streamline ['stri:mlaɪn] vt -1. [car, shape, machine] to make <sth> long and smooth so that it moves easily and fast through water or air. -2. [company, process, organization] to make <sth> more simple in order to make it more efficient.

streamlined ['stri:mlaɪnd] adj [object, body] that has a long smooth shape, especially one that allows it to move easily and fast through water or air.

street [stri:t] n a road in a town, village, or city, with houses, shops etc on one or both sides □ We've lived on the same street for years. □ He lives across the street from us. □ The whole street had come out to watch the procession. ■ to be right up sb's street GB to be exactly the sort of activity or subject that sb likes or is interested in (informal use). ■ to be streets ahead of sb GB to be much better or much more advanced than sb (informal use).

streetcar ['stri:tka:] n US a vehicle, used to transport passengers around a city, that runs along metal tracks in the road and is usually powered by electricity.

street-cred(ibility) [-kred(ə'bɪlətɪ)] n to have street-cred(ibility) GB to be fashionable in a way that is approved of by young people (informal use).

street lamp, street light n a tall post by the side of a road that has a light at the top.

street lighting n a collective term for street lights; the light given off by street lights □ The street lighting is very poor in this area.

street map n a map with the names of all the streets, roads, important buildings etc in an area marked on it.

street market n an outdoor market in a road or street, consisting of several stalls run by different people.

street plan n = street map.

street value n the price that illegal drugs can be sold for □ Drugs with a street value of $10,000 were seized by police today.

streetwise ['stri:twaɪz] adj [person] who knows how to deal with the kind of dangerous situation that is sometimes found in cities □ a streetwise young kid.

strength [streŋθ] n -1. [in one's body] physical power □ I don't have the strength to lift these boxes. □ Sammy doesn't know his own strength sometimes. □ Once you have regained your strength I'll take you on a nice vacation. -2. [of character] courage and determination □ She needed all her strength to come to terms with his death. □ Sean did not have the strength of character to be different from the others. -3. [of wind, light, voice] the quality something has of being powerful or strong □ Don't underestimate the strength of feeling that this topic arouses. □ The ecology movement gained in strength throughout the 1980s. □ This government has broken the strength of the unions. □ He's negotiating from a position of strength. ■ on the strength of sthg [of evidence, advice, a report] based on or as a result of sthg □ Josey was given the job on the strength of the references you gave her. □ Sanderson was convicted on the strength of one eyewitness account. ■ to go from strength to strength to keep improving and becoming more successful. -4. [of a person, plan] a good quality or ability that somebody or something has □ Her greatest strength is that she keeps calm in a crisis. -5. [of a structure, metal] the ability to support great force, pressure etc □ We will need to test the strength of the bridge. -6. [of an opinion, argument] a powerful or convincing effect □ I was forced to concede the strength of her argument. -7. [of alcohol, a drug] the quality that a substance has of being concentrated or strong □ It's easy to underestimate the strength of some of these beers. -8. [of money] the position of a particular currency compared to others, especially to the American dollar □ The lira has gained/fallen in strength. -9. [of an organization, team] the total number of people in an organization, team etc. ■ at full strength with the necessary or total number of people □ The union is now at full strength.

◆ below strength adv without the necessary or total number of people □ The factory was running below strength. □ Our nursing team is currently well below strength.

◆ in strength adv in large numbers □ People turned out in strength to support the runners.

strengthen ['streŋθn] ◇ vt -1. [body, muscle] to make <part of one's body> more physically powerful □ He needed months of physical therapy to strengthen his legs again after the operation. -2. [army, team] to make  more powerful by increasing its numbers □ We're trying to strengthen our membership by advertising in the local press. -3. [economy, industry, sales] to improve <sthg> □ The economy has been strengthened by increased investment from overseas. -4. [argument, case, evidence] to provide details, reasons etc that make <sthg> stronger □ New evidence concerning Wilson's past will certainly strengthen the case against him. -5. [dislike, opposition] to make <sthg> stronger □ Working as a journalist only served to strengthen my distrust of politicians. -6. [friendship, bond] to improve  by making the different people or groups feel closer to each other □ Tawara's visit has served to strengthen ties between the two countries. -7. [person] to make <sb> feel braver, more determined, or more confident □ The meeting strengthened my resolve to leave immediately. -8. [bridge, roof, foundations] to make <sthg> more able to resist great weight, bad weather etc. -9. [yen, franc] to increase the value of  compared to the currency of other countries □ Recent developments have strengthened the pound against the dollar.

◇ vi -1. [body, muscle] to become more physically powerful. -2. [economy, sales, industry] to improve. -3. [resolve, opposition, dislike] to become stronger. -4. [friendship, bond, ties] to improve because the different people or groups involved feel closer to each other. -5. [pound, franc, currency] to increase in value compared to the currency of other countries.

strenuous ['streɪnjuəs] adj [exercise, activity, task] that requires a lot of physical effort or energy □ Avoid doing anything too strenuous over the next few weeks.

stress [stres] ◇ n -1. [on a person] the pressure and anxiety caused by one's job, daily life etc □ ways of dealing with stress □ the stresses and strains of city life. ■ to be under stress to suffer from stress because of one's job, life etc □ He's under a lot of stress at work. -2. [on a particular fact, idea] the special attention which is given to something in order to show that it is important □ The stress has always been on productivity. -3. TECHNOLOGY the physical pressure that is placed on an object □ An error had been made when calculating the stress on the beam. -4. LINGUISTICS the extra emphasis put on a particular word or syllable when it is pronounced □ The stress is always on the final syllable.

◇ vt -1. [importance, value] to emphasize <sthg> □ I cannot stress enough the need for discretion. -2. LINGUISTICS [word, syllable] to emphasize <sthg> when one pronounces it.

stressed(-out) [,strest-] adj [person] who is suffering from stress and unable to relax □ Louise walked into our office, looking extremely stressed.

stressful ['stresfʌl] adj [job, lifestyle, day] that causes or involves a lot of stress □ I find traveling very stressful.

stretch [stretʃ] ◇ n -1. [of a road, river] an area of land or water, usually one which is narrow and flat □ a new stretch of highway. -2. [of time] a period of time □ I did a stretch as a door-to-door salesman. -3. phrase by no stretch of the imagination a phrase used to emphasize that one thinks that something is impossible or untrue □ You could not, by any stretch of the imagination, call him handsome.

◇ vt -1. [item of clothing, elastic, shoes] to make <sthg> longer or wider by pulling different parts of it in opposite directions □ I've stretched my T-shirt by washing it too much. -2. [rope, cable, fabric] to pull <sthg> so that it becomes tight, often in order to cover a wider area □ They stretched a rope between two trees. -3. [arms, hand, wings] to straighten  to its full length in order to cover, reach etc something, or to make the muscles feel better □ He yawned and stretched his legs out in front of him. -4. [rules, meaning, patience] to make <sthg> go beyond its usual accepted limits □ They have stretched their authority too far. -5. [budget, resources] to use so much of <sthg> that there is barely enough left □ My first few weeks at college stretched my income to the limit. -6. [person] to present <sb> with challenges and opportunities to use all their abilities □ I want a job that will really stretch me.

◇ vi -1. to stretch into/over etc to cover a particular area or period of time □ The conference stretched over three days. ■ to stretch from...to... to cover a particular distance from...to... □ The line of people stretched from the bakery to the corner. -2. [person, animal] to straighten the body in order to relax the muscles; to straighten a particular part of the body in order to reach for something □ He stood up and stretched. □ She stretched up to look over the fence. -3. [material, elastic] to become longer or wider when pulled.

◇ adj [cotton, fabric] that can be stretched □ a pair of jeans made in stretch cotton fabric.

◆ at a stretch adv [work, walk] without stopping □ I can only type for two hours at a stretch. □ He would sit at his desk doing nothing for hours at a stretch.

◆ stretch out ◇ vt sep to stretch sth out [hand, foot, arm] to hold sth out straight □ She stretched out her hand to me. ◇ vi to lie down with one's legs and body in a straight line □ I stretched out on the bed.

stretcher ['stretʃə] n two long parallel poles with fabric stretched between them, used for carrying an injured person □ The casualties were carried away on stretchers.

stretchmarks ['stretʃmɑ:kz] npl small lines like scars that are found on somebody's skin and are caused by the skin being stretched, especially after pregnancy.

stretchy ['stretʃi] (compar stretchier, superl stretchiest) adj [fabric, material] that stretches easily.

strew [stru:] (pp strewn [stru:n] OR strewed) vt -1. to strew sth on OR over sth to spread sth on OR over sth in a messy way □ Clothes were strewn all over the floor. -2. to be strewn with sth to have sth scattered over it □ The hall was strewn with children's toys.

stricken ['stri:kən] adj to be stricken by OR with sth [with grief, horror, illness] to be very badly affected by sth □ Red Cross aid workers are trying to reach the stricken area. □ Her father sat there, stricken with grief.

strict [strikt] adj -1. [parent, boss, teacher] who is severe and does not accept bad behavior □ He's very strict with the children. □ a strict upbringing/education. -2. a strict rule/order etc a rule/order etc that must be obeyed □ I gave you strict instructions not to open the door to anybody. □ They have very strict rules about what you can and can't do. -3. a strict Catholic somebody who follows Catholic beliefs very closely □ She's a strict vegetarian. -4. [interpretation, meaning] that is exact and correct □ It is not a metaphor in the strictest sense of the word.

strictly ['striktli] adv -1. a word used to emphasize that something must be obeyed or respected □ strictly confidential □ I strictly forbid you to mention this to him. □ 'Smoking strictly forbidden' □ This is strictly between you and me. -2. [true, wrong, interpreted] exactly □ It's not strictly legal. □ Well, that's not strictly true. ■ strictly speaking a phrase used to correct a piece of information or to give precise details of it □ Strictly speaking, I shouldn't be here. -3. [educate] see strict □ They were brought up very strictly.

stride [straɪd] (pt strode, pp stridden ['strɪdn]) ◇ n a long step forward □ In one stride he was at her side. □ He took several strides toward them. ■ to take sth in one's stride [problem, difficulties] to deal calmly and easily with sth that one did not expect □ It was chaos today, but Martin took it all in his stride. ◇ vi to walk with long steps □ She strode over to him.

◆ strides npl -1. to make great strides to make a lot of progress □ Jay has been making great strides in his music lessons. -2. AUS trousers (informal use).

strident ['straɪdnt] adj -1. [voice, sound] that sounds loud and unpleasant □ He could hear Hawthorne's strident voice rising above the others'. -2. [demand, opinion] that is very loudly or strongly expressed □ the strident demands of militant feminists.

strife [straɪf] n trouble and disagreement between two people or groups of people (formal use).

strike [straɪk] (pt & pp struck) ◇ n -1. an organized protest by a group of people in which they refuse to work because of low pay, bad working conditions etc □ a pay/teachers' strike □ a strike over pay and conditions □ strike action □ The unions have called a general strike. ■ to be (out) on strike to be carrying out a strike. ■ to go on strike to begin a strike □ Air traffic controllers are threatening to go on strike. -2. a refusal to do something as a form of protest □ a rent strike. -3. MILITARY an attack, especially by air □ an air strike. -4. the discovery of something, especially in the ground □ an oil/a gold strike.

◇ vt -1. [person] to deliberately hit , especially with one's hand; [vehicle] to accidentally hit  with force □ He struck her across the face. □ The car struck a tree and overturned. -2. [hurricane, disaster, illness] to suddenly affect or damage  □ The church was struck by lightning. -3. [thought, idea] to come into the mind of <sb> suddenly □ The thought had never struck her before. □ It strikes me he doesn't know what he wants. -4. to strike sb as... to seem to sb to have a particular quality □ He strikes me as (being) very capable. ■ to be struck by OR with sthg [by somebody's beauty, words, kindness] to be strongly affected by sthg □ I was much struck by how little Aunt Agatha had changed over the years. □ He was immediately struck by the similarities between the two designs. -5. to strike a bargain/deal to agree to a bargain/deal with somebody □ The two sides finally struck a deal over pay and conditions. ■ to strike a balance to find a position between two extremes □ You have to strike a balance between quality and speed. ■ to strike a serious/happy/cautious etc note to produce a serious/happy/cautious etc feeling □ His words struck a pessimistic note. -6. to strike a match to light a match. -7. [oil, gold] to discover <sthg>, especially by drilling into the ground □ They struck oil while drilling in the Sahara desert. -8. [clock] to chime a particular number of times to show <the time> □ The clock struck midnight. -9. to be struck blind/dumb to suddenly become blind/unable to speak. ■ to strike fear OR terror into sb to cause sb to be afraid of something □ The sight of the bombers struck fear into the hearts of the villagers. -10. phrases to strike (it) lucky to have a piece of good fortune □ You never know, we might strike it lucky and meet some gorgeous men. ■ to strike it rich to suddenly become very rich.

◇ vi -1. [workers, union] to carry out a strike □ They're striking for more pay. -2. to strike against sthg [vehicle] to accidentally hit sthg with force □ The boat struck against the rocks and started to fill with water. -3. [hurricane, disaster, illness] to suddenly affect or damage a person, place, or object □ Disaster struck when a storm destroyed the entire banana crop. -4. [person, animal] to attack a person or animal suddenly □ The killer struck at night. -5. [clock] to chime a particular number of times □ Midnight had already struck.

◆ strike back vi to attack the person, group etc that has attacked one □ He had been taught never to strike back.

◆ strike down vt sep to strike sb down to seriously harm or kill sb □ She was struck down in her thirties by multiple sclerosis.

◆ strike off vt sep to be struck off GB [doctor, lawyer] to have one's name removed from an official list so that one can no longer practice one's profession, usually because of unprofessional behavior.

◆ strike out ◇ vt sep to strike sthg out [name, word] to remove sthg by drawing a line through it □ He struck out Lime's name and wrote in his own. ◇ vi -1. to start moving in a particular direction with determination □ They struck out across the moors, heading north. -2. to do something different, often so that one can be on one's own □ She's struck out on her own and started a business.

◆ strike up ◇ vt fus -1. to strike up a conversation/friendship to start a conversation/friendship □ Tim tried to strike up a conversation with the girl sitting opposite him. -2. to strike up a tune to begin to play a tune □ The band struck up a lively polka. ◇ vi [musicians, orchestra] They waited for the band to strike up.

strikebound ['straɪkbaʊnd] adj [industry, country] that is prevented from carrying on as normal because of a strike.

strikebreaker ['straɪkbreɪkə] n a person who continues to work at a place while the other workers are on strike.

strike pay n money paid to striking workers by their labor union.

striker ['straɪkə] n -1. a person who is on strike. -2. SPORT in soccer, a player whose job is to attack and score goals.

striking ['straɪkɪŋ] adj -1. [appearance, difference] that is very noticeable or unusual □ I noticed a striking similarity between the two brothers. -2. [person] that looks very attractive □ She has a very striking face. -3. phrase within striking distance very close □ From the hotel, the beach is within striking distance. □ They came within striking distance of finding a solution.

string [strɪŋ] (vt & pp strung) n -1. very thin rope made of several threads twisted together and used for tying objects together; a piece of this □ a piece of string □ a string bag/vest. ■ (with) no strings attached without any other hidden conditions □ He's given me his car — for free, no strings attached. ■ to pull strings to use one's influence to get what one wants for oneself or for somebody else □ Get your uncle George to pull a few strings for you at the newspaper. -2. a string of beads/onions etc a number of beads/onions etc joined together on a thread □ She wore a single string of pearls around her neck. -3. [of people, events] a number of people or events that come one after the other; a large number of similar things □ a string of visitors/phone calls/incidents □ She owns a string of racehorses. -4. [of a musical instrument] any of the thin pieces of nylon, wire, or other material stretched across a guitar, violin etc that can be made to produce sound, e.g. by plucking.

◆ strings npl MUSIC the strings the group of musicians in an orchestra who play instruments that have strings.

◆ string along vt sep to string sb along to encourage sb to believe something that is not

- true (informal use) □ String them along for a while, and only tell them if you have to.
- ◆ string out vt fus to be strung out to be spread out in a line □ A few supporters were strung out along the route.
- ◆ string together vt sep to string words/sentences together to put words/sentences together to make sense □ He was so drunk he could barely string two words together!
- ◆ string up vt sep to string sb up to kill sb by hanging them (informal use).
- string bean n a long, thin, green bean.
- stringed instrument [ˌstrɪŋd-] n a musical instrument, e.g. a violin, that has strings.
- stringent [ˈstrɪndʒənt] adj [law, conditions, measure] that is severe and strictly controlled □ Stringent conditions were imposed on candidates wishing to enter the competition.
- string quartet n a group of four musicians who play two violins, a viola, and a cello together; a piece of music written for this group.
- stringy [ˈstrɪŋi] (compar stringier, superl stringiest) adj [beans, meat] containing fibers that are difficult and unpleasant to eat.
- strip [stri:p] (pt & pp stripped, cont stripping) ◇ n -1. a long narrow piece of paper, fabric etc □ She tore off a strip of paper. -2. a narrow area of land, water, forest etc □ a narrow strip of forest. -3. GB SPORT the clothes worn by a particular team.
◇ vt -1. to undress <sb>, especially against their will □ He was stripped and searched. -2. [paint, wallpaper, leaves] to remove <sth> from an object or surface □ I spent the afternoon stripping wallpaper in the hall. -3. [wall, tree] to remove part or all of a layer that covers <sth> □ We've stripped all the walls in the kitchen. -4. to strip sb of sthg [of rights, a title, medal] to take sthg from sb against their will □ We were stripped of all our belongings.
◇ vi to undress □ He stripped to the waist.
- ◆ strip off ◇ vt sep to strip sthg off [clothes, shirt, trousers] to take sthg off quickly □ He stripped off his shirt and jumped into the lake.
◇ vi to quickly take off one's clothes □ She stripped off and ran into the sea.
- strip cartoon n GB a series of drawings that tell a story, usually a humorous one.
- stripe [straɪp] n -1. a long narrow band of color, especially one that is part of a design, pattern, or decoration □ I like wallpaper with stripes. -2. a band of material on a uniform that indicates a person's rank.
- striped [straɪpt] adj that has stripes of different colors □ a black and white striped sweater.
- strip lighting n lighting that consists of long fluorescent tubes and not light bulbs.
- stripper [ˈstri:pə] n -1. a person, usually a woman, whose job involves performing a striptease □ a male stripper. -2. a tool or liquid for removing paint, wallpaper, varnish etc from a surface □ a wallpaper/wood stripper.
- strip-search ◇ n the action of stripping a prisoner or suspect and searching them when they are naked. ◇ vt [prisoner, suspect] to give <sb> a strip-search.
- strip show n a show on a stage that involves stripteases.
- striptease [ˈstripti:z] n a performance to music, usually by a woman, in which she dances and takes off her clothes in a sexy way in front of an audience.
- stripy [ˈstraɪpi] (compar stripier, superl stripiest) adj = striped □ a stripy T-shirt.
- strive [straɪv] (pt strove, pp striven [ˈstrɪvn]) vi to strive for sthg [for equality, independence] to try very hard to have sthg □ The company was continually striving for greater productivity. ■ to strive to do sthg to try very hard to do sthg □ She strove to give the impression that it was all very easy.
- strobe (light) [ˈstrəʊb-] n a bright light, often used in discos, that flashes on and off very quickly.
- strode [strəʊd] past tense of stride.
- stroke [strəʊk] ◇ n -1. MEDICINE damage to the brain caused by a blood clot or burst blood vessel that leads to death or the inability to move certain parts of the body □ My father had a stroke last year. -2. [of a pen, brush] a single movement made by a brush or pen when painting or writing; the mark made by this movement □ a brush stroke. -3. [of one's hand] the act of passing one's hand slowly and gently over the surface of something □ She gave the cat a stroke. -4. [in swimming] a movement that one makes with one's arms when swimming and that one repeats in order to move through the water; a style of swimming using particular arm and leg movements □ Try taking longer strokes. □ the butterfly stroke. -5. [in rowing] a movement in rowing in which one moves the oars forward and back repeatedly in order to move forward □ He rowed with long smooth strokes. -6. [in tennis, golf] the act of hitting a ball. -7. [of a clock] the action or sound made by a clock when it strikes □ At the third stroke it will be nine o'clock precisely. -8. phrases a stroke of genius a sudden, very clever idea □ It was a stroke of genius telling father we were going fishing! ■ a stroke of luck a piece of good luck □ What a stroke of luck my meeting you here! ■ not to do a stroke of work not to do any work □ That boy hasn't done a stroke of work all day.
◇ vt to give  etc a stroke.
- ◆ at a stroke adv with one action □ This could solve all my problems at a stroke.
- stroll [strəʊl] ◇ n a short relaxed walk □ We went for OR took a stroll. ◇ vi to walk in a relaxed way, usually for pleasure.
- stroller [ˈstrəʊlə] n US a small chair on wheels in which a baby or small child can sit in order to be moved around.
- strong [strɒŋ] ◇ adj -1. [person, muscles] that is physically powerful; [voice] that sounds loud and confident □ Are you strong enough to lift this? -2. [person, character] that seems confident and not easily influenced by other people, or by unpleasant situations □ She has a very strong personality. -3. [stick, material, shelf] that is solid and not easily broken and can hold a lot of weight □ You should be able to stand on it — it's quite strong. -4. [feeling, smell, wind] that is powerful in degree or intensity; [objection, support, denial] that is expressed in a very definite way □ I have a strong feeling that Andy is going to be late. □ There's a strong smell of paint in here. □ Sandy has very strong objections to that kind of thing. □ This kind of problem requires strong measures. -5. [argument, evidence] that is likely to convince people □ I admit that the case against me is very strong. -6. [political party, leader] who is important and influential □ What we need is a strong leader at the head of a strong party. -7. 50/100 etc strong consisting of 50/100 etc people □ a crowd of demonstrators, 100 strong □ the 20-strong committee. -8. [candidate, team] that is very able and likely to be successful in a particular field or activity □ He is strong in languages. □ Toksvig is a strong candidate for the presidency. ■ a strong point a particular quality or ability that somebody has and that is very useful □ Tact is not one of his strong points. -9. [person] who is feeling healthy, especially after a period of illness; [baby, heart] that is healthy and not likely to develop an illness easily □ Once you're feeling stronger we'll go out. □ His health has never been strong. -10. [bond, friendship] firm and likely to last a long time □ The ties that bound our family together were strong indeed. -11. [economy, industry] that is financially successful □ Taiwan, for example, has a strong and expanding economy. -12. FINANCE [currency] that is in a favorable position in relation to other currencies □ The pound was strong against the dollar in early trading. -13. [alcoholic drink, tea] that has a powerful taste, effect etc □ Be careful how many of those pills you take — they're very strong.

◇ adv to be still going strong [celebrity, group] to continue to be popular and successful after many years; [machine, car, old person] to be still healthy or working well despite being old □ He must be over 80 by now and he's still going strong.

strongarm ['strɒŋɑ:m] adj strongarm tactics tactics that use threats or force, often unnecessarily.

strongbox ['strɒŋbɒks] n a box in which valuables can be locked to keep them safe.

stronghold ['strɒŋhəʊld] n a place where a particular belief or attitude is still popular □ a stronghold of communism.

strong language n vulgar and offensive language.

strongly ['strɒŋli] adv [object, deny, smell] see strong □ The scenery was strongly reminiscent of Scotland. □ It's an issue that he feels strongly about. □ He was strongly advised to reconsider.

strong-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who is not easily influenced by other people's attitudes and opinions.

strong room n a room in a bank that has very strong walls and where valuables can be locked to keep them safe.

strong-willed [-'wɪld] adj [person] who is determined to do something, or to behave in a particular way, despite other people's advice or disapproval.

strove [strɒv] past tense of strive.

struck [strʌk] past tense & past participle of strike.

structural ['strʌktʃrəl] adj [survey, damage, problem] that is connected to the structure of something □ Let's see if there's any structural damage to the building.

structurally ['strʌktʃrəli] adv: see structural □ The house seems structurally sound.

structure ['strʌktʃə] ◇ n -1. [of molecules, a book, the economy] the way in which something is built, arranged, or organized so that its parts relate to each other □ We must re-examine the structure of our government. -2. [object] something that has been built or constructed □ a large metal structure. ◇ vt [society, economy, book] to organize <sthg> in a particular way □ His argument was not very well structured.

struggle ['strʌgl] ◇ n -1. a great effort to do or achieve something that is difficult □ At last the struggle for independence was over. □ It was a struggle to convince him. -2. [to escape someone] a fight with somebody who is trying to hold or attack one □ They gave themselves up without a struggle. -3. [to keep something] a fight, especially one in which at least one of the participants is trying to get or keep something □ The thieves gave up the money after a brief struggle.

◇ vi -1. to try to do something that involves a great effort □ They're struggling to keep up with their mortgage payments. -2. [somebody who is being attacked] to fight and try to escape from somebody who is holding or attacking one □ She struggled to free herself from his grip. -3. [two people] to fight in order to get or keep something □ They struggled with each other for the gun. -4. [somebody who is weak or ill] to move with difficulty □ He struggled to his feet/up the stairs.

◆ struggle on vi to continue trying to do something that is difficult □ I struggled on with the monthly accounts.

struggling ['strʌɡlɪŋ] adj [writer, business] that is having difficulties, often because of a lack of money.

strum [strʌm] (pt & pp strummed, cont strumming) ◇ vt to play , by moving one's fingers quickly across all the strings. ◇ vi: In the corner, Mary was strumming on her guitar.

strung [strʌŋ] past tense & past participle of string.

strut [strʌt] (pt & pp strutted, cont strutting) ◇ vi to walk proudly with one's head held high, showing that one thinks one is important. ◇ n CONSTRUCTION & AVIATION a long narrow piece of wood or metal that is used to strengthen or support part of a building or aircraft.

strychnine [US 'strɪknɪn, GB -ni:n] n a poisonous drug that is used in very small amounts in some medicines.

Stuart ['stju:ət], Charles Edward = Bonnie Prince Charlie.

Stuart, Mary = Mary Queen of Scots.

stub [stʌb] (vt & pp stubbed, cont stubbing) ◇ n -1. a short piece of something, especially a cigarette or pencil, that is left when the rest has been used up. -2. the part of a ticket or check that one keeps as a record after one has torn off and used the main part of it. ◇ vt to stub one's toe to hit one's toe accidentally against a hard surface.

◆ stub out vt sep to stub a cigarette out to stop a cigarette burning by pressing the end against something hard □ He stubbed his cigarette out on the floor.

stubble ['stʌbl] n -1. the short stalks left in a field after a cereal crop has been harvested □ a field of stubble. -2. the short stiff hairs on a man's face when he has not shaved recently □ a three-day growth of stubble.

stubborn ['stʌbən] adj -1. [person, action, behavior] that is very determined, often in an unreasonable way □ He's extremely stubborn and won't listen to reason. -2. [stain, lock, acne] that is very difficult to remove, treat, or deal with □ For really stubborn dirt, pour some liquid directly onto the fabric.

stubbornly ['stʌbənli] adv [refuse, wait, declare] in a way that makes it clear that one's mind will not be changed by somebody else □ The man stubbornly refused to believe that the senator was not at home.

Stubbs [stʌbz], George (1724–1806) a British artist, famous for his paintings of horses.

stubby ['stʌbi] (compar stubbier, superl stubbiest) adj [fingers, pencil] that looks short and thick.

stucco ['stʌkou] n a type of plaster used for covering and decorating walls and ceilings.

stuck [stʌk] ◇ past tense & past participle of stick.

◇ adj -1. to be stuck [window, lid, key] to be tightly fixed in a particular position and impossible to move □ The door's stuck. □ She got her finger stuck in the hole. -2. to be stuck to be unable to continue to do something that has been attempted or started because it is too difficult □ He was stuck for an answer to that last question. □ If you get stuck, come and find me. □ I'm stuck on this last question. -3. to be stuck to be unable to leave a particular place or situation □ We missed the last flight and got stuck in Montreal. □ Sorry I'm late — I got stuck in traffic.

stuck-up adj [person] who is proud, unfriendly, and thinks that they are more important than other people (informal and disapproving use).

stud [stʌd] n -1. [as decoration] a small shiny piece of metal used as a decoration on something □ a jacket with studs. -2. [as jewelry] a very small earring that does not hang below the ear. -3. [for horses] a place where male animals, especially horses, are kept for breeding. ■ to be put out to stud [horse] to be put in a stud for breeding. -4. GB one of a number of small pieces of metal on the sole of a sports boot that stop it from slipping on the ground.

studded ['stʌdəd] adj [jacket, bracelet] that is decorated with a lot of small shiny pieces of metal, jewels etc □ The sky was studded with stars.

student ['stju:dnt] n -1. a person who is studying at a school, college, or university □ a physics student □ a student nurse/teacher □ student life/politics/humor. -2. a person who studies a particular subject out of interest □ a student of philosophy.

student loan n a loan of money with a low rate of interest that is offered by a bank to a student.

student(s)' union n -1. the organization at a college or university that arranges activities, provides welfare services, and represents students' political views and demands. -2. a building where students can meet socially.

stud farm n a place where male animals, especially horses, are kept for breeding.

studied ['stʌdəd] adj [answer, smile, seriousness] that is carefully planned or considered, and so not spontaneous or sincere □ She smiled with studied indifference.

studio ['stju:diou] (pl studios) n -1. the place where an artist works □ We visited Moore's studio. -2. CINEMA, RADIO, & TV the place where a movie, program, or piece of music is made □ The entire album was recorded in the studio.

studio apartment US, studio flat GB n an apartment that consists of one main room for living and sleeping in.

studio audience n an audience in a studio, whose applause, laughter etc is heard on the program being recorded.

studio flat n GB = studio apartment.

studious ['stju:djəs] adj [person] who is quiet and spends a lot of time studying and reading books □ a quiet, studious girl.

studiously ['stju:djəsli] adv carefully and deliberately □ He studiously ignored the large card she placed in front of him.

study ['stʌdi] (vt & pp studied, pl studies) ◇ vt -1. [chemistry, German, music] to learn about <sthg>, especially at school, college, or university □ I studied Latin for four years and can't remember anything. -2. [drawing, face, report] to examine <sthg> closely in order to learn something from it □ Jorge sat studying the letter closely.

◇ vi to spend time learning about a subject by following a course, reading etc □ I must go to my room and study. □ She's been studying all day.

◇ n -1. the act of studying □ She does three hours of study each evening. -2. [on a subject] a particular piece of research □ a study into the causes of blood diseases. -3. [for reading, writing] a room in a house used for reading, writing, and studying □ Father keeps all his books in his study. -4. [by an artist] a piece of work done by an artist or photographer to prepare for a larger work □ a study of women bathing.

◆ studies npl subjects that are studied at school, university etc □ How are your studies going?

stuff [stʌf] ◇ n (informal use) -1. [content] a word used to refer in a general way to the content of a book, television program etc □ There's some interesting stuff in this article. ■ to know one's stuff to know a lot about a particular subject □ When it comes to computers she really knows her stuff. -2. [substance] any material or substance □ What's this sticky stuff in the saucepan? □ Whiskey? I never touch the stuff. -3. [things] a collection of things □ Where did you get all this stuff? -4. [belongings] things that belong to one □ Hold on, I haven't got my stuff out of the car yet!

◇ vt -1. [papers, money, clothes] to push <sthg> into a place quickly and roughly □ He stuffed his hands into his pockets. -2. [pillow, suitcase] to fill <sthg> with material, a substance etc □ We stuffed the bags with candy. -3. to stuff oneself to eat a lot (informal use). -4. [tomatoes, turkey, ravioli] to fill <sthg> with a specially prepared mixture of food before cooking □ She stuffed the chicken with sage and onion.

stuffed [stʌft] adj -1. to be stuffed with sthg to be filled with sthg □ The attic was stuffed with old clothes and furniture. -2. to be stuffed to be full of food (informal use). -3. [tomato, eggplant] that is filled with a mixture of food □ We had stuffed peppers for dinner. -4. [parrot, dog, fish] that has had its insides removed and the body filled with special material so that it can be preserved and displayed □ His study was full of stuffed animals.

stuffing ['stʌfɪŋ] n material or food used to stuff something □ a sofa with the stuffing coming out of it □ chestnut stuffing.

stuffy ['stʌfɪ] (compar stuffier, superl stuffiest) adj -1. [room, atmosphere] that feels too warm and needs fresh air in it □ It's stuffy in here — do you mind if I open the window? -2. [person, club] that seems very formal and old-fashioned □ a room full of stuffy old professors.

stumble ['stʌmbəl] vi -1. to hit one's foot on something while walking or running, and almost fall □ He stumbled and fell. -2. to hesitate or make a mistake while reading aloud or speaking □ Alice read the poem aloud, stumbling over the longer words.

◆ stumble across, stumble on vt fus to stumble across or on sb/sthg [person, shop, information] to discover sb/sthg by chance □ I stumbled across this marvelous little café.

stumbling block ['stʌmblɪŋ-] n something that stops something happening or developing □ There's only one stumbling block: your mother.

stump [stʌmp] ◇ n [of a tree, arm, tooth] the small part of something that is left when the rest has been removed □ a tree stump. ◇ vt to leave <sb> unable to reply or find a solution □ I'm completely stumped. ◇ vi to walk heavily □ He stumped up the stairs.

◆ stumps npl in cricket, the three wooden poles stuck vertically in the ground that the bowler tries to hit with the ball.

◆ stump up vt fus to stump up a sum of money GB to pay a sum of money unwillingly (informal use) □ George finally stumped up £50 for the bill.

stun [stʌn] (pt & pp stunned, cont stunning) vt -1. to knock  unconscious □ He stunned the rabbit with a sharp blow. -2. to shock or surprise <sb> □ Her arrival stunned journalists.

stung [stʌŋ] past tense & past participle of sting.

stunk [stʌŋk] past tense & past participle of stink.

stunned [stʌnd] adj that appears very shocked or surprised □ He came in with a stunned look on his face.

stunning ['stʌnɪŋ] adj [outfit, person, scenery] that is very beautiful or impressive □ You look stunning in that dress.

stunt [stʌnt] ◇ n -1. something that is done to attract publicity and attention □ It's just a stunt to get publicity for their new production. -2. a daring and dangerous piece of action in a movie □ She does stunts for a living. ◇ vt [growth, development] to prevent <sthg> from happening as it should.

stunted ['stʌntəd] adj [tree, plant] that has been prevented from growing properly □ stunted growth.

stunt man n a man who performs dangerous stunts in place of an actor in a movie, so that the actor does not get injured.

stunt woman n a woman who performs dangerous stunts in place of an actress in a movie, so that the actress does not get injured.

stupefy ['stju:pəfaɪ] (pt & pp stupefied) vt -1. to make <sb> feel unable to think clearly □ He sat slouched in his chair, stupefied with boredom. -2. to surprise <sb> very much □ We were stupefied by the news.

stupendous ['stju:pəndəs] adj -1. [time, concert, piece of news] that one finds very good, impressive etc (informal use). -2. [height, noise, effort] that is surprisingly great.

stupid ['stju:pəd] adj -1. [idea, person, question] that does not show any or much intelligence □ He's not as stupid as he pretends to be. □ What a stupid thing to say! □ It was all a stupid mistake. -2. a word that one uses about something to show that one is annoyed with it (informal use) □ I can't get the stupid car to start!

stupidity [stju:'pɪdətɪ] n: see stupid □ It would be sheer stupidity to attempt the climb in such appalling weather conditions.

stupidly ['stju:pədlɪ] adv [say, forget, behave] see stupid □ I stupidly left my keys in the car.

stupor ['stju:pə] n the state of being almost unconscious and therefore unable to behave in a normal way □ By the time we arrived, they were in a drunken stupor.

sturdy ['stɜ:di] (compar sturdier, superl sturdiest) adj [person, furniture, platform] that is

- strong and not easily knocked over, injured, or damaged □ a sturdy little horse.
- sturgeon ['stɜːdʒən] (pl sturgeon) n a large fish that lives in northern seas and from which caviar is obtained.
- stutter ['stʌtə] ◇ n a problem with speaking that causes somebody to have difficulty in saying the first letter of a word, often resulting in the repetition of the sound □ He has a stutter. ◇ vi to speak with a stutter.
- St Valentine's Day [US ˌseɪnt-, GB ˌsənt-] n = Valentine's Day.
- sty [stɑɪ] (pl sties) n an enclosed area on a farm where pigs are kept.
- stye [stɑɪ] n an infection at the base of an eyelash that makes the eyelid red and swollen.
- style [stɑɪl] ◇ n -1. [of a writer, painter, politician] a way of doing something, often showing the attitude of a person, group, period in history etc □ in the style of Bach □ It's not my style to do that sort of thing. -2. [of a person, place, occasion] a confident, original, or elegant appearance that people find impressive □ She has real style! -3. [of clothes, hair] the way that something such as a piece of clothing is designed; the way that hair is cut and shaped □ I'd prefer something in a classic style. ◇ vt to cut and shape <hair> in a particular style; to design <clothing or furniture> in a particular style.
- style suffix added to words to mean in a particular style □ French-style cooking □ a cottage-style decor.
- styling mousse ['stɑɪlɪŋ-] n a white sticky foam that is put in the hair to help keep it in a particular style.
- stylish ['stɑɪlɪʃ] adj [clothing, person, hotel] that is elegant and impressive □ She's a stylish player.
- stylist ['stɑɪləst] n a person whose job is to style people's hair.
- stylized, -ised ['stɑɪlaɪzd] adj [pattern, representation, language] that is in a particular style instead of being realistic or natural □ The performance was very stylized.
- stylus ['stɑɪləs] (pl styluses) n -1. a device like a needle on a record-player that picks up the sound signals from a record. -2. COMPUTING the pointed instrument with which one can write directly on the screens of some computers.
- stymie ['stɑɪmi] vt to be stymied [person, plan] to be prevented from going ahead (informal use).
- Styrofoam™ ['stɑɪrəfəʊm] n US a very light plastic material, often used to make packaging and containers.
- suave [swɑːv] adj [person, behavior, expression] that is very well-mannered, polite, and charming, often in an insincere way.
- sub [sʌb] n -1. SPORT abbr of substitute. -2. abbr of submarine. -3. US a long thin sandwich. -4. abbr of subscription.
- subcommittee ['sʌbkəmɪtɪ] n a small committee consisting of members from a larger committee who are chosen to deal with a particular matter in detail.
- subconscious [ˌsʌb'kɒnʃəs] ◇ n the subconscious the part of the mind that works without one's awareness and that can influence one's thoughts, feelings, and behavior. ◇ adj [fear, knowledge] that is in the subconscious.
- subconsciously [ˌsʌb'kɒnʃəsli] adv [feel, fear, know] see subconscious □ Subconsciously she resented his kindness to her.
- subcontinent [ˌsʌb'kɒntənənt] n a large area of land that is part of a continent and that contains a number of countries □ the Indian subcontinent.
- subcontract [ˌsʌb'kɒntrækt] vt [translation, plumbing, publicity work] to pay somebody else to do .
- subculture ['sʌbkʌltʃə] n the culture of a small group of people within a larger group that is different and not known by most people and that is often disapproved of □ the drug/hippie/youth subculture.
- subdivide [ˌsʌbdɪ'vaɪd] vt [building, room, task] to divide <sth> into several smaller parts.
- subdue [səb'djuː] vt -1. [enemies, rioters, crowd] to bring  under control, often using force. -2. [feelings, passions] to cause <sth> to become less strong.
- subdued [səb'djuːd] adj -1. [person, animal, atmosphere] that is quieter than usual, and so suggests that something is wrong □ Rachel seemed remarkably subdued this evening. -2. [light, lighting, color] that is soft and not bright in appearance □ a room painted in subdued grays and pinks.
- subeditor [ˌsʌb'edɪtə] n a person whose job is to correct and improve written material before it is printed.
- subheading ['sʌbhedɪŋ] n a heading that introduces each part of a piece of writing inside a chapter, section etc.
- subhuman [ˌsʌb'hjuːmən] adj [person, behavior, conditions] that is below the standards of what is expected of normal people.
- subject [n, adj, & prep 'sʌbdʒekt, vt səb'dʒekt] ◇ n -1. the person or thing that a book, movie, conversation etc deals with □ The subject for discussion today is... □ I have no ideas on the subject. □ Do you mind if we drop this subject? □ Brian kept trying to change the subject. -2. GRAMMAR a word used to refer to the person or thing doing the action of the main verb, e.g. "John" in the sentence "John was writing a letter." -3. EDUCATION an area of knowledge, e.g. history or physics, that is studied at school, college, or university □ What was your favorite subject at school? □ How many subjects do you study? -4. [in a country] a person who was born in a particular country, usually a monarchy, or a person who has the right to live there □ a British subject. ◇ adj -1. a subject state/country etc a state/country etc that is not independent but is governed by another state. -2. subject to sthg [to tax] affected by sthg; [to drought, asthma attacks, ill health] likely to be affected by sthg □ The price is subject to a handling charge.

 □ We are all subject to the rule of law. □ The terms are subject to alteration without notice. □ Marion was often subject to migraine headaches.
 ◇ vt -1. [rebels, provinces, army] to bring <people or a place> under firm control. -2. to subject sb/sthg to sthg to make sb/sthg experience sthg unpleasant □ He was subjected to four hours of interrogation.

◆ subject to prep depending on <sthg> □ The review will go ahead subject to the approval of the chairman.

subjection [səb'dʒɛkʃn] n [of rebels, provinces, an army] see subject.

subjective [səb'dʒɛktɪv] adj [opinion, judgment, statement] that is based on personal feelings rather than facts □ I find his analysis entirely subjective.

subjectively [səb'dʒɛktɪvli] adv [judge, state, speak] see subjective.

subject matter n the person or thing that a book, movie, conversation etc deals with.

sub judge [-'dʒʌdʒɪ] adj [matter, case] that is being considered in a court of law and is therefore not to be discussed publicly, e.g. in newspapers or on TV.

subjugate ['sʌbdʒʊgeɪt] vt -1. [tribe, country] to defeat and take control of <people or a place>. -2. [feelings, desires] to treat <sthg> as less important than something else.

subjunctive [səb'dʒʌŋktɪv] n the subjunctive (mood) a verb form used in some languages to express hopes, wishes, or uncertainty.

sublet [ˌsʌb'let] (vt & pp sublet, cont subletting) vt [apartment, building, office] to rent to somebody else all or part of .

sublime [sə'blaɪm] adj [music, moment, feeling] that affects one deeply, e.g. because of its beauty, or spiritual or noble qualities □ a painting of sublime beauty. ■ from the sublime to the ridiculous a phrase used when something serious and important is followed by something silly and unimportant.

sublimely [sə'blaɪmlɪ] adv sublimely unaware/ignorant etc completely unaware/ignorant etc and not thinking about the effects of one's actions on other people.

subliminal [ˌsʌb'ɪlɪmənəl] adj [advertising, effect, message] that affects the subconscious mind.

submachine gun [ˌsʌbmə'ʃɪn] n a light machine gun.

submarine [ˌsʌbmə'ri:n] n a ship that can travel below the sea's surface as well as on top of it and that is used especially in war or for scientific exploration.

submerge [səb'mɜːdʒ] ◇ vt -1. to cause <sb/sthg> to go under the surface of water □ The ship's remains were salvaged after lying submerged for over 400 years. -2. to submerge oneself in sthg to give all one's attention to sthg □ After the divorce, Jonathan submerged himself increasingly in his work. ◇ vi [person, animal, object] to go under the surface of water.

submission [səb'mɪʃn] n -1. a state of complete obedience to somebody or something in which one shows no concern for one's own wishes □ their attempts to bring the rebels to submission. -2. [of a request, paper, thesis] see submit □ October 2 is the last date for submission of manuscripts.

submissive [səb'mɪsɪv] adj [person, behavior, answer] that shows complete obedience and no concern for one's own wishes.

submit [səb'mɪt] (vt & pp submitted, cont submitting) ◇ vt [request, paper, thesis] to present <sthg> for somebody to think or make a decision about □ They submitted their recommendations to the board. ◇ vi to show obedience to a more important or powerful force □ They refused to submit to the enemy/demands.

subnormal [ˌsʌb'nɔːrml] adj [person] who has a lower intelligence than is normal for a person of their age.

subnotebook [ˌsʌb'nəʊtbʊk] n a small portable computer.

subordinate [adj & n sə'bɔːrɪ'dənət, vt sə'bɔːrɪ'dənət] ◇ adj less important (formal use) □ He is subordinate in rank. □ Her role is subordinate to the vice-president's. ◇ n [in an army, organization] a person who is of lower rank. ◇ vt [wishes, ideal] to treat <sthg> as less important than something else (formal use) □ They were ready to subordinate their personal desires and ambitions to the revolutionary cause.

subordinate clause [sə'bɔːrɪ'dənət-] n in grammar, a group of words that add detail to the rest of the sentence but cannot stand on their own.

subordination [sə'bɔːrɪ'dənɪʃn] n [of a wish, ideal] see subordinate.

subpoena [sə'pi:nə] (vt & pp subpoenaed) ◇ n a legal document ordering a person to attend a court of law and give evidence as a witness. ◇ vt [witness] to send <sb> a subpoena.

sub-post office n GB a post office that is not completely owned by the government and does not offer the whole range of postal services.

subroutine ['sʌbrʊ:tɪn] n a part of a computer program that does a particular task and that can be used at any time during the running of the main program.

Sub-Saharan Africa [US -sə'hærən-, GB -hɑːr-] the African countries south of Algeria, Liberia, and Egypt.

subscribe [səb'skraɪb] vi -1. to subscribe to sthg [to a magazine, newspaper] to pay to receive regular issues of sthg. -2. to subscribe to sthg [to a belief, view] to agree with sthg □ I do not subscribe to that view at all.

subscriber [səb'skraɪbər] n -1. [to a newspaper, magazine] a person who pays to receive regular issues of a publication. -2. [to cable TV, the Internet] a person who pays regularly to receive a particular service. -3. [to a charity, campaign] a person who regularly sends money to support an organization, club etc.

subscription [səb'skrɪpʃn] n [to a magazine, charity, club] the act of paying money as a subscriber; a sum of money paid by a subscriber □ I took out a subscription to "Elle" magazine.

 □ My annual subscription is due.

subsection ['sʌbsekʃn] n one of a number of smaller sections into which a larger document is divided.

subsequent ['sʌbsɪkwənt] adj [payment, recovery, complaint] that happens after something else □ Her illness and subsequent death left the family devastated. □ Subsequent events proved us to be wrong.

subsequently ['sʌbsɪkwəntli] adv afterward □ They were subsequently found to have been telling the truth.

subservient [səb'sɜːvɪjənt] adj -1. [person] who does what other people want without disagreeing or questioning in any way □ His manner was unpleasantly subservient. -2. to be subservient to sthg [to a need, aim, organization] to be less important than sthg □ Employees' individual needs must always be subservient to those of the country as a whole.

subset ['sʌbset] n MATH a set that is part of a larger set.

subside [səb'saɪd] vi -1. [anger, pain, grief] to become less intense □ Once the pain had subsided... -2. [noise, screams] to become quieter □ The shouting gradually subsided into silence. -3. [building, ground] to sink to a lower level □ Our house is subsiding into the river.

subsidence [səb'saɪdn̩s, 'sʌbsɪdn̩s] n [of a building, the ground] see subside □ insurance claims for subsidence.

subsidiarity [səbsɪdɪ'ærətɪ] n the principle that all member states of the European Union have the right to carry out an agreed EU policy in their own way.

subsidiary [US səb'sɪdɪəri, GB -ɪəri] (pl subsidiaries) adj [matter, subject, problem] that is less important than something with which it is connected □ This problem is subsidiary to the wider concerns of the company. ◇ n a subsidiary (company) a company that is part of a larger and more important company □ Morgans is a subsidiary of Denning Inc.

subsidize, -ise ['sʌbsɪdaɪz] vt -1. [theater, public transport, housing] to pay for part of the cost of <sthg> in order to make it cheaper for the people who use it □ Our travel expenses are subsidized by the college. -2. [industry, agriculture] to provide money in order to make it possible for <an activity> to continue □ I see little future for subsidized industry.

subsidy ['sʌbsɪdɪ] (pl subsidies) n money that is provided by a government or an official organization to subsidize something □ government subsidies.

subsist [səb'sɪst] vi to subsist on sthg to survive with difficulty on sthg □ Morton subsisted on a diet of stale bread and soup.

subsistence [səb'sɪstəns] n the survival of a person on very little money or food.

subsistence allowance n an amount of money given to somebody to pay for basic needs such as accommodation and food.

subsistence farming n a method of farming where the farmer grows just enough crops for his or her own use.

subsistence level n the level at which subsistence is still possible □ They are living below the subsistence level.

substance ['sʌbstəns] n -1. a particular type of material, gas, or liquid □ a radioactive/toxic substance. -2. [of an argument, speech] the main point of an argument, speech, book etc □ The main substance of his speech concerned the future of the steel industry. -3. importance or worth □ He said nothing of any substance. -4. [to a claim, allegation] truth □ There is no substance to these claims.

substandard [ˌsʌb'stændərd] adj [quality, product] that is below the accepted standard.

substantial [səb'stænʃl] adj -1. [change, increase, meal] large □ The money could make a substantial difference to us. -2. [person, building, furniture] solid and strong □ That roof needs something more substantial to hold it up.

substantially [səb'stænʃəli] adv -1. [contribute, increase, improve] by a large amount □ Their standard of living has improved substantially since Alan got a new job. □ This version is substantially better than the last. -2. [true, correct] generally □ The situation remains substantially the same.

substantiate [səb'stænʃɪeɪt] vt [claim, story] to prove <that sthg is true> (formal use).

substantive [US 'sʌbstəntɪv, GB səb'stəntɪv] adj [discussion, talks] that is concerned with real and important issues.

substitute ['sʌbstətɪt] ◇ n -1. a substitute for sb/sthg a person or a thing acting or used in place of sb/sthg □ We're looking for a substitute for Maggie now she's leaving. ■ to be no substitute for sthg to be not as good as sthg else □ The television is no substitute for a movie screen. -2. SPORT a player who takes the place of another player during a game, e.g. because of injury □ It looks like Brazil are bringing on a substitute.

◇ vt to substitute sb for sb to put sb in the place or role of sb □ He was substituted by Wilson in the second half. ■ to substitute sthg for sthg to use sthg instead of sthg □ You can substitute dried herbs for fresh ones.

◇ vi to take the place of somebody or something else □ I'm substituting for Mrs. Smith while she's away.

substitute teacher n US a person who does the job of a teacher who is absent for a short time.

substitution [ˌsʌbstə'tɪʃuːʃn] n -1. the act of substituting one person or thing for another □ A substitution was made in the final ten minutes. -2. a replacement □ We'll use this until a substitution can be found.

subterfuge ['sʌbtə'fjuːdʒ] n a trick or dishonest action used to get what one wants □ They must have gained access to the files by subterfuge.

subterranean [ˌsʌbtə'reɪnjən] adj [passage, river, noise] underground.

subtitle ['sʌbtaɪtl] n a less important, often de-

- scriptive title, printed under the main title of a book.
- ◆ subtitles npl the translation of words in a foreign film, printed across the bottom of the screen.
- subtle ['sʌtl] adj -1. [nuance, difference] that is difficult to see, explain, or understand because it is very small □ There's a subtle distinction between the two words. -2. [person, comment, tactics] that is clever and not obvious □ That wasn't very subtle of you! □ a subtle sense of humor.
- subtlety ['sʌtlɪ] n -1. [of a skill, design, piece of music] the quality of being clever and not obvious □ Only an expert can appreciate the subtlety of his work. -2. [of a person] the ability to say or do things in a way that is not likely to offend anybody or attract too much attention □ It's a task that requires a certain degree of subtlety. -3. [of an argument, comment, tactic] see subtle. -4. [of a process, system] a particular aspect of something that is difficult to explain or deal with □ I haven't grasped all the subtleties of the software yet.
- subtly ['sʌtlɪ] adv [differ, change] see subtle □ He subtly got them to change their mind. □ It tasted subtly different.
- subtotal ['sʌbtəʊtl] n the total of a set of figures, e.g. on a bill or statement, that will give the final total when it is added to the totals of other sets of figures.
- subtract [səb'trækt] vt [amount, quantity] to take  away from another number □ First subtract six from ten.
- subtraction [səb'træktʃn] n: see subtract □ Pupils are taught addition and subtraction first.
- subtropical [ˌsʌb'trɒpɪkl] adj [climate, region, vegetation] that exists or is found in the part of the world between the tropical and temperate zones.
- suburb ['sʌbɜːb] n -1. a part of a town or city that is away from the center and consists mainly of houses □ Jersey City is a suburb of New York. -2. the suburbs the area around a town or city that is a suburb □ He lives in the suburbs.
- suburban [səb'ɜːbən] adj -1. [area, life, train] that is found in a suburb □ suburban streets. -2. [mentality, taste] that is ordinary and a little dull □ a typical suburban housewife.
- suburbia [səb'ɜːbɪə] n -1. the suburbs □ living in suburbia. -2. the way of life and attitudes of people living in the suburbs.
- subversion [səb'vɜːʒn] n: see subvert □ The group's aim was the subversion of democracy.
- subversive [səb'vɜːsɪv] ◇ adj [idea, organization, magazine] that tries to or is likely to destroy a government, political system etc. ◇ n a subversive person.
- subvert [səb'vɜːt] vt [government, political system, ideas] to destroy or try to destroy the power of <sthg>.
- subway ['sʌbweɪ] n -1. US an underground railroad □ the New York subway □ a subway station/train. -2. GB a path under a road or railroad, used for pedestrians to cross safely from one side to the other.

sub-zero adj [temperatures, conditions] that are below zero degrees.

succeed [sək'siːd] ◇ vi -1. [person] to manage to do something that one has tried or wanted to do □ Sandra finally succeeded in getting a place at law school. □ I tried to persuade them to come but didn't succeed. □ He succeeded in his attempt to break the world record. -2. [plan, tactic, approach] to have the intended result □ The demonstration succeeded in bringing about a change in government policy. □ If their plans had succeeded, we would all be dead by now. -3. [politician, employee, singer] to do well by becoming popular, reaching a high position etc □ One needs a certain amount of determination to succeed in this business.

◇ vt -1. [person] to come after or take the place of <sb>, especially in an important job □ Mrs Thatcher was succeeded as prime minister by John Major. -2. [range, period] to happen or exist after <sthg> (formal use) □ The original model was succeeded by a more compact version.

succeeding [sək'siːdɪŋ] adj the succeeding months/years etc the months/years etc that followed (formal use).

success [sək'ses] n -1. [in an attempt, campaign] the achievement of what one has tried or wanted to do □ They tried to make him change his mind, but without success. -2. [in one's career, life] the achievement of popularity, a high position etc □ I hope your success will not make you overconfident. -3. to be a success to be successful □ The workshop was a great success.

successful [sək'sesfl] adj -1. [attempt, method, campaign] that achieves the intended result □ The meeting was not very successful. □ He was successful at his second attempt. □ I was successful in persuading her to join. -2. [movie, book, company] that has earned a lot of money □ a successful salesman □ Kemp enjoyed a highly successful career in advertising. -3. [politician, artist, lawyer] who has become popular, reached a high position etc □ They were one of the most successful bands in history.

successfully [sək'sesflɪ] adv [conclude, treat, try] with the intended or desired result □ He successfully sued his employers.

succession [sək'sesjən] n -1. [of owners, jobs, disasters] a number of people or things that come one after the other □ They suffered three electoral defeats in quick or close succession. -2. [to a position, title, throne] the process of becoming the next person to have something, especially after somebody's death (formal use).

successive [sək'sesɪv] adj successive attempts/defeats attempts/defeats that come one after the other □ After three successive failures he swore he would never try again.

successor [sək'sesə] n a person or thing that comes after or takes the place of another □ The board is meeting today to appoint a successor to the outgoing chairman.

success story n somebody or something that has been very successful □ The company has become a huge success story.

succinct [sək'sɪŋkt] adj [account, explanation] that is expressed clearly and uses few words □ Could you be a little more succinct?

succinctly [sək'sɪŋktli] adv [express, describe, explain] see succinct.

succulent ['sʌkjələnt] adj [meat, fruit] that is juicy and tastes good.

succumb [sə'kʌm] vi -1. to allow oneself to be affected by something that one has resisted before □ Faced with increasing pressure from civil rights groups, they finally succumbed. -2. to become badly affected by or die from an illness □ After a long struggle, he finally succumbed to the disease.

such [sʌtʃ] ◇ det & predet -1. such behavior/ such a problem behavior/a problem of the kind just mentioned □ Such things are no longer seen now. □ Too tired? I've never heard such nonsense! ■ such a thing as... a thing of the kind I am just about to mention □ Do you have such a thing as a bottle opener? □ There are no such things as ghosts. -2. such nice people very nice people (used for emphasis) □ I've had such a bad day! □ I'm not sure it's such a good idea. ■ he's such an idiot/a bore! he's very stupid/boring! ■ such money as I have the small amount of money I have. ■ it was such a good offer (that) I accepted because it was a very good offer, I accepted □ She gave me such a fright (that) I screamed. □ It's such a long time since I've been there I've almost forgotten what it's like.

◇ pron -1. used to refer back to something just mentioned □ Such has been my intention all along. -2. the costs are such that I cannot afford it because the costs are so great I cannot afford it (formal use) □ The state of the economy was such that extreme measures had to be taken. ■ such as it is used to say that something is not very important or not of very good quality □ You can take my car, such as it is.

◆ as such adv it's not a university as such it's not exactly a university.

◆ such and such predet used when the speaker does not want to give specific examples of something □ We could invite candidates to talk on such and such a subject.

◆ such as prep used to give examples of something that has just been mentioned □ Countries such as Australia and America have a federal system of government.

suchlike ['sʌtʃlaɪk] ◇ pron people or things of the same kind □ hippos, rhinos, and suchlike. ◇ adj of the same kind.

suck [sʌk] vt -1. [straw, candy] to hold <sth> in one's mouth and take liquid from it using one's tongue, cheeks, and lips. -2. [person, air, dirt] to pull <sb/sth> in a particular direction by the powerful force of water or air □ The fan sucks in air at one end and expels it at the other. □ Many swimmers have been sucked down OR under by the strong currents. -3. to be sucked into sth [into crime, a debate] to gradually become involved in sth without intending to □ Many of these kids are then sucked into a life of crime.

◆ suck up vi to try to be liked by somebody by being very helpful, friendly etc (informal and disapproving use) □ He's always sucking up to the boss.

sucker ['sʌkə] n -1. a person who is easily tricked (informal use) □ What a sucker! -2. GB a rubber disk that sticks to surfaces by suction and is used e.g. to hang things on a wall or door.

suckle ['sʌkl] ◇ vt [mother] to feed  by letting it suck milk from the breast, udder etc. ◇ vi [baby, young animal] to suck milk from the breast, udder etc.

sucrose ['su:kroʊs] n the type of sugar that comes from cane, beet etc.

suction ['sʌkʃn] n -1. [of a gas, liquid] a force that causes liquids, gases etc to move inside a closed space by removing air or liquid from the space □ The water is conveyed through the pipe by suction. -2. a force that causes two surfaces to stick together by removing the air from between them □ Flies attach themselves to surfaces by suction.

suction pump n a pump that works by suction.

Sudan [US su:'dæn, GB -'dɑ:n] a country in northeastern Africa, on the Red Sea. SIZE: 2,506,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 27,400,000 (Sudanese). CAPITAL: Khartoum. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Sudanese pound.

Sudanese [su:'dɑ:nɪz] n & adj: see Sudan.

sudden ['sʌdn] adj [change, movement, thought] that happens quickly and unexpectedly □ The decision was very sudden. ■ all of a sudden quickly and unexpectedly □ All of a sudden, the lights went out.

sudden death n SPORT an extra part of a game, in which one goal, point etc decides who the winner is □ a sudden death playoff.

suddenly ['sʌdnli] adv [happen, stop, move] see sudden □ I suddenly realized what had happened. □ Suddenly, the door opened.

suds [sʌdz] npl the bubbles on the surface of soapy water.

sue [su:] vt to try to get money from <sb> by taking legal action for loss, damage etc that they have caused □ We intend to sue him for damages/libel/$500,000.

suede [sweɪd] n a type of soft leather with a rough surface □ suede shoes □ a suede jacket.

suet ['su:ət] n the hard fat from around an animal's kidneys that is used in cooking.

Suez Canal [US ,su:ez-, GB ,su:ɪz-]: the Suez Canal a canal in northeastern Egypt, connecting the Mediterranean Sea and the Red Sea.

suffer ['sʌfə] ◇ vt -1. [pain, stress, injury] to experience <sth painful or unpleasant> □ Mrs Lawe suffered a serious heart attack. -2. [set-back, loss, consequences] to be affected by <sth that causes problems> □ The company suffered losses of over $15 million.

◇ vi -1. [patient, victim] to be in physical pain □ It's a comfort to know that he didn't suffer much. ■ to suffer from sthg [from an illness, disease] to be affected by sthg that makes one's health worse □ She's suffering from angina. □ I suffered from asthma as a child. -2. to experience difficulty, loss, sorrow etc □ If the destruction of the rainforest continues, the whole world will suffer. □ As usual, the poor were the ones to suffer worst from the recession. -3. [relationship, work, social life] to become affected in a bad way □ I was deeply unhappy, and my work suffered as a consequence.

sufferance ['sʌfrəns] n on sufferance accepted or allowed, but not in an enthusiastic or friendly way □ He's only here on sufferance.

sufferer ['sʌfərə] n a person who has or often suffers from a particular illness or medical condition □ an asthma/a hay fever sufferer.

suffering ['sʌfrɪŋ] n physical or mental pain; difficulties, sorrow etc □ These experiments cause terrible suffering to animals. □ She appeared indifferent to their sufferings.

suffice [sə'faɪs] vi to be enough (formal use) □ Just a small amount will suffice.

sufficient [sə'fɪʃnt] adj [time, money, power] enough for a particular purpose □ $50 should be sufficient for three days.

sufficiently [sə'fɪʃntli] adv to be sufficiently aware/funded etc to be aware/funded etc enough □ He didn't prepare himself sufficiently for the exam.

suffix ['sʌfɪks] n a letter or group of letters added to the end of a word to make a new word, e.g. "less" in "useless".

NOTE: Compare prefix.

suffocate ['sʌfəkeɪt] ◇ vt to cause <sb> to die by stopping them from getting air. ◇ vi to die because one cannot breathe in enough air; to feel unable to breathe.

suffocation [,sʌfə'keɪʃn] n: see suffocate □ He died of suffocation.

Suffolk ['sʌfək] a county in East Anglia, southeastern England. SIZE: 3,800 sq kms. POPULATION: 636,580. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Ipswich.

suffrage ['sʌfrɪdʒ] n the right to vote in political elections.

suffuse [sə'fju:z] vt to be suffused with sthg [with color, light] to be filled with sthg.

sugar ['ʃʊgə] ◇ n a sweet substance, often in the form of white or brown crystals, taken from the juice of certain plants and used to flavor food and drinks □ Do you take sugar in your tea? ◇ vt [tea, coffee] to put sugar in <sthg>.

sugar beet n a root vegetable from which sugar is taken.

sugar bowl n a small bowl for serving sugar in.

sugarcane ['ʃʊgə'keɪn] n a tall tropical grass from which sugar is taken.

sugar-coated [-'kəʊtəd] adj [popcorn, almonds] covered with sugar.

sugar cube n a small cube of sugar used to sweeten tea, coffee etc.

sugared ['ʃʊgəd] adj to be sugared [tea, coffee] to contain sugar that has been added to it.

sugar lump n = sugar cube.

sugar refinery n a factory where sugar from plants is made into crystals to be sold.

sugary ['ʃʊgəri] adj -1. [pudding, dessert, diet] that contains a lot of sugar. -2. [writing, song, smile] that is very sentimental, but in a way that seems insincere and exaggerated.

suggest [US səg'dʒest, GB sə'dʒest] vt -1. [idea, plan, restaurant] to mention <sthg> to somebody because they might want to do it, have it, use it etc □ Can I suggest a short break for lunch? □ David suggested taking a drive out to the coast. □ She suggested (that) we meet later. □ I could suggest several ways to improve our sales figures. -2. to suggest that... to seem to say that something is true or exists without saying so directly □ Are you suggesting (that) I'm a liar? □ His response suggests a reluctance to get involved.

suggestion [US səg'dʒestʃən, GB sə'dʒes-] n -1. something that is suggested, especially when it is intended to be helpful □ The Tourist Information Office gave us some useful suggestions. □ May I make a suggestion at this point? -2. a slight or indirect sign of something □ At the time, there was some suggestion of corruption in the department. □ There was just the slightest suggestion of irony in his voice.

suggestive [US səg'dʒestɪv, GB sə'dʒest-] adj -1. [smile, behavior, remark] that is intended to make one think of sex. -2. to be suggestive of sthg to make one think of sthg □ This music is intended to be suggestive of a sunrise.

suicidal [,su:'saɪdl] adj -1. [person] who is very unhappy and likely to commit suicide □ He was beginning to feel suicidal. -2. [driving, sport, attempt] that is very dangerous and likely to lead to death; [policy, decision] that is likely to lead to failure □ He's a suicidal maniac! □ It would be suicidal to give in to them now.

suicide ['su:saɪd] n -1. the act of deliberately killing oneself □ He's made several suicide attempts. □ There were two suicides last week. ■ to commit suicide to deliberately kill oneself. -2. an action that leads or may lead to failure □ This amounts to political/financial suicide.

suit [su:t] ◇ n -1. CLOTHING [for a man] a set of clothes made of the same material that consists of a jacket and trousers and, sometimes, a vest; [for a woman] a suit that usually consists of a jacket and skirt □ a business/linen suit. -2. SPORT a set of clothes or a piece of clothing worn for a particular activity □ a swimming/diving/jogging suit. -3. CARDS any of the four sets of cards that are in a deck of playing cards. -4. LAW a legal case in which a dispute between individuals or organizations is settled □ a libel suit. -5. phrase to follow suit to do the same thing that somebody else has done □ Sara took off her shoes as she entered, so I followed suit.

◇ vt -1. [clothes, color, hairstyle] to look attractive on <sb> □ Long hair suits you. -2. [arrangement, plan] to be acceptable to or convenient for <sb> □ Would ten thirty suit you? □ Thursday suits me fine. □ You can't just turn up when it suits you. ■ to suit oneself to do what one wants without considering other people's opinions □ "I'd rather not go." — "Well, suit yourself." -3. [situation, lifestyle] to be right for <sb> □ That job suits you perfectly.

◇ vi [arrangement] to be acceptable or convenient □ I'll come about six; does that suit?

suitability [ˌsu:tə'biləti] n: see suitable □ His suitability for the job must be in doubt.

suitable ['su:təbl] adj [time, candidate, clothes] that is right for a particular need, purpose, or situation □ The entrance to the building is not suitable for wheelchairs.

suitably ['su:təblɪ] adv -1. to be suitably equipped/dressed etc to be equipped/dressed etc in a way that is suitable. -2. to be suitably grateful/surprised etc to be grateful/surprised etc in a way that is normal in the situation □ I was suitably impressed.

suitcase ['su:tkeɪs] n a large rectangular case that has a handle and is used for carrying clothes when traveling.

suite [swi:t] n -1. a set of rooms in a building that are all used by the same guest or company □ the presidential/bridal suite □ a suite of rooms □ an office suite. -2. a set of matching pieces of furniture □ a bathroom/dining room suite.

suites ['su:təd] adj -1. to be suited to sthg to be suitable for sthg □ activities suited to the needs of teenagers □ He's not really suited to teaching. -2. to be well suited [couple] to have similar personalities and interests and be likely to have a good relationship □ They seem well suited to each other.

suitor ['su:tə] n a man who wants to marry a particular woman (old-fashioned use).

sulfate US, sulphate GB ['sʌlfet] n a salt formed from sulfuric acid.

sulfur US, sulphur GB ['sʌlfə] n a pale-yellow substance that burns with a bright flame and smells of rotten eggs. SYMBOL: S.

sulfuric acid US, sulphuric acid GB [ˌsʌlˌfjʊərɪk-] n a strong acid. FORMULA: H₂SO₄.

sulk [sʌlk] ◇ vi to be silent and angry because one feels badly treated □ Stop sulking! ◇ n to be in a sulk to be sulking □ He went into a sulk and refused to cooperate.

sulky ['sʌlki] (compar sulkier, superl sulkiest) adj [child, person] who often sulks or is sulking □ She's in a sulky mood today.

sullen ['sʌlən] adj [person] who is bad-tempered and says very little □ a sullen expression.

Sullivan ['sʌlɪvən], Sir Arthur (1842–1900) a British composer, who worked with the writer W. S. Gilbert on many famous operettas including The Pirates of Penzance and The Mikado.

sulphate n GB = sulfate.

sulphur n GB = sulfur.

sulphuric acid n GB = sulfuric acid.

sultan ['sʌltən] n a ruler in a Muslim country.

sultana [US ˌsʌlˈtænə, GB -ˈtɑ:nə] n GB a type of small, seedless, dried, white grape used in cakes, puddings etc.

sultry ['sʌltri] (compar sultrier, superl sultriest) adj -1. [weather, day, air] that feels hot and humid □ The weather was hot and sultry. -2. [woman, look, smile] that suggests strong sexual desire □ She gave him a sultry smile.

sum [sʌm] (pt & pp summed, cont summing) n -1. an amount of money □ That's a very large sum of money. -2. a simple calculation in arithmetic □ I'm no good at doing sums.

◆ sum up ◇ vt sep to sum sthg up [argument, speech, report] to give a summary of sthg □ I can sum up his performance in one word: appalling. ◇ vi: The chairman summed up.

Sumatra [sʊ'mɑ:tɹə] the second largest island of Indonesia. SIZE: 473,600 sq kms. POPULATION: 28,016,000.

summarily [US ˌsʌ'merəli, GB 'sʌmər-] adv to be summarily dismissed/executed to be dismissed/executed in a summary way.

summarize, -ise ['sʌməraɪz] ◇ vt [events, story] to make a summary of <sthg>. ◇ vi: Allow me to summarize before we move on.

summary ['sʌməri] (pl summaries) ◇ n [of events, a story, the news] a short description of the main points of something □ a news summary □ Fred gave us a brief summary of their conversation. ◇ adj [dismissal, execution] that is carried out immediately, without attention to the usual rules, processes etc (formal use).

summer ['sʌmə] n the season between spring and autumn, usually the warmest time of the year □ It has been one of the hottest summers on record. □ We went there last summer. □ In summer, temperatures can exceed 30 degrees. □ the summer vacation/weather/heat.

summer camp n US a large camp where children spend their summer vacation together and where sporting and outdoor activities are organized for them.

summerhouse ['sʌmə'haʊs, pl -'haʊzɪz] n a small building in a garden where one can sit and relax when it is warm in summer.

summer school n a course of lectures, talks etc held during the summer vacation at a university, college, or school.

summertime ['sʌmə'taɪm] ◇ n summer □ The beach is packed in (the) summertime. ◇ adj: a series of summertime concerts.

Summer Time n GB the period of time in summer when certain countries put their clocks forward an hour to get extra daylight in the evening.

summery ['sʌməri] adj [clothes, weather, food] that is typical of or suitable for summer.

summing-up [ˌsʌmɪŋ-] (pl summings-up) n a summary of the evidence and arguments given by a judge at the end of a trial.

summit ['sʌmɪt] n -1. the highest point of a mountain □ Hargreaves had finally reached the summit. -2. POLITICS a meeting of heads of government to discuss international politics □ All G7 members will be at the Moscow summit. □ a summit meeting.

summon ['sʌmən] vt to officially order <sb> to come to a place □ He was summoned to the chairman's office.

♦ summon up vt sep to summon sth up [courage, energy, enthusiasm] to make an effort to show, have, or feel sthg □ I couldn't even summon up the energy to get out of bed.

summons ['sʌmənz] (pl summonses) ◇ n an order to appear in a court of law □ a court summons. ◇ vt to give or send <sb> a summons □ He was summonsed to appear in court.

sumo wrestling [ˌsu:mou-] n a traditional form of wrestling in Japan, in which contestants try to push each other to the ground or out of the ring using the weight of their body in order to win.

sump [sʌmp] n GB the part of an engine that holds the oil.

sumptuous ['sʌmptʃʊəs] adj [decor, building, feast] that is very impressive and expensive.

sum total n the sum total of sthg [of somebody's knowledge, effort, research] the complete amount of sthg, especially when it seems less than is expected or needed □ Is this the sum total of what you achieved over your three-month study break?

sun [sʌn] (pt & pp sunned, cont sunning) ◇ n -1. the sun the nearest star to the Earth, around which the Earth moves and from which it receives heat and light. -2. the light and heat from the sun □ You'll get burned if you get too much sun. □ They were sitting in the sun. ◇ vt to sun oneself to sit or lie in the light of the sun, especially to get a suntan.

Sun. abbr of Sunday.

sunbathe ['sʌnbæð] vi to sit or lie in the light of the sun, especially to get a suntan □ I've been sunbathing on the beach.

sunbeam ['sʌnbi:m] n a beam of light from the sun.

sunbed ['sʌnbɛd] n a kind of bed on which one lies under a sunlamp.

Sunbelt ['sʌnbelt]: the Sunbelt a region of the southern, and especially southwestern USA, where the weather is generally sunny.

sunblock ['sʌnblo:k] n a cream used on one's skin to protect it completely from the sun.

sunburn ['sʌnbɜ:n] n a condition in which one has sore red skin because one has spent too much time in the sun.

sunburned ['sʌnbɜ:'nd], sunburnt ['sʌnbɜ:'nt] adj [person, skin] that is suffering from sunburn □ I got sunburned from lying on the beach.

sun cream n a cream that one puts on one's skin to protect it against sunburn.

sundae ['sʌndeɪ] n a dish of ice cream with fruit, fruit juice, nuts etc □ an ice-cream sundae.

Sunday ['sʌndeɪ] n the day of the week between Saturday and Monday; see also Friday.

Sunday paper n a weekly newspaper published on Sunday that contains special sections, e.g. on the arts, finance, or politics.

Sunday school n a class organized on Sundays by a Christian church, in which children receive religious education.

sundial ['sʌndaɪəl] n a device that shows the time using a pointer that casts a shadow onto a flat base marked with the hours.

sundown ['sʌndaʊn] n the time in the evening when the sun disappears from the sky □ I got home at/after sundown.

sun-dried adj [tomatoes, raisins] that have been dried by the heat of the sun.

sundry ['sʌndrɪ] adj various (formal use) □ sundry expense. ■ all and sundry all kinds of people.

♦ sundries npl various small items that are not named separately (formal use).

sunflower ['sʌnflaʊə] n a tall plant with very large yellow flowers that is grown for its seeds, that are used to make cooking oil and can also be eaten □ sunflower oil/seeds.

sung [sʌŋ] past participle of sing.

sunglasses [US 'sʌŋlæsz, GB -glɑ:s-] npl dark glasses worn to protect one's eyes from bright sunlight □ a pair of sunglasses.

sunhat ['sʌnhæt] n a hat with a broad brim that protects one's head and face from the sun.

sunk [sʌŋk] past participle of sink.

sunken ['sʌŋkən] adj -1. [ship, treasure] that has sunk to the bottom of the sea, a lake etc. -2. [garden, bath] that is built at a lower level than the area around it. -3. [cheeks, eyes] that appear hollow as a result of hunger, illness, old age etc.

sunlamp ['sʌnlæmp] n a lamp that produces ultraviolet light and is used to get a suntan.

sunlight ['sʌnlaɪt] n the light from the sun □ 'Do not place in direct sunlight.'

sunlit ['sʌnlɪt] adj [garden, room] that is brightly lit by the sun □ a beautiful sunlit scene.

Sunni [US 'su:ni, GB 'sʌni] (pl Sunnis) ◇ n a Muslim who belongs to a branch of Islam that believes only in the teachings and acts of Muhammad. ◇ adj: a Sunni Muslim.

sunny ['sʌni] (compar sunnier, superl sunniest) adj -1. [day, room, garden] that has a lot of bright sunlight □ They said it would be sunny today. -2. [disposition, mood, smile] cheerful. -3. phrase sunny side up US [egg] fried on one side only.

sunray lamp ['sʌnreɪ-] n = sunlamp.

sunrise ['sʌnraɪz] n -1. the time in the morning when the sun first appears □ at sunrise. -2. the colors and light in the sky caused when the sun first appears in the morning □ She stood staring at the sunrise.

sunroof ['sʌnrʊ:f] n a window or covering in the roof of a car that can be opened and closed to let air or light in.

sunset ['sʌnsɛt] n -1. the time in the evening when the sun disappears from the sky □ at sunset. -2. the colors and light in the sky caused when the sun disappears from the sky in the evening □ We saw some amazing sunsets in Egypt.

sunshade ['sʌnʃeɪd] n an umbrella used to protect oneself from the sun, e.g. when sitting or lying somewhere.

sunshine ['sʌnʃaɪn] n the light and heat from the sun □ We lay all day in the sunshine.

sunspot ['sʌnspɒt] n -1. ASTRONOMY any of the small dark areas that can appear on the surface of the Sun. -2. a place in a sunny part of the world where people like to spend their vacations.

sunstroke ['sʌnstroʊk] n a condition consisting of fever, weakness, and a headache that is caused by spending too much time in the sun.

suntan ['sʌntæn] ◇ n a brown color on one's skin that comes after one has been in the sun □ He's got a wonderful suntan. ◇ comp [cream, lotion, oil] that protects one against sunburn and helps to develop a suntan.

suntanned ['sʌntænd] adj [face, body, skin] that is darker than usual after being in the sun □ You're looking very suntanned!

suntrap ['sʌntræp] n a sheltered place that gets a lot of sunshine.

sun-up n US the time in the morning when the sun appears (informal use) □ at sun-up.

super ['su:pə] adj [meal, day, weather] that one thinks is very good (informal use) □ You're coming? Oh, super! □ What a super idea!

superabundance [ˌsu:pə'æbʌndəns] n a very large amount or quantity of something.

superannuation [ˌsu:pə'reɪnju'eɪʃn] n money paid as a pension by the company or organization that one used to work for.

superb [su:'pɜ:b] adj very good □ The view was superb. □ She's a superb dancer.

superbly [su:'pɜ:blɪ] adv superbly organized/made etc organized/made etc very well □ She dealt with the whole thing superbly.

Super Bowl n the Super Bowl the final game of the main championship in football in the USA.

🏈 SUPER BOWL

The Super Bowl is a single football game that is played between the champions of the two main US leagues, or "conferences", of professional football. It takes place at the end of the season in late January each year, and huge numbers of Americans watch it on TV.

supercilious [ˌsu:pə'sɪliəs] adj [person] who seems to think they are better than other people.

superficial [ˌsu:pə'fi:ʃl] adj -1. [person, friendship, feeling] that is not very serious or sincere (disapproving use) □ a superficial smile □ I found his friends very superficial. -2. [knowledge, inspection, treatment] that is not complete or detailed enough to be accurate □ That's a highly superficial analysis of the situation. -3. [resemblance, appearance] that seems real at first but is usually not □ The apparent similarity between them is purely superficial. □ She puts on a superficial air of calm. -4. [cut, damage] that is only on the surface and is not serious □ Luckily the wound was only superficial.

superficially [ˌsu:pə'fi:ʃli] adv -1. [resemble, seem] a word used to show that something seems true but is not □ Superficially, little had changed. -2. [talk, treat] see superficial.

superfluous [su:'pɜ:'fluəs] adj not relevant or necessary □ I realized my presence had become superfluous.

SuperglueTM [ˌsu:pə'glu:] n a very strong glue.

superhuman [ˌsu:pə'hju:mən] adj [strength, power, effort] that seems greater than what a normal human being is capable of.

superimpose [ˌsu:pə'ɪm'pəʊz] vt to put <sthg> over something else in such a way that both can be seen or heard □ A musical soundtrack was superimposed on the original narrative.

superintend [ˌsu:pə'ɪn'tend] vt [staff, project] to be in charge of and manage <sb/sthg>.

superintendent [ˌsu:pə'ɪn'tendənt] n -1. a person who is in charge of and manages a place (formal use). -2. GB a police officer next in rank above inspector.

superior [su:'piəriə] ◇ adj -1. [team, forces, technology] that is of a higher standard □ This movie is far superior to his first one. -2. [product, make] that is of high quality □ makers of superior cheeses. -3. a superior officer an officer in the army, police etc who is of a higher rank than somebody else in the army, police etc □ All personnel must salute their superior officers. -4. [person] who acts as if they are better than other people □ I don't like his superior manner. ◇ n [in a company, army, police force] a person of higher rank □ Mrs Hoffman is my immediate superior.

Superior: Lake Superior the largest of the Great Lakes between Canada and the USA.

superiority [su:'piəri'ɒrəti] n: see superior □ a feeling of superiority.

superlative [su:'pɜ:'lætɪv] ◇ adj [performance, achievement, shot] that one thinks is extremely good □ The quality of the recording is superlative. ◇ n GRAMMAR the form of adjectives and adverbs that expresses the highest degree of comparison, e.g. "the tallest" or "the least expensive".

Superman [ˌsu:pə'mæn] a US cartoon character. He is very strong and can fly, and he uses these abilities to fight crime.

supermarket [ˌsu:pə'mɑ:kət] n a large store that sells food and household goods where customers serve themselves and pay on their way to the exit.

supernatural [ˌsu:pə'nætʃrəl] ◇ adj [powers, forces, phenomena] that cannot be explained by natural or physical laws but that some people believe to exist. ◇ n the supernatural supernatural events, powers etc.

superpower [ˌsu:pə'paʊə] n a nation that has great political, military, and economic power □ the world's two great superpowers.

supersede [ˌsu:pə'si:d] vt [equipment, method] to take the place of <sthg older or less efficient> □ This order supersedes all other orders.

supersonic [ˌsu:pə'sɒnɪk] adj [plane, travel] that is faster than the speed of sound.

superstar [ˌsu:pə'stɑ:ɹ] n a very famous person, e.g. an actor or a musician.

superstition [ˌsu:pəˈstɪʃn] n a belief that is not based on reason or fact but on old ideas, e.g. that certain things cause good or bad luck.

superstitious [ˌsu:pəˈstɪʃəs] adj [idea, belief] based on superstition □ She's very superstitious about black cats and things like that.

superstore [ˌsu:pəˈstɔ:ɹ] n GB a very large supermarket or store, especially one built outside a town.

superstructure [ˌsu:pəˈstrʌktʃə] n the parts of a ship that are above the main deck; the parts of a building that are above the ground.

supertanker [ˌsu:pəˈtæŋkə] n a very large oil tanker.

supervise [ˌsu:pəˈvaɪz] vt [children, staff] to watch <sb> to make sure that they behave or work properly or safely; [work, research] to be in charge of the people doing <sthg> and to make sure that they do it properly.

supervision [ˌsu:pəˈvɪʒn] n: see supervise □ The old people in our care require constant supervision.

supervisor [ˌsu:pəˈvaɪzə] n a person whose job is to supervise somebody or something.

supper [ˈsʌpə] n a light meal eaten in the evening □ What are you having for supper?

supplant [US səˈplænt, GB -ˈplɑ:nt] vt [manager, method, machinery] to take the place of <sb/sthg>.

supple [ˈsʌpl] adj -1. [person] who can bend and move easily □ My body is not as supple as it used to be. -2. [material] that is soft but strong and can bend without breaking or cracking □ soft, supple leather.

supplement [n ˈsʌpləmənt, vb ˈsʌpləmənt] ◇ n -1. [to a price, income, diet] something that is added to something else, especially in order to make it complete □ A supplement is charged for occupying a single room. □ a food/vitamin supplement. -2. an extra section that is added to a book or newspaper □ a Sunday supplement. ◇ vt [salary, diet] to add something to <sthg> so that it is enough or complete □ I work nights to supplement my income.

supplementary [ˌsʌpləˈmentəri] adj [question, income] that is additional to what exists already.

supplier [səˈplaɪə] n a person or organization that supplies goods or services to others.

supply [səˈplaɪ] (pl supplies, pt & pp supplied) ◇ n -1. [of food, water, money] an amount of something that is available for somebody to use and that is replaced regularly □ the nation's supply of oil/oil supply □ We have a regular supply of stationery. ■ to be in short supply to be hard to find because there is not enough available □ Fresh water is in pretty short supply in this area. -2. a system or network that supplies something, especially basic services □ The water/electricity supply has been cut off. -3. ECONOMICS the amount of goods that can be produced and put on sale □ the laws of supply and demand.

◇ vt to make <sthg> available to somebody

e.g. by giving or selling it to them □ The company supplies machinery to the textile industry. □ If you supply the food, I'll bring the drink. □ I shall be happy to supply you with further details. □ The pump supplies the town with fresh water. □ All the toys are supplied with batteries.

◆ supplies npl the food, water, and equipment needed by a group of people, e.g. a military expedition □ They sent Beam out to get supplies.

supply teacher n GB a teacher who works in different schools, replacing other teachers when they are absent.

support [səˈpɔ:t] ◇ vt -1. [leader, party, aim] to approve of and encourage <sb/sthg> □ We support her in her decision. □ The Democrats will support the bill. -2. [roof, weight] to hold up <sthg> from below □ the pillars that support the ceiling □ She held on to the table to support herself. -3. [friend, colleague] to help <sb> by being kind to them when they are unhappy □ Luckily her family have supported her throughout the divorce. -4. [family, company] to provide enough money for  to live on or continue to exist □ She has three children to support. □ The charity is supported by voluntary contributions. -5. [theory, claim, statement] to show that <sthg> is true □ There is no evidence to support this view. -6. SPORT to follow the progress of  and go to matches to encourage them to win □ Dave supports Manchester United.

◇ n -1. [for a party, movement, campaign] help and encouragement given to a person, organization, or action □ The strike has widespread support. □ She's been a great support to me. □ I went along to give her moral support. -2. money that is provided for a person or organization in order to help them when they are in financial difficulty □ They depend on the government for financial support. -3. [for a belief, view] something that helps to show that something is true □ The investigation found no support for this view. -4. [for a structure, weight] an object that holds up something heavy from below □ concrete supports □ The upper floors need extra support.

supporter [səˈpɔ:tə] n [of politician, aims, bill] a person who supports somebody or something □ He's always been one of Major's strongest supporters. □ Supporters of the bill crowded into the lobby.

support group n a group of people who have the same problem, e.g. an illness or fear, and who meet together to help each other to deal with their difficulties.

supportive [səˈpɔ:tɪv] adj [person] who is kind and helpful to somebody when they are unhappy or in difficulty □ Everybody's been very supportive toward me.

suppose [səˈpəʊz] ◇ vt -1. to suppose (that)... to think that something is probably true □ I suppose it's too far to go and see them. □ I suppose you think that's funny! □ I don't suppose you've ever experienced anything like this before. ■ you don't suppose... a phrase used when asking somebody's opinion □ You don't sup- pose anything has happened to them, do you? -2. to suppose (that)... to admit something that one does not really want to admit □ I suppose you're right. -3. phrases I suppose so used when one thinks something is true, but is not certain; used when one is agreeing with something unwillingly □ "Is he right?" — "Yes, I suppose so." □ There were, I suppose, about 50 people there. □ Oh, all right then, I suppose so. ■ I suppose not a phrase used when agreeing with a negative statement □ "It can't be easy bringing up a family on your own." — "I suppose not." □ "Surely there's no point continuing the search after 24 hours?" — "No, I suppose not."

◇ conj = supposing.

supposed [sə'pəʊzd] adj -1. [illness, wealth] a word used to show that one does not believe something that somebody says □ I don't believe her supposed boyfriend actually exists. -2. to be supposed to do sthg to be expected to do sthg, especially when this does not happen □ He was supposed to arrive at eight o'clock. -3. to be obliged by a rule or law to do sthg □ You are not supposed to go in there. -4. to be supposed to be to be generally believed to be □ This restaurant is supposed to be very good.

supposedly [sə'pəʊzədlɪ] adv a word used to show that one does not believe something that somebody says is true or exists □ Supposedly, he was in America at the time. □ Her father's supposedly ill/very rich.

supposing [sə'pəʊzɪŋ] conj a word used by somebody to ask what would happen if a particular situation were to take place or to be true □ Supposing oil prices go down? □ Supposing he's not telling the truth?

supposition [ˌsʌpə'zɪʃn] n an idea that one supposes to be true □ a belief based on supposition.

suppository [US sə'pɒzətɔːrɪ, GB -ərɪ] (pl suppositories) n a form of medicine that is put into the rectum or vagina.

suppress [sə'pres] vt -1. [uprising, rebellion] to prevent  from happening or continuing successfully, usually by using force □ The pro-democracy protest was violently suppressed. -2. [news, report] to prevent <information> from being publicly known □ The documents have been officially suppressed. -3. [anger, joy, smile] to stop oneself from feeling or showing <an emotion> □ She could barely suppress a smile.

suppression [sə'preʃn] n: see suppress.

suppressor [sə'presə] n a device that prevents a piece of electrical equipment from causing radio or television interference.

supranational [ˌsuːprə'næʃnəl] adj [organization, agreement] that is connected with or includes more than one nation.

supremacy [su'preməsi] n the state of being supreme □ Each nation tried to gain supremacy over the other. □ The 1990s have seen a race for technological supremacy.

supreme [su'pri:m] adj -1. [commander, court] that is highest in rank, power, or importance. -2. [performance, achievement] very great □ It took a supreme effort by everyone to meet the deadline.

Supreme Court n -1. the Supreme Court the highest court in the USA. -2. in Australia and the USA, the highest court in each state.

♣ SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court is the highest federal (national) court in the United States. Its nine members, or "justices", are appointed by the President for life. Its role is to approve or reject national and state laws, and to interpret the Constitution.

supremely [su'pri:mli] adv supremely gifted/important etc extremely gifted/important etc □ She seems a supremely confident woman.

supremo [su'pri:mou] (pl supremos) n GB the most powerful or important person in a particular organization (informal use).

Supt. abbr of superintendent.

surcharge ['sɜːtʃɑːdʒ] ◇ n an amount of money to be paid in addition to the usual charge □ They imposed a 7% surcharge on domestic flights. ◇ vt to make <sb> pay a surcharge.

sure [ʃʊə] ◇ adj -1. to be sure to know something is true or correct, and have no doubts about this; to know exactly what one feels about something □ I'm sure (that) I've seen him before. □ Are you quite sure about this? □ He'll come, I'm sure of it. □ He's not sure whether he really wants to get married. □ I think I locked the door, but I can't be sure. ■ to make sure (that)... to check that a particular thing has happened or is true; to do something so that a particular thing will definitely happen □ I'll just make sure the oven is switched off. □ Make sure you get to bed early, you have exams tomorrow. -2. to be sure of sthg to be certain to get sthg □ With all her experience she can be sure of a good job. -3. it's sure to rain tomorrow I feel certain that it will rain tomorrow □ The dollar is sure to fall soon. ■ you're sure to like him I feel certain that you will like him □ You know Jim, he's sure to be there early. ■ be sure to do sthg don't forget to do sthg □ Be sure to take an umbrella with you. -4. to be sure of oneself to be self-confident □ He seems very sure of himself.

◇ adv -1. a word used to show agreement (informal use) □ "Do you want to go out tonight?" — "Sure!" -2. US a word used for emphasis (informal use) □ He sure can cook!

◆ for sure adv used to emphasize that something is true or will happen □ I'll finish it tomorrow for sure. □ No one knows for sure when he's coming back to work.

◆ sure enough adv used to confirm that what one expected to happen did happen □ I thought she might phone and, sure enough, she did.

◆ sure thing excl US a phrase used to show agreement (informal use) □ "Come and see me next week." — "Sure thing."

surefire ['ʃʊə'faɪə] adj a surefire success/cure etc a success/cure etc that is certain to be effective □ That is a surefire way of getting yourself killed!

surefooted [ʃʊə'fʊtəd] adj [person, animal] that can walk on uneven ground without falling.

surely ['ʃʊə'lɪ] adv a word used when one believes that something is true and wants somebody else to agree □ Surely you can't be serious. □ That was a mistake, surely.

surety ['ʃʊərətɪ] n something valuable such as money or jewelry that somebody gives as a guarantee that they will do what they have said, e.g. appear in court or pay a debt.

surf [sɜːf] ◇ n the white foam formed by waves as they come toward the shore. ◇ vi to ride on waves as they come toward the shore, using a surfboard. ◇ vt to surf the Internet OR Net to use the Internet by visiting lots of different sites on it.

surface ['sɜːfəs] ◇ n -1. [of a road, table, the ground] the outer part of something □ the polished surface of the desk □ the Earth's surface. -2. [of the water, lake] the top part of an area or mass of liquid □ The submarine/diver came to the surface. -3. a flat area that one can use to work on or put things on □ Roll the dough out on a smooth clean surface. □ a work/kitchen surface. -4. [of a situation, problem, person] the part of something that can be seen easily, that is different from the part that is hidden and not obvious □ We need to look beyond the surface and find the real causes of crime. ■ on the surface superficially □ On the surface she seems nice enough. ■ below OR beneath the surface not immediately visible or obvious □ There was a feeling of anxiety below the surface. ■ to scratch the surface of sthg to deal with only a very small part of sthg □ The discussion barely scratched the surface of the problem. ◇ vi -1. [swimmer, submarine] to rise to the water's surface □ Whales have to surface to breathe. -2. [problem, feeling, rumor] to become generally known □ The problem only surfaced when we started looking at the proofs. -3. [person] to get out of bed, especially after being in bed for a long time (humorous use) □ They finally surfaced at about 2pm.

surface mail n the system of sending letters and parcels by land or sea.

NOTE: Compare airmail.

surface-to-air adj a surface-to-air missile a missile that is fired from land or sea at an aircraft or at another missile.

surfboard ['sɜːfboɪ'd] n a long narrow board that one stands or lies on when surfing.

surfeit ['sɜːfət] n a surfeit of sthg too much of sthg (formal use) □ a surfeit of wine/chocolate.

surfer ['sɜːfə] n a person who goes surfing.

surfie ['sɜːfi] n AUS a person who spends a lot of time surfing (informal use).

surfing ['sɜːfɪŋ] n the sport of riding waves as they come toward the shore, using a surfboard □ It's a great place to go surfing.

surge [sɜːdʒ] ◇ n -1. a sudden forward movement, e.g. of a group of people □ There was a surge for the exit. -2. a sudden increase in a particular feeling □ He felt a surge of pride/pain/anger. -3. a sudden big increase □ a big surge in demand □ a sudden surge of activity. ◇ vi -1. [people, vehicles] to move forward suddenly in a large group; [water] to move forward suddenly and powerfully. -2. [anger, guilt] to be felt suddenly and powerfully by somebody. -3. [interest, support, sales] to increase suddenly by a large amount.

surgeon ['sɜːdʒən] n a doctor who performs operations in a hospital.

Surgeon General n the Surgeon General the government official who is in charge of public health in the USA.

surgery ['sɜːdʒəri] (pl surgeries) n -1. the act or process of performing a medical operation □ The patient will require major/minor surgery on her leg. -2. GB the place where a doctor or dentist treats their patients □ a doctor's surgery □ Surgery hours are from nine to four. -3. GB the hours when people can see their member of parliament □ Mr Bryant holds a regular Saturday surgery.

surgical ['sɜːdʒɪkl] adj -1. [instrument, operation, skill] that is connected with or is used in medical operations □ the surgical removal of the growth □ a pair of surgical gloves. -2. [support, stocking, boot] that is worn as a treatment for a medical condition.

surgical spirit n GB a kind of alcohol that is used for cleaning wounds.

Surinam [US 'sʊərənə:m, GB '-næm] a country in northern South America, between Guyana and French Guiana. SIZE: 163,265 sq kms. POPULATION: 400,000 (Surinamese). CAPITAL: Paramaribo. LANGUAGE: Dutch. CURRENCY: Surinamese guilder.

surly ['sɜːli] (compar surlier, superl surliest) adj [voice, manner, person] rude, bad-tempered, and unfriendly □ Their staff can be very surly at times.

surmise [sə'maɪz] vt to guess <sthg> (formal use).

surmount [sə'maʊnt] vt [obstacle, disadvantage] to deal with  successfully □ There are several difficulties which we will have to surmount first.

surname ['sɜːneɪm] n the last part of one's name that other people in one's family also have □ What's your surname?

surpass [US sr'pæs, GB sə'pɑ:s] vt [expectations, target, record] to go beyond <sthg> and be even better or greater (formal use) □ The result surpassed my wildest hopes.

surplus ['sɜːplʌs] ◇ n an amount of something that is more than is needed and can be sold or got rid of. ◇ adj: They export their surplus agricultural produce. □ As a result, 360 staff are now surplus to requirements.

surprise [sə'praɪz] ◇ n -1. an unexpected event, especially a pleasant one □ The news came as a surprise to everyone. □ What a pleasant surprise! □ Surprise! You thought we'd forgotten, didn't you? -2. the feeling caused when something unexpected happens □ Much to my surprise, she agreed. □ He looked up in surprise. ■ to take sb by surprise to do something that sb does not expect; to do something at a time when sb does not expect it □ Her reaction took me completely by surprise.

◇ vt -1. to cause surprise to <sb> □ It surprised me that they didn't give her the job. -2. to attack or catch <sb> when they are not expecting it □ They came home early and surprised a burglar in their living room.

surprised [sə'praɪzd] adj [person] who feels surprise □ I was surprised at his attitude. □ I'm not surprised (that) you're tired after all that! □ He was surprised to hear it wasn't ready yet. ■ I wouldn't be surprised (if...) I think it is likely (that...) □ I wouldn't be surprised if they'd forgotten.

surprising [sə'praɪzɪŋ] adj [news, event, success] that comes as a surprise or causes one to feel surprised □ It's hardly surprising Lucy's sick, considering the stress she's under.

surprisingly [sə'praɪzɪŋli] adv a word used to show that one thinks that something is surprising □ Surprisingly, they all arrived on time. □ The idea was surprisingly successful.

surreal [sə'ri:əl] adj [event, situation, atmosphere] that is strange and more like a dream than reality.

Surrealism [sə'ri:əlɪzəm] n a style in art and literature in which ideas and images are put together in a strange and unexpected way.

Surrealist [sə'ri:əlɪst] ◇ adj that is connected with Surrealism □ a Surrealist painting/image. ◇ n a writer or artist who produces Surrealist works.

surrender [sə'rendəʃ] ◇ vt [rights, weapons, passport] to give <sthg> to somebody else either because one wants to or because one has been forced to. ◇ vi -1. [to the enemy, one's opponent, an army] to stop fighting and show somebody that one accepts that one has been defeated by them □ The hijackers surrendered to the police. -2. [to a temptation, one's fate] to allow something such as a feeling to gain control over one □ I surrendered to temptation and had another piece of cake. ◇ n an act of surrendering □ The town was starved into surrender.

surreptitious [US ˌsɜːrəp'tɪʃəs, GB ˌsʌr-] adj [visit, meeting] that is done in secret because one does not want other people to know about it □ He took a surreptitious look at his watch.

Surrey [US ˌsɜːri, GB ˌsʌri] a county in south-eastern England, southwest of London. SIZE: 1,679 sq kms. POPULATION: 999,752. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Kingston upon Thames.

surrogate [US ˌsɜːrəɡət, GB ˌsʌr-] ◇ n a person or thing that takes the place of somebody or something else □ Watching movies became a surrogate for taking part in the real world. ◇ adj: He was like a surrogate brother to me.

surrogate mother n a woman who has a baby for another woman who is unable to get pregnant.

surround [sə'raʊnd] ◇ vt -1. to be all around  □ The garden is surrounded by trees.

-2. to position people all around , usually in order to attack them or take them prisoner □ They were surrounded by enemy soldiers. -3. to exist around  □ Controversy surrounds the question of gun control. ◇ n a border around the edge of something, e.g. a fireplace.

surrounding [sə'raʊndɪŋ] adj [countryside, army, controversy] that surrounds a person, place, or thing □ There are lots of interesting places to visit in the surrounding area.

◆ surroundings npl everything that surrounds a person or place □ The hotel is set in beautiful surroundings. □ After a while I got used to my new surroundings.

surtax ['sɜːtæks] n an additional tax on high incomes.

surveillance [sə'veɪləns] n a careful secret watch on a person or place, often over a long period of time □ The police kept him under close surveillance.

survey [n ˌsɜː'veɪ, vb sɜː'veɪ] ◇ vt -1. [view, scene, future] to examine and consider <sb/sthg> as a whole □ He stepped back to survey the painting. -2. [population, group, trend] to find out <the opinions> of a large number of people by asking them a list of questions □ 60% of women surveyed were against the measure. -3. [land, building] to examine <sthg> carefully and make a report of its measurements and condition □ They had the house independently surveyed before buying it. ◇ n [of a population, building] the act of surveying something □ They carried out a survey of retail prices. □ an aerial survey of the area.

surveyor [sə'veɪəʃ] n a person whose job is to survey land or buildings.

survival [sə'veɪvəl] n -1. the act or process of surviving □ the survival of the fittest. -2. something that has continued to exist from an earlier time □ The custom is a survival from the Victorian era.

survive [sə'veɪv] ◇ vt -1. [war, disaster, illness] to continue to live or exist after  □ The company managed to survive the recession. □ Those who survived the attack died later from starvation. -2. [person] to continue to live after <sb> has died □ She is survived by two sons. ◇ vi -1. [person] to stay alive in spite of danger, illness, accidents etc; [company, project] to continue to exist in spite of difficulties, especially lack of money or food □ They survived for four days in the lifeboat. -2. to deal successfully with a difficult situation (informal use) □ How will we survive without you?

◆ survive on vt fus to survive on sthg [on food, money] to live using sthg, especially when this is not much or not enough □ How can they survive on so little? □ We should have just enough money to survive on.

survivor [sə'veɪvəʃ] n -1. a person who has survived a dangerous situation □ the survivors of the accident/death camps. -2. a person who is able to continue successfully in spite of difficulties □ She's a born survivor.

susceptible [sə'septəbl] adj -1. to be susceptible to sthg [to pressure, flattery] to be easily influenced by sthg □ Caroline is extremely susceptible to criticism. -2. [to infection, disease, injury] likely to be affected by something □ Young babies tend to be very susceptible to infection.

sushi ['su:ʃi] n a Japanese dish consisting of pieces of raw fish.

suspect [vb sə'spekt, adj & n 'səspekt] ◇ vt -1. [motives, theory] to doubt the truth of <sthg> □ You surely don't suspect his motives in offering to help? -2. to suspect (that)... to think that something probably exists, especially something bad □ I suspect he knew all along. □ The press suspected a cover-up. -3. to think that <sb> is guilty of doing something dishonest □ I suspect the butler. □ Hudson is suspected of lying to the election committee.

◇ adj [package, device, behavior] that makes people suspect that something illegal or dangerous is intended □ All suspect packages should be reported immediately to the police.

◇ n a person who is suspected of something, usually a crime □ McClure remains the chief suspect in the investigation.

suspend [sə'spend] vt -1. [object] to hang <sthg> from above □ A lamp was suspended from the ceiling. -2. [work, service] to stop <sthg> happening for a period of time □ The regime has suspended the repayment of foreign debts. -3. [employee, member, player] to remove <sb> from their job, club, or other organization for a period of time; [child, pupil] to remove <sb> from school or college for a period of time as a punishment □ The officers have been suspended from their duties during the inquiry. □ The college suspended both students for violent behavior.

suspended animation [sə'spendəd-] n a state in which the main functions of a body are slowed down for a time, e.g. in hibernation.

suspended sentence n a prison sentence that the offender does not serve unless they commit another crime within a certain period of time.

suspender belt [sə'spendəf-] n GB a piece of underwear for women that is worn around their waist and that suspenders are attached to.

suspenders [sə'spendəfz] npl -1. US [for men] a pair of straps worn over the shoulders and attached to trousers to keep the trousers up. -2. GB [for women] straps for holding stockings up.

suspense [sə'spens] n a state of excitement or anxiety caused by uncertainty about what will happen next □ The suspense in his movies is amazing. □ I can hardly bear the suspense. ■ to keep sb in suspense to keep sb in a state of excitement by not telling them something that they want to know □ Well, don't keep us in suspense, what did he say?

suspension [sə'spenʃn] n -1. [of work, an employee, pupil] see suspend □ One more infringement will result in his automatic suspension from the team. -2. AUTO the system of springs that support the body of a vehicle on its wheels and help to give a smooth ride over uneven surfaces.

suspension bridge n a bridge that is supported by cables attached to towers.

suspicion [sə'spiʃn] n -1. a feeling, not based on fact, that somebody cannot be trusted □ His strange behavior aroused her suspicion. □ She looked at him with suspicion. ■ to be under suspicion to be suspected of something, usually a crime □ The driver is under suspicion of having been involved in the theft. -2. an idea that somebody is being dishonest or that something is wrong □ I had a growing suspicion that he wasn't telling the truth. □ I don't know who is responsible, but I have my suspicions.

suspicious [sə'spiʃjəs] adj -1. [person] who has suspicions; who tends not to trust people □ I'm suspicious of his motives. □ She gave him a suspicious look. -2. [behavior, package] that causes one to be suspicious □ a suspicious-looking character □ If you see anything suspicious, let me know. □ He was found hanged in suspicious circumstances.

suspiciously [sə'spiʃjəslɪ] adv [ask, behave] see suspicious □ Phil's been acting very suspiciously of late.

Sussex ['sʌsəks] n a county in southeastern England, divided into East and West Sussex. SIZE: 3,784 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,412,100. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTERS: Lewes, Chichester.

sustain [sə'steɪn] vt -1. [interest, activity, rate] to maintain <sthg> over a long period □ If the present level of growth is sustained... □ a sustained period of pressure. -2. [person] to keep <sb> alive; to help or encourage <sb> □ They had only bread and water to sustain them. □ It was only their belief in God that sustained them. -3. [injury, damage] to suffer <sthg> □ Fortunately the passengers sustained only minor injuries. □ The Russian army sustained huge casualties. -4. to support  (formal use) □ The roof couldn't sustain our weight and fell in.

sustainable [sə'steɪnəbl] adj ECOLOGY [source, forest] that involves using natural products or kinds of energy in ways that do not harm the environment.

sustenance ['sʌstənəns] n the food and drink that a person or animal needs to remain healthy (formal use).

suture ['su:tʃə] n a stitch used to sew up a wound.

svelte [svelt] adj [person, appearance] slim and graceful.

Svengali [sven'gɑ:lɪ] n somebody who has too much power and influence over another person, usually encouraging them to act in a bad way.

SW -1. abbr of short wave. -2. abbr of southwest.

swab [swɒb] n a piece of cotton used for cleaning wounds or taking samples of body fluids.

swagger ['swægə] ◇ n a way of walking in which one swings one's body from side to side, usually as a sign that one is very confident and pleased with oneself □ He walked with a swagger. ◇ vi to walk with a swagger □ There was Toby, swaggering down the street in a top hat.

Swahili [swə'hɪ:lɪ] ◇ n -1. a member of an African people living in Zanzibar and the coastal regions of Tanzania and Kenya. -2. a language spoken in East and Central Africa. ◇ adj: Swahili cooking/poetry.

swallow ['swɒləʊ] ◇ vt -1. [food, drink, pill] to pass <sthg> from the mouth toward the stomach by a muscular action in the throat □ She swallowed the whiskey in one gulp. -2. [story, excuse, lie] to believe <sthg that is not true> without doubting it □ I found his story hard to swallow. -3. [anger, tears] to stop oneself from showing <sthg> □ She had to swallow her pride and accept his offer.

◇ vi to move the muscles in one's throat to swallow something.

◇ n -1. a small bird with pointed wings and a forked tail that builds a nest of mud. -2. [of food, drink] the act of swallowing something.

swam [swæm] past tense of swim.

swamp [swɒmp] ◇ n an area of land that is always fully or partly covered with water. ◇ vt -1. [boat, building, town] to cover <an object or place> with water, often causing damage □ The wave completely swamped the small dinghy. -2. to be swamped with sthg [with work, calls, tourists] to have too much or too many of sthg to deal with at the same time □ The town is swamped with tourists in summer.

swan [swɒn] n a large white bird with a long neck that lives on rivers or lakes.

swap [swɒp] (pt & pp swapped, cont swapping) ◇ vt -1. to swap sthg with sb to give sthg to sb and get something else instead □ He swapped places with his sister. □ We swapped jobs. ■ to swap two things over OR around to exchange the places of two things □ She swapped their glasses around when he left the room. -2. to swap sthg for sthg to replace sthg with sthg □ He swapped his car for a computer. ◇ vi: Her chair was too big, and mine was too small, so we decided to swap. ◇ n the act of swapping something □ A new bike for an old camera? — That's a good swap.

swarm [swɔ:'m] ◇ n -1. [of bees, wasps] a large group of insects that are flying together. -2. a swarm of people a large group of people who are moving all the time □ She was surrounded by a swarm of admirers. ◇ vi -1. [bees, wasps] to fly in a swarm. -2. [people] to fill a place and move around it in a swarm. -3. to be swarming [room, town] to be full of people or animals moving around □ The streets were swarming with tourists.

swarthy ['swɔ:'ðɪ] (compar swarthier, superl swarthiest) adj [person, face, skin] rather dark.

swashbuckling ['swɒʃbʌklɪŋ] adj [movie, story] that is full of adventure, excitement, and men who fight with swords.

swastika ['swɒstɪkə] n an ancient sign that consists of a cross with each end bent at a right angle, used as the symbol of the Nazi Party.

swat [swɒt] (pt & pp swatted, cont swatting) vt [fly, bee] to hit  quickly with one's hand or a flat object in order to kill it.

swatch [swɒtʃ] n a small piece of cloth, used as a sample.

swathe [sweɪð] n [of grass, forest, land] a large area of land □ Fires damaged huge swathes of southern Spain.

swathed [sweɪðd] adj to be swathed in sthg [in cloth, bandages] to be wrapped in sthg (literary use) □ She was swathed in furs.

swatter ['swɒtə] n a tool for swatting insects □ a fly swatter.

sway [sweɪ] ◇ vt -1. [branch, pole, one's hips] to make <sthg> move slowly from side to side □ They swayed their bodies in time to the music.

-2. to influence <sb>, especially by giving a clever speech or making false promises □ His plea for mercy did not sway the judge. ◇ vi: The trees swayed in the breeze. ◇ n (formal use) to come under the sway of sb/sthg to come under the control or influence of sb/sthg. ■ to hold sway (over sb/sthg) to be in a position of power or influence (over sb/sthg).

Swaziland ['swɑ:zɪlənd] a country in south-eastern Africa, between South Africa and Mozambique. SIZE: 17,363 sq kms. POPULATION: 800,000 (Swazis). CAPITAL: Mbabane. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: lilangeni.

swear [sweə] (pt swore, pp sworn) ◇ vt -1. to swear (that)... to formally promise that one will do something □ I swore (that) I'd never make the same mistake again. □ I swear to avenge my father's death. ■ to swear allegiance/loyalty to sb to formally promise in public that one will show allegiance/loyalty to sb. ■ to swear an oath to make a formal promise in public □ He swore an oath of allegiance to the party. -2. LAW to swear to tell the truth to swear in court that one will tell the truth □ I swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. -3. to swear (that)... to state that something is true in a way that shows how strongly one feels about it (informal use) □ I swear I'll strangle that cat one day. □ Monday? I could have sworn it was Tuesday today!

◇ vi -1. to state something firmly □ "Are you sure?" — "Yes, I swear." -2. to use swear-words, especially when angry □ It's rude to swear.

◆ swear by vt fus to swear by sthg [remedy, method] to use and trust sthg because one believes it works □ My mother always swears by these throat pastilles.

◆ swear in vt sep to swear sb in [president, jury, witness] to make sb swear an oath before taking up an official position □ The new president was sworn in yesterday.

swearword ['sweə'wɔ:d] n a word that is considered offensive.

sweat [swet] ◇ n -1. the clear salty liquid that comes out of a person's skin when they are hot □ I woke up covered in sweat. □ He had sweat pouring down his back. -2. to be a sweat to be unpleasant hard work (informal use) □ Roofing is a real sweat. -3. to be in a sweat to be very anxious about something (informal use) □ I was in a real sweat about it. ◇ vi -1. to have sweat coming out of one's skin □ She was sweating from the intense heat. -2. to worry (informal use) □ Don't tell them yet; let's make them sweat for a while.

sweatband ['swetbænd] n a piece of cloth worn around one's wrist or forehead when playing sport or exercising to prevent sweat from getting into one's eyes or to wipe it away.

sweater ['swetə] n a piece of clothing, usually made of wool, that covers the upper part of one's body and one's arms.

sweatshirt ['swetʃɜ:tɪ] n a thick cotton pull-over with long sleeves and a soft lining on the inside.

sweatshop ['swetʃɒp] n a factory or workshop where people work long hours for low pay in poor conditions.

sweatsuit ['swetsu:t] n US a set of warm loose clothes made of soft thick cotton, worn to do sports in or to relax in.

sweaty ['sweti] (compar sweatier, superl sweatiest) adj -1. [skin, body, clothing] that is covered in sweat; that smells of sweat □ We get very sweaty playing squash. -2. [place, activity] that causes somebody to sweat □ I don't want to go to some sweaty nightclub.

swede [swi:d] n GB a large round root vegetable that is brown or purple outside and yellow inside.

Swede n a person who comes from Sweden.

Sweden ['swi:dn] a country in Scandinavia, on the Baltic Sea. It is a neutral country. SIZE: 450,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 8,700,000 (Swedes, Swedish). CAPITAL: Stockholm. LANGUAGE: Swedish. CURRENCY: Swedish krona.

Swedish ['swi:diʃ] ◇ n a language spoken in Sweden and parts of Finland. ◇ npl the Swedish people who come from Sweden. ◇ adj: see Sweden.

sweep [swi:p] (pt & pp swept) ◇ vt -1. [floor, carpet, streets] to remove the dirt on  by pushing a brush or broom across it; [litter, leaves, crumbs] to clean away <dirt or rubbish> in this way □ Could someone sweep the kitchen? □ John was sweeping the dust into a pile. -2. [room, area, sky] to move quickly across  □ His gaze/the searchlight swept the horizon. -3. [country, community] to spread throughout the people in  very quickly □ A new fashion/virus is sweeping America. -4. [person, building] to search <sb/sthg> for weapons or microphones, using electronic equipment. -5. [person, money, books] to push <sb/sthg> with a powerful movement in a particular direction □ He swept the papers off the desk. □ The sailors were swept overboard.

◇ vi [rain, emotion, person] to move quickly and powerfully in a particular direction □ A hurricane swept through the town. □ A tide of nationalism swept through the country. □ She swept past me without a glance.

◇ n -1. a long and powerful movement, e.g. of one's arm or hand □ "This is all mine," she said, with a broad sweep of her hand. -2. the act of sweeping something with a brush □ I gave the floor a quick sweep. -3. a person whose job is to clean the soot from inside chimneys.

◆ sweep aside vt sep to sweep sthg aside [advice, objection] to refuse to pay attention to sthg □ He swept aside my objections.

◆ sweep away vt sep to sweep sthg away [building, obstruction, idea] to destroy sthg completely □ Several houses were swept away in the flood.

◆ sweep up ◇ vt sep to sweep sthg up [rubbish, dirt] to remove sthg with a brush or broom □ Sweep those crumbs up off the floor! ◇ vi: I swept up after the party.

sweeper ['swi:pə] n -1. in soccer, a player who stands behind other defending players. -2. US a vacuum cleaner.

sweeping ['swi:pɪŋ] adj -1. [changes, cuts] that are large and important, and affect many things or people □ The new government has promised sweeping reforms. -2. [statement, generalization] that is too general to be true (disapproving use) □ He was making sweeping generalizations about older women. -3. [curve, movement] that is long and wide □ His paintings are full of broad sweeping bands of color.

sweepstake ['swi:psteɪk] n a form of gambling, often based on a horse race, in which players pay for tickets with contestants' names on them. All the money paid is given as a prize to the holder(s) of the winning ticket(s).

sweet [swi:t] ◇ adj -1. [food, drink, flavor] that has a taste like sugar □ It's too sweet. □ a sweet white wine. -2. [success, victory] that feels pleasing or satisfying □ Revenge is sweet. □ a sweet feeling of satisfaction. -3. [smell, air] that smells pleasant □ a bunch of sweet-smelling roses. -4. [song, voice, sound] that sounds pleasant and gentle □ the sweet song of the nightingale. -5. [person, nature] that shows a kind and pleasant character □ That's very sweet of you. □ He was very sweet to me. -6. [smile, face, puppy] that is attractive and charming □ What a sweet little baby!

◇ n GB -1. sweet food served as the last part of a meal □ Who would like more sweet? □ the sweet course/menu. -2. a small piece of sweet food made of sugar, chocolate etc □ a bag of sweets.

sweet-and-sour adj [sauce, chicken, pork] that has a mixture of both sweet and sour tastes.

sweet corn n yellow seeds of corn, cooked and eaten as a vegetable.

sweeten ['swi:tn] vt [mixture, coffee] to make <food or drink> taste sweet by adding sugar, honey etc to it.

sweetener ['swi:tnə] n -1. a substance used instead of sugar to sweeten something □ an artificial sweetener. -2. something given or offered to make a situation more acceptable (informal use) □ a cash/financial sweetener.

sweetheart ['swi:thɑ:t] n -1. a word used to talk to somebody one loves □ Bye, sweetheart! -2. a boyfriend or girlfriend □ His wife, Laura, had been his childhood sweetheart.

sweetheart contract US, sweetheart agreement AUS n an industrial agreement reached by direct discussion between workers and their employer.

sweetly ['swi:tli] adv [smile, sing] see sweet □ a sweetly innocent child.

sweet pea n a climbing garden plant that has colorful sweet-smelling flowers.

sweet potato n the root of a tropical climbing plant, cooked and eaten as a vegetable.

sweet-talk vt to persuade <sb> to do something by saying pleasant things, making promises etc □ They sweet-talked me into babysitting on Saturday night.

sweet tooth n to have a sweet tooth to like foods that are sweet.

swell [swel] (pt swelled, pp swollen OR swelled) ◇ vi -1. to swell (up) [wrist, face] to become bigger than usual, especially because of injury or illness □ Her ankle had swollen to twice its normal size. -2. [lungs, balloon] to become rounded in shape as a result of being filled with air □ The sails swelled (out) in the wind. -3. [membership, crowd, town] to become larger in number or size □ During the 40s the city swelled considerably. -4. [music, voices] to become louder □ The shouting swelled to a deafening roar. -5. [person] to be filled with an emotion □ She/Her heart swelled with pride.
 ◇ vt [membership, crowd] to make <sthg> larger in number or size □ The new intake has swelled our numbers considerably. □ Heavy rains have swollen the river to twice its normal size.
 ◇ n the movement of the surface of the sea as it goes up and down.

swelling ['swelɪŋ] n -1. [of somebody's wrist, face] see swell □ The drugs will reduce any swelling. -2. an area of one's body that has swollen □ He had a nasty swelling on his arm.

sweltering ['sweltərɪŋ] adj [heat, day, person] that feels uncomfortably hot □ It's sweltering in here.

swept [swept] past tense & past participle of sweep.

swerve [swɜ:ʋ] vi [car, truck, driver] to move to the left or right suddenly when going forward, especially to avoid something □ The ball swerved around the defenders and into the goal. □ I had to swerve to avoid hitting him.

swift [swɪft] ◇ adj -1. [movement, glance] that is quick and uses little effort □ He's a swift runner. -2. [action, payment, response] that happens without delay □ Matt was always swift to point out other people's mistakes. ◇ n a small brown bird with narrow wings and a Y-shaped tail that flies very fast.

swiftly ['swɪftli] adv [move, act, respond] see swift □ We must act swiftly and decisively.

swiftness ['swɪftnəs] n [of a movement, action, response] see swift □ The swiftness of the reply took Morton by surprise.

swig [swɪg] (pt & pp swigged, cont swigging) (informal use) ◇ vi [whiskey, beer] to drink swill [swɪl] ◇ n a liquid mixture containing waste food that is given to pigs. ◇ vt GB to move a liquid around or over <sthg> usually in order to clean it □ Swill the bucket out when you've finished with it.

