TOUR DE FRANCE

The Tour de France is an annual road race for professional cyclists. It takes about three weeks to complete and is divided into daily stages, or "étapes" of approximately 175 km (110 miles) over terrain of varying levels of difficulty. The leading cyclist wears a yellow jersey, the "maillot jaune". The route varies; it is not usually confined to France but always ends in Paris. In addition, there are a number of time trials.

BBC

La BBC est un organisme centralisé dont les membres, nommés par l'État, gèrent les chaînes de télévision publiques (BBC1, qui présente des émissions d'intérêt général, et BBC2, qui est plutôt orientée vers les émissions plus culturelles, et les chaînes numériques) et les stations de radio publiques. Bien que non contrôlée par l'État, la BBC est responsable devant le "Parliament" quant au contenu des émissions qu'elle diffuse. Par ailleurs, la BBC offre un service mondial de diffusion d'émissions, en anglais et dans 43 autres langues, appelé "BBC World Service". La BBC est financée par la redevance télévision et par l'exportation d'émissions.

BUILDING SOCIETY

Une building society est une mutuelle dont les épargnants et emprunteurs sont les propriétaires. Ces mutuelles offrent deux services principaux: on peut y avoir un compte d'épargne duquel on peut retirer son argent sur demande ou moyennant un court préavis et on peut également y faire des emprunts à long terme, par exemple pour acheter une maison. Les building societies ont eu jusqu'en 1985 le quasi-monopole des comptes d'épargne et des prêts immobiliers, mais les banques ont maintenant une part importante de ce marché.

BURNS' NIGHT

Burns' Night est une fête qui a lieu le 25 janvier, à la mémoire du poète écossais Robert Burns (1759-1796), à l'occasion de laquelle les Écossais partout dans le monde organisent un souper, en général arrosé de whisky. Le plat principal est toujours le haggis, servi avec de la purée de pommes de terre et de la purée de rutabagas. On apporte le haggis au son des cornemuses et au cours du repas on lit des poèmes de Burns et on chante ses chansons.

CAUCUS

Un caucus aux États-Unis est une réunion restreinte des principaux dirigeants d'un parti politique, précédant souvent une assemblée générale, dans le but de choisir des candidats ou de définir une ligne d'action. Par extension, ce terme désigne également l'état-major d'un parti politique.

CHIP SHOP

Un chip shop, que l'on appelle également un "fish-and-chip shop", est un magasin où l'on vend des plats à emporter. Les chip shops sont d'ailleurs à l'origine des "takeaways". On y achète en particulier du poisson frit et des frites, mais on y trouve également des plats traditionnels britanniques ("steak pies", saucisses, etc). Tous les plats étaient à l'origine emballés dans du papier journal. Dans certains de ces magasins, on peut s'asseoir pour consommer sur place.

CROWN COURT

En Angleterre et au pays de Galles, une crown court est une cour de justice où sont jugées les affaires très graves, telles que le meurtre, l'homicide, le viol et le vol, en présence d'un jury. Tous les crimes et délits, quel que soit leur degré de gravité, doivent d'abord passer devant une "magistrates' court". Il existe environ 90 crown courts.

GUY FAWKES' NIGHT

Guy Fawkes' Night, que l'on appelle également "bonfire night", commémore l'échec du complot (le "Gunpowder Plot") contre James Ist et son parlement le 5 novembre 1605. L'un des conspirateurs, Guy Fawkes, avait été surpris dans les caves du parlement alors qu'il s'appropriait à y mettre le feu. Chaque année pour le 5 novembre, les enfants préparent à l'avance une effigie de Guy Fawkes et ils demandent aux passants "un penny pour le guy" avec lequel ils pourront s'acheter des fusées de feu d'artifice. Beaucoup de gens font encore un feu dans leur jardin sur lequel ils brûlent le "guy".

HOGMANAY

La Saint-Sylvestre ou "New Year's Eve" se nomme Hogmanay en Écosse. En cette occasion, la famille et les amis se réunissent pour entendre sonner les douze coups de minuit et pour fêter le "first-footing", une coutume qui veut qu'on se rende chez ses amis et voisins en apportant quelque chose à boire (du whisky en général) et un morceau de charbon en gage de prospérité pour la nouvelle année.

