinary type.

long-lost adj [relative, object] that one has not seen for a long time □ He greeted her as if she was his long-lost sister.

long-playing record [-'plɛɪŋ-] n → LP.

long-range adj -1. [missile, bomber] that can reach a target that is far away. -2. [plan, forecast] that covers a long period of time in the future.

long-running adj [program, show, dispute] that has existed for a long time □ a long-running battle for supremacy.

long-service leave n AUS a period of time that somebody is allowed to spend away from work if they have worked at the same place for several years.

longshoreman [ˌlɒŋʃɔ:'mən] (pl longshoremen [-mən]) n US a person whose job is to load and unload ships at a dock.

long shot n something that somebody does that has very little chance of success □ Look, it's a long shot, but we might as well try it.

longsighted [ˌlɒŋ'saɪtəd] adj -1. [person] who cannot see things clearly that are very near. -2. [person] who can see and be ready for future problems, needs etc.

long-standing adj [disagreement, treaty] that has existed for a long time □ We have a long-standing arrangement with the suppliers.

longsuffering [ˌlɒŋ'sʌfərɪŋ] adj [person] who patiently accepts pain, difficulties, or bad treatment □ I'd like to thank my longsuffering family for all their support.

long term n in the long term in the future that is not soon □ It looks like a good strategy, but will it work in the long term?

◆ long-term adj [solution, effect] that lasts for a long time; [plan] that will take effect in the long term □ I think you need to consider the long-term implications of what you're doing. □ Have you any long-term plans?

long vacation n the summer vacation, when schools and universities are closed.

long wave n a range of radio waves that are more than 1,000 meters long □ They used to broadcast on long wave only.

NOTE: Compare medium wave, short wave.

longways ['lɒŋweɪz] adv = lengthways.

longwearing [ˌlɒŋ'weərɪŋ] adj US [material, piece of clothing] that lasts for a long time, even when used a lot.

long weekend n a weekend when one does not work the Friday before or the Monday after.

longwinded [ˌlɒŋ'wɪndəd] adj [person, speech] that takes too long to say something and uses more words than necessary.

loo [lu:] (pl loos) n GB a toilet (informal use).

loofa(h) ['lu:fə] n a long, rough, dried part of a tropical fruit, used like a sponge for washing the body.

look [lʊk] ◇ vt to look one's age to appear to be the age one actually is □ She's not forty! Well, she certainly doesn't look her age. ■ to look one's best to appear as attractive as possible □ I want to look my best for the party.

◇ excl look (here)! a phrase used to make the person one is talking to pay attention □ Look what he's done now! □ Look, this is serious!

◇ n -1. to take OR have a look at sthg to look at sthg, especially in order to check or repair it or to find out information □ Just take a look at these latest sales figures. □ That's a nasty cut you have on your knee: let me have a look at it. □ I took one look at the car and decided I must have it. ■ to give sb a look to look at sb in a way that shows what one is feeling □ She gave me a sly/angry/reproachful look. -2. to have a look for sthg to search for sthg, especially quickly □ Would you mind having a look for my keys? -3. [of a person] the appearance of a person or thing □ We want to give our offices a more modern look. □ I don't like the look of him much. ■ by OR from the look of sthg judging by the appearance of sthg □ By the look of those clouds, I'd say it's going to rain. □ From the look of things, I don't think they've won. -4. [of a period] a particular fashion or style of dress □

It's the latest look. □ this season's hottest look.

◇ vi -1. to turn one's eyes in a particular direction in order to see something □ Don't look now, but my ex-husband has just walked in.

-2. to search □ I've looked everywhere and I still can't find it. -3. to look out onto OR over sthg [building, window] to have a view of sthg □ The balcony looks out over the ocean. -4. [person, place, object] to have a particular appearance; to make a particular impression □ That cake looks delicious! □ You're looking very smart today. □ The house looked empty. ■ it looks like rain, it looks as if it's going to rain it seems likely that it will rain □ He looked as if he'd been drinking. ■ to look like sb to have the same appearance as sb □ She looks just like her sister.

◆ looks npl a person's attractive appearance □ Good looks aren't everything. □ Despite having had three children, Jane hadn't lost her looks.

◆ look after vt fus -1. to look after sb to take care of sb who is very old, very young, or ill □ She can't look after herself any more. □ He stays at home and looks after the children. -2. to look after sthg [after money, a house, a garden] to be responsible for sthg □ Mr Wells looks after our financial affairs.

◆ look around ◇ vt fus to look around a place [around a house, store, town] to walk around a place looking at the different parts of it □ I'm sick of looking around museums. ◇ vi to turn around and look at something that has attracted one's attention □ Everyone looked around when she came in.

◆ look at vt fus -1. to look at sb/sthg [at a person, view, object] to turn one's head in the direction of sb/sthg in order to see it □ Look at me when I'm talking to you! -2. to look at sb/sthg [at a drawing, report, patient] to examine sb/sthg carefully □ We're still looking at their proposal. □ When did you last have your teeth looked at? -3. to look at sthg [at life, an idea, situation] to have a particular attitude toward sthg □ I suppose that's one way of looking at the problem.

◆ look back vi to think or talk about the past □ Looking back on it, I was really immature. □ In tonight's program we'll be looking back over the year's events. ■ she's never looked back she's been successful ever since □ She made one film for Australian television and since then she's never looked back.

◆ look down on vt fus to look down on sb to think that sb is not as good as oneself because they are poorer, less educated, or have a lower social position □ There's no need to look down on her just because of the way she talks!

◆ look for vt fus to look for sb/sthg to try to find sb/sthg that one wants or has lost □ I'm looking for Liz/the shoe department. □ Police are looking for three teenagers seen at the scene of the attack.

◆ look forward to vt fus to look forward to sthg [to a vacation, event] to wait with a feeling of pleasure or excitement for sthg that is going to happen □ We're all looking forward to meeting him. □ I'm not looking forward to this at all. □ At least it'll give you something to look forward to.

- ◆ look into vt fus to look into a situation [into a problem, crime] to examine a situation in order to find out more about it □ Police are looking into possible causes of the accident.
- ◆ look on ◇ vt fus = look upon. ◇ vi [by-stander, audience, crowd] to watch something without taking part in it or trying to prevent it □ Shoppers looked on in horror as fire swept through the building.
- ◆ look out vi look out! a phrase used to warn somebody that they are in danger □ Look out, there's a car coming!
- ◆ look out for vt fus to look out for sb/sthg [for a person, new product, suspect package] to try to notice sb/sthg, especially while one is doing something else □ These tomatoes will be available soon, so look out for them at your local supermarket.
- ◆ look round vi = look around.
- ◆ look through vt fus to look through sthg [through a report, magazine, wardrobe] to examine sthg in order to find what one is searching for □ I've looked through my files but I can't find the letter.
- ◆ look to vt fus to look to sb for sthg [for help, guidance, inspiration] to expect sb to provide sthg that is needed □ I've always looked to my family for support when things were going badly for me.
- ◆ look up ◇ vt sep -1. to look sthg up [meaning, word, fact] to find out sthg by looking for it in a book □ If you don't know what it means, look it up in the dictionary. -2. to look sb up to visit sb when one has to go to the area where they live for another reason □ Don't forget to look me up next time you're passing through Little Rock. ◇ vi things are looking up the situation is getting better (informal use).
- ◆ look upon vt fus to look upon sb/sthg to think of sb/sthg in a particular way □ I've always looked upon my home as an investment.
- ◆ look up to vt fus to look up to sb to feel admiration and respect for sb □ I always looked up to him because he was my big brother.

look-alike n a person who looks like somebody else in particular □ a Bill Clinton look-alike.

look-in n to get a look-in to get a chance to do something that somebody else is doing □ She talks so much that I never usually get a look-in.

lookout ['lʊkɑʊt] n -1. a place, usually high up, where somebody can look out, e.g. for an enemy approaching; a person who looks out, e.g. for an enemy approaching □ She asked me to act as lookout in case they arrived early. -2. to be on the lookout for sb/sthg [for a job, opportunity, criminal] to be looking for sb/sthg □ We're always on the lookout for people with new ideas. □ Keep a lookout for the new version of the software.

look-up table n a table of the results of particular calculations that is stored in a computer's memory so that one can find it quickly without the need to calculate a result each time.

loom [lu:m] ◇ n a machine that is used to make cloth by weaving threads together. ◇ vi -1. [building, figure] to appear in a way that is frightening or impressive, by being tall and difficult to see clearly □ The mountains loomed high above the city. -2. [threat, prospect, crisis] to seem likely to come soon; [date, day] to become more threatening as the time comes closer □ As the deadline loomed closer, everyone began to panic. -3. to loom large [factor, problem, idea] to be or become important □ It's a question that looms large in everyone's minds right now.

◆ loom up vi [building, figure] = loom.

looming ['lu:mɪŋ] adj a looming threat/crisis etc a threat/crisis etc that seems likely to happen soon.

loony ['lu:ni] (compar loonier, superl looniest, pl loonies)(informal use) ◇ adj [person, act, idea] crazy. ◇ n a crazy person.

loop [lu:p] ◇ n -1. [of string, wire] a curved shape, especially a complete circle, formed in something long, e.g. a line or a piece of string. -2. MEDICINE a contraceptive device shaped like a loop that is used inside the womb. -3. COMPUTING a set of instructions in a program that are repeated a number of times. ◇ vt [string, rope] to make <sthg> into a loop □ The rope was looped around his body. ◇ vi [string, rope] The road loops around to join the freeway.

loophole ['lu:pɦəʊl] n a mistake in the way a law or regulation has been designed or put into words that allows people to avoid obeying it.

loose [lu:s] ◇ adj -1. [tooth, wire] that is not completely attached to something; [knot, bow] that can be undone easily □ The door handle had come loose. -2. [stamps, candy, nails] that is not sold together in bags, packets etc in fixed amounts, so that customers can decide how many or how much to buy □ Do you sell apples loose or just in packs? -3. [jacket, shirt] that does not feel tight when it is worn □ These shoes are too loose. -4. [animal] that is free and is not tied by a rope, kept in a cage etc □ He let the dog loose as they entered the park. -5. [hair] that is allowed to hang down and is not held in a fixed position on the head □ She usually wears her hair loose. -6. [woman] who has many sexual partners; [living, morals] that does not follow what society considers acceptable in sexual behavior (disapproving and old-fashioned use). -7. [translation, definition] that gives the general meaning of something but is not precise □ a loose approximation of the truth. -8. [association, structure] that is not very strictly controlled □ We made a very loose arrangement to meet tonight. -9. to stay OR hang loose to stay calm and relaxed (informal use) □ Just hang loose and everything will be OK.

◇ n on the loose [prisoner, wild animal] that is free and has escaped from somebody or somewhere □ A convicted murderer is on the loose in downtown Detroit.

loose change n money in the form of coins that somebody has in their pocket, purse etc.

loose end n part of a story or situation, e.g. a novel, movie, or police investigation, that has not been explained. ■ to tie up the loose ends to deal with the last parts of something, so that it is complete. ■ to be at loose ends US, to be at a loose end GB to have nothing to do.

loose-fitting adj [jacket, shirt] = loose.

loose-leaf binder n a hard cover containing pages that can be removed and replaced.

loosely ['lu:slɪ] adv [connect, tie, translate] see loose □ Loosely translated, that means "no!"

loosen ['lu:sn] ◇ vt [knot, grip, screw] to make <sthg> looser. ◇ vi [knot, grip, screw] One of the bolts had loosened during the flight.

◆ loosen up vi -1. SPORT to exercise and stretch one's body to relax one's muscles before serious exercise or before taking part in a sport. -2. to relax (informal use) □ Have a drink — it'll help you to loosen up.

loot [lu:t] ◇ n stolen money or goods. ◇ vt [house, shop, town] to steal things from  during or after a battle or riot.

looter ['lu:tə] n a person who loots a place.

looting ['lu:tɪŋ] n [of a house, shop, town] see loot □ There are reports of looting and riots.

lop [lɒp] (pt & pp lopped, cont lopping) vt to cut some branches off .

◆ lop off vt sep to lop sthg off [branch, limb] to cut sthg off the thing it is attached to.

lope [loʊp] vi to run with long relaxed strides.

lop-sided [-'saɪdəd] adj -1. [table, grin, posture] that has one side bigger, higher, or heavier than the other. -2. [account, explanation] that is not true or fair because it only gives one point of view.

lord [lɔ:d] ◇ n a man of high rank in the British nobility. ◇ vt to lord it over sb to behave in a superior way toward sb, especially by giving them orders.

◆ Lord n -1. the Lord God. ■ good Lord! GB a phrase used to show that one is surprised or impressed. -2. a word used as a title □ Lord Smith. ■ my Lord a form of address used to show respect to a judge, bishop, or nobleman.

◆ Lords npl = House of Lords.

Lord Advocate n the Lord Advocate the head of the legal system in Scotland.

Lord Chancellor n the Lord Chancellor the head of the legal system in England and Wales, who is also a government minister and is in charge of debates in the House of Lords.

Lord Chief Justice n the Lord Chief Justice the head of the Queen's Bench Division in England and Wales, and President of the Court of Appeal.

lordly ['lɔ:dli] (compar lordlier, superl lordliest) adj -1. [behavior, feast] that is noble and impressive. -2. [manner, gesture] that is arrogant (disapproving use).

Lord Mayor n a title given to the mayor of London and some other British cities.

Lords n a cricket ground in north London. It is the headquarters of the MCC.

Lordship ['lɔ:dʃɪp] n your/his Lordship a form of address used to show respect to a judge, bishop, or nobleman.

• Lord's Prayer n the Lord's Prayer an important Christian prayer.

lore [lɔ:ɹ] n the knowledge, stories, and traditions of a particular group of people □ ancient Celtic lore.

lorry ['lɒri] (pl lorries) n GB a large motor vehicle, used for transporting goods.

lorry driver n GB a person whose job is to drive trucks.

Los Angeles [lɒs'ændʒələs] a city in southern California, USA, on the Pacific Ocean. POPULATION: 3,485,398.

lose [lu:z] (pt & pp lost) ◇ vt -1. [key, hat, wallet] not to have <sthg> any more because one cannot find it or get it □ I've lost my umbrella again. -2. [friend, job, memory] to fail to keep <sb/sthg that one had before> □ He lost his balance and fell off the ladder. □ I lost contact with her. □ They are losing interest in the project. □ The plane began to lose altitude. ■ to lose sight of sb/sthg [of an enemy, vehicle, port] to no longer be able to see sb/sthg; [of an aim, ideal] to become confused and forget about sthg □ We can't lose sight of the fact that people have been hurt. -3. [friend, relative] to no longer have <sb> because they have died □ He lost his mother last year. -4. [game, contract, election] not to win <sthg> because somebody else has won it □ We lost the contract to a German company. □ I think I lost my bet. -5. [opportunity, time] to waste <sthg> □ Their opponents lost no time in condemning the move. -6. [money] to spend more of <sthg> than one earns □ We lost a lot of money on that deal. -7. to lose time [watch, clock] to work too slowly □ My watch loses thirty seconds a day. -8. [heat, weight] to have less of <sthg> than one had before □ He lost about nine pounds in a week. -9. to lose one's way to become lost when one is trying to go somewhere □ I managed to lose my way in the New York subway system. -10. [pursuer, police] to escape from <sb> and leave them behind or out of sight □ If you drive faster we might be able to lose him.

◇ vi [competitor, team, candidate] England lost to Italy in the final.

◆ lose out vi -1. to be unsuccessful □ Will the Americans lose out to the Japanese in computers? -2. to lose money □ We lost out on the deal.

loser ['lu:zə] n -1. [of a game, competition] a person or team that has lost. ■ to be a good/bad loser to accept that one has lost and remain friendly/to dislike losing and become unfriendly. -2. a person who never succeeds in anything (disapproving use).

losing ['lʊ:zɪŋ] adj [team, party] that is losing or has just lost something, e.g. a game or election.

loss [lɒs] n -1. [of interest, one's purse, memory] see lose □ Have you reported the loss to the police? □ He would be no great loss to the firm. □ The company announced losses of ten million dollars. ■ to make a loss to lose money □ We made a 10% loss on the deal. ■ to cut one's losses to stop doing something that is putting one in a bad situation, in order to stop the situation from getting worse □ We decided to cut our losses and sell the business. -2. [of a relative, friend] death □ After the loss of his wife he just wasn't the same person. □ Fortunately, there was no loss of life. □ They inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. -3. [of a game, competition] a failure to win something. -4. [of weight, heat] a reduction in something. -5. phrase to be at a loss not to know what to do, think, or say □ She was at a loss to explain why she'd done it. □ What can I say to thank you? I'm at a complete loss for words.

loss adjuster [-ədʒʌstəʃ] n GB a person in an insurance company whose job is to calculate the value of people's claims and the amount of compensation to be paid.

loss leader n something sold at a very low price in order to attract customers into a store.

lost [lɒst] ◇ past tense & past participle of lose. ◇ adj -1. [person] who does not know where they are and is unable to find their way □ I got lost on my way to their new offices. ■ get lost! go away! (informal use). -2. [cat, wallet] that cannot be found. -3. [opportunity] that is wasted. ■ to be lost on sb [advice, warning, remark] not to be noticed or understood by sb □ The finer points of Shakespeare are lost on my students, unfortunately.

lost-and-found office n US an office where lost property is stored and can be claimed back by those who have lost it.

lost cause n something, e.g. a plan or idea, that has no chance of succeeding.

Lost Generation n the Lost Generation the generation of Americans between the two World Wars, especially the writers of the period, e.g. F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, and Gertrude Stein.

lost property n things that have been lost, usually in a public place, e.g. a railroad station □ an item of lost property.

lost property office n GB = lost-and-found office.

lot [lɒt] n -1. a lot of sthg a large amount of sthg □ We've had a lot of publicity for the new series. □ There's not a lot of time left. ■ a lot of people a large number of people □ A lot of customers have written in to complain. -2. used to refer to a group of things or people □ Put all this lot away in the cupboard. □ There's another lot of guests arriving tomorrow. -3. the lot the entire amount of money, objects etc □ He won $500 and spent the lot. □ "Can I have some of your old furniture?" — "Take the lot." -4. [at an auction] one of the objects or group of objects being sold at an auction □ Lot 245, a fine old Victorian sideboard. -5. [of land] a small piece of land that is available for sale. -6. one's lot the kind of life one has □ He was anxious to improve his lot. -7. phrase to draw lots to each take a piece of paper, one of which has a hidden mark on it that will decide whether one is chosen to do something or not □ We drew lots to decide who would lead the team.

◆ lots npl lots of people/things a lot of people/things (informal use) □ I want a cake with lots of cream on it.

◆ a lot ◇ adv -1. very much □ I like her a lot. □ He's feeling a lot better now. -2. often □ We see each other a lot. □ The baby cries a lot. ◇ pron a large amount □ There's a lot we can do to help. □ There's not a lot I can say, really.

loth [lɒθ] adj = loath.

Lothario [US lɒ'θɛrɪəʊ, GB lə'θɑ:riəʊ] a man who seduces many women.

lotion ['lɒʃn] n a liquid used for cleaning, treating, or protecting the skin or hair □ body/hand lotion.

lottery ['lɒtəri] (pl lotteries) n -1. a competition in which many people buy tickets with numbers on them, some of the numbers are later chosen at random, and the holders of those tickets win prizes □ I can't believe it — she's won the lottery! -2. any system or situation that depends on luck □ Getting a job is a complete lottery these days.

LottoTM ['lɒtəʊ] n the Australian state lottery.

lotus ['lɒtəs] (pl lotuses) n a white or pink flower with large flat leaves that grows on the surface of lakes in Asia and Africa.

lotus position n a yoga position in which a person sits with their legs crossed and their feet resting on their thighs.

loud [laʊd] ◇ adj -1. [voice, bang, music] that produces a high level of sound. -2. to be loud in sthg [in one's criticism, support] to strongly and repeatedly express sthg □ The Democrats were loud in their condemnation of the proposed cuts. -3. [color, clothes] that is too bright. -4. [person] who talks a lot, especially in a vulgar or offensive way (disapproving use). ◇ adv [shout, speak, play music] The radio was turned up loud. □ Receiving you loud and clear, flight 101. ■ out loud [think, laugh, say] in a voice that can be heard by others □ Will you read it out loud for us?

loudhailer [ˌlaʊdˈheɪləʃ] n GB a device shaped like a bell that makes one's voice louder when it is held in front of one's mouth and is used to talk to a crowd of people.

loudly ['laʊdli] adv [shout, complain] = loud.

loudmouth ['laʊdmaʊθ, pl -maʊðz] n a person who talks too much, usually in an unpleasant way (informal use).

loudspeaker [ˌlaʊdˈspi:kəʃ] n a device, often contained in a separate box, that is connected to a radio, hi-fi system etc and produces sound from electrical signals.

lough [lɒk] n in Ireland, a lake.

Louis XIV [ˌlu:ɪˈdɔ:fɔ:ˈti:nθ] (1638–1715) King of France from 1643 to 1715. He built the palace of Versailles, and was called the Sun King.

Louis XV [ˌluːɪdɑː'fɪf'ti:mθ] (1710–1774) King of France from 1715 to 1774.

Louis XVI [ˌluːɪdæsɪks'ti:nθ] (1754–1793) King of France from 1774 to 1792. He was killed on the guillotine during the French Revolution.

Louisiana [luːɪzɪ'ænə] a state in the southern USA, on the Gulf of Mexico. ABBREVIATION: LA. SIZE: 125,674 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,219,973 (Louisianans, Louisianians). CAPITAL: Baton Rouge. MAIN CITY: New Orleans.

Louisiana Purchase n Louisiana Purchase a piece of land in central North America that was bought by the USA from Napoleon in 1803. This purchase doubled the size of the USA.

lounge [laʊndʒ] ◇ n -1. [in a house] = living room. -2. [in an airport, hotel] a public room for sitting and relaxing in. -3. GB = lounge bar. ◇ vi to sit, stand, or lean in a lazy or relaxed way.

◆ lounge about, lounge around vi to spend time in a lazy or relaxed way without doing anything useful □ We spent the afternoon lounging around in front of the TV.

lounge bar n GB a bar in a pub or hotel where the furniture is more comfortable than in the other bars.

lounge lizard n a man who dresses well and spends a lot of time at parties, bars etc in order that other people will think he is attractive and interesting (disapproving use).

lounge suit n GB a man's suit that is worn at work rather than at a formal occasion.

Lourdes [luə'd] a town in southwestern France, and an important pilgrimage center for Catholics. Many sick people go there because they believe that the water there can cure them.

louse [laus] (pl sense 1 lice, pl sense 2 louses) n -1. an insect that has no wings, lives on the skin or hair of people or animals, and sucks their blood. -2. an unpleasant person (informal use).

◆ louse up vt sep to louse sth up US to spoil sth (informal use).

lousy ['laʊzi] (compar lousier, superl lousiest) adj (informal use) -1. [performance, quality, weather] very bad □ I've had a really lousy day today. -2. to feel lousy to feel very ill □ All those cocktails made me feel lousy the next day.

lout [laʊt] n a rude and aggressive man or boy.

louver US, louvre GB ['lu:vəʃ] n a door or window that contains several flat pieces of wood or glass with gaps between them to allow air into a room □ a louver window/door/shutter.

lovable ['lʌvəbl] adj [person] who is very pleasant and is easy to like a lot.

love [lʌv] ◇ n -1. [for a child, one's parents, country] a strong feeling one has about somebody or something that one likes and cares about very much □ his love for his grandfather □ my love of France/Chinese food. ■ give her my love tell her that I am thinking of her in a warm and friendly way. ■ love from... an affectionate way of ending a letter. ■ a love-hate relationship a relationship in which one sometimes likes or loves, and sometimes dislikes, something or somebody else. -2. [for a man, woman] a strong liking and sexual attraction for somebody. ■ to be in love to feel romantic or sexual love for somebody □ He's in love with Patricia. □ They were deeply in love. ■ to fall in love to start being in love □ He fell in love with her. □ They fell in love while on vacation. ■ to make love to have sex □ I want to make love with you. -3. [person] a person that one loves □ He's the love of her life. -4. [thing] something that one likes very much □ Opera is a great love of mine. -5. GB an affectionate word used when talking to somebody (informal use) □ Do you want anything else, love? -6. TENNIS a score that is zero □ Cass is winning 40-love.

◇ vt -1. [person, family, country] to feel love for <sb/sthg> □ I love you. -2. [music, football, food] to like and enjoy <sthg> very much □ I love your dress. □ He loves traveling or to travel. □ "Can you come?" — "I'd love to."

love affair n a sexual relationship that somebody has with somebody else.

lovebite ['lʌvbait] n a small bruise on somebody's skin, caused by somebody biting or sucking it affectionately.

loveless ['lʌvləs] adj [marriage, relationship] in which there is no love.

love letter n a letter expressing feelings of sexual love for somebody.

love life n the part of somebody's life that involves their sexual relationships □ How's your love life these days?

lovely ['lʌvli] (compar lovelier, superl loveliest) adj -1. [girl, dress, place] that is beautiful to look at □ You look lovely in that skirt. -2. [meal, day, surprise] that brings one pleasure □ We had a lovely time in Spain. -3. [person] who is very pleasant □ What a lovely man!

lovmaking ['lʌvmeɪkɪŋ] n the activity of having sex with one's lover.

lover ['lʌvəʃ] n -1. [of a person] a person one has a sexual relationship with □ He's in Mexico with his lover. -2. [of literature, art, music] somebody who is very interested in or fond of something □ the magazine for opera lovers everywhere.

lovesick ['lʌvsɪk] adj [poet, youth] who is unhappy because the person they love is not with them or does not feel love for them.

love song n a song with words that express feelings of sexual love.

love story n a movie, book, or play about people who feel sexual love for each other.

loving ['lʌvɪŋ] adj [relationship, husband, look] that shows love □ He was very loving toward her. □ loving care.

lovingly ['lʌvɪŋli] adv [look, stroke, handle] see loving □ Jim was gazing lovingly at his new car.

- low [lou] ◇ adj -1. [wall, table, hill] the top of which is not far above the ground; [ceiling, shelf, cloud] that is not high above the ground □ The seat's too low for me. □ a low bridge □ The level of the river water is very low. -2. [number, rank, priority] that is near the bottom of a scale □ The temperature is in the low 80s. □ Cook 'over a low heat. □ low-level radiation. -3. [price, income] that is small in value; [supplies, stocks] that are small in amount □ low economic growth □ You'll find our prices much lower than you think. □ Our fuel reserves are low at the moment. ■ to be low on sthg [on food, fuel] to have only a small amount left of sthg □ We're running low on milk. -4. [quality, standard] that is not good □ Their level of attainment is lower than ever. □ low-grade meat. -5. [opinion] that is not favorable □ He's always had a very low opinion of my abilities. -6. [volume, moan] that is not loud □ They spoke in a low whisper. -7. [note] that is deep □ He has a deep, low voice. □ a low, rumbling noise. -8. [light] that is not bright □ soft, low lighting. -9. [dress, neckline] that shows a lot of a woman's neck and breasts. -10. [person] who feels ill or unhappy □ She's been feeling pretty low since the divorce. -11. [trick, behavior] that is not fair or honest □ That was a pretty low thing to do!
- ◇ adv -1. [bend, bow, aim] near the ground □ The plane flew low over the town. □ Can't you bend any lower? -2. [sink, fall] at or to a low level □ The value of the house has plunged even lower. □ Stocks are running low. □ Turn the heat down lower. -3. [stoop] to a level of behavior that is not good or honorable □ I would never sink that low.
- ◇ n -1. a low point □ Sales have reached an all-time low. -2. WEATHER an area of low air pressure.
- low-alcohol adj [beer, wine] that contains less alcohol than normal.
- low beams npl car headlights that point downward rather than straight ahead.
- lowbrow ['ləubrau] adj [novel, culture, taste] that is not intellectual or serious.
- low-calorie adj [food, diet] that contains fewer calories than normal and so it is less fattening.
- Low Church adj that belongs to the part of the Church of England in which studying the Bible is more important than religious ceremonies.
- Low Countries: the Low Countries a region in Europe that includes the Netherlands, Belgium, and sometimes Luxembourg.
- low-cut adj [dress, blouse] that shows a lot of a woman's neck and breasts.
- lowdown ['ləudaʊn] n to give sb the lowdown on sthg to give sb important information about sthg (informal use).
- low-down adj [trick, person] that one thinks is not fair or honest (informal use).
- lower¹ ['ləʊə¹] ◇ adj -1. [lip, edge, floor] that is below another thing of the same type □ You can sleep in the lower bunk. -2. [region, level, leg] that is in the bottom part of something
- I've hurt my lower back. ◇ vt -1. [flag, glass, one's head] to move <sthg> slowly from a high position to a low one □ They lowered the piano onto the platform. -2. [price, level, resistance] to reduce the amount, degree etc of <sthg> □ It might help to lower the volume. -3. to lower one's eyes OR gaze to move one's eyes or gaze so that one is looking downward. -4. to lower one's voice to talk more quietly.
- lower² ['ləʊə²] vi -1. [sky, cloud] to be dark. -2. to lower at sb to look at sb in an angry way.
- Lower Chamber [ˌləʊə²-] n POLITICS the larger and more powerful law-making part of a government that is divided into two chambers.
- lower class [ˌləʊə²-] n the lower class, the lower classes the lowest social group in society □ His family came from the lower classes. □ a lower-class district.
- Lower House [ˌləʊə²-] n = Lower Chamber.
- lowest common denominator [ˌləʊə²-] n the lowest common denominator the lowest number that all the bottom numbers of a set of fractions can be divided into.
- low-fat adj [milk, cheese, yogurt] that does not contain much fat.
- low-flying adj [aircraft] that is flying close to the ground.
- low frequency n a kind of radio frequency.
- low gear n any of the first gears of a car, truck etc that is used for slow speeds □ I was driving in low gear.
- low-key adj [announcement, celebration, visit] that is designed not to attract much attention □ It was a very low-key event – just us and a few guests.
- Lowlands ['ləʊləndz]: the Lowlands the central and southern parts of Scotland.
- low-level language n a kind of language used in computer programming in which each instruction corresponds to a code.
- low life n the people in a place who are involved in crime, violence, or other unpleasant activities □ a member of LA's low life □ a low-life character.
- low-loader [-'ləʊdə¹] n a vehicle used for transporting heavy goods by road or railroad that is low so that things can be loaded and unloaded easily.
- lowly ['ləʊli] (compar lowlier, superl lowliest) adj [person, job] that is low in position.
- low-lying adj [land, area] that is not much higher than the level of the sea; [cloud, mist] that is lower than is usual.
- Low Mass n a mass in the Catholic Church that is simple, and spoken rather than sung.
- low-necked [-'nekt] adj = low-cut.
- low-paid adj [job, employee] that is paid a small amount of money □ This kind of work is usually low-paid.
- low-rise adj [building] that has only a few stories □ a low-rise apartment block.
- Lowry ['ləʊri], L. S. (1887–1976) a British artist who painted industrial landscapes with simplified human figures.

low season n the time of year when hotels, resorts etc are least busy and prices are lowest □ We went there during the low season.

NOTE: Compare high season.

low tide n the time when the ocean is farthest away from the shore □ The beach is covered in shells at low tide.

NOTE: Compare high tide.

loyal ['lɔɪəl] adj [friend, supporter, servant] who continues to give their support or friendship to somebody, even in difficult times □ She's been very loyal to me.

loyalist ['lɔɪəlɪst] n a person who continues to support their leader or government when other people want to change the system.

◆ Loyalist n POLITICS a Northern Irish Protestant who wants Ulster to remain part of Britain.

loyalty ['lɔɪəlti] (pl loyalties) n [to a friend, country, family] see loyal □ The troops have a great sense of loyalty to their leaders.

lox [lɒks] n smoked salmon.

lozenge ['lɒzɪndʒ] n -1. a candy containing medicine that is kept in the mouth until it dissolves □ throat/cough lozenges. -2. a shape (◇), with four straight sides, two wide angles opposite each other, and two sharp angles.

LP (abbr of long-playing record) n a record that turns at 33 times a minute.

L-plate n in Britain and Australia, a square white plate with a red "L" on it that must be attached to the front and back of a car to show that the driver is a learner.

LPG n abbr of liquified petroleum gas.

LPN (abbr of licensed practical nurse) n a US nursing qualification that requires two years' training; a person who has this qualification. NOTE: Compare RPN.

LRAM (abbr of Licentiate of the Royal Academy of Music) n a title given to members of the Royal Academy of Music, an important college in London.

LSAT ['elsæt] (abbr of Law School Admissions Test) n the LSAT a national test taken by students in order to enter a law school in the USA.

LSD (abbr of lysergic acid diethylamide) n an illegal drug that causes people to feel and see imaginary things.

LSD, L.S.D. (abbr of pounds, shillings and pence - librae, solidi, denarii) n a term used for money in Britain until 1971.

LSE (abbr of London School of Economics) n the LSE a college of London University that teaches economics and politics.

Lt. abbr of lieutenant.

LT (abbr of low-tension) adj that carries or uses low-voltage electricity.

Ltd, ltd (abbr of limited) a word written after a company name to show that it is a limited liability company □ Smith and Sons, Ltd.

lubricant ['lu:bri:kənt] n a greasy substance used to lubricate machines, engines etc.

lubricate ['lu:bri:keɪt] vt [engine, machine] to cover <sth> with a greasy substance so that it works without rubbing or sticking.

lubrication [ˌlu:briː'keɪʃn] n: see lubricate □ The pistons need lubrication from time to time.

lucid ['lu:sɪd] adj -1. [account, explanation] that is clear and so easy to understand. -2. [person] who can think clearly and is not confused by illness, drugs etc □ She remained lucid throughout the interrogation.

lucidly ['lu:sɪdli] adv [talk, explain] see lucid □ She argued lucidly in favor of joining.

Lucifer ['lu:sɪfə] a name for the Devil.

luck [lʌk] n good or bad events that happen to one that cannot be controlled and depend on chance □ Luck was on our side. □ Wish me luck! □ That was a piece of luck! ■ good/bad luck something good/bad that happens by chance □ I hope you have better luck than me. □ They seem to have nothing but bad luck. ■ good luck! a phrase used to wish somebody success □ Good luck with the exam/at the dentist! ■ bad OR hard luck! GB a phrase used to show sympathy to somebody after something bad has happened to them □ "We lost." — "Oh, bad luck!" ■ to be in luck to have good luck □ We were in luck, a bus came immediately. ■ to try one's luck at sth to try sth, especially if it is new or different □ We had terrible weather in Spain last year, so we thought we'd try our luck in Florida. ■ with (any) luck a phrase used to show that one hopes a particular thing will happen or be correct □ He won't even notice the difference, with any luck.

◆ luck out vi to have unexpected success (informal use).

luckily ['lʌkəli] adv a word used to say that it is fortunate that something happened or is true, because otherwise the situation would have been bad, or worse □ Luckily for me, nobody noticed. □ Luckily it had stopped raining.

luckless ['lʌkləs] adj [person] who does not have good luck.

lucky ['lʌki] (compar luckier, superl luckiest) adj -1. [person] who has good luck; [guess, escape, coincidence] that is the result of good luck □ You lucky guy! □ He's lucky to be alive. □ It was a lucky find. -2. [number, color] that somebody believes will bring them good luck □ I'm wearing my lucky dress.

lucky charm n a small object that one carries or wears because one believes it will bring good luck or protection.

lucky dip n GB a container, filled with small prizes, that children put their hands into and pick a prize out of without looking inside.

lucrative ['lu:kɹətɪv] adj [business, deal] that earns a lot of money □ We've just signed a very lucrative deal with Cohen Bros.

Luddite ['lʌdɪt] n -1. a member of a group of British workers in the early 19th century who destroyed industrial machinery because they thought it would cause unemployment. -2. a person who is against new technology.

ludicrous ['lu:dɪkrəs] adj [decision, appearance,

- idea] that one thinks is extremely foolish □ You look ludicrous in that hat!
- ludo ['lu:doʊ] n GB a simple game played on a board with flat pieces of colored plastic.
- lug [lʌg] (pt & pp lugged, cont lugging) vt [suitcase, shopping, package] to pull or carry <sthg heavy>, using a lot of effort (informal use) □ I've been lugging those books all over town.
- luggage ['lʌɡɪdʒ] n a collective term for the suitcases, bags, boxes etc that one takes on a trip □ How many pieces of luggage are you checking in? □ I haven't got much luggage.
- luggage rack n the shelf in a train or bus where luggage can be placed.
- luggage van n GB a special railroad car in which luggage is carried.
- lugubrious [lə'ɡu:brɪəs] adj [person, music, look] that is sad and serious (formal use).
- lukewarm ['lu:kwɔ:'rɪm] adj -1. [water, soup] that is only slightly warm. -2. [welcome, response] that does not show much enthusiasm or interest □ He was pretty lukewarm about the idea.
- lull [lʌl] ◇ n [in fighting, a conversation] a short period of quiet □ There was a brief lull in the discussion. ■ the lull before the storm a short calm period that comes before something unpleasant starts to happen. ◇ vt -1. to lull sb to sleep to make sb fall asleep gradually □ The sound of her voice lulled me to sleep. -2. to lull sb into a false sense of security to make sb feel calm and happy about something when they should really be worried □ We allowed ourselves to be lulled into a false sense of security.
- lullaby ['lʌləbaɪ] (pl lullabies) n a slow quiet song sung to babies and children to make them go to sleep.
- lumbago [lʌm'beɪɡoʊ] n pain in one's lower back.
- lumber ['lʌmbə] ◇ n US wood used for building. ◇ vi [person, bus, elephant] to move in a slow awkward way. ◇ vt to be lumbered with sthg [with a job, responsibility] to have to deal with sthg difficult or boring that somebody else does not want to deal with □ As usual, I got lumbered with the kids/cleaning.
- lumbering ['lʌmbərɪŋ] adj [person, bus, elephant] that moves in a slow awkward way.
- lumberjack ['lʌmbə'dʒæk] n a person whose job is to cut down trees.
- lumbermill ['lʌmbə'mɪl] n a factory that cuts trees into lumber.
- lumberyard ['lʌmbə'jɑ:d] n a place where wood for building is stored and sold.
- luminous ['lu:mɪnəs] adj [paint, dial] that glows in the dark.
- lump [lʌmp] ◇ n -1. [of earth, coal, cheese] a solid piece of something of any size or shape □ huge lumps of rock □ I found some lumps in the sauce. -2. [in one's breast, on one's head] a hard swollen place on one's body. -3. a lump (of sugar) a small cube of sugar put in coffee or tea □ How many lumps of sugar do you take? ◇ vt to lump people/things together to treat different people/things as all the same □ You can't just lump them all together in one category.
- lumpectomy [ˌlʌmp'ektəmi] (pl lumpectomies) n an operation to remove a cancerous lump from a woman's breast.
- lump sum n an amount of money that is paid all at once, not in several payments □ The first prize is a lump sum of $200,000.
- lumpy ['lʌmpɪ] (compar lumpier, superl lumpiest) adj [sauce, mattress] that has lumps in it.
- lunacy ['lu:nəsi] n crazy behavior □ It would be complete lunacy to go out in this storm.
- lunar ['lu:nə] adj [month, rock, eclipse] that is connected with the moon.
- lunatic ['lu:nətɪk] (disapproving use) ◇ adj [idea, behavior, plan] that is very foolish. ◇ n a person who behaves in a very foolish way. □ Have you seen the way he drives? He's a complete lunatic!
- lunatic asylum n a hospital where people with mental illnesses are kept (old-fashioned use).
- lunatic fringe n GB the members of a political party or group who have the most extreme ideas (disapproving use).
- lunch [lʌntʃ] ◇ n the meal eaten in the middle of the day □ a business/working lunch □ I'm meeting them for lunch. ◇ vi to have lunch □ I'm lunching with my aunt today.
- lunch box n a box that children carry their lunch to school in.
- luncheon ['lʌntʃən] n lunch (formal use).
- luncheon meat n small pieces of meat mixed with grain, pressed into a block, and sold in cans.
- luncheon voucher n GB a special ticket given to workers by their employers that can be exchanged for food in restaurants, shops, and cafés.
- lunch hour n the time in the middle of the day when people stop working and eat lunch □ I went shopping on my lunch hour. □ He always takes a long lunch hour on Fridays.
- lunch room n US a large room, e.g. in a school, where people can buy food and eat it.
- lunchtime ['lʌntʃtaɪm] n the time in the middle of the day when people eat lunch □ 'Open lunchtimes and evenings.' □ I went there at lunchtime. □ a lunchtime concert.
- lung [lʌŋ] n one of the two large organs in one's chest which take in air and are used for breathing □ lung cancer.
- lunge [lʌndʒ] vi to move forward quickly and strongly, often to try and reach something or attack somebody □ He lunged at my bag/for the door.
- lupine US, lupin GB ['lu:pɪn] n a tall plant that has long stems covered with white, pink, or blue flowers and has long flat seed cases.
- lurch [lɜ:tʃ] ◇ n a sudden uncontrolled movement forward or to one side □ The car gave a sudden lurch. ■ to leave sb in the lurch to leave sb alone in a difficult position when they need one's help. ◇ vi [person, bus, boat] to move in a sudden uncontrolled way forward or to one side □ Peter lurched across the deck. □ Suddenly the bus lurched sideways.

lure [lʊə] ◇ n something that attracts somebody by offering them money, pleasure etc □ The daycare center was an added lure. □ the lure of high wages/the city. ◇ vt to attract <sb> using a lure □ I was lured into the trap.

lurid [lʊərɪd] adj -1. [account, detail, description] that one finds shocking or unpleasant, especially because it is connected with violence or sex □ He gave a very lurid picture of events. -2. [carpet, bruise, sky] that is brightly colored in a way that one finds unnatural or unpleasant □ A large, lurid vase stood on the table.

lurk [lɜ:k] vi -1. [person, animal] to wait secretly, often in order to do something bad □ I'm sure I saw someone lurking behind the bushes. -2. [memory, danger, fear] to exist without being clearly felt or understood □ A small doubt lurked in the back of her mind.

luscious [lʌʃəs] adj -1. [fruit, pudding, wine] that smells and tastes sweet and good and is often juicy. -2. [woman, lips] that one finds sexually attractive.

lush [lʌʃ] ◇ adj -1. [grass, meadow] that looks very green and healthy □ lush green valleys. -2. [apartment, surroundings] that looks very comfortable and expensive □ lush furnishings □ a lush hotel. ◇ n a drunkard (informal use).

lust [lʌst] n -1. a strong sexual desire for another person that does not involve love. -2. a lust for sthg [for life, power, freedom] a strong desire for sthg.

◆ lust after, lust for vt fus -1. to lust after OR for sthg [for wealth, success, power] to have a strong desire to have sthg. -2. to lust after OR for sb to feel sexual lust for sb □ I could see he was lusting after you just by looking at him!

luster US, lustre GB [lʌstə] n [of silk, hair, wood] the soft light that is reflected from a shiny surface.

lusty [lʌsti] (compar lustier, superl lustiest) adj [baby, voice, cry] that looks or sounds strong and healthy.

lute [lu:t] n an ancient musical instrument with strings, a round body, and a long neck which is played like a guitar.

Luther [ˈlu:θə], Martin (1483–1546) a German religious leader. He criticized the Catholic Church, and led the Protestant Reformation.

Luxembourg [ˈlʌksəmbɜ:g] a country in western Europe, situated between Belgium, France, and Germany. SIZE: 2,586 sq kms. POPULATION: 380,000 (Luxembourgers). CAPITAL: Luxembourg-Ville. LANGUAGE: French, Letzeburgish, German. CURRENCY: Luxembourg franc.

luxuriant [lʌgˈzʊəriənt] adj [forest, hair, corn] that grows healthily in large amounts.

luxuriate [lʌgˈzʊəriət] vi to luxuriate in sthg [in an experience, time] to concentrate on enjoying sthg □ Now you can luxuriate in the comfort of your own Jacuzzi.

luxurious [lʌgˈzʊəriəs] adj [life, hotel] that is very comfortable or enjoyable, and is expensive □ Relax in the luxurious surroundings of the Miramar Hotel.

luxury [ˈlʌkʃəri] (pl luxuries) n -1. a state of great comfort in expensive and beautiful places □ a life of luxury □ a luxury hotel/cruise. -2. something expensive and enjoyable, e.g. caviar or champagne, or that one does not need □ one of life's little luxuries □ A vacation abroad is a luxury we can't afford. -3. something enjoyable that one does not experience very often □ Being cooked for is a real luxury for me.

luxury goods npl things that people can buy and are expensive and enjoyable but not necessary, e.g. perfume or cigars.

LV n abbr of luncheon voucher.

LW abbr of long wave.

lychee [laɪˈtʃi:] n a small Asian fruit with hard skin and sweet white flesh.

LybraTM [ˈlaɪkrə] n a fabric that stretches very easily and is used to make clothes that fit tightly □ a Lybra bathing suit/leotard.

lying [ˈlaɪɪŋ] ◇ adj [person] who tells lies □ That lying little brother of yours! ◇ n the act of telling lies □ He accused her of lying.

lymph gland [ˈlɪmf-] n one of many small organs in one's body that contain white blood cells and fight infection.

lynch [lɪntʃ] vt to be lynched to be hanged by a crowd of people illegally.

lynx [lɪŋks] (pl lynx OR lynxes) n a large wild animal of the cat family that has very good eyesight, pointed ears, and a short tail.

lyre [ˈlaɪə] n an ancient Greek musical instrument like a small harp.

lyrebird [ˈlaɪəˈbɜ:d] n an Australian bird with a long U-shaped tail.

lyric [ˈlɪrɪk] adj [poetry, poet] that expresses strong personal feelings in a simple form.

◆ lyrics npl the words of a song.

lyrical [ˈlɪrɪkəl] adj -1. [music, prose, beauty] that is pleasing to hear, read, or see □ a lyrical description of the landscape. -2. to wax OR grow lyrical about sthg to talk very enthusiastically about sthg □ Pete used to wax lyrical about the beauty of Alaska.

M

m¹ [em] (pl m's OR ms), M [em] (pl M's OR Ms) n the thirteenth letter of the English alphabet.

◆ M n -1. abbr of motorway. -2. abbr of medium. -3. (abbr of mature audience) a symbol for movies and video tapes in Australia that indicates that they are recommended only for people of 15 and over.

- m² -1. abbr of meter. -2. abbr of million. -3. abbr of mile.
- ma [mɑ:] n a word used to talk to or about one's mother (informal use).
- MA ◇ n abbr of Master of Arts. ◇ abbr of Massachusetts.
- ma'am [mæm] n a word used to talk to a woman who is a customer, employer etc (formal use).
- Maastricht ['mɑ:strikt] a city in the Netherlands. In 1991 leaders of the European Community signed a treaty there to agree to closer political, economic, and monetary cooperation. POPULATION: 117,417.
- Mabo ['mɑ:bou], Ernie an Aborigine who won an important legal dispute over land in the Australian High Court in 1992. The judges decided that the Europeans who first arrived in Australia did not always have the right to claim land where Aborigines were already living.
- mac [mæk] n GB = mackintosh (informal use).
- macabre [US mæ'kɑ:br, GB -'kɑ:brə] adj [story, scene] that is strange and frightening or shocking because it is connected with death □ You've got a macabre sense of humor!
- Macao [mə'kau] a Portuguese province in southeastern China, consisting of the Macao Peninsula and two islands. It will be given back to China in 1999. SIZE: 16 sq kms. POPULATION: 285,000 (Macanese).
- macaroni [ˌmækə'rouni] n short thin tubes of pasta.
- macaroni and cheese US, macaroni cheese GB n a dish that consists of boiled macaroni mixed with cheese sauce.
- macaroon [ˌmækə'ru:n] n a small cookie made of ground almonds, eggs, and sugar.
- MacArthur [mæ'kɑ:tʰə], Douglas (1880–1964) a US general who led US forces in the Far East during World War II, and served in the Korean War.
- Macbeth [mæk'beθ] the hero of Shakespeare's play Macbeth. He meets three witches who tell him he will be king, and then kills the king of Scotland in order to become king himself.
- Macbeth, Lady in Shakespeare's play Macbeth, the wife of Macbeth, who encourages him to kill their King. She later goes mad with guilt.
- Macdonald [mæk'dɒnld], Ramsay (1866–1937) British Prime Minister in 1924, 1929 to 1931, and 1931 to 1935. He was Britain's first Labor Prime Minister.
- mace [meɪs] n -1. a specially decorated metal stick carried by some officials during ceremonies. -2. COOKING a spice made from the shell of the nutmeg and used in the form of a brown powder.
- Macedonia [ˌmæsi'doʊniə] -1. a region of southeastern Europe, covering parts of Bulgaria, Greece, and the Republic of Macedonia. -2. a republic in southeastern Europe that used to be part of Yugoslavia. SIZE: 25,700 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,100,000 (Mac- - edonians*). CAPITAL: Skopje. LANGUAGE: Macedonian. CURRENCY: denar.
- machete [mə'ʃeɪtɪ] n a large knife with a thick blade that is used for cutting plants down and as a weapon.
- Machiavelli [ˌmækiə'veɪli], Niccolo (1469–1527) an Italian politician and writer. His best-known work, The Prince, is about using dishonest methods to get and keep power.
- Machiavellian [ˌmækiə'veɪljən] adj [person, scheme, politics] that uses clever deceitful methods.
- machinations [ˌmæki'neiʃnz] npl secret and complicated plans for doing something bad □ Despite all their machinations, they didn't inherit a single penny.
- machine [mə'ʃi:n] ◇ n -1. a device made up of different parts that usually uses electricity or an engine to do a particular job □ a washing/sewing/printing machine □ It's all done by machine now. -2. POLITICS the people who control a particular political group or particular part of a system or organization □ the party/propaganda machine. ◇ vt -1. SEWING [seam, dress, curtain] to make <sthg> using a sewing machine. -2. INDUSTRY [part, bolt, steel] to shape or cut <sthg> using a machine tool □ machined engine parts.
- machine code n COMPUTING a code made up of numbers that a computer understands.
- machine gun n a gun that fires bullets continuously and very quickly.
- machine-gun vt [person, vehicle] to fire at <sb/sthg> with a machine gun.
- machine language n COMPUTING instructions that can be read and understood by a computer.
- machine-readable adj [text] that can be read and understood by a computer □ Can you provide us with text in machine-readable form?
- machinery [mə'ʃi:nəri] n -1. a collective term for machines □ There's something caught in the machinery. □ agricultural/industrial machinery. -2. [of government, the law] a system used to organize something.
- machine shop n the part of a factory where machine tools are operated.
- machine tool n a machine that is used to shape or cut metal or other materials.
- machine-washable adj [sweater, wool, silk] that will not be damaged by being washed in a washing machine.
- machinist [mə'ʃi:nəst] n -1. a person who operates a sewing machine. -2. a person whose job is to operate a machine tool.
- machismo [US mɑ:tʃi:zmou, GB mə'tʃɪz-] n macho behavior.
- macho [US 'mɑ:tʃou, GB 'mætʃ-] adj [man] who behaves and looks strong and tough because he thinks that is how men should behave and look □ There was a lot of macho shouting and drinking.
- mackerel ['mækrəl] (pl mackerel OR mackerels) n a fish with blue and silver stripes, oily flesh, and a strong flavor □ mackerel pâté.

mackintosh ['mækɪntɒʃ] n GB a coat, usually long and light in color, that is made of waterproof material.