<sthg> quickly in large amounts □ Marty sat at the bar swigging vodka. ◇ n [of brandy, gin] a large mouthful of drink □ She took a large swig of her drink.

swim [swɪm] (pt swam, pp swum, cont swimming) ◇ vi -1. [person, animal, fish] to move through water by moving the arms and legs □ Help! I can't swim! □ We used to swim in the lake. -2. [room, objects] to appear to move around, usually because one is tired, ill etc □ Suddenly everything started to swim before her eyes. □ My head was swimming. ◇ n a period spent swimming □ I always feel better after a swim. □ Why don't we go for a swim?

swimmer ['swɪmə] n a person who can swim or is swimming □ a champion/good swimmer.

swimming ['swɪmɪŋ] n the activity or sport of moving through the water using one's arms and legs □ Swimming is one of my favorite pastimes. □ We went swimming in the ocean.

swimming baths npl GB an indoor public swimming pool.

swimming cap n a tight hat used to keep one's hair dry when one is swimming.

swimming costume n GB a single tight piece of clothing worn by women for swimming.

swimming pool n a place built for people to swim in, consisting of a large hole in the ground filled with water □ an indoor/outdoor swimming pool.

swimming trunks npl a piece of clothing similar to short trousers or underwear, worn by men for swimming □ a pair of swimming trunks.

swimsuit ['swɪmsu:t] n a single tight piece of clothing worn by women for swimming or lying in the sun.

swindle ['swɪndl] ◇ vt to get money or something valuable from <sb> by deceiving or tricking them □ We've been swindled. □ Too often the elderly are swindled out of their life savings. ◇ n a situation or act in which somebody is swindled □ The whole thing's a complete swindle!

swine [swaɪn] n a person who one thinks is very unpleasant (informal use) □ You swine!

swing [swɪŋ] (pt & pp swung) ◇ vt -1. [hips, arms] to make <sthg> move backward and forward or from side to side from a fixed point □ Justin was sitting on the wall swinging his feet. -2. [vehicle, door] to cause <sthg> to turn in a particular direction suddenly □ Bob lifted the bag up and swung it over his shoulder. □ He swung the car round to the left.

◇ vi -1. [legs, arms] to move from a fixed point □ The window was swinging in the wind. -2. [vehicle, person] to turn in a particular direction □ The car swung into the driveway. □ The door swung open. □ He swung around to face me. -3. to swing at sb to try to hit sb with one's fist or a weapon. -4. [mood, opinion) to change to the opposite of what it was before □ Mary's moods tended to swing from optimism to deep despair. □ The Party is in danger of swinging even further to the right.

◇ n -1. GAMES a seat that hangs by ropes or chains from a frame, tree branch etc, on which children can play by swinging backward and forward □ a garden/playground swing. -2. [in somebody's opinion, mood] a big change in somebody's opinions or in the way that people vote □ a (10%) swing to the right □ a mood swing. -3. [of somebody's hips, arms, a pendulum] the movement of something that swings. -4. to take a swing at sb to try to hit sb with one's fist or a weapon (informal use). -5. to be in full swing [campaign, party] to be at a very active stage □ By the time we arrived, the party was already in full swing. ■ to get into the swing of sthg to get used to sthg and feel fully involved in it □ I'll need a few days to get into the swing of things.

swing bridge n a bridge that is fixed to the middle of a river, not the edges, so that it can be turned to let ships pass.

swing door n a door that opens in both directions and closes by itself.

swingeing ['swɪŋdʒɪŋ] adj GB swingeing cuts/cutbacks cuts/cutbacks that have a very severe effect.

swinging ['swɪŋɪŋ] adj -1. [party, place] that is lively and enjoyable. -2. [lifestyle, time] that is lively, fashionable, and not strict in any way □ the swinging sixties.

swinging voter n AUS a person who has not yet decided who to vote for in a particular election.

swing set n US a metal frame with swings attached to it for children to play on.

swipe [swaɪp] ◇ n to take a swipe at sb/sthg to hit or try to hit sb/sthg with an uncontrolled swinging movement of one's arm. ◇ vt to steal <sthg>, usually by taking it quickly (informal use) □ Someone's swiped my pen! ◇ vi to swipe at sthg to take a swipe at sthg □ He swiped at the wasp with his newspaper.

swirl [swɜ:ɹl] ◇ vt [drink, water] to make  move around a lot in a fast uncontrolled way. ◇ vi [snow, water, dust] to keep moving around in a fast uncontrolled way □ The crowd swirled around her. ◇ n the movement or shape of something that swirls.

Swiss [swɪs] (pl Swiss) n & adj: see Switzerland.

swiss roll n GB a thin piece of sponge cake covered with jelly, cream etc and rolled up into a cylinder shape.

swiss steak n US a thick piece of steak that is beaten flat, covered in flour, and cooked in a sauce.

switch [swɪtʃ] ◇ n -1. [on a radio, stereo, heater] a small device for turning an electric current on and off □ a light switch □ Turn the switch on/off. -2. [in direction, plans] a sudden or unexpected change □ a policy switch. -3. US RAIL a device for moving a train from one track to another track.

◇ vt -1. to switch jobs/courses etc to change from one job/course etc to another, usually suddenly □ Would you mind switching places with me? ■ to switch one's attention to sthg to stop paying attention to one thing and start paying attention to sthg else. -2. to switch labels/suitcases etc to secretly replace one label/suitcase etc with another.

◇ vi to change from one thing to another thing of the same type, usually suddenly □ I'm thinking of switching from cigarettes to a pipe. □ Can we switch to the other channel?

◆ switch off ◇ vt sep to switch sthg off [radio, light, machine] to make sthg stop working by pressing or turning a switch □ Switch off the TV before you go to bed. ◇ vi to stop paying attention to somebody or something (informal use) □ When I try to talk to him, he just switches off.

◆ switch on vt sep to switch sthg on [radio, light, machine] to make sthg start working by pressing or turning a switch □ How do you switch the heating on?

switchblade ['swɪtʃbleɪd] n US a knife with a blade inside the handle that comes out suddenly when one presses a button.

switchboard ['swɪtʃbɔ:ɹd] n a piece of equipment in an office building, hospital, hotel etc that receives and transfers telephone calls; the people who work this equipment □ She works on the switchboard. □ I got through to the switchboard.

switchboard operator n a person who works on a switchboard.

Switzerland ['swɪtsərlənd] a mountainous country in central Europe, between France, Germany, Austria, and Italy. It is a neutral country. SIZE: 41,293 sq kms. POPULATION: 7,000,000 (Swiss). CAPITAL: Bern. LANGUAGE: French, German, Italian, Romansch. CURRENCY: Swiss franc.

swivel ['swɪvl] (US pt & pp swiveled, cont swiveling, GB pt & pp swivelled, cont swivelling) ◇ vt [chair, head] to turn <sthg> around a central point so that it faces in a different direction □ Merton swiveled his chair around to face them. ◇ vi [chair, head] She swiveled around.

swivel chair n a chair that can swivel.

swollen ['swʊlən] ◇ past participle of swell. ◇ adj -1. [ankle, face] that is bigger than usual, especially because of injury or illness □ My glands feel swollen. -2. [river, stream] that is very full because it contains more water than usual, e.g. after heavy rain.

swoon [swu:n] vi -1. to faint (literary use). -2. to be strongly affected by happiness, excitement etc (humorous use) □ Before, they all used to swoon over Elvis Presley.

swoop [swu:p] ◇ vi -1. [plane, bird] to fly down suddenly in a smooth steep curve □ The gulls swooped down to pick up the bread. -2. [police, troops] to carry out a sudden unexpected attack □ Customs officials swooped on the tiny boat. ◇ n -1. [of a bird, plane] the movement of something that swoops. ■ in one fell swoop suddenly and all at the same time □ I lost all my savings in one fell swoop. -2. [by police, troops] a sudden unexpected attack.

swop [swɒp] n, vt, & vi = swap.

sword [sɔ:ɹd] n a weapon that consists of a long narrow blade with a handle at one end. ■ to cross swords with sb to disagree and argue with sb □ They'd already crossed swords over the budget deficit.

swordfish ['sɔ:ɹdfɪʃ] (pl swordfish OR swordfishes) n a large saltwater fish with a very long pointed upper jaw that is like a sword.

swordsman ['sɔ:ɹdzmən] (pl swordsmen [-mən]) n a man who is skilled at using a sword to fight.

swore [swɔ:ɹ] past tense of swear.

sworn [swɔ:ɹn] ◇ past participle of swear. ◇ adj -1. to be sworn enemies to hate each other in a way that is unlikely to change. -2. LAW a sworn statement a statement that is made formally under oath.

swot [swɒt] (pt & pp swotted, cont swotting) GB ◇ vi to spend a lot of time studying (informal use) □ I'm swotting for my exams. ◇ n a person who swots (informal and disapproving use).

◆ swot up ◇ vt sep to swot sthg up [French, math, current affairs] to study sthg very hard, especially for an exam (informal use). ◇ vi: He's swotting up on his geography.

swum [swʌm] past participle of swim.

swung [swʌŋ] past tense & past participle of swing.

sycamore ['sɪkəmə:ɹ] n a sycamore (tree) a tree with leaves that have five points and seeds in the shape of two wings.

sycophant ['sɪkəfənt] n a person who is full of false praise for people in positions of power, in order to gain an advantage (formal use).

Sydney ['sɪdnɪ] Australia's largest city, and a major port in New South Wales. POPULATION: 3,596,000.

syllable ['sɪləbl] n a word or a part of a word that consists of a vowel sound with a consonant sound before or after it □ words of one syllable.

syllabub ['sɪləbʌb] n a dish made from sweetened cream mixed with wine.

syllabus ['sɪləbʌs] (pl syllabuses OR syllabi [-baɪ]) n a list of the subjects or writers and books that are studied in a particular course of study □ Kafka is not on the syllabus this year.

symbol ['sɪmbəl] n -1. [of peace, a company, party] an image, shape, person, or object that is used to suggest or represent something else such as an idea or movement □ White is a symbol of purity. □ The symbol of the party was a white cross on a red background. □ The town has become a symbol of the new Spain. -2. [in chemistry, math etc] a mark, sign, letter etc that is officially used to represent something □ Pb is the symbol for lead. □ the dollar symbol.

symbolic [sɪm'bɒlɪk] adj -1. that suggests or represents something □ The colors of the flag are symbolic of the country's different cultural traditions. -2. [gesture, ritual] that has little practical effect but is important from an emotional, psychological etc point of view □ The prize money was symbolic, really. It didn't amount to very much. -3. [painting, film] that uses symbols to represent ideas, feelings etc.

symbolism ['sɪmbəlɪzəm] n the use of symbols, especially in art, literature, and movies, to represent ideas, feelings etc.

symbolize, -ise ['sɪmbəlaɪz] vt [union, attitude, happiness] to be a symbol of <sthg> □ I don't know what it's supposed to symbolize.

symmetrical [sə'metrɪkəl] adj [shape, design, face] that has two halves that are exactly the same in size and shape.

symmetry ['sɪmətrɪ] n the state of being symmetrical.

sympathetic [ˌsɪmpə'tetɪk] adj -1. [person, attitude] that shows sympathy for somebody in a difficult situation □ a sympathetic smile. □ Chris was very sympathetic about the whole situation. -2. [response, leader] that shows approval and a willingness to support something □ The public is generally sympathetic to the strikers' demands. -3. [person] who is pleasant and easy to like □ He's a sympathetic kind of person.

sympathize, -ise ['sɪmpəθaɪz] vi -1. to feel sorry for somebody when something bad has happened to them □ We all sympathize with you at this sad time. □ I do sympathize, Peggy, I really do. -2. to feel or show understanding of somebody's situation, beliefs etc □ It's sometimes hard to sympathize when he complains so much all the time. □ We fully sympathize with your predicament. -3. to approve of and be willing to support something □ Most of us sympathize with their objectives, if not with their methods.

sympathizer, -iser ['sɪmpəθaɪzə] n a person who supports an organization, political party etc without belonging to it □ a Communist/Fascist sympathizer.

sympathy ['sɪmpəθɪ] n -1. [for somebody] understanding and pity for somebody in a difficult situation □ a message of sympathy □ The homeless enjoy widespread public sympathy. □ I have a lot of sympathy for him. -2. [with an attitude] agreement with something □ I feel a certain sympathy with their aims. □ I'm broadly in sympathy with what she says/her beliefs. -3. [with a person, organization] support for a person or group of people □ The pilots have come out in sympathy with the ground crew. □ Students staged a demonstration in sympathy.

◆ sympathies npl -1. feelings of approval and support □ My sympathies lie with the Left. -2. an expression of sympathy at a time of sadness, usually after somebody's death □ Please accept my sincerest sympathies.

symphonic [sɪm'fɒnɪk] adj [music, orchestra] see symphony.

symphony ['sɪmfəni] (pl symphonies) n a long piece of classical music, usually in four parts, that is written for a large orchestra.

symphony orchestra n a large orchestra that plays symphonies and other classical music.

symposium [sɪm'pouʒjəm] (pl symposiums OR symposia [-zjə]) n a formal meeting at which experts discuss a particular subject of interest.

symptom ['sɪmptəm] n -1. MEDICINE [of typhoid, stress] a change in one's body that is a sign of an illness or disease □ I had all the symptoms of the flu. -2. [of a decline, recession] a sign that a particular problem exists □ It's a symptom of an underlying conflict.

symptomatic [sɪmptə'mætɪk] adj to be symptomatic of sthg to be a sign of sthg bad □ It's symptomatic of a much deeper problem.

synagogue ['sɪnəgɒg] n a building where Jewish people meet for religious worship.

sync [sɪŋk] n out of/in sync not properly/properly synchronized (informal use) □ The sound was out of sync with the pictures.

synchromesh gearbox [sɪŋkroʊmeʃ-] n a gearbox with a device that allows the gears to be changed smoothly.

synchronize, -ise ['sɪŋkrənaɪz] vt -1. to make <two or more things> happen, work etc at the same time or speed □ The soundtrack and action have not been synchronized yet. -2. to set <watches> so that they show exactly the same time.

synchronized swimming [sɪŋkrənaɪzd-] n a sport in which teams of two or more swimmers carry out movements in the water at the same time in order to form patterns.

syncopated ['sɪŋkəpeɪtəd] adj [music, rhythm] in which beats that are usually weak are made stronger.

syncopation [sɪŋkə'peɪʃn] n the process of making beats syncopated.

syndicate [n 'sɪndəkət, vb 'sɪndəkət] ◇ n a group of people or companies that join together for a particular purpose □ a crime syndicate □ a syndicate of local businessmen. ◇ vt JOURNALISM [article, photograph] to sell <sthg> to several different newspapers, magazines etc for publication □ His column was syndicated all over Europe.

syndrome ['sɪndroum] n -1. MEDICINE a particular set of symptoms that is typical of a physical or mental disorder □ Tourette's Syndrome. -2. a particular pattern of events, activity, behavior etc that is typical of a condition or state □ She's suffering from the classic "I'm 40 and where has my life gone" syndrome!

synergy ['sɪnə'dʒɪ] (pl synergies) n the effect that is produced when two people or things are combined so that each works better □ One benefit of the merger will be greater synergy.

synod ['sɪnəd] n an official meeting of members of a church that takes place regularly to discuss and decide church matters.

synonym ['sɪnənɪm] n a word or phrase that has the same meaning as another word or phrase in the same language □ "Out of work" is a synonym of or for "unemployed."

synonymous [sə'nɒnəməs] adj -1. [word, phrase] that has the same meaning as another word or phrase □ The two words are synonymous. □ "Small" is sometimes synonymous with "little." -2. to be synonymous with sthg to be very closely connected with sthg □ Our name has come to be synonymous with quality.

synopsis [sə'nɒpsəs] (pl synopses [-sɪ:z]) n [of a movie, play] a summary of a story □ He gave us a brief synopsis of the plot.

syntax ['sɪntæks] n the rules of grammar used in the ordering of words to form phrases or sentences.

synthesis [sɪnθəsəs] (pl syntheses [-sɪ:z]) n a combination of different parts or elements □ Her ideas are a synthesis of Freudian and Jungian theories.

synthesize, -ise [sɪnθəsəɪz] vt -1. BIOLOGY & CHEMISTRY [vitamins, proteins, hormones] to produce  by using chemical or biological reactions, either artificially or naturally. -2. [ideas, theories, experiences] to put <different things> together to produce something new.

synthesizer [sɪnθəsəɪzə] n an electronic instrument that can produce many different sounds and is usually played with a keyboard.

synthetic [sɪn'tetɪk] adj [fiber, rubber, pearl] that has been made using chemicals and is not natural.

syphilis ['sɪfələs] n a very serious disease that is spread from a parent to a child or by having sex with somebody.

siphon ['saɪfn] n & vt = siphon.

Syria ['sɪrɪə] a country in the Middle East, on the Mediterranean Sea south of Turkey. SIZE: 185,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 13,500,000 (Syrians). CAPITAL: Damascus. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Syrian pound.

Syrian ['sɪrɪən] n & adj: see Syria.

syringe [sə'rɪndʒɪ] (cont syringeing OR syringing) ◇ n a medical instrument that consists of a hollow tube with a needle attached to it that liquid can be forced through. It is used to inject drugs and take blood samples □ a needle and syringe. ◇ vt [ear, wound] to clean <sthg> using a syringe.

syrup ['sɪrəp] n -1. a sweet liquid, usually made from sugar and water, that is used in cans of fruit. -2. a thick, sweet, pale-yellow liquid made from sugar □ maple syrup.

system ['sɪstəm] n -1. [for doing something] a method of organizing or doing something that follows a fixed plan or process □ We're introducing a new system of invoicing in October. □ a filing system □ a system for producing synthetic DNA. -2. [for counting, measuring] a set of rules, especially in mathematics or science, for counting or measuring things □ the decimal system. -3. [for traveling, communicating] a part of an organization or society that is organized in a particular way □ the American banking/legal system □ a communications system. -4. TECHNOLOGY & ELECTRICITY different pieces of equipment that work together as a whole □ a ventilation/stereo/security system □ The alarm system went off. □ We are installing a new computer system. -5. the system the way a country is run and the institutions in it that control and seem to limit people's lives □ It's no use fighting against the system. -6. [in somebody's body] a group of organs in the body that work together to perform a particular function □ the digestive system. -7. an organized and careful way of doing things □ There's no system to his work. -8. to get sthg out of one's system to do something so that one stops thinking about or feeling sthg and can give one's attention to other things (informal use) □ Talking about it is a good way of getting it out of your system.

NOTE: Compare antonym.

systematic [ˌsɪstəˈmætɪk] adj [search, approach] that is carefully organized and follows a clear system □ Harris ordered the systematic destruction of all files relating to the case. □ Jean is extremely systematic in her approach to work.

systematize, -ise ['sɪstəmətaɪz] vt GB [work, approach, search] to organize <sthg> so that it follows a logical system.

system disk n a computer disk that holds the system software.

systems analyst n a person who studies business and industrial operations and uses a computer to find ways of making them more efficient.

systems engineer n a computer expert who helps an organization when they are starting to use a new computer system.

system software n a collection of programs that make it possible to use a computer system and that control its performance.

T

t [ti:] (pl t's OR ts), T [ti:] (pl T's OR Ts) n the twentieth letter of the English alphabet.

TA n abbr of Territorial Army.

tab [tæb] n -1. a small piece of cloth or paper that is attached to something to identify it □ a name tab. -2. [on a can] a small strip of metal that one pulls to open a can. □ 'Pull tab to open.' -3. US [in a restaurant] the bill for something, e.g. for a meal in a restaurant. ■ to pick up the tab to pay the bill for something □ I was left to pick up the tab! -4. COMPUTING = tab key. -5. phrase to keep tabs on sb to watch the movements and actions of sb closely, especially because one does not trust them □ The police have been keeping tabs on Thurloe's movements.

Tabasco sauceTM [təˌbæskou-] n a very hot red sauce made from chili peppers, used to add flavor to food and drink.

tabby ['tæbi] (pl tabbies) n a tabby (cat) a cat with gray or brown fur and dark stripes.

tabernacle ['tæbəˈnækl] n a container used in a Catholic church to keep the bread and wine for communion in.

tab key n a key on a computer keyboard for moving the cursor to any of a series of fixed positions to make tables, lists etc.

table ['teɪbl] ◇ n -1. a piece of furniture consisting of a flat horizontal surface supported by one or more legs and used to put things on or to sit at, especially for meals □ a kitchen/bedside table. -2. [of figures] sets of facts, figures, or information arranged in a series of columns □ a multiplication table □ Turn to the table on page three. -3. phrase to turn the tables on sb to take control of a situation from sb else so that they are placed in the weaker position as a result □ Mr Gomez turned the tables on his former employers by going public.

◇ vt -1. US [proposal, report] to leave <sthg> for discussion or consideration at a later date □ The matter has been tabled until we receive further evidence. -2. GB [motion, amendment, question] to present <sthg> formally for debate, discussion, or an answer □ The motion that has been tabled for discussion today is...

tableau ['tæblou] (pl tableaux [-z] OR tableaux [-z]) n a representation, usually on stage, of a famous or historical event by people in costume who do not move or speak.

tablecloth ['teɪblklɒθ] n a piece of cloth used to cover a table, especially during meals.

table d'hôte [ˌtɑːbl'dɔʊt] n the table d'hôte a complete meal served in a restaurant that consists of a limited choice of dishes at a fixed price.

NOTE: Compare à la carte.

table football n GB a game played by two or four people on a table with rods across it that are moved by handles. The players try to score goals by hitting a ball with figures of soccer players attached to the rods.

table lamp n an electric lamp for placing on a table to light an area of a room.

table licence n GB a license for a restaurant, hotel etc to sell alcoholic drinks with meals.

table linen n a collective term for tablecloths and napkins.

table manners npl the way somebody behaves when they are eating a meal, especially when they are with other people □ That child has very good/bad table manners.

table mat n a small mat placed under hot dishes or plates to protect a table.

table of contents n a list at the beginning of a book that shows the different sections it contains.

table salt n salt that is finer than cooking salt, used for adding to food during a meal.

tablespoon ['teɪblspuːn] n a large spoon used e.g. for eating soup or serving food; the amount such a spoon can hold.

tablet ['tæblət] n -1. [of stone] a flat piece of

- stone that has had words cut into it □ a stone tablet. -2. [of soap] a small bar of soap. -3. MEDICINE a small, round, solid piece of medicine that is taken by mouth □ Take two tablets twice a day.
- table tennis n a game like tennis played on a special table by two or four people who use bats to hit a light plastic ball over a net that runs across the middle of the table.
- tableware ['teɪblwɛər] n a collective term for the objects used to eat a meal at a table, e.g. plates, glasses, and knives.
- table wine n wine that is intended for drinking with a meal.
- tabloid ['tæbloɪd] n a tabloid (newspaper) a popular newspaper printed on small pages that contains little serious news. ■ the tabloid press a collective term for tabloid newspapers.
- NOTE: Compare broadsheet.
- taboo [tə'bu:] (pl taboos) ◇ n a social custom or religious rule that forbids certain actions, language, behavior etc because they are considered to be offensive or embarrassing. ◇ adj [subject, word] that is forbidden by a taboo.
- tabulate ['tæbjələɪt] vt [facts, figures, information] to arrange <sthg> in a series of columns or lists.
- tachograph [US 'tækəgræf, GB -grɑ:f] n a device for recording the speed of a bus, truck etc and the distance it has traveled.
- tachometer [tæ'kɒmɪtər] n a device used to measure the speed of a vehicle by finding out the rate at which the engine is turning.
- tacit ['tæsət] adj [agreement, admission, support] that is accepted or understood, but is not expressed in words (formal use) □ His silence was taken as tacit approval of the proposal.
- taciturn ['tæsətɜ:n] adj [person] who seems unfriendly and shows no desire to speak (formal use).
- tack [tæk] ◇ n -1. a short metal nail with a large flat head □ a carpet tack. -2. SAILING a direction followed by a boat or ship with the wind blowing toward one side of it. -3. a way of dealing with a problem, situation etc □ Let's try a different tack. □ The committee has changed tack several times on this issue already. ◇ vt -1. [note, poster] to attach <sthg> with a tack or tacks to a wall, door etc □ The notice was tacked to the door. -2. [hem, sleeves] to fasten or join <sthg> with long loose stitches before sewing it properly. ◇ vi SAILING to change from one tack to another □ The boat tacked to starboard.
- ◆ tack on vt sep to tack sthg on [clause, chapter, paragraph] to add sthg to something that is complete, often in a careless or unsatisfactory way □ A final paragraph had been tacked on at the end of the report.
- tackle ['tækəl] ◇ vt -1. [job, problem, fire] to deal with <sthg difficult> in a direct way □ I suppose we ought to tackle the cleaning at some point today. -2. SPORT [in soccer, hockey] to take or try to take the ball away from <an opponent>; [in football, rugby] to take hold of and bring <an opponent> to the ground when they are carrying the ball. -3. [burglar, lion] to try to stop , especially by attacking them □ The police don't recommend tackling intruders. -4. [boss, neighbor] to speak to <sb> to ask them frankly about something difficult or embarrassing □ I still haven't tackled him about giving me a day off. □ I tackled her about OR on the issue of repayments. ◇ n -1. SPORT an act of tackling an opponent □ a rugby tackle. -2. [for an activity] the equipment used for a particular sport or activity, especially fishing □ fishing tackle. -3. [for lifting] a set of ropes and wheels used for lifting heavy weights □ a block and tackle.
- tacky ['tæki] (compar tackier, superl tackiest) adj -1. [jewelry, decoration, clothing] that is cheap and of bad quality, and shows bad taste (informal use) □ some extremely tacky furniture. -2. [movie, remark] that shows bad taste (informal use). -3. [paint, glue, varnish] that is slightly sticky because it is not completely dry.
- taco [US 'tɑ:kou, GB 'tæk-] (pl tacos) n a type of Mexican crepe filled with meat, cheese, beans etc.
- tact [tækt] n the ability to say or do the right thing and to avoid upsetting or offending people □ She handled the situation with great tact.
- tactful ['tæktfl] adj [person, remark, silence] that shows tact □ I thought it would be more tactful to leave at that point.
- tactfully ['tæktflɪ] adv [explain, suggest, behave] see tactful □ He tactfully left the room while we were talking.
- tactic ['tæktɪk] n a clever plan or method used to get a particular result that one wants □ His tactic is always to wait until the very last moment. □ delaying/shock tactics.
- ◆ tactics n MILITARY the act of planning where to place troops and equipment before and during a battle.
- tactical ['tæktɪkl] adj -1. [move, withdrawal, advance] that is intended to gain a future advantage or result rather than an immediate one □ It's a clever tactical move on the part of the government. -2. MILITARY [skill, ability, mistake] that is connected with tactics. -3. MILITARY [weapon, device] that is designed to be used at short range.
- tactical voting n GB the act of voting for a candidate or party that one does not really support, because they are more likely to defeat the candidate or party that one wants to lose.
- tactless ['tæktləs] adj [person, behavior, remark] that does not show tact □ She can be extremely tactless at times.
- tadpole ['tædpəʊl] n a very small black creature with a tail that lives in water and is the young form of a frog or toad.
- TAFE (abbr of Technical and Further Education) n a college of higher education in Australia.

taffeta [ˈtæfətə] n a smooth, shiny, stiff cloth made from silk or nylon □ a taffeta skirt.

taffy [ˈtæfi] (pl taffies) n US a chewy candy that is made by boiling sugar and then stretching it.

Taft [US ˈtæft, GB ˈtɑ:ft], William Howard (1857–1930) US President from 1909 to 1913.

tag [tæg] (pt & pp tagged, cont tagging) ◇ n -1. a small piece of cardboard, plastic, cloth etc attached to something to show information about it □ a name/luggage tag. -2. GAMES a children's game in which one child chases and tries to touch the others □ to play tag. -3. COMPUTING a character used to identify a file or item of data. ◇ vt [luggage, clothing] to put a tag on <sthg>.

◆ tags npl US a set of numbers and letters on the front and back of a vehicle □ He saw a white Buick with NC tags.

◆ tag along vi to go somewhere with somebody else, often when one is not invited or wanted (informal use) □ Do you mind if I tag along?

Tagalog [təˈgɑ:læg] n a member of a people living in the Philippines; the language of this people.

tagliatelle [US ˌtɑ:ljəˈteli, GB ˌtæl-] n pasta that is served in narrow strips.

Tahiti [təˈhi:ti] an island in French Polynesia, in the Pacific Ocean. SIZE: 1,042 sq kms. POPULATION: 131,309 (Tahitians). CAPITAL: Papeete.

tail [teɪl] ◇ n -1. [of a horse, bird, fish] the part of an animal at the end furthest from its head that it can move □ The dog wagged its tail. ■ with one's tail between one's legs ashamed and embarrassed because one has failed. -2. [of a shirt, coat] the back part of a coat or a shirt that is longer than the front. -3. [of a car, plane] the back part of a vehicle □ the tail section. -4. [of a comet] the cloud of small particles behind a comet that looks like a tail. ◇ vt [criminal, suspect, fugitive] to secretly follow and watch <sb> □ Somebody's been tailing us all the way home.

◆ tails ◇ adv a word that refers to the side of the coin that does not have a head or face on it. It is used when tossing a coin in order to decide something. □ Heads or tails? ◇ npl = tailcoat.

◆ tail off vi -1. [voice, noise] to become quieter and stop □ "Then we..." his voice tailed off as he realized no one was listening. -2. [figures, sales] to become less in amount □ Sales tend to tail off toward the end of the season.

tailback [ˈteɪlbæk] n GB a long line of traffic that is moving very slowly.

tai chi [ˌtaɪˈtʃi:] n a system of exercise and meditation, originally from China, in which one repeats a series of slow movements to improve one's balance and control.

tailcoat [ˈteɪlkəʊt] n a formal jacket with two long flaps at the back that come to the back of the knees and a front part that stops at the waist.

tail end n the tail end of sthg [of a movie, affair, the summer] the part of something that is very near the end □ I only caught the tail end of the conversation.

tailgate [ˈteɪlɡeɪt] US ◇ n a door or flap at the back of a car or truck that opens downward. ◇ vt to follow <the car in front> too closely.

tail-light n a red light at the back of a vehicle that allows it to be seen in the dark by vehicles behind it.

tailor [ˈteɪlə] ◇ n a person who makes clothing, especially men's suits, for particular customers. ◇ vt [equipment, system, policy] to make or adjust <sthg> for a particular purpose □ The course has been carefully tailored to your needs.

tailored [ˈteɪləd] adj [suit, dress, shirt] that is designed to fit a person's body closely.

tailor-made adj [role, job, part] that is very suitable for a particular person or purpose □ The program is tailor-made for part-time students.

tail pipe n US the pipe that carries waste gases out of an engine.

tailplane [ˈteɪpleɪn] n a small horizontal wing on the tail of an airplane that makes it steady.

tailwind [ˈteɪlwɪnd] n a wind blowing from behind an airplane, boat, or other vehicle that helps it to move forward more quickly.

taint [teɪnt] n [of scandal, corruption] a bad quality that spoils the status or reputation of somebody or something □ The accusations have left a taint on his reputation.

tainted [ˈteɪntəd] adj -1. [friendship, reputation, person] that has been spoiled because it is associated with something unpleasant. -2. US [food, drink] that has gone bad □ tainted milk.

Taiwan [ˌtaɪˈwɑ:n] a country in Southeast Asia consisting of an island off the southeastern coast of China. It was declared an independent state in 1949 by the Chinese who fled from Communist mainland China. SIZE: 36,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 20,900,000 (Taiwanese). CAPITAL: Taipei. LANGUAGE: Chinese. CURRENCY: Taiwanese dollar.

Taiwanese [ˌtaɪwəˈni:z] n & adj: see Taiwan.

Taj Mahal [ˌtɑ:dʒməˈhɑ:l]: the Taj Mahal a building made of white marble near Agra, in India. It was built by Shah Jahan in the 17th century for his dead wife.

take [teɪk] (pt took, pp taken) ◇ vt -1. [to another place] to carry or move <sthg> from one place to another □ If you're going there in the summer, take plenty of insect repellent with you. □ We should take them a bottle of wine to say thanks. □ I had to take the car to the garage. □ He took the book from the shelf. □ She took her suitcase down from the top of the wardrobe. -2. [with somebody] to go with <sb> to a particular place in a car, plane etc □ If your cold doesn't get better, I'll take you to the doctor. □ When he was ten, he was taken to visit his relatives in Baltimore. -3. [with one's hands] to put out one's hands and hold <sb/sthg> □ Here, take this box. □ She took me by the arm. □ Let me take your bag, it looks heavy. -4. used to make verbs. ■ to take a walk/bath to go for a walk/have a bath. ■ to take a look/decision to look/decide □ I took a stroll through the park. ■ to take a break/vacation to have a break/vacation □ OK everyone, let's take a rest. ■ to take a copy/photo of sthg to copy/photo-graph sthg □ I took this photo last time I was there. ■ to take notes/sb's name to write notes/sb's name □ Can I take your phone number? ■ to take a seat to sit down □ Come in and take a seat. -5. [without permission] to steal <sthg>, to remove <sthg> without permission □ The thieves took all the office equipment. -6. [in a store] to buy <sthg> □ I'll take three bottles, please. □ It's perfect — I'll take it. -7. to take sb's advice to do what sb is advising one to do □ Take my word for it, he's a liar. ■ to take the blame/responsibility for sthg to be willing to accept the blame/responsibility for sthg □ I don't see why John should take all the credit. -8. to take a job to agree to do a job that is offered to one □ They offered me a year's contract, so I took it. -9. to take coins/credit cards etc to accept coins/credit cards etc as a means of payment □ The ticket machines don't take twenty-dollar bills. -10. to take a bus/plane etc to go somewhere by bus/plane etc □ Let's take a taxi from the airport. -11. to take a road/direction etc to follow a particular road/direction etc to get to a place □ We should have taken the last exit. □ Go straight on, and take the first turn on the left. □ We're going to take the scenic route. -12. to take sb's temperature/pulse etc to measure sb's temperature/pulse etc, often using an instrument □ Roll up your sleeve and I'll take your blood pressure. -13. to take a particular number/amount [container, room, vehicle] to be able to hold a particular number/amount of sthg □ The new terminal can take up to 10,000 passengers a day. □ My car will only take five people. ■ to take a particular size to wear a particular size of dress, pants, shoes etc □ I normally take a (size) seven in shoes. -14. to take time/courage etc to need time/courage etc to happen successfully □ Learning a language takes patience and hard work. □ All it takes is a little common sense. ■ to take a particular amount of time to need a particular amount of time □ It could take us months to find a replacement for her. □ Preparing the transparencies shouldn't take long. -15. to take medicine to swallow medicine □ Take two tablets daily. ■ to take drugs to swallow or inject illegal drugs such as heroin or cocaine. ■ how do you take your coffee? how do you drink your coffee normally, with milk, sugar etc? □ Do you take sugar? -16. to take control/command to get control/command of a situation. -17. to take sthg seriously [issue, work, situation] to consider sthg to be serious or important □ No one ever takes my suggestions seriously. □ I take the view that people should help themselves. ■ to take sthg well/badly [news, joke, defeat] to react well/badly to sthg □ "How did he take the news?" — "Badly." -18. to take pleasure/an interest in sthg to enjoy/be interested in sthg □ Mrs Andrews had always taken a keen interest in my career. -19. I can't take it I find it very unpleasant and it makes me upset □ I can't take much more of this uncertainty. □ She couldn't take it any longer, so she left. -20. [as an example] to give <sb/sthg> as an example of what one is saying □ Take Sally, for instance. □ Let's take one thing at a time.

-21. I take it (that)... I believe it to be true that... □ I take it that you two already know each other. -22. to take a house/an apartment etc to rent a house/an apartment etc □ We've taken the villa for another twelve months. -23. MILITARY [city, airport, prisoner] to capture <sb/sthg> □ The capital has been taken by rebel forces. -24. to take a prize to win a prize □ The team took first prize in the contest.

◇ vi [dye, vaccine, skin graft] to produce the effect that is intended □ The dye wouldn't take.

◇ n CINEMA a piece of film recorded without a break □ Scene one, take two.

◆ take after vt fus to take after sb [parent, grandparent] to be like sb in appearance, personality etc □ You take after your mother.

◆ take apart vt sep to take sthg apart [machine, watch, mechanism] to separate sthg into pieces □ He took the boiler apart and then said he couldn't fix it.

◆ take away vt sep -1. to take sb/sthg away to remove sb/sthg □ He was taken away in handcuffs. □ The waiter came to take away our plates. -2. to take a number away from a number MATH to subtract a number from a number □ If you take 21 from 40 you get 19.

◆ take back vt sep -1. to take sthg back [library book, goods] to return sthg to the place it came from □ You can always take the sweater back if the color isn't right. -2. to take sthg back [goods] to accept sthg that has been returned by a customer □ I'm sorry but we can't take it back without a receipt. -3. to take sthg back [statement, accusation, criticism] to say that one has changed one's mind about sthg one said before □ I take back everything I said about Joe, he's really a nice guy.

◆ take down vt sep -1. to take sthg down [scaffolding, tent, flag] to take sthg from a high position so that it is no longer fixed or upright □ Could somebody help me take down this blind? -2. to take down one's pants/shorts etc to pull down one's pants/shorts etc without taking them off □ Take down your trousers and I'll give you the shot. -3. to take sthg down [words, message] to write down sthg that one hears or is told □ I forgot to take down his phone number.

◆ take in vt sep -1. to be taken in by sb to be deceived by sb □ I wasn't taken in by her story. -2. to take sthg in [fact, news, information] to understand sthg that one hears or is told □ There's a lot to take in at first. -3. to take sthg in to include sthg □ The tour takes in Luxor and Aswan. -4. to take sb in [animal, refugee] to let sb who has nowhere to live stay in one's home □ He's always taking in stray cats.

◆ take off ◇ vt sep -1. to take sthg off [shoe, make-up, clothes] to remove sthg from one's body or face □ You look quite different when you take off your glasses. -2. to take a period of time off to have a period of time away from

- work □ I'm taking Wednesday off. ■ to take time off to have a vacation or break □ I'm taking time off next month to go visit my parents.
- 3. to take sb off GB to imitate sb (informal use).
- ◇ vi -1. [plane, helicopter] to leave the ground at the start of a flight □ We took off on time.
- 2. [person] to go away suddenly □ They're always taking off on vacation.
- 3. [career, product, business] to suddenly become successful □ Cellular phones have really taken off.
- ◆ take on ◇ vt sep -1. to take sthg on [work, job, responsibility] to agree to do sthg □ I've had to take on extra duties.
- 2. to take sb on [staff, employee] to employ sb □ The factory will be taking on 200 extra workers to complete the new contract.
- 3. to take sb on to start a fight or argument with sb powerful; [team, champion] to play a game against sb who will be difficult to beat □ He was even prepared to take on the big drug companies. □ Sydney takes on Melbourne in the final.
- ◇ vt fus to take on sthg [meaning, expression, tone] to begin to have sthg □ The words "hard work" have taken on a whole new meaning since I started my new job. □ The trees were taking on their autumn colors.
- ◆ take out vt sep -1. to take sthg out to remove sthg from a place where it cannot be seen □ He took a book out of his briefcase and handed it to me.
- 2. to take money out to take money from one's bank account □ I'll have to take $400 out to pay the rent.
- 3. to take out insurance to pay for something to be insured □ The earlier you take out a personal pension the better.
- 4. to take sb out to invite sb to a social meeting that is planned in advance □ I'd like to take you out for a meal some evening.
- 5. to take sthg out [part of somebody's body] to remove sthg using surgery □ They're going to have to take his appendix out.
- ◆ take out on vt sep to take sthg out on sb [anger, frustration, disappointment] to express sthg that one feels by treating sb badly, although they have done nothing wrong □ I know you're disappointed, but there's no need to take it out on me!
- ◆ take over ◇ vt sep -1. to take sthg over [company, business, government] to get control of sthg □ There are rumors that the Hanson group is about to be taken over.
- 2. to take sthg over [job, role] to start doing sthg that another person used to do □ I'll be taking over Guy's duties when he leaves.
- ◇ vi -1. to take control of something or somebody □ The army took over in a coup in 1975.
- 2. to start doing sb's job □ Who will take over from Lisa?
- ◆ take to vt fus to take to sb/sthg to start to like sb/sthg □ I didn't take to him much at first. □ She's never really taken to living in the country.
- to take to doing sthg to start doing sthg regularly □ Recently he's taken to jogging every morning before work.
- ◆ take up vt sep -1. to take sthg up [job, post, hobby] to begin doing sthg □ I took up yoga some years ago. □ She has left to take up a new position as training manager.
- 2. to take sthg up [story, account] to continue sthg that has been interrupted □ We take up the story again two months later in Amsterdam.
- 3. to take sthg up [time, effort, space] to use sthg □ Looking after the children takes up all her energy.
- ◆ take up on vt sep -1. to take sb up on sthg [on an offer, invitation] to accept sthg that sb has offered □ I'll take you up on that drink now.
- 2. to take sb up on sthg [on a claim, point, statement] to ask sb to explain sthg further □ He took the teacher up on his last remark.
- ◆ take upon vt sep to take it upon oneself to do sthg to do sthg even though it is not one's duty to do it □ She took it upon herself to tell everyone that I was leaving.
- ◆ take up with ◇ vt fus to take up with sb to become friendly with sb □ He's taken up with some blonde woman.
- ◇ vt sep to take sthg up with sb [idea, suggestion, issue] to discuss sthg further with sb □ I intend to take the matter up with the management.
- takeaway ['teɪkəweɪ] adj GB = takeout.
- take-home pay n the amount of money one gets for working after taxes have been paid.
- taken ['teɪkən] ◇ past participle of take. ◇ adj to be taken with sb/sthg to be pleased with and interested in sb/sthg □ She seemed very taken with the idea.
- takeoff ['teɪkɒf] n the moment when a plane, rocket etc leaves the ground at the beginning of a flight □ The plane was cleared for takeoff.
- takeout ['teɪkaʊt] adj -1. a takeout restaurant a restaurant that sells hot meals to be taken away and eaten somewhere else.
- 2. takeout food food from a takeout restaurant.
- takeover ['teɪkəʊvə] n -1. the act of gaining control of a company by buying a lot of stock in it □ There are rumors of a possible takeover.
- 2. the act of gaining control of a country by force □ a military takeover.
- takeover bid n an attempt by one company to take over another by buying most of its shares.
- taker ['teɪkə] n no takers no people who agree to accept, try, or buy something (informal use) □ There were hardly any takers for the special offer.
- takeup ['teɪkʌp] n the number of people who apply to buy stock in a company or claim benefits they have a right to □ Takeup of family credit remains consistently low.
- takings ['teɪkɪŋz] mpl the amount of money that a store, theater etc gets from its customers in a particular period of time □ This week's takings are down/up on last week's.
- talc [tælk], talcum (powder) ['tælkəm-] n a very fine powder that people use after washing to dry their body and make it smell pleasant.
- tale [teɪl] n -1. an invented story, especially one about magic or adventure □ a folk tale.
- 2. a story of something that has really happened, especially if it is exciting or interesting □ tales of long ago/his boyhood.
- talent ['tælənt] n a special natural ability to do a particular thing □ a boy with talent □ She has a great musical talent. □ He's got a real talent for saying the wrong thing!

talented ['tæləntəd] adj [writer, musician, child] who has a particular talent □ Paul's extremely talented. □ She's a talented singer.

talent scout n a person whose job is to look for talented young people, especially to be part of a sports team or to work in the entertainment industry.

talisman ['tæləzmən] (pl talismans) n an object believed to have magical powers to protect the person who owns it.

talk [tɔ:k] ◇ n -1. [between people] a conversation □ I'd like to have a talk with you. □ We need to have a talk about this. -2. [of something] discussion about something that may not be true □ There's been talk of a possible merger. □ There's a lot of talk about Macintyre leaving. -3. [on something] an informal lecture □ She gave an interesting talk on local tourism.

◇ vi -1. to use spoken words to express one's feelings and thoughts □ I could hear people talking in the next room. □ I want to talk to you about John. □ He talks in a funny voice/ accent. □ Can I talk with you alone? ■ to talk about OR of doing sthg to tell people that one is thinking of doing sthg □ They keep talking about buying a house. □ She's talking of going abroad again. ■ talking of sb/sthg a phrase used when one wants to start speaking about something that is different, but is connected with what one was speaking about before □ Talking of Christmas, what shall we do about presents? ■ to talk big to speak in a way that shows one is too proud of what one is or does. -2. [about somebody] to say bad things about somebody □ She's been talking about me behind my back. □ People might start talking if we're seen together. -3. [to an audience] to make a speech or lecture □ He will be talking on OR about the rise in delinquency. -4. [to the police, authorities] to give information about a crime, especially to the police.

◇ vt -1. [politics, business, sport] to have a conversation about <sthg> □ Okay then, let's talk money. -2. to talk garbage/nonsense etc to say something that is garbage/nonsense etc □ Don't talk nonsense!

◆ talks npl to have talks to discuss something, usually to settle a disagreement □ There have been talks between the union and management. □ peace talks.

◆ talk down to vt fus to talk down to sb [child, student, employee] to talk to sb as if one was more important, intelligent etc than them □ He has a tendency to talk down to women.

◆ talk into vt sep to talk sb into sthg to persuade sb to do sthg □ They talked me into staying.

◆ talk out of vt sep to talk sb out of sthg to persuade sb not to do sthg □ He talked her out of going.

◆ talk over vt sep to talk sthg over [problem, issue, idea] to discuss sthg calmly and in detail □ Why not try talking it over with her?

talkative ['tɔ:kətɪv] adj [person, class, group] that talks a lot □ He's not very talkative, is he?

talking book n a book that has been recorded for blind people to listen to.

talking head n on television, a person who talks directly to the camera, e.g. a newscaster, and is seen only from the waist up.

talking point ['tɔ:kɪŋ-] n an interesting subject for people to talk about □ The main talking point at the conference was fishing rights.

talking-to n to give sb a (good) talking-to to talk angrily to sb in order to show that one disapproves of something they have done (informal use).

talk show n a TV or radio show in which an interviewer talks to one or more guests □ a talk show host.

tall [tɔ:l] adj -1. [person, building, tree] that has a greater height than most people or things of a similar type □ She grew to be the tallest in the family. □ a tall thin man. -2. a word used to say what the height of somebody or something is □ He's six feet tall. □ How tall are you?

tall order n a task that will be difficult or almost impossible to carry out □ That's a very tall order.

tall poppy n AUS a term for a person who is very successful, rich, or famous.

🌻 TALL POPPY

For most Australians, calling somebody a tall poppy means that sooner or later you think they will be "cut down", e.g. because their business fails or because they become involved in a political scandal. This attitude, where the public enjoys seeing successful people become ordinary again, is called the "tall poppy syndrome", and is considered typical of Australians' love of equality.

tall tale US, tall story GB n a story that is difficult to believe because it sounds exaggerated or impossible.

tally ['tæli] (pl tallies, pt & pp tallied) ◇ n a record of how much somebody has spent, received etc □ Could you keep a tally on spending? ◇ vi [figures, numbers] to be exactly the same amount; [story, information] to say the same thing □ The number of votes cast does not tally with how many people actually voted.

Talmud ['tælməd] n the Talmud a collection of writings about ancient Jewish laws and traditions.

talon ['tælən] n a sharp curved nail on the foot of a bird that kills animals for food, e.g. an eagle.

tambourine [tæmbə'ri:n] n a round musical instrument with small metal disks around the edge that is shaken or hit with the hand so that the metal disks make a noise.

tame [teɪm] ◇ adj -1. [animal, bird] that has been trained to live with people and is no longer wild and dangerous □ The deer in the park are really tame. -2. [party, sport, life] that is not exciting enough □ Life at home seemed very tame after being abroad for so long. ◇ vt -1. [horse, eagle] to make <an animal or bird> tame. -2. [man, crowd] to make <sb> more obedient and easier to control.

Tammany Hall [ˌtæməni-] n an informal name for the leaders of the New York City Democratic Party.

TAMMANY HALL

Tammany Hall was the headquarters of the Democratic Party in New York in the 18th and 19th centuries. In the late 19th and early 20th centuries this organization got a bad reputation for corruption, and the terms Tammany Hall and Tammanyism are still used by many Americans to refer to political corruption.

tamper [ˈtæmpə] ♦ tamper with vt fus to tamper with sthg [machine, lock, records] to touch or change sthg in order to spoil or damage it □ Someone's been tampering with the door lock.

tampon [ˈtæmpən] n a firm piece of cotton shaped like a tube that a woman puts into her vagina to absorb the blood during her period.

tan [tæn] (pt & pp tanned, cont tanning) ◇ adj [shoes, leather, suede] light brown in color. ◇ n = suntan. ◇ vi [person, skin] to become suntanned □ She tans easily.

tandem [ˈtændəm] n a bicycle with two seats, designed to be ridden by two people sitting one behind the other. ■ in tandem [work, operate] with both people or things working closely together □ The council has been working in tandem with local industry on this issue.

tandoori [tænˈdʊəri] n a northern Indian method of cooking in which bread, meat etc is put in a large clay pot □ tandoori chicken/lamb □ a tandoori meal/restaurant.

tang [tæŋ] n a strong and pleasantly sharp smell or taste □ the tang of an orange/a lemon □ I could smell the tang of the ocean.

tangent [ˈtændʒənt] n a straight line that touches the edge of a curve or circle at one point. ■ to go off on US OR at GB a tangent to start talking about something that has no connection with what one was talking about before.

tangerine [ˌtændʒəˈri:n] n a sweet fruit like a small orange that has a loose skin and is easy to peel.

tangible [ˈtændʒəbl] adj [benefits, results, difference] that can be clearly noticed; [evidence, proof] that is real and likely to be believed.

tangle [ˈtæŋɡl] ◇ n -1. a mass of wires, hair etc twisted together and difficult to separate □ The grave was hidden under a tangle of weeds. -2. a state of confusion and disorder □ Last year I got into a real tangle with my tax returns. ◇ vi [string, wires] to get tangled. ◇ vt to get tangled (up) [string, wires] to become twisted together and difficult to separate.

♦ tangle with vt fus to tangle with sb to become involved in a dispute or fight with sb (informal use) □ Don't tangle with him, he's dangerous.

tangled [ˈtæŋɡld] adj [hair, knot] that is twisted together and difficult to separate; [life, situation] that is complicated and difficult to resolve □ The wires were hopelessly tangled. □ Her love life is becoming more and more tangled.

tango [ˈtæŋɡoʊ] (pl tangos, pt & pp tangoed, cont tangoing) ◇ n a type of dance from South America for two people that involves sudden dramatic movements of the body; a kind of music written for this dance. ◇ vi to dance a tango.

tangy [ˈtæŋi] (compar tangier, superl tangiest) adj [perfume, dish, drink] that has a tang.

tank [tæŋk] n -1. [for water, gas] a large glass or metal container for keeping liquid or gas in; the amount this container can hold □ a hot water tank □ a fish tank □ a fuel tank □ a gas US OR petrol GB tank. -2. MILITARY a heavy military vehicle with a large gun on top that moves on metal belts that go over the wheels on each side □ a tank battle.

tankard [ˈtæŋkərd] n a large mug, usually made of metal, that is used especially for drinking beer.

tanker [ˈtæŋkə] n a ship, truck, or train built for carrying large amounts of gas, oil, or other liquids.

tanned [tænd] adj [body, skin] that has a suntan □ They were looking tanned and healthy.

tannin [ˈtæni:n] n a brownish substance that is found naturally in the bark of some trees and plants such as tea, and is used for making leather, ink etc.

TannoyTM [ˈtænoɪ] n GB a system of loudspeakers used to make public announcements, e.g. at an airport.

tantalizing [ˈtæntələɪzɪŋ] adj [sight, smell, possibility] that is attractive and exciting, but is also annoying because one cannot have it □ a tantalizing insight into the world of high finance and international politics.

tantamount [ˈtæntəmaʊnt] adj to be tantamount to sthg to be almost the same as sthg □ The attack is tantamount to a declaration of war.

tantrum [ˈtæntɹəm] (pl tantrums) n a sudden childish display of anger □ He's having/throwing a tantrum because I took his toys away.

Tanzania [ˌtænzəˈni:ə] a country in East Africa, on the Indian Ocean, that includes Zanzibar. SIZE: 940,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 27,800,000 (Tanzanians). CAPITAL: Dar es Salaam. ADMINISTRATIVE CAPITAL: Dodoma. LANGUAGE: Swahili. CURRENCY: Tanzanian shilling.

Taoiseach [ˈti:ʃək] n the Taoiseach the title of the prime minister of the Irish Republic.

tap [tæp] (pt & pp tapped, cont tapping) ◇ n -1. a device that controls how quickly a gas or liquid comes from a container or pipe □ the bath/hot/cold tap □ a gas tap □ a glass of tap water. -2. a quick light movement of one thing against another that makes a quiet noise □ There was a tap at the window.

◇ vt -1. [person, shoulder] to touch or hit <sb/sthg> lightly with one's finger or fingers □ I felt somebody tap me on the shoulder. □ She tapped her fingers nervously on the desk. -2. [strength, resources, energy] to make use of <sthg that there is a lot of> □ We're trying to find new ways of tapping the growing student market. -3. [telephone, wire] to listen secretly or illegally to somebody's conversation by attaching a special device to <sthg> □ My phone's been tapped.

◇ vi to touch or hit something lightly with one's finger or fingers, especially to get somebody's attention □ Someone was tapping on OR at the window.

tap dancing n a way of dancing that involves hitting the floor with one's feet while wearing special shoes with metal on the toes and heels.

tap dancer n a person who performs tap dances.

tape [teɪp] ◇ n -1. [for recording] a long thin strip of special plastic on which sound or pictures can be recorded and played back □ a piece of cassette/audio tape □ I've got the record/movie on tape. -2. [for playing] a cassette of tape on which music has been recorded □ a Rolling Stones/Strauss tape □ a music tape. -3. [for paper, packages] any kind of thin material made of plastic that is sticky on one side and is used to stick paper together, wrap packages etc □ a roll of sticky OR adhesive tape. -4. [on a coat, jacket] a narrow piece of cloth with a person's name on it, that is sewn onto a piece of clothing to show that it belongs to that person □ a name tape. -5. the tape SPORT a piece of material that is put across the finishing line of a race so that the winner makes it break or fall.

◇ vt -1. [music, discussion, record] to record <sthg> on a tape so that it can be heard again □ I taped it from the radio. -2. [movie, TV program] to record <sthg> on a videotape so that it can be watched later □ Did you remember to tape that play for me? -3. [package, packet, present] to close <sthg> with tape □ She taped the box up securely. -4. US [arm, leg, injury] to put a bandage on <sthg>.

tape deck n a machine that can record and play tapes.

tape measure n a long thin strip of material or plastic that is marked in inches, centimeters etc and is used for measuring objects and short distances.

taper ['teɪpə] ◇ n -1. a long thin candle. -2. a long thin strip of wood, cardboard etc, usually used for lighting fires. ◇ vi [pants, fingers] to be narrower at one end □ His beard tapered to a point.

◆ taper off vi [sales, numbers, interest] to gradually become less in size or amount and disappear □ The music gradually tapered off into silence.

tape-record [-rɪkɔːd] vt [conversation, music, performance] to record <sthg> on tape.

tape recorder n a machine that can record sound on tape.

tape recording n a recording on tape of music, speaking, or other sounds.

tapered ['teɪpəd] adj [trousers, sleeve] that is narrower at one end.

tapestry ['tæpəstri] (pl tapestries) n -1. a piece of cloth with a picture or pattern made with colored threads; the craft of making this kind of cloth. -2. [of events, lies] a situation that involves many different people or events (literary use) □ life's rich tapestry.

tapeworm ['teɪpwɜːrm] n a worm that lives in the intestines of some people or animals and can grow very long.

tapioca [ˌtæpɪ'oukə] n the white grains of a tropical plant, used for making sweet dishes.

tapir ['teɪpə] (pl tapir OR tapirs) n an animal found in America and Southeast Asia that is similar to a pig and has a long nose.

tappet ['tæpət] n a part of an engine that moves up and down in order to make other parts move.

taps [tæps] n US the name of a tune played on a bugle at military funerals or when it is time for soldiers at an army camp to go to bed.

tar [tɑː] n a thick black substance that is sticky when hot and hard when cold, used e.g. for making road surfaces.

tarantula [tə'rentʃələ] n a large hairy spider that lives in Southern Europe and tropical America and has a poisonous bite.

target ['tɑːrɡət] ◇ n -1. [of a bomb, attack, assassin] the person, place, or object that somebody chooses to attack □ The stone hit its target. □ The bomb landed on target. □ All embassies are potential terrorist targets. □ A person walking alone at night is an easy target for muggers. -2. SPORT & MILITARY the object that one tries to hit when practicing with a bow, gun etc; a round board with colored circles of different sizes, one inside the other □ The army used the tower for target practice. -3. [of criticism, abuse, a joke] a person or thing that somebody criticizes, jokes about etc □ Karviese became the target of the public's anger. -4. [for success] a result that somebody wants to achieve □ Our target is 50,000 new jobs in 1995. □ Last year we met all our sales targets. ■ to be on target to be at the right stage or level for a particular time and likely to achieve the result that was planned □ We're on target to complete the project by December.

◇ vt -1. [city, building] to point a weapon at a place; [missile, gun] to point a  at a place □ The terrorists have targeted New York for their bombing campaign. □ Every missile they had was targeted on the enemy. -2. [the young, elderly, homeless] to choose  to receive money, a message, or a service that one wants to give □ This new magazine/advertisement/campaign targets young professional males. ■ to be targeted at OR toward sb [at adults, children, mothers] to be designed for sb □ The campaign is specifically targeted at single women.

tariff [US 'terɪf, GB 'tær-] n -1. a tax that is paid on goods coming into a country □ Japan imposes high import tariffs on foreign cars. -2. GB a list of prices for services in a hotel, e.g. rooms or meals □ a price tariff.

tarmac ['tɑːmæk] n -1. a black substance made of tar mixed with small stones that is - used for covering the surface of roads.

 -2. the tarmac an area covered with tarmac at an airport where planes can land and take off.
- tarnish ['tɑːnɪʃ] ◇ vt -1. [brass, metal, pipe] to make <sthg> become dull and stained. -2. [name, reputation, popularity] to damage <sthg> and make it less respected □ His image was severely tarnished by the scandal. ◇ vi [brass, silver, copper] The goblet had tarnished with age.
- tarnished ['tɑːnɪʃt] adj -1. [brass, silver, copper] that has become dull and stained □ an old picture in a tarnished frame. -2. [name, reputation] that has been damaged and is no longer respected.
- tarot [US 'terou, GB 'tær-] n the tarot a pack of 22 picture cards that is used to predict people's future.
- tarot card n one of the cards from the tarot.
- tarp [tɑːrp] n US = tarpaulin.
- tarpaulin [tɑː'pɑːlən] n -1. a type of material covered with a waterproof substance. -2. a sheet of tarpaulin used to cover and protect objects from the rain.
- tarragon [US 'terəgən, GB 'tær-] n an herb with small thin leaves that is used to add flavor to fish and chicken dishes.
- tart [tɑː't] ◇ adj -1. [food, fruit] that has a sharp acid taste. -2. [remark, comment] that is unpleasant and critical. ◇ n -1. a piece of sweet pastry with a layer of something sweet such as fruit on top or inside. -2. ▽ a woman who looks or behaves like a prostitute (very informal use).
- tartan ['tɑː'tn] n -1. a pattern of straight lines with different widths and colors that cross each other to make squares, originally used in traditional dress in the Scottish Highlands; a type of woolen material that has this pattern on it □ a tartan scarf. -2. a design of tartan, worn by a particular Scottish clan and known by its name □ the Stewart tartan.
- tartar ['tɑː'tə] n a hard yellow-white substance that forms on people's teeth.
- tartar(e) sauce [ˌtɑː'təf-] n a thick cold sauce that is made with capers, onions, and mayonnaise and is served with fish.
- Tarzan ['tɑː'zn] the hero of a series of stories about a white man who lives in a forest in Africa, where he was brought up by apes. He is very strong, and has a female companion called Jane.
- Tas. abbr of Tasmania.
- task [US tæsk, GB tɑːsk] n something that has to be done, especially something difficult □ Computers are now used for a wide range of different tasks. □ It was no easy task.
- task force n -1. MILITARY a small section of a military force that is sent to a particular place to deal with an emergency. -2. a group of people formed to help with an urgent job.
- taskmaster [US 'tæskmæstr, GB 'tɑːskmɑːstə] n a hard taskmaster a person who makes other people work very hard.
- Tasman ['tæzmən]: the Tasman (Sea) the part of the southern Pacific Ocean between Australia and New Zealand.
- Tasmania [tæz'meɪnjə] an island off the south coast of Australia, that forms a state of Australia. SIZE: 68,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 452,847 (Tasmanians). CAPITAL: Hobart.
- tassel ['tæsəl] n a bunch of threads of yarn, silk etc tied together at one end and left to hang at the other and used as decoration.
- taste [teɪst] ◇ n -1. the particular effect that a food or drink gives when it is put in one's mouth □ It has a rather bitter taste. □ Mel woke up with a nasty taste in his mouth. -2. one's sense of taste the sense that allows one to tell the difference between foods when they are in the mouth □ Smoking can affect your sense of taste. -3. a taste a small amount of food or drink taken to find out what it tastes like □ Have a taste of this, it's delicious. -4. to have a taste for sthg to like sthg □ She has a taste for fast cars. -5. [of power, adventure, success] a short experience of something that gives somebody an idea of what it is like □ He got his first taste of fame alongside Lynn Davies in "Merryweather". -6. sb's taste the ability sb has to make judgments about fashion, style, art etc that are considered suitable or right □ Rachel has very good taste in clothes/music/furniture. ■ to be in bad/good taste to be likely/not likely to offend people □ The scene was done in the best possible taste. ◇ vt -1. [food, drink] to experience the taste of <sthg>; to take a small amount of <sthg> to find out what it tastes like □ Taste this — it's delicious. □ I've never tasted sushi before. -2. [success, defeat, power] to experience <sthg>, with the result that one has an idea of what it is like □ The army had tasted victory for the first time. ◇ vi [food, drink] to have a particular taste □ It tastes salty/wonderful. □ This tastes like chicken. ■ to taste of sthg [of garlic, onions] to have the taste of sthg □ This soup tastes of coriander.
- taste bud n one of the many tiny bumps on the surface of one's tongue that allow one to taste food and drink.
- tasteful ['teɪstfəl] adj [furniture, coat, color] that has been made or chosen with good taste □ The room was decorated in tasteful shades of pink.
- tastefully ['teɪstfəli] adv tastefully decorated/furnished decorated/furnished in a tasteful way □ She dresses so tastefully.
- tasteless ['teɪstləs] adj -1. [decor, furniture, ornament] that has not been made or chosen with good taste □ a tasteless collection of plastic ornaments. -2. [remark, joke] that one finds offensive □ He made some tasteless joke about funerals. -3. [food, drink] that has little or no taste □ The vegetables were overcooked and tasteless.
- tasty ['teɪsti] (compar tastier, superl tastiest) adj [food, meal] that has a pleasant taste that makes one want to eat it □ tasty morsels.
- Tate Gallery [ˌteɪt-]: the Tate Gallery an important London gallery of British art and foreign modern art.

tattered ['tætəd] adj [clothing, shirt, paper] that is torn in many places because it has been used a lot.

tatters ['tætəz] npl to be in tatters [clothes] to be tattered; [confidence, reputation] to be so badly damaged that it will not recover □ With his career and his marriage in tatters, what was he to do?

tattle-tale ['tætl-] n US a child who tells adults about other children who have behaved badly.

tattoo [tæ'tu:] (pl tattoos) ◇ n -1. a colored design or picture on a part of somebody's body that is made by pricking holes in the skin and filling them with dye □ She has a tattoo on her back. -2. MUSIC a rhythmic beat on a military drum. -3. GB a show with military music and exercises performed in front of an audience. ◇ vt [name, picture] to write or draw <sthg> on a person's skin as a tattoo; [arm, leg, shoulder] to put a tattoo on <sthg> □ a tattooed arm.

tatty ['tæti] (compar tattier, superl tattiest) adj GB [clothes, apartment] that is untidy, dirty, and in bad condition (informal use).

taught [tɔ:t] past tense & past participle of teach.

taunt [tɔ:nt] ◇ vt [children, protesters, opponent] to repeatedly make unkind or insulting comments about <sb> in order to make them upset or angry □ Demonstrators taunted police to come and arrest them. ◇ n an unkind or insulting comment intended to make somebody upset or angry □ Susan did her best to ignore their taunts.

Taurus ['tɔ:rəs] n the second sign of the Zodiac, represented by a bull; a person born under this sign between April 21 and May 22.

taut [tɔ:t] adj [string, wire] that is stretched tight; [muscle, body] that is tense and hard □ Pull the rope taut, then tie it.

tauten ['tɔ:tn] ◇ vt [string, wire, muscles] to make <sthg> taut. ◇ vi [string, wire, muscles] to become taut □ I suddenly felt the fishing line tauten.

tautology [tɔ:'tɒlədʒi] n a statement that says the same thing twice, using a different word or words.

tavern ['tævɪn] n a bar (old-fashioned use).

tawdry ['tɔ:drɪ] (compar tawdrier, superl tawdriest) adj [dress, jewelry] that is cheap and of poor quality.

tawny ['tɔ:ni] adj [lion, hair, fur] that is a brownish-yellow color.

tax [tæks] ◇ n money that one has to pay to the government of a country to pay for public services, and that varies according to one's income, the goods that one has bought etc □ Basic foodstuffs are free of tax. □ This amounts to a tax on the poor. □ a tax on imported goods □ He didn't pay his taxes. ◇ vt -1. [goods, services] to take a percentage of the value of <sthg>. -2. [profits, earnings] to take a percentage of <the money that somebody makes>. -3. [person, business] to take a percentage of the earnings of <sb/sthg>.

-4. to tax sb's patience/strength etc to use too much of sb's patience/strength etc □ He's really beginning to tax my patience.

taxable ['tæksəbl] adj [income, property, goods] that must be taxed by law.

tax allowance n GB the amount of money that a person is allowed to earn before being taxed.

taxation [tæks'eɪʃn] n -1. the system by which a government taxes people. -2. the amount of money taken in taxes.

tax avoidance n the practice of paying as little tax as possible using legal methods.

tax break n a reduction in tax for a particular type of business or group of people.

tax collector n an official whose job is to make sure that people pay taxes.

tax cut n a decrease in the level of taxation.

tax-deductible adj [expense, service] that belongs to the part of one's income that one does not have to pay tax on.

tax disc n in Britain, the disk on a vehicle's windshield that shows its owner has paid road tax.

tax evasion n the crime of not paying tax that one owes.

tax-exempt US, tax-free GB adj [goods, purchases, services] that are not taxed.

tax exemption n the status of not having to pay any taxes.

tax exile n GB a person who lives abroad to avoid paying high taxes, usually because they have a very high income.

tax-free adj GB = tax-exempt.

tax haven n a place that has a low level of taxation, where people go to live or register their companies to avoid paying tax in their own country.

taxi ['tæksɪ] ◇ n a car with a driver that one hires, usually to make short trips, and that usually has a meter to show how much one has to pay the driver □ a taxi driver. ◇ vi [aircraft] to move slowly along the runway before taking off or after landing.

taxicab ['tæksɪkæb] n = taxi.

taxidermist ['tæksɪdɜ:mɪst] n a person whose job is to fill dead birds and animals with material so that they look alive and can be displayed.

taximeter ['tæksɪmɪtə] n the device in a taxi that shows the cost of the trip.

taxing ['tæksɪŋ] adj [problem, trip, ordeal] that is difficult and tiring □ She can be very taxing sometimes.

tax inspector n an official whose job is to check that the correct levels of tax are being paid by a person or company.

taxi rank GB, taxi stand n a place where taxis wait for customers, especially at the exit of an airport, train station, or bus station.

taxman ['tæksmæn] (pl taxmen [-men]) n -1. = tax collector. -2. the taxman GB a term used - for the government department that deals with taxes □ The taxman is out to get me this year.

- taxpayer ['tækspeɪə] n a person who pays income tax.
- tax relief n a reduction in the amount of tax that a person or company has to pay.
- tax return n a form on which somebody writes details of how much money they earn in a year and that is used to calculate how much income tax they have to pay.
- tax shelter n a way in which one can avoid paying taxes legally, e.g. by investing in something.
- tax year n a particular period of 12 months that is used to calculate taxes.
- TB n abbr of tuberculosis.
- T-bone steak n a piece of beef with a T-shaped bone in it.
- tbs., tbsp. abbr of tablespoon.
- T-cell n a white blood cell that helps fight against infection.
- Tchaikovsky [tʃaɪ'kɒfski], Peter Ilyich (1840–1893) a Russian composer known for his symphonies and ballets, including Swan Lake and The Nutcracker.
- TD n -1. (abbr of Treasury Department) the TD the US government department responsible for managing the country's economy. -2. abbr of touchdown.
- tea [ti:] n -1. [for drinking] a drink made by adding boiling water to the dried leaves of a particular plant; a cup of this drink □ Do you take milk in your tea? □ Two teas, please. □ Do you want some tea? -2. [from the plant] the dried leaves of the plant used for making tea. -3. GB [in the afternoon] an afternoon snack consisting of cake and sandwiches, with tea to drink. -4. GB & AUS [in the evening] a meal that is eaten in the early evening.
- teabag ['ti:bæg] n a small thin paper bag that has a lot of very small holes, contains tealeaves, and is used to make a cup of tea.
- tea ball n a ball made of wire mesh that is filled with tealeaves and dipped in a cup of boiling water to make tea.
- tea break n GB a short period when one stops working and drinks tea, coffee etc to relax.
- tea caddy n a small metal box used for storing tea.
- teacake ['ti:keɪk] n GB a type of bread roll that contains dried fruit and is usually eaten toasted and buttered.
- teach [ti:tʃ] (pt & pp taught) ◇ vt -1. to give <sb> lessons in a subject or instructions on how to behave or act correctly in a particular situation □ Do you find it easier to teach adults? □ I'm teaching her French/the piano. □ He's teaching his dog to fetch sticks. □ I was always taught that it's wrong to steal. -2. [math, yoga, the violin] to give lessons in <sth> □ I taught English to foreign students. -3. [respect, humility] to tell people about <sth> so that they start to believe it is valuable □ It's about time someone taught you some manners, young man! ◇ vi [person] to teach a subject, skill etc □ I teach at a local school.
- teacher ['ti:tʃə] n a person whose job is to teach people, usually at a school, college etc.
- teacher's pet n a child in a class who the other children think is the teacher's favorite student (informal and disapproving use).
- teacher training college n a college where people train to be teachers.
- teaching ['ti:tʃɪŋ] n -1. the profession or activity of being a teacher □ Do you like teaching? -2. a message or lesson that is taught □ the teachings of the Christian Church/Buddhism.
- teaching aids npl things, e.g. videos or pictures, that are used by a teacher during a lesson to help them to explain something.
- teaching hospital n a hospital where medical students and doctors who have recently qualified can get practical training from experienced doctors.
- teaching practice n teaching done by somebody who is training to be a teacher.
- teaching staff npl the staff in a school who teach.
- tea cozy n a soft thick covering of fabric or knitted wool that one puts over a teapot to keep the tea inside it warm.
- teacup ['ti:kʌp] n a cup that is used for drinking tea.
- teak [ti:k] n the very hard red-brown wood of a tree that grows in Southeast Asia, and is used to make boats and furniture □ a teak chair.
- tealeaves ['ti:li:vz] npl the small pieces of leaves that are used to make a drink of tea and that often remain in the bottom of a cup or pot when the tea has been drunk.
- team [ti:m] n -1. a group of people who play a particular sport together against other groups of the same kind. -2. a group of people who do a particular job together □ a research/negotiating team.
- ◆ team up vi [people, organizations] to work together for a particular purpose □ Why don't you team up with Helen for the next part?
- team games npl games between teams, not individuals.
- teammate ['ti:mmeɪt] n a member of the same team as somebody.
- team spirit n the feeling of pride and enthusiasm that all members of a team have when they want the team to succeed.
- teamster ['ti:mstə] n US a person whose job is to drive a truck.
- ◆ Teamsters n the Teamsters in the USA, the labor union for truck drivers.
- teamwork ['ti:mwɜ:k] n the act of working well together as a team.
- tea party n a type of party in the afternoon where tea is served.
- teapot ['ti:pɒt] n a container that has a lid, a handle, and a spout, and is used for making and serving tea.
- tear¹ [tiə] n one of the drops of salty liquid that come out of one's eyes because one is sad, happy, in pain etc □ She came to me in tears. □ I was close to tears by the end of the speech.

tear² [teə] (pt tore, pp torn) ◇ vt -1. [paper, clothes] to damage <sthg> by pulling a piece of it away from the rest partly or completely □ My skirt got torn at the prom. □ He tore the envelope open. □ The letter had been torn to shreds/into several pieces. ■ to tear sb/sthg to pieces to criticize sb/sthg very strongly □ Professor Hillard tore my essay to pieces. ■ to be torn between sthg and sthg to be unable to decide between sthg and sthg □ I'm torn between telling her and keeping quiet. -2. [muscle, ligament] to damage <sthg> by moving it in the wrong direction. -3. to tear sb/sthg from sb/sthg to remove sb/sthg from sb/sthg using force.

◇ vi -1. [paper, clothes] to get torn □ Be careful, it tears easily. -2. to tear off/around etc [person, car, animal] to move away/around etc very quickly (informal use) □ He grabbed my purse and went tearing off down the street. -3. to tear loose to escape from something that is holding one by struggling.

◇ n a hole in a piece of paper, clothing etc that has been torn □ There's a small tear in my coat.

◆ tear apart vt sep -1. to tear sthg apart [book, material] to separate sthg into pieces by tearing it. -2. to tear sthg apart [team, organization] to harm sthg by making the people in it argue with each other □ These constant arguments are just tearing the family apart.

◆ tear at vt fus to tear at sthg [package, meat] to damage sthg by trying to tear pieces off it.

◆ tear away vt sep to tear oneself away to force oneself to leave a place or situation □ The game was so good, I just couldn't tear myself away from it.

◆ tear down vt sep -1. to tear sthg down [house, wall] to demolish sthg. -2. to tear sthg down [poster, advertisement] to remove sthg from a wall by pulling it violently.

◆ tear off vt sep to tear sthg off [clothes, shoes] to remove sthg from one's body quickly and forcefully.

◆ tear out vt sep to tear sthg out [coupon, page] to remove sthg from a book, piece of paper etc.

◆ tear up vt sep to tear sthg up [check, letter] to destroy sthg by tearing it into several pieces.

teardrop ['tiə'drɒp] n a single tear from somebody's eye.

tearful ['tiə'fl] adj [person] who is very upset and wants to cry □ I was feeling quite tearful as we parted.

tear gas ['tiə'gɜːs] n a gas that makes one's eyes sting and is sometimes used by police to control crowds.

tearjerker ['tiə'dʒɜː'kɜː] n a movie or book that is meant to make people so sad or happy that they feel like crying (humorous use).

tearoom ['tiəru:m] n a type of restaurant where tea, coffee, cake etc is served.

tease [tiːz] ◇ vt -1. to make unkind or playful jokes to <sb> about something that embarrasses them □ They teased him about his haircut. -2. US to comb <one's hair> from the ends to the roots to make it look thicker. ◇ n -1. a person who teases people. -2. a person who makes another person think that they want to have sex with them but who does not really want to (disapproving use).

tea service, tea set n a matching set of teacups, saucers, plates, milk pitcher, sugar bowl, and teapot, used for serving tea.

tea shop n = tearoom.

teasing ['tiːziŋ] adj [smile, remark, behavior] that shows one is making fun of somebody in a playful way.

teaspoon ['tiːspu:n] n a small spoon used for putting sugar into tea or coffee and for stirring it; the amount contained by this spoon.

tea strainer n a metal or plastic object with a lot of small holes in it that is used to catch the tealeaves when tea is being poured into a cup.

teat [ti:t] n -1. one of the pointed parts on the chest of a female mammal that babies suck to drink milk. -2. GB a piece of plastic or rubber, shaped like a teat, that can be fitted to a bottle so that a baby or small animal can drink from it.

teatime ['ti:tɪm] n the time in the afternoon when tea is usually drunk.

tea towel n a cloth used to dry silverware and plates after they have been washed.

technical ['teknɪkl] adj -1. [expert, training, advances] that has, or involves, detailed practical knowledge of subjects connected with science, industry etc □ My technical knowledge is pretty limited. -2. [brilliance, skill] that is connected with one's ability in a particular activity, especially in sports, art, or music □ There's no question about his technical skill, I just wonder how creative he is. -3. [term, language, sense] that is connected with the details of a particular subject or activity □ The book used a lot of technical terms that I didn't understand.

technical college n a college of further education where students can do practical courses.

technical drawing n the skill of drawing designs for buildings, pieces of equipment etc that show precise details of how they are made.

technicality [,teknɪ'kælətɪ] (pl technicalities) n a very small detailed point, especially a legal one, based on a very strict understanding of a rule or law □ The patent was withdrawn on a technicality.

◆ technicalities npl the technicalities the small details of a process or activity that only people who know a lot about it understand or are interested in □ I won't go into all the technicalities of the process.

technically ['teknɪklɪ] adv -1. technically (speak-

- ing... a word used to say that something is true according to a strict understanding of the facts, laws, or the meaning of words □ Technically, you're right, but in practice it doesn't happen like that. -2. technically possible/advanced etc possible/advanced etc according to what is known about science or technology. -3. technically brilliant/skilled brilliant/skilled in the techniques needed for a particular activity □ a technically brilliant pianist/skater.
- technician [tek'nɪʃn] n -1. a person whose job is to use and take care of particular kinds of equipment □ a lighting/laboratory technician. -2. a person who is good at an activity, e.g. art or a sport, that requires particular skills.
- TechnicolorTM [ˈteknɪkələ] n a system of color photography used in making movies for the cinema.
- technique [tek'nɪ:k] n -1. a particular method of doing something, especially something involving practical skills. -2. skill in a particular activity, e.g. in sports or the arts, that one has developed with practice.
- technocrat [ˈteknəkɹæt] n a person who is an expert in a technical subject, e.g. science or economics, and who also has power in the government of their country.
- technological [ˌteknə'lɒdʒɪkəl] adj [breakthrough, development] see technology.
- technologist [tek'nɒlədʒɪst] n an expert in technology.
- technology [tek'nɒlədʒɪ] (pl technologies) n -1. the study and practical use of science in industry, medicine, business etc □ computer/agricultural/medical technology. -2. equipment that is made using scientific knowledge □ These special effects were achieved using the latest technology.
- Tecumseh [tɪ'kʌmsə] (1768–1813) a Native American chief who tried to unite Native Americans against the Whites.
- teddy [ˈtedi] (pl teddies) n a teddy (bear) a soft toy that looks like a bear.
- tedious [ˈti:dʒəs] adj [subject, book, job] that one finds boring and tiring □ Professor Hill's lecture was as tedious as usual.
- tedium [ˈti:dʒəm] n: see tedious.
- tee [ti:] n -1. one of the areas on a golf course from which the ball is hit at the start of each attempt to get it into a hole. -2. the small wooden or plastic object that is pushed into the ground to hold the golf ball before it is hit from the tee.
- ◆ tee off vi [golfer] to hit a golf ball from the tee.
- teem [ti:m] vi to be teeming with sth [with traffic, cars, animals] to be very crowded with sthg that never stops moving □ The streets were teeming with people.
- teen [ti:n] adj = teenage (informal use).
- teenage(d) [ˈti:neɪdʒ(d)] adj [boy, daughter, child] who is a teenager; [fashion, problem] that is connected with teenagers.
- teenager [ˈti:neɪdʒə] n a person who is between 13 and 19 years old.
- teens [ti:nz] npl the period of one's life when one is a teenager □ the late/early/mid teens □ He's now in his teens.
- teeny (weeny) [ˌti:ni('wi:ni)], teensy (weensy) [ˌti:nzi('wi:nzi)] adj very small (informal use).
- tee shirt n a light piece of clothing worn on the top part of one's body that has short sleeves and no collar or buttons.
- Teesside, Teesside [ˈti:said] an industrial area on the river Tees, in northeastern England.
- teeter [ˈti:tə] vi -1. [person, object] to move around in an uncertain way, usually before falling. -2. to be teetering on the brink OR edge to be close to a very dangerous or harmful situation in a way that is worrying □ The country is teetering on the brink of war. □ I was teetering on the edge of bankruptcy.
- teeter-totter n US a piece of equipment for children to play on, consisting of a long piece of metal or wood balanced in the middle so that it moves up and down when people sit at either end.
- teeth [ti:θ] plural of tooth.
- teethe [ti:ð] vi to be teething [baby] to have teeth that are growing through the gums, causing pain.
- teething ring [ˈti:ðɪŋ] n a ring of plastic that a baby can chew when it is teething.
- teething troubles npl problems that occur during the early stages of a project or activity □ The company's had a few teething troubles.
- teetotal [ti:'təʊtəl] adj [person] who is a teetotaler; [meeting, country] where alcohol is not drunk.
- teetotaler US, teetotaler GB [ti:'təʊtələ] n a person who does not drink alcohol.
- TEFL [ˈtefl] n abbr of Teaching (of) English as a Foreign Language.
- TeflonTM [ˈteflən] n a plastic used on the inside surface of saucepans, frying-pans etc, so that food does not stick to it □ a Teflon saucepan.
- Tehran, Teheran [ˌteə'rɑ:n] the capital of Iran and its largest city. POPULATION: 5,734,000.
- tel. abbr of telephone, telephone number.
- Tel-Aviv [ˌtelə'vɪv] a city in Israel, on the Mediterranean coast. It used to be the capital of Israel. POPULATION: 400,000.
- tele- [ˈteli] prefix added to a word to show that something happens, operates, or is done over a long distance.
- telecast [US ˈtelɪkæst, GB -kɑ:st] n a program on television.
- telecom [ˈtelɪkɒm] n, telecoms [ˈtelɪkɒmz] npl GB = telecommunications (informal use).
- telecommunications [ˌtelɪkəmju:ni'keɪʃnz] npl the use of electronic equipment, faxes, or phones to send or receive messages □ the telecommunications industry □ a telecommunications satellite.
- telegram [ˈtelɪgræm] n a message that is sent to somebody by telegraph and delivered to them after it has been printed.
- telegraph [US ˈtelɪgræf, GB -grɑ:f] ◇ n the system of sending messages using electricity or

- radio signals over a distance. ◇ vt to send  to somebody using a telegraph; to contact <sb> in this way.
- telegraph pole, telegraph post n GB = telephone pole.
- telemarketing [ˌtelɪ'mɑ:kətɪŋ] n the practice of phoning people to tell them about a particular product or service.
- telepathic [ˌtelɪ'pæθɪk] adj [person, powers] see telepathy.
- telepathy [tə'lepəθi] n the communication of thoughts and feelings between people without using any of the normal ways of communicating such as talking or seeing.
- telephone ['telɪfəʊn] ◇ n -1. a system of communication that allows two people in different places to talk to each other using special pieces of equipment □ We spoke by telephone. □ They had a number of telephone conversations. -2. a piece of equipment used for talking to somebody by telephone. ■ to be on the telephone to be using one's telephone to speak to somebody □ I'm sorry I took so long to answer the door, I was on the telephone. ◇ vt [person, company, shop] to contact <sb> by telephone. ◇ vi [person] Has he telephoned yet?
- telephone book n a large book that contains a list of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the people in a particular town or area.
- telephone booth n a small enclosed space in a public building or area with a phone that one can use by putting coins, a special card etc into it.
- telephone box n GB = telephone booth.
- telephone call n an act of contacting somebody using a telephone □ I've got to make a telephone call.
- telephone directory n = telephone book.
- telephone exchange n a place where connections are made between people speaking by telephone.
- telephone kiosk n GB = telephone booth.
- telephone number n the series of numbers one dials in order to speak to a particular person by telephone □ Do you have my telephone number?
- telephone operator n a person in a telephone exchange whose job is to connect people by telephone, and to give information to people who want to make telephone calls.
- telephone pole n US a tall wooden pole used to hold up telephone wires.
- telephone tapping [-'tæpɪŋ] n the act of listening to other people's telephone conversations by using a special piece of equipment.
- telephonist [tə'leɪfənəst] n GB a person whose job is to answer the telephone for a company or other organization, or to connect calls in a telephone exchange.
- telephoto lens [ˌtelɪfəʊtəʊ-] n a long camera lens, shaped like a tube, that one can use to take close-up photographs of people or things that are far away.
- teleprinter ['telɪprɪntə] n a machine that can send, receive, and print out telex messages.
- TeleprompterTM [ˌtelɪprɒmptə] n a machine placed in front of a person on television, but out of sight of the cameras, from which they can read their lines as if they were speaking naturally.
- telesales ['telɪseɪlz] n the practice of phoning people in order to try to sell them particular goods or services.
- telescope ['telɪskəʊp] n a device consisting of a long tube that contains more than one lens, and that makes things that are far away seem much closer.
- telescopic [ˌtelɪ'skɒpɪk] adj -1. [equipment, sight, lens] that makes things appear larger and nearer than they are. -2. [umbrella, tripod] that is made in sections that slide over each other so that it can be folded when it is not being used.
- teleshopping ['telɪʃɒpɪŋ] n the practice of ordering goods from home, using one's telephone or computer, instead of going to stores.
- teletext ['telɪtekst] n a system that broadcasts written news and information on people's television screens.
- telethon ['telɪθɒn] n a television program that lasts for several hours, and tries to raise money for charity.
- teletypewriter [ˌtelɪ'taɪpraɪtə] US n = teleprinter.
- televangelism [ˌtelɪ'vændʒəlɪzəm] n programs on television in which people preach to viewers to persuade them to become Christians.
- televise ['telɪvaɪz] vt [program, event, debate] to broadcast <sthg> on television □ The games were televised on NBC.
- television ['telɪvɪʒn] n -1. the system of broadcasting sound and pictures by electrical waves that are received by a special device; the business connected with making television programs □ I don't watch television very often. □ There's an interesting program on television tonight. □ He now works in television. -2. a device shaped like a box with a screen at the front on which television programs appear, with sound, using a special electronic device that receives broadcast signals □ Do you have a television?
- television licence n in Britain, a document that one has to pay for each year to be legally allowed to use a television in one's home.
- television program n something such as a show, play etc that is broadcast on television.
- television set n a television.
- teleworking ['telɪwɜ:kɪŋ] n the practice of working from home, using a computer, fax etc, instead of going to work in an office.
- telex ['teleks] ◇ n -1. a system for sending information between teleprinters in different countries □ I heard from him via OR by telex. -2. a machine that transmits messages by telex. -3. a message sent by telex. ◇ vt to send a telex to <sb>; to send <sthg> to somebody by telex □ I'll telex you with the details. □ The plan was telexed to them last week.

tell [tel] (pt & pp told) ◇ vt -1. [person, public, press] to give <sb> information by speaking or writing to them □ Who told you about Mike? □ Nobody told me the meeting had been canceled! □ Whatever you do, don't tell them your address. □ Eventually he sent me a letter telling me why he'd left home. □ Could you tell the viewers why you resigned so suddenly? ■ I told you so! a phrase used to somebody when something bad happens to them that one has previously warned them about and that they have ignored □ I told you he'd be late! □ There, I told you so! You wouldn't listen to me!

-2. to tell the truth/a lie to say something that is true/untrue □ How do we know he's telling us the truth? □ You're telling lies! -3. to tell sb to do sthg to say to sb that they must do sthg □ We were told to come back in half an hour. □ I'm not asking you to leave, I'm telling you! □ Do as you're told! -4. to tell a story/joke to say what happens in a story/joke □ My mother used to tell us bedtime stories every evening. -5. I/we etc can tell sthg I/we etc know that sthg is true or is happening because certain signs make it obvious □ I can always tell when you're nervous. □ I couldn't tell who'd sent the letter, as the signature was illegible. □ The best way to tell whether it's ripe is to press it gently. ■ there's no telling... it is impossible to say... □ There's no telling how she'll react. -6. to tell the difference to be able to recognize or show how two people or things are different from each other □ He can't tell the difference between right and wrong/me and my sister.

-7. to tell sb sthg to be a sign or indication of sthg to sb □ A person's handwriting tells you a lot about their character. □ Your body will tell you when you've had enough to eat.

◇ vi [strain, effort, hard work] to have a bad effect on a person or situation after a while □ The strain of the past few weeks was beginning to tell on me.

◆ tell apart vt sep to tell two people/things apart to be able to recognize the differences between two people/things that are very similar □ It's difficult to tell these two types of bacteria apart.

◆ tell off vt sep to tell sb off to speak angrily to sb because they have done something wrong □ We got told off for arriving late.

Tell [tel], William in Swiss legends, a 15th-century revolutionary who was forced to shoot an apple off his son's head using a crossbow.

teller ['telə] n -1. a person who counts the votes in an election. -2. a person in a bank whose job is to receive and pay out money.

telling ['telɪŋ] adj -1. [point, argument] that is very important and true and has a strong effect on the people who hear it. -2. [remark, look, smile] that shows what somebody is thinking or feeling, even if it was not meant to □ I thought it was very telling the way Susan refused to shake hands.

telling-off (pl tellings-off) n to give sb a telling-off to speak angrily to sb who has done something wrong □ We got such a telling-off when we got home.

telltale ['telteɪl] adj a telltale sign/stain etc a sign/stain etc that causes one to notice something unpleasant that is not obvious in other ways □ Morgan's showing all the telltale signs of overwork.

telly ['telɪ] (pl tellies) n GB = television (informal use).

temerity [tə'merəti] n to have the temerity to do sthg to do sthg that somebody else finds annoying because it shows no respect □ Then she had the temerity to ask me to pay for it.

temp [temp] (informal use) ◇ n (abbr of temporary employee) a person who is employed for a short time, usually in an office, when somebody is ill, or when there is a lot of extra work to do. ◇ vi to work as a temp □ She's temping in a bank at the moment.

temp. abbr of temperature.

temper ['tempə] ◇ n -1. the habit somebody has of getting angry easily □ He was in a bad/foul temper. ■ to lose one's temper to suddenly become extremely angry □ Don't make me lose my temper with you. ■ to have a (short) temper to become angry easily. ■ to be in a temper to be very angry □ Be careful, the boss is in a temper today. -2. the way that somebody usually behaves and speaks as a result of their character □ a man of even temper. ◇ vt [language, emotion, success] to make <sthg> less extreme.

temperament ['tempərəmənt] n a person's basic character, especially in relation to their moods and the way they react to other people, situations etc □ Anthony's got a very calm temperament.

temperamental [ˌtempərə'mentl] adj -1. [person] who is unpredictable and changes their mood very suddenly (disapproving use) □ She's a good actor, but she can be a little temperamental. -2. [machine, car] that is unpredictable and often doesn't work □ The car may not start — it's a little temperamental sometimes.

temperance ['tempərəns] n (formal use) -1. the practice of avoiding extreme kinds of behavior. -2. the practice of not drinking alcohol because one thinks that it is morally wrong.

temperate ['tempərət] adj [climate, area] that is neither extremely hot nor extremely cold □ the Temperate Zone.

temperature ['tempərətʃə] n -1. the degree of heat or coldness of a place or thing. -2. the degree of heat of one's body. ■ to have a temperature [person] to have a higher temperature than normal, usually because one is ill. ■ to take sb's temperature to measure sb's temperature, using a thermometer, to see if they are ill.

tempest ['tempəst] n -1. a storm (literary use). -2. phrase a tempest in a teapot US a situation that is not very important but that causes a lot of worry and trouble.

tempestuous [tem'pest.fjuəs] adj [relationship, meeting, period] that is very emotional.

tempi ['tempi:] plural of tempo.

template ['templɛt] n -1. a thin plate of plastic or metal of a particular shape that is used to help one cut wood, material etc accurately. -2. COMPUTING the basic outline of a computer program that can be designed and then called up from the memory to be used for a particular purpose.

temple ['templ] n -1. RELIGION a building used for worship in some religions. -2. ANATOMY one of the two flat parts at each side of one's forehead.

tempo ['tempoʊ] (pl tempos OR tempi) n -1. MUSIC the speed at which a piece of music is played. -2. [of change, a game, debate] the speed at which something happens.

temporarily [US 'tempə'rerəlɪ, GB 'tempərərəlɪ] adv [unavailable, out of order] see temporary.

temporary [US 'tempərərɪ, GB 'tempərərɪ] adj [job, accommodation, situation] that lasts for a limited period of time □ It's only a temporary appointment.

tempt [tempt] vt to make <sb> want to do something, especially by offering them something attractive □ The former world champion was tempted out of retirement by a lucrative sponsorship deal. □ I was/felt tempted to stay.

temptation [temp'teɪʃn] n the state of wanting to have or do something, usually when one knows it is wrong; something that causes one to feel like this □ I somehow resisted the temptation to tell her what I really thought. □ Having chocolate in the house is too much of a temptation for me.

tempting ['temptɪŋ] adj [offer, smell, cake] that one finds attractive.

ten [ten] num the number 10; see also five.

tenable ['tenəblɪ] adj -1. [position, argument] that is reasonable and can be defended successfully. -2. [job, post] that can be held by somebody for a particular length of time □ The post is tenable for three years initially.

tenacious [tə'neɪʃəs] adj [person, dog, opponent] that is very determined and does not accept defeat or failure easily.

tenacity [tə'næsəti] n: see tenacious.

tenancy ['tenənsɪ] (pl tenancies) n -1. a period of time during which somebody pays rent for land, a house, apartment etc. -2. the use of land, a house, apartment etc for which a person pays rent □ a tenancy agreement.

tenant ['tenənt] n a person who pays rent to live or work in a building.

NOTE: Compare landlady, landlord.

Ten Commandments npl the Ten Commandments the laws that, according to the Jewish and Christian religions, were given by God to Moses on Mount Sinai.

tend [tend] vt -1. to tend to do sthg to do sthg often □ I'm afraid that tends to be the case. □ He tends to be a little rash in his decisions. -2. [patients, garden, sheep] to take care of .

tendency ['tendənsɪ] (pl tendencies) n -1. a pattern of behavior, events etc that involves something happening often □ There is a tendency to overspend at this time of year. ■ a tendency toward sthg a tendency that suggests sthg is happening more and more □ These figures show a tendency toward lower staff levels. -2. a pattern in somebody's behavior that is part of their character □ musical/murderous/anarchic tendencies □ She has a tendency to exaggerate.

tender ['tendəʃ] ◇ adj -1. [person, feeling, word] that seems gentle and caring. -2. [meat; steak] that is soft and easy to cut and chew. -3. [bruise, foot, wound] that is sore and hurts when it is touched. -4. phrase at a tender age at a very young and innocent age □ She acted in her first movie at the tender age of eleven. ◇ n BUSINESS an offer to provide goods or a service to a customer at a particular price □ Have you put in a tender for the Forbes contract yet? ◇ vt [resignation, money, apology] to offer <sthg> formally (formal use).

tenderize, -ise ['tendəraɪz] vt to make <meat> tender by preparing it in a particular way.

tenderly ['tendərlɪ] adv [speak, hold, treat] in a gentle and caring way.

tendon ['tendən] n a part of the body like a strong cord that connects a muscle to a bone.

tendrils ['tendrəl] n a short curling part that grows from the main stem of a plant and is used by the plant to attach itself to something.

tenement ['tenəmənt] n a large old building, especially in the poor part of a city, that is divided into small apartments.

Tenerife [,tenə'ri:f] the largest of the Canary Islands and a popular tourist center. SIZE: 1,919 sq kms. POPULATION: 500,000. CAPITAL: Santa Cruz.

tenet ['tenət] n one of the beliefs on which a larger system of beliefs or a theory is based (formal use).

tenner ['tenə] n a tenner GB (informal use) ten pounds; a bill with a value of ten pounds.

Tennessee [,tenə'si:] a state in the southeastern USA, situated between the Appalachian Mountains and the Mississippi River. ABBREVIATION: TN. SIZE: 109,412 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,877,185 (Tennesseans, Tennesseecans). CAPITAL: Nashville.

Tennessee Valley Authority n the Tennessee Valley Authority a US government agency that controls natural resources in the area of the Tennessee River. It was established in 1933 and is one of the first examples of a government protecting the environment.

tennis ['tenəs] n a game played by two people or two pairs of people who stand on opposite sides of a low wide net and use tennis rackets to hit a small ball over it □ tennis clothes □ a tennis match/club/player.

tennis ball n a small rubber ball covered in a soft material that is used in tennis.

tennis court n the rectangular area for playing tennis on a surface of grass, asphalt etc.

tennis player n a person who plays tennis.

tennis racket n a wooden or metal object with a long handle and a rounded flat part with strings stretched across it, used to hit the ball in tennis.

Tennyson ['tenəsən], Alfred (1809–1892) a British poet whose best-known work is The Charge of the Light Brigade. He is also called Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

tenor ['tenə] ◇ n -1. MUSIC the highest natural male singing voice; a man who has this voice. -2. the tenor of sthg [of somebody's reply, letter, tone] the general meaning suggested by sthg (formal use). ◇ adj MUSIC [voice, recorder, saxophone] that can produce a range of notes similar to that of the tenor.

tenpins ['tenpɪnz] US, tenpin bowling [ˌtenpɪn-] GB n an indoor game in which one tries to knock down ten wooden bottle-shaped objects with a heavy ball that one rolls along a long narrow section of floor.

tense [tens] ◇ adj -1. [person] who seems worried and unable to relax; [period, situation] in which one is worried and unable to relax. -2. [body, muscles] that is stiff and not moving, especially because of effort or concentration. ◇ n GRAMMAR the form of a verb that shows whether one is referring to the past, present, or future. ◇ vt to make <one's body, muscles> etc tense. ◇ vi [person, animal, muscles] to become stiff, especially because of effort or concentration □ He tensed, listening for sounds from downstairs.

tensed up [ˌtens-] adj to be tensed up to be anxious and unable to relax.

tension ['tenʃn] n -1. [in oneself] a feeling of worry or pressure that makes it difficult for one to relax □ Overwork causes tension. -2. [between two people] disagreement or bad feelings in a relationship between two people. -3. [between countries] a situation in which people do not trust each other and there may be violence as a result □ Tension is mounting in the region. -4. TECHNOLOGY [of a wire, rope] the degree to which something is stretched tight.

◆ tensions npl feelings of tension between people, countries etc □ racial/family tensions.

ten-spot n US a ten-dollar bill (informal use).

tent [tent] n a movable shelter, used for camping, that is made of nylon or canvas stretched over poles and held down by ropes.

tentacle ['tentəkl] n one of the arms of a squid, octopus etc that are used for touching and holding things, and for moving around.

tentative ['tentətɪv] adj -1. [person, handshake] that seems uncertain and does not show much confidence □ the first tentative steps toward reform. -2. [agreement, proposal] that has not been finally accepted.

tentatively ['tentətɪvli] adv: see tentative □ She looked tentatively into the room. □ The delegates tentatively agreed on a date for resuming talks.

tenterhooks ['tentə'huks] npl to be on tenterhooks to be waiting for something anxiously.

tenth [tenθ] num 10th; number ten in a series; see also fifth.

tent peg n a wooden or metal peg used to keep a tent firmly in a particular position.

tent pole n a pole used to support the material of a tent.

tenuous ['tenjuəs] adj [argument, connection] that is weak and not very convincing.

tenure ['tenjə] n (formal use) -1. the legal right to use a particular building or piece of land during a fixed period of time. -2. the right to keep a job as a university teacher for as long as one wants □ She's lucky: she has tenure.

tepee ['ti:pi:] n a tent shaped like a cone made by the Plains Indians from animal skins.

tepid ['tepɪd] adj -1. [water, bath] that is warm, but not very warm. -2. [performance, welcome, speech] that does not show much energy or enthusiasm (disapproving use).

tequila [tə'ki:lə] n a strong alcoholic drink made in Mexico.

Ter. GB abbr of terrace.

term [tɜ:'m] ◇ n -1. a word or expression that refers to a particular thing, especially something technical □ a banking term. -2. POLITICS the fixed period of time during which a particular party, president, prime minister etc stays in power after being elected □ It doesn't look like he'll make it to a second term in office. -3. the length of time that a particular job or situation lasts □ a prison term. ■ in the long/short term over a long/short period of time in the future. -4. EDUCATION one of the periods of time into which the year is divided in a school, college, or university.

◇ vt to be termed sthg to be called sthg □ The top part of a shoe is termed "the upper".

◆ terms npl -1. the conditions of a contract, agreement, proposal etc □ We do this on my terms or not at all. -2. in international/real etc terms if one considers the international/real etc situation □ In economic terms, the policy is bound to be a winner. -3. on equal or the same terms [meet, hold discussions] at the same social or professional level. ■ to be on good terms [people] to have a good relationship with each other □ At least I'm on good terms with my bank manager. ■ not to be on speaking terms with sb to have such a bad relationship with sb that one does not speak to them □ They haven't been on speaking terms for years. -4. phrase to come to terms with sthg to accept sthg unpleasant and not let it affect one's life too much □ She's only just starting to come to terms with the death of her son.

◆ in terms of prep a phrase used to refer to one particular aspect of a situation □ In terms of inflation, the policy works. ■ to be thinking in terms of sthg to be considering sthg □ I was thinking more in terms of buying than renting.

terminal ['tɜ:'mɪnəl] ◇ adj -1. [illness, cancer] that cannot be cured and causes death. -2. [patient, ward] that is connected with terminal illness. ◇ n -1. [for planes, trains, buses] a place where planes, trains, or buses load and unload passengers or goods, and begin and end their trips. -2. COMPUTING a keyboard and screen that can be used for putting information into a large computer and getting information from it. -3. ELECTRICITY one of the points on an electrical circuit at which a connection can be made.

terminally ['tɜːmənəli] adv terminally ill [person] who is suffering from a terminal illness.

terminate ['tɜːmənɪt] ◇ vt (formal use) -1. [agreement, contract, discussion] to end <sthg> completely and formally. -2. MEDICINE to end  by carrying out an abortion. ◇ vi -1. [bus, train] to come to the end of its route in a particular place. -2. [contract] to come to an end.

termination [ˌtɜːmənɪ'eɪʃn] n -1. [of an agreement, discussion, contract] see terminate. -2. MEDICINE a medical operation to end a pregnancy.

termini ['tɜːmənəli] plural of terminus.

terminology [ˌtɜːmənɒlədʒɪ] n the technical words and expressions used by people who know a lot about a particular subject □ medical/scientific/computer terminology.

terminus ['tɜːmənəs] (pl termini OR terminuses) n a station where a bus or train ends its route.

termite ['tɜːmaɪt] n a small insect that is found mainly in very hot countries, lives in nests made of mounds of earth, and feeds on wood or plants.

Terr GB abbr of terrace.

terrace ['tɜːrəs] n -1. [of a building] a flat area outside a house, restaurant, hotel etc where people can sit, eat meals, or drink. -2. [of land] one of a series of flat sections of land cut from the side of a hill to look like steps so that tea, olives, grapes etc can be grown there. -3. GB [of houses] a row of similar houses that are all joined together.

◆ terraces npl the terraces GB a series of wide steps at a soccer stadium where people can stand to watch games.

terraced ['tɜːrəst] adj [hillside, garden] that has terraces cut into it.

terraced house n GB one of the houses in a terrace.

terracotta [ˌtɜːrəkɒtə] n a reddish-brown clay that has been baked hard and is used for making flowerpots, tiles etc.

terrain [tə'reɪn] n an area of land that has particular features that affect how difficult or easy it is to travel across.

terrapin ['tɜːrəpɪn] (pl terrapin OR terrapins) n a small turtle that lives in rivers and lakes, especially in North America.

terrestrial [tə'restriəl] adj -1. that is connected with the Earth (formal use). -2. [animal, plant] that lives on the ground rather than in water. -3. terrestrial broadcasting/television etc broadcasting/television etc in which sound and pictures are sent from the Earth's surface rather than by satellite.

terrible ['terəbl] adj -1. [accident, experience, war] that one finds shocking or unpleasant because it is so severe □ I suffer from terrible headaches. □ The flooding caused terrible damage. -2. to feel/look terrible [person] to feel/look very unwell or unhappy □ You look terrible! -3. [meal, holiday, actor] that one thinks is very bad or of a very low standard □ "They refused to give me a refund." — "That's terrible!" □ My spelling's terrible. □ We had terrible service on the flight. -4. a terrible waste/shame etc a very great waste/shame etc □ What a terrible mess!

terribly ['terəblɪ] adv -1. [sing, play, write] very badly □ "How did it go?" — "Terribly!" -2. [care, mind, worry] very much. -3. terribly important/expensive etc very important/expensive etc □ I'm terribly sorry!

terrier ['tɜːriə] n a small type of dog used originally for hunting.

terrific [tə'rifɪk] adj -1. [idea, book, car] that one thinks is very good. -2. [thunderstorm, amount, noise] that is very great.

terrified ['tɜːrəfaɪd] adj [person, animal] that feels very frightened because they think something bad might happen □ She's terrified of him/flying. □ He was terrified that his wife would find out.

terrify ['tɜːrəfaɪ] (vt & pp terrified) vt to make  very frightened.

terrifying ['tɜːrəfaɪɪŋ] adj [experience, movie, thought] that makes one feel very frightened.

terrine [te'ri:n] n a type of pâté.

territorial [ˌtɜːrə'tɔːriəl] adj [border, airspace, dispute] that is connected with an area of land owned or controlled by a particular country.

Territorial Army n the Territorial Army GB a military force whose members are not professional soldiers but who train as soldiers in their free time.

territorial waters npl the area of the ocean near the coast of a country that belongs to that country.

Territorian [ˌtɜːrə'tɔːriən] n AUS a person who comes from the Northern Territory.

territory [US 'tɜːrətɔːri, GB -trɪ] (pl territories) n -1. an area of land that is owned or controlled by a particular country, government, or ruler □ overseas territories. -2. an area of land of a particular type □ mountainous territory. -3. an area of interest or knowledge □ This is new territory to me.

◆ Territory = Northern Territory.

terror ['tɜːrə] n -1. a feeling of extreme fear □ I screamed in terror. -2. to have a terror of sth to be very afraid of sth □ He had a terror of flying. -3. [child] a child who is annoying and hard to control (informal use).

terrorism ['tɜːrɪzɪzəm] n the use of violence, especially bombing and shooting, in order to achieve political aims.

terrorist ['tɜːrəstɪst] n a person who is involved in terrorism □ terrorist activities.

terrorize, -ise ['tɛrəraɪz] vt [population, neighborhood] to keep  in a constant state of extreme fear by using violence or threatening to use violence.

terror-stricken adj [person, face, refugees] very frightened.

terry (cloth) ['tɛrɪ-] n a type of thick cotton cloth with loose threads on the surface, used for making towels, bathrobes etc.

terse [tɜːs] adj [reply, remark, person] that uses few words and can sound impolite.

tersely ['tɜːsli] adv [say, reply] see terse □ "Suit yourself," she said tersely.

tertiary [US 'tɜːrɪəri, GB 'tɜːʃəri] adj [importance, development] that comes third in a series or on a scale (formal use).

tertiary education n education at a college or university.

TeryleneTM ['tɛrəlɪn] n a strong, light, synthetic material used for making clothes.

TESL ['tesl] (abbr of Teaching (of) English as a Second Language) n = TESOL.

TESOL ['tiːsɒl] (abbr of Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) n the teaching of English to people who live in an English-speaking country, but whose own language is not English.

test [test] ◇ n -1. [of equipment, a drug, vehicle] a process that one follows to check whether or not something works properly □ The engine was put through a series of tests. -2. [of one's courage, determination] a situation in which the true qualities of somebody or something become obvious □ Traveling all that distance alone was a real test of character. □ This will be a stern test of the countries' newfound friendship. ■ to put sb/sthg to the test to do something to find out the true qualities of sb/sthg. -3. [of a student] an examination of somebody's knowledge or skill in a particular subject or activity □ a history test. -4. MEDICINE a method used to find out if a part of one's body is healthy or if it contains a particular substance □ an eye test □ DNA tests.

◇ vt -1. [equipment, drug, vehicle] to do a test on <sthg>. -2. [friendship, courage, determination] to cause the true qualities of <sb/sthg> to become clear. -3. [eyes, blood, patient] to examine <sb/sthg> to see if they are healthy. -4. [student, class] to give <sb> a test in order to check their ability or knowledge. ■ to test sb on sthg to ask sb questions in order to find out how much they know about sthg.

testament ['testəmənt] n -1. LAW a document in which somebody states what should happen to their money, property etc after they die. -2. a testament to sthg [to somebody's skill, success] proof of sthg □ It's a testament to her determination that she never gave up.

test ban n an agreement between countries to stop tests on atomic weapons.

test card n GB = test pattern.

test case n a case in a court of law that is used as the basis for deciding future cases.

test-drive vt to drive  in order to see if one likes it enough to buy it.

tester ['testəʃ] n -1. a person whose job is to test equipment, food etc in a factory. -2. a bottle of perfume, a lipstick etc that a customer in a store can use to try the product.

test flight n a flight of a new plane to check how well it flies.

testicles ['testɪklz] npl the two round sex organs in the male that produce sperm.

testify ['testəfaɪ] (pt & pp testified) ◇ vi -1. LAW to make a serious statement in a court of law about something that has happened. -2. to testify to sthg to show that sthg is true. ◇ vi LAW He testified that he had seen the accused before.

testimonial [,testə'məʊnjəl] n -1. a formal written statement about somebody's character and abilities, often written by their employer. -2. something that is done, said, or given to thank or praise somebody publicly.

testimony [US 'testəmoʊni, GB -ɪməni] n -1. LAW a formal statement about something that is made in a court of law. -2. a testimony to sthg [to somebody's courage, love] proof of sthg.

testing ['testɪŋ] adj [time, situation, questions] that one finds difficult to deal with.

testing ground n an area where things, especially weapons, are tested; a situation in which new ideas are tested.

test match n GB one of a series of rugby or cricket games played between the teams of two countries.

testosterone [te'stɒstərɒn] n a chemical in men's bodies that gives them their male qualities and characteristics.

test pattern n US a picture or pattern broadcast on a television screen so that the quality of reception can be tested.

test pilot n a person whose job is to fly aircraft in order to test them.

test tube n a small glass container shaped like a tube with one closed end, used in scientific tests.

test-tube baby n a baby that has grown from an egg that was fertilized outside the mother's body and then put back in.

testy ['testɪ] (compar testier, superl testiest) adj [person, remark] that shows irritation.

tetanus ['tɛtənəs] n a serious disease that is caused by bacteria that get into wounds and that makes one's muscles become very stiff, especially in the jaw.

tetchy ['tɛtʃɪ] (compar tetchier, superl tetchiest) adj [person] who is easily annoyed or offended.

tête-à-tête [,tɛtə'tɛt] n a private conversation between two people.

tether ['tɛðəʃ] ◇ vt [horse, dog] to tie <an animal> to a post, fence etc at the end of a leash or rope □ The goat was tethered to the fence. ◇ n to be at the end of one's tether to feel that one cannot deal with a situation anymore because of worry, tiredness etc.

Texan ['teksn] n & adj: see Texas.

Texas ['teksəs] a state in the southern USA, on the Mexican border. It is a major center of the oil and gas industries. ABBREVIATION: TX. SIZE: 690,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 16,986,510 (Texans). CAPITAL: Austin.

Tex-Mex [ˈteks'meks] adj [cooking, music, restaurant] that is influenced by a mixture of Texan and Mexican culture.

text [tekst] n -1. [of a book, article] the main written part in a book, article etc. -2. [on a screen, page] written material. -3. [of an interview, speech] the written version of a speech, interview etc. -4. [for studying] a book, especially one that is used for studying.

textbook ['tekstbʊk] n a book that contains facts about a particular subject and is used especially in schools, colleges etc.

textile ['tekstail] n a woven cloth that is made in a factory □ a textile worker/factory □ the textile industry.

texture ['tekstʃə] n [of wood, paper, food] the way something feels when one touches it □ The cloth had the texture of fine wool.

TGWU (abbr of Transport and General Workers' Union) n the TGWU a large British labor union for people in many different trades and professions.

Thai [tai] n & adj: see Thailand.

Thailand ['taɪlənd] a country in Southeast Asia, covering part of the Malay Peninsula, and the mainland to the north. SIZE: 514,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 58,800,000 (Thais). CAPITAL: Bangkok. LANGUAGE: Thai. CURRENCY: baht.

ThalidomideTM [θə'lidəmaɪd] n a drug that used to be given to pregnant women but was withdrawn after it was proved in the 1960s to cause deformities in babies.

Thames [temz]: the Thames a river in southern England that flows through London into the North Sea.

than [stressed ðæn, unstressed ðn] conj -1. used in comparisons □ People started arriving a lot sooner than we expected. □ He seems happier than he was the last time I saw him. □ They're richer than us. □ We sell more wheat bread than white bread. □ The work won't take more than three days. -2. used to show what one chooses or prefers □ We decided to take a cab rather than walk. □ I'd rather eat at home than in a restaurant.

thank [θæŋk] vt to show one's gratitude to <sb> for something, usually by saying something □ I thanked everyone for their contributions/for coming. □ I can't thank you enough. ■ thank God OR goodness OR heavens! a phrase used to show relief.

◆ thanks ◇ npl feelings of gratitude □ I'd like to express my sincere thanks for all you've done. ◇ excl a word used to show one's gratitude to somebody □ Thanks a lot! □ Thanks very much. ■ no thanks a phrase used to politely refuse something that is offered □ "Would you like a drink?" — "No thanks."

◆ thanks to prep because of <sb/sth> □

Thanks to the help of all our volunteers we made over $2,000. □ Thanks to you, we lost the contract.

thankful ['θæŋkfl] adj -1. to be thankful for sth to be grateful for sth □ You should be thankful for all we've done for you. -2. to be thankful to feel relieved □ He was thankful to be at home at last/to have escaped.

thankfully ['θæŋkflɪ] adv -1. [accept, receive] gratefully. -2. thankfully,... a word used to show that one feels relieved about something that has happened □ Thankfully, nobody was hurt.

thankless ['θæŋkləs] adj [job, task] that is hard and that one is unlikely to be thanked or rewarded for.

thanksgiving [ˌθæŋks'gɪvɪŋ] n an act of thanking God.

Thanksgiving (Day) n a public holiday on the fourth Thursday of November in the USA, and on the second Monday of October in Canada. It celebrates the survival of the Pilgrim Fathers, who were among the first Europeans to settle in North America.

🕯️ THANKSGIVING

When the Pilgrim Fathers (the first settlers) arrived in North America in 1620, many of them died of hunger during their first winter. In the second year, the Native Americans in the region taught them how to grow corn and other local food. In the autumn, when the settlers saw that they had enough food to survive the winter, they had a Thanksgiving meal with the Native Americans. Many years later, in 1863, President Lincoln made Thanksgiving a national holiday. Most Americans now spend Thanksgiving with their families, and have a traditional Thanksgiving meal of turkey with cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes, and pumpkin pie.

thank you excl a phrase used to show one's gratitude to somebody □ Thank you for all your help. □ Thank you so much.

◆ thankyou n something that one says or does to show one's gratitude to somebody □ Let me just say a special thankyou to all the people who made this event possible. □ a thankyou note.

that [stressed ðæt, unstressed ðət] (pl those) ◇ pron -1. used to refer to a person or thing that has already been mentioned □ Here's $5 — will that be enough? □ After that we all had a drink to celebrate. □ Those are the guys I was telling you about. ■ those who... the people who... □ I'd like to thank all those who helped. -2. used to refer to a past action or event □ I don't remember her saying that. -3. used when pointing to a person or thing some distance away □ Who's that at the door? -4. phrases that's it used when one feels one cannot continue doing something □ That's it, I've had enough. I'm leaving! □ That's it then: we've tried everything. ■ that's that used to show one is not going to change one's mind □ I'm not going, and that's that!

◇ rel pron used instead of "who" or "which" to introduce relative clauses □ She's not someone that I know very well. □ It's the kind of mistake that's only too easy to make.

◇ conj used to introduce clauses that give more information □ She said that the matter was confidential. □ Everyone knows that he's taking early retirement. □ It's vital that they attend. □ I'm aware that this may cause problems.

◇ det -1. used to refer to a person or thing already mentioned □ Later that day another meeting took place. □ I'd forgotten all about those old photos I took. -2. used to refer to a past event or situation □ That decision was one of the hardest I've ever had to take. -3. used when pointing to a person or thing some distance away □ That woman over there looks like Diana! □ It's just past those traffic lights on the left.

◇ adv not that good/easy etc not very good/easy etc □ It's not that long since they hired him.

◆ at that adv used to give extra information □ She's a doctor, and a good one at that.

◆ that is (to say) adv used to explain or correct what one has just said □ He agreed — that is, he said he had no objection.

thatched [θætʃt] adj a thatched roof a roof that is made of straw or reeds. ■ a thatched house/cottage a house/cottage that has a thatched roof.

Thatcherism [ˈθætʃətɪzəm] n the political ideas associated with Margaret Thatcher who was Conservative Prime Minister in Britain from 1979 to 1990.

that's [stressed ðəts, unstressed ðəts] = that is.

thaw [θɔ:] ◇ vi -1. [ice, snow] to melt; [frozen food] to go from a frozen state to being ready to eat □ The cake should be left to thaw for about three hours. -2. [person, relations] to become more friendly after a period of unfriendliness. ◇ vt [ice, frozen food, snow] to cause <sthg> to thaw. ◇ n a period of warmer weather after a period of freezing weather, when snow and ice thaws.

the [stressed ði:, unstressed ðə, before vowel ðɪ] ◇ det -1. used to tell the listener or reader that they already know which particular thing or person is being talked about □ I bought a magazine and looked at the pictures. □ That's the woman I was telling you about. -2. used to refer to things from everyday life that everybody knows about □ on the phone/television □ in the media □ the teaching profession □ We swam in the ocean. □ The sun came out in the afternoon. -3. the bee is an insect bees are insects (used when making general comments) □ The car could ruin our cities. □ The Italians love their food. -4. used with parts of the body □ He was hit on the head. -5. used before the names of some common illnesses □ I have the flu/the mumps. -6. the old old people (used before adjectives to form plural nouns) □ help for the underprivileged/the disabled □ the British/Chinese/Swiss. -7. the Joneses the family called Jones (used with names) □ The Bensons are coming to dinner.

-8. used before the names of countries, regions, oceans etc □ the USA □ the Pacific Ocean □ the Philippines. -9. used in dates □ May the twelfth □ in the sixties. -10. used in titles □ Alexander the Great □ the President of the United States. -11. paid by the hour paid for each hour □ Our car does 40 miles to the gallon. -12. to have the time/money to have enough time/money □ I'm sorry, I just don't have the energy.