HONOURS DEGREE

Un honours degree est un diplôme universitaire que l'on reçoit après trois années d'études en Angleterre et quatre années en Écosse. Les mentions qui l'accompagnent sont, par ordre décroissant: "first class" (très bien/bien), "upper second class" (assez bien), "lower second class" (passable), et "third class" (diplôme sans mention). Le titulaire d'un honours degree a un titre qu'il peut mettre à la suite de son nom, par exemple: Peter Jones BA Hons; voir "ordinary degree".

honours list n (Brit): voir article

HONOURS LIST

L' honours list est la liste des citoyens du Royaume-Uni et du Commonwealth auxquels le souverain confère un titre ou une décoration. Cette liste est préparée par le Premier ministre et paraît deux fois par an, au Nouvel An et lors de l'anniversaire officiel du règne du souverain. Des personnes qui se sont distinguées dans le monde des affaires, des sports et des médias, ainsi que dans les forces armées, mais également des citoyens "ordinaires" qui se consacrent à des œuvres de charité sont ainsi récompensées.

HOUSE OF COMMONS/OF LORDS

Le parlement en Grande-Bretagne est constitué de deux assemblées: la House of Commons, présidée par le "Speaker" et composée de plus de 600 députés (les "MP") élus au suffrage universel direct. Ceux-ci reçoivent tous un salaire. La Chambre des communes siège environ 175 jours par an. La House of Lords, présidée par le "Lord Chancellor" et composée de membres du haut clergé et de lords séculiers dont le titre est, soit héréditaire, soit attribué par le souverain (dans ce dernier cas, il peut être héréditaire ou à vie); elle peut amender certains projets de loi votés par la House of Commons, mais elle n'est pas habilitée à débattre des projets de lois de finances. La House of Lords fait également office de la juridiction suprême en Angleterre et au pays de Galles.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Aux États-Unis, le parlement, appelé le "Congress", est constitué du "Senate" et de la House of Representatives. Cette dernière comprend 435 membres, le nombre de ces représentants par État étant proportionnel à la densité de population de cet État. Ils sont élus pour deux ans au suffrage universel direct et siègent au "Capitol", à Washington D.C.

LABOR DAY

Labor Day aux États-Unis et au Canada est fixée au premier lundi de septembre. Instituée par le Congrès en 1894 après avoir été réclamée par les mouvements ouvriers pendant douze ans, elle a perdu une grande partie de son caractère politique pour devenir un jour férié assez ordinaire et l'occasion de partir pour un long week-end avant la rentrée des classes.

LOLLIPOP MEN/LADIES

Les lollipop men/ladies sont employés pour aider les enfants à traverser la rue à proximité des écoles à l'heure où ils entrent en classe et à la sortie. On les repère facilement à cause de leur long ciré jaune et ils portent une pancarte ronde pour faire signe aux automobilistes de s'arrêter. On les appelle ainsi car la forme circulaire de cette pancarte rappelle une sucette.

MASTER'S DEGREE

Le Master's degree est un diplôme que l'on prépare en général après le "Bachelor's degree", bien que certaines universités délivrent un Master's au lieu d'un "Bachelor's". Il consiste soit à suivre des cours, soit à rédiger un mémoire à partir d'une recherche personnelle, soit encore les deux. Les principaux masters sont le "MA" (Master of Arts), et le "MSc" (Master of Science), qui comprennent cours et mémoire, et le "MLitt" (Master of Letters) et le "MPhil" (Master of Philosophy), qui reposent uniquement sur le mémoire; voir "doctorate".

• PILGRIM FATHERS

- Les Pilgrim Fathers ("Pères pèlerins") sont un groupe de puritains qui quittèrent l'Angleterre en 1620 pour fuir les persécutions religieuses. Ayant traversé l'Atlantique à bord du "Mayflower", ils fondèrent New Plymouth en Nouvelle-Angleterre, dans ce qui est aujourd'hui le Massachusetts. Ces Pères pèlerins sont considérés comme les fondateurs des États-Unis, et l'on commémore chaque année, le jour de "Thanksgiving", la réussite de leur première récolte.

POET LAUREATE

En Grande-Bretagne, le poet laureate est un poète qui reçoit un traitement en tant que poète de la cour et qui est officier de la maison royale à vie. Le premier d'entre eux fut Ben Jonson, en 1616. Jadis, le "poète lauréat" écrivait des poèmes lors des grandes occasions, mais cette tradition n'est plus guère observée.

PRIMARIES

- Aux États-Unis, les primaries constituent un processus de sélection préliminaire des
- candidats qui seront choisis par les
- principaux partis lors de la campagne
- électorale pour l'élection présidentielle.
- Elles ont lieu dans 35 États, de février à juin,
- l'année de l'élection. Chaque État envoie en
- juillet – août des “delegates” aux
- conventions démocrate et républicaine
- chargées de désigner leur candidat à la
- présidence. Ces “delegates” sont
- généralement choisis en fonction du
- nombre de voix obtenu par les candidats lors
- de primaries.