Macmillan [mæk'mɪlən], Sir Harold (1894–1986) British Prime Minister from 1957 to 1963. He is famous for telling the British people "You've never had it so good."

Macquarie [mæk'kwɔːri], Lachlan (1762–1824) a governor of New South Wales who supported ex-convicts and Aborigines. He is often called "the Father of Australia."

macramé [US 'mækrəmeɪ, GB mæk'rɑːmi] n the art of knotting string to make decorative objects.

macro ['mækrəʊ] n COMPUTING a set of instructions that can be carried out using a single command.

macrobiotic [ˌmækrəʊbaɪ'ɒtɪk] adj [diet] that is made up of whole grains and vegetables grown without the use of chemicals, and is thought to make people healthy.

macrocosm ['mækrəʊkɒzəm] n a large structure, e.g. the universe or society, considered as a whole.

macroeconomics [ˌmækrəʊi:kə'nɒmɪks] n the study of the economics of a whole country, industry, or population.

mad [mæd] (compar madder, superl maddest) adj -1. [person] who has an illness of the mind and so behaves strangely □ a mad old lady □ There are a lot of mad people on the streets. ■ to go mad to become mad □ Sometimes I feel like I'm going mad! -2. to be mad to be very angry □ I'm really mad at him. -3. [person, plan, attempt] that one thinks is very foolish □ He must be mad to want to go there! -4. to get US OR go GB mad at sb to become very angry with sb. -5. a mad rush/panic a great rush/panic □ There was a mad dash for the exit. ■ like mad [work, run, laugh] with great energy or enthusiasm □ I've been running around like mad trying to find her. -6. to be mad about sb/sthg to like sb/sthg very much.

Madagascar [ˌmædə'gæskəʔ] a country consisting of a large island in the Indian Ocean, off the coast of Mozambique. SIZE: 587,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 13,300,000 (Madagascans). CAPITAL: Antananarivo. LANGUAGE: Malagasy, French. CURRENCY: Madagascan franc.

madam ['mædəm] n a word used to address a woman, especially in stores or business letters (formal use) □ Dear Madam... □ Yes, Madam?

madcap ['mædkæp] adj [plan, scheme] that is very foolish.

mad cow disease n an infectious disease that affects the brain of cattle. Cows suffering from it become clumsy in their movements, and then collapse and die.

madden ['mædn] vt [person, noise, pain] to make <sb> very angry and annoyed.

maddening ['mædnɪŋ] adj [person, noise, problem] that is very annoying □ It was absolutely maddening having to sit there and just watch.

made [meɪd] past tense & past participle of make.

-made suffix added to words to show that something has been made in a particular place □ factory-made □ Japanese-made.

Madeira [mə'diərə] n a strong sweet wine made on the Portuguese island of Madeira, near Morocco.

made-to-measure adj [suit, jacket, shirt] that is made especially to fit one particular person.

made-up adj -1. [face, eyes] that has had make-up put on it □ She was heavily made-up. -2. [mixture, solution] that has already been prepared and is ready to use. -3. [story, excuse] that has been invented and is not true.

Mad Hatter [-'hætəʔ]: the Mad Hatter a mad character in the novel Alice's Adventures in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll.

madhouse ['mædhəʊs] n a place that seems to be full of noise and confusion □ It's like a madhouse in that office!

Madison ['mædɪsən], James (1751–1836) US President from 1809 to 1817. He helped to write the Constitution.

Madison Avenue a large street in New York City that is famous for its advertising agencies. The name is also used to refer to the advertising business in general □ We'll see what Madison Avenue can do with this.

madly ['mædli] adv [search, rush] quickly and wildly. ■ madly in love very much in love with somebody □ She fell madly in love with him.

madman ['mædmən] (pl madmen [-mən]) n -1. a man who is mentally ill. -2. a person who behaves in a wild and uncontrolled way □ He drove like a madman.

madness ['mædnəs] n -1. serious mental illness □ I've heard that talking to yourself is the first sign of madness. □ her slow descent into madness. -2. behavior that one thinks is very foolish □ It would be utter madness to agree to those terms.

Madonna [mə'dɒnə] n -1. RELIGION the Madonna the mother of Jesus Christ. -2. ART a painting or statue of the Madonna □ Madonna and Child.

Madras [mə'dræs] a city and port in south-eastern India. It is the capital of Tamil Nadu State. POPULATION: 5,361,468.

Madrid [mə'drɪd] the capital of Spain and its largest city. POPULATION: 3,010,492.

madrigal ['mædrɪɡl] n a song for several voices, usually without musical instruments, that was popular in the 16th century.

madwoman ['mædwʊmən] (pl madwomen) n -1. a woman who is mentally ill. -2. a woman who behaves in a wild and uncontrolled way.

maestro ['maɪstrəʊ] (pl maestros OR maestri [-tri]) n a person who has great musical skill, especially in conducting music.

MAFF [mæf] (abbr of Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries, and Food) n the British government - department that deals with policy on farming and food.

- Mafia [US 'mə:fiə, GB 'mæf-] n the Mafia a secret organization of criminals, originally from Sicily but now powerful in Italy, the USA, and other countries.
- mag [mæg] n = magazine (informal use).
- magazine [US 'mægəzi:n, GB 'mægə'zi:n] n -1. a sort of book with large pages and a paper cover that contains articles by various writers, photos, and advertisements, and is usually published weekly or monthly □ a women's magazine □ a glossy magazine □ a magazine article. -2. TV & RADIO a regular television or radio program that contains short reports on various subjects □ a magazine program. -3. [for bullets] a holder for bullets that can be fitted into an automatic gun; [for weapons] a building or room where weapons, ammunition etc are stored.
- Magellan [mə'gælən], Ferdinand (1480–1521) a Portuguese explorer. He was the first person to sail around the world.
- magenta [mə'dʒentə] ◇ n a deep pinkish-red color. ◇ adj: magenta silk.
- maggot ['mæɡət] n a very small creature that looks like a fat white worm and develops into a fly.
- Maghreb ['mɑ:ɡreb]: the Maghreb northwest Africa, including Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, and Libya.
- Magi ['meɪdʒaɪ]: the Magi in the Bible, three wise men from the East who brought gifts to Jesus just after he was born.
- magic ['mædʒɪk] ◇ n -1. [of a potion, spell] the use of secret powers and forces to do things that seem impossible, such as making things disappear □ She's good at her job, but don't expect her to work magic. □ Suddenly, as if by magic, a little man appeared. □ This carpet cleaner works like magic. -2. [of a magician] the skill of somebody who entertains people by doing clever tricks, e.g. with playing cards, or by making small objects appear and disappear □ "How did you do that?" — "It's magic." -3. [of feelings, events] mysterious and wonderful qualities or abilities □ The magic has gone out of our marriage. □ the magic of Hollywood. ◇ adj -1. [potion, spell, forest] that contains or works by magic □ There is no magic formula for reducing inflation. -2. [trick, show] that uses conjuring or magic. -3. [feeling, event] that seems wonderful and mysterious □ Her final song was a truly magic moment.
- magical ['mædʒɪkl] adj -1. that contains or produces magic □ magical powers. -2. [feeling, quality, place] that seems wonderful and mysterious □ the magical island of Capri.
- magic carpet n in fairy tales, a carpet that can fly and carry people.
- magic eye n an electric switch that is sensitive to light and is used to set off devices such as burglar alarms and automatic doors.
- magician [mə'dʒɪʃn] n -1. a man who has magic powers. -2. a person who performs magic tricks to entertain people.
- magic wand n a short stick which is supposed to have magic power and is used by a magician □ He waved his magic wand.
- magisterial [ˌmædʒɪ'stɪəriəl] adj -1. [voice, performance, book] that seems to have complete authority or knowledge (formal use) □ Mr Vasseur is the author of the magisterial "History of China". -2. LAW [district, proceedings] that is connected with a magistrate.
- magistrate ['mædʒɪstreɪt] n a law official who judges in courts that deal with less serious crimes and disputes.
- magistrates' court n GB a local court of law that is controlled by a magistrate and deals with less serious crimes and disputes.
- Magna Carta [ˌmæɡnə'kɑ:tə] n the Magna Carta a document signed by King John of England in 1215 that limited royal power and guaranteed the rights of the nobles and the Church.
- magnanimous [mæg'nænɪməs] adj [person] who is generous and forgiving, especially to a defeated rival or enemy □ You've forgiven them? That's very magnanimous of you.
- magnate ['mæɡneɪt] n a very rich and powerful businessman, industrialist, or landowner □ a shipping/oil/business magnate.
- magnesium [mæg'ni:ziəm] n a silver-colored metallic element that burns with a very bright white light and is used in fireworks and in lightweight alloys. SYMBOL: Mg.
- magnet ['mæɡnət] n -1. a piece of iron that can make objects made of iron and certain other metals move toward it. -2. a person, place, or thing that attracts a lot of people or interest □ The club acts as a magnet for folk musicians from all over the country.
- magnetic [mæg'netɪk] adj -1. [metal] that works like a magnet; that contains a magnet. -2. [personality, appeal] that has qualities that attract people strongly □ Italy has a magnetic appeal for tourists.
- magnetic field n the area around a magnet which is affected by its magnetism □ the Earth's magnetic field.
- magnetic tape n plastic tape that is covered with a magnetic substance and used in cassettes for recording sound and in computers for storing information.
- magnetism ['mæɡnətɪzəm] n -1. [of an object, material] the force that makes magnets attract iron and certain other metals. -2. [of a person, event, smile] the ability to interest and attract other people strongly □ a leader with great personal magnetism.
- magnification [ˌmæɡnɪfɪ'keɪʃn] n -1. see magnify □ Magnification of the area reveals tiny cracks in the paint surface. -2. the degree to which a microscope, telescope etc can make an object appear bigger □ The binoculars are capable of ten-times magnification. □ Here is the organism under high/low magnification.
- magnificence [mæg'nɪfɪsəns] n: see magnificent □ the magnificence of the Alps.
- magnificent [mæg'nɪfɪsənt] adj [scenery, idea, performance] that one finds extremely good, beautiful, or impressive □ a magnificent view □ I want to thank our hosts for their truly magnificent efforts.

magnify ['mægnɪfaɪ] (pt & pp magnified) vt
-1. [picture, image, detail] to make <sthg> appear bigger □ This picture shows the virus magnified 10,000 times. -2. [danger, problem, achievement] to make <sthg> seem more important than it really is.

magnifying glass ['mægnɪfaɪɪŋ] n a device consisting of a round piece of curved glass in a frame attached to a handle that makes things appear bigger and is used for reading small writing, seeing small details etc.

magnitude ['mægnɪtɪd] n great size or importance □ We were not equipped to deal with problems of this magnitude.

magnolia [mæg'nouliə] n a tree, grown in gardens, that has large white or pink flowers; the flower of this tree.

magnum ['mægnəm] (pl magnums) n a wine bottle holding 1.5 liters □ a magnum of champagne.

magpie ['mæɡpaɪ] n a black and white bird with a loud call and a long tail that is attracted to shiny objects and takes them to its nest.

Magyar ['mæɡjɑː] n a member of the largest group of people living in Hungary; the language of this people.

maharaja(h) [ˌmɑːhəˈrɑːdʒə] n an Indian prince.

Mahler ['mɑːlə], Gustav (1860–1911) an Austrian composer and conductor, famous for his symphonies and songs.

mahogany [mɑː'hɒɡəni] n a hard reddish-brown wood that is highly valued and is used for making furniture; the tropical tree from which this wood is obtained □ a mahogany chair.

maid [meɪd] n a woman servant in a hotel or private house.

maiden ['meɪdn] ◇ adj a maiden flight/voyage the first flight/voyage by a particular vehicle. ◇ n an unmarried girl (literary use).

maiden aunt n an aunt who has never married.

maiden name n the family name that a woman had before she married.

maiden speech n GB the first speech made by a new Member of Parliament to the House of Commons.

Maid Marian [-'mæriən] the lover of Robin Hood in English folk stories.

mail [meɪl] ◇ n -1. letters, packages etc sent and delivered by the postal system □ Was there any mail today? -2. the system provided by the post office for collecting, transporting, and delivering mail □ My letter was lost in the mail. □ We sent it by mail. □ a mail service. ◇ vt [package, letter] to send <sthg> by the postal system □ It was mailed yesterday.

mailbag ['meɪlbæg] n a large bag used for carrying mail.

mailbox ['meɪlbɒks] n US -1. a box outside a house where the mailman puts mail for the house. -2. a box in which mail is collected before it is delivered through the postal system.

Mailer ['meɪlə], Norman (1923–) a US writer whose writings criticize American society. His work includes The Naked and the Dead and An American Dream.

mailing list ['meɪlɪŋ] n a list of names and addresses that a company or organization regularly sends advertisements or information to □ All customers are put automatically on our mailing list.

mailman ['meɪlmæn] (pl mailmen [-men]) n US a person who delivers the mail.

mail order n a system for selling goods where customers choose goods, usually from a catalog, and the goods are mailed to the customers' homes □ a mail-order catalog/company.

mailshot ['meɪlʃɒt] n a letter, usually containing advertisements, that is mailed to many addresses at the same time □ Let's do a mailshot and see what response we get.

mail train n a train that carries mail.

mail truck n US a small truck used for collecting and delivering mail.

mail van n -1. a small truck used for collecting and delivering mail. -2. GB a railroad car used for carrying mail.

maim [meɪm] vt to injure <sb>, especially in an accident or in battle, so badly that they are damaged for life.

main [meɪn] ◇ adj the main reason/cause etc the most important reason/cause etc □ Let's go over the main points again. □ They are our main suppliers of spare parts. ◇ n a large pipe from which smaller pipes carry gas, water etc into houses and buildings □ a gas/water/sewage main.

◆ mains npl GB the mains the pipe that brings water or gas, or the wire that brings electricity, into a building from outside □ the water/gas/electric mains □ You must turn off the water at the mains.

◆ in the main adv a phrase used to say that something is true in most cases but not all □ In the main, people go on vacation in summer.

main course n the biggest and most important part of a meal, often eaten after a soup or an appetizer and before a dessert.

main drag n the main drag US the main street in a town or city (informal use).

Maine [meɪn] a state in New England, in the northeastern USA, on the Atlantic and bordering Canada. ABBREVIATION: ME. SIZE: 80,082 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,227,928 (Mainers). CAPITAL: Augusta.

mainframe (computer) ['meɪnfreɪm-] n a large and powerful computer that can be used by many people at the same time.

mainland ['meɪnlənd] ◇ n the mainland the main part of a country or continent, without the islands around it □ They live on the Spanish mainland OR the mainland of Spain. ◇ adj:

Most of our business is in Britain, but we also sell to mainland Europe.

main line n RAIL an important railroad, usually joining two big cities.

◆ mainline ◇ adj RAIL a mainline station/train a station/train that is on a main line. ◇ vt ∇ to put <an illegal drug> directly into a vein by injecting it (drugs slang). ◇ vi ∇ (drugs slang) You should know the dangers of mainlining.

mainly ['meɪnli] adv a word used to say that something is true in most cases or to a large extent □ Our readers are mainly well-off and educated. □ His assets are mainly in the form of property. □ It was mainly the price that put me off.

main road n a large and important road, usually joining two big towns.

mainsail ['meɪnsəl, 'meɪns] n the most important sail on a sailing boat.

mainstay ['meɪnstet] n the mainstay of sthg the person or thing that provides the most support or money for something □ Tourism is the mainstay of the island's economy.

mainstream ['meɪnstri:m] ◇ n the mainstream [of social life, public opinion] the ideas, methods, ways of behaving etc that most ordinary people have, and that are considered the most normal □ Satie's work lies outside the mainstream of 19th-century music. ◇ adj: He left mainstream politics to become a freelance consultant.

Main Street n US -1. the name of the most important street in many small American towns. -2. a term used to refer to ordinary American people □ a policy that will be popular on Main Street, USA.

maintain [meɪn'teɪn] vt -1. [friendship, position, reputation] to continue to have <sthg> as much or as well as before, usually by making constant efforts □ We must maintain good relations with our customers. □ The police were called in to maintain law and order. -2. [speed, temperature, production] to keep <sthg> always at the same level and not let it decrease □ The public has not maintained its initial enthusiasm. -3. [family, child] to support <sb/sthg> by providing money □ He has a wife, three children, and a large house to maintain. -4. [machine, building, vehicle] to keep <sthg> in good condition by constant care and by doing repairs as soon as they become necessary □ If you buy expensive equipment you need to maintain it. -5. to maintain (that)... to say or state forcefully that something is true, especially when other people disagree □ He still maintains that he paid back the money. □ Despite the evidence, she still maintains her innocence.

maintenance ['meɪntənəns] n -1. [of a friendship, speed, machine] see maintain □ The contract depends on the maintenance of current levels of output. □ car/road maintenance □ We need a mechanic for our maintenance department. -2. GB LAW money that a person has to pay to their former wife or husband in order to support their children.

maintenance order n GB LAW a legal order stating that a person must pay maintenance to their former wife or husband.

maisonette [ˌmeɪzə'net] n GB an apartment on two floors within a larger building.

maize [meɪz] n GB a tall plant grown for its yellow seeds; the yellow seeds of this plant eaten as a vegetable and sometimes made into flour.

Maj. MILITARY abbr of Major.

majestic [mə'dʒestɪk] adj [appearance, sight] that seems grand, impressive, and dignified □ the majestic scenery of the Canadian Rockies.

majestically [mə'dʒestɪklɪ] adv [glide, speak, move] see majestic □ The eagle soared majestically overhead.

majesty ['mædʒɪstɪ] (pl majesties) n the quality of being majestic.

◆ Majesty n His/Her/Your Majesty a title used when speaking about or to a king or queen □ Parliament will be opened by Her Majesty the Queen. □ Their Majesties the King and Queen of Sweden.

major ['meɪdʒə] ◇ adj -1. a major role/cause etc a role/cause etc that is more important than other things □ The need to cut costs was a major factor in our decision. □ a major retailer □ 'This taxi accepts major credit cards.' -2. a major disaster/difficulty etc a very serious disaster/difficulty □ He is very ill and will need major surgery. -3. MUSIC [key, scale] that has two full tones between the first and third notes, and half tones between the third and fourth notes and the seventh and eighth notes □ a symphony in A major.

◇ n -1. MILITARY an officer who is above a captain and below a lieutenant colonel in rank. -2. US the main subject that a student studies at a college or university; a student who has studied a particular subject as their main subject □ Her major was physics. □ She's a physics major.

◇ vi to major in sthg [in law, physics] to study sthg as one's main subject for a university degree.

Majorca [mə'dʒɔ:kə] the largest of the Balearic Islands, and a popular tourist resort. SIZE: 3,640 sq kms. POPULATION: 530,000 (Majorcans). CAPITAL: Palma.

majorette [ˌmeɪdʒə'ret] n a girl, dressed in decorative clothes and carrying a stick, who marches in front of a band in a procession, e.g. at a sports event.

major general n an army officer of high rank who is below a lieutenant general.

majority [mə'dʒɔrətɪ] (pl majorities) n -1. the majority of people/cases etc most people/cases etc □ The overwhelming majority of people are in favor of the new law. □ This technique is effective in the majority of cases. □ The jury found her guilty by a majority decision. ■ to be in a or the majority to form the larger part of a group □ Women are now in a majority on the committee. -2. POLITICS the difference in votes gained or candidates elected between the winner of an election and the loser □ The right-wing majority in Congress has been reduced.

majority shareholder n a person, company, or group that owns more than half of the shares in a company, and therefore controls it.

major-league adj -1. that is connected with professional baseball □ a major-league team. -2. important □ a major-league banker/computer.

major leagues npl in the USA, the two groups of professional baseball teams.

major road n = main road.

make [meɪk] (pt & pp made) ◇ vt -1. [bread, cars, movie] to produce <an object, product, cooked dish> etc □ Don't make so much noise. □ What do they make in that factory? □ It won't take long to make lunch. □ Our cakes are made using the finest ingredients. -2. [phone call, speech, remark] to perform . ■ to make a decision/offer/visit to decide/offer/visit something □ We have made an important discovery. □ It's a difficult choice to make. ■ to make a mess/success of sthg to do sthg badly/well □ He made a real mess of the interview. -3. to make sb happy/angry/famous to cause sb to be happy/angry/famous □ What's making him so irritable? □ The movie made her a star overnight. □ Take this, it'll make you feel better. ■ to make sb director/manager to move sb to the position of director/manager in the same organization □ They'll probably make him chairman. ■ to make sthg hard/soft/easy to cause sthg to be hard/soft/easy □ It'd make things easier for us if we had a car. ■ to make sthg into sthg to change sthg so that it becomes sthg else □ The old warehouse has been made into offices. ■ to make oneself heard to speak or shout loudly so that other people can hear one in a noisy situation □ You had to shout to make yourself heard over the music. ■ to make sthg known [news, decision, fact] to let other people know sthg □ He made it known that he was looking for another job. -4. to make sb/sthg do sthg to cause sb/sthg to do sthg; to force sb to do sthg by using threats or violence □ This button makes the machine start. □ We were made to wait in the hall. □ He should be made to apologize. ■ to make sb jump to cause sb to make a sudden small movement by frightening or surprising them □ The noise made us all jump. -5. to be made of sthg [of paper, steel, silk] to be formed of sthg □ a sauce made of eggs, milk and flour □ "What's it made of?" — "Wood." -6. 2 and 2 make 4 if 2 and 2 are added together, the total is 4. -7. I make it $50 I calculate the total amount to be $50 □ "How many people will be there?" — "If Chris comes, that makes six of us." □ The bill was $80, so that makes $20 you each owe me. ■ what time do you make it? what time is it according to your watch? -8. to earn  □ She makes over $20,000 a year. ■ to make a profit/loss to get a profit/loss from one's business or from a deal □ We made a profit of £3,000 on the sale of the house. -9. to make a good teacher/mother to have the right qualities for the job or role of teacher/mother □ She'd make an excellent busi- ness partner. □ Books make ideal presents. -10. to succeed in getting to , especially by a particular time □ We'll never make the airport by ten o'clock. □ I won't be able to make lunch tomorrow. -11. to cause <sthg> to be completely successful, enjoyable etc (informal use) □ Her performance really makes the play/movie. ■ to make sb's day to do or say something that makes sb feel very happy □ Give her a call, it'll make her day! -12. to make a friend/enemy to cause somebody to become one's friend/enemy □ I made several useful contacts at the conference. -13. phrases to make it [to a station, airport] to succeed in arriving at a place by a particular time; [to a party, meeting, dinner] to be able to be present; [as an actor, writer, athlete] to be successful in one's career □ We'll never make it in time. □ He made it to the airport with a minute to spare. □ They couldn't make it tonight. □ When I won the Oscar I felt I'd finally made it. ■ to have it made to be in a position that makes success certain □ He's got it made now that he's married the boss's daughter. ■ to make do with sthg to use sthg even though it is not satisfactory □ There aren't any clean ones, so you'll have to make do with a dirty one.

◇ n -1. the name of a product, e.g. a car or computer, that is made by a particular company □ It's a very good make of camera. -2. phrase to be on the make to be trying to gain an advantage for oneself, usually by acting in a selfish or dishonest way (informal and disapproving use).

- ◆ make for vt fus -1. to make for a place to go toward a place for a particular reason □ I suggest we make straight for the nearest bar. -2. to make for sthg to help to cause sthg to exist □ Late nights and fast food don't make for a healthy lifestyle.
- ◆ make of vt sep -1. what do you make of him? what is your opinion of him? -2. I couldn't make anything of it I couldn't understand what it meant.
- ◆ make off vi to leave quickly, especially after having done something wrong □ They made off in a small plane.
- ◆ make off with vt fus to make off with sthg [cash, jewels, painting] to steal sthg □ Thieves made off with several thousand dollars in cash.
- ◆ make out vt sep -1. to make out sthg [shape, words, building] to see or hear sthg, but not clearly □ His voice was so low I could barely make out what he was saying. □ I could just make out a small ship on the horizon. -2. to make sthg out [receipt, prescription, invoice] to write the necessary information on sthg, including the name of the person, company etc receiving it □ Who shall I make the check out to? -3. to make sb/sthg out to be sthg to describe sb/sthg as being different from how they really are, sometimes in order to deceive people □ He's not as talented as everyone makes him out to be. □ It was made out to be some kind of fantastic cure for hayfever.
- ◆ make up vt sep -1. to make sthg up [total, team] to form all of sthg, or a particular amount of it □ The five boroughs that make up

New York City are... □ Women currently make up 52% of the workforce. -2. to make sth up [story, poem, tune] to create sthg, especially quickly and without writing it down □ He made up a rude song about his boss. -3. to make sth up [excuse, story, name] to think of and say sthg that is not true in order to deceive people □ If you don't have a good reason you'd better make one up. -4. to make sb/sthg up [face, eyes] to put cosmetics on sb/sthg □ She used to spend hours making herself up in the bathroom. -5. to make sthg up [package, prescription] to prepare sthg □ I'll make up a bed for you in the spare room. -6. to make sthg up [amount, group] to add extra people, money etc to sthg so that it is the size or amount it should be □ If you can find half the money for the ticket, I'll make up the rest. □ I need two more volunteers to make up the team. -7. to make it up with sb to start being friendly with sb again after a quarrel □ Have you and Ann made it up yet?

- ◆ make up for vt fus to make up for sthg to replace sthg that has been lost or damaged; to make somebody feel better after sthg that has made them suffer or be disappointed □ We'll have to speed up to make up for lost time. □ Nothing can make up for all the misery he has caused. □ The restaurant was small and crowded, but the excellent food more than made up for it.
- ◆ make up to vt sep to make it up to sb to give sb something to make them feel better after they have been disappointed □ It's too bad you'll miss your night out, but don't worry, I'll make it up to you.

make-believe n imagining or pretending that things are different or more exciting than they really are □ The story was pure make-believe.

maker ['meɪkə] n [of a movie, product] a person or company that makes or manufactures something □ If it doesn't work, you can return it to the maker. □ from the makers of "Conan".

makeshift ['meɪkʃɪft] adj [furniture, shelter] that is made or used because there is a sudden and urgent need and because there is nothing better available □ This box will do as a makeshift table.

make-up n -1. [on one's face] substances, e.g. lipstick, mascara, or powder, that women, actors etc use to paint and decorate their faces □ She uses a lot of eye make-up. □ She's putting on her make-up. ■ a make-up bag a bag for carrying make-up. ■ make-up remover a liquid or cream for taking make-up off one's face. -2. [of a person] the combination of qualities that form somebody's character □ Guilt is part of his psychological make-up. -3. [of a jury, system] the different people or things that go together to form something; the way in which these people or things combine and affect each other □ There are deep problems in the country's economic make-up.

makeweight ['meɪkweɪt] n a person or thing, usually of little value, that is added to something so that there will be the right number or amount.

making ['meɪkɪŋ] n [of books, decisions] see make □ The actual making of the movies took six months. ■ to be sthg in the making to be becoming sthg; to be sthg that is happening at the present moment □ She's a great singer in the making. □ This is history in the making. ■ to be of sb's own making [trouble, difficulty] to be completely the fault of sb or caused by sb □ Your problems are entirely of your own making. ■ to be the making of sb to make sb more successful □ Moving to Italy turned out to be the making of him. ■ to have the makings of sthg [of a success, artist, star] to show signs of developing into sthg □ She has all the makings of a fine actress. □ This latest project has all the makings of a disaster.

maladjusted [ˌmælə'dʒʌstəd] adj [child, teenager] who has psychological problems and does not fit in well with society.

malaise [mə'leɪz] n a general feeling that something is wrong or unsatisfactory that usually causes lack of effort, activity, and enthusiasm (formal use) □ the social malaise caused by years of poverty.

maladministration [ˌmælədɪmɪ'streɪʃn] n poor or dishonest management, e.g. of a country or company □ Several members of the board were charged with fraud and maladministration of public funds.

malaria [mə'leəriə] n a disease common in hot countries which is passed to humans by mosquito bites and causes fever and shivering.

Malawi [mə'lɑ:wɪ] a country in East Africa, between Zambia, Tanzania, and Mozambique. SIZE: 118,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 9,400,000 (Malawians). CAPITAL: Lilongwe. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: kwacha.

Malay [US 'meɪleɪ, GB mə'leɪ] ◇ n a member of a people living mainly in Malaysia and Indonesia; the language of this people. ◇ adj: a Malay dish/song.

Malay Peninsula: the Malay Peninsula a long peninsula in Southeast Asia that includes parts of Myanmar, Thailand, and Malaysia.

Malaysia [mə'leɪzjə] a country in Southeast Asia, consisting of the southern part of the Malay Peninsula and the northern part of Borneo. SIZE: 330,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 18,300,000 (Malaysians). CAPITAL: Kuala Lumpur. LANGUAGE: Malay, English. CURRENCY: Malaysian dollar.

Malaysian [mə'leɪzjən] n & adj: see Malaysia.

Malcolm X [ˌmælkəm'eks] (1925–1965) a black US civil rights leader. He was killed while making a speech in Harlem, New York.

malcontent [US ˌmælkən'tent, GB ˌmælkəntent] n a person who is dissatisfied with their society, job etc and is likely to cause trouble (formal use).

Maldives ['mɔɪldaɪvz]: the Maldives a country consisting of a group of islands in the Indian Ocean, south of Sri Lanka. SIZE: 300 sq kms. POPULATION: 200,000 (Maldivians). CAPITAL: Malé. LANGUAGE: Divehi. CURRENCY: rufiyaa.

male [meɪl] ◇ adj -1. [animal, partner] that belongs to the sex that does not give birth to

- young □ a male monkey/insect □ She gets along better with her male colleagues. □ a male nurse.
- 2. [problems, unemployment, hormone] that is connected with men, especially men as a group rather than as individuals □ There has been a change in male attitudes toward women at work. ◇ n a male human or animal □ The male of the species has bright feathers.
- male chauvinist (pig) n a man who believes that men are better, more important, and more intelligent than women (disapproving use).
- malevolent [mə'levələnt] adj [person] who wants to harm other people (formal use) □ He had a sharp sense of humor but he was never malevolent.
- malformed [ˌmæɪl'fɔ:ɪmd] adj [body, arm] that is badly or wrongly formed.
- malfunction [ˌmæɪl'fʌŋkʃn] ◇ n a fault in a machine or system that stops it from working properly □ There has been a computer malfunction. ◇ vi [machine, system] to fail to work properly □ Extreme heat can cause the engine/computer to malfunction.
- malice ['mæɪləs] n a desire to harm or upset other people □ He spoke without malice. □ It was an act of sheer malice on his part.
- malicious [mə'liʃəs] adj [person, comment, gossip] that is full of malice □ a malicious act of violence.
- malign [mə'laɪn] ◇ vt to say unpleasant and usually untrue things about <sb> □ The press has always maligned her. ◇ adj [person, behavior, influence] that is harmful (literary use).
- malignant [mə'liɡnənt] adj -1. [nature, look, plan] that seems full of hate and the desire to hurt other people (formal use). -2. MEDICINE [cancer, tumor, growth] that is harmful and may cause death.
- malinger [mə'liŋgə] vi to avoid work by pretending to be ill (disapproving use).
- malingerer [mə'liŋgərə] n a person who malingers (disapproving use).
- mall [mɔ:l] n a large building containing several different stores.
- mallard [US 'mælərd, GB -ɑ:d] n a common wild duck, the male of which has a dark-green head and a red-brown breast.
- malleable ['mæɪəbəl] adj -1. [person] who is easily influenced and controlled by other people. -2. [substance] that is soft and can easily be bent, shaped etc □ The metal is heated until it becomes soft and malleable.
- mallet ['mæɪlət] n a hammer with a wooden or rubber head.
- malnourished [ˌmæɪl'naʊrɪʃt] adj [person, population] that is sick and weak because of a lack of food or vitamins.
- malnutrition [ˌmæɪn'ju:trɪʃn] n serious weakness and illness caused by a lack of food, or a lack of food containing vitamins □ Most of the children in the camp are suffering from malnutrition.
- malpractice [ˌmæɪl'præktəs] n LAW failure to follow the rules of one's profession properly, often resulting in harm to a customer or client □ professional/medical/legal malpractice □ malpractice insurance.
- malt [mɔ:lt] n -1. grain, usually barley, that has been treated so that it produces sugar and is used to make alcoholic drinks such as beer and whiskey. -2. = malt whisky. -3. US = malted milk.
- Malta ['mɔ:ltə] a country consisting of the islands of Malta, Gozo, and Comino, in the Mediterranean, south of Sicily. SIZE: 316 sq kms. POPULATION: 360,000 (Maltese). CAPITAL: Valletta. LANGUAGE: Maltese, English. CURRENCY: Maltese pound.
- malted milk [ˌmɔ:ltɪd-] n US a drink made from milk mixed with a powder containing malt, and sometimes ice cream.
- Maltese [ˌmɔ:ɪ'ti:z] (pl Maltese) n & adj: see Malta.
- maltreat [ˌmæɪl'tri:t] vt [prisoner, horse] to treat  badly, cruelly, or violently.
- maltreatment [ˌmæɪl'tri:tmənt] n: see maltreat □ The prisoners had suffered maltreatment and abuse.
- malt whisky n a type of whisky made from malt.
- mammal ['mæməɪ] n an animal, e.g. a human, whale, or mouse, that belongs to a class of animals in which the female produces milk to feed its young.
- mammon, Mammon ['mæmən] n wealth when it is considered as something bad (disapproving use).
- mammoth ['mæməθ] ◇ adj a mammoth task/achievement a task/achievement that takes a lot of effort. ◇ n a big hairy elephant with long tusks that no longer exists.
- man [mæn] (pl men, pt & pp manned, cont manning) ◇ n -1. an adult male person □ men, women, and children □ You may think he's OK, but I don't trust the man. □ I think he's a very nice man. ■ the man in the street the ordinary or typical person □ How do the tax increases affect the man in the street? ■ to talk man to man to talk openly and honestly about something serious. ■ to be man enough to do sthg to be brave enough to do sthg □ You're not even man enough to admit when you're wrong! -2. a drinking/gambling man the type of man who drinks/gambles □ He's not a betting man. -3. [people] the human race □ Man is descended from the apes. □ It is the most deadly poison known to man. □ Space travel is one of the greatest achievements of modern man. -4. [of a team] a male member of an organized group of people; [in an army] an ordinary soldier; [in a factory] a male worker in a factory; [from a company] a male representative of a company □ We played the game with just ten men. □ They lost many men in the battle. □ The foreman spoke to the men on the shop floor. -5. [in a couple] a husband, male lover, or boyfriend (informal use) □ Apparently, Jodie's got a new man. -6. a word used to address a man, especially when one is angry, impatient, or excited (informal use) □ This record's really great, man. □ For God's sake, man, hurry up!

◇ vt [telephone, ship, machine] to operate or be in charge of <sthg> □ The station is manned 24 hours a day.

MAN [mæn] (abbr of metropolitan area network) n a network of computers that are linked together and can communicate within a town or city.

manacles ['mænəklz] npl metal chains that are fastened to a prisoner's wrists or ankles to stop them from escaping.

manage ['mænidʒ] ◇ vt -1. [task] to succeed in doing <sthg difficult> □ We managed to finish the work on time. □ I tried to eat but could only manage a few mouthfuls. □ She had somehow managed to lock herself in. -2. [company, store, movie star] to be in control of and responsible for the business affairs of <sb/sthg>; [house, machine] to control <sb/sthg> that is difficult to control □ She manages our sales department. □ The teacher doesn't know how to manage children. -3. [one's money, time] to organize and use <sthg> properly □ As a student I had to learn to manage my own affairs. -4. [money, time] to be able to give  to somebody else because one has enough of it □ We can manage a $5 donation. □ I'm busy now, but I can manage an hour on Friday.

◇ vi -1. to succeed in doing something difficult □ "Can I help you?" — "It's OK, I can manage." -2. to succeed in living with only a small amount of money □ How do you manage on only $60 a week?

manageable ['mænidʒəbl] adj [task, operation, child] that is easy to deal with or control □ Our debts are now of a manageable size. □ Its new formula will leave your hair smooth and manageable.

managed ['mænidʒd] adj managed forests/woodland forests/woodland in which trees are cut down at a rate that does not do permanent ecological damage.

management ['mænidʒmənt] n -1. [of time, facilities, a department] the act of organizing and controlling something, especially a business □ The mistake was due to bad management. □ business management □ crisis management □ time management □ a management course. -2. [of a business, operation, theater] the people who organize and control a business or other organization □ 'The management reserves the right to refuse admission.' □ Talks between senior management and workers have broken down. □ The restaurant is under new management. □ Management has refused to enter into negotiations.

management consultant n a person whose job is to give advice to a company or other organization on how it should be managed.

manager ['mænidʒə] n -1. a person who manages somebody or something □ a senior/department/personnel manager □ the party's campaign manager. -2. SPORT a person who chooses, coaches, and organizes a team.

managerial [ˌmænə'dʒɪəriəl] adj [post, training, decision] that is connected with the job of a manager □ technical and managerial skills.

managing director [ˌmænidʒɪŋ] n GB the person who is in charge of the general management of a company.

Manchester ['mæntʃɪstə] a city in northwestern England, famous for its industrial history. POPULATION: 397,400.

Mancunian [mæŋ'kju:njən] n a person who comes from or lives in Manchester.

mandarin ['mændərɪn] n -1. mandarin (orange) a kind of small orange that is easy to peel. -2. GB a high-ranking civil servant or public official, especially one who has great influence (disapproving use) □ Whitehall mandarins.

◆ Mandarin n the official language of China.

mandate ['mændət] n -1. the right or power to pass laws, take action etc, that results from winning an election or a vote □ The President has no mandate from the people to raise taxes. -2. a task, order, or instruction (formal use) □ My mandate is to arrange advertising; it does not cover market research.

mandatory [US 'mændətɔ:ri, GB -ətɪri] adj [grant, fine] that must be made, paid etc, according to the law or rules □ This kind of license is mandatory in the US.

Mandela [mæn'delə], Nelson (1918–) President of South Africa since 1994. He became the country's first black president after spending 26 years as a political prisoner.

mandolin [mændə'lɪn] n a musical instrument with four pairs of strings and a round back.

mane [meɪn] n the long hairs that grow along the back of a horse's neck or around the head and neck of a lion □ a horse's/lion's mane.

man-eating [-i:tɪŋ] adj [lion, tiger, shark] that may attack and kill a human for food.

maneuver US, manoeuvre GB [mə'nu:və] ◇ n -1. a movement, especially one that is difficult and requires skill □ It was a tricky maneuver, but I just about did it. -2. a clever and sometimes deceptive action that is intended to achieve a particular purpose. ■ room for maneuver the chance to try different things or change one's plans □ The wording leaves both sides with plenty of room for maneuver. ◇ vt [ship, vehicle] to move <sthg large>, usually with skill, in difficult circumstances □ He maneuvered the car into the garage. ◇ vi [person, ship, vehicle] to carry out a maneuver □ This is the stage when politicians on both sides traditionally maneuver for position.

◆ maneuvers npl MILITARY a military training exercise involving many soldiers on a large area of land □ The army was on maneuvers.

maneuverable US, manoeuvrable GB [mə'nu:vərəbl] adj [vehicle, controls] that can be moved, operated etc easily.

Man Friday [ˌmæn'fraɪdeɪ] a character in the novel Robinson Crusoe, by Daniel Defoe, who becomes Crusoe's servant.

manfully ['mænfli] adv [struggle, try] in a determined way, without complaining or asking for help even if it is necessary.

manganese ['mæŋgəni:z] n a gray-white metal that is used in making glass and steel. SYM-BOL: Mn.

mange [meɪndʒ] n a skin disease that affects animals, especially dogs and cats, causing them to lose their hair.

manger ['meɪndʒə] n a long open container in a barn or stable that cattle, horses etc can eat hay from.

mangetout (pea) [ˌmɒŋdʒtuː(-)] n GB a vegetable that consists of very small peas in a flat pod and that is eaten without removing the pod.

mangle ['mæŋɡl] vt -1. [car, body] to damage <sthg> very badly by crushing or twisting it □ the mangled remains of a bicycle. -2. [version, translation] to spoil or do <sthg> badly, e.g. by making a lot of mistakes □ The orchestra gave a mangled performance of the symphony.

mango ['mæŋɡoʊ] (pl mangoes OR mangos) n a tropical fruit that has thin green, yellow, or red skin, juicy orange flesh, and a large seed in the center.

mangrove ['mæŋɡruːv] n a tropical tree that grows on mud beside water and has roots above the ground □ a mangrove swamp.

mangy ['meɪndʒɪ] (compar mangier, superl mangiest) adj [cat, dog] that has mange.

manhandle ['mænhændl] vt to hold or push <sb> roughly, especially in order to take them somewhere.

Manhattan [mæn'hætɪn] an island at the mouth of the Hudson River, in New York City, USA. It is a borough of New York City and a cultural, commercial, and financial center. POPULATION: 1,428,000.

Manhattan Project n the Manhattan Project the US plan to build the first atomic bomb.

manhole ['mænhəʊl] n a round opening in a road, with a metal covering, that leads to sewers, water pipes etc.

manhood ['mænhʊd] n -1. the state of being a man, rather than a boy □ He had grown from boyhood to manhood. -2. all the men in a particular society or country (literary use) □ the prime of the country's manhood.

man-hour n the work done by one person in one hour.

manhunt ['mænhʌnt] n a search by the police of an area or country for a wanted person, especially for a dangerous criminal.

mania ['meɪniə] n -1. a very strong and extreme desire or need for something □ She's got a mania for ice cream these days. -2. MEDICINE a mental illness.

maniac ['meɪniæk] n (informal use) -1. a person who is believed to suffer from a dangerous mental illness. -2. a person who behaves in a wild and dangerous way □ That guy drives like a maniac! -3. a person who has a very great interest in or liking for something □ a sex maniac.

manic ['mænik] adj [person, behavior] very energetic, e.g. because of nervousness or excitement □ It was manic in the office this morning.

manic-depressive ◇ adj [person] who has ex-trême and uncontrollable changes of mood between happiness and misery. ◇ n a manic-depressive person.

manicure ['mænikjʊə] ◇ n a treatment to make the hands look more attractive, especially the shaping and painting of fingernails. ◇ vt to give <sb's hands and nails> a manicure.

manifest ['mænɪfɛst] (formal use) ◇ adj [stupidity, failure, anger] that is easy to see. ◇ vt [resistance, guilt, support] to show <sthg> clearly □ Their anger manifested itself in different ways. ◇ n a list of the cargo or passengers on a ship or plane □ a flight manifest.

manifestation [ˌmænɪfɛ'steɪʃn] n [of a feeling, change, situation] the form or way in which something becomes clear for people to see (formal use).

Manifest Destiny n in the 19th century, the belief that the USA could expand across North America because it was God's wish.

manifestly ['mænɪfɛstli] adv manifestly obvious/wrong etc clearly obvious/wrong etc (formal use) □ The board is manifestly failing in its duties to stockholders.

manifesto [ˌmænɪ'fɛstəʊ] (pl manifestos OR manifestoes) n a piece of writing in which a group such as a political party presents its ideas and plans □ an election manifesto.

manifold ['mænɪfəʊld] ◇ adj [problems, qualities, differences] numerous and various (literary use). ◇ n AUTO a system of pipes that allows gases to enter and escape from a car engine.

manila [mə'nɪlə] adj [envelope, folder] made of strong brown paper.

Manila [mə'nɪlə] the capital of the Philippines. POPULATION: 1,998,918.

manilla [mə'nɪlə] adj = manila.

manipulate [mə'nɪpjəleɪt] vt -1. [person, system, situation] to control <sb> in an unfair or deceitful way so that they do what one wants □ They're trying to manipulate you into saying "no". -2. [lever, controls] to move and control  with one's hands, especially skillfully. manipulation [mə'nɪpjə'leɪʃn] n: see manipulate □ His adept manipulation of the media was what saved him.

manipulative [mə'nɪpjələtɪv] adj [person] who one thinks manipulates people, situations etc (disapproving use).

Manitoba [ˌmæni'təʊbə] a province of central Canada. ABBREVIATION: MB. SIZE: 650,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,091,942 (Manitobans). CAPITAL: Winnipeg.

mankind [mæn'kaɪnd] n the human race □ What is the future of mankind?

manly ['mænlɪ] (compar manlier, superl manliest) adj [pride, voice, chest] that is typical of what many people think a man should be like.

man-made adj [fiber, problem, path] that is not created naturally, but by people □ a man-made disaster □ The lake is man-made.

manna ['mænə] n manna from heaven a gift,

- especially money, that provides unexpected help.
- manned [mænd] adj [spacecraft, submarine] that is occupied and operated by a person or people.
- mannequin ['mæŋkɪn] n -1. an object in the shape of the human body that is used to show how clothes look on a person and is often seen in store windows. -2. a female model (old-fashioned use).
- manner ['mænə] n -1. a way of doing something □ We discussed terms in the usual manner. ■ in a manner of speaking a phrase used to say that a statement is not the case in a precise way, but only in a general way □ "So, did he win?" — "Well yes, in a manner of speaking." -2. a way of behaving or acting toward other people □ I don't like his manner one little bit! □ She has a very relaxed manner. -3. all manner of... many different types of... □ There were all manner of people there.
- ◆ manners npl the accepted way of behaving politely or correctly in social situations □ She's got good/bad manners. □ Some people have no manners these days!
- mannered ['mæənə'd] adj [behavior, style] not natural or sincere.
- mannerism ['mæənərizm] n a way of moving or talking that is very typical of a particular person and that is often slightly unusual.
- mannish ['mæniʃ] adj [face, voice, behavior] that makes a woman seem like a man □ She looks very mannish with short hair.
- manoeuvre etc GB = maneuver etc.
- manor ['mænə] n a large old house in the countryside with private land around it.
- manpower ['mænpaʊə] n a collective term for all the workers used in a particular kind of work □ The industry is suffering from a shortage of manpower.
- manservant ['mænsɜ:'vɒnt] (pl menservants) n a male servant in a house (old-fashioned use).
- mansion ['mæŋʃn] n a very large house.
- man-size(d) adj a man-size(d) tissue/meal etc a large tissue/meal etc.
- manslaughter ['mænsləʊ:tə] n the crime of killing somebody without intending to □ Howell pleaded guilty to manslaughter.
- mantelpiece ['mæntlpi:s] n the shelf along the top of a fireplace.
- mantle ['mæntl] n -1. a layer of something that covers a surface (literary use) □ A mantle of fog lay over the town. -2. the mantle of sth [of leader, champion] the very important and respected position of sth □ She was pleased to take up the mantle of party leader.
- man-to-man adj a man-to-man talk/discussion a talk/discussion that takes place between two men, especially on a difficult subject, and is direct and open.
- manual ['mænjuəl] ◇ adj -1. manual work OR labor heavy work done by hand □ a manual job. -2. [control, system, car] that is operated or done by using one's hands, and not a machine □ a manual typewriter. ◇ n a book that contains instructions on how to use a machine or piece of equipment, or how to do a job □ a training manual □ an instruction manual.
- manually ['mænjuəlɪ] adv [operate, control] see manual.
- manual worker n a person who does manual work, e.g. in a factory or on a building site.
- manufacture [ˌmænjə'fæktʃə] ◇ n [of cars, televisions] the production of goods, usually in large quantities in a factory □ The company specializes in the manufacture of high-quality lenses. ◇ vt -1. [car, television] to make , usually in large quantities, using special equipment in a factory □ Manufactured goods accounted for the increase in exports. -2. [excuse, story] to invent <sth that is not true>.
- manufacturer [ˌmænjə'fæktʃərə] n a person or company that manufactures a particular product □ a clothing/car manufacturer □ a discount of 30% off the manufacturer's recommended retail price.
- manufacturing [ˌmænjə'fæktʃəriŋ] n the sector of industry that involves the production of goods in factories □ the number of people involved in manufacturing industries □ manufacturing costs.
- manure [mə'njuə] n excrement from an animal that is used on the land to help plants and crops grow better □ horse/pig manure.
- manuscript ['mænjəskript] n -1. a written or typed copy of a text, especially of a book that is going to be published, that is not the final copy □ a manuscript copy. -2. an old text written by hand, especially before the invention of printing.
- Manx [mæŋks] ◇ adj [person, custom, law] that comes from or belongs to the Isle of Man. ◇ n a Celtic language that used to be widely spoken on the Isle of Man.
- many ['meni] (compar more, superl most) ◇ det -1. many people/cars a large number of people/cars (formal use) □ The issue has been raised on many occasions. □ It's one of the many things I still have to do. -2. used in questions and negative sentences; used with "so", "too" etc □ How many times have you been there? □ Not many people know that. □ I didn't find many mistakes. □ There weren't many people left when I arrived. □ There are so many places I'd still like to visit. □ They bought too many computers. ■ a good OR great many children a very large number of children □ There are still a great many problems to be solved. ◇ pron: Many of the applicants are overqualified for the post. □ I don't know how many are coming. □ There were so many I couldn't count them. □ A good many had to be turned away.
- Maori ['maʊri] ◇ n a native New Zealander; the language of this people. ◇ adj: a Maori dish/song.
- Mao Tse-tung [ˌmaʊtsɜ:'tuŋ], Mao Zedong [ˌmaʊdʒə'dʊŋ] (1893–1976) a Chinese revolutionary leader who was the first head of state of Communist China, from 1949 to 1976. He was also known as Chairman Mao.

map [mæp] (pt & pp mapped, cont mapping) n a drawing of any part of the earth's surface showing the shape of countries, the position of towns, features such as rivers and roads etc □ a road map □ a map of the world □ I'm no good at reading maps.