◇ adv the...the... used before two comparative adjectives or adverbs □ The more I see her the less I like her.

theater US, theatre GB [ˈθiətə] n -1. a building or a room in a building with a stage on which plays, shows etc are performed □ a theater production/program/box office. -2. the theater the activity or profession of working on plays in theaters, e.g. as an actor or director □ She's in the theater. -3. [in a hospital] a room in a hospital where operations are done □ He went into theater an hour ago. -4. US [for movies] a place where people go to watch movies.

theatergoer US, theatre-goer GB [ˈθiətəˈɡoʊə] n a person who regularly goes to theaters to see plays being performed.

theatrical [θiˈætrɪkl] adj -1. [production, costs, staff] connected with the theater. -2. [behavior, gesture, speech] that is exaggerated in order to impress people.

theft [θeft] n -1. the activity of stealing things from other people □ Theft is on the increase. -2. [of a wallet, car] an act of stealing things from other people □ I reported the theft to the police immediately.

their [stressed ðeə, unstressed ðə] det -1. used to say that somebody or something is connected with or belongs to a group of people or things that does not include oneself. ■ their house/car the house/car that belongs to them (used to refer to people) □ They lost all their money when the bank collapsed. □ Both of their children want to be doctors. ■ their wheels/lights the wheels/lights that are attached to them (used to refer to things) □ cars with their horns blaring. -2. used to say that somebody or something is connected with or belongs to a person when one does not know if that person is male or female □ Somebody has left their umbrella behind. -3. used in titles to refer to two or more people □ their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales.

theirs [ðeəz] pron used to refer to something that belongs to or is connected with a group of things or people that does not include oneself □ Our car broke down, so my parents lent us theirs. ■ it's theirs it belongs to them □ The land has been theirs for hundreds of years. ■ a friend of theirs one of their friends.

them [stressed ðəm, unstressed ðəm] pron -1. the people or things that have just been mentioned, seen etc (used as the object of a verb, and after prepositions) □ Bill and Tony told me to phone them as soon as I arrived. □ My wife likes olives, but I can't stand them. □ The

- secretary gave them each a form to fill out. □ The Smiths had been very kind, so we threw a party for them. -2. used as the object of a verb or after a preposition to refer to a person when one does not know if that person is male or female □ If somebody calls for me, tell them to call back later.
- thematic [θɪ'mæʃɪk] adj [approach, content] that is connected with a particular theme.
- theme [θi:m] n -1. [of a debate, conversation, speech] the main subject of something □ My theme this evening will be the single European currency. -2. [of a work of art, book, festival] the main idea that an artist, designer, writer, or decorator uses □ the theme of revenge in "Hamlet" □ The theme is military at this winter's Paris collections. -3. MUSIC a particular tune, in a longer musical work, that keeps returning. -4. = theme song. -5. = theme tune.
- theme park n an outdoor amusement park based on one idea.
- theme song n a song that is played during a movie.
- theme tune n a tune that is played at the beginning or end of a radio or TV program.
- themselves [ðəm'selvz] pron -1. used as the object of a verb, or after a preposition, to refer to the same people as the subject "they" □ They taught themselves to speak Japanese. □ They have left themselves no other option. □ They've built up quite a reputation for themselves. -2. used as the object of a verb, or after a preposition, to refer to the same person as the subject, when this could be male or female □ Somebody on the fifth floor has locked themselves out. -3. they did it themselves they did it without help from other people □ They tried to repair the TV themselves but in the end they had to call a repairman. ■ by themselves alone □ My parents prefer to go on vacation by themselves.
- then [ðen] adv -1. used to refer to a particular time in the past or in the future □ There were no computers then, so we had to do it by hand. □ I'll be in New York next week, so let's meet then. -2. used to show that an action comes after another action in time □ I checked my mail, then I read the papers. -3. used to show that what one is saying is connected with something that has been said before □ What are you going to do then? □ You've read it before then, have you? -4. used to show that one has reached a conclusion or made a decision □ OK, then, goodbye. □ I'll take the pink one, then. -5. used to show that one is drawing a conclusion or making a summary □ It is safe to say, then, that the drug has few side effects. -6. used in sentences beginning with "if" to show that something is a logical consequence or result of something else □ If today is Monday, then tomorrow must be Tuesday. □ If you help me, then I'll help you sometime. -7. used when one wants to add information or a comment to something one has said □ And then there's the problem of how to deal with students who are late.
- ◇ adj the then president the person who was president at that time □ Her then husband was head of the company.
- thence [ðens] adv (formal use) -1. from that place □ We traveled by train to Patras and thence by boat to Bari. -2. for that reason.
- theologian [θiə'lɒdʒən] n a person who studies theology.
- theology [θi'blɒdʒɪ] n the study of religion.
- theorem ['θi:ərəm] n a formula or statement in mathematics that can be proved by logic.
- theoretical [θi:ə'retɪkəl] adj -1. [need, leader] that is supposed to be true or real, but is probably not □ It's a theoretical possibility, but it will probably never happen. -2. [study, work] that is based on abstract ideas and theories and is not concerned with practical uses □ She's a theoretical physicist.
- theoretically [θi:ə'retɪkəlɪ] adv -1. according to a scientific theory □ Such weapons do not exist, though it's theoretically possible to build them. -2. a word used to say that something is supposed to happen, but that in fact it does not happen □ We all get paid the same, theoretically.
- theorist ['θi:ərəst] n a person who develops an idea to try to explain a particular subject or problem.
- theorize, -ise ['θi:əraɪz] vi to present a possible explanation for something without having any very definite facts □ All we can do is theorize about the reason for the change.
- theory ['θi:əri] (pl theories) n -1. an idea that is presented to explain something but that has not yet been proven □ Einstein's theories of relativity. -2. a set of abstract ideas about a particular subject □ the political theory of Hobbes. -3. in a subject one studies, the part concerned with ideas and principles rather than practical aspects □ My music exam has two parts, theory and practical.
- ◆ in theory adv a phrase used when something is supposed to happen or be true, but in fact may not happen or be true □ So, in theory, we arrive at about three o'clock. □ In theory, there's absolutely no risk.
- therapeutic [θə'reɪ'pjʊ:tɪk] adj -1. that makes a person feel better when they are tired, tense, or depressed □ I find sewing/gardening very therapeutic. -2. [treatment, drug] that has a good effect on a patient's health.
- therapist ['θerəpəst] n a person trained to do a particular type of therapy □ a speech therapist □ an occupational therapist.
- therapy ['θerəpi] n -1. the treatment of somebody who has a mental problem by talking to them over a period of time about their feelings, past experiences etc □ How long has he been in therapy? -2. treatment of an illness, especially without the use of drugs or surgery □ massage therapy.
- there [stressed ðeə, unstressed ðə] adv pron -1. there is/are used to say that something exists. ■ there's somebody on the phone somebody is on the phone □ There's a new leisure center in town. □ There aren't any cookies left. □ Were there any problems getting here? □

There must be some mistake. -2. used with certain verbs, e.g. "follow", "remain", "exist", "grow", "stand", "come", to introduce the real subject of a sentence (formal use) □ There remain several issues to be decided. □ There now follows a party political broadcast. □ There comes a time when one has to say no.

◇ adv -1. it is there to be used it exists to be used □ Teachers are supposed to be there to help. ■ is anybody there? is anybody present or available? □ I called the consulate, but there was nobody there who could answer my question. -2. she is there she is in that place □ He was born in Boston and went to school there. ■ I am going there I am going to that place □ You can get to the island by ferry, or you can fly there. ■ over there used to indicate a place that is a short distance away □ The keys are over there on the table. ■ it's ten miles there and back the distance to go from here to that place and to come back here is ten miles. -3. used to indicate a point in a conversation or logical argument □ I'm afraid I can't agree with you there. -4. used to refer to a particular stage in a process or activity □ I'm afraid we'll have to leave it there for today. ■ we're getting there we are starting to achieve our goals □ The company may not be making a profit yet, but we're getting there. -5. phrases he/she is not all there he/she is crazy (informal use). ■ there you are a phrase used when one is giving somebody something that they have asked for; a phrase used to show that a situation is as one expected; a phrase used to show that one does not like a situation, but that it cannot be changed □ There you are, don't drop it. □ There you are, I told you you'd find it. □ The system is pretty inefficient, but there you are.

◇ excl used to show that a situation is as one expected □ There, I knew it would be OK in the end. ■ there, there a phrase used when one is trying to calm down a person, especially a baby, who is upset □ There, there, don't cry.

◆ there and then, then and there adv immediately □ I should have left there and then.

thereabout [ˌðeərə'baʊt] US, thereabouts [ˌðeərə'ə'baʊts] adv eight o'clock or thereabout approximately eight o'clock □ The rail link will be finished in 2010 or thereabout.

thereafter [US ˌðer'æftɹ, GB ˌðeərə'ɑ:ftə] adv after that (formal use).

thereby [ˌðeə'bi] adv used to introduce the result of a particular action (formal use) □ Share prices fell sharply, thereby creating panic among investors.

therefore [ˌðeə'fɔ:ɹ] adv used to introduce the logical result of something that has been mentioned □ Some equipment has disappeared, therefore we are introducing stricter controls.

therein [ˌðeə'ri:n] adv -1. in the place that has been mentioned (formal use) □ ...and all that is contained therein. -2. therein lies the problem/situation/difficulty etc the problem/situation/difficulty etc is a result of that □ The author has a highly original approach, and therein lies the interest of the book.

there's [stressed ðeə'z, unstressed ðə'z] = there is.

thereupon [ˌðeərə'pɒn] adv after that (formal use).

thermal [ˈθɜ:ml] adj -1. TECHNOLOGY [energy, insulation] that is connected with heat. -2. thermal gloves/underwear etc gloves/underwear etc that are specially designed to keep people warm in cold weather.

thermodynamics [ˌθɜ:ˈmɔ:də'næmɪks] n the branch of physics that deals with the relationship between heat and movement.

thermometer [θə'ɒmɪtə] n a device used to measure temperature.

thermonuclear [ˌθɜ:ˈmɔ:ˈnju:klɪə] adj [energy, reaction, bomb] that is connected with the high temperatures caused by nuclear fusion; [war] that involves thermonuclear weapons.

thermoplastic [ˌθɜ:ˈmɔ:plæstɪk] ◇ n a plastic that is soft when heated, but hard when cool. ◇ adj: thermoplastic material.

ThermosTM [ˈθɜ:ˈmɔ:s] n a Thermos flask OR bottle a container with an inside and an outside wall and a vacuum between them, used to keep liquids hot or cold.

thermostat [ˈθɜ:ˈmɛstæt] n a device that controls or regulates temperature and keeps it at a fixed level □ the central heating thermostat.

thesaurus [θəˈzɔ:ɪəs] (pl thesauruses) n a reference book where words with similar meanings are put together under headings, so that one can find a word that one cannot think of.

these [ði:z] plural of this.

thesis [ˈθi:zɪs] (pl theses [-i:zɪ]) n -1. an idea that is presented using logic, often to try to explain something. -2. a long piece of original writing done as part of a university degree, especially a PhD, and based on research □ She's writing her thesis on French women writers.

they [ðeɪ] pron -1. the people or things that have just been mentioned, seen etc (used as the subject of a verb) □ I invited Louise and Sue, but they couldn't come. □ Who are they? □ Don't eat these eggs, they're past their expiration date. -2. used to refer to people in general, or to people in authority □ They say he's been married before. □ They're going to raise taxes again. -3. used as the subject of a verb to refer to somebody when one does not know if that person is male or female □ Somebody called earlier, but they didn't leave a message.

they'd [ðeɪd] = they had, they would.

they'll [ðeɪl] = they will.

they're [stressed ðeə', unstressed ðə'] = they are.

they've [ðeɪv] = they have □ They've no idea what they're doing!

thick [θɪk] ◇ adj -1. [piece, object, arm] that has a particular distance from side to side or from top to bottom □ three centimeters thick. -2. [layer, strip] that is wider or deeper than other things of the same type □ Some thick carpet would make the room warmer. -3. [hair, hedge, forest] that grows very closely packed □ He had long, thick hair. -4. [person] who is stupid (informal and disapproving use) □ I think he's just thick, that's all. -5. [liquid, sauce, mixture] that does not flow easily □ thick vegetable soup. -6. [smoke, mist, cloud] that is hard to see through □ A thick fog had descended. -7. [voice] that is not clear because it is affected by emotion or alcoholic drink; [accent] that is strong and difficult to understand □ "Please, don't leave," he said, his voice thick with emotion. □ a thick French accent. -8. to be thick with sthg [with mud, paint] to be covered with a thick layer of sthg; [with traffic, smoke, people] to be full of sthg □ The paths were thick with snow. □ The streets were thick with last-minute shoppers.

◇ n to be in the thick of it to be in the middle of a very busy activity □ We're in the thick of restructuring at the moment.

- ◆ thick and fast adv [come] quickly and in great numbers □ Reports of some catastrophe were arriving thick and fast.
- ◆ through thick and thin adv [remain, stay] through good times and bad times, whatever happens □ She promised to stick with him through thick and thin.

thicken ['θɪkən] ◇ vt [sauce, mixture] to make <sthg> less liquid, e.g. by adding a solid substance such as flour. ◇ vi -1. [smoke, mist, cloud] to become harder to see through. -2. [undergrowth, wood] to become harder to get through as one goes further. -3. [sauce, mixture] to become thicker □ Leave the soup on a low heat to thicken.

thickener ['θɪkənə] n a substance that is added to a liquid to make it thicker.

thicket ['θɪkət] n a group of trees and bushes growing very close together.

thickly ['θɪkli] adv -1. [spread, cover, apply] in a thick layer; [slice, cut] into thick layers □ two slices of thickly buttered bread. -2. thickly wooded/populated having a lot of trees/people in a small area. -3. [say] in a voice made less clear by strong emotion or drink.

thickset ['θɪk'set] adj [body, person] short and heavy.

thick-skinned ['sɪkɪnd] adj [person] who is not easily hurt by other people's criticism.

thief [θi:f] (pl thieves) n a person who steals, usually without seeing or hurting their victim □ a car thief.

thieve [θi:v] ◇ vt to steal <sthg>. ◇ vi: In the end, he started thieving from shops.

thieves [θi:vz] plural of thief.

thieving ['θi:vɪŋ] ◇ n the activity of stealing things □ A good deal of thieving goes on in this neighborhood. ◇ adj [person] who has stolen something (disapproving use) □ thieving kids.

thigh [θaɪ] n the top part of the leg, from where it joins the body down to the knee.

thighbone ['θaɪbəʊn] n the bone inside the thigh.

thimble ['θɪmbəl] n a small metal object that one wears on the end of one's finger when sewing, to stop the needle from going into one's skin.

thin [θɪn] (compar thinner, superl thinnest, pt & pp thinned, cont thinning) ◇ adj -1. [layer, material] that is less wide or deep than other things of the same type □ Could you cut me a thin piece of cake? -2. [person] who does not have much fat on their body □ How do you stay so thin? -3. [liquid, sauce, mixture] that flows easily □ thin soup. -4. [hair, vegetation] that does not grow closely packed; [attendance, support] that does not involve many people □ Attendance at the party meeting that week was pretty thin. ■ to be thin on top [man] not to have much hair (informal use). -5. phrases to appear out of thin air to appear mysteriously and very unexpectedly. ■ to disappear or vanish into thin air to completely disappear in a mysterious and sudden way.

◇ adv to be wearing thin [joke] to become boring after being told too often; [patience] to be coming to an end as a result of somebody's annoying behavior.

◇ vi to be thinning [hair] to be gradually falling out.

- ◆ thin down vt sep to thin sthg down [liquid, paint, mixture] to make sthg thinner by adding more liquid.

thing [θɪŋ] n -1. a word used to refer to a single fact, remark, action, detail etc □ There's no shortage of things to do here in the summer. □ I hope I did the right thing by keeping it. □ Chocolate is one of my favorite things. □ The thing I like about Kim is her sense of humor. □ Record players will soon be a thing of the past. ■ a terrible/funny thing happened something terrible/funny happened. ■ the important/difficult thing is... what is important/difficult is... -2. not... a thing not... anything □ He doesn't know a thing about politics. □ I haven't eaten a thing since lunchtime. -3. an object that one cannot or need not name, or that one has already mentioned □ What's that thing on your sleeve? □ If the printer jams again I'm going to throw the darned thing out of the window! -4. a word used in phrases that express the particular feeling one has for a person or animal □ You lucky thing! □ Poor thing, it's hurt its paw. -5. it's the thing it's the fashion (informal use). -6. phrases what with one thing and another for several reasons □ What with one thing and another, I didn't get home till midnight. ■ the thing is... a phrase used when one is starting to explain a problem or difficult situation □ I'd love to go, but the thing is, I'm seeing John that evening. ■ it's just one of those things it's something that cannot be avoided or explained (informal use) □ I don't know how it happened, it's just one of those things, I suppose. ■ to have a thing about sb/sthg to have an unusually strong liking for or dislike of sb/sthg (informal use) □ Mike has a real thing about flying. ■ to make a (big) thing out of sthg to make sthg seem very important (informal use) □ Look, I don't want to make a big thing out of it, but could you pay me back that money I lent you?

- ◆ things npl -1. one's things the clothes, objects etc that belong to one □ I packed all my things in a suitcase. □ Don't leave your things lying all over the floor! -2. swimming/tennis etc things the equipment, clothing etc needed for swimming/tennis etc □ Let's clear the breakfast things away first. □ Do you have any sewing things with you? -3. how are things? how is life in general? (informal use) □ "How are you?" — "Oh, things could be worse." □ The way things are going, we'll all be out of a job soon.

thingamabob ['θɪŋəməbɒb], thingummy(jig) ['θɪŋəmi(dʒɪg)], thingy ['θɪŋɪ] (pl thingies) n a word used when one cannot think of the proper name for an object.

think [θɪŋk] (pt & pp thought) ◇ vt -1. to think (that)... to have the opinion or belief that something is true □ Do you really think that we'll win? □ I don't think that's a good idea. □ Who cares what other people think! □ But I thought you already knew! -2. to have <sthg> in one's mind but not say it out loud □ That's funny, I was just thinking the same thing. □ "He's bluffing," I thought to myself. -3. I think I'll do it I am planning or intending to do it □ I think I'll work at home tomorrow. -4. to remember <sthg> □ I didn't think to bring any money. □ Try and think where you might have left the key. -5. phrases I think/don't think... a phrase used when one believes something to be true/not true but is not completely sure □ I don't think we've met before. □ "Do we have everything we need?" — "Yes, I think we do." ■ do you think... a phrase used to start a polite request □ Do you think you could turn the music down? ■ I can't think why/what etc... I can't understand why/what etc... □ I can't think why you didn't just call me.

◇ vi -1. to use one's mind to produce ideas, make decisions etc □ Be quiet a minute, I'm trying to think. □ Diana thought for a while before replying. □ Your problem is you think too much! -2. phrases just think! a phrase used when one wants somebody to imagine something pleasurable or exciting □ Just think — tomorrow we'll be in Rome! ■ to think better of sthg to decide not to do sthg after considering it □ He was going to complain, but then thought better of it. ■ to think nothing of doing sthg to think that sthg is normal or easy, although other people would find it strange or difficult □ She thinks nothing of spending $300 on a pair of shoes. ■ to think twice to consider something very carefully before doing it because it could have bad results □ I'd think twice before going on another vacation like that.

◇ n to have a think to think about something carefully in order to make a decision about it (informal use) □ Don't decide right away — have a think about it for a few days.

◆ think about vt fus -1. to think about sthg to have sthg in one's mind □ I've been thinking about what you said. -2. to be thinking about doing sthg to be considering doing sthg as a possibility □ They're thinking about selling the house.

◆ think back vi to remember events that happened in the past □ Try to think back to what happened.

◆ think of vt fus -1. to be thinking of doing sthg to be thinking about doing sthg □ We're thinking of getting married. -2. to think of sthg to remember sthg □ I can't think of her name right now. □ I often think of that week we spent in Miami. -3. to think of sthg to have an idea about sthg □ I've thought of a way to solve the problem. -4. to think of sb to have a particular opinion of sb □ He thinks very highly of you, you know. □ What do you think of her new boyfriend? ■ to think of sb/sthg as sthg to consider sb/sthg to be a particular thing □ I've always thought of you as a friend rather than a colleague. ■ to think a lot of sb/sthg to have a good/bad opinion of sb/sthg □ I didn't think much of that restaurant they took us to. -5. to show consideration for sb's feelings □ You never think of anybody but yourself!

◆ think over vt sep to think sthg over to consider sthg carefully □ I need some time to think this over.

◆ think through vt sep to think sthg through to consider everything that might happen as a result of sthg □ John, are you sure you've really thought this through?

◆ think up vt sep to think sthg up to invent sthg, especially in order to deal with a particular problem or situation □ You'll have to think up a good excuse for missing the meeting.

thinker ['θɪŋkə] n -1. a serious person who thinks a lot about things. -2. a person who expresses opinions on important questions that affect human life and society □ one of Germany's greatest modern thinkers.

thinking ['θɪŋkɪŋ] ◇ adj the thinking man/woman the sort of educated man/woman who is likely to think carefully about a particular subject □ the thinking man's choice.

◇ n -1. a person's thoughts and opinions □ According to that line of thinking, European unity is an excellent idea. ■ to my way of thinking in my opinion. -2. the process of thinking about ideas □ You'd better do some serious thinking about your future. -3. the theory that lies behind a particular plan and explains the reason for it □ The thinking is that people will come to prefer public transportation.

think tank n a group of people that is formed by a government or organization to advise them and to produce new policies or ideas □ a government/right-wing think tank.

thinly ['θɪnli] adv -1. [spread, cover, apply] in a thin layer; [slice, cut] into thin layers □ thinly sliced bread. -2. [grow] not in great numbers and not close together □ a thinly populated area □ Sow the seeds thinly. -3. thinly disguised OR veiled [remark, threat] that can be clearly understood even though it is deliberately expressed in a way that is not clear □ The proposal was a thinly disguised attempt to sell off the company.

thinner ['θɪnə] n a substance added to paint to make it more liquid.

thin-skinned [-'skɪnd] adj [person] who is too easily hurt by criticism.

third [θɜːd] ◇ num 3rd; number 3 in a series; see also fifth. ◇ n GB & AUS EDUCATION = third-class degree □ He got a third.

third-class degree n GB & AUS EDUCATION the lowest level of honors degree.

third-degree burns npl very severe burns.

thirdly ['θɜːdli] adv a word used when one is introducing one's third point □ And thirdly, there is simply no money available!

third party n a person who is not one of the two main groups or individuals involved in a business or legal affair.

third-party insurance n insurance that covers a person if they injure somebody else or damage somebody else's property.

third-rate adj [work, production, performance] that is of very poor quality (disapproving use).

third reading n GB the third and final time that a bill proposing a new law is read and discussed in Parliament.

Third World n the Third World the developing countries in Africa, Asia, and South America that are poor and do not have much industry.

thirst [θɜːst] n -1. a desire to drink □ He had a terrible thirst. -2. the condition in which people do not have enough to drink □ Millions are suffering from hunger and thirst. -3. a thirst for sth [for power, excitement] a great desire for sth.

thirsty ['θɜːstɪ] (compar thirstier, superl thirstiest) adj -1. to be or feel thirsty to feel the need to drink □ "Are you thirsty?" — "Yes! Let's have a drink!" -2. thirsty work an activity that makes people feel thirsty because it is tiring or requires a lot of energy □ Phew! This is thirsty work!

thirteen [θɜː'tiːn] num the number 13; see also fifteen. ■ the Thirteen Colonies the 13 British colonies that formed the United States of America after the American Revolution.

thirteenth [θɜː'tiːnθ] num 13th, number 13 in a series; see also fifteenth.

thirtieth [θɜː'tiːθ] num 30th, number 30 in a series; see also fiftieth.

thirty [θɜː'tɪ] (pl thirties) num the number 30; see also fifty.

this [ðɪs] (pl these) ◇ pron -1. used to indicate somebody or something that is near, or has just been mentioned □ This is my house. □ Is this what you were looking for? □ These are the reasons for my resignation. ■ this is... a phrase used when one is introducing somebody to somebody else □ James, this is Diane Price, my boss. ■ this is... a phrase used when one is saying who one is on the telephone □ This is Dave King speaking. ■ this and that a phrase used to refer to things when one does not want to say exactly what they are □ "What did you talk about?" — "Oh, this and that." -2. used to talk about the difference between something that is near and something that is further away □ Which do you prefer, these or those?

◇ det -1. used to refer to somebody or something that is near, or has just been mentioned □ This fish is delicious. □ How can we avoid this problem in the future? □ These shoes hurt my feet. ■ this morning/afternoon/ evening the morning/afternoon/evening of today □ I got my credit card bill this morning. □ Let's go out this evening. ■ this week the week we are in □ I've been really busy this week. ■ this Sunday/summer the Sunday/summer that is coming; the Sunday/summer that is just past □ I'm at my parents' house this Christmas. □ This vacation has been fantastic. -2. used to talk about the difference between something that is near and something that is farther away □ My old office was OK, but I prefer this one. -3. used to refer to somebody or something that has not been mentioned before, especially in stories and jokes (informal use) □ So this man goes into a bar...

◇ adv used when one is indicating the size of something with one's hands □ The fish was this big. □ You only need this much salt.

thistle ['θɪsl] n a plant with sharp leaves and purple flowers, used as the symbol of Scotland.

thither [US 'θɪðr, GB 'ðɪðə] adv → hither.

tho' [ðəu] conj & adv = though.

Thomas ['tɒməs], Dylan (1914–1953) a Welsh poet whose best-known work is the radio play Under Milk Wood.

thong [θɒŋ] n -1. a long thin strip of leather. -2. US & AUS a sandal that is held on by a strap between the toes.

Thoreau [US θə'rou, GB 'θɔːrou], Henry David (1817–1862) a US writer who believed in peaceful protest against unfair laws. His work includes Walden, or Life in the Woods and Civil Disobedience.

thorn [θɔːn] n -1. a sharp point on the stem of a plant such as a rose. ■ to be a thorn in sb's flesh OR side [person, problem] to irritate sb a lot over a long period of time. -2. a bush or tree that grows thorns.

thorny ['θɔːni] (compar thornier, superl thorniest) adj -1. [bush, hedge] that is covered with or full of thorns. -2. [subject, problem, question] that causes difficulties □ We then had to tackle the thorny question of job titles.

thorough [US 'θɜːrou, GB 'θʌrə] adj -1. [work, check, investigation] that is done with careful attention to every possible detail, so that nothing is forgotten □ We have made a thorough search of the grounds. -2. [person, worker] who always does things in a careful way and checks every detail □ Lara is very thorough. -3. a thorough idiot/nuisance as much of an idiot/a nuisance as possible (used to emphasize degree or extent) □ The meeting was a thorough waste of time.

thoroughbred [US 'θɜːrɒbred, GB 'θʌrə] n a horse whose parents both belong to the same good breed □ a thoroughbred horse.

thoroughfare [US 'θɜːrɒfer, GB 'θʌrəfə] n -1. a way through somewhere, for pedestrians or vehicles □ 'No thoroughfare.' -2. a main street that is open at both ends (formal use).

thoroughly [US 'θɜːrɒli, GB 'θʌrə] adv see thorough □ It needs to be thoroughly examined. □ I was thoroughly bored with the whole thing. □ We enjoyed ourselves thoroughly.

thoroughness [US 'θɜːrʊnəs, GB 'θʌrə-] n [of work, a person, check] see thorough.

those [ðəʊz] plural of that.

though [ðəʊ] conj though he was sick, he went to work anyway he was sick, but he went to work □ Though it's quite a distance from the hotel, taxis are not expensive. ■ it was small, though comfortable it was small, but comfortable □ Though beautiful, her eyes were cold. ◇ adv despite this fact □ I couldn't leave them alone, though, could I?

thought [θɔːt] ◇ past tense & past participle of think. ◇ n -1. an idea □ I've had a sudden thought. □ What a thought! -2. the process of thinking □ Mary sat in the corner, lost in thought. -3. careful attention to a particular matter □ I didn't give it much thought at the time. □ Wait a minute, this needs some thought. -4. [of a philosopher, culture] the philosophical ideas of a particular person, time, or culture □ ancient Chinese thought. -5. a nice/kind thought a nice/kind thing that somebody has decided to do □ It's a nice thought to invite her, but I don't think she'll accept.

◆ thoughts npl -1. ideas □ He tends to keep his thoughts to himself. ■ to collect one's thoughts to organize one's ideas in a calm way □ Give me a few minutes to collect my thoughts. -2. opinions about a particular matter □ Could you let me have your thoughts on the issue?

thoughtful ['θɔːtfl] adj -1. [expression, mood] that shows signs that one is thinking about something □ He was looking pretty thoughtful. -2. [person, gesture] that shows consideration and kindness to somebody else □ Oh, thank you! How thoughtful of you!

thoughtless ['θɔːtləs] adj [person] who does not consider other people's feelings or needs □ That was a thoughtless thing to say!

thousand ['θaʊznd] ◇ num the number 1,000 □ several thousand people □ a thousand pounds/years.

◆ thousands npl a large number □ There were thousands of people at the airport. □ I've told you thousands of times, it's in the garage! □ This is going to cost thousands.

thousandth ['θaʊzntθ] num 1,000th, number 1,000 in a series □ a thousandth of a second.

thrash [θræʃ] vt -1. to hit <sb> very hard on the body, usually as a punishment □ He thrashed the boy with a whip. -2. [opponent, team, rival] to beat <sb> by playing much better than them □ We were thrashed on Wednesday!

◆ thrash around, thrash about vi [fish, animal, person] to move one's body around in a violent and uncontrolled way.

◆ thrash out vt sep -1. to thrash sth out [solution, idea, policy] to decide on sth after a difficult discussion. -2. to thrash sth out [problem, differences] to solve sth after a difficult discussion.

thrashing ['θræʃɪŋ] n -1. a physical beating, usually as punishment for something. -2. a complete defeat in a sporting competition.

thread [θred] ◇ n -1. [in sewing] a long thin piece of cotton, silk, nylon etc, used for sewing □ silk thread □ a piece of thread. -2. [of a screw] the raised part on the side of a screw that allows it to fit tightly. -3. [of an argument, conversation, story] the main line of ideas, arranged in logical order □ I'm afraid I've completely lost the thread of what you were saying. ◇ vt -1. to put thread through  before sewing. -2. to thread one's way through sth [through streets, crowds] to go through sth, avoiding the people or things in one's way.

threadbare ['θredbeəʃ] adj [carpet, coat] that has been used so much that the surface of the material has worn away □ The cuffs of his jacket were threadbare.

threat [θret] n -1. a statement telling somebody that if they do not do what one says, one will hurt them in some way □ Staff working for the organization have received death threats. -2. a very strong possibility that something very bad or unpleasant will happen to somebody □ The country is living under the threat of war/famine. □ Bandits pose a constant threat to travelers.

threaten ['θretn] ◇ vt -1. to tell <sb> that one will do something unpleasant if they do not do what one wants □ The boss had threatened me with dismissal unless my work improved. □ She even threatened to kill herself. -2. to threaten to do sth to seem likely to do sth, with unpleasant results □ Her drinking threatens to become a problem. -3. [security, position, outcome] to put <sth> in a dangerous position □ Drug-taking threatens the future of our nation's youth. ◇ vi [danger, storm] to seem likely to happen, and cause unpleasant results.

threatening ['θretnɪŋ] adj [person, letter, behavior] that expresses the intention to harm somebody or something □ He gave me a threatening look.

three [θriː] num the number 3; see also five.

three-D adj [image, effect] = three-dimensional.

three-day event n a horse-riding competition that lasts three days and includes different types of events.

three-dimensional [-di'menʃnəl] adj -1. [image, effect] that gives the impression of being solid. -2. [form, object] that is solid rather than flat.

threefold ['θriːfəʊld] ◇ adj -1. [advantage] that consists of three different things, effects etc. -2. [increase] that makes something three times bigger. ◇ adv [increase] Sales have risen threefold.

three-legged race [-'legəd-] n a children's game in which people run in pairs with one leg tied to their partner's leg.

three-piece adj -1. a three-piece suite a set of furniture consisting of a sofa and two armchairs. -2. a three-piece suit a man's suit consisting of a jacket, trousers, and vest.

three-ply adj [wool, yarn] that is made up of three threads; [wood, tissue] that is made of three layers.

three-point turn n in driving, a way of turning the car around in three moves.

three-quarters npl three out of four equal parts of a whole figure or amount □ Three-quarters of all applicants are female.

threesome ['θri:səm] n a group of three people who do something or go somewhere together □ We went around in a threesome.

three-star adj [hotel, restaurant] that has been awarded three stars in a guide book to show that it is very good.

three-wheeler [-'wi:lə] n a vehicle with three wheels.

Three Wise Men = Magi.

thresh [θreʃ] vt to beat <corn, wheat> etc in order to separate the grain from the rest of the plant.

threshing machine ['θreʃɪŋ-] n a machine for threshing corn, wheat etc.

threshold ['θreʃhəʊld] n -1. [of a building, room] a piece of wood or stone that forms the bottom part of a doorway; the doorway itself □ She will not even allow him over the threshold. -2. the level or amount at which something begins to happen or take effect □ The tax threshold has been raised by $700. □ I have a low pain threshold. -3. to be on the threshold of sthg [of a new discovery, breakthrough] to be about to do or experience sthg.

threw [θru:] past tense of throw.

thrift [θrɪft] n -1. the quality and practice of being thrifty. -2. US FINANCE = thrift institution.

thrift institution n US an institution where people can save money in accounts that give interest.

thrift shop n US a store where second-hand goods and clothes are sold by volunteer workers, and the money that is made goes to a charity.

thrifty ['θrɪftɪ] (compar thriftier, superl thriftiest) adj [person] who uses money and goods carefully in order not to waste anything.

thrill [θrɪl] ◇ n a sudden strong feeling of excitement, pleasure, fear etc; an event or situation that produces this feeling □ the thrill of flying for the first time □ Seeing him on stage, live, was a real thrill for me. ◇ vt [person, crowd, audience] to give <sb/sthg> a thrill. ◇ vi to thrill to sthg [to music, a story] to feel a thrill when one experiences sthg.

thrilled [θrɪld] adj [person] who is very pleased and excited about something □ She was thrilled with her present. □ We're thrilled to meet you. □ I wasn't exactly thrilled when he told me he couldn't come.

thriller ['θrɪlə] n a book, play, or movie that tells an exciting story with a lot of suspense, especially one involving crime and violence.

thrilling ['θrɪlɪŋ] adj [game, climax, drama] that is full of excitement and suspense; [news, discovery] that makes one feel very excited and pleased.

thrive [θraɪv] (pt thrived OR throve, pp thrived) vi [person, plant, business] to develop well and be strong, healthy, and successful □ That rosebush seems to be thriving. □ Most people hate business trips, but Jim thrives on them!

thriving ['θraɪvɪŋ] adj [person, plant, business] that is strong, healthy, and successful □ She now runs a thriving recruitment agency.

throat [θrəʊt] n -1. the back part of the mouth and the top of the passage that goes down into the neck □ I have a sore throat. ■ to ram OR force sthg down sb's throat to force sb to listen to or accept sthg when they do not want to □ I'm not interested in someone trying to ram their political views down my throat. -2. the front part of the neck □ He held a knife to my throat. ■ to be at each other's throats to be fighting bitterly or violently with each other.

throaty ['θrəʊtɪ] (compar throatier, superl throatiest) adj [voice, laugh, cough] that is low and sounds rough.

throb [θrɒb] (pt & pp throbbed, cont throbbing) ◇ n [of a pulse, heart] a regular beat that is often faster or stronger than normal; [of an engine, machine] a loud, vibrating, rhythmic sound. ◇ vi [heart, blood] to beat faster and more strongly than normal; [engine, machine] to make a loud, rhythmic, vibrating sound; [head, wound] to make one feel a series of strong, rhythmic, dull pains □ The lawnmower spluttered, then throbbed into life. □ My head was throbbing with the pain.

throes [θrəʊz] npl death throes violent uncontrolled movements that a person or animal experiences when they are dying and in great pain. ■ to be in the throes of sthg to be in the middle of sthg difficult or unpleasant □ We're in the throes of moving house.

thrombosis [θrɒm'bɒʊsɪs] (pl thromboses [-i:z]) n a serious medical condition in which some blood becomes thick and blocks a vein or artery.

throne [θrəʊn] n -1. a special chair used by a king, queen, emperor etc, or by a bishop. -2. the throne the position of being king, queen, or emperor □ How long was James II on the throne?

throng [θrɒŋ] ◇ n [of people, tourists] a large crowd. ◇ vt [place, city center, streets] to be in  in large numbers □ The pier was thronged with tourists. ◇ vi to go to a place in large numbers □ People thronged toward/around the new statue.

throttle ['θrɒtl] ◇ n the device on a motor vehicle or plane that controls the flow of fuel into the engine, and so controls the vehicle's speed; the lever or pedal that operates this. ◇ vt [person, cat, child] to hold <sb/sthg> tightly by the throat in order to stop them breathing and to kill them □ I could throttle that man!

through [θru:] ◇ prep -1. to go through a door/gap to go in one side or end of a door/gap and come out at the other □ Drill a hole through the wood. □ I crawled through a hole in the fence. □ At last we got through customs. □ The blood had soaked through the bandage. -2. to cut/bite through sthg to cut/bite sthg into two separate pieces □ Cut through the rope! -3. to see/hear/feel sthg through sthg to see/hear/feel sthg that is on the other side of sthg □ I could hear them arguing through the wall. □ He felt the bird's heart beating through its soft feathers. -4. to walk/travel through a place to walk/travel in a place; to walk/travel from one end of a place to the other □ We strolled through the empty city streets. □ His route took him through some dramatic scenery. □ They drove through the enemy lines to safety. -5. to look/read through sthg to look at/read sthg gradually □ It'll take days to go through all these applications! -6. to last/sleep through a period of time to last/sleep continuously from the beginning to the end of a period of time □ We stay open all through the winter. □ I slept through the earthquake. □ The flowers will bloom from April right through the end of autumn. -7. to go/live through sthg to be present or affected while sthg is happening □ He had lived through two World Wars. □ Through it all, she never gave up hope of seeing her family again. -8. Monday through Friday from Monday up to and including Friday □ He works Monday through Thursday, then has a break. -9. to happen through sthg to happen because of sthg □ The charity folded through lack of funding. -10. to do/get sthg through sthg to do/get sthg by using sthg □ Send it through the mail. □ I got the job through a friend.

◇ adj -1. to be through with sthg to have finished doing sthg; to no longer want to do sthg □ They'll soon be through with the drilling. □ I'm through with married men! -2. a through train a train that goes directly to a place, so that passengers do not need to change. -3. through traffic traffic that goes through a place and does not stop there.

◇ adv -1. to go/pass through to go/pass from one side or end of something to the other □ Pass the plates through to me. □ The immigration officer refused to let us through. -2. to read/play sthg through to read/play sthg continuously from the beginning to the end □ I started reading it, but got interrupted halfway through. □ Play it again right through from the beginning. -3. to cook sthg through to cook sthg thoroughly or completely □ Check that the contents are heated through before eating. ■ wet/frozen through completely wet/frozen □ Come in and get dry. You're soaked through!

◆ through and through adv completely or thoroughly □ She knows her subject through and through.

throughout [θru:'aʊt] ◇ prep -1. throughout a period of time continuously from the beginning to the end of a period of time □ She appeared calm and composed throughout the trial. -2. throughout a place/area in all parts of a place/area □ He has traveled extensively throughout the Far East. □ Fraud is a problem throughout the entire banking system. ◇ adv: Jameson remained silent throughout. □ The house has been modernized throughout.

throughput ['θru:put] n GB BUSINESS the amount of something that is processed by a computer, factory etc in a particular period of time.

throughway ['θru:weɪ] n US = thruway.

throve [θrouv] past tense of thrive.

throw [θrou] (pt threw, pp thrown) ◇ vt -1. [ball, stone] to move one's arm suddenly forward and let go of <sthg> one is holding so that it moves quickly through the air □ Rioters threw stones and bricks at police. □ Can you throw me that towel, please? -2. [person, object, clothes] to put <sb/sthg> in a particular place or position in a sudden or careless manner □ They were arrested and thrown into a police cell. □ Don't throw your clothes on the floor! □ He was thrown to the ground by the force of the explosion. -3. to move <one's head, arms, or hands> suddenly into a particular position □ Sally threw herself into a chair, saying she felt exhausted. □ I threw my arms around her. □ He threw back his head and laughed. -4. to throw oneself into an activity [into one's work, career] to become very involved in an activity □ After the divorce, he threw himself into his research. -5. to throw sb into sthg [into a state of panic, confusion] to suddenly make sb experience sthg unpleasant □ The news threw the entire school into a state of shock. -6. [rider] to make <sb> fall off their horse □ Stevens was thrown at the last fence. -7. phrases to throw sb a look OR glance to look OR glance at sb □ He threw me a look of absolute contempt. ■ to throw a fit/tantrum to have a fit/tantrum □ Margery will throw an absolute fit when she hears. ■ to throw a party to hold a party □ We've decided to throw a housewarming party. ■ it threw me it completely confused me because I was not expecting it (informal use) □ It was her appearance that really threw me — she looked so thin. ◇ n [of a ball, dice] an act of throwing □ That was a good throw.

◆ throw away vt sep -1. to throw sthg away [junk, old clothes] to get rid of sthg that one no longer wants or needs □ I threw away the receipt by mistake. -2. to throw sthg away [opportunity, money, happiness] to lose or not use sthg good that one has □ You've just thrown away your chances of promotion.

◆ throw in vt sep to throw sthg in to include sthg with another item being bought without increasing the price □ If you buy a computer they'll usually throw in some software.

◆ throw on vt sep to throw an item of clothing on to put on a piece of clothing quickly or carelessly □ I'll throw on a coat and be with you in ten minutes.

◆ throw out vt sep -1. to throw sthg out to get rid of sthg that one no longer wants or needs □ Don't throw out those newspapers, I haven't read them yet. -2. to throw sthg out [proposal, suggestion, plan] to reject sthg □ The bill was thrown out by Congress. -3. to throw sb out [of a job, the army, school] to force sb to leave a place □ He was thrown out of a club for being drunk and aggressive. □ You can't throw me out of my own home!

◆ throw together vt sep to throw sthg together [meal, dress] to make sthg quickly and casually □ It's nothing special — just something I threw together.

◆ throw up ◇ vi to vomit (informal use) □ I've been throwing up all night. ◇ vt sep -1. to throw sthg up [facts, ideas] to produce sthg new □ The research has thrown up some interesting problems. -2. to throw sthg up [dust, stone, water] to make sthg rise from the ground □ mud thrown up by a passing truck.

throwaway ['θrouəweɪ] adj -1. a throwaway cup/toothbrush etc a cup/toothbrush etc that is intended to be used only once and then thrown away. -2. a throwaway remark/line etc a remark/line etc that is said as if it were not important when it really is.

throwback ['θroubæk] n an idea, attitude etc that is like something bad that existed in the past □ a throwback to the Cold War.

throw-in n the act of throwing the ball back on the field in a soccer game.

thrown [θroun] past participle of throw.

thru [θru:] adj, adv, & prep US = through (informal use).

thrush [θrʌʃ] n -1. a small bird with a brown back and a spotted cream and brown breast. -2. an infectious disease caused by a fungus that affects the mouth and throat, and the vagina of adult women.

thrust [θrʌst] (pt & pp thrust) ◇ vt [knife, money, hand] to push <sthg> somewhere using force □ Jack thrust a twenty-dollar bill into my hand. ◇ n -1. [of a knife, body, group of people] a sudden forceful movement forward □ a sword thrust. -2. the power that is needed for a plane, car, rocket etc to move in a particular direction □ The engine generates a powerful forward thrust. -3. [of a report, program, article] the most important point or argument that something is presenting □ The thrust of Meyer's argument is this.

◆ thrust upon vt sep to thrust sthg upon sb to force sb to have sthg.

thrusting ['θrʌstɪŋ] adj [person] who is very demanding and aggressive and wants to be noticed.

thruway ['θru:weɪ] n US a very wide road for traffic that is going very fast.

thud [θʌd] (pt & pp thudded, cont thudding) ◇ n a dull soft sound like something heavy falling far away □ The box fell to the floor with a thud. ◇ vi [feet, guns] to make a thud.

thug [θʌg] n a violent man, especially a criminal.

thumb [θʌm] ◇ n the finger that can be placed opposite the four other fingers to pick things up and hold things □ Just put your thumb on there a second. ■ to twiddle one's thumbs to be doing nothing because one is waiting for something to happen □ Well, we can't just sit here twiddling our thumbs all day. ◇ vt to thumb a ride US OR lift GB to stand at the side of a road making a gesture with one's thumb in order to ask passing motorists for a free ride □ We managed to thumb a ride home.

◆ thumb through vt fus to thumb through sthg [book, magazine, article] to turn the pages of sthg quickly without really reading it.

thumb index n a series of curved hollows cut into the edges of the pages of a dictionary, encyclopedia etc to show where each letter of the alphabet begins.

thumbnail sketch [ˌθʌmneɪl] n a short description giving only the main details of something.

thumbs down n to be given OR get the thumbs down to be officially rejected □ The plan got the thumbs down last week.

thumbs up n to be given OR get the thumbs up to be officially accepted or approved □ Now that the new plans have got the thumbs up, building work can start.

thumbtack ['θʌmtæk] n US a short nail with a large flat top used for fastening pieces of paper, e.g. pictures, notices, or messages, to a wall, board, or other surface.

thump [θʌmp] ◇ n -1. to give sb a thump to hit sb hard, usually with one's fist. -2. a loud, dull noise □ It landed on the floor with a loud thump. ◇ vt -1. to hit or punch <sb/sthg> hard □ Dan thumped him in the stomach. -2. to put <sthg> somewhere heavily so that it makes a loud noise □ He thumped the books down on the table. ◇ vi -1. [person] to move heavily and noisily □ She thumped up the stairs. -2. [heart, head] to beat strongly and painfully □ His heart was thumping as he approached the door.

thunder ['θʌndə] ◇ n -1. the loud noise that follows a flash of lightning during a storm □ a loud clap of thunder. -2. [of traffic, drums] a loud noise like thunder □ The loud thunder of applause. ◇ vt to say <sthg> loudly and angrily □ "Come back here!" he thundered. ◇ vi [gun, traffic, drums] to make a loud noise like thunder □ The trucks thundered along the road. ◇ v impers it is thundering there is thunder □ It's going to thunder.

thunderbolt ['θʌndə'boʊlt] n -1. a flash of lightning followed by thunder. -2. a sudden event that causes great surprise, worry, shock etc.

thunderclap ['θʌndə'kleɪp] n a loud noise of thunder just after a flash of lightning.

thundercloud ['θʌndə'klaʊd] n a large dark cloud that looks as if it will produce thunder and lightning.

thunderous ['θʌndərəs] adj [noise, applause, voice] that is very loud □ The performance was followed by thunderous applause.

thunderstorm ['θʌndə'stɔ:ɪm] n a storm of heavy rain, thunder, and lightning.

thunderstruck ['θʌndə'strʌk] adj to be thunderstruck to be very surprised and shocked.

thundery ['θʌndəri] adj [weather, sky] that looks as if there will be thunder; that produces thunder.

Thur., Thurs. abbr of Thursday.

Thursday ['θɜ:zdeɪ] n the day of the week between Wednesday and Friday; see also Friday.

thus [ðʌs] adv (formal use) -1. a word used to introduce a statement that is the result or logical consequence of something that was said before □ More allegations were made, thus prompting renewed calls for an investigation.

 -2. in this way □ The printer is activated thus.

thwart [θwɔ:t] vt [person] to prevent <sb> from doing or getting something that they want; [plans, attack, expectations] to prevent <sthg> from happening □ Her ambitions were thwarted.

thyme [taɪm] n a plant with very small leaves that have a strong sweet smell and are used to give flavor to food.

thyroid [ˈθaɪrɔɪd] n a gland at the front of the neck that produces substances that control growth and behavior □ an overactive thyroid.

tiara [US tɪˈæərə, GB -ˈɑ:rə] n a piece of jewelry that looks like a small crown without a back and is sometimes worn by women at very formal occasions.

Tibet [tɪˈbet] a region in central Asia, north of the Himalayas. SIZE: 1,221,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,892,000 (Tibetans). CAPITAL: Lhasa.

Tibetan [tɪˈbetn] n & adj: see Tibet.

tibia [ˈtɪbiə] (pl tibiae [ˈtɪbi:] OR tibias) n the thicker of the two bones in the leg between the knee and ankle.

tic [tɪk] n a quick, sudden, uncontrolled movement, especially of the face, due to tiredness, an illness etc □ a nervous tic.

tick [tɪk] ◇ n -1. [sound] the regular, short, clicking sound made by a working clock or watch with hands □ The quiet tick of the clock. -2. [insect] a small insect that lives on the skin of a human or animal and sucks their blood. -3. GB [symbol] a symbol (✓) put next to something on a list to show that it is correct or acceptable, that the person on the list is present etc. ◇ vt GB [name, answer] to write a tick next to or in <sthg> □ Tick the appropriate box. ◇ vi -1. [clock, watch] to make a regular, short, clicking sound. -2. what makes sb tick the reasons why sb behaves the way they do □ I've never understood what makes him tick.

◆ tick away, tick by vi [seconds, minutes, hours] to pass □ As the last seconds of 1995 ticked away...

◆ tick off vt sep -1. to tick sth off [item, name on a list] to write a tick next to sthg □ Have you ticked me off? -2. to tick sb off US to make sb angry (informal use) □ His attitude really ticks me off! -3. to tick sb off GB to talk severely to sb in order to show that one is annoyed or unhappy with something that they have done.

◆ tick over vi -1. GB [engine] to be switched on and running at low power but not moving the vehicle □ Leave the engine ticking over. -2. [business, organization] to be functioning, but at a very low level □ "How are things going?" — "Oh, ticking over."

ticked [tɪkt] adj US annoyed.

tickertape [ˈtɪkəˈteɪp] n very long narrow strips of paper on which information such as stock-exchange prices is printed by a machine.

tickertape parade n in the USA, an occasion when a famous person or group of people is welcomed to a town by people throwing small pieces of paper over them from high buildings.

ticket [ˈtɪkət] n -1. a small piece of paper or card that proves that one has paid to go on a bus or train trip, or to get into a museum, theater, movie theater etc; a small piece of paper or card, usually with one's name and a number on it, that shows that one has the right to get or use something □ I'd like two tickets for tonight's performance of "Cats", please. □ If you don't have a ticket you'll be fined. □ an opera ticket. -2. [on a product] a label on a product that shows its price, size, washing instructions etc □ a price ticket. -3. [for an offense] an official document that is given to a person because they have committed a driving or parking offense, ordering them to pay a fine or appear in court □ I was given a parking ticket. -4. POLITICS the party or policies that a candidate in an election represents □ the Republican/anti-abortion ticket.

ticket agency n an organization that sells tickets for an airline, theater etc.

ticket collector n a person whose job is to check or collect people's tickets on a train or in a train station.

ticket holder n a person who has a ticket for something.

ticket inspector n a person whose job is to inspect people's tickets on a bus or a train.

ticket office n the place where tickets are sold at a train station, theater etc.

ticking off [ˌtɪkɪŋ-] (pl tickings off) n GB to give sb a ticking off to talk severely to sb in order to show that one is annoyed or unhappy with something that they have done (informal use) □ He got a ticking off for being so rude.

tickle [ˈtɪkl] ◇ vt -1. [person, somebody's feet] to touch <sb/sthg> lightly with one's fingers, a feather etc in order to make them laugh; [skin, nose, throat] to cause a slight itching or scratching feeling in  □ Don't tickle me! □ A cough that kept tickling my throat. -2. to please or amuse <sb> □ The idea tickled me. ◇ vi to make one feel a slight itching or scratching sensation □ Stop! That tickles!

ticklish [ˈtɪklɪʃ] adj -1. [person, part of one's body] that is sensitive to being tickled □ Are you ticklish? -2. [problem, situation, task] that is difficult and needs to be dealt with very carefully.

tick-tack-toe n US a game played on paper in which two people each try to get a row of three Os or three Xs on a grid in which two horizontal lines cross two vertical lines.

tidal [ˈtaɪdl] adj [estuary, river] that has tides; [current, flow] of a tide.

tidal wave n a very large wave that comes over the land from the sea, often caused by underwater explosions such as earthquakes.

tidbit [ˈtɪdbɪt] US, titbit [ˈtɪtbɪt] GB n -1. a small tasty piece of food. -2. a small piece of gossip, scandal etc.

tiddlywinks [ˈtɪdlɪwɪŋks] n a game in which players try to make small round pieces of colored plastic jump into a container by pressing their edges with a larger piece of plastic.

tide [taɪd] n -1. the regular rise and fall in the level of the sea □ The tide is in/out. -2. [of opinion, fashion, history] a general feeling or tendency at a particular time □ They were swept along on the tide of events. □ the rising tide of nationalism. -3. [of protest, people] a large amount or number.

◆ tide over vt sep to tide sb over to help sb get through a difficult period, usually by lending them money □ Could you lend me some money to tide me over?

tidemark ['taɪdmɑ:k] n a mark on the shore left by the tide at its highest point.

tidily ['taɪdli] adv [pack, park] see tidy.

tidings ['taɪdɪŋz] npl news (literary use).

tidy ['taɪdi] (compar tidier, superl tidiest, pt & pp tidied) ◇ adj -1. [room, desk, person] that is neat and orderly in appearance □ Everything in the kitchen was neat and tidy. -2. [person] who likes everything to be neat and orderly □ Philippa's a very tidy person. -3. a tidy amount/sum etc a large amount/sum etc (informal use). ◇ vt [place, cupboard, hair] to make <sthg> tidy □ Let me just tidy my desk.

◆ tidy away vt sep to tidy sthg away [books, papers, clothes] to put sthg away in a box, drawer, cupboard etc so that a place looks tidy □ Could you tidy the dishes away?

◆ tidy up ◇ vt sep to tidy sthg up [place, room, cupboard] to make sthg look tidy by arranging things neatly, putting things away etc. ◇ vi: You'd better tidy up now.

tie [taɪ] (pt & pp tied, cont tying) ◇ n -1. CLOTHING a long narrow piece of cloth that men wear around their neck and over their shirt with a knot at the front □ He was wearing a jacket and tie. -2. [for fastening] a long narrow piece of string, wire, cloth etc used for fastening something, or for fixing one thing to another □ The bag fastened with a tie. -3. [with a person, place, organization] a feeling or relationship that connects a person, organization etc to somebody or something □ We're trying to develop stronger ties with industry. -4. [in a game] the result of a game or competition in which two teams, groups, people etc get exactly the same number of points or votes □ The game ended in a tie. -5. US RAIL one of the row of metal or wooden blocks that support a railroad track.

◇ vt -1. to tie sthg/sb to sthg to attach sthg/sb to sthg with rope, string, thread etc □ She tied the rope around the horse's neck. □ He tied the package with string. -2. [shoelace, knot] to fasten <sthg> □ Tie the ribbon in a bow. -3. to be tied to sb/sthg to be linked to sb/sthg □ The prospects of peace are very much tied to the outcome of these talks. -4. to be tied to sthg [to the house, office] to be unable to leave sthg □ I've been tied to my desk all day.

◇ vi [competitors, teams] to get exactly the same score or number of points □ The two skaters tied for first place.

◆ tie down vt sep to tie sb down to limit the freedom of sb □ She feels tied down by her job/family.

◆ tie in with vt fus -1. to tie in with sthg [arrangements, schedule] to be arranged in order to happen at the same time as sthg □ His plans didn't tie in with mine. -2. to tie in with sthg [ideas, statements] to be connected with or say the same thing as sthg □ What you're saying doesn't tie in with the facts.

◆ tie up vt sep -1. to tie sthg up [package, papers] to fasten sthg with string, rope, tape etc. -2. to tie one's shoelaces up to fasten one's shoelaces. -3. to tie sb up [person, prisoner] to tie rope around sb so that they cannot escape. -4. to tie an animal up to attach the bridle, leash etc of an animal up to a fixed object so that it cannot wander away. -5. to tie sthg up [resources, computer] to make it impossible for sthg to be used for some other purpose □ The money is tied up in various long-term investment accounts. -6. to be tied up with sthg to be closely connected to sthg □ The company's failure is tied up with the downturn in the market.

tiebreak(er) ['taɪbreɪk(ə)] n -1. an extra game played to decide the winner of a set in tennis where the score is 6-6. -2. an extra question at the end of a game to decide the winner when both teams or competitors have the same number of points.

tied [taɪd] adj [game] that ends with both teams having the same number of points.

tied up adj to be tied up [person] to be busy □ Mr Walters is tied up with a client right now.

tie-dye vt [garment, piece of cloth] to dye <sthg> by tying knots in it and putting it in dye so that some parts of it are not affected by the dye.

tie-in n -1. a tie-in with sthg a link with sthg □ There's a tie-in between poor diet and heart disease. -2. a product, e.g. a book or toy, that becomes available at the same time as it appears as a movie, TV program etc □ a TV/movie tie-in.

tiepin ['taɪpɪn] n a metal pin with a decorative head, used to fasten one's tie to one's shirt.

tier [taɪə] n [of seats, shelves, a cake] a row or layer □ The theater has three tiers.

tie-up n -1. a link between two things, where one thing is caused by the other □ a tie-up between the US and British economies. -2. US [in work, traffic] an interruption, usually because of an accident, incident etc.

tiff [tɪf] n a slight quarrel or disagreement between people, especially lovers or partners □ They've had another tiff.

tiger ['taɪgə] n -1. a large Asian animal like a cat that eats other animals for food and has an orange-brown coat with black stripes. -2. ECONOMICS a term used for any of the countries in Southeast Asia whose economies have recently become very strong □ the Asian tiger economies.

tiger cub n a baby tiger.

tight [taɪt] ◇ adj -1. [dress, jacket] that fits very closely or too closely to the body □ The jeans were a very tight fit. □ It's a little tight around the arms. -2. [lid, screw] that is very firmly fastened or in its place and difficult to move or undo □ Someone had tied the bag into a tight knot. -3. [skin, cloth, string] that is pulled or stretched so that it is smooth, flat, or straight □ The skin on my face felt so tight after using that shaver. -4. [bunch, group of people] that is closely packed together, especially in a very small space □ It was a tight fit to get everybody into the room. -5. [chest, stomach] that feels uncomfortable because of illness or nervousness □ I have a tight feeling in my chest. -6. [arrangement, plan] that does not allow much time for things to be done □ We're working on a tight schedule. ■ a tight budget a budget that does not allow much money for extra things. -7. [rule, system, control] strict □ Security at the airport is tight. -8. [corner, bend] that has a very sharp angle □ Careful — this is a very tight bend. -9. [game, finish] that is very close and competitive □ It was a tight finish between Benetton and Ferrari. -10. [person] who does not want to spend any money (informal and disapproving use).

◇ adv -1. [hold, squeeze, grip] firmly or securely □ Hold tight, there's a steep drop ahead! □ Make sure the lid is screwed on tight. □ Shut OR Close your eyes tight, now. -2. [stretch, pull] so that something is straight or smooth □ Now pull the cord tight.

◆ tights npl -1. a piece of clothing for women that is made of thin stretchy material and that covers the feet, legs, and lower body up to the waist □ a pair of tights. -2. a similar piece of clothing, made of thicker colored material, that is worn by dancers and actors.

tighten ['taɪtn] ◇ vt -1. [belt, knot, screw] to make <sthg> tighter. -2. [rope, chain] to stretch or pull <sthg> until it is straight. -3. to tighten one's hold on sb/sthg to hold sb/sthg more tightly. -4. [security, rules] to make <sthg> stricter □ The laws concerning drugs have been tightened. ◇ vi [grip, rope] to become tighter □ She tightened her hold on the rope.

◆ tighten up vt sep -1. to tighten sthg up [belt, screw] to make sthg tighter. -2. to tighten sthg up [security, control, rules] to make sthg stricter □ They've tightened up the entry requirements.

tightfisted [,taɪt'fɪstəd] adj [person] who does not want to spend money (informal and disapproving use).

tight-knit adj [family, community] in which all the members are very close, friendly, and helpful to one another.

tight-lipped [-'lɪpt] adj -1. [person] who has pressed their lips tightly together, usually in anger or determination □ Susan gave a tight-lipped smile. -2. [person, witness] who does not want to give information about something □ If they do know, they're keeping tight-lipped about it.

tightly ['taɪtlɪ] adv -1. [pack, fit] closely □ The boxes were packed tightly in a crate. -2. [hold, squeeze, grip] firmly; [fasten, tie, hold] securely □ She held on tightly to my hand. □ Hugh fastened the strap tightly over the case. -3. [pull, stretch] so that something is smooth or straight □ a tightly stretched rope.

tightrope ['taɪtroʊp] n a tightly stretched rope high above the ground, on which an acrobat walks and performs. ■ to be on OR walking a tightrope to be in a difficult or uncertain situation.

tigress ['taɪgrəs] n a female adult tiger.

tilde ['tɪldə] n a sign (˜) that is put over a letter in some languages, e.g. over the letter "n" in Spanish to show that it is to be pronounced [nj].

tile [taɪl] n -1. a thin piece of baked clay used for covering roofs □ roof tiles. -2. a thin piece of baked clay, cork, carpet etc, usually square or rectangular, used to cover surfaces such as floors, walls, and ceilings □ carpet/cork/polystyrene tiles.

tiled [taɪld] adj [floor, work surface, roof] that is covered with tiles.

tiling ['taɪlɪŋ] n an area covered with tiles.

till¹ [tɪl] prep & conj used in spoken English and in informal writing instead of "until" □ It won't be ready till tomorrow. □ I'll be at the office till 5:30. □ Don't do anything till you hear from me.

till² n a machine used in stores, bars, supermarkets etc for calculating how much a customer has to pay □ Ask the girl at the till.

tiller ['tɪlə] n a handle that is fixed to the back of a boat, and is used to steer the boat.

tilt [tɪlt] ◇ n [of a chair, one's head] a sloping position □ the tilt of the Earth. ◇ vt [chair, hat] to move <sthg> into a sloping position □ She sat listening to me, her head tilted to one side. ◇ vi: The chair tilted backward and he fell over.

timber ['tɪmbə] n -1. wood used for building □ a timber yard. -2. a long wide piece of wood that is part of the structure of a house, roof, ship etc □ roof timbers.

time [taɪm] ◇ n -1. the passing of hours, days, years etc, measured by clocks □ Time seemed to drag. □ We'll find out in the course of time. ■ to have no time for sb/sthg to dislike sb/sthg □ I have no time for soap operas. ■ to be/arrive in good time to be/arrive early. ■ to make good time to do something more quickly than one expected □ We made good time on the trip. ■ to pass the time to spend time doing something unimportant when one is waiting for something or has nothing to do □ We played card games to pass the time. ■ to play for time to deliberately try to delay something because one needs more time □ They know they're finished, they're just playing for time. ■ to take one's time to do something without hurrying, especially in order to do it carefully and properly □ You took your time getting here! □ I like to take my time preparing lunch. ■ to take time to happen slowly □ It will take time for the wound to heal. □ These things take time. ■ to take time out to do sthg to stop what one is doing in order to do sthg else □ You should take time out to relax a little. ■ time and a half one and a half times the normal rate of pay, usually offered for work done outside the usual working hours □ We get paid time and a half on Saturdays.

-2. what time is it?, what is the time? a phrase used to ask the specific time from somebody who has a watch or can see a clock □ The time is ten o'clock. □ Why are you calling at this time of night? □ Do you have the time, please? ■ to keep/lose/gain time [watch, clock] to measure time correctly/too slowly/too fast. ■ to tell the time [person] to be able to read a clock or watch; [device] to show what time it is □ Our new oven tells the time.

-3. a particular system of measuring time □ Eastern Daylight Time □ British Summer Time □ The flight gets in at 10:15 local time. -4. the period of time spent doing something □ I don't have much time to relax these days. □ You're wasting my time. □ How do you find (the) time to study as well? ■ a long/short time a long/short period of time □ It was some time before I saw her again. □ We only had a brief time together. ■ after/for a time after/for a fairly long period of time □ She worked for a time as a waitress. ■ in a week's/year's time after a period of a week/year □ We'll meet again in two weeks' time, then. -5. a particular point in time □ I was much fitter at that time. □ That must have been the time when he was working abroad. □ Next time I'll be more careful. □ That was the only time I ever lied to him. -6. a period in history □ in Churchill's time. ■ to be ahead of one's time to have ideas or knowledge that are not properly understood until much later □ As a scientist he was years ahead of his time. ■ that's before my time that happened or existed before I was born. -7. a moment or period that is suitable for something, or when something should be done □ Time for bed! □ Now would be a good time to ask. □ It's time we had a talk. ■ it's about OR high time a phrase used when one thinks something should happen immediately or should have happened before □ Isn't it about time you got a haircut? -8. used to say how often something happens □ Sean goes to aerobics three times a week. □ How many times do I have to tell you? -9. an easy/enjoyable etc time an experience that is easy/enjoyable etc □ Apparently they had a great time. □ I had a hard time trying to make myself understood. -10. MUSIC the speed of a piece of music □ a dance in waltz time.

◇ vt -1. [exam, meeting, program] to arrange for <an event> to happen at a particular time □ The firework display was timed for eight o'clock. □ The interview is timed to coincide with the launch of her new novel. -2. [activity, race, runner] to measure the amount of time taken by <sb/sthg> □ I timed him to see how long it took him to jog five miles. -3. [departure, remark, tackle] to choose the best time for <sthg> □ You were right to complain but you timed it badly.

◇ times ◇ npl -1. a word used to show that an amount has been multiplied by a particular number □ It now costs three times what it did ten years ago. -2. a particular period e.g. in history or in one's life □ These are hard times for small businesses. □ medieval times □ in Roman times. -3. phrases at the best of times even when things are going as well as possible □ It's a risky business at the best of times. ■ to be behind the times to be old-fashioned or out-of-date. ◇ prep MATH multiplied by □ Two times four is eight.

◆ all the time adv very often □ It rains all the time here.

◆ at a time adv one/two etc at a time in groups of one/two etc □ One at a time please! I can't serve everybody at once. □ Patients are allowed two visitors at a time.

◆ at one time adv in the past but not now □ At one time I thought of training as a doctor.

◆ at times adv sometimes □ He can be very irritating at times.

◆ at the same time adv -1. [happen, speak, arrive] together □ We both started college at the same time. -2. used to introduce a statement that contrasts with what has just been said □ We need to increase productivity. At the same time, quality must not suffer.

◆ for the time being adv for the present time, for a limited period □ You can stay at my place for the time being.

◆ from time to time adv occasionally □ From time to time I'd hear news of him.

◆ in time adv [be, arrive, finish] before it is too late □ Luckily, we got here just in time to hear her speech. □ We'll never get to the airport in time! ■ in time for sthg before the start of sthg □ We were home in time for lunch.

◆ on time adv at the correct or agreed time □ The show started right on time. □ Our plane arrived on time.

◆ time after time, time and time again adv used to show that something happens repeatedly, often in an annoying way □ Time after time we get the same complaint from customers. □ I've warned him time and time again about driving too fast!

time-and-motion study n a study of methods of working that is done in order to discover which ones are most efficient.

time bomb n -1. a bomb that can be set to explode at a particular time. -2. a situation, especially in politics, that will have a dangerous effect at a later time □ a political time bomb.

time-consuming [-kənsju:mɪŋ] adj [task, process] that takes a lot of time □ It's interesting work, but extremely time-consuming.

timed [taɪmd] adj -1. [race, test] that has to be finished in a certain time. -2. well/badly-timed [comment, arrival] that happens at a suitable and appropriate/an unsuitable and inappropriate time.

time difference n the difference in time between different parts of the world □ There's a three-hour time difference between here and Alaska.

time-honored [-tɪnə'd] adj [custom, tradition] that has been in existence for a long time.

timekeeping ['taɪmki:pɪŋ] n the ability of an

- employee to arrive at work on time □ good/bad timekeeping.
- time lag n an interval of time between two related events.
- time-lapse adj time-lapse photography photography that involves taking single pictures over a period of time of something that happens very slowly and then showing these pictures at the speed of an ordinary film, so that the action happens very quickly.
- timeless ['taɪmləs] adj [beauty, quality] that does not seem to be affected by the passing of time □ the timeless appeal of Austen's novels.
- time limit n a time within which or before which something must be done □ Try and keep within the time limit. □ We'll have to set ourselves a time limit for the work.
- timely ['taɪmlɪ] (compar timelier, superl timeliest) adj [advice, intervention, reminder] that comes at exactly the right time.
- time machine n an imaginary machine for traveling to different times.
- time off n the time when one is not working □ What do you do during your time off? □ He rarely takes time off (from) work.
- time-out (pl time-outs OR times-out) n US a break in a game which is not included in the time of the whole game.
- timepiece ['taɪmpɪ:s] n a clock or watch (old-fashioned use).
- timer ['taɪmər] n a device like a clock that can be set to ring after a certain time or to turn an appliance such as a stove or microwave on or off.
- timesaving ['taɪmseɪvɪŋ] adj [method, device, gadget] that allows something to be done more quickly.
- time scale n the length of time during which something happens or develops.
- timeshare ['taɪmʃeər] n a house or apartment that a number of people own together, and in which they each have a right to spend a certain amount of time every year for their vacation.
- time sheet n a sheet of paper on which the hours a particular person has worked are written.
- time signal n a series of short high-pitched sounds broadcast on the radio to indicate the exact time.
- time switch n a device that can be set to start or stop a machine at specific times.
- timetable ['taɪmteɪbl] n -1. [for buses, trains] a list of the times when trains, planes, buses etc arrive at and leave various places. -2. GB [in a school] a plan that shows the times of classes in a school, college etc. -3. GB [of events] a plan of the times when certain events are planned to happen, e.g. at a conference or during a project.
- time zone n any one of the 24 areas into which the world is divided for calculating the local time.
- timid ['tɪməd] adj [person] who is shy and lacking in confidence □ John's a timid little boy. □ Amy was too timid to openly disagree with him.
- timidly ['tɪmədli] adv [answer, smile] see timid.
- timing ['taɪmɪŋ] n -1. [of an actor, musician] the ability to judge the right moment when something should happen or be done □ She has a great sense of timing. -2. [of an election, meeting] the time at which something happens □ The timing of his remarks couldn't have been worse. -3. [of an action] the act of measuring the length of time something takes.
- timing device n a device inside a bomb that makes the explosion happen at a specific time.
- timpani ['tɪmpəni] npl a set of large drums in an orchestra.
- tin [tɪn] n -1. a soft silver-colored metallic element. SYMBOL: Sn □ a tin hut/roof. -2. GB a metal container that is sealed to preserve food. -3. a metal container with a lid, used for storing cake, cookies, tobacco, tea etc. -4. GB a metal container without a lid, used for baking bread, cakes, and cookies, and for roasting meat and vegetables in the oven □ a loaf/cake/roasting tin.
- tin can n a can in which food or drink has been preserved.
- tinder ['tɪndər] n small dry pieces of wood, grass etc that burn easily and can be used for lighting a fire.
- tin foil ['tɪnfɔɪl] n a very thin sheet of shiny metal used for covering and wrapping food.
- tinge [tɪndʒ] n a very small amount of color or feeling □ a tinge of red □ There was a tinge of sadness in his voice.
- tinged [tɪndʒd] adj to be tinged with sthg [with color, feeling] to show or have a small amount of sthg □ Her voice was tinged with regret.
- tingle ['tɪŋɡl] vi [face, body] to feel a slight prickling feeling that is usually pleasant □ The cold made my face tingle. □ She was tingling with excitement.
- tinker ['tɪŋkər] ◇ n a person who travels from place to place mending pots and pans and other household objects. ◇ vi to try to repair something by making a lot of small changes to it, but without necessarily making it better □ You've been tinkering with that engine for hours!
- tinkle ['tɪŋkl] ◇ n a small high sound like a small bell ringing. ◇ vi to make the sound of a tinkle □ The music box tinkled away.
- tin mine n a place where tin is taken out of the earth.
- tinned [tɪnd] adj GB [food] that has been preserved in a tin can.
- tinny ['tɪni] (compar tinnyer, superl tinnyest) ◇ adj -1. [noise, radio] that sounds thin and harsh. -2. [car] that is of bad quality (informal use). ◇ n AUS a can of beer (informal use).
- tin opener n GB a device used for opening cans of food.
- Tin Pan Alley n a name for the popular songwriting industry.
- tin-pot adj GB a tin-pot government/organ- ization etc a government/organization that considers itself to be important but is not taken seriously (disapproving use) □ a tin-pot dictator.

tinsel ['tɪnsəl] n a type of Christmas decoration that is made of small strips of shiny material □ garlands of tinsel.

Tinseltown ['tɪnsɪltaʊn] = Hollywood (informal use).

tint [tɪnt] ◇ n a small amount of color □ She has reddish tints in her hair. ◇ vt to give <hair> a small amount of color using artificial dye.

tinted ['tɪntəd] adj [glasses, hair, windows] slightly colored or dyed.

Tintin ['tɪntɪn] a Belgian cartoon character. He is a young journalist who has many adventures accompanied by a white dog.

tiny ['taɪni] (compar tinier, superl tiniest) adj [child, profit, difference] very small □ The baby stretched out its tiny hands.

tip [tɪp] (pt & pp tipped, cont tipping) ◇ n -1. [of one's finger, a pencil, iceberg] the end of something long and pointed □ I can just about reach if I stand on the tips of my toes. □ Tierra del Fuego is just off the southernmost tip of South America. ■ it's on the tip of my tongue I can't make myself remember it. -2. [for a waiter, taxi driver] an amount of money given to somebody to thank them for their services □ I left a small tip. -3. [advice] a small piece of useful advice □ Here are some handy gardening tips. -4. GB [for garbage] a large area where garbage is left, especially household garbage.

◇ vt -1. [chair, glass, bowl] to move <sthg> with the result that it is at an angle and not level. -2. [sand, sugar] to make <sthg> fall out of its container by turning it over □ She tipped the colored pencils onto the table. □ Tip the mousse out onto a serving dish. -3. [waiter, taxi driver] to give a tip to <sb> □ It's usual to tip hotel porters.

◇ vi -1. [chair, glass, bowl] The chair tipped dangerously backward. -2. [sand, sugar] The flour tipped onto the counter. -3. [customer] to give a tip to somebody □ He never tips in restaurants.

◆ tip off vt sep to tip sb off [police, burglars] to warn sb about something that has happened or is going to happen □ The White House was tipped off by intelligence sources.

◆ tip over ◇ vt sep to tip sthg over to make sthg fall over by accident □ Be careful not to tip the wine bottle over. ◇ vi [bucket, vase] to lean over so far that it falls over or its contents fall out □ The boat tipped over and the passengers fell into the river.

◆ tip up vi [chair, table] to move to an angle so that it is not level and becomes unsteady □ The chair tipped up and she fell on the floor.

tip-off n a warning that something has happened or is going to happen.

tipped [tɪpt] adj to be tipped with sthg [weapon, pole] to have sthg at or on its tip □ spears tipped with poison.

Tip-ExTM ['tɪpeks] n GB a white liquid that can be painted onto paper in order to cover mistakes in typing or writing.

tipple ['tɪpl] n an alcoholic drink (informal use).

tipsy ['tɪpsɪ] (compar tipsier, superl tipsiest) adj slightly drunk (informal use).

tiptoe ['tɪptəʊ] ◇ n on tiptoe standing or walking on one's toes so that the rest of one's foot does not touch the ground. ◇ vi to move on one's toes instead of using the whole foot, usually in order to make less noise □ She tiptoed past the sleeping children.

tip-top adj that is extremely good (old-fashioned use) □ in tip-top order/condition.

TIR (abbr of Transports Internationaux Routiers) an abbreviation written on the back of a truck carrying goods across international borders.

tirade [taɪ'reɪd] n a long, angry, critical speech about something.

tire ['taɪə] ◇ n US a round piece of rubber that fits around the wheel of a bicycle, car etc and is filled with air. ◇ vi to make <sb> become tired. ◇ vi -1. [person, animal] He tires easily after his illness. -2. to tire of sb/sthg to become bored with <sb/sthg>.

◆ tire out vt sep to tire sb out to make sb very tired, so that they have no energy left □ All that running around has tired me out.

tired ['taɪəd] adj -1. [person, voice] that needs sleep or rest. -2. to be tired of sthg to be bored with sthg because one has had it, done it etc for too long □ I'm tired of this game: let's play something else. □ She grew tired of hearing the same old excuses.

tiredness ['taɪədɪnəs] n the state or feeling of being tired □ He complained of tiredness and headaches.

tireless ['taɪələs] adj [worker, supporter, campaigner] who has a lot of energy and seems never to need rest.

tire pressure n the pressure of the air inside a tire.

tiresome ['taɪəʊsəm] adj [person, task] that one finds irritating and boring.

tiring ['taɪrɪŋ] adj [day, trip, activity] that makes one feel tired.

Tirol [tɪ'roʊl] = Tyrol.

tissue ['tɪʃu:] n -1. a handkerchief made of soft paper. -2. material in the body of a living thing that is made up of cells of a particular kind that have a particular function □ animal/fatty/diseased tissue. -3. phrase a tissue of lies a complicated series of lies, usually forming a story.

tissue paper n a type of very light thin paper used for wrapping things to protect them from damage.

tit [tɪt] n -1. a small European bird that eats seeds and insects. -2. ▽ a woman's breast (very informal use).

titbit n GB = tidbit.

tit for tat [-'tæt] n something unpleasant, that one does to somebody because they have done something unpleasant to one.

titillate ['tɪtɪleɪt] ◇ vi to excite <sb> slightly, especially in a sexual way. ◇ vi: His latest book merely seeks to titillate.

titivate ['titəveɪt] vt to make <sb/sthg> look more attractive, neat etc.

title ['taɪtl] n -1. [of a book, song] the name given to a book, article, song etc □ What is the title of your thesis? -2. [of a person] the name a person uses to show their position in society, their qualification, or their job □ Her title is Professor. -3. SPORT the position of champion in a sport □ He won the title last May.

titled ['taɪtlɪd] adj [person] who belongs to an upper-class family and has a title such as Lord or Lady.

title deed n a piece of paper that proves a person's legal right of ownership of land, a house etc.

titleholder ['taɪtlhəʊldə] n the person who is the present champion in a sport.

title page n the page at the front of a book where the title, author etc are written.

title role n the role played by the character in a play or movie whose name forms its title.

titter ['tɪtə] vi to laugh in a nervous, embarrassed, or silly way.

title-tattle ['tɪtlɪtætl] n gossip about people (disapproving and informal use).

titular ['tɪtʃələ] adj a titular ruler/head etc a person who has the title of ruler/head etc but has no real power or importance.

T-junction n GB a place where two roads, pipes etc meet and form the shape of the letter T.

TM ◇ n abbr of transcendental meditation.
◇ abbr of trademark.

TN abbr of Tennessee.

TNT (abbr of trinitrotoluene) n a powerful explosive.

to [stressed tu:, unstressed before vowel tu, before consonant tə] ◇ prep -1. to go to a place to go in the direction of a place □ Can you tell me the way to the airport? □ We didn't get to bed till midnight. □ A man came up to me and started threatening me. ■ to point to sb/sthg to point in the direction of sb/sthg □ He pointed to a town on the map. -2. to hold sthg to sthg to hold sthg against sthg so that they are touching □ I chained my bike to the fence and went in. □ The mirror should be fixed to the wall. -3. to the left/north in a position to the left/north of where one is □ To your right you can see the palace. □ She stood on her own, a little to one side. -4. used to show who is given, sent, or told something □ The package was sent to you at your home address. □ Promise you'll write to me. □ I've been teaching English to businessmen. □ Don't talk to me in that tone of voice! -5. used to show the person or thing that is affected by something □ It does great harm to the environment. □ My brother's engaged to a really nice girl. □ She's a great help to me. -6. to my surprise/delight etc, he agreed the fact he agreed made me feel surprised/delighted etc □ To her relief, there was no one else there. -7. to change to sthg used to show a change from one state to another □ the switch to nuclear energy □ his conversion to Islam □ The water turns to steam. □ The victim was beaten to death by his attackers. -8. used to give a limit □ Inflation has risen to 8%. □ He lived to the age of 90. -9. used to give an approximate range □ I must have spent two to three weeks on it. □ a nine to five job □ She knows about everything from astronomy to music. -10. it's ten to three it's ten minutes before three o'clock □ I'll see you at (a) quarter to four. -11. 1,000 meters to a kilometer 1,000 meters in or for each kilometer (used to show proportions and rates) □ An exchange rate of eight francs to the pound □ There were five girls to every boy. -12. to me/many people according to the opinion of myself/many people □ It seems like a crazy idea to me. -13. a poem set to music a poem accompanied by music □ We like to dance to African music.

◇ -1. used with the infinitive as the subject or object of a verb □ To deny it would be pointless. -2. used with the infinitive after certain nouns and adjectives □ It's an attempt to clarify the situation. □ You have no reason to be alarmed. □ I'm ready to go. □ They were really pleased to see us. □ It's not difficult to do. -3. I came to see you I came with the purpose of seeing you □ He's only doing it to annoy you. -4. used with the infinitive after "what", "why", "when", etc □ Tell me where to go. □ You can decide who to invite. -5. used after "too" and "enough" □ I have just enough money to pay you. □ It's too cold to go out. -6. used alone in place of a complete infinitive □ "Come here!" — "I don't want to." -7. to be honest/fair used to show that one is speaking honestly/fairly □ To be perfectly frank, I hate opera.

◇ adv shut but not locked □ Push the door to.

◆ to and fro adv -1. [move, rush, go] from one place to another, without stopping long in any place. -2. [rock, swing, sway] backward and forward or from side to side.

toad [təʊd] n an animal like a large frog, but with rougher skin, that lives on land and breeds in water.

toadstool ['təʊdstu:l] n a type of poisonous fungus that is shaped like a mushroom.

toady ['təʊdi] (pl toadies, pt & pp toadied) ◇ vi to toady to sb to flatter and be pleasant to sb in authority in order to gain something. ◇ n a person who toadies to somebody.

toast [təʊst] ◇ n -1. [bread] bread that has been made brown and crisp by being cooked in a special piece of equipment or under a grill □ a piece/slice of toast. -2. to drink a toast to sb to wish sb success, happiness, good health etc and to raise one's glass and drink as a symbol of this □ Let's drink a toast to her/the future! -3. to be the toast of a place/an institution etc [person] to be very popular in a place/an institution etc because of what one has achieved □ She was the toast of Paris/the town. ◇ vt -1. [bread, croissant, muffin] to cook <sthg> at a high temperature until it is crisp and brown. -2. [person, health, success] to drink a toast to <sb/sthg>.

toasted sandwich [ˌtəʊstəd-] n a sandwich that is toasted, usually in a special device.

toaster ['təʊstə] n an electric device for toasting slices of bread.

toastmaster [US 'təʊstmæstr, GB -mə:stə] n a person who introduces the speakers after a formal meal.

toast rack n a small object for holding and serving slices of toast.

toasty ['təʊstɪ] adj US [room, fire] that is warm and makes one feel comfortable.

tobacco [tə'bækəʊ] n a substance made from the leaves of a particular plant, used for smoking in cigarettes, pipes etc.

tobacconist [tə'bækənəst] n GB a person who sells tobacco, cigarettes, cigars etc in a shop.
 ■ a tobacconist's a store where tobacco, cigarettes, cigars etc are sold.

Tobago [tə'beɪgəʊ] → Trinidad and Tobago.

toboggan [tə'bɒgən] ◇ n a flat board with two long metal or wooden parts underneath that is used for sliding downhill fast over snow, especially as a sport or leisure activity. ◇ vi to ride on a toboggan.

today [tə'deɪ] ◇ adv -1. on this day □ What would you like to do today? -2. in the period of time in which we are living □ Today, few people have time to cook traditional meals. ◇ n -1. this day □ today's paper. -2. the present period of time □ the youth of today.

toddle ['tɒdl] vi -1. [child] to walk unsteadily. -2. to toddle off OR along to go somewhere (informal use).

toddler ['tɒdlə] n a small child who is learning to walk.

toddy ['tɒdi] (pl toddies) n a mixture of hot water, sugar, and whiskey, brandy, or rum.

to-do (pl to-dos) n a fuss (informal use).

toe [toʊ] ◇ n -1. one of the five moveable parts at the end of one's foot □ She wriggled her toes. -2. the part of a shoe, boot, sock etc that covers the toes. ◇ vi to toe the line to obey rules and behave as one is expected to, especially when one does not want to.

TOEFL ['təʊfl] (abbr of Test of English as a Foreign Language) n a test of English given to foreign students who want to study in the USA.

toehold ['təʊhəʊld] n -1. a small place in a rock, cliff etc that is just big enough to put one's toes in when climbing. -2. a first position in an area of work from which one hopes to advance and develop □ We'd like to get a toehold in the Japanese market.

toenail ['təʊneɪl] n one of the thin hard coverings that grows on the upper surface at the end of the toes.

toffee ['tɒfi] n a hard, sticky, brown candy made by boiling butter, sugar, and water together □ a bar of toffee.

toffee apple n an apple on a stick, covered with a thin hard layer of toffee.

tofu ['təʊfu:] n a white food made of soya bean curds that has the texture of soft cheese.

toga ['təʊgə] n a long loose piece of clothing worn by citizens in ancient Rome.

together [tə'geðə] ◇ adv -1. to do sth together [two or more people] to do sth with each other □ The three of us always got along well together. □ Both sides have agreed to work closer together. -2. to keep people/things together to keep people/things in the same place and close to each other □ Stay together, everyone, or you'll get lost! □ That was it — he put his belongings together and walked out. -3. to join things together to join one thing to another thing □ Put the ingredients together in a mixing bowl. □ Come on now, clap your hands together and sing! -4. to happen together [two or more events] to happen at the same time □ The two bombs were timed to go off together. □ The letters from the lawyer and her husband arrived together. -5. used to show the total amount that two or more things make □ If you add it all together, the real cost of moving must be about $10,000. □ This new car has cost me more than all my previous ones put together!

◇ adj [person] who is always very sensible and well-organized (informal use) □ She's very together.

◆ together with prep used to emphasize that two or more things happen at the same time, or are included in a total □ The meal, together with wine and service, came to $90. □ Please send in a résumé, together with details of your current salary.

togetherness [tə'geðənəs] n a warm feeling of closeness to other people, especially friends and family.

toggle ['tɒgl] n a fastener for clothing, bags etc that consists of a small piece of wood, metal, or plastic passed through a loop or hole.

toggle switch n -1. ELECTRONICS a switch that can be moved to open or close an electric circuit. -2. COMPUTING a key on a computer keyboard that is pressed to turn a particular feature, such as italic type, on or off.

togs [tɒgz] npl (informal use) -1. clothes. -2. AUS = bathing suit.

toil [tɔɪl] ◇ n unpleasant tiring work (literary use). ◇ vi to work hard for a long time doing something that is difficult and unpleasant.

◆ toil away vi to toil away at sth to work hard doing sth unpleasant over a long period of time.

toilet ['tɔɪlət] n a bowl that one sits on where one can get rid of the body's waste matter; a room or building with one or more of these in it □ I'm just going to the toilet.

toilet bag n a small bag, usually waterproof, in which soap, toothpaste etc can be kept while traveling.

toilet paper n thin soft paper used for cleaning oneself after passing waste matter from one's body.

toiletries ['tɔɪlətrɪz] npl things used to clean or take care of the body, e.g. soap, cleansers, toothpaste, and deodorant.

toilet roll n -1. = toilet paper. -2. a long strip of toilet paper that is wrapped around a small cardboard tube.

toilet tissue n = toilet paper (polite use).

toilet-trained [-treɪnd] adj [child] who has learned how to control the way they get rid of body waste and to use a toilet.

toilet water n a perfume that is not very strong.

to-ing and fro-ing [,tu:ɪŋən'frɔʊɪŋ] n busy activity that involves going from one place to another, and often seems to produce no results.

token ['tɒkən] ◇ adj token support/resistance etc a small amount of support/resistance etc that does not have much effect and is intended only to give a good impression □ She's the token woman on the panel. ◇ n -1. a piece of paper, card, or plastic that is worth a particular amount of money and can be used to pay for goods or services □ a book/laundry/shower token. -2. a symbol of something □ a token of love/esteem/friendship.

◆ by the same token adv a phrase used to introduce a statement that is a logical result of a previous statement □ The number of students is expanding. By the same token, a college education is becoming less prestigious.

Tokyo ['tɒkjəʊ] the capital of Japan, its largest city, and a major Pacific port. POPULATION: 11,855,563.

told [təʊld] past tense & past participle of tell.

tolerable ['tɒlərəbəl] adj [performance, food, hotel] that one finds fairly good or acceptable, but not extremely good.

tolerably ['tɒlərəbəlɪ] adv tolerably good/efficient etc good/efficient etc in a way that is just acceptable.

tolerance ['tɒlərəns] n -1. the ability to accept other people's beliefs, behavior, customs etc even if one disapproves of them □ In a country not known for its tolerance of political dissent, the decision to allow the demonstration was remarkable. -2. the degree to which a person, animal, or plant can resist the effects of a drug, infection, poison etc.

tolerant ['tɒlərənt] adj [person] who accepts other people's beliefs, behavior, customs etc even if they disapprove of them □ He's very tolerant of young people/noise.

tolerate ['tɒlərəɪt] vt [behavior, dissent, opposition] to allow <sb/sthg>, even if one does not like or approve of them □ They would tolerate no deviation from the party line. □ He irritated me, but I tolerate him for his mother's sake.

toleration [,tɒlə'reɪʃn] n the policy of allowing something that one does not approve of, especially religious beliefs and practices that are not officially recognized by the state □ religious toleration.

toll [təʊl] ◇ n -1. the total number of people killed or injured, e.g. in an accident □ So far ten bodies have been recovered but police fear the final death toll could be much higher. -2. a sum of money that one has to pay to cross a bridge, use a road etc. -3. phrase to take its toll to have a serious and harmful effect on somebody □ The long hours and stressful nature of the job inevitably took their toll. ◇ vt to make tollbooth ['tɒlbu:θ] n a small building beside a bridge, on a road etc, where tolls are collected.

 ring, especially as a sign that somebody has died. ◇ vi: The bell tolled twice.

toll bridge n a bridge where one has to pay a toll to cross.

toll-free US ◇ adj [telephone call] that is paid for by the organization that receives it rather than the person that makes it. ◇ adv: Call the number below, toll-free...

Tolstoy [US 'tɒlstɔɪ, GB 'tɒlstɔɪ], Count Leo (1828–1910) a Russian writer whose best-known works are the novels War and Peace and Anna Karenina.

tomahawk ['tɒməhɔ:k] n a small ax traditionally used for fighting and hunting by Native Americans.

tomato [US tə'meɪtəʊ, GB -'mɑ:təʊ] (pl tomatoes) n a soft, small, red fruit that can be eaten raw or cooked as a vegetable; the plant on which this fruit grows □ tomato sauce.

tomb [tu:m] n a large grave, usually with sculpture or other decorations, that is above the ground rather than in it.

tombola [tɒm'bɒʊlə] n GB a game in which people can win prizes if their ticket is picked out of a large container.

tomboy ['tɒmbɔɪ] n a girl who likes playing rough noisy games, and who dresses or looks like a boy.

tombstone ['tu:mstəʊn] n a large flat stone at a person's grave that shows their name, when they were born and died etc.

tomcat ['tɒmkæt] n a male cat.

tomfoolery [tɒm'fu:ləri] n silly behavior.

tomorrow [tə'mɒrəʊ] ◇ n -1. the day after today □ Tomorrow is Tuesday. □ tomorrow's weather. -2. the future □ Let's not think about tomorrow. □ Who knows what tomorrow may bring? ◇ adv on the day after today □ See you tomorrow! □ Tomorrow, things may change.

Tom Thumb [,tɒm'θʌm] a character in a fairy tale who is as small as a person's thumb.

ton [tʌn] (pl ton OR tons) n -1. a unit (US 907 kg or 2,000 lb, GB 1,016 kg or 2,240 lb) used for measuring weight. -2. = tonne □ a metric ton. -3. phrases to weigh a ton to be very heavy (informal use). ■ to come down on sb like a ton of bricks to show sb that one is very angry with them for doing something wrong (informal use).

◆ tons npl tons of sthg [of work, money] a lot of sthg (informal use).

tonal ['təʊnl] adj that is connected with the tone of a sound.

tone [təʊn] n -1. a quality in somebody's voice that expresses a particular feeling, mood etc □ I didn't like his tone of voice. □ a sarcastic/an impatient tone. -2. [of a telephone] a sound made by an electronic piece of equipment such as a telephone □ Please leave your message after the tone. □ There's no dial tone. -3. MUSIC the interval between two musical notes separated by one key on the piano.

 -4. [of a color] a shade of one particular color that is lighter or darker than other shades of that color □ The room was decorated in different tones of cream. -5. [of a speech, article] the general style and character of a speech, piece of writing etc □ The tone of the review was basically hostile. -6. phrase to lower the tone of sthg [of a place, conversation] to make sthg more vulgar or less socially acceptable.

◆ tone down vt sep to tone sthg down [language, effect] to make sthg less strong so that it is more acceptable.

◆ tone up vt sep to tone one's body up to make one's body firmer by exercising □ We did exercises to tone up our stomach muscles.

tone-deaf adj [person] who cannot sing well because they cannot hear the difference between musical notes clearly.

toner ['tounə] n -1. a powder used as ink in photocopiers and computer printers to produce images and text. -2. a cosmetic lotion used on the face after cleaning it to close the pores.

tongs [tɒŋz] npl a tool consisting of two parts joined at one end that are pressed together at the other end in order to pick things up □ a pair of sugar tongs.

tongue [tʌŋ] n -1. ANATOMY the fleshy organ in one's mouth that is used for tasting and eating things, and for making sounds. ■ to have one's tongue in one's cheek to say something as a joke, without expecting to be taken seriously. ■ to hold one's tongue to stop oneself from saying something □ Hold your tongue! I didn't ask you! ■ tongues will wag people will start gossiping □ Her affair with a much younger man started tongues wagging. -2. to have a sharp tongue to speak angrily to other people because of one's character. -3. a language (formal use) □ a foreign tongue. -4. COOKING meat from the tongue of an ox, often sliced and eaten cold. -5. [of a shoe] the long loose piece of leather under the laces of a shoe.

tongue-in-cheek adj [remark, comment] that seems serious but is meant as a joke.

tongue-tied adj [person] who cannot say anything because they are shy or embarrassed.

tongue-twister n a long phrase that is hard to say quickly and is often used as an amusing way of practicing or improving one's pronunciation.

tonic ['tɒnɪk] n -1. = tonic water □ gin and tonic. -2. [for one's health] a medicine of any kind that helps one to feel strong again when one is ill or tired □ tonic wine. -3. [for one's mood] something that makes one feel more cheerful □ Your visit has been a real tonic!

tonic water n a colorless bubbly drink with a slightly bitter taste that is used to dilute alcoholic drinks such as vodka and gin.

tonight [tə'naɪt] ◇ n -1. the evening or night of today □ Tonight is no good, I'm busy till nine o'clock. -2. the night which will follow today □ Tonight will be frosty. ◇ adv -1. in or during the evening of today □ I'll call you tonight, about six. -2. during the night which will follow today □ There will be no moon tonight.

tonnage ['tʌnɪdʒ] n -1. SHIPPING the size of a ship. -2. the weight of goods measured in tons.

tonne [tʌn] (pl tonne OR tonnes) n a unit (1,000 kg) used for measuring weight.

tonsil ['tɒnsɪl] n one of two small lumps of flesh at the back of one's throat.

tonsil(l)itis [ˌtɒnsəl'aɪtɪs] n an illness in which the tonsils are inflamed and sore.

too [tu:] adv -1. used to show that a previous statement applies to something or somebody else □ Small investors, too, will benefit from these tax reductions. □ Kate loved living in California, and Bill did too. □ You too can own an impressive collection of classical CDs. -2. too hot/cold etc more hot/cold etc than one wants or needs □ Don't spend too long in the bathroom! □ It's much too expensive. □ We've spent too much time on it already. □ It's too late to do anything about it now. -3. phrases not too good/pleased etc not very good/pleased etc □ The situation doesn't sound too hopeful, does it? □ It didn't take me too long to work out why I'd been invited. ■ all too..., only too... used to mean "very" □ It's all too easy to get into the habit of drinking alone. □ I'd be only too pleased to help, but I'm busy at the moment.

took [tʊk] past tense of take.

tool [tu:l] n -1. an instrument that one holds in one's hand and uses to do a particular job. ■ to down tools GB [staff, workers] to stop working, as a form of protest. -2. a skill, method etc that helps one to do something successfully □ Diplomacy and tact are the tools of the negotiator. ■ the tools of one's trade the skills or objects that one usually uses in order to do one's job.

◆ tool around vi US to waste time doing nothing in particular (informal use).

tool box n a plastic or metal box for keeping tools in.

tool kit n a set of tools kept together in a box and used for a particular purpose.

toot [tu:t] ◇ n a short sound made using a car horn to give a quick greeting or warning. ◇ vt to use  to make a toot. ◇ vi [horn, car, driver] The taxi tooted, and he rushed out of the door.

tooth [tu:θ] (pl teeth) n -1. one of the small, white, hard objects in one's mouth that are used for biting and chewing □ He still has all his own teeth. ■ to be long in the tooth to be too old (informal use). ■ to grit one's teeth to continue to accept something unpleasant and wait till things improve. ■ to have no teeth [law, organization] to have no real power to be effective. ■ to lie through one's teeth to tell deliberate lies with no shame at all (informal use). -2. [of a comb, saw, cog] one of a row of small sharp points along the edge of a tool, piece of equipment etc.

toothache ['tu:θeɪk] n a constant pain in a tooth.

toothbrush ['tu:θbrʌʃ] n a small brush with a long handle that is used for cleaning one's teeth.

toothless ['tu:θləs] adj -1. [person] who has no teeth □ a toothless grin. -2. [law, organization] that has no real power and cannot be effective.

toothpaste ['tu:θpeɪst] n a paste that one puts on a toothbrush to clean one's teeth □ a tube of toothpaste.

toothpick ['tu:θpɪk] n a small, sharp, wooden stick that one uses to remove bits of food from between one's teeth.

tooth powder n a powder used to clean one's teeth.

top [tɒp] (vt & pp topped, cont topping) ◇ adj
-1. the top shelf/floor etc the highest shelf/floor etc □ We scraped away the top layer of varnish. ■ the top house/end etc the house/end etc that is furthest away □ They live at the top end of the street. -2. a top player/manager etc a very successful or important player/manager etc □ a top legal firm/advertising agency □ The Premier can count on the support of the top coalition leaders. -3. at top speed at the fastest possible speed □ We rushed there at top speed.

◇ n -1. [of a hill, cupboard, pile] the highest point or part of something; [of a street, road] the part of something that is furthest away □ I ran to the top of the stairs. □ Top of my list comes job security. □ I waited for them at the top of the lane. ■ from top to bottom [search, clean] completely. ■ on top on the highest part or point of something □ The mountain had snow on top. ■ to be over the top GB [behavior, reaction, idea] to be extreme and unnecessary in a particular situation □ They went completely over the top and spent thousands on the wedding. ■ at the top of one's voice [shout, scream] as loudly as one can. -2. [of a bottle, container, box] a piece of plastic, metal etc used for covering something, e.g. when one is not using it □ Don't forget to put the top back on when you've finished. -3. [of water, a table] the flat surface of something seen from above □ It floated to the top. -4. CLOTHING a piece of clothing for the upper body □ I packed a few tops and skirts. -5. a child's toy that spins around. -6. [of an organization, league] the best or most important position one can reach □ Ross soon rose to the top of his profession. □ Life is not always easy at the top.

◇ vt -1. [league, poll] to be in the highest position on  □ The song topped the charts for about three months. -2. [story, offer] to produce something that is better than <sthg that came before> □ Top that one, if you can! -3. [figure, speed] to reach a level that is higher than <sthg> □ Sales topped the million mark. -4. [cake, dish] to put a layer of something on top of <food> to decorate it or give it more flavor □ You can top the potato with a little grated cheese.

◆ on top of prep -1. on the highest part of <sthg> □ The book was lying on top of the refrigerator. -2. very close to <sb> □ Suddenly, the truck was right on top of me. □ The house is too small; we're always on top of each other. -3. in addition to <sthg> □ He's old and ill, and on top of all that, he has his wife to look after. □ On top of the salary, you get a company car. -4. to be on top of sthg [of a situation, work] to be in control of sthg □ I had a backlog of work, but I'm on top of it now. ■ to get on top of sb [work, pressure] to depress and worry sb so that they feel they cannot do what is expected of them □ Everything seemed to get on top of me, somehow.

◆ top off US, top up GB vt sep to top sthg off OR up [glass, tank] to put extra water, gasoline etc into sthg so that it becomes full.

topaz ['tɒpəz] n a precious stone that is yellow or brown and is used to make jewelry.

top brass n the top brass the most important people in an organization, especially in the armed forces (informal use).

topcoat ['tɒpkəʊt] n -1. a heavy coat worn over a suit, dress etc. -2. the final layer of paint that is put on a surface.

top dog n the person in a particular situation who has the most power and tells other people what to do (informal use).

Top End: the Top End AUS the north part of the Northern Territory.

top-flight adj [position, diplomat] that is among the very best or highest in rank □ a top-flight administrator.

top floor n the top story of a building □ The office is on the top floor.

top gear n the gear in a vehicle that is used when driving at the fastest speeds.

top hat n a man's hat that is usually black or gray, has a tall cylindrical main part, and is worn at formal occasions.

top-heavy adj [object] that is unstable and likely to fall over because it is larger at the top than at the bottom.

topic ['tɒpɪk] n a subject that people talk or write about □ The discussion covered various topics.

topical ['tɒpɪkl] adj [issue, point] that is interesting at the present time, because people are talking about it.

topknot ['tɒpknɒt] n a thick section of hair tied in a knot on top of one's head.

topless ['tɒpləs] adj [woman] who is wearing nothing on her breasts; [bar, show] where the female staff or performers are topless □ topless bathing.

top-level adj top-level talks/discussions etc talks/discussions etc that involve the most important and powerful people from the countries or groups involved.

topmost ['tɒpməʊst] adj the topmost branches/leaves etc the branches/leaves etc at the top.

top-notch adj [quality, service, performance] that one finds very good (informal use) □ a top-notch lawyer.

topographer [tə'pɒgrəfə] n a person who studies and makes maps of an area, showing features such as the height of the land.

topography [tə'pɒgrəfi] n -1. the study of the physical features of an area; the activity of making a map of the physical features of an area. -2. the shape of the land in a particular area □ the topography of California.

topped [tɒpt] adj to be topped by OR with sthg [with cream, snow, clouds] to have sthg on the highest part as a covering, decoration etc □ a dessert topped with whipped cream.

topping ['tɒpɪŋ] n a layer of sauce, extra ingredients etc served on top of food □ a casserole with a topping of potato □ The cake had a delicious chocolate topping.

topple ['tɒpl] ◇ vt [government, president] to make <sb/sthg> lose a position of political power □ The recent wave of scandals threatens to topple the government. ◇ vi [object, building] to become less stable and then fall □ The vase toppled to the ground.

◆ topple over vi [pile] to become less stable and fall down □ I knocked the table and all the books came toppling over.

top-ranking adj [player, official] who has a very high or important position.

top-secret adj [information, operation] that must be kept completely secret □ The file was marked 'Top Secret'.

top-security adj [prison, hospital, wing] that is guarded as carefully as possible, usually to prevent dangerous people from escaping.

topsoil ['tɒpsɔɪl] n the top layer of an area of soil □ Over the years the winds and rains had removed the topsoil.

topspin ['tɒpspɪn] n [in tennis, pool] the turning movement of a ball when it goes forward more quickly than usual because it has been hit in a particular way by a player □ That ball had a lot of topspin on it.

topsy-turvy [ˌtɒpsɪ'tɜːvɪ] adj -1. [room, desk] where everything is in a mess. -2. [idea, world] that is impossible to understand because it makes no sense.

Torah ['tɔːrə] n the Torah all of the writings and laws in the Jewish religion.

torch [tɔːtʃ] n -1. a long thick stick that is specially treated to burn at one end and is carried or put somewhere to provide light. -2. GB a small electric light that one carries in order to see in the dark.

tore [tɔː] past tense of tear.

torment [n 'tɔː'ment, vb tɔː'ment] ◇ n -1. great suffering of the mind or body □ the torment of not knowing when I'd see her again. -2. a particular cause of suffering (literary use). ◇ vt -1. to worry <sb> so much that they suffer a lot over a long period of time □ I was tormented by guilt. -2. to tease <sb> cruelly and make their life miserable □ The older children would delight in tormenting him.

tormentor [tɔː'mentə] n a person who makes somebody else suffer by treating them cruelly □ The dog finally managed to break free of its tormentors.

torn [tɔːn] past participle of tear.

tornado [tɔː'neɪdɔʊ] (pl tornadoes OR tornados) n a very violent storm that consists of a mass of air in the shape of a funnel that spins very quickly and causes a lot of destruction.

Toronto [tə'rɒntoʊ] a city and port on Lake Ontario, in southeastern Canada. POPULATION: 635,395.

torpedo [tɔː'piːdɔʊ] (pl torpedoes) ◇ n an undersea missile that is fired at a ship to damage or destroy it. ◇ vt [submarine, ship] to attack <sthg> by firing torpedoes at it.

torpedo boat n a warship designed mainly to carry and fire torpedoes.

torpor ['tɔːpə] n a lazy state in which one does not have the energy or enthusiasm to do anything (formal use).

torque [tɔːk] n TECHNOLOGY the force that causes something to rotate.

torrent ['tɒrənt] n -1. a lot of water that flows very fast and powerfully. -2. a torrent of words/insults etc a lot of words/insults etc that somebody says very quickly with strong emotion □ a torrent of abuse.

torrential [tə'renʃl] adj torrential rain a lot of rain that falls quickly and heavily.

Torres Strait ['tɔːrəs-] a channel between Papua New Guinea and northeastern Australia.

Torres Strait Islander n a member of an Aboriginal people who come from the part of northeastern Australia near the Torres Strait.

torrid ['tɒrəd] adj -1. [heat, climate] that is very hot and dry. -2. [affair, story, scene] that is full of sexual passion.

torso ['tɔːsɔʊ] (pl torsos) n -1. the main part of the body, not including the head and limbs. -2. a statue of a human torso.

tortelloni [ˌtɔː'tə'louni] n ring-shaped pieces of pasta filled with meat or cheese.

tortilla [tɔː'tɪjə] n in Mexican cooking, a round flat crisp crepe made from corn or wheat flour.

tortoise [tɔː'tɔːs] n a small reptile that moves very slowly and has a large shell on its back for protection.

tortoiseshell [ˌtɔː'tɔːʃel] ◇ adj [cat] that has brown, black, and reddish markings. ◇ n the brown and yellow shell of a sea-turtle, used in making jewelry and other decorations; a plastic imitation of this material □ a tortoiseshell comb.

tortuous [tɔː'tʃuəs] adj -1. [account, plot] that is too complicated to understand easily. □ Be warned: getting a visa here is a tortuous process. -2. [route, path] that does not go in a straight line, but has many turns.

torture [tɔː'tʃə] ◇ n -1. the process of deliberately causing somebody great physical pain, e.g. as a punishment or to get information from them □ They were subjected to beatings and torture. -2. great physical or mental suffering □ The waiting was sheer torture! ◇ vt -1. [person] to deliberately cause <sb> to feel great physical or emotional pain □ He was tortured to death. -2. [thought, memory] to cause <sb> great suffering □ She was tortured by guilt. □ Don't torture yourself!

torturer ['tɔ:ʔtʃəə] n a person who tortures other people.

Tory ['tɔ:ri] (pl Tories) \diamond n a member or supporter of the British Conservative Party.
 \diamond adj: a Tory politician/policy.

toss [tɒs] \diamond vt -1. [object] to throw <sthg>, especially sthg light, in a careless way \square Can you toss that apple over to me, please? -2. to toss one's head to move one's head back suddenly, usually to show one is angry. -3. [food] to shake <food> around in a dressing, sauce etc so that it gets completely covered \square Toss the salad in oil. -4. to toss a pancake to throw a pancake in the air and catch it in a pan. -5. to toss a coin to throw a coin in the air so that it spins and try to guess which side will face up when it lands. -6. [person, boat] to move <sb/sthg> around in a very rough, uncontrolled way \square The dinghy was tossed around on the waves.

\diamond vi -1. to toss a coin \square Shall we toss for it? -2. [person, boat, branches] to keep moving around in an uncontrolled way. ■ to toss and turn to be unable to stay still and relax while trying to go to sleep.

\diamond n -1. the act of throwing a coin to decide something, especially to decide who starts play in a sports game. -2. a toss of one's head a sudden backward movement of one's head that usually shows one is angry.

toss-up n it's a toss-up it is impossible to say which of two things will happen, because both are likely \square It was a toss-up who'd win.

tot [tɒt] (pt & pp totted, cont totting) n a very young child who is just beginning to walk (informal use).

◆ tot up vt sep to tot numbers up to add numbers together to make a total (informal use).

total ['təʊl] (US pt & pp totaled, cont totaling, GB pt & pp totalled, cont totalling) \diamond adj -1. a total failure/waste etc a complete failure/waste etc \square The Socialists are demanding a total ban on arms exports. -2. the total amount/figure etc the amount/figure etc that results from adding smaller amounts together \square The total sum is over $50,000.

\diamond n a final figure that is reached after adding numbers or amounts together \square The total came to twenty-two. \square Rice exports were expected to soar to a total of 1,033,900 tonnes.

\diamond vt -1. to add <figures> together to make a total. -2. to reach  after being added together \square Borrowings totaled $20 billion. \square Expenditure totaled over $50,000. -3. US to damage  so badly that it cannot be used again (informal use).

◆ in total adv when everything is added together \square In total, there were three attempts on the President's life.

totalitarian [,təʊtə'lɪ'teəriən] adj [regime, government] that controls people completely and allows no political opposition or democratic freedom.

totality [təʊ'tælɪtɪ] n the whole of something.

totally ['təʊtəli] adv completely \square I'm totally exhausted! \square This conclusion is totally wrong.

tote bag ['təʊt-] n a large bag for carrying shopping or personal possessions.

totem pole ['təʊtəm-] n a tall pole, traditionally put up by some Native American peoples, that is covered in carvings or pictures with a symbolic meaning.

toto ['təʊtəʊ] adv in toto when everything is added together (formal use) \square You have made, in toto, six withdrawals this month.

totter ['tɒtə] vi -1. [person] to walk in an unsteady way \square She tottered to the window. -2. [government, organization] to be weak and close to losing power or importance.

toucan ['tu:kən] n a tropical bird that has a very large and brightly-colored beak.

touch [tʌtʃ] \diamond n -1. one's sense of touch the sense of feeling things with one's fingers \square The fabric was soft and silky to the touch.

-2. [with a hand] a gentle pressure from somebody's hand \square I felt a touch on my shoulder. \square 'Heat at the touch of a button.' -3. [as an addition] a small detail that adds to or completes something \square And they sent flowers to say thank-you: a nice touch! \square Small touches such as red and green ribbons can help create a festive atmosphere. ■ to put the finishing touches to

OR on sthg to do the last things that are needed to complete sthg. -4. a personal/professional etc touch a personal/professional etc way of doing something \square It needs a woman's touch. ■ to be losing one's touch not to be as good at something as one used to be. -5. to get in touch to contact somebody by writing, phoning etc \square They'll get in touch with you if they want to interview you. ■ to keep in touch with sb to continue to have contact with sb by writing or phoning, so that one still has a friendly relationship with them \square Goodbye! Keep in touch! ■ to keep in touch with sthg [with developments, research, progress] to make sure one has the latest information about sthg that is always changing.

■ to lose touch with sb to stop having contact with sb whom one no longer sees regularly because one does not write to them, phone them etc \square My mother had a brother, but they lost touch. ■ to be out of touch with sthg [with reality, news, developments] not to know as much as one used to about sthg that is always changing \square If you stop work for even a year, you soon get out of touch. -6. SPORT into touch out of the area of the field where play can take place. -7. to be a soft OR easy touch to be very likely to give or lend money when asked (disapproving use).

\diamond vi -1. [object, surface, person] to put one's hand or another part of one's body in contact with <sb/sthg> \square Bend over and touch your toes. \square If you touch me, I'll scream! \square I didn't touch a thing on your desk, I just straightened it up. -2. [person] to cause <sb> to have a feeling such as pity, sadness, or admiration \square It really touched me, the way he spoke about his son. -3. to never touch sthg [meat, alcohol] to never eat or drink sthg \square No, thank you, I never touch it!

\diamond vi -1. [person] to put one's hand on some-

- thing □ Do not touch. -2. [two objects] to come into contact □ Our hands touched.
- ◆ a touch ◇ adv slightly □ Can you move a touch to the left? □ It was a touch expensive. ◇ det a touch of sthg a small amount of sthg □ There's a touch of frost in the air.
- ◆ touch down vi [plane] to land.
- ◆ touch on vt fus to touch on sthg to mention sthg briefly □ In his talk, Dr Lane touched on the future expansion of NATO.
- ◆ touch up vt sep to touch sthg up to improve sthg by making slight changes or additions □ The paintwork could do with touching up.
- touch-and-go adj [operation, outcome] that is very uncertain and could end in success or failure □ It was touch and go whether we would make it.
- touchdown ['tʌtʃdaʊn] n -1. [of a plane] the moment when a plane or spacecraft lands. -2. SPORT in football, the act of moving the ball behind the opponents' goal line in order to score points.
- touched [tʌtʃt] adj -1. [person] who feels gratitude, pity, sympathy etc because of something that has been done or said □ I was so touched (that) he remembered my birthday. -2. [person] who seems a little crazy (informal use).
- touching ['tʌtʃɪŋ] adj [scene, sight, thought] that causes somebody to have a feeling of gratitude, pity etc □ The last act was so touching, the whole audience was in tears.
- touch judge n [in rugby] an official whose job is to indicate when the ball has crossed the boundary line and is no longer in play.
- touchline ['tʌtʃlaɪn] n GB a line marking the side boundary of a field used for playing rugby, soccer etc.
- touchpaper ['tʌtʃpeɪpə] n the paper on a firework that one lights to cause it to start burning □ Light the touchpaper and stand back.
- touch screen n COMPUTING a screen that a person touches to work a computer.
- touch-type vi to type without looking at the keys or one's fingers.
- touchy ['tʌtʃɪ] (compar touchier, superl touchiest) adj -1. [person] who easily gets angry or offended. ■ to be touchy about sthg to dislike people mentioning sthg □ Dad's very touchy about his age. -2. a touchy subject a subject that may upset or offend people and so needs to be dealt with very carefully.
- tough [tʌf] adj -1. [person] who is strong and able to deal with difficulties □ He'll be alright, he's pretty tough. □ She's mentally/physically tough. -2. [material] that is strong and unlikely to break or tear. -3. [meat] that is hard to chew. -4. [decision, choice] that is hard to make; [life, job, question] that is hard to deal with (informal use) □ I'm not sure; that's a tough one to answer! -5. [area, neighborhood] where there is a lot of crime (informal use). -6. [authorities, policy] that is strict (informal use) □ The U.S. customs are very tough. -7. tough luck!, (that's) tough! a phrase used to show that one does not feel sorry for somebody who is in a difficult situation (informal use).
- toughen ['tʌfn] vt -1. [person, character] to make <sb/sthg> stronger and less sensitive. -2. [material, glass] to make <sthg> stronger and less likely to break or tear.
- toughened ['tʌfnd] adj [glass, steel] that has been specially strengthened by an industrial process.
- Toulouse-Lautrec [tu:luzlə'trek], Henri de (1864–1901) a French artist known for his many paintings and posters of scenes in the bars and nightclubs of Paris.
- toupee [US tu:'peɪ, GB 'tu:peɪ] n a small wig for a man that covers the top and front of the head.
- tour [tuə] ◇ n -1. [of different places] a trip during which one visits several different places □ a tour of Scandinavia. -2. [of one place] a short visit to a place, e.g. a town or building, to see the interesting parts □ We went on a tour of Mount Vernon. -3. [for work] a visit to several places, planned in advance, as part of one's job or official function □ the President's tour of the Far East □ The band hopes to go on tour again next year. ◇ vt -1. [tourist, visitor, inspector] to make a tour of . -2. SPORT & THEATER [team, group, company] to go around <an area or country>, performing or playing □ They'll be touring Europe for the next month. ◇ vi [team, group] The ballet company tours during the summer months. □ They are currently touring in Scotland.
- touring ['tuəɪŋ] ◇ adj a touring show/exhibition etc a show/exhibition etc that moves from one place to another for the public to see. ◇ n the activity of traveling around and visiting various places. ■ to go touring to go on a tour for pleasure, usually by car.
- tourism ['tuəɪzɪzəm] n -1. the activity of traveling to and visiting different regions or foreign countries for pleasure. -2. the industry that provides services such as accommodation for tourists □ a career in tourism.
- tourist ['tuəɪst] n a person, usually on vacation, who visits a place for pleasure.
- tourist class n the cheapest standard of service and seating on a plane □ We traveled/flew (by) tourist class.
- tourist (information) office n a place where visitors to a town or region can get information on hotels, places to visit etc.
- touristy ['tuəɪstɪ] adj [place] that one thinks has been spoiled by the presence of too many tourists (disapproving use).
- tournament ['tuəɪnəmənt] n SPORT a series of games or matches in which the winner of one game plays the winner of another game until the final game is won □ the Forest Hills tennis tournament.
- tourniquet [US 'tɜ:rnəkət, GB 'tɔ:nɪket] n a band of cloth wound very tightly around an arm or leg to stop bleeding from a wound.

tour operator n GB a company that arranges package tours to popular destinations.

touse ['taʊz] vt to make <sb's hair> look messy.

tout [taʊt] \diamond n GB a person who sells tickets for a sporting event or a concert illegally and at very high prices to people in the street \square a ticket tout. \diamond vt [wares, goods] to try to persuade people to buy <sthg> by showing it to them. \diamond vi to tout for business to try to get business by speaking to people, attracting their attention etc.

tow [tu] \diamond n the process of pulling one vehicle along behind another \square I've broken down. Can you give me a tow? ■ 'on tow' GB a sign placed on the back of a vehicle to inform other drivers that it is being pulled along by another vehicle. ■ with sb in tow followed closely by sb \square It would be nice to go somewhere without the kids in tow for a change. \diamond vt [trailer, camper, car] to pull  along by attaching it to another vehicle with a rope or chain.

toward [tə'wɔ:rd] US, towards [tə'wɔ:rdz] prep
-1. to go/face toward sthg/sb to go/face in the direction of sthg/sb \square The crowd drifted slowly toward the exit. \square Jamie came running toward us, shouting and waving. \square He was standing with his back toward me, and didn't see me.
-2. a move/step toward sthg a move/tendency that brings sthg nearer or makes it more likely \square Over the past two years the firm has been making steady progress toward its goal of profitability. \square She has contributed a great deal toward changing public attitudes to mental illness.
-3. one's attitude toward sb/sthg one's feelings about sb/sthg \square I was puzzled by the way he'd been behaving toward me. \square Recently her feelings toward him had changed.
-4. to go/be put toward sthg [money] to be used to pay for some of but not all of the cost of sthg \square The money raised will go toward buying a new minibus for the local children's home.
-5. toward a particular period just before the end of a particular period of time \square They met up again toward the end of the war.

towaway zone ['təʊəweɪ-] n US an area where one's car will be towed away if one parks on the street.

towbar ['təʊbɑ:] n a strong hook at the back of a car for towing campers or trailers.

towel ['təʊəl] n a piece of soft absorbent fabric for drying oneself after swimming or washing.

toweling US, towelling GB ['təʊəlɪŋ] n the soft absorbent fabric used to make towels \square a bathrobe made of toweling.

towel rail n a rail in a bathroom on which towels are hung.

tower ['təʊə] \diamond n a very tall narrow building that can be separate or part of a church or other large building \square the Eiffel Tower \square the twin towers of the World Trade Center. ■ a tower of strength a person one can rely on during a difficult time. \diamond vi [cliff, building] to rise up very high \square From Brooklyn Heights, lower Manhattan towers across the river. ■ to tower over sb/sthg [person, building] to be much taller than sb/sthg.

tower block n GB a high-rise building containing apartments.

towering ['təʊərɪŋ] adj -1. a towering cliff/peak etc a cliff/peak etc that is very high and impressive. -2. a towering rage a great rage.