PRIVY COUNCIL

Le privy council existe en Angleterre depuis l'avènement des Normands. À l'époque, ses membres étaient les conseillers privés du roi, mais en 1688 le cabinet les a supplantés. Les ministres du cabinet sont aujourd'hui automatiquement conseillers du roi, et ce titre est également accordé aux personnes qui ont occupé de hautes fonctions en politique, dans le clergé ou dans les milieux juridiques. Les pouvoirs de ces conseillers en tant que tels sont maintenant limités.

PROM

En Grande-Bretagne, un promenade concert ou prom est un concert de musique classique, ainsi appelé car, à l'origine, le public restait debout et se promenait au lieu de rester assis. De nos jours, une partie du public reste debout, mais il y a également des places assises (plus chères). Les Proms les plus connus sont les Proms londoniens. La dernière séance (the "Last Night of the Proms") est un grand événement médiatique où se jouent des airs traditionnels et patriotiques.

Aux États Unis et au Canada, le prom ou promenade est un bal organisé par le lycée,

PUBLIC SCHOOL

Une public school est un établissement d'enseignement secondaire privé. Bon nombre d'entre elles sont des pensionnats. Beaucoup ont également une école primaire qui leur est rattachée (une "prep" ou "preparatory school") pour préparer les élèves au cycle secondaire. Ces écoles sont en général prestigieuses, et les frais de scolarité sont très élevés dans les plus connues (Westminster, Eton, Harrow). Beaucoup d'élèves vont ensuite à l'université, et un grand nombre entre à Oxford ou à Cambridge. Les grands industriels, les députés et les hauts fonctionnaires sortent souvent de ces écoles. Aux États-Unis, le terme "public school" désigne tout simplement une école publique gratuite.

QC

En Angleterre, un QC ou Queen's Counsel (ou "KC" pour "King's Counsel", sous le règne d'un roi) est un avocat qui reçoit un poste de haut fonctionnaire sur recommandation du "Lord Chancellor". Il fait alors souvent suivre son nom des lettres QC, et lorsqu'il va au tribunal, il est toujours accompagné par un autre avocat (un "junior barrister").

REDBRICK UNIVERSITY

Une redbrick university, ainsi nommée à cause du matériau de construction répandu à l'époque (la brique), est une université britannique provinciale construite assez récemment, en particulier fin XIXe-début XXe siècle. Il y en a notamment une à Manchester, une à Liverpool et une à Bristol. Ce terme est utilisé pour établir une distinction avec les universités les plus anciennes et traditionnelles.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

Remembrance Day ou Remembrance Sunday est le dimanche le plus proche du 11 novembre, jour où la Première Guerre mondiale a officiellement pris fin. Il rend hommage aux victimes des deux guerres mondiales. À cette occasion, on observe deux minutes de silence à 11h, heure de la signature de l'armistice avec l'Allemagne en 1918; certaines membres de la famille royale et du gouvernement déposent des gerbes de coquelicots au cénotaphe de Whitehall, et des couronnes sont placées sur les monuments aux morts dans toute la Grande-Bretagne; par ailleurs, les gens portent des coquelicots artificiels fabriqués et vendus par des membres de la légion britannique blessés au combat, au profit des blessés de guerre et de leur famille.

Introduction

The aim of French in action is to help you express yourself simply but correctly in fluent, natural French.

The Sentence builder section provides hundreds of phrases in which the key elements have been translated, providing an invaluable point of reference when you then construct your own sentences.

The section on correspondence provides practical models of personal and business letters, job applications and CVs, together with examples of standard opening and closing formulae and information on how to address an envelope. This section also offers guidance notes to help the user adapt these models to his/her needs.

A separate section covers fax and e-mail correspondence as well as all the expressions you might need to make different types of phone calls.

We hope you will find French in action both relevant and useful and that, used in conjunction with the dictionary, it will improve your understanding and enjoyment of French.

Introduction

L'anglais en situation a pour objectif de vous aider à vous exprimer en anglais, dans un style simple et naturel.

Dans le Mémo des tournures essentielles, vous trouverez des centaines d'expressions anglaises de base, qui vous permettront de construire vos propres phrases dans toutes sortes de contextes.

La partie correspondance contient des modèles de lettres de tous genres, dont vous pourrez vous inspirer pour rédiger à votre tour vos lettres, que ce soit dans un contexte privé ou professionnel. Si vous êtes à la recherche d'un travail, vous y trouverez également des exemples de curriculum vitæ et de lettres de candidature. Pour vous permettre d'adapter ces modèles à vos besoins, nous vous donnons en outre une liste des formules de politesse employées en début et en fin de lettre.

La dernière partie est consacrée à la communication par télécopie, par courrier électronique et par téléphone, et comprend une liste des expressions de base les plus couramment utilisées au téléphone.

L'anglais en situation, complément indispensable de votre dictionnaire, vous permettra de vous exprimer avec aisance dans toutes les situations.