◆ map out vt sep to map sthg out [route, plan, schedule] to prepare the details of sthg carefully □ Her book maps out the long-term future of the coal industry.

maple ['meɪpl] n a tree that grows in northern countries and has leaves with five points shaped like an open hand.

maple leaf n the leaf of a maple tree, used as a symbol on the Canadian national flag.

maple syrup n a thick sweet liquid that is made from the sap of a type of maple tree and is used as a sauce with desserts.

mar [mɑːr] (pt & pp marred, cont marring) vt [occasion, success, beauty] to spoil <sthg> so that it is less perfect or good □ A knee injury marred his chances of taking part in the race. □ The event was marred by crowd violence.

Mar. abbr of March.

maraschino cherry [ˌmæɹəʃiːnoʊ-] n a cherry that has been kept in a liqueur and is used to decorate cakes, cocktails etc.

marathon [US 'mæɹəθɒn, GB -θən] ◇ adj [task, speech, talks] very long and tiring □ a marathon exam. ◇ n -1. SPORT a race that is run over a distance of twenty-six miles. -2. an event or activity that lasts for a very long time □ a dance marathon.

marathon runner n a person who runs in a marathon.

marauding [mə'ɹəʊdɪŋ] adj [gang, animal] that goes from one place to another, looking for something to steal or kill.

marble ['mɑːbl] n -1. [for buildings, statues] a type of hard stone that is white, sometimes with a mixture of other colors, becomes smooth when polished, and is used as a material for sculpture and building □ a marble slab/statue. -2. GAMES a small colored ball that is made of glass and is used for games, especially by children.

◆ marbles n GAMES a children's game which involves rolling marbles along the ground.

march [mɑːtʃ] ◇ n -1. MILITARY the act of walking with regular steps, as part of a group of soldiers. -2. [by protesters] an organized event in which a large number of people walk together along a particular route in order to publicly protest about something □ They've gone on a protest march. -3. the march of time/progress etc the process of time/progress etc continuing in a way that cannot be stopped.

◇ vi -1. [soldiers, band] to walk together at the same speed with regular steps □ The army marched down the street. □ I could hear the sound of marching men. -2. [demonstrators] to take part in a protest march □ Students marched alongside the workers. □ We're marching against racism. -3. to march in/out etc to walk in/out in an energetic way, often because one is angry □ He marched up to me and started shouting. □ She turned around and marched off.

◇ vt to lead <sb> to or from a place against their will □ He was marched down to the principal's office.

March n the third month of the year in the Western calendar; see also February.

marcher ['mɑːtʃə] n a person who takes part in a protest march.

marching orders ['mɑːtʃɪŋ-] npl to get one's marching orders to be told officially to leave a job, place, or situation (informal use).

marchioness [US 'mɑːtʃənəs, GB 'mɑːtʃə'nɛs] n the wife of a marquis; a noblewoman of the same rank as a marquis.

march-past n a ceremony in which soldiers march past an important person, place, or monument as a sign of respect.

Marco Polo [ˌmɑːr'koʊ'pɒləʊ] (1254–1324) an Italian merchant and traveler. He wrote a famous account of his travels in India and China.

Mardi Gras [US 'mɑːrdɪgrɑː, GB 'mɑːdrɪ'grɑː] n a carnival that takes place in some cities and countries, just before the day that Lent begins.

🍷 MARDI GRAS

One of the best-known Mardi Gras carnivals is held every year in New Orleans, USA. The costume parades, music, and dancing in the streets are very popular with tourists. In the rest of the USA, people traditionally have parties or go to restaurants to celebrate Mardi Gras.

mare [meə] n an adult female horse.

margarine [US 'mɑːrdʒərən, GB 'mɑːdʒə'rɪn] n a yellow substance that is made from animal or vegetable fat and is eaten like butter on bread or used in cooking.

margin ['mɑːdʒɪn] n -1. [of victory, a win] the amount by which something is different from another thing □ Mrs O'Leary won the vote by a margin of 10%. □ The team had a huge, 12-point winning margin. -2. [for error, safety] an extra amount of something that makes it possible to be flexible and prepared for unexpected events or circumstances □ We must remember to allow a margin for error. □ a 30-minute safety margin. -3. [on a page] the empty space at the side of a page next to a piece of writing, sometimes marked by a line that goes from the top to the bottom □ He made notes in the margin. -4. [of a wood, desert, lake] the edge of an area of land or water □ The settlement lies on the plain's eastern margins. -5. the margins of sthg [of a political party, activity] the part of sthg that is not considered important, especially because it is not approved of or taken seriously □ The program is designed to help those on the margins of society.

marginal ['mɑːdʒɪnəl] adj -1. [issue, effect] that is too small to be important □ The changes have brought only marginal improvements. -2. GB POLITICS a marginal seat OR constituency a constituency where no party can be certain of a strong majority, with the result that election results are usually very close.

marginally ['mɑ:rdʒɪnli] adv to be marginally closer/better to be only a little closer/better □ His health has improved only marginally. □ We would only be marginally better off if you changed jobs.

Marie Antoinette [US mə,ri:æntwə'net, GB ,mæri-] (1755–1793) Queen of France from 1770 to 1792. She was an unpopular queen who is supposed to have said "Let them eat cake" when told that the poor had no bread. She was killed on the guillotine with her husband, Louis XVI.

marigold ['mæriɡould] n a plant with bright yellow or orange flowers.

marihuana, marijuana [US ,meri'wɑ:nə, GB ,mæri-] n a drug, illegal in most countries, that is made from cannabis leaves and is smoked with tobacco or mixed with food.

marina [mə'ri:nə] n a small area of water next to a river or harbor, where private boats are kept.

marinade [US ,merə'neɪd, GB ,mæri-] ◇ n a liquid or sauce in which meat or fish is soaked, especially before cooking, in order to give it a particular flavor. ◇ vt & vi = marinate.

marinate [US 'merəneɪt, GB 'mæri-] ◇ vt [meat, fish, fruit] to soak <food> in a marinade. ◇ vi [meat, fish, fruit] I left the chicken to marinate in wine.

marine [mə'ri:n] ◇ adj [life, biology] that is connected with the sea. ◇ n MILITARY -1. US a soldier who is a member of the Marine Corps. -2. GB a soldier who is a member of the Royal Marines.

◆ Marines npl = Marine Corps.

Marine Corps n a US armed force made up of soldiers who serve on land and ships.

marionette [US ,meriə'net, GB ,mæri-] n a puppet that is moved by pulling strings.

marital ['mæriəl] adj [problems, stress] that is connected with marriage or married people.

marital status n the fact of being married, single, widowed, or divorced □ Please give your name and marital status.

maritime ['mæri:təɪm] adj [museum, law] that is connected with the sea and ships.

Maritime Provinces: the Maritime Provinces the eastern Canadian provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island, when considered together.

Maritimes = Maritime Provinces.

marjoram ['mɑ:rdʒərəm] n a plant with purple flowers, whose leaves are used as an herb in cooking.

mark [mɑ:k] ◇ n -1. [on a surface] something such as a line or small colored area that damages or colors the surface of something and was made by something else, e.g. a sharp object or a liquid □ The oil had left a small mark on my sleeve. □ There were red marks on his arm. □ a dirty mark □ a scratch/burn mark. -2. a symbol that is written, drawn, printed, or stamped in order to show something such as punctuation. ■ to make one's mark to have an important and noticeable effect on something □ She made her mark with a fine opening speech. -3. [on a test, exam] a number or letter that indicates how good or bad somebody's performance on a test or exam is □ She got the best marks in the class. □ a high/low mark □ The pass mark is 50%. -4. a point that represents a particular stage or level of something □ It was in that year that unemployment reached the three million mark. □ the halfway mark. -5. a mark of sth [of respect, friendship, experience] something that can be seen as proof of or a sign of sth else □ Flags flew at half mast as a mark of respect. -6. FINANCE the unit of currency used in Germany. -7. phrases to be quick/slow off the mark to move, think, or react quickly/slowly in a situation □ You'll have to be quicker off the mark than that if you want to win. ■ wide of the mark [person, prediction, criticism] not accurate at all, and showing a lack of understanding of the facts, a situation etc □ His comments went very wide of the mark.

◇ vt -1. [wall, face] to make a mark of ink, dirt etc on <sth>, usually by accident □ The book is marked on the front cover. -2. [letter, file, drawer] to write or print a label or symbol on <sth> to make it easier to find or recognize □ The file was marked "Top Secret". -3. [homework, essay, exam] to check and make corrections to , usually in order to give a mark showing how good or bad it is □ The answer was marked wrong. -4. to show the exact location of <sth>; to represent the point in time of <sth> □ X marks the spot. □ Today marks a turning point in our lives. -5. [event, anniversary] to do something special in order to remember <sth> □ Let's have some champagne to mark the occasion.

◆ mark down vt sep -1. to mark sth down to lower the price of sth □ The shirts have been marked down. -2. to mark sb down [student, candidate] to give sb a lower mark, e.g. because they have made a mistake.

◆ mark off vt sep to mark sth off [item, date, name] to mark sth on paper with a line, check, cross etc to show that it has been dealt with.

◆ mark up vt sep to mark sth up to raise the price of sth □ Retail stores mark up the price of their goods by up to 50%.

Mark Antony [ˌmɑ:k'æntəni] (83–30 BC) a Roman military and political leader. He became one of the rulers of the Roman Empire, but left for Egypt after falling in love with Cleopatra. Antony and Cleopatra committed suicide after being defeated.

marked [mɑ:'kt] adj [difference, change, improvement] that is large and can be easily noticed □ There's been a marked decline in standards since then.

markedly ['mɑ:kədli] adv: to be markedly better/worse to be much better/worse in a way that is easily noticed □ The situation has changed markedly in the last few years.

marker ['mɑːkə] n -1. a sign that shows the exact location of something □ a grave marker.

-2. EDUCATION a person who marks an exam.

marker (pen) n a colored pen with a thick tip that is used for writing on a whiteboard, drawing pictures etc.

market ['mɑːkət] ◇ n -1. [for shopping] a place indoors or outdoors where goods such as food, clothing, and jewelry are bought and sold on particular days at stalls rather than stores □ a fish market □ a street market □ a market stall. -2. [of a particular product] the number of people who buy, or might buy, a particular product; the amount of business done in connection with a particular product □ Is there really a market for this type of thing? □ the car/housing market □ The group has increased its market share from 8% to 12%. ■ on the market available to be bought □ They've just put their house on the market. □ The new model has only just come onto the market. -3. [in the world] the area or part of the world where a product is sold □ We have to expand beyond the domestic market. -4. FINANCE a place or system in which commodities, currency, shares, property etc are bought and sold □ Stock and bond markets had an unsettled week. □ foreign exchange markets.

◇ vt [product, range, image] to use a particular strategy in order to sell <sthg> □ They've tried to market it as a young person's car.

marketable ['mɑːkətəbl] adj [product, image, skills] that can be used to make money □ It's a highly marketable skill.

market analysis n the study and reporting of the behavior of a market such as the commodities market.

market forces npl the factors that affect the prices of goods when there are no government controls □ The cold wind of market forces has shaken many subsidized industries, including shipbuilding.

market garden n GB a place where fruit and vegetables are grown in large quantities to be sold.

marketing ['mɑːkətɪŋ] n -1. [of a product] the process of trying to sell something by using particular packaging, advertising etc □ John works in marketing. □ a marketing strategy. -2. to go marketing US to go shopping, especially for food.

marketplace ['mɑːkətpleɪs] n -1. an area of open space in a town or village, usually a square, where a market is held. -2. the marketplace BUSINESS the place or area of business in which buying and selling takes place □ We must be able to compete in the international marketplace.

market price n the price that is paid for a product, commodity etc in a free market.

market research n in business, the process of getting information about people's tastes, lifestyles, incomes etc, in order to know what demand there is for a particular product □ They did a lot of market research before launching the product.

market town n GB a town where a market is regularly held, especially one in an area where there are many farms.

market value n the value of something based on how much people would be willing to pay for it □ The stock has a market value of $200,000.

marking ['mɑːkɪŋ] n the activity of checking and correcting a piece of homework or an exam and giving it a mark to show how good or bad it is □ I've got a huge pile of marking to do.

◆ markings npl -1. [on a bird, butterfly, leaf] a coloring or pattern that makes a particular type of animal, insect, or plant look different from others. -2. [on a plane, police car] a special design or symbol used to identify a vehicle.

marksman ['mɑːksmən] (pl marksmen [-mən]) n a person, especially a police officer, who is trained to shoot accurately □ a police marksman.

marksmanship ['mɑːksmənʃɪp] n the ability to shoot accurately.

markup ['mɑːkʌp] n an increase in the price of something, especially when it is the difference between the original cost price and the price it is sold at □ There's a markup of 50% on every unit.

Marlowe ['mɑːləʊ], Christopher (1564–1593) an English playwright. His works include Tamburlaine the Great and Dr Faustus.

marmalade ['mɑːməleɪd] n a sweet food that is made from sugar and oranges or lemons and is spread on bread or toast.

maroon [məˈruːn] adj [shirt, carpet, car] dark red-brown.

marooned [məˈruːnd] adj to be marooned to be left alone in a place where nobody lives and be unable to leave it □ What would you do if you were marooned on a desert island?

marquee [mɑːˈkiː] n a large tent where people can eat and drink, used at outdoor events, e.g. at a wedding reception or fair.

marquess ['mɑːkwəs] n = marquis.

marquetry ['mɑːkətri] n the technique of decorating wooden furniture or objects with different colored pieces of wood, fitted together in a pattern.

marquis ['mɑːkwəs] n a nobleman who ranks between a duke and an earl.

marriage ['mæriɪdʒ] n -1. the act of joining together a man and woman as husband and wife in a ceremony □ They recently announced their forthcoming marriage. □ a marriage ceremony □ marriage vows. -2. the relationship between a husband and wife □ They have a happy marriage. -3. the idea or state of being married □ Marriage doesn't really appeal to me. □ My marriage broke up last year.

marriage bureau n GB an agency that uses the personal details of clients to help them find suitable partners for marriage.

marriage certificate n the document that officially records the marriage of a man and woman.

- marriage counseling n US advice and help given by a marriage guidance counselor.
- marriage counselor n US a person whose job is to give advice and help to a married couple who are having difficulties in their relationship.
- marriage guidance n GB = marriage counseling.
- marriage guidance counsellor n GB = marriage counselor.
- married ['mæriəd] adj [man, woman, couple] joined in marriage; [life, bliss] that is connected with marriage □ Are you married or single? □ How long were they married? □ a happily married man/woman □ She's married to an opera singer. □ How are you enjoying married life?
- marrow ['mærou] n -1. the soft substance inside bones. -2. GB a large, long, green vegetable with thin white stripes along its skin, and white flesh.
- marry ['mæri] (pt & pp married) ◇ vt -1. to become the husband or wife of <sb> □ Will you marry me? ■ to get married to become joined in marriage □ She got married to him at the age of seventeen. -2. to perform the marriage ceremony for <two people> □ We were married by a priest/registrars. ◇ vi to become joined in marriage □ We hope to marry in a year or two. □ Do you think he'll ever marry and settle down?
- Mars [mɑ:'z] the planet in the solar system that is the fourth furthest from the Sun.
- marsh [mɑ:'ʃ] n a piece of low flat land that is soft and wet and is often found at the edge of lakes, rivers etc.
- marshal ['mɑ:'ʃl] (US pt & pp marshaled, cont marshaling, GB pt & pp marshalled, cont marshalling) ◇ n -1. MILITARY in some armies, an officer of the highest rank. -2. [at a concert, march, sports event] a person who is present at a public event, and helps with organization and crowd control. -3. US an officer who is in charge of a particular police or fire department. ◇ vt -1. [crowds, spectators] to direct <people> in order to make sure that an event takes place safely. -2. [one's thoughts, support, forces] to arrange and organize <sthg> in order to be able to make good use of it.
- marshalling yard ['mɑ:'ʃliŋ] n GB a place where the different sections of a train are put together.
- marshland ['mɑ:'ʃlənd] n an area of land that consists of marshes.
- marshmallow [US 'mɑ:'ʃmelou, GB 'mɑ:'ʃmælou] n -1. a large, soft, round candy that is usually pink or white and that people sometimes toast over a fire. -2. a soft, spongy, sweet food used to make marshmallows □ a marshmallow cookie.
- marshy ['mɑ:'ʃi] (compar marshier, superl marshiest) adj [land, area] that is flat and has soft wet soil.
- marsupial [mɑ:'sʊ:pjəl] n a type of animal, such as the kangaroo, of which the female carries her young in a pouch on her body.
- martial ['mɑ:'ʃl] adj [behavior, discipline, music] that is connected with the army.
- martial arts npl the forms of self-defense based on philosophy and discipline that come from the Far East, e.g. judo and karate □ an expert in martial arts.
- Martha's Vineyard [ˌmɑ:'θəz-] an island off the coast of Massachusetts that is a popular summer resort.
- martial law n a situation in which the army controls what people do in a town, region, or country, to stop attacks against the government.
- Martian ['mɑ:'ʃn] ◇ adj [soil, life] that is from or connected with Mars. ◇ n in science fiction stories, a creature from Mars.
- martin ['mɑ:'tɪn] n a small bird with a forked tail.
- martini [mɑ:'ti:ni] n an alcoholic drink that consists of gin and vermouth.
- Martinique [ˌmɑ:'ti:'ni:k] a French overseas territory, consisting of a mountainous island in the Caribbean. SIZE: 1,100 sq kms. POPULATION: 359,572 (Martiniquais). CAPITAL: Fort-de-France. LANGUAGE: French, Creole. CURRENCY: French franc.
- Martin Luther King Day n in some states of the USA, a public holiday on the third Monday in January.
- martyr ['mɑ:'tɜ:] n a person who dies or suffers for their religious or political beliefs □ Clare Parker died a martyr to the cause of women's liberation.
- martyrdom ['mɑ:'tɜ:dəm] n the death or suffering of a martyr; the status of a martyr.
- martyred ['mɑ:'tɜ:d] adj [expression, voice] that suggests suffering, often in an exaggerated way in order to get sympathy from other people.
- marvel ['mɑ:'vl] (US pt & pp marveled, cont marveling, GB pt & pp marvelled, cont marvelling) ◇ n -1. something, e.g. a building, work of art, event, or achievement, that people admire because it seems almost too impressive to be possible □ the marvels of Ancient Greece. -2. an event or achievement that is very surprising and makes people happy □ It's a marvel (that) she's still alive! -3. a person who does something that is very surprising and that makes people happy □ Your new secretary's a real marvel! ◇ vt to marvel that... to be very surprised and impressed that something is true □ We marveled that he could remember so much. ◇ vi: I marvel at the speed with which they get things done.
- marvelous US, marvellous GB ['mɑ:'vləs] adj [news, surprise, movie] wonderful □ What a marvelous idea!
- Marx [mɑ:'ks], Karl (1818–1883) a German philosopher and economist who founded Communism. His works include the Communist Manifesto and Das Kapital.
- Marxism ['mɑ:'ksɪzəm] n the political philosophy of Karl Marx that is the basis of Communism.
- Marxist ['mɑ:'ksəst] ◇ adj [ideal, belief, view] that is based on Marxism; [historian, politician]

- who is influenced by Marxism. ◇ n a person who supports Marxism.
- Mary [US 'meri, GB 'mɛəri] in the Bible, the mother of Jesus.
- Mary I [-dɔ'fɜ:'st] (1516–1558) Queen of England and Ireland from 1553 to 1558. She tried to restore the Catholic religion in England, and had many Protestants killed.
- Mary II [-dɔ'sɛkənd] (1662–1694) Queen of Great Britain and Ireland from 1689 to 1694. She ruled together with her husband William III.
- Maryland [US 'merilənd, GB 'mɛər-] a state of the eastern USA, on the Atlantic coast. ABBREVIATION: MD. SIZE: 31,864 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,781,468 (Marylanders). CAPITAL: Annapolis. MAIN CITY: Baltimore.
- Mary Magdalene [-'mægdəlɪn] in the Bible, a woman who Jesus cured of evil spirits. She was the first person to see him after he rose from the dead.
- Mary Queen of Scots (1542–1587) Queen of Scotland from 1542 to 1567. She spent her last 20 years as a prisoner of Elizabeth I of England, who finally had her killed.
- marzipan ['mɑ:'zɪpən] n a soft sweet food that is made from almonds, sugar, and eggs, and used to make cakes and candy.
- mascara [US mə'skærə, GB -'skɑ:rə] n a dark substance used as make-up on one's eyelashes to make them more noticeable.
- mascot ['mæskət] n a person, animal, or object that is supposed to bring good luck to somebody or to a group of people such as a sports team, and is sometimes used as their symbol.
- masculine ['mæskjələn] adj -1. [pride, idea, appearance] that is typical of a man, rather than of a woman □ That's a very masculine attitude. -2. [woman, face, nature] that has qualities usually associated with a man □ She had a short, masculine haircut. -3. GRAMMAR a word used to refer to one of the classes that nouns are divided into in some languages □ Is the French word "chat" masculine or feminine?
- masculinity [ˌmæskjə'linəti] n -1. the state of being a man, usually shown by certain typical qualities. -2. the qualities considered to be typical of men.
- mash [mæʃ] vt [potato, carrots] to squash and mix <vegetables> into a soft mass, often using a special tool □ He mashed everything up together in the pan.
- MASH [mæʃ] (abbr of mobile army surgical hospital) n a US army hospital that is set up close to a battlefield.
- mashed potatoes ['mæʃt-] npl potatoes that have been boiled and mashed.
- mask [US məsk, GB mə:sk] ◇ n -1. [for one's face] a piece of material or equipment that is worn over one's face in order to protect it or make it look different □ The actors all wore masks. □ a surgical face mask. -2. [of bravery, politeness, disinterest] behavior that hides somebody's true feelings or character □ Meanwhile, mother put on a polite mask for the guests. ◇ vt -1. [face, eyes, building] to cover <sthg> and prevent it from being seen. -2. [anger, pain] to stop people from noticing <sthg one feels> by behaving in a particular way □ His aggression masks a deeper insecurity. -3. [smell, taste] to prevent <sthg> from being noticed by being stronger □ The chili masks the taste of the chicken.
- masked [US məskt, GB mə:skt] adj [gunman, robber, attacker] who is wearing a mask □ The man was masked and was holding a gun.
- masking tape [US 'mæskɪŋ-, GB 'mɑ:sk-] n a type of tape that is designed to be stuck on a surface, e.g. near an area that is going to be painted, to protect it.
- masochism ['mæsəkɪzəm] n behavior in which somebody gets pleasure, especially of a sexual kind, from suffering or pain.
- masochist ['mæsəkəst] n a person who gets pleasure, especially of a sexual kind, from experiencing suffering or pain.
NOTE: Compare sadist.
- masochistic [ˌmæsə'kɪstɪk] adj [behavior, desire] see masochist.
- mason ['meɪsn] n = stonemason.
- ◆ Mason n = Freemason.
- Mason-Dixon Line [-'dɪksn-] n the Mason-Dixon Line in the USA, the boundary between Maryland and Pennsylvania.
-
- ♣ MASON-DIXON LINE
- The Mason-Dixon Line was the boundary that separated the Union and the Confederate States during the American Civil War. It is still used as a symbol for the division between the North and South of the United States. People who live south of the line speak with a marked "Southern" accent, and many of them are proud of their cultural independence from the rest of the USA.
-
- masonic [mə'sɒnɪk] adj [lodge, handshake] that is connected with the Freemasons.
- masonry ['meɪsnrɪ] n the stones that something, e.g. a building or wall, is made of □ a lump of masonry □ a masonry drill/nail.
- masquerade [ˌmæskə'reɪd] vi to masquerade as sb [as a policeman, salesman] to pretend to be sb by dressing or acting the way they do in order to deceive people.
- mass [mæs] ◇ n -1. [of books, people, papers] a large number of things □ I have a mass of unfinished jobs to do. -2. [of hair, water] a large amount of something □ a huge mass of concrete. -3. PHYSICS the amount of matter that an object consists of. -4. the mass of... the majority of... □ The mass of people are in favor of this policy. ◇ adj [protest, unemployment, communication] that involves a large number of people □ weapons of mass destruction. ◇ vt [troops, forces] to gather <people> together in a large group. ◇ vi [troops, clouds, marchers] The crowds are massing in the square.
- ◆ Mass n RELIGION a Christian religious ceremony in which people eat bread and sometimes drink wine as symbols of the body and blood of Jesus Christ.

◆ masses npl -1. GB [of food, people, traffic] a large amount (informal use) □ I've got masses of work to do. □ There was masses of wine left over. -2. the masses the ordinary working people.

Massachusetts [ˌmæsə'tʃu:səts] n a state in New England, in the northeastern USA. ABBREVIATION: MA. SIZE: 21,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 6,016,425. CAPITAL: Boston.

massacre [ˈmæsəkə] ◇ n the act of killing a large number of people in a cruel and violent way □ The brutal massacre of innocent civilians. ◇ vt to kill  in a cruel and violent way □ The government is accused of massacring its own people.

massage [US mə'sɑ:ʒ, GB 'mæs-] ◇ vt to press or rub <part of a person's body> in order to relax their muscles □ Can you massage my shoulders for me? ◇ n the act of massaging part of a person's body □ He gave her a back massage.

massage parlor n a place where people can have a massage. Some of these places are used to offer sex to clients.

masseur [US mə'sʊr, GB mə'sɜ:] n a man whose job is to give massages.

masseuse [US mə'su:z, GB -'sɜ:z] n a woman whose job is to give massages.

massive [ˈmæsɪv] adj [amount, building, company] very large □ a massive increase in tourism.

massively [ˈmæsɪvli] adv [invest, increase, cut] see massive □ a massively successful band.

mass-market adj [production, goods] that is suitable for a large number of people.

mass media n OR npl the mass media a collective term for TV, radio, and the press.

mass-produce vt [goods, medicines, furniture] to produce large amounts of , usually in factories □ The designs are copied and then mass-produced in Indonesia.

mass production n [of goods, medicines, furniture] see mass-produce.

mast [US məst, GB mə:st] n -1. SAILING [on boat] a long vertical pole on a boat or ship that supports the sails. -2. RADIO & TV a long vertical pole that supports radio or television antennas □ a radio mast.

mastectomy [mæ'stektəmi] (pl mastectomies) n a medical operation to remove a woman's breast.

master [US 'mæstər, GB 'mə:stə] ◇ n -1. sb's master the man that a servant or slave works for □ My master was not at home. □ He reports back to his political masters in Moscow. -2. to be master of sthg [of one's feelings, a situation] to be in control of sthg □ The country will then be free to be master of its own destiny. -3. to be a master of sthg [of a skill, language] to be very good at sthg □ She's a master of disguise/the art of persuasion.

◇ adj -1. a master builder/plumber etc a very skilled builder/plumber etc. -2. a master tape/copy etc an original tape/copy etc from which copies can be made.

◇ vt -1. [situation, temper, fear] to bring <sthg> under one's control □ He tried hard to master his feelings of anger. -2. [skill, language, job] to learn to do or understand <sthg> perfectly □ I speak good Spanish, but I haven't quite mastered French yet.

master bedroom n the largest bedroom in a house or apartment.

master disk COMPUTING n -1. a disk that contains all the files for a task. -2. a disk that contains the code for a computer's operating system, that must be loaded before the system will work.

masterful [US 'mæstərfl, GB 'mə:stə-] adj [person] who is in control of the situation; [voice, behavior] that shows that one is in control of the situation.

master key n a key that can open all the locks in a particular place.

masterly [US 'mæstərli, GB 'mə:stəli] adj [performance, display] that is very well done.

mastermind [US 'mæstərmaɪnd, GB 'mə:stə-] ◇ vt [crime, operation, takeover] to plan and organize <sthg complicated> □ She masterminded the robbery. ◇ n a person who masterminds something □ She was the mastermind behind the robbery.

Master of Arts (pl Masters of Arts) n a postgraduate degree in a subject that is not a science; a person who has this degree.

master of ceremonies (pl masters of ceremonies) n -1. [at a dinner] a person who introduces speakers at formal events. -2. [in a show] a person who introduces entertainers in a variety show.

Master of Science (pl Masters of Science) n a postgraduate degree in a scientific subject; a person who has this degree.

masterpiece [US 'mæstərpɪs, GB 'mə:stə-] n -1. ART an extremely good work of art □ The sculpture is a masterpiece of African woodcarving. -2. sb's masterpiece the best piece of work done by sb □ The painting is the artist's masterpiece. -3. a masterpiece of sthg a very skillful example of sthg □ a masterpiece of engineering/deceit/planning.

master plan n a plan that somebody prepares to help them deal with every aspect of a particular situation successfully.

Masters and Johnson [US 'mæstərz-, GB 'mə:stəz-] US scientists who studied human sexual behavior in the 1950s and 1960s.

master's degree n a university degree that is more advanced than a bachelor's degree and less advanced than a doctorate.

masterstroke [US 'mæstərstrʊk, GB 'mə:stə-] n an intelligent action or strategy that is not expected and usually results in success.

master switch n a switch that controls all the lights or machines in a particular place.

masterwork [US 'mæstərwɜ:rk, GB 'mə:stəwɜ:k] n ART a masterpiece.

mastery [US 'mæstəri, GB 'mə:st-] n -1. [of a language, skill] great skill at something □ her complete mastery of her instrument. -2. [of a situation, area] complete control of something.

mastic ['mæstɪk] n a type of resin used to fill gaps in wood, tiles, plaster etc and to make them waterproof.

masticate ['mæstɪkeɪt] (formal use) \diamond vt to chew food. \diamond vi [person] Masticate before swallowing.

mastiff ['mæstɪf] n a large powerful dog with short hair.

masturbate ['mæstə'reɪt] vi to stroke or rub one's sexual organs for pleasure.

masturbation [ˌmæstə'reɪʃn] n: see masturbate.

mat [mæt] n -1. [on a floor] a piece of carpet or strong material that is put on a floor to protect or decorate it \square Wipe your feet on the mat. \square a floor mat \square a rubber mat. -2. [on a table] a small piece of cloth or cardboard that is put under objects on a table to protect the surface \square a beer/table mat.

Mata Hari [ˌmɑ:tə'hɑ:rɪ] (1876–1917) a Dutch dancer who worked in Paris as a German spy during World War I.

match [mætʃ] \diamond n -1. SPORT & GAMES an organized game in which people or teams compete against each other \square We won/lost the match. \square How many matches have they played? \square a tennis/boxing/chess match. -2. [for lighting things] a thin stick of wood or paper with a substance at one end that produces a flame when it is rubbed against a rough surface \square She lit a match. \square a box of matches. -3. to be no match for sb to be not as good as sb at a particular activity \square He's no match for her when it comes to negotiating.

\diamond vt -1. [ideas, needs] to be the same as <sthg> \square Your feelings match my own. -2. [color, garment] to find <sthg> that is the same as or goes with something else \square I'm trying to match this paint. \square Can you match the names with the photographs? \square You have to match each symbol to a different letter of the alphabet. -3. [quality, skill, score] to be of the same standard or level as <sthg> \square We can never match their level of craftsmanship.

\diamond vi -1. [ideas, needs] We have different views that simply do not match. -2. [colors, garments] I'm afraid those styles don't really match.

matchbox ['mætʃbɒks] n a box that contains matches and has a rough side to strike them on.

matched [mætʃt] adj to be well matched [couple] to be suitable for each other; [opponents, teams] to be equal to each other in strength or ability.

matching ['mætʃɪŋ] adj [colors, garments] that have the same color or design as each other.

matchless ['mætʃləs] adj [beauty, quality] that is so good that nothing or nobody can be as good as it (literary use).

matchmaker ['mætʃmeɪkə] n a person who tries to encourage relationships or marriages between other people.

match play n SPORT in golf, a way of scoring that depends on the number of holes a player wins rather than on the total number of strokes taken during the game.

match point n SPORT a situation in tennis, squash etc in which a player will win the match if they win the next point \square The Swede now has match point. \blacksquare to have two/three match points to be two/three points ahead of one's opponent and need one more point to win the match.

matchstick ['mætʃstɪk] n a wooden match, usually one that has been used.

mate [meɪt] \diamond n -1. [of an animal] a sexual partner \square Each bird builds an elaborate nest in order to attract a mate. -2. SHIPPING an officer on a merchant ship \square the ship's mate. -3. somebody's wife, husband, or sexual partner. -4. GB a friend (informal use) \square my mate, Steve. -5. GB a word used to talk to a man or boy in a friendly way (informal use) \square Hello, mate! \diamond vi [animals] to have sex in order to produce young \square The female always mates with the healthiest male.

material [mə'tɪəriəl] \diamond n -1. [for making something] the substance that something is made of \square The soles are made of synthetic material. -2. [for sewing] cloth \square curtain/dress material. -3. [for a book, movie] the ideas or information that somebody uses to write something \square I'm looking for material for my new novel. \diamond adj -1. material benefits/needs etc benefits/needs etc that are connected with physical everyday life, rather than moral or spiritual matters. -2. [evidence, information] that is important and relevant.

\blacklozenge materials npl the equipment needed for a particular activity or job \square building/writing/cleaning materials.

materialism [mə'tɪəriəlɪzəm] n the belief that money, possessions, and physical comforts are more important than spiritual, emotional, or intellectual matters.

materialist [mə'tɪəriəlɪst] n a person with a materialistic attitude.

materialistic [mə'tɪəriəlɪstɪk] adj [person, society, attitude] that is too concerned with materialism.

materialize, -ise [mə'tɪəriəlaɪz] vi -1. [problem, threat, crisis] to happen, especially in the way that was imagined or expected \square Unfortunately, the breakthrough failed to materialize. -2. [person, object] to appear suddenly after having been invisible or somewhere else \square Just as I said it, Stan materialized as if from nowhere.

materially [mə'tɪəriəlɪ] adv -1. [benefit, suffer] physically or financially \square Materially, people are much better off. -2. [different, significant] in an important way \square The treaty materially alters the balance of power in the region.

maternal [mə'tɜ:nl] adj -1. [instinct, attitude] that is typical of a mother's behavior toward her child \square She's never felt very maternal. -2. one's maternal grandfather/aunt one's grandfather/aunt who is the father/sister of one's mother.

maternity [mə'tɜ:nəti] n the state of being a mother.

maternity benefit n GB money paid by the state or an employer to a woman just before and after she gives birth to a child.

maternity dress n a dress designed for pregnant women.

maternity leave n a period of time when a woman is absent from work to have and take care of a baby □ You're allowed up to six months' maternity leave.

maternity ward n a department in a hospital that deals with women who are pregnant.

mateship ['meɪtʃɪp] n AUS the idea of friendship and equality between working people, usually men.

♥ MATESHIP

The idea of mateship in Australia goes back to the hard working conditions of the 19th century. Life was very difficult for workers who moved from place to place in the remote areas of the bush, and it was very important for them to be able to trust and support each other. These values of loyalty and equality became established as typically Australian, and were written about by several 19th-century Australian authors. Today, mateship is still a strong tradition that can be seen in Australians' belief in equality; the word "mate" is still commonly used by men to address one another.

math [mæθ] US, maths GB [mæθs] n = mathematics □ a math teacher/degree.

math coprocessor [-kou'prəʊsesəʃ] n an extra processor added to a computer to perform scientific or mathematical tasks more quickly.

mathematical [,mæθə'mætɪkəl] adj -1. [calculation, formula, problem] that involves mathematics. -2. [person] who is good at mathematics □ He's got a very mathematical mind.

mathematician [,mæθə'mætɪʃn] n a person who is trained or skilled in mathematics.

mathematics [,mæθə'mætɪks] n the science of numbers, shapes, and calculations (formal use) □ a mathematics professor.

maths n GB = math.

matinée [US ,mætn'eɪ, GB 'mæteɪnɪ] n a performance, e.g. of a play or movie, that takes place in the afternoon.

mating call ['meɪtɪŋ-] n a sound that animals make to attract each other when they want to mate.

mating season n the period of time in the year when particular animals mate □ Male seals become highly aggressive during the mating season.

Matisse [mæ'tɪsɪs], Henri (1869–1954) a French artist, well known for his use of strong primary colors.

matriarch ['meɪtrɪɑ:k] n -1. [in a society] a woman who is the ruler of a society where power passes from mothers to daughters. -2. [of a family] a powerful woman, usually a mother or grandmother.

matrices ['meɪtrɪsɪz] plural of matrix.

matriculate [mə'trɪkjəleɪt] vi EDUCATION to become officially registered as a student at a university; to reach the academic standard one needs in order to be accepted as a university student.

matriculation [mə'trɪkjə'leɪʃn] n: see matriculate.

matrimonial [ˌmætrə'mounjəl] adj [problems, home] connected with marriage.

matrimony [US 'mætrəməʊni, GB -ɪməni] n the state of being married (formal use) □ these two young people, united in holy matrimony.

matrix ['meɪtrɪks] (pl matrices OR matrixes) n -1. the set of conditions that something, e.g. a culture or society, develops in. -2. INDUSTRY a mold for shaping metal or plastic (technical use). -3. MATH an arrangement of numbers or symbols in columns, used for solving mathematical problems.

matron ['meɪtrən] n -1. [in a school] a woman whose job is to check the health of children at a school and take care of them when they are ill. -2. US [in a prison] a woman who is in charge of female prisoners. -3. GB [in a hospital] the most senior nurse who is in charge of all the other nurses.

matronly ['meɪtrənli] adj [woman] who is middle-aged and fairly fat (polite use).

matte US, matt GB [mæt] adj [black, paint, finish] that looks dull and not shiny.

matted ['mætəd] adj [hair, fur] that is thick and messy because it is stuck together with water, dirt etc.

matter ['mætə] ◇ n -1. a situation or problem that needs to be dealt with or discussed □ I've come about a private matter. □ You should report the matter to the police. □ We never discuss money matters. □ You can't do it and that's the end of the matter. □ Persuading the directors will be no easy matter. □ She'll never agree, so you might as well let the matter drop. -2. what's the matter with it? why is it not satisfactory? □ "I've bought a new car." — "Why? What was the matter with the old one?" ■ what's the matter (with you)? why are you looking angry, excited, ill etc? □ You look worried: is anything the matter? □ There's nothing the matter with me, I'm perfectly alright. ■ there's something the matter with my car my car is not working properly □ There's nothing the matter with the software, so it must be the computer itself. -3. PHYSICS a collective term for the solids, liquids, and gases that make up the universe □ research into the properties of matter at high temperatures. -4. waste/vegetable matter material that consists of waste/vegetables. ■ reading matter things for reading, e.g. books or magazines. -5. phrases a matter of five miles only five miles (used to draw attention to how small something is) □ Within a matter of hours I was on a plane heading for Bangkok. ■ it's just a matter of practice the only thing that is needed is practice. ■ it's a matter of life and death it is very urgent or dangerous. ■ to do sth as a matter of principle to do sth because you consider it is the right thing to do. ■ it's/that's a matter of opinion not everybody agrees with what has just been said □ "Dickens is a brilliant writer." — "That's a matter of opinion." □ It's a matter of opinion whether she actually deserved to win. ■ it's a matter of time it will definitely happen, probably quite soon □ It's just a matter of time before he's caught. ■ to do sthg as a matter of course to do sthg as part of one's normal way of doing things, rather than as something exceptional □ Before my letters are mailed I read them over as a matter of course.

◇ vi to be important □ The only thing that matters to him is money. ■ it doesn't matter it does not change the situation in any way □ It won't matter if you get there late. □ "I'm sorry about yesterday." — "Don't worry, it doesn't matter."

◆ matters npl the situation one is talking about □ Getting angry won't help matters. ■ to make matters worse,... what made a bad situation even worse was that... □ He lost his job, and to make matters worse, he received no compensation.

◆ as a matter of fact adv a phrase used to give more detailed information, or to disagree with what has just been said □ "Do you ever hear from Kate?" — "Yes, I do. As a matter of fact, I saw her just the other day." □ "I don't suppose you have much time for reading." — "As a matter of fact, I do."

◆ for that matter adv a phrase used to say that what has already been said is true of another situation or person □ You shouldn't lie to me, or to anyone else for that matter. □ They hadn't told me anything. Nor, for that matter, had they told anyone else.

◆ no matter adv no matter what/how... it makes no difference what/how... □ No matter how hard I try, I can't make him understand. □ No matter what she says, he always disagrees.

Matterhorn ['mætə'hɔ:n]: the Matterhorn a mountain in the Alps between Italy and Switzerland. HEIGHT: 4,478 m. matter-of-fact adj [person, voice, attitude] practical and showing no emotion.

Matthews ['mæθju:z], Sir Stanley (1915–) a British soccer player, considered one of the greatest of all time.

matting ['mætiŋ] n rough thick material, e.g. rope or straw, that is woven together and used as a floor covering.

mattress ['mætrəs] n a large flat surface filled with soft material or springs that is used for sleeping on, usually as part of a bed.

mature [mə'tjuə] ◇ adj -1. [plant, animal] that has grown to its full size □ Mature males can reach several meters in length. -2. [person] who behaves in the way that is expected of an adult □ I'm a mature adult. □ He is very mature for his age. -3. [cheese, wine] that tastes strong because it is old enough for its flavor to have developed □ a strong mature flavor. ◇ vi [plant, person, wine] to become mature □ Jo has matured into a fine young woman.

mature student n GB a student at a college or university who is over 25.

maturity [mə'tjuəriti] n [of a person] see mature □ He has not yet reached maturity.

maudlin ['mɔ:dlɪn] adj [person, song] sad and sentimental (disapproving use).

maul [mɔ:l] vt [lion, dog] to attack and injure <sb> very badly.

Mauritania [ˌmɔ:ri'teɪnjə] a country in northwestern Africa, on the Atlantic coast, situated mainly in the Sahara Desert. SIZE: 1,080,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,100,000 (Mauritanians). CAPITAL: Nouakchott. LANGUAGE: French, Arabic. CURRENCY: ouguiya.

Mauritius [mə'ri:fəs] a country consisting of an island in the Indian Ocean, east of Madagascar. SIZE: 2,040 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,100,000 (Mauritians). CAPITAL: Port Louis. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Mauritian rupee.

mausoleum [ˌmɔ:sə'li:əm] n a building that contains a grave or group of graves, especially of rich or important people.

mauve [mɔ:v] ◇ n a pale purple color. ◇ adj: a mauve tie.

maverick ['mævərɪk] n a person who thinks and acts independently, and often differently from the other people they are connected with □ a maverick lawyer.

mawkish ['mɔ:kiʃ] adj [person, behavior] that one thinks is too sentimental.

max. abbr of maximum.

maxim ['mæksəm] n a short saying or proverb that suggests the correct or suitable way to behave in particular situations.

maxima ['mæksəmə] plural of maximum.

maximize, -ise ['mæksəmaɪz] vt [profits, use, benefits] to increase <sthg> as much as possible □ We must maximize our chances of success.

maximum ['mæksəməm] (pl maxima OR maximums) ◇ adj [capacity, amount, speed] that is the highest or largest □ The news was timed to cause maximum damage to the party. ◇ n the highest amount of something that is possible in a particular situation or place □ a maximum of 40 people □ The space has been used to the maximum.

may [meɪ] modal vb -1. it may rain it is possible that it will rain □ We may just catch him before he leaves. ■ you may be right it is possible that you are right □ She may not have heard the news yet. ■ be that as it may used when one feels that what has just been said does not change the situation (formal use) □ "He's very ill."—"Be that as it may, he could have phoned." -2. you may go now you are allowed to go now (formal use) □ Only close relatives may attend the funeral. -3. may I/we... used in polite questions and suggestions □ May I take your coat? □ May we look around the house? □ May I smoke? -4. used to introduce an opinion which one feels somebody has □ He may not be very bright, but he's efficient and well-organized. □ You may not like it, but I am in charge here now. -5. may they be very happy! I hope that they will be very happy □ Long may he reign!

May n the fifth month of the year in the Western calendar; see also February.

Mayan ['maɪən] adj that is connected with the Maya, a Native American people who had a great civilization in Central America.

maybe ['meɪbi:] adv -1. used to say that something is possible but not definite □ Maybe she got lost. □ Maybe that's why he dislikes her so much. -2. used to show that a number or figure is not exact □ We'd walked three, maybe four, miles when we came to a garage. □ It took a long time — six hours, maybe. -3. used to make suggestions in a way that is not too direct □ Maybe you should try talking to him.

mayday ['meɪdeɪ] n a radio signal from a ship or plane that is sent to show it needs help in an emergency □ a mayday signal.

May Day n the first of May, celebrated as a holiday for the workers in many countries.

Mayflower ['meɪflaʊə] n the Mayflower the ship used by the Pilgrims who sailed from England to America in 1620.

mayfly ['meɪflaɪ] (pl mayflies) n a flying insect that lives near water and has a very short life.

mayhem ['meɪhem] n a situation of disorder, confusion, and lack of control that often involves extreme violence □ The strike caused mayhem on the roads today.

mayn't [meɪnt] = may not.

mayonnaise [US 'meɪəneɪz, GB 'meɪə'neɪz] n a thick, cold, creamy sauce made from egg yolks and oil that is usually eaten with salads or in sandwiches.

mayor [US 'meɪr, GB meə] n a person elected to be the official representative and head of the administration of a town or city.

mayoress [US 'meɪərəs, GB 'meər'es] n a female mayor; the wife of a mayor.

maypole ['meɪpəʊl] n a tall decorated pole that people in some countries dance around on May Day as part of a traditional celebration.

may've ['meɪəv] = may have.

maze [meɪz] n -1. [in a garden] a confusing system of paths separated by tall hedges or walls, built as an amusement for people to try to find their way through □ a garden maze. -2. [of ideas, streets, wires] a large number of things that are connected in complicated ways □ I found myself wandering through a maze of narrow alleys.

MB -1. abbr of megabyte. -2. abbr of Manitoba.

MBA (abbr of Master of Business Administration) n a postgraduate degree in business studies; a person who has this degree.

MBBS (abbr of Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery) n GB a degree in medicine and surgery; a person who has this degree.

MBE (abbr of Member of the Order of the British Empire) n an honorary title in Britain, usually given for services to the country.

MC n abbr of master of ceremonies.

MCAT ['emkæt] (abbr of Medical College Admissions Test) n a test taken by students in order to enter a medical school in the USA.

MCC (abbr of Marylebone Cricket Club) n the MCC a very old and important cricket club, based at Lord's cricket ground in London. MCC used to be the name of the English national cricket team on foreign tours.

McCarthy [mə'kɑ:tʃi], Joseph R. (1908–1957) a US politician who was largely responsible for McCarthyism.

McCarthyism [mə'kɑ:tʃiɪzəm] n in the USA, an anti-Communist movement that was very strong from 1950 to 1954. Many people were accused wrongly of being anti-American.

McCoy [mə'kɔɪ] n the real McCoy a genuine object or person, rather than an imitation (informal use) □ You shouldn't drink that cheap stuff — you want the real McCoy.

McKinley [mæ'kɪnli], William (1843–1901) US president from 1891 to 1901. He was shot and killed.

MCP n abbr of male chauvinist pig (informal use).

MD ◇ n -1. abbr of Doctor of Medicine. -2. abbr of managing director. ◇ abbr of Maryland.

MDT (abbr of Mountain Daylight Time) n the local summer time in the Rocky Mountain region of North America.

me [mi:] pron the person who is speaking or writing (used as the object of verbs, or after prepositions) □ Hi, it's me, Rachel. □ Can you hear me? □ Allow me to explain. □ She stood next to me. □ That's for me to decide. □ "I'd like to go now." — "Me too."

ME ◇ n (abbr of myalgic encephalomyelitis) an illness causing tiredness and aching muscles that sometimes lasts for years. ◇ abbr of Maine.

meadow ['medəʊ] n a field of wild grass and flowers.

meager US, meagre GB ['mi:gəʃ] adj [amount, income, meal] that seems very small □ We had a meager helping of fish.

meal [mi:l] n -1. an occasion when people eat, usually breakfast, lunch, or dinner □ the evening meal □ We're going out for a meal tonight. □ a three-course meal □ Rhoda cooked us a delicious meal. □ a heavy/light meal. -2. the food that is eaten at a meal. ■ to make a meal of sth GB to use more time and effort on sth than is necessary (disapproving use).

meals on wheels npl a service that delivers hot meals to the homes of people who are very old or ill.

mealtime ['mi:ltaɪm] n the time when a meal is eaten. ■ take the medicine at mealtimes take the medicine three times a day, with breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

mealy-mouthed [-'maʊðd] adj [person] who does not speak openly or directly because they are trying to avoid saying something unpleasant.

mean [mi:n] (pl & pp meant) ◇ vt -1. "obese" means "very fat" "obese" has the same meaning as "very fat" □ What does "hegemony" mean? ■ red means danger red is a sign of danger □ That light means that the fuel tank is empty. ■ this means war! this means that war will happen. -2. what do you mean? what are you trying to say? □ I think he meant that we should do it now. □ Do you mean that we won't see each other again? -3. I mean it I am serious about what I said □ I meant every word I said. -4. this will mean... the result of this will be... □ Closing down the factory will mean hundreds of job losses. -5. to mean to do sthg to have a deliberate intention of doing sthg □ I didn't mean to be rude. □ I've been meaning to ask you how you got on. -6. to be meant for sb to be intended to be given or sent to sb □ The bomb was meant for the Prime Minister. -7. you/we etc are meant to... you/we etc have been told to... □ He's meant to be helping me. □ You're not meant to go in there! -8. it's meant to be a joke it is intended to be a joke □ "What have you drawn?" — "It's meant to be a horse." -9. it's meant to be good for you people say that it is good for you □ It's meant to be the best club in town. -10. phrases to mean everything OR a lot to sb to be very important to sb □ Money means nothing to me. ■ he/she means well he/she is trying to be kind or helpful, in spite of the fact that he/she is causing problems □ Don't be impatient with him, he means well. ■ I mean used to explain something in more detail, or to correct what one has just said □ She's very kind; I mean, she's always ready to help. □ I'll be there by six, I mean seven.