Tower of London: the Tower of London an old castle in the city of London that used to be an important royal palace, and then a prison. It is now a museum.

town [taʊn] n -1. a place bigger than a village, but smaller than a city, where many people live; the people who live in such a place \square I live in a large town. \square the town center \square The whole town turned out to welcome them. -2. the city center \square Are you going to town? ■ to be in/out of town to be in/not in the town where one lives \square Will you be in town next week? ■ to go out on the town to go out to have fun, e.g. by eating in a restaurant or going to a show. ■ to go to town on sthg to do sthg in a very thorough or energetic way \square There's no need to go to town on the introduction.

town clerk n a local government official who is in charge of the daily administration of a particular town or area.

town council n GB a group of people elected to be in charge of services such as roads, leisure centres, parks, garbage collection etc in a town.

town hall n -1. a large building in the middle of a town, where local government administration takes place. -2. the local government officials based at the town hall.

town house n an elegant house, usually tall and narrow, in a town or city.

town planner n GB a person who is responsible for town planning.

town planning n GB the planning, designing, and development of buildings, roads, parks etc in a town \square Terrassa suffers from disastrous town planning.

townsfolk ['taʊnzfəʊk] npl = townspeople.

township ['taʊnʃɪp] n -1. a town in South Africa where black people live. -2. a town in the USA that has some powers of local government.

townspeople ['taʊnzpi:pl] npl the townspeople the people who live in a particular town or city.

towpath [US 'təʊpæθ, pl -pæðz, GB -pɑ:θ, pl -pɑ:ðz] n a path along the bank of a canal or river, used in the past by horses pulling barges.

towrope ['təʊrəʊp] n a rope used for towing.

tow truck n US a vehicle used to tow other vehicles that have broken down and to take them to be repaired.

toxic ['tɒksɪk] adj [substance, waste] poisonous.

toxic shock syndrome n a serious illness affecting women, whose symptoms include a high temperature and low blood pressure, that is believed to be caused by the misuse of tampons.

toxin ['tɒksən] n any poisonous substance that is produced by bacteria, or that occurs naturally in certain animals and plants.

toy [tɔɪ] n an object for children to play with.

◆ toy with vt fus -1. to toy with an idea to think about doing something, but not very seriously and without making a decision □ I've been toying with the idea of buying a new car. -2. to toy with sthg [coin, pencil] to handle or play with sthg without any particular purpose □ She sat toying with her food.

toyboy ['tɔɪbɔɪ] n a young boyfriend of an older woman (informal and disapproving use).

toy store US, toy shop n a store where toys and games are sold.

TPC (abbr of Trade Practices Commission) n the TPC the organization in Australia that is responsible for protecting the rights of consumers and checking that businesses are being run fairly and honestly.

trace [treɪs] ◇ n -1. a mark or sign that shows that somebody or something has been present or that something has happened □ He left no trace of his presence. □ The survivors vanished without trace. -2. a very small amount of something □ traces of paint/blood/poison.

◇ vt -1. [relative, criminal, source] to find or discover <sb/sthg> using facts, information, signs etc □ The police traced the calls to an address in Queens. -2. [rumor, fear] to find the origins of <sthg> □ His phobia could be traced (back) to an incident in his childhood. □ Beatrice can trace her family back to Norman times. -3. [development, growth] to follow or describe the history and progress of <sthg> □ The program traces the rise of the civil rights movement. -4. [map, drawing] to copy <sthg> by drawing its lines on transparent paper placed over it.

trace element n CHEMISTRY an element that is found in something in very small amounts.

tracer bullet ['treɪsə-] n a bullet that glows brightly as it travels through the air.

tracing ['treɪsɪŋ] n a copy of a map, drawing etc that has been made by tracing it.

tracing paper n a type of strong transparent paper that is used for making tracings.

track [træk] ◇ n -1. a rough narrow path □ We drove up a rough track toward the chalet. ■ off the beaten track in an isolated place that is not often visited □ He lives well off the beaten track. -2. SPORT a course designed for a particular kind of race □ a cycling/running/race track. -3. RAIL = railroad track. -4. MUSIC any of the separate sections of a CD, tape, or record that contains a song or piece of music □ side one, track three □ It's one of my favorite tracks. -5. phrases to keep track of sb/sthg to stay aware of or informed about sb/sthg □ I try to keep track of the number of pages I've checked. □ It's difficult to keep track of her because she's always on the move. ■ to lose track of sb/sthg to fail to keep track of sb/sthg □ We heard he was in Moscow, but then we lost track of him. □ I was having such fun that I lost all track of time. ■ to be on the right/wrong track to be thinking in a way that is likely/unlikely to lead to a solution to a problem, question etc □ I think you're on the right track.

◇ vt to follow the track of .

◇ vi [camera] to move along while filming.

◆ tracks npl marks in the ground left by a person, animal, or vehicle □ We followed the tracks as far as the river. □ car/tire tracks. ■ to hide OR cover one's tracks to leave no marks or signs of one's movements or activities. ■ to stop dead in one's tracks to stop very suddenly.

◆ track down vt sep to track sb/sthg down to find sb/sthg after searching hard or for a long time □ I finally tracked him down in Rio.

track and field n events such as running and jumping.

trackball ['trækbɔ:l], trackerball ['trækə'bɔ:l] n a small ball fitted into a computer keyboard that is used instead of the keys to move the cursor around the screen.

tracker dog ['trækə-] n a dog that is trained to search for escaped criminals, people who are missing etc.

track event n a race in athletics such as a sprint or a relay race.

tracking ['trækɪŋ] n the position of the tape in a video cassette that can be adjusted in relation to the heads in a video recorder in order to improve the quality of the picture.

tracking station n a place from which storms, satellites, spacecraft etc are tracked by radar or radio.

track record n the past achievements or failures of a person, organization etc □ an excellent/a poor track record.

track shoes npl shoes with spikes in the soles that are used by athletes on a sports track.

tracksuit ['træksu:t] n GB a warm loose set of clothes worn to do exercises or physical training, or as casual clothing □ a tracksuit top/bottom.

tract [trækt] n -1. a short piece of writing on a moral, political, or religious subject. -2. [of land, forest] a large area. -3. MEDICINE a system of organs or tubes in the body with a particular function □ the digestive/respiratory/urinary tract.

traction ['trækʃn] n -1. PHYSICS the power used to pull a heavy load along a surface. -2. MEDICINE the process of pulling lightly and continuously an injured limb or muscle as a form of treatment □ His back/leg/neck is in traction. -3. [of a tire] the ability of a tire to move over the ground without skidding.

traction engine n a large vehicle that is powered by steam and was used in the past for pulling heavy loads along roads.

tractor ['træktə-] n a powerful farm vehicle with large rear wheels that is used for pulling farm machinery or other heavy loads.

tractor-trailer n US a large truck that is made in two or more parts joined by metal bars so that it can turn more easily.

trade [treɪd] ◇ n -1. [between countries] the process of buying, selling, or exchanging goods and services, especially between countries □ Overseas trade is very important to the economy. □ a trade minister. -2. [in a country] a particular type of business or industry □ the car/tourist/wool trade. -3. [of a person] a job, especially one that needs special training and manual skills □ He's a welder/butcher by trade.

◇ vt to exchange <sthg> □ They had little left to trade. □ He traded his guitar for a banjo.

◇ vi BUSINESS to buy, sell, or exchange goods and services □ The two countries have been trading for years. □ The company has since ceased trading.

◆ trade in vt sep to trade sth in [car, TV set] to give sth that one has already used to a seller as part of the payment for something new □ Louis traded in his old Chevy for a brand new truck.

trade barrier n something, e.g. a tax, import duty, or embargo, that limits or prevents trade.

trade deficit n = trade gap.

Trade Descriptions Act n the Trade Descriptions Act a British law stating that advertisements and descriptions of goods for sale must be honest.

trade discount n a discount given to people who work in a particular trade.

trade fair n a large exhibition of industrial and commercial goods.

trade gap n the difference between the value of what a country exports and what it imports, when the value of imports is greater □ This month's figures show that the trade gap has narrowed/widened.

trade-in n a used article, e.g. a car or TV set, that is traded in.

trademark ['treɪdmɑ:k] n -1. BUSINESS a name, sign, or word that is used to identify the products of a particular company and may only be used legally by that company. -2. something that is typical of a particular person or thing □ Professionalism is his trademark.

trade name n BUSINESS a name given by a producer to a product to distinguish it from similar products made by other producers.

trade-off n the fact of accepting that one cannot have all of the two things one wants, so must have less of one or both of them □ There has to be a trade-off between quality and value for money.

trade price n the price at which goods are sold by a producer.

trader ['treɪdɜ:] n -1. a person or company that buys and sells goods internationally □ a coffee/oil/gold trader. -2. a person who sells goods in the street, at a market etc □ a street/market trader.

trade route n a route over land or sea used by traders or their vehicles or ships.

trade secret n a method that is used by a company or trade to make its products and that is kept secret from other companies.

tradesman ['treɪdzmən] (pl tradesmen [-mən]) n GB -1. a storekeeper. -2. a person who delivers goods to people's homes.

tradespeople ['treɪdzpi:pl] npl storekeepers.

trades union n GB = trade union.

Trades Union Congress n → TUC.

trade union n an association of workers formed to protect their interests, improve their pay and conditions etc.

trade unionist n a member of a trade union.

trading ['treɪdɪŋ] n the activity of buying and selling □ street/market trading □ The dollar fell two points in heavy trading on the Stock Exchange today.

trading estate n GB = industrial estate.

trading stamp n a stamp that is given by a store to its customers each time they buy goods and that can be exchanged later for goods or money.

tradition [trə'dɪʃn] n -1. the system of beliefs, customs, and practices passed from one generation to the next □ the British love of tradition. -2. something that particular people have done or thought for many generations □ The celebrations at New Year are an ancient Chinese tradition. □ This year we decided to break with tradition and hold the party at home.

traditional [trə'dɪʃnəl] adj -1. [belief, practice, music] that has existed for many generations without changing □ a traditional Sunday lunch. -2. [teacher, father] who has traditional beliefs and is not interested in new ideas □ His family are very traditional.

traditionally [trə'dɪʃnəli] adv according to tradition □ The bride traditionally wears white.

traffic ['træfɪk] (pt & pp trafficked, cont trafficking) ◇ n -1. AUTO the vehicles using a road or street □ Sorry I'm late, I got stuck in traffic. □ Traffic is heavy on the roads into the city. □ a traffic accident. -2. AVIATION & SHIPPING the aircraft or ships using a route □ air traffic control. -3. [in drugs, arms, stolen goods] illegal trading □ arms traffic □ the international traffic in ivory. ◇ vi to trade illegally □ He's well known for trafficking in stolen goods.

traffic calming [-kɑ:mɪŋ] n GB the use of speed bumps, cameras etc on a road to stop people from driving along it too quickly.

traffic circle n US a place where several roads meet that has a circular, often raised, area in the middle that all cars drive around to get to the road they want.

traffic cone n a brightly-colored plastic object in the shape of a cone that is used to keep traffic away from part of a road when construction work is being done on it.

traffic island n a raised area in the middle of a road where pedestrians can wait to cross.

traffic jam n a situation in which there is so much traffic that it moves very slowly or not at all.

trafficker ['træfɪkɜ:] n a person who deals in illegal goods □ a trafficker in stolen works of art □ a drugs trafficker.

traffic lights npl colored lights that control the movement of vehicles at places where two or more roads meet □ a set of traffic lights □ The traffic lights were green/red.

traffic offence n GB = traffic violation.

traffic sign n = road sign.

traffic violation US n an illegal act connected with driving a vehicle.

traffic warden n GB an official in a city whose job is to check that vehicles are not parked illegally.

tragedy ['trædzədi] (pl tragedies) n -1. something that happens that makes people extremely sad □ His early death was a tragedy for his family. □ Their life was marred by tragedy. □ The trip ended in tragedy when the boat sank out at sea. -2. something that happens that is unfortunate □ It's a tragedy for us all that he never won power. -3. a play in which the main character or characters are destroyed by a combination of circumstances and personal failings; such plays taken together as a group □ Shakespeare's tragedies □ Greek tragedy.

tragic ['trædzɪk] adj -1. [event] that is extremely sad and unfortunate □ Dean was killed in a tragic road accident. -2. [play, character] that ends in tragedy □ a tragic tale of love and loss.

tragically ['trædzɪklɪ] adv [die, end] see tragic □ a tragically short life □ Tragically, they both died.

trail [treɪl] ◇ n -1. [in the countryside] a very rough path through forest, countryside etc □ We followed the trail through the pine trees toward the sea. ■ to blaze a trail to be the first to do something and set an example for other people in an activity such as research. -2. [of a person, animal] the track or smell that is left by a person or animal and that can be followed by somebody who is hunting them □ The police are hot on the trail of the thieves/stolen goods. -3. [of smoke, dust] a line or series of signs left behind by somebody or something as they move □ a vapor trail □ The army left a trail of destruction in its wake.

◇ vt -1. [scarf, bag] to drag <sthg> behind one □ He came in, trailing his teddy bear behind him. -2. SPORT to have a lower score than <sb> □ Atlanta is trailing Cleveland three runs to two.

◇ vi -1. [scarf, bag, toy] to hang down loosely behind somebody as they move along □ Your belt's trailing on the ground. -2. [person] to walk slowly and without energy or enthusiasm □ The children trailed miserably around the stores with their mother. -3. SPORT & POLITICS to be trailing to be losing □ Tampa is trailing 1-0. □ He's trailing in the polls.

◆ trail away, trail off vi [voice, speech] to become quieter or weaker and then stop completely □ Anna's voice trailed off as she realized what had happened.

trailblazing ['treɪblɛɪzɪŋ] adj [research, policy, discovery] that is the first of its type and leads the way in an area of activity.

trailer ['treɪləʃ] n -1. a vehicle pulled by another vehicle and used for carrying large or heavy items. -2. US a vehicle with beds, kitchen equipment etc inside that can be pulled by another vehicle and that people live in or spend vacations in. -3. GB CINEMA & TV an advertisement for a movie or program that consists of short extracts from it.

trailer court, trailer park n US an area where a lot of mobile homes are parked, often with people living in them.

Trail of Tears n the Trail of Tears the route taken by the Cherokee people in 1838 and 1839 when they were forced to move from their lands in the southeastern USA to Oklahoma.

TRAIL OF TEARS

The Trail of Tears refers to the route followed by fifteen thousand Cherokee in 1838 and 1839, when they were forced by government troops to leave their own lands in the southeastern USA and march, in winter, to new settlements in what is now Oklahoma. Thousands of Cherokee died on the way from cold, disease, and exhaustion. This route is now a national monument, and is seen as a symbol of the injustices suffered by the Native American peoples.

train [treɪn] ◇ n -1. RAIL a vehicle that consists of several connected railroad cars or wagons pulled by an engine □ a freight/passenger train. -2. [of a dress] a part of a long dress, especially a wedding dress, that trails on the ground behind the wearer. -3. one's train of thought a series of connected thoughts that one is having □ You interrupted my train of thought. ■ a train of events a connected series of events.

◇ vt -1. [child, dog] to teach  to do something □ He can't use a potty yet, but we've started to train him. □ Their dog is trained to bark at strangers. -2. [nurse, recruit] to give <sb> formal instruction and practice in the knowledge, skills etc necessary for a particular job □ How many nurses were trained last year? □ I was trained in medicine but preferred the theater. -3. SPORT [athlete, horse, boxer] to help  become or stay physically fit through exercise and diet □ Our team has been specially trained for this event. -4. [ivy, creeper] to make  grow in a particular way or direction by cutting, tying etc. -5. [gun, camera] to point or aim <sthg> in a particular direction □ The police trained high-pressure hoses on the rioters.

◇ vi -1. [nurse, recruit] to be trained □ Where did you train? □ He's training to be a doctor. □ She trained as a secretary/dancer/social worker. -2. SPORT [athlete, team] to prepare for a sports event by doing a lot of exercise, especially in a planned way □ He's training for the marathon.

trained [treɪnd] adj [psychologist, singer, nurse] who has successfully completed their training □ He's a trained doctor.

trainee [treɪ'ni:] ◇ n a person who is being

- trained in a particular job. ◇ adj: a trainee nurse/architect.
- trainer ['treɪnə] n a person who trains people or animals in particular skills, for sport or work □ a dog/racehorse trainer.
- ◆ trainers npl GB soft shoes worn as casual clothing or by athletes for training □ a pair of trainers.
- training ['treɪnɪŋ] n the process of being trained for a job, sport etc □ He's in training for his next race. □ They give you training in word processing. □ She's had no formal training at all.
- training college n GB a college that trains adults for a trade or profession.
- training course n a course that trains people to do a particular job □ training courses in time management □ a computer training course.
- train set n a toy train with railroad lines and other equipment.
- train spotter [-spɒtə] n GB a person who is interested in trains and whose hobby is collecting the numbers of locomotives they have seen.
- train station n = railroad station.
- traipse [treɪps] vi to walk without enthusiasm and in a tired way (informal use) □ We spent an entire day traipsing around the tourist sights.
- trait [treɪt] n a part of somebody's character that is very noticeable □ Determination is definitely one of our family traits.
- traitor ['treɪtə] n a person who betrays somebody or something, especially their country □ He became hated as a traitor to his cause.
- trajectory [trə'dʒektəri] (pl trajectories) n [of a bullet, satellite, spaceship] the curved path followed by something that has been fired or thrown into the air.
- tram [træm] n GB a kind of bus that is driven by electricity and runs on rails laid on the streets of a town.
- tramcar ['træmkɑː] n GB = tram (formal use).
- tramlines ['træmlaɪnz] npl GB -1. the rails that trams run on. -2. SPORT the sets of two parallel lines on each side of a tennis or badminton court that mark the area used for doubles games.
- tramp [træmp] ◇ n -1. a person with no home or job who walks from place to place and usually lives by begging. -2. a woman whose sexual behavior one disapproves of (informal use). ◇ vi to walk with heavy or tired steps □ We tramped for miles without seeing any signs of life. ◇ vt: We tramped the streets looking for a cheap place to stay.
- trample ['træmpl] vi to crush <sb/sthg> under one's feet □ She was trampled to death.
- ◆ trample on vt fus -1. to trample on sthg to walk or tread heavily on sthg □ Tell those kids not to trample on my flowers! -2. to trample on sb to treat sb without any respect or consideration □ You mustn't allow yourself to be trampled on.
- trampoline ['træmpəli:n] n a piece of apparatus consisting of a sheet of tightly stretched material fixed to a frame by strong springs and used, e.g. by gymnasts and acrobats, to jump up and down on.
- trance [US træns, GB truːns] n a mental state in which one does not notice what is happening around one □ He acts as if he's in a trance - he must have a lot on his mind.
- tranquil ['træŋkwəl] adj [life, place, person] calm, quiet, and peaceful (literary use).
- tranquility US, tranquillity GB ['træŋkwɪləti] n: see tranquil.
- tranquillize US, tranquillize, -ise GB ['træŋkwələɪz] vt to make  calmer or sleepy by means of a drug.
- tranquillizer US; tranquillizer GB ['træŋkwələɪzə] n a drug used to make people feel calm or less anxious, or to make people or animals sleepy □ The doctor put me on tranquillizers but I just felt awful.
- tranquillity n GB = tranquility.
- tranquillize etc GB = tranquillize etc.
- transact [træn'zækt] vt [sale, loan] to carry out  (formal use).
- transaction [træn'zækʃn] n a piece of business that has been transacted □ You will be charged for all transactions made outside office hours.
- transatlantic [,trænzət'læntɪk] adj -1. [flight, traffic, phone call] that crosses the Atlantic. -2. [branch, politics] that is connected with the other side of the Atlantic.
- transceiver [træn'si:və] n a piece of radio equipment that sends out and receives signals.
- transcend [træn'send] vt -1. [boundary, limitation, everyday life] to go beyond the limits of <sthg> □ to transcend the bounds of ordinary human experience. -2. to be better or more important than <sthg> □ an issue of national importance that transcends political rivalries.
- transcendental meditation [,trænsendntl-] n a method of relaxation in which one repeats special words in one's mind.
- transcribe [træn'skraɪb] vt -1. [recording, speech, statement] to produce a written version of <sthg>. -2. [document, notes, manuscript] to write an exact copy of <sthg>. -3. [text, document, manuscript] to write <sthg> in a different alphabet □ He transcribed the Greek text.
- transcript ['trænskɪpt] n a written or printed version of a speech, conversation etc □ A written transcript of the speech is available.
- transept ['trænsɛpt] n the part of a church that crosses the main central part at right angles.
- transfer [n 'trænsfɜː, vb træns'fɜː] (pt & pp transferred, cont transferring) ◇ n -1. the movement of somebody or something from one place to another □ a transfer of money between bank accounts. -2. [of power, ownership, allegiance] the act of giving something to somebody else □ the transfer of property from one owner to another. -3. [of an employee] a move to a different job or place within the same organization □ He wanted a transfer to another department/town. -4. SPORT a sale of a player to a different team. -5. [for decoration] a piece of paper with a drawing or design on it that can be transferred to another surface by ironing, rubbing etc. -6. US TRANSPORT a travel ticket that allows a passenger to change from one bus, train etc to another.

◇ vt -1. to move <sb/sthg> from one place to another □ The capital was transferred to Brasilia. □ The money will be transferred to your account on Monday. -2. [power] to give <sthg> to somebody else □ Ownership was transferred to the official receivers. -3. [employee] to move <sb> to a different job or place within the same organization □ He was transferred to accounting/Phoenix. -4. SPORT [player] to sell <sb> to a different team □ He was transferred to the major leagues for a huge amount.

◇ vi -1. [employee] She transferred to marketing/Chicago. -2. SPORT [player] He transferred to Baltimore for six-figures.

transferable [træns'fɜːrəbl̩] adj [ticket, ownership] that can be given to another person or organization for their use □ 'Not transferable.'

transference [US træns'fɜːrəns, GB 'trænsfrəns] n [of power, authority] see transfer (formal use).

transfer fee n GB SPORT a fee paid by one team to another for the transfer of a player.

transfigure [træns'fɪgʃə] vt to change the appearance of <sb> so that they appear more beautiful, noble, happy etc (literary use).

transfixed [træns'fɪkst] adj to be transfixed to be unable to move, think, or speak because of shock, terror etc □ They were transfixed with fear/shock.

transform [træns'fɔːm] vt to change <sb/sthg> completely, especially in a way that improves it □ The whole area has been transformed into a thriving industrial center. □ Simon transformed it into a colorful child's playroom.

transformation [,trænsfɔː'meɪʃn] n: see transform □ the transformation of the Soviet economy □ The area underwent a complete transformation.

transformer [træns'fɔː'mɜː] n ELECTRICITY a piece of electrical equipment that changes the voltage of an electric current.

transfusion [træns'fjuːʒn] n the act of taking blood from one person's body and putting it into somebody else's body □ a blood transfusion.

transgress [træns'ɡres] (formal use) ◇ vt [law, rule] to break or go beyond <sthg>. ◇ vi: Those who transgressed were shown little mercy.

transient ['trænzɪənt] ◇ adj -1. [happiness, success, suffering] that lasts for only a short time (formal use). -2. [worker, population] that works or stays in a place for only a short time before moving on. ◇ n US a traveler who is in transit.

transistor [træn'zɪstə] n ELECTRONICS a small device used in radios, televisions etc to control the flow of an electric current within a circuit.

transistor radio n a small portable radio that contains transistors (old-fashioned use).

transit ['trænsət] n in transit [person, cargo] that is traveling or being moved from one place to another □ The shipment was lost in transit.

transit camp n a camp that provides a temporary place to live for refugees, soldiers etc.

transition [træn'zɪʃn] n a change from one state, form, or condition to another □ The country has undergone many transitions. □ the painful transition from a one-party state to democracy □ a society in transition.

transitional [træn'zɪʃnəl] adj -1. [phase, stage, period] see transition □ Whilst the country is going through this transitional phase... -2. [government] that holds power temporarily during a period of transition.

transitive ['trænzətɪv] adj GRAMMAR [verb] that is used with a direct object.

transit lane n AUS a lane for traffic that can only be used by vehicles that have two or more passengers.

transit lounge n a room in an airport where passengers can sit and wait while they change planes.

transitory [US 'trænsətɔːrɪ, GB -ətɪrɪ] adj [mood, happiness, success] that lasts for only a short time □ He reflected on the transitory nature of human existence.

translate [træns'leɪt] ◇ vt -1. [word, phrase, piece of writing] to write or say <sthg> in a different language, with the same meaning □ Her novel has been translated into many languages. □ translated from the Russian. -2. to translate sthg into sthg to turn <sthg> that is only an idea into sthg real or definite □ We need to translate vague promises into real votes. ◇ vi -1. [word, phrase] to be possible to translate □ That expression doesn't translate well. -2. [person] to express writing or speech in a different language □ She translates from French into English.

translation [træns'leɪʃn] n -1. see translate □ Translation from French into Spanish isn't difficult. -2. a piece of writing that is being or has been translated □ I have to finish that translation by Friday.

translator [træns'leɪtə] n a person who translates written text, especially as a job.

translucent [trænz'luːsnt] adj [glass, paper] that allows light to pass through but cannot be seen through clearly.

transmission [trænz'mɪʃn] n -1. see transmit. -2. RADIO & TV something, e.g. a message or program, that is transmitted □ We interrupt this transmission to bring you a newsflash.

transmit [trænz'mɪt] (pt & pp transmitted, cont transmitting) vt -1. ELECTRONICS [signal, message, program] to send <sthg> by radio waves, cable etc □ Information is transmitted to the central computer. -2. [disease, information, knowledge] to pass <sthg> from one person, place, or thing to another □ The disease can be transmitted orally.

transmitter [trænz'mɪtə] n ELECTRONICS a piece of equipment that transmits radio or television signals.

transparency [US træns'perənsɪ, GB '-pær-] (pl transparencies) n -1. PHOTOGRAPHY a small photograph that can be looked at by shining light behind it to show a picture on a large screen. -2. [for an overhead projector] a sheet of transparent plastic that information can be written on or photocopied onto, used in an overhead projector. -3. [of a material] the quality of being transparent.

transparent [US træn'spærənt, GB -'pær-] adj
-1. [plastic, material] that one can see through clearly □ a transparent piece of glass. -2. [deception, excuse] that is obvious and deceives nobody □ What he said was a transparent lie. -3. [argument, reasoning, style] that is clear and easy to understand □ her clear, transparent prose.

transpire [træn'spaɪə] (formal use) ◇ vt it transpired that... a phrase used to introduce facts that one learns or discovers at a future time □ It later transpired that she had not been present at the funeral. ◇ vi to happen □ It will be interesting to see what transpires as a result of this.

transplant [vb US træn'splænt, GB -'plɑ:nt, n US 'trænsplænt, GB -'plɑ:nt] ◇ vt -1. MEDICINE [organ, tissue] to move <sthg> from the body of one person and put it into the body of another person. -2. [population, worker, headquarters] to move <sb/sthg> to another place. ◇ n -1. an operation in which an organ or tissue is transplanted □ a heart/liver transplant □ the transplant of human organs. -2. the organ or tissue used in a transplant □ The transplant was rejected by the patient's body.

transport [n 'træns'pɔ:t, vb træn'spɔ:t] ◇ n
-1. a system of carrying people or goods from one place to another □ road/rail transport □ Do you have your own means of transport? -2. the act of carrying people or goods from one place to another. ◇ vi to carry <people, goods> etc from one place to another.

transportable [træn'spɔ:təbl] adj that can be transported □ Pianos are not easily transportable.

transportation [US ,træns'pɔ:teɪʃn, GB -'pɔ:-] n
-1. [of goods, people] see transport □ the transportation of heavy goods by road. -2. US a system of carrying people or goods from one place to another □ public transportation.

transport cafe n GB a cafe on a main road that is used mainly by long-distance truck drivers.

transporter [træn'spɔ:tə] n a large vehicle used for carrying heavy objects, e.g. cars or heavy equipment.

transpose [træns'pəuz] vt [letters, figures] to change the position of two things so that each is in the place of the other.

transsexual [træns'sekʃuəl] n a person who has decided to live as a member of the opposite sex and has medical treatment, e.g. an operation or drugs, to change their sex.

transvestite [trænz'vestait] n a man who finds pleasure in wearing women's clothes.

trap [træp] (pt & pp trapped, cont trapping) ◇ vt -1. to catch <an animal> in a trap. -2. to deceive, trick, or catch <sb> □ He was trapped into betraying the names of the other people involved. -3. to be trapped to be in a place or situation from which it is difficult or impossible to escape □ They were trapped in the elevator. □ She was trapped in a dead-end job/an unhappy relationship. -4. [energy, heat] to store <sthg> so that it can be used later.

◇ n -1. a device used for trapping animals or birds □ A hare was caught in the trap. -2. a situation designed to trick or catch somebody □ Be careful, it might be a trap! □ Sam had led me straight into a trap. -3. an unpleasant situation from which it is difficult or impossible to escape □ the poverty trap □ Her marriage/career had become a trap.

trapdoor ['træpdɔ:] n a small door in a floor, ceiling, stage etc.

trapeze [US træ'pi:z, GB trə-] n a bar hung high in the air from two ropes and used by acrobats to swing on □ a trapeze artist.

trapper ['træpə] n a person who traps animals, especially for their fur.

trappings ['træpiŋz] npl the outward signs of power, wealth etc □ the trappings of success.

trash [træʃ] ◇ n -1. US unwanted things and waste material that people throw away □ Could you take out the trash? -2. something that is of very bad quality (informal and disapproving use) □ How can you read this trash? ◇ vt (informal use) -1. US to criticize <sb/sthg> severely □ The critics completely trashed the novel. -2. to do a lot of damage to  □ They trashed the apartment.

trash bag n US a plastic bag placed inside a trash can and used to collect trash.

trashcan ['træʃkæn] n US a large round container with a lid that people put their trash in and keep outside their house.

trashy ['træʃi] (compar trashier, superl trashiest) adj [book, movie, music] that one thinks is of very poor quality (informal use).

trauma [US 'traumə, GB 'trɔ:mə] n -1. a very unpleasant experience that may have a lasting effect on one □ The trauma of losing a child was more than I could bear. -2. MEDICINE a state of shock caused by a severe injury or wound.

traumatic [US trə'mætɪk, GB trɔ:-] adj [event, experience] that is very upsetting, causes great stress, and has a lasting effect on somebody □ Shirley had had a very traumatic childhood.

traumatize, -ise [US 'traumətaɪz, GB 'trɔ:m-] vt to shock or upset <sb> so badly that the way they think or behave is affected for a long time □ As a war correspondent, he was traumatized by the sight of so much violence.

travel ['trævl] (US pt & pp traveled, cont traveling, GB pt & pp travelled, cont travelling) ◇ n traveling □ The job afforded many opportunities for foreign travel. ◇ vt -1. to visit many parts of <an area> □ She's traveled the world. -2. to move  on a trip □ We traveled 50 miles that day. ◇ vi -1. to make a trip or trips □ John is traveling around India. □ We stay in Beijing for five days and then travel on to Hong Kong. -2. [vehicle, light, sound] to move □ The signal travels along a wire. □ News travels fast around here! ◇ adj [clock, iron] that is designed to be used when traveling.

◆ travels npl trips, especially abroad or over long distances □ Lesley came to dinner and told us all about her travels in Indonesia.

travel agency n a business that makes vacation or travel arrangements for people.

travel agent n a person who runs or works in a travel agency. ■ a travel agent's a travel agency.

travel brochure n a brochure that advertises vacations.

traveled US, travelled GB ['trævlɪd] adj -1. much-traveled, well-traveled [person] who has been to many countries □ a widely traveled journalist. -2. a much-/little-traveled road a road that is used by a lot of/few travelers.

traveler US, traveller GB ['trævlər] n -1. a person who is traveling. -2. a person who travels a lot □ a hardened traveler.

traveler's check n a check used by travelers abroad that can be exchanged for local currency.

travel expenses npl = traveling expenses.

traveling US, travelling GB ['trævlɪŋ] adj -1. a traveling theater/circus etc a theater/circus etc that travels from place to place. -2. [time, allowance] that is connected with traveling □ You should allow two hours' traveling time.

traveling expenses npl money that is spent on traveling by an employee or job candidate and is paid back by the company.

traveling salesman n a representative of a company who travels from place to place to sell goods and get orders.

travelled adj GB = traveled.

traveller n GB = traveler.

travelling adj GB = traveling.

travelog US, travelogue GB ['trævələg] n a talk, movie, or book about travel in a particular place or about a particular person's travels.

travelsick ['trævlzɪk] adj GB to be travelsick to feel sick because of the movement of the vehicle one is traveling in.

traverse [ˌtrævəˈsɪs] vt [ridge, lake, forest] to go across or through <sth> (formal use).

travesty ['trævəstɪ] (pl travesties) n an example of something that is very bad and gives a very wrong idea of what it should be like □ a travesty of justice.

trawl [trɔːl] ◇ n -1. a wide net used for fishing that is pulled along the bottom of the sea behind a ship. -2. a complete and careful search. ◇ vt -1. to fish in <an area, bay> etc using a trawl □ They trawled the coast for cod. -2. to search through  to find something □ Police have trawled the area looking for clues. ◇ vi: They were trawling in Canadian waters. □ We trawled through all the files.

trawler ['trɔːlə] n a fishing boat that uses a trawl.

tray [treɪ] n a flat piece of wood, plastic etc that has raised edges and is used for carrying small objects such as cups and plates □ She brought in a tray of drinks.

treacherous ['treɪʃərəs] adj -1. [person] who is not loyal and who will harm people in order to get something they want □ his treacherous behavior. -2. [rocks, river] dangerous □ Those mountains are treacherous.

treachery ['treɪʃəri] n treacherous behavior.

treacle ['triːkl] n GB a thick, dark, sticky liquid that is made from sugar and is used in making toffee, cakes etc.

tread [tred] (pt trod, pp trodden) ◇ n -1. the raised patterned surface on a tire that helps to stop it from slipping □ The tread on the tires was almost worn down. -2. the sound somebody's feet make when walking □ I heard his soft tread on the stairs.

◇ vt to crush <sth> using one's foot □ He trod his cigarette into the carpet.

◇ vi -1. to tread on sth [on grass, somebody's foot, glasses] to press the bottom of one's foot on sth, usually when walking □ Be careful not to tread on the cat! -2. to walk in a particular way □ We trod wearily onward. ■ to tread carefully to speak or act carefully in order to avoid causing problems, upsetting somebody etc □ I'd advise you to tread carefully when you speak about it to Speer.

treadle ['tredl] n a lever operated with the foot in order to make a machine such as a sewing machine work.

treadmill ['tredmɪl] n -1. a mill driven by people treading on steps attached to the outside of a large wheel. -2. tiring and boring work that never changes.

treas abbr of treasurer.

treason ['triːzən] n the crime of betraying one's country, e.g. by giving its secrets to a foreign government.

treasure ['treʒə] ◇ n -1. a collection of valuable things such as gold, silver, and jewels □ buried treasure. -2. a valuable object such as a painting or sculpture □ one of the museum's many treasures. ◇ vt [memory, photo] to treat <sth> as very special and valuable □ a little ornament which she treasured above all else.

treasure hunt n a game in which people are given clues to help them find something that has been hidden.

treasurer ['treʒərə] n a person in charge of the money and accounting in a group or organization.

treasure trove n LAW a large amount of money, gold, or jewelry that has been found somewhere but that has not been claimed by anybody.

treasury ['treʒəri] (pl treasuries) n the place where money belonging to the government is stored.

◆ Treasury n the Treasury the department in a government that is responsible for managing the country's finances.

Treasury bill, Treasury note n a document that is sold by the government to get money and that it agrees to buy back after three months.

treat [tri:t] ◇ vt -1. to consider or act in relation to <sth> in a particular way; to behave toward <sb> in a particular way □ Don't treat my complaint as a joke! □ He always treated her like a child. □ We were very well treated by the police. -2. [one's children, parents] to buy or pay for something for <sb> in order to please them □ He treated us to a big meal. ■ to treat oneself to buy something special for oneself □ I treated myself to a new dress. -3. [patient, illness, injury] to try to cure or heal <sb/sthg> using medical treatment □ My wife is being treated by Dr Irving. -4. [wood, cloth, brick] to put a special substance on <sthg> to protect it or to change its appearance □ We've treated the floor for woodworm.

 ◇ n something special intended to give pleasure □ I wanted to give you a treat.

treatise ['tri:tə:s] n a long piece of writing on a serious subject (formal use).

treatment ['tri:tmənt] n -1. MEDICINE the medical methods used to treat a sick or injured person □ a new treatment for arthritis. -2. a way of dealing with somebody or something □ Prisoners have complained of ill treatment.

treaty ['tri:tɪ] (pl treaties) n a written agreement between countries □ the Treaty of Rome □ a peace treaty.

treble ['trebl] ◇ adj -1. a treble voice a high-pitched voice. -2. GB repeated three times; multiplied by three □ My phone extension is treble five. □ My rent is treble what it was last year. ◇ n MUSIC a boy with a high singing voice. ◇ vt to make <sthg> three times larger in size or amount □ I'm willing to treble what they're offering. ◇ vi: House prices have trebled since 1976.

treble clef n a symbol (♩) written at the beginning of a line of music to show that the notes played are on the right-hand half of a piano keyboard.

tree [tri:] n -1. a tall plant that has a wooden trunk, branches, and leaves, and that lives for many years □ an apple tree. ■ to be barking up the wrong tree to have the wrong idea about somebody or something. ■ not to see the forest US OR wood GB for the trees to fail to understand the main facts about something because one is thinking too much about small details -2. COMPUTING a system in which information is linked in related branches rather than in a sequence with one item directly after the other.

tree-lined adj [avenue, entrance, road] that has trees on either side of it.

tree surgeon n a person whose job is to take care of trees, e.g. by cutting off damaged or dangerous branches.

treetop ['tri:tɒp] n the top part of a tree □ Birds were singing in the treetops.

tree trunk n the main upright wooden stem of a tree.

trek [trek] (pt & pp trekked, cont trekking) ◇ n a long hard journey, especially on foot. ◇ vi to make a long hard journey.

trellis ['treləs] n an upright frame made of strips of wood that cross over each other, used to support plants that climb.

tremble ['trembəl] vi [person, voice, hands] to shake because one is cold, frightened etc □ He trembled with fear.

tremendous [trə'mendəs] adj -1. [noise, success, difference] very great in size, amount, or degree □ There was a tremendous crash, then the roof fell in. -2. [evening, party, game] that one enjoys and thinks is very good (informal use) □ I had a tremendous time on vacation.

tremendously [trə'mendəslɪ] adv -1. tremendously exciting/talented etc very exciting/talented etc □ It was a tremendously dull evening. -2. very much □ I enjoyed myself tremendously.

tremor ['tremə] n -1. [of one's body, voice] an uncontrollable shaking movement caused by fear, cold etc. -2. a small earthquake □ an earth tremor.

tremulous ['tremjələs] adj [voice, smile] that is unsteady, usually because one is feeling nervous or emotional (literary use).

trench [trentʃ] n -1. a long narrow hole dug in the ground, e.g. to lay pipes in. -2. MILITARY a long, narrow hole dug in the ground and used by soldiers for protection in battles.

trenchant ['trentʃənt] adj [criticism, comment] that is expressed forcefully and directly (formal use).

trench coat n a long raincoat with a belt made in the style of a military coat.

trench warfare n fighting in which soldiers on both sides fire their weapons at one another without leaving their trenches.

trend [trend] n a general way in which a situation is changing gradually □ The dollar is on a downward trend. □ the trend toward vegetarianism.

trendsetter ['trendsetə] n a person or organization that starts a new trend or fashion.

trendy ['trendi] (compar trendier, superl trendiest, pl trendies) (informal use) ◇ adj [person, clothes, music] very modern and fashionable. ◇ n a person who is very fashionable.

trepidation [ˌtrepsə'deɪʃn] n in OR with trepidation in a state of fear or worry (formal use) □ With great trepidation I approached the manager.

trespass ['trespəs] vi to go onto private land or property without permission □ He was caught trespassing on Mr Moffat's land. □ 'No trespassing.'

trespasser ['trespəsə] n a person who trespasses on somebody's private land □ 'Trespassers will be prosecuted.'

trengle table ['tresl] n a table consisting of a flat top that is supported at each end by a wooden or metal structure shaped like the letter A.

trial ['traɪəl] n -1. LAW the process by which a judge or jury decides in a court whether somebody is guilty of a crime □ Hughes will stand trial for criminal negligence. □ She still has the right to a fair trial. ■ to be on trial to be tried in a court □ He's on trial for tax evasion. -2. [of a product] a test of something for a limited period of time to find out how good it is. ■ to take/have sthg on trial [product, goods] to take/have sthg for a limited period in order to decide whether or not one wants to keep it before paying for it. ■ on a trial basis as part of a temporary arrangement to see if something works properly or in a satisfactory way □ He was hired on a trial basis. ■ trial and error a way of learning how to do something in a satisfactory way by trying several different methods to find the best one □ "How did you work out how to do it?" — "Trial and error." -3. an unpleasant and difficult experience. ■ trials and tribulations a series of unpleasant and worrying experiences □ the trials and tribulations of life in the city.

trial period n a period during which something or somebody is checked to see how good, reliable etc they are before being completely accepted □ She's been taken on for an initial three-month trial period. □ You can keep the goods for a trial period of 14 days.

trial run n a first attempt at doing something to make sure it works properly □ The car crashed during its trial run.

trial-size(d) adj [pack, box] that contains only a small amount of a product and is sold cheap to allow people to try it.

triangle ['traɪæŋɡl] n -1. a shape (Δ) with three straight sides. -2. MUSIC a small instrument made of a piece of metal in the shape of a triangle that one plays by hitting it with a metal rod. -3. US [for drawing] a flat triangular piece of plastic, metal, or wood with a right angle, used for drawing angles and lines.

triangular [traɪ'æŋɡjələ] adj that is in the shape of a triangle.

triathlon [traɪ'æθlɒn] n a competition in three parts in which people swim, cycle, and run without stopping to rest between each part.

tribal ['traɪbl] adj [art, dance] that is connected with a tribe or tribes; [warfare, divisions] that happens between tribes.

tribe [traɪb] n a social group consisting of people of the same race, beliefs, language etc, especially when they live together in a particular area and are led by a chief.

tribulation [ˌtrɪbjə'leɪʃn] n → trial.

tribunal [traɪ'bju:nl] n a group of people who are officially chosen to deal with particular matters and to make judgments □ a military tribunal.

tribune ['trɪbjʊ:n] n HISTORY an official chosen by the people of ancient Rome to represent their interests.

tributary [US 'trɪbjətəri, GB -təri] (pl tributaries) n a small stream or river that flows into a larger one.

tribute ['trɪbjʊ:t] n -1. something that is said or done to show respect or admiration for somebody □ There were tributes from many distinguished colleagues. ■ to be a tribute to sb/sthg to show the good effects or influence of sb/sthg □ It is a tribute to their organizational skills that everything went so smoothly. -2. to pay tribute to sb/sthg to show respect or admiration for sb/sthg □ In his speech he paid tribute to the efforts of aid workers.

trice [traɪs] n GB in a trice very quickly.

triceps ['traɪseps] (pl triceps OR tricepses) n the muscle at the back of the upper part of one's arm.

trick [trɪk] ◇ n -1. something done to deceive somebody □ That was a nasty trick! ■ to play a trick on sb to do something to deceive sb, often for fun □ He played a nasty trick on us. □ Is it my memory playing tricks on me, or have I met you before? -2. a clever action done to entertain people □ magic tricks. -3. a clever way of doing something or special ability to do it □ It's a trick I learned at cooking classes. ■ to do the trick to achieve the result one wants □ That should do the trick.

◇ adj a trick knife/mustache etc a knife/mustache etc that is not real and is intended to deceive people, usually for fun.

◇ vt to deceive <sb> □ He tricked us into believing him.

trickery ['trɪkəri] n the use of tricks to deceive people.

trickle ['trɪkl] ◇ n -1. [of blood, water] a small slow flow of liquid □ A trickle of sweat ran down his neck. -2. [of complaints, correspondence, visitors] a slow movement of people or things in small numbers □ A slow trickle of visitors came and went all day. ◇ vi -1. [water, sweat] to flow slowly in drops or in a thin stream □ Blood trickled from the wound. -2. [people, donations] to move somewhere slowly in small numbers □ Applications continued to trickle in long after the ad appeared.

trick or treat n the Halloween custom in which children dress up in costumes, visit houses in their area, and ask for candy, money etc in return for not playing tricks; see box at Halloween.

trick question n a question that seems easier than it really is and in which the obvious answer is wrong.

tricky ['trɪki] (compar trickier, superl trickiest) adj [question, situation] that is difficult to deal with □ That puts me in a tricky position.

tricycle ['traɪsɪkl] n a vehicle like a bicycle that has three wheels, one at the front and two at the back, used especially by children.

trident ['traɪdnt] n a weapon like a very large fork with three points.

tried [traɪd] ◇ past tense & past participle of try. ◇ adj tried and tested [system, machine, method] that is known to be good because it has been used before successfully.

trier ['traɪə] n a person who tries very hard, even if they are not usually successful.

trifle ['traɪfl] n -1. a small thing of little importance or value (formal use) □ There's no point quarrelling over trifles. -2. COOKING a cold dessert made of sponge cake and fruit in Jello and covered in custard or cream.

◆ a trifle adv [upset, puzzled] slightly (formal use) □ I was a trifle confused after the meeting.

◆ trifle with vi fus to trifle with sb to behave toward sb without being respectful or serious enough □ Stop trifling with her affections.

trifling ['traɪflɪŋ] adj [sum, matter] that is too small to be important.

trigger ['trɪɡə] ◇ n the small metal lever pressed to fire a gun □ He pulled the trigger.

 ◇ vt [mechanism, explosion] to cause <sthg> to begin to work or happen immediately □ The imposition of the tax triggered violent riots.

◆ trigger off vt sep = trigger.

trigger-happy adj [soldier, police] who is too ready to shoot at people.

trigonometry [ˌtrɪgəˈnɒmətri] n the branch of mathematics that involves calculating the lengths of sides and sizes of angles of triangles.

trilby [ˈtrɪlbi] (pl trilbies) n GB a man's hat made of felt with a fold in its top.

trill [trɪl] ◇ n -1. MUSIC the repetition of two musical notes quickly, one after the other. -2. the short, repeated, high-pitched sounds made by a bird that is singing. ◇ vi [bird] to sing with a trill; [person] to speak, laugh etc in a high-pitched voice that sounds almost musical.

trillions [ˈtrɪljənz] pron used to refer to a very large number of people or things (informal use) □ I could see trillions of stars. □ It must have cost trillions!

trilogy [ˈtrɪlədʒi] (pl trilogies) n a series of three books, plays, movies etc with the same subject or characters.

trim [trɪm] (compar trimmer, superl trimmest, pt & pp trimmed, cont trimming) ◇ vt [hair, hedge] to cut small pieces from the edges of <sthg> to make it look neater □ Your hair needs trimming. ◇ n -1. an act of trimming something □ My hair needs a trim. -2. an extra piece of decoration, usually around the edge of something, e.g. on a car or dress. ◇ adj -1. [garden, dress] neat and tidy. -2. [figure, waist, person] slim.

◆ trim away, trim off vt sep to trim sth away or off [fabric, fat] to cut unnecessary pieces off sthg.

trimmed [trɪmd] adj trimmed with sthg [with lace, tinsel] with sthg added around the edge as a decoration.

trimming [ˈtrɪmɪŋ] n [on clothing, curtains] an extra piece of material added for decoration.

◆ trimmings npl -1. COOKING the extra things, e.g. vegetables or sauces, that are usually served with a main dish □ roast beef with all the trimmings. -2. pieces that have been cut from something larger to make it neater.

Trinidad and Tobago [ˌtrɪnədəd-] a country in the Caribbean consisting of two islands off the coast of Venezuela. SIZE: 5,128 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,300,000 (Trinidadians, Tobagonians). CAPITAL: Port of Spain. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Trinidadian dollar.

Trinity [ˈtrɪnəti] n the Trinity RELIGION in Christianity, the union of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit in one God.

trinket [ˈtrɪŋkət] n a small ornament or piece of jewelry of little value.

trio [ˈtri:əʊ] (pl trios) n -1. a group of three people or things. -2. MUSIC a group of three singers or musicians who perform together; a piece of music written for this group.

trip [trɪp] (pt & pp tripped, cont tripping) ◇ n

-1. the act of traveling to and visiting a place for business or pleasure □ Have a good/nice trip. □ I'm afraid she's away on a business trip. □ a trip to the countryside. -2. ▽ a mental experience caused by taking drugs in which one sees or feels things in a strange and unreal way (drugs slang). ◇ vt to cause <sb> to hit their foot against something so that they lose their balance or fall over □ He tripped me. ◇ vi: He tripped over a cord and fell.

◆ trip up vt sep -1. to trip sb up to trip sb □ Peter tried to trip Alice up on the stairs. -2. to trip sb up to cause sb to make a mistake □ The last question tripped him up completely.

tripartite [ˌtraɪˈpɑːtɪt] adj [agreement, talks] involving three separate groups (formal use).

tripe [traɪp] n -1. COOKING the stomach wall of a pig, cow, or ox that is eaten as food. -2. something that one thinks is nonsense (informal use) □ What a load of tripe!

triple [ˈtrɪpl] ◇ adj -1. [purpose, role] that is made up of three parts or things □ She did a triple somersault. □ the Triple Entente. -2. that is repeated three times □ a triple brandy. ◇ vt to make <sthg> three times greater in size or amount □ We managed to triple our sales as a result of the advertising campaign. ◇ vi: Inflation has tripled over the last 18 months.

Triple Crown n the Triple Crown in the USA, an unofficial horseracing championship consisting of three important races, including the Kentucky Derby.

triple jump n the triple jump an event in athletics in which competitors have to jump as far as possible and are allowed to touch the ground once with each foot before finally landing.

triplets [ˈtrɪpləts] npl three children born to the same mother at the same time.

triplicate [ˈtrɪpləkət] n in triplicate in three copies, including the original.

tripod [ˈtraɪpɒd] n a frame with three legs used to support a piece of equipment such as a camera.

tripwire [ˈtrɪpwaɪə] n a wire stretched low over the ground that causes an explosive, trap etc to work if a person or animal touches it with their foot.

Tristan and Isolde [US ˌtrɪstənənɪˈsould, GB ˌzɒldə] in European legends, two young lovers who die tragically.

trite [traɪt] adj [remark, statement] that is not impressive because it has been said or used too often before (disapproving use).

triumph [ˈtraɪʌmf] ◇ n -1. a great victory or success □ The election was a triumph for the Democrats. -2. a feeling of great satisfaction caused by success □ She felt a great sense of triumph at last. ◇ vi [politician, team] to win a great victory, especially in very difficult conditions □ Justice has triumphed. □ She has triumphed over her disability.

triumphal [traɪˈʌmfəl] adj a triumphal march/procession etc a march/procession etc that takes place to celebrate a great victory.

triumphant [traɪˈʌmfənt] adj [shout, grin] that expresses great satisfaction; [person] who has been successful in something and so is very happy.

triumphantly [traɪ'ʌmfəntli] adv [shout, grin] see triumphant.

triumvirate [traɪ'ʌmvərət] n a group of three people in charge of the government of a state, especially in ancient Rome.

trivet ['trɪvət] n -1. a stand with three legs used for holding a cooking pot over a fire. -2. a short metal stand placed under hot dishes or pots to protect a surface.

trivia ['trɪviə] n unimportant matters or information □ a trivia quiz.

trivial ['trɪviəl] adj unimportant and not serious □ I hate to bother you with such a trivial matter.

triviality [,trɪvɪ'æləti] (pl trivialities) n -1. something unimportant □ I'm not concerned about such trivialities. -2. a lack of importance and seriousness □ the triviality of the story.

trivialize, -ise ['trɪvɪəlaɪz] vt [role, fact, event] to make <sthg> seem less important or serious than it really is □ She felt the newspaper had trivialized the story.

trod [trɒd] past tense of tread.

trodden ['trɒdn] past participle of tread.

Trojan ['trɒdʒən] n to work like a Trojan to work very hard.

troll [US trɒl, GB trɒl] n an ugly creature in Scandinavian mythology that lives in caves or hills and has special powers.

trolley ['trɒli] (pl trolleys) n -1. US = trolley car. -2. GB a metal container on wheels that is pushed along and used for carrying heavy things such as shopping □ a supermarket trolley. -3. GB a small table on wheels used for serving food and drinks □ a drinks trolley.

trolleybus ['trɒlɪbʌs] n a bus that is powered by electric cables above the street.

trolley car n US a large vehicle used for public transportation that is operated by electricity and moves along metal lines built into the road surface.

trombone [trɒm'baʊn] n a brass musical instrument that is played by blowing into one end and by moving a U-shaped part in and out to change the notes.

troop [tru:p] ◇ n a group of people or animals that moves somewhere together □ a troop of schoolchildren. ◇ vi to move somewhere in a group □ They all trooped off to the zoo.

◆ troops npl soldiers organized in groups for a particular purpose □ Troops have been flown in from US airbases.

trooper ['tru:pə] n -1. MILITARY a soldier of the lowest rank in a part of an army that uses armored vehicles. -2. US a member of the police force of a particular state.

troopship ['tru:pʃɪp] n a ship for transporting soldiers.

trophy ['trɒfɪ] (pl trophies) n SPORT a prize such as a silver cup given to the winner of a competition or race.

tropical ['trɒpɪkl] adj [climate, region, fruit] that is typical of the tropics.

Tropic of Cancer [ˌtrɒpɪk-] n the Tropic of Cancer an imaginary circle around the Earth, parallel to the equator, at latitude 23½° N.

Tropic of Capricorn n the Tropic of Capricorn an imaginary circle around the Earth, parallel to the equator, at latitude 23½° S.

tropics ['trɒpɪks] npl the tropics the hottest area of the world, near the equator.

trot [trɒt] (pt & pp trotted, cont trotting) ◇ n -1. the movement of a horse that is quicker than a walk but slower than a gallop □ The horse went off at a trot. -2. the movement of a person that is like a slow run but with small quick steps □ He ran at a gentle trot. ◇ vi [horse, person] to move with small quick steps □ Alice trotted along behind her father.

◆ on the trot adv GB one after another without interruption (informal use) □ That's three times on the trot I've won.

◆ trot out vt sep to trot sthg out [excuse, reason] to say or write sthg without thinking about it or meaning it □ He trotted out the usual hard-luck story.

Trotsky ['trɒtski], Leon (1879–1940) a Russian revolutionary leader who played an important part in the Russian Revolution of 1917.

Trotskyism ['trɒtskiɪzəm] n the belief of Leon Trotsky and his followers in a worldwide revolution in which the working class would take power by force.

trotter ['trɒtə] n a pig's foot that is cooked and eaten as food □ a pig's trotter.

trouble ['trʌbl] ◇ n -1. something that causes difficulty or problems □ The trouble is, I can't remember their number. □ What seems to be the trouble? □ You're too soft, that's your trouble. ■ to be in trouble to be in a situation where one is being blamed or punished; to be in a difficult situation □ He is in trouble with the police again! □ We're in deep financial trouble if we don't do something soon. ■ to get into trouble to do something that causes one to be blamed or punished; to get into a difficult situation □ He got into trouble with his boss/parents. ■ the trouble with sb/sthg is... the aspect of sb/sthg that causes problems is... □ The trouble with you is (that) you never listen.

-2. something that needs effort or causes inconvenience □ It'll save you a lot of trouble if you pay by direct debit. □ "Are you sure about this?" — "Honestly, it's no trouble at all." □ I had no trouble at all finding a parking space. ■ to take the trouble to do sthg to make the effort to do sthg □ You might take the trouble to listen when I'm talking to you! ■ to be asking for trouble to be behaving in a way that is likely to cause problems for oneself □ Walking around that area late at night is just asking for trouble. -3. [in part of one's body] illness or pain □ heart trouble. -4. [between people] fighting or violence that is caused by a disagreement or conflict □ There was trouble at the club again last night between rival gangs.

◇ vt -1. to cause <sb> to feel worried or upset □ It troubled him to see her so sad. -2. to disturb or cause inconvenience to <sb> □ I'm

- sorry to trouble you, but could you give me a hand? □ Can I trouble you for a light? -3. to cause pain to <sb> □ My knee's troubling me again.
- ♦ troubles npl -1. worries □ Just when we thought our troubles were over. -2. POLITICS social or political disorder. -3. the Troubles GB a term used to refer to the political violence in Northern Ireland.
- troubled ['trʌblɪd] adj -1. [person, look] worried or upset □ Her face looked troubled. -2. [life, place] that is affected by problems; [sleep] that is not relaxed and does not continue all night □ These are troubled times we live in. □ She spent a troubled night dreaming of Joe.
- trouble-free adj [existence, operation] that is without difficulties □ Until now, the trip had been relatively trouble-free.
- troublemaker ['trʌblmeɪkəʃ] n a person who causes disagreement or fighting.
- troubleshooter ['trʌblʃu:təʃ] n a person whose job is to solve problems affecting particular organizations, machines etc.
- troublesome ['trʌblsəm] adj [neighbor, car, job] that causes problems or anxiety; [knee, cold] that cannot be easily cured.
- trouble spot n a place where there is often violence or fighting.
- trough [traʊf] n -1. [on a farm] a long, narrow, open container from which animals eat or drink □ a pig's trough. -2. [on a graph] a low point in a series of high and low points measured over a period of time.
- trounce [traʊns] vt [opponent, team] to beat <sb> by a very large score (informal use).
- troupe [tru:p] n a group of singers, actors, dancers etc.
- trouser ['traʊzəʃ] comp a trouser leg/pocket a leg/pocket of a pair of trousers.
- trouser press n a device which trousers are placed in to stop them from becoming creased or to remove creases from them.
- trousers ['traʊzəʃz] npl a piece of clothing that covers the body from the waist to the ankle and has a separate part for each leg □ a pair of trousers.
- trouser suit n GB a suit for a woman consisting of a jacket and a pair of trousers.
- trousseau [US tru:'sou, GB 'tru:sou] (pl trousseaux [-z] OR trousseaus [-z]) n the possessions, e.g. bed linen and clothes, that a woman takes with her when she marries (old-fashioned use).
- trout [traʊt] (pl trout OR trouts) n a fish with a spotted brown skin that lives in rivers and is eaten as food.
- trove [trouv] → treasure trove.
- trowel ['traʊəl] n -1. a small tool with a curved pointed blade, used in the garden for planting, weeding etc. -2. a small tool with a flat blade, used for spreading cement.
- truancy ['tru:ənsɪ] n the fact of staying away from school without permission from one's teachers or parents.
- truant ['tru:ənt] n a child who does not go to school when he or she is supposed to. ■ to play truant to stay away from school without permission from one's teachers or parents.
- truce [tru:s] n an agreement between two countries, groups, or individuals to stop fighting or quarreling for a period of time □ The truce between the warring factions proved to be short-lived. ■ to call a truce to agree to stop fighting or quarreling for a period of time.
- truck [trʌk] < n -1. a large motor vehicle used for transporting goods. -2. RAIL a wagon with an open top that is used for transporting goods. < vt to transport <goods> by truck.
- truck driver n a person whose job is to drive a truck.
- trucker ['trʌkəʃ] n US = truck driver.
- truck farm n US a small farm that grows fruit and vegetables to be sold.
- trucking ['trʌkɪŋ] n the business of transporting goods by truck.
- truck stop n US a place near a highway where truck drivers can stop to rest, eat cheaply, and get fuel.
- truculent ['trʌkjələnt] adj [person, mood] bad-tempered and aggressive.
- trudge [trʌdʒ] < n a difficult tiring walk □ It was a long trudge to the top of the hill. < vi to walk with slow heavy steps, e.g. because one is tired or unhappy □ She trudged slowly up the steps.
- true [tru:] adj -1. [account, news, rumor] that is based on fact □ Everything she said is true. ■ to come true [dream, fears] to happen □ The trip was a dream come true for me. -2. the true worth/cost etc of sthg the real worth/cost etc of sthg and not the stated one □ I had to sell the car for less than its true value. □ Why do you hide your true feelings? -3. a true friend/Christian etc a person who has all the characteristics that a friend/Christian etc is supposed to have □ I don't think you could call it a true democracy. □ He still hopes to find true love. -4. [likeness, copy] that is accurate in relation to something else □ I'd say that is a pretty true assessment of the situation. -5. [servant, lover] who is loyal and can be trusted □ He swore never to desert her and to always be true. -6. to be true [frame, window] to be fitted in the correct position in relation to other things and so appear straight.
- true-life adj a true-life drama/adventure etc a drama/adventure etc that happens in reality rather than in fiction.
- true north n the direction of the north pole along an imaginary line through the center of the earth.
- truffle ['trʌfl] n -1. a small round chocolate that has a soft texture and often contains rum. -2. a round fungus that grows underground and is used to flavor food.
- truism ['tru:ɪzəm] n a statement that is considered obvious.
- truly ['tru:lɪ] adv -1. in a way that cannot be doubted □ At last the house was truly mine. □

This is truly a night to remember. -2. truly,... a word used to emphasize that what one is about to say is true □ Truly, I didn't know anything about it. -3. [believe, mean, feel] in a sincere way □ I'm truly sorry about what happened. -4. a word used for emphasis □ It was a truly amazing experience. -5. Yours truly a phrase used to end a formal letter □ Yours truly, Kathryn Schmidt. -6. yours truly a phrase one uses to talk about oneself in a humorous way (informal use) □ Guess who ended up paying for it? Yours truly!

Truman ['tru:mən], Harry S. (1884–1972) US President from 1945 to 1953. He was responsible for US involvement in the Korean War.

trump [trʌmp] ◇ n a playing card from the suit that has been chosen to have the highest value in a particular game □ Hearts are trumps. ◇ vt to beat <another player or card> by using a trump.

trump card n something one knows, has, or does and that one uses to get into a stronger position than somebody else in a particular situation.

trumped-up ['trʌmpɪd-] adj trumped-up charges charges that have deliberately been invented.

trumpet ['trʌmpət] ◇ n MUSIC a brass instrument that consists of a tube that curves around several times, has a wide opening at one end, and is played by blowing into it and pressing down on three buttons. ◇ vi [elephant] to give a loud cry.

trumpeter ['trʌmpətə] n a person who plays the trumpet.

truncate [US 'trʌŋkeɪt, GB trʌŋ'keɪt] vt [line, sentence, speech] to make <sthg> shorter by cutting off the end or stopping it suddenly.

truncheon ['trʌntʃən] n a stick that is carried by police officers as a weapon.

trundle ['trʌndl] ◇ vt [cart, barrow] to push <sthg that has wheels> along so that it moves slowly in an uneven way. ◇ vi [car, truck] to move somewhere slowly on wheels in an uneven way □ The bus trundled along a dirt track.

trunk [trʌŋk] n -1. [of a tree] the thick upright part of a tree from which branches grow □ a tree trunk. -2. [of a person] the main part of one's body, not including one's head and limbs. -3. [of an elephant] an elephant's long nose. -4. [for belongings] a large oblong box used to transport luggage or belongings □ I packed my trunk and left. -5. US [of a car] the part of a car, usually at the back, that is separate from the seats and is used to put luggage in □ I put your bags in the trunk.

◆ trunks npl -1. US shorts worn by men for doing sports. -2. GB shorts worn by men for swimming.

trunk road n GB a main road that connects different towns or cities.

truss [trʌs] n -1. MEDICINE a belt worn by a man who is suffering from a hernia. -2.

CONSTRUCTION a framework of beams that supports a roof or bridge.

trust [trʌst] ◇ vt -1. [friend, stranger] to consider <sb> to be sincere and unlikely to cause one any upset or harm; [employee, method, judgment] to be confident that one can depend on <sb/sthg> □ How can you trust a man like that? ■ to trust sb to do sthg to be sure that sb will do sthg □ Can I trust you to pay the bills while I'm away? ■ trust you/him/her etc a phrase used to show that one is not surprised by something silly, annoying etc that somebody has done because it is typical of them □ Trust Peter not to remember your birthday! -2. to trust sb with sthg to allow sb to have knowledge, use, or control of sthg because one has confidence in them □ I wouldn't trust him with that computer/my secrets/children. -3. to trust (that)... to suppose that something is true (formal use) □ I trust (that) you've enjoyed your stay here.

◇ n -1. a feeling of confidence that one has about the sincerity or worth of somebody or something □ You betrayed my trust. ■ trust in sb/sthg a feeling of confidence that one can depend on sb/sthg □ We have a lot of trust in your ability. □ We can't put much trust in what they say. ■ to take sthg on trust to accept sthg as being true without having any proof □ We don't know whether he's financially sound, but we'll just have to take that on trust. -2. a position of trust a responsible position in which one is trusted by many people □ As a teacher/doctor, he was in a position of trust. -3. FINANCE an arrangement in which somebody's money or property is controlled by another person or a group of people. ■ in trust [keep, hold] under the control of a trustee □ The house is held in trust until the children come of age. -4. BUSINESS a group of companies that agree together to fix prices for their products at the same level □ anti-trust laws.

trust company n a company that acts as a trustee for people and organizations, while also acting as a commercial bank.

trusted ['trʌstəd] adj [friend, colleague] who one trusts and values; [method] that is known to have worked in the past and so is reliable □ a tried and trusted remedy.

trustee [trʌ'sti:] n -1. FINANCE & LAW a person who controls money or property for somebody else. -2. one of a group of administrators who run the affairs of an organization.

trusteeship [trʌ'sti:ʃɪp] n the position of being a trustee.

trust fund n money or shares controlled by a trustee for the benefit of somebody else.

trust hospital n a British hospital that manages itself, and receives money directly from the government rather than the local health authority.

trusting ['trʌstɪŋ] adj [person] who is ready to believe that other people are kind and sincere.

trustworthy ['trʌstwɜ:ði] adj [person] who can be trusted □ Do you think he's trustworthy?

- trusty ['trʌsti] (compar trustier, superl trustiest) adj [weapon, animal, machine] that one can depend on (humorous use).
- truth [tru:θ] n -1. the truth the real facts about somebody or something □ Will the truth ever be known? ■ to tell the truth to say something that is true, rather than lie □ It's time you started telling (us) the truth. ■ to tell the truth,... a phrase used to emphasize that what one is about to say is honest but is likely to surprise or disappoint the other person □ To tell (you) the truth, I don't really feel like going. -2. something that is based on real facts □ There is some truth in what you say. ■ in truth a phrase used to emphasize that what one is about to say is true. -3. something that is widely accepted to be true □ There are one or two important truths you need to face up to.
- truth drug n a drug that makes people tell the truth.
- truthful ['tru:θfl] adj -1. [person] who tells the truth and does not lie. -2. [answer, account] that is based on the truth.
- try [traɪ] (vt & pp tried, pl tries) ◇ vt -1. [activity, task] to do <sthg> because one hopes it will help one to do something one wants or needs to do □ I'll try anything once. □ He tried his best to explain. □ Try not to think about it too much. ■ to try and do sthg to try to do sthg □ I must try and see him before he goes. -2. [food, drink] to eat, drink, or use <sthg> for the first time in order to find out what it is like; [pen, engine] to start to use <sthg> to find out if it works; [method, idea, remedy] to use <sthg> as a way of trying to do something; [doctor, library] to go to or contact  to ask for something one wants □ Try this, it's delicious! □ She tried the door to see if it was open. □ Have you tried calling the operator? □ Try him at his office, he might be there. -3. LAW to send  to a court for trial □ He was tried for manslaughter and found not guilty. -4. to try sb's patience to irritate sb so that they have to make an effort not to become angry. ◇ vi to make an effort □ At least she tried. □ Try harder! ■ to try for sthg [for a job, position] to make an effort to get sthg □ We are trying for a new baby. ◇ n -1. an act of trying to do something □ You didn't fool me, but it was a nice try! ■ to give sthg a try [method, remedy] to use sthg in the hope of getting or doing something that one wants; [sport, activity] to do sthg to find out whether one likes it or not □ I've never been rock climbing, but I'd like to give it a try. ■ to have a try at sthg to make an attempt to do sthg □ I don't think I can reach, but I'll have a try. -2. RUGBY the act of touching the ground with the ball behind the opponent's goal line, that scores four points.
- ◆ try on vt sep to try sthg on [skirt, coat, boots] to put sthg on to see if it fits or to see if the color, style etc looks right □ Could I try these jeans on, please?
- ◆ try out vt sep to try sthg out [plan, car, method] to use sthg to see how good or successful it is □ I'm trying out a new recipe.

trying ['traɪɪŋ] adj [experience, period, person] that is annoying or upsetting □ His behavior can be extremely trying at times.

try-out n the process of observing or checking somebody or something for the first time in order to see how good or suitable they are (informal use) □ Come along to next week's training session for a try-out.

tsar [zɑ:'ɪ] n the hereditary male ruler of Russia in the time before the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917.

T-shirt n a casual item of clothing that is worn on the upper half of the body and has short sleeves but no collar or buttons.

tsp abbr of teaspoon.

T-square n an instrument in the shape of a T, used for drawing or measuring right angles.

TT abbr of teetotal.

tub [tʌb] n -1. [of ice cream, margarine] a small plastic container that is usually covered with a lid -2. [for washing, a plant] a large, open, round container made of wood or metal. -3. US = bathtub.

tuba ['tju:bə] n a large brass musical instrument that makes deep sounds.

tubby ['tʌbi] (compar tubbier, superl tubbiest) adj [person] who is rather fat, especially at the waist (informal use).

tube [tju:b] n -1. [of metal, cardboard, glass] a long, narrow, hollow cylinder used as a container or to transfer liquids and gases. -2. ANATOMY a long, narrow, pipe-shaped passage in the human body □ the respiratory tubes. -3. [of toothpaste, paint, glue] a small cylindrical container that can be squeezed to release the contents at one end. -4. the tube GB the London underground train system □ Take the tube out to Heathrow. □ It's probably quicker to go by tube.

tubeless ['tju:bləs] adj a tubeless tire a tire that does not have an inner tube.

tuber ['tju:bə] n the fleshy, swollen, underground root of a plant such as the potato.

tuberculosis [tju,bɜ:'kʃə'lusəs] n an infectious disease that mainly affects the lungs and can kill people.

tube station n GB a station on the London underground train system.

tubing ['tju:bɪŋ] n a section of material, usually flexible, that forms a tube □ a piece of rubber tubing.

Tubman ['tʌbmən], Harriet (1820–1913) a US slave who escaped from slavery and then helped other slaves to reach the North of the USA.

tubular ['tju:bjələ] adj [structure, bells] in the form of a tube.

TUC (abbr of Trades Union Congress) n the TUC the association of representatives of labor unions in Britain.

tuck [tʌk] ◇ n SEWING a small fold in a piece of material or clothing that is held in place with stitches and used for decoration or to make something fit better. ◇ vt to put <sthg> somewhere so that it is neat, hid-

- den, or stays in a fixed position □ He wore his shirt tucked into his trousers. □ Sonia tucked the bill behind the clock on the mantelpiece.
- ◆ tuck away vt sep to tuck sb/sthg away to keep sb/sthg in a safe place where they cannot be reached or found easily □ She has a few thousand dollars tucked away. ■ to be tucked away somewhere [cottage, village] to be somewhere that is not easily reached or is not known by many people □ They live in a little village tucked away in the mountains.
- ◆ tuck in ◇ vt sep -1. to tuck sb in [child, patient] to make sb comfortable in their bed by arranging the sheets, covers etc, especially just before they go to sleep □ Will you come and tuck me in? -2. to tuck sthg in [shirt, sheet] to push the edge of sthg under something else to hold it neatly in place. ◇ vi to eat eagerly (informal use) □ Go on, tuck in!
- ◆ tuck up vt sep to tuck sb up to tuck sb in □ I'll be tucked up in bed by ten o'clock.
- tuck shop n GB a store near or in a school where children can buy candy and snacks.
- Tudor ['tʊ:də:] ◇ adj -1. HISTORY [king, queen] that is connected with the period in English history between 1485 and 1603. -2. ARCHITECTURE [mansion, style] that has features typical of the Tudor period, e.g. pointed roofs and black wooden beams. ◇ n the Tudors the kings and queens of England from 1485 to 1603.
- Tue., Tues. abbr of Tuesday.
- Tuesday ['tʊ:zdeɪ] n the day between Monday and Wednesday; see also Friday.
- tuft [tʌft] n a small mass of something such as hair or grass that is made up of several separate strands attached at the bottom.
- tug [tʌg] (pt & pp tugged, cont tugging) ◇ n -1. a short quick pull □ I gave the rope a sharp tug. -2. = tugboat. ◇ vi [hair, cord, rope] to pull <sthg> with a short quick movement □ He tugged my sleeve. ◇ vi [person] Tug harder! ■ to tug at sthg [at somebody's sleeve, arm] to take hold of and pull sthg with short quick movements □ The little boy kept tugging at her skirt.
- tugboat ['tʌgbəʊt] n a small strong boat that is used to pull larger boats, especially into a harbor.
- tug-of-love n GB a dispute between divorced or separated parents who both want to keep their child or children (informal use).
- tug-of-war n a game of strength between two teams of people who pull on different ends of the same rope until the weaker side is pulled across a line.
- tuition ['tʊ:ʃn] n -1. the act of teaching a subject, especially in a small or private class □ guitar/driving tuition □ tuition fees. -2. US EDUCATION money paid for tuition.
- tulip ['tʊ:lɪp] n a brightly colored flower that has a bell-shaped head and grows from a bulb in spring.
- tulle ['tʊ:l] n a transparent fabric like net, used for evening dresses, veils etc.
- tumble ['tʌmbəl] ◇ vi -1. [person, object] to fall quickly in a disorganized or uncontrolled way □ The potatoes came tumbling out of the sack. □ Steve slipped and tumbled down the slope. -2. [water] to flow quickly in an irregular way □ The water splashed and tumbled over the rocks. -3. [price, rate] to fall suddenly by a large amount □ The resignation sent stock prices tumbling. ◇ n a dramatic fall □ The yen took a tumble today in European markets.
- ◆ tumble down vi [building, structure] to collapse □ The whole wall came tumbling down.
- tumbledown ['tʌmbldaʊn] adj a tumbledown shack/house etc a shack/house etc that is in very bad condition and is starting to fall down.
- tumble-dry vt to dry <clothes that have been washed> in a tumble-dryer.
- tumble-dryer n a machine that dries clothes by going round slowly, so that they are continuously moving in hot air.
- tumbler ['tʌmblə] n a wide glass used for drinking that has a flat bottom and straight sides and does not have a handle □ a glass tumbler.
- tumbleweed ['tʌmbliwɛd] n a North American plant that breaks off from its roots and is blown about by the wind.
- tummy ['tʌmɪ] (pl tummies) n one's stomach (informal use) □ a flat tummy □ How's your tummy feeling?
- tumor US, tumour GB ['tʊ:mə] n a lump in the human body that is caused by an abnormal growth of cells and can cause serious illness □ a brain tumor.
- tumult ['tʊ:mʌlt] n a lot of noise and excitement (formal use).
- tumultuous [tʊ'mʌltʃʊəs] adj [applause, reception] very noisy and excited.
- tuna ['tʊ:nə] (pl tuna OR tunas), tuna fish (pl tuna fish) n a large fish found in warm seas and caught for food; the flesh of this fish that is eaten, especially as canned food □ tuna salad □ a tuna steak.
- tundra ['tʌndrə] n a large area of land found mainly in cold areas in the northern hemisphere such as Alaska and Siberia, and that has few or no trees.
- tune [tju:n] ◇ n several musical notes arranged to make a melody; a song. □ I'm sure I know that tune. ■ to change one's tune to act or speak in a way that shows one's opinion about something has changed (informal use) □ You soon changed your tune!
- ◇ vt -1. MUSIC [piano, violin, guitar] to adjust the strings, keys etc of  so that notes will sound right when they are played together. -2. RADIO & TV to use the controls of  to find a particular station or channel □ I keep my radio tuned to National Public Radio. -3. AUTO to make small changes to <an engine> so that it works properly.
- ◇ vi to tune to sthg RADIO & TV [to a station, channel] to tune a radio or television to sthg.
- ◆ in tune ◇ adj MUSIC to be in tune [guitar, piano] to be producing the right notes after be-

- ing tuned. ◇ adv -1. MUSIC [play, sing] making the right notes. -2. to be in tune with sb/sthg to show that one agrees with or understands sb/sthg □ He's totally in tune with our way of thinking.
- ◆ out of tune ◇ adj MUSIC to be out of tune [guitar, piano] to be producing the wrong notes because of not being tuned. ◇ adv -1. MUSIC [play, sing] making the wrong notes. -2. to be out of tune with sb/sthg to show that one does not agree with or understand sb/sthg □ They're out of tune with current trends.
- ◆ to the tune of prep up to  □ It's insured to the tune of three million dollars.
- ◆ tune in vi RADIO & TV to start watching or listening to a program on a particular station or channel □ Tune in to next week's episode.
- ◆ tune up vi [musician] to adjust one's instrument so that it will play in tune □ The orchestra was already tuning up.
- tuneful ['tju:nfl] adj [melody, music] that is pleasant to listen to.
- tuneless ['tju:nləs] adj [melody, music] that has no particular tune and so is not pleasant to listen to □ He sang along in a tuneless voice.
- tuner ['tju:nə] n the part of a television or radio that receives signals so that it can be tuned to a particular channel or station.
- tuner amplifier n an amplifier that has a radio tuner built in.
- tungsten ['tʌŋstən] n a hard metal used in electric light bulbs and to make steel for tools. SYMBOL: W □ a tungsten alloy/bar.
- tunic ['tju:nɪk] n an item of loose clothing that reaches from the upper half of the body to the hips or thighs and usually has no sleeves.
- tuning fork ['tju:nɪŋ-] n an object in the shape of a fork with two long prongs that is used for tuning musical instruments.
- Tunisia [US tʊ'ni:zə, GB tʃu'nɪziə] a country in North Africa, on the Mediterranean between Algeria and Libya. SIZE: 164,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 8,400,000 (Tunisians). CAPITAL: Tunis. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Tunisian dinar.
- tunnel ['tʌnl] (US pt & pp tunneled, cont tunneling, GB pt & pp tunnelled, cont tunnelling) ◇ n a passage that has been dug in the ground so that people, vehicles etc can go through it. ◇ vi [person, machine, rabbit] to make a tunnel by digging □ They will have to tunnel right through the mountain.
- tunnel vision n -1. MEDICINE a condition affecting the eyes in such a way that one can only see things that are straight ahead. -2. the inability to consider all aspects of a situation, problem etc.
- tunny ['tʌni] (pl tunny OR tunnies) n = tuna.
- turban ['tɜ:bən] n a covering for the head, made by winding a long strip of cloth around the head many times, that is worn especially by Muslim, Sikh, and Hindu men.
- turbid ['tɜ:'bəd] adj [water, smoke, cloud] that is dirty and difficult to see through.
- turbine ['tɜ:'baɪn] n a motor or engine in which power is produced when a wheel with blades on it is turned by the force of a gas or liquid.
- turbo ['tɜ:'boʊ] (pl turbos) n an extra device in a car engine that helps it to go faster than other models of the same type.
- turbocharged ['tɜ:'boʊtʃɑ:'dʒd] adj [car, engine] that is more powerful because it is fitted with a turbo.
- turbojet ['tɜ:'boʊdʒet] n an engine used in planes in which the power to move forward is produced by hot gases being sent out from the back; a plane with this type of engine.
- turboprop ['tɜ:'boʊprɒp] n -1. a jet engine that drives a propeller. -2. a plane that has a turboprop engine.
- turbot ['tɜ:'bɒt] (pl turbot OR turbots) n a large flatfish found in European waters; the flesh of this fish eaten as food.
- turbulence ['tɜ:'bjələns] n AVIATION air that moves violently and irregularly in the sky □ We experienced some turbulence on the return flight.
- turbulent ['tɜ:'bjələnt] adj -1. [air, water] that is moving around in an uncontrolled and irregular way □ The water was choppy and turbulent. -2. [period, situation] that is unstable and affected by sudden changes □ Those were turbulent times.
- tureen [tʊ'ri:n] n a large dish or pot covered with a lid and used for serving soup from.
- turf [tɜ:'f] (pl turfs OR turves) ◇ n -1. short thick grass that is all of the same length. -2. a small section of earth that has grass on it and is put on the ground to form part of a lawn. ◇ vt [lawn, yard] to cover the surface of <an area of land> with turf.
- turf accountant n GB a person whose job is to take bets on horse races (formal use).
- turgid ['tɜ:'dʒəd] adj [style, writing, film] that is too complex or dense and is boring to read, watch etc □ turgid prose.
- Turin ['tʊrɪn] the capital of Piedmont, northwest Italy. POPULATION: 1,000,000.
- Turing ['tʊərɪŋ], Alan (1912-1954) a British scientist who played an important part in the development of computers.
- Turk [tɜ:'k] n a person who comes from or lives in Turkey.
- turkey ['tɜ:'ki] (pl turkeys) n a large bird with dark feathers and a loose flap of skin underneath its beak that is kept on farms to be sold as food; the white meat of this bird, traditionally eaten at Christmas and Thanksgiving.
- Turkey a country in southeastern Europe and Western Asia, between the Mediterranean Sea and the Black Sea. SIZE: 780,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 60,700,000 (Turks). CAPITAL: Ankara. MAIN CITY: Istanbul. LANGUAGE: Turkish. CURRENCY: Turkish lira.

Turkish ['tɜːkɪʃ] ◇ n the language of Turkey.

◇ adj: see Turkey □ a Turkish carpet/meal.

Turkish bath n a bath that involves sitting in a hot room filled with steam, being given a massage, and then washing in cold water.

Turkish coffee n strong and usually very sweet black coffee.

Turkish delight n a soft candy that is usually pink or white and is cut into small cubes and lightly covered in powdered sugar.

turmeric ['tɜːməɪk] n a spice used to add flavor and a yellow color to food, especially curry.

turmoil ['tɜːmɔɪl] n a state of complete confusion and disorganization □ My mind was in turmoil. □ This latest crisis has thrown the government into turmoil.

turn [tɜːn] ◇ n -1. a right/left turn the point where a road, river etc bends toward the right/left □ The road takes a sharp turn inland here. -2. sb's turn the time when sb must do something or have something done to them □ Throw the dice, it's your turn. □ You'll have to wait your turn. □ Whose turn is it to drive? ■ to take (it in) turns to do sthg to do sthg one after the other □ We take it in turns to do the driving. -3. [of a key, wrist, wheel] an act of turning □ Give the handle a turn. -4. a turn of events a change or new development in a situation □ Nothing had prepared us for this dramatic turn of events. ■ to take a turn for the better/worse to get better/worse suddenly □ The weather/situation seems to have taken a turn for the worse. -5. TRANSPORT a road that leads to the left or right from the side of the road one is traveling along □ I missed the turn. -6. GB [in a theater, on television] a short performance □ The star turn of the evening was a brilliant young comic. -7. phrases to do sb a good/bad turn to do something that helps/harms sb. ■ a turn of phrase a particular way of expressing things in words. ■ the turn of the year/century the point where one year/century ends and a new one begins.

◇ vt -1. [object, part of one's body] to move <sthg> so that it faces a different direction □ Turn your chair to face the window. □ He turned his back on me. □ I called after her, but she didn't even turn her head. -2. [key, knob, handle] to take hold of <sthg> and move it in a circle around a fixed point □ Turn the steering wheel to the left. -3. [page, omelet, steak] to change the position of <sthg> so that the side of it that was hidden faces upward □ After ten minutes, turn the fish and grill the other side. -4. to turn one's mind OR thoughts to sthg to begin thinking about sthg □ We must turn our attention now to the question of deregulation. -5. to turn sthg into sthg to change sthg into sthg □ He has singlehandedly turned a small software firm into a giant of the computing industry. -6. to turn a bend/corner to go around a bend/corner.

◇ vi -1. [car, road, person] to start moving in a different direction □ Turn left and continue down the road. -2. [person] to move to face in a different direction □ Darcy turned to her and smiled. -3. [key, knob, handle] The wheels

turned. □ I heard the sound of his key turning in the lock. -4. to turn red/gray/cold etc to become red/gray/cold etc □ Be careful, he could turn nasty. □ The leaves were turning yellow.

◆ in turn adv a phrase used to describe events or actions that happen one after the other □ He greeted each member of the family in turn. □ Mrs Ryan's medical records were sent to the hospital, which in turn forwarded them to the specialist.

◆ turn against vt fus to turn against sb to start to dislike sb who one used to like □ Even his family has decided to turn against him.

◆ turn around ◇ vt sep -1. to turn sthg around [car, object] to move sthg so that it faces the opposite direction □ The traffic was so bad we turned the car around and went home. -2. to turn sthg around [goods, order] to complete work on or produce sthg that has been ordered by a customer □ The factory can turn around the order in two weeks. -3. to turn a business around to make an unprofitable business profitable again □ Investors are unlikely to be interested in any banks in trouble until they are turned around. ◇ vi to move so that one faces the opposite direction □ Turn around so I can see how the dress looks from the back.

◆ turn away ◇ vt sep to turn sb away to say that sb is not allowed to enter a place □ Refugees were being turned away at the border. □ We were turned away at the door because Doug was wearing jeans. ◇ vi [person] to move to face a different direction because one does not want to look at something □ Hal turned away in disgust.

◆ turn back vt sep to turn sb/sthg back to force sb/sthg to go back to the place they came from □ We were turned back at the Swiss border.

◆ turn down vt sep -1. to turn sb/sthg down [applicant, offer, proposal] to refuse or reject sb/sthg □ My request for a transfer was turned down. -2. to turn sthg down [TV, radio, lamp] to reduce the amount of sound, heat, light etc produced by sthg by turning a switch, knob etc □ I asked him to turn down the volume.

◆ turn in vi [person] to go to bed (informal use).

◆ turn off ◇ vt fus to turn off a road to leave a road and take one going in another direction □ Turn off the main road at the next junction. ◇ vt sep to turn sthg off [radio, motor, gas] to stop sthg working by using a switch, knob etc □ Don't forget to turn off the lights when you leave. □ I parked and turned the engine off. ◇ vi [driver, vehicle] to turn off a road □ We should have turned off at Exit 9.

◆ turn on ◇ vt sep -1. to turn sthg on [engine, radio, tap] to make sthg work by using a switch, knob etc □ Turn on the heating if you feel cold. -2. to turn sb on to make sb sexually excited (informal use). ◇ vt fus to turn on sb to suddenly attack sb.

◆ turn out ◇ vt sep -1. to turn sthg out [light, gas] to stop sthg working by using a switch, knob etc □ Did you remember to turn out the lights? -2. to turn sthg out [goods, product] to produce sthg (informal use) □ At peak times, the factory can turn out 500 components an hour.

- Colleges are now turning out a new breed of graduate. -3. to turn sb out to make sb leave a place, usually permanently □ She was turned out by her parents. -4. to turn sthg out [pocket, bag, drawer] to empty sthg completely □ The security guard asked me to turn out my briefcase on a table.
- ◇ vi -1. used to describe a surprising or unexpected fact that one learns about somebody or something □ The man I was sitting next to turned out to be a friend of Max. ■ it turns out that... we discovered later that... □ It turns out that they were at college together. -2. to turn out well/badly to happen in a way that is successful/unsuccessful □ The recipe didn't turn out the way it was supposed to. □ Martha was pretty wild as a teenager, but she's turned out OK. □ The evening turned out to be a disaster. -3. [for a game, demonstration] to go to see or take part in an event □ Huge crowds turned out for the Pope's visit.
- ◆ turn over ◇ vt sep -1. to turn sthg over [card, stone, page] to turn sthg so that the other side is facing upward □ Turn the page over so that I can see the other side. -2. to turn sthg over in one's mind to think about sthg carefully □ That evening he turned over Dave's warning in his mind. -3. to turn sb/sthg over to sb [criminal, funds, property] to give sb/sthg to the person or organization who should have it □ The suspect has been turned over to the French authorities.
- ◇ vi -1. [person, animal] to turn one's body when one is lying down so that another part is facing upward □ He turned over onto his back and started snoring. -2. GB [viewer] to start watching a different television channel □ Can I turn over for the news?
- ◆ turn round vt sep & vi = turn around.
- ◆ turn to vt fus -1. to turn to sthg [page, chapter, article] to look for sthg in a book, newspaper etc □ Turn to the vocabulary section on page 54. -2. to turn to sb/sthg [friend, religion, drink] to try to get help, advice, comfort etc from sb/sthg □ I don't know who else to turn to.
- ◆ turn up ◇ vt sep to turn sthg up [heating, radio, light] to increase the amount of heat, sound, light etc produced by sthg by turning a switch, knob etc □ Turn up the heater, it's cold in here. ◇ vi -1. [person] to arrive at a place, often unexpectedly (informal use) □ She eventually turned up at the party at nine o'clock. □ This man turned up at the office asking for you. -2. [object] to be found after being lost, especially when no one has looked for it □ The keys finally turned up in Kim's coat pocket. -3. [chance, job] to happen, especially unexpectedly □ Opportunities like this don't turn up every day.
- turnabout ['tɜːnəbaʊt] n a change in something e.g. somebody's opinion, that causes it to become the opposite of what it was before □ He's done a complete turnabout on immigration.
- turnaround ['tɜːnəraʊnd] US, turnround ['tɜːnraʊnd] GB n -1. BUSINESS the time taken for a plane, ship etc to unload, take on new passengers or goods, and leave again □ The schedule allows for a twenty-minute turnaround. -2. a change in a situation that causes it to become the opposite of what it was before, usually in a good way □ This year we're hoping for an economic turnaround.
- turncoat ['tɜːnkəʊt] n a person who changes from one group, political party, ideology etc to another and is regarded as a traitor.
- Turner ['tɜːnə], J. M. W. (1775–1851) a British artist, famous for his landscapes.
- Turner, Nat (1800–1831) a US slave who led the largest slave revolt in the USA in 1831 and was later executed.
- turning ['tɜːnɪŋ] n GB a road that leads to the left or right from the side of the road one is traveling along □ Take the second turning on your right.
- turning circle n the smallest space within which a car can be turned around.
- turning point n a point in time when things begin to change so that a new situation develops □ The move marked a turning point in her career.
- turnip ['tɜː'nɪp] n a round yellow-white vegetable that grows under the ground.
- turnout ['tɜːnaʊt] n the number of people who go to a public event such as a meeting □ It was a poor turnout.
- turnover ['tɜː'nəʊvə] n -1. [of staff, tenants, students] the rate at which people join and leave an organization, institution etc □ They have a very high turnover of staff here. -2. FINANCE the amount of money that comes into and out of the accounts of a firm in a particular period of time □ Annual turnover is now $35,500,000.
- turnpike ['tɜː'npaɪk] n US a major road that drivers pay a toll to use □ the New Jersey Turnpike.
- turnround n GB = turnaround.
- turn signal n US one of the lights on a car that flashes to show which way it is turning.
- turnstile ['tɜːnstɑɪl] n a type of gate, e.g. at a stadium, that turns around a fixed point and only lets one person pass at one time, usually after money has been paid.
- turntable ['tɜːnterbl] n the circular spinning part of a record player on which one puts a record in order to listen to it.
- turn-up n GB a fold of material at the lower end of a pair of trousers.
- turpentine ['tɜːpəntaɪn] n a colorless oily liquid used to make paint thinner or to remove stains made by paint.
- Turpin ['tɜːpɪn], Dick (1705–1739) a British outlaw who robbed travelers on the road.
- turps [tɜː'ps] n GB = turpentine.
- turquoise ['tɜː'kwɔɪz] ◇ n -1. a blue-green mineral; a blue-green stone from this mineral that is used in jewelry. -2. a blue-green color. ◇ adj that is blue-green in color □ the turquoise waters of the Aegean.
- turret [US 'tɜːrət, GB 'tʌr-] n a part of a castle or similar building that is like a small tower.

turtle ['tɜːtl̩] (pl turtle OR turtles) n an animal that lives on land and in water and has a round hard shell on its back that it can hide its body inside.

turtledove ['tɜːtl̩dʌv] n a type of pigeon that makes a soft gentle noise.

turtleneck ['tɜːtl̩nek] n a turtleneck (sweater) US a sweater that has a high collar that folds down; GB a sweater with a short raised collar in the form of a band of material.

turves [tɜː'vz] GB plural of turf.

tusk [tʌsk] n one of two long, bony, pointed teeth that stick out on either side of the mouth of animals such as elephants and boars.

tussle ['tʌsl̩] ◇ n a fight between people in which they grip each other by the arms and pull or push each other □ There was a brief tussle, during which one man was hurt. ◇ vi to have a tussle.

tut [tʌt] excl a word used to show that one disapproves of something that somebody else has said or done □ Tut tut! I'm surprised at you!

Tutankhamen [ˌtuːtɪnˈkɑːmən] (14th century BC) King of Egypt from 1361 to 1352 BC.

tutor ['tjuːtə] ◇ n -1. a teacher who gives private lessons to an individual or a small group □ a piano/math tutor. -2. GB EDUCATION a teacher at a college or university. ◇ vt to teach a subject to <sb> individually or as part of a small group □ I tutored her in French literature for a year.

tutorial [tjuː'tɔːriəl] ◇ adj [group, guidance, advice] that is connected with the work of a college or university tutor. ◇ n at college or university, a lesson given by a tutor.

tutu ['tuːtuː] n a short skirt worn by ballet dancers, made of stiff material with many folds.

tux [tʌks] n a tuxedo (informal use).

tuxedo [tʌk'siːdoʊ] (pl tuxedos) n -1. a tuxedo (jacket) a man's black or white jacket that is worn on formal occasions. -2. a man's suit that includes a tuxedo jacket.

TV n abbr of television □ I sat up watching TV all night. □ a black and white TV □ a TV program.

TVA n abbr of Tennessee Valley Authority.

TV dinner n a complete meal that is sold in a packet and only needs to be heated before eating.

TVP (abbr of textured vegetable protein) n a type of vegetarian food that has been made to look like meat.

twaddle ['twɒdl̩] n nonsense (informal use).

Twain [twɛɪn], Mark (1835–1910) a US writer who is famous for his humor and use of dialect. His work includes The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. twang [twæŋ] ◇ n -1. the sound made by a tight wire, string, or piece of elastic when it vibrates after it has been hit, pulled etc □ The string broke with a loud twang. -2. a nasal tone of voice □ She speaks with a real twang.

◇ vt [guitar, string, wire] to cause <sthg> to make a twang by hitting, pulling it etc. ◇ vi [wire, string] The springs made a twanging sound.

tweak [twiːk] vt [nose, ear] to pull or twist <sthg> between one's finger and thumb (informal use).

twee [twiː] adj GB [village, picture] that is too pretty or sentimental (disapproving use).

tweed [twiːd] n thick woolen cloth, usually woven with several different colors □ a tweed suit/coat/jacket.

tweet [twiːt] vi [bird] to make one or more short, quiet, high-pitched sounds.

tweezers ['twiːzə'z] npl a device consisting of two long thin pieces of metal joined at one end, used for picking up small objects or pulling out hairs from one's body □ a pair of tweezers.

twelfth [twelfθ] num 12th; number 12 in a series; see also fifth.

Twelfth Night n the evening of January 5, the last day of the festival of Christmas.

twelve [twelv] num the number 12; see also five.

twentieth ['twentiəθ] num 20th; number 20 in a series; see also fiftieth.

twenty ['twenti] (pl twenties) num the number 20; see also fifty.

twenty-twenty vision n perfect eyesight.

twerp [twɜː'p] n a person who one thinks is foolish (informal use).

twice [twɑːs] adv & predet two times □ It's happened twice already. □ twice a day/year □ He earns twice as much as I do. □ She is twice my age.

twiddle ['twɪdl̩] ◇ vt [knob, stick, hair] to keep turning <sthg> around with small movements of one's fingers □ He twiddled the dial on the radio. ◇ vi to twiddle with sthg to twist sthg in a playful or careless way □ She sat twiddling with her hair.

twig [twɪg] n a small, thin, woody part of a tree or bush that is smaller than a branch □ a dead twig.

twilight ['twɪlaɪt] n -1. the early evening when it is beginning to grow dark. -2. the twilight of sthg [of somebody's life, career] the final stages of sthg.

twill [twɪl] n a strong cloth woven with a pattern of parallel diagonal lines.

twin [twɪn] ◇ adj -1. a twin brother/sister a boy/girl who is born at the same time as another child of the same mother □ She has twin girls/boys. -2. twin peaks/towers etc two peaks/towers etc that are close together and look very similar to one another. ■ twin beds/engines etc two beds/engines etc that look like each other and are intended to be used together. -3. twin aspects/aims etc two aspects/aims etc that are similar or linked to each other. ◇ n either of two children born at the same time to the same mother □ identical twins.

twin-bedded [-'bedəd] adj a twin-bedded room a room that contains two matching single beds □ a twin-bedded room with shower.

twine [twain] ◇ n a type of strong string. ◇ vt to twine sthg around sthg to twist sthg around sthg □ She twined the gold chain around her wrist.

twin-engined [-'endʒənd] adj [plane, jet] that is powered by two identical engines.

twinge [twɪndʒ] n -1. a sudden sharp pain □ I felt a twinge in my leg. -2. a twinge of guilt/fear etc a sudden slight feeling of guilt/fear etc □ He felt a twinge of jealousy as he saw them laughing together.

TwinkieTM ['twɪŋki] n US a small cake filled with cream.

twinkle ['twɪŋkl] ◇ n -1. [of a star] a light that keeps changing from dim to bright. -2. [in somebody's eye] a bright and lively look, especially of somebody who is smiling, excited etc. ◇ vi -1. [star, light] to shine with a twinkle. -2. [eyes] to have a twinkle.

twin room n a room in a hotel with two separate single beds.

NOTE: Compare single room, double room.

twins ['twɪnz] n GB a woman's matching sweater and cardigan.

twin town n a town that has formed special links with another town in a foreign country.

twirl [twɜ:rl] ◇ vt -1. [baton, stick, umbrella] to cause <sthg> to spin around rapidly □ The cheerleaders came on, twirling their batons. -2. [knob, moustache] to twist <sthg> around. ◇ vi [dancer, model] to spin around.

twist [twɪst] ◇ vt -1. [rope, cloth, hair] to turn <sthg> around, especially by moving only one part or two parts in opposite directions □ She twisted the strands of hair together to form a neat braid. ■ to twist sthg around sthg to wind sthg around sthg □ I had to twist the wire around the terminal several times to make a good contact. -2. [metal, frame] to cause <sthg> to lose its proper or usual shape □ Their faces were twisted with anger. -3. [knob, dial, lid] to turn <sthg> so that it moves around □ 'Twist top to open.' -4. [ankle, wrist, neck] to hurt  by moving it too suddenly or in an unusual direction □ I fell and twisted my ankle. -5. [words] to unfairly change <sthg that somebody has said>, especially in order to get some advantage for oneself □ Stop trying to twist everything I say!

◇ vi -1. [road, river] to keep changing direction by bending to the left and right. -2. [person] to move a part of one's body around □ He twisted and struggled to get free. □ She twisted around in her chair to face me.

◇ n -1. [in a rope, hose] a part of something that is twisted; [in a road, river] a sharp bend □ The road was full of twists and turns. -2. to give sthg a twist [cap, knob, screw] to turn sthg sharply □ To close/open the jar, you simply give the lid a twist. -3. [in a book, movie, story] a sudden and unexpected development □ a twist of fate □ Ah, but there's a twist at the end of the story!

twisted ['twɪstəd] adj -1. [person, mind] that enjoys things that most people find unpleasant

□ You have a twisted sense of humor! -2. [logic, reasoning] that seems strange.

twister ['twɪstə] n US a tornado (informal use).

twisty ['twɪsti] (compar twistier, superl twistiest) adj [line, road] that is not straight but has many twists (informal use).

twit [twɪt] n a person who one thinks is foolish (informal use).

twitch [twɪtʃ] ◇ n a sudden uncontrolled movement of a muscle, e.g. in one's face □ a nervous twitch. ◇ vt [nose, ears] to cause  to make small sudden movements □ The rabbit twitched its nose. ◇ vi [muscle, eye, body] His left eye began to twitch.

twitter ['twɪtə] vi -1. [bird] to make short high-pitched sounds. -2. [person] to speak quickly in a high-pitched voice, usually about unimportant things (disapproving use).

two [tu:] num the number 2; see also five. ■ in two into two pieces □ We cut/broke it in two.

two-bit adj US that is not very valuable or important (disapproving use).

two-dimensional adj -1. [picture, image] that is drawn, painted, reproduced etc on a flat surface. -2. a two-dimensional character a character in a book, play etc who is not convincing because they are too simple.

two-door adj [car] that has two doors.

two-faced [tu:'feɪst] adj [person] who says that they feel or believe something when they do not (disapproving use).

twofold ['tu:foʊld] ◇ adj -1. [advantage, problem] that consists of two things or parts □ The reasons for this decision are twofold. -2. [increase, growth] that makes something twice as big, large etc as it was before. ◇ adv [increase, grow] Sales have gone up twofold in the same period this year.

two-handed [-'hændəd] adj [sword, weapon, stroke] that requires the use of both hands.

two-percent milk n US milk that has had about half the cream removed.

two-piece adj a two-piece suit/swimsuit a suit/swimsuit that consists of two separate but matching parts.

two-ply adj [tissue, wood] that has two layers; [wool] that is made up of two strands.

two-seater n a car or aircraft with two seats.

twosome ['tu:səm] n a group of two people or things (informal use).

two-stroke ◇ adj a two-stroke engine an engine in which the piston moves up and down once in each cycle. ◇ n a two-stroke engine.

two-time vt to deceive <the person one is having a romantic or sexual relationship with> by having a secret relationship with somebody else (informal use).

two-tone adj [shoes, car] that has two colors or two shades of the same color.

two-way adj -1. [traffic, discussion, trade] in both directions. -2. a two-way radio a radio that sends and receives messages.

TX abbr of Texas.

tycoon [tai'ku:n] n a rich and powerful businessman or businesswoman □ the media tycoon, Bob Connors.

Tyler ['taɪlə], Wat (died 1381) a British revolutionary who led the Peasants' Revolt, demanding civil rights for peasants.

Tyneside ['taɪnsaɪd] an area of northeastern England that used to be an important center for coalmining and shipbuilding.

type [taɪp] ◇ n -1. a particular kind of person or thing □ What type of house are you looking for? □ There are various types of insurance available. □ blood type O. -2. a person who has characteristics that cause them to be described in a particular way □ She's the steady hardworking type. □ He's not the type to take risks. ■ he's/she's not my type I'm not physically attracted to him/her. -3. PRINTING printed letters and characters □ The text should be in bold/italic type. ◇ vt [letter, document] to write <sthg> using a typewriter or word processor □ He can type 60 words a minute. ◇ vi to write using a typewriter or word processor □ Can you type?

◆ type up vt sep to type sth up [report, notes] to type all of sthg that has been written by hand □ Can you type this up for me?

typecast [US 'taɪpkæst, GB -kɑ:st] (vt & pp typecast) vt to give <an actor or actress> the same type of role all the time □ She's wary of being typecast as the dumb blonde.

typeface ['taɪpfeɪs] n a particular size or style of printed letters and characters.

typescript ['taɪpskrɪpt] n a copy of a text that has been typed.

typeset ['taɪpset] (vt & pp typeset, cont typesetting) vt [document, text] to prepare  so that it can be printed in a particular format and typeface.

typesetter ['taɪpsetə] n a person or machine that prepares text on a page before it is printed.

typesetting ['taɪpsetɪŋ] n the job or business of a typesetter.

typewriter ['taɪpraɪtə] n a machine with a keyboard that prints characters onto paper as the person using it strikes the keys □ an electronic typewriter.

typhoid ['taɪfɔɪd] n typhoid (fever) a very serious infectious disease, caused by contaminated food or water, that produces fever, a red rash, and stomach pain with diarrhea.

typhoon [taɪ'fu:n] n a violent tropical storm like a hurricane that occurs in the western Pacific Ocean.

typhus ['taɪfəs] n a serious infectious disease that is given to humans by insects such as lice and fleas and causes severe fever and headaches.

typical ['tɪpɪkl] adj [reaction, reply, pattern] that is what one expects from a particular person or thing because of the way they usually are □ I live in a typical northern town. □ That sort of rudeness is typical of him. □ "They're going to be late." — "Typical!"

typically ['tɪpɪkli] adv -1. usually □ This plant is typically found in mountainous regions. -2. a word used to show that one thinks that an action, situation etc is typical of somebody or something □ The menu is typically Chinese. □ Typically, he changed his mind at the last minute.

typify ['tɪpɪfaɪ] (pt & pp typified) vt -1. [work, approach] to be typical of <sthg> □ the ruthlessness that typifies his way of doing business. -2. [type, attitude] to be a typical example of <sthg> □ She typifies the modern career woman.

typing ['taɪpɪŋ] n the act of operating a typewriter; the text produced by a typewriter □ Her typing is very accurate. □ two pages of typing □ What's your typing speed?

typing error n a mistake made by a typist.

typing pool n a group of typists who type for members of an office; the area in an office where these typists sit.

typist ['taɪpɪst] n a person who operates a typewriter, especially as a job.

typo ['taɪpəʊ] n a mistake in the way a word is printed, made by a typist or typesetter. typographic(al) error [taɪpə,græfɪk(l)-] n = typo (formal use).

typography [taɪ'pɒgrəfi] n -1. the work of arranging a text for printing and choosing its style and appearance. -2. the style and appearance of the print in a book, document etc.

tyrannical [tə'reɪnɪkl] adj [person, ruler, regime] that allows people very little freedom and treats them harshly.

tyranny ['tɪrəni] n [of a regime, ruler] a tyrannical form of government or control; [of a person] tyrannical behavior □ her desire to escape from the tyranny of family life.

tyrant ['taɪrənt] n a person or ruler who is tyrannical □ Their father was a real tyrant.

tyre ['taɪə] n GB a round piece of rubber that is filled with air and fits around the outside of a wheel of a road vehicle.

Tyrol [tɪ'roul]: the Tyrol a mountainous province of western Austria that is popular for skiing.

Tyrolean [tɪrə'li:ən], Tyrolese [tɪrə'li:z] n & adj: see Tyrol.

tzar [zɑ:ɹ] n = czar.

U

u [ju:] (pl u's OR us), U [ju:] (pl U's OR Us) n the twenty-first letter of the English alphabet.

◆ U (abbr of universal) a symbol for classifying movies and videotapes in Britain, showing that they are suitable for all viewers.

UAE n abbr of United Arab Emirates.

UAW (abbr of United Automobile Workers) n the UAW a US labor union for motor vehicle manufacturing workers.

UB40 [ˌjuːbiː'fɔːtɪ] (abbr of unemployment benefit form 40) n an official card used by unemployed people in Britain when they register for unemployment benefit.

U-bend n a U-shaped bend in a toilet pipe.

ubiquitous [juː'biːkwətəs] adj that seems to appear, happen, or exist everywhere at once (formal use).

UCLA n abbr of the University of California at Los Angeles.

UDA (abbr of Ulster Defence Association) n the UDA a Protestant paramilitary organization whose aim is to keep Northern Ireland as part of the UK.

udder ['ʌdə] n a bag of skin under the body of a cow, goat etc that contains the glands that produce milk.

UDI (abbr of unilateral declaration of independence) n a declaration of independence made by a state without the agreement of the country that it has been controlled by.

UDR (abbr of Ulster Defence Regiment) n the UDR an official Protestant paramilitary force in Northern Ireland. In 1992 it became part of the Royal Irish Regiment.

UEFA [ju'eɪfə] (abbr of Union of European Football Associations) n the organization in charge of professional soccer in Europe.

UFC (abbr of Universities Funding Council) n the UFC the British government organization responsible for funding universities.

UFO (abbr of unidentified flying object) n an object believed to be a spaceship in which creatures from another planet visit the Earth. It is often said to be shaped like a saucer with bright flashing lights.

Uganda [ju'gændə] a country in eastern Central Africa, west of Kenya. SIZE: 237,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 18,700,000 (Ugandans). CAPITAL: Kampala. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Ugandan shilling.

ugh [ʌg] excl a noise used to show that one dislikes something strongly or is disgusted by it.

ugly ['ʌɡli] (compar uglier, superl ugliest) adj -1. [person, object, building] that is not attractive to look at □ Newark seemed an ugly kind of place. -2. [situation, fight] that seems frightening or dangerous □ There were ugly scenes as police clashed with demonstrators.

UHF (abbr of ultra-high frequency) n a range of radio frequencies between 3,000 and 300 MHz, used for TV broadcasts.

UHT (abbr of ultra-heat treated) adj UHT milk that has been heated to a high temperature so that it lasts longer than ordinary milk.

UK n abbr of United Kingdom □ He was born in the UK. □ a UK resident.

Ukraine [ju'kreɪn] a country in southeastern Europe, on the Black Sea between Russia and Romania. SIZE: 604,000 sq kms. POPULA-TION: 51,700,000 (Ukrainians). CAPITAL: Kiev. LANGUAGE: Ukrainian. CURRENCY: hryvna.

ukulele [ˌjuːkə'leɪli] n a musical instrument with four strings that is like a small guitar.

ulcer ['ʌlsə] n a sore area on the skin or on the inside of an organ that is difficult to heal □ a stomach ulcer.

ulcerated ['ʌlsəreɪtəd] adj [stomach, mouth, leg] that has ulcers on it or inside it.

Ulster ['ʌlstə] = Northern Ireland. ■ the Ulster Democratic Unionist Party a political party in Northern Ireland supported by Protestants who believe that Northern Ireland should remain part of the United Kingdom.

Ulsterman ['ʌlstə'mən] (pl Ulstermen [-mən]) n a man who comes from or lives in Ulster.

Ulster Unionist n a Protestant who believes Northern Ireland should remain part of the United Kingdom.

Ulsterwoman ['ʌlstə'wʊmən] (pl Ulsterwomen) n a woman who comes from or lives in Ulster.

ulterior [ʌl'tɪəriə] adj an ulterior motive the real reason why one does something, that one hides from other people and tries to keep secret □ I can't help suspecting him of ulterior motives.

ultimata [ˌʌltɪ'meɪtə] plural of ultimatum.

ultimate ['ʌltɪmət] ◇ adj -1. the ultimate aim/objective etc the main aim/objective etc that one intends to achieve at the end of a period of time or a process □ Our ultimate aim is to merge the operations of the two companies. -2. the ultimate authority/challenge etc the most important and final authority/challenge etc □ The ultimate responsibility lies with the director. ◇ n to be the ultimate in sthg [in luxury, technology] to be the best or most advanced kind of sthg □ This laptop is the ultimate in hi-tech.

ultimately ['ʌltɪmətli] adv -1. [reach, achieve, succeed] finally and as the result of a long process □ Pollution could ultimately lead to these cities becoming uninhabitable. -2. ultimately,... a word used to emphasize one's basic conclusion after considering a situation, problem etc □ Ultimately, there's not a great deal we can do about it.

ultimatum [ˌʌltɪ'meɪtəm] (pl ultimatums OR ultimata) n a final warning one gives to somebody that tells them what one will do if they do not do what one wants □ The hijackers delivered an ultimatum: hand over the money or the hostages will die.

ultra- ['ʌltrə] prefix added to a word to show that a particular quality or state is extreme □ ultra-clean/cautious □ an ultra-right-wing politician.

ultramarine [ˌʌltrə'mæriːn] n a very bright blue color.

ultrasonic [ˌʌltrə'sɒnɪk] adj [sound wave] that is higher than the human ear can hear; [equipment, device] that uses ultrasonic sound waves.

ultrasound ['ʌltrəsaʊnd] n -1. sound produced at frequencies above the range of human hearing. -2. an ultrasound (scan) a medical examination in which ultrasound is used to allow doctors to see an image of the inside of part of a patient's body.

ultraviolet [ˌʌltrə'vaɪələt] adj ultraviolet light light that comes from the sun and is beyond the violet end of the visible range of colors. It can make the skin darker or, in large amounts, cause skin diseases.

Uluru ['u:lʊru:] the Aboriginal name, and official name, for Ayers Rock.

ULURU

Uluru is the official name of Ayers Rock, a very large rock in the Uluru National Park, in Northern Territory, Australia. It is the largest rock in the world: 348 meters (1,158 feet) high, 3.6 kilometers (2.2 miles) long, and 2.4 kilometers (1.5 miles) wide. For thousands of years it was a sacred place for local Aboriginal people, who called it Uluru, meaning "great pebble".

um [ʌm] excl a sound used when one does not know what to say next □ Um, I don't know.

umbilical cord [ʌm,bɪlɪkl-] n the tube that connects a fetus to the wall of its mother's womb.

umbrage [ˈʌmbɪdʒ] n to take umbrage to become angry or offended because of something □ She took umbrage at one or two of my remarks.

umbrella [ʌm'brelə] ◇ n -1. a device consisting of a metal frame that is covered in material and attached to a stick and can be opened to protect one from rain. -2. [on a beach, terrace] a large umbrella that is fixed in one position, especially over a table, to protect people from the sun □ Janine sat under a large umbrella. ◇ adj -1. an umbrella group/organization a group/organization that includes a number of other groups, organizations etc. -2. an umbrella term/word a term/word that includes a number of similar things.

UMIST ['ju:mɪst] (abbr of University of Manchester Institute of Science and Technology) n a leading scientific university in Manchester, England.

umpire [ˈʌmpaɪə] ◇ n in some sports such as baseball and tennis, a person whose job is to make sure that the rules are obeyed during play. ◇ vt to act as umpire during . ◇ vi: A New Zealander was umpiring.

umpteenth [ˌʌmp'ti:n] adj umpteenth times a very large number of times (informal use) □ She's been given umpteenth warnings.

umpteenth [ˌʌmp'ti:nθ] adj the umpteenth time the most recent in a large number of times (informal use) □ This is the umpteenth time I've told you.