Chers oncle et tante,

Le grand jour, c'était il y a presque un mois déjà ...
Ce fut une merveilleuse fête et nous étions très heureux de vous avoir parmi nous.

Nous tenons à vous remercier chaleureusement de votre gentil cadeau et nous vous inviterons bientôt pour inaugurer ce superbe service à raclette comme il se doit.

Vous trouverez aussi ci-joint une photo-souvenir.

Nous vous embrassons tous les deux,

Hôtel "Au Bon Accueil"

Chantepie, le 29 décembre 2007

Madame, Monsieur,

Mon mari et moi avons passé la nuit du 23 décembre dans votre hôtel, où nous avions préalablement réservé une chambre. Nous tenons à vous faire savoir que nous avons été très déçus par vos services, en particulier par le bruit – nous avons pourtant demandé une chambre calme – et l'impossibilité de se faire servir un petit déjeuner avant notre départ à 6 h 30.

Cet arrêt dans votre hôtel qui devait nous permettre de nous reposer au cours d'un long voyage en voiture n'a fait que nous fatiguer davantage. Sachez que nous prendrons bien soin de déconseiller votre établissement à nos amis.

Je vous prie d'agréer, Madame, Monsieur, mes salutations distinguées.

Madame, Monsieur,

Votre annonce parue dans le Monde du 8 juillet concernant un poste d'assistante de direction dans votre service Import-Export m'a particulièrement intéressée.

Mon expérience de quatre ans en tant qu'assistante de direction dans le service d'exportation d'une petite entreprise m'a permis d'acquérir un sens des responsabilités ainsi qu'une grande capacité d'adaptation. Le poste que vous proposez m'intéresse tout particulièrement car j'aimerais beaucoup pouvoir utiliser ma connaissance de la langue et de la culture russe dans le cadre de mon travail.

Je me tiens à votre disposition pour vous apporter de plus amples renseignements sur ma formation et mon expérience.

Je vous prie, Madame, Monsieur, de bien vouloir agréer mes salutations distinguées.

Je pense que ...

I think it's a bit premature.
I think it's quite natural.
Personally, I think that it's a waste of money.

I have the impression that her parents don't understand her.
I'm sure he is completely sincere.
I'm convinced that there are other possibilities.
In my opinion, he hasn't changed.
In my view, he's their best player.

Comment éviter de donner son avis

It depends.
It all depends on what you mean by patriotism.
I'd rather not express an opinion.
Actually, I've never thought about it.

Je crois que ...
Je trouve que ...

Approbation et accord

I think it's an excellent idea.
What a good idea!
I was very impressed by his speech.
It's a very good thing.
I think you're right to be wary.
Newspapers are right to publish these stories.
You were right to leave your bags in left-luggage.
Third World countries rightly believe that most pollution comes from developed countries.
You're quite justified in complaining.
I share this view.

Désapprobation et désaccord

I think he was wrong to borrow so much money.
It's a pity that you didn't tell me.
It is regrettable that they allowed this to happen.
I dislike the idea intensely.

I can't stand lies.
We are against hunting.
We do not condone violence.
I am opposed to compulsory screening.
I don't share this point of view.

I am disappointed by his attitude.
I am deeply disappointed.
You shouldn't have said that.
What gives him the right to act like this?
I disagree.
We don't agree with them.

I totally disagree with what he said.

It is not true to say that the disaster was inevitable.

You are wrong!

Dear Gran and Grandpa,

Thank you both very much for the CDs which you sent me for my birthday. They are two of my favourite groups and I'll really enjoy listening to them.

There's not much news here. I seem to be spending most of my time studying for my exams which start in two weeks. I'm hoping to pass all of them but I'm not looking forward to the Maths exam as that's my worst subject.

Mum says that you're off to Crete on holiday next week, so I hope that you have a great time and come back with a good tan.

Dear Mrs Crawford,

My sister stayed with you last year and has highly recommended your guest house.

I would like to reserve a room for one week from 18th-24th August of this year. I would be obliged if you would let me know how much this would be for two adults and two children, and whether you have a room free on those dates.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir/Madam

I was to have dined in your restaurant last Thursday by way of celebrating my wedding anniversary with my wife and young son but am writing to let you know of our great dissatisfaction.

I had reserved a corner table for two with a view of the lake. However, when we arrived we had to wait for more than 20 minutes for a table and even then, not in the area which I had chosen. There was no highchair for my son as was promised and your staff made no effort whatsoever to accommodate our needs. In fact, they were downright discourteous. Naturally we went elsewhere, and not only have you lost any future custom from me, but I will be sure to advise my friends and colleagues against your establishment.

Yours faithfully