◇ adj -1. [person, act] unkind and unpleasant □ What a mean thing to do! □ I'm sorry I was so mean to you. -2. US [person, dog] bad-tempered □ He can get real mean sometimes. -3. GB [person] unwilling to give or spend money □ He's always been mean with money. -4. MATH [rainfall, height] average. -5. phrases she is no mean writer/golfer etc she is excellent at writing/golf etc. ■ it's no mean feat it is very difficult to do □ To have fitted it all by himself is no mean feat. -6. he plays a mean guitar he plays the guitar very well (informal use).
◇ n -1. MATH the mean the average. -2. → means.

meander [mɪˈændəʃ] vi -1. [river, road] to have many bends and not lead directly somewhere. -2. [person] to move somewhere slowly without a particular purpose or direction.

meaning ['mi:nɪŋ] n -1. [of a word, phrase, sign] the thing that a particular word, phrase etc refers to □ The word "get" has lots of different meanings. □ Kindness! — You don't know the meaning of the word! -2. [of a painting, song, statement] the ideas that are expressed by something □ I've never understood the meaning of his songs, but I like them. -3. [of life, suffering] the importance or purpose that one feels something has □ Life lost all meaning for her after her husband died.

meaningful ['mi:nɪŋfl] adj -1. [look, remark] that expresses a particular attitude or message □ "I understand," he said, and gave a meaningful smile. -2. [relationship, discussion] that is serious and important □ I don't think we've reached any meaningful conclusions.

meaningless ['mi:nɪŋləs] adj -1. [song, gesture, word] that means nothing □ Well, read it! It's just a lot of meaningless nonsense. -2. [task, life, discussion] that has no purpose □ I find all these meetings pretty meaningless, actually.

meanness ['mi:nəs] n -1. US [of a person, action, behavior] unkindness. -2. GB [of a person, gift] the quality of not being generous.

means [mi:nz] (pl means) ◇ n a particular way of doing something □ Use any means available to you. □ Is there no means of doing it any faster? ■ a means of transport the type of transport that somebody can use, e.g. a bus, train, or car □ A bicycle is my only means of transport now. ■ a means to an end a way of achieving something else, rather than something that is desirable for its own sake □ For Lyle, a law degree was a means to an end, and that end was politics. ■ by means of sthg [of a tool, device, process] by using sthg □ They communicate by means of signs.

◇ not money or resources □ He's a young man of independent means. ■ to live within/beyond one's means to spend an amount of money over a period of time that one can/cannot afford.

◆ by all means adv a phrase used for giving somebody permission to do something □ "May I try?" — "By all means!" □ By all means, if you think it's worth it.

◆ by no means adv not at all □ It's by no means easy. □ I don't think it's fair by any means.

means test n a way of finding out how much money somebody earns to decide whether or not they qualify for extra money from the state.

meant [ment] past tense & past participle of mean.

meantime ['mi:ntaɪm], in the meantime adv in the period of time between two events □ The police will contact us when they find him. In the meantime, all we can do is wait.

meanwhile ['mi:nwaɪl] adv -1. used to describe an event that is happening at the same time as another event □ Leave the sauce to cool. Meanwhile, whisk two eggs in a bowl. -2. in the period of time between two events □ The strike is due to start at 7 a.m. tomorrow. Meanwhile talks are going on to end the dispute.

measles ['mi:zlz] n an infectious disease with symptoms of fever and red spots on the skin that mainly affects children.

measly ['mi:zli] (compar measlier, superl measliest) adj [amount, offer] that one finds small and disappointing (disapproving and informal use) □ All I got was a measly 50 cents!

measurable ['meʒərəbl] adj [progress, improvement, decline] that is noticeable and so is important in some way □ The new law will have no measurable effect on people's lives.

measurably ['meʒərəblɪ] adv [progress, improve, deteriorate] see measurable □ The family is measurably poorer than it was ten years ago.

measure ['meʒə] ◇ n -1. [to do something] an action that is carried out for a particular purpose □ The government must take measures to ease traffic congestion. -2. a measure of sthg [of independence, success] a degree or amount of sthg □ There is a certain measure of truth in what you say. ■ for good measure a phrase used to say that something is done, given etc in addition to something else □ I'll add an extra spoonful for good measure. -3. [of whiskey, brandy] the amount of an alcoholic drink that is in a glass □ He poured himself a large measure of gin. -4. to be a measure of sthg to show how great or important something is □ an industry where sales are seen as the only measure of success.

◇ vt [house, person] to find out the exact size of <sb/sthg>; [speed, temperature] to find out the exact level of <sthg> □ Can you measure my chest for me? □ Have you measured the patient's pulse?

◇ vi to be a particular size that can be shown as a distance □ The garden measures 40m by 25m.

◆ measure up vi to be good or able enough □ The hotel didn't measure up to our expectations. □ So, how did the new manager measure up?

measured ['meɪʒəd] adj [steps, tones] careful and deliberate □ He gave a measured reply.

measurement ['meɪʒəmənt] n -1. the size or level of something that is found out by measuring □ I need to take the measurement of the height of the door. □ What's your chest measurement? □ a unit of measurement. -2. the act of measuring something.

◆ measurements npl [of person] the sizes of particular parts of one's body, e.g. of one's chest, waist, or legs, used when buying clothes □ I don't know all of my measurements.

measuring cup ['meɪʒərɪŋ-] n US a type of cup for measuring liquid or food, used in cooking.

measuring jug n GB a transparent jug that has markings on the side so that the amount of liquid, flour, sugar etc in it can be measured.

measuring tape n a strip of tape or metal with inches or centimeters marked on it, used for measuring things.

meat [mi:t] n the flesh of animals that people eat.

meatball ['mi:tbo:l] n a small ball of ground meat.

meatloaf ['mi:tloʊf] n a dish that is made from ground meat, bread, vegetables etc and is shaped like a loaf of bread.

meaty ['mi:tɪ] (compar meatier, superl meatiest) adj [discussion, report] that is full of interesting facts, ideas etc.

mecca ['mekə] n a place that attracts a lot of people □ In the summer, the town is a mecca for tourists.

Mecca a city in western Saudi Arabia. It is the birthplace of Muhammad and a sacred city to Muslims, who must go there once on a pilgrimage if it is possible. POPULATION: 618,000.

mechanic [mɪ'kænɪk] n a person whose job is to maintain and repair engines or machines, especially cars.

◆ mechanics ◇ n the branch of science that is concerned with how forces act on objects □ fluid mechanics. ◇ npl the way that something works □ I don't understand the mechanics of the stock market.

mechanical [mɪ'kænikl] adj -1. [device, digger] that has moving parts and uses power □ a small mechanical toy. -2. [person, mind] good at understanding how machines work □ I'm not very mechanical. -3. [behavior, response] that happens because of habit and not because of what one feels or thinks □ He stamped the papers with slow, mechanical movements.

mechanical engineering n the branch of engineering that is concerned with machines and machinery.

mechanical pencil n US a pencil in which the lead can be moved in or out by twisting or pressing a part of the pencil.

mechanism ['mekənɪzəm] n -1. a part of a machine □ There's no safety mechanism on this model. -2. [in a system, government] a way of dealing with a problem or getting something done □ There are various mechanisms in place which should prevent errors of this kind. -3. [in a person, animal, plant] something that one does to help one deal with a difficult or dangerous situation □ a defense/survival mechanism.

mechanization [US 'mekənə'zeɪʃn, GB -ənəɪ-] n: see mechanize.

mechanize, -ise ['mekənaɪz] ◇ vt [process, industry, production] to use machines for <sthg> so that people or animals are no longer involved to the same extent. ◇ vi: The company will have to mechanize to remain competitive.

MEd [ˌem'ed] (abbr of Master of Education) n a postgraduate degree in education; a person who has this degree.

medal ['medl] n a small metal disk given to somebody for bravery, a sports achievement etc □ General de Peñra pinned the medal to his chest. □ She won an Olympic medal.

medalist US, medallist GB ['medləst] n a person who wins a medal in a sports competition □ an Olympic gold/silver medalist.

medallion [mə'dæljən] n a piece of jewelry that looks like a small medal and is worn on a chain around the neck, usually by men.

medallist n GB = medalist.

meddle ['medl] vi to try to influence a situation that concerns other people and not oneself in a way that is annoying and can cause problems □ How dare you meddle in or with my affairs!

meddlesome ['medlsəm] adj [person] who meddles.

media ['mi:diə] ◇ n OR npl the media a collective term for television, radio, and newspapers □ a huge advertising campaign in the media □ The media bears a huge responsibility for what has happened. ◇ plural of medium.

mediaeval [US 'mi:drɪ'vɪl, GB 'med-] adj = medieval.

media event n an event that is designed to attract the attention of the media.

median ['mi:diən] ◇ adj MATH that comes in the middle of a series of figures that are arranged in order. ◇ n US the median (strip) the middle part of a large road that divides traffic going in opposite directions.

mediate ['mi:di:et] vi to try to end an argument between two groups of people by talking to both of them □ The US has agreed to mediate between the two countries/mediate in the dispute. ◇ vt: The UN was asked to mediate a peace settlement.

mediation [ˌmi:di'eɪʃn] n: see mediate.

mediator ['mi:di:etə] n a person who mediates □ UN mediators had done their best to negotiate a settlement.

medic ['medɪk] n (informal use) -1. a doctor. -2. a medical student.

Medicaid ['medɪkeɪd] n a government program in the USA that helps pay for medical treatment for poor people.

medical ['medɪkl] ◇ adj [examination, supplies, profession] that is concerned with people's health and the treatment of illnesses and injuries □ a medical practitioner. ◇ n a complete examination of one's body and health by a doctor for an official purpose □ He passed/failed his army medical.

medical certificate n -1. a form completed by a doctor that shows the results of a medical examination. -2. a letter written by a doctor to somebody's employer to say officially that they are or have been ill.

medical insurance n a kind of insurance that covers the cost of treatment that one receives for sickness or injury.

medical student n a student of medicine.

Medicare ['medɪkəə] n in the USA, a government program that provides medical care for old people; in Canada and Australia, a program that provides medical care for everybody.

medicated ['medɪkətəd] adj [shampoo, cough syrup] that contains medication.

medication [ˌmedɪ'keɪʃn] n a drug or medicine used for treating a patient □ Are you on any medication?

medicinal [mə'dɪʃnl] adj that acts as a medicine □ I always keep a bottle of brandy for medicinal purposes. □ the medicinal properties of the eucalyptus plant.

medicine ['medsn] n -1. the subject that deals with diseases and injuries □ She's studying medicine at Columbia. -2. a substance used for treating a disease or illness, especially one that is swallowed □ I'm taking this medicine for my throat. □ a cough medicine □ a medicine bottle.

medicine man n in some cultures, a man who is believed to have magic powers that make it possible to cure illnesses.

medieval [US ˌmi:di'i:vəl, GB ˌmed-] adj [warfare, architecture, literature] that is connected with the period 1100 to 1500 AD, especially in European history.

mediocre [ˌmi:di'əʊkə] adj [performance, movie, candidate] that is not good enough □ I thought the standard of work was rather mediocre.

mediocrity [ˌmi:di'ɒkrəti] n: see mediocre □ the mediocrity of most TV programs.

meditate ['medəteɪt] vi -1. to think carefully and seriously about something for a long time □ I had no time to meditate on OR upon the problem. -2. to empty one's mind of thoughts by staying calm and quiet, so that one can concentrate on one particular thing, usually as a spiritual or religious activity.

meditation [ˌmedə'teɪʃn] n -1. the process of thinking about something carefully. -2. the process of emptying one's mind of thoughts and entering a relaxed state □ She's been going to meditation classes at the Buddhist center.

Mediterranean [ˌmedɪtə'reɪniən] ◇ the Mediterranean (Sea) the sea between southern Europe, North Africa, and the Middle East. It is connected to the Atlantic Ocean by the Strait of Gibraltar, and to the Red Sea by the Suez Canal. ◇ adj: Mediterranean cooking □ the Mediterranean climate.

medium ['mi:diəm] (pl sense 1 media OR mediums, pl sense 2 mediums) ◇ adj [size, height, brown] that is halfway between something that is more and something that is less □ Her attacker was a blond youth of medium build. ◇ n -1. an activity or form of communication that somebody uses to express themselves to other people □ the medium of photography/English/television □ CD-ROM — an exciting new visual medium □ interactive media. -2. a person who is believed to be able to receive messages from dead people.

medium-dry adj [white wine, sherry] not very sweet.

medium-size(d) adj [room, table, container] that is not big and not small.

medium wave n a range of sound waves used by radios, between 100 and 1,000 meters long.

NOTE: Compare long wave, short wave.

medley ['medli] (pl medleys) n -1. [of sights, sounds, smells] a mixture of things of different sorts that produces an interesting effect. -2. MUSIC a collection of songs that have a common theme and are played one after the other without interruption.

Medusa [mə'dju:zə] in Greek mythology, a woman who had snakes for hair. Anybody who looked at her was turned to stone.

meek [mi:k] adj [person] who is gentle, quiet, and does what other people say.

meekly ['mi:kli] adv [follow, accept, smile] see meek □ "I apologize," he said meekly.

meet [mi:t] (pt & pp met) ◇ vt -1. [person] to be in the same place as <sb> by chance and start talking to them; to arrange to be in the same place at the same time as <sb> for a particular purpose □ I met a great guy on the way over. □ Where shall we meet each other? □ They met political leaders to discuss the latest proposals. -2. [person, friend] to begin to know <sb> by speaking to them for the first time □ I met my wife at a party. □ You're the most arrogant man I've ever met! -3. [client, relative] to go somewhere in order to pick up <sb> who

- has made a trip> □ We'll send a car to meet you at the airport. □ I have to meet the 4:30 flight from Durban. -4. [condition, demand, deadline] to do what is required by <sthg> □ You need a grade A in order to meet the course requirements. -5. [objection, criticism] to face <sthg> in a particular way in order to deal with it successfully □ To survive, we must meet the challenge of new technology. -6. [cost, bill] to pay <sthg> □ Would you be in a position to meet the cost of a replacement if necessary? -7. [situation, problem, attitude] to come into contact with <sthg> so that one notices it and is affected by it □ It's the first case of this sort I've met. □ He'd never met such resistance to his ideas before. -8. [object, surface] to touch or hit <sthg> □ His head met the windscreen with a thud. -9. to meet sb's gaze to look back at sb who is looking at one □ She felt so ashamed she couldn't meet his gaze. -10. [road, land, sea] to be next to <sthg> and connected to it □ Make a left where Broadway meets West 51st Street. □ where East meets West.
- ◇ vi -1. [people] to be in the same place by chance and start talking; [friends, committee, board] to meet each other by arrangement for a particular purpose □ We met on the plane. □ Let's meet for lunch next Friday. □ The two sides met to discuss peace terms. -2. [people, friends, couple] to begin to know each other by speaking for the first time □ I'll never forget the night we met. □ I don't think we've met before. -3. [objects] to touch each other □ Their lips/fingers met. -4. [eyes] to look at each other □ Their eyes met across a crowded room. -5. [roads, lines] to join together □ Route 94 and Route 10 meet in Arizona, don't they?
- ◇ n US an event in which a number of athletes gather to take part in a competition □ an athletics meet.
- ◆ meet up vi [people] to meet by arrangement □ We met up again the following year in Prague. □ I'll meet up with you later, okay?
- ◆ meet with vt fus -1. to meet with sthg [with criticism, a refusal] to receive sthg as a reaction □ The agreement met with general approval.
- to meet with success/failure [attempt, plan] to be successful/a failure. -2. to meet with sb to meet sb by arrangement.
- meeting ['mi:tɪŋ] n -1. [of a board, committee] an event when people meet as part of their work or for a particular purpose □ I'm afraid she's in a meeting at the moment. □ The chairman called an emergency meeting. □ a staff meeting □ a meeting between union representatives and management. -2. the people at a meeting □ The meeting voted in favor of the measure. -3. [between friends, acquaintances] an event when people meet by chance or by arrangement □ On our last meeting we had a serious argument.
- meeting place n a place where two or more people have agreed to meet; a place that is used in this way by many people.
- meeting point n a place in a large public area such as an airport where people can arrange to meet each other.
- mega- ['mega] prefix -1. added to words to
- multiply the stated amount by a million.
- 2. added to words to mean "very" (informal use) □ mega-exciting.
- megabyte ['megəbaɪt] n one million bytes.
- megahertz ['megəhɜ:ts] n one million hertz.
- megalomania [,megələ'meɪniə] n a belief that one is more powerful and important than anybody else.
- megalomaniac [,megələ'meɪniæk] n a person who wants to be more powerful and important than anybody else.
- megaphone ['megəfəʊn] n a device consisting of a tube that is wider at one end than the other and that makes one's voice sound louder when one speaks into it. It is used especially for speaking to a large number of people outdoors.
- megaton ['megətən] n a unit (one million tons of TNT) used for measuring the force of an explosion.
- megawatt ['megəwɒt] n one million watts.
- melamine ['meləmi:n] n a man-made material that is often white, used for furniture surfaces.
- melancholy ['melənkɒli] ◇ adj [person] who is sad and thoughtful □ "It's autumn again," he said in a melancholy voice. ◇ n a strong feeling of sadness that lasts a long time.
- Melanesia [,melə'ni:zə] a group of islands in the Pacific Ocean, northeast of Australia, that includes Fiji, the Solomon Islands, and Vanuatu.
- Melbourne ['melbɔ:n] a port in Victoria, southeastern Australia. It is the capital of the state, and a major financial, industrial, and cultural center. POPULATION: 3,002,300.
- Melbourne Cup n the Melbourne Cup Australia's most important horse race, which takes place on the first Tuesday in November.

THE MELBOURNE CUP

The Melbourne Cup, a horse race that takes place in Melbourne, Australia every November, is one of the country's biggest sporting events. The day of the race is a public holiday in the state of Victoria, and the race itself brings the whole nation to a standstill. Almost everybody watches it on television, and most people place a bet, either in a betting shop or in informal bets organized in workplaces.

mellow ['melou] ◇ adj -1. [light, color] that looks soft, warm, and not too bright □ the mellow autumn light. -2. [voice, sound, taste] that seems smooth and pleasant □ the mellow tones of a clarinet. -3. [person] who is calm and relaxed □ He's a really mellow guy. ◇ vt to make <sb> more gentle, relaxed, and pleasant □ Marriage seems to have mellowed her. ◇ vi: He's mellowing in his old age.

melodic [mə'lɒdɪk] adj [song, music] that is connected with the arrangement of music in a tuneful way.

melodious [mə'loudiəs] adj [voice, music] that is pleasant to listen to.

melodrama [US 'melədræmə, GB -drɑ:mə] n a kind of drama in which the events are very sad, exciting etc and the characters react in an emotional way that is exaggerated; a play written in this style.

melodramatic [ˌmelədrə'mætɪk] adj [person, behavior] that is too emotional and treats situations as being much more serious than they really are □ Oh, stop being so melodramatic!

melody ['melədi] (pl melodies) n a tune; the quality of music that is melodic □ That's a nice melody. □ His songs are full of melody.

melon ['melən] n a large round or oval fruit that contains white, green, or red juicy flesh and has a hard green or yellow skin and seeds in the center.

melt [melt] ◇ vt -1. [snow, ice] to make <sthg solid> become liquid or soft by increasing its temperature □ Melt the butter in a pan. -2. to melt sb's heart to make sb feel tender and loving.

◇ vi -1. [butter, snow, ice] to change from a solid into something liquid or soft as a result of being heated □ Cook until the cheese has melted. -2. [person, heart] to become tender and loving. -3. to melt into sthg [into the crowd, background] to become unnoticeable by joining or becoming part of sthg else □ She has the most amazing ability to just melt into the background and remain unobserved. □ Day gradually melted into night. ■ to melt away [crowds, time, anger] to seem to disappear in a way one cannot explain □ I looked into his eyes and the years seemed to melt away.

◆ melt down vt sep to melt sthg down [metal, glass] to heat sthg until it melts so that it can be used again.

meltdown ['meltdaʊn] n the melting of fuel in a nuclear reactor that can cause radiation to leak out.

melting point ['meltɪŋ-] n the temperature at which something melts when it becomes hotter.

melting pot n a place or situation where people from many different countries and cultures meet, mix, or live together □ New York is the original melting pot.

Melville ['melvɪl], Herman (1819–1891) a US novelist. His most famous works are Moby Dick and Billy Budd.

member ['membə] n -1. [of a family, species] a person or animal that belongs to a particular group □ a member of the opposite sex □ The jaguar is a member of the cat family. -2. [of a club, committee, political party] a person who has joined a particular organization □ 'Members only' □ a member of staff OR staff member □ I became a member in 1980. □ a member country/state.

Member of Congress (pl Members of Congress) n in the USA, a politician elected to Congress, especially to the House of Representatives.

Member of Parliament (pl Members of Parlia- ment) n in Britain, a politician elected to the House of Commons; in Commonwealth countries, a politician elected to represent the people in a parliament.

membership ['membəʃɪp] n -1. the state of being a member of an organization □ Membership of the library is free. □ a membership fee. -2. the number of members in an organization □ Our membership doubled last year alone. -3. the membership the members of an organization.

membership card n a card which proves that one is a member of an organization.

membrane ['membreɪn] n ANATOMY a very thin piece of skin which joins or covers parts of the body.

memento [mə'mentəʊ] (pl mementos) n an object one keeps to remember a person or special occasion □ Keep it as a memento.

memo ['meməʊ] (pl memos) n a note from one person to another within the same office or organization; a note from one person, department etc to all the other members of an office or organization □ Didn't you receive my memo about it? □ an all-staff memo.

memoirs ['memwɑ:z] npl a book written by somebody, usually well known, about the important events in their life □ They've just published her memoirs.

memo pad n a block of small sheets of paper used for writing short memos on.

memorabilia [ˌmemərə'bɪliə] npl objects that people collect because they are connected with a particular period, person etc □ You should see all the Beatles memorabilia she's collected.

memorable ['memərəbl] adj [occasion, experience, achievement] that is remembered for being special or unusual □ It was hardly a memorable evening — we just played cards all night.

memorandum [ˌmemə'rændəm] (pl memoranda [-də] OR memorandums) n = memo (formal use).

memorial [mə'mɔ:riəl] ◇ adj a memorial service/ceremony etc a service/ceremony etc that is in honor of a dead person. ◇ n a monument that honors a dead person or an event in history □ a memorial to the war dead.

Memorial Day n in the USA, a holiday that is celebrated on the last Monday of May. It honors US soldiers who died while fighting wars.

memorize, -ise ['meməraɪz] vt [names, number] to learn <sthg> exactly, so that one does not forget it.

memory ['meməri] (pl memories) n -1. an ability to remember things □ I've got a good memory for faces. □ I must be losing my memory! □ I have no memory of saying that. □ She frantically searched her memory for clues. ■ to do sthg from memory to do sthg by remembering it and without looking at any words, text etc □ He could recite whole sections from memory. -2. something that one remembers □ I have happy childhood memories. ■ in OR with-

- in living memory since the earliest time that can be remembered by anybody who is still alive □ It was the coldest winter in living memory. -3. COMPUTING the capacity of a computer to store information □ How much memory does the new model have? -4. sb's memory the things that one remembers about sb who is dead □ His memory lived on in her mind. ■ in memory of sb as a way of remembering sb who is dead □ A plaque was put up in memory of the great poet.
- memory card n a piece of equipment that is added to a computer to increase its memory capacity.
- men [men] plural of man.
- menace ['menəs] ◇ n -1. [to society, public safety, one's health] a person or thing that could cause serious harm □ He's a menace to everyone else on the road. -2. [in somebody's voice, eyes] a way of speaking or behaving that makes somebody feel threatened □ There was a look of menace in his eyes. □ A note of menace crept into his voice. -3. a person or thing that is annoying and causes problems (informal use) □ That child is/These stairs are an absolute menace! ◇ vt to seem likely to harm <sb/sthg> □ Once again Europe was menaced by the threat of all-out war.
- menacing ['menəsɪŋ] adj [look, behavior] that makes one feel threatened □ He gave a menacing smile.
- menacingly ['menəsɪŋli] adv [look, behave] see menacing.
- menagerie [mə'nædʒəri] n a small collection of animals.
- mend [mend] ◇ vt [clothes, television, car] to repair <sthg>; [hole, puncture] to remove <sthg> by repairing the thing that has it. ■ to mend one's ways to stop behaving badly and start behaving in a more acceptable way. ◇ n to be on the mend to be getting better after an illness or injury (informal use).
- mending ['mendɪŋ] n clothes that need to be mended.
- menfolk ['menfəʊk] npl a term used by women to refer to the men in their family, village etc.
- menial ['mi:niəl] adj [work, task] that is not interesting or important and needs no skill; [worker, staff] who does menial work.
- meningitis [,menɪn'dʒaɪtəs] n an infectious illness that affects the brain and spinal cord and can be very serious.
- Mennonite ['menənait] n a member of a Protestant group that is against the idea of an organized church and military service and refuses to hold public office.
- menopause ['menəpəʊz] n the time in a woman's life when she stops menstruating and experiences other physical and psychological changes, usually around the age of 50.
- menservants ['mensɜ:vənts] plural of manservant.
- men's room n the men's room a men's toilet in a public place such as a restaurant or hotel lobby.
- menstrual ['menstruəl] adj that is connected with menstruation □ the menstrual cycle.
- menstruate ['menstrueɪt] vi [woman] to have one's period.
- menstruation [,menstru'eɪʃn] n the process, during which a woman who is not pregnant loses blood from her womb through her vagina, usually once a month.
- menswear ['menzweə] n a collective term for clothes, shoes etc for men.
- mental ['mentl] adj -1. [effort, ability, development] that is connected with the mind or the intelligence □ I'd say it was a mental rather than a physical problem. □ mental health. -2. a mental patient a person who is suffering from an illness of the mind. -3. mental arithmetic/a mental decision etc arithmetic/a decision etc that is formed in one's thoughts rather than in writing or in speech □ I'd already formed a mental picture of what she would be like.
- mental age n a measurement of a person's intelligence when compared with the intelligence of an average child at that age □ a girl of 18 with a mental age of 6.
- mental block n to have a mental block about sthg [about cars, computers] to be unable to understand sthg, for no clear reason; [about a word, name] to be unable to remember sthg one knows, often unexpectedly and for a short time.
- mental hospital n a special hospital where people with mental illnesses are taken care of.
- mentality [men'tæləti] n the attitudes, often negative, that affect the way somebody behaves □ You just have to accept that they have a different kind of mentality.
- mentally ['mentli] adv: see mental □ I think it's a very difficult job, both mentally and physically. □ mentally ill.
- mentally handicapped ◇ adj to be mentally handicapped [person] to have a level of mental development that is not as great as in other people of the same age, usually because of illness or an accident □ mentally-handicapped children. ◇ npl the mentally handicapped the people in society who are mentally handicapped.
- mental note n to make a mental note to try to keep something in one's memory so that one can remember it later □ I made a mental note of the number. □ I made a mental note to call her as soon as I got back.
- menthol ['menθəl] n a white substance that smells and tastes of mint, and is used in candy, toothpaste etc □ menthol cigarettes.
- mentholated ['menθəleɪtəd] adj [cough drop, cigarette] that contains menthol.
- mention ['menʃn] ◇ vt to say something about <sb/sthg> briefly, often as part of a much longer conversation, piece of writing etc □ Sue mentioned that you might be interested. □ I was mentioned as a possible replacement. □ I hate to mention money at a time like this. □ Did he happen to mention when/where he would arrive? ■ don't mention it! a phrase used to respond to somebody who has just said "thank you" in order to show that one was happy to help; a phrase used to reply to somebody who has just apologized in order to show that one is not angry. ■ not to mention a phrase used to add something to a list and give it emphasis □ It was tactless, not to mention very offensive. □ This project is going to cost us a fortune, not to mention all the extra work involved.

◇ n a very short statement about somebody or something, often as part of a much longer conversation, piece of writing etc □ The concert got a brief mention in the papers. □ Their criticism makes no mention of Mr Bryant's positive achievements.

mentor ['mentɔː] n a person who guides somebody's development and influences their education a lot □ For many years he acted as a mentor to me.

menu ['menjuː] n -1. [in a restaurant] a list of the dishes that can be ordered □ What's on the menu? □ the fish menu □ I'd like to order something from the menu. -2. COMPUTING a list of the options or programs available to a computer user that is shown on the screen □ How do I get back to the main menu?

menu-driven adj [computer program] that has menus at each stage to help the user.

meow US, miaow GB [mi'au] ◇ n the cry of a cat. ◇ vi to make the cry of a cat.

MEP n abbr of Member of the European Parliament.

Mephistopheles [,mefɪ'stɒfəlɪz] the name of the devil in the story of Faust.

mercantile ['mɜːkəntaɪl] adj [law, growth] that is concerned with trade and business.

mercenary [US 'mɜːrsnəri, GB 'mɜːsnəri] (pl mercenaries) ◇ n MILITARY a soldier who fights for any country for money. ◇ adj -1. [person] who is interested only in the money that can be made from a person or situation, rather than in being loyal, moral etc □ You sold it? That was a pretty mercenary thing to do! -2. [army] that is made up of mercenaries.

merchandise ['mɜːtʃəndaɪz] n goods for buying, selling, or trading □ poor-quality merchandise.

merchandising ['mɜːtʃəndaɪzɪŋ] n goods such as toys and clothes that are connected with a popular movie, singer etc.

merchant ['mɜːtʃənt] ◇ adj a merchant seaman/ship a sailor/ship that is involved in business and is not part of a country's military navy. ◇ n a person whose job is to buy and sell large amounts of a particular product, especially by importing and exporting it merchant bank n GB a bank that deals with companies and business involving very large sums of money rather than with ordinary customers.

merchant marine US, merchant navy GB n all of the merchant ships in a country; all of the people who work on these ships.

merciful ['mɜːsɪfl] adj -1. [person, act] that shows forgiveness and kindness toward somebody. -2. that is good because it ends pain or unhappiness □ Her death was a merciful release.

mercifully ['mɜːsɪflɪ] adv -1. mercifully,... a word used to show one thinks that a situation or result is fortunate □ Mercifully, no one was hurt. -2. [act, treat] with mercy.

merciless ['mɜːsɪləs] adj [person, criticism, attack] that is cruel and shows no mercy.

mercilessly ['mɜːsɪləshlɪ] adv [tease, criticize, attack] see merciless.

mercurial [mɜː'kjʊəriəl] adj [person] who keeps changing their mind or mood very suddenly (literary use).

mercury ['mɜːkjəri] n a silver-white metal element that is liquid at room temperature and is used in thermometers. SYMBOL: Hg.

Mercury ['mɜːkjəri] the planet in the solar system that is closest to the Sun.

mercy ['mɜːsɪ] (pl mercies) n -1. kindness and pity that one shows toward somebody by not punishing or treating them as harshly as one could □ The hostages begged their captors for mercy. □ They showed the prisoners no mercy. ■ to be at the mercy of sb/sthg [of the weather, a terrorist, the stock market] to be unable to stop sb/sthg from harming one □ This leaves us very much at the mercy of changing interest rates. -2. a mercy something that one is grateful for □ It's a mercy she wasn't more seriously injured.

mercy killing n an act of killing somebody to prevent them dying very slowly and painfully.

mere [mɪə] adj no more than □ It's a mere formality. □ The mere thought of it makes me angry. □ A mere $10 is all it will cost you. □ He gave me the merest hint about what was really going on.

merely ['mɪəli] adv only □ I'm merely asking you to be more patient. □ She's not merely an employee; she's the managing director. □ She was merely 16 when she left home.

meretricious [,merə'trɪʃəs] adj that seems attractive, but has not much worth or value really (formal use).

merge [mɜː'dʒ] ◇ vt -1. to join together <two or more companies, organizations> etc to form one □ The two political parties have been merged to form an alliance. □ We have decided to merge our educational division with the general publishing division. -2. COMPUTING to join together <two files or documents> □ We need to be able to merge text and pictures from different files.

◇ vi -1. [companies, roads, organizations] to join together to form one □ 'Roads merge one mile ahead.' □ The well-known pharmaceutical chain is to merge with its main rival. -2. [colors] to meet and combine gradually □ A beautiful shade of purple is formed where the red and blue merge. -3. to merge into sthg [into the background, landscape] to become part of sthg else and become difficult to see □ The sea seemed to merge into the sky.

◇ n COMPUTING a program that allows some information from one file to be transferred to another file □ a mail merge.

merge lane n US a special lane for vehicles that are turning left or right.

merger ['mɜːdʒə] n the act of joining together two companies or organizations to form one.

meridian [mə'riðiən] n one of the imaginary lines on the Earth's surface, that goes from the North to the South Pole.

meringue [mə'ræŋ] n a light crunchy dessert made of beaten egg whites and sugar cooked very slowly in the oven.

merino [mə'ri:nou] adj [wool, scarf] that is made from the long fine wool of the merino sheep.

merit ['merɪt] ◇ n the quality of being good and worth doing □ There is no merit in cheating. □ a work of great merit □ I see little artistic merit in such a plan. □ Selling now at least has the merit of being a simple solution. ◇ vt [success, attention] to deserve <sthg> □ It's a proposal that certainly merits closer examination.

◆ merits npl the qualities that make somebody or something good and better than somebody or something else □ One of the book's merits is its originality. ■ to judge sthg on its merits to judge sthg only by deciding how good it is, and without taking into account other things, e.g. a general rule or one's own feelings about it □ I hope very much that you will judge the book on its merits, not on the fame of the author.

meritocracy [ˌmerɪ'tɒkrəsi] (pl meritocracies) n a social system in which people get their jobs, power etc because they are good at something, not because they are rich or get help from other people.

Merlin ['mɜːlɪn] in English legends, the wizard who helped King Arthur.

mermaid ['mɜːmeɪd] n an imaginary sea creature that looks like a woman but has a fish's tail instead of legs.

merrily ['merɪli] adv -1. [laugh, joke, burn] see merry (literary use) □ Her eyes sparkled merrily.

-2. without thinking about what one is doing (ironic use) □ I merrily unloaded all my shopping at the checkout, only to find I had no money.

merriment ['merɪmənt] n laughter and fun (formal use).

merry ['merɪ] (compar merrier, superl merriest) adj -1. [laugh, joke, person] happy and lively. -2. [fire, party] cheerful. ■ Merry Christmas! a phrase used to wish people a happy time at Christmas. -3. to be merry to be slightly drunk (informal use).

merry-go-round n a large machine found at fairgrounds consisting of a round platform that turns around with seats on it that look like animals, vehicles etc.

merrymaking ['merɪmeɪkɪŋ] n noisy fun and enjoyment.

Mersey ['mɜːzɪ]: the Mersey a river in north-western England that flows through Greater Manchester and Liverpool into the Irish Sea.

Merseyside ['mɜːzɪsaɪd] the area around Liverpool and the Mersey estuary in north-western England.

mesa ['meɪsə] n in the southwestern USA, a hill with a flat top and steep sides.

mesh [meʃ] ◇ n material like net made of fine wire, plastic, or thread with small holes. ◇ vi [gears] to fit and lock into each other.

mesmerize, -ise ['mezməraɪz] vt to be mesmerized by sb/sthg [by a performance, voice, sight] to watch or listen to sb/sthg with all one's attention so that one cannot do anything else.

mess [mes] n -1. a very untidy or dirty state; a person or thing that looks very untidy or dirty □ These files are in a terrible mess, they need completely reorganizing. □ Your hair's a complete mess! □ Clean that mess up immediately! □ There was a terrible mess on the stairs where the children had been playing. -2. [situation] a situation full of problems □ My life's a complete mess. -3. MILITARY a room or building at a military base where soldiers eat or relax □ the officers' mess.

◆ mess around, mess about (informal use) ◇ vt sep to mess sb around OR about to treat sb badly by changing plans that affect them or by not being honest with them □ Look, I don't want to mess you around, but they want to make a few more changes to your schedule.

◇ vi -1. to spend time doing things in a lazy way and usually for pleasure □ I spent the afternoon messing around on the computer. -2. [children, students, workers] to do silly things when one should be working or concentrating on something □ Will you two stop messing around and get on with your homework! -3. to mess around OR about with sthg to handle or use sthg in the wrong way so that one damages it □ Somebody's been messing around with my video camera.

◆ mess up vt sep (informal use) -1. to mess sthg up [room, arrangement] to make sthg untidy □ He messed up the whole desk with his papers. -2. to mess sthg up [plan, evening] to spoil sthg □ That's really messed up our vacation plans.

◆ mess with vt fus to mess with sb (informal use) to do something to try to harm sb; to get involved with sb □ I wouldn't mess with him; he has powerful Mafia connections.

message ['mesɪdʒ] n -1. a spoken or written piece of information that somebody gives to somebody else □ He wasn't in, so I left a message on his answering machine. □ There's a message for you at reception. -2. [of a movie, play, speech] an idea that somebody tries to tell other people in a way that makes them agree with or believe it □ The book's message is one of hope and reconciliation. -3. phrase to get the message to understand what somebody wants one to understand (informal use) □ He finally got the message and went home.

message switching [-swɪtʃɪŋ] n a technique used to send data from one point in a network to another.

messenger ['mesndʒə] n a person who takes

- a message to somebody □ The package arrived by messenger at four o'clock.
- Messiah [mə'saɪə]: the Messiah in Christianity, a name for Jesus Christ; in Judaism, a name for the King of the Jews.
- Messrs, Messrs. ['mesəz] (abbr of messieurs) the plural of "Mr" (used in business letters).
- messy ['mesi] (compar messier, superl messiest) adj -1. [clothes, room, person] dirty or untidy □ Her desk is never messy. □ Painting can get very messy. -2. [divorce, situation] difficult and unpleasant (informal use) □ It ended with a rather messy love affair.
- met [met] past tense & past participle of meet.
- Met [met] (abbr of Metropolitan Opera): the Met an important opera company based in New York City.
- metabolism [mə'tæbəlaɪzəm] n the chemical processes in the body that involve breaking down food so that it can be used to make energy, make new cells, get rid of waste etc.
- metal ['metl] ◇ n any solid shiny substance that an electric current can pass through □ Gold and silver are precious metals. ◇ adj: metal jewelry/shelves/boxes.
- metallic [me'tælɪk] adj -1. [bang, jangle] that makes a sound like one piece of metal hitting another. -2. [paint, finish, paper] that shines like metal. -3. [ore, alloy] that contains metal.
- metallurgist [US 'metlɜ:rdʒəst, GB mə'tælədʒɪst] n an expert in metallurgy.
- metallurgy [US 'metlɜ:rdʒɪ, GB mə'tælədʒɪ] n the scientific study of metals.
- metalwork ['metlɜ:zɜ:k] n the activity of making objects out of metal.
- metalworker ['metlɜ:zɜ:kə] n a person whose job is to make objects out of metal.
- metamorphose [ˌmetə'mɔ:ˈfəʊz] vi [insect, person] to become something completely different.
- metamorphosis [ˌmetə'mɔ:ˈfəsəs] (pl metamorphoses [-sɪz]) n the process of changing and becoming something completely different □ He's undergone a complete metamorphosis since he met her.
- metaphor ['metəfə] n -1. a way of describing something by using something else that has the same qualities □ He uses a lot of military metaphors. -2. a symbol or image □ The play is a metaphor for life.
- metaphorical [ˌmetə'fɔ:ɪkl] adj [word, phrase] that is not being used in its ordinary meaning but as a symbol or image.
- metaphysical [ˌmetə'fɪzɪkl] adj [idea, theory] that is connected with metaphysics.
- metaphysics [ˌmetə'fɪzɪks] n the branch of philosophy that involves ideas that try to explain reality and human thought and knowledge.
- mete [mi:t] ◆ mete out vt sep to mete sth out to sb [punishment, fine, sentence] to give sth to sb.
- meteor ['mi:tɪə] n a piece of metal or rock that travels at high speed from space into the Earth's atmosphere, where it is usually destroyed by burning and produces a bright light.
- meteoric [mi:tɪ'ɔ:ɪk] adj [success, rise] that happens very quickly and suddenly.
- meteorite ['mi:tjəraɪt] n a piece of metal or rock that has fallen to Earth from space.
- meteorological [ˌmi:tjə'reɪlədʒɪkl] adj [conditions, map, report] connected with meteorology.
- meteorologist [mi:tjə'relədʒəst] n a person who studies meteorology.
- meteorology [mi:tjə'relədʒɪ] n the scientific study of the weather, used especially for weather forecasts.
- meter ['mi:tə] ◇ n -1. [for recording] an instrument that records the quantity of something such as miles traveled or electricity used □ a taxi/parking meter. -2. US [for measuring] a unit (100cm) used for measuring length □ The wall is three meters high. -3. US [in a poem] the special arrangement of words in a poem that creates a particular rhythm. ◇ vt [electricity, water, telephone call] to measure <sth> by using a meter.
- methadone ['methədoʊn] n a drug that is given to heroin addicts to stop them wanting heroin.
- methane [US 'meθeɪn, GB 'mi:θ-] n a gas with no color or smell that is found in natural gas, and is formed from rotting matter. FORMULA: CH₄.
- method ['methəd] n a particular way of doing something □ teaching/banking/up-to-date methods □ What method did you use?
- methodical [mə'θɔ:dɪkl] adj [approach, report, person] that is careful and deals with things in a particular order □ She is a methodical worker.
- methodically [mə'θɔ:dɪklɪ] adv [work, list, count] see methodical □ He read through it, methodically underlining any words he didn't understand.
- Methodist ['methədəst] ◇ n a Christian who follows the teachings of John Wesley. ◇ adj: a Methodist preacher/chapel/church.
- methodology [ˌmeθə'dɒlədʒɪ] (pl methodologies) n a set of methods or principles used in a particular activity, e.g. research (formal use).
- Methuselah [mə'θu:zələ] in the Bible, a very old man.
- methyated spirits [ˌmeθəleɪtəd-] n a mixture of alcohol and other chemicals, used e.g. for cleaning or for burning in small lamps and heaters.
- meticulous [mə'tɪkjələs] adj [person, care, drawing] that pays very close attention to detail □ I was always absolutely meticulous about my accounts.
- meticulously [mə'tɪkjələslɪ] adv [written, drawn] see meticulous.
- Met Office (abbr of Meteorological Office): the Met Office a British center that collects information on the weather, and gives weather forecasts.

- metre ['mi:tə] n GB [for measuring, in a poem] = meter.
- metric ['metrɪk] adj [unit, measurement, size] that is connected with the metric system.
- metrication [,metrɪ'keɪʃn] n GB the process of changing to the metric system.
- metric system n the metric system the system of measurement that uses meters, centimeters, liters, grams, metric tons etc.
- metric ton n a unit (1,000 kg) used for measuring weight.
- metro ['metrou] (pl metros) n an underground railroad system in Paris and other cities.
- metronome ['metrənəʊm] n a device that has an arm that moves from side to side that makes a small noise to tell a musician how fast a piece of music should be played.
- metropolis [mə'trɒpələs] (pl metropolises) n a very large city; a capital city.
- metropolitan [,metrə'pɒlɪtn] adj [district, transportation] that is connected with a large or capital city.
- Metropolitan Museum of Art: the Metropolitan Museum of Art a large art museum in New York City.
- Metropolitan Police npl the Metropolitan Police the name of the police force in London.
- mettle ['metl] n to be on one's mettle to be ready to do the best one can. ■ to show OR prove one's mettle to show how well one can do something.
- mew [mju:] n & vi = meow.
- mews [mju:z] (pl mews) n GB a small street where the houses are small and were once used to keep horses in; a house in this street.
- Mexican ['meksɪkən] n & adj: see Mexico.
- Mexican War n the Mexican War a conflict between the USA and Mexico that lasted from 1846 to 1848. The USA won California, Nevada, Utah, and parts of some other states.
- Mexico ['meksɪkəʊ] a country in southern North America, between the USA and Central America. SIZE: 1,970,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 90,000,000 (Mexicans). CAPITAL: Mexico City. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: Mexican peso.
- mezzanine ['mezəni:n] n -1. a floor between two stories of a building that is usually smaller than the area of the floor below. -2. US the first row of raised seats in a theater.
- MFA (abbr of Master of Fine Arts) n a post-graduate degree in fine arts; a person who has this degree.
- mfr abbr of manufacturer.
- mg abbr of milligram.
- Mgr -1. abbr of monsignor. -2. abbr of manager.
- MHz abbr of megahertz.
- MI abbr of Michigan.
- MI5 [ˌemɑ:'faɪv] (abbr of Military Intelligence 5) n the British government department responsible for state security.
- MI6 [ˌemɑ:'sɪks] (abbr of Military Intelligence 6) n the British government department responsible for espionage and intelligence.
- MIA (abbr of missing in action) n a person who disappears during a battle, and who may have been killed, wounded, or taken prisoner.
- Miami [maɪ'æmɪ] a city in southeastern Florida, USA. It is an important center for tourism, and for immigration from the Caribbean and Latin America. POPULATION: 358,548.
- miaow [mɪ'au] n & vi GB = meow.
- mice [maɪs] plural of mouse.
- Michelangelo [ˌmɪkəl'ændʒələʊ] (1475–1564) an Italian artist and architect, considered one of the greatest of all time. His work includes the sculpture David and the painted ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in Rome.
- Michigan ['mɪʃɪgən] -1. a state in the northern USA, consisting of two peninsulas between the Great Lakes. ABBREVIATION: MI. SIZE: 150,780 sq kms. POPULATION: 9,295,297 (Michiganders, Michiganites). CAPITAL: Lansing. MAIN CITY: Detroit. -2. Lake Michigan the only one of the Great Lakes that is entirely in the USA.
- Mickey Mouse [ˌmɪki'maʊs] a cartoon mouse in many movies by Walt Disney.
- MICR (abbr of magnetic ink character recognition) n a system for reading information by sensing magnetic ink patterns.
- micro ['maɪkrəʊ] (pl micros) n a microcomputer.
- micro- prefix added to words to mean very small.
- microbe ['maɪkrəʊb] n a very small living thing that can only be seen with a microscope.
- microbiologist [ˌmaɪkrəʊbaɪ'ɒlədʒəst] n a person who studies microbiology.
- microbiology [ˌmaɪkrəʊbaɪ'ɒlədʒɪ] n the scientific study of microbes, especially bacteria.
- microchip ['maɪkrətʃɪp] n a very small piece of silicon that has an electronic circuit printed on it and is used in computers.
- microcircuit ['maɪkrəʊsɜ:'kət] n a very small electronic circuit on a microchip.
- microclimate ['maɪkrəʊklaɪmət] n the conditions, e.g. temperature and humidity, that affect a small area.
- microcomputer ['maɪkrəʊkəmputə] n a small computer that is used in the home, in schools, or in offices.
- microcosm ['maɪkrəkɒzəm] n a small and complete version of a much larger place or situation □ This neighborhood is a microcosm of life in urban America.
- microfiber US, microfibre GB ['maɪkrə'faɪbə] n a soft, smooth, man-made material used for making clothes such as raincoats.
- microfiche ['maɪkrə'fi:tʃ] (pl microfiche OR microfiches) n a sheet of film with information printed on it in very small letters that can be read by putting it into a special device

- that magnifies it □ The library catalog can be consulted on microfiche.
- microfilm ['maɪkrəfɪlm] n thin film used for photographing printed information and storing it at a reduced size.
- microlight ['maɪkrəlaɪt] n a very small airplane like a hang-glider with an engine.
- micron ['maɪkrən] n a unit (one millionth of a meter) used for measuring length.
- Micronesia [,maɪkrə'ni:ʒə] -1. a group of small islands in the western Pacific Ocean, including the Caroline Islands, the Marshall Islands, and the Mariana Islands. -2. a country in Micronesia, consisting of the Caroline Islands of Truk, Yap, Ponape, and Kosrae. SIZE: 707 sq kms. POPULATION: 80,000 (Micronesians). CAPITAL: Palikir. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: US dollar.
- microorganism [,maɪkrəʊ'ɔ:ɪ'gənɪzəm] n a very small organism that can only be seen with a microscope.
- microphone ['maɪkrəfəʊn] n an electronic device that one speaks or sings into in order to make one's voice louder, or that one uses to record sounds.
- microprocessor [US 'maɪkrəprəʊsesər, GB 'maɪkrəprəʊses] n the central processing unit in a small computer.
- microscope ['maɪkrəskəʊp] n an instrument that magnifies very small things so that one can see and examine them.
- microscopic [,maɪkrə'skɒpɪk] adj -1. [bacteria, handwriting, particle] very small. -2. [study, detail, examination] very thorough.
- microsecond ['maɪkrəsəkənd] n a unit (one millionth of a second) used for measuring time.
- microsurgery [,maɪkrə'sɜ:ɪ'dʒəri] n surgery using a special microscope and very small instruments.
- microwave (oven) ['maɪkrəweɪv-] n an oven that uses short-wave electromagnetic radiation to cook or heat food very quickly.
- mid- [mɪd] prefix added to words to mean the middle of a place or period of time □ mid-morning/winter □ the mid-20th century/mid-1960s.
- midair [,mɪd'eə] ◇ adj [collision, explosion] that happens while the plane is in the air, not on the ground. ◇ n in midair [collide, explode] in the air, not on the ground.
- Midas ['maɪdəs] in Greek mythology, a king who turned everything he touched into gold.
- midday ['mɪdeɪ] n 12 o'clock in the middle of the day, or the period around this time □ The package arrived just before/after midday. □ the midday sun/meal.
- middle ['mɪdl] ◇ adj -1. the middle row/section etc the row/section etc that is the one in or nearest to the center □ It's on the middle shelf. -2. one's middle twenties/thirties etc at a point in between the beginning and end of one's twenties/thirties etc □ He's in his middle sixties/years.
- ◇ n -1. the middle [of a room, book, row] the part of something that is in or nearest to the center □ He walked across the middle of the field. □ Cut the fruit along the middle. ■ in the middle at or near the central point of something □ He was standing in the middle of the room. ■ in the middle of nowhere far from any town or village □ They live in a cottage right out in the middle of nowhere. -2. [of a month, century] the part of something that happens at or around the central point of a period of time □ By the middle of the second half they had scored another goal. ■ to be in the middle of sth [of a meeting, meal] to be busy with sth □ I was in the middle of writing a letter when he called. □ Would you mind waiting? I'm in the middle of a meeting. ■ in the middle of the night very late at night □ I was woken up in the middle of the night by someone banging on the door. -3. [of a person] one's waist □ I'm putting on weight around the middle.
- middle age n the period in one's life from about the age of 40 to 60 □ When he reached middle age he suddenly became very fat.
- middle-aged [-'eɪdʒd] adj [man, woman] who is between 40 and 60 years old □ The clothes are more likely to appeal to middle-aged customers.
- Middle Ages npl the Middle Ages the period in European history between about 1000 AD and 1500 AD.
- middle America n a term that refers to average Americans. It suggests people with traditional and conservative values □ Middle America may not be so keen on voting away their tax benefits.
- middle class n the middle class OR classes the class of people in society, between the upper and lower classes, that includes professional and business people.
- middle-class adj [family, background, mentality] that belongs to or is typical of the middle classes.
- middle distance n in the middle distance in the area of a view or picture that is between the foreground and the background.
- Middle East: the Middle East the countries of southwestern Asia, Arabia, and northeastern Africa, considered together.
- Middle Eastern adj: see Middle East.
- middle finger n the longest finger of one's hand.
- middleman ['mɪdlmæn] (pl middlemen [-men]) n a person who buys goods from manufacturers and sells them at a profit.
- middle management n the management section of a business, on the level below the people who make the most important decisions.
- middle name n the name some people have that comes between their first name and their last name.
- middle-of-the-road adj [politics, politician, music] that is not extreme □ His views on politics are very middle-of-the-road.
- middle school n a school for children between the ages of about 9 and 13.
- middleweight ['mɪdlweɪt] n a class for boxers of not more than a certain weight (73 kgs