UN n abbr of United Nations □ a UN peacekeeping mission.

unabashed [ˌʌnə'bæʃt] adj to be unabashed to seem not to be embarrassed or ashamed (formal use) □ She continued, unabashed.

unabated [ˌʌnə'beɪtəd] adj to continued unabated to continue without decreasing, or getting less strong □ The rain continued unabated.

unable [ʌn'eɪbl] adj to be unable to do sthg not to be able to do sthg □ Stress left him unable to sleep. □ Unfortunately I'm unable to help you.

unabridged [ˌʌnə'brɪdʒd] adj [text, edition] that is complete, with no parts taken out.

unacceptable [ˌʌnək'septəbl] adj [proposal, condition, solution] that one disagrees with or finds unsatisfactory; [behavior, rudeness] that one strongly disapproves of and cannot accept □ The policy is simply unacceptable to the majority of the population. □ Absenteeism has reached unacceptable levels.

unaccompanied [ˌʌnə'kʌmpənɪd] adj -1. [child, guest] who is alone in a particular place or situation; [luggage] that is transported separately from its owner □ Children are not allowed in unaccompanied. -2. [song, choir] that is not accompanied by musical instruments □ music for unaccompanied voices.

unaccountably [ˌʌnə'kaʊntəblɪ] adv [delayed, lost, omitted] for no clear reason □ Our luggage was unaccountably delayed in Amsterdam.

unaccounted [ˌʌnə'kaʊntəd] adj to be unaccounted for [person, money] to be missing □ Twenty passengers and one crew member are still unaccounted for.

unaccustomed [ˌʌnə'kʌstəmd] adj -1. to be unaccustomed to sthg not to be familiar with sthg so that one finds it strange □ Being unaccustomed to such treatment, I demanded an apology. -2. [lateness, friendliness, rudeness] that is not usually expected from a particular person or thing (formal use).

unadulterated [ˌʌnə'dʌltəreɪtəd] adj -1. [food, wine] that has nothing added to it. -2. a word used to emphasize the great extent of something □ It was sheer unadulterated bliss!

unadventurous [ˌʌnəd'ventʃərəs] adj [person, organization] that does not want to take risks; [project, book, movie] that does not try to do anything unusual or interesting.

unaffected [ˌʌnə'fektəd] adj -1. to be unaffected to stay the same, without changing or being harmed □ Your rights as a consumer are unaffected by this guarantee. -2. [person, manner, charm] that seems natural and pleasant.

unafraid [ˌʌnə'freɪd] adj [person] who does not feel any fear □ He carried on, unafraid.

unaided [ˌʌn'eɪdɪd] adj [work, attempt, effort] that does not involve the help of anybody or anything else. ◇ adv [walk, stand] He climbed to the top unaided.

unambiguous [ˌʌnæm'bɪɡjuəs] adj [statement, reply, gesture] whose meaning is clear and cannot be misunderstood.

un-American [ˌʌn-] adj [behavior, thinking] that is not the usual way of doing things in the USA. ■ un-American activities political activities that are thought to be harmful to the USA.

unanimity [ˌju:nə'nɪməti] n complete agreement among a group of people □ There was complete unanimity as to what should be done.

unanimous [ju:'næniməs] adj [verdict, decision, opinion] that involves complete agreement among a group of people; [people] who are in complete agreement □ The newspapers were unanimous in their outrage. □ The verdict was unanimous.

unanimously [ju:'næniməsli] adv [decide, pass] with nobody disagreeing □ The motion was passed unanimously.

unannounced [ˌʌnə'naʊnst] adv [arrive, appear] without anyone being told in advance □ You walk in unannounced and expect me to drop everything for you?

unanswered [US ˌʌn'ænsɪd, GB -'ɑ:nsəd] adj [question, letter] that has not been answered □ My letters went unanswered.

unappealing [ˌʌnə'pi:liŋ] adj [characteristic, quality, aspect] that one does not find attractive.

unappetizing, -ising [ˌʌn'æpətaɪzɪŋ] adj [food] that one does not want to eat, e.g. because of the way it looks.

unapproachable [ˌʌnə'prəʊtʃəbl] adj [person] who is difficult to talk to because they seem cold and unfriendly □ His colleagues found him unapproachable and distant.

unarmed [ˌʌn'ɑ:md] adj [person] who is not carrying any weapons □ They shot an unarmed civilian.

unarmed combat n a type of fighting in which no weapons are used.

unashamed [ˌʌnə'seɪmd] adj [luxury, delight, greed] that one feels no guilt or embarrassment about.

unassuming [ˌʌnə'si:ʒmɪŋ] adj [person] who seems modest and does not draw attention to themselves □ a small, thin, unassuming man.

unattached [ˌʌnə'tætʃtɪ] adj -1. [object, part, building] that is not fastened or joined to anything; [organization, group] independent. -2. [person] who is not married and does not have a sexual or romantic relationship with anyone □ He's over thirty and he's still unattached.

unattended [ˌʌnə'tendəd] adj [luggage, vehicle, store] that has nobody looking after it □ Do not leave your personal belongings unattended.

unattractive [ˌʌnə'træktɪv] adj -1. [person, building] that has an appearance or qualities that one does not find pleasant □ Men wearing ponytails look so unattractive! -2. [idea, prospect] that one cannot be enthusiastic about because it is not pleasant □ The prospect of a week in the sun was not unattractive.

unauthorized, -ised [ˌʌn'ɔ:θəraɪzd] adj [entry, visit, biography] that has been made or done without official permission; [person] who does not have official permission to do something □ 'No unauthorized entry.' □ 'Access prohibited to unauthorized personnel.'

unavailable [ˌʌnə'veɪləbl] adj -1. to be unavailable to be unable or unwilling to speak to or meet people □ Last night the President was unavailable for comment. -2. to be unavailable [product, services] to be impossible to obtain.

unavoidable [ˌʌnə'vɔɪdəbl] adj [delay, consequences, meeting] that cannot be prevented □ The delays were, unfortunately, unavoidable.

unavoidably [ˌʌnə'vɔɪdəblɪ] adv [delayed, detained] see unavoidable.

unaware [ˌʌnə'weə] adj to be unaware of sth not to know about sth □ She was quite unaware of what had happened/him being there. □ I was unaware that they had arrived.

unawares [ˌʌnə'weəz] adv to catch OR take sb unawares [question, arrival, attack] to surprise sb so much that they are unable to react immediately □ She caught her opponent completely unawares.

unbalanced [ˌʌn'bælənst] adj -1. [account, article, view] that gives too much importance to one side or version of the facts. -2. [person, mind] that seems slightly crazy □ Charlotte was found to be mentally unbalanced.

unbearable [ˌʌn'beərəbl] adj [person] whom one dislikes very much; [pain, noise, heat] that is too unpleasant, painful etc to bear □ The smell had become unbearable.

unbearably [ˌʌn'beərəblɪ] adv unbearably hot/painful etc so hot/painful etc that it is difficult to bear □ It was unbearably noisy in there.

unbeatable [ˌʌn'bi:təbl] adj -1. [performance, power, quality] that is much better than anything else of the same kind □ Come and see our new range of sofas, all at unbeatable prices! -2. [team, player] who cannot be defeated.

unbeaten [ˌʌn'bi:tɪn] adj [team, record] that has not yet been beaten □ Pittsburgh extended their unbeaten run to 12 games.

unbecoming [ˌʌnbɪ'kʌmɪŋ] adj [dress, color, behavior] that is not attractive or appropriate (formal use).

unbeknown(st) [ˌʌnbɪ'nəʊn(st)] adv unbeknown(st) to sb without sb knowing □ Unbeknown(st) to him, a decision had already been reached.

unbelievable [ˌʌnbə'li:vəbl] adj -1. [arrogance, skill, stupidity] that is so great that it is surprising □ We were under unbelievable pressure. -2. [story, alibi] that is difficult to believe because it is not very likely □ I found her version of events pretty unbelievable.

unbelievably [ˌʌnbə'li:vəblɪ] adv -1. unbelievably stupid/bad etc very stupid/bad etc □ He was unbelievably rude to me. -2. a word used to show that one finds something very surprising □ Unbelievably, no one even noticed.

unbending [ˌʌn'bendɪŋ] adj [attitude, person] that is very strict and is unwilling to change.

unbent [ˌʌn'bent] past tense & past participle of unbend.

unbia(s)sed [ˌʌn'baɪsəd] adj [account, view, attitude] that does not prefer one particular side in a situation such as an argument or competition and so is fair.

unblemished [ˌʌn'blemɪʃt] adj [reputation, record] that has not been spoiled in any way □ The senator has an unblemished record on support for civil rights issues.

unblock [ˌʌn'blɒk] vt [drain, tunnel, pipe] to remove an object that is blocking <sthg> so that it is clear again.

unbolt [ˌʌnˈboʊlt] vt [door, window] to move the bolt on <sthg> into a position that allows it to be opened.

unborn [ˌʌnˈbɔːrn] adj [child, baby] that has not yet been born.

unbreakable [ˌʌnˈbreɪkəbl̩] adj [object] that is made strongly so that it cannot be broken □ unbreakable glass.

unbridled [ˌʌnˈbraɪdl̩d] adj [greed, lust] that is very strong and is not controlled □ a tale of unbridled passion.

unbroken [ˌʌnˈbrʊkən] adj [line, series] that continues without stopping □ The team has enjoyed an unbroken run of five victories.

unbutton [ˌʌnˈbʌtʃn̩] vt [coat, shirt] to undo the buttons that fasten <sthg>.

uncalled-for [ˌʌnˈkɔːld-] adj [remark, criticism] a word used to describe something somebody has said that is unreasonable or unfair □ That was uncalled-for — I think you should apologize.

uncanny [ˌʌnˈkæni] (compar uncannier, superl uncanniest) adj [coincidence, similarity] that is strange and mysterious □ She bears an uncanny resemblance to my sister.

uncared-for [ˌʌnˈkeərd-] adj [person] who has not been looked after properly and so is dirty, ill etc.

uncaring [ˌʌnˈkeəriŋ] adj [person, attitude] that shows no sympathy for other people's feelings or suffering.

unceasing [ˌʌnˈsiːsɪŋ] adj [devotion, loyalty] that continues without stopping (formal use).

unceremonious [ˌʌnsərəˈmʊnjəs] adj [departure, dismissal] that is done suddenly, quickly, and rudely.

unceremoniously [ˌʌnsərəˈmʊnjəsli] adv: see unceremonious □ He was unceremoniously stripped of his title.

uncertain [ˌʌnˈsɜːtɪn] adj -1. to be uncertain [person] to be unsure or not to know something definitely; [plans] not to be definite or clear □ We're uncertain of the final result. □ She paused, uncertain how to continue. □ It is uncertain whether the rebels will leave without putting up a fight. ■ in no uncertain terms very clearly and forcefully □ She told me in no uncertain terms that she thought I was wrong. -2. [weather, outcome] that cannot be predicted □ The firm faces an uncertain future.

unchain [ˌʌnˈtʃeɪn] vt [bicycle, boat] to remove the chain that fastens <sthg> to something else.

unchallenged [ˌʌnˈtʃæləndʒd] adj [authority, leadership, version] that is accepted without disagreement □ We cannot allow this statement to go unchallenged.

unchanged [ˌʌnˈtʃeɪndʒd] adj to be/remain unchanged [position, circumstances] to be/stay the same for a period of time □ The situation remains unchanged.

unchanging [ˌʌnˈtʃeɪndʒɪŋ] adj [expression, way of life, mentality] that does not change.

uncharacteristic [ˌʌnkærəktɪvɪstɪk] adj [behavior, silence, friendliness] that is not typical of a particular person □ "I see no prospect of improvement," he said, with uncharacteristic gloom.

uncharitable [ˌʌnˈtʃærətəbl̩] adj [person, comment, feelings] that is not fair or kind about somebody □ It would be uncharitable to say he's fat; he's just a little overweight.

uncharted [ˌʌnˈtʃɑːtəd] adj -1. [area, territory] that is not recorded on maps. -2. uncharted waters OR seas a situation that is not familiar □ Her second novel definitely takes her into uncharted waters, but she manages it very well.

unchecked [ˌʌnˈtʃekt] ◇ adj [expansion, development, growth] that is not stopped from continuing. ◇ adv [expand, develop, grow] Industrial growth continued unchecked.

uncivilized, -ised [ˌʌnˈsɪvəlaɪzd] adj -1. [person, society] that is considered to be less developed or advanced than others. -2. [behavior] that is considered to be unacceptable, often because it is very rude, violent, or cruel □ I hate boxing, I think it's barbaric and uncivilized.

unclassified [ˌʌnˈklæsɪfaɪd] adj POLITICS [document, information] that is not secret and can be read by members of the public.

uncle [ˈʌŋkl̩] n the brother of one's mother or father, or the husband of a one's aunt.

unclean [ˌʌnˈkliːn] adj -1. [water] that is dirty and not fit to drink. -2. [food, person, thoughts] that is considered morally unacceptable, especially for religious reasons.

unclear [ˌʌnˈkliə] adj -1. [meaning, instructions] that is complicated or badly expressed and so not easy to understand □ This paragraph is very unclear. -2. [future, motive] that is difficult to be certain about □ It is now unclear whether talks will take place or not. -3. to be unclear about sthg not to understand sthg properly □ I'm still unclear about what you want me to do.

Uncle Sam [ˈsæm] an imaginary person, used as a symbol for the USA or the US government. He is pictured as an old man with a white beard and the US flag on his hat □ We have to pay Uncle Sam half of our salary.

Uncle Tom [ˈtɒm] ◇ the hero of the novel Uncle Tom's Cabin by Harriet Beecher Stowe. He is a black slave who is murdered by his owner. ◇ n a black person who is too eager to please white people (disapproving use).

uncomfortable [ˌʌnˈkʌmfətəbl̩] adj -1. [furniture, clothing, position] that feels unpleasant or causes slight pain and so makes it difficult for one to relax; [person] who does not feel relaxed because of an unpleasant physical feeling caused by their clothing, position etc □ These shoes are so uncomfortable. -2. [fact, truth] that is difficult to accept or deal with because it is unpleasant □ They could make life very uncomfortable for me if they chose to. -3. [person] who is slightly worried or embarrassed □ I felt uncomfortable asking for more money.

uncomfortably [ˌʌnˈkʌmfətəbli] adv -1. [sit, stand] in a way that shows one feels uncomfortable. -2. [laugh, smile] in a way that shows one is nervous. -3. uncomfortably

- hot/crowded etc hot/crowded etc in a way that feels unpleasant □ His guess was uncomfortably close to the truth.
- uncommitted [ˌʌŋkə'mɪtəd] adj [person] who has not yet decided which activity, group, ideal etc to support.
- uncommon [ˌʌŋkəmən] adj -1. [occurrence, plant, bird] rare □ The problem is not uncommon with this particular model of car. -2. [beauty, intelligence] very great in amount (formal use) □ a man of uncommon integrity.
- uncommonly [ˌʌŋkəmənli] 'adv uncommonly/generously/difficult etc extremely generous/difficult etc (formal use).
- uncommunicative [US ˌʌŋkə'mju:nəkeɪtɪv, GB -ɪkət-] adj [person] who seems not to want to speak or give information.
- uncomplicated [ˌʌŋkəmpləkeɪtəd] adj [life, story, person] that is simple and without complications □ Tom's a pretty uncomplicated kind of guy.
- uncomprehending [ˌʌŋkəmprɪ'hendɪŋ] adj [person, stare, look] that shows no understanding of what has happened or been said.
- uncompromising [ˌʌŋkəmprəmaɪzɪŋ] adj [person, attitude, position] that shows an unwillingness to do what other people want or accepting their ideas □ Both sides remain uncompromising and the deadlock is unbroken.
- unconcerned [ˌʌŋkən'sɜ:nd] adj [person] who is not worried about something that affects them □ She seemed quite unconcerned by the danger.
- unconditional [ˌʌŋkən'dɪʃnəl] adj [surrender, support, offer] that does not depend on any conditions □ Only John's mother gave him the unconditional love he needed.
- uncongenial [ˌʌŋkən'dʒɪ:njəl] adj [place, event] that one finds unfriendly and rather unpleasant (formal use).
- unconnected [ˌʌŋkə'nektəd] adj [facts, events] that are not related to each other □ The two events are hardly unconnected, are they?
- unconscious [ˌʌŋkənʃəs] ◇ n PSYCHOLOGY the unconscious the part of one's mind that contains thoughts and feelings that one is not aware of and cannot control. ◇ 'adj -1. [person] who is in a state like sleep in which they cannot see, hear, feel etc □ Paul was unconscious for an hour after the accident. -2. to be unconscious of sthg not to be aware of sthg □ Julian seemed unconscious of the stir he had caused. -3. PSYCHOLOGY [feeling, desire] that comes from the unconscious □ She felt an unconscious desire to punish him.
- unconsciously [ˌʌŋkənʃəsli] adv [feel, want] in a way that is not intentional or in one's control □ I think that, unconsciously, he blames me for what happened.
- unconstitutional [ˌʌŋkənstə'tju:ʃnəl] adj [action, decision] that is against the rules of a constitution.
- uncontested [ˌʌŋkən'testəd] adj an uncontested seat POLITICS a seat in an election for which there is only one candidate.
- uncontrollable [ˌʌŋkən'trəʊləbl] adj -1. [rage, anger, laughter] that is very strong and cannot be controlled □ I felt an uncontrollable urge to laugh. -2. [child] who behaves badly and cannot be encouraged, persuaded etc to act differently; [animal] that is wild and cannot be made to behave in a particular way.
- uncontrolled [ˌʌŋkən'trəʊld] adj -1. [anger, outburst, laughter] that a person does not control or stop from happening □ He burst into uncontrolled laughter. -2. [situation, activity] that is not limited by anyone, e.g. an authority □ uncontrolled spending by city councils.
- unconventional [ˌʌŋkən'venʃnəl] adj [behavior, dress, film] that is very different from what is usual and what most people expect in a particular situation □ They had a very unconventional lifestyle.
- unconvinced [ˌʌŋkən'vɪnst] adj to be unconvinced about sthg not to want to accept the truth or worth of sthg □ Doctors remain unconvinced by claims of miracle cures.
- unconvincing [ˌʌŋkən'vɪnsɪŋ] adj -1. [explanation, argument] that is not good enough to make somebody accept that it is true □ I found her explanation somewhat unconvincing. -2. [actor, story, character] that does not seem realistic or natural □ She was unconvincing in the part of Ophelia.
- uncooked [ˌʌŋ'kʊkt] adj [meat, food] that has not yet been cooked.
- uncooperative [ˌʌŋkəʊ'ɒpəreɪtɪv] adj [person] who does not want to help somebody or do what they want.
- uncork [ˌʌŋ'kɔ:k] vt to remove the cork from .
- uncouth [ˌʌŋ'ku:θ] adj [person] who acts or speaks in a way that shows bad manners.
- uncover [ˌʌŋ'kʌvə] vt -1. [face, object] to remove the covering from <sthg> □ Leave the sauce to simmer, uncovered. -2. [plot, corruption, truth] to discover or tell people about <sthg that has been kept secret> □ Police have uncovered an arms cache.
- uncurl [ˌʌŋ'kɜ:l] vi -1. [hair, wire] to become straight again after being curled. -2. [cat, snake] to stretch its body to its normal state after being curled up.
- uncut [ˌʌŋ'kʌt] adj -1. [movie, play] that has not been made shorter by having parts removed from the original version. -2. [jewel] that is in its natural state and has not been cut or shaped for wearing as jewelry.
- undamaged [ˌʌŋ'dæmɪdʒd] adj [painting, car, vase] that has not been damaged, especially after an accident, fire etc.
- undaunted [ˌʌŋ'dɔ:ntəd] adj [person] who is not worried or frightened by a difficult job or unpleasant circumstances □ She carried on undaunted. □ He was undaunted by their criticism.
- undecided [ˌʌŋdɪ'saɪdəd] adj -1. to be undecided about sthg not to have made a definite decision about sthg □ I'm still undecided about whether to stay or go. -2. [issue, matter] that has not been completely dealt with □ The matter remains undecided.
- undemanding [US ˌʌŋdɪ'mændɪŋ, GB -mə:nd-]

- adj* -1. [job, task] that does not need a lot of thought or effort. -2. [person] who is easy to be with because they expect very little.
- undemonstrative [ˌʌndɪ'mɒnstɹətɪv] adj [person] who does not allow their feelings to show in the way they speak or behave.
- undeniable [ˌʌndɪ'neɪəbl] adj [fact, feeling] that is obvious, so that nobody can argue or disagree about it □ There's still the undeniable fact that he signed the agreement.
- under ['ʌndə] ◇ prep -1. under the table below the table □ We took shelter under a tree. □ She has a small scar under her left eye. □ The prisoners had managed to tunnel under the fence. ■ under the ocean/ground covered by the ocean/ground □ He wore a T-shirt under his jacket. -2. under $100 less than $100 □ We have under ten minutes left. □ 'Not suitable for children under five years.' -3. under the circumstances in a particular set of circumstances □ Under a truly democratic system, this would not happen. -4. under attack/discussion being attacked/discussed □ The matter is currently under review/consideration. -5. under stress/pressure affected by stress/pressure □ He's been under a lot of strain recently. □ The tenants are under threat of eviction. -6. under an agreement/law according to an agreement/law □ Under the terms of the contract, we are obliged to pay. -7. under sb led, controlled, managed etc by sb □ She has a staff of four under her. ■ the USA under Reagan the USA while Reagan was in power. -8. listed under "D" used to show where something is placed in a list, book etc □ File the report under 'Urgent'. -9. under the name of Smith using the name of Smith □ He registered under the name of Colonel Buendia.
- ◇ adv -1. to dive/crawl under to dive/crawl below something. -2. 12 years and under 12 years and less. -3. phrase to go under to go bankrupt (informal use).
- underachiever [ˌʌndə'reɪ'tʃi:və] n a person who does not do as well as they could at school or work.
- underage [ˌʌndə'reɪdʒ] adj [drinker, smoker] who is not old enough to do a particular activity legally □ underage drinking.
- underarm [ˌʌndə'rɑ:m] ◇ adj -1. an underarm deodorant a product that is designed to stop bad smells from sweat in one's armpits. -2. an underarm throw/bowl a way of throwing/bowling a ball that involves moving one's hand forward while keeping it below the level of one's shoulder. ◇ adv [throw, bowl] She threw the ball underarm.
- underbrush [ˌʌndə'brʌʃ] n US the plants and bushes that grow under the trees in a forest or jungle.
- undercarriage [US ˌʌndərkeɪrɪdʒ, GB ˌʌndəkæɪrɪdʒ] n the wheels and other parts of a plane that support it on the ground and during takeoff and landing □ The plane's undercarriage was raised/lowered.
- undercharge [ˌʌndə'tʃɑ:rdʒ] vt to charge  too little or less than the correct price for a product or service.
- underclothes [ˌʌndə'kləʊðz] npl items of clothing, e.g. undershirts, bras, and underpants, that one wears next to one's skin under one's other clothes.
- undercoat [ˌʌndə'kəʊt] n a layer of paint put onto a surface to act as a base for another layer.
- undercook [ˌʌndə'kʊk] vt [meat, vegetables] not to cook <food> for a long enough time.
- undercover [ˌʌndə'kʌvə] ◇ adj an undercover agent a person who secretly obtains information for the government or police by pretending to be somebody else □ an undercover operation. ◇ adv: The arrests were made by police working undercover.
- undercurrent [US ˌʌndərkɜ:rənt, GB ˌʌndəkərənt] n -1. [of feeling, tension, danger] a hidden feeling □ I sensed an undercurrent of resentment in his voice. -2. [in a river, ocean] a strong flow of water under the surface that moves in a particular direction □ There's a very strong undercurrent.
- undercut [ˌʌndə'kʌt] (vt & pp undercut, cont undercutting) vt to sell goods or services more cheaply than <sb> □ Greater efficiency means the firm can undercut its competitors by 10%.
- underdeveloped [ˌʌndə'dɪ'veləpt] adj -1. [country, area] that does not have modern industries and has poor living conditions. -2. [child] who is small compared to other children of the same age.
- underdog [ˌʌndə'dɒg] n the underdog [in a competition] the person who seems least likely to succeed or win; [in society] a person who does not have much chance of being successful because of their background □ I usually support the underdog.
- underdone [ˌʌndə'dʌn] adj [meat, pastry] that has not been cooked for long enough.
- underemployment [ˌʌndəɪm'plɔɪmənt] n a situation in which there are not enough jobs, or in which jobs do not use all the abilities and skills that people have.
- underestimate [n ˌʌndə'restɪmət, vb ˌʌndə'restɪmeɪt] ◇ n an estimate that is too low. ◇ vt -1. [time, amount, cost] to estimate that <sth> will be less than it really is □ I seriously underestimated how long it would take to finish the job. -2. [person, power, abilities] to have too low an opinion of <sb/sth> □ Don't underestimate her — she's very shrewd.
- underexposed [ˌʌndə'ɪks'pəʊzd] adj [film, photo, print] that looks dark because not enough light was used.
- underfinanced [ˌʌndə'faɪnənst] adj [company, project, organization] that does not have enough money spent on it to be able to work properly.
- underfoot [ˌʌndə'fʊt] adv to be trampled underfoot [person, plants] to be walked over by a lot of people or animals. ■ it is wet underfoot the ground feels wet when one walks on it.
- undergo [ˌʌndə'gəʊ] (pt underwent, pp undergone [-'gɒn]) vt [operation, change, difficulties] to

- experience <sthg>, especially sthg difficult or unpleasant □ The telecommunications industry has undergone a difficult reorganization in recent years. □ She is undergoing treatment for breast cancer.
- undergraduate [ˌʌndəˈɡrædʒʊət] ◇ n a person who is studying at a college or university for their first degree. ◇ adj: an undergraduate course/degree.
- underground [adj & n ˌʌndəˈgraʊnd, adv ˌʌndəˈgraʊnd] ◇ adj -1. [bunker, shelter, pipe] that is below the surface of the ground □ I parked in an underground parking lot. -2. an underground organization/newspaper etc an organization/newspaper etc that is secret and illegal □ During the war, Juliette worked in the underground resistance movement.
◇ adv -1. [live, dig] This small creature spends most of its time underground. -2. phrase to go underground [organization, newspaper, activity] to become an underground organization, newspaper, activity etc □ The sport was forced underground by the new laws.
◇ n -1. GB RAIL a railroad system in which electric trains carry people around a city through underground tunnels. -2. MILITARY an underground organization that is against the government.
- ◆ Underground n the Underground the subway system in London.
- underground railroad n before the American Civil War, a secret system that helped slaves to escape from the Southern states to the North of the USA or Canada.
- undergrowth [ˌʌndəˈɡrouθ] n the plants and bushes that grow under the trees in a forest or jungle □ I heard something moving in the undergrowth.
- underhand [ˌʌndəˈhænd] adj [action, method] that is dishonest, secret, and designed to hide one's real intentions.
- underinsured [ˌʌndəˈɪnʃʊəd] adj [person, building, property] that does not have enough insurance to cover the full cost of an insurance claim.
- underlay [ˌʌndəˈleɪ] n a thick material that is put under a carpet to make it feel softer and to protect it.
- underline [ˌʌndəˈlaɪn] vt -1. [importance, fact] to draw attention to <sthg> □ He cited several examples to underline the point. -2. [title, heading] to draw a line under .
- underling [ˌʌndəˈlɪŋ] n a person who has a lower or less important position than somebody else and takes orders from them (disapproving use).
- underlying [ˌʌndəˈlaɪɪŋ] adj an underlying principle/cause etc a principle/cause etc that is not obvious but is important □ We have to understand the underlying problems before we can find a lasting solution.
- undermanned [ˌʌndəˈmænd] adj [office, organization, factory] that does not have enough people to do all the work.
- undermentioned [ˌʌndəˈmenʃnd] adj that is mentioned later on in a particular document (formal use).
- undermine [ˌʌndəˈmaɪn] vt [authority, position, effort] to gradually make <sthg> weaker □ This could undermine public confidence in the justice system.
- underneath [ˌʌndəˈniːθ] ◇ prep -1. underneath the table/blanket etc under the table/blanket etc and hidden or covered by it □ Underneath all that old brown paint we found some fine oak paneling. □ He had a shirt on underneath his sweater. □ According to the map, the road goes underneath a bridge at this point. -2. used to describe somebody's hidden feelings or personality □ Underneath that tough exterior, she's really very kind.
◇ adv: The picture had a caption underneath. □ We had to lift the floorboards to get at the wiring underneath. □ Underneath he's actually a shy person.
◇ n the underneath the part that is hidden or covered □ The underneath of the car was badly rusted.
- undernourished [US ˌʌndəˈnɜːrɪʃt, GB ˌʌndəˈnɜːrɪʃt] adj [person] who is unhealthy because they have not eaten enough food, or the right food.
- underpaid [vb ˌʌndəˈpeɪd, adj ˌʌndəˈpeɪd] ◇ past tense and past participle of underpay. ◇ adj [staff, workers] who are not paid enough money for the work they do □ overworked and underpaid.
- underpants [ˌʌndəˈpænts] npl US a piece of underwear that covers the area from the waist to the top of the legs; GB a piece of this underwear that is worn only by men and boys □ a pair of underpants.
- underpass [US ˌʌndəˈpæs, GB ˌʌndəˈpɑːs] n a passage or road that goes underneath another road or a railroad track.
- underpay [ˌʌndəˈpeɪ] (vt & pp underpaid) vt not to pay <staff, employees> etc enough money for the job they do.
- underpin [ˌʌndəˈpɪn] (vt & pp underpinned, cont underpinning) vt [argument, theory, society] to strengthen and support <sthg>.
- underplay [ˌʌndəˈpleɪ] vt to make <sthg> seem unimportant, or less important than it really is □ Their spokesman is underplaying the significance of this latest resignation.
- underprice [ˌʌndəˈpraɪs] vt [goods, services] to charge too low a price for <sthg>.
- underprivileged [ˌʌndəˈprɪvəlɪdʒd] adj [child, family] who has less money and fewer opportunities than other people in society.
- underproduction [ˌʌndəˈprɒˈdʌkʃn] n a lower level of production than is needed to make profits or provide enough for everybody.
- underrated [ˌʌndəˈreɪtəd] adj [writer, novel, value] that is better, greater, or more important than most people realize □ He is a very underrated artist.
- underscore [ˌʌndəˈskɔːr] vt -1. [importance, fact] to draw attention to <sthg>. -2. [title, heading] to draw a line under  to show that it is important.

undersea [ˌʌndəˈsiː] adj undersea exploration exploration below the surface of the sea.

undersecretary [US ˌʌndərˈsekrətəri, GB ˌʌndəˈsekrətəri] (pl undersecretaries) n -1. an official who has a very senior position in a government department. -2. in Britain, a person who helps and advises a minister and is in charge of the daily work of a government department.

undersell [ˌʌndəˈsel] (pt & pp undersold) vt -1. [competitors, company] to sell goods or services more cheaply than <sb>. -2. not to show how valuable or useful <sthg> is when advertising or selling it.

undershirt [ˌʌndəˈʃɜːt] n US a piece of underwear worn on the top part of the body close to the skin to keep one warm.

underside [ˌʌndəˈsaɪd] n the underside the lower part or surface of something □ My car is badly rusted on the underside.

undersigned [ˌʌndəˈsaɪnd] (pl undersigned) n the undersigned the person whose signature appears at the end of a particular document (formal use) □ We, the undersigned, hereby declare that...

undersize(d) [ˌʌndəˈsaɪz(d)] adj [person, object, clothing] smaller than other people or things of the same kind, or too small.

undersold [ˌʌndəˈsəʊld] past tense & past participle of undersell.

understaffed [US ˌʌndərˈstæft, GB ˌʌndəˈstɑːft] adj [organization, store, school] that does not have enough people to do all the work □ The hospital is chronically understaffed.

understand [ˌʌndəˈstænd] (pt & pp understood) v -1. [word, book, language] to know the meaning of <sb/sthg> □ I'm sorry, I don't understand the instructions. □ I understand what you're saying. ■ to make oneself understood to make what one means clear □ Have I made myself understood? -2. [subject, theory, machine] to know how <sthg> works, how its parts relate to each other etc □ I don't fully understand how a car engine works. □ No one really understands why some people develop symptoms of the disease and others don't. -3. [person] to know why <sb> behaves or feels the way they do; [reaction, fear, objection] to accept <sb's behavior or feeling> because it is reasonable □ My wife doesn't understand me. □ I understand how you must feel. □ I don't understand why he didn't complain earlier. -4. to understand (that)... to believe that something is true, because one has been told □ I understand you're looking for a job, Mr Benn? □ It is understood that he left for Dubai on Monday.

◇ vi: Leave me alone, understand? □ I want you to know I really do understand.

understandable [ˌʌndəˈstændəbl̩] adj -1. [word, meaning] that one can understand. -2. [behavior, feeling] that one can understand because it is reasonable and usual □ Your anger is natural and perfectly understandable.

understandably [ˌʌndəˈstændəbl̩l̩] adv [upset, annoyed, jealous] see understandable □ Understandably, he was very angry.

understanding [ˌʌndəˈstændɪŋ] ◇ n -1. [of a language, machine, person] the ability to understand something □ I have a good understanding of computers though I'm not an expert. -2. sb's understanding the meaning that sb gives to something □ My understanding is that we are only allowed time off with our manager's approval. -3. [between people] an informal agreement about something □ We have come to an understanding about it all. ■ on the understanding that... on the condition that... □ I will lend you the car, on the understanding that any repairs are your responsibility. -4. [toward other people] a feeling of sympathy and trust between people □ We need more love and understanding.

◇ adj [person] who is kind and forgives easily □ Thank you. You've been very understanding.

understate [ˌʌndəˈsteɪt] vt [difficulty, problem] to make <sthg> seem less important than it actually is □ I think that's understating the extent of the problem.

understated [ˌʌndəˈsteɪtəd] adj [elegance, humor] that is effective but not obvious.

understatement [ˌʌndəˈsteɪtmənt] n -1. a statement that seems to make something appear less strong, important etc than it really is □ To say the meal was disappointing is an understatement. -2. the practice of making understatements □ Jack is a master of understatement.

understood [ˌʌndəˈstʊd] past tense & past participle of understand.

understudy [ˌʌndəˈstʌdɪ] (pl understudies, pt & pp understudied) ◇ n a person who learns a particular part in a play in order to play that part if the original actor is ill. ◇ vt [actor, part] to be an understudy for <sb/sthg>.

undertake [ˌʌndəˈteɪk] (pt undertook, pp undertaken [-ˈteɪkən]) vt -1. [responsibility, control, task] to accept <sthg>, especially if it is difficult □ Williams said he was unwilling to undertake such a responsibility alone. -2. to undertake to do sthg to promise to do sthg □ I'll do it, but I cannot undertake to finish it on time.

undertaker [ˌʌndəˈteɪkə] n a person whose job is to deal with dead people's bodies and arrange their funerals. ■ the undertaker's the place where an undertaker carries out their business.

undertaking [ˌʌndəˈteɪkɪŋ] n -1. something that one has agreed to do and for which one is therefore responsible □ Organizing and coordinating the whole event was no small undertaking. -2. a promise (formal use) □ I gave her my solemn undertaking that I would tell no one.

undertone [ˌʌndəˈtəʊn] n -1. in an undertone with a quiet voice. -2. [of sadness, bitterness, emotion] a vague feeling that is expressed indirectly □ Though her expression was serious, her voice had an undertone of amusement.

undertook [ˌʌndəˈtʊk] past tense of undertake.

undertow [ˌʌndəˈtəʊ] n a strong current of water that exists below the surface of the ocean and that moves back toward the ocean as a wave breaks on the shore.

- undervalue [ˌʌndəˈvæljuː] vt [person, antique, house] to consider <sb/sthg> to be less important than they really are □ I think Paula's very much undervalued at work.
- underwater [ˌʌndəˈwɔ:tə] ◇ adj underwater exploration/filming etc exploration/filming etc below the surface of the water. ◇ adv [swim, live] These pictures were shot underwater.
- underwear [ˌʌndəˈweə] n items of clothing, e.g. undershirts, bras, and underpants, that one wears next to one's skin under one's other clothes.
- underweight [ˌʌndəˈweɪt] adj who weighs less than they should or than is normal.
- underwent [ˌʌndəˈwent] past tense of undergo.
- underwired [ˌʌndəˈwaɪərd] adj an underwired bra a bra that has a thin strip of wire, plastic etc under each breast to give extra support.
- underworld [ˌʌndəˈwɜ:ld] n the underworld criminals when considered as a group in society.
- underwrite [ˌʌndəˈraɪt] (pt underwrote, pp underwritten) vt -1. [activity, project] to agree to take financial responsibility for <sthg>, especially if it fails. -2. to agree to pay the costs involved in <an insurance agreement> if a claim is made.
- underwriter [ˌʌndəˈraɪtə] n a person whose job is to examine a risk and calculate the cost of insuring against it.
- underwritten [ˌʌndəˈraɪtɪn] past participle of underwrite.
- underwrote [ˌʌndəˈraʊt] past tense of underwrite.
- undeserved [ˌʌndɪˈzɜ:vd] adj [praise, promotion, criticism] that somebody or something should not get because they do not deserve it.
- undesirable [ˌʌndɪˈzaɪərəbl] adj [consequences, delay] that one considers to be bad and so wants to avoid; [person] who is regarded as being dangerous or having a bad influence on others.
- undeveloped [ˌʌndɪˈveləpt] adj [country] that does not have industry or modern methods of agriculture.
- undid [ʌnˈdɪd] past tense of undo.
- undies [ˈʌndɪz] npl underwear (informal use).
- undignified [ˌʌnˈdɪgnəfaɪd] adj [person] who behaves in a way that is silly or embarrassing □ They were shouting and screaming at each other — it was all very undignified.
- undiluted [ˌʌndaɪˈlu:təd] adj -1. [quality, emotion] that is pure and strong □ a moment of undiluted pleasure. -2. [liquid] that is in its pure form with nothing added to make it less strong.
- undiplomatic [ˌʌndɪpləˈmætɪk] adj [person, statement, behavior] that shows a lack of concern for other people's feelings and is likely to cause offense.
- undischarged [ˌʌndɪsˈtʃɑ:dʒd] adj -1. [debt, account] that has not been paid. -2. an undischarged bankrupt a person who is bankrupt but still owes money.
- undisciplined [ˌʌnˈdɪsəplənd] adj [person, behavior, work] that shows a lack of discipline.
- undiscovered [ˌʌndɪˈskʌvərd] adj [fact, area, person] that nobody has discovered or knows about □ The truth remained undiscovered for centuries.
- undisputed [ˌʌndɪˈspju:təd] adj -1. [leader] whose position is clearly recognized and accepted by everyone □ the undisputed champion of the world. -2. [fact, power] that is certainly true or real and that nobody can doubt □ It is an undisputed fact that the man's a crook.
- undistinguished [ˌʌndɪˈstɪŋgwɪst] adj [person, performance] that is not particularly good, but is also not very bad (disapproving use).
- undivided [ˌʌndɪˈvaɪəd] adj to give sb/sth one's undivided attention to listen or pay attention to sb/sth without thinking about other people or things.
- undo [ʌnˈdu:] (pt undid, pp undone) vt -1. [knot, buttons, zipper] to open or loosen <sthg>, especially on clothes □ Could you undo the clasp on my necklace? -2. [shirt, jacket] to open  by undoing its buttons, zipper etc □ He undid his shirt quickly. -3. [work, efforts, mistake] to destroy the effects of <sthg that has been done> □ Nothing can undo the damage caused by the story.
- undoing [ˌʌnˈdu:ɪŋ] n to be sb's undoing to be the cause of sb's failure, ruin etc (formal use) □ Changing parties could be her political undoing.
- undone [ʌnˈdʌn] ◇ past participle of undo. ◇ adj -1. to be undone [zipper, button, piece of clothing] not to be fastened or closed □ Your buttons are coming undone. -2. to leave sth undone [work, job] not to do sth □ I hate to leave a job undone.
- undoubted [ʌnˈdaʊtəd] adj [skill, success] that is definitely real or true □ Despite his undoubted talent, he needs to work hard as well.
- undoubtedly [ʌnˈdaʊtədli] adv [true, good] certainly □ Undoubtedly the strike will cause great disruption.
- undreamed-of [ʌnˈdri:md-], undreamt-of [ʌnˈdremt-] adj [wealth, level] that is more than anyone ever thought possible before □ He has achieved previously undreamed-of results.
- undress [ʌnˈdres] ◇ vi to take off one's clothes. ◇ vt to take the clothes off <sb>.
- undressed [ʌnˈdrest] adj [person] who has no, or not many, clothes on. ■ to get undressed to take off one's clothes.
- undrinkable [ˌʌnˈdrɪŋkəbl] adj -1. [water, drink] that is dangerous to drink. -2. [wine, drink] that tastes too bad to drink.
- undue [ˌʌnˈdju:] adj undue haste/pressure etc haste/pressure etc that is more than is suitable, helpful, or necessary (formal use) □ I didn't want to attract any undue attention.
- undulate [ˈʌndʒuleɪt] vi [hills, landscape, road] to have gentle curves or slopes (literary use).
- unduly [ʌnˈdju:li] adv [concern, surprise, disturb] too much, and more than is reasonable □ However, I was not unduly worried.
- undying [ʌnˈdaɪɪŋ] adj undying love/fame etc love/fame etc that is so great that it will last forever (literary use).
- unearned income [ˌʌnɜ:nd-] n money one gets from investments, property etc rather than from a job.

unearth [ʌn'ɜːθ] vt -1. [treasure, coin, bone] to find <sthg buried in the ground>. -2. [fact, secret] to discover <sthg that is not known or has been kept secret> □ I was determined to unearth the truth about his death.

unearthly [ʌn'ɜːθli] adj -1. [silence, sound, sight] that is strange or frightening because one cannot explain it. -2. at an unearthly hour too early in the morning (informal use) □ What do you mean by calling me at this unearthly hour?

unease [ʌn'iːz] n the feeling of being uneasy □ I began to experience a growing sense of unease.

uneasy [ʌn'iːzi] (compar uneasier, superl uneasiest) adj -1. feeling worried because something might be wrong or something bad might happen □ I'm uneasy about having to trust someone I don't know. □ an uneasy feeling. -2. [person, sleep] that is not relaxed □ Eventually I drifted into an uneasy sleep. -3. [peace, alliance] that is not very settled and might not last very long □ There is an uneasy ceasefire here for the second day running.

uneatable [ˌʌn'iːtəbl] adj -1. [food] that is dangerous to eat. -2. [meal, food] that tastes too bad to eat.

uneaten [ˌʌn'iːtɪn] adj [food] that is left after the rest of a meal has been eaten □ She left half her lunch uneaten.

uneconomic [ˌʌniːkə'nɒmɪk] adj [business, industry] that does not make enough profit, or makes no profit □ The bus company canceled the service because they said it was uneconomic.

uneducated [ˌʌn'edʒʊkeɪtəd] adj -1. [person] who has not had any education. -2. [person] who behaves badly because they have not been educated properly (disapproving use).

unemotional [ˌʌni'moʊʃnəl] adj [person, voice, statement] that shows no feelings.

unemployable [ˌʌnim'plɔɪəbl] adj [person] who will probably not get a job, often because they have no skills or because they cause problems.

unemployed [ˌʌnim'plɔɪd] < adj [person] who has no job but wants one □ Most of the people I know are unemployed. < npl the unemployed the people in society who are unemployed.

unemployment [ˌʌnim'plɔɪmənt] n -1. the number of people who are unemployed □ Unemployment has come down recently. -2. the state of being unemployed □ a long period of unemployment.

unemployment compensation US, unemployment benefit GB n money that the state gives to people who are unemployed.

unending [ʌn'endɪŋ] adj [torment, struggle] that seems as if it will continue forever.

unenviable [ʌn'enviəbl] adj [task, reputation, record] that nobody wants because it is difficult or unpleasant □ She was given the unenviable task of breaking the bad news.

unequal [ʌn'iːkwəl] adj -1. [competition, distribution, pay] that is not fair because it gives an advantage to a particular person or group of people □ This gives our competitors an unequal advantage over us. -2. [amounts, sizes, number] not equal in amount, size etc □ two sticks of unequal length.

unequaled US, unequalled GB [ʌn'iːkwəld] adj [beauty, experience, level] that is better than all other things of a similar type □ His record remains unequaled.

unequivocal [ˌʌni'kwɪvəkəl] adj [answer, refusal, statement] whose meaning is completely clear (formal use) □ The Senator responded with an unequivocal denial.

unerring [US ʌn'eriŋ, GB ʌn'ɜːrɪŋ] adj [aim, ability, sense] that is always right □ Ralph has an unerring eye for a bargain.

UNESCO [juː'neskəʊ] (abbr of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) n a branch of the UN, based in Paris, that aims to encourage peace and respect for human rights through cooperation between rich and poor countries.

unethical [ˌʌn'ethɪkəl] adj [behavior, conduct] that is wrong according to a particular system of beliefs about what is right and wrong □ Such practices are unethical and should be condemned.

uneven [ʌn'iːvn] adj -1. [surface, ground] that is not flat, smooth, or straight □ The road became uneven, little more than a rough track. -2. [performance, work] that is not always of good quality □ The writing is uneven, but overall I enjoyed the book. -3. [competition, race, match] that is not fair because it is between people or things that are not equal □ I think the race was very uneven.

uneventful [ˌʌni'ventfəl] adj [day, trip] during which nothing important or interesting happens.

unexceptional [ˌʌnɪk'sepʃnəl] adj [person, quality] that is not very interesting or impressive.

unexpected [ˌʌnɪk'spektəd] adj [pleasure, death, surprise] that makes one feel surprised because one does not expect it □ Her reaction was totally unexpected.

unexpectedly [ˌʌnɪk'spektədli] adv [die, arrive, happen] see unexpected □ There has been an unexpectedly high demand for these products.

unexplained [ˌʌnɪk'spleɪnd] adj [mystery, disappearance, death] whose cause is not known.

unexploded [ˌʌnɪk'spləʊdəd] adj [bomb, mine] that has not exploded and so is still dangerous.

unexpurgated [ʌn'eksɜːpə'geɪtəd] adj [book, text] that is complete, with no rude or offensive parts removed.

unfailing [ʌn'feɪlɪŋ] adj [loyalty, support, good humor] that is always there and that one can depend on □ He always treated me with unfailing kindness.

unfair [ˌʌn'feəʃ] adj [treatment, system] that is not right because people are not all treated in the same way; [criticism, situation] that is not reasonable or acceptable according to one's idea of right and wrong □ The rules give some people an unfair advantage over others. □ I think you're being very unfair to poor Mike.

unfair dismissal n the act of taking away an employee's job without a proper or legal reason □ Jones sued his employers for unfair dismissal.

unfairly [ˌʌnˈfeərlɪ] adv [treat, criticize, dismiss] see unfair.

unfaithful [ʌnˈfeɪθfl] adj to be unfaithful to sb to secretly have sex with somebody while one is married to or having a romantic or sexual relationship with sb else.

unfamiliar [ˌʌnfəˈmɪljə] adj -1. [place, feeling, language] that one does not know much about because one has not experienced it before □ His name may be unfamiliar to most people. -2. to be unfamiliar with sthg [with the facts, a procedure, place] to know little or nothing about sthg because one has not experienced it before □ I'm unfamiliar with the streets around here.

unfashionable [ˌʌnˈfæʃnəbl] adj [dress, idea, activity] that is not popular at a particular time, especially because it is not considered modern by most people.

unfasten [US ʌnˈfæsn, GB -ˈfɑːsn] vt [belt, buttons] to open <sthg that is fastened> □ Do not unfasten your safety belts until the plane has come to a complete stop.

unfavorable US, unfavourable GB [ʌnˈfeɪvərəbl] adj -1. [conditions, terms] that do not seem suitable and will probably not lead to a positive result □ Unfavorable weather conditions delayed the launching of the satellite. -2. [opinion, impression] that shows one does not like somebody or something □ His new play has opened to unfavorable reviews.

unfeeling [ʌnˈfiːlɪŋ] adj [person, attitude, action] that does not show concern for other people's feelings □ How can you be so unfeeling?

unfinished [ˌʌnˈfɪnɪʃt] adj [business, job] that has not been done completely; [drink, meal] that has not been finished □ She left her supper unfinished on the table.

unfit [ʌnˈfɪt] adj -1. [person] who is not in good physical condition because they do not exercise regularly □ I feel very unfit at the moment; I must get some more exercise. -2. to be unfit for sthg to be unsuitable for sthg because of being in a bad state □ This food is unfit for human consumption. □ I would say he was unfit to drive.

unflagging [ʌnˈflæŋɪŋ] adj [energy, enthusiasm, support] that is impressive because it continues for a long time at the same level.

unflappable [ʌnˈflæpəbl] adj [person] who remains calm and confident even in difficult circumstances (informal use).

unflattering [ˌʌnˈflætərɪŋ] adj [dress, description] that makes somebody appear less attractive than they really are □ The book gives a very unflattering picture of his mother.

unflinching [ʌnˈflɪntʃɪŋ] adj [person] who is not easily stopped from doing something by pain, fear etc □ unflinching support/loyalty.

unfold [ʌnˈfəʊld] ◇ vt -1. [newspaper, map] to open <sthg> so that it is no longer folded. -2. [plan, proposal, vision] to present and explain the different parts of <sthg> □ Jerry is here to unfold details of the new plan. ◇ vi [story, plot, truth] to become gradually clearer □ We watched in amazement as events began to unfold.

unforeseen [ˌʌnfɔːˈsiːn] adj [circumstances, difficulty] unexpected □ As long as there are no unforeseen problems things should go fine.

unforgettable [ˌʌnfəˈɡetəbl] adj [person, evening, experience] that has a very strong positive effect on one and is remembered for a long time □ The Northern Lights are an unforgettable sight.

unforgivable [ˌʌnfəˈɡɪvəbl] adj [action, behavior, statement] that is unacceptable and cannot be excused □ That was an unforgivable thing to do.

unformatted [ˌʌnˈfɔːrˌmætəd] adj [computer disk] that has not yet been prepared so that it can receive data.

unfortunate [ʌnˈfɔːtʃənət] adj -1. [person, experience] unlucky □ He was very unfortunate to have missed his flight. -2. [error, remark, name] that causes embarrassment or regret □ It was an unfortunate remark, to say the least.

unfortunately [ʌnˈfɔːtʃənətli] adv a word used to show that one feels disappointment, sadness, or regret about something □ Unfortunately, Richard won't be able to join us for dinner this evening.

unfounded [ʌnˈfaʊndəd] adj [accusation, rumor, belief] that has not been proved or is not based on facts □ Luckily these fears proved to be unfounded.

unfriendly [ʌnˈfrendli] (compar unfriendlier, superl unfriendliest) adj [person, behavior, remark] that shows no desire to have a good relationship with other people □ I found her family cold and unfriendly.

unfulfilled [ˌʌnˈfʊlˌfɪld] adj -1. [dream, ambition] that has not been achieved in reality; [potential] that has not been used or developed enough □ It was an ambition that was to remain unfulfilled. -2. [person] who feels that they are not using or developing their good qualities and abilities enough □ She feels unfulfilled in her new job.

unfurl [ˌʌnˈfɜːrl] vt to unroll  etc so that it can be used.

unfurnished [ˌʌnˈfɜːnɪʃt] adj [apartment, room, accommodation] that has no furniture in it.

ungainly [ʌnˈgeɪnli] adj [person, animal, manner] that is not elegant or graceful in movement □ a tall ungainly man.

ungenerous [ʌnˈdʒenərəs] adj -1. [person, action, attitude] that does not show much generosity □ It was a not ungenerous sum. -2. [remark] that is unfair □ I think his criticism of you was ungenerous.

ungodly [ʌnˈɡɒdli] adj -1. [act, behavior, remark] that shows no respect for religion. -2. an ungodly hour a time of the day or night that one considers unacceptable (informal use) □ Why are you phoning me at this ungodly hour?

ungrateful [ʌnˈɡreɪtfl] adj [person, behavior, re- sponse] that shows no gratitude □ Don't be so ungrateful!

- unguarded [ˌʌnˈɡɑːrdəd] adj -1. to leave sth unguarded [building, valuables] to leave sth unprotected and so not safe from burglary, theft etc. -2. in an unguarded moment in a moment when one is not being careful about what one is saying □ She showed her true feelings in an unguarded moment.
- unhappily [ˌʌnˈhæpəlɪ] adv -1. [live, think] see unhappy. -2. a word used to show that one feels sad, disappointed, or frustrated about something (formal use) □ Unhappily, we can report no improvement in the situation.
- unhappiness [ˌʌnˈhæpɪnəs] n [of a person, somebody's life, thoughts] see unhappy □ His drinking was a cause of much unhappiness between them.
- unhappy [ˌʌnˈhæpɪ] (compar unhappier, superl unhappiest) adj -1. [person] who is not happy, especially because they are in an unpleasant situation □ She seems really unhappy at the moment — do you know what's wrong? □ It was an unhappy marriage. -2. to be unhappy to have strong doubts or worries about something □ We are unhappy with OR about the way things are progressing. □ She was unhappy about my spending so much money. -3. [coincidence, remark] that causes embarrassment or regret □ He later apologized for his unhappy choice of words.
- unharméd [ˌʌnˈhɑːrmd] adj [person] who is not hurt in any way after a serious accident or dangerous event □ The hostages escaped/were released unharméd.
- UNHCR (abbr of United Nations High Commission for Refugees) n the UNHCR a branch of the UN that aims to protect the rights and welfare of refugees.
- unhealthy [ˌʌnˈhelθɪ] (compar unhealthier, superl unhealthiest) adj -1. [person] who may be affected by illness or bad health, e.g. because of their diet or way of life; [skin, appearance] that does not look healthy □ I feel so unhealthy at the moment. -2. [diet, lifestyle, activity] that can cause illness or bad health □ Smoking is an extremely unhealthy habit. -3. [interest, preoccupation, attitude] that seems extreme and may have harmful effects □ Her feelings for him have become an unhealthy obsession.
- unheard [ˌʌnˈhɜːd] adj to be OR go unheard [comments, warnings, advice] to be ignored □ His cries for help went unheard.
- unheard-of adj -1. to be unheard-of [activity, phenomenon] to never happen □ Political opposition was unheard-of before the revolution. □ Cholera is now almost unheard-of in Europe. -2. [event, cost] that is very unusual and so surprising or shocking □ It's unheard-of for him to apologize!
- unheeded [ˌʌnˈhiːdəd] adj to go unheeded [comments, warnings] to be ignored □ Professor Bank's advice went unheeded with dire results.
- unhelpful [ˌʌnˈhelpfl] adj -1. [person, attitude] that shows no desire or willingness to help □ I found the staff extremely unhelpful. -2. [comment, advice, interference] not useful □ Harry's comments were more unhelpful than anything else.
- unhindered [ˌʌnˈhɪndəd] adj [movement, exchange, progress] that is not made difficult in any way □ The crowd parted and we were able to continue unhindered.
- unhook [ˌʌnˈhʊk] vt [dress, bra] to undo the hooks of <sthg>, e.g. in order to take it off.
- unhurt [ˌʌnˈhɜːt] adj [person] who is not injured after a serious accident or dangerous event □ They were lucky to escape unhurt.
- unhygienic [US ˌʌnˈhaɪdʒɪˈenɪk, GB ˌʌnˈhaɪˈdʒɪːnɪk] adj [place, conditions, practice] in which germs are able to spread, making infection or disease more likely.
- UNICEF [ˈjuːnɪsef] (abbr of United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) n a branch of the UN that aims to protect the rights and welfare of children in poor countries.
- unicorn [ˈjuːnɪkɔːn] n an imaginary creature like a white horse with a long horn at the front of its head.
- unicycle [ˈjuːnɪsaɪkl] n a piece of equipment like a bicycle with only one wheel, used by entertainers, circus performers etc.
- unidentified [ˌʌnˈaɪdɪntɪfaɪd] adj [person, animal] whose identity is not known □ The raid was carried out by two unidentified gunmen at eleven o'clock this morning.
- unidentified flying object n → UFO.
- unification [ˌjuːnɪfɪˈkeɪʃn] n: see unify.
- uniform [ˈjuːnɪfɔːm] ◊ adj [size, color] that is the same in every part of something □ uniform pay increases. ◊ n a special set of clothes worn by the people who do a particular job, e.g. police officers and nurses, and by children at some schools □ She was in uniform.
- uniformity [ˌjuːnɪˈfɔːmətɪ] n a uniform state or quality □ uniformity of approach.
- uniformly [ˈjuːnɪfɔːmlɪ] adv [distributed, sized] see uniform □ performances of a uniformly high standard.
- unify [ˈjuːnɪfaɪ] (pt & pp unified) vt [country, political party] to bring together parts of <sthg> to form one unit □ Italy was unified in the 19th century.
- unifying [ˈjuːnɪfaɪɪŋ] adj a unifying theme/force etc a theme/force etc that unifies.
- unilateral [ˌjuːnɪˈlætərəl] adj [action] that a group, organization etc decides to do alone without the agreement of other groups or organizations involved □ unilateral nuclear disarmament □ a unilateral ceasefire.
- unimaginable [ˌʌnɪˈmædʒənəbl] adj [suffering, horror] that is hard to imagine because it is worse than most people have experienced □ What these children have been through is almost unimaginable.
- unimaginative [ˌʌnɪˈmædʒɪnətɪv] adj [person, idea, design] that does not show much imagination □ This year's festival program was disappointingly unimaginative.
- unimpaired [ˌʌnɪmˈpeəd] adj [eyesight, hearing] that is not damaged or made worse in any - way □ Luckily, his vision was unimpaired by the accident.

- unimpeded [ˌʌnɪmˈpiːdɪd] adj [view, activity] that is not made difficult or interrupted by anything □ We were then able to continue our discussion unimpeded.
- unimportant [ˌʌnɪmˈpɔːtnt] adj [detail, person] that is not important □ What you meant to say is unimportant now.
- unimpressed [ˌʌnɪmˈprest] adj to be unimpressed to think that somebody or something is not very good or interesting □ I was singularly unimpressed by his new girlfriend.
- uninhabited [ˌʌnɪnˈhæbətəd] adj [island, area, building] that has no people living there □ a row of derelict uninhabited houses.
- uninhibited [ˌʌnɪnˈhɪbətəd] adj [person] who feels relaxed with other people and is not afraid to show their true character and feelings □ She is very uninhibited about nudity.
- uninitiated [ˌʌnɪˈnɪʃɪətəd] npl the uninitiated people who have no knowledge or experience of a particular skill, craft, procedure etc (formal or humorous use).
- uninjured [ˌʌnɪˈndʒəd] adj [person] who is not injured after an accident or dangerous event □ They escaped uninjured.
- uninspiring [ˌʌnɪnˈspaɪərɪŋ] adj [person, speech] that does not cause excitement or enthusiasm □ Mrs Took's lessons were uninspiring, to put it mildly.
- uninstall [ˌʌnɪnˈstɔːl] vt to delete <part of a computer program> from one's hard disk after one has installed it.
- unintelligent [ˌʌnɪnˈtelədʒənt] adj [person, action] that is stupid.
- unintelligible [ˌʌnɪnˈtelədʒəbl] adj [word, writing] that is impossible to understand □ The man stood there shouting something unintelligible.
- unintentional [ˌʌnɪnˈtɛnʃənl] adj [mistake, damage] that is not done deliberately □ Any resemblance to a real person is purely unintentional.
- uninterested [ˌʌnɪntərestəd] adj [person] who is not interested □ Andy seemed totally uninterested in what I had to say.
- uninterrupted [ˌʌnɪntəˈrʌptəd] adj [sequence, period] that is continuous and has no interruptions □ uninterrupted views across the valley □ Forbes was finally able to continue his speech uninterrupted.
- uninvited [ˌʌnɪnˈvaɪtəd] adj [guest, visitor] who comes without being invited □ I hope you don't mind us turning up uninvited.
- union ['juːnjən] n -1. = labor union □ The unions are meeting today to discuss possible strike action. □ Have you paid your union dues? -2. a word often used in the names of clubs and societies □ the Student Union. -3. the act of joining a number of things together; the result of an act like this □ the union of African states □ the Soviet Union.
- ◆ Union n the Union the Northern states during the American Civil War.
- Unionist ['juːnjənɪst] n GB POLITICS a member or a supporter of a party that believes that Northern Ireland should remain part of the United Kingdom.
- unionize, -ise ['juːnjənaɪz] vt to organize  to join or form a labor union.
- unionized, -ised ['juːnjənaɪzd] adj [workforce, company] that has been organized to join or form a labor union.
- Union Jack [-ˈdʒæk] n the Union Jack the official flag of the United Kingdom, made up of the crosses of St George, St Andrew, and St Patrick.
- Union of Soviet Socialist Republics → USSR.
- union shop n US a place of work where all the employees must belong to a particular labor union.
- unique [juːˈniːk] adj -1. [example, occasion] that is the only one of its kind □ Each person is unique. -2. [achievement, opportunity] that is very special and unusual □ A stay in our luxurious beachside hotel is a unique experience. -3. to be unique to sb/sthg to be found in or be connected to sb/sthg only □ a problem unique to this region.
- uniquely [juːˈniːklɪ] adv [talented, satisfying] see unique □ a uniquely British phenomenon.
- unisex ['juːnɪseks] adj [clothes, hairdresser's] that is designed for both men and women.
- unison ['juːnɪsən] n in unison [act, work] in complete agreement; [say] together □ "Yes, sir!" they chanted in unison. ■ to sing in unison to sing the same notes together at the same time.
- UNISON ['juːnɪsən] n a large British labor union for employees in the public services.
- unit ['juːnɪt] n -1. a group of people or things considered as one complete thing □ the family unit. -2. [of measurement] a standard measure of something, e.g. distance or weight □ The unit of electricity consumption is the kilowatt-hour. □ The patient received five units of morphine. -3. [in a machine] a set of mechanical or electrical parts that has a particular function in a larger machine □ Replace the filter unit every three months. -4. [of furniture] a piece of furniture that can be put together with other pieces and usually has a particular function □ a storage/hi-fi unit. -5. [in an organization] a group of workers that has a particular job in a larger organization □ He was taken to the burn unit. -6. [in a textbook] a chapter in a textbook □ Turn to Unit Three.
- unitary authority n in Britain, an area where one local government council is responsible for all public services.
- unit cost n BUSINESS the cost of producing one item.
- unite [juːˈnaɪt] ◇ vi [countries, organizations] to join together and work as a group, especially in order to do something that both or all want □ We must unite to oppose these changes. ◇ vt [countries, organizations] to make  unite □ Can the President unite the party behind him?
- united [juːˈnaɪtəd] adj acting together to do something that everybody wants □ We want a more united Europe. □ We are united in our pursuit of a fairer and more democratic society.

United Arab Emirates: the United Arab Emirates a country in southeastern Arabia, consisting of seven states on the Persian Gulf. It is a major oil exporter. SIZE: 80,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,400,000 (Emirians). CAPITAL: Abu Dhabi. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: UAE dirham.

united front: n to present a united front to show other people that all the members of one's group or organization have the same opinion about something.

United Kingdom: the United Kingdom (of Great Britain and Northern Island) a term used to refer to England, Wales, Scotland, and Northern Ireland, considered as a political unit.

NOTE: Compare Great Britain.

United Nations n the United Nations (Organization) an international organization created at the end of World War II whose aim is to encourage peaceful relations between countries in order to avoid wars.

United States: the United States (of America) a country in North America, between Canada and Mexico. SIZE: 9,364,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 258,300,000 (Americans). CAPITAL: Washington D.C. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: US dollar.

United Way n the United Way an association of several US charity organizations.

unit price n the price of one item of goods.

unit trust n GB an investment company that sells shares in various other companies.

unity ['ju:nəti] n -1. [of a country, political party] a situation in which all the members of a group or organization have the same beliefs, opinions, aims etc □ national/political unity. -2. a situation in which people are in peaceful agreement about things □ a state of unity.

Univ. abbr of University.

universal [,ju:nə'vɜ:sl] adj [belief, truth, language] that is shared by everybody in the world; [interest, agreement] that is shared by everybody in a particular group □ The wish to be loved is universal. □ Her books have a universal appeal.

universal joint n a joint between two parts of a machine that allows the parts to move in all directions.

universe ['ju:nəvɜ:'s] n ASTRONOMY the universe the whole of space and all the planets, stars, moons etc in it.

university [,ju:nə'vɜ:'səti] (pl universities) n a place where people study after leaving school, usually for a degree; the people who work and study in this place □ She's hoping to go to university GB OR the university US. □ He's studying politics at a university in California. □ a university education/student/team □ university fees/staff.

UNIXTM ['ju:niks] n an operating system used mainly in large powerful computer systems.

unjust [,ʌn'dʒʌst] adj [system, remark, act] that does not treat a particular person or group very well or fairly □ I felt their criticism of my actions was very unjust.

unjustifiable [ˌʌndʒʌstɪ'faɪəbl] adj [conclusion, expense, attack] that is not acceptable because no good reason or excuse can be given for it.

unjustified [ˌʌn'dʒʌstɪfaɪd] adj [conclusion, expense, attack] for which there is no good reason or excuse.

unkempt [ˌʌn'kempt] adj [hair, beard, appearance] that looks untidy.

unkind [ˌʌn'kaɪnd] adj -1. [person] who treats people badly and makes them unhappy □ He was very unkind to me. □ an unkind comment/thought. -2. [weather, climate] that has a bad effect on somebody or something □ This cold weather is very unkind to skin, so use a moisturizer.

unkindly [ˌʌn'kaɪndli] adv [speak, criticize, behave] see unkind.

unknown [ˌʌn'nəʊn] ◊ adj -1. [actor, writer] who is not well known by the public □ an unknown artist. -2. [cause, number, result] that is not known □ for reasons unknown □ The cause of the contamination is unknown. ◊ n -1. the unknown a place or situation that one does not know and that may be dangerous □ fear of the unknown. -2. an actor, writer etc who is not well known by the public □ The part was taken by a young unknown.

unladen [ˌʌn'leɪdn] adj unladen weight the weight of a truck, ship etc when it is empty.

unlawful [ˌʌn'lɔ:fl] adj [behavior, activity, demonstration] that is against the law.

unleaded [ˌʌn'ledəd] adj [gasoline] that has had some of the lead removed from it in order to reduce pollution.

NOTE: Compare leaded.

unleash [ˌʌn'li:ʃ] vt [violence, abuse, emotions] to suddenly make <sthg powerful> happen (literary use) □ Her remarks unleashed a storm of protest.

unleavened [ˌʌn'levnd] adj unleavened bread bread that is made without yeast and so is quite flat and hard.

unless [ən'les] conj -1. unless he gets a bank loan, he'll go bankrupt he'll go bankrupt, but only if he does not get a bank loan □ I'll assume everything is OK unless I hear otherwise. □ They said that unless I paid up, they would take me to court. -2. unless I'm very much mistaken, that's Jane that must be Jane, because otherwise I have made a mistake and I do not think this is very likely.

unlicensed [ˌʌn'lɑ:nsɪt] adj [fishing, hunting] that is done without a license and so is illegal; [car] that is driven illegally because it does not have a license; [restaurant] that does not have a license to serve alcohol.

unlike [ˌʌn'lɑ:k] prep -1. that is different from <sb/sthg> □ He's quite unlike his brother. □ It's not unlike the old system. -2. a word used to show the difference between two actions, situations etc □ They arrived on time, unlike yes-

- terday*. -3. that is not typical of <sb/sthg> □ It's very unlike you to complain.
- unlikely [ʌn'laɪkli] adj -1. [event, result] that will probably not happen □ In the unlikely event of our losing the contract... □ They are unlikely to come now. -2. [story, detail] that is probably not true □ It sounds unlikely. -3. [person, choice] that is not what one would have expected □ He always turns up at the most unlikely times.
- unlimited [ʌn'limɪtəd] adj [amount, time, opportunity] that has no fixed limit □ You're allowed unlimited amounts of wine with the set menu.
- unlisted [ʌn'lɪstəd] adj US [phone number] that is not in the telephone directory.
- unlit [ʌn'lɪt] adj -1. [fire, cigarette] that is not burning. -2. [street, building] that is not lit by electric lighting.
- unload [ʌn'ləʊd] vt -1. [luggage, cases] to take <sthg> out of the vehicle in which it has been carried □ We watched them unloading the cargo from the ship. -2. [car, ship, truck] to remove the contents from . -3. to unload one's worries/problems etc on(to) sb to tell one's worries/problems etc to sb else.
- unlock [ʌn'lɒk] vt [door, suitcase] to turn a key in the lock of <sthg> so that it can be opened.
- unloved [ʌn'lʌvd] adj [person] who feels that they are not loved by anybody.
- unluckily [ʌn'lʌkɪli] adv a word used to show that one thinks that something has happened as the result of bad luck □ Unluckily for Tom, his wife walked in just at that moment.
- unlucky [ʌn'lʌki] (compar unluckier, superl unluckiest) adj -1. [person] who has bad luck □ You've just been unlucky, that's all. -2. [choice, encounter] that brings bad luck □ The number 13 is considered by some people to be unlucky.
- unmanageable [ʌn'mænidʒəbl] adj -1. [child, class] that is hard to control □ Is your hair dry and unmanageable? -2. [problem, workload] that is too great to deal with.
- unmanly [ʌn'mænli] (compar unmanlier, superl unmanliest) adj [behavior, reaction] that is thought to be unsuitable for a man.
- unmanned [ʌn'mænd] adj [spacecraft, flight] that has no crew on board.
- unmarked [ʌn'mɑ:kt] adj -1. to be unmarked [skin, face] to have no cuts or bruises, e.g. after a fight. -2. [police car, grave] that has no mark of identification.
- unmarried [US ʌn'mɛrɪd, GB -'mɛr-] adj [couple, mother] who has never been married.
- unmask [US ʌn'mæsk, GB -'mɑ:sk] vt -1. [burglar, highwayman, terrorist] to take the mask off the face of <sb>. -2. [hypocrite, cheat, traitor] to show the real character of <sb>; [fraud, hypocrisy] to make <sthg> public □ He was unmasked as a former Soviet agent.
- unmatched [ʌn'mætʃt] adj to be unmatched [performance, service] to be better than all others of the same type.
- unmentionable [ʌn'menʃnəbl] adj [word, topic] that is not suitable for conversation because it is considered rude or embarrassing.
- unmistakable [ʌnmɪ'steɪkəbl] adj [smell, taste] that allows one to recognize something without doubt □ There was an unmistakable air of satisfaction about her.
- unmitigated [ʌn'mɪtəʒeɪtəd] adj an unmitigated disaster/failure a complete disaster/failure.
- unmoved [ʌn'mu:vd] adj to be OR remain unmoved to feel and show no pity or sympathy □ Who could remain unmoved by the images of this terrible war?
- unnamed [ʌn'neɪmd] adj [source, donor] whose name is not published or not known.
- unnatural [ʌn'nætʃrəl] adj -1. [silence, power] that is not what one normally expects □ She seems to have no feeling at all for those children — it's unnatural! -2. [dialogue, behavior] that is different from what happens in normal life □ The way people speak in 1940s movies seems unnatural to us today.
- unnecessary [ʌn'nesəsəri] adj [anxiety, trouble] not necessary □ I don't want you to go to any unnecessary trouble for us.
- unnerving [ʌn'nɜ:ɪvɪŋ] adj [silence, experience] that makes one feel nervous □ Chloe has an unnerving ability to guess what's on my mind.
- unnoticed [ʌn'nəʊtɪst] adj to go OR pass unnoticed to happen without anybody noticing □ Fortunately, my absence went unnoticed.
- UNO ['ju:nou] n abbr of United Nations Organization.
- unobserved [ʌnəb'zɜ:vəd] adj who is not seen by anybody □ She slipped out unobserved.
- unobtainable [ʌnəb'teɪnəbl] adj -1. [product] that is impossible to find or buy. -2. [telephone number] that is impossible for the caller or operator to contact.
- unobtrusive [ʌnəb'tru:sɪv] adj [building, sign] that is not too obvious; [visitor, presence] not causing any disturbance.
- unoccupied [ʌn'ɒkjəpaɪd] adj -1. [house, room, table] not lived in or being used. -2. [person] who has nothing to do. -3. [territory, zone] that is not occupied by a foreign army.
- unofficial [ʌnə'fɪʃl] adj -1. [visit, action] that is not arranged or allowed by the authorities □ a one-day unofficial strike. -2. [report, rumor] that is not yet officially confirmed □ The takeover will go ahead — it's still unofficial though.
- unopened [ʌn'əʊpənd] adj [envelope, package, can] that has not been opened.
- unorthodox [ʌn'ɔ:θədɒks] adj [behavior, belief] that is original and different from what is accepted by most people.
- unpack [ʌn'pæk] < vt -1. [bag, suitcase] to take the contents out of <sthg>. -2. [clothes, shopping] to take <sthg> out of the bag or suitcase in which it has been carried. < vi: Have you unpacked yet?
- unpaid [ʌn'peɪd] adj -1. [person] who works without being paid; [job, work] that is voluntary and receives no pay; [vacation] that is taken without pay □ He's taken unpaid leave. -2. [bill, account] that has not yet been paid.
- unpalatable [ʌn'pælətəbl] adj [truth, idea] that one finds unpleasant to think about or difficult to accept.

unparalleled [US ʌn'perələld, GB -'pær-] adj [success, achievement] that is better than all others of the same type □ the unparalleled success of the new CD-ROM.

unpatriotic [US ʌn'pætrɪ'ɒtɪk, GB -pæt-] adj [person, attitude, act] that does not show enough support for one's own country.

unpick [ʌn'pɪk] vt to remove <the stitches> from a piece of sewing or clothing.

unplanned [ʌn'plænd] adj [pregnancy, visit, activity] that has not been planned.

unpleasant [ʌn'pleznt] adj -1. [experience, taste] that one does not like or enjoy □ The initial effects of the treatment are fairly unpleasant. -2. [person] who seems rude and unfriendly □ There's no need to be unpleasant about it!

unpleasantness [ʌn'plezntnəs] n unfriendly feelings or arguments between people □ There was a certain amount of unpleasantness.

unplug [ʌn'plʌg] (pt & pp unplugged, cont unplugging) vt [kettle, television] to remove the electrical plug of <sth> from a socket.

unpolluted [ʌnpə'lʊtəd] adj [air, water] that is pure and not polluted.

unpopular [ʌn'pɒpjələ] adj [person, decision, tax] that is disliked by most people.

unprecedented [ʌn'presədəntəd] adj [increase, success] that is larger, more important etc than anything that has ever happened before □ unprecedented amounts of rainfall.

unpredictable [ʌn'prɪ'dɪktəbl] adj [weather, outcome] that is impossible to predict accurately because it is always changing; [person] who changes a lot so that it is impossible to know how they are going to behave □ These things are always pretty unpredictable. □ Laura's moods can be very unpredictable.

unprepared [ʌnprə'peəd] adj [person] who is not expecting something and therefore finds it hard to deal with when it happens □ I was unprepared for this turn of events.

unrepossessing [ʌnprɪ:pə'zesɪŋ] adj [person, sight] that is ordinary and not very noticeable.

unpretentious [ʌnprɪ'tenʃəs] adj [setting, home] that is simple; [person] who does not try to make other people think that they are better or more important than they really are □ The local cuisine is wholesome and unpretentious.

unprincipled [ʌn'prɪnsəpld] adj [person] who does not behave according to moral principles.

unprintable [ʌn'prɪntəbl] adj [reply, comment] that is too rude or offensive to be printed in a newspaper.

unproductive [ʌnprə'dʌktɪv] adj [meeting, discussion] that does not produce any useful results; [land] that does not produce crops.

unprofessional [ʌnprə'feʃnəl] adj [attitude, behavior] that is below the standards expected of a person in a particular job □ I find such conduct highly unprofessional.

unprofitable [ʌn'prɒfətəbl] adj [business, venture] that does not make a profit.

unpronounceable [ʌnprə'naʊnsəbl] adj [name, word] that is impossible to pronounce.

unprotected [ʌnprə'tektəd] adj -1. unprotected sex the activity of having sex without using a condom. -2. [head, body] that is not protected from possible injury.

unprovoked [ʌnprə'vʊkt] adj [attack, insult] that is not caused by something that somebody else has said or done □ It was a vicious unprovoked act of aggression.

unpublished [ʌn'pʌblɪʃt] adj [novel, manuscript, letter] that has never been printed for people to read; [author, writer] whose works have never been published.

unpunished [ʌn'pʌnɪʃt] adj to go unpunished not to be punished □ Such acts of random violence cannot be allowed to go unpunished.

unqualified [ʌn'kwɒləfaɪd] adj -1. [person] who does not have any qualifications that prove they can do a job □ It's almost impossible to find work if you are unqualified. -2. [admiration, success] complete □ You have my unqualified support.

unquestionable [ʌn'kwɛstʃənəbl] adj [advantage, improvement] a word used to show that one feels sure about what one is saying □ Her talent as an actress is unquestionable.

unquestioning [ʌn'kwɛstʃənɪŋ] adj [acceptance, reliance] that one has not thought enough about □ unquestioning obedience.

unravel [ʌn'rævɪl] (US pt & pp unraveled, cont unraveling, GB pt & pp unravelling, cont unravelling) v -1. [knitting, ball of wool] to undo <sth> by unwinding the thread. -2. [problem, mystery] to solve <sth> by finding out how it happened. v: The stitching/mystery has started to unravel.

unreadable [ʌn'ri:dəbl] adj -1. [text, book] that is difficult to read because it is boring or complex. -2. [handwriting] that is impossible to read because it is not neat. -3. COMPUTING [disk] that cannot be recognized by a computer.

unreal [ʌn'riəl] adj -1. [situation, feeling] that is strange and not like real life □ Everything seemed unreal during those weeks in Rio. -2. [quality, level] that one thinks is extremely good (informal use) □ The taste is unreal!

unrealistic [ʌnriəlɪstɪk] adj [expectation, ideal] that is not based on reality; [person] who does not take account of what is likely to happen □ There's no point making unrealistic forecasts. □ You're being unrealistic.

unreasonable [ʌn'ri:znəbl] adj [demand, pressure] that is greater than what is fair or sensible □ It's unreasonable to expect too much of a seven-year-old.

unrecognizable [ʌn'rekəgnəɪzəbl] adj [place, person] that is impossible to recognize because of change or injury □ The town was unrecognizable after so many years of war.

unrecognized [ʌn'rekəgnəɪzd] adj -1. [need, effort, contribution] that is not noticed or considered important by people. -2. [person]

- who is not recognized by people who have met them before.
- unrecorded [ˌʌnrɪˈkɔːdəd] adj -1. [comment, view] that is not written down, and cannot therefore be checked. -2. [session, performance] that is not recorded on tape or video.
- unrefined [ˌʌnrɪˈfaɪnd] adj -1. [oil, sugar, flour] that has not been made purer by industrial processes. -2. [behavior, person] that is not polite.
- unrehearsed [ˌʌnrɪˈhɜːst] adj [outburst, speech] that is not planned in advance.
- unrelated [ˌʌnrɪˈleɪtəd] adj [incidents, events] that are not connected to each other, although they may be similar in some way □ This incident is unrelated to last week's explosion.
- unrelenting [ˌʌnrɪˈlentɪŋ] adj [pressure, opposition] that continues for a long time without stopping (formal use).
- unreliable [ˌʌnrɪˈlaɪəbl] adj [equipment, method] that one cannot depend on; [person] who might disappoint one, e.g. by being late or not doing what they promise □ John is so unreliable!
- unrelieved [ˌʌnrɪˈliːvd] adj [gloom, anxiety, boredom] that continues for a long time without getting any better □ three weeks of boredom, unrelieved by any form of amusement.
- unremitting [ˌʌnrɪˈmɪtɪŋ] adj [effort, struggle] that continues for a long time without getting any weaker (formal use).
- unrepeatable [ˌʌnrɪˈpiːtəbl] adj -1. [offer, performance] that will not happen again. -2. [word, comment] that is too rude or offensive to repeat.
- unrepentant [ˌʌnrɪˈpentənt] adj -1. [advocate, supporter] who strongly believes in a particular cause □ an unrepentant champion of socialism. -2. [person] who is not sorry for something they have done □ He remains unrepentant.
- unrepresentative [ˌʌnrɪˈprezəntətɪv] adj [sample, section] that is not typical of a larger group □ These views are unrepresentative of the electorate as a whole.
- unrequited [ˌʌnrɪˈkwaɪtəd] adj unrequited love love that one has for somebody who does not love one.
- unreserved [ˌʌnrɪˈzɜːvd] adj -1. [support, admiration] complete. -2. [seat, table] that is not reserved in advance.
- unresolved [ˌʌnrɪˈzɒlvd] adj [problem, issue] that has not been dealt with satisfactorily.
- unresponsive [ˌʌnrɪˈspɒnsɪv] adj to be unresponsive to sthg [to medical treatment, an appeal] not to react to sthg.
- unrest [ʌnˈrest] n a feeling of anger with the government, employers etc among a group of people, often expressed through riots and protests □ industrial/social unrest.
- unrestrained [ˌʌnrɪˈstreɪnd] adj [growth, violence] that is not controlled or limited in any way □ a period of unrestrained economic growth.
- unrestricted [ˌʌnrɪˈstrɪktəd] adj [access, power,
- testing] that is not controlled or limited by any laws, rules etc.
- unrewarding [ˌʌnrɪˈwɔːdɪŋ] adj [job, task] that is not pleasant to do because it does not give one any feeling of satisfaction □ The work is not difficult, but it's pretty unrewarding.
- unripe [ˌʌnˈraɪp] adj [fruit] that is not yet ready to eat.
- unrivalled US, unrivalled GB [ʌnˈraɪvld] adj that is better than all the others of the same type □ The museum possesses an unrivalled collection of Indian art.
- unroll [ʌnˈrəʊl] vt [poster, carpet, certificate] to pull one end of <sthg that is rolled up> so that it becomes flat.
- unruffled [ʌnˈrʌfld] adj [person] who is calm and not upset by a difficult situation □ Claire remained calm and unruffled throughout the trial.
- unruly [ʌnˈruːli] (compar unrulier, superl unruliest) adj -1. [child, class] that is badly-behaved and hard to control. -2. [hair] that does not stay in the style one wants it to stay in.
- unsafe [ʌnˈseɪf] adj -1. [building, conditions, appliance] dangerous. -2. unsafe sex sexual activities that carry a risk of spreading HIV, especially having sex without a condom. -3. to feel unsafe to feel that one is in danger.
- unsaid [ʌnˈsed] adj to leave sthg unsaid not to express something in words, usually because it would hurt somebody's feelings □ Some things are better left unsaid.
- unsal(e)able [ˌʌnˈseɪəbl] adj [product, house] that cannot be sold because nobody wants to buy it.
- unsatisfactory [ˌʌnsætəsˈfæktrɪ] adj [outcome, service, standard] that is not good enough.
- unsavory US, unsavoury GB [ʌnˈseɪvəri] adj [person, affair, revelation] that seems unpleasant and morally bad □ A couple of unsavory-looking characters were hanging around outside.
- unscathed [ʌnˈskeɪðd] adj to be unscathed not to be injured or harmed in any way after a serious accident.
- unscheduled [US ˌʌnˈskedʒuːld, GB ˌʌnˈʃedjuːld] adj [stop, visit] that is not planned in advance.
- unscientific [ˌʌnsaɪənˈtɪfɪk] adj [approach, method] that does not follow the principles of science, especially by not being objective.
- unscrew [ˌʌnˈskruː] vt -1. [cap, lid] to take <sthg> off by turning it. -2. [shelf, door] to remove <sthg> by taking out the screws that hold it in place.
- unscrupulous [ʌnˈskruːpjuːləs] adj [person] who is willing to do anything to get what they want, even if it means harming other people □ unscrupulous behavior.
- unsealed road [ˌʌnsiːld-] n AUS a road that does not have a tarmacadam surface.
- unseat [ˌʌnˈsiːt] vt -1. [horse] to throw off . -2. [leader, governor] to remove <sb> from an official position of power, usually by an election.
- unseeded [ˌʌnˈsiːdəd] adj [player] who is not

- officially considered to be a likely winner in a tennis tournament.
- unseemly [ʌn'si:mli] (compar unseemlier, superl unseemliest) adj [conduct, behavior] that is not appropriate for a particular situation because it is vulgar, impolite etc (formal use).
- unseen [ˌʌn'si:n] < adj [person, object] not seen or noticed □ an unseen observer. < adv [enter, leave] without being seen or noticed □ We were able to sneak out of the auditorium unseen.
- unselfish [ʌn'selfɪʃ] adj [person, act] showing concern for other people rather than oneself.
- unsettle [ʌn'setl] vt to make <sb> feel nervous □ The news of her return unsettled me.
- unsettled [ʌn'setld] adj -1. [phase, period] that is not calm or stable. -2. [person] who feels nervous, worried, or excited about something and is unable to concentrate □ After three years in India, she feels very unsettled back in England. -3. [weather] that is likely to change quickly □ The weather will be cloudy and unsettled. -4. [issue, debate, question] that has not been brought to a satisfactory conclusion □ questions that still remain unsettled. -5. [debt, invoice] that has not been paid. -6. [area, region] where no people live.
- unsettling [ʌn'setlɪŋ] adj [news, effect] that causes somebody to feel unsettled □ The news had a very unsettling effect on us all.
- unshak(e)able [ʌn'ʃeɪkəbl] adj [faith, belief] that cannot be changed or made weaker.
- unshaven [ˌʌn'ʃeɪvn] adj [face, chin] that is not shaved.
- unsheathe [ʌn'ʃi:ð] vt to take  from its sheath.
- unsightly [ʌn'saɪtlɪ] adj [bruise, building] that is unpleasant to look at.
- unskilled [ˌʌn'skɪld] adj [worker] who has had no formal training in a craft or trade; [job, work] that requires no special training and involves physical work.
- unsociable [ʌn'souʃəbl] adj [person] who does not enjoy spending time with other people and having fun with them.
- unsocial [ˌʌn'souʃl] adj to work unsocial hours GB to work at times of the day when most people are relaxing, e.g. late at night.
- unsold [ˌʌn'sould] adj [house, merchandise] that has not been sold after being on sale for a period of time.
- unsolicited [ˌʌnsə'lɪsətəd] adj [reply, advice] that is sent or given without being asked for □ We get an enormous amount of unsolicited mail.
- unsolved [ˌʌn'sɒlvd] adj [mystery, crime] that has not been solved.
- unsophisticated [ˌʌnsə'fɪstəkeɪtəd] adj -1. [person] whose tastes, clothes, attitudes etc are simple and natural and who knows little about modern fashionable things □ an unsophisticated look/style. -2. [device, approach] that is not very complicated or skillful.
- unsound [ˌʌn'saʊnd] adj -1. [reasoning, argument, theory] that is not based on facts or reason. -2. [building, structure] that is not in good condition and so likely to fall down. ■ to be of unsound mind to be mentally ill.
- unspeakable [ʌn'spi:kəbl] adj [crime, pain, behavior] that is too bad to describe.
- unspecified [ˌʌn'spesəfaɪd] adj [time, date, amount] that is not stated precisely □ Police had discovered unspecified quantities of heroin.
- unspoiled [ˌʌn'spɔɪld], unspoilt [ˌʌn'spɔɪlt] adj -1. [person] who is not used to too much luxury or too much attention. -2. [condition, goods] that is not damaged. -3. [beach, countryside] that is still pretty and has not been spoiled by building or development □ Thankfully, this part of the country is still relatively unspoiled.
- unspoken [ʌn'spəʊkən] adj -1. [feeling, thought] that is not expressed in words □ So many things had remained unspoken between them. -2. [understanding, agreement] that exists between two people without being discussed.
- unsporting [ˌʌn'spɔ:tɪŋ] adj [person] who behaves unfairly and selfishly, especially toward an opponent in a sporting event □ unsporting behavior.
- unstable [ʌn'steɪbl] adj -1. [person] who is likely to change suddenly from one mood to another □ I think his family background has made him pretty unstable. -2. [structure, government] that is not strong and likely to collapse □ The building has been declared unstable.
- unstated [ˌʌn'steɪtəd] adj [aim, desire] that is not expressed in words.
- unsteady [ʌn'stedɪ] (compar unsteadier, superl unsteadiest) adj -1. [person] who is unable to balance properly because they are old, ill etc □ He's rather unsteady on his feet. -2. [ladder, chair] that is not firmly in position and likely to fall over.
- unstinting [ʌn'stɪntɪŋ] adj [effort, kindness, praise] generous □ She was, as always, unstinting in her generosity.
- unstoppable [ʌn'stɒpəbl] adj [person] who is determined and impossible to stop □ Her rise to power seemed unstoppable.
- unstructured [ʌn'strʌktʃəd] adj [activity, group, system] that is not organized in a formal way □ The lessons were very unstructured.
- unstuck [ˌʌn'stʌk] adj to come unstuck [label, stamp] to start to come off because the glue does not stick; [person] to start having problems after a period when one has been successful.
- unsubstantiated [ˌʌnsəb'stænʃɪtəd] adj [story, report] that is not supported by any proof.
- unsuccessful [ˌʌnsək'sesfl] adj -1. [attempt, experiment] that fails □ They tried to reach the survivors, but were unsuccessful. -2. [candidate] who is not accepted for a job; who is not successful in an exam; [writer, actor] who has failed in a particular career □ We regret to inform you that your application has been unsuccessful.
- unsuccessfully [ˌʌnsək'sesflɪ] adv [try, attempt] without success □ We tried, unsuccessfully, to contact the girl's parents.
- unsuitable [ʌn'su:təbl] adj [outfit, time, person] that is not considered by other people to be appropriate for a particular situation, activity etc □ She was unsuitable for the job, since she couldn't speak Spanish.

unsuited [ʌn'su:tɪd] adj -1. to be unsuited to OR for sthg [to a job, position] not to be the right sort of person for sthg □ He is clearly unsuited to army life. -2. to be unsuited [two people] not to be the sort of people who will naturally get on well with each other, especially in a relationship □ They were entirely unsuited to each other from the beginning.

unsung [ˌʌn'sʌŋ] adj [deed, hero] that deserves to be praised publicly but is not.

unsure [ˌʌn'ʃʊə] adj -1. to be OR feel unsure not to have enough confidence □ I feel unsure of myself in class discussions. -2. to be unsure about OR of sthg [about a reaction, time, plan] to be uncertain about sthg □ She was unsure (about) how to proceed.

unsurpassed [US ˌʌnsər'pæst, GB ˌʌnsə'pɑ:st] adj [excellence, elegance] that is so good that nothing has ever been better than it.

unsuspecting [ˌʌnsə'spektɪŋ] adj [person] who does not realize that something is happening or going to happen □ His poor unsuspecting father came home to find a party in full swing.

unsweetened [ˌʌn'swi:tnd] adj [drink, food] that has no sugar added to it.

unswerving [ʌn'swɜ:vɪŋ] adj [devotion, dedication, loyalty] that continues for a long time without getting any weaker.

unsympathetic [ˌʌnsɪmpə'tetɪk] adj [person] who is not willing to feel sorry for somebody, or to help them with their problems □ I hate to sound unsympathetic, but what has all this to do with me?

untangle [ʌn'tæŋɡl] vt [thread, wool, cord] to make <sthg> straight by removing the knots in it.

untapped [ˌʌn'tæpt] adj [reserves, supplies, resources] that have not been used before, but are probably valuable or useful □ a hitherto untapped source of wealth.

untaxed [ˌʌn'tækst] adj untaxed income income on which tax is not paid.

untenable [ʌn'tenəbl] adj [position, theory] that cannot be defended because it is easy to criticize □ Ford's position was now untenable: he had no choice but to resign.

unthinkable [ʌn'θɪŋkəbl] adj to be unthinkable [war, defeat] to be impossible to accept or agree with □ It's unthinkable that I should give up now.

unthinkingly [ʌn'θɪŋkɪŋli] adv [act, support] without thinking about the possible consequences.

untidy [ʌn'taɪdɪ] (compar untidier, superl untidiest) adj [room, work, appearance] that is messy or not arranged in a neat way; [person] who leaves things in this state □ His clothes lay on the floor in an untidy heap.

untie [ˌʌn'taɪ] (cont untying) vt -1. [ribbon, laces] to undo a knot or knots in  etc □ Irma untied her scarf and draped it over the back of her chair. -2. [package, prisoner] to remove the rope or string tied around <sb/sthg>.

until [ʊn'tɪl] prep & conj -1. used to say that an event is happening before a particular time but not after it □ Breakfast is served from 7:30 a.m. until 10 a.m. □ Up until that time I'd never really spoken much French. □ Keep in the left-hand lane until you come to a set of traffic lights. -2. not...until used to say that something only starts happening after a particular time or after a particular event □ His parents heard nothing more until July the following year. □ It wasn't until I got to work that I remembered I had a doctor's appointment. □ Basically, there's very little we can do until we get more evidence.

untimely [ʌn'taɪmlɪ] adj -1. [end, departure] that happens sooner than one expected □ After the untimely death of his father... -2. [remark, arrival] that happens at an unsuitable moment □ Her comment was untimely.

untiring [ʌn'taɪərɪŋ] adj [person] who continues doing something without slowing down or stopping; [work, support] that continues over a long period of time without getting less or weaker □ Our warmest thanks go to Miss Davenport for her untiring efforts on our behalf.

untold [ˌʌn'təʊld] adj untold wealth/suffering very great wealth/suffering.

untouched [ˌʌn'tʌtʃt] adj to be untouched [person, place] not to be changed, affected, or damaged by something; [meal, food, drink] that has not been eaten or drunk □ a remote village, untouched by the 20th century □ The building was untouched by the explosion.

untoward [US ʌn'tɔ:rd, GB ˌʌntə'wɔ:d] adj [behavior, event] that is unexpected and causes problems □ I didn't notice anything untoward.

untrained [ˌʌn'treɪnd] adj -1. [staff, worker] who has not been trained in a particular job. -2. an untrained voice a voice that has not been formally trained. ■ to the untrained eye to somebody who is not an expert □ To the untrained eye, they look the same.

untrammelled GB [ʌn'træməld] adj that is free and is not limited or restricted by rules (formal use).

untreated [ˌʌn'tri:tɪd] adj -1. [injury, illness, person] that has not received medical treatment. -2. [sewage, waste] that has not been made safe by chemical treatment.

untried [ˌʌn'traɪd] adj [method, product, weapon] that has not yet been tried or tested.

untroubled [ˌʌn'trʌblɪd] adj [person, attitude] not worried □ She seemed strangely untroubled by the whole affair.

untrue [ʌn'tru:ɪ] adj -1. [statement, story] that is not true, often because it has been invented □ It's untrue, every single word! -2. to be untrue to sb to be unfaithful to sb.

untrustworthy [ˌʌn'trʌstwɜ:θɪ] adj [person] who cannot be trusted.

untruth [ʌn'tru:θ] n something that somebody says that is not true.

untruthful [ʌn'tru:θfl] adj -1. [person] who does not tell the truth. -2. [remark, statement, answer] that is not true.

untutored [ˌʌnˈtju:təʳd] adj (formal use) -1. [person] who has not been trained or educated. -2. to the untutored eye to the untrained eye.

unusable [ˌʌnˈju:zəbl] adj that is not in a good enough condition to be used.

unused [sense 1 ˌʌnˈju:zɪd, sense 2 ˌʌnˈju:st] adj -1. [clothes, machine, land] that has never been used, or has not been used for a long time. -2. to be unused to sthg not to be used to sthg □ I am unused to (having) so much free time.

unusual [ˌʌnˈju:zʊəl] adj [sight, occurrence] that is different from what is usual □ It's unusual for him to be on time! □ It's unusual to see so many people here.

unusually [ˌʌnˈju:zʊəli] adv more than usual □ She was unusually young for someone in her position.

unvarnished [ˌʌnˈvɑ:ˈnɪʃt] adj [truth, account, description] that has not had extra details added to it to make it more interesting or exciting.

unveil [ˌʌnˈveɪl] vt -1. [statue, painting, plaque] to remove a cover from <sthg> as part of a special public ceremony. -2. [plans, policy, product] to tell people about <sthg> for the first time □ The government has unveiled plans for a new highway.

unwaged [ˌʌnˈweɪdʒd] GB ◇ adj [person] who does not have a paid job □ Are you waged or unwaged? ◇ npl the unwaged people who are unwaged.

unwanted [ˌʌnˈwʌntəd] adj [object, child, pregnancy] that is not wanted □ It was an unwanted Christmas present.

unwarranted [ˌʌnˈwɒrəntəd] adj that one cannot accept because there is no good reason for it □ She did her best to avoid unwarranted attention. □ That was completely unwarranted!

unwavering [ˌʌnˈweɪvərɪŋ] adj [loyalty, support, commitment] that is strong and never becomes weaker.

unwelcome [ˌʌnˈwelkəm] adj that is not wanted □ I was made to feel unwelcome. □ an unwelcome situation/experience.

unwell [ˌʌnˈwel] adj to be/feel unwell to be/feel ill, usually not seriously.

unwieldy [ˌʌnˈwi:ldɪ] (compar unwieldier, superl unwieldiest) adj -1. [object, tool] that is difficult to move, carry etc because it is very big or heavy. -2. [system, organization] that is too large and complicated to work efficiently.

unwilling [ˌʌnˈwɪlɪŋ] adj [worker, helper] who does not want to do something □ He was unwilling to say anything without his lawyer present.

unwind [ˌʌnˈwaɪnd] (vt & pp unwound) ◇ vt [bandage, thread] to undo <sthg that has been wrapped up or wrapped round something else>. ◇ vi to relax gradually after a period of work, concentration, stress etc □ He likes a drink to help him unwind.

unwise [ˌʌnˈwaɪz] adj [decision, action] that is not a good idea, because it causes problems for one □ That was an unwise move to make. □ It would be unwise of you to agree.

unwitting [ˌʌnˈwɪtɪŋ] adj (formal use) -1. an un- witting victim/accomplice etc a person who does not know that they are a victim/an accomplice etc. -2. [insult, remark, action] that is not intended.

unwittingly [ˌʌnˈwɪtɪŋli] adv without knowing or understanding what one is doing □ She unwittingly participated in their scheme.

unworkable [ˌʌnˈwɜ:kəbl] adj [idea, plan, system] that is impossible to do or use.

unworldly [ˌʌnˈwɜ:ˈldli] adj [person] naive.

unworthy [ˌʌnˈwɜ:ˈði] (compar unworthier, superl unworthiest) adj to be unworthy of sthg [of honor, love, attention] not to deserve sthg.

unwound [ˌʌnˈwaʊnd] past tense & past participle of unwind.

unwrap [ˌʌnˈræp] (vt & pp unwrapped, cont unwrapping) vt [package] to open <sthg> by taking off the paper that covers it.

unwritten rule [ˌʌnrɪtɪn-] n a way of doing something that everybody follows but that is not a legal or official rule.

unyielding [ˌʌnˈjɪ:ldɪŋ] adj [person, attitude] that continues to resist pressure, opposition etc and is unlikely to change.

unzip [ˌʌnˈzɪp] (vt & pp unzipped, cont unzipping) vt [jacket, case] to open the zipper on  etc.

up [ʌp] (vt & pp upped, cont upping) ◇ adv

-1. to look/climb up to look/climb toward a higher position □ You can go right up to the top of the tower. ■ to pick/lift sthg up to pick/lift sthg from the ground, floor, table etc □ A large crane hauled the cargo up onto the deck.

-2. a house up in the mountains a house in a high place in the mountains □ It's up here. □ She's up in her bedroom.

-3. to get/jump up to get/jump into an upright or standing position from a chair, bed etc □ Sit up straight! □ Help me up, will you?

-4. to go up to Seattle to go north from one's home etc to Seattle □ They live somewhere up north.

-5. to go/run up to sb to go/run toward sb and stop □ This stranger came up to me and introduced himself.

□ I heard a car pull up outside.

-6. prices have gone up prices have become more or higher □ Inflation has shot up by 3%.

□ Can you turn up the volume?

-7. to tear/divide sthg up to tear/divide sthg into smaller parts □ The family was split up and the children taken into care.

-8. to add/collect sthg up to add/collect sthg together in one place □ I gathered up all my belongings and left.

-9. to pin/fix sthg up to pin/fix sthg on a wall, bulletin board etc in a place where it can be seen □ There are posters up all over town.

-10. to eat/drink sthg up to eat/drink sthg until it is all finished.

-11. to clean/tidy (sthg) up to make sthg clean/tidy again □ You can sweep up the kitchen.

-12. the right/wrong way up with the right/wrong side on top □ 'This Side Up.'

◇ prep -1. to go up a hill to go from a lower, place on a hill to a higher one □ I ran up the stairs.

□ The smoke went up the chimney.

-2. to walk up a street to walk along a street toward its far end □ Her office is just up the corridor from mine.

-3. to sail up a river to sail along a river in the direction that leads away from the sea.

◇ adj -1. to be/get up [person] to be/get out of bed □ Are you still up? □ The baby kept us up half the night. -2. to be up [period of time] to be finished □ My trial period is up next week. ■ time's up a phrase used to announce that the time for doing an exam, job etc is finished. -3. the road is up the road cannot be used because it is being repaired. -4. two points up winning by two points □ Sales are up 15% on last year. -5. what's up (with her)? what is wrong or the matter (with her)? (informal use) □ There's something up (with my car). -6. to be up and running [system, project] to have started and be working satisfactorily □ The new factory should be up and running within two months.

◇ n ups and downs good things and bad things that happen to one □ We all have our ups and downs.

◇ vt [prices, cost] to make <an amount> more or higher (informal use) □ We'll have to up our offer.

◆ up against prep -1. to be up against sthg/sb [resistance, problems] to have to deal with sthg/sb difficult □ We came up against some stiff opposition. -2. very close to <sthg> and touching it □ My knees were pressed up against the seat in front.

◆ up and about adj [person] well and out of bed after an illness □ I'm glad to see you're up and about again, Molly.

◆ up and down adv -1. [jump, bounce] upward and downward repeatedly. -2. [walk, pace] in one direction and back again repeatedly.

◆ up for prep to be up for sthg to have to undergo sthg soon □ The case is coming up for review next month.

◆ up to prep -1. used to give a maximum limit □ The job could take up to six weeks. □ This message applies to everyone, up to and including senior managers. -2. up to 5 o'clock until 5 o'clock □ I felt fine up to last week. -3. to be/feel up to doing sthg to be/feel well enough to do sthg □ I'm not up to going out tonight. ■ to be up to sthg to be good enough or able to do sthg □ He's very inexperienced — do you think he's up to it? ■ it's not up to much it's not very good □ My French isn't up to much. -4. to be up to sthg [person] to be doing sthg secretly, usually something bad (informal use) □ What are you up to? -5. it's up to you it's your responsibility or choice □ The decision is entirely up to you. □ It is up to Personnel to check people's references.

◆ up until prep up until Christmas until Christmas □ Don't leave it up until the last moment.

up-and-coming adj [performer, athlete] who will soon be very successful and popular.

up-and-up n -1. on the up-and-up getting better or more successful □ At last my life seems to be on the up-and-up. -2. on the up-and-up US honest (informal use).

upbeat ['ʌpbɪt] adj [person, message, forecast] that 'seems relaxed and optimistic, especially when the situation is quite difficult (informal use).

upbraid [ʌp'breɪd] vt to speak angrily to <sb> about something wrong they have done and criticize them for it (formal use).

upbringing [ʌpbrɪŋɪŋ] n the care, education, treatment etc one receives as a child, especially from one's parents □ I had a good/strict/deprived upbringing.

upcoming [ʌp'kʌmɪŋ] adj an upcoming event an event that is going to happen soon □ the upcoming elections.

update [ʌp'deɪt] vt [file, information, equipment] to change <sthg> so that it is more modern, e.g. by adding new information or parts.

upend [ʌp'end] vt to put <sthg> on its end or upside down □ The box was upended.

upfront [ʌp'frʌnt] adj to be upfront to be open and honest □ He was very upfront about how he felt.

◆ up front adv [pay, give, get] as payment in advance □ I need $20/10% up front.

upgrade [ʌp'greɪd] vt -1. [facilities, system, equipment] to improve the standard of <sthg>, e.g. by buying a more recent model of a piece of equipment □ I've upgraded my computer system. -2. [employee, job, status] to give <sb/sthg> a higher or more important position. -3. [passenger] to give <sb> a better class of seat on a plane □ On the return flight I was upgraded to business class.

upheaval [ʌp'hi:vəl] n great change that causes worry, confusion, and sometimes violence □ social/political/emotional upheaval.

upheld [ʌp'held] past tense & past participle of uphold.

uphill [ʌp'hɪl] ◇ adj -1. [path, road, slope] that rises. -2. an uphill struggle/task a struggle/task that is difficult and needs a lot of effort. ◇ adv [walk, drive] toward a higher position.

uphold [ʌp'hould] (vt & pp upheld) vt -1. [law, principle, system] to defend <sthg>. -2. LAW [verdict, decision] to confirm <sthg> officially □ The appeal court upheld the judge's decision.

upholster [ʌp'houlstə] vt [chair, sofa] to provide  with a soft filling and covering.

upholstery [ʌp'houlstəri] n -1. the materials used to upholster a sofa, chair etc. -2. the covering for the seats in a car.

upkeep [ʌpki:p] n [of a building, car, garden] the process or cost of keeping something in good condition.

upland [ʌp'lænd] adj an upland pasture/forest etc a pasture/forest etc that is on high land.

◆ uplands npl an area of high land.

uplift [ʌp'lɪft] vt to make <sb> feel more cheerful and full of hope □ I felt uplifted by his speech.

uplifting [ʌp'lɪftɪŋ] adj [experience, speech] that makes one feel happy and full of hope.

uplighter [ʌp'lɑɪtə] n a lamp that reflects light upward □ a halogen uplighter.

up-market ◇ adj [product, hotel] that is designed for or used by people who are rich □ a chic, up-market restaurant. ◇ adv: Let's go up-market and buy a better one.

upon [ə'pɒn] prep (formal use) -1. used as a more formal word for "on" □ We sat upon the grass. □ She had a foolish grin upon her face. -2. upon arrival/departure at the time of or shortly after arriving/leaving □ Payment is due upon delivery. □ Upon hearing the news, I rushed to the telephone. -3. Christmas is upon us very soon it will be Christmas. -4. mile upon mile very many miles (used for emphasis) □ The slopes were covered with row upon row of vines.

upper ['ʌpə] ◇ adj -1. [lip, part, section] that is the higher part of something that is divided into two parts □ The upper half of her body was completely paralyzed. -2. [branches, echelons] that are nearer the top of something. -3. GEOGRAPHY that is further from the sea □ the upper valley of the Nile. ◇ n the top part of a shoe that is joined to the sole.

Upper Chamber n in a law-making body that has two chambers, the smaller and less powerful one, e.g. the senate in the USA.

upper class n the upper class(es) the highest social class, usually consisting of the people who have the most money and power.

◆ upper-class adj: an upper-class accent/school.

upper-crust adj upper-class (informal use).

uppercut ['ʌpə'kʌt] n a punch with which one hits somebody's chin from below.

upper hand n to have the upper hand to be in a stronger position than other people who are against one □ He always seems to get the upper hand in an argument.

Upper House n = Upper Chamber.

upper middle class ◇ n the upper middle class the social class consisting mainly of wealthy professionals and business people. ◇ adj: an upper-middle-class suburb.

uppermost ['ʌpə'məʊst] adj -1. highest □ I couldn't reach the uppermost shelf. -2. to be uppermost in one's mind to be the thing that one is thinking about most.

uppity ['ʌpɪtɪ] adj [person] who is rude because they behave as if they are important, even though they are not (informal use).

upright ['ʌpraɪt] ◇ adj -1. [person] who is standing with a straight back; [object] that is pointing straight up and is not leaning to one side. -2. an upright chair a chair that has a straight back and no arms. -3. an upright freezer/cabinet etc a freezer/cabinet etc that is tall and narrow, not low and wide. -4. [person, citizen] honest, honorable, and responsible □ He's an upright member of the community. ◇ adv [sit, stand] Hold it upright. ◇ n [of a door, bookshelf, goal] a part of something that stands up and supports another part.

upright piano n a piano in which the strings are contained in a tall narrow box behind the keyboard.

uprising ['ʌpraɪzɪŋ] n an attempt to get rid of the people who are in power, made by a large number of people using violent methods.

uproar ['ʌprɔː] n -1. the noise made by a lot of people who are shouting because they are angry and shocked □ His speech couldn't be heard above the uproar. -2. an angry protest □ The new proposals provoked (an) uproar in the teaching profession.

uproarious [ʌp'ɔːrɪəs] adj -1. [crowd, meeting] where there is a lot of very noisy laughter. -2. [film, joke] very funny.

uproot [ʌp'ru:t] vt -1. to remove <sb> from the place where they are living □ Many people were uprooted from their homes by the war. ■ to uproot oneself to leave one's place of birth, home etc □ She uprooted herself and went to live abroad. -2. [tree, weed] to pull  out of the ground □ A number of oak trees were uprooted in the storm.

upscale ['ʌpskeɪl] adj = up-market.

upset [adj & vb ʌp'set, n 'ʌpset] (pt & pp upset, cont upsetting) ◇ adj -1. to be upset to be unhappy and disappointed about something; to be offended by something □ He was very upset when he heard the news. □ She was really upset that you hadn't asked her. -2. to have an upset stomach to have a slight illness in one's stomach.

◇ n -1. to have a stomach upset to have a slight illness in one's stomach. -2. an unexpected result, e.g. in an election or sports event □ The team's victory was a major upset.

◇ vt -1. to make <sb> upset □ I didn't want to upset her but I had to tell her the news. □ I suppose I'll have to invite him if I don't want to upset him. -2. [arrangements, routine] to make <sthg> go wrong □ John's arrival upset all my plans. -3. [boat, cup] to turn <sthg> over accidentally □ I managed to upset the goldfish bowl.

upsetting [ʌp'setɪŋ] adj [experience, news] that makes one feel upset □ I found the whole experience very upsetting.

upshot ['ʌpʃɒt] n the upshot the final result of something □ What was the upshot of it all then?

upside down [ˌʌpsaɪd-] ◇ adj that is turned around so that the top part is at the bottom □ The picture is upside down! ◇ adv [hold, hang, place] The plate landed upside down on the floor.

■ to turn sthg upside down [building, room, cupboard] to search sthg completely, leaving it in a mess □ I turned the office upside down looking for that file!

upstage [ˌʌp'steɪdʒ] vt to make people notice and admire one more than <sb> by being more interesting or attractive □ The President was upstaged by ten-year-old Katy Smith, who captivated the audience.

upstairs [ˌʌp'steəz] ◇ adj an upstairs window/room etc a window/room etc that is on a floor above the ground floor. ◇ adv on or to a higher floor □ Our neighbors upstairs are very noisy. □ He went upstairs to the bedroom. □ The toilet is upstairs. ◇ n the upstairs [of a building] the floor or floors above the ground floor.

upstanding [ˌʌp'stændɪŋ] adj [person] who is honest and responsible □ a fine upstanding member of the community.

upstart ['ʌpstɑːt] n a person who has recently risen to a position of power and who uses this power in a way that annoys other people (disapproving use) □ I'm not being spoken to like that by some little upstart!

upstate [ˌʌp'steɪt] US ◇ adj northern □ upstate Vermont. ◇ adv [live, move, work] in or to the northern part of the state □ They've moved upstate.

upstream [ˌʌp'stri:m] ◇ adj in the opposite direction from the way a river, stream etc flows □ The bridge is a few miles upstream from here. ◇ adv [move, sail, swim] We paddled upstream for a while.

upsurge [ˈʌpsɜːrɪdʒ] n -1. [of hatred, unrest, resentment] a sudden appearance of something □ The transport of live cattle has led to an upsurge of protest. -2. [in unemployment, sales, investment] a sudden rise in something □ There has been an upsurge in the number of homeless people.

upswing [ˈʌpswɪŋ] n [in economic activity, popularity] a sudden improvement or increase in something.

uptake [ˈʌpteɪk] n to be quick/slow on the uptake to be quick/slow to understand something.

uptight [ʌp'taɪt] adj [person] who is bad-tempered because they are nervous or worried (informal use).

up-to-date adj -1. [equipment, technology, methods] the most recent or newest □ We use only the most up-to-date technology. -2. [publication, report] that includes the most recent information □ Do you have a more up-to-date edition? ■ to keep up-to-date with sthg [with news, events] to make sure one has the most recent information about sthg □ I try to keep up-to-date with the latest developments.

up-to-the-minute adj [information, report] the most recent that there is □ Stay tuned for more up-to-the-minute coverage of world events.

uptown [ˌʌp'taʊn] US ◇ adj that is in the northern part of a city, especially New York City □ He lives in an uptown residential district. ◇ adv [go, live, work] in or to the northern part of a city.

upturn [ˈʌptɜːn] n [in business, economy, the market] an improvement in something after a bad period.

upturned [ʌp'tɜːnd] adj -1. [face, nose] that turns upward. -2. [car, cup, bucket] that has been turned upside down.

upward [ˈʌpwərd] ◇ adv -1. to look/point upward to look/point toward a higher position □ The smoke was drifting slowly upward into the air. -2. to drive OR force sthg upward to make sthg become greater or more □ Estimates of the cost have since been revised upward. -3. face upward with one's face looking toward the sky. -4. children aged ten and upward, children from the age of ten upward children aged ten and more. ◇ adj an upward trend/movement a trend/movement that makes something greater or more □ the upward spiral of inflation.

◆ upward of prep more than  □ There must have been upward of 150 people there.

upwardly-mobile [ˌʌpwərdliː] adj [person] who is in the process of moving up from a lower social class to a higher one.

upwards [ˈʌpwərdz] adv = upward.

◆ upwards of prep = upward of.

upwind [ˌʌp'wɪnd] adj in the opposite direction from the way the wind is blowing □ The town was a few miles upwind of the explosion.

URA (abbr of Urban Renewal Administration) n the URA a US government department responsible for rebuilding parts of cities that have been neglected.

Ural Mountains [ˌjʊərəl-] = Urals.

Urals [ˌjʊərəlz]: the Urals a mountain range in western Russia that is considered to be the border between Europe and Asia. HIGHEST POINT: 1,894 m. uranium [juˈreɪnjəm] n a radioactive metal used to make nuclear power and nuclear weapons. SYMBOL: U.

Uranus [ˌjʊərənəs] the planet in the solar system that is seventh-furthest from the Sun.

urban [ˈɜːrbən] adj [deprivation, development] that is connected with a town or city □ urban regeneration.

NOTE: Compare rural.

urbane [ɜːˈbeɪn] adj [person] who behaves with good manners and confidence in social situations.

urbanize, -ise [ˈɜːrbənaɪz] vt to build homes, businesses, industries etc on <land in the countryside>.

urban renewal n the process of demolishing old buildings in areas of a town or city and building new houses, businesses etc there.

urchin [ˈɜːtʃən] n a young child who has no home, family, or money and lives in the streets of a city (old-fashioned use).

Urdu [ˈʊərduː] n a language spoken in Pakistan and parts of India.

urge [ɜːrɪdʒ] ◇ n a strong sudden desire □ I suddenly had an urge to smoke a cigarette. ◇ vt -1. to urge sb to do sthg to encourage sb strongly to do sthg □ I urged him to accept the offer. -2. [caution, remedy] to recommend <sthg> strongly □ Community leaders urged restraint.

urgency [ˈɜːrɪdʒənsɪ] n: see urgent □ This is a matter of some urgency.

urgent [ˈɜːrɪdʒənt] adj [request, letter, case] that needs to be dealt with quickly or immediately; [appeal, call, voice] that shows that something needs to be dealt with in this way □ This is urgent, I have to see her.

urgently [ˈɜːrɪdʒəntli] adv as soon as possible or immediately, as a result of an urgent situation □ I must see him urgently. □ Medical assistance is urgently required.

urinal [US ˈjʊərɪnəl, GB juːˈraɪnəl] n a bowl or channel that is fitted to a wall in a public toilet for men and boys to urinate in; a public toilet containing these.

urinary [US 'juərəneri, GB -əri] adj [tract, infection] that is connected with the parts of the body that urine passes through.

urinate ['juərəneɪt] vi to get rid of urine from one's body.

urine ['juərən] n the yellow or clear liquid that people and animals produce in their bodies, especially after drinking, and that they get rid of.

urn [ɜ:'n] n -1. a decorative container similar to a vase used to hold the ashes of a dead person. -2. a large metal container with a tap near the bottom for making and serving tea or coffee.

Uruguay ['juərəgwai] a country in south-eastern South America, on the Atlantic coast between Brazil and Argentina. SIZE: 177,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 3,200,000 (Uruguayans). CAPITAL: Montevideo. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: Uruguayan peso.

us [stressed ʌs, unstressed əs] pron used as the object of a verb, and after prepositions, to refer to a group of people that includes oneself □ Could you help us with our baggage? □ Our competitors might just beat us to it. □ He gave us directions to get to the airport. □ Our son has gone on vacation without us. □ All of us have experienced this at some time or other. ■ it's us used to identify a group of people that includes oneself □ Don't get up, it's only us.

US abbr of United States □ a US citizen.

USA ◇ abbr of United States of America. ◇ n abbr of United States Army.

usable ['ju:zəbl] adj that is in good enough condition to be used □ Is this paint still usable? □ The equipment is no longer usable.

USAF n abbr of United States Air Force.

usage ['ju:sɪdʒ] n -1. the way in which words are used in a particular language □ modern English usage □ current usage in Canadian French. -2. a way in which a word is used; the meaning that a word has □ a common usage □ This word has several usages. -3. [of equipment, energy, resource] the act of using something □ It's still in working order despite constant usage.

USCG n abbr of United States Coast Guard.

USDA (abbr of United States Department of Agriculture) n the USDA the US government department responsible for agriculture.

USDAW ['ʌzdɔ:] (abbr of Union of Shop, Distributive, and Allied Workers) n a British labor union for shop, transport, and marketing workers.

USDI n abbr of United States Department of the Interior.

use [n & aux vb ju:s, vt ju:z] ◇ n -1. the use of sthg [of a tool, material, method] the act of using sthg □ Students are allowed the use of a dictionary in the exam. □ The large-scale use of pesticides has come under increasing attack. □ The shelving is designed for use in the office or home environment. □ The carpet is ideal for heavy domestic use. ■ to be in use [device, machine, technique] to be being used □ All our telephone lines are in use at the moment. ■ to come into use to start being used □ This particular drug came into use during the early twenties. ■ to make use of sthg [machine, skill, facility] to use sthg □ Local residents were encouraged to make use of the college's swimming pool. ■ to make good use of sthg to get the most benefit out of sthg that one can □ I feel sure we could make better use of the space we have available. ■ to put sthg to good use to use sthg for a suitable purpose □ Thank you so much for the camera, which I'll put to good use on my trip to Rome. -2. to have the use of sthg [of a part of the body, car, house] to have the ability or right to use sthg □ She has the use of a company car. □ When he had the stroke last year he lost the use of his right hand. -3. to have a use to be able to be used for a particular purpose □ This little gadget has many different uses. □ Don't throw it away — I'm sure I'll find a use for it someday. ■ to be of use to be useful □ I hope that the book will be of some use to you. □ Can I be of any use to you? ■ to be no use to be useless □ Here, take it, it's no use to me. ■ it's no use, what's the use phrases used to say that something is not having any effect and so is not worth doing □ It's no use shouting, there's no one around. □ It's no use, the engine won't start. □ What's the use of talking to him? He never listens.

◇ vt -1. [tool, method, product] to take <sthg that one needs> for a particular task or purpose and carry out that task or purpose with it □ If you've never used an electric drill before, here are a few tips on safety. □ Is anyone using this chair? □ How many freelance staff did you use on the project? □ We use only the finest ingredients in our baked goods. -2. [word, expression] to say or write <sthg> □ That's not the term I would have used. -3. [person] to take what one wants or needs from <sb> without showing any care for their feelings or situation (disapproving use) □ Anyone could see he was only using her. □ I felt used.

◇ aux vb used to be/do etc a phrase used to show that something happened regularly or was always true □ I used to pass her every morning on the way to work. □ He didn't use to be that fat. □ We used to live in Seattle. □ There used to be a tree right here.

◆ use up vt sep to use sthg up to use sthg gradually until there is none of it left; to use what is left of sthg so that it is not wasted □ Why did I order so many logs? We'll never use them all up! □ There was lots of fabric left over, so I made cushion covers to use it up.

used¹ [ju:zd] adj -1. a used tissue/handkerchief etc a tissue/handkerchief etc that is dirty because somebody else has already used it □ He went around emptying the used ashtrays. -2. a used car a car that has already had at least one owner □ a used-car lot.

used² [ju:st] adj to be used to sthg to have experienced sthg before several times so that it seems normal and does not make one feel strange, surprised etc □ When you're used to the big city, life in a small town can be really dull. □ He's not used to young children. □ Don't worry, you'll soon get used to the heat.

useful ['ju:sfʌl] adj -1. [tool, book, advice] that helps one to do or get something that one needs or wants □ This little guidebook is full of useful information. □ Computer skills are always useful to have. ■ to come in useful to be useful □ Your expertise will certainly come in useful. -2. [person] who does things that help other people □ She's a useful contact. □ He's a useful person to have around in an emergency.

useless ['ju:sləs] adj -1. [machine, tool, information] that has no purpose or does not do its job properly □ This gadget's completely useless without the instruction manual. -2. [attempt, effort] that cannot achieve anything □ It's useless trying to make him see sense. -3. [person, organization] that is not able to do anything well (informal use) □ Oh, they're useless, they really are!

user ['ju:zə] n a person who uses a particular product or service □ road/drug users.

user-friendly adj [computer, machine] that is easy to use and understand for a person who is not an expert □ They have a very user-friendly approach.

USES (abbr of United States Employment Service) n the USES the US government department responsible for finding jobs for people through local public employment offices.

usher ['ʌʃə] ◇ n a person who shows people where to sit, e.g. at a wedding or a concert. ◇ vt to guide <sb> in a particular direction or to a particular place □ He ushered me into the room/down the aisle/to my seat.

usherette [ˌʌʃə'ret] n a woman whose job is to show people to their seats in a cinema or theater.

USIA (abbr of United States Information Agency) n the USIA the US government department responsible for giving people information about the USA, especially in other countries.

USN n abbr of United States Navy.

USPHS n abbr of United States Public Health Service.

USPO n abbr of United States Post Office.

USPS n abbr of United States Postal Service.

USS (abbr of United States Ship) a title written before the name of a ship in the US navy.

USSR (abbr of Union of Soviet Socialist Republics): the USSR a former Communist state in Eastern Europe and Central and Northern Asia. It was the largest country in the world until it broke up in 1991, when many of its 15 republics declared their independence.

usu. abbr of usually.

usual ['ju:ʒʊəl] adj that happens, is done etc most often □ He ordered his usual drink. □ I had to put up with the usual delays. ■ as usual as happens most often □ I got up at eight o'clock as usual. □ He was late as usual!

usually ['ju:ʒʊəli] adv most often □ I usually get home at about six. □ What do you usually do on weekends? ■ more than usually [sad, busy, careful] to a greater degree than is usual □ He was more than usually reserved this time.

usurp [US ju:'sɜ:rp, GB ju:'zɜ:p] vt [power, position, role] to take <sthg> illegally or by force (formal use).

usury ['ju:ʒʊəri] n the practice of lending money at very high interest rates (formal use).

UT abbr of Utah.

Utah ['ju:tɑ:] a state in the central western USA. The majority of the population are Mormons. ABBREVIATION: UT. SIZE: 220,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,722,850 (Utahans). CAPITAL: Salt Lake City.

ute [ju:t] n AUS a small truck with an open back.

Ute n a member of a Native American people living in the western and southwestern USA; the language of this people.

utensil [ju:'tensl] n an object, tool, or container with a particular practical use in the home, especially in the kitchen □ kitchen/cooking utensils.

uterus ['ju:tərəs] (pl uteri [-raɪ] OR uteruses) n = womb (technical use).

utilitarian [ju:'tɪlə'teəriən] adj [furniture, building] that is designed to be useful or practical rather than decorative or beautiful.

utility [ju:'tɪlətɪ] (pl utilities) n -1. the degree of usefulness of something, e.g. a tool or machine. -2. a basic public service, e.g. the supply of electricity, water, or transportation. -3. COMPUTING a piece of computer software that does routine tasks, such as copying or finding lost files.

utility room n a small room in a house used for storage and for large household appliances, e.g. a freezer or washing machine.

utilize, -ise ['ju:təlaɪz] vt [resources, time, opportunity] to use <sthg>, usually in an effective way (formal use).

utmost ['ʌtməʊst] ◇ adj the utmost importance/seriousness etc very great importance/seriousness etc. ◇ n -1. the most that can possibly be done □ We did/tried our utmost to prevent it from happening. -2. the greatest possible degree □ It's the utmost in comfort/luxury/advanced technology. □ She enjoyed herself to the utmost.

utopia [ju:'təʊpjə] n an imaginary perfect world or society.

utter ['ʌtə] ◇ adj utter madness/amazement etc total madness/amazement etc (used for emphasis) □ To my utter amazement, he agreed. ◇ vt to produce  etc with one's voice (formal use) □ He didn't utter a single word all the way home.

utterly ['ʌtə'li] adv utterly mad/amazed etc completely mad/amazed etc (used for emphasis) □ What an utterly ridiculous thing to say!

U-turn n -1. AUTO a turn that one makes in a car, truck etc in order to drive in the direction one has just come from □ 'No U-turns.' -2. POLITICS a complete change of policy (disapproving use).

UV n abbr of ultraviolet.

UV-A, UVA n the type of ultraviolet radiation that causes people's skin to wrinkle and age.

UV-B, UVB n the type of ultraviolet radiation that causes people's skin to burn.

V

v¹ [vi:] (pl v's OR vs), V [vi:] (pl V's OR Vs) n the twenty-second letter of the English alphabet.

v² -1. abbr of verse. -2. (abbr of vide) an expression written in a book or article to refer the reader to some other information. -3. abbr of versus. -4. abbr of volt.

VA abbr of Virginia.

vacancy ['veikənsɪ] (pl vacancies) n -1. a job or position that has not been filled □ A vacancy has arisen for a bright young graduate in our busy sales department. -2. [at a hotel, guesthouse] a room that is not being used. ■ 'Vacancies' a sign that is placed outside a hotel, guesthouse etc to show that there are rooms available □ 'No vacancies.'

vacant ['veikənt] adj -1. [room, space, toilet] that is not being used □ Is this seat vacant? -2. [job, position] that has not been filled □ There is a job vacant for a carpenter. -3. [look, gaze] that shows no sign of interest or thought □ He stared at the television with a vacant expression on his face.

vacant lot n a piece of land, usually in a city, where there are no buildings and where buildings can be built.

vacantly ['veikəntli] adv [look, gaze, stare] see vacant □ John sat gazing vacantly at them.

vacate [US 'veiket, GB və'keit] vt -1. [job, post, position] to leave <sth> (formal use). -2. [room, space, premises] to stop using <sth> and leave it empty □ We've been asked to vacate the apartment by next week.

vacation [US ver'keiʃn, GB və-] n -1. US a time when one can rest and enjoy oneself away from home; a time when one does not have to go to work or school □ They went to Greece (on) vacation. -2. EDUCATION a period between terms when universities are officially closed □ I'm hoping to get a part-time job during the vacation.

vacationer [US ver'keiʃnər, GB və'keiʃənə] n US a person who is on vacation.

vacation pay n US pay that one receives from one's employer when one is on vacation.

vacation resort n US a place where people go on vacation.

vaccinate ['væksəneɪt] vt to give a vaccine to  □ Have you been vaccinated against typhoid fever?

vaccination [ˌvæksə'neɪʃn] n -1. a dose of vaccine □ Have you had your vaccination? -2. [of a person, animal] see vaccinate □ We strongly recommend vaccination against polio.

vaccine [US væk'sim, GB 'væksin] n a substance used to protect people against a disease by giving them a mild form of the disease.

vacillate ['væsəleɪt] vi -1. to keep changing from one feeling to another □ Vanya vacillated between euphoria and depression. -2. to be unable to decide □ She vacillated for a long time before making up her mind.

vacuum ['vækjuəm] ◇ n -1. PHYSICS a space that contains no air or other gas. -2. [in a situation] a situation in which no one is in control □ His resignation created a vacuum at the top of the organization. □ a political vacuum. -3. = vacuum cleaner. -4. the act of cleaning using a vacuum cleaner □ Give the room a quick vacuum. ◇ vt [carpet, room, car] to clean <sth> using a vacuum cleaner.

vacuum bottle n US a container with an inside and an outside wall and a vacuum between them, used to keep liquids hot or cold.

vacuum cleaner n an electrical appliance that cleans carpets and upholstery by sucking in dust and dirt.

vacuum flask n = vacuum bottle.

vacuum-packed adj [food] that is wrapped in plastic from which most of the air has been removed in order to keep the contents fresh.

vacuum pump n a pump used to remove air or gas from a container, bottle etc.

vagabond ['vægəbɒnd] n a person who has no fixed job or home and travels from place to place (literary use).

vagaries ['veɪgərɪz] npl [of human nature, politics] unexpected changes or events that one cannot control.

vagina [və'dʒaɪnə] n the passage that connects the outer sex organs of a woman or female animal to the womb.

vaginal [US 'vædʒənl, GB və'dʒaɪnl] adj [examination, infection, discharge] see vagina.

vagrancy ['veɪgrənsɪ] n the state of being a vagrant.

vagrant ['veɪgrənt] n somebody who has no fixed job or home and has to beg or steal to live.

vague [veɪg] adj -1. [reference, description, memory] that is not exact or detailed □ We were given rather vague directions. □ vague promises of promotion. -2. [feeling, sense] that is not clearly or strongly felt □ His words filled me with a vague sense of unease. -3. [person] who avoids telling other people about the details of something □ She was deliberately vague about the cost. -4. [person] who does not think or express themselves clearly □ He's terribly vague — I find it very hard to follow him sometimes. -5. [shape, outline, form] that cannot be seen clearly.

vaguely ['veɪglɪ] adv -1. [describe, indicate] not clearly □ I vaguely remember coming here as a boy. -2. to be vaguely amused/irritated etc to be slightly amused/irritated etc □ That man looks vaguely familiar.

vain [veɪn] adj -1. [person] who is too proud of their own appearance or abilities □ She's too vain to wear her glasses. -2. a vain attempt/effort etc an attempt/effort etc that is not successful □ He waited in the vain hope that she would change her mind and come back.

◆ in vain adv [try, hope] without success □ I tried to explain, but (all) in vain.

vainly ['veɪnlɪ] adv [try, hope] without success.

valance ['væləns] n -1. a decorative piece of cloth that hangs from the bed frame to the floor. -2. US a piece of wood or cloth that is fixed above a window to hide the curtain rail.

vale [veɪl] n a valley (literary use).

valedictorian [ˌvælədɪk'tɔːrɪən] n US a student who finishes at the top of their high school class.

valedictory [ˌvælə'dɪktəri] adj [speech, letter, message] that says goodbye (formal use).

valentine (card) ['væləntaɪn-] n a greeting card sent to arrive on Valentine's Day.

Valentine's Day n the fourteenth of February each year, when people traditionally send greeting cards to someone they are in love with.

♥ VALENTINE'S DAY

This saint's day, celebrated on February 14 each year in the USA, Britain, and Australia, has become a special day for people who are in love. Traditionally, you send a special greeting card to the person that you are in love with, usually without signing your name. You can also send gifts such as flowers. Restaurants and stores are often decorated for the day with red hearts and ribbons, and many newspapers have special pages of personal love messages.

valet [US væ'leɪ, GB 'vælit, 'væleɪ] n a man's personal male servant.

valet parking n 'Valet parking' a sign that shows that a hotel, nightclub etc will park guests' cars for them as a service.

valet service n the service of cleaning, ironing, and mending clothes that is offered in hotels.

valiant ['væliənt] adj [effort, soldier] very brave and determined.

valid ['væləd] adj -1. [excuse, argument, decision] that is acceptable because it is based on truth or a good reason □ He made some very valid criticisms. -2. [ticket, passport, license] that can be used legally for a particular period or under particular conditions □ This voucher is valid for a whole year.

validate ['vælədeɪt] vt [argument, claim] to prove that <sthg> is valid; [ticket, agreement] to make <sthg> valid.

validity [və'lɪdətɪ] n: see valid □ I question the validity of these arguments.

ValiumTM ['væliəm] n a drug that doctors give to people to make them feel calm.

valley ['væli] (pl valleys) n a long narrow area of land between hills or mountains, often with a river flowing through it.

valor US, valour GB ['væləʃ] n great bravery, especially in war (literary use).

valuable ['væljəbl] adj -1. [advice, information, help] very useful □ My thanks also to Dr. Tawn for her valuable comments on the text. -2. [necklace, painting, camera] that is worth a lot of money.

◆ valuables npl things that one owns and are valuable, e.g. jewelry.

valuation [ˌvælju'eɪʃn] n [of jewelry, a house, painting] a judgment of how much money something is worth □ They put far too low a valuation on the painting.

value ['væljuː] ◇ n -1. [of a piece of advice, information, a friendship] the importance or usefulness of something □ parents who recognize the value of a good education. ■ to place a high value on sthg [on loyalty, education, honesty] to consider sthg very important. -2. [of a painting, house, currency] the amount of money something is worth □ New cars lose their value very quickly. □ jewelry of great value. ■ to be a good value US, to be good value OR value for money GB [meal, ticket, vacation] to be worth the money it costs □ Bus passes are a better value. -3. phrase to take sthg at face value to believe sthg without thinking that there may be another meaning □ Unfortunately, I took what he said at face value.

◇ vt -1. [house, painting, jewelry] to decide the value of <sthg> □ The property was valued at over $600,000. -2. [friendship, support, opinion] to consider <sthg> to be very important □ I would value your advice on the matter.

◆ values npl the beliefs and ideas that a particular person or group considers important □ family/moral/political values.

value-added tax [-ædəd-] n → VAT.

valued ['vælju:d] adj [friend, employee, custom] that one considers to be very important and wants to keep.

value judgment n a judgment based on a person's opinion rather than on the real facts about something.

valuer ['væljuə] n a person whose job is to decide how much money things such as paintings and antiques are worth.

valve [vælv] n a device that opens and closes to control the movement of a liquid or gas through a tube or pipe.

vamp [væmp] n a sexually attractive woman who uses her beauty to get things from men (informal and disapproving use).

vampire ['væmpaɪə] n a bad spirit that is supposed to live in a human body and come out of its grave at night to drink the blood of living people.

van [væn] n -1. AUTO a vehicle larger than a car and smaller than a truck that is used for carrying goods and people □ a delivery/police/baker's van. -2. GB RAIL a covered train carriage used for carrying goods □ a luggage/mail van.

Vancouver [væn'ku:və] -1. a city and major port in British Columbia, Canada. POPULATION: 471,844. -2. an island in the Pacific Ocean off the southwestern coast of British Columbia, Canada. SIZE: 32,137 sq kms. POPULATION: 461,573. MAIN CITY: Victoria.

V and A (abbr of Victoria and Albert Museum): the V and A a large museum in London that specializes in exhibitions of jewelry, textiles, furniture etc.

vandal ['vændl] n a person who damages public and private property deliberately.

vandalism ['vændəlɪzəm] n the damage done to public and private property by vandals □ an act of vandalism.

vandalize, -ise ['vændəlaɪz] vt [phone booth, bus stop, car] to damage <sthg that belongs to somebody else> deliberately.

Van Dyck [væn'daɪk], Sir Anthony (1599–1641) a Flemish artist, well known for his portraits of the English royal family.

Van Gogh [US væn'gou, GB -'gɒf], Vincent (1853–1890) a Dutch artist, well known for the bright colors of his landscapes and still lifes.

vanguard ['væŋɡə:d] n the front part of an army or group of ships going into battle. ■ to be in the vanguard of sthg [of a movement, profession, area of research] to be in the most advanced part of sthg.

vanilla [və'nɪlə] n a substance made from the beans of a kind of plant and used in cooking to give food a sweet flavor □ vanilla ice cream.

vanish ['væniʃ] vi -1. [object, person] to disappear suddenly □ The car vanished around a bend. □ My bag had vanished. -2. [species, wildlife] to no longer exist □ a way of life that has vanished for ever.

vanishing point ['væniʃɪŋ] n the point at which parallel lines that stretch into the distance appear to meet.

Vanitory unitTM [US 'vænətɔ:ri-, GB -təri-] n = vanity unit.

vanity ['vænəti] n [of a person] the quality of being vain □ The advertisement appeals to people's vanity.

vanity bag, vanity case n a small bag used by a woman for carrying make-up, soap etc.

vanity unit n a piece of furniture in a bathroom or bedroom consisting of a sink surrounded by a tiled or plastic surface, usually with a cupboard underneath.

vanquish ['væŋkwɪʃ] vt [enemy, fear, hope] to defeat <sb/sthg> (literary use).

vantagepoint [US 'væntɪdʒpɔɪnt, GB 'vɑ:n-] n -1. a good place from which to see something. -2. a point of view.

Vanuatu [vænu'ɑ:tʊ:] a country in Melanesia, in the southwestern Pacific Ocean, consisting of 80 islands. SIZE: 14,760 sq kms. POPULATION: 200,000 (*Vanuatuan*s). CAPITAL: Port Vila. LANGUAGE: Bislama, English, French. CURRENCY: vatu.

vapor US, vapour GB ['veɪpə] n a mass of very small drops of liquid in the air, often produced by sudden changes in temperature □ water vapor □ gas vapor.

vapor trail n the white line that a jet plane, missile etc leaves in the sky.

vapour n GB = vapor.

variable ['væəriəbl] ◇ adj -1. [weather, mood] that changes often, but not in a regular way. -2. [quality, performance] that is sometimes good and sometimes bad. ◇ n -1. something that can change in quantity or size in different situations □ variables such as the cost of labor and materials. -2. MATH a sign or group of signs that can have any of a set of possible values.

variance ['væəriəns] n to be at variance with sthg to be different than sthg (formal use) □ Her version of events is at variance with the police account.

variant ['væəriənt] ◇ adj [form, spelling] that is different than what is normal, but in a way that is acceptable. ◇ n a slightly different form of a word, pronunciation etc that is also acceptable.

variation [væəri'eɪʃn] n -1. a change in a level or quantity □ The results showed no variation. □ wide regional variations in income □ We must allow for variations in temperature. -2. a slightly different version of something □ jazz variations □ All her novels are variations on the same basic theme.

varicose veins [væ'ɹəkɔ:s-] npl a painful condition in which the veins in one's leg become swollen.

varied ['væəriəd] adj [life, career] that includes many different things, activities, people etc □ This year's varied program includes a number of modern works.

variety [və'raɪəti] (pl varieties) n -1. [in somebody's job, life] the quality of having interesting differences in type or quality □ I want a job with a lot of variety. -2. [of people, things] a number of different things of the same general type □ a wide variety of music/colors. -3. [of plant, animal] a type of plant, animal, food etc □ I got the sugar-free variety. -4. GB THEATER a kind of entertainment made up of short performances by different people, including singing, dancing, telling jokes etc □ a variety show.

various ['væəriəs] adj [people, possibilities, reasons] of several different types □ There are various options available to us.

varnish ['vɑ:niʃ] ◇ n a clear liquid painted on a surface such as wood to make it shiny and hard. ◇ vt [wood, painting] to paint <sthg> with varnish.

varnished ['vɑ:niʃt] adj [wood, table] that has been painted with varnish.

vary ['veəri] (pt & pp varied) ◇ vt [route, method, diet] to change <sthg> often □ I like to vary my routine as much as possible. ◇ vi [price, number, opinion] to be different at different times, places, or situations □ Spanish resorts vary in popularity. □ His moods vary with the weather.

varying ['væəriɪŋ] adj varying degrees/amounts etc degrees/amounts etc that vary □ The organization set up similar projects elsewhere with varying degrees of success.

- vascular ['væskjələ] adj [system, disease] that is connected with the tubes that carry liquids around one's body.
- vase [US veɪz, GB vɑ:z] n a tall narrow pot, usually made of pottery or glass, that is used for holding cut flowers.
- vasectomy [və'sektəmi] (pl vasectomies) n a medical operation in which the tube that carries sperm to a man's penis is cut, in order to make him unable to make a woman pregnant.
- VaselineTM ['væsəli:n] n a soft, transparent, greasy jelly made from petroleum, used especially to protect one's skin.
- vast [US væst, GB vɑ:st] adj [expanse, ocean, crowd] very large; [difference, expense] very great in amount □ People wrote to us in vast numbers. □ the vast majority of viewers.
- vastly [US 'væstli, GB 'vɑ:st-] adv vastly different/superior very different/very much superior.
- vat [væt] n a very large container used to hold liquids such as dye, wine, or whiskey when they are being made.
- VAT [væt, ,vi:ɪ'ti:] (abbr of value-added tax) n a tax that is added to the price of goods or services □ $548.75 inc. VAT.
- Vatican ['vætɪkən] ◇ the Vatican the palace in Vatican City that is the official home of the Pope. ◇ n the Vatican the group of people who control the Roman Catholic Church.
- Vatican City an independent state within the city of Rome, Italy. It is the headquarters of the Catholic Church. SIZE: 0.44 sq kms. POPULATION: 700. LANGUAGE: Italian, Latin. CURRENCY: Italian lira.
- vaudeville ['vɔ:dəvɪl] n a type of entertainment popular between 1890 and 1930, consisting of singing, dancing, acrobatics, and comedy □ a vaudeville theater.
- Vaughan Williams [ˌvɔ:ˈnɪlɪjəmz], Ralph (1872–1958) a British composer whose music was influenced by English folk music.
- vault [vɔ:lt] ◇ vt [fence, wall] to jump over <sthg> using one's hands or a long stick to push the body forward. ◇ vi: Did you see the way she vaulted over that wall? ◇ n -1. [in a bank] a room with thick walls and a strong door used to keep money, jewels etc safe □ a bank vault. -2. [in a church] a room underground where dead people are buried. -3. [of a building] a roof or ceiling made of several arches joined together at the top. -4. [over a wall, fence] the act of vaulting something.
- vaulted ['vɔ:ltəd] adj [ceiling, roof] that is in the form of a vault; [room, passage] that has a curved roof.
- vaulting horse ['vɔ:ltɪŋ] n a piece of exercise equipment with four legs and a padded top that people jump over, pushing themselves forward with their hands.
- VC n -1. abbr of vice-chairman. -2. abbr of Victoria Cross.
- VCR (abbr of video cassette recorder) n a piece of equipment that can play video tapes or record television programs.
- VD (abbr of venereal disease) n any disease that is caught by having sex with an infected person.
- VDU (abbr of visual display unit) n the part of a computer that has a screen on which information is shown.
- veal [vi:l] n the meat of a young cow □ a veal escalope.
- veep [vi:p] n US = vice-president (informal use).
- veer [viə] vi [car, wind, conversation] to change direction suddenly and unexpectedly □ The truck had veered off the road.
- vegan ['vi:gən] ◇ adj [diet] that does not include meat, fish, eggs, milk, cheese, or any food produced by animals. ◇ n somebody who has a vegan diet.
- vegetable ['vedʒtəbl] ◇ n a plant, e.g. spinach or cabbage, that can be cooked and eaten □ Carrots are my favorite vegetable. □ vegetable soup. ◇ adj [matter, protein] that comes from or is made up of plant material.
- vegetable garden n the part of a garden where people grow vegetables for their own use.
- vegetable knife n a small knife with a sharp pointed blade used for cutting vegetables.
- vegetable marrow n a large, long, green vegetable with thin white stripes along its skin and white flesh.
- vegetable oil n a kind of cooking oil made from plants, e.g. sunflowers or corn.
- vegetarian [ˌvedʒə'teəriən] ◇ adj [diet, restaurant, cookbook] that is designed for people who do not eat meat or fish, but who do eat eggs, milk products etc. ◇ n: I'm a vegetarian.
- vegetarianism [ˌvedʒə'teəriənɪzəm] n the practice of being a vegetarian.
- vegetate ['vedʒətet] vi to spend time doing boring and dull things so that one's mind is not active □ As a housewife, she felt she was just vegetating.
- vegetation [ˌvedʒə'teɪʃn] n plant life, especially in a particular place □ an area of dense vegetation.
- vehement ['vi:əmənt] adj [denial, attack, gesture] strong □ a vehement defense of government policy.
- vehemently ['vi:əməntli] adv [deny, attack, refuse] see vehement.
- vehicle ['vi:əkl] n -1. something that is used to carry people or goods, e.g. a car, truck, or bicycle. -2. a vehicle for sthg [for information, an idea] something that is used to express sthg else □ The show is an excellent vehicle for new talent.
- vehicular [vɪ'hɪkjələ] adj that is connected with vehicles (formal use) □ vehicular traffic/access.
- veil [veɪl] n -1. a piece of thin cloth or net that a woman wears to cover her face or head, e.g. at a wedding or for religious reasons. -2. a veil of mist/smoke etc a thin layer of mist/smoke etc that one can only partly see through. -3. a veil of secrecy/silence etc secrecy/silence etc that hides the truth about a situation □ the veil of mystery that surrounds the Dark Ages.

veiled [veɪld] adj [threat, compliment, reference] that is not expressed clearly and directly □ She referred to her illness in veiled terms only.

vein [veɪn] n -1. ANATOMY any of the tubes that carry blood to the heart from other parts of the body. -2. [on a leaf] any of the thin lines on a leaf or an insect's wing. -3. [in a rock] a thin layer of a rock or mineral, e.g. coal or gold, in a rock □ a silver vein. -4. in a serious/sarcastic etc vein in a serious/sarcastic etc style □ He also produced novels in a much lighter vein. □ The program continued in much the same vein.

Velázquez [US və'lɑːskeɪs, GB vɪ'læskwɪz] (1599–1660) a Spanish artist who painted several famous portraits of the Spanish royal family.

VelcroTM ['velkrou] n a fastener for clothes that is made up of very small hooks on one surface that attach themselves to very small loops on another surface □ a Velcro strip.

vellum ['veləm] n a material made from the skins of young goats, cows etc, that is used to make book covers and was used in the past for writing on.

velocity [və'lɒsətɪ] (pl velocities) n [of sound, light, a bullet] PHYSICS the speed at which something moves □ a high-velocity rifle/bullet.

velour [və'lʊə] n a cloth made of silk or cotton with a soft surface similar to velvet, often used for covering chairs and sofas.

velvet ['velvət] n a thick cloth made from silk or nylon that is soft and furry on one side and is used for clothing, curtains etc □ a velvet jacket □ velvet curtains.

vend [vend] vt to sell <sthg> (formal use).

vendetta [ven'detə] n -1. an angry quarrel between two people or groups over a long period, often involving murder. -2. a series of attacks made by one person against another person or organization □ Jackson has waged a personal vendetta against the company for years.

vending machine ['vendɪŋ] n a machine in a public place that gives out candy, drinks, cigarettes etc when money is put into it and a button is pressed.

vendor ['vendɔː] n -1. a person who sells things in the street □ a street vendor. -2. LAW a person who is selling a house, land etc. NOTE: Compare purchaser.

veneer [və'niə] n -1. a thin layer of plastic or good-quality wood used to cover cheaper material to improve the appearance of wood, furniture etc. -2. [of respectability, calm] an appearance that hides the real nature of a person or place.

venerable ['venərəbl] adj a venerable family/institution etc a family/institution etc that deserves respect because it is old or important (formal use).

venerate ['venəreɪt] vt [person, place, object] to treat <sb/sthg> with great respect (formal use) □ Finland's most venerated composer.

venereal disease [və'niəriəl-] n = VD (formal use).

Venetian [və'niːfɪn] n & adj: see Venice.

venetian blind n a covering for a window made up of many horizontal strips of plastic, metal, or wood that can be moved to let in more or less light.

Venezuela [ˌvenəz'veɪlə] a country in northern South America, on the Caribbean Sea. SIZE: 912,050 sq kms. POPULATION: 20,700,000 (Venezuelans). CAPITAL: Caracas. LANGUAGE: Spanish. CURRENCY: bolivar.

vengeance ['vendʒəns] n -1. violent punishment given in return for harm done to oneself, one's family etc. -2. phrase with a vengeance with greater force than normal or than before □ I thought my cold was gone, but it came back with a vengeance.

vengeful ['vendʒfʊl] adj [person] who wants revenge on somebody (literary use).

Venice ['venəs] n a city and port in north-eastern Italy, famous for its canals. POPULATION: 308,717.

venison ['venɪzən] n the flesh from a deer, eaten as food □ venison pie.

venom ['venəm] n -1. the poison that a snake, scorpion etc puts into a person or animal when it bites or stings them. -2. great anger or hatred □ He spoke with real venom.

venomous ['venəməs] adj -1. [snake, insect] that has a poisonous bite or sting. -2. [person, tone, look] that is full of anger or hatred.

vent [vent] ◇ n -1. [of a boiler, fan] an opening through which air can enter and smoke, smells, and gases can escape □ an air vent. -2. [in a jacket, skirt] a long narrow opening at the side or back of a piece of clothing. -3. phrase to give vent to sthg [to one's anger, frustration] to express sthg □ I gave vent to my fury by writing a letter. ◇ vt [rage, fury] to express  □ He vents all his frustration on his family.

ventilate ['ventɪleɪt] vt [room, building] to allow fresh air to enter and move around  □ a well/poorly-ventilated room.

ventilation [ˌventə'leɪʃn] n the act or system of ventilating a room or building □ a building's ventilation system.

ventilator ['ventɪleɪtə] n -1. [for a room, building] a device that brings in fresh air and removes bad air. -2. MEDICINE a machine used in hospitals to help sick or injured people breathe.

ventriloquist [ven'trɪləkwɪst] n a person who entertains people by speaking or singing without moving their mouth so that the sound seems to come from somewhere else.

venture ['ventʃə] ◇ n a business project that may succeed or fail □ a business/commercial venture □ a joint venture. ◇ vt [opinion, advice] to say <sthg> cautiously because it may be thought foolish or wrong □ I ventured to suggest some improvements. ◇ vi -1. to go somewhere that is considered to be dangerous or daring □ It's the first time we've ventured outside Europe. -2. to venture into sthg [into a mar-

- ket, sector, business] to get involved in sthg that is new and difficult □ They're considering venturing into the pop world.
- venture capital n money that a bank or investor lends somebody to start a new business, especially when there is a risk of losing the money.
- venue ['venju:] n the place where a concert, meeting, match etc takes place.
- Venus¹ ['vi:nəs] the planet in the solar system that is next to the Earth and second-closest to the Sun.
- Venus² the Roman goddess of love.
- veracity [və'reɪsəti] n the truthfulness of a statement, account etc (formal use).
- veranda(h) [və'rændə] n an area that joins onto the outside of a house and consists of a roof, floor, and open sides.
- verb [vɜ:'b] n a word or group of words used to describe what somebody or something is, does, or experiences □ a verb ending.
- verbal ['vɜ:'bəl] adj -1. [skill, play] that is connected with words and how they are used. -2. [attack, abuse, complaint] that is spoken, not written □ We were given verbal assurances that strict confidentiality would be maintained. -3. GRAMMAR [form, pattern] see verb.
- verbally ['vɜ:'bəlɪ] adv [attack, complain, communicate] in spoken words □ Maria is very good at expressing herself verbally.
- verbatim [vɜ:'vɛɪtəm] ◇ adj [report, account] that repeats the exact words used. ◇ adv: I can quote his words verbatim.
- verbose [vɜ:'boʊs] adj [person, report] that uses more words than are needed (formal and disapproving use).
- Verdi ['veə'di], Giuseppe (1813–1901) an Italian composer, well known for his operas, including La Traviata, Rigoletto, and Aida.
- verdict ['vɜ:'dɪkt] n -1. LAW a decision made by a court about whether a prisoner is guilty or innocent □ The jury took four hours to reach a verdict. □ a guilty verdict OR verdict of guilty -2. an opinion about something □ What's your verdict on the new system?
- verge [vɜ:'dʒ] n -1. the edge of a road, often covered with grass. -2. on the verge of sthg [of success, collapse, hysteria] very close to sthg □ They're on the verge of going bankrupt.
- ◆ verge on vt fus to verge on sthg to be very close to sthg □ His reaction verges on paranoia.
- verger ['vɜ:'dʒə] n GB a person whose job is to look after the inside of a church.
- verification [,vɛrə'fə'keɪʃn] n: see verify □ We're waiting for official verification of the result.
- verify ['vɛrə'faɪ] (pt & pp verified) vt -1. [result, evidence] to officially check the truth of <sthg>; [owner, identity] to check <sb/sthg>. -2. [story, fact, details] to confirm the truth of <sthg> □ I can verify that this is the case.
- veritable ['vɛrətəbl] adj used to compare two things, usually in a slightly exaggerated way (humorous or formal use) □ a veritable maze of corridors.
- Vermeer [vɜ:'miə], Jan (1632–1675) a Dutch artist well known for his detailed paintings of interiors.
- vermilion [və'ʃmɪliən] ◇ adj bright orange-red. ◇ n a bright orange-red color.
- vermin ['vɜ:'mɪn] npl animals or insects, e.g. rats, foxes, fleas, or lice, that spread disease or cause problems when present in large numbers.
- Vermont [və'ʃmɒnt] a state in the northeastern USA, on the Canadian border. ABBREVIATION: VT. SIZE: 24,887 sq kms. POPULATION: 562,758 (Vermonters). CAPITAL: Montpelier.
- vermouth [US vər'mu:θ, GB 'vɜ:məθ] n a drink made from strong wine flavored with herbs, often used in cocktails.
- vernacular [və'nækjələ] n the vernacular the language spoken by ordinary people in a country or region, that may be different from the official language.
- Verne [vɜ:'n], Jules (1828–1905) a French writer who played an important part in the development of science fiction. His best-known works are Around the World in Eighty Days and Journey to the Center of the Earth.
- verruca [və'ru:kə] (pl verrucas OR verrucae [-kaɪ]) n a small, hard, painful growth, usually on the bottom of one's foot, that is caused by a virus.
- versa ['vɜ:'sə] → vice versa.
- versatile [US 'vɜ:'sətɪ, GB -taɪl] adj -1. [actor, player, politician] who has many different skills. -2. [machine, tool, food] that can be used in many different ways.
- versatility [,vɜ:'sə'tɪləti] n: see versatile □ His versatility as a performer means he is rarely out of the public eye.
- verse [vɜ:'s] n -1. writing arranged in short lines that have a regular pattern and that sometimes rhyme at the end □ a book of children's verse. -2. [of a song] one of the parts a song or poem is divided into □ Let's sing the first verse again. -3. [in the Bible] one of the parts each chapter of the Bible is divided into.
- versed [vɜ:'st] adj to be well versed in sthg [in a procedure, technique, subject] to have a good knowledge of sthg □ He's well versed in the art of flattery.
- version ['vɜ:'ʒn] n -1. [of a story, legend] a form of something that differs slightly from other forms of the same thing □ He's a younger version of his father. -2. [of facts, an event] the way somebody describes something that happened □ They each gave their version of the incident. -3. [of a book] a translation from one language into another □ a Spanish version of "Hamlet".
- versus ['vɜ:'səs] prep -1. SPORT competing against <sb/sthg> □ We bring you live coverage of France versus Ireland. -2. compared to <sthg> □ We need to weigh up the merits of having a London base versus setting up elsewhere.
- vertebra ['vɜ:'təbrə] (pl vertebrae [-breɪ]) n one of the small bones that form the backbone.

vertebrate ['vɜːtəbreɪt] n a creature that has a backbone, e.g. humans, birds, and fish.

vertical ['vɜːtɪklɪ] adj [line, cliff] that goes straight upward □ vertical take-off.

vertical integration n the process of joining together two businesses that deal with different stages in the production and sale of the same product.

vertically ['vɜːtɪklɪ] adv -1. [take off, rise] straight upward. -2. [divide, cut] from top to bottom.

vertigo ['vɜːtɪɡoo] n a dizzy and sick feeling that some people have when looking down from high places.

verve [vɜː'v] n great energy and enthusiasm □ She performed with great verve.

very ['veri] ◇ adv -1. used to emphasize adjectives and adverbs □ I wore my very best clothes. □ That's very kind of you. □ He's feeling very much better. -2. not very difficult/interesting etc almost easy/boring etc □ It's not very often we get a chance to talk. ◇ adj used to emphasize nouns. ■ those were my very thoughts that was exactly what I was thinking □ You're the very person I've been looking for! □ I waited till the very end of the movie. ■ here, in this very room here in the actual room we are in. ■ my very own house, a house of my very own a house that belongs to me and no one else.

◆ very well adv used to show agreement □ "Aren't you coming?" — "Very well, if you insist." ■ I/we etc can't very well do sthg it would not be fair or sensible for me/us etc to do sthg □ We can't very well not invite her.

vespers ['vespəz] n a Christian service held in the evening.

vessel ['vesl] n (formal use) -1. a large boat or ship □ a fishing/sailing vessel. -2. a container for liquids □ an earthenware vessel.

vest [vest] n -1. US a sleeveless piece of clothing with buttons that is usually worn over a shirt. -2. GB a piece of underwear for the upper body that has no sleeves □ a thermal/string vest.

vested interest [ˌvestəd-] n a strong reason that a person has for doing something because it will benefit them □ Stores have a vested interest in opening on Sundays.

vestibule ['vestəbjʊl] n -1. the room or passage that forms the entrance hall to a building (formal use). -2. US the covered passage that connects two railroad cars.

vestige ['vestɪdʒ] n [of hope, dignity, modesty] a very small amount of something that remains after the rest has disappeared (formal use) □ He was stripped of the last vestiges of power.

vestry ['vestrɪ] (pl vestries) n the room in a church where the special clothes and equipment used in services are kept.

Vesuvius [və'su:vjʊs:] (Mount) Vesuvius an active volcano near Naples in southern Italy that buried the Roman towns of Pompeii and Herculaneum when it erupted in ancient times. The last eruption was in 1944.

vet [vet] (pl & pp vetted, cont vetting) ◇ n -1. a person whose job is to treat sick and injured animals. -2. US a person who has served in the armed forces □ a Vietnam vet. ◇ vt GB to examine the past record, qualification etc of <sb> carefully to make sure that they are suitable for a particular job □ All candidates are carefully vetted.

veteran ['vetərən] ◇ n -1. [of a war] an old person who has fought in a war □ a veteran of World War I. -2. [of campaigning, politics] a person who has a lot of experience of something and is respected. -3. US a person, young or old, who has served in the armed forces. ◇ adj: a veteran traveler/campaigner.

veteran car n GB a car made before 1905.

Veterans Day n in the USA, a holiday celebrated on November 11. It marks the end of World War I. veterinarian [ˌvetərɪ'neəriən] n US a person whose job is to treat sick and injured animals.

veterinary science [US 'vetərənəri-, GB -ənəri-] n the science of treating sick and injured animals.

veterinary surgeon n GB = veterinarian (formal use).

veto ['vi:tou] (pl vetoes, pt & pp vetoed, cont vetoing) ◇ n the power to reject or forbid something, e.g. in a law-making body; the act of using such a power □ the right of veto. ◇ vt [decision, proposal] to officially refuse to accept or allow <sthg>.

vetting ['vetɪŋ] n GB the process of vetting somebody.

vex [veks] vt to trouble or annoy <sb> (formal use) □ It was a problem which vexed me for weeks.

vexed [vekst] adj a vexed question/issue a question/issue that causes a lot of argument and cannot be decided easily.

VFD (abbr of voluntary fire department) n a US fire service whose members are volunteers.

vg abbr of very good.

vgc abbr of very good condition.

VHF n a range of radio frequencies between 30 and 300 MHz, used for radio broadcasts.

VHS (abbr of video home system) n a video cassette recording system that is used in people's homes to record television programs; a video cassette that works with this system.

VI abbr of Virgin Islands.

via ['vaɪə] prep -1. passing through  on the way to somewhere □ We flew to Beirut via Cairo. -2. using or by means of <sb/sthg> □ I heard the news via Jane. □ broadcast live via satellite from New York.

viability [ˌvaɪə'bɪləti] n: see viable □ The new funding will ensure the group's financial viability for years to come.

viable ['vaɪəbl] adj [proposal, suggestion, company] that can succeed □ The idea is not commercially viable. □ There is no viable alternative.

- viaduct ['vaɪədəkt] n a long high bridge that carries a road or railroad across a valley.
- vibrant ['vaɪbrənt] adj -1. [color] that looks very bright and strong. -2. [voice, atmosphere, person] that is exciting and full of energy.
- vibrate [US 'vaɪbreɪt, GB vaɪ'breɪt] vi [string, building, air] to shake with very small quick movements that can be felt or heard □ The traffic makes the whole house vibrate.
- vibration [vaɪ'breɪʃn] n: see vibrate □ We felt the vibrations when the bomb exploded.
- vicar ['vɪkə] n in the Anglican Church, a priest who is responsible for a church in a particular area.
- vicarage ['vɪkərɪdʒ] n the house of a vicar.
- vicarious [vɪ'keəriəs] adj [enjoyment, pleasure, thrill] that is experienced by watching other people do something or by hearing about it rather than by doing it oneself.
- vice [vaɪs] n -1. a criminal activity that involves illegal sex or drugs □ a vice ring. -2. a bad habit such as smoking, drinking alcohol etc (humorous use) □ Everyone has their little vices. -3. a tool used to hold wood or metal in place while it is being cut or shaped.
- vice- prefix added to words to mean next in rank below somebody □ vice-captain.
- vice admiral n an officer of high rank in some navies, below an admiral and above a rear admiral.
- vice-chairman n the person who is next in rank to the chairman and sometimes acts in their place.
- vice-chancellor n EDUCATION -1. the person who is next in rank to a chancellor of a US university. -2. the official who controls and organizes the affairs of a British university.
- vice president n a person who is next in rank to a president and sometimes acts in their place.
- vice squad n the part of the police force that deals with crimes such as prostitution and drug trafficking.
- vice versa [vaɪs-] adv a phrase used to show that the opposite of the situation that has been described is also true □ If I do the shopping he cooks, and vice versa.
- vicinity [və'sɪnɪtɪ] n -1. in the vicinity near to a particular place □ They live in the vicinity of Boston. -2. in the vicinity of sth about or approximately sth □ He earns in the vicinity of $80,000 a year.
- vicious ['vɪʃəs] adj -1. [person, attack] that is violent and cruel □ This was a vicious and unprovoked attack. -2. [criticism, rumor, lie] that is cruel and intended to hurt somebody □ He described her as a vicious woman who had acted out of sheer malice.
- vicious circle n a difficult situation that creates new problems that make the original problem worse.
- viciousness ['vɪʃəsnəs] n: see vicious □ We are appalled by the viciousness of this attack.
- vicissitudes [və'sɪsətʃu:dz] npl changes in a person's circumstances (formal use) □ the vicissitudes of war.
- victim ['vɪktəm] n -1. a person who suffers as the result of an accident or disaster □ famine/earthquake victims. -2. a person, group, institution etc that suffers because of the actions or beliefs of somebody else □ Education is always the first victim of government cuts. □ Her uncle was the victim of a brutal attack.
- victimize, -ise ['vɪktəmaɪz] vt to make <sb> suffer unfairly because of their race, behavior, beliefs etc □ He was victimized at school because he wore glasses.
- victor ['vɪktə] n the winner of a battle, contest etc (literary use).
- Victoria [vɪk'tɔ:riə] -1. a state in southeastern Australia. SIZE: 228,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,243,719. CAPITAL: Melbourne. -2. Lake Victoria the largest lake in Africa, between Uganda, Tanzania, and Kenya.
- Victoria [vɪk'tɔ:riə], Queen (1819–1901) Queen of Great Britain and Ireland from 1837 to 1901.
- Victoria Cross n a medal given to British soldiers, sailors, and airmen for very brave acts in war.
- Victoria Falls a large waterfall on the Zambezi River, between Zimbabwe and Zambia.
- Victorian [vɪk'tɔ:riən] adj -1. [society, dress, family] that is connected with the time when Victoria was queen of Britain (1837–1901). -2. [values, attitudes] that are thought to be typical of the time of Queen Victoria and involve being strict, religious, and respectable.
- Victoriana [vɪk'tɔ:riən] n a collective term for things made during the time when Victoria was queen of Britain.
- victorious [vɪk'tɔ:riəs] adj [army, general, team] that has won something; [smile, shout, gesture] that shows one has won something.
- victory ['vɪktəri] (pl victories) n -1. the act of winning a battle, race, game etc □ Victory is certain. -2. a win □ an election victory □ a victory for common sense □ Scotland won a decisive victory over Wales yesterday.
- video ['vɪdiəʊ] (pl videos, pt & pp videoed, cont videoing) ◊ n -1. the showing on television of images that have been recorded on special tape □ Video is widely used in language teaching. -2. a recording of a movie, program, or event made on videotape □ We stayed in and watched a video. -3. a machine used to show video pictures on a television set. -4. a video cassette □ a blank video □ video piracy. ◊ vt -1. [movie, show] to record  using a video recorder. -2. [wedding, party, christening] to record <an event> as it takes place using a video camera.
- video camera n a camera used to record things on videotape.
- video cassette n a plastic case containing videotape that is used in video recorders.
- video cassette recorder n = video recorder.
- video conferencing n a special TV system that makes it possible for people in different places to have a meeting by seeing each other on a screen as they speak.

videodisk US, videodisc GB ['vɪdiəʊdɪsk] n a round flat piece of plastic from which recorded images can be played back on a television set.

video game n a computer game that is played by moving objects or figures on a video screen using a special control.

video machine n = video recorder.

videophone ['vɪdiəʊfəʊn] n a device like a telephone with a screen that allows the people speaking to see each other.

video recorder n a machine that is used to record movies and television programs and play video cassettes.

video recording n a recording of an event, movie, program etc on videotape.

video store n a store where video cassettes can be rented or bought.

videotape ['vɪdiəʊteɪp] n -1. = video cassette. -2. the special tape used to record and show video pictures.

vie [vaɪ] (pt & pp vied, cont vying) vi to vie with sb for sthg [for success, attention] to compete with sb for sthg, usually over a long period of time □ They are vying with each other for the leadership.

Vienna [vi'eɪnə] the capital of Austria and its largest city. POPULATION: 1,512,000.

Viennese [ˌvi:ə'ni:z] n & adj: see Vienna.

Vietnam [US ˌvi:et'naɪm, GB -'næm] a country in Southeast Asia, on the southern China Sea. SIZE: 335,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 71,800,000 (Vietnamese). CAPITAL: Hanoi. LANGUAGE: Vietnamese. CURRENCY: dong.

Vietnamese [ˌvi:et'næ'mi:z] n & adj: see Vietnam.

Vietnam War n the Vietnam War a civil war (1954-1975) between North and South Vietnam. North Vietnam was a Communist country, and the South was supported by US armed forces. The North won the war.

VIETNAM WAR

In the Vietnam War the USA supported South Vietnam against the Communist forces of North Vietnam by sending hundreds of thousands of troops to fight. Many people were opposed to the US involvement in the war, both in the USA and abroad. Large numbers of young Americans refused to go and fight in Vietnam, and the soldiers who returned home after the US army was brought home in 1973 were not always popular. This period of US history has become the subject of many Hollywood movies.

view [vju:] ◇ n -1. [on something] an opinion about something □ political/religious/Marxist views □ It's a widely held view. □ He has a cynical view of life. □ What are your views on nuclear testing? ■ in my view in my opinion. ■ to take the view that... to have the opinion that... -2. [over a place] the whole area that can be seen from a particular place, especially a high place □ There's a wonderful view from the top of the tower. ■ to come into view to gradually become visible. -3. [from a seat] the ability to see something from a particular place □ You're blocking my view. □ We had a terrible view from our seats.

◇ vt -1. [person, responsibility, role] to consider <sb/sthg> in a particular way □ How do you view your future career? □ Their activities are viewed with alarm by many people. -2. [house, garden] to look at <sthg>, especially in order to form an opinion of it □ Celia viewed the scene with evident pleasure.

◆ in view of prep a phrase used to introduce information which must be thought about when discussing another situation, decision etc □ In view of the facts/what happened...

◆ with a view to conj with a view to doing sthg with the intention of doing sthg □ They moved to Florida with a view to retiring there.

viewer ['vju:ə] n -1. a person who watches a particular television program. -2. a device like a small box, used to look at transparent photographs □ a slide viewer.

viewfinder ['vju:fɑɪndə] n a device like a small window on a camera that one looks through to see what one is photographing.

viewpoint ['vju:pɔɪnt] n -1. a way of thinking about something □ Try and see things from my viewpoint. -2. a place from which there is a good view.

vigil ['vɪdʒəl] n -1. an act of staying awake all night, e.g. in order to look after a sick person, pray, or make a political protest □ 'Famous actor in bedside vigil.' -2. RELIGION a special service that takes place the evening before some religious festivals.

vigilance ['vɪdʒələns] n the quality or act of being vigilant □ Our work requires constant vigilance.

vigilant ['vɪdʒələnt] adj [person] who is constantly watching for possible danger or to see if anyone is doing anything wrong □ We must remain vigilant at all times.

vigilante [ˌvɪdʒələntɪ] n a person, usually a member of an unofficial group, who tries to fight crime without the help of the police.

vigor US, vigour GB ['vɪgə] n enthusiastic energy, determination, and physical strength □ We set to work with renewed vigor.

vigorous ['vɪgərəs] adj -1. [handshake, exercise] that is done with a lot of energy □ I go for a vigorous jog every morning. -2. [defense, denial, protest] that is forceful □ There were vigorous protests from local residents. -3. [person] who is healthy and full of energy □ He's very vigorous for his age.

vigour n GB = vigor.

Viking ['vaɪkɪŋ] ◇ n a member of a race from Scandinavia that attacked and settled in parts of northwestern Europe from the 8th to the 11th centuries. ◇ adj: a Viking ship/helmet/museum.

vile [vaɪl] adj [weather, mood, meal] that one

- thinks is very unpleasant (informal use) □ It has a vile taste.
- vilify ['vɪləfaɪ] (pt & pp vilified) vt to say or write bad things about <sb> in order to make other people dislike them (formal use).
- villa ['vɪlə] n a large house in the countryside or near the sea.
- village ['vɪlɪdʒ] n a group of houses and other buildings that is smaller than a town and is often in a country area □ a pretty little village □ the village green.
- villager ['vɪlɪdʒə] n a person who lives in a village.
- villain ['vɪlən] n -1. a bad character in a movie, book etc. -2. a criminal (old-fashioned use).
- VIN (abbr of vehicle identification number) n a number that is stamped onto all motor vehicles when they are produced so that a vehicle can be identified if the license plates are changed.
- vinaigrette [,vɪnə'gret] n a cold sauce for salads that is made of oil, vinegar, and flavorings.
- Vinci ['vɪntʃɪ] = Leonardo da Vinci.
- vindicate ['vɪndɪkeɪt] vt (person) to show that <sb> does not deserve the blame for something; [belief, faith] to show that <sthg> is right □ He has been completely vindicated by the courts. □ Her confidence in him has been fully vindicated.
- vindication [,vɪndɪ'keɪʃn] n: see vindicate □ She sees the verdict as a vindication of her long struggle in the courts.
- vindictive [vɪn'dɪktɪv] adj (person) who wants to harm and upset somebody □ Children can be very vindictive.
- vine [vaɪn] n a climbing plant, especially one that produces grapes.
- vinegar ['vɪnɪgə] n a liquid, often made from sour wine, that has a sharp taste and is used to preserve vegetables and to flavor food.
- vine leaf n a leaf of a vine.
- vineyard ['vɪnjə:d] n an area where vines are grown to make wine.
- vintage ['vɪntɪdʒ] ◇ adj -1. a vintage wine/port a wine/port that is of good quality, especially one that has been stored for a long time. -2. [comedy, performance] that is the best of its type. ◇ n the year in which a wine is produced □ 1964 was a good vintage.
- vintage car n GB a car made between 1919 and 1930.
- vintner ['vɪntnə] n a person whose job is to buy and sell wines.
- vinyl ['vaɪnl] n a strong plastic that bends easily and is used to make things such as floor coverings, records, and paint.
- viola [vɪ'əʊlə] n -1. MUSIC a musical instrument like a violin but larger. -2. a small garden plant grown for its white, yellow, purple, or blue flowers.
- violate ['vaɪəleɪt] vt -1. [law, agreement, human rights] to do something that is not allowed by <sthg that has been agreed to formally> □ They are accused of violating international law. -2. [peace, privacy] to disturb <sthg>. -3. [tomb, grave] to break into  and treat it with disrespect.
- violation [,vaɪə'leɪʃn] n: see violate □ They acted in violation of the treaty □ a traffic violation.
- violence ['vaɪələns] n -1. physical force used to kill or injure a person or animal □ an outbreak of violence. -2. [of words, a reaction, emotion] great force □ He spoke with unexpected violence.
- violent ['vaɪələnt] adj -1. [person] who uses or is likely to use violence; [movie, area, game] in which there is a lot of violence □ Her husband was a violent and abusive man. □ There has been an increase in violent crime. □ The play contains a number of violent scenes. -2. [reaction, protest, outburst] that involves strong feelings □ I took a violent dislike to them both. -3. [explosion, blow] that is very sudden and powerful □ a violent storm. -4. [color] that is too strong and bright □ a violent orange.
- violently ['vaɪələntli] adv [attack, react, die] see violent □ I was violently opposed to capital punishment.
- violet ['vaɪələt] ◇ adj [ink, dress, satin] that is blue-purple. ◇ n -1. a small purple or white flower that has a sweet smell. -2. a blue-purple color.
- violin [,vaɪə'lɪn] n a wooden musical instrument that is held between one's shoulder and chin and is played by moving a bow across the four strings.
- violinist [,vaɪə'lɪnɪst] n a person who plays the violin.
- VIP n abbr of very important person □ a VIP lounge.
- viper ['vaɪpə] n a small poisonous snake found in Europe.
- viral ['vaɪərə] adj [disease, infection] that is caused by a virus.
- Virgil ['vɜ:ɪ'dʒɪl] (70–19 BC) a Roman poet whose best-known work is the Aeneid.
- virgin ['vɜ:ɪ'dʒɪn] ◇ adj virgin forest/land forest/land that has not been explored or changed by humans. ■ virgin snow/paper snow/paper that is unmarked. ◇ n a person who has never had sex □ a virgin bride.
- Virginia [və'vɜ:dʒɪnjə] a state in the eastern USA, on the Atlantic Coast. ABBREVIATION: VA. SIZE: 103,030 sq kms. POPULATION: 6,187,358 (Virginians). CAPITAL: Richmond.
- Virginia creeper n a garden plant that grows on walls and has large green leaves that turn red in autumn.
- Virgin Islands -1. the British Virgin Islands a group of islands in the Caribbean that belong to the United Kingdom. SIZE: 153 sq kms. POPULATION: 13,000 (British Virgin Islanders). CAPITAL: Road Town. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: US dollar. -2. the US Virgin Islands a group of islands in the Caribbean that belong to the USA. SIZE: 355 sq kms. POPULATION: 106,000 (US Virgin Islanders). CAPITAL: Charlotte Amalie. LANGUAGE: English, Spanish, Creole. CURRENCY: US dollar.

virginity [vɜːrˈdʒɪnətɪ] n to lose one's virginity to have sex for the first time.

Virgin Mary = Mary.

Virgin Queen: the Virgin Queen a name for Queen Elizabeth I.

Virgo [ˈvɜːrɡəʊ] (pl Virgos) n a sign of the zodiac, often represented by a girl; a person born under this sign between August 23 and September 22.

virile [US ˈvɪrɪl, GB ˈvɪraɪl] adj [man] who has the qualities that are supposed to be typical of a man, e.g. strength and strong sexual desires.

virility [vəˈrɪlətɪ] n: see virile □ Some men see fast cars as a sign of virility.

virtual [ˈvɜːtʃuəl] adj that is so close to the truth that it can be considered as being true □ His father's a virtual alcoholic.

virtually [ˈvɜːtʃuəli] adv [impossible, empty] very nearly □ Their marriage was virtually over by then.

virtual reality n a set of surroundings created by a computer that appears real to the person looking at it.

virtue [ˈvɜːtjuː] n -1. the quality of being good and doing what is right. -2. a good quality such as patience, kindness etc □ She possessed many virtues. -3. an advantage □ the virtues of being self-employed.

◆ by virtue of prep because of <sthg> □ He has succeeded by virtue of his social connections.

virtuoso [ˌvɜːtʃuˈɔːsəʊ] (pl virtuosos OR virtuosi [-si:]) n a person who is extremely good at something, especially music □ a virtuoso violinist.

virtuous [ˈvɜːtʃuəs] adj [person, life] that is full of good qualities.

virulent [ˈvɪrələnt] adj -1. [speech, attack, hatred] that is very bitter and hostile (formal use). -2. [disease, strain of bacteria] that spreads quickly and is very dangerous.

virus [ˈvaɪrəs] n -1. MEDICINE a very small living thing that causes disease □ the HIV virus. -2. COMPUTING a computer program that is designed to enter a computer system and damage or destroy the information stored there □ a computer virus.

visa [ˈviːzə] n a special mark put in a person's passport that allows them to enter, go through, or leave a particular foreign country □ an exit/entry visa.

vis-à-vis [ˌviːzəˈviː] prep a phrase used when comparing two things or considering the relationship between them (formal use) □ What exactly is our position vis-à-vis the South American market?

viscose [ˈvɪskəʊs] n a smooth fabric, like silk, made from cellulose and chemicals.

viscosity [vɪˈskəʊsətɪ] n: see viscous.

viscount [ˈvaɪkaʊnt] n a British nobleman who is higher in rank than a baron and lower in rank than an earl.

viscous [ˈvɪskəs] adj [liquid, substance] that is thick and sticky and does not flow easily.

vis [vaɪs] n US a tool used to hold wood or metal in place while it is being cut or shaped.

visibility [ˌvɪzəˈbɪlətɪ] n the distance it is possible to see, especially under particular weather conditions □ Rain and mist are causing poor visibility.

visible [ˈvɪzəblɪ] adj -1. [road, scar, person] that can be seen □ The egg is barely visible to the naked eye. -2. [improvement, change] that is noticeable □ I was greatly saddened by the visible deterioration in his condition.

visibly [ˈvɪzəblɪ] adv [worse, older] in a way that can be seen □ She was visibly upset.

vision [ˈvɪʒn] n -1. the ability to see □ poor/good vision. -2. [of a politician, leader] the ability to realize what is going to happen in the future □ a man of vision □ He had the vision to foresee the war. -3. [in a dream] an image seen in one's imagination or in a dream, often as part of a religious experience □ nightmarish visions of the future. -4. TV the picture that appears on a television screen □ loss of vision.

visionary [US ˈvɪʒənəri, GB -əri] (pl visionaries) ◇ n a person who has strong and clear ideas about improving things in the future. ◇ adj: a visionary politician/leader.

visit [ˈvɪzət] ◇ vt -1. [doctor, relative, friend] to go and see <sb> □ They're away at the moment visiting friends. -2. [country, museum, exhibition] to go and see  □ the many thousands of people who visit the gallery every year. -3. to visit a site COMPUTING to find information at a site on the Internet. ◇ n -1. [to a doctor, relative, friend] the act of visiting somebody □ You must pay us a visit next time you're in town. -2. [to a country, museum, exhibition] the act of visiting a place □ We hope you have enjoyed your visit. ■ on a visit while visiting □ We saw it on a visit to the States.

◆ visit with vt fus US to visit with sb to go and see sb □ I stopped by on the way home from work and visited with my grandmother.

visiting card [ˈvɪzətɪŋ-] n a small piece of card that has one's name and address on it and that one gives to people on social and business occasions.

visiting hours npl the times at which sick or injured people can be visited in hospital.

visitor [ˈvɪzətə] n -1. a person who is visiting somebody. -2. a person who is visiting a place □ You can get more information at the visitors' center.

visitors' book n a book kept in a hotel, at an exhibition etc in which visitors write their names, addresses, and the date of their visit.

visor [ˈvaɪzə] n the part of a helmet that can be moved down to cover one's face and eyes.

vista [ˈvɪstə] n -1. a beautiful view. -2. a vision, e.g. of new possibilities or opportunities □ New and exciting vistas opened up before her.

VISTA [ˈvɪstə] (abbr of Volunteers in Service to America) n a US government organization that provides volunteers for one-year posi- tions on public service projects to help poor people.

- visual ['vɪʒuəl] adj [effect, joke, impact] that is experienced by being seen; [awareness, handicap] that is connected with the ability to see □ the visual arts □ a very powerful visual image.
- visual aids npl a collective term for things such as photographs, movies, or maps that are used by people, especially teachers, to help an audience or class to understand and remember information.
- visual display unit n → VDU.
- visualize, -ise ['vɪʒuəlaɪz] vt [face, idea, scene] to form a clear mental image of the details, appearance etc of <sth> □ He tried to visualize the expression on their faces as he told them the news. ■ to visualize doing sth to imagine doing sth □ I can't visualize things getting any better.
- visually ['vɪʒuəli] adv visually handicapped blind or nearly blind. ■ visually impaired whose vision has been damaged, e.g. by illness or an accident.
- vital ['vaɪtəl] adj -1. [support, work, operation] that is very important for the success of something □ It's vital that the meeting goes well. -2. [person] who is full of energy.
- vitality [vaɪ'tæləti] n energy and liveliness □ She was animated and full of vitality.
- vitality ['vaɪtəli] adv vitality important very important.
- vital statistics npl the measurements of a woman's chest, waist, and hips (informal use).
- vitamin [US 'vaɪtəmən, GB 'vɪt-] n a chemical substance that is found in very small quantities in food and that the body needs for growth and health □ vitamin pills.
- vitreous ['vɪtriəs] adj [china] that looks like glass.
- vitriolic [vɪ'trɪ'ɒlɪk] adj [person, language, abuse] that is cruel and bitter (formal use).
- viva ['vaɪvə] n GB EDUCATION a university exam that is spoken rather than written.
- vivacious [vɪ'veɪʃəs] adj [girl, woman] who is full of energy and has an attractive personality.
- vivacity [vɪ'væsəti] n: see vivacious.
- Vivaldi [vɪ'vældɪ], Antonio (1678–1741) an Italian composer whose best-known work is The Four Seasons.
- vivid ['vɪvəd] adj -1. [color] that is bright and strong. -2. [memory, description, dream] that is so clear and detailed that it seems real □ She has a very vivid imagination.
- vividly ['vɪvədli] adv [remember, describe] see vivid □ vividly painted.
- vivisection [vɪvə'sekʃn] n the practice of performing operations on live animals in scientific experiments.
- vixen ['vɪksən] n a female fox.
- viz [vɪz] (abbr of videlicet) namely (used in front of information that explains something more clearly).
- VLF (abbr of very low frequency) n a range of radio frequencies between 3 and 30 kilohertz.
- V-neck n -1. a neck of a dress, sweater etc in the shape of a letter V. -2. a V-neck (sweater) a sweater with a V-neck.
- VOA n abbr of Voice of America.
- vocabulary [və'kæbjələri] (pl vocabularies) n -1. [of a person] all the words that one knows or uses in a particular language □ She wants to increase her Polish vocabulary. -2. [in a language] all the words in a particular language □ English has a very rich vocabulary. -3. [of a subject] the words that are used to talk about a particular subject, e.g. computers or medicine □ legal vocabulary. -4. [for reference] a list of words, usually in alphabetical order, with a translation or explanation of their meaning.
- vocal ['vəʊkl] adj -1. [person] who expresses their opinions freely and loudly □ She is very vocal in her criticism of the government. -2. [range, skill, training] that is connected with a singer's or actor's voice.
- ◆ vocals npl the part of a pop or jazz song that is sung rather than played on instruments □ And on vocals, we have Chet White.
- vocal cords npl the part of one's throat that vibrates and produces sounds when one speaks.
- vocalist ['vəʊkəlɪst] n a singer in a pop or jazz band.
- vocation [vəʊ'keɪʃn] n a job, e.g. being a teacher, nurse, or priest, that one does because one wants to help other people rather than to earn a lot of money. ■ to have a vocation to strongly feel that one should do a particular job.
- vocational [vəʊ'keɪʃnəl] adj [course, training] that prepares people for a job □ vocational guidance.
- vociferous [vəʊ'sɪfərəs] adj [protester, opponent] who expresses their opinions loudly; [complaint, demand] that is expressed loudly.
- vodka ['vɒdkə] n a colorless alcoholic drink, originally made in Russia; a glass of this drink.
- vogue [vəʊg] ◇ n a fashion □ The vogue for long hair is on its way out. ■ in vogue in fashion □ Mini-skirts are in vogue again. ◇ adj: a vogue word.
- voice [vɔɪs] ◇ n -1. the sounds one makes when one is speaking or singing □ a beautiful/an awful singing voice □ a loud/a low/an angry voice. ■ to raise/lower one's voice to speak more loudly/more quietly □ Don't you raise your voice to me! □ She lowered her voice to a whisper. ■ to keep one's voice down to speak more quietly □ Keep your voice down, they'll hear you. -2. an opinion □ the voice of the people. ■ the voice of reason/experience advice or an opinion that is reasonable/based on experience. -3. to have a voice to have the right to express an opinion about something □ We had no voice in the decision. -4. GRAMMAR the form of a verb which shows whether the subject of a sentence is performing an action voice box n the larynx.

(the active voice) or being affected by it (the passive voice).

◇ vt [opinion, doubt, criticism] to express <sthg> □ an opportunity to voice one's fears.

voice mail n a system for recording telephone messages, used e.g. in large companies.

Voice of America n the Voice of America a radio station that is run by the US government and that broadcasts programs about the USA to other countries.

voice-over n recorded words read by an unseen person that comment on or explain what is happening on a television program, advertisement etc.

void [vɔɪd] ◇ adj -1. [result, agreement, contract] that has no official or legal value. -2. to be void of sthg [of content, interest] to be completely without sthg (literary use) □ Her words were utterly void of emotion. -3. → null. ◇ n -1. a situation or period of time that seems empty because nothing exciting or pleasant happens (literary use) □ Life without him would be an empty void. -2. an empty space that seems very large or terrifying □ We gazed down into the void.

voile [vɔɪl] n a thin light material used to make curtains, blouses etc.

vol. abbr of volume.

volatile [US 'vɒlətɪl, GB -təɪl] adj -1. [situation] that may change suddenly and become dangerous or violent. -2. [person] who has sudden extreme changes of mood or attitude.

vol-au-vent [vɒləʊvɒŋ] n a small pastry case filled with a thick sauce that contains chicken, mushrooms, shrimp etc.

volcanic [vɒl'kænɪk] adj [rock, island, activity] that is connected with volcanoes □ a volcanic eruption.

volcano [vɒl'keɪnəʊ] (pl volcanoes OR volcanos) n a kind of mountain that has a hole in the top and that sometimes sends out smoke, ash, and hot liquid rock.

vole [vɒʊl] n a small animal that is similar to a mouse but has a short tail.

volition [vɒʊ'lɪʃn] n of one's own volition [act, leave, go] because one wants to, not because one is forced to (formal use) □ He gave up acting of his own volition.

volley ['vɒli] (pl volleys) ◇ vt to hit or kick  before it touches the ground. ◇ n -1. a volley of shots a number of shots fired from a gun at the same time. -2. a volley of questions/insults etc a number of questions/insults etc that follow one another quickly. -3. SPORT a shot in tennis, a kick in soccer etc that is volleyed.

volleyball ['vɒlibɔ:l] n a game in which two teams hit a large ball over a high net using their hands and without letting the ball touch the ground.

volt [vɒʊlt] n a unit of electrical power.

voltage ['vɒʊltɪdʒ] n the force of an electrical current measured in volts.

Voltaire [vɒl'teɪʔ], François Marie Arouet

(1694–1778) a French writer who criticized French politics and society in many of his books, including his best-known work, Candide.

voluble ['vɒljəbl] adj [person] who talks a lot (formal use) □ After a few drinks, she grew more voluble.

volume ['vɒljəm] n -1. the loudness of the sound made by a television, radio, stereo etc □ Could you turn the volume up? □ the volume control. -2. [of an object, gas, liquid] the amount of space that something occupies. -3. [of work, letters] an amount of something □ We are looking at ways to reduce the volume of traffic on our roads. -4. [for reading] a book; one book of a set □ a slim volume of verse □ an encyclopedia in 20 volumes.

voluminous [və'lu:mənəs] adj -1. [dress, shirt, jacket] that is very large and loose and uses a lot of material. -2. [bag, suitcase, pocket] that is very large and able to hold a lot of things.

voluntarily [vɒlən'terəli] adv [attend, work, go] see voluntary.

voluntary [US 'vɒləntəri, GB -təri] adj -1. [attendance, contribution, action] that one does, makes etc because one wants to and not because one has to □ The store is run entirely on a voluntary basis. -2. [worker] who works without being paid; [work, service, organization] that is done by or run by people who work without being paid.

voluntary liquidation n the act by an unsuccessful company of stopping business and selling its valuable possessions □ The company has gone into voluntary liquidation.

voluntary redundancy n GB the act of agreeing to leave one's job in exchange for a payment □ Many employees have taken voluntary redundancy.

volunteer [vɒlən'tɪəʔ] ◇ vi -1. to volunteer to do sthg to offer to do sthg because one wants to □ I've volunteered to help collect money for charity. -2. [information, advice, statement] to offer <sthg> without being asked. ◇ vi -1. to offer to do things because one wants to □ She's always volunteering for things. -2. MILITARY to join the armed forces because one wants to, especially during a war. ◇ n -1. somebody who has volunteered or is willing to volunteer to do something □ Any volunteers to work this weekend? -2. [for a charity] a person who chooses not to be paid for the work they do. -3. MILITARY a person who joins the armed forces willingly, especially in wartime.

voluptuous [vɒ'lʌptʃʊəs] adj [woman] who has large breasts and a soft rounded body and is sexually exciting.

vomit ['vɒmət] ◇ vi to bring up food or drink from the stomach through the mouth, because one is ill or drunk. ◇ n food or drink that has been brought up by vomiting.

voodoo ['vʊ:du:] n a religious cult involving witchcraft that is practiced by some inhabitants of the West Indies, especially in Haiti.

voracious [və'reɪʃəs] adj -1. [eater] who wants to eat a lot □ a voracious appetite. -2. a voracious reader/collector etc a person who reads/collects things etc very eagerly.

vortex ['vɔ:ʔteks] (pl vortexes OR vortices [-trɪsɪz]) n -1. a powerful mass of air or water that spins around very quickly and pulls objects into its center. -2. a harmful situation that somebody becomes involved in without wanting to □ a vortex of despair.

vote [vout] ◇ vi to choose formally one of various possibilities available, usually by writing on a piece of paper, speaking, or raising one's hand □ I voted Republican. □ those who voted for/against the bill □ I'm going to vote for Miller.

◇ vt -1. to be voted captain/winner/leader etc to be made captain/winner/leader etc as a result of a vote. -2. to vote to do sthg to decide to do sthg by voting □ They voted to return to work. -3. to vote (that)... to suggest that something should happen □ I vote (that) we all go home.

◇ n -1. an act of making a choice or decision by voting □ Unions are demanding a vote on strike action. ■ to put sthg to the vote to decide sthg by voting □ Let's put the matter to the vote. -2. a choice or decision made by voting □ policies aimed at winning votes □ The debate ended in a vote against the motion. □ The vote went in her favor/against her. -3. the votes made by a particular group of people in an election □ They hope to win the nationalist vote. -4. the vote the right to vote in political elections □ Large sections of the population did not have the vote.

◆ vote in vt sep to vote sb in [politician, party] to give sb enough votes to allow them to hold a position of power.

◆ vote out vt sep to vote sb out [politician, party] to give sb too few votes to allow them to continue to hold a position of power.

vote of confidence (pl votes of confidence) n a formal declaration of support, usually for a government, expressed by a vote.

vote of no confidence (pl votes of no confidence) n a formal declaration of lack of support, usually for a government, expressed by a vote.

vote of thanks (pl votes of thanks) n a formal public speech that expresses thanks to somebody for something they have done.

voter ['voutə] n a person who votes or has the right to vote, especially in a public election.

voting ['vouting] n the act of voting □ Voting is under way all over the country.

voting booth n US a small separated area in a polling place where one can vote in private.

voting machine n US a device in a voting booth that has buttons one pushes or a lever one pulls to record one's vote.

vouch [vaʊtʃ] ◆ vouch for vt fus to vouch for sb to say that sb has a good character □ I can vouch for her personally. ■ to vouch for sthg to be able to say from one's own experience or knowledge that sthg is true □ I can vouch for the accuracy of these figures.

voucher ['vaʊtʃə] n a piece of paper that can be used instead of money for a particular purpose □ a meal/travel voucher.

vow [vaʊ] ◇ n a serious promise □ marriage/religious vows □ I made a vow never to see him again. ◇ vt to vow to do sthg to make a serious promise to do sthg □ I vowed never to speak to him again. □ She vowed (that) she would get her revenge one day.

vowel ['vaʊəl] n any of the sounds in human speech that are made with the mouth and throat open; a letter that represents one of these sounds (a, e, i, o, and u in the English alphabet).

voyage ['vɔɪdʒ] n a long trip by ship or boat □ a sea voyage □ a voyage of discovery.

voyeur [vɔɪə:'jɜ:ɪ] n a person who gets sexual pleasure from watching other people having sex, especially without them knowing.

voyeurism [vɔɪə:'jɜ:ɪzɪz] n the behavior of a voyeur.

VP n abbr of vice president.

vs abbr of versus.

VSO (abbr of Voluntary Service Overseas) n a British charity that sends voluntary workers to developing countries.

VSOP (abbr of very special old pale) a term, written after the name of an alcoholic drink such as brandy or port, that shows that it is between 20 and 25 years old.

VT abbr of Vermont.

VTOL ['vi:tɒl] (abbr of vertical takeoff and landing) n a type of aircraft that can take off by rising straight into the air and land by coming straight down, without needing a runway.

VTR (abbr of videotape recorder) n a piece of equipment used in TV broadcasting that records video signals onto magnetic tape.

vulgar ['vʌlgə] adj -1. [person, display, appearance] that shows bad taste □ He has such vulgar taste in clothes. -2. [joke, gesture, remark] that refers to sex in an offensive way □ Don't be so vulgar!

vulgarity [vʌl'gærətɪ] n the quality of being vulgar □ complaints about vulgarity and bad language.

vulnerability [ˌvʌlnərə'bɪlətɪ] n the state of being vulnerable.

vulnerable ['vʌlnərəbəl] adj -1. [person] who can be easily harmed, physically or emotionally □ After Jay's death, I felt alone and vulnerable. □ Children are especially vulnerable to the effects of air pollution. -2. [place, position] that can be easily attacked or entered by force □ Their defenses were vulnerable to air attack.

vulture ['vʌltʃə] n -1. a large ugly bird that lives in tropical countries and eats dead animals. -2. a person who takes advantage of weak or helpless people.

W

w ['dʌblju:] (pl w's OR ws), W ['dʌblju:] (pl W's OR Ws) n the twenty-third letter of the English alphabet.

◆ W -1. abbr of west. -2. abbr of watt.

W-2 n in the USA, a form given to a person by their employer once a year showing their earnings and how much tax they have paid.

WA -1. abbr of Washington State. -2. abbr of Western Australia.

wacky ['wæki] (compar wackier, superl wackiest) adj [behavior, person, sense of humor] that is amusing in a slightly unusual or odd way (informal use).

wad [wɒd] n -1. [of newspaper, cotton wool] a thick mass of something tightly pressed together. -2. a number of bills, documents etc folded or fastened together □ a wad of banknotes/dollar bills.

wadding ['wɒdɪŋ] n thick soft material that is used to protect packed objects or to bandage wounds.

waddle ['wɒdl] vi [duck, person] to walk with short steps, with the body leaning slightly from one side to the other.

wade [weɪd] vi to walk through deep water.

◆ wade through vt fus to wade through sthg [report, book, details] to read sthg long and boring.

wading pool ['weɪdɪŋ-] n US -1. a shallow pool of water, e.g. in a park, where children can paddle. -2. a large inflatable plastic pool that can be filled with water for children to play in.

wafer ['weɪfə] n a very thin sweet cookie, usually eaten with ice cream.

wafer-thin adj [slice, piece] that is very thin and flat.

waffle ['wɒfl] ◇ n COOKING a thick crepe with a pattern of squares on both sides that is eaten hot. -2. GB something somebody writes or says that is long and vague, and does not contain any useful or important information (informal use). ◇ vi -1. GB to talk or write waffle. -2. US to avoid answering a question or making a decision.

waft [wɑ:ft] vi [sound, smell] to move lightly through the air; [air, breeze] to move lightly □ The sound of laughter wafted in from the garden.

wag [wæg] (pt & pp wagged, cont wagging) ◇ vt [tail, finger, pencil] to move <sthg> repeatedly from side to side □ "Now, now," he said, wagging his finger at me. ◇ vi [tail] to move repeatedly from side to side.

wage [weɪdʒ] ◇ n the amount of money that is paid every week to somebody for doing work □ a low/high wage □ the average weekly wage □ a wage increase. ◇ vt to wage war on sb/sthg [on crime, an enemy] to start and continue a war or struggle against sb/sthg.

◆ wages npl a wage.

NOTE: Compare salary.

wage claim n a demand by workers for higher pay.

wage differential n the difference between the money earned by people doing different jobs in a company or industry.

wage earner n somebody who earns wages □ She's the main wage earner in the family.

wage freeze n the act of fixing wages at a particular level.

wager ['weɪdʒə] n an agreement with somebody to pay a certain amount of money to whoever guesses the result of something, e.g. a horse race, correctly.

waggish ['wæɡɪʃ] adj [person, remark, behavior] that is amusing in a clever way.

waggle ['wæɡl] (informal use) ◇ vt [tail, ears] to move <sthg> repeatedly from side to side or up and down. ◇ vi [tail, ears] to move repeatedly from side to side or up and down.

waggon ['wæɡən] n GB = wagon.

Wagner ['vɑ:ɡnə], Richard (1813–1883) a German composer famous for his operas, including Tristan and Isolde and The Ring of the Nibelung.

wagon ['wæɡən] n -1. a vehicle with four wheels that is pulled by an animal, especially a horse. -2. GB RAIL a vehicle for carrying goods, especially an open one, that is pulled by a train.

wagon train n a group of covered wagons traveling together.

wagtail ['wæɡteɪl] n a small bird with a very long tail that moves up and down when it walks.

waif [weɪf] n a person, child, or animal that has no home and is not being cared for (literary use).

wail [weɪl] ◇ n -1. [of a person, animal] a long cry of pain or sadness □ The child let out a wail of indignation. -2. [of the wind, a siren] a long, high-pitched sound. ◇ vi [siren, wind, baby] to produce a wail □ I could hear a baby wailing in the background.

wailing ['weɪlɪŋ] n a continuous wail □ the weeping and wailing of mourners at the funeral.

waist [weɪst] n -1. the middle of the human body between the chest and the hips □ paralyzed from the waist down □ The grass was waist-high. -2. the part of a piece of clothing that goes around the waist □ All my skirts are getting too tight in the waist.

waistband ['weɪstbænd] n a band of material at the waist of a skirt or pair of trousers.

waistcoat ['weɪstkəʊt] n GB a piece of clothing without sleeves and with buttons in the front, often worn by men under a jacket.

waistline ['weɪstlaɪn] n -1. the measurement around one's waist. -2. the position of the

- waistband on a dress in relation to one's waist □ I don't suit dresses with a low waistline.
- wait [weɪt] ◇ vi -1. [person] to stay in one place without doing much until somebody or something comes or something happens □ Have you been waiting long? ■ wait and see a phrase used to tell somebody to be patient because they cannot change what will happen in the future □ "Is she going to be all right?" — "We'll just have to wait and see." ■ wait a minute OR second OR moment a phrase used to interrupt somebody when they are speaking, often to show disagreement; a phrase used while speaking to show that one has just had a new idea □ Wait a minute, aren't you being a little unfair? □ Wait a moment, why didn't I think of it before? ■ (just) you wait! a phrase used to threaten or warn somebody about something □ You wait until the boss finds out! -2. it can't OR won't wait it is very important and must be done immediately □ Have another glass of wine, the dishes can wait. □ I've got some work that won't wait. ◇ vt -1. I/he etc couldn't wait to do sthg I/he etc wanted to do sthg as soon as possible □ I can't wait to see the photos. -2. US to delay <sthg> (informal use) □ Don't wait dinner for me. ◇ n the act or period of waiting □ They had a long wait. ■ to lie in wait for sb to hide and wait for sb in order to attack them □ Who knows what disasters may be lying in wait for us.
- ◆ wait around, wait about vi to wait, especially with not much to do, or when somebody or something is late □ I got tired of waiting around in the cold.
- ◆ wait for vt fus to wait for sb/sthg [for a friend, bus, opportunity] to wait until sb/sthg comes □ I've been waiting for you for over an hour! □ She's waiting for the right man to come along. □ We got back into the car and waited for the rain to stop.
- ◆ wait on vt fus to wait on sb to serve food and drink to sb □ He expects to be waited on hand and foot.
- ◆ wait up vi not to go to bed because one is waiting for somebody to come home □ I waited up for her until midnight.
- waiter ['weɪtə] n a man who serves food and drink in a restaurant or café.
- waiting game ['weɪtɪŋ] n to play a waiting game to wait before doing something in order to see how a situation develops.
- waiting list n a list of people who want something that is not available immediately □ There's a three-year waiting list for some operations.
- waiting room n a room in a station, hospital etc where people can wait.
- waitress ['weɪtrəs] n a woman who serves food and drink in a restaurant or café.
- waive [weɪv] vt [rule, charge, fee] to decide not to apply <sthg>; [right, claim] to give up <sthg> (formal use).
- waiver ['weɪvə] n LAW a written statement that waives a right, claim etc.
- wake [weɪk] (pt woke OR waked, pp woken OR waked) ◇ vt to make <sb> stop sleeping □ He woke me at seven o'clock. ◇ vi: I woke several times during the night. ◇ n the track that a ship or boat leaves as it moves through the water. ■ in one's wake behind one as one goes □ Aunt Mamie went abroad, leaving a trail of unpaid debts in her wake. ■ in the wake of sthg after and as a result of sthg □ The police are urging the public to be vigilant in the wake of the recent bombings.
- ◆ wake up ◇ vt sep to wake sb up to make sb stop sleeping □ Wake me up before you go. ◇ vi: Nell didn't wake up until eight o'clock.
- ◆ wake up to vt fus to wake up to sthg to begin to become aware of and understand sthg unpleasant □ When will you wake up to the fact that he's just using you?
- waken ['weɪkən] (formal use) ◇ vt to wake <sb>. ◇ vi to wake.
- waking hours ['weɪkɪŋ] npl the hours during which one is not sleeping □ He spends all his waking hours worrying about it.
- Wales [weɪlz] a country in the United Kingdom, west of England. SIZE: 20,800 sq kms. POPULATION: 2,798,200 (Welsh). CAPITAL: Cardiff. LANGUAGE: English, Welsh.
-
- 🇬🇧 WALES
- Wales, which is officially called the Principality of Wales, has the same legal, educational, and banking system as England, and is governed mainly from London. The Welsh language is spoken by about 20% of the population. There is now a Welsh-language television channel and radio station, and many public signs are written in English and Welsh. Some Welsh people would like Wales to be completely independent from the United Kingdom and have its own government.
-
- Wales, Prince of the title given to the eldest son of the British king or queen.
- Wales, Princess of the title given to the wife of the Prince of Wales.
- walk [wɔ:k] ◇ vi to move by placing one foot in front of the other □ Our son is just learning to walk. □ We must have walked ten miles. □ We walked along the beach and watched the sunset. ◇ vt -1. to go with <sb> on foot to make sure they are safe □ Let me walk you to your car. □ Will someone walk you home afterward? -2. to take  out for exercise. -3. to cover  on foot □ I had to walk all the way home. ■ to walk the streets to be homeless; to be a prostitute. ◇ n -1. a trip made by walking □ It's a long walk from here. □ Let's go for a walk! □ I took the dog for a walk. -2. a route that people walk along for pleasure □ There are some great walks around here. -3. the action of walking or the way a person walks □ The horses moved off at a walk. □ He has a funny walk.
- ◆ walk away with vt fus to walk away with sthg [with a prize, medal] to win sthg easily (informal use) □ They walked away with the title.

- ◆ walk in on vt fus to walk in on sb/sthg [on a person, meeting, conversation] to interrupt sb/sthg by going into a place when one is not expected □ I walked in on them having an argument in the kitchen.
- ◆ walk off vt sep to walk sthg off [headache, hangover] to get rid of sthg by walking. ■ to walk off a meal to go for a walk to try to feel better when one has eaten too much.
- ◆ walk off with vt fus (informal use) -1. to walk off with sthg [with money, a wallet, umbrella] to steal sthg easily by picking it up and walking away □ Thieves walked off with three valuable paintings. -2. to walk off with sthg [with a championship, trophy] to win sthg easily □ She walked off with first prize.
- ◆ walk out vi -1. to leave a place because one is angry or bored, or disapproves of what is happening □ Several delegates walked out when the resolution was passed. -2. [workers] to leave the place where one works and go on strike, especially when this has not been planned.
- ◆ walk out on vt fus to walk out on sb [on one's wife, husband, partner] to leave sb, especially suddenly □ You can't just walk out on your kids.
- walkabout ['wɔ:kəbaʊt] n GB a situation in which a famous person walks among a crowd of people, talking informally to them □ The Queen went on a walkabout in Toronto today. ■ to go walkabout AUS to go away for a period of time and travel around on foot.
- walker ['wɔ:kə] n -1. a person who walks, especially for pleasure □ a keen walker. -2. US a light metal frame with rubber feet, used by old or ill people to support themselves when they walk.
- walkie-talkie [,wɔ:kɪ'tɔ:kɪ] n a small radio that can be carried so that people can talk and listen to each other.
- walk-in adj -1. a walk-in closet/wardrobe a closet/wardrobe that is large enough to walk into. -2. a walk-in victory US an easy victory (informal use).
- walking ['wɔ:kɪŋ] n the activity of walking, especially for pleasure □ We go walking every weekend. □ a walking tour.
- walking shoes npl strong shoes with thick soles that people wear to go walking for pleasure.
- walking stick n a stick used for support when walking.
- WalkmanTM ['wɔ:kmən] (pl Walkmans) n a personal stereo.
- walk of life (pl walks of life) n a person's position in society, often judged by the job they do □ As a host on a talk show, I meet people from all walks of life.
- walk-on adj a walk-on part [in a play, movie] a very small and unimportant part for an actor that does not involve speaking □ She's got a walk-on part in "Othello".
- walkout ['wɔ:kaut] n the act of leaving the place where one works and going on strike in order to express disagreement or dissatisfaction □ Athletes at the games are threatening to stage a mass walkout.
- walkover ['wɔ:kəʊvə] n a situation that results in an easy victory (informal use) □ The game was a walkover.
- walk-up n US an apartment building that does not have an elevator; an apartment in such a building.
- walkway ['wɔ:kweɪ] n a paved path or passage, especially between buildings.
- wall [wɔ:l] n -1. [in a building] one of the vertical sides of a room or building □ We knocked down the wall between the kitchen and the dining room. □ The walls of the temple are still standing. -2. [between land] a barrier of stone or brick that goes around or divides an area of land □ the old city walls □ A wall separated the two gardens. ■ to come up against a brick wall to meet a problem or obstacle that prevents further progress □ The police investigation has come up against a brick wall. ■ to drive sb up the wall to annoy sb very much □ His trumpet-playing drives the neighbors up the wall. -3. ANATOMY [of a cell, womb, stomach] a layer of tissue that surrounds something and acts as a barrier.
- wallaby ['wɔləbi] (pl wallabies) n an Australian animal like a small kangaroo.
- Wallace ['wɔləs], Sir William (1270–1305) a Scottish military leader who led a revolt against the English, who were ruling Scotland at that time.
- wallchart ['wɔ:ltʃɑ:t] n a big sheet of paper with information, pictures, diagrams etc on it that is hung on a wall.
- wall cupboard n GB a cupboard that is fixed to the wall and does not rest on the ground.
- walled [wɔ:ld] adj a walled city/garden etc a city/garden etc that is surrounded by a wall.
- wallet ['wɔlət] n a small flat leather case for paper money, credit cards etc.
- wallflower ['wɔ:flaʊə] n -1. a garden plant with red, yellow, orange, or purple flowers and a sweet smell. -2. somebody, especially a girl, who has not been invited to dance at a party (informal use).
- Walloon [wɔ'lu:n] n a French-speaking Belgian from the south or southeast of the country.
- wallop ['wɔləp] (informal use) ◇ n a hard blow. ◇ vt [child, ball] to hit <sb/sthg> hard.
- wallow ['wɔləʊ] vi -1. [person, animal] to lie or roll in mud, water, a hot bath etc in enjoyment □ We watched the hippos wallowing in the mud. -2. to wallow in misery/self-pity etc to enjoy feeling sadness/pity for oneself etc and make little effort to get out of this state □ There's no point sitting here wallowing in self-pity. Do something!
- wall painting n a painting done directly on a wall.
- wallpaper ['wɔ:lpeɪpə] ◇ n thick decorative paper that is used to cover the walls of rooms. ◇ vt [room, house] to cover the walls of <sthg> with wallpaper.
- Wall Street the street in New York City that is the financial center of the USA.

WALL STREET

Wall Street is a street in the financial district of Manhattan, in New York City. The New York Stock Exchange is found here, as well as several banks. The term is often used to mean the world of American finance generally.

wall-to-wall adj a wall-to-wall carpet a carpet that covers the whole floor of a room.

walnut ['wɔ:lɪnʌt] n -1. a large nut with a very hard shell; the tree that produces walnuts □ coffee and walnut cake. -2. the wood of a walnut tree, often used for making expensive furniture □ a walnut cabinet.

walrus ['wɔ:lɪrʌs] (pl walrus OR walruses) n a sea animal like a large seal with long sharp tusks.

waltz [wɔ:ltz] ◇ n -1. a formal dance with three beats in a bar in which a couple hold each other as they move around the room together. -2. a piece of music to which a waltz is danced. ◇ vi -1. to dance a waltz. -2. to go somewhere confidently and in a relaxed way (informal use) □ She waltzed into the room.

Waltzing Matilda [ˌwɔ:ltzɪŋmə'tɪldə] n a popular Australian song that has become the unofficial national song of the country.

wan [wɒn] (compar wanner, superl wannest) adj [person, complexion, smile] that looks pale, ill, and tired.

WAN [wæn] n abbr of wide area network.

wand [wɒnd] n a thin wooden stick that is held in the hand and used to do magic tricks □ a magic wand.

wander ['wɒndə] vi -1. to walk slowly without a definite purpose or without going anywhere in particular □ We spent the afternoon wandering around the town. -2. [thoughts, attention] to stop concentrating and move to another subject □ My mind keeps wandering.

wanderer ['wɒndərə] n a person who has no home and travels from place to place.

wandering ['wɒndərɪŋ] adj a wandering musician/tribe etc a musician/tribe etc that travels from place to place, spending a short time in each.

wanderlust ['wɒndə'lʌst] n a strong desire to travel and visit other countries.

wane [weɪn] ◇ n to be on the wane [interest, popularity, belief] to become smaller, less important, less strong etc □ Her power was already on the wane. ◇ vi -1. [influence, interest, popularity] to decrease □ My enthusiasm for the job rapidly waned. -2. [moon] to grow narrower as it changes from a full moon to a new moon.

wangle ['wæŋɡl] vt [job, invitation, wage increase] to get <sthg that is difficult to get>, by clever or unfair methods (informal use) □ I managed to wangle an interview with their top man.

wanna ['wɒnə] = want a, want to.

wannabe ['wɒnəbi] n a person who wants to be famous or like a famous person (informal use) □ Madonna wannabes.

want [wɒnt] ◇ n -1. what somebody needs or would like to have (formal use) □ She has few wants. -2. to be in want not to have the things one needs to live, e.g. food and clothing □ families living in want. ◇ vt -1. to feel a strong desire for <sthg> □ What do you want to eat? □ He wants a bike for Christmas. □ I want you to listen carefully. □ Look, I don't want any trouble! -2. to need <sthg> □ If there's anything else you want, just ask. -3. you are wanted on the phone somebody is asking to talk to you on the phone.

◆ for want of prep because it is not possible to do or have <sthg> □ For want of anything better to do, I went for a walk.

want ad n US a classified ad (informal use).

wanted ['wɒntəd] adj to be wanted to be looked for by the police because they think one is involved in a crime □ He's wanted for the murder of Lucy Bishop.

wanting ['wɒntɪŋ] adj to be wanting not to have enough of something □ The book is wanting in passion. ■ to be found wanting to be found to be not as good as expected or hoped □ He was tested and found wanting.

wanton ['wɒntən] adj (formal use) -1. [destruction, neglect, violence] for which there is no good reason. -2. [woman] who is considered to be sexually immoral.

war [wɔ:'] (pt & pp warred, cont warring) n -1. organized fighting with weapons between two or more countries or groups □ Germany and Italy declared war on the USA. □ the Gulf War. ■ to be at war [countries] to be fighting □ The two republics are now officially at war. ■ to go to war to begin an organized fight using weapons □ America is ready to go to war over this issue. ■ the War between the States a term used for the American Civil War. ■ the War of 1812 a conflict between the USA and Britain that lasted from 1812 to 1814. ■ the Wars of the Roses a series of wars in England (1455–1485) between two families that claimed the throne: the House of Lancaster, that had a red rose as a symbol, and the House of York, that had a white rose as a symbol. -2. [against drugs, crime] an organized effort to stop something □ a war on car thieves. -3. [between businesses] fierce competition between businesses □ a trade war.

War. abbr of Warwickshire.

warble ['wɔ:bl] vi [bird] to sing (literary use).

war crime n an illegal and cruel act carried out during war, such as the torture or murder of innocent people.

war criminal n a person who is guilty of a war crime.

war cry n a loud shout made by people going to fight that is intended to frighten their enemies.

ward [wɔ:'d] n -1. [in a hospital] a large room in a hospital, or a part of a hospital, that contains beds for people with similar illnesses

- or injuries □ a surgical/maternity ward. -2. POLITICS one of the parts a city is divided into for local elections. -3. LAW a child or young person who is under the legal protection of an adult, usually because their parents are dead.
- ♦ ward off vt fus to ward off sthg [danger, disease, blow] to stop sthg from affecting or harming one □ Vitamin C helps ward off a cold.
- war dance n a special dance that some tribes perform before fighting or after winning a battle.
- warden ['wɔ:ɹ'dn] n -1. an official who looks after a national park, game reserve etc. -2. US the official who is in charge of a prison. -3. GB the official who is in charge of a youth hostel, part of a university dormitory, an old people's home etc.
- warder ['wɔ:ɹ'də] n GB a person who is in charge of prisoners in a prison.
- ward of court n a child or young person who is placed under the protection of a court.
- wardrobe ['wɔ:ɹ'drəʊb] n -1. a large piece of furniture in which clothes are kept. -2. all the clothes owned by one person or worn at a particular time of year □ She bought herself a whole new wardrobe. □ a summer/winter wardrobe.
- warehouse ['weəʃ'haʊs, pl -'haʊzɪz] n a large building where goods are stored.
- wares [weə'z] npl small things for sale, often in the street or in a market (literary use).
- warfare ['wɔ:ɹ'feə] n -1. the activity of fighting a war □ nuclear/guerrilla warfare. -2. a continuous struggle or conflict □ gang warfare.
- war game n -1. an imaginary battle which military leaders use to test plans for moving soldiers and equipment. -2. a game for adults in which model soldiers are used to recreate past battles.
- warhead ['wɔ:ɹ'hed] n the front part of a bomb or missile that contains explosives.
- Warhol ['wɔ:ɹ'həʊl], Andy (1929–1987) a US artist who is famous for the use of popular culture in his art.
- warily ['weəɹəlɪ] adv [look, behave, speak] see wary.
- Warks. abbr of Warwickshire.
- warlike ['wɔ:ɹ'lɪk] adj [nation, tribe] that always wants to make war.
- warm [wɔ:ɹ'm] ◇ adj -1. [weather, water, room] that is hot in a pleasant or suitable way □ Are you warm enough? -2. [sweater, blanket, bed] that makes one warm □ Make sure you put some warm clothes on before you go out. -3. [color, sound] that is deep and strong in a pleasant way. -4. [person, personality] that is kind and friendly □ They gave me a warm welcome. -5. US [debate, atmosphere] full of strong feelings, e.g. anger or excitement. ◇ vt [food, body] to make <sthg> warm □ I'll just warm the milk.
- ♦ warm over vt sep US -1. to warm food over to heat food that has already been cooked but has become cold. -2. to warm sthg over [idea, argument] to use sthg that one has said or written before and that is no longer interesting (disapproving use).
- ♦ warm to vt fus to warm to sb/sthg to begin to like sb/sthg □ I'm beginning to warm to the idea. □ I warmed to her immediately.
- ♦ warm up ◇ vt sep -1. to warm sb/sthg up [room, person] to make sb/sthg warm □ That soup will soon warm you up. -2. to warm food up to heat food that has already been cooked but has become cold □ We can warm up the leftovers for supper. ◇ vi -1. [person, weather, room] to get warmer. -2. [car engine, photocopier] to become ready for use. -3. [athlete, dancer] to prepare for physical exercise by moving and stretching the body; [orchestra, musician, actor] to practice just before performing.
- warm-blooded [-'blʌdəd] adj [animal] that has a body temperature that stays at the same fairly high level, even in very hot or cold conditions.
- war memorial n a statue or monument made to make people remember the people who died in a war.
- warm front n the front of a mass of warm air that is moving into a mass of colder air.
NOTE: Compare cold front.
- warm-hearted [-'hɑ:ɹ'təd] adj [person] who is always kind and friendly.
- warmly ['wɔ:ɹ'mli] adv -1. to dress warmly to put on warm clothes, usually because the weather is very cold. -2. [welcome, smile, greet] in a friendly way.
- warmonger ['wɔ:ɹ'mʌŋgə] n a person, especially a politician or military leader, who wants to start or encourage a war.
- warmth [wɔ:ɹ'mθ] n -1. [of the sun, a fire, body] the warm temperature produced by something □ We huddled together for warmth. -2. [of clothes, a blanket] the quality of being able to make people warm □ I've put another blanket on for extra warmth. -3. [of somebody's welcome, smile, greeting] the quality of being kind and friendly.
- warm-up n [of an athlete, dancer, orchestra] the exercises that somebody does while warming up.
- warn [wɔ:ɹ'n] ◇ vt -1. to give <sb> advice about something that may be dangerous so that they can avoid it □ The doctor warned him of OR about the dangers of smoking. ■ to warn sb against doing sthg, to warn sb not to do sthg to advise sb not to do sthg because of possible danger or punishment □ I warned her not to go alone OR against going alone. -2. to tell <sb> in advance about a possible problem □ Did you warn him about the brakes? □ She warned them that she would be late. ◇ vi to warn of sthg to tell people about sthg bad that is happening or may happen □ The police are warning of severe traffic delays downtown.
- warning ['wɔ:ɹ'nɪŋ] ◇ n -1. advice about something that may be dangerous or result in punishment □ This is your last warning. -2. information about something dangerous, difficult, or undesirable that will happen in the future □ He left without any warning. □ They gave us advance warning of the hurricane. ◇ adj a warning sign/look etc a sign/look etc that gives a warning □ Social workers failed to recognize the warning signs.

warning light n a colored light on the instrument board of a car or machine that gives a warning about a possible problem.

warning triangle n GB a red plastic triangle that reflects light and is carried in cars to put on the road if there is an accident or if the car breaks down.

warp [wɔ:ɪp] ◇ n the threads that run in the direction of the longest edge of a piece of cloth. ◇ vt -1. [wood, metal, plastic] to bend or twist <sthg> so that it loses its shape □ The door was warped by the damp. -2. [personality, character] to make <sthg> abnormal □ Her early experiences have warped her view of family life. ◇ vi [wood, metal, plastic] to become twisted or bent and lose its shape.

NOTE: Compare weft.

warpath [US 'wɔ:ɪpæθ, GB 'wɔ:ɪpɑ:θ] n to be OR go on the warpath to be very angry about something and ready to argue with the person responsible for it.

warped [wɔ:ɪpt] adj -1. [wood, metal, plastic] that is bent or twisted by heat, damp etc so that it does not have the same shape any more. -2. [personality, idea] that is not normal □ a warped sense of humor.

warplane ['wɔ:ɪpleɪn] n a plane armed with guns and designed for fighting.

warrant ['wɒrənt] ◇ n an official document that allows the police to arrest somebody, search a house, take goods etc. ◇ vt [examination, investigation] to be or provide a reason for <sthg> □ The incident hardly warranted so much media attention.

warrant officer n an officer in the army, navy, or air force who is between the ranks of sergeant and lieutenant.

warranty ['wɒrəntɪ] (pl warranties) n a written statement by a company that states that if their goods do not work they will repair or replace them without charge □ Is the computer still under warranty?

warren ['wɒrən] n -1. = rabbit warren. -2. a place with a lot of streets, rooms etc that it is hard to find one's way around in.

warring ['wɔ:ɪɪŋ] adj warring factions/nations etc factions/nations etc that are fighting a war against each other.

warrior ['wɒɹɪə] n a person who fights in wars (literary use).

Warsaw ['wɔ:ɪ'sɔ:] the capital of Poland and its largest city. POPULATION: 1,653,500.

warship ['wɔ:ɪ'ʃɪp] n a ship armed with guns used for fighting at sea.

wart [wɔ:ɪt] n a small hard lump that grows on the skin, usually on the hands or face.

wartime ['wɔ:ɪ'taɪm] ◇ n the period during which there is a war □ Women had to work in wartime. ◇ adj [memory, propaganda] I love hearing all about his wartime experiences.

Warwickshire ['wɒrɪkʃɪə] a county in western central England. SIZE: 1981 sq kms. POPULATION: 484,200. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Warwick.

war widow n a woman whose husband was killed fighting in a war.

wary ['weəri] (compar warier, superl wariest) adj to be wary of sb/sthg to be careful about sb/sthg because there may be problems or danger □ He's always been wary of her/wary of committing himself.

was [stressed wɒz, unstressed wəz] past tense of be.

wash [wɒʃ] ◇ vt -1. [clothes, car, face] to clean <sthg> using water and soap; [lettuce, vegetables] to clean <sthg> using water □ Have you washed your hands? -2. to carry <sthg> to a particular place □ The waves washed the oil onto the beach. ◇ vi to clean oneself using water and soap □ I washed quickly and then went downstairs. ◇ n -1. an act of washing □ He gave the car a wash. □ Do I have time to have a quick wash? -2. a collection of clothes washed together □ a hot/white wash □ Your shirt is in the wash. -3. [of a boat] the movement of water that spreads out sideways from a moving ship or boat.

◆ wash away vt sep to wash sb/sthg away [sea, water] to carry sb/sthg away from a particular place □ Dozens of houses were washed away by the flood.

◆ wash down vt sep -1. to wash sthg down [food, medicine] to drink something to help one swallow sthg □ She washed down the aspirin with water. -2. to wash sthg down [floor, car, wall] to wash sthg with a lot of water.

◆ wash out vt sep -1. to wash sthg out [stain, mark, dye] to remove sthg by washing. -2. to wash sthg out [bottle, cupboard, bowl] to wash the inside of sthg.

◆ wash up ◇ vt sep -1. to wash dishes up GB to wash dirty dishes after a meal. -2. to be washed up [body, debris] to be carried by the sea or by waves to a shore or bank □ They found his body washed up on the beach. ◇ vi -1. US to wash oneself. -2. GB to wash dirty plates, glasses, pans etc.

washable ['wɒʃəbl] adj [material, clothes] that can be washed without being damaged □ Is this sweater machine-washable?

wash-and-wear adj wash-and-wear clothes clothes that do not need to be ironed after washing.

washbowl ['wɒʃbəʊl] US, washbasin ['wɒʃbeɪsn] GB n a fixed bowl with faucets, especially in a bathroom, for washing one's hands and face.

washcloth ['wɒʃklɒθ] n US a small cloth for washing one's face.

washed-out [ˌwɒʃt-] adj -1. [clothing] that has been washed so many times it has lost its color. -2. to look washed-out to look unhealthy and pale because of tiredness □ I thought he was looking really washed-out.

washed-up adj [person, career, project] that is no longer successful (informal use).

washer ['wɒʃə] n -1. TECHNOLOGY a small ring of plastic, metal, or rubber used to make bolts and valves fit tightly. -2. a washing machine.

washer-dryer n a machine that washes and dries clothes.

washing ['wɒʃɪŋ] n -1. the act of washing clothes □ I usually do the washing once a week. -2. a collection of clothes that need to be washed or have been washed □ clean/dirty washing.

washing line n a piece of rope that hangs between two points on which washing is hung to dry.

washing machine n a machine that washes clothes.

washing powder n GB soap in the form of a powder used for washing clothes.

Washington ['wɒʃɪŋtən] -1. = Washington D.C. -2. = Washington State.

Washington ['wɒʃɪŋtən], Booker T (1856–1915) a black US writer and teacher who helped to establish the Tuskegee Institute, a school for black Americans.

Washington, George (1732–1799) US President from 1789 to 1797. He helped to write the Constitution and is one of the Founding Fathers.

Washington D.C. the capital of the USA, in the District of Columbia. POPULATION: 606,900.

Washington Monument: the Washington Monument a large column in Washington D.C., built in honor of George Washington.

Washington State a state in the north-western USA on the Pacific coast and the Canadian border. ABBREVIATION: WA. SIZE: 176,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,866,692. CAPITAL: Olympia. MAIN CITY: Seattle.

washing-up n GB -1. the dirty plates, glasses, pans etc that need to be washed after a meal □ piles of washing-up. -2. the act of washing dirty plates, glasses, pans etc □ It's your turn to do the washing-up.

washing-up liquid n GB the thick liquid soap used with hot water to wash dirty plates, glasses, pans etc.

washout ['wɒʃaʊt] n a complete failure (informal use) □ The dance was a complete washout.

washroom ['wɒʃru:m] n US a room that contains a toilet and a washbowl.

wasn't ['wɒznt] = was not.

wasp [wɒsp] n a thin yellow-and-black striped flying insect which stings.

Wasp, WASP [wɒsp] (abbr of White Anglo-Saxon Protestant) n a white American who belongs to the social class that is considered to be the most powerful in the country.

waspish ['wɒspɪʃ] adj [person, tone] that is bad-tempered and critical.

wastage ['weɪstɪdʒ] n [of potential, a resource, material] the act of wasting something; the amount wasted □ the unnecessary wastage of water due to leaking pipes.

waste [weɪst] ◇ n -1. a bad or unnecessary use of money, space, energy etc □ efforts to reduce waste □ What a waste of good food! ■ to go to waste not to be used in a useful or sensible way □ All our hard work went to waste.

■ to be a waste of time/money not to be worth the amount of time/money that is spent □ She feels that going to the meeting would be a waste of time. □ Applying for that job was a complete waste of effort. -2. material that is thrown away because the useful part has been removed or used □ domestic/nuclear waste □ toxic waste.

◇ adj waste material material that is thrown away, e.g. because the useful part has been removed or used □ waste products.

◇ vt [time, money, energy] to use <sthg> in a way that is not useful or sensible; to use more of <sthg> than is necessary □ Don't waste this opportunity to travel. □ Turn it off, you're wasting the battery. ■ to be wasted on sb to be too good to be appreciated by sb □ The expensive wine was wasted on him.

◆ wastes npl a large empty area of land or water (literary use).

◆ waste away vi to lose weight and become very thin and weak as the result of illness or worry.

wastebasket ['weɪstbæskət] n US a small container for waste paper kept in a room.

wasted ['weɪstəd] adj [time, energy] that has not been used in a useful or sensible way □ You're wasted in that job.

waste disposal unit n a device fitted to the drain of a kitchen sink that breaks up waste food so that it can go down the drain with water.

wasteful ['weɪstfl] adj [person, activity] that wastes time, energy, money etc.

waste ground n GB land that is not used or looked after.

wasteland ['weɪstlənd] n an empty, unused, and unattractive area of land.

waste paper n paper that is thrown away because it has been used and is no longer needed.

wastepaper basket, wastepaper bin [weɪst-'peɪpə-] n GB = wastebasket.

watch [wɒtʃ] ◇ n -1. a small clock that one wears on one's wrist, around one's neck, or attached to one's clothes. -2. to keep watch to watch carefully, e.g. for any signs of danger □ We agreed that somebody should keep watch at all times. -3. a person or group that watches carefully for any signs of danger in order to be able to warn other people.

◇ vt -1. [television, football game, sunset] to look at sthg for a period of time, usually for pleasure □ Did you watch that show on Channel 5 last night? -2. [person] to follow <sb> secretly □ The police have been watching them for months. -3. to be careful with <sthg> □ Watch what you're doing with that knife. ■ watch your language! a phrase used to tell somebody not to use swearwords. ■ watch it! a phrase used to tell somebody to be careful (informal use).

◇ vi: We were watching from the window.

◆ watch for vt fus to watch for sthg [for a chance, opportunity] to wait for sthg that might happen in the future in order to benefit or avoid problems □ Watch for any sudden changes in temperature.

◆ watch out vi -1. watch out! a phrase used to tell somebody to be careful because something bad or dangerous is going to happen. -2. to watch out for sthg to pay careful attention so that one does not miss sthg □ Watch out for the bus.

◆ watch over vt fus to watch over sb [child, sick person] to take care of sb.

watchband ['wɒtʃbænd] n US the metal, leather, or plastic strap that attaches a watch to one's wrist.

watchdog ['wɒtʃdɒg] n -1. a dog that is kept to guard property. -2. a person or group whose job is to make sure that companies and other organizations act fairly and do not break the law □ a consumer watchdog.

watchful ['wɒtʃfl] adj [person] who watches carefully what is happening. ■ to keep a watchful eye on sb/sthg to watch sb/sthg very closely in order to avoid danger, accidents etc.

watchmaker ['wɒtʃmeɪkə] n a person whose job is to make and repair watches and clocks.

watchman ['wɒtʃmən] (pl watchmen [-mən]) n a person whose job is to guard property.

watchstrap ['wɒtʃstræp] n GB = watchband.

watchword ['wɒtʃwɜːd] n a word or phrase that expresses the most important quality, feature, principle etc of a person or group □ Our watchword is efficiency.

water ['wɔːtə] ◇ n -1. a clear colorless liquid with no taste or smell that animals and plants need in order to live. It makes up seas, rivers, lakes etc and falls from clouds as rain. FORMULA: H₂O. ■ to pour OR throw cold water on sthg [on a plan, idea] to criticize sthg and make it seem less interesting. ■ to tread water to stay on the surface of deep water by moving one's legs slightly as if walking. ■ it's water under the bridge it's something unpleasant that happened in the past but is not important any more □ We used to argue a lot, but that's all water under the bridge now. -2. an area of water such as a lake, sea etc □ The water was freezing. -3. phrase to pass water to urinate (polite use). ◇ vt [plant, lawn] to pour water on <sthg> to make it grow □ Have you watered the roses?

◇ vi -1. [eyes] to fill with tears because of wind, pain, cold etc. -2. [mouth] to produce saliva when one sees or smells food □ The sight of all that food made my mouth water.

◆ waters npl -1. an area of water near to or owned by a particular country □ British/Russian waters. -2. [of the Nile, Pacific, Rhine] the water of a particular sea, lake, river etc (literary use).

◆ water down vt sep -1. to water down a liquid [wine, brandy] to add water to a liquid to make it less strong or to increase the amount. -2. to water sthg down [proposal, version, demand] to make sthg less effective or forceful (disapproving use).

water bed n a special mattress for sleeping on that is filled with water.

water bird n a bird that swims or walks in water.

water biscuit n a thin, hard cracker, usually eaten with cheese.

waterborne ['wɔːtə'bɔːn] adj [disease] that is passed on from one person to another by water.

water bottle n a plastic container for water carried by cyclists, walkers etc.

water buffalo n a large animal similar to a cow with big curved horns that is kept to pull and carry things in some hot countries.

water cannon n a device that produces a very strong stream of water, used by the police or army to control crowds.

water chestnut n the crisp white fruit of a Chinese plant that is cut into slices and used in Chinese cooking.

watercolor ['wɔːtə'kɒlə] n a kind of paint that is mixed with water; a picture painted using this paint.

water-cooled [-kuːld] adj [engine] that is cooled by water.

watercourse ['wɔːtə'kɔːs] n the channel that a river or canal flows through.

watercress ['wɔːtə'kres] n a plant that grows in water whose leaves have a peppery taste and are eaten in salads and as soup □ Garnish with a bunch of watercress, and serve.

watered-down [,wɔːtə'd-] adj [version, proposal] that has been changed so that it is much weaker and less effective (disapproving use) □ The movie is a watered-down version of the book.

waterfall ['wɔːtə'fɔːl] n a part of a river or stream where the water falls from a high place to a lower one.

waterfront ['wɔːtə'frʌnt] n the part of a town or city that is beside water.

Watergate ['wɔːtə'geɪt] n a political scandal in 1972 involving US President Richard Nixon. Members of his party were caught breaking into the Democratic Party's headquarters in the Watergate building. Other illegal activities were discovered, and President Nixon was forced to resign.

🗨️ WATERGATE

Watergate is the name of the building in Washington D.C. where the Democratic Party had its headquarters. Since the Watergate scandal, the word "gate" has been added to other words to refer to political scandals, especially when a government has tried to hide its involvement: for example the word "Irangate" was invented to refer to the illegal US arms sales to Iran in the 1980s.

water heater n a device, usually electric, that heats the supply of water in a house.

waterhole ['wɔ:tə'hoʊl] n a pool where animals go to drink in a hot country.

watering pot US, watering can ['wɔ:təriŋ-] n a container with a handle and a long spout from which water is poured onto garden plants.

water jump n an area of water over which horses and athletes jump as part of a competition.

water level n the height of the water in a lake, river, container etc □ The water level had risen because of all the rain.

water lily n a plant with large flowers and big flat leaves that floats on the surface of water.

waterline ['wɔ:tə'lain] n SHIPPING the level water reaches on the body of a ship or boat □ The boat was holed below the waterline.

waterlogged ['wɔ:tə'lɒgd] adj -1. [field, football field] that contains so much water it cannot be used. -2. [ship, boat] that contains so much water it cannot float.

water main n a big underground pipe that carries water to buildings or areas of a city.

watermark ['wɔ:tə'fma:rk] n -1. a special mark on good-quality paper that can only be seen when the paper is held up to the light. -2. a mark that shows the highest or lowest positions reached by a river, sea etc □ high/low watermark.

watermelon ['wɔ:tə'melən] n a large round fruit with dark-green skin, juicy pink flesh, and big black seeds.

water pipe n a pipe that carries water around a building.

water pistol n a toy gun that is used for shooting water at people.

water polo n a ball game that is played in a swimming pool by two teams.

waterproof ['wɔ:tə'pru:f] ◇ adj [material, covering, watch] that does not let water get in or pass through it. ◇ n a waterproof coat or jacket. ◇ vt [jacket, roof, tent] to make <sthg> waterproof.

water rates npl GB the money paid by the owner of a building for the use of water from the public system.

water-resistant adj [watch, coat] that is almost but not completely waterproof.

watershed ['wɔ:tə'ʃed] n a point in one's life or a situation when great changes take place □ That chance meeting marked a watershed in her career.

waterside ['wɔ:tə'saɪd] ◇ adj a waterside café/restaurant etc a café/restaurant etc that is beside water. ◇ n the waterside the side of a lake, river, sea etc.

water skiing n the sport of moving fast over the surface of water on skis, holding on to a rope attached to a speedboat.

water softener n a device or substance that is used to make water less hard by removing unwanted minerals.

water-soluble adj [tablet, ink] that dissolves in water □ water-soluble vitamin C tablets.

watersports ['wɔ:tə'spɔ:ts] npl sports that are played in or on water.

waterspout ['wɔ:tə'spaʊt] n a tall spinning column of water that rises from a sea, lake etc when there are extremely strong winds.

water supply n the water that is brought to buildings or areas through pipes connected to a public water system.

water table n the level below which water is found in the ground.

watertight ['wɔ:tə'taɪt] adj -1. [seal, covering, compartment] that does not allow water to get in, so that what it covers or contains does not become wet. -2. [contract, plan, argument] that is prepared with great care so that it does not contain any mistakes or parts that are unclear □ Both men have watertight alibis.

water tower n a large metal or concrete water container put high above the ground to provide enough pressure to move the water to the places where it is needed.

waterway ['wɔ:tə'weɪ] n a river, canal, or narrow area of sea on which ships and boats can travel.

waterworks ['wɔ:tə'wɜ:kz] (pl waterworks) n a building where water is stored, cleaned, and put into the public water system.

watery ['wɔ:təri] adj -1. [soup, beer, stew] that contains too much water, so that it does not taste or look good. -2. [sunlight, color] that is pale and weak.

Watson ['wɒtsn], Dr the assistant of Sherlock Holmes in Arthur Conan Doyle's detective stories.

watt [wɒt] n a unit used to measure electrical power.

Watt [wɒt], James (1736–1819) a British engineer and inventor who played an important part in the development of the steam engine.

wattage ['wɒtɪdʒ] n electrical power measured in watts.

Waugh [wɔ:], Evelyn (1903–1966) a British writer whose best-known work is Brideshead Revisited.

wave [weɪv] ◇ n -1. [of the hand] the action of moving one's arm or hand quickly from side to side when saying hello or goodbye or attracting attention □ She gave me a cheery wave. -2. [of water] a movement of water across the surface of the sea, a river etc caused by the wind, tide, or a moving ship or boat □ An enormous wave knocked her off her feet. -3. [of anger, nausea] a sudden strong feeling that spreads through one. -4. [of tourists, visitors, immigrants] a sudden increase in the number of people arriving at the same time □ He felt a wave of panic. □ Camps are being set up to deal with the wave of refugees. -5. a wave of attacks/bombings etc a sudden increase in attacks/bombings etc during a short period of time □ the recent wave of killings. -6. PHYSICS the form in which sound or light travels □ light waves. -7. [in one's hair] a section of hair that is not straight but is slightly curved.

◇ vt -1. [hand, arm, flag] to move <sthg> quickly from side to side □ She was waving a fifty-dollar bill. -2. [person, car] to tell <sb/sthg> to move by waving one's hand □ They waved us through the checkpoint. -3. [hair] to make a wave in <hair>.

◇ vi -1. to move one's hand or arm quickly from side to side when saying hello or goodbye or attracting attention □ Who was that woman you were waving to? □ I've been waving at the waiter for ages but he keeps ignoring me. -2. [flag, tree] to move gently in the air □ Flags were waving above all public buildings.

◆ wave aside vt sep to wave sthg aside [objection, criticism] to ignore sthg because one feels it is not important.

◆ wave down vt sep to wave sb down to indicate to sb by waving that one wants them to stop □ They waved the police car down.

wave band n a group of sound waves of similar lengths, e.g. long wave and medium wave, used to broadcast radio programs.

wavelength ['weɪvlɛŋθ] n the size of a particular radio wave used by a radio station to broadcast its programs. ■ to be on the same wavelength as sb to have similar beliefs and ideas to sb.

waver ['weɪvə] vi -1. [person, resolution, confidence] to be uncertain or unsteady □ Their loyalty to the cause never wavered. -2. [temperature, level] to go up and down slightly.

wavy ['weɪvɪ] (compar wavier, superl waviest) adj -1. wavy hair hair that has waves in it. -2. a wavy line a line that has regular curves in it.

wax [wæks] ◇ n -1. a solid substance made of fats or oils that melts when heated and is used to make candles, crayons, polish etc □ a wax candle/crayon. -2. = earwax.

◇ vt -1. [floor, furniture, ski] to put a thin layer of wax on <sthg> in order to polish it or to make it slide more smoothly and quickly. -2. [legs, underarms] to remove hair from  by applying and then removing soft wax.

◇ vi -1. to wax eloquent/lyrical to talk in an eloquent/lyrical way about something (literary use). ■ to wax and wane [fortunes, popularity, influence] to increase in size or power and then decrease. -2. [moon] to appear to become larger as it changes from a new moon into a full moon.

waxen ['wæksn] adj [face, complexion] that looks pale and unhealthy.

wax paper n US paper covered with a thin layer of wax so that water cannot pass through it, usually used for wrapping food.

waxworks ['wækswɜ:kks] (pl waxworks) n a museum where wax models of famous people can be seen.

way [weɪ] ◇ n -1. a way to do sthg OR of doing sthg something that one can do in order to succeed in doing sthg □ Is there no other way of contacting her? □ He's tried lots of ways of giv- ing up smoking. □ That's not the way to win friends. ■ to get OR have one's way to get OR have what one wants □ If I had my way he'd be out of here tomorrow! □ That child is too used to getting her own way. ■ to have everything one's own way to be able to arrange things to suit oneself, and not have to consider the opinions of others □ The arrival of foreign competition can only be a good thing: the industry has had everything its own way for too long. ■ ways and means methods of doing or getting something, especially when these are clever or secret □ There are ways and means of finding out the information. -2. a manner of doing something; the manner in which something is done □ Clive speaks in a very strange way. □ I love the way they've decorated their apartment. □ He got up and went to work in the normal way. □ Have you seen the way he looks at her? □ this/that way as a result of doing this/that □ Take a taxi, that way you'll get there in plenty of time. ■ in a big/small way a phrase used to show that something happens on a large/small scale □ He was only involved in the company in a small way. □ They started spending money in a big way. ■ to have a way with sb/sthg [with children, animals] to be good at dealing with sb/sthg □ She writes wonderful letters, but then she's always had a way with words. ■ to have a way of doing sthg to have a habit of doing sthg □ Ken has a way of disappearing when it's time to pay the bill. -3. some/most of the way for some/most of the trip one is making □ It rained all the way to the coast. -4. the way to a place a road, path etc leading to a particular place □ Can you tell me the way to the bank? □ We went the long way home. ■ to find/lose one's way to find/lose the direction one is supposed to be traveling in □ They lost their way in the fog. ■ to be out of one's way [road, place] not to be on the route one is taking □ He drove us home although it was out of his way. ■ on the OR one's way as one is going to a place □ We stopped for a hamburger on the way home. □ He stopped to chat to a colleague on his way out of the building. ■ to go out of one's way to do sthg [to help, cause problems, be friendly] to make a special effort to do sthg, especially in spite of difficulties □ They went out of their way to make us feel welcome. ■ to keep out of sb's way to avoid sb □ You'd better keep out of Mike's way, he's in a foul mood. ■ keep out of the way! a phrase used to warn somebody to move away from a dangerous object or situation □ Keep out of the way — this dish is red-hot! ■ to make one's way to a place to go to a place, especially slowly or with some difficulty □ I was finally able to make my way to the bar. □ I'll make my own way home. -5. sb's way sb's ability to move freely in the direction they want □ When I arrived at the entrance I found my way barred by an armed guard. ■ to be in the way to be in a position that prevents one from seeing, doing, or reaching something □ Excuse me, you're in the way. □ You couldn't see the sunset because there were buildings in the way. ■ to be out of the way [job, task, business] to be finished; [object, person] to be in a position that does not prevent one from doing something □ once the exams are out of the way □ Get out of the way, I can't see! □ He planned to marry her once his wife was out of the way. ■ to make way for sb/sthg to move in order to provide space for sb/sthg □ The building was demolished to make way for a parking lot. ■ to stand in sb's way to prevent sb from doing something that they have decided to do □ He never let his family life stand in the way of his career. ■ to work one's way to the top to reach a high position after long effort □ It took her years to work her way to the top of her profession. -6. to go/look a particular way to go/look in a particular direction □ Step this way, please. □ Look both ways before crossing the road. □ There's a storm heading our way. ■ the way in/out GB the entrance/exit. -7. a short/long way a short/long distance in space or time □ You didn't walk all the way, did you? □ Her parents supported her all the way through college. □ We got a ride most of the way home. □ It's a long way to the nearest city. □ Christmas is still a long way off. ■ to go a long way toward doing sthg to help a lot in achieving sthg □ That money would go a long way toward updating our computer system. -8. phrases across or over the way [be situated, live, park] on the other side of a road, open space etc □ There's a bank just across the way. ■ to give way [floor, door] to collapse under pressure, strain or weight; [person, organization] to agree to what somebody else wants after resisting for some time; GB AUTO to slow down or stop at an intersection to let other vehicles pass in front of one □ The bridge gave way underneath them. □ The city council was forced to give way in the face of public pressure. □ 'Give Way.' ■ no way! a phrase used to reject a statement or request □ No way are you borrowing my car! □ "You didn't invite him, did you?" — "No way!" ■ the right/wrong way around/up in the right/wrong position or facing the right/wrong direction □ You've got your sweater on the wrong way around. □ It would help if you held the map the right way up. ■ to get/be under way [ship, plane, person] to start/have started a trip; [meeting, trial, work] to start/have started happening □ We hope to be under way in about ten minutes. □ Production of the new model is now well under way.

◇ adv [better, above, below] used for emphasis (informal use) □ The coat was way too big for me.