- for professional boxers); a boxer in this class.
- middling ['mɪdlɪŋ] adj [health, quality] average □ "How are you feeling?" — "Oh, fair to middling."
- Mideast [,mɪd'ɪ:st] US = Middle East.
- midfield [,mɪd'fi:ld] n the middle area of a playing field used for soccer, rugby, hockey etc.
- midge [mɪdʒ] n a small flying insect like a mosquito that bites people's skin.
- midget ['mɪdʒət] n a very small person.
- midi system ['mɪdɪ-] n a small hi-fi system designed as a single unit.
- Midlands ['mɪdləndz]: the Midlands a region of central England that includes several industrial cities, e.g. Birmingham, Coventry, Leicester, and Nottingham.
- midnight ['mɪdnɑ:t] n 12 o'clock in the middle of the night, or the period around this time □ The clock struck midnight. □ They left before/after/at midnight. □ a midnight rendezvous/visitor/feast.
- midriff ['mɪdrɪf] n the part of one's body above the waist and below the chest.
- midst [mɪdst] n -1. in the midst of sthg [of a crowd, scene] among or surrounded by sthg (literary use) □ We sat in the midst of piles of papers and files. ■ in our/their etc midst among us/them etc □ In our midst tonight is a great artist. -2. in the midst of sthg during sthg □ He arrived in the midst of a violent argument. ■ to be in the midst of sthg to be busy with sthg □ I was in the midst of cleaning when the doorbell rang.
- midstream [,mɪd'stri:m] n -1. in midstream in the middle of a river, where the current is strongest. -2. to stop/pause in midstream to stop/pause in the middle of talking, shouting, writing etc.
- midsummer [,mɪd'sʌmə] n the middle period of summer.
- Midsummer Day n GB June 24.
- midtown ['mɪdtəʊn] adj near the center of a city, between the downtown and the uptown areas □ midtown Manhattan.
- midway [,mɪd'weɪ] adv -1. in a position that is an equal distance from two places or points □ The factory is midway between these offices and downtown. -2. during the middle part of an event or a period of time □ He turned up midway through the first half of the game.
- midweek [adj 'mɪdwɪ:k, adv 'mɪd'wɪ:k] ◇ adj a midweek fixture/meeting a fixture/meeting that happens on Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday □ Can we meet for a midweek drink? ◇ adv [arrive, meet, leave] I'll call you midweek.
- Midwest [,mɪd'west]: the Midwest a region of the northern central USA between the Appalachians and the Rocky Mountains, consisting mainly of farmland.
- Midwestern [,mɪd'westən] adj: see Midwest.
- midwife ['mɪdwaɪf] (pl midwives [-waɪvz]) n a nurse, usually a woman, who has been trained to help and care for a woman before, during, and after the birth of her child.
- midwifery [US 'mɪdwaɪfəri, GB 'mɪd'wɪfəri] n the work of a midwife.
- miffed [mɪft] adj [person] who is annoyed and offended by something (informal use).
- might [maɪt] ◇ modal vb -1. I might go it is possible that I will go, but I am not certain □ Take this umbrella, it might come in handy. □ We could try phoning her, but she might already have left. □ "Will you go to the party?" — "I might." -2. they might have died they did not die, but they could have □ Think how much time we might have saved if we'd had a map. -3. she might well resign it is very likely that she will resign □ You might well be right, but that's not really the point. -4. you might have waited/told me! you should have waited/told me □ You might at least offer to help sometimes! -5. used to make suggestions or ask questions in a polite way □ Might I interrupt? □ It might be better to wait until later. -6. used to ask permission □ He asked if he might leave the room. □ Might I ask a question? -7. we might as well go home there is nothing better to do, so let's go home □ There's no point you staying here, so you might as well leave now. -8. phrase I might have known OR guessed I am not surprised at this □ I might have known you'd be mixed up in it somewhere!
- ◇ n -1. [of a nation, army] power. -2. [of a person] physical strength □ She pushed the cabinet with all her might, but it refused to move.
- mightn't ['maɪnt] = might not.
- might've ['maɪtəv] = might have.
- mighty ['maɪtɪ] (compar mightier, superl mightiest) ◇ adj -1. [army, blow, ruler] very powerful. -2. [mountain, warship] very large. ◇ adv US [generous, fine, good] very (informal use) □ That was a mighty tasty meal!
- migraine ['maɪgreɪn] n an extremely bad headache with the pain over one eye or one side of the head.
- migrant ['maɪgrənt] ◇ adj migrant birds/workers etc birds/workers etc that migrate from one place to another □ the migrant workforce that helped build the American economy. ◇ n a bird, animal, or person that migrates.
- migrate [US 'maɪgreɪt, GB 'maɪ'greɪt] vi -1. [birds, animals] to go regularly to another country or area, usually in large numbers and only for a short period of time, to find food or warmer weather, or to mate □ They migrate south in the winter. -2. [person, people] to move from one country or area to another to find work or a place to live.
- migration [maɪ'greɪʃn] n: see migrate □ the annual migration of swallows.
- migratory [US 'maɪgrətɔ:ri, GB -rətəri] adj a migratory bird/herd etc a bird/herd etc that migrates.
- mike [maɪk] n a microphone (informal use).
- Milan [mɪ'læn] a city in northern Italy. It is famous for its opera house and cathedral. POPULATION: 1,371,008.
- mild [maɪld] adj -1. [flavor, shampoo, disinfectant] that is not strong, harsh, bitter etc □ a mild cheese/chili. -2. [person] who is gentle and

- never angry □ a mild tone of voice. -3. [winter, weather] that is not too cold □ It's been pretty mild this week. -4. [criticism, rebuke] that shows a feeling that is not very strong □ "Where were you?" he asked, with mild interest. -5. [illness, attack] that is not serious □ She was recovering after a mild bout of flu.
- mildew ['mildju:] n a mold that grows on food, leather, paper etc that has been kept for a long time in warm damp conditions.
- mildly ['maɪldli] adv -1. [criticize, complain] see mild. ■ to put it mildly a phrase used to show that something is much stronger, worse etc than the words one has used to describe it □ He was furious, to put it mildly. -2. mildly interesting/amusing etc slightly interesting/amusing etc.
- mild-mannered adj [person] polite and gentle.
- mile [maɪl] n -1. [on land, in air] a unit (approximately 1,609 meters) used for measuring distance □ How many miles are there from Dallas to Houston? □ a ten-mile hike. ■ for miles for a very long way □ We could see for miles. □ We had walked for miles (and miles). ■ to be miles away to pay no attention to somebody or something because one is thinking about something else □ I'm sorry, I was miles away – what were you saying about the election? -2. SHIPPING a nautical mile.
- ◆ miles adv by a very large amount □ This one is miles better.
- mileage ['maɪlɪdʒ] n the number of miles traveled by a vehicle □ The car has a low mileage. ■ to get a lot of mileage out of sthg to use sthg as much as possible to get what one wants (informal use) □ You've had a lot of mileage out of that anecdote, haven't you?
- mileage allowance n money paid for each mile that one travels, e.g. on business.
- mileometer [maɪ'lɒmətə] n GB an instrument that records the number of miles traveled by a vehicle.
- milestone ['maɪlstəʊn] n -1. a very important event in the development of something or somebody. -2. a stone by the side of a road, with the number of miles to the nearest town marked on it.
- milieu [US mi:'ljʊ:, GB 'mi:lʒ:] (pl milieus OR milieux [US -'ju:z, GB -'jɜ:z]) n the people one works or spends time with; one's surroundings.
- militant ['mɪlɪtənt] ◇ n a person who strongly supports political change and actively tries to persuade people that it is necessary, sometimes in an aggressive way. ◇ adj: a group of militant feminists/activists.
- militarism ['mɪlɪtərɪzəm] n the belief that a country should use and improve its armed forces in order to become more powerful.
- militarist ['mɪlɪtərəst] n a person who supports militarism.
- militarized zone ['mɪlɪtəraɪzd-] n an area defended by military forces.
- military [US 'mɪləteri GB -rəri] ◇ adj [operation, takeover] that is carried out by the armed forces □ a military dictatorship □ military service.
- ◇ n the military the armed forces, especially the army.
- military police npl soldiers who form the police force of the army, navy, or air force.
- militate ['mɪlɪteɪt] vi to militate against sthg to make it almost impossible to do sthg or for somebody to do sthg (formal use) □ His reputation as a difficult man to work with militates against his chances of getting the job.
- militia [mɪ'lɪʃə] n men who have been trained as soldiers, but who do not belong to the army and are only used during an emergency.
- milk [mɪlk] ◇ n -1. [from animals] the white liquid that cows, goats, and other animals produce to feed their young; this liquid used as a food by humans, and to make cheese, butter, yogurt etc □ a bottle of milk □ Do you take milk (in your coffee)? -2. [from a woman] the liquid that women produce from their breasts to feed their babies. -3. [from plants] the white liquid found inside some fruits or plants, e.g. coconuts. ◇ vt -1. [cow, goat] to get milk from <an animal> by pulling its udders. -2. [situation, company, scandal] to use <sb/sthg> as much as possible to get what one wants, especially money, sympathy, or information □ He milked her for all she was worth.
- milk chocolate n solid chocolate made with milk □ a milk chocolate bar/drink.
- milk float n GB = milk truck.
- milking ['mɪlɪkɪŋ] n the activity of milking an animal.
- milkman ['mɪlkmən] (pl milkmen [-mən]) n a person whose job is to sell milk by delivering it to people's houses every day.
- milk round n GB -1. the daily trip made by a milkman when delivering milk to his customers. -2. the milk round regular visits made by large companies to universities, in order to recruit undergraduates.
- milk shake n a drink made with milk, flavoring, and usually ice cream, that is beaten until it is thick and creamy.
- milk tooth n any one of the first set of teeth that a child or young animal grows, which later fall out and are replaced by adult teeth.
- milk truck n US a vehicle used for delivering milk to people's houses.
- milky ['mɪlki] (compar milquier, superl milkiest) adj -1. [coffee, tea, drink] that contains a lot of milk. -2. [complexion, liquid] that is pale white in color.
- Milky Way: the Milky Way the mass of stars that looks like a long pale strip of light in the night sky.
- mill [mɪl] ◇ n -1. [for making flour] a machine used to crush grain or wheat to make flour; the building containing this machine □ a flour mill. -2. [for making paper, steel] a factory where particular goods are made □ a wool/paper/steel mill. -3. [for coffee, paper] a small machine for grinding coffee beans, peppercorns etc into powder □ a coffee/pepper mill. ◇ vt to crush <grain or wheat> in a mill to produce flour; to produce <flour> by crushing grain, wheat etc in a mill.

◆ mill around, mill about vi [people] to move around in a place in different directions □ Crowds of visitors milled around on the cathedral steps.

Mill [mɪl], John Stuart (1806–1873) a British philosopher and politician. He believed in the freedom of the individual and in women's right to vote.

millennium [mɪ'lenɪəm] (pl millennia [-niə]) n a period of one thousand years.

miller ['mɪlə] n a man who owns or works a mill that produces flour.

Miller ['mɪlə], Arthur (1915–) a US playwright whose plays include Death of a Salesman and The Crucible.

millet ['mɪlət] n seeds from a tall grass that are used for food.

milli- ['mɪlə] prefix added to words to mean a thousandth part of something.

millibar ['mɪləbɑː] n a unit (one thousandth of a bar) used for measuring air pressure.

milligram US, milligramme GB ['mɪləgræm] n a unit (one thousandth of a gram) used for measuring weight.

milliliter US, millilitre GB ['mɪləlɪtə] n a unit (one thousandth of a liter) used for measuring the volume of liquids and gases.

millimeter US, millimetre GB ['mɪləmɪtə] n a unit (one thousandth of a meter) used for measuring length.

millinery [US 'mɪlənerɪ, GB -əri] n a collective term for women's hats.

million ['mɪljən] num the number 1,000,000 □ Several million lives were lost.

◆ millions pron used to refer to a very large number of people or things □ We had millions of phone calls about it. □ They spent millions on remodeling.

millionaire [ˌmɪljə'neə] n a person who is very rich and has a million dollars, pounds etc or more □ He's a dollar millionaire. □ a millionaire oil tycoon.

millionairess [ˌmɪljə'neərəs] n a woman who is very rich and has at least a million dollars, pounds etc.

millipede ['mɪləpɪ:d] n a small creature like a worm with many legs.

millisecond ['mɪləsekənd] n one thousandth of a second.

millstone ['mɪlstəʊn] n one of two large round stones used in mills for grinding grain to make flour. ■ a millstone around one's neck an unpleasant problem or responsibility that one has to deal with □ That bank loan had become a real millstone around my neck.

millwheel ['mɪlwi:l] n a large wheel that is turned by moving water and that powers the machinery of a mill.

milometer [mɪ'lɒmətə] n = mileometer.

Milton ['mɪltən], John (1608–1674) a British poet whose best-known work is the long poem Paradise Lost.

mime [maɪm] ◇ n a way of acting that expresses feelings or events through gestures and movements and without speaking; a performance of this □ a mime artist □ The whole story was told in mime. ◇ vt [action, emotion] to express <sthg> using mime.

mimic ['mɪmɪk] (vt & pp mimicked, cont mimicking) ◇ vt [person, voice, gestures] to imitate <sb/sthg> in an amusing way. ◇ n a person who is good at mimicking other people.

mimicry ['mɪmɪkrɪ] n the act of mimicking somebody or something.

mimosa [mɪ'mɒsə] n -1. a tropical tree with tiny yellow flowers and leaves that sometimes fold if they are touched; the flowers of this tree. -2. US a drink made from champagne and orange juice.

min. -1. abbr of minute. -2. abbr of minimum.

Min. abbr of ministry.

mince [mɪns] ◇ n GB meat, usually beef, that has been cut into very small pieces in a mincer. ◇ vt to cut <meat> into very small pieces using a mincer. ◇ vi [man] to walk with short steps moving one's hips in an exaggerated way (disapproving use).

mincemeat ['mɪnsmɪt] n -1. small pieces of dried fruit mixed with spices and fat, used for filling cakes and mince pies. -2. GB = mince.

mince pie n a small round pie that is filled with pieces of dried fruit mixed with spices and fat, and is eaten at Christmas.

mincer ['mɪnsə] n a machine for grinding meat into small pieces, usually by forcing it through small holes.

mind [maɪnd] ◇ n -1. the way in which one thinks □ You have a warped mind! -2. one's thoughts □ I can't get her out of my mind. ■ to come into OR cross sb's mind [thought, idea] to occur to sb □ It never crossed my mind to mention it. □ It never crossed my mind that it might be important. ■ to have sth on one's mind to be worried about sthg □ It's been on my mind for some time. ■ to take sb's mind off sthg to help sb to avoid thinking about sthg unpleasant □ Why don't you go to the movies? It'll take your mind off things. ■ a load OR weight off one's mind something that one does not have to worry about any more as a result of a change in the situation □ That's a weight off my mind — I was convinced I'd left my keys inside. ■ to put OR set sb's mind at rest to stop sb from worrying about something □ I can put your mind at rest about that particular point. -3. [brain] the ability to think intelligently □ She has a brilliant/quick mind. -4. [attention] to concentrate the mind to make one think seriously about something □ I find a cup of coffee helps to concentrate the mind in the morning. ■ to keep one's mind on sthg to concentrate on sthg □ He just couldn't keep his mind on the lecture, he was so worried about Susan. ■ to put one's mind to sthg [to a task, problem] to start concentrating on sthg □ You can do it if you really put your mind to it. ■ to slip one's mind [fact] to be forgotten by one □ A meeting at 4:00 pm? Oh dear, it had completely slipped my mind! -5. [opinion] to my mind in my opinion □ To my mind, there's a lot we can do to help.

■ to keep an open mind to avoid forming an opinion about something until one knows all the facts □ I'm keeping an open mind about this until we've seen all the evidence. ■ to make one's mind up to decide something by making a choice □ Look, make your mind up, we can't spend all day here! ■ to speak one's mind to say clearly what one really believes □ She believes in speaking her mind, even if it makes her unpopular. ■ to be in two minds about sthg to be unsure about sthg, especially because there are two possible choices □ I'm in two minds about whether to go to Peru or not. -6. [memory] to bear sthg in mind to remember sthg important and think seriously about it □ Look, if another suitable job comes up I'll bear your company/you in mind. □ Bear in mind the fact that half of them are over 60. ■ to call sthg to mind to remind one of sthg □ His painting calls to mind those old Byzantine mosaics we saw in Italy. ■ to cast one's mind back to think about something that happened in the past □ Try to cast your mind back to that day. -7. [intention] to have sthg in mind to be thinking about sthg or about the possibility of doing sthg □ What sort of color did you have in mind, sir? □ What I had in mind was a large conference which all managers could attend. ■ to have a mind to do sthg to want or choose to do sthg □ Do you know, I have a mind to tell that man exactly what I think of him! -8. [person] a person who is extremely intelligent □ one of the greatest minds of the 19th century. ■ great minds think alike! a phrase used to draw attention to the fact that one has had the same idea as somebody else (humorous use).

◇ vi -1. not to want something to be done □ Do you mind if I open the window? □ I don't mind in the least. -2. to be a little upset about something □ I don't mind if people laugh at me. □ Do you mind about not getting the job? ■ never mind a phrase used to tell somebody not to worry about something, or to reassure somebody that something is not important □ "I didn't get the job." — "Oh, well, never mind, there'll be others." □ "I'm sorry about the stain." — "Never mind, I never liked that dress anyway." -3. mind out! GB be careful! □ Mind out! There's a car coming!

◇ vt -1. to be unhappy or annoyed about <sthg> □ I don't mind waiting. □ Don't mind him, he's only jealous. ■ I wouldn't mind a drink/vacation etc I would like a drink/vacation etc. -2. [expense, trouble] to care or worry about <sthg> □ I really don't mind how you do it. □ I wouldn't mind about the cost, if only they would finish it quickly. □ What I mind most is their total lack of respect for us. -3. [step, manners] to pay attention to <sthg> so that one does not get hurt, behave badly etc □ Mind your language/the road. -4. [child, store, luggage] to take care of <sb/sthg> □ Could you mind my bag for me while I go to the restroom?

◆ mind you adv GB a phrase used before saying something that changes or explains something that one has just said □ Mind you, having said that, he's really not that intelligent.

minder ['maɪndə] n GB a bodyguard.

mindful ['maɪndfl] adj to be mindful of sthg [of a danger, risk, one's duty] to think seriously about sthg when one does or decides something.

mindless ['maɪndləs] adj -1. [violence, act] that has no reason or purpose □ It was an act of mindless vandalism. -2. [job, work] that is so simple or repetitive that one does not need to think while doing it □ Dorothy was feeling fed up with mindless office work.

mind reader n a person who knows what other people are thinking.

mindset ['maɪndset] n a way of thinking and viewing the world □ challenging the mindset of the consumer generation.

mind's eye n in one's mind's eye in one's imagination □ I can see him in my mind's eye exactly as he used to look all those years ago.

mine¹ [maɪn] ◇ n -1. INDUSTRY a system of holes and tunnels under the ground for digging out minerals □ a coal/gold/salt mine. -2. MILITARY a bomb hidden below the surface of the ground or water that explodes when a person or vehicle goes over it. -3. to be a mine of information [person, book] to be full of useful information. ◇ vt -1. [coal, gold] to dig  out from under the ground. -2. MILITARY [road, sea] to lay mines in .

mine² pron used to describe something that belongs to, or is connected with, the person who is speaking □ Don't take that pen, it's mine! □ Your desk is bigger than mine. □ Her car is green and mine is blue. ■ she's a friend of mine she's one of my friends.

mine detector n a device used for showing where mines are hidden.

minefield ['maɪnfi:ld] n -1. an area where mines have been hidden. -2. a subject or situation that has hidden dangers □ a legal/political minefield.

minelayer ['maɪnleɪə] n a ship or aircraft that lays mines.

miner ['maɪnə] n a person whose job is to mine a particular mineral, e.g. coal or gold.

mineral ['mɪnərə] ◇ n a substance, e.g. coal, salt, or tin, that forms naturally in the earth □ Lava contains many different kinds of minerals. ◇ adj: vast mineral deposits.

mineralogy [ˌmɪnəˈrælədʒɪ] n the scientific study of minerals.

mineral water n water that comes from a natural spring and contains some minerals □ a bottle/glass of mineral water.

minestrone [ˌmɪnə'strɒnɪ] n an Italian soup containing vegetables and small pieces of pasta.

minesweeper ['maɪnswi:pə] n a ship that is equipped to take mines out of the sea.

mingle ['mɪŋɡl] ◇ vt to mingle sthg with sthg to mix sthg with sthg □ The message was one of hope mingled with caution. ◇ vi -1. [smells, sounds, emotions] to become mixed together □ The sound of laughter mingled with the music. -2. [person] to have short conversations with

- several different people at a party or social occasion □ I suppose I'd better go and mingle.
- mini ['mɪni] n a very short skirt or dress.
- miniature [US 'mɪniətʃr, GB 'mɪnətʃə] ◇ adj a miniature model/version etc a small model/version etc of something bigger. ◇ n -1. a very small painting, usually of a person. -2. a very small bottle of alcohol.
- ◆ in miniature adj that is exactly like something else but is much smaller.
- minibar ['mɪnɪbɑːr] n a fridge in a hotel room that contains alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks for guests using the room.
- minibus ['mɪnɪbʌs] (pl -buses OR -busses) n a small bus, usually for 10 to 12 passengers.
- minicab ['mɪnɪkæb] n GB an ordinary car used as a taxi that can be ordered by telephone but not stopped on the street.
- minicomputer ['mɪnɪkəm্পjuːtə] n a computer that is larger than a personal computer but smaller than a mainframe.
- minim ['mɪnəm] n GB a note in Western music (♩) that is half as long as a whole note.
- minima ['mɪnəmə] plural of minimum.
- minimal ['mɪnəml] adj [interest, knowledge, damage] very little □ The costs incurred on such a project would be minimal.
- minimize, -ise ['mɪnəmaɪz] vt -1. [risk, damage, spending] to reduce <sthg> as much as possible □ Care must be taken in order to minimize the effects of the drug. -2. [fact, problem, somebody's role] to make <sthg> seem as unimportant as possible □ Why do you always try to minimize the problems?
- minimum ['mɪnəməm] (pl minimums OR minima) ◇ n the lowest amount, value etc that is possible or allowed □ Keep expenses to a minimum. □ As part of the deal, you must stay a minimum of three nights. ◇ adj: What is the minimum amount you have to invest?
- minimum lending rate [-'lendiŋ-] n in Britain, the minimum rate, set by the Bank of England, for lending money or discounting bills.
- minimum security prison n US a prison in which the prisoners are not locked in their cells all day, and can take part in activities that would not be allowed in other prisons.
- minimum wage n the lowest wage that an employer is allowed to pay employees.
- mining ['maɪnɪŋ] n the industry and activity of digging minerals out from under the ground □ the mining industry.
- minion ['mɪnjən] n a low-ranking employee who obeys orders (humorous and disapproving use).
- mini-series n a television drama, usually in three to six parts, that is shown over a few days or weeks.
- miniskirt ['mɪnɪskɜːrt] n a very short skirt.
- minister ['mɪnɪstə] n -1. POLITICS a member of a government who is in charge of a particular department □ the Minister of Transport OR Transport Minister □ the Minister for Home Affairs. -2. RELIGION a person who leads religious activities in a church, especially a Protestant church □ a Methodist minister.
- ◆ minister to vt fus to minister to sb to help sb who is ill and give them everything that they need (formal use).
- ministerial [ˌmɪnɪ'stɪəriəl] adj POLITICS [decision, level] that is connected with the work of a minister.
- minister of state n in Britain, a government minister appointed to help a senior minister □ the Minister of State for the Environment.
- ministry ['mɪnɪstri] (pl ministries) n -1. POLITICS a government department □ the Ministry of the Interior. -2. RELIGION the ministry members of the Christian, especially Protestant, clergy.
- mink [mɪŋk] (pl mink) n a small animal like a weasel that lives in Northern Europe, Asia, and America; the brown fur of this animal, considered to be very valuable □ a mink coat.
- Minnesota [ˌmɪnə'souətə] a state in the central northern USA, on the Canadian border. ABBREVIATION: MN. SIZE: 217,735 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,375,099 (Minnesotans). CAPITAL: Saint Paul. MAIN CITY: Minneapolis.
- minnow ['mɪnəʊ] (pl minnows OR minnow) n a very small freshwater fish.
- minor ['maɪnə] ◇ adj -1. [role, details, difficulties] unimportant □ They've made a few minor changes to the program — nothing important. -2. [key, chord] based on a scale in Western music that has a halftone between the second and third notes □ his clarinet quintet in A minor. ◇ n a person who is not old enough to be legally considered an adult.
- minority [US mə'nɔːrəti, GB maɪ-] (pl minorities) n -1. [of a group] less than half □ The new law is only supported by a minority of the population. ■ to be in a OR the minority to belong to a number of people or things that form less than half of a larger group □ Unfortunately, people who think like you do are in a minority. -2. a group of people with a different race or religion from most of the people around them □ There's a small white minority living in the country. □ a racial minority □ a minority sport.
- minority government n a government that has fewer elected members than the total number of elected members of the opposition parties.
- minority interest n something that is of interest to a small group of people only □ minority-interest television.
- minor road n a less important road, often in the country.
- minster ['mɪnstə] n an important church that used to be part of an abbey.
- minstrel ['mɪnstrel] n a traveling singer and entertainer in the past.
- mint [mɪnt] ◇ n -1. [for flavoring] a small plant with leaves that smell sweet and are used to flavor food, drinks, and toothpaste. -2. [for eating] a candy flavored with mint. -3. the Mint the place where coins are officially made in a country. -4. phrase in mint condition [coin, book, car] in perfect condition. ◇ vt to make <coins> in a mint.
- mint sauce n a sauce made of mint leaves,

- sugar, and vinegar, usually eaten with roast lamb.
- minuet [ˌmɪnjuː'et] n a slow 17th- and 18th-century dance; a piece of music written for this dance.
- minus ['maɪnəs] (pl minuses) \diamond prep -1. MATH when  is taken away \square 4 minus 2 is 2. -2. WEATHER at  below freezing point \square It's minus 10 (degrees). \diamond adj -1. MATH [number] less than zero \square The answer is minus four. -2. A/B etc minus EDUCATION a grade that is just lower than A/B etc \square I got a B minus. \diamond n -1. MATH = minus sign. -2. a disadvantage \square The long commute is definitely a minus.
- minuscule ['mɪnəsku:l] adj [detail, amount] extremely small.
- minus sign n a sign (-) that means minus when put before a number.
- minute¹ ['mɪnət] n -1. a unit for measuring time that is equal to one of the 60 parts that an hour is divided into \square I'll be ready in five minutes. -2. a very short period of time \square It was here only a minute ago. ■ at any minute at any time and probably very soon \square The bomb could go off at any minute. ■ to do sthg at the last minute to do sthg at the latest possible time \square He changed his mind at the last minute. ■ this minute right now \square Stop that this minute!
- ◆ minutes npl the written records of what is said at a meeting \square John took the minutes at the meeting.
- minute² [maɪ'nju:t] adj [amount, detail] very small \square She put a minute drop of the mixture into the water.
- minutiae [maɪ'nju:ʃi:z] npl small unimportant details \square Don't bother me with the minutiae.
- miracle ['mɪrəkl] \diamond n -1. RELIGION an action or event that is impossible according to scientific laws and that people believe to be done by God \square Her sudden recovery is being proclaimed as a miracle. -2. a surprising and lucky event \square It was a miracle that we survived/arrived on time. \diamond adj a miracle drug/cure a drug/cure that cures an illness that cannot normally be cured.
- miraculous [mɪ'rækjələs] adj -1. [event] that people believe is done by God \square a miraculous healing. -2. [survival, escape] that seems surprising and lucky \square She's made a miraculous recovery.
- miraculously [mɪ'rækjələsli] adv a word used to show that one thinks that something is very lucky and unexpected \square Miraculously, he survived.
- mirage [mə'ra:ʒ] n -1. an image of something that is not really there, often seen in deserts. -2. a hope or wish that cannot come true.
- mire ['maɪə] n deep mud.
- mirror ['mɪrə] \diamond n a flat piece of glass that has a metallic surface on one side so that one can see the reflection of things by looking at it \square He glanced at himself in the mirror. \diamond vt -1. [view, behavior, structure] to be very similar to <sthg> \square Her report mirrored my thinking on the subject. -2. [light, view] to reflect <sthg> (literary use).
- mirror image n a reversed image of something, as if seen in a mirror.
- mirth [mɜ:θ] n amusement and laughter (formal use).
- misadventure [ˌmɪsəd'ventʃə] n an unfortunate accident. ■ death by misadventure LAW accidental death.
- misanthropist [mɪs'æntərəpəst] n a person who dislikes other people.
- misapplication [ˌmɪsæplɪ'keɪʃn] n [of a principle, law] the wrong use of something.
- misapprehension [ˌmɪsæprɪ'henʃn] n a mistaken belief \square They were under the misapprehension that they would be paid.
- misappropriate [ˌmɪsə'prɔʊpriət] vt to take <funds> dishonestly for one's own use.
- misappropriation [ˌmɪsə'prɔʊprɪ'eɪʃn] n: see misappropriate.
- misbehave [ˌmɪsbɪ'heɪv] vi [child, animal] to behave badly \square Have you been misbehaving again in my absence?
- misbehavior US, misbehaviour GB [ˌmɪsbɪ'heɪvjə] n bad behavior \square Any misbehavior on our part was severely punished.
- misc abbr of miscellaneous.
- miscalculate [ˌmɪs'kælkjəleɪt] \diamond vt -1. MATH [distance, time, number] to calculate <sthg> wrongly \square I miscalculated how much time I would need. -2. [consequences, situation] to judge <sthg> wrongly \square I miscalculated the effect my words would have on him. \diamond vi -1. MATH to calculate something wrongly \square There's not enough to go around; I obviously miscalculated. -2. to judge something wrongly \square If it is a deliberate strategy, the committee has seriously miscalculated.
- miscalculation [ˌmɪskælkjə'leɪʃn] n: see miscalculate \square Somebody has made a serious miscalculation.
- miscarriage ['mɪskæriɪdʒ] n the birth of a baby before it is developed enough to live \square Deborah has had several miscarriages.
- miscarriage of justice n a wrong judgment made by a court.
- miscarry [ˌmɪs'kæri] (pt & pp miscarried) vi -1. [woman] to have a miscarriage. -2. [plan, idea] to go wrong (formal use).
- miscellaneous [ˌmɪsə'leɪniəs] adj miscellaneous items/people etc items/people etc that are different from each other and do not belong to any group \square You can put the stationery under miscellaneous expenses.
- miscellany [US 'mɪsələni, GB mɪ'seləni] (pl miscellanies) n a collection of miscellaneous things or people.
- mischance [US ˌmɪs'tʃæns, GB -'tʃɑ:ns] n bad luck (formal use).
- mischief ['mɪstʃɪf] n -1. slightly bad behavior, especially of a child, that is done for amusement, but is not intended to cause harm \square Have you been up to mischief again? -2. injury or damage caused by somebody.

- mischievous [ˈmɪʃtʃɪvəs] adj [child, behavior] that is full of mischief □ She gave a mischievous smile.
- misconceived [ˌmɪskənˈsiːvd] adj [plan, method] that has been badly or wrongly planned.
- misconception [ˌmɪskənˈsepʃn] n a wrong idea or belief □ It's a popular misconception that the work we do is somehow glamorous.
- misconduct [ˌmɪsˈkɒndʌkt] n bad behavior, especially at work □ a serious case of professional misconduct.
- misconstrue [ˌmɪskənˈstruː] vt [meaning, words] to understand <sthg> in the wrong way.
- miscount [ˌmɪsˈkaʊnt] ◇ vt [votes, people] to count <sthg> wrongly. ◇ vi: I thought they were all there; I must have miscounted.
- misdeed [ˌmɪsˈdiːd] n a bad or illegal act (literary use).
- misdemeanor US, misdeemeanour GB [ˌmɪsdəˈmiːnəʃ] n a crime that is not very serious, e.g. a parking offense.
- misdirected [ˌmɪsdəˈrektəd] adj -1. [letter, mail] that has been sent to the wrong address. -2. [energy, ability] that is used for the wrong purpose.
- miser [ˈmaɪzə] n a person who always tries to avoid spending their money, even on things they need, because they want to keep it all (disapproving use).
- miserable [ˈmɪzəbl̩] adj -1. [person] who seems very unhappy □ What's the matter? You look miserable. -2. [life, conditions, weather] that one finds very bad, unpleasant, and depressing □ I had a miserable time while I was there. -3. a miserable failure a complete failure.
- miserably [ˈmɪzəbl̩l̩] adv [reply, live, fail] see miserable □ Doug's feeling miserably unhappy.
- miserly [ˈmaɪzəˈlɪ] adj [person] who is a miser.
- misery [ˈmɪzəri] (pl miseries) n -1. [of a person] great unhappiness □ Seeing them together, obviously in love, only added to my misery. -2. [of conditions] very bad and unpleasant living conditions □ the misery of the homeless living on the streets. -3. a person who is always complaining (informal use) □ Stop being such a misery!
- misfire [ˌmɪsˈfaɪə] vi -1. [gun, rifle] to fail to fire at the right time. -2. [car engine] to run unevenly because the gas in it does not ignite at the proper time. -3. [plan, idea] to go wrong and not have the result that one intended □ The surprise dinner misfired rather badly when Mary decided to eat out instead.
- misfit [ˈmɪsfit] n a person who is not completely accepted by the people around them because of the way they think and behave.
- misfortune [ˌmɪsˈfɔːtʃən] n bad luck; something unpleasant or unlucky that happens to somebody □ We had the misfortune to lose all our lecture papers on the way home. □ She seems to gloat over other people's misfortunes.
- misgivings [ˌmɪsˈɡɪvɪŋz] npl feelings of doubt □ I admit I had some misgivings about the idea.
- misguided [ˌmɪsˈɡaɪdəd] adj [attempt, opinion] that is based on ideas that are wrong; [person] whose ideas are wrong □ It was a rather misguided effort at changing their way of thinking. □ He's not a bad man, just misguided.
- mishandle [ˌmɪsˈhændl̩] vt [deal, negotiations] to deal with  badly.
- mis hap [ˈmɪʃhæp] n something unlucky that happens but is not very serious □ The meeting took place without mishap.
- mishear [ˌmɪsˈhɪə] (pt & pp misheard [-ˈhɜːd]) ◇ vt [person, question] to hear <sb/sthg> wrongly, so that one thinks one heard something else. ◇ vi: You must have misheard.
- mish mash [US ˈmɪʃmɑːʃ, GB -mæʃ] n an untidy mixture (informal use).
- misinform [ˌmɪsɪnˈfɔːm] vt to give <sb> wrong information □ You have been misinformed.
- misinformation [ˌmɪsɪnfəˈmeɪʃn] n wrong information.
- misinterpret [ˌmɪsɪnˈtɜːprət] vt [words, actions, gestures] to understand <sthg> wrongly □ I'd hate you to misinterpret what I'm saying.
- misjudge [ˌmɪsˈdʒʌdʒ] vt -1. [time, distance] to guess <sthg> wrongly □ They misjudged the amount of effort it would take to finish the job. -2. [person, situation, consequences] to form a wrong opinion of <sb/sthg> □ I think I have seriously misjudged him.
- misjudg(e)ment [ˌmɪsˈdʒʌdʒmənt] n: see misjudge □ I now admit I made a misjudgment.
- mislay [ˌmɪsˈleɪ] (pt & pp mis laid [-ˈleɪd]) vt [book, key] to lose <sthg> for a short time, by forgetting where one has put it.
- mislead [ˌmɪsˈliːd] (pt & pp mis led) vt to make <sb> believe something that is not true, usually deliberately □ The public was misled into believing it was safe.
- misleading [ˌmɪsˈliːdɪŋ] adj [idea, statistic] that gives one a wrong idea about something □ The advertisement was very misleading.
- misled [ˌmɪsˈled] past tense & past participle of mislead.
- mismanage [ˌmɪsˈmænɪdʒ] vt [finances, budget, project] to manage <sthg> badly.
- mismanagement [ˌmɪsˈmænɪdʒmənt] n: see mismanage □ The firm collapsed amidst accusations of financial mismanagement.
- mismatch [ˌmɪsˈmætʃ] vt to be mismatched [married couple] to be unsuitable for each other; [teams, opponents] to have levels of skill that are so different that a competition between them is unfair; [colors] to be too different to look good together.
- misnomer [ˌmɪsˈnəʊmə] n a word or name incorrectly given to something □ The term "corporation" is something of a misnomer for a company of that size.
- misogynist [mɪˈsɒdʒənɪst] n a person, usually a man, who hates women.
- misplace [ˌmɪsˈpleɪs] vt = mis lay.
- misplaced [ˌmɪsˈpleɪst] adj [loyalty, trust, anger] that is wrong because the person or thing that causes it does not deserve it □ I hope that your faith in me will not prove to be misplaced.
- misprint [ˈmɪsprɪnt] n a mistake in printing.

mispronounce [ˌmɪsprəˈnaʊns] vt to pronounce  wrongly.

misquote [ˌmɪsˈkwəʊt] vt [person, phrase] to quote <sb/sthg> wrongly.

misread [ˌmɪsˈriːd] (pt & pp misread [-red]) vt
-1. [word, phrase] to read <sthg> wrongly.
-2. [situation, behavior] to believe wrongly that one understands <sthg>.

misrepresent [ˌmɪsreprəˈzent] vt [person, words, opinion] to give other people a false idea of <sb/sthg> □ Our position has been entirely misrepresented by the tabloid press.

misrepresentation [ˌmɪsreprəzenˈteɪʃn] n: see misrepresent □ a gross misrepresentation of the facts.

misrule [ˌmɪsˈruːl] n bad government.

miss [mɪs] ◇ vt -1. [person, error, TV program] to fail to see <sb/sthg>; [speech, radio program] to fail to hear <sthg> □ We missed his debut performance because we were working. □ We've missed the beginning of the film. □ My diary's on the table, it's big and black — you can't miss it. □ She missed the beginning of the conversation.
-2. [target, ball] to fail to hit <sthg> □ The brick missed me by inches. -3. [person, home, family] to feel sad or lonely because of the absence of <sb/sthg> □ I really miss not being able to go for long walks in the country. -4. [opportunity, chance] to fail to take advantage of <sthg> □ It's an opportunity that's too good to miss. -5. [train, bus] to fail to catch <sthg> because one is late □ I missed my flight by five minutes. -6. [meeting, appointment] to fail to be present at <sthg>. -7. [disaster, accident] to avoid <sthg bad> □ We just missed being killed.

◇ vi to fail to hit something □ You missed!

◇ n to give sthg a miss GB [meeting, party, lesson] to decide not to go to sthg (informal use) □ I think I'll give the party a miss — I've got a lot of work to do at home.

◆ miss out ◇ vt sep to miss sb/sthg out GB [person, word, item] to fail to include sb/sthg, either by accident or deliberately □ They missed my first name out. ◇ vi not to have or take an opportunity to be involved in something enjoyable, useful etc □ You missed out on a great party last night.

Miss n -1. a title used to talk or write to a girl or woman who is not married □ Dear Miss Miller. -2. a word used to talk to a girl or woman who is not married (formal use).

misshapen [ˌmɪsˈʃeɪpɪn] adj [body, limb, object] that is not the usual shape and as a result is thought to be ugly.

missile [US ˈmɪsɪl, GB ˈmɪsəl] n -1. MILITARY a weapon that flies like a rocket and explodes when it hits its target. -2. any object that is thrown as a weapon.

missile launcher [-lɔːntʃə] n a piece of military equipment used for firing missiles.

missing [ˈmɪsɪŋ] adj [object] that has been lost or stolen; [person] who is not where they should be and cannot be found □ How many of the missing pieces have been found? □ I'm worried about Joe: he's been missing since morn- ing. ■ to go missing GB to disappear from the place where it should be □ A seven-year-old boy went missing from his home in Jackson yesterday.

missing link n a piece of information that must be found in order to demonstrate or prove something.

missing person n a person who has disappeared.

mission [ˈmɪʃn] n -1. [to a place] a special task that somebody is sent to do in another place, usually for political or military purposes □ They were sent on a secret mission. □ a space/bombing/rescue mission. -2. [from a government] a group of people who are sent abroad by their government for a particular purpose □ a diplomatic/economic mission. -3. [of a person] a job that somebody feels it is their duty to do □ Her mission in life was to help the homeless. -4. RELIGION educational and social work that is done by people who are sent to a foreign country by a religious group; a building or group of buildings where this work is done □ a Jesuit mission.

missionary [US ˈmɪʃənəri, GB ˈmɪʃnəri] (pl missionaries) n a person who is sent to a foreign country by a religious group, usually to teach people about a particular religion.

mission statement n a statement prepared by a company, organization etc to make its future plans and aims clear.

Mississippi [ˌmɪsɪˈsɪpi] -1. a state in the southern USA, on the Gulf of Mexico. ABBREVIATION: MS. SIZE: 123,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,573,216 (Mississippians). CAPITAL: Jackson. -2. the Mississippi a river in the central USA, flowing into the Gulf of Mexico. It is the longest river in the USA.

missive [ˈmɪsɪv] n a letter (literary use).

Missouri [mɪˈzʊəri] -1. a state in the central USA. ABBREVIATION: MO. SIZE: 180,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 5,117,073 (Missourians). CAPITAL: Jefferson City. -2. the Missouri a river in the central USA, flowing from the Rocky Mountains to join the Mississippi above St Louis.

misspell [ˌmɪsˈspɛl] (pt & pp misspelled OR misspelt) vt to spell  wrongly.

misspelling [ˌmɪsˈspɛlɪŋ] n a word that has been misspelled.

misspelt [ˌmɪsˈspɛlt] GB past tense & past participle of misspell.

misspend [ˌmɪsˈspɛnd] (pt & pp misspent [-spɛnt]) vt [money, time] to waste <sthg> □ You can tell he's had a misspent youth!

mist [mɪst] n water vapor that forms in the air near the ground, usually in the early morning, and that it is difficult to see through □ the early morning mist.

◆ mist over, mist up vi [windows, spectacles] to become covered with water vapor; [eyes] to become filled with tears.

mistake [mɪˈsteɪk] (pt mistook, pp mistaken) ◇ n -1. something that is said, written, or done in a way that is not right □ a spelling/

- typing mistake □ You have made several mistakes in your calculations. -2. an action or statement that is not very wise or sensible and often causes problems later □ It was a mistake to leave school so young. ■ to do sthg by mistake to do sthg without intending to □ I took your coat by mistake.
- ◇ vt -1. [meaning, intention] to misunderstand <sthg>. -2. [person] to think wrongly that <sb> is somebody else; [object] to think wrongly that <sthg> is something else □ I mistook you for Jim. □ You can't mistake her voice, with its strong southern drawl. ■ there's no mistaking... a phrase used to say that it is impossible to confuse something with something else □ There's no mistaking his car, it's covered in rust.
- mistaken [mɪ'steɪkən] ◇ past participle of mistake. ◇ adj [belief, idea] wrong □ I was under the mistaken impression that you were serious. ■ to be mistaken about sb/sthg to have the wrong idea about sb/sthg □ You must be mistaken: my brother has dark hair.
- mistaken identity n a case of mistaken identity a situation where somebody is thought to be somebody else, usually because of their appearance.
- mistakenly [mɪ'steɪkənli] adv [believe, say] see mistaken □ I mistakenly assumed there wouldn't be a problem.
- mister ['mɪstə] n a word used, especially by children, to talk to a man whose name they do not know (informal use).
- mistime [mɪs'taɪm] vt [entry, announcement] to do or say <sthg> at a bad or unsuitable time □ They badly mistimed the publication of the results.
- mistletoe ['mɪsltoʊ] n a plant with white berries that grows on trees and is used as a Christmas decoration in Northern Europe and North America.
- mistook [mɪ'stu:k] past tense of mistake.
- mistranslation [mɪstrænz'leɪʃn] n a translation that is wrong.
- mistreat [mɪs'tri:t] vt to treat  cruelly, especially when one is supposed to be taking care of them.
- mistreatment [mɪs'tri:tmənt] n: see mistreat □ the mistreatment of prisoners.
- mistress ['mɪstrəs] n -1. [of a man] a woman who a married man is having a sexual relationship with □ She's your mistress, isn't she? -2. [of a dog, cat] the female owner of a particular pet animal. -3. GB [in school] a female schoolteacher of a particular subject □ the science mistress.
- mistrial ['mɪstriəl] n a trial that is not legal because of a mistake in the way it is carried out.
- mistrust [mɪs'trʌst] ◇ n a feeling of not being able to trust somebody or something □ She has a natural mistrust of politicians. ◇ vt [person, words, intentions] not to trust <sb/sthg>.
- mistrustful [mɪs'trʌstfl] adj [person, look] that shows a lack of trust in somebody or something □ I was mistrustful of his intentions.
- misty ['mɪsti] (compar mistier, superl mistiest) adj [landscape, countryside] that is covered with mist □ It's very misty this morning.
- misunderstand [mɪsʌndə'stænd] (pt & pp misunderstood) ◇ vt [person, meaning, question] to fail to understand <sb/sthg> properly. ◇ vi: I think you must have misunderstood.
- misunderstanding [mɪsʌndə'stændɪŋ] n -1. a failure to understand something properly □ His statement is open to misunderstanding. □ There was a misunderstanding over the time of the meeting. -2. a disagreement between people □ We've had a misunderstanding with the neighbors.
- misunderstood [mɪsʌndə'stʊd] past tense & past participle of misunderstand.
- misuse [mɪs'ju:z, n, mɪs'ju:s] ◇ vt -1. [power, funds, position] to use <sthg> for wrong or dishonest purposes. -2. [time] to use <sthg> carelessly □ The government is misusing our natural resources. -3. [language] to use <sthg> incorrectly. ◇ n [of power, time, language] the act of misusing something; an example of this □ a misuse of valuable resources.
- MIT (abbr of Massachusetts Institute of Technology) n a leading scientific university in Cambridge, Massachusetts.
- mite [maɪt] n -1. a very small creature like a spider that often lives on plants or animals or in dust □ a dust/house mite. -2. a mite slightly (informal use) □ It's a mite too big. -3. a small child (informal use) □ Poor little mite!
- miter US, mitre GB ['maɪtə] n -1. a tall pointed hat worn by bishops. -2. a joint between two pieces of wood that are each cut at an angle so that they form a corner when joined.
- mitigate ['mɪtəgeɪt] vt [pain, effect, harm] to make <sthg unpleasant> less serious or extreme (formal use).
- mitigating ['mɪtəgeɪtɪŋ] adj mitigating circumstances LAW facts that explain why somebody committed a crime and may cause their punishment to be reduced.
- mitigation [mɪtə'geɪʃn] n LAW the process of presenting mitigating circumstances to a court □ He pleaded in mitigation that his client had excellent character references.
- mitre n GB = miter.
- mitt [mɪt] n -1. a mitten. -2. SPORT the protective glove worn by the catcher in baseball.
- mitten ['mɪtn] n -1. a glove with two sections, one for the thumb and one for the four fingers. -2. a glove that covers one's wrist and hand, but not one's fingers.
- Mitty ['mɪti], Walter a character in James Thurber's story The Secret Life of Walter Mitty. He imagines he is brave and adventurous, but in fact he is very ordinary.
- mix [mɪks] ◇ vt -1. [ingredients, substances, activities] to combine <two or more things> so that they are part of the same thing □ Mix the sugar and OR with the flour. □ I never mix business with pleasure. -2. [drink, cement] to make <sthg> by putting its contents togeth- er in a container. -3. [song, record] to arrange the balance of sounds in <sthg>.

- ◇ vi -1. [substances] to become mixed □ Oil and water don't mix. □ The fuel mixes with air in the carburetor. -2. [person] to meet, talk, and spend time with other people □ I'm not very good at mixing. □ He's mixing with a strange crowd.
- ◇ n -1. [of two things] something that combines two or more people or things in a particular way □ The film was an interesting mix of different styles. -2. [to make something] a mixture of dry ingredients used to make something and sold in a package □ cake/cement mix. -3. MUSIC a particular version of a record, made for a particular audience or market □ a disco mix.
- ◆ mix up vt sep -1. to mix people/things up [dates, ideas] to confuse two or more people/things with each other □ I always mix her up with her sister. -2. to mix things up [documents, cards] to make things disordered □ The pages are all mixed up.
- mixed [mɪkst] adj -1. a mixed diet/salad etc a diet/salad etc that contains different things of the same general type □ I'll need some mixed fruit/nuts for the cake. -2. a mixed group a group of different types of people □ They're a mixed bunch; some of them have studied languages before, others don't even know what an adverb is. -3. [blood, parentage] that involves parents, grandparents etc who are of different races. -4. to have mixed feelings about sthg to be unsure about sthg because one has different kinds of feelings about it □ I have mixed feelings about their proposal. -5. [school, education] that is for both sexes.
- mixed-ability adj GB [class, teaching] that is designed for students of different abilities.
- mixed blessing n something that has disadvantages as well as advantages.
- mixed doubles n [in tennis, badminton] a match in which each team consists of a man and a woman.
- mixed economy n an economic system in which some industries and organizations are owned by the state and some are private.
- mixed grill n a dish that includes different types of grilled meat.
- mixed marriage n a marriage between people of different races or religions.
- mixed up adj -1. [person, mind] confused □ She said she was feeling very mixed up about Tom and that they might be splitting up. -2. to be mixed up in sthg [in a crime, argument, scandal] to be involved in sthg □ I don't want you getting mixed up in all this.
- mixer ['mɪksəʃ] n -1. a machine used for mixing things, such as food or cement. -2. a non-alcoholic drink that is added to an alcoholic drink.
- mixer tap n GB a faucet that can be used to pour out a mixture of hot and cold water.
- mixing bowl ['mɪksɪŋ-] n a large bowl for mixing food in.
- mixture ['mɪkstʃəʃ] n -1. a substance made of different ingredients that have been mixed together □ Place the mixture in the bowl and stir. -2. [of flavors, candy] a combination of different things or people □ I felt a mixture of sadness and relief.
- mix-up n a confused situation caused by a mistake or misunderstanding □ There must have been a mix-up at the other end — we weren't expecting you until tomorrow.
- mk, MK abbr of mark.
- mkt abbr of market.
- ml abbr of milliliter.
- MLA (abbr of Member of the Legislative Assembly) n in Australia, a member of Parliament.
- MLC (abbr of Member of the Legislative Council) n in Australia, a senator.
- MLitt [em'lit] (abbr of Master of Literature, Master of Letters) n a postgraduate degree in literature; a person who has this degree.
- MLR n abbr of minimum lending rate.
- mm abbr of millimeter.
- MN ◇ n abbr of merchant navy. ◇ abbr of Minnesota.
- mnemonic [nɪ'mɒnɪk] n a word, phrase, or short poem that helps somebody to remember something.
- m.o. abbr of money order.
- MO (abbr of Medical Officer) ◇ n a doctor in the armed forces. ◇ abbr of Missouri.
- moan [moun] ◇ n -1. a long low sound made by somebody because they are sad or in pain □ The woman gave a loud moan. -2. a complaint (informal use) □ She likes to have a good moan about work. ◇ vi -1. to make the sound of a moan □ He was moaning in agony. -2. to complain in an unhappy and often irritating voice (informal use) □ He's always moaning about his job/boss.
- moat [mout] n a ditch around a castle that is filled with water and was used for defense in the past.
- mob [mɒb] (pt & pp mobbed, cont mobbing) ◇ n a large noisy crowd of people, especially one that is violent or difficult to control. ◇ vt to form a crowd around <sb>, usually to show admiration or to attack them □ The singer was mobbed at the airport.
- mobile [US 'moub], GB -baɪ] ◇ adj -1. [person, vehicle] that is able to move easily □ He has a slipped disk, so it'll be a couple of weeks before he's mobile again. □ a small, highly mobile force of fighting men. -2. [equipment] that is not fixed and can be moved easily. -3. to be mobile to have a vehicle, so that one can travel around easily □ Now I have my car back I'm mobile again. -4. GB a mobile clinic/library etc a clinic/library etc that is in a vehicle and is driven from place to place. ◇ n -1. an ornament made of small objects hanging on strings that move when the air moves. -2. = mobile phone.
- mobile home n a vehicle that people live in as a home.
- mobile phone n a telephone with no wires that can be carried around and used anywhere.

mobility [məʊ'bɪlətɪ] n -1. the ability to move, especially when one is not prevented by illness or injury □ These seats are for people with mobility difficulties. -2. the movement of people between social classes, jobs, or residential areas □ social mobility.

mobility allowance n in Britain, money given by the state to disabled people to help them to travel.

mobilization [US ˌməʊbələ'zeɪʃn, GB ˌməʊbələɪ-] n: see mobilize.

mobilize, -ise ['məʊbəlaɪz] ◇ vt -1. to encourage <support> for a particular purpose or cause; to gather  together and organize them for a particular purpose □ They've managed to mobilize a great deal of support for the new initiative. □ Japan regards its aging society as a resource to be mobilized. -2. [army, navy, air force] to prepare  for war □ All military forces have been mobilized and are on full alert. ◇ vi [country, army] to prepare to fight a war.

moccasin ['mɒkəsɪn] n a soft leather shoe without laces □ a pair of moccasins.

mock [mɒk] ◇ adj [surprise, exam] that looks, sounds etc like something but is not the same as it □ They live in a mock-Tudor house. □ "Poor you!" she said in mock concern. ◇ vt [person, behavior, idea] to make fun of <sb/sthg> in an unkind way. ◇ vi: You shouldn't mock.

mockery ['mɒkəri] n -1. the act of mocking somebody or something □ There was a suggestion of mockery in her tone. -2. something that is worthless, usually because it is done badly □ The trial was a mockery. ■ to make a mockery of sthg to make sthg seem stupid or worthless □ This result makes a mockery of the democratic process.

mocking ['mɒkɪŋ] adj [tone, smile] that is not sincere, and is intended to show that one is making fun of somebody.

mockingbird ['mɒkɪŋbɜːd] n an American bird with a long tail and gray feathers that imitates the songs of other birds.

mock-up n a full-size model of a machine, vehicle etc that is built for testing or research □ We have a detailed mock-up of the new plane.

MoD, MOD (abbr of Ministry of Defence) n the British government department responsible for the army and defense.

mod cons npl all mod cons GB a phrase used to say that a house, apartment, kitchen etc is fitted with all the things that make life easier and more comfortable such as central heating, a washing machine etc (informal use).

mode [məʊd] n [of life, transportation] a particular way of doing something; [of dress] a particular style of fashion.

model ['mɒdl] (US pt & pp modeled, cont modeling, GB pt & pp modelled, cont modelling) ◇ n -1. [of a building, vehicle] a small copy of something □ a model car/plane □ a working model. -2. [for a government, philosophy] a way of doing something that is successful and can be used as a basis for something else □ Their legal system is based on the British model. □ alternative models of social order. -3. [of patience, good taste] a person or thing that is the perfect example of something □ She's the model of good breeding. -4. [of a car, washing machine] a particular type of vehicle or machine made by a particular manufacturer □ our new improved model □ the latest model in the "Pergamum" series. -5. [for a painting] a person whose job is to stand or sit still in order to be the subject of a painting or photograph □ an artist's model □ a photographic model. -6. [for clothes] a person whose job is to model clothes □ She became a top photographic model practically overnight.

◇ adj a model student/employee etc a perfect student/employee etc.

◇ vt -1. [plane, ship] to make a small copy of <sthg>. -2. [clay, wax] to make <sthg> into a particular shape. -3. [dress, outfit] to display <sthg> by wearing it at a fashion show □ Claudia, seen here modeling the new Versace collection. -4. to model oneself on sb [on father, teacher] to copy sb's behavior or appearance in order to be like them □ He's modeled his musical style on that of the early blues singers.

◇ vi to model clothes.

modeling US, modelling GB ['mɒdlɪŋ] n the work of a fashion model □ a career in modeling.

Model T Ford n one of the first types of car built in the USA, designed by Henry Ford.

modem ['məʊdem] n a piece of electronic equipment used for sending information from one computer to another via a telephone line.

moderate [adj & n 'mɒdərət, vb 'mɒdəreɪt] ◇ adj -1. [amount, view, demand] that is considered to be reasonable by most people □ a moderate wage increase/politician. -2. [size, quantity] that is neither large nor small. -3. [ability, performance] that is neither good nor bad. ◇ n a person who has moderate political views. ◇ vt [spending, heat, demands] to reduce <sthg> to a level that most people consider to be reasonable □ Would you mind moderating your language? ◇ vi [views, drinking] to become moderate.

moderately ['mɒdərətli] adv moderately successful/expensive etc fairly successful/expensive etc □ It was only moderately quicker than taking the train.

moderation [ˌmɒdə'reɪʃn] n [of one's views, demands] see moderate □ Leaders of both sides have appealed for moderation. ■ to do sthg in moderation [drink, smoke] to do sthg in a way that most people consider to be reasonable.

modern ['mɒdərn] adj -1. [times, society, world] that belongs to the present period □ New Zealand has emerged as one of the world's strongest modern economies. -2. [techniques, design, ideas] that is of a new kind □ modern office technology. -3. [person] who accepts new ideas □ They have a very modern outlook. -4. modern art/dance etc art/dance etc that

- follows more recent styles rather than traditional ones.
- modern-day adj [person] whose actions, behavior etc remind people of somebody who was well known in the past; [event] that is similar to an event in history □ a modern-day Robin Hood.
- modernism ['mɒdə'nɪzɪzəm] n the ideas and methods of art, design, and literature that have produced new forms of expression, especially in the early and mid-20th century.
- modernization [US ,mɒdəraɪz'eɪʃn, GB ,mɒdənaɪ-] n: see modernize □ The industry is in urgent need of modernization. □ a modernization program.
- modernize, -ise ['mɒdə'naɪz] ◇ vt [system, house, factory] to make <sthg> modern by replacing old processes and appliances with new ones. ◇ vi: We must modernize if we are going to stay in business.
- modern languages npl modern European languages, usually when studied as a subject in high school or college.
- modest ['mɒdəst] adj -1. [amount, income, improvement] that is not very large □ We made a modest profit on the sale. -2. [person] who does not like to talk proudly about the things they have done □ Don't be so modest! I'm sure it's excellent.
- modestly ['mɒdəstli] adv [improve, behave, speak] see modest.
- modesty ['mɒdəstɪ] n the quality of being modest about the things one has done.
- modicum ['mɒdɪkəm] n a modicum of sthg [of decency, truth] a small amount of sthg (formal use) □ I suppose there's a modicum of comfort in what you say.
- modification [,mɒdəfə'keɪʃn] n: see modify □ The text requires modification/a few modifications before it can be published. □ They made a few modifications to the basic design.
- modify ['mɒdəfaɪ] (pt & pp modified) vt -1. [engine, design] to change <sthg> slightly in order to improve it. -2. [plan, law] to change <sthg> slightly in order to make it more suitable for a particular situation.
- modular [US 'mɒdʒələr, GB 'mɒdjulə] adj -1. [furniture, building] that consists of separate units that combine together to make a larger structure. -2. EDUCATION [course] that consists of a series of separate courses on particular subjects.
- modulated [US 'mɒdʒəleɪtəd, GB 'mɒdju-] adj [note, voice] that varies in loudness, pitch, or tone; [radio wave] that varies in frequency or size.
- modulation [US ,mɒdʒə'leɪʃn, GB ,mɒdju-] n the process of varying the loudness, pitch, or tone of a sound; the process of varying the frequency or size of a radio wave.
- module [US 'mɒdʒu:l, GB 'mɒdju:l] n -1. [of a building, course, piece of furniture] one of the parts of something that can be joined together, usually in different ways, to make something bigger. -2. [of a spacecraft] a part of a spacecraft that can be used separately from the other parts □ the lunar module.
- mogul ['mɒɡl] n a very rich and powerful business person □ the media mogul, John Barolo.
- mohair ['mouheə] n a very soft wool that comes from angora goats □ a mohair sweater.
- Mohammed [mou'hæməd] = Muhammad.
- Mohammedan [mou'hæmədən] n & adj = Muslim.
- Mohawk ['mouhɔ:k] n a member of a Native American people who used to live in the northeastern USA; the language of this people.
- Mohican [mou'hi:kən] n a member of a Native American people who used to live in the northeastern USA and southeastern Canada; the language of this people.
- moist [mɔɪst] adj [soil, cake, eyes] that is slightly wet □ Keep the soil moist, but do not overwater.
- moisten ['mɔɪsn] vt [lips, handkerchief] to make <sthg> moist.
- moisture ['mɔɪstʃə] n small drops of water on a surface or in the air that make it feel wet □ The inside of the window was covered in moisture.
- moisturize, -ise ['mɔɪstʃəraɪz] vt [face, hands, skin] to make <sthg> less dry, usually by rubbing a cream into it.
- moisturizer ['mɔɪstʃəraɪzə] n a product, usually in the form of a cream, for moisturizing one's skin.
- molar ['moulə] n one of the large flat teeth at the back of one's mouth, used for chewing food.
- molasses [mə'læsəz] n a thick dark syrup that is produced during the refining of sugar and is used in cooking.
- mold US, mould GB [mould] ◇ n -1. [on food, a wall] a green or gray substance that grows on old food or on objects that have been kept in wet conditions for a long time □ The ceiling was covered in mold. -2. [for metal, a candle] a container that has a particular shape and in which a soft or liquid substance is placed so that it will have the same shape after it has become hard □ Place the mixture in the mold.
- ◇ vt -1. [person, character, career] to influence the way <sb/sthg> develops over a period of time, especially by influencing their ideas □ His political views were molded by his background and education. -2. [clay, mud, metal] to make <sthg> into a particular shape, sometimes by using a mold □ The figure had been molded out of clay.
- Moldavia [mɒl'deɪvɪə] a country in Eastern Europe, between Romania and Ukraine. SIZE: 34,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,400,000 (Moldavians). CAPITAL: Kishinev. LANGUAGE: Romanian. CURRENCY: leu.
- molding US, moulding GB ['mouldɪŋ] n a band of stone or wood that goes all around a wall, frame, piece of furniture etc to decorate it □ a room with original moldings.

- moldy US, mouldy GB ['mouldi] (US compar moldier, superl moldiest, GB compar mouldier, superl mouldiest) adj [cheese, fruit, bread] that has mold on part or all of it □ All I could find was a moldy old apple.
- mole [moul] n -1. a small animal that has dark fur, is almost blind, and digs tunnels under the ground to live in. -2. [on somebody's skin] a small dark-brown mark on somebody's skin. -3. [inside an organization] a spy who is a member of an organization and gives secret information to people outside that organization.
- molecular [mə'lekjələ] adj [structure, physics] relating to molecules.
- molecule ['mɒlɪkjʊ:l] n the smallest possible amount of a chemical that can exist, consisting of two or more atoms joined together.
- molehill ['mɒlɪhɪl] n a pile of earth that is made by a mole digging underground.
- molest [mə'lest] vt -1. [person] to attack  etc sexually. -2. [dog] to attack  etc.
- molester [mə'lestə] n a person who molests women or children □ a convicted child molester.
- mollify ['mɒləfaɪ] (pt & pp mollified) vt to make <sb> feel less angry or upset.
- mollusk US, mollusc GB ['mɒləsk] n a creature that has a soft body, no backbone, and is often covered by a shell, e.g. a snail, mussel, or octopus.
- mollycoddle ['mɒlɪkɒdl] vt [child, employee] to take too much care of <sb>.
- Molotov cocktail ['mɒlətɒf-] n a bomb that consists of a bottle full of gasoline sealed with a piece of cloth.
- molt US, moult GB [moult] ◇ vt to lose <hair or feathers> in order to grow new ones. ◇ vi [animal, bird] How often do cats molt?
- molten ['mɒltn] adj molten metal/lava metal/lava that has melted into a thick hot liquid.
- mom [mɒm] n US a word used to talk to or about one's mother (informal use).
- moment ['mɒmənt] n -1. a very short period of time □ Wait a moment. □ For one or a moment, I thought you were serious. □ Moments later she was gone. □ If you have a spare moment, there's something I'd like to discuss. -2. a particular point in time □ At that moment the phone rang. □ This is a very special moment for me. ■ the moment of truth a moment when something very important is decided □ Now for the moment of truth: who has won the contract? ■ at any moment [happen, arrive] at any time, and probably soon □ Look, they'll be here at any moment, so you'd better hurry up. ■ at the moment now □ He's not in at the moment, can he call you back? ■ at the last moment at the latest possible time □ At the last moment they pulled out of the deal. ■ for the moment at the present time, but perhaps not later □ I'm prepared to agree for the moment, but I might change my mind. -3. a good/bad moment a suitable/unsuitable time □
- Choose your moment to approach the boss.* □ I don't think now's the right moment.
- momentarily [ˌmɒməntə'ri] adv -1. [pause, hesitate] for a short time □ He was momentarily speechless. -2. US a word used to say that something will happen very soon □ I'll be with you momentarily.
- momentary [US 'mɒməntəri, GB -təri] adj [pause, hesitation] that lasts for a very short time □ There was a momentary silence before the applause began.
- momentous [mə'mentəs] adj [decision, news] very important □ I would like to welcome you all here on this momentous occasion.
- momentum [mə'mentəm] n -1. PHYSICS the weight of a moving object multiplied by its speed. -2. [of social movement, change] the force that is developed by a process as it progresses □ The campaign is starting to gather momentum.
- mommy ['mɒmi], momma ['mɒmə] n US a word used, especially by children, to talk to or about their mother (informal use).
- Mon abbr of Monday.
- Monaco ['mɒnəkəʊ] a country and town in southern Europe, on the Mediterranean, between France and Italy. SIZE: 2 sq kms. POPULATION: 28,000 (Monégasques). CAPITAL: MONACO. LANGUAGE: French. CURRENCY: French franc.
- monarch ['mɒnərk] n a king or queen who rules a country.
- monarchist ['mɒnərkəst] n a person who believes that their country should be ruled by a monarch.
- monarchy ['mɒnərkɪ] (pl monarchies) n -1. a system of government in which a country is ruled by a monarch and in which the next monarch will be from the same family. -2. a country that is ruled by a monarch. -3. the monarchy the royal family of a particular country. NOTE: Compare republic.
- monastery [US 'mɒnəstəri, GB -təri] (pl monasteries) n a building or group of buildings where monks live, work, and pray.
- monastic [mə'næstɪk] adj -1. [building, community] that is connected with monasteries. -2. [existence, life] that is quiet and simple, as in a monastery.
- Monday ['mʌndeɪ] n the day of the week between Sunday and Tuesday; see also Friday.
- Monet [US mɒu'nei, GB 'mɒnei], Claude (1840–1926) a French artist, well known for his landscapes and for being one of the main painters of the Impressionist movement.
- monetarism ['mɒnətərɪzəm] n a policy of controlling a country's economy by limiting the amount of money available for use at any particular time.
- monetarist ['mɒnətərəst] n a person who believes in monetarism as an economic policy.
- monetary [US 'mɒnətəri, GB -ətəri] adj [policy, union, control] that is connected with money.
- money ['mʌni] n coins or bills that are used to buy things □ How much money do you have? □ I didn't have enough money to get home. □ How much is that in English money? ■ to make money to receive money by working, or by selling something at a profit □ The company made a lot of money last year. □ She used to make money by selling jewelry. ■ to get one's money's worth to get a good value when one spends money on something □ She always likes to get her money's worth.

moneybox ['mʌnɪbɒks] n GB a small box with a slot in the top, used by children for saving coins in.

moneyed ['mʌnɪd] adj the moneyed classes the rich classes (formal use).

moneylender ['mʌnɪləndə] n a person whose job is to lend people money and then charge interest on it.

moneymaker ['mʌnɪmeɪkə] n a product or business that makes somebody a lot of money.

money-making ['mʌnɪmeɪkɪŋ] adj a money-making idea an idea that makes somebody a lot of money.

money market n the financial institutions that deal with short-term loans, capital, and foreign exchange □ Money-market interest rates jumped sharply.

money order n an official document from a bank or post office that is used instead of money for sending payment through the mail.

money-spinner [-spɪnə] n GB something that makes somebody a lot of money (informal use).

money supply n all the money that exists in a country's economy.

mongol▼ ['mɒŋɡl] (old-fashioned and offensive use) ◇ adj [person] who has Down's syndrome. ◇ n a person who has Down's syndrome. ◆ Mongol n & adj: see Mongolia.

Mongolia [mɒŋ'ɡoʊliə] n a country in central Asia, between Russia and China. SIZE: 1,565,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,300,000 (Mongols, Mongolians). CAPITAL: Ulan Bator. LANGUAGE: Khalkha Mongolian. CURRENCY: tughric.

Mongolian [mɒŋ'ɡoʊliən] n & adj: see Mongolia.

mongoose ['mɒŋɡu:s] (pl mongooses) n a small furry animal with a long tail that lives in Africa and Asia and eats snakes and birds' eggs.

mongrel ['mʌŋgrəl] n a dog whose parents are of different breeds.

monitor ['mɒnɪtə] ◇ n -1. TV a screen in a TV studio for showing the images that are being recorded or sent □ a TV monitor. -2. MEDICINE an instrument for recording and showing a particular activity in a patient's body □ a heart monitor. -3. COMPUTING a screen used with a computer to show information. ◇ vt -1. [development, heartbeat, condition] to check <sthg> regularly, usually to see if there is any change □ We have been monitoring the pollution levels. -2. [broadcast, messages] to listen to <sthg> regularly in order to get information.

monk [mʌŋk] n a member of a religious group of men who pray and worship together and usually live apart from other people □ a Buddhist monk.

monkey ['mʌŋki] (pl monkeys) n a tropical animal with a long tail that lives in trees and is related to chimpanzees, gorillas, and human beings.

monkey nut n a peanut (old-fashioned use).

monkey wrench n a tool that can be adjusted to turn nuts and bolts of different widths.

monkfish ['mʌŋkfiʃ] (pl monkfish OR monkfishes) n a large fish with a flat head and thin tail that is eaten as food.

mono ['mɒnəʊ] ◇ adj [record, record player] that produces sound through one loudspeaker only. ◇ n -1. a system of recording sound in which the sound is produced through one loudspeaker only □ It can only play records in mono. -2. US = mononucleosis.

monochrome ['mɒnəkroʊm] adj -1. [television, film] whose pictures are in black and white. -2. [picture, print] that is in one color only.

monocle ['mɒnəkəl] n a special piece of glass worn over one eye to help somebody to see better.

monogamous [mɒ'nɒɡəməs] adj [person] who has only one sexual partner □ a monogamous society/marriage.

monogamy [mɒ'nɒɡəməɪ] n the state of being monogamous.

monogrammed ['mɒnəgræməd] adj [handkerchief, shirt] that has somebody's initials printed or sewn onto it.

monolingual [mɒnə'liŋɡwəl] adj -1. [person] who only speaks one language. -2. [dictionary, text] that is written in only one language.

monolithic [mɒnə'liθɪk] adj -1. [organization] very large and unlikely to change. -2. [building] very large and without any interesting features.

monolog US, monologue ['mɒnələʊɡ] n -1. THEATER a long speech by one actor or actress. -2. [in conversation] a long speech by one person that prevents other people from speaking.

mononucleosis [mɒnə'nju:klɪ'əʊsəs] n an infectious disease that gives people fever, a sore throat, and swollen glands, and makes them feel weak.

monoplane ['mɒnəpleɪn] n an aircraft with one wing on each side.

monopolize, -ise [mɒ'nɒpələɪz] vt [trade, industry, conversation] to have complete control of <sthg> so that other people have no influence or involvement in it □ Their company has monopolized the diamond business for years. □ Now, John, stop monopolizing our guest!

monopoly [mɒ'nɒpəlɪ] (pl monopolies) n -1. a situation where one company or organization has complete control of a particular business activity, with the result that other organizations have no influence or involvement in it □ These regional newspapers are near-monopolies. □ The state has a monopoly on electricity production. ■ the Monopolies and Mergers Commission in Britain, an independent organization whose job is to investigate possible monopolies, so that the government can decide whether or not to take action to stop them. -2. to have a monopoly on sthg to be the only person who has sthg □ He thinks he's got a monopoly on brains.

monorail ['mɒnəreɪl] n a transportation system in which trains travel on a single rail.

monosodium glutamate [ˌmɒnəsəʊdiəm'glu:təmeɪt] n a chemical substance used in cooking to add flavor to savory dishes.

monosyllabic [ˌmɒnəsə'læbɪk] adj -1. [word, name] that has only one syllable. -2. [reply, answer] that uses very few words.

monosyllable ['mɒnəsɪləbl] n a word of one syllable.

monotone ['mɒnətəʊn] n a sound or voice that does not change in tone □ She spoke in a dull monotone.

monotonous [mə'nɒtənəs] adj [music, job, life] that is boring because of always staying the same □ The work was monotonous and tiring.

monotony [mə'nɒtəni] n the boring quality of something that never changes □ It's the sheer monotony of commuting that most people hate. □ A short walk might help to break the monotony.

monoxide [mə'nɒksaɪd] n a chemical compound that has one atom of oxygen for each atom of another element.

Monroe, Marilyn (1926–1962) a US movie actress, famous as a sex symbol. She appeared in Some Like it Hot and Gentlemen Prefer Blondes.

Monroe Doctrine n the Monroe Doctrine part of US foreign policy that rejected European intervention in North and South America. It was introduced during the presidency of James Monroe.

Monsignor [mɒn'si:njə] n a title given to a priest of high rank in the Catholic Church.

monsoon [mɒn'su:n] n the season of heavy rain in southern Asia.

monster ['mɒnstə] ◇ n -1. an unreal creature in a book, movie etc that is usually large, ugly, and frightening □ She dreamed that she was being chased by monsters. -2. a cruel or evil person □ The person who could commit such a crime must be a monster. -3. something that is unusually big □ That machine's a monster! ◇ adj very large (informal use).

monstrosity [mɒn'strɒsətɪ] (pl monstrosities) n a building, work of art etc that is very large and ugly □ that monstrosity they call a shopping mall!

monstrous ['mɒnstɹəs] adj -1. [treatment, situation, price] that one finds shocking and unfair □ I think it's monstrous the way they've behaved! -2. [place, appearance] that is very ugly. -3. [size, building, dog] that is very large.

montage [mɒn'tɑ:ʒ] n -1. a picture, movie, or piece of music that has been made by putting together pieces of other pictures, movies, or pieces of music. -2. a method of film editing in which many different shots are put together to form a single image or a series of images that changes very quickly.

Montana [mɒn'tænə] a mountainous state in the northwestern USA. ABBREVIATION: MT. SIZE: 381,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 799,065 (Montanans). CAPITAL: Helena.

Mont Blanc [ˌmɒnt'blɒŋ] the highest mountain in the Alps, situated between France and Italy. HEIGHT: 4,807 m.

Monte Carlo [ˌmɒntɪ'kɑ:lʊ] a town in Monaco that is famous for its casino and its annual motor race.

Montenegro [ˌmɒntə'ni:ɡrou] a republic of Yugoslavia, on the Adriatic coast, that remained with Serbia in the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia when the other republics became independent in the early 1990s. SIZE: 13,812 sq kms. POPULATION: 600,000 (Montenegrins). CAPITAL: Podgorica. LANGUAGE: Serbo-Croat. CURRENCY: Yugoslavian dinar.

Montevideo [ˌmɒntəvə'deɪəʊ] the capital of Uruguay in the south of the country. It is an important port. POPULATION: 1,346,000.

Montezuma [ˌmɒntɪ'zu:mə] (1466–1520) the last Aztec emperor to rule Mexico before the Spanish invasion.

Montgomery [mɒnt'ɡɒməri], Field Marshal (1887–1976) a British military leader. He was responsible for the British victory in the North African desert in World War II.

month [mʌnθ] n -1. one of the 12 periods that the year is divided into in the Western calendar □ during the winter months □ I saw her last month. □ in the month of March. -2. a period of about four weeks □ It happened about a month ago. □ It'll be ready in a few months.

monthly ['mʌnθli] (pl monthlies) ◇ adj [meeting, payment] that happens once a month. ◇ adv [meet, pay] once a month. ◇ n a magazine that is published once a month.

Montreal [ˌmɒntri:'ɔɪl] a port in southern Quebec, on the St Lawrence river. It is the largest city in Canada. POPULATION: 1,017,666.

monument ['mɒnjəmənt] n -1. a building or statue built to remind people of a famous person or event □ a monument to those who died in the war. -2. an old building that is an important part of the history of a country □ a tour of the city's historic monuments.

monumental [ˌmɒnjə'mentl] adj -1. [building, sculpture] very large. -2. [book, painting, influence] very important. -3. a monumental mistake/disaster etc a mistake/disaster etc that one thinks is very bad.

moo [mu:] (pl moos) ◇ n the sound that a cow makes. ◇ vi [cow] to make a moo.

mood [mu:d] n the state of somebody's feelings at a particular time □ I'm not in the mood to hear his excuses. □ What is the mood of the public/voters? ■ to be in a (bad) mood to feel unhappy at a particular time and behave in an unfriendly way to other people □ What's put you in such a bad mood? ■ to be in a good mood to feel cheerful at a particular time □ You seem to be in a good mood this morning.

moody ['mu:di] (compar moodier, superl moodi- est adj -1. [person] who is depressed and unfriendly. -2. [person] whose moods change often.

moon [mu:n] n -1. the moon the round mass of rock that moves around the Earth and can be seen in the sky at night □ man's first landing on the moon. ■ to be over the moon to be very happy about something that has happened (informal use) □ I was over the moon when I heard the news. -2. the moon as it appears from the Earth at a particular time □ a half moon □ The moon was reflected in the water. ■ once in a blue moon very rarely (informal use) □ They only come to visit us once in a blue moon. -3. a round mass of rock that moves regularly round a planet □ Jupiter has 16 moons.

moonbeam ['mu:nbi:m] n a ray of light from the moon.

moonlight ['mu:nlaɪt] (pt & pp moonlighted) ◇ n light that comes from the moon at night. ◇ vi to have a second job as well as one's main job, usually without declaring it officially □ He's been moonlighting as a waiter.

moonlighting ['mu:nlaɪtɪŋ] n the practice of doing a second job as well as one's main job, usually without declaring it officially.

moonlit ['mu:nlɪt] adj [night, valley] that is lit by the moon.

moonscape ['mu:nskɛɪp] n a bare area of land that looks like the surface of the moon.

moon shot n the launch of a spacecraft to the moon.

moonstone ['mu:nstəʊn] n a clear bluish-white stone used in jewelry.

moor [mʊə] ◇ n a large area of countryside that is usually covered with grass or heather and is not used for farming because of the poor quality of the soil. ◇ vt to attach  etc to land, a pier, or to another vessel, using ropes □ The boat was moored to the river bank. ◇ vi: We moored on the river bank.

Moor [mʊə] n a member of a Muslim people from North Africa who ruled Spain from 711 to 1492.

Moore [mʊə], Henry (1898–1986) a British sculptor, well known for his smooth rounded figures that often have holes in them.

moorhen ['mʊə'hɛn] n a black bird with a red beak that lives near water.

moorings ['mʊərɪŋz] npl the ropes, chains, and anchors used for mooring a boat, raft etc.

Moorish ['mʊərɪʃ] adj: see Moor □ Moorish architecture.

moorland ['mʊə'lænd] n land that consists of moors.

moose [mu:s] (pl moose) n a large North American deer with flat horns.

moot [mu:t] vt to be mooted GB [question, topic] to be suggested as a subject for discussion.

moot point n something that people have different opinions about and so is likely to cause disagreement.

mop [mɒp] (pt & pp mopped, cont mopping)

◇ n -1. a long stick with pieces of string or sponge at the end, used for washing floors. -2. a mop (of hair) a thick untidy mass of hair. ◇ vt -1. to wash  using a mop. -2. to mop one's face/brow to wipe the sweat from one's face/brow using a piece of cloth, especially a handkerchief or towel □ He mopped his forehead nervously.

◆ mop up vt sep to mop sth up [liquid, dirt] to remove sth by moving a mop over it □ Look at that mess! I suppose I'll have to mop it up!

mope [mɒp] vi to be unhappy and have no desire or energy to do things □ Don't just sit there moping.

◆ mope about, mope around vi to move around in an unhappy mood, with no particular purpose □ She just moped around in the house all day.

moped ['mɒpɪd] n a motorbike with a small engine and pedals.

moral ['mɒrəl] ◇ adj -1. a moral issue/principle etc an issue/principle etc connected with the question of what is right and wrong □ I believe that this is a moral, not a political, question. -2. [person] who behaves in a way that society considers to be good and proper □ moral responsible citizens. -3. to give sb moral support to show approval for what sb is doing and encourage, them to be brave, strong etc □ Will you come with me, just for moral support? ◇ n a lesson or message about how to behave that is contained in a story □ The moral of this story is — never trust anybody!

◆ morals npl people's belief about what is right and wrong.

morale [US mə'reɪl, GB -'rɔ:l] n the level of confidence and enthusiasm of a person or group of people at a particular time □ We need a win to boost our morale. □ Sales are down and morale is low.

moralistic [ˌmɒrə'lɪstɪk] adj [person, tone, attitude] that expresses strong moral views and judgments (disapproving use).

morality [mə'relətɪ] (pl moralities) n -1. a set of ideas or beliefs about what is right and wrong □ standards of public morality. -2. [of behavior, an action] the degree to which something is right □ I'm not questioning the morality of what he did.

moralize, -ise ['mɒrəlaɪz] vi to say what one thinks is right and wrong, especially when it is not appropriate □ He is always moralizing about or on other people's behavior.

morally ['mɒrəli] adv -1. morally wrong/acceptable etc wrong/acceptable etc according to principles of right and wrong. -2. [act, behave] in a way that is considered to be right and acceptable.

Moral Majority n the Moral Majority a term referring to conservative right-wing forces in the USA.

morass [mə'ræs] n [of detail, paperwork] a complicated and confused mass of something.

moratorium [ˌmɒrə'tɔ:riəm] (pl moratoria [-riə]) n an official agreement not to carry out a particular activity for a fixed period (formal use) □ a moratorium on arms dealing.

morbid ['mɔ:ˈbɪd] adj [person] who is too interested in death and unpleasant things; [fascination, imagination] that shows too much interest in death and unpleasant things □ Stop it! Now you're getting morbid. □ What a morbid thought!

more [mɔ:ˈ] adv -1. used to make the comparative form of adjectives and adverbs □ The hotel was a lot more expensive than I expected. □ He drove far more carefully after he'd had the accident. □ There are more places available on the course. □ I was sure I had more money than that. -2. to argue/travel etc more to argue/travel etc a greater amount than before □ People eat out in restaurants more than they used to. □ You'll have to practice more if you want to be a good tennis player. -3. to think/talk etc more to continue thinking/talking etc □ I feel we should discuss it some more before making a final decision. -4. once/twice more on one/two more occasions □ If you do that once more I'll get very angry! -5. phrases I'm more than happy to help I'm very willing to help □ If you need someone to read it, I'm more than happy to give my opinion. ■ we were more hurt than angry what is important is that we were hurt, not that we were angry □ It wasn't a serious crash — I think we were more shocked than anything else. ■ he's little more than a child he is only a child □ Look at her, she's little more than a baby.

◇ det -1. more time/food/money a larger amount of time/food/money □ You have more patience than I do. □ People have more leisure nowadays. ■ more meals/cars/people a larger number of meals/cars/people □ There are more trains during the rush hour. □ More than 70 people died in the earthquake. -2. more coffee/work/potatoes an extra amount of coffee/work/potatoes □ Help yourself to some more vegetables. □ I finished two more chapters today.

◇ pron -1. he has more than me he has a larger amount than me □ We're spending more of our time on administration. -2. if you want to know more if you want extra information □ I can't take much more of this hot weather! -3. phrases (and) what's more used to add an extra piece of information □ I don't know who he is and what's more I don't care! ■ what more do you want? it seems to me you should be satisfied with what you have □ You have a nice home, a good job, a new car. What more do you want?

◆ any more adv = anymore □ They are not clients of ours any more.

◆ more and more adv -1. he got more and more angry/depressed etc his anger/depression etc got greater as time passed. -2. more often □ I'm finding more and more that I have to check all his work. ◇ det: More and more people are moving out of the city. ◇ pron: We seem to spend more and more on taxi fares.

◆ more or less adv -1. more or less finished/true etc nearly finished/true etc but not totally □ She more or less suggested I had stolen it. -2. $500, more or less a little more or a little less than $500 □ It takes more or less an hour to get there.

More [mɔ:ˈ], Sir Thomas (1478–1535) an English politician and writer. He refused to recognize Henry VIII as head of the English Church, and was executed. He was made a saint by the Catholic Church.

moreover [mɔ:ˈrʊvə] adv a word used to introduce an extra piece of information in support of what one is saying (formal use) □ The equipment is very expensive. Moreover, we have no guarantee that it will work.

morgue [mɔ:ˈg] n a building where dead bodies are kept before they are buried.

moribund [ˈmɔ:ɪbʌnd] adj [industry, business] that is no longer efficient or useful and is coming to an end.

Mormon [ˈmɔ:ˈmɒn] n a member of a religious group, founded in the USA in 1830, whose beliefs are based on the writings of Joseph Smith. Mormons have a strict code of moral behavior and work as missionaries.

morning [ˈmɔ:ˈnɪŋ] n -1. the hours of daylight before noon □ a morning meal/walk □ I worked all morning. □ I'm free on Friday morning. ■ in the morning every morning or most mornings; tomorrow morning □ They work in the morning and have a siesta in the afternoon. □ See you in the morning! -2. the hours between midnight and noon □ at three o'clock in the morning.

◆ mornings adv US every morning or most mornings.

morning-after pill n a pill that a woman can take up to 72 hours after having sex to prevent her from becoming pregnant.

morning dress n formal clothes, usually including tails and a top hat, that are worn by men at daytime ceremonies, especially weddings.

morning sickness n sickness that some women get in the mornings during the early part of a pregnancy.

Moroccan [məˈrɒkən] n & adj: see Morocco.

Morocco [məˈrɒkəʊ] a country in North Africa, on the Mediterranean and the Atlantic Ocean. SIZE: 710,000 sq kms (including Western Sahara). POPULATION: 28,000,000 (Moroccans). CAPITAL: Rabat. LANGUAGE: Arabic, Berber. CURRENCY: Moroccan dirham.

moron [ˈmɔ:ˈrɒn] n a person that one thinks is stupid (informal use) □ What a bunch of morons!

moronic [məˈrɒnɪk] adj [expression, behavior] that one thinks is stupid.

morose [məˈrɒs] adj [person] who seems bad-tempered, unhappy, and does not say much □ He just stood there looking morose.

morphine [ˈmɔ:ˈfi:n] n a strong painkilling drug made from opium.

morphing [ˈmɔ:ˈfɪŋ] n the use of computer graphics to blend one image into another.

Morris [ˈmɒrəs], William (1834–1896) a British craftsman and writer, who designed and made furniture and wallpaper.

morris dancing [ˈmɒrəs-] n a style of traditional English dancing done by a group of people wearing white costumes with bells attached to them.

Morse (code) [ˌmɔː's-] n an international code for sending messages in which letters are represented by dots and dashes and can be signaled as short and long sounds or flashes of light.

morsel ['mɔːsl] n a small piece or amount of something, especially food.

mortal ['mɔːtl] adj -1. [person, being] who will not live for ever. -2. [wound, blow] that results in somebody's death. -3. mortal combat a fight between people who are trying to kill each other. -4. mortal fear/danger etc extreme fear/danger etc □ He lived in mortal fear of arrest. □ mortal enemies. ◇ n an ordinary person who does not have an important position or special powers □ Are you going to come and sit with us lesser mortals?

mortality [mɔː'ɪtələti] n -1. [of person] see mortal □ When he died I suddenly became conscious of my own mortality. -2. the number of people who die in a particular place or situation □ Infant mortality reached a peak in that year.

mortality rate n the rate at which people die.

mortally ['mɔːtəli] adv mortally wounded wounded so badly that one will die. ■ mortally afraid/offended extremely afraid/offended.

mortar ['mɔːtə] n -1. CONSTRUCTION a mixture of cement, sand, and water that is put between bricks to keep them attached to each other in a wall. -2. MILITARY an artillery gun with a short barrel that fires bombs high into the air over a short distance □ a mortar bomb. -3. [for crushing things] a bowl in which one crushes things, especially food, into small pieces or powder.

mortarboard ['mɔːtə'bɔːrd] n a black cap with a flat square top that is worn by university students and teachers on formal occasions, usually graduation ceremonies.

mortgage ['mɔːgɪdʒ] ◇ n a sum of money that somebody borrows from a bank, usually to buy a house or a piece of land □ mortgage repayments □ We have a $100,000 mortgage on the house. ◇ vt [house, land] to use <property> as a guarantee when borrowing money so that one will lose it if one fails to repay the money.

mortgagee [ˌmɔː'gə'dʒiː] n a person who lends money to another person and will have the right to own that person's property if they do not repay the loan.

mortgagor [ˌmɔː'gə'dʒɔː] n a person who borrows money from a mortgagee.

mortician [mɔː'tɪʃn] n US a person whose job is to arrange funerals and prepare bodies for burial.

mortified ['mɔːtəfaɪd] adj to be mortified [person] to be ashamed, embarrassed, or shocked because of doing something wrong or stupid □ I can't believe I crashed his new car — I was mortified!

mortise lock ['mɔːtəs-] n a lock that fits in a hole cut into the frame of a door.

mortuary ['mɔːtʃuəri] (pl mortuaries) n a building or part of a hospital where dead bodies are kept before they are buried.

mosaic [mou'zeɪk] n a picture or pattern made of many small pieces of colored glass or stone.

Moscow [US 'mɔːskəʊ, GB 'mɒskəʊ] the capital of Russia and its largest city. POPULATION: 8,967,000.

Moses ['mouzəz] in the Bible, the prophet who led the Jews out of Egypt, when God made a path across the Red Sea. He also received the Ten Commandments from God.

Moslem ['mɒzləm] adj & n = Muslim.

mosque [mɒsk] n a building where Muslims worship.

mosquito [mə'ski:təʊ] (pl mosquitoes OR mosquitos) n a small flying insect, the female of which bites people and sucks their blood. Mosquitoes can spread malaria.

mosquito net n a net that hangs over a bed or the entrance to a tent as a protection against mosquitoes.

moss [mɒs] n a plant with very small leaves that grows in a thick soft mass on stone, trees, or damp soil.

mossy ['mɒsi] (compar mossier, superl mossiest) adj [steps, stone] covered in moss.

most [məʊst] ◇ det -1. most people/money/food etc nearly all people/money/food etc □ In most cases the police had to intervene. □ Most tourists here are Japanese. □ You can buy it at most good hardware stores. □ I like most modern furniture. -2. (the) most cars/votes etc the largest number of cars/votes etc. ■ (the) most money/food etc the largest amount of money/food etc □ The person with the most correct answers wins a prize.

◇ pron -1. most of the people/money/food etc nearly all the people/money/food etc □ John drank most of the wine: I only had one glass. □ Most of my earnings go on food and rent. □ We spent most of the time playing cards and chatting. -2. (the) most the largest amount □ Of the three of us, Kate travels the most. □ I think that's the most we can hope to achieve. -3. phrase to make the most of sth to get the most benefit for oneself from sth □ It's a great opportunity, so I intend to make the most of it.

◇ adv -1. used to make the superlative of adjectives and adverbs □ The most interesting part of the job is dealing with clients. □ The message that came across most strongly was the need to involve parents. -2. to like/value/enjoy sth most to like/value/enjoy sth more than anything else □ What I fear most is losing contact with the children. -3. most kind/interesting etc very kind/interesting etc (formal use) □ That was a most enjoyable meal.

◆ at (the) most adv it will cost $400, at most $400 is the maximum amount it will cost.

mostly ['məʊstli] adv in most cases; most of the time □ The applicants were mostly young women. □ We export a lot, mostly to Europe. □ Mostly I work at home.

MOT (pl & pp MOT'd [ˌemou'ti:d], cont MOT'ing)

- [ˌemou'ti:ŋ]) (abbr of Ministry of Transport) ◇ n in Britain, an annual technical and safety examination of cars over three years old. It is illegal to drive a car that has not passed its MOT. ◇ vt: I'll have to get the car MOT'd next week.
- motel [mou'tel] n a hotel that is usually basic and cheap and is used by people traveling by car, with parking spaces near each room.
- moth [mθ] n an insect like a butterfly that flies at night and is attracted to lights.
- mothball ['mθbɔ:l] n a small ball of a chemical substance with a strong smell that people put in their clothes to prevent moths from eating and damaging them.
- moth-eaten [-i:tŋ] adj [pullover, coat, sofa] that is old, untidy, and has holes in it.
- mother ['mʌðə] ◇ n -1. the female parent of a person or animal □ She's a mother of three. □ You look like your mother. -2. a word used to address one's mother □ Hello, mother. ◇ vt to behave like a mother toward <sb> by being too kind and worrying too much about them.
- motherboard ['mʌðə'bo:rd] n the main printed circuit board in a computer, containing most of the components, to which expansion cards can be added.
- Mother Earth an imaginary person, used as a symbol for the Earth.
- Mother Goose US an imaginary person who is supposed to have written nursery rhymes.
- motherhood ['mʌðə'hud] n the state of being a mother.
- Mother Hubbard [-'hʌbəd] a character in a nursery rhyme. She is a poor old woman whose food cupboard is empty.
- mother-in-law (pl mothers-in-law OR mother-in-laws) n the mother of one's husband or wife.
- motherland ['mʌðə'lænd] n the country that one was born in and feels attached to.
- motherless ['mʌðə'ləs] adj [child] who has no mother.
- motherly ['mʌðə'lɪ] adj [woman] who is caring, warm, and kind.
- Mother Nature an imaginary person, used as a symbol for nature.
- mother-of-pearl n a hard, shiny, pale substance found inside the shells of some shellfish, used in jewelry and ornaments □ a mother-of-pearl brooch/ring.
- Mother's Day n a day when people give cards or flowers to their mother as a sign of love and appreciation.
- mother ship n a ship that provides supplies for smaller ships.
- mother superior n the nun in charge of a convent.
- Mother Teresa [-tə'ri:zə] (1910–) a Catholic nun, well known for her work helping poor and sick people in India.
- mother-to-be (pl mothers-to-be) n a pregnant woman.
- mother tongue n the language that one learns first and, usually, that one speaks most.
- motif [mou'ti:f] n -1. [on clothes, wallpaper] a single shape that is repeated to make a pattern. -2. [in music, literature] a theme that is repeated throughout a piece of work.
- motion ['mouʃn] ◇ n -1. the process of moving □ The motion of the boat made him feel sick.
 ■ to set sth in motion [process, event] to cause sth to start happening □ Once we have all the papers, we can set things in motion for the trial. -2. [of one's body] a gesture or movement made with a part of the body □ He made a motion as if to step back. ■ to go through the motions to do something without caring about it or being interested in it □ Since I gave in my notice I've just been going through the motions, really. -3. [in a debate, meeting] a proposal □ The motion today is "Nuclear power: good or evil?"
 ◇ vt to motion sb to do sth to show sb that one wants them to do sth by moving one's hand, head etc □ He motioned me to take a seat.
 ◇ vi to motion to sb to make a sign to sb, usually with one's hand, telling them to do something.
- motionless ['mouʃnləs] adj [person, vehicle] that is not moving at all □ She sat, motionless, staring at the photograph.
- motion picture n a movie made for the cinema.
- motion sickness n sickness that is caused by traveling on a ship, plane etc.
- motivate ['moutəveɪt] vt -1. [act, decision] to be the reason for <sth> □ He was motivated entirely by the desire for revenge. -2. [student, employee] to give <sb> the desire or enthusiasm to do something □ If you can motivate them to be interested, I'm sure they could do very well.
- motivated ['moutəveɪtəd] adj [person, workforce] that has enthusiasm and is willing to try to achieve something □ Marianne's a highly motivated student.
- motivation [,moutə'veɪʃn] n -1. the reason for doing something □ What was your motivation for leaving? -2. a feeling of enthusiasm and willingness to try to achieve something □ He lacks motivation.
- motive ['moutɪv] n [for an action, crime] the reason somebody has for doing something □ Do the police know what the motive was?
- motley ['mɒtli] adj a motley collection/assortment many different kinds of people or things, usually considered to be unusual or of low quality.
- motocross ['moutoukrɒs] n the sport of racing motorcycles over rough ground.
- motor ['moutə] ◇ n a device in a vehicle or machine, e.g. a lawnmower or electric razor, that changes electricity or fuel into movement □ an electric motor. ◇ adj a motor show/mechanic for cars, trucks etc □ the motor industry. ◇ vi to travel by car (old-fashioned use).

motorbike ['moutə'baɪk] n a motorcycle (informal use).

motorboat ['moutə'bout] n a boat that is powered by a motor.

motorcade ['moutə'keɪd] n a line of motor vehicles that are carrying or protecting important people during an official ceremony.

motorcar ['moutə'kɑːr] n GB a car (formal use).

motorcycle ['moutə'saɪkl] n a motor vehicle on two wheels like a type of bicycle, but heavier and with an engine.

motorcyclist ['moutə'saɪklɪst] n a person who rides a motorcycle.

motoring ['moutərɪŋ] GB ◇ adj a motoring offence/magazine etc an offense/a magazine etc that is connected with motor vehicles or driving. ◇ n travel by car (old-fashioned use).

motorist ['moutərɪst] n a person who drives a car.

motorized, -ised ['moutəraɪzd] adj -1. [troops, regiment] that is equipped with motor vehicles. -2. [vehicle, wheelchair] that has a motor.

motor lodge n US a motel.

motor racing n the sport of racing cars.

motor scooter n a motorcycle with small wheels that does not go very fast and is sometimes started using a pedal.

motor vehicle n a vehicle with an engine, used especially on roads (formal use). ■ Department of Motor Vehicles the US agency responsible for license plates and drivers' licenses.

motorway ['moutə'weɪ] n GB a wide road, usually with three lanes in each direction, on which cars, trucks etc can drive long distances at high speeds □ a motorway accident.