- ◆ ways npl sb's ways sb's customs or habits □ My father is too set in his ways to change now.
- ◆ by the way adv a phrase used to introduce a new topic of conversation □ By the way, I saw Tim last night.
- ◆ by way of prep -1. by way of a place going through a particular place on the way □ We flew to Damascus by way of Beirut. -2. by way of sthg [of an apology, greeting, excuse] as a kind of sthg (formal use) □ She sent me a long detailed fax by way of explanation.
- ◆ in a way, in one way, in some ways adv a phrase used to say that something is partly true □ In a way I'll be glad when they all leave home.

◆ in no way adv not at all (used for emphasis) □ The visit could in no way be described as a success.

◆ in the way of prep a phrase used when talking about a particular useful or necessary feature □ She hasn't got much in the way of experience. □ How much will you need in the way of spending money?

waylay [ˈweɪleɪ] (pt & pp waylaid [-ˈleɪd]) vt to wait for <sb> and stop them as they pass, either in order to ask them something or to attack them □ Sorry I'm late. I got waylaid.

Wayne [weɪn], John (1907–1979) a US actor who appeared in many westerns, including Stagecoach and Rio Bravo.

way of life n sb's way of life the way sb lives □ Having a baby will completely change your way of life.

way-out adj [person, hairstyle, idea] that seems very strange and daring, usually because it is new (informal use).

Ways and Means Committee n the Ways and Means Committee a group within the US House of Representatives that supervises all financial legislation.

wayside ['weɪsaɪd] n the side of a road. ■ to fall by the wayside [idea, plan] to be forgotten or abandoned; [person] not to have enough energy or determination to finish something that one has started □ Almost a quarter of the students fell by the wayside during the first semester.

wayward ['weɪwɔːd] adj [person] who does what they want and is hard to control.

WC (abbr of water closet) n a toilet.

WCC (abbr of World Council of Churches) n the WCC an international organization of Christian churches that aims to encourage cooperation between its members.

we [wi:] pron -1. used to refer to a group of people that includes oneself, and sometimes includes the person one is speaking to □ We all want to thank you for your help. □ We both work in the same office. □ We could meet again next week. ■ we Americans/lawyers all Americans/lawyers, including me □ As we say in Australia... ■ we at Luxury Kitchens the company of Luxury Kitchens, including me. -2. used to show a difference between a group of people that includes oneself and another group of people □ We succeeded, but they didn't. □ What can WE do about it? □ We told you it wouldn't work. -3. used by a king, queen, pope etc to refer to themselves as an individual person □ We are not amused.

WEA (abbr of Workers' Educational Association) n the WEA an organization that runs adult education programs.

weak [wi:k] adj -1. [person, animal] that has little physical strength or energy; [structure, defense] that is not strong and will probably not last long □ The illness left him feeling very weak. -2. [person] who is not brave or confident □ a weak personality. -3. [government, leader, president] that has not much control; [currency] that is low in value □ a weak pound.

 -4. [plot, argument, excuse] that does not make people believe that it is true or right.
 -5. [light] that is not bright or clear; [cry, signal] that is not loud or clear. -6. [tea, coffee, gin and tonic] that does not have a strong taste, because a lot of water or other liquid has been added to it. -7. to be weak on sthg [on a subject] not to know very much about sthg; [of facts, details] not to contain much of sthg that is needed to support an argument □ I've always been a little weak on geography. □ The article was a little weak on that point.

weaken ['wi:kən] ◇ vt -1. [group, force, position] to make <sthg> less powerful; [dollar, mark] to make  decrease in value □ The scandal has weakened his credibility considerably. -2. [determination, influence, person] to make <sb/sthg> less strong □ Nothing could weaken her ambition. -3. [person] to make <sb> physically weak. -4. [foundations, wall, roof] to make <sthg> less solid so that it may fall down.

◇ vi -1. [person] to become less certain about a decision or belief □ He showed no signs of weakening. -2. [person] to become physically weaker □ She's weakening fast. -3. [authority, influence] to become less powerful. -4. [foundations, wall, roof] to become less solid □ The bridge has weakened with age. -5. [currency] to decrease in value □ The lira has weakened against the dollar.

weak-kneed [-'ni:d] adj [person] who does not do what they should do because they are not brave or determined enough (informal and disapproving use).

weakling ['wi:kliŋ] n a person who is physically weak; a person who has a weak personality (disapproving use).

weakly ['wi:kli] adv [smile, lead, shine] see weak.

weak-minded [-'maɪndəd] adj [person] who cannot think clearly or make quick decisions.

weakness ['wi:knəs] n -1. [of a person, leader, structure] see weak □ He gave in in a moment of weakness. -2. [in somebody's character] a small fault in somebody's character □ What would you consider to be your strengths and weaknesses? ■ to have a weakness for sthg [for chocolate, cake, junk food] to like sthg a lot, especially sthg that is not good for one. -3. [in a structure, plan] a weak part of something □ This is a major weakness in his argument.

weal [wi:l] n a long, raised, red mark on the skin.

wealth [welθ] n -1. a lot of money and valuable possessions that belong to a person □ a woman of considerable wealth. -2. a wealth of sthg [of ideas, experience, information] a large amount of sthg □ Mr Moran brings with him a wealth of experience in the retail trade.

wealthy ['welθi] (compar wealthier, superl wealthiest) adj [person, country, family] that has a lot of money and valuable possessions □ Her family is extremely wealthy.

wean [wi:n] vt -1. to stop feeding  milk produced by its mother and to start feeding them more solid food. -2. to wean sb off sthg [off cigarettes, alcohol, drugs] to gradually make sb less dependent on sthg.

weapon ['wepən] n an object, e.g. a knife, gun, or bomb, that is used in a fight or a war, to harm or kill people □ a nuclear/chemical weapon.

weaponry ['wepənri] n a collective term for weapons.

wear [weə] (pt wore, pp worn) ◇ vt -1. [jewelry, clothes, make-up] to have <sthg> on one's body □ She never wears a bra. □ What perfume are you wearing? -2. [hair] to arrange <one's hair> in a particular way □ She used to wear her hair loose/in a bun. -3. [fabric, surface] to gradually damage <sthg> by using it a lot so that it becomes thinner and weaker □ Prolonged use had worn the tires.

◇ vi -1. [clothes, shoes, carpet] to become damaged by use over a period of time. -2. to wear badly [shoes, material, clothes] to be easily damaged by use. ■ to wear well [shoes, material] to stay in good condition despite being old or used a lot □ My mother's wearing well for sixty. -3. phrase to wear thin [excuse, joke] to have been heard so often that it does not have much effect any more.

◇ n -1. day/leisure wear clothes for wearing during the day/one's leisure time □ casual/evening wear. -2. [to clothes, machinery] damage to clothes, shoes, part of a machine etc caused by use over a period of time □ Those pants are beginning to show signs of wear. ■ wear and tear damage caused by normal use over a period of time. -3. the act or state of being used, especially as clothing □ My black coat hasn't had much wear. ■ to be the worse for wear [shoes, carpet, curtains] to be badly damaged because they have been used a lot over a period of time; [person] to be in a bad physical or mental state, usually as a result of drinking too much.

◆ wear away ◇ vt sep to wear sthg away [rock, wood] to make sthg become thinner or smaller, usually over a long period of time. ◇ vi: The edges of the stone steps had all worn away.

◆ wear down ◇ vt sep -1. to wear sthg down [pencil point, heel of a shoe] to make sthg become smaller gradually by using it a lot. -2. to wear sb/sthg down [energy, resistance] to gradually make sb/sthg weak □ Hard work/illness has worn him down. ◇ vi: The problem with this type of heel is that it wears down quickly.

◆ wear off vi [pain, feeling] to disappear gradually □ The effects of the injection should wear off in a few hours.

◆ wear on vi [time, evening, discussion] to pass slowly □ Everyone got more friendly as the party wore on.

◆ wear out ◇ vt sep -1. to wear sthg out [shoes, carpet, clothes] to damage sthg so much by using it over a long period of time that it cannot be used any more; [patience, strength] to finish sthg completely. -2. to wear sb out to make sb very tired □ Her persistent questioning wears me out. ◇ vi [shoes, carpet, clothes] Cheap shoes usually wear out more quickly than expensive ones.

wearable ['wɛərəbl̩] adj [clothing, shoes] that is suitable or comfortable to wear.

wearily ['wɛərəlɪ] adv [move, smile, say] see weary □ She sighed wearily.

weariness ['wɛərɪnəs] n: see weary □ A feeling of utter weariness overcame me.

wearing ['wɛərɪŋ] adj [activity, job, journey] that makes one feel mentally very tired □ It's extremely wearing having to travel two hours to work every day.

weary ['wɛəri] (compar wearier, superl weariest) adj -1. [person] who is very tired; [smile, sigh] that shows one is very tired. -2. to be weary of sthg to have had enough of sthg □ We soon became weary of city life.

weasel ['wi:zl] n a small wild animal that has a long, thin, furry body and short legs, is very fierce, and hunts small animals.

weather ['wɛðə] ◇ n conditions in the atmosphere such as sun, rain, snow, or wind, that exist at a particular time or in a particular place □ good/bad weather □ What was the weather like in Scotland? □ We had fantastic weather last weekend. ■ to be under the weather to be slightly ill □ I'm feeling a little under the weather today.

◇ vt [storm, crisis] to go through <sthg difficult> without being damaged or suffering too much □ Our marriage is strong enough to weather a few disagreements now and then.

◇ vi [rock, wood] to change in appearance or become smaller as a result of the action of sun, rain, frost etc.

weather-beaten [-bi:tɪn] adj -1. [face, skin] that looks brown and wrinkled because it has been affected by a lot of sun and wind. -2. [building, stone] that has been damaged or changed in appearance by the weather.

weatherboard ['wɛðə'bo:rd] n GB one of a series of wooden boards fixed in rows to the outside of a building to protect it from the weather.

weathercock ['wɛðə'kɒk] n a metal object in the shape of a cock placed on top of a building that shows which way the wind is blowing.

weathered ['wɛðəd] adj = weather-beaten.

weather forecast n a description, usually given on the television or radio or in a newspaper, of what the weather will be like over a particular period in the future.

weatherman ['wɛðə'mæn] (pl weathermen [-men]) n a person whose job is to give a weather forecast, especially on the television or radio.

weather map n a map that shows what the weather is like, or will be like, in different areas.

weatherproof ['wɛðə'pru:f] adj [clothing, building] that can resist extreme weather conditions □ Are you sure this tent is weatherproof?

weather report n a report on the television or radio that says what the weather is like, or will be like.

weather ship n a ship at sea that gives information about the weather.

weatherstrip ['wɛðə'strɪp] n US a strip of foam or other material fixed to the edge of a door or window to stop drafts in a building.

weather vane [-veɪn] n a piece of shaped wood or metal on top of a building which shows the direction of the wind.

weave [wi:v] (vt sense 1 pt wove, pp woven, vt sense 2 & vi pt & pp waved) ◇ vt -1. [cloth, carpet, rug] to make <sthg> by passing threads over and under longer threads stretched on a machine □ a hand-woven tapestry. -2. to weave one's way to make a path for oneself by moving around and between people, cars etc □ I saw him weaving his way toward me through the crowd. ◇ vi to go through a crowd, traffic etc by moving around and between people, cars etc. ◇ n the way in which a piece of cloth is woven □ a loose/an open weave.

weaver ['wi:və] n a person whose job is to weave cloth, carpets, baskets etc.

web [web] n -1. [of a spider] the fine net of sticky threads that a spider makes in order to catch flies. -2. [of lies, intrigue] a complicated pattern of things that happen or are done.

◆ Web n = World Wide Web.

webbed [webd] adj webbed feet feet that have skin between the toes.

webbing ['webɪŋ] n a strong material made in strips that is used to make straps, belts etc and to support the springs in chairs.

web-footed [-'fʊtəd] adj [bird, animal] that has webbed feet.

Webster ['webstə], Noah (1758–1843) a US writer who is famous for his dictionary of the American language.

wed [wed] (pt & pp wed OR wedded) (literary use) ◇ vt -1. [man, woman] to marry <sb>. -2. [priest] to marry  by performing a marriage ceremony. ◇ vi to marry.

we'd [stressed wi:d, unstressed wɪd] = we had, we would.

Wed. abbr of Wednesday.

wedded ['wedəd] adj to be wedded to sthg [to an idea, system, belief] to believe in sthg so strongly that one cannot stop believing in it.

wedding ['wedɪŋ] n a ceremony in which a man and a woman are married □ Have you been invited to Kate's wedding? □ a wedding present.

wedding anniversary n the date on which somebody got married in a previous year.

wedding cake n a large decorated cake served at the party after a wedding.

wedding dress n a dress, often long and white, worn by a woman at her wedding.

wedding reception n a formal party that is held after a wedding.

wedding ring n a ring, usually made of gold, that is worn to show that one is married.

wedge [wedʒ] ◇ n -1. a piece of solid material, thick at one end and thin at the other, that is used to hold a door, wheel, window etc firmly in one position, or to split pieces of wood. ■ to drive a wedge between people/groups etc to act in a way that causes problems between people/groups etc □ She accused me of trying to drive a wedge between her and Rob. ■ the thin end of the wedge something that is small or unimportant but that will probably lead to something much more serious □ These one-day strikes are just the thin end of the wedge. -2. a piece of cheese, cake, pie etc that is wide at one end and narrow at the other.

◇ vt -1. [door, window, table leg] to make <sthg> stay in a particular position by putting a wedge under it □ The door was wedged open with a piece of wood. -2. [body, people] to force <sb/sthg> into a very small space □ He wedged his foot in the door. □ There were four of us wedged into the back of the taxi.

Wedgwood ['wedʒwʊd], Josiah (1730–1795) a British potter, famous for china which has raised white figures or pictures on a blue or green background.

wedlock ['wedlɒk] n to be born in/out of wedlock to have parents who are/are not married to each other when one is born (literary use).

Wednesday ['wenzdeɪ] n the day of the week between Tuesday and Thursday; see also Friday.

weed [wi:d] n any wild plant that grows in a garden, field etc where it is not wanted.

◆ weed out vt sep to weed sb out to remove sb who is not wanted from a group □ We're trying to weed out the troublemakers in the class.

weeding ['wi:diŋ] n the work of removing weeds from a garden, field etc.

weedkiller ['wi:dkɪlə] n a chemical used for killing weeds.

weedy ['wi:di] (compar weedier, superl weedi-est) adj [garden, field, ground] that contains a lot of weeds.

week [wi:k] n -1. the period of seven days that begins on a Monday and ends on a Sunday □ I'll be abroad for the rest of this week. □ What day of the week are you free? □ last/next week. -2. any period of seven days □ The work took three weeks to complete. □ We'll meet again in two weeks' time. ■ a week from US OR on GB Saturday, Saturday week GB seven days after next Saturday. ■ a week ago Saturday US, a week last Saturday seven days before last Saturday. -3. the period during the week, usually from Monday to Friday, when a person is at work □ I work a forty-hour/six-day week. □ She's taking a week off work. -4. the week all the days in a week except for Saturday and Sunday □ I go to bed early during the week.

weekday ['wi:kdeɪ] n any of the days of the week except Saturday and Sunday □ The store is open weekdays but closed at the weekend.

weekend [ˌwi:k'end] n the part of the week when most people do not work, consisting of Saturday and Sunday, and sometimes including Friday evening □ What are you doing this weekend? □ Have a nice weekend! □ a weekend job. ■ on US OR at GB the weekend on Saturday and Sunday □ We usually work in the garden on the weekend.

weekly ['wi:kli] (pl weeklies) ◇ adj [visit, payment] that is made, happens, appears etc once a week □ a weekly newspaper. ◇ adv every week □ We get paid weekly. ◇ n a newspaper or magazine that is published once a week.

weeny ['wi:ni] adj very small (informal use).

weep [wi:p] (pt & pp wept) ◇ n to have a weep to cry. ◇ vt to cry <tears>. ◇ vi: I almost wept with joy/relief when I heard the news. □ He was weeping softly.

weeping willow [ˌwi:pɪŋ] n a tree that often grows near rivers and has long thin branches that hang down to the ground.

weepy ['wi:pi] (compar weepier, superl weepiest) adj [person] who wants to cry, or who cries often.

weft [weft] n the threads that run from side to side in a piece of cloth.

NOTE: Compare warp.

weigh [wei] ◇ vt -1. [person, package] to find out how heavy <sb/sthg> is using a machine □ He weighs himself every morning. □ They'll weigh your suitcase at the airport. -2. [facts, words, merits] to consider <sthg> carefully. -3. to weigh anchor to raise the anchor when a ship is leaving. ◇ vi to have a particular weight □ How much do you weigh? □ Our luggage weighed over eighty kilos.

◆ weigh down vt sep to be weighed down by OR with sthg [by a load, with bags] to be carrying sthg heavy that makes it difficult to move; [by responsibility, with problems] to feel very worried and anxious because of sthg □ She always seems to be weighed down with small children and shopping. □ I felt weighed down by guilt.

◆ weigh on vt fus to weigh on sb [worry, fear] to make sb feel very worried □ Our lack of money began to weigh on me.

◆ weigh out vt sep to weigh sthg out [food, goods] to measure a particular amount of sthg by weighing it □ Weigh out six ounces of flour.

◆ weigh up vt sep to weigh sthg/sb up [situation, plan] to consider sthg carefully in order to make a decision about it; [person] to consider sb carefully in order to reach an opinion about them □ You have to weigh up the advantages and disadvantages of being self-employed. □ I could see he was weighing me up as a possible rival.

◆ weigh upon vt fus = weigh on.

weighbridge ['weɪbrɪdʒ] n GB a machine that weighs vehicles and goods when they are driven onto a special plate in the ground.

weighing machine ['weɪŋ-] n a machine for weighing objects or people.

weight [weɪt] ◇ n -1. the amount somebody or something weighs □ Feel the weight of this bag. □ He's always worrying about his weight. ■ to put on OR gain weight to get heavier and fatter □ She's put on a lot of weight recently. ■ to lose weight to become lighter and thinner □ He was desperately trying to lose weight. ■ to take the weight off one's feet to sit down and rest (informal use) □ Come in and take the weight off your feet. -2. SPORT a heavy object that weighs a fixed amount and that people lift for exercise □ He stays in shape by lifting weights and jogging. -3. a heavy object □ The doctor has told him not to lift heavy weights. -4. the weight of sthg [of numbers, public opinion] the strong effect that sthg has □ The weight of evidence would seem to be against you. ■ to carry weight to be important □ My opinion carries little weight with them. ■ to pull one's weight to put the same amount of effort into a job as everybody else □ Certain members of the team aren't pulling their weight. ■ to throw one's weight around to think that one is very important and tell other people what to do □ He's always throwing his weight around in the office. -5. [of responsibility, guilt, sadness] an amount of something that causes a strong feeling of worry, sadness etc □ It's a weight off my mind to know that he's alright.

◇ vt to weight sthg (down) [paper, message, towel] to put a weight on sthg light to stop it from blowing away or moving.

weighted ['weɪtəd] adj to be weighted in favor of/against sb/sthg to be more favorable/unfavorable to sb/sthg □ The new tax proposals are weighted in favor of the rich.

weighting ['weɪtɪŋ] n GB an extra amount of money that is paid to employees who have to live in expensive areas □ London weighting.

weightlessness ['weɪtləsənəs] n the state of having no weight, experienced by people or objects in space □ the feeling of weightlessness.

weightlifter ['weɪtlɪftə] n a person who lifts weights as a sport or for exercise.

weightlifting ['weɪtlɪftɪŋ] n the sport or exercise of lifting weights.

weight training n physical exercise that involves lifting heavy weights □ He does OR goes weight training twice a week.

weighty ['weɪtɪ] (compar weightier, superl weightiest) adj [problem, argument, decision] that is serious and important.

weir [waɪə] n a low dam built across a river to change its level or control the flow of water.

weird [waɪəd] adj [person, idea, experience] that is very strange, especially in a frightening way □ It was really weird seeing Jack again after all this time.

weirdo ['waɪədoo] (pl weirdos) n a weird person (informal use) □ That guy's a real weirdo!

welcome ['welkəm] ◇ adj -1. [guest, person] who one is pleased to see □ Visitors are al- ways welcome. ■ to make sb welcome to treat sb in a way that makes them feel wanted and happy to be there □ The hotel staff made us very welcome. -2. you are/he is etc welcome to do sthg a phrase used when one gives permission to somebody in a friendly way to do something □ You're welcome to use any of the facilities. -3. [opportunity, suggestion, reminder] that one is pleased or grateful to receive □ Any comments would be most welcome. -4. you're welcome a phrase used to reply to somebody when they thank one □ "Thank you." — "You're welcome."

◇ n the treatment given to somebody when they arrive somewhere □ We got a very warm welcome from the manager.

◇ vt -1. [visitor, guest, representative] to greet <sb>, especially in a friendly way, when they arrive somewhere □ Your tour guide will be there to welcome you at the airport. -2. [suggestion, news, change] to accept <sthg> happily □ I'd welcome the opportunity to look around.

◇ excl a word used to greet someone when they arrive somewhere □ Welcome home/back! □ Welcome to Hong Kong!

welcoming ['welkəmɪŋ] adj [person, smile] that seems warm and friendly.

weld [weld] ◇ vt to join <pieces of metal> by heating the edges until they are soft, pressing them together, and allowing them to cool. ◇ n a join made by welding.

welder ['weldə] n a person whose job is to join pieces of metal by welding; a machine that does this job.

welfare ['welfeə] ◇ adj [worker, work, services] that gives help to people with social and financial problems. ◇ n -1. sb's welfare sb's health, safety, and happiness □ We're concerned about their welfare. -2. US money and services provided by the government for people who are poor □ The number of people living on welfare is increasing steadily.

welfare state n a social system that provides money and services for people who are poor, ill, unemployed etc.

well [wel] (compar better, superl best) ◇ adj -1. to be/feel well to be/feel in good health □ I'm not feeling very well right now. □ I hope you're all well. □ "How are you?" — "Very well, thanks." □ He's not a well man. ■ to get well to become healthy again after an illness □ We all hope you'll get well soon. -2. all is well the situation is satisfactory □ All's well with us here in Calcutta. ■ that's (all) well and good a phrase used to say that some people find something acceptable, but that better things exist □ Frozen vegetables are all well and good, but nothing can beat your own produce. ■ just as well a phrase used to say that it is fortunate that something happened or did not happen □ It's just as well we made reservations, because otherwise we wouldn't have gotten a room.

◇ adv -1. [perform, behave, make] to a high standard □ You speak Japanese very well. □ They work well together. □ a well-cut jacket □ She did well in her exams. ■ to go well [party,

- operation, interview] to be successful □ Things are going well at the moment. □ The exam went as well as could be expected. ■ well done! a phrase used to give praise and encouragement to somebody who has done something good □ You got into law school? Well done! -2. [read, clean, study] carefully and completely; [know, understand] to a great degree □ She had memorized her speech well. □ I don't really know them very well. □ as you well know. ■ well and truly [beaten, finished, empty] completely. ■ to be well in with sb to have a good relationship with sb, so that it gives one an advantage (informal use) □ Suzie's well in with the boss, isn't she? ■ you're well out of it a phrase used to say that it is good that somebody is not involved in something any more (informal use). -3. a word used to emphasize something □ As you are no doubt well aware... □ Stand well back please! □ The trip was well worth the effort. ■ well over/under... much more/less than... □ a crowd of well over 6,000 □ Attendance was well under last year's. -4. it may/might/could well happen it may/might/could easily happen □ There might well be problems over copyright.
- ◇ n -1. a deep hole in the ground that people can get water from □ The village was abandoned when the wells dried up. -2. = oil well.
- ◇ excl -1. a word used when one is not sure what to say, or when one wants to avoid seeming rude □ Well, we could always try a new approach. □ "Do you like my hat?" — "Well, it's certainly colorful." -2. a word used when one wants to correct something one has just said □ I was only gone for five minutes. Well, maybe ten. -3. oh well! an expression used to show that one accepts a situation, even though one does not like it very much □ Oh well, it probably won't make much difference. -4. well (well)! an expression used to show that one is surprised □ Well, well, look who's just arrived!
- ◆ as well adv -1. in addition (a phrase used when one wants to add extra information to something one has just said, or to include something in what was said before) □ He's good-looking, and intelligent as well. □ I'd like to go as well. -2. I/you etc may as well (do something), I/you etc might as well (do something) a phrase used to talk about something one thinks somebody should do in a particular situation, even though they do not want to □ I might as well tell you the truth.
- ◆ as well as conj a phrase used to show that something is not the only thing □ As well as a son, she also has a daughter. □ As well as working in sales, I have also been involved in distribution.
- ◆ well up vi [tears] to form in one's eyes □ Tears began to well up in her eyes.
- we'll [stressed wi:l, unstressed wil] = we shall, we will.
- well-adjusted adj [person] who is normal and happy.
- well-advised [-əd'vaɪzd] adj you/he etc would be well-advised to do sthg you/he etc should do sthg in order to be sensible □ You'd be well-advised to take out some travel insurance.
- well-appointed [-ə'pɔɪntəd] adj [kitchen, apartment, office] that contains furniture or equipment of good quality.
- well-balanced adj -1. [person, mind, attitude] that is sensible. -2. [diet, meal] that contains all the different kinds of food needed for good health.
- well-behaved [-bɪ'heɪvd] adj [child, dog] that behaves well.
- wellbeing ['welbi:ɪŋ] n the state of being healthy, safe, and happy □ It's not his physical wellbeing that I'm worried about.
- well-bred [-'bred] adj who comes from a good family or has very good manners.
- well-built adj [man] who is tall, strong, and muscular.
- well-chosen adj [remark, word] that is chosen with care to produce a particular effect.
- well-disposed adj to be well-disposed to(ward) sb/sthg [to a person, plan, suggestion] to feel favorable toward sb/sthg.
- well-done adj [meat] that is completely cooked.
- well-dressed [-'drest] adj [person] who wears attractive clothes of good quality.
- well-earned [-'ɜ:ɪnd] adj [vacation, rest, reward] that one deserves □ What you need is a well-earned rest!
- well-established adj [organization, link, company] that has existed for a long time and has been successful, effective etc.
- well-fed adj [person, animal] that has enough, or more than enough, to eat.
- well-groomed [-'gru:md] adj [person, hair] neat in appearance.
- well-heeled [-'hi:lɪd] adj [person] who has a lot of money (informal use).
- well-informed adj to be well-informed to know a lot about something □ She's very well-informed about this subject.
- wellington ['welɪŋtən] n a wellington (boot) a long plastic or rubber boot that reaches to below the knee and keeps out water □ a pair of wellington boots.
- Wellington the capital of New Zealand and a major port, on North Island. POPULATION: 343,000.
- Wellington ['welɪŋtən]: the Duke of Wellington (1769–1852) a British military and political leader who helped to defeat Napoleon at Waterloo in 1815, and was prime minister from 1828 to 1830.
- well-intentioned [-ɪn'tenʃnd] adj [offer, suggestion] = well-meaning.
- well-kept adj -1. [building, garden] that is tidy and in good condition. -2. [secret] that is not told to other people.
- well-known adj [person, place, story] that a lot of people know □ It's a well-known fact that smoking causes cancer.
- well-mannered adj [person] who has good well-meaning

manners and knows how to behave correctly in social situations.

well-meaning adj [suggestion, remark] that is intended to be helpful but often produces unfortunate results □ She's very well-meaning.

well-nigh adv almost □ It's well-nigh impossible.

well-off adj -1. [person, family, area] that is richer than most people. -2. to be well-off for sthg to have plenty of sthg enjoyable or necessary □ We're quite well-off for restaurants in this area. ■ not to know when one is well-off not to realize that one is fortunate (informal use) □ Some people just don't know when they're well-off!

well-paid adj [person, job] that is paid a lot of money □ The work is very well-paid.

well-preserved adj [person] who looks younger than they are, even though they are getting old.

well-proportioned [-prə'pɔ:ʃnd] adj [building, figure, sculpture] whose parts are the correct size in relation to one another.

well-read [-'red] adj [person] who has read a lot and learned about many different subjects as a result.

well-rounded [-'raʊndəd] adj [education] that is complete and covers many different subjects; [person] who has received such an education or has experienced many different things.

Wells [welz], H. G. (1866–1946) a British writer of science fiction whose best-known works include The Time Machine and The War of the Worlds.

well-spoken adj [person] who speaks correctly and politely □ a quiet, well-spoken young man.

well-thought-of adj [person, institution] that has a good reputation because of the quality of their work.

well-thought-out adj [plan, design, essay] that has been produced with careful thought so that it works well □ The course was not really well-thought-out and suffered as a result.

well-timed adj [action, remark, intervention] that is made at the right time.

well-to-do adj [person, family] that is fairly rich and has a high social position □ a well-to-do area of town.

well-wisher [-wɪʃə] n a person who admires and supports somebody and wishes them success.

well-woman clinic n GB a health center where women can get contraception, medical examinations, advice etc.

welly ['weli] (pl wellies) n = wellington (informal use).

Welsh [welʃ] ◇ n a language spoken in Wales. ◇ npl the Welsh people who live in Wales. ◇ adj; see Wales □ a Welsh accent.

Welsh rarebit [-'reə'bɪt] n a dish consisting of toasted bread covered in melted cheese.

welter ['welta] n a welter of ideas/words etc a large confused amount of ideas/words etc.

welterweight ['welta'weɪt] n a boxer who is between a heavyweight and a lightweight.

wend [wend] vt to wend one's way to go somewhere slowly (literary use).

wendy house ['wendɪ-] n GB a toy house large enough for a child to play in.

went [went] past tense of go.

wept [wept] past tense & past participle of weep.

were [stressed wɜ:ɹ, unstressed wəɹ] past tense of be.

we're [stressed wɪəɹ, unstressed wɪəɹ] = we are.

weren't [wɜ:ɹ'nt] = were not.

werewolf ['weə'wʊlf] (pl werewolves [-wʊlvz]) n in stories, horror movies etc, a person who sometimes changes into a wolf.

Wesley ['wesli], John (1703–1791) a British religious reformer who established the Methodist Church.

west [west] ◇ n -1. the direction in which the sun sets □ The wind is coming from the west. -2. the west the western part of a country or region □ the west of Ireland. ◇ adj -1. the west side/coast etc the side/coast etc in or facing the west. -2. a west wind a wind that comes from the west. ◇ adv [face, travel] toward the west □ Chicago is west of Detroit.

◆ West n the West the countries of western, northern, and southern Europe and North America; in the USA, a region between the West Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

West Bank: the West Bank the area to the west of the Jordan River, between Israel and Jordan, that was occupied by Israel from 1967. In 1993, it was declared a self-governing Palestinian region.

westbound ['westbaʊnd] adj [road, traffic, train] that is going west.

West Coast: the West Coast the Pacific coast of the USA.

NOTE: When Americans refer to the West Coast, they usually mean California.

West Country: the West Country the southwest of England.

West End: the West End the western part of central London where many large stores and theaters are found.

WEST END

The West End of London includes some of the city's most famous streets and landmarks, such as Oxford Street, Piccadilly, and Leicester Square. It also contains most of London's main theaters, which usually feature big stars in well-known plays.

westerly ['westə'li] adj -1. [direction, point] that is in or toward the west. -2. a westerly wind a wind that comes from the west.

western ['westə'n] ◇ adj -1. [part of a country, continent] that is in the west □ the western seaboard. -2. [attitude, culture, technology] that is connected with countries in the West. ◇ n a movie or novel about life in the western United States in the 19th century, especially one involving cowboys and Indians.

Western Australia the largest state in Aus- tralia, situated on the Indian Ocean. SIZE: 2,530,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,586,393. CAPITAL: Perth.

- Westerner ['westə'nɜː] n -1. a person who comes from one of the countries in the West. -2. a person who lives in the west of a particular country.
- Western Isles: the Western Isles an administrative region of Scotland, consisting of the Outer Hebrides. SIZE: 2,900 sq kms. POPULATION: 31,834. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Stornoway.
- westernize, -ise ['westə'nɑɪz] vt [culture, society] to bring the ideas, behavior etc of the countries in the West to <other countries>.
- Western Sahara a region in northwestern Africa, on the Atlantic coast between Morocco and Mauritania. SIZE: 266,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 200,000. MAIN CITY: Al-Ayoun. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: Moroccan dirham.
- Western Samoa a country in Polynesia, in the southern Pacific Ocean, consisting of nine islands. SIZE: 2,841 sq kms. POPULATION: 163,000 (Western Samoans). CAPITAL: Apia. LANGUAGE: Samoan, English. CURRENCY: tala.
- Western Standard Time n a time zone that includes the whole of Western Australia.
- West Germany the western part of Germany that was a federal republic from 1949 until the reunification of Germany in 1990.
- West Indian n & adj: see West Indies.
- West Indies [-'ɪndɪz]: the West Indies the islands in the Caribbean Sea, between Florida and Venezuela, including Cuba, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Dominica, and Trinidad.
- Westminster ['westmɪnstə] ◇ the area of central London where Buckingham Palace and Parliament are situated. ◇ n a term used for the British Parliament.
- West Point n the US army training school for officers, north of New York City.
- West Virginia a mountainous state in the eastern USA. ABBREVIATION: WV. SIZE: 62,341 sq kms. POPULATION: 1,793,477 (West Virginians). CAPITAL: Charleston.
- westward ['westwəd] ◇ adj [direction, trip] that is toward the west. ◇ adv [travel, fly, drive] toward the west □ The back of the house faces westward.
- westwards ['westwɜːdz] adv = westward.
- wet [wet] (compar wetter, superl wettest, pt & pp wet OR wetted, cont wetting) ◇ adj -1. [hair, ground, road] that is covered with or full of water or another liquid □ You should change out of those wet clothes. □ His face was wet with tears. -2. [weather, climate] rainy □ It's going to be very wet all weekend. -3. [link, concrete] that has not yet dried. ■ 'Wet paint' a phrase used on notices to warn people not to touch something that has just been painted. ◇ n GB POLITICS a moderate Conservative politician. ◇ vt -1. [hair, sponge, towel] to make <sthg>
- wet. -2. to make <one's clothes or bed> wet by urinating accidentally □ He wet himself.
- wet blanket n a person who will not join in an activity or who stops other people from enjoying themselves (disapproving use).
- wet-look adj wet-look leather/hair-gel etc leather/hair-gel etc that is shiny and looks as if it is wet.
- wet nurse n in the past, a woman who was paid to breast-feed somebody else's baby.
- wet rot n a state of decay in wood caused by a fungus.
- wet suit n a rubber suit worn by divers, surfers etc to keep them warm in cold water.
- WEU (abbr of Western European Union) n the WEU an organization of western European nations that aims to coordinate defense policies.
- we've [stressed wɪv, unstressed wɪv] = we have.
- whack [wæk] (informal use) ◇ n -1. a hard blow □ a whack on the head. -2. a share of money, profit, work etc □ We all expect our whack of the profits. ◇ vt [person, child, ball] to hit <sb/sthg> hard, especially with a flat object □ She whacked him hard over the ear.
- whacky ['wæki] adj = wacky.
- whale [weɪl] n a huge mammal that looks like a fish and lives in the sea. ■ to have a whale of a time to enjoy oneself very much (informal use).
- whaling ['weɪlɪŋ] n the activity of hunting whales for food, oil etc.
- wham [wæm] excl a sound used to indicate that something is loud or forceful (informal use).
- wharf [wɔːf] (pl wharfs OR wharves [wɔːvz]) n a platform built in a harbor or river where ships can be tied up and unloaded.
- what [US wɑt, GB wɒt] ◇ det -1. used in questions that ask somebody to choose or identify something that is part of a large group of things □ What color is it? □ What newspaper do you read? □ What kind of music do you like? □ What size/shape is it? -2. he asked me what color it was he asked me to tell him the color of it (used in indirect questions) □ They wanted to know what books I needed. -3. used in exclamations to express a strong opinion □ What a mess! □ What a lovely day! □ What a day I've had! □ What dirty water! □ What a surprise! ◇ pron -1. used to ask for information about something that one does not know □ What is in the bag? □ What did you tell him? □ What's your name? □ What did they talk about? -2. what about another drink? shall we have another drink? (used to make suggestions or offers) □ What about approaching them directly? ■ what if we did it this way? let's do it this way (a polite way of making a suggestion) □ What if we postponed the meeting till next week? -3. what if I can't/couldn't? what will happen if I can't/couldn't? (used to talk about a possible situation in the future) □ What if nobody comes? □ What if our forecast is wrong? -4. what you're doing is fine the thing that whatever

you're doing is fine (used as the subject or object of a verb) □ I didn't see what happened.
□ Nobody could understand what I was saying.

◇ excl used to express surprise or shock □ "I'm pregnant." — "What!" □ What, no money?

whatever [US wʌt'evr, GB wɒt'evə] ◇ det whatever book any book, it is not important which one □ I took whatever opportunities I could get.

◇ adv used in negative sentences to emphasize what one is saying □ They have no chance whatever of succeeding. □ There was nothing whatever we could do.

◇ pron -1. whatever happens no matter what happens (used to say that something is true in all possible situations) □ Whatever they offer OR may offer, I'll still say no. □ They go to work whatever the weather. □ Do whatever you like, I don't mind. -2. used to express surprise in questions that ask for information about a thing one does not know □ Whatever were you thinking? -3. used to refer to a thing that is not precise or not known □ The doctor says I've got jogger's knee, whatever that is. ■ or whatever or anything else □ Just bring a bottle of wine or whatever.

what's-his-name n a word used when one has forgotten somebody's name (informal use).

whatsit [US 'wʌtsət, GB 'wɒt-] n a word used when one has forgotten the name of a small object or device (informal use).

whatsoever [US ,wʌtsou'evr, GB ,wɒtsou'evə] adv used in negative sentences to emphasize what one is saying □ I have no desire to meet him whatsoever. □ nothing whatsoever.

wheat [wi:t] n the grain from which flour, pasta etc is made; the plant that produces this grain.

wheatbread n US bread made from whole-wheat flour.

wheat germ n the center of a grain of wheat that contains a lot of the substances needed for health and growth.

wheatmeal ['wi:tmi:l] n a type of brown flour made from wheat grains.

wheedle ['wi:dɪl] vt to wheedle sb into doing sthg to persuade sb to do sthg by saying nice things that one does not really mean □ She wheedled me into looking after the children. ■ to wheedle sthg out of sb [truth, money] to persuade sb gradually to give one sthg □ See if you can wheedle an extra ticket out of him.

wheel [wi:l] ◇ n -1. a round object that turns around on a rod that is fixed to its center and on which a vehicle such as a car moves along the ground □ One of the back wheels got stuck in the mud. -2. AUTO a steering wheel. ■ to be at OR behind the wheel to be driving.

◇ vt [bicycle, cart, trolley] to move <sthg on wheels> □ She was wheeling a baby in a carriage. ◇ vi -1. [birds] to fly in a circle with frequent changes of direction. -2. to wheel around to turn around quickly.

wheelbarrow [US 'wi:lberou, GB -bær-] n an open container with one wheel at the front and two handles at the back that is used for carrying things in gardens, on building sites etc.

wheelbase ['wi:lbeɪs] n the distance between the front and back wheels of a vehicle.

wheelchair ['wi:lʃeə] n a chair with wheels in which people who cannot walk are pushed or move themselves □ an electric wheelchair □ wheelchair access.

wheel clamp n a device that is attached to the wheel of a vehicle parked illegally to prevent the vehicle from being driven. The driver has to pay to have it removed.

◆ wheel-clamp vt to put a wheel clamp on .

wheeler-dealer ['wi:lɔː-] n a person who does a lot of wheeling and dealing (disapproving use).

wheelie bin ['wi:lɪ-] n GB a large container for garbage that has two wheels so that it can be moved easily.

wheeling and dealing [,wi:lɪŋ-] n unfair or dishonest methods used to succeed in business or politics (disapproving use).

wheeze [wi:z] vi to breathe with a whistling or hissing sound.

wheezy ['wi:zi] (compar wheezier, superl wheeziest) adj [person, voice, cough] that wheezes.

whelk [welk] n a small sea creature similar to a snail that can be eaten.

when [wen] ◇ adv used in questions that ask for information about the time something happens. ■ when does the plane arrive? what time does the plane arrive? □ I wasn't sure when to leave. ■ when did you get married? what date/year did you get married? □ When is your birthday? ■ he asked me when I would be in London he asked me the date I would be in London.

◇ conj -1. used to say the time something happens in relation to another event or action. ■ they visited me when I was sick I was sick, and they visited me during that time □ The phone rang when I was taking a shower. ■ when you've finished, you can go after you've finished, you can go □ It was when I was posted to Tokyo. ■ on the day when it happened on the day during which it happened. -2. used to emphasize a difference between two facts, actions, or events □ They used our idea when they had no right to. ■ she said she was sick when she wasn't she said she was sick, but she wasn't really. -3. used to introduce the reason for a statement or question □ It's wrong to waste food when people are dying of hunger. ■ how can I buy it when I can't afford it? I can't afford it, so how can I buy it?

whenever [wen'evə] ◇ conj -1. whenever I go every time I go □ Whenever I try to arrange a meeting she says she's busy. -2. whenever you like at any time you like □ You can use the computer whenever you want. ◇ adv -1. used to express surprise in questions that ask for information about the time something happens □ Whenever do you find time to work with two young children to look after? -2. used to refer to a time in the future that is not precise □ "When do you want it done by?" — "Oh, whenever."

where [weəʃ] ◇ adv -1. used in questions that ask for information about the place somebody or something is in or goes to. ■ where do you live? in what place do you live? □ Where's my pen? □ Where do you want to go on vacation this year? □ Tell me where you bought your sunglasses. -2. used to indicate a particular point in a discussion, situation etc □ I don't know where to start! □ That's where I don't agree.

◇ conj & pron -1. I found it where I'd left it I found it in the place where I'd left it □ We should open our store where there isn't too much competition. ■ go where I went go to the place I went to □ a place where you can feel comfortable. ■ the house where I was born the house in which I was born. ■ this is where it happened this is the place in which it happened. -2. used to emphasize the difference between two actions or situations □ Children will often understand computers where an adult will not.

whereabouts [adv ,weəə'baʊts, n 'weəəbaʊts] ◇ adv used in questions that ask for precise information about the place somebody or something is in or is going to □ Whereabouts in India do you live? □ Whereabouts in Italy are you going on vacation? ◇ npl the exact place that somebody or something is in □ Their whereabouts are still unknown.

whereas [weəə'æz] conj used to show that two facts, actions, or events are different □ My old office was small, whereas my new one is quite big.

whereby [weəə'baɪ] conj a system whereby it is possible a system that makes it possible (formal use) □ a new bill whereby divorced wives will have a share of their husband's pension.

whereupon [,weəə'pɒn] conj used to say that one thing happens immediately after another. ■ they said no, whereupon I left they said no, and then I left (formal use).

wherever [weəə'veəʃ] ◇ conj -1. wherever he stays in every place he stays □ Wherever my mother went, the dog followed. ■ wherever I go in every place I go to □ We were treated well wherever we went. -2. sit wherever you like sit in any place you want □ Put the files down wherever there's room. -3. wherever possible in every possible situation □ We try to avoid causing disruption wherever possible. -4. used to show that one does not know where somebody or something is □ He lives in Butte, wherever that is. □ Wherever it is, I can't find it.

◇ adv -1. used to express surprise in questions that ask for information about where somebody or something is or goes □ Wherever did you hear that? -2. used to refer to a place that is not precise □ "Where should I put it?" — "Oh, wherever."

wherewithal ['weəʃ'wiðɔ:l] n to have the wherewithal to do sthg to have the money or equipment needed to do sthg (formal use).

whet [wet] (pt & pp whetted, cont whetting) vt to whet sb's appetite to make sb want more of something □ The weekend away only whetted my appetite for another vacation.

whether ['weðəʃ] conj -1. used to introduce indirect questions where there are two possibilities □ I don't know whether I'll be able to come or not. □ We weren't sure whether to say yes or no. -2. used to say that something is true in either of two possible situations that one mentions □ Whether you want to or not, you still have to do it. □ I need to know by tomorrow whether the answer is yes or no.

whew [fju:] excl a sound that one makes when one is very hot, relieved, or surprised.

whey [wei] n the watery liquid left after the thick part of sour milk is removed during the process of making cheese.

which [wɪtʃ] ◇ det -1. used in questions that ask for information where there is a choice or doubt between two or more things □ Which department do you work in? □ Which one do you prefer? □ Which ones are the best, in your opinion? □ Do you know which bidder got the contract? -2. used to refer to something that has been mentioned in the first part of the sentence. ■ in which case in the case that has been mentioned □ I may be needed somewhere else, in which case I have to leave early.

◇ pron -1. used in questions that ask for information where there is a choice or doubt between two or more things. ■ which do you prefer? what one do you prefer, from a limited number? □ Which is the one that we decided to buy? □ Which are going to be the most popular? □ I can't decide which to have.

-2. used to refer to something that has been mentioned in the first part of the sentence □ I bought the computer which was on special offer. □ Have you got a book which gives information about hotels? -3. used to give more information about something that has been mentioned in the first part of the sentence □ My car, which is pretty old, often breaks down. □ The service, which I've complained about before, is terrible. -4. used to refer to the first part of the sentence. ■ she's late, which is unusual the fact that she is late is unusual □ She said she didn't know, which surprised me.

whichever [wɪtʃ'veəʃ] ◇ det -1. whichever job I get any job I get, it is not important which one □ The trip takes two hours whichever route you take. -2. whichever color you like the particular color which you like □ You can use whichever program you know best. ◇ pron -1. whichever is best the one which is best □ We can have whichever of the apartments has the best view. -2. whichever you take no matter which one you take □ Whichever plan you decide on, things won't be easy.

whiff [wɪf] n -1. to get a whiff of sthg [of smoke, perfume, onions] to smell sthg slightly □ I caught a whiff of alcohol on his breath as he walked by. -2. a whiff of danger/scandal etc a sign of something dangerous/scandalous etc that might be happening.

while [waɪl] ◇ n a period of time □ I can only stay a while. ■ after a while after quite a long time □ After a while I got bored. □ It's been quite a while since we last met. ■ for a while for quite a long time □ We spoke for a while. ■ it's (not) worth your while it's (not) worth the time and effort you would have to spend on it.

◇ conj -1. while I am here during the time that I am here □ We met while we were working in Paris. □ While I was waiting for the results I had a coffee. -2. while he is here if he is here □ You'll never get promotion while he's in charge. -3. used to show that two facts, actions, or events are different □ I like tea, while she prefers coffee. □ She thinks it's easy, while it's actually very difficult.

◇ vt to while the time away to spend one's time doing something when one is waiting for somebody or something, or when one is not doing anything important.

whilst [waɪlst] conj = while.

whim [wɪm] n a sudden idea or desire, especially one that is not very practical or reasonable □ He just decided to do it on a sudden whim.

whimper ['wɪmpə] ◇ vt [word, excuse, apology] to say <sthg> in a weak or frightened way, as though about to cry □ "I'm really sorry," he whimpered. ◇ vi [child, animal] to make soft low cries that express pain or unhappiness □ The baby lay whimpering. ◇ n: He went to bed without a whimper.

whimsical ['wɪmzɪkl] adj [thought, idea, person] that one thinks is strange in an amusing way.

whine [waɪn] ◇ vi -1. [child, dog] to make a long high sound, usually expressing pain or unhappiness. -2. [person] to complain, especially in a high unpleasant voice, about something unimportant □ He's always whining about his boss. ◇ n the sound made by somebody or something that whines □ We heard the whine of the sirens.

whinge [wɪndʒ] (cont whingeing) vi GB & AUS to complain in a way that annoys other people □ She never stops whingeing about her boyfriend.

whip [wɪp] (pt & pp whipped, cont whipping) ◇ n -1. a long piece of rope or leather attached to a short handle that is used for hitting animals or people. -2. POLITICS a member of a political party who makes sure that other members are present when voting takes place □ the House Republican Whip. ◇ vt -1. to hit  with a whip, especially on the back. -2. to strike <sb/sthg> hard □ The cold wind whipped her face. -3. to whip sthg out/off to take sthg out/off quickly □ He whipped a $10 bill out of his wallet. □ She whipped off her coat. -4. [cream, eggs] to beat <food> until it is thick and full of air.

◆ whip up vt sep to whip sthg up [excitement, interest, resentment] to cause people to feel sthg; to deliberately make sthg stronger □ The aim of a launch is to whip up enthusiasm for the new product.

whiplash ['wɪplæʃ] n an injury to one's neck caused when one's head is suddenly thrown forward and then back, e.g. in a car accident □ A number of passengers were taken to hospital suffering from whiplash □ a whiplash injury.

whipped cream ['wɪpt-] n cream that has been beaten until it is thick and full of air.

whippet ['wɪpət] n a small thin dog with long legs, similar to a greyhound.

whirl [wɜːl] ◇ n -1. [of dust, sand, smoke] a fast spinning movement. ■ to be in a whirl [mind, head, thoughts] to be in a state of confusion. -2. a number of events, parties, meetings etc following one after the other very quickly. -3. phrase let's give it a whirl let's try it (informal use). ◇ vt to whirl sb/sthg around to turn sb/sthg around quickly. ◇ vi -1. [sand, dust, leaves] to spin quickly and in an uncontrolled way. -2. [head, mind] to be confused or excited.

whirlpool ['wɜːlpuːl] n a powerful spinning mass of water in a river or sea that sucks things into its center.

whirlwind ['wɜːlwɪnd] ◇ adj a whirlwind romance/affair etc a romance/affair etc that happens very quickly. ◇ n a tall spinning mass of air that can damage crops, buildings etc.

whirr [wɜːr] ◇ vi [machinery, engine, insect's wings] to make a low, regular, beating noise □ The cameras whirred into action. ◇ n the sound made by something that whirrs □ the whirr of machinery.

whisk [wɪsk] ◇ n COOKING a device used to beat air into cream, eggs etc □ a hand/an electric whisk. ◇ vt -1. to move <sb/sthg> somewhere quickly, especially to prevent them from being seen □ She was whisked away in a taxi. □ He whisked the letter out of his pocket. -2. [cream, sauce, egg] to beat <sthg> using a whisk in order to mix in air.

whisker ['wɪskə] n [of a cat, rabbit, mouse] a long stiff hair that grows near the mouth of some animals.

◆ whiskers npl the hair on the sides of a man's face.

whiskey ['wɪskɪ] (pl whiskeys) n an alcoholic drink that is made from grain, is golden in color, and usually comes from Ireland or the United States; a glass of this drink.

whisky ['wɪskɪ] (pl whiskies) n an alcoholic drink that is made from barley, is golden in color, and usually comes from Scotland; a glass of this drink.

whisper ['wɪspə] ◇ n a soft quiet voice □ She spoke in a whisper. ◇ vt [word, reply, name] to say <sthg> very quietly, using one's breath not one's voice. ◇ vi: What are you two whispering about?

whispering ['wɪspərɪŋ] n the act of speaking in a whisper.

whist [wɪst] n a card game for four people, playing in two pairs. Each pair tries to win more cards than the other.

whistle ['wɪsl] ◇ n -1. [of a policeman, referee, guard] a small device consisting of a small curved piece of metal that makes a loud high noise when one blows through it; [on a train, kettle] a device that makes a loud high sound when steam is forced through it □ We heard the sound of a whistle. -2. a high sound made by blowing or sucking air in between one's lips or teeth; a sound similar to this made e.g. by blowing air or forcing steam through a whistle □ She gave a loud whistle. □ That's the referee's final whistle.

◇ vt [tune, melody] to produce <music> by blowing and sucking air in between the lips or teeth □ He always whistles hymns in the bathtub.

◇ vi -1. [person] I learned to whistle when I lost my front teeth. ■ to whistle at sb to whistle loudly while looking at sb to show one finds them sexually attractive. -2. [bird, kettle, train] to produce a high loud sound □ Several bullets whistled overhead.

Whistler ['wɪslər], James (1834–1903) a US artist who is known for his portraits, especially the one of his mother.

whistle-stop tour n a very fast tour of a country, region etc, especially by a politician, with short stops in each place.

Whit [wɪt] n GB = Whitsun □ Whit Monday.

white [waɪt] ◇ adj -1. [paint, cloud, sock] that is the color of milk or snow □ bright white clouds overhead. ■ to go OR turn white [hair] to become white as a result of old age, shock, or illness; [face, person] to become pale. -2. [person, community, race] that has pale skin and is of European origin □ The man is white and in his early thirties. -3. white coffee coffee that has milk or cream in it □ Do you want your coffee white or black?

◇ n -1. the color of milk or snow □ Do you have this sweater in white? -2. a person with pale skin, of European origin. -3. the white of an egg the part of an egg that surrounds the yellow center □ Separate the yolk from the white. -4. the white of sb's eye the white part of sb's eyeball.

◆ whites npl -1. SPORT the white clothes worn for playing tennis, cricket etc. -2. white or pale clothes that are washed together in a washing machine.

White [waɪt], Patrick (1912–1990) an Australian writer whose novels include The Tree of Man and Voss.

white blood cell n a blood cell that fights infection.

whiteboard ['waɪtbɔ:d] n a board with a smooth white surface that is fixed to a wall in schools, offices etc and that can be written on using special pens.

white Christmas n a Christmas Day when it snows.

white-collar adj [worker, union, job] that is connected with people who work in offices or in one of the professions.

NOTE: Compare blue-collar.

white elephant n something that is considered large, useless, and a waste of money.

white goods npl a collective term for large machines used in the home, e.g. stoves, washing machines, and refrigerators.

white-haired [-'heərd] adj [person] who has white hair.

Whitehall ['waɪthɔ:l] ◇ a street in central London where many government offices are situated. ◇ n a term used to refer to the British government, especially government departments.

white-hot adj [metal] that is so hot that it looks white.

White House ◇ the White House the official home of the president of the United States.

◇ n the White House a term used to refer to the president of the USA and his cabinet □ Reports from the White House say the President will be leaving soon for France. □ a White House aide.

white knight n a person or organization that saves a company that is in financial trouble.

white lie n a small lie that is told for a good reason, especially in order to be polite.

white magic n magic that is used for doing good things.

white meat n meat such as pork or chicken that is pale when cooked.

NOTE: Compare red meat.

whiten ['waɪtn] ◇ vt [clothes, shoes] to make <sthg> white or whiter. ◇ vi to become white or whiter.

whitener ['waɪtnə] n a substance used to whiten clothes, shoes etc.

white noise n noise that is made up of a wide range of frequencies, all of the same strength.

whiteout ['waɪtaʊt] n -1. a condition created when there is snow and white cloud and it becomes difficult to see properly. -2. US a white liquid that can be painted onto paper to cover mistakes in typing or writing.

White PagesTM npl the White Pages in the USA, a list in a book that gives the names, addresses, and phone numbers of all the people, businesses etc in an area or city that have phones.

White Paper n POLITICS in Britain and Australia, an official report stating the government's ideas on a particular subject.

white sauce n a thick sauce made of flour, butter, and milk.

white spirit n GB a colorless liquid made from petroleum and used to clean paintbrushes, make paint thinner etc.

white-tie adj [dinner, function] at which men wear formal evening dress, including white bow ties.

white trash[▼] n US poor white people (offensive use).

whitewash ['waɪtwɒʃ] ◇ n -1. a thin white substance made from lime that is used for painting walls, buildings etc □ The walls were covered in whitewash. -2. the act of whitewashing an affair □ The commission's report has been denounced as a whitewash. ◇ vt -1. [wall, house] to paint  with whitewash. -2. [crime, affair, scandal] to hide <sthg bad>, e.g. a crime, or make it appear whitewater rafting

less bad in order to protect the person or people responsible □ Officials have been accused of whitewashing the whole affair.

whitewater rafting [US ˈwaɪtwɔːtərˈræftɪŋ, GB -wɔːtərˈrɑːftɪŋ] n the sport of traveling down a fast-flowing river in an inflatable rubber boat.

white wedding n a formal wedding at which the bride wears a white dress.

whiting [ˈwaɪtɪŋ] (pl whiting OR whittings) n a silver sea fish with a dark back that is eaten for food.

Whitman [ˈwɪtmən], Walt (1819–1892) a US poet who wrote about nature and democracy. His collected works are called Leaves of Grass.

Whitsun [ˈwɪtsn] n in the Christian religion, the seventh Sunday after Easter, commemorating the day the Holy Spirit came down from Heaven.

Whittington [ˈwɪtɪŋtən], Dick (1358–1423) a British businessman who became mayor of London. According to popular stories, he walked to London with his cat when he was thirteen years old.

whittle [ˈwɪtl] ♦ whittle away vt sep to whittle sth away [support, majority] to reduce sth gradually, often with damaging results □ Inflation has whittled away the value of savings.

♦ whittle down vt sep to whittle sth down to make sth smaller □ I've whittled the shortlist down to six.

whiz, whizz [wɪz] (pt & pp whizzed, cont whizzing) ◇ n to be a whiz at sth [at computers, tennis, chess] to be very good at sth (informal use). ◇ vi [car, ball, train] to move quickly, often with a loud whistling sound □ Bullets whizzed overhead. □ An hour later we were whizzing toward L.A.

whiz(z) kid n a person who is very successful while they are still young (informal use).

who [huː] pron -1. used in questions that ask for information about an unknown person □ Who are you? □ Who's speaking, please? □ Who's your doctor? □ Who were you speaking to just now? -2. I asked who did it I asked the name of the person that did it (used in indirect questions). -3. used to refer to a person mentioned in the first part of the sentence, or to give extra information about them □ I know someone who can help. □ The people who moved in next door are having a party. □ She's the one who dealt with my complaint. □ a person who we all admire □ My grandmother, who's 96, lives on her own.

WHO (abbr of World Health Organization) n the WHO an international organization that aims to improve the health of people in all countries.

who'd [huːd] = who had, who would.

whodu(n)nit [ˌhuːˈdʌnɪt] n a movie, novel, or play about a murder in which the murderer is not named until the end (informal use).

whoever [huːˈevəʃ] pron -1. whoever did it the person who did it □ Whoever finds it will get a reward. -2. used to express surprise in questions □ Whoever would have thought she would have been so successful? -3. whoever it is no matter who it is □ Whoever wins the legal battle, consumers will be the ones who suffer. □ Whoever calls, I don't want to be disturbed.

whole [həʊl] ◇ adj -1. the whole world all of the world. ■ a whole year all of a year □ We ate a whole chocolate cake between the two of us. -2. whole bananas bananas that have not been cut into pieces. -3. used for emphasis. ■ a whole lot of questions very many questions. ■ a whole lot bigger much bigger. ◇ adv a whole new idea a completely new idea. ◇ n -1. the whole of sth all of sth □ The new fashion has swept the whole of the country. -2. something that has parts, but is considered as a single object □ Two halves make a whole.

♦ as a whole adv when all the individual people or things are considered as a single group □ The department as a whole has performed well this year.

♦ on the whole adv a phrase used to say that something is generally true, even though there are some exceptions □ On the whole we enjoyed our vacation.

wholefood [ˈhəʊlfuːd] n food, such as brown rice or whole-wheat flour, that has been changed as little as possible from its natural state and has not had other substances added to it □ a wholefood restaurant.

whole-hearted [ˈhʊːtəd] adj [approval, effort, agreement] that is given or made completely and willingly □ You have my whole-hearted support.

wholemeal [ˈhəʊlmiːl] adj GB = whole-wheat.

whole note n US a musical note with a value equal to two half notes.

wholesale [ˈhəʊlseɪl] ◇ adj -1. BUSINESS that is connected with the practice of buying large quantities of goods cheaply from manufacturers and selling them to stores □ a wholesale wine warehouse □ the wholesale price. -2. [theft, destruction] that occurs on a large scale (disapproving use) □ the wholesale slaughter of innocent civilians. ◇ adv -1. BUSINESS [buy, sell] It's cheaper to buy wholesale. -2. [destroy, slaughter] You can't take solutions from other countries and apply them wholesale to the situation here.

NOTE: Compare retail.

wholesaler [ˈhəʊlseɪləʃ] n a person who sells goods wholesale.

wholesome [ˈhəʊlsəm] adj -1. [food, diet] that is healthy because it consists of natural ingredients. -2. [reading, entertainment] that is morally good and not offensive in any way.

whole-wheat adj [flour, pastry] that is made from whole grains of wheat with nothing removed.

who'll [huːl] = who will.

wholly [ˈhəʊli] adv [responsible, wrong, unsuitable] completely □ You are not wholly to blame. □ It appears that we were wholly mistaken in our assumptions.

whom [huːm] pron (formal use) -1. whom did

- you see? which person did you see? (used as the object of a question) □ Whom has the committee chosen as its representative? ■ with whom did you go? which person did you go with? (used after prepositions) □ To whom should I address the application? -2. used to refer to a person mentioned in the first part of the sentence, or to give more information about them □ the patient whom the doctor examined □ the manager to whom I complained □ She has three children, none of whom is of school age.
- whoop [US hu:p, GB wu:p] ◇ n a shout of joy or excitement □ He gave a whoop of delight. ◇ vi to give a whoop.
- whoopee ['wupi:] excl a word that one uses to show that one is very happy or excited about something.
- whooping cough ['hu:pɪŋ-] n a serious infectious disease that affects children and makes them cough and produce a long high-pitched noise when they breathe in.
- whoops [wʊps] excl a word that one uses after doing something by accident or making a small mistake □ Whoops! I almost fell. □ Whoops! You weren't supposed to hear that.
- whoosh [wʊʃ] (informal use) ◇ n a sudden soft sound made by something moving through air or water very quickly □ a whoosh of air. ◇ vi to move with a whoosh □ The champagne came whooshing out all over us.
- whop [wɒp] (pt & pp whopped, cont whopping) vt [opponent, team, rival] to beat <sb/sthg> (informal use).
- whopper ['wɒpə] n (informal use) -1. something that is unusually large compared to other things of its kind. -2. a serious lie.
- whopping ['wɒpɪŋ] (informal use) ◇ adj a whopping increase/majority etc an increase/a majority etc that is unusually large. ◇ adv: a whopping great lie/bruise.
- whore ▼ [hɔ:'] n (offensive use) -1. a woman who has sex with men for money. -2. a woman who has sex with a lot of different men.
- who're ['hu:ə] = who are.
- whose [hu:z] ◇ pron -1. whose is this? who does this belong to (used in direct questions) □ Whose pen is this? ■ tell me whose this is tell me who this belongs to (used in indirect questions). -2. used to refer to a person or thing that is associated with somebody or something mentioned in the first part of the sentence □ the scientist whose ideas have shaken the world □ She's the woman whose son had that terrible accident. ◇ det whose book is this? who does this book belong to? □ I'd like to know whose idea it was.
- whosoever [,hu:sou'evə] pron whoever (literary use).
- Who's Who n a list of famous and important people in a particular country or area of work.
- who've [hu:v] = who have.
- why [waɪ] ◇ adv used to ask the reason for something □ Why didn't you tell me? □ Why waste your time? He won't listen to you. ◇ conj -1. I don't understand why it's taken so long. □ We should ask ourselves why these figures were never published. □ Tell me why you're leaving. -2. phrase why not? used to make a suggestion, or to agree to a suggestion □ Why not invite them along? □ "Let's have something to eat." — "Yes, why not." ◇ pron used after "reason" □ There's no reason why you can't come. □ It's one of the many reasons why I gave up eating meat. ◇ excl US used to show that one is feeling surprised or annoyed □ Why, it's Jenny! □ Why, that's no way to treat your own brother!
- ◆ why ever adv used to show that one is surprised by something and wants to know the reason for it □ "I don't think we should tell them." — "Why ever not?"
- WI ◇ n abbr of Women's Institute. ◇ -1. abbr of West Indies. -2. abbr of Wisconsin.
- wick [wɪk] n -1. [of a candle] the string that runs through a candle and burns. -2. [of a lamp] the string of an oil lamp or cigarette lighter that draws up fuel to the flame.
- wicked ['wɪkəd] adj -1. [person] who is bad and has no morals □ a wicked witch. -2. [person, look, humor] that is slightly bad but in a way that is playful and attractive □ a wicked grin. -3. [movie, music, place] that one thinks is very good (informal use) □ That was a wicked party!
- wickedness ['wɪkədɪnəs] n [of a person, deed] see wicked.
- wicker ['wɪkə] adj a wicker chair/basket etc a chair/basket etc that is made of thin woven branches or reeds.
- wickerwork ['wɪkə'wɜ:k] n a material made of thin woven branches or reeds □ a wickerwork basket/chair.
- wicket ['wɪkət] n in cricket, either of the two sets of three wooden sticks with two pieces of wood on top of them at which the ball is thrown; the ground between these two sets of sticks.
- wicket keeper n in cricket, the player who stands behind the wicket.
- wide [waɪd] ◇ adj -1. [room, river, ocean] that is a large distance from one side to the other; that is a particular distance from one side to the other □ She gave us a wide grin. □ a three-foot wide hole □ It's six meters wide. -2. [eyes] that are more open than usual, expressing fear, surprise, or interest □ His eyes were wide with terror. -3. [range, choice, selection] that includes a large number of different things □ There is a wide variety of models available. -4. [coverage, interest, knowledge] that is great in size or amount □ The committee has wide powers to investigate and bring charges. -5. [gap, difference] large □ There are wide variations in viewing patterns. -6. the wider issues/context etc the more general issues/context etc of a situation rather than the details □ We need to examine the wider implications of these proposals. -7. to go/be wide [shot, punch, ball] to miss/have missed the point one was aiming at by going past one side of it.

◇ adv [spread, open] so that there is a large space between one side and the other □ She flung her arms wide in greeting.

-wide suffix added to words to mean that something is happening or exists all over a particular area □ nation-wide □ country-wide.

wide-angle lens n a lens that allows a wide view to be photographed.

wide area network n a network of computers linked together over a large area, such as a region or country, to share information.

wide-awake adj to be wide-awake to be completely awake □ I lay there wide-awake for most of the night.

wide-eyed [-'aɪd] adj -1. [person] whose eyes are wide open with fear, surprise, or interest □ She looked at me in wide-eyed astonishment. -2. [person] who is too willing to believe or trust people because they do not have much experience of life □ a wide-eyed innocent.

widely ['waɪdli] adv -1. [travel, publicize] in many places □ His later operas are still widely performed. -2. widely known/accepted etc known/accepted etc by a lot of people □ a widely held belief. -3. [differ, vary] to a large extent □ Historians differ widely in their interpretation of these events. -4. to be widely read to have read many different books.

widen ['waɪdn] ◇ vt -1. [road, bridge, distance] to make <sthg> wider □ There are plans to widen the road to accommodate more traffic. -2. [outlook, appeal, gap] to increase the size or range of <sthg> □ Customs officials are widening their investigations. ◇ vi -1. [road, bridge] The river widens before reaching the sea. -2. [outlook, appeal, choice] The range of alternatives has widened in recent years. □ The gap separating rich and poor seems to be widening.

wide open adj [window, door, mouth] completely open □ The children ran toward me, arms wide open. □ Her eyes were wide open in amazement. □ the wide-open spaces of Australia.

wide-ranging [-'reɪndʒɪŋ] adj [report, investigation, research] that includes many different aspects of something □ There then followed a series of talks which the President described as friendly and wide-ranging.

widespread ['waɪdspred] adj [panic, dismay, destruction] that exists or happens over a large area or among many people □ There is widespread concern about the possible side effects of these drugs.

widget ['wɪdʒət] n a term used to refer to a small device whose exact name one does not know.

widow ['wɪdʊ] n a woman whose husband has died and who has not married again.

widowed ['wɪdʊd] adj [person] whose husband or wife has died □ He lives with his widowed mother.

widower ['wɪdʊə] n a man whose wife has died and who has not married again.

width [wɪðθ] n -1. the distance from one side of an object to the other □ We'll have to measure the width of the doorway. ■ in width from one side to the other □ The wardrobe is four feet in width. -2. the distance across a rectangular swimming pool □ I was only able to swim a couple of widths.

widthways ['wɪðweɪz] adv [measure, cut, fold] across the width.

wield [waɪld] vt -1. [knife, tool, stick] to hold <sthg> in a threatening way to show that one intends to use it as a weapon □ soldiers wielding automatic rifles. -2. [power, authority] to have and be ready or able to use <sthg> □ As director he wields a great deal of influence.

wife [waɪf] (pl wives) n the woman that a man is married to □ Have you met my wife?

wig [wɪɡ] n a covering of false hair worn to hide one's own hair or lack of hair.

wiggle ['wɪɡl] ◇ n -1. the act of wiggling a part of one's body, e.g. one's hips or toes. -2. a wavy line. ◇ vt [hips, toe, bottom] to move  with small movements backward and forward or from side to side □ Can you wiggle your ears? ◇ vi [hips, bottom, tail] Her hips wiggled as she walked.

wiggly ['wɪɡli] (compar wigglier, superl wiggliest) adj [line, path] that has many curves in it (informal use).

wigwam [US 'wɪgwɑ:m, GB -wæm] n a tall round tent that some Native Americans used to live in.

Wilberforce ['wɪlbə'fɔ:s], William (1759–1833) a British politician who played an important part in making slavery illegal in the British Empire.

wild [waɪld] ◇ adj -1. [rabbit, cat] that is not trained to live with people and lives in natural conditions □ wild animals such as tigers and lions. -2. [person, dog, attack] that is violent and uncontrolled □ There are some really wild children in that class. -3. [coastline, scenery] that is in a natural state and has not been changed by people; [rose, grass] that is not grown in gardens □ This part of the coast is still wild and unspoilt. □ We picked wild strawberries. -4. [weather, sea] that is very violent and stormy □ a wild wind/night. -5. [laughter, applause, expression] that shows strong and uncontrolled feelings □ The crowd went wild. □ He was wild with grief/anger. ■ to run wild [dog, child] to behave in an uncontrolled way; [plant, garden] to grow in an uncontrolled way □ She lets those children run wild. □ The ivy had run wild. -6. [hope, plan] that is not sensible □ The book was successful beyond our wildest dreams. -7. [estimate, suggestion] that is made without careful thought □ It was just a wild guess. -8. to be wild about sb/sthg [about music, sport] to like sb/sthg a lot □ I'm not wild about the idea.

◇ n in the wild [survive, live] in natural conditions and not kept or taken care of by people □ The eagles were born in captivity and then released into the wild.

◆ wilds npl the wilds an area that is far from towns or cities and where there are few people □ the wilds of Alaska.

wild card n COMPUTING a letter, figure, or sign, usually a star, that can be used to represent any letter in a computer command.

wildcat ['waɪldkæt] n a large fierce cat that lives in mountains, forests etc.

wildcat strike n a sudden unofficial strike.

Wilde [waɪld], Oscar (1854–1900) an Irish writer who is remembered for the many witty comments he made and for his plays, which include The Importance of Being Earnest and Lady Windermere's Fan.

wildebeest ['wɪldəbi:st] (pl wildebeest OR wildebeests) n a large African animal with curved horns and long hair growing from its throat.

Wilder ['waɪldə], Thornton (1897–1975) a US writer of plays and novels, whose work includes Our Town and The Bridge of San Luis Rey.

wilderness ['wɪldə'næs] n -1. an area of land in which there are no buildings, roads etc and which has never been used for farming □ a wilderness of ice and snow. -2. an area where there seems to be no order □ Their back yard is a wilderness. □ The center of town is a wilderness at night. -3. to be in the wilderness GB [politician, performer] to be no longer well-known or important in a particular field □ He spent several years in the political wilderness.

wildfire ['waɪldfaɪə] n to spread like wildfire [news, rumor, fashion] to spread very quickly.

wild flower n a flowering plant that is not grown in gardens.

wildfowl ['waɪldfaʊl] n wild birds that are hunted, especially water birds such as ducks.

wild-goose chase n a search for something that cannot be found or does not exist (informal and disapproving use) □ I've been sent on a wild-goose chase!

wildlife ['waɪldlaɪf] n wild animals and plants □ a wildlife film/park.

wildly ['waɪldli] adv -1. [laugh, shout, guess] see wild □ She lashed out wildly in all directions. □ He stared wildly about him. -2. wildly different/inaccurate etc very different/inaccurate etc □ We've heard wildly conflicting accounts.

wild rice n the dark-brown seeds of a grass that grows in North America.

Wild West n the Wild West the western United States during the 19th century.

🍷 THE WILD WEST

The Wild West is the popular name for the wild country west of the Mississippi River during the second half of the 19th century. Throughout this period horsemen called cowboys drove huge herds of cattle along "trails" going from Texas in the south to Kansas or Missouri further north; here the animals were sent to market in the East. Towns grew up at the end of the cattle trails and were known for being violent and dangerous. The Hollywood western, with its gunfighters, sheriffs, and outlaws, shows such places in a glamorous way. Some towns from this period are now historical sites that tourists come to visit.

wiles [waɪlz] npl clever behavior used to make people do what one wants □ She used her feminine wiles.

wilful adj GB = willful.

will¹ [wɪl] ◊ n -1. the mental power to do something that one wants to do even if this is difficult □ She has a very strong will. □ He's lost the will to live. -2. a wish or desire □ It is God's will. ■ against one's will without wanting to □ The prisoners were forced to work against their will. ■ at will when one wants □ She comes and goes at will. -3. LAW an official document in which somebody says what they want to happen to their money and property after they die □ My father left it to me in his will. ◊ vt to will sthg to happen to try to help make sthg happen by concentrating hard on it □ We were all willing him to win.

will² modal vb -1. used to talk about an action or event in the future □ I'll be thirty next month. □ I think we'll have to stop there for today. □ I won't be here next week. ■ I will have done it by Friday I promise to finish it on or before Friday. ■ I'll be arriving at 6 p.m. my plan is to arrive at 6 p.m. -2. will you have a drink? would you like a drink? (used in offers) □ You will stay for dinner, won't you? ■ I WILL do it I am definitely going to do it □ WE WILL succeed, no matter what anybody says. ■ I won't do it I refuse to do it □ We will never give in to these outrageous demands! -3. used to introduce commands and requests □ Will you send us a copy for our records, please? ■ you will leave now! leave now! ■ will you close the door? please close the door ■ close the door, will you? please close the door. -4. used to say that something is possible. ■ the apartment will sleep six six people can sleep in the apartment. -5. used to say that something is very often or always true □ Boys will be boys. □ Accidents will happen. -6. used to say that one supposes or thinks that something is true □ That will be David calling to say he's coming late. ■ you'll know her I'm sure that you already know her. ■ you'll be hearing from me I will definitely contact you. -7. used to show that one is annoyed with something that somebody does very often □ They will keep trying to interrupt.

willful US, wilful GB ['wɪlfəl] adj -1. [person] who is determined to get what they want or behave as they want □ What a willful child! -2. willful damage/neglect etc deliberate damage/neglect etc.

William of Orange [ˌwɪljəmɒv'ɒrɪndʒ] (1650–1702) head of state of the Netherlands from 1672 to 1702, and King William III of Great Britain and Ireland from 1689 to 1702. He ruled jointly with his wife Mary, daughter of James II.

Williams ['wɪljəmz], Roger (1603?–1683) an English minister who came to America in 1631 to find religious freedom and later founded the colony of Rhode Island.

Williams, Tennessee (1911–1983) a US writer whose plays, which are set in the Southern states, include Cat on a Hot Tin Roof and A Streetcar Named Desire.

William the Conqueror [ˌwɪljəmðə'kɒŋkərəʃ] (1028–1087) Duke of Normandy from 1035 to 1087, and King William I of England from 1066 to 1087. He invaded England in 1066, and defeated King Harold at the battle of Hastings.

willing ['wɪlɪŋ] adj -1. to be willing to be ready to do something without being forced □ I'd love some help, if you're willing. □ Would you be willing to lend us $500? -2. a willing helper/student etc a person who helps/studies etc with enthusiasm and without needing to be persuaded.

willingly ['wɪlɪŋli] adv [go, accept, give] without needing to be forced or persuaded □ "Would you give me a hand?" — "Yes, willingly."

willingness ['wɪlɪŋnəs] n: see willing □ They showed a surprising willingness to help.

willow (tree) ['wɪləʊ] n a tree that has long thin branches, long narrow leaves, and pale wood, and grows near water.

willowy ['wɪləʊi] adj [person] who is tall and thin in an attractive, graceful way.

willpower ['wɪlpəʊə] n the ability to control oneself in order to achieve something □ I don't have the willpower to stick to a diet.

willy-nilly [ˌwɪlɪ'nɪli] adv -1. without following a particular plan or being careful □ She stuffed some clothes willy-nilly into a bag. -2. whether one wants to or not □ I found myself being dragged willy-nilly into their petty disputes.

Wilson ['wɪlsn], Sir Harold (1916–1995) British Prime Minister from 1964 to 1970, and from 1974 to 1976.

Wilson, Woodrow (1856–1924) US President from 1913 to 1921.

wilt [wɪlt] vi -1. [plant, flower] to bend toward the ground because of heat or lack of water. -2. [person] to become tired and weak, especially because it is too hot.

Wilts abbr of Wiltshire.

Wiltshire ['wɪltʃə] a county in southwestern England. SIZE: 3,481 sq kms. POPULATION: 564,000. ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER: Trowbridge.

wily ['waɪli] (compar wilier, superl wiliest) adj [person] who uses clever tricks to get what they want and is too experienced to be tricked themselves.

wimp [wɪmp] n a person who one thinks does not have enough courage or determination □ Don't be such a wimp! (disapproving and informal use).

win [wɪn] (pt & pp won, cont winning) ◇ vt -1. [competition, race] to be first or best in <sthg> □ Who won the game? □ After winning the war in Europe, the Allies turned their attention to the East. -2. [prize, medal, cup] to get <sthg> as the reward for a success □ I won a bottle of champagne in the raffle. □ She won a scholarship to study abroad. -3. [support, approval, backing] to get <sthg> because of one's ability, hard work, good behavior etc □ That kind of remark won't win you any friends. □ I want to win their trust/respect.

◇ vi to win a competition, race etc □ Brazil was winning in the first half. □ I hope you win. ■ you/I can't win a phrase used to show that one is disappointed or frustrated by a situation in which one cannot be successful □ I can't win with you, can I!

◇ n a success or victory in a game, competition etc □ It was the team's first win all season.

◆ win over, win round vt sep to win sb over OR round to succeed in persuading sb to give one their support or friendship □ We'll win her over to the idea eventually.

wince [wɪns] vi to make a sudden small movement of the face as a reaction to pain or to an unpleasant thought □ He winced as the needle went into his arm. □ I winced at the memory.

winch [wɪntʃ] ◇ n a machine for lifting heavy objects that consists of a rope or chain wound around a central part that turns. ◇ vt to lift <sthg heavy> using a winch.

wind¹ [wɪnd] ◇ n -1. WEATHER a mass of moving air □ strong/high winds □ There wasn't enough wind to go sailing. □ The leaves were rustling in the wind. -2. breath □ The fall knocked the wind out of her. □ Let me get my wind back. ■ to get one's second wind to suddenly find new energy to continue doing something. -3. GB [in one's stomach] air in one's stomach that causes discomfort □ That soup has given me wind. ■ to break wind to let out air from inside the body through the anus, usually making a noise (polite use). -4. MUSIC the wind the wind instruments in an orchestra. -5. phrase to get wind of sthg to hear about or find out about sthg, especially a secret (informal use) □ If Liz ever gets wind of this, you'll be in trouble.

◇ vt -1. to make it difficult for <sb> to breathe by pushing the air out of their lungs □ The fall/blow winded me. -2. GB to make  bring up air from its stomach after eating by rubbing or gently hitting its back.

wind² [waɪnd] (pt & pp wound) ◇ vt -1. [thread, scarf, bandage] to turn <sthg> around an object or point several times □ She wound a towel around her head. □ string wound into a neat ball. -2. [clock, watch] to make <sthg> work by turning a knob, key, handle etc □ I forgot to wind my alarm clock again. -3. to wind one's way to go somewhere in a twisting line □ The river winds its way through New Mexico and down into Texas. ◇ vi [river, road] to go somewhere in a twisting line □ There's a path that winds down to the stream.

◆ wind back vt sep to wind a tape/movie etc back to make a tape/movie etc go back toward the beginning.

◆ wind down ◇ vt sep -1. to wind a car window down to lower a car window by turning a handle or pressing a button. -2. to wind a business down to gradually close a business □ They're winding down several coalmines in the area. ◇ vi -1. [clock, watch] to stop

- working because it needs to be wound.
-2. [person] to relax after a period of hard work.
- ◆ wind forward vt sep to wind a tape/film forward GB to make a tape/film go forward.
 - ◆ wind on vt sep GB = wind forward □ My camera winds itself on automatically.
 - ◆ wind up ◇ vt sep -1. to wind sth up [meeting, program] to bring sth to an end □ OK, one last question, and then we'll have to wind things up. -2. to wind a business up to close a business down □ They're winding up their operations in Jakarta. -3. to wind sth up [clock, watch] to wind sth □ It's one of those clockwork toys that you wind up. -4. to wind a car window up to close a car window by turning a handle or pressing a button.
◇ vi to arrive in a particular place or get into a particular situation without intending to (informal use) □ He's going to wind up in jail one of these days.
- windbreak ['windbreɪk] n a wall, fence, or line of trees that gives protection against the wind.
- windbreaker ['windbreɪkə] US, windcheater ['windtʃi:tə] GB n a warm jacket that fits closely at the neck and wrists and keeps the wind out.
- windchill ['windtʃɪl] n the lowering of the air temperature caused by cold winds □ a high windchill factor.
- winded ['wɪndəd] adj to be winded to have difficulty breathing after being hit in the stomach or doing hard exercise □ The fall left her winded but otherwise unhurt.
- windfall ['wɪndfɔ:l] n -1. an amount of money that one gets unexpectedly. -2. a piece of fruit that the wind has caused to fall from a tree.
- wind farm ['wɪnd-] n a power station where electricity is generated by special windmills.
- winding ['waɪndɪŋ] adj [river, path] that has many bends and is not direct □ The car drove slowly up the winding road.
- wind instrument ['wɪnd-] n a musical instrument such as a flute or trumpet that is played by blowing.
- windmill ['wɪndmɪl] n a tall structure with long flat blades attached to it that turn in the wind and work machinery for grinding, pumping, or producing power.
- window ['wɪndəʊ] n -1. [in a building] a frame that contains glass and is placed in a wall, roof, or car to let light and air in or to look through □ You should be working, not looking out of the window. □ Would you mind opening/closing the window? □ electrically operated windows. -2. [in a store] a large opening in the wall of a store that is filled with glass and behind which goods are arranged in order to attract customers □ I'd like to try on the coat in the window. -3. COMPUTING one of the areas a computer screen can be divided into to show different kinds of information □ a graphics window. -4. [of time] a short period of free time □ I've got a window between nine and ten on Tuesday if that's OK with you?
- window box n a long container placed on a window ledge and filled with soil in which flowers can be grown.
- window cleaner n a person whose job is to clean windows.
- window display n an arrangement of goods in a store window intended to attract customers.
- window dressing n -1. the activity or job of arranging goods in an attractive way in a shop window. -2. parts of a plan, policy etc that are not essential and are used to make it seem better than it really is.
- window envelope n an envelope with a transparent part at the front that shows the address on the letter, bill etc inside.
- window frame n the wooden, metal, or plastic part that surrounds the glass in a window.
- window ledge n a narrow shelf under a window, on the outside.
- windowpane ['wɪndəʊpeɪn] n a piece of glass in a window.
- window shade n US a covering made of plastic, cloth etc that is pulled down over a window to keep light out of a room.
- window-shopping n the activity of looking at the goods in store windows without intending to buy anything □ We went window-shopping on Fifth Avenue.
- windowsill ['wɪndəʊsɪl] n a narrow shelf under a window, on the inside or outside.
- windpipe ['wɪndpaɪp] n the tube in one's body through which air moves from the mouth to the lungs.
- windshield ['wɪndʃi:ld] US, windscreen ['wɪndskri:n] GB n the large front window of a car, truck, bus etc.
- windshield washer n a device that sends a thin stream of water onto a windshield in order to clear rain from it.
- windshield wiper n a device that moves from side to side across a windshield in order to clear rain from it.
- windsock ['wɪndzɒk] n a cloth tube that is attached to a pole at airports to show the direction of the wind.
- windsurfer ['wɪndzɜ:'fɜː] n -1. a person who goes windsurfing. -2. a narrow board with a sail attached, used in windsurfing.
- windsurfing ['wɪndzɜ:'fɜːɪŋ] n the sport of sailing on the ocean or a lake while standing on a narrow board and holding onto a large sail.
- windswept ['wɪndswɛpt] adj -1. [plain, bay] that is not protected from the wind and is therefore very windy. -2. [hair, appearance] that the wind has made untidy.
- wind tunnel ['wɪnd-] n a tunnel through which air is blown at different speeds to test the design of cars, aircraft etc.
- windy ['wɪndɪ] (compar windier, superl windiest) adj -1. [weather, day] when the wind is blowing a lot □ It's very windy today. -2. [hillside,

- moor, beach] where there is a lot of wind. ■ the Windy City a name for Chicago, Illinois.
- wine [waɪn] n -1. an alcoholic drink made from grapes; a glass or bottle of this drink □ red/white/rosé wine □ apple wine □ Two white wines, please. □ We have a wide selection of Californian wines. -2. an alcoholic drink made from a particular fruit or plant □ apple wine.
- wine bar n GB a bar where people mainly drink wine.
- wine box n a box that contains a plastic bag full of wine and has a device for pouring.
- wine cellar n -1. the different wines collected and kept by a person, restaurant etc. -2. a dark cool room underground where wine is kept.
- wineglass [US 'waɪnɡlæs, GB -ɡlɑ:s] n a glass for drinking wine, usually round with a long thin stem.
- wine list n the list of different wines offered by a restaurant, together with their prices.
- winepress ['waɪnpres] n a device for pressing grapes to make wine.
- wine rack n an open container in which bottles of wine can be stored lying flat on their side.
- wine tasting [-teɪstɪŋ] n the activity of tasting different kinds of wine.
- wine waiter n the waiter who serves the wine in an expensive restaurant.
- wing [wɪŋ] n -1. [of a bird, animal] the moving part of a bird or insect that it uses for flying □ The bird flapped its wings. -2. [of a plane] one of the long flat parts attached to the sides of a plane that support it in the air. -3. [of a car] a part of a car's body that covers a wheel. -4. [of a building] a part of a large building that extends from the main part □ the east wing □ They're building a new wing to house the contemporary art collection. -5. [of an organization] a group within an organization that has different beliefs or does a different job from the other parts □ She's on the conservative wing of the party.
- ◆ wings npl THEATER the wings the sides of the stage where actors can wait without being seen by the audience.
- wing commander n an officer in the British air force.
- winger ['wɪŋə] n an attacking player who plays at the edge of the field in soccer, hockey, or rugby.
- wing nut n a nut that is turned by holding the two flat pieces that stick out from the sides.
- wingspan ['wɪŋspæn] n [of a bird, airplane] the distance from the end of one wing to the end of the other wing.
- wingtips ['wɪŋtɪps] npl US men's shoes with a pattern of decorative holes on the toes.
- wink [wɪŋk] ◇ vi -1. [person] to close one eye and open it again quickly while looking at somebody to show friendliness, amusement, or as a signal □ She kept winking at me. -2. [light] to flash on and off (literary use). ◇ n [of an eye] the act of winking □ He gave me a sly wink. ■ to have forty winks to have a short sleep during the day (informal use). ■ not to sleep a wink, not to get a wink of sleep not to sleep at all during the night (informal use).
- winkle ['wɪŋkl] n a small sea creature that lives in a shell and can be eaten.
- ◆ winkle out vt sep GB -1. to winkle sth out to remove sth from a place with difficulty. -2. to winkle sth out of sb [truth, story, confession] to make sb tell sth with difficulty.
- winner ['wɪnə] n -1. a person who wins a prize, medal, competition etc □ the winner of last year's Pulitzer Prize □ a Nobel Prize winner. -2. to be a winner [book, idea] to be a success (informal use) □ His latest movie is a real winner. ■ to be onto a winner to have something that is successful or likely to succeed □ You're onto a winner with that new design.
- Winnie the Pooh [ˌwɪnɪdəˈpuː] a character in a series of children's stories by A. A. Milne. He is a friendly bear who likes honey.
- winning ['wɪnɪŋ] adj -1. the winning team/side/goal etc the team/side/goal etc that wins something □ Extracts from the winning entries will be published in next month's edition. -2. a winning smile a smile that is attractive and makes people like one.
- ◆ winnings npl money that has been won in a game or competition.
- winning post n GB the place where a horse race ends.
- Winnipeg ['wɪnɪpeg] -1. a city in Manitoba, central Canada. POPULATION: 610,773. -2. Lake Winnipeg a lake in Manitoba, central Canada.
- winsome ['wɪnsəm] adj [smile, child] that is attractive and pleasant in a simple way (literary use).
- winter ['wɪntə] n the coldest season of the year, between autumn and spring □ Winter is my favorite season. □ a winter's night □ two winters ago □ It gets very cold there in winter. □ winter clothes/months/weather.
- winter sports npl sports that take place in the snow or on ice, such as skiing or skating.
- wintertime ['wɪntə'taɪm] n winter □ I hate this country in wintertime.
- wint(er)ly ['wɪnt(ə)rɪ] adj [weather, landscape, wind] that is cold or snowy and typical of winter □ wintery showers.
- wipe [waɪp] ◇ vt [window, floor, nose] to remove dirt or liquid from <sthg> by rubbing it lightly, especially with one's hand, with a cloth, or against another surface □ Don't forget to wipe your feet. ◇ n the act of wiping something □ Give your face/the table a wipe.
- ◆ wipe away vt sep to wipe sth away [tear, dirt, blood] to remove sth, especially by wiping it with a cloth or hand.
- ◆ wipe out vt sep -1. to wipe sth out [writing, trace, footprint] to remove sth completely. -2. to wipe sth out [population, species] to destroy sth completely □ Whole communities were wiped out by the famine.

◆ wipe up ◇ vt sep to wipe sth up [dirt, mess, water] to remove sth by wiping it with a cloth. ◇ vi: I'm sick of wiping up after that dog.

wiper ['waɪpə] n = windshield wiper.

wire ['waɪə] ◇ n -1. a very thin long length of metal that bends easily □ metal/copper wire □ a wire fence. -2. ELECTRICITY a long wire, usually covered in plastic, along which electricity passes □ a loose/an electric wire. -3. RADIO a message sent using electrical or radio signals and delivered in printed form □ I received a wire yesterday.

◇ vt -1. to wire sth to sth to tie sth to sth with wire. -2. ELECTRICITY [plug, house] to connect electrical wires to <sth> □ The washing machine wasn't properly wired. -3. [person] to send a telegram to <sb>. -4. to send <money> from one bank to another by electronic means.

◆ wire up vt sep to wire sth up [stereo, video] to connect electrical wires to <sth> □ Are you wired up for Cable TV?

wire brush n a brush made of stiff wire for cleaning metal.

wire cutters npl a tool for cutting wire □ a pair of wire cutters.

wireless ['waɪə'ləs] n a radio (old-fashioned use).

wire netting n a material made of twisted wire with a lot of holes in it, used for making fences □ a piece of wire netting.

wire-tapping [-tæpɪŋ] n the activity of listening secretly to somebody's telephone calls, using a special electronic device.

wire wool n GB a mass of very fine wire, used for cleaning pans, ovens etc.

wiring ['waɪərɪŋ] n the wires that carry electricity around a building.

wiry ['waɪəri] (compar wirier, superl wiriest) adj -1. [hair] that is strong and rough. -2. [person, body] that is thin but strong.

Wisconsin [wɪs'kɒnsən] a state in the northern USA, between Lake Superior and Lake Michigan. ABBREVIATION: WI. SIZE: 145,438 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,891,769 (Wisconsinites). CAPITAL: Madison.

wisdom ['wɪzdəm] n the quality of being wise □ Many people questioned the wisdom of the decision.

wisdom tooth n one of the four large back teeth that are the last to grow in one's mouth.

wise [waɪz] adj [choice, decision] that is practical and intelligent and made with a good understanding of the likely results □ You'd be wise to accept the offer. □ He was a wise and kindly father. ■ to get wise to sth to realize sth dishonest is happening (informal use) □ I soon got wise to their little game. ■ to be no wiser OR none the wiser to know no more about something even after someone has tried to explain it; not to be aware of something that has happened □ She explained it to me in great detail, but I'm still none the wiser. □ We'll just switch them around and no-one will be any the wiser.

◆ wise up vi to realize what a person or situation is really like (informal use) □ You'd better wise up fast.

wisecrack ['waɪzkræk] n a clever remark that is meant to be amusing.

wisely ['waɪzli] adv [choose, decide, ignore] see wise □ We must spend this money wisely.

wish [wɪʃ] ◇ n -1. a desire □ a wish to see the world □ his wish for a stable family life □ my dearest wish. -2. a desire for something that can only happen or be made true by magic, often expressed silently or in a special way □ If I could make a wish, that's what I'd have.

◇ vt -1. to wish to do sth to want to do sth (formal use) □ I wish to speak to my lawyer.

-2. to want <sth> to happen or to be true even though one knows that it is unlikely or impossible □ I wish (that) I could fly. □ I wish (that) I were dead. □ I wish (that) I'd never met her. -3. to wish sb sth [luck, success] to tell sb that one hopes they will have sth □ We all wish you a happy birthday/a merry Christmas.

■ to wish sb well to hope that sb will have success or good luck.

◆ wishes npl best wishes a phrase used to say one hopes that somebody will be happy, healthy etc □ Best wishes on your birthday. □ Give my best wishes to Anne when you see her. ■ (with) best wishes a phrase used at the end of an informal letter before signing one's name.

◆ wish for vt fus to wish for sth to think about sth that one would like and hope that it might happen □ You're the best friend anyone could wish for.

◆ wish on vt sep I wouldn't wish this on anyone I don't want this to happen to anybody else because it is so unpleasant □ I wouldn't wish a broken leg on my worst enemy.

wishbone ['wɪʃbəʊn] n the bone shaped like a V in the breast of a chicken, turkey etc that two people pull apart to decide who is going to make a wish.

wishful thinking [ˌwɪʃfl-] n something one wants or hopes for that is unlikely to happen or be true.

wishy-washy ['wɪʃwɒʃɪ] adj [person, idea, behavior] that one thinks is not forceful or clear enough (informal and disapproving use).

wisp [wɪsp] n -1. [of hair, grass, straw] a thin piece of something □ She brushed a wisp of hair from her face. -2. a wisp of smoke/steam etc a small, thin, twisting line of smoke/steam etc.

wispy ['wɪspi] (compar wispier, superl wispiest) adj [hair, beard] that grows in thin, untidy bunches.

wisteria [wɪ'stɪəriə] n a climbing plant with pale purple flowers that hang down.

wistful ['wɪstfl] adj [person] who seems sad and thoughtful, e.g. because they want something that they cannot have □ a wistful look/smile.

wit [wɪt] n -1. the ability to say or write clever and amusing things □ She has a sharp wit. -2. someone who says or writes clever and amusing things □ He has a reputation as some- thing of a wit. -3. to have the wit to do sthg to have the intelligence to do sthg that is right and appropriate for the situation □ Luckily she had the wit to ask for his address.

- ◆ wits npl to have OR keep one's wits about one to be ready to think and act quickly. ■ to be scared out of one's wits to be very scared (informal use). ■ to be at one's wits' end to be so worried or desperate that one does not know what to do.

witch [wɪtʃ] n a woman who is supposed to have magical powers and sometimes uses them to harm other people.

witchcraft [US 'wɪtʃkræft, GB -krɑ:ft] n the use of magic to make bad things happen.

witchdoctor ['wɪtʃdɒktə] n a man who is supposed to be able to use magic to make things happen, especially to make sick people well.

witch hazel n a clear liquid that is put on sore places on the skin to heal them; the tree from which this liquid is produced.

witch-hunt n an attempt to find and remove or punish any members of a group who are considered to be dangerous or unacceptable (disapproving use).

with [wɪð] prep -1. Tom is with Joe Tom and Joe are together □ My partner is coming with me to the conference. □ I used to play tennis with him. ■ I stayed with her I stayed at her house. -2. to argue/fight with sb to argue/fight against sb □ I had a slight disagreement with my boss. ■ the war with Germany the war against Germany. -3. to cut sthg with a knife to use a knife to cut sthg (used to speak about a tool or instrument) □ She pushed back her hair with her hand. -4. used to speak about the way something is done, or the feeling one has when doing it □ The matter needs to be handled with great care. □ I'll do it with pleasure. □ "Yes," he said with a smile. -5. a man with a beard a man who has a beard (used to show a quality or feature of a person or thing) □ The computer comes complete with a printer. -6. used to specify the subject one is talking about. ■ good with cars good at dealing with cars □ He's very mean with money. □ There shouldn't be any problem with delivery dates. -7. used to show that two things happen at the same time. ■ with you watching while you are watching □ I can't concentrate with the radio on. -8. used to show the cause of something. ■ with this weather because of this weather □ With the situation as it is, we'll be lucky to make a profit. ■ to tremble with fear to tremble because one is afraid. -9. phrases are you with me? do you understand? ■ are you with us? do you support us? ■ I'm with you I agree with you.

- ◆ with it adj to be with it to be fashionable.

withdraw [wɪð'drɔ:ɪ] (pt withdrew, pp withdrawn) ◇ vt -1. to remove <sthg>, often slowly and carefully (formal use) □ She withdrew her hand from his. -2. FINANCE to take <money> out of a bank account □ I withdrew $500 from my account. -3. MILITARY [force, personnel] to remove <one's troops> from a place, often to avoid being defeated □ The peace-keeping force is being withdrawn. -4. [comment, statement, offer] to say that one did not mean <sthg one said> □ I withdraw that remark.

◇ vi -1. [from a place] to leave or move backward (formal use) □ I quickly withdrew from the room. □ I withdrew to the bathroom/withdrew to a safe distance. -2. MILITARY to move out or away, often to avoid being defeated □ The UN is withdrawing from the area. □ The army withdrew to safety. -3. [from a competition, deal, debate] to decide not to take part in an activity □ Our delegates have withdrawn from the conference in protest.

withdrawal [wɪð'drɔ:əl] n -1. [of aid, support, funding] the removal of something that was helping somebody do something □ Since the withdrawal of government subsidies, the company has been in crisis. -2. MILITARY the act of moving out or away, often to avoid defeat □ Britain and the US are considering a full-scale withdrawal. -3. [from a competition, deal] a decision not to take part in something □ Such a move might prompt their withdrawal from the talks. -4. [of a comment, remark, offer] the act of saying that one did not mean something one has said □ We welcome the withdrawal of the allegations. -5. MEDICINE the painful period a person goes through when they stop taking drugs such as heroin. -6. FINANCE an amount of money that is withdrawn from a bank account □ The last withdrawal isn't shown on the statement.

withdrawal symptoms npl the bad physical and mental effects a person feels when they stop taking addictive drugs.

withdrawn [wɪð'drɔ:ɪn] ◇ past participle of withdraw. ◇ adj [person] who is quiet and does not want to talk to anyone often because they are unhappy.

withdrew [wɪð'dru:ɪ] past tense of withdraw.

wither ['wɪðə] ◇ vi -1. [plant, flower, leaf] to become dry and smaller and begin to die. -2. [hope, joy, enthusiasm] to become less. ◇ vt [plant, flower, leaf] The sun has withered everything in the garden.

withered ['wɪðəd] adj -1. [plant, flower, leaf] that is dry and dead. -2. [leg, arm] that is thin and weak because of illness.

withering ['wɪðərɪŋ] adj a withering look/remark etc a look/remark etc that is intended to make somebody feel stupid and embarrassed □ "Don't be ridiculous!" she said, with a withering look.

withhold [wɪð'həʊld] (pt & pp withheld [-'held]) vt -1. [service, information, evidence] to refuse to give <sthg> to somebody □ They are accused of withholding documents relevant to the trial. -2. US [taxes] to take <taxes> out of somebody's wages.

withholding [wɪð'həʊldɪŋ] n US a system of taking employees' income tax out of their wages before they are paid □ withholding tax.

within [wɪð'ɪn] ◇ prep -1. within the area inside the area, and not beyond it □ We hope to fill the job from within the organization. ■ a feeling within me a feeling inside me.

-2. within a limit not beyond a limit □ We have to remain within a strict budget. □ It is possible within the terms of the agreement.
-3. within 50 miles of Dallas not more than 50 miles from Dallas. ■ within a month before a month has passed □ If confirmation is not received with 28 days, the order will be canceled.
 ◇ adv inside a building or room □ 'Enquire within.'

without [wið'au] prep -1. to be without sth not to have sthg □ a candidate without any experience. ■ I went out without an umbrella I went out and did not take an umbrella □ "I suppose so," she said, without much enthusiasm.
-2. without a sound not making a sound □ He left without a word. ■ she left without saying goodbye she left and did not say goodbye □ We must be firm without being rude.

withstand [wið'stænd] (vt & pp withstood [-'stud]) vt [pressure, criticism, wind] not to be changed, hurt, or damaged by <sthg> □ It is designed to withstand high temperatures. □ Will he be able to withstand the pressures?

witness ['witnəs] ◇ vt -1. [accident, crime, change] to see <an important event> happen □ Did anyone witness the accident? □ We are witnessing an economic miracle. -2. [contract, will] to be there when somebody signs  and write one's name on it to show that it is really that person's signature □ I need someone to witness my signature.
 ◇ n -1. a person who sees a crime, accident etc take place □ Police are calling for witnesses to the attack to come forward. ■ to be witness to sthg [to an event] to see sthg happen.
-2. [in court] a person who gives information about a crime or an event in court □ The witness was cross-examined at length. -3. to bear witness to sthg [to a fact, story] to show or prove that sthg is true □ Her red eyes bore witness to the fact that she had been crying. -4. [to a document, contract, will] a person who officially witnesses the signing of a document □ The form should be signed in the presence of two witnesses.

witness stand US, witness box GB n the place where a witness stands or sits in court to answer questions.

witticism ['wɪtəsɪzəm] n something clever and amusing that somebody says or writes.

witty ['wɪtɪ] (compar wittier, superl wittiest) adj [person, book, story] that is clever and amusing □ She made a witty speech.

wives [waɪvz] plural of wife.

wizard ['wɪzəd] n -1. a man with magical powers. -2. somebody who is very good at a particular activity or sport □ a financial wizard □ He's a wizard at chess/calculus.

wizened ['wɪznd] adj [skin, face, person] that is old and covered in wrinkles.

wk abbr of week.

WO n abbr of warrant officer.

wobble ['wɒbl] vi [chair, glass, ball] to move slightly from side to side, e.g. because it is not fixed firmly or is not in a steady position □ The table wobbles when you lean on it. □ She wobbled as she set off down the slope, but managed to regain her balance.

wobbly ['wɒblɪ] (compar wobblier, superl wobbliest) adj [chair, table, hand] that wobbles because it is not fixed firmly or is not in a steady position (informal use).

Wodehouse ['wɒdhaus], P. G. (1881–1975) a British writer, known for his humorous stories about Bertie Wooster and his servant, Jeeves.

woe [wəʊ] n great sadness (literary use).

wok [wɒk] n a deep round frying pan used in Chinese cooking.

woke [wəʊk] past tense of wake.

woken ['wəʊkən] past participle of wake.

wolf [wʊlf] (pl wolves) ◇ n a wild animal like a large fierce dog that hunts other animals in a group. ◇ vt to wolf sthg (down) to eat sthg quickly and greedily because one is hungry or in a hurry (informal use).

wolf whistle n a loud whistle with a short rising note and a long falling note that some men make when they see an attractive woman in the street.

wolves [wʊlvz] plural of wolf.

woman ['wʊmən] (pl women) n -1. an adult female person □ For many women, going out to work is a necessity, not an option. □ a woman doctor/teacher □ He still believes that a woman's place is in the home. -2. sb's woman sb's wife or female lover (informal use).

womanhood ['wʊmənɦʊd] n -1. the state of being an adult woman. -2. all the women in a particular society or country (literary use).

womanizer ['wʊmənəɪzə] n a man who has sexual relationships with a lot of different women (disapproving use).

womanly ['wʊmənli] adj [virtue, curve, beauty] that is typical of or considered suitable for a woman.

womb [wʊ:m] n the organ in a woman's body in which a baby grows before it is born.

wombat ['wɒmbæt] n an Australian animal with short legs and thick fur.

women ['wɪmɪn] plural of woman.

womenfolk ['wɪmɪnfəʊk] npl the women of a family or community.

Women's Institute n GB the Women's Institute an organization for women whose activities include organizing social events and teaching skills connected with the home.

women's lib [-'lɪb] n = women's liberation (informal use).

women's liberation n = women's movement (old-fashioned use).

women's movement n the women's movement a movement, started by women, that tries to improve the social and economic position of women and give them the same rights as men.

women's room n US a women's public toilet.

women's shelter US, women's refuge GB n a house where a woman whose husband has been violent toward her can go with her children for protection.

won [wʌn] past tense & past participle of win.

wonder ['wʌndə] ◇ n -1. the feeling of surprise, strangeness, and admiration caused by something unusual, very good, or unexpected □ We looked in wonder. -2. it's a wonder it's surprising □ It's a wonder that anyone escaped alive. ■ (it's) no or little or small wonder it's not surprising □ No wonder she left! □ It's little wonder (that) he's so unpopular. -3. a person or thing that other people admire or are surprised by □ Her husband's a wonder in the kitchen. ■ to work or do wonders to get very good results □ Getting a job has done wonders for his confidence. □ My hairdresser can work wonders with people's hair.

◇ vt -1. to think about <sthg> that one is not sure about and try to reach an opinion about it □ I wonder who he is. □ We wondered why she had done it. □ I wonder if or wonder whether she'll come. -2. a word used to introduce a request or invitation in order to make it more polite □ I wonder if you could help me. □ We were wondering whether you were free for supper tonight.

◇ vi -1. "Why do you ask?" — "Oh, I was just wondering." □ I often wonder about her reasons for leaving. -2. to wonder at sthg to be surprised by sthg (literary use).

wonderful ['wʌndəfʊl] adj [news, weather] that one thinks is very good □ It's wonderful to see you again! □ He's a truly wonderful writer.

wonderfully ['wʌndəfʊli] adv wonderfully talented/relaxing etc very talented/relaxing etc.

wonderland ['wʌndərlænd] n a place one finds beautiful, strange, and exciting.

wonk [wɒnk] n US a person who spends too much time working □ He turned out to be a policy wonk with few interests outside Washington.

wont [US wɒnt, GB wəʊnt] ◇ adj to be wont to do sthg to have a habit of doing sthg □ He's wont to lose his temper very quickly. ◇ n as is one's wont as one has a habit of doing □ He smoked a cigar after lunch, as was his wont.

won't [wəʊnt] = will not.

woo [wu:] vt -1. to try to make  fall in love with one and marry one (old-fashioned or literary use). -2. to try to get the support of <sb> □ attempts to woo the stockholders.

wood [wʊd] n -1. the material of which the trunks and branches of trees are made, used for burning as fuel, making furniture, building etc □ a pile of wood □ a wood floor/fire. -2. a large group of trees growing close together □ They got lost in the wood. -3. [in golf] a golf club with a wooden head, used for hitting the ball a long way. -4. phrases not to see the wood for the trees to fail to understand the main facts about something because one is thinking too much about small details. ■ knock on US or touch GB wood! a phrase used to say that one has been lucky up to the present, and that one hopes this will continue in the future □ I've had no problems so far with the authorities, knock on wood!

◆ woods npl a small forest.

wooded ['wʊdəd] adj [area, slope, land] that is covered in trees.

wooden ['wʊdn] adj -1. [hut, door, box] that is made of wood. -2. [actor] who acts in a way that is not realistic or natural (disapproving use) □ He gave a pretty wooden performance.

wooden spoon n a large spoon made of wood, used for cooking. ■ to win or get the wooden spoon GB to be last in a competition or sporting event.

woodland ['wʊdlənd] n an area covered in trees.

woodlouse ['wʊdləʊs] (pl woodlice [-ləɪs]) n a small insect with a gray body and many legs that lives in damp places and under stones.

woodpecker ['wʊdpekə] n a bird with a very strong beak that makes holes in trees.

wood pigeon n a large pigeon with white marks on its wings and neck.

woodshed ['wʊdʃed] n a small building where wood for burning, garden tools etc are kept.

woodwind ['wʊdwɪnd] ◇ n the woodwind the musical instruments in an orchestra that are made of wood and metal and are played by blowing through a reed or across a hole. ◇ adj: a woodwind instrument.

woodwork ['wʊdwɜ:k] n -1. the wooden parts of a house □ What color are you going to paint the woodwork? -2. the art or craft of making things out of wood □ I studied woodwork at school.

woodworm ['wʊdwɜ:m] n -1. the young of a particular insect that make holes in wooden buildings or furniture. -2. the damage caused to wood by woodworm.

woof [wʊf] excl a sound that describes the noise of a dog barking.

wool [wʊl] n -1. the soft thick hair of a sheep. -2. the soft thick thread or material that is made from a sheep's wool and is used to make sweaters, blankets etc □ a ball of wool □ a pure wool coat. -3. to pull the wool over sb's eyes to deceive sb by hiding facts or information from them (informal use).

woolen US, woollen GB ['wʊlən] adj [sweater, scarf, socks] that is made of wool.

◆ woolens npl clothes made of wool.

Woolf [wʊlf], Virginia (1882–1941) a British writer whose experimental style played an important part in the development of the novel. Her work includes Mrs Dalloway and The Waves.

woollen n GB = woolen.

woolly ['wʊli] (compar woollier, superl woolliest, pl woollies) ◇ adj -1. [sweater, hat] that is made of wool. -2. [thinking, idea, answer] that is not clear (informal and disapproving use). ◇ n a piece of clothing made of wool, especially one that is knitted (informal use).

Wooster ['wʊstə], Bertie in the comic novels of P. G. Wodehouse, a good-natured upper-class man who is not very intelligent, and who relies on his servant, Jeeves.

WOOLY ['wʊ:zi] (compar woozier, superl wooziest) adj [person] who feels weak and dizzy, e.g. after having a general anesthetic (informal use).

Worcestershire sauce ['wʊstəʃɪə-] US, Worcester sauce GB ['wʊstəʃ-] n a thin brown liquid with a strong sharp taste, used to give food more flavor.

word [wɜ:ɹd] \diamond n -1. the smallest unit of spoken or written language that can be used alone \square What's the Arabic word for "man"? \square a translation 500 words long \square I can't find the words to express how I feel. ■ word for word [copy, repeat, learn] using exactly the same words \square You don't have to repeat what I say word for word. ■ in your own words [say, tell, write] without copying the way someone else has said or written something \square Try to describe it in your own words. ■ not in so many words not in a clear and direct way \square "Did she say yes?" — "Not in so many words, but she didn't say no." ■ too good/boring/funny for words so good/boring/funny that it cannot be described. ■ by word of mouth [find out, hear, spread] by speaking rather than writing. ■ to put in a (good) word for sb to praise sb to a person in an important position, especially in order to help them get a job, avoid punishment etc \square He's promised to put in a good word for me with the boss. ■ just say the word an invitation to say when one wants something to happen \square If you get tired, just say the word and we'll go back. ■ to have a word to have a quick talk with somebody in private, especially in order to ask for help or advice or because they have done something wrong \square I'll have to have a word with him about his timekeeping. ■ to have words with sb to have an argument with sb (informal use). ■ to have the last word to make the final remark in an argument and feel that one has won the argument as a result \square You always have to have the last word, don't you? ■ she doesn't mince her words she says what she thinks although she knows it may upset other people. ■ to weigh one's words to think carefully before speaking. ■ I couldn't get a word in edgewise OR edgeways I did not have a chance to speak because someone else was talking all the time. -2. news \square Is there any word from the hospital? \square Word reached us that they were safe. -3. one's word one's promise \square You have my word. ■ to give sb one's word to make a serious promise to sb \square I gave Kathleen my word we wouldn't be late again. ■ to be as good as one's word, to be true to one's word to do what one promises \square He was as good as his word and turned up promptly at nine.

\diamond vt [letter, reply, essay] to write or prepare <sth> by choosing the words carefully to express a particular meaning \square I'm not quite sure how to word my application \square They sent a strongly worded protest to the board.

◆ in a word adv a phrase used to introduce a summary of what one has been saying \square In a word, he's an idiot.

◆ in other words adv a phrase used to introduce a simpler explanation or another way of saying something \square In other words, you don't think we ought to go.

word game n any game in which the players have to find, change, or make words.

wording ['wɜ:ɹdɪŋ] n the words that are used to express something \square We haven't yet agreed on the final wording of the appeal.

word-perfect adj to be word-perfect to be able to repeat every word of a particular text correctly from memory.

wordplay ['wɜ:ɹdpleɪ] n the clever or amusing use of words and their sounds and meanings.

word processing n the activity of producing letters, reports, documents etc and storing information using a word processor, especially in an office \square a word-processing package.

word processor n a small computer or a piece of software used for producing letters, reports, documents etc.

Wordsworth ['wɜ:ɹ'dzɜ:wɜ:θ], William (1770–1850) a British Romantic poet, well known for his poems about nature.

wordwrap ['wɜ:ɹ'dræp] n the ability of a word processor to start a new line automatically when one line is full.

wordy ['wɜ:ɹdɪ] (compar wordier, superl wordiest) adj [speech, letter, report] that one thinks is too long and contains too many words (disapproving use).

wore [wɜ:ɹ] past tense of wear.

work [wɜ:ɹk] \diamond n -1. [for an employer] a job that one is paid to do regularly; the tasks involved in this; the place where one goes to do this \square It isn't easy to find work around here. \square Are you interested in secretarial work? \square I try not to bring work home on the weekend. \square My work involves a lot of traveling. \square What time do you leave work? \square I'll give you my work number, in case you have to call me there. \square The work hours are flexible. ■ to be in/out of work to have/not have a regular job \square The collapse of the industry means hundreds of people have been thrown out of work. -2. [at a particular activity or task] any activity that requires effort and produces a result \square You can see she's put a lot of work into that drawing. \square school work \square A great deal of work has still to be done on the problem of air pollution. ■ to be at work to be working \square They were all hard at work in the kitchen. ■ you'll have your work cut out it won't be easy for you \square We'll have our work cut out to finish by Friday. -3. ART & LITERATURE a painting, piece of writing, sculpture etc \square an exhibition of work by Salvador Dali \square the complete works of Shakespeare. -4. phrase a nasty piece of work an unpleasant person, especially one who is cruel or violent (informal use).

\diamond vi -1. [employee] to do a regular job for which one is paid \square For a time I worked as a secretary. \square She works for a large computer company. -2. [person] to do an activity that requires effort and produces a result \square I'll be working on my thesis all summer. \square Your father's out working in the garage. -3. [radio, television, machine] to operate in the way it is supposed to \square The telephone isn't working. -4. [idea, plan] to be successful □ It's risky, but it just might work. -5. [drug, treatment] to have the effect that is wanted □ The pills take about an hour to work. -6. to work against sb/sthg to harm sb/sthg □ The new legislation could work against small businesses. -7. to work loose/free/open [knot, catch, fastening] to gradually become loose/free/open as a result of repeated small movements.

◇ vt -1. to work sb hard to make sb work very hard □ She works us all pretty hard. -2. [camera, computer, washing machine] to operate <sthg> □ I don't know how to work the printer. -3. [wood, metal, clay] to form  into shapes or objects using tools or one's hands. -4. to work the land to prepare land to grow crops on. -5. to work one's way somewhere to gradually move in a particular direction; to gradually reach a particular level in one's career □ Barclay was working his way slowly toward the door. □ In three years, Pears had worked her way up to the position of chief executive.

◆ works ◇ n a place, e.g. a factory, where something is made □ a steel/gas works. ◇ npl -1. [of a clock, machine] the moving parts of something. -2. activities such as building or repairing public buildings, roads etc □ engineering works. -3. the works everything connected with a particular activity (informal use) □ We had champagne, party hats, the works!

◆ work at vt fus to work at sthg to try to improve sthg □ We must work harder at improving customer relations.

◆ work off vt sep to work sthg off [one's anger, frustration] to get rid of a feeling by doing a physical activity □ I had to go for a jog to work off my frustration.

◆ work on vt fus -1. to work on sthg to spend time doing sthg □ I can't come out tonight — I've got to work on my report for Liz Brewer. -2. to work on sthg [assumption, principle] to make sthg a basis for one's decisions or actions □ Police are working on the theory that the victim knew his attacker. -3. to work on sb to try to persuade sb to do or say something □ I'll work on John and see if I can get him to agree.

◆ work out ◇ vt sep -1. to work sthg out [solution, approach] to think about sthg carefully in order to find the best way of doing it □ I've managed to work out a way of getting there by car. -2. to work sthg out [answer, total, square root] to find sthg by doing a calculation □ Work out what it would cost to buy the land.

◇ vi -1. to work out well/badly [plan, event] to have a good/bad result □ The arrangements have worked out really well. -2. [situation] to be successful, especially after a long period of time □ We did get married, but it just didn't work out. -3. [person] to do physical exercises in a gym to make one's muscles stronger □ He works out twice a week. -4. it works out at $20 it costs $20, after all the calculations have been done □ When we'd added everything up, the total bill worked out at $50 per person.

◆ work up vt sep -1. to work oneself up to allow oneself to become very angry or upset

□ Eventually he worked himself up into a real panic. -2. to work up sthg [courage, enthusiasm] to make oneself have a particular feeling □ I could barely work up the energy to get out of bed. ■ to work up an appetite to do sthg to make oneself feel hungry.

workable ['wɜ:rkəbl] adj [plan, system, solution] that can be used and can be successful □ We eventually achieved a workable compromise.

workaday ['wɜ:rkədeɪ] adj [person, activity, routine] that one thinks is ordinary and not very exciting (disapproving use).

workaholic [,wɜ:rkə'hɒlɪk] n a person who enjoys working very hard and cannot relax easily.

workbasket [US 'wɜ:rkɒskɒt, GB 'wɜ:rkɒskɒt] n a basket or other container that equipment for sewing, knitting etc is kept in.

workbench ['wɜ:rkɒntʃ] n a strong table used for working with tools.

workbook ['wɜ:rkɒk] n a schoolbook containing questions and spaces in which the student writes the answers.

workday ['wɜ:rkdeɪ] n a day when one works and which is not a holiday □ I get up at seven on workdays.

worked-up [,wɜ:rkʌt] adj [person] who is upset, angry, or worried about something □ There's no need to get so worked-up about it!

worker ['wɜ:rkə] n somebody who works in a particular company, industry, or organization □ a farm/a manual/an office worker □ workers' rights. ■ a hard/fast/good worker someone who works hard/fast/well.

worker's compensation n US & AUS money paid to a worker to compensate for loss of earnings as a result of an injury or illness at work.

workforce ['wɜ:rkfɔ:s] n all the workers of a factory, country etc, considered as a group.

workhouse ['wɜ:rkhaʊs, pl -haʊzɪz] n GB in the 19th century, a place where poor people did boring and tiring jobs in return for food and accommodation.

working ['wɜ:rkɪŋ] adj -1. working people people who have a job □ Working mothers have to juggle the demands of their families with their jobs. -2. working clothes clothes that are designed for people to work in and are practical rather than attractive. -3. working conditions/practices the conditions/practices that one has in one's job □ They are introducing new working practices. -4. working hours the period of time during a day that one spends doing one's job □ The working hours here are flexible.

◆ workings npl [of a system, machine, organization] the way in which something works □ It's difficult to understand the workings of his mind.

working capital n the money that a company has to carry out its business, not including the money invested in its buildings, equipment etc.

working class n the working class(es) the people in society who work with their hands and are not rich or powerful.