Motown ['moutaʊn] an informal name for Detroit, Michigan.

mottled ['mɒtlɪd] adj [skin, leaf] that has small areas or spots of different shapes and colors □ He had a mottled complexion.

motto ['mɒtəʊ] (pl mottos OR motatoes) n a phrase used by a person or organization to express their main aim or beliefs □ the school motto □ Our motto is "Never give up."

mould etc GB = mold etc.

moult vt & vi GB = molt.

mound [maʊnd] n -1. a rounded pile of earth or stones; a very small hill. -2. [of papers, books] a large untidy pile □ She looked sadly at the mound of work awaiting her attention. -3. BASEBALL the rounded pile of earth that the pitcher stands on in a game of baseball.

mount [maʊnt] ◇ n -1. [for a photograph, jewel, medal] something that holds an object in a fixed position. -2. a horse, pony, or donkey that one can ride. -3. a word used as part of the name of a mountain □ Mount Ararat.

◇ vt -1. to climb onto  in order to ride it. -2. [male animal] to climb onto  in order to breed. -3. [stairs, hill, ladder] to go up <sthg> (formal use). -4. [attack, campaign, challenge] to prepare and carry out <sthg> □ We're mounting an exhibition of Native American art. ■ to mount guard over sb/sthg to guard sb/sthg. -5. [trophy, jewel, component] to fix <sthg> in or on something that frames it and holds it in place □ Mount the photo on stiff cardboard.

◇ vi -1. [sales, support, tension] to increase □ His debts were mounting rapidly. -2. [person] to climb onto a horse or bicycle.

◆ mount up vi [work, debts, savings] to increase gradually □ I've been earning plenty of money, but the bills just keep mounting up.

mountain ['maʊntən] n -1. a very large high hill □ the sport of mountain climbing □ a mountain village/road/goat. ■ to make a mountain out of a molehill to make a small problem or matter seem more important than it is. -2. a mountain of sthg a very large amount of sthg that is more than one can deal with □ I've got mountains of work to do. □ a mountain of letters/laundry/food.

mountain bike n a strong bicycle with several gears and thick tires for riding over rough ground.

mountaineer [,maʊntə'nɪə] n a person who is trained in mountaineering.

mountaineering [,maʊntə'nɪərɪŋ] n the sport of climbing mountains using special equipment.

mountainous ['maʊntənəs] adj [region, country, terrain] that has a lot of mountains.

mountain range n a long row of mountains.

mountain rescue n a service consisting of people and equipment that saves people who are injured while walking or climbing in hilly areas □ a mountain rescue team/helicopter.

mounted ['maʊntəd] adj [police, soldier] who rides a horse as part of their job.

Mountie ['maʊnti] n a member of the mounted police force in Canada (informal use).

mourn [mɔːn] ◇ vt to feel or show great sadness at the death of <sb>; to feel very sad about <sthg that has gone> □ The nation mourns his death. □ They mourned the passing of their youth. ◇ vi: He mourns for traditional values. □ We mustn't mourn over what is past.

mourner ['mɔːnə] n a person who goes to a funeral □ The mourners passed silently.

mournful ['mɔːnfl] adj [occasion, expression, voice] that seems sad; [sound, music] that makes one feel sad.

mourning ['mɔːnɪŋ] n -1. a period of great sadness that people feel or show after the death of somebody □ a day of mourning. -2. clothes, usually black, that are worn to show one's sadness at the death of somebody. ■ to be in mourning to behave or be dressed in a way that expresses one's sadness at the death of somebody □ She was in mourning for her husband.

mouse [maʊs] (pl mice) n -1. a small white, brown, or gray animal that is covered in fur, has a long tail and a pointed nose, and is found in houses, fields etc. -2. COMPUTING a small device attached to a computer by a cable that enables one to give instructions to the computer without using the keyboard, by moving it across a flat surface or by pressing its buttons.

mouse mat n a mat for placing a computer mouse on.

mousetrap ['maustræp] n a device, worked by a spring, that catches and kills mice.

moussaka [mu'ssɑ:kə] n a Greek dish made with meat, eggplant, and cheese.

mousse [mu:rs] n -1. a light dish made from egg whites, cream, and flavorings that is usually eaten when it is cold □ a chocolate/salmon mousse. -2. a white foamy substance used for fixing one's hair in a particular position or to make it seem thicker.

moustache n GB = mustache.

mouth [n mauθ, pl mauðz, vt mauð] ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal] the space inside the head, behind the lips, where the teeth and tongue are; the part of the face where the lips are □ Breathe through your mouth. □ Don't eat with your mouth open. ■ to keep one's mouth shut to make sure that one does not talk about something that is secret (informal use) □ You'd better keep your mouth shut about this, or you'll be sorry. -2. [of a river] the place where a river joins the sea □ a river mouth. -3. [of a cave, tunnel] the entrance of a cave or tunnel.

◇ vt -1. to form  with one's lips without making any sound □ "Hello!" she mouthed silently. -2. [excuse, apology] to say <sthg> without really meaning it □ She appeared on the news, mouthing the usual explanations and regrets.

mouthful ['mauθfl] n -1. [of food, drink] an amount of food or drink that one puts into one's mouth, or that fills one's mouth □ He took a mouthful — "This is good," he said. □ I can't believe she was smoking between mouthfuls! -2. a word or phrase that is difficult to say, especially because it is long or in a foreign language (informal and humorous use) □ Szymanowski? That's a bit of a mouthful!

mouthorgan ['mauθɔ:rgən] n a small musical instrument that is moved from side to side across one's lips and blown or sucked to make a sound.

mouthpiece ['mauθpi:s] n -1. [of a telephone] the part of the telephone that one speaks into. -2. [of an instrument] the part of a musical instrument that one blows into. -3. [of a person, organization] a person, newspaper etc that is used by a person or organization to tell the public their opinions □ The newspaper is the party's official mouthpiece.

mouth-to-mouth adj mouth-to-mouth resuscitation a way of keeping somebody breathing by blowing air into their lungs with one's mouth on their mouth, while holding their nose □ A paramedic gave the victim mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

mouth ulcer n a small, round, sore area of skin on the inside of the mouth.

mouthwash ['mauθwɒʃ] n a liquid used for cleaning one's mouth and for making one's breath smell fresh, and that one does not swallow □ Try gargling with mouthwash.

mouth-watering [-wɔ:tərɪŋ] adj [food, meal, snack] that looks or smells delicious; [smell, picture] that makes one want to eat the food that one can smell or see.

movable ['mu:vəbl] adj [parts, furniture] that can be moved □ The doll has movable arms and legs.

move [mu:v] ◇ vt -1. [object, vehicle, person] to change the position or place that <sb/sthg> is in □ Could you move your head out of the way, please, I can't see. □ The company is moving him to its head office in Hong Kong. -2. to move house/jobs etc to leave one's house/job etc and go to a new one □ We're moving offices next September. -3. [person] to cause <sb> to feel a strong emotion such as sadness or pity etc □ Her audience was moved to tears. □ I was deeply moved by what I saw. -4. [amendment, proposal] to suggest <sthg> formally in a meeting □ I move that Frances Barrat be appointed as treasurer. -5. to be OR feel moved to do sthg to do sthg because one has strong feelings about it (formal use) □ He was moved to protest.

◇ vi -1. to change position or place □ I called her name but she didn't move. □ The traffic hasn't moved for the past ten minutes. -2. to act □ We're going to have to move fast to win this contract. -3. to leave one's old home, job, school etc and go to a new one □ They're moving to a smaller office in town. □ He's moving to the accounting department after Christmas.

◇ n -1. to make a move to make a physical movement □ It's getting late: shall we make a move? □ She made a sudden move toward the door. ■ to be on the move to be going from one place to another □ Her father worked for the UN so they were always on the move. ■ to get a move on to hurry (informal use) □ For goodness' sake, get a move on, we're late! -2. [from home] the act of leaving one's old home, job, school etc to go to a new one □ We're still settling in after the move. -3. GAMES the act of moving a piece from one square to another; any of the ways in which the rules of a game say this can be done □ It's your move. □ I can never remember the different moves in chess. -4. [in a situation] one of a series of things that one does in order to deal with a situation □ Let's wait for them to make the first move. □ His first move will be to try and restore confidence. □ It's a good career move.

◆ move about vi = move around.

◆ move along ◇ vi [crowd, passengers, spectators] to keep going further along a road, bus, train etc to avoid blocking the way □ Move along, please, and let the ambulance through! ◇ vt sep ■ to move sb along to tell sb to move away from a public place, e.g. because they are blocking the way □ The police tried to move the onlookers along.

◆ move around vi -1. [person, animal] to make repeated small movements, especially because one is bored or uncomfortable □ I could hear someone moving around in the next room. -2. to travel from one place to another □ We moved around a lot because my Dad was in the army when I was young.

- ◆ move away vi [person] to go to live in a different place □ They moved away from the area after he lost his job.
 - ◆ move in ◇ vi [person, couple, family] to start living in a new house, office etc □ There's a new tenant moving in upstairs. ◇ vt sep [police, reinforcements, troops] to bring <sb/sthg> to a place in order to deal with a difficult situation □ They're moving in the heavy artillery.
 - ◆ move off vi [bus, car] to start moving away slowly from a place □ The train moved off, leaving a crowd of reporters on the platform.
 - ◆ move on ◇ vt sep to move sb on [drunk person, spectator] to cause sb to go away from a public place □ Police moved the demonstrators on. ◇ vi -1. to leave a place or activity for somewhere or something new □ We spend a week in Venice, then move on to Rome. □ I've done three years in this job, and it's time to move on. -2. to stop talking about a particular subject and start talking about something else □ Let's move on rapidly to our next item.
 - ◆ move out vi -1. to leave one's house and go and live somewhere else □ He moved out without paying the rent. -2. [troops, army] to leave a place □ UN forces are moving out of the capital.
 - ◆ move over vi to change position, especially to make room for somebody or something else □ Move over so that we can sit down too.
- moveable ['mu:vəbl] adj = movable.
- movement ['mu:vmənt] n -1. [of one's body] the action of changing one's body from one position to another □ The neighbors are back home, I heard movements upstairs this morning. □ Tight clothes make movement difficult. □ Don't make any sudden movements. □ He made a sawing movement with his hand. □ her graceful movements. -2. [in a place] the action of moving or traveling from one place to another □ troop movement □ Our movement within the country is restricted by law. □ freedom of movement. -3. [of goods] the action of transporting goods from one place to another. -4. [in a situation] a development or change □ There is a movement towards community service instead of prison sentences for certain offenses. □ There has been little movement on the stock market share prices. -5. [of people, campaigners] a group of people who have the same beliefs, aims etc and who work together to persuade other people that these aims and beliefs are right □ the terrorist/women's/gay rights movement. -6. MUSIC one of the main sections of a long piece of classical music such as a symphony.
- movie ['mu:vi] n a story, report etc in the form of moving pictures, usually with sound, that is shown on television or at a movie theater □ Have you been to any good movies lately? □ a horror movie □ the movie screen.
- movie camera n a camera used for making movies.
- moviegoer ['mu:viɡouə] n a person who often goes to the movie theater.
- movie star n an actor or actress who is well - known and successful because of the movies they have made.

- movie theater n US a place where people go to watch movies.
- moving ['mu:vɪŋ] adj -1. [tale, scene, photo] that makes one feel strong emotions, especially sadness and pity □ His performance/speech was very moving. -2. moving parts the parts of a machine that move when it is working □ 'Danger: deep water and moving machinery.'
- moving staircase n a staircase that moves and carries people to different levels in a large building, public area etc.
- mow [mou] (pt mowed, pp mowed OR mown) vt -1. [lawn] to cut <an area of grass> using a lawnmower. -2. [corn, wheat] to cut  using a machine or a tool held in the hand; to cut the crops or grass in .
- ◆ mow down vt sep to mow people down to injure or kill several people with a weapon or a car.
- mower ['mouə] n = lawnmower.
- mown [moun] past participle of mow.
- Mozambique [ˌmouzæm'bi:k] a country in southeastern Africa, on the Indian Ocean, north of South Africa. SIZE: 785,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 16,100,000 (Mozambicans). CAPITAL: Maputo. LANGUAGE: Portuguese. CURRENCY: metical.
- Mozart ['moutsa:ɪt], Wolfgang Amadeus (1756–1791) an Austrian composer, considered to be one of the greatest of all time. He wrote 41 symphonies, many piano concertos, and several operas, including The Marriage of Figaro and The Magic Flute.
- MP n -1. abbr of Member of Parliament. -2. abbr of military police. -3. (abbr of Mounted Police) the official name for the Mounties.
- mpg (abbr of miles per gallon) a way of measuring the amount of fuel used by a motor vehicle.
- mph (abbr of miles per hour) a way of measuring the speed of a vehicle.
- MPhil [em'fɪl] (abbr of Master of Philosophy) n GB a postgraduate degree that is higher than a master's degree and lower than a PhD; a person who has this degree.
- MPS (abbr of Member of the Pharmaceutical Society) n a member of the professional association for pharmacists in Britain.
- Mr ['mɪstə] -1. a title used to refer to a man □ Mr Jones □ Mr Richard Smith. -2. a word used to talk to men in certain official positions, and which comes before the title of their position □ Mr President □ Mr Chairman.
- MRC (abbr of Medical Research Council) n the British government department responsible for organizing and funding medical research.
- MRCP (abbr of Member of the Royal College of Physicians) n a member of a professional association for doctors in Britain.
- MRCs (abbr of Member of the Royal College of Surgeons) n a member of a professional association for surgeons in Britain.
- MRCVS (abbr of Member of the Royal College - of Veterinary Surgeons n a member of a professional association for veterinarians in Britain.

- Mrs [ˈmɪsɪz] a title for a married woman, usually followed by her husband's family name. Many people now prefer to use the title Ms in writing □ Mrs Jones □ Mr and Mrs Richard Smith □ Mrs Alice Baker.
- ms. abbr of manuscript.
- Ms [mɪz] a written title for a woman that does not state whether she is married or not □ Ms Jones □ Ms Clare Jones.
- MS ◇ -1. abbr of manuscript. -2. abbr of Mississippi. ◇ n US = MSc.
- MS, ms n abbr of multiple sclerosis.
- MSA (abbr of Master of Science in Agriculture) n GB a postgraduate degree in agricultural science; a person who has this degree.
- MSB (abbr of most significant bit/byte) n COMPUTING the bit or byte that has the greatest value.
- MSc (abbr of Master of Science) n a postgraduate degree in science; a person who has this degree.
- MSF (abbr of Manufacturing Science and Finance) n the MSF a large British labor union for engineering, science, and technology professionals.
- MSG n abbr of monosodium glutamate.
- Msgr abbr of Monsignor.
- MST (abbr of Mountain Standard Time) n the local time in the Rocky Mountain region of North America.
- MSW (abbr of Master of Social Work) n a postgraduate degree in social work; a person who has this degree.
- Mt abbr of mount.
- MT ◇ n (abbr of machine translation) COMPUTING a system that translates text and commands from one language to another. ◇ abbr of Montana.
- much [mʌtʃ] (compar more, superl most) ◇ adv -1. a lot □ Did it hurt much? ■ much better/quicker a lot better/quicker (used with comparatives) □ She's much more relaxed now she's had a break. □ It's much too cold to go out. ■ to be much admired/appreciated to be admired/ appreciated a lot (used with passive forms of verbs) □ Her health is much improved. ■ so OR very much a lot (used with verbs for emphasis) □ I very much hope you will come. □ Thank you so much for all your help. -2. we don't talk/go out much we don't talk/go out very often (used in negative sentences). -3. phrase much the same almost the same □ He looked much the same as before. ◇ det we don't have much time/money we have only a small amount of time/money (used in questions and negative sentences) □ How much fabric do you need for a skirt? □ It didn't do much good. ■ too much coffee/time too large an amount of coffee/time □ We've spent so much/too much money on it already. ■ he takes much pleasure/pride in it he takes great pleasure/pride in it (formal use). ◇ pron: There is much we still have to learn. □
- There's not much of a difference between them.* □ I've had as much as I can stand! □ You drink too much. □ How much did you pay for it? □ Much of the time she was preoccupied and sad. □ I haven't been much of a help to you, have I? ■ he's not much of a cook he's not very good at cooking. ■ nothing much nothing interesting or important □ "What did you do last night?" — "Nothing much." ■ so much for... used when the speaker feels disappointed by something □ Well, so much for all his fancy ideas about living abroad! ■ I thought as much! I had already guessed this and so am not surprised □ "I need to borrow some money." — "I thought as much!" ■ it's not up to much it's not very good (informal use) □ This wine isn't up to much.
- ◆ much as conj although □ Much as I like him, I wouldn't want to work with him.
- much-vaunted [-ˈvɔːntəd] adj a much-vaunted achievement/plan an achievement/a plan that people speak about in a proud way that is not necessarily justified.
- muck [mʌk] n (informal use) -1. mud or dirt. -2. manure.
- ◆ muck about, muck around GB (informal use) ◇ vt sep to muck sb about OR around to treat sb badly by changing plans that affect them or by not being honest with them □ Stop mucking me about! ◇ vi to do silly or unimportant things when one should be working or concentrating or something □ She's been mucking about in the garage all day and hasn't done any work.
- ◆ muck in vi GB to join in an activity in order to help (informal use) □ Here's the soap and some cleaning cloths — I suggest you all just muck in!
- ◆ muck out vt sep to muck a stable/cowshed etc out to clean a stable/cowshed etc.
- ◆ muck up vt sep (informal use) -1. to muck sthg up [exam, interview] to do sthg very badly □ "How did it go?" — "I think I mucked up the final question." -2. to muck sthg up [plan] to spoil sthg □ Well, that's mucked up our quiet weekend.
- muckraking ['mʌkreɪkɪŋ] n the practice of searching for and printing personal and unpleasant information about well-known people (disapproving use).
- mucky ['mʌki] (compar muckier, superl muckiest) adj [clothes, shoes, child] covered in dirt (informal use) □ Look at you, you're all mucky!
- mucus ['mjuːkəs] n a thick liquid produced in some parts of the body, e.g. the nose.
- mud [mʌd] n a thick substance formed when earth mixes with water.
- muddle ['mʌdl] ◇ n -1. [of finances, clothes, list] a state of confusion; a mistake caused by confusion □ My papers are in a terrible muddle. □ There's been a muddle over the tickets. -2. to be in a muddle [person] to be in a confused state that is caused by trying to do something complicated □ I've gotten into such a muddle with these accounts. □ I'm in a muddle about what they told me to do. ◇ vt -1. [papers, finances] to put <sthg> into a state of disorder.

- der □ Be careful not to muddle the pages. -2. [person] to make <sb> confused □ Now you've gone and muddled him.
- ◆ muddle along vi to live one's life without having any clear plan or purpose □ "How are things?" — "Oh, you know, we muddle along."
- ◆ muddle through vi to succeed in doing something difficult, without having a clear plan or the knowledge of how to do it □ We'll just have to try to muddle through.
- ◆ muddle up vt sep to muddle sth up to mix up sth accidentally □ I muddled up the customs declarations with the tax returns. □ She always muddles her grandsons' names up.
- muddy ['mʌdɪ] (compar muddier, superl muddiest, pt & pp muddied) ◇ adj -1. [floor, boots] that is covered in mud; [field, ditch] that contains mud. -2. [color] that is like the color of mud □ a dull muddy green. ◇ vt [issue, situation, thinking] to make <sth> difficult to understand.
- mudflap ['mʌdflæp] n a piece of material, e.g. rubber, that hangs behind each wheel of a vehicle to stop mud from splashing upward.
- mudflat ['mʌdflæt] n an area of land that is covered by the sea when the water rises and where no plants grow.
- mudguard ['mʌdɡɑ:rd] n a curved piece of metal above the top and back of each bicycle wheel that stops mud from splashing upward.
- mudpack ['mʌdpræk] n a special type of mud that is put on the face to cleanse the skin.
- mudslinging ['mʌdʃliŋɪŋ] n the practice of criticizing people in public by saying unpleasant and often untrue things about them.
- muesli ['mju:zli] n a mixture of different grains, nuts, and dried fruit, usually eaten for breakfast with milk or yogurt.
- muff [mʌf] ◇ n fur or other material sewn to form a tube which one puts one's hands into to keep them warm. ◇ vt (informal use) -1. to muff a catch to miss a catch. -2. to muff a chance to miss a chance.
- muffin ['mʌfn] n -1. a small cake □ blueberry muffins. -2. a small, round, sweet bread roll that is eaten hot, usually with butter.
- muffle ['mʌfl] vt [scream, voice] to make  less loud and clear.
- muffled ['mʌfld] adj -1. [sound, scream, voice] that is quiet and unclear □ I could hear a muffled conversation going on in the next room. -2. to be muffled (up) [person] to be wearing a lot of thick warm clothes.
- muffler ['mʌflə] n US a tube fitted to the exhaust pipe of a motor vehicle to make it quieter.
- mug [mʌg] (pt & pp mugged, cont mugging) ◇ n -1. a large cup with straight sides and a handle; the contents of this cup □ She handed him a large mug of tea. -2. a face (informal use) □ I'm tired of looking at your ugly mug! ◇ vt to attack <sb>, usually in the street, in order to steal their money, jewelry etc □ He won't go out late for fear of getting mugged.
- mugger ['mʌgə] n a person who has mugged somebody.
- mugging ['mʌgɪŋ] n the act of mugging somebody □ Mugging is on the increase. □ There's been a spate of muggings in the area.
- muggy ['mʌgɪ] (compar muggier, superl muggiest) adj [weather, air] that feels unpleasantly warm, damp, and heavy.
- mugshot ['mʌʃɒt] n a photograph taken by the police that shows the head and shoulders of somebody who has been charged with a crime (informal use).
- Muhammad [mou'hæməd] (570–632) the Arab prophet and founder of Islam, a religion based on the Koran which was revealed to him by God.
- mujaheddin [ˌmu:dʒæ'hɛ'di:n] npl the mujaheddin fundamentalist Muslim armed forces.
- mulatto ▽ [mjʊ'lætəʊ] (pl mulattos OR mulattoes) n a person who has one black and one white parent (offensive use).
- mule [mjʊ:l] n an animal that is the young of a female horse and a male donkey, and is used to carry heavy loads.
- mull [mʌl] ◆ mull over vt sep to mull sth over [question, problem, offer] to think about sth for a long time □ This should give them something to mull over.
- mullah ['mʌlə] n a Muslim teacher of law and religion.
- mulled wine [ˌmʌld-] n wine, flavored with sugar and spices, that is served warm.
- mullet ['mʌlət] (pl mullet OR mullets) n a small sea fish that can be eaten.
- mulligatawny [ˌmʌləgə'tɔ:ni] n a soup containing hot spices.
- mullioned ['mʌljənd] adj [window] that has thin pieces of wood, metal, or stone between each section of glass.
- multi- ['mʌltɪ] prefix added to words to mean that something has or involves many things of a particular kind □ a multi-talented player.
- multiaccess ['mʌltɪækses] adj [computing, system] that allows several computer users to use one file or program at the same time.
- multicolored US, multicoloured GB [ˌmʌlti-ˈkʌlərd] adj that has many different colors.
- multicultural [ˌmʌltiˈkʌltʃrəl] adj [society, education] that includes different customs, from people of different races.
- multifarious [ˌmʌltiˈfeəriəs] adj [activities, interests] that are many or of many different kinds.
- multilateral [ˌmʌltɪˈlætərəl] adj [disarmament, agreement, talks] that involves more than two countries or groups □ A multilateral trade embargo will take force immediately.
- multimedia [ˌmʌltiˈmi:diə] n -1. the use of different media, e.g. television, slides, or computers. -2. COMPUTING a computer system or product that can show data in different forms, e.g. graphics, sound, and moving pictures.
- multimillionaire [ˌmʌltɪmɪljə'neəri] n a person who has several million dollars, pounds etc.

- multinational [ˌmʌltɪˈnæʃnəl] ◇ adj [company, corporation] that has offices, factories etc in many countries. ◇ n a multinational company or corporation.
- multiple [ˈmʌltəpl] ◇ adj -1. [ownership, collision] that has many parts or uses, or involves many people □ a multiple pile-up. -2. multiple injuries/stab wounds many injuries/stab wounds (formal use). ◇ n MATH the result when a particular number is multiplied by another number □ Multiples of 10 all end in 0.
- multiple-choice adj [test, exam] that gives several possible answers, from which one must choose the correct answer.
- multiple sclerosis [-skləˈrəʊsəs] n a very serious disease that affects the nervous system, and in which one's muscles gradually become weaker.
- multiplex [ˈmʌltɪpleks] n a movie theater that has several rooms, each one with its own screen.
- multiplication [ˌmʌltɪpləˈkeɪʃn] n -1. MATH the method of multiplying two numbers together to produce a result. -2. [of problems, officials, departments] a big increase in the number or amount of something.
- multiplication sign n a symbol (×) between two numbers to show that they are to be multiplied together.
- multiplication table n a list of the multiplications of numbers from one to twelve that children usually learn at school.
- multiplicity [ˌmʌltɪˈplɪsəti] n a multiplicity of things [of ideas, languages] a large number of things, especially different things.
- multiply [ˈmʌltɪplaɪ] (pt & pp multiplied) ◇ vt -1. MATH to add  to itself a particular number of times to produce a result □ What's the result if you multiply 3 by 4? □ Multiply the two figures together. -2. [difficulty, success, profits] to make <sthg> increase a lot. ◇ vi -1. MATH Multiplying by 2, 5, and 10 is easy. -2. [difficulties, successes, profits] Inflation has multiplied since last year. -3. [animals, insects, bacteria] to increase in amount by breeding.
- multipurpose [ˌmʌltɪˈpʊɹpəs] adj a multipurpose tool/device etc a tool/device etc that is designed so that it can be used in many different ways.
- multiracial [ˌmʌltɪˈreɪʃl] adj [society, school] that involves people of different races.
- multistory US, multistorey GB [ˌmʌltɪˈstɔ:ri] ◇ adj a multistory apartment building/parking garage etc a building/parking garage etc that has many floors at different levels. ◇ n GB a multistory parking garage.
- multitasking [US ˌmʌltɪˈtæskɪŋ, GB -tɑ:sk-] n COMPUTING the process of operating more than one computing program, application etc at the same time.
- multitude [ˈmʌltɪtju:d] n -1. a large number □ He gave me a multitude of reasons for not finishing the work on time. -2. a very large number of people (literary use).
- mum [mʌm] (informal use) ◇ n GB mother □ Hi, mum! □ His mum's got a new job. ◇ adj to keep mum to say nothing about something one knows about.
- mumble [ˈmʌmbəl] ◇ vt [apology, word, response] to say <sthg> in a way that is not clear or easy to hear □ "I'm sorry," he mumbled. ◇ vi: I can't hear you if you mumble.
- mumbo jumbo [ˌmʌmbouˈdʒʌmbou] n nonsense (disapproving and informal use).
- mummify [ˈmʌməfaɪ] (pt & pp mummified) vt to preserve  from decay by applying special oils and wrapping it in pieces of cloth.
- mummy [ˈmʌmi] (pl mummies) n -1. a dead body that has been mummified. -2. GB a word used especially by or to children to talk about or talk to their mother □ Can we go out to play, Mummy?
- mumps [mʌmps] n an infectious illness that mainly affects children and causes painful swelling in the area beneath the ears.
- munch [mʌntʃ] ◇ vt [apple, burger] to eat <food> by chewing it, often noisily. ◇ vi: He was munching away on a sandwich.
- mundane [mʌnˈdeɪn] adj [life, task, event] that is ordinary and boring, especially because it is the same each day.
- mung bean [ˈmʌŋ-] n a plant from eastern Asia that produces green beans and bean sprouts used in cooking.
- municipal [mjuːˈnɪsəpl] adj [building, park, council] that is connected with the local government of a town or city □ municipal elections.
- municipality [mjuːˈnɪsəˈpæləti] (pl municipalities) n a town or city that has its own local government; the local government of a particular town or city.
- munificent [mjuːˈnɪfɪsənt] adj. very generous (formal use).
- munitions [mjuːˈnɪʃnz] npl military equipment for war such as ammunition and large weapons.
- mural [ˈmjuərəl] n a picture or design that is painted on a wall.
- murder [ˈmɜ:ɹdər] ◇ n -1. the act or crime of killing somebody deliberately and illegally □ They were found guilty of murder. ■ to get away with murder to keep doing something that is bad or wrong without being punished (informal use) □ She's so easygoing — she lets her children get away with murder. -2. the death of somebody, caused by the crime of murder □ the violent murder of Mr Reed □ the murder weapon. ◇ vt to deliberately and illegally kill <sb> □ He was murdered on his way home from work.
- murderer [ˈmɜ:ɹdərə] n a person who has murdered somebody □ They never caught the murderer.
- murderess [ˈmɜ:ɹdərəs] n a woman who has murdered somebody.
- murderous [ˈmɜ:ɹdəs] adj [attack, person, intentions] that is likely to kill somebody.
- murky [ˈmɜ:ɹki] (compar murkier, superl murki-

- est adj -1. [night, street] that is dark and unpleasant; [water, river, lake] that is unpleasantly dark and difficult to see through. -2. [past, secret] that is likely to hide some dishonest action.
- murmur ['mɜːrmər] ◇ n -1. [of traffic, sea, disapproval] a very low continuous sound, often coming from a long way away □ the murmur of distant voices. -2. MEDICINE a sound made by the heart that shows there may be something wrong with it. ◇ vt [agreement, approval] to say <sthg> very quietly □ "I love you," he murmured. ◇ vi: He was murmuring in his sleep.
- MusB ['mʌzbɪː], MusBac ['mʌzbæk] (abbr of Bachelor of Music) n a music degree; a person who has this degree.
- muscle ['mʌsl] n -1. a piece of tissue in the body that makes movement possible and connects bones together □ He had bulging muscles. □ leg/arm/stomach muscles. -2. the power that comes from having money or influence □ financial/political muscle.
- ◆ muscle in vi to become involved in an activity, market etc in which one is not wanted, by being aggressive (disapproving use) □ They're trying to muscle in on our sales territory.
- muscleman ['mʌslmæn] (pl musclemen [-men]) n a man whose muscles are very developed because he does special exercises.
- Muscovite ['mʌskəvaɪt] n a person who comes from or lives in Moscow.
- muscular ['mʌskjələ] adj -1. [spasm, pain, disease] that is connected with muscles □ These exercises require great muscular strength. -2. [person, body] that has large muscles and looks strong □ He's very muscular.
- muscular dystrophy [-'dɪstrəfi] n a serious disease in which one's muscles gradually become weaker, making it harder to move.
- MusD ['mʌzdiː], MusDoc ['mʌzdɒk] (abbr of Doctor of Music) n a postgraduate music degree; a person who has this degree.
- muse [mjuːz] ◇ n an imaginary force that helps somebody to write music or poetry or to paint. ◇ vi to think deeply about something.
- museum [mjuː'ziːəm] n a building, open to the public, where objects of historical, scientific, or artistic value are kept and displayed □ a museum of natural history/modern art.
- mush [mʌʃ] n (informal use) -1. something, usually food, that is soft and watery. -2. writing, music etc that is too full of exaggerated or insincere emotion.
- mushroom ['mʌʃruːm] ◇ n a fungus, usually with a thick short stem and a wider circular top part. Some mushrooms can be eaten and others are poisonous. ◇ vi [membership, interest] to grow or develop very fast; [houses, stores] to spread across a wide area at a fast rate □ The village mushroomed into a town during the post-war boom.
- mushroom cloud n a large cloud of dust, in the shape of a mushroom, that rises high above the ground after a nuclear explosion.
- mushy ['mʌʃɪ] (compar mushier, superl mushiest) adj (informal use) -1. [food] that is soft and has lost its shape. -2. [movie, music] that is too full of exaggerated or insincere emotion.
- music ['mjuːzɪk] n -1. a pattern of usually pleasant sounds, made by one's voice or a musical instrument □ a lovely piece of music □ classical/pop/dance music. -2. the art of making or writing music □ a music teacher/student/lesson. -3. a set of symbols on a page, that represent different sounds and rhythms □ She can read music.
- musical ['mjuːzɪkəl] ◇ adj -1. [evening, career, education] that is connected with music □ The Fourth of July concert is the musical event of the year. -2. [child, person] who enjoys music and is often skilled at playing an instrument. -3. [voice, sound, quality] that is pleasant because it sounds like music. ◇ n a play or movie that includes speaking, songs, and usually some dancing □ a Broadway musical.
- musical box n GB = music box.
- musical chairs n a game in which children keep running around a row of chairs while music is playing and try to sit down on a chair when the music stops.
- musical instrument n an object, e.g. a flute, violin, or piano, that one uses to play music □ What musical instruments can you play?
- music box US, musical box GB n a box containing a clockwork device that plays a tune when the lid of the box is lifted.
- music hall n -1. GB a theater where singers, dancers, comedians etc performed in the early part of the 20th century. -2. the type of entertainment performed in a music hall.
- musician [mjuː'zɪʃn] n a person who plays a musical instrument well or writes music.
- music stand n a metal support for sheets of music that stands on the floor.
- musk [mʌsk] n a substance with a strong sweet smell that is used to make perfume.
- musket ['mʌskət] n a gun with a long barrel, used in the past.
- muskrat ['mʌskræt] n a rat with a flat tail that comes from North America, eats plants, fish, and small animals, and lives in a nest in or very near water.
- Muslim ['mʌzləm] ◇ n a person who follows the religion of Islam. ◇ adj: a Muslim country/follower/philosopher.
- muslin ['mʌzlɪn] n a very fine cotton cloth □ a muslin dress.
- musquash ['mʌskwɒʃ] n -1. = muskrat. -2. the valuable fur of the muskrat.
- muss [mʌs] vt to muss sth (up) US [clothes, hair] to make sth untidy.
- mussel ['mʌsl] n a small sea creature that lives in a black shell and can be cooked and eaten.
- Mussolini [ˌmʊsə'liːni], Benito (1883–1945) an Italian fascist dictator. He invaded Abyssinia and Albania, and joined World War II on the side of Germany.

must [mʌst] ◇ modal vb -1. I must get there early it is important or necessary that I get there early □ She must pass these exams if she wants to get into college. □ I must remember to buy my plane ticket. □ Must you go now? ■ you must not tell anybody it is important or necessary that you do not tell anybody □ Children must not be allowed to touch the displays. -2. I must pay my phone bill I intend to pay my phone bill □ "Have you heard from Joe?" — "No, I must give him a call sometime." -3. you must come to dinner I suggest that you come to dinner □ You must go and see that new play on Broadway. -4. she must be pleased it is very likely that she is pleased. ■ they must have known about it it is very likely that they knew about it □ They must have got the results by now. -5. I must admit/say... a phrase used to introduce one's opinion about something □ It's not a color I would have chosen, I must admit.

◇ n it's a must it is important that you do, see, read, wear etc this (informal use) □ His new novel is a must for fans of science fiction.

mustache ['mʌstæʃ] US, moustache [mə'stɑ:ʃ] GB n hair that grows above a man's upper lip □ He had a large, bushy mustache. □ Are you growing a mustache?

mustard ['mʌstərd] n a very hot paste that is eaten with food, especially meat, is yellow or brown in color, and is made from a small plant with yellow flowers □ mustard powder. ■ mustard and cress GB very young plants grown from the seeds of white mustard and garden cress, eaten in salads.

mustard gas n a very poisonous gas or liquid used in chemical weapons.

muster ['mʌstə] ◇ vt -1. [strength, energy, support] to find as much of <sthg> as possible □ They sent around a petition but couldn't muster more than a dozen signatures. -2. to gather <soldiers, volunteers> etc together in one place for a particular purpose. ◇ vi [soldiers, volunteers] The army mustered on the outskirts of the town.

◆ muster up vt fus to muster up strength/support etc to muster strength/support etc □ I'm trying to muster up the courage to tell him.

mustn't ['mʌsnt] = must not.

must've ['mʌstəv] = must have.

musty ['mʌsti] (compar mustier, superl mustiest) adj [room, book] that smells old, dusty, and damp as if it has not been used for a long time.

mutant ['mju:tnt] ◇ n an animal or plant that is physically different from the rest of its species because of a genetic change. ◇ adj: a mutant apple tree/fly/virus.

mutate [US 'mju:teɪt, GB mju'teɪt] vi [animal, plant] to become a mutant □ This tree has mutated into a form that is resistant to the disease.

mutation [mju'teɪʃn] n the process of change in the genetic structure of cells, affecting part or all of a living creature; the result of this process □ The new and more resistant strain is a genetic mutation.

mute [mju:t] ◇ adj [admiration, protest, disapproval] that somebody expresses without saying anything □ He looked at her in mute disbelief. ◇ n -1. a person who is unable to speak. -2. a device that one fits onto a musical instrument in order to make it sound quieter. ◇ vt to make  quieter.

muted ['mju:təd] adj -1. [color, decor] that is not bright; [noise, sound, voice] that is softer than usual. -2. [reaction, criticism] that is not very strong □ The plan was received with muted enthusiasm. □ Criticism of the guidelines has so far been muted.

mutilate ['mju:lteɪt] vt -1. [person, animal] to damage the body of  in a violent attack, often removing part of it □ The body had been mutilated beyond recognition. -2. [book, story] to ruin <sthg> completely.

mutilation [ˌmju:tɪ'eɪʃn] n: see mutilate □ Captured prisoners suffered death and mutilation.

mutineer [ˌmju:tnɪə] n a person who takes part in a mutiny.

mutinous ['mju:tənəs] adj [sailor, soldier] who disobeys somebody in authority, often using violence to do so.

mutiny ['mju:təni] (pl mutinies, pt & pp mutinied) ◇ n [by sailors, soldiers] the act of taking control of something by force from the person in authority. ◇ vi [sailors, soldiers] to carry out a mutiny.

mutt [mʌt] n (informal use) -1. a fool. -2. a dog that is a mixture of breeds.

mutter ['mʌtə] ◇ vt [words, threat, excuse] to say <sthg> quietly, usually when one is angry and does not want to be heard □ "It's all right for you to complain," he muttered. ◇ vi: The old man sat in the corner muttering (away) to himself.

muttering ['mʌtərɪŋ] n -1. a muttered remark □ mutterings of discontent. -2. the sound made by people who are muttering □ A lot of low muttering could be heard coming from the other room.

mutton ['mʌtn] n meat from an adult sheep □ a leg/shoulder of mutton. ■ mutton dressed as lamb GB a phrase used to describe an older person, especially a woman, who wears clothes that are more suitable for a younger person (disapproving use).

mutual ['mju:tʃʊəl] adj -1. [dislike, respect] that two people feel equally for each other; [help, assistance] that two people give to each other equally □ "I wish I'd never met you!" — "The feeling's mutual." -2. a mutual friend/interest a friend/interest that two or more people share □ I believe we have a mutual acquaintance, Bill Jones. □ This contract is to our mutual benefit.

mutual fund n US an investment company that sells shares in various other companies.

mutually ['mju:tʃʊəli] adv mutually convenient/acceptable etc equally convenient/acceptable etc to both sides □ The agreement was mutually beneficial to both parties concerned. ■ mutually exclusive a phrase used about two principles, two beliefs etc meaning that if one of them is true or exists it is impossible for the other one to be true or exist □ The two options are not mutually exclusive.

MuzakTM ['mju:zæk] n recorded music that is played in stores, restaurants, airports etc.

muzzle ['mʌzl] ◇ n -1. [of a dog] the nose and mouth of an animal such as a dog. -2. [for controlling a dog] a covering that goes over the nose and mouth of an animal, usually a dog, to prevent it from biting people. -3. [of a gun] the long front part of a gun. ◇ vt -1. [dog, wolf] to put a muzzle on <an animal>. -2. [press, opposition] to use one's power to stop <sb> from expressing opinions in public.

muzzy ['mʌzi] (compar muzzier, superl muzziest) adj GB [head, memory] that is unclear or confused because of illness or drinking too much alcohol.

MVP (abbr of most valuable player) n US SPORT an honorary title given to the best player on a team.

MW abbr of medium wave.

my [maɪ] ◇ det -1. used to show that somebody or something is connected to, or belongs to, the person who is speaking or writing □ My name is Sarah Green. □ Is that my coat or yours? □ I broke my leg. □ It wasn't my fault! -2. used in titles □ Yes, my Lord. -3. used with terms of affection □ What is it, my love? ◇ excl used to show surprise (old-fashioned use) □ My, you have changed!

Myanmar ['mjænma:ɹ] a country in Southeast Asia, between Bangladesh and Thailand. SIZE: 678,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 43,500,000 (Myanmarese, Burmese). CAPITAL: Yangon. LANGUAGE: Burmese. CURRENCY: kyat. OLD NAME: Burma.

mynah (bird) ['maɪnə(-)] n a large bird from Asia that is often kept as a pet, especially because it can learn to repeat words and phrases.

myopic [maɪ'ɒpɪk] adj [person] who cannot see clearly objects that are far away.

myriad ['maɪrɪəd] ◇ n a myriad of people/things a large number of people/things (formal use) □ They watched myriads of birds flying south. ◇ adj: myriad stars/flies.

myrrh [mɜ:ɹ] n a brown substance that comes from a tree and is used to make perfume and incense.

myrtle ['mɜ:tl] n a small evergreen tree that grows in tropical areas, has glossy leaves and flowers with a sweet smell, and is used for its wood, oils, spices, and fruits.

myself [maɪ'self] pron -1. used when the object of a verb is the same person as the speaker or writer □ I made myself comfortable. □ I blame myself for what happened. -2. used after prepositions □ I was annoyed with myself for being late. □ I looked at myself in the mirror. -3. used to emphasize "I" □ I myself never really liked him, though the rest of the family did. ■ I did it myself I did it alone, with no help from anybody else □ "Those bookshelves are nice." — "I put them up myself."

mysterious [mɪ'stɪəriəs] adj -1. [illness, disappearance, sound] that cannot easily be explained or understood; [person, custom] that one knows little about and finds interesting □ She left in mysterious circumstances. □ I admit he does have a mysterious side. -2. to be mysterious [person] to prevent people from knowing what one is thinking or doing by not saying much about it, often making them curious □ He was being very mysterious about his plans for the weekend.

mysteriously [mɪ'stɪəriəsli] adv [change, disappear] in a way that is not easily explained or understood; [smile, say] in a way that gives little information and makes people curious.

mystery ['mɪstəri] (pl mysteries) ◇ adj a mystery guest/prize etc a guest/prize etc that little or nothing is known about yet. ◇ n -1. something that one cannot understand or explain □ The strange mystery of her disappearance/death/illness baffled everyone. □ It's a complete mystery to me! -2. the qualities of something that one cannot explain or understand and that make it seem strange or interesting □ the mystery of life/love □ The whole affair is surrounded by mystery.

mystery story n an exciting story, usually about a murder.

mystery tour n a tour, especially by bus, on which the passengers do not know where they will be going.

mystic ['mɪstɪk] ◇ adj [power, rite, beauty] see mysticism. ◇ n a person who practices or believes in mysticism.

mystical ['mɪstɪkəl] adj [experience, ceremony] that involves spiritual or unknown forces.

mysticism ['mɪstəsɪzəm] n the practice of achieving direct contact with God, or another spiritual or unknown force, through meditation or prayer, in order to discover truth and knowledge.

mystified ['mɪstəfaɪd] adj [look, expression] that shows that one is confused by something that is difficult to understand; [person] who is unable to understand or explain something □ The detective was completely mystified by the case.

mystifying ['mɪstəfaɪɪŋ] adj [action, result] that is impossible to understand or explain.

mystique [mɪ'sti:k] n the mysterious quality that a person or activity has that makes them attractive to people □ the mystique of ancient Egypt/Greta Garbo.

myth [mɪθ] n -1. a story in which a historical event or the origin of a belief is explained □ ancient/Greek myths and legends. -2. a false belief, piece of information etc that many people think is correct □ the myth of white supremacy.

mythic ['mɪθɪk] adj [strength, adventure] that is like something in a myth.

mythical ['mɪθɪkl] adj -1. [character, tale, hero] that is connected with a myth □ The stories are full of mythical beings. -2. that many people think exists or is correct but is false in reality □ The media spoke of the mythical drop in unemployment and the end of the recession.

mythological [ˌmɪθəˈlɒdʒɪkl] adj [character, king, creature] that exists in mythology.

mythology [mɪˈθɒlədʒɪ] (pl mythologies) n -1. myths in general □ Roman/Celtic/Greek mythology. -2. a set of false beliefs □ A whole mythology has grown up around the West's destiny in the world.

myxomatosis [ˌmɪksəməˈtəʊsəs] n a disease that can kill rabbits.

N

n [en] (pl n's OR ns), N [en] (pl N's OR Ns) n the fourteenth letter of the English alphabet.

◆ N abbr of north.

n/a, N/A (abbr of not applicable) a phrase used by somebody filling in a form to show that a particular part of the form does not concern them.

NA (abbr of Narcotics Anonymous) n a US organization of people who try to help each other to overcome their drug problems.

NAACP (abbr of National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) n the NAACP a US organization that aims to defend and improve the rights of African Americans.

nab [næb] (pt & pp nabbed, cont nabbing) vt (informal use) -1. [thief, robber] to catch  □ He was nabbed before he could make his getaway. -2. [person] to approach <sb> and get their attention in order to ask or say something; [tickets, seat] to get <sthg> quickly while one has the opportunity □ I nabbed her as she was leaving the office. □ I'll nab a copy if I can.

nachos [ˈnɑːtʃoʊz] npl a Mexican dish made from spicy corn chips served with melted cheese.

nadir [ˈneɪdɪə] n -1. [of somebody's career, popularity] the lowest point of something □ The President seems to have reached the nadir of his political career. -2. ASTRONOMY the point in the sky that is directly below where one is, on the other side of the Earth.

NAFTA [ˈnæftə] (abbr of North American Free Trade Agreement) n an agreement between the USA, Canada, and Mexico, signed in 1989, to allow goods to be sold and transported between the three countries more easily.

nag [næg] (pt & pp nagged, cont nagging) ◇ vt to annoy <sb> by continuously complaining or by trying to make them do something they do not want to do □ He's always nagging me to buy a new car. □ In the end, I just nagged her into going. ◇ vi -1. [person] to nag somebody □ Oh, stop nagging! -2. to nag at sb [suspicion, conscience] to worry sb continuously even though there may be no real reason to worry □ Something had been nagging at me all day. ◇ n (informal use) -1. a person who nags. -2. an old horse.

Nagasaki [ˌnæɡəˈsɑːki] a city in southwest Japan, where the second atomic bomb was dropped in 1945.

nagging [ˈnæɡɪŋ] adj -1. a nagging fear/pain etc a fear/pain etc that may not be very serious but that is difficult for one to stop feeling □ I had a nagging feeling that something was wrong. -2. [husband, wife] who nags all the time.

nail [neɪl] ◇ n -1. a piece of metal with a small, usually round, flat head and a long, thin, pointed end that is used to join things together, or to hang things from. ■ to hit the nail on the head to say something that is exactly right or that correctly explains something. -2. the thin, hard, flat area that grows over the end of each of one's fingers and toes □ I'm painting/cutting my nails. ◇ vt to nail sthg to sthg to attach sthg to sthg using a nail □ The notice had been nailed to the door for all to see.

◆ nail down vt sep -1. to nail sthg down [lid, carpet] to nail sthg firmly to something underneath. -2. to nail sb down to make sb agree to do something; to make sb say exactly what they are planning to do □ It's very difficult to nail her down to a particular time, she's always so busy. □ Keep trying to nail them down on what kind of offer they'd be interested in.

◆ nail up vt sep to nail sthg up [picture, notice] to nail sthg to a wall, door etc; [window, door] to prevent sthg from being opened by nailing pieces of wood across it.

nail-biting adj a nail-biting contest/ending a contest/ending that makes one feel very nervous or excited because one does not know how it will end □ The game came to a nail-biting finish.

nailbrush [ˈneɪlbrʌʃ] n a small stiff brush used to clean one's fingernails.

nail clippers n a small instrument for cutting nails that consists of two short blades and a flat metal piece that squeezes them together □ a pair of nail clippers.

nail file n a small rough piece of metal or cardboard used for making the ends of one's fingernails and toenails smooth and well shaped.

nail polish n a thick liquid, usually colored red or pink, that women paint on their fingernails and toenails to decorate them.

nail polish remover [-rɪmuːvə] n a liquid used to remove nail polish.

nail scissors npl small scissors, often with curved blades, that are used for cutting one's fingernails and toenails □ a pair of nail scissors.

nail varnish n GB = nail polish.

naive, naïve [naɪ'iv] adj [person] who does not have very much experience of life and so believes that people and things are as honest or simple as they appear; [idea, remark, behavior] that is too simple and has not been properly thought about □ I was so naive at the time, I just didn't realize what I was letting myself in for. □ It's very naive to think they're not going to want some money for it.

naivety, naïvety [naɪ'ivəti] n: see naive □ I can't believe your naivety sometimes!

naked ['neɪkəd] adj -1. [person] who is wearing no clothes; [body, skin] that is not covered by any clothing □ He stood naked in the middle of the room. -2. a naked flame/light etc a flame/light etc that has no covering or protection around it. ■ to see sthg with the naked eye to see sthg without the help of an instrument such as a microscope or telescope □ These organisms are invisible to the naked eye. -3. naked greed/aggression etc greed/aggression etc that is not hidden or disguised □ For the first time we were faced with the naked truth.