♦ working-class adj [family, area, background] that is connected with or belongs to the working class.

working day n = workday.

working group n a group of people formed to examine a particular subject or problem and write a report about it.

working knowledge n to have a working knowledge of sthg to have enough knowledge about sthg to be able to use it □ I have a working knowledge of Japanese.

working man n a man who works.

working model n [of a car, machine] a model of something with moving parts.

working order n to be in working order [car, machine, engine] to be working correctly □ It's a little rusty, but apart from that it's in perfect working order.

working week n the hours or days of work done in a week □ a five-day/forty-hour working week.

workload ['wɜː'kləʊd] n the amount of work a person or machine has to do □ I've got a heavy workload this week.

workman ['wɜː'kmən] (pl workmen [-mən]) n a man who does work with his hands, such as repairing roads or buildings.

workmanship ['wɜː'kmənʃɪp] n the amount of skill with which work is done □ good/poor workmanship.

workmate ['wɜː'kmeɪt] n a friend that one works with.

work of art n -1. ART a painting, statue etc which is considered to be very good. -2. something produced with great skill □ The wedding cake was a real work of art.

workout ['wɜː'kaʊt] n a period of physical exercise, usually in a gym.

work permit n an official document which allows a person to work in a foreign country.

workplace ['wɜː'kpleɪs] n the office, factory etc in which one works □ sexual harassment in the workplace.

work placement n a period of time that a student spends working in a business, industry etc as part of a course of study.

work release n US a system that allows prisoners to leave prison during the day to go to work.

workroom ['wɜː'krʊ:m] n a room in which work of a particular kind is done.

works council n GB a group made up of workers and employers that discusses problems and questions relating to work in a business, factory etc.

workshop ['wɜː'kʃɒp] n -1. [in a home] a room in which work is done with tools. -2. [in a factory] the part of a factory where work is done with tools, machines are mended etc. -3. [at a conference] a period of study and practical work on a particular subject for a group of people □ a poetry/drama workshop.

workstation ['wɜː'ksteɪʃn] n COMPUTING a desk and computer, usually connected to the main computer system in an office, at which a person works.

work surface n a flat surface in a kitchen, usually with a cupboard, refrigerator etc underneath, on which food is prepared.

worktable ['wɜː'kteɪbəl] n a table on which a particular kind of work is done.

worktop ['wɜː'ktɒp] n GB = work surface.

work-to-rule n GB a protest by workers that involves strictly following all the rules relating to their work so that their rate of work becomes very slow.

work week n US = working week.

world [wɜː'ld] ◇ n -1. the world the planet on which we live and all the people, places etc on it □ the biggest country in the world □ a round-the-world trip. ■ how/what/where in the world? a phrase used in a question to express surprise or to emphasize what one is saying □ What in the world are you doing here? □ Where in the world did you find that? ■ the world over everywhere in the world □ Human nature is the same the world over. -2. [planet] a planet, especially one where there may be living things □ other worlds. -3. [society] the society that we live in □ The world is becoming a dangerous place. ■ to be dead to the world to be deeply asleep or unconscious. -4. [somebody's surroundings] the surroundings in which somebody lives □ London is a different world after New York. ■ the best of both worlds the good parts of two different situations without the bad parts □ Living in the country and working in the city gives us the best of both worlds. -5. [area] an area of learning or activity □ the world of the theater □ the world of art. -6. [somebody's life] somebody's life and the experiences they have □ We come from different worlds. □ the adult world. -7. the animal/plant etc world animal/plants etc considered as a group of living things with certain shared features □ the plant/animal/insect world. -8. phrases to think the world of sb to care about sb very much. □ Katy thinks the world of you, you know. ■ to do one the world of good to be very good for one □ A vacation will do you the world of good. ■ a world of difference a very big difference □ It makes a world of difference having an assistant.

◇ comp a world language/religion etc a language/religion etc that is important throughout the world. ■ a world cruise/tour a cruise/tour that involves visits to many different countries.

World Bank n the World Bank an international bank, controlled by the United Nations, created in 1945 to lend money to poor countries.

world-class adj [athlete, tennis player, singer] who is among the best in the world.

World Cup n the World Cup a soccer competition held every four years in which teams from all over the world take part □ the World Cup team/final.

world-famous adj [writer, musician, actor] who is known all over the world.

worldly ['wɜ:ldli] adj -1. [thought, care, pleasure] that is concerned with the material things of this life such as money and luxuries rather than spiritual things. □ We should put aside such worldly considerations. ■ worldly goods the property and goods a person owns. -2. [person] who has a lot of experience and knowledge about life and human nature □ "Well, you know what women are like," he said in a worldly way.

world music n popular music from non-Western countries, especially African countries.

world power n a country that is powerful enough to affect political and economic events all over the world.

World Series n the World Series a series of baseball games played every year to decide which is the best North American baseball team.

🏆 WORLD SERIES

The World Series is a set of up to seven games that is played at the end of the baseball season between the champions of the two main US leagues, the National League and the American League. The winning team is the first one to win four games. It is one of the most important sporting events of the year in the USA, and traditionally the first ball of the series is thrown by the President.

World Service n a radio station of the BBC in London whose programs can be heard in many different countries.

World Trade Center: the World Trade Center two very tall office towers in New York City.

World War I [-'wʌn] n a war that was fought in Europe from 1914 to 1918. Britain, the USA, France, and Russia defeated Germany and Turkey.

World War II [-'tu:] n a war that was fought in Europe and the Far East from 1939 to 1945. Britain, the USA, France, and the Soviet Union defeated Germany and Japan.

world-weary adj [person] who no longer enjoys life □ a world-weary sigh/attitude.

worldwide ['wɜ:ldwaɪd] ◇ adj [depression, problem, phenomenon] that affects the whole world. ◇ adv throughout the whole world □ Their products became known worldwide. □ It made news worldwide.

World Wide Web n the World Wide Web a huge collection of information, consisting of text, graphics, moving images and sound, available on the Internet.

worm [wɜ:ɹm] ◇ n a small thin creature with no legs or bones, especially one that lives in the earth or inside other animals. ◇ vt -1. to worm one's way to manage to reach a particular place by wriggling or moving slowly □ She managed to worm her way to the front. -2. to worm one's way into sb's affections/heart/confidence to win sb's affection/love/trust gradually, e.g. by pretending to like them (disapproving use).

◆ worms npl a disease that can affect animals and humans, in which tiny worms live inside the body and feed off it.

◆ worm out vt sep to worm sth out of sb [secret, truth, information] to find out sthg from sb gradually, especially by winning their trust, asking lots of questions etc.

worn [wɜ:ɹn] ◇ past participle of wear. ◇ adj -1. [carpet, sleeve, suit] that has become thin in places as a result of use over a long period. -2. to look worn [person] to look tired.

worn-out adj -1. [carpet, shoe, clothes] that is so damaged by use over a long period of time that it can no longer be used. -2. to be worn-out [person] to be very tired □ You look completely worn-out after that walk!

worried [US 'wɜ:ɹɪd, GB 'wʌr-] adj [person] who is unhappy because they cannot stop thinking about something unpleasant that has happened or might happen □ a worried frown/look □ I'm really worried about her/my work. ■ to be worried sick to be very worried.

worrier [US 'wɜ:ɹɪr, GB 'wʌrɪə] n a person who worries a lot.

worry [US 'wɜ:ɹɪ, GB 'wʌrɪ] (pl worries, pt & pp worried) ◇ n -1. a feeling of unhappiness caused by thinking about something unpleasant that has happened or might happen □ financial worry. -2. a problem that makes one feel worried □ Tony has enough worries. ◇ vt to make <sb> feel worried □ What she said really worried me. ◇ vi to be worried □ Don't worry. □ She worries about the mortgage/her children.

worrying [US 'wɜ:ɹɪɪŋ, GB 'wʌr-] adj [situation, development, position] that causes worry □ The worrying thing is,...

worrywart [US 'wɜ:ɹɪwɔ:ɹt, GB 'wʌrɪwɔ:ɹt] n US a person who worries too much (informal use).

worse [wɜ:ɹs] ◇ adj used as the comparative of "bad" □ I thought my Spanish was bad, but his is worse. □ My cooking is worse than my wife's. □ Things are even worse than I thought. ■ to get worse [situation, condition, illness] to become more serious; [person] to become more sick □ Things are getting worse every day. □ I think my cough is getting worse.

◇ adv used as the comparative of "badly" □ The soccer team did worse than expected. ■ to be worse off to have less money; to be in a more unpleasant situation □ The tax increases mean we'll all be worse off. □ With no job and a big loan to pay back, we couldn't be worse off.

◇ n something worse □ The news is bad, and there's worse to come. ■ to change for the worse [situation, weather, character] to become more unpleasant.

worsen ['wɜ:ɹsɹn] ◇ vi [situation, crisis, weather] to become worse □ The situation at home steadily worsened. ◇ vt [situation, crisis, condition] to make <sth> become worse □ His intervention served only to worsen the crisis.

worsening ['wɜ:ɹsɹnɪŋ] adj [weather, situation, condition] that is getting worse.

worship ['wɜːʃɪp] (US pt & pp worshipped, cont worshipping, GB pt & pp worshipped, cont worshipping) ◇ vt -1. RELIGION to show respect and love for <God or a god>, e.g. by singing hymns or saying prayers. -2. [person, leader, pop star] to admire or love <sb> very much, especially without questioning. ◇ n -1. RELIGION the act of worshipping □ a place of worship. -2. the act of worshipping a person □ hero worship.

◆ Worship n GB Your/Her/His Worship the formal way to address a magistrate or mayor.

worshiper US, worshipper GB ['wɜːʃɪpə] n RELIGION a person who worships God or a god.

worst [wɜːst] ◇ adj used as the superlative of "bad" □ That's the worst movie I've seen in years! □ It was his worst performance ever.

◇ adv used as the superlative of "badly" □ I did worst in the written exam. □ It's difficult to say who came off worst. □ Supplies are now reaching the worst-hit areas.

◇ n the worst the worst thing, situation etc □ I was prepared for the worst. □ At least the worst is over. ■ if the worst comes to the worst if the situation becomes very bad □ If the worst comes to the worst, I can always get a part-time job. ■ to get the worst of sthg to be affected in the most serious way by sthg □ Florida got the worst of the bad weather.

◆ at (the) worst adv if the situation becomes really bad □ At worst we can always catch a later plane.

worsted ['wʊstəd] n a cloth made of wool that is used to make suits, skirts, trousers etc.

worth [wɜːθ] ◇ prep -1. to be worth an amount of money to have the value of a particular amount of money □ It's worth $50/a fortune. □ How much is your house worth? -2. to be worth doing to be good, useful, enjoyable etc enough to do □ It's worth contacting her to find out. □ I know I spoil him, but he's worth it. □ That book isn't worth reading. □ Don't start arguing with them. It's not worth it.

◇ n -1. $5,000 worth of sthg the amount of sthg that one can buy for $5,000 □ They stole $25,000 worth of computers. -2. value or importance □ He seems to have a low opinion of his own worth. -3. a week's/year's etc worth of sthg an amount of sthg that can last for a week/year etc □ a week's worth of shopping.

worthless ['wɜːθləs] adj -1. [object] that has no value □ The ring turned out to be worthless. -2. [person] who has no good qualities.

worthwhile [ˌwɜːθ'waɪl] adj [job, work, effort] that is worth doing □ It's worthwhile visiting the museum.

worthy ['wɜːθi] (compar worthier, superl worthiest) adj -1. [successor, aim, cause] that deserves respect and approval □ Tom Hornstein proved to be a worthy champion. -2. to be worthy of sthg [of trust, love, respect] to deserve sthg. -3. [effort, book] that is good but dull (disapproving use).

would [stressed wʊd, unstressed wəd] modal vb -1. used in reported speech when the main verb is in the past □ But you said you would come! □ He promised he would help me. □ They thought they would be doing me a favor. -2. I would tell you, if I knew the answer I can't tell you the answer because I don't know it (used to express the result of an imagined or possible event) □ What would you do if you lost your job? □ It would be nice if you could come. □ I would be grateful for some advice. ■ if I had known the answer, I would have told you I couldn't tell you because I didn't know the answer (used to express the result of an imagined event in the past) □ If I hadn't fallen, I would have won the race. □ If it hadn't been for the traffic we would have arrived earlier. □ Without your help I would never have made it. -3. I would do anything I am willing to do anything □ I would travel miles to hear her sing. ■ he wouldn't move he refused to move □ She wouldn't tell us how much she'd spent on her dress. ■ the car wouldn't start the car didn't start when I tried it. -4. used in polite offers and requests □ Would you like a drink? □ Would you mind closing the window? □ Hold that, would you? □ I would like to speak to the manager. -5. used to say that a particular action is typical of somebody's behavior □ Well, she would say that, wouldn't she? □ "I told him what I thought of him." — "You would!" -6. used to express an opinion in a polite or indirect way □ I would think fifty dollars would be enough. □ I would have thought it was too difficult for her. -7. I would do it you should do it (used when giving advice) □ I'd report it to the police, if I were you. □ I wouldn't spend so much on a birthday present. -8. used to express an action that happened regularly in the past □ When I was young, my father would take me fishing. □ Every morning he would bring me a cup of tea in bed.

would-be adj a would-be writer/actor etc a person who would like to be a writer/an actor etc but is not.

wouldn't ['wʊdnt] = would not.

would've ['wʊdəv] = would have.

wound¹ [wuːnd] ◇ n a cut or tear in the skin and flesh that usually bleeds, especially one caused by a knife, gun etc □ a bullet/knife wound □ He died of his wounds. □ a chest/head wound. ■ to lick one's wounds to feel sorry for oneself after a defeat or disappointment. ◇ vt -1. to damage the skin and flesh of <sb>, especially by cutting or tearing with a weapon □ He was badly wounded in the battle. -2. to say or do something that makes <sb> feel hurt or upset □ Her remarks wounded me deeply.

wound² [waʊnd] past tense & past participle of wind.

wounded ['wʊrɪndəd] ◇ adj -1. [person] who has one or more wounds □ a wounded soldier. -2. [pride, feelings] that has been hurt by cruel words or actions □ It's just wounded pride, that's all. ◇ npl the wounded all the people injured in a battle.

Wounded Knee part of a Native American reservation where in 1890, 146 Sioux were massacred by US troops. It was the last military battle between Native Americans and whites.

wounding ['wu:ndɪŋ] adj [remark, comment] that hurts somebody's feelings.

wove [wouv] past tense of weave.

woven ['wouvən] past participle of weave.

wow [wau] (informal use) ◇ excl a word used to express admiration or surprise □ Wow! Look at that! ◇ n a person or object that is very exciting, beautiful, or successful □ Liz was a real wow at the party! ◇ vt [person, audience, critics] to make <sb> feel admiration and surprise □ She wowed the audience with her version of "Summertime".

WP n -1. abbr of word processor □ a WP operator. -2. abbr of word processing.

WPA (abbr of Works Progress Administration) n the WPA a US government body that created many jobs for the unemployed in the 1930s as part of President Roosevelt's New Deal.

WPC (abbr of woman police constable) n GB a woman who is a constable in the British police force.

wpm (abbr of words per minute) a way of measuring how quickly a person can write, type, or take shorthand notes □ a typing speed of 60 wpm.

WRAC [ræk] (abbr of Women's Royal Army Corps) n the WRAC the women's section of the British army.

WRAF [ræf] (abbr of Women's Royal Air Force) n the WRAF the women's section of the British air force.

wrangle ['ræŋgl] ◇ n a noisy argument, especially one that lasts a long time. ◇ vi to have a wrangle with somebody □ She's always wrangling with the bank manager over money.

wrap [ræp] (pt & pp wrapped, cont wrapping) ◇ vt -1. [present, product, purchase] to put paper, cloth, plastic etc around <sthg> □ Wrap that cheese in some waxed paper. □ I wrapped a towel around my head. -2. to wrap one's arms/fingers/legs around sthg to put one's arms/fingers/legs around sthg. ◇ n a piece of cloth that one wears around one's shoulders to keep warm.

◆ wrap up ◇ vt sep -1. to wrap sthg up [present, goods, box] to wrap sthg □ Could you wrap these up for me? -2. to wrap sthg up [deal, program] to complete sthg (informal use) □ Well, that about wraps it up for today. ◇ vi wrap up well OR warmly! put on plenty of warm clothes!

wrapped up [,ræpt-] adj to be wrapped up in sb/sthg [in one's work, family, book] to give sb/sthg all one's time and attention so that one does not notice other people or things (informal use) □ He's so wrapped up in his work he wouldn't notice if I left.

wrapper ['ræpə] n [of a book, chocolate, ice cream] a piece of paper or plastic that is put around something in order to protect it.

wrapping ['ræpɪŋ] n, wrappings ['ræpɪŋz] npl material used to wrap something □ The book was still in its plastic wrapping.

wrapping paper n decorative paper used for wrapping presents.

wrath [rɒθ] n great anger (literary use).

wreak [ri:k] vt to wreak havoc to cause a lot of damage or confusion.

wreath [tri:θ] n a circle of flowers and leaves worn on the head or placed on somebody's grave.

wreathe [ri:ð] vt to be wreathed in sthg [in mist, smoke, light] to be covered in sthg (literary use).

wreck [rek] ◇ n -1. a car, plane, train etc that has been destroyed in an accident or explosion □ They pulled the bodies from the wreck. -2. a ship that has sunk or been broken against rocks. -3. a person who looks or feels ill or unhappy (informal use) □ God, you look like a wreck this morning!

◇ vt -1. [car, equipment, machine] to break or destroy <sthg> □ The bomb wrecked the whole building. -2. [ship, tanker, liner] to cause  to be destroyed, especially against rocks □ The ship was wrecked off the west coast. -3. [plan, vacation, health] to spoil <sthg> □ Adam's new job offer has completely wrecked our plans for a vacation.

wreckage ['rekɪdʒ] n [of a car, ship, building] the remains of something that has been wrecked □ Firefighters were still looking for bodies in the wreckage.

wrecker ['rekə] n US a vehicle that removes other vehicles that have been in an accident or have broken down.

wren [ren] n a very small brown bird.

Wren [ren], Sir Christopher (1632–1723) a British architect who designed many London churches, including St Paul's Cathedral.

wrench [rentʃ] ◇ n -1. a tool for tightening and removing nuts. -2. [to one's ankle, knee] an injury caused by sharply twisting a joint □ She's given her ankle a nasty wrench. -3. [on leaving somebody] a difficult and sad parting □ Leaving the kids was a real wrench. ◇ vt -1. to pull <sthg> hard with a twisting movement □ He tried to wrench my bag out of my hands. -2. [knee, wrist, ankle] to injure <sthg> by twisting it sharply.

wrest [rest] vt to wrest sthg from sb [weapon, title, power] to take sthg from sb by force (literary use).

wrestle ['resl] ◇ vt [opponent, attacker] to fight <sb> by holding them and throwing them to the ground. ◇ vi -1. to fight with somebody by holding them and throwing them to the ground □ He was wrestling with his brother. -2. to wrestle with sthg [with a problem, question, one's conscience] to try to deal with sthg difficult, heavy etc.

wrestler ['reslə] n a person who wrestles for sport.

wrestling ['reslɪŋ] n the sport of fighting by holding or throwing one's opponent without hitting them □ a wrestling match.

wretch [retʃ] n a person who one thinks is unhappy or unfortunate.

wretched ['retʃəd] adj -1. [person] who is unhappy, unfortunate, or ill. -2. a word used to describe something that is very bad □ The standard of hygiene in the camps was wretched. -3. a word used to express anger or dislike (informal use) □ I can't get the wretched thing to open!

wriggle ['rɪɡl] ◇ vt to bend and twist <one's finger or toe> in small quick movements. ◇ vi -1. to move continually, especially because one is excited or uncomfortable □ Stop wriggling, and keep still! -2. to move somewhere by twisting and turning □ She wriggled under the fence.

◆ wriggle out of vt fus to wriggle out of sth to avoid sth that one does not want to do, especially by making excuses or lying □ How did she manage to wriggle out of working over Christmas?

Wright [raɪt], Frank Lloyd (1869–1959) a US architect who designed buildings to be in harmony with their environment. His work includes the Guggenheim Museum and many private homes.

Wright, Wilbur (1867–1912) and Orville (1871–1948) US inventors and pilots, known as the Wright Brothers, who designed and flew the first airplane in 1903.

wring [rɪŋ] (pt & pp wrung) vt -1. to remove water from <wet clothes> by twisting and pressing. -2. to wring one's hands to twist and press one's hands together as a sign of worry or unhappiness (literary use). -3. to wring an animal's neck to twist the neck of an animal with one's hands to kill it.

◆ wring out vt sep to wring wet clothes out to wring wet clothes.

wringing ['rɪŋɪŋ] adj wringing (wet) [person, hair, clothes] very wet.

wrinkle ['rɪŋkl] ◇ n -1. [on one's skin, face] a line or fold in the skin that is caused by age, worry, too much sun etc. -2. [in clothes] a line or fold in a piece of clothing that is caused e.g. by not hanging or folding it correctly. ◇ vt to cause wrinkles to appear in <one's nose or forehead> by moving the muscles of one's face. ◇ vi [cloth, cotton, shirt] to become full of wrinkles.

wrinkled ['rɪŋkld], wrinkly ['rɪŋkli] adj [skin, person, piece of clothing] that has many wrinkles.

wrist [rɪst] n the joint between the hand and the arm.

wristband ['rɪstbænd] n the band of metal, leather, plastic etc that fastens a watch around one's wrist.

wristwatch ['rɪstwɒtʃ] n a watch that is worn on the wrist.

writ [rɪt] n an official document allowing or forbidding somebody to do something.

write [raɪt] (pt wrote, pp written) ◇ vt -1. [word, list, number] to mark <sth> on a surface, usually paper, using a pen, pencil, or other object □ Write your name and date of birth. -2. [book, music, play] to create <sth> and record it on paper □ The novel was written just after the war. □ She writes poetry. -3. [letter, note] to produce <sth>, usually on paper and using a pen or pencil. ■ to write sb a letter to produce and send a letter to sb. -4. US [person] to produce and send a letter to <sb> □ She wrote me about the offer. -5. [check, prescription, receipt] to mark the necessary information on <an official document or form> and sign it. -6. COMPUTING to write sth to disk [data, file, information] to record sth on a disk.

◇ vi -1. to make marks that represent letters or numbers on a surface, usually paper, using a pen, pencil, or other object □ Ben's learning to write. □ He always writes in ink/ballpoint. -2. to produce and send a letter □ Write soon! □ I write to my mother every week. -3. to earn money by producing books, plays, newspaper articles etc □ He writes for television/the New York Times. -4. COMPUTING to write to disk to record information, data etc on a disk.

◆ write back ◇ vt sep to write sth back [letter, note] to write sth in reply. ◇ vi: She never wrote back.

◆ write down vt sep to write sth down [telephone number, name, idea] to record sth in writing, especially in order to remember it □ Hang on, I'll just write it down, otherwise I'll forget.

◆ write in vi [viewer, listener, customer] to write to a radio station, television program etc in order to ask for something, give information, or complain □ Listeners are invited to write in with their suggestions.

◆ write into vt sep to write sth into a contract/an agreement etc [clause, detail] to include sth in a contract/agreement etc when it is written.

◆ write off ◇ vt sep -1. to write sth off [project, venture] to accept the failure of sth □ You'll just have to write it off as a useful experience. -2. to write a sum of money off [debt, investment] to accept the loss of a sum of money □ The bank's agreed to write off all the company's bad debts. -3. to write sb off to consider sb as a failure □ You can't just write him off because he made one mistake! -4. to write a vehicle off GB to damage a vehicle so badly that it is not worth repairing it. ◇ vi to write a letter to an organization asking for advice, information etc □ She wrote off to various companies. □ I wrote off for a brochure.

◆ write out vt sep -1. to write sth out [list, report] to write sth and include all the necessary information □ Write it all out on this piece of paper here. -2. to write sth out [receipt, prescription, parking ticket] to write the necessary information on an official document or form □ The doctor wrote out the prescription for me.

◆ write up vt sep to write sth up [minutes, report] to write sth in a finished form, usually using notes which one has made □ I'll write it up later when I have a bit more time.

write-off n GB a vehicle that has been so badly damaged in an accident that it is not worth repairing □ The car was a complete write-off.

write-protect vt COMPUTING [disk] to prevent the information on  from being altered or removed by opening a small hole in one corner of it.

writer ['raɪtə] n -1. a person who writes books, articles etc as a job □ a famous writer. -2. the person who has written a particular letter, article etc □ The writer was accused of unfair bias.

write-up n an article in a newspaper or magazine in which the writer discusses something such as a play or movie and says what they think about it □ The program got a good write-up.

writh [raɪð] vi to twist and turn one's body, especially because one is in pain □ He was writhing in agony.

writing ['raɪtɪŋ] n -1. handwriting □ I can't read your writing. -2. [on a page, blackboard, sign] written letters or numbers. ■ in writing [apply, accept] in a written form □ Make sure you get/put that in writing. -3. [for money] the activity of writing articles, novels etc, especially for money.

◆ writings npl the material written by a particular person or on a particular subject □ political/scientific writings.

writing desk n a desk with special places for paper, pens etc.

writing paper n paper, usually of good quality, used for writing letters.

written ['rɪtɪn] ◇ past participle of write. ◇ adj -1. a written test/exam a test/exam in which the answers must be written rather than spoken. -2. written confirmation/agreement etc a confirmation/an agreement etc that is in writing and is therefore official.

WRNS [renz] (abbr of Women's Royal Naval Service) n the WRNS the women's section of the British navy.

wrong [rɒŋ] ◇ adj -1. there is something wrong a phrase used to say that something is not satisfactory □ Is something wrong? □ There's something wrong with the fridge. □ What's wrong? -2. [person, object] that is not suitable or right □ the wrong man/tool for the job □ the wrong kind of shoes for walking. -3. [decision, answer, turning] that is not correct □ The letter went to the wrong address. □ You're wrong about Kay, she's really very nice. □ Perhaps I was wrong to ask. -4. to be wrong to be morally bad □ It's wrong to steal/tell lies.

◇ adv [spell, pronounce] incorrectly. ■ to get sthg wrong [name, number, answer] to make a mistake with sthg □ You've got it all wrong, I never said that. ■ to go wrong [person] to make a mistake; [machine, heating, computer] to stop working well □ Where did we go wrong with the children? □ The printer keeps going wrong. ■ don't get me wrong don't misunderstand me (informal use) □ Don't get me wrong, most of the time I think she's really great.

◇ n an action that is morally bad □ She can do no wrong in their eyes. □ Two wrongs don't make a right. □ He's old enough to tell the difference between right and wrong. ■ to be in the wrong [person] to have done something bad, immoral, incorrect etc □ He knows perfectly well he's in the wrong.

◇ vt [person] to treat <sb> badly or unfairly (literary use).

wrong-foot vt GB -1. SPORT [opponent] to cause <sb> to lose their balance by kicking, hitting, or throwing the ball in a way they are not expecting □ Once again they managed to wrong-foot the Dodgers. -2. [person] to surprise <sb> in a way that places them in a difficult position □ I have this feeling she's trying to wrong-foot me all the time.

wrongful ['rɒŋfl] adj [arrest, imprisonment] that is unfair or illegal □ He's going to sue them for wrongful dismissal.

wrongly ['rɒŋli] adv [spell, conclude] see wrong □ She was wrongly accused. □ He thought, quite wrongly, that she agreed with him.

wrong number n a telephone number that is dialed incorrectly so that the telephone rings at the wrong address □ I tried calling, but I got a wrong number.

wrote [ru:t] past tense of write.

wrought iron [ˌrɔ:t-ɪn] n iron that is twisted into shapes and used to make decorative gates, fences etc.

wrung [rʌŋ] past tense & past participle of wring.

WRVS (abbr of Women's Royal Voluntary Service) n the WRVS a British charity consisting of women who do voluntary work, e.g. delivering meals to elderly people.

wry [raɪ] adj a wry smile/look etc a smile/look etc that shows a mixture of slight amusement and displeasure □ a wry sense of humor.

wt. abbr of weight.

WTO (abbr of World Trade Organization) n an international organization set up to encourage trade between its members. It replaced GATT in 1995.

WV abbr of West Virginia.

WW abbr of World War.

WWW n abbr of World Wide Web.

WY abbr of Wyoming.

Wyeth ['waɪəθ], Andrew (1917–) a US painter who is well known for his realistic images of the Midwest.

Wyoming [waɪ'ɒmɪŋ] a state in the western USA, in the area of the Rocky Mountains. ABBREVIATION: WY. SIZE: 253,500 sq kms. POPULATION: 453,588 (Wyomingites). CAPITAL: Cheyenne.

WYSIWYG ['wɪzɪwɪg] (abbr of what you see is what you get) adj a term used for a piece of computer software that shows letters, documents etc on the screen of a computer exactly as they appear when printed on paper.

X

x [eks] (pl x's OR xs), X [eks] (pl X's OR Xs) n
 -1. the twenty-fourth letter of the English alphabet. -2. [name] a letter used to stand for a name that is not known □ Mr/Ms X. -3. [amount] a letter used to stand for an amount that is not known □ X gallons of gas. -4. MATH a letter used to stand for an unknown number that can be calculated □ $y = x + 1$. -5. [place] a letter used to mark a particular place on a map □ X marks the spot. -6. [kiss] a mark that represents a kiss, written under the writer's name at the end of a letter.

xenophobia [ˌzɛnə'fəʊbjə] n a strong and unreasonable fear and dislike of foreigners or strangers.

XeroxTM ['ziərəʊks] n -1. a photocopier. -2. a photocopy.

◆ xerox vt [page, letter, document] to make a photocopy of <sthg>.

Xmas ['krɪsməs] n = Christmas □ a Xmas card/present.

X-rated [ˌɛks'reɪtəd] adj [book, movie] that shows sex in a way that some people might find offensive.

X-ray ◇ n a beam of energy that passes through most solid materials but makes others, e.g. bone or metal, appear as dark areas on special photographs; a photograph produced in this way, used in hospitals to examine broken bones and unhealthy organs, and in airports to find drugs, guns, bombs etc inside luggage. ◇ vt [patient, leg, suitcase] to photograph <sb/sthg> using X-rays.

xylophone ['zɪləfəʊn] n a musical instrument consisting of a set of metal or wooden bars of different lengths that produce different notes when hit with special hammers.

Y

y [waɪ] (pl y's OR ys), Y [waɪ] (pl Y's OR Ys) n
 -1. the twenty-fifth letter of the English alphabet. -2. MATH a letter used to stand for a number that is not known □ $y = x + 1$.

Y n abbr of YMCA, YWCA.

yacht [jɒt] n a boat with sails or an engine, used for racing or pleasure.

yachting ['jɒtɪŋ] n the sport of sailing yachts □ They're going yachting.

yachtsman ['jɒtsmən] (pl yachtsmen [-mən]) n a man who goes yachting.

yachtswoman ['jɒtswʊmən] (pl yachtswomen) n a woman who goes yachting.

yahoo [jɑ:'hu:] n a rough rude person.

yak [jæk] n an animal from Tibet that is like a cow with long horns and long rough hair.

Yale [jeɪl] n one of the oldest American universities. It is a member of the Ivy League.

Yale lockTM n a strong lock, used on doors, that is opened with a flat key with an uneven edge.

yam [jæm] n a tropical vegetable that looks like a long thin potato.

Yangtze [US 'jɑ:ŋtʃɪ, GB 'jæŋtʃɪ]: the Yangtze (Kiang) the longest river in China, flowing from Tibet to the China Sea near Shanghai.

yank [jæŋk] vt [rope, tooth, arm] to pull <sthg> suddenly and with a lot of force.

Yank n GB a term for a person who comes from or lives in the United States (informal and disapproving use).

Yankee ['jæŋki] n -1. GB = Yank. -2. US a person from the northern United States.

☞ YANKEE

The term "Yankee" originally referred to Dutch immigrants, who settled mainly in the northeastern USA. Later, it came to refer to anybody from the northeast, so that during the American Civil War soldiers fighting for the Northern states were known as Yankees. In modern times, some Southerners still refer to Northerners as Yankees when they want to show disapproval.

yap [jæp] (vt & pp yapped, cont yapping) vi
 -1. [dog] to make a high-pitched bark. -2. [person] to talk loudly about stupid or boring things (disapproving use).

yard [jɑ:'d] n -1. a unit (three feet or 91.4 centimeters) used for measuring distance □ fifty yards down the road. -2. US a piece of land next to somebody's house where they grow flowers, have a lawn etc □ The kids were playing in the yard. □ yard work. -3. [next to a building] a concrete or stone area, usually behind or beside a building, that is surrounded by a wall or fence. -4. [for work] an open area where a particular kind of work is done □ a ship repair/builder's yard.

yardstick ['jɑ:'dstɪk] n -1. US a long, thin, flat piece of plastic, wood, or metal that is one yard long and is used to measure things. -2. a person or thing that is used in a comparison to decide how good another person or thing is.

yarn [jɑ:'n] n -1. thread made of twisted wool or cotton. -2. a long story that is not completely true. ■ to spin sb a yarn to tell sb a yarn, especially when making an excuse.

yashmak ['jæʃmæk] n a thin cloth that Muslim women use to cover their faces in public.

yawn [jɔ:n] ◇ vi -1. [person] to open one's mouth wide and breathe deeply because one is tired or bored □ "I'm so tired," she said, yawning. -2. [gap, chasm, crack] to be or become wide open. ◇ n an act of yawning □ She gave a huge yawn.

yd abbr of yard.

yeah [jə] adv yes (informal use).

year [jɪə] n -1. the period of twelve months or 365 days from January 1 to December 31 in the Western calendar □ this/last/next year □ 1993 was a bad year for small businesses. □ He was born in the year 1868. ■ all (the) year round throughout the year. -2. any period of twelve months □ We've lived here for two years. □ He's 21 years old. □ The city walls are hundreds of years old. ■ year in year out every year without changing □ He wears the same suit year in year out. -3. EDUCATION the period of the year when students are at school, college etc □ The new year starts in September. □ a three-year course. -4. FINANCE = fiscal year □ profits at the year end.

◆ years npl a long time □ He's been here for years. □ We met years and years ago.

yearbook ['jɪə'bʊk] n a book which is produced once a year and contains information about a school, company etc during the past year.

yearling ['jɪə'lɪŋ] n an animal between one and two years old, especially a horse.

yearly ['jɪə'li] ◇ adj -1. [event, meeting, visit] that takes place once a year. -2. [income, wage, budget] that refers to a period of one year. ◇ adv -1. [meet, visit, inspect] once a year □ The conference takes place yearly. -2. every year □ We see them twice yearly.

yearn [jɜ:'n] vi to yearn for sthg/to do sthg [for acceptance, success, love] to have a strong desire for sthg/to do sthg □ We yearned for the comforts of home.

yearning ['jɜ:'nɪŋ] n a strong desire for somebody or something □ a yearning for peace.

yeast [jɪ:t] n a soft grayish-brown fungus that is used to make alcoholic drinks and causes bread to become light and full of air □ brewer's yeast □ dried yeast.

yeast infection n US an infectious disease caused by a fungus that affects the vagina of adult women.

Yeats [jɪ:ts], W. B. (1865–1939) an Irish writer who played an important part in the development of Irish poetry and drama, and was involved in Irish nationalism.

yell [jel] ◇ vi to shout loudly because one is angry, in pain, excited, or scared. ◇ vt: "Hey, you!" he yelled. ◇ n: He let out a loud yell.

yellow ['jeləʊ] ◇ n the color of lemons or butter □ The blouse comes in yellow or navy. ◇ adj -1. [car, dress, flower] that is the color yellow. -2. [person] who is a coward (informal use). ◇ vi [paper, photograph, teeth] to become yellow, usually with age.

yellow card n a piece of yellow card that a referee in a soccer match holds up in the air as a warning to a player who has broken a rule.

yellow fever n a serious tropical disease that makes the skin go slightly yellow.

yellow light n US the light between the red and green lights on a traffic light that tells drivers to be careful.

yellow lines npl in Britain, lines of yellow paint along the edges of a road that show that parking is not allowed, or that it is only allowed at certain times.

Yellow PagesTM npl the Yellow Pages a book, printed on yellow paper, that contains the telephone numbers of businesses and services in an area.

Yellowstone National Park [ˌjeləʊstəʊn] a national park in Wyoming, Idaho, and Montana, USA. It is famous for its hot springs and geysers.

yelp [jelp] ◇ vi [dog] to make a short high-pitched sound, often because of pain; [person] to shout in this way. ◇ n: The dog let out a yelp.

Yemen ['jemən] a country at the southern end of the Arabian Peninsula, that was divided into the independent states of North and South Yemen until they were united in 1990. SIZE: 485,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,000,000 (Yemenis). CAPITAL: Sanaa. LANGUAGE: Arabic. CURRENCY: rial.

yen [jen] (pl sense 1 yen) n -1. the unit of money used in Japan. -2. to have a yen to do sthg to have a strong desire to do sthg □ I've always had a yen to learn Greek.

yeoman of the guard ['jəʊmən-] (pl yeomen of the guard ['jəʊmən-]) n one of the ceremonial guards at the Tower of London.

yep [jep] adv yes (informal use).

yes [jes] ◇ adv -1. a word used to give a positive answer to a question □ "Would you say the figures are accurate?" — "Yes, I would." □ "Can I come in?" — "Yes, of course." ■ yes, please a phrase used to accept an offer politely □ "Would you like coffee?" — "Yes, please." -2. a word used to show that one accepts something, agrees to something, or says that something is true □ "Sweden can be cold at this time of year." — "Yes, it certainly can!" □ Yes, that's her alright. □ "Will you take the call?" — "Yes, put it through." ■ to say yes to sthg to accept or agree to sthg □ Let's hope they say yes to our proposal. -3. a word used to invite somebody to continue speaking □ "I want to ask you something" — "Yes, what is it?" □ "The problem is..." — "Yes, go on." -4. a word used to disagree with something that has been expressed in the negative □ "He wasn't even there." — "Yes, he was!" -5. a word used to introduce something that one has forgotten to say □ Oh, yes, I meant to tell you that Jay called.

◇ n a vote in favor of a person, proposal etc □ five yeses, two nos.

yes-man n a man who always agrees with

- his boss in order to be liked by them (disapproving use).
- yesterday ['jestərdi] ◇ n the day before today □ the day before yesterday □ yesterday's news.
 ◇ adv -1. I saw him yesterday. -2. in the recent past □ That was yesterday, things are different now.
- yet [jet] ◇ adv -1. up until now (used in questions) □ Have you had lunch yet? □ Are you ready yet? -2. up until now (used with negatives) □ The taxi hasn't arrived yet. □ The house isn't finished yet. ■ not yet not before now □ "Have you finished?" — "Not yet." ■ don't do it yet don't do it now, do it later □ Add the tomatoes, but don't add the fish yet. -3. it may yet happen there is a possibility that it will happen in the future □ We may yet be successful. -4. used to emphasize that something is continuing to happen □ Yet again I must warn you to be careful. □ The traffic became yet slower. □ Yet more people arrived. -5. there's hope for us yet there's still hope for us □ I've yet to meet a nicer man.
 ◇ conj used to emphasize a contrast that is surprising □ The plan was simple yet effective. □ I was hungry, yet I couldn't eat anything.
- yeti ['jeti] n a large hairy ape that is supposed to look like a man and live in the Himalayas, but that only some people believe actually exists.
- yew [ju:] n an evergreen tree that has dark-green leaves shaped like thin needles and small red cones; the wood of this tree.
- Y-fronts npl GB men's underpants with an opening at the front □ a pair of Y-fronts.
- YHA (abbr of Youth Hostels Association) n the YHA the organization in charge of British youth hostels.
- Yiddish ['jidiʃ] ◇ n a language spoken by Jews, especially in Eastern and Central Europe. ◇ adj: a Yiddish speaker/song.
- yield [ji:ld] ◇ vt -1. [fruit, profit, result] to produce <sthg>, especially as a result of work that has been done □ Our research is beginning to yield some answers. -2. [power, responsibility, territory] to give <sthg> to somebody else so that they have control over it.
 ◇ vi -1. [door, lock, gate] to break, move backward, or open as a result of force. -2. [person, troops, government] to stop fighting or resisting somebody or something (formal use) □ He finally yielded to pressure and resigned. -3. US AUTO to slow down or stop at an intersection to let other vehicles pass in front of one □ "Yield."
 ◇ n [of crops, corn, olives] an amount of a particular crop or kind of food that is produced.
- yippee [US 'jipi, GB jɪ'pi:] excl a word used to show that one is pleased and excited about something □ Yippee! We're going to the zoo!
- YMCA (abbr of Young Men's Christian Association) n the YMCA an international organization that runs hostels, sports centers, and educational courses for young people, mainly in big cities.
- yo [jou] excl hello (informal use).
- yodel ['joudl] (US pt & pp yodeled, cont yodeling, GB pt & pp yodelled, cont yodelling) vi to sing by making one's voice go up and down from normal to high notes very quickly.
- yoga ['jougə] n an Indian system of thought and exercise that is supposed to have good effects on the mind and body □ a yoga exercise.
- yogurt, yoghurt, yoghourt [US 'jougərt, GB 'jɒgət] n a food made from milk with bacteria added to it, that is thick, white, tastes slightly sour, and is often eaten with fruit or used in cooking □ natural/strawberry yogurt.
- yoke [jʊk] n -1. FARMING a wooden bar that fits over the necks of two animals, especially oxen, to keep them together when they are pulling a plough. -2. to live under the yoke of sth [of tyranny, slavery] to live somewhere where there is sth that restricts one's freedom (literary use).
- yokel ['jɒkl] n a person who lives in the countryside and is thought of as being stupid.
- yolk [jɒk] n the yellow part inside an egg □ egg yolk.
- Yom Kippur [US 'jɔ:m'kɪpɹ, GB 'jɒm'kɪpə] n in the Jewish religion, a holiday on which people pray for their sins to be forgiven and do not eat.
- yonder ['jɒndə] adv over there (literary use).
- Yorks. abbr of Yorkshire.
- Yorkshire ['jɔ:ʃkɪʃə] a region of northern England that used to be a county. SIZE: 11,908 sq kms. POPULATION: 4,025,100.
- Yorkshire pudding n a light dish made of flour, eggs, and milk, that is baked and usually eaten with roast beef.
- Yorkshire terrier n a very small dog with long straight hair.
- Yorktown ['jɔ:ktəʊn] a town in Virginia, USA, where the last battle in the US War of Independence took place.
- Yosemite National Park [jɔ:semətɪ-] a national park in California, USA. It is famous for its attractive scenery and giant redwood trees.
- you [stressed ju:, unstressed jə, before vowel ju] pron -1. used as the subject or object of a verb, to refer to the person or people one is talking to □ You know my wife, don't you? □ How do you Americans pronounce it? □ I didn't recognize you in that hat! □ I bought this for you. -2. used to talk about people in general □ You have to be careful these days. □ Exercise is good for you. □ You add the rice when the water is boiling. -3. phrases you idiot/liar/snob etc! an expression used to say to somebody that one thinks they are an idiot/a liar/a snob etc. ■ you know an expression used when giving information to somebody □ I saw Jane today, you know. ■ that dress/jacket etc isn't really you that dress/jacket etc doesn't suit you. ■ it's you an expression used when one recognizes somebody □ Oh, it's you — come in. ■ if I were you an expression used when giving somebody advice □ If I were you, I would go to a lawyer.

you'd [stressed ju:d, unstressed jəd] = you had, you would.

you'll [stressed ju:l, unstressed jəl] = you will.

young [jʌŋ] < adj -1. [person, animal, plant] that is not yet fully grown or is not very old □ She's too young to go on her own. □ They have two young children. -2. [country, movement] that has not existed long □ At that time the women's movement was still young. -3. [outlook, ambition] that is typical of or suitable for somebody young □ Is this dress too young for me? < npl -1. the young young people as a group. -2. the babies of a particular animal □ a cat and her young.

Young [jʌŋ], Brigham (1801–1877) a US religious leader who led the Mormons to Utah and founded Salt Lake City.

younger ['juŋgə] adj [sister, brother, colleague] who is not as old as oneself □ It belongs to my younger brother.

youngish ['juŋɪʃ] adj [person, face, appearance] that is quite young □ He was a youngish-looking forty.

young man n (old-fashioned use) -1. a way of addressing a boy when one is angry □ Now listen here, young man! -2. sb's young man sb's boyfriend.

youngster ['juŋstə] n -1. a child □ She's got three youngsters now. -2. a young person.

young woman n a young fully grown woman.

your [stressed jɔ:ɹ, unstressed jə] det -1. used to say that somebody or something is connected with or belongs to the person or people one is speaking to □ Is this your jacket? □ Is your son still at college? □ Your hair looks nice. □ What's your name? -2. used in formal titles to refer to the person or people one is talking to □ Thank you, Your Majesty. -3. used to say that somebody or something is connected with or belongs to people in general □ Your eyes quickly get used to the dark. ■ your average American the average American.

you're [juə] = you are.

yours [jɔ:ɹz] pron used to refer to something that belongs to or is connected with the person or people one is talking to □ Use my car if yours won't start. □ Is this newspaper yours? ■ a friend of yours one of your friends.

◆ Yours adv used at the end of a letter before the signature when one knows the person one is writing to quite well.

yourself [jɔ:ɹ'self] (pl yourselves [-'selvz]) pron -1. used as the object of a verb, or after a preposition, to refer to the same person or people as the subject "you" □ Did you enjoy yourself on vacation? □ I hope you all behaved yourselves. □ Just pour yourself a drink. □ You should take better care of yourself. -2. you did it yourself you did it without help from other people □ Did you decorate the house yourselves? ■ by yourself alone □ Would you prefer to eat by yourself?

youth [ju:θ, pl ju:ðz] n -1. sb's youth the period when sb is young □ in my youth. -2. [in a person] the state or quality of being young □ She radiated youth and vitality. -3. a boy or young man □ a gang of youths. -4. [as a group] young people considered as a group □ the youth of today.

youth club n a club, often run by the church or local government, where young people can meet and take part in social activities.

youthful ['ju:θfl] adj -1. [enthusiasm, idealism, innocence] that is typical of a young person □ full of youthful vigor. -2. [figure, complexion, face] that looks young but is not young □ He still had a slim, youthful figure.

youthfulness ['ju:θflnəs] n [of a face, figure] see youthful.

youth hostel n a kind of cheap hotel where people, especially young people, can spend the night when traveling.

you've [stressed ju:v, unstressed jəv] = you have.

yowl [jəʊl] < vi to make a long loud noise because one is sad or in pain. < n: the yowl of hungry wolves.

yo-yo ['jəʊjəʊ] n a toy that consists of a piece of string that one winds and unwinds around the middle of a round piece of wood, plastic etc.

yr abbr of year.

YT < abbr of Yukon Territory. < n (abbr of Youth Training) a British government training program for 16 and 17 year-olds who are not in full-time education or employment.

Yucatán [ju:kə'tæn]: the Yucatan a peninsula in the Gulf of Mexico, including part of Mexico, Guatemala, and Belize.

yucca ['jʌkə] n a plant with a thick stem like the trunk of a tree and long pointed green leaves.

yuck [jʌk] excl a word used to show that one is disgusted by something (informal use).

Yugoslav ['ju:ɡəʊ'slə:v], Yugoslavian [ju:ɡəʊ'slə:vɪən] adj & n: see Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia [ju:ɡəʊ'slə:vɪə] a country in southeastern Europe. From 1945 to 1990 it was a Communist federation of six republics. Four of these have declared their independence, leaving Serbia and Montenegro. SIZE: 102,200 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,400,000 (Yugoslavians, Yugoslavs). CAPITAL: Belgrade. LANGUAGE: Serbo-Croat. CURRENCY: Yugoslavian dinar.

Yukon Territory ['ju:kən-] a territory of northwestern Canada, bordering Alaska. ABBREVIATION: YT. SIZE: 482,515 sq kms. POPULATION: 27,797. CAPITAL: Whitehorse.

yule log ['ju:l-] n a cake shaped like a log of wood that is eaten at Christmas.

yuletide ['ju:ltɪd] n Christmas (literary use).

yummy ['jʌmɪ] (compar yummier, superl yummiest) adj [meal, taste, drink] that tastes delicious (informal use) □ That looks yummy!

yuppie, yuppy ['jʌpɪ] (pl yuppies) n a young person with a professional job who lives in a city, earns a lot of money, and spends it on expensive and fashionable things.

YWCA (abbr of Young Women's Christian Association) n the YWCA an international organization that runs hostels and sports centers for young women, mainly in big cities.

Z

z [US zi:, GB zed] (pl z's OR zs), Z [US zi:, GB zed] (pl Z's OR Zs) n the last letter of the English alphabet.

Zagreb ['zɑ:greb] the capital of Croatia. POPULATION: 1,175,000.

Zaire [US zɑ:'ɪr, GB zɑ:'ɪə] -1. a country in central Africa. It is a major exporter of diamonds. SIZE: 2,345,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 41,200,000 (Zaireans). CAPITAL: Kinshasa. LANGUAGE: French. CURRENCY: zaire. -2. the Zaire (River) a large river in central Africa that forms the border between the Congo Republic and Zaire.

Zambia ['zæmbɪə] a country in southern central Africa. SIZE: 746,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 8,600,000 (Zambians). CAPITAL: Lusaka. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: kwacha.

zany ['zeɪni] (compar zanier, superl zaniest) adj [person, outfit, humor] that seems odd in an amusing way.

Zanzibar ['zænzəbɑ:] an island off the coast of East Africa, forming part of the republic of Tanzania. SIZE: 1,658 sq kms. POPULATION: 310,000 (Zanzibaris).

zap [zæp] (pt & pp zapped, cont zapping) (informal use) ◇ vt -1. [person, vehicle, building] to kill or destroy <sb/sthg> with a gun, bomb etc. -2. [target, object] to make <sthg> disappear from the screen in a video game. ◇ vi -1. to move somewhere quickly or do something quickly. -2. TV to change channels using a remote control device.

Zapata [zə'pu:tə], Emiliano (1879–1919) a Mexican revolutionary leader who led an army of peasants to take back land that the government had taken from them.

zeal [zi:l] n great enthusiasm □ Pat set about the task with great zeal.

zealot ['zelət] n a person who has extreme opinions, especially about religion or politics (disapproving use).

zealous ['zeləs] adj [defender, campaigner, reformer] who does something with a lot of energy and enthusiasm, because they believe it is right (formal use).

zebra [US 'zi:brə, GB 'zebrə] (pl zebra OR zebras) n an African animal that looks like a small horse with black-and-white stripes on its body.

zebra crossing n in Britain, a place on a road marked with white stripes where traffic must stop to let people cross.

zenith [US 'zi:nəθ, GB 'zen-] n -1. ASTRONOMY the point in the sky that is directly above one. -2. [of one's career, success] the highest point of something.

Zeppelin ['zɛpələn] n a large airship used by the Germans in World War I.

zero ['ziərəʊ] (pl zeros OR zeroes, pt & pp zeroed, cont zeroing) ◇ n -1. MATH & SPORT the number 0. -2. the point on the Celsius scale at which water freezes □ ten degrees below zero. ◇ adj zero growth/inflation etc no growth/inflation etc at all.

◆ zero in on vt fus -1. to zero in on sb/sthg [target, person] to aim at sb/sthg. -2. to zero in on sthg [subject, problem] to give all of one's attention to sthg.

zero-rated [-'reɪtəd] adj GB [product, goods] on which VAT does not have to be paid.

zest [zest] n -1. excitement. -2. a zest for sthg enthusiasm for sthg □ He's lost his zest for life. -3. [of fruit] the outer part of the skin of an orange, lemon, or lime that is used to flavor food or drink □ Add some lemon zest.

zigzag ['zɪgzæg] (pt & pp zigzagged, cont zigzagging) ◇ n a line that turns sharply left and right, like a row of Vs joined together □ a zigzag pattern. ◇ vi [person, car, road] to move or go in a zigzag pattern.

zilch [zɪltʃ] n nothing (informal use).

Zimbabwe [zɪm'bɑ:bwɪ] a country in southern central Africa. SIZE: 390,000 sq kms. POPULATION: 10,700,000 (Zimbabweans). CAPITAL: Harare. LANGUAGE: English. CURRENCY: Zimbabwean dollar.

Zimmer frameTM ['zɪmər-] n GB a light metal frame with rubber feet, used by old and ill people to support them when they are walking.

zinc [zɪŋk] n a whitish metal element used in batteries and for protecting other metals from rust. SYMBOL: Zn.

Zionism ['zaiənɪzəm] n a political movement whose aim was to establish a land for the Jews in Palestine, and is now concerned with developing modern Israel.

Zionist ['zaiənɪst] ◇ n a person who supports Zionism. ◇ adj: a Zionist group/leader.

zip [zɪp] (pt & pp zipped, cont zipping) ◇ n GB = zipper. ◇ vt [dress, coat, case] to fasten or close  using a zipper.

◆ zip up vt sep = zip □ Can you zip me up?

zip code n US the series of numbers that are part of an address and are written after the name of a city, town, or state, and before the name of a country.

zip fastener n GB = zipper.

zipper ['zɪpər] n US a device used for fastening clothes, bags etc and consisting of two rows of small metal or plastic teeth that are joined or separated when a sliding piece is pulled up or down between them □ The zipper's stuck.

zit [zɪt] n a pimple on somebody's skin (informal use).

zodiac ['zəʊdiæk] n the zodiac an imaginary path in the sky along which the sun, moon, and some planets move and which is divided into twelve sections; a circular diagram showing this path, used by people who believe that the stars have an effect on a person's character and actions. ■ a sign of the zodiac any of the twelve sections of the zodiac □ What sign of the zodiac are you?

zombie ['zɒmbɪ] n a person who seems to do things very slowly because they are tired, drunk etc (disapproving use).

zone [zəʊn] n an area with particular characteristics □ a war/security/pedestrian zone.

zoo [zu:] n a park where animals are kept so that people can see and study them.

zoological [ˌzəʊə'lɒdʒɪkəl] adj [study, specimen] that is connected with zoology.

zoologist [zəʊ'blɒdʒəst] n a person who studies animals and their behavior.

zoology [zəʊ'blɒdʒɪ] n the scientific study of animals and their behavior.

zoom [zu:m] vi (informal use) -1. [person, object] to move somewhere quickly. -2. [temperature, price, sales] to rise quickly.

◆ zoom in vi to zoom in on sb/sthg [camera] to give a close-up picture of sb/sthg.

◆ zoom off vi [person, vehicle] to go away quickly (informal use).

zoom lens n a device on a camera that makes it possible to take a close-up picture of something without moving the camera nearer to it.

Zoroaster [ˌzɒrəʊ'æstəʳ] (630–553 BC) an Iranian religious leader who started his own religion, based on the idea that two great forces, good and evil, are constantly opposed to each other.

zucchini [zu:'ki:ni] (pl zucchini OR zucchiniis) n US a long, thin, green vegetable like a small cucumber that has white flesh and is soft and watery when cooked.

Zulu ['zu:lu:] (pl Zulus OR Zulu) ◇ n a member of an African people that lives mainly in eastern South Africa; the language of this people. ◇ adj: a Zulu song/village.

Zurich ['zʊərɪk] the largest city in Switzerland, and an important financial center, especially for banking. POPULATION: 365,043.

Living in the United States, United Kingdom, and Australia

CONTENTS

	USA	UK	Australia
Geography	2	12	22
Administration	3	13	23
Transportation	4	14	24
Communications	5	15	25
Employment	6	16	26
Banking	7	17	27
Health	8	18	28
Education	9	19	29
Media	10	20	30
Leisure	11	21	31

The United States of America (also called the US, the USA, or America) is the fourth-largest country in the world, measuring 9,364,000 square kilometers (3,614,500 square miles) including Alaska and Hawaii. Its population of over 260 million is the third-largest in the world. It covers the central part of the North American continent, measuring 4,000 kilometers (2,500 miles) between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, and 1,900 kilometers (1,200 miles) from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. Alaska is northwest of Canada, and Hawaii is a group of islands in the central Pacific. The USA also has several island territories in the Pacific and Caribbean, including Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands, and Samoa.

10 Largest US Cities

City	Population	State
New York	7,322,564	New York
Los Angeles	3,485,398	California
Chicago	2,783,726	Illinois
Philadelphia	1,685,577	Pennsylvania
Houston	1,630,553	Texas
San Diego	1,110,549	California
Detroit	1,027,974	Michigan
Dallas	1,006,877	Texas
Phoenix	983,403	Arizona
San Antonio	935,933	Texas

The USA can be divided into four geographical regions:

Regions The USA can be divided into four geographical regions:

- ❑ Northeast – Delaware, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New England (consisting of Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont), New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Washington D.C.
- ❑ Midwest – Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.
- ❑ South – Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia.
- ❑ West – Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.

Most of the US population is concentrated in towns and cities in the Northeast, in the South, around the Great Lakes, and on the West Coast.

Federal and State Government The USA is a federal republic consisting of 50 states and the District of Columbia, an area of land on the east coast that contains the capital, Washington D.C. Power is divided among the federal, state, and local governments.

- ❑ Federal government controls areas such as defense, foreign relations, printing money, and commerce among the states. It is run by the President, Congress (the House of Representatives and the Senate), and the Supreme Court.
- ❑ State governments are responsible for state taxes, health, education, and law enforcement. Most are run by a Governor and State Congress with an upper and lower house.
- ❑ States are divided into counties, which are divided into municipalities (e.g. cities, boroughs, towns), each with its own local government. Most cities are governed by an elected mayor and city council. Local authorities are responsible for local services.

The USA is a country of great distances, and trips between cities can take many hours, or even days. Traveling across the country, you may pass through four time zones (see map at ADMINISTRATION).

Air Air travel is quite cheap in the USA. Many major international airports act as centers (hubs) for national and regional airlines that fly to many smaller airports. US airports often have many terminals (Los Angeles International has eight) which may be miles apart. Smoking is not allowed on domestic US flights.

Train Trains are the least common form of travel for most Americans. The Amtrak™ passenger network links over 500 cities and towns in 46 states. Long-distance trains are very comfortable – with sleeping accommodation, dining cars, and viewing cars – but they are much slower, and often more expensive, than air travel. Even buses are quicker on many long-distance routes.

Long-distance buses are cheaper than planes or trains, and go to more cities. There are over 1,000 intercity and suburban bus companies. The best-known company, Greyhound, has over 2,000 buses on regular service routes to over 2,400 places. Most long-distance buses have air-conditioning, heating, toilets, and adjustable seats with reading lights.

Urban Transportation

► subways and urban railroads operate in many cities. Some cities such as San Francisco and New Orleans still have streetcar systems, and some have elevated railroads (els) or monorail systems, as in Chicago and Miami. It may be dangerous to travel on subways late at night, especially in New York.

► urban buses do not always have very good networks, although most cities have bus services from 6:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.

► taxis are usually cheap and easy to find. The driver expects a tip of about 15%.

Car Well-made cars, cheap gas, and low speed limits make driving a popular and relaxing way of traveling. The streets in many cities are in a grid pattern where all the streets are very straight, and either go from north to south or from east to west. Highways with many lanes are called freeways or expressways. Turnpikes (mainly in the Northeast) are roads where you have to pay a toll. Many cities also have bridges and tunnels where you have to pay tolls. The main long-distance freeways are the Interstate Highways (indicated by the letter I). State and US Highways are the main secondary routes.

► gas(oline) is sold by the US gallon (3.8 liters) and is not very expensive.

Rules of the Road

- Drive on the right.
- Seat belts are compulsory in most states.
- At four-way intersections with a red STOP sign all cars must stop; the car that arrived first then has right of way.
- In some states you can turn right at a red stop light.
- Speed limits vary from state to state.

There are three grades of unleaded gasoline, and leaded gasoline is very rare. The American Automobile Association (AAA or “triple A”) provides emergency breakdown and other services for its members, and for members of foreign organizations that are linked to it.

New York → Los Angeles

■ air	5 hours 45 minutes
■ train	3 days (non-stop)
■ bus	3 days (non-stop)
■ car	5 days (with stops)

Several phone companies – including AT&T, MCI, and Sprint – offer long-distance services. Local services are provided by regional phone companies.

Emergency numbers In most cities the number is 911. Local emergency numbers are shown in the White Pages[™] and Yellow Pages[™] and on pay phones. If you do not know the number, ask the operator (dial 0).

Operator Services Some types of call can only be made through the operator.

- ❑ person-to-person calls – you only pay for the call when the operator reaches the person you asked for.
- ❑ collect calls – the person you are calling is asked to pay for the call.

Charges Calls are generally cheaper in the evenings and on weekends.

- ❑ Toll-Free numbers have the code 800 and are free. They are usually provided by businesses (e.g. mail order) and government agencies.
- ❑ Information/Entertainment numbers for health advice, weather information, competitions etc have the code 700 or 900. They are expensive.

Pay phones Public telephones are common in most parts of the USA. Some pay phones accept credit cards.

Post Office The US Postal Service (USPS) deals with mail and US passport applications, and sells money orders. You can mail letters in mailboxes, which are dark blue with a red-and-white stripe and a white picture of an eagle.

Delivery First-class mail is delivered the next day in the same area; in two days within 600 miles (960 kilometers); and within three days over 600 miles.

Stamps You can buy stamps from vending machines in post offices, airports, train stations, drugstores, banks, and hotels.

Zip Code This is a set of numbers that helps the post office to find an address. Mail with zip codes is delivered more quickly.

Postal Services

- ❑ first-class mail is available for sealed letters, postcards etc.
- ❑ second-class mail is for newspapers, magazines etc.
- ❑ airmail is faster than first class for mail going abroad.
- ❑ certified mail provides you with proof that your letter was delivered.
- ❑ cash-on-delivery (COD) means the person receiving goods by mail has to pay for them when they are delivered.
- ❑ express mail delivers mail overnight between major cities.
- ❑ general delivery (poste restante) mail is kept free of charge in all US post offices, and is returned to the person who sent it if it has not been collected after 30 days.
- ❑ insured mail insures your letter or package against damage or loss.
- ❑ money orders are a safe way of sending money by mail.
- ❑ registered mail offers high security for posting valuable things.
- ❑ special delivery delivers mail outside the normal delivery times.

Private Services Many postal services are also offered by private companies such as UPS, Federal Express, and DHL. Some companies guarantee that packages will be delivered anywhere in the USA the next day.

Most employees work 40 hours a week, but professionals work an average 45-hour week, and the average for factory workers is 43 hours. Managers and executives are expected to work long hours and to take work home when necessary. Office hours are usually 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. with an hour for lunch. Employers are strict about people taking time off work for dental or medical appointments, and they may take the time off from the amount of sick leave that is allowed for the year.

► flextime, the system that allows employees to arrange their own work hours, is less common in the USA than in Britain or Australia.

► overtime must be paid by law to employees in some industries. They receive 50% more than the normal rate for any hours above the standard 40-hour week. Many white-collar workers do not get overtime.

Vacations Most US workers get one or two weeks' paid vacation each year. Many employees get no paid vacation in their first year. Each year that they stay in a job, they are given one or two days more.

Income Tax There are two kinds of taxation: federal and state tax. Taxes are collected by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and everybody has to fill out their own tax return by April 15 for the year before (January–December). Tax fraud (paying less than you should) is a serious crime, and the IRS has many powers to investigate people it suspects of tax fraud. Employers are responsible for taking income tax from your wages: this is called withholding. The amount withheld is taken into account when you fill out your tax return. There are amounts of money that you are allowed to have without paying taxes on them, called deductibles, for example if you have children. There are also reductions in the amount of tax you pay, for example if you have a mortgage, which are called tax breaks. State income taxes vary from state to state. They are usually less than federal taxes, and some states have no income tax.

Social Security Most Americans refer to their retirement benefits as social security, which also covers disability benefits and Medicare (see HEALTH). Every US citizen and resident is given a social security card with their personal number. You need to work in the USA for a certain period, usually ten years, to have the right to social security benefits. Social security taxes are paid by employers and employees: both pay a percentage of the employee's salary. Self-employed people pay contributions each year with their income tax.

Unemployment An insurance fund, managed by the federal and state governments, pays unemployed people each week for a fixed period (usually 26 weeks). The amount of benefit you receive can be up to half the amount you used to earn each week.

Green Card

Although tourists from some countries can visit for up to 90 days without a visa, most foreigners need a visa to enter the USA. There are two main types: immigrant (permanent resident) visas and non-immigrant (temporary resident) visas. If you have an immigrant visa you will be given an Alien Registration Receipt Card, often called a Green Card, although it is now pink! These are given to people who marry US citizens, who are closely related to US citizens, or who are invited to work for a company in the USA. If you have an immigrant visa you have the right to live and work permanently in the USA, and you can apply to become a US citizen after five years. Permanent residents who are not citizens cannot vote in elections or be employed in certain jobs (e.g. the police).

There is no national central bank in the USA. Instead, there are twelve Federal Reserve Banks, each acting as central bank to a different region. Together they are called the Federal Reserve System.

Currency The US dollar ($) is divided into 100 cents (c). There are 1*c* (penny), 5*c* (nickel), 10*c* (dime), 25*c* (quarter), 50*c* (half dollar), and $1 coins. The 50*c* and $1 coins are rare except in gambling cities, such as Las Vegas or Atlantic City, where they are used in slot machines. Dollar bills are all the same size, and the same shade of green. They show the faces of different statesmen: Washington ($1), Lincoln ($5), Hamilton ($10), Jackson ($20), Grant ($50), and Franklin ($100). There are also $2, $500, and larger bills, but these are rare.

Banks There are over 11,000 independent banks in the USA. Some only have branches in the local area or state, and some only have one branch.

► commercial banks offer a range of checking and savings accounts (see below), as well as making loans to businesses.

► savings banks are also called savings and loan associations, or thrifts. They encourage customers to save money with them so that they can lend money to other customers for buying houses. They offer savers better rates than commercial banks.

► drive-in banks either have ATMs (see below) or a system of tubes and microphones at car-window level, so you do not need to leave your car.

Types of Account Most Americans have a checking account for day-to-day banking, as well as a savings account. Most checking accounts pay very little interest, and you need to keep a minimum amount of money ($300 to $2,000) in your account. If you have less than the agreed amount you have to pay a service charge each month. Most banks give you a cash card for ATMs. When writing a check, you should write the cents as a fraction, e.g. $54.60 is written as fifty-four and 60/100. Savings accounts pay interest. There are two types:

- statement accounts* allow you to get money from ATMs and send you statements each month or every three months.
- savings plans* are available at most banks. They give more interest but you have to give notice before withdrawing money.

Business Hours Most banks are open 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday to Friday. City banks usually stay open until 7:00 p.m. or later on Thursday or Friday, and some are open on Saturday mornings. All banks close on federal and state holidays (see LEISURE).

Automatic Teller Machines (ATMs) Most banks have 24-hour ATMs where, using a cash card, you can usually withdraw up to $300 each day and check how much money is in your account. They are linked in a national and international computerized network so you can withdraw cash from different banks across the country.

10 Largest US Banks

- Citicorp
- BankAmerica Corp
- Chemical Banking Corp
- NationsBank
- J.P. Morgan & Co.
- Chase Manhattan Corp
- Bank One Corp
- BT New York Corp
- First Union Corp
- First Chicago Corp

The USA has the most advanced medical care in the world, but there is no public health service. If you do not have the right insurance, you will find it difficult to get medical care. About 80% of Americans have private medical insurance, but it does not pay for everything: patients usually have to pay 30% of medical expenses. The federal government gives some help to poor people (through the Medicaid plan) and elderly people (through Medicare).

Emergencies

There are various things you can do in an emergency:

- In extreme cases phone an ambulance (usually 911). Private ambulances come more quickly than city (public) ambulances, but they cost more.
- Go to the emergency room of the nearest hospital; most are open 24 hours a day.
- Minor injuries can be treated in a walk-in clinic.
- Phone your doctor for advice.

Doctors Most people have a primary-care physician who provides general medical treatment and sends you to a specialist or hospital when necessary. Physicians usually specialize in a particular area of health. Most Americans have an internist (a specialist in diseases of internal organs) or a family practitioner (FP) as their primary-care physician. Families with small children usually have an FP, and many parents also take their children to a pediatrician. Most middle-aged and elderly Americans have an internist as their family doctor. Many women also have their own obstetrician/gynecologist. You must have an appointment to visit a doctor, but they will usually see you without an appointment in an emergency. Office hours are usually 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. or 7:00 p.m. Monday to Friday. Most doctors will not visit you at home.

Hospitals and clinics There are various different types:

- Private hospitals offer excellent treatment, but they are expensive.
- Public hospitals, such as city hospitals, are paid for by the city or the state. They have long waiting lists for operations that are not emergencies. If you do not have insurance, you must pay for treatment in a public hospital, and if you cannot pay, the hospital goes to court to get the money from the state or federal government.
- Community hospitals offer good general medical care, but they are not equipped for serious illnesses or complicated operations.
- Walk-in clinics, often in shopping centers, can treat minor injuries. You do not need an appointment, but you have to pay immediately.

HMOs (Health Maintenance Organizations) These provide medical care for over 30 million Americans, who pay a monthly membership charge that covers all their medical expenses. Most HMOs are large clinics with their own physicians and equipment. They are a good value, and their work aims to prevent illnesses as well as cure them.

Dentists Excellent dental care is available, but it is expensive. Standard medical insurance only covers emergency treatment: you have to pay extra for insurance to cover all dental treatment.

Eye Care Ophthalmologists are specialists in eye medicine. Optometrists are trained to check and correct general sight problems, and to order glasses and contact lenses. Opticians supply and fit the glasses and contact lenses ordered by optometrists and ophthalmologists.

Different regions of the USA have different educational systems. In general, most schools and colleges are for male and female students and are run by the state government, but about 25% of schools and 45% of colleges are run by private groups or religious organizations. Most states provide free education from kindergarten (age 4 or 5) and for the next 12 years. In most states, children from 5 or 6 to 16 or 18 have to go to school by law.

Pre-school Education (up to age 5) About 35% of 3- and 4-year-olds go to nursery school, and nearly all 4- and 5-year-olds go to kindergarten.

Elementary School (6–13) and High School (up to 18) The number of years spent in each school varies. Most children follow one of the following systems:

- ❑ six years of elementary school (grades 1–6), then three years of junior-high school (grades 7–9), and then three years of senior-high school (grades 10–12).
- ❑ elementary grades 1–8, then four years of high school.
- ❑ four or five years of elementary school, then four years of middle school, and then four years of high school.

Curriculum There is no official national curriculum. Most high-school students have to study a number of core curriculum subjects and may also choose other subjects called electives in later grades. These may be general school subjects, or subjects to prepare them for a particular job.

Exams These are less important in the USA than in other countries. Students have their work judged throughout their school years. The grades that they are given for written work, class discussions, and tests make up their Grade Point Average (GPA). Students wishing to go to college or university may take national exams such as the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and the American College Test (ACT). These, plus the GPAs, are used for entry into higher education.

Graduation All students who have successfully completed the 12th grade can take part in high-school graduation (also called commencement). They wear a special cap and gown and are given a high-school diploma. They may also buy a copy of the yearbook containing photographs of all the students and their teachers. The top student may be asked to be valedictorian, and make a farewell speech to the graduates.

Higher Education (18–26) Over 60% of high-school graduates go on to higher education. There are two main levels: undergraduate (bachelor's degree), and graduate or postgraduate (master's and doctor's degrees). Students' fees are paid by their parents, but about 50% of students get some financial help such as scholarships, reduced fees, or low-interest loans.

Adult Education Millions of Americans take full-time or part-time courses ranging from basic reading skills to graduate studies – at universities, specialist training schools, community colleges etc.

Terminology

	High School		College
	age	grade	age
■ freshman	14–15	9th	18
■ sophomore	15–16	10th	19
■ junior	16–17	11th	20
■ senior	17–18	12th	21

TV and Radio Stations There are four national commercial TV networks in the USA:

- ❑ American Broadcasting Company (ABC)
- ❑ Columbia Broadcasting Service (CBS)
- ❑ National Broadcasting Company (NBC)
- ❑ Fox TV

There are about 1,300 commercial TV stations, and 400 non-commercial stations. Most of the commercial stations are connected to a national network.

Network Programs These mostly provide general-interest entertainment: game shows, talk shows, sports, comedies, old movies, and movies made for TV. They are paid for by advertising.

Cable and Satellite Most large cities have about 35 cable TV stations. Channels usually specialize in a particular subject such as sports, movies, religion, news (e.g. CNN), shopping, music (e.g. MTV), health, pornography, or foreign-language programs. On public access channels, amateurs can show their own programs. Many hotels, bars, and clubs have satellite dishes for live sporting events.

Public Broadcasting Service PBS is a non-commercial network of stations that is paid for partly by sponsorship from businesses and gifts from viewers. It has better-quality programs than the commercial channels.

Radio Like TV, many radio stations are connected to national networks such as ABC, CBS, and NBC. There are also over 100 regional networks, and many of them specialize in a particular subject, e.g. foreign-language stations. News and talk stations usually broadcast on AM, and music stations on FM. There are also non-commercial networks that broadcast more serious programs, such as National Public Radio (NPR), which specializes in news and current affairs.

Newspapers Most US newspapers are regional. The only national papers are the Christian Science Monitor, USA Today, and the Wall Street Journal. USA Today is the leading popular paper; it has many color pictures and sports stories. The Wall Street Journal is the leading business paper. Some of the respected regional papers such as the New York Times, Washington Post, and Los Angeles Times are available in other cities.

Buying a Newspaper

One-third of Americans have newspapers delivered; they are usually thrown onto the doorstep, covered in plastic to protect them from the weather. You can also buy them from newsstands, and from vending machines on the street, in shopping malls, gas stations etc. You have to put in the right money, and the company trusts you to take only one paper.

► tabloid papers are available in most cities as well as the larger quality papers. Popular tabloids such as the Daily News (New York City) and the Herald (Boston) have many pictures and stories about sports and crimes.

► Sunday papers are often available on Saturday afternoon. Most daily papers have a Sunday edition that has many sections – the Sunday edition of the New York Times can weigh over 10 pounds (4.5 kilograms).

Magazines Weekly news magazines such as Newsweek and Time have good coverage of national and international news, and are very popular. The most popular magazines are those that specialize in sports, fashion, and TV listings.

Americans do not have much time off from work (see EMPLOYMENT), and they usually enjoy their vacations with all the family.

Public Holidays As well as the federal holidays many states have their own public holidays. Many holidays are on Mondays to provide three-day weekends.

► Christmas and New Year are important family celebrations. Most homes have a Christmas tree covered with lights and other decorations, and people give each other Christmas presents and eat a Christmas dinner of roast turkey, potatoes, and other vegetables. On New Year's Eve it is traditional to go to parties.

► Easter is the time when American children think of the Easter Bunny, an imaginary rabbit that delivers Easter baskets of candy and chocolate eggs.

► Thanksgiving celebrates the first feast between the Pilgrims and the Native Americans. Families gather together for a traditional Thanksgiving meal of turkey, sweet potatoes, and pumpkin and apple pie.

Social Clubs There are many social clubs which, together with the local church, are the center of social and business life in many small towns.

Bars There are many different types of bar. Waiters serve you at your table and you pay either after each round of drinks or you can have a tab (account) which you pick up (pay) when you leave. In a group, Americans usually pay for their own drinks rather than buy rounds. Bars with live music may have a cover charge (entrance fee). Most Americans leave 15% to 20% tips in bars.

Eating Out Americans love eating out, and there is a wide choice of eating places with food from all over the world. Most people leave 15% to 20% tips.

Sports Americans take sports very seriously. The most popular participant sports are swimming, cycling, skiing, fishing, jogging, and aerobics. The top spectator sports are baseball (the national game), football, and basketball.

Shopping Most Americans shop in department stores, supermarkets, and malls instead of going to small stores in town centers. Shopping is generally easy and relaxed because of the large stores and long opening hours.

► Shopping Malls are common in the USA. Most have department stores, chain stores, banks, hairdressers, restaurants, fast food etc.

► Payment Most stores accept credit cards, but many will only accept a check if your bank is in the same city and you show some identification.

► Sales Tax Prices are always shown and quoted without the state sales tax. Goods sold free of sales tax vary from state to state.

► Consumer Rights Consumers are well protected by US laws, and most stores will exchange goods or give you your money back without question.

Federal Holidays

January 1	New Year's Day
3rd Mon in January	Martin Luther King Day
3rd Mon in February	Presidents' Day (the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington) last Mon in May	Memorial Day (to remember those who died in war)
July 4	Independence Day
1st Mon in September	Labor Day
2nd Mon in October	Columbus Day
November 11	Veterans Day
4th Thurs in November	Thanksgiving
December 25	Christmas Day

City	Population
Glasgow	684,000
Edinburgh	420,000
Aberdeen	190,460
Dundee	177,670

City	Population
Belfast	325,000

■ = Capital city

City	Population
Cardiff	272,600
Swansea	182,100

City	Population
London †	6,378,600
Birmingham	934,900
Leeds	674,400
Sheffield	499,700
Liverpool	448,300
Manchester	397,400

† = Metropolitan area

UK is the abbreviation for United Kingdom, which is short for the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. Great Britain consists of England, Wales, and Scotland. The British Isles refers to the group of islands made up of Britain, Ireland, and their neighboring islands. The four countries that make up the UK have just one government, but each has its own cultural identity. Wales has its own Celtic language, Welsh, which is quite widely spoken. Scotland has more self-government than Wales, including its own education and legal systems. Gaelic, Scotland's Celtic language, is not very widely spoken. Ireland is divided politically into Northern Ireland, where the population is mostly Protestant, and the Irish Republic (called Eire in Irish Gaelic), which is mostly Roman Catholic; the Republic has been independent of the UK since 1921.

Country	Area (sq kms)	Population
England	130,400	46,170,300
Wales	20,800	2 798 200
Scotland	78,800	5,130,000
Northern Ireland	14,000	1,570,000

The UK has a large population for such a small country. It measures 243,500 square kilometers, and no place is more than 120 kilometers from the ocean. Most of England is quite flat, while much of Scotland and Wales is mountainous. 90% of the British population lives in urban areas.

Government The UK is a constitutional monarchy, although the role of the head of state, Queen Elizabeth II, is mostly ceremonial. The leader of the government is the Prime Minister, who is chosen by the party with the most seats in the House of Commons.

The House of Commons (the lower house in the British parliament) is elected at general elections. Laws cannot be passed by the Commons without the agreement of the House of Lords (the upper house), which is made up of hereditary and life peers.

Local government For the purposes of government, the UK is divided up as follows:

- England is divided into 39 large areas called counties, run by county councils, which are themselves divided into districts, run by district councils. The boundaries of many counties have not changed since Saxon times. There are also 36 unitary authorities, which are known as metropolitan districts, covering the main urban areas outside London; these combine the functions of district and county councils.
- Greater London is a separate area divided into 32 boroughs plus the Corporation of the City of London (the City is London's financial district).
- Scotland is divided into 32 unitary authorities, including 3 island councils (Orkney, Shetland, and the Western Isles).
- Wales is divided into 22 unitary authorities.
- Northern Ireland is divided into 26 district councils.

Most of these authorities have their own representatives, called councilors, who usually belong to one of the main political parties and are normally elected every four years. The English county, metropolitan, and borough councils provide major services, e.g. education, social services, and roads; district councils are responsible for local services, e.g. public housing and garbage collection. The Northern Irish district councils and the English, Scottish, and Welsh unitary authorities provide all services.

The UK has a full air, rail, and road network. Distances are quite short, and travel is generally easy.

Air Flying is expensive (especially compared with North America), but for longer distances, such as between London and Glasgow or Belfast, it is much quicker than road or rail.

There are four main international airports: Heathrow, Gatwick, and Stansted (all near London) and Glasgow. There are also 30 regional airports.

Train The UK has a large railroad network with regular services between all main cities, and each region has its own local links. There are also direct rail links with mainland Europe through the Channel Tunnel. Long-distance trains are air-conditioned, with a buffet car for snacks: many also have a restaurant. Sleeping compartments are available on long routes.

Bus Long-distance buses are usually called coaches in the UK. There is a national network of scheduled services, and services to most main European cities. Buses are up to 50% cheaper than train travel, but slower. Many long-distance buses have toilets, videos etc.

Ship and Ferry Regular car and passenger ferry services operate all through the year to ports on mainland Europe and within the British Isles.

Urban Transportation

► underground rail networks (subways) exist in Liverpool, Glasgow, and Tyneside, but they are very small compared with the London Underground (the Tube), which has 254 miles of track and 272 stations.

► bus services in every region are run by local bus companies. Some cities have 24-hour services. On some double-decker buses you can buy your ticket from a conductor on the bus.

► taxis are either licensed taxis (cabs) or private hire cars (minicabs). You can stop a licensed taxi in the street and get in, but minicabs must be reserved in advance by telephone. If a minicab has no meter then the fare should be agreed in advance. Taxi drivers expect a tip of around 10%.

Car Although gas is quite expensive, the road network covers most areas and travel by car is easy and convenient (except in London, where traffic jams are a problem). Motorways (indicated by the letter M, e.g. M1, M25) are high-speed

London → Edinburgh

■ air	1¼ hours
■ train	5 hours
■ bus	9 hours
■ car	8 hours

routes between cities, usually with three lanes in both directions; A roads (also called trunk roads) are the main secondary routes; and B roads are minor routes. In remote areas you may find single-track roads that have passing places about every 100 meters or so. The main automobile organizations are

Rules of the Road

- Drive on the left.
- At roundabouts yield to traffic coming from the right.
- Drivers and front-seat passengers must wear seat belts; back-seat passengers must also wear them if the car has them.
- Speed limits (unless indicated otherwise): 30 miles (48 kms) per hour in towns, 60 miles (96 kms) per hour on main roads outside towns, 70 miles (112 kms) per hour on motorways and some A roads.
- Vehicles over 3 years old (5 years in Northern Ireland) must have a document to prove they are safe to drive (an MOT certificate).

the Automobile Association (AA) and the Royal Automobile Club (RAC).

The main telephone network is operated by British Telecommunications (BT). Mercury Communications and some cable TV companies also offer telephone services.

Dialing

To call somebody with the same area code, you dial the number only; to call somebody in another area, you dial the area code first and then the number. Area codes are listed in phone books provided free to all people with telephones. They also receive a free copy of the Yellow Pages™, which lists the telephone numbers of businesses offering goods and services in the area.

To make an international call, first dial 00, then the country code, then the number. International codes are also listed in phone books.

Charges Calls are generally cheaper in the evenings and on weekends.

- Premium rate* services such as weather forecasts and chat lines have the code 0891 or 0898. They are expensive.
- Freephone numbers* have the code 0800 and are free. They are usually provided by businesses to give information about their products.

► Mobile (Cellular) Phones are common in the UK. Calls made to and from mobile phones usually cost more than standard calls.

Pay phones You can find pay phones in streets, airports, train or bus stations, restaurants etc. Many pay phones accept phonecards and credit cards.

Post Office There is a post office in nearly every town and village in the UK. Small post offices are called sub-post offices.

Delivery First-class mail is usually delivered by the next working day, and second-class mail by the third working day after collection. Letters can be mailed in post offices or in red pillar boxes or mailboxes set into walls.

Stamps You can buy stamps from post offices, in many stores, and from vending machines in streets, airports, train stations etc.

Postcode (zip code) This is a group of numbers and letters that helps the post office to find an address.

Postal Services The Post Office provides a wide range of services:

- airmail* is available for letters, small packages, books, and newspapers.
- application forms* are available for drivers' licenses and passports.
- Girobank* is a banking service that operates through the Post Office.
- the National Savings Bank is like a savings account at a bank.
- postal orders* are a safe way of sending money by mail.
- gas, phone, tax bills* etc can be paid at post offices.
- poste restante* (general delivery) letters can only be sent to main post offices, where they are kept free of charge. They are returned to the person who sent them if not collected within two weeks (one month for letters from abroad).
- recorded delivery* provides proof that you mailed the letter or package.
- registered mail* offers high security for mailing valuable things.

Useful Numbers

Emergency (fire, ambulance, police)	999
Operator	100
International Operator	155
Directory Enquiries	192
International Directory Enquiries	153

Work hours vary according to your employer, the type of work you do, and the particular position you hold. In manufacturing the usual-work week is between 38 and 40 hours, while many office employees work between 35 and 38 hours per week (a 35-hour week is usually referred to as working 9 to 5). However, some employees, e.g. in hospitals or hotels, may work between 50 and 100 hours per week.

► flexitime is a system operated by many employers, especially in offices. Employees have to be at work between certain hours called core time, e.g. 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., but they can arrange the rest of their work hours themselves, e.g. by starting early, working through lunch, or working late.

► overtime, usually the normal rate of pay plus 25% on weekdays and Saturdays (plus 50% on Sundays), is paid in some jobs where the employees work longer than the normal hours.

Vacations Most British employees have four to six weeks' paid vacation each year, as well as public holidays (see LEISURE). In most jobs, all vacation days have to be taken in the same year that they are earned.

Wages and Salaries Professional and white-collar employees receive a monthly salary, paid directly into a bank or building society account. They also receive a pay statement (or payslip) with details of the total salary and the money that has been taken away from it for e.g. income tax, national insurance, or the company pension plan. Manual labor and temporary staff usually receive a pay packet every Friday containing their wages in cash and a wage slip.

Sickness and Accidents When employees are off work for less than seven days they usually have to fill out a self-certification form. A doctor's certificate is needed for longer periods off work.

Income Tax The Inland Revenue collects the taxes you owe on your income, minus personal allowances (amounts of money that you are allowed to earn without paying tax on them). Most people do not fill out a tax return; their taxes are automatically taken from their wages by their employers under the Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) program. Self-employed people pay taxes based on the information they give in a tax return and a set of financial accounts. The tax year starts on April 6 and ends on the following April 5.

National Insurance State social welfare is partly paid for by National Insurance (NI) contributions which give you the right to a pension, and usually to unemployment and other benefits. Most British residents have to pay NI contributions, and they are usually taken off your salary by your employer.

Unemployment To receive unemployment benefit you must have paid full NI contributions over a certain period. Your benefits are paid every two weeks by a girocheque that can be cashed at a post office or paid into a bank account. You must sign your name at a Jobcentre (unemployment office) every two weeks to prove that you are available for work. If you do not qualify for unemployment benefit you can apply for other social-security payments such as Income Support, and in the future both of these types of payment may be replaced by a new benefit called a Jobseeker's Allowance.

The British banking system is managed by the Bank of England, which does not deal with the public but acts as a banker to the government and the commercial banks.

Currency The pound sterling (£) is divided into 100 pence (p). There are 1p, 2p, 5p, 10p, 20p, 50p, and £1 coins, and Bank of England bills worth £5, £10, £20, and £50. Scottish and Northern Irish banks print their own money, and the Scottish banks still print £1 bills.

Banks The main commercial banks with branches throughout England and Wales are Barclays, Natwest (National Westminster), Lloyds, and the Midland Bank. The leading banks in Scotland are the Bank of Scotland and the Royal Bank of Scotland; and in Northern Ireland, the Northern Bank and the Ulster Bank.

Building Societies Traditionally, the main role of building societies (savings and loan associations) has been to encourage customers to save money with them so that they can lend money to other customers for buying houses. Many now also offer a full range of financial services in competition with the banks.

Financial Services Banks and building societies offer a range of services.

► current accounts are used by most people for paying in their salaries and making payments by check. Together with a checkbook, most customers are given a cash card to use in cash machines, and a check guarantee card (also called a banker's card or a check card) which promises that checks up to a certain amount (usually £100) will be paid by the bank. Most businesses will not accept checks without a check card. Some check cards can also be used as debit cards: the store or business automatically receives money from your account without you having to write a check. Current accounts are also useful for making payments by standing order (fixed amounts that are paid regularly, e.g. rent) or direct debit (irregular amounts, e.g. gas or telephone bills). Most banks don't charge you for these services as long as you have money in your account, but charges for overdrafts (when you take out more money than you had in your account) are very high.

► deposit (savings) accounts earn more interest than current accounts. When you put money in, or take it out, it is written in a passbook which you have to show to the bank employee. You may need to give advance notice before taking money out (e.g. seven days), or you may lose some of your interest. Many people keep their savings in a building society or bank deposit account and keep their current accounts for day-to-day use.

► other financial services available include home banking (by telephone or computer), personal and business loans, pensions, insurance, and foreign exchange.

Cash Machines Most banks and many building societies have 24-hour cash machines (ATMs) for taking money out using cash cards. Usually you can take a maximum of £250 each day. You can also use the machine to see how much money is in your account, and order check books. Cash machines are linked in a national and international computerized network and they accept cards from many different banks and building societies.

Medical treatment is provided by the National Health Service (NHS), which covers a wide range of services including hospitals, specialists, family doctors, dentists, ambulances, and community health care. The NHS is paid for by taxes and National Insurance contributions (see EMPLOYMENT). In general, medical care is free, but there are some fixed charges, e.g. for prescriptions (see below).

Emergencies

Anyone who is seriously ill can phone 999 for an ambulance and be taken to hospital for free emergency treatment.

Doctors To receive medical and health care people register with a local or family doctor called a general practitioner (GP), who examines patients in his or her clinic. You usually have to make an appointment to see a doctor, although you can also call a doctor to your home if you are too sick to visit the clinic. On weekends and public holidays a GP will go to people's homes only in emergencies. For minor illness the doctor may write a prescription for medicines that must be supplied by a chemist (pharmacist); when necessary a patient will be sent to a hospital specialist. There is a charge for prescription medicines but drugs are free for hospital patients.

Family Planning Clinics These provide free contraceptives and advice on contraception and sexual health.

Well Man/Woman Clinics These specialize in all areas of men's and women's health.

Chemists You can buy over-the-counter (non-prescription) medicines and drugs ordered by a doctor at a chemist's shop (pharmacy); chemists also sell a wide range of other items such as soap, baby foods, and make-up. In larger cities some chemists stay open 24 hours, and in most towns at least one chemist is open in the evenings or on Sunday. There are lists of late-opening chemists on chemists' doors, in local libraries, and in local newspapers.

Dentists You don't have to register with a dentist. Most dentists treat NHS and private patients. NHS patients save about 20% of the cost of general treatment (such as having teeth filled or taken out) according to a fixed list of prices.

Private Medicine Many doctors and dentists have private patients who pay for the cost of their treatment. The NHS also has some hospital beds available for private patients. About 10% of the population has private health insurance, usually to avoid long NHS waiting lists for minor operations. Some employers provide health insurance for their employees. There are many types of insurance available, and some of the larger companies have their own private hospitals.

Alternative Medicine These are natural treatments used instead of modern drugs or operations, also called complementary medicine. They include acupuncture, homeopathy, osteopathy, aromatherapy, reflexology, Chinese medicine, herbal medicine, and the Alexander technique. These treatments are not usually available under the NHS.

Trust Hospitals These are NHS hospitals that have opted out (left their local health authority to manage themselves). They are funded directly by the government.

State education in the UK is free, and all children aged between 5 and 16 have to go to school by law.

Pre-school Education (up to age 5) Most 4-year-olds (and some 2- and 3-year-olds) go to state-provided or private nursery schools. Many young children also go to pre-school playgroups run by parents.

Primary Education (5–11) The first year of primary school is called Reception, followed by Year 1, Year 2 etc, up to Year 6 for 11-year-olds. Some private fee-paying primary schools are called prep(aratory) schools.

Secondary Education (11–16/18) There are three types of school:

- ▶ comprehensive schools are government-run schools (usually for boys and girls) offering free education to children of all abilities from a particular area.
- ▶ independent schools are private schools paid for by parents. They are commonly called private or public schools. They educate about 6% of children.
- ▶ grant-maintained schools are schools that have opted out (left local authority control to manage themselves). They are paid for by the government.

Curriculum Children aged 5 to 16 follow a national curriculum ordered by the government. They study three core subjects: English, math, and science (in Wales Welsh is also a core subject), and six or seven others called foundation subjects. Around the age of 16 they take the General Certificate of Secondary Education (GCSE) exams.

Key Stage

There are four age groups called Key Stages:

Key Stage	Age
1	5–7
2	7–11
3	11–14
4	14–16

At the end of each Key Stage children take national tests: exams in the core subjects for the first three stages, and up to ten GCSEs at the end of Key Stage 4.

▶ A-levels Those who wish to enter a university or college must study (normally for two years) for GCE Advanced Level examinations (A-levels) in England, Wales, and Northern Ireland, usually in three subjects. In Scotland, which has a separate educational system, pupils take Highers, not A-levels.

Further Education (16–18) Further education (FE) refers to education after the official school-leaving age. Those who wish to study for A-levels may continue in the same school in the sixth form, or they may go to a sixth-form college. Much further education aims to prepare people for a particular job and is provided by colleges of further education, art schools, agricultural colleges etc.

Higher Education (18–26) This is provided by universities which give undergraduate degrees (BA, BSc etc.). Students get a grant from their local education authority, but most need extra money to live on, usually parental contributions or low-interest student loans. Some students continue as postgraduates and study for higher degrees (a master's degree or doctorate).

Adult Education This is provided by FE colleges and the extramural departments of universities. Adults can also study for a degree at the Open University, which provides undergraduate and postgraduate courses by correspondence (distance learning). No qualifications are necessary, and the students have textbooks, TV and radio programs, and some individual lessons.

TV and Radio Stations The UK has four terrestrial television channels:

► BBC (British Broadcasting Corporation) has two channels, BBC 1 and BBC 2, paid for by a license fee paid each year by all owners of TVs. BBC 1 broadcasts drama, sports, news, movies, and comedy. BBC 2 provides more cultural and minority-interest television, including schools broadcasts and the Open University (see EDUCATION).

► ITV (Independent Television) broadcasts programs from 15 independent regional companies which are paid for by advertising. ITV programs are similar to BBC 1 and the two channels compete for the average television viewer.

► Channel 4 (C4) is an independent channel, paid for by advertising, which provides movies as well as cultural and minority-interest programs. Instead of C4, Wales has the S4C Welsh Fourth Channel, which broadcasts in Welsh.

Cable and Satellite Many homes have satellite dishes or cable TV connections. The main broadcaster is British Sky Broadcasting (BSkyB), which shows sports, films, news, comedies etc. It is also possible to see programs broadcast from other European countries on cable or satellite TV.

Radio The BBC has five national radio stations, and regional services in Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland. There are three independent national stations, 40 local BBC stations, and over 170 independent local stations.

Newspapers As well as the national papers, some cities have their own evening papers, and there are many regional papers, weekly papers, and free papers (containing local news and advertisements). Many people have a daily paper delivered each morning; otherwise papers can be bought in newsagents, corner shops, supermarkets, and at street stands.

► tabloid and broadsheet are the two sizes of British newspapers. The quality papers appear in the large broadsheet page size and provide detailed reports and comments on national and international affairs, financial news, arts and culture, and sports. The tabloid papers (with smaller page size) give more space to sex scandals and stories about television and sports personalities, and the royal family.

► the national broadsheets are the Daily Telegraph and the Times (center-right), the Guardian and the Independent (center-left), and the Financial Times (the leading business paper).

► the national tabloids are the Daily Express, Daily Mail, Daily Star, and the Sun (right-wing), and the Daily Mirror (left-wing).

► Sunday papers e.g. the Sunday Mirror and the Independent on Sunday are larger than the daily editions, often with a color magazine called a color supplement. Color supplements also come with some Saturday newspapers.

Magazines Newsagents sell a large selection of publications ranging from serious news magazines to comics. The best-selling magazines are TV guides and women's magazines.

BBC National Radio

■ Radio 1 (97.6–99.8 MHz FM) Pop and rock music

■ Radio 2 (88–90.2 MHz FM) Popular music, entertainment, and comedy.

■ Radio 3 (90.2–92.4 MHz FM) Classical music, drama, and documentaries.

■ Radio 4 (198 kHz LW; 92.4–94.6 MHz FM) News, documentaries, current affairs, drama, and entertainment.

■ Radio 5 Live (693/909 kHz MW) News and sports.

Most British people's favorite social activities include visiting friends and going to restaurants, pubs, and the movies.

Public Holidays These are called bank holidays (because banks shut). Schools, businesses, and most stores are closed on bank holidays.

► long weekends are when there is a bank holiday on a Monday. Families often use this extra time for trips to the seaside or the country.

► Christmas is the most important national holiday. People send Christmas cards to friends and relatives, and cover a Christmas tree with decorations and lights. The exchange of presents around the tree on Christmas Day is followed by Christmas dinner, typically roast turkey with roast potatoes and other vegetables. The next day is called Boxing Day, which most families spend watching TV or visiting friends and relatives.

► New Year is an important celebration. On New Year's Eve it is traditional to go to parties and stay up drinking for most of the night.

Pubs The pub, or public house, is an important part of British social life. You order your drinks over the bar and pay for them immediately.

Eating Out There are many restaurants and cafes offering good cooking from Britain and the rest of the world, and many others providing fast food or takeaway food (carry-out food). Restaurants may include a service charge of about 10%, but otherwise people tip between 10% and 15%.

Shopping Many people shop in supermarkets and shopping malls, but the UK also has many traditional stores and markets.

► high-street shops include department stores, chain stores (stores that have branches in many towns), and specialty stores.

► corner shops (not always on a corner!) sell a range of basic foods, drinks, tobacco etc. They usually stay open late in the evening.

► street markets are open-air or covered markets held in many towns and cities, usually on the same day or days every week.

► car boot sales of second-hand goods are held in large parking lots or fields. People display the goods in the trunk of their car.

Value Added Tax (VAT) This is a sales tax on a wide range of goods and services. Certain items such as books and newspapers are free of VAT.

Payment and Refunds Payment by cash, check (with check card), credit card, and debit card (see BANKING) is very common. Refunds (getting your money back, e.g. when something is broken or the wrong size) are possible only if you have a receipt.

Public Holidays

January 1	New Year's Day
January 2	New Year Bank Holiday (Scotland only)
March 17	St Patrick's Day (Northern Ireland only)
March or April (varies each year)	Good Friday Easter Monday (not Scotland)
First Mon in May	May Day
Last Mon in May	Spring Bank Holiday (not Scotland)
July 12	Battle of the Boyne (Northern Ireland only)
First Mon in August	Summer Bank Holiday (Scotland only)
Last Mon in August	Summer Bank Holiday (not Scotland)
December 25	Christmas Day
December 26	Boxing Day

■ = Capital city

Australia (officially called the Commonwealth of Australia) is situated in the Southern Hemisphere between the Indian and Pacific Oceans. It measures 7,682,300 square kilometers (almost 3 million square miles), and is the sixth-largest country in the world. Yet it has a population of only 17.5 million – an average of less than two people per square mile, making it one of the least densely populated countries in the world. Most Australians live in cities in the east and southeast. Inland, large areas of the country are desert or semi-desert, known as the outback.

The majority of Australians are of British origin, and English is the official language. However, in the last 40 years many immigrants have arrived from southern Europe and Southeast Asia, giving Australia a richer and more varied culture. Australia's oldest inhabitants, the Aboriginal Australians and Torres Strait Islanders, have lived there for 60,000 years, but large numbers of them were killed by disease or conflict during the early colonial years. There are now around 260,000 Native Australians, approximately 1.5% of the population.

Government Although more and more Australians would like their country to become a republic, Australia is still a constitutional monarchy and the head of state is Queen Elizabeth II of the United Kingdom. She is represented by a governor-general at national level and by state governors at state level, although their roles are ceremonial nowadays. The Australian head of government is the prime minister, who is usually the leader of the political party with the most seats in the federal parliament.

There are three main levels of government:

- ❑ The federal (or Commonwealth) government, based in Canberra, is led by the Prime Minister and his or her group of Cabinet Ministers. It is mainly concerned with matters of national importance such as the economy, foreign policy, defense, customs duties, communications, and social services.
- ❑ State governments, led by a Premier and his or her cabinet, are responsible for services in the state including health, education, transportation, trade, and law enforcement.
- ❑ States are divided into three levels of local government (shires, cities, and municipalities) which manage local services.
- ❑ Federal Parliament consists of a lower house, the House of Representatives, and an upper house, the Senate. By Australian law, everybody of voting age must vote at elections, and the voter must vote for candidates in the order they prefer. If no candidate wins an overall majority, the preferences are used to decide the winner.

Largest Metropolitan Areas by State

City	Population	State
Sydney	3,596,000	New South Wales
Melbourne	3,002,300	Victoria
Adelaide	1,023,700	South Australia
Perth	1,118,800	Western Australia
Brisbane	1,240,300	Queensland
Canberra	297,300	Australian Capital Territory
Hobart	179,900	Tasmania
Darwin	78,139	Northern Territory

Australia's transportation services are mostly modern and efficient, although they may not operate very often in remote country areas. Distances are always expressed in kilometers.

Air Air travel is expensive, but because of the distances between cities, it is the most efficient way to travel. In remote areas, private planes are common. Every city has an airport, and there are hundreds of local airports and unofficial landing strips. No smoking is permitted on domestic flights.

Train Traveling by train is usually slower and more expensive than traveling by bus, and there are very few railroads in the middle or the far north of the country. However, trains are usually modern and comfortable, and often take you to areas of the country that you would not otherwise see.

Bus Australia has a complete network of long-distance bus services. Most interstate buses have toilets, air conditioning, videos, snacks, and drinks. Often, drivers act as unofficial tour guides and make comments on the places they pass through.

Ferry The major ferry services are between Melbourne and Tasmania.

Urban transportation

► bus services are found in all cities. Some cities have 24-hour services.

► urban rail networks operate in most cities.

► taxis are generally cheap and easy to find, and all cabs have meters. Drivers do not expect a tip, but will appreciate it if you tip them. If you are traveling alone, the driver will expect you to sit in the front seat.

Some cities have other forms of transportation: Melbourne has a very large streetcar system; Adelaide has an O-Bahn (a high-speed bus that runs on concrete rails); and Sydney has a small monorail system and commuter ferries.

Car Most interstate highways are simply two-lane roads, and traveling between states can take days. Despite this, Australians enjoy driving, and in many remote country areas it would be impossible to get around without a car.

► gas is available as unleaded, half-leaded, diesel, and LPG (liquefied petroleum gas). Unleaded is the cheapest. Each state has its own automobile organization and these are linked with major organizations in other countries.

Sydney → Adelaide

- air 1½ hours
- train 25½ hours
- bus 22 hours
- car 2 days

Sydney → Perth

- air 5 hours
- train 2 days 16 hours (non-stop)
- bus 2 days 8 hours
(non-stop)
- car 5 days
(with stops)

Rules of the Road

- Drive on the left.
- Yield to traffic coming from the right.
- A left turn is sometimes permitted at a red traffic light; this will be clearly indicated.
- Drivers and all passengers must wear seat belts.
- Speed limits vary according to the state. They are usually 60 km per hour in urban areas and 100 km per hour on highways.
- All vehicles must have third-party insurance, and usually a document to prove that they are safe to drive.

The state communications service is officially called Telstra, but most Australians call it Telecom. Several private companies offer alternative services.

Charges There is a fixed charge for local calls. Other calls are cheaper in the evenings and on weekends.

- ❑ Freecall numbers have the code 1800 and are free. They are usually provided by businesses, government departments etc.
- ❑ 0055 numbers and InfoCall 190 numbers covering a wide range of information and entertainment services are charged according to the service you call.

Mobile phones are extremely popular in Australia.

Pay phones Public telephones are available at post offices, shopping centers, gas stations etc.

Post Office There is a post office in almost every city, town, and suburb.

Delivery Standard letters are delivered within one working day to an address within the same town or city, but may take up to four days between country areas in different states. Letters can be mailed at post offices or in red mailboxes. Yellow mailboxes should be used for Express Post only (see below).

Stamps These are available from post offices, newsstands, and general stores.

Zip code Zip codes consist of four numbers. The envelopes preferred by Australia Post have four boxes where the zip code should be written.

Postal Services

- ❑ airmail is available for sending letters, packages, newspapers etc abroad.
- ❑ an economy air service is also available; this may take up to three weeks.
- ❑ the International Express Post delivers almost anywhere within four days.
- ❑ Air Parcel is a special airmail service for packages delivered within Australia.
- ❑ taxes and phone bills can be paid at post offices.
- ❑ Certified Mail provides proof of mailing and delivery.
- ❑ Commonwealth Bank services, including ATMs, are available at most post offices.
- ❑ Express Post delivers to major towns and cities the next day.
- ❑ FaxPost is available at over 900 post offices. For a small charge you can send or receive documents by fax.
- ❑ money orders are a safe and convenient method of sending money by mail.
- ❑ Postpak packaging products (for making packages) and prepaid envelopes that do not need stamps are available from all post offices.
- ❑ general delivery (poste restante) letters can be sent to any post office. They will be kept for a month and returned to the sender if not collected. If necessary, they can be sent on to another post office.
- ❑ private post office boxes and locked bags can be rented at most post offices.
- ❑ Security Post offers more security than Certified Mail for valuable items.

Useful Numbers

Emergency (fire, ambulance, police)	000
Operator (from private phone)	0011
Operator (from pay phone)	0176
Directory Assistance (local)	013
Directory Assistance (elsewhere)	0175
Directory Assistance (international)	0103

The official work week is between 35 and 40 hours, although many Australians actually work more than 40 hours. Most businesses open at 9:00 a.m. and close at 5:00 p.m. (known as 'a 9 to 5 day') or 5:30 p.m., but many jobs involve shift work.

▶ flextime is quite common in Australia, and around one third of all workers can add up any extra hours they work, and take this time off at a later date. This is known as time off in lieu.

▶ overtime, or penalty rates, may be paid to people who work more than the agreed working hours, although not all Australians are paid for their overtime.

Vacations Most workers have four weeks' paid vacation each year, plus public holidays (see LEISURE).

▶ holiday loading (17.5% more pay than the regular wage) is paid to most full-time employees when they are on their main vacations.

▶ long-service leave is available to many Australian employees. After working for a fixed number of years (usually seven or ten), they can have extra paid vacations (normally six weeks to two months).

Wages and Salaries Wages may be paid every week, every two weeks, or every month. Income tax and, in some cases, pension payments are taken from salaries by the employer. There is a strong labor union movement in Australia, and many rates of pay are decided by industrial tribunals or agreements between employers and groups of workers.

Sick Leave Most workers have the right to at least five days of paid sick leave each year. You have to fill out a sick-leave form if you are off work for less than five days. A doctor's certificate is needed for longer periods.

Income Tax Full-time employees have their taxes taken from their wages and paid to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) by their employer on a PAYE (pay-as-you-earn) basis. Self-employed people pay their taxes at the end of each fiscal year, June 30. All workers have to fill out a tax return each year.

Pensions Government retirement pensions are paid for by superannuation payments made by employers and employees, who pay a small percentage of their salary toward their pension. As well as the government fund, some employers have company funds and some individuals set up personal pension plans.

Social Security A wide range of invalid and retirement plans, income support programs, and unemployment benefits is available to all Australian residents. These are mainly financed by the Commonwealth Government and paid for by taxes.

Unemployment The federal government's Newstart Strategy provides two types of unemployment compensation, both offering different amounts of money depending on your savings, the size of your family etc. A Jobsearch Allowance is paid to unemployed people aged 16 or 17, and to those aged 18 and over who have been unemployed for less than a year. The Newstart Allowance is paid to those aged over 18 who have been unemployed for more than one year. To receive one of these allowances, you must have lived in Australia as a resident for more than one year and have registered as unemployed at your local branch of the Commonwealth Employment Service (CES).

The Reserve Bank of Australia is the country's national banking organization. It acts as a banker to the federal government and the other banks. It does not deal directly with the public.

Currency The Australian dollar ($) is divided into 100 cents (c). There are 5c, 10c, 20c, 50c, and $1 and $2 coins, and bills worth $5, $10, $20, $50, and $100. Some paper bills have recently been replaced by plastic ones to prevent people from making counterfeit copies.

Banks The main banks, with branches all over Australia, are the Commonwealth Bank of Australia, the Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Ltd (ANZ), the Westpac Banking Corporation, and the National Australia Bank. Some state governments also have their own banks, e.g. the State Bank of New South Wales, the State Bank of South Australia, and the Rural and Industries Bank of Western Australia, and there are many other commercial trading banks, savings banks, credit unions, and savings and loans specializing in areas such as personal and housing loans.

Bank Hours Bank hours are generally 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday to Thursday, and 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Friday. Some independent banks and the main branches of major banks open on Saturdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. All banks are closed on public holidays (see LEISURE).

Accounts and Services Australian banks offer a wide range of services.

▶ cash card accounts provide a card for taking money from ATM machines using a PIN (personal identification number). Regular statements are sent to your home address.

▶ passbook accounts usually earn better rates of interest than other accounts. You can pay money in or take it out of your account at any branch of the bank, and it is recorded in your passbook.

▶ personal checking accounts give you a checkbook that you can use to pay bills, or to pay for goods and services, although banks do not issue check guarantee cards, and most stores do not accept personal checks. Checkbooks are often available with cash card accounts.

▶ credit cards, issued by banks and other financial institutions, are widely used. Many people use their credit cards not only in stores and restaurants, but also to pay regular monthly bills and to buy things over the telephone or by mail order.

Charges Account administration charges vary from bank to bank: some do not charge you if you take money out a fixed number of times every month, but make a small charge if you take more out in one month. Most banks charge you if your account is overdrawn.

Bank machines (ATMs) 24-hour ATMs, called autotellers, are located at most bank branches. A limit is normally placed on the amount of money that can be taken out in one day. Most banks allow their clients to take money from other banks' ATMs, both at home and abroad. Many ATMs accept credit cards and foreign bank cards.

EFTPOS Payment by EFTPOS (electronic funds transfer at point of sale) is common in stores and other businesses. If you have a cash card you can transfer money directly from your account to pay for goods or services. Many stores also give you cash from your account using this system.

Australia's medical services are among the best in the world, and they are not very expensive. All Australians (and visitors from some other countries) have the right to health care under the government's Medicare program, which is partly paid for by taxes.

Medicare Medicare covers treatment by family doctors, specialists, and public hospitals. You can join the program at any Medicare office, where you will be given a card. You must take the card with you every time you visit a doctor, hospital, or optometrist. You usually have to pay the doctor or hospital, and then apply to get the money back from Medicare. Medicare has a fixed list of charges for medical services, called schedule fees, and it refunds 85% of this amount, leaving you to pay the other 15% (called the gap amount). If your doctor charges more than the schedule fee, you have to pay the difference. Some doctors send the bill directly to Medicare and do not charge the patient at all. This is known as bulk billing. People who have very large medical expenses can apply for more help under the Medicare Safety Net program. Medicare does not cover dental treatment, home nursing, or alternative medicine.

Private Health Insurance Around 40% of Australians have private health insurance, often to cover additional services not covered by Medicare, such as dental treatment. Private health insurance may also help you to avoid waiting lists for minor hospital treatment, or to have a private room in a hospital.

Doctors Most people register with a local family doctor, known as a General Practitioner (GP). The GP treats general illnesses and can send you to specialists and hospitals if necessary. Doctors' offices are open for a few hours a day, Monday to Friday, and visits are by appointment only, but GPs will visit you at home if you are too ill to come to the office.

Flying Doctors

In the Australian outback, where there may be hundreds of kilometers between one home and the next, medical services are operated by the Royal Flying Doctor Service (RAFDS), whose doctors visit and transport patients by light airplane.

Emergencies

If there is a medical emergency, call 000 and ask for an ambulance. You will be charged a fee for calling an ambulance, which may be paid back by private health insurance programs but not by Medicare.

Pharmacies You can buy medicine ordered by a doctor from a drugstore or pharmacist. Pharmacies are generally open during regular store hours, but some stay open until late in the evening or even 24 hours. Prescriptions (ordered by a doctor) are partly paid for by the government, and the patient pays a fixed amount for each prescription. If you have to buy a large amount of medicine you can apply for more help with payments under the federal government's Pharmaceutical Benefits Safety Net program.

Dentists Australia has a high standard of dental care, but it is expensive. Medicare does not cover general dental treatment, although it may cover some operations performed by dental surgeons.

Optometrists Optometrists provide general eye care, test your eyesight, and order and provide glasses and contact lenses. They may send you to an ophthalmologist if you need specialist treatment for an eye infection.

In Australia, children between the ages of 6 and 15 (16 in Tasmania) must go to school. 74% of schools are run by the government; the rest are private, many of them run by religious organizations such as the Catholic Church. Government schools are usually for girls and boys of all abilities; private schools are often single-sex.

Pre-school Education (age 3–6)

Most children go to pre-school centers, usually for two to three hours a day, two to five days a week.

Primary Education (6–12/13)

This is divided into lower primary (for ages 6–9) and upper primary (for ages 9–12).

Secondary Education (12/13–18) Most secondary schools are run by the government. Children over 15 or 16 do not have to go to school, but over 75% of pupils now stay at school until they are 18.

Curriculum and Examinations There is no national curriculum. Final-year examinations and continuous assessment decide whether or not a pupil will receive a leaving certificate (the name of this certificate varies from state to state). Students who want to enter higher education are given an overall grade based on their final-year school work. This is called the tertiary entrance score.

Higher Education (18–26) Higher education takes place at either a university or a Technical and Further Education (TAFE) college. The academic year is from late February to December. Australian students usually go to a university or college near their home. Courses lead to diplomas, degrees, master's degrees, and doctorates. Undergraduate degrees normally last three years, master's degrees one or two years, and doctorates three years.

► TAFE colleges cover a wide range of academic and technical subjects, with six levels of qualification (the highest diplomas are almost the same standard as university degrees). Entry depends on your tertiary entrance score, interviews, tests, and work experience.

► fees, known as HECS (Higher Education Contribution Scheme), must be paid by all students. You can pay these immediately, at a 25% discount, or wait until you have a full-time job and pay them as extra income tax. The federal government offers extra financial support, called AUSTUDY, for students in financial difficulties, and ABSTUDY for Aboriginal and Torres Straits Islander students. Student loans are also available from banks and some universities.

Adult Education Adult education programs are run by TAFE colleges, community colleges, universities, and private colleges such as those run by the Workers' Education Association (WEA). Courses range from part-time degree courses to evening classes in leisure subjects.

The School of the Air

Because people live so far away from each other in the outback, it is impossible to bring primary school pupils together in ordinary day schools. The School of the Air gives lessons to children living in remote areas using two-way radio. Radio classes, involving a teacher and between 8 and 18 pupils, usually last for around thirty minutes. More work can be sent through the mail, and there are home visits. There are Schools of the Air throughout the outback. The Alice Springs school has 140 pupils living in an area of over 2.5 million square kilometers.

Television Stations There are five national television networks in Australia. Two are paid for by the government and three are commercial.

- ABC (Australian Broadcasting Corporation) is the state television and radio company. ABC buys many programs from the UK, particularly from the BBC, and has no advertising.
- SBS (Special Broadcasting Service) was set up by the government for Australia's ethnic minorities. It offers a wide range of multicultural and foreign-language programs in 73 languages. Its news programs have the best international news on Australian television.
- commercial channels offer a mixture of news, soap operas, game shows, mini-series, and sports programs. The three commercial networks – Channel Seven, Channel Nine, and Channel Ten – broadcast programs from 42 regional television stations. All three are paid for by advertising and show many commercials.

► pay television Many homes have satellite dishes or cable TV connections. Normally, you pay a monthly charge, which varies according to the number of channels you choose to receive.

Radio Most Australians listen to commercial radio. There are over 150 commercial stations, mostly regional and based in the state capitals. They have a lot of advertising and play mostly pop music. The ABC has three national radio stations (see box) and many local stations. SBS broadcasts daily radio programs in six cities, and there are many local community stations, including several Aboriginal radio stations.

National Radio

- ABC National (576 AM) News, documentaries, political debates, arts, drama, and very little music.
- ABC Classic FM (92.9 FM) Mainly classical music, some news and general arts programs.
- Triple J (105.7 FM) Alternative pop music, some news and current affairs, sports and arts programs, and phone-in shows.

Newspapers Australia has one of the highest levels of newspaper circulation in the world, yet there are only two national newspapers: The Australian and The Australian Financial Review. Most cities have at least one broadsheet (quality newspaper) such as The Sydney Morning Herald, The West Australian, and The Canberra Times; and one or more tabloid newspaper such as The Daily Telegraph Mirror (Sydney), and The Herald-Sun (Melbourne). There are also hundreds of local newspapers, and some of them are delivered free of charge to homes. You can buy newspapers from newsstands, supermarkets etc or have them delivered to your home. Some of the quality regional papers are available in other cities, at a higher price.

► weekend editions of the quality papers appear on Saturday. They are much bigger than the weekday papers, often including several sections and a color magazine supplement, and they cost a little more than normal. The tabloids are generally published on both Saturday and Sunday.

Magazines Australia has one of the biggest magazine markets in the world. The most popular magazines are women's and sports magazines. Australian editions of well-known international magazines, such as Time and Newsweek (published as part of an Australian news weekly, The Bulletin), are widely available and many newsdealers, particularly in the cities, sell foreign magazines and newspapers.

Most Australians enjoy visiting friends and relatives, and going to restaurants, barbecues, and pubs. Many people take advantage of the fine climate and wide-open spaces, and sports are very popular.

Public Holidays As well as the national holidays, each state has its own holidays, usually on Mondays, so that people can enjoy the long weekend.

► Christmas and New Year are celebrated in the same way as in the USA and the UK. However because it takes place during the summer, many Australians have their Christmas lunch outdoors – often at the beach.

► Easter in Australia, as in the USA, is associated with the Easter Bunny.

Eating Out There is a very wide range of places to eat. Many cafes and restaurants are bring your own (BYO) establishments, meaning that you can buy alcoholic drinks at a bottle shop (liquor store), and bring them into the restaurant to drink with your meal. Most people leave a tip of around 10%.

Nightlife Australian pubs, often called hotels, tend to be a little old-fashioned, and most of their customers are men, particularly in country areas. You buy your drinks at the bar, and staff do not expect tips. In the cities there are more modern pubs, cafes, and nightclubs.

Sports The most popular participant sports are swimming, tennis, and fishing. The most popular spectator sports are Australian Rules Football, cricket, and rugby league.

Shopping Australian cities have the same range of goods and services as most Western cities.

► shopping malls are popular. Some malls also have movie theaters and amusement arcades.

► chain stores and department stores are common throughout Australia.

► open-air markets, usually once a week or once a month, are popular in Australia. Some sell products found in ordinary stores, some specialize in arts and crafts, and others sell second-hand goods.

Sales Tax There is no sales tax in Australia.

Payment and Refunds Payment by cash or credit card is most common. Most stores do not accept checks.

► lay-by is a common way of buying things in Australia. If you want to buy something but cannot afford full payment, you can pay a deposit and ask the store to keep it “on lay-by” while you pay the remainder in installments.

► faulty goods should be taken back to the store, where you will get a replacement or your money back.

Second-hand Goods Australians often buy second-hand. There are many charity shops and most cities have a newspaper full of classified advertisements for second-hand goods. Many Australians have garage sales to get rid of unwanted household items.

National Public Holidays

January 1	New Year's Day
January 2	New Year's Day Holiday
January 26	Australia Day
March or April (varies each year)	Good Friday Easter Monday
First Mon in May	May Day
April 26	ANZAC Day
Second Monday in June	Queen's Birthday
December 25	Christmas Day
December 26	Boxing Day

CONVERSION CALCULATOR

=

+

-

×

%

The US system of weights and measures is based on the old British imperial system of yards, gallons, and pounds, but has smaller quantities for some measurements. Australia and Britain both use the metric system, though in Britain many people still use the imperial terms, especially for describing distances.

LAROUSSE

ENGLISH DICTIONARY

clear • comprehensive • up-to-date

The Larousse English Dictionary is a brand-new dictionary designed for people who are using English as a practical means of communication - for study, business, travel, correspondence, or reading.

Written by an international team of editors based in the United States, Britain, and Australia, this new dictionary gives you authentic coverage of the language used by English speakers throughout the world, with information on key people, places, and institutions of cultural significance.

- Over 55, 000 references
- Over 65, 000 examples of context and usage
- Over 2, 000 encyclopedic entries
- Over 1, 000 abbreviations and acronyms
- Easy-to-understand definitions
- Clear sense markers
- Wide coverage of business and finance
- Notes on key aspects of culture and history
- 32-page supplement on daily life in the USA, Britain, and Australia

Ideal for study • business • reference

ISBN 2-0-420290-2

$15.95