Nam [næm] n US abbr of Vietnam (informal use).

name [neɪm] ◇ n -1. [of a person, place] the word or words that a particular person, place, animal, or object is known by □ What's your name? □ My name's Jane Roberts. □ The article referred to them by name. ■ by the name of... whose name is... □ Is there anyone here by the name of John Baker? ■ in the name of sthg in order to support or defend sthg □ It was done in the name of peace/progress/justice. ■ in sb's name a phrase used to mean that something has been ordered, reserved etc using the name of a particular person, usually so that it belongs to them, or is for their use □ The car is registered in my name only. □ The ticket was issued in my boyfriend's name. ■ in name only a phrase used to show that somebody or something has a particular name or title, but none of the responsibilities, qualities, duties etc that are connected with it □ The company exists in name only. □ Gorbachev ruled the country in name only after the attempted coup. ■ to call sb names to say unpleasant things about sb's character or physical appearance □ He called her some horrible names. -2. a good/bad name the good/bad opinion that people have of somebody or something because of what is known or said about them □ He sold his story to the press in order to clear his name. □ The rudeness of the staff has given the restaurant a bad name. ■ to make a name for oneself to become famous, usually for doing something well and as a result of hard work □ She quickly made a name for herself in politics/as a top saleswoman. -3. a famous person □ All the big/famous names were at the party. □ He's a big name in the art world. ◇ vt -1. to give <sb/sthg> a name □ Have they named the baby yet? ■ to name sb/sthg for sb/sthg US, to name sb/sthg after sb/sthg to give sb/sthg the same name as sb/sthg else □ They named the child for her great-aunt Cecily. □ The species was named after the scientist who discovered it. -2. [victim, source] to say what the name of <sb/sthg> is □ She said one of her colleagues had insulted her, but did not name them. □ Who can name three presidents of the United States/all the colors of the rainbow? -3. [price, successor, date] to choose <sb/sthg>, especially for an official position and tell other people about it □ Have you named the (wedding) day yet? □ The new chairman will be named tomorrow. □ Marcia Willis has been named (as) marketing director.

◆ Name n a person who makes money by guaranteeing insurance risks at Lloyd's of London. In the early 1990s there were many large insurance claims, and some of the Names lost a lot of their money.

namedropping ['neɪmdrɒpɪŋ] n the act of mentioning the names of famous people in conversation in order to impress other people.

nameless ['neɪmləs] adj -1. who shall remain nameless a phrase used to refer to somebody who has done something wrong without saying what their name is □ One candidate, who shall remain nameless, tried to cheat. -2. a nameless author/poet etc an author/a poet etc whose name is not known. -3. [fear, horror, crime] that is too difficult or unpleasant to describe.

namely ['neɪmlɪ] adv a word used to introduce more exact information about something that has just been mentioned □ There's one thing we haven't discussed, namely money.

nameplate ['neɪmpleɪt] n a small metal or plastic sign fixed to a door or wall that gives the name and often the business of the person or organization living or working in the place where it is.

namesake ['neɪmseɪk] n sb's namesake a person, especially a more famous person, who has the same name as sb.

Namibia [nə'mɪbiə] a country in southwestern Africa, on the Atlantic Ocean between Angola and South Africa. Namibia won its independence from South Africa in 1990. SIZE: 825,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,500,000 (Namibians). CAPITAL: Windhoek. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Namibian dollar.

nana ['nænə] n a word used to refer to or address one's grandmother (informal use).

nan bread ['nɑ:n-] n a thick, flat, Indian bread.

nanny ['næni] (pl nannies) n a woman whose job is to take care of the children in a family in their own home.

nanny goat n a female goat.

Nantucket [næn'tʌkət] a US island off the coast of Massachusetts. It is a popular summer resort. POPULATION: 5,000.

nap [næp] (pt & pp napped, cont napping) ◇ n a short sleep during the day □ I think I'll just take a quick nap. □ I really miss my afternoon nap. ◇ vi to have a nap. ■ to be caught napping to be totally surprised when something happens, even though one should have been expecting it and ready to deal with it (informal use) □ We must at all costs avoid being caught napping by our foreign competitors.

napalm ['neɪpɑ:m] n a thick jelly made from petroleum that burns very strongly and is used to make bombs □ a napalm bomb.

nape [neɪp] n the nape (of one's neck) the back of one's neck.

napkin ['næpkən] n a square of paper or cloth used at mealtimes to protect one's clothes and to clean one's hands and mouth □ a paper/linen napkin.

Napoleon [nə'pouliən]: Napoleon (Bonaparte) (1769–1821) a French military and political leader who became emperor. He was defeated by British and Prussian forces at Waterloo.

nappy ['næpi] (pl nappies) n GB a piece of material, e.g. cloth or paper, that is wrapped around the waist and between the legs of a baby to collect urine and feces.

narcissi [nɑ:'sɪsɪsɪ] plural of narcissus.

narcissism ['nɑ:'sɪsɪzɪzəm] n the habit of admiring oneself or one's appearance too much.

narcissistic [ˌnɑ:'sɪsɪ'stɪk] adj [person] who shows too much admiration for themselves or their appearance.

narcissus [nɑ:'sɪsəs] (pl narcissuses OR narcissi) n a white or yellow flower that blooms in spring, similar to the daffodil.

Narcissus [nɑ:'sɪsəs] in Greek mythology, a beautiful young man who fell in love with his own reflection in a pond and was changed into a flower.

narcotic [nɑ:'kɒtɪk] n any addictive drug, e.g. opium, morphine, or heroin, that is used by doctors to help people to sleep and relieve pain, and that is illegal to buy or sell for recreational use □ a narcotics dealer/smuggler.

narrate [US 'næreɪt, GB nə'reɪt] vt to describe what is happening in  etc □ The novel is narrated by the hero.

narration [US nə'reɪʃn, GB nə-] n [of a story, movie, documentary] see narrate.

narrative ['nærətɪv] ◇ n [of an experience, journey] a story or account of a series of events □ The narrative is difficult to follow ◇ adj: a narrative poem □ the writer's narrative skill.

narrator [US 'næreɪtə, GB nə'reɪtə] n a person who describes what is happening in a book, movie etc, and who seems to speak directly to the reader, viewer, or listener.

narrow ['nærou] ◇ adj -1. [lane, gap, bed] that is small from one side to the other, especially compared with its length □ The street was narrow and badly lit. □ The stream is at its narrowest point here. -2. [view, belief, mind] that has a limited scope or range (disapproving use) □ My parents have a very narrow outlook when it comes to politics. □ It's that kind of narrow thinking that causes problems in the community. -3. [escape, victory, majority] that one barely manages to do or get □ He lost by a narrow margin.

◇ vt -1. to narrow one's eyes to almost close one's eyes. -2. [difference, choice] to make <sthg> smaller □ The Democrats have nar- rowed the gap in the opinion polls. □ That narrows the number of choices we have.

◇ vi -1. [road, river, path] to become less wide □ The highway narrowed to two lanes. □ 'Road narrows.' -2. [eyes] His eyes narrowed in anger. -3. [difference, choice] Their lead narrowed to three points.

◆ narrow down vt sep to narrow sth down [possibilities, choice] to make the range of sth smaller □ They narrowed the list of candidates down to just two.

narrow-gauge adj [track, line, railroad] that is less wide than the standard size.

narrowly ['nærouli] adv [win, escape, miss] by a very small number of points, amount, distance etc □ They were narrowly defeated in the final ballot.

narrow-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who is unwilling to accept or understand new or different ideas or opinions (disapproving use) □ Her narrow-minded attitudes are infuriating.

NASA ['næsə] (abbr of National Aeronautics and Space Administration) n the US government department responsible for space travel and research.

nasal ['neɪzl] adj -1. [voice, sound] that is made through the nose as well as through the mouth □ He spoke with a nasal twang. -2. ANATOMY that is connected with the nose □ nasal passages □ nasal spray.

nascent ['neɪsnt] adj [industry, hope, culture] that is just starting to develop (formal use).

Nashville ['næʃvɪl] a city in Tennessee, USA. It is the state capital and the center of the country and western music industry. POPULATION: 488,374.

Nasser ['næsəʃ], Gamal Abdel (1918–1970) the first president of Egypt.

nastily [US 'næstɪli, GB 'nɑ:st-] adv [say, act] see nasty.

nastiness [US 'næstɪnəs, GB 'nɑ:st-] n [of a person, remark] see nasty □ There's really no excuse for such nastiness.

nasturtium [nə'stɜ:tʃɪəm] (pl nasturtiums) n a flower that has red, orange, or yellow petals that can be eaten.

nasty [US 'næsti, GB 'nɑ:sti] (compar nastier, superl nastiest) adj -1. [person, remark, behavior] that seems deliberately unkind □ That was a nasty thing to say. □ He's got a nasty sense of humor. -2. [smell, feeling, sight] that one finds unpleasant □ The weather's been pretty nasty all week. □ I had a nasty shock when I read the report. □ They've bought some really nasty furniture. -3. [problem, situation] that one finds very difficult, and often upsetting □ It was a nasty decision to have to make. -4. [cut, accident, infection] that is serious or looks painful □ She had a nasty fall from her motorbike. □ That looks nasty; we'd better put some antiseptic on it.

NAS/UWT (abbr of National Association of Schoolmasters/Union of Women Teachers) n the NAS/UWT a British labor union for teachers.

Natal [nə'tæl] a province of southeastern

South Africa. SIZE: 87,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 6,256,000. CAPITAL: Pietermaritzburg. MAIN CITY: Durban.

nation ['neɪʃn] n the people living in a country, especially when considered as a social, economic, and political unit □ a strong/rich nation □ The President addressed the nation. □ the African nations.

national ['næʃnəl] ◇ adj -1. [newspaper, event, strike] that reaches or affects a whole nation □ His death is a national disaster. □ The next national news is at 5:40 pm. -2. [characteristic, custom] that is connected with a particular nation □ Cricket is their national sport. ◇ n a citizen of a particular country □ All European Community nationals should have the same rights. □ foreign/Chinese nationals.

national anthem n the official song of a particular nation.

national curriculum n the national curriculum a plan, introduced by the British government in 1988, that defines the content of primary and secondary education in England and Wales.

national debt n the money that is owed by the government of a particular country.

national dress n the clothes associated with a particular country and worn by people of that country on special occasions.

National Front n the National Front in Britain, a small fascist and racist political party.

National Gallery: the National Gallery an important art gallery in Trafalgar Square, London.

national grid n GB a network that carries electricity between the main electric power stations.

National Guard n the National Guard in the USA, a group of people who are trained as soldiers by each state to help the army when necessary.

National Health Service n the National Health Service in Britain, the system of medical care that is run by the government and paid for by taxes, with the aim of providing cheap or free treatment for everybody □ This dental treatment is not available on the National Health Service.

National Heritage n the Department of National Heritage in Britain, the government department responsible for the arts, the media, sports, and leisure.

National Insurance n GB -1. the state system that gives money to people who are unemployed, ill, or old, and that is paid for by regular payments from employers and workers. -2. the money paid into the National Insurance system by employers and workers □ My National Insurance contributions are up-to-date.

nationalism ['næʃnəlɪzəm] n -1. the desire of people in a particular region to be politically independent □ Scottish/Irish/Basque nationalism. -2. the belief that one's own country is better than other countries □ A tide of nationalism is sweeping the country.

nationalist ['næʃnəlɪst] ◇ n a person who believes in nationalism. ◇ adj: a nationalist movement/group.

nationality [ˌnæʃə'næləti] (pl nationalities) n -1. membership of a particular nation □ He has dual nationality. □ What's your nationality? -2. a group of people of the same race, language etc □ We have students here of all nationalities.

nationalization [US ˌnæʃnə'lə'zeɪʃn, GB -aɪ'zeɪʃn] n: see nationalize □ The issue of nationalization is no longer high on the agenda.

nationalize, -ise ['næʃnəlaɪz] vt to put  etc under state control. NOTE: Compare privatize.

nationalized ['næʃnəlaɪzd] adj [industry] that is under state rather than private control.

National League n the National League one of the two most important baseball leagues in the USA.

National Lottery n the National Lottery in Britain, a televised lottery held each week, in which large cash prizes can be won.

national park n an area of countryside that is protected by the state for the public to visit and enjoy.

National Public Radio n a national radio network in the USA that is well known for its news programs.

National Savings Bank n the National Savings Bank a British government bank that operates through the Post Office and where people can invest small amounts of money by buying National Savings Certificates or Premium Bonds.

national service n a period of time that young people in some countries have to spend in the armed forces.

National Trust n the National Trust in Britain, an organization that owns and maintains large areas of countryside and many historic houses so that the public can enjoy them.

Nation of Islam n the Nation of Islam a group of African-American Muslims. They were very active in the Civil Rights Movement.

nation state n a country that is politically independent.

nationwide [ˌneɪʃn'waɪd] ◇ adj [survey, search] that takes place in every part of a particular country. ◇ adv in every part of a particular country □ They do business nationwide.

native ['neɪtɪv] ◇ adj -1. one's native land/city the land/city where one was born and grew up □ After 30 years, she returned to her native Denmark. -2. one's native tongue the language that one learns to speak as a child. -3. [plant, animal] that lives, grows etc naturally in a particular place and has not been brought there from somewhere else □ The bird is native to the Black Sea region. ◇ n -1. a person who was born and brought up in a particular place □ a native of Hong Kong. -2. a member of a race that was living in a country before other people, especially European settlers, arrived there (old-fashioned use).

Native American n a member of one of the peoples who lived on the North American continent before Europeans arrived.

NOTE: In the USA, the term Native American is now preferred to Indian.

🇺🇸 NATIVE AMERICAN

The Native American peoples who lived in the USA before Europeans arrived each had their own language and way of life. From the 17th to the 19th centuries they had to defend their land against European settlers, often by fighting. Many died, either in battle or because of diseases brought to America by the Europeans. Many were forced to live on "reservations", pieces of land set aside specially for them. In the 20th century, the US government has tried to help Native Americans by giving them more rights. There has also been more and more interest shown in their history and traditional culture.

native speaker n a person who learns a particular language as their first language □ native speakers of English.

Nativity [nə'tɪvətɪ] n the Nativity the birth of Jesus, that is celebrated by Christians at Christmas.

nativity play n a play about the birth of Jesus that is performed around Christmas time by children.

NATO ['neɪtəʊ] (abbr of North Atlantic Treaty Organization) n an organization of countries, including the USA, Canada, and most EU countries, that have agreed to defend each other if one of them is attacked.

natter ['nætəʃ] GB (informal use) ◇ vi to talk in a friendly way and for a long time about unimportant things. ◇ n to have a natter to natter.

natty ['næti] (compar nattier, superl nattiest) adj [person, suit] that is neat and stylish in appearance □ You look really natty in that outfit. □ That's a natty little gadget.

natural ['nætʃrəl] ◇ adj -1. [feeling, desire, reaction] that is understandable and normal in a particular situation □ It's only natural that you should feel angry. -2. [person] who is relaxed and behaves in their usual way □ His manner when interviewing people was natural and easy. □ She always manages to look natural in photos. -3. [ability, instinct, talent] that one has from an early age and does not have to learn □ a natural flair for drawing. -4. [athlete, musician, leader] whose personality and skills make them very good at a particular activity □ She's a natural organizer. -5. [phenomenon, habitat, disaster] that is connected with nature □ the natural world. -6. [fibers, ingredients, flavoring] that is not made from artificial substances □ the breakfast cereal that is full of natural goodness. -7. sb's natural parents sb's real parents, compared with parents who have adopted or fostered them □ She is trying to find out who her natural parents are. -8. MUSIC [note] that is not sharp or flat. -9. phrase to die of natural causes to die because of illness or old age, not because of murder, suicide, or an accident.

◇ n to be a natural to be very good at doing something without having to make any effort □ You should take up basketball seriously, you're a natural.

natural childbirth n a way of making childbirth less painful that uses relaxation and special breathing techniques rather than drugs.

natural gas n a colorless gas that is found underground or under the sea, and is used as fuel for cooking and heating.

natural history n the study of animals and plants □ a natural history museum.

naturalist ['nætʃrəlist] n a person who studies plants and animals.

naturalize, -ise ['nætʃrəlaɪz] vt to be naturalized to become a citizen of a country that one was not born in.

naturally ['nætʃrəli] adv -1. naturally,... a word used to show that one thinks something is understandable and not surprising in a particular situation □ Naturally, I was disappointed not to win. □ She was naturally reluctant to comment. □ "Will you be there?" — "Naturally." -2. [behave, talk] in a natural manner □ He laughed and joked naturally, with no obvious sign of strain. -3. naturally talented/flavored etc that has a natural talent/flavor etc □ Is your hair naturally blonde? □ He's a naturally gifted athlete. ■ to come naturally to sb to be easy for sb to do, because they are good at it or used to doing it □ Office management just comes naturally to him.

natural resources npl [of a country, region] all the land, forests, sources of energy, and useful minerals that exist in a particular place and can be used.

natural science n biology, chemistry, and physics as a single subject for studying.

natural wastage n GB the gradual reduction in the size of a workforce that happens when employees retire or resign and are not replaced □ Management says 50% of the staff cuts will be achieved through natural wastage, and another 50% through lay-offs.

natural yogurt n yogurt that has no added flavorings.

nature ['neɪtʃə] n -1. everything in the physical world, including plants, animals, oceans, and rocks, that is not made by people; all events and processes that are not caused by people □ the laws of nature □ nature study. -2. the nature of sthg the kind of thing sthg is □ matters of a serious/personal nature □ What is the nature of the injury/complaint? □ Such is the nature of politics. □ These accusations are, by their very nature, difficult to prove. -3. sb's nature the main qualities that make sb a particular kind of person □ She has a very sweet nature. □ He wouldn't do that, it's not in his nature. □ I've always been an optimist by nature.

nature reserve n an area of land where plants and animals, especially rare ones, are protected and can be seen by visitors.

nature trail n a path in a park or through the countryside with signs giving information about the plants, animals etc that can be seen there.

naughty ['nɔ:tɪ] (compar naughtier, superl naughtiest) adj -1. [child, dog] that behaves badly or is disobedient □ You naughty boy! □ That was very naughty of him. -2. GB [joke, postcard] that one thinks is a little rude or shocking because it refers to sex.

nausea ['nɔ:zjə] n the unpleasant feeling that one has just before one vomits □ The symptoms are headaches and nausea.

nauseam ['nɔ:ziæm] → ad nauseam.

nauseate ['nɔ:zi:ieɪt] vt -1. [smell, sight] to make <sb> want to vomit. -2. [person, behavior] to make <sb> feel very disgusted and angry.

nauseating ['nɔ:zi:ieɪtɪŋ] adj -1. [smell, taste] that makes one want to vomit □ There was the most nauseating stink of rotten food. -2. [hypocrisy, violence] that makes one feel very disgusted and angry □ It's quite nauseating watching him trying to be nice to the boss.

nauseous ['nɔ:zjəs] adj to feel nauseous to feel as if one is going to vomit.

nautical ['nɔ:tɪkl] adj that is connected with sailing, ships, or sailors □ The nautical look is in fashion this year.

nautical mile n a unit (1,853 meters) used at sea for measuring distance.

Navajo ['nævəhəʊ] (pl Navajo) n a member of a Native American people living in the southwestern USA; the language of this people.

naval ['neɪvl] adj that is used by or connected with the navy of a country □ a naval dockyard □ in naval uniform.

naval officer n an officer in the navy of a country.

nave [neɪv] n the main part of a church, where people sit.

navel ['neɪvl] n the small round hollow or lump just below one's stomach, formed after the umbilical cord is cut at birth.

navigable ['nævəgəbl] adj [river, canal] that ships or boats can travel along □ The Hudson is navigable as far as Albany.

navigate ['nævəgeɪt] ◇ vt -1. [ship] to guide  etc along the correct route using maps or special equipment □ They needed a pilot to navigate the ship through the narrow channel. -2. [sea] to sail across . ◇ vi to find the way to a place in a ship, plane, or car using maps or special equipment □ I'll drive and you navigate.

navigation [,nævə'geɪʃn] n the act or skill of navigating □ The bad weather made navigation difficult. □ a navigation aid.

navigator ['nævəgeɪtə] n a person who is responsible for the direction that a ship, plane, or car takes.

navy ['neɪvɪ] (pl navies) ◇ n. -1. the branch of a country's armed forces that fights at sea; the ships it uses □ My brother is in the navy. -2. = navy blue. ◇ adj = navy blue.

navy bean n US a small white bean.

navy blue ◇ adj very dark blue. ◇ n a very dark blue color.

Nazareth ['næzərəθ] a town in northern Israel that is important to Christians because they believe that Jesus lived there. POPULATION: 39,400.

Nazi ['nɑ:tsɪ] (pl Nazis) ◇ n a member of the right-wing political party led by Adolf Hitler that ruled Germany from 1933 to 1945. ◇ adj: Nazi propaganda/sympathizers.

NB -1. (abbr of nota bene) a word used in writing to make the reader pay special attention to what follows. -2. abbr of New Brunswick.

NBA n -1. (abbr of National Basketball Association) the NBA the organization in charge of professional basketball in the USA. -2. (abbr of National Boxing Association) the NBA one of the US organizations that runs professional boxing competitions.

NBC (abbr of National Broadcasting Company) n a national television network in the USA.

NBS (abbr of National Bureau of Standards) n the NBS the organization that sets standards for units of measurement in the USA.

nc, n/c abbr of no charge.

NC abbr of North Carolina.

NC17 [ˌɛnsi:səv'n'ti:n] a symbol for movies and video tapes in the USA, showing that children under 17 are only allowed to watch them if an adult is with them.

NCO n abbr of noncommissioned officer.

NCU (abbr of National Communications Union) n the NCU a British labor union for mailmen and telecommunications workers.

ND abbr of North Dakota.

NE -1. abbr of Nebraska. -2. abbr of northeast.

near [nɪə] ◇ adj -1. [place, object] that is only a small distance away from where one is or where one lives □ There's a bank very near to our office. □ The nearest town is 20 miles away. -2. [event, date] that will happen soon □ The deadline is getting nearer. ■ in the near future soon □ I don't see there being much change in the near future. -3. a near relative OR relation somebody who is closely related to one □ My nearest living relative is a cousin in Australia. -4. near chaos/darkness almost total chaos/darkness □ The news created near panic on the Stock Exchange. ■ a near disaster a disaster that almost happened but did not. -5. phrase sb/sthg is the nearest thing to... sb/sthg is the person or thing that is most like something else, though not exactly the same □ She's the nearest thing we've got to a qualified accountant. ◇ adv -1. [come, stand, live] only a small distance away □ Bring your chair nearer! -2. to come OR draw OR get near to be going to happen soon □ Christmas is getting nearer. -3. near perfect/disastrous etc almost perfect/disastrous etc □ It was a near impossible task.

◇ vt -1. [place] to come close or closer to  □ We're nearing our destination. -2. [state] to have almost reached  □ The project is finally nearing completion.

- ◆ near (to) prep -1. [to a person, place] only a small distance away from <sb/sthg> □ He went and stood near (to) her. □ She lives nearer the town than we do. -2. [to an event, date] a short time before or after <sthg> □ We can't go on Tuesday, it's too near to my exams. □ I'll let you know nearer the time. -3. to be OR come near to sthg to have almost reached sthg □ Their relationship came near to breaking-point. □ We are no nearer to solving the dispute. -4. to be near to tears/exhaustion etc to be almost crying/exhausted etc □ She was near to tears as she tried to explain what had happened.

nearby [nɪə'baɪ] ◇ adj [hospital, town] that is only a short distance from where one is, or from the place one has just mentioned □ We stopped at a nearby hotel. ◇ adv: He was standing nearby at the time of the explosion. □ Fortunately, there was a garage nearby.

Near East = Middle East.

nearly ['nɪəli] adv -1. nearly ready/complete almost ready/complete □ By this time it was nearly dark. □ Nearly everyone who was invited came. □ He nearly died in the accident. □ I very nearly dropped it. -2. not nearly used to say that something is not even close to being true □ I'm not nearly finished yet. □ You haven't done nearly enough work. □ Their computer system isn't nearly as efficient as ours.

near miss n -1. SPORT a shot that just misses the target. -2. a situation in which two vehicles or aircraft nearly crash into each other.

nearside ['nɪə'saɪd] GB ◇ n the side of a vehicle that is nearest to the edge of the road when one is driving. ◇ adj: the nearside wheel/light.

NOTE: Compare offside.

nearsighted [nɪə'saɪtəd] adj [person] who is unable to see clearly things that are far away.

neat [ni:t] adj -1. [room, bundle] that has been arranged in an orderly way and is nice to look at □ Kim has very neat handwriting. □ The apartment's looking very neat and tidy. -2. [person] who is smart and clean and likes things to be in the right place □ I always like to look neat when I go out. □ My assistant is very neat and efficient. -3. [solution, maneuver, idea] that is clever/useful □ They've found a neat way around the problem. -4. [whiskey, gin] that is served on its own without ice, water, or another drink added □ How do you want your drink, neat or with ice? -5. US a word used to say that one thinks something is very good (informal use) □ They've brought out a really neat new video game.

neatly ['ni:tli] adv -1. [arrange, dress, fold] in an orderly and careful way. -2. [solve, fit] in a way that is clever and useful □ The device fits neatly in a suitcase.

neatness ['ni:tənəs] n [of handwriting, a person, room] see neat.

Nebraska [nə'bræskə] a US state, consisting mainly of farmland. ABBREVIATION: NE. SIZE:

200,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,578,385 (Ne-braskans). CAPITAL: Lincoln.

Nebuchadnezzar [US ,nebə'kəd'neɪz, GB ,nebjukəd'neɪzə] (630–562 BC) King of Babylon from 605 to 562 BC. In the Bible, he destroyed Jerusalem and sent the Jews into exile in Babylon.

nebulous ['nebjələs] adj [idea, concept] that is not clear (formal use).

NEC (abbr of National Exhibition Centre) n the NEC a large conference center and exhibition hall near Birmingham, England.

necessarily [ˌnesə'serəli] adv -1. not necessarily a phrase used to show that it is possible but not certain that something is the case □ Not everything you read in the papers is necessarily true. □ "Does that mean we've lost?" — "Not necessarily." -2. a word used to show that something must happen and cannot be avoided □ Finding a suitable candidate is necessarily a lengthy process.

necessary ['nesəseri] adj -1. [skills, arrangements] that one has to have or do in order to get a particular result or effect □ Is it absolutely necessary to make all that noise? □ Food is necessary for survival. □ Many candidates lack the necessary qualifications. □ I hope it won't be necessary for you to have an operation. -2. [result, connection] that is logical and cannot be avoided in a particular situation □ A period of uncertainty was seen as a necessary consequence of the crisis.

◆ if necessary adv if it becomes necessary □ I am prepared to go to prison for my beliefs, if necessary.

necessitate [nə'sesəteɪt] vt to make <sthg> necessary, especially sthg difficult or sthg that one had hoped to avoid (formal use) □ This kind of offense necessitates a very specific kind of punishment. □ Poor sales figures necessitated a rethink of our overall strategy.

necessity [nə'sesəti] (pl necessities) n -1. something that one needs in a particular situation, e.g. in order to be able to live or do a job properly □ I always travel with only the most basic necessities. -2. a situation that makes something unavoidable or necessary □ I did it out of necessity, not choice. □ There's no necessity for such drastic measures.

◆ of necessity adv a phrase used to say that something has to happen in a particular way and cannot be avoided □ It is, of necessity, a rather superficial overview of the subject.

neck [nek] ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal] the part of the body between the head and the shoulders □ She had a long, thin neck. □ Sweat trickled down the back of my neck. ■ to be up to one's neck in sthg [in work, debt, trouble] to be very involved in sthg (informal use) □ Look, I can't talk now, I'm up to my neck in paperwork. ■ to be breathing down sb's neck to be watching sb all the time while they are working to check what they are doing (informal use) □ I'm fed up with him breathing down my neck every time there's a deadline to meet. ■ to stick one's neck out to say or do something that could go wrong, or could be criticized by other people □ I may be sticking my neck out here, but I think you've made the wrong choice.

 -2. [of a garment] the part of a shirt, dress etc that goes around or just below the neck □ a high/low/round neck. -3. [of an object] the narrow part at the top of an object such as a bottle or guitar.

◇ vi [couple] to kiss and cuddle in a sexual way (informal use).

neck and neck adj to be neck and neck [runners, horses, cars] to be very close to each other in position, points etc and have an equal chance of winning □ The two parties were neck and neck in the polls.

neckerchief ['nekə'tʃɪf] (pl neckerchiefs OR neckerchieves [-tʃi:vz]) n a square scarf that is worn around the neck and usually tied with a knot.

necklace ['nekləs] n a piece of jewelry, e.g. a string of beads, worn by a woman or girl around her neck □ a pearl necklace.

neckline ['neklɪn] n the shape of the neck of a woman's blouse, dress, or jacket □ a dress with a low/flattering neckline.

necktie ['nektai] n US a long narrow piece of cloth that men wear around their neck and over their shirt with a knot at the front.

nectar ['nektə] n a sweet sticky liquid found in flowers that bees collect to make honey.

nectarine ['nektəri:n] n a fruit that is like a peach but has a smoother skin.

NEDC (abbr of National Economic Development Council) n the NEDC an organization consisting of representatives of government, management, and labor unions, that makes proposals on economic policy in Britain.

née [nei] adj a word used after a married woman's name and in front of the family name she had before she married □ Mrs. Eileen Robson, née Hunter.

need [ni:d] ◇ n -1. sb's needs what sb wants or must have to keep them healthy, satisfied, comfortable etc □ $500 should be enough for our immediate needs. □ He saw to our every need. -2. the need for sth a situation in which it is necessary to have or do sth □ Industry recognizes the need for more investment in training. □ I felt the need to talk to someone. -3. phrases to be in need to be very poor, hungry, homeless etc □ He spent his life helping children in need. ■ to be in need of sth to need sth □ Some rooms are badly in need of redecoration. □ The helpline is for people in urgent need of legal advice. ■ to have no need of sth not to need sth □ I have no need of your sympathy. ■ there's no need to explain/apologize it is not necessary for you to explain/apologize □ There's no need for you to show me out, I know the way. ■ there's no need to shout please stop shouting □ There's no need to get mad at me!

◇ aux vb -1. she doesn't need to know it is not necessary for her to know □ It needn't take very long. □ I needn't have bothered. ■ do we need to go? is it necessary for us to go? -2. you don't need to be afraid there is no reason that you should be afraid □ If you keep quiet, no one need ever know.

◇ vt -1. [money, food, advice] to want <sb/sth that is important or useful and that one does not have> □ I need your help with this report. □ The company badly needs a period of stability. -2. we need to talk/decide it is necessary and important for us to talk/decide. ■ it needs patience/hard work patience/hard work is necessary if it is to be successful □ Your suggestion needs careful consideration. -3. it needs a clean OR cleaning it is necessary to clean it □ This shirt needs ironing. □ The engine needs a complete overhaul.

◆ if need be adv if it becomes necessary □ We can call again later if need be.

needle ['ni:dɪl] ◇ n -1. [for sewing] a small, very thin piece of metal used for sewing. It has a sharp point at one end and a hole at the other where thread is passed through. ■ it's like looking for a needle in a haystack a phrase used when it is very hard to find somebody or something, e.g. because they are among many other people or things. -2. [for knitting] one of a pair of long plastic or metal sticks with blunt points that are used for knitting. -3. [on a record player] the small pointed device on a record player that touches the record and picks up the sound. -4. MEDICINE the hollow metal point at the end of a medical syringe. -5. [on an instrument] the moving pointer on an instrument such as a compass or speedometer. -6. [on a tree] the long, thin, sharp leaf of a tree such as the pine or fir.

◇ vt [person] to keep annoying <sb> deliberately (informal use).

needlecord ['ni:dɪkɔ:rd] n a kind of cloth that is like fine corduroy □ a needlecord skirt.

needlepoint ['ni:dɪlpɔɪnt] n a kind of embroidery in which patterns are sewn onto canvas cloth using wool threads and a blunt needle.

needless ['ni:dɪləs] adj [suffering, anxiety, trouble] that is not necessary and could have been avoided □ I'm afraid you've been put to needless expense. ■ needless to say... a phrase used to show that one thinks what one is about to say is obvious □ Needless to say, it never actually happened. □ And in the end, needless to say, they changed their minds.

needlessly ['ni:dɪləsli] adv [suffer, worry] see needless.

needlework ['ni:dɪlwɜ:k] n the activity of sewing; something made in this way.

needn't ['ni:dɪnt] = need not.

needy ['ni:dɪ] (compar needier, superl neediest) ◇ adj [person, family] that is very poor. ◇ npl the needy people who are very poor.

nefarious [nə'feəriəs] adj [person, purpose] that is evil and immoral (formal use).

negate [ni'geɪt] vt [efforts, achievement] to prevent <sth> from having the intended effect (formal use).

negation [ni'geɪʃn] n: see negate □ It would be the negation of everything we've fought for.

negative ['negətɪv] ◇ adj -1. [answer, reply] that says "no" rather than "yes". -2. [person, reaction, attitude] that considers only the bad aspects of something □ I think you're being too negative about the whole thing. -3. [effect, advice] that is not helpful or useful. -4. [test, result] that shows no signs of the particular disease or medical condition one is looking for. -5. [number, amount, growth] that is less than zero.

◇ n -1. PHOTOGRAPHY a piece of film from which photographs are developed and which shows dark areas as light and light areas as dark. -2. LINGUISTICS a word, statement etc that expresses the idea of "no" or "not". ■ to answer in the negative to say "no" in answer to a question.

neglect [nɪ'glect] ◇ n -1. [by a parent, owner] the failure to take care of somebody or something □ Both children were suffering from neglect. -2. [in a garden, building] the condition of something that has not been taken care of properly □ The hotel, empty since the 1980s, has fallen into a state of neglect.

◇ vt -1. [child, place, animal] not to take care of <sb/sthg> properly □ You've been neglecting your health, I see. -2. [fact, detail] not to take <sthg> seriously enough □ They neglected a number of important points. -3. [one's work, duty] to fail to do <sthg> properly □ You can't afford to neglect your studies like this. ■ to neglect to do sthg not to do sthg because one forgets or is careless □ They neglected to tell me that the agreement had already been signed. □ There's one point I neglected to mention.

neglected [nɪ'glectəd] adj [child, garden, artist] that has not received enough attention □ The book lay neglected in front of him. □ Are you feeling neglected?

neglectful [nɪ'glectfʌl] adj [person] who neglects somebody or something □ She became neglectful of her appearance/duties.

negligee [US ˌneglɪˈʒeɪ, GB ˈneglɪʒeɪ] n a light thin robe worn by women over a nightgown □ a black chiffon negligee.

negligence ['neglɪdʒəns] n: see negligent □ The owner of the club was sued for negligence.

negligent ['neglɪdʒənt] adj [person] who does not give proper care or attention to somebody or something they are responsible for □ The tribunal ruled that he had been negligent in not observing the correct safety procedures. □ Ms Fenini faces a charge of negligent conduct.

negligently ['neglɪdʒəntli] adv [act, behave] see negligent.

negligible ['neglɪdʒəblɪ] adj [amount, difference, effect] that is too small to be important □ The impact on sales would be negligible.

negotiable [nɪ'goufjəblɪ] adj [price, salary] that can be discussed and changed by negotiation □ The terms of the lease are negotiable.

negotiate [nɪ'goufɪeɪt] ◇ vt -1. [agreement, settlement, terms] to decide on <sthg> jointly after discussing it together, usually in an official way □ The two sides have negotiated a ceasefire. -2. [obstacle, river] to succeed in getting past , especially when skill or care is needed □ We negotiated the rapids with surprising ease. ◇ vi to discuss something, usually officially, in order to reach an agreement □ Union representatives are negotiating with management for a 4% raise.

negotiation [nɪ'goufɪ'eɪʃn] n the process in which people with opposed interests discuss something in order to reach an agreement on it □ These terms are not open to negotiation.

◆ negotiations npl negotiation, usually in politics or business, that takes place in a series of meetings that have been specially arranged □ peace negotiations in the Middle East. □ We will not enter into negotiations unless a guarantee of safety can be given.

negotiator [nɪ'goufɪeɪtə] n a person whose job is to represent their side in negotiations.

Negro ▽ ['ni:grəʊ] (pl Negroes) n a person who belongs to a black African race (offensive use).

Nehru ['neəru:], Jawaharlal (1889–1964) India's first prime minister, from 1947 to 1964.

neigh [neɪ] vi [horse] to make a long high-pitched noise.

neighbor US, neighbour GB ['neɪbə] n -1. a person who lives near to one's own home, especially next door, and who one knows for this reason □ my next-door neighbor □ We've been neighbors for years. -2. one's neighbor a person who is sitting or standing beside one □ Take your neighbor by the hand. -3. [of a country, state] the country, state etc next to a particular country, state etc □ Russia and its Baltic neighbors, Estonia, Lithuania, and Latvia.

neighborhood US, neighbourhood GB ['neɪbə'hʊd] n -1. a particular part of a town or city where people live □ a quiet/poor neighborhood □ I didn't know you lived in this neighborhood! -2. in the neighborhood in the area that is very close to a particular place or to where one lives □ We were in the neighborhood so we thought we'd pay you a visit.

◆ in the neighborhood of prep approximately □ It costs in the neighborhood of $3,000.

neighborhood watch n a system that encourages people who live in an area to watch each other's houses in order to prevent crime.

neighboring US, neighbouring GB ['neɪbərɪŋ] adj [house, country] that is situated nearby □ There had been problems in some of the neighboring towns as well.

neighborly US, neighbourly GB ['neɪbərli] adj [person] who is kind, friendly, and helpful toward their neighbors □ That's very neighborly of you!

neither ['ni:ðə, 'naɪðə] ◇ pron neither of them none of two people, places, or things □ We have two printers, and neither of them is working. □ "Do you want red or white wine?" — "Neither, I'd prefer a beer."

◇ det [person, place, thing] Neither team deserves to win. □ Neither car has all the things I'm looking for.

◇ adv used to add a negative statement to another negative statement □ She's not happy and neither is he. □ "I don't smoke." — "Neither do I."

◇ conj neither...nor... used to join together two equally important negative statements □ I could neither eat nor sleep. □ That remark is neither accurate nor fair. ■ that's neither here nor there that is not relevant or important □ What Jack thinks about it is neither here nor there.

Nelson ['nelsən], Horatio (1758–1805) a British admiral who won several battles at sea against the French navy, including the battle of Trafalgar, where he was killed.

neo- ['ni:ou] prefix added to words to refer to something that is a modern form of something that existed in the past □ a neo-Nazi organization.

neoclassical [,ni:ou'klæsɪkəl] adj [art, artist, architecture] that copies and adapts the styles of ancient Greece and Rome.

neolithic [,ni:ə'liθɪk] adj [settlement, culture] that is connected with the period at the end of the Stone Age when people began to settle in villages and farms, still using stone tools and weapons.

neologism [nɪ'blɒdʒɪzəm] n a new word, expression, or meaning in a language.

neon ['ni:ɒn] n a colorless gas with no smell that is used in glass tubes to make bright lights. SYMBOL: Ne.

neon light n a bright electric light made from a glass tube with neon gas inside.

neon sign n a sign made of neon lights, usually advertising something.

Nepal [nə'pɔ:l] a country in central southern Asia, in the Himalayas, between Tibet and India. SIZE: 140,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 19,600,000 (Nepalese). CAPITAL: Katmandu. LANGUAGE: Nepali. CURRENCY: Nepalese rupee.

Nepalese [,nepə'li:z] npl & adj: see Nepal.

Nepali [nə'pɔ:lɪ] n the official language of Nepal.

nephew ['nefju:] n a son of one's brother or sister; a son of the brother or sister of one's husband or wife.

nepotism ['nepətɪzəm] n the practice of using one's power and authority to give jobs to members of one's family.

Neptune¹ ['neptʃu:n] the planet in the solar system that is the eighth furthest from the Sun.

Neptune² the Roman god of the sea.

nerd [nɜ:'d] n a person who one thinks is awkward, unattractive, and unfashionable (informal use).

Nero ['nɪərəʊ] (37–68 AD) Emperor of Rome from 54 to 68 AD. He had many people killed, including his mother and his wife.

nerve [nɜ:'v] n -1. ANATOMY a long thin fiber in the body, one of thousands that carry messages to and from the brain about physical feelings such as heat or pain □ nerve endings. -2. courage and calm when doing something difficult or frightening □ He kept his nerve throughout the ordeal. □ I was going to do it, but I lost my nerve. -3. to have a nerve to behave in a way that seems unreasonable or unfair □ They've parked in our driveway again! What a nerve! □ The bank had the nerve to bounce my check.

◆ nerves npl nervous, anxious, or tense feelings □ I had a drink to calm my nerves. □ an attack of nerves. ■ to get on sb's nerves to annoy and irritate sb very much (informal use) □ That man really gets on my nerves!

nerve center n the place from where the activities of an organization, system etc are controlled.

nerve gas n a poisonous gas used in war that damages the nervous system of people and can kill them.

nerve-racking [-rækɪŋ] adj [experience, wait] that makes one feel very tense and worried □ My piano exam was pretty nerve-racking.

nervous ['nɜ:'vəs] adj -1. [person] who is feeling worried and afraid; [smile, laugh] that shows one is feeling worried or afraid □ I was very nervous about the interview. □ I've always been nervous of dogs. -2. [person, nature, animal] that is easily worried, frightened, or upset □ This program is unsuitable for viewers of a nervous disposition. -3. [disease] that is caused by damage to the body's nerves.

nervous breakdown n a period of mental illness that is caused by too much work or stress and makes somebody unable to work, sleep, go out etc □ In the end he had a complete nervous breakdown.

nervously ['nɜ:'vəsli] adv [talk, laugh, look] see nervous □ He sat nervously on the edge of his seat.

nervousness ['nɜ:'vəsnes] n: see nervous □ She showed no sign of nervousness.

nervous system n all the nerves in the body, including the brain and spinal cord, that control a person's movements and feelings.

nervous wreck n a person who seems extremely tense, nervous, and worried (informal use).

nerve ['nɜ:'vi] (compar nervier, superl nerviest) adj -1. US [person] who is confident in a way that is likely to offend other people. -2. GB [person] who is often tense and anxious, and is easily upset (informal use).

nest [nest] ◇ n -1. [for a bird] a place that birds make to lay their eggs in, usually using twigs, leaves, mud, feathers etc □ a robin's nest. -2. [for an animal, insect] a place that some kinds of animals and insects make to lay their eggs in or to give birth to young □ a wasps' nest. -3. a nest of tables a set of small tables of different sizes, that fit underneath each other. ◇ vi [bird] to build a nest and start laying eggs in it.

nest egg n an amount of money that one saves for a particular purpose, e.g. to use when one retires.

nestle ['nesl] vi -1. to nestle against sb/sth to make oneself comfortable by pressing close against sb/sth soft and warm □ The kittens nestled against their mother. -2. [house, village] to be situated in a place that looks sheltered and protected □ The village lies nestling at the foot of a hill.

nestling ['neslɪŋ] n a bird that is too young to leave its nest.

net [net] (pt & pp netted, cont netting) ◇ n
-1. a piece of netting, often in the shape of a large bag, used to catch fish, insects etc □ a fishing net. -2. cloth made of very fine threads that lets the light pass through. -3. TENNIS the long piece of netting across the middle of a tennis court, over which the players have to hit the ball □ McEnroe hit his return into the net. -4. SOCCER & HOCKEY the piece of netting into which the ball has to be hit to score a goal □ The ball ended up in the back of the net.

◇ adj -1. [amount, income, pay] that is left after all costs, taxes etc have been paid □ The company has net assets of $1 million. -2. net weight the weight of something without the container or packaging □ Net weight 500g. -3. the net result the final result □ The net result of all the changes was greater efficiency.

◇ vt to produce or gain  as a net profit □ The deal netted over $5,000 for the company OR netted the company over $5,000.

◆ Net n COMPUTING = Internet (informal use).

netball ['netbɔ:l] n a sport with two teams of seven players, similar to basketball, that is mainly played by women in Commonwealth countries.

net curtains npl GB curtains made of net allowing people inside a house to see out but preventing people outside from seeing in.

Netherlands ['nedəʳlændz]: the Netherlands a country in western Europe, on the North Sea between Belgium and Germany. SIZE: 34,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 15,200,000 (Dutch). CAPITAL: Amsterdam. ADMINISTRATIVE CAPITAL: The Hague. LANGUAGE: Dutch. CURRENCY: guilder.

NOTE: The name the Netherlands is used only in official contexts; otherwise the country is called Holland.

net profit n the total money earned in a business deal or within a certain period, after all costs, taxes etc have been paid.

net revenue n the total money received from the sale of goods or services, after all costs, taxes etc have been paid.

netting ['netɪŋ] n material made of thread or wire knotted or woven together with equal spaces in between □ wire netting.

nettle ['netl] ◇ n a wild plant with spiky, hairy, green leaves that stings the skin and leaves red marks. ◇ vt to be nettled to be a little annoyed □ He was obviously nettled by all these personal questions.

network ['netwɜ:k] ◇ n -1. [of veins, streets, wires] a large system of lines that cross one another and join at many points □ a telecommunications/road network. -2. [of friends, contacts] a closely linked group of people or institutions, usually spread over a large area. -3. TV & RADIO a radio or television company, or group of companies, covering a large area and sharing the same programs. -4. COMPUTING a set of computers linked together so that they can share information.

◇ vt -1. TV & RADIO to broadcast  on several stations over a large area at the same time. -2. COMPUTING to connect <two or more computers> together to form a network.

◇ vi to meet people at informal social meetings who may be helpful to one's career or business.

networking ['netwɜ:kɪŋ] n getting to know people who might be helpful to one's career or business.

neuralgia [nɪ'ʊrælɪdʒə] n sharp pain felt along a nerve, particularly in the head or face.

neurological [nɪ'ʊrə'lɒdʒɪkəl] adj [disease, examination] that affects the nervous system.

neurologist [nɪ'ʊrɒlədʒɪst] n a doctor who specializes in problems of the nervous system.

neurology [nɪ'ʊrɒlədʒɪ] n the study of nerves and their diseases.

neurosis [nɪ'ʊrəʊsɪs] (pl neuroses [-ɪz]) n an unhealthy mental state in which a person is afraid of or worried about something without any real reason.

NOTE: Compare psychosis.

neurosurgeon [nɪ'ʊrəʊsɜ:rdʒən] n a doctor who specializes in operations on the nervous system.

neurotic [nɪ'ʊrɒtɪk] adj [person, behavior] see neurosis □ He's so neurotic about growing old!

neuter ['nju:tə] ◇ adj -1. GRAMMAR [noun, pronoun] that is not masculine or feminine and belongs to the class of words usually used for things and not people. -2. [plant, animal] whose sex organs are missing or not fully developed. ◇ vt [dog, cat] to remove part of the sexual organs of <an animal> so that it cannot produce young.

neutral ['nju:trəl] ◇ adj -1. [country, person, position] that does not support any country, person, political cause etc in an argument or war □ neutral territory/waters □ Switzerland remained neutral throughout both World Wars. -2. [expression, voice, word] that does not show what somebody is feeling □ He described what he'd seen in a surprisingly neutral way. -3. [clothing, shade] pale gray or pale brown □ neutral shoe polish. -4. ELECTRICITY [wire] that has no electrical charge. ◇ n AUTO the position of the gears of a car in which no power can pass from the engine to the wheels □ Leave the car in neutral.

neutrality [nɪ'ʊtræləti] n [of a country, voice] see neutral □ a position of political neutrality.

neutralize, -ise ['nju:trəlaɪz] vt [poison, threat] to make <sthg that could be dangerous or harmful> safe □ Bomb disposal experts successfully neutralized the device.

neutron ['nju:trɒn] n any of the tiny pieces of matter in an atom that have no electrical charge.

neutron bomb n a nuclear bomb that kills people without destroying buildings.

Nevada [US nɪ'vædə, GB -'vɑ:də] a state in the western USA, consisting mainly of desert and mountains. It is famous for its casinos. ABBREVIATION: NV. SIZE: 295,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,201,833 (Nevadans). CAPITAL: Carson City. OTHER MAJOR CITIES: Reno, Las Vegas.

never ['nevə] adv -1. at no time □ I've never been to America. □ You've never seen such a mess! □ I can never remember people's names. ■ never ever used for emphasis □ I'll never ever do that again. -2. not □ I never knew you could swim so well. □ That's never Julie in there, is it?

never-ending adj [problems, complaints, chores] that seem never to finish □ The list of suggestions is never-ending.

nevertheless [ˌnevə'ðə'les] adv in spite of what has just been said □ We have suffered a serious setback. Nevertheless, we must not be discouraged.

new [nju:] adj -1. [movie, house, baby] that has been recently made, created, or built, or is being made, created, or built □ Have you seen our new range of outdoor furniture? □ They're bringing in new laws to curb immigration. ■ new potatoes young potatoes picked at the beginning of the season. -2. [car, book, coat] that has not been used or owned by anybody else before □ Did you buy it new or secondhand? ■ like new, as good as new in the same condition as when it was new □ I polished the silver until it shone like new. -3. [planet, discovery, idea] that was not known before or has not been thought of before □ The police have found new evidence. □ The policy statement said nothing new. -4. [job, address, hairstyle] that takes the place of the same kind of thing one had before □ 'Under new management' □ What are your new neighbors like? -5. [customer, mother, company] that has not existed for long □ Have you met your new boss yet? -6. [name, feeling, place] that has not been seen or experienced before □ Let's go somewhere new this time. □ I can see a few new faces here today. □ This is all new to me. ■ what's new? what's the latest news? -7. [employee, member] who is not yet used to a particular place or job □ I'm new here, can you help me? □ She's new to the company/to teaching. □ Mr Takagi will be the new head of research. ■ a new boy/girl a boy/girl who has only recently joined a school.

new- prefix recently □ new-mown hay □ a new-laid egg □ They're out celebrating their new-won freedom.

New Age adj connected with a cultural movement that began in the West in the 1970s and follows non-Western ideas about medicine, religion, astrology etc □ the New Age movement.

new blood n new people in an organization or company who have new ideas and new talents □ Our team needs new blood.

newborn ['nju:bo:n] adj [baby, calf, lamb] that has recently been born.

New Brunswick [-'branzwɪk] a province of eastern Canada, on the Atlantic Ocean. AB-BREVIATION: NB. SIZE: 73,437 sq kms. POPULATION: 723,900 (New Brunswickers). CAPITAL: Fredericton.

Newcastle [US 'nu:kæsl, GB 'nju:kɑ:sl] -1. an industrial city in northeastern England that used to be an important center for coalmining and shipbuilding. It is also called Newcastle-upon-Tyne. POPULATION: 204,000. -2. an industrial city and port in New South Wales, Australia. POPULATION: 300,000.

newcomer ['nju:kʌmə] n a person who has recently moved to a place, started a job etc □ Newcomers to the area are sure of a warm welcome at the club.

